Student power 2 years away?

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Claude Bissell, president of the University of Toronto, says Canadian universities have about two years to get the jump on student power.

In that time, he says, they must figure out what students will demand and find the answers, or be forced to accept student solutions.

The 52-year-old president returned last week from a year of lecturing about Canada at Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass.

He does not expect Canadian students to erupt in bloody rioting of the type that shook Columbia in New York City—"that's not in our blood"—but he expects protest marches and sit-ins.

Riots at Columbia were a "symptom of these times." They involved Vietnam, black-white tension, the stress of a large city, undeveloped relations between administrators, faculty and students and growth of campus extremists.

"The next few years in Canada could see somewhat the same type of thing caused by student concern about participation in various levels of the university."

He believes, however, that in Canada emotions are on a lower plane than in the U.S. because students are not surrounded by Vietnam and the racial struggle.

Dr. Bissell says firmly it is his first priority to get the university moving quickly enough to anticipate student demands and provide solutions.

"If the university accepts solutions under duress it is co-operating in its own undoing."

Dr. Bissell says he wants to spend less time as an administrator and more in making himself known to the academic community—"both students and professors."

The staff of U of T will be expected to take time to talk to students about questions bothering them.

ABREAST SITUATION

Dr. Bissell was in close touch with U of T in November when a recruiter for Dow Chemical Co. of Canada Ltd. was barricaded inside a university placement office by student demonstrators protesting the company's manufacture of war materials.

He finds students "extraordinarily well-informed, not afflicted with undue deference and remorselessly logical."

"Students emphasize greatly the question of openness and on the whole they're right; we suffer more by attempts to hide."

At Harvard, he taught a social science course to about 70 undergraduates. It was built on novels, political documents such as Durham's Report and modern analysis such as Understanding Media by Marshall McLuhan.

The precise historical study he left to two graduate students in history, Michael Bliss of Toronto and John Humphreys of Edmonton.

The students were asked in an examination what they thought of the separatist slogan for Centennial Year: One Hundred Years of Injustice. "They answered it was not a fair appraisal. They emphasized that a great deal of the Quebec sense of injustice derives from internal attitudes—a turning against themselves."

May adopt

OTTAWA — (CP) — At least two aspects of the Canadian federal election could be adopted to facilitate voting in countries with largely illiterate populations, says a New Guinea electoral officer.

Simon Kaumi, deputy-chief electoral officer in the Australian territory of Papua watched Tuesday's election returns on television here and visited some district returning officers. He was interviewed Thursday before leaving for a tour of the United States.

Seeks to up admission figures

MONTREAL (CP) — Man and His World will get its 3,000,000th admission this weekend and with six weeks of operation gone is desperately seeking ways to boost the figure quickly.

If attendance continues at the current rate the five-month permanent summer exhibition will close its doors Oct. 14 with about 10,000,000 visits registered—exactly half the figure projected by Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau.

Expo 67, the 189-day world's fair that became Man and His World, racked up more than 50,000,000 admissions, a record for such exhibitions.

Man and His World officials admit privately they were too optimistic about the carry-over of enthusiasm from Expo among potential visitors and that the time has come to do some hustling.

The trouble is that this year's officials operate on a tight budget.

The exhibition being run by the City of Montreal, hopes spending of $28,000,000 will attract revenues of $34,000,000. There is little likelihood the $2,000,000 publicity budget will be increased.

EXPLAINS SITUATION

A top publicity official for the fair put it this way:

"Expo had 400 public relations men, seven agencies and $22,000,000 to spend.

"We have about 90 people, no agencies and $2,000,000.

"Our cash is being soaked up by such things as 8,000,000 copies of a general color folder at $129,000 and a simple fact sheet of which we got 100,000 printed and now find we need another 700,000 and up.

"We want to attract Americans in the Montreal-Washington, D.C.-Chicago triangle and we hope this $500,000 will do the trick."

In Canada, a crash program of newspaper, radio and TV advertising has reached the $10,000,000 level without a penny of exhibition cash being spent. Papers and stations which agree to give an agreed value in advertising for the fair are given a supply of entry tickets—called visas—to that value.

This is concentrated in Quebec and Ontario, from which most visitors are expected.

The exhibition's best attendance so far is 196,510 May 26 and the lowest is 28,809 May 29.

Expo 67 opened April 28 and got its top figure of 569,500 April 30. Its lowest figure was around 80,000.

French language CBC news blackout is over

MONTREAL (CP) — The CBC resumed French-language newscasts at 10 p.m. Thursday on its radio network and at 11 p.m. on television, ending a blackout of regular news broadcasts in French it began at midnight Tuesday night.

Cause of the blackout was the refusal by reporters in the Montreal French-language newsroom to participate in the corporation's planned television coverage of election results Tuesday night.

The CBC ran a movie film in place of election night coverage and reacted to the work stoppage by suspending news broadcasts on its French-language radio and television networks until the dispute could be settled.

The newsroom reporters voted 84 to 6 in favor of refusing to work on the election show following the removal Tuesday of Claude-Jean Devirieux, a television reporter, from the election staff.

Mr. Devirieux was removed after CBC management objected to his description on a news broadcast of bloody riots which followed separatist protests to the presence of Prime Minister Trudeau at the St. Jean Baptiste Day parade in downtown Montreal Monday night.

COVERED RIOT ALONE
Talks were held all day

Thursday between management and the reporters' union, which has claimed the dispute could have been avoided had the CBC assigned more men to cover the riot—Mr. Devirieux was alone—and had televised the riot live.

Mr. Devirieux also was present at the talks, but a management statement announcing resumption of regular newscasts in French said the corporation would suspend judgment "on the disciplinary measures it feels should be taken against the personnel responsible for the blackout of election night coverage."

The statement, released Thursday night, said Laurent

Picard, CBC executive vice-president, will appoint a committee composed of management, reporters and producers to "evaluate the circumstances of the programming of the evening of June 24 and its consequences."

The committee also had as its mandate an examination of the problems "connected with news and public affairs programming."

However, management maintained "the correctness of its decision to withdraw Claude-Jean Devirieux from his election night assignment" as a result of his report on the 11 p.m. television newscast Monday night.

Gervais' hopes brighten Larose majority cut

By PETER VERRAL
(Record Staff Reporter)

Paul Gervais' hopes that he may still be the Liberal member for Sherbrooke in the House of Commons brightened this morning when the Returning Officer announced Ralliement Creditiste Adelard Larose's 71 vote majority has been slashed to 32.

The Tuesday election night totals were 15,173 for Mr. Larose and 15,102 for Mr. Gervais.

The new totals after a three-count check was made yesterday are: Jean-Paul Blouin, New Democratic Party, 1,555; Paul Gervais, Liberal, 15,132; Alexander Kindy, Progressive Conservative, 5,909; and Adelard Larose, Ralliement Creditiste, 15,164.

Mr. Larose's total was reduced by nine votes. In poll 131, he lost five votes, 59 to 54; and in poll 151 the Ralliement Creditiste candidate dropped four votes from 68 to 64.

Mr. Gervais picked up 30 votes overall.

The former city alderman's chances of squeaking by Mr. Larose rests heavily on the results of the military vote for the Sherbrooke riding which will be announced from Ottawa tomorrow.

The Canadian Press wire service is expected to carry the results around noon. For a number of years the service vote has favored the Liberal party.

In the 1965 election Canada's military men handed approximately 100 votes to the Liberals. About 200 service personnel voted in that election.

The official vote count will take place next Monday at 9 a.m. At this time the service vote will be tacked on to the preliminary vote total of the election candidates.

Mr. Proteau has explained that any of the four candidates can ask a Superior Court judge for a recount. If one of the four Sherbrooke candidates follows this action, then it will be necessary for him to make an application for the recount within four days of the official vote count.

It is usually the case that a candidate demanding a recount is virtually certain that it will result in his favor.

During the long Tuesday election night vote counting, Mr. Larose held a steady majority, when he slipped past Mr. Gervais after the first few polls. As the hours ticked away, the Creditiste hopeful's majority was gradually nibbled away from approximately 600 - 700 votes and then to less than 300.

When the final polling division of the 228 reported, Mr. Gervais picked up 373 votes while Mr. Larose, who suffered a heart attack during the campaign, received 111 votes.

A number of informed observers have suggested Mr. Gervais lagged behind Mr. Larose due to the relatively light sprinkling of votes by the English-speaking population.

There were approximately 51,094 eligible voters in the Sherbrooke riding. Of this total about 37,857 - 37,953 people turned out at the polls.

Sherbrooke representation in Ottawa was left vacant earlier this year when Maurice Allard, Independent Conservative, resigned to accept a judgeship in Montreal.

Forecast Tory defeat try salvage operation

Conservative insiders foresaw the serious nature of the party's June 25 election defeat long before it happened, informants say. As a result, the late stages of the campaign amounted to a salvage operation.

The message began to hit home in early June. Polls, crowds attracted by the party leaders and other indicators were pointing to a Liberal victory and a Conservative defeat.

By June 10 or so, the message had become even clearer, partly because of the television debate among party leaders the previous day.

There were indications that Creditiste Leader Caouette's television pitch aimed at Quebec helped siphon off votes that might otherwise have gone Conservative in the predominantly French-speaking province.

Conservative hopes of almost tripling their Quebec representation in the Commons to 20 seats were dashed by the Creditiste upsurge that began to be felt right after the debate.

DIDN'T HALT SWING

Moreover the television debate failed to halt the general swing to the Liberals which had reached a peak following their early-April leadership convention, which put Pierre Elliott Trudeau in charge.

Well down in popularity to start the election campaign, the Conservatives had to overcome both the movie-star popularity of Mr. Trudeau-Trudeaumania—and the prime minister's one-Canada theme.

The insider's view is that the Conservatives might have been able to overcome one of the two obstacles, but could not handle both. Conservatives still insist Mr. Trudeau deliberately distorted the Conservative stand on the two-nations issue as a constitutional concept.

After it became evident that the Liberals were going to replace their minority of Commons seats with a majority, the Conservative aim then became to put an ideologically intact party back in Parliament. In effect, it was a holding action.

The earlier aim, at least in some quarters, was to hold the Liberals to another minority, then get to them in a later election when the Trudeau boom had subsided.

While the post-mortem talk swirled, Mr. Trudeau began remaking the caretaker cabinet he put together to tide him through the election. The result will be known in a week or 10 days.

CABINET MEETS TODAY

Meanwhile the old-boy cabinet was to meet today in Ottawa to discuss the strike of St. Lawrence Seaway workers and threatened rail and postal strikes. Other matters will also be on the agenda.

It will be the first cabinet meeting since the election, which gave the Liberals 153 seats compared to 72 for the Conservatives, a drop of 22 from the last Parliament. The NDP got 23, Creditistes 15. There was one independent.

Conservative Leader Stanfield, relaxing at his Halifax home, was supposed to return to Ottawa Monday or Tuesday to begin picking up the election pieces.

No suggestions have been heard that his hold on the leader's post is in danger. For one thing, most of the possible successors either lost their seats or failed in attempts to enter Parliament.

Meanwhile NDP Leader Douglas is expected to give some indication Saturday of whether he will remain or step down as party leader following his loss of his Commons seat. The news may come after an Ottawa meeting of the party's national executive, which Mr. Douglas will attend this weekend.

Another transplant started in Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — A Montreal Heart Institute surgical team headed by Dr. Pierre Grondin began Canada's second heart transplant operation at about 8:30 a.m. today, a spokesman for the institute said.

Gaetan Paris, a 49-year-old nearby Laval electrical designer, was receiving the heart of Yvan Bastien, a 23-year-old traffic accident victim, in an operation expected to be completed between noon and 1 p.m.

The transplant operation is the second performed by the institute.

Dr. Grondin headed the team that performed Canada's first heart transplant May 31. The recipient, Albert Murphy, 59, a butcher, died of circulatory complications 46 hours after the operation.

The donor was Mrs. Gerald Rondeau, a 38-year-old mother of four who had died of what the institute called a massive cerebral hemorrhage.

The institute spokesman said today a decision to proceed with the second operation was made between midnight and 6 a.m. and that permission had been obtained from Mr. Bastien's relatives and Mr. Paris's wife.

A statement issued at 8:45 a.m. by the institute said:

"Dr. Paul David, executive director of the Montreal Heart Institute, announced that a heart transplant is at present being performed by a surgical team of the institute.

"Drs. Pierre Grondin, Gilles Lepage and Yves Castonguay of the surgery department of the institute are proceeding with the transplant, the second at the institute.

"The heart of Yvan Bastien, 23 years old, the victim of a traffic accident last night, is being transplanted to Mr. Gaetan Paris, 49, an electrical designer of Laval and the father of five."

The statement said a medical bulletin would be issued at 1 p.m.

The court appearance, Sirhan's third since the June 6 assassination and his first in three weeks, was set up for a plea. But Russell E. Parsons, Sirhan's lawyer, said he planned to ask a three-week continuance for time to give the case more study.

Charlie pushes in

SAIGON — (AP) — Viet Cong infiltrators were reported pushing in toward Saigon today. South Vietnamese and US forces in the capital were on full alert to meet a possible new major attack.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Bright's Disease Is Not Hereditary

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is the cause of Bright's disease? Is it hereditary? What would cause a person with this disease to develop uremia? Can it be cured?

A—Bright's disease is now usually called nephritis. It is not hereditary. It is a frequent complication of streptococcal sore throat, scarlet fever or rheumatic fever. Sometimes the initial infection goes unrecognized until the kidney involvement is discovered. When the kidneys are so damaged that they can no longer clear the urea from the blood, uremia occurs.

This usually calls for the use of an artificial kidney. Some victims have been cured with a low-protein diet or the use of specially prepared amino acids. When the underlying cause is a very high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries in the kidneys, an operation to give the kidneys a new blood supply is sometimes beneficial.

Q—A blood test shows my urea nitrogen level to be 30. Is that serious? How can it be brought down to normal?

A—Since an elevated blood urea (normal reading is 10 to 20) is a sign of impaired kidney function and early uremia, it is not to be taken lightly. See answer to previous question.

Q—What is retrograde pyelitis? Is there any way to prevent a recurrence?

A—This is an infection that ascends from the bladder to the kidney pelvis rather than reaching the kidney through the blood stream. It may be caused by a variety of bacteria and fungi. It is treated with antibiotics and urinary antiseptics but cure is often difficult. The only way to prevent a recurrence is to treat the disease until all signs of the infection are eliminated.

Q—What can one do for a floating kidney?

A—A sagging or floating kidney usually causes no trouble. It is often seen in persons who are much underweight. In such cases, bringing the body weight up to normal or slightly higher eliminates the sagging. If the sagging is great enough to cause kinking of the ureters an operation to fix the

'The Chipmunk' nets five-day sentence; defense amuses judge

Judge Benoit Turmel sentenced Jean-Paul Gaudreau, alias the Chipmunk (Suisse), 52, of Sherbrooke, to five days in jail, the sentence beginning when the Chipmunk was arrested on Monday night.

The accused pleaded guilty on Tuesday to a charge of attempting to illegally obtain $49.88 under false pretenses from the Spur Garage in Magog.

The colorful Chipmunk, well-known in Sherbrooke Courts, loudly described his efforts to rehabilitate himself during the past three months since he last appeared in court.

He told the court, "I have been very quiet these past three months."

He explained he was boarding with some "really good people" and he even had a television set in his room. He described how he has a job waiting for him and said he would be earning $1.75 an hour.

Judge Turmel couldn't suppress a laugh as the Chipmunk rattled off his virtues at a rapid clip. He talked fast, waved his arms, and raised his voice as he spoke to the judge, Crown Prosecutor Andre Langlais and sometimes the spectators in the court room.

When he heard the sentence he looked at the judge with a baffled expression, reflected for a split second and said: "That means the sentence began on Monday. Okay, thank you."

Preceding his speech, Gaudreau explained the circumstances of the crime he was accused of.

He said he met three men who asked him how he was going to vote in Tuesday's election.

He told them he was going to vote Creditiste and they were so pleased, he said, they offered to buy him a few drinks.

Yesterday, however, he said he would have voted Liberal. It was Tuesday he stated he would vote Creditiste.

He went on to say they went to Magog where he tried to cash a cheque at the Spur Garage but the operator said he didn't have the cash needed to change the cheque.

The Chipmunk said he left the garage and then members of the QPP stopped him and arrested him.

Jules Cote, 45, of Black Lake, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his faculties were impaired.

He was fined $100 and his driver's permit was suspended for six months by Judge Turmel.

Another motorcyclist appeared in Court yesterday and he was accused of five charges concerning the incident in Windsor Mills two weeks ago when he faced Judge Redmond Hayes.

Jeannot Gauthier, age unknown, from Trois Rivieres, pleaded not guilty to obstructing a police officer in the performance of his duty, assaulting Jean-Guy Labbe, assaulting Earl Kendall, the police officer, possession of an offensive weapon and disturbing the peace.

He was released on $250 bail and will appear pro forma on July 4.

Famie Dezan, 47, of Magog, changed his plea to guilty from not guilty yesterday to a charge of impaired driving and was fined $50 and his licence was suspended for a year.

His lawyer told the court that Mr. Dezan was collecting an old-age pension which was his sole income and asked for a light fine.

Regis Daigle, 18, of Sherbrooke, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft and was given a suspended sentence and ordered to post a $200 bond to keep the peace for a year.

The accused was charged with stealing a case of beer worth about $2.50 from Marche Therrien in Sherbrooke on June 14.

Jacqueline Desharnais, 28, of Asbestos, pleaded guilty to a charge of shoplifting and was fined $50 and court costs by Judge Turmel.

She said she had no explanations and was single. She was accused of stealing a bathing suit worth $12.83 from the Woolco Shopping Centre.

Wilbrod Lessard, 44, of La Patrie, pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of an offensive weapon, a .22 calibre pistol, and was fined $25 and costs.

North Hatley's 'Pottery' begins classes this week

By CLAUDE ADAMS (Record Staff Reporter)

NORTH HATLEY — In a world generally believed to be going to pot a small group of North Hatley artists is taking positive steps to head part of it in the direction of pottery. "The Pottery", a North Hatley workshop founded in 1954 and directed by Mrs. Mildred Beaudin, began its summer classes Monday. A group of 12 students will be studying under the direction of Dean Mullavey, a former teacher at Bishop's University.

The students, from parts of Quebec, Ontario, and a few from the United States, are studying in the pleasant surroundings of the workshop which overlooks Lake Massawippi.

Essentially the students are being taught how to effectively use the simple potter's wheel, the glazing apparatus (painting the finished clay), and the four-chamber gas- and wood-fired Japanese kiln. The cost of instruction, room and board is $70 a week. Mrs. Beaudin is providing the boarding facilities as well as the meals in the residence section above the workshop.

The basics of making pottery are quite simple, as demonstrated by Dean Mullavey.

First, the potter takes a lump of shapeless clay and makes it malleable and more putty-like simply by pressing it with his hands.

Then he places the clay on the potter's wheel, which is operated with the feet.

Revolving rapidly, the clay is then sprinkled with water.

Then the real skill of the art comes into play molding the clay into the shape of the desired piece of pottery using no instruments but the hands. In this task, almost flawless symmetry must be maintained.

Then, the damp clay is brought into the glazing room. Literally meaning "glassing", this process involves the application of liquid oxides which come in many brilliant colors.

The clay is then introduced into the large kiln where it is baked at temperatures reaching 2300 degrees Fahrenheit.

The finished products are then sold either at the workshops to interested visitors or to shops in Montreal which deal in handicrafts.

There was considerable confusion at the Sherbrooke returning office at one period during the tabulation of returns election night, and the results so far showing Creditiste La-rose with a 32-vote majority are far from official... an official count will be combined with the service vote Monday, and a reversal of the present situation is entirely possible... Federal election poll number 195 in Huntingville was a single poll which gave these vote results: Blouin, 5; Gervais, 120; Kindy, 53 and Larose 13... the Record erroneously reported poll 195 as a split poll... Medal worn by a descendant of John Savage of Shefford is one similar to many that were given to early members of U.E.L. branches in Ontario and possibly belonged to the well-known historian Miss M. Triumph of de Gaulle is only the beginning

Faced with a general election of their own plus a host of other problems including seaway and liquor store strikes and threatened walkouts by railway workers and post office employees, Canadians may be forgiven if they did not pay too much attention to the French general elections which enter their second and final phase on Sunday.

Regardless of the outcome of a number of run-off elections, it is obvious that Charles de Gaulle has won again.

Given a choice between the stability he has represented for the past decade and at best an uncertain future without him, at worst possibly the "totalitarian takeover" he had darkly predicted, the French have voted emphatically for more of De Gaulle.

Gaullists and their allies have won 142 of the 150 National Assembly seats already decided and are leading in 150 of the 316 contests to be decided Sunday.

Everywhere leading anti-Gaullists are in trouble and some may not survive the runoff.

The non-radical majority in France is not alone in relief at the results.

De Gaulle is a difficult ally, but a stable France is much too important to the welfare of the Western nations for them to take comfort from his downfall which might mean the return to the strife and near anarchy of pre-Gaullist years.

While de Gaulle has won a stronger grip on parliament than he had before, he does not have the nation under firm control — many voted not so much for the general as against the alternative.

He has been given time not to continue his heavy-handed ways and the status-quo but to deal constructively with the deep-seated flaws in a superficially prosperous French society that gave rise to the May student and worker revolt.

It is not true that entertainment tacks hold night club costumes together.

Public short-changed

If an individual attempted to short-change the Receiver General of Canada by $500 in income tax payments, the full force of law and order would be marshalled against him.

It is possible that by the time his ordeal was over, he would have been confronted by the R.C.M.P. and officials of the Income Tax Department.

It is equally possible that he might be threatened with court action to make sure he paid his arrears plus interest and tax penalty.

There is, in our society, a form of personal accountability, but by contrast there seems no form of governmental accountability.

The last point is driven home year after year by the Auditor-General of Canada, whose findings have consistently shown that the federal government annually mis-spends millions of dollars, and no one seems to care.

Not only that, but there is apparently no drive by Members of Parliament to do anything about a situation which creates disrespect for government.

To some extent every taxpayer is being swindled by the government.

The influence of that swindle is to stifle personal initiative and to create a mood where the government is not for the people, but against them.

Perhaps with the cabinet now enjoying a comfortable majority in the House of Commons, the annual report of the Auditor-General will cease to be a little joke and become a matter of concern.

The plant's nonfavorite loafer works a 40-hour week.

TODAY in history

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

June 28, 1968... The Treaty of Versailles, ending the First World War, was signed 49 years ago today—in 1919—laying the foundations of the League of Nations which hoped to guarantee peace. As the price for diplomatic rehabilitation, Germany accepted full responsibility for the war, surrendered land to France, Belgium and The Netherlands, and promised to pay huge indemnities to the Allies. Continuing resentment of these clauses, planned to prevent Germany from ever again becoming a military power, contributed to the rise of Hitler 14 years later. 1924—A tornado killed 85 in Lorain and Sandusky, Ohio. 1948—United States and British forces in Germany began airlifting supplies to blockaded Berlin. First World War Fifty years ago today—in 1918—British forces made local advances east of the Nieppe forest on the Western Front; British planes shot down 17 German planes, losing three of their own; French troops attacked between the Aisne and Villers Cotterets Forest, taking 1,000 prisoners. Second World War Twenty-five years ago today—in 1943—RAF and RCAF bombers attacked the industrial city of Cologne. (James 1:13) PRAYER: God our Father, we thank Thee for the promise of Thy presence in hours of tribulation. Do Soviet leaders fear better US relations?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Special Correspondent

The Soviet Union's foreign minister says there is reason to believe that American-Soviet relations can be improved, but the Soviet press reflects anything but enthusiasm for such a development. It indicates that the Kremlin is apprehensive about better relations with the United States.

Like an elephant among mice, the Soviet leadership seems to be acting the role of a frightened giant. The case of jitters displayed by commentaries in the press suggest that Kremlin worries about Western "bridge-building" and about developments in Communist-ruled Eastern Europe can prove a major obstacle to better East-West relations and a more peaceful world.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, addressing the Soviet parliament, reported his government ready to exchange opinions with the Americans on curtailment of offensive and defensive rocket systems. There would be mutual benefit in such a curtailment.

But Gromyko also insisted that the United States is to blame for cool relations, that it must "stop trying to turn the world inside out." The implication was that any real detente would be impossible until the Americans are out of Vietnam. On that issue, the Russians support the North Vietnamese stand that peace in Vietnam is simply a matter of ending American "aggression."

The tone of the Soviet press in recent days has, indeed, indicated that the Soviet leadership is far from in the mood for any significant co-operation with the United States and is suspicious of American moves in that direction. The press treatment of recent events, notably in Eastern Europe, indicates that the Kremlin worries inhibit co-operation.

—They are worried by the progressive splintering of the Communist movement, by the increasingly independent attitude of Communist-ruled Romania, by the "democratization" process in Czechoslovakia, by the failure of a large number of Communist parties around the world to fall into line behind a Soviet drive for a world meeting of Communists.

—They are worried by the attitude of China toward the future of Asia and toward the war in Vietnam and they are worried, too, about the Vietnam war itself.

—They are worried by the elephant-mouse complex apparently has been generated by little Czechoslovakia, a land of 15,000,000, whose recent developments have thrown a scare into the leaders of the Soviet Union, a land of nearly 250,000,000.

Pravda and Izvestia these days carry articles which sound much like those of the Cold War at its coldest. They single out three main enemies for constant attack: the "U.S. imperialists," the "West German militarists," and the "Israeli expansionists."

It seems likely that the whole thrust of this campaign is to warn both the Soviet people and those of Communist-ruled countries that the big bear can be pushed too far.

CAN'T HIDE IT The ferment in Czechoslovakia and the phenomenon of free expression in a Communist-ruled country cannot easily be hidden from Soviet intellectuals, who, along with those of other bloc countries, could easily be infected. The Soviet problems and worries were taken up at the April meeting of the Soviet party's central committee. This resulted in a declaration that all parties had a duty "to do everything necessary to strengthen the community, politically, economically and defensively."

Many in Europe are concerned that the Kremlin will over-react to its worries. Literarni Listy, a Czechoslovak publication, recently quoted an East German Communist as saying that what is going on in Czechoslovakia is "counter-revolution."

Bratislava Pravda in Slovakia, citing this article, called it "frightening."

Background to the news

FEAR CONTAGION

—The Soviet Communist party leaders obviously are frightened by the possibilities of contagion from movements for more freedom inside the bloc of European Communist nations and from the general ferment

Do plastic pistols breed violence?

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Shortly after Robert Kennedy was assassinated a New York suburbanite marched into the room of his eight-year-old son, emptied the contents of a large toybox, and inventoried the following items:

- A sixgun and holster set. Three "spy" revolvers. A laser beam machine gun. A time bomb. Three rifles of various lengths. A guerrilla fighting kit. Four dozen rounds of plastic ammunition. The father quickly removed the arsenal. And, while his son shrieked in despair, he emptied every last thing into an outside incinerator. There is evidence that such reaction to "toys of violence" is growing these days. Reports from around the country indicate many parents and even some merchants have had second thoughts about the healthiness of make-believe arms. One storekeeper, E. O. Crawford of Ben Franklin Variety, Dallas, Tex., has announced he is removing all toy weapons from his stock in order to, as he put it to customers, "do my part to prevent violence and relieve my conscience." Said he: "It means $1,200 a year in sales, but I feel I have to do something. I'm getting rid of everything from clicker pistols to BB guns. I'm not doing to contribute to the delinquency of kids any more." Crawford's actions, and the similar doings of other merchants, have met with mixed sentiments among consumers. But the shopowners insist that favorable response has outweighed unfavorable response. Crawford is convinced that "parents buy gun toys only at the begging of their kids. And the kids only want the guns because they see them displayed. So, if I remove the display, I remove the temptation."

All summer long fireworks salute something or other

MOSCOW (CP) — The fireworks season is on again.

All summer long, almost every Sunday evening, the skies above Moscow and Leningrad, Minsk, Tashkent and all the other big cities of the Soviet Union will erupt with noise and color in honor of something or other.

It's often a little difficult to remember just who or what is being saluted when the peace of a Sunday evening is suddenly shattered by a 10-minute salvo of rockets, Roman candles and exploding flares.

One Sunday there'll be a display in honor of Soviet doctors and medical workers. A week or two later it'll be the turn of Soviet youth to be recognized publicly.

At other times a grateful nation will pay tribute to its fishermen, metalworkers, the Soviet Navy, railwaymen, construction workers, miners, gas and oil workers, the Armored Corps or teachers. Even physical culture workers have their day.

The summer-long festivities are in contrast to the Canadian custom of generally limiting fireworks displays to Victoria Day and Dominion Day.

ESSENTIAL INGREDIENT

The special days in the Soviet Union succeed each other like clockwork all summer long, announced a day or two beforehand by special layouts and photos in the newspapers. And the Big Day is always marked by fireworks—loud, bright, colorful and wonderfully expensive.

Most of the fireworks displays are alike, unfortunately. No matter how much the authorities may juggle with blue vs. orange rockets or silver starbursts vs. golden streaks, the novelty is pretty thin.

In Moscow, the best vantage point is on the Lenin Hills—a series of gentle swellings of the land overlooking a horseshoe curve in the Moscow River.

From the crest, there's a panoramic view of the Soviet capital. Set back from the crest and dominating the city skyline is the enormous wedding-cake pile of Moscow State University.

One warm recent night could well have been the best well timed. Across the whole of the city horizon, rockets blossomed upward at the same time from dozens of launching sites in the various Moscow parks. The farthest ones made only small splashes of color, but the nearby bursts crashed like thunder and the whole sky turned bright with color.

The crowd was curiously subdued. Some of the children shouted with each burst. The blasé teen-agers kept playing their guitars. But the adults merely watched, murmuring an occasional "krasivyyi" ("beautiful") when a flash of color was particularly eye-catching.

Hundreds of fireworks were sent up, but the whole display was over in 10 minutes. The crowd began to disperse forthwith, filling the sidewalks that lead down the hill and spilling over onto the roadway.

"It's always the same," one heavy-set man in shirt sleeves told his wife. When she didn't answer, he patched up a potential family quarrel by adding: "But it's a nice even'ng."

Pleads guilty to impaired driving charge

SWEETSBURG WARD — (Staff) — Loren Rudd, Granby, pleaded guilty to charges of impaired driving, hit and run, and operating a motor vehicle while his permit was suspended by a court order, in Bedford District Court, June 25. The incidents occurred in Granby June 22.

Crown Prosecutor Claude Noisieux asked Judge Guy Genest to impose: a one month jail term for the impaired charge, prohibition to drive for one year, a fine of $150 and costs on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while his permit was suspended, and a fine of $50 and costs on the charge of hit and run.

Judge Genest reduced the jail term to the minimum 14 days, but handed down the other sentences the crown had suggested. Default in the hit and run and driving while his permit was suspended will cost Rudd 30 days in each case. He was granted two months to ante up.

Roger Desautels, Granby, was ordered to the next term of the Bedford District Assizes, following preliminary hearing on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

The crown produced two witnesses. Desautels stood mute at voluntary statement. Defence Counsel Gilles Theriault had bail continued at $5,000 cash or $950 property pending trial.

Luc Dussault, Bedford, was found guilty of simple theft in Cowansville, May 21, following trial before Sessions Court Judge Guy Genest. Crown Prosecutor Claude Noisieux suggested that a fine of $50 and costs, the approximate value of the tire that was stolen, would suffice. Judge Genest imposed the fine, in default 30 days.

Robert Charles Mingo, 19, Point St. Charles, who had opted for a summary trial before a judge on charges of conspiracy to commit an armed robbery, attempted armed robbery while armed with an offensive weapon, discharging an offensive weapon dangerous to the public peace, and possession of an offensive weapon, will stay behind bars until July 30, when he will face preliminary hearing with a co-accused, John Zampogna.

Crown Prosecutor Claude Noisieux told Judge Genest that he felt the charges were too serious to allow Mingo to enter a plea without benefit of legal counsel, and that a summary trial could be detrimental to the defendant.

Judge Genest concurred after Mingo declared that he was acquainted with Zampogna's counsel, Mr. Mario Lattion. He will appear, for the form, weekly, until the joint preliminary hearing is held.

Judge Guy Genest halted the trial of Steve Bockus, 19, Bedford, who had been charged with indecent assault, in Bedford, April 27, and found Bockus guilty of simple assault. Judge Genest handed Bockus a suspended sentence, valid for two years.

Mr. Francois Levesque acted for the plaintiff and Mr. Pierre Sabourin for the defendant.

Maurice Brulotte, Austin, pleaded guilty to a charge of simple assault, in the District of Bedford, April 23. He was handed a two-year suspended sentence by Judge Guy Genest.

Wendell Corey, Bedford, pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving, reduced from criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle. He was fined $100 and costs, in default 30 days, and prohibited to drive in Canada for six months. Mr. Jacques Meunier acted for Mr. Corey.

Robert McKell, Cowansville, pleaded not guilty to charges of assaulting a peace officer in the performance of his duties, and disturbing the peace in Cowansville, June 20. Trial was fixed for July 9.

Charles Provost, St. Paul d'Abbotsford, pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving, in Granby Township, June 23. He was fined $100 and costs, in default 30 days, and prohibited to drive in Canada for three months.

A number of cases were deferred due to the absence of key witnesses.

HE PARDONED ROBIN HOOD—Elliott Durham, who was sheriff of Nottingham in 1964-67, chats with actors playing the part of the legendary Robin Hood and Maid Marion during ceremonies absolving Robin Hood and his band of wrongdoing. The

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., native was the first man born outside Britain to become sheriff. (CP Photo)

He came and remained to pardon Robin Hood

NOTTINGHAM, England (CP) — Canadian-born Elliott Durham came here for a brief business visit in 1939. He stayed to become the Sheriff of Nottingham who pardoned Robin Hood.

Today the bulky, smiling Durham remains a pillar of this history-steeped community, which has named a new school after him and made it a miniature Canada.

The school's emblem is a maple leaf, and each of 10 sections in the institution bears the name of a Canadian province.

Durham, now 75, pumped plenty of New World ebullience into the duties of sheriff, which he performed in 1966-67.

Still an alderman, he brings free-wheeling zest to such jobs as supervising the 2,000 men who police the city and the county of which it forms a part, Nottinghamshire.

He looks after primary education too, and somehow finds time to indulge his passion for fishing.

But he grins with special satisfaction about the kicks that came from being sheriff. He was the first man born outside Britain to hold that post here.

"Mind you, it nearly killed me," confided Durham to a reporter. But becoming sheriff was only part of a wider and a more embracing career embracing four countries and two continents.

Durham was born in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.; served in the First World War; was a salesman, store owner, actor and song writer in the United States; took to being a business consultant in Britain, reached high managerial rank and finally—when most men collapse into retirement—came up with a new, full-time career in Nottingham municipal politics.

Along the way he invented a machine for making yo-yo strings.

The city he now calls home has more than 300,000 people working in a variety of industry which makes it one of the major centres of the north Midlands.

Nottingham and neighboring Sherwood Forest provided the setting for the legends about Robin Hood and his merry outlaw band.

Modern sheriffs stay in office for one year. They go about their largely symbolical duties in a cockade hat and fur-trimmed robes, a handsome staff rounding out the colorful paraphernalia.

But until Durham came along, the office bore the stigma of having caused torment to the popular Robin Hood.

The Canadian displayed a real showman's flair by making Robin Hood's exonerated the high point of a special Nottingham pageant which he organized after assuming his sheriff's functions.

TOURISTS ATTRACTED The legendary outlaw may not have robbed the rich to help the poor, as stories dating from the 14th century picture him doing.

But contemporary re-enactments of his feats continue to be a big tourist attraction in what remains of Sherwood Forest.

To the brightly-garbed latter-day impersonators of the do-good criminal and his archer friends, Durham intoned a proclamation saluting their community service.

They were absolved "of all accusations of ancient acts contrary to law and order" since these were committed "in the name of justice and the righting of wrongs against the poor and needy."

Nottingham's sheriff officially is the Queen's representative in the county. For flamboyance, Durham was unmatched in the post, locals

DANVILLE — Graduating exercises for the Class of '68 were held in the auditorium of the A.D.S. High School on June 20 with a large audience of parents, relatives and friends of the class present for the impressive service.

The Class entered to the piping of David Applebloom, a former pupil, and took their places on the stage, as did the guests for the evening.

The girls, dressed in pastel frocks and corsages presented a pleasant sight as did the boys in dark suits and white boutonnières.

Invocation was given by Rev. L. G. Westman of St. Augustine's Church, after which Principal Allan Sutherland introduced the Class.

Irene Sonneveid and James Gagnon gave the Class Prophecy, which caused much merriment among relatives present. The Memorial Trophy was presented to Margaret Monroe, a great achievement, as it is the second year she has won the award for sportmanship and other qualities which make for a pupil of outstanding merit.

This year's Valectivity was given by Terrence Greenlay, following which the principal, Mr. Sutherland, spoke briefly.

V. C. Lindsay, of the School Board, then presented the prize given by the Mathematical Association of America to Terrence Greenlay. Art Awards were also presented to Stephen Reynard and Debbie Morrill.

Mr. Sutherland introduced the guest speaker of the evening, W. Munroe, principal of the Granby High School, who gave an interesting talk. His ready wit and realistic approach was an ideal way to convey his message to the Class.

The certificates were presented to the Graduates by L. F. Somerville, after which Mr. Lindsay made a few closing remarks, and the Benediction was given by the Rev. Douglas Hawkins of Trinity United Church.

The Class and audience remained standing for O Canada. There was a brief interval when the parents had the opportunity of taking pictures of the Class, before they, and their guests proceeded to the Cafeteria, where refreshments were served by the members of Grade X.

The stage was attractively decorated for the occasion with a white picket fence and evergreen, while a large basket of white peonies was placed in the centre, with baskets of pink ones on either side. Blue and white streamers came from a large circle in the main part of the auditorium, and a revolving multi-colored light was in readiness for the dance, which was held on the following evening.

The theme was Bon Voyage, with portholes lighted, to make an effective background for the evening's festivities.

The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Laxson and James Scott.

Prior to the dance, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott entertained at a buffet supper at Mar Lodge in honor of James and Claire and the '68 Graduating Class.

LEADING THE PARADE — Coaticook, a newly-organized team of young girls from 10 years of age and up, will be leading the Dominion Day Parade at Hatley.

Coaticook majorettes to lead the parade

HATLEY — Final plans are being made in this small community for the annual Dominion Day celebrations to be held July 1.

Headed by Mayor Gerald B. Johann as chairman of the event, the activities get underway at 10:30 a.m. with a grand parade led by Les Tourbillons Majorettes of Coaticook — this is a newly organized team of young girls from the ages of 10 up in red and white uniforms complete with their own 22-piece band.

The parade, in charge of Tom Ride, will form at the north end of the Village and will be led by Stanley Whitcomb as Standard Bearer accompanied by his two young daughters, all on horseback.

Following the band will be decorated bicycles, tricycles, followed by the floats and decorated cars and usually one or two "horribles" which make a parade complete.

All will proceed to the Village Common where the judging and awarding of prizes will take place. Following the parade, the majorettes will give two 20-minute demonstrations.

A Kentucky fried dinner will be available at noon for an expected crowd of about 700. There will be ample for all as different arrangements have been made from last year.

The ladies of the community will also have home-made pies; apple, lemon, raisin and pumpkin, as well as tea and coffee for sale at a small extra charge.

The United Church Women and the Anglican Ladies Guild will each have a sales table where anyone can purchase hand-made articles, fancy-work, aprons, novelties, mystery parcels and home-made candy.

Sports events are planned for the young people in the afternoon followed by a ball game between the married men and the single men of the town.

Howard Ayer is in charge of the ball game and his boys are practising for the big event.

In the evening a variety show will be held followed by a street dance to wind up the day's activities.

Ed Styles will be master of ceremonies for the day and his boys, with their orchestra, will furnish music for the street dance.

The refreshment booth under the band stand will be in operation all during the day and evening where hot dogs, soft drinks, ice-cream and potato chips will be available.

All proceeds from the days events are, as in the past, to be divided equally between the Anglican and United Churches.

Canadians will be celebrating

In a few more days, Canadians will be celebrating Dominion Day and their 101st anniversary. In some towns and villages, there will be parades, fireworks and other festivities.

In other places it will be more conservative. Some will spend the holiday relaxing on the beach or at the cottage, visiting families and friends or just staying at home taking it easy.

But were it not for 10 men in history, there would not be a Dominion Day, Monday.

These men sowed the seeds from which grew this great country of ours.

One of these is Sir Alexander Tilloch Galt, one of the earliest advocates of Confederation.

As leader of the Lower Canadian (Quebec) business and financial community, he was also one of the most influential.

Galt was Minister of Finance in the Macdonald - Cartier regime and in the coalition that brought about Confederation. He was a key man in determining the nature of the new political organization.

OUTLINED FISCAL BASIS

In particular, he was mainly responsible for outlining the financial basis of Confederation, including the division of taxes and federal-provincial fiscal relations.

He became Minister of Finance in Macdonald's first post-

Confederation government, but resigned within the year. Meanwhile, he had set the stage for one of the continuing controversies of Canadian nationhood.

Federal-provincial fiscal relations under the British North America Act were intended to be fixed and firm.

But, through the years, they have proven to be extremely flexible and negotiable in peacetime.

As such, they have been among the tougher fibres of Canadian nationhood, and, however, unintentional, the worthy legacy of a great man.

The most important economic event in Canada's second decade was the unequivocal adoption and implementation by Sir John A. Macdonald and the Conservative Party of the policy of tariff protection for Canadian industry.

Lets all attend the big day at Hatley, Monday, July 1st.

Sawblade hidden in tube

MONTREAL (CP) — The saw blade used by three prisoners in their April 30 escape from courthouse cells in Drummondville, Que., was contained in a small plastic tube which one of the escapees probably had concealed in his body, a Quebec Provincial Police official said Thursday.

Insp. Philippe Romain was testifying before a provincial royal commission inquiring into the administration of justice in Quebec. The commission, headed by lawyer Yves Prevost, was established by the ruling Union Nationale government in 1966.

The three prisoners, Claude Levasseur, Gaston Plante and Yves Simard, escaped from the Drummondville courthouse cells, where they had been brought from Montreal to testify at a murder trial, by sawing through the bars on a cell window.

Insp. Romain told the commission QPP medico-legal experts later found a 3½ inch saw blade about the same length caught in a drain in the cell floor.

The saw blade was similar to those used in workshops at the federal St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary at Montreal, where one of the prisoners had been incarcerated before moving to Drummondville.

Alcan expands preprinting plans for a substantial increase in Aluminum Co. of Canada, Ltd.'s facilities to produce pre-painted coiled aluminum sheet have been announced by M. Williamson, Alcan Vice-President, Fabricating and Sales. The expansion in capacity will be in operation sometime during 1969. The company has been producing coated sheet at its Kingston Works since 1960 and has made considerable progress in finishes and finishing techniques which have contributed to the still growing market for Alcan painted sheet.

Consumer spending Canadian consumer spending shows signs of continuing to strengthen in 1968, according to the Bank of Montreal in its Business Review for June, just issued. Total person income has risen steadily through the past seven years and the record wage settlements of the past year seem likely to lead to new record high levels of total disposable income this year, despite higher rates of taxation.

Automobile warranty deal may hit skids

TORONTO (CP) — Buyers of 1969 model cars from the big four North American makes this fall may find the Five-Fifty power train warranty no longer part of the deal.

The manufacturers—American Motors (Canada) Ltd., Chrysler of Canada, Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. and General Motors of Canada—are cagey on the subject. In fact they are scarcely saying a word.

But rumor in the industry is that confusion in present warranty servicing, plus higher-than-expected repair costs under warranty may push manufacturers out of long-term, high-mileage warranties altogether.

ty covers—a prime cause of ad-aches for dealers and manufacturer. The three-pronged warranty headaches for dealers and manufacturers.

One automotive executive says that cars should cost customers less in the long run without the long-term warranty.

"The problem of handling warranties, in relation to what the customer was getting out of it, is one reason for a possible cutback," the executive said.

"The customer has been paying more for his car than he would have otherwise."

Already the Five-Fifty—so called because it guarantees repairs on key car components for five years or 50,000 miles—has been curtailed since Chrysler introduced the Five-Fifty warranty five years ago—has been curtailed.

Starting with 1968 models it applies automatically only to the first owner. A second or subsequent owner must pay $25 to take over the warranty. In most cases he also must pay the first $25 of any repair bill.

The 24-month-24,000-mile warranty may be the only one provided on new car models.

Another report is that many pieces of equipment, once optional but now standard, such as bucket seats and centre consoles, may become optional again.

Manufacturers are said to believe this a good way to keep new car prices steady.

Any announcement on warranties will be made on an industry-wide basis when the 1969 models are announced at the end of August, spokesmen say.

For the car-owner a cutback in warranties means he pays his own repair costs once his speedometer has clocked off 24,000 miles. But he will also be less confused about what his warranty

Picnic survives weather

LAKE WALLIS — (Special)—Overcast skies and threats of rain did not succeed in dampening the spirits of Grace Chapel Sunday School pupils, parents, and teachers as they met last Saturday at Frontier Lodge for their annual picnic.

Drivers of cars found an enthusiastic crowd of children waiting on the chapel steps and when all had gathered at Lake Wallis there were even a few grandparents to be seen among the crowd.

The afternoon began with races or contests for all ages in a program led by Bill Haffenden. The rain only arrived as the men finished this part of the program with a balancing contest.

No one seemed to mind the rain for the next part of the day. Those who had come with swim togs enjoyed a splashing good time in the lake.

Everyone was happy to take shelter when S.S. superintendent Bob Beckwith called them into the recreation hall for a lively hymn sing led by Joe Kass.

The afternoon ended with a barbecue supper of hot dogs and hamburgers prepared by Peggy Munkittrick, Mae Povey and a faithful crew of helpers.

It sprang from humble beginnings

The Saint Laurent Pipe Band came into existence in the summer of 1963 with four young boys interested in Scottish customs.

Under the direction of Pipe Major Ian G. Millington, an ex-Pipe Corporal of the Canadian Army, the lads learned Highland dancing and then the pipes or drums.

It was a very slow beginning as the band had many difficulties to overcome.

Funds needed came from the Pipe Major's pocket and some from the fees that the members themselves paid to help cover the costs of uniforms.

Early in the spring of 1964 — with one playing piper, the rest Highland dancers — the band had its first test in Ottawa, where its members danced for the Ambassador of Siam.

In the following two years, the band, which had grown to 25 members, had the honor of playing for Andy Stewart, at the same period two pipers played in the White House, then in Quebec City for former premier Jean Lesage and for Mayor Jean Drapeau in Montreal, while the Pipe Major made a cut on a long playing record.

The band has become renowned for its versatility in Scottish entertainment — for its military precision, discipline and for the much envied drummer's calls.

Proof of this fact is that the band has piped and danced in the production of Brigadoon in Montreal; put on its own two and a half hour tattoo throughout the province and taken part in the Lachute spring fair with the only Highland regiment in Quebec.

With continued hard work, the band has managed to broaden its scope of piping events. A few of these occasions in early 1967 included piping and dancing for the Alexander Brothers of Scotland, various legion parades of remembrance and legion dances, Diamond D curling championships, hospitals, Navy League Cadet Corps parades, Ypres Day parade, schools, numerous centennial parades in the Montreal area to mention a few.

The Pipe Major, along with the drummers, had the honor of performing at Place des Arts for Les Feux Follets and also at the Canadian and Boy Scouts pavilions at Expo 67.

Another significant event was the presentation of the commanding officer's award by the Navy League Cadet Corps No. 2 to the Pipe Major.

March 3, 1967, marked an important event for the band. It was appointed Pipers to the Caledonian Society of Montreal. At the same time James Paterson, past president of the society presented the band with a centennial trophy to be competed for annually by the pipers of the band at the Caledonian Highland Games.

Last year the band also accepted the privilege of playing in Place des Nations, Expo 67, for the Royal Scottish Country Dance Society along with several other pipe bands from the Montreal area.

A photograph of the band was placed in the Canadian pavilion throughout the duration of Expo.

The Saint Laurent Pipe Band is now the official pipe band at the Caledonian Society Robbie Burns Dinner where its members are responsible for the piping, drumming, escorting the guests and the Haggis Party.

To date the band's membership has risen to more than 70. New sections have been added in order to cover a wider range of Scottish activities and to help in the administration of the band.

These include the Female Scottish Country and Highland Dancers

MR. and MRS. ALAN CAMPBELL KING

King - Rowe vows are exchanged

The marriage of Leslie Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford W. Rowe, Lennoxville, Que., to Mr. Alan Campbell King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. King, Sherbrooke, Que., took place at 8 p.m., June 1, 1968, at St. Mark's Chapel, Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Que.

Archdeacon T. J. Matthews officiated at the double-ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. M. W. Williams, of Plymouth United Church, Sherbrooke and the wedding music, which included "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register, was played by Mr. Wright W. Gibson, Sherbrooke. Baskets of yellow snapdragons were used in decorating and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white organza embroidered with daisies, fashioned with a rolled collar and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The chapel train fell from a bow at the waistline and her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion, was held by a flower cluster. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and white shasta daisies.

Miss Karen King, of Sudbury, Ont., sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, was in a dress of pale yellow brocade. She carried a bouquet of white and yellow shasta daisies.

Mr. Barry Caswell acted as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Mark Armitage, John Leckie and Alan Rowe, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Rowe, chose a sheath dress of aqua crepe-de-chine under a matching lace and ribbon coat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink Sensation roses.

Mrs. King, mother of the groom, wore an empire-line Kennedy Rose flowered dress with matching sheer coat, black accessories and a white rose corsage. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Rolling Hills Motel, where the bride's table was centered with the three-tier wedding cake and white tapers in crystal holders. Vases of white and yellow shasta daisies centred the guest tables. The cake was made by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Lyle Rand, of Huntingville.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a beige linen dress, black patent accessories and a corsage of tangerine carnations.

Guests were from Montreal, Sherbrooke, Birtchton, Fitchburg, Mass., St. Andrews, N.B., and Lennoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. King will reside in Montreal. The bride is a graduate of Lennoxville High School and of O'Sullivan's Business College. Mr. King graduated in Business Administration from Bishop's University, Lennoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Garth and grandson, Larry Garth, of Regina, Sask., and Mr. Alan Garth, Dunedin, New Zealand, were guests of Mrs. Garth's brother, Mr. Ross R. Carter and Mrs. Carter. Mrs. Ben Stewart, Sherbrooke, is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Carter. Mrs. E. E. Goodenough, Sherbrooke, was also a guest of Mrs. Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Carter.

Friends of Mr. A. W. Standish, of Cookshire, will be sorry to learn he is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, Room 316.

Mrs. John Wier, of Preston, Ont., is the guest of Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie, Lennoxville, for a few days, prior to leaving for Ripplecove Lodge, Ayer's Cliff, where she will spend several weeks vacation.

Miss Karen Derick is spending her holidays at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Derick, Gauvin Street, after having completed her affiliations in Montreal.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wheeler announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemary Alma, to Mr. Russell Charles Meyers, son of the late Mr. Mrs. Russell Meyers, of Montreal. The wedding has been arranged to take place Saturday, August 17, at Trinity United Church, Sherbrooke.

Kent - Sharman

NORTH HATLEY — The marriage of Brenda Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sharman, North Hatley, Que., to Mr. Rodney Alan Kent, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kent, and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ayer, of East Hatley, took place at 11 a.m. Wednesday, June 5, in the North Hatley Baptist Church. Rev. James Brooks officiated, and Mrs. G. E. Bennett, who played the wedding music, had been the organist 25 years previously at the wedding of the bride's mother and father.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a two-piece tailored dress in off-white, with navy blue accessories. She carried a white Bible adorned with a cluster of blue and white carnations and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bride's attendant was her sister, Miss Rhonda Sharman, who wore a pale blue dress with white accessories and carried a white Bible with pink and white carnations.

Mr. Alan Sharman, the bride's brother, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony, a small family reception was held at the Connaught Inn. The toast to the couple was proposed by Mr. Alan Sharman and responded to by the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent left after the reception for a motor trip and are now in residence in their new home at The Grove.

Christening at morning church service

The christening of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Powell, Rock Forest, took place recently during the morning service at Plymouth United Church, Sherbrooke. Rev. M. W. Williams officiated at the ceremony, the baby receiving the name Cheryl Ann.

Following the service, Mr. and Mrs. Powell entertained at a family dinner, which included Mrs. Ryder, of Granby, great-grandmother of Cheryl Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Neil, Mr. and Mrs. D. Neil and Wendy, Miss Bev. Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Neil, Mr. Melvin Neil, Miss Linda Macintosh, Mr. Peter Quilliams, all of Granby; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Powell, Susan, Ross, Mac, Billy, Tommy and Laurie Powell, of Waterville; and Miss Reta Danforth, of North Hatley.

New Finish

What is "SR"? What is the new soil release finish now being put on many durable press fabrics? The textile industries describe SR as "a finish that releases all water and all oil-borne stains; prevents or fights soil redeposition in the laundering; provides cleaner, brighter fabrics; and may also act as an antistatic agent."

MR. and MRS. ALTON GARNET LISTER

Lister - Dempsey wedding

SAWYERVILLE — The marriage of Donna Ruby, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dempsey, Sawyerville, Que., to Mr. Alton Garnet Lister, only son of Mrs. Evelyn Lister, Island Brook, Que., and the late Mr. Robert Garnet Lister, took place Saturday May 25, 1968, at 3:30 p.m. in the United Church, Sawyerville. Rev. C. Arnold officiated at the double-ring ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Earle Dawson. The church was decorated with apple blossoms and tulips and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows with lily-of-the-valley and fern.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length, A-line gown of white lace with a detachable lace train. The empire style bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held by a headpiece of white flowers and seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of red roses with green fern and white streamers.

Miss Norma Bain, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor was in a floor-length A-line gown of mint green fashioned with an empire-style bodice, bell sleeves and scalloped neckline. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations with white streamers and her headpiece was a pillbox of the same material as her dress.

The Misses Laura and Lynda Banks, flower girls and cousins of the groom, wore floor-length A-line gowns of mint green styled similar to that of the maid of honor. Their headpieces were large white bows and they carried bouquets of yellow roses and white carnations with white accessories.

Mr. Leslie Sutor acted as best man and Messrs. Donald Arbery, cousin of the bride and Raymond Lister, cousin of the groom, were the ushers.

Mrs. Dempsey, mother of the bride, chose a blue lace sheath, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Lister, the groom's mother, was in a pink brocade sheath with white and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Frank Morrison, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a blue and black double-knit dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Louise Dempsey, paternal grandmother of the bride, chose a navy and white linen sheath with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Sawyerville High School where about 100 guests were served a ham supper by the Orange Ladies' Auxiliary. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake flanked by white candles and seasonal flowers. Yellow and green streamers were used to carry out the decorations. The wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Graydon Winslow.

The guest book was in charge of Miss Elizabeth Bedard and Mr. Ronald Arbery, cousins of the bride. Miss Sandra Spaulding, cousin of the groom, was in charge of the wedding gifts.

Later, the couple left on a wedding trip to the Atlantic Provinces, the bride wearing a blue linen dress with matching A-line coat. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of yellow roses.

Guests were from North Hatley, Island Brook, Bury, Sherbrooke, Cookshire, Montreal, Eaton Corner, Lennoxville, Scotstown, Lyndonville, Vt., Bulwer, Stanstead, Huntingville and St. Lambert.

Mr. and Mrs. Lister have taken up residence in Sawyerville.

U.C.W. season at Georgeville is successful

GEORGEVILLE — The United Church Women held its final meeting of the current season at the home of Mrs. J. Penna. Thr was a very large attendance and it was felt it had been a successful year. President, Mrs. Merton Dustin, thanked members and friends for co-operation in making the recent buffet supper an enjoyable and financially successful event.

The summer program of food sales and an August bazaar was outlined and it was decided to begin the fall season early in September with a rummage sale.

CALGARY (CP) — Before the class gets started, one of two basic questions has to be solved: Who's dealing the cards, or who's got the dice?

Then the Grade 7, 8 and 9 students are ready to get down to their remedial reading course.

The program, introduced at Van Horne secondary vocational school, is aimed at children who are discouraged by years of lagging behind their classmates in reading skill.

In one exercise, they are given a deck of blank cards, with vocabulary-building words printed in place of the conventional spades and diamonds. Object: Collect the most pairs of matching words.

The dice, bearing a letter on each surface, give the thrower a chance to show his ability to put words together. "These children come to us beaten," says Randy Iversen, the teacher in charge of the project.

"The playing cards and other devices are just ways of getting their interest back along with the desire to compete. Often students will not want to read simply because they cannot read well."

From cards and dice, the class proceeds to a machine that throws scrambled letters and syllables onto a screen to be unraveled. Eventually, the students move on to the school library, free to borrow as many books of their own choosing as they like.

"We teach them the best we can," Mr. Iversen says, "bearing in mind that students hate to go back and learn what they haven't grasped earlier."

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—My husband and I are planning a cross-country trip with our small daughters (ages 3 and 1½) and would like any tips that will make our trip easier and more enjoyable.—MARY

DEAR POLLY—I have some ideas for Betty who wanted to know what to do with old sheets. (1) Tear a slit about three-fourths way down the middle of one and place on the floor under the ironing board when ironing long things that would otherwise drag on the floor; (2) use as dust covers on upholstered furniture while away on trips or vacation; (3) draw a piece tightly over a board to serve as a screen for showing home movies; (4) use as covers for wrapping seldom-used linens; (5) make rag bags, laundry bags and dust cloth bags.—C. S. H.

DEAR POLLY—Tell Betty that old sheets make wonderful costumes for Halloween or school plays. I have done this for four years and our elementary school has picked up the idea, thereby saving the parents and school money. Since such costumes are worn only once or twice buying new material often becomes quite a waste.—MRS. H. E. C.

U.C.W. visits made to Wales Home

CLEVELAND — The June meeting of the New London U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Healy. Two visitors, Mrs. B. Armitage, U.C.W. president, and Mrs. Douglas Kerr, Richmond, were present. Two shut-in, 12 Wales Home and one hospital visits were reported.

A letter and a donation were received from Mrs. J. G. Beatrice.

A donation of wool was received. Mrs. M. Husk and Mrs. G. Perkins were in charge of putting flowers in the Church.

In lieu of a supper a canvass will take place in the fall. A rummage sale was planned also for the fall. The donation for the August meeting is to be brought in by Mrs. M.

Husk. Mrs. Clarence Pease read a section from 'Panorama of the Bible'. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Percy Tozer on August 8, the July meeting being cancelled.

Quebec Senior Hockey League accepts Chicoutimi in loop

TEMPERS FLARE — Shown above, bending over, is Sherbrooke's Ray Courchesne and driving the punch from centre field is Drummondville's Ron Ward. Action last night was rough at times as the Drummondville Athletics downed the Sherbrooke Olympics 11-5. (Record photo: Gerry Lemay)

VICTORIAVILLE — (Special) — The Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League took a big step towards expansion here last evening when they accepted Chicoutimi in the fold to extend the loop to a six-team circuit, and possibly a seven.

A group from Chicoutimi was on hand for the meeting and they explained their request for a franchise and after a lengthy discussion the clubs were all in favor of accepting their bid. The group stated they were ready to play the number of games the league decided on and were prepared to follow the instructions regarding the operation.

Al Taylor, who is chairman of the CAHA Eastern Senior committee, was also on hand and he explained their situation. The Nationals this year will move into the new Ottawa Civic Centre and he stated that since the move is a very costly proposition the club could only play 25 games, away and at home. This was brought about, stated Mr. Taylor, since the possibility of securing dates was hard.

The clubs decided they would delay the answer on the National situation until further news was heard from Drummondville. No representatives from Drummondville were on hand for the meeting and they will be contacted over the weekend in order to secure a definite answer.

At the annual meeting last week Drummondville stated they were ready to continue in the loop and would deposit their $5,000 bond at last night's meeting. However they failed to put in an appearance and the teams decided on a deadline for their answer. President further in an effort to try and reach a reasonable agreement of some kind. A special meeting will be called next week.

Last year the Nationals paid the teams a specified sum when they played on Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Taylor pointed out that this would be impossible this year. There would only be single games on certain dates.

There would be no more four-point games. The clubs were in favor on this point. As for the Nationals taking part in the playoffs this would be impossible as the World Hockey Tournament, which takes place in Canada next spring, will make too big a demand on the players.

A motion was made requesting a delay on the Nationals' case until news is heard from Drummondville. It must be cleared by the weekend in order to draft a new schedule as soon as possible.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

O'Donnell was delegated to contact them and set the date for their bond to be in the hands of the league.

In the case that Drummondville isn't interested in continuing in the circuit the case of the Nationals will be studied Thetford Miners nipped the Sherbrooke Alouettes 3-2 last night on the five-hit pitching of Billy Bates to move two games and a half ahead of the Als in the Provincial Baseball League standings.

Quebec Indians blanked the Granby Cardinals 7-0 in the Capital City while the Plessisville-Lachine game was rained out. There is one game on tap in the Ellyson circuit this evening with Sherbrooke travelling to Drummondville to meet the Royals at 9 p.m.

Bates, besides the five hits, walked three men, struck out seven, all combining to win his sixth game of the campaign as against one defeat. Jusino, Als' starter, was given the loss.

ROYALS FINED $100

The President of the Provincial Baseball League, Yvon Ellyson, announced last night that a total of $100 in fines was slapped on the Drummondville Royals. The fines follow last Wednesday evening's 6-0 blanking at the hands of the Granby Cardinals.

The team was fined $50 for failing to give the referees police protection after the game. The trainer was fined $25 for bothering the referees while the game was in progress and $25 to George Gmelch for being ejected from the game.

Jusino was relieved in the seventh inning by Larry Butts.

The Miners took the lead with a two-run first inning. A single by Bouier and a triple by Sommerstad brought the first run home. Two singles, one each to Moore and de Leon, scored the second run.

In the second, three consecutive walks and an error scored one run for Sherbrooke. Bouier scored on John McKee's single in the bottom of the third to put Thetford ahead 3-1.

Onge tightened the score to 3-2 and ended the scoring for the night. This was St. Onge's third homer in two games.

Jusino, Butts (7th) and Testa; Bates and de Leon. Homers; Sher. St. Onge.

Alvie Thompson leads Quebec Open Homenuik out with card trouble

MONTREAL (CP) — Alvie Thompson won the first round, but for Stan Homenuik the battle is over.

Thompson, the capable Toronto pro, moved into today's second round of the Quebec Open golf championship at nearby Islesmere Golf Club on the strength of an opening round 68 — four under par — fired through a cold, windy and rainy Thursday afternoon.

Homenuik, of Winnipeg, figured to be just one stroke off Thompson's pace along with Bob Cox of Vancouver at tee-off time today.

However when officials checked his score card they found that one of his threesomes — Lyle Crawford of Vancouver — had inadvertently marked a birdie four for Stan on the second hole instead of the par five that should have been scored. Crawford had a 76.

As a result the tournament committee ruled that Stan is out and it will be up to brother Wilf to carry the family colors for the remaining 36 holes of the $12,000 tournament which winds up Saturday.

IT'S A RULE "It's the rules and you have to abide by them," Stan said with a shrug after being advised of the committee's decision.

"But it will teach me to check my score card in the future. It never happened to me before and it will never happen again."

Wilf was well back in the field with a six-over-par 73. The field will be cut after today's round to the top 50 pros and ties and the best 20 amateurs and ties.

Thompson did not get off to an auspicious start as he took a six on the par-five, 565-yard first hole. However, he rallied for an eagle three on the second, parred the short 185-yard third with a three and then took a five on the par-four fourth.

From there on in the Toronto pro had five birdies while going one over again on the par-four sixth.

Cox birdied the second, eighth, 12th, and 16th, while going one over on 17 when he had five on the 420-yard hole with a bad chip shot and a missed eight-foot putt.

PACES AMATEURS

Claude Dufour of Montreal led all amateurs with a 70 on his home course. He equaled Thompson's feat of an eagle on the second hole, but paid for it later as he found he had split his three wood in reaching the green. He later broke the cluo.

Tied with Dufour at the two-under 70 were three pros—Moe Norman of Toronto, Jack Bisssegger of Montreal and Dick Carmody of Elmwood, Calif. Carmody is well known on the U.S. pro tour.

The early leader in the clubhouse Thursday was Toronto's Frank Whibley.

A's stretch lead, clip Olympics 11-5

Drummondville Athletics outpointed the Sherbrooke Olympics 11-5 last night at the Sports Palace to drop the locals further away from sole possession of first place in the Quebec Lacrosse League standings.

In one other game on tap last night in Valleyfield the Braves rolled over the Sorel Titans 15-6 to move into a tie for second place with Sherbrooke, Valleyfield, Sorel and Caughnawaga. The A's hold a 10-point lead over the pack.

Sherbrooke again held the league — leading A's in check during the first period but faltered in the later two frames. On June 9 the two teams met at the Sports Palace and the

Tigers, Orioles post wins in LL, games tonight

Tigers and Orioles added points to their total last night in the Sher-Lenn Little League. Tigers took a 6-2 decision over White Sox and the Orioles blanked Senators 10-0. Tonight the games of Thursday, June 20th, will be played with Red Sox at Tigers and Twins at Orioles.

In the Tigers-White Sox game it was 4-2 in favor of Tigers at the end of two innings. The White Sox chalked up two runs in the top of the first on hits by Delisle and Lapierre. Tigers got their four runs in the last of the second on two bases on balls, two errors and a hit by R. Roy.

Two more runs, in the last of the fourth, made it 6-2 in Tigers' favor and that was how it finished. Outside of Roy's hit Moreault was the only hitter for the Tigers. Errors, four of them, were costly to the White Sox.

Orioles led by catcher C. Deschenes, who had three hits, had no trouble in winning their game with Senators. Bob Laforest, pitching for the Orioles, held the opposition to four scattered hits and sent seven men down by the strikeout route. Orioles got one run in the fourth, four in fifth and finished off with five in the top of the sixth. The losing pitcher was P. Provencher.

identical game pattern occurred. On this occasion the A's trailed at the end of the first period. Last night the two teams went to the dressing room after the first frame tied 4-4.

The game was well-played and rough. Twenty-five penalties were handed out by the referees, 12 to Sherbrooke and 13 to Drummondville. Sherbrooke's Marc Brunet received a major, a misconduct and was ejected from the game after becoming involved with Ron Ward in a fight during the second period.

Other majors for fighting went to Ward and Courchesne of Sherbrooke and to Olympic's Guy Hubert and Lavarenne of Drummondville.

Drummondville opened the scoring at 1:29 of the first period on a goal scored by Evan Blanchard while the locals had a man advantage. At 1:50 Sherbrooke tied the score when Ron Thompson beat A's fantastic goal-tender Tellier on a pass from Hansen.

Red Sox down Indians 9-3 as Twins blank Orioles 2-0

Sam McDowell was fine as long as he was throwing strikes. It was only when he let Boston Red Sox hit the ball that he got in trouble.

McDowell, selected as a member of the American League all-star pitching staff earlier in the day, struck out the side in the first inning against Boston Thursday night. But in between the Red Sox scored six unearned runs on their way to a 9-3 romp over Cleveland Indians.

In the only other American League game played, Minnesota Twins blanked Baltimore Orioles 2-0 in a game ended by rain after five innings.

Joe Foy opened the Red Sox first against McDowell with a bloop single and raced to third when Larry Brown threw wild on Jerry Adair's ground ball. McDowell struck out Carl Yastrzemski but Ken Harrelson stroked the first of his three hits, scoring Foy.

Brown's second error of the inning gave Boston another run as Rico Petrocelli singled for the third one. George Scott struck out but Russ Gibson walked, loading the bases and Jose Santiago singled for two runs. McDowell wild-pitched the sixth run in and walked Foy before fanning Adair for the third out.

SANTIAGO WON IT
Santiago, also an all-star, worked five innings before leaving with a slight soreness in his right elbow. He got his ninth victory in 13 decisions.

Harrelson raised his league leading average to .322 with his three hits.

Drummondville's biggest effort last night was turned in by netminder Tellier, who, principally in the first, stopped the Olympics from opening a substantial lead. On several occasions Tellier was called upon to stop hard drives from only a few feet out and only five times was he not equal to the challenge.

Sherbrooke on the other hand helped Tellier by consistently missing the net from only a few feet out. A number of excellent scoring opportunities were passed up by the locals as a result of missing passes as often as the net.

Drummondville, as has been apparent to all local lacrosse fans, has, right now, by far the best team in the circuit. Last night they showed what slick passing and teamwork can accomplish.

Sherbrooke's method of one player head manning the ball up the floor will have to change if the locals hope to catch the well-oiled, well-conditioned Drummondville machine.

on a pass from Goudreau stretched the A's lead to five goals at the 2:20 mark.

Terry Kent finally broke the ice for Sherbrooke at the 4:32 mark of the third when he beat Tellier on an unassisted effort. Allan Harrington score at 8:39 on a pass from Ron Ward and Ward tallied in the last minute on a pass from Ron Racette to round out the scoring, 11-5.

Golden wedding anniversary celebrated by Border couple

STANSTEAD — Centenary Church Hall was on June 18, the scene of a delightful event when relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Buckland, of Stanstead, gathered to help celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

It was in this same church on June 18, 1918, that Nellie Holmes became the bride of Lee Buckland, and many of the guests were at the wedding and 50 years later, the anniversary, including their wedding attendants, Miss Norma Holmes and William Buckland.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckland received the good wishes of the gathering. Mrs. Buckland wore a yellow rosebud corsage on her two-piece blue silk crepe dress, and Mr. Buckland had a yellow rosebud boutonniere.

The tea table, where the pourers were Mrs. Abbott Jenks, Coaticook, Mrs. John MacKinnon, Barnston, Mrs. Mae Gardiner, and Mrs. Hazen Converse, Newport, Vt., was centered with an arrangement of yellow rosebuds and baby's breath, flanked by gold candles in crystal holders. The flowers, the guest book and a book on Canada by the National Film Board, a collector's item, were gifts of the family.

The buffet table, decorated with an arrangement of salmon colored carnations and white shasta daisies, a gift to Mr. and Mrs. Buckland, was centered with the anniversary cake, made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Horace Doyon, in the design of a bridge upon two round pillars on a square base, adorned with roses, scroll, touches of gold and the numeral 50.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckland made the initial cut in the cake, which after it had been cut, was served by the couple of the golden years.

The hall was beautifully decorated by baskets of mixed summer flowers. The tea tables were centered by small vases of orange blossoms and honeysuckles, the artistic work of the Allegro Unit of the UCW who catered for the reception. The family were hosts and hostesses.

Rev. G. Joyce, pastor of the church, on behalf of the assembly, extended good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Buckland, and read a poem, composed by Carl Mayhew of Libbytown, touching lightly on the highlights of the past 50 years. After Mr. Joyce had read it he presented the poem to Mr. and Mrs. Buckland.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckland were also the recipients of numerous congratulatory cards, other flowers and gifts, as well as a telegram of congratulations from Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

Mrs. Stanley Holmes, a niece was in charge of the guest book.

Guests attending were from Lennoxville, Coaticook, North Hatley, Hatley, Richmond, Orleans, Way's Mills, Ayer's Cliff, Morin Heights, Montreal, Newport, Willoughby and the Boundary Villages.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

The club champion sat gloomily in a corner. Not only had he failed to win the weekly duplicate but he had actually made a below-average score.

He was moaning quietly and if you were to listen to his moans, you would hear something like, "Why couldn't I have played simple bridge!"

Today's hand shows one of his bottom scores. As anyone can see, four hearts makes easily. All declarer has to do is to ruff the third club, play ace-king and another diamond for dummy to ruff, draw trumps and concede a spade trick at the finish. Of course, declarer should play one heart before going after diamonds as a general mild safety precaution.

Now let's see what our champion did. First, look at the bidding. West's overall had nothing to commend it but when West did overall, it seems that East might well have either raised clubs or tried two spades. Obviously, East was familiar with West's overcalls and passed.

Anyway our champion made a sort of advanced loser-on-loser play. He discarded a low spade on the third club lead. East was in with the queen and returned a diamond. The champion won that trick, played his ace and king of trumps and remaining high diamond.

Then he ruffed his last diamond in dummy, cashed dummy's ace of spades and ruffed a spade to get back to his hand. West overruffed and the champion had the distinction of being the only man to make only nine tricks at hearts.

We don't really approve of his line of play but it might well have been the winning one. Suppose for example that hearts broke 2-2 and diamonds 6-2. The players who led one trump and then tried to ruff a diamond would have seen that third diamond ruffed by the opposition and gone down while the champion's play would have been the winner.
