POMONA GRANGE MEMBERS TOLD: "Think Of Public Affairs And Make Your Thoughts Known"

The 60th anniversary of Franklin County, N.Y. Pomona Grange was fittingly observed at a banquet on Thursday, Oct. 3 at the Crossroads, Moira, N.Y. Over 200 Grange members and friends, some from considerable distance, were in attendance. Mrs. Kay Williams, Chairman, of Kensington, Mrs. Sarah Hapgood of Malone and Mrs. Marie Riendeau of Westville formed the committee in charge of making the arrangements for the successful event. Each guest was given a booklet containing an historical summary of Franklin County Pomona Grange compiled by Hapgood, Past Deputy, Past Juvenile Deputy and Past Pomona Lecturer with the compliments of Mrs. Kay Williams, Past President Pomona Lecturers' Association and Past Pomona Lecturer.

The Invocation prayer was read by Mrs. Nancy Tucker, Chaplain of Franklin County Pomona Grange. Mr. David Dunn, Master, welcomed the guests and reminded everyone of the significance of the occasion. Mrs. Kay Williams as Chairman capably introduced the guests at the head table and throughout the evening mentioned other distinguished members in the gathering. Mr. Leland D. Smith, Past Treasurer of National Grange and Past Master of New York State Grange introduced the guest speaker, Mr. William J. Brake, Mr. Brake, a University of Michigan graduate, joined the Grange in 1923 and has been Lecturer of National Grange for the past two years and Master of Michigan State Grange for the past eleven years.

Premier Lesage Coming Tuesday Will Officially Open Bridge

The Mayor and Aldermen of the Town of Huntingdon extend a cordial invitation to all in the community to attend the official opening of the new Zinc Plant in Valleyfield and that City is tendering him a civic reception, following which he will come to Huntingdon. He will be in Huntingdon from 3 to 5 p.m. and when leaving will go directly to Dorval International Airport.

The fact that Premier Lesage has accepted the invitation to come to Huntingdon is an honour and it is hoped that all who can will show their appreciation by attending the ceremonies next Tuesday afternoon.

Little Girl — Huge Potato

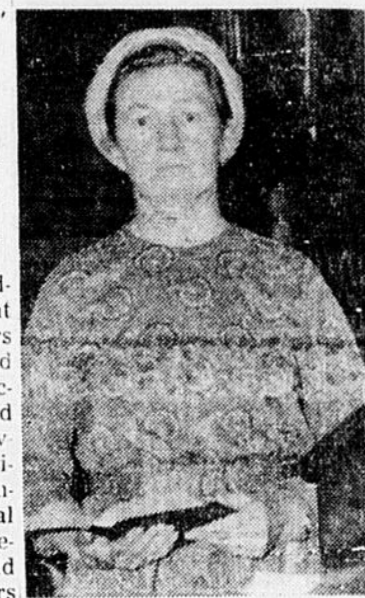

Cindy Leslie, 7-month-old 10" in length and 5" in width daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy at the centre. It weighs three pounds.

Mr. John Leslie, in whose garden the potato was grown, will be 88 years old on November 1st. He is enjoying good health and likes to keep active about the farm.

Robert Lucas, 26, Drowned Near St. Anicet On Sunday

Robert Neil Lucas, 26-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lucas, summer residents of the area, died suddenly on Sunday, October 6th, at Castagner's Point, near St. Anicet. Robert and his father were working near each other, with the younger Lucas constructing a duck blind, and Mr. Lucas working on a wharf. Apparently Robert suffered a seizure and fell face down in shallow water. He is survived by his father, mother and a sister, Betty, Mrs. Charles S. Stephens, Constable Kyle of the Quebec Provincial Police handled the investigation.

W.M.S. Speaker

Mrs. Robert Cunningham of Athelstan addressing the W.M.S. at the District meeting held in St. Andrew's Church, Huntingdon on Saturday, October 5.

The basic problem seems to be the failure of many to understand the interrelationship of the situation. It is felt that a surplus of food is essential for national welfare. Food is needed in time of emergency, i.e. in time of drought or war. The government attempts to make up for the low prices by paying subsidies. Also depressed prices force the smaller farmers to leave the land.

What happens to the displaced farmers? There are not enough jobs in industry for them to turn to. One education official said recently that by 1975 there would not be jobs for half of the young people who leave school at the high school level. The business of producing jobs would seem to be an important one.

The Grange, stated Mr. Brake, has always believed that injustices may be corrected by law and order, not force. The end result may not be reached as quickly but when it did come it was more satisfactory.

"Think about public affairs and make your thoughts known" said Mr. Brake. The Grange provides an ideal opportunity for such action. Since the Grange was organized in 1867, 416 other farm organizations have been in operation for varying lengths of time but only the Grange has survived the test of time.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. Fay Hapgood, a Golden Sheaf member (50 years or more), Past Deputy and Past Pomona Master.

HUNTINGDON OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT AT ST. ANICET CLUB THIS SATURDAY

The annual Huntingdon Fall Open Golf Tournament will be played this Saturday, Oct. 12th, at the St. Anicet Golf and Country Club. All local golfers are invited to take part. There is no entry fee (non-members will have to pay Green Fees) and the golfers will have a chance to win the Fall Open Trophy now held by Bill Rowat of Huntingdon.

The tournament will be played on the Handicap basis and as quite a few golfers do not have a regular handicap the Atlantic Handicap System will be used.

Tea off time will be between 10.30 a.m. and 1.00 p.m. so, made up a foursome and enter the Huntingdon Fall Open.

Town Police To Be Instructed To Be More Severe With Traffic Law Violators

A regular meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council was held Monday evening in the Council Building, with all members present. Included in the agenda was a resolution to instruct the town police to be more severe with traffic law violators.

A letter was also read from the Protestant School Commission of Huntingdon requesting increased police surveillance in the vicinity of Huntingdon High School at noon hours. This led to considerable discussion with regard to some motorists who display stupidity by speeding in school areas.

Alderman Brisebois is to investigate the feasibility of installing a drain on Centre St. and make a report at the Oct. 22 adjourned meeting.

A letter from Mr. Lou Martin was read in which he stated that he believed the increase in valuation for his block on Chateauguay St. was too great. The Secretary was instructed to advise Mr. Martin that the valuation roll had been homologated.

A delegation of three representing a hockey team that uses the Varin rink located in Montclair, was present at the meeting.

Mrs. W. C. Tully, Athelstan, introduced Mrs. Robert Cunningham, Athelstan, who was guest speaker for the afternoon. Mrs. Cunningham gave the gathering much to think about as she told of her work for nine years in the Belgian Congo. She told first of the welcome she received and also of the different work among the Kindergarten, boys and girls, (some 600 in the school) also the Bible School work as well as helping with the printing for all work. She then told of the work among the lepers and of the conditions among them.

In the Evangelical work she said prayer and devotions were so necessary and one great difficulty was when one had to speak and have an interpreter. She told of the physical needs that the teacher was expected to take care of, even if she were teaching classes of boys and girls. The jungle roads are anything but favourable but out of all the hardships had come the Church of Christ. Mrs. Cunningham brought her message to a close by pleading for the prayers of the people for the work in the Congo and that other young workers might hear the call for mission work there.

Mrs. Hetty Graham, Beauharnois, thanked Mrs. Cunningham and expressed words of appreciation to everyone who had made this pleasant afternoon possible.

The Valleyfield ladies extended an invitation to meet with them in 1964.

Hymn 579, "Go, Labor On" was sung and a member of the Georgetown Auxiliary gave the closing prayer. The St. Andrew's Ladies served refreshments. Mrs. J. M. Grant and Miss Frances Turner poured tea. Assisting at the table were Mrs. I. Mennie, Mrs. C. McArthur, Mrs. W. J. Smellie, Mrs. A. S. Reid, Mrs. S. Ruddock, Mrs. M. Ruddock, Mrs. D. Brown, Mrs. W. H. Middlemiss, Mrs. C. M. Oney, Mrs. W. The reason they do not appear in French in some areas is because of short supply, but more are in the process of being distributed.

Want Traffic Laws Enforced Huntingdon School Board Makes Request For Six-Room Extension To High School

A regular meeting of the Huntingdon Protestant School Commission was held in the library of the High School, Thursday evening. A resolution engaging Mrs. Verna Dixon to teach Remedial Reading was approved, also a resolution passed raising the pay of Supply Teachers by one dollar per day.

Principal Brockman reported that at the end of September there was an attendance of 536 students.

A resolution was passed in view of the larger attendance and the instruction of pupils from the Dundee district and the annexation of the District of St. Anicet, that the School Board request the Superintendent of Education for the building of an extension of Huntingdon High School sufficient for six new classrooms.

The secretary was authorized to write to the Town Council to the effect that the speeding on town streets, the refusal of drivers to respect stop signs and the parking of cars on the wrong side of streets constituted a constant danger to the town pupils and that the town police should pay more attention to traffic offences and to the prosecution of charges in order to minimize the danger to school children, both Protestant and Roman Catholic.

Jon Proudfoot Tells About St. Andrew's Church School Adopting Korean Orphan Girl

"MAKE US EVER MINDFUL OF THE NEEDS OF OTHERS" I have opened my talk with this phrase because, it is one that is familiar to most of us as a prayer used by Rotarian Eric when asking the blessing. It also is the basis of the brotherhood of man, and it leads into the subject I wish to talk to you about today.

In South Western Korea there stands the port city of Mokpo. Mokpo is a city of 125,000 and sits on the jagged yellow Sea Coast, with a harbour that is protected from the open water by a series of small islands. One of these islands, Koka Island is famous as the place where American cotton seed was first successfully cultivated in Korea. Besides cotton, good crops of Barley, Wheat and Rice are grown on the lowlands between the sea and the hills. Being close to the sea, fishing of course is an important industry in the city.

During the Korean War the city was occupied for two months in the summer of 1950, by the North Korean Forces. The reason I have tried to fill you in on the geography and industry of the city of Mokpo is because, on the outskirts of this city is the Mokpo Children's Home. Living in this home is a 14 year old Korean Girl by the name of KIM SIN JA. Kim is her family name and Sin Ja her christian name. It seems that it is oriental custom that the family name comes first. Sin Ja in translation to English means "trusting child".

Sin Ja is an orphan of the Korean War. Before the war she lived with her father and mother in North Korea. Her father was killed by the North Koreans and her mother escaped to south Korea with Sin Ja who was then one year old. This was just a few weeks before the Korean war began. Conditions were miserable in Korea at that time and Sin Ja's mother contracted an epidemic illness and died. This baby girl was turned over to the Mokpo Children's Home and she has been living there ever since.

I came to know about this girl through St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday School of which I have been the Superintendent for the past four or five years. How this came about was that one of our teachers felt that we should have a project to give the children an experience in christian action. In other words we wanted the children to reach out beyond themselves and know that the whole world does not revolve around their family, their home and their community.

We felt that by helping some child somewhere in the world they could better sense the meaning of being mindful of the needs of others.

We contacted the Christian Children's Fund of Canada and through them we adopted Sin Ja. By Adopting I mean that the more than 90 children in our Sunday School bring their nickels, dimes and pennies to class each Sunday and we send $10. each month for the care of our child to the Christian Children's Fund an organization that runs or assists orphans in 56 countries throughout the world.

The head office for the Christian Children's Fund is in Richmond, Virginia and from here the operations of this organization which takes care of 41,000 children throughout the world are controlled. The head office for Canada is at Toronto. We came to know about this organization through ads that appear each month in our Church Magazine, the Presbyterian Record.

Small Airport Planned Gaston Laporte of Montreal Purchases Hotel at Ste. Agnes

Rumour to the effect that Hotel Ste. Agnes had been sold has had current circulation about the Ste. Agnes village during the past few weeks, and today, October 9th, Mr. Adrian Proulx, the hotel manager verified the statement. Mr. Proulx said that Mr. Demers, the former owner had completed business transactions and the new owner, Mr. Gaston Laporte of Montreal, will take over ownership this week.

Mr. Laporte plans big things for Ste. Agnes, one of which is the construction of a small airport for private planes. In order to carry out this project, more land has had to be purchased from a neighbouring farm owned by Mrs. Proulx (the former Peter Myre property).

If the weather remains favourable, work on the airport will begin this fall so as to be ready for full operation next summer.

A Cartierville Air Club, Mr. Laporte's brother expects to come out from Montreal next summer and help him with the management of the hotel as the new owner plans to maintain his present business in Montreal, flying in a couple of times a week, a twenty minute trip, to tend to the business administration of the firm.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Proulx will return to their former home in Sherbrooke. Their daughter, Miss Guislaime Proulx is presently taking a four-year course in Sherbrooke Normal School to obtain an Intermediate Teacher's Diploma. Mr. Jean Jacques Proulx, who graduated from the University of Sherbrooke last June is employed by the Engineering Department of the Bell Telephone Co. in Montreal.

Robert Sellar's Historical Writings

The facts of the rising had as usual in times of excitement been grossly exaggerated. For instance, the report was spread far and wide that day, that the Canadians were marching victoriously towards Huntingdon, burning everything before them, and had reached the Portage (Dewittville). The alarming news by no means disconcerted the Old Countrymen, who all day came flocking into the village to join the companies. The chief drawback was the want of arms, for there were not muskets enough, and many of them were in wretched condition. Sandy Lumsden, blacksmith, of Athelstan, was set to work in the church repairing them, and not a few were brought to him with the flints tied to the hammer, while Willie Stark was kept busy shoeing horses for scouts and messengers. Such a Sunday had never been known in Huntingdon, the street being crowded with an excited throng, and St. Andrew's made the rendezvous of armed men. In the confusion a musket was discharged and the bullet went through the roof of the sacred edifice. At night its floor was covered by sleeping men. Early on Monday morning they fell in rank, when it was found there were 150 men sufficiently equipped to go forward, and they began their march, watched until out of sight by women with moistened eyes and sad misgivings as to what might happen there ere they returned. The present aspect of the country gives little idea of what it was on that eventful morning, for the road from Huntingdon to Dewittville passed through almost solid bush, the clearances being small and the houses log-shanties. From Dewittville onwards the clearances were larger, yet they were only notches in the forest, which night, for the blockhouse was overcrowded and its atmosphere dense with smoke, the chimneys being out of order the men fell in and renewed their march. Colonel Campbell leaving in charge of the blockhouse the company of Captain John Tate, raised mainly from the 2nd and 3rd companies, with orders not to leave it under any circumstances. The force in a couple of hours reached Reeve's tavern and found that there was no change in the position of the rebels.

This order gave rise to a strange misunderstanding. Three days afterwards a trooper appeared on the opposite bank and shouted that Colonel Campbell ordered Capt. Tate to join him with all his men save 10 who were to be left in charge of the blockhouse. The captain was in a quandary, and asked Sergt. Younie's advice, who a shrewd old soldier, said the trooper had no written despatch and an order by word of mouth could not supersede the express one, personally given, not to leave the blockhouse. This seemed so sagacious, that the trooper's order was disregarded.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

(by FERGUS HORSBURGH)

Route Boys:
ALLAN LUSSIER

DAVID MCKAY
381 St. Francis 691-1778

This will be the last of the present series of solo letters from Seignior Park, as my wife and daughter returned from their holiday in England this week. It has been four times as difficult, writing these letters on my own, and not even quarter the fun.

This will also be the fastest-written and shortest Letter since this column set up shop, as all my spare time during the week-end is devoted to cleaning up the debris left from a month's bachelor existence. How well I remember, as a working teenager, being left in sole command of the home for a couple of weeks while my parents took their annual holiday. Everything was planned for a glorious mopping-up operation during the final 24 hours, just that number of hours ahead of schedule. Nobody was surprised when they found a scene of utter chaos. I thought then, and still do, that this treatment unfair to teenagers. Fortunately, with the rigidity of trans-Atlantic schedules, there is no chance of history repeating itself. Woodbiners were happy last week to see the last of the park's construction shack, which was moved up to the transmission line. The contractor reports that the first night in the new location, a large quantity of timber disappeared — so large that it must have taken a truck to remove it. A certain amount of petty pilfering is normal and expected during construction and what saint among us could deny the acquisition of a brick or two? — but this does seem to be larceny on their part too grand a scale. By the way, if any gardener in Seignior Park would like a ton of sand, Messrs. Raines and Horsburgh would be glad to give him as much as he wants from their ditches. There will be no charge!

The election of office-bearers of Seignior Park Home Owners' Association became more interesting last week with the nomination of Gerry Flynn for President, thus ensuring that there will be votes for both the presidency and the directorships. Nominations were due to be closed on Monday evening, October 7th, and falling some last-minute nominations, Eddie Karch as Vice-President, June McInnis as Secretary and Butch McElroy as Treasurer were due to be elected by acclamation. Candidates for president are Gerry Flynn and Fergus Horsburgh, and for the three directorships, nominated are Mac McConnell, Geoff Hofstater, Keith Strike, Ed Jarvis, Bob Ellis, G. Guillot, Noella Jaffray and Gerry Flynn.

The final meeting for the year will be held at the Clubhouse on Wednesday, October 9th, at 8.30 sharp, when the voting will take place in accordance with the constitution.

It was gratifying to see Vigilant taking up the cause of our traffic hazard on St. Francis Boulevard. Gratifying, but rather puzzling, as what the sound of explosions at the nearby quarry has to do with the problem is obscure, to say the least. And why so much emphasis on traffic-lights? We are all reasonable people in Seignior Park, let's hope, and we realize that certain formalities must be settled first. Let's have traffic lights in due course, but let's have a painted line to divide the traffic now.

Surely Chateaugay must be unique in the Province of Quebec in that there is no minority aspect here, with such large numbers of both French and English-speaking citizens in the community. Red Cross Workers Needed In Chateaugay

At Work for Emergency Cases. The three ladies pictured here represent the thousands of volunteer workers who have joined the Red Cross Women's Work Committees in the Province of Quebec. Last month they made 1,882 articles of clothing for children and 53,510 surgical dressings for the Blood Transfusion Service. The Red Cross in Quebec provided help to 251 victims of disasters last month. The Chateaugay Branch needs volunteers to undertake this vital programme.

Ladies, particularly those with some free time, are asked to volunteer to work for the Red Cross Women's Work Committee, sewing, knitting, making surgical dressings, etc. Ladies when you are near your sewing machine take thirty minutes more for sewing a garment for a little boy or girl refugee or victim of a disaster. Mrs. Audrey Foster has had to give up writing for Crown Homes so I am going to try my hand at it. Audrey was quite ill for awhile, but I'm glad to say she is feeling fine now and more like her old self.

Wasn't the weather beautiful over the week-end? It would be nice if we could put in an order for the same next week-end (Thanksgiving). It's the last long week-end we will get before winter hits us.

Little Frankie Foster had a birthday on September 18th, and celebrated it by having some of his little friends in for sandwiches, cake and ice cream. His friends were Danie Butt, Carol Randall, Debbie Willard and Diane Sneddon. Fortunately, it was a lovely day so the children played outside on the swings and slide in the backyard.

Speaking of nice weather, Mr. Gordon Lange didn't have a very nice week-end for his fishing trip up north the week-end before last, he said it was snowing up there. I guess that is why they didn't catch anything, it must have been too cold for the fish.

Marion Lange has been doing all right though. She has had her name picked twice on CKGM's "Pick a Lucky Pair" Sweepstake and won a hamper of food each time.

Audrey Foster is another lucky one, she has won a number of things on CKGM contests. I wish they would tell me what they carry around with them for good luck.

Belated birthday greetings go out to Brenda Lange, who celebrated on September 26. She had two of her friends, Sheila Foster and Florence Petrony in for supper, which of course, included the old favorites, cake and ice cream.

Things are certainly looking pretty around Crown Homes now with all the trees being planted and the lawns looking so green. Quite an improvement from last year at this time when we were practically up to our ankles in mud.

Welcome

We would like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Delorme of Labelle St., and Mr. and Mrs. John Gagnon and Mr. and Mrs. William Graham, their daughter Linda, son Billy and Mr. Graham's sister, Mrs. Coventry of Maisonneuve St., all recent newcomers to Crown Homes. Glad to have you with us.

Mr. John Gagnon is trying to organize a bowling team. If anybody is interested in bowling, would they please contact Mr. Gagnon at 692-2882. He would appreciate it.

Belated birthday greetings go out to Mrs. Joan Gagnon who had a birthday on September 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. Lange had guests over the week-end. Mr. Lange's brother and his son were in from Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Randall and their two daughters Stephanie and Carol, spent the week-end with their friends the Wharton's at Knowlton Landing. They had a lovely time and Helen said the trees and bushes were really something to see, all brown, red and gold. The only flaw in their week-end was that Rolie came back with quite a bad cold. We hope he is feeling better by now.

Don't forget, if you have any news at all, please give me a call at 692-0955. I would like to hear from you.

Didn't we have a perfectly beautiful week-end? We took a drive on Sunday afternoon to see the fall colours and to visit the beautiful garden of Mr. A. H. Campbell on Edgell Road in Westmount. This garden is very well known as the tourist busses stop and take pictures of it. If any of you have not seen this garden, believe me it is worth your while to drive up and see it. Even at this time of year when the ordinary garden looks pretty wild, this one was a mad splash of colour. Our daughter was fascinated by the Japanese Tea House and Totem Pole that are also part of the surroundings.

Congratulations to Aubrey MacLean, our new route boy, very best of luck in this new venture, Aubrey.

It's Thanksgiving Once Again. Bless your home this Thanksgiving Day.

Bless the door that welcomes folks.

And bless the roof above; Bless the windows open wide To friendship and to love; Bless the walls wherein you dwell.

The trees and flowers, too, And bless the things that make your house A home sweet home to you.

Yes, neighbors, I hope you are given all these blessings and more. Count your blessings and don't forget to say thank you for them; each in your own way, faith or creed. We have so very much to say thank you for. We live in a beautiful land, when there are so many in other lands without food or a wall or roof to be blessed. Remember them in your Thanksgiving prayers. How true that, more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of. A happy Thanksgiving to you all.

Happy birthday to Joseph Dennis Cherrier, who celebrated his first birthday on Tuesday, October 8th. Ethel reports Dennis is coming a long fine now and is full of energy. We are all happy for both of you.

Mr. and Mrs. Syd W. Mitchell celebrate their thirtieth wedding anniversary on Monday, October 14th.

Surprise Parties

Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Belair were hosts at a surprise party for Mrs. Belair's brother, Mr. George Bourbeau, on Saturday, October 5th (his birthday was September 26th). Those who gathered to help him enjoy the evening were Mrs. O. Labelle, Mr. and Mrs. D. Gauthier, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gauthier and daughter Reine, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bourbeau with Richard and Susan, Mr. P. Trepanier and Gilles, Gylaine and Francois Belair.

The Belair family presented George with a transistor radio both as a birthday present and a thank you for all his help and work on their basement Rumpus Room. Refreshments were served in the form of a cold buffet.

A surprise birthday party was given Syd Mitchell by his wife on Saturday, October 5,

Mr. Ed Neal of McLeod Ave., who celebrated last Wednesday, Oct. 27 a very happy birthday to Ian Neal, who will celebrate this Saturday. Ian will reach the wonderful teens years and is having a mixed party on Saturday to prove it.

Trip

My little sweetheart, MacLeod Ave., took a trip to Ottawa on Saturday with his Aunt Betty. This is the second time he has had this trip on the train and enjoyed it this time just as much as the last.

Accident

Sorry to report that Mrs. Edith Bate of McLeod Ave., had a very bad fall a week ago Friday and is very badly bruised. Your friends and neighbours all wish you a speedy recovery. Edith.

St. George's Anglican Church News

The Women's Auxiliary of St. George's Church remind all the ladies of the congregation that the Annual Christmas Fair will be held in November and hope that everyone will do their share to make this a success.

The "Little Helpers" Party is to be held on October 19th in the Church hall. The ladies will need help in arranging for refreshments, programme etc., and would appreciate hearing from anyone who can assist in this annual event which is so important to the children in this congregation.

Holidays

The children attending the Protestant Schools will have Thursday and Friday of this week off, due to Teachers' Convention. Play carefully children and please stay off the roads, so that you may enjoy your holidays to the fullest.

In closing I would like to take this opportunity to say Happy Thanksgiving to everyone. If you are taking a trip or just out driving, please be careful. We can't afford to lose one reader. Please go to the Church of your choice, for we all have much to be thankful for.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Williamson of Logieville, N.B. and former residents of Valleyfield are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McEachern and Douglas left on Wednesday last to take up residence in Brampton, Ont. Best wishes to them in their new home.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lacroix (Rita Campbell) on the birth of a daughter on Friday, October 4th, at the Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Mrs. J. McCracken and Mrs. M. Johnston were Tuesday guests of Mrs. J. Poirier in Montreal.

Mrs. C. Gurnham has returned home from hospital in Montreal. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Reynolds of Ste. Dorthee were week-end guests in this city and visited with friends.

Mrs. Gunar Oleson of La Tuque, a former resident of Valleyfield, has been a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Evans.

Tham and Ference Somogyi. Hope you all enjoyed the trip and that it will help you in your work. Trips like this seem to be growing in popularity and it is certainly one way for the children to see parts of their own province. News anyone? 692-6060.

In Memoriam

CALDWELL — In loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away on October 13th, 1962.

At night when all is silent, And sleep forsakes our eyes, Our thoughts are on a lonely grave where our dear mother lies.

And now that October is here, The saddest part of all the year, It recalls again that shock severe when we parted with our darling mother, we loved so dear.

Sadly missed by, Eva and Jean.

CARSON — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Ross Carson, who passed away October 14, 1960.

We cannot halt the hands of time, Or live again the past. But we have precious memories.

That will forever last, Always remembered by, Wife, daughters Diane and Wendy.

QUIMET — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. John B. Quimet, nee Philanie Myre, who passed away October 12, 1960.

If we had the world to give, We'd give it, yes, and more To hear her voice and see her smile, And greet her at the door, But all we can do, dear Mother,

Is go and tend your grave And leave behind tokens of love To the best mother God ever made.

Sadly missed by her daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plante (Lorette), Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carriere (Irene) and grandchildren.

VIENNEAU — In loving memory of my dear wife Lavina who passed away Oct. 1st, 1962.

Dear Lavina you are not forgotten, Though on Earth you are no more, Still in memory you are with us as you always were before.

Ever remembered by husband, Tom and dear friend, Eileen.

Cards of Thanks

My sincere thanks to Drs. Sutton and Johnson and staff of the second floor of the Barrie Memorial Hospital for the excellent care we received there, also grateful thanks to all who so kindly remembered me with flowers, cards, gifts, visits and telephone calls.

Shirley and Andy Whyte.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. McCrimmon, the nurses and staff of the Huntingdon County Hospital for their good care and kindness shown to me, also to my friends, neighbours and relatives for visits, cards, letters, flowers and gifts received while in the hospital and since I returned home. All was very much appreciated.

Lucien Hart.

A special "Thank you" to Drs. McCrimmon, Cameron and Lefebvre, the matron, Mrs. Hawley, and all the nurses of Huntingdon Hospital who were so attentive to me, also those who donated flowers, sent cards or in any way contributed to my welfare during my stay in the hospital.

Letter From Descendants Of Early Resident Received

Recently received a request for two copies of the Centennial Issue of The Gleaner to be sent to Mr. P.A. Huntington and Mr. M. Huntington of North Bay, Ont.

The letter in part states: "For your information we are brothers. Our grandfather born in Prescott in 1828 became a Methodist minister and his first charge was in Huntingdon, Que., hence our interest in your town. His name was Rev. Silas Huntington. He came to this part of the north, we believe, in the 1870's, namely, Powassan, Trout Creek, Mattawa and New Liskeard. After the C.P.R. reached North Bay in the early 1880's he built the first church here."

It is indeed interesting to hear from these gentlemen and to learn of their connection and interest in our community.

Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Potter cutting the cake at their 25th wedding anniversary celebration.

A most enjoyable party was held in the Havelock Town Hall on Saturday evening, September 21, to celebrate the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Potter. It was planned by Miss Hilda Potter and Mrs. Fergus Moore. To the strains of the Wedding March, Mr. and Mrs. Potter were greeted at the door by their children, Hilda, Edwin and Eldon who presented their parents with corsages and then escorted them to the top end of the hall and all the guests, numbering over 200, joined in a Grand March round the room. Returning to their places, Mr. and Mrs. Potter received the entire company and happily accepted the congratulations showered on them. They were presented with a number of gifts of linen, china, glassware and silverware and also a well-filled purse. One very interesting gift received from Mr. and Mrs. Kevin McCann of Ohio, cousins of Mr. Potter, was a silver bombon dish with a design in black, a lovely example of native craft, brought from India by Mr. McCann who was on a tour of duty there as private secretary to (then) President Eisenhower.

After the presentation of gifts, an enjoyable evening of dancing, to the music of the Milne orchestra, went on until the early hours. During the evening refreshments were served and Mrs. Potter, looking very charming in a gown of pale blue silk and wearing a three-strand pearl necklace and her dainty corsage of small yellow chrysanthemums, cut the tastefully decorated four-tier wedding cake which had been made and presented by Mrs. Norman Doucette of Plattsburg. Modern dances, old-fashioned dances and square dances followed in quick succession and among the dancers could be seen friends from Plattsburg, Malone, Ellenburgh, Constable, W. Chazy and Moores. All agreed it was a most enjoyable celebration and the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Potter, in Hemmingford and district, joined with those present in wishing them many more such celebrations and years of happy married life.

To round off an enjoyable week-end, a telephone call, sending all good wishes, was received from their daughter Esther, Mrs. John Ashley of Fort Worth, Texas, who was unable to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Potter sincerely thanked their many kind friends who had helped in so many ways to make the party a success.

WEDDING

McDougall - James Grace United Church, Wainwright, Alta. was the scene of a double ring ceremony on Saturday, September 7th, 1963, in which Bonnie Fern, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald James of Wainwright and Milton Marshall, youngest son of Mrs. Alice MacDougall of Ormsdown, Que. and the late Alan MacDougall were united in marriage. Rev. Wendall Stevens performed the ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Praise My Soul the King of Heaven. Before the ceremony, "The Wedding Prayer" was sung by Miles Nystevold and during the signing of the register he sang "O Perfect Love".

The bride wore a gown of white satin brocade with sweetheart neckline and lily point sleeves, with shoulder length veil and tiara of seed pearls. Her flowers were Sweetheart roses with rosebud streamers mounted on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a pearl drop earring, a gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Donna and Lois Taylor of Edmonton who were dressed in Ruby peau de soie with matching headpiece and nosegays of white carnations and cultured pearl droplets, gifts of the bride.

The groom was attended by Jim Anderson and Cliff Campbell both of Edmonton. Ushers were Doug James, brother of the bride and Larry Scheinder. The groom's gifts to the men were cuff links.

The bride's mother wore a green and gold two-piece ensemble of silk crepe with brown hat and gloves. Her flowers were yellow mums.

Mrs. Eric Mac Dougall of Calgary, sister-in-law of the groom, chose a wool turquoise suit, with white hat and gloves and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the reception for the 120 guests, held in the church hall, an open house and dance was held in the Elk's Hall.

The couple travelled to Montreal and other eastern points including Ormsdown.

On the occasion of Beauharnois Centenary Celebrations, Standard Chemicals Ltd. invited the public to visit their plant on Sept. 25. All visitors received safety helmets, courtesy of Standard Chemical. Guides were furnished for the more than 500 persons who visited the firm. Mr. A. H. G. Sturton, manager of the plant, welcomed the visitors. Above we see some of the pictures which were taken in the course of the afternoon.

Pomona Grange News

OCTOBER 10th. 7.30 P.M. MALONE GRANGE HALL OFFICERS TRAINING SCHOOL. Deputy State Master Arthur Tanner would like to see ALL OFFICERS and as many members who care to attend this school training class at Malone Grange Hall on Thursday evening. There are several changes in Grange work to be conformed to this year.

NOVEMBER 9th. 8 P.M. Countrywide Neighbor Night at Denmark Grange Hall (near Lovville, Lewis County, N.Y.) when Franklin County granges will visit with the Theme Program "OPEN THE DOOR TO '64". Pomona Lecturer Eunice Jones of Malone would like as many members and friends to volunteer to go with her on this occasion. Please let Mrs. Jones know and mark your calendars.

Pomona 60th Anniversary Banquet held last Thursday at the Crossroads was a decided success when a goodly number of Maple Leaf members and friends attended, even with such inclement weather. The charter members of Maple Leaf who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Waterson, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Platt and Mrs. George Paul.

The distinguished guests included Mr. William J. Brake of Lansing, Michigan, Lecturer of National Grange and Master of Michigan State Grange; Mr. and Mrs. J. Alton of Poland, N.Y., Past Deputies of Herkimer County Mrs. Miles Houcks, of Dundee, N.Y., member of the State Service and Hospitality Committee and Past President of the Pomona Lecturers' Association and Pomona Lecturer of Yates Co.; Mrs. Bernard Bailey, State Pomona and Past President of Pomona Lecturers' Association of Lafayette, Onondago County; Assemblyman Hayward and Mrs. Plumadore of Saranac Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mullen of Stafford, N.Y.; (Mr. Mullen is President of the N.Y. State Pomona Lecturers' Association and Pomona Lecturer of Genesee County, and the Mullens have just been named the "Farm City Week Farm Family," of Genesee County for 1963.)

The groom was attended by Jim Anderson and Cliff Campbell both of Edmonton. Ushers were Doug James, brother of the bride and Larry Scheinder. The groom's gifts to the men were cuff links.

The bride's mother wore a green and gold two-piece ensemble of silk crepe with brown hat and gloves. Her flowers were yellow mums.

Mrs. Eric Mac Dougall of Calgary, sister-in-law of the groom, chose a wool turquoise suit, with white hat and gloves and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the reception for the 120 guests, held in the church hall, an open house and dance was held in the Elk's Hall.

The couple travelled to Montreal and other eastern points including Ormsdown.

P.A.P.T. Convention Highlights In Montreal October 10-11

The Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec will be holding their 99th annual convention in the High School of Montreal on October 10 and 11. Teachers from the Chateaugay Valley will be attending.

Following are the highlights of the two day meeting. The Honorable Claire Kirkland-Casgrain, Minister without portfolio, will bring the greetings of the Government of Quebec to the opening session on the morning of Thursday, October 10th. On Thursday evening, the Honorable Paul Gervin-Lajoie will address a public meeting in the auditorium of the High School of Montreal on the subject "A Minister of Education - a Necessity?"

Members of the Association and the public will thus have an opportunity to hear Bill 60 and the Report of the Royal Commission of Enquiry on Education discussed by the Minister charged with the responsibility of implementing the recommendations of the Report.

At the same gathering the Order of Scholastic Merit will be bestowed on sixteen Protestant educators chosen as representative of the best in the teaching profession.

Other Assembly Hall meetings. On Friday morning, October 11th, the Convention Committee, in co-operation with the Current Events Department of the Montreal Star, will present two prominent journalists: Bernard Kaplan of the Star's Paris Bureau, who will speak on "The End of Ideologies", and William Wilson, head of the Ottawa Bureau, whose subject will be "Canada's National Crisis". A panel discussion on "The Problems of the Emerging Nations" will follow, featuring exchange students from African and Asian countries who are attending university in Montreal.

Pre-convention Features. Handell's oratorio "The Creation" will be presented by the Montreal Elgar Choir as a "pre-convention" attraction in St. James United Church on Wednesday evening, October 9th. The choir of 175 voices will be conducted by Gifford Mitchell and accompanied by Miss Doris Killam at the organ.

On the same evening the internationally-acclaimed Danish Gym Team will perform at the Montreal Forum, under the direction of Erik Flensted-Jensen. The team is now on its sixth international tour and the performers, 16 girls and 16 boys, ranging in age from 17 to 25, were selected from the most skillful gymnasts in Denmark at the conclusion of a national competition among the hundreds of gymnastic clubs.

The programme includes a selection of Danish Folk dances for which the gymnasts are dressed in national costume. These authentic dances are performed with special care to give a true version of the steps, rhythm and pantomime.

McGill Professors Active. Dr. Kenneth Hare, Dean of McGill's Faculty of Arts and Science, the author of numerous books and articles on geography, meteorology, and climate, will address

Ladies' Auxiliary

The P.R.A. Ladies' Auxiliary held their first meeting Monday night at the Rustik. Mrs. Mary Myers resigned as president upon the advice of her doctor. I sincerely feel that with the cooperation of the wives whose husbands belong to P.R.A. that in the very near future there will be a strong association. Regardless of how small a job you undertake, it will be greatly appreciated. Let's see you all out in full force at our next meeting which will be the first Tuesday of November. Mr. Gordon Lynch was guest speaker.

Keep Fit Classes are well underway. Last Wednesday approximately 30 ladies attended. This course is open to all in the Chateaugay Area. For information call me at 691-1580 (We will be starting another class as soon as we receive 20 more interested ladies).

Home and School Association

The Mary Gardner Home and School Association held their first general meeting October 1st with an attendance of 350. The membership committee was on hand and enrolled 63 members. Becoming a member is a great help to the school, half the fee goes towards a Home and School magazine, the other is put into the Home and School Association fund to help provide youngsters with equipment they are in need of. Last year the association provided the school with drapes for the stage, two record players, an auto harp, two Science kits, rhythm band equipment, etc. By becoming a member you are not only helping the school but you are helping your youngsters as well. If any of you would like to help on the various committees, a friendly welcome awaits you.

Social

Jo-Ann Myers entertained 30 guests Friday night in honour of her 14th birthday. My goodness, what a time they had!

Birthday wishes to Mrs. Kershaw, mother of Mrs. Roberts, of St. Aubin Street who celebrates her birthday, October 10th.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bremner of St. Aubin St. who are the proud parents of a baby daughter born October 1, weighing 6 lbs., 11 1/2 ozs., sister for Mark Out of the Mouth of Babies.

Some time ago my seven-year old was busy muttering something, I didn't pay much attention. After a while she said "Mummy, I have made up a story, do you want to hear it?" This is what she came up with:

"God's way, is the way to stay. Always going the right way. If you should go off the track. He's always there to bring you back." There's a lot of truth in those words. Don't you agree? Speaking of youngsters, at the Sunday service last week, the congregation was singing the opening hymn when I thought I heard someone whistling. I looked down at my four-year old son and believe it or not it was he. I guess he couldn't sing, so thought he would do the next best thing.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy of St. Aubin St. are expecting Mr. Kennedy's mother who will arrive from Scotland Monday, October 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. Duchesneau of Huntingdon spent a couple of days visiting her daughter-in-law and grandchildren at St. Aubin St.

Joan Vedy has been laid up for a couple of days with an infected throat. Hope you are soon better.

Miss Jean Ritchie attended the Christie-Stacey wedding in St. Chrysostome on Saturday.

A fair crowd attended a card party on Saturday evening sponsored by the Howick Curling Club. Euchre prizes were won by Harold and Hazel Robertson. 500 prizes were won by Mr. K. Hate and Anno Welburn. Bridge prizes went to J. Taylor and Mrs. McWilliams. Euchre consolation went to Paul Perreault and Francis Reddick. 500 consolation went to Grace and Keith Robb.

Correction

For the Parent-St. Jean wedding the bride was driven to the church by her uncle. The groom was driven by Mrs. T. Nugent, who also drove the young couple to their reception.

Dr. K. McMillan, Montreal conducted the Communion Service at Howick United Church on Sunday morning. Dr. and Mrs. McMillan were guests at the home of Mrs. R. B. Tolhurst.

The Howick Boy Scout Troop will be busy next Saturday, Oct. 12 selling light bulbs.

Mrs. Edna Roberts, New York City spent several days with her cousin, Mrs. Ann Rich. Miss Snyder of Montreal was a week-end guest at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Harris, Wilton, Conn. were week-end guests at the home of Roy and Hugh Cameron. The Misses Christine Cameron and Mary Oxley spent Sunday at Meadowgum Farm. Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Roy Cameron were close friends for years in South Africa and later in Colorado, U.S.A. so were happy to be together again.

W.I. Meeting — A meeting of Howick Women's Institute was held on Tues. Oct. 1 at Allan's Corners in Miss Isabel Frith's cottage — Hope, an interesting place to meet, in view of the forthcoming celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Battle of Chateaugay, homes at Allan's Corners will be historical centres with women busy quilting, weaving, etc.

Mrs. R. B. Ness presided and 20 ladies answered the roll call with a donation to UNICEF according to the letters in their names.

Miss Frith was the special speaker and a real treat was provided. She gave a short talk on horticulture and showed slides of the Saguenay, Laurentians and local scenes. There were beautiful pictures of different flowers and the sunsets at Allan's Corners were superb.

Two $25. scholarships will be given to Howick High School students for the 1962-63 season. There was some discussion about the Home Economic prizes for next year. It is hoped that children may be taught mending details at some time so that buttons could be replaced and small mending jobs done neatly and without mothers help.

There will be two special courses on rug making and leather work during the last two weeks of October to be held at Howick Curling Rink. Separate classes will be held one during the afternoon, the other during the evening. Anyone is welcome to join.

Delicious homemade buns with tasty fillings were served by the hostess group.

Mr. Floyd Gruer has returned home after spending several days at Barrie Memorial Hospital following surgery on his left arm.

Michael Murray had to have an arm put back into working order at the Ormstown Medical Centre, following a game of soccer.

Red Cross Meeting — A Red Cross meeting was held Oct. 2 at the home of the President, Mrs. Fletcher opened the meeting and the secretary read different letters.

Plans were made for the Blood Donor Clinic which is to be held in the High School on Oct. 21st. Please come and give some blood any time from 2:30-4:30 and from 7 to 9:30.

Evening Auxiliary Meeting — The regular meeting of the Georgetown Evening Auxiliary was held Oct. 3 at the home of Mrs. Ross Elliot. Ida Galilee read the Scripture from Luke 10: 1-12 and Beatrice McCaig led in prayer. The roll call was answered with a verse containing the word "neighbour" and collection amounted to $9.50. Dorothy Barr read "The Pounds." A nominating committee was appointed as the next meeting is the annual meeting. Clothing for a bale was packed and valued at $100.85.

Obituary

The Late Mrs. Donald Orr — It was with profound sorrow that the community learned this past week, of the death of Marjorie Orr. She underwent an operation at the Barrie Memorial Hospital in November, 1962, and it was thought and hoped that the trouble had been eliminated. Returning home she took up her usual busy routine in the home and community. However, a motor trip she was taking with her husband and friends, during August, through the Gaspé Peninsula, had to be cut short and she returned again to the Hospital where, despite all the efforts of devoted doctors and staff, she passed away on Monday evening, September 30th.

Marjorie McGilton was born at Eaton's Corner in the Eastern Townships, just 54 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGilton. She graduated from Macdonald College and taught school in the Townships and in Hemmingford and it was here she met Donald Orr. They were married in June 1933 and to them were born a daughter, Mary and a son, Freddie. Besides being an efficient housewife and a devoted and loving wife and mother, Marjorie found time for many community activities. She was an active member of the St. Andrew's United Church and its various organizations, and the Hemmingford Women's Institute. She held various offices in the local Branch and also on the County and Provincial Boards. She organized and was the leader, for some time, of the local Cub Group and in 1945 joined the Order of the Eastern Star. Passing through various stations, she was elected Worthy Matron in 1959 of the local Victory Chapter No. 34, and for the past three years served as Secretary. This year she was District Deputy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Quebec, Order of the Eastern Star, District No. 2B. On Wednesday evening, the local Chapter held a funeral service at the house and this was attended by 60 members from the Hemmingford, Ormstown, Clarencerville and Mooers, N.Y. Chapters. Beautiful floral arrangements banked the walls of the room where the members gathered to pay a final tribute to a dear friend and worthy member of the Order.

The funeral service was held in St. Andrew's Church on Thursday afternoon, October 3rd and was conducted by Reverend G. Ficko, assisted by a former pastor, Reverend R. C. Belbin of Montreal.

The pallbearers were Halton Kennedy, Aylmer Hadley, Frank Deery, Robbie Hadley, Willie Beattie and Lynwood Cookman. The interment was in the Hemmingford Cemetery and arrangements were in the hands of Mr. Milton Sharpe.

Marjorie leaves her husband Donald, son Freddie and daughter Mary, Mrs. Dick Anderson and a granddaughter, Heather. Also a brother, Leonard McGilton and Mrs. McGilton of Stanstead, a sister, Sarah, Mrs. Newell Cairns of North Hatley, her stepmother, Mrs. Gertrude McGilton and several nieces and nephews. She leaves also many, many friends and acquaintances, not only in Hemmingford but in a wide area around, friends who deeply appreciated her and other members of the family for her self and for the generous giving of self, time and talent to the community and its many worthwhile projects. She will be sadly missed.

Young People — The Hi-C group met on Sunday evening for their regular meeting in the Church Hall, with ten members present. Some discussion took place regarding the selling of United Church calendars, but the final decision was tabled until the next meeting.

The hymn books which the group bought and presented to the Church were dedicated at last Sunday morning's service by Mr. Lloyd Martin. The Hi-C also made a donation of $5. to the work of the Bible Society. Thus, in these small ways it is very evident that the group, under their leader, Mr. Martin, is keenly interested in the welfare of the Church, and its function in the community.

On Thanksgiving week-end, Oct. 13; there will be no Hi-C meeting, and so the group adjourned to meet again on October 20th, when Bible Study will be the program.

Sacrament To Be Observed — The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed on Sunday morning, October 20th, with Rev. Black of Huntingdon in attendance. A Preparatory Service will also be held prior to this on Friday evening, October 18th.

Mrs. E. Fleming Enjoying Round The World Tour

At the time of writing, Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming is thoroughly enjoying herself in the Orient. She spent the week-end in Tokyo, Japan and later this week travelled to Kyoto, Japan.

Following is a list of the cities and countries she will visit in the six weeks she will be away. In addition to Hawaii and Japan, Mrs. Fleming will visit Hong Kong, Bangkok, Thailand, Calcutta, Benares, Agra, and Delhi in India, then Cairo, United Arab Republic, Istanbul, Turkey and Rome, Italy.

Mrs. Fleming is travelling by air in a party of 12, two of whom she had met on other European tours she has taken.

Accepts Position In Valleyfield — Last week it was learned that Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Quessel will be moving from Ste. Agnes, where they have made their home for the past several years to the city of Valleyfield, where Lorenzo has accepted a position with Marchand Freres, Ltd.

Formerly, Lorenzo has been employed by Mr. Jean Paul Latreille on his milk route and in his garage, and the young couple will be missed by all. However, the best wishes of the community go with Lorenzo and Ghislaine as they make for themselves, a new home in Valleyfield.

Dahlia's Whatnots

It is possible to believe that my brother-in-law, the in certain everyday facts of late Lt. Col. John Perry, life, once in a long while feeling a mid acceptance of their remarkable features, and then one day there comes to you in a flash a realization of their overwhelming miraculous significance.

One such fact, to my mind, is mother love, almost universal in humans and animals, present with the birth of the young, for whose preservation and the consequent preservation of the species it exists. That this love persists in the human kingdom as long as life, gives food for thought dating to immortality.

Another such supposedly ordinary, but stupendous fact, is that we find ourselves placed on a planet with such a scheme of relationship to the living life sun, a mighty instrument used by Almighty power to minister to weak man's need for work, rest, and nutrition, all controlled by an organized system of revolutions resulting in days and seasons — all for man, so weak that he requires twenty years of sleep out of 60 years of living.

The musical Indian name Kelowna never fails to hold my attention. It was there that a farmer named Moore lived nearby, answered with a query, "Are you looking for Arthur Moore's or for the town of Mooers?" The daughter, nudging her father, said, "Go on. He's just makin' a fool' uv ye." He went on leaving Mr. X highly amused. Years later he learned of their destination, and that the object of their journey was to import a new wife and step-mother. Sad to relate, I cannot end my little tale as the old storybooks always used to finish, making them live happy ever after, for the union did not end in togetherness.

Time was when tales very often ended with a formally stated moral. Another period of writing saw the moral, if there is any possible, is avoided, or obscured by a meringue of psychology. If any moral could be wrung from my lines about Moore's and Mooers it might be that whoever sets himself up as an authority on giving or altering the names of places in our Province should exercise commonsense and a sense of responsibility to history as well as consideration for convenience and speed in the distribution of mail. I am told that there are four different localities in Quebec bearing the name of the same Saint attached to a second name, resulting in a confusion of mail. Surely the list of names available from those of saints, heroes and other worthy personages, as well as distinctive scenic features is long enough to avoid such confusion.

Speaking of names of places like Mooers originally possessive, the rule is to drop the apostrophe while retaining the s. But it is a flexible rule, not applied when the idea of possession continues. What has happened to the past tense of, see, and, do? Highly educated people, regular eggheads supposedly, never now say, I saw, but, I seen, and this in radio quizzes and discussions. I did, is often replaced by, I done. English is certainly changing. The expression, leaning backwards, always reminds me of Mr. Z's chimney. He got a mason to build it in his new house, and worried the mason and himself lest it should not be plumb. When it was finished he saw that his fears had not been completely groundless, and said so. The mason tried to reassure him, saying, "It's plumb Mr. Z, it's plumb, and more than plumb."

One can lean backwards trying to speak grammatically. Somebody who has learned that it is wrong to say, You and me can sit here, and that, me, should be, I, will sometimes wrongly conclude that, Bring a seat for you and me, is also wrong and that, I, should replace me. In the social area, when it comes to deciding just how dressy an appearance is suitable for some particular occasion, or just how familiarly a new acquaintance should be treated, leaning backwards may be not such a bad thing, better than stooping forwards. One may feel better just a little too well garbed or just a little too reserved than a little too much the opposite, a little too casual.

Modesty leaned backwards for generations but then came to be called false, and nowadays stoops forward to such a degree that a tumble is often seen to be inevitable. Many Christians must have wondered whether one petition in the Lord's Prayer was correctly translated namely, Lead us not into temptation. Leave us not in temptation, sounds more logical, since it is addressed to our Father. One of the lecturers at the Couchiching Conference last summer, being asked why he thought there was a decadence in modern society, said that he noticed people seldom said grace any more. In the face of Islam's missionary zeal and prayer mats, it has been proposed that Christians of every sect might make the sign of the cross when taking a meal in a public place.

I am wondering if anyone ever found it as hard as I to remember how to spell the word piece. At last I thought of a trick. I composed the domineering, demanding sentence, Give my niece a piece of pie, and the magical number 3 won out again, even if the carnal taste for pie was in

d'avertissements aux automobilistes

Une assemblée régulière du Conseil de la Ville de Huntingdon a eu lieu mardi soir dans la Bâtisse du Comité; la correspondance comprenait: une lettre de Mme Hector Caz, rendant la ville responsable d'un accident survenu à la suite d'une chute dans un trou-d'homme sur la rue Bouchette. La plainte a été remise à la compagnie d'assurances de la ville.

La Commission Scolaire Protestante réclama, dans une lettre, part de surveillance de la part de la police municipale aux abords du Huntingdon High School sur l'heure du midi. Il s'ensuivit une discussion assez longue sur les transgressions nombreuses aux lois de la circulation dans la ville; il fut donc décidé qu'on avertirait la police municipale d'exercer une surveillance accrue et que des mesures plus sévères seraient prises contre les coupables, dont celle de les faire comparaître en cour à Valleyfield. On demandera aussi à la Police Provinciale de faire observer les lois de la circulation dans la ville.

Un "oeil magique" a été installé sur le nouveau pont de la rue Henderson mais sur recommandation de M. Hector Provost, gérant de la compagnie Shawinigan, le secrétaire sera au département de la Voirie à Québec pour demander que ces feux de la circulation opèrent avec ceux de la ville, selon la suggestion de M. Provost.

Une lettre sera envoyée aux Champlain Dairies Ltd d'Athelstan pour demander que soit partagée par cette compagnie la moitié du coût de nettoyage de la rivière Châteauguay au temps où celle-ci était jonchée de poissons morts.

À la suite d'une discussion sur le mesurage de l'eau potable, le conseiller McGerrigle annonça qu'il allait proposer à une assemblée ultérieure du conseil une motion à l'effet qu'une charge minipathy for the French student as he tussles with the four different sounds of our English, ough, as found in bough, ough, though, rough, and other pitfalls.

La Semaine Nationale de Jeunes Travailleurs

Pour les non initiés, c'est une semaine comme les autres, et pourquoi faire tant de bruit? Pour les intéressés, c'est un temps important, où il est bon de prendre contact avec le milieu de vie de ces jeunes. Pour les initiés, c'est une semaine fatigante, enseignante, passionnée; c'est l'occasion de quitter son égoïsme pour penser aux autres.

Que s'est-il passé, mardi dernier, le 1er octobre? Nos jeunes travailleurs et travailleuses se sont surpassés. Ils ont montré leur savoir-faire et savoir-vivre à la foule qui assistait, (environ 400, amis, étudiants, parents, travailleurs, (ses). Ils et elles ont prouvé qu'un mouvement de jeunes pouvait vivre activement à Huntingdon. Leur sketch fut présenté avec brio et vie. Le forum sur l'amour, même s'il dévia sur les loisirs, fit sortir les dieux de notre milieu. Et Dieu sait s'il y en a. Et qui va les solutions? Tous ceux qui s'entendent compte et s'en donnent la peine.

Le programme amateur, nous montra les nombreux talents cachés de chez-nous, tant jeunes qu'adultes. L'annonceur et sa partenaire ont su nous présenter chacun et chacune dans son art préféré: chant, danse, musique au piano, à la guitare ou au violon. La soirée se termina par un genre de veillée à la canadienne. La guitare a rencontré le saxophone, lesquels ont fait équipe avec le violon et le piano, pour égayer, faire sauter et dédramatiser les assistants demeurés présents.

Félicitations aux jeunes travailleurs et travailleuses, qui ont "trimé" dur, trois semaines durant, sans salaire. En plus, ils et elles ont organisé un voyage à Québec où 4,000 jeunes se réunirent au "Petit colisée" pour clôturer cette semaine par une prière communale, la messe communautaire et sermon. Dans l'après-midi avait lieu le grand concours amateur, où tous les gagnants de toutes les Fédérations, ont eu à faire valoir leur talent. Ainsi un jeune de Québec remporta le trophée pour l'an 1963.

Où est la formation et l'éducation dans tout cela? En J.O.C., la formation est par l'action et l'organisation d'activités où les jeunes peuvent s'entrechoquer, "s'engueuler", discuter, s'entendre, se connaître, et s'aimer les uns les autres pour l'amour de Dieu.

Ainsi ils combattent leur égoïsme, trop souvent encre chez les adultes. Ils et elles développent leur personnalité pour eux, par eux, pour elles et entre elles. En vrac, je les félicite tous et toutes d'avoir bien réussi la semaine des jeunes travailleurs (ses).

Corps de Clairon des Cadets de l'école St-Joseph

Rapport sur la collecte faite par les cadets

Un premier article annonçait que notre objectif était fixé à $1,000.00. Nous n'avons pas encore atteint ce montant, loin de là, après être passés à toutes les maisons de la ville, nous n'avons recueilli que $410.78. Il est à noter que $30.10 venait de la rue Ridge où Gérald McDonagh a fait la collecte. Je remercie ces gens chaleureusement, Gérald, et tous les garçons, qui ont fait leur large part.

Quelques citoyens étaient un peu déçus de ne pas avoir eu un reçu. Je suis seul responsable de cet oubli et non pas les garçons. Ils ont fait cependant une liste des dons recueillis, et si quelqu'un désire un reçu, je leur en fournirai un avec plaisir.

Allons mes amis ne nous arrêtons pas là; vous êtes tous certainement intéressés à voir vos garçons recevoir cette formation. Ils ne s'amusent pas dans les rues pendant ce temps. Nous avons 32 membres actifs dans le corps de clairon; cette année, le nombre a été augmenté jusqu'à 70, et il y a des demandes encore. Comment les refuser? Ils recevront l'entraînement nécessaire, mais cela ne veut pas dire qu'ils porteront l'uniforme; ils seront prêts au besoin.

Il me fait plaisir de vous donner ici la liste des dépenses à prévoir cette année. $300.00 pour une vieille dette, $300.00 pour 6 barytons qui compléteront notre ensemble, $300.00 de salaire pour aide nécessaire, et $250.00 pour réparations aux instruments, totalisant $1,150.00.

Je fais encore appel à votre générosité pour atteindre notre objectif. Vous pouvez envoyer vos dons à moi-même, 28 rue Bouchette H'don. Je remercie tous ceux qui ont déjà contribué, les garçons vous en sont reconnaissants.

Editorial Notes...

Plan To Be There

TEN days from now, on October 19, we of the Chateauguay Valley are celebrating the anniversary of the Battle of Chateauguay on the original site of the Battle, at Allan's Corners. The Gleaner was advised some weeks ago that publicity regarding the event was well in hand, that there would be advertisements and features in the press, on radio and television. A few weeks previous to that, when we were told that the annual Chateauguay Valley Historical Society Ball would be held in Montreal and not in the Chateauguay Valley, we expressed keen disappointment and anxiety, but were told the Society had reached the decision, that plans were final and it was only being done because money was desperately needed and larger accommodations were needed for the Ball.

Be that as it may, there is not much time left to publicize the Commemoration of the Battle of Chateauguay. Every person has a duty to perform on that day, and that is to be there. A few willing workers of the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society have undertaken a terrific task and they are doing yeoman work, but the help of everyone is needed. One local organization, the Lions Club of Ormstown, has put its shoulder to the task and in the short time elapsed since being asked to help, has accomplished much, but more help is needed.

The week of October 2nd saw the City of Beauharnois celebrate its Centennial with tremendous success. Surely the people of the Chateauguay Valley, which includes Beauharnois as well as Valleyfield, Chateauguay, Hemmingford, Ormstown, Franklin, Howick, Huntingdon, Ste. Martine, Ste. Philomene, Franklin, Havlock, Melocheville, St. Antoine Abbe, St. Chrysostome, etc., should be well aware of the Commemoration date and be out en masse and give their support to the Historical Society and to the Lions Club. We humbly suggest that the powers in this project have posters printed in French and English and put in every available window in the Valley; we also suggest that every organization and club should be invited to have representatives there; we think children should be advised at school to attend if at all possible.

The above was written on Friday and since then a few posters have appeared, but the ones we have seen are in English only. Why, when we are celebrating the 150th anniversary of a national event, are the posters not printed in both languages, especially when we, the English minority, are being accused of not even wanting to speak French. We don't know who printed the posters but we hope more are printed, in French, and distributed without delay.

In short, although sometime ago we were made aware that our suggestions were not needed, we now feel that if this event is to be successful in any measure to the degree of the success enjoyed by the City of Beauharnois, the "country" press must take a stand on its own, welcome or not.

To this end, we ask our readers to lend their full support. First of all, plan to attend and bring your families and friends. If you have some 18th century clothes, get decked out in them. If you're a farmer and still have a horse and carriage, tell Dobbin it's her day too and that's she's needed for atmosphere. If you have an antique car, crank it up or else borrow or rent one like so many people in Beauharnois did. If you have antiques of any kind, take them along, other people will want to see them and who knows, some rich antique fancier might offer you a fabulous price for them.

Let's pitch in and make the day one to remember. If you think you can help in any way or if you have an antique to show, contact any member of Ormstown Lions Club, or any member of the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society.

And the ball: We hope it's going to be more successful than last year, but to make sure, buy a ticket whether you can go or not. Next year it will be held back in the Valley, rain or shine, of this we have been assured. If you and your neighbour will help, we can help the willing few to transform a shaky undertaking into a firm success and will be a fitting commemoration of an historic event.

Fire Prevention Week

THIS is Fire Prevention Week (October 6 to 12) and we hope everyone in the Chateauguay Valley has given some thought to the matter. Somewhere around our homes most of us have combustible accumulations such as old newspapers, cleaning cloths, etc., that should be disposed of. Perhaps there is also a faulty appliance in the home that keeps blowing fuses. Or maybe there's a can of gasoline in the garage that won't be needed for the lawnmower but which, if left around, might easily be a fire hazard. Again, last year's babies are now big enough to get at matches and lighters. Keep all such things out of reach of children. We can all think of dozens of fire hazards, here, there and everywhere, but this week is Fire Prevention Week and right now is the time to eliminate as many of them as possible.

Most of the schools in the Chateauguay Valley will be instructing students to be on the lookout for fire hazards. In Huntingdon, Police Chief Joffre L'Heureux will visit the schools and tell the children what they can do to help prevent fires. Posters will also be displayed around town and a fire prevention parade was held last night (Tuesday).

Farmers, too, are urged to take precautions. While most barn fires in our community are caused by spontaneous combustion in haymows and grain bins, or else are the result of electrical storms, some have also been known to occur because of someone's careless smoking habits. Don't smoke in barns and don't allow visitors to do so either. Make a check in your barns as well as your home to be sure that motors for pumps, etc., are not overheating. Most farmers are jacks-of-all-trades in addition to being the nation's foremost industrialists, and they know of fire hazards around their buildings, but like many, some of them put off doing anything about them. Now, during Fire Prevention Week, is the time to act.

Don't wait until New Year's to resolve to refrain from carrying loose matches in your pockets, for instance.

Fires, whether in our homes, our farms or industries, are usually accompanied by great personal loss. It is a well-known fact that honest people don't carry enough fire insurance, by that we mean anywhere near enough for replacement. Neither have many of us considered that a $5,000 policy 15 years ago would have a replacement value at today's costs of only slightly more than half this amount. Nobody is immune to being burned out — fire can strike anybody, anywhere — rich, poor, French, English, immigrant or someone living in the house his great-grandfather built. But, we can all take a look around, recognize at least some of the fire hazards, and then do something about them now, during Fire Prevention Week.

And last but not least, some people, especially in Huntingdon, Ormstown and Howick, seem to have a knack of getting in the way when the fire trucks are called out. Get out of the way, pull your car over to the curb and wait until the fire truck reaches its destination, or at least passes, before you proceed along our narrow streets. The sound of the fire siren isn't an open challenge to every Tom, Dick or Harry to kick the gas to the floor and see if he can get to the fire station before the reels pull out. Clear the way and let the firemen get to where they are needed without delay.

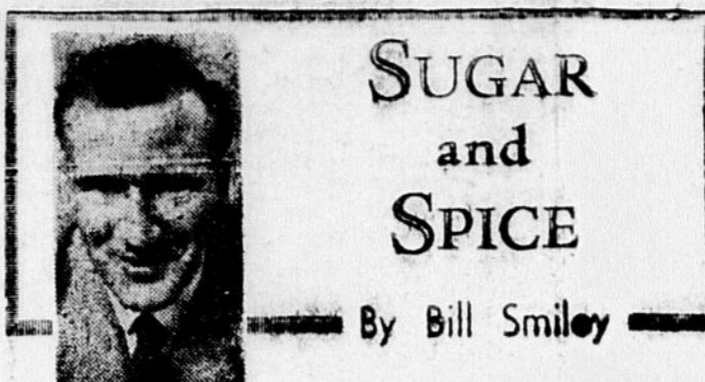

Just one more thing: the Municipality of Hinchinbrooke is forming a volunteer fire department; Ormstown volunteer firemen sponsored a public Bar-B-Q this summer to raise funds for equipment; Huntingdon firemen will soon be having a fund-raising project. It cost money and time to form and maintain a fire department and these men stand ready to help one and all if the need arises, so give your support in dollars whenever you are accorded an opportunity.

Clear Indication of Our Saving Habit

LAST year again, Quebec attained the highest individual average in the payroll purchase of Canada Savings Bonds: an average of $388.04 per buyer, which is $45 higher than the Canadian average. British Columbia ranked second with an individual average of $368 among wage-earners who bought Savings Bonds.

The payroll plan may be credited with a major part of the Canada Savings Bonds success in Quebec. It is sometimes said that Quebecers are spendthrifts, that we

SUGAR and SPICE

By Bill Smiley

Attended a fighter pilots' reunion last week-end, and am happy to report there's still a lot of fight left in the old fighter pilots, although I am forced to confess that a good many of us were not as young on Sunday morning as we thought we were Saturday night.

I shuddered deeply when the long-distance call came through, and the familiar voice chortled, "Hullo, Willie, Dutch here."

Each time Dutch calls, which is every two or three years, I whisper gently to myself, "Oh, dear." I know perfectly well that whatever he has in mind will be intriguing but exhausting.

We have a peculiar relationship. He taught me to fly Spitfires about 20 years ago in England. Ten years later, he walked into a hotel in a Canadian resort area, grinning broadly, and said, "Hullo Willie." I had not seen him in the meantime. Next day I went off with him on the most unusual fishing trip I've ever experienced.

He's an Australian of great charm, a certain ruthlessness, a fantastic energy, and an extreme individuality. Add to these a keen mind and a rare flair of the wild caper, in some moods, and you have most of him.

Except that he's a bachelor and doesn't have to cope with women and children and responsibilities and all that rot when he comes up with one of his hair-raising stunts.

The infuriating thing is that he always acts as though one of these ordeals he gets me into is purely medicinal, a tonic rather than a mankiller. 'Twas so this time: "Fighter pilots' party in Montreal. Thought it would be good for you. I've booked finer than the sheer, naked courage with which he doggedly attacked the thing at 4.30 in the afternoon.

There was the real, live Spitfire. Chap had assembled it at the Lakehead and had flown it down for the reunion. He put on a show in what is probably the last flying Spitfire in the world, and the eyes of the old boys, majority of whom had flown Spits, were almost wet with nostalgia and booze as they watched the little lady go through her paces.

There was the awesome exhibition of hair-fine precision flying and cold nerve of Canada's famous Golden Hawks. With the old pro looking on, the boys really put on a show that made most of us glad we'd been born 20 years before these jets were invented.

Having strayed from the main group, as I so often do, I watched the air show with a little French kid, about eight, who came and stood beside me. He spoke no English, I only a little French, but we had rapport. We said "WOW!" together every time the jets seemed to collide. He shook hands gravely when he had to leave "pour le supper."

My only regret is that the fighter pilots don't meet every year, instead of every two or

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC, (CP) Prospects of a legislative session this fall appear to have diminished.

While it looks as though the Government hasn't come to any decision, circumstances appear to be against a sitting of the Legislature before the new year.

Two remarks by Premier Lesage this week in Quebec have led many observers to conclude that only a faint possibility remains for calling the House together.

He said that he has told Prime Minister Pearson he would prefer Nov. 25 for the start of the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Conference. And he remarked that the Cabinet's Legislation Committee would begin detailed study of amendments suggested during the all-summer fight against the measure.

Now he, and the other members, are fighting mad for another reason. Antonio Talbot, a front row opposition member, former Interim Party Leader and former Roads Minister, has been charged with defrauding the government while he was in office.

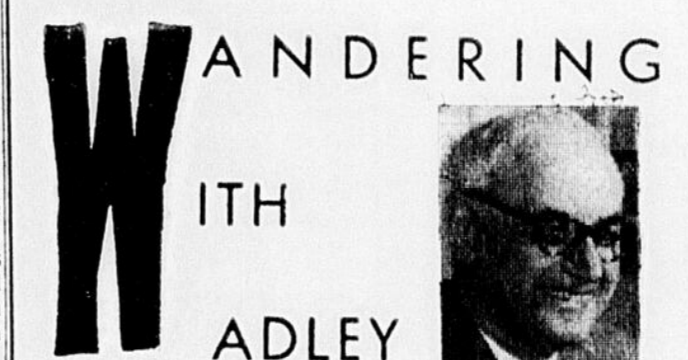

The charges were laid as a result of the Salvas Royal Commission's findings following investigation of purchasing practices under the Union Nationale.

In reaction to the Liberal Government's having one of their oldest members hailed before the courts, the Union Nationale is not expected to go out of its way to make life easy for the government on matters when the session comes.

A special session had been foreseen for the fall in Quebec's rush to get a contributory, portable pension plan into Legislation before Ottawa. But Ottawa has backed down and Mr. Lesage has said he doesn't see the need for an immediate session on pensions. Besides, actual studies on the plan are not complete.

There had been a possibility of a special session to get Bill 60 into law this fall. But time and circumstances now seem against it.

As one person put it: "A special session is mathematically possible but looks physically impossible."

After the food, the most fascinating and interesting part of sea voyage is the group of fellow passengers one is privileged to meet. It has always been my good fortune to meet up with some most interesting people and this voyage is no exception. Of course, not everyone of one's fellow travellers can be one's cup of tea but then, the shoe might well be on the other foot and this sobering thought causes one to be more tolerant.

The preceding paragraph was written to meet the exacting requirements of my detractors who claim that I am too generous with my "I's" and "ME's". But now, back to normal.

Right early on the voyage I met up with a charming lady of somewhat more than ample proportions who almost immediately turned herself into a personal information bureau in that she told me she had a Buick, a chauffeur to drive it, a lovely little cottage in Sussex, the garden of which ran almost down to the sea, that she always spent the winters down she had a married son in Montreal and that she was contemplating renting an apartment in Westmount for the summer months but did not think that she should have to pay more than $250 a month for the very simple apartment she would require. The strange thing about this was that the dear lady did not appear to be the least bit boastful in reciting this capsule history. It was given more in the form of a memorized monologue which had to be recited on meeting strangers in order to ensure that her status in life be understood and accepted. But I must not mislead you into thinking that such somewhat vainglorious soliloquies, however accurate they may be, are the sole right and privilege of the ladies. As we entered the French harbour of Le Havre a grizzled (I believe that means grey and crinkly) haired gentleman informed me, all within the space of five minutes, that he was a retired Prison Governor, that he had flown an observation plane with the British Grand Fleet at the Battle of Jutland, that he had later taken part in the landing at the Gallipoli Peninsula and that in his opinion the whole operation was fouled up by the laziness and inefficiency of the so-called British Headquarters Staff who much preferred to go swimming in the Dardanelles than get muddled up fighting battles and also that he had taken part in the Dunkirk evacuation. All of which, after sizing him up, I am perfectly willing to accept as the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help me, etc. etc. Throughout the whole course of his recital he was looking at me intently with a monocle firmly affixed to the right eye. Rather disconcerting don't you know because he looked as if he was daring you to have the temerity to challenge his statements. Just as if I would!

Talking of monocles, we have two on board and this is about the greatest aggregation of such objects that I have seen for many a long day. But we have a complete dearth of titles. On the way to England we had no less than five "Sirs" on the passenger list but the best we can do on this westward trip are three rather inconspicuous, but doubtless devout, Rev. I do hope that the fact one of them smokes a pipe all day long and the other two cigarettes and that at least two of them play Bingo and Horse Racing every evening will not get them in wrong with their congregations. So far, there has been no kicking up of their heels on the dance floor.

As you well know, there are always the health enthusiasts who always insist that galloping round the decks five or more times each morning before breakfast does something for the digestive organs or the bile or whatnot and thus enables them to tuck away a far more substantial breakfast than we more indolent people who insist on staying in bed a bit longer and are content to let the digestive organs or the bile or the whatnot take care of themselves as they have been wont to do these past many years. Besides these healthly, zestful souls have had their schedule really loused up these last few days as yesterday (Saturday) it was so rough and windy outside that it was impossible to keep on your feet on the wet decks and today (Sunday) we are having a lovely rain. It is making us all homesick for England.

Today is the day on which we all go to the ship's church service irrespective of whether or not it is our normal custom. Most of the passengers make an attempt to attend, weather permitting. Some of them go because they sincerely feel an uplifting of the spirit in so doing, others because they used to do so when they were younger but now find it impossible, particularly during the summer because of the insistent demands of the summer cottage or the golf course or both and still others just out of curiosity and because there is nothing better to do until lunch time. I would not attempt to guess which of the three groups would be in the majority. Oh yes, I forgot one other group. This is their only opportunity to see their temporary guide, philosopher and friend, the Ship's Captain.

MY VISIT In The Soviet Union

(By Shirley McNicol)

With such a surprising number of Canadians following the popular trend of vacationing abroad and later describing their travels either in writing or picture form, it seems pointless for me to write about the usual tourist attractions, such as the changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace, a walk along

Edinburgh's Royal Mile, a boat trip down Paris' Seine River, Christmas in the Swiss Alps, or a fiord cruise along the Norwegian Coast. Rather, I have decided to describe my impressions of the experiences which, judging by questions asked me, seem to interest most people: my trip to Russia — a walk along a Soviet street and a visit to a Russian home, and perhaps a look at London's weather.

The tour was sponsored by the Institute of Education, University of London, and all arrangements were made by the Institute through Intourist, which is the chief agency in the Soviet Union for foreign travel. Transportation, accommodation, interpreter and guide services were all provided for us by Intourist, and so we were extremely well organized and conducted. I use the term "conducted" and not "guarded" because at no time I suspect that our activities were being observed. The only restriction I recognized was that we were unable to leave the city we were visiting. This was enforced by collecting our passports on arrival at the hotel, and not releasing them until departure time. There seemed to be no check made of any of our movements. After being given a sightseeing tour of the city and conducted visits to educational institutions, we were quite free to spend our time as we chose, either at the Bolshoi, opera house, puppet theatre, concert hall or just out walking along the streets.

A walk along a Soviet Street

At first when I wandered from our Moscow hotel which overlooked Red Square and the Kremlin, I was interested only in observing people. There were literally crowds everywhere, all moving about quickly and purposefully. Although it was April, the weather was still quite wintry, and so everyone was dressed in heavy comfortable clothing. Coats were generally dark in colour, but the fur hats worn by men, the coloured head scarves worn by the women and the bright neck scarves tied about the children's fur coat collars added the pleasant contrast. I was greatly interested in the faces of these people. Contrary to what I was expecting, there were no sad or resigned expressions. Most appeared determined and yet happy. Quite often we were smiled at or gazed upon. In the form of approaches made by teenage boys notably to buy American jazz records, ball pens or chewing gum. Some of our group were also asked to sell clothing. My only opportunity at this kind of trading occurred one day as I was looking at some prints in a book store. I was surprised to hear a young man whisper to me in English that he knew of a place where I could buy some paintings very cheap. No transactions took place.

Perhaps what astonished me most during my first walk was the type of work which women do. In any direction were seen women endlessly shovelling snow and then sweeping the streets with twig brooms. In building or road repair areas were women wheeling barrows, laying bricks driving trucks or tractors. The few police guards were sometimes women, but most of the door custodians were. I even saw a young girl plastering, and an older woman hammering, while a man stood by supervising. There were all hefty women, and as was explained to us, were people who were unable to accept training for other jobs. In the Soviet Union it was impressed upon us that all people are given the opportunity to do the work for which they are best qualified. This, I realized, can hardly allow for freedom in choosing work.

I was surprised too at the difference in street traffic. The Russian main streets tend to be wide and spacious, with few cars, and many trolley buses and regular buses. Being curious, I took a ride in one of the buses and was quite startled to find that they operate on an "honour" system. The driver is the only employee, and seemingly has nothing to do with the passengers. The passengers board the bus through the back door, put four kopeks (equivalent to five cents) in a machine, and later alight from the front door. There is no conductor or guard to check this. Everyone is simply expected to obey regulations. What was interesting too was the cheapness of transportation. The amount of four kopeks carries anyone any distance within the city limits. A similar amount is charged for a subway ride. It was certainly a thrilling experience to enter a Metro station, with elegant decor — sparkling chandeliers, interesting sculptures, and spotlessly clean tiled floors.

There was a striking similarity about the appearance of most buildings. As people do not live in private homes, there are literally miles of apartment blocks, mostly a drab yellow in colour. Only in Kiev in the Ukraine, did we notice any bright paint on the apartment balconies. Along the shopping area it was often impossible to distinguish the type of store, as the windows were quite small and poorly displayed. In any of these shops which I entered, I was surprised to find long queues of people standing patiently, waiting either to look at or to buy goods. There were queues first to look at articles and to acquire a chit with the price marked on it. Then there was another line to present this chit and money to the cashiers. Finally the third line was formed to pick up the paid article.

The clothing for sale was largely of cheap quality, but prices seemed high in comparison with Canadian goods. The one feature about shopping which was most noticeable was that all prices were standardized.

While walking along the streets, I was impressed with the availability of newspapers, posted on large boards daily. These papers were conveniently displayed at bus stops, where often they were read by lines of waiting people. Another interesting scene which I enjoyed taking pictures of were the young children minded by Babushka. As most parents work, their small families — usually one, two or three — are cared by the grandmothers. And as living quarters are so very crowded, children spend most of their waking hours in the parks, carefully supervised by their grandmother.

A visit to a Russian Home

Since I have just referred to living accommodation, it may be of interest for me to describe a home which I visited in Moscow. Through the kindness of some teachers whom we met in schools, we were given an opportunity of visiting a home. I was fortunate to be included in a small group who were invited to the home of a college teacher, one who was obviously in the top bracket of position, salary and standing in the Party. (These facts were clear to us when we later compared her home with that of an ordinary worker's two-room apartment, when we were told that professors are the highest paid people in the country, and also when we learned that this teacher had been sent abroad as a conference delegate.)

We rode with our hostess on a bus to one of the many large apartment blocks some distance from our hotel on Red Square. Although the exterior of the building resembled others, we realized it was different when we were lifted from the first to fourth floor on a three-person elevator which in most buildings is not existent. The apartment which provided a home for five adults contained three small rooms, a small kitchen, a small bathroom and a tiny hallway. In one room — that of the grandparents — were a day bed, clothes' wardrobe, bureau, television set and three chairs. In another, belonging to the parents, were a sofa-bed, wardrobe, bureau, desk, large dining table, chairs. The third room — that of their daughter who was now twenty-one and so was entitled to a room of her own — contained a chest-of-drawers, bureau, wardrobe, desk and chairs. The tiny kitchen, which had cupboards, a two-burner gasoline stove and oven, and a small refrigerator was something of our hostess was very proud of in the bathroom there were not only the essential articles, but a cot in the tub, which were told, was set up in the entrance hall at night for an aunt who was visiting the family. We realized why there was such pride in showing us the home when we learned that most families live in two rooms and share a common bathroom and kitchen with as many as three to six other families.

After we were shown the entire flat, we were invited to watch television for an hour, during which time we viewed a variety of shows and which our hostess kindly interpreted for us. Later we were served a delicious meal in the room containing the large table. We were quite overcome by the repast — crab salad, tomatoes, cucumbers and lettuce (which we saw at no other time during the tour), caviar, meat loaf, ham, delicate eel, black bread, Napoleon pastry, cake, vodka and coffee. The usual bortsch (red cabbage soup) was not served because this was an evening meal. The table setting with silver and linen was quite elaborate considering the limited space. Following the pleasant meal hour, and just before departure, we were asked to sit down around the table and remain silent for a minute. Our hostess explained that this was a custom which families kept to wish their friends a safe journey. This incident will continue to be one of the most touching of the many memories I have of my trip.

To conclude my account, I will briefly mention that the tour I had of the Kremlin and of the Mausoleum, where I, with hundreds of others, after patiently lining up in Red Square, viewed Lenin's tomb and remains, was a most interesting and revealing experience. Great respect is shown for the privilege of visiting these two attractions. This was obvious from the queues of people who observed almost complete silence, and from the small detail of having to tie on felt coverings over our shoes before we were allowed to enter the treasured museums within the Kremlin Armoury.

In order that these impressions are correctly interpreted, I should like to emphasize that they were formed from observations made in a very short time. Also I should stress that the purpose of my trip was to examine the educational system, and so the descriptions of street scenes were based on impressions gained from my wanderings.

Dundee

Last Sunday an evening service was held in Zion United Church. The Explorer Group of girls was given a second Red Star after having fulfilled the necessary requirements, that of attending Sunday School and their Explorer meetings regularly. Both of the Tyro Boys and the Explorer Girls have finished their Mission Study about Hong Kong. A special project this last year was to help raise $20,000 towards the work the United Church is doing in Hong Kong, that of helping to provide food, clothing, shelter, schools in this most crowded of cities. The children gave all their summer contributions to this project and all $13.45 to send away. Two films about Hong Kong were shown at this service.

Lacolle

The Centennial celebration in Beauharnois took place last week, September 21 to 29. On Saturday a parade was organized by the Royal Canadian Legion of Beauharnois. All branches of District 13 were represented. The Colour Party from Lacolle, Ormstown, Howick, Valleyfield, Chateauguay, Caughnawaga and Beauharnois took part. The parade was about a mile long and was headed by the R.C.M.P. in their red coats, Royal 22nd Regiment, R.C.N., 37th Regiment R.C.A., Pipe Band of the 3rd Battalion Black Watch, two college bands and a band from the Royal Canadian Army. To top it all off there was a fly-past of R.C.A.F. Jets. There were many horses and buggies, and old cars with the drivers and passengers dressed in the costumes of 1863.

It was a well organized parade and the people of Beauharnois deserve hearty congratulations for such a fine turnout. It must have taken much time and effort to stage such a fine affair. The Beauharnois Royal Canadian Legion served a buffet dinner to all Legionnaires and their families as well as to all service personnel who took part in the parade.

Farmers In Area Receive Assistance From Government

It will be remembered in this area that some time ago a large number of our farmers suffered from the effects of drought and as a result some loss in crops was sustained. Mr. Kenneth Fraser promised he would bring this plight to the proper authorities and a number of claims were made. Further to this, a number of the claims have been acknowledged and the following is a list of the farmers who received assistance

Mr. Ken Fraser has been advised by the Quebec Department of Agriculture that district farmers who filed claims for 1962 crop damages, will shortly receive cheques, as follows: Claims under $100, no remuneration; Claims exceeding $100 will be paid on the basis of one-half amount claimed.

It is believed that this is the first instance of this government helping the farmers by subsidizing in cash for crop losses and Mr. Fraser is to be commended for his efforts.

FRANKLIN CENTRE — Mr. and Mrs. Horton Blair of San Diego, California and Mrs. Lulu McIntosh of Huntingdon called on Mr. R. J. Blair recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dubois of Ville St. Laurent spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Towns.

We are pleased to report that Mr. Herbert Clarke was able to return home Wednesday from the Barrie Memorial Hospital although he will still be under the doctor's care for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Esbenschade of Quarryville, Pa., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tipping and Mr. R. J. Blair recently.

Mr. Fred Broder and his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Broder of Morrisburg, Ont., paid his usual visit to the Dunn Cemetery where some of his relatives are buried. He was much pleased with the care the cemetery is receiving. He also made several calls, among others the original Broder homestead now owned by Mr. Ross Dunn, the Harvey family.

The past week has been perfect apple picking weather and the work is still going on steadily. In some orchards there is quite an amount of haled fruit only fit for juice, which has to be picked and sorted even for that. It is hoped this nice weather will continue a while longer even though frost has nipped a good many gardens.

Mr. Robert Brooks of Carleton Place, Ont., was an overnight guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Brooks, also Mr. and Mrs. Russel Brooks on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hope and Mr. Wm. Hope attended the Fenn-Hope reception in Howick on Saturday evening.

General Meeting of United Church Women, Huntingdon

On Wednesday evening Sept. 18th, the general meeting of the U.C.W. was held in the church hall.

Units 4 and 5 had charge of the worship service, and Mrs. Gordon McLean, Mrs. Henry Wallace and Mrs. W. E. Black presided. The theme being "Thanksgiving a Thank Offering was received.

Mrs. Beal, the president, after extending a warm welcome to the visiting W.C.T.U. members and all present, conducted the business period.

After officer's reports had been given, the new business was taken care of.

Plans were made for the social period following the Salvation Army service Sept. 29th, and the date of November 22nd was set aside for the Fall Bazaar and Tea held annually in the church hall.

All reports of the different committees, letters of appreciation and appeals for the supply work were heard.

Discussion of the Property Committee's report given by Mrs. J.A. Brown, was followed by a motion to be acted upon by the committee.

It was with regret that Mrs. Beal announced the illness of Miss Winnie Rowles, leader of the Dewittville Unit.

The next meeting takes place November 29th, when all committees and officers will give their annual reports, and election of new officers will be held to replace those who have served so well during the 2-year period now drawing to a close.

The resignation of Mrs. Leslie Sanderson Vice President, was accepted with regret.

Mrs. Pearl Beattie introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Watson, World's Secretary of the W.C.T.U. and a most interesting speaker.

She said that the world's greatest problem to-day is alcohol, and felt the Church had been too complacent to allow the liquor problem to reach such a state.

Beautiful slides of Japan and India where she has recently travelled, were enjoyed.

Mrs. Watson commented that the people of India do not drink on religious grounds. It is considered an indiscretion and a sin. Mrs. Beal thanked the guest speaker.

Refreshments were served by members of Units 4 and 5.

Rockburn

This past week-end 525 Jehovah's Witnesses ended their largest convention in the Eastern Townships at the Mitchell School in Sherbrooke. The presiding minister of the Rockburn congregation, Mr. Kowalenko, noted the assembly theme, "Feed my little sheep," stressed the need of daily Bible study as a means of instructing both ourselves and others in the accurate knowledge of God's purposes.

Mr. Kowalenko pointed out that reports from the 11 congregations represented at the convention, showed 48 new ministers had begun taking an active part in teaching others the good news of God's kingdom during the past service year.

"Among these 48 were 6 young ministers who began their house-to-house training. By attending the assembly with their parents, they benefited from the many demonstrations and informative talks which gave us practical suggestions on how to take a personal interest in aiding those with whom we come in contact to a better appreciation of God's Word," said Mr. Kowalenko.

The outstanding event was the Sunday discourse, "The Bible Triumphs In A Scientific World," by Laurier Saumur district supervisor of the Witnesses.

In discussion of the question, "Does scientific fact clash with the Bible?" Mr. Saumur declared, "If you reject what the Bible teaches concerning the origin of life, then, to be consistent you must also reject the established findings of true science, which expose theories that have no basis whatsoever in scientific fact."

In conclusion, Mr. Saumur said, "In this age when science has become the 'sacred cow' individuals are faced with a decision of what kind of science to accept. Will you follow the way of the Great Scientist, Jehovah God and his triumphant Word, the Bible, or will you choose the way of pseudo-scientists and suffer their fate? Your future, yes, your life, depends on your choice."

Mr. Kowalenko expressed the response of all homecoming delegates from the convention by saying, "The fine program has really encouraged me to be a more productive minister in my own community."

Hemmingford Native Dies
Charles Wilton Scriver, retired wholesale merchant and in his youth a prominent athlete, died on Wednesday at his residence in Westmount in his 77th year.

The son of the late Hon. and Mrs. Julius Scriver, he was born in Hemmingford and attended the old Fawcett Boarding School in Montreal.

Accounts to the amount of $3000 were passed for payment at the regular meeting of Huntingdon Town Council.

Of all "God's chillun" none has more faith in his Maker than the American Negro. A sense of humor, a philosophy as uncomplicated as a child's and an abiding trust in "de Lawd" have allowed him to survive the insults and abuses that have rained down on him ever since he was marched out of Africa and sold into slavery. We wish to pay tribute to these qualities by writing about two of the many Negroes it has been our privilege to have known. We feel obliged to do this; it is as though, by writing about them, we somehow may rid ourselves of the feeling of shame we have for the white race and for what has been happening in the southern states.

First, there was Ollie (her parents were born in slavery) who had cooked for a Virginia family for more years than she could remember. Not the typical Aunt Jemima-like southern mammy, she was thin and shrunken, and the knuckles on her fingers were swollen with arthritis. She was a faithful servant, a hard worker with but one, modest wish: "dat de good Lawd will see fit to let me die in harness." We used to perch on a stool in her kitchen, listening to her stories and her laughter while she beat up a mess of spoon bread or corn pone. The story we like best is the one about the time she had a "hard wrastle" with her conscience.

It was spring cleaning time turned to the kitchen, unable and Miz Louise, the mistress to erase the vision of the of the household, while rum-pink blouse from her mind mazing about in the attic. She wanted it desperately; but came upon a discarded blouse, how could she wear it when it was a shade of pink, dear she was in mourning? Like to a darky's heart, Ollie, obey: all of her people when faced ing Miz Louise's call, climbed with a predicament, she got the stairs to the attic. "Would down on her knees and asked you like this blouse, Ollie?" "de Lawd" for help. She Miz Louise asked, Ollie eyed "harkened to a Voice" for a the colour lovingly, "Oh, Miz long time. After awhile, she Louise, it's pretty," she rose and marched triumphant-ly, "But Ah can't wear back to the attic. Ah's it. You knows Ah's in mourn-been thinkin' it over. Miz in' for ma second cousin's Louise," she announced. "Ah's little girl what's daid." (The decided to accept dat blouse, negro wears black for every after all. De Lawd done told dead kinfolk, no matter how me Ah can wear it and just distant the relationship.) Ap-mourn from de waist down." parently, Miz Louise had for. In the end, Ollie got her gotten Ollie's loss. Ollie re-wish. She was found one morning, slumped over her mixing bowl; the Lord had let her die in harness. She was ninety-two.

Then, there was stout, grizzled-haired Alberta, a coal black, flat-footed negress who had reason to be proud of the meals she dished up to the family when we lived in Montreal. Every Sunday after dinner, she changed her white dress and apron for her "walking out" clothes which consisted of a navy blue, pin-stripe suit, a broad brimmed, multi-flowered hat and a feather boa that wreathed her massive shoulders like a plumed lei. Her flat feet, jammed into patent leather heels, slowly transported her two hundred pounds down the street to the corner where, looking like some African queen, she waited for the street car that would take her to the Mission on St. Antoine Street. Deeply religious, she was a member of Father Divine's flock and as such, she never said "thank you," but rather "thank the Father". Instead of "Good morning," her greeting was "Peace is wonderful!" and for "good-by" she said "Peace."

On the days she felt well, she sang hymns while she worked, her rich contralto voice filling the house. She was getting old, however, and her bones were "full of misery," and more often than not, she was grumpy. If a soufflé failed to rise to the desired height, she blamed it on "those damn kids tramping' through ma kitchen so hard they shook the stove." Secure in the knowledge that she was irreplaceable (it was the closing years of the war and help was hard to come by), she ruled the household with a stout rod. And yet, despite all that when it came time to say good-by before departing for India, her old heart seemed to crumble. She gathered each of the children, in turn, to her great bosom. "Peace, Peace," she murmured, over and over again, the tears splashing down her face. Like Ollie, Alberta ended her days in faithful service to white folk.

We are proud to have known these two women, not only for themselves, but because they belonged to a race that has contributed more than any other race to the North American culture. Out of slavery have come the Spirituals and Gospel songs. Out of the beat of bongo drums has come Jazz. Out of poverty and adversity have risen such giants as Paul Robson and Marion Anderson and Dr. Martin Luther King who, by organizing and leading hundreds of thousands of freedom marchers, may well become the Moses of the twentieth century.

It would seem as though a wedge had been driven into the flank of racial discrimination, as though the walls which have contained hatred and intolerance and fear, for so long, are about to be breached. We hope this is true. We also hope "de Lawd" will grant us a wish as modest as the one He granted Ollie, long ago. Namely, that we will live long enough to see the day when the white man stretches out his hand to the Negro and says, "Put it there, partner."

Letters to The Editor

The following are a few of the letters received by The Gleaner after the publication of the Centennial Issue of Sept. 18, 1963.

Montreal, Que. The Centennial issue of The Gleaner is a great credit to all the staff. The publication of a 122-page newspaper is an accomplishment for any weekly newspaper of your regular run.

All obstacles in choice of material, deadlines, editing, proofreading, printing, assembling, and mailing in limited space seem to have most efficiently been overcome to produce an issue worthy of the Huntingdon Gleaner's high tradition in North American newspaper circles.

Most hearty congratulations are tendered to yourself as guide and director, and to the members of the "back shop" for a job well done. I can fully appreciate what problems your News Editor Sidney Smith surmounted in this publication and, in Byron's words, to him are due "laurels and may he wear them well."

I felt privileged and happy to collaborate in this Gleaner Centennial edition, although a bit embarrassed by the prominence you gave my picture, curriculum vitae, and story. Kindest regards and good wishes to all of you."

Very sincerely yours, Mederic R. Primeau.

Goderich, Ont. The 100th anniversary edition of The Huntingdon Gleaner was a prodigious production effort for a publication in a town the size of Huntingdon. All those who contributed in various ways for the issue deserve real credit.

I am sure that had Adam Sellar lived to see the day he would have been very proud and pleased with what has been done in the 100th anniversary issue. There has been a tremendous amount of work behind it — much greater, unfortunately, than your average reader can possibly imagine. But it is worth-while and will be a milestone monument not only to the accomplishments of the people of the Chateaugay Valley but also to the vision and the guidance of the founder of the journal — the Sellar family. Yours very sincerely, Geo. L. Ellis

Valleyfield, Que. "Just a little note of congratulations — and you must be receiving many of them — on that wonderful issue of The Gleaner, commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of its founding. I have read with increasing delight the many interesting articles of the district."

Yours very truly, Lionel J. Robb.

Montreal West, Que. "A friend of mine in your area mailed me a copy of your Centennial Issue for my perusal which I duly appreciated. The compiling of all the information and numerous photographs set forth in the issue was most interesting. The members of your staff deserve a great deal of credit in this respect."

May I congratulate you on reaching the 100-year mark of service to 'The Gleaner' readers and I wish the publication of your newspaper many more years of success."

Yours very truly, A. S. Booth.

Kingston, Ont. "I would like to congratulate you on your anniversary number. It has proven very interesting to me as a lot of it I am familiar with."

Yours truly, Allan H. Crutchfield.

Huntingdon, Que. "The Centennial Issue of The Huntingdon Gleaner was remarkably interesting and what labour to get all that material together! Congratulations to the editor and all the staff for such a magnificent job."

Sincerely, The Barretts.

Lachine, Que. "Congratulations to The Gleaner on its one hundredth birthday. Can see by the size of the special issue where a lot of hard work went into it. When it came I sat down and went through it all twice before starting to read each section. I'll have days of enjoyable reading."

Sincerely, Helen Bruce.

San Francisco, California. Last night I received the 100-year issue of The Gleaner. I enjoyed glancing through every sheet tremendously. So much of the news brought back memories. Better than that it took me back "way before my family's time. Every issue is much appreciated by me."

Wishing you and yours continued good work. Sincerely, Dorothy Anderson.

ORDO EGLISE ST-JOSEPH HUNTINGDON

Liturgie — Introit — Donne la paix, Seigneur à ceux qui espèrent en toi; et ne fais pas mentir les paroles de tes prophètes. Exauce les prières de ton enfant et de tout ton peuple (Ecl. 36). Nous vivons présentement la première semaine après la réouverture du Concile. Espoir de l'Eglise, espoir du monde qui veut retrouver le visage rajeuni de la charité. Nul ne peut aujourd'hui, dans un monde où les distances ne comptent plus, invoquer l'excuse que les besoins de son frère lointain ne lui sont pas connus ou que l'aide à lui apporter ne le concerne pas. Il faut éveiller les consciences au sens de la responsabilité qui pèse sur tous et sur chacun, spécialement sur les plus favorisés.

Liturgie — Most Holy Rosary — Introit (Ps. 44) Let us all rejoice in the Lord, celebrating a festival day in honour of the Blessed Virgin Mary, at whose solemn festival the Angels rejoice and give praise to the Son of God. Alleluia. The solemn festival of the Glorious Virgin Mary of the seed of Abraham, sprung from the tribe of Juda, of David's royal race. (Ecl. 39) In me is all grace of the way and of the truth; in me is all hope of life and of virtue. Like a rose planted on the rivers I have borne fruit. Send forth flowers, as the lily, and yield a smell, and bring forth leaves in grace, and praise with canticles and bless the Lord in His works.

Programme des célébrations pour le 150e anniversaire de la bataille de Chateauguy

Les célébrations du 150e anniversaire de la Bataille de Chateauguy approchant rapidement, la discussion des projets pour fêter l'événement tint la place principale à l'Assemblée de l'après-midi de la Société Historique de la Vallée de Chateauguy tenue le 21 septembre. La date du programme au monument d'Allan's Corners a été avancée au 19 octobre pour coïncider avec l'annonce de la venue du Bataillon de Chateauguy du 22e Régiment pour célébrer ce jour-là. Il fut souligné que la société historique serait l'hôte, le Royal 22ème et les autres participants contribuant au programme général.

Le 22e Régiment se propose d'envoyer un détachement, environ 200 soldats avec fanfare, premierement à Chambly, ou de Salaberry est enterré et ou un monument est érigé en son honneur dans le parc de la ville; après un dîner, ils prendront ensuite des autobus pour se rendre à Allan's Corners où ils sont attendus pour 3 hrs p.m. Ils exécuteront des formations militaires avec "Tattoo".

Prévoir aussi, un petit nombre de cadets de Fort York Ontario, habillés d'uniformes authentiques de 1812. Les autres groupes qui seront au programme sont: la Légion Canadienne et la fanfare d'Orms-town, la société St-Jean-Baptiste, qui s'associera à la démonstration du Royal 22e, et le Régiment des Black Watch pourrait être représenté. La circulation sera réglée par la Police Provinciale et le Corps des Provost de l'armée canadienne. Le Club Lion d'Orms-town organise présentement des démonstrations actives de modes de vie des premiers colons, probablement dans le Parc du Champ de Bataille, acheté récemment par la société près du monument.

Grâce à la générosité de M. Rod Munro, un dessin a été exécuté comme symbole pour la commémoration; il sera utilisé sur toutes les affiches et autre matériel annonçant l'événement. Il y aura aussi format timbre pour coller sur les enveloppes etc.

La première partie des cé-rémonies se tiendra au monument d'Allan's Corners où on estime qu'il y aura place pour 500 spectateurs. L'orateur principal sera M. John Fisher, président du Comité du Centenaire pour le Dominion. L'invité de marque sera l'Hon. Arthur Laing, Ministre des Ressources Naturelles, département qui s'occupe de la Société des Sites Historiques.

Ici le programme se terminera avec le déploiement des festons, l'appel aux morts pour les Canadiens morts au combat, les deux minutes de silence et l'Hymne National. Il y aura alors une marche militaire devant l'estrade d'honneur qui sera érigée sur la propriété du parc. Un bal aura lieu aux Armoiries du Black Watch sur la rue Bleury à Montréal, le 25 octobre. On encourage les invités à

EN ROUTE VERS SEATTLE (SUITE)

Albini Primeau, de Chateauguy (1856), entre chez les Jésuites. Après des études en France et en Angleterre, il est ordonné en 1889. Il fut missionnaire au Nomingue, au Sault-Sainte-Marie, à Sudbury, dont il devient curé (1910-1911), professeur à St-Boniface (1914-17), à Sudbury encore (1923-29), puis retiré au Sault-au-Récollet.

Joachim Primeau, aussi de Chateauguy (1888) et jésuite, est ordonné en Belgique et après des études en ce pays, devient prêtre à Sudbury.

Mgr Léo-Georges Cassidy, né à St-Antoine-Abbé, prêtre en 1908, a passé cinquante années de sa vie sacerdotale dans Hamilton. Il est actuellement retiré à Montréal.

Le P. Joseph Fallon, originaire de Ste-Agnès de Dundee, jésuite ordonné en 1927, a fait du ministère à Winnipeg, à Guelph et est directeur du sanctuaire des Saints Mar-tins canadiens à Midland, Ont., depuis 1945.

Son frère Herbert, séculier, ordonné en 1918, a fait son oeuvre pastorale dans le diocèse de London. Il est mort porter des costumes du 19e siècle. Les préparations vont bon train. Un troisième événement aura lieu, en rapport avec cette célébration, et ce sera le rally annuel du Club d'Autosport Laurentien qui se terminera cette année au monument d'Allan's Corners dans l'après-midi du 26 octobre, le jour même de la bataille.

Il est à souhaiter que le plus grand nombre de personnes possible assistent à ces fêtes qui ont été organisées pour marquer cet événement historique important pour notre région. Si vous avez des costumes du 19e siècle portez-les ou apportez des "antiques" pour les exposer. Vous entrerez ainsi dans l'esprit de cette fête et aiderez à faire de cet événement un succès formidable.

La protection des enfants
Enseigner les règles de la sécurité routière à l'école primaire est essentiel pour former des citoyens aptes à circuler dans les conditions actuelles. Quant aux enfants d'âge préscolaire, c'est aux conducteurs et aux parents qu'incombe la responsabilité de les protéger, souligne "Prudentia" le Comité provincial de Sécurité routière. L'enfant en bas âge est inconscient des dangers, et il peut poser les gestes inconsidérés qui l'exposent surtout s'il imite certains adultes qui n'observent pas eux-mêmes les règles de la prudence. Leur imprévoyance peut avoir des conséquences tragiques: Dans les agglomérations deux victimes sur trois sont des piétons.

La visibilité—Facteur essentiel
Pour effectuer en temps utile les manoeuvres qui s'imposent le conducteur doit avoir une vue parfaite sur la route, non seulement à l'avant, mais aussi à l'arrière par le miroir rétroviseur, et sur les côtés, souligne "Prudentia" le Comité provincial de Sécurité Routière. Si la vue est le moins obstruée ou incomplète, ou la visibilité entravée par un éblouissement ou toute autre chose, le danger augmente sensiblement, la nuit, la seule vitesse permise est celle qui permet au conducteur d'immobiliser son véhicule dans l'espace éclairé par les phares.

3 By-laws Approved At Oct. 3 Property Owners' Meeting In Town Of Chateaugay Centre

A meeting of the owners of taxable property in the town of Chateaugay Centre was called by public notice September 26 and held October 3 between 7 and 9 p.m. under the presidency of Edouard Reid, councillor, in order to ask the said electors to approve By-laws Nos. 390, 391 and 392.

By-law No. 390 providing for the installation of an aqueduct system on streets bearing cadastre numbers 249-36, 249-39, 249-40, 249-124, 249-134 and part of Lot No. 250, and also for the borrowing of $46,000. to do this work.

By-law No. 391 providing for the construction of drains on streets bearing cadastre numbers 249-36, 249-39, 249-40, 249-124, 249-134 and part of Lot No. 250, and also for the borrowing of $125,000. to do this work.

By-law No. 392 providing for the canalization of the Barrette Watercourse from Parkview Blvd. to St. Mary's St., and also for the borrowing of $18,000. to do this work.

The said president opened the meeting at 7 p.m. and had Mr. Laurier Legault, assistant Secretary-Treasurer for the Town of Chateaugay Centre, read Article 593 of the Cities and Towns Act and also By-laws 390, 391 and 392.

This reading done, the said By-laws were presented to the meeting for approval. No elector eligible to vote having asked for a referendum the said bills were declared unanimously adopted by the concerned electors, according to the laws and the meeting was closed.

R. Sutterlin Resigns From Chateaugay Centre Council

A meeting of the Town of Chateaugay Centre Council was held September 30. Attending were Mayor A. Brisebois and Councillors Jean A. Gauthier, Richard Sutterlin, Yvan Gilbert, Edouard Reid and Alonzo Bellevue.

Moved by E. Reid, seconded by R. Sutterlin that the minutes of the September 10, 17, 26, meetings be accepted as presented and filed as well as those of September 9, 19, and 20 concerning By-laws 379, 380, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387 and 388.

Moved by R. Sutterlin, seconded by Y. Gilbert that the accounts presented be paid. (no list)

Moved by J.A. Gauthier, seconded by Y. Gilbert, that the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer be authorized to sign the renewals for the temporary borrowings of the current account for the amount of $400,000.00, at an interest rate of 5 1/2% instead of 5%, as required by the Head Office of the Canadian National Bank.

Moved by Y. Gilbert seconded by A. Bellevue, that R. Sutterlin's resignation be accepted, effective from October 8, 1963.

Moved by J.A. Gauthier, seconded by R. Sutterlin, that the town Hall offices be open Mondays and Wednesdays from 7.9 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m.-12 noon, starting October 7 and that notices be published in newspapers to this effect.

Moved by Y. Gilbert seconded by J.A. Gauthier, that the Town of Chateaugay Centre should proclaim the week October 6-12 as "Fire Prevention Week."

Moved by J.A. Gauthier seconded by Y. Gilbert, that the supervision for works to start shortly be given to the firm, Lalonde, Girouard & Letendre, until the Town of Chateaugay Centre finds a civil engineer, all without any charge to the city by said firm as proposed by them.

Moved by Y. Gilbert, supported by J.A. Gauthier, that a registered letter be sent to owners of lots where works mentioned in By-laws 381 and 382 have to be done asking them if they

Receives Special Prize At Graduation

Patricia Ann Lee

Patricia Ann, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lee, Dupont St. who graduated from St. Paul's Academy this year. The graduation ceremony was held at the church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount on Sunday, September 29th. His Excellency the most Rev. Lawrence P. Whelan presented the diplomas and prizes. Patricia received a special prize for her attendance throughout High School.

Her parents entertained at a Graduation Supper for her at their home on Saturday. Among the twenty-five guests present was Father Baldwin of St. Anne's Parish, Montreal. Following the delightful buffet supper, Pat was presented with a wrist watch by her mother and sister Mary.

Pat has now been enrolled at O'Sullivan's Business College where she will take a secretarial course. Our congratulations and good wishes for a successful business career.

MAPLEWOOD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NEWS

(By Mrs. R. Young)

At the present time there is a wonderful Preaching Mission taking place at Maplewood Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Fred Miller is the guest preacher for these services and a wonderful speaker he is. Mr. Miller is well-known and respected by many in this congregation. He is a native of Belfast, Ireland, and was a fighter pilot with the R.A.F., during the Second World War. After serving on student mission fields in the Canadian West, Mr. Miller graduated in arts from Carleton University, Ottawa, and in Theology from the Presbyterian College, Montreal. He served as Minister of St. Edward's Church, Beauharnois from 1955 to 1961 and is presently the Minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Owen Sound, Ont. While in Beauharnois, Mr. Miller was the guiding force behind the formation of this congregation.

Rev. Miller is a forceful preacher of the Gospel and it is indeed fortunate that he agreed to be the guest preacher for these services. If you have not attended any of these services, please feel welcome to come and bring your family, you will certainly find much inspiration. These services started Sunday, Oct. 6 and will continue until Thursday evening, Oct. 10.

Before each service, at

Working in fashion displays, he is employed by a large English firm and prior to leaving Canada, he had been employed in a similar capacity with a Montreal firm (Simpson's Ltd) and the Dominion Art Gallery.

Our sincere congratulations, Earle, and we hope you manage that trip home next year, so we may learn personally of your years spent 'Overseas'.

Delson's 'Grandma Petts' Celebrates 91st Birthday

On Wednesday 25, great excitement prevailed at 34 Melrose Ave., Delson, when Mrs. K. Petts, affectionately known as Grandma to all her associates, passed another milestone along the road of life. Delson's Grandma Petts celebrated her 91st birthday surrounded by her family and many friends and was feted in a truly regal manner justly befitting this remarkable person. She received many congratulatory cards and lovely gifts and was the recipient of several beautiful floral arrangements from members of her family presently residing in Vancouver, Halifax and Lachine and she was particularly pleased to receive a special floral tribute from members and friends of St. Andrew's United Church, where she has worshiped blessed and is now the oldest living member.

Mrs. K. Petts

It was "OPEN HOUSE" at 34 Melrose Ave. where Grandma resides with her son and daughter Mr. W. Petts and Mrs. Florence Keen, and friends and neighbours called in to extend good wishes and share the delicious cake.

On Saturday evening the "OLD GANG" arrived to help celebrate and everyone had a gala time indeed. The highlight of the evening was when Grandma received a beautiful Stetson, reminiscent of the Calgary Stampede. She wore this gorgeous hat to advantage as she posed for pictures after being assured that she was wearing it at the proper angle, then to the delight of the company, sang out the old song, "Where did you get that hat?" Everyone joined in singing the well-loved old melodies which prompted fond recollections with a touch of nostalgia as the old-timers "Remembered When".

This wonderful person looked radiant and thoroughly enjoyed the party as much as did her guests. After buying a new dress recently we are told that Grandma asked a member of her family, "Do you think this colour makes me look old?" Tut Tut, Dear Grandma while you are still so young at heart you will never look old. Grandma is very proud of her fine family and everyone knows how devoted to their wonderful mother her children are.

Now on a closing note this writer will echo the words of a familiar favorite song, knowing that family and friends will endorse the sentiment, "Oh, God Bless you and Keep You, Mother Machree".

The Women of the Church are at present trying to put together a recipe booklet, any ladies of the congregation who have a favorite recipe or two, please send them along to Mrs. Joan Saray by November 1.

Don't forget Thanksgiving Services next Sunday. This congregation certainly has a lot to be thankful for with the beautiful new church building.

Mrs. E. Smith Feted On 80th Birthday

(by M. McCutcheon)

Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Jones of Pointe Claire held a family reception at their home, Sunnyside Avenue on Saturday evening, October 5th in honor of the latter's mother Mrs. E. Smith, Dupont Terrace.

Mrs. Smith who turned 80 on Tuesday, October 8th was happy to have her family who came from far and near gathered around her for this happy occasion. Following the buffet supper, the family presented their mother with a lovely chair. Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. J. Patterson, Hamilton, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. W. Johnston and son, Syracuse, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. J. Corbett, Saranac, N.Y., Mrs. K. Jackson and son, Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. K. Smith and daughters, Valerie and Lesley, Mrs. G. Lobban and Mrs. E. Jones, Chateaugay, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Jones and children, Mrs. E. Fellowes and children of Valois.

Mrs. Smith who received many cards, gifts and remembrances was also gifted with a beautiful pot of Chrysanthemums from the Chat-A-Way Sewing Circle of which she has been a member for many years.

Most sincere good wishes for improved health and congratulations on your "80th" Mrs. Smith.

Local Mayors To Confer At Valleyfield October 24

Mr. Noel Savoie, President of the Valleyfield Winter Employment Committee, announces that the executive of this organization is planning to hold a winter works conference grouping forty mayors of nearby municipalities. This meeting will take place at the City Hall in Valleyfield on Thursday October 24, at 8.00 p.m.

Over 40 mayors from the counties of Beauharnois, Chateaugay, Huntingdon, Val-d'Aulieu-Soulanges, Laprairie and Napierville will attend his conference on "Municipal Winter Works". The following persons will be invited as guest speakers: Mr. Noel Savoie, president of the Winter Employment Committee; His Honor the Mayor of Salaberry de Valleyfield, Mr. Robert Cauchon, who is also chairman of the Quebec Union of Municipalities; a representative of the Provincial Department of Municipal Affairs; Mr. Jean-Guy Tanguay, Manager of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. in St. Lambert; Mr. J. DeSerres, Manager of the National Employment Office in Valleyfield; Mr. Marcel Lambert, general administrator of the Union of Municipalities; Mr. Gerard Cadieux, member of Provincial Parliament; Mr. Gerald Laniel, member of Federal Parliament.

Members of the Valleyfield Advisory Committee, Valleyfield Winter Employment Sub-Committee, Salaberry de Valleyfield Municipal Officers, Salaberry de Valleyfield Aldermen; press and radio representatives, as well as members of the National Employment Office in Valleyfield and Beauharnois will be invited.

The main subjects discussed will be the Federal Provincial Municipal Loans Plan, Urban Renovation Program, Public Buildings, construction of houses for old people, loans to individuals interested in construction or renovation of their homes.

A delegation of ten members and several of the Ladies Auxiliary attended the parade in Beauharnois for that town's Centenary Celebration.

A "Sewing Bee" was held to clear our new land of the trees and brush. Six members turned up equipped with crosscut saws and axes, but such equipment proved far from adequate for such a herculean task. After dropping ten trees it was decided to contract a wood dealer to bring a power saw, clear the trees and take the wood for free.

It is hoped to have news shortly from our Ways and Means Chairman Geo. Willis more concerning the building of our new hall.

A busy season is ahead with elections, installations, Armistice Celebrations, Thanksgiving and Halloween Parties, Poppy Fund etc., and you are asked to lend your aid and participate in these activities.

The Branch is now open afternoons from 2 p.m. and lady members are invited except for Thursday afternoons which is stag for the Happy Unemployed Group.

LEGION NEWS in CHATEAUGUAY

Tuesday, October 1st, was nomination day for Branch 108 of the Royal Canadian Legion for the incoming slate of executive officers for the year 1964. A surplus of nominations was received for each executive position and elections will be held Tuesday, November 5.

The Annual Poppy Fund Campaign is almost upon us and many helpers and canvassers will be required to dispose of the poppies. Comrade Hartland Rowell is a gain Chairman of the Campaign and he is hoping to achieve results comparable with his successes of previous years.

Concern was expressed at the number of Legion Halls which have recently been closed down in our province. After considerable debate on the subject a motion was passed that the Attendance Record Book would be in charge of the bar steward and that a member would be required to show his membership card before being served. Further all visitors must be signed in by their sponsors.

Three active members were initiated and welcomed into the branch. One social member was also accepted.

Plans are well in hand for the Thanksgiving Supper and Dance on October 19, commencing at 6.30 p.m. It is through his Member of Parliament and hereby suggests that all those in the age group concerned should do so likewise at once while the Pension Act is being amended.

Come on all you Sixty-Fivers, let's stop complaining among ourselves and make our presence felt in a tangible way, definite action is necessary, and now.

Anxious Native Sixty-fiver.

St. Constant Man Killed But Saves Life Of Policeman

An unusual set of circumstances led to the death of Lucien Beauvais, 50, of St. Constant on Thursday, Oct. 3. Beauvais, driver of a 1960 on truck, had been stopped in Atterier Bridge at 11.30 a.m. by LaSalle Police when they saw him make an illegal turn.

Standing between his truck and the police ambulance he was getting a ticket from Constable Gaetan St. Denis when a milk truck, driven by Ross Buchanan, 27, of Howick crashed into the rear of his vehicle, Beauvais was crushed between his truck and the ambulance — but not before he pushed the 24-year-old constable clear. St. Denis ended up beside Beauvais' truck with only cuts and bruises. A second constable in the ambulance, Maurice Marsolais, 30, also received minor injuries. Beauvais was taken to LaSalle General Hospital where he died shortly after arrival. The driver of the milk truck was uninjured. The dead man thought of others before himself and it is to Mr. Beauvais' quick action that Constable St. Denis owes his life today.

Be Sure To See Interesting Displays At Battle Of Chateaugay Celebration, Oct. 19

The Ormstown Lions are finalizing the plans for a most interesting display of antiques and organizing entertainment for the Battle of Chateaugay Celebration to be held at Allan's Corners next Saturday, October 19th.

There will be experts at the site of the original battlefield to demonstrate the art of soap-making, potash-mixing, weaving and spinning. There will be a replica of an old-time bake oven and displays of furniture, old guns as well as other weapons and old machinery. There will also be a log house which is being erected at the site by the members of the Historical Society.

A beany will be in operation at the Cameron Bryson site where one may fill up on a feed of old-fashioned baked beans.

For entertainment the Lions have made arrangements for a group of Scottish folk dancers from Montreal as well as the French Folk dancing group, "Les Joyeux Danseurs" and Caughnawaga residents will participate in a Lacrosse game.

The army will be on hand with military manoeuvres and two bands will be in attendance during the day. There will be something for everyone to enjoy and it is hoped that the children will go away with a little better understanding of the history of their local area. It is sincerely hoped that the whole community will turn out en masse for this great celebration.

L. J. Clifford Passes Course With Honors

The Gleaner has learned with pleasure that Mr. Lawrence J. Clifford, 62 Edward St., Chateaugay, placed second in a class of 96 graduates in the Correspondence Course in Purchasing sponsored by Canadian Association of Purchasing. The course is operated through the University Extension Department of the University of Toronto.

Mr. Clifford who won $100 bursary for his achievement, is a project engineer with Canadian Schenley Ltd., at Valleyfield. He has been with the company three years and is a 1950 graduate of Queen's University in mining engineering.

His business experience includes six years with Merck & Co. Ltd., of which three were spent doing engineering purchasing.

Mr. Clifford was one of 23 to receive honors.

More Activities Planned For Men's Club At St. George's Church

(By Mrs. Mitchell)

Owing to the increased membership it is necessary to expand activities. Therefore the meeting of Monday, Oct. 21 starting at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall, will be set aside as registration night for any one wishing to join the following competitions or wish to learn cribbage, checkers, (French or English) chess, bridge, darts or ping pong.

The above will be played on a continuing competitive basis, through to April 30, 1964.

Carpet bowling will also be a feature and anyone may drop in at the regular Monday meetings for an occasional game of the foregoing, even if they do not wish to enter continuing competition.

There will be no meeting on Oct. 14 owing to the holiday. It is not necessary that interested parties be an Anglican communicant, but the 15 or 20 minute business meeting at the end of each Monday night's activities is conducted in the interest of St. George's Parish in particular and in the extension of Christian Fellowship in general.

Other noteworthy musical activities will include an instrumental workshop, conducted by Reginald Kell, the world-famous clarinet virtuoso, and performances by the Woodlands School Choir, the Lachine High School Singers, and the Teachers' Choir of Malcolm Campbell High School.

New Science Programme Presented

As part of a continuing effort to foster scientific education in the schools, the Bell Telephone Company will present at Convention an experimental programme in two parts: one is teacher-oriented, and is based on the study of wave behavior; the other is a student-oriented experimental kit entitled, "From Sun to Sound". For the first part the Company supplies booklets for teacher and pupils, a film for classroom use, and information about a unique classroom-demonstration machine. For the pupils' experiments a kit is provided containing materials and information for the design and construction of a solar-powered transistor audio-oscillator.

This new Bell programme will continue to be available for the secondary schools during the fall and winter.

Home and School Association The Mary Gardner Home and School Association held their first general meeting October 1st with an attendance of 350. The membership committee was on hand and enrolled 63 members. Becoming a member is a great help to the school, half the fees goes towards a Home and School magazine, the other is put into the Home and School Association fund to help provide youngsters with equipment they are in need of. Last year the association provided the school with drapes for the stage, two record players, an auto harp, two Science kits, rhythm band equipment, etc. By becoming a member you are not only helping the school but you are helping your youngsters as well. If any of you would like to help on the various committees, a friendly welcome awaits you.

Soical Jo-Ann Myers entertained 30 guests Friday night in honour of her 14th birthday. My goodness, what a time they had!

Birthday wishes to Mrs. Kershaw, mother of Mrs. Roberts, of St. Aubin Street who celebrates her birthday, October 10th. Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brenner of St. Aubin St. who are the proud parents of a baby daughter born October 1, weighing 6 lbs., 11 1/2 ozs., sister for Mark Out of the Mouth of Babies.

Some time ago my seven-year old was busy muttering something. I didn't pay much attention. After a while she said "Mummy, I have made up a story, do you want to hear it?" This is what she came up with:

"God's way, is the way to stay. Always going the right way, If you should go off the track, He's always there to bring you back."

There's a lot of truth in those words. Don't you agree? Speaking of youngsters, at the Sunday service last week, the congregation was singing the opening hymn when I thought I heard someone whistling. I looked down and my four-year old son and believe it or not it was he. I guess he couldn't sing, so thought he would do the next best thing.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy of St. Aubin St. are expecting Mr. Kennedy's mother who will arrive from Scotland Monday, October 14th. Mr. and Mrs. Duchesneau of Huntingdon spent a couple of days visiting her daughter-in-law and grandchildren at St. Aubin St. Joan Vedy has been laid up for a couple of days with an infected throat. Hope you are soon better.

Pomona Grange News

OCTOBER 10th. 7.30 P.M. MALONE GRANGE HALL - OFFICERS TRAINING SCHOOL. Deputy State Master Arthur Tanner would like to see ALL OFFICERS and as many members who care to attend this school training class, at Malone Grange Hall on Thursday evening. There are several changes in Grange work to be conformed to this year.

NOVEMBER 9th. 8 P.M. Countrywide Neighbor Night at Denmark Grange Hall (near Lowville, Lewis County, N.Y.) when Franklin County granges will visit with the Theme Program "OPEN THE DOOR TO '64". Pomona Lecturer Eunice Jones of Malone would like as many members and friends to volunteer to go with her on this occasion. Please let Mrs. Jones know and mark your calendars.

Pomona 60th Anniversary Banquet held last Thursday at the Crossroads was a decided success when a goodly number of Maple Leaf members and friends attended, even with such inclement weather. The charter members of Maple Leaf who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Waterson, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Platt and Mrs. George Paul.

The distinguished guests included Mr. William J. Brake of Lansing, Michigan, Lecturer of National Grange and Master of Michigan State Grange; Mr. and Mrs. J. Alton of Poland, N.Y., Past Deputies of Herkimer County Mrs. Miles Houcks, of Dundee, N.Y., member of the State Service and Hospitality Committee and Past President of the Pomona Lecturers' Association and Pomona Lecturer of Yates Co.; Mrs. Bernard Bailey, State Pomona and Past President of Pomona Lecturers' Association of Lafayette, Onondaga County; Assemblyman Hayward and Mrs. Plumadore of Saranac Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mullen of Stafford, N.Y.; (Mr. Mullen is President of the N.Y. State Pomona Lecturers' Association and Pomona Lecturer of Genesee County, and the Mullens have just been named the "Farm City Week Farm Family" of Genesee County for 1963.)

The groom was attended by Jim Anderson and Cliff Campbell both of Edmonton. Ushers were Doug James, brother of the bride and Larry Scheider. The groom's gifts to the men were cuff links.

The bride's mother wore a green and gold two-piece ensemble of silk crepe with brown hat and gloves. Her flowers were yellow mums. Mrs. Eric MacDougall of Calgary, sister-in-law of the groom, chose a wool turquoise suit, with white hat and gloves and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the reception for the 120 guests, held in the church hall, an open house and dance, was held in the Elk's Hall.

The couple travelled to Montreal and other eastern points including Ormstown.

where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lang and Mrs. Alice MacDougall. They will reside in Edmonton.

Obituary

The Late Mrs. Donald Orr

It was with profound sorrow that the community learned, this past week, of the death of Marjorie Orr. She underwent an operation at the Barrie Memorial Hospital in November, 1962, and it was thought and hoped that the trouble had been eliminated. Returning home she took up her usual busy routine in the home and community. However, a motor trip she was taking with her husband and friends, during August, through the Gaspé Peninsula, had to be cut short and she returned again to the Hospital where, despite all the efforts of devoted doctors and staff, she passed away on Monday evening, September 30th.

Marjorie McGilton was born at Eaton's Corner in the Eastern Townships, just 54 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGilton. She graduated from Macdonald College and taught school in the Townships and in Hemmingford and it was here she met Donald Orr. They were married in June 1933 and to them were born a daughter, Mary and a son, Freddie. Besides being an efficient housewife and a devoted and loving wife and mother, Marjorie found time for many community activities. She was an active member of the St. Andrew's United Church and its various organizations, and the Hemmingford Women's Institute. She held various offices in the local Branch and also on the County and Provincial Boards. She organized and was the leader, for some time, of the local Cub Group and in 1945 joined the Order of the Eastern Star. Passing through various stations, she was elected Worthy Matron in 1959 of the local Victory Chapter No. 34, and for the past three years served as Secretary. This year she was District Deputy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Quebec, Order of the Eastern Star, District No. 2B. On Wednesday evening, the local Chapter held a funeral service at the house and this was attended by 60 members from the Hemmingford, Ormsdown, Clarenceville and Mooers, N.Y. Chapters. Beautiful floral arrangements banked the walls of the room where the members gathered to pay a final tribute to a dear friend and worthy member of the Order.

The funeral service was held in St. Andrew's Church on Thursday afternoon, October 3rd and was conducted by Reverend G. Ficko, assisted by a former pastor, Reverend R. C. Belbin of Montreal.

The pallbearers were Halton Kennedy, Aylmer Hadley, Frank Deery, Robbie Hadley, Willie Beattie and Lynwood Cookman. The interment was in the Hemmingford Cemetery and arrangements were in the hands of Mr. Milton Sharpe.

Marjorie leaves her husband Donald, son Freddie and daughter Mary, Mrs. Dick Anderson and a granddaughter, Heather. Also a brother, Leonard McGilton and Mrs. McGilton of Stanstead, a sister, Sarah, Mrs. Newell Cairns of North Hatley, her stepmother, Mrs. Gertrude McGilton and several nieces and nephews. She leaves also many, many friends and acquaintances, not only in Hemmingford but in a wide area around, friends who deeply appreciated her for herself and for the generous giving of self, time and talent to the community and its many worth-while projects. She will be sadly missed.

Mrs. E. Fleming Enjoying Round The World Tour

STE AGNES — At the time of writing, Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming is thoroughly enjoying herself in the Orient. She spent the week-end in Tokyo Japan and later this week travelled to Kyoto, Japan.

Following is a list of the cities and countries she will visit in the six weeks she will be away. In addition to Hawaii and Japan, Mrs. Fleming will visit Hong Kong, Bangkok, Thailand, Calcutta, Benares, Agra, and Delhi all in India, then Cairo, United Arab Republic, Istanbul, Turkey and Rome, Italy.

Mrs. Fleming is travelling by air in a party of 12, two of whom she had met on other European tours she has taken.

Accepts Position in Valleyfield

Last week it was learned that Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Quessel will be moving from Ste. Agnes, where they have made their home for the past several years to the city of Valleyfield, where Lorenzo has accepted a position with Marchand Freres, Ltd.

Formerly, Lorenzo has been employed by Mr. Jean Paul Latreille on his milk route and in his garage, and the young couple will be missed by all. However, the best wishes of the community go with Lorenzo and Ghislaine as they make for themselves, a new home in Valleyfield.

Young People

The Hi-C group met on Sunday evening for their regular meeting in the Church Hall, with ten members present. Some discussion took place regarding the selling of United Church calendars, but the final decision was tabled until the next meeting.

The hymn books which the group bought and presented to the Church were dedicated at last Sunday morning's service by Mr. Lloyd Martin. The Hi-C also made a donation of $5. to the work of the Bible Society. Thus, in these small ways it is very evident friends and acquaintances, not only in Hemmingford but in a wide area around, friends who deeply appreciated her for herself and for the generous giving of self, time and talent to the community and its many worth-while projects. She will be sadly missed.

that the group, under their leader, Mr. Martin, is keenly interested in the welfare of the Church, and its function in the community.

On Thanksgiving week-end, Oct. 13, there will be no Hi-C meeting, and so the group adjourned to meet again on October 20th, when Bible Study will be the program.

Sacrament To Be Observed

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed on Sunday morning, October 20th, with Rev. Black of Huntingdon in attendance. A Preparatory Service will also be held prior to this on Friday evening, October 18th.

Report Of My 4-H Trip To Nova Scotia In August

(By CLAYTON MURPHY)

Leaving Huntingdon with Mr. Beaudin on July 8th, I joined the other Quebec delegates at the Cooperative Landing in Montreal. It was here that we were introduced to Mr. Roland Barrett, a member of the Nova Scotia 4-H Federation. A banquet was held at "Chez Bardet" Restaurant, 591 east Henri Boulevard, Montreal 12, Que. by the Royal Bank of Canada in honour of the nine delegates leaving Quebec. Lodging for the night was provided by Caisse Populaire at Maison du St. Paul. Caisse Populaire at the other provinces. A number of Nova Scotia's 4-H Tuesday morning. I left for province with an arrangement of speeches, followed by square dancing.

Early Wednesday morning Mr. C.A. Douglas started us on our tour of Nova Scotia. Leaving Truro, in two cars, we arrived at Pictou about nine o'clock so that we could attend the Lobster Carnival. This Lobster Carnival is an entertainment held annually for the fishermen of the district around Pictou. It is a substitute for the agricultural fairs which are held here for the benefit of farmers. Besides seeing many important events of the carnival, which were taking place on the docks, we were given a vivid explanation of the work of a huge coast guard ship. Then we were treated to a lobster dinner before continuing our trip along the Eastern Coast. Down to New Glasgow, a visit to the Coady Institute at Antigonish, across the causeway through Port Hood, and to Margaree. At Margaree, in Cape Breton, the local 4-H members sponsored a banquet in our honour. We spent the night at various pre-arranged homes in this French settlement.

Thursday morning we were busy enjoying the beautiful scenery of the Cabot Trail. We turned off the trail to see Meat Cove and shortly after we were back on the trail, we had lunch on the seashore at Black Brook, near Neil's Harbour. After we finished travelling the Cabot Trail we reached Baddeck in late afternoon. Here we toured the Alexander Graham Bell Museum before having supper at a Yacht Club. Then for a boat ride in Black Harbour before travelling back to Truro.

Friday morning we drove across the Angus L. Macdonald Bridge. This is the second largest suspension bridge in Canada linking Halifax with Dartmouth. A tour of the shipyards and harbours of Halifax was conducted before going to the Province House. We were taken through the Province House just after the Minister of Agriculture of Nova Scotia presented each of us with a certificate which made us a member of the "Order of the Good Time". This is America's oldest social club founded by Samuel de Champlain in 1606. At Citadel Hill we spent a few hours touring the museum of this old English fortress. Also we took in Peggy's Cove and the Halifax Public Gardens before visiting the Halifax CBC television station. Late in the afternoon each one of us was taken to our host homes in the different counties of the Province.

That evening I had supper at Mr. and Mrs. Redden's home in Halifax County. Saturday was spent getting acquainted with my host family. Mr. and Mrs. Redden, Bertha, Jackie, Elizabeth and Marilyn. I had the pleasure of living with this family for four days, during that time I visited Clam Harbour Beach, plus a number of

ROUTE NO. FOUR . . . "Highway or Byway?"

According to the Royal Automobile Club, of which the writer is a member, all other Highways giving access to the City of Montreal with the exception of Highway No. 4 — Montreal to Northern New York — Pennsylvania — and Western Areas in the United States. — From Whence we As A Province Expect Tourists to enter Canada whilst visiting the World's Fair in 1967 and prior to that event, are mentioned in the Agenda for construction work. It would be to the advantage of our country and surrounding counties to see that something is done NOW about this Highway situation. Yes, it is within the past two weeks at the Huntingdon-Trout River end is under a process of PATCHING. However, this "patchwork quilt" approach to making a Highway is costly as well as being hazardous. The road is uneven, the shoulders or verge are too soft and sloping and the whole roadbed is too narrow in places. It runs from 16 feet to 20 feet. Several years ago, when the roadbed was supposed to be resurfaced completely, the truck which runs off the tarvia preparation had a "barn door" in the truck. The reason was for the purpose of moving the door sideways in the truck as the road narrowed or became wider, as the company was only being paid for resurfacing the actual roadbed — No more and no less!

There are numerous organizations in the Town of Huntingdon and the writer feels sure that if a PETITION was sent around that these groups would sign same to be forwarded to the Provincial Government requesting that our main artery Highway No. 4 be taken into consideration immediately. Let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and not procrastinate further; make our Town a place to come to visit and not a "passing through" point.

other places in the community of Middle Musquodoboit. Tuesday I was taken to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kent of Stewack. After staying with this family for a day I travelled over a hundred miles to Antigonish County. There I remained until the 22nd of July with Mr. and Mrs. Leo MacDonald and family; Lillian Flora Ann, John, Lynona and Alistair. While at Antigonish I went to the Highland Games and visited the leading dairy and strawberry farms of that area.

On the 22nd of July the nine delegates met for the last time to say farewell before leaving for our home provinces.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the Royal Bank of Canada for sponsoring this exchange, to Mr. Barrett of Quebec, Mr. L. Beaudin, Mr. C.A. Douglas of Nova Scotia, my three host families, and all those people who participated in making this trip possible. The friendliness of the people in Nova Scotia will always remain clear in my mind.

Aubrey-Riverfield

Funeral
AUBREY - RIVERFIELD
The funeral of the late Martha Goundrey was held Sunday afternoon in Riverfield Presbyterian Church with Rev. Wm. Brown officiating. The choir sang two favorite hymns, "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus". The pallbearers were Stewart Carmichael, Arnold McKell, Gene Goundrey and Donald Stewart. Mrs. Eleanor Olsen and granddaughter, Marjorie Neave, of Canrose, Alberta and Miss Evelyn MacGregor of Ottawa attended the funeral service and are visiting with relatives for a few days.

Following the service, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Goundrey served tea to the relatives. Mrs. Jessie Goundrey, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Goundrey, Wayne and Wanda, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McColm, Hughie and Grace, Mrs. Eleanor Olsen and Marjorie Neave, Miss Evelyn MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Stewart, Donald and Marian.

Callers at the Goundrey home on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bernard and Miss Sarah Allen of Fort Edward N.Y. and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Church of Chazy, N.Y.

Miss Priscilla Standish, Miss Sharon Lipcombe, Miss Bonny Olson and Miss Margaret McKell of Chateauguy, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Math McKell.

A reception for Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McKell was held in Howick Temperance Hall on Friday evening and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The Milne orchestra supplied good music for dancing. Mrs. Melville Brown acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Ross Brown presented Joyce and Wayne with a well-filled purse and the best wishes of the gathering for their future happiness. Mr. Ian Watson, M.P., in a few words, also extended his best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bremner and Miss Aubrey Bremner of Montreal were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Templeton and Judy and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Templeton called on Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bunnary and family in their new home in St. Johns on Sunday. Several farmers are reporting the death of cattle lately which may be due to rabies. It is feared the disease is being spread by foxes as

Shower For Bride-Elect At Havelock

HAVELOCK — On Saturday evening, Misses Margaret and Rena Buchanan and Mrs. Irene Jodoin were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. F. Buchanan; in honour of Miss Irma Buchanan.

On arriving home, after spending the day out, Irma was taken by surprise to find about 30 relatives and friends sitting around. Irma was escorted to a decorated chair, and a corsage was pinned on her by Mrs. Jodoin and her mother by Rena Buchanan.

A basket full of gifts were then presented to her, which were opened and passed around for everyone to see. Irma then thanked everyone for their gifts and invited them to come and visit her in her home after she is married. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Jodoin, Mrs. Buchanan, Miss Ruby Buchanan, Miss Wynifa Jodoin and Master David Jodoin.

Canada's Centenary

Its Importance To The Chateauguy Valley

PART XVI

by DOUGLAS R. LAMBIE

Editor of Waiting Room Digest, freelance writer, Past President and Centennial Committee Chairman of the Chateauguy Valley Historical Society

Centenaries all around us these days! The Gleaner certainly made a rousing success of theirs, and the reports from Beauharnois broke this writer's heart — because he was unable to see the celebrations for himself. Way up ahead there is 1967 — not so very far away — is the great national 100th birthday. And right here — 10 days away — comes the oldest member of the over-one-hundred club.

On October 19 celebrations start to commemorate "our battle. On that day at Allan's Corners there will be a great deal of activity which will mark the beginning of a week-long celebration.

The connection between all these is Mr. Centenary, or Mr. Canada, or — as he probably prefers to be known — John Fisher. For years Mr. Fisher was known nationally and internationally as Mr. Canada — primarily perhaps because of his series of radio dissertations on this country.

Today John Fisher has one of the most unenviable jobs in Canada — that of Commissioner of the National Centennial Administration. Unenviable because of the frustrations and slow starts; the tremendous degree of criticism which sooner or later reaches him. Naturally Canada's Centenary is one of the most controversial subjects we Canadians could pick to talk about. One of the reasons is that most people have an opinion to express and they range all the way from one extreme to another.

Indian-Canadians have found expression in the fact that they have been in this country longer than anyone. French-Canadians dispute the fact that Canada started in 1967 and feel that it dates back about another 300 years. Other hyphenated Canadians object to the idea of a Bilingual, Bi-cultural celebration of the birth of a Bi-ethnic country.

Fortunately in every case only a percentage feel this way, of those only a small percentage feel strongly enough to get very obstreperous about it. And, of course, the fascinating thing is that all of them are right part of the time.

And it is this conversation piece celebration to which John Fisher has been appointed chief government organizer. If we add our highly controversial World's Fair we begin to suggest why this may be an unenviable position. Particularly for a man who lives and breathes Canada, and believes with all his heart in this country.

John Fisher's coming to town. Even if the town is no longer there—even if Allan's Corners never really was big enough to be called a town — John Fisher is coming. And those who turn out on Saturday afternoon October 19 stand a good chance of hearing some good sound Canadian talk — in at least two languages — of the first tangible indications of their progress... the old log barn, which will be Canada toward a worthwhile Centenary.

The celebration which is bringing him to us for this occasion goes fifty-four years further back than Confederation. In fact very few were adults at the time of the Battle of Chateauguy in this area may have been a "round to celebrate in '67."

Back in '13 there were very few people in this valley and they were scattered, primarily along the rivers. From a land of swampy virgin forest boasting gigantic oak and hemlock this valley has undergone changes far greater than those early settlers could have dreamed of... and may undergo as great again.

On October 19 — before John Fisher addresses the crowd who will gather to see the Royal 22nd, and also to hear the Honourable Arthur Laing, who as Minister of Northern Affairs, is responsible for National Historic Sites — there will be an opportunity to see again something of the life which must have taken place in this area between 100 and 150 years ago.

Through the co-operation of the Historical Society and the Lions Club of Ormstown, as well as various other individuals and organizations, the public may see spinning, weaving, rug making, potash making, and various other reminders of the days that few of us are old enough to remember.

The public will be able to see that day the fascinating little settlers cottage which has been restored and refurbished by Beatrice and Robert McCaig. On the newly acquired land belonging to the Historical Society there has risen in the last few days one of the first tangible indications of their progress... the old log barn, which will be Canada toward a worthwhile Centenary.

Round Byre and Ring

by FRANK NAPIER

It may be of interest to note here that a number of Ayrshires that were either bred by members of the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club or were sired by bulls bred by such members have recently been leading winners at three Canadian and United States Exhibitions, while another cow also made headlines, so to speak, in a production way.

Two of the cows concerned were bred by J. Grant Whyte in his former Elm Manor herd, Huntingdon, Que. One of them is Elm Manor Honey Dew, a former well-known Ormstown Exhibition and Red and White Show winner who was grand champion Ayrshire female at the 1963 Pacific National Exhibition, Vancouver, B.C. for W.H. Savage, Ladner, B.C. Her full sister, Elm Manor Model Fashion, also owned by W.H. Savage, recently made her headlines as the new All Canadian high producer in the 10 year and over class, on twice daily milkings in 305 days. She produced 17,984 lbs. milk, 848 lbs. fat at 4.7% with Breed Class Averages of 217% for milk, 252% for fat.

In addition, her butterfat yield ranks second for 305 day production on twice daily milkings for any age. In her previous lactation she produced 17,511 lbs. milk, 871 lbs. fat, 4.97% in 365 days. She also has to her credit several noted showing winnings including, Junior, Senior and Grand Championships at Howick-Huntingdon Red and White Shows, as also the reserve Grand Championship at the Pacific National Exhibition in 1960.

The Reserve Grand Champion female at the 1963 Western Fair, London, Ont., was Clear Brook Gift, bred by Allan H. Wilson, Franklin Centre, Que. She was shown there by Archie Armour, Dorchester, Ont.

The Burnside-bred (R.R. Ness & Sons Ltd.) bull Burnside Beau Ideal 2 sired four of the leading winners in the Ayrshire Show at the 1963 Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass., all of them bred by Laurent Bosquet, Granby, Que. and shown at Springfield by Meredith Farm, Topsfield, Mass. They are:

Sous L'Ombre Ideal Hyronelle, 1st prize 2 year old heifer in a class of 19, senior and grand champion female. In that class, Sous L'Ombre Ideal Nola was second.

Sous L'Ombre Ideal Nettie was fifth in a class of fourteen three year old cows, while Sous L'Ombre Frisette was first in the four year old class. The four of them also won the U.S. Ayrshire Breeders' Association Trophy for the best Senior Get of Sire Group. Three of them, along with a Cumming Bros., Glangarry-bred cow, also won first Dairy Herd for Meredith Farms.

It may be recalled that Meredith Farms purchased Sous L'Ombre Ideal Nola at the 1963 Burnside Seventieth Anniversary Sale at $1,150.00. Following the Burnside Side Sale, Mr. David Lambert, of Meredith Farms went to Granby and there purchased not only the other three sisters but their sire Burnside Beau Ideal 2nd, the latter at a very substantial four figure price. It is also understood that all four of the Sous L'Ombre females are out of dams sired by another Burnside-bred bull.
