World News In Brief

New Delhi, March 13.—(Reuters)—The Nizam of Hyderabad, one of the world's richest men, arrived here today for a visit with two wives, seven children, 12 women from his harem, 60 servants and 100 suitcases.

The party travelled in a fleet of three chartered planes.

The Nizam, 65, ruler of India's largest princely state, is attending a conference of Indian Governors here. It is his first visit to the Indian capital for 16 years.

The Nizam was dressed in a cheap brown coat and unpretentious yellow turban. He checked over his baggage before entering a blue limousine which drove him to Hyderabad palace.

The Nizam is noted as much for his economical mode of life as for his riches.

Ottawa, March 13.—(The Immigration Department informed the Commons yesterday 75 foreigners entered Canada illegally as a result of irregularities in the Immigration service.

In a reply tabled in the House, the department gave the names of three Canadian officials discharged for irregularities. It said 12 of the 75 immigrants have already been deported, that 17 more have been ordered deported and "the remaining 46 immigrants are under investigation."

The three officials discharged are G. C. Wilson who was working in Rome and had an income of $7,255 in salary and allowances; J. A. Ciampi, working in Karlsruhe, Germany, with an income of $6,837; and J. M. Bourget, working in Montreal, with a salary of $2,904.

Irregularities involved a ring which arranged for Europeans to enter Canada illegally.

Montreal, March 13.—(Seventy-three municipal councillors today are threatened with a $2,000 fine and 60 days in jail.

All came about when they ignored an interim injunction awarded Monday by Mr. Justice Charles-Eduard Ferland to Jean S. Menard who opposes proposed expenditures of $751,269 authorizing the city to operate restaurants in buildings and public parks.

The item appeared in the city's 1952-53 budget and Council passed it, ignoring the injunction.

This prompted Menard to taken action yesterday against the councillors.

Honolulu, March 13.—(An air force plane parachuted diphtheria anti-toxin to a troop-laden attack transport 270 miles northeast of here late yesterday after five men became ill.

The ship's medical and dental officers and two medical corpsmen were among those stricken.

The westbound transport Thomas Jefferson reached the vessel shortly after the air drop and was scheduled to put a doctor aboard.

Agriculture Officials Seek Clarification Of U.S. Order

Canada sought clarification in Washington Thursday of the United States embargo on Canadian livestock and meats, imposed as a result of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in southern Saskatchewan.

Meanwhile, discussion continued over interprovincial embargoes on livestock movement.

Three Canadian agricultural officials were in Washington trying to find out what processed meats the United States will allow on its markets and whether Canadian livestock can move through the U.S. for shipment if it goes in bond.

But the Canadians may also take up with the U.S. agricultural officials the question of whether Canada's embargo on import of U.S. livestock is legal.

The Canadian embargo was imposed to keep the Canadian market for Canadian produce but some Americans think it may violate a trade agreement between the two countries. This pact—the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade—provides that the signatories will not impose import restrictions which would reduce the effect of negotiated tariff reductions.

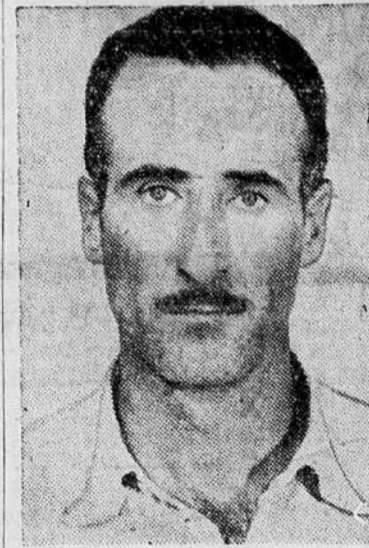

Meanwhile, speculation continued about interprovincial embargoes on livestock movement.

British Columbia which bans livestock and meat from the Prairies may ease its ban. Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman said in Victoria Wednesday some cattle from Alberta may be allowed to enter B.C. on a permit basis, a similar arrangement to that in effect in Quebec.

Prices of meats were rising in the west coast cities and a possibility of shortages appeared. Vancouver packers said 400 head of

Montreal Combed In Boyd Search

EDWIN BOYD

Montreal, March 13.—(Heavily-armed detectives travelling in police cruisers continued to roam Montreal streets today looking for Edwin Alonzo Boyd.

Boyd is the last of a trio of gunmen wanted in Toronto in connection with the armed holdup of a bank.

The great manhunt started last Friday, and two of the wanted men have been cut down by police bullets and captured.

Leonard Jackson was taken Wednesday night following a shooting affray with steel-vested detectives. More than 500 rounds of ammunition were exchanged before he staggered from a basement apartment, wounded in the arms and stomach and half-blinded by tear gas. Jackson's wife surrendered with him.

It was much the same story with Steve Suchan last Friday night, except for the length of the gun battle and the spectacular firing in the street. Suchan, too, collapsed in a police ambush in an apartment only a few blocks from where Jackson was hiding out.

Chief of detectives Wilfrid Bourdon said Boyd is the brains of the trio. He is wanted on bank holdup charges in Toronto, where he and Jackson escaped from the Don jail last November.

Jackson and Suchan are held on bank-holdup charges and for the attempted murder of two Toronto detectives, shot down when they approached a car last week, two days after a $24,000 downtown bank robbery.

Police believe all three fled to hideouts in Montreal. Suchan rented an expensive apartment on Cote des Neiges road last December. Desjardins and his wife lived in their basement apartment on Lincoln Avenue since Feb. 11, a dingy room compared with Suchan's swanky quarters.

Jackson paid a rental of $12 a week; Suchan paid $145 a month. Police are convinced that Boyd is still in Montreal.

Committee Agrees To Request By Acheson Who Has Denied Charges.

Geneva, March 13.—(The International Red Cross committee said today it has agreed to investigate communist charges that United Nations forces are waging germ warfare against communist troops in Korea.

State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States asked the investigation. He has denied the Red charges.

Paul Ruegger, president of the Red Cross committee, said the Red Cross societies of Hungary, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria also sent protests to the committee against alleged use of bacteriological weapons in Korea.

Ruegger sent identical messages to Acheson, Korean communist Prime Minister Kim Il Sung, and Gen. Peng Te Huah, commander-in-chief of Chinese communist troops in Korea, saying the committee would investigate the germ war charges if it is "assured of cooperation of authorities on both sides of the front."

Ruegger's message to both sides noted the U. S. has denied using germs to start reported epidemics of bubonic plague and other diseases in North Korea.

The communists have been reported recently taking drastic measures to halt the spread of disease, inoculating all troops and civilians.

The Chinese and Russians press and radio have made detailed charges alleging U. S. planes have dropped bombs containing disease germs which were loosed from hidden compartments when the bombs blew up.

Ruegger advised both parties to the Korean conflict that the international committee was prepared to set up a commission under its direction "composed of persons who will offer every guarantee of moral and scientific independence which could be offered by experts who have highest qualifications, especially in epidemiology."

The international Red Cross committee has been unsuccessful so far in obtaining communist authorization to work behind the Red lines in assisting prisoners of war. The last message asking for such authorization was sent only a week ago.

Munsan, Korea, March 13.—(CP) Allied truck negotiators told the communists today they were wasting time trying to get "the unconditional repatriation of all prisoners we hold in exchange for a small portion of those you hold."

That's what the latest Red plan amounts to, said Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby, and it is not acceptable. The communists insist that prisoner-exchange plans be adopted before turning over a "complete and bona-fide prisoner roster."

Libby said that's "putting the cart before the horse." Col. Andre J. Kinney described as "strictly a goose egg," a two-hour staff officers' meeting on truce supervision.

A communist proposal which could ban a naval blockade of the China coast was tossed back to the staff officers. Red interpreters refused to include "Korea" in a clause prohibiting naval blockades.

The interpreters' stand "was a complete reversal of the staff-officers' discussion yesterday," Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U. N. spokesman.

Originally the communists proposed deleting "Korea" as unnecessary. U. N. negotiators said such an unrestricted ban could bar U. S. warships from the Formosa Strait and prohibit a possible blockade of the Red China coast.

Thursday a Red staff officer said it made no difference whether "Korea" were included and indicated communist interpreters would approve its insertion.

Libby demanded a complete list of prisoners in asking once more for an accounting of some 50,000 missing South Korean soldiers. The Reds have said they were released at the front. The U. N. charges most were impressed into the communist armies.

North Korean Col. Chang Chun San lost his temper in the truce-supervision session while debating whether five or six ports of entry on each side should be opened to neutral inspectors.

Kinney said six ports reflect allied supply requirements and he could not accept Chang as a "logistical expert" who could determine U. N. needs.

"That made him angry and he delivered an outburst for some time," Kinney told newspapermen. "He declared our position was arrogant and preposterous."

Kinney accused the Reds of trying to restrict the number of ports of entry and the movement of neutral inspection teams while insisting on unlimited inspection of secret equipment.

The U. N. has proposed that the Reds: Drop the Soviet Union and nominate another country as their representative on the commission; drop Russia, retaining Poland and Czechoslovakia, while the U. N. drops Norway, retaining Sweden and Switzerland; pick the same number of inspectors from the two acceptable neutrals as the

Britons Must Pay Real Cost Of Food

London, March 13.—(Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative government appeared determined to cut to the near-vanishing point food subsidies which have cost Britain more than £2,500,000,000 since the Second World War.

In the government's budget this week Richard Butler, Chancellor of the Exchequer, gave the subsidies the biggest trimming since they started. Later in a BBC broadcast he criticized the system under which citizens pay taxes so that the government can sell food below cost price.

Butler told Britons he was handing back some of their tax money. Bluntly he said they ought to pay the real cost of the food they eat.

But even after the cuts—high slash subsidies from more than £340,000,000 a year to £250,000,000—housewives still won't be paying the full cost of basic foods when they go marketing.

That's one reason many observers think Butler may plan further cuts in later budgets. Such action probably is opposed by Butler's fellow cabinet minister, Lord Woolton, who developed subsidies as Britain's wartime food minister.

The food ministry never says how subsidies are distributed. But Woolton used taxpayers' money to keep down prices of bread, flour, meat, bacon, ham, fish, cheese, eggs, milk, sugar and tea.

As a result, Britain came through the lean war years fit and well fed.

All subsidized foods are bought in bulk by the food ministry, which uses the subsidy money to resell them at below cost to traders.

In post-war years, rising prices gradually inflated the subsidies to a high of £500,000,000 in 1949. Bread and milk are two of the most heavily subsidized foods.

The Conservatives have never had a strict party line about subsidies. Many Conservative Members of Parliament argue that they are wasteful, expensive and unnecessary. But no politician—Conservative or Laborite—would dare come out for doing away with them entirely.

Revenue Minister Sees No Solution To Textile Problem

Ottawa, March 13.—(CP)—Revenue Minister McCann denied in the Commons yesterday charges that "legalized dumping" of American goods is causing unemployment in Canada's textile industry.

At the same time, he denied suggestions that there had been political interference with the collection of income tax from farmers in the east as against those in the west.

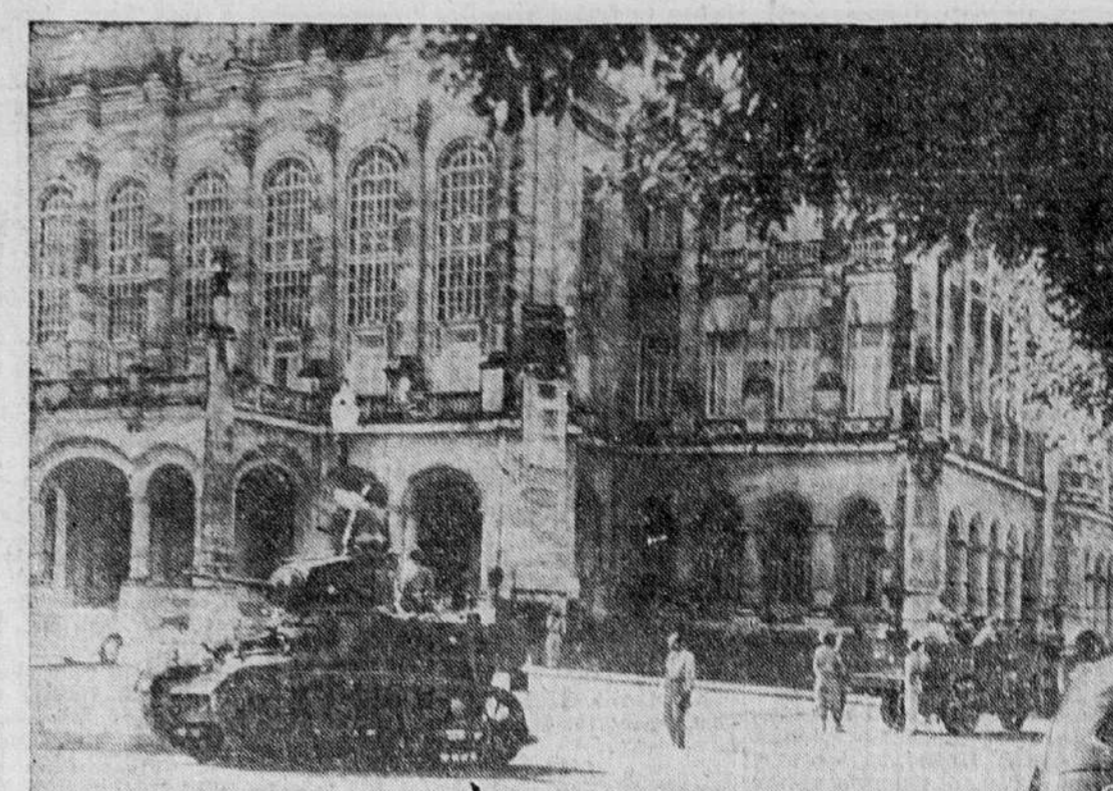

He said in the throne speech debate that the textile industry is being restricted by a combination of factors, including over-stocking in anticipation of a shortage and the loss of a 10-per-cent preference through the rising of the Canadian dollar to parity.

He frankly conceded that he did not know the solution to the industry's problem.

Dr. McCann was one of several members to join in the continuing debate in the short Wednesday sitting.

Donald Fleming (PC)—Toronto Eglington lambasted the government's taxon policies and said it should make its April 3 budget the basis for a cut in taxes and an elimination of waste and extravagance by the government.

It was obvious the government was following a policy of "soaking" the people until an election, when it could adopt a "good fel-

Lord Ismay Becomes Secretary-General Of North Atlantic Treaty Organization

London, March 13.—(Lord Ismay, career-soldier and friend of Prime Minister Churchill, took on today the tough job of being the first secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He accepted the civilian command after a string of other statesmen had turned it down.

The 64-year-old General, quitting as Britain's Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations, will start work alongside Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower next month at Paris headquarters.

(Reuters News Agency said Ismay will hand over his British Cabinet post March 24 and start working in Paris March 31.)

Eisenhower will retain full control over the military. Ismay will supervise the political-financial workings of the alliance.

His job in Churchill's cabinet paid him £5,000 a year. The salary of the N.A.T.O. post has not been announced.

Lord Ismay left the government only after prodding from the Prime Minister and N.A.T.O. deputies who held a four-hour council session in London Wednesday.

The secretary-generalship was refused by at least three other top diplomats—Sir Oliver Franks, Britain's ambassador to the United States; L. D. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister; and Foreign Minister D. U. Stikker of the Netherlands. Several others had been approached but their names were not announced.

Churchill's office said Ismay's place will be filled by Lord Salisbury, who already holds the cabinet post of Lord Privy Seal.

Lord Ismay, a bushy-browed square-jawed military figure of the old school, was with Churchill on the January trip to Washington and at the wartime conferences at Casablanca, Cairo, Moscow, Tehran and Yalta as Churchill's personal chief-of-staff.

A captain in the first world war, he rose to Major-General before the second world war. He became a full General and Chief of Staff to the Defence Minister five years later.

When the Labor government took over from the Conservatives in 1945, it kept Lord Ismay on as Chief of Staff. A year later he retired from service but was recalled after a few weeks to become Chief of Staff to the Viceroy of India, Earl Mountbatten.

Ismay retired again in November, 1947, but returned to public life when Churchill's Conservatives won last October's election.

low" attitude and give them back money owing them.

Through excessive taxation, the government had increased prices while credit restrictions had increased unemployment. It was high time it adopted a policy of taking from the municipalities the burden of caring for unemployed employees.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, denied an assertion by External Affairs Minister Pearson in a broadcast speech Tuesday night that the C.C.F. was criticizing the Atlantic treaty defence program, was moving towards the communist line.

He accused Mr. Pearson of stooping to "deliberate smears" and "standards against him and the C.C.F. It was apparent that "constructive criticism" of the military leaders of N.A.T.O. was "invariably criticized as communist propaganda."

A. Wesley Stuart (L.—Charlotte) urged the government to give the hating industry a break comparable to that of agriculture in the way of subsidies and other payments.

He could not understand why every single branch of the agriculture industry should be given special consideration while the fishermen were ignored. That condition could not continue indefinitely.

Auto Local Chiefs May Be Ousted

Detroit, March 13.—(AP)—Heads of the United Automobile Workers' (C.I.O.) big Ford local 600 face a threat of ouster today.

The union's international, acting on the heels of the House of Representatives un-American activities committee inquiry, accused local 600 officers of failing to enforce union restrictions against communists.

The charge created a sensation in union circles. It is without precedent in the U.A.W. Apparently it was an outcome at least in part of the committee's inquiry.

Witnesses, including U.A.W. men had testified that Ford local 600, world's largest union local with 60,000 members, is under control of communists.

Since its organization in 1941 local 600 has been one of the U.A.W.'s greatest bulwarks.

The U.A.W. international executive board, headed by President Walter P. Reuther, acted against the local 600 leadership last night less than four hours after the un-American activities committee adjourned its hearing.

Local 600 officers were accused of causing "irreparable damage" by failing to enforce the U.A.W.'s constitutional restrictions against communists. They also were accused of disobeying a policy.

They were ordered to a hearing before the executive board Friday to show cause why an administrator should not be appointed for the local.

This would mean removal of the officers. It is a disciplinary step which has seldom been taken by the 1,250,000-member auto union.

An administrator takes full control of a local. He stays on the job, responsible only to the international union, until the board deems that conditions have been rectified.

Two of local 600's top officers, Vice-President Pat Rice and Recording Secretary William R. Hood, were unwilling witnesses before the investigating congressmen.

Both refused to answer any questions regarding communism. None of the officers was named a communist at the hearing. However, "co-operative" witnesses said communists were influential, directly or indirectly, on all of them.

The U.A.W. constitution forbids elective or appointive position in the union to anyone who is a "members of or subservient to" a political organization owing allegiance to any government other than the U.S. or Canada. It specifically includes "communist, fascist or Nazi organizations."

Massey Asks To Pay Income Tax

Ottawa, March 13.—(Governor-General Vincent Massey wants to be taxed on the same basis as the Queen, whom he represents in Canada.

Prime Minister Abbott told the Commons today he plans, at Mr. Massey's request, to bring in a budgetary amendment abolishing the tax exemption the Governor-General now enjoys on his personal income by virtue of his office.

Canada Has Major Stake In Development Of Brazil

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor
There's a lot of Canada in Brazil. There are a lot of Canadians, too—people from the Maritimes to British Columbia, who have made their homes there.

And, to date, both Canada and Canadians in that immense and friendly country, may be described for the greater part in the long name and huge operations of Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Co., Ltd.

For Brazilian Traction is a romance of Canadian enterprise, started some 50 years ago, which has given Canada a tremendous entry into Brazil.

It is Canada's largest industrial company, next to her railroads. It is her greatest private investment abroad. And, at the same time, it is Brazil's largest industrial operation.

The company's head office is in Toronto, with a strong Maritime accent in its top ranks, and its shares are held largely by Canadians; in operation, it is an example, and aims at becoming an increasing example, of co-operation between Brazilians and Canadians.

Its rather misleading name stems from the fact that it had its origins in a street railway; but today its main job is to supply 65 per cent of all the electric power, generated in Brazil, and 80 per cent of Brazil's telephone services.

That is a big opportunity, compounded with headaches—for Brazil, embarked upon a seemingly endless appetite for electric power and telephones.

These things and many others were observed in a recent trip to Brazil by a group of Canadians and Americans, of whom this writer was one; and this column, for a few days, will tell something of what we saw.

We saw, it is true, a lot of dams, power stations, reservoirs, and we were guests at many luncheons and dinners.

But we also saw and met many people—Brazilians and Canadians. We saw something of "Carnival," that great four-day out-pouring of gaiety which precedes Lent. We saw what is described as the most beautiful city in the world, Rio de Janeiro, and we swam in the surf of its shining beaches. And we saw the fastest growing city in the world, Sao Paulo.

Brazil is a country roughly the size of Canada or the United States which covers half of South America. It has a population of more than 50,000,000 people, nearly four times that of Canada, or as many people as are in all other countries of South America put together.

It extends from 300 miles north of the Equator to 2,300 miles south of it. Its north embosoms the equatorial Amazon basin. Its south-ern cattle lands, at about the same latitude in the south as the Carolinas of the United States in the north, see a bit of snow in winter. It borders every South American country except Chile and Ecuador. Its form of government is parliamentary and its government is pat-terned on that of the United States of America, with a President, a Congress elected by universal suffrage, and a judiciary. It has 20 states, four territories, and the Federal district of Rio de Janeiro. Its language is Portuguese.

It has mineral riches, but what has been found must be very small compared to what must lie untapped underground.

In brief, it is a great land of glory which must, inevitably, be a much greater land of tomorrow, which we should know much better than we do.

GEORGE RAFT TO APPEAR WITH SILVER THREADS AMONG BLACK

Hollywood — Home audiences who have been seeing George Raft as a glossy-black-haired movie king in "Mr. Ace" and other movies sold to TV, are due for a double-take when George hits their home TV screens in his "I'm The Law" series.

The Raft pompadour will still be there, but in glorious, natural gray.

"I play a roving detective who's had a past career as a hooper," George told me. "We keep saying that the hoofing days were long ago. There has to be some explanation for my gray hair."

The series will have as a background New York City, and George, who is a 50-per-cent owner of the series, thinks of it as "an annuity if it clicks."

The Raft explanation for his decision not to retire from acting: "I know that I said I was retiring. I wanted to. I don't know what persuaded me to make more pictures. I didn't want to."

The story's being told that Harry Cohan of Columbia pictures was offered $10,000,000 for television rights to Columbia's film library dating up to 1946.

The inside: The offer was for $20,000,000—and Harry turned it down on the theory that he'll eventually get an even bigger price.

It's all as secretive as You-Know-Who's election plans, but eight top writers have been assigned to turn out the first scripts for U's mammoth television film program. . . Bing Crosby has made up his mind about TV. He'll do it on film, probably this fall. There's still no format, though he doesn't want to follow the pattern of his radio show.

New TV Capital?

Initial cost of CBS' new Television City in Hollywood will be $12,000,000. Final cost will be $35,000,000. Who's saying Hollywood won't be the world's TV capital?

Red Skelton's now ahead of Milton Berle in popularity rating. It's Red, Arthur Godfrey and Berle in the win, place and show spots.

There are now 100 "Fireside Theatre" films in celluloid. Loretta Young's the latest big star to sign up for a TV film series. . . There's talk of Norman MacLeod, the veteran movie director, guiding Joan Davis' telepictures.

A fed-up-with-commercials TV viewer on the phone to a video station:

"I don't know whether you know it or not, but there's some mystery picture interrupting your commercials."

Joan Crawford will appear on TV for $200,000 a year, for 26 thirty-minute telefilms. So far there are no takers, and network brass is screaming that her price is too high. . . The Dean Martin-Jerry Lewis NBC-TV charity marathon has been set for March 14-15 in New York.

Parlor Huzzahs: Barbara Stanwyck's appearance on TV is as starry as it's been on the screen. . . Mickey Rooney's freshly-combed look and zest for a new medium in his video bow. . . Sam Levenson's never-falling wit on "This is Show Business."

Binnie Barnes' comeback as a video luminary. . . Nina Foch's energy. She's been on every show, it seems, but "Zoo Parade" . . . The way Phyllis Kirk has proved via TV that she was one of Hollywood's most under-rated actresses and beauties.

Wrist-Slapper Needed

Eye-opening quote from Karl Freund, who photographs the "I Love Lucy" show:

"The quality of TV reception is a long way from motion picture screen quality. We are working on the standardization of control within the studios so that at least a uniform picture will be sent to the homes of viewers from each station in the country.

"But, until someone invents a machine to slap the wrist of the 'expert' to help, we can't guarantee uniformity."

This Has Got To Go Dept.: Commentators, announcers and commercial-blurbers who wink goatishly and pucker their lips for the benefit of female viewers. Some times papa's around, boys. . . The over-boyish announcers always on tap during the afternoon recap programs to smack their lips, grab for the first cookie out of the oven and generally behave like a combination of Van Johnson and Butch Jenkins.

Alderman Fisette Retires From City Politics, Will Not Seek Re-Election

Something of a bombshell was set off in municipal political circles this morning when Ald. Armand Fisette, dean of the City Council and chairman of the General Administration Committee, announced that he would not seek re-election for the West Ward seat he has represented for the past 12 years.

Immediately on the heels of Mr. Fisette's statement, Conrad Cayer, a senior employee at the Sherbrooke Post Office and a long-time supporter of the alderman, visited the City Hall and took out nomination papers with the intention of entering the race before nominations close at noon on Wednesday, March 19. Although the West Ward political situation has been thrown into a turmoil by the surprise action of Ald. Fisette, indications are that no opposition will be forthcoming for Mr. Cayer who has been active in municipal affairs in that quarter for some time.

Ald. Fisette's decision was a surprise to most followers of the civic political scene as a few weeks ago he assured a large delegation of his electors that he would stand for election for another three-year term although he refused a suggestion that he enter the mayoral race.

In explaining his move, Ald. Fisette said that he was forced to retire from the municipal field owing to health reasons.

"My decision was taken only after the most careful consideration," said Mr. Fisette. "I have enjoyed the twelve years that I have been at the City Hall and even if the work has been strenuous, I will miss the companionship and friendships I have made there. But the time has come when I must curtail many of my activities if I wish to retain my health. I am reluctant to break my links with the West Ward electors but retirement from the municipal field is the only course open to me."

"I wish to extend my thanks to the West Ward residents who have shown their confidence for me in the past twelve years and who were prepared to return me, apparently without opposition, for another three years. I thank them from the bottom of my heart for their display of confidence and goodwill."

Ald. Fisette first entered the City Council in 1940 and has served on practically every committee. His more recent years have been spent as the General Administration Committee chairman, where he was charged with guiding the general policies of the Council.

He has served under six mayors, Joseph Labrecque, Alex. C. Ross, J. W. Genest, Guy D. Bryant, Alphonse Trudeau and the present Mayor, Senator Charles B. Howard. During this period he has also been associated with 25 aldermen.

Ald. Fisette is the second senior alderman to announce his resignation from the Council, Ald. Oliva Deziel, and East Ward representative for the past ten years having made his decision public some weeks ago. Felix Thibault, Bowen Avenue garage operator, was subsequently selected at a public meeting as his likely successor.

The two other retiring aldermen, W. H. Bradley, in the North Ward, and Carl Camirand in the Centre, both appear assured of re-election by acclamation at the nominations on Wednesday next.

Meanwhile, the campaign for the mayoralty vote on March 26 between former Mayor Alphonse Trudeau and former Alderman Armand Nadeau is intensifying. Both sides claim that their organization work has been completed and both give the customary expressions of confidence.

Mr. Nadeau's supporters have opened two committee rooms where the task of checking the lists and preparing for the vital job of getting out the vote is continuing.

Banquet Honoring Bishop Lanctot Tendered By Members Of City Council

As a tangible expression of the joy and pride felt by the citizens of Sherbrooke at the elevation of one of its sons to the Episcopate, the City Council last evening offered a banquet to His Excellency, Msgr. Alfred Lanctot, in the Picardie Room of the New Sherbrooke Hotel.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Lanctot, of Sherbrooke, Msgr. Lanctot was last week consecrated Bishop of Avensca and Apostolic Vicar of Bukoba, Africa. He is a member of the order of White Fathers, who are African missionaries.

Alderman Henri Labonne acted as chairman and, speaking in the name of the Council, said that the citizens of Sherbrooke wished to honor in a special manner their fellow citizen who had brought such joy to his family and his city.

"Not only is the honor reflected upon your distinguished family, and upon your professors," he said, "but upon our whole population."

He expressed regret at the absence of Mayor C. B. Howard, detained out of town on business matters, but said that the first magistrate joined the city fathers in expressing best wishes to Msgr. Lanctot in his work with the missions.

The new Bishop was presented with a gold key to the city, making him a lifetime citizen of Sherbrooke, and with it a $500 cheque to be used for the furtherance of his apostolic work.

The guest of honor declared that he was profoundly touched by the cordial welcome extended him, and was all the more pleased because of the intimate nature of the gathering, in the beautiful Picardie Room.

"I feel as if we are a family reunited this evening," he said, "and it is a pleasure to greet the aldermen with their wives, the other members of the city hall staff with their ladies, and particularly my old friend, Alderman Bradley, and Mrs. Bradley."

He thanked Alderman Labonne for the presentation and said he regretted the absence of Mayor Howard, but if it was a pleasure to receive the key to the city, he as a "begging missionary" felt that this key was all the more beautiful when accompanied by such a substantial cheque.

Touching briefly on his work in Africa, the Bishop said that of the 550,000 souls in his mission, 115,000 or 20 per cent have been converted to Christianity, in the past 60 years.

He spoke of his natives who would be overjoyed at his elevation to the Episcopate and would play him with questions about his home town and the reception given him by the civil and religious authorities.

Msgr. Lanctot said that there is a great need for money in Africa, and said that the teaching Sisters, attached to their missions, although they are mostly the same as the nuns in this part of the world, differ in that they wear no shoes or stockings. "We would be dismayed," he said, "if we had to find the money to buy them any."

He is faced with great problems when it comes to construction of the schools, and to the food question. Many of the missionaries break down because they are so poorly nourished, he said, and he as Bishop has to cope with the appalling poverty situation actually existing in his missionary territory.

"The need is great," he said, "and during my stay in this country, I shall not spare myself if by pleading their cause, I can succeed in enlisting the sympathy and generosity of the people towards the missions."

Alderman Labonne expressed the hope that the generosity towards the foreign missions would continue from year to year and President Les Memory welcomed two guests, Fred Orr and E. Etienne, both of Montreal. He also extended greetings to honorary members Margaret Doherty and Ray Demers, and to members Dr. C. Delaney, and Dr. M. Hicks, whose respective birthdays fall this week.

There being no speaker, Kiwanian Sid Hart showed a number of films, titled "Certified for Seed," "Community Sing," "Let's Go Fishing," by the C.N.R., and "Song of the Mountains."

Reasons Of Study Of History Outlined For So-Ed By Professor A. W. Preston

The reasons why History should be read and studied were outlined last night by Professor A. W. Preston, head of the Classics department of Bishop's University, at a lecture sponsored by So-Ed in the MacKinnon Memorial.

The lecture preceded the interest and craft groups of So-Ed and J. Edward Shortt, who was chairman of this portion of the evening, announced that a program of motion pictures will be presented next Wednesday night, a lecture on the History of the Eastern Townships by Mrs. Catherine Mackenzie the following Wednesday evening and a talk on British Culture by Rev. T. W. Jones on April 2nd.

Dr. Preston said that the value of studying history is to be found somewhere between the extremes of attitude — Francis Bacon's remark "Histories make men wise" and Henry Ford's "History is the bunk."

Giving examples of each, he urged the study of history for the following reasons: (1) removing insularity; (2) psychological interest; (3) great men; (4) foreign affairs; (5) improving ourselves; (6) interest in itself; (7) emotional outlet; (8) pleasure.

By the study of history, he said, we can learn of far-away places which those of us who have studied cannot afford to visit and those of us who have the money to visit haven't the time.

"History, therefore, removes insularity."

He said the study of history is of very great psychological interest. "A study of the religious wars of the past will give us a clearer insight into the ideological warfare of today."

From reading biographies of great men, Professor Preston said, we will always learn something. "There is much to be gained by reading of the experiences of men like St. Augustine of Hippo, the Wesleyans and their work among the gin-brutalized masses of England, Loyola founder of the Jesuit order, and Gen. Booth, who did for darkest London what Livingstone did for darkest Africa."

Hicks, Syd Hart, Mr. Orr, the president, Miss Doherty, Dr. Delaney and Past President Hunter.

In dealing with History and its importance in foreign affairs, Dr. Preston said that the past is very important and we cannot get rid of it. In foreign affairs, history is of desperate importance.

"While history does not repeat itself, it does repeat itself to a point and a clearer understanding of German history by the midlands' industrialist Neville Chamberlain (who described Czechoslovakia as a small country of which we know little) might have made for better manoeuvring at Munich."

He compared the lack of confidence in Chamberlain with the "tremendous" confidence in his

LAST ANTI-POPCORN STRONGHOLD

It was intriguing to read the other day about the great nutritional value of popcorn. It seems that popcorn is packed with vitamins, that the little white balls are almost a perfect substitute for juicy red steaks, spinach, cod liver oil, and other storehouses of health and energy.

The fact that the announcement of the health-giving qualities of popcorn came from a group of gentlemen who sell the stuff in the movie theatres of Canada may make it a trifle biased. Until now, most people have never regarded popcorn in theatres as anything more than a joy to young fry and a nuisance to their elders. Many still prefer to see movies without the accompaniment of crackling jaws and the aroma of hot butter drifting into the theatre from the lobby.

The many who are prejudiced against the consumption of popcorn in places devoted to the cinema art, will be pleased to note that the anti-popcorn forces are still in command in one part of our far-flung land (we almost said Dominion — caught it just in time!).

The rugged individualists in our newest province have decided to resist the popcorn invasion in their movie houses. The St. John's municipal council has referred to the city solicitor a request for permission to install counters for the sale of popcorn and other confections in four theatres in the Newfoundland capital.

The St. John's councillors did not oppose popcorn on aesthetic grounds, however. They upheld the right of shopkeepers to sell popcorn without competition from business men whose primary operations are moving pictures. One councillor pointed out that if theatres were authorized to go into the popcorn and candy business, there was no way to stop them selling a much wider variety of goods, and the shopkeepers were entitled to protection from such competition.

Regardless of the reasons for the opposition to the sale of popcorn, the stand of the St. John's council is worthy of support and commendation. That will be one Canadian city at least where one can view a film without being stifled by the fragrance of the vitamin-packed grain and deafened by the noise of its consumption.

GANGSTER VENGEANCE

While screaming headlines were carried by Canadian daily newspapers about the greatest manhunt in the history of this country, which resulted in two gun battles in the City of Montreal, there was an event reported in the wake of all this in Brooklyn of the gravest character and of the most deadly menace to the security of all citizens.

The salesman who informed the police of the whereabouts of Willie Sutton, Public Enemy No. 1, was riddled with four bullets from an underworld assassin as he was about to enter his home. This was gangworld vengeance, which tests the very foundation of an ordered society in the United States.

From the moment that the salesman helped the police, he must have been a marked man. And much more marked than necessary when the police rushed his picture, along with their own, to the newspapers in jubilant ballyhoo over the capture of Sutton. What is it worth in the way of safety, when a good citizen who has valuable information about criminals is assured by the police that he or she will have full protection? If this were an unusual isolated instance of killing to thwart justice, it would hardly merit comment. But for years past, killing witnesses for the state has been an established practice. No wonder the police are unable to penetrate the wall of sullen silence and non-co-operation among the masses in those congested areas of big cities where crime is rampant and where criminals hide out!

The citizen responsible for the arrest of the notorious rat, Sutton, is dead. The moral and psychological effect of this killing must be a matter of very serious heart-burning by the metropolitan police in Brooklyn and New York, and in particular, the publicity-hunters in that department.

LATEST FIGURES OF UN AIRCRAFT LOSSES IN KOREA ARE REPORTED

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington — (NEA) — Total United Nations aircraft losses in Korean combat now number 818. This covers the period from the start of the war, June 30, 1950 through Feb. 29, 1952 — 20 months. The comparable figure on Communist air losses in the same period is 362 planes destroyed, 102 probably destroyed and 452 damaged. No figures are given out on UN planes damaged.

Breakdown on UN aircraft losses is 488 U.S. Air Force planes destroyed, 282 U.S. Naval aviation, 33 shore-based U.S. Marine and 15 friendly foreign. In the last classification are included, principally, British, Australian and New Zealand planes. The Navy total has been brought up to date for the first time this year.

If operational losses are included, the total UN figure may be approximately doubled. Operational losses include crash landings, takeoffs and other non-combat accidents.

No precise figures on operational losses are possible because the Air Force doesn't report them. The Navy does. Its operational losses for the 20 months are 407 planes destroyed.

The surprising fact here, to the layman, is that Navy operational losses are greater than combat losses — 407 to 282. Naval aviation men say this is a normal ratio, in line with World War II experience.

It is explained by the fact that damaged planes may limp home to carrier or shore base and land safely. If they are so badly shot up that they are beyond repair, however, they are junked and charged off as operational losses.

There are no figures released on casualties in actual flying operations. The best estimate that can be made on this point is by deduction from total Air Force and Navy casualties, which are roughly comparable.

Total Casualties Number 2272

Killed in action — Air Force 348, Navy 182, Died — Air Force 365, Navy 243. Wounded — Air Force 45, Navy 947. Missing — Air Force 647, Navy 103. Total casualties — Air Force 1040, Navy 1232.

While the Navy figures include ship crewmen and the Air Force figures include ground crewmen, the total casualties of 2272 up to the end of February indicate an approximate ratio of from two to three men for every plane lost in action or operations.

Lack of uniform record keeping by the Air Force and Naval aviation makes accurate reporting on the total air war almost impossible. Air Force has been reporting its plane losses at the end of every week. Navy reports on air losses only spasmodically.

The new Navy totals reported here, however, do reveal that Naval aviation has been on a much greater scale than the sea-air arm has generally been given credit for. Up to mid-February, the Air Force had flown 207,000 sorties against the Communists. To the end of January, the Navy had flown 130,000 sorties. There may be some duplication here, as both Air Force and Navy seem to be reporting shore-based Marine operations in close support of ground troops.

On Navy plane losses in the Korean theater since the start of the war, 407 were carrier-based planes, 314 were land based. Of the carrier-based planes, 181 were lost to enemy action, 226 in operational accidents. For the land-based planes, the ratio was reversed, 133 being lost to enemy action, 181 in operational accidents.

Navy Attacked Communications And Supply Lines

Most of the Naval aviation missions have been in interdiction — destruction of enemy supplies and lines of communication. Navy planes operated up near the Yalu for only a short time last year. For this reason the Navy claims only three of the 200 commie jets shot down.

Navy does claim its shore-based Marine planes have flown roughly 55 per cent of the close support missions for ground troops. Up to the end of January the Navy claimed 100 bridges destroyed and 1600 damaged, 19,000 buildings destroyed and 5600 damaged, 2700 command posts destroyed and 1046 damaged, 2700 railroad cars destroyed and 6400 damaged, 52,751 enemy troops killed, 4800 vehicles destroyed and 3300 damaged, 1100 warehouses destroyed and 803 damaged. And so on, in much more detail.

Number of Naval planes in the Korean theater, like the number of Air Force planes, is kept secret. Navy has operated its task force 77 on the east coast, with two carriers rotating on active duty. On the west coast a baby flattop carrier group has been operated jointly by the U.S. and British.

Communist air power in Korea — despite its build-up from nothing to 1700 planes — has been employed almost entirely in air-to-air combat. This is shown by an Air Force tabulation of missions:

On aerial combat, UN planes flew 22,000 sorties, commies 18,500. In close support of ground troops, UN planes flew 51,000 sorties, commies none. On interdiction, UN planes flew 124,000 sorties, commies only 75.

These figures indicate the complete superiority which UN planes have had in Korea — up to now. Still they haven't won the war.

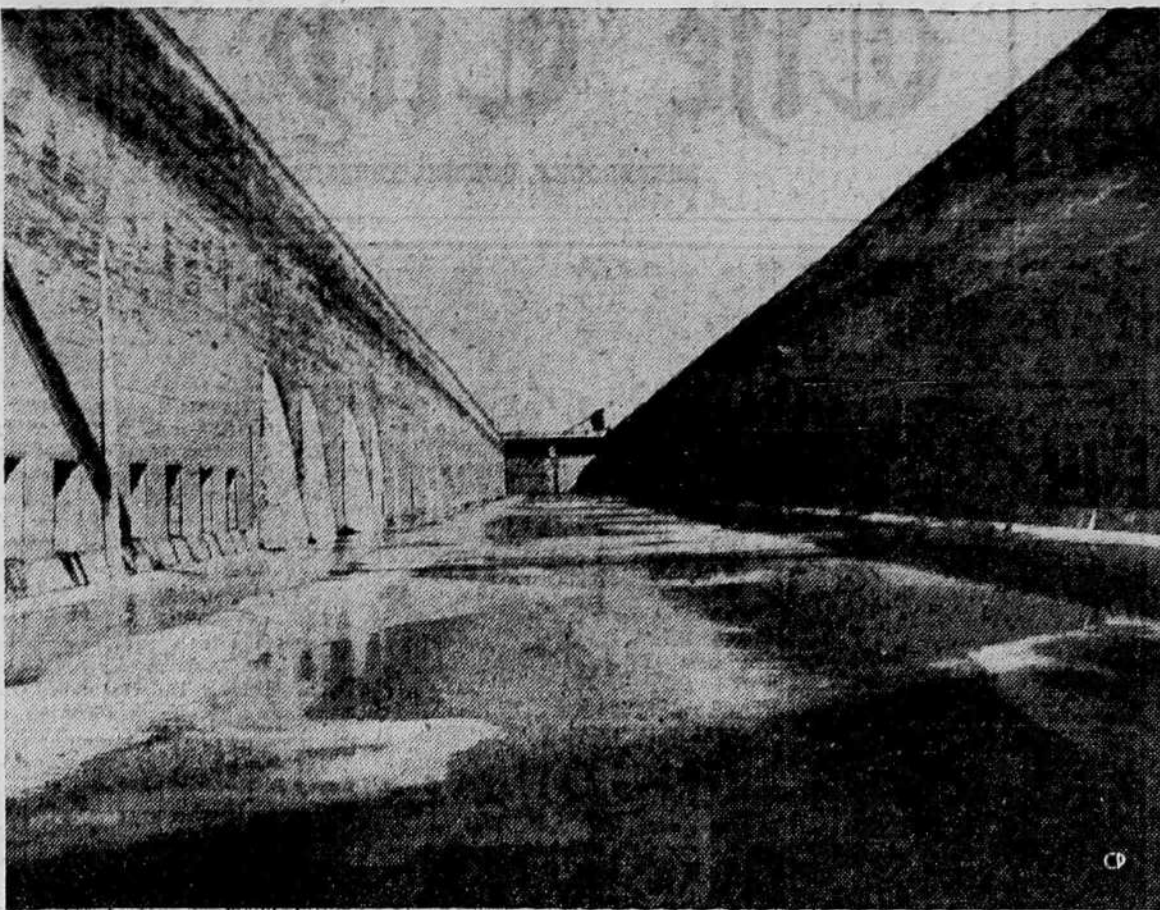

PRESS COMMENTS

KEEPING SOVIET DIPLOMATS NEAR THEIR HOME BASE (Montreal Star)

The reaction of the average citizen to the news that the movements of Russian diplomats in Canada are to be sharply restricted will be mere wonderment that the step was not taken years ago. Lord Vanstuart, the distinguished British diplomat, went on record long ago as saying that these so-called diplomatic missions of the Soviet Union are not, in any real sense, diplomatic missions at all. Here in Canada the discovery of the espionage ring in 1946 proved it to our satisfaction.

The average man indeed will wonder why we permit the entry of such missions at all. Why don't we throw them out, and withdraw our own, and thereby save ourselves a good deal of money? The answer appears to be that we consider it wise, in the long run, to maintain these contacts against the day when something genuine in the way of peaceful negotiation takes place. If there is anything in this argument, however, we obviously should make it difficult for these curious guests to do damage.

Restriction on their movement is perhaps one way of assuring this, just as it may also help to make their lives here a little more irksome than they otherwise would be. Certainly we should match our restrictions with those imposed by Moscow on foreign diplomats. They may be reprisal, but reprisal on occasion is the only way of dealing with a situation.

NAVIGATION SEASON OPENS SOON — Lock eight of the Welland Canal, the biggest single lock in the world, still has a thin coating of ice but the 1952 navigation season is expected to open earlier than usual because of the comparatively mild winter. The waterway, built originally in 1829 to link Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, bypasses the fall of 325 feet on the Niagara River. The $130,000,000 canal was opened officially August 7, 1932, in the presence of a number of world leaders. (Photo)

Letters To The Editor

FIREMEN THANKED

The Editor, Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Dear Sir:

Writing on behalf of the Board of Stewards of the Plymouth United Church, may we express through your columns, our appreciation and admiration of the efficient manner in which the Sherbrooke Fire Department coped with the conflagration, which occurred last Friday evening at our church.

The expertness with which the fire was fought, is not the only thing that we would like to commend but also the care taken by the men of this force when they were working within the church, to see that neither the organ nor any one of the stained glass windows, were damaged by the hose stream.

We consider ourselves, and indeed all of Sherbrooke to be very fortunate, to have protection of this high calibre constantly on guard.

Yours very truly,
C. C. SKINNER,
(Chairman).

Air-Rescue Squads Constantly On Alert At Goose Bay Base

Goose Bay, Labrador. — Trained rescue units are maintained at this northeastern air base by Canadian and United States air forces. They are ready at the drop of a hat to search for survivors of crashes in the trackless tundra of northern Quebec and Labrador.

A "survival school" is conducted as a combined operation. Here airmen are taught how to live in the bush in winter or summer.

Both seasons pose particularly peculiar problems to plane personnel who may be downed in the bush.

Labrador is virtually unpopulated. Its terrain is heavily glaciated, dotted with miniature lakes, hills and valleys. Scrubby bushes and anaemic coniferous growth form a tangled, busy network — almost impassable in summer without a machete. Fly repellent is a "must."

During the winter travel in the bush is impossible without snowshoes — snow piles up four and five feet high, heavy and soft, and drifts are much deeper. Game is relatively scarce, outside of ptarmigan and snowshoe rabbits and the rare caribou herd.

Aircraft and ground-rescue teams are ready on a 24-hour basis for emergencies. An emergency can be anything from locating the injured crew of a downed plane to flying a priest or an Eskimo to hospital.

Goose Bay has two well-equipped hospitals on the base run by the R.C.A.F. and the U.S.A.F. — and the Grenfell Mission hospital is located 30 miles east, on North-west River.

Through the Americans operate the survival school, its origin is actually Canadian. The education and know-how comes from the survival school at Jasper, Alberta.

Canadian and American survival units work together but each air force operates its own rescue teams, provided with different equipment which may be pooled at certain times.

When a crash has been located, the first men on the scene, if the operation is by air, are usually two expert Canadian jumpers, loaned to the Americans for just such emergencies — Cpl. Bob Crebo and Cpl. Ted Brainerd.

Canadian rescue units use a ski-equipped Dakota and a Norseman, and snowmobiles are standard equipment for pushing through bush.

The survival school course takes a week — three days of lectures and films and two days of field work. Students are taken to the outskirts of the base where they put into practice what they have learned about the construction of "paratepes" — shelters made of cut-up parachutes — and the brewing of most soup.

Among the 2,000 personnel at the base are a number of civilians, most of them with the department of transport, and the rest school teachers, secretaries, and cargo-handlers. About 800 are Americans attached to the north-east air command which also has bases in Newfoundland.

Arthur Godin, foreman painter and local artist, flew in 11 years ago but is "waiting for land transport" to get out. Louis Viel, of Cornwall, Ont., has been at the base 11 years too — because he likes the quiet.

Lipstick Is Pest In Laundry Plant

Quebec. — Lipstick may enhance the appearance of most women, but it's nothing less than a nightmare for laundry workers and dry cleaning establishments.

The statement that lipstick is the cleaners' biggest headache was made by R. F. McDonald, vice-president of a chemical firm at Windsor, Ont., addressing the Quebec laundrers' and dry cleaners' association.

Small metal lipsticks often find their way into the cleaning machinery, causing havoc. They may be forgotten in pockets, or may have slipped down into the lining of a coat.

When the tell-tale click of metal is heard in a drying basin full of clothes, he said, any employee knows there's a lipstick loose in there, fast smearing all the clothes with a devilish tinge of red.

The net result is some hours of toil to remove the smears on the spotting board. He said cleaning firm and laundry employees could not be too careful to make sure the tubes of color are removed before the clothes are treated.

The Record Short Story

DIPLOMACY

By SEVEN ANDERTON

Aunt Esther Morgan had two fat rolls of apple strudel almost ready for the even when Uncle John came home from the post office with the morning mail. He had tarried to talk with his son, Bill, now married almost six weeks.

"I can't eat all that today," Uncle John said as he sniffed the spicy aroma of the pastry and noted the quantity.

"I made one of those for Bill," Aunt Esther told him. "He is so crazy about strudel."

Uncle John went into the living room, sat down and opened the morning paper. He didn't read, however, but sat with his brow puckered in thought. Plump, gray haired Aunt Esther put the strudel into the oven and came into the living-room to look after her house-plants. Uncle John reached out and pulled her onto his lap in the big chair.

"I want to tell you a story, dumping," he said. "If it's one of those stories you hear in Sandy King's barbershop," she said, "I don't want to hear it."

Uncle John smiled. "This is a once-upon-a-time story. Going on forty years ago, there was a mighty pretty girl in these parts and she was the prettiest girl in the world in the opinion of a big ugly young fellow that worked in the feed mill in those days."

Aunt Esther looked sharply into her husband's leathery, lean old face. "What are you working up to, John Morgan?" she demanded.

"This here ugly lumox," Uncle John went on, ignoring her question, "got in such a fix he could hardly eat or sleep for thinking about this awful pretty girl and —"

Aunt Esther sniffed. "You never missed a meal in your born days."

"I'm talking about a ugly feller," Uncle John said, "and this ugly feller hung around after this pretty girl and pestered her until he finally wore her down and she married him. That made this ugly feller so danged happy that he never got over it."

Aunt Esther smiled tenderly. "And they lived happily ever after," she said.

"Well, mostly," Uncle John said. "One thing, this pretty girl wasn't no great shakes as a cook. But she was so pretty and sweet that the ugly feller didn't mind eating soggy biscuits and scorched bacon, long as he could look at her across the table. Howsoever, the ugly feller's mother was a crackerjack at fixing eatables."

Aunt Esther's shoulders sagged slightly and she bit her lip, but Uncle John didn't appear to notice. "Now," he went on, "having stuffed this ugly young whelp with good vittles for a long time, his mother worried about the kind of feller he might be getting with a Jenny-come-lately in his kitchen, even if she was pretty as all get out."

"Old soft soap," Aunt Esther muttered. "So every day or so," Uncle John continued, "this ugly mug's mother would cook up a batch of toothsome and nourishing provender and carry it over to his house. This ugly feller might be getting with a Jenny-come-lately in his kitchen, even if she was pretty as all get out."

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

BID IS IMPORTANT FOR GOOD BRIDGE

When the hand shown today was played in the recent Life Master Pair Championship, most North-South pairs reached a contract of three no-trump. South made the normal opening bid of two no-trump, and North raised to three no-trump.

This was a rather poor contract. If West took it into his head to open a diamond (which was done at a few tables), South cannot run nine tricks at once, and the moment he lets an opponent gain the lead he is buried under an avalanche of diamonds. This might delight a jeweler, but not a bridge player.

At four spades, however, South cannot be beaten. He loses at most one trump, one heart, and one diamond.

Even if the tournament angle of overtricks is considered, the contract of four spades is still superior to three no-trump. Without the fatal diamond opening lead, South can make four no-trump. But if South plays the hand at four spades and gets any lead but a diamond he can make five spades, which is better than four no-trump.

Either at rubber bridge or at tournament bridge, therefore, the contract of four spades is superior to three no-trump. How should it be bid?

North's response of three clubs, as shown in today's hand, is part of the Stayman Convention. South is expected to re-bid in a major suit if he has a biddable four-card major. Without a four-card (or longer) major suit, South would simply re-bid three no-trump, and North would pass.

Since South actually has both majors, he shows his spades first. That happens to strike North's fitting four-card holding, so North raises to game, and the problem is solved.

stead of four spades? South would still make the same re-bid of three spades, since he would not know that his partner had four hearts instead of four spades.

North would then go to three no-trump, and South would try again with a bid of four hearts. This would strike the fit, and North could pass with satisfaction.

CARD SENSE
Q—With neither side vulnerable the bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Diamond 1 Heart ?
You, South hold: Spades K-Q-6-2, Hearts 9-8, Diamonds Q-9-8-5, Clubs 9-7-4. What do you do?

A—Bid one spade. The hand is good enough for a free bid, and you should prefer a free response in a major suit to a raise of the diamonds, if you fall to bid the spades, your partner should assume that you do not have a biddable spade holding.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 9-7-4, Hearts 9-8, Diamonds Q-9-8, Clubs A-Q-J-6-2. What do you do?

B.C.S. Players Present G.B.S. Hit With Success

By SALLY HALLETT

Bishop's College School Players Club last night captured an enthusiastic audience with their presentation of George Bernard Shaw's satire, "Arms and the Man."

Enmeshed in a cat's-cradle of wit, "Arms and the Man," directed by Lewis Evans and staged by Ronald Owen is George Bernard Shaw's humor condensed; an artistic composition of straight-forward statements lampooning prevalent and (possibly) undesirable characteristics of femininity.

The action of this play takes place in a small Bulgarian village and is the story of Raina Petkoff, played by F. Meredith, the daughter of wealthy Russian aristocrat, Major Petkoff played by R. Derby, and her servant, Louka, portrayed by T. Rogers, as they employ the weapons of womanhood, craftiness, deceit, and pretended innocence, in their victorious battle over man and their own fellow competitors, who are in fact, each other.

The men at whom Raina's actions and remarks are aimed are Major Saranoff, her fiance, played by S. Wood, who is waging war for Bulgaria against the Serbs, and Captain Bluntschli, a fugitive from Serbian forces who seeks a hiding in her bedchamber. Louka's aspirations however lead her to the feet of Major Saranoff in her search for a life of equality with that of her mistress.

The play concludes with all problems resolved, Louka primarily creating the mood of the play with an abundance of self assurance in gesture and enunciation, sees her dreams materialize in the form of Major Saranoff while Raina reaches that enviable state of true contentment with Captain Bluntschli, her devoted suitor.

Major Petkoff assisted his daughter tremendously in setting the mood and speed of the play with his bombastic outburst. Other members of the cast were M. Pick as Catherine Petkoff and M. Ogilvie as a Russian Officer.

The costumes in this play is apropos of the period and location, but with respect to the affluence of the Saranoff family, they, with the properties and lighting, could perhaps, have effected a more opulent environment.

successor Winston Churchill, "who is not only a historian but a man making history."

As an interest in itself, Dr. Preston said, there are many scholarships and endowments for those interested in pursuing history as a career, with many openings in government and schools as the reward.

As a process of making us better people, he stated that history was a better method of getting rid of illusions than the books and courses set up by the popular psychologists who advertise that their "methods will help one get along better with his fellow men. Also, he stated, history might be said to set standards.

He urged the study of history as an emotional outlet, particularly for young people, and said this was a better outlet than the reading of crime comics. History, too, he said, would heighten one's appreciation of movies or plays if one was familiar with the background of the entertainment in question.

Professor Preston concluded saying: "History is at your elbow all the time. On the very spot I am standing on now, Rogers' Rangers fought the St. Francis Indians 175 years ago. When passing through Eaton Corner, remember that is the first place in this region where chloroform was used."

"History is a great anesthetic against boredom. It adds a salt to life."

Q. W. I. Exhibit Of Handicrafts Is Planned

The annual handicraft exhibit of the Quebec Women's Institutes will be held again this year at Macdonald College, in conjunction with the provincial convention the last week in June.

In addition to articles of various types of handicrafts entered by individual members, the public will be given an opportunity of seeing samples of the work done at courses given in various districts by the technicians, Miss Ida R. Bruneau and Miss F. Elizabeth Campbell. Branches select the form of craft they wish taught and figures released by Miss Bruneau show rug-making has been leading this past season, while slippers and gloves are the form of leather work most in demand.

A large and varied collection of articles will be assured at this exhibit, which is held for display purposes only, not as a competition.

A new course, "Painting for Pleasure," has been received with favour. Art classes have been formed in many communities by Miss Campbell and a section of the exhibit will feature this work.

A native of Granby, Que., Mr. Bergeron came to Montreal when a young man. He is survived by his wife, the former Colette Lebrun, a daughter, Christine, and his mother, Mrs. J. P. Bergeron. Also surviving are five brothers, Raymond, of Sherbrooke, and Patrick, Joseph and John, of Granby, and Frederick of Montreal, and three sisters, Mrs. H. T. Cabana, Mrs. P. H. Boivin and Miss Margaret Bergeron, all of Granby.

San Antonio, Tex., March 13.—(A)—Two B-29 Superfortresses whose pilots were flying on instruments collided and carried 15 crew members to their deaths yesterday.

One bomber plunged to earth and shattered, scattering fragments and bodies over a five-mile area in south-central Texas. The other glided down several miles away, exploded and burned.

The planes were on training flights from Randolph Air Force base here. They were being flown mechanically and the pilot's cabins were blacked out. One plane carried seven men and the other eight, the Air Force said.

Jack Nolen, who lives near by, reported finding a wreckage book near the wreckage with most of its pages burned away but the title intact.

It read: "I want a big funeral."

Toronto, March 13.—(C)—Ontario Court of Appeal yesterday dismissed the appeal of the Toronto Newspaper Guild (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) against a court decision decertifying the Guild as bargaining agent for circulation department employees of the Toronto Globe and Mail.

During a 3 1/2-day hearing last October, argument centred on two major points: Jurisdiction of the Ontario Labor Relations Board and whether Labor Board decisions are subject to appeal.

Mr. Justice G. A. Gale of the Ontario Supreme Court, in a decision last June 1, upset a provision of the Labor Relations Act which says the Board's decisions cannot be appealed. He ruled the newspaper had been denied "essential justice" when the Board refused it the right to cross-examine a Guild witness on the question of reported resignations from the Guild.

At the time labor unions complained that the court was taking away a function of the board.

Allied fire halted the Reds 100 yards short of U.N. lines. The communists pulled back after a two-hour fight.

The entire 155-mile Korean front grew quieter today, the U.S. Eighth Army said, except for patrol clashes in the centre. In the west, U.N. troops re-occupied an advance position northwest of Yoncheon without firing a shot. They had pulled out last night in the face of a Red attack.

The floral offerings were numerous showing the esteem in which the deceased was held. Mr. Landers was a life member of Browne Lodge, No. 24, A.F., and A.M., Canadian Order of Foresters, and held a 50 year gold pass from the C.P.R.

The pall bearers were J. Lorimer, J. H. Dimick, C. Murdoch, J. L. Kilburn, G. E. Standish, N. T. French, all members of the Masonic Order, and a large number of Masonic brethren accompanied the remains from the house to church and cemetery.

He was a kindly nature and anyone who had the privilege of knowing him will not forget his good humor and reminiscences of early railway and town events.

MRS. BENJAMIN J. KINGSLEY, OF BULWER
Bulwer, March 13. An old and respected resident of Bulwer, Mrs. Benjamin J. Kingsley, passed away on January 8, 1952, at her late residence. She was born at Auckland, in 1864, the daughter of the late Robert Leggett and his wife, Caroline Lege.

In 1894, she married Charles Lownd and one son was born of this union. After Mr. Lownd's death, she married Benjamin J. Kingsley, who survived his wife by only fifteen days.

Mrs. Kingsley had been in failing health for some time and during her illness, was tenderly cared for by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Leamon Lownd.

While her health permitted, she was an active member of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church. During both World Wars, she gave very freely of her time and ability in knitting for the Red Cross Society.

Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn her loss, her son, Leamon Lownd, and Mrs. Lownd; two grandchildren, Mrs. Grant Forgrave and Gerald Lownd; five great-grandchildren and several nephews, nieces and cousins.

The funeral service was held at her late residence, on January 10, with Rev. A. Cameron, of the Sawyerville United Church, conducting the service. The hymns "The Old Rugged Cross," and "Good Night And Good Morning," were sung by the choir, with Mrs. Leslie Richardson, at the piano.

The bearers were four neighbours, Messrs. Ivan Herring, Reginald Drake and Lloyd and Kenneth Johnston.

The beautiful flowers bore silent testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The funeral, which was under the management of the Bury Funeral Home was attended by a large number of relatives and friends from Waterloo, Eastman, Randolph, Lennoxville and Sawyerville. Interment was made in the Eaton Cemetery.

THOMAS LEARMONTH, OF INVERNESS.
Inverness, Mar. 13.—The people of this and adjacent communities were shocked and grieved when it became known that Mr. Thomas Learmonth had passed away suddenly at his home here during the early morning hours of January 28, 1952.

Mr. Learmonth had been in his usual state of health, but during the night of his death suffered from what appeared to be a simple case of indigestion. After arising and taking some medicine he told Mrs. Learmonth that he would like to take a short walk out to the stable, as had been his custom for some nights past, due to the illness of some of the stock there.

When he failed to return after a lapse of several minutes, Mrs. Learmonth became anxious and summoned their son, John, who lives nearby, and to their horror found Mr. Learmonth lying dead in the stable, presumably from a severe heart attack.

The deceased, born on May 27, 1879, was the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Learmonth (nee Mary Jane Watson). Five other children made up the family, two sisters still living and three brothers who predeceased him. On November 16, 1904 the deceased married Miss Florence Robinson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson, of the Dublin Range. To this union three sons were born, Stuart, who died in early manhood, John, of this place, and Kenneth, of Montreal.

The passing of Mr. Learmonth, "Tom," as he was known to so many, has left a void in this community which will be felt for a long time. He served for several terms in the Council of the Township of Inverness, later becoming a member of the village council until his death. In addition to the public services rendered, he was a real neighbor in every sense of the word, ever ready to help at any hour in case of sickness or distress.

The funeral service, largely attended by those anxious to pay their last tribute, was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Inverness, on January 30, the pastor, the Rev. I. Johnston, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Secord, with Mrs. Harry Little as organist. The following hymns were sung, "Abide with Me" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." Interment took place in the family plot in the Boutelle Cemetery.

The bearers were Messrs. R. J. Graham, Willard Christie, Ben Seale, John Dempsey, W. Learmonth, Jr., and Philip Cow.

I'd Like to give you my favourite "trick" for making really smooth gravy. Just add a pinch of WINDSOR SALT to the flour before you blend it with the other ingredients. This will give you lump-free, smooth-satin gravy—and compliments galore from your family! And this is just one of the many uses you'll find for Windsor Salt. It's a real "cooking friend" to use in the kitchen and at the table for brightening the flavour of food. Yes, you can count on Windsor Salt to make all the difference between "dull" and "delicious". What's more, it's always free-running, in damp weather or dry. No wonder Windsor Salt is so popular with so many Canadian homemakers! Take my tip and try it in your cooking!

A Favourite Lenten Menu of mine is Vegetable Soup—Buttered Toast—Tossed Green Salad—and delicious K R A F T DINNER. Yes, there's many a Lenten meal that can be planned so economically around "Kraft Dinner". You see, it's a wonderful macaroni-n-cheese dish that makes a main dish for four at less than 50¢ a serving. And it's a real compliment-getter for the guest who does the cooking. In every package of "Kraft Dinner" is a special, fast-cooking macaroni that cooks to fluffy lightness in only 7 minutes. Aaa-Choo! This is certainly the month for sneezes and wheezes... so what better time to give you my favourite cure for a cold? Here it is for all of you who are sick and tired of sniffing. Drink the juice of one lemon in a glass of water with a half teaspoon of bicarbonate soda... added very slowly. Drink as the foaming quiets. Do this every three or four hours at the first signs of a cold and see how quickly it alkalizes your system and you feel better. Do be sure to use STINKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS—they're the finest, juiciest grown. It's a good idea, I've found, to keep a supply always on hand.

"I'm Sitting on Top Of The World" when I see my cakes coming out of the oven so beautifully light, so tender and delicious-looking. And though I may seem smug, it's plain to see that anyone can have cakes just wonderful. Just use SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR. You see, Swans Down is made for just that purpose... to give you better baking results, to assure you of beautiful, moist, melt-in-your mouth cakes... every time. Bake with confidence, the way I do. Bake with Swans Down Cake Flour—the flour that is sifted again and again until it is 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Remember men love Swans Down Cakes... and the girls who bake them!

When The March Wind Roars like a lion, watch out for "Peter Pain". It strikes without warning in rheumatism, neuralgia—muscular aches and chest colds. That's because it contains up to 2 1/2 times more of those two famous pain-relieving agents—methyl salicylate and menthol—than 5 other widely offered rub-ins. It contains skin-soothing lanolin, too. Keep Ben-Gay handy—the generous tube costs just 75¢ at your drugstore.

Rock Island, March 13.—The annual meeting of the Stanstead County Fish and Game Club was held recently at St. George's Hall in Ayer's Cliff, with 90 members attending.

Reginald Martin, of Rock Island, was appointed in charge of posters regarding the opening of the fishing season and the limit per person per day, these to be printed and put in prominent places as soon as the license leaflets are out. It was decided to apply for an order of council that O'Mally Pond, which is being stocked with trout in the spring, be closed until May, 1953, the same to be applied to Luppe Lake and tributaries, and the secretary was asked to write Gustave Prevost regarding information about muskies, East Brand Pond having been stocked with these fish and the club would like to have a closed season on them this year, as they are small in size.

It was unanimously agreed that it is a fine idea to have ladies as members of this club and that

Locals Set For Hard Battle With Carlin Crew; Team To Be At Full Strength For Important Fixture

A capacity crowd should be on hand this evening at the Sherbrooke Arena when the Saints and the Royals tangle in the sixth game of the four-out-of-seven quarter finals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League playoffs.

The Montreal club is leading the series 3-2 and if they win this evening they will wrap it up and then take on the winners of the Valleyfield-Chicoutimi affair in the Loop semi-finals.

The Royals got away to a flying start chalking up a 4-0 victory in the initial tilt but the locals came through in the second game, on local ice, to knot the series. However the Saints dropped a tough one in the third encounter, after twenty minutes of overtime, and then back at the Montreal Forum Sunday afternoon they emerged the winners by a 5-2 count.

Fighting back in the fifth battle Tuesday evening at the Forum the locals came through with flying colors to upset the highly favored Royals by shutting them out 3-0, forcing the sixth game. The experts had picked the Carlin crew to terminate the series on Tuesday but Dugre's club outplayed them the whole way of chalking up their second win of the series.

Coach Dugre and his squad will be going all out tonight to cop the tie and force a seventh game Sunday afternoon at the Forum. The team came through without any serious injuries and everybody will be at their posts ready for their do-or-die attempt tonight and if they can duplicate their performance of Tuesday then the Montrealers will be in for a hard battle.

Coach Carlin will no doubt have his strongest lineup of strength in uniform for tonight's tilt to finish the series and earn a few days' rest before moving into the semi-finals. His top line of Malone-Douglas-Plamondon, who have accounted for nine of their team's 15 goals, is expected to carry the brunt of the assault, but they will be given special attention by Dugre's forecheckers.

Gilles Dube is the top marksman for the Saints in the playoffs, with four goals while his linemate, Bobby Pepin, is second with three. Tom McDougall, Jimmy Planche,

Maurice Richard Back, Groin Still Bothers Him

Montreal, March 13.—(P)—Maurice Richard came back from Florida to hockey territory today with a sun tan but still not free of his groin miseries.

Montreal Canadiens' right-winger, who has missed 21 games of the National Hockey League schedule, said he still feels the pains at times but wouldn't hazard a guess about playing hockey until he works out on the ice.

Richard has suffered from the groin injury since before Christmas. He tried going back into the game but brief rests but the trouble became aggravated.

A complete rest was finally ordered.

Top Russian Runners To Compete In Paris

Moscow, March 13.—(P)—Some of Russia's outstanding long distance runners, several of whom will be members of the Soviet Olympic team this summer, will show their ability in Paris this Sunday.

Western countries thus will be given a chance to see just how good are the Russian runners. The members of the team, which departed today for Paris, included Vladimir Kazantsev, Yakov Moskachenkov, holder of the world's 3000 metre record, and Feodosia Vanin, former holder of the 30,000 metre mark.

Hornets Swamped 8-3 By Syracuse Warriors

The top teams in the American Hockey League saw little action Wednesday night and there was no change in the standings of the leaders.

St. Louis Flyers downed Providence Reds 7-4, Syracuse Warriors outscored Pittsburgh Hornets 8-3 and Cincinnati Mohawks shaded Buffalo Bisons 8-7 in overtime.

At Providence, two goals by Eric Pogue within 25 seconds of the third period helped St. Louis to victory.

Amicale Larocque And St. Francis Open Bid For Provincial Titles Sunday Afternoon At Local Arena

Amicale Larocque Midgets and St. Francis juveniles will take the first steps towards giving provincial championships to Sherbrooke when they meet the Montreal champions in the provincial semi-finals on Sunday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Arena in sudden death games.

At the same time the Quebec midget and juvenile representatives will meet the Three Rivers representatives in sudden death games in Three Rivers. The following week the winners of these two series will meet for the provincial championships. The site to be named at a later date.

In the first game Sunday which is called for 2.30, the Amicale Larocque Midgets, Eastern Townships champions, will meet the Verdun Canadians, who won the right to represent Montreal last week. Larocque, who also represented Sherbrooke last year in the provincial playdowns, are considered much stronger than they were last season and are given a good chance to beat the strong Verdun club.

They won their section championship by eliminating St. Francis and Superior and then defeated St. Pats, winners of the "B" section in two straight games. They then upset a strong Ayer's Cliff team 4-3 in a sudden death game for the Eastern Townships championship. Last year, they lost out in overtime after the Montreal team had scored a disputed goal to tie the game in the last few seconds of play. They intend to get their revenge this year by eliminating the Verdun entry and

Quebec To Honor Joe Malone On March 30

Quebec, March 13.—(CP)—A plaque in honor of Joe Malone, only Quebecer elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in Kingston, Ont., will be unveiled at the Coliseum here March 30.

A group of Quebec sportsmen, including some of Malone's teammates with the old Quebec Bulldogs which operated in professional hockey from 1910 to 1917, are sponsoring the affair.

The 62-year-old former hockey star, now a Montreal draughtsman, was captain of the Bulldogs when they won the Stanley Cup emblematic of the world championship in 1912 and 1913.

His feats as a prolific scorer in the days of the "60-minute men" including a total of 44 goals in one season of 22 scheduled games with Montreal Canadiens in 1917-18, the first year of the National Hockey League operations. The record stood until Maurice Richard of Canadiens scored 50 goals in 50 games in 1944-45.

While with Bulldogs, "Phantom Joe" as he was known for his elusive play and stick-handling ability, scored nine goals in one Stanley Cup playoff game against Sydney in 1913.

With Quebec playing in the National Hockey Association, former-runner of N.H.L., Malone won the scoring championship three years: 1911-12 with 43 goals in 20 games; 1912-13 with 41 goals in 20 games; 1916-17 with 41 goals in 20 games, in a tie with Frank Nighbor of Ottawa.

When Bulldogs joined the N.H.L. for one season in 1919-20, Malone, a native of suburban Sillery, scored seven goals in one game here, Jan. 31, 1920, as Quebec defeated Toronto St. Pats 10-6. The record still stands.

The following year Malone moved to Hamilton for a couple of seasons before returning for limited service to the Canadiens and retirement in 1924.

Providence Fans To Honor Brother Adelard

Providence, R.I., March 13.—(P)—Brother Adelard of Mount St. Charles Academy in nearby Woonsocket, generally considered the "father of hockey" in Rhode Island, will be honored tonight in ceremonies prior to an American Hockey League game between Rhode Island Reds and St. Louis Flyers.

Lou Pieri, owner of the Reds, will present Brother Adelard, now in his late 60s, a lifetime pass to league contests.

Brother Adelard, a native of St. Jean Des Chailions, Que., came to Rhode Island and joined the faculty of Sacred Heart, getting the boys out on various lakes and ponds, many of them using tree limbs for sticks.

But the next winter he obtained a dozen real hockey sticks from Canada. He played with his team in those days.

In 1942 Brother Adelard moved over to Mount St. Charles and coached the "Mounties" to the State Championship in 1931. His 1935 team won all its 27 games.

Ray Robinson, Despite Short Training, Prohibitive Favorite Against Bobo Olson Tonight

San Francisco, March 13.—(P)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, fighting for the fight since he regained the crown last September, defends his title here tonight in a 15-round bout with Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu.

The tap dancing boxing master actually boxed only 15 rounds while training for this bout but he will go into a prohibitive favorite. Pundits suggested of speculation as to the outcome with "name your own odds."

A crowd of possibly 7,000 is expected to account for gate receipts approaching $75,000 at the Civic Auditorium. The match will not be televised or broadcast.

Net proceeds will go to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. Robinson is donating his share of the purse, less $1, to the fund. Pro-manager William P. Kyme also is contributing his profits.

Although Sugar Ray's preparations for the title defence have been as light as a butterfly's kiss, neither he nor his handlers seemed concerned.

Robinson knocked out Olson 17 months ago in Philadelphia in 12 rounds.

Olson, whose defensive poses make him somewhat difficult to tag, has trained rigidly for the first fight since last November, including two 10-round battles.

The champion already has signed in advance to defend his title against Rocky Graziano in Chicago, April 16 and against Paddy Young in New York, May 16. Should he lose to Olson there is a provision for a quick return match.

Cliff Chambers, Cards, Thinks He Will Be A Big Winner This Year

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 13.—(P)—Cliff Chambers, the tall, talented left-hander of St. Louis Cardinals, thinks he will be a big winner this year because he finally has landed with a winning club.

Chambers, 30, has set a goal of 18 to 20 victories for himself, provided the club goes well.

The most he's won in one season up to now is the 14 he captured last year. Eleven of these came after the Cardinals obtained him from Pittsburgh last June.

"I won 42 games in two years on the coast," said Chambers. "And I see no reason why I can't in here. I'm more experienced, more mature. I have a better curve ball, thanks to the teachings of Harry (The Cat) Brecheen.

"Brecheen gave me some sound philosophy on pitching. He said if you're not winning 20 games you're just an ordinary run-of-the-

Rangers Run Roughshod Over Hawks To Chalk Up 10-2 Win; Move Back In Tie For Fourth N. H. L. Playoff Spot

Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens can knock each other's brains out to decide which is to meet—or avoid—Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League playoffs. But of topical interest is that last-stretch drive for fourth place, and a chunk of the playoff money.

It's a private duel between New York Rangers and Boston Bruins. The Bluebirds knocked Chicago Black Hawks silly last night to win 10-2 and advance into a point-to-point with the Bruins. The game, at Madison Square Garden, put Rangers one game up in games over the Beantowners but the games played column will be squared tonight when Bruins take a crack at the hapless Hawks.

Chicago has won only 15 of its 63 games to date and the team, which held Canadiens to a 4-4 draw last Saturday, is about due to snap out of it and show hometown fans that, after all, it still is in the league. It has some dillies coming up, a week-end double-header against Detroit.

It was fairly-close game at New York last night for two periods with Rangers leading 3-1. Chicago got its second goal early in the third session but the New Yorkers roared back for seven more.

It was the highest goal output by one team in the N.H.L. This season and Rangers broke their own league record for the fastest four goals in one game—two minutes and 10 seconds. The old record was two minutes, 33 seconds, accomplished twice by Rangers in the 1941-42 season.

Wally Hergesheimer scored three goals—all in the big third period—to lead the scoring parade. Ed Slowinski netted twice and singles went to Herb Dickenson, Edgar Laprade, Don Raleigh, Reg Sinclair and Ed Kullman.

Bill Mosienko scored his 26th goal of the season for the Hawks late in the second period and Jimmy Peters beat Emile (The Cat) Francis on a passing play with Bill Gadsby and Jim McFadden in the third.

Charlie Fusari Hangs Up Gloves For Keeps

Newark, N.J., March 13.—(P)—Charlie Fusari, New Jersey's perennial contender for the welterweight crown, yesterday hung up his gloves for good.

The likeable blond belter from Irvington said last night's loss to Jimmy Champagne, a relative unknown from Philadelphia, and his manager, Vic Marsilio, made up his mind for him.

During Fusari's eight-year ring career, time and time again he'd reach the big fight only to lose and wind up at the bottom of the ladder again.

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D. It is not too early for parents who are considering sending their children to summer camps to complete their arrangements. Abide By Camp Rules In most places swimming is an important part of camp life and the rules of safety should be strictly followed. Knives, axes, and other instruments which can cause injury should be taken only as advised by the camp directors and then certain rules for their safe use must be observed.

It is a mistake to believe that camps are bound by too many rules. Summer camps for youngsters have only those rules which have been proved necessary for the protection of the campers. Shawinigan Power Sales Set Record

Montreal, March 13. — The Shawinigan Water and Power Company's annual report, issued yesterday by President J. A. Fuller, showed power sales during 1951 at an all-time high of $34,651,194, an increase of 18.4 per cent over 1950. Total revenues, including income from subsidiaries and other investments, were $37,489,021, an increase of 14.4 per cent.

Net earnings from all sources amounted to $1.84 per common share, compared with $1.98 the previous year. With a 13.5 per cent increase in operating expenses, earnings from power operations alone declined to 96 cents a common share from $1.08 in 1950 because of the 31.5 per cent increase in the federal income tax rate. Due to that increased rate and higher taxable income, federal income tax rose by 59.6 per cent to $3,590,000. In all, the Shawinigan company's taxes and other payments to federal, provincial and municipal governments in 1951 totalled $7,272,372, equal to $3.33 a common share. Dividends on common shares were $1.20 for the year, as previously, plus a special dividend of 25 cents for the second successive year, made possible by an extra dividend the company received from its wholly-owned subsidiary, Shawinigan Chemicals Limited.

In the report, Mr. Fuller told of record-breaking operations by Shawinigan which in terms of kilowatt-hours sold is the largest investor-owned electric utility in Canada and the eighth largest in North America. During the year, he reported, the total generating capacity of the system, the actual production, the peak load and the consumption by residential customers all reached new levels, and the manufacturing operations of Shawinigan Chemicals at Shawinigan Falls also attained a record production.

Capital expenditures by the parent company in 1951 amounted to $12,917,000, including completion of the Trenché development on the upper St. Maurice River, the transmission and terminal installations necessitated by that development, the extension of urban and rural distribution systems, the increase in the voltage of the lines from Isle Malinche to Quebec, and the establishment of a new headquarters building at Victoriaville for the division south of the St. Lawrence and east of Montreal.

In the six years 1946 to 1951, Mr. Fuller said, the Shawinigan company has made capital expenditures of $93,437,000 in its power system, compared with $155,789,000 in fixed assets at the end of the previous 48 years. The completion of the initial five units at Trenché, last year, to produce 325,000 horsepower, raised the generating capacity of the Shawinigan system to 1,562,700 horsepower—almost double the 1939 capacity—and, with purchased power, made possible a new record peak load of 1,830,563 horsepower. The total sold during the year was 7,538,421,000 kilowatt-hours, an increase of 14.8 per cent over 1950.

There were 53 new industrial plants and 10,193 other new customers connected; by the end of the year, 186,217 customers, in 590 municipalities, were receiving service. With Canada now undergoing the most rapid industrial expansion it has ever known, and with Quebec experiencing an even faster growth, the Shawinigan company is providing for additional sources of power. It has contracted for the purchase of an extra 50,000 horsepower from the Saguenay Power Co. for a period of 25 years beginning in January of 1954, and the Shawinigan Engineering Company Limited is now engaged in diverting the upper reaches of the Mégiscane and Susie Rivers, to turn their flow from James Bay to the St. Maurice system and so increase the year-round capacity of the six pre-plant on that river by 27,000 horsepower.

But, said Mr. Fuller, additional supplies of power must soon be provided for the further industrial and general development which can be foreseen over the next few years.

"Money to build new power facilities," the president emphasized, "can come from only two sources — from investors and from the company's own earnings. In the past, we have obtained about three-quarters of our capital needs from investors, and about one-quarter from the company's own resources. Today, adequate earnings are essential not only for reinvestment in the business but also to enable new money to be raised from investors."

"To attain this objective, the price charged for electricity service must be brought more in line with today's costs of other goods and services. Furthermore, in the taxation of utilities, consideration must be given to the controlled nature of the industry and its inherent need of large amounts of new capital."

In the section devoted to Shawinigan Chemicals Limited, the report showed total sales 39 per cent higher, with a 25 per cent increase within Canada, 75.9 per cent increase in the United States, and 45 per cent in other world markets. Net profit from manufacturing increased from $903,792 to $1,449,153.

Net income after inclusion of dividends from subsidiary companies and from royalties and other sources amounted to $2,856,675, as compared with $2,266,794 in 1950. Its subsidiary in the United Kingdom, Shawinigan Limited, and an associated company, Canadian Resins and Chemicals Limited at Shawinigan Falls, recorded higher profits than in 1950, but the wholly-owned subsidiary in the United States, Shawinigan Products Corporation, in New York, experienced decreased earnings because of higher taxes and reduced dividends from its associated company, Shawinigan Resins Corporation, in Springfield, Mass.

The report recorded the establishment of Chemicals' two new associated companies in the Montreal area — B. A. Shawinigan Limited, in partnership with the British American Oil Company Limited, to produce acetone and phenol in a plant being built at Montreal East, and St. Maurice Chemicals Limited, in partnership with Heyden Chemical Corporation, to manufacture formaldehyde and pentaerythritol in a plant being built at Varennes. The latter plant is being built on a 540-acre tract purchased by Shawinigan Chemicals to permit expansion and, at the same time, utilize water transport. (Since the beginning of 1952, the Chemicals company has announced plans to build a $7,000,000 carbide plant on that site.)

The Chemicals Company's own capital expenditures for the year amounted to $1,694,000, including an addition to the vinyl acetate

Army Gear Popular In Chilly Korea, Clothing Big Need

By BILL BOSS Canadian Press Staff Writer Seoul, Korea. — (CP) — Editor Oh Chong Sik of the Seoul City Press pulled his army jacket tight in his bitterly-cold office. "We don't spend much money on clothing in Seoul," he said.

But the editor and most of the city's population gambles against the chance United Nations military police will strip them of their army gear. U. N. Republic of Korea and civilian officials agree that clothing is the main relief need in Seoul now. The U. N. Civilian Assistance Command is bringing it in, but it still is scarce. Most Koreans are considered to be adequately protected against the winter cold. But a tenth of ordinary civilians and a fifth of refugees still must stay indoors on colder days. Since the population of South Korea is approximately 23,500,000 nowadays, that means more than 2,000,000 persons should have more on their backs.

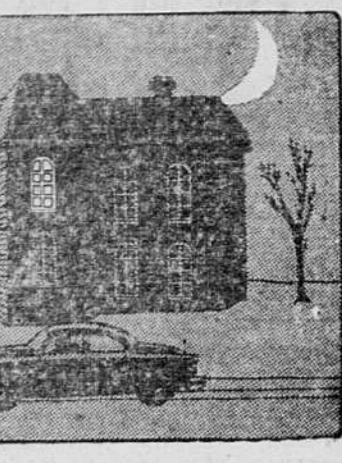

Said one C.A.C. team commander: "We're still on the relief program of donated old clothes. There still isn't enough of the right type coming in, but we're doing better than we did a year ago. "I don't think anybody is going to freeze this year, but we could do with a lot more. C.A.C. has imported a lot of cotton padding. It has been issued free and the people sew it into their clothes. They're also making bedding with the padding and cotton cloth." A welfare officer in the same province said relief bundles from North America show "more awareness of the needs of Koreans and of the things suitable to them." But he said raw materials should be sent instead of cast-off clothing. "Koreans prefer to get the raw cotton cloth, the padding, lots of thread and a needle and make their own clothing—and their own bedding, the Korean-type comforter."

Production of the Korean textile industry is channelled into uniforms for the R.O.K. army. Most of the population depends on C.A.C. handouts. But editor Oh and most of his staff wear uniforms. "Most men in Seoul have uniforms now," he said. "In Seoul we don't have to spend much money on clothing because most of us work for U. N. or are related to Koreans who do. So we get uniforms directly or our relatives get them for us. "Sometimes we buy on the black market. United States army equipment, for instance, sells on the black market at half the price of Korean clothing." There are more than 130,000 Canadians of North American Indian race, among whom are successful farmers, ranchers, lumbermen, fishermen and trappers.

Lions Form First Club At Granby

Granby, March 13. — Another club has been added to the roster of the many organizations already in existence in our city as a Lions Club has now been formed. The inaugural meeting was held at the Granby Hotel on Monday evening, February 25, 1952.

There was a good representation of members from surrounding clubs, some 28 in all these included Murray Huggan, special organizer from Toronto, and Larry Stasgreen, district deputy governor.

The club starts with a charter membership of 39 and will meet on the first and third Monday of each month at 8:15 p. m. at the Granby Hotel.

The officers are the following: Jacques Marchessault, president; Bernard Koken, secretary; Clayton Topp, treasurer; Philip de Chazal, first vice-president; R. Morrison, second vice-president; Norman Chandler, third vice-president; Dr. Robert Lambert, Lion Tamer; Edgar Brouillet, Tail Twister.

The annual meeting of the Granby Auxiliary of the Wales Home took place at the home of the president, Mrs. N. R. Mitchell, Elgin street, and was well attended and much interest shown. Two minutes' silence was observed in memory of the late King George VI, followed by a prayer by Rev. A. G. Moore, pastor of the United Church, and the singing of "God Save The Queen" with Mrs. J. G. Fuller at the piano.

The financial report showed that $267.29 had been collected in 1951 and a letter was read from Miss Shaw thanking the Granby Auxiliary for its sale of clothing, reading matter, and other articles, all very useful.

A fine tribute was paid to the late Miss Kate Gill, who for many years had been a faithful worker as a collector for the Home and an interesting account was given by Mrs. Lee Martin of the gathering in the Richmond United Church in honor of the retiring superintendent, Miss Shaw, when among many gifts she received a purse of money and two travelling bags.

The following officers were appointed for the year 1952: Honorary President, Mrs. Ellen Boyd, and Mrs. W. W. D. Brack; Honorary Vice-Presidents, Mrs. H. A. Crack and Mrs. J. G. Fuller; vice-presidents, Mrs. Verner Fowler and Mrs. L. J. Allen; president, Mrs. W. J. Halpin; treasurer, Mrs. J. Philip; secretary, Miss M. Wiggins; Bale committee, Mrs. E. Boyd, Mrs. C. Wilkinson, Mrs. M. Berry, Mrs. R. H. P. Allan; auditor, Mr. J. G. Fuller.

A motion of thanks for the retiring president for her splendid work while in office, was carried unanimously and the meeting closed with prayer by Ven. Archdeacon Lidstone. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. N. R. Mitchell and her helpers after which the meeting adjourned.

Socialist Peers Give Aristocracy Fresh Injection

By ROBERT F. S. JONES
London. — A Peer in Britain these days has to be pretty smart, or pretty lucky, if he doesn't want to end up a pauper.

Inheriting a title isn't what it used to be, what with death duties swallowing up most of the cash and land that goes with it.

That doesn't mean the Peerage is dead or dying. During six years of post-war Labor government the aristocracy of tomorrow began taking shape—the aristocracy of the trade unionist.

During the Labor regime nearly 80 Peers were created—and about three-quarters of them have heirs.

Some of these were war heroes like Earl Mountbatten, Viscount Montgomery, Viscount Alexander and Baron Tedder.

But the majority of the post-war Peers have been politicians or trade unionists, honored for services to the labor cause. Included in the list are a miner's son, a former shop assistant, a union secretary who was once a newsboy, and a teacher.

The Peerage isn't as old as the hills—in fact most titles were created in the last 50 years. There are about 850 Peers in Britain now—and 540 of them were created between 1900 and 1950.

In almost every case the new Labor Peers have followed tradition and taken out coats of arms. Coats of arms are complicated and expensive. They cost about £105 and are designed by the Royal College of Herald—set up in the days when every knight and nobleman wore his badge to identify himself on the field of battle.

They are described in archaic and traditional terms of their own and generally include some reference to the owner's name or occupation. For instance, Lord Crook—a former union secretary—has a shepherd's crook in his arms. Lord Quibell, who was once a builder, includes a trowel and a pair of dividers in his.

The seeds of a new aristocracy have been sown by the socialists

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Chapman, on Saturday evening, in honor of Mr. Stanley and Mrs. Stanley McKee, nee Ruth Mason, of Sherbrooke, who were recently married.

Mr. Gordon Swift had the misfortune to cut his foot very badly but in 100 years time there probably will be little difference between the new and the old.

The settings won't be the same, of course. More and more of the stately homes of Britain are going under the auctioneer's hammer and their former owners are moving into modest flats or city houses. Families who for centuries have been landowners are turning to commerce to get their living. Castles and granges are getting too expensive to keep up in these days of rising prices.

In the opinion of L. G. Pine, editor of Burke's Peerage and authority on British aristocracy, by the end of the century no one in Britain will hold an estate of more than 5,000 acres unless he is phenomenally rich.

A "500" card party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mason and Mrs. Belle Mason.

Mrs. Selwyn Mason has returned home, after spending fifteen days in Boston, Mass., and Attleboro, Mass.

Mr. Byron Beard and Miss G. Ralston and Miss Heather Matheson, of Montreal, were week-end visitors in town.

Mrs. Grace Mathewson, of Pointe Claire, and son, Donald, were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Beard.

Miss Sylvia and Allan Hedgecote, of Montreal, were guests at Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Howard's for the week-end.

Mrs. Sidney Chapman spent a few days in Waterloo, with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fernibough, of Dunham, were visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams.

Rev. Mr. Rollit, of Cowansville, was calling on Mrs. Gordon Rumsby and Miss Jean Wilson.

Speedy Divorces Often Possible In South Africa

Johannesburg — Divorce proceedings may be started in South Africa even faster than in Reno, Nevada, where there's a six weeks residence qualification.

One Johannesburg lawyer explained "a man need be only two days in any city in South Africa and, providing he intends to make his domicile permanent, he can immediately begin divorce proceedings."

He estimated that the shortest time for obtaining a divorce decree is less than two months after first stepping into a lawyer's office, and the costs run as low as £35. Such speedy divorces are possible only in uncontested actions, but more than 99 per cent of divorces in South Africa are unopposed.

The lawyer agreed there is often "collusion." Collusion however is difficult to prove. The most common ground for divorce here is desertion, and the desertion need not be longer than one day for proceedings to be instituted.

Whether an easy divorce is a good thing is a matter for argument, this expert pointed out. His personal opinion was that if two persons cannot get along together it is better not to force them to remain married.

Where a woman sues for divorce here, there is no provision for alimony but it may be introduced by legislation now being considered in parliament. Introduction of alimony would probably tend to increase the divorce rate since many dissatisfied women now are probably shunning divorce because of the need for financial security.

Ayer's Cliff, March 13. — The World Day of Prayer was observed in Ayer's Cliff, when the members of the Women's Auxiliary of St. George's Church joined with the ladies of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, in Beulah United Church, and the ladies of the village turned out in good number to join in this prayer service.

The president of St. George's W.A., Mrs. A. G. Clough, and the president of the W. M. S., Mrs. Boomhour, conducted the service, using the suggested program.

The ten minutes address on "What Your Money Does" was given by Mrs. F. A. Johnston, who impressively told the ladies how much their gifts help to make possible the wonderful work that branch of the church does.

The solo was sung by Mrs. H. Nelson Pierce and the C.G.I.T. Group, assisted by a few of the Senior Choir, led in the singing of the hymns used throughout the service.

Women's Institute Holds Meeting At Stanbridge East

Stanbridge East, March 13.—The annual meeting of the Stanbridge East Branch of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon, March 6, at the home of Mrs. Moody in Bedford, with an attendance of 21 members.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. G. Harvey and opened with the Salute to the Flag and the Club Women's Creed repeated in unison.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and the treasurer reported a balance of $16.11. Mrs. C. Rhiard gave the auditor's report.

Letters were read from Miss Bruno in regard to rug-course; St. Hyacinthe Hospital thanking the W.I. for books received; a letter to Citizenship Convener in regard to Junior Branches. Letters of thanks from Mrs. Husband and Mrs. M. A. Brown for Sunshine boxes received. All outstanding bills were presented and ordered paid.

The annual report was read by the secretary. The treasurer reported receipts for the year as $341.80; expenditures $366.63. Reports were given by the following conveners: Agriculture, Mrs. Mrs. Yates; Citizenship, Mrs. F. Corey; Education, Mrs. M. A. Brown; Home Economics, Mrs. C. Blinn; Publicity, Mrs. D. Blinn; Health and Welfare, Mrs. G. Tremblay. All reports were accepted as read. Mrs. Harvey gave the members a brief outline of the new plans being brought out by the Blue Cross.

Mrs. Greller asked that the loom purchased by the W.I. last year be brought to Miss Bruno at the Rug Course, that she might instruct them again in setting up the loom for weaving.

Mrs. Harvey reported that the quilt being made by the W.I. members is growing larger but there was still need for many more pieces before completion and urged that we try to finish it as soon as possible.

She asked Mrs. Rhiard and Mrs. Knight to consider writing up the Branch History. The Stanbridge East branch was organized in 1921 and has been a very active branch through the years, having accomplished many things worthy of recording.

Mrs. Harvey asked the members once more to consider fixing up the upper room in the Town Hall; that it might be used as a meeting place for the Institute and other Societies who cared to use it. Mrs. P. Corey very kindly offered the use of the United Church Hall when ever the need arose.

Mrs. Homer Yates reported on the seeds for the School gardens. A motion was passed that the full amount of money to balance membership be sent to the appeal for Watt Memorial. Mrs. C. Rhiard gave a full report of the annual Hobby Show.

As retiring president, Mrs. Harvey gave a very pleasing address—expressing her thanks to all supporting officers, conveners and committees for the faithful way in which they had discharged their duties. She stated what a pleasure it had been to serve the branch for which she had always held a very sentimental spot in her heart. She wished the incoming officers every success in the new year ahead.

OUT OUR WAY

Mrs. Harvey acted as chairman during the election of officers. The officers elected were as follows—President, Mrs. Neil Creller; first vice-president, Mrs. C. Rhiard; second vice-president, Miss Mable Westover; secretary, Mrs. Homer Yates; treasurer, Mrs. Tomkinson. Convener—Agriculture, Mrs. L. Rhiard; Citizenship, Mrs. F. Corey; Education, Mrs. G. Tremblay; Home Economics, Mrs. C. Blinn; Publicity, Mrs. D. Blinn; Health and Welfare, Mrs. Wanzler.

Mrs. Creller took the chair and thanked the members for the honor. She appointed the committees as follows: Program committee, Mrs. E. Cornell and Miss M. Westover; Refreshments, Miss Hazel O'dell and Mrs. Husband; Hobby Show, Education convener asked to appoint committee. Appointed to County Convention, Mrs. Creller, Mrs. Yates, Mrs. C. Blinn and Mrs. M. A. Brown. Delegates to Convention in June, Mrs. Creller and Mrs. Tater.

A motion was passed to subscribe to the Federated News—one copy each to Publicity convener and secretary.

The dues were raised from 50c to 65c per annum. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Moody for her hospitality.

Installation of officers was postponed to a future meeting. Mrs. M. A. Brown was asked to continue her faithful service of notifying members of meetings.

A most delicious candlelight tea was served in the dining room with Mrs. Harvey presiding.

BESSETTE'S CORNER

Mrs. Kenneth Price entertained on Saturday at a birthday party for Betty, who was celebrating her fourth birthday. There were eleven children present, besides Mrs. R. Rintoul, of this place; Mrs. H. A. Moore and Mrs. James Moore, of Sherbrooke; and Miss Marion Sarrasin, of Massawippi. The children spent much of the time outdoors, sliding. Then the gifts were opened, much to Betty's joy and a story read by Mrs. H. A. Moore was much enjoyed. A dainty lunch, of which the main feature was the decorated birthday cake, served with ice-cream, ended the festivities for another year.

Mrs. J. V. Knutson and Norman spent a week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Reed and Guy, in Asbestos.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Swallow and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Kezar and Meredith, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Johnston, of Minton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kezar.
