QUEEN MARY'S FUNERAL IS ON TUESDAY

World News In Brief

Cairo.—(AP)—The RAF started three-day exercises today in the Suez canal zone.
The exercise, a British spokesman said, is to test the area's anti-aircraft defences.

Bari, Italy.—(Reuters)—Augusto Luinetti plunged to his death from his second floor balcony here last night — his 100th birthday.
He was heard muttering to himself: "I am tired of living," police said.

Katmandu, Nepal.—(AP)—The Nepalese government is investigating reports of flights by unidentified planes over this Himalayan kingdom. Officials said the aircraft may be from neighboring Communist-occupied Tibet.

London.—(AP)—Eggs came off the ration in Britain today for the first time in 12 years.
The poultry association celebrated by sending a dozen new laid eggs to Prime Minister Churchill and the food and agriculture ministers.

London.—(Reuters)—Drizzling rain today ended a 34-day run of dry weather, Britain's longest spring drought since 1893.
The drought caused fires in the under-dry forests in South Wales. More than 10,000 acres of grazing land were destroyed in a three-day blaze in the Breconshire mountains and two further fires were discovered during the night.
A spokesman for the National Farmers' Union said the destruction of grassland would have a serious effect on agriculture in Breconshire, one of the largest sheep-producing counties in Wales.

Private Service Planned; Future Role Of Windsor Is Discussed By Express

Eisenhower Meets Today With Mayer

Washington.—(AP)—President Eisenhower begins today war strategy talks with top French leaders which include three cabinet officers, was expected to outline Indo-China war plans for the next year at the opening talks.
Plans for such stepped-up military shipments were reported taking shape behind the scenes as the president arranged to meet French Premier Rene Mayer aboard the yacht Williamsburg.
The visiting French leader, assisted by a 35-man delegation which includes three cabinet officers, was expected to outline Indo-China war plans for the next year at the opening talks.
These plans, already made known to key American agencies, call for mobilization of 57 new commando battalions of Indo-Chinese. However, bigger and faster military cargoes must be sent from the U. S. to make this possible.
American officials, who sometimes have criticized French operations in Indo-China, said they are enthusiastic about the new French plans. They said the Eisenhower administration is ready to back them although this would mean diverting foreign aid funds from other areas.
Sharing importance with Indo-China in today's opening talks was France's plans for approving the long-delayed European army treaty.
President Eisenhower and State Secretary John Foster Dulles, anxious to translate the plan into action, were reported eager to hear from Mayer personally about prospects for its ratification by the French Parliament.
Accompanying Mayer are Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, Finance Minister Maurice Boreas, Labour, Overseas Minister Jean Louretourne and Herve Alphond, French representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.
American officials emphasized it would be impossible to give Mayer and his colleagues any clear indication of how much new aid the French can expect at home and in Indo-China in the fiscal year which begins July 1. The administration still has not settled on a foreign aid request to Congress for this period.

London Newspaper Suggests That Former King's Exile Be Ended And That He Return To England To Live.

London.—(AP)—As Britain prepared to bury beloved Queen Mary, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said today the death of the regal matriarch is a cue for her oldest son, the Duke of Windsor, to return to England to live.
"Let the mourning end his exile," declared the heading over an Express editorial. Windsor is in England, having cut short a Florida vacation to rush to his mother's bedside when her fatal illness was first announced. The Duchess remained in New York.
She has never been received at the Royal court since the Duke gave up the throne 16 years ago to marry her. Most observers considered Queen Mary — a stickler for conventions — at the bottom of the boycott. The editorial did not mention the Duchess — the former Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore.
In a moving tribute to the Queen Grandmother, who died Tuesday night at 85, Prime Minister Churchill declared she "was loved and revered far and wide, as perhaps nobody has been since Queen Victoria."
"Queen Mary will long live mellow and gracious in all our memories and in the annals of these tumultuous times," the 79-year-old government chief said in a broadcast last night to the Commonwealth. The address, heard also in the United States, termed her "this last great link with Queen Victoria's reign."
Messages of condolence flowed into the Royal court from throughout the world as preparations for Queen Mary's funeral Tuesday and the June 2 Coronation of her granddaughter, Queen Elizabeth, went forward.
The old Queen will be buried at a private service in beautiful St. George's chapel at Windsor Castle, the final resting place of English kings and queens since Tudor times. Her body will be placed in a tomb beside that of her husband, King George V.
Before the service the body will lie in state in historic Westminster Hall adjoining the House of Parliament. It will be placed on the same purple catafalque that only 13 months ago held the coffin of her son, King George VI.
Queen Mary will be the first royal consort of modern times to lie in state at the hall. For hundreds of years, the building — famous for its 700-year-old hand-carved, hammer-beam oak roof — has reserved for such homage to reigning monarchs only.
Her body will be taken to the hall Sunday in procession from the chapel in the grounds of her London home, Marlborough House.
Plans for the funeral were announced last night by the Earl of Scarborough, the lord chamberlain. At the same time, he disclosed that the Queen ordered court mourning only until April 25. No order was issued for public mourning.
Thus the mourning period will be over well in advance of Coronation day and arrangements for that ceremony will remain unchanged — in accordance with the Queen Grandmother's wishes.
In his broadcast tribute, Churchill said that the old Queen "died in the knowledge that the crown of these realms worn so gloriously by her husband and by her son and so soon to be set with all solemnity on the head of her granddaughter, is far more securely based on the people's love and the nation's will than in the sedate years of her youth when rank and privilege ruled society."
The view that Queen Mary,

Mystery Man May Hold Key To Slayings

By HAL COOPER
London.—(AP)—Scotland Yard pressed grimly ahead today with an inch-by-inch search of the drab "murder flat in Rillington Place" which already has yielded the bodies of four strangled women — one of them six months pregnant.
Police in all parts of the British Isles meanwhile are on the lookout for John Christie, dapper, 35-year-old mystery man who lived for 15 years in the seedy little tenement apartment in London's run-down Notting Hill district.
The gruesome discovery recalled testimony of a 1940 murder defendant who tried to link Christie with the strangling of a woman and child in the same house. Christie denied the accusations and the defendant, the woman's husband, was executed.
The latest rash of murders promised to rank in British annals with the horror-crimes of last century's Jack the Ripper, mutilator of street women, and John George Haigh, a killer who drank the blood of his female victims through a straw and dissolved their bodies in acid.
One of the dead women in the Christie apartment was identified last night as Hectoria MacLennan, 25, a London servant girl. Her brother said she had been missing from her home for about a month.
Police today tentatively identified another as Kathleen Maloney, a pretty 19-year-old blonde with scarlet-painted finger and toe nails. She had been dead two to four months.
The other two victims — identities still unknown — were a brown-haired girl of about 25, the pregnant one, believed dead for about three months, and a fair-haired woman of about 45, dead three to four months.
All four had been strangled with a thin cord or wire.
Police are considering the possibility that the women were murdered for the small amounts of money they may have had in their purses.
The partly-clothed bodies of the younger women were crammed into a niche of the pantry in Christie's ground floor lodging, concealed behind several thicknesses of wallpaper. A prospective tenant brought through the paper and discovered the corpses Tuesday.
Detectives unearthed the older woman's body from under the living room floor boards yesterday. They said she might be Christie's wife, Evelyn, last seen by neighbors around Christmas time.
Neighbors report Christie sold his meagre furnishings late in January but was seen at the house as recently as last Friday.
They described him as a "polite little man" always immaculately dressed and carrying a brief case, who never failed to tip his pearl-grey fedora to a woman.

Chaudiere Floods 10 Beauce Homes

St. Georges, Que.—(CP)—The Chaudiere River Wednesday flooded about 10 homes in this Beauce county town about 50 miles south of Quebec City.
As much as four feet of water were reported in the cellars of some homes after an ice jam formed less than three miles down river from here.
Reports from other points on the Chaudiere river which flows into the St. Lawrence river opposite Quebec City said ice movements were regular.

Commons Continues Debate On Emergency Powers Act

Ottawa.—(CP)—The Commons today will start another round of debate on renewal for another year of the emergency power the government can use without reference to Parliament.
The government move to renew the Emergency Powers Act for another year — from next May 31 to May 31, 1954 — has been before the House for more than a month. Yesterday the opposition withheld further delay at this time on the resolution stage and the extending bill was introduced and given first reading.
However, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader indicated his party is still opposed and will have more to say on second reading of the bill. The CCF and Social Credit parties also are opposed to extending the act, claiming it usurps powers that belong to Parliament and is not necessary in peacetime.
The Commons spent most of yesterday's half-day session discussing a government measure to extend the right of citizens to sue the crown beyond the present limitations of bringing an action in the Exchequer Court on the grounds of negligence.
The measure would place the crown in the same position as private persons concerning liability for breaches committed by servants of the crown; for cases involving breach of duty with respect to ownership, possession, occupation or control of property; for damages caused by federal motor cars and for civil salvage.
John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member for Lake Centre and Saskatchewan lawyer, urged that federal liability be extended to include victims of miscarriages of justice in provincial courts.
Justice Minister Garson said the federal government could not be responsible in such cases. The provinces had jurisdiction over their own courts and any provision for recourse must be made by the provinces themselves.
At the House opening the Commons approved an expression of deep sorrow at the death of Dow-

Churchill's Tribute To A Queen

London.—(AP)—Text of Prime Minister Churchill's broadcast Wednesday night to the Commonwealth on the death of Queen Mary:
"I have been, my friends, asked to say just a few words upon the sad event, which fills our thoughts this evening. Men and women of all ages, in all the lands owing allegiance to the Crown, have sorrowing hearts tonight. Queen Mary was loved and revered far and wide, as perhaps nobody has been since Queen Victoria.
During six reigns, far longer, that is, than most people can remember, she has moved among us with the poise and the dignity which, as age drew on, made her a figure of almost legendary distinction. How few of you listening to me tonight can recall a time without Queen Mary, and even those who never saw her will feel a deep and sincere pang at the passing of this last great link with Queen Victoria's reign.
When she was born, Napoleon the Third ruled in France and Palmerston had only recently ceased to be prime minister of this country. Railways were comparatively new; electric light and the internal combustion engine were unknown. She knew Gladstone and Disraeli; her grandfather was the son of George the Third.
Yet she lived into this atomic age, through the two fearful wars which cost almost all the thrones of Europe to the ground but also transformed the world. The chasm which scientific invention and social change have wrought between 1867 and 1953 is so wide that it requires not only courage but mental resilience for those youth lay in calmer and more slowly moving times, in order that they may adjust themselves to the giant outlines and harsh structure of the 20th century.
But Queen Mary did not cling to the insubstantial shadows of what had been. She moved easily through the changing scenes. New ideas held no terrors for her. Dispassionate in judgment, practical in all things, she was also far too much interested in the present to be unduly prejudiced by the past.

Russia-China Conclude New Agreement

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow.—(AP)—The Soviets today charted a new aid program for Communist China to boost their Red ally's heavy industry. In return, the Peiping government will send raw materials to Russia.
Moscow papers announced that a new agreement and two protocols covering the program were signed here recently in the presence of Chinese Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai. He came to Moscow early this month as head of the Chinese delegation to the funeral of the late Joseph Stalin.
Russia promised to help increase China's electric power capacity by expanding existing power plants and building new ones. Other assistance will be provided in equipping Chinese metallurgical, mining, machinery, chemical, transport and other industries.
The Soviet Union also will supply China with agricultural machinery, pedigree cattle and seeds.
As her part of the bargain, China will ship here light metals, rice, vegetable oils, meat, oil seeds, tobacco, tea, fruit, wool, jute, raw silk, silk textiles, leather and other goods.
The documents — first such under the new regime of Prime Minister Georgi M. Malenkov — appeared to Western diplomatic observers here as an indication that the new Kremlin administration aims to do everything possible to assist Communist China. These sources noted also that Malenkov's first act after he became premier three weeks ago was to appoint one of the country's ranking diplomats, Vasil Kuznetsov, as new ambassador to Peiping.
Negotiations resulting in the new Soviet aid program for China were begun last August, when Chou arrived in Moscow with a big government delegation for talks.

Calling Of BC Election Is Awaited

Victoria.—(CP)—Unfurling of election banners is expected to follow a temporary flag of truce raised today over the British Columbia legislature.
The minority Social Credit government and the opposition which defeated it on the floor of the House Tuesday night will troop back into the legislature to vote money needed to carry on government and to pass bills which are free of controversy.
The House is expected to be busy with this legislation until Friday night. After that Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace must announce his decision on the courses which appear open to him.
Conceivably, he can ask CCF Leader Harold Winch to form a government.
The other choice, and the one political observers feel is most likely, is for the Lieutenant-Governor to grant Premier Bennett's resignation.

Old Baldy Is Abandoned After Attacks By Chinese

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR
Seoul.—(AP)—American troops abandoned Old Baldy to the victorious Chinese.
Under cover of darkness, United States 7th Division infantrymen pulled out, leaving only Reds and death on the barren hill 11 miles west of Chonwon.
It was the worst beating for United Nations troops since they were thrown off the Kumhwa ridges five months ago.
Associated Press correspondent Stan Carter quoted a 7th Division officer as saying, "Now they (Allied) planes can plaster the whole hill."
The Chinese swept over the hill Monday night and U. S. counterattacks Tuesday and Wednesday got nowhere.
Both sides have taken bitter losses in the slugging match for the red-dirt peak overlooking the Imjin valley gateway to Seoul.
The 8th Army said the Reds lost 1,859 men — including 143 counted dead and 424 believed killed — in the first two days. U.S. casualties were not announced.
As dawn broke today U.S. planes began battering Baldy with 1,000-pound bombs. Artillery made the hill a smoking mess.
Associated Press photographer George Sweers, watching from a nearby hill, said, "It didn't look like anything could live above the ground."
But the Chinese were up there on the bare peak, some dead and wounded, others probably deep inside bunkers and trenches that had sheltered American and Colombian soldiers when the Red wave struck.
A Colombian officer, whose men held the first Chinese attack until they ran out of ammunition, said the Reds acted as if they had been doped. He said he found brown pills on some of the Chinese dead.
By midday, Baldy had shuddered under 100,000 pounds of explosives.
The planes and roaring U. S. artillery goaded the Reds into a big gun duel that was still raging in mid-afternoon. American tanks joined the fight.
Latest estimates placed Chinese on the hill at about two companies — some 350 men — but officers said they could have reinforced last night.
The Chinese picked their time for the attack — the rainy season that bogs down U. S. vehicles and men, and gives the huge Red manpower its greatest opportunity.
However, frontline officers say they do not always immediately fight the start of a big attack.
The 7th Division commander, Maj. Gen. Arthur Trudeau, said yesterday, "We have no doubt we will retake Old Baldy — and soon."
Elsewhere along the 155-mile front, action was minor, but the air war picked up as Red jets and U. S. planes clashed over North Korea.
The Korean war's first jet ace, Maj. James Jabara, probably destroyed one Red Mig jet and damaged another, the air force said. Now on his second tour of duty, Jabara has six kills, two probables and seven damages.
Fifteen U. S. B-29 Superforts dumped 150 tons of bombs last night on two Red supply centres on near Korea's west coast and a third depot northwest of Wonsan on the east coast.
At sea, the battleship Missouri, the heavy cruiser Los Angeles and the destroyers Halsey, Powell and Hamner shelled Red shore installations. Of the besieged port of Wonsan, the destroyer Prichett silenced Red shore batteries firing at her.
Tokyo.—(AP)—Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations Far East commander, said tonight he does not think the loss of Old Baldy on Korea's western front is a serious blow, but "it is always serious when we lose people."
The general arrived tonight from a 10-day swing through Southeast Asia.
He told reporters there is no indication the Chinese assault fore-shadows a spring offensive by the communists.
Asked about a New York Times report that shippoards of artillery

Hollywood — Guys and Dolls: Nelson Eddy has added be-bop and comedy falls to his night-club appearances, but Jeanette MacDonald is just being herself for her saloon debut at the Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas.

Besides, she doesn't think Eddy, once her film musical co-star, has changed at all. "He always did have a sense of humor and loved to clown. I howled through every movie we made together. But he never got the chance to be funny when the cameras were turning."

There were lifted eyebrows when Jeanette, now a concert star, agreed to sing in the land of dice decisions invalidating their legislation. Precedence might now be given to the key figure of the last pre-election parliamentary session, the 6-foot, 7-inch justice minister, Charles Robberts Swart who has piloted through some of the most controversial legislation ever debated in the South African Parliament.

Two new bills aimed at combating native defiance of segregation laws wrote Swart's name across the world's newspapers early this year.

Strauss, one-time private secretary of Field Marshall Jan Smuts who promoted his political career, has for the last five years, been criticizing the Nationalists for their "unconstitutional" methods. Under him, his followers say, South Africa might find a less explosive compromise in the racial crisis and regain some of its lost prestige abroad. But some doubt his powers as a rallying figure against the Nationalists.

One name often mentioned with the future of the United party is

New Prime Minister Expected In April Election In Africa

By ASTLEY HAWKINS

Pretoria — (Reuters) — South Africa expects to see a new prime minister come to power soon whichever way the general elections go April 15.

Dr. Daniel Francois Malan, 78, leader of the ruling Nationalist party, is considered likely to retire from office before the end of another five-year term if the country re-elects his government.

If the Nationalists are defeated at the polls, the new prime minister would be Jacobus Gideon Nel Strauss, 55, chief of the United Party.

Nationalist followers are confident of returning Malan to office. But they are not so sure that he could be expected to carry the administrative and political burdens of the country another five years.

Their guess is that Malan, with his party and policies safely returned to authority, would step down in favor of either his finance minister, Nicholas Christiaan Havenga, 70, or the Nationalists' "strong man," Johannes Gerhardus Strydom, 59, minister of lands.

Havenga, as leader of the now defunct Africaner party, helped the Nationalist party put Malan into power in the 1948 elections and could reasonably inherit the government leadership.

Strydom, leader of the Nationalist party in the important Transvaal province, would be the choice him as "the first president" of their proposed South African republic.

Some observers here feel Strydom's supporters could not long remain patient with the leadership of Havenga whose political career is based on firm respect for the South African constitution.

Extreme Nationalists cast doubt on the legality of parts of the constitution.

Dr. Theophilus Ebenhaezer Donges, 52, Malan's interior minister, was once considered heir presumptive to the prime minister. But his chances were dimmed by the failure of the Nationalists' plan to turn Parliament into a "high court" to override "test case" de-

Kiwanians Hear Talk On History And Products Of Screen Plate

"Industrial plating is done to improve working characteristics of materials," Peter Waud told members of the Kiwanis Club at their regular weekly dinner meeting held in the New Sherbrooke Hotel last night.

Mr. Waud, employed by the Union Screen Plate Company Ltd., chose as his subject "History of the Union Screen Plate."

Mr. Waud traced the history of the Lennoxville firm, controlled at first by American capital and now by Canadian businessmen.

"Screen plate is our most important product. The choice of the metal depends upon the customer. We have a wide range of customers and we make patterns for our own use and patterns for other firms."

"Many machines used in our plant were manufactured and designed by us and we are starting to produce machines for American companies."

Mr. Waud answered questions on the products produced in Lennoxville, showed the members samples of screen plate and also showed them pictures.

In concluding the speaker invited the members to tour the Union Screen Plate.

Introduced by Norm Farrell the speaker was thanked by Ron Mawhood.

President Gilbert Rhameau told the members that the King Brother's circus was not coming to Sherbrooke.

It was also reported that the Easter Seals campaign, under the direction of Sam Gillman, was progressing favorably. All citizens receiving the seals are asked to return their contributions as soon as possible for this very worthy cause.

Head table guests in addition to the president and guest speaker were: Bill Hammond, Harry Grundy, Norm Farrell, Ron Mawhood and Len Curtis.

Y's Men's Club Holds Tag Days Friday, Saturday

The Y's Men discussed their annual tag days last night at the weekly club dinner meeting in the Magog Hotel.

The tag days are being held in Sherbrooke tomorrow and Saturday and are in aid of the Y's Men's summer camp at Shore Acres.

An intermediary event between now and the camp for the youngsters, the E. T. Interscholastic Track and Field Meet, which the club sponsors each May, was also discussed.

President Jeff Wilson was in the chair for the meeting and seated at the head table with him were: Angus MacLean, Mac Sanders, Gordon "Beef" Ross, and Doug Martin.

The Y's Men are honoring Director Martin with a farewell party next Monday. He is taking up residence at Peterborough, Ont.

Two guests were introduced at the meeting by Mac Sanders, boy's work chairman—Howard Fairbrother, president of the Hi-Y club, and Pat Timmons, president of Omega Alpha.

Excellent Performances Feature Schubert Club's Annual Concert

How the Schubert Club at its annual concert in Plymouth Church Hall last night managed to cram in the works of 36 composers and present so many of its talented members as performers in just over an hour and one-half is difficult to imagine unless one was a member of the large audience which was present.

The concert, large in scope but all-too-brief in running time, presented vocalists Malcolm Brown, tenor, Luce Triganne, soprano, Lois Ogilvie Blanchette, soprano, and as a duet, Helen Spafford, soprano, and Marcel Dufresne, baritone.

Schubert Club president Gordon Moffatt, violinist, Francis Smith, cellist, and James Whitelaw, pianist, were heard in movements from Haydn's Trio No. 3.

Irene Boombour, pianist, was heard in the first movement of Beethoven's Sonata in B Flat, Scherzo from Sonata in G by J. B. McEwen and a series of "Habitant Sketches" comprising Jig, Church Scene and Christmas in Quebec, by Violet Archer.

Indeed if there is any adverse criticism of the concert, which had an over-all pleasing effect, it is that Miss Boombour and other artists of her calibre are deserving of a first-rate piano for their public appearances.

Mrs. Spafford and Mr. Dufresne started the program with three gems from light opera, accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Lurie Sampson at the piano. They were heard in the delightful "I'm Falling In Love With Someone," and "Ah, Sweet Mystery Of Life," both by Maurice Strakosky.

Victor Herbert and "One Alone" from Sigmund Romberg.

Mrs. Blanchette was heard in three charming little numbers: "Charmant Papillon," by Campra; "Je Suis Titania" from Thomas "Mignon" and "The Russian Nightingale" by Alabielf with flute obbligato by William McAnespie, a selection which can be described only as "cute."

Malcolm Brown was a great favorite with the audience, rendering Carpenter's "Little Road to Kerry," Lullies "Bois eps" and "The Time For Making Songs Has Come," by James Rogers. Unfortunately, there weren't any encores.

Miss Triganne had the vocal "meat" of the program in Psyche by Palhadibe, "Gretchen am Spinnrade," by Schubert, and Verdi's "Face, Face" from "La Forza del Destino," Her English translation of the German. Two E. T. Men Mounted Police Issue Public Warning Regarding False Canadian $10 Bills

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police recently issued a list of serial numbers of counterfeit Bank of Canada $10 bills.

The list contains sixty nine serial numbers of spurious bills known to be in circulation. They are under the prefixes R/D, S/D, U/D, T/D, L/D and O/D. So far none of these has been picked up in the Sherbrooke area but to protect the public against financial loss due to "current extensive circulation of counterfeit money" the R.C.M.P. offer the following helpful hints in detecting bogus bills.

Genuine currency has a sharp clear appearance, is evenly inked and will not smudge. Serial numbers are sharp, glossy and distinct. Counterfeit bills have a dull flat look. Inks tend to break down, leaving a smudgy general appearance. Some will smudge if rubbed with a wet fingertip.

The portrait on genuine currency is lifelike. The background pattern lines are even, distinct and clear. The portrait on counterfeits is lifeless, dull and smudgy looking. The background lines are invariably broken and appear to blend together in one dark color.

In bogus money, the planchettes are absent. Planchettes are the small, green solid spots which are present in genuine currency.

Denomination numerals on all bills are encircled by intricate designs called lath work. On genuine currency lath work is unbroken and distinct. It stands out sharply. On counterfeit bills lath work has a generally broken and irregular appearance and does not carry the distinct geometric patterns found on genuine currency.

Serial numbers on counterfeit bills may be treated with wax or some other substance to prevent smudging. This is easily detected.

United States counterfeit bills usually have the same imperfections as found on Canadian counterfeit money.

If you suspect money to be counterfeit, the Mounties request, note the description of the passer, don't return the bill, delay the passer and telephone the R.C.M.P. (Sherbrooke, 2-3020).

If this person leaves, follow or have him followed until he can be pointed out to a policeman. If he is driving an automobile, obtain description of it and licence number.

Forestry Assoc. Will Promote Trees Project

At a meeting this week, the E. T. Forestry Association decided to promote tree farms' projects in this district and drew up a program of action to acquaint farmers with the advantages of regulating the cutting of their trees.

A tree farm is a woodland surface, belonging to an individual or a company, on which trees are raised according to strict forestry rules. Although this system is long-established in the United States, the movement by the E. T. Forestry Association is believed the first of its kind in this Province.

It has been decided to give certificates to those joining the tree farms' movement and to put up posters proclaiming that the proprietors of said lots are tree farmers. The first of these certificates will be presented in May during Arbor Week.

To participate, the farmer must have a wooded area with a minimum of three acres and must: keep his lot according to tree-cutting rules; protect it adequately; cut to assure annual crops; and allow inspection by the E. T. Forestry Association.

The following are committee members in charge of the tree farms' project: A. J. Phillip, general manager, Canada Paper Company, Windsor Mills; J. L. Morin, Southern Canada Paper, Drummondville; P. E. Cliche, president, Megantic Manufacturing Company, Lake Megantic; Lucien Paquet, Howard Smith Paper Mills Ltd.; Ernest Dupuis, forestry engineer, St. Lawrence Corporation, East

Drummondville Fire Loss High

Drummondville, March 26—Damage estimated at $35,000 was caused today by a fire in the Garceau block at the corner of Lindsay and St. Edward streets in Drummondville.

Firemen, under Chief Maurice Vincent, were called out at 2 a.m. and fought the blaze for 2½ hours before bringing it under control.

The fire is believed to have originated in the furnace and most damage was caused to the Garceau Pharmacy. Two flats upstairs, occupied by Raoul Garceau and Honore Garceau, received smoke damage.

A restaurant adjoining the pharmacy received only slight damage.

OLD PROBLEM SWAPPED FOR NEW ONE

One of life's little ironies: Workers' pension plans and similar benefits, highly prized and long-sought features of a broad social security program, are becoming the biggest obstacle to the employment of older job-seekers.

In a survey of placement agencies undertaken by Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, it would found that pension systems discourage employment of oldsters because the plans are costlier for both workers and companies when the former are fairly close to retirement age.

For instance, if a man starts with a firm at 50 it takes four times as large a contribution each year by both employer and employee to build the same size pension fund as if he'd begun at 25. And insurance losses are heavier on older people, so costs go up unless average employee age levels are held down.

You never get rid of problems. You just trade in old ones on new models.

CANADA AND THE PALEY REPORT

"It seems highly probable that the proportion of Canadian exports going to the United States will remain at more than half and perhaps rise as high as two-thirds" says the current Monthly Review of The Bank of Nova Scotia. The Review reaches this conclusion after surveying some of the implications of the U. S. Report "Resources for Freedom," widely known as "The Paley Report."

"From one point of view, this means increasing Canadian dependence on the U. S. market. But it also means increasing U. S. dependence on Canadian sources of supply. Though there will in the future undoubtedly be periods of declining U. S. demand for Canadian products, it is most improbable that the United States will ever again, as she did in the early 'thirties, find it possible almost to do without Canadian supplies of many basic commodities."

The Review adds that in the next two decades Canada may well be able to bargain more effectively for better terms of entry into the U. S. market for the processed and fabricated forms of the basic commodities which the United States requires, but often prefers to take in their primary forms. Canada should also be able to pursue increasingly effective policies of resource conservation.

Pointing out that the growing dependence of the United States on imported materials has had a profound effect on Canada in the last quarter century, the Review suggests that the influence on Canada of rising U. S. imports of materials will be a least as great in the next quarter century.

"Canada has the materials the United States needs — the base metals, the aluminum or "packaged power," the iron ore, the uranium and other "new" metals, the pulp and paper and the lumber. Her location gives her a major advantage in competing for the U. S. market, and from a strategic viewpoint she is considered by the United States the most secure source of supply outside of American borders. More than that, the Canadian economy is regarded with confidence by Americans — the result of a long and rewarding investment experience, a comparatively free economic system and a strong currency."

As seen by the Paley Report, the picture of demand in the 'seventies is good for copper, lead and nickel, and reasonably good for zinc. In each case it is estimated that almost twice as much production will be needed from the free world outside of the United States as is forthcoming today. By 1975 the United States may be importing half her copper and zinc and three-quarters of her lead, as well as almost all of her nickel. The Paley Report indicates that zinc may be relatively plentiful and lead scarce in years to come, and estimates that the price of lead may rise relative to other commodities.

When it comes to aluminum, the Paley Report foresees a very sharp increase in demand and projects U. S. demand for 1975 at four times the 1950 level. The Report points out that the possibilities of substituting aluminum for wood and steel are potentially much more important than those of further substitution of copper, lead and zinc. If such replacement should occur to a significant extent in the next twenty-five years, U. S. demand in 1975 could be ten times the 1950 level. Aluminum's power to compete has increased very substantially, its price being almost the same as before the war, while those of steel, copper, lead and zinc are from 80 per cent to 200 per cent higher, and that of lumber is more than four times pre-war.

The Paley Report places a great deal of emphasis on Canada as a supplier of iron ore. Though it looks to Venezuela for notably increased supplies, it clearly regards Canadian sources as vital. It goes so far as to advocate strongly the early construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway as a means of making Quebec-Labrador ore more accessible to the steel mills of the central area of the United States, and, indeed, envisages a supply of as much as 40 million tons per annum from that one source by 1975.

As to forest products, the Paley Report foresees a serious problem of shortage in the years to come — a problem which can only gradually be overcome by scientific policies of forest management and improved techniques of utilization. It estimates that U. S. demands for industrial wood (all forest products except fuel wood) will increase by 34 per cent in the next twenty-five years and suggests that those of the rest of the free world will rise by 45 per cent. On the other hand, "unless extraordinary measures are taken to build up forest productivity in the more advanced countries and to expand production in the underdeveloped countries," free world production over the quarter-century might rise by only four per cent.

EXPERTS DISAGREE ON VALUE OF A FULL, THREE-MAN CEA

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The question of whether President Eisenhower is to have a full Council of Economic Advisers or just one economic adviser has stirred up a junior-grade controversy among experts.

If the President obeys the Full Employment act of 1946, he will have a three-man Council of Economic Advisers with full staff for research. Some of the President's critics are now saying that he is trying to sabotage that law. But during the campaign the President said he believed in the Full Employment act and would carry out its provisions.

The catch right now is that the Congress has cut off the money to pay for a full CEA staff. So the President has had to content himself with one economic adviser — Dr. Arthur F. Burns of Columbia University — who has been attached to the White House payroll.

Republican Congressman J. Taber of New York, Richard Wigglesworth of Massachusetts and John Phillips of California — a potent trio on the House Appropriations Committee — have been gunning for CEA for a long time. They never did like the idea of planning agencies of any kind, believing that the function of Congress.

Last year, in an economy drive, they succeeded in getting the CEA appropriation cut by about a fourth. Instead of restoring the cut, the Senate decided to allow the CEA to spend all its money in the first nine months of the fiscal year. The thought was that after election, it would be possible to get a deficiency appropriation to keep the outfit going.

Taber Group Squashes Appropriation
But along comes a Republican administration which puts Taber and Co. in control of House appropriations. On the pretense that they can't decide whether President Eisenhower wants the council or not, they knock out the deficiency appropriation. So — CEA has to fold up and be liquidated as of April 1.

When it comes to restoring CEA to life, the question of what it did to justify its existence in the six years it has been around is naturally raised.

What policies did CEA recommend to President Truman which he adopted, which Congress carried out, and which saved the country from ruination?

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, first chairman of the council, is of the opinion that it is not possible to take a list of the council's recommendations to the President and check them off as adopted or rejected to compile a batting average on CEA effectiveness. His reasoning is that there are too many variables, too many other outside factors influencing the economy to make any such record an honest appraisal.

Nourse Differed With Truman, Keyserling
Dr. Nourse resigned from the council after three years over a difference of opinion with President Truman and Leon H. Keyserling, the assistant chairman who later became head of CEA. Dr. Nourse thought the council should be a somewhat academic adviser on economic trends, leaving the shaping of policy to the President and the Congress.

Mr. Keyserling thought the council should be an active advocate of the President's complete economic policy.

Mr. Keyserling won this argument and Dr. Nourse resigned. Also, he didn't approve of some of Mr. Truman's fiscal policies.

Over the past two years, Dr. Nourse has compiled a 500-page book on this whole subject. He calls it "Economics in the Public Service." Now that both Mr. Truman and Mr. Keyserling are out of office, Dr. Nourse feels free to make public his record. It will be published in early April by Harcourt Brace.

Coming when the controversy over CEA is at its height, this should be an extremely timely book for those interested. Dr. Nourse still believes the council is useful and should be continued.

Others don't think so. They say that CEA can't point to a single thing it accomplished in its six years. So kill it.

At the opposite extreme is Mr. Keyserling. He thinks the council can show a number of specific accomplishments. Some of his ideas will be presented in this space in the next issue.

TREES FOR FARMS

Lethbridge Herald

Here on the bald-headed Prairies trees go along with pleasant living to a greater degree than anywhere else in Canada.

Tree planting is nothing new on the Prairies. Since 1901 more than 350,000,000 trees have been planted on Prairie farms, to say nothing of the thousands upon thousands planted in towns and cities.

Today more than ever there is need for trees on farms. Fortunately more farmers have been able to build new homes or modernize their old ones during the past few years than ever before, and modern homes in the rural areas demand trees to give them a setting. Trees and modern homes will help to hold farm families on the land.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

A doctor found it necessary to use a local anaesthetic in order to perform a delicate operation upon a little girl. In kindness he pressed a shiny half dollar into her hand and said, "Hold onto this, and think about it. It's yours. It will help you." The operation proceeded successfully. When the doctor visited his little patient the next day, she said, "Thank you so much for the wonderful words on the pretty coin — 'In God We Trust.' I think about them all the time. They help me. They must help others, too."

Too many in our time are trusting in the face value of the coin alone and dismissing the expression faith in God that is engraved on it. Where is your faith? Unless the object of your faith is right and mighty you will never reach your objective. Until you place your complete trust in Jesus Christ who loved you and gave Himself for you, Heaven will elude you and earth will be a tangled maze in which you struggle hopelessly.

To heartbroken Martha at the grave of Lazarus, Jesus said, "If thou wouldst believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God." In those brief words is the eternal principle that faith will be rewarded here and hereafter.

TODAY'S PRAYER

I do not ask, O Lord, that life should always be a pleasant road; I do not ask that Thou shouldst take from me aught of its load. . . . For one thing only, Lord, dear Lord, I pleaded, lead me aright, through strength should falter and though heart should bleed, through faith to light. Amen. —Adelaide Anne Proctor.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR LATE BELOVED QUEEN MARY

In every inch a Queen was she
Who wore the Crown so royally —

A gracious, Christian influence felt
Through England and the Commonwealth.

Her motto, "DUTY," nobly borne,
Was also motto of her son

George VI, who thro' the years as England's King
Heard ever bell of duty ring;

And our lov'd Queen Elizabeth
Will make it hers until her death. . . .

Our hearts are sore with those today
Who mourn two loved ones called away —

Within so short a span of time —
From toil of earth to Heav'nly clime;

But thankful that their lives were such
That sorrow does the whole world touch.

We leave them in the knowledge sure:
That God will help them to endure.

TOURNEY WILL SHOW MANY GREAT PLAYS

"This is my favorite hand from the 1953 Life Masters Individual," my friend, Walt Connors, of Media, Pa., told me the other day. "The bidding was sound and solid, and declarer made his best play at every moment. It was a pleasure to find the right defense against him."

"I held the West cards," Walt told me, "and opened the king of clubs. Declarer won in the dummy and had to decide whether to begin with the diamonds or with the trumps. He correctly decided that his best play was to lose only one diamond trick was to play East for a doubleton ten and to lead a low diamond from the dummy at once. "East, my partner, had to go up with the king of diamonds, since it would have done him no good to play low. This put South in position to lead the jack of diamonds through at his next opportunity, and thus limit the diamond loss to one trick.

"My partner returned the ten of clubs, and I overtook in order to cash the jack and queen. It now looked as though we were going to be held to two clubs, one diamond and one trump. Fortunately, for our side, however, I happened to push out my last club.

"This gave my partner the chance to rise to the occasion by trumping with the seven of hearts. South was forced to overruff with the ten of hearts, and now I had two natural trump tricks! That's why this is my favorite hand. It isn't often, even in a Life Master event, that you get absolutely perfect bidding, with fine play on both sides of the table."

A very pretty hand, to be sure. Walt was too modest to emphasize

THE MATURE PARENT

CHILD MAY BE HYPNOTIZED BY PARENTS' FEAR OF HIS FAILING

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Always, before high school examinations, Anne is impossible to live with.

She becomes preoccupied, tense and very irritable. This, you might understand. What you don't understand is what she does about her exams.

Instead of getting down to work to prepare for them, Anne can't bear to even be reminded of study. Instead of curtailing movie dates and putting aside the love pulp magazines that stock her bedroom shelves, she devours movies and magazines more avidly than at other times.

This unreasonable behavior exasperates her mother beyond endurance.

"Out again tonight—and your geometry exam three days away!" she says. "Maybe you want to fail it. Well, don't come crying to me if you do. I never saw such an irresponsible girl in my life."

At this criticism, Anne turns on her mother as though she hated her. "Oh, leave me alone," she cries. "If I fail, it's my funeral, isn't it?"

Anne's mother finds it very discouraging. She has written to me asking me what she can do to get Anne to concentrate on school work.

First, if she sincerely wishes to help Anne understand the meaning of work, she must begin by understanding its meaning herself.

Now, I doubt if she does. It is probable that Anne's mother has confused work with its results. She's got work mixed up with its consequences in report cards, starched curtains, the car in the garage and the roast we put on the table.

It's none of these things. Work, whether we cook meals, prove geometry theorems or vote for laws in Congress is one of our ways for revealing ourselves to others.

Anne doesn't resist working for exams because she fears geometry, but because she is terrified to reveal herself to others. Thus, an exam is an intolerable ordeal for her. It forces her to submit to others' judgment. Fearful of self-exposure, she solves the testing, lonely experience of exams the only way she knows. She pretends it doesn't exist by refusing to prepare for it.

How can we help her learn to work? By doing some ourselves. Work is self-exposure without fear of others' judgment.

So we begin it by saying, "You think you are afraid of failing. You're not. For years, you've been hypnotized by my fear of your

SHORT STORY

'Helpless' Anne

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

Through the opening in the trees above the woods road Langford could see the dull glow against the sky.

It was growing brighter by the minute, and now the smell of smoke was strong. In his ears there was the distant and ominous roar of crackling flames.

He stumbled forward, his breath a sobbing gasp in his throat, his face white and drawn from the strain of running. It seemed that he had run a thousand miles, though he knew it was not more than eight. Eight at the most. That meant there were still three to go before he reached the river. Then he'd have to swim across and make another mile up the slope to his cabin. By then it might be too late. By then it might have swept down on the little log structure and destroyed it, and what it contained. Anne and little Bobby. He closed his eyes to shut out the picture.

He called on the last ounce of energy and fought ahead.

After a while he stood up and went on. The glow against the sky was brighter, bright red and orange and yellow. Against it he could see billowing smoke clouds and occasional showers of sparks. That meant the flames had reached the ridge behind the cabin. In another moment they would be sweeping down the slope toward his clearing.

His spirits sank. He choked as the smoke grew thicker and the air suffocating. Above him he heard the wail of a rising wind, and above the wind there was the increasing roar of the fire. Anne wouldn't understand until it was too late. She was helpless about such things.

It couldn't be much more than a mile, he told himself. He called on his last ounce of energy and fought ahead.

Suddenly a wild hope beat in his heart. He looked up and there at his very feet was water. The river! He had come faster than he thought. But abruptly the hope died. Looking across he stared into a solid sheet of flame and smoke belching sparks. The entire slope of the hill, which was between the river and his cabin, was afire.

Groaning, he sank to his knees. Before him the river hissed and steamed as flying fragments fell into it. Its black depths mirrored the licking tongues of flame with terrible beauty.

Watching with horrible fascination, Langford's heart suddenly gave a bound. He leaped to his feet and plunged into the water, shouting. Fifty feet from shore a dark silhouette had come into the path of orange reflection, wabbling crazily but moving steadily toward the shore. A top it was a huddled bundle of something, that moved and propelled the silhouette forward with awkward, clumsy strokes.

Langford waded to his armpits and then started to swim. He called again and a voice answered him, telling him to go back. But he didn't. And presently the silhouette ranged along side and Anne's frightened eyes were looking into his own.

"Bobby?" he gasped. "He's here, under the blankets. And I saved the hens too, and a lot of our personal things."

Langford helped push the improvised raft ashore. But it wasn't until Anne had alighted and he had carried Bobby to safety that he discovered the raft was the hen-coop he'd made for Anne's chickens. Four or five boards were laid across its top and lashed together with part of the wire.

"It was the only thing I could carry," Anne was saying. "I took the boards from the fence. The chickens are all in the burlap bag, and our things are sunk in a box on the other side of the river."

Langford stared at her and for no accountable reason he began to laugh. It was a curious sound, not wholly rational. But the incongruity of it was justified for it had occurred to him what a stupid fool he'd been to think Anne helpless.

He was never your fear; always mine. So when it overwhelms you, don't keep it but hand it to me. I will lift it from you—and in a little while, I will see what happens.

1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass
4 Spades Pass

You, South, hold: Spades K-J-7-5-4, Hearts 5-3, Diamonds A-6-3-2, Clubs K-5. What do you do?

A—Bid five diamonds. This bid clearly shows the ace of diamonds and invites a slam. You can afford to try for a slam since you have a count of 11 points in high cards, 2 points for the doubletons, and 1 point for the fifth spade. North's strong rebid shows about 20 points, so that the combined total should be roughly what is needed for a slam.

BEDFORD

The Rev. Mr. May left on Tuesday for Montreal to spend several days prior to leaving with his son, Mr. Stephen May, of Montreal for New York, where they will sail on the Queen Mary, to spend a month in the British Isles visiting relatives. This is the Rev. Mr. May's first visit to his former home in England in twenty-six years.

Miss Betty Ann Nicholson, of Montreal, was in Bedford over the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nicholson.

Miss Joan Hewett, nurse-in-training at the Montreal General Hospital, was a guest of her mother, Mrs. A. Hewett.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones and Billy Jones were the guests on Sunday of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Carr, in Huntingdon.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Draper are leaving on a motor trip to the Southern States. While away they will visit Southern Pines, N. C.

Miss Kathleen Campbell, of Montreal, was in Bedford over the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell.

The winners in the recent bonspiel held at the Bedford Curling Rink for the W. B. Bradshaw Trophy were W. F. Van Horn, Mrs. William Ford, M. S. McCaw and Mrs. Remi Kimmell. The members of the rink who were the runners-up were Hector Laing, Mrs. T. F. Duncan, Stanley Soule, and Mrs. Harry Jones. This trophy will be awarded annually. The arrangements for the matches were in the hands of the match committee, Mrs. R. W. Craighead and Miss Alison Carr.

Miss Joan Provent, of Montreal, spent the week-end in Bedford, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Provent.

Mrs. Philip Flanders and Mr. Kenneth Flanders, of Cookshire, were in Bedford on Monday visiting Mr. Roger Flanders.

The bi-monthly meeting of the Bridge Club was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Malcolm McCaw. The prize for the highest score went to Mrs. John Ewing, and the consolation prize to Mrs. William MacArthur. Cards were played at three tables.

Miss Isabel Wanzer, of Waterloo, was in Bedford over the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wanzer.

A rink from the local Curling Club went to Lennoxville to take part in the bonspiel at that club. Mrs. William Jackson, Mrs. Fred Tambling, Mrs. Russell Blinco and Mrs. Allan Palmer were the curlers.

Mr. Lorne Derick, of St. Lambert, and his brother, Mr. Leslie Derick, of Montreal, were in Bedford over the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Derick.

Miss Sylvia Palmer, of Montreal, spent the week-end in Bedford with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Palmer.

Mrs. J. Dore and Miss Norris, of Montreal, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McCaw, when in Bedford, on the occasion of Mrs. Dore giving an address based on her jewelled map, before the Senior W. A. of St. James' Church.

Mr. M. Wells, of Longueuil, spent the week-end in Bedford with Mrs. Wells and family.

Mrs. George Moody is spending a week in Montreal, with Mrs. Arthur Creighton, prior to the latter leaving Montreal, for Three Rivers, where she will make her future home.

The weekly meeting of the Bridge Club was held on Monday evening with Miss Lottie Casey, hostess. The prize for the highest score for the evening went to Mrs. R. Robinson. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Robinson.

Miss Isabel Marshall, of Montreal, was in Bedford over the week-end with her mother, Mrs. C. Montle.

On Thursday evening the Guild Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Ross Preston and Mrs. D. J. Reid, at the home of the former, when cards were played at three tables. The prize for the highest score went to Mrs. W. H. Baglow, while the consolation prize went to Mrs. Stanley Ridge. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Richard Craighead, who will be assisted by Mrs. Grant Laurer.

Mr. Roy Wightman, of Longueuil, was in Bedford over the week-end with Mrs. Wightman and family.

Among the members of the Bedford Curling Club who attended the mixed bonspiel held at the Magog Club during the present week were Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Draper, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baglow, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Craighead, Mr. and Mrs. F. Van Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Jess, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Blinco, Misses Carol Sager and Majorie Steel and Messrs. C. Salisbury and Stanley Soule and Mr. and Mrs. M. S. McCaw.

CALLING OF

wish that the legislature be dissolved and a new provincial election called.

Premier Bennett announced Wednesday night following conferences with the opposition leaders that the House will sit until certain bills have been passed and members have voted six months' supply.

Likely date for an election would be early in June.

The House didn't meet Wednesday, the day following Queen Mary's death, out of respect to the Royal Family.

The Lieutenant-Governor's problem stems from the fact that Social Credit and the CCF are so evenly matched numerically in the House.

The standing is: Social Credit 19, CCF 18, Liberals 6, Progressive Conservative 2, Labor 1 and vacant 2.

The Vancouver Daily Province quoted "authoritative sources" as saying the Lieutenant-Governor would refuse Mr. Winch's bid to become B.C.'s CCF premier. From all indications, party leaders are getting ready for an election. All appeared confident.

Social Credit was defeated 28-17 in a vote on a bill which would have changed the system for financing education costs.

The CCF, Liberal and Progressive Conservative members combined with Labor member Tom Uphill and one Social Credit rebel to defeat the government, which came into power following a June 12 election which saw the defeat of a Liberal administration.

On previous occasions since the session opened Feb. 3 the balance-of-power Liberals voted with the government, saying British Columbians didn't want to shell out $750,000 for another election. This support was greeted by jibes from the Social Credit benches.

RUSSIA-CHINA

With Stalin and other top leaders, the first resulting agreement, signed in September, prolonged Russia's expiring lease on Port Arthur in Manchuria until the two countries signed peace treaties with Japan.

Moscow papers reported that the two protocols provide for the exchange of goods between Russia and China this year and further implement a 1950 agreement, by which Russia granted Red China credits totalling $300,000,000.

The third document, a new agreement, provides for Soviet assistance in expanding present electric power plants and building new ones.

St. Andrew's W. A. Of Windsor Mills Held Meeting

Windsor Mills, March 26.—The Woman's Association of St. Andrew's United Church held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. G. Fowler and Mrs. P. Davis. The president, Mrs. E. McLennan, called the meeting to order asking Miss A. Boivert to lead the devotional exercises. Nineteen members answered the roll call.

M. Paige gave the treasurer's report. Two appeals for money were read and it was decided to send five dollars to the Sherbrooke Hospital campaign and to complete the society's pledge to the United Church Training School Building Campaign Fund.

The ladies will cater for the Howard Smith Curling Bonspiel, on April 10 and 11, and serve the dinner on Saturday.

Mrs. L. Stevens reported wool on hand and some material. Also information concerning the sale of small boxes of Smiles n' Chuckles Chocolates.

Mrs. A. MacIntyre and Mrs. E. Davies volunteered to act as the visiting committee for the next month.

The meeting closed by repeating the Mizpah Benediction. Refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. M. Dubuc and Mrs. G. McLeod.

THE W.M.S.

The Women's Missionary Society held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Jondreville with a good attendance.

The "Call to Worship" was used from the Missionary Monthly. Mrs. G. Gregerson read the Bible selection from the revised edition of the Bible.

The minutes were read by Mrs. A. Jondreville. Miss M. Varney gave the financial report, which was most encouraging.

An April 8th, the annual Easter thank-offering meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Dubuc. Envelopes will be distributed to the ladies of the congregation and an invitation to attend this meeting. Plans are being made to have a speaker at this time.

The meeting adjourned by repeating the Mizpah Benediction. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

General Notes

Mrs. Malcolm Mackay, of Sherbrooke and Mrs. Robert Calhoun of Beauharnois, were dinner guests of Mrs. G. Fowler and Mrs. P. Davis.

REMARKABLE NEW DISCOVERY

makes dishwashing simple, easier, cleaner, faster!

stays clean ALL the time

TUFFY rinses clean under the tap—stays clean and odourless even after long use. TUFFY'S patented construction of loose sliding loops makes it easy to remove food from dishes and pans—and also provides TUFFY'S self-cleaning action. TUFFY dries quickly—can't possibly corrode or stain drainboards. TUFFY doesn't scratch—yet it's so tough it cleans off stickiest foods. TUFFY is new and it's patented.

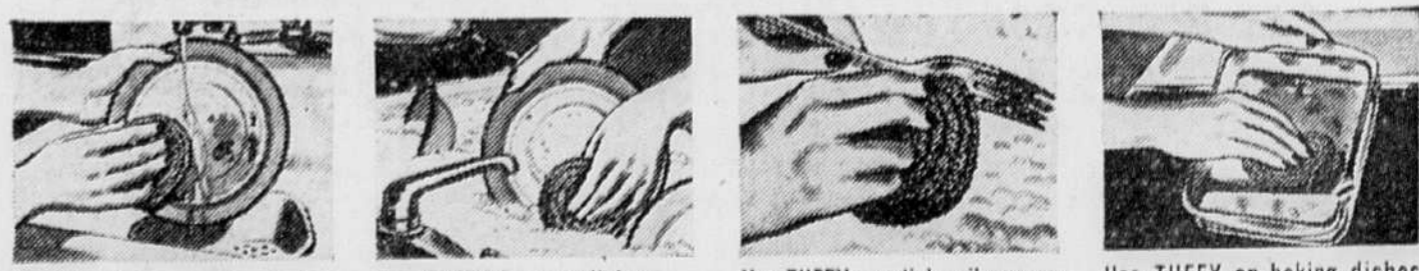

gets rid of messy dish rags, scrapers, brushes!

TUFFY'S sturdy pliable "wonder-mesh" resists wear and tear—it outlasts dish rags, scrapers, brushes—stays clean—odourless. TUFFY is made of specially developed material that is immensely strong. TUFFY'S thrifty too—because it's durable and lasts so long yet it costs surprisingly little. Look for the gay red and yellow TUFFY in the green package—at your grocer's now.

Where can you buy it? At your grocer's NOW!

TUFFY WONDER-MESH—TRADE MARK REG. PATENTED 1952—TUFFY OF CANADA LIMITED

Use TUFFY for scraping dishes before washing. Sticky foods come right off—wash right out of Tuffy's "wonder-mesh."

Use TUFFY in your dishpan... in place of dishrags or mops. Tuffy's "wonder-mesh" is gentle on china... hands, too!

Use TUFFY on sticky silverware. Wipes away stuck-on egg—foods that cling. Won't scratch, even cherished sterling.

Use TUFFY on baking dishes, mixing bowls. "Wonder-mesh" gets off baked-on, hardened food in next to no time.

OBITUARIES

WILLIAM HACKWELL, WATERLOO.
 Waterloo, March 26.—Mr. William Hackwell passed away at his home in Waterloo Sunday, March 8, after a brief illness.
 The deceased was born in Boscobel on October 3, 1865, the eldest son of the late Joseph Hackwell and the late Catherine Beers.
 Mr. Hackwell was a watchmaker and jeweller in Waterloo for 60 years, having retired from active business ten years ago.
 He leaves to mourn his passing his sisters, Mrs. Charles Ledoux, of Knowlton, Mrs. T. R. Nurse, of Knowlton, and Miss Gertrude Hackwell, of Boscobel; two brothers, Allan, of Boscobel, and John, of Glen Leslie, Alta.
 The funeral service was conducted by Rival Dean Harry Andrews, in St. Luke's Anglican Church at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, March 11. Mrs. J. W. Hackwell presided at the organ.
 The bearers were Messrs. Arnold Hackwell, Howard Hackwell, Spencer Matheson, Joseph Fortin, Percy Ledoux and Markland Ledoux.
 Interment took place in the family lot in Boscobel.
 Those from out of town who attended the funeral included Mrs. Charles Ledoux and Rev. and Mrs. T. R. Nurse, of Knowlton; Mrs. Leslie Hackwell and Mr. Garnet Hackwell, of Montpelier, Vt.; Mrs. George Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beers and Mr. Rothwell Beers, of Melbourne Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hackwell and Mr. Howard Hackwell, of Boscobel, and Rev. and Mrs. Cyril Brazill, of Toronto, Ont.

MR. JOHN GOUGH, OF BEDFORD.
 Bedford, March 26.—The death took place on Saturday afternoon, March 14, at Notre Dame du Rosaire Hospital, of Mr. John Gough, after a long illness, in his 61st year.
 Mr. Gough, who was born in Bedford, was the eldest son of Henry Gough and of his wife, Flora Vaughan, and was a lifelong resident of this town.
 For many years Mr. Gough was in the employ of the local plant of the Torrington Company, until ill health forced his retirement some five years ago, as the result of a heart condition.
 Mr. Gough had been a patient during the past weeks in hospital.
 A member of the United Church, the funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in that church, with the pastor, Rev. T. F. Duncan, officiating.
 The hymns sung were "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Peace, Perfect Peace," with the organist, Mrs. Alex MacArthur, presiding at the organ. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as a duet by Messrs. William and Alex MacArthur.
 The bearers were Messrs. Ross Crawford, Allan Palmer, John Cook, Alex Steel and Elliott Cockerline. Interment was in the family lot in the Union Cemetery.
 Many were present at the funeral service, who wished to pay a last mark of respect to a valued member of the community. The floral tributes were silent marks of honor to the departed.
 In addition to his wife, the former Mable Jones, of Pearceston, Mr. Gough is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Gough, of Bedford; several sisters-in-law, Mrs. Frank Gough, of Bedford, and Mrs. S. Veysay, of Stanbridge Station; one nephew, Mr. Morley Gough, of Montreal; a niece, Mrs. Morley Gough, and a grandniece, both of Montreal; Mrs. D. Ditcham, of Bedford, and Mrs. M. Falcon, also Mrs. W. Welch, of Farnham, are nieces.

MELBOURNE
 Mr. Jack Watson, of Montreal, spent the week-end with his aunts, Mrs. T. P. Ross and Miss E. Honey. Mrs. T. P. Ross and Miss E. Honey spent a day in Montreal.

Marjorie Smith Won The First Prize At Sutton H. & S. Assn. Speaking Contest

Sutton, March 26. — Sutton Home and School Association met in the High School, with a very good attendance of members and friends.

As both the president and secretary were absent because of illness, these offices were filled by the first vice-president, Lawrence Smith, and Mrs. Carl Bidwell respectively. Mr. Smith expressed regret that Mr. Phelps and Mrs. Ingalls were ill then asked all to stand and repeat the "Lord's Prayer."

The minutes were read and approved as was the correspondence. A nominating committee was then formed to bring in a new slate of officers for the annual meeting in May.

The treasurer, Mrs. Orton Baker, was called on for her report, which showed a very satisfactory balance. The banner roll was called.

The parent attendance banner went to Mrs. Gatenby's room. There being no further business this portion of the meeting was adjourned.

Miss Harper, the principal, was called upon to act as chairman for the public speaking contest. She explained that these were the finals in a competition for the Eastman Trophy and named the judges, who were as follows: Mr. Frank Sutcliffe "chairman," Miss Elizabeth Gatto and Dr. S. W. Boyd. The contestants and their topics were as follows: Grade VI, Anneliese Schilligales, "Your Health and How to Keep It," Roselynn Derby, "Friends in Far-away Lands"; Grade VII, Della Chamberlain, "How Cotton Becomes Cloth"; Vincent Royce, "The Purpose of Education"; There were no contestants from Grade VIII; Grade IX, Gail Lukassen, "Nurs-trick"; Ruth Flueller, "The Oldest Republic in the World".

The contest completed, the judges retired to form their decision. During their absence a singing-song was enjoyed. Upon their return, Mr. Sutcliffe praised the fine effort put forth by the pupils and expressed in the type of speeches they had prepared. He also praised the teachers, who had trained them. It had been very hard to come to a decision but the awards were finally made as follows: 1st, Marjorie Smith; 2nd, Perry Cohen; 3rd, Dawn McKell; 4th, Clifford McKell; 5th, Shirley Baker; Honorable mention, Gail Lukassen.

The winner will have her name and the year, engraved on the trophy. She also received a cash award, which she can spend as she wishes, or exchange it for a small replica of the original trophy. The other winners all received cash awards, also, they were presented by the Rev. Kenneth Keeffe.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge, during this time a contest was held, when the members were asked to guess the number of stitches, which went into the making of a beautiful "Fair Isle" beret, which had been donated by one of the members Mrs. Homer Rutter guessed the nearest number and received the beret as her prize.

The total proceeds for the evening including the collection and guessing contest amounted to over twelve dollars.

THE SENIOR W. A.

The Senior W. A., of Grace Anglican Church met last week in the home of Mrs. Arthur Miller, with the president, Mrs. O'Regan presiding.

A report was given on a recent work day held in the Legion Hall, when three quilts and two crib quilts were completed for the sale of clothing and supplies, which is to be packed at the next meeting, to be held in the Parish Hall on April 15. These goods are to be sent to Montreal, where they will be distributed to the Indian Mission Schools.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Miller served delicious refreshments.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seaman and family, of Montreal, spent last week-end in town with Mr. Seaman's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Seaman, his brother, Roy, and grandmother Mrs. E. Whitford.

Mrs. Whitford, one of Sutton's oldest citizens celebrated her 91st birthday on March 15, and the day was marked by a special birthday dinner in her honor.

Mrs. Whitford, who despite her years is still in good health was the recipient of many cards and messages of congratulation. Among them was a lovely potted plant from the ladies of the Baptist Church, of which she is a member.

Mrs. Seaman brought further pleasure to her mother, when she entertained the Mission Circle of the Baptist Church in her honor.

At this meeting the guest speaker was Miss Mildred Goulding, a missionary on furlough from Bolivia, who told of her work in that field, and showed native costumes and pictures of interest.

During her stay in Sutton, Miss Goulding was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gibson.

NAVIGABLE WATERS PROTECTION ACT
R.S.C. 1927, Chapter 140

Southern Canada Power Company, Limited, hereby gives notice that it has under Section 7 of the said Act deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, and in the office of the Registry District of the County of Compton, Quebec, descriptions of the sites and the plans of an overhead crossing of the 48 K.V. Transmission Line between Estis and the Magog-Waterloo Transmission Line proposed to be built over the Mississippi River in the Township of Compton, County of Compton, from a point on lot 28C, Range 1 to a point on the other side of the river on lot 28D, Range 1, both lots of the Cadastre of the said Township.

And take notice that after expiration of one month from date of first publication of this notice, Southern Canada Power Company, Limited, will, under Section 7 of the said Act, apply to the Minister of Public Works at his office in the City of Ottawa for the approval of said sites and plans.
Dated at Montreal, this 10th day of March, 1953.

beer and skittles

Life isn't all beer and skittles. Not any more. Hardly anyone plays skittles now, though quite a lot of people, we're glad to say, enjoy a friendly glass. Skittles is played with nine pins and a disk or sort of ball which is thrown at them. The ball should be flat; the beer should never be.

Nowadays, instead of skittles, bowling is the game, and more Canadians go bowling in their lunch hour and after work than play any other game. Statistics show that Canadians have changed the old saying another way, too. It's ale, rather than beer that most of them prefer.

Of course, there is some conversational confusion in the use of the terms, but in Quebec when most people ask for the pleasant brew they mean Molson's. And Molson's is an ale. Perhaps that's why, to make their purpose plain, you hear the order, "Make Mine Molson's". Waiters understand.

As a matter of fact, waiters are generally pretty understanding. They meet a lot of people; they know what their customers like. And in this province almost any waiter will tell you that he serves more Molson's than all other brands combined. We thought you'd like to know.

Waterloo Canvass For The Red Cross Is Encouraging

Waterloo, March 26—The campaign for the Canadian Red Cross Society in Waterloo is now under way, with the plant canvass having been completed.
Mr. Gene Sheppard, campaign chairman, announced that the results so far in have proven to be most encouraging.
The street canvass will be conducted from March 23 to 28 with Mrs. L. C. Godbout heading the group. Those working with Mrs. Godbout in this work are Mrs. O. T. Pickford, Mrs. Henri Gregoire, Mrs. Antonio Grandpre, Mrs. W. A. Parkes, Mrs. H. M. Paquette, Mrs. R. Millinchamp, Mrs. Armand Boulay, Mrs. C. Poirier, Miss Gagne and Miss Lucille Labelle.

It was announced that the mayors of the County of Shefford voted one hundred dollars to this campaign, as they have been doing for the past years.
It is expected that this year's campaign will be better than those of past years, as the demand is greater. The response is very encouraging.

SCOTSTOWN
Mrs. Perry Lemoine has undergone an appendectomy in the Sherbrooke Hospital.
Mrs. Gordon MacLeod has returned from the Hotel Dieu Hospital, in Sherbrooke, where she spent two days.
Mr. Malcolm MacLean, of Cookshire, was a guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. MacDonald.

PILES
When you've finished a bottle of Pylone, you'll see what we mean by real results that last. The new Pylone Treatment (a liquid taken by mouth) goes directly to the root of the trouble, removing the internal cause for inside the body. This modern method has proven itself in thousands of the most stubborn and long-standing cases, and was tested for years before being offered for sale. Pylone proves this with one bottle or it costs you nothing. Today, pile misery is unnecessary. Ask for Pylone, at all druggists.

Mrs. George Wells Elected President Of Belvidere W. I.

Mrs. George Wells was elected president of the Belvidere Branch, W.I., at the annual meeting held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Conley, High Street, Mrs. R. Wearne and Mrs. Lorne Eastman were joint hostesses for the occasion.

Mrs. S. R. Leslie, president, opened the meeting in the usual manner and 19 members answered the roll call by the payment of dues. Owing to illness, many members were prevented from being present.

The secretary's report revealed 11 meetings, including a lakeside picnic meeting, were held with an average attendance of 16; delegates attending the all county meetings and the annual convention at Macdonald College; three members attended the short course held in Lennoxville; members assisted at the school fair and luncheon held in September.

The financial report read by Mrs.

F. Paige, showed a balance of $212.83.

Overseas parcels were sent regularly and acknowledged and in this connection it was decided to discontinue the monthly parcel, due to the demise of Mrs. E. A. Corner, of England.

Donations voted to various endeavors comprised: Q.W.I. Service Fund; the branch's share to the county for the maintenance of an European child; the branch's share towards the bursary in favor of a student nurse, by the Sherbrooke County W.I.; donation to a fund for the replenishing of linens and other necessities for the Children's Ward at the Sherbrooke Hospital; donation to School Fair for prizes, seeds and for the luncheon.

It was reported the branch was represented at the annual meeting of the Orleans County Homemakers' Club, held at Newport, Vt.

Mrs. G. Montgomery, sunshine convener, reported that cards, flowers, plants and other gifts had been sent to members and friends who had been ill, and that bereaved families had been remembered. That shut-ins and friends of the branch received cards and baskets of cheer, at Christmas, and a subscription to the Sherbrooke Daily Record had been sent to an invalid.

Report was made that the speaker during the year, was Mr. Fred Vaudry, who gave a most interesting talk at the annual flower and vegetable contest held in September.

A report was made of activities sponsored for the raising of funds; rummage and food sales, card parties, articles made by members and sold at the W.I. Exhibition booth, the Christmas novelty tea, food sale and drawings.

The books edited by Mrs. G. Page and Miss E. Smith, were found correct.

A program for the current year was presented by Mrs. E. McGee. Miss E. Smith gave a detailed ac-

Quebec W. I.'s Discuss Rural School Subjects

What could be done to improve the curriculum now obtaining in rural high schools of Quebec? This is a question that has been causing much concern in the Quebec Women's Institutes, and a committee appointed for that purpose, has been making an exhaustive study of the problem for the past year. The committee was composed of Mrs. W. B. Holmes, Ayer's Cliff, chairman, and the provincial convener of education, formerly Mrs. Earl Gardiner, Dundee, now Miss Verna I. Hatch, Sherbrooke.

Their report, in the latest draft, was presented for approval at the last board meeting and received its final checking by the Q.W.I. executive at a meeting held last week. Copies will now be sent to the various bodies responsible for the curriculum in this province and to interested organizations.

Added science subjects, more attention given agricultural subjects, and greater emphasis on English grammar, were some of the recommendations made in this report, and although the facilities made available by composite high schools were acknowledged it was felt these transferred the interest of young people away from their own smaller communities, leading to a consequent lack of interest in farm life. Travelling teachers to serve several schools in a county were suggested as a possible solution, and at no greater cost.

count of the county meeting held in Lennoxville.

The report of the turkey contest, received from Quebec, showed satisfactory results and prizes were distributed to the winners as follows: first, Mrs. S. R. Leslie, second, Mrs. G. Page, third, Mrs. C. Leslie, and fourth, Mrs. M. Pitman.

Correspondence included letters received from Miss Verna Hatch, Mrs. H. G. Taylor and thank-you notes.

The president, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. E. McGee, ways and means convener, and Mrs. G. Montgomery, sunshine convener, with gifts, in appreciation of their work during the past year.

Mrs. Montgomery then presented the retiring president, Mrs. S. R. Leslie, with a cake plate, and the latter thanked the members for the beautiful gift, and for their co-operation and assistance during her term of office.

Miss Hatch acted as chairman for the election of officers and conveners, when the slate, presented by Mrs. W. Burton, read as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. S. R. Leslie; president, Mrs. George Wells; first vice-president, Mrs. Lorne Eastman; second vice-president, Mrs. Earl Wells; secretary, Mrs. M. Pitman; treasurer, Mrs. F. Paige.

Conveners elected, were: Mrs. J. C. Mead, agriculture; Mrs. G. Page, home economics; Mrs. H. Daigle, education; Mrs. M. Pitman, publicity; Mrs. W. Ellis, citizenship; Mrs. S. R. Leslie, child welfare and health; Mrs. W. Burton, sunshine; ways and means, Mrs. E. McGee.

Mrs. George Wells, new president, assumed the chair and thanked Miss Hatch for presiding at the election.

New business opened with the appointment of Mrs. G. Montgomery and Mrs. Alex Macdonald as delegates to the Provincial convention to be held at Macdonald College, in June. The members chosen to attend the short course at the end of May, are Mrs. J. C. Mead and Mrs. Francis Paige.

The following donation, were voted: $25 to the Q.W.I. Service Fund and $10 towards new tools, to be sent through C.A.R.E., to an European country. Members were reminded of the continuous need by the Cancer Society, of old linen or cotton, for dressings.

Mrs. W. Burton, new sunshine convener, was asked to send flowers to two ill members.

Mrs. G. Page, of a piece of quilt top and material for back, was gratefully received.

It's the NEW INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE... and, believe me, it's wonderful. First of all, it's 100% REAL COFFEE. You see, it's made by a new "Natural Flavour" process that keeps the flavour and aroma—yes, the very colour and texture of freshly ground coffee. And New Instant Chase & Sanborn is so convenient. It dissolves in a jiffy in hot or cold water... you'll hardly believe your eyes! M-mmm! Once you've tasted it, you'll make it your every-meal, every-morning coffee. Incidentally, it's wonderfully economical. Saves me up to 40¢ a pound compared with regular coffee!

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, March 26th — What a handsome couple you'll make in the Easter Parade this year! You in your gay spring bonnet and bubbly in a B.V.D. NYLON TRICOT SHIRT. Yes, B.V.D. Nylon Shirts always look neat and trim. Made of comfortable, good-looking nylon tricot—with fused nylon collars and cuffs that never wilt—B.V.D. Nylon Shirts stay handsome without ironing. Laundering's no problem at all—just a quick rinse—the shirt in laundry bills alone. Take my tip—get your husband a handsome, long-wearing B.V.D. Nylon Tricot Shirt for Easter ($12.95 in blue, tan, grey or white).

I've Often Wondered What Happened to that excellent poster—"Out of the Blue Comes the Whitest Wash". It may be out of use, but its message is still good. Yes, it's a simple matter to get sparkling white sheets, towels, pillowcases and table linens when you use Blue. When you're rinsing your wash to get the clothes clean, simply put a dash of Blue in the water—to get them really white. Blue is kind to your finest fabrics—you're not taking chances when you use it to get your washings snowy white. And the cost? ... A few pennies a month, that's all. Yes, for the whitest wash, use KEEN'S BLUE.

The Young Man in the high chair loves hot "Cream of Wheat" for breakfast. Specially when it's topped with tender, meaty raisins, making a jolly raisin-face. Delicious! And hot CREAM OF WHEAT is so good for baby and the whole family. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. So give them all — toddlers and grownups — a quick start for the day. Treat them to hot "Cream of Wheat"! Be sure to ask for the package with the familiar trademark "Cream of Wheat" and the smiling chef—both trademarks of Cream of Wheat (Canada) Ltd. and Reg. Canadian and U.S. Pat. Off.

I'm Ready And Eager To Leave winter behind... and that includes heavy winter clothes. Don't you feel the same way? I'll wager you're busy right now, remodeling and making lovely, light-as-air dresses for spring and summer wear. So here's a tip—be sure to use LIGHTNING FASTENERS. They give the professional "finishing touch" to all the clothes you make. They fit so neatly, smoothly into dress seams. And you'll find just the size, length and colour of Lightning Fastener you want for every fashion-wise costume you make. Style No. 702 is just right for dresses and lightweight skirts. And remember, every Lightning you buy has Lightning's exclusive automatic lock. It never slips down.

It's A Pleasure! Dishes done, wink-quick, with those new detergents... and hands soft, too, if you use JERGENS LOTION. It smooths and soothes hands roughened and dried by these new soaps. Because it's liquid, it quickly penetrates to supply the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. Keep a bottle of Jergens Lotion handy in both kitchen and bathroom. Make a hand-care habit of it—to keep your hands always soft, smooth and lovely, with that cared-for look that only Jergens can give them. Remember Jergens Lotion because you care for your hands. It's not expensive—just 15¢, 37¢, 65¢ and $1.15.

I Could Hardly Believe My Ears when I first heard about FRENCH'S INSTANT POTATO... but it's true—it takes just one minute to prepare creamy-smooth, delicious mashed potatoes with French's Instant Potato. There's no washing—no peeling—no cooking—no mashing. All you do is follow the directions on the package. Every package contains ten servings—the last as sweet and fresh-tasting as the first. And so economical—there's no waste when you measure out the servings according to directions. You'll really have to try this "miracle" food for yourself. Ask your grocer for French's Instant Potato next time you're shopping.

Did You Know that you can buy bathroom tissue in dainty pastel tints to harmonize with the color scheme of your bathroom? Where I buy it, I'm told that many women buy NANCY tissue the first time because they like the idea of a colored tissue... but what brings them back time after time is Nancy quality. Though quite modestly priced it really is a debut tissue. The label tells you that it is made from the same fine quality tissue as Face-Elle and I can believe that, because Nancy is far softer than any ordinary tissue. It is a 3-ply tissue well-perforated for tearing easily with no straggly ends. A good many drug and some grocery stores carry Nancy, but if you have difficulty getting it in your neighborhood, just write me for where-to-buy information. Magog Aces Hosts To Victoriaville Tonight At 9.00

Cliff Goupille's Squad Out To Make Amends Against Highly-Favored Tigers In Third Tilt Of E. T. Finals

Cliff Goupille and his Magog Aces will be hosts to the fast-stepping Tigers of Victoriaville in the third game of the four-out-of-seven series for the Eastern Intermediate "A" Hockey League championship.

Tonight's encounter, which will be played at the Arena, will see the Aces trying to chalk up their first victory in the current series. The Tigers will be out to maintain their present playoff record intact by taking the Magog crew and post their seventh consecutive victory since the playdowns opened.

In the semi-finals the Tigers coasted through with four straight over the Maroons of Waterloo while the Aces ran into a little trouble with the Pirates of Drummondville. The Goupille squad finally won the series 4-2.

In the initial game of the series, played here Sunday evening, the Aces put on a grand show and forced the game into overtime before dropping the high-scoring verdict to the Tiger 8-6. The game was a hard fought affair and both teams played all out for the full distance and the action kept the fans on edge for the duration.

In the second game, played Tuesday in Victoriaville, the Aces failed to keep pace with the Tigers in their own backyard and the Vigneau team rallied in the third period with a top drive to knock

St. Joseph Rallies To Nip Ste. Therese

St. Therese, Que. — (CP) — Five third-period goals coming within eight minutes, gave St. Joseph d'Alma a 7-6 decision over Ste. Therese Wednesday night and a one-game lead in a best-of-seven series for the Provincial Senior hockey title.

St. Therese led 3-1 at the end of the first period and increased their lead to 6-2 at the end of the second. That set the stage for five unanswered markers by St. Joseph d'Alma in the finale.

Gagnon paced the winners with two goals, the others coming from Tamminen, Pronovost, Goudreau, Lamirande and Tremblay. Marshall scored three times for the losers with Leger, Richard and Deslongchamps getting the others. The second game will be played here Thursday night.

Annual Ladies Darts Tournery Opens Friday

The second annual ladies' darts tournament, organized by the Aldershot Chapter of the I.O.D.E., will be held Friday night at Hillcrest Lodge.

A large number of entries have been received for this tournament in which the major prize is the Jean Paul Nadeau Trophy, won last year by Mrs. Violet Belanger, of Sherbrooke.

Many other attractive prizes, donated by local and district merchants, are being offered at this year's competition.

The tournament is a singles event and is played on an elimination basis. The first matches are scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Royals Wallop Aces 8-3 To Even Best-Of-Nine Series At Two Each; Glen Harmon Tallies Two For Winners

Quebec — (CP) — Montreal Royals went on a scoring spree Wednesday night, walloping Quebec Aces 8-3 to tie their best-of-nine Quebec Senior Hockey League semi-finals at two games apiece.

Veteran defenceman Glen Harmon led the winners in the wide open contest before a crowd of 13,000 fans with a pair of tallies. Singletons went to Roger Leger, Lulu Denis, Gary Edmundson, Les Douglas, Bobby Frampton and Jimmy Moore.

Big Jean Beliveau scored two for the Aces and Danny Nixon got the other.

Six penalties including two majors were handed out by referee Ken Mullins, three to each team. Royals jumped into a 2-0 lead in the first period when Denis scored on a wide angle shot early and Harmon netted a screened shot during a power play while Aces were shorthanded.

In the second period, Royals pumped three more goals past goalie Jack Gelineau before Quebec came back with a marker. Leger grabbed a loose puck in the Quebec zone and blasted it through defenceman Butch Houle's legs in to the bottom corner. Gelineau didn't have a chance.

Douglas snapped in a rebound on Bobby Frampton's shot from 25 feet out. Beliveau then came back for Quebec, when he snared a rebound off the back boards from Ed Harrison's long shot, and slipped the puck behind Jean-Paul Renaud. Later in the period, Edmundson tipped in Leger's pass from 20 feet dead in front of Gelineau.

Royals continued to outclass Aces in the third period as goalie Renaud turned in several sparkling saves to retain his team's wide lead.

Frampton scored on a breakaway early in the last period. Harmon then came through with his second goal, a solo effort in which he trapped a loose puck in the centre zone, got by the Quebec defence and shot the puck into the outside corner.

While Royals were shorthanded, about half way in the period, Quebec scored twice, Beliveau getting his second goal on a backhand shot from a scramble and Nixon slapping in Gary Stewart's rebound.

Moore ended the scoring late in the game on a passing play with Eddy Litzemberger and Gerry Desaulniers, easily the best line for Montreal throughout the game.

Montreal West Meets S.H.S. Here Saturday

Montreal West High School pays a visit to Sherbrooke Saturday for an exhibition basketball game against the local High School seniors.

The game in the Sherbrooke High School gymnasium will begin at 2:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon.

Sports Roundup

Phoenix, Ariz. — (AP) — "If the army had let me have Willie Mays back," said manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants, "I would have been ready right now to tell you we would win the pennant. I would have been willing to put it down on paper. Now I just don't know."

The game's loudest manager was trying, as best he could, to explain the problems he now faces in putting together a line-up which will stand the best chance of overhauling Brooklyn in the coming National League race. He puts his cards on the table.

"With Willie in centrefield we would have been all set," he said. "Bob Thomson likes to play third base better than centre, and he hits better when he's there. I'm still going to try to keep him there and play Henry Thompson in centre. I might have to change later, but that's the way I intend to go right now."

It was suggested to Leo that his pitchers preferred to have the best flycatcher available out there in the open spaces.

"Nuts to that," he said. "Pitchers are also like to have a good man at third, a tall, rangy fellow like Bobby who can knock down those drives and field those bunts. I want myself a tight infield, even if it means I'll have two comparatively-weak outfield spots, with Henry in centre and Don Mueller in right."

"I've just got to wait and see. If Davey Williams' back comes around it might be—might be, I say—that I'll play him at second. Al Dark at short and my rookie, Daryl Spencer at third. That's my lineup today, but you'll notice that Hank Thompson still is playing centre."

A few moments later this no longer was the Giants' line-up. Ferris Fain, the Chicago White Sox new first-baseman, threw a jolting block into Williams to break up potential double-play at second and hurt the little guy's back all over again. He was replaced by Ronnie Sanford, and the next time Fain came to bat he nearly had his head taken off by one of pitcher Dave Koslo's fast balls. Anyhow, to continue with Durocher's troubles:

"The only thing I know for sure right now is that my pitchers are showing great form and that I'm going to have the deepest staff I've ever had with the Giants. I'm sure now that Sal Maglie has come all the way back. The Barber looks wonderful. I've still got my fingers crossed about Larry Jansen. He looked loose and sharp the last time he worked and told me his back felt fine, but I've got my fingers crossed, anyway."

After the transfer, the Pirates took over the Braves' schedule and Milwaukee will play the schedule originally assigned to Pittsburgh. As a consequence, the tickets the Pirates had on hand were worthless. And it cost $12,000 to print them.

Pirate officials took 750,000 tickets out into left field and burned them.

Cleveland, O. — (AP) — George Araujo kept himself in line for a promised lightweight title shot by winning a unanimous 10-round decision over outclassed and bleeding Teddy Davis in a nationally televised bout Wednesday night.

Araujo, a methodical worker with a pair of lightning hands, weighed 133½ to 133 for the Hartford, Conn., battler.

Cleveland—George Araujo, 133, Providence, R.I., outpointed Teddy (Red Top) Davis, 133, Hartford, Conn., 10.

Frank Byrne Withdraws From QAHA And Mr. Dudley Grants Permission For Citadels To Enter Playdowns

Montreal — (CP) — President Martin Conway of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association said today he had not received any notification of "withdrawal" from the Association by Quebec Citadels.

Conway said in the event of an official withdrawal, all Citadel players become suspended by the QAHA.

"They can't come back next year if they and their club are suspended," said Conway. "This situation could also affect any individual commitments Citadel players may have made for next year."

Conway also said Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League have made application for a junior franchise in Quebec and it will be considered later.

At the same time, Conway said he was at a loss to understand how the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association could recognize the right of Citadels to withdraw when it refused to consider the same right for the Quebec Senior League.

Conway's comment followed an announcement to The Canadian Press by Frank Byrne, owner of Citadels of the Junior Amateur Hockey Association, that he had withdrawn his team and had requested permission of the QAHA to compete in the Memorial Cup playdowns.

This was followed by an announcement in Midland, Ont., by George Dudley, QAHA secretary-manager, that Citadels had been reinstated and are eligible for Memorial Cup competition.

The QAHA was suspended Feb. 28 by the CAHA following a dispute over the playing status of Ron Attwell of Montreal Canadiens junior.

Conway said he had received official notice from Dudley of the suspension of all leagues and teams within the QAHA. The notice said the suspension included the QAHA declaring the league had "attempted to withdraw" but this action was not recognized by the CAHA.

"There doesn't seem to be consistency there," said Conway. "The CAHA doesn't recognize the right of one organization of the QAHA to resign or withdraw but accords the right to another."

Transfer Costs Pirates $12,000

Pittsburgh. — (AP) — The transfer of Boston Braves franchise to Milwaukee resulted in a $12,000 bounty at Forbes Field Wednesday.

After the transfer, the Pirates took over the Braves' schedule and Milwaukee will play the schedule originally assigned to Pittsburgh.

As a consequence, the tickets the Pirates had on hand were worthless. And it cost $12,000 to print them.

Pirate officials took 750,000 tickets out into left field and burned them.

SHERBROOKE INDIANS Training Notes

Pinky May is showing more than a little concern about what he's going to use for outfielders.

His concern isn't unusual in Indianville. There are seven farm club managers here and each is wondering what he is going to use to patrol the outer reaches of the ball park this summer.

There are only 24 outfielders listed on the huge camp roster at the Indianville. Of course, the situation will brighten when the parent Cleveland club makes its cuts from a huge Tucson squad heavy with outfield talent.

But 24 outfielders only adds up to three more than enough to permit the minimum allowed to the side if you divide the number of clubs needing outfielders. Sherbrooke right now has only three outfielders listed as assigned to it.

They are Glenn Phillips, 19-year-old 6 foot, 185 pounder who was signed to his first contract this year; Joseph Simons, 19 and six foot tall and weighing 170, who started slowly at Bakerfield, Calif., last year and hit only 190 in 43 games, and still another 19-year-old, Frank Tanana up from Green Bay, Wis., where he hit .298 in 65 games.

Tanana is the brightest of the young outfield prospects, in the estimation of May and he's basing his opinion on what he's heard about Tanana. Tanana has performed so capably that he is currently playing with the class A "Reading" lineup and seldom gets looked over by the Hoosier who'll manager the Sherbrooke club this year.

Tanana is certain to play class C ball and may go higher so the outfield situation doesn't improve at this point. It gets worse.

"I'd sure like to have Tanana," says Pinky, "but unfortunately so would some of the managers of higher classification clubs. It could be that he is just ahead of the rest of the boys. They may start getting him out with ease but he seems a mortal cinch to go far in baseball eventually."

The strapping Detroit boy batted in 57 runs in those 65 games with Green Bay. Seven homers helped. Pinky has assurance from the farm system head, Mike McNally, that he'll have more than adequate outfielding in his first year at the Sherbrooke helm. McNally is a good man to have on your side.

Bruins' Coach Lynn Patrick Thinks His Club Will Give Wings Plenty To Worry About Despite Drubbing

Detroit. — (CP) — Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings meet again Thursday night in their Stanley Cup semi-final series and if the Bruins expect to get anywhere they'll have to beat one of the toughest little goaltenders in hockey.

Terry Sawchuk, keeper of the nets, scored his fifth straight playoff shutout Tuesday night when the Detroiters blanked the Bruins 7-0. In this string, Sawchuk has held off the opposition for 301 minutes and 53 seconds. Because of Sawchuk's terrific goaltending—he won the Vezina Trophy last week for the second straight year—and because of the Wings' high-powered attack, hockey followers are picking Detroit to win the best-of-seven series in four straight.

But Lynn Patrick, coach of the Bruins, doesn't think the Wings will sweep his club.

"We started out like this last year," he pointed out. "And look what happened."

In last year's opening round against Montreal, the Bruins were drubbed in the first two games, 5-1 and 4-0, but bounced back to take the next three games.

Montreal won out, four games to three, but not before the Bruins gave the Canadiens some anxious moments.

Even Patrick admits the Wings are a more powerful club than the Canadiens. He knows the Detroiters have the most potent attack in the game.

The two clubs have played 15 games this season, counting that first playoff game Tuesday. The best Boston had been able to do is two victories and two ties. The Wings won the other 11 games, piling up a fantastic 69-19 advantage in goals.

Halifax Dumps Sydney 5-3 To Cop Best-Of-Nine And Move Into Finals

New Glasgow. — (CP) — Halifax Atlantians moved into the finals of the Maritime Major Hockey League Wednesday, downing Sydney Millionaires 5-3 to take the best-of-nine semi-final round in six games.

The Millionaires, most feared team in Maritime hockey until they quit the Cape Breton league for Major competition two years ago, kept up with the Atlantians until late in the third period when Halifax scored the winning markers.

Carroll Bloom fired the tie-breaking goal at the 13:06 mark and big Hughie Campbell shot one into a vacant Sydney net in the dying seconds to clinch it.

It was Campbell's second goal of the night. Billy Watson also shot a brace for the winners and in addition had two assists. Eddie Marineau counted two for Sydney, including the first goal of the night, and tubby Ronnie Rowe got the other. Fred Hildebrand collected two Sydney assists.

Bill Tobin And His Hawks Not Discouraged; "We Got The Breaks," Says Coach Irvin; Meet Tonight

Montreal—(C)—Chicago Black Hawks, who came out on the short end of their opening game of the Stanley Cup semi-finals, worked out Wednesday while the victorious Montreal Canadiens took a rest.

There was an unusual between-games quiet along the hockey front in this best-of-seven series. Nobody professed to be either worried or elated about anything.

General Manager Bill Tobin of the Hawks proclaimed "We are not discouraged and won't be even if we lose the second game here before the series moves to Chicago." He figured the series will go seven games.

Coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens, finding nothing in particular to fret over in his team's 3-1 win

SCORES 300 GOALS—George (Sonny) Azar, 33, has reached the small, select group of players who have scored 300 goals in professional hockey. The centre for Calgary Stampede of the Western Hockey League broke into the money ranks in 1939 and has played all his hockey in minor leagues. He won the scoring championship in the Coast Hockey League last season and the 1947-48 title while with Houston of the old United States League. Maurice Richard of the National Hockey League and Winky Johnston of the Tacoma Rockets of the WHL are the others in the 300-goal circle among still active players.

Tuesday night, was even in something of a magnanimous mood.

"We got the breaks last night," said Irvin. "They might go the other way tomorrow night."

Coach Sid Abel put his Hawks through only a light skating drill at St. Jerome, near the Hawks' hideaway hotel in the Laurentian Mountains.

Tobin wasn't squawking but was still a bit concerned over the third goal scored by the Canadiens Tuesday night. It was the insurance goal by Paul Meger and the Hawks claimed the puck didn't enter the net.

"I don't want to say the goal judge was wrong," said Tobin, "but people in that end of the rink say the puck wasn't in. Pictures bear that out. If the goal hadn't counted we would have been behind one goal and Abel could have pulled Rollins out in the last minute and used another forward."

Tobin said the Canadiens "played well enough, while our boys didn't skate as well as they have been."

Glace Bay Ekes Out 4-3 Overtime Decision Over Charlottetown After 100 Minutes Of Hockey To Tie Series

Glace Bay, N.S.—(C)—Glace Bay Miners edged Charlottetown Islanders 4-3 after 100 minutes of hockey here Wednesday to square their best-of-five Maritime Major Hockey League semi-finals at 3-3.

It was the second straight time the team have battled deep into overtime to decide a winner. The Islanders scored in the sudden death second overtime Monday in Charlottetown to go ahead in the playoffs.

Seventh game will be in Charlottetown Friday.

The Miners, playing without Eddie Joss and Gordie Miller, had to fight all the way. Down 3-1 early in the third period they came back with two goals before the 11-minute mark to tie it up.

The score remained deadlocked through the rest of regulation time, a 10-minute overtime, and a 20-minute sudden death overtime period. At the 8:55 mark of the third overtime playing coach Hub Macey abruptly ended matters with a goal assisted by John Raynak.

The game was more than 27 minutes old when Bob Cooper gave Glace Bay a 1-0 lead on a play with Ken Watson and Bill McCracken. Charlottetown then struck for three straight goals, two in the second and one in the third.

Erwin Grosse, whose presence in the Island lineup Glace Bay has protested, evened the score assisted by Ronnie Hurst and Hub Beaudry. Lyle Wiseman scored on a solo effort to put the Island ahead, and Buck Whitlock widened the margin when he scored from Steve Brklacich and Walt Pawlshym.

Ken Watson fed McCracken for the Miners' second tally and Pop Backer evened it up on a play with Bob Verrier and Neil Amadio.

Canadians Only Ones Capable Of Defeating Russian Hockey Team, Says Norway's Ace Goalie, Per Dahl

Oslo.—(CP)—Some fans and sports writers here think the Russians may be the best hockey players in the world. The Canadians, they said, run a good second.

The question of whether the Russians are better players than Canadians is being strongly debated here since a Russian all-star team twice trounced Norway's national team, 10-2 and 8-0.

Previously, the Russians defeated Norway 7-0 and 5-1 in Moscow earlier this month.

The sports writers agree the Russians are playing a game totally different from most West European and American-Canadian teams.

They are technically skilled players but don't go much for body blocking. Their passes are always accurate.

Ice hockey has been played in Russia for only six years. The Russians stuck close to the rules.

While the general practice in Western countries is to rely on physical strength as well as technical skill, the Russians don't go in much for the rougher tactics.

Compared to the United States team which finished second to Canada in last year's Olympic tournament, the Reds look like a Sunday school team practising on the ice.

As to their chances of beating the Canadians in a world championship match, opinions here differ.

Some writers feel the rougher Canadians would break up the Russians' game and crush them by

"Steel For Canadians" Was Subject Of Richmond-Melbourne B. Of T. Meet

Richmond, March 26.—The Richmond and Melbourne Board of Trade held their March meeting at the Brunswick Hotel. B. W. Armatage presided and E. A. Evans, sales representative for the Steel Company of Canada, was the guest speaker. His subject was "Steel for Canadians" and his talk was supplemented by a most interesting film on the steel industry. In the question period that followed he answered all sorts of questions on the modern steel manufacture from the time the mineral is extracted until useful articles are completed.

At the business meeting the chairmen of the various committees gave their monthly reports. C. W. Armstrong, reporting for the industrial committee, stated that inquiries were being received from executives of manufacturing firms about the building that is available for occupancy by some new industry.

Mr. Armstrong was chosen to represent the Richmond and Melbourne Board of Trade at a meeting of Industrial Commissioners to be held at Monte Bello, on May 26th and 27th.

It was reported that the B.T. Foundry will open its Richmond plant on March 28th.

Jean Paul Brouillette reported that the Merchants' Association will hold a meeting shortly to discuss a most important subject.

Plans were announced to hold a "Farmers' Night" at the April meeting. A special speaker on some subject related to Agriculture will be secured and each member of the Board of Trade is requested to bring a farmer friend for a guest of honour. The Board of Trade expressed the hope that every family in the rural district would have at least one representative at the April meeting. Everyone will be welcome.

Miss Todd Made Life Member Of Compton W. A.

Compton, March 26.—A business meeting of the Compton-Moe's River W.A. of the United Church was held at the Todd home on March 19th.

The members were pleased to have Dr. and Mrs. Perry, of Coaticook, and Mrs. H. H. Allison, of Draper's Corner, present. After the meeting, Dr. Perry, on behalf of the W.A., in a very pleasing and impressive manner, presented Miss Addie E. Todd with a well deserved certificate of life membership in the Women's Association of the United Church of Canada and a pin bearing crest of the United Church, after which the president, Mrs. John Austin, pinned the emblem on Miss Todd's dress.

Miss Todd was very much surprised but deeply grateful for the honor bestowed on her and thanked the members for their kindness. Tea was served following the presentation.

KING'S HALL GIRLS' ENTERTAINED

The ladies of the St. James Guild held a St. Patrick tea in the Guild room for King's Hall girls on Saturday afternoon, March 21.

The room was decorated in green in honor of St. Patrick and each table covered with a white and green tablecloth.

Tea was served to sixty of the girls and they returned to school after thanking the ladies. The proceeds were very satisfactory.
