TRUE TIME.
AMERICAN WATCHES.

THESE superior Watches are made by the aid of new and original machinery, expressly designed to secure with a low price, a FINE SUBSTANTIAL and UNIFORMLY RELIABLE time-keeper. The movements are new in construction, and have been pronounced by the highest authorities to be faultless in principle and quality, and have been proved by the most exacting tests to be unfailing in action. These watches are made entire from the crude materials, in a processes—the factory being [illegible] and uniform the same system that has been adopted in the production of the unequalled American fire-arms,—which enables us to produce a movement at one-half the price of a foreign movement of the same quality. Each watch is carefully tested, and is accompanied with the maker's certificate and warranty for TEN years.
ALL FOREIGN WATCHES ARE MADE BY HAND, the American watches being the only ones made by machinery upon a uniform system throughout. Nearly all hand-made watches are defective, and are continually getting out o order. In many parts of the country it is impossible to find good watch repairers, and watch repairing is always uncertain and expensive. The introduction of American watches disposes of this difficulty, and country merchants, as well as watch dealers, can keep watches as a part of their miscellaneous stock, and thus supply their customers with a NEW STAPLE, which may be used as any other article, without mystery or humbug. Sold by the trade generally.

The greatest variety of warranted perfumery English and French; also, EMERSON'S ELASTIC RAZOR STRAPS, Hair, Tooth, Nail, Shaving, Cloth and Hat Brushes, Combs, Dressing Cases, Colognes, Extracts, Pomatum's, Fancy Soaps, Rodger's razors, and every article for the Toilet of the finest description at the CHEAPEST PRICES.
DEPARTMENT FOR LADIES.—J. P. would draw the special attention of the Ladies, and say that it will be under the superintendence of a well qualified young woman, who will be capable of Shampooing and dressing hair in any fashion or form desired. J. P. invites the attention of ladies to this provision for their comfort and refreshment, with the full persuasion that nothing in this city can be found superior in merit.

PERFECTLY SAFE LIGHT!!!

IS procured from the COAL OIL Manufactured by the Columbian Oil Company.— These facts are admitted by those who have tried it.
Vaneleek Hill, July 20th, 1858.
M. W. R. HIBBARD,
Dear Sir,— Having now fairly tested the Columbian Oil for myself, I can fully endorse your statements concerning it and with you, pronounce the Light which it produces far superior to that obtained from any material I have ever used. The saving of Expense, compared with other Oils is immense, and you may confidently recommend both the OIL and LAMPS, for lighting either Dwellings or Stores, as they speak for themselves.
Yours truly,
Signed, JAMES P. WELLS.

SYSTEM IN TRADE.

SOMETIMES parties thinking of purchasing five or ten pounds worth of Dress Goods, will feel undecided as to which Store they will purchase at, especially if they have only lately arrived in the City. In such cases they frequently take up one of the city papers and glance through the Advertisements. From the over complimentary style of one, and the pitiful soliciting tone of another, they will at once say—"Gentlemen you won't do—there is neither system nor confidence about you." They pass on till they meet with some matter of fact, —broad and independant announcement. The inducement is favorably received, the bell rings, the carriage is ordered to the door in twenty minutes, and within one hour, the whole performance is gone through. Magnificent display of Merchandize; splendid acting of the accomplished Salesman; polite attention of the Storekeeper towards the closing scene, and the honest approbation of the man's conscience who sells, with a few pleasing looks from the Proprietor, the sale is made and the interesting performance is brought to a close.
Is it not remarkable, for instance, the stand which the NEW MART has made in this city. Its success has been mainly owing to system. Their advertisements are clear, demonstrative and business-like, and such as would induce any sensible customer to call. They not only announce but strictly adhere to the "one price system."
In a city with a population of nearly Eighty Thousand, not one person can come forward to say they have ever in one instance deviated from this rule. The manager pledged himself to this system and has kept his word to the letter. [illegible] Novelties of the Season at the lowest remunerative profit, will do well to visit the New Mart, St. Lawrence Main Street.
The Gentlemen's Department, which they opened lately, has given general satisfaction in this city.

A Pleasing Appearance is the first Letter of Recommendation

GODFRY'S
Extract of Elder Flowers,
FOR SOFTENING THE SKIN AND IMPROVING THE COMPLEXION.
EUGENE DUPUY, 609 Broadway, N. Y., Sole agent for the United States.
[illegible] to the most valuble and efficient Remedy that yet been introduced in the practice of Medicine, for the purpose of of removing every unsightly appearance from the Skin, and preserving to it to the latest period of life nearly all the firmness and freshness of youth. Extensive experience and minute observation have long satisfied the Proprietor that it [illegible] it will speedily remove any unsightly appearance, such as Tan, Sun-Burns, Freckles, &c., and quickly cure all Pimples, Humors and Eruptions which may disfigure the countenance and will also impart to the Skin the most delightful Softness and delicate clearness; in short, to preserve a pleasing complexion through life, nothing is required but the use of GODFREY'S EXTRACT OF ELDER FLOWERS,
The sweetest and really the most perfect
BEAUTIFIER IN NATURE.
This admirable preparation of Elder Flowers is very fragrant as a perfume. Elder Flowers have from the earlist ages been esteemed as a mild and harmless, yet most perfect beautifier of the skin. Tan, Sun-Burns, Freckles, Redness, &c., it will speedily and completely remove.
CHILDREN.—It is singularly beneficial and perfectly inoxous even to the youngest infant.
SHAVING.—It is valuable beyond anything, annihilating every pimple, and all roughness, rendering the skin soft and firm, preparing it so completely for the razor.
FAMILY LOTION.—Godfrey's Extract of Elder Flowers will be found beyond all praise, and needs only a trial to be approved.

COMETARY.

(From the New York Evening Post)

Mysterious stranger, startling each star-gazer!
Oh, most ex-orb-itant celestial blazer!
Tell me, I pray, of your siderial status:
Belong you to the posse comet-atus
Of heavenly spheres, enrolled to keep the peace—
["Argo," a member of the Golden Fleece?]
But stars no longer serve in the police,
So this can't be. I think I've found you out:
You've been tale bearing 'mid the stars, no doubt,
Or, much the same, perchance in Leslie's pay,
You've been illumining the Milky Way;
And, like poor Frank, you prying stumptail sinner,
Taurus has had you turned away from dinner.
Have you made Jupiter of Juno jealous?
Earth wants enlightening, so in Latin tellus,
Quod fit cometa nemo sibi sorte.
Contentus est? Evenit saepe forte.
A paralax of rupees for an answer,
By Germini explain it if you Cancer!
Have you been serenading female stars,
To the intense disgust of pa's and Mars,
Who think your sparking round a base intrusion,
Your kisses but eliptical delusion?
It may be you've eclipsed that thievish hero,
And some cold night sent Mercury towards Zero.
Or, did you wink at Venus and enrage her—
At least you're pointed at by Ursa Major.
Don't hope to parse me with your declination,
I'm bent intensely on an explanation.
You cannot hide, as through the heavens you sail;
That you're a star, and thereby hangs a tale.
I've Saturn hour waiting for your story,
Though non-Comet-al be ex-planet-ory.
I fear you've risen above your proper station,
By mean attraction gained your elevation,
For some specific cause assumed your gravity;
I see both through yourself and your depravity.
Why thus persist in such eccentric courses?
Are they internal or external forces
That guide your actions as through space you roll?
Do you revolve on a magnetic pole
Like this same world of ours? I hope I axis
A proper question, for belief it taxes
To think you wander in this course erratic
Without plane reason. Are you systematic
In what you do? There now, you're out of sight
Without so much as bidding me good night.
That's very rude, but yet I gather from it,
You mean to tell me that I cannot comet.

ELECTION FOR RICHELIEU.—Mr. Guevremont was returned for this Division by a majority of thirteen hundred.

ARRIVAL OF THE NOVA SCOTIAN.—This fine ship came into port yesterday.

Insurance.—We are happy to learn that the English Insurance Companies hsve resolved to [illegible] on real property by 20 per cent. This will be some return for the cost of the Water Works, for which the city has incurred so great charges.

UPPER CANADA ELECTIONS—CONTINUED TRIUMPHS OF THE OPPOSITION.—We yesterday announced the resignation of Mr. Romain, and the consequent election of Mr. Allan in the York Division. This result, considering all the circumstances, can only be looked upon as a personal success of the latter over the former gentleman—both having belonged to the old "compact" party; both having expressly condemned the Cartier-Macdonald Cabinet; and both engaging the support of leading and influential Oppositionists. Even the Atlas can only claim Mr. Allan as an "Independent Conservative," who, "will not vote to favour either the ins or the outs, but to carrry good measures."

In the Tecumseth Division, on the other hand, the contest was of a different character, the ministerial candidate being Mr. Mercer Jones, and the Opposition candidate Mr. Macdonald. The Division consists of the county of Perth—whose present representative, Mr. Daly, has proved himself a thick-and-thin J. A. Macdonald man—and of Huron, Mr. Cayley's old constituency. Mr. Macdonald, we learn by telegram yesterday, has, nevertheless, been returned by a majority of three hundred votes. Then, in Haldimand, notwithstanding the combined exertions of the ministry and of their singularly inconsistent—and consistently singular—latest convert, the "celebrated" William Lyon Mackenzie—the late member for the county—Mr. Harcourt, the Opposition candidate, has beaten his opponent, Mr. Amsden, by a majority of 62—the numbers at the close of the poll being, Amsden 1127, Harcourt 1189. In the Gore Division, likewise, we find even the Hamilton Spectator admitting that, at the nomination, on Monday last, the show of hands was three to one in favour of Mr. Cowan, the Opposition candidate—notwithstanding that Mr. Alexander, like Mr. Allan, at Toronto, was almost as strong in his denunciation of the shufflers as his opponent; and in fact excused himself for not voting for Mr. McDougal in Oxford, on the ground of delicacy, lest he might be supposed to be trying to make political capital by so doing. The truth is, that no man has the slightest chance with any Upper Canada constituency, who does not condemn, as Mr. Allan and Mr. Alexander emphatically do, the conduct of the Macdonald-Cartier ministry.

CORPORATION AFFAIRS.—On Wednesday evening the city accounts for 1859, as audited by Messrs. Lyman and Galarneau, were submitted to the Council; and they are to be published in more or less of detail for the information of the public. But mere debtor and creditor accounts until analyzed, afford little information on the true state of affairs they record, and that little may often be delusive. We have, therefore, put the city accounts through the crucible so as to bring out their nett result in a shape comprehensible to all. Separate accounts are kept of the city affairs proper, and those of the Water Works as distinguished from the city; and we begin with the latter. The total debt due for the Water Works department, then, represented by outstanding debentures or other debts amounts to £565,798, of which there should be imputed to the new Water Works £364,892, the balance of £200,815 being made up of sums due to the Department of an unexpended amount of debentures; but chiefly for the purchase of the old Works, the making of the Cotè a Barron Reservoir and other additions, before the new works were begun, or for the purchase and laying of pipes and other materials, the cost of which is due to extension, and must have been incurred if the same accommodation to consumers had been given by the old system, supposing it possible that the old system had been competent to afford the accommodation at all. Besides the capacity for granting an indefinite extension of accommodation, we may add in this place that the cost of working our present gigantic hydraulic machinery is about £2000 per annum less than that of working the ancient petty steam power; the amount mentioned having been actually saved in coals in the last twelve months. The interest, without the sinking fund, on the Water Works debt, leaving out of account small sums on the other side, from which interest accrues, is in round numbers, £40,000 per annum. The total nett receipts from the Water Works for the same period—that is to say the water rate, after deducting all charges ex cept interest—is £6404. The balance is £33,956; but as there are £665,500 of debentures still on hand, the interest on them has to be deducted, which leaves us to pay some £30,000 per annum out of the assessments other than the water rate, besides the sinking fund. The rate comes to about £10,000, so that the cost is more than three times the present assessment. But against this we set the use of the water in extinguishing fires, laying the dust and other public purposes.

The entire city debt, cleared from the Water debt, is £341,940. Real property, such as the markets, estimated at £100,000, appears against this as an asset. But we only mention the fact here, as it does not affect directly our pecuniary liability, though it may our solvency. There are debts due to the Corporation reducing this liability by £196,358, of which the Grand Trunk debt stands in the account for £125,000, but is now only £100,000, in conseq uence of a payment of £25,000, since the balance was struck. The true debt of the city, therefore, in addition to the special debt for the Water Works, is £145,592. Of the credits standing against the debt, however, a proportion bear no interest, so that though the balance of liability as compared to active assets, is but £145,592 as stated above, interest accrues on something like £160,000, or to the amount of £9600 per annum.

We have stated the interest on the Water Works debt, in excess of the yearly nett receipts at £30,000; this, with £9600 added for the interest on the city debt proper, makes up a total annual charge for interest of £39,600.

If we now turn to the Revenue we find that it was last year, from all sources, £64,000, and the ordinary charges, throwing interest out, were £48,170, leaving a balance of only some £15,000 or £16,000 to meet the demands arising on the public debt, so that we are adding about £24,000 per annum to our actual indebtedness. The sinking fund last year came to £4,000, which must also be met; but we do not include that in the figures just given, because we regard the capital debt as funded, or capable of being funded,and thus perpetually renewble.

This may seem a somewhat bad exhibit, and it should prompt to caution in incurring fresh liabilities even for useful improvements, unless they are likely to yield an immediate return, but we suspect few corporations can upon the whole show so satisfactory a financial statement. The whole difficulty arises out of the construction of the Water Works, but for which our civic revenue would be in excess of the demands upon it. But no rational man will lament the determination to construct these works in such a manner as to secure us against the necessity of renewing them hereafter. They will constantly add large sums to the city revenue and will next year afford an increase of at least 50 per cent. over the profits of last year. The rapidly increasing value of property in the city also affords every reason to hope that by reasonably good management the two sides of the account may shortly again balance, or any rate that any increase to the public burdens required to meet the public debt will be but temporary.

THE LATE INVITATION.—In allusion to the "Norris Invitation," the London Spectator says, the informality in the mode of transmitting the petition by a private hand, instead of sending it through the Governor and the Colonial Office, is said not to have formed the adverse reason; which is not distinctly stated. It is conjectured to be, that the Queen does not consider the young Prince yet in a position to accept such an invitation. The Prince of Wales is still under age, while much responsibility rests upon those that have the care of [illegible] and Prince Alfred has but recently joined his ship as a naval cadet, and has to report himself, with due discipline, on the expiry of his short two months' leave of absence. Our London contemporary adds that, unless the unwel[illegible] is much more genial than any version which has come out, the mere refusal, however courteous, without the intimation of compliance at a later day, will certainly excite disappointment. In connection with this matter, the ministerial press in Toronto have lately published—and commented upon, with a good deal of the vulgar spirit of the "silver-fork school" of literary genteelity—certain letters of Mr. Norris to the Mayor of Toronto, on the subject of his mission, which, if genuine would, it must be admitted, indicate more originality of thought and conception, than advantages of education in the writer—they are, in short, as to matter, sensible and business-like enough, but a little deficient in their orthography. The Globe, we are glad to see, severely rebukes the paltry and ungentlemanly spirit, displayed by the Mayor of Toronto, in handing over these evidently private letters—which could not have been intended for publication—to the tender mercies of his political friends, the very small critics of the Leader, Colonist and Atlas. The subject we find also well treated by a correspondent of the Globe, who signs himself "E. Migent, Ontario Hall"—he says:—

The Leader, it would seem, never heard of Arkwright, Watt, Fulton, George Stephenson, the Duke of Wellington, and many others whom I could name, who were guilty of the horrible crime of writing ungrammatically, and yet conferred upon mankind the greatest possible blessings. The doctrine which your cotemporary holds seems to be this, that no Canadian should do what Mr. Norris has done, but some one who has been in the habit of basking in vice-regal sunshine, and quaffing champagne at His Excellency's table, or, else who has not served as a governmental flunkey, or picked the crumbs off the table of some state-officer or another. In short that no one should attempt anything unless what he has been accustomed to do—a doctrine summed up by Æsop in the trite apothegm "a cobbler should stick to his last." If this be the doctrine of the Leader I beg respectfully to express my most unqualified dissent. I am not unaware that this doctrine obtained to some extent among the ancient Greeks, and now prevails almost universally among the Hindoos, but question very much whether it is at all suited to the Canadians of the nineteenth century.

I may be permitted to state that Mr. Norris is entirely unknown to me; indeed I am not aware that I ever saw him; but am ever ready to honour him to whom honour is due; and I feel certain that the people of this Province generally will testify their respect for him, by cordially seconding the efforts he is making—efforts which have already redounded very much to the credit of Canada, and which, if successful in inducing Her Majesty to visit the Province cannot fail to be productive of the most permanent benefits.

PERSONAL—VOLUNTEER FORCE AND PORTLAND.—The reception of the Volunteer Force at Portland, as our readers are aware, was of the most cordial character. The hospitality extended to our citizen troops was on an extensive scale, and the rivalry seemed to be as to who could exhibit the largest share. Amongst others, J. E. Millar, Esq., for some years a resident of our city, and during the last five years, the popular agent of the Grand Trunk in Portland, exercised an almost princely hospitality, sparing neither attention nor expense to make all feel at home. The occasion of a temporary visit to Montreal, was not to be lost sight of, and accordingly the Force was determined to show its sense of the kindness received by inviting Mr. Millar to dinner. The event came off on Monday evening last, at our friend Dolly's who on the occasion put forth his best efforts to give éclat to the interesting reunion. Col. Dyde acted as President and Lieut. Col. Wily as Vice-President. Covers were laid for about fifty; amongst them we observed Majors Evans and Smith, Captains Hill. McPherson, DesRiviere, McCalmont, &c., &c. After the usual loyal toasts, Col. Dyde gave the toast of the evening, "Our Guest, J. S. Millar," in his usual happy style, the gallant Vice-President supporting it. We need hardly say it was received with all the honours. Mr. Millar replied as became him, taking no credit to himself, and expressing his hepe that at some future time the opportunity would be given to him again. Several songs were sung; and after a pleasant evening, the company retired before twelve, "Sorry to part and happy to meet again." The wines, supplied by mine host, were all that a delicate conroisseur could desire.

THE "NOVA SCOTIAN"—It will be seen by the following account, what a tussle this splendid Steamship had, on her recent outward trip, with "Rude Boreas," and how nobly she encountered and routed the old "Blustering Railer."

On the authority of her log, the Quebec Chronicle says:—

"On the first five days she met constant strong westerly gales, with cloudy weather, heavy head sea, and thick rains. On the morning of the 27th Sept. she met very heavy head sea. At 12. 20 a. m, shipped a tremendous sea over the starboard bow, which stove in the deck house forward, breaking one of the stanchions; carried away skids of forward lifeboat; burst in saloon doors, and flooded passengers' cabins; carried away main gangway, and did sundry other damage; much water getting below into stoke-holes, &c.; ship making no water otherwise. On the 28th, strong gales, with hard squalls and heavy head sea; thick and rainy weather; 10 p.m. shipped a very heavy sea forward of starboard main rigging, which knocked the launch out of her chocks; stove in doors and windows of the two mess rooms and stoke-hole, and split top-gallant rail; sent down top-gallant masts and yards. On the 29th, fresh gales and heavy head sea; ship pitching heavily; started three head knees, and split head boards; dull cloudy weather. On the 30th, fresh head winds and heavy head sea, with dark cloudy weather."

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.

To the Editor of the MONTREAL HERALD.

SIR,—We the undersigned, having sent the following protest to the Committee of the Industrial Department of the late Exhibition, held in this city, and on enquiry finding that nothing further will be done in the matter by the said Committee, we beg leave through the columns of your paper to have it brought before the public, and also at the same time challenge the parties who received the first prizes to another trial of instruments, as mentioned in the last paragraph of protest. The Mechanics' Hall would be an appropriate place for the trial, and Monday next, the 11th instant, we would name as the day, but shall not object to another day or place, if more agreeable.

Yours respectfully.

To the Committee of the Industrial Department of the Exhibition, held in Montreal, for the year 1858.

GENTLEMEN;—The undersigned, Piano-forte makers and exhibitors at this Exhibition, would respectfully beg leave to protest against the award of prizes made this year with regard to Pianos; for the following reasons, viz.:—

That although four Judges were appointed, only two of them pretend to any knowledge of music or musical instruments, whereas last year all four Judges were conversant with these matters, two of them particularly being men second to none in this city for professionl and practical skill with regard to Pianos.

That neither of the two gentlemen who were judges this year, and whom we have alluded to above as being conversant with musical matters,—although no doubt very good musical amateurs, have the professional knowledge or skill, or are so completely conversant with the mechanism of a Piano-forte, as to entitle them to stand in the position of the only men who were competent, in this city, to decide on the merits of the article connected with this branch of our manufactures.

That the Pianos now on exhibition were not properly tried, in our opinion, so as to enable the judges to decide according to their merits, as it requires a very powerful and expert player to bring out the full uower and tone of some of the instruments exhibited.

Although we object to the jury as constituted, we do not in the slightest degree insinuate that any partiality has been shown; but we wish simply to say that the gentlemen chosen for Judges should all have had a thorough knowledge of the instruments.

In conclusion, we would say we wish to have another trial of the instruments exhibited, before say five or seven of the best judges in the city, whose decision of course would remove all doubts and place all parties in the real position they should occupy.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH

CRIMINAL TERM.

Presiding—CHIEF JUSTICE LAFONTAINE and JUSTICE AYLWIN.

(Reported for the Montreal Herald.)

THURSDAY, October 7th.

The Court opened this morning at ten o'clock precisely.

STEALING FROM THE CUSTODY OF THE CUSTOM AUTHORITIES.

A jury was sworn in the case of a man, named Hilaire Ramillard, who stood charged with the above offence.

Mr. Monk, Q.C., stated the case on the part of the prosecution.

Mr. F. Cassidy appeared for the defence.

The facts of the case are briefly these. On the 11th May last, the prisoner, who was in the habit of importing vehicles from the United States, smuggled a waggon at the village of Lacolle, St. John's. The fraud was soon discovered, and the waggon seized and placed for safety in the keeping of a man named Weldon, who locked it up in an outhouse. On the morning of the 3rd June, the waggon was discovered to have been stolen. About the 10th of July ensuing, the prisoner brought the same waggon to a Custom House officer named Gordon, in order that it might be entered as if just then imported from the States, and the duty to be there paid. It was discovered, however, that this waggon was the one which the prisoner had previously smuggled; and though he had stolen it from where it had been locked up, and painted it anew as well as changed some of the fixtures, it was at once recognized, and the prisoner was then taken into custody and the waggon again seized.

The prosecution having closed, Mr. Cassidy addressed the jury for the defence, and called up two witnesses in rebuttal; but their evidence was scarcely sufficient to contradict what had already been adduced on the part of the prosecution.

Judge Aylwin then charged the Jury, who retired, and, after an absence of five hours, returned into Court with a verdict of "Not Guilty."

ARSON.

A jury was sworn in the case of a man, named Augustin Roussel, charged with the crime of arson.

Mr. Monk appeared to prosecute on the part of the Crown.

Messrs. Morin and Ramsay were concerned for the defence.

Mr. Monk stated the case as it afterwards appeared in evidence. The crime against the prisoner was for burning a barn situated at the head of Papineau Road. The barn contained some hay, straw, sleighs, etc., cattle, fowl, and quantity of agricultural implements. A cow and three heifers, and four pigs comprised all that was saved from the barn. The barn, which was an old one was worth from between twenty-five to thirty pounds. The property belonged to Mr. Francois Perrin; the prisoner resided in the village of St. Louis not far distant from where the barn was situated. On the 27th April last, Mr. Perrin had occasion to proceed to the village of St. Louis; here he was badly treated by a number of persons, amongst whom was the prisoner. For this conduct the party were arrested and brought before Mr. Coursol, the police magistrate; but having given good security for their subsequent appearance to answer the charge, they were allowed to proceed home again. All passed off well till the night of the 29th April. The family of Mr. Perrin had retired to bed; but, about midnight they were aroused by an alarm of fire. Mr. Perrin rose up and proceeded in the direction of the barn. Here he saw the prisoner leaning on a truck, looking at the fire. From the conduct and conversation of the prisoner Mr. Perrin believed it was he who set fire to the barn. The barn was about twenty feet from the dwelling house. It was all destroyed. Before it was burned down and the stock destroyed, the prosecutor engaged the prisoner to carry water from a neighbouring well to throw upon the flames, but it was remarked by several who were present that he always dashed the water in another direction than that of the fire. When the barn had been burned down the carcase of a sow was pointed out by the prisoner, who asked the prosecutor if he would part with it or any of the entrails.—The reply being in the negative, the prisoner grew angry, and said something to the effect that he had fired the barn or that it had been fired—but which phrase the prosecutor could not now remember. Altogether, from his presence at the barn, what had happened previously, his manner and conversation, there was no doubt in the mind of the prosecutor that it was the prisoner who fired the barn.

[The case had not finished when the Court rose.]

The sale of new Furniture, Parlor and Bed-Room sets, takes place this morning at eleven o'clock, at Guy's new store, next to the Ottawa Hotel, Great St. James Street. Messrs. John Leeming & Co., request particular attention to this collection. On inspection it will prove all that it is represented. See advertisement.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

SPECIAL MEETING.

(Reported for the Montreal Herald.)

WEDNESDAY, October 7.

The Council met at eight o'clock this evening. There were

PRESENT:

His Worship the Mayor; Aldermen Homier, Leclaire, Corse, Bulmer, Marchand, Valois, MacCambridge. Councillors Thompson, Smith, Bernard, Jodoin, Gorrie, Cusson, Auclaire, Grenier, Rottot, Simard, Mullins, Rodden, Penn.

PETITIONS.

From Messrs. Hogan and Penn, praying for an indemnity of £5, for glass broken, in the month of August last, in the St. Lawrence Hotel, by a mob assembled in favour of Messrs, Beaudry and Dorion before the Committee Rooms opposite the building in question.

From John Penner, complaining of damage done by the Water Works.

REPORTS.

In the matter of the portrait of the Hon. Chas. Wilson, painted by Signor de Feo, at the instance of the Council, and for which, having been maliciously destroyed, he prayed for compensation, the Finance Committee suggested that the Council instead of referring the matter to them should first decide upon the merits of the petition, and this being done the Finance Committee would be in a position to say if they could afford the sum the Council might resolve upon.

The Water Committee handed in a report on the subject of water taps in which they recommended that the only taps which ought to be discontinued is the one in Dalhousie Square, and the other in St. Mary street, near Fulham street, and that the remaining six be allowed to remain till further orders.

From the same—The Water Committee, in reporting on a petition sent in by some of the residents of Little St. Antoine street, praying that the might be exempted from water rates because they were unable to introduce water pipes into their premises on account of the water in their cellars, recommended, after an enquiry into the facts, that the petitioners should not be exempted from paying water rates.

From the same committee recommending an appropriation of £300 for procuring a small engine to thaw hydrants, water pipes, etc.

From the same, recommending an appropriation of £226 13s. 4d. to fill up an excavation on the property of the Hon. John Young.

CITY FINANCES.

The Mayor read the following communication signed by Messrs. Galerneau and Lyman, the City Auditors:—

"We have examined the books of the City Treasurer, E. Demers, Esq., and beg to report that we find the accounts faithfully kept, and in perfect accordance, for the year, ending the 31st January last; and also beg to express our entire satisfaction with the systematic and correct manner in which the accounts are kept"—The Mayor then went on to say:—Gentlemen, I am now about to lay before you the state of our finances. It will be for you to pronounce your opinion upon the expenses of the city as here presented; and to say if you are content that the city shall pay the interest upon the enormous sum due by the Corporation of Montreal; and to say also whether you will provide certain amounts to defray the expenses which may occur in improvements you may make hereafter. The Corporation debt, gentlemen, amounts to £341,940 11s. 1d. You must recollect, however, that £25,000 have been deducted from this by the Grand Trunk meeting their engagements. Then, again, the debt, upon the Water Works amounts to £565,797 9s. 8d. The total sum then, owed by the city, deducting the £25,000 I have already alluded to, is £782,738 0s. 9d. You have now the entire statement before you. Before I sit down, however, I must bear testimony to the accuracy with which the city accounts have been kept—accuracy which deserves the thanks of the Council.

Alderman Bulmer remarked that the £25,000 had been paid since January last by the Grand Trunk; the remainder was not yet due, but, no doubt, it would be paid as soon as it matured. In respect to the Water Works, it would be well to bear in mind that, though the expense they created was somewhat heavy, yet they were worth nearly their original cost; their effectiveness was now fully recognized, and he had been told that day, by a gentleman connected with one of the most influential of our local insurance offices, that, from the 1st November ensuing, it was the intention of all the offices to reduce the rates of insurance twenty per cent. [Hear, hear.]

The financial statement meeting with no opposition, was then laid upon the table, having been adopted as if by general consent.

The following reports were submitted to the Council, and were passed:—

From the Road and Finance Committees—To lower the drain at Beaver Hall Terrace, on condition the Proprietors advance the cost, for five years without interest.

From the same—For the construction of Brick Sewers in Dorchester and Sherbrooke Streets, upon the cost thereof being advanced for five years, without interest.

From the same—For £592 10s., to construct shafts and grates

From the same—For £12 10s., to pay for widening German Street.

From the same—For £5 to regulate the line of St. Mary Street.

From the same—To form and grade Canning and Bonaventure streets, provided the petitioners contribute $200 towards the expense.

From the Police and Finance Committees—To pay H. Beliveau and others £22 3s. for damages to their premises by a riotous mob.

From the Water and Finance Committees—For an appropriation of $85,193.31 to the Water Works Department, for laying pipes and the other works to be done next season, as per schedules.

From the Water Committee—To be authorized to sell a lot of land and premises on St. Paul street, and also a quantity of old iron thereon.

From the same—To be authorized to sell a piece of ground (59 acres) on the line of the Aqueduct.

IMPROVEMENT OF ST. FRANCOIS XAVIER STREET.

Councillor Bernard begged leave to ask what was the reason why the Council had as yet taken no steps to carry into execution the motion they passed last night for the improvement of this street.

Councillor Thompson replied that difficulties had been thrown in the way by the incompleteness of the petition of some of the residents in this street, but that it was now almost remedied, and to-morrow the Attorney of the Corporation would notice the persons now repairing the building there, immediately to desist.

MOTIONS.

From Councillor Rodden—For the appointment of Committees, with a view to the construction of an embankment from the Victoria Bridge, to prevent inundations; and for plans to provide for the waters of the River St. Pierre and "the Tail Race."

From the same—To authorize the Committees to secure from being built upon or otherwise disposed of, the land necessary for the continuation of "the Tail-Race" from the River St. Pierre, to some suitable place below the Victoria Bridge.

Councillor Rodden said there was no necessity for entering into a lengthened explanation of this motion. It was well known that a tail-race was necessary—it was known that water courses and drains were needed to carry superfluous water to the end of the city; and if this were done the city would be greatly improved in health as well as in general appearance. The committee he called for would find it necessary, no doubt, to propose the paving of Grand Trunk street; the Seminary allowed the Council to neglect this improvement last winter, but if not paved soon, a prosecution would be the result. The Council had a great deal of property in Grand Trunk Street; property which it was a pity to permit to remain lying idle or unimproved. During the approaching winter the employees of the Corporation might be directed to examine the localities in the vicinity to which he alluded, and then confer with the Grand Trunk, Harbour Commissioners and Government, so that permanent improvements might be effected—an improvement in which the efforts of the Council might not be lost sight of. In regard to embanking the St. Pierre, he was led to believe that, if the Council went to work immediately, the work might be done without the Council paying a fraction.

The motion was seconded by Alderman Macambridge.

Alderman Marchand said he thought the motion was premature.

Councillor Gorrie said the motion might be well looked over for the present. An embankment was now being constructed by the river St. Pierre; and it was only fair that embankment should receive a trial. Besides, this embankment was, properly speaking, a matter for the Grand Trunk Company.

Councillor Rodden said if the Grand Trunk took the matter of the embankment into their hands, they would direct the tail-race over which the Council alone should have control.

The motion was here put.

Ayes—Alderman Bulmer, Valois, Macambridge; Councillors Leprohon, Mullins, Rodden, Penn.

Nays—Aldermen Corse, Marchand, Homeir, Leclaire; Councillors Thompson, Smith, Bernard, Jodoin, Gorrie, Cusson, Auclaire, Grenier, Rottot, Simard.

CITY SURVEYORSHIP.

Alderman Valois rose to move that Mr. P. McQuesten be appointed City Surveyor, at a salary of £400 per annum.

Councillor Thompson begged to move, in amendment, that Mr. T. Guerin be appointed City Surveyor. Councillor Thompson went on to support his amendment, by stating that though he offered a counter proposition to the one put forward by Alderman Valois, he had, at the same time, no intention to cast the slightest reflection upon the professional capabilities of Mr. McQuesten. But, on the other hand, he considered that the gentleman he proposed, would be more suited to the situation; and any one that knew him (Councillor Thompson,) would at once come to the conclusion that he would never vote for a public candidate upon personal grounds—that the only reason why he would support a candidate, would be solely on account of his professional qualifications. Councillor Thompson proceeded to read to the Council testimonials as to the abilities of Mr. Guerin, and received from Sir Wm. Logan, Mr. Ross, architect of the Victoria Bridge, Mr. Ostell, etc.

Alderman Homier proposed as an amendment to the amendment, that the question of the appointment of a city surveyor be postponed till the month of March next.

The latter amendment was then put to the vote. There were twelve for and the same number against.

The Mayor was then called upon to decide the "tie," and he complied by giving his vote in favor of the amendment, stating that it was his opinion that the finances of the city would not, at present, permit of any appointment like the one sought to be established.

CHARGES AGAINST AN OVERSEER IN THE EMPLOYMENT OF THE ROAD COMMITTEE.

Alderman Clarke rose to propose a motion for an inquiry into charges made against an overseer in the employment of this Committee. The name of the individual was Longtot, and he had, so far as Alderman Clarke could discover, discharged his duties very reprehensibly. He had assumed positions and authority which had never been assumed by a regular city surveyor. Without the consent of the Council he had wasted large sums for cab-hire; he had injured the property of Alderman Clarke to the extent of £50; he has acted in a manner utterly incompatible with his position, and had been guilty of actions which ought to have caused his discharge; yet, in spite of everything, the Chairman of the Road Committee, Alderman Valois, had, instead of discontinuing his services, endeavoured to procure for this employee an increase of salary. Alderman Clarke went on—Mr. Mayor, I think this will be my last year in this Council [illegible] I leave, I would like to let the public know something about the internal management of the Road Committee. The Chairman wishes to engross, in himself, all the duties of the Road Department; and not to the city's benefit. If the Chairman were like any other man, he would have resigned this trust long ago, and at a time too when he himself knew it was best for him to resign. I think, as this is the last year I shall be in the Council, it will be the last year he shall be chairman of the Road Committee. The citizens ought to be aware of his conduct; for the business of the Road Committee deserves a better head. A short time since, we were denied a city surveyor—but when this inquiry is made you will see the necessity there exists for an energetic, a permanent and effective city surveyor. I only ask the members to have this matter investigated, and the public will see how this department is conducted.

Councillor Cusson—Go and smoke a pipe.

Alderman Valois rose and denied that he had acted remissly as chairman of the Road Committee. He hoped the good sense of the Council, if an enquiry were made, would decide whether the statements of Alderman Clarke were well founded. As regarded the expenses of cab hire, Alderman Clarke did not object to such an item in the case of the late City Surveyor, Mr. Doyle.

Alderman Clarke rose to reply, but was ruled out of order.

Alderman Marchand moved, in amendment to the proposition of Alderman Clarke, that the following be appointed a Committee of inquiry: —Alderman Bulmer, Councillors Rodden, Rottot, Leprohon, Grenier.

The amendment passed.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Councillor Bdrnard gave notice that he would move, at next meeting of Council, for the appointment of a special Committee to enquire into the practicability, and if practicable, the conditions, ways and means, for obtaining possession of all the property between St. Francois Xavier Street and the French Square, with a view to the ultimate enlargement of the Place d'Armes.

The Council adjourned at midnight.

COMMERCIAL ETHICS.

(From the London Times' City Article, Sept. 20.)

Within the past fortnight details have been given of various failures in London and Liverpool. They were mostly connected with the Honduras timber trade, and have more or less presented the old features observed in the majority of cases during the panic of last year. The first on the list was that of Messrs. Hyde, Hodge, and Co., of London, for £160,000. Then came Messrs. Carmichael, of Liverpool, for £325,000; then Messrs. A. Montgomery and [illegible] friends of Messrs. Hyde, Hodge, and Co., endeavoured to represent that the firm had abundance of assets, and had been permanently stopped merely by publicity having been given to the fact of their having been unable to meet certain engagements on a particular day. Messrs. Carmichael, it was alleged, were of such undoubted solvency that they would get assistance even from the Bank of England. It seemed strange that with the rate of money at 2½ per cent any respectable firms should find themselves in insurmountable difficulties and that supposing such an event to have arisen accidentally in one instance, it should have fatally compromised a whole circle. But the modern commercial world, for reasons best known to themselves, always obey the injunction to think no evil, and between the day of a stoppage and the period for the presentation of the balance-sheet there is never any doubt of 20s. in the pound and a surplus, and that it is a shameful thing for any one to refuse to join in a general chorus of sympathy. Simultaneously with the disasters in the Honduras trade Messrs. Portelli, Schembri, and Co., a house connected with Malta, were announced to have failed, and in this instance, also, there was great readiness to testify to their respectability. The records of insolvency, in fact, like those of a cemetery, seem only to comprise model individuals, the inference thus inculcated being that sagacity, prudence, and honesty do not commonly bring any reward, and cannot in commercial transactions be relied upon as safeguards. Happily, the publication of the hard figures in the reports of accountants tends, although at the cost of destroying a great amount of sentiment, to check this dangerous illusion; and to show that in trade, as in everything else, the "unavoidable" misfortunee upon which people set up a claim for consideration are usually but the results of improvidence or misconduct. In the Liverpool case which has just occurred it turns out that there has been a regular resort to the accommodation system on the usual magnificent scale—that is to say, to the habit of putting bills in circulation falsely purporting to be drawn for value received. In the other case—that of Messrs. Portelli—the chief partner has deemed it expedient to proceed to the Continent without favouring his creditors with his address. And these are the details which still constitute an ordinary chapter in the mercantile life of England! The question is, how is it that such houses gain repute or credit? Is it possible for firms to go on and incur liabilities for amounts ranging from £50,000 to £350,000 without those who trust them having some opportunities of observing if their business is being conducted properly? During the late panic it transpired that the fictitious credit obtained by reckless traders was to be attributed almost solely to the operations of the provincial joint-stock banks. If any given house was known to be in favour with, one of these concerns it was always assumed that, happen what might, it would not be allowed to stop, and that third parties therefore might safely venture upon any dealing with it. Is this solution open with regard to any of the cases which have just happened, or must we seek for some new one? How came the congeries of accommodation bills lately floating between London and Liverpool to get the character of good paper? These matters are not carried on for years without an occasional hitch, and when a difficulty occurred where was the helping hand? It would be useful if the whole history could be known, but the common desire of creditors to hush up such affairs is said in this instance to be manifested even with more than usal keenness. Certain it is that at the meetings of creditors which have taken place not a single resolution has been adopted for a public condemnation of the conduct of those who have been parties to the issue and circulation of the fictitious bills proved to be in existence. The proceedings in each case appear to have been smooth, and a friendly winding-up under inspection will finish the affair.

Some months back several of the Chambers of Commerce in the districts which had not become rotten under the joint stock bank system urged upon the Legislature that the manufacture of accommodation-bills should be made a penal offence. That such a law, however, would be of no utility is demonstrated by what is now taking place. Higher principles must grow in the commercial mind before any such strictness could be fairly exercised. It is of no use to make laws in advance of public morality Every day shows that the force of habit is in favour of of the toleration of trading laxities, and in that state of things the result of a hard enactment would simply be such as has been witnessed in the case of the Royal British Bank, where the Government put forth all their force to punish uninfluential offenders, and to screen far worse cases that happened to be defended by aristocratic or Parliamentary influence. A bad social condition must always be allowed to work its own cure. Whenever there is a real and universal feeling against it the evil will cease naturally. Meanwhile it is the task of the public journals, by reprobating each new illustration that may transpire, to show that the general tone of the community must not be supposed to have been reduced to the same level as that of the commercial class.

Messrs. Denistoun, who suspended in November, in consequence of the American failures, with liabilities for £2,143,000, and who subsequently arranged to pay in full by six instalments terminating on the 30th of June, 1860, some of which they have already anticipated, have given notice that they will be prepared on Tuesday next to discharge that which would fall due on the 30th of June, 1859. There will consequently remain to be paid only two instalments of 4s each. Of the liabilities in connexion with their Australian house only one instalment of 5s. in the pound remained unpaid, and this Messrs. Denistoun are now prepared to discharge.

HAZARDOUS ADVENTURE.

(From the Louisville Journal.)

At the supposed end of what has always been considered the longest avenue of the Mammoth Cave, [Kentucky] nine miles from its entrance; there is a pit, dark and deep and terrible, known as the Maelstrom. Tens of thousands have gazed into it with awe while bengal-lights were thrown down it to make its fearful depths visible, but none ever had the daring to explore it. The celebrated guide Stephen, who was deemed insensible to fear, was offered six hundred dollars, by the proprietor of the Cave, if he would descend to the bottom of it, but he shrank from the peril. A few years ago a Tennessee professor, a learned and bold man, resolved to do what no one before him had dared do, and, making his arrangements with great care and precaution, he had himself lowered down by a strong rope a hundred feet, but, at that point, his courage failed him, and he called aloud to be drawn out. No human power could ever have induced him to repeat the appalling experiment.

A couple of weeks ago, however, a young gentleman of Louisville, whose nerves never trembled at mortal peril, being at the Mammoth Cave with Professor Wright of our city and others, determined, no matter what the dangers and difficulties might be, to explore the depths of the Maelstrom. Mr. Proctor, the enterprising proprietor of the Cave, sent to Nashville and procured a long rope of great strength expressly for the purpose. The rope and some necessary timbers were borne by the guides and others to the point of proposed exploration. The arrangements being soon completed, the rope, with a heavy fragment of rock attached to it, was let down and swung to and fro to dislodge any loose rocks that would be likely to fall at the touch. Several were dislodged, and the long-continued reverberations, rising up like distant thunder from below, proclaimed the depth of the heavy chasm. Then the young hero of the occasion, with several hats drawn over his head to protect it as far as possible against any masses falling from above, and with a light in his hand and the rope fastened around his body, took his place over the awful pit and directed the half-dozen men who held the end of the rope to let him down into the Cimmerian gloom.

We have heard from his own lips an account of his descent. Occasionally masses of earth and rock went whizzing past, but none struck him. Thirty or forty feet from the top, he saw a ledge, from which, as he judged by appearances, two or three avenues led off in different directions. About a hundred feet from the top, a cataract from the side of the pit went rushing down the abyss, and as he descended by the side of the falling water and in the midst of the spray, he felt some apprehension that his light would be extinguished, but his care prevented this. He was landed at the bottom of the pit, a hundred and ninety feet from the top. He found it almost perfetly circular, about eighteen feet in diameter, with a small opening at one point, leading to a fine chamber of no great extent. He found on the floor beautiful specimens of black silex of immense size, vastly larger than were ever discovered in any other part of the Mammoth Cave, and also a multitude of exquisite formations as pure and white as virgin snow. Making himself heard, with great effort, by his friends, he at length asked them to pull him partly up, intending to stop on the way and explore a cave that he had observed opening about forty feet above the bottom of the pit. Reaching the mouth of that cave, he swung himself with much exertion into it, and holding the end of the rope in his hand, he incautiously let it go, and it swung out apparently beyond his reach. The situation was a fearful one, and his friends above could do no nothing for him. Soon, however, he made a hook of the end of his lamp, and, by extending himself as far over the verge as possible without falling, he succeeded in securing the rope. Fastening it to a rock, he followed the avenue 150 or 200 yards, to a point where he found it blocked by an impassable avalanche of rock and earth. Returning to the mouth of this avenue, he beheld an almost exactly similar mouth of another on the opposite side of the pit, but, not being able to swing himself into it, he fastened the rope around his body, suspended himself again over the abyss, and shouted to his friends to raise him to the top. The pull was an exceedingly severe one, and the rope, being ill adjusted around his body, gave him the most excruciating pain. But soon his pain was lost in a new and dreadful peril. When he was 90 feet from the bottom, swinging in mid-air, he heard rapid and exciting words of horror [illegible] above, and [illegible] the rope by which he was upheld had taken fire from the friction of the timber over which it passed. Several moments of awful suspense to those above, and still more awful to him below, ensued. To them and him a fatal and instant catastrophe seemed inevitable. But the fire was extinguished with a bottle of water belonging to himself, and then the party above, though almost exhausted by their labors, succeeded in drawing him to the top. He was as calm and self-possessed as upon his entrance into the pit, but all of his companions, overcome by fatigue, sank down upon the ground, and his friend, Prof. Wright, from over-exertion and excitement, fainted and remained for a time insensible.

The young adventurer left his name carved in the depths of the Maelstrom—the name of the first and only person that ever gazed upon its mysteries.

The hero of the exploit is William C. Prentice, the son of George D. Prentice.

We subjoin a copy of the Resolution passed by the Board of Fire Insurance Companies at their monthly meeting, held on Tuesday, the 5th instant:

Moved by M. H. GAULT, agent of the British America Assurance Company, and seconded by G. F. C. SMITH, Resident Assistant Secretary of the Liverpool and London Insurance Company:—

"That a reduceion of Twenty per cent. be made on the nominal rate, on all buildings of Stone, Brick, Wood encased with Brick, and wood plastered outside and inside, (excepting manufacturing Risks, Mills or Buildings endangered thereby,) said reduction to come into operation on and after the 1st day of November next."

THEATRE ROYAL.—This evening "Mr. Blondin, the wonderful Tight-Rope Dancer," attached to the "Martinetti & Blondin Troupe," takes his benefit, on which occasion a particularly attractive entertainment is offered, viz: The Comic Pantomines of "The Four Lovers," and also "The Magic Trumpet," with dances, tricks, &c., &c. During the evening Mr. Blondin will make two wonderful ascensions from stage to the gallery, in one of which he will carry upon his back a full grown person. This is the most wonderful feat ever attempted on the Rope. He will also dance upon the Rope with Stilts. The theatre is full night after night.

The attention of intending purchasers is particularly called to the sale of Furniture at Messrs. Graham & Shaw's new Commercial Sale Rooms, at half-past ten o'clock this morning, and at half-past seven o'clock in the evening a sale of valuable Oil Paintings, Water Colors, and Steel Engravings, and a choice assortment of Books, belonging to a private library, with the balance of Catalogue Books uncalled for.

Omitted, in the manifest of the "Nova Scotian," to Foley & Co., 100 boxes Canada plates, 600 sheets and 340 bdls iron.

ARRIVAL OF THE "CANADA."

NEW-YORK, Oct. 7th, 1858.

The "Canada," Capt. Lang, arrived at Halifax this forenoon, with European mails, and Liverpool and London dates of the 25th September, being three days later than those brought by the "Nova Scotian" at Quebec, and "Arago" at this port.

The Commercial and Monetary advices received by the "Canada" are of about an average interest.

Breadstuffs and Provisions were dull.

Consols closed at 97¼@97⅜.

FURTHER BY THE "CANADA."

Cotton had aduanced 1 1-6d @ 1 1-8d per lb for moderate supplies.

Political intelligence is but of minor importance.

The "North Star," from New York on the 11th ult., arrived at Southampton on the 25th.

There is nothing new in regard to the Cable.

The conflict of words started by Professor Whitehouse, with the Directors, continues.

The Bank of France had reduced its rate of discount to 3 per cent. The interest of their bonds was also reduced ½ per cent.

The details of the treaty between France and China had been published, from which it appears that France obtains indemnity to the amount of 15,000,000 francs.

Liverpool Cotton Market.—Sales during the week of 5,800 bales.

Breadstuffs generally dull with a declining tendency.

Provision market also dull.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

Consols unchanged, closing at 97¼ @ 97⅜ for money.

New York, October 7, 1857.

The exhibitors at the Crystal Palace fair held a meeting yesterday, and appointed a committee to confer with the Managers of the American Institute on the feasibility of re-opening the fair at the Cooper Institute.

NEW YORK MARKETS—Oct. 7.

HOW TO PRESERVE BEAUTY.—Nothing is more becoming to a man or woman than a beautiful luxuriant head of hair, and a woman's beauty is certainly incomplete without a fair complexion, and he or she who neglects these great and important adornments of nature must expect to suffer the mortification of premature baldness, and a wrinkled face and a sallow skin. Nothing is necessary to preserve these essential attractions but the use of Prof. Wood's Restorative.—Louisville Times.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We have had occasion to use this famous preparation of Prof. Wood's, and after thoroughly testing its qualities, we find that where the hair is thin it will thicken it, if gray it will restore it to its original colour; likewise, it gives a glossy appearance, as well as keeps the hair from falling off. This invaluable ingredient is for sale at "Chinaman's Tea Store," south-east corner Frederick and Baltimore Streets, by Mr. J. C. Given.—Baltimore Clipper.

Holloway's pills.—In dyspepsia, gastritis, and all inflammatory and constrictive disorders of the stomach, growing out of indigestion, there is something chemically wrong in the fluids which should dissolve and assimilate the food. These searching Pills, acting upon the gastric juice and upon the bile as chemical agents, restore to the one its solvent properties, and to the other its modifying and tempering qualities. Such seems to be the philosophy of their operation. As regards their almost magical effect in dpspepsia, and all complaints affecting the digestive apparatus and the liver, there can be but one opinion among candid observers. r-DC 265

BOGLE'S HYPERION FLUID.

SILKY AND GLOSSY HAIR.

From the New York Mirror.

☞Of all preparations, oily or spirituous, for the hair, give us Bogle's Hyperion Fluid. It is properly named Hyperion, for as that shining old Titan, who, ladies and gentlemen, was nobody but the Sun, threw, at his rising, his radiant locks over the summits of the earth, so Bogle's magical fluid produces a crop of silky and glossy hair upon the most abdurate human head. For dandruff, and all similar affections of the head, it is a sovereign remedy. With all this, it is an agreeable perfume, and otherwise a most useful article for the purpose of the toilet. Buy it and try it.

ANOTHER REMARKABLE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA.

BOSTON, July 3, 1851.

Gentlemen,—Agreeably to your suggestion, it gives me pleasure to state, that some five weeks ago, I purchased two bottles of your Oxygenated Bitters, and commenced using the same according to directions, and experienced the happiest effects.

I had been troubled with dyspepsia about three years. During the warm season, and at times, was obliged to give up all attention to business; and although I had the advice of many good physicians. I was confined tor six weeks to the house, and continued to grow worse, until I took your medicine; I am now almost cured of every disagreeable symptom, and able to do business as usual.

The whole credit of my restoration to health is due to the Oxygenated Bitters.

Your obedient servant,
ABNER SMITH.

HEAD OFFICE, 16, MASONIC HALL, TORONTO.

The object of this Company is to encourage the flow of capital to the soil of this Province in Upper Canada. The Company is the receiver of such capital, which it then lends to the proprietors of the land, who repay the same by means of a sinking fund.

Similar associations have long obtained, and are now universally organized on the Continent of Europe, where they have proved to be of such signal benefit, both to the lender and the borrower, as entirely to supersede the old mortgage system.

The advantages the "Canada Land Company" offers the borrower may be shortly stated;

1st. He is enabled with great ease to borrow of the Company the sum he requires, without having recourse to the heavy expenses of employing a number of Agents. He has merely to satisfy the Company that he is entitled to the estate which he proposes to give as security, an estimate is made of its value by the Company, and the estate is duly registered as a security to the Company for the amount advanced.

2nd. By borrowing of this Company there is no possibility of the borrower ever being called upon suddenly or unexpectedly to pay off the debt. When the money is borrowed he enters into a contract to pay a certain fixed sum yearly, in addition to the interest into a sinking fund, and the Company agrees with him that when the amount of these small sums, which bear componnd interest, equal the amount lent, his debt will be cancelled and his estate will have become entirely free. Experience has shown, under ordinary circumstances, that mortgage debts are rarely repaid in one sum all at once. The repayment is seldom if ever made until after a lapse of years, and then generally by a sale of the estate. The Company offers the borrower the great advantage of paying off his mortgage debt, little by little, so that at the end of a certain definite time the estate will be his own, and once more, through his own prudence and foresight, entirely free. It is a Savings Bank for him, in which he can conveniently place a small annual saving to accumulate at interest and compound interest, and be the means eventually of paying off his debt. It cannot be expected that an individual leuder will take any such trouble and agree to receive these small yearly or half-yearly instalments, nor will any borrower take the trouble of investing for himself a small annual payment for a great many years together with the interest as it accrued. The debt is expected by the lender, when paid, to be paid off in one sum or in several large sums. But what the borrower cannot do for himself, and what the lender will not do for him, will be done with the greatest ease by this Company.

3. The borrower, on giving notice, will be allowed to pay off his debt at any time, and the different sums he has paid to the Sinking Fund, with compound interest, will be reckoned in the account.

The advantages offered by this Company to the lender, are reciprocal:

1st. The lender has the security of a number of Estates collectively, together with the certainty of his interest being paid regularly to the day [illegible] disposes any individual. The Company alone being responsible to him.

2nd. The lender has no anxiety, care, or even thought, as to the character of any individual borrower, or of the value of the land mortgaged.

3rd. The security or debenture which he holds is a marketable commodity easily transferred from hand to hand, so that he can covert it into money at any moment.

4th. The Sinking Fund of the Company—whilst it makes the borrower feel that every year his debt is decreasing in amount, and secures to him, in course of time, perfect freedom from debt—is every day improving and making more effectual the security of the lender. There is daily, as it were, money accumulating to meet the sum advanced by the lender, and his security is, in consequence, more and more established.

From these, which are only a few of the advantages this Company offers to the lender and the borrower, it will be seen that the question of facilitating the means of borrowing, and of encouraging the flow of capital to the land is one of the greatest importance in a national point of view. The farmer who desires to render his land in the highest degree productive, to adopt a system of drain age, to keep good fences, to build barns, to use the best implements, and to enlarge and improve his dwelling, will not hesitate to borrow capital when it can be had and repaid with such certainty and ease. To borrow money on landed security will cease to be a sign of poverty and be one of the ways of becoming more wealthy and of benefitting society—the labourer, the artizan, the merchant, as well as the landowners will all be materially benefitted by the stimulus given by this great undertaking.

The accounts of the Company, which will be under the supervision of the Inspector General, will be made up and the dividend and interest paid half-yearly either in Toronto or London.

As regards the interest and profit which shareholders may expect, some Companies hold out the inducement of a very high interest, when, as in the case of investments in railways, the terms are based on assumed traffic, which may or may not be, and which rarely is realized, to the great disappointment and often ruin of many; but this cannot happen in a well managed Landed Credit Company, whose capital is at once invested on the security of land, the return from which is ascertained and sure. The interest, therefore, may fairly be expected to be from 7 to 8 per cent. immediately; and, prospectively, the shareholders will participate in the profits either as a bonus or as an addition to their interest.

It is not expected that more than $5 per share will be called up at any one time, and then only at long intervals.

A large number of the shares will be reserved for England, and for the remainder application can be made to
