BILL BARRING CHILDREN FROM MOVIES ENACTED

Hatley Woman Has Been Arrested On A Very Serious Charge

Only Five Voted Against Measure In Legislature

Members For Richmond and Brome in Opposition—Premier Defends Measure to Exclude Children Under Sixteen Years—Gave Followers Privilege of Voting as They Thought Best—Lively Debate—House Votes Overwhelmingly For Measure.

QUEBEC, March 23.—Children under the age of sixteen years are prohibited from attending movies under the measure which had its final reading in the Quebec Legislature last night. Mr. Oliver, of Brome, and Mr. Desmarais, of Richmond, voted against the measure, evidently feeling that sentiment in their bi-lingual constituencies was against this extreme measure. The other Eastern Townships members voted with the majority.

The debate was of considerable length. The result, however, was a foregone conclusion, and children up to sixteen are accordingly barred from movie theatres in this province.

The question of Sunday movies goes to the courts to decide, as this comes under the Federal Lord's Day Act, and the Quebec Legislature has not undertaken to pass on it.

SUMMARY OF DEBATE ON CHILDREN'S MOVIE BILL

QUEBEC, March, 23.—Condemnation of films, especially American films, a demand that the Government should follow the example of British in limiting the use of foreign films, the divorce question, morals of children, the physical protection of children, the Laurier Palace Theatre disaster and the system of law-breaking which the enquiry had brought to light, together with the problem of Sunday observance all served in the Legislative Assembly to bring on a pleasant debate.

The end was that by a vote of 57 to 5 children under the age of 16 will be prohibited from attending the movies, whether accompanied or not.

Permits Schools to Show Pictures. Premier Taschereau amended the bill when it got into committee so as to permit colleges, convents and other educational establishments to give movie shows for their pupils only in the schools.

The premier, in winding up the debate, warned the members of the House of the responsibility they would incur if the bill was thrown out and another catastrophe were to happen in the province, such as that which had brought such sorrow to Montreal. Mr. Taschereau ended with strong words of condemnation as to the attacks to which he has been subjected in the matter of Sunday closing, and said that all the learned men who had preached on the subject, the "sky pilots," as well as the "good press" had refused to do anything in the matter, not wanting to expose themselves as targets. "I will be the bull's eye," ended up the premier as he sat down amidst considerable applause.

The only voice raised in the House against the bill was that of T. D. Bouchard, Liberal M.L.A., for St. Hyacinthe, though four others voted with him on the division. Joseph Power, of Quebec West; Cleton Oliver, of Brome; Dr. C. A. Bernard, of Rouville, and S. Desmarais, of Richmond.

Premier Expresses Views. In opening the debate at the morning sitting, the premier said the custom of allowing moving picture houses to open on Sunday had been established some time ago, the Lord's Day Act not having been observed, and he intended shortly to make "test cases," so that the matter could be settled definitely. He took occasion to compliment the board of censors. Personally, the premier said, he did not believe that movies are desirable for children under the age of 16, but the matter was one in which other members might differ from him, and all were free to vote as they saw fit. He referred to the campaign against him in Montreal newspapers launched under the auspices of the Retail Merchants' Association, and quoted the Lord's Day Act to support the contention that the federal statute does not affect the retailer beyond agreements with provincial laws and regulations enacted by a municipality under authority of provincial laws.

Mr. Taschereau referred to the Laurier Palace disaster, and showed that one newspaper after another had demanded that steps be taken to prevent a repetition, it having been shown that of the 78 bodies only two had been burned. The premier referred to the evidence of Judge Lacroix, of the Montreal juvenile court, and of Judge Choquette, of Quebec, that juvenile delinquency is largely due to the movies. Furthermore, enforcement of a law excluding children under 16 years of age unless accompanied was hard, since grown-ups not related to the children

GENERAL D. C. DRAPER, C.M.G., D.S.O., of Sherbrooke, Que., and former commander of the 5th C.M.R., who has been appointed Chief of Police of Toronto.

GEN. D. C. DRAPER TO BE CHIEF OF TORONTO POLICE

Appointment is Announced—Former Commander of 5th C.M.R.—Eastern Townships Man, Resident of Sutton.

TORONTO, March, 23.—Brigadier-General D. C. Draper, C.M.G., D.S.O., of Montreal, was appointed Chief of Police of Toronto by the Board of Police Commissioners this afternoon. He commanded the Fifth Canadian machine gun brigade during the war and is at present engaged with the International Paper Company. The new chief is 64 years of age.

Brigadier-General D. C. Draper is well-known in Montreal and the Eastern Townships, both in military circles and in industrial life. Always keenly interested in the militia, he was first interested in that respect with the 3rd Victoria Rifles, and later joined the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons of Waterloo, Que., as musketry instructor. He was born at Sutton Junction, Que.

At the outbreak of the Great War Major Draper, as he then was, joined the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles raised in the Eastern Townships by the late Col. Harry Baker, who was member of Parliament for Brome county. Going overseas with the unit, Major Draper succeeded to the command when Col. Baker was killed in action. He saw service on all the areas of the western front in which the Canadian Corps was engaged and gained the D. S. O. with Bar, also the C.M.G., and was mentioned in despatches. He was later given command of the 17th Canadian Machine Gun Brigade with the rank of Brigadier-General.

On returning to Canada after demobilization General Draper entered industrial life, being in recent years engaged with the International Paper Company. The engagement of General Draper to Miss Marjory Hume, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Hume, of Sherbrooke, was recently announced.

EXECUTION HELD AT VALLEYFIELD THIS MORNING

McDonald Paid Penalty of His Crime—Black Flag Over Jail Told of Execution.

(Associated Press Despatch) VALLEYFIELD, Que., March 23.—George McDonald was executed in Valleyfield jail early this morning for the murder of Adolard Bouchard, Lachine taxi-driver, last July 17.

Hangman Ellis sprang the trap at 5:37, according to newspapermen who waited outside the jail walls. Shortly before six a.m. the black flag was hoisted over the jail.

No newspaper men were admitted to the scene, but a story about the execution was made later by prison officials. An inquest was held at eight a.m. The jury returned a verdict of "death by hanging."

A telegram was received at the jail during the night for George McDonald from his wife, Doris, it read: "Tomorrow Mass and communion will be offered and I will never cease to pray for you. May the Blessed Lady receive you at the gate of Heaven." On reading the message George murmured "God Bless her soul." It was the first communication between the husband and wife since Wednesday when the governor-in-council commuted the woman's sentence to life imprisonment. Actual preparation for the hanging began at four o'clock when McDonald was awakened. He did not speak during the night. Mass was celebrated by Father Verschelden during which the doomed man received Holy Communion. At the conclusion of the ceremony McDonald knelt by the side of his spiritual adviser, in prayer. There was a delay of half an hour as Hangman Ellis insisted on waiting until daylight.

Sheriff Crepin commented later on McDonald's cry: "Yesterday I said to me, 'you wait any longer if I don't mount the gallows with firm step and head erect,' and he certainly did," the sheriff said.

On the scaffold Father Verschelden, in prayer, Redeemer, have mercy on my soul," McDonald repeated it over and over after the priest, and while doing so the trap was sprung.

Regium Mass will be said today in the parish cathedral here for the repose of McDonald's soul. The service was arranged by his father, John McDonald, of Sydney, N.S., who with his wife and daughter from Portland, Maine, spent the night at a little hotel here in a dreary vigil. They said good-bye to their son and brother yesterday.

No newspaper men were admitted to the scene of the hanging. A small body of the press spent the night waiting outside the walls. They were driven away once by provincial police armed with rifles but came back and heard the attending priest's prayer for the condemned man. The black flag, hoisted over the jail at six a.m., was their first official intimation that justice had been carried out.

The crime for which McDonald was executed was a brutal one. Bouchard, father of a large family, was engaged by two men and a woman to drive them over the United States border from Montreal. The following day he was found dead, lying in a ditch with his car and money gone. Following a long search McDonald and his wife, Doris, were arrested in Denver, Colo., and brought back to Valleyfield to stand trial. Identification was established through evidence of United States immigration.

Mrs. Richard Houle Held On Murder Charge In Coaticook Sack Mystery

Infant Found in Sack Some Time Ago—Mrs. Houle Brought to Sherbrooke—Preliminary Inquiry Fixed for Next Wednesday—Detectives Had Been Working on Case—Details of Arrest.

Evelyn Goodwin, wife of Richard Houle, was arrested yesterday afternoon at the home of her foster-father, Mr. Rufus Poule, at Hatley, by Chief-of-police John Boudreau of Coaticook, and Provincial Detective Walter Duchesne, on a charge of murder in connection with the death of a newly born infant boy, which was discovered, wrapped in a meal sack, by Hiram W. Rix, of Barnston, in his sleds, while unloading some meal which he purchased in Coaticook on Friday, March 9th.

The accused was taken in charge by Deputy High Constable J. H. A. Genest, of this city, and brought here this morning, where she appeared before Judge J. H. Lemay in the Magistrate's Court. The charge was read, following which the preliminary inquiry was set for Wednesday next in order to allow the accused time to obtain a lawyer for her defense.

It is understood that the accused has made a confession, both to Chief of Police Boudreau and Detective Philias Lanctot and Deputy High Constable J. H. A. Genest, though no official information was given out as to the statements made.

Story as Told at Inquest. According to evidence of Mr. Rix at the inquest, which was held at Coaticook on March 12th, he had driven to Coaticook on the morning of March 9th for the purpose of obtaining a load of meal and other supplies. He had loaded his team and driven it into the sheds of B. J. Smith and Son, Coaticook merchants, which were at the rear of the store. While hitching his team he noticed a young woman of about twenty-five years of age attending her horse, which, he said, was a bay animal weighing about nine hundred pounds. He thought no more about it, however, as there was nothing to excite his suspicion, and went away to finish his errands. On his return he drove his team home, and while he made a few stops on the way had never left the sight of his horses, due to the fact that they were nervous and could not be left unguarded.

Arriving home he went to his dinner, leaving his son to unload the meal, during the course of which the young man discovered the meal sack and, on opening it, was surprised to find the body of a newly born child.

Doctor's Evidence. Another outstanding witness at the inquest was Dr. R. Fontaine, of Montreal who performed the autopsy of the infant, which, according to the evidence of the medical man had died of asphyxia caused by suffocation and sharp blows inflicted on the lower part of the body, and by pressure being applied to the mouth and nose, the examination made showing where some object had rested on the face of the infant for some time. In continuing his evidence, Dr. Fontaine had stated that the child had been born alive and in perfect health, so that the only way in which the child had died was by asphyxia.

An open verdict was returned by the jury which consisted of Messrs. E. O. Bouchard, foreman, A. E. Chesley, H. D. Snow, Charles Cross, Henri Lavoie and Telesphore Beaudoin and the provincial authorities were requested to carry out an investigation in an effort to locate the guilty party or parties.

Provincial Detective Was on Case. Walter Duchesne, provincial detective, was assigned to work on the case with Chief of Police Boudreau and for the past two weeks an unceasing search was made, the only clue that the officers had at the time was that of the unknown young woman who was in the sheds of B. J. Smith and Son at the time when Rix placed his team there. All available efforts were made to trace the young woman with the result that yesterday Evelyn Goodwin was discovered.

CANADA WOULD WELCOME ENTRY OF NEWFOUNDLAND INTO CANADIAN CONFEDERATION

Canadian Senate Goes on Record in This Regard—Senate Pope Urges That Dominion Buy Labrador Strip, if Available—Motion of Good Will Adopted in Senate—Sponsored by Senator Tanner.

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, Ont., March 23.—In parliament today the Senate will no. sit. In the House of Commons government business will have precedence. Yesterday the Senate rejected a private bill requiring newspapers to publish the names of shareholders by 44 votes to 18. A motion advocating favorable consideration for Newfoundland's entering Confederation was debated. In the Commons a private bill to bring more government employees under the Civic Service Commission was debated. The evening was spent in committee on the budget resolutions.

NEWFOUNDLAND AND DOMINION

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, March 23.—On his motion "that in the opinion of this House Canada should favorably consider any proposal that might be made by Newfoundland for union with the Dominion of Canada," Senator Tanner said he believed there was a considerable sentiment in each of these Dominions for union.

Although the Senate could not make any definite proposals on this issue, he believed it desirable there should be an expression of opinion of our sentiments toward the sister dominion and that if Newfoundland sought a conference the request should be favorably received. There was a close relation between the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, not only in business, but in social life. Canada had a large trade with Newfoundland having sold that dominion produce valued at $10,000,000 last year. There was another aspect and that was that we were under the same King and the same flag and had fought together in the Great War.

It was highly desirable that the units of the Empire should be consolidated, and he would like to entertain the vision that in time, not only Newfoundland, but all the British possessions in North America would be one dominion. He was simply asking that if Newfoundland desired to talk over the subject of confederation we give them a friendly reception.

Hon. A. B. Cope, who seconded the motion, thought it might be modified to express the hope that any negotiations would arrive at a satisfactory conclusion with regard to union. Although the Fathers of Confederation had failed to bring Newfoundland into the union, there was no reason why that should not be accomplished with great advantage to both countries.

Hon. Rufus Pope said it had been reported in the press a deputation was coming from Newfoundland. The territory awarded Newfoundland had become very valuable to Canada and if Canada desired to possess it there must be immediate action. An American company had 100 men in Labrador inspecting its timber, mineral, power and fishing resources. He suggested Newfoundland was not prepared to join and we should attempt to acquire the territory by purchase.

It might be too late six months hence and we should deal with Newfoundland most generously, either for union or for the purchase of Newfoundland's Labrador territory.

The debate was adjourned by the Hon. Gideon Robertson and the Senate adjourned until 8 p.m. Tuesday next.

Whether his death and that of Infontana were connected, police said they did not know. Transmission of the address to His Majesty favoring the abolishment of titles followed a lengthy debate in the Commons on a motion by former Attorney-General W. H. Nickle, of Ontario, who at the time was federal member for Kingston.

THE DEMON OF FEAR

The mental causes which lead to disease must be understood if one is to realize health in its fullest measure. These health lessons will not be complete if you are not taught to understand the valuable help which this study can bring to you.

The human mind grows either into a help for health, or a hindrance to it. There is no neutral ground.

If we neglect to create a healthy mental viewpoint, we grow worse in this respect as we grow older—just the same as the lines of the face deepen with time!

Many stumble through life with no clear conception of where they are going and, buffeted about by their environments, gradually develop a cynical attitude which sees the ptomaine poisoning in the oyster and not the pearl.

One of the strongest emotions we are born with is that vicious, degrading monster called "Fear." Few realize how much this instinct guides and shapes their lives, especially when developed through the careless habits of parents training their children to think of fear more than of courage.

The small child, born with the fear of physical discomfort, is hourly told of new things to avoid instead of being taught in a constructive way how to enjoy life to its fullest extent. The child brought upon "must not's" develops an attitude of fear and suspicion of everything with which he comes in contact during his life! Such teaching makes fearful of play, fearful in eating, and repellent toward those beautiful emotions which would naturally develop at the age of puberty.

Boys are not handicapped in this respect as much as girls and consequently grow up with more courage, while their sisters develop a timidity and weakness of both their mental and physical natures that fills the physician's waiting rooms.

The average woman is constantly sick from the burden of repressed fears which are usually baseless. She fears physical pain and dwells too long in contemplating its possible causes and not enough on the causes of more abundant health!

Fear of financial losses is the groundless cause of much misery with shrinking women and effeminate men. No one on the North American Continent is really starving, but many people suffer all the pangs of hunger with an overworked imagination which brings up vision of direct poverty.

How often have I seen the truth of the saying, "The thing they fear all their lives have been visualizing cancer actually attract the cause which lead to such ailments. Many physicians to my knowledge have specialized in a certain disease because victims to the same disease about which they have thought so much.

The opposite emotion of courage will dispel the dark poisonous thoughts of fears, and anyone who is willing will do well to study the means by which he can develop this mental as well as physical courage.

The practice of forming mental pictures of strength will help, especially if you try to make these pictures come true by intensive physical training with good food and vigorous exercise.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Question—Fred D. asks: "Do you think the following is advisable for one's noonday lunch: 1 glass of malted milk, one-half pound of figs. Would I get thin if the diet were continued?"

Answer—One glass of malted milk would be a stimulating lunch, but the half pound of figs would be too much to use at the same time. One would certainly not get thin on this diet, as this noon meal is really a fattening one.

Question—R. S. asks: "What is the cause of dandruff and has diet anything to do with it? What is the cure?"

Answer—Dandruff may be caused by a specific microorganism which burrows into the scalp and bores the epidemia. However, the usual cause is from not keeping the head clean. One with dandruff should wash the scalp daily for a week or two, applying coconut oil after the hair has been thoroughly dried. Any of the hair tonics containing alcohol are stimulating to the scalp and assist in encouraging a better circulation of blood around the hair roots. Hair brushes and combs should be sterilized frequently and always kept clean.

Sage Tea Dandy to Darken Hair

By DOROTHY LANG

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. It costs only 75 cents. Millions of bottles of this old famous hair dye, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one call tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

The Lord Bishop of Quebec will hold a service of Confirmation in Christ Church on Monday evening, March 26, at 7:30 p.m., when eighteen candidates will receive the rite of Laying on of Hands.

WHAT DO YOU GET OUT OF THE FOOD YOU EAT?

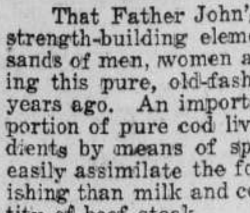

We eat for health and strength as well as for the pleasure and satisfaction it gives us. The blood supply must be replenished; muscles must be renewed; the wasted tissues in every part of the body must be replaced. This can be done, not by the mere quantity of the food we eat, but by the amount which our bodies are able to digest and assimilate.

That Father John's Medicine contains a vast store of food value and strength-building elements is proven by scientific tests and by the thousands of men, women and children who have regained their health by taking this pure, old-fashioned prescription originally written over seventy years ago. An important feature of this prescription was the heavy proportion of pure cod liver oil which blended with the other valuable ingredients by means of specially designed apparatus enables the systems to easily assimilate the food and medicinal value. It is six times more nourishing than milk and contains 1-2 times the nutriment of the same quantity of beef steak.

These tests prove the great food value of Father John's Medicine for colds, coughs and body-building. Because it supplies the nutriment which you do not obtain from your food and supplies it in a form which the system most easily takes up and turns into tissue, muscle, flesh and strength, Father John's Medicine is the food tonic to be taken by those who are weak and run-down.

In our daily lives, we burn up a certain amount of energy or tissue and we must have a nourishing food-tissue builder to make good this daily wear and tear on the system. While the food we eat is changed into the tissue or energy if the digestive system is in healthy condition; when we become weakened, over-tired or run-down, we do not get the required amount of nourishment from our food, and it is at such a time that the wonderful strength-building tissue-forming elements of Father John's Medicine prove their greater value.

Father John's Medicine is free of all dangerous drugs and alcohol. Originally prescribed over seventy years ago and compounded in the little drug shop at Lowell, Mass., it is today helping men, women and children to build strength and combat colds all over North America.

STREETS WERE IN SLIPPERY CONDITION THIS MORNING

Many of the city streets were in a very slippery condition early this morning, and it was with considerable difficulty that business people made their way to the offices and stores.

Throughout the past night a very severe wind was blowing and the result of this was that all the loose snow had been removed from the sidewalks leaving a coating of ice.

The road department was at work fairly early this morning putting sand on the sidewalks, but many of the business streets were not reached until well into the morning.

CAPTAIN BEST ADDRESSED Y'S MEN

One of the most instructive and interesting addresses heard here for some time was given last evening at the regular weekly meeting of the Y's Men by Captain Tom Best.

Captain Best spoke at some length on the pessimist and optimist, pointing out the difference in these two kind of men as regards their value to themselves their country and their God.

The pessimist was always looking on the dark side of everything, which, in a great many cases was due to a troubled conscience, while the optimist, on the other hand, was always looking for the silver linings in the dark clouds.

During the course of the evening, Mr. Leland Gregory, who at present in the city with Captain Best, favored the assembled Y's Men with two solos, Y's Man Gault Parker being the accompanist.

Following Captain Best's remarks, Messrs. Jack Hatcher and E. Murray went through the Y's Men initiating ceremony, the committee consisting of Y's Men Gault Parker, Glen Sampson, Norton Baldwin and Eddie Simms.

Stanstead College Notes

The recital in Pierce Hall on Wednesday evening last was put on by the S. W. C. Music pupils from Newport. All who took part showed artistic ability. There were three violin numbers given by the following: Irene Hill, Rosamund Bishop and Frances Smith. The two piano solos were by Margaret Healey and George Rivard, and the vocal numbers were by Miss Gilbert and Mr. De Montigny.

The Vesper service on Sunday last was in charge of Mr. McFadyen, who gave a short address on "Eternal Life" stressing the essentials in the life of a real Christian.

Rev. A. D. Mackenzie was the preacher at the community service on Sunday evening last in Stanstead South United Church.

During the past week the Principal at Chapel gave very helpful talks on religion as represented by Keir Hardie, the British Labor Leader, and John Frederick Oberlin, the Alsatian pastor, who translated religion into such a wonderful improvement of the material as well as the spiritual life of his mountain parish.

St. Patrick's tea on Saturday afternoon was a success. There was a good representation from the Three Villages. A majority of the students and teachers lent their patronage and the results were quite satisfactory especially from a financial standpoint. Those in charge wish to express their appreciation to all who made it possible to attend.

Mr. McFadyen recently secured a good position for Miss Stella Ames, one of B. B. C. 1927 graduates, with the Miner Rubber Company, Granby. Miss Grace Copp has secured an office position with the Butterfield Company, Rock Island.

All of last year's graduates desiring positions have long since been placed, some of them already having received promotions.

ROSES

Nearly all species of Roses can be grown here successfully, with a little care. Tea Roses can, in the fall, be loosened on one side, bent over, covered with earth, and about May 1st uncovered and pruned for summer blooming. Rugosa Roses need no pruning except to cut out dead wood. The Baby Rambler or Polyantha Roses, sold at Easter, are quite hardy. Roses prefer a heavy soil, well fertilized. Further information gladly furnished on request.

SPRING REVIEW OF ELITE MODES IN LADIES' WEAR

Teco Store Was Crowded to Capacity During Two Days' Showing of Spring Styles.

With the advent of Spring is coupled a special effort on the part of merchants to provide opportunity for their patrons, and visitors to the city, to see what Dame Fashion has to offer for the season. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week the Teco Store has presented a most interesting scene with its brave showings of the latest and best in what milady desires for comfort and style for the Easter season and springtime.

During the spring review the store was crowded with an admiring and critical assembly of fashion devotees and students, and the showings of dressy suits, sport costumes, coats, dresses and evening wear reflected great credit upon the management.

The living models, graceful and piquant, displayed in an appealing manner many beautiful costumes. Among these were noted an elegant black and white suit; a green tweed sport ensemble; an evening gown of egg-shell satin—a copy from Patou, while the "tout ensemble" was much featured, as well as the natty sport suits in varied materials and styles.

A blue velvet evening wrap with fox trimmings was much admired and among the accessories were seen beautiful gold and silver bags, dainty scarfs, necklets and earrings, all these having a distinctive tone in the completing of toilets. Shawl bags, hats and gloves had their part in the making up of the "tout ensemble" that means so much to the well-dressed woman.

Fur and leather trimmings; the alluring tones of green, and the tendency for richness and oriental colors in trimmings, all combined in presenting a display that speaks well for the spring trade.

During the afternoons a three-piece orchestra provided music, and the store was nicely decorated throughout, while the many season's novelties were attractively displayed and visitors waited upon by competent attendants.

Miss Madeline Sheldon, of Cleveland, O., a student at Smith's College, Northampton, Mass., is the guest of Miss Cynthia Adams, Ontario street.

Gentleman Cadet Gordon Sangster, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., is spending the week-end in the city the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sangster, Drummond street.

PHILIP COLBY GIVEN ONE YEAR JAIL FOR THEFT

Had Been Found Guilty of Stealing Twenty Chickens, the Property of Mrs. Florence Wilson, Milby—Theft Took Place On Night of March 13th and 14th.

Having been found guilty of stealing twenty chickens, the property of Mrs. Florence Wilson, of Milby, on the night of March 13th and 14th, at his hearing in the Magistrate's Court on Wednesday afternoon last, Philip Colby, of Johnville, was sentenced to serve one year in the local jail by Judge J. H. Lemay this morning.

While Colby was not seen stealing the chickens owned by Mrs. Wilson, the morning following the theft he sold twelve of the chickens to Mr. Thomas Reid, proprietor of the American House, and the remaining eight to Mr. Arthur Armitage, and the evidence at the hearing showed without a doubt that Colby was guilty of the charge.

Last year Colby was fined $50 for a similar offense.

DISCUSSING DIET QUESTION NEW YORK

Dr. Morris Takes Issue With Claim That All-Meat is Not Harmful.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner of the city of New York, takes issue with those who hold that an all-meat diet is not harmful to the constitution.

Commenting on the experiment of Dr. Vilhelm Steffansson and Karsten Andersen, Arctic explorers, Dr. Norris said an all-meat diet was likely to cause an enlarged heart and other serious physical disorders. Doctors who examined the two men on apparent defects from the restricted diet.

The human body needs a variegated diet, Dr. Norris said, adding that an all-vegetable diet was as bad as a menu which included only meat. "I fail to see," he said, "why the case of the Eskimo with his strict carnivorous diet should be cited as an example to the American. The Eskimo have never accomplished anything and the white man has."

CLASH AT MINES CAUSES INJURY TO SEVERAL

Union Adherents in Fight With Employed Miners in Ohio.

CADIZ, Ohio, March 23.—Several men were injured in a clash between employed miners and alleged union adherents at the Wheeling Township Mine No. 2, six miles east of here. The attackers, led by a woman, hurled stones and other missiles at about thirty workers as they prepared to enter the mine. The attackers numbered about 100 men and women.

The mine has been operated several months on a non-union basis, about seventy-five men being employed.

CANADA AND U. S. PORTS DISCRIMINATION

Maine Congressman Has Measure Underway of Interest to This Country.

(Canadian Press Despatch) WASHINGTON, March 23.—As a part of the drive to compel the use of United States ports for American trade, efforts are being made to discriminate against imports which come in from Canadian ports. The attack on United States grain exports via Montreal is to extend itself to imports via Canadian ports. Representative Wallace White, Republican, of Maine, will endeavor to bring to committee stage his bill proposing the imposition by President Coolidge of a ten per cent ad valorem tax on goods which are shipped to the United States via Canadian ports. Mr. White states frankly that the object of his bill is to offset the preferential rate given by Canada on goods entered under their preferential tariff via Canadian ports. Canada discriminates, said Mr. White, against exactly the same goods if they come in via United States ports.

"Canada has a perfect right to do this," said Mr. White, "but there are many people in this country that think we should make a similar distinction in favor of our ports. I hope we can get this bill to open discussion soon so that we can find out just what is going on, just how much of our imports are coming in via Canadian ports and what the general feeling of Congress is on the subject."

SEEDING AND PLOWING BEGUN IN THE WEST

Warm Weather Starts Work on Land in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 23.—With the land reported in exceptionally good condition, seeding and plowing has commenced in several districts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and preparations for active work on the land are well underway in many other sections of the Prairies.

During the past week warm, drying winds have swept the prairies, and the land has dried rapidly. In many districts where the farmers were unable to complete their threshing last fall, the grain has dried out, and is in comparatively good condition. At many such points, threshing was resumed this week.

P. C. Colquhoun, the "corn king" of Saskatchewan, has started to seed his Maple Creek ranch, while at Altona, Manitoba, and at several other points seeding started today.

Farmers in the Fox Valley, Caibri and Lancer sections of Saskatchewan, and some in the south country have started ploughing on the high ground.

Other signs of spring in the west are not wanting. Geese have been observed making their way northward while the crows, the west's first messengers of spring, are coming back, and ducks have been noticed on their northward flight.

FASHION SHOW ADDS IMPETUS TO CITY TRADE

Showings of Spring Styles at Kushner's Attracted Large Crowds and Brings Increase in Trade.

The annual spring showing of ladies' ready-to-wear garments at Kushner's store during three days of last week brought again to the attention of customers and interested visitors the realization that one need not go out of Sherbrooke to obtain spring attire that is rich, chic and practical.

The display on living models of the season's styles is an educational feature, and in conversation, yesterday, with a representative of the Record, Mr. Bernstein said that people wait for these displays before making their purchases for Easter and spring attire. Customers are anxious to see the exclusive models and to get ideas in advance as to what midday will wear this season.

During the spring review at Kushner's one could see that fox and squirrel are favorites among the fur trimmings, also that there is a decided increase in the showings of sport costumes. The kasha and kashalain, kitten's ear broadcloth, rich and gay trimmings, all are features of the spring styles, and the novelty and utility of the ensemble suit is a feature of midday's wardrobe for spring and summer.

Spring coats, afternoon dresses, street and evening wear with hats, and the varied accessories that were shown by the models presented in an attractive way the features of the merchandise carried by the popular clothing store, all combining in a display that attracts the spring shopper and keeps the store a centre of trade.

HYPNOTIST BEFORE COURT IN MONTREAL

Told to Go Back to His Calling of Carpenter and Joiner.

(Canadian Press Despatch) MONTREAL, March 23.—In the future J. Edmond Boivin must confine his talents to his calling—that of carpenter and joiner—and no more practice hypnotic cures. He was found guilty by Judge Monro of practicing his profession without a license, and was sentenced and bound over to keep the peace for one year. The case came as a result of a complaint made by the defendant's daughter, Germaine, who told the court she was used by Boivin as a medium, being hypnotized, and while under that influence she would prescribe cures to people who came to the house. Her complaint came when she was awakened in the middle of the night to be "put to sleep" by her father.

The prescriptions given by the girl while "asleep" were novel if not efficacious. Edouard Salvas testified that he had sought advice to cure his rheumatism. He was told to take "three spoonfuls of stovepipe soot mixed in a pint of water, with sugar, to be drunk after counting one, two, three and making the sign of the cross with his thumb on the forehead." Salvas said he took the "medicine," but his rheumatism was quite as bad as ever.

An interesting event took place at the regular monthly meeting of the Baptist Mission Circle, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. P. McVie, Portland Avenue. After the devotional exercises, led by Mrs. Anderson, and an excellent paper on Western missions by Mrs. Sydney Saunders, a life membership was presented to Miss Selina Page, one of the most active members of the Circle for many years. This honor was given in loving memory of the late Mrs. E. Holgate, and the presentation was made by Mrs. Brown, the president, in a most fitting manner.

A pleasant and enjoyable event took place last evening when the annual Past Noble Grands' night was held by Princess Rebekah Lodge, No. 4. The members of the lodge entertained the past officers, who occupied the chairs during the ceremonies. A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of a veteran's jewel to Mrs. A. A. Gunning. At the conclusion of the evening's ceremonies a "500" party was held and the prize-winners in cards were Mrs. M. Astbury, first; Mrs. Hartley, consolation for ladies; Mr. L. Johnston, first and Mr. J. Rennie, consolation for gentlemen. Dainty refreshments were served and a social hour brought a pleasant meeting to a close.

Mrs. Bertha Price returned yesterday from Montreal where she went to attend the annual "Magazine Night" held by the Montreal branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club at the Ritz-Carlton on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Genevieve Lipsitt-Skinner, president of the Montreal branch, presided over the meeting, and during the evening, read a short story written by Mrs. Dora Lerchbaum, a Polish lady whose writings are appearing in Canadian periodicals. At these meetings members are expected to read a manuscript of their own not yet published, and the programme Wednesday evening was varied and entertaining.

Mrs. Madeleine de Soyres, editor of World Wide, read a sketch of Henrik Ibsen, the Norwegian poet and dramatist, the one hundredth anniversary of whose birth fell on March 20th, 1928, and following the reading, the Peer Gynt Suite was exquisitely rendered by Miss Betty Cameron, a charming young pianist. Mrs. Price's paper was entitled "When Witches Walk," based upon the psychic element, and included in the programme were poems and plays sketched by several other Montreal members.

ORANGEMEN OF ONTARIO ACCEPT NEW SITUATION

In Ontario East Vote Down Resolution Condemning Abolition of Regulation 17.

(Associated Press Despatch) LINDSAY, Ont., March 23.—The Orangemen of Ontario East last night accepted the report of the legislation committee on the superseding of Regulation 17. By a vote of 308 to 32, the delegates favored a five year trial for the new measure.

While some opposition to the report was varied during yesterday's session the address of Premier G. Howard Ferguson was the outstanding one during the debate and brought the majority of the delegates in favor of the committee's view of the matter. The following resolution moved by Gilbert Leroy, past county master of Prescott and Glengarry and seconded by James McShea, of Russell county was defeated by a majority of 338 votes. "That this Orange grand lodge of Ontario East do now express its disapproval of the action of Premier Hon. G. Howard Ferguson in abolishing Regulation 17 and for granting further concessions to the French Roman Catholics of this province in regard to the use of the French language in the primary schools."

"This province is not bi-lingual in any sense," declared Mr. Ferguson during his address. "This is an English-speaking

The regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of Plymouth United Church was held yesterday afternoon in the hall of Plymouth Church, with a good attendance of members. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, and the treasurer's report accepted. A letter was read from Mrs. James, of Cookshire, Presbyterial president of the W.M.S., regarding questions to come before the Presbyterial, which is to be held in Stanstead on April 17, 18 and 19. The delegates appointed for the meeting are Mrs. Abbott, president; Mrs. W. B. LeBaron and Miss Cohoon. An interesting letter was read by Mrs. G. Elery Read from Miss Hoakings, one of the first nurses sent to Chissamba, Africa, describing the great work being done among the natives in the African mission under the United Church of Canada. The question came up regarding the April meeting scheduled for the 26th but owing to the fact that the conference bearing on the meeting will be in session on that date, it was decided to hold the meeting on April 12, which will be also the Easter thank-offering. In the business reports it was given that the total membership for the Dominion of Canada was 185,137, and the year's budget amounted to $1,445,492. At the conclusion of business routine an interesting programme was provided, consisting of a questionnaire on the annual report of 1927-27, each officer answering questions about her particular department. These questions and answers opened up before the Auxiliary the prominence of the work. The supply committee reported all work completed and delivered to the Presbyterial supply secretary. Mrs. J. P. Ranshouan sang a solo most acceptably, and at the tea hour the hostesses were Mrs. Robt. McLeod and Mrs. Salter, with Mrs. T. Cohoon assisting.

GROVE CITY, OHIO SEARCHES FOR SLAYER

Arthur Batelle Believed to Have Killed His Wife, Mother of Eight Children.

GROVE CITY, Ohio, March 23.—Search was being made today for Arthur Batelle, 41, a salesman and former painter, following the discovery of the body of his wife, the head beaten in with a hammer, nailed in a closet in her home in the Franklin County village.

The woman, mother of eight children, died a few minutes after the neighbors broke the closet door and brought her out. According to the children and neighbors, the Batelles quarrelled frequently. Only the youngest children, Janet and James, twins aged five, were present when the slaying occurred. Shortly before noon two women canvassers came to the door. The children told them: "Mamma is dead; in the closet; papa nailed her in."

DEATH BLOW TO PROPOSALS OF THE SOVIETS

Disarmament Commission Decides Upon Impracticability of Scheme.

GENEVA, March 23.—The Soviet project for complete disarmament was given its death blow by the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations today. Notice of the project's demise was postponed, however, until it was found whether the committee's own draft on disarmament would go to a second reading this session.

A resolution closing the debate on disarmament noted that practically all the members find the Soviet text, while in harmony with the ideals of mankind is under existing world conditions, incapable of being carried out. It suggested that the Soviet method might be studied further by the various governments but made no provision for its further study by the commission. The resolution was presented after Anatole Lunacharsky, Soviet commissar for public instruction, had appeared before the committee in place of Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Russian delegation. M. Lunacharsky, in replying to attacks on the Soviet plan said the people of the world without question demand what the Soviet is proposing—general and immediate disarmament. Discussion regarding it might be closed at Geneva, he continued, but it would remain open before the world. The resolution will be discussed this evening.

AN EXPENSIVE BUSINESS

The Provincial Secretary estimates the cost to the province and the people of the province of last year's typhoid epidemic at $20,000,000. He is probably not over the mark when all losses are taken into account—deaths and what they meant to the families involved, cost of combating the plague, diversion of tourist travel, etc. The lesson in this is that "an ounce of prevention" is worth a pound of cure. The Legislature is proceeding on this basis when it orders that all towns of 5,000 population or over shall have a health officer whose appointment must be sanctioned by the Lieutenant Governor-in-Council. These serious conditions in communities develop from small beginnings. Neglect of municipal authorities to act promptly and energetically is usually a factor.

GROWTH OF SHERBROOKE'S WEALTH

The general commercial development of Sherbrooke City is well demonstrated by the increase in the values of taxable property. By ten year periods this is shown as follows:

1897	$ 3,923,026
1917	$10,804,655
1927	$26,841,381

The taxable property of Sherbrooke, as between English and French ownerships is classed as follows:

English (Private)	$ 8,094,080
English (Company)	6,910,501
French (Private)	9,720,120
French (Company)	626,420
Railways	770,000
St. Railway & Power	302,501
Banks	293,000
Bell Telephone	102,000

Total taxable $26,841,381

The above does not include property exempt from taxation, such as charitable and religious institutions.

WOMEN AND "PERSONS"

Are women "persons"? This is the weighty question which the Supreme Court of Canada has to decide in the matter referred to it relative to the eligibility of women to sit in the Senate. The term "persons" is included in the British North America Act defining those who shall constitute the Senate of Canada. Did the framers mean men and women or only men? "Decision, however, is in the hands of the court at present," remarks the Toronto Globe. "Whatever it is, it will be the result of many days of study, and will be the most conclusive that learned Judges can give. The Ottawa paper is not so hopeful on this score. The arguments both for and against are so strong," it says, "that it would not be surprising if each Judge, being compelled to make a choice, and unable to declare both sides right, interpreted 'persons' according to his own private inclination. It would be unfortunate if this is the best they can do. The woman may decide that they had better get a new groundwork established before bringing the case up again by manning the Supreme Court benches with sympathizers from their own sex." While no one would venture to dispute that modern women are persons in the political sense, it is by no means so sure that the staid old Fathers of Confederation so regarded them—in 1867. The Supreme Court judges have an interesting and somewhat difficult problem on their hands.

FAT (By Dr. Frank Crane)

There used to be a line in a play that went, "Nobody loves a fat man." At least nowadays no woman wants to be fat. There are all sorts of explanations, theories and remedies for fatness. There is just one cause of fat however. People should remember that they never put anything on their abdomen or hips in the way of fat that does not come through their mouth in the way of food. There is a good deal of high brow theorizing about disease and glandular troubles. It is nice to talk about these things and it is less humiliating than to admit that we eat too much. But disease causes little overweight. Neither is glandular trouble prevalent. The real cause of fat is that we eat too much and live too much at ease. Our ancestors were not troubled with obesity because they had to hustle around more. They did not ride in automobiles. They walked. They hunted. They did house work. If some of the ladies who complain of too much obese tissue would make a practice of taking the broom and sweeping the floor and getting down on their knees and mopping up the kitchen and doing the family wash, they would speedily recover their desired slowness. We don't take enough exercise and we eat too much. The candy habit grows and grows. No better cure for an enlarged abdomen can be found than bending over a wash board and no better cure for piano-shaped legs than plenty of walking. If we would get down to the simple life and move about more and eat less our figures would show it. Horses and dogs are healthy because they run around so much to find something to eat. People are not healthy because they sit still and have somebody bring them something to eat. Exercise for the sake of exercise is pretty hard to take, but exercise performed in the course of one's daily duties is not so hard. One ought to arrange one's life as much as possible to wait on one's self. The necessary action of the body in attending to one's needs will have a great effect upon one's shape. I met a man in Paris some years ago and when I asked him on behalf of a friend where a good valet could be secured he replied that he did not know valets, as for some years he had been trying to see how many things he could get along without and not how many things he could get. See how much you can do without and arrange your life as much as possible so that you have to wait on yourself and you will not have much trouble with your figure.—Cpt. 1928.

PRESS COMMENT

SCHOOL-SERVICE DOUBTED.
(Lowell Courier-Citizen)
Payson Smith, head of the State Department of Education, soberly assures the local Kiwanis that "the schools are worth all they cost." This is unquestionably the opinion of those engaged in the business of education. We question most seriously whether it is, also the opinion of those who have to pay for the schools in their present estate, or who have most to do with the products of those schools after they come out. We further question the too common assertion of the school experts that they alone can be supposed to know anything about what the schools are worth, or can assess the real value of current methods. Our own feeling is that the professionals in the realm of pedagogics have made rather less of public education, which isn't in fact worth anywhere near what it costs.

PATRIOTIC PHILANTHROPY.
(Christian Science Monitor)
Great Britain is probably the most heavily taxed nation in the world, as a result of the World War, and yet the sturdy citizens of the islands in the North Sea pay with but little grumbling, with but little complaint. It is regarded as a duty "to pay for the war." It should be remembered that the richer the individual, the higher is his proportion of the taxes to be paid. Not only, however, do the British pay these abnormally high taxes, but every once in a while the world learns that some patriotic individual has forwarded to the Government a large sum of money, or its equivalent, to assist in liquidating its enormous debt, and thus lessen, even if only infinitesimally, the heavy burden of taxation carried on the shoulders of his fellow-countrymen. In this way a total of £1,000,000 has been paid into the British Treasury. The latest gift of this nature is of a somewhat unique character, and was made as most of them have been, anonymously. The amount is the handsome sum of £100,000, and the condition on which it has been given is that the money shall lie at compound interest for a number of years before being applied to the reduction of the national debt. As money at five per cent. doubles itself in about fourteen years, it is easy to perceive that in a comparatively short time the original £100,000 will have grown into a most respectable sum. It may be recalled to the credit of the British Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin, that he it was who started the ball rolling in giving these large sums of money toward the amelioration of his country's condition. It will be remembered that Mr. Baldwin, when the country's need was most urgent, realized twenty per cent. of his entire fortune, which he valued at some £500,000, and with this amount he purchased £150,000 of the new war loan. The gift was anonymous, and it was only later that Mr. Wickham Steed made the matter public in the Review of Reviews. This patriotic example was followed with donations of other sums of money, extremely satisfactory to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and the total amount thus received, as before stated, is considerably over £1,000,000.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IMMIGRATION AND OUR FISCAL POLICY.

To the Editor, Sherbrooke Record.
Sir—People, and more people, is Canada's great need. Our political economists, politicians, railroad officials, bankers, the press and in fact everyone, who has the welfare of this country at heart, is talking and writing the same thing, but to no avail. Why? We have spent millions in advertising one country and have induced many immigrants to come in, but we have been unable to retain them for the simple reason that they cannot make a living here but can do so by going a few miles South where they are protected. We have been drifting aimlessly for many years for the need of a sane tariff to enable us to manufacture our immense quantities of raw material and give employment to our own boys and such immigrants as we have induced to cast their lot in with us. The position of Minister of Immigration for Canada is no sinecure, we all appreciate the Minister's laborious efforts to secure settlers for us, and we would doubly appreciate it if he could devise some scheme to employ and restrain them from immigrating to the United States after many years for the expense and trouble of getting them. We have brought in a large number of intended settlers at great cost, as many if all had remained, in fact we have brought in many more than we could give employment to if they had all remained, under our present fiscal policy, and at present there are no signs that it will be altered for our country's benefit. The idea of our Government (not only the present, but Governments of both political parties) in trying to compete our country under the handicap of our present tariff is very much like trying to fill a barrel, standing on end with the bung-hole open. You may pour in as many measures as you please but you will only be able to maintain the level at the bung-hole which compares well with our free and freer trade policy. In the case of the barrel the bung-hole acts and performs the functions of a filter or screen, encouraging the overflow and loss of the best and most desirable portion whilst the dross and sediment settle in the barrel, different in no essential way with the results obtained by our immigration and fiscal policy which encourages and permits the emigration and escape of our boys and the most desirable immigrants, retaining the incompetents as citizens.

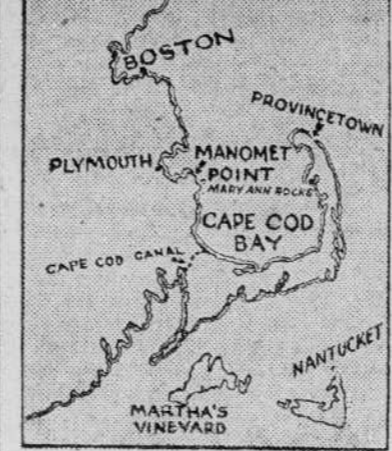

We can continue to spend millions upon millions as we have done in the past advertising our country to induce people to come in, and after they get here we can cry our eyes out and shout our heads off, but we will never be able to keep them until our tariff is somewhere near the level of the American tariff. We must be able to pay our artisans as high wages and our farmers as good prices for their produce as is paid across the line. A country's best advertisement is the country itself, hence you will have noticed that it is impossible to keep our own people and that it is becoming more and more difficult on account of present conditions, to secure desirable immigrants for Canada, especially of the better agricultural class. They prefer to go to the United States if they can get in, or to Australia or New Zealand. They will choose a country where they are protected and can make a decent living. Give Canada a sane tariff and it would be unnecessary to spend the money we are now wasting to advertise our country to induce people to come. Our chief concern would be to make a proper selection from the hordes who would seek admission of their own will. Yours for a sane tariff and conservation, F. H. PICKEL, Sweetsburg, March 19th, 1928.

FARMER OR MOTORIST

To the Editor, Sherbrooke Record.
Sir—In the issue of Friday, March 16th, of the Record there is a letter from H. G. James "Re Lights on Vehicles" and also he brings up another subject, grade crossings. In regards to "Lights on Vehicles," he says, "It is unfortunate that the question has become controversial and also 'It is useless to insist on it, for it makes matters worse.'" The short comings of the farmer are evident. The Motor Club of Montreal asked that a law be passed to force all "horse drawn vehicles to carry lights after sunset," and the request was turned down, which was a surprise to the Motor Club and also to many motorists, then letters began to appear in the Record headed "Re Lights on Vehicles," etc. The farmer then replied to advance their case. Why was the request turned down? Let us see. What is a vehicle? The dictionary gives it as any kind of conveyance. Now the farmer would be, according to the request made, obliged to carry lights on anything that he went on the road with, if horse-drawn, which was unreasonable, and the members of Parliament know that. If the Motor Club had asked that light vehicle carry lights, that would have been within reason, but the law as it reads would have driven the farmer off the road after sunset. How could a farmer carry a light on a load of hay or pulpwood, logs or Christmas trees. Now who are the people of the Province of Quebec? Are the farmers entitled to any consideration?

RATS AND DISEASE.

To the Editor, Sherbrooke Record.
Sir— I sincerely trust you will give me a small space in your paper in which to call the attention of the city in general to the horrible condition in which many of us find ourselves with regard to rats. They are an absolute scourge in many parts of this city, and we find the health department very busy fighting the spread of contagious diseases. It is a funny thing too, because they will persist in preaching to the public in general, that rats are the greatest disease carriers in the world. Yet they totally ignore their existence here in this city, or the fact that this city is simply alive with them, and no great wonder when there is nothing done to keep them down or rid the city of them. Sleeping infants have been badly bitten by them here in this city, and that's not a joke or a falsehood. They are by far a greater pest than flies, and our health department wages a terrific war on them, but rats, oh well, never mind, they will take care of themselves and will soon own this city if we don't watch out. It is up to the citizens to see that they are not overrun with motorists usurp the road? Mr. H. G. James says that "the motorists will get their wish some day." I would like to call his attention to the fact that nine-tenths of the Government at Quebec is controlled by the farmers and the city motorists can blow their big bazoo if they want to.

HEARING TO TAKE PLACE ON BOSTON CASE

New England City Charges Unfair Ocean Rates and Discrimination Against That Port.
(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, D.C., March 23.—A formal hearing on ocean freight rate differentials was ordered yesterday by the Shipping Board after discussion between representatives of the North Atlantic-United Kingdom Freight Rate Conference and the Board. The date of the hearing will be set following the filing of a formal complaint by the port of Boston, charging unfair rates and discrimination against that port. It is hoped by the Shipping Board that through the formal hearing the long drawn-out fight made by Boston against ports south of New York may be brought to an end. Representatives from all shipping interests involved are to attend the hearing.

CANADA FOR CANADIANS.

To the Editor, Sherbrooke Record.
Sir— I would like to put forth my ideas on the immigration question which I have been reading about during the past few months. I am not in favor of importing help for the farmers. If this was not done there would be work for Canadians. The farmer, of course, likes this kind of help for he can hire them at his own price, around $12 to $15 a month. What the trouble is, though, that his help only stay with him for a month or so, after which they come to a city or town, and as many have no family, they work for about $15 a week and think they are rich. What about the man with a family, who is forced to work for these low wages on account of immigration? He can't make both ends meet, in my way of thinking. Why not keep Canada for the Canadians? The more work there is in a mill, the more work there is to be done. Why not the same for Canada. JUST A CITY READER.

POLICE CHIEF IS FIRED AT BY TWO WOMEN

Was Also Stabbed Just After He Had Been Acquitted of Murder of Relative. Court Room Was in Turmoil.

(Associated Press Despatch)
COLUMBIANA, Ala., March 23.—H. F. Blake, Calera chief of police, was fired at and then stabbed by two women in circuit court here yesterday just after he had been acquitted of the murder of their relative, Miss Louise Montebello. Mrs. Mabel Montebello, mother of the girl, fired a pistol from a distance of about five feet as Blake was being congratulated by his friends. The shot went wild. Miss Cecile Tubbs, an aunt of the girl, leaped at the police chief, drawing a knife as she flung herself towards him, and stabbed him in the neck. Blake fell, the blood streaming from the wound.

The court room was in a turmoil in a moment, and Charlie C. McCall, State Attorney General, who had personally prosecuted Blake, fainted from the excitement. Physicians said they could not tell from their first examination whether Blake's wound would be fatal. He had toppled into the jury box, from which the men who freed him were slowly filing out. They assisted in picking him up and carrying him to a hospital. McCall quickly recovered himself and ordered the two women taken into custody. Both were frantic from the strain of the trial and their deed, and Mrs. Montebello fought hysterically with court officers before she was subdued. She still tried to get to Blake as the bailiffs pinioned her.

HAD LIVELY SCRAP WITH RUM RUNNERS

Sheriff of Niagara County, New York, Captures Five and 800 Cases of Ale.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WILSON, N. Y., March 23.— Sheriff James A. Campbell, of Niagara County and deputies last night clashed with a party of alleged rum runners estimated to number twenty men and after an exchange of shots, captured five of them with 800 cases of ale and a fifty foot launch, beached on the south shore of Lake Ontario. One of the sheriff's deputies received word early in the evening that a boat was discharging a cargo on the shore about a mile from the village and notified Campbell. The sheriff was in Lockport.

Gathering a force of half a dozen men there and on the trip to Wilson by automobile, Sheriff Campbell arrived there at dusk. The launch had apparently run hard aground while the crew was trying to make the mouth of a small creek and the bulk of the cargo had been floated ashore. When the sheriff called on the men to surrender they fled. Several shots were fired, but no one was wounded so far as known. Fifteen out of the score of men escaped in the darkness. BAPTISING ESKIMO BABY "JOHN"

SCHOOL CHILDREN AT ANGLICAN MISSION - BARFEN LAND

DOG PULLING SLED

MUCH has been written about the romance of missionary work, especially amongst the people of the polar north. Let it be stated frankly that there is romance—the greatest romance known to man—but it has little to do with "the fiendish cold," neither is it found in "the splendor that cometh out of the north," but from the consciousness that one's life is being used for the uplifting of a people who possess so many splendid qualities.

Those who labor among the Eskimo know of the latent powers within them for good, and how they respond to the teaching of the Christian evangel, and see how contact with faith with the strong Son of God develops them as nothing else can, so that the very expression on their faces is changed, and visible proof is given of that inward light divine—the "light that never was on sea or land."

To watch the Eskimo pass from a sinful and degraded paganism into the faith and practice of Jesus Christ is the true romance of the Arctic missionary, beside which all else is as nothing. Only a personal, experimental faith in the Saviour of men can keep him true to his high and holy task amidst all the dangers, difficulties and loneliness of the Arctic wilds, but as Kieble says:

"The trivial road, the common task will furnish all we ought to ask, Room to deny ourselves, a road To bring us daily nearer God."

At the same time life and travel in the Arctic have many interesting features, beginning with the voyage from civilization to the far north.

While navigating the polar seas, the annual supply ship constantly finds her way barred by fields of ice. At such times progress is slow. All day and night for several days at a time the ship will force her way through ever-thickening ice floes, so that sleep is out of the question, and one wonders how a steel ship can stand the strain. The skilled mariner who understands Arctic navigation guides the ship into such channels of open water as are available, then forces her into the obstructing masses of ice. When the ship strikes the ice, she shivers from stem to stern, but owing to her bow being cut away below the water line she slowly rises up on the ice until her sheer weight finally breaks it asunder with many a groan, as if grudging the ship her advantage and promising revenge. The ice cracks and splits for a hundred yards or more ahead, and the ship quietly sinks to her floating level and pushes her way into the opening crack.

Dangerous Navigation

WHEN in the ice the helmsman and engineers have little rest. Orders and counter orders are given in rapid succession as the ship "conns" her way through the great white masses. All day long the voice of the officer on watch can be heard "starboard," "ease her," "steady," "give her a point to port," "hard a port," and the like; while the engine telegraph is kept ringing anything from "full ahead" to "full astern." Needless to say a ship has to be specially constructed for this kind of work.

To the Hudson's Bay Company belongs the credit of having built the finest and strongest vessels sailing to the north, but even so they have met with many disasters through ships being crushed in the ice, and these add a "thrill" to the life of the Arctic voyager, although most people would gladly dispense with such experiences. To be suddenly ordered out on to drifting ice, and then for hours watch the ship gradually sink lower and lower in the water, until she takes the final plunge, carrying with her all your supplies for twelve months, may be spectacular, but terrifying—especially when you have no idea whether help will come to rescue you from death by cold and starvation. Yet such has been the experience of quite a number of our Arctic missionaries and traders.

Let me illustrate. While the women were making my fur clothing and sleeping bag out of caribou skins, my dog driver and boy were busy getting the sledge into first-class shape, while I gave attention to the preparation of food supplies for the journey. When all had been completed we started off on a prolonged visitation to my parish, during which I traveled some two thousand miles by sledge and dog team, and visited many villages, where no other white man had ever been before.

The first days journey was not a long one, as we had been delayed in starting, although we were up at four o'clock in the morning. That night when we came to a suitable place, we stopped the team and began our preparations for building a snow hut in which we would spend the night. The hills at this place were all comparatively steep, and between the sea ice and the land there was a formidable barrier of broken ice due to the heavy rise and fall of tide. After we had overcome the difficulties of getting the sledge over the ground ice, we had to face a long, steep hill, which we took at an angle. When we got half way up we found it necessary to unload part of our cargo, and thus lightened we proceeded smartly up and over the hill, until we came to a deep drift of snow suitable for igloo building.

Here we deposited our half load and returned for what we had left behind. By the time we had reached the camping ground the second time it was long after dark, but the Aurora flashing brightly overhead lighted up the frozen wastes. We all set to work with a will, and soon a neat little round snow house six to seven feet in diameter rose up to heaven. While my dog driver attended to the dogs, and the sledge boy was busily engaged getting the igloo put into habitable order, I went off to a small lake not far away, and with an oceanic (seal-spear) chipped out some ice from which we obtained our drinking water.

Helping the Dogs Haul

AT this point a detailed statement of my personal provisions for the trip would perhaps not be without interest. I had 41 pounds of water-biscuit, 6 pounds butter, 1 pound salt, 2 boxes (20 tubes) maggi consommé, 100 pounds boiled beans, 1 round packet of chocolate and 4 small packets of dates. Besides these, I had coffee, ship biscuit, venison and seal. Our evening meal consisted of a mug of chocolate, two water biscuits with butter, and some beans which had been thawed out in our stew-pot. As soon as we had partaken of our repast we crawled into our fur bags and were soon lost in slumber.

The second day we reluctantly threw off more than half of our dog meat in order to lighten the sledge, which the Eskimos call a kumotik. Such an action brings with it serious risks, and we felt the want of our dog meat and blubber later on, but it simply had to be done, or we never should have reached the summit of the mountain ranges. To say that I was tired when it came to the end of a day's run, generally ten to twelve hours, is to put it mildly.

The delights of hill-climbing with a poor team of dogs and an overladen kumotik are such as practically baffles description. One of the party goes on in front with a piece of frozen deer meat from which he cuts little pieces, while shouting to the dogs to attract their attention. The driver and yourself get the hauling straps adjusted, and then shouting your eyes to the dogs, and straining at the harness until you feel as if the strap was a red-hot bar across your chest, you perhaps make the rather unpleasant discovery that the kumotik has hardly moved an inch; or again, just as you have laboriously reached almost to the top of an icy ridge, the loop to which the dogs' traces are secured breaks or loosens, and before you know what has happened the kumotik is sliding down the hill, and the dogs, feeling themselves free, are racing away from you. I had better explain that the hauling strap is simply a heavy thong of walrus hide or seal-skin, and is passed crosswise over the chest and one shoulder, and attached to the rear of the kumotik.

I found one great objection to this method; it brought the centre of effort much too high. After ten or twelve hours at this sort of thing every bone in my body seemed to ache.

Joy in Desolation

I DO not want it to be supposed that because the land lay wrapped in its mantle of snow we did not have any relief from the monotony. It is true that during our outward journey on this occasion the only sign of life was a raven, and on our return one large white owl and two ravens, but we did have changes. There were frequent pauses, a dog's harness or trace would break; the traces had to be disentangled or something would fall off the sledge. Each day had its own difficulties in the shape of hills to climb or go down, and these, if nothing else happened, tended to relieve the monotony of the dreary wastes.

Even in these desolate regions there is a joy unspeakable which comes from simple faith and that inward joy that lifts a man above his surroundings—even when physically he is engaged in unmitigated misery. As we marched onwards day by day, now through a deep gully with overhanging cliffs, now along a frozen stream-bed, or across a lake which made the going easy, we repeatedly saw the tracks of caribou, wolves and foxes. At one time we came upon all that remained of a deer which had been brought to earth by a wolf, and in the snow we saw the fresh marks of the unequal contest. One Sunday we were encamped in a bleak valley at the north end of a glacier, called by the Eskimo "Aw-u-took" (that which does not melt), and I was informed that we should probably arrive among the Eskimo on the morrow.

A blizzard made it almost impossible to get out of doorn even for a little fresh air. The following day we pushed on with all our energy, as we had come to the end of our blubber supply. Unfortunately we had an accident. In a gully we came to a treacherous waterfall, the dogs were freed and dropped down; then the kumotik was lowered, and the accident happened when the kumotik was under way. The dog driver jumped on the steep bank of hard snow at the bottom, but as the kumotik was set free he lost his footing and got several bumps which sent him sprawling down the bank of snow.

At one point it seemed certain that he would be crushed between the rock and the kumotik, but our good dog ordered it otherwise. The accident caused some delay, but the result was little more than a fright and a slight pain in his side for a few seconds. Truly the Eskimo are a hardy race in more ways than one. To a student of human nature they cannot fail to be the subject of much admiration. Their courage within certain definite limits is unimpeachable; they dare where others pause in fear and trembling.

Showing Them Movies

THE next day, some hours after sunset, a soft chuckle from the Eskimo driving the sledge aroused me from my slumbering, and looking in the direction indicated I perceived some faint little yellow lights on a hill above the level of the ground ice. The sight was most welcome and inviting for it suggested warmth and comfort, food and drink, such as can be found among the Eskimo. There was now little time or inclination for poetical reflection, since the night was cold, the wind cutting, and the "unner man" complained bitterly of nepotism. We were met at the ground ice by the three leading men of the village, and very soon the sledge with its load was taken safely over the tide-made shelf of the ice foot, and stood at the door of a newly built hut of snow, clean and white. There was now much bustle and hurrying of feet, as everybody came out to shake hands with "Inooktaukub." This is my name in Eskimo, and means "One of the family of the Eskimo." The name was given me after I had lived and traveled with them as an Eskimo.

All lent a hand in getting the hut made ready for habitation. The sleeping platform was spread with caribou skins, and a crescent-shaped stone lamp whose concavity had been filled with crushed seal blubber to feed the unequal contest. One Sunday we were encamped in a bleak valley at the north end of a glacier, called by the Eskimo "Aw-u-took" (that which does not melt), and I was informed that we should probably arrive among the Eskimo on the morrow.

We began with a good number of photographs taken during my last stay amongst the Eskimo, and these pictures created the most lively interest. We then went for a trip in Canada and the States, Scotland, England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France. This was followed by a series of visits showing foreign sledges, from a dog-cart in Holland to the latest locomotive Pullman train and flying machines.

The aim of these pictures was to try to open the minds of the Eskimo by some definite knowledge of the outside world. It came as a complete surprise to them to know that the inhabitants of Britain spoke a different language from the inhabitants of Germany, and that in France still another tongue was spoken. A great many other points came up later, which facts gave me cause to believe that the evening was instructive as well as happy. Before closing we had a number of "New Testament" stories with the usual explanations and lessons made clear, and the evening was closed with prayer.

Communion in a Hut

ON another occasion we proceeded westward and northward, and at every village I found the Eskimo very anxious for instruction, and they at once asked when "the time of teaching" would begin—needless to say it began as soon as we had arranged ourselves and our impedimenta in the hut. And the services—well, I have never known a more reverent and earnest lot of people than these Eskimo. It was indeed a pleasure to work amongst such a happy and devoted group of Christians. A number of men and women at one place had been anxious to be baptized during my visit the previous year, and had received some preparation for this important step, but it happened that I had to leave camp before the necessary arrangements for the baptismal service could be completed. At this time some of these Eskimo came and reminded me about the matter, and again expressed their earnest desire to take their place in the church visible.

This was good news, and I speedily arranged for a meeting of the women candidates each evening. I found it comparatively easy work to ground them in the main points of our faith, for those already baptized had done their best to teach the others. This baptismal service as on other occasions, I felt that in very truth "the heavens were telling" and "the Sun of Righteousness was arising with healing in his wings."

At one camp there were a number of Christian Eskimo who were anxious to partake of the holy communion, so before leaving we had a special service of obeying their Lord's command.

CUSTOMS TO COLLECT EVERY CENT OWING

Hon. W. D. Euler Says Official Action Will be Taken in All Cases Recommended For Investigation.

OTTAWA, March 23.—Official action is being taken in respect to all concerns recommended for investigation or prosecution in the report of the Royal Customs Commission, Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, announced in the House this afternoon. There were some one hundred odd firms under investigation or prosecution. In a number of instances the money due the department had been paid. "As far as the Department of National Revenue is concerned, we shall collect every dollar that is owing to the department by any concern or individual," said Mr. Euler.

Instructions have been given to counsel to prosecute Harry Bronfman, of the Bronfman liquor interests, who had operated in different parts of Canada, for alleged bribery of a customs official in the city of Winnipeg, said Mr. Euler. Unfortunately some delay had been caused by the prolonged illness of the chief witness for the prosecution, an officer of the customs department.

With regard to the institution of legal proceedings against the Bronfman family interests, Mr. Euler stated that a recommendation in that respect had been made by the commission itself and not by Hon. N. W. Rowell, counsel for the commission. There were no fewer than twenty-eight companies in which the Bronfmans had been interested; and all of these concerns were being investigated with a view to the collection of any taxes due. The records of these companies were more or less incomplete, and it required some time to gather all the necessary information.

In respect to any prosecutions under the Food and Drug Act, the opinion of the commissions had been that prosecution for any infraction of this act was now barred. The whole matter was brought up on a series of questions by John Evans (Prog., Rosetown).

POLICE PATROL WITHIN SHADOW OF NORTH POLE

Official Reports of Royal Mounted Police Unfold Thrilling Tale of Adventure and Endurance in Arctic.

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, March 23.—How the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, formerly styled the Royal North-West Mounted Police—continue to uphold the authority of Canada up in the Arctic wastes, thousands of miles from civilization, is told in simple, straightforward language in the annual report of that body which has just been made public. Patrols undertaken within the shadow of the North Pole itself, demanding an absence of months from their base, involving treks over glaciers, through blizzards, and under conditions that call for the utmost endurance and hardihood, and recounted as a matter of routine duty.

All the land lying north of the mainland of Canada has long since been claimed as the possession of Canada, and in order to assert her authority Canada sends those stalwart constables to apply the laws of the Dominion, to succeed the Eskimos, whom Canada has adopted as her wards, when they are in need of help, to establish post offices and customs posts, and in general to administer in the name of the King that vast sub-continent that lies beyond the northern shores of this country.

700 Miles From Pole At Bache Peninsula, in Ellesmere Land, is the most northerly outpost of civilization in the world. It is 700 miles south of the Pole, and stationed there are three men of the Royal Mounted, with three Eskimo families and a further animal equipment of 19 husky dogs. They are housed in two small but comfortable shacks for the natives with living quarters, storehouse, blubber shed and other small constructions for the officers. The winter of 1926-1927 was a mild one and such being the nature of communications the most recent news from Bache Peninsula is that of last winter. Only one night did the thermometer go below 41, and climatic conditions generally were good.

Perhaps it was this mild weather which inspired Sergeant Joy to undertake his trip directly across Ellesmere Land with two Eskimos, Ahkewoo and Nookapeungwek, covering a distance of 1,820 miles and doing it in fifty-four days. The story of the trip is told in plain, unvarnished language, with no heroics and no superlatives. The party left Bache Peninsula at noon on March 26, 1927. Constable Gammet and Eskimo Oeda accompanied them part of the way. Four dog teams made up the four-footed part of the expedition. After 10 days the constable and his Eskimo returned to the base, and Sergeant Joy and his two natives continued their journey. The trip was one which brought out the great endurance of the constable and his natives, and in a casual manner in which circumstances are told form one of the most interesting features of the journal.

"On the 6th (April) Nookapeungwek and Ahkewoo walked inland in search of caribou, while I made a further attempt to dry out clothing. During their 10-hour absence they killed four hares, and saw many caribou tracks a few days old, but no caribou."

Many Musk Oxen Seen Many musk oxen were seen; hares were plentiful, as were ptarmigan, while polar bears and wolves also put in occasional appearance. The party replenished their larder from the results of a caribou hunt, but the after-effects looked bad for a while.

"While returning to camp with the caribou on the komatik, two hares jumped up from under the dogs' feet; the dogs followed the hares like animals gone mad and took the komatik over a high-cut bank into a bed of rocks, with bad results on the komatik. It took over a day to put it in running order again."

On April 16, the party ran into a blizzard while making towards a high cape. "We had barely covered half the distance when the storm came on again. We reached the cape, but the storm made it almost as dark as mid-winter, and we were unable to see more than a few feet on land or ice. The storm continued until the morning of the 18th when the snow ceased drifting and the wind moderated to a strong breeze."

Dogs and storms became an almost daily portion of their trip, but even in those exposed wastes there was vegetation.

"Here and there a few tufts of grass, an occasional frozen Arctic poppy and a little heather were all the vegetation that could be seen within several hundred yards of the shore line. At this time we had only two feeds of dog pemmican for each team; our dogs were thin and languid, and I decided to start on our return journey immediately."

COOKSHIRE MAN WAS DRAGGED BY RUN-AWAY TEAM

Mr. William Woolley Injured When Hook of Logging Chain Became Caught in Leg—Was Dragged Some Distance—Persons and Other Notes From Cookshire.

COOKSHIRE, Que., March 23.—The many friends of Mr. William Woolley are very sorry to hear of his painful accident which occurred last Saturday afternoon, while he was engaged in his work.

It seems that Mr. Woolley went into the woods to draw logs. After hitching a chain around a log to pull it in the sleigh, the hook became loosened, and the horses bolted, drawing Mr. Woolley after them, his trousers, after he had been drawn over two hundred yards, he was able to loose the hook, which had got firmly embedded in his leg. By sheer will power Mr. Woolley managed to make his way to a farm house where kind hands assisted to stop the flow of blood.

Dr. A. Johnson was called and on examination found the limb greatly lacerated. Mr. Woolley is taken home and the last report is he is doing as well as can be expected.

General Notes Last Sunday evening a very interesting address was given by the rector of St. Peter's on a well known hymn, "There is a Green Hill Far Away." These addresses, which are being given during Sunday evenings, are getting very popular and are very interesting. The author of this hymn was Mrs. Alexander, wife of the late Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of Ireland. "There is a frigid of men, nor are they much concerned over the noise made by a team or a number of teams of howling Eskimo dogs. For the latter reason it would be interesting to observe how they would act when being approached or stalked by wolves. The wolves must play havoc with such easy prey. And no doubt many die annually from starvation and sickness, for they are wretchedly poor in the spring and not all can be lucky enough to survive the winter, a living skeleton."

MOTHER OF MARY PICKFORD DEAD IN CAL.

Was a Native of Toronto Where Her Famous Daughter Was Born.

(Associated Press Despatch) LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 23.—Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, mother of Mary Pickford, famous screen star, died shortly after midnight today. She had been suffering from a lingering illness for some time.

Miss Pickford was at the bedside of her mother at the latter's Beverly Hills home when she died. A cancerous growth was reported to have been the cause of her death. She was 55 years old.

Mrs. Pickford, whose name formerly was Charlotte Smith, was the mother of three motion picture stars—Mary, Lottie and Jack Pickford. The latter also became widely known in vaudeville. A sister and two nieces also survive.

The mother of Movieland's best-known actress was born in Toronto, Ont., September 3, 1872, and was married there to John Smith, of that city, when she was 19 years old. All of her three children were born in the Canadian city.

Jack and Lottie Pickford also were at their mother's home.

CHAMBERLAIN OPPOSED TO WOMEN IN DIPLOMATIC POSTS LONDON, March 23. —The appointment of women to responsible posts in the diplomatic service was brought up in the House of Commons this afternoon by Ellen Wilkinson, Labor member for the east division of Middlesex. She could not, however, excite any enthusiasm for the innovation in Sir Austen Chamberlain, to whom she addressed her query. "I do not think that any change in our rules is desirable," said the Foreign Secretary decisively. Nor would Sir Austen concede to Lady Astor, who asked a supplementary question, that sex should

MR. JOHN M. MORRISSEY, ST. MARY'S ELY. ST. MARY'S ELY, Que., March 23.—It was with deep regret that the community heard of the death of the oldest and most respected citizen of this place in the person of Mr. John M. Morrissey, who passed away at his home on Thursday, March 8th, at the age of eighty-eight years.

Mr. Morrissey had been ill, but a short time, and until a few days before his death hopes were entertained for his recovery, but his age was against him and despite medical skill and loving care, he passed peacefully away surrounded by his family.

The deceased, who was born in County Kerry, Ireland, in 1839, was a son of the late Michael Morrissey and Mary McCullough. He came to this country in 1851 and after he grew to manhood he bought a farm in Valcourt, which he sold after ten years to purchase his uncle's farm in St. Mary's, where he resided until his death.

On August 28th, 1863, Mr. Morrissey was united in marriage to Catherine Healy, daughter of Patrick Healy and Mrs. Quinn. Of this union eleven children were born, five of whom pre-deceased him. Mrs. Morrissey died on May 29th, 1911. The surviving children are: Miss Sadie, who has been a devoted daughter and loving nurse to her father, John F. Edmund, Mrs. Thos. Carlin, (Mary E.) Montreal; Mrs. H. M. Carlin (Augusta), and Mrs. Denis Carlin (Elizabeth), of St. Mary's; also four grand-children and two sisters, Mrs. M. Dohan, of Melbourne, and Mrs. W. Murphy, of Detroit, Mich., besides many other relatives.

Mr. Morrissey was a kind friend and neighbor and it would be difficult to find a man more worthy of respect. He had a keen sense of fairness and a high and was held in esteem by all classes and creeds of the community. His passing leaves a void in the hearts of those who knew and loved him best.

His funeral was held on Monday, March 12th, at St. Mary's Church and was largely attended by relatives and friends.

The requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Adam, of Racine, assisted by the Rev. A. D. Richard, pastor of St. Mary's and Rev. J. Adam, as deacon and sub-deacon.

The bearers were: Messrs. J. A. Sealy, Ed. Dupaul, P. Forbes, Ed. Morrissey, James Forbes, J. E. Bernier. Interment took place in St. Mary's cemetery.

Among those who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Carlin, of Montreal; Mr. J. A. Healy, and Miss M. A. Healy, of Granville, Mass.; Mr. E. Dupaul, and Mrs. Eug. Thibodeau, of Montreal; Dr. P. Langlois, Grandpre; Dr. E. Archambault, Mr. Jos. Dupaul, Mr. Geo. Racine, Miss G. Racine, Mr. Jos. Robin, Mr. and Mrs. Celestin Proulx, Mr. Felix Bombardier, Mr. Jos. Millett, Mr. P. Bombardier, Mr. Thos. Archambault, and Misses E. and J. Archambault, of Valcourt, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, of Racine; Mr. and Mrs. N. Beers, Mr. W. Fowler, Mr. R. Beers, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Fleck, of Melbourne Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fowler and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Desjard, of Kingsbury, Mr. A. Johnson, Mr. Geo. Fraser, Mr. E. Munroe, Mr. Johnson and Mr. M. Pariseau, of Melbourne.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

MRS. J. D. MACIVER, GOULD. GOULD, Que., March 23.—The late Mrs. J. D. MacIver, nee Mary MacRitchie, who passed away peacefully at her late home on February 24, was the daughter of Barvas, Scotland. She came to Canada forty-two years ago with her late husband, who predeceased her eighteen months ago. Nine children were born of this union. Except one child that died in infancy all these children are living and six were at home for the funeral. The two eldest were unable to be present as the distance was too far, Finley and Mrs. Hall, (Katie), of Pasadena, California.

Although the deceased had been in failing health for some time, she was able to be about her household tasks till three week previous to her death when she took to her bed.

The casket was borne by Messrs. F. Gother, G. Harvey, W. J. Watkins and E. R. Embury. The deceased was laid to rest in the Griffin Hill cemetery, by the side of her late husband and sister, Mrs. Francis (Bissell) Sprague.

MR. RICHARD A. OLNEY, CLAREMONT, N.H. DANVILLE, March 23.—The death of Mr. Richard A. Olney took place at his home in Claremont, N.H., on February 29th, after a long illness.

Mr. Olney was born in Danville, on July, 1857, a son of the late Joel Olney and Catherine Wilson. When a young man he went to Claremont, N.H., and learned his trade as a moulder, but in later years he was a very prosperous farmer. He married Clara Cleveland, of Danville, Que., who survives him. Of this union there are four children, one son, Curtis C., of Taft, Cal., and three daughters, Ruth, Mrs. George Piermont, and Miss Ada, of Newport, N.H., and Blanche, Mrs. Parker Rogers, of Claremont. He is also survived by three grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Forster, of Lisbon, N.H., Mrs. Ida Weeks, of Concord, N.H., and seven brothers, Foster, Orlin, Oakland, Cal., Ernest, Stephen, Will, Ira, and Arthur, all of Danville, and Henry, of Deshires.

The funeral was largely attended by friends and relatives of the deceased.

IN MEMORIAM In sad and loving memory of James Watson, who departed this life on March 27th, 1926.

How much the heart may bear, and yet not break; How much the flesh may suffer, and not die!

I mention much if any pain or ache Of soul or body brings our end more nigh; Death shows his own time; till that is worn, All evils must be borne.

We see a sorrow rising in our way And try to flee from the approaching day; We seek some small escape—we weep and pray— But when the blow falls, then our hearts are glad; Not that the pain is of the sharpest shorn; But that it can be borne.

We wind our life about another life— We hold it closer, dearer than our own; Are glad to faint and fall in deadly strife; Leaving us stunned, and stricken and alone; But ah! we do not die with those we mourn; This, also, can be borne.

Inserted by HIS WIFE AND SON, Gould, Que., March 27th, 1928.

IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, the late Mrs. A. W. Noble, who departed this life March 19th, 1927.

Her willing hands, her tender heart Are freed from toil and pain; Sleep on, dear, in heavenly peace; Until we meet again.

Sadly missed by HUSBAND AND FAMILY.

Montreal Team Took Things Easy, Having Nothing at Stake—Ottawa Trounced New York Americans 5 to 0—Game Rough in Spots.

MONTREAL, March 22.—Pittsburgh Pirates moved in to third place in the standing of the American section of the National Hockey League by hanging a 2 to 1 defeat on the Maroons at Montreal last night.

Despite the fact that so much depended on the result from their viewpoint, the Pirates displayed nothing out of the ordinary. The Maroons, however, had nothing at stake and only coasted along under the impetus of an early one goal lead when Outman beat Worters in the first period.

Ottawa Senators defeated the New York Americans by a two goal score in the Gotham team's last appearance of the season. The visiting Yankees proved no match for the Senators who played under wraps, and attempted to enliven proceedings by roughing it up in the final period.

IS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

(Continued from page 1) win, wife of Richard Houle, was arrested on a charge of murdering the infant and is at present in the local jail awaiting the preliminary inquiry, which will open on Wednesday next in the Magistrate's Court.

According to unofficial reports received regarding the alleged confession of the accused, she had been residing at the farm of her foster-father, Mr. Rufus Poole, following the departure of her husband, Richard Houle, for some time. Knowing that she was going to bear a child, the woman shut herself in her room and early in the evening of March 28 the infant was born without medical assistance or even the knowledge of the family, who were in the house at the time.

ONLY FIVE VOTED AGAINST

(Continued from page 1) was most inconsistent." General Smart said, "because it was only a short time ago that he was strongly urging compulsory education in this province. I cannot see any difference between urging compulsory education and urging the prohibition of young children going to cinemas."

In this connection, he quoted two sections of the British North America Act on the rights of the subject, but in both cases it was noted that it was subject always to existing laws and if we pass this law restricting children from attending cinemas, the right of the subject would not thereby be affected.

Effect on Health. The speaker said that from conversation with doctors and educationalists, he had been convinced that cinemas and theatres affected the health of young children, especially by causing diseases of a nervous order and also affecting the eyesight.

Speaking of censorship, he congratulated the Prime Minister on dubbing the threat of American film producers to close cinemas in Montreal mere bluff. The member for Westmount thought the time had arrived when Quebec should fix a quota on American films, as was done in Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain and other countries, where American films were regarded as propaganda.

Premier Ends Debate. Premier Taschereau wound up referring to Mr. Bouchard's plea for parental authority, but thought this was not in accord with his big speeches some years ago on the matter of compulsory education.

The Premier asked that the moral be left aside for a moment, and the matter of "physically protecting the child be considered. Children cannot protect themselves against danger, as had been shown in the Laurier Palace disaster. The province has special laws to protect young children working in factories, both in the matter of health hygiene and morals. He urged that it not be action before the courts to prevent the Sunday shows, for each year they were allowed the situation became aggravated.

Mr. Perrault Thinks Pictures Not Good. Hon. J. E. Perrault, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, said it was the federal law which has to do with the theatres on Sunday, and anyone can take an action before the courts, providing the permission of the Attorney-General was obtained, and never has been.

The minister said four-fifths of the moving pictures are not good for children, and in most cases were even harmful for the morals of young girls and young boys, and the children would be better off if they did not attend. As to the liberties of the parent to educate his children, which issue had been raised said there are many laws in the statute books which restrict parental and other individual liberties. He believed in respecting parental control, but if the parent does not care for the morals of the child, certainly the state has a right to intervene. Even under the present law, liberty is restricted, for the admission of children unless accompanied by their parents and the state always has the right and the duty to restrict individual liberty where public order and public morals were concerned, and see to the public security. The minister complimented Premier Taschereau in high terms for bringing in the law, for it showed courage, and was timely. How did the present law work out in practice? he asked Mr. Perrault. It had been shown by Mr. Perrault's enquiry before Mr. Justice Boyer that the law was flagrantly broken, that in the theatre in question were children of eight and ten years, who were not accompanied, and that the proprietor had not concerned himself in the matter of seeing the law obeyed. It had even been shown that some of the children had been present without even the knowledge of their parents, not to speak of their parents not being present.

BOAT WITH ELEVEN MEN IS MISSING

WRECK OF SHIP OFF COAST OF SPAIN (Associated Press Despatch) GIBRALTAR, March 23.—A boat with eleven men from the steamer Citos was missing today following the wreck of the vessel off Tarifa, Spain, in a gale last night. The Citos sailed from New Orleans on February 28 for Alexandria, Egypt.

CANADIAN STUDENTS AND THE UNITED STATES

(Canadian Press Despatch) MONTREAL, March 23.—Canadians should not be alarmed at the fact that Canadian students were being sought in the United States, declared John Walter, chief proprietor and director of the London Times, in an address here yesterday before the Canadian Club. "The more Canadian influence that permeates the United States, the better it will be for the United States and for relations between the two countries," he added.

said that the Legislature refused to take action following the report of the commissioner, who had studied the matter. Suppose another disaster should come what would be said to the Legislature? Would it not be said that the commissioner had urged the Legislature to take action and the latter had refused to do so, and allowed children to perish?

"I refuse to accept the responsibility for refusing to follow the recommendations of the commissioner," said the Premier. "Let each one take his responsibility, and those who are against, let them ask themselves what will be their position should another disaster occur?" The vote being taken, second reading was given the bill, the measure went through the committee of the whole, where Premier Taschereau amended it for the educational establishments, and third reading was given on the same division as on second reading.

MANUFACTURER TO TRANSFER WOOLEN MILL

John Moore, of England, Has Decided to Dismantle His Mill and Transfer His Woollen Industry to Victoria, B.C.

(Canadian Press Cable) BRADFORD, England, March 23.—John Moore, woollen manufacturer, has decided to dismantle his mills here and transfer his woollen industry to Victoria, B.C. In this connection the Yorkshire Post, the chief organ of the Yorkshire woollen industry, says: "There are dismal pictures of the Canadian woollen industry presented to the tariff board at Ottawa when the manufacturers asked for further protection, one need only refer to the balance sheets of several Canadian manufacturers to see their exceedingly healthy conditions. The new woollen business for Victoria is being treated in an exceedingly generous spirit by that municipality."

"Among the common advantages of British manufacturers starting in Canada are: Ridiculously low taxation compared with the taxation in Great Britain; electricity comparatively cheap form of industrial power, and Canada's enjoyment of an enviable freedom from industrial disputes."

EARTHQUAKE ALARMS PUBLIC OF ROME, TODAY

People Took to the Streets But Shock Was Not Severe.

ROME, March 23.—Romans took to the streets in fear this morning when a mild earthquake shock was felt through the city. The centre of the shock seems to have been about 12 to 15 miles south of Rome between Albano, Castel Gandolfo and Marino. The inhabitants of Albano and Genzano rushed from their houses in considerable alarm but quiet was soon restored.

The Rome meteorological office termed it a fourth grade shock and said that its recurrence was noted by instruments at 7.51 a.m. The Rocca Di Papa Observatory noted a shock of the second grade at 7.39 a.m., and a stronger or fourth grade one at 7.45 a.m., and a much lighter one at 6.57 a.m.

A severe earthquake of four minutes' duration was felt in Rome on December 26. A fissure was opened up in a populous quarter of the city, a cornice of a church broke off fatally injuring Father Iride Brado Formo of Rio Janeiro, a student at the Gregoriana University. The tremors were felt at the Vatican where Pope Pius was in his private study. He saw books and papers fall and the furniture wobbled and counselled those in the Vatican to remain cool.

The entire toe of Italy as well as eastern Canada, northern Sicily, were rocked by an earthquake on March 7. One person was killed at Gioja Calabria and three injured.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

AGAIN STOCKS MOUNT HIGHER IN NEW YORK

General Motors Gained $6 Over Night Selling at Opening Up to $185 Per Share.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, March 23.—The upward movement of stock prices, which was temporarily interrupted late yesterday, was resumed with considerable violence at the opening of today's market. Radio opened four points higher at 155, and Montgomery-Ward, General Electric, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, Case Threshing, New York Central, General Motors and U. S. Steel common each showed initial gains of two points.

Speculators for the advance launched another powerful offensive in the New York Stock Exchange today, routing the "bear" interests and stimulating the buying movement in yesterday's wildly fluctuating market.

General Motors, making its first appearance on the tape thirteen minutes after the market opened, came out in a block of 15,000 shares at the "opening price" of $183 to $185 a share, the top figure representing an overnight gain of $6 a share. The unexpectedly small increase of $2,650,000 in federal reserve brokers' loans, as compared with earlier estimates of $100,000,000 or more, stimulated the buying movement, which embraced a wide assortment of shares. Blocks of 5,000 to 10,000 shares again appeared on the tape at frequent intervals, with the ticker falling quickly behind the swollen stream of orders which poured in on the floor of the exchange. Radio and Victor Talking Machine, which are reported to be engaged in merger negotiations, showed early gains of $4.25 and $6.25 a share, respectively, the latter touching a new record of $91 a share. Montgomery-Ward, General Electric, Sears-Roebuck, Dupont and Case Threshing quickly climbed $3 to nearly $6 a share.

In the rail group St. Louis-San Francisco common advanced to a record high price for all time.

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh. Further uprushes took place in the early dealings and new highs on the movement were reached by General Motors, Steel, General Electric and other leaders. N.Y. World—With the public in a speculative frenzy and stocks running wild through the market place, the bulls on a rampage and the bears on a stampede, even some of the mild mannered optimists are inclined to describe the proceedings as a debacle.

QUIET ON MONTREAL EXCHANGE

(Canadian Press Despatch) MONTREAL, March 23.—The local stock market provided nothing in the way of startling price changes when the exchange opened this morning. Initial changes were confined to fractions for the most part. New Brazilian, National Breweries and Dominion Bridge gave early indication of providing the day's most active features. Nickel was slow to get into the trading.

Both the old and new issues of Brazilian were fractionally higher, while the rights were fractionally lower. Bridge opened unchanged, while Breweries was 7/8 higher at 115 1/8. Smelters opened a full point higher at 271.

FINE DISPLAY OF ATTIRE ON LIVING MODELS

Annual Spring Showing of Ladies' Wear at St. Jean's Store Attracted Discriminating Patrons.

The annual spring showing of ladies' wearing apparel at the store of C. O. St. Jean, Ltd., this week, were attended by many city customers, also outside shoppers who wait for the display of the latest modes before deciding upon their Easter purchases.

The top floor with Miss Bradley and her attendants in charge, was given over to the showings of dresses, coats and accessories, on four living models, the costumes ranging from juniors' to the stout figures' costumes and outfits. Through good management there was no wait "between acts" for there was a figure on the floor all the time, and the "tout ensemble" was attractive in every detail.

The tailored suit with short coat, the wrap-around skirt, the ensemble costume, street and house dresses, were all shown in the popular shades and styles, while the reversible coats were a most attractive feature.

Top coats of the beautiful "Shagmoor" were favorites, these being a happy combination of beauty, warmth and chic style. Two tones, and artistic contrasts in colors are evident in the many and varied costumes, the India prints being used most effectively in ensemble suits, and everywhere could be noted during the display, the careful detail exercised in providing a complete costume that will satisfy.

Miss Bradley stated to her "press visitor" that trade brightened perceptibly after these showings, and that never had there been a season of styles to suit every mood and purse as the present one. Sherbrooke ladies have splendid opportunities to view the latest in styles and materials, in all lines of ready-to-wear, and this gives evidence that the St. Jean Ltd., is alive to the possibility of retaining trade, even against the competition of the Canadian metropolises.

EXECUTION HELD AT VALLEYFIELD

(Continued from Page 1). officers who had turned the car back at Trout River, N.Y., when not satisfied with the occupants' papers. Conviction followed and George and Doris McDonald were sentenced to death. The jury, however, in the case of Doris returned a strong plea for mercy and it is believed that this plea influenced the governor-in-council to change her sentence to life imprisonment.

Interest in the fate of the McDonalds was accentuated through efforts of relatives and organizations in the United States to secure commutation of sentence. Relatives of the woman came here with counsel ready to fight for a new trial or a stay of execution. The action of the Ottawa government, however, made their efforts unnecessary. Doris will spend her life in Portmouth federal penitentiary.

NEWSPAPERMEN EXCLUDED (Canadian Press Despatch) VALLEYFIELD, Que., March 23.—The body of newspapermen waiting outside the walls of the jail here this morning for news of the hanging of George C. McDonald, convicted murderer of Adeline Bonshard, sent out slightly premature announcements of the execution when, shortly before five a.m., an official of the provincial police came out and told them that the execution had taken place.

This was denied a few minutes later by another police official and the newspapermen resumed their wait until 6 a.m., when the black flag was hoisted to the jail flag-staff.

The only vantage point available to the reporters was to stand outside the wall near the scaffold. The structure was not visible to them. They heard, however, the priest intoning a prayer over the condemned man. Provincial authorities barred the press from the actual scene.

It is thought that error in making the first announcement came through the police officer knowing that mass had been concluded and all was in readiness, a delay occurring when Hangman Ellis decided to wait until daylight. The condemned man spent the interval in prayer.

CONCESSIONS TO BE MADE TO TOURISTS HERE

No Deposits Will be Required at Border on Sporting Gear and Cameras.

OTTAWA, March 23.—Bona fide tourists will henceforth be permitted to bring their sporting gear and cameras into Canada without leaving a deposit on account of their dutiable value with the Canadian customs officers at the border.

Revision of the customs regulations so as to bring about this change was announced tonight by Hon. W. D. Ewart, Minister of National Revenue. The aim of the change is to facilitate the crossing of United States tourists to the border vacation and sporting grounds of Canada.

Previously the custom regulations provided that a tourist upon entering Canada had to leave a deposit at the border equivalent to the dutiable value of the sporting gear which he might be carrying. The new regulations, however, stipulate that no deposit shall be required on guns, rifles (not including revolvers or pistols) fishing tackle, golf clubs, tennis rackets and cameras, so long as the articles are obviously used.
