WEST APPROVES BIG FOUR MEETING

Afro-Asian Conference

Committee Locked On Red Colonialism

Bandung, Indonesia — (AP) — The Asian-African conference ran into its first deadlock today in a bitter argument over charges of "Communist colonialism."

A sub-committee after arguing on the Communist issue for more than two hours, finally adjourned until tomorrow. The issue at stake was a move by non-Communist powers to put the conference on record as condemning "subversion" as well as old-style colonialism.

Red China's Premier Chou Enlai earlier had answered a Ceylonese anti-Communist blast with an appeal for harmony at the 29-country conference. His tactics, ordinarily preferred among Asians to a spirited answer, failed to halt the developing deadlock.

The meeting of the nine-member sub-committee was closed to the public but delegates said the deadlock came over the resolution proposed by a group, headed by Iran, that wanted condemnation of colonialism "in any form."

Chou was reported to have opposed any mention which might be interpreted as an attack on communism. His stand was backed by India.

The resolution, proposed by Iran, Iraq, Lebanon, Libya, Sudan, Liberia, Pakistan, Turkey and the Philippines, did not mention communism by name.

Chou and V. K. Krishna Menon of India objected particularly to a clause which said the conference "condemns all types of colonialism including international doctrines resorting to methods of force, infiltration and subversion."

Chou had proposed a generalized statement expressing support of the United Nations charter sections on human rights and dependent peoples.

Chou also was reported to have proposed that the conference go on record as favoring independence for all colonial territories within 15 years.

Conference leaders have been trying to get unanimous agreement on all resolutions. Indications now are that informal discussions will continue tonight in hope of reaching a compromise.

The new discord was touched off Thursday by Ceylon's Premier Sir John Kotelawala, who challenged Red sincerity in proposing peaceful co-existence among nations of differing social systems.

Describing the Cominform—communism's international organization—as the main organ of "Soviet colonialism," Kotelawala declared the Reds should dissolve this body if they really want peaceful co-existence.

Kotelawala is reported to have said today he did not want to "wreck" the conference but insisted, "I do want to discuss both sides of colonialism."

Delegates reported that Chou, at this morning's committee meeting, urged the group not to enter into arguments since they "would not be fruitful nor would agreement be possible." He said he had not come to Bandung to discuss ideology.

Chou said he had had a personal discussion with the Ceylonese leader outside the conference room. He added that he had prepared a statement in reply to the Ceylonese premier's "very positive views" but would not read it.

"Everyone is entitled to his own view," the Red Chinese premier was quoted as saying. "Sir John referred to a so-called new colonialism. China cannot agree with Sir John's interpretation. In our view, it is not in conformity with the purposes of this conference."

Ambassadors To Hold Preliminary Talks In Austrian Capital

London — (AP) — The Western Big Three today accepted Russia's proposal for a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting to complete the Austrian treaty of independence.

But the United States, Britain and France laid down a condition that their ambassadors in Vienna should meet first — probably May 2 — with the Soviet envoy there and Austrian representatives to clear up unsettled questions.

It was announced meanwhile that the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany within the NATO alliance will go into effect May 5.

The conditional acceptance on the Austrian proposal was made in new notes to the Soviet foreign ministry in Moscow in which the Western powers suggested the preliminary ambassadorial talks should be held in Vienna as soon as possible.

A foreign office spokesman said the text of the notes would be published later today.

If the Vienna discussions between ambassadors and Austrian representatives go well, then the foreign ministers of the four powers should meet in the Austrian capital, as the Russians have suggested, formerly to sign the independence treaty.

In Paris, Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay announced France will deposit its ratifications of the Paris agreements on West German rearmament on May 5 in Bonn, Brussels and Washington.

Depositing of the ratification instruments by all the signatory powers would put the treaties into effect. Britain is expected to take this step at the same time France does.

West Germany and the U.S. both deposited their instruments ratifying West German sovereignty Thursday, and a West German spokesman in Bonn said his government expects to receive sovereignty in 14 days.

The French instruments have been approved by both houses of parliament and need only President Rene Coty's signature.

Determined To Defend Islands

Taipei, Formosa — (AP) — High National Chinese officials today rejected before-hand any proposal that might be made for Chiang Kai-shek's forces to abandon the coastal island groups of Quemoy and Matsu.

"Absurd-ridiculous — unthinkable — impossible," these officials said of Washington reports the United States may seek a ceasefire which would mean giving up the islands to the communists.

The officials, who declined to be named, said the question was a hypothetical one. They insisted that the U.S. had at no time suggested, directly or indirectly, that those offshore islands be yielded to the Reds, as were the Tachens.

There is no doubt, however, that there are forebodings even in the highest quarters as to the possible mission here of the U.S. assistant secretary of state, Walter Robertson, and Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff.

Chiang was informed of their projected visit only two days before it was announced.

On Capital Hill

Canada Not Tied to U.S. War

Ottawa — (AP) — Canada will not automatically or necessarily go to war if the United States does, says External Affairs Minister Pearson.

Winding up a sporadic external affairs debate which began March 24, Mr. Pearson said last night in the Commons that Canada has given no "automatic assurance of support or willingness to intervene on behalf of or with the United States in any war, major or minor, on the continent of China or any place else."

He added:

"Whether what kind of support could be counted on from Canada would depend entirely on whether our commitments under NATO were involved, whether there was aggression under the United Nations charter."

"Anything I have said previously does not mean nor could it fairly be interpreted as meaning that whenever the United States is at war we are bound to participate."

Mr. Pearson advised the U.S. to stay out of any fight for Quemoy and Matsu, Nationalist-held islands off the Chinese mainland.

"It is our policy to stay out of this struggle for these offshore islands and I think that other governments would be well advised to adopt the same policy."

"I am even bold enough to hope that that will be the policy which will be adopted in due course by all governments concerned."

He reiterated that if a local war spread to engulf the world, it would be impossible for Canada to remain aloof.

He said Communist China by itself could not launch an attack on country capable of making such an assault.

Earlier, Elmore Philpott L. Vancouver South said he opposes stationing of large numbers of American servicemen in Canada's northland.

"I believe Canada should be defended by Canadians," he said.

Canada should give intensive winter warfare training to up to 40,000 young men from Nov. 1 until April or May, he said. Rev.

Dan Melvor L. Fort William said such a scheme would be a "splendid cure" for unemployment.

U.S. On Oil

Ottawa — (AP) — The United States has promised to give sympathetic consideration to Canadian protests over proposed U.S. limitations of imports of oil, which the federal government feels would have a damaging effect on the Canadian petroleum industry.

The promise is contained in a brief U.S. note tabled in the Commons yesterday by External Affairs Minister Pearson. The note, delivered to the Canadian embassy in Washington Wednesday, is the first written reply to Canada's formal March 8 protest.

Mr. Pearson said he hopes that the U.S., in its own interests as well as Canadian, will not interfere in the Canada-U.S. petroleum trade.

Mr. Pearson said the U.S. reply was "not very precise" but added that this is understandable because the issues involved in limiting oil imports into the U.S. now are being discussed by the U.S. administration and Congress.

CBC Rapped

Ottawa — (AP) — The CBC was accused yesterday of relying on a handful of news reporters for two of its programs, the half-hour weekly television program "Press Conference" and its radio program "News Roundup."

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto) told the Commons committee on broadcasting that in press conference programs from Ottawa the CBC has used a small minority of reporters from the Parliamentary Press Gallery as participants.

The chairmanship had been "largely concentrated" in one or two people.

He also said there is lack of balance in those speaking on news roundup from Europe. Matthew Halton had done nearly all of the broadcasts from London and Douglas Lachance had a monopoly of broadcasts from Paris and Rome.

He added that Mr. Lachance's reports show "a slanted approach."

A. D. Dunton, CBC chairman, said a wide number of press gallery reporters have appeared on the televised press conference. As for the chairmanship, the CBC was concentrating on a few who had proved to be good and impartial.

He said he has heard no complaint that the over-all program is unfair.

Culture

Ottawa — (AP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent said Thursday the government still intends to set up a Canada council to help promote Canada's cultural development.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) asked in the Commons whether there is any truth to a press report that the government has dropped the idea.

"It still is the intention of the government to recommend to Parliament that the body be set up," Mr. St. Laurent said.

Historic Sites

Ottawa — (AP) — The Commons last night gave final approval to legislation by which Canada will broaden and extend the preservation of her historic sites.

The amendments to the Historic Sites and Monuments Act provides for enlarging to 14 members from 12 the makeup of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board, which controls the preservation of historic places.

They also clarify certain sections of the act providing for the marking and acquisition of aged buildings which played a part in the country's history.

Quebec Bow

Ottawa — (AP) — A CCFer, who earlier this session got Quebec Commons members angry with him, last night made a bow in the direction of Quebec.

Erhart Regier (CCF—Coquitlam) complimented J. Wilfrid Dufresne (PC—Quebec West) for making an external affairs speech in English.

He added he hopes he (Mr. Regier) will be in Ottawa long enough to learn enough French to be able to use that language in the Commons.

Earlier in the session, Mr. Regier enraged some Quebec members by saying that province is ripe for communism.

Dinghy Hits Car

Halifax — (AP) — Petty Officer Peter Britton's car was wrecked Thursday when it was struck by a flying dinghy.

Britton's car was parked and unoccupied at Shearwater air station across the harbor from here. The dinghy fell from a helicopter passing overhead.

Hospital Denies Blood-Drugs Deal

Quebec — (AP) — A man who claims he bargained a pint of his blood against drugs for his sick children was given the promise Thursday of city help by Mayor Wilfrid Hamel in person.

But hospital spokesmen said they didn't agree with the man's story.

Roland Moison, a thick-set 33-year-old man with a family of five children, called on Mr. Hamel at city hall in the wake of a storm in the city council and a counter-statement by the medical superintendent of the hospital denying the man's claim.

Moison outlined his stand to Mr. Hamel who said later he had not come to any definite conclusions about the man's contention that he had to give blood to get medicine.

"For the time being I am satisfied that he is a human being and that help should be made available to him if he needs it," Mr. Hamel said.

The mayor told Moison to call on the public charities department if he was in need.

Moison has not been a resident of the city for a full year and thus would not normally be entitled to public charities assistance.

Dr. R. Lemieux, medical superintendent of St. Sacrement Hospital, denied in a statement given verbally to newspaper men that Moison either was asked to give blood in exchange for drugs or that there was any question of paying for drugs with blood.

His statement was supported at a full session of the city council where Mayor Hamel read a report of city inspector Emile Drolet.

Russia Tempts Fugitives, Estonian Engineer Says

Victoria — (AP) — Soviet Russia continues to tempt fugitives to return to that country years after their escape, Victor Kangro said in an address here.

Mr. Kangro told the Rotary Club that the Russians caught up with himself and his wife here after their escape from Estonia and for three years sent them pamphlets urging them to return.

Mr. Kangro was a chemical engineer in Estonia and his wife a lawyer. They escaped 11 years ago and came to Victoria. He now is a general contractor.

"In escaping, we had committed the worst crime in the Russians' books. Escapes jeopardize the whole Communist system because total lack of hope is the most important tool in breaking men to the Communists' will."

"If there is any chance of escape, you are not entirely hopeless and broken and therefore you are dangerous to the Communist state."

N.Z. Confines Defenses To Pacific

Auckland, N. Z. — (AP) — New Zealand has abandoned its traditional defence role which prevailed in two world wars. In a future conflict its effort will be confined to the Pacific. At the same time it is stepping up its peace time share in Pacific defence.

These are the chief features of a major switch in defence policy which is gradually being revealed in government statements. The full shape of future policy is not yet clear, but the pattern now has been indicated in general outline.

The changes follow the conference of Commonwealth prime ministers in London and the SEATO meeting at Bangkok.

In both world wars, New Zealand made its major military contribution in the Middle East and Europe.

FORMOSA — Adm. Arthur W. Radford (left), Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, seems to be in high spirits as he arrives in Formosa with Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson.

Who Stole The Horror Comics?

London. — (AP) — Earl Jowitt revealed last night the awesome news that three horror comics are missing from the library of the House of Lords.

How did horror comics happen to be in the stately library of the Lords?

Lord Mancroft explained that from a collection amassed by the home office he put six or so in the library for study purposes.

Britain is considering a ban on horror comics.

The Doofer Family

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY

RICH AND FAMOUS
Daddie Doofer got home very late for dinner. Mommie had kept everything warm in the oven. Daddie was surprised to find the living room filled with friends. There sat Professor Zoofor and several of the Dooferville children. Oofie-Goofie stood in the middle of the room, very close to Daddie. He did not smile or wag his tail. But he did puzzle Daddie's hand. Daddie patted his head.

"Well, Waddie Doofer smiled at his little family and friends. 'This looks like a party. I guess everybody must have heard the big news that the Tingling Circus wants to buy Oofie and the Willie-Bird. And that we're going to be rich and famous.'"

Professor Zoofor stroked his long white beard and nodded silently. Daddie Doofer looked at her father with big blue troubled eyes. Mommie held baby Jollie in her arms closely. Sammie Spooner said, his voice squeaking:

"Sure is going to be nice to have all that money. Mister Doofer, sir. But-but we'll sure miss you when you move away."

His friend Hammie Hooper poked him in the ribs. "Aw, Sammie, dry up. Don't be jumpin' to conclusions." Daddie Doofer looked almost as if he were going to grin as he looked around at all the serious faces. Gussie Goofer was way over in the corner looking out the window at the big talking bird on the porch. Gussie's chin trembled.

"I'm sure goin' to miss Oofie. And Mrs. Silly-Bird. Granny says she's goin' to hatch out a little fly'n' sasser. An' if you move—" Gussie burst into tears. Daddie ran to her best friend—and started to cry with her.

Professor Zoofor blew his nose. And before Mommie Doofer could run for a box of tissues—all the other children joined in. My, but they set up a terrible howl!

Suddenly Daddie Doofer laughed. He put his hand on Oofie-Goofie's head and grinned: "So nobody wants to get rich. Everybody wants to see me with my nose to the grindstone worrying about the mortgage. Nobody wants fur coats and diamonds and a trip around the world. Let's eat! This calls for a celebration." Oofie-Goofie thumped his dog-like tail. Mommie kissed Daddie—and smiled!

Minor Disturbance Marred Levesque Campaign Meeting In East Ward Hall

Disorder and distortion entered the Sherbrooke majority campaign last evening as both candidates invaded the East ward, Mayor J. Emile Levesque speaking at St. Jean Baptiste parish hall and his opponent, Armand Nadeau, Q.C., addressing a rally in the basement of St. Jean Baptiste Academy just a few hundred feet away.

The disorder occurred at Mayor Levesque's gathering when an individual who obviously had been rather actively employed for some time prior to the meeting insisted on debating the unemployment issue with the Mayor as soon as the latter had started addressing the gathering, while the distortion appeared in the reports of the incident given at the opposition meeting.

There it was reported by several speakers that the Levesque meeting had been cancelled or broken up, despite the fact that after a very slight interruption the mayor's gathering continued until after ten o'clock.

Actually, the incident never assumed serious proportions and the disturbance lasted less than five minutes. The individual in question began chanting the refrain, "What About Unemployment?" and continued despite assurances from the Mayor that the subject would be discussed in due course. He then began a rather incoherent speech from the floor about the failure of the city to provide work. When he showed little intention of desisting from his oration, he was removed from the hall by a police officer, but only after a token display of resistance. He and the police officer were followed meekly from the hall by a couple of his companions, after which the meeting resumed its placid course.

Mayor Levesque devoted a considerable portion of his speech to discussing the controversial E. T.A.A. issue — the city charter amendment permitting the council to exempt the arena and race track from taxes for a three-year period having drawn the particular ire of Mr. Nadeau throughout the campaign.

The E. T. A. A. had played an important part in the development of Sherbrooke, he continued, and especially for the growth of the East ward in which the exhibition grounds were located. The annual fall and winter fairs had brought much favorable publicity to Sherbrooke at no cost to the city and the various events staged on the grounds had brought tens of thousands of visitors here, boosting the business of local merchants and taxpayers. The shareholders had never received any dividends on their investment, the mayor continued, and he believed the organization was entitled to favorable treatment from the city.

Replying to charges by Mr. Nadeau that great extravagance had been shown in the inauguration ceremonies three years ago, Mayor Levesque pointed out that he was not responsible for organizing the receptions and that, furthermore, they cost only a small portion of the $1,200 charged by Mr. Nadeau.

In a general review of his record as head of the civic government, the mayor pointed to such accomplishments as the construction of the Jacques Cartier bridge, industrial expansion, the new market and other items as proof that his administration had been an aggressive one, while its efficiency had been proven in its ability to maintain taxes at their former levels.

Other speakers were Leonidas Bachand, N.P., and Joseph Germain.

Narrow Escape Experienced In Ditch Collapse

Two men who were buried alive for ten minutes in a city ditch yesterday are counting their blessings in Hotel Dieu Hospital this morning.

Both municipal employees, Adrien Plante, 32, of Chemin de la Grotte, and Aime Lemelin, 59, of 514 Lemire street, were digging a ditch near the intersection of Park and Vincent streets around four o'clock yesterday afternoon when the soft damp walls of the ditch gave away and tumbled in on top of them, burying the two men completely.

Four other workers nearby saw the collapse and rushed to the spot to dig their companions out. After working feverishly for 10 minutes they were able to uncover Plante and Lemelin who by this time were unconscious. Plante had begun to turn blue from asphyxiation.

They were taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital by Roger Marchand, of 660 Patricia street, and given artificial respiration and first aid. Still in hospital this morning both were reported in excellent condition.

The four rescue workers were Aime Gilbert, Henry Allaire, Xavier Charland, and Gerard Gosselin, all municipal employees.

The accident was investigated by Constables Leo Gendron and Robert Belliveau, and Detective Raymond Bonneau for the Municipal Police.

Relaxation Feature Of Vagabonds

There's a bit of homespun in everybody, even in this modern day and age.

But it takes someone like the "Vagabonds" to bring it out by providing good, old-fashioned musical entertainment. Take last night for instance, when they pulled off the tremendous feat of relaxing well over 350 people in one sitting.

They did it simply, but effectively, in a "1955 Musical Revue" that ranged from modern hits to classical ballet to old black-face minstrel routines. They threw in a bit of stuff and nonsense, some wistful Negro melodies and the usual cowboy tunes. It all added up to relaxation.

The "Vagabonds" are a group of some twenty-four local young people, gathered under the direction of Ken Birch, who present shows for churches and charities simply because its members enjoy show business. Their enjoyment is infectious. Last night was opening night at the Lennoxville High School for the variety show they staged, sponsored by Group 5 of the Women's Federation of the Lennoxville United Church. The revue will be repeated tonight at 8:15 p.m.

Variety was the keynote of the program. The "Vagabonds" are not polished singers or performers, but have all the appeal which many more professional performers attain only after a great deal of hard work, and which some never attain at all. They have a theme, "The Vagabonds," written and composed by one of their own members, Peter Blake, the whole stage cast, consisting of only sixteen members show the same virtuosity in putting over a twelve part performance which touches upon almost every popular musical idiom ever performed.

Charming "Sweet Sixteen" numbers by Bobbie MacDonald, Barbara Ross and Colleen Fearney, and nostalgic songs of yesterday led into some unique solo performing on the bass violin by Renaud St. Pierre of the "Vagabonds" orchestra. Peter Blake sang the male part in his own

Y. W. C. A. Anniversary Demonstration

Dancing Is Spotlight Of "Y" Show

One hundred years, the theme of a Y.W.C.A. demonstration last night when approximately the same number of girls ranging in ages from kindergarten to business women, presented a varied program of gymnastics and dancing.

The first part of the program consisted of gymnastics starting off with a grand march in which all the girls took part showing a remarkable control in precision drilling. The various groups, including grades five and six from Mitchell School, the nursery school, business girls, and the midgets each gave their interpretation of rhythmic exercises, the Nursery School singing and enacting nursery rhymes, and the midgets imitating elves at play. The first half of the program concluded with a special presentation called "Flying Rings" in which the girls showed the different phases of flying on the rings.

Since this year is the 100th anniversary of the international organization of the Y.W.C.A. light night's demonstration was planned around the changes which have taken place in the past century, especially in dancing. Eight different types of dancing which have been popular since 1855 were depicted by the girls in their interpretation of the past hundred years.

First came the Minuet done by the intermediates complete with fluffy white wigs, knee breeches and high waisted gowns. In this group were Jenny Beaulieu, Judy Goodson, Diane Johnson, Frances Allen, Roberta Muir, Caroline Cath-

Coming Up Prize Money Mounts With All Puzzle Answers Wrong

Puzzle number 100 is coming up, after another unsuccessful week of crossword puzzle doing. We had 437 answers, but as usual, they were all wrong. So, we again have to turn our thoughts to bigger and better things, we hope, in the chance that someone might come up with a lucky answer next week.

And, bigger and better the prize will be too, when we add the weekly ten dollars, to make 30 dollars without an Au Bon Marche sales slip and $90 with one. To settle something once and for all this week, we want to make it clear that one sales slip will do for two entries, providing they are in the same envelope. But, if you send your answers in separate envelopes, only the answer with the slip is eligible for the double cash prize.

This only stands to reason, for if we get over a thousand entries a week, which we sometimes do, and happen to come up with a correct answer without a slip, we can't possibly check back through all of them to see if the winner had enclosed a slip in another envelope.

So, to simplify matters for yourself and give you a better chance, send both entries in one envelope and enclose one sales slip. Then, your chances of winning double the prize money are the same for both.

Since last week was puzzle number 99, we have an appropriate little letter here from one of our readers: "Here we go with No. 99. My good man says '99 out of 100 are sure to be wrong' and it's dollars to doughnuts that he's right. However, and this is not intended as a bribe, but if he is right, I'll send you a doughnut and the family says that Mom makes good ones. So, once again we send our little efforts and hope for the best."

One reader sent us another poem this week. It is short, but it must express the ideas of so many of our puzzle-doers:

"I've cut along the dotted lines.
 "Read carefully all the

Nadeau Claims

Tenant And Water Taxes Boosted In Three Years

Armand Nadeau's continued his mayoralty campaign last evening with a meeting in the St. Jean Baptiste School, attended by 400 people.

At the start of the meeting rumors were circulating about the crowds attending retiring Mayor Levesque's meeting which was being held at the St. Jean Baptiste Hall. Finally, Lionel Ferland, chief organizer for Mr. Nadeau announced that Mr. Levesque's meeting had been cancelled. There were even rumors that one of Mr. Levesque's speakers was attending the meeting.

Mr. Nadeau again charged that the Levesque administration were claiming credit for projects which were not fostered by the outgoing Mayor. Wednesday night while speaking in the West Ward, Mr. Nadeau declared that the Jacques Cartier Bridge and the Municipal Library were fathered by two former aldermen, Armand Fiset and Henri Labonne. Last night he added a few more projects, claimed by the Levesque regime, to the blacklist. The baseball stadium, claimed Mr. Nadeau, belonged to Senator Howard. The municipal garage had been in the making for the last 15 years because each administration that passed through city hall had set aside an appropriation for this purpose. Mr. Nadeau said the Levesque regime claimed records for fire prevention and that this year they were in 3rd place. When he left city hall, Sherbrooke occupied second place.

Speaking on allocations for the poor he stated that if $100,000 was necessary it would be spent instead of $29,000 spent by the present regime.

One of the most outrageous claims made by the Levesque administration was that taxes had not been raised, Mr. Nadeau declared. The tenant tax had been upped 150 per cent and the water tax 40 per cent. He said that if he were elected he would see that the tenant tax returns to normal.

Once again speaking on the alternating of mayors, Mr. Nadeau revealed that several people had called at his office offering him the mayoralty in three years if he would allow Senator Howard an acclamation. He told the audience if they did not want a regular player then they should not accept a substitute.

He promised his support to the campaign against obscene literature, which is presently being waged in Sherbrooke.

Speaking on the 1955 budget, he said authorities had budgeted for a surplus of $250 but that they had not told the public that $180,000 had been taken from the reserve funds.

Again attacking the ETAA, he stated the present manager, A. C. Ross, had written a letter to city hall asking $1,000,000 as the sale price of the land. He said this would have meant that each shareholder would make a profit of $400 to $500 a share. Mr. Nadeau declared that if the ETAA were ever taken over shareholders would get the value of each share plus a reasonable interest rate.

The Nadeau organization have meetings scheduled for Saturday, Sunday and Monday nights.

Other speakers last night were H. Perron, Jean Gauthier and Lionel Ferland.

Open For Rebuttal

Armand Nadeau, Q.C., candidate for Mayor of Sherbrooke, started his campaign Wednesday night in rather unusual fashion.

It was taken for granted that a major part of his campaign would be an attempt to discredit the accomplishments of his opponent, Mayor Emil Levesque. Nor is there anything in this tactic that warrants particular criticism.

But, instead of pointing simply to things that could have been accomplished during Mayor Levesque's regime, Mr. Nadeau reminded his listeners of at least two major public works that were realized in the past three years — the Jacques Cartier Bridge and the Municipal Library.

But, said Mr. Nadeau, Mayor Levesque really deserved no credit for these accomplishments because he did not personally think of them. They were thought of long before Mr. Levesque became Mayor.

With his statement, Mr. Nadeau left himself open wide enough for Mayor Levesque to drive through several truckloads of rebuttal. The Mayor may not see fit to do so, but he'll never get a better opportunity to make the time-honored political remark that "my predecessors merely thought of these things, but I accomplished them."

Mayor Levesque apparently is ready to put his past record squarely on the line to the voters. It must indeed be gratifying to him to find his opponent reminding his listeners of two major accomplishments of the past administration.

Another Look At Formosa

In all the turbulent debate over Formosa, some circles keep advancing the idea that this big island should be placed under a trusteeship of the United Nations. It sounds like a nice, respectable solution to a tough political dilemma, but it may not be nearly so wise as its advocates think.

The thought is that a trusteeship plan might be eminently acceptable both to the western allies and to the Asian nations.

Presumably it would take the government of Formosa out of the hands of Chiang Kai-shek and his refugee Chinese Nationalist army. The British and some others tolerate Chiang largely for the sake of the United States. Asians like India's Nehru do not tolerate him at all.

Furthermore, the trusteeship proponents argue, such an arrangement would give 8,000,000 Formosans an ultimate chance to say something about how they want to be governed. Right now, though they outnumber the Nationalist refugees 4 to 1, they have a fair voice only in domestic matters. Chiang has a tight grip on the island's foreign policy, not to mention its military affairs.

Asians generally and Formosans especially would look upon UN trusteeship as a sort of "multiple colonialism."

Since colonialism is the yoke Asians have been seeking to lift from their backs, one can understand how they might view control by a UN heavily weighted with Western influence as either no better or only slightly better than what they have known.

Beyond this there is the question of what kind of trusteeship could ever be approved in a UN where Communist Russia has a voice. If one were approved, what might the Soviet Union or its puppets in the UN not do to sabotage the effective working out of the plan?

The U.S. could not tolerate any arrangement which did not seek to guarantee the defence of Formosa and adjacent islands against the encroachments of Chinese communism. If not Chinese Nationalist, then American defense forces would have to hold the Formosa line, since it is unlikely other UN powers would offer at best more than token aid in a general defense.

If the U.S. believes sincerely in democratic self-determination for all peoples, including the Formosans, it should perhaps foster not trusteeship but true independence for the islanders.

The Synod And The Ladies

There are many organizations and clubs which exclude women from their ranks. Most of them have had some difficulty fighting a persistent infiltration of the fair sex. But to the best knowledge, no organization ever had the courage to vote the ladies in and then vote them out again.

That's what the Anglican Synod did recently in Montreal and a leader of the anti-ladies crusade was none other than Canon W. P. R. Lewis of Knowlton.

And what lame excuses did Canon Lewis give for the exclusion of the ladies? None, really. Instead, he asked the question —

"Is it (the inclusion of ladies) intended to improve the efficiency of Synod?"

Surely, Canon Lewis, you could make a better case than that. After all, we all know that a Synod is no place for women. Well, don't we?

And how about another member, who remarked lamely that there were no men in the Women's Association and no women in the bass section of the choir? How's that for an adept little bit of issue beclouding?

If this wasn't enough, how about this? . . . "The Synod deals with the church's business and business is a man's field."

Back to the kitchens serfs, emancipation is yet a century or so away!

The Great Trial

Notorious Killer's Own Testimony

By PAT McGRADY
Science Editor, American Cancer Society
(Written for NEA SERVICE)

The question pending when court was adjourned was: Why did Cancer object to intensive investigation of nucleic acids?

The answer — a very candid one — was: "Not because nucleic acids make the difference between Einstein and the village idiot, although that is true, but because nucleic acids make the difference between the normal cells and me."

The third of a four-part report on what might be termed one of the great law cases of the century. It is the imagined trial of a suit for damages audaciously brought by a notorious and admitted killer — Cancer — for alleged invasion of his privacy by Science. In dramatic fashion, it brings you up-to-date on man's age-old search for ways to wipe out his worst assassin.

This exchange came on the 87th day of the trial of Cancer's lawsuit against Science on the ground that Science was invading Cancer's age-old privacy.

Cancer had been on the witness stand since the beginning. At the moment the plaintiff was again under the gentle direct examination of his own counsel.

Q: Perhaps you would be good enough to describe nucleic acids to the Court.

A: Well, there are two kinds — ribose nucleic acid, or RNA, and deoxyribose nucleic acid, or DNA. Next to protein, they are the largest molecules in Nature. With protein, they form nucleoprotein, which essentially is living substance.

Q: Now this DNA — what does it do?

A: In animal cells, it appears to be the material which makes up genes. It perpetuates hereditary traits. In the female egg or the male sperm, the composition of the DNA gives the offspring such characteristics as the mother's — or father's — brown eyes, red hair, nasty disposition, six fingers, and by defective or over-active hormone-producing glands, diabetes, dwarfism, stupidity, nervousness, too avid desire for boy friends, and tendencies toward quite a few diseases.

Q: How about the good traits — where do they come from?

A: From the same source, DNA, of course. I'm afraid this trial has so shattered me that I see only the gloomy side of things.

Q: Well, just what is the difference in the DNA of, let's say, Professor Einstein and the village idiot?

A: Well, I can say this much: The DNA of Professor Einstein and the village idiot, of course, is concentrated in the nucleus of the cell — the genes, to be more specific. These genes — there may be about 10,000 in each cell — are like beads strung together on necklaces. They are coiled up in bags called chromosomes — human germ cells have 24 chromosomes, and body cells, representing the chromosome contribution of both male and female, have a total of 48 chromosomes.

Q: And the DNA does what?

A: It gives each cell its chemical and physical traits. In germ cells, it gives the individuals who arise from them their personal characteristics. Scientists recently have isolated a small fraction of DNA which rejuvenates ageing cells — it makes them divide. There is a DNA inhibitor — if it were ever isolated, purified, and turned against me, it would compel my cells to stop dividing and make me age and die. I hope Science never isolates this compound.

Q: Now how about RNA. What does it do?

A: RNA is the outer cell cytoplasm, the fluid surrounding the nucleus, and also in the nucleus inside the nucleus. I would say that its basic job is to transport energy from the cell's power plants to the cell's factories.

Q: Power plants? Factories? I'm afraid you'll have to explain.

A: Well, the cell cytoplasm contains some rather large particles called mitochondria — bundles of oxidative enzymes.

They burn fuel and produce energy for work within the cell and for the building of cell structure.

Q: What happens to this power?

A: It is picked up by phosphates — phosphates in a compound called adenosine triphosphate, or ATP. A very important compound, I must say. It makes muscles move and nerves transmit impulses — it is important in health and in many diseases. It works under the stimulus of thyroid hormone, for one thing, and too much thyroid acting upon ATP is the root of some kinds of nervousness, heart disease, and premature ageing — Science has just found that out.

Cross-examination by counsel for Science:

Q: Now just why do you object to Science's studying these cell chemicals?

A: Why do I object? Because, I must repeat, Science uses this knowledge to invade my privacy — to learn the secrets of youth and ageing and to destroy me.

Q: To destroy you?

A: That is the correct term, sir. Science has been poisoning me with sham nucleotides.

Q: Can you give the court an example?

A: Yes, I was completely prevented from establishing myself in rat's liver by a spurious nucleotide called thiouracil. Rats were given a chemical, butter yellow, which causes liver cancer. But they also gave them thiouracil — which is like the normal nucleotide, uracil, except that it contains sulfur. And that, sir, proved to be poison for me.

Q: You mean you ate this spurious nucleotide and were poisoned by it? Why didn't the rat's normal liver cells eat it?

A: They don't even eat the normal nucleotide, uracil. They make it for themselves.

Q: Any other examples?

A: Yes, I'm sorry to say — an increasing number of them. Science is now making these fraudulent raw materials by the thousands. One of them, 6-mercaptopurine, almost but not quite knocks me out in some children with acute lymphatic leukemia. Another, 8-azaguanine, gives me a rough time in some brain tumors.

Q: But they haven't yet destroyed you completely?

A: In humans, no. In a few animal tissues I've just about given up. I've been beaten.

Q: I can't say then that this is entirely a disastrous situation for you.

A: That's what you say. But I'm beginning to feel like a trapped fox. Now that Science has traced so many of the pathways of cell chemistry, it's hitting me not in one part of my chemistry but in several simultaneously. And what's more, Science is still turning up more information on my metabolism. That means more targets. He has found the compounds that make cells divide and that makes them grow up and go to work. That's bad.

Q: Are normal cells affected by false compounds?

A: Yes, they are — and that's my salvation. They poison the patient, too. But the new drugs

HERE'S A PLAY TO TEST YOUR SAVVY

"What should I have done with the South hand?" asks a Dallas correspondent. "I suspected that I was in trouble when East passed the double of one heart, but I didn't know how to wriggle out. I wasn't sure that a redouble would clearly demand a rescue by North; and if there was any chance that North would pass I certainly didn't want to redouble. I finally decided to pass and take my chances at one heart doubled."

"The defense was accurate, and I took only my three top trumps and my ace of clubs. West opened the king of clubs, holding the trick, and switched to the king of spades. East overtook with the ace of spades to return the jack of hearts."

"I won with the ace of hearts, cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed and led the three of hearts to force out my king of trumps. I led a low diamond, trying to sneak the trick by, but West stepped up with the ace of diamonds, cashed the queen of spades, and led another diamond."

"East ruffed and led another trump to force out my queen. Now there was no way to stop East from taking the rest of the tricks. I lost 800 points on a hand that was fairly safe at two diamonds, but the question is how to get to that contract."

Most experts play a redouble in this position as demanding a takeout. When you're not sure that your partner will understand the redouble, you get on your bicycle and pedal away for dear life.

In this case the way to start the rescue operation is with a bid of one no-trump. Your part-

New Transcontinentals

Luxury Trains Run This Week-End

Montreal—(C)—The railways' answer to the air age will be seen this week-end when two shiny new "name" trains begin service on the transcontinental run.

Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways are bringing out "The Canadian" and the "Super-Continental," luxury trains which will chop one night from the run which stretches nearly 3,000 miles.

Beaming officials, terming the trains a historic advance on Canadian railways, are getting set for the send-off at flag-bedecked stations Sunday, the new schedules coinciding with the switch to daylight saving time.

Diesel power is a major factor in the faster schedule, one locomotive being able to make the Montreal-Vancouver haul with negligible servicing.

Both CNR and CPR, using all new equipment on the fast run, stressed the comfort and beauty of the new cars, and also the scenic opportunities of rail service. Spokesmen said the public showed a "most gratifying" response.

Both railways will continue to operate their present transcontinental trains—the CNR Continental and the CPR Dominion.

The CNR Canadian, leaving Montreal at 2 p.m. EDT Sunday is due in Vancouver at 10:10 PDT Wednesday. The trains—featuring scenic domes—thus is scheduled to make the 2,881-mile run from Montreal in 71 hours and 10 minutes, compared with the "old" time of 87 hours, 10 minutes.

DISCOVERER OF PENICILLIN

Brandon Sun

Of all the marvelous new drugs, penicillin has become the best known. It has given medical science powerful ammunition against pneumonia, blood and throat infections, venereal disease and the sometimes deadly aftermaths of operations and childbirth.

Sir Alexander was an explorer in the twentieth century meaning of the word. His goal was not to sight uncharted lands but to search out in the laboratory the means of saving lives by the hundreds of thousands.

Garra Chapman Again Head Of Sheep Breeders

At least one member from each of three 4-H clubs in the Eastern Townships will attend a Field Day, all expenses paid, put on May 6, by the E. T. Sheep Breeders Association, in Fontainebleau Que.

President Garra Chapman announced the plan yesterday after a lengthy discussion at the Sheep Breeder's annual meeting in the Sherbrooke Arena.

Names of the boys have not been made public.

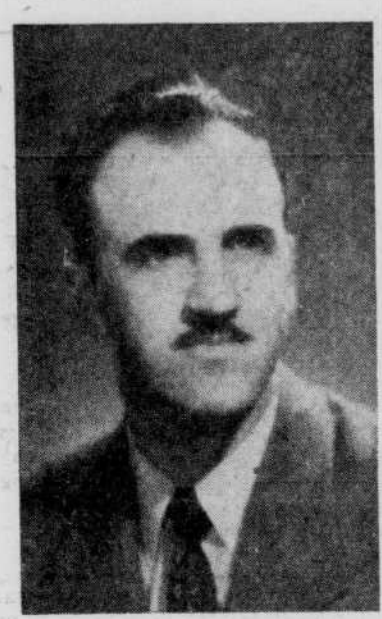

The plan was decided on as a very important step to get them interested in the functions of the E. T. Breeders Association.

Clubs involved will be Compton, Eastman and Richmond. An election of officers wound up yesterday's meeting and Garra Chapman retains the presidency. Vice president is Lorenzo Patrie, Fontainebleau; secretary Dr. C. Bernard and treasurer L. V. Parent.

Other directors were elected as follows: Antonio Sevigny, Princeville; Ted Bennett and Jim McBurney, Armand Provencher, St. Felix-de-Kingsey; Pamphile Tardif, Frontenac; Roscoe Austin, Foster; A. Marchant, Austin; G. Pearson, Sweetshair; Archie Lyster, and Robert Laverge, Lyster; Fred Patisson, Lennoxville; Gordon Cass, Ayer's Cliff; Wilfred Tremblay, Coaticook; R. Gauthier, Fontainebleau. Garra Chapman is Director-at-large.

love-song, "Dream Girl," with Bobbie MacDonald singing the female part, and then "Ballad Time" brought on Colleen Fearnely and Ernest Turner with such hits as "Only Make Believe," "Why Do I Love You," and "Here in My Heart."

Just about every Negro ballad in the book, plus a few Negro spirituals received fine treatment in "In de Evening by de Moonlight," a shadowy sequence running the gamut of Negro moods from gaiety to reverie to a soothing lullaby. Ernest Turner showed power and promise in one solo, "Old Black Joe," while Cliff Force as an old Negro preacher treated the catchy rhythms of the spiritual admirably.

Pat Vallee, of Sherbrooke, danced her own interpretation of the first movement of Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto No. 2 in C minor.

There was, for another thing, blackface skits—original restaurant flashes, and the time-honored cross-talk and stump speech with Harry Parewick as the inimitable Professor Tambo. He was hilariously supported by Peter Blake and Frank Jenne as Rastus and Snowball. Norman Knutson, a member of the audience from Waterville, is still probably wondering about the flea Parewick took out of his head.

"The Vagabonds" even imported two beautiful dancing girls from mysterious Egypt. Though both of them were graceful and scantily dressed in native costume to show their grace, they bore remarkable resemblances to Cliff Force and Frank Jenne.

The scenery, like the performance, was simple, yet effective. It was designed and executed by Donald Kuehner, June Tolhurst and Bobbie MacDonald.

The orchestra featured Ken Birch at the piano, Renaud St. Pierre, bass violin, Howard Sawyer, trumpet, and Len Hobson, drums. The entire performing cast consisted of Colleen Fearnely, Barbara Ross, Bobbie MacDonald, Art Lessard, Cliff Force, Harry Parewick, Peter Blake, Frank Jenne, June Tolhurst, Pat Bray, Ernest Turner, Jean Birch, Jim Fearnely, Rod Bray, Doug Ladd and Ken Birch.

The offstage crew was Wells MacDonald, Ian Neely, Arnold Bell and Mrs. Harold Way.

Damage Slight In Two Fires

Fires which threatened a King Street grocery store yesterday morning and a Centre ward tenement building in the afternoon were put out by the local fire department before any serious damage could be done.

The first fire was discovered by a neighbor shortly after 9 a.m. when smoke began to seep out of the basement of a grocery store belonging to E. Cote at 1376 King West. The cause has not been determined, but fire started in the basement stock room charring the basement walls and much of the stock before being extinguished.

Luxury Liner S. S. Homeric, Prepares For Maiden Trip

By BETTY BRADSHAW

Record Staff Reporter

Quebec City—One of the biggest liners to enter regular service on the St. Lawrence River, the newly-acquired Home Lines flagship, S.S. Homeric, is lying in berth here today, with all in readiness for its maiden voyage across the Atlantic tomorrow morning.

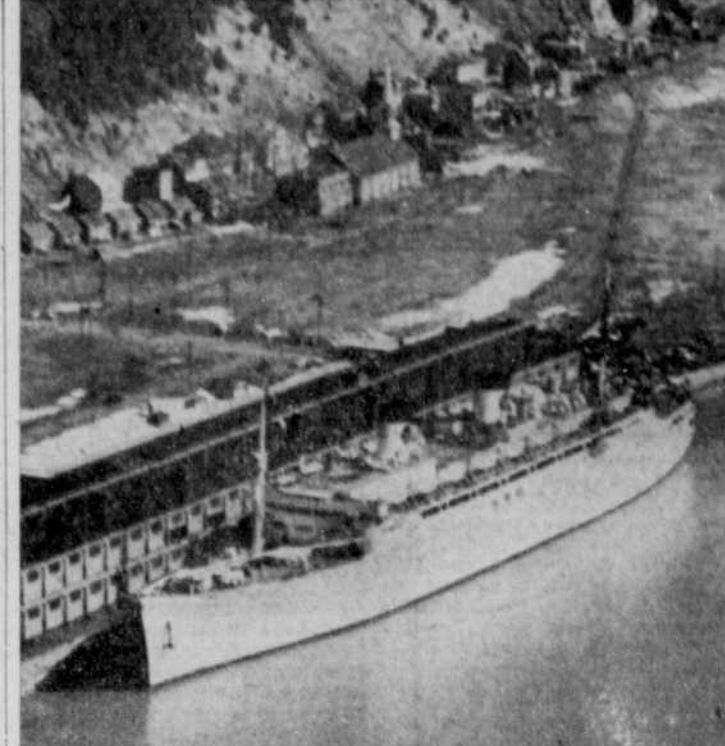

Preparatory to the inauguration of a new Canadian trans-Atlantic passenger service to Le Havre and Southampton, the 26,000-ton "Homeric" docked here for a series of inspection tours and receptions, including a large reception for several hundred press people.

The ancient Greek story-teller, Homer, would indeed be shocked if he could see this modern passenger liner which bears his name. A real Greek atmosphere is spread about the ship, from the bilingual Greek staff, through the Greek delicacies served on board, right down to the interior decor, depicting stories of Homer's Odyssey, including the one about Penelope, the Homeric heroine who wove for three years to deter suitors until the ship bearing Odysseus, her husband, returned.

For the initial trip, the Home Lines has engaged a French-Canadian girl, Muriel Dulude, a pretty weaver from St. Bruno, to weave a habitant rug from the time the Homeric leaves her berth in Wolfe's Cove until she returns 16 days later. When her rug is completed, it will be presented to the ship, to add a pleasing Canadian touch to the luxurious interior.

A refurbished edition of the former Mariposa of the Matson Line, the liner represents the newest trend in tourist passage accommodation on the North Atlantic. Refitted from stem to stern during the winter at a cost of several million dollars, the Homeric is the latest example of the race between shipping lines to modernize equipment on this important passenger run. She is scheduled to make 27 Atlantic crossings this year, and with a capacity of 1,200 passengers, will swell the large volume of continental traffic from Canada.

Acquired by Home Lines late in 1953, she was assigned to shipyards last winter for the most complete rebuilding and refurbishing program in post-war maritime annals, with practically everything but her hull and superstructure reinstalled, replaced,

The softly decorated state-rooms are equipped with hotel-type beds, folding beds and sofa beds. Each suite has a large stateroom, a 15 x 10 sitting room and bath. All first class and a great number of the tourist class state-rooms are equipped with telephones.

Other features of the Homeric are beauty salons, barber shops, gift shops, gymnasium, massage rooms and a 24 by 16-foot swimming pool. All the dining rooms are located on B deck; the forward dining salon seating 162 people; the midship 258 and the aft 230. The forward and midship dining salons may be converted into one large room by rolling back two folding panels.

There are also three lounges, a smoking room and a tavern, plus libraries and card rooms and two children's playrooms, equipped with low furniture and appropriate toys for the youngsters. Her maximum speed of trials was about 24 knots with an economical cruising speed of 20½.

Skipper of the Homeric is Giovanni Ruffini, former master of the S.S. Atlantic. In 1949, at 35, he was the youngest captain of a trans-Atlantic passenger liner out of New York. Today, he is still

Next in history's famous dances came the Virginia Reel displayed by the midgets including Margaret Webster, Patricia Stevenson, Leslie Ann Lendrum, Elizabeth Munster, Helen Corner, Linda McNeil, Nancy Richards, Lizbeth McIntyre, Carolyn Moore, Jacqueline Moore, Jane Lebaron, Gloria Clarke, Janet Hastings, Marilyn Moore, Gail Bishop and Blanche Daigneault. The Highland fling, a tartan-swinging Scottish dance, was done by four of the business girls, Claire Thibault, Martha Aldrich, Anne Ward and Shirley Coley, and an interpretation of the gentle Viennese waltz was given by Jenny Beaulieu and Joyce Turgeon. At the turn of the century came the waltz quadrille and this was demonstrated by the intermediates again. The juniors and business girls presented a gay high-kicking chorus line followed by the intermediates doing a tap dance featuring Rene Cyr in a black face solo.

The highlight of the evening was the most graceful of all the century's dances, the ballet, presented by both the intermediates and the business girls with Claire Thibault of the business girls taking the solo part. The commenting for the dancing was done by Miss Lorraine Smith. Mrs. Belle Willard accompanied at the piano and choreography was under the direction of Y physical director, Mrs. Kenneth Bryce, who was in charge of the whole program. She was assisted in arranging the costumes by Mrs. Eric Webster.

Two of the evening's highlights were the presentation of swimming and basketball prizes. Magreta Allen copped the intermediate swimming title with Janet Sangster runner-up. Frances Allen was awarded the swimming trophy for the junior class and Doris Komero was runner-up. Mrs. J. A. Donald executive director and board president of the Y, presented the trophies. Two representatives from the Bishop's University girls' basketball team, Sylvia Burt and Sylvia Woodward were present to accept the Sherbrooke House League trophy on behalf of their team. Mrs. Kenneth Bryce made this presentation.

The demonstration will be presented again tonight.

Other girls who took part were: Business Girls: Audrey Allanson, R. A. Willard, Nicole Faucher, Lise Boivert, Claudette Fournier, Denise Rousseau, Lise Lessard, Pauline Trudeau, Collette Noel, Katherine Boucher, Suzanne Grandchamp, Francoise Tanguay, and Gwen Norris; Juniors: Margaret Shaughnessy, Susan Goodson, Helen Callaghan, Maureen Cloutier, Celine Talon, Vicki Cathcart, Nancy Lavallee, Patsy Murphy, Lise Baril, Lizette Baril, Monique Gosselin and Suzanne Lortie; Nursey School, Jean Ann Barnacle, Elizabeth Bampton, Karen McLennan, Christine Conner, Suzanne Demarest, Diane Atkins, Jane Logie, Rosemary Herring, Gail Anne Lynch, Joan Planche, Michael Cotterall, Margot Campbell, Neil Herring, Bruce Herring, George Bell, Suzy Cotterall and Sharon Smith. MISS ETHEL JANE MATHIAS, OF MELBOURNE

Melbourne. — There entered into rest on Tuesday, April 5, at Melbourne, one of its mostly highly respected and esteemed residents, Miss Ethel Jane Mathias, after an illness of several months.

Miss Mathias was born in South Wales, England, daughter of the late Major F. Mathias and Mrs. Mathias, and came to reside in Melbourne with her parents and family in 1873. Shortly afterwards she left for Saranac Lake, N.Y., where she entered the nursing profession, which she followed for twenty-four years, later returning to Melbourne to reside.

On March 13, 1955, Miss Mathias celebrated her ninety-second birthday. She has been a faithful member and worker of St. Anne's Anglican Church and was a life member of the Uolophus Lord Aylmer Chapter, I.O. D.E., of Melbourne and Richmond, in which organization she had always taken a keen interest.

est. She also took a great interest in Red Cross and community work. Miss Mathias leaves to mourn her passing, one sister, Miss A. G. Mathias, of Melbourne; one brother, Mr. P. Mathias, of Montreal, and a number of other relatives.

The funeral service was held on Saturday morning, April 9, in St. Anne's Anglican Church, with Rev. George Harrington officiating. The hymns sung by the choir were old favorites of the deceased, "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Peace Perfect Peace," with Mrs. Louise M. Fee at the organ. The Nunc Dimittis was chanted while the casket was borne from the church.

The members of Uolophus Lord Aylmer Chapter, I.O.D.E., attended in a body. Bearers were W. E. Melver, K. G. Nourse, Gordon McMorine, J. H. Coles, Ernest Newell and Arthur Bieber. The floral offerings were beautiful, showing the esteem in which she was held. Interment took place in St. Anne's Cemetery.

Smith, Beliveau, Richard Named To N.H.L. All-Stars

Defensive Positions Remain Same As Last Year; Lumley, Harvey, Kelly Chosen; Forward Line Entirely New

Montreal — The defensive portion of the 1954-55 National Hockey League All-Star Team is exactly the same as last year's, but the forward line is entirely new. Holdovers from a year ago include Goalkeeper Harry Lumley of Toronto and Defenseemen Doug Harvey of Canadiens and Red Kelly of Detroit. The three newcomers to the forward line are Center Jean Beliveau of Canadiens, Left Wing Sid Smith of Toronto and Right Wing Maurice Richard of Canadiens. The latter is not a newcomer to All-Star aggregations but this is the first time he has been named to the First Team since 1949-50.

It marks the first time that Jean Beliveau and Sid Smith have ever been named to the First Team. Smith was placed on the second squad twice, in 1950-51 and 1951-52. Beliveau, the sophomore sensation of Canadiens, is the youngest member of the team at 23.

Richard and Smith have dislodged two perennial members of the No. One Team, Detroit's Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay. Howe has held down the right wing position for four consecutive seasons while Lindsay was picked as the top left winger for five straight seasons. Beliveau took the center post away from Ken Mosdell, last year's choice.

Balloting was conducted by a panel of hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters in the six N.H.L. cities. Points were awarded on the basis of five points for a first choice, three for a second and one for a third. Each city had three first choices, three seconds and three thirds.

The total point value in each city was 27. A player polling the maximum number of first-place votes which is 18 would poll 90 points.

Some cities have more seleccomfortable margin. The voting was also keen for the goalkeeping post. Lumley ended with a 24-point margin over the closest rival.

Ken Mosdell nosed out Toronto's Ted Kennedy for center on the Second Team in the closest possible voting. Mosdell polled a total of 51.3 points to Kennedy's 50.76.

This is Red Kelly's fifth All-Star First Team in a row. It is Doug Harvey's fourth. Terry Sawchuk has been a member of either the First or Second Team ever since he joined the N.H.L. in the 1950-51 season. He has been Second Team goalie for the last two years and prior to that was named to the First Team three seasons in succession.

Although he has been in the National Hockey League since 1941-42 with the exception of tors than others but the votes are weighted so that each city has identical strength. For the second season weighted so that each city has identical strength. For the second season the All-Star balloting was divided into two halves. Games up to January 1, 1955, constituted the first half, while games after that made up the second half. Most points a player could earn for the two half-seasons would be 180.

Montreal's Doug Harvey ended up with more points than any other player. He finished with 174 points out of the perfect 180. Harry Lumley was next with 152. Each player on the First Team receives $1,000 from the National Hockey League while each member of the second Team pockets $500.

There was only one change with the First Team as selected at the half-way mark. Geoffrion was placed at right wing in the first ballot. He had 68 points to Richard's 65, but in the second half Richard passed him by a three years spent in the Royal Canadian Navy, this is the first time that Bob Goldham has been selected to a N.H.L. All-Star squad. The same thing is true of his defense partner on the Second Team, Fern Flaman. Flaman has been a National League regular for nine seasons.

Geoffrion and Lewicki are also making their initial visit in All-Star company. Four of the six members on the Second Team were being selected to an Official All-Star Team for the very first time.

Richard is the oldest member of the First Team at 33. Incidentally, Richard has been on either the First or Second N.H.L. All-Star Teams for 12 consecutive years. Other ages are Smith, 29; Harvey, 28; Lumley, 28; Kelly, 27; and Beliveau, 23. Average age is an even 23 years.

Three players from Montreal Canadiens, two from Toronto Maple Leafs and one from Detroit Red Wings comprise the 1954-55 National Hockey League All-Star Team.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

Don Gallinger, Under Life Ban, Wants Name Cleared; Appearing Before NHL Board Of Governors

Galt, Ont.—Don Gallinger, who once carried a big part of the scoring power of Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League, is out to get his name cleared in hockey.

He was suspended from the NHL for life in 1948 during a league investigation of gambling and betting. Reasons for his suspension were never made public.

Ronald J. Reid, a Preston, Ont., lawyer, said Thursday he is acting for Gallinger in an effort to have him reinstated in hockey. The two will appear before the NHL board of governors early in June to present their case. It is expected that the governors will meet in Toronto.

Gallinger, a native of Port Colborne, Ont., was indefinitely suspended March 9, 1948, and six months later the league made the ban definite and for life.

A team-mate, Billy (The Kid) Taylor, of Oshawa, was expelled from the game at the time Gallinger was given the indefinite suspension.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, said at Taylor's suspension he was dropped from the league because of his association with James Tamer, "a criminal and gambler of Detroit," and for wagering bets on the result of a hockey game.

In announcing the decisions against the two Boston players, Campbell emphasized that no other NHL players were involved and that no "fix" of a game was attempted by a player.

The game investigated was one between Boston and Chicago Black Hawks Feb. 28, 1948. Boston won 4-2.

At the time Gallinger's appeal to the NHL in September, 1948, was turned down, Camubell said: "... The grounds on which the expulsion order is based are not being made public but Gallinger is free to do so 'if he wishes.'"

Nothing more was announced by the league or the player.

Gallinger, now 30, is owner of the Kitchener Panthers of the Intercounty Baseball League. He said he has no great interest in played for the Bruins from 1942 to 1947 because of my love for the game."

The former Boston forward played for the Bruins from 1942 until his suspension.

Allan Cup Series Evened As Beavers Down Kitchener

Kitchener, Ont.—Fort William Beavers defeated Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen 6-4 here Thursday night to square the best-of-seven Allan Cup finals at one game each. Dutchmen won the opener Tuesday 3-2.

The western Canada champions, playing wide-open hockey, jumped into a 3-2 first-period lead, allowed Dutchmen two goals early in the second but pulled away to a 5-3 margin before the teams took the ice for the final 20 minutes.

Each club added a goal in the last period.

Third game of the series will be played here Saturday night.

Two Willies Go Wily Tonight

Chicago — (P) — Willie Pastrano Miami Beach, Fla., and Willie Troy, a power swinger with 23 knockouts in 30 victories, match shots tonight in a scheduled 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium.

Pastrano will be making his second national television appearance (NBC) at 10 p.m. EST. In his debut before the cameras a month ago, he disposed of Al Andrews in the same ring.

Although only 19, the fast-stepping Pastrano has had 37 pro battles, winning 30, losing 4 and drawing in 3.

Troy, 22, will be making his first start since being stopped by light-heavyweight Floyd Patterson Jan. 7.

DODGERS SET MAJOR LEAGUE RECORD

Dodgers Speak On New Record

Brooklyn—(P)—Different Dodgers gave different reasons for Brooklyn's record - breaking 10-game winning streak that began at the start of the season.

"What is the biggest difference between the current Brooklyn team and last year's disappointing club?" This question asked of the Dodgers after they had inflicted Thursday's humiliating 14-4 defeat upon Philadelphia's Robin Roberts brought revealing replies.

"For the first time, we're getting good pitching, good hitting and good fielding all at the same time," said Manager Walt Alston.

"I'd say the biggest difference is the spirit," said Carl Furillo, the club's leading hitter with a .385 mark. "This is the best spirit I've seen on a Dodger club since 1947. We seem to have more incentive this year. Maybe it's because the boys missed the world series money they didn't get last year."

"The biggest difference, to my way of thinking, is experience," said Jackie Robinson. "There is an air of confidence on the bench that wasn't there last year. The guys are chirping more. They're pulling together. You can hear them yell 'Hold 'em and we'll get 'em' to the pitchers. Even when we're behind, we seem to sense that we'll come through with the big inning. That wasn't obvious last year."

"It's the pitching," volunteered Roy Campanella. "The pitchers are finally living up to their reputations. We've been getting excellent pitching and it's no flash in the pan. I always knew guys like Billy Loes, Johnny Podres, Carl Erskine and Big Newk (Don Newcombe) were great pitchers. Now they're beginning to show it. For this you've got to give credit to Joe Becker (new pitching coach). He's really got them in shape. He's got them running like they never ran before."

Pee Wee Reese, the club captain, probably summed it up best. "You can't put your finger on any one thing," he said. "I'd say it is a combination of things. Robinson is in better shape than he's been in a long time. And the way Campanella is playing you'd never think he had a care in the world. He was a worried boy last year."

"Another thing, Alston (manager) is more sure of himself now. The pressure isn't as great on him as it was last year. As a result he'll do a better job, I'm sure."

Swamp Roberts And Phillies 14-4 To Set Record With 10 Consecutive Games Won; Open Series With Giants

Brooklyn Dodgers soared to their 10th straight victory — a modern major league record from the start of the season — by smashing Philadelphia Phillies' ace pitcher Robin Roberts 14-4 Thursday at Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers' triumph highlighted an abbreviated four-game program in the major leagues which produced American League triumphs for New York Yankees, Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers. New York Giants' game at Pittsburgh was postponed by bad weather — the only other contest on schedule.

Yankees smothered Baltimore Orioles 14-2 with Bob Turley throwing a five-hitter against his former teammates. It was the second five-hit victory of the season for the young fireballer who was the principal figure in an 18-player trade between the two clubs during the winter.

Tigers walloped Chicago White Sox 9-1 at Detroit, with George Kell's grand slam home run in the big blow of the game. Washington edged Boston Red Sox 1-0 in the ninth on Pete Runnels' single which scored Roy Sievers.

Dodgers unleashed their heaviest batting display of the season in continuing their remarkable string. They clubbed Roberts for 11 hits and 10 runs, including three home runs, in four innings and continued their onslaught against two relievers.

In the final accounting, the Dodgers had 17 hits, which included four home runs and as many doubles. Shortstop Don Zimmer, playing for injured Pee Wee Reese, poled a home run, two doubles and a single. Carl Furillo banged out four straight singles.

Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider and Sandy Amoros were the other Dodgers to hit for the full circuit. The pitching victory was credited to Joe Black, who replaced Russ Meyer with one out in the third inning. In scoring his first major league victory since Aug. 29, 1953, Black gave up five hits and two runs in 6½ innings.

Before the present Dodgers, three clubs of modern times had won nine straight from the opening day — the 1918 Giants, 1940 Dodgers and the 1944 St. Louis Browns. Dodgers now can go after the 12-straight all-time record set by New York Giants back in 1884.

At Washington, Runnels' ninth-inning blow broke up a tense pitching duel between the Senators' Bob Porterfield and Boston's Tom Brewer. Porterfield pitched a three-hitter while Brewer gave up only five hits.

Richmond Tops Montreal 2-1

Richmond, Va.—(P) —Richmond Virginians won their first game of the International League baseball season Thursday night, nipping Montreal 2-1 in the seven-inning opener of a scheduled twin bill. The second game was postponed when a downpour hit Parker Field in the first inning with Montreal leading 1-0.

The two teams will play a doubleheader today to make up for the rainout.

The Virginians collected only six hits off three Royals hurlers. Roger Craig and Bob Hoffman held them well in check for the first six frames but when Joe Stanek took the hill for Montreal in the seventh trouble began.

Stanek never got a man out. Two walks and an error by first sacker Rocky Nelson enabled Richmond to load the sacks and Wood then came through with his game-winning smash.

Grey Cup Shift Good For Soccer

Vancouver—(P)—Toronto's loss of the Grey Cup game to Vancouver this year may mean a big boost for Canadian soccer.

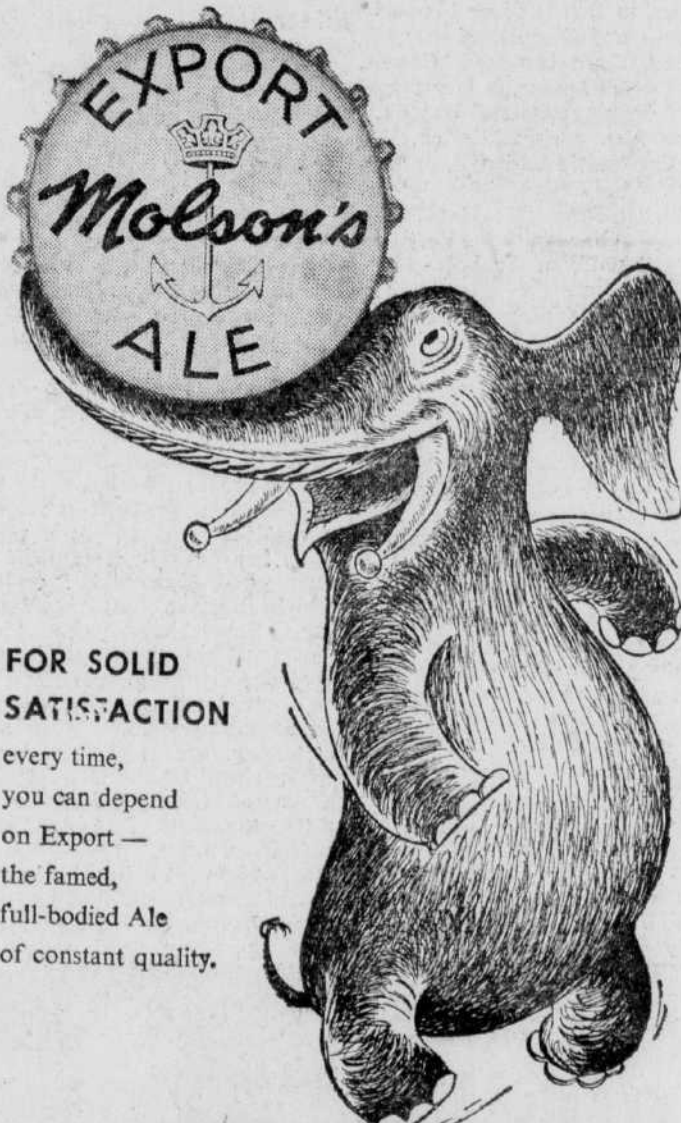

That's the word from Jock Hendry of Vancouver, re-elected president of the Football Association of Canada at the recent annual meeting in Regina.

The executive decided to fill the vacuum left in Toronto by switching the Canadian soccer final from Vancouver to Toronto next fall.

"There's a tremendous amount of enthusiasm for soccer back east," Hendry said. "We thought we'd capitalize on this opportunity."

Soccer has fallen down in the matter of publicity, and the final, late in September, might not

Copper Mining Described To Waterloo Club

Waterloo — The guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Waterloo Kiwanis Club was Kiwanian Burt McColeman, one of the members. Kiwanian Burt's subject was the Quebec Copper Mines, of which he is a superintendent.

This mine was first prospected, according to early reports, in 1865 by the Memphremagog Mining Co., which had originally been founded by Avery Knowlton. As nearly as can be determined, about 225 tons of eleven per cent ore, which of course, was all hand picked, was realized in 1866 and shipped to Wales.

By 1871, however, this output was up to 200-300 tons per month with a working crew of forty men. But even at this time the company was not a financial success and it was sold in 1872 to the Glasgow Co. Very little is known about the next few years of the company however, and in 1888 it was again sold to the Capleton Mines. The present site of the Quebec Copper Mines was to change hands many more times until it came into the ownership of the present company, the Quebec Copper, in 1950.

Mr. McColeman explained how the mine operated, what was looked for and how the ore is extracted and shipped. It is apparently a thriving business at the present time, with the prospects for the future very bright. The talk was a most interesting one, touching on a subject that a very few of the members knew much about. The speaker was introduced by Kiwanian Jim Cody and thanked by Kiwanian Tom Wilkinson.

The chairman of the Cancer Drive, Tom Wilkinson, announced that while the objective of the Waterloo district was only three hundred dollars, one tenth of the returns is in and half of this amount has been realized. Optimism is high that this objective will be over-subscribed many times.

A report was given by President Al Grainger on the inter-club visit to Newport when twenty-one clubs took part in the International Goodwill Week. Both Rev. Art Spent and Kiwanian Orval Lewis reported on their trip to Montreal to attend the Kiwanis Church Service in St. James United Church. Waterloo was the only outside club represented at this church service.

Next week will be an interclub with the Magog club, with Waterloo bringing the speaker.

COMMENTS ON PUZZLE

NO. 99

EXPLANATION OF MORE DIFFICULT CLUES:

CLUES ACROSS:

2. SPA is best. "Might succeed" implies that "prominent mention" was sought after and was successfully gotten. A SPY, and particularly a famous one, would not seek publicity. He would shun it as a SPY. A famous SPA might succeed in being prominently mentioned, if, for example, some notable was a guest there.
9. PACE fits the clue better. The man could be present at a RACE and not actually be taking part in it. The clue does not say he is participating. Not so with PACE. Here your natural interpretation of the clue is that the PACE is an unusually fast one for that man to be stepping. A man could walk a RACE, but not generally speaking, a PACE.
11. BOOTS fits the clue better. "Good" as applied to BOOKS, means "well-written" rather than "expensively produced", and the "good"-ness of a book is not necessarily suggested by the price.
13. POLL is more apt. The clue says "describes a kind of tax". POLL does "describe a kind of tax". POLL is a tax in itself. It does not "describe" a tax.
16. LIFE is best. A good LIFE is important in making a golf shot and golfers always enjoy discussing the different ones after the game. A TEE is an unremarkable thing, and if discussed at all, would not be discussed at some length. The clue purposely says "often be found" which rules out a TIE which is not a frequent event and so certainly not "often" discussed.
17. The clue implies that this preference is purely a matter of choice, favoring ALL. The weight of an AX is decided by the job in hand. For heavy work a man would presumably prefer a heavy AX while for light work the same man would prefer the light one.
21. SAIL is certainly a sound answer. With SOIL, parched earth, or very sandy SOIL needs more than a shower to make it "sadden".
23. TIME fits better. The clue says "at times". Quite often, not just "at times" she will become tired whenever she puts forth the extra effort necessary to earn that extra money. "At times" she will TIME herself to see how she is doing.
27. OF COURSE he knows how to FIT it. He need not necessarily know how to FIX it under certain circumstances; as, for example, if the top is beyond repair!

CLUES DOWN:

1. WOOL is best. In many jobs it is quite often possible to use the wrong TOOL and still get excellent results. Use the wrong WOOL, however, and there will undoubtedly be a difference in results that will be apparent.
4. Having his WAY means doing what he wants to do. Having his SAY is doing ONE of the things he may want to do. WAY, then, is the more comprehensive answer, being his whole will, and INCLUDING SAY when this happens to be what he wants.
20. This is a close choice and your only lead is the fact that the way the clue is worded implies that this has only one door (its door). This favors CAGE because, generally speaking, a CAGE has one door and a CAFE has two, one, for instance, a front and back door.
18. You "may expect" a SAILOR to be a handy sort of fellow, able to handle a needle and thread. Surely you KNOW a TAILOR can do so; it's not a case of "may or may not" expect him to.
19. GOLD is the surer answer. A GOLF trophy might be a small, insignificant thing with no great reason for pride. GOLD trophies are expected to be awarded for reasonably high achievement.
26. LEG is best. You can certainly easily lose your balance standing on one LEG. Not necessarily so with LOG which might be a big nice one.

Send your answer to arrive in the Record office not later than 8 p.m. next WEDNESDAY to:

VIEWS OF OUR SCHOOLS

By Dr. Ken Willis

THE SCHOOL'S PUBLICITY AGENTS

The School for Teachers at Macdonald College was host to seventy-five Protestant school principals and administrators last Friday and Saturday. Thanks to the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart of the Macdonald Tobacco Company, excellent speakers with brilliant ideas to inspire and inform led those present in very fruitful discussions on the relation of the principal to his pupils, to the community, to the school board and to his teachers. The conference was opened by Dr. W. P. Percival, director of Protestant Education for the Province of Quebec, and the other four speakers came from Ontario and New York State. Each of the four three-hour sessions was concluded by a discussion in groups or from the floor. A buffet supper was provided on Friday evening, highlighting the social aspect of this year's annual conference. Since the comments one overheard were numerous and enthusiastic, it was apparent that the ideas and organization fully justified the time and expense which both those responsible and those who attended devoted to this experience of in-service improvement for school administrators.

Ideas on the relation of the principal to his community flowed from Mr. David Tough of Toronto. Mr. Tough assured those present that every community formed opinions of its school. Often these opinions were based on false or inadequate information. His school board had spent much money on a professional investigation of their community's opinion of the school. One part of the investigation report stood out very clearly. The parents and the pupils had the same opinions about the schools. It follows that the parents form their impressions of the school from the reports (stories) told them by their children.

What are the implications of this fact? In the first place, the school should do a good job of providing for the needs of the pupils. Secondly, the pupils should be assured that a good job is being done for them. This may involve more explanation of policy and practices to the pupils. Thirdly, the reports of pupils, which can easily be distorted by their immature minds, should be supplemented by an easy exchange of information between parents and school officials. Mr. Tough emphasized that no amount of whitewashing propaganda by school officials will offset in the minds of parents an impression that their children are not being schooled in a way that encourages and enables them to do their best.

School pupils, however, can let their own desires affect their stories about school policy and practices. One of Mr. Tough's new pupils told his parents that in the instrumental music course pupils had to change from what ever musical instrument they had previously learned to some other instrument. Fortunately, the parent did believe that his youngster could get his signals crossed and called the school about this matter of policy. It turned out that the child had wanted to switch from the instrument he was learning to another and had leaned a little too much on the reputation of the school for support for his personal desire. Another high school pupil told his parents that, if there were a new shiny car at home, the pupil should drive it to school to give the passerby a good impression of
