Prolonged Parking Liable To Stiff Fine In Westmount

Prolonged Parking on Westmount Streets may cost the offender more than he anticipated, Police Chief Robert A. Byford announced this week.

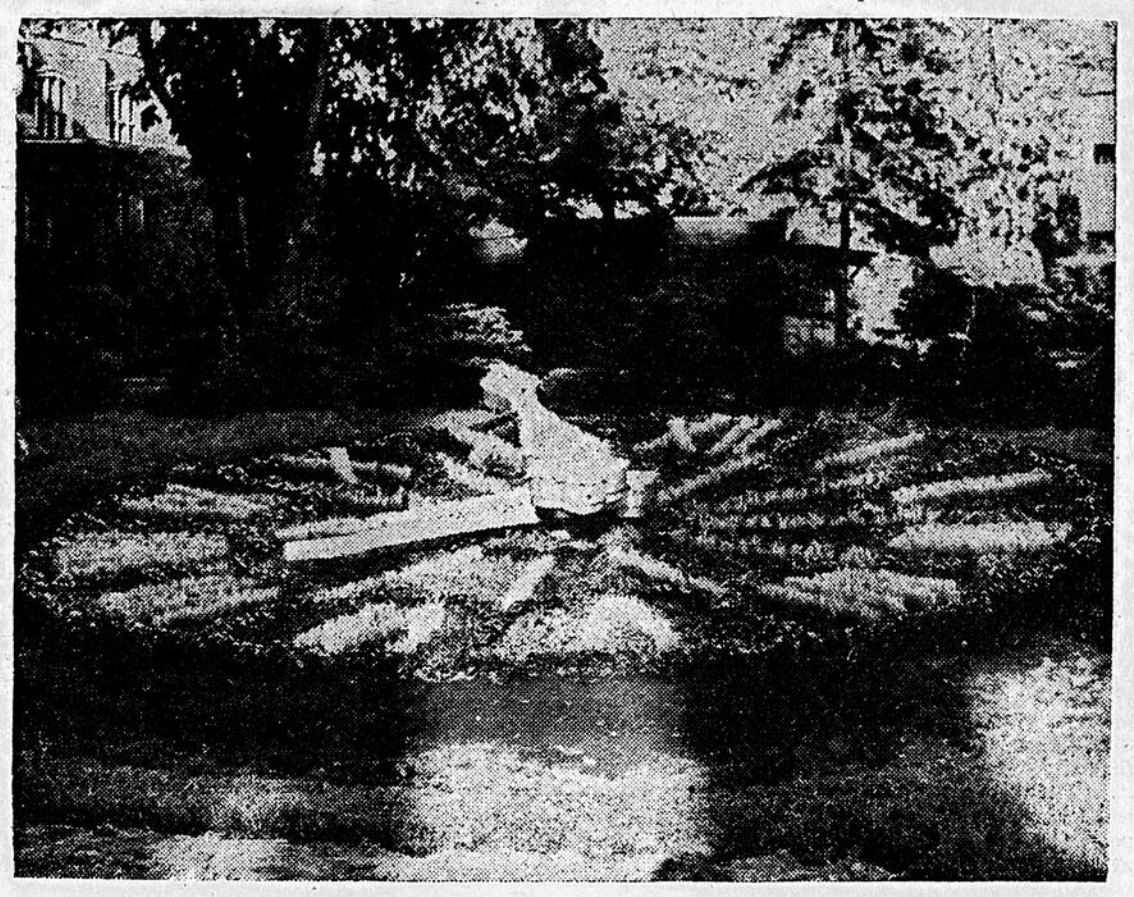

Westmount Police are presently checking on infractions of this nature which is liable to a fine of $40 and costs to the car owner.

The By-Law which forbids prolonged parking is contained in By-Law 501, Article 49, which reads as follows:

". . . No vehicle shall be parked on any street or public place for a period longer than four hours and if a vehicle shall have been parked and moved within the same block at any one or more times in said period, it shall be deemed to have been parked continuously during the whole day of said period. . ."

It was also stated by Chief Byford that in the summer period stretching from May to September, all dogs in the vicinity of Westmount must be on leashes not longer than six feet or less. According to By-Law 535 offenders are liable to a fine of $40 and costs.

Floral Time In Westmount Shortly

The beauty of Westmount's floral clock will never permit it to take a back seat to anything and this year the floral time piece should be as popular as ever to tourists and local citizens alike. The clock will come out of hibernation on June 1 when it begins to tick for the summer season. Other centres in Canada have built similar clocks but Westmount can be justly proud in going to the fore with its idyllic floral clock.

Shakespeare Play To Be Presented By Weston School

Weston School presents "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by William Shakespeare in the auditorium of the Westmount Junior High School, Academy Road, Saturday, May 3, at 3 p.m. The cast will include all the girls from Kindergarten to Grade XI. Leading roles will be played by Gail Regele (Theseus), Pauline Werry (Hippolyta), Jane Wonham (Egeus), Lynette Brackenbury (Demetrius), Lenore Katz (Lysander), Phyllis Cramp (Helena), Jill Levinson (Hermia), Olivia Kimpton (Titania), Carol Manson (Oberon), Elizabeth Moore (Bottom), Betty-Jane Genser (Philostrate).

The Grade XI choir under the direction of Cecile Bizony will sing traditional airs. Trudi Sekelj directs the dances of the fairies and a Bergomask, a dance of the period intended to satirize an Italian dance of country folk.

Costumes and sets designed by Nancy Williams are being made in the school workshop.

The proceeds are for the school helping fund which the girls use to fulfill certain obligations including sponsorship of a girl in India who was left an orphan some years ago.

St. Andrew's To Hold Festival

The annual Church School Festival will take place this Saturday afternoon at 5.30 p.m., with supper being served at 6 o'clock sharp. This year a cordial invitation is being extended to parents, both for supper as well as the entertainment which will follow.

Keen competition exists between classes in table decoration and these will be judged immediately following supper. Each Department from Beginner to Senior will participate in an interesting and varied program of entertainment.

Baptist Church To Hold Supper Meeting

The Congregational Supper and the annual Business Meeting of the Westmount Baptist Church will take place tonight. The supper will be served at 6:30 and members of the Church and Congregation are most cordially invited. The Business Session will begin promptly at 7:30, and Dr. J. A. Johnston will preside, assisted by Deacon George Adam. Reports from all departments of the church will be presented.

Floral Clock Still Famous Although Others In Canada

Westmount no longer owns the only floral clock in Canada but comes June 1 the famous time piece will be as big and beautiful as ever.

With other centres of the Dominion going to the fore in building floral clocks the Ontario Hydro has installed a mammoth one at Queenstown, Ont.

Many people want to know what makes the Westmount clock tick and does it keep accurate time?

"It's just a matter of motor gears and spindles operating under the ground" explains E. J. Anderson, Park Superintendent. "The gears, he adds, are from an old Ford car." The clock runs rain or shine but the mechanism must be removed from the ground before the first frost.

With the exception of the war years the Westmount floral clock has been sitting on a grassy bank in front of Victoria Hall since 1926.

Mayor P. W. McLagan, of Westmount, got the idea while visiting Scotland where the first floral clock was built in Edinburgh. Numerous snapshots have been taken of the famous Westmount time piece which is floraly decorated with the words "Tempus Fugit" which means "Time Flies."

"The plants used on the clock are grown for their foliage and require attention at least once a week when they are clipped," Mr. Anderson said. He pointed out that the plants are kept in the greenhouse during the fall and winter in high temperatures.

"Every year we add a little variation," he added, "one year we may make it round with Arabic Numerals, the next square with Roman numerals. We try to differentiate as much as possible as it loses its novelty effect if it remains the same every year."

The clock is 17 feet in diameter and 5,000 plants must be propagated and grown in the park conservatories each winter and transplanted about the first of June.

Now that other cities in Canada have taken to the floral clock idea, Westmount's beautiful time piece will still sit on its lofty pinnacle in Westmount Park majestic and proud as ever.

Man Charged After Two Injured

A charge of failing to stop after an accident was laid against Capt. Donald Scott, of 560 Lansdowne Avenue, by Westmount Police, after the car in which he was driving struck a motorcycle and sent two persons to hospital.

Injured in the accident were Edna Burton, 19, of 3440 Shuter Street, who suffered a broken left collar bone, and Leo Sarrazin, 27, 485 Sherbrooke Street, who suffered a bruised left elbow and lacerations to his left hand. Both were taken to Western Hospital.

The motorcycle on which Miss Burton and Sarrazin were driving was travelling east on Sherbrooke Street when it was struck by Scott's auto which was attempting to turn north on Clarke Avenue.

Scott told police that he had heard a noise but thought no one was hurt when he looked back and saw everyone standing.

R. J. Nicholson Addresses Rotary On Flight Travel

Modern development in air travel was depicted in a movie shown to the Rotary Club this week titled "Mr. Barnaby Sleeps In The Sky". The film was shown by R. J. Nicholson, Traffic Representative of Trans Canada Air Lines who also gave a short talk on the efficient operation of flight crews.

"Canada has the second largest domestic air service in the world and Trans Canada alone has 50 aircraft and well over 5,000 employees", the speaker pointed out.

Mr. Nicholson elaborated on the vast expense of his corporation since 1927 and stated that "Trans Canada carried nearly a million passengers last year".

"The Super Constellation, the speaker added, is our answer to the jet aircraft in flying the Atlantic as the jet is not yet ready for ocean flight." He emphasized the great range that the Constellation possesses.

The film "Mr. Barnaby Sleeps In The Sky" showed the extensive training pilots undergo for air flight travel.

It also showed the wonderful comfort enjoyed by passengers and dispels the unnecessary fears suffered by most on their initial flight.

The speaker was introduced by Bob Clarke and thanked by Ernie Mills.

Frank Carlin New President Of Rotary

At a meeting of the newly elected Board of Directors Frank Carlin was appointed president of the Westmount Rotary Club for the 1952-53.

Other officers appointed were, Bill Allison, vice-president and Borden Empey, Honorary Secretary.

Stamp Club Holds 600th Meeting

The 600th meeting of the Westmount Stamp Club was held at Victoria Hall, Westmount on Thursday, April 17, when the occasion was marked by the presentation of a Life Membership to Mr. R. H. M. Falls, the club's first president.

In thanking the Executive and Members Mr. Falls, who thus became the club's first Life Member, said that the Westmount Stamp Club was originally formed by seven residents of Westmount, three of whom were present at the meeting. The Club has now a membership of over 225, as well as sponsoring an active Junior Club of some 50 members.

Very fittingly the Club's annual Red Cross auction then took place, with Mr. Falls acting as auctioneer. Stamps donated by the members realized the sum of $83.40 for the benefit of the funds of the Red Cross. The Club's 15th Annual Stamp Exhibition is being held at Victoria Hall on May 15, 16 and 17, when the public will see a superb display of stamps shown by members of the club.

Mrs. M. Davies Struck By Car Near Victoria

Mrs. M. Davies, of 1082 Addington Avenue, suffered bruises to her elbow and legs when struck by a car in front of Steinbergs on Sherbrooke Street near Victoria Avenue, while attempting to cross to the south side of the street, Wednesday.

The car was driven by D. MacDonald of 3449 Grey Avenue.

Mrs. Davies was taken to Queen Elizabeth Hospital but was sent home after she was treated for her injuries.

. . . That no less than three stores are now rented in the Pickwick Arms Building at the southwest corner of Sherbrooke and Claremont. Some have been vacant 2½ years. Only one of the new tenants is a retail store, the State Vacuum Cleaner Company. Strangely enough, the other two are record distributors. One is MGM and the other is the Sni-Dor Company.

. . . That John Kiely, 510 Argyle Ave., is at a loss to explain what caused the strange death of his dog "Sandy". An autopsy performed on the expensive Irish Terrier showed that he had died of poisoning. With four other similar incidents having been reported in the district, Mr. Kiely is offering $50 reward to anyone who knows if the animals were done away with by someone with nefarious intentions.

. . . That the Westmount Hobby Shop is starting, on Monday, May 5th, to give a free chance on a drawing for several valuable prizes to anyone making a purchase amounting to $1 or over. The prizes will be on display in the shop window and the drawing will take place on Saturday, May 31st.

. . . That, contrary to the belief of many people, the Post Office Branch in Cameron's Stationery Store is run by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Willock and not by the busy Mr. Cameron who has enough to keep him on the hop looking after his own business.

. . . That a complete job of modernizing and renovating the store to be occupied by Emile's new beauty salon at 1347 Greene will commence immediately after May 1st.

. . . That tenants are now moving into the Westmount Terrace Apartments although the finishing touches are still being done to parts of the building.

. . . That the Hon. D. C. Abbott, Minister of Finance and M.P. from Westmount, kept his poise intact at the Hobby Show the other night when someone pulled a faux-pas by interrupting the young lady who was conducting him around the exhibition with the question, "When is that man Abbott going to show up? I want to go home". Mr. Abbott turned and quipped with a smile, "Sister, you can go home any time you like".

. . . That Jack Snyder, popular teacher at Westmount Senior High, is an accomplished old time fiddler. He will be sawing away at the Westmount Y's Annual Barn Dance on Saturday, May 3rd.

. . . That the old Canada Bread building on Melville Ave. is almost completely demolished. It is quite evident that none of the workmen had the crust to loaf on the job because this kind of work costs plenty of dough.

. . . That Clair Buckley leaves the Westmount "Y" next week and that his position will probably be filled by a graduate of Springfield, Mass., college.

. . . That the new Sew-Rite Company store at 4202 St. Catherine is expected to be ready for business next Monday if alterations are completed. The manager will be Mr. Kozel.

. . . That Ohman's are angling for sales with a window to attract fishermen. Any young man who has been hooked and is now being played for a wedding ring would be a sucker not to see Eric Ohman. Just a plug for an old friend!

. . . That Don Ross was recently laid low with a touch of ptomaine poisoning. Lost eleven pounds and all his faith in anything but home cooking.

Youngsters Need Big Amount Of Nourishment

The average teenager's appetite is anything but dainty. He usually demands enormous quantities of food, with snacks between meals. Because of his growth and his activities, his food must be nourishing and chosen for its help in forming good strong bones and maintaining his energy. He may eat more food than an adult. If he comes in ravenous for a snack after school, he should be given nourishing food and milk to drink, but not in sufficient quantity to spoil his regular meals. A pint and a half of milk a day is the amount advised by nutritionists for the teenager. Whole-wheat cereals, plenty of vegetables and fruit should also be included in his daily diet.

Examinations Give Results In Offices

Many big industries and firms make a practice of having their employees given periodic medical examination and the results prove that it pays to check up on the worker's health. Many cases of tuberculosis, heart disease and diabetes may come to light during these medical surveys which otherwise might not be discovered until too late for treatment and cure. A periodic checkup is one of the best ways of staying healthy — it not only ensures the discovery of diseases in their earliest stages but allows the doctor to become familiar with the patient's medical history.

Hospital Costs Outlined In Address To Auxiliary

The present high cost of sickness is a matter of some concern, particularly from the patient's ability to pay for it, A. H. Westbury, assistant director of the Montreal General Hospital, told the Women's Auxiliary last night. "An explanation of the expense involved in operating a hospital will give a clearer understanding of the situation," he said.

It should be borne in mind that a hospital cannot curtail expenditure if there is a falling off in the demand for service, the speaker said. It is expected to give full and adequate service at any hour of the day or the night. "In the event of a catastrophe, the public naturally expects a hospital to be in a position to give the best possible treatment to the injured and the wounded, Mr. Westbury added. "There must be readily available at all times the instruments, facilities and professional skill required to give relief to all who need aid, from the young child who swallows a safety-pin to the gangster who tries to shoot up the police force."

The speaker outlined the hospital's costs in 1951. Last year it cost nearly $3,000,000 to operate the Montreal General Hospital. Three million dollars a year, eight thousand dollars a day, three hundred and thirty dollars an hour, he said. This is the total sum spent in providing the necessary facilities and services to accommodate and treat the more than 14,000 patients admitted to the wards and the 172,000 visits made to the out-patient department by sick people seeking consultation and advice.

Hospital expenses can be divided into three general classifications. First, there are the salaries and wages paid to the staff required to operate the hospital. Secondly, there is the cost of food, materials and supplies used directly in the patient's treatment, and thirdly, there are those behind-the-scene expenses such as the maintenance of the building, telephone and the elevator services, which, although not directly involved in the patient's treatment, are nevertheless just as essential to his welfare.

Labor Costs

The salaries and wages paid to the 1,070 full-time and the 90 part-time employees on the pay-roll amount to $1,700,000 a year. "Of the $8,000 we spend each day, $4,600 is used to pay salaries and wages, that is, labor cost takes 56c of every dollar the hospital spends," Mr. Westbury continued. "The 1,160 paid employees represent about 75 per cent of the number associated with the everyday activities of the Hospital. In addition, there are the 175 doctors on the attending staff, the 250 student nurses, and 80 internes."

There are also the volunteers who give generously of their time in carrying out tasks for which the hospital would otherwise have to engage paid employees, the speaker noted. It is estimated that the doctors on the attending staff, all of whom are specialists in the various branches of medicine, give more than 30,000 hours of free service for the benefit of patients in the public wards and in the out-patient department. The internes, the student nurses and the volunteers, the pay-roll would be considerably higher.

The uninformed public is sometimes surprised that it requires so many people to run a hospital, Mr. Westbury declared. The proper treatment of patients, however, required more than the services of doctors and nurses only. The process of feeding the patient requires an establishment comparable to a large-sized restaurant.

"Many large drug stores would consider that they were doing big business if they were called upon and student nurses are associated with the hospital primarily for the purpose of training in the medical and nursing arts, but their services are nevertheless available for the benefit of the patients. It is obvious that if the Hospital had to pay for the service given by the attending doctors, the into handle the work done by our pharmacy, which, incidentally, does not sell magazines, fountain pens or chocolate sodas. The washing, processing and repairing of the 1,001 articles of linen used throughout the hospital is equal to the work of a fair-sized commercial laundry, and not the least important of the hospital's functions is the province of medical social workers to assist the patient in his problems of re-habilitation."

Employee Analysis

An analysis of the 1,060 employees on the pay-roll was given. In the Dietary Department there are 200 employees engaged in preparing and serving more than 1,500,000 meals a year. There employees comprise such personnel as dietitians, chefs, cooks, pot-washers, dietary maids and waitresses. The transcription, filing and maintenance of medical and other essential records; the preparation and collection of patients' accounts; the buying of materials and supplies, the supervision of the various stock-rooms; and the correspondence involved in all these functions utilizes the services of 125 secretaries, medical stenographers, typists and clerks. In the various clinical laboratories, nearly 100 technicians are employed in carrying out the different tests available to the doctor to aid him in arriving at a diagnosis of his patient's illness. The Social Service Department, with an establishment of 24, of which 17 are trained medical social workers, brings assistance and comfort to those patients with problems related to their illness.

Twenty telephone operators are required to handle the 6,500 calls which go through our switchboard every day. The 72 persons in the laundry and linen room wash and

1952 SEMINARY APPEAL

At the pre-campaign Workers' Rally Dinner held last Monday, evening, an enthusiastic group of men heard an inspiring message delivered by Rabbi Morris Adler of Detroit. The manifold spiritual services which the Jewish Theological Seminary of America is rendering in the enhancement of our way of life on the American Continent were vividly portrayed. Mr. Melvin Chorney, Co-Chairman of this year's drive, was Toastmaster, and outlined the extensive organizational framework setup to assure the success of this vital effort. Mr. Leon Levin, Chairman of the Seminary Affairs Committee, stressed the importance of attaining our Congregation's minimal objective of $25,000.00. Those present pledged themselves to a maximal effort to put the campaign over the top. The drive will extend from April 24th to May 11th, and our members are urged to respond generously.

The Appeal was officially launched at a gala Dinner sponsored by Mr. Horace R. Cohen, O.B.E. and Mr. Lazarus Phillips, Q.C., O.B.E. as hosts, Wednesday evening, April 23. The Guest Speaker was Dr. Max J. Routtenberg, Executive Vice-President of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America and Director of its College of Jewish Music and Cantors' Institute. In discussing the role of the Seminary in the American Jewish life of the present and of the future, the speaker portrayed the pervasive influences which this spiritual power-house radiates in the enhancement and perpetuation of the Jewish way of life. Almost 500 Congregations are now linked in the fellowship of the United Synagogue of America, through which the ideals of Judaism are carried out in all the communities throughout Canada and the United States.

JUNIOR CONGREGATION

At the regular Sabbath morning Services held on April 5, the Chazonim were: Mark Berouvitz, Michael Cape, Melvin Glickman and Edward Silver. Howard Cohen read from the Torah and Philip Greenberg chanted the Haftorah. Those called to the Torah Reading included Bernard Shapiro, David Portugal, David Shapiro, Edward Silver, George Rosenberg and Gordon Wasserman, Maxine Strean delivered the Benediction and the Ark was opened by Anthony Rubin and Melvin Glickman.

MEN'S ASSOCIATION

Plans have been formulated for the Annual Meeting, taking place on Wednesday, May 7 at the Synagogue. The programme will include presentations to Synagogue members of fifty years standing, brief summary reports of the year's activities, nominations and elections of officers and an Informal Social.

The address of Rabbi Morris Adler of Detroit, at the Open Meeting held on April 21 was the highlight of the year now ending. The profound dynamic and stirring analysis of "The Future of Jewish Life" opened new vistas of thought and provoked animated discussion.

Heavy Traffic On Western Rerouted, Council Decides

Heavy traffic along Western avenue in Westmount will be kept off that thoroughfare until the time the streets are able to be repaved, it was decided at a meeting of the Municipal Council of the City of Westmount the other night.

The avenue will still be used by passenger vehicles with St. Catherine street, Sherbrooke street and other streets available as alternative routes for vehicular traffic excluded from Western avenue.

It was learned that Council is empowered by section 60 of the Motor Vehicles Act to prohibit, with or without exception, the use of any motor vehicle in certain streets which it indicates.

The following are articles 12A and 12B which were added to By-Law 501, Article 12, to further amend By-Law 501.

"Article 12A: Except as permitted by or under any existing law or franchise, no motor vehicle other than a taxi-cab or a private passenger automobile or other "pleasure vehicle' as defined by the Motor Vehicles Act shall be driven along any part of Western Avenue; provided that a truck or commercial or delivery vehicle may pass along such street for the purpose of carrying merchandise or materials to or from any building having a frontage thereon but only to the extent that such passage is necessary for that purpose.

"Article 12B: The Chief of Police shall cause appropriate signs to be erected at or near the approaches to said street to indicate such prohibition and use and the direction to be followed by motor vehicles."

City Manager T. J. Hughes said that with the present state of the avenue, "it was deemed necessary to keep it free of heavy traffic."

Extensive temporary repairs were made to roadways. Nearly all the heavily travelled roadways suffered unprecedented damage, Western Avenue in particular. A total of 3,500 sq. yds. of Hot-mix asphaltic concrete was laid at a cost of $12,200.

Fire Department

In a report released by council it was learned that 22 calls were received by the Fire Department—11 of these were for fires as follows:—chimney fire, defective oil unit, tar spilt over oil burner, 2 smoke pipes, bedroom curtains, dirty furnace, printing machine and 3 miscellaneous calls.

The other calls were:—2 false alarms, 2 smell of gas fumes, 2 smoke scares and 5 miscellaneous calls (wiring, furnace explosion, etc.).

281 premises were reinspected for fire prevention. 40 notices were served. 23 cautions were given, and 26 complaints received attention. 24 fire extinguishers were inspected. 19 defective wirings were reported. Water pressures on all levels were satisfactory during the month.

Sickness

A total of 72 cases of communicable diseases were reported during the month:—2 whooping cough, 4 mumps, 9 scarlet fever, 49 measles, 8 chicken pox and 1 tuberculosis. The attendance at the immunization clinics totalled 76. 8 vaccinations, 37 re-vaccinations, 25 toxoid and 6 typhoid doses were given.

Jane Ellis, 11, Shows Class In Swim Meet

Jane Ellis, 11, of 4511 Maplewood avenue, was an indomitable entry in the girls swimming races held at the YMCA Hobby Show last week. Jane garnered the first in back stroke for 12 and under, first in breast stroke and the second in free style for 12 and under.

Jane who was high winner in the meet with 12 pointts was presented with the cup for the highest point winner.

Funeral Service Wednesday For Mrs. J. McKeown

Friends and relatives gathered Wednesday to pay final respect to the memory of Mrs. James H. McKeown, active for several years in church and philanthropic work in Montreal, who died Monday at her home, 4250 Sherbrooke Street Westmount. She was 85.

The funeral was held from the Chapel of Jos. C. Wray and Bro., 1234 Mountain Street, to Erskine and American United Church where the service was held at 2 p.m.

The former Alice Day, she was born on Confederation Day and had been a lifelong resident of Montreal. She was an active member of Erskine and American United Church for several years. Her husband predeceased her some time ago.

She is survived by two sons, James D., and Hartland K. McKeown; two daughters, Miss Amy F. McKeown and Mrs. D. G. Jamieson; a sister, Mrs. H. C. Mersereau; seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Catholic Drama Festival At Loyola Three Nights

The 13th annual Catholic Drama Festival, for senior groups, sponsored by the Cathespian Guild of Montreal, will be presented in the Loyola College Auditorium April 23, 24, and 25.

As in the past, community and parochial drama groups will be given the opportunity to present one act plays for professional adjudication. This city-wide competition is growing in popularity and a number of new entries are expected. The Cathespian Guild Festival encourages a higher standard of acting amongst amateur groups, and is enthusiastically received by an increasing number of drama lovers.

The past success of both the senior and junior festivals, and increasing general interest shown by the public, has persuaded Father Karl Schroeder, Director of Dramatics and Professor of English at Loras University, Dubuque, Iowa, to come to Montreal to judge this year's entries.

Father Schroeder's interest in drama is well known, for he has devoted much of his time to the direction and production of plays. President of the Catholic Theatre Conference from 1948 to 1950, and adjudicator for one act play Festivals for Catholic private Schools of Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska for a number of years, he brings to Montreal wide experience in this field. In the past year he has produced and directed, Bonaventure, "Harvey," Shakespeare's "Tempest" and the American Premiere of Frank Carlin's "The Neighbors are Bold."

FATHER SCHROEDER

Plays to be presented are:

Wednesday, April 23: — "St. Ludovic Players", "Lithuania", by Ripert Brooke; A Stranger, Thomas Thompson; The Mother, Patricia Lynch; The Daughter, Patricia Murphy; The Father, C. W. CANTATA PREMIERE TOMORROW

Montrealers will be given an opportunity to hear the local premiere of a Cantata by Serge Rachmaninoff, tomorrow evening at 8.30 when the Choir of Knox Crescent and Kensington Presbyterian Church will perform this important composition. John Ringwood, well known organist and choir leader will direct the choral work, "Springtide" by the great Russian master. Assisting artists will be Kevin Doherty, tenor and William Stevens, pianist with Dorothy Weldon, harpist as guest soloist.

All Rachmaninoff compositions are devoid of harsh dissonances and the melodic harmonies are all beautiful consequently this program is being eagerly anticipated by all lovers of great classical music. Other items on the interesting program include Easter Carols from the fourteenth century and secular choruses from English, Scottish and Negro origin.

This special Spring Concert will be given in the Upper Hall of the Church. (Grand Boulevard and Godfrey Avenue.)

ON PREPARING FOR LUCK

"Luck" is something that does not just "happen". Most people will say, "Oh, he is just lucky". Did you ever stop to think of the years of toil, planning, perseverance and hard work that was the formula for the success that finally caused . . . "Oh, he is just lucky." We are not speaking of lottery tickets or games of chance although there are many who call this type of winning "luck" . . . perhaps a better word to substitute would be fate or good fortune.

Luck in business or a profession is a success that has been diligently worked for. When a person has attained public attention when he reached an advanced stage or is rising favourably, it is called "success" but ponder awhile — could he know his work and be prepared without toil?

The man or woman who gets a "lucky break" is the one who is prepared for the opportunity when it presents itself. One never knows when that crucial moment may arrive. An obscure person may suddenly loom forward, the spotlight blazes brightly and you think, "What luck!" He was ready for the moment and the reward was great. How many opera stars become sensations overnight? How many stage celebrities were ready to step into the leading parts when the "star" became ill? That is one type of readiness that rewards the man or woman who is prepared.

The other type is the gradual worker, who goes on step by step through talent, love of his work and perseverance. There is the story about Pablo de Sarasate, the great Spanish violinist and immortal composer, who, when he performed for Queen Victoria, astounded the musical sovereign by his brilliant virtuosity. Her Majesty was so impressed that she exclaimed, "Mr. Sararate, you are a genius." "Ah, Your Majesty," he responded, "perhaps, but before I was a genius, I was a drudge for many, many years.'

Next week: Various Rhythms In Music.

Use Cold Gas Get More Miles

Did you know that you get more mileage from cold gasoline? That may sound like Eskimo nonsense, but it's a cold fact, according to Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company. Here's how they explain it: It seems that during the last war the company's aero engineers discovered while doing development work on electronic fuel gauges, that warm gasoline expands, weighs less per gallon and thus provides less fuel. A strong mid-day sun is enough to warm the gasoline and cheat you on your expected mileage.

Germs May Live In School Well

School wells in rural areas may often be breeding places for bacteria through pollution of the water, especially after spring thaws which carry surface washings into the wells, rendering the water unfit for human consumption unless it is boiled or filtered. School wells or those used for drinking purposes in any area should be tested periodically for any evidence of pollution, in order to prevent epidemics of typhoid fever, dysentry or intestinal diseases that may originate in impure water.

Hospital Costs . . .

repair 2,400,000 lbs. of linen each year. Merely runnng the elevators requires 21 elevator operators. On the foreman's staff there are 190 orderlies, porters, messengers and cleaners, and 90 domestic maids are employed by the housekeepers and in the Nurses' Homes. The Power House and maintenance staff numbering 60, consists of stationary engineers, firemen, carpenters, plumbers, machinists, electricians, painters and their helpers.

In 1951, revenue failed to meet the expenditure by approximately $230,000, Mr. Westbury added. Of the total revenue of nearly $2,700,000, 90 per cent was received on account of services to patients. The revenue from the Endowment Fund produced 6 per cent, while the remaining balance of 4 per cent represents contributions from Governors and other generous friends and from miscellaneous sources.

"No doubt you have wondered at times as to the disposal of the hospital taxes collected on meals and on the admission prices to amusements. These taxes are collected under the provisions of the Quebec Public Charities Act which was enacted in 1922 with the object of providing funds for the hospitalization of medically indigent patients," Mr. Westbury stated. "The Act provides that the cost of treating an indigent patient shall be borne ⅓ by the Province, ⅓ by the municipality in which the patient has lived for a period of 12 months, and ⅓ by the hospital. The Act does not provide, however, as to the manner in which the cost of treating a patient shall be established, and it is left to the Minister of Health to determine the cost per day. At the present time this cost has been set at $8.25 a day but it costs this Hospital a little more than $11.00 a day to treat a patient in the public wards. Against this cost the Province and the municipality between them are paying $5.50 a day. It is evident, therefore, that this Hospital is bearing almost one-half of the cost of treating indigent patients, instead of the ⅓ as laid down in the Act. The total payment each year received by this Hospital for the treatment of indigent patients under the provisions of the Quebec Public Charities Act represents about 10 per cent of the revenue received an account of all patients."

There are many diseases that can be cured or at least alleviated by simple surgery if they are caught in their earliest stages. By delaying the operation through fear, the worry and brooding increase and the disease may develop to a more serious stage which is less easy to treat. Delays may be dangerous — they cost more and they may even cost a life.

PLATTER MATTER

By 'SPINNER'

POPULAR

By Decca — The Four Aces' particular brand of quarteting hits a listener like a lusty cool breeze on a warm day. Their power-packed range and precisioned harmony have been in great demand from disc fans, and their latest platter should satisfy their most fastidious follower. The boys belt out an oldie just built for them, My Hero from the Oscar Strauss operetta 'The Chocolate Soldier'. Al Alberts proves that he's no mean tenor in this and a happy little number dedicated to all you pothole dodgers, Spring Is A Wonderful Thing. The Aces' sincere performance plus a slick orking from an unnamed band makes this our choice for the week.

A close second is the triple-actioned revival of Jeannine (I Dream Of Lilac Time) coupled with Rudolf Friml's Indian Love Call. None other than the Satchmo himself is heard contributing his magnificent trumpet acrobatics to an ultra-smooth backing by Gordon Jenkin's ork in these fine old tunes. The Jenkins' band turns in some super-sweet work from the strings and Louis' inimitable throaty voxing of the lyrics adds further interest to this unusual waxing.

Connee Boswell is a thrush we're always glad to have on our welcome mat. This time she starts off sweetly enough to tell I Know What It Means To Be Lonesome and concludes these lacrimose lyrics appropriately in a bangup blues styling. Flipside is one of Connee's own compos, a mellow ballad with a Western touch in which our gal tunefully explains how Someone Stole My Darlin'. Sy Oliver's band usually on the brash side turns in a restrained backing on this one.

A disc by Russ Morgan Orchestra is a spin for something on the bright side. Russ' latest coupling is a brisk country ditty from the flicker 'Son of Paleface' labelled There's A Cloud In My Valley Of Sunshine backed by a ballad in bouncy waltz tempo recalling a romantic meeting which The Nightingale Remembers. Highlighting this platter are the pleasant accenting from the xylophone and organ topped by the expert yodelling of The Gay Sisters.

Buddy Stark, a newcomer to this column, is a big-voiced boy who clicks in a brace of sentimental ballads. Topside Buddy sincerely implores his femfriend to naturally be Sincere, while on the bottom deck is our choice, a solid reading which has hit potential Be Anything (But Be Mine). Nice piano and rhythm accompaniment from the Buddy Cole Trio.

By London — For the listener who likes la jazz on the quiet side, we recommend one of the smoothest pop standards in the book, Phil Green's Rhythm On Reeds. Londoner Phil Green's small ensemble consists of his own accordion, Leon Goossens' oboe, Reginald Kell's clarinet and Arthur Gleghorn's flute, a combination of Britain's top concert instrumentalists. The result of such talent on this disc is music which rolls out in an easy-paced flow, delighting the ear and unlike most jazz, conducive to relaxation. The unusual rhythm and scoring of the music is Mr. Green's own brainchild and the subtle instrumental shadings and improvisations from the group are never strident or exaggerated in character. The unruffled mood is maintained by the choice of such items as Duke Ellington's Mood Indigo, Creole Love Call and Caravan; Gershwin's Fascinating Rhythm, Ray Noble's Cherokee; also Smoke Rings, Moonglow and Babette.

Opera

Highlights from Cavaleria Rusticana and I Pagliacci: . . . Famous soloists and orchestras, (Victor LP).

The inseparable opera twins are well represented on this LP waxing by selections featuring some of the operatic talent of the day. On the Mascagni side the great Swedish tenor Jussi Bjoerling superbly sings the arias O Lola and Addio Alla Madre, soprano Zinka Milanov offers Voi Lo Sapete and Arthur Fiedler conducts the Boston Pops in a beautiful reading of the famous Intermezzo. The Met's golden boy, Robert Merrill as Alfio is heard in the lusty aria praising the life of a teamster, Il Cavallo Scalpita. Leonard Warren opens Leoncavallo's Pagliacci with the stirring Prologue, while popular tenor Jan Peerce sings of course, Vesti La Giubba. The warm beauty of Lucia Albanese's lyric soprano is heard in Nedda's Ballatella, and is joined by Robert Merrill in the love duet A Quest' Ora. This star-studded offering is an interesting and satisfying LP experiment.

"... the willingness to find a way"

A man who started a new business a few years ago recently wrote to pay tribute to the bank's part in helping to make it a success:

"We were fortunate in having, as our banker, a man who could combine with experience the willingness to find a way that called not for experience alone but for imagination as well."

The chartered banks are forever alert to the fresh problems, the changing needs of their customers. At all times, in all your banking problems, you can depend on your local bank to bring experience and imagination to the task of helping you to "find a way".

Air Cadet Week Observed

226 Squadrons Hold Special Parades, 'Open Houses' Across Canada

National "Air Cadet Week," sponsored by the Air Cadet League of Canada, is being observed across Canada this week. In cities and towns throughout the Dominion, 226 Air Cadet Squadrons with a total of 18,000 cadets are observing this special week by holding parades, "open houses", and other functions designed to acquaint the public with the aims and objectives of the organization.

The fundamental purpose of "Air Cadet Week" is to provide provincial and local committees of the League with an opportunity to campaign for public support.

The rapid growth of the movement, started in the early years of World War II, is proof of the fact that most Canadians have recognized the value of the Air Cadet League training program for Canadian boys of 14 to 18 years of age.

The League has had a total of 75,000 members since its inception, and more than 1,600 of these cadets have been taught to fly, either under R.C.A.F. sponsorship or through special grants provided by the League. The advantages of higher education have been made available to 75 cadets, who have received academic scholarships valued at $44,600. Another 248 top cadets have enjoyed "Exchange visit" trips to Britain, the United States, and continental Europe. And 50,000 cadets have attended the annual summer camps held at Air Force stations throughout Canada.

The League is making a sincere contribution to the future of this country through its training of the Dominion's youth.

Back To Education IX

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor,

It is ten weeks since I interrupted my series on Education to deal with the great events of Lent and Easter. I propose to come back to the series and complete it. It is probably a mistake to deal with anything so solid as Education in this casual way, but it is hard to resist the temptation, when the subject is so interesting and so vital.

The last article ended with the word "battle," referring to the assault that secularists are making on Christianity in their attempt to capture the school in this Christian community. It is a bold attempt and its implications are not readily seen. But with Christianity in the schools and secularism trying to force its way in, "battle" is the only word to describe the process.★

The attack on Christianity referred to in the last article is no new thing for the Christian Church; Christianity has always been under attack from its very foundation. The philosophers of the First Century laughed at it; the Roman power of the First Century persecuted it, and the majority of the people rejected it. We might list some of the reasons for the opposition: The first is that Christianity makes an absolute claim upon man — body, mind and soul. If a man becomes a Christian he becomes the bond slave of the Lord Jesus Christ, and there is a moral claim upon him. He is not his own. He is bought with a price. He is required to live "in Christ." The world does not like a claim of that kind. Secondly, in order to live "in Christ" he is required to believe in Him. That is an intellectual claim and therefore a subject of Education. I not only believe in Christ but I believe certain things about Him. I believe that He is the Incarnate Son of God. I believe that He died for my sins. I believe that He rose from the dead. The worldly wise — the intellectuals — have always found it difficult to admit these facts, and from the First Century onwards there have been attempts on the part of the intellectuals to accommodate the Gospel and the Creeds to the science and philosophy of the age. The scientists and philosophers of the Second Century, who were just as sure of their science as the scientists and philosophers of today are, tried to accommodate the facts of Christianity to their own ideas. The scientists and philosophers of the Eighteenth Century tried to do the same thing, and they too were equally sure of their science and philosophy. It happened again in the Nineteenth Century with the same assurance, and still again it is happening in the Twentieth. There is a type of mind that can accept the moral claims of Jesus of Nazareth but must accommodate Him to that mind and not that mind to Him. In the third place there is the pride of man, who seeks salvation, i.e. security from war, disease, tyranny and want, just as the man of the First Century sought security from the unseen forces that seemed to him to control the world. Man today, however, thinks that he can secure salvation, i.e. security, for himself by his own efforts. He has learned to control the material things of the universe and he thinks that the same science will secure for him complete control, both of the outer and of the inner life of man. That pride is not a new thing — in fact, there are whole heretical movements that are based on it. A British Christian of the Fourth Century named Pelagius felt that way, and his idea of self-salvation is seldom far away from the mind of English-speaking Christians. And it is the very basis on which secular Humanism as a whole is built — that man is both a law to himself and his own salvation. As I have said, these are not new ideas. Each one of them has provided a base for an assault on Christianity. Each new age provides a new idea and a new assault, and the Church withstands the assaults not by any superior wisdom but by faithful witness to the fact that the Lord Jesus Christ has already provided security for him against his own sins, against his own intellectual difficulties, and even against his pride. And it is in school that we can best present the facts about Christ, at least in a Christian community.

Christian Science

"Probation After Death" is the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalm 49 "God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave: for he shall receive me."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:- "The former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen: To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God." (Acts 1)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook. "Science Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:-

"Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave. Jesus was "the way;" that is, he marked the way for all men. In his final demonstration, called the ascension, which closed the earthly record of Jesus, he rose above the physical knowledge of his disciples, and the material senses saw him no more."

The Congregational Supper and the Annual Business Meeting of the Westmount Baptist Church will take place on Friday Evening, April 25. The supper, to which all members of the Church and Congregation are most cordially invited, will be served at 6.30. The Fellowship around the table is always delightful. The Business Session begins promptly at 7.30. Dr. J. A. Johnston will preside and will be assisted by Deacon George Adam, Chairman of the Deacons' Board. Reports from all Departments of the Church will be presented.

On Sunday Morning the Theme of the Sermon will be: "Spirits in Prison". To have the body imprisoned is bad. To have the mind enthralled is worse, but to have the spirit jailed in some dungeon is worst of all. Peter tells us that Jesus went and "preached unto the spirits in prison". Who were they? 'To proclaim liberty to the captives" is one of the glorious things embodied in God's Gospel of Grace.

"Sheba at the Court of Solomon!" This will be the subject of Dr. J. A. Johnston's Evening Sermon. This is one of the famous visits described in the Bible. It compares with Saul's Visit to the Witch of Endor and Elijah's Visit to the Mount of Transfiguration. New friends are cordially welcomed to any and all Services of the Church. Dr. Johnston preaches at both services. The Mid-week Fellowship of the Congregation is held each Wednesday evening at eight. The Young People have their regular gatherings on Thursday evenings.

The services next Sunday in Calvary Church will be conducted by the minister, Rev. Walter J. Spence, B.A. In the morning he will continue the series of sermons on "What Can I Believe?"—The second in the series this week is "A Christianity Without Christ."

In the evening Mr. Spence will commence a series of sermons on Mental Health. Our attitudes, our ideas and our beliefs all affect our health. It has been said that "What we think, so we are." The first in this series will be "Turning Myself Inside Out."

Young people and visitors are most cordially invited to hear these sermons.

Free Classes In Speech Arranged

The chairman of the Youth Commission, Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias, Domain of Quebec, Albert Rakovsky, has announced that the Princess of Syracuse, the Youth Organization of the K.O.P. and the Sunshine Girls of the Sister Temples of the K.O.P., has started a free Public Speaking Class for young people of Greater Montreal.

This is an additional service organized for the benefit of young people of Greater Montreal Communities. The Knights of Pythias believe that "Freedom of Speech," one of the four freedoms, is vital for the functioning of the democratic form of life and government. Only if the youth of a country has been taught and given the proper opportunity of self-expression will the necessary participation of the population be obtained in government and civil affairs.

The public speaking class project under the guidance of the Counsellor of the Princes of Syracuse, Harry School, and the instructor, Dan Vilinsky, started with an enrolment of 30 students. Additional classes may be started in Fall.

The Knights of Pythias, a non-sectarian, fraternal service organization, with more than 3,000 lodges in Canada and the United States added this project to the many services they are presently undertaking. Some of them are: Week-end Entertainment on Fletchers Field, support of recreational activities at the St. Anne's Military Hospital, the occupational and recreational Therapy Departments of the Children's Memorial Hospital, the Optometry Service for under-priviledged children, Pass-over basket for needy families, etc.

Tubeless Tire Is Demonstrated

The B. F. Goodrich Life-Saver Tubeless tire, the only tire that protects against all three driving hazards — blowouts, punctures and dangerous skids, is now available for the first time in this area. It was demonstrated to local newspapermen last week.

A tire that needs no inner tube has been the aim of tire and automobile manufacturers since the pneumatic tire was developed. This new product, proven in four years of use by thousands of motorists in the United States, has attained this objective.

To prevent punctures, a layer of gummy rubber compound has been built into the tire under the tread. This gummy compound adheres to any puncturing object and effectively seals any holes without loss of air when the object is removed.

Other safety features of the new tire include a special lining guilt into the wall of the tire to protect against blowouts and a

The tubeless tire principle was first developed for use on U.S. Army combat vehicles in 1942.

To be honest, to be kind, to earn a little, and to spend a little less, to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence, to renounce when that shall be necessary and not to be embittered, to keep a few friends, but these without capitulation: above all on the same condition, to keep friends with himself; here is a task for all a man has of fortitude and delicacy. — Robert Louis Stevenson.

226 Squadrons Hold Special Parades, 'Open Houses' Across Canada

National "Air Cadet Week," sponsored by the Air Cadet League of Canada, is being observed across Canada this week. In cities and towns throughout the Dominion, 226 Air Cadet Squadrons with a total of 18,000 cadets are observing this special week by holding parades, "open houses", and other functions designed to acquaint the public with the aims and objectives of the organization.

The fundamental purpose of "Air Cadet Week" is to provide provincial and local committees of the League with an opportunity to campaign for public support.

The rapid growth of the movement, started in the early years of World War II, is proof of the fact that most Canadians have recognized the value of the Air Cadet League training program for Canadian boys of 14 to 18 years of age.

The League has had a total of 75,000 members since its inception, and more than 1,600 of these cadets have been taught to fly, either under R.C.A.F. sponsorship or through special grants provided by the League. The advantages of higher education have been made available to 75 cadets, who have received academic scholarships valued at $44,600. Another 248 top cadets have enjoyed "Exchange visit" trips to Britain, the United States, and continental Europe. And 50,000 cadets have attended the annual summer camps held at Air Force stations throughout Canada.

The League is making a sincere contribution to the future of this country through its training of the Dominion's youth.

Back To Education IX

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor,

It is ten weeks since I interrupted my series on Education to deal with the great events of Lent and Easter. I propose to come back to the series and complete it. It is probably a mistake to deal with anything so solid as Education in this casual way, but it is hard to resist the temptation, when the subject is so interesting and so vital.

The last article ended with the word "battle," referring to the assault that secularists are making on Christianity in their attempt to capture the school in this Christian community. It is a bold attempt and its implications are not readily seen. But with Christianity in the schools and secularism trying to force its way in, "battle" is the only word to describe the process.★

The attack on Christianity referred to in the last article is no new thing for the Christian Church; Christianity has always been under attack from its very foundation. The philosophers of the First Century laughed at it; the Roman power of the First Century persecuted it, and the majority of the people rejected it. We might list some of the reasons for the opposition: The first is that Christianity makes an absolute claim upon man — body, mind and soul. If a man becomes a Christian he becomes the bond slave of the Lord Jesus Christ, and there is a moral claim upon him. He is not his own. He is bought with a price. He is required to live "in Christ." The world does not like a claim of that kind. Secondly, in order to live "in Christ" he is required to believe in Him. That is an intellectual claim and therefore a subject of Education. I not only believe in Christ but I believe certain things about Him. I believe that He is the Incarnate Son of God. I believe that He died for my sins. I believe that He rose from the dead. The worldly wise — the intellectuals — have always found it difficult to admit these facts, and from the First Century onwards there have been attempts on the part of the intellectuals to accommodate the Gospel and the Creeds to the science and philosophy of the age. The scientists and philosophers of the Second Century, who were just as sure of their science as the scientists and philosophers of today are, tried to accommodate the facts of Christianity to their own ideas. The scientists and philosophers of the Eighteenth Century tried to do the same thing, and they too were equally sure of their science and philosophy. It happened again in the Nineteenth Century with the same assurance, and still again it is happening in the Twentieth. There is a type of mind that can accept the moral claims of Jesus of Nazareth but must accommodate Him to that mind and not that mind to Him. In the third place there is the pride of man, who seeks salvation, i.e. security from war, disease, tyranny and want, just as the man of the First Century sought security from the unseen forces that seemed to him to control the world. Man today, however, thinks that he can secure salvation, i.e. security, for himself by his own efforts. He has learned to control the material things of the universe and he thinks that the same science will secure for him complete control, both of the outer and of the inner life of man. That pride is not a new thing — in fact, there are whole heretical movements that are based on it. A British Christian of the Fourth Century named Pelagius felt that way, and his idea of self-salvation is seldom far away from the mind of English-speaking Christians. And it is the very basis on which secular Humanism as a whole is built — that man is both a law to himself and his own salvation. As I have said, these are not new ideas. Each one of them has provided a base for an assault on Christianity. Each new age provides a new idea and a new assault, and the Church withstands the assaults not by any superior wisdom but by faithful witness to the fact that the Lord Jesus Christ has already provided security for him against his own sins, against his own intellectual difficulties, and even against his pride. And it is in school that we can best present the facts about Christ, at least in a Christian community.

Christian Science

"Probation After Death" is the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalm 49 "God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave: for he shall receive me."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:- "The former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen: To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God." (Acts 1)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook. "Science Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:-

"Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave. Jesus was "the way;" that is, he marked the way for all men. In his final demonstration, called the ascension, which closed the earthly record of Jesus, he rose above the physical knowledge of his disciples, and the material senses saw him no more."

Westmount Baptist

The Congregational Supper and the Annual Business Meeting of the Westmount Baptist Church will take place on Friday Evening, April 25. The supper, to which all members of the Church and Congregation are most cordially invited, will be served at 6.30. The Fellowship around the table is always delightful. The Business Session begins promptly at 7.30. Dr. J. A. Johnston will preside and will be assisted by Deacon George Adam, Chairman of the Deacons' Board. Reports from all Departments of the Church will be presented.

On Sunday Morning the Theme of the Sermon will be: "Spirits in Prison". To have the body imprisoned is bad. To have the mind enthralled is worse, but to have the spirit jailed in some dungeon is worst of all. Peter tells us that Jesus went and "preached unto the spirits in prison". Who were they? 'To proclaim liberty to the captives" is one of the glorious things embodied in God's Gospel of Grace.

"Sheba at the Court of Solomon!" This will be the subject of Dr. J. A. Johnston's Evening Sermon. This is one of the famous visits described in the Bible. It compares with Saul's Visit to the Witch of Endor and Elijah's Visit to the Mount of Transfiguration. New friends are cordially welcomed to any and all Services of the Church. Dr. Johnston preaches at both services. The Mid-week Fellowship of the Congregation is held each Wednesday evening at eight. The Young People have their regular gatherings on Thursday evenings.

Calvary United

The services next Sunday in Calvary Church will be conducted by the minister, Rev. Walter J. Spence, B.A. In the morning he will continue the series of sermons on "What Can I Believe?"—The second in the series this week is "A Christianity Without Christ."

In the evening Mr. Spence will commence a series of sermons on Mental Health. Our attitudes, our ideas and our beliefs all affect our health. It has been said that "What we think, so we are." The first in this series will be "Turning Myself Inside Out."

Young people and visitors are most cordially invited to hear these sermons.

Free Classes In Speech Arranged

The chairman of the Youth Commission, Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias, Domain of Quebec, Albert Rakovsky, has announced that the Princess of Syracuse, the Youth Organization of the K.O.P. and the Sunshine Girls of the Sister Temples of the K.O.P., has started a free Public Speaking Class for young people of Greater Montreal.

This is an additional service organized for the benefit of young people of Greater Montreal Communities. The Knights of Pythias believe that "Freedom of Speech," one of the four freedoms, is vital for the functioning of the democratic form of life and government. Only if the youth of a country has been taught and given the proper opportunity of self-expression will the necessary participation of the population be obtained in government and civil affairs.

The public speaking class project under the guidance of the Counsellor of the Princes of Syracuse, Harry School, and the instructor, Dan Vilinsky, started with an enrolment of 30 students. Additional classes may be started in Fall.

The Knights of Pythias, a nonsectarian, fraternal service organization, with more than 3,000 lodges in Canada and the United States added this project to the many services they are presently undertaking. Some of them are: Weekend Entertainment on Fletchers Field, support of recreational activities at the St. Anne's Military Hospital, the occupational and recreational Therapy Departments of the Children's Memorial Hospital, the Optometry Service for under-priviledged children, Passover basket for needy families, etc.

To be honest, to be kind, to earn a little, and to spend a little less, to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence, to renounce when that shall be necessary and not to be embittered, to keep a few friends, but these without capitulation: above all on the same condition, to keep friends with himself; here is a task for all a man has of fortitude and delicacy. — Robert Louis Stevenson.

Tubeless Tire Is Demonstrated

The B. F. Goodrich Life-Saver Tubeless tire, the only tire that protects against all three driving hazards — blowouts, punctures and dangerous skids, is now available for the first time in this area. It was demonstrated to local newspapermen last week.

A tire that needs no inner tube has been the aim of tire and automobile manufacturers since the pneumatic tire was developed. This new product, proven in four years of use by thousands of motorists in the United States, has attained this objective.

To prevent punctures, a layer of gummy rubber compound has been built into the tire under the tread. This gummy compound adheres to any puncturing object and effectively seals any holes without loss of air when the object is removed.

Other safety features of the new tire include a special lining guilt into the wall of the tire to protect against blowouts and a

The tubeless tire principle was first developed for use on U.S. Army combat vehicles in 1942.

Combine 1 cup tuna, ½ cup shredded celery, 2 teaspoons lemon juice. Add salt and paprika and ¼ cup mayonnaise. Butter 4 slices of bread. Spread with the tuna mix. Top each slice with a thin slice of cheese and a slice of bread. Dip sandwiches into a mixture of 2 well-beaten eggs and 1 cup milk. Brown in butter in skillet or on electric grill.

WEDDING

SNUTCH - HASKETT

Spring flowers decorated St. Stephen's Church for the marriage at three o'clock Saturday afternoon of Miss Barbara Evelyn Haskett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Haskett, of Westmount, to Mr. Reginald Snutch, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snutch. Rev. A. T. Love officiated, while Mr. W. J. Hislop played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ice blue taffeta gown, having overskirts of blue nylon net appliqued with lace, the bodice of blue lace topped by a net jacket which buttoned down the front, and featured a flyaway collar, the sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her veil of ice blue nylon was caught by a cap studded with seed pearls and rhinestones, while she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

As matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. Charles Fyon, Jr., in a frock of pale yellow taffeta having an overskirt of net, wore a matching headdress, and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mr. Alfred James acted as best man and Mr. Leslie G. Haskett, brother of the bride, ushered.

Mrs. Haskett, the bride's mother was attired in a street length frock of cocoa brown nylon mesh, worn with matching hat, black accessories and a spray of sweetheart roses and narcissi pinned to her fur jacket.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 93 Hallowell Avenue, where spring flowers were arranged. Later, for the wedding trip to the United States, the bride wore a beige-toned gabardine suit worn under a lapin jacket, the gift of the bridegroom, with a yellow Milan straw hat, matching gloves, and brown snakeskin accessories, her corsage of yellow Pinocchio roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Snutch will reside in Montreal upon their return.

APPROACHING MARRIAGES

At the marriage of Miss Margaret Jean Gilmour, to Mr. Charles Herbert McKillican, which is to take place at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, May 3, in Dominion Douglas Church, Westmount, the bride will be attended by Miss Gloria Goertz, of New York City, as maid of honor, and by little Miss Susan Mary Gilmour, niece of the bride, as flower girl.

Mr. Bruce Found, of Ottawa, will act as best man for his cousin, and the ushers will be Mr. Douglas McKillican, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Douglas Gilmour, of Toronto, brother of the bride.

ENGAGEMENTS

Colonel and Mrs. W. J. H. Ellwood, of Westmount, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Evelyn Mary Vardon (Eve), to Mr. Harold Cauldwell Corrigan, son of the late Harold W. Talented Performances Given By Catherine Smith's Pupils

In the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton, "Piano Stars and Starlets", pupils of Catherine H. Smith, presented a most enjoyable concert on Thursday evening. The Orchestral Rhythm Band opened the program by singing "A la Claire Fontaine". Solos, duets, and two-piano pieces followed, each member in turn playing a piano selection which was accompanied by the other members on the various instruments. Outstanding were two duets—"Pink Dominos" played on two pianos by Cheryl Chanter (aged 7) and her sister Jennifer, and "Polka" played by George Doull (aged 8) and his sister Heather—but all numbers were played with spirit and precision and were much applauded.

After the Band, the following pieces were played by band members: The Brook by Carroll, Harriet Smith (aged 7); Yellow Butterfly by Maclachlan, Cheryl Chanter; Sonatina by Gurlitt, George Doull; Ecossaise by Schubert, Murray Wardrope; Sur la Glace by Crawford, Mary Landsberg, The Acrobat by Horvath, Brenda Fisker; Rondo by Diabelli, Michael Cowell; Avalanche by Heller, Marilyn Astrof; Valsette by Moore, Elizabeth Brooks; Allegretto by Beethoven, Diana Phillips.

Jennifer Chanter rendered La Gazelle by Wollenhaupt. Moszkowski's Spanish Dance for two pianos, was played by Sheila Davis and Heather Douil. Godard's 2me Mazurka rendered by Sheila, and Mozart's Minuet and Trio by Heather, were also ably performed. Pastorale by Hitz, by Julie Foichuk, and Durand's Valse in E Flat by Barbara St. James, were each musically played.

Outstanding in the latter part of the program was the Schumann Concerto in A Minor (first Movement). Celia Benett at first piano played with brilliance and feeling, and was ably assisted by Mary Eaton at second piano. Celia Bennett, who was accompanist for the songs, as well as for Larche Paul, also showed much talent with Chopin's Fantasie-Impromptu. Mary Eaton pleased the audience with Chopin's difficult Ballade in A Flat and Listzt's Liebestraum, also in two songs.

The Viola Solo in modern idiom was played by Larche Paul, also an obligato to Ave Maria, sung by the chorus, whose last number was Rolling Down to Rio.

An added attraction was the performance by Andree and Victor, Ballet Dancers.

In the course of the evening a bouquet, and a vase, were presented by the pupils to Miss Smith.

Speirs Style Show To Be Repeated, Continental Cafe

In response to popular demand and to accommodate the hundreds of ticket holders on the last occasion, Betty Speirs will repeat her spectacular Fashion Show at Jack Horn's Continental Cafe, Saturday afternoon, April 26th, at 3 p.m. Models of all ages ranging from tiny tots to matrons will be seen in bathing suits, beach wear, gowns and the latest in summer wear. Montreal's top garment houses will again be represented among whom will be Juliette, Bradner, and Little Nuggett who will feature little Nuggetogs garments. Betty Speirs will again handle the commentating in her usual efficient manner. Patrons are advised to arrive early at the palatial Continental Cafe as another capacity crowd is expected.

Music and Flowers, Also Antique Quilts Feature Hospital Tea

The Ways & Means Committee of the Women's Auxiliary of the Catherine Booth Hospital held a very successful "Flowertime Tea" on Wednesday, April 16, in the Assembly Room of the Nurses Residence. The president, Mrs. G. D. MacKay, and the chairman for the tea, Mrs. W. E. Shepherd, received the guests. Spring flowers decorated the room and the small tables, at which tea was served.

Mrs. Arthur Berlase, accompanied by Mrs. C. H. Taylor, and Miss Anne Golden, accompanied by Miss Lynne Leigh, entertained with groups of solos, and Miss Elizabeth Foleu delighted the audience with several humorous monologues. Mrs. S. A. MacSween voiced the thanks of the Auxiliary to these artists. On display were a number of antique handmade quilts which were much admired, and the Gift and Homecooking tables were well patronized.

Westmount High Alumnae Vote $2,000 For Scholarship Fund

The sum of $2,000 will be set aside as the nucleus of a scholarship endowment fund it was decided at the annual meeting of the Westmount High School Alumnae Association held on Tuesday, April 22. Interest from this fund will be applied to scholarship awards and it is hoped to build the fund to greater proportions during the next few years. Administration of the fund will be under the direction of the educational committee of the association.

MRS. EDWIN M. BRIGGS

Mrs. Edwin M. Briggs, Jr., was elected president succeeding Mrs. Frederic B. Coppin. In reporting the year's activities Mrs. Coppin noted that the executive had striven increasingly to promote wider interest among the members and potential members in the Association's social events and educational work and to improve its financial position.

Program chairman Miss Phyllis Wood noted that the two fund-raising events, the Theatre Nights sponsoring the Trinity Players, and the Spring 'Fashions in the Morgan Manner" presented by Henry Morgan and Company Ltd., had been most successful. The sale of advertising for a printed program for the Fashion Revue, a new venture this year, had also proved successful.

Some 675 members out of a possible 1,400 had supported the Alumnae in 1951-52, according to Miss Hazel Moore, membership chairman.

Financial Successes

Mrs. Eugene L. Gardner, treasurer, reported that a profit of $2,000 had been realized from the Association's various activities.

Educational chairman Miss Ruby Hopkins said that $600 in scholarships had been awarded to students of Westmount High School for the 1951-52 term. The $300 and $250 scholarships for university training were won by Tiiu Tammist and Chrystyna Palijiw respectively. Louise Tollstam received the vocational scholarship of $100. The Association once again sponsored the Award of Honor Ceremony to select a student with outstanding character qualities. This year's winner was Diane LeMieux. The annual public speaking contest, which was won by Margaret Cragg with Carole Fischel as runner-up was followed this year by a tea for the graduating class. This was in conformance with the Alumnae's aim of forging a closer link between graduate and undergraduate and of enlisting the support of the young graduate.

Minor Changes

Revisions to the constitution dealing mostly with minor points were presented and approved by the members.

Other reports were read by Mrs. Lloyd G. Stern, telephone chairman, and Mrs. F. B. Coppin, publicity and printed program chairman.

Miss Hazel Moore, chairman of the nominating committee reported that because of the widening scope of the Association's activities, the executive had been increased from 14 to 17 members and the following slate was presented and approved by the members. In addition to Mrs. Briggs those elected were: Miss Phyllis Wood. 1st vice-president, Mrs. Victor Elkin, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. A. C. Young, Treasurer; Miss Beatrice Whalen, corresponding secretary; Miss Louise Tollstam, recording secretary; Miss Dorothy King, school representative. The members are Mrs. Lloyd G. Stern, Miss Agnes Blackwell, Mrs. Bruce Slemin, Mrs. Geo. Hand, Miss Doris Goode, Mrs. W. G. Pardoe, Mrs. J. A. Hart, Mrs. Eugene L. Gardner. The Honorary President is Miss M. A. Dyke and the Past President is Mrs. Frederic B. Coppin.

Zonta Club

The Zonta Club of Montreal will hold a meeting at Victoria School, 1822 St. Luke Street, on Tuesday, at 8:00 p.m., with the president, Miss Helen Guiton as chairman.

An illustrated bird lecture will be given. Members may take guests.

Offer Scholarship To Trafalgar School

The Trafalgar Old Girls' Association again announces an entrance scholarship of $100 to be awarded for the session 1952-1953 for entrance to Form III (equivalent to first year high school) in Trafalgar School for Girls, Montreal. The scholarship will be renewed annually if the necessary high standard of work is maintained. Any girl from an outside school at present in Grade 7 is eligible.

The award will be based partly on a general examination consisting of three papers in Arithmetic, History and Geography, and English, and partly on a personal interview. The examinations will be written at Trafalgar School on Saturday ,May 17. Arrangements may be made for out-of-town candidates to write the examination in their own schools.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from Miss J. Foster, Principal, Trafalgar School for Girls, 3495 Simpson Street, Montreal. Last day for receiving applications is Monday, May 5.

Ladies Kennel Club Benefit Dog Show Scheduled For Sunday

Weredale Readers Told Of Religious Influence Of Jews

The annual meeting of the Weredale Par kBranch of the Canadian Home Reading Union, was held on Thursday, April 17, at St. Matthew's Hall, Hampstead. Members of the High Fraser Branch, Lachine, and of the Frances Brooke Branch, Montreal were also present to hear the guest speaker, Dr. Norman Gore, Secretary of the Interfaith Mission, Montreal, address the meeting on the subpect "Jewish Contribution to Civilization."

In a very able address, Dr. Gore showed how the Jews are preeminently the leaders in the field of religion, having given the world from earliest times the monotheistic theory of God, who was also a moral God, as opposed to the pagan gods of the Greeks and Romans. The idea of salvation and of Christ the Saviour was the climax of all Jewish background and of prophetic teachings. As a literary contribution, the Bible, written entirely by Jews and translated into over a thousand languages, is unparalleled.

Dr. Gore explained how the Jew and the Christian walk the same path of life and cannot be indifferent to one another, for in a world where there is no room for Moses, there is no room for Christ.

Mrs. Mervyn Offer, President, introduced Dr. Norman Gore, who was thanked by Mrs. G. Warburton Cox, President of the Canadian Home Reading Union.

Proceeds of the event will help provide comforts and equipment for the patients and the nursing staff of the hospital.

Business Women Complete Year Of Extensive Social Service

The sixth annual general meeting and tea of The Professional and Business Woman's Organization of The Parish of The Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount, was held recently at the Ritz Carlton Hotel.

The President, Miss Rhodena McGonnigal occupied the chair and reports were read by the officers and various committee chairmen.

Miss Ethel Flanagan, treasurer, reported total receipts of $850.78 and disbursements of $759.34.

The Chairman of The Social Service Committee, Miss Edna Coyle, reported a year of great achievement in the field of Social Service. Christmas parcels numbering one hundred and thirty-five, were sent to the Catholic Welfare Bureau for distribution among the aged poor. This committee was also responsible for the completion and distribution of six layettes and for donations toward the outfitting of children for First Holy Communion.

Financial Donations

During the year donations were made to the following: The Rectory Fund, The Catholic Welfare Bureau, Ste. Ann's Girls School, Catholic Sailors' Club and to The Little Sisters of The Poor.

20,000 bandages made by the Hospital Committee was reported by the chairman Mrs. Marjorie Gallagher.

In the absence of the chairman Miss Alice Kelly, the report of the entertainment committee was read by Miss Beryl Quigley.

A very successful Fall Bridge was the highlight of the activities of this committee during the year.

Same Executive

The present executive will continue in office for the coming year. The slate for the coming year will be:

President: Miss Rhodena McGonnigal.

Vice-president: Miss Beryl Quigley.

Treasurer: Miss Ethel Flanagan.

Recording Secretary: Miss Rosemary O'Hagan.

Corresponding Secretary: Miss Ethel Leblanc.

A presentation was made to the Spiritual Director Rev. Donald Feron who addressed the gathering.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served under the convenership of Miss Alice Kelly.

No Tears Now!

Do you have trouble when shampooing your hair, because water trickles into your eyes? The soap manufacturers offer a solution: simply rub vaseline or cold cream on eyebrows and on the bridge of your nose. Trickles will be sidetricked.

Combination Soup

When you get tired of serving the plain canned soups, try the fun of combining two or more of them for something different for lunch with that cheese or peanut butter sandwich. For instance, blend together tomato and chicken gumbo and then add the liquid as directed.

Another good one is made by combining tomato with clam chowder. Also, try cream of celery with tomato and beef noodle with tomato. You can make up others!

Direct From Hollywood By JACK HIRSHBERG

Impressions of New York Given By Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 24. — Home again, after six hectic weeks spanning the continent with a few side trips to Montreal, Philadelphia and other spots.

One thing about New York — it certainly enhances your opinion of and affection for your old home town when you return there. Almost any city looks good to me by comparison with Manhattan, whose crowded yet lonely streets are filled with people going nowhere in a hurry.

I have been to New York, I suppose, several dozens of times through the years and it changes less than virtually any city elsewhere in America. Leave Montreal a year and on your return you'll find new buildings, new store fronts, a new air about things. Los Angeles has doubled its population and area in ten years or less — in the few weeks I was east two new homes were almost completed in my block and a new neighbor moved in next door. But Gotham, except for its fringes, seems to stay the same.

The same lame, blind or limbless beggars populate Times Square and give the foreign visitor a frightening first impression of the "democratic" life. The visitor doesn't know the beggars are licensed and probably pay a heavier income tax than the average white collar worker. The same run-down, dusty theaters are doing business, though the old burlesque houses now play third-rate sensation movies and the more decrepid theaters have been taken over as television studios.

The same radio programs continue to belabor the same old themes. About the only major change has been in prices. Prices everywhere are up with one exception — long play recordings. These LP platters may be purchased anywhere in New York for little more than half list price. And the Automat continues to serve some of the best food in town, though there's perhaps room for improvement in the surroundings. But, then, what can a guy ask for a dime?

* * *

Too, familiarity does breed at least casual acceptance of things that once seemed glamorous. The Broadway theater, for instance, is supposedly the acme of legitimate drama on the Continent. Actually, I've seen better performances by Montreal stock companies and Little Theater groups — and at half the price. Of course, you cannot duplicate a largescale musical except in a few metropolitan centers, but the average Broadway play today is a second rate affair, both dramatically and performanwise.

I had the opportunity to watch Broadway's current wonder boy, Jose Ferrer, in action. It so happens that I've been associated with Ferrer this past year in the making of a movie, "Anything Can Happen", and promotion of this film was the motivation of my trip to New York. While there Ferrer invited me to sit in on rehearsals of his new play starring John Hodiak and Kim Hunter, "The Chase". It's an offbeat suspense piece which brings to five, including the movie, the number of enterprises in which Ferrer is now engaged in Manhattan.

Sitting there in the empty Playhouse Theater, an audience of one, I felt I was watching the average high school drama group rehearse its spring play. Of course, the performances were more polished, Ferrer's direction more concise and sharper than the average entrepreneur's, the discipline somewhat stricter than it would be in an amateur group. But the same earnestness, same pre-producion hopes, same repetitive reading and re-reading of lines made it all vaguely familiar.

I suddenly realized that the principal difference was geographic. This happened to be New York. And the two main players happened to have famous names. Otherwise I might have been watching the Montreal Repertory Theater preparing its upcoming production.

TEA FOR TWO'S

Cecil B. DeMille's circus spectacle, "The Greatest Show On Earth," placed an accent on "two's." It took two hundred thousand feet of film, two years to make and required members of the cast and crew to travel some two-million miles!

"Hansel and Gretel" Final Children's Theatre Show

Judging by the unprecedented ticket sales, Hansel and Gretel must be the favorite of all fairy tales, and the children of Montreal are looking forward to seeing the final show of the season presented by Montreal's talented juveniles, The Children's Theatre, directed by Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters. Hansel and Gretel will take place on Saturday afternoon, May 3 at Victoria Hall.

An excellent cast has been selected for this production, with Carol Hamill and Joseph Oliver as Hansel and Gretel on May 3 and Donald Wright and Ellen Chinks playing the title roles the following Saturday.

It is interesting to note that the father and stepmother will be portrayed by David Luck and Phyllis Gibson. These two young thespians have been with the Children's Theatre for several years, and five years ago, they played the roles of Hansel and Gretel, and great interest is being shown now that they are playing the mother and father.

One of the highlights of the show is the forest scene where the two lost children meet the Mad Rabbit, the dwarf, the teddy bear, the pink fairy, the Butterfly Fairy and other characters. The witch and the witchlets also appear, and many other fascinating creatures. The cast includes Denyse Leroux, June Steinberg, Ruth Crites, Mona Kreaden, Lola Kipnis, Carol Cohen, Yamila Pachl, Emily Bambiger, Doreen Blackman, Sandra Wittenberg, Gissa Israel, Nina Nolvalker, Wilma Goldstein, Maita Fargeon, Carol Joan Rubin, Carol Jakin, Ruth Lana Major, Margaret Jordan, Ruth Helliker. Special costumes and scenery have been designed for this play, with unique lighting effects. Hansel and Gretel offers many new attractions to the children, as this play has been especially adopted for the Children's Theatre by Miss Jean Low whose talent for children's stories has already been evident in the Children's Theatre radio shows.

GOLDEN MILESTONE

Who said Hollywood marriages don't last? Cecil B. DeMille, producer-director of Paramount's "The Greatest Show On Earth," and his wife, Constance, will celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary on August 16 of this year.

NEW STORIES

Producers Bill Pine and Bill Thomas, makers of Paramount's "Hong Kong," have purchased two best sellers; William Wister Haines' "High Tension" and Frank L. Slaughter's "Sangaree." Both will be filmed in Technicolor.

MUST REST

During the shooting of "Somebody Loves Me" Betty Hutton retired at eight-thirty every night, secured her necessary ten hours of sleep, and reported for work at Paramount Studio by seven-thirty every morning.

MORTON INVENTS

The new dancing sensation, Tom Morton, is preparing a top flight dancing number called All-American Boy for his Paramount screen debut in "The Stars Are Singing."

"My Dream Is Yours" And "House Of Strangers" - Monkland

Loaded with talent and tunes, "My Dream Is Yours," at the Monkland, a Michael Curtiz Production for Warner Bros., starring Doris Day, Jack Carson and Lee Bowman. Filmed in Technicolor, this new musical displays Curtiz' wide versatility in screen entertainment. Some of his hits are "Casablanca," "Night and Day," "This Is The Army," "Mildred Pierce," and many others, each production in a different vein.

"My Dream Is Yours" has four new Harry Warren - Ralph Blane songs in addition to a wealth of familiar established hits which are drafted into use for the rich musical frame which Ray Heindorf has steered. LeRoy Prinz is responsible for the dancing stanzas.

Besides the trio of stars, Adolphe Menjou, Eve Arden, S. Z. "Cuddles" Sakall, Selena Royle, Ada Leonard and an all-girl orchestra and Frankie Carle and his piano are also prominent. Doris Day who skyrocketed to film prominence with her singing of "It's Magic" in "Romance On The High Seas," carries most of the singing assignments in the new offering.

Added Attraction

"House of Strangers," a taut, gripping melodrama, with an all-star cast headed by Edward G. Robinson, Susan Hayward and Richard Conte and New York's teeming Little Italy as a background, is the added attraction.

Director Joseph L. Mankiewicz and Producer Sol C. Siegel, the same combination that created "A Letter to Three Wives," for Twentieth Century-Fox, achieved an extraordinary high degree of realism in their latest screen effort by filming the exterior scenes on New York's lower East Side and having their characters speak Italian whenever required

For Robinson, who speaks 11 languages, the use of Italian served to strengthen his portrayal of the key role in the picture, that of Gino Monetti. He ran his bank by his own laws and considered himself a champion of the little people. But his sons thought him a tyrant and his customers resented his outrageous interest charges.

Conte, who plays Max, the favorite son, stood by him until his death but his three other sons, portrayed by Luther Adler, Paul Valentine and Efrem Zimbalist, Jr., conspired to ruin him.

In "House of Strangers" Miss Hayward returns to the smart, flip roles she has played so successfully and she shows off a smart wardrobe of 24 slinky, man-hunting outfits. Other members of the cast include Debra Paget, Esther Minciotti, Diana Douglas, Tituo Vuolo, Hope Emerson and Albert Morin.

★ Hollywood Notes ★

NEW OSCAR POSSIBILITY

Ray Evans and Jay Livingston, two-time Oscar winners for "Buttons and Bows" and "Mona Lisa," have composed an offbeat synthetic old Balkan folk tune for a new film, "Anything Can Happen." The song is "Love Laughs at Kings" and Jose Ferrer, another academy Award winner, sings it in the movie.

TWO LINES

Academy Award winner Jose Ferrer, who stars in "Anything Can Happen" for Producers William Perlberg and George Seaton, had exactly two lines in his first Broadway show 16 years ago. He played a detective in "A Slight Case of Murder."

BIBLE TO BIG TOP

Cecil B. DeMille, who has brought to the screen such devout epics as "Samson and Delilah," "The Crusades," "The King of Kings," "The Ten Commandments" and "Sign of the Cross," invades the circus big top for his latest and possibly greatest production, "The Greatest Show On Earth."

WROTE MORE

Academy Award winning songwriters Ray Evans and Jay Livingston wrote 22 original songs for "Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick." However, due to time limitations only 16 can be included in the movie starring Alan Young, Dinah Shore and Robert Merrill.

"Death Of A Salesman" at Westmount, Sunday

One of the most extraordinary motion pictures of the year is promised for the Westmount Theatre Sunday when Stanley Kramer's first production for Columbia Pictures, "Death of a Salesman," has its local premier. Fredric March, the distinguished American actor and twice winner of the Academy Award is starred in the film which is based upon the Pulitzer Prize-winning play. March's supporting cast, recruited from veterans of the New York and London productions of "Death of a Salesman," include Mildred Dunnock, Kevin McCarthy, Cameron Mitchell and Howard Smith.

In "Death of a Salesman," Kramer has tackled a theme universal in scope; the dream of success and the conflict with reality. The central character of the film is Willy Loman, a salesman who, all his life, has traded on his ability to be well-liked. This quality, he believes, is the key to success and he grooms his two sons accordingly. Willy's one mistake, seen by a son, unleashes the overpowering surge of the film's emotional drama.

March plays Willy, the amiable salesman who wants to make a good life for his two sons and his adoring wife but fails to recognize that these is more to success than being a hale-fellow-well-met. Mildred Dunnock, who created the role for Broadway, enacts the part of March's wife. Kevin McCarthy, from the London cast of the triumphant play, makes his motion picture debut in "Death of a salesman" as Biff, Willy's drifter son.

Cameron Mitchell is seen as Happy, the other son, a woman-chaser who pursues his visions of success in a minor office job, motor planes to stalemate raging while Howard Smith plays March's life-long friend and neighbor. Both appeared in the Broadway play, one of the most-honored dramas of our time.

"Red Skies of Montana," Twentieth Century-Fox's exciting Technicolor saga of the "Smoke Jumpers" starring Richard Widmark, Constance Smith and Jeffrey Hunter, is the companion feature at the Westmount.

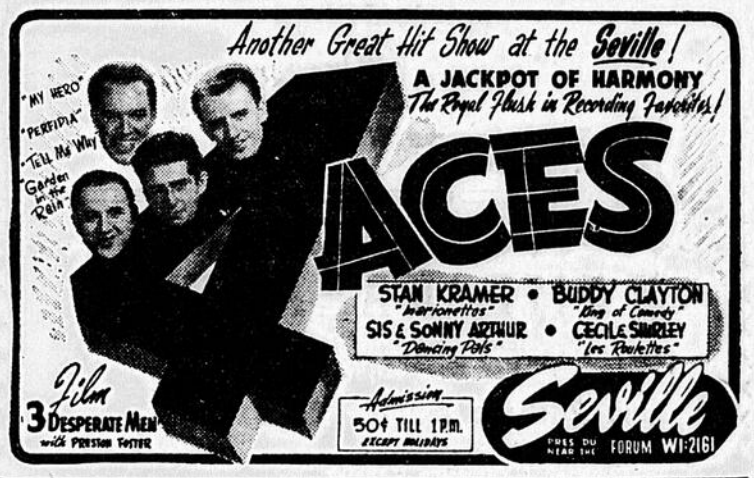

Filmed in the mountains of the northwest with the full co-operation of federal authorities, "Red Skies of Montana" brings to the screen, for the first time, the exploits of the parachute shock corps of the U.S. Forest Service—the intrepid fire-fighting heroes who bail out of ancient Ford trimotor planes to stalemate raging timber blazes in isolated and often unchartered wildernesses.

This blazing tale of heroism and danger backgrounds a tense, dramatic story of two men who question each other's courage in the face of their common enemy.

Producer Samuel G. Engel and Director Joseph M. Newman spent four weeks during production burning down the largest artificial tract in history, searing seven acres of manmade woods with 100-foot flames. The conflagration cost Twentieth Century-Fox $250,000 before the last embers died away.

While his son watches, Fredrich March tries to elude amorour Claire Carleton in Death of a Salesman," which starts Sunday at the Westmount Theatre. Kevin McCarthy is the son in the Stanley Kramer production based on the Pulitzer Prize play.

Track Club Holds First Work-Out

The Westmount Track Club held its first outdoor work-out at the Westmount Athletic Grounds on Wednesday, April 23.

The attendance was encouraging, and the interest shown was very impressive.

There are several members on our registration who were not present. Training time is very short, so turn out as soon as possible.

The track is in fine shape and we shall be holding practice sessions every afternoon from 3:45 to 5:00 p.m.

For those who are working, the track will be at your disposal in the early evening. Call Rocky Rothwell for a pass to the grounds.

This Club is for all Westmount track enthusiasts and all boys attending Westmount schols. Should you require further information, call Rocky Rothwell at FI. 6975.

MAKES ADJUSTMENT

Although the Hal Wallis production of "Come Back, Little Sheba," Burt Lancaster, Shirley Booth starring picture, is Miss Booth's first film, she found no difficulty in adapting herself from the stage to the screen. Daniel Mann directs.

TERRIFYING TOT

Charlton Heston, television's gift to the film industry, says he became an actor at the age of five. At that time, the star of Cecil B. DeMille's "The Greatest Show On Earth" made his stage debut in a grade school Christmas pageant.

YOUNG WROTE

Alan Young, the brilliant young comedian who returns to the screen in "Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick," a Technicolor musical, started professional life as a radio writer doing five half-hour shows for a total of nine dollars a week.

Andy's Junior Mittmen To Stage Thirty Bouts May 9

Plans are well underway for St. Leo's annual Junior and Pee Wee Boxing Show, scheduled for the evening of Friday, May 9, in the local Academy Hall on Clarke Avenue. Upwards of thirty bouts will be staged and plenty of action, thrills and humour are in store for the fistic patrons of this popular event.

The first bout will get underway at 8:30 p.m. sharp, with the Academy's miniature mittmen, occupying the first half of the card. The second half will see the Junior throwing punches in the interest of the manly art of self defence.

The youngsters competing in this show have a lot of enthusiasm and desire. It will be an all St. Leo's show with no outsiders competing.

Little League Baseball

Things are beginning to shape up for St. Leo's Indians and prospects are bright for a good team. Candidates for the team already have had a few warm ups with the old horsehide and from all indication a hustling club will take the field on May 20 for their opening. Doing the catching at present is a chunky red-headed youngster named Jules Larendeau and he has been doing a good job of holding on to the assorted delivrries from Dick Robinson, Bob Belanger, Cluny Maher and Gordon Dooley; the teams pitching brigade.

Sport Shorts

The school has added a beautiful new trophy to it's impressive collection. This trophy will be known as the John Rogers Memorial Trophy and will be awarded annually to the Academy athlete, who is the best personification of sportsmanship and school spirit. Mr. Rogers up until his untimely death a few months ago, was a valuable and respected member of the staff, who took a keen and active interest in the promotion of sports for the students of St. Leo's.

Tickets for the Junior and Pee Wee Boxing Show. may be secured from any student in the school or in the school itself. Don't forget the date folks, Friday, May 9 at 8.30 p.m., in the school hall.

The immediate future of St. Leo's in senior inter-school sport, is none too bright. The past year has seen coach Andy McGillis, lose ten senior athletes and with graduation this year, expects to see the senior ranks further riddled with the graduation of such stalwarts as Ray Losito and Peter Grant. Ray Losito was the moving spirit behind the senior hockey club, the past few years and not only his ability will be missed but also his leadership. Peter Grant, a spirited and driving type of player, fitted in well and was a decided asset on any team he played on. On the brighter side of the local sport scene, is the vast improvement this year in the Pee Wee group and many smart prospects have been tabbed for future delivery to senior sports. With Six Man Tough Rugby,. Hockey, Boxing and Baseball, the Academy Pee Wee athletes, have a sports program second to none.

The final chapter in St. Leo's 1952 Senior Hockey Club, was written off last week-end at Beaconsfield, with the holding of a successful party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Orr.

HISSED LADY

Life has been a succession of hisses for comely Adele Jergens, red-headed villainess with comedian Alan Young in "Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick" She's played a variety of heels in her last nine movies and never once gets the man.

Westmount Recreation Dept. News

The Westmount Recreation Department has obtained a pamphlet entitled "Recreation — A Problem of Grass Roots — The Why, The What and The How of Public Recreation." This pamphlet is published by the National Recreation Association.

With this week's issue of the "Examiner", it is the intention of the Recreation Department to publish excerpts from this pamphlet, and it is hoped that it will prove of interest to the citizens in the community.

Article III

The Public Recreation Movement

The pioneers who set up the first facilities for public recreation did not anticipate all of the social by-products. Yet they did passionately desire to free children from the frightful moral and physical hazards of city slums and to give them a happier life. Efforts to improve health and morals, to aid child welfare, to promote civic beauty and other streams of influence contributed to the public recreation movement. One of the leaders was Joseph Lee of Boston. In 1889 Boston created one of the first public playgrounds, a ten acre area called the Charlesbank Outdoor Gymnasium. Jane Adams in 1892 established a model playground next to Hull House in Chicago. In 1903 Chicago astonished the country with a bond issue of five million dollars for park playgrounds and field houses.

In 1906 forty-one cities boasted organized playgrounds. It was in 1906 that the Playground Association of America was founded, later to become the National Recreation Association. In 1946 the number of cities had grown to 1743 and they recorded 26,185 play areas, recreation buildings and indoor recreation centers.

Municipal Recreation Today

Today city recreation systems embrace parks, playgrounds, golf courses, tennis courts, parkways, camp and picnic sites, swimming pools, beaches, outdoor theatres, lakes community centers, athletic fields, stadiums and outlying reservations. The activities reach people of all ages and are widely diversified. Physical recreations have expanded and continue very popular, but to them have been added arts and crafts, drama, music, nature study and many other activities.

Most states, through either special or home rule legislation, have authorized the expenditure of tax funds by municipalities, school districts and other local subdivisions of government for recreational purposes. Several states have appropriated funds for state aid to local recreation programs. In 1946 public recreation was reported in 1743 communities. Their total expenditures for recreation, apart from maintenance and operation of park areas, zoos, museums, and similar facilities were $51,785,090.

Many states through State Agricultural Extension Service, State Extension Departments of State Universities, State Conservation, Forest and Park Departments, and Departments of Education are providing special services to communities on the organization and conduct of recreational programs.

Tennis Tickets

1952 cards for the use of the free tennis courts in the City of Westmount are now available in the Westmount Recreation Department, 4350 St. Catherine St. West. To be eligible for these cards, persons must be residents of Westmount. Individuals must apply in person and bring along with them suitable identification as proof of their residence.

SOFTBALL

The Municipal Intermediate Softball League will be affiliated with the Quebec Amateur Softball Association this year. This is a step forward, as it gives our local champions the opportunity of entering the Provincial play-offs.

The League will be governed by the Ontario Amateur Softball Association rules, which have the highest following throughout Canada. One of the main highlights of these rules is that all players will be allowed to wear baseball gloves.

The older softball players around the City of Westmount will probably be saying that the current crop of players are going sissy by using gloves. However, this is not the case. The size of the playing field has remained the same, but the ball is a much harder and faster ball than it was fifteen years ago. Also, the pitchers have acquired added skills and speeds. A hard hit ball to the infield today is just as fast as baseball. Therefore, a player needs some additional help to retrieve the ball; and also as a safety factor the glove is a must. The opening date of this League is May 26 at 6.0 p.m. at Western Avenue diamonds Nos. 1 and 2.

Art

The Westmount Recreation Department has a very interested art group since last October, and for the majority of the members, it will be a sad closing of the season at the end of this month.

Mrs. Peter Douet (Ruth Dingle), the art instructress, has done a fine job in improving techniques and correcting faults. All in all, the students and the instructor have had a happy season and no doubt the results of some of their efforts will be adorning the walls of their homes. Should you be interested in learning to paint or in improving your style, please call Mr. B. A. Rothwell at FI. 6975 for details.

Putting

The Putting Committee will be getting together within the next few days to draw up a program and regulations for the coming season. To date the green has been protected by having it roped off and is in fair shape. Watch The Examiner for further news on this enjoyable pastime.

For further information, call Mr. B. A. Rothwell, Recreation Supervisor, at FI. 6975.

Six Of Hundred Are Southpaws

Six out of every 100 teen-agers write with their left hand, Jerlyn Madison, handwriting consultant of the Sheaffer Pen Company, reports. Four of the six are boys, and only two are girls. No one knows why boys are more subject to sinistro-dextrality, as the experts call it. Neither is there any proof as to what causes it in the first place. Although there are often several people in one family who are left-handed, there is no proof that the tendency is inherited.

Take Precaution Before Leaving Child At Home

When small children must be left with a baby sitter, every precaution should be taken to see that fire hazards are eliminated. The furnace should be carefully inspected to see that it is safely checked. Instructions should be given to the sitter regarding opening doors or admitting people to the house. No one suffering from a cold or cough should be permitted to come in contact with the children. Before leaving the house, telephone numbers of police and fire departments and that of the house or place to which the parents are going, should be left in a conspicuous place for use in case of emergency.

STERLING SITS

Paramount's exciting screen personality, Jan Sterling, has recently completed a gallery sitting for cameraman Bud Fraker that has the entire industry talking about the glamour and beauty of the blonde star.
