COMMONS SPEAKER RESIGNS

Freedom Of Speech Motive; May Reply To Opposition Critics

OTTAWA — (P) — Speaker Rene Beaudoin, in an unprecedented move, has handed his resignation to the Commons "to regain my full freedom of speech."

Once he gets that freedom, he may take an early opportunity to reply to the storm of opposition criticism which blew up around his chair during the bitter pipeline debate more than a month ago and which has continued intermittently ever since.

"Never was I motivated by any partisan feelings and my conscience is perfectly clear," Speaker Beaudoin said Monday as he rocked the Commons with his surprise tender of resignation.

"I place now my resignation before the House to take effect at the pleasure of the House. I would wish that it be accepted as soon as possible."

His dramatic announcement made it clear that he did not make his resignation effective immediately because of the absence in London of Prime Minister St. Laurent, who has the prerogative of nominating new speakers.

Acting Prime Minister Howe, the only person to reply to the Speaker's statement, said Mr. St. Laurent will "deal with the situation" when he returns to the Commons next Monday from the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference.

It was learned the Speaker's decision was made during the holiday weekend and communicated to the government Monday morning. Mr. Howe informed Mr. St. Laurent of it by telephone before the Commons opened its Dominion Day sitting.

"I am anxious to regain my full freedom of speech," said the 44-year-old Speaker, who was chosen unanimously on Nov. 12, 1953, to act as impartial arbiter of Commons proceedings throughout the life of the Parliament elected that year.

It is understood he will continue to sit as a private member and seek re-election at the next election in the Quebec constituency of Vaudeuil-Soulanges which he has represented since 1945.

Rene Juras, 42-year-old Liberal member for Provencher, in Manitoba, is being mentioned as a possible successor for the balance of this Parliament. Tradition is that the speakership alternates each Parliament between French and English-speaking members.

The Speaker's chair has been left vacant in mid-term only five times since Confederation, but never under comparable circumstances. On the other occasions it was because of death or ill health—and never while Parliament was actually sitting.

Speaker Beaudoin entered the chair under unprecedented auspices. Opposition leader Drew seconded Mr. St. Laurent's motion of appointment—a departure from the earlier tradition of government members moving and seconding the appointment.

Through two sessions, Speaker Beaudoin came to be regarded as one of the best Commons ever had. Only one of his many rulings was challenged.

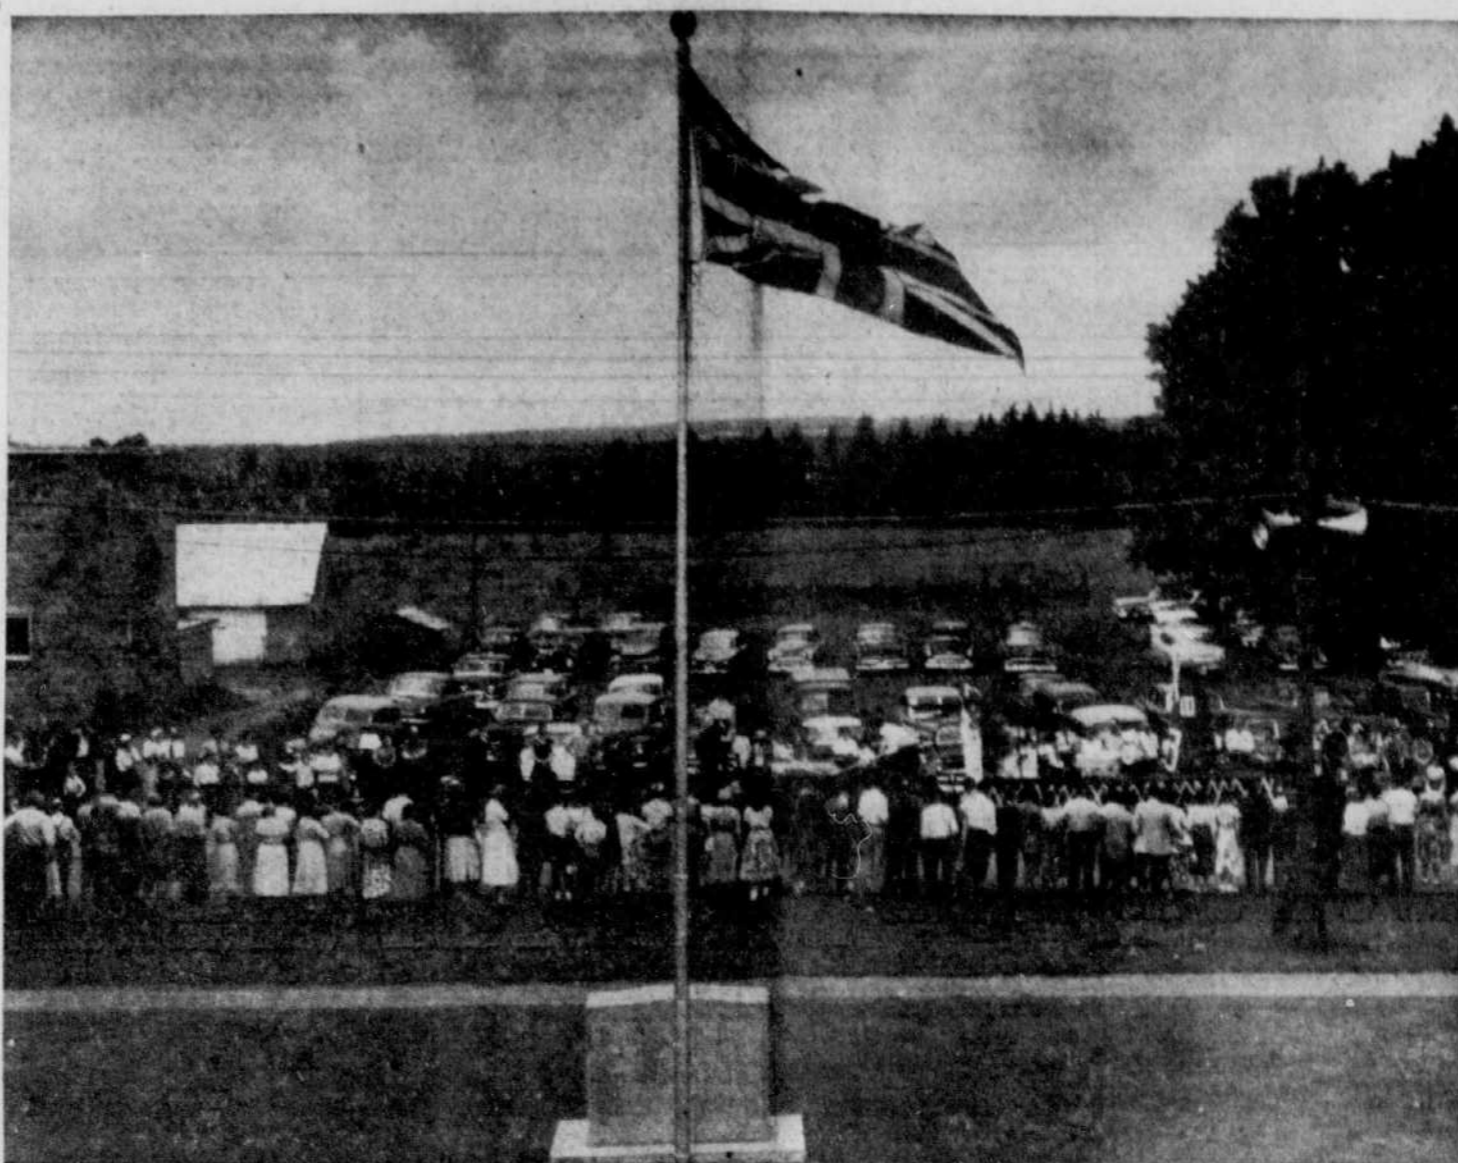

Then came this session and the controversial gas pipeline bill which the government jammed through the Commons with four successive debate-limiting closure motions to meet a June 7 deadline.

Progressive Conservative and CCF members threw up repeated procedural roadblocks. Repeatedly Mr. Beaudoin, Deputy Speaker W. A. Robinson and Deputy Chairman E. T. Applewhite ruled against the opposition. Their rulings were sustained by the Liberal-Social Credit majority.

On June 1 opposition members revolted against Mr. Beaudoin's authority in a riotous Commons scene of fist-shaking and shouting. They called the Speaker "dictator" and "puppet."

The following week Mr. Drew presented an unprecedented censure motion accusing the speaker of "subordinating the rights of the House to the will of the government." The motion, opposed

Symbol Of Dominion Day — Flags flies briskly over the Bury Town Hall yard as crowds lined the streets yesterday to witness the Dominion Day parade. As the Dutch float of the Senior W.I. passed, horses in the far field, frightened by the Knowlton band music, raced to the fence behind lines of modern cars, truly combining the old and the new in Canada's 89th birthday. Cause Of Disaster Unknown Removal Of Bodies Slow In Worst Air Crash

GRAND CANYON, Ariz.—(P)—Treachorous Grand Canyon winds today threatened to restrict again removal of remains of the 128 persons who died when two airliners crashed three days ago.

Only three recovery flights were made to the grisly scene before the air currents forced suspension of operations Monday. More of the same turbulence was forecast for today.

Meanwhile, pressure mounted to find the cause of the disaster, presumed to have been a collision in flight, and to effect a preventative against similar tragedies.

These were the top developments:

1. A recovery team and a group of investigators were stranded on a jagged canyon butte overnight when the rough air made it impossible for helicopters to take them out.
2. The Civil Aeronautics Administration reported that both airliners—a TWA Super-Constellation with 70 aboard and a United Air Lines DC-7 carrying 58—were off their courses when they went down.
3. Senator George A. Smathers (Dem.—Fla.) demanded in Washington that the CAA, which controls airways in the U.S., be investigated.
4. Changes in aviation regulations were foreseen as an aftermath of the tragedy.

Five rubber sacks of remains of an undetermined number of victims were brought out by helicopters Monday before winds—capable of dashing aircraft against the cliffs and peaks—became too strong for further flights.

The turbulent air prevented the copters from going back to the Constellation crash scene to remove the 12 members of recovery and investigation teams left there earlier in the day.

The stranded men, however, had food, water, flashlights and five sleeping bags. The men included four doctors, a helicopter pilot to supervise loading, two TWA officials, one official of United, two Civil Aeronautics Board investigators and two Coconino county authorities.

The air force said it would continue the perilous recovery operations until all remains which can be found are removed.

The CAA reported in Los Angeles Monday that the DC-7 was about 25 miles off its flight-plan route to Chicago and that the Constellation was about five miles off its projected route to Kansas City.

However, Walter P. Plett, CAA western regional administrator, would not point to this as the reason for the twin crash.

He said it is "too early" to say definitely that the planes collided.

A hearing into the disaster is planned at Los Angeles after investigators have completed their work at the crash scene.

Poland's Reds Hunt Scapegoats In Riot

BERLIN — (P) — Poland's Communist party cracked down today on "lax and cowardly" officials it accused of failing to head off the bloody workers' revolt at Poznan.

ADN, the official news agency of Communist East Germany, said Polish leaders have launched investigations to find out why party members in Poznan "displayed such a lack of vigilance." It said they were not prepared to "counteract the planned provocation in time."

Trybuna Ludu, official organ of the Polish Workers (Communist) party, rapped into party officers it says scammed to safety when the uprising exploded Thursday and "did not return from hiding until order had been restored."

Meanwhile, estimates of the death toll in the three-day uprising continued to mount. Eyewitness accounts put together in Vienna placed the total at "close to 1,000." The Polish government has admitted no more than 48 killed.

Radio Warsaw said Monday night 434 persons were treated in Poznan hospitals and ambulance stations after the outbreak. It said 289 were released after receiving first aid.

The attacks by the Communist organs indicated the Polish Communist hierarchy, jolted badly by the Poznan upheaval, was hunting for scapegoats.

Reports reaching Berlin led to speculation the party axe already may be swinging against party and government officials, as well as against hundreds of workers jailed during the uprising.

"There may be some changes in the Polish leadership," said a Communist journalist on his arrival here from the riot city.

The journalist, who refused to be identified by name, said troops had been withdrawn from Poznan itself, but the city was sealed off by a wall of tanks and artillery.

Japanese Report New Nuclear Test In Bikini Area

TOKYO — (P) — The Japanese weather bureau reported the United States apparently set off another nuclear test explosion in the Bikini area today.

The bureau said abnormal atmospheric pressure waves and a slight earth shock its instruments picked up indicated the blast occurred about 3 a.m. Japanese time — (3 p.m. ADT Monday).

It said both the earth shock and the pressure waves resembled those recorded after known nuclear explosions in the past in the Bikini atoll, but this time they were "conspicuously weaker."

Similar evidence of nuclear blasts was reported by the Japanese observatory May 28 and June 26 but the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission refused to confirm or deny that tests were made on those dates.

Bruck President Sees "Turn For The Worse" In Textile Industry

MONTREAL — (P) — The Canadian synthetic textile industry may be seriously affected by "a sharp turn for the worse" in the affairs of United States fabric producers, President Gerald L. Bruck of the Canadian Silk and Rayon Institute said Monday.

"Some large U.S. producers," said Mr. Bruck in an interview, "have been forced to curtail production operations to four days a week because of inability to market their output — even at distress prices. This could easily mean increased unloadings of cloth in Canada."

Mr. Bruck, also president of Bruck Mills Limited, said Canadian synthetic cloth mills "are already under heavy pressure from an unprecedented volume of imports."

"Thousands of yards of fabrics remained unsold this spring at a time when producers should have been moving into spring and summer stocks."

In the first three months of this year, he said, Canadian mills shipped about 23,000,000 yards of synthetics, compared with 25,000,000 yards in the first quarter of 1955.

"This was very disappointing because business had picked up in 1955 from the low levels of 1954 and we were hoping the trend would continue," he said.

The modest improvement in the sales of Canadian synthetic cloths in 1955 from the low in 1954 was accomplished at insignificant or no profit margins for manufacturers, Mr. Bruck said.

"Five years ago about 10 per cent of the Canadian synthetic fabric markets were filled by imports, but this figure now is about 27 per cent. In this period Canadian mills have been forced to lay off more than 3,000 workers."

He said Canadian producers are not pessimistic about the future of the industry despite the recession of recent years. "The industry has a tremendous future throughout the world, and the Canadian industry, with a little government aid, could take its rightful place in this development."

To Licence Operators Of Boats

OTTAWA — (P) — The government plans to develop a system of licensing for operators of Canada's growing fleet of pleasure boats, patterned after the licensing system for motor vehicles.

Once effective, it will mean that the power boat operator will need an operator's licence to run his craft, just as the car driver needs a licence to drive his car.

Leopold Langlois, parliamentary assistant to Transport Minister Marler, told the Commons Monday that, in addition, navigation regulations governing operation of motor boats on minor waters will be extended to all Canadian waters.

The regulations now governing motor boats on minor waters, such as small lakes and rivers, forbid excessive speed or dangerous operation. They are enforced by the RCMP.

Regulations in development of a licensing system for power boat operators now were "in the formative stage." It was intended "to take a gradual approach to this problem on consultation with the RCMP, with various private organizations interested in boat operations and possibly local or provincial authorities."

Eighty-Three Killed On Holiday Weekend; Two In E. Townships

The death toll in traffic crashes and drownings continued to rise this morning as late reports trickled in, after the long weekend that marked Canada's 89th birthday. At least 83 Canadians, two of whom were from the Eastern Townships, were killed accidentally.

Ninety persons died on last year's Dominion Day holiday.

The two E.T. deaths were: Peter Barron, three, Johnville, run over by a truck early Saturday.

Clement Hebert, 34, Asbestos, drowned in Lake Watopeka Sunday afternoon.

The two deaths in the Townships represented one less than last year. However, 1955's holiday took no lives in traffic accidents.

LIVERPOOL, N.S. — (CP) — Smouldering ruins and blackened walls are all that remain of two once booming South Shore industries destroyed in a $1,000,000 fire Sunday.

NICOSIA, Cyprus — (P) — A Greek Cypriot extremist threw a bomb at a British motorized convoy Sunday and killed a Greek child and slightly wounded two British soldiers. The bombthrower was "shot dead as he sped off on a bicycle."

The lead section of a convoy of the Highland Light Infantry was attacked in the village of Koma Yialou on the Karpas Peninsula as the troops were en route back to their base.

WARREN, Ohio — (P) — Triple slayer Alfred Wilson, object of a 12-day manhunt after the slaying of three women, died in hospital Monday night a few hours after he was shot out of a tree by a state highway patrolman.

The 37-year-old truck driver lived about 3½ hours after two bullets from the officer's pistol pierced his brain.

SAINT JOHN, N.B. — (P) — Defence lawyer Henry E. Ryan said Monday an appeal to the Supreme Court of New Brunswick is "definitely being considered" in the case of Clifford Edward Ayles, sentenced to hang for the Oct. 29 murder of David Allison Graves.

A Supreme Court jury returned the guilty verdict Saturday after less than two hours deliberation and made no recommendation for mercy.

ORILLIA, Ont. — (P) — Four wreaths were placed Monday at a monument in Couchiching Park which honors Samuel D. Champlain, explorer, founder of Quebec City and first governor of French-Canada.

The celebrations were part of those held at different centres in eastern Canada at the request of the Champlain National Society of Quebec, Ottawa, Quebec City and Saint John, N.B., have similar monuments.

Bury Accident — Roger Monfette, 22, of St. Adolphe is shown being questioned by Provincial Police Officer Hubert Lawrence following a motorcycle accident near the Pope Memorial School in Bury yesterday afternoon. The accident witnessed by several persons attending the Dominion Day celebrations, occurred when the vehicle, driven by Richard Thorneloe, 40, of Marleton, went out of control and crashed against a guardrail. Monfette was thrown into the marsh at the edge of the pond, while Thorneloe, the more seriously injured landed several feet from the crash. Wet pavement was considered the cause of the accident. Also investigating was Rene Simard, of the Provincial Police, Sherbrooke. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Head-On Smash-Up Takes Father of Two

Widow and Children Receive $10,000 on $5,000 Policy

On his way to spend the week with his family, a young businessman was the victim of a highway smash-up.
 His death came only a few months after he took out a Confederation Life Policy for $5,000, with an Accidental Death & Dismemberment clause. He chose this policy because of its low cost Double Indemnity guarantee in case of accidental death.
 It was a wise choice because Confederation Life promptly paid his widow twice the face value of the policy, $10,000 instead of $5,000. This substantial sum of money was a godsend to the bereaved family.

A $5,000 policy with Confederation's Accidental Death and dismemberment Benefit pays:

- Liberal cash payments for non-fatal dismemberment accidents and
- $5,000 if you die from natural causes.
- $10,000 if you die by accident.
- $15,000 if you die by accident while a passenger in a commercial bus, street car, train or ship, or in a fire in a public place.

Tito And The "New Look"

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is a gambler and he is gambling now that he can renew friendship with the Soviet Union without being crushed in the embrace.

Eight years ago he took the risk that he could defy the late Joseph Stalin and still keep both his head and his country's independence. He pulled it off successfully.

The situation regarding Yugoslavia changed because the present Kremlin leaders altered their tactics. But this development can only be understood if we put it against the broad backdrop of the "new look" in Russia.

When Soviet leaders went to Belgrade and ate crow by apologizing to Tito, they knew they would thus be encouraging the spirit of independence among Communist parties in the satellite nations and elsewhere. Why did they take a step that on its face would seem to weaken the solidarity of the Communist empire and international communism generally?

The fundamental answer would seem to be that this course exactly suited the post-Stalin strategy of the Kremlin. The purpose is to suggest everywhere that the new regime is benign, that it has no aims of conquest, that Communist parties outside Russia are their own masters and—in Western nations — fit partners in "popular front" governments.

The doings with Tito, the highly trumpeted tours of the Happiness Twins, Bulganin and Khrushchev, the invitations to diplomats and even military leaders (like General Twining) all over the world, all these help fill out the picture the Kremlin is trying to paint of a "better Russia."

But we must be on guard more than ever. No convincing evidence exists that the Soviet Union has in fact abandoned its plan of conquest. It simply has switched from obvious aggressions to the subtler economic and political devices which can be hidden under the masks of friendship and cooperation.

Even if it were the Kremlin's intention to allow the satellites a high measure of independence, full caution would be warranted. But we have no proof that much more than the appearance of independence will in fact be permitted the satellites.

Moscow's means of political control are many and diverse. Knowing the Russians as we do, we shall have to remain skeptical and assume they will shrewdly apply as many of these means as they can without publicly giving away their game.

Furthermore, the Kremlin now has a plan for drawing together the various five-year economic plans of the Soviet Union and the satellites. If this works out, then a degree of economic interdependence will exist which will inevitably force many close political ties.

The big Moscow welcome for Tito was a part of the window dressing for the "new look." We must not be fooled by it, and we must hope that Tito isn't either. For the Russian bear's "love pats" can pound the breath right out of a country.

Structurally Sound

Frank Lloyd Wright, celebrated American architect, makes a habit of trying to provoke his countrymen by deprecating remarks about the state of their culture, their art and so on.

His skill as an architect doesn't mean his comments have to be taken as the voice of genius but he does get off some good ones that we can afford to listen to.

The other day, for instance, he cautioned that quantity should not be confused with quality in education. It isn't enough simply to assure everyone certain minimum standards of schooling. "We must . . . begin to honor the uncommon man — the man of spirit and imagination. Quality, not quantity, should be our goal." That's good talk, worth heeding.

This And That...

It may well be that British frogman Lt. Cmdr. Lionel (Buster) Crabb will turn up in Russia. A West German newspaper claims it has it on good authority that Crabb is being held prisoner in Moscow. This would certainly be a strange development, though. In these circumstances, one would think that the Russians could have made great strides in the propaganda business had they immediately produced the frogman, caught in the act of spying on a Russian ship.

Undoubtedly, one of the most optimistic forecasts ever issued by Trade Minister Howe was his recent statement that the Trans-Canada Pipeline didn't need to export natural gas to assure solvency. This might or might not be true, but nobody could possibly know until the big Eastern Canada market is properly tapped. How many industries will use natural gas? How many homes? Nobody quite knows for sure. Nor is it certain just exactly what this fuel will cost the consumer. These are things which even Mr. Howe doesn't know. He can only hope.

The Text Of His Excellency, The Governor-General's Dominion Day Broadcast

I am speaking to you on Dominion Day. Eighty-nine years ago in 1867, Canadians, French and English, came together to form the new Dominion. They acted not easily, not carelessly, but believing that out of conflicts and confusions they were to find a common destiny. They came together in faith and courage, to build, in this vast and difficult north of North America one nation; a nation to be the heir and guardian of high traditions cherished by the small and scattered communities which gave it birth. Let us pay tribute on this day, to those Victorian statesmen whom we call the Fathers of Confederation. They have left us a great, but also a demanding, legacy; their memory calls us to no trifling task. They left us institutions, customs, historic names which, as our Canadian inheritance, it is our sacred duty to preserve. Let me speak frankly. I am afraid that we in Canada have become careless and, indeed, are insufficiently aware of our traditions — the traditions which give us our own unique character and quality.

Since the beginning, the 1st of July has been set apart as a great day in our national calendar. It is a day of recreation and that is right, but it started as a day of commemoration — and that was right. It is not just one more holiday. A holiday, yes, but many of us think of it also as a time for reflection on the meaning of our national life. Dominion Day may not seem to possess the romance of national anniversaries in some other countries which recall — many of them — a battle or a revolution. Our day does not remind us of the clash of arms; it conjures up a picture of some elderly, frock-coated gentlemen around a table. But from that meeting came a document which made us a Dominion. That was a tremendous moment in our story. It marked no dramatic break with the past; but there was drama in it, just the same — the joint effort of men very different in origin and character, some of them former opponents, to build something new on old and good foundations. They sought freedom without enmity, unity without sameness. There are some who find Confederation dull. They lose sight of the vision of those quiet men who dedicated Canada, in the name of humanity and civilization, to the reconciliation of old quarrels, to the recognition of the right to be different, to the resolution to stand as one before the world.

These men saw all the barriers of language and religion, of local interests, even of selfishness and greed. They believed that none of these could divide those people who feel themselves called by the forces of the past and of the present to live as one. There is no more moving monument in Canada than that erected in Quebec to the memory of two great heroes, honoured together, Wolfe and Montcalm. Those stones stand for all that is best in Canadian life. Confederation, one of its Fathers said, was not a union of parchment, but of men's hearts and minds.

We won our nationhood by negotiation, not by war, but it is easy for others to misinterpret the process. During the critical years just over a century ago, when we achieved self-government, there was wise statesmanship on both sides of the Atlantic — a happy combination of tolerance and understanding in England, and vigour and enterprise in the colonies. Such collaboration was unique. Before, had a colonial people ever received its freedom from a willing mother country? I think not. This is one of our proud traditions; a moral victory which leaves no scars.

It is Canada's strength that she is the only nation where Latin and Anglo-Celtic peoples live in an equal partnership, and where also millions of men and women from other countries have received the privileges and accepted the duties of a citizen. We have two national languages, two national cultures and this enriches our life as we learn to use each other's speech. But this is not enough. Canada has two languages, she has two minds and two hearts. We must know each other; we must feel with each other. This task to which we are

BYGONE DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO
 From the Record of Saturday, July 3rd, 1926.

Ottawa observers predict that the Dominion elections will be held September 26th, with the Conservatives seeking to gain enough extra seats in the House of Commons to gain control there. Prime Minister Meighen's government was defeated by one vote after holding office less than two days.

French war veterans are planning a large scale demonstration against Parliamentary approval for the Washington war debt agreement, which they claim calls for larger payments by France than she will receive in reparations.

A contract for improvements costing $50,000 has been let by Bishop's University.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
 From the Record of Friday, July 3rd, 1936.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin has declared that Great Britain is seeking to strengthen the European peace front by securing a joint defensive agreement between France and Germany. However, most observers take a dim view of the situation. France is urging regional pacts backed by military force.

A substantial improvement has been noticed in the Western wheat crop outlook as the result of the heavy rains during the past few days. In the meantime, poor production prospects and the war scare have resulted in heavy export shipments and price jumps.

Officers in charge of the Bury celebrations were Mayor A. J. Hunt, Col. O. L. Popp, J. Drennan, J. S. Rayside, J. H. Saunders, S. J. Prangle, and T. G. Stokes.

TEN YEARS AGO
 From the Record of Wednesday, July 3rd, 1946.

Fifty-nine of Bikini's 73 target warships felt the white heat of Monday's atomic blast. Damage ranged from total to negligible. The Army's official ground observer, Maj. Gen. McAuliffe concluded that the new weapon could force any country, even the U.S. to quit a war.

The Commons yesterday advanced through legislative stages a government bill aimed at curbing the operations of domestic cartels and monopolies, but heard from Justice Minister St. Laurent that it would be powerless against the larger international cartels which control prices and supplies.

Complaints from two local laundries claiming reimbursement for damages caused by the murky condition of the local water supply over the past week and a half brought strong demands from Ald. Alphonse Trudeau, head of the Waterworks Committee, and Ald. Alphonse Charpentier, for a change in the present method of water purification and cleaning at yesterday afternoon's City Council meeting.

TRUMP PLAY IS SLAM KEY

Some experts would bid five hearts with the North hand on the first round of bidding. When North passed and later bid six diamonds, South properly assumed that North had more than one top diamond and was willing to hear a grand slam. If North had been interested only in a small slam he could have bid six hearts without mentioning the diamond at all.

West opened the king of spades, and South ruffed with an honor. He entered dummy with a trump, ruffed another spade with an honor, got back to dummy with another trump, and ruffed a third spade.

If trumps had broken 2-2, the grand slam would have been easy, but South was able to cope with the 3-1 break. He got to dummy with the king of diamonds and ruffed dummy's last spade with his own last trump. He then got to dummy with the ace of diamonds and led the ten of hearts to draw East's last trump. On this trick, remarkable as it seems, South discarded his losing diamond!

Declarer then took the last four tricks with high clubs, fulfilling his grand-slam contract.

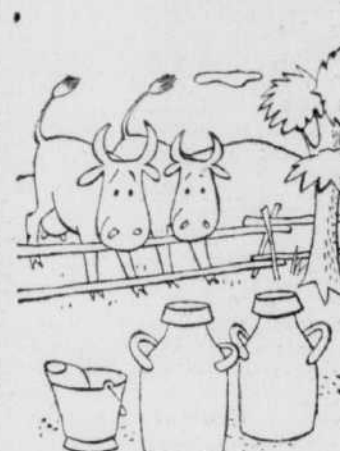

West was gracious enough to compliment South on his fine play of the hand, but West was also acute enough to moan about his own opening lead. If West had led any suit but spades, the grand slam would have gone down. South had to ruff four spades as part of his plan, and he could not do this without an opening spade lead by West.

A cow's best friend

Any self-respecting cow likes to know that the precious food product she supplies is handled with greatest care so it will reach her customers fresh and pure.

From the dairy farm to your doorstep, aluminum is aiding the hygienic handling and processing of dairy products. Milk pails, cans and churns . . . tank trucks and dairy equipment . . . hoods for milk bottles and foil for butter and cheese . . . all are of aluminum. This modern metal's smooth surface prevents contamination, is easily kept shiny-clean. And it does not "pick up" foreign flavors or odors. As one European authority has said, aluminum and milk are made for each other.

An argument made in favor of legal bookmaking is that it would eliminate illegal bookies. But it doesn't work out just that way, any more than beer parlors and liquor stores eliminated all bootlegging.

In the United Kingdom there are legal bookies — but there also are illegal ones. Scotland Yard fears gang war in the Soho district of old London, one of its toughest areas. Rival gangs are competing for control of bookmaking districts. These gangs also are associated with other forms of crime.

Gambling, whether legal or illegal, all too often drags other crimes along in its train.

Speaker

By Liberals and Social Crediters, was voted down 109 to 35 on June 8.

Mr. Beaudoin said Monday that "more than once" during the "pipeline and census" debates he had intended to resign "for the purpose of regaining my full freedom of speech both in and outside this House."

But when a Montreal newspaper published parts of a private letter he had written "I knew I had to take immediately the course I had in mind."

He referred to a letter he wrote to Alonzo Cinq-Mars, 75-year-old editor of the Montreal La Patrie, stating "my accounts distorted the facts for their own political ends" and saying if he had been able to speak in the debate he could have confounded his accusers.

Mr. Drew and CCF leader Coldwell criticized the speaker last Friday for the letter. Mr. Drew said it removed "any suggestion of impartiality" from the speaker. He demanded that the government call an election.

Mr. Beaudoin's 15-minute statement, read to a hushed Commons from a handwritten text, ended on a note of conciliation. "This is my farewell speech," he said, and then paused for long moments.

"I shall always remember with pleasure my term of office as Speaker. I have enjoyed every moment of it, even the most difficult parts, because I know that deep down in their hearts members understood certainly much more perhaps than they were indicating."

"Now, I have no animosity against anyone."

Special prizes were awarded to Nolene Yertaw, Ayer's Cliff; Wayne and Barbara Moulton, Hatley, and Margaret McHarg, Ayer's Cliff.

Following the dinner served in the Hatley Guild Hall because of the threat of rain, the afternoon sports event began. The baseball game between Hatley and Ayer's Cliff was won by Ayer's Cliff 13-8.

One of the most eagerly awaited events of the day was the tug-war between Hatley and Ayer's Cliff eight-man teams. The contest went to Hatley last year, but after losing the first pull, Ayer's Cliff won the next two to claim the Sherbrooke Daily Record Trophy.

Waterville has asked permission to enter the contest next year. The horseshoe pitching contest was by D. Desrussieux and R. Danforth, Waterville, first and R. Desrussieux and J. Danforth, Waterville, second.

The ladies' rolling pin throw has always commanded much interest and yesterday it had above the usual number of entries, but, unexpectedly, it wasn't the married women who won, but three young ladies, Margaret McHarg, Lorain Moshier and Betty Talks.

Yesterday's track and field events attracted the largest number of entries ever. In the one-mile open race, Robert Talks was first, Ronnie Gibbs second and Eddy Bishop third. Robert McHarg took first, Ronald Gibbs second, and Jim Laplante third in the men's 100-yard high jump.

The three-legged races prizes were won by: Boys, Armand Leonard and Marcel Letourneau, first; Peter McHarg and Bertie Moshier, second; Dean Waite and Garry Schoolcraft, third. A wonderful son. God loaned you awhile. Then called you back. And we lost your smile. But someday God will tell us why. He broke our hearts and let you die. Manners MAKE FRIENDS

WHEN a telephone caller asks "Are you busy or do you have time to chat for awhile?" it is perfectly all right to admit that you are busy and ask if you can call back later. Good manners don't demand that you inconvenience yourself needlessly.

You can be gracious about protecting yourself from too many and too long interruptions at your work.

Red Sox Ready For Yanks; Ted Williams Seems Like Good Prophet

Walt Alston And Casey Stengel, All-Star Managers, Named Their Pitchers And Reserve Players

NEW YORK — (CP) — Brooklyn's Walt Alston and Casey Stengel of New York Yankees, managers of the National and American League all-star teams, each picked four of their own men on the 17-man squad. The starters, exclusive of pitchers, were named in a popular poll conducted by United States and Canadian newspapers.

All-star regulations require the starters to play at least three innings before being relieved.

Stengel picked his two mound aces, southpaw Whitey Ford and righthander Johnny Kuck, together with his double-play combination, second baseman Billy Martin and shortstop Gil McDougald.

Stengel's remaining pitchers are Billy Pierce and Jim Wilson of Chicago White Sox, Ray Narleski and Early Wynn of Cleveland Indians and Tom Brewer and Frank Sullivan of Boston Red Sox. All but Pierce and Ford are righthanders.

Chicago's Sherman Lollar was chosen by Stengel to back up Berra behind the plate.

As infield reinforcements Stengel picked first baseman Roy Sievers of Washington and Vic Power of Kansas City and Detroit third baseman Ray Boone, as well as Martin and McDougald.

Boston's Mickey Vernon at first, Chicago's Nellie Fox at second, Detroit's Harvey Kuenn at short and Baltimore's George Kell at third are the starting infield.

Behind his starting outfield of Mantle, Ted Williams of Boston and Al Kaline of Detroit, Stengel will have Charlie Maxwell of the Tigers, Harry Simpson of the Athletics and Jim Piersall of the Red Sox.

With five of the slugging Cincinnati Redlegs picked for the starting lineup, Alston added

Sherbrooke Indians Down Miners 12-6; Normie Dussault, Claude Ruel And Bert Morin Star For Locals

Sherbrooke Indians celebrated Dominion Day when they pounded out a 6-2 decision over the Thetford Miners last night at the Park Avenue Stadium. Fleet-footed Normie Dussault ran wild and pilfered three bases while Claude Ruel belted a homer over his favorite left field fence.

The round-tripper came with Normie Dussault on and gave the locals an early lead which they never relinquished. Manager Guy Proteau, who played in right field, made his presence felt when he poled out a double to drive home Claude Ruel in the sixth.

Thetford changed pitchers four times in an effort to stop the Indians' batting power. Robitaille was replaced in the fifth by Leonard who went for two and a third innings. Bournout took over and was replaced by Chtrand for the last inning. Eight hits were batted against Robitaille while he walked three men. Gilles Guereite went the distance for the Indians and retired nine and issued only four walks for his work.

In the first inning, Thetford's Potvin reached first when Claude Ruel dropped his fly. Ruel made up for his loss when he tagged Potvin on a throw-out by catcher Dube. Vachon, Thetford's next batter, fled out to center field and the inning ended when Auclair was thrown out on second on an attempted steal.

Paul-Emile Ruel and Proteau struck out in succession on Sherbrooke's first time at bat. Dussault hit a single to left field and stole second but was left on base when Claude Ruel struck out. The second inning was scoreless with one man left on base for the Miners and two for the Indians. Guereite struck two men out in the third and Thetford's Fillon was tossed out at first.

On Sherbrooke's third turn up, Paul Ruel was put out on first while Proteau walked but was out on a fielder's choice by Dussault. Claude Ruel homered to left field and gave Sherbrooke

Athletics Stop Yanks

In a Little League tilt played last night at Lennoxville as part of Dominion Day celebration Liens' Club sponsored Athletics downed the Lennoxville Optimist's sponsored Yankees 11-5.

The game was evenly fought all the way with perhaps the Athletics being a little stronger at bat than their opponents. The scheduled game for tonight at the Parade Grounds between Red Sox and Senators has been postponed to a later date. Tomorrow evening the Indians travel to take on the Yankees at Lennoxville.

Athletics broke into the scoring column in the top of the second scoring three runs. Not to be out done the Yankees got these back and one more in their half of the same inning. Athletics took a one run lead in the top of the third and added a singleton in the fourth while the Yankees went scoreless in these two innings. In a big sixth inning the A's tallied five runs to put the game on ice as the Yankees could only score once in the last four innings.

Players of both teams put on a good brand of ball and each man pulled his weight. Vallee, S. Gingués, and Hadlock stood out a little above the others. Athletics . . . 032 105-11 9 1 Yankees . . . 040 001-5 4 2 Vallee, G. Gingués (2) and Fortier; Warner and Parker.

Predicts Boston Ready To Make Move To Take Over In American League; Giants Stop Dodgers, Cubs Bump Cards

Maybe Ted Williams wasn't just batting the breeze the other day when he said Boston Red Sox were ready to make their move in the American League pennant race. The Sox are hot, Williams' bat is booming, and a pivotal four-game series with New York Yankees starts Wednesday.

The Red Sox have won five of their last seven, and are fourth 8 1/2 games back.

Williams, who raised his batting average to .374, touched off a two-run, two-out rally in the seventh inning as the Red Sox clipped Washington 3-2 Monday night. Ike Delock, the big man in Boston's bullpen, elbowed another spikede relief job for four frames.

In the only other American loop game scheduled, the second-place Chicago White Sox scored seven unearned runs for a 9-3 victory over Detroit, trimming the Yankees' lead to 3 1/2 games.

If the Red Sox can stay hot, they could turn the flag chase into a race as hectic as the National League scramble. Cincinnati Redlegs lead the National at the moment, having knocked Milwaukee Braves out of the lead with a 2-1 decision Monday night. It was their eighth victory in 10 games.

New York Giants beat third-place Brooklyn 5-2 and Chicago Cubs beat fourth-place St. Louis 6-3 in the only other games scheduled.

Williams' double off relief loser Bud Byerly was followed by singles by Jackie Jensen and Jim Piersall to bring the Sox from behind. Jensen (.320) is one of the five Red Sox batting over .300 and he is .500 for his last 26 times at bat. Piersall has driven in nine runs in the Sox's' hot spell.

The White Sox scored two unearned markers in a three-run seventh to overhaul a Tiger lead, then frolicked with five unearned runs in the eighth. Harvey Kuenn batted in two runs with a

Sherbrooke Tennis Association Helps To Send Francois Godbout To Eastern Canada Championships

The Sherbrooke Tennis Association in keeping with their policy of helping young tennis players advance in the game have forwarded a cheque to Francois Godbout of Waterloo, Eastern Townships Junior champion.

Godbout left with Bob Bedard to take part in the Eastern Canada Tennis championships in Quebec City and the cheque will help him to defray his expenses while attending. The tourney opened Sunday and is listed to end on Saturday.

A bright tennis future is predicted for young Godbout and it is for this reason that the local organization has come to his aid in the same manner in which they helped Bob Bedard and Guy Durocher.

Godbout will not be on hand to defend his junior crown as he is taking part in two big tournaments. He is entered in the Eastern Canada and the Provincial Tennis Championships which follow immediately after. Guy Durocher was supposed to take part in these also but when he secured a position for the summer months last week he was obliged to forgo his plans.

Entries for the Eastern Townships Junior Tennis tournament closes tomorrow evening and all contestants are asked to file their names before the 5:00 p.m. deadline tomorrow afternoon.

Agostini Posts New Record For 220 Yards Event

VANCOUVER — Trinidad's Mike Agostini Monday clipped two-tenths of a second off a 48-year-old Canadian record in winning the 220 yards open event at the Vancouver police sports meet in 21.2 seconds.

Robby Kerr set the old record of 21.4 seconds in 1908.

Anemia Forces Flo Chadwick To Delay Swim

NEW YORK — (AP) — Channel swimmer Florence Chadwick Monday postponed her proposed attempt to swim Lake Ontario when a physical examination disclosed she is suffering from a slight case of anemia.

Miss Chadwick's physician, Dr. Irving Fischer, advised her not to make the attempt at this time although he said her condition is not serious. She had planned to start training this week and to make the attempt this month.

She said it will be at least two months before she knows whether she will be able to make the swim this summer.

Jimmy Slater Collapses In New York City

BUFFALO, N.Y. — (AP) — Jimmy Slattery, former light heavyweight boxing champion, collapsed in a downtown drugstore Monday night.

The 54-year-old ex-boxer was reported in fair condition in hospital.

Slattery won the National Boxing Association title from Maxie Rosenbloom in August, 1927 and lost it to Tommy Loughran four years later.

Bob Bedard Wins Twice To Advance Into Third Round Of Eastern Tennis Championships At Quebec City

Quebec — (AP) — Bob Bedard, the young Davis Cup star from Sherbrooke, Que., was rated the man to beat Monday as he entered the third round of the Eastern Tennis Championships.

Bedard won his first round match when Clement Massicotte of Quebec City defaulted, and breezed through his second opponent, Marcel Sirois, also of Quebec City, 6-0, 6-0.

The Sherbrooke star was the only man to play two rounds Monday. The other second round matches take place today.

Another Davis Cupper, Henri Rochon of Montreal, was seeded second in the tournament. He gained the second round with a 6-0, 6-2 victory over Gaston Goulet of Quebec City.

Don Fontana of Toronto and Lawrence Barclay and Paul Willey, both of Vancouver, were rated third, fourth and fifth in that order.

Fontana entered the second round by defeating Oscar Barma of Quebec City 6-2, 6-0 while Barclay won his first-round match against Laurent Dutil, also of Quebec City, 6-0, 6-1. Willey won when Gaston Savard, Quebec City, defaulted.

Montreal girls topped the list of women contestants. Hanna Sladek was seeded No. 1, followed by Shirley Harit, Eleanor Dodge and Therese Helie in that order.

The week-long tournament was third spot.

Argent Wins $10,000 - Added Canadian Derby

WINNIPEG — (AP) — Ben Steen's Argent, runner-up in the Queen's Plate, Monday captured the $10,000-added Canadian Derby for three-year-olds and out foaled in Canada over 1 1/4 miles at Winnipeg's Polo Park.

The eastern horse, a 2-to-5 betting favorite, breezed to a seven-length victory under the expert handling of veteran jockey Pat Remillard. Lover's Mace owned by R. T. Cooper of Saskatchewan was second and Les Lear's Fay Again, third.

The victory netted $11,500 for the Toronto owner with $500 going to the breeder. It marked the second successive year an eastern owner has captured the Derby. The 1955 running was won by Loyallist owned by W. A. Moffat of Toronto.

Dandy Thought set the early pace, taking a five-length lead at one stage but Remillard made his move on Argent in passing the 16,000 fans in the grandstand for the first time.

Going into the backstretch Argent opened a wide lead and was never threatened.

Hoad Meets Richardson And Seixas Takes On Rosewall In Semi-Finals Of Wimbledon Tennis Championships

WIMBLEDON, England — (AP) — Diabetic Ham Richardson and aging Vic Seixas, sure bets for the American Davis Cup team against this year struggled through to shaky victories Monday in quarter-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Seixas weathered out an hour and 20 minutes first set against young Allen Morris of Atlanta, to win 13-11. Morris pulled up lame in the second set and Seixas took the match 13-11, 6-3.

Richardson appeared to be on the way to a beating when he rallied strongly in the third set to defeat Australia's power hitting lefthander, Neale Fraser, 6-3, 9-11 7-5, 6-4.

The entry of America's potential Davis Cup team into the semi-finals of the 70th Wimbledon championship was matched by the potential Australian Davis Cup team.

Low Hoad struggled home over fellow Australian Mal Anderson, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 13-11. Ken Rosewall, Australia's No. 2, was the only semi-finalist with an easy passage. He won with supreme ease over Sweden's rising young star, Ulf Schmidt, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

Wednesday's semi-final between Hoad and Richardson in the top of the draw and between Rosewall and Seixas in the bottom, is practically a certainty to be staged once again in Adelaide, Australia, Dec. 26-27-28 when Australia defends the Davis Cup.

America is an overwhelming favorite to reach the challenge round. Team captain Bill Talbert said, "Richardson and Seixas are certainly the top two players right now. They look like our Davis Cup team to me."

For the first time in living memory — probably since the First World War — each semi-finalist at Wimbledon has reached his spot in the last four without meeting a seeded player.

Only one women's singles match was played Monday. Angela Mortimer of Britain lost to Pat Ward, another Briton, 6-3, 6-0. It was considered a jarring upset. Miss Ward is the first Briton to reach the women's

Maple Leafs Thump Red Wings In Their Bid For Higher Spot In Race; Royals Split With Sugar Kings

The International League race stays a two-team scrap simply because the other six clubs keep knocking each other down whenever one of them starts looking like a contender.

Miami Marlins, most recent club to challenge iron-running Montreal and runner-up Rochester, became the latest victims of the dog fight as Toronto Maple Leafs thumped them out of third place 18-4 and 2-1 in a Monday doubleheader.

The Leafs took over the No. 3 spot by one game and 13 percentage points, and moved to within 6 1/2 games of Montreal Royals, who split with Havana. The Royals trimmed the seventh-place Sugar Kings 7-1, then lost 1-0.

Toronto scored in all but the second and eighth innings of the runaway opener with Ed Stevens banging a pair of two-run homers, his 12th and 13th of the season, and Bill Wilson driving in five runs with four hits in five trips. Loren Babe, with three-for-five, matched Stevens' four RBIs. Sam Jethroe also homered for the Leafs, as Lynn Lovenguth, winning his 12th in 17 decisions, held the Marlins to six hits.

In all, the Leafs smacked 23 hits off three Miami pitchers, with reliever Thorton Kipper getting the loss. He's now 2-5.

Giardello Stops Baldoni In First

NEW YORK — (AP) — Joey Giardello, former high ranking middleweight contender from Philadelphia, snapped a two-fight losing streak Monday night with a first round knockout of Tony Baldoni at Wilkes Barre, Pa. in a telecast bout at St. Nicholas Arena. The time was 2:46.

Giardello weighed 159 1/2 and Baldoni 158 1/4 for the scheduled 10-rounder.

A left and right to the jaw finished off the 24-year-old miner. Tony fell flat on his back. He struggled to his feet at the count of nine but then fell back against the ropes and to the canvas again.

Gary Player, Young South African, Paces Field In British Open Golf; Balding Has 72 And Stan Leonard 74

HOYLAKE, Eng. — (AP) — South African Gary Player carved a course record of 68 out of tough Hoylake Monday in qualifying play for the British Open golf championship.

The 20-year-old player — a shooter of great promise — provided the only genuine sensation in a day of high winds and even higher scores. His three-under-par round included a magnificent 32 on the homevard nine.

Player's 68 broke the course record by one stroke. Dancing with joy off the last green he said: "It was the greatest round of my life. Everything I tried came off."

England's Charlie Ward who was regarded as a fading player, bagged a 69 on the easier Wallace course where half the record field of 330 played for qualifying scores.

Belgium's Flory Van Donck, a real threat to take this title, also shot 69 at Wallace.

Al Balding of Toronto posted a 37-35-72 at Wallace. Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Lachute, Que., went round Hoylake in 74. "I played well most of the way but had two sixes—at the third and 14th," Leonard said. He took 37 both out and in.

Player, Ward and Van Donck were the only golfers to break up. Mostly the scoreboard presented a frightening aspect. Figures for the field as a whole were the poorest posted for years.

Egyptian Princess Sets World Record In Winning Coaching Club Trotting Oaks In Two Straight Heats Monday

GOSHEN, N.Y. — (AP) — Egyptian Princess won the Coaching Club Trotting Oaks Monday in two straight heats at Historic track, establishing a world record and establishing herself as the favorite for the August 8 Hambletonian Stakes.

Grand circuit veterans gasped as the three-year-old Princess, owned by the Clearview Stable of Winthrop, Me., went around the outside on two turns in the first mile dash and zipped home a three-length winner over Blythe-Anover.

The time was 2:04 flat, the fastest mile ever trotted by a three-year-old at this 102-year-old sulky oval. The Princess demonstrated she has the class to cop the $90,000 Hambletonian and become the tenth of her sex to win trotting's greatest race.

A little more than an hour later, the daughter of Victory Song-Egyptian Abby came back and again proved herself a formidable filly as Earl Avey of Woodstock, N.B., drove her to victory in 2:04 2/5.

The world record was for the two heats, a 4:08 2/5 clocking, which shattered the marks of 4:09 4/5 set in the 1952 by Lu Peck at Delaware, Ohio.

St. George's Guild Holds Meeting At Ayer's Cliff

AYER'S CLIFF—Mrs. H. C. Denton, of Hatley entertained the members and friends of St. George's Guild at the Parsonage for the last meeting before the summer vacation. Nearly all the members were conveyed there by those having cars and by Mr. A. R. A'Bear, and Mr. M. E. Leavitt.

Rev. Mr. Denton opened the session with prayer after which Mrs. James Atkinson president, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Fred Harris, secretary, read the minutes.

After several small items of business were disposed of, Mrs. Atkinson brought up the subject of re-modelling the kitchen at St. George's Hall, which was turned down a year ago. A vote was taken under different management. Tenders will be received for the work and a special meeting will be held for final plans.

Plans were made for a rummage sale during Fair week and a food sale in charge of Mesdames Atkinson and Sloggett to be held on the last Saturday in the month at three o'clock.

Refreshments were served when Mrs. Atkinson poured at the attractively appointed lace covered table lighted by candles. Mrs. Denton was assisted by Mrs. Clifford Curtis and her daughter in serving the guests.
