

Prepared for the Dominion and Provincial Directories by P. A. Crosby.

RAILROAD AND STEAMBOAT ROUTES IN THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO,

Showing all the places, with their distances, on each; as also all the Routes in the United States with which those in the Province connect. Toronto being the chief city in the Province, and the means of transport very frequent, no direct connections in regard to that city require to be noticed.

Railway Routes are designated by letters; Steamboat Routes by numbers.

QUEBEC ROUTES.

Prepared for the Dominion and Provincial Directories by P. A. Crosby.

RAILROAD AND STEAMBOAT ROUTES IN THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC,

Showing all the places, with their distances, on each; as also all the Routes in the United States with which those in the Province connect. Montreal being the chief centre of the Dominion, and the means of traffic very frequent, no direct connections in regard to that City, or Quebec, the capital of the Province, require to be noticed.

Railway Routes are designated by letters; Steamboat Routes by numbers.

Prepared for the Dominion and Provincial Directories by P. A. Crossby.

RAILROAD AND STEAMBOAT ROUTES IN THE PROVINCE OF NOVA SCOTIA.

This Province at present enjoys but limited means of communication by Railway or Steamer, but movements now going on—the building of the great Intercolonial, and of a road from New Glasgow to Sydney, C.B., on the east, and another from Annapolis to Yarmouth, on the west,—will place it in favorable comparison with other portions of the Dominion. There are two Railway lines in the Province, the principal one of which is owned by the Dominion Government, and connects Halifax with the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Bay of Fundy. The other is the Windsor and Annapolis road, which was only opened the past year. It connects with the Nova Scotia Railway at Windsor and passes eastward to Annapolis Royal, the first European settlement formed in Nova Scotia. The total length of these Railways is 229 miles. Another short line of 12 miles, from Sydney to the cold fields at Lingan, has recently been completed in Cape Breton. The other Railway lines in course of construction, and to be constructed, will prove of incalculable benefit to this Province. The Intercolonial, now completed to Amherst from the New Brunswick side, and in a short time expected to be running to Truro, will give Nova Scotia direct railway connection with New Brunswick, and ere long with the whole Dominion. As regards Steamers, there are but few running in any direction. One makes a weekly trip to the towns east of Halifax; others ply between New Glasgow and Pictou, and another on the Bras d'Or Lake in Cape Breton. Steamers also run between Halifax and Portland, in connection with the Grand Trunk Railway, Halifax and Boston and Pictou, the Straits of Canso, Port Hood, C.B., Charlottetown, P.E.I., Shediac, N.B. and Quebec, and between Annapolis and St. John, N.B. What Nova Scotia lacks in Railways or Steamers, however, she possesses in good roads and the best of stage accommodation. The traveller need therefore experience no delay or difficulty in arriving at any place he may desire. In the arrangement of the following Table of Routes it has been endeavored to point out to him the easiest and best means of doing so.

Railway Routes are designated by letters; Steamboat Routes by numbers. Stage connections are made at those places in italic.

A.—By Nova Scotia Railway, from HALIFAX northeastward to—

Miles.	Miles.	Miles.	Miles.	Miles.

Wolfville..... 18

Connects with B at Windsor, and at Annapolis with Steamer to St. John, and Stages to Digby, Yarmouth and Liverpool. It is contemplated to build a railroad between Annapolis and Yarmouth.

D.—By Intercolonial Railway (when completed), from TRURO westward to (among other places)—

Folly Village, Amherst, Sackville, Dorchester, Memramcook, Moncton (thence to St. John or Shediac by European and North American Railway), Newcastle, Bathurst, Dalhousie, Campbellton, Rimonski and River du Loup, 488½ miles, (thence to Quebec, Montreal, &c., by Grand Trunk Railway). The total distance from Halifax to St. John, N.B., by this route, will be 178¼ miles, and to Montreal 852¼ miles.

1.—By Steamer, weekly, from HALIFAX westward to—

Lunenburg 70, Liverpool 106, Shelburne 146, Yarmouth 202 miles.

2.—By Steamers plying between Halifax and Dartmouth; Pictou and New Glasgow; Port Mulgrave and Port Hawkesbury, and on the Bras d'Or Lake, in Cape Breton. Also, between Halifax and Boston; Halifax, the Straits of Canso, Pictou and Charlottetown; Pictou and Port Hood, C.B.; Annapolis, Digby and St. John; Yarmouth, St. John and Boston; and Halifax and Portland, in connection with the Grand Trunk Railway.

STAGE CONNECTIONS.

Good connections are made with stage-coaches at the following places:

Annapolis—Northward to Milford, Maitland, Harmony, Caledonia, Brookfield and Liverpool, 68 miles; and to Clementsport, Victoria Bridge, Smith's Cove, Digby, St. Mary's Bay, Weymouth, Sissibo, Bellevou's Cove, Clare, Montegan Cove, Bear River, Yarmouth Lakes and Yarmouth, 88 miles.

Halifax—Westward to Head St. Margaret's Bay, Chester, Mahone Bay, Lunenburg, Bridgewater, Mill Village, Liverpool, Port Mouton, Port Jolly, Sable River, Jordan River, Shelburne, Barrington and Yarmouth, 202 miles. Eastward to Porter's Lake, Chezzetcook, Musquodoboit Harbor, Lakeville, Ship Harbor, Tangier, Sheet Harbor and Beaver Harbor.

New Glasgow—Southward to Sherbrooke, the Wine Harbor Gold diggings and Guysborough. Eastward to Merigomish, Antigonishe, Port Mulgrave, Straits of Canso and Port Hawkesbury.

Port Hood—Southeastward to Whycocomagh and Baddeck, and thence by steamer to Sydney.

Shubenacadie—Eastward to Middle and Upper Musquodoboit, New Caledonia, Melrose, Country Harbor, Guysboro and Port Mulgrave.

Sydney—To Lingan Mines, Little Glacé Bay Mines, Gowrie Mines and Louisbourg.

Truro—Northward to Folly Village, Westchester, River Philip, Spruce Grove and Amherst, 64 miles, thence by Intercolonial Railway to St. John, N.B. Eastward to Pugwash, Tatamagouche, Wallace and Point Brulé.

Plaster Cove—Eastward to Grand Ance and Arichat; St. Peter's and Sydney; and Port Hood, Mabou and Margaree Forks.

RAILROAD AND STEAMBOAT ROUTES IN THE PROVINCE OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

This Province claims the honor of being among the first in the field of Railway enterprise. In 1844, only fourteen years after the opening of the Liverpool and Manchester Railway,—the first grand achievement in this rapid means of travel—and eight years after the building of a road from Laprairie to St. Johns, in the Province of Quebec, was commenced the construction of the New Brunswick and Canada Railway, from St. Andrews to Woodstock, a distance of 94 miles. The progress of this road, however, was slow, only 25 miles having been completed in 1855, and the whole line opened in 1862. It was the only Railway undertaken in New Brunswick until within the past ten years, but the Province now possesses five different lines, two of which are owned by the Dominion Government. They are of a total length of 375 miles, and run through the most thickly settled counties on the eastern and southern shores. Good means of communication are, however, still needed to many of its villages and settlements. The building of the Intercolonial is destined to supply a great want, in this respect, to the counties on the North shore, and the continuation of the road from Woodstock to River du Loup, to the western sections, but the heart of the Province will still be almost isolated. In the following Table of Routes, it has been endeavored to make the journey of the general traveller as little irksome as possible by pointing out to him the most convenient point to his destination after leaving the City of St. John. On arriving there, he need experience no difficulty in procuring a conveyance. First-class stages run through all the chief districts of the Province, connecting at leading stations along the several lines of railway. Where no stages run, private vehicles are almost at all times easily procurable.

New Brunswick has a number of navigable streams, chief among which is the noble river St. John, which takes its source in the State of Maine, 450 miles from the sea. The City of Fredericton is situated on the banks of this river, 84 miles from its mouth, and between it and St. John large steamers ply daily during season of navigation. Above Fredericton, small steamers can proceed, at high water, to Woodstock, Tobique and Grand Falls, a distance of 220 miles, and even 40 miles further up to the Madawaska. Steamers also run on Grand Lake and Salmon River, 95 miles from the City, and 45 miles from the river St. John; up the Washademoak 29 miles; and up the Kennebecass is 25 miles. Vessels of large tonnage can proceed a good distance up the Miramichi, the Restigouche, and the Richibucto, and smaller vessels up the Oromocto, Petitcodiac, Memramcook, Cocagne, Buctouche and other rivers. Steamers and large vessels also run up the St. Croix, a distance of thirty miles from Eastport to Calais and St. Stephens, touching at St. Andrews.

It is to be observed that a large majority of the places in the Province of New Brunswick are chiefly known as "Settlements."

Railway Routes are designated by letters; Steamboat Routes by numbers.

From St. Croix this road is now being continued to Mattawamkeag, connecting there with the Maine Division to Bangor, thence to Portland, Boston and New York, and Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, &c. Cars are expected to be running through from St. John to these points in the fall of 1871. The distance from St. John to Montreal, via Danville Junction, Me., and the Grand Trunk Railway, will then be 580 miles, but the projected building of a road from Lincoln, Me., to Lake Megantic, and of the St. Francis and Lake Megantic International Railway from thence to Lennoxville, Que., will reduce the distance to 430 miles. It is believed that the construction of the short link (only 170 miles) required to give the Maritime Provinces such easy and direct communication with the commercial metropolis of the Dominion will be commenced early in the spring of 1871.

NEWFOUNDLAND ROUTES.

ROUTES IN THE PROVINCE OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

There are no Railways in this Province, and no regular means of communication to the large majority of places. Two steamers make fortnightly trips—southward to Channel 300 miles, touching at Ferryland, Trepassey, Burin, Harbor Briton, Rose Blanche, Burgeo, and La Poile, and northward to Tilt Cove 230 miles, touching at Trinity, Catalina, Greenspond, Fogo, and Twillingate; and another runs tri-weekly between Portugal Cove, Brigus, Harbor Grace and Carbonear, and weekly between Portugal Cove and Bay Roberts. All other places have to be reached by stage, private vehicle, or boat—chiefly the latter. There is only one daily stage route in the Province, and that between St. John's and Portugal Cove. The few others are tri-weekly, weekly, fortnightly and monthly. Regular communication is had between St. John's and Halifax once a fortnight by mail steamship, and with Montreal and Liverpool four times a year by the Allan line of steamers.

In arranging the following Table of Routes, the usual Key given to the other Provinces has had to be dispensed with. Instead, the traveller will find mentioned after each place, the name of the most accessible point by steamer or stage from St. John's, and the distance and mode of travel (by land or water), from thence to his destination.

There is only one city in Newfoundland, the Capital, St. John's; the next place of importance is Harbour Grace.

ROUTES IN THE PROVINCE OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

The general mode of travelling in this Province is by stage or private vehicle. During season of navigation steamers run between the capital (Charlottetown), Georgetown, Summerside, Victoria, Orwell Cove, Port Selkirk, Port Augustus and Mount Stewart. The three first named places and Alberton, Port Hill and Souris, are the only ones of importance on the Island; all the others are but small villages and settlements. Mail coaches leave daily for Summerside, calling at Milton, Greenville, Hazel Grove, Gretna Green, Springfield, Summerfield, Kensington, New Annan, Traveller's Rest and St. Eleanor's; and semi-weekly for Georgetown, calling at Southport, Pownal, Mill View, Vernon River and Wellington; also for Souris, calling at French Fort, Scotch Fort, Glenroy, Morrell, St. Peter's, Five Houses and Rollo Bay; and for Centreville, calling at Cornwall, Strathgartney, Bonshaw, DeSable, Hampton, Crapaud, Tryon and Searltown. Stages also run twice a week between Summerside and Alberton, passing through St. Eleanor's, Miscouche, Port Hill and Pilgrim's Rest. This comprises the principal stage routes on the Island; bye roads branch off these to other settlements, but with them there is no communication except by private conveyance and such accommodation as can be afforded by the Mail carriers.

Steamers run regularly between Charlottetown, Summerside, Shediac, N.B., (connecting with European and North American Railway to and from St. John), Pictou, N.S., (connecting with Nova Scotia Railway to and from Halifax), Port Mulgrave, N.S., and Port Hood, C.B. Weekly communication is had with Quebec and Montreal by the Gulf Ports Steamers, and with Pictou, Port Hawkesbury, Halifax and Boston by the Oriental Steamers.

A steam ferry runs between Charlottetown and Southport; and sail boat ferries over the Cardigan, Foxley and Grand Rivers. Small boats sail between Annandale and Morris Point, and Georgetown and St. Andrew's Point, and there is a fortnightly packet between Alberton and Charlottetown, touching at Shediac. In winter, communication is had between the Island and New Brunswick by way of Cape Traverse and Cape Tormentine, a distance of eleven miles across the straits of Northumberland. A submarine cable crosses here and gives the most important places on the Island telegraphic connection with all parts of the Dominion of Canada, the United States, Newfoundland and Europe.

Though there are no Railways in the Province,—which is only 130 miles in length and 34 miles its greatest breadth—the traveller will find it possessed of good roads and excellent stages.

Places in italic in the following Table can be reached by Steamer; the majority of the others by stage from Charlottetown, Summerside or Georgetown.
