Reddy Memorial Records Room Charred Scene After Fire

A Westmount fireman inspects the records room of the Reddy Memorial Hospital following the blaze which started in the hospital Sunday. The origin of the blaze is still unknown, Chief William Cobb said today. Although extensive damage was caused the records, the files will be back in order shortly.

Reddy Memorial Hospital Fire Of Unknown Origin, Chief Cobb Says

The origin of the fire which raced through the records room of the Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital, destroying the hospital's entire files of case histories, is still undetermined, Chief William Cobb told the Examiner today.

It is believed that the files will be replaced because the actual index files were not burnt. Chief Cobb said that this was the first fire at Reddy Memorial.

Unity Boys' Club Stages Hallowe'en Parties Tonight

Three parties at the Unity Boys' Club tonight will mark an evening of Hallowe'en fun with 300 members guests of the club for the occasion, Maurice Mariasine, Director of the Club announced.

The first party will be held this afternoon for boys between the ages of 6 and 9 years of age. A special program for this event has been arranged by Margaret Nolte and Christopher Gallop girls and boys work supervisors respectively.

The midget and junior groups will hold their party this evening at 7 p.m. and the program will consist of active games, community singing, talent show entertainment, prizes and refreshments.

The newly formed Teen-age club will officially open their season's activities with a Hallowe'en Dance and have invited members of the Damage other than the files was relatively light and was estimated at "a few thousand dollars" for only a few desks, typewriters and machines were destroyed.

Westmount Firemen under Chief William Cobb confined the fire to the records room and extinguished it in about 15 minutes. Chief Cobb had special mention for the hospital personnel in helping fight the blaze.

The blaze cut off telephone service to the hospital and some buildings north of it. Service was partially restored about 2½ hours later.

Patients were not disturbed by the fire. The records room is on the ground floor near a side entrance to the building.

The hospital was about to begin microfilming its files of case histories which date back to 1927. A newly-purchased microfilm viewer worth $400 was destroyed.

Index cards containing summaries of the confirmation in the case history files are kept in metal cabinets and were not damaged.

Dr. E. E. Robins, chairman of the medical board, believes the fire may have been caused through an electrical short circuit.

Fined $50 For Assault On Constable

A taxi driver who tried to shove a Westmount police constable around got the worst of the deal when Recorder A. E. Laverty fined the accused $50 and costs, following the driver's plea of guilty to the charge.

Police withheld the driver's name but said that he was parked in the vicinity of Elm avenue and St. Catherine at 1 a.m. when he was approached by a constable and asked to show his driver's license.

It was then that the driver got out of the car and began pushing the constable. He was taken to the station a short time later. Police said that a woman was in the taxi at the time.

The driver was charged with assaulting a police officer.

Parents To Be Insured More Help For School Children

The City of Westmount has taken a step forward in insuring parents of the district more protection for their youngsters on their way to and from school.

In a move to prevent traffic accidents to school children, the City is presently looking for five "guardians" to assist students in crossing busy streets.

Four men who have been stationed at hazardous corners for the past year have proved to be "a very successful experiment" Westmount personnel officer, W. T. Dawe, told the Examiner today.

They have been at work at Roslyn and Western Avenue, for the children of King's School; at Lansdowne and Sherbrooke Street, for Westmount Junior High and King's School; at Western and Clarke avenues, for St. Leo's and St. Paul's Academies, and St. Catherine Street and Lansdowne avenue for King's School.

Special Types Sought

City Hall is especially looking for pensioners, housewives and janitors, who are living in the vicinity of the crossings and can spare 3¼ hours, five days a week.

Three corners have been named for the new positions of the guardians: They are: Olivier avenue and St. Catherine street; Roslyn avenue and Cote St. Antoine road; Roslyn and Westmount avenues.

The guardians are sworn in as special constables, Mr. Dawe points out that they are "definitely not expected to direct traffic — they are to wait till a sufficient number of children have gathered around them on the sidewalk and then cross the street with the children."

They are equipped with cap, raincoat and belt, with small arm-band and white shoulder strap. A hand operated stop sign is also supplied to the guardians.

Youth Who Broke Into Church Is Caught By Police

Westmount police have taken into custody a youth who had caused "vandalism" to the interior of the church of St. Leon de Westmount earlier this week, Chief of Police Robert Byford told the Examiner today.

The youth smashed a stained-glass window, damaged the altar and candelabras and ransacked the church. Sexton Maurice Deneau discovered the damage when he opened the church, at 6:20 a.m. Sunday.

The vandal gained entrance by smashing a window facing on Kitchener avenue. He had to negotiate a 14 foot drop from there to the floor of the church.

A number of bloodstains were found where the youth entered, indicating he had cut himself on the way in.

Police report a carved wooden bird adorning one of the pews was ripped from its place and put on the altar. A floodlamp was taken from another part of the church and focussed on the figure of the bird.

Marler, U.S. Consul Address Large Gathering Of Students

For the third time in four years of competition, Westmount High School's football team defeated Proctor Academy of Andover, N.H. in a game played at the Westmount Athletic Grounds earlier this week.

Of particular significance was the presence of such dignitaries as George Marler, M.L.A. for Westmount, the consul general of the U.S.A. to Montreal, Richard P. Buttrick, Donald Baillie of the Westmount School Board, Walter Smail and high school officials.

In a short address to the large crowd of students and alumnae, estimated at about 1,000 persons, Mr. Marler remarked, as did all the speakers, upon the international goodwill which this annual school football contest fosters.

"There can be no better place than on the field of play to display such international camaraderie," he said, continuing, "and if I may say so, when I attended high school, I seem to remember that Westmount High football teams always gave us the toughest fights, and I think that some of the well known stars of my day are still probably playing for the school!"

U.S. consul, Mr. Buttrick also pointed out that international relations were usually best cemented on the playing field, "not only in tennis, as I clearly saw during this fall's Davis Cup matches in Montreal, but also in football, hockey, or whatever the sport may be". He

Hallowe'en Party At YMCA Tonight For Hi-Y Clubs

Westmount Hi-Y Clubs are holding a Hallowe'en party at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. tonight for all the children in the neighborhood, it was announced.

Under the leadership of Jane Bartlett and Derek Dawson, a varied and interesting program has been planned, including a Haunted House, a Shadow Show, fortune telling, movie, and refreshments, consisting of ice cream and candies.

The party will start at seven p.m. and end at nine. The highlight of the evening will be the Grand Parade, when all the costumes are judged. Prizes will be given for the best costumes.

Westmount Junior Stamp Club Shows Great Progress

Five years ago this November a group of boys got together weekly and formed what is now the Westmount Junior Stamp Club. From that small group has grown the largest and most progressive postage stamp club in Canada. The first president was Max Caplan, followed by David Hackett. Michael Ashby this year became the club's third president.

The aim of the Westmount Junior Stamp Club is to promote greater knowledge of postage collecting, which, in turn promotes facts about geography, history, and many other subjects. It is therefore educational as well as being an interesting hobby.

The most interesting part of the club has been made since January of this year. Since then a constitution has been drawn up, a bank account started, paper notices sent out to members and accounts of the club's meeting published in this newspaper. Also a first-day-of-issue service has been made possible.

During the season 1951-52 the club held 30 meetings with an average attendance of 24.6. The average attendance this season so far has been 40.7. The latter is a considerable rise, which, it is hoped, will be continued. At the end of the 1951-52 season 90 members were registered. Now that figure has risen to 117.

Last season various quizzes, raffles, auction sales, talks and votes on different matters took place. The proceeds of the quizzes, auctions etc. went to charitable funds, the club account and other worthwhile purposes. These activities will be continued this year.

The Westmount Junior Stamp Club is governed by two adult advisers and an executive of five consisting of a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and membership whip. The latter's duty is to get members to attend the meetings. The executive and advisers abide by a constitution consisting of five articles and 17 sections. The executive is either elected by the club or appointed by the advisers.

All boys and girls who are interested in stamp collecting are urged to join the club. Meetings are held in the Oak Room of Victoria Hall on Thursdays at 7 p.m. All juniors are cordially welcomed.

The 60th Anniversary Bazaar of the Church of the Advent will be held Friday, Nov. 14 from 7 to 10 p.m. and on Saturday Nov. 15 from 1.30 until 5 p.m.

Situated at Wood and Western avenues, the Church is celebrating its 60th anniversary in November.

With No Home To Go To, Welcome Hall Mission Keeps Them Going

Mission Competes With Tavern; Needs Clothing To Aid Service

By MORTON RANSEN

Two west end men, who operate an independent Montreal mission, are in competition with down town taverns in reaching out for the patronage of unfortunate passers-by.

W. J. Smith of 72 York avenue, Westmount and George H. Jewell of Melrose avenue, N.D.G. told The Examiner that most of the "transients" who drop into the Welcome Hall Mission, at 1017 St. Antoine street are "really unfortunate". However they admit that Welcome Hall is sometimes passed up in favor of the "popular tavern next door."

"Most of the transients we get (we don't call them bums)" said Mr. Smith, "are really sincere in their desire to get jobs and live useful lives—they have just been unfortunate and need help."

In its 60th year of service, Welcome Hall is one of the only independent missions run on the same basis as those first established in this country a century and a quarter ago.

Its purpose is to provide food and warm clothing for the unfortunate. Although Welcome Hall's management is completely independent certain ties in welfare work are held with other worthy associations. Mr. Smith and Mr. Jewell frequently distribute meal and lodging tickets from Salvation Army homes and other missionaries.

The missions 14 directors are: Anson Walker, 4360 Grand Boulevard, president; Andrew Hamilton and Sidney G. Madeland of Town of Mount Royal and Chateauguay Heights respectively, vice-presidents; Gilbert Scott of N.D.G., treasurer; Joseph Dugid, 5333 Mahon avenue; William Ingram, 5040 Beaconsfield; D. V. Gonder, Town of Mount Royal; Edward Walcott, 4650 Beaconsfield avenue, Tom McKnight of Verdun; Walter Jamieson of Champlain; W. Bell Elliot, William M. Gardner, Frank J. Kettyle, 5200 Mayfair avenue and Howard R. Hart of 4907 Mariette avenue.

The mission operates solely on funds donated by the public. Appeals are made periodically for articles which help them in their work. At present the mission is asking for old coats to keep the unfortunate warm throughout the winter months.

Meals are served at the mission with large quantities of soup prepared.

Mr. Smith points out that there are some "regulars" who turn up at the Hall. These are vagrants who have become known in welfare offices for their constance appearance. Since they may have been taking undue advantage of the clothing offer the Hall makes, they are not granted any of the overcoats, but "are never turned away until they fill their stomachs."

For the deserving transient, the whole thing is sometimes a new experience.

He sometimes hesitates on the stairs of Welcome Hall wondering just what he's in for but his reception inside is equal to that of a gentleman of high rank. He is asked to step into Mr. Smith's office and offered a chair.

After introductions are made, he is usually greeted with a "Yes my man and what may I do for you?"

"Sometimes they need warm clothing or a place to sleep, others need advice—but all require something to eat."

Former Welfare Worker

Mr. Smith was a welfare worker in England, attached to the Glasgow City Mission, he was stationed in police courts.

He arrived here 12 months ago and has taken up residence in Glasgow.

Mr. Jewell a resident of N.D.G. is active secretary of the association and is well respected by the "visitors."

mentioned too that he was greatly honored to be able to witness this school football classic and that he hoped it would continue as long as these two schools existed.

In welcoming Proctor Headmaster, Lyle Farrell, WHS principal, R. O. Bartlett noted that he was "very pleased to see... so many interested spectators, especially those graduates of our school who have participated in football and skiing competitions with Proctor Academy."

He said, "to us, (WHS) this contest means much more than deciding the winner of the Doug Small Memorial Trophy; it is an occasion to make friends and renew acquaintances with our good neighbours who live in the United States". "It is my fervent hope that members of this year's teams, after they leave our schools, will want to return to... future contests...; then we shall know that we... have played our parts well in cementing the bonds of friendship and understanding between our two great countries", Mr. Bartlett concluded.

Mr. Farrell received a great ovation from the crowd of students when he announced a decision of the schools' officials to have this annual football game played in Westmount each fall with the local school the visitors at Proctor each winter for skiing.

Jack Lang, head of the Montreal schools' athletics department was master of ceremonies with Douglas Bourke, president of the Westmount High Old Boys' association presenting the trophy to the winners.

Walter Smaill, father of the late WHS football great, Doug, kicked off to start the game as Mr. Bourke held the ball. The final score was Westmount, 22; Proctor, 5.

E. C. Carter Of Westhill
Speaks On UN Problems

The Tunisian issue which now faces the seventh General Assembly of the United Nations boils down to the fact that the French are doing nothing to bring Tunisian Nationalists to a state of self-government.

These were the words of E. C. Carter, Westhill High School English teacher and Canadian delegate to UNESCO in 1948, in an address to the Westmount Rotary Club yesterday.

Mr. Carter said that a large number of French have settled in Tunisia and are not anxious for a Tunisian native government.

In expressing his criticism of the French handling of the situation, Mr. Carter quoted the word of the Bey of Tunis in an address before the U.N.

The Bey said "The whole of Asia practically knocks at the door of the United Nations. Does it say, "Please punish the French?" God forbid. Does it say "please make the Tunisians free tomorrow!" God forbid. At this stage it merely says one thing. "Please in Heaven's name discuss this question!"

The speaker pointed out that the United States went so far as to criticize France for using force against the Tunisians.

Claiming that the greatest problem facing the United Nations today in Korea Mr. Carter said that the prisoner of war question had caused a stalemate.

"The truce negotiators at Pamunjong achieved fairly satisfactory agreement on all questions excepting that concerning prisoners of war. On other points the UN command gave some ground, and so did the communists. There was good reason to believe that a basis for peace could exist, provided the prisoner question could be settled", he stated.

The speaker said that only half the 140,000 Chinese and North Korean war prisoners of the UN would consent to repatriation and this is when the truce negotiations broke up.

"The Geneva Convention provides without qualifications, that prisoners of war shall be released and repatriated without delay after the cessation of hostilities" ... "Prisoners may in no circumstances renounce, in part or in entirety, the rights reserved to them", Mr. Carter said.

"This", he added, "the Communists read as meaning that the prisoner was prohibited from renouncing the right of their own state to make them return".

Mr. Carter was introduced by Lincoln Newman and thanked by Phil Page.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 29 — With the election only a matter of days away, work on the Hollywood sound sets has slowed down somewhat in the final flurry of pre-voting excitement. Betting on the outcome is fairly even, with Stevenson given a slight edge in some quarters and Eisenhower in others.

The popular vote will undoubtedly be close, though the peculiar American system of electoral college votes — so many votes to each state in the union on the basis of population — makes it possible for a candidate to win a minority of the popular vote and yet become president of the republic. This has happened before and can occur again.

Here in Hollywood there is the usual reticence of the stars to state their political preferences for publication. They figure — and rightly — that whomever they choose they'll alienate many fans who think otherwise. Still Humphrey Bogart, Tallulah Bankhead, Richard Widmark and many others have come out for Stevenson, while Ginger Rogers and George Murphy head the Eisenhower delegation.

Apparently the Eisenhower tactic of continuous hammering on a few points has had its effect in Canada where President Truman's popularity seems to have hit a new low. Unfortunately, Canadians have had little opportunity to know Stevenson, the man, whereas they have much respect and a fair share of hero-worship for Eisenhower, the general.

But Eisenhower's glad-handing of such smear artists as Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, who labels everyone who has the courage to call his bluff a communist, and Senator Robert Taft, whose views have always been the antithesis of Franklin D. Roosevelt's, has lost the General many votes which at one time were headed his way. Perhaps his greatest handicap is his running mate for the vice-presidency, Richard Nixon. The California junior senator refuses to divulge his own tax records although he challenged Stevenson to do so and the latter obliged. Nixon's tactics have been at all times questionable from the viewpoint of fair play, and without exception all public opinion polls in recent weeks have shown the swing is to Stevenson.

Whether this swing progresses far enough by November 4 to overcome Eisenhower's initially very great advantage is the question nobody as yet can answer.

Coming back to Montreal very soon may be a young named Reuben Ship. Ship came to Hollywood some years ago as a writer and eventually worked himself into the big money as one of the squad of authors turning out the radio and television scripts for the "Life of Riley" program.

Ship's name was mentioned before various government committees inquiring into un-American activities. He has been identified as having attended many meetings of the Communist party in Hollywood. He has refused to answer any questions relative to his alleged contempt charges.

Because Ship has never taken out American citizenship he is liable to deportation, and editorial writers on Los Angeles newspapers have strongly suggested he be shipped back to the Dominion.

A Structure Of Lies

Communism a Catchword for Bolshevik Imperialism

"In 1917 Lenin introduced a new philosophy. He took the basic maxim of Western civilisation—'The truth shall make you free'—and inverted it. Thus in the Bolshevik vocabulary every word is perverted: a lie is called the truth, and truth is denounced as a lie, police terror is called democracy, serfdom is called freedom, conquest is called liberation, subjection is called self-determination, and the Political Bureau of the Bolshevik Party is called the proletariat, in the interest of which all individual freedom and natural rights are suppressed."

"The very name the Russian Empire now bears,—namely, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics—is a lie; for the U.S.S.R. is not a union of republics, as it is proclaimed to be; instead it is the compulsory serfdom of nearly two hundred subjugated peoples, speaking different languages and stemming from different cultures, each one trampled upon and held in leash by terror. Yet in this there is nothing new, for as the Pan-Slavism of Tsarist Russia was a catchword for Russian Imperialism, so to-day Communism is but the catchword for Bolshevik Imperialism—the most ruthless the world has ever known"—Major-General J. F. C. Fuller, C.B., C.B.E., D.S.O.

Careless Driving

Union of Municipalities Asks Crackdown by Judiciary

The Quebec Union of Municipalities is the latest group to appeal for a crackdown on careless driving. They have requested that the judiciary in the province of Quebec be more severe in fixing blame in civil cases arising out of auto accidents caused by gross negligence. They have also made a plea for permanent automobile plates.

This brief, which also contained nine other resolutions, was presented to Premier Maurice Duplessis in Quebec City, and there is a good chance that some of them will come before the Legislature when it starts its session on November 12.

Mr. Duplessis had previously promised drastic action to curb the growing accident rate.

The municipalities tried anyway. Now it's up to the government.

Sympathy With Violence

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
Trinity Memorial Church

Early in the year a long-wanted criminal was found in New York, and when the police picked him up they were booed by the school children in the neighbourhood. Their sympathy was with the gangster.

This fall four gangsters escaped from jail in Toronto. The general tenor of the comments was: "They were a smart lot." And it was considered a good joke on the police.

We see on the newsstands a good many gangster films. After a long career of brilliant violence the gangster is brought to book by a more brilliant gangster of the Robin Hood type. But the police rarely figure in the pictures as heroes. If they appear at all it is as a pair or more of flat-footed dumb-bells. The sympathy does not lie with law and order. We have built up a dream picture of picturesque adventurous violence and it is no wonder that it reacts on the minds of the children who devour the pictures.

We all know that law breaking will destroy a nation; yet we seem to accept the situation which develops a law-breaking mentality. Some educationalists maintain that comics as such do no harm, but surely violence is not comic. Further, a very high degree of emotion is aroused by pictures of violence; and what is presented and accepted with emotion makes a strong impression on character. A century ago a German statesman set out to build a war mentality in Germany.

He produced the result desired by offering a certain type of education in German schools, reinforced by emotion. Japanese leaders did much the same thing in their country. In this country we have avoided emotional emphasis in our teaching. Possibly it has made for better and sounder education, but it has left the emotions to be won by outside influences, and the result leaves something to be desired.

Christian Science

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

This Lesson-Sermon teaches that God is not a personal judge, acquitting or condemning according as He is petitioned and placated; but that wrongdoing will surely bring enough suffering to quench all expectation of pleasure or profit in sin; therefore pardon and reform must go together.

The Golden Text is from Proverbs: "Evil pursueth sinners; but to the righteous good shall be repayed."

Bible citations include the following also from Proverbs: "The way of life is above the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath."

Correlative passages from the Christian Science text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "To remit the penalty due for sin, would be for Truth to pardon error. Escape from punishment is not in accordance with God's government, since justice is the handmaid of mercy. Sin makes its own hell, and goodness its own heaven. It is quite as impossible for sinners to receive their full punishment this side of the grave as for this world to bestow on the righteous their full reward."

After returning from his first trip to the West, a business man wrote his bank:

"I arrived having no idea where to start in to make the connections I required. The thought occurred to me that perhaps the bank, which has been very helpful to me on numerous occasions, would give me some guidance. Mr. W. proved to be of tremendous help. He introduced me to the people I should have met and saved me days, perhaps weeks, of work."

Every chartered bank works this way. Whether you walk into your neighborhood branch or one a thousand miles away, you will find the same full range of banking service—and the same readiness to help.

Your School, Your Child, and You

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE

Educational Editor, The New York Times

IN DEFENCE OF THE NEW TEACHING (Part II)

In arithmetic classes a big change has taken place. Children learn about numbers as something concrete, not abstract mumbo jumbo. In fact, many schools have returned to the abacus, the old Chinese counting tool used three thousand years ago! The youngsters count on their fingers too—no wonder they find it easier. They bring in bottle caps and learn to count them. Even the apple pie comes in handy. The teacher takes a large, freshly baked pie and cuts it into six parts. Each one of six children gets an equal piece, one-sixth of the pie. Fractions come to life that way.

Or take decimals, always a bugaboo. There's no more dallying with abstract figures. These days the favorite device is the use of coins. Ten dimes make a dollar; 100 pennies make a dollar too. Percentages in easy doses, but I'll bet the kids will remember it.

"I got ninety-nine in algebra in high school," a young mother told me, "but when my son asks for help, I can't remember a single thing I ever learned."

The children of today will remember their figures, you can be sure. I watched the abacus in use at Long Beach. The children thought it was a game.

"Who can count all the green beads?" the teacher asked.

A young lad thought he could.

"Who wants to count all the blues? And the yellows?"

Several hands went up.

"Now," said the teacher, "take ten yellows, ten blues and ten greens. How many do we have altogether?"

A freckle-faced lad of no more than six started the chorus. "Thirty," he exclaimed triumphantly.

"Do you know what you were doing?" the teacher asked. "You were counting by tens."

In another part of the room a group of boys were putting up the Empire State Building. Engrossed in their architectural prowess, they placed block upon block until I wondered what kept the edifice from toppling over.

"I need four more blocks," said the master builder. A very small boy reached into a box of blocks.

"Is this four?" he asked.

"Yes," said the older lad, "that's just four."

A second-grade class combined arithmetic with reading, writing and spelling, with some health hints thrown in. The teacher had written on the blackboard: How to make oatmeal for six. And under that was the notation: 4 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup oatmeal.

The children actually made oatmeal, and what's more, they ate it! I stood in line to get my share. "Did you like it?" I asked the chubby boy beside me.

"My mother makes it at home,"

Fashion Hints

Tweed twinkles in the spotlight of popular acclaim for suits, coats and dresses, with a soft, supple weave used mostly for the latter. This brown and white wool tweed dress has a snug surplice line bodice fastening with one brown satin button above the brown satin belted waist. One more button is placed centre front below the waist and double to the skirt hem. The pockets are splashed into side seams. A white pique dickey is detachable, and its tie is buttoned with a rhinestone pin.

he answered. "I don't like it at home."

"Do you like it here?" I asked.

"Not much," said he.

But as a learning device, the hot cereal was a fine dish.

Afterwards the teacher drew the face of a clock on the board. "If you had dinner at six, went to bed at seven and from that time on had nothing to eat until 8:30 in the morning, how many hours did you go without food?"

A bit of prompting from the teacher and the children figured it out — fourteen and one half hours.

The new approach applies to writing, too. Some children aren't ready to write in the first grade, so they're learning manuscript. Block letters are easier at a tender age than cursive writing. Remember in our school days when the Palmer method was used? For an hour we would try to make perfect circles or push-pull-push-pull, until we hated to write.

Your child's handwriting is not so artificial. After the first two or three years he goes from printing to regular writing and the transition is not at all difficult. But he goes beyond that. Writing means something to him today. He just doesn't write a list of thirty words. Maybe the school has a couple of turtles — so he writes down turtles. And soon he learns what it means when he sees the word on the blackboard. Or he writes a letter home to his parents, asking for permission to go on an excursion. He's learning to write words that make sense.

Greene Ave. Salon Adds Elegant Air To Hairdressing

To women who love to revel in luxurious surroundings and the very last word in streamlined equipment, the new Emile Beauty Salon at 1347 Greene Avenue represents progress at its best.

Formerly situated nearer Sherbrooke St., the recently opened salon is fronted by full-length glass, accentuated by California redwood pillars. The interior, in pastel colors, is furnished in ultra modern style, the ceiling is sound proofed, and folding doors close off every booth. Basins, etc., are concealed under dressing table tops when not in use, and an inter-communication system links the front desk with every booth and to the employees' quarters downstairs. Fluorescent lighting and air-conditioning are used throughout. A Westmount resident, Max Roth, is the architect.

Despite the high class setting, prices have remained moderate, and customers come from as far away as Cornwall, Ont., for hair styling by the well-known Emile and his staff.

Mrs. Lillian Lewis, receptionist, told The Examiner that scalp treatments and hair tinting have been their specialty for a long time, and admitted that even supposedly practical Montreal women were asking for the latest style of having one long, bright streak of silver or gold through their hair, regardless of its own natural color. Of course, the liquids or powders used are removable, and can be brushed out the day after a big party or dance.

Mostly, however, the popular trend at Emile's is towards a "smooth, close-fitting hairdo," for under the season's cloche-type hats.

To mark the fourth anniversary of the dedication of the Orange and Protestant Home for Children at Rosemere, Que., on Saturday afternoon, 125 members of the Orange Order, Ladies Auxiliary and friends of the Home brought literally tons of food as admission. Royal Werry, Q.C., President of the Home, welcomed all and thanked them for their generous support, after which he introduced the guest speaker Rev. John S. McBride, B.A., Minister of Ephraim Scott Memorial Presbyterian Church, Montreal. He took as his subject the Story of the Good Samaritan, pointing out that he took time from his busy life to look after the man by the wayside, bound up his wounds and put his mind at ease. The splendid condition of the home and its 14 little residents spoke well of the generosity of the friends of the Home, and he urged continued support.

Mrs. Ethel Erskine, Grand Mistress of the L.O.B.A. of British America, thanked Rev. John S. McBride and also brought greetings from the New Brunswick Children's Home which she had just visited.

W. E. Atkins, Grand Master of the L.O.A. of Quebec, asked continued support as did W. J. Butler, Treasurer of the Home. Clifford Bradley, Past Master of the L.O.A. of Quebec, was congratulated on bringing in a truckload and a carload of vegetables and home canned food from Luskville. There was also a truckload of fruits and vegetables from Argenteuil County.

Mrs. Margaret Durning, Matron of the Home, expressed her thanks for the pounds (tons) donated and announced that she has made over 500 qts. of jams and pickles for use this winter.

Refreshments were served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Home under the convenership of Mrs. Frances Burness, following which Stanley Royston showed movies of the children and friends at the July 12th picnic at the Home, followed by other movies.

BOOK REVIEW

by

 Howard S. Ross

Q.C., D.C.L.

"IN PLACE OF FEAR" by Rt. Hon. Aneurin Bevan. Published in Britain by William Heinemann Ltd., London and Melbourne. Distributed in Canada by British Book Service (Canada) Ltd., Toronto. 201 Pages. $2.50

This is the political testament of one of Britain's most interesting of contemporary political figures. It sets forth in coherent and sometimes moving terms the mainspring of the author's political life. Fascinating autobiographical glimpses and administrative experience gained in local government and a cabinet minister lend color and substance to a political argument which is well sustained, closely reasoned and forcefully expounded whether or not the reader may agree with his final conclusions.

Whatever view may be taken of Mr. Bevan, former Welsh miner and in younger days a lay preacher, he has an important and perhaps outstanding political future, not withstanding the serious reverse he met with at the hands of his fellow trade unionists who at their recent convention representing 8,000,000 workers, voted by an overwhelming majority against his claim that Britain should not risk bankruptcy by spending such large sums for rearmament. But even so, without any question, he is a dominant influence in the Labour Party which at the last election suffered defeat, although, strangely enough, it received a majority of the popular votes. When will more attention be given to the finding and adopting of a more effective system of voting?

Thus, apart from the light it sheds on the author's personality, "In Place of Fear" is an important document with a large bearing on the future Labour Party. As such, it is bound to be praised and inveigled against and no one keenly interested in the contemporary political scene in that important country can afford to miss reading it.

In Chapter I, Poverty, Property, and Democracy, he writes: "A young miner in a South Wales colliery, my concern was with the one practical question, where does power lie in this particular state of Great Britain and how can it be attained by the workers? The circumstances of our lives made it a burning, luminous mark of interrogation. Where was power and which the road to it?"

He said he is concerned with the impact of the arrival of the people's representatives at Westminster and with the atmosphere and physical organization of the Houses of Parliament. Surely that is not a pressing problem, when the real problems are the land and money question! Even the man on the street now sees the acts of legislators (notwithstanding most legislators and in particular the author and his able wife) have the best of intentions, the net results are far from satisfactory and end in continuing wars quite unavoidable as long as your different economic systems have the fundamental faults which our system of land ownership and the basis of our medium of exchange have, and with no one in particular to blame, but all of us at fault for our failure to study those basic and all important questions. And how strange it is that one with such zeal and energy as the author and after being a member of the House of Commons for 24 years and 35 years of political and industrial activity "can find no reason to alter my conviction that the principles of democratic socialism are the only one broadly applicable to the situation in which mankind now finds itself."

Those are the closing words and what could be more indefinite?

In his first chapter he wrote: "In such cases the question shapes itself in some such question as, How can I get on? or What career shall I choose?" I don't mean by this that we are necessarily less selfish. It was merely that the texture of our lives shaped the question into a class

Books Commemorate The Late Norah Bailey

A memorial library presentation in honor of the late Norah Elizabeth Bailey was made recently at the Mental Hygiene Institute.

Miss Bailey who had received her M.A. in child psychology from the University of Toronto in 1936, joined the staff of the M.H.I. in 1947. She reorganized the Institute's Parent Education Department, then developed and conducted the two-year courses which train leaders in the group discussion method of child study for parents. The donation of books was made by the leaders who had studied by Miss Bailey.

Mrs. R. Ayre made the presentation. Mrs. O. Doob accepted on behalf of the Board of Directors of the Mental Hygiene Institute. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bailey attended the ceremony in memory of their daughter. Many graduate leaders in parent education and the present leaders-in-training were present also.

and not into an individual form." That class consciousness, it seems to this reviewer, is one of the primary defects of socialism.

What our worried world needs is equally free individuals co-operating to carry on the work of the world without anyone paying tribute to anyone because a sound money system — work for work, hour for hour, life for life with the work measured according to time the only common denominator. Then with mutual banking (much the same as at present but with the tribute element abolished) and free for use natural resources we would not need Mr. Bevan and hosts of others ruling over us, but we would have equally free people co-operating to carry on the work of the world. And it would not be necessary for us to be divided into parties within nations and between individuals in each nation struggling for place, power and exalted positions.

There cannot be any real democracy while some rule others or struggle with others even in the same party to be the supreme leader. We badly need thorough-going educators who see that it is not Mr. Churchill or Mr. Attlee or the author who are to be opposed but rather curses of wars and the other undesirable features of social order.

Other chapters (all filled with well-written material) are Modern Man and Modern Society, Private or Collective Spending, A Free Health Service, Social Tensions, World Leadership, Raw Materials, Scarcities and Priorities, and Democratic Socialism. There is a lengthy appendix filled with valuable material useful in any public or private library.

I hope if the author sees this review, he will not think I am too dogmatic and am taking too long a look into the future and am perhaps too fond of premature truth.

Follow These Coke Rules for Warmth & Economy

1. Always fill the firebox as full as you can. A deep fire (a) applies more heat to sidewalls of furnace; (b) circulates more hot air; (c) burns steadier—easier to control; (d) needs less attention.

2. Coke needs less draft than coal. Draft settings vary with each furnace. A little experimenting will prove the most efficient positions to set your smoke-pipe damper and cold-air check. Bottom draft-door should be open only when you want quick heat.

3. Lasalle Coke makes so little ash that hard shaking of grates is not necessary. Use poker to loosen ash, then if you must—shake grates very gently.

In the morning and at night:—

1. Open key damper, close air check, clean fire with poker.
2. Shake grates gently until red glow appears in ashpit.
3. Add a few shovels of Coke and open bottom draft.

Then, when desired house temperature has been reached:—

1. Heap firepot as full as you can get it.
2. Close bottom draft door.
3. Nearly close key damper. Set cold-air check according to temperature you require.

FREE HEATING SERVICE—Trained and experienced service men are at the disposal of all Coke users to assist in obtaining maximum satisfaction from their heating equipment. Call your dealer or Lasalle Coke Service Department, UNiversity 6-6531, for this FREE service.

"African Queen" Starts Saturday At Monkland

John Huston's fabulous Technicolor adventure drama, "The African Queen," is due to open this Saturday at the Monkland Theatre through United Artists release. Co-starring Humphrey Bogart and Katharine Hepburn, who turn in sparkling performances, the film is a delight throughout. It was produced on location in Central Africa by S. P. Eagle as an Horizon-Romulus Production.

Hair-raising adventure and a poignant, completely unusual romance dominate this exciting film based on C. S. Forester's novel of the same title. Under the masterly direction of Director Huston, Miss Hepburn and Mr. Bogart bring to persuasive life the characters of Rosy, the prim English missionary's sister and Charlie, the genial, salty river boat trader who are thrown together in a native village during a German skirmish in World War I.

Also on the same program is the Intrigue, mystery and romance are wrapped into one exciting package of film fare in "Macao."

Starring Robert Mitchum, Jane Russell and William Bendix, the drama has its setting in the notorious Portuguese colony of Macao on the Chinese coast, a popular refuge of crooks because of its lack of any extradition treaties. The trio arrives on a ferry from HongKong, apparently with no ulterior motives—but one of the two men is in reality a New York police officer seeking to entice a badly-wanted criminal outside the three-mile limit.

Ray Bolger In Comedy At Westmount Sunday

Ray Bolger, disguised in his aunt's garb, has just received a proposal of marriage from Horace Cooper in a scene from "Where's Charley?", the new Warner Bros. Technicolor musical based on the smash Broadway hit. The film opens on Sunday at Westmount Theatre.

Top Comedy Film Begins Sunday At Westmount Theatre

"Where's Charley?" starring Ray Bolger, with Allyn McLerie, who was his dance partner and co-star during the sensational two and a half year run of the Broadway play from which the Warner Bros. Technicolor film is adapted, begins its much heralded engagement at the Westmount Theatre on Sunday.

Based on Brandon Thomas' comedy, "Charley's Aunt," with music specially composed by Frank Loesser, the screen story concerns who masquerades as his wealthy aunt when she is prevented from acting as chaperone for a party he has planned. While dressed as the elderly woman, Charley is chased by two fortune-hunting characters, neglects his best girl and almost loses her, sets off a series of hilarious episodes on the campus, not the least of which is finding himself locked in a ladies' dressing room. Climax of the impersonation occurs when the real aunt arrives on the scene from Brazil.

Also on the same program is the exciting drama "Diplomatic Courier" starring Tyrone Power and Patricia Neal.

French Poodle Makes Cast Of Koolvent Play

One of the first tryouts with a view to making him a professional member of the KoolVent Theatre, now playing "Dinner For Three" at the Gesu Theatre until Saturday, Nov. 8, was made an experiment in London, Ont. Calico, a stage-struck French poodle, has won his place in the KoolVent Theatre cast.

His present status as an actor and a clown in his own right may be seen any night at the Gesu and, it is said he has established himself as a full-fledged member of the cast.

Calico established himself after he had learned his clues practically overnight. After seven performances in London, Ont., he returned for the official premiere in Montreal last Friday no more an extra, but a worthy fellow player with Barry Morse, Elfi Koenig, Herbert Kramer, Robert Goodier and Joan Blackman.

The acting poodle, like the rest of his breed a born clown, has been trained by Miss Koenig for KoolVent Theatre. Calico humbly obeys her slightest command, otherwise he wouldn't be in the cast. It would be too dangerous. Like all other genuine actors he can't resist the temptation to steal the show occasionally. Being a natural animal this is never done with malice aforethought.

The remarkable poodle, however, quickly forgets his exhibitionism and returns to heel. On the whole players and audience claim he has done an efficient job. He is not yet a ham.

MACHINE AGE

In the early days of Quebec's canning industry, in the 1870s, cans were made by hand during the winter at the rate of 60 or so per day per man. Now a single production line at the American Can Company's Montreal factory turns out in excess of 30 metal containers a minute without a hand touching the cans.

Cloves come from the islands of the West Indies nowadays.

The piano accordion was introduced in 1910 by Pietro Seiro, Sr., a vaudeville hooper.

Canadian Playwrights Best At Comedy, Rittenhouse Says

Canadian playwrights are at their best in comedy and fantasy, while their serious work is "frequently lugubrious and overwrought", Charles Rittenhouse, one of the directors of the Montreal Repertory Theatre, told the Women's Branch of the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society at the Chateau de Ramsay last night.

Mr. Rittenhouse took his audience on a tour of Canadian theatres from Halifax to Vancouver where native plays have been produced.

He especially lauded Joseph Schull for "The Bridge" being termed the best Canadian Play. Gratten Gelinis for "Tit Coq" the most successful Canadian play and Robertson Davies for "Fortune My Foe" and "Overlaid", the best comedies.

As the most promising playwrights, Mr. Rittenhouse named William Digby of London, Ont., Shirley Fowke of Chester, N.S., and Paul Toupin of Montreal.

The speaker also praised the efforts of John Coulter, Morley Callaghan, Janet McPhee, Gwen Ringwood, John Hoare, Graham Ferguson, Pierre Dagenais, and Hilda Mary Hooke.

In conclusion Mr. Rittenhouse warned would-be Canadian playwrights to keep away from certain characters who had been used too frequently and are now cliché.

Mr. Rittenhouse, who resides at 8036 Guelph avenue, is well known in theatre circles throughout the city.

WHS Beat Proctor 22-5; Lose To HSM As Byford And Zwinge Star

by Allan Sandzelius

Last Wednesday afternoon at the W. A. G., Westmount High's senior "A" footballers wound up their current season with a close 12-11 loss to High School of Montreal. Apostolatos scored two T.D.'s and a convert.

Playing their best for the local gridders were, as usual, Paul Zwinge, 'Biff' Byford, Ian Roussac and Don Ferrier, Paul ripping off some nice run-backs of punts as well as lofting some neat left-handed passes which were rather spoiled by the receivers' inability to hold on to the ball, as 'Biff' called offensive signals and Don and Ian upheld their defensive duties to great effect.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 5-0 in Westmount's favor, 11-5 at the half. With half the final quarter left, the locals led 11-10 only to have a running play stopped in their own end zone, awarding the Blue and White two points.

Ron Sharp's fighting charges came back strong in the remaining minutes of the game, but fumbles, miscues and an intercepted forward cost them their last hopes to win. Herewith much credit must be given coach Sharp for a valiant struggle against seemingly insurmountable odds to mold a team from so much inexperience and to come up finally, in all too short a time, with a squad that will definitely be a contender for league leadership next season.

Down Proctor 22-5

In what easily was their best all-round tussle of the season, the local twelve downed their annual American rivals, Proctor Academy to the tune of 22-5 last Monday morning, behind the stellar display of Paul Zwinge and Gerry Apostolatos. Gerry scored the local's first TD under the American code to put his team ahead 6-5. This was followed by a sustained Westmount drive climaxed by Zwinge lofting a long twenty-yard heave to Ted Hough, who raced thirty yards for the major, making the count 13-5.

After Gerry's convert, Paul put the game on ice with a TD late in the final stanza on a beautiful thirty-five yard run through the center of the line with Apostolatos getting the final convert.

Ian Roussac kicked into the end zone to give the Purple and White an extra two points.

Proctor's single major came early in the first quarter on a terrific ninety yard run by star half back, 'Tip' Gilbert who did the majority of the visitors' ball carrying.

A good indication of the true sportsmanship displayed by the two teams was evident as no major

SPORTS

at St. Leo's

Mike Lunny's Rough Riders, captured St. Leo's Bantam Six Man Touch Rugby title last Friday morning at Westmount Athletic Grounds, when they downed Frank Jago's Alouettes 7 to 2, in the final game of the season.

The Alouettes upset the league leading Argos in the semi-final, while the Rough Riders were disposing of the Tiger-Cats.

The Championship game was a well played affair, with the results in doubt until the final whistle. The Alouettes went into an early lead, on a single point, kicked by Chris Lane and at half time Jago's boys, held a slim 1 to 0 lead. The Rough Riders, began to roll in the second half and spearheaded by their two big guns, Bernie Fisher and John Farrell, had the hard fighting Alouettes bottled up in their own end and soon tied the game on a rouge, with nice kicking by Fred McManus. A John Farrell to Bernie Fisher pass, put Lunny's lads up five points and they added one for good measure in the last quarter, to round out the score 7 to 2. Congratulations are in order to coach Mike Lunny and his team in winning the Academy Bantam Six Man Touch Rugby title. Introducing the members of the championship squad: John Farrell, Bernie Fisher, Fred McManus, Dick Robinson, Allan Kelley, Gerald McGee, Victor Salvaneschi, Jimmy Shaw, Guy Labrosse and Anthony Donavan.

Proctor's record, by the way, is two won, one lost in their league, south of the border.

Westmount retains the Doug Small Memorial trophy they won last fall by virtue of defeating the Proctorites at home, 49-5. Previous scores were 35-28 for Westmount and 11-0 for the Green and White.

Distaff Diversions

Tuesday next is the big day for the WHS lady volleyballists as they sally forth to defend their City Championship at the High School for Girls under the mentorship of 'all star' coach, Miss M. J. MacMillan.

In Junior High girls' sports, the junior gals downed Macdonald High 6-0 in an exhibition soccer game. With each goal worth two points, the scorers were Dot Morgan, Sharon Horning, and Carol Roberts.

It's understood that school volleyball is well underway at the Red and White under the guidance of Miss Cochrane and that the annual Leaders' corps camp session is scheduled for the week-end of Nov. 8 where the girl leaders take training in athletic leadership. The local group of girls is headed by both junior school gym teachers, the misses Cochrane and Matthews.

Major Ian Morgan Urges Support Of Financial Appeal

The St. John Ambulance is being recognized today as an integral part of the community and having been organized for the people it looks to the same people for its maintenance through financial support if it has to carry out the service it offers in the future, Major Ian Morgan, campaign vice-chairman for the St. John Ambulance 1952 Appeal being launched from Nov. 1 to 16 inclusive, stated.

It was pointed out that the sum of $150,000 is being sought to cover and advance the teaching of first aid and kindred subjects, supplying of uniforms to its members, procuring medical supplies to take care of public duties at highway and skiing first aid posts and to extend its program of service so that the community as a whole might benefit.

As the result of the organization becoming better known, added Major Morgan, it meant "a tremendous increase in the number of public duties resulting in an equal increase in running costs and with this in view it appealed to the public to rally to its cause by subscribing to its funds so that such services would in no way be curbed."

Helen Ferguson Wins Blue Ribbon In Pennsylvania

Showing no ill effects from a September spill which hospitalized her for weeks, Miss Helen Ferguson returned to the competitive show rings at Harrisburg in the Pennsylvania Horse Show to win first place in the opening event on the program.

Formerly of Westmount, Miss Ferguson rode Vernon G. Cardy's Maple Leaf in the Light Weight Hunter Class against a field of thirty-seven entries drawn from many parts of the United States. Miss Ferguson gave a faultless performance to win the Blue Ribbon for Canada.

The show was opened by Governor

Ernest Fine of Pennsylvania. Arthur Godfrey of radio fame acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Racormack, also from the Cardy Stables of Val David, Quebec, won a fourth place ribbon in the Middleweight Class with Jimmy Pogue up.

The Harrisburg Show is one of the biggest held in the United States and is ranked in importance with the Madison Square Garden Show to be held in November and the Royal Winter Fair which follows in Toronto.

Helen Ferguson sustained a severe concussion when her horse stumbled and fell on her in the Cote de Liesse Hunter Trials some time ago. It was feared at that time that she would not ride again during the Winter season. Last Winter in North Carolina she won the Hunter Championship of North America.
