COMMONS AND LEGISLATURE OPEN THURSDAY Carol's Escapade Causes Disturbance In Balkans

Keen Interest As Members Reach Ottawa

Speculation Regarding Session Which Opens on Thursday—Western Member Looks for Election Soon—Situation as Discussed at Capital—What Will Speech from the Throne Contain?—Hon. R. Lemieux Will Again Be Speaker—Some Criticism.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, January 4.—The new Parliament will see nearly as many new faces as old ones. When the members file into their seats on Thursday afternoon, about one hundred and ten of them will have taken the oath of Parliament for the first time. Eight or ten will be returning to Parliament after years of absence. Of those who sat in the last Parliament, which had two hundred and thirty-five members, about one hundred and twenty-five were again returned in the October elections. The House will see again some interesting and familiar figures, Hon. Robert Rogers, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Sir George Perley, Henri Bourassa, Hon. J. W. Edwards, Dr. J. L. Chabot, of Ottawa; Peter McGibbon, Muskoka, and De Witt Foster, of Hants-Kings (N.S.). Most of them were members of the war time Parliament.

The members are beginning to arrive and gossip begins to hum about the capital. Most of it is sheer speculation, the line up in the House being indecisive. "Anything may happen" seems to be the general comment. Cabinet meets this afternoon in full council. Caucuses by the political parties will no doubt take place within a few days, as soon as a majority of the members are on hand. Sessional programmes are being discussed but little has been decided. Watchful waiting is the policy of all three parties at present.

CALGARY, January 4.—R. B. Bennett, M.P. for West Calgary, speaking to his followers who overflowed the Conservative committee rooms on Saturday evening, predicted that a rural credits bill would be promised in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the Federal Parliament. Mr. Bennett intimated his personal objection to the re-election of Rudolph Lemieux as Speaker of the House of Commons, admitting at the same time that there was none better qualified to fill the position, but basing his objection on the contention that his re-election was contrary to precedent.

The speaker expressed confidence that a general election could not be long delayed, giving among other reports a rumor he said he had heard in England that Mr. King would insist "on having a representation of the Massey-Harris Company and Herbert Marler in the cabinet" and the opening of seats for the cabinet ministers would make possible a Conservative victory.

A WESTERN STATEMENT

(Associated Press Despatch)

CALGARY, ALTA., January 4.—The Alberta carried the following in its news columns today:

A movement is under way among the radical element of the United Farmers of Alberta providing for a new form of redistribution of the province, according to economic groups. The plan provides for leaving the cities as they are except that the rural sections of city ridings be eliminated. Another proposed change under the plan would be to take the towns out of the rural ridings and mobilize them into one, two or more constituencies. A third change would be to apply the same principle to the villages in the province.

"This scheme, it is claimed by its opponents, would make the defeat of the provincial government practically impossible. There was a big shrinkage on the U.F.A. vote in the second federal elections but the vote shows, that except in the north, the rural ridings without the urban vote would invariably return farmer members. This plan has had the sanction of a number of U.F.O. locals.

AN INTERESTING AND EXCITING SESSION OF PARLIAMENT IS ANTICIPATED

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—With Senators and members of Parliament arriving in the Capital from all parts of the Dominion, interest is becoming keener over the opening of Parliament on Thursday, January 7th. At no time has there been such a demand for tickets to the galleries for a session of Parliament and Colonel W. H. Bowie, Sergeant-at-Arms, has been compelled to refuse many applicants.

When the curtain rings up on the proceedings in the House of Commons on Thursday it will mark the commencement of a session which no matter from what angle it may be viewed, will be interesting and exciting. The members will, on Thursday, repair to the Senate, where they will be told by the Deputy Governor-General, Chief Justice F. A. Anglin, to return to the House of Commons and elect a Speaker. It is taken as almost certain here that the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, will again be elected to that office. Having elected the Speaker, the Commons will adjourn until Friday at three o'clock when the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod of the Senate, will give three historic raps on the Commons door and make his three famous bows to the Speaker of the House of Commons, and inform the House of Commons that the members of that body are desired by His Excellency the Governor-General to attend in the Senate chamber, where the Speech from the Throne will be read by His Excellency.

On their return to the House of Commons from the Senate, a motion to adjourn until Monday will be made by the acting leader of the Government in the House of Commons, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, and it is almost certain at the moment that no opposition will be offered to it. On the following Monday, January 11th, the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne will be made. (Continued on page 8.)

GREECE HAS AMBITIONS

LONDON, Jan. 4.—A despatch to the Daily Express from Athens quotes Premier Pangalos as saying during his speech at the dinner: "Our fleet in a few months will be mistress of the eastern Mediterranean, and our army one of the strongest in the Balkans."

EUROPE STILL IS RAVAGED BY THE FLOODS

Thousands of Lives Lost by Unprecedented Conditions—Central Europe Principal Sufferer.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Jan. 4.—Europe continues to be ravaged in a growing degree from floods, which are complicated by gales. Central Europe remains the principal sufferer.

The number of dead in Transylvania is now stated to exceed one thousand, and this may prove to be an understatement, since communications are defective and the full extent of the disaster will not be known for some time.

The flood waters of the Theiss River, near the famous Tokaj vineyard region in Eastern Hungary, has caused immense losses.

BRITISH SHIP BURNED AND ABANDONED

(Associated Press Despatch)

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 4.—British bark "Maid of England" has been burned at sea and abandoned, said a radio message relayed last night by the coast guard cutter Yamacraw from the German motorship Rio Bravo. The German ship reported she had rescued the bark's crew of nine men and would land them at Havana.

The message gave no details of the burning, saying merely that the "Maid of England" burned in latitude 28.50 north and longitude 61.55 west, a position several hundred miles southeast of Bermuda. She was last reported at Turks Island December 16 to load for Baltimore.

WOMEN WILL HAVE EDIFICE AT CAPITAL

Plan for Structure at Ottawa to Represent All Women's Organizations.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—Women's organizations of Canada are to have a building of their own use—irrespective of creed or other differences, if present plans materialize. The building, situated near the downtown section of the city, is expected to cost between $270,000 and $300,000 and will harmonize with the parliament buildings, Dominion archives and other government buildings.

The cost of the new structure is to be raised by subscription throughout the country. Building operations, providing $100,000 is raised by next spring, will commence early in the summer.

According to present plans, the building will have an auditorium to seat, with its gallery, about one thousand people. This room, it is stated, will hold almost any number of women who may gather at the capital, and yet will not be so large that artificial voice carriers will be necessary.

In addition to the auditorium, a banquet room, library, archives for the women of Canada, a museum and offices are provided for. The building will be three stories in height.

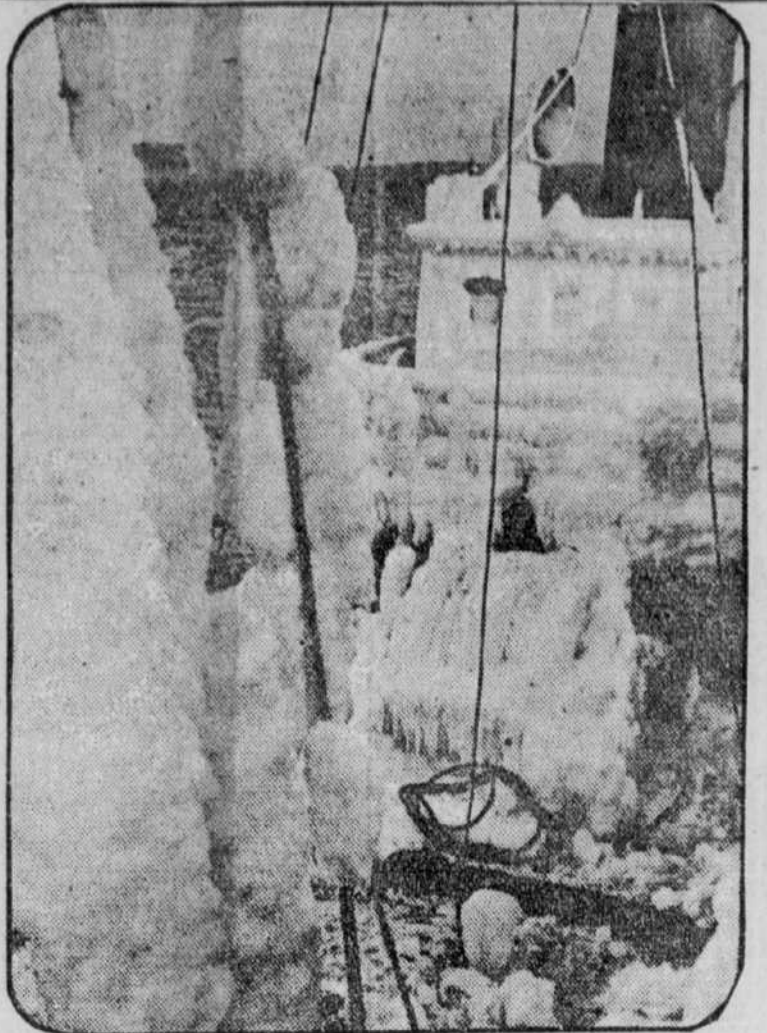

Nepean sandstone will be the chief material of the exterior, with sandstone trimming, while the sloping roof is to be surfaced with copper.

Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, has approved the design for the proposed building.

Carol Of Rumania In Milan

Three Points of Mystery Cleared Up—In Meantime, Interest in Lovorn Prince Grows—Unrest in Balkans—Sympathy in Rumania Divided.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Jan. 4.—At least three points in the mystery surrounding Crown Prince Carol of Rumania and his relinquishment of his right to ascend the throne, have been cleared up. Carol is in Milan. Also there is Mme. Lupesco, the blue eyed red haired daughter of a Jewish merchant of Jassy, Rumania, with whom Carol is on friendly terms. Xyzis Lambrino, former morganatic wife of the Prince, has remarried.

Carol, last night at the hotel where he is staying in Milan, gave a dinner to his entourage and Madame Lupesco, who reports say, by her charm and calm dignity provoked comment when she was seen in the public room of the hotel. Carol also was a guest. At her place at the table was a huge bouquet of white flowers of the same kind that she threw into his automobile, inclosing a love note which brought them together in the bonds of friendship.

Prior to the sensational announcement of abdication reports from Milan assert, Carol and Mme. Lupesco daily were seen motoring together but when the storm broke these pleasure rides ceased. Carol remained in seclusion, but Mme. Lupesco occasionally makes her appearance in the foyer and other public parts of the hotel.

To a number of written questions sent in by the correspondent of the Daily Express, Carol replied, also in writing, that he had determined not to make any statement with regard to his renunciation. With some asperity, he declared that the details of his doings printed in the newspapers were fundamentally wrong and that they constituted a famous propaganda against himself and his family. Carol is said to have been informed that his father, King Ferdinand, announced to a crown council that he had given up his rights to the throne.

Bucharest advices say that both the King and Queen and the cabinet are reassuring the people that the abdication of Carol does not indicate a dynastic or political conflict, but that the people are somewhat anxious to know the reason for the King pleading so urgently with the Crown Council to accept the withdrawal of Carol.

While there is much sympathy on the part of the Rumanians with King Ferdinand and Queen Marie in their present trouble, there also is a certain amount being given the romantic Lovorn prince, who is popular with the people over whom (Continued on Page 5.)

GETTING READY FOR OPENING OF LEGISLATURE

Cabinet Meetings at Quebec Prepare Way for Opening on Thursday Next.

(Associated Press Despatch)

QUEBEC, Jan. 4.—Meetings of the Cabinet have been called for Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Premier Taschereau stated last evening, to make the final arrangements for the opening of the session, which will take place at three o'clock on Thursday afternoon.

Lieut. Governor Perceval will leave Spencer Wood at 2.30 for the legislative buildings, accompanied by his daughter Mrs. Frank McKenna, and his A.D.C., Colonel D. B. Papineau.

On the Legislature's grounds a detachment of one hundred men from the Royal Twenty-Second Battalion, in charge of Major Routhier, will act as guard of honor, with the Royal Twenty-Second Band, under Captain O'Neil, rendering the customary anthems.

Though several high officials will be unable to attend, due to the opening of the Dominion Parliament which takes place on the same day at the same hour, it is expected that the usual brilliancy will mark the affair. In the Red Chamber, where the representative of the King will deliver the Speech from the Throne, Premier Taschereau and the members of the Cabinet will surround the throne, with General Landry, G.O.C., and officers of the local garrison.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL TO BE ABOLISHED

New South Wales Plans to Reduce Government Machinery.

(Associated Press Despatch)

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 4. (Canadian Press, via Reuters.)—It is reported here that the government of New South Wales intends to introduce a bill on January 12th abolishing the legislative council. Sir Dudley de Chair, Governor of New South Wales, it is understood has intimated that he will refuse to sanction further appointments to the council except to replace those due for retirement.

During December 25 new members were appointed by the government to the legislative council. When requested by Premier Lang to sanction these appointments, Sir Dudley de Chair demurred and asked the decision of the Dominion secretary's office in London on the matter. Upon being instructed from London that he should follow the advice of his ministers, Sir Dudley gave his sanction.

At the time, Premier Lang assured the Governor that the abolition of the legislative council was not contemplated with the proposed increase in membership.

DOWAGER QUEEN MARGHERITA, MOTHER OF KING OF ITALY, DIES IN HER SEVENTY-FIFTH YEAR

Widow of Former King Humbert, Who was Victim of Assassin's Bullet—Had Been Ill for Several Weeks—Was Much Beloved by Italian People.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BORDIGHERA, Italy, Jan. 4.—Dowager Queen Margherita, mother of King Victor Emanuel, died today in her 75th year. She had been ill of pulmonary pleurisy for several weeks.

Charity throughout her life caused Margherita Maria Teresa Giovanna, widow of King Humbert, to be especially beloved.

When a bullet fired by the anarchist Bresci killed Humbert, the hearts of the world were filled with sympathy for her.

She was ever ready to organize benefits for many philanthropic institutions under her patronage.

Even in her teens she obtained work for women of want, for she did not believe in indiscriminate alms-giving.

Margherita always wore clothes of a bright hue in contrast to King Humbert, who was noted for his simplicity of apparel.

She kept in touch with the latest developments in the arts, literature and sciences. She wrote a work on "the heroines of Shakespeare" that never has been published. She also wrote poetry.

She was opposed to divorce. A bill introduced in the Italian parliament in 1902 was withdrawn at her request.

An attempt was made to assassinate her in 1905 while motoring at Little St. Bernard. Two arrests were made. While at Evians Les Bains she was stoned.

She loved motoring so much that she was arrested and fined for speeding in Switzerland in 1905.

She was born in Turin November 29, 1851, the daughter of Prince Ferdinand of Savoy, Duke of Genoa, and Princess Elizabeth of Saxe.

She was married at 17 to Prince Humbert of Piedmont, who ten years later at the death of his father, Victor Emmanuel II, became King of Italy. She had only one child, the present King, who ascended the throne when his father was assassinated July 29, 1900.

CANADA AND HER RAILWAYS; BRITISH VIEW

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Jan. 4.—(Canadian Press)—"Of all the good resolutions of the New Year, none could be more welcome to the Canadian taxpayer than the decision of the executives of the railway systems to appoint a standing committee to discuss the best means of effecting immediate economies."

The above quotation is from an editorial in the Times reviewing the recent history of Canada's railway problems. The Times particularly refers to the recommendation made by the committee of the Dominion Senate over six months ago to the effect that some form of amalgamation should be brought about between the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Company, the Senate committee, however, failing to explain how such railway perfection was to be put into practice. In this connection the Times says:

"The best intentioned committees of politicians cannot hope to teach men like Mr. E. W. Beatty and Sir Henry Thornton their business."

Company Quits in Face of Bus Competition—Jitney Service Augmented.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 4.—The city of London, for the first time in years, was without street railway service over the week-end, following the railway company's decision that service was not profitable in the face of competition. Motor buses profited by the suspension of the street railway operations. Two buses will be brought from Ingersoll today to augment the present fleet. Jitneys sprang into existence yesterday when from fifteen to twenty light automobiles were pressed into service. Four jitneys are operating from the village of Byron to the city.

Arrangements are being made by chief of police Burrell and city engineer Near to establish permanent bus and jitney routes. The city council will meet tonight to seek early remedies for the present lack of transportation.

SAY PRINCE WON MARKET FOR BRITAIN

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The recent visit of the Prince of Wales to the Argentine Republic seems to be bearing fruit already in a commercial way. Four trainloads of British steel window frames are now ready for shipment to the Argentine, and the exporters attribute the orders for the window frames to the Prince's visit.

"There is not the least doubt that the Prince of Wales has captured the South American market for Great Britain," said one of the exporters in question. "These contracts, until the present time, have been going to the United States and Germany."

MISS SCHUYLER SEES HOPE FOR 125-PLUS POUNDERS

BY BETSY SCUYLER
NEA Service Writer
NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—About twice a year, a cabled report from Paris broadcasts the information that the June type of woman is about to have her inning again.

And all the women who have committed the unpardonable sin of weighing more than 125 pounds take hope and wait for the rumor to be substantiated with facts such as gowns.

But waiting is about all they can do. For a visit to the shops indicates that women's costumes have been designed with the flapper figure in mind.

There Is Hope

So I, for one, rarely take much stock in these reports. But lately, there is some hope. Undoubtedly Paris has succeeded in changing the silhouette materially this season.

The kinetic gown, that is the one with much width about the hem, and with flares and godets breaking the habit, may be the forerunner of a much more feminine figure than has been considered smart for several seasons.

Under such a frock one can successfully conceal several pounds and a generous curve or so that never had a ghost of a chance to go unnoticed in the frock of last season.

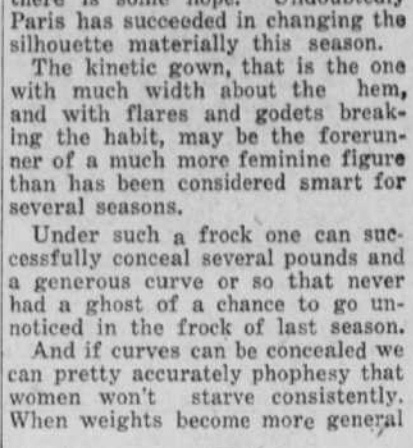

And if curves can be concealed we can pretty accurately prophesy that women won't starve consistently. When weights become more general had returned to normal and was snugly and neatly belted. The wise ones again declared that the day of the figure was being ushered in.

Certainly all the gowns we see are short and full, and they are much more becoming to the heavier woman than the scanty models. What you need most for them is slim ankles. If you lack these, you are certainly out of luck these days, for the full skirt must be short.

The three photographs shown today are all Paris models—all fresh from the workrooms of Patou and Lelong, two leading couturiers and produce the clothes that flappers particularly like. They are the types of evening frock that you see on the smartest of the season's debutantes.

The two Patou models are worn by two American girls, Edwina Pru

Edwina Pru

and Carolyn Putnam, who were selected with four other girls by Patou a year ago when he visited this country to go to his Paris establishment as mannequins.

They have just returned with Paris gowns galore, all showing this new line.

Typical Mode

The flesh colored chiffon evening frock worn by Miss Pru with the rose at the shoulder and belt and the scarf at the back, is typical of the debutante mode.

It is quite devoid of any of the trimming that has crept back on frocks this year, but it has godets introduced below the waistline to give the full, bouffant skirt that is so much desired.

I notice that pale pink is as popular as white this season. Last year they launched pink successfully in Paris, but it did not make so much headway here. Undoubtedly it is more flattering, if not quite so pure and girlish looking as pure white.

A deeper shade of pink, that is almost rose is used for the frock worn by Miss Putnam. This has the V-neckline that so many of this season's frocks have, filled in with pink chiffon. Here again the fullness is introduced by triangular inserts and the hemline is very full.

Popular in New York

The beading here is applied to the narrow bands that are so much more attractive, I think, than the all-over beaded effects. I have seen hundreds of variations of this same frock in New York shops, and I believe it is as becoming to every type of figure as anything you can find.

I have seen this on very heavy figures, and the very thin, and it was equally effective.

The Lelong costume is much more original, I think, both in color and in treatment. It is of chartruese chiffon with a very plain molded bodice adorned with a bow knot of rhinestone trimming such as bands the overskirt and trims the full tunic.

Playing about New York this week I saw Mrs. Orson D. Munn in a most attractive frock with a very full skirt and full sleeves with many horizontal lines.

Elsie Ben-kard and Edythe Elliman at the Art Workers Club in the tiniest of black felt hats. . . . Gloria Swanson in a gray velvet afternoon frock heavily embroidered in Persian embroidery and with cuffs that turned back to her elbow. . . . Lady Colefax, our English visitor, in a black crepe frock with long, sweeping lines. . . . Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer in velvet, Mrs. Margery Oelrichs in a stunning sable wrap, Mrs. George T. Brokaw in a smart ensemble and Marie Jeritza, the grand opera star, in a black tailored suit and a fur top coat.

REV. J. GOFORTH PREACHED AT ST. ANDREW'S

Large congregations were present both morning and evening in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church yesterday for the Rev. Dr. J. Goforth, to listen to the Rev. Dr. J. Goforth, for thirty years one of the outstanding missionaries in China and a missionary of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Dr. Goforth was invited by the session of St. Andrew's Church to conduct the services of worship for the first two Sundays in January, and also the services in connection with the week of prayer, to be held in St. Andrew's every evening this week, commencing at eight o'clock, with the exception of Saturday.

Dr. Goforth gave inspirational addresses on the condition of the Christian Church in China. In the morning he spoke on the progress of the Christian faith in that country during his thirty-eight years of residence there. At the evening service, he gave a vivid account of General Feng, the Christian leader who is at the head of a great movement to give China a stable government. The pastor, Rev. Alfred Bright, conducted the services of the day, with the exception of the addresses.

A quartet consisting of Mrs. M. MacKay, Miss M. Lothrop, Mr. W. B. McCaw and Mr. Wm. Scott sang, and Mr. J. G. Watson was the soloist at both services.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ANSWERED TWO WEEK-END CALLS

Although a fairly quiet time was realized by both police and fire departments during the past week-end, the fire department was nevertheless called out on two different occasions. In one instance the firemen's services were required for a fire in a Chevrolet car which had been left standing in front of St. Andrew's Church, and in the second case the department upon arrival at the scene of the supposed fire found that there was nothing wrong.

It appears that a local citizen whose name is not known had left his Chevrolet car, bearing license number 31129 Quebec, standing in front of St. Andrew's Church, Frontenac street, yesterday morning.

Owing to a short circuit in the wiring, the car took fire. The fire was noticed by some people who happened to be passing along the street, and an alarm was sent in. Unknown to the owner of the car the fire department was quickly on the scene, put out the fire, and returned to headquarters. Considerable damage was done to the car.

In the second instance a call was sent in for a fire in the residence of Mr. W. E. Paton, Moore street. According to information received, it was thought that the chimney was on fire. Upon the arrival of the department, however, it was found that this was not the case.

GRANDMOTHER OF M/S. G. M. BOYD WAS FATALLY BURNED

Mr. G. M. Boyd, proprietor of the Newstead, was in Montreal during the course of the past week where he attended the funeral of his grandmother, the late Mrs. D. S. Bowley, who passed away at the Kitchener-Waterloo Hospital, Hamilton, Ont.

Mrs. Bowley who was in her eighty-ninth year, was the victim of a most unfortunate accident at her home in Hamilton, Ont. During the course of last week the late Mrs. Bowley attempted to raise the flame in an oil stove, and in so doing her clothing caught fire, and before any assistance could be given to her she had received very serious burns which proved fatal. She was immediately rushed to the Kitchener-Waterloo Hospital, Montreal, where she later passed away.

The deceased was a sister of the late John Murphy, founder of the John Murphy store in Montreal, and president of the Gamble and Murphy firm at Ottawa.

A well attended and very successful meeting of the Eastern Townships Kidney Club was held on Saturday night at the E.T.A.A. offices, Wellington street. The meeting was presided over by Dr. L. Forest, president of the club.

Several business matters in connection with the dog show which is to be held in the very near future were discussed, and final arrangements made for what is expected to be one of the most successful shows held in this vicinity for some time past.

Members of the club were informed, to the satisfaction of all, that an exceptionally large number of valuable prizes had been donated for this show, while it was also pointed out that the entries were also expected to be very large. Many valuable dogs are owned by local fanciers, and these added to favorites of dog owners from surrounding towns which are expected to be entered will form a very large and varied collection.

NEW YEAR'S ACTIVITIES AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Day Was a Busy One in All Lines — Numerous Competitions Run Off.

January first was a big day at the Association when the annual volleyball tournament was run off, with Rand again victors for the fourth time, the runners-up being Business Men's B. team. The first annual championship for rolling on the Y.M.C.A. alleys was run off when N. Page won the championship, and in exhibition basketball the Hi-Y Team won by a score of 27 to 22.

Volley Ball

The first game called was Young Men's Class vs Business Men's B. team. The Business Men opened the scoring with McVie serving for six straight points and the team led 10 to 5 for awhile, then Newman Hunter for the Young Men's Class ran up 6 points, the other points were got singly, the final score being 15 to 11 in favor of Business Men.

In the second set H. Grime got away with a good start gathering in 5 points, from then on it was a steady pull, each team alternating in gaining points, and the final score was 15 to 10 in favor of the Young Men's Class.

In the play-off J. R. Sangster for the Business Men got away to a good start getting 4 points straight, the Business Men winning out in a short set by 8 to 2.

In the second game, Rand versus Business Men A, contrary to expectations, since the Rand Team has not worked together for nearly a year, the Rand got away for a quick start and kept it up till the end, winning out by a score of 15 to 4.

The second set was much closer with Business Men leading for a short time, but they finally lost out by 15 to 12.

In the third game, Business Men

In the second set the Old High School Boys showed up much better and ran neck and neck with the Business Men finally winning out by 1 point, with a score of 15 to 14.

In the finals the Business Men's Team B. pulled somewhat of a surprise, running up a score of 10 to 2, but the Rand settled down just in time and by very steady playing and good work by Robertson at a most critical time Rand saved the game and also the championship, winning out by 15 to 13. Rand had somewhat of an advantage in the last set as the Business Men had played five sets to their two, and out of the six sets they won four. After the tournament a couple of games were played off by champions against those who wished to stay, when exceptionally fine volleyball was seen.

His big surprise of the day was in the work of both S. R. and S. G. Newton, who though not having been on the floor right through this season, put up a very fine game.

In the second period Dumbells got away and ran up a score of 14 to 10, making the final score 27 to 22 in favor of Hi-Y. The game was well handled by H. Skinner. Line up: Hi-Y: Hammond, Watson, Duff, MacKay, Heath, Edgar. Dumbells: Cook, Reid, Harmer, Lilley, Marchant, Ranshouan, Sangster.

Reid, who had the highest score in the under 450 class, with a three string aggregate of 626.

CITY BRIEFLETS

VERDICT OF SUICIDE RETURNED IN SHOOTING

A coroner's inquest, presided over by Deputy Coroner Leonidas Bachand, was held at police headquarters on Saturday afternoon, into the death of Edward Price, who was found shot on Windsor street at a late hour on New Year's eve. After some six witnesses had been heard the jury returned a verdict of suicide.

One of the chief witnesses to be heard was Mrs. J. Fortin, the woman with whom deceased roomed before his death. According to the evidence given by Mrs. Fortin, he had come to her house last April and had been boarding there since that time. He was a toolmaker by trade, Mrs. Fortin said. On the night of the shooting he had come to her home at a late hour, and knowing that he was under the influence of liquor, she refused to allow him to enter the house. She did not know what else took place until she was told by Captain Prunier that Price had killed himself.

She further stated that she was shown a revolver which was found near deceased after the shooting. She identified this revolver as one which he had had in his possession for some time.

Other witnesses to be heard were Captain Prunier and other members of the department who were called following the shooting.

(Associated Press Despatch) BALKANS IN MORE OR LESS TURMOIL

LONDON, Jan. 4. — Coincident with the troublesome situation in Rumania, due to the resignation of Crown Prince Carol and reports of a conspiracy to overthrow the monarchy, comes the news that two others of the Balkan states are in turmoil. In Greece General Pangalos, premier and minister of war, the man who deposed King Constantine and placed the crown on the head of King George, has announced that he will assume the reins of the government, thereby instituting a military dictatorship.

Due to failure to bring the members of his cabinet into harmony, the Bulgarian premier, M. Tzankoff, has handed his resignation to King Boris. Andrej Ljapcheff, a former finance minister and a Macedonian, will endeavor to form a new ministry. The resignation of the ministry followed a hectic session in the Chamber of Deputies Saturday night during which lack of harmony between the ministers was extremely evident.

Pangalos is the man who once said the Greeks went to war with the olive branch in one hand and the sword in the other. He announced his decision to take over the entire control of the government during a banquet in his honor given by the Democratic Guard regiments. Parliamentary government was the cause of all Greece's troubles, he added, "and I am therefore preparing a proclamation, one based solely on armed force."

He also said the Senate sittings had been postponed indefinitely owing to the attitude and statements of certain party leaders who persisted in giving the elections a political aspect which would only tend to inflame political passions and disturb public order.

The heads of the foreign affairs and navy departments did not attend the dinner. The premier was given an ovation when he concluded his address. Later the Guards left the dining hall and paraded the principal streets of the city cheering for Pangalos.

The Vital Flame

A Stirring Serial of Primitive Passions by May Christie

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY

Marcella Field—Beautiful daughter of an impoverished archaeologist is in love with Miles Holden—A brilliant young sculptor, who loves her as well. But

Warwick Treman—Unscrupulous financier, forces Marcella's consent to marry him by threatening revelation of a girlhood indiscretion. He bribes

Leonie Day—A pretty, scheming milliner, to arrange a situation such that Holden's chivalry forces him to announce that he and Leonie are engaged.

Deirdre—A member of a band of crooks who wins Marcella's sympathy. It is evident that Treman has recognized her as a person he has known in the past.

Lady Warrington—With whom Leonie is making the trip to America, in order to be near Holden.

Horatio Field—Marcella's father, to whom she confides her love for Miles, her dread of Treman. Her father woefully confesses that if she doesn't marry Treman they are ruined, because of a dishonorable affair in which Treman and he were involved.

Marcella's father has accepted 20,000 for an imitation of a highly valuable Egyptian vase, which is known to Treman, Marcella visits Treman, in his hotel and asks him to release her from their engagement. Treman's cold alternative is that he has arranged their wedding, that nothing can stand in the way. Marcella and Miles meet secretly. Miles leaves to meet Warwick Treman, the man who would dare take Marcella from him. He meets Marcella an hour later and tells her of his quarrel with Treman. Treman is found dead in his room. Evidence points to Miles Holden as the murderer.

A police official arrives and questions Graves, the butler, who informs him that Miles Holden came to see Treman and was the last person to enter the house before the murder.

Miles Holden is brought before the captain of police and refuses to explain the nature of his quarrel with Treman, but admits the ownership of the revolver, initialed "M. H." found in the grass below Treman's window.

Lady Warrington observes that Marcella shows no grief over Treman's death and remarks that Leonie Day was once or twice on the track of Treman. Holden is detained by the police. Marcella hysterically expresses her devotion to Miles.

Marcella returns home and to her astonishment the following morning the lurid account of the tragedy, together with her photograph, occupies the front pages of the papers.

The coroner's court holds session and Miles is called to the stand. He is followed by Leonie Day who testifies that she saw Marcella Field coming from Mr. Treman's room on the night that he was killed.

CHAPTER XXV.

A Ghastly Accusation.

All eyes in the court were turned upon Marcella, who—wide-eyed with horror at the ghastly accusation—was staring at the speaker. Day who testified that she saw Marcella Field coming from Mr. Treman's room on the night that he was killed.

Marcella was so utterly astounded that she seemed as if turned to stone. Murder! This Leonie Day was accusing her—yes, it quite came to that!—of murdering Warwick Treman!

"Stand down," said the coroner to Leonie Day. Then:

"Next witness, Marcella Field."

Slowly, Marcella dragged herself to her feet. A pulse had started to hammer madly in her throat, and her tongue was parched and seemed incapable of speech.

"She's going to faint," someone whispered in a carrying tone.

With an effort the girl tried to pull herself together, and contrived to get to the witness box.

The coroner rapped out his questions.

"She was—or had been—engaged to the deceased? Yes, Yes.

But had not intended to go through with the marriage?

No reply.

"Speak up."

She muttered something inaudible.

"Evidence must be given distinctly and in a proper manner. Answer, please."

A compassionate soul handed her a glass of water from the table. She drank a little of it, choked, and then staggered out:

"I—I wanted to break my—my engagement—with Mr. Treman."

Had she succeeded in her wish? No. No.

Why not? Had Mr. Treman refused to release her from her promise? Yes.

The court stirred in anticipation of what was coming. Romance and tragedy and drama.... they were all here, in the forthcoming narrative.

"You wanted to break with Mr. Treman because you found you did not care for him? Or was it because you wished to marry someone else?"

Marcella hesitated. Standing slim and forlorn in the witness box, with many eyes—and some of them were hostile, and nearly all of them showed intense curiosity—upon her, she looked like some hunted woodland thing at bay.

"I—I didn't care sufficiently—for Mr. Treman," she said, very low.

"I suggest that you care for someone else?"

No answer.

"Speak up, please."

She raised her head, and said, with an effort:

"You are right. I do—care—for someone else."

"The witness, Miles Holden?"

She inclined her head, and murmured in the affirmative.

A little stir went through the court. Inquisitive eyes were turned from the pale girl in the witness box to the good looking, equally pale young man on the front bench. It was noticed that the young man looked directly at the girl when she made confession of her love for him—a wonderful look that held a depth of feeling amounting almost to adoration.

Spectators saw that that encouraged her, for she spoke more clearly now.

"Will you relate your movements on the night of the murder?"

"I was at home all evening," said Marcella, "until half past ten when I went out for—for—a stroll."

"Were you alone?"

"At first I was. And then I met Mr. Holden."

"Where?"

"In the little wood not far from the bungalow."

"Indeed?" The coroner stared at her through his glasses. "You met him by arrangement, I suppose? How was the arrangement made?"

"By telephone."

"He called you up from the inn, having just arrived there from New York?"

Marcella inclined her head.

"I suggest that he came down to prevent your marriage?"

"To—to ask me to reconsider—"

She broke off.

"Had he heard that the marriage with the deceased was planned for the very next day?"

"Yes."

"And at the eleventh hour he arrived, to stop it? Was that so?"

She bowed her head.

"You told him that the deceased would not hear of your breaking your promise? And so Holden offered to go up to The Larches, and have it out with him?"

"Yes. That is so."

"Did you anticipate a quarrel between the two men?"

"She nodded. 'I was afraid of it.'"

"You found Mr. Holden a hot-tempered man?"

She shook herself in quick defence.

"No, never. Very just.... loving what is right."

The coroner went on, relentlessly: "After Mr. Holden left you, I suggest that you became extremely anxious as to the outcome of the interview between the two men, and you followed him up to The Larches?"

"No, no," she answered, vehemently. "I went back to the bungalow and waited there."

"I suggest," went on the calm voice from the desk, "I suggest that you left the bungalow, went up to The Larches, found the front-door unlocked, slipped in and went to Mr. Treman's room?"

Marcella stared in amazement.

Maroons Take Saturday's Game by 3 to 2.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—Montreal Maroons defeated New York Americans by 3 to 2 in fifteen minutes overtime play at the Forum on Saturday night.

Fifteen minutes of overtime had elapsed before Babe Siebert beat Forbes in the New York net, which gave Montreal the game by the score of 3 to 2, Saturday night. It was a magnificent tally by this rugged left wing flash and one which was robbed of little of its glamor because the goal was scored with New York playing short of Captain Billy Burch, who was watching the play from the penalty bench, where he had been punished for slashing around with his stick.

It was a gruelling struggle, marked by plenty of strenuous, clean bodying, little rough work, a lot of back checking, which broke up attack after attack on both sides, and throughout it all stood out Captain Billy Burch, of New York; Siebert and Dunc Munro, of the Maroons, and the two goal keepers. Burch never turned in a better game than that which he flashed Saturday night.

Dunc Munro was the king pin of the Maroon defence.

In contrast was the work of Nelson Stewart. Saturday night he showed as a trifle stall, and when his seeming effortless play went wrong, he looked bad.

Broadbent got two of the Maroons' goals, and Red Green and Burch scored for New York.

WATERVILLE BEEHIVE WANDERERS DEFEATED NORTH HATLEY

The Beehive Wanderers made their first appearance on Wednesday, Dec. 30th, when they crossed sticks with North Hatley. It was a hard fought combat in which the Wanderers came out on top with a 5 to 3 victory. The game started at eight o'clock, the ice was in very good shape. Due to the very cold night only a few fans turned out to witness the game.

The first period started with the Wanderers scoring after five minutes of play and they scored two more before the end of the period thus the period ended with the Wanderers 3 to 0.

The second period North Hatley came back strong in which they managed to get two counters, the second period ended with the Wanderers still in the lead. The third period started with both teams determined to win, however, Hatley scored one against the Wanderers' two.

ROTARY HOCKEY CLUB HAND-ED OUT BEATING TO ROYALS

Playing on the Fairbanks rink yesterday the Rotary Hockey Club handed out a severe beating to the Royals, by defeating them 3 to 1 in an exhibition game which was witnessed by a large number of hockey fans.

Considerable interest was shown in this game by supporters of the Junior Amateur League owing to the fact that last week the Rotary Club asked to be permitted to join the Junior Amateur League, but were refused admission on the grounds that they had not had sufficient experience to play in the league fixtures.

The line up in yesterday's game was as follows:

Rotary—H. Asselin, goal; F. Plamondon and L. Carrier, Defence; A. Flon, R. Morin and F. Begin, forward; G. Gingras and L. Turgeon, subs.

Royals—Carpentier, goal; J. Berard and J. Desrochers, defence; T. Dionne, B. Desrochers and M. Trudeau, forward; R. Robillard, L. Bailargeon and G. Lussier, subs.

PITTSBURGH
PIRATES PLAN FOR SEASON

(Associated Press Despatch)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 4.—The Pittsburgh Pirates of 1926 with minor touching up, have full confidence that they again will capture the gold and glory of both National League and World's Series victory.

The 1925 outfit will be virtually intact unless Hal R. Rhyne, second baseman and Paul Waner, outfielder, expensive products of the San Francisco club, of the Pacific Coast League, show sufficient ability to break into the regular line up.

Outside of these two mooted positions McKechnie's main attention will be his hurling staff, which gave a good account of itself last season but which may require some bolstering for 1926.

CURLING

ACTIVITIES AT LOCAL RINK WELL UNDER WAY

New Year's Day at the Sherbrooke Curling Club will go down as a red letter occasion in the season's activities, for besides the president's reception, numerous matches were staged, all of which proved most interesting.

The MacKinnon cup games which took place New Year's Eve resulted in a second win for the rink skipped by L. D. Hyndman. This contest proved to be a splendid exhibition of curling, and the brand of play put up by Mr. Hyndman's rink speaks well for the club.

Thursday's game resulted as follows:

A. H. Baker L. J. Rouleau
N. L. Wiggett F. T. Vaughan
W. R. Moore Rev. Bigg
L. D. Hyndman J. W. McKee

The games tonight will be handled by Francis Milton, and it is hoped that all lovers of amateur sport will support the officers of the League in their effort to develop hockey talent.

HERB PENNOCK, FRAILEST PITCHER IN AMERICAN LEAGUE, PROVES THE MOST EFFECTIVE SOUTHPAW

BY BILLY EVANS

Herb Pennock, star southpaw of the New York Yankees, is real proof that a strong heart is greater than a giant physique as a pitching asset.

In civilian clothes or wearing his baseball uniform, one would never select Pennock from among a flock of athletes as the most effective southpaw in the American League.

He is frail, has less stuff than a number of other left-handers in the majors, yet he is a tough bird to beat. The reason, plenty of courage, the will to win and an ideal temperament.

Herb Pennock is to the southpaws of the American League what Walter Johnson is to the right-handers. The two have much in common, other than physique. Never once during his career can player, manager or umpire recall an instance where Pennock displayed a peevishness. He accepts the breaks of the game as they come, never criticizes a team-mate or uses the umpire as an alibi.

Tough for the Giants
Herb Pennock, as much if not more than Babe Ruth, brought back to the Yankees much of the lost prestige as a result of being twice defeated by the Giants.

It was Pennock who stopped McGraw's team in the series of 1923. When Pennock opposed the Giants, McGraw's club had taken eight straight games from the Yanks, including three won at the finish of the 1921 series, and four straight victories, exclusive of the tie in the 1922 event, and the opening game of the 1923 classic.

Pennock stopped the Giants. That victory made the men of Huggins feel that the jinx was broken, that the Giants could be beaten. Later in will be moved and seconded by two new members on the Government side of the House, and they will be moved by the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition, who will deliver his much-anticipated speech on the result of the recent elections, the present position of the Government, the constitutional attitude taken by the Prime Minister and he will then move a motion of want of confidence in the Government. Mr. Meighen will, in all likelihood, be followed by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and acting leader in the House. After these two speeches, the debate will then proceed with Conservative, Liberal and Progressive members taking part.

It has been intimated from certain sources, close to the Government, that the agreement of the Opposition to the election of Mr. Lemieux as Speaker and also to the adjournment from Friday until Monday, will be taken by the Government as a vote of confidence in their administration. Authorities on Parliamentary procedure view this contention as both absurd and ridiculous and argue that the only vote which could be accepted by the people of Canada would be the vote on the want of confidence proposed by the Conservative party, the strongest group in the House. Any other procedure would be, they contend, a piece of "sharp practice."

Therefore, the programme as outlined above, will be followed this week unless something in the meantime happens on the part of the Government, for the Opposition to put either the election of the Speaker or the motion to adjourn on Friday to a vote of the House.

WOMEN ARE WOMEN IN ENGLAND

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—"Ladies" still play golf in England, but on the tennis courts feminine players in future are to be known as "women." By decree of the British Lawn Tennis Association, the ruling authority, "women" players, a term long taboo, has been restored, and the word "ladies" takes its place among discarded expressions.

The word "char-lady" is taken quite too seriously in some quarters, the tennis officials believed, and the decision to restore "women" as players was taken with the view of starting a move for the return of a word which had nearly disappeared in connection with amateur sports in England.

FROST VILLAGE WAS SCENE OF BARNFIRE

In Attempting to Thaw Frozen Water Pipes in Barn Owned by Mr. W. H. King, Flames Found Their Way to Hay Mow—Assistance by Neighbors and Lack of Wind Soon Saw Fire Extinguished.

(Special to the Record)
FROST VILLAGE, Que., Jan. 4th.—What might have resulted in quite a disastrous fire, but which, fortunately, ended with only slight damage being done, occurred here on Friday morning, when the barn on Mr. W. H. King's farm fell a prey to flames.

The extreme cold weather had frozen the water pipes in the barn, and, in endeavoring to thaw them out, a blow-torch was being employed. Following the pipe along the ceiling, the flames evidently found their way through an aperture of some sort, with the result that the hay in the mow above the barn was ignited.

A neighbor who happened to be passing at the time smelled the hay burning, and immediately gave the alarm. By means of telephone communication, men from adjacent farms were on the scene in no time, and, after ripping some boards from the barn, the hay was thrown outside and the flames extinguished. Fortunately their was no wind at the time, which aided the fire fighters considerably.

EAST ANGUS BLUEBIRD CLUB TO STAGE DANCE

The Bluebird Club which was organized in East Angus in October 1924 with the sole intention of raising funds with which to erect a war memorial in East Angus, has had a very successful and busy time since its organization, and according to its present programme has a crowded agenda ahead of it.

Since organizing in 1924 the Club has successfully staged three dances, four card-parties, a bean supper and a concert. At the present time the members are working on an autographic quilt which is expected to be completed within a short time. The total amount raised by the Club is $600.29.

In order to further swell the funds of the Club, as well as to add to the social life of the town, the Club have completed arrangements for a dance which is to be held in the Roseland Hall on January 8th.

Mr. Guy Bean, the new lessee of the Roseland Hall, has kindly donated the hall for this event. Through the kindness of Mrs. J. A. Bothwell, Dunbar's Orchestra will also be in attendance. Mrs. J. A. Bothwell, Mrs. S. C. Stoddard, Mrs. H. Gris-tad, Mrs. G. Mayhew and Mrs. A. W. Muir will act as patronesses for this event. It is sincerely hoped by the officials and members of

RIOTING OCCURS
IN GLACE BAY;
STORES RAIDED

Followed Meeting Protesting Unemployment—One Store Was Burned to the Ground.

GLACE BAY, N.S., Jan. 4.—The situation throughout the southern colliery district was quiet this morning following last night's series of depredations by a mob who fresh from a mass meeting called by the United Mine Workers of America to protest against unemployment conditions, looted the store of B. Siegel, Peter MacKenzie, A. Lang, L. Gold-man and L. Cherm. Today the miners and their sympathizers were looking to Halifax where a special meeting of the local government had been called to consider the situation. A week ago yesterday the miners held a mass meeting at which the Hon. J. G. Douglas, attorney general of Nova Scotia, was present. At this meeting a resolution was passed calling upon the provincial government to move in the matter of relief and the attorney general undertook to recommend that the government assist in securing of the order from the Canadian National Railways that would keep the mines working throughout the winter. The miners for their part stated in their resolution that unless relief was forthcoming they would be "forced to take what we need wherever we can find it." Last night they proceeded to implement their undertaking. As a result of the rioting the store of A. Lang was burned to the ground. MacKenzie's store caught fire but the blaze was extinguished before it had gained headway. The report that Cherm's store had been burned was not correct.

The Bluebird Club that this dance will be attended by a large number.

This Club at present consists of fourteen members of which Miss E. McLellan is president; Miss B. Riddle, vice-president, Mrs. J. A. Bothwell, treasurer and Miss M. Lipsey, secretary.
