

NOTEL INSURANCE PROBLEM.

THAT WILL BE WATCHED WITH INTEREST.

March 15.—Two days before the meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge of the Province of Quebec, at Montreal, on March 5, 1895, the following resolutions were carried unanimously at the meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge of the Province of Quebec, at Montreal, on March 5, 1895:

Resolved:—

First.—That this Grand Lodge offers its profoundest sympathy to the people of Manitoba in their struggle to maintain their system of common school education as by law established.

Second.—That it emphatically condemns a separate school system as dangerous to the commonwealth, and subversive of the union that ought to exist amongst the various peoples of the Dominion.

Third.—That, inasmuch as the educational system now in force in that province is absolutely un denominational and non-sectarian, offering the same advantages to all irrespective of creed or nationality, it views with regret the action of certain ecclesiastical dignitaries in this effort to disturb said system, which it is assured is already acceptable to nearly the whole people.

Fourth.—That this Grand Lodge pledges its moral support to the people of Manitoba in their determination to keep their school system free from that ecclesiastical control which has had such a baneful effect in the other provinces of the Dominion.

Fifth.—That this Grand Lodge will view with disapprobation any action on the part of the Federal Government, which would have a tendency to interfere with the educational system of Manitoba, which has already been declared by the highest court in the realm to be intra vires of the Legislature of said province.

CANADIAN MAMMALS.

PROFESSOR ROBERT BELL DELIVERS THE SIXTH LECTURE OF THE SOMERVILLE COURSE.

In the hall of the Natural History Society last evening, Professor Robert Bell, of the Geological Survey, delivered the sixth lecture of the Somerville course, his subject being 'Our Native Mammals of Economic Value.' The Rev. Dr. Campbell occupied the chair and introduced the lecturer.

Of the native Canadian mammals, the lecturer said, about sixty species are tolerably well known. In Canada, which constitutes fully the northern half of this continent, we have the finest mammals. They embrace the moose, the red deer and the reindeer, wild sheep and goats, the antelope, white, black and grizzly bears, hairy and fur seals and all the finest fur-bearing land animals, while in our seas are walrus, whales, porpoises and other oil-producing animals. The additional species which exist to the south of us are mostly inferior, such as opossums, raccoons, bats, wood rats, meadow mice and prairie dogs. It is notable that the aboriginals of North America domesticated but few of the native mammals, principally dogs of different kinds, and the civilized invaders of the continent likewise made use of them only in a wild state. The service to man of our native mammals does not consist alone in the uses we may make of their bodies. The domestic animals imported from the Old World thrive well in our climate; still there are certain of our native species that might be domesticated with advantage, and there appear to be no insurmountable difficulties in the way of doing so.

Among others which might be mentioned in this connection is the beaver, which is valuable both for its fur and its flesh. In the northern parts of the Dominion there are vast tracts of rocky land, with little large timber, but well wooded with small, such as aspens, birch, alder, etc., and abundant in streams and small lakes. Here the beaver were formerly to be found in large numbers, and this region, which may, perhaps, be good for little else, still affords the best conditions for preserving and breeding these animals in large numbers, and under proper protection.

The lecturer then proceeded to give an account of the habits and intelligence of the beaver, dwelling on his engineering skill, his proverbial industry, his method of building, and his ingenuity in avoiding his enemies and overcoming exceptional and unexpected conditions. He spoke of his habit of building dams as being advisable in checking the drying up of streams in summer, and in forming alluvial land bearing a natural crop of hay, so welcome to the lumberman and settler. Whether we consider the beaver's uses to man, his family habits, his industry or his intelligence, the lecturer was of the opinion that we might be proud of him as our national emblem.

There being about sixty species of tolerably well known native Canadian mammals, the lecturer found it impossible to treat of them all individually in the time at his disposal, but he pointed his remarks to a few of the more important ones. In speaking of the porcupine and the muskrat, he pointed out that we are indebted for the richness of the soil of the lumbering regions in the North-West to the habits of these lumbering animals of tunnelling and throwing up the earth as they dig the grass and herbage, which, as decaying, becomes incorporated in the soil, producing, in course of time, great fertility.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND CRISIS.

St. John's, N.B., March 15.—At a meeting of the Opposition party, held on Wednesday night, it was resolved that, in view of the importance and complexity of the subject of union with Canada, and the various public interests to be protected, the delegation to Ottawa should be large and thoroughly representative, and that the Opposition would not be bound by any acts of a partisan delegation.

Sir William Whiteway's condition is unchanged. The prospects of his going to Ottawa in a fortnight is considered doubtful.

DEATH OF SIR R. W. DUFF.

Sydney, N.S.W., March 15.—The Right Hon. Sir Robert William Duff, Governor of New South Wales, died here to-day. Governor Duff recently arrived from Hobart, Tasmania, where he had attended the Australasian conference. He was ill before leaving Hobart and was in a precarious condition when he arrived. He was born in Scotland in 1835.

London, March 15.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Mr. Sydney Buxton, Under Colonial Secretary, announced the death of Sir R. W. Duff, Governor of New South Wales. Mr. Buxton, embodied with the family of the deceased Governor and expressed his sense of the severe loss which the diplomatic service had sustained through his death.

STANSTEAD NOMINATIONS.

THE TAILLON CANDIDATE MEETS WITH STRONG OPPOSITION.

The nomination of candidates in the provincial by-election in the county of Stanstead, occasioned by the admittance of the late member, Mr. F. Hackett, into the Tallon Cabinet, took place at Ayer's Flat yesterday. Mr. Hackett and Mr. W. H. Coward were placed in nomination, the former as the Tallon loan candidate, and the latter as the Independent Conservative, opposed to the Tallon financial policy, and pledged to honest government. The attendance was large, both sides being well represented both in speakers and electors.

The returning officer having duly announced the nomination of Messrs. F. Hackett and W. H. Coward, Mr. Hackett took the platform and addressed the meeting. He upheld his policy during the past two years, expatiated on the reforms which he had supported and voted for, and referred to his support of the abolition of the Legislative Council. He noted emphatically that Mr. Tallon's regime had been a good and economical one, and dwelt at considerable length on what had been saved in the different departments by that administration.

Mr. Coward was the next speaker. 'I do not appear before you, gentlemen,' he said, 'as a silver-tongued orator, and I cannot represent you as such, but I do appear as a representative workman of the county of Stanstead. This is not a question of fine words or of oratory. It is a question of whether or not a dollar will buy a dollar's worth or seventy-seven cents' worth.' He then proceeded to explain the loan of the Tallon Government, and said that it was not a question of Conservative or Liberal, of Protestant or Catholic, but of the administration of the country's finances. He did not think that the Legislature should be conducted on party lines. It was, as he understood it, for the just administration of the people's money that that body existed, and he thought it should be carried through on the lines of a municipal council.

Other speakers were the Hon. Mr. Tallon, the Hon. Mr. Hall, and Mr. Cooke, M.P.P. At the conclusion of Mr. Cooke's address in favor of honest government and in disapproval of the Tallon loan, Mr. Tallon manifested an inclination to reply, but shouts and hisses from a crowd in the rear, said to be composed of supporters of Mr. Hackett, prevented the premier from being heard.

Another big meeting was held at Coaticook in the evening, at which the speakers were the Hon. L. O. Tallon, the Hon. Mr. Marchand, Mr. Chicomney, M.P.P., and Mr. Dechene, M.P.P.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A BATCH OF PATRON RESOLUTIONS PLACED ON THE NOTICE PAPER.

Toronto, March 15.—The Patron party in the legislature placed on the notice paper yesterday a batch of resolutions, which will, in all probability, give rise to some interesting discussions and close voting when they come before the House. Mr. McNeish has a motion favoring the election of all county officials except county judges, by a direct vote of the municipal electors. Mr. Haycock will move that the commutation to the judges and local masters should be reduced so as not to exceed the revenues derived from the fees in respect of which the commutation allowance is paid. Mr. Caven will bring in a resolution that registry offices should be inspected in a manner to afford a better safeguard against fraud in regard to the proportion of the revenue payable by the registrar.

VALUABLE CAPE BRETON COAL FIELDS.

AN ENGLISH SYNDICATE ANXIOUS TO PURCHASE THEM.

North Sydney, C.B., March 15.—It is stated that an English syndicate has called an offer of $5,000 for the coal areas owned by Mr. Harold McDonald and others. The property is situated between Sydney and Mira, and is believed to be very valuable. English capitalists sent out an expert last summer to examine the property and he has reported very favorably upon it. The man who examined the property was first to open up the coal fields of Australia. The English syndicate is anxious to procure the entire area, but the present owners would prefer retaining an interest in the property.

$30,000 DAMAGES.

Tellico, Ohio, March 15.—Guy M. Monroe, a ten-year-old boy, was run over in October, 1893, by a Wheeling and Lake Erie engine and badly mangled. It was found necessary to amputate both legs. Suit was brought for $75,000, and yesterday the case went to the jury. A verdict was rendered for $30,000, the largest ever rendered in this country for personal damages.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN HYMNAL.

Toronto, March 15.—The committee appointed by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada last June, to compile the new book of praise which has been in course of preparation for the last three years, and which it is expected will be completed and issued this year, has been in session in the city since Tuesday morning, and is expected to conclude its work to-day. Careful consideration has been given to suggestions from Presbyteries of hymns to be omitted and added, with the result that about twenty hymns have been left out and about thirty added to the draft book. The sub-committee on tunes, which has held various sessions since the meeting of the General Assembly, has selected most suitable music for the hymns added, and more popular tunes have been substituted for those now set to many of the hymns retained from the present hymnal. It has been decided to recommend the Assembly to approve of an authorized selection from the psalms in metric, and to urge upon the congregations of the Church to make larger use of the Psalter in the services of praise. The committee has been in communication with the joint committee of the Established Free and United Presbyterian churches in Scotland, with a view to the preparation and adoption, if possible, of a book of praise for use in British and Canadian churches. Everything has been done by the Canadian committee to secure, if possible, such a book, but the present prospects of success are not very encouraging.

ONTARIO LIQUOR MEN ALARMED.

Toronto, March 15.—Another urgent call to the members of 'the trade' to attend the anti-prohibition convention here next week is being issued to-day. It calls the attention of the license holders of Ontario to the certainty next year of the provincial government either passing a prohibitory law as a result of the anticipated Privy Council judgment, or in case that is not constitutional a more stringent license act, containing such restrictions as will practically destroy the liquor trade. 'A calm view,' it proceeds, 'of the situation plainly shows that in order to hold its own, a complete and thorough organization of the trade is required to be ready to meet the enemy at all points, to defend the rights of the traffic and to prevent its utter destruction by parties who care nothing for vested rights and are willing to wreck any trade for what is at least a problematical remedy.'

In addition to their anxiety regarding legislation the officers of the Ontario License-holders' Protective Association see reason for alarm in the Toronto agitation for the closing of bar-rooms at nine o'clock; at Hespeller for closing at 8:30; so in the license reduction movement in Brantford, Hamilton, Paris and elsewhere, and the increasing interest taken in prohibition by the Patrons of Industry.

PATRON OFFICERS EXONERATED.

Toronto, March 15.—At the request of the grand president, Mr. Mallory, a special committee has investigated the finances of the Grand Association of Ontario of the Patrons of Industry. It reported unanimously that every dollar had been properly expended and that the financial standing of the association was thoroughly satisfactory. Another committee—the standing committee of the association upon officers' reports, made a detailed investigation into the charges recently published and in every case found them groundless.

Considerable of the time of the association has been devoted to the report of the committee on organization, with a view to strengthening the membership in counties where it is not up to the standard.

A committee has been discussing plans of campaign for the general elections and the consideration of its recommendations may occupy the attention of the grand association for some time.

TORONTO FIRE INVESTIGATION.

STARTLING EVIDENCE HEARD LAST NIGHT CONCERNING THE WATCHMEN.

Toronto, March 15.—Joseph Gursky told a startling story at the fire inquest last night respecting the Simpson fire. He identified McKee and Spratt, the two watchmen, as acting in a suspicious manner near the building at ten o'clock that night, one of them saying, 'It is too early yet.' His evidence further contradicted the story of the watchman. Just before the fire, Mr. Louis Rosenthal, a manufacturers' agent, deposed that he heard the smashing of glass.

Mr. S. R. Millikan swears he saw through the glass a man in the Simpson building with a watchman's lamp. The evidence has created a sensation here.

WILL SUPPORT THE SURTAX.

Paris, March 15.—Speaking at a banquet of sugar refiners last evening, Premier Ribot declared he would support the imposition of a surtax upon sugars produced in other than European countries.

A SUPPLEMENTARY WAR BUDGET.

IT LOOKS AS THOUGH THE END OF THE CHINO-JAPANESE WAR IS STILL A LONG WAY OFF.

JAPAN PURSUING A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN—ALLEGED CRUELITIES OF CHINESE AT SHAN-TUNG AND IN THE PENINSULA OF LAO-TUNG.

San Francisco, March 15.—The steamship 'China,' which arrived this morning brings the following correspondence from the Orient dated at Tokio, March 1: The temper of the Japanese nation has been significantly displayed in connection with an additional grant of 100,000,000 yen for the prosecution of the war. The original war budget passed unanimously by the Diet in its extraordinary session last October, amounted to 150,000,000 yen. Two issues of bonds have already been made. A further issue of 44,000,000 yen has to be made, and the nation may, at any moment, find itself paying into the treasury, about twenty million yen monthly. The strain does not appear to be felt as yet, partly because a large proportion of the expenditures is made within the country, and partly because the banks have co-operated earnestly and skilfully to avert public inconvenience.

JAPANESE SINEWS OF WAR.

Recently, when the peace envoys arrived in Hiroshima, the House of Representatives unanimously passed a resolution declaring their belief that the end of the war was still remote, and that they were prepared to grant any sum of money needed to prosecute the campaign. The government submitted to the Diet a few days ago a supplementary war budget amounting to 100,000,000 yen. Without question or discussion the budget was handed to the committee charged with the examining and reporting upon all such measures. Two days later the committee presented its report. It curtly stated that enquiries addressed to the government delegates, who always attend committee meetings for the purpose of answering questions, has established the government's resolve to combat the war so earnestly and vigorously as

TO SECURE LASTING PEACE FOR THE ORIENT and that consequently there could be no question about the advisability of granting the appropriation required. When the president called for a show of hands every member rose in his place and the budget was passed unanimously amid a storm of cheers. In the Upper House the procedure was identical. There is no peace party in Japan.

THE PORT ARTHUR BRUTALITIES.

The excesses committed by Japanese troops at Port Arthur pained the Japanese more than they pained Europeans. No steps were taken to punish the soldiers or degrade the generals. Such things cannot be done in time of battle. The only practicable way of reassuring the world was to show that the same soldier could control the passion of revenge under the same provocation. Wei-Hai-Wei offered the necessary opportunity. In Shan-Tung, as in the Lao-Tung peninsula, the Chinese behaved with pitiless savagery. Wherever they caught a Japanese they tortured and mutilated him. On one occasion, surprising a party of thirty Japanese scouts cooking their mid-day meal, three hundred Chinamen tied up any that retained signs of life, after a fierce struggle, and tore from their bodies everything that could be torn. A few hours later the main body of the division to which the unfortunate men belonged, marched by and saw the terribly disfigured corpses. But there was no attempt at retaliation. Not a single instance of cruelty or needless slaughter is recorded against the Japanese. On the contrary, we hear of common soldiers treating women tenderly, and of a captain who carried a baby in his arms through the thick of a combat. What is more, the principles of civilized nations in warfare are evidently obtaining recognition throughout the whole East, owing to Japanese examples.

A CHINESE WAR LOAN.

London, March 15.—A dispatch from Shanghai to the 'Central News' says the Chinese guides in that city have met and agreed to subscribe to a war loan of 500,000 taels.

MR. PELLETIER ANSWERED.

AN ONTARIO MAN'S VIEW OF THE SCHOOL
 QUESTION.

(To the Editor of the 'Witness'.)

Sir,—I see by your issue of Feb. 26 that Mr. Pelletier says in effect that schools like the public schools in Ontario and Manitoba are bad. Might I ask wherein they are bad? Viewed from an intellectual standpoint, competent and unprejudiced observers would certainly pronounce them vastly superior to the Church schools of Quebec. Viewed from a moral standpoint, judging by results, the evidence is also in their favor. It is found in general in mixed communities that the larger number in proportion of those who occupy our prisons comes from the Roman Catholic element; which is to say, that trained in separate schools. That is to say, the most enlightened and well-conducted portion of the community comes from the public schools, the most ignorant and disposed to crime from the Roman Catholic.

The public schools can hardly be called sectarian, any more than the Parliament of American Congress being opened like them with simple religious exercises, in which it might be supposed any Christian could join, and then closed with a brief prayer. Roman Catholics, on this principle, should keep out of Parliament and Congress. But if it were not for intellectual bigots, like Mr. Pelletier, Catholics and Protestants might easily agree on a series of scripture selections and on a form of prayer agreeable to both. If this be not done the first half hour might be left vacant each day, and let the ministers of other suitable persons give suitable instruction one or more days in the week, to their own taking it in turn.

It seems strange, however, that Roman Catholics are so bigoted that they cannot join with Protestants even in repeating the Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer or other brief form. It is to foster a spirit like this that the school is to force separate schools on Manitoba,
 and to in so far endow the Roman Catholic Church. If such is done it will be a step backward and contrary to the spirit of the age.

FRENCHMEN'S AMERICAN WIVES.

(To the Editor of the 'Witness'.)

Sir,—After reading the many notices of the marriage of Miss Anna Gould to the Count Castellane, an article in the February number of the 'Cosmopolitan'
 brought the matter to my notice in a new and startling light. I venture to quote it, for many of your readers may not be aware of the facts presented. In 'The reflections of a consul,' Mr. Francis
 B. Loomis says:

'There are a good many unfortunate Americans abroad and chief among them,
 perhaps, are those of our countrywomen
 who have, in perfect good faith, married unprincipled Frenchmen in the United States according to the law of the states in which they live, quite ignorant of the fact that such marriage is invalid in France. Within the last four years no fewer than a dozen American women have gone to France with French husbands. After a short residence, the husband either grows weary of his wife or finds a Frenchwoman with a larger dot-who is willing to marry him. Family influence is powerful in France—the man's parents urge him to wed the French-woman and too frequently the wife is going to a cafe calmly writes her husband a note, explaining that she can wife a man, explaining that she not her lawful husband and a

 to accept a small sum of money
 the country. Surprised, indig-nated in all her fine and links, she goes directly to general, states her case and a sob, to learn her status. The obliged to admit that before law she has no valid standing of a mistress and that her illegitimate. There is no for a woman who has been in this shameful fashion and tion to be had except in a homicide. If the woman be actor or resource, she returns ca and gets a divorce. If woman of strength she is in Paris.'

These statements are certainly commentary upon the attitude foreign marriages seem to have who might enter into more tion at home.
