

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Auction Sale—A J. Maxham & Co.
Entertainment—Mission of Chalmers' Church.
Acme Folding Boat—R. L. & J. W. Kirkup.
Notice—Captain Hansen and others.
Postponed—Ladies' Golf Club.
Fresh Strawberries, etc.—E. Roumilhac.
8th R. R. Mess Association—H. J. Morgan.
Apollinaris—The Queen of Table Waters. See 4th Page.
Hood's Pills and Sarsaparilla.
Dr. J. Collins Brown's Chlorodyne.
W. Baker & Co's Pure Cocoa.
Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphates of Lime and Soda.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Engagement for a few Performances of the Boston Comedy Company,
H. PRICE WEBBER, MANAGER.
Supported by the Favorite Actress EDWINA GRAY.

FRIDAY EVENING—LUCKY HORSESHOE.
SATURDAY MATINEE—EAST LYNE.
SATURDAY EVENING—ARABIAN-MA-POQUE.

Prices to suit the times.
Admission, 25c, 50c, 75c. Doors open at 7:15; Overture at 8 o'clock.
Admission to Matinee, Saturday, 25c, to all of the House.
No Change of programme nightly; no plays repeated.

May 25, 1892.

To Let, Furnished,

COTTAGES AT LAKE ST. JOSEPH, within three minutes walk of Station and Post Office. Rent $30 to $45.
Apply to
E. L. SEWELL,
Lake St. Joseph,
Mon., W., Fri.

May 23, 1892.

Ladies' Golf Club.

THE TEA THAT WAS TO HAVE BEEN given by the above club on Saturday, 26th instant, has been postponed till the following SATURDAY, 4th June.
May 27, 1892.

8th R. R. Mess Association.

A MEETING OF THE ABOVE WILL be held THIS EVENING, at EIGHT o'clock. All members are particularly requested to be present.
By order,
H. J. MORGAN,
Hon. Sec. Treas.

May 27, 1892.

THE MISSION BAND

Of Chalmers' Church
WILL GIVE AN ENTERTAINMENT
In the Sunday School Hall,
—ON—
Friday Evening, at 8 o'clock.

A Collection will be taken up.
Ice-Cream, Home-Made Cakes and Candy for sale.
May 27, 1892.

E. ROUMILHAC,

No. 19 St. John Street, Upper Town, Quebec.

JUST ARRIVED, CHOICE SELECTION OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, Tomatoes, Asparagus, Egg Plants, Pine Apples, Oranges, etc., received fresh daily.

FINE FRESH STRAWBERRIES
at 10c per box.
May 27, 1892.

NOTICE.

THE UNDERSIGNED
has for sale a number of any debts whatever contracted by the Crew of their respective vessels while in this port.

Ship "Catharine," Hanson, Master.
"Sarnadotte," Thorstensen, Master.
"Luna," Green.
"Dronning," Meier.
"Prince Rupert," O'Malley.
"Hohmann," Nelson.
"Stern," Schank.
"Kedron," Andersen.
"Lafayette," Madsen.
"Folding," Halvorsen.

May 27, 1892.

THE ACME FOLDING BOAT COY.

MANUFACTURERS OF PORTABLE
Boats and Canoes for Rowing, Fishing, Sailing, Fishing, Hunting or Canoeing. These boats are provided with Sails, Decks, Keels, and other necessary fittings. Weighing from 30 lbs. up. Size of package boat folded 50 inch long by 9 inch diameter. Send for Catalogue, 1892.

R. L. & J. W. KIRKUP,
Sole Agents for Canada, 242 St. James Street, Montreal.

May 27, 1892.

NOTICE.

BARK "GATINEAU," FOR BELFAST, is now ready to receive cargo in the Lachine Basin. Shippers will please note.
Quebec, 26th May, 1892.

P. QUAILL,
Master.

May 26, 1892.

NOTICE.

THE UNDERSIGNED
is not responsible for any debts contracted by the Crew of the Ship
"Thornhill," while in this port.

W. SIMMONS,
Master.

May 26, 1892.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND

Just Received,
"FRANCE AND ENGLAND" in North America, a series of Historical Narratives, by Francis Cadman, 2 vols.

THE CANADIAN ACCOUNTANT, a practical system of Bookkeeping, designed for the use of Counting Houses, Academies and High Schools, by S. G. Beatty and W. Johnson, F.C.A. Revised and enlarged edition. This work contains the latest and most approved method of keeping any and all accounts. Price $2.

Also, the following NEW BOOKS:
"Peggy Sinclair's Trip Across the Continent and What Came of It," by Mrs. Harriet Lewis.
"Miss Winstons' Idea," by W. E. Norris.
"On Love's Altar," by Charles Garvin.
"Hidden Away, or the Spectre," by Desmond Hall.

A further supply of Whitaker's Almanac, Stationer's Year Book, Canadian Almanac, Everybody's Year Book, Perpetual Ready Reference Guide to the Statistics of Canada.
Also, the various periodicals of the month, and literature of the day.

DAWSON & CO.
Opposite Chronicle Office.

May 24, 1892.

KIFF NO MORE

WATSON'S COUGH DROPS
WILL GIVE POSITIVE AND INSTANT RELIEF TO THOSE SUFFERING FROM COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, ETC., AND ARE INVALUABLE TO ORATORS AND VOCALISTS. R. Y.
& T. W. STAMPED ON EACH DROP. TRY THEM.
December 1891

For Scrofula

"After suffering for about twenty-two years from scrofulous sores on the legs and arms, trying various medical cures without benefit, I began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and a wonderful cure was the result. Five bottles sufficed to restore me to health."—Bonifacio Lopez, 227 E. Commerce St., San Antonio, Texas.

Catarrh

"My daughter was afflicted for nearly a year with catarrh. The physician recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I followed his advice. Three months of regular treatment with Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills completely restored my daughter's health."—Mrs. Louise Rielle, Little Canada, Ware, Mass.

Rheumatism

"For several years, I was troubled with inflammatory rheumatism, being so bad at times as to be entirely helpless.
For the last two years, whenever I felt the effects of the disease, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and have had a spell, a long time."—E. F. Handbrough, Elk Run, Va.

For all blood diseases, the best remedy isAYER'S Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.
Cures others, will cure you

March 28, 1892.

COALS AFLOAT!

1240 TONS
EX "MAIDEN CITY"

In Lots to Suit Purchasers.

Geo. M. Webster & Co.

May 20, 1892.

THE BIRTHDAY HONORS.

In addition to granting a Knighthood to the Chief Justice of Quebec, Sir ALEX-ANDER LACROIX, Her Majesty has been pleased to confer high honors on three other distinguished Canadians. To the veteran Premier, Mr. ABBOTT, is given the decoration and distinction of the K.C.M.G., and to Mr. MOWAT, Premier of Ontario, the same honor has been granted. Both of the new Knights will deserve their title and reward. Mr. MOWAT, we believe, could have had the honor in Lord LA-WRENCE'S time had he been willing to accept it. But in those days, the Liberals thought that as GEORGE BROWN and ALEX-ANDER MACKENZIE had declined Imperial recognition of their services, they should not consistently accept the star and ribbon of the Order, which Her Most Gracious Majesty reserves, as rewards, for services done by the British Colonist, in Her Colonial Empire. But the two great chiefs are dead, and the Liberals may now do as they please, without fear of contradiction.
When GEORGE BROWN and ALEXANDER MACKENZIE had declined Imperial recognition of their services, they should not consistently accept the star and ribbon
of the Order, which Her Most Gracious
Majesty reserves, as rewards, for services
done by the British Colonist, in Her Colonial Empire. But the two great chiefs
are dead, and the Liberals may now do as
they please, without fear of contradiction.

Contra to general expectation, Chief Justice HAGERTY, of Ontario, and Mr.
ANDERSON, of Quebec, have missed the honor of being ennobled among the Knights of St. MICHAEL and St. GEORGE. Their turn will come, and perhaps the QUEEN'S list was full, as we believe she consents to sign only a certain number of parchments each year, except in cases where there are what is called "extra" Knights. These "extra" Knights are never British subjects, however, and are found mainly among the crowned heads and princes of Europe and Asia, and, of course, do not count in the roll of regular members of the various Orders.

Science will appreciate the honor given to Dr. GEORGE M. DAWSON, F.R.S.C., of the Geological Survey of Canada. Dr.
DAWSON is a young man of about forty-two years of age, the son of the esteemed Principal of McGill University, Sir WIL-LIAM DAWSON. He is an active member of the Royal Society of Canada, a Doctor of several Universities, and a well-educated man in every respect. He is one of the Commissioners appointed to investigate the fish fisheries of Behring Sea, and it is in recognition of the valuable services performed by him, along with Sir GEORGE BADEN POWELL, his fellow-Commissioner, that the Sovereign has sent him the star and collar of a Companion of St. MICHAEL and St. GEORGE. No man deserves the honor more than Dr. DAWSON, who will wear it modestly and with dignity. It is said in Ottawa, that Dr. DAWSON, the Director of the Survey, will shortly be superannuated, and that Dr. DAWSON will be appointed in his place. For that important office he is well fitted. Altogether, this year, the Imperial honors have been well bestowed. Mr. CHAPLAIN has been well included in the batch, and four years ago, his name was in everybody's mouth.

Try our Teas and be convinced.
VANDY & TURCOTTE, 35 John Street

Resignation of Colonel Amyot.

Yesterday afternoon Lieut. Colonel Amyot, in a short speech to his troops, stated that he had resigned his commission as Colonel of the 11th Battalion, with which he has been connected for over thirty years. All will sincerely regret that Colonel Amyot has left the service, and it is necessary for diversion to take this step. Colonel Roy will take command of the Battalion next month.

A Girl's Audacity.

A quite thrilling incident occurred on the straight stretch of line of the New York and New Jersey Railroad, between Woodbridge and Carlstadt, Sunday afternoon. As a passenger train was proceeding at full speed a 10-year-old girl left her half done compensation in the roadway that runs near the track and "copped quickly" in front of the locomotive, which was not more than 200 feet away.

She was laughing defiantly, facing the locomotive, standing firm between the rails, and the engineer knew that she was bent upon mischief and not upon suicide. He made the passengers jump and state with the blood-curdling whistle that he sent out of his engine, but the girl between the rails snapped her fingers and danced derisively.

The engineer had to stop the train or run over her. Of the two evils he chose the one he supposed to be the least. His fireman did not agree with him, but there was no time to argue the point. When the locomotive was brought to a standstill his pilot was hardly five feet from the girl's skirts. "I told them you'd better stop the train or run over me," she said, "I don't care." Then she laughed and ran after her companions.—Troy Times.

Notes and News.

HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

Personal Intelligence.

Colonel and Mrs. Miller, of Montreal, were in town yesterday. The Colonel still maintains a lively interest in his old regiment the Eight and was on the Plains to see their inspection.

To Telephone Subscribers.

Subscribers, whose names were inserted incorrectly in the last Telephone Directory, are requested to send their full address to the Company's Office, 34 St. John street, before June 1st.

H. A. DARRIN,
Local Manager.

Libelling an Actress.

In these days of action of criminal libel against the press, and the injustice of making the proprietor or editor pay for misinformation furnished by some correspondent, who would rather himself behind the scenes, the verdict rendered in London in the libel case, making the correspondent of the New York World personally responsible for the statements in that journal, makes a new chapter in the history of libel. In brief, the case was this:—A paragraph appeared in the New York World, last October, purporting to emanate from its London correspondent, that Geraldine Ulmar, a well-known stage designer, and her husband, would have been divorced only for the good offices of Sir Angustus Harris. There was not one word of truth in the statement. Mr. Greaves, the World's London correspondent, was sued for libel. He disclaimed all knowledge of the paragraph, and said he never sent any such article. The jury found in favor of the correspondent, and the jury gave $5,000, the case being tried on May 13th.

French-Canadian Loyalty.

Referring to the Queen's Birthday, the Standard says:—"Since Queen Victoria came to the throne, several generations have passed in her vast empire, and her name has transmitted one to the other, the same attachment, devotion and admiration for her august person. The reason for this is, that for fifty years, this Queen has given to the great nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen understood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoyment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great
nation over the destinies of which she is
called to preside, the example of every public
and domestic virtue. A wise, energetic, and
devoted sovereign, a loving and faithful wife,
a devoted mother, a model of dignity and
honor in every way, she has well deserved
the honor and respect of her subjects. As far
as we French-Canadians are concerned,
we will ever remember that this Queen under-
stood our national character and gratefully
acknowledged the services we have rendered
to her. The Queen has no more noble enjoy-
ment than the English citizens of French
origin, and this Queen has given to the great nation over the destinies of

