Summer Fun Club Now In Full Swing At Westmount "Y"

The Summer Fun Club, Westmount Y.M.C.A.'s August program for boys 9 to 16 years of age, was officially started last week. Following a brief registration session, the Club wasted no time in getting on with the program.

A "Water Party," conducted by Douglas Seller, Program Director, started off the chain of special events which marked the first week of the Fun Club. Movies, trips, tours, crafts, sing songs, swimming programs and swimming instruction were included in the week's activities.

Two highlights of the first week were a tractor competition and a marathon 6-hour bike race. The tractor competition was won by the Braves with Jim Atkinson's hand-made tractor going the longest distance. Second was the Bedoinks tractor made by Peter White, and in third place was Bill Johnstone's of the Apaches. These toy tractors were made by the boys in their craft sessions.

In the marathon bike race, the Bedoinks, led by such speedsters as Pierre Carriere and Don Seller, flashed by the finish flags with a one-lap lead.

One of the main features of the Club this week was a trip to Central Y.M.C.A. to participate in a City-wide Inter-"Y" Swim Meet. The Westmount swimmers proved too much for the other "Y"s, and captured the meet with a total of 51 points. N.D.G. Branch was second with 46 points.

Participate in Summer Program

Janet and Jane McArthur participate in the summer program for pre-school children held at Murray Park. Nearly 30 Westmount mothers banded together under the aid of the Recreation Department of the city and formulated a program for their children. A 15 minute splash period in the wading pool was part of the schedule.

Brig. DeLalanne States Training Courses to Start

A meeting of Westmount Civil Defence Wardens was held in the offices of the local organization at the Westmount Athletic Building on Tuesday night, under the chairmanship of District Chief Warden Brigadier J. A. DeLalanne.

Attending the meeting were: His Worship Mayor J. A. Cameron, T. J. Hughes, City Manager, Chief of Police R. A. Byford, N. T. Dawe, Col. R. D. Harkness, J. H. Drummond Ross, Brigadier A. E. D. Tremain, Jacques Senecal, F. E. H. Gates, N. A. Fellowes, G. B. Puddicombe, K.C., W. H. Carling, and Lieut.-Col. P. W. Cook, Director Civil Defence for Westmount.

The meeting decided to go ahead with the Training Course for Wardens, the question of the timing and organization of the Course to be decided by the Civil Defence Planning Committee under direction of Brig. DeLalanne at an early date.

Post areas were finally fixed and the corresponding maps are in process of preparation. The next step said Brig. DeLalanne is for Sector Wardens to appoint their Post Wardens. Approximately fifty Post Wardens are needed in Westmount.

Citizens who have already volunteered for service as Wardens will be contacted within the next few weeks by their Sector Wardens. A handbook of Warden Responsibilities and Duties is in the course of preparation and will be ready for distribution by the time the Courses commence.

Brig. DeLalanne remarked that the Group and Sector Wardens already appointed have been most generous in giving of their time during the summer months in working out an organization which will come into full swing just after Labor Day. He said it was a tribute to the public spirit of Westmount citizens that so much work has been done during the summer season.

The proposed Training Syllabus for the Warden Section has been issued by the local civil defence office. The lectures and instructional periods will take about six weeks with two evenings per week being taken up. Each evening will be broken into two separate periods.

District Administrative Control

The courses will be taken by all wardens up to and including Sector Wardens.

The proposed syllabus which looks very comprehensive is as follows:

- a) Civil Defence Organization:
 1. C.D. and local organization, 2 periods.
- b) Warden Section:
 1. Organization, 1 period (Air Raid Warning Technique, Household Register).
 2. Duties, 2 periods (Organization of Self Help parties, Knowledge of area, Security).
 3. Warden Post (Installation and area), 1 period.
- c) Pre-disaster Operational Responsibilities of Wardens:
 1. Log Book, Channel of Communication, Messages Technique and Exercise: 2 periods.
 2. A.B.C. Warfare generally: 1 period.

Community Nursery Idea In Murray Park Works

A group of Westmount mothers have just accomplished the impossible by successfully putting across their summer program for pre-school children.

About 20 mothers banded together under the leadership of Mrs. N. E. Brown, recreation supervisor, to create a program whereby they could leave their children off at Murray Park each morning.

Unique and untried, this program caused the eyebrows of the city fathers to shoot up in scepticism. But pessimism was a poor substitute for the imaginations of these ladies.

Tied down by their toddlers in the hot, and humid weather they were looking for something that would be an "A1" substitute to a cottage in the country plus a nursemaid.

Ever try to do the week's shopping with a couple of screaming youngsters sampling the cherries and cookies in the store at every chance? Ever try to do the morning's housework and worry about those toddlers out on the street? Well, the solution was a dilly. All the mothers had to do was to take the youngsters to the park and leave them there to romp and play.

Every morning of the week from Monday to Friday, 9 to 11:30, they would be left off at Murray Park with as many as 47 other toddlers their own age.

The only catch was that four of the mothers had to volunteer to help each day with the supervising. If they failed to appear to take their turn their youngsters were barred from the fun.

It was a picture of democracy at work. The mothers, French and English speaking, represented the Catholic and Protestant Home and School Associations of Westmount as well as a corresponding group of Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue.

They formulated their own program, supervised the children. White identification hats were given all the youngsters to wear while in the park.

The morning's program consisted of a song period, rest and refreshment, a dip in the wading

Women's Army May Locate On Westmount Site

It is learned that the Department of National Defence has under consideration the purchase of one or two buildings on Sherbrooke street, near Greene avenue.

If either of the buildings is purchased it is understood that it would be used to house the newly created Canadian Women's Army Corps.

Whether the premises would be used as a barracks or merely as a headquarters for the corps is not clear.

It will be recalled that what is now St. Sulpice Barracks M.D. No. 4 Headquarters of the Quebec Command on Atwater Avenue was purchased from Roman Catholic Church authorities at the beginning of the last war.

The St. Sulpice Barracks were used by the C.W.A.C. and proved to be very suitable after considerable alterations had been effected.

Presumably the properties being considered on Sherbrooke Street would require considerable remodelling before being found satisfactory for the Women's Army.

Mountain Top is Warmer Than Lower Westmount

The top of Westmount mountain is not so cool at night as the corner of Sherbrooke street and Victoria avenue. This is the opinion of Jeffrey, E. Aronin, a young graduate of architecture from McGill University, who is working on the problem of building houses in a climate like that of Montreal.

Mr. Aronin graduated from the University of Manitoba with a bachelor of architecture degree and is an associate of the American Institute of Architects. His first project, a recreation centre in New York City, is already under construction.

There are many who will violently disagree with the statement of the young architect but the finding was not arrived at until a number of tests had been made.

10-degree Difference

Mr. Aronin said that on a hot summer night he and his assistants noted a difference of 10 degrees between the temperature of Avenue and Sherbrooke Street, and the top of Sunnyside Avenue — a distance of three quarters of a mile.

"It was ten degrees hotter on Sunnyside," he said. He explained that after the direct rays of the sun had been removed the "cool air rests on the slopes of the mountain, and then flows downwards forming pools of cool air lower down."

Mr. Aronin said that houses could be built in such a way that they could catch the maximum benefit of these streams of cool air which start coming down the mountain about an hour after sunset.

"If you want to be really cool in the day time the logical place to go is a park," he said "and that is not only because it looks cool, but because the grass and the trees do not absorb nearly as much heat as buildings, and also because they evaporate water and generate their own kind of refrigeration."

Handicraft Work Now On Display At Museum

A striking exhibition of Indian handicraft work is now on view at the historical museum at Carillon. The collection has been loaned for the season by the Canadian Handicraft Guild. In the words of the Guild circular:

"The purpose of this exhibition is to show the native arts of Canadian Indians, as they were, and as they are today . . . The exhibits are arranged in Tribal groups, beginning with the Algonquian and Iroquois peoples of the Eastern woodlands . . . and ending with those of the West Coast."

Of special beauty and interest are baskets of extraordinarily delicate workmanship, exquisite porcupine-quill embroideries, elaborate bead work and varieties of leather work. The exhibition is of outstanding educational value as a colorful record of ancient and modern skills which are a distinctive element in our Canadian heritage.

 The Ale of Good Taste

I Remember
 By G. P. SMITH

A series of articles by a retired coach and physical director recalling great athletes and great teams. Mr. Smith was 32 years of Westmount High as director of physical education (boys), and concurrently 28 years at McGill as wrestling coach.

In Westmount it was surprising to find so many members of the same families following along in the footsteps of their older brothers and in most cases they showed athletic ability but were complete opposites in their manner of playing and temperament. One thing is common they all had, once roused, was the will to win.

As the first example to come under my notice were the Wallace brothers. Wilf was a high strung type and a terrific competitor whereas Norm was much more placid yet played a good game in football and hockey. There were the Chisholmes with tiny Dunc very quiet, but a ball of fire at O. S. followed by Gavin, an easy going type while the other brother Harry was the chatty type and in there fighting - all the time.

The Murphy's, son of McA., one of the finest sports I ever met. Gordon, the oldest, was tall and placid while Herby was a ball of fire competing every second he was on the field or ice, this was the cause in most cases of his fumbling. He was followed by Horace, a good man to have around when the going was tough, and then there were the Riddell's (sons of the well-known Jimmy) Tommy, the oldest, was short and very cagy, always playing the angles; followed by Jimmy, a very quiet type with a good boot, followed in turn by Johnny, much the same type as Jimmy. Then came Ramsey, the tearing eyes-closed-type, smashing his way through.

Phillips Brothers
 The Phillips brothers, Henry, with his fiery temper and wings on his feet in hockey, followed by Johnny and Doug, both quiet and much the same type. Then the Christie's, Mowatt, tall and mother nature was putting on for them.

The wading pool was the most successful item on the agenda. Frolicking in the water for fifteen minutes brought the French children along the point of where they were soon trying out their English. There was nothing backward about Paul. He was the extrovert of the bunch and found his favorite outlet in yanking the tresses of a little girl. This teaser came quickly into line when told the girl might drown in the pool if he didn't look after her. The change was magic and soon he was the most responsible of the group. With the program coming to a close these Westmount mothers can look back on an idea successfully carried out to their own benefit and the development of their children.

The Hamilton's, Alex and his younger brother, Alex, like Donnie Smith, was a top scholar as well as athlete. Donnie's younger brother Angus was always around sports as manager, but never participated. The Nicolson's, John and Bill, were good sports with dynamite, Bill the standout short and stocky; I have seen players in tackling go right over Bill's head as he hit low and went under them. The Small's, with Doug the standout, following in the footsteps of his well-known dad, Walter, while Bruce was more the student with sport as a Jack and Art, were opposites with Jack the more rugged of the two. The Crombie's were another rugged family of athletes, George, followed by Jim and John, better known as Bones. They were all terrific competitors and were in the game every minute they were playing. The Markham's were of different temperaments, both quiet-spoken but Wally the standout, both at school and later at McGill.

Space will not permit me to mention all families. The Crite's boys, Gordon, Doug, George and Jim were all six feet or over and were a great sporting family likewise the Glickman's Lorrie and Joe, the latter a three-letter man, and one of the best.

Heredity's Part
 While I am on the subject of families it is a good time to talk about the part I have found heredity seems to play in the makeup of athletes. As a shining example we will take the case of Murray Patrick, son of the well-known Lester. When Murray came to the school he was 17 years old and had not been on skates for a number of years. After playing standout football and basketball he came out with the hockey squad. At the first practice he was like a person who had never been on skates before. At that time the rule called for us to declare six boys as seniors before the first league game, and they could not be used on the B team. When I sent Murray's name in as one of the six I received my first criticism from the principal, who said, "Huh, you must have known his father." My answer was, "Yes, and I knew him as one of the best hockey players of his day or any other."

In the middle of the season Murray was a standout, at the end he was an all star, the next season he played on New York Rovers, then the following season on the Phil. Ramblers; and before the season was over, he moved up to the Rangers. Doug Small, like Murray, was a natural with heredity playing its part.

The distaff side of the family often showed its influence when I would wonder why certain boys developed so quickly and in inquiring the maiden name of their mother I would find she was the sister or a close relative of some of the older great athletic families.

Jim Macken New B.C. Tennis Champ

Jim Macken formerly of Westmount now residing in Vancouver won the British Columbia tennis singles championship on Saturday. Jim who is a brother of Brendan the Davis Cup player played brilliantly to defeat Jim Skelton in straight sets 7-5, 6-4 and 6-1. Tennis experts on the coast think that Jim Macken was the "forgotten man" when the Canadian Davis Cup selectors named the 1951 squad. Since moving to Vancouver last year Jim has cleaned up most of the major tennis trophies in B.C.

Blaze On Boulevard Started By Torches

The Westmount Fire Department responded to a call Monday when a house under construction on The Boulevard took fire. The authorities said the blaze was caused by the neglectful use of welding torches by the workers. The heat from the torches started a fire in the walls and attic. One stream was used to combat the blaze and damage was slight.

Gordon E. Findlay Died In Accidental Fall From Yacht

Funeral services for Gordon E. Findlay, 53, who died accidentally Saturday, of 4180 Kensington Ave. was held Wednesday in the Jos. C. Wray & Bro. chapel, Mountain street.

A prominent insurance broker and sportsman, Mr. Findlay drowned when he fell overboard from his yacht at St. Andrew's East.

He was born and educated in Montreal and was a former football and swimming champion. While overseas in 1917 with the Canadian Corps, Second Division, he won the Canadian Corps breast stroke swimming championship at Antwerp.

Back in Canada, he played on the M.A.A.A. football team which won the Inter-Provincial Football League championship in 1919. He was a member of the team until 1922.

Mr. Findlay joined his father in the fire insurance business in 1920 and became manager of the Springfield Group of Fire Insurance Companies. He retired two years ago.

At the start of the last war he was a company commander with the Royal Montreal Regiment, Reserve Battalion, but retired soon afterwards.

An ardent yachtsman, Mr. Findlay was a past commodore of the Hudson Yacht Club. He was a life member of the M.A.A.A. and a member of the Whitlock Golf Club and the United Services Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Greeba Williamson; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Odell, and a brother, Douglas Findlay.

Calling All Parents

Two-year-old Alexander Townsend likes the wide open spaces. He was found clad in his pyjamas wandering in Westmount Park on Friday night by the police after he had quietly slipped out of his home without the maid knowing. Alex looks as if he might make a good F.B.I. man as he plays with the interesting gadgets in the Westmount Police Station on Stanton avenue.

A Young Man Likes Night Life in Westmount Park

Two-year-old Alexander Townsend found the door of his house open about 7 o'clock and decided to take a stroll barefoot in Westmount Park clad only in his bright yellow pyjamas. He wound up in the Westmount Police Station.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Townsend, of 331 Lansdowne avenue, didn't know anything about Alexander's adventure until they came home at midnight and found the tot's bed empty. Also unaware was the family maid, who thought young Alex sound asleep in his cot.

While every agency was trying to find the parents, the little fellow ate ice-cream and biscuits, drank milk and strove to understand the big men in blue who spoke such a strange language.

Two hours after he had been found at his favorite haunt near the park swings, Alex figured he was way past his bedtime and so informed his protectors.

"He is a blue-eyed blond and as cute a new button," said Lieut. Charles Baker, the duty officer "and he didn't take long to convince us."

Alex was whisked off by Sgt. Bill Smith, father of two youngsters and knowing in these ways. He and his wife took over as official "baby sitters" in their home until the expected telephone call came.

The frantic parents were assured all was well and young Alexander went back to his own cot. The adventure was over... next time the door will be locked.

U.K. Wives Real Heroes Rev. Smith Tells Rotary

A gloomy picture was presented of conditions in England by Rev. John Smith, moderator of the Congregational Union of England for the Northern Provinces, in a talk to the Westmount Rotary Club.

He said his nation was honoring the fighting men in Korea but the real heroes of the country were the housewives who had to feed their men on slim rations.

Rations for one person per week were:

- 10 oz. sugar.
- 4 oz. butter.
- 4 oz. margarine.
- 2 oz. cooking fat.
- 5 oz. bacon.
- 2 oz. tea.
- 1 1/2 oz. cheese.

Outside of this Mr. Smith said, the housewife was unable to extend herself without breaking the law or dealing with the black market.

The present situation in the U.K. allows for 10 cents worth of raw meat per person per week. He stated: "I would far from suggest that we are underfed."

The alternatives that faced the people were fish, when it could be had fresh vegetables and fruit.

He added there was also sausage, "the great mystery food, which is now more of a mystery than ever."

Rationing, he continued, was not a happy situation for his country six years after the war, especially when many neighbouring countries have long ago thrown it off.

He quoted the Ministry of Food as saying that they will have to re-educate the people as to the different values of cuts of meat, "if" rationing is ever dispensed with.

The word "export," he said, had come to have an unpleasant sound to it. There were plenty of goods being made in the country but not for the citizens.

To make matters worse large department stores featured displays of all these unavailable goods in their windows. Signs underneath said "for overseas guests only."

Mr. Smith stressed that the

The bus was driven by Morris Barabe, of 6590 Denormandville Street.

Failure To Signal Causes Collision

A collision was reported by the Westmount Police last week involving two cars driven by Vincent Pritchard, 23, of 1421 Mackay Street, and Mrs. A. L. Ham, of 3445 Ridgewood Avenue.

U.K. Wives...

problem went deeper than the question of economics or the domestic situation. "We cannot live apart from the politics of the country," he declared. The whole manner of life in the U.K. had undergone a social revolution since the end of the war. A philosophy of humanitarianism had moved in. "Good as it is, he stated, "it is inadequate to meet the needs of humans, for man is more than a mere human." In trying to encourage equality among men, he continued, the philosophy of "jack is as good as his master had run riot." He finished by stating the U.K. had emerged from the war full of high hopes, hope that the regimented way of life would end, hope that hate and ill-will would be banished. The only thing that upheld the British people, he said, was faith from abroad and faith in themselves. The speaker was introduced by Jack Burrows and thanked by Borden Empey. Robert Edwards introduced the visiting Rotarians.

Mail Unstamped Is Not Delivered, New P.O. Ruling

The postal authorities are getting tougher. From last Thursday the Post Office decided to drop hundreds of thousands of free-loading letter writers.

From now on if you forget to put a stamp on your letter it will not be delivered. The men in charge of the Dead Letter Office are going to have their business doubled.

For every letter sent to the mails without stamps will go there, or go right back to the sender — if he's been indiscreet enough to put his address on it.

In the past the Post Office tried to get its money back by delivering stampless mail and asking the recipient to dig up the stamp money.

No stamps — no delivery, is the new edict.

However, the postmaster general has relented in the case of individuals who at least make a gesture of stamping their missives. If your mail bears insufficient postage — but at least one stamp — it will be delivered and the person you send it to will be asked, as usual, to make up the difference.

The new policy was laid down in the new Post Office Act adopted at the last session of Parliament. It is expected to go into effect immediately.

New Name On Way For Homoeopathic

A bylaw has been enacted by the board of management of the Homoeopathic Hospital of Montreal to change its name to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital of Montreal, it was announced today.

This bylaw was recommended to a special meeting of the corporation of the hospital Thursday for ratification, sanction and confirmation.

W. Hatch, administrator, explained that this was the necessary procedure in order to apply to the Provincial Government for an amendment to the act incorporating the hospital.

Twenty Five Per Cent Of C.W.A.C. are Married

Westmount girls are well represented in the recruit class of the Canadian Women's Army Corps now undergoing basic training at the Royal Montreal Regiment's Armoury on St. Catherine street. Sgt.-Major Harry Hesketh, chief instructor, told The Examiner that over 20 of the total class of 70 girls are from Westmount. Quite a rush of applicants followed in the wake of an article which appeared in our issue of July 20, Sgt.-Major Hesketh said.

While all training is carried out in Westmount the women volunteers are carried on the strength of No. 104 C.W.A.C. company. Women who wish to join up should make application to M.D. 4 recruiting office at 772 Sherbrooke Street, W.

Asked what was the average age of the group, Sgt.-Major Hesketh said he thought it would be about 25 years. Ages in the recruit class run from 19 to 41, which is the age limit for women.

About 25% of the 70 enrolled are married. A married woman with children will not be enlisted unless she can prove that a responsible person is looking after her children, the sergeant-major explained.

Training is carried on at the R.M.R. Armoury two nights a week, Mondays and Thursdays. Assisting Sgt.-Major Hesketh, who is permanent force instructor attached to the regiment, is C.S.M. Joe Tetrault of the reserve. Lieut. Ford is the C.W.A.C. officer in charge of the women's detachment.

Everything a soldier needs to know is taught the women recruits including foot drill, map reading, auto driving, gas instruction, record keeping and a host of other subjects. No musketry instruction is given but the women will be shown how to fire a rifle just in case. It is expected that some of the recruits will be inducted into the active force in the near future. In the meantime emphasis is being placed on the requirements of the Air Force and Navy for women volunteers.

When brass or nickel lighting fixtures become worn and dull, give them a coat of quick-drying enamel either in ivory or a tint to match the color schemes of the room. Usually one coat is sufficient.

Belmont Ave. Lady Suffers Injuries In Car Accident

Mrs. Margot Ujhily, of 611 Belmont Avenue, was treated for injuries suffered in a collision between two cars on Lansdowne Avenue last week. She suffered abrasions of both legs and contusions of the head.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Rene Chenevert, 24, of 598 Lansdowne Avenue. Mr. Chenevert had pulled his car up at the curb to let his passengers out when the collision occurred.

The other auto was driven by Jean Roy, of 3981 Lacombe Avenue.

T. R. McLagan Mentioned As New C.S.L. President

T. Rodgie McLagan, of 44 Sunnyside avenue, son of the late P. R. McLagan, a former Mayor of Westmount, will become next president of Canada Steamship Lines according to a report from well informed circles on Tuesday. Mr. McLagan will succeed Col. K. R. Marshall who has held the post for the last three years.

Mr. McLagan, 54, now president and general manager of Canadian Vickers, Ltd., Montreal shipbuilding firm, will, in his new job, direct one of Canada's largest industrial empires. Canada Steamship Lines operate a fleet of about 75 ships on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River, in addition to owning five shipyards in Ontario and Quebec.

Besides this connection with Canadian Vickers, Mr. McLagan is a director of several companies including the Electric Boat Co. of New York and its Montreal subsidiary, Canadair, Ltd.; Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Montreal Drydock, Ltd., and Commercial Alcohols, Ltd. He also is president of the Canadian Shipbuilding and Ship Repairing Co.

Physical Science McGill Building Will Be Opened

The new Physical Sciences Centre of McGill University will be opened formally on the afternoon of Oct. 5, it has been announced. Details concerning the ceremony for the opening of the $2,500,000 building have not yet been settled.

The centre has been in use since last spring when a number of learned societies used it as meeting headquarters. Research work has taken place in metallurgy, geology, mining, chemical engineering and other sciences in the laboratories and lecture rooms.

Construction began less than 18 months ago, and the corner stone was laid by Lady Alexander, wife of the Governor-General, in May of last year.

The centre is a three-storey building flanked by the old physics and chemistry centres which have been remodelled and connected with the new building.

When the autumn session of the university begins at the end of September there will be accommodation for 1,200 students in the centre. Some 700 will use the lecture rooms and 500 will use the laboratories.

POTATOES, BANANAS, DEARER

Housewives At Wits' End To Stretch Family Budget

The man who wrote the words for the song hit of the 1920's "Potatoes Are Cheaper, Bananas Are Cheaper, Now's The Time to Fall in Love" would have to find another title for a song today.

A young married woman, with a baby in a push cart, shopping in one of Westmount's food chain stores on Saturday was overheard telling her friend "what I have in the basket will only last until the middle of the week and all I have left for housekeeping is two dollars."

There is a mistaken opinion that Westmount residents are all wealthy. While it is probably quite true that the wealth of Montreal is concentrated in Westmount it is equally true that the big majority of residents belong to the white collar class with fixed incomes—the class which is hardest hit by spiraling prices.

The latest index of living costs published in another column of this issue, shows that prices are still rising and furthermore that Montreal and district again heads the list, as the most expensive place to live in Canada. The index is dated as at July 1 and does not take into account the increase in rent most families will have to pay as from August 1.

Westmount housewives, already hard pressed to stretch the family budget, can look forward to more stretching if present indications are any guide. When the Canadian Legion pointed out to Mr. Abbott, Finance Minister, last year that the removal of controls on rents and other commodities would result in hardships and more inflation they were closer to the button than governmental departmental experts, who stated that with removal of controls, prices would find their own levels.

What these levels will eventually be is anybody's guess, but unless firm action is taken and prices rolled back to those prevailing at the end of the Second World War the Canadian Dollar will soon be worth less than fifty cents by comparison.

Patriotic citizens who invested in War Bonds and held on to them are amongst those hardest hit as the purchasing power of their dollar has persistently dwindled.

It may be difficult to sell future issues of Bonds unless some action is taken to re-establish the value of the dollar.

There is a great danger that what happened in Germany at the close of the First World War may happen here. It will be recalled that the Germans immediately turned moneys received into commodities whether they needed that kind of goods or not. Commodities held their values whereas the value of the mark changed from hour to hour. Apartment buildings in Berlin were sold for as little as one dollar in United States currency which goes to prove just what inflation, if not controlled, may also do here to a once stable currency.

In the meantime it is the head of the family and more particularly the housewife who has to face the ever rising cost of living.

The recent debacle in the wool market is positive proof that the reported shortages in raw wool were fictitious. People were panicked into buying woolen articles in the spring under the pretext that by fall there would be no woolen goods available. Result, there is an abundance of wool on the market and prices have dropped.

Government action is long overdue—profiteering must be curbed and stock-piling waiting for a rise in prices ruled out.

BURNS WAS RIGHT

The Editor,
The Examiner.

Sir,
How smug can one get? After reading the letter by Phyllis Lee Peterson, in your last issue regarding Westmount's anti-rooming house by-law I give up. How any one with a spark of human kindness can try to defend a law which will turn many nice people, many of them old and infirm, into the streets is beyond my comprehension of what the Christian life means.

It is all very well telling people that this is an old by-law passed some six or seven years ago and that consequently plenty of warning was given. World War II has been over for about the same length of time and there are still many of our fighting men trying to find accommodation they can afford, without very much help from those who stayed at home and profited.

I think the letter by "Mitch" which appeared in a local daily expressed the Westmount situation well. The writer pleaded for tolerance for the less fortunate. It seems to me that the area above Sherbrooke street has been designed as the stepping stone for higher places in our social order. The nearer you get to the summit the nearer you get to within speaking distance of the great.

It is indeed a pity that some of the elderly persons forced to move once lived in some of the mansions in that part of Westmount but through reverses of fortune are reduced to living in one room in a less pretentious section of the City.

Maybe some of those who are supporting the by-law may find themselves in the same position at some future date.

I am not being vindictive when I say I hope so.

I admire Montreal in the stand taken that this is no time to enforce by-laws such as the one in Westmount. The Montreal authorities point to the present shortage of accommodation which looks like existing for some time to come.

It is very nice and smug to stand up in church on Sunday mornings and sing "The Lord is my shepherd" but for the most part this would appear to be lip service only.

Burns was right when he said "Man's inhumanity to man has made countless thousands mourn."

This Peach Ice Cream Is Nut Crunchy Type

This ice cream (with its chunky pieces of crunchy walnut distributed through the crystal-free peach ice) can be piled into segments of luscious melon.

Yield—8 servings.

Combine 2 teaspoons plain gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water. Measure into a saucepan 3 cups cut-up peeled ripe peaches, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/4 cup corn syrup.

Bring slowly to the boil, stirring until the sugar dissolves; remove from heat and press through a coarse sieve. Add gelatine to hot peach mixture and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Cool thoroughly. Stir in 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 spoon almond extract, 1 pint (2 1/2 cups) 18 per cent cream.

Turn into freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator and freeze until firm, stirring once or twice—the cold control of the refrigerator should be set at its coldest point.

While ice cream is freezing, melt 1 tablespoon butter. Stir in 1/4 cup broken walnuts and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until nuts are slightly browned; stir in 2 tablespoons brown sugar and cook, stirring constantly until sugar is melted and bubbly. Cool thoroughly, stirring often.

Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm, stirring once.

When ice cream is firm, break up with a fork and turn into a chilled bowl; beat with a rotary beater until smooth and fluffy. Fold in nuts.

When ice cream is frozen, turn cold control to a point which will keep ice cream at desired consistency.

He acts entirely by and with the advice of his Ministry, which is responsible to Parliament, and as acting head of the Executive he summons, prorogues and dissolves Parliament, and assents to or reserves bills.

Checking Points For Washing Machine

If your conventional (wringer and spinner-type) washer doesn't run well:

1. Did you accidentally pull the plug?
2. Is machine overloaded causing a fuse to be blown?
3. Is circuit overloaded and a fuse blown?
4. If washer has a timer control, is control set in right position?
5. If washer has been standing in cold room, let tub stand full of warm water for a few hours before using in order to soften grease in mechanism.

If tub doesn't drain:

1. Did you clean drain screen?
2. Did you drain water from pump the last time you used the washer? This prevents damage by freezing if washer is stored in a cold place.
3. If pressure on wringer roll is poor:

QUICK CANADIAN QUIZ

3. In order, what are the five leading manufacturing provinces?
4. Ottawa spends how much per week as interest on the public debt?
5. In value of production, what are our leading minerals?

ANSWERS. 5. Gold, copper, nickel. 3. Ont., Que., B.C., Man., Alta. 1. At least once a year. 4. Almost $9 million. 2. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar.

To supply all the energy he expends in his strenuous life, a teenager needs extra food. Basically, it may be the same food as for those a little younger but should be in larger quantities. When he comes home after school, he usually demands food. The snack he gets should be sufficient to carry him over to his next regular meal but not to spoil his appetite for more important food.

Pent Up Lovers Now Able To Pen Perfumed Phrases

Those sweet-sounding phrases in letters from Japan will smell just as fragrant when written with the newly invented "perfumed pen."

Actually the "pen" is a writing brush. The inventor, a brush-maker in Imamachi, figured out a device which releases a gradual flow of perfume into the ink. The fragrance is supposed to last six months.

Weir Brown, of Westmount, and Mr. Hosking, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hosking, of Bathurst, N.B.

HOSKING-BROWN

Ferns and standards of multi-colored gladioli formed an attractive setting for the marriage at four o'clock Saturday afternoon of Miss Johanne Beatrice Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Weir Brown of Westmount, and Mr. Ronald Benjamin Hosking, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hosking, of Bathurst, N.B. Rev. Clifford Knowles conducted the ceremony at Calvary United Church, Westmount.

Miss Vera Jamieson was the organist and Miss Julia Anne Holden sang "The Lord's Prayer" and, during the signing of the register, "Trough the Years."

Miss Margery Leslie of Westmount was maid of honor, with Miss Sibyl Hosking, sister of the bridegroom, of Bathurst, N.B., and Mrs. Edgar Clarke, of Montreal, as the bride's other attendants. Mr. John Hosking of Guelph, Ont., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Mr. John Steele, of Ottawa, and Mr. Montague Huckle of St. Laurent.

The bride wore a full-skirted gown of ivory satin that falls into a short train. The bodice of Chantilly lace had sleeves tapering to points over the hands and a stand-up collar with small points in the front. The bodice was trimmed with many small buttons down the back. Her fingertip veil of hand-embroidered nylon net was caught to a sequin-trimmed Chantilly lace headpiece. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli with red rosebuds and white heather sent from Scotland. She was given in marriage by her father.

The maid of honor's floor-length dress of daffodil yellow had a taffeta bodice and skirt of nylon marquisette over taffeta, with tiny puff sleeves and a low neckline trimmed with a ruffle of nylon. Her small headband in a matching ruffle was trimmed with small yellow flowers and her gloves were in matching tone.

The other attendants wore similar gowns of nylon over taffeta, Miss Hosking being gowned in aqua, and Mrs. Clarke in pink. All of the attendants carried bouquets of multi-colored gladioli.

The bride's mother floor-length gown was of pearl grey crepe with matching hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a floor-length gown of turquoise crepe faille with navy blue hat and accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harris, and daughter Margaret, are leaving on Saturday to spend a holiday at Ocean Park, Maine, U.S.A.

Lyon W. Jacobs, K.C., and Mrs. Jacobs are vacationing at resorts in the vicinity of Boston, Mass.

Among the hostesses who entertained in honor of Miss Jeanne Rae, prior to her marriage to Mr. David Harding, was Mrs. Wm. Matheson, of N.D.G., who held a picnic party and presentation.

Showers held recently in honor of Miss Margaret Brown, bride-elect, include a cup-and-saucer shower given by Mrs. Arthur Brown in Valois; a kitchen shower given by Miss Olive Brooke in Valois; and a crystal shower by the bride-to-be's co-workers in the sales division of the Northern Electric Company.

Roy, chairman of the Liesse Hunt Horse Show, entertained at the Club House, recently, for the members of the committee for the annual horse show which will be held on Saturday and Sunday, September 15 and 16, in aid of the Canadian Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Mrs. J. W. Davies, Queen of the Daughters of the Nile, has been vacationing at Grey Rocks Inn, St. Jovite, and recently met the Weston group of British girls who are visiting Canada under the leadership of Mrs. Odette Churchill. The girls, Mrs. Davies says, have enjoyed the golf, the lake and the riding, and maybe most of all, the steaks and other food they have no opportunity to enjoy in meat-rationed Britain. Incidentally, the annual flower show for the district opened yesterday in the Parochial Hall, St. Jovite.

Baked Pork Butt Saves Time In Menu Plans

Baked pork butt and vegetables make delicious hot-weather meals.

These are Roman holidays for vegetable lovers. Garden truck is plentiful and cheap and full of flavor. Try to think up new ways to prepare them. For example, heat tiny boiled new potatoes in seasoned sour cream . . . dress up green beans with a can of sliced broiled mushrooms and a piquant touch of vinegar.

Baked Pork Butt

(4 servings, twice, plus a little more)

Three-pound smoked pork butt, 1 1/2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tablespoons catsup, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 1 clove garlic, minced.

Remove wrapping from pork butt and wipe thoroughly with a damp cloth. Place on rack in shallow baking pan. Blend together the remaining ingredients and brush over the outside of the pork butt. Place pork in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., and bake until thoroughly hot, about one and a quarter hours. Cut in slices and serve.

Green Beans With Mushrooms
(4 servings)

Three-quarters pound green beans, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 clove garlic, minced, 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon vinegar.

Cut beans diagonally in one-inch lengths. Melt fat over moderate heat in saucepan. Add garlic and cook 1 minute. Add contents of can of mushrooms and the beans. Bring to boil. Cook, covered, over low heat until beans are barely tender, about 15 minutes. Blend together cornstarch, salt and vinegar. Add to beans and let heat thoroughly. Serve immediately.

A large smoked mild cured pork butt fits perfectly into hot weather menu planning. It can be served hot the first time, in chef's salad the next time and finally browned to go with breakfast eggs.

One difference between youth and age is the conception of what constitutes the silver lining.

Heirloom lace fashioned the cap and edging of her fingertip veil. She carried a shower bouquet of chrysanthemum daisies.

The maid of honor was gowned in yellow pique, while the bridesmaids were dressed in aqua piqué. All wore matching bandeaux trimmed with daisies and carried baskets of white and yellow daisies.

Mrs. Smeaton, the bride's mother, chose a dusty rose crepe dress trimmed with lace and seed pearls, and a small café-au-lait velvet hat. To her seed pearl bag was fastened a gardenia.

Mrs. Heron, the bridegroom's mother, in mist blue crepe with matching French lace jacket and corsage of pink carnations, wore a black velvet hat and black accessories.

Distinguished US Couple Plan to Visit Toronto

Mrs. George Marshall will accompany her husband, General Marshall, U.S. Secretary of Defense, when he visits Toronto August 24. Mrs. Marshall will be guest of honor at several social events in the Queen City.

Katherine Tupper Brown Marshall is the General's second wife, having married him in 1930. His first wife and childhood sweetheart, Elizabeth Carter Coles, died three years earlier.

Mrs. Marshall is described as gracious, sensitive and capable and is credited with having helped her husband immensely during the war by keeping an efficient, quiet house. Her son, Allen, one of three children, was killed on the Anzio beachhead while serving as a second lieutenant with the U.S. First Armored Division.

The Marshall's favorite home is their country place, a five-acre estate known as Dodona Manor in Leesburg, Virginia. It was built by a nephew of George Washington in 1754 and is constructed of white-painted handmade bricks with wooden lintels and a tin roof.

Here they had planned to retire and enjoy gardening together, when President Truman recalled the General to become Secretary of Defense. Earlier General Marshall served as Secretary of State and later as U.S. Ambassador to China.

The daughter of a minister, Mrs. Marshall, has written a book, "Together," the annals of an Army wife.

"At War With the Army" Tops Bill at the Monkland Theatre Sat.

Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, hailed as the screen's newest and funniest comedy team after their sensational performances in "My Friend Irma" and "My Friend Irma Goes West," are on the loose again in their latest starring vehicle, Paramount's "At War With The Army."

The screwball comics are cast as two trouble-making GIs who subject the army to the sternest test it has ever known. Before their hitch is through, there is talk of adding a sixth side to the Pentagon building to deal with their hilarious misadventures.

Lewis, the uninhibited clown whose incredibly flexible face does everything but spell words, plays a tattered private with a high sense of duty and a low IQ. Martin, the handsome baritone with the free-and-easy manner is a rank-conscious sergeant who keeps one eye on the girls and the other one on Jerry. Together, they are said to rollic through a series of side-splitting complications that leave their commanding officer tottering on the brink of collapse, and the audience weak with laughter.

Added Attraction

"The Enforcer," a drama starring Humphrey Bogart in the title role, comes to the Monkland screen on Saturday.

The United States Pictures Production, distributed by Warner Bros., is based on an actual series of crimes committed by a nationwide network of death. How a fearless assistant district attorney, aided by a handful of strong-armed cops, traps the leaders, hitherto immune from the law through a series of high-up ties, forms the basis of what has been termed, in advance, one of the best in recent years.

In emphasizing accuracy throughout the entire production Director Bretaigne Windust used outdoor location shots around the city of Los Angeles, covering the residential and shopping districts, the ominous underworld section and other outlying neighborhoods.

Westm't Cricket Club Scored Easy Victory Saturday

Westmount Cricket Club defeated Maisonneuve, with the West end team scoring 75 runs for the loss of only two wickets. Maisonneuve was 74. Reis was 25 not out, while Lucas accounted for 31 runs.

Maisonneuve, playing on their own ground, got into difficulties early in the game and lost 8 men for 21 runs. However Busby (19) and Osborne (14) put on a rally to take the score to 74. Kemp with 5 for 20 and Lucas with 5 for 21 were the bowlers doing the damage, the latter scoring 31 which with 25 not out by Ries pushed Westmount's total to 75 for the loss of only two wickets. Lucas was showing for Westmount for the first time and his appearance has caused dismay at Verdun who feel somewhat slighted inasmuch as he had signed up with them and turned out for practice at the hospital grounds.

The Campus was the scene of Saturday's highest scoring when McGill and Verdun knocked up over 300 runs. Batting first, McGill scored 152 for 7 before time ran out on them, leaving Liverpool with 15 not out while Rumjahn had previously scored 24. Padmore was the only Verdun bowler to show a decent average, and his two wickets cost 23 runs. Verdun were not left too much time to get the runs but Cameron (56) and Padmore (43) hammered the McGill bowling and aided by Sid Bond with 38 not out, ran their total up to 156 for 3 to take the game.

West Indians had no trouble with the Adastrians and scored 178 with Blackman (47 not out) and Wharton (41) setting the pace. The Adastrians replied with 98 of which Hardy contributed 32. For the Indians C. Lewis had 4 wickets for 18 Wharton 2 for 9 and Farley 2 for 13, Dexter being

Feathers Fly Over Wild Bird Plumage

The state moved in where husbands fear to tread.

The State Conservation commission destroyed three tons of a millinery frill.

Six "good sized roomful" of fancy feathers, bright plumage originally intended to decorate women's headgear, went up in smoke.

The feathers were collected in New York, center of the nation's millinery industry, in accordance with a 1941 law banning use of wild bird plumage. The law did not go into effect until May 15.

Conservation officials declined to estimate the value of the plumage.

Raymond Burr, who plays the important role of the district attorney in George Stevens' "A Place In The Sun," is one of the heaviest "heavys" in cinema city. He tips the scale at a hefty two-hundred-plus pounds.

"Lullaby of Broadway" Stars On Sunday at the Westmount Theatre

Broadway, Mecca of American show business, is indeed more than just a paved strip of glaring neon, spectacular animation and wide-eyed tourists straining for a glimpse of a celebrity. No, this heartbeat of the entertainment industry, glorified by the Ziegfelds and the Jolsons, may be likened to Scheherazade of the Arabian Nights — master storyteller with a thousand and one yarns about the hopes, joys and heartbreaks of those who seek their fame and fortune within its boundaries. And now, one of these fascinating tales has been set to music in a glowing screen tribute to the Great White Way.

"Lullaby of Broadway," Warner Bros. Technicolor musical extravaganza which opens Sunday at the Westmount Theatre, starring singing and dancing stars Doris Day and Gene Nelson, supported by comedians Bill De Wolfe, S. Z. Sakall and Ann Triola, and Gladys George, is the heart-warming story draped against a background of some of the most lavish production numbers ever filmed.

The picture which centers around show folk and their often hilarious attempts to make the grade, is well-laden with such all-time favorite songs as "Zing Went The Strings Of My Heart," "Somebody Loves Me," "In A Shanty In Old Shanty Town," "Just One Of Those Things" and the title tune.

Added Attraction

Based on the amazing true-experience story of a dashing undercover man, Warner Bros' "I Was a Communist For The F.B.I." is a companion feature.

The story takes Matt Cvetic, Federal operative, on a dangerous mission into the lair of an

St. Paul's fell victims to the bowling of Leonard of Wanderers whose 7 for 22 left them all out for 46. Wislon paced Wanderers and scored 22 not out in their total of 49 for 6.

Westmount Feature Sunday

High-hatter Doris Day and Gene Nelson go into their dance for a musical sequence highlighting "Lullaby Of Broadway," Warner Bros. gay comedy which begins its local engagement at the Westmount Theatre on Sunday. Billy De Wolfe and S. Z. Sakall also star in the Technicolor film.

Wild Race for Play-Off In Inter-Service League

With but two weeks of the schedule left in the Westmount Inter-Service Softball League, all playoff positions are still open, with only one team definitely out of the running, so close are the teams matched.

In games of the past week, R.M.R. lost out to W.P.F.D. on Friday night, 13 to 7, but came back strong on Tuesday night to take the measure of the R.C.E. 12 to 0.

In the other Tuesday game Chateaugay defeated R.C.A.S.C. 4 to 3.

On Friday night the W.P.F.D. had too much on the ball for the R.M.R. to compete with, banging out a total of 15 hits good for 13 runs and this coupled with heads-up fielding proved too much for the Soldiers to cope with.

First No Hit No Run Game

It was a different story on Tuesday, when the R.M.R. really played air-tight ball and finally found their hitting power. The highlight of the game was the pitching of Van Ryewyk the R.M.R. hurler, who pitched the first no hit no run game ever pitched on a Westmount diamond. It was really a show worth watching, as he mowed down the opposing batters just as fast as they stepped up to the plate setting no less than 13 down via the strikeout route. It was without a doubt the best pitched game ever seen on any local diamond. This win kept the R.M.R. right in the running for the League leadership.

In the other game on Tuesday it was another hard fought struggle, with Chateaugay who had been trailing all through the game, scoring twice in the last inning on one of the few errors of the game. With R.C.A.S.C. holding a slim 3 to 2 lead Chateaugay had two out and a man on second and third, when the Service Corps, catcher threw wild in an attempt to pick the runner off base allowing both runners to score, and there went the ball game. Tonight Aug. 17th the league leading R.C.M.P. will be out to turn the tables on R.C.

R.M.R. Footballers Practice Nightly

The Royal Montreal Regiment football entry in the Quebec Rugby Football Union has commenced practicing every evening and will welcome any one wishing to try out for the team. All aspirants should report to the R.H.R. armory on St. Catherine street west (Westmount) at 6.30 p.m., Monday, and every evening thereafter. As the R.M.R. expects to field a strong team it would be wise to report for training as soon as possible.

Captain Dave Peebles, coach of the R.M.R.'s, will especially welcome any Westmount footballer who would like to try out for a place on the team.

Chesley Confident Hayman's Imports Will be Extended

Roy Chesley and Mac Parsons joint coaches of Westmount Warriors of the senior division in the Quebec Rugby Football Union are confident that the Westies will give a good account of themselves in the exhibition game against Alouettes at Westmount Athletic Grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Chesley's only comment was that if only his team could have had another three weeks of practice under their belts instead of just a few days that he would have felt a little happier. What the team lacks in practice and conditioning is more than made up for in spirit he said.

The coach was particularly enthusiastic over his young backfield especially did he single out Lozito who played last year for St. Leo's Academy. Lozito is one of the best prospects he has handled in his long connection with the game, Chesley stated.

Asked whether Alouettes would field their big-four line-up Chesley said that Lew Hayman had assured him that all the Alouettes would go into the game. It will be the only game for Alouettes before meeting the Edmonton Eskimos at the Baseball Stadium next Thursday night and Hayman will experiment with his team against Westmount in preparation for the big game at the stadium.

Chesley, when questioned as to whether Alouettes would outweigh (Continued on page 12)

Stars & RYPS to Clash In Best of Five Final

By ALLAN SANDZELIUS

With the issue still very much in doubt at Examiner deadline time, it was the general opinion that the two Westmount Intermediate League teams to fight for the 1951 championship would be the defending champs, the Ave. Stars and the year's "mystery" team, the R.Y.P.S.

In a game played on Monday night, Aug. 13, the Aladdins, spurred on by Bob "Hey-no-eh?" Lunny roared into a big 15-8 lead and in the seventh inning it seemed nothing could halt their onward sweep, when the disgruntled RYPS took on fire and began hitting relief pitcher Con Forey to their satisfaction and to the amount of ten runs, (four in the 7th, the rest in the 8th, Cliff Gill relieving Al Locke of the R YPS in the hurling dept. in the same frame) and were thus leading when the city street lights blinked on and the umpire did not call the game?

From the above hodge-podge of facts all we can ascertain is that the Recreation Supervisor for the city of Westmount, Hugh Stratton, and the President of the League, Mr. H. E. Wellein, will hand down their decision in time for either the Aladdins to replay the abovementioned game with the RYPS or for the Avenue Stars to begin their three-out-of-five final series with the RYPS. Which ever the outcome, the final play downs promise to be very close indeed and should be well worth watching.

The RYPS defeated the Aladins on Wednesday night by a score of 18-7. Cliff Gill went all the way for the victors while the pitching chores for the "Doins were evenly divided between Lunny and Forey.

A protest was entered by Ernie Bolduc of the Westmount Corporation in Yards team about the Monday battle versus Ave. Stars in which unsatisfactory umpiring was said to be the crux of the matter. This protest was upheld and the game which the Stars won 12-7 was replayed Wednesday, the Avenues winning again 8-4 also winning the semi-final series two games to nothing. The winning pitcher in both games was Mike Barnard. Bartlett and Van Rysyuck shared the loser accolade.

A.S.C. as the last time these teams met, the Mounties suffered their first setback of the season, and have vowed to atone for that defeat, but with the brand of ball displayed by the R.C.A.S.C. in their last four games it will take some doing, as the Service Corps, after a bad start have won three out of the last four, and the loss was only by one run. The standing at Aug. 16th. is as follows.

	W.	L.	Pts.
R.C.M.P.	7	2	14
R.M.R.	6	3	12

Easy Way To Play The Game

Ed "King of Softball" Feigner is shown above, about to deliver a blindfolded pitch — the kind softball enthusiasts expect to see when Feigner and his all-star foursome take on Robitaille Motors of the Snowdon League in an exhibition game at the Westmount Athletic Grounds at 2.30 p.m. on Sunday. Since Robitaille handed the famous American crew one of their few defeats in years when they met at Macdonald Park last summer, a capacity crowd is expected at the event.

American Softball Quartet Tangle With Locals Sunday

The interest of Montreal's fastball fandom is centered this weekend on the impending visit of Eddie "The King of Softball" Feigner and his fabulous four-man team. The American foursome, who tour the continent playing regular nine-man teams and usually beating them, will be here this Sunday to play Robitaille Motors of the local Snowdon Major Fastball League. The exhibition game, which many expect to set a softball attendance record for this province, is billed for the Westmount Athletic Grounds at 2.15 p.m. This marks the first time that softball has gone into an enclosed park in the Montreal area.

Snowdon Fastball League moguls, who are promoting the affair, made the decision to stage the game at the WAG with full memories of the estimated 10,000 spectators who jammed Macdonald Park last year when Feigner and Co. were last here. That was the time that Robitaille Motors chalked up a win at the expense of the visitors, one of only 29 losses the Feigner forces have suffered in eight years of competition.

Bing Crosby is his own severest critic. The star of Paramount's "Here Comes The Groom" has yet to see one of his movie performances that he likes, laughs when anyone calls him a "creative artist" and says he plays Bing Crosby in every picture.

Westmount, said that there was nobody in the game who could push men like Harry Middleton and Charlie West around. No, he wasn't afraid of the weight angle as much as he was of the longer training the Alouettes had enjoyed.

Chesley said the probable starting line-up for Westmount on Saturday would be as follows:

Westmount Y Wins City Wide Swim Meet, 200 Compete

Westmount Y.M.C.A. swimmers copped the Montreal City-Wide Inter-Y.M.C.A. Swimming Meet last Tuesday afternoon in Central Y.M.C.A. pool by amassing a total of 51 points. 200 boys from eight branches of the "Y" throughout the City turned out for the event.

Top star of the Meet was 13-year old Roy Smith of Westmount, who won the senior Class E 50-yard free style race, placed first in the Class D 25-yard free style event, and paced his Branch's medley relay team to an easy win. He also placed 2nd in the Class E 50-yard breast stroke and diving events.

Ten-year old John Pinel, another lad from Westmount "Y", scored well in Class C, winning the 25-yard back stroke race and placing third in the 25-yard free style event. He swam on the winning relay team.

Another Westmount "Y" star was Jean Carriere, who placed first in the Class E 50-yard back stroke event and third in the Class E 50-yard breast stroke race.

Other winners and high point getters for the Westmount team were: Arich, second in the Class E 50-yard free style event; Taylor, second in the Class D 25-yard breast stroke race, third in Class D 25-yard back stroke, and second in Class C 25-yard back stroke; Callaghan, second in Class D 25-yard free style event; Keizer, 2nd in Class C diving; and Lark, first in Class B 50-yard walking.

N.D.G. Y.M.C.A. placed second in the Meet, with a total of 46 points, and Central placed third with 27 points.

It takes two to make a marriage a success and only one a failure.
