Heart attack kills rock king Elvis Presley dead at 42

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Elvis Presley, a one-time truck driver who as a rock 'n' roll singer was idolized by fans and denounced by preachers as the devil's tool, died Tuesday of a heart ailment at age 42.

Doctors denied Presley's death was drug-connected.

Dr. George Nichopoulos, longtime physician to the swivel-hipped baritone who was known as the "King of Rock 'n' Roll," said an autopsy revealed a constriction in one of the main arteries to the heart, which restricted blood flow and brought on a heart attack.

"What caused it? Any one of a number of things," he said following Presley's death.

Dr. Nichopoulos said his patient, who carried about 175 pounds on a six-foot frame as a young man, but recently had been reported grossly over-weight, had been taking a number of appetite depressants, but did not have a drug problem.

Dr. Jerry Francisco, the Shelby County medical examiner, discounted rumors that Presley, who had been a recluse at his Graceland mansion for 20 years, had suffered from a drug problem.

DENIES RUMORS

"There was no indication of drug abuse at all," Dr. Francisco said. "I was aware of the rumors and that is why I mention it."

Delbert Sonny West, a Presley bodyguard for 16 years, said in Chicago just hours before Presley died that the singer was heavily addicted to drugs and haunted by fears that drove him into seclusion.

West was interviewed by Sun-Times columnist Bob Greene about a recently released book, Elvis: What Happened? that West and two other former bodyguards have written about Presley.

"He was on pills all day long, and he would give himself shots in the arm or the leg with those little plastic syringes," West said in the interview. "He would have us give him shots in the rear end. We prayed for this man many times. His drug habit is so severe that I'm convinced he is in danger of losing his life."

Presley, whose recording of Heartbreak Hotel helped to put him on top of the entertainment world 21 years ago, was discovered unconscious at Graceland in suburban Memphis on Tuesday afternoon.

Presley was found dressed in pyjamas and lying face-up in the bathroom next to his second-floor bedroom.

COULDN'T SAVE HIM

He was taken to Baptist Hospital in a fire department ambulance while Dr. Nichopoulos and emergency medical technicians worked to revive him.

"Come on Presley, breathe; breathe for me," Dr. Nichopoulos implored repeatedly as the ambulance sped to the hospital.

"But he added: 'We knew he was probably dead when he left the house.'"

The doctor said attempts to revive Presley, who appeared in 31 films — including Love Me Tender, GI Blues, and Jailhouse Rock, continued because of a slight chance life still existed in his body.

"The reason we continued to resuscitate him was his pupils were constricted," the doctor said at a hospital news conference after an autopsy. "Usually in death, there's not enough oxygen and the pupils dilate."

Heartbreak Hotel, the first hit for Presley, was released in January 1956. It was one of 45 records that sold more than one million copies, including Hound Dog, All Shook Up and It's Now or Never.

Booming record sales and overflowing audiences at personal appearances made the entertainer who combined country-western, gospel and rhythm and blues

CENSORED ON TV

When TV brought Elvis The Pelvis into millions of homes, church and parents' groups denounced the raw sexuality of his performance as a bad influence on children. His gyrating hips were only mildly suggestive compared with many of today's rock performers, but on the Ed Sullivan Show, he was shown only from the waist up.

Elvis was working as a truck driver after graduation from Humes High School when he walked into Sam Phillips' office at Sun Records in 1955 to record Blue Moon of Kentucky. The recording became a hit.

His career was largely the creation of a promotional genius, Col. Tom Parker. Presley made his appearances on the Ed Sullivan Show after Parker became his manager.

"When I found Elvis, the boy had nothing but a million dollars worth of talent," Parker said once. "Now he has a million dollars."

24-hour sessions possible House rules suspended for Bill 101

QUEBEC (CP) — Rather than speeding up adoption of its proposed language legislation by simply cutting short clause-by-clause study of the bill in committee, the government Tuesday announced its plans to grind the opposition into submission.

Parti Quebecois House leader Robert Burns said he will table a motion in the national assembly today pending the normal sitting hours. Instead of sitting 18 hours a week, the assembly will be able to sit around the clock six days a week.

"Our intention is to suspend the rules of the House until Bill 101 (the language bill) is adopted," Burns said.

Displeased at the slow progress of the bill in committee, the government had been expected to invoke closure and simply cut short the committee's work.

Reluctant to use this tactic, which always gives rise to charges of highhandedness, the government chose to let the committee sit on for the time being.

Meanwhile, the assembly will concentrate on passage of other major bills during its extended hours—at least until the end of this week. These include Bill 2 on the financing of political parties and Bill 45, the so-called "anti-seab law."

CLOSURE POSSIBLE
Closure may still come if, after adoption of these other bills, the language legislation has not made it through the committee and back before assembly for adoption.

"I hope personally, that I won't have to invoke closure," Burns told reporters Tuesday.

But he said: "We need Bill 101 and it's quite obvious we can't begin the academic year without it."

The bill contains rules governing access to English-language schools which the government long ago presumed would be in effect for the 1977-78 school year.

Burns' motion follows apparently unsuccessful attempts to negotiate a deal with opposition party leaders on ways to speed up the legislative process.

The slow progress of Bill 101 in committee Tuesday fueled the government's impatience—the committee spent close to eight hours debating a 38-word section on the language of court judgments.

Judgments must be written in French or, if in English, must be accompanied by a duly certified French version, the section says. Only the French is official.

Opposition members saw this as an attack on the independence of the judiciary they also warned that it could lead to a denial of justice in cases where the original judgment is drafted in English but only the French translation is official.

The government already has announced it plans to submit an amendment to the bill stipulating that the section will not come into force until Jan. 1, 1978.

Clause threatens freedom of judges, Ciaccia claims

QUEBEC (CP) — An opposition national assembly member says the judiciary's independence will be jeopardized by a clause in Quebec's language bill stipulating only French translations of English judgments are official.

John Ciaccia (L—Mont Royal) made the comment Tuesday as assembly members awaited a statement from Parti Quebecois House Leader Robert Burns on the government's plans for the legislation.

The government was expected to start proceedings aimed at ending clause-by-clause committee hearings this week so the bill can become law by the end of this month, prior to the start of the new school year.

Ciaccia and Fernand Lalonde (L—Marguerite Bourgeoys) argued the section of the bill making only the French version official will place too much responsibility in the hands of translators.

English and French currently have equal standing before Quebec courts.

Cultural Development Minister Camille Laurin said the Liberals were engaged in "a desperate attempt" to maintain the status quo and keep Quebec officially bilingual.

Laurin said it can be assumed that judicial appointments in past years had been made so that the judges had sufficient knowledge of French.

However, he proposed an amendment delaying for two years application of the clause, so the justice department can hire a sufficient number of translators to prepare French versions of judgments drafted by English-speaking judges.

Laurin said recognition of French as the language of the courts was normal for "a society which is essentially French."

"Quebec has the right to be as massively French as other provinces have the right to be massively English," he said.

Ciaccia said translating legal judgment can be tricky. As an example, he cited the 1973 judgment ordering a halt to construction at the massive James Bay hydroelectric project.

RCMP keeps files on government, Globe says

TORONTO (CP) — The Globe and Mail says the RCMP maintains a secret, coded filing system that in some cases contains personal details of the lives of federal ministers, MPs and other senior government officials.

Codes names are used to ensure that even if there are break-ins, the files cannot be matched to names, the newspaper says.

It says a number of RCMP sources say that secret surveillance of VIPs sometimes includes electronic bugging of bedrooms to record conversations.

The sources say such intelligence work is necessary to protect against the officials knowingly or unknowingly having relationships with Soviet or other informants, The Globe and Mail says.

It says RCMP spokesman J. R. Bentham said that if there is a coded system, he is not in a position to talk about it and that the matter of surveillance is a complicated question.

Code names are used to protect the identity of thousands of informants to whom the Mounties pay millions of dollars annually and to conceal the identity of

Terrorists angle probed in Marion kidnapping

By ROBERT MacPHERSON (Record Reporter)
SHERBROOKE — The kidnapping of local credit union employee Charles Marion may have been pulled off by a terrorist organization, a Montreal newspaper says.

Quebec Police are expected to comment today on the report in The Gazette which said the QPF's anti-terrorist squad is taking a special interest in the abduction, now in its 11th day.

A QPF spokesman told The Record early today he was unaware of the report, but indicated the subject would come up during the daily press briefing by police public relations chief Andre Dugas.

Meanwhile, Caisse Populaire de Sherbrooke-Est officials and police are still awaiting word from the kidnappers of the 57-year-old credit manager, who was abducted from his secluded Stoke cottage Aug. 7.

The last communication received was on Friday night. A message broadcast towards the kidnappers on radio station CHLT on Saturday indicated rejection of coded instructions for exchanging Marion and the $1 million ransom.

"We still hope, though, to get some news from the kidnappers," said police spokesman Dugas.

"Meanwhile, we still have no indication of the hostage's health. We don't know if he is either dead or alive."

The Gazette report quotes an unidentified police source as saying the case "has all the signs of a terrorist or politically motivated kidnapping, what with the use of the communiques and their own logo."

The logo was reportedly used to sign the four notes that have been received from the kidnappers thus far.

Police are refusing to disclose further details of the logo so that they can be sure of the authenticity of future communiques, the report said.

Meanwhile, the search of the Sherbrooke area continued yesterday, using tracking dogs, helicopters and at least 100 men.

Street violence rocks Britain as leftists, rightists clash

LONDON (AP) — Left-wing radicals threatened Tuesday to continue using violence to block marches by the ultra-right National Front, stoking fears of more turmoil in Britain after two bloody street battles in London and Birmingham.

"We're determined to intimidate the Nazi National Front off the streets," declared Steve Jeffreys, one of the half-dozen members of the central committee of the Socialist Workers party.

The next flashpoint in the feud between the two extremist groups is expected to be in the Hyde area of Manchester, where the front is scheduled to hold a rally soon. Officials refused to divulge the date, but the leftist leaders warned: "We'll be there."

Left-wingers also disclosed plans for a big demonstration in South London on Sept. 24 to block a planned National Front march.

"We could block the roads there with 20,000 to 30,000 people," said protest organizer Chris Wright, a labor union official who led pickets outside a strike-bound London factory that erupted into clashes with police last month.

The first clash between the leftists and the National Front came Saturday in the South London borough of Lewisham, where the Socialist Workers and their militant allies tried to break up a front march protected by hundreds of police officers.

It was the worst street violence in Britain since Fascist riots in the 1930s. More than 180 persons, including many police officers, were injured and more than 200, mostly left-wingers, were arrested.

Fighting erupted again Monday in Birmingham, Britain's second-largest city, when the Socialist Workers clashed with police outside a National Front meeting.

Nearly 60 policemen were injured and there were dozens of arrests. More than 30 shops were smashed and looted in the violence. At one point, hundreds of left-wing militants besieged a police headquarters.

The violence alarmed authorities and has increased pressure on Prime Minister James Callaghan to outlaw marches by extremists and increase penalties for militants convicted of violent acts. Callaghan met with home office officials and security advisers. No statement was issued, but government sources said he is expected to agree to ban marches likely to spark violence.

The clashes climaxed a growing confrontation between the extreme left and right in Britain and has intensified the unrest and political polarization that is growing in economically-troubled Britain.

ECONOMY THE CAUSE
The disaffection is fed by nearly 1.6 million unemployed, the worst total since the Second World War; continuing inflation, an anemic economy, rising crime and violence and the authorities' apparent inability to grapple with these problems.

The Socialist Workers and the National Front emerged in the last decade, and have especially gained in strength since Britain's economic crisis developed in 1974.

Stock listings Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices were broadly lower in moderate trading Tuesday on the Montreal Stock Exchange.

The closing volume was 316,780 shares, compared with 296,569 shares traded Monday.

One analyst said the decline in Canadian markets Tuesday was a reaction to a long-term slide in Dow-Jones index in New York.

He said the Canadian market had been "resisting the decline in New York for a number of months."

"It probably now has to give a lot of ground (because) New York has come down quite a bit."

He added that the gains in Canada last month went against trends on the Big Board and were due to purely Canadian factors, such as the forecast end of Anti-Inflation Board controls on dividends and the possible construction of a northern gas pipeline.

All indices lost ground. The composite index slid 1.07 to 180.94, industrials 1.41 to 175.03, utilities 0.46 to 164.29, banks 0.17 to 241.02 and papers 0.18 to 102.06.

Oils were lower. Westcoast Petroleum slid 1/4 to $11, Pacific Petroleum 1/4 to $31 and Imperial Oil A 1/2 to $21 1/4.

Massey-Ferguson dropped 1/4 to $19, Alcan 1/2 to $27 1/2, Canadian Pacific Investments 1/4 to $18 1/4 and Stelco A 1/4 to $26 1/2. Zeller's moved up 1/4 to $5 1/2.

Among speculative issues, Basic Resources International S.A. slipped 1/4 to $8 on a volume of 5,000 shares traded.

Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Plunging mining issues sent the Toronto stock market to its lowest point in six weeks at the close of moderate trading Tuesday.

The TSE 300 index was down 5.46 to 1,031.45, spurred by a drop of 16.47 in metals and minerals to 975.11, an 19-month low.

Analysts said the sharp drop at New York, where the Dow Jones index dropped 4.85 to 869, contributed to the decline. The Dow closed at its lowest since Jan. 2 1976.

Among the other three heavily-weighted groups within the 14-unit composite index, oil and gas issues fell 6.63 to 1,224.59, industrial products 2.48 to 906.84 and financial services .61 to 957.11.

Utilities and real estate and construction stocks led the seven losers among the other 10 groups, while communications and media issues, pipelines and transportation shares were the only gainers.

New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, giving up on its brief rally in the previous session, settled into a moderate decline Tuesday that left the Dow Jones industrial average at a new 19-month low.

The Dow average of 30 blue chips, which had risen 3.03 on the strength of some late buying Monday, dropped back 4.85 to 869.28. That marked its lowest close since it finished at 858.71 on Jan. 2, 1976.

Losers outweighed gainers by about a 3-2 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

NYSE volume increased to 19.34 million shares from Monday's 21 1/2-million low of 15.75 million.

Analysts said the market's uptick in the last hour Monday was apparently written off by most traders as only a minor technical bounce. Very little of the buying interest carried over to Tuesday's opening, and the market spent the rest of the day drifting lower.

Late Monday the United States government reported that industrial production rose for the sixth straight month in July.

But the 0.5 per cent advance reported by the U.S. federal reserve board was the smallest recorded over that time span.

The news came at a time when traders have been showing concern over the prospect of a slowdown in the U.S. economy's growth rate.

Hydro plans hike in capital spending

MONTREAL (CP) — Hydro-Quebec plans to increase its capital spending by 70 per cent this year to $2.17 billion from the 1976 level of $1.27 billion, mainly due to faster construction of the James Bay hydroelectric project.

In its annual report released Monday, the provincially-operated utility said $1.41 billion is to be spent on the $16-billion dam project in 1977.

Capital spending on the James Bay project is expected to take another substantial jump after 1978 to about $2.5 billion a year in 1980, Hydro said.

Hydro's capital spending in 1972 was $424 million, or one-third of its 1976 spending and one-fifth of this year's projected spending.

Hydro reported a net income of $310.6 million in 1976 compared with $98.9 million in 1972.

Earnings increased 35 per cent between 1975 and 1976, the report said.

Sales to industrial customers rose to $261 million in 1976 from $218 million in 1975 despite a slight decrease in consumption by the pulp and paper industry. Hydro's main client.

Other industries stepped in with the chemical industry increasing demand by 32 per cent and the electro-metallurgical industry's consumption rising by 13.2 per cent, the report said.

Residential demand rose

15.4 per cent, contributing to a 19.6-per-cent increase in revenue from this category, it added.

The sharp earnings increase allowed Hydro to finance 24.2 per cent of its 1976 capital spending with internal funds compared with 14.2 per cent the year before, the report said.

At the same time, however, the borrowing level rose to $1.8 billion last year from $1 billion in 1975, it said.

MEMO

Toyotas recalled

TORONTO — Canadian Motor Industries, the distributor of Toyota vehicles and industrial forklift trucks in Canada, has notified the federal Ministry of Transport of its intent to initiate a voluntary recall of approximately 8,000 Corona and Mark II models produced during 1970 and 1971 to replace the neutral start switch at no cost to the owner.

According to CMI-Toyota, the switch on the floor-mounted automatic transmission shift lever could short circuit, in some instances cause smoke, and in extreme cases an electrical fire.

Owners of the affected vehicles will be notified by registered mail in September as soon as parts become available and advised to contact their dealer to have the replacement performed.

Loans stay constant

MONTREAL (CP) — The Federal Business Development Bank authorized 2,662 loans totalling $120,489,000 to Canadian businesses during the three months ended June 30, compared with 2,661 loans of $120,787,000 for the same period last year. The bank had $1,433 million outstanding in loans, investments and guarantees to 32,571 businesses, a report released Monday said.

TD Bank raises rate

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Dominion Bank Monday raised its United States base-lending rate to 7 1/4 per cent from seven per cent, effective immediately. Last week, the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce announced a similar move. A spokesman for Toronto Dominion said the change reflects recent trends in interest rates.

So does Royal Bank

MONTREAL (CP) — The Royal Bank of Canada announced Monday it is raising its United States base-lending rate to 7 1/4 per cent from seven per cent, effective immediately. A bank spokesman said the rate was last changed June 6 when it rose from 6 1/2 per cent. The base rate is the lowest at which banks will lend U.S. funds in Canada.

Energy firms unite

TORONTO (CP) — Mymar Mining and Reduction Ltd. and Dynasearch Exploration Ltd. have been amalgamated under the name Dynamar Energy Ltd. it was announced Monday. The amalgamated company has applied for continued listing of its shares on the Toronto Stock Exchange and says it understands these shares should be posted for trading on the TSE in the near future.

Sea Products changes hands

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — H. B. Nickerson and Sons Ltd. of North Sydney will take over controlling interest in National Sea Products Ltd., largest fish processing company on Canada's East Coast, through the purchase of the common shares held by Empire Co. Ltd. of Stellarton, N.S., it was announced Monday.

A brief statement issued by the Nickerson firm said the purchase will be made Wednesday, but the price was not disclosed.

The statement said that the Empire shares and those already held by Nickerson and associates will constitute a majority of the outstanding common shares in National Sea.

The company said the purchase will end the voting trust agreement with Nickerson and Empire entered into earlier this year.

Nickerson is the second largest fish processing company in Nova Scotia.

Nickerson and Empire, a holding company for the Sobey family of Stellarton, acquired controlling interest in National Sea in 1976.

Premier 'preoccupied' with unemployment

HEADINGLEY, Man. (CP) — The superintendent of Headingley Correctional Institute said the situation at the medium security prison was tense Tuesday as a strike involving 500 provincial correctional officers continued.

"The prisoners have got past the point where it's a holiday," said John Gillingham.

He said the fact that prisoners were not getting their mail was a major irritation. "For some reason the mail hasn't penetrated past the picket lines."

He said the loss of visiting privileges and the generally reduced level of services to prisoners has added to the tension.

"There have been some incidents of shoving and less than reasonable behavior."

About 100 RCMP have been doing guard duty since the strike began Sunday night and the superintendent said he has requested an additional 15 police "on a standby basis, so that we will have the manpower to keep an orderly house."

MOT moves to halt slowdowns

TORONTO (CP) — The federal ministry of transport began to move Tuesday to end the slowdowns that have disrupted air travel at Toronto and Montreal airports for the last week.

Donald MacLachlan, regional supervisor of air operations for the ministry, said officials from the ministry and the Canadian Air Traffic Control Association are scheduled to meet today to try to solve difficulties that have resulted in controllers slowing air traffic.

"We are moving very cautiously and we have reached the stage where we are going to try to resolve the situation," he said. "We have initiated talks and a meeting has been laid . . . between ministry and association officials to see if we can get things back to normal."

"It has to be done on a reasonable man-to-man basis."

Air traffic controllers, angry at being legislated back to work by Parliament a week ago after a three-day strike, have been using their power to order a longer interval between departing and arriving flights.

Fire damage doubles

QUEBEC (CP) — Loss of life and property damage due to fire almost doubled in Quebec City last year compared with 1975, says a report by the city fire protection service released today.

The 1,131 fires reported in 1976 caused property losses of $7.9 million and claimed the lives of 12 persons, while in 1975 fires caused damages of $3.6 million and killed seven people.

The 1976 fire damage toll was greatly increased by a fire in the governor-general's winter residence which caused damages of $2.4 million. Another fire in the Woodhouse store in the lower city added $545,000 to the damage losses.

Of 312 fires investigated last year by the fire commission, 39 per cent were found to be criminally set and 13 per cent were attributed to unknown causes.

Toronto suburb given French school deadline

TORONTO (CP) — The provincial ministry of education has given the Essex County board of education an Aug. 24 deadline by which to choose a site for a new French-language high school in the area.

Education Minister Thomas Wells released on Tuesday copies of letters sent Friday to the chairman and secretary of the board.

The letter to Jean Ashton, the chairman, noted that the bill requiring construction of the school ordered the board to meet and select a site and architect and that has not been done.

Clarks on work holiday

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservative Leader Joe Clark and his wife Maureen leave Thursday for a week-long working holiday in his Alberta constituency of Rocky Mountain.

A news release from Clark's office said on the way to Rocky Mountain the couple plans to visit Toronto, Winnipeg, several Manitoba towns, and Clark's hometown of High River, Alta.

Thursday, they plan to visit the Progressive Conservative boat float in Toronto, Friday they intend to tour the Polish, German and Ukrainian pavilions at the Winnipeg folklorama.

Saturday, the Clarks plan to visit local events in the Manitoba towns of Carmen, Roland and Winkler before flying to Calgary and driving to High River.

The Rocky Mountain holiday is to begin next Monday.

Gros Cacouna to have port

RIVIERE-DU-LOUP, Que. (CP) — Rosaire Gendron, MP for Riviere-du-Loup-Temisouata, says the federal public works and transport departments have authorized $12.5 million to be spent on the construction of a deep water port and storage facilities in nearby Gros Cacouna.

Gendron said Tuesday the money will be spent during the next four years—$6.5 million for construction of a wharf, $2.5 million for dredging, $1.6 million for a warehouse and $1.4 million for access roads and acquisition of land.

MP Coates seeks PC presidency

OTTAWA (CP) — Nova Scotia MP Bob Coates officially announced Tuesday he plans to seek the presidency of the Progressive Conservative party at a general party meeting in Quebec this fall.

In a news release, Coates said he considers it imperative that his party develop close ties between its supporters and the Parliamentary caucus to prepare for winning the next federal election.

Michael Meighen, a Montreal lawyer who has been president of the party since 1974, does not plan to seek re-election at the party's general meeting November 4-6 in Quebec City.

Coates, 49, praised Meighen as "a person of depth and ability."

Ford recalls 750,000 cars

DETROIT (Reuter) — Ford Motor Co. recalled more than 750,000 cars of the 1976 and 1977-model years Tuesday to replace potentially defective engine cooling fans, the same problem that forced recall of more than 400,000 Ford cars in June.

The company also announced the recall of 642 Pinto 1977-model sedans for inspection of fastener nuts in the rear bumper assembly which might gash the fuel tank in a rear-end collision, creating a potential fire hazard.

The engine cooling fans in question are equipped with flexible plastic blades that might crack and break off, becoming deadly flying missiles if the hood is up or damaging the engine if the hood is down.

Liberal judge named to FBI top spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter has chosen U.S. District Judge Frank Johnson, whose decisions have boosted civil rights in his native Alabama, to become FBI director, informed administration sources said Tuesday.

The White House plans to announce today that Carter will nominate Johnson, a 58-year-old Republican, to succeed Clarence Kelley as chief of the beleaguered investigative agency. Kelley has announced plans to retire at the end of this year.

Johnson has been a federal judge for the Middle District of Alabama in Montgomery since his appointment to the bench in 1955 by President Dwight Eisenhower. Before that, he was a U.S. attorney.

The nomination will be subject to U.S. Senate confirmation.

Hearst waiting for appeal ruling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst, her life wrapped in secrecy by protective family and lawyers, is waiting for a ruling on an appeal of her bank robbery conviction that might tell "what the future holds for her," her lawyer says.

A decision by the 9th U.S. Court of Appeals, which heard brief arguments May 9, is expected at any time. A ruling by the three-judge court to let the conviction stand might mean her eventual return to prison.

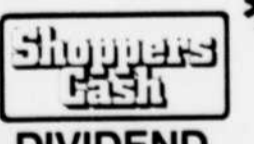

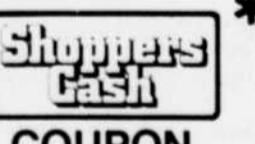

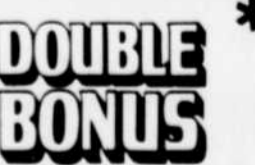

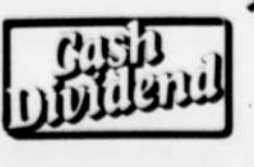

"She's apprehensive about the appeal, concerned about it from a legal point of view, and about what the future holds for her," said lawyer Al Johnson in a telephone interview from Boston.

Since her release from prison last November on $1-million bail posted by her family, most of Miss Hearst's activities have been guarded from the public.

The 23-year-old newspaper heiress spent 19 months underground as kidnap victim turned fugitive and 14 months in prison.

She was sentenced to seven years in prison for her part in the 1974 robbery of a San Francisco bank carried out by the Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA) terrorists who abducted her.

Later in Los Angeles, she entered a no-contest plea to charges of firing shots during the May, 1974, SLA robbery of a sporting goods store. She is serving five years probation on that charge.

Rondeau to sit as independent

By ERIC HAMOVITCH
OTTAWA (CP) — Creditiste MP Gilbert Rondeau announced Tuesday that he is leaving the Social Credit party and will sit in the Commons as an independent member pending the outcome of his trial on arson and conspiracy charges.

Rondeau, 49, is to be arraigned in court in Cowansville, Que., next Monday in connection with a fire that destroyed a two-storey residential building he owned in nearby Bromont.

A fire commissioner's inquiry ruled that the blaze was set deliberately, and a man from Granby, Que., testified that he received

$1,500 from Rondeau to commit the act.

Rondeau said in a written statement Tuesday that he was resigning from the Social Credit party and from its parliamentary caucus because he wanted to avoid any embarrassment to the party.

He said he would present explanations concerning the arson case only in court.

"Considering the judicial matters that are now going on and the publicity of which I am now the object and through me the party which I have served for 33 years, and considering that all explanations can be provided only to the courts, I owed it to myself to make a decision," he said in his statement.

Former Sacred MP for Shefford Gilbert Rondeau

FINED FOR TAX FRAUD

Rondeau also was fined $5,050 by a Granby court last month after he was convicted of 17 charges of fraudulent tax evasion in connection with a party fundraising scheme.

He has been MP for the Quebec Eastern Townships riding of Shefford since 1962 except for the years between 1965 and 1968.

Gilles Caouette, acting Social Credit leader, praised Rondeau for submitting his resignation without being asked.

"He has behaved like a real gentleman by offering his resignation to the party himself," said Caouette, adding that he first learned about the arson case on the radio.

The interim leader said Rondeau would be welcomed back into the party once the trial is over if he is found innocent.

But he hinted that there might be a political motive in the charges, saying that "they've been after Gilbert Rondeau's head politically. In fact, I'm not surprised by these events."

Caouette had a similar reaction two weeks ago to Rondeau's tax fraud convictions, attacking the judgment and saying that insufficient weight was given to Rondeau's evidence.

To cow country and back Family fun: Four weeks on a Honda

By JANET COTTON
(Record Reporter)

COMPTON — For many, motorcycles conjure up visions of unkempt types astride noisy, greasy machines, ravaging peaceful resort communities with foul manners and all-night orgies.

But it's a far cry from the image of the Drew family of Compton who just completed a 7,300-mile trip across North America.

For them, motorcycles are the only way to see the countryside.

"When you're out in the open all your senses are alive. You can smell the pine, feel the prairie wind — you don't miss a thing," says Ron Drew, who along with his wife Cynthia, and children Michael, 17 and Barb, 15, made the cross-country excursion.

The foursome roared through the west from Quebec. With camping gear stowed on the rear of their machines, they took the Trans Canada as far as Manitoba when cold weather and poor road conditions forced them south.

They toured the cow country of Montana and Wyoming, then the midwest, finally coming east through Pennsylvania and New York. Like motorized cowboys they made their beds in sleeping bags under the stars, except when inclement weather made motels advisable.

The Drews attracted comment wherever they stopped, on both the originality of their mode of travel and as well as Quebec politics.

"Everyone was so good to us, going out of their way to help us," said Cynthia. "Even with the political situation the way it is, we didn't get one quibble about Quebec. The few that did ask were only curious."

Even after seeing so much country, the Drews, agreed you can't beat the Townships for beauty.

"You always take home for granted," said Ron, "but after travelling 7,000 miles, when you're coming down the home stretch, and you get a good look at Orford, you know our area can't be matched for its beauty."

The Drew family spent a year planning the four-week July holiday, with Ron, Cynthia and Michael driving their own bikes, and Barb, acting as official photographer and map-reader riding behind her father.

When asked if they'd do it again, the response was simultaneous: "Tomorrow."

As a matter of fact, the Drews are planning a 3,000-mile east-coast trip next summer.

Ayer's Cliff

Children visit McDonald's

Children from the Ayer's Cliff Crippled Children's Camp enjoyed their second trip to McDonald's this summer on Aug. 10 courtesy of the Kiwanis Club and McDonald's owner Joe Scott.

On July 3, the Kiwanis Club put on their annual barbecue at the Camp. After an afternoon of feasting and fun, the Kiwanians and their wives, along with counsellors, presented skits for the children, followed by a fishpond of goodies, puppets and balloons.

Some of the financial contributions from the Club, have enabled the camp to purchase a much needed washer and drier, a tape deck, and make necessary repairs to the premises.

Bedford

School bells

All schools under the District of Bedford Protestant Regional School Board will open on Tues., Sept. 6. All buses will operate on their normal schedule for morning student pick-up.

This first day will be a short school day for students in order to permit teacher planning and preparation. Buses will leave elementary schools at 10 a.m. and Massey-Vanier at 11:45.

Any late-registration students should contact school principals immediately for an appointment. New pupils who have not registered by Sept. 2 should report to the principal's office on opening day.

Anyone seeking information on transportation is asked to call Mr. Smith at 263-3722. For further information on the school opening, contact Mr. Douglas 263-3722 at Massey-Vanier, and the local elementary school for elementary pupils.

Please note that all Secondary 1 pupils are to report to the local elementary school.

Georgeville

Community chicken pie

The Georgeville Community Association's annual chicken pie supper will be held this Saturday at Murray Memorial Hall. This year there will be four sittings, at 5 p.m., 5:45, 6:30 and 7:15. Advance tickets are available from the Village Store and E. Bolduc's in Georgeville. As a limited number of tickets are available, reserve now for the sitting of your choice.

Sherbrooke

Declared historical

The St. Francis district court house has been declared an historic monument, Sherbrooke MNA Gerard Gosselin announced yesterday.

Construction on the court house began in 1902, and the building was inaugurated Sept. 11, 1906, by Premier Lomer Gouin.

Constructed at a cost of $103,000, the court house measures 154 feet in length, 67 feet in width, and is 98 feet high.

Recognition of the building as an historic monument will come into effect with the deposit of a notice at the registration bureau. This statute prohibits any sale or alteration of the building without government authorization.

Handicapped fares

Sherbrooke Transit has announced special fares for handicapped persons who ride the buses with an attendant. Persons accompanied by an aid may both ride for the price of one, providing the attendant completes the journey and the handicapped person is permanently disabled and is a member of a recognized association.

Cadet corps takes 5th

The Frontenac Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps of Sherbrooke won fifth prize in the national proficiency competition sponsored by the Navy League of Canada and the Department of National Defence.

This voluntary, sea-oriented program for young men and women age 13 to 18 is sponsored by public-spirited citizens in 193 towns and cities in Canada.

Judge impatient with lover's quarrels

SWEETSBURG WARD
Alain Paquette, Granby, changed his option and pleaded guilty to a charge of simple assault on the person of Jocelyne Carrier in Mansonville earlier this year. Crown attorney Noisieux concurred with the remarks of defence lawyer Peter Turner who had said it was the result of a lovers quarrel. Mr. Turner suggested the interests of justice would be well served with an unconditional release.

Judge Legare disagreed and fined the accused $25 and costs, in default eight days, and allowed him two weeks to pay the fine and costs.

Robert Casavant, Granby, pleaded guilty to charges of simple assault on the person of Monique Robert and wilful property damage at her Brigham residence, July 16. "It was another lovers quarrel and her parents requested the charges be dropped, however the wheels of justice had been set in motion and it was too late," Crown attorney Noisieux said prior to suggesting the accused be the object of a probation order at the discretion of the court.

Judge Legare bound the young man over to keep the peace for six months.

Denis Vachon, of no fixed address, pleaded not guilty to a charge of breaking and entering and theft of cheques and cash in an amount of $4,400 at the Ligue Garage, Farnham, Aug. 3. His lawyer, Claude Hamann, chose jury trial and preliminary hearing was set to Aug. 16. Vachon was ordered remanded pending the hearing.

Gilles Paquette, Notre Dame de Stanbridge, pleaded not guilty to having been illegally at large from the Sweetburg Jail on July 22. Defence lawyer Claude Hamann chose jury trial and preliminary hearing was set to Aug. 23. Paquette was allowed his freedom pending the hearing.

Gaetan Mercier, Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere changed his option and pleaded guilty to a charge of qualified robbery in the District of Bedford last spring. Crown attorney Noisieux supported defence lawyer Claude Hamann's request for a pre-sentence report. "It was a bit like a western movie and the charge looks much worse than it really is," Mr. Noisieux said.

Judge Legare freed the accused and adjourned his sentence to Dec. 19.

ROCK ISLAND BLAZE — A stubborn fire erupted early yesterday evening drawing large crowds and three fire departments downtown. At least half the firefighters were overcome by smoke inhalation in the fire that left six families homeless. (Record photo Ivy Hatch)

Rock Island blaze destroys warehouse

ROCK ISLAND — A stubborn fire gutted a warehouse store and left eight people homeless in Rock Island last evening. The residents, living in six apartments over the store, were quickly evacuated after the first alarm.

The fire believed to have started in the store basement, through partitions, was first noticed about 6 p.m. and the Rock Island Fire department was called to the scene. They later called for assistance from the Stanstead and Derby Line, Vt., fire departments.

For the first three hours of the fire heavy smoke billowed from the building and more than half of the firemen were overcome by smoke. They were revived by oxygen, administered by attendants of the Border line ambulance service and another station set up and manned by Steve Davis and Red Cross personnel.

The flames broke out about 9 p.m. and the firemen were able to contain the fire to the one building, bolstered by gallons of coffee, compliments of the town.

The people residing at the apartments were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Goodsell, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis McGovern, Miss Mildred Blake, Miss Diane Smith, Leon Joyal and Romeo Larocque.

The McGoverns lost their home by fire a few years ago.

Policy or policies?

One sometimes wonders who is running the present government of the province. Does the present cabinet really have a clear idea where it is headed?

We seem at times to be faced with contradictions which border on incoherence.

Premier Levesque implies that he is uneasy with Mr. Laurin's language policy and states that it is humiliating.

Transport Minister Lessard calls for an inquiry into the question of the site of the Namur Metro Station in spite of a cabinet decision not to hold an inquiry.

Faced with statistics showing rising unemployment, Industry and Commerce Minister Tremblay lays all the blame on the federal government and continues by stating that he will discuss the possibility of a supplementary budget with Finance Minister Parizeau upon this latter's return from vacation.

We get the impression that we are dealing with a loosely connected group of individuals each in charge of his or her own fief rather than a cohesive cabinet with a coherent policy. Whatever happened to the so-called "Super Ministries" which were intended to co-ordinate the administration of the Parti Quebecois government?

The one area where this administration seems to co-ordinate its efforts is in the public relations sphere. Yesterday's "Le Devoir" tells us that the Prime Minister's office is organizing a political propaganda blitz for the early autumn once the various members and ministers return from vacation. The Premier's office would be better occupied with advising on specific policy to deal with the province's pressing problems.

Trudeau out of the picture as provinces debate bilateral education agreements

ST. ANDREW'S N.B. — The premiers of Canada's ten provinces are arriving here today for an annual meeting that may be the most important they have ever held, with the question of language reciprocity the key item on the agenda.

A reluctant Premier Levesque finally decided to come to St. Andrew's after the premiers accepted, in effect, his challenge to discuss the language issue. The Quebec government has indicated its willingness to negotiate bilateral agreements with individual provinces that would allow English-speaking Canadians from outside Quebec to attend English-language schools when they move into the province, regardless of where their parents were educated. That privilege would exist, only insofar as the other provinces provided similar education opportunities for French-speaking Canadians.

Prime Minister Trudeau has attacked that plan as bargaining over the heads of the kids. But to a lot of Canadians it seems to have the quality of rough justice.

From The Record's Ottawa correspondent

Federal officials in Ottawa are divided in their view as to the value of such an agreement. Obviously with education a matter of strictly provincial jurisdiction there is nothing to stop the provinces making such a deal. But Ottawa Civil servants deeply involved in Federal-Provincial affairs say there may be a higher question at stake is the question of human rights.

The point is that there are hundreds of bilateral provincial agreements on such mundane matters as trucking and making sure when two provinces build highways ending at their borders, the highways meet. The question of education, however, at this particular time in our national history, they consider of an entirely different order.

Ottawa would be pleased to see any agreement and presumably would find some way to attain federal involvement afterwards, however slight that involvement might be. It could take the form of speciallylinked assistance money for provinces that needed it.

Realistically, though, the best that Ottawa expects is some movement towards an agreement between the various provinces. Ontario, New Brunswick, and Manitoba already provide such instruction, and it is available in varying degrees in the other provinces.

The question is mainly one of symbolism. Some estimates place the number of newcomers in Quebec requiring English-language facilities at no more than 1,400 a year out of a school population of a million-and-a-half. It's reasonable to assume the traffic the other way - to the other provinces - is no more, and possibly less.

This is one of the reasons for the federal government's anger at this issue being finessed among the provinces, if that is what happens here in the next couple of days.

The Quebec government, in the short run, gains whichever way it turns out. If agreements are made, it will be a tough-minded Parti Quebecois government that finally got the other provinces to do what previous Quebec governments couldn't get them to do. If no agreement is reached, it will be "I told you so", from the Quebec premier. He could say "You can't deal with these people and they don't care anyway."

The chances are progress will be made towards an agreement, but at the same time, the other provinces will make it clear that making an agreement with a sister province (Quebec) is totally different from dealing with an independent state sometime in the future.

That, the other nine provinces will make crystal-clear for the benefit of Quebecers, and for their own voters.

CRTC proposes regulation of telephone profits

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission has issued a series of accounting proposals that, if adopted, would ultimately result in savings to users of federally-regulated phone companies, a CRTC official said Monday.

The complex proposals, put forward in a 22-page announcement, would also result in more effective and efficient regulation of the phone companies and prevent the firms from siphoning off profits into subsidiaries that are integrally-related to the phone system, the official said.

The proposals, likely to draw sharp criticisms from some of the phone companies, are to be considered by the CRTC at a public hearing tentatively scheduled for Ottawa Nov.

Companies that would be affected by the proposals are Bell Canada, British Columbia Telephone Co., the communications' divisions of the Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific Ltd., and Telesat Canada. Telesat, which is almost 50 per cent owned by the federal government, provides satellite phone links for CN-CP Telecommunications and the consortium of major telephone companies across the country.

Among other matters, the CRTC's proposals concern accounting procedures on depreciation of equipment, deferred tax payments, overhead expenses and investment in subsidiaries.

Bell Canada and CN-CP have been severely criticized by consumer groups and other organizations for using the profits from their monopoly services to create spin-off companies.

Bell alone has more than 70 subsidiaries, which are not federally regulated.

Under the proposals, expenses and revenues of subsidiaries, integrally involved with the parent company's operations, would be included in the parent firm's accounting books, the CRTC official said.

This and other changes should in the long run decrease the revenue requirements of the phone companies and will eventually provide savings that will be passed on to consumers, he said.

The CRTC also proposed a number of changes aimed at standardizing accounting procedures among the various phone companies.

Such changes will make it easier for the CRTC to provide effective regulation of the companies in a more efficient manner, the official said.

Jack Anderson's Washington Merry-Go-Round
Rolls Royce foreign aid causing rumpus in Washington

by Jack Anderson and Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Just about every nation in real or apparent need has received substantial aid from the United States. Now the official in charge of dispensing the aid, John Gilligan, has been quoted in the papers as saying our tax money has gone for "Rolls-Royces and fighter planes and bowling alleys to keep the rulers happy."

This is raising a rumpus in the back-rooms of Washington. Gilligan, director of the Agency for International Development (AID), has been accused of spouting off "half-baked, out-dated clichés," of taking "a series of cheap shots," of undermining his own agency. Dismayed subordinates have been heard to suggest he should be banished to Gilligan's Island.

The whole hubbub can be summarized in a confidential exchange of letters between an indignant congressman and the outspoken Gilligan. Rep. Stephen Solarz, D-N.Y., a champion of the unpopular aid program, wrote angrily: "I can only say that I was shocked and dismayed at the content of your statements as reported in the newspaper."

"Either the things you said are true and your staff has been running a wretchedly mismanaged program," Solarz said, "or else you were misrepresenting the program over which you were in charge." He demanded to know "where and when have we bought Rolls-Royces under the AID program? Where and when have we bought bowling alleys to keep the rulers happy?"

The congressman accused Gilligan of trying to "lead the pack in denouncing" his own foreign assistance program.

The AID director responded that he had been "speaking in the past tense," that he had been "attempting to make the point that numerous Americans believe" aid funds have been misused and that, in fact, aid money had been used to buy a helicopter for Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, to construct a luxury hotel in the Dominican Republic and to bolster dictatorships.

But Gilligan insisted he merely wanted "to get across the message that the new administrator of AID was aware of these and other criticisms and intended to see that funds are used as Congress has directed."

We have kept a close watch on the distribution of aid for a quarter century. The program began from the best motives; the American people after World War II wanted to get the world going again. But all too often, Uncle Sam offered handouts to hands that were only too quick to pick his pockets.

Nor has the flow of aid, as Gilligan suggested, always been channeled to the neediest. It has often been used as a form of bribery to keep foreign potentates on our side in the world power struggle.

But the focus has changed in recent years. AID projects are now designed to help the world's impoverished people increase their agricultural productivity. "Rural development," has become the watchword.

Most of the programs look impressive enough on paper; the results are often less impressive. AID officials find themselves entangled in endless red tape. They forever fill out forms and file reports to Washington until they have time for little else. It can be even more frustrating to process new projects through the poorly organized, often corrupt Third World bureaucracies.

We sent our roving reporter, Hal Bernton, to Haiti last year to find out whether the needy were getting U.S. aid. He found AID officials living in luxury in fashionable villas, with swimming pools. The recipients, in contrast, lived in the most dire poverty.

Yet Bernton found thousands of children who would not have survived except for U.S. grain shipments. He stayed at a small village, established by a Catholic nun. All the residents would have starved except for a daily handout of millet through the AID food program.

The foreign aid program is overstaffed; the staff is overpaid; the agency is top-heavy. But in human terms, poor people have been able to survive because of American generosity.

Footnote: Solarz told us he has now settled his differences with Gilligan. Gilligan told us he will watch what he says more carefully hereafter. Our own sources say Gilligan is sensitive to the concerns of the poor and is trying to eliminate waste.

Watch on Waste — Each year, the federal government spends a startling $40 million just for electric typewriters. Most of them are purchased from one company, the giant IBM, for top prices.

Rep. James Florie, D-N.J., has suggested in a confidential letter to the General Accounting Office that the taxpayers could save millions by buying more economical typewriters.

"My inquiry has shown," he states, "that IBM receives 88 per cent of the federal contract awards for typewriters, even though their machines cost $100 to $200 more per copy than similar models available from other manufacturers."

The letter charges: "Our information clearly shows that IBM holds almost absolute exclusivity in the federal agencies, despite the availability of comparable equipment at substantially less cost."

Footnote: The General Services Administration, which keeps government secretaries supplied with typewriters, explains that IBM offers higher quality equipment and a better trade-in policy. The congressman claims at least two other companies offer typewriters of equivalent quality for less money.

Funds wanted to fight bill

Sir:

The Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations has been in the forefront in issues associated with language legislation in Quebec. We have made representations, presented briefs and informed parents regarding the language legislation as it pertains to the field of education, as well as encouraging the teaching of the second language. The Federation has also supported the legal action taken by the Quebec Association of Protestant School Boards in their challenge of Bill 22 which is presently pending.

The financial drain on the resources available has been great and the Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations has authorized the organization of a fund to support legal and democratic action to protect civil rights and liberties, rights which are being denied by Bill 101. The fund, to be known as "$1.01 Fund", solicits your support and financial contributions.

In our opinion, Bill 101 is the first step of the Government of Quebec to separate us from Canada. The fight against this action will be WON in the Province of Quebec. However, those who wish to retain this province within Confederation require the support of ALL CANADIANS, both inside and outside of this province. We are the front line and our supply lines consist of financial and other forms of support from throughout Canada.

It is the hope of Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations that Canadians will assist us in our efforts to maintain a united Canada. A Canada in which parents have the right to have their children educated in either of the two official languages, no matter the province of residence, and in an atmosphere free from linguistic bigotry.

The greatest natural resource we have today is our children - theirs is the future. It must be the aim of all Canadians to leave our children a better Canada, a land where understanding and respect for others is the rule not the exception. This is the aim of Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations. Help our efforts towards this goal.

All contributions should be made payable to: Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations $1.01 Fund, 4795 St. Catherine Street West, Montreal, Quebec, H3Z 1S8.

We urge support and contributions from your readers; we hope they will not let us down.

Approaching Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jameson of Sherbrooke are proud to announce the upcoming marriage of their daughter Debra Donna, to Robert Albert Gagnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gagnon of R.R. 2, Lennoxville. A September wedding is planned.

At Home

DANVILLE — On the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hull, Pine St., Danville, will be at home to their relatives and friends at St. Augustine's Parish Hall, Carmel St., on August 25, 1977, from 7-9 in the evening.

Congratulations

Congratulations are extended to Mr. Clayton Beerworth of Tomifobia who will be observing his 87th birthday on Friday, August 19.

Carter breakup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite Chip and Caron Carter's affectionate appearance together at Sunday church services, President Carter's 27-year-old son is planning to move to Plains, Ga., and leave his wife and baby boy in the White House. Chip, who resigned his $8,000-a-year job with the Democratic national committee last week, is planning to leave for Plains in the next few days to work in the Carter peanut business, a White House spokesman says.

"It is expected that Caron and (baby) James will join Chip later," the spokesman said Sunday.

The couple were married in 1973. Their son James Earl Carter IV was born last Feb. 25.

Meanwhile, close friends of Chip said he and his wife have been having problems since last year's campaign.

"I don't think it was a secret to anybody in the family that Chip was unhappy in the marriage," said a former co-worker of the president's son.

There have been reports that the young couple were having marital problems, but Chip and Caron smiled at each other, whispered and held hands at the worship service also attended by the president and Mrs. Carter.

Although the White House has refused to confirm or deny that Chip and Caron, 26, are considering a separation, Caron's father, Ben Griffin, said Saturday that the two were having marital problems.

"I don't think it's reached a point that it's a hopeless situation," Griffin said.

Schools say no to museum

TORONTO (CP) — Continuing adverse reaction to the teaching of sex education in Canadian schools has kept a large pharmaceutical company from promoting visits to its contraceptive museum—purported to be the only one in the world.

Ortho Pharmaceutical (Canada) Ltd., has opened its doors to interested teachers and professionals in the medical field but Frank Potter, director of public affairs, says the company has not encouraged school visits.

"We are a little bit afraid of how parents would react to such a suggestion," he said in an interview. "It is a rather sensitive area especially when school boards have turned down our invitations."

Potter said the company is heartened by the fact that many health professionals such as teachers and doctors are participating in special courses so that they in turn can educate high-school students.

"Educationists have to be trained in human sexuality themselves before introducing curriculum in the school system," he said. "And from what I have seen of these courses, it's a very positive way. They are teaching it as part of health education."

HAS TEACHING AIDS

Besides the museum, Ortho has teaching aids which it brings in from California. These aids are widely used by medical schools and in some school systems slides and models of both female and male organs are distributed.

The company has no catalogue, relying on a word-of-mouth approach among professionals in human sexuality.

Potter said that he hopes a catalogue will be available by 1978 because the company has been made more aware of late of the need for sex education to be introduced in some systems.

"Things are changing," he said. "But it needs a community approach."

Potter said the company has no desire to become involved in a controversy over the pros and cons of contraceptive teaching but would rather regard it as preventive medicine.

Recent statistics had shown that the abortion rate was not dropping. "If it were, we'd feel we were further ahead" because obviously preventive measures were being taken.

MANUFACTURE DEVICES The company manufactures birth-control pills, intra-uterine devices, diaphragms, condoms and foam, besides other supplies used in gynecology and obstetrics.

The museum, which is located at the company's head office in Don Mills, a suburb of Toronto, is small but viewers can see how far contraception has come since 1677 when a Dutch microscopist discovered spermatozoa in seminal fluid.

Examples of various means by which humans have tried to prevent conception or cause abortion are on display and are in most cases primitive.

Particularly interesting are the intra-uterine devices which, contrary to modern belief that they are a new invention, date back 3,000 years.

At that time such devices were smooth pebbles placed in the uteri of female camels prior to a desert trip to keep them from becoming pregnant en route.

The condom, originally made from animal intestines in 1546, now is manufactured from latex.

Taking oral contraceptives is also not new as the museum attests. Throughout recorded history of contraceptive methods, people drank herbal concoctions and swallowed roots and plants in an effort to achieve fertility control.

More than 4,000 years ago, women in China drank quicksilver and it was not uncommon to encounter poisoning in the middle ages caused by ingestion of lead.

In medical circles, especially among international obstetricians and gynecologists, the museum is a source of interest and education.

Dear Ann Landers:

In answer to Mrs. U.S.A. who wants to know how we can get families away from TV, let me say this:

It is better to have your husband home watching TV than to wonder if he is out with another woman, down at the bar getting drunk or at a gambling place losing his badly needed paycheck.

It is better to have your son at home in front of the boob tube than to wonder if he is out smoking dope, drunk behind the wheel of a car, committing vandalism or maybe even mugging and raping.

Your daughter can't get into too much trouble at home glued to the idiot box.

Two thousand years ago, a woman cut off John the Baptist's head and put it on a platter. Herod had a sword run through all male children under two years of age. Any angry mob put a crown of thorns on Jesus' head and nailed him to a cross. None of them got the idea from watching TV. But of course you'll never print this.

Dear Ann Landers:
In response to the letter from "$10,000 Worth of Woman":

A person whose life is to be insured must sign an application for the coverage unless he or she is a minor or otherwise lacks the capacity to contract. Among other things, the signature of the insured signifies his or her consent to the insurance. A policy which is obtained on the life of another person without his or her knowledge or express consent is illegal, fraudulent and voidable.

A smart husband may be one who insures his wife, but if he surprises her with a policy a smart wife had better ask him (or the insurance company) how he managed to obtain it without her knowledge and consent.

Concerned Home Office Underwriter

Dear Concerned:
I checked with several insurance companies in Chicago and was told your information is fundamentally correct; in fact, the insured person must not only sign the application but must be seen by the agent - even a minor.

However - and here's the loophole - a small insurance company might allow the husband to fill out the forms in advance (without paying for the policy) and present an UNSIGNED policy to his wife as a gift. The policy would be valid only if signed.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — What do you do with men's socks when one wears out and the other one is still good? I slip mine over wire coat hangers, let the heel be at the hook, punch a hole in the heel to go over the hook and then extend the top to other end of the hanger. Fold under and make a neat closing by whipping down with a needle. Clothes do not slip off of hangers covered this way.

When a pan accidentally burns I set it out in the yard in the hot sun and the burned food will dry and roll up so the pan can be easily scrubbed out with a cleanser. — EDNA

DEAR POLLY — Save that shabby old vinyl tablecloth and use it as a great drop cloth when painting lawn furniture or anything. This is particularly good out of doors as it protects the lawn or driveway. — EDITH

 Daigneault-Bryant wedding ***

MR. AND MRS. SYDNEY DAIGNEAULT

AUSTIN — A pretty summer wedding took place at St. Paul's United Church, Magog, Quebec, on Saturday afternoon, June 25, at 2:30 p.m., when Margaret Louise, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Bryant of Austin, Quebec, became the bride of Sidney Stewart Daigneault, son of Mrs. Hilda Daigneault and the late Mr. Alcide Daigneault of London, Ontario, formerly of Sherbrooke, Quebec.

Rev. Ron Coughlin officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Evelyn Cuthbert, at the organ, provided the wedding music.

The altar was decorated with two baskets of gladioli and assorted flowers. The guest pews were marked with white shasta daisies and satin bows.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a sheer gown over taffeta, with empire waistline, high neck, and short sleeves, all of which, as well as the floor-length skirt, were trimmed with lace and narrow panels of insertion, woven through with satin ribbon. The skirt ended in a cathedral train. The waist-length veil of scalloped tulle illusion was held in place by a pearl and lace head piece. She carried a cascade of red American beauty roses, white bells, and baby's breath with satin ribbon streamers ending in rosebuds.

The matron of honour, Mrs. Melvyn Bryant, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a full length gown of peach polyester printed crepe. Miss Pamela Bryant and Miss Laura Bryant, nieces of the bride, as bridesmaids, wore similar dresses, one in blue and the other yellow. All the bride's attendants wore white nylon picture hats with ribbon to match their dresses. They carried bouquets of daisies in colours to harmonize with their dresses.

Mr. Bertrand Chretien, brother-in-law of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Mr. Melvyn Bryant, brother of the bride, and Mr. Arlie Fearon, friend of the groom. The groom wore a light blue tuxedo, the best man and ushers navy blue. The men of the wedding party wore white carnation boutonniere.

The bride's mother was in a gown of blue crepe with lace bodice and long lace jacket to match, with white accessories. Her corsage was red rose buds and baby's breath.

The groom's mother wore a dress of pink polyester crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Mildred Young, maternal grandmother of the groom, chose a dress of deep rose polyester crepe with a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The reception was held at Owl's Head Ski Chalet, Mansonville Quebec. Miss Thelma Graham was in charge of the guest book which the guests signed before passing along the receiving line where the couple received warm, good wishes for a long and happy life.

A turkey dinner was served to 142 guests. The bridal table was centred with a three-tiered fruit wedding cake decorated with pink rambling roses and green leaves, topped with an archway containing bells. There was a small container of flowers on either side of the cake. The cake was made the decorated by Mrs. Wallace Bailey and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jim Bailey, relatives of Mrs. Arthur Bryant.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of Andre Vaillancourt's orchestra.

The bride gave her bouquet to Miss Thelma Graham, a long-time friend. Much credit is due Mr. Arthur Bryant, brother of the bride, who was responsible for assuring that the happy event ran so smoothly.

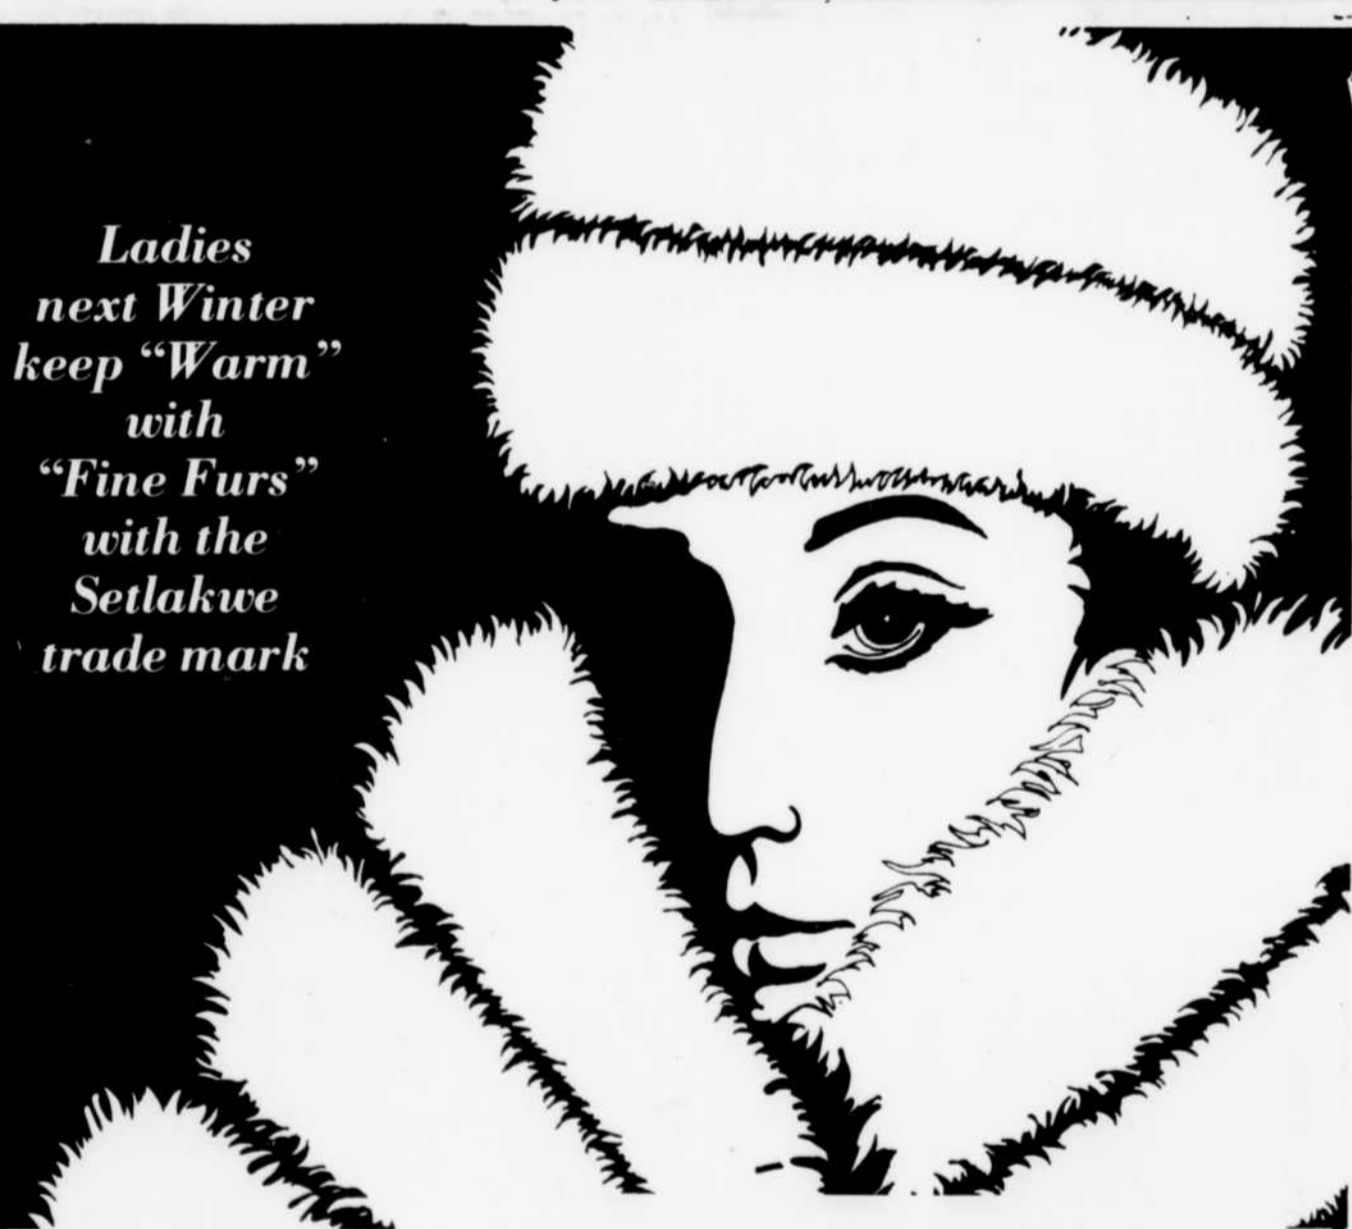

The bride chose a two-piece suit of striped polyester with white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses as a going-away costume for the couple's trip to Ottawa, The Thousand Islands, etc.

Guests were from London, Ottawa, and Spencerville, Ontario; Montreal, Knowlton, East Farnham, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, and other points in the Eastern Townships, as well as from the State of Vermont.

Prior to the wedding the bride was honoured at six different showers for which she was deeply grateful.

Following the wedding rehearsal Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Bryant entertained the bridal party and other guests at their home in Austin where the bride and groom presented gifts to their attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Daigneault are now residing in London, Ontario.

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Consider stardom. For most people, looking at that grand institution from the outside, it seems the height of glamor. What could be better than the fame and fortune that go with being a big name in show business?

I spoke to Tony Orlando about the subject. Maybe it was because his CBS show was being cancelled, but he talked of the negative aspects of being a major star.

He became downright gloomy and talked in terms of the epitaph he has prepared, he says, for his tombstone.

Tony Orlando writes his epitaph

TONY ORLANDO: "I'm tired. I can understand why some performers quit, because the grind is just so tough."

"I read a book about public and watching them respond to his artistry. And he likes the material rewards that brings.

"I like money and what it can buy," he says. "I like driving fancy cars, wearing fancy clothes, living in style. It's a good feeling to make money.

"For the first time in years, I am now solvent. I don't owe anybody a penny. I've paid off all my debts. I've paid all my taxes. I bought a new house."

So, financially, stardom pleases him. But the good life is not all fancy cars and clothes.

"The public," he says, "has no idea of the work it takes to put on a variety show. I wish I had a dollar for every time I've gone on a plane and some woman has come up to me and said, 'You have it made — you only have to work one hour a week every Wednesday.'

"They just don't understand that you have to be there (at CBS) at 8:30 every morning and don't get home until ten or so in the evening. And that's six days a week.

"I'm tired. I can understand why some performers quit, because the grind is just so tough."

He looked tired. The bounce that characterizes his on-screen personality was missing. He leaned back in his

If you don't like the way city hall is being run, maybe you should get involved this coming year.

You might find it stimulating — and even discover you have a talent for politics.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You might find yourself with someone you're very much attracted to today. Just be careful you don't read more into her reactions than they mean.

Having trouble selecting a career? Send for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter by mailing 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Before you pay for something you've ordered for the house, be certain it's exactly what you wanted. Otherwise you could buy a white elephant.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you're having something special done for you today, give explicit instructions. Otherwise, the results could offend your artistic taste.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's the little things that count in your romance today. Don't shower her with flowers or baubles. Give her attention, courtesy and respect.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't play the reigning monarch today and delegate all the domestic chores. You'll get much more home by carrying your share of the load.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be a showman if it serves to bolster your image today, but keep it in good taste. Don't try anything outlandish.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your financial outlook is encouraging today, but don't give away the store if you don't have to. Be fair, but also be sensible.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't complicate your life today by coveting that which belongs to someone else. This includes possessions or a person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone you think is a booster today may really be a flatterer. Your true ally will be the person who says little, but does a lot for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Seek those who inspire you today. They will uplift your spirits. You will come away refreshed from encounters with them.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Much can be accomplished today — don't worry about how long something takes, just do it right and get it finished.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A loved one could disappoint you today because you've placed him on a pedestal, or expect more from him than you should. We all have human frailties.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you're having something special done for you today, give explicit instructions. Otherwise, the results could offend your artistic taste.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's the little things that count in your romance today. Don't shower her with flowers or baubles. Give her attention, courtesy and respect.

Jacoby's bridge

Oswald and Jim Jacoby

West pulls big swindle

queen and cashed his queen of diamonds. All of a sudden South was squeezed. He had to keep his queen of hearts guarded so he was forced to chuck a club.

Now West threw South in with a spade. He ran off the rest of the clubs but that only gave him eight tricks and he had to lead a heart to give East the rest.

South explained that he was afraid that if he did not repeat the club finesse and East did hold four to the queen, East would get in and lead a small heart to a probable honor in the West hand. A reasonable fear, but we still rather think that South should have just continued clubs after the jack held.

ASK THE JACOBY'S

There was a time when the bid for the larger number of points prevailed so that four hearts could over-call five diamonds and so on. But about 55 years back the laws were changed so that the bid for the greater number of tricks prevailed. Nevertheless, we have a question on this subject from Florida

THE OLD WINDMILL

The old windmill
It stands there still
And always will.

From little hills and winding brooks
In all the children's picture books.

Gaily turning - pleasant duty!
On the wind from far and wide
So enhancing all the beauty
Of the quiet countryside.

QUEBEC MY HOME

Quebec, my home, the Beautiful
With joy I have kissed your ground,
And fell in love from the very first, when
Almost thirty years ago your landward I was bound.
Quebec, my home - my dream come true
Where I wed and bore your sons
You feel my heart with bitter tears -
Chagrin, piled by the tons.

Quebec, my home, you are changing fast
And self deception rules,
Look all around and permit jamais
To be called "The Land of Fools."

Quebec, my home - My Home Sweet Home
As I pray and wish you luck,
Remain convinced, I am here to stay -
Though for some you have become a cul-de-sac.

THE WIND

The wind is not a hurricane,
Unless it's very strong
And stops those coming down the lane,
Who try to walk along.

The wind is not a tornado,
Unless it's stronger still
And drives and buffets people so,
They go against their will.

The wind is an exciting force,
As every sailor knows,
A gale that will take him off course,
Quite suddenly arose.

When a little breeze is blowing,
Some sultry summer day,
It is then the wind is showing
Its very nicest way.

It lulls us off to sleep at night
And wakes us up at dawn,
The wind is not within our sight
But never is long gone.

MARG. MILLER,
Bedford, Que.

PRAISE

I love to wake at early dawn,
And see the dew-drops on the lawn,
And listen to the robins sing
Praises to their Maker.

I love to watch a rose unfold
The lovely petals from its mold,
And as its beauty we behold
We praise the Lord its Maker.

I love to watch the stars on high,
Or hear a little baby sigh,
Or feel the soft wind passing by,
And praise the Lord my Maker.

I love to think of Calvary,
And of the One who died for me,
His wondrous love that set me free,
Sing praises to our Maker.

When that glorious morn shall come,
And God shall call His loved ones home,
We shall see His smiling face,
And praise the Lord, our Maker

Crowded around the mercy seat,
We'll be sitting at His feet,
And our loved ones we will meet,
Praising God, our Saviour.

We shall live with Him on high,
Not a sorrow - not a sigh,
And our voices will apply
Praises to our Saviour.

While we're waiting, let us be,
Kind and thoughtful - such as He,
And rewarded we shall be,
By the Lord, our Maker.

Village founder speaks at Historical Society meeting

SPEAKERS MEET — Lorne MacPherson, (left) and Earl T. Moore, founder of Canadiana Village at Rawdon, were speakers at Stanstead Historical Society meeting.

STANSTEAD (IH) — Earl T. Moore of Montreal, the founder of Moore's Canadiana Village at Rawdon, Quebec, was the guest speaker at the annual summer meeting of the Stanstead County Historical Society that met on Saturday, August 13 in the Centenary United Church hall, Stanstead.

Douglas Farrow had arranged the hall for the session. On the President's table was an arrangement of black-eyed Susan daisies, green spikes and yellow mums in an antique container, the compliments of Canusa Florists, Beebe.

A.E. Curtis, the president, welcomed the record attendance as people came from so many parts of the North American continent and from England, for many plan their weekend in the areas to attend.

France Lancelier, liaison officer for museums of the Eastern Townships was among those attending and impressed with the Society's activities.

Mr. Moore was introduced most graciously by Mrs. Howard Aikmen who noted the many important positions held by Mr. Moore, who is also a world traveller.

"How did we get started with the Canadiana Village?" were the speaker's opening remarks. He said as a hobby he and his family purchased an old farm property 28 years ago to "fix up" for their retirement years. "It was a hobby gone wild," he expressed it. The farm house is well over 100 years old, now beautifully repaired. They added an 1835 log school house where Mr. Moore's grandfather had attended school. This came onto the property as a guest house.

Later was added an 1888 blacksmith shop from Millie Isles; the Edward Bridge from Coaticook built in 1888; a settler's cabin built in 1842; a general store built in 1884 from St. Anicet; St. John's Church from Kildare and other old buildings, to make their village, and from the way Mr. Moore spoke, they are not through collecting yet.

Mr. Moore said they have

Russell Taylor of Massawippi with the Society Century Property plaque. This has been beautifully mounted on mahogany, with a protective cover cornered with brass screws. The Sunday following, this plaque was presented by Mr. Taylor to the Massawippi Union Church at their anniversary service.

Making the presentation on Saturday, Mr. Thompson gave a paper on the church and Massawippi Village history. He said the church was built in 1861, that in 1875 there was a population in Massawippi of 175. It has always been The Union Church and was used by the Anglicans, Presbyterians, Methodists, United and Baptists. Mr. Thompson noted that in the first 100 years of the church there had been but one marriage, but many since the century.

William Taylor, the grandfather of Russell Taylor, worked on the church construction and six generations of Taylors have been active in the life of the church and attended services.

Mr. Curtis brought everyone up to date on activities of the Society concerning the Barn Museum in Rock Island and the museum in Beebe. All were pleased to learn the Stanstead Township Municipality Council Development and Planning Board are trying to have the old Narrows Bridge at Fitch Bay made a historic site.

A benefactor has made a bequest gift of $5,000 to the Society. Volume 7 of the Society Journals are now on sale, dedicated to the late Lady Banting, and other stories. They are selling quickly and will surely join the other six volumes as collector's items. Mr. Curtis especially spoke of the story written by Mrs. Susan (Bown) Devar, a Rock Island girl and her sketches of early architecture at the Border villages.

The 1977 pilgrimage is arranged for October 1, leaving Sunnyside at 9:00 a.m., going through Vermont by bus to visit the Kent museum, the Vermont State House and museum in Montpelier at a season of the year when Vermont should be wearing its glorious gold, red and russet colors. Miss Viola Moranville and Ivy Hatch are selling the travel tickets, and on return that evening, all were reminded there is a supper at the Anglican Church hall in Stanstead.

Mrs. Rosalie Hudson, a senior citizen of Rock Island was given a hand of applause for her interest in the Society for the past three years. Every Sunday, Mrs. Hudson is a gracious hostess at the Barn Museum and welcomes visitors and guides, then answering questions and chatting.

Remarks of appreciation were given by Lorne Ogilvie to the news media who keep all readers informed of the Society's action.

Ken Brown moved a vote of thanks to the tea convenors, Mrs. W.B. Dustin and Mrs. Lorne Ogilvie, to Mrs. Margo Skelton for the flower arrangements at the tea and to Bill and Rebecca (Scott) Taylor for being the host and hostess for the garden party tea at their residence, the Scott house in Stanstead and Mr. Curtis gave remarks of appreciation to the many people actively involved in the Society.

Afterwards all gathered on the lawns and gardens of the Scott House where long tables were arranged for refreshments. The day was rather unusual, for this part of the annual event, for the sun was brightly shining and the temperature "just right". So many times the tea has been held in rainy weather.

Mrs. Gladys Gilbert, and her company of Three Villages Girl Guides in uniform, acted as waitresses to serve the refreshments.

of the executive plan to come to KOA in Stanstead to seek the possibilities of forming a Chapter at the Border areas. There is a chapter at Magog which was organized a few years ago.

Campers' Association spends weekend in Stanstead

STANSTEAD (IH) — Family camping is becoming more and more popular and on the weekend, 64 Units were at KOA in Stanstead composed of Chapters of the North American Family Campers Association to represent every New England State and Province of Quebec.

The Yankee Watter Travellers, Chapter 150, from the Lyndonville, Vt. area were hosting this weekend at KOA, Harold Coakley, State Deputy Director and Mrs. Evelyn Coakley was Wagon Master. Also attending were Ron Lique, National President and Mrs. Lique from Claremont, N.H.

The weatherman smiled on the campers who arrived Friday night in Stanstead, on the shores of Crystal Lake. Dennie Lacoste and his family welcomed the visitors and made them comfortable, as they showed their usual hospitality.

Friday night was a busy one for the Coakleys and their helpers. They dug a pit and built a fire, then placed 30 pounds of soldier beans from the State of Maine to cook slowly. On Saturday they dug them up and at five o'clock, all the gang, who ranged in ages of children to older people, gathered at picnic tables to eat the delicious beans, along with barbecued hot dogs and other goodies provided by the campers.

That same evening Mr. Lacoste had made arrangements with Emerille Pilon, a nearby farmer who came with two tractor-drawn hay wagons to take the visitors on a tour of the Stanstead area.

Many of the people were visiting this camp site and area for the first time and many stated how much they were enjoying it.

It was 20 years ago that the association was organized and this past April a gala birthday party took place on the site of the first gathering at Otter River State Park in Templeton, Ma. In the 20 years, family camping has mushroomed right across the continent and in 1967 the first Vermont Chapter was organized at Springfield, Vt. It is a democratic Society and they elect their own officers; the only ones paid are the executive director, the Camping magazine editor and two secretaries. All others work and plan on a voluntary basis.

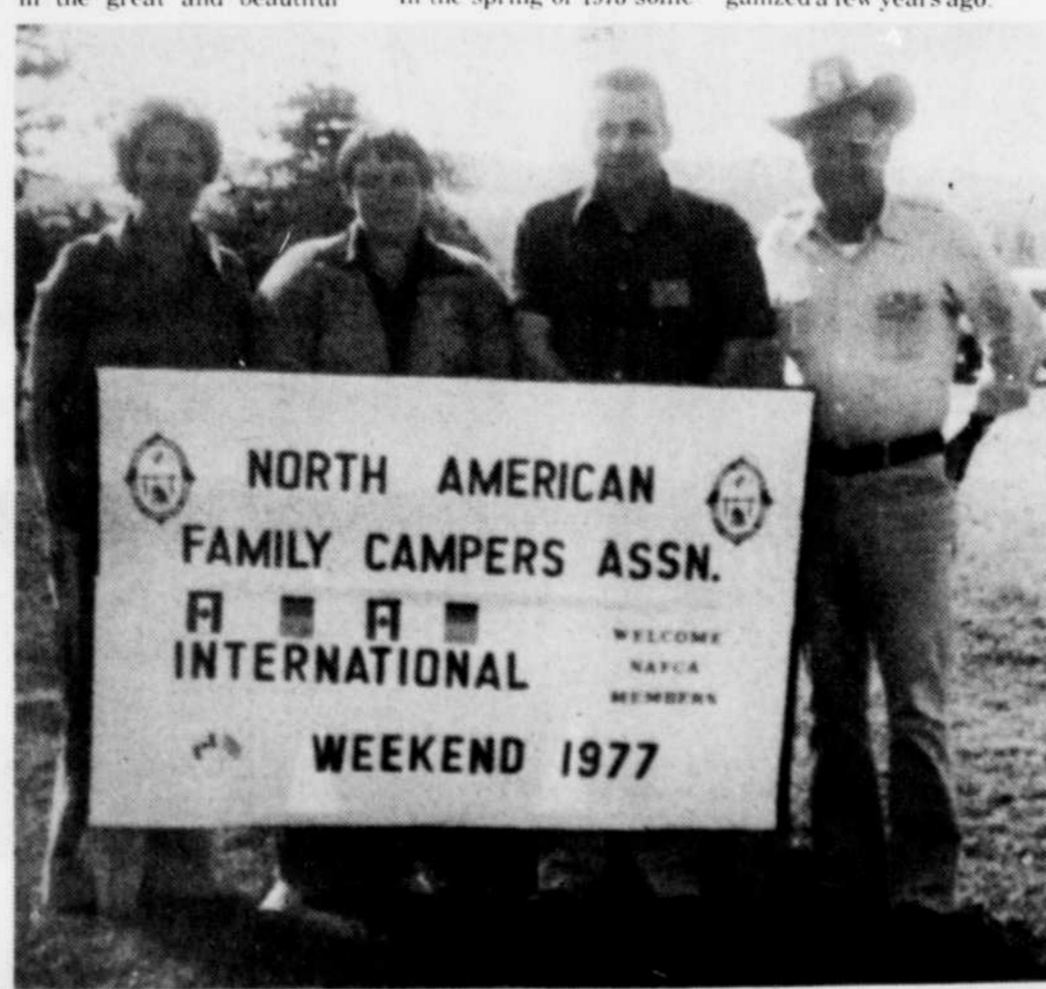

Their objective is the 7Cs: Care - Caution - Courtesy - Cleanliness - Cooperation - Conservation - Common sense.

Family camping is "the thing" today and it has many advantages. The youngsters are included with the family outing, the busy father or parents employed during the week have this opportunity to do things together in the great and beautiful outdoor provided by Mother Nature. Their "wheels" take them all over the country and they camp like one great big family.

Obituaries

MRS. GEORGE JACKSON of Woodstock, Ont. (formerly of Birchtown) On July 25, 1977, exactly 97 years after she had joined the household of the late Carl and Susan Sundberg, in Sawyerville, Que., Mary Adeline Sundberg was laid beside her husband, George W. Jackson, in the Eaton Cemetery.

Mrs. Jackson, after many months of ill health, during which she was lovingly and tenderly cared for by her daughter, Mabel, entered the General Hospital in Woodstock, Ont., on July 20, and peacefully passed away at 4 a.m. on July 22nd.

She was born on July 25, 1880, and united in marriage to George W. Jackson, after which they resided in East Angus for some years. They purchased what was then known as "The Brown farm", now as the "Harold Chute place," near Birchtown in March, 1904, where they lived until Mr. Jackson's death in February, 1938.

After disposing of the farm, Mrs. Jackson and her daughter Mabel moved to the village for a short time, and practiced nursing, in which she excelled in private homes and in hospitals.

When she moved to Woodstock, Ont., she followed the same profession, where she was highly commended by doctors and patients for her skill and kindly care of those in her charge.

She is survived by four children, Miss Mabel Jackson, Woodstock, Ont.; Mrs. Pearl Goodman, Niagara Falls, Ont.; Percy of Birchtown, Que., and Mrs. Phoebe Harrison, Peterborough, Ont. Mrs. Lola Brown, Barrie, Ont. and Mr. Arnold Jackson of Woodstock, predeceased their mother.

A private funeral was held in the John Rowell Funeral Home on July 24, where the many floral arrangements testified to the love and esteem in which Mrs. Jackson was held by all who had known her.

The remains were brought by train on July 25, the date on which she was born 97 years previously.

A short service was held at the graveside with Rev. Gordon Simons of Sawyerville officiating, and was attended by old friends and neighbours of yesteryears.

Mrs. Jackson was a kind and loving mother and will be greatly missed by her family, as well as by her many friends.

Beareres were two grandsons, Carl Jackson of Franklin Centre, Que., Merrill of Northfield, N.H.; two great-grandsons, Barry and Sean Jackson of Franklin Centre; a grandson-in-law, Roland Lowry of High Forest and a friend, Ernest Cork of Birchtown.

Those from a distance attending the grave-side service, included her two daughters, Mabel Jackson and Mrs. Pearl Goodman; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jackson, with Barry, Sean, Colleen and Dawn, of Franklin Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Jackson, Northfield, N.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lowry, with Christine, Kent and Garth of High Forest; also friends and neighbours from Eaton, Birchtown, Cookshire, Sawyerville and Bulwer.

Mrs. Phoebe Harrison of Peterborough, Ont., was unable to attend.

STANLEY A. MCGOVERN

(formerly of Waterloo) Stanley Arthur McGovern of Toronto, formerly of Waterloo, Que., passed away at the age of 55 years, on Monday, July 25, 1977.

Stanley was born at the home farm near Warden where he grew up and attended school from there.

He was the fifth son of the late Henry McGovern and his wife Lila Turner.

For several years he worked in this locality, then going to Toronto about 30 years ago where he met and married Ruby Ferguson.

At the time of his illness and when he was obliged to leave work, he was with D.O.T. and Communications, Downsview, Ont.

He leaves to mourn, his wife Ruby, brothers and sisters, Oral, Earl, Gerald (of Syracuse, N.Y.) Alden, Aubrey, Lorne, Michael (Montreal) Leon, Aylmer, Rita, Irene and Maud, all of Waterloo and also several nephews and nieces.

The funeral was held on Thurs. July 28, where the remains rested at Brown Bros. Chapel in Toronto.

All brothers and sisters were able to attend the funeral, with the exception of Oral and his wife, Hazel.

Blair Tucker picks up province's first gold

Newfoundland finds a new hero

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Newfoundlanders found a new hero and saw their hopes for a soccer medal take a bright turn as the final phase of the 1977 Canada Summer Games went into full swing Tuesday.

Blair Tucker, 17, of St. John's won the province's first ever Games gold medal with a record-breaking performance in the men's 200-metre butterfly swimming event.

Meanwhile, the Newfoundland soccer eleven defeated the highly-rated Ontario squad 2-1 when Frank Haskell scored late in the second half to the delight of 11,000 fans packed into the Canada Games park.

But Ontario and Quebec dominated events at the swim hall where Games records were set in nine of the 10 events. A Canadian senior record was set by Johanna Malloy of Thunder Bay, Ont., with a time of 28:26.95 seconds in the women's 50-metre freestyle.

At the other end of the swim hall, Susie Knickerbocker of Vancouver won the three-metre diving gold with 385.20 points. Stephanie Jeremko of Toronto taking the silver and Janice Dalrymple of London, Ont., the bronze.

Michel Larouche of Alma, Que., won the gold in the men's one-metre diving event with 452.01 points. Team-mate Gordon Peterson of Pointe Claire, Que., won the silver and Dale MacLean of Fredericton the bronze.

Ontario also won the men's team trial in cycling over the favored Quebec team. Ontario and Quebec both won lacrosse games to maintain their 1-2 position in the A division while British Columbia and Nova Scotia are in the same order in the B division after wins Tuesday.

B.C. and Nova Scotia also occupy the top two spots of the B division of women's softball while Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island are 1-2 in the A division.

Newfoundland's soccer win over Ontario tied it with Nova Scotia for first place in the B division. Ontario trails with a 2-1 record. Quebec is alone in first place in the A division with a 3-0 mark while B.C. is second with a 2-1 record.

More than 4,000 fans in the swim hall broke into cheers for the final 25 metres of Tucker's swim as Ontario and Quebec swimmers appeared to draw even with him. Spurred on, Tucker pulled ahead to finish in 2:09.20 while Gregory Hemstreet of Windsor, Ont., won the silver in 2:09.24. Danny Monfette of Ste. Foy, Que., won the bronze.

Monfette's Quebec teammates won four swimming gold medals—Peter Szmidi of Pointe Claire in the men's 200-metre freestyle in 1:55.6. Lois Daigneault of Pierrefonds in the women's 100-metre backstroke in 1:06.17 and the men's and women's 200-metre freestyle relay.

Besides Malloy's 50-metre record, Dan Rogers of Mississauga won a gold for Ontario in the men's 100-metre backstroke with a time of 1:00.33.

Sue Mason, 17, of Halifax won the gold in the women's 200 butterfly and the silver in the women's 200 freestyle.

Closed-door sessions continue

WHA trustees reveal little

MONTREAL (CP) — The World Hockey Association's board of trustees met Tuesday night and basically told everybody that they had nothing to reveal about their closed-door sessions.

After a five-hour afternoon session, the WHA magnates met again briefly Tuesday night and will meet again today and likely Thursday as they try to get a plan of action for the 1977-78 season. "There will be a WHA next season," said Ben Haskin, chairman of the board of trustees. "It will have seven or eight teams."

But just what teams will participate is anybody's guess at this point although Haskin said that the six clubs which failed to gain entry into the rival National Hockey League—Quebec Nordiques, New England Whalers, Houston Aeros, Cincinnati Stingers, Edmonton Oilers and Winnipeg Jets—are all likely to be included.

Birmingham Bulls also appear set to operate with either Calgary Cowboys or Indianapolis Racers a possible eighth team.

There has been growing speculation that the Oilers owners would leave the WHA and purchase the ailing Colorado Rockies' NHL concession and transfer it to Edmonton.

But while Oilers' co-owner Nelson Skalbania says his group would like to get the Rockies, it is highly unlikely they will make a move in that direction in time for the 1977-78 season.

"They are certainly available and we are certainly interested, but any such move would require the consent of the teams from both leagues," Skalbania explained. "That's 26 teams. Right now, Edmonton and Colorado are for it."

The Rockies embarked on a massive season-ticket campaign this summer and Skalbania, who has had talks with Colorado owner Jack Vickers, said they had managed to sell about 2,300 tickets.

It is possible the Oilers could fold their WHA franchise and then go after the Rockies. Although Skalbania would not rule out that possibility, he doubted it would happen.

"As of now, we are still part of the WHA, but he quickly added "it's a two-day meeting."

Haskin said the WHA clubs would play an 80-game schedule but that was about the only definitive word from the trustees.

Decision to drop diving to meet strong opposition

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Eldon Godfrey, president of the Canadian Amateur Diving Association, says he expects a long fight against a decision to drop diving from the 1981 Canada Summer Games.

"We're prepared to stay with the issue until it's resolved," Godfrey said in an interview Tuesday. "I would hope that it would be done quickly for the good of the people working in the sport."

"After all is said and done, people working in the sport look at the Canada Games as one of the very real incentives in the sport. And when there is uncertainty attached to one of your premier events, I think it's unfortunate."

Earl Dawson of Ottawa, secretary of the Canada Games, announced Monday that diving and water skiing will be dropped from the 1981 Games in Ontario and will be replaced by rugby and women's team handball.

Dawson said a committee set up to consider the future of the Games had suggested introduction of two new sports at each Games and that the decision will not be reconsidered.

Godfrey said he was upset at how the decision was made and announced. He said CADA was not consulted or advised of the decision before the announcement.

FAILED TO CONSULT

"The lack of consultation is a critical issue and not just in the case of diving. We just believe that decisions that are so important should be made with all the available facts and evidence. We feel quite badly that the opportunities that were there for the council to speak with informed people were not taken."

Godfrey said he particularly was upset by Dawson's comment that the Games simply couldn't add more sports because of the cost and the fact it was already difficult to conduct 16 sports.

Since swimming already was a part of the Games and Dawson had termed it "untouchable," the actual cost of adding diving facilities to a swimming complex under construction was negligible, Godfrey said.

"If we look at it from an operational cost rather than a capital cost... we're talking about each province bringing six divers, a coach and a manager—that's eight—and replacing it with rugby, where we're talking about 15 players, a coach, a manager and a trainer."

Golf

Pro impressed

BOISBRIAND, Que. (CP) — Club professional Ron Bolus has been impressed with early arrivals for the Canadian women's amateur golf championship starting today on the Hillsdale Golf and Country Club course.

"I said I thought a score three or four under par should win, but it may be better than the way some have been playing," Bolus said as competitors went through practice rounds for the 72-hole event.

The 64th annual championship features 18 holes a day through Saturday on the par-73, 6,015-yard layout 20 miles northwest of Montreal.

Ninety-six golfers, all with handicaps of 15 or better, are set to try for the title won last year by Debbie Massey of Bethlehem, Pa. She has turned pro and will not be defending her crown.

Tennis

Ramirez advances

TORONTO (CP) — Top seeded Mexican Raul Ramirez overcame Tuesday's bad weather and lapses of concentration to defeat Alvaro Betancur of Colombia 2-6, 6-4, 6-1 at the Canadian Open tennis championship.

The players went on court at 11 a.m., as scheduled, but rain forced them off before the opening point could be played. In all, there were four delays due to cloud-bursts so the three-set match took 5¼ hours to complete, possibly making it the longest match in the open's 87-year history.

Sailing

France eliminated

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Australia, a new aluminum-hulled yacht, survived a collision with France I at the start, then sailed to victory Tuesday, apparently eliminating the French yacht from America's Cup competition.

For Baron Marcel Bich, who brought France I and France II to Newport this year, it was his 18th straight official loss against foreign competition in three challenges for the trophy.

However, both yachts were flying protest flags after they bumped and results of the race could be reversed or nullified. It was not immediately known how the collision happened.

Sweden's Sverige, meanwhile, evened the score with Gretel II at 2-2 by beating the other Australian 12-metre yacht by 53 seconds in their fourth semi-final meeting in Rhode Island Sound.

The elimination series to pick an American defender continued with Courageous beating Enterprise.

Baseball

Meetings begin

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A reduction in the number of minor league clubs and a clarification of the powers of the commissioner's office are among items to be discussed at the two-day summer baseball meetings today and Thursday.

Any of the proposed amendments to the professional baseball rules would have to be approved in a final vote at the annual winter meetings.

Also scheduled for discussion are dates for a new inter-league trading period and rules governing player tampering and incentive bonuses.

Currently, each major league franchise except the expansion Toronto and Seattle teams are required to operate at least one minor league club in three classifications—AAA, AA and A. The owners will hear a recommendation to drop the obligation at the AA level, substituting a central training facility.

CONSUMER AFFAIRS

Fish is one of the most delicious and most important among protein foods. Its protein is very easy to digest and because of that, fish is widely used in special diets for elderly people, invalids and small children. Its fat content varies considerably with the species. With protein and fats, fish is also an excellent source of certain vitamins and minerals.

You can find frozen, smoked, canned or salted fish all year round at your supermarket. Buy fresh fish when it is in season. This is the time when every species is at its peak in quality and freshness.

Fish recipe booklets are available on request at the courtesy desk of your supermarket.

Newton-John at home as punk in Grease

HOLLYWOOD (Reuter) It would be hard to imagine anyone further removed from the punk rock queen image than pop star Olivia Newton-John. But these days Olivia is playing the tough lady role and revelling in it.

In order to keep her man—John Travolta—in the musical movie Grease, about the leather-jacketed teenage toughs of the 50s, she has to dress up like a street punk herself.

Miss Newton-John surprised the Grease cast recently by turning up in black stretch satin tights, stiletto heels, curly hair teased out like a fright wig and garish red-rimmed sunglasses.

"This side is much more fun than the sweet virginal side," said the singer, who says she chose the Grease part for her Hollywood movie debut because it gave her the chance to play two types of women.

Matthau has that Hollywood magic

LOS ANGELES (Reuter) Twice Hollywood has singled her out for its greatest honor, the Oscar, but Glenda Jackson has only now got round to returning the compliment by making a film here.

It was not the lure of the glamor stars like Steve McQueen or Warren Beatty that brought her here but the chance to work opposite grumpy, middle-aged comedian Walter Matthau. "He's a wonderfully comic actor," says Miss Jackson who is the main love interest in the life of an elderly Don Juan played by Matthau in the movie House Calls.

"He's great fun to work with," she said. "He's a very bright man."

Jaws 2 to be given sharper teeth

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jaws 2, which recently got a new director, now is undergoing script revisions after resuming production at Navarre Beach, Fla.

Carl Gottlieb, co-screenwriter of the original hit, has been signed by producers Richard Zanuck and David Brown to work with newly named director Jeannot Szwarc in making the revisions.

The film, again set in the fictional resort town of Amity, stars Roy Scheider and Lorraine Gary.

Kitten purring at quiet ranch

CARLTON, Wash. (AP) — After years as a Hollywood sex symbol, actress Stella Stevens says she has found home, far from the movie capital.

Home is an aged, isolated two-storey ranch house in northcentral Washington's rugged Methow Valley.

"I wanted to find a home for myself," she said. "I've never had one before."

She now thinks nothing of working in her tiny kitchen, dominated by a wood stove and a deep old sink, wearing blue jeans, a brown sweater and a hat.

She flies back and forth between here and Hollywood and paints in her spare time. She just finished her 40th movie, a James Bond-type film called Sharpies.

The 38-year-old actress's career began nearly 20 years ago in a bit part in Say One For Me. From there she was a sexy girl in films like Girls, Girls, Man Trap, and Too Late Blues.

Outrageous: She prefers North Bay to New York

TORONTO (CP) — Hollis McLaren's role in the new film Outrageous has evoked praise in New York City and Los Angeles and prompted calls from United States film-makers Robert Altman and Warren Beatty, Universal Studios and the NBC television network.

But where has the Toronto actress decided to perform this summer? In North Bay, Ont., with a summer stock company for $120 a week.

"I'm just as glad to be here," she said in a telephone interview from North Bay. "It was so hectic in New York that I wouldn't have wanted to stay any longer."

Burstyn and Alda to play once a year lovers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Oscar winner Ellen Burstyn and Alan Alda of CBS's M-A-S-H have been signed by producer Walter Mirisch to star in Universal's Same Time, Next Year, based on the hit Broadway play.

Robert Mulligan will direct the comedy and Bernard Slade will adapt his play for the film. The play is about two married people who meet once a year for an illicit affair.

Miss Burstyn starred in the original production which opened in New York in 1975. Filming will begin in January, 1978.

Blacklisted writer dies at 82

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Film writer John Howard Lawson, one of the "Hollywood Ten" who were blacklisted for many years for defying the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has died at age 82.

Lawson, who died at Mount Zion hospital, achieved fame writing scripts for such movies as Sahara and Action in the North Atlantic, both of which starred Humphrey Bogart.

But his career was ruined when on Oct. 27, 1947, in a tumultuous hearing of the committee, Lawson refused to answer questions about Communist party membership. He was cited for contempt, tried, found guilty and served a year in prison.

Under assumed names or for others who fronted for him, Lawson wrote several books, including Film: The Creative Process.

Survivors include his widow, Susan, two sons and a daughter. No funeral will be held.

ON THE ROAD — The Hussey clan, including poodle, hit the road with a tape recorder to see what sort of local color they can pick up.

Truckin' for local color

As it Happens out where it's happening

As It Happens, one of CBC Radio's most popular programs, is going on the road this summer.

Journalist Barrie Hussey is taking his family, his tape recorder, and his trailer on a trip across Canada to prepare a series of feature reports on the places and events that don't make the big headlines.

In twice-weekly reports on As It Happens he'll be covering local stories with the kind of human interest angle that will appeal to listeners everywhere.

"We're not looking for hard-news stories," says Executive Producer Bob Campbell. "Too often the media people make the mistake of thinking that nothing important goes on outside the big cities - that could be because they're not looking hard enough.

"Barrie will have no set schedule; he'll be free to follow up leads and spend the time necessary to get inside an event or personality to give our listeners a full picture."

Although Hussey has visited and worked in many parts of the country, this will be the first time he has made such a cross-country trip.

"I'm looking forward to seeing the range and diversity of Canada," he says, "and meeting as many people as possible."

He's been a broadcaster all his working life, associated with the CBC for the past 17 years. He began as an announcer for the Northern Service in Churchill, Manitoba, and since then he's done a full range of broadcasting jobs: reporter, commentator, News editor, producer. He was one of CBC's team of Centennial reporters in 1967, and last year produced This Morning.

Barrie and his wife Jane and their three children left Toronto mid-June heading East on the first leg of their trip, making their first stop in Fredericton, N.B.

Small town publishing presents droll topic

The pleasures and perils of small town newspaper publishing are dramatized with humor and affection as CBC Radio's Playhouse series presents The Sentinel Papers by Eric Hamblin, Thursdays, August 25 to Sept. 29 at 8:04 p.m., 8:34 nd.

Produced in Halifax by Elizabeth Fox, The Sentinel Papers is set in Seaford, a mythical (?) small town in Nova Scotia involving six wacky and dissimilar people working on the town's weekly newspaper, The Sentinel. They are: Elfreda Manley, owner and proprietor (Joan Orenstein); Charlie Moper, her nephew and editor (Dan MacDonald); Margo Wheeler, society editor (Joan Gregson); Rollie Grove, cub reporter (Ray Whitley); Ben Knickle, press man (Bill Fulton) and Christie, the receptionist (Dawn Horner).

Local politics, a threatened lawsuit, shady deals, a male beauty contest and the staff annual picnic are woven into the various episodes. A keen yachtsman who lives in Chester, Eric Hamblin is a freelance writer whose journalistic experience on papers in Britain and Canada has seen put to good use in The Sentinel Papers. He has written a number of comedy scripts for CBC Radio and TV and is widely known in the Atlantic Provinces for his pithy, and witty radio commentaries on such topics as film censorship, dirty movies and massage parlors.

The entire cast of this Playhouse series are Maritimers. Joan Orenstein appeared in major roles with the Neptune Theatre last season and is currently active at the Gryphon Summer Theatre in Barrie, Ont. Joan Gregson has appeared in many stage productions and literally hundreds of CBC Radio dramas. Dan MacDonald hails from Pictou, N.S., though he now resides in Toronto.

Censored anti-semitic script draws ire in Bavarian Alps

OBERAMMERGAU, West Germany (AP) — The famed Passion Play staged for centuries in this Bavarian hamlet opened a one-week trial run Sunday with a script edited to dilute what critics call its anti-Semitic tone.

The new production, which cost about $800,000, has stirred opposition among townspeople who favor the one performed here for the last 100 years.

The town council says it will decide later this year whether to use the revised script and an elaborate new baroque music score for the next full-scale production in 1980.

Melchior Breitsamter, a 78-year-old sawmill operator who has played Pontius Pilate in the production four times, is leading a drive to let townspeople decide the issue directly. He has collected signatures of 1,860 persons who want to keep the previous version.

BARBARA FRUM ...top woman

A woman of many talents, a veteran of print, radio and television journalism and winner of several major awards Barbara Frum is the host of CBC Radio's top-rated current affairs program As It Happens, broadcast Monday-through-Friday from 6:30 - 8:00 p.m.

Barbara has won two consecutive ACTRA Awards (1974-1975 for "Best Radio Public Affairs Broadcaster" and the prestige 1975 National Press Club of Canada Award for "Outstanding Contribution to Journalism."

In December 1974 an annual poll of women editors across Canada named Barbara as one of the "Most News-worthy Women in Entertainment."

A native of Niagara Falls, Ont., Barbara, born: Sept. 8, 1937, is the daughter of the late Harold D. Rosberg. She

AL MAITLAND ...that well-known voice

Alan Maitland is a master of dead-pan wit. He's an exceptionally funny man, with a knack for accents and characterizations.

He was born in the Ottawa Valley, but spent a large part of his childhood in Hemmingford, a small town south of Montreal, near the U.S. border, where his father was a Presbyterian minister. Later the Maitlands moved back to Ontario.

Al attended Brockville Collegiate Institute, where his voice was often heard in musical comedies and revues. When the Second World War broke out, he joined the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve and served for five years.

After the war he found a job in Ottawa and kept up his singing as baritone soloist at Dominion United Church there. He had his eye on a musical career. In 1947, the year he married an attractive girl called Connie, he heard that CBC Radio was auditioning, and arrived at the Ottawa studios well rehearsed, with his music and a piano-player, only to learn that the audition was for announcers. So he took it anyway - and was hired.

Then, CJBC Toronto, anchor station for the old CBC Dominion network, needed a daily summer record show, and Al was asked to host it. Maitland Manor proved so popular that it became a four-season, two-hour feature for over five years. Al played good old tunes popularized by Al Goodman, Artie Shaw, Glen Miller and others. Some were rare disks long out of circulation, and others were perennial favorites such as Stardust or Blue Moon.

INVERNESS

C.W. McVetty
453-2266

Mr. Harvey Breton, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Breton and two sons, are spending a few days at Old Orchard, Me. few days at Old Orchard, Me.

We are all pleased to welcome back Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Patterson from an extended trip to various points in British Columbia. The Pattersons were much impressed by the beauty of that Province, especially the grandeur of the Rockies through which they went by rail.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Laura Bailey and Mrs. Edythe Leacock are suffering from the attack of a virus at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Little. We trust that these two ladies will soon feel better because several interesting social events are on tap for next week, and we hope that they will be able to attend.

Mrs. Edith Boyce of Montreal and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allison of Brantford, Ont., were recent guests at the McVetty home.

We are sorry, indeed, that Mr. Roland White of Glen Lloyd is not well and is undergoing tests in the Sherbrooke Hospital. Good luck, Roland. Mrs. White is remaining with friends in Lennoxville and other points in that general area to be near her husband.

The hay crop has been nearly all harvested, and while the crop was much lighter than in 1976, the quality of the hay stored is much better, due to almost perfect weather conditions.

Regret is general that Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fradet will be soon taking up residence in Quebec City, where they have acquired an interest in a grocery store. The Fradettes will be long remembered as the popular owners of a large general store here for almost twenty years.

We are all sorry to learn of the illness of Mrs. Stanley of Shawville, the mother of Mrs. Bernard Robinson, of this place. Mr. Walter McCrea of Ste. Agathe de Lotbiniere, is also feeling poorly. We trust that good health may soon be restored to them.

It has often been stated that Inverness possesses a certain magnetism which reminds all those who ever came here to return, as well as recalling residents of this area who are away from here on business, or pleasure trips, that they are being missed, and to back-track as soon as possible. Well, the truth of that observation received ample proof recently when Mr. and Mrs. Allan Young and Douglas, who had been spending their holidays with relatives in Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cox and family, who had been vacationing in Old Orchard, Me., and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cook, and family had been making a tour of the Maritimes, visiting many points of interest such as Louisburg, Halifax, and Charlottetown, on Prince Edward Island. They also visited Rev. and Mrs. Waldon Moase and family in Pictou, N.S. and the Rev. and Mrs. Don MacLeod and family, in Englishtown, N.S. It would appear that the urge to return to Inverness was spontaneous, because the three groups returned home on the same day, and almost at the same hour. Welcome home, folks.

KNOWLTON

Kay Taylor
243-6177

The death of Mr. Louis Giasson in a Montreal Hospital on Tuesday, August 2, was learned here with deep regret. Mr. Giasson, who had been ill for some time, will be greatly missed by members of Knowlton Golden Age Club in which he was an active member of the executive. His constant friendly and courteous ways won many friends and deep sympathy is extended to his sister Mlle Lucille Giasson of Farnham. The funeral and burial was at Farnham on Friday, August 5.

At the time of the death of Mr. Giasson, a number of Knowlton residents called to pay their respects and express sympathy, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Cousins and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Duboyce, who drove to Farnham Thursday evening.

A shocked community learned of the tragic death last week of Donald Kirby of Cowansville, and many thoughts and deepest sympathy are extended to the members of his family at this time.

Mrs. Hope Gilbody, of Miami, Florida, was visiting the Dennis Taylors on Saturday of last week. Mrs. Hilda Wilson, with whom she is spending some time, motored her from Mansonville with Mrs. Alma McClay and the latter two ladies were also calling on Mr. and Mrs. Ray Duboyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cushman have returned home after spending nearly three weeks at Newport, Quebec. They made the return trip via the Gaspesian Park through Mount Richardson and Mount Albert. Since their arrival home they visited Mrs. Cushman's brother George and Mr. Hall at Magog for a day.

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Ray Moseley on the occasion of her birthday on Sunday, August 7. Mr. and Mrs. Moseley and Mrs. May Hives were guests for the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Booth, Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Taylor were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rogerson at Cowansville last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Inglis were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Battley, calling in the evening on the Dennis Taylors before returning to Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Frank Stanbridge and daughter Sheri of Scarborough, Ont. with Mrs. Ronald Charters and daughter Heather spent a few days in July with Mrs. Stanbridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanborn. Before leaving, she was joined by her sister Jessie (Mrs. Chevils) and daughter Claire who motored from Roland Heights, Calif., and are spending some time in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanborn, accompanied by Mrs. Alberta Sanborn of Waterloo, spent a Sunday with the latter's son, Mr. Lawrence Sanborn and family in Brossard.

Mr. William Peek, Jr. of Toronto, accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. Della Wade, spent several days recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Peek.

The guest preacher at St. Paul's Church on Sunday, August 7, was the Reverend Charles B. Tachau, rector of St. George's Church, an inter-city parish in Louisville, Kentucky. His life has been most interesting; he was a judge before deciding to seek ordination. His parish is located in the black ghetto in the centre of Louisville and provides many interesting challenges.

The A.C.W. of St. Paul's Church is planning a September sale and any good, clean used articles would be appreciated. Donors may leave parcels in the church hall.

This week's movie at St. Paul's Church hall - "Summer Magic", a Walt Disney film starring Hayley Mills. There have been some splendid shows for the young people this summer. Doors open at 7:00 and movie commences at 7:30 p.m., every Tuesday.

A Thought (taken from "Have a Good Day - a Message of Cheer and Good News") a church bulletin from Hamilton, Ont. "When you have no observers be afraid of yourself" - "to make a long story short there's nothing like having the boss walk in."

THREE VILLAGES
Mrs. Glenys Miller
876-7409

In the early summer, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Middleton Sr. of Stanstead, accompanied by Mrs. Jim Smith and Miss Shelley Smith of Coaticook travelled by bus to St. Catharines and Welland, to visit their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. William Middleton and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Middleton Jr. While there, they attended an "Open House" held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Humphrey, who were observing their 40th Wedding Anniversary. Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Middleton are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. William Middleton and two children of St. Catharines and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Middleton Jr. and four children of Welland, Ont. have been vacationing for two weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Middleton Sr. in Stanstead and getting together with other relatives and friends while home. Richard, Linda and family have been guests of Mrs. Wallace Bliss and family in Fairfax.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Miller and Todd Harding of Rock Island spent the month of July in York, P.E.I. visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Coffin and two sons.

Mrs. Hattie Eryou, Rock Island, is improving in health at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Yetter in spite of the fact that since her return from hospital she has had another unfortunate fall and a bout with a flu bug.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller and sons of Campbellville, Ont., have been recent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. "Rudy" Miller in Rock Island.

Recent week-long guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Dewey in Judd's Mills were their son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. Bernard Forcier of Rome, N.Y. Mrs. Jeanette Forcier and Kim of Newport, Vt., were also overnight guests.

Mark Badger of Kingston, Ont., grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Dewey will soon be returning home after spending the summer at the farm with his grandparents.

Pastor and Mrs. Russell Miller, David and Charles of Elmwood Park, Illinois, have returned home safely after spending two weeks at the "Ponderosa" with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller, in South Barnston and also visiting with other relatives and friends in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ellam of Newport, Vt., and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith of Coaticook were Saturday guests at the Richard Middleton Sr. home in Stanstead.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Oliver of Colebrook, N.H., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Channell in Stanstead. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Black.

Bradley Cooke of Rock Island spent a week with Roger Cass in Lachute.

Mrs. Marion Parrish, with Cindy and Jennifer Parrish and a friend, Marcy Plante of Athol, Mass., were guests for several days of Mr. and Mrs. George Cooke. Other guests have been Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller, David and Charles of Chicago, Illinois.

Recent callers at the "Ponderosa" home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller in South Barnston have been Mrs. Linda Ward, Kevin and Tracey of St. Hippolyte, Miss Suzanne Francoeur, Mrs. Ethel Barnes and Mrs. Olive Wells of Rock Island.

David and Charles Miller of Chicago were guests of honor at a birthday party at the home of their uncle and aunt, Ronald and Diane Bertrand and cousin Jeff in Graniteville. Others to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Russ Miller, also of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. George Cooke, Rock Island, Mrs. Marion Parrish, Cindy and Jennifer Parrish and Marcy Plante of Athol, Mass.

On another occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Bertrand entertained Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bullock and two children of Streetsville, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bullock, Graniteville; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Benn and Butch of Kingston, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Robin Bertrand and three boys of Derby Line and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stratton of Millersburg, Penn.

Local man named editor of Gazette

STANBRIDGE EAST (KDT) — Congratulations from the townspeople of Stanbridge East to Mr. Claude Arpin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Arpin of this town.

Claude Arpin has just been named city editor of the Montreal Gazette and thus becomes responsible for coverage of the news in the Montreal area.

He attended school in Stanbridge East and later graduated from Bishop's University in 1966.

At the early age of 22 he became a reporter for the Gazette and during the past 11 years has been a reporter and feature writer for that paper; The Montreal Star; the Toronto Star and Toronto Telegram.

As a reporter for the Montreal Star, he toured the Western provinces, covering the backlash of Ottawa's bilingual policies and his articles were eagerly read by the readers of the Star. During two years, he covered the National Assembly in Quebec City investigating "Political Patronage" in Quebec for that same paper. He also fulfilled similar assignments for the two Toronto papers during the several years that he was employed by them.

With the wide knowledge thus attained in the newspaper field, he has become fully qualified as city editor of a newspaper of the calibre of the Montreal Gazette.

On accepting this assignment with The Gazette, he was considered one of the best reporters in the country, due to his unbiased opinions and ability to seek out the truth on whatever assignment was given him by the various newspapers.

His many friends here in Stanbridge East wish him well in this segment of his career and also wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Arpin, whose son is making a name for himself in the newspaper world.

WI meetings.

MELBOURNE (JW) — Eleven members of Gore Branch W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Annie Gee on Wednesday, Aug. 6. Mrs. Ruth Mountain opened the meeting with the repetition of the Mary Stewart Collect.

Members answered the roll call by reading an item of interest from the newspaper. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report showed a good balance on hand. Fifteen dollars was handed in from the sale of cutters, also fifteen dollars rebate on the pooling of fares.

Correspondence consisted of a letter of thanks from the Douglas Hospital for a donation of knitted slippers done by the branch.

There will be an exhibition of home made quilts at the Richmond Historical Society Museum in Melbourne on Aug. 25-27.

Welfare and Health convener reported seven pairs of slippers, two knee throws and two cancer shirts handed in.

Publicity convener's contest on the ten provinces and premier of each was won by Mrs. Annie Gee.

Readings given were: "The Bishop's Letter" by Mrs. Muriel Duffy; "The Little House Out Back" by Mrs. Annie Gee; Don Messer era comes to end re: Senger Marg Osborne's untimely death, was read by Mrs. Ruth Mountain.

One new member, Mrs. Winnifred Griffith, joined the W.I. group at this meeting.

Drawing on a broomstick lace cushion donated by Mrs. Reta Hughes was won by Mrs. Muriel Duffy and netted three dollars.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Winnifred Griffith and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Muriel Duffy on Aug. 31.

MELBOURNE RIDGE — The August meeting of the M.R.W.I. was held at the church hall. A short meeting was held and followed with a picnic outside. All members were hostesses and each brought a guest.

The motto: The time to be happy is now! The roll-call: To name a favourite childhood game, which was answered by 19 members.

Home Economics convener Leona Crack reported seeing many very well made and useful items that were recycled material at Cookshire fair. She also reported that souvenir spoons were on the way.

Health and Welfare - Shirley Fowler gave out leaflets from Kellogg Co. with bran recipes.

A letter of thanks from the Douglas Home forgotten patients committee, Mrs. Jean Lytle, for the nightie sent last month was circulated among the members.

Agriculture - Josie Fowler was in charge of races prizes, drinks and ice cream for the picnic.

Shirley Nelson thanked everyone for flowers and cards while her husband was in hospital.

The meeting was adjourned and a picnic was enjoyed, with races and prizes for all.

The next meeting will be held at Grace Johnston's.

KINNEAR'S MILLS — The meeting of the Women's Institute was held a week later than the usual date, so the representative could give a report from the Q.W.I. Convention held at Macdonald College.

The meeting was held at the home of Pauline Nutbrown with seven members and four guests present. All repeated the Collect and Salute to the Flag.

The Motto was: "It is greater to be great, but it is greater to be human."

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Treasurer's report was given.

Handi-bags were filled and handed in. Get-well and sympathy cards were sent out. It was decided to go out for supper in July as there will be no meeting the months of July and August.

Audrey Allan gave a full and interesting report of the Quebec W.I. convention.

Collection and Pennies for Friendship were collected and drawbox was won by Linda Robinson.

At the close of the meeting an auction was held, the money going towards our funds.

Delicious refreshments and a social time were enjoyed by all.

SHIPTON — Instead of a regular meeting, the members of Shipton Women's Institute enjoyed an afternoon at Denison's Mill recently (Aug. 6th).

The mill, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Quig, has been returned to its original state, and has been declared an historic site by the Dept. of Cultural Affairs.

Mr. Quig explained in detail the operation of the mill which was founded by Avery Denison in 1850, and became operational in 1855. It was operated by members of the Denison family until 1963.

Mr. Quig hopes that eventually it will operate again as a grist mill.

Upstairs there is an exhibition of pictures of the area, and the families living there in the past, when it was a complete community, having its own mills, church, school, etc.

During the afternoon, members enjoyed delightful shortbread made by Mrs. Quig from a century-old recipe, brown bread, soft drinks, and coffee. An old-time fiddler from St. Georges de Windsor, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Quig, delighted everybody with old-time music.

So ended a happy afternoon.

UEL members enjoy cavalcade

STANBRIDGE EAST (KDT) — Several U.E.L. members from here participated in the cavalcade to Mr. and Mrs. Murray Mason in Cowansville.

This "Mystery" tour was planned and organized for the Sir John Johnson Branch of the U.E.L. whose headquarters are in Stanbridge East. Twelve carloads left the Museum grounds here, not knowing where the route was going but were told to follow the lead car of Clifford Rhicard.

Clifford and Flora Rhicard, who had put a great deal of time and effort into planning the tour, having driven the length of it twice, compiling the points of interest for the itinerary, were the only ones who knew where it was leading.

It was a well kept secret until after the first stop which was at Hunter's Mills, about one mile from Frelighsburg.

Here, the three page itinerary was handed out to all of the group, describing all of the landmarks and points of interest along the route, which proved to be very helpful and greatly

U.S. economy is going strong

WASHINGTON — (LENS) — The slide of the dollar on the foreign exchanges continues.

But the fall has not particularly perturbed the Carter administration; floating rates are devised exactly for such adjustments and this is no precursor of a summer dollar crisis.

The dollar's fall is a reflection of the United States' trade deficit, estimated to be a record $25 billion this year. This is in large part due to the surprisingly healthy performance of the domestic economy, while the rest of the world stagnates.

Although the growth in the country's GNP for the second quarter of the year has not yet been released, it is expected to match the 6.9 per cent annual growth rate clocked up in the first quarter. This is considerably faster than had been expected six months ago. Conventional opinion still has it that in the second half of the year the growth rate will slacken off markedly.

There is little sign of that happening yet. In June the level of industrial output rose by 0.7 per cent, which was more than expected, and although much of this was the result of swelling inventories the fact that there was substantial growth in such basic industries as cars, iron and steel suggests that the slowdown, which undoubtedly will come, is still some way off.

Apart from a persistent lack of confidence, springing in part from the fear that the rest of the industrialized world will be unable to match up to America's performance and may therefore drag it back, there are few immediate bottlenecks in the domestic economy. Although retail sales and consumer credit have recently slackened off they are still running ahead of the rate of inflation.

The country's manufacturers are now operating at 83.5 per cent of their capacity, well up on the levels during the recession two years ago, yet still with plenty of room for growth before reaching the 88 per cent utilization which was the peak attained in 1973 and which proved a point where bottlenecks began to plague industry.

Much the same situation exists in the labor market: even with 90.6 million people now at work, a figure that has been on the rise for eight months, there is still an ample, indeed excessive, amount of labor available, with unemployment nudging up marginally in June to 7.1 per cent.

Nor is the old nagging fear of renewed inflation haunting the economy as much as before. Wholesale prices in June dropped sharply as it became clearer that the huge farm crop now ripening must inevitably mean lower food prices.

But it is not only food that is coming down, an index compiling the prices of 27 commodity futures is now at its lowest point for eight months. With figures like these, the Department of the Treasury may reasonably argue, what is a few points off the exchange rate?

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Campbell of Montreal spent a couple of evenings at the Alger White home, while they were on vacation. Mr. and Mrs. A. White also visited the Campbells in Ste. Agathe de Lotbiniere.

Several from here enjoyed the bus trip through Beauce and visited Vachon Inc. in Ste. Marie, Beauce, where they were taken on a guided tour of the Bake Shop. First they were shown slides dating back to 1925 when Mr. and Mrs. Arcade Vachon started the business and as it increased over the years to the present time. After which, in groups of fifteen persons, each having a guide, we were shown the operation from the raw dough to the finished products wrapped, boxed and packed ready to be shipped out. It was all very interesting and fascinating.

After lunch, we proceeded to St. Joseph de Beauce where we saw Pottery in the making. Also many beautiful pieces of ceramics and pottery were on display and for sale.

En route home we stopped in at the Carrefour Frontenac shopping centre. A good trip and a pleasant day was enjoyed by all.
