BLACK FRIDAY COMES AGAIN. The New York Market Tumbles to Pieces.

"DEACON" WHITE AGAIN SUC-CUMBS TO THE PRESSURE.

Indescribable Scenes on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

(SPECIAL TO THE STAR.)

NEW YORK, May 5.—The stock market opened to-day with a continuation of the intense excitement that marked yesterday's business.

Cordage opened in five thousand lots at any where from 19 to 21, the prices coming so fast that the fluctuations could not be recorded.

At 10.30 it had been hammered down to 16. Chicago Gas closing again at 70, opened at 74, and at 10.30 had gone down to 60, though, after that, there was slight reaction.

General Electric from 20 to 19, and sugar from 55 to 75.

The excitement was intense and contagious, and the pandemonium about the trading posts was so noisy that it could be heard out in the street.

The gallery was packed with an equally excited crowd, and every tickler had a group of excited speculators about it.

Drops of from two to five points were recorded so thick and fast that it was impossible for even the wisest to get a footing on the Exchange to keep track of the lightning like changes, and fortunes were made and lost in the twinkling of an eye.

The whole market showed a falling off in many instances as much as three points in the stocks that were not directly influenced by the stocks in the cordage market.

Other Industrials. The receivers of cordage were early at work, but they refused to make any statement to any one. They are getting the events in shape to tell just where the Trust stands.

This morning there was some surprise that the drop in the stock market was not involved several firms outside of the three reported from the rest of the Stock Exchange.

The fact that a stock clearing house was in operation, which prevented widespread demonization.

A complete story of the collapse in National Cordage will probably never be told, except so far as confirming the statements of the suspended firms, that they had been promised assistance which was not forthcoming.

It is understood that the principal friends of the Company have been seriously crippled by the crash, and it is generally considered that they will have to make a public admission of their losses by an assignment in due course of law.

The directors of the National Cordage Company held a protracted session last night, but no statement was authorized to be published.

The Board who was present at the conference it was ascertained, however, that the indebtedness of the Company on outstanding was $2,000,000.

The Mail and Express says: "Wall Street is again in the throes of a panic. The biggest crash of the last three days of phenomenal drops in the stock market came this morning."

S. V. White, who is the first failure announced, Sugar dropped to 10, and the other Industrials went with it.

The opening was higher on good London news, but the drop came like a flash. In sympathy the strong railroad and heavy iron stocks fell.

Several other big firms are reported in trouble. White's failure was due to customers not paying their margins.

Assignments by individual firms in the Cordage Trust are rumored as approaching.

Mr. S. V. White, more familiarly known as the "deacon," has again been forced to succumb. It will be remembered that White was practically ruined about two years ago in an attempt to corner the corn market.

He eventually made a settlement with his creditors and resumed business at the Stock Exchange.

The settlement was made about Christmas last year, when the "deacon" paid over $1,750,000 to his creditors and started out again with a clean slate.

He had made considerable money in the Industrials, but, like a great many others, overplayed his market.

Mr. White's first came into prominence by his mastery of the "corn" market. Lackawanna and Western some years ago for the H. B. Claflin interest.

The late Jay Gould once said in an interview that the ONLY REAL LEADER IN WALL STREET WAS "DEACON" WHITE.

Mr. White was very much broken up this morning. He was besieged by his friends and brokers through whom he had been dealing.

At 11.10 a. m., Mr. White made the following statement to the Press: "The unexpected drop in all securities has made it impossible to realize on securities, or to collect margins to meet my engagements."

Another Account of the Panic. NEW YORK, May 5.—This was the worst day Wall street has seen in this week of war.

The hope indulged in last evening, that the panic had run its course, was premature. The stock market was again in a state of extreme excitement, and with prices about the same as at yesterday's close.

It was very soon apparent that many more stocks than had been expected were being sold on the floor of the Exchange. The discrimination of the banks against certain classes, especially with the Industrials as collateral in loans, had caused their holders to throw them overboard.

The slaughter of the Industrials was awful, and it was very quickly seen that there must be more failures. Mr. White was the first to be mentioned in these stocks could be expected to remain solvent.

By 9 o'clock this morning the galleries of the Stock Exchange began to fill. Yesterday's exciting events had attracted every one's attention, and the public had awakened to the fact that a panic was in the air.

history of the Stock Exchange were there such wild fluctuations witnessed. One of the largest houses on the street was to be in trouble, and its failure only a matter of hours.

While New York's own brokers were in a dazed condition, and throwing over their stocks regardless of price, foreign houses were quietly at work picking up the dividend payers.

Their purchases were being made in the Foreign Exchanges and posted rates were reduced to 48 and 49.

Ladenberg, Thalmann & Co., say: London is buying heavily of American stocks. Of course there will be no gold shipments this week.

Money is close and Stock Exchange business has been dull since Monday. Theodore Havenner, vice-president of the Sugar Company, said there was absolutely nothing in the affairs of the Company that would warrant the sale of this morning.

The Company, he said, had a very large surplus and was a very large holder of money. The Post's financial article says: It was evident from the moment of the market's opening to-day that there was further trouble brewing, and within half an hour the truth was learned.

White, who had been the leader of the manipulation in Industrial stocks, announced his suspension. The news was accompanied by an outpour of stock certificates, which caused the market to drop 10 points in almost a matter of minutes.

The same stock preferred broke 10. Chicago Gas, 11; National Cordage, 10; and other stocks followed. The Railroad shares, strong at the opening on heavy arbitrage purchases for London, followed the general downward movement.

Burlington, after an initial advance of 14 points, broke 4, but rallied at once 34 points from the lowest. Rock Island, 4 points, and others three or four points or less.

Generally the standard shares were strong as compared with the rest of the market, some of them even in the arm of the second half hour losing little or nothing.

General Electric broke 19 points, and General Electric from 20 to 19, and sugar from 55 to 75.

The excitement was intense and contagious, and the pandemonium about the trading posts was so noisy that it could be heard out in the street.

The gallery was packed with an equally excited crowd, and every tickler had a group of excited speculators about it.

The whole market showed a falling off in many instances as much as three points in the stocks that were not directly influenced by the stocks in the cordage market.

Other Industrials. The receivers of cordage were early at work, but they refused to make any statement to any one. They are getting the events in shape to tell just where the Trust stands.

This morning there was some surprise that the drop in the stock market was not involved several firms outside of the three reported from the rest of the Stock Exchange.

The fact that a stock clearing house was in operation, which prevented widespread demonization.

A complete story of the collapse in National Cordage will probably never be told, except so far as confirming the statements of the suspended firms, that they had been promised assistance which was not forthcoming.

It is understood that the principal friends of the Company have been seriously crippled by the crash, and it is generally considered that they will have to make a public admission of their losses by an assignment in due course of law.

The directors of the National Cordage Company held a protracted session last night, but no statement was authorized to be published.

The Board who was present at the conference it was ascertained, however, that the indebtedness of the Company on outstanding was $2,000,000.

The Mail and Express says: "Wall Street is again in the throes of a panic. The biggest crash of the last three days of phenomenal drops in the stock market came this morning."

S. V. White, who is the first failure announced, Sugar dropped to 10, and the other Industrials went with it.

The opening was higher on good London news, but the drop came like a flash. In sympathy the strong railroad and heavy iron stocks fell.

Several other big firms are reported in trouble. White's failure was due to customers not paying their margins.

Assignments by individual firms in the Cordage Trust are rumored as approaching.

Mr. S. V. White, more familiarly known as the "deacon," has again been forced to succumb. It will be remembered that White was practically ruined about two years ago in an attempt to corner the corn market.

He eventually made a settlement with his creditors and resumed business at the Stock Exchange.

The settlement was made about Christmas last year, when the "deacon" paid over $1,750,000 to his creditors and started out again with a clean slate.

He had made considerable money in the Industrials, but, like a great many others, overplayed his market.

Mr. White's first came into prominence by his mastery of the "corn" market. Lackawanna and Western some years ago for the H. B. Claflin interest.

The late Jay Gould once said in an interview that the ONLY REAL LEADER IN WALL STREET WAS "DEACON" WHITE.

Mr. White was very much broken up this morning. He was besieged by his friends and brokers through whom he had been dealing.

At 11.10 a. m., Mr. White made the following statement to the Press: "The unexpected drop in all securities has made it impossible to realize on securities, or to collect margins to meet my engagements."

Another Account of the Panic. NEW YORK, May 5.—This was the worst day Wall street has seen in this week of war.

The hope indulged in last evening, that the panic had run its course, was premature. The stock market was again in a state of extreme excitement, and with prices about the same as at yesterday's close.

It was very soon apparent that many more stocks than had been expected were being sold on the floor of the Exchange. The discrimination of the banks against certain classes, especially with the Industrials as collateral in loans, had caused their holders to throw them overboard.

STOCK GOSSIP ON THE STREET.

HOW THE SITUATION OF MONTREALERS IS AFFECTED.

No Fears for the Local Market—One Million Dollars Said to Have Been Sent to the American Markets.

The excitement around the street to-day among speculators in the American stocks was intense. As early as nine o'clock several of them visited the brokers' offices and discussed the situation, while brokers made out their call for margins, and hustled round to secure them where it was possible.

The opening quotations in New York were eagerly watched for, and when they came in there was a faint flicker of hope, as several of the securities had opened a fraction stronger than the closing figures yesterday.

Even the advance of a stock in eight or ten points was welcome as probably a couple of points would have been under ordinary circumstances.

The hopes raised, however, were soon dashed, and the opening quotations were soon dashed, and those watching the "tickers" were actually astonished when they sufficiently recovered from their surprise to realize that some of the Industrial stocks had fallen twenty per cent.

Since yesterday's closing and that the remainder of the day was a matter of time. An excited broker remarked that the results of the "Black Friday" of twenty years ago would be nothing compared with today's.

He also remarked that he knew for a fact that there had been one million dollars sent from Montreal to New York and Chicago in the first few hours since the beginning of the present year.

Most of this money, he said, if not all of it, had been lost in the widely fluctuating market. He said that he could have no idea of the extent to which speculation had been indulged in by Montrealers, but he was sure that some of which he considered nothing more nor less than a downright swindle.

Those brokers who lost money did not do so by speculation, but by the sale on account of the inability of many of their clients to respond to their calls for margins.

Some of the brokers are known to have been interested in the failure of the firm of stockbrokers of Henry Allen & Company. One gentleman, who admitted having lost a large sum of money, said that Montrealers were interested to the tune of a quarter of a million dollars.

But that figure is probably about the mark. Among those who have suffered by the slump in New York are one or two contractors who had the putting down of a number of permanent sidewalks on various streets in Montreal.

One contractor who had the putting down of a number of permanent sidewalks on various streets in Montreal, said that he had lost a large sum of money in the deal.

Some of the local sugar magnates who made a pile out of "sugar" in the recent boom of that stock in New York, have also dropped all their profits and many thousands more. In fact, it is no exaggeration to say that a few hundred Montreal speculators in the market have suffered more or less severely in the recent break.

A broker said to-day that from ten to fifteen million dollars were being sent from his office daily for some weeks past for New York. Here is an extract from a letter from a New York firm to Montreal:

"We are sorry to hear that you have received a receipt of money which they had telegraphed yesterday. 'No one appreciates more than we do the shrinkage is hard on every one. We are doing the best we can, but confidence is badly shaken, and big margins have to be kept on all stocks. The market is very nervous, and realtors interested in such stocks as Western Union, Wabash and Duluth and, unfortunately, the most of them seem to have 'got stuck' in the market."

The following circular was sent to each shareholder of the Consumers Cordage Company to-day:

"We beg to notify you that the failure of the National Cordage Company, which is in no way affected by the Consumers Cordage Company, or injured in its earning power, there being no association between the two organizations."

The usual quarterly dividend of 1 p. c. will be paid June 15 to 15 p. c. to the Consumers Cordage Company, Ltd.

A bank manager speaking on the situation to-day said that so far as the local stock market was concerned he had no fear of any trouble. Montreal, he said, had been a considerable holder of the securities of the company, and he had taken a big tumble. Of course, he added, if some of those people who had lost money in New York were forced to sell their local stocks, it would be a matter of loss, the market might weaken a little, but nothing of any consequence would result. He hoped, however, that the market at the bottom of all the trouble in New York.

Since the crisis, $150,000 has been sent by Montreal to New York, and it is believed that the situation, yesterday's New York Stockholder says: "The liquidation of the past few days appears to be part of an object lesson in the best way to be hoped, will not extend beyond Wall street. Paying big dividends on the National Cordage Company, and the prospects of obtaining ordinary profits in the market and an underdone bank account."

The Beauharnois canal and 4 barges with 60,000 bushels at Cornwall, on the way down. As a result of the canal blockade here, wheat is reaching Chicago that the port of Kingston was blocked with grain, and that the blockade could not be raised till May 20. This would have the effect of driving wheat from Kingston, but there is of course no blockade there.
