Drury's resignation expected today

OTTAWA (CP) — Public Works Minister C.M. Drury was expected to announce his resignation in the Commons today—becoming the first casualty in a seven-day opposition barrage over allegations that Liberal cabinet ministers attempted to manipulate Quebec courts.

Justice Minister Ron Basford said Thursday a report on the allegations from Chief Justice Jules Deschenes of Quebec Superior Court will be tabled in the Commons today.

Mr. Drury, Health Minister Marc Lalonde and Treasury Board President Jean Chretien, all named in the report, met Thursday with Prime Minister Trudeau and Mr. Basford to discuss the report.

Mr. Lalonde and Mr. Chretien left Mr. Trudeau's office 45 minutes later. But Mr. Drury, who has admitted calling Mr. Justice James Huggess while he was hearing a contempt of court charge against Consumer Affairs Minister Andre Ouellet, was in the meeting another 45 minutes.

"I can't tell you anything of the conversation we had," he said later. "But you can guess."

WILL TELL HOUSE
Asked if he intended to resign, he said he would make a statement in the House.

"I think what I ought to do is make my statement in the House," he told reporters. "You'll just have to wait. Be patient. The future will unfold as it should."

Mr. Trudeau said Mr. Lalonde and Mr. Chretien were also given copies of the Deschenes report.

"They're going to think it over overnight," he said as he left his Centre Block office. "I'm not going to tell you what's in the report."

He said he hoped the report would put an end to the issue that has recently dominated the Commons question period.

The furor began after publication of a letter from Mr. Justice Kenneth Mackay alleging that Mr. Chretien, Mr. Lalonde and Mr. Drury had tried to interfere with the courts.

He subsequently withdrew his allegations against Mr. Chretien. But he has stuck by his charge that Mr. Lalonde attempted to get him to postpone the trial of 10 Trinidadian students while Mr. Lalonde was Mr. Trudeau's principal secretary in 1970.

NOT MINISTER THEN
Mr. Lalonde has said he only asked Mr. Justice Mackay when he would be making his judgment in the case. He has never answered opposition questions in the House about his actions because of a Commons rule that he was not a minister at the time.

Opposition demands for Mr. Drury's resignation have mounted in the last few days. Both Ed Broadbent, New Democratic leader, and Progressive Conservative leader Joe Clark also have said that, if Mr. Ouellet asked Mr. Drury to intervene for him, that he too should resign.

Mr. Drury said Thursday he had not ruled out resigning.

Mr. Ouellet has refused to comment on his role in the

Olympic accident

MONTREAL (CP) — The union which represented four workers who died on the Olympic stadium construction site Monday says the accident could have been avoided if an engineer in charge had listened to a worker's warning.

Jean-Paul Ronaldi, business agent for Local 711, International Association of Structural Iron Workers, said a crane signaller had warned the engineer that temporary bars holding sections of a roof beam should not be cut because tension cables were not tightened.

The men were killed when the two 70-ton hollow concrete sections of the cantilever beam which they were installing broke loose and fell 185 feet to the ground.

10 years in prison

MONTREAL (CP) — Denise Cere-Martin, 27, was sentenced to 10 years in prison Thursday for importing $100,000 worth of heroin.

The woman, who has a six-year-old son, pleaded guilty to four charges of conspiracy and importing heroin in Quebec Superior Court.

Crown attorneys said she accepted delivery of 97 grams of pure heroin from Amsterdam last May 19 and in October purchased another 27 grams through the mail.

The court was told the woman's husband is currently serving a four-year sentence in Bangkok, Thailand, on drug-related charges.

Mr. Justice Louis Paradis rejected a Crown recommendation for an eight-year sentence and a defence request for seven years, because, he said, heroin is "an extremely harmful drug."

Lawsuit filed

MONTREAL (CP) — An insurance company filed a lawsuit Thursday against 10 groups and individuals, claiming $345,000 which it paid out after a rampage at the James Bay hydroelectric project two years ago.

La Securite Insurance Co. is suing five unions and five individuals for damages it paid to the James Bay Energy Corp. as a result of the incident.

Workers at the LG-2 site in northwestern Quebec levelled several buildings and destroyed fuel tanks March 21, 1974, in a protest against living and working conditions.

The defendants already face a suit by the James Bay Energy Corp. for $32 million. Three of them are serving prison terms for the incident.

Organizations named in the suit, filed in Quebec Superior Court, are the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 791, the Quebec Federation of Labor, the International Union of Operating Engineers, the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America Local 1345, and the Quebec Building Trades Council.

The individuals charged are union officials Andre (Dede) Desjardins, Yvon Duhamel, Michel and Rene Mantha and Maurice Dupuis.

Demonstration planned

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec's three major union centrals announced Thursday they have agreed to join forces in demonstrations throughout the province and in Ottawa March 22 to protest federal and provincial wage guidelines.

The three centrals—the Quebec Federation of Labor (QFL), the Confederation of National Trade Unions (CNTU) and the Quebec Teachers Federation (QTF)—are linked in the common front of public-service unions negotiating contracts with the Quebec government.

QFL president Louis Laberge said two weeks ago his central would participate March 22 in a demonstration on Parliament Hill in Ottawa organized by the Canadian Labor Congress, and invited the CNTU and the QTF to lend their support.

Announcing that his common front partners had decided to accept his call, Mr. Laberge told a news conference Thursday the decision marks the first time Quebec workers have shown such massive and united strength.

Anti-inflation law faces court

OTTAWA (CP) — The government moved to clear a path for appeals against its selective pay and price controls Thursday and at the same time asked the Supreme Court of Canada to rule on the constitutional validity of the anti-inflation legislation.

Amendments to the legislation tabled in the Commons would clear the way for both companies and unions to appeal—ultimately to the federal court—when they are dissatisfied with anti-inflation board decisions limiting increases in wages, prices, profits or dividends.

The changes would remove the much-criticized provision which requires companies and unions to defy the controls—and risk a penalty—in order to qualify for an appeal.

Unions also would be put on equal footing with employers in appealing rollbacks of wage increases under the amendments, tabled by Finance Minister Donald Macdonald.

The amendments are the first since the legislation was passed in December and follow prolonged attacks by labor and opposition politicians.

Meanwhile, Justice Minister Ron Basford announced the Anti-Inflation Act is being referred to the Supreme Court for a ruling on whether it is valid under powers of the federal government.

SEE INTRUSION
Critics say the controls program intrudes on some areas of traditionally-provincial jurisdiction, such as labor relations. Mr. Basford said the law would be defended on the basis of clauses in the constitution allowing the federal government to take action necessary for peace, order and good government.

The move was prompted by a challenge of Renfrew County teachers against the validity of the federal-Ontario anti-inflation agreement.

Mr. Basford said this would raise the issue of the validity of the federal legislation itself and therefore the entire law was being referred to the courts to resolve any doubts.

The agreement, which subjects provincial employees to the controls, was signed by Ontario on the basis of a cabinet order. The teachers, who had a wage increase reduced by the anti-inflation board, say the province did not have the right to make the agreement without passing legislation.

Of the seven provinces which have signed agreements so far, Newfoundland and Manitoba also signed under cabinet orders-in-council. Three other provinces passed legislation in order to turn their public sectors over to the federal board.

Earlier Thursday, Mr. Macdonald announced Quebec had become the seventh province to sign an agreement with Ottawa. However, Quebec has created its own inflation control commission to apply the controls to its public servants and institutions.

QUEBEC CLAUSE
Mr. Macdonald also introduced an amendment to allow the Quebec commission to apply wage controls to private workers in the province's construction industry.

All private workers previously were under the jurisdiction of the federal board, but Mr. Macdonald said this was not appropriate for the Quebec construction industry, where wage levels are set by province-wide bargaining under government direction.

Lebanese president resists army takeover

BEIRUT (AP) — President Suleiman Franjeh, surrounded by loyalist tanks and troops in his hilltop palace, rejected a resignation order today from army officers who announced a military takeover in Lebanon.

"I'm staying on to defend legality and legitimacy," Franjeh told a newspaper that supports him. "I shall wait for the coup leaders here in the presidential palace."

"There are three conditions for vacating the presidency. Resignation, death or dismissal by parliament. None of these conditions exists today."

The takeover was announced by Brig. Aziz Ahdab, commander of the Beirut garrison, in a television-radio address Thursday.

Ahdab, calling himself "provisional military ruler," said he would stay in power only long enough to get a new president and government. He announced his commitment to democratic parties as he called for resignations of Franjeh and Premier Rashid Karami.

There was no word from Karami, who remained isolated in his downtown home.

FORCES SILENT
Ahdab received public support from a number of officers, including the air force and a tank corps commander. He said he has the support of the entire armed forces. But the armed forces commander, Gen.

Hamma Said, and other members of the high command were silent.

Ahdab controls about 4,000 troops, the largest garrison of the 18,000-man armed forces, supported by a strong armored force.

Franjeh has the 150-man presidential guard, heavily reinforced with loyalist units including armor in recent days as coup rumors grew with the disruption in the country.

He also may be counting on support from three large garrisons in the Christian-held sector of Mount Lebanon north of Beirut. One high-ranking officer, however, said these garrisons are expected to wait for a decision from the high command.

As the showdown between Ahdab and Franjeh developed, Beirut's streets were almost empty of traffic.

There was no sign of organized opposition to the coup except around Franjeh's palace. But hundreds of armed gunmen from Moslem and Christian private armies took over the streets.

PICK UP GUNMEN

Christian and Moslem militia exchanged sporadic gunfire in the already ravaged downtown hotel district.

Search on for miners trapped after blast

OVEN FORK, Ky. (AP) — Rescue workers moved cautiously into a coal mine today to search for 11 men—including three federal inspectors—trapped by an explosion. There were reports the men were alive after the blast.

Fifteen miners died in an explosion in the same mine earlier this week.

Two men in the mineshaft when the blast occurred climbed to safety and told rescue workers the 11 trapped below were alive after the explosion, said a spokeswoman for the Scotia Coal Co.

Herschell Potter, chief of mining administration's safety division, confirmed in Washington that two men had been rescued. He said the two climbed 5,000 feet after the blast and yelled for help. A rescue crew went in and got them out, he said.

Lawrence Phillips, the administration's district supervisor, said the 11 men were working in the same area as the 15 miners trapped and killed Tuesday. That area is 3 1/2 miles from the mine entrance and 1,600 feet underground.

NO REPORTERS
Within minutes of the latest blast, relatives and spectators began gathering along the road leading to Scotia's No. 1 Black Mountain mine. Several ambulances arrived, and state police cars blocked the entrance. Reporters were not allowed on the property.

Rescue teams had been in the mine round the clock since Tuesday's explosion, trying to clear 3 1/2 miles of mine shaft of poisonous and explosive gases and to reinforce the roof, a spokesman at the administration's District 6 office at Pikeville said.

The mineshaft's roof, he said, apparently was weakened by the first blast.

Heavy crane equipment was moved in from mines in neighboring Harlan County to aid in the rescue effort, officials said.

The bodies of the 15 killed earlier were removed from the mine Wednesday, after a 12-hour rescue effort.

Calls for forced treatment of addicts to fight crime

OTTAWA (CP) — A backbench Liberal MP called Thursday for forcible detention and treatment of known heroin addicts as a means of reducing the level of crime attributable to drug abuse.

Art Lee (Vancouver East) said during the third day of second-reading debate in the Commons on the government's peace-and-security legislation that forced treatment would take addicts off the streets so they would not commit crimes to support their habit.

Mr. Lee said the legislation, including amendments to gun control, wiretapping and parole laws failed to deal with hard drugs, which he said were the cause of most violent crime in Vancouver and perhaps all of Canada.

Tougher law enforcement resulting in arrests of traffickers had led to increased drug prices and more crime as addicts tried to raise money, he said.

The government and the Commons justice committee should examine forced treatment as applied in Japan, which had some success in reducing addiction.

He said a section of the Narcotics Control Act which had never been proclaimed allowed preventive detention and custody for treatment of addicts with previous drug convictions.

CITED REPORT
Mr. Lee noted that a federal study of drug use had recommended three years ago that temporary, involuntary detention be used to get addicts off drugs.

"I think the adoption of such a system after careful examination by the committee may well be a step in the right direction of eliminating one of the major causes of crime," he concluded.

John Gilbert (NDP—Toronto-Broadview) rapped

the government for loosening restrictions on wiretapping, saying civil liberties were being sacrificed in favor of small gains in crime detection. He added that Justice Minister Ron Basford had given in to pressures from the police.

The legislation would repeal the notification provision that says police must inform persons their telephones have been tapped within 90 days after completion of the tapping.

WOULD BE LEGAL
The amendments also would make acceptable in courts wire evidence acquired through illegal wiretapping.

The changes were a failure in maintaining the strong civil liberties approach the opposition had forced on the government when the legislation was passed in 1974, Mr. Gilbert said. The Liberals had a minority government then.

Bush road construction regulations outlined

QUEBEC (JM) — The Provincial Department of Lands and Forests has announced new restrictions concerning the construction, maintenance and improvements of bush roads in land which falls under their jurisdiction. The new regulations became law with the implementation of Order in Council 86-87 which was promulgated January 20.

The new regulations prohibit the construction of any bush roads without prior written consent of the ministry, and the authorization, with or without option of renewal, will not grant exclusive hunting and fishing rights, nor will it permit exclusivity of use by the constructor.

Furthermore, any person desirous of constructing bush roads must provide a full set of plans designating the proposed site and the particular end result use of the road. If the road traverses wood lots owned by other persons or corporations the constructor must provide the department with certificates of their written consent.

COMMERCIAL OPERATION

Cutting permits will have to be obtained from the department, and all wood in a non-commercial lot will be appraised at the current local rate. It will also have to be cut and piled to enable easy removal. The same basic premise holds true in forest cutting concessions where their rate will be paid.

The new law also deals with the traditional questions of the three chain allowance, bridge construction, mineral rights and other conditions of forestry control.

Further information on the new regulations may be obtained by contacting your local Lands and Forests office.

A FOREST GLADE — No longer will the individual be able to construct or maintain a bush road without prior permission from the Provincial Department of Lands and Forests. New regulations promulgated under Order in Council 86-87 became law January 20.

TEACHERS STRIKE AGAIN — Eastern Townships teachers, members of the ETAT walked off their jobs on a one-day strike yesterday. This is the second day-strike since the teachers were granted their right to strike

Teachers may escalate strike action soon

LENNOXVILLE (GA) — Area Protestant schools are back in session today after an Eastern Townships Association of Teachers system-wide walkout yesterday, the second in two months since the ETAT were granted the right to strike by the Quebec government.

Polyvalent school set for Asbestos

QUEBEC — The Liberal Richmond County MNA Yvon Vallieres announced recently that the Minister of Education, Jean Bienvenue, confirmed that the Commission Scolaire Regionale de l'Estrie has granted the contract to the firm "Dorilas Grenier Ltd." for the construction of a polyvalent school in Asbestos.

Magog council meets

MAGOG (JM) — Council meetings here during February through March 4th dealt with run of the mill municipal business. Among the significant highlights were the appointments of Stephen Roy and John Hackett. Captain Roy was named assistant director of police and fire services with a $25 week salary increment, and Mr. Hackett was named arbitrator in the conflict between the city and the Magog Police and Firemen's Association who are trying to renew a ratified collective agreement.

The day-long walkout crippled the entire Protestant school system throughout the province as the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers exercised this right to strike in protest to what they termed an insultingly inadequate contract offer with salaries and work load a main bone of contention.

According to Wendell Sparkes, Director General of the Eastern Townships Regional School Board, the PAPT has told QAPSB that they do not intend to meet again until the QAPSB has something significant to offer.

Pierre Bernier, chief negotiator of the PAPT, reported that it was quite evident that QAPSB had no mandates for any modifications of improvements to the present contract offer. Therefore, further negotiations at this table were absolutely useless according to an ETAT spokesman.

It was further revealed by an ETAT spokesman that the PAPT has now moved to the FSCQ, the French Catholic teachers syndicate, for the purpose of collaborating on meaningful negotiations. It was this body the PAPT has previously wished to negotiate with but was prevented from doing so by a QAPSB court action.

Administrators and support staff within the ETRSB jurisdiction were told that their services were not required during yesterday's teacher walkout.

"We wanted to avoid any confrontation with the teachers similar to the events that transpired during the last walk-out on February 26 when picketing ETAT teachers prevented ETRSB employees from entering the board's offices until the Lennoxville Police were called to allow the workers through the picket lines," Mr. Sparkes said.

Members of the ETAT were angered by the fact that the administrators and support staff refused to respect the picket lines alleging that they were influenced to do so by their superiors.

The Waterloo Boy Scouts were given a $250 grant from the recreational department. Council then approved a motion proposing the mayor and two aldermen act as negotiators in contract discussions with the police department.

Council approved a motion adopting a temporary loan in the amount of $43,097.02 in payment of regular accounts. The recreation and police reports for the previous two months were adopted as read.

Tenders for a new fire truck were opened then forwarded to the Director-General of Fire Prevention Services for approval.

Council approved a motion adopting a temporary loan in the amount of $85,600 from the Bank of Montreal for the installation of sanitary sewers and water mains on Carnation St., serving the new polyvalent school.

Mayor Paul Andre Roy told a group of property owners the council would adhere to the abolishment of the eight per cent rental tax in 1976 and added all garbage removal charges would be billed to property owners in single or multi-family dwellings.

The highlight of the Festival is a museum-style exhibition of Disney memorabilia which includes original artwork from many of his films (animation, character studies, layouts), original cels, vintage Disney comic books and publications dating back to the 1930's, publicity material gathered over the years, as well as a collection of Disney "merchandise" that has so much become a part of "pop" culture.

The exhibit will also include a display outlining, in step-by-step fashion, how animation is done.

Festival organizers are hopeful that a studio will be set up in the exhibit area, and that professional animators from Disada Productions will be on hand doing their work and answering questions. A lecture entitled "Animation as an Art Form", has also been scheduled.

Several Disney cartoon films will also be shown during the week. "A History of Film Animation" will be presented on Tuesday evening, March 16. Mr. Peter Adamakos of Disada Productions Ltd. will trace the development of animation from pre-1930's to the present, with the aid of a number of cartoon features.

The Festival, and its accompanying exhibit, will provide a unique educational opportunity for cinema enthusiasts, nostalgia buffs, and those interested in contemporary art forms. And, of course, the name of Walt Disney is synonymous with joy and amusement for people of all ages around the world.

Admission for all events is free and open to everyone. A Children's Film Festival is being presented on Saturday, March 20, 1976, after the Disney Festival. Among the features to be shown in this all-day event are Walt Disney's "The Adventures of Ichabod and Mr. Toad" and "Bedknobs and Broomsticks". Admission is free and open to all.

LENNOXVILLE — Champlain Regional College in conjunction with Disada Productions Ltd., will be presenting a Walt Disney Festival from March 16 to 19, 1976.

The four-day festival will focus on Walt Disney's contributions to film animation. The story of Walt Disney is that of the pioneering of a new art form, possibly the only art form unique to this century. His contributions included the development of the first synchronous sound films, the use of story and plot for the first time in film animation, etc.

The highlight of the Festival is a museum-style exhibition of Disney memorabilia which includes original artwork from many of his films (animation, character studies, layouts), original cels, vintage Disney comic books and publications dating back to the 1930's, publicity material gathered over the years, as well as a collection of Disney "merchandise" that has so much become a part of "pop" culture.

Guidelines broken

Prime Minister Trudeau says that his system of economic controls has begun to succeed. Every sensible Canadian will hope that he is right. But the Anti-Inflation Board's latest ruling in a major industrial dispute raises serious doubts about the government's determination to enforce its wage guidelines.

Last year the huge British Columbia pulp and paper industry was paralyzed by strikes until the New Democratic government and the provincial legislature ended them by a law which also covered some smaller industries. While their members went back to work the two pulp and paper unions negotiated with management a wage increase of 16.1 per cent for the first year of a generous contract and 10.8 per cent for the second.

These figures far exceed the guidelines, however they may be interpreted, but the newly-elected Social Credit government urged the Anti-Inflation Board to approve the settlement. As Labor Minister Allan Williams explained in a telegram to the board, "any action which would undo the results of this bargaining would have most serious and far-reaching implications. From the perspective of the government and the public interest it is imperative that industrial strife be reduced in this most important industry."

Mr. Williams' meaning was quite clear. To avoid another strike the government proposed to break the guidelines even when Premier William Bennett had just announced its full co-operation with federal policy and a stern provincial program of economic restraint.

Caught between the guidelines and the pressure from Victoria, the Anti-Inflation Board sought a convenient compromise. It rolled back the first-year increase of 16.1 per cent — to 15 per cent and allowed the second-year increase of 10.8 per cent. A wide breach in the guidelines was excused by the argument that the pulp and paper unions had been unfairly interrupted in the negotiations with their employers when the anti-inflation law was announced last October and had resumed work under a temporary provincial law. In justice, the board decided, this must be considered a very special case, an exception to the rules.

Perhaps it was but the fact remains that the guidelines were disregarded for reasons of expediency and that the precedent thus set will encourage unions in industries throughout the nation to ask for similar treatment. If strike threats are to be bought off by such methods of appeasement — or if business is permitted to earn profits exceeding the increase of its production costs — then grave inequities as between various industries and unions will accumulate and undermine the whole anti-inflation program. The Canadian Labor Congress, determined to destroy the federal policy entirely, need only wait a little while for its self-destruction.

Mr. Trudeau evidently realizes that the real problem of his government goes beyond the fine print in the guidelines which require broad support from management, unions and the unorganized public. He rightly asks the Canadian people to restrain their excessive demands on the economy and says the government is restraining its own. But restraint, up to now, has taken the form of increased spending and deficits on a lavish scale.

That example does not inspire restraint by the public or confidence in the struggle against inflation. Until government at all levels begins to curb its appetite for money and lives within its means more breaches of the guidelines can be expected and the struggle, already at a decisive point, cannot succeed.

Red Cross seeks volunteers

March is Red Cross Month the one month when you are asked for funds to support the activities of volunteers. Did you know that volunteers are the backbone of the Red Cross, that they supply 90 per cent of its labour and are responsible for the scope and success of the whole Red Cross movement?

When you give blood, (making yourself a volunteer!), other volunteers assist with your reception and registration, serve in the canteen and supervise the restbed area at the blood clinic. The volumes of clothing used in disasters are made by volunteers. Volunteers assist at swimming classes, camps or local beaches. Registered nurses volunteer instruction for home-nursing courses. Teachers supervise Red Cross Youth groups. Volunteers in some areas handle the Red Cross sickroom equipment loan service. Volunteers provide visits, transportation and drop-in centres for seniors. Combined with professional staff, volunteers provide emergency welfare and help in the reunion of families. The materials and facilities utilized by these volunteers are financed by your dollars.

The most famous volunteer, of course, was the Swiss banker-business man, Henry Dunant (1828-1910) who conceived the idea of the International Red Cross and involved himself so deeply in its founding and fostering that he went bankrupt.

Not many people would care to devote their lives to voluntarism as Dunant did.

Not many are able. But the people who knock on your doors this March share his ideals. They are volunteers — unpaid workers of all ages, all races, all religions, joined in the common urge to help.

Because of the many services Red Cross performs, the help these volunteers give in energy and the help you give in contributions is help that will be freely extended to you and to them when the need is there. Give to your Red Cross.

"THE RURAL MAIL MAN"

In the cold and blustery weather, When the frost is on the rail, Would you like to face a blizzard With a half a ton of mail?

In the biting blizzard weather, When the snow comes to your knees, Would you like to fish for pennies, While your feet and fingers freeze?

When outdoors the wind is whistling And the air is full of snow, Would you love to have a jitney And the blamed thing would not go?

Yes, I love the good old fireside, Sipping coffee from a pail, But I have to buck the snowdrifts 'Cause the farmers want their Mail.

REBIRTH IN CREATION

The sap is flowing again in the tree, And overnight each swelling bud unfolds; The forest awakens at the season's call To see the freshness Spring's new beauty holds. Rebirth in nature is balm to man's soul, The time of quince and soft pink hawthorn show; He sees the promise of eternal life Fulfilled in nesting birds and floral glow. He marvels at the wisely planned design, Whereby the life of tree and man survives; And with sincerest treasures God's great gift, The resurrection seen when Spring arrives.

The signs of resurrection we can see, New life, the swelling bud, the leafing tree.

Northern Ireland politics powerless

LONDON (CP) — Northern Ireland's political system is dangling powerless. The constitutional convention, elected last year to design a new government for the six counties, has collapsed in acrimonious disarray.

The Protestant majority of the 78 convention members rejected British government demands for Roman Catholic power-sharing.

As a result, effective rule has returned to Westminster, where it had rested since the fall of the last power-sharing executive in 1974.

With Ulster's main forum of political dialogue now finished, observers fear the vacuum will be filled by terrorists of both communities, who make their points by shooting kneecaps, planting bombs and driving a wedge of fear between the population and more moderate politicians.

The failed convention demonstrated that the gulf between Catholic and Protestant leaders is deep and perhaps unbridgeable.

But, in its chaotic closing sessions, Protestant politicians themselves seemed to be falling into disunity.

Some, including Vanguard party chief William Craig, had suggested at least a temporary coalition government of Protestants and Catholics. But Protestant extremists, led by Rev. Ian Paisley, maintained an unyielding line.

Letter to the Editor

Claims metric commission lacks experience

Dear Sir:

When I first realized that Canada is going metric, I was very pleased. Having lived and worked in 4 countries in the metric system, I am quite familiar with the advantages.

I became puzzled and more interested when I found serious shortcomings in the approach and publications; closer examination led me to the conclusion that there is obviously nobody in the whole Metric Commission with a real experience with the system!

To illustrate what I mean here is one example: The Metric Commission introduces the Pascal (Pa) as the unit of pressure. In a country which has been fully metric for generations, if you started to talk in Pascals, you would draw a blank. The commonly, and almost exclusively, used unit is the kg-cm<sup>2</sup>, called atmosphere (at), because it is almost exactly the average atmospheric pressure at sealevel (1.033 at). The waterpressure under open water is 1 at for every 10 m depth, the tirepressure in a passenger car is about 2 at. It is also the most practical and useful unit of pressure, absolutely metric, the only unit of pressure used in most countries, and I can see no sensible reason in the world to ignore or abandon it.

I have picked this example at random to illustrate the lack of experience in the Metric Commission, which has created an irresponsibly confusing condition. I would hate to see Canada becoming once more the laughingstock for having introduced a metric system that nobody inside or outside Canada would understand.

Our Bail - and parole system, postal codes, taxlaws, liquorlaws, etc. are bad enough, let's not add metrication to the list of blunders, created by our governments on a production-line.

Not if I can help it! Sincerely yours Eberhard Matuschek Mississauga, Ont.

STANSTEAD — This week the young men of Stanstead county will show that when the call of duty falls on their ears they will answer back "Ready, Aye ready" and don the king's uniform.

One hundred Stanstead County lads who have already joined the 117th Eastern Townships Battalion left their homes to ask their comrades to join them. These boys are determined that to the Stanstead Company will fall the honor of being the first to reach full strength.

"No slackers at Beebe," said Corporal Taylor as he marched his eighteen men to the station on Saturday. "There are only a few eligible men left there, and they will be with us when we return."

"Don't worry, we're just letting his nose in!"

Easy wins for Israel over: Pentagon

WASHINGTON — Israel can never again expect to win an easy victory over the Arabs, according to the Pentagon's latest secret intelligence estimates.

The Arab nations have amassed tremendous stockpiles of Soviet weapons, giving them vastly superior firepower.

The comparative figures are classified "Secret-Sensitive." Since the Soviets supplied the equipment, they obviously know the figures. We, therefore, believe the American people, who may be called upon to support Israel, are also entitled to the facts.

The six leading Arab powers — Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Iraq, Libya and Saudi Arabia — have a combined strength that is overwhelming.

Roughly, they have a 4-to-1 superiority over Israel in combat planes, a 3-to-1 edge in trained pilots, a 19-to-1 advantage in anti-aircraft missiles and a 3-to-1 superiority in ships and submarines.

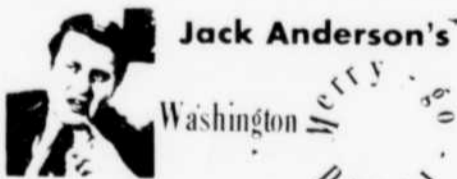

It is the Pentagon's view, nevertheless, that Israel would win the next military conflict but that the victory would be costly.

Concurring, the Central Intelligence Agency estimates that a future Arab-Israeli outbreak would produce at least 36,000 Israeli casualties. On a proportionate basis, this would be equivalent to about 2.5 million casualties for the United States.

Here are some highlights from the secret intelligence figures:

— The six Arab countries have a combined air strength of 1,509 supersonic and subsonic fighter jets. Israel has only 426, of which 206 are supersonic. The Egyptians alone have 347 supersonic fighters, the Syrians another 338. In addition, these two Arab nations possess 62 of the latest Soviet MIG-23s, which are superior to any jet plane the United States has yet sent to Israel.

— Most Arab planes and missiles have been supplied by the Russians since the October 1973 war. Syria, especially, has been loaded down with extremely sophisticated equipment. In contrast, 220 of Israel's subsonic planes are U.S.-supplied A-4 Skyhawks, which are 20-year-old models.

— The six Arab nations have 2,530 trained pilots, including 1,740 who are qualified to fly jet fighters. Israel has 1,100 pilots, of whom 700 are jet qualified. All told, the six Arab air forces have 78,600 airmen, as opposed to only 19,000 for Israel.

— The Israelis have only 800 anti-aircraft missiles, including the short-range Chaparral. They have 114 launchers, but only 15 are now in operation.

— On the other side, the Arab Six have a formidable 15,285 SAM missiles of varying sophistication, with 2,678 launchers. But only 399 launchers are actually deployed in the field. All in all, the Arab air defense system has been described in intelligence reports as "the most dense in the whole world."

— During the 1973 war, only one Israeli plane was shot down in combat. But a sobering 120 were brought down by anti-aircraft weapons, particularly the Soviet SAM missiles.

— The combined Arab navies are five times greater in manpower than Israel's navy of 5,000 seamen. But the Arabs have 49 destroyers, submarines and missile boats, compared to only 18 missile boats and one submarine for Israel.

Florida Odds: Our political odds-maker, Jimmy the Greek Snyder, is giving odds that President Ford will win the crucial Florida primary. By Jimmy's reckoning, the President is a two-to-one favorite to defeat Ronald Reagan. This would just about knock Reagan out of the presidential race.

On the Democratic side, The Greek expects Jimmy Carter and Sen. Henry Jackson to split the anti-Wallace vote, leaving Alabama's Gov. George Wallace in front.

The Greek's odds on Wallace are 5-to-2 that is, a $2 bet on Wallace would win $5. Rated behind Wallace are Carter at 3-to-1 and Jackson at 4-to-1. No one else on the ballot is better than a 100-to-1 shot.

Wild, Wild West: The American Hospital Assn., which represents the nation's hospitals, recently threw a Western winding for members of Congress.

From the association's own description of the affair, it must have been costly enough to boost hospital bills from coast to coast. As it is, hospital costs shot up 106 per cent higher than the Consumer Price Index last year.

The winding was attended by "70 per cent of the congressmen in Washington that day," boasts an association memo. "What otherwise would have been a rather dignified affair," the memo adds, was transformed into "a memorable fiasco with a truly distinctive Western flavor."

According to the memo, here's why it was such a blast.

"In addition to several cases of Coors and Olympia beer, and the special California white, red and rose wine bar, there were 60 pounds of Alaska King Crab, three gallons of fresh Arizona guacamole dip with taco chips; San Francisco sourdough bread, Monterey Jack cheese and Italian dry salami, smoked rainbow trout and homemade candy from Colorado, Hawaiian pineapples, Idaho elk salami, smoked salmon, mountain trout and wild meat jerky; Nevada's Basque 'Amer Picon Punch'; New Mexican pinto beans; and genuine Frontier Days buffalo jerky from Cheyenne, Wyo."

The memo quotes one guest as gushing: "There are receptions going on all the time but only a few that we really look forward to. And yours and the banks' are the best of all."

Impressive service held

ROCK ISLAND (IH) — Sunday morning, March 7 an impressive service was held at Stanstead South Church when the Girl Scouts from Derby Line held their observance of Founders Day.

This was in recognition of the organizing of the Girl Scout movement in the United States by Juliette Gordon Low on March 12, 1912. It was Lord Baden Powell who stated that every Girl Scout and Girl Guide should train herself "To look for what is beautiful in everything so that she may become strong enough in her mind to avoid listening to or taking part in anything that is ugly and unclean."

At the service Sunday during the processional hymn the colors were presented by Cheryl Messier and Susan Moss. Rev. Hunt, conducting the service, from Newport, spoke a prayer; then all sang "America."

Rev. Hunt welcomed the group and congregation, followed by prayer, scripture reading, the responsive reading of the 23rd Psalm and the singing of Gloria Patri.

All sang, led by the choir, the Scouts Hymn and World Song. After announcements and the offering, the Juniors and Brownies sang "I'd like to teach the world to sing," and "Put your hand in the Hand of the Man from Galilee."

Rev. Hunt gave his sermon, then the Scouts sang together "Let There Be Peace" followed by the congregational hymn, "Peace", benediction and retiring of the Colors.

Attending were Brownies: Elizabeth Bardell, Jill Watson, Lauri Warner, Jennifer Atkin, Jackie Nolan, Marlene Moss and Roxann St. Marie; Juniors: Cheryl Messier, Cindy Clifford, Susan Moss, Susan Atkin and Missy Warner; Cadettes Heidi Walsh, Karen and Pammy Jenne, Patti Place.

Also attending were the District co-ordinator Mrs. Jackie Atkin, Mrs. Ann Aldrich, and Leaders Mrs. Sue Watson, Mrs. Vernice Moss and Mrs. Donna Warner.

SQUARE DANCING
Several of the Girl Scouts are taking advantage of learning square dancing as they go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Selby one afternoon a week for instruction from Mrs. Selby. If these Girl Scouts continue their interest to learn these beautiful dances they will become as expert as the North County Swingers and have lots of dance fun.

RUMMAGE SALE
April 22, 23 and 24 are the dates for the giant rummage sale by the Girl Scouts in Derby Line. This is a benefit to raise money for Cadettes and Senior Scouts to go to Valley Forge, Pa. to help celebrate America's bicentennial.

Guide parents meet

STANSTEAD (IH) — The Three Villages Brownie-Guide parents committee gathering was held at the home of Mrs. Howard Majury, Stanstead, the evening of March 4. There was an encouraging number of 15 parents that responded to the invitation to attend.

Mrs. Paul Duncan chaired the meeting and explained that the activities of the parents committee are to assist Brownie and Guide Leaders in their projects.

The group voted Mrs. Duncan as acting chairman and elected Mrs. Sue Poulin as secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Sue Walker, public relations; Mrs. Gail Bishop, Mrs. Pauline Galazzo and Mrs. Peggy Distefano as a phoning committee and convenors for a garage sale to be held in April. Mrs. Sally Perrault agreed to be in charge of Brownie and Guide exchange uniforms. The garage sale committee asked for donations saying if one of them or Mrs. Poulin is contacted the items will be picked up.

In April the cookie sales will be taking place with the girls making house-to-house calls. It is hoped for a good response.

Mrs. Jackie Cass, G.I. Guide Captain, said she hopes one of her troop may attend the Girl Guide World Jamboree this summer that will be held in Nova Scotia. However, there are several requirements such as certain badges and so forth that the Guide must have in order to attend to.

The group talked about summer activities that will be further discussed at meetings. Mrs. Majury served refreshments to round out the pleasant evening.

Polly's Pointers

Decoupage an exacting hobby

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I have a brown-stained unvarnished wood table that I would like to decoupage but how do I go about it? —DEB S.

DEAR DEB — Decoupage well done is not as easy as it seems on the surface — it is painstaking work. Do try something small first. When starting it is well to learn correctly. I advise going to an arts and crafts class; most cities have such classes available in schools, recreation centers at handicraft shops. Inquire around locally. If classes are not available there must be a place that sells such supplies and they could advise you as to methods or perhaps a book that would give detailed instructions. —POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I am an arts and crafts nut and am usually pretty careful but today I got stain all over my hands and nails and could not remove it with soap and water. Later I was frying bacon (remember how our grandmothers made soap with such fat) and I noticed a few clean spots on my hands where the fat had splattered. I then used one-fourth of a strip of bacon and my hands were clean. —S.R.T.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is the saturation of television and radio and newspapers with articles about who is going to run for President. One election is scarcely over before publicity begins on who will run next time. There is no news any more that gives one a feeling of stability and improvement.

We get the idea that Ford is doing nothing but trying to be elected in 1976 and the legislature is doing nothing but renegeing on every good idea we thought was already decided; all with a barrage of the same old tired names of who is going to run for office. —LENA.

DEAR MARION — I think the days of sliding nose glasses are gone for you. With their usual generosity our readers came forth with all sorts of ideas. The following seem a bit different and really worth a try. Mrs. G.E.P. wrote that her husband put muleskin on the nose pieces and that did the trick for her. When it gets soiled new pieces are put on. D.M.H. suggests that you buy new temple pieces with ear hooks or an adjustable elastic band, made for this, that goes around the head to hold glasses on. Iris puts a piece of cotton behind each ear and that holds her glasses tight and it is hidden by her hair. Mr. R.G. says the problem can be reduced by the use of hard plastic instead of glass lenses as they weigh only half as much and are safer, too. Hope one of these helps you. —POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My kitchen is so small I decided to make a pie crust on the slick plastic tablecloth on my dinette table. I used less flour and the dough did not stick as I rolled it. —MRS. I.G.

BLEEDING FROM A SCALP WOUND

• Scalp wounds may cause severe bleeding but do not normally give rise to complications unless they are large or have penetrated the bone. • Be careful not to press into or probe the wound. • Clean away any loose dirt to avoid infection. • Apply a dressing (much larger than the wound) and bandage firmly in position.

Ann Landers: Says booze and sex don't always mix

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I have heard convincing arguments on both sides. We don't know what to believe. You are going to settle it.

Question: When people are under the influence of alcohol (not cockeyed drunk, just moderately plastered) do they reveal their hidden feelings? Or do they say and do things they don't mean? Also, what about booze and sex? Does liquor help get a person in the mood?

I'm not saying this very well but I hope you dig me. Thanks for your time. — John Barleycorn — Saint Or Sinner?

Dear John: Alcohol removes the inhibitions. It loosens the tongue. Individuals who have had too much to drink often say what is on their minds — things they wouldn't have the nerve to say sober. The same goes for behavior.

As for booze and sex, a drink or two can cause a person to behave in a less restrained or controlled manner, especially women. As for men, the same holds true — to a point. But often a male who leans on "bottled courage" to become sexually aggressive finds to his dismay (and embarrassment) that he cannot function at all. That Ogden Nash gem, "Candy's dandy but liquor is quicker," does not always prove out.

Dear Ann Landers: I love reading your column but never believed I'd ever be writing to you. Well here I am, like so many others.

Three of us gals are good friends. Amy and I study a lot and work hard. Lorna goofs off and is always behind in her assignments. The three of us sit near each other in most of our classes.

During tests, Goof-Off passes notes to everyone around her asking for help with the answers. We hate to turn her down for fear she might flunk. Honestly, Ann, she doesn't know anything — never cracks a book. The last test was a shocker. Goof-Off got a better grade than we did.

Should we write an unsigned note to the teacher and tip her off? The cheater is being unfair to everyone in the class who studies. Especially us. — G and R

Dear Grrrrrrrr: People who help cheaters cheat are also cheaters. Don't snitch

Just tell Lorna from now on she's on her own. If she tries to slip you a note, don't take it. End of problem.

Dear Ann Landers: Please find enclosed the chain letter that arrived yesterday. It is very annoying to receive these darned things in the mail because I'm a little superstitious. But I have no time (or money) to spend on foolishness. This is the third chain letter I've received from the same person, and I have broken the chain every time.

Someone told me these things are illegal. Are they? I don't want to get anyone in trouble but I sure wish this certain party would take my name off her list. What can I do without hurting her feelings? — Simmering In South Dakota

Dear Simmering: Return the last chain letter to your friend and tell her any chain letter soliciting funds is not mailable under federal law.

Canadian Eskimos first began trading carving with members of American whaling parties and exploratory expeditions in the 19th century.

To all readers who have been beleaguered with chain letters (there are a variety of the pesky things) I urge you to send them to the Postal Inspector (your city) for "review."

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement. Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage — What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The roll call was answered by thirteen members paying their annual dues.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Lancaster, and approved. The Treasurer, Mrs. Janet Banfill, gave the treasurer's report and the auditor's report. The secretary read the correspondence of thank-yous for donations.

The President showed the members a scarf made by Mrs. Marion Jameson for the F.W.I.C. Convention.

The President asked Mrs. Jameson to take the chair for the election of officers and convenors, and Mrs. Jameson declared all offices vacant and the elected are as follows:

President: Mrs. May Stimson
1st Vice Pres: Mrs. Janet Banfill
2nd Vice Pres: Mrs. Debbie Whittingstall
Secretary: Mrs. Marjorie Lancaster

Treasurer: Mrs. Janet Banfill
Agriculture: Mrs. Lyla Beattie
Citizenship: Mrs. Ruth Sullivan

Mrs. Marion Jameson then turned the chair back to the President, Mrs. May Stimson. It was noted that seven members had had perfect attendance and Mrs. Marjorie Abercrombie agreed to buy the cups and saucers.

The members discussed a questionnaire that had been sent out by Leonel Beaudoin M.P. and this was filled in and sent as a group.

Mrs. Debbie Whittingstall told the members of a Betty Mason Memorial Scholarship Fund that had been set up at the R.R.H.S. and a donation was sent. A donation was also sent to the Eastern Townships Sun paper.

As there was no further business the President, Mrs. May Stimson adjourned the meeting and lunch was served by the hostess Mrs. Marjorie Lancaster.

World Day of Prayer

KINNEAR'S MILLS — The Service of Worship for the World Day of Prayer, with its theme "Education for all of Life" was held at the home of Mrs. Victor Lowry on March 5.

Although the attendance at this service was not large, the women joined their hearts in thoughts and prayer, to go out with loving concern to the women of 150 nations.

The leader was Mrs. Victor Lowry. The reader was Mrs. David Scott, throughout the service. The passages of scripture were read by Mrs. G. Morrison, Mrs. Everett Reid and Miss Bessie Guy.

The three skits were enacted.

Scene I: "The Reality of Poverty" was taken by Mrs. Murray Nugent, Mrs. Eric Allan and Mrs. Lawrence Allan, while Scene 2 "The Reality of Relationships" was acted by Mrs. Everett Reid and Mrs. Murray Nugent. The final scene "The Reality of Repression" was taken by Mrs. Ronald Jamieson, Mrs. Richard Allan and Miss Bessie Guy.

The speaker was Mrs. Edgar Nugent, who gave an inspiring address. The theme Education for all of Life was well exemplified in this address as well as throughout the service.

The offering was taken up by Mrs. Eric Allan and a favorable offering was received to forward to Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

Following the service, a pleasant social hour, which included refreshments, was enjoyed.

manse for a social hour and refreshments.

Mrs. Ross MacDonald, on behalf of the A.C.W. and U.C.W., thanked the Presbyterian ladies for the delicious tea and cookies and fellowship. Miss Lafond expressed thanks for the French ladies, for the hospitality and fellowship of meeting with their sisters in Christ.

WAY'S MILLS — On Wednesday, March 5, at 2 p.m., women of various denominations gathered in the Union Church in Way's Mills village to pray and to enjoy the service prepared by their sisters in Latin America, the theme of which was: "Education For All of Life."

The service was conducted by Marion Mayhew, clerk of the session of the host church, assisted by Mrs. Romeo Lagueux of St. Bartholomew, d'Ayer's Cliff and Mrs. C. D. Pedersen of the Church of the Epiphany.

Rev. Father Patrick Thibault, priest of St. Wilfrid de Kingscroft delivered the address and spoke of the responsibility of women of the church. He pointed out that, from childhood, women have been willing to assume responsibility as shown by the love which they showered upon their dolls.

Now, as mature persons, they have only to continue this sense of concern and responsibility toward their brothers and sisters of God's world. This they can do by witnessing to His love and power.

The organist, Mrs. B. B. Holmes a member of the session of the host church, played suitable Voluntaries and Apostude as well as accompaniments to the hymns. "The Church's One Foundation", "Thine is the Glory", "The Doxology" and the theme song: "There's a World Out There" all of which were sung both in French and English.

Among those taking part in the skits and readings were: Mrs. Andre d'Amours, Mrs. Maurice Letourneau, Mrs. Andre Leblond, Kay Smith, Lorraine Harrison, Alyce Pope, Thelma Nason, Vivian Jordan, Shirley Whipple, Wanda Rosynska and Muriel Cass.

Following the service, a social hour was enjoyed at the Way's Mills Union Hall where Marion Mayhew, as hostess, was ably assisted by Mable Whipple, Sandra Standish, Sandra Watson and Leora Pedersen.

Tea, with different types of buttered home made bread, cookies and squares, donated by several of the ladies, was served.

Special thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Gemmill for having the church opened and heated and to Mr. Harold Smith for opening the Union Hall and keeping the wood fires throughout the day in the two big stoves, as well as the kitchen cookstove.

The sum of $33.05 was realized for the benefit of the work carried on by The Women's Interchurch Council of Canada.

ROCK ISLAND — The annual World Day of Prayer service was held here at the Boundary on Friday evening, March 5 in St. Anselm South church, Rock Island and was well attended by people from the Catholic and Protestant churches for this ecumenical, bilingual order of service based on the theme "Education - For all of Life".

With Stanstead South the hosting church, arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Urban Flynn, Jr., president of the Canusa Unit, assisted by a committee from the several churches.

Mrs. Flynn was Leader for the English portion, assisted by Mrs. Ovide Martin, Sacred Heart church, Stanstead, as Leader in French. Mrs. Flynn spoke a warm welcome to the people in the congregation.

Readers for the service were Mrs. Edward Thompson, Sacred Heart church, Stanstead, Mrs. Leo Masse, Our Lady of Mercy church, Rock Island and Mrs. Roy Wells, Christ Anglican church, Stanstead.

Taking the parts of Mother one, Mother two and Woman three were Mrs. Raymond Wheelock, Stanstead South church, Mrs. Robert Gaudreau, St. Edward's church, and Mrs. James Stevens, Jr., for the Universalist church in the scene "The Reality of Poverty".

In Scene 2, "The Reality of Relationships" were Jack St. Sauveur, Our Lady of Mercy church, and Mrs. Robert Gaudreau to portray the man and woman. In scene three "The Reality of Repression" were a couple and their daughter Julie Langevin, of Our Lady of Mercy Church. All three scenes were in both languages.

The scriptures were read by Mrs. Bernard Chamberlain and Mrs. Warren Soutiere, both of Centenary United Church and Mrs. Edward Thompson.

Mrs. Flynn introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Irving Stevens pastor of the Universalist church, Derby Line, for not only was this service bilingual and ecumenical, but was attended by people from two countries, Canadians and Americans as one group in the church.

Mr. Stevens based his address upon the three scenes portrayed, he challenged the church who has a need to fulfill and the people who symbolize the church. He said that Jesus' message is one of love your neighbour as yourself but today the message of love is entangled with the urge for power.

He noted the service as prepared by the christian women of Latin America and used the christian world over on March 5, repeated their message of love. Rev. Mr. Stevens challenged the people, asking, What is our action to the scene and responded "to follow the steps of Jesus and exemplify love".

Mrs. Alice McHarg was at the organ and the choir was composed of Mrs. Ann Aldrich, Mrs. Ruth Marsh, Mrs. Terry Walsh and Mrs. A.S. Judd, Jr., and the participants of the service.

The usherettes were Mrs. Bertha Corbett and Mrs. Sue Maple.

After the service, the people gathered in the church hall for fellowship, and members of the Canusa Unit and Ladies Aid of Stanstead South Church served refreshments of donuts, cheese and beverages. Pourers were Mrs. Christina Scarth and Mrs. Wheelock.

These types of united services here at the Boundary are always well attended and enjoyed and the expressions made "there should be more of them". Father Y. Malouin of Sacred Heart church, Stanstead, was in the congregation and he and Mr. Stevens joined in the fellowship hour.

Print shops rife with collectibles

By Jean Barnes

As computers dominate more of the preparation of newspapers and printing, collectors have found a new source of collectibles. Perhaps our close association with the printed word has given us an awareness of the closing of an era. Six months ago when my husband, Marvin, assumed management of a small town weekly newspaper, part of his job was to phase out the print shop. As a consequence we fell heir to many nostalgia-laden items.

At one time in our history almost every town in the nation — no matter how small — had a print shop and newspaper. Now the printing process is being consolidated with several community papers being printed on offset presses in a centrally located plant.

You won't have to find a print shop going out of business to be able to collect these objects. They are being bought by dealers and you will find a variety of printing things in shops and at antique shows everywhere.

And, there is an abundance of good collectible items at reasonable prices. Don't let yourself be stampeded into paying exorbitant prices because you are told these things are getting scarce. Take your time and shop wisely.

Some of the things you might consider including in your collection are type trays, galley trays, printer sticks, iron molds with lead pigs, wood mounted engravings, wooden type, brass matrix, brass pica pole or ruler, line etchings and drawings on wooden blocks (copper and zinc), printers plane and mallet, metal chase, address mailers, logos and large type in various fonts.

We have our favorites, of course. The furniture cabinet is triangular in shape with a wide base. It is small and compartmented to hold varying lengths and widths of wood

IMPRESSION of a line drawing was printed from an old zinc engraving mounted on a wooden block.

(called furniture). These sticks of wood were used as spacing around the type in a chase that fitted on a press.

A galley tray has three sides with the fourth side open to permit long columns of type to be slipped on and off of it. The wooden tray has the feel of fine satin from years of wear. Other trays of varying widths are of brass.

The illustration that accompanies this column is a line etching mounted on a wooden block. It was found among literally hundreds of logos and product advertisements from the past.

Lead type was melted down and poured into iron molds. The lead bars were called pigs. Generally, the copper engraving plates are more desirable than those of zinc. Sometimes you will find a zinc plate that has been given a coat of copper color so examine the engraving carefully.

Very few items were left unwanted when the print shop of the paper my husband now manages was dismantled. Most things found their way into collections. But the large old flat-bed press, more than 76 years old, had to be scrapped. All that's left is the linotype machine and soon it too will be gone. Thus the ending of an era and the beginning of another.

Lesley Divers had 22 points, Darlene Donney 18 and Barb Hall and Julie Osachuk 10 each for Winnipeg. Kathy Moore had 18 points for Regina.

Brian Pocker leads

MEGEVE, France (Reuter) — Brian Pocker of Calgary increased his lead in men's singles competition after the short program Thursday at the world junior figure skating championships.

Mark Cockerell of the United States moved up to second place from fourth after the compulsory figures on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Suzie Brascher of the U.S. strengthened her lead after the short program in women's singles. Garnet Otermeier of West Germany was second.

British couples took the lead in dance competition after the compulsory dances. Kathryn Winter and Nicholas Slater were in the lead ahead of teammates Denise Best and David Dagnell.

In Thursday's short program, Pocker had nine placements and 38.84 points to the 14.5 placements and 35.80 points awarded second-place Takashi Mura of Japan. Mark Cockerell of the United States was third with 23.5 placements and 36.40 points.

In the over-all standings with the free skating remaining, Pocker has nine placements and 76.32 points. Cockerell holds down second place on 21 placements and 72.32 points and Mura third with 49 placements and 69 points.

Brier- going to be close

REGINA (CP) — The Canadian men's curling championship is coming down to the wire, and while Newfoundland and New Brunswick have surprised the experts by leading the field, Bernie Sparkes of Burnaby, B.C., is closing fast.

"This has given us the chance we've been looking for all week," said Sparkes after winning both his games Thursday to run his string of wins to four after a slow start. "We'd just like to get into a playoff."

Sparkes, in his eighth national final and second as a skip, was involved in the longest game of the championship so far. He didn't need his last rock in the 14th end, but he was pushed that far before Wayne Sokolosky succumbed 6-5 when he missed a freeze to a B.C. rock at the button.

After the 10th round, Sparkes climbed into third place in the standings with a 6-3 record.

Jack MacDuff of St. John's, Nfld., who made believers of the skeptics with a 10-7 ninth-round win over Sokolosky in 11 ends, and Dave Sullivan of Fredericton, N.B., were on top of the standings with 6-2 records. Both teams had byes in the 10th round.

"OFF TO SHAKY START" Sokolosky, who said he "just got off to a shaky start" Thursday, dropped to a 5-3 record, the same as Clare DeBlonde of Winnipeg. Howard Brazeau of Fort Smith, N.W.T., and Jim Ursel of Montreal were at 4-4, while 4-5 marks were shared by Alf Romain of Halifax and Rick Lang of Thunder Bay, representing Northern Ontario.

Roger Anholt of Moose Jaw, Sask., was at 3-6 with two teams tied for last with 2-7 records—Joe Gurowka of Mississauga, Ont., and Ken MacDonald of Charlotte-town.

In other ninth-round games, B.C. defeated Nova Scotia 10-2, Manitoba defeated Ontario 11-7, New Brunswick beat P.E.I. 6-3 and Saskatchewan defeated Northern Ontario 8-5. Quebec and the Territories had the byes.

Tenth-round play saw Northern Ontario edge Ontario 7-6, the Territories fall 8-5 to Manitoba, Quebec defeat Saskatchewan 6-3 and Nova Scotia down P.E.I. 9-6.

MacDuff, a 25-year-old air traffic controller, who already has surpassed the best-ever Newfoundland record of four wins in the National final, gave some of the credit for his showing to a veteran of many championships.

He was referring to Sam Richardson, who played third for brother Ernie in four national and world championships. He now skips his own rink and during the championships is the host driver for the Newfoundland team.

"Having a man like that on our side is a great inspiration," said MacDuff. "He told us that B.C. was a good come-around rink and that we should try to keep the house wide open. We did that and won a big one."

Richardson said MacDuff still has three big games left against Saskatchewan, the Territories and Ontario, but he believes they may go all the way.

"I talk to them a bit about strategy. I don't want to jinx them by making any predictions. They have three big games left, but remember they have beaten four of the top teams."

Sullivan faces the bigger task in his three remaining games against Manitoba, Quebec and Northern Ontario.

The last time a Maritime rink won the national title was in 1951 when Nova Scotia accomplished the feat. Newfoundland has never won the final.

In the 11th round at 2:30 p.m. EST today, it was Manitoba vs. New Brunswick, Newfoundland vs. Saskatchewan, Quebec vs. Nova Scotia, Alberta vs. Northern Ontario and The Territories vs. B.C.
