THE ELLEN QUINN MURDER MYSTERY

The Evidence of Those Who Had Known Deceased.

THE INQUEST IS POSTPONED

Miss Quinn Did Not Have Any Money and Other Motive Than Robbery Is Suspected.

Around the murder of Ellen Maria Quinn mystery continues to gather, and continued investigation shows more than ever the brutality of the crime.

The new features of the case are the night and day's work done by Chief McCaskill, of the provincial force and the finding of Mary Quinn, only sister of the deceased, by a Star reporter. She was working for Mr. Ross Robertson at Como, Que., and when a Star reporter talked with her last night she learned for the first time that her sister was dead.

Once the first stages of her grief over, she said, "My sister had a good many enemies in the neighborhood in which she lived, and she often told me that she was afraid.

"She liked to live alone away up there, and I remember when she bought the bit of land. It cost her $62 and $9 for the deed. Then she got a man to put up the best part of the house and since then she has been tinkering at it and helping in the building of two other small places on the bit of land.

"She was a woman that never had company, and in the forty years that I have known her to live alone I have never heard of a man visitor being in her house."

NO DRINKING IN HER HOME.

Miss Quinn was told of Reid's story about the two men and of rumors that a good deal of drinking went on in the house.

"As to her drinking," the sister replied, "that is false. I know because she was a woman that never drank anything except, say, a little cider. When she wanted anything she would make herself a cup of tea."

This statement is corroborated to a considerable extent by Dr. McTaggart, who made the autopsy, and who says that no signs of alcoholic liquor was found in the remains.

Then Miss Quinn took up the story of the men that Reid says he saw. "If Mr. Reid knew that two men were with my sister and that her life was in danger he must have been a strange man," she said. "Why did he not go to her assistance instead of going to bed and allowing her to be murdered? Anyway, my sister always was afraid of Mr. Reid, because they quarreled over some lumber."

This statement as to her sister being afraid of Reid Miss Quinn repeated under oath to-day before Coroner McMahon, and she also said that her sister was afraid of an Italian family and another family named Goulet.

When asked if it were at all likely that Ellen Quinn was murdered for what money she might have in the house, the sister answered: "No, not at all. There was a rumor around Mile End that she had some money but she had none. She owed me money and she told me that every cent she earned—it was not much—she spent on lumber to build up her shack."

"Who were these men that worked for her and who might have been the visitors she had on the night of her death?"

"They were James Quinn and Patrick Sullivan. James is a cousin of ours. He lived where we were born and raised?"

"Where was that?"

"St. Anicet, about sixty miles west of here on the St. Francis. We had one brother, John. He has been living in St. Barbe parish and I will telegraph to him to be in Montreal to-morrow. My sister was born in December, 1846, and I am two years older than she was. We have several cousins, and James was one that she liked a good deal. She always wanted relatives to work for her and tried to get brother John, but he declined."

"Have you any idea of any one who had a motive for killing your sister?"

Miss Quinn replied: "Not exactly, but I do not care to express an opinion. It might have been tramps."

JAMES QUINN'S STATEMENT.

The whereabouts on Saturday night of James Quinn, one of the two men that worked for the deceased, have, in view of events become interesting. He was seen by a Star reporter and he made the following statement:

"I went to work for Miss Quinn about May 6, and I think it was about the 24th that she paid me off. I went to see her about two weeks ago, but just for a short visit."

"What were you doing last Saturday night and early Sunday morning?"

"I was with a friend of mine named McGuinness. We were around town for quite a while, nearly all evening, and I went home fairly early and went to bed. I live at 41 Barre street. I slept there all night and got up late on Sunday morning. That can easily be proven."

"Have you any suspicion as to who killed her?"

"None. But she used to be very frightened all the time that somebody would do her harm."

MRS. HALLIDAY KNEW HER WELL.

Mrs. Halliday, who resides on Palace street, was also seen by a Star reporter to-day. She has known the family for a great many years and was in many respects Miss Quinn's most intimate friend in Montreal. If any one was in a position to know if Ellen Quinn owned any money it was Mrs. Halliday, and she made the following statement to-day:

"I am sure that she was murdered during a quarrel over something else than money. It was not long ago that she borrowed two dollars from me. I am sure that she never drank a drop of intoxicating liquor, so that those stories about drunken quarrels are quite untrue. Some years ago she kept a millinery store on Jurors street and in many ways she showed herself a good business woman, but she could not save any money."

DETECTIVE McCASKILL AT WORK.

The chief has nothing to say. He is right in harness and he has not had his clothing off since he got back to town yesterday and started in to unravel the mystery. He has visited the scene of the murder and he has made most careful mental notes of everything that attracted his attention. That becomes evident when one watches him at work. Things that others have passed by have been noticed by him and he has done a lot of interviewing. What his theory is, if he has any, he keeps to himself. He sat near the coroner to-day and listened to all that was said and as soon as the adjournment took place he was off.

THE INQUEST COMMENCED.

Coroner McMahon empanelled a jury in the tumble down old morgue, where in an upper room, the body lay, and after he laid before the members of it a short outline of the tragedy he called Dr. McTaggart. The doctor gave a vivid description of the blood stained rooms and produced a piece of wood, evidently torn from an old doorway. It bore many traces of blood and fastened to the nails which protruded from it, were, he said, several hairs which were blood stained. They were to be washed and dried and he would compare with that of the deceased. In describing the wounds, he said that severe blows had been struck on both sides of the head; the head and brain were clotted with blood; the lower jaw was broken, the ribs on each side were fractured, and the right arms showed the finger marks of what must have been a powerful man. The body of the woman showed no sign of intoxicating liquor.

Mary Quinn, the sister, was next called. In a few words she told of her sister's lonely life and how often she had asked her to live somewhere else. She said that she was troubled about her sister's fear that someone would injure her, as she had had a number of quarrels. A young Italian had once threatened to chop her head off. Miss Quinn then repeated to the coroner most of the story she had told the Star.

The coroner decided to adjourn for a week so as to give Chief McCaskill time to do some work.

John Quinn, the brother of the deceased, will arrive at four o'clock this afternoon and brother and sister will arrange for the funeral.

WANTED HER SON ARRESTED FOR THEFT

Melancholy Scene To-Day in Chief Carpenter's Office.

A BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER

Saw Best Remedy for Erring Boy by Getting Him a Term in the Penitentiary.

Chief Detective Carpenter's office, in the City Hall, presented a sad sight this morning, when a woman, with tears in her eyes, pleaded with Mr. Carpenter to use his influence with Judge Lafontaine in order that she might procure a warrant to have her own little son arrested on a charge of theft so that he might be sent to the penitentiary. She told the Chief that she had not the two dollars with which to procure the warrant, and that she could not get it from the Judge unless she produced the money. She claimed that she could do nothing with the lad, and she had come to the conclusion that the penitentiary was the best and safest place for him. She appealed to the Chief in broken German, and said that her trials and tribulations were gradually killing her. Under the circumstances the Chief was unable to assist the woman in getting rid of her boy, but strongly advised her to watch him and if she caught him stealing in future to let him know.

The Chief told the Star that in matters of this kind the authorities have to be very careful. It frequently occurs that people come here from foreign countries, and to get rid of supporting their children they trump up charges against them and have them imprisoned, thus becoming a charge on the country.

WHEEL DROPPED OFF PASSENGER COACH

Peculiar Accident to a C. P. R. Train in Westmount.

TRAVELLERS WERE DELAYED

Some Made Balance of Journey on Foot—Repairs Were Quickly Made.

An accident this morning occurred to the C. P. R. Toronto express, which is due in the city at 7.35, just as the train had passed the confines of Westmount.

The difficulty arose over one of the wheels on a passenger coach having dropped off, but aside from a slight shaking up, the passengers were not injured.

They were, however, incommoded not a little, as a large number of them, not alone on that train, but on the half dozen trains that were stalled while repairs were being made, had to walk into the station.

These were mainly passengers from suburban points, whose business necessitated them being in the city at an early hour.

The Boston and New York trains were among those that were delayed through the cause mentioned.

A couple of hours sufficed to make the necessary repairs, when all the trains drew into the station to unload their remaining passengers.

At ten o'clock the Windsor Station presented a rather unusual spectacle. There was scarcely a track in the train shed that did not have, in the foreground, an engine attached to a line of cars. Usually the trains come in at different hours. Before one arrives its predecessor has backed out into the yard.

THE THIRD FIELD BATTERY IN TENTS

A Start Was Made for St. Helen's Island To-Day.

MAJ. STEPHENS IN COMMAND

Daily Drill Will Go Forward—Men to Follow Business Avocations During the Day.

The 3rd Field Battery went into camp at St. Helen's Island as usual this morning, and will be under canvas for the next twelve days.

Most of the day was spent in pitching tents and all the men of the corps were on hand to assist in this work.

Subsequently the generality of the rank and file will put in their training every morning and evening, resorting to the city during the day time to follow their usual avocations.

In this way it is possible for them to gain the experience essential to those connected with the artillery, and enjoy a holiday, while, at the same time, attending to the regular routine of business.

Major Stephens has found that this plan works admirably in that a larger percentage of the members of the corps are enabled to attend the annual practice than would be the case were the battery removed to some spot remote from the city, where all would be cut off for the entire twelve days from the pursuit of their calling.

The members of the battery reported at the Drill Shed at an early hour this morning, and were conveyed to the Island, along with their baggage and their guns, by a Richelieu and Ontario steamer, at ten o'clock.

Immediately preparations were made for making the corps as comfortable as possible during its stay, and the expectations are that the present camp will be one of the most successful in the annals of the regiment.

Major G. W. Stephens will be the officer in command of the battery, while associated with him are Capt. W. A. Grant, Lieut. D. R. McCuaig and Lieut. J. C. Fyshe.

Capt. A. D. Reford, the remaining officer of the corps, is absent on leave, and will not consequently be in attendance this year.

Capt. W. O. C. Dodds, the adjutant of the Royal Scots, will be the guest of the officers of the battery during their stay in camp.

President Roosevelt Striving Hard to Bring About An Armistice, But Success Is Doubtful.

Paris, June 20.—The Echo de Paris publishes a despatch from St. Petersburg, reporting that the expected battle in Manchuria has begun.

Both wings of General Linevitch's army have retired, and the fighting is severe.

CONFERENCES AT TOKIO.

Tokio, June 20, 10 a.m.—Discussion of the meeting of the peace plenipotentiaries continues through Washington, with indications of an early completion of the details. There has been a series of conferences between the Elder Statesmen and the Cabinet to consider the conditions and discuss the selection of plenipotentiaries. It is thought to be possible to complete the details, appoint the plenipotentiaries and organize a staff of assistants in time for them to sail on the steamer Empress of India, June 30, from Yokohama, to Vancouver, B.C., a voyage of about two weeks. It is expected that the party will number a dozen.

In the meantime military activities will continue. Important developments in various directions are expected speedily.

SMALL HOPE OF ARMISTICE.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—2.10 p.m.—The only hope for an armistice pending the meeting of the peace plenipotentiaries seems to rest with President Roosevelt and even that is considered to be slender. So far as known, the President has not taken a positive step in this direction. The impression here continues strong that Japan only with great reluctance could be induced to forego the advantages of her strategic position—which, in spite of the tone of official advices from the front, is regarded as being altogether favorable to Field Marshal Oyama—and agree to a suspension of hostilities for at least six weeks, during which thousands of reinforcements would reach Gen. Linevitch and Vladivostok would be strengthened with munitions and supplies to withstand a siege.

SAY JAPANESE PLANNED IT.

Indeed, it is suggested that Japan deliberately planned to postpone the meeting long enough to give Marshal Oyama a chance to administer to the Russians a fresh defeat on land in order to rob the war party in Russia of their last card and facilitate acquiescence to her terms. Considering the situation, therefore, President Roosevelt's triumph would be all the greater if he could now succeed in crowning his work by an agreement which would at least prevent another bloody battle pending the show of hands at Washington.

At the British Embassy it was learned to-day that Great Britain had not offered Japan any advice on the subject.

A SENSATIONAL TALE.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—The Novoe Vremy this morning printed a despatch from London, in which its correspondent declares he was in possession of information to the effect that the British are advising Japan against the conclusion of an armistice. "Russia," the despatch added, "is not considered to be sufficiently weakened. Great Britain hopes that Field Marshal Oyama will succeed in destroying General Linevitch's army and thus relieve her of the nightmare that the Russian army may later be shifted to the borders of Afghanistan for operations against India."

MISERIES OF RUSSIA'S MILLIONS

The radical Nashashism asserts that the "Phantom of financial ruin hanging over us," is really the greatest friend of peace and draws a harrowing picture of ninety per cent. of the Russian Empire's population living as their forefathers did in the sixteenth century, groaning under the constantly increasing debts piled up by militarism and the adventures of the autocracy which clever bookkeeping can no longer conceal.

HERE'S THE REAL SECRET.

"Russia," the Novoe Vremy continues, "is reaching the end of her ability to borrow for the purpose of prosecuting the war. Here is the real secret of the hope of peace. Russia's poverty must decide the issue when the plenipotentiaries meet."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT BUSY.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Washington, D.C., June 20.—Marshal Oyama's attack on the Russian army has spurred President Roosevelt up to work with redoubled energy to bring about an armistice lest a great battle should bring to naught all that he has done to make peace. He believes that if the battle which Marshal Oyama evidently is entering upon is fought to a quick conclusion there can be but one result, and that is another added to the long list of Russian reverses. He does not think a signal victory would make Japan less willing to negotiate peace. But he fears that another defeat now, even if crushing, would arouse all that stubbornness for which Russia is noted, and impel her to refuse to think about laying down her arms.

So the President is urging the Czar and the Mikado to immediately name plenipotentiaries and fix the date of their meeting. As soon as the plenipotentiaries have been named the President will informally suggest an armistice.

SECRETARY HAY BACK.

Secretary Hay returned to Washington last night to hear from the President that the prospects for the successful culmination of the forthcoming negotiations was constantly getting brighter. Secretary Hay was most heartily welcomed by the President, who was gratified to observe the Secretary's evident restoration to far better health than he enjoyed when he left the capital. For more than an hour they chatted together, the President giving the Secretary a minute description of the movements by which he had brought together the foes in an agreement for peace making. Mr. Hay was able to give the President some interesting information he had learned in London, not only about the Russo-Japanese war, but about other phases of world politics. At ten o'clock Secretary Taft arrived at the White House and joined Secretary Hay and the President. He he left the White House Mr. Hay said in response to questions:

"There is nothing I feel at liberty to discuss concerning my call on the President."

BACHELORS BUTTON, RIDDEN BY MAHER, WON GOLD VASE.

London, June 20.—King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the Prince of Wales, and most of the leaders of Society attended the Ascot race meeting to-day. The Royal procession, with the house party at Windsor Castle, consisted of eight carriages, arrived at the course in a drizzling rain, but an immense crowd gathered to witness the Royal family.

The Gold Vase, valued at 200 sovereigns, given by King Edward, with 400 sovereigns in specie for the winner, two miles, was again carried off by Bachelor's Button, last year's winner of this event, ridden by "Danny" Maher. Mark Time was second, and Hammerkop third. Ten horses started.

Montreal Lost Another And It Was To Toronto.

Barber Pitched Good Ball But Harley's Men Hit the Ball When Hits Meant Runs.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, June 20.—The Montreal team opened up the series here yesterday afternoon with a loss by the smallest possible margin. The rain came down in torrents up to three o'clock, when it cleared up leaving the ground heavy and dead with the sun hot.

The pitchers had all the better of the battle, and were pretty even in the matter of hits, but Barber was neither given the support afforded Crystall nor was he as steady. He was sending them over in an easy, graceful and decidedly effective style, but he was inclined to be generous in the pass line which, with bad work behind him at inopportune times gave the game to the local aggregation.

His team started out badly in the first innings and then all took a brace, and for the next four times it looked as though he had the Harlevites phased, but hits were recorded against him when they meant runs and it was all over.

GAME WAS LISTLESS.

The light hitting and the dead ground made the game rather listless. It was not enlivened any by the intense heat. Montreal went out in the first, all three short to first. In the second they showed something like winning ball. Lachance opened with a single, Bannon drew a pass which Miller duplicated, filling the bases. With no one out, Dyer hit a fly to left, scoring Lachance and Bannon was nailed at third on the throw of White to short to third. Miller started to steal third, pulling O'Brien over to cover the bag and Raub slipped a grounder through the spot the third baseman had vacated and the little second baseman scored. Meanwhile Carr was fielding the ball behind O'Brien and threw high to first and Raub was just a yard too slow at the plate on the play.

FAILURES TO SCORE.

Montreal had Meaney on in the third with one out, but Joyce and Kuhns failed. Raub landed on first with one out in the fifth, but was doubled by Barber's grounder to short. In the sixth Meaney got one on an error and was sacrificed, but long flies were the best Kuhns and Lachance could do. It was one, two, three, in the seventh and eighth.

With the score 4 to 2 against them in the ninth, Montreal made a good bid, but fell one short. Joyce hit a slow one towards third, which O'Brien threw high, and Kuhns' sent him along on a single. Lachance hit to pitcher, who allowed Joyce and Kuhns to go up, though he could easily have doubled to second. Men were on third and second and one out when Bannon hit to second, scoring Joyce, but Miller failed in a pop to Soffel.

MISPLAYS WERE COSTLY.

Toronto went out after the game in the first inning. Miller let Rapp's grounder between his legs, Harley bunted and Barber threw wide to Lachance. The ball hit the first baseman's mit just as Harley ran into the extended left arm and the sphere fell to the ground. White got four bad ones, filling the bases, and Murray's fly to centre and Soffel's single sent in the two, who should never have reached first, across the plate.

The greatest play of the day was made in the second. Toft, the first up, got four wide ones, Crystall tried to bunt, but popped up to Lachance. Rapp got behind one on a line to right that looked good for a home run. Meaney started after it on the dead run, and, throwing up that left hand of his, pulled it in, saving two runs. It was one of the greatest catches seen here this year, and he was applauded to the echo.

PITCHED GOOD BALL.

Barber got going after the first, and in the next four innings only twelve men stepped to the plate. In the sixth Harley was hit in the back and was sacrificed, stole third and scored on Murray's double. The eighth gave Toronto the fourth and winning run. Harley hit a short fly to right, which Meaney apparently did not see until it began to drop. He just failed to get his glove under it on the ground, and it bounded, Harley landing on second. White sacrificed, and the field played in. Murray hit to short, who handled the easy grounder cleanly, but threw low to Raub's left, and Harley, who had a long lead, slid in safely on the other side.

HEAVY AND OTHER HITTERS.

Catcher Byers of the Orioles is the heavy swatters of the Eastern League, for he tips the figures at .418, having taken part in 24 games. Outfielder McFarland of Providence is humping along with an average of .352. George Gibson of Montreal, is stepping along with .309 after his name. He is the heaviest hitter on the Montreal club. Barclay, the former National League player, is showing the way for the Bronchos. In his twelve games Barclay has given evidence of a knowledge of the use of a bat and has crowded other members of the Rochester team below him. Wagner and Swander lead Newark. Aggressive Toft remains the best of Toronto's batters. Providence, Jersey City and Baltimore show up with the best hitters in the race. Perhaps that is why they are leaders. The dope follows:

WILD GEESE IN MANITOBA.—RESULT OF AN HOUR AND A HALF'S SPORT.

Mr. W. S. Scarth, of Virden, Manitoba, with his son, shot these wild geese one mile and a half from Virden, Man., in less than an hour and a half the other night. They are called Canadas. The shooting, Mr. Scarth says, is good. Oak Lake, 18 miles distant, is the rendezvous of spring geeese, and in the fall afterwards the geese go to the wheat fields. The prairies are swarming now with chicken, and the large sloughs are full of ducks, hatching. Wild geese shooting on the prairies of Manitoba is undoubtedly the finest sport in the world, according to Mr. Scarth.

Will Race At Halifax For Prince Of Wales Cup

Was Presented to Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Club by Present Sovereign in 1860.

New York, June 20.—When the yachts of the Eastern and New York Yacht clubs visit Halifax in August, on the occasion of the ocean race of the former club from Marblehead to the Provincial port, they will have the privilege of racing for the most valued yachting trophy in Great Britain's colonies, the Prince of Wales Cup of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron.

This cup was presented to the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Club by the present King of England when, as a young prince, he visited Halifax in 1860. It is a beautiful specimen of the silversmith's handicraft, standing two feet high, and is one of the handsomest yachting trophies in existence. It has already been treasured by the yachtsmen of the British North American possessions, and has never left the waters in which it was first sailed for.

Learning that the leading yachts of the American fleet were to visit Halifax, the members of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron—which received the cup in 1898 as a legacy from the original Halifax club's surviving members, the old club having gone out of existence—decided to offer the cup for competition to the American vessels, as well as those of the Provinces, when the former should visit their waters.

This was a most sportsmanlike act, since there are no vessels in the Provinces that can hope to compete with the fast American racers in a contest for the cup. It is therefore practically certain that the cup will be brought as a trophy to the United States at the conclusion of the stay of the American yachts on the Nova Scotia coast. Whether it will grace the model room of the New York Yacht Club, of the Eastern, is a subject for speculation on the part of the members of those organizations.

According to the conditions under which the cup is held the trophy can be kept by the winning yacht but nine months. It must then be returned to Halifax, to be raced for in Halifax harbor the next season after it has been won. There is nothing in the conditions, however, to prevent its being brought back as many times as it may be won by an American vessel.

The race for the cup this year will be held on Saturday, August 26.

LEANDER HAVE PICKED A VERY STRONG CREW.

The latest report from Henley is to the effect that the preparation of Leander for the visiting Vespers is progressing to suit the tastes of the most exacting Englishmen, and a crack crew has been selected. R. H. Nelson, an ex-Cambridge crack, will act as stroke and two other Cantab men in P. H. Thomas and B. R. Winthrop-Smith will have places in the crew. Then there is Guy Nickalls, for years famous as a sculler and several times winner of the Diamond Sculls. The others are F. J. Escombe, R. B. Etherington-Smith, H. A. Stewart, and C. T. Stewart, a quartet of watermen of the front rank. Owing to this pick, Third Trinity Cambridge will be an absentee from the "Grand" and it is not yet known what will really came for the evnt from the colleges. Great care has been taken in picking the crew that will represent the London R. C. in the race, but the candidates have been sifted to nine men, all with splendid rowing records. They are: L. B. Cane, F. S. Whalley, E. W. Ormond, C. M. Trembath, P. B. Freeman, C. V. Fox, E. D. Hay-Currie, W. R. Gaskell and G. R. Davies, who will stroke the boat. The crew of the Thames R. C. has been selected for some time. It is composed of men of a tried and true caliber. They are: A. E. Shellgrove, H. V. Maycock, R. W. Roylance, W. S. Hallett, S. O. Pugh, S. Harrison-Jones, H. Messom and G. H. Kelly.

In case Scholes should turn up for the "Diamonds" F. S. Kelly, of Oxford, has had a long preparation under the special tuition of a Thames professional. Last year he underrated the Canadian and was not so well tuned up for sculling, as he had done a lot of sweep rowing which detracted from his speed more or less. The Oxonian has had a new shell built by Sims and is reported to be sculling very fast. But it appears he will not have matters so easy. C. V. Fox, who broke the record for the Diamonds a few years ago, has entered and the tussle between the pair is expected to be the feature of the coming Henley. The other entries are Cloutte of the London R. C.; Guy Rixon, Kingston, R. C.; H. T. Blackstaffe and D. Fitte, of the Vesta R. C. Two German scullers have entered.

VESPERS NOW AT HENLEY.

Regarded by Englishmen as a Fine Body of Athletes.

Henley, Eng., June 20.—The crew of the Vesper Boat Club, of Philadelphia, which arrived at Southampton Sunday morning, on board the American line steamer, New York, are comfortably installed at the Maitland Cottage here. All of them are fit and well for their first row on Henley waters, and were watched by a large number of people, and although their work was mostly strong paddling in the water, which was choppy, with a heavy wind, they created a favorable impression on the British oarsmen, who regard the Vespers as a fine body of athletes.

RICE NOW AT OTTAWA.

Expects to Turn Out Top Notch Crews for Canadian Henley.

Ottawa, June 20.—Coach James Rice arrived from Boston yesterday, and at once took up the reins at the Ottawa Rowing Club. He expects to have several top notch crews ready for the Canadian Henley in August, in fours, doubles and singles. Mr. Rice expresses himself as well pleased with the prospect.

Professionals Will Play And with Amateurs

This is the Programme of N. A. L. U. No Matter What Action C. A. A. U. Takes Says Mr. Foran.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 20.—"The lid will be raised as far as professionalism in lacrosse is conderned within the next two weeks," said W. F. Foran, Secretary of the Capital Lacrosse Club, last evening. "Not only will professionals be permitted to play against amateurs, but will be allowed to play on the same teams as the simon-pures," is the opinion of the Capital expert. He said that while the Lacrosse Union had forwarded a resolution passed at the annual meeting of the latter body, it was merely a matter of courtesy to the Governors of the C. A. A. U., as the clubs of the N. A. L. U. are pledged to stand by each other if adverse action is taken by the Amateur union.

"It has been definitely decided to play matches with the C. L. A. clubs, and in pursuance of this idea the Capitals will have the Tecumsehs here early in July, probably on the 6th, and Shamrock, Montreal, National and Cornwall are committed to uphold this departure. They consider the salvation of lacrosse depends on the best teams meeting each other, and the N. A. L. U. and C. L. A. are the organizations which contain the stars of the lacrosse world. Another idea which guided the N. A. L. U. in sending the resolution to the C. A. A. U. was the desire to prevent lacrosse making inroads on the football and hockey talent. Should the C. A. A. U. refuse the permission asked for in the resolution, many football and hockey men would desert lacrosse. With the permission all would be plain sailing. It is to be hoped wisdom will guide the Solons of the C. A. A. U."

BOWERY ROBERTSON RETIRES

His Place on Cap Line Up Taken by Dude Marsh.

Ottawa, June 20.—There will be two new men on the Capital team against Nationals next Saturday. These will be Dude Marsh, on the defence, and Horace Gaul, on the home. Bowery Robertson has quit the game, and Gaul will probably replace Gleason on the home end. The team is working hard in view of the strong proposition Nationals will undoubtedly be.

AMERICAN TEAM ARRIVES IN LONDON.

London, June 20.—The members of the American Lawn Tennis team, who will compete in the forthcoming international match, arrived here last night, and were met by the English Tennis Association and other leading players. They said they had a splendid passage from New York to Plymouth, on the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II., and felt absolutely fit. The team consists of Holcombe Ward, Wm. A. Larned, Wm. J. Clothier Beals C. Wright and Paul Dashiel, who will captain it.

ATHLETICS

JOYCE AND HYNES TO RUN RETURN MATCH.

New York, June 20.—It is expected that fully 20,000 sons and daughters of Ireland will be at Celtic Park next Sunday afternoon to witness the great struggle for supremacy between Tom Hynes, "The Galway Harrier," and John Joyce, in a five-mile match race. The event is the principal attraction in a fine athletic programme arranged by the hustling Mayo Men's Association, but, aside from the games and contests in which the men from this country have always been gallant contenders, there will be dancing and music to the good old heart-rousing tunes of Ireland after the strenuous numbers of the athletic programme are over.

Hynes, who showed on his first effort that he is a man who can make any adversary step lively, is in training at Celtic Park.

It is peculiarly fitting that the Mayo men should make a fine showing this year. It is the twentieth anniversary of the death of Patrick W. Nally, that peerless Mayo athlete, who was brutally maltreated by his captors as he was about to be released from Kilmainham Prison.

THE KENNEL

An Appreciation of Mr. Laurin.

"Our Dogs," published at Manchester, England, says: "The Canadian doggy ambassador, Mr. Jos. A. Laurin, who has probably bought more Airedales than any other fancier in the world, is shortly, we hear, to join the ever-increasing band of happy benedicts, and proposes to make the grand tour for his honeymoon. Airedale men will wish Mr. Laurin good luck. There is a great chance here for some enterprising show to make a great scoop, and induce Mr. Laurin to judge the breed in this country. He would be a huge draw, without a doubt."

MISCELLANEOUS

MAINE FURNISHES A SECOND JEFFRIES.

New York, June 20.—"Billy" Elmer is now training in his gymnasium, in West Forty-second street, a young giant—a man he is confident will be able to easily fill Jeffries's shoes. The find is Harry Murch, from the mountains of Maine, who weighs 208 pounds, is twenty-five years old, six feet three and one-half inches in height, and has an eighty-inch reach.

Elmer knows a fighter, and he said yesterday he would bet all he had that Murch could defeat any one in the world barring the retired Jeffries.

When asked how he happened to run across Murch, Elmer said: "Allen Lowe, for years a sporting authority in Montreal and New England, and I went to a lake in Maine to catch a few salmon. Ross Snow had told us of a young fellow down there who was the biggest, finest and fastest young American he had ever seen.

"I thought Snow was talking through his hat, so I will not blame you if you have the same idea about what I tell you.

"When we arrived at Snow's camp we found all the members of the party swimming. I was particularly interested in one big fellow. Snow is a husky, well-set-up, athletic young man, weighing about 180. This big fellow was picking up and playfully throwing him out in the water.

"Murch will be twenty-five years old this autumn. His father is a lumber agent and was born beside the lake in which I saw Harry. The father is close to sixty years old, but is active and vigorous. The mother comes from a family of big people, who range from 6 feet to 6 feet 6 inches and not one weighed less than 215 pounds at maturity.

HANDS LIKE BOILER PLATES.

"His chest measurement is 44 1-2 inches normally, and he has great expansion. I have seen him snap two strands of hay wire with one jerk of his arms. His hands are like boiler plates, and though I have seen many fighters, fencers and oarsmen with magnificent forearms, I never saw a pair of such powerful arms in my life.

"Unlike most heavy muscled men, he is not a bit muscle bound. He can reach ten inches below his toes and meet his palms behind his back.

"He can reach a trifle over eighty inches, or nearly seven inches more than his height. "Bob" Fitzsimmons had a longer reach than Jeffries, and Murch has Robert outreached many inches.

"He is faster on his feet than any big man I ever saw, and can rush a hundred yards in eleven seconds. A good deal of Harry's development is due to rowing, at which he is exceptionally good. He was a high-class bicycle rider, which developed his thighs and calves. He never uses big weights.

"He sleeps without night clothing, near an open window, and never drank beer or liquors. He does not smoke and drinks only un-iced milk or water.

"I sparred here with him, but what was the use? He put his left hand on my face and I could not reach him. Finally, while he was leading lefts at me, I took a chance and stepped inside one. I hit him in the jaw so that my shoulder felt sore. He laughed and said: 'That was a good one.' And then he wanted me to hit him as hard as I could in the stomach.

"I believe that with a man like Jim Corbett to handle Harry for six months there would be nothing to prevent him from giving Jeffries the battle of his life. I would have a short-end ticket on the big boy from Maine.

"Of course Jeffries has retired, and no man living has more respect for him than I have. He was a real champion; but I think Harry Murch could be made a world-beater in a hurry."

THE GOLFERS

DAVE FINNIE WON THE PERLEY TROPHY.

Ottawa, June 20.—Dave Finnie, who last winter played the goal position for the Stanley Cup defenders, surprised everyone by winning the Perley Cup competition, an important fixture at the Ottawa Golf Club. Finnie is practically only a beginner at the game, but gives great promise.

Travis and His Fish Poles.

"And still Walter J. Travis' record of not having been beaten in a thirty-six hole match since the amateur championship of 1899, is unbroken. Jerome D. Travers "got his" Saturday, when the "old man" won the chief cup at Westbrook by 8 up and 7 to play. The long clubs seemed to answer, yet it is fair to remark that Travers didn't play anything like his top speed, and that so far this year Travis hasn't done better in the scoring line with the fishpoles than he used to do, and that in really tight matches he has failed. With Travers getting down near par figures it is doubtful if Travis' new pets would have stood him in good stead. Pressure tells." — New York Telegram.

Taubenhaus met Marshall, Tschigorin faced Tarrasch, Blackburne opened against Burn, Janowski and Alapin played with Marco and Teichmann respectively.

When a first adjournment was taken at 1.30 in the afternoon, Leonhardt had suffered a second defeat, this time at the hands of the Hungarian expert Maroczy, while Schlechter managed to draw the sixth time, against Wolf, and Blackburne and Burn had also divided honors. At the afternoon sitting the American, Marshall, defeated Taubenhaus, while Tarrasch beat Tschigorin, thereby taking the lead. Alapin defeated Teichmann and the game between Janowski and Marco had to be adjourned a second time, to be resumed to-morrow.

New York, June 20.—Mabel Richardson, a 5 to 1 shot, won the Grass Selling Stake by a length at Sheepshead Bay yesterday. Martimas made the pace to the stretch, where Booker sent Mabel Richardson ahead and won driving from Gamara, with the favorite, Jacquin third.

Running Water scored an easy victory in the Rosebud Stakes. Aviston, an added starter, led to the stretch, where Running Water took command and won by one length. Only two favorites won.

JUSTICE FINNEMORE

Judge of the Natal Supreme Court Sends a Remarkable

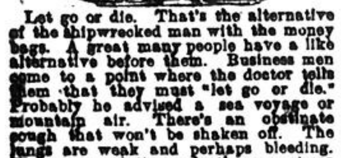
TESTIMONIAL TO CUTICURA

"I suffered a severe attack of eczema on the scalp, face, ears, and neck, and was for several months under professional treatment, but became worse. My face was dreadfully disfigured, and I lost nearly all my hair. My wife prevailed upon me to try the Cuticura Remedies, which I did with most satisfactory results, the disease disappearing and my hair growing thicker and glossier than before my illness. My wife has purchased Cuticura for other sufferers, with good results in each case.—Robert Isaac Finnemore (Judge of the Natal Supreme Court), Pietermaritzburg, Natal."

FOOTBALL

Corinthians Sail in August.

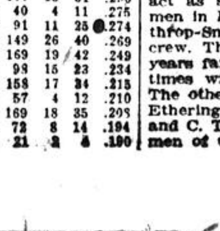
London, June 20. — The Corinthian Association Football team will sail August 3, on a short tour of the United States and Canada.



Let go or die. That's the alternative of the shipwrecked man with the money bags. A great many people have a like alternative before them. Business men come to a point where the doctor tells them that they must "let go or die." Probably he advised a sea voyage or mountain air. There's an obstinate cough that won't be shaken off. The lungs are weak and perhaps bleeding. There is emaciation and other symptoms of disease, which if unskilfully or improperly treated terminate in consumption.

Thousands of men and women in a like condition have found complete healing by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"It gives me pleasure to send you this testimonial so that some other poor sufferer may be saved, as I was, by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Geo. A. Thompson, of Sheldon Ave., Chatham, Ont., Canada. "I had a cough for years, expectorated a great deal, and was slowly failing. Was losing flesh every day. Lost in weight from 150 pounds down to 128. My flesh got soft and I had no strength. Did not say anything to any one but made up my mind that the end was not far off. One day my wife was reading in the 'Common Sense Medical Adviser' about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I said, that sounds more like common sense than anything else that I had heard. I at once bought a bottle of your famous remedy and before I had taken half of one bottle I felt better. Took thirteen bottles and it made a new man of me. I gained sixteen pounds and never have had a cough since. I feel splendid and give all the credit to your medicine."



Given away. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The book contains 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations and several colored plates. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper-bound book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure bad, foul stomach and constipation and so help to cure nearly every disease of mankind. They regulate, tone up and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. At the first indication of ill-health, painful or irregular menstruation, headache or backache, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis, Windsor, N. S., describes her illness and cures, in the following letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"When I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and female trouble headaches, backaches, and that worn-out, tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration and feminine troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Surely you cannot wish to remain sick, weak and discouraged, when you might so easily be cured. The medicine which has made so many other women well will cure you also.

WORKING OF SPIRIT OF GOD IN US

We Cannot Explain it But the Fact is There.

SERMON BY REV. DR. BROWN

He Gives An Impressive Discourse at Emannuel Congregational Church.

It is often asked to-day, who God is; and, owing to the various conceptions which exist concerning God, it is also asked which of them is true. It is a most important thing to know who God is for it has been the craving of the human soul throughout the ages, finding expression in the words, "Oh that I knew where I might find him."

Such were the remarks of the Rev. Dr. Brown, who occupied the pulpit Sunday morning at the Emmanuel Congregational Church.

Taking for his text, "But we all, with open face reflecting as in a mirror the glory of the Lord and changed into the same image from glory to glory even as by the spirit of the Lord," II. Cor. 3. Dr. Brown preached an eloquent and impressive sermon, in which he dealt principally with the communion of the soul with God and the dwelling of the Divine Spirit within it.

Going back to the bondage of the Israelites in Egypt, which lasted for a period of forty years and their delivery therefrom by Moses, who gathered for that purpose the twelve tribes at the foot of Mount Sinai, he said, that history was born that night when Moses led the Israelites out of Egypt—"it was the birth hour of the religion of the spirit." The spirit of God was then manifestly united with His people when the skin of the face of Moses shone on Mount Sinai and as he came down from the Mount it was seen by Aaron and the children of Israel who were afraid to come nigh him.

THE APOSTLE PAUL.

Treating of this event the Apostle Paul, he said, told us that such a thing was not to happen then alone and no more; there is a recurrence of that ... whenever we communed with ... reflecting the glory of His spirit. ... eaking of the manifestation of the ...y of the Spirit of God in man, he said that man could be lifted up and brought in living contact with Christ and this state is attained through the means of a living personality who impresses him.

Explaining that the manifestation of glory might mean brightness or the manifestation of the perfection of Christ, he said that what the Apostle spoke of was the manifestation of the personality of Him who was expected for ages, who lived on earth and wrought wondrous deeds and in whom was found a true conception of the Father. This was what Christ Himself told Phillip.

But Christ, he said, was not only a manifestation of God to man, but of man to man, herein becoming our ideal, a pattern for all men to follow, especially as regards the communion of the soul with God.

THE REDEMPTION OF MAN.

Dealing with the Redemption of man, he said that it reflected the glory of Christ, whose purpose was to endow man with something greater than intellectual genius. He wished to give us a God-like character changing from glory to glory, even as by the spirit of the Lord." In answer to the question of those who ask how does this Spirit of the Lord operate in the human heart, he said it was a "divine fact," this existence of the spirit of God in us. In illustration of this he told the story of a learned professor who was lecturing on electricity and its discovery as a motive power from a magnet. The lecturer admitted that the magnet was in itself a mystery, but what came from it was a fact beyond a doubt. In the same way, said Dr. Brown, there is abundant evidence of the working of the Spirit of God in us and yet we cannot account for it.

The Rev. John Brown, M.A., D.D., for many years pastor of Bunyan Memorial Church, Bedford, England, visited Montreal twenty-three years ago, when the Rev. Dr. Stephenson was pastor of the congregation he addressed yesterday. He was, therefore, not quite a stranger amongst them. He will lecture to-morrow evening on "John Bunyan," a subject on which he is said to be, perhaps, the best living authority.

U. S. Navy Captain Liked Turbines.

How the success of the Allan Line turbiners is affecting the present methods of steamship propulsion is indicated by what the various great navies are now doing.

On one of the first trips of the Victorian a captain in the United States Navy was a passenger: he having been sent out to watch the results and report the same to his Government at Washington.

It is now announced that one of the latest of the United States battleships, now building, will be fitted with turbines in place of the usual reciprocating engines, and it is further stated that the British navy will shortly place turbines in one of their new war ships, and also that Germany is about to adopt the same procedure.

The naval experts are taking kindly to the turbine for the reason that they give a larger steaming area on the vessel's coal capacity, and also that the difference in weight between the turbines and the enormous engines now utilized is a distinct advantage, this being particularly evident in a heavily armored war ship where every pound of metal had to be calculated in order that the huge fighting machine is not loaded down below her proper lines.

CUBA AND THE CUBANS.

A Bank Manager Gives Some Interesting Facts.

Mr. Enrique Ros, manager of the Royal Bank at Santiago, is visiting Canada, having left Montreal last evening to pay a visit to Halifax. Mr. Ros, who has resided in Cuba for many years, and who previous to his connecting himself with the Royal Bank was at the head of one of the local banks, waxes enthusiastic when speaking of the present prosperity of Cuba and its people. He believes that there is a great future ahead of the island, which he states can well support ten millions in place of less than two millions.

Mr. Ros says that there has not been a case of yellow fever on the island for four years, while there is absolutely no fear of political upheavals. He states that Cuba wants settlers, but they desire Anglo-Saxons and not negroes. The Cubans have no prejudice against foreigners. On the contrary, they gladly welcome them, and as Canadians have invested a great deal of money on the island, Canadians are doubly welcome.

Mr. Ros states that there is no fear of the result of the election for President, which takes place in November next. President Palma is a good, safe man, while the other prospective candidate was also to be thoroughly trusted to administer affairs in a clean and business-like manner.

Was Struck by a Railway Train.

While walking on the track near Terrebonne last night Antoine Monte, 47 years of age, living on St. Timotnee street, was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway train. He was brought to the city and taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital. It was found that he had received a compound fracture of the right leg, a cut head, and internal injuries. His condition was reported to-day by the officials of the institution as being somewhat improved. Hopes are entertained of his recovery.

THE ALIEN LABOR DECISION.

The paralysing effect of Judge Anglin's decision on the Alien Labor law is that he declares it to be beyond the power of the Dominion Parliament to pass such a law. If he had merely said that the law had tripped itself up in some manner, then it would be easy for Parliament to rush through an amending bill correcting the mistake. But if Parliament is powerless, then are we in a bad state indeed, for who can have more power than the wise men who occupy the "seats of the mighty" at Ottawa? Apparently in this case the wise men at Westminster have the additional power, but they are quite busy this year according to all reports, and may not see the necessity of acting.

Still it will appear to the "man on the street" that if any body ought to have the power to pass such a law as the Alien Labor Act, that body should be the Canadian Parliament. We may be only Colonials, but we certainly know best whether or not we want to admit alien laborers to our own country, and under what conditions. Now this is not intended as a criticism of Judge Anglin's judgment. He may be perfectly right when he says that we lack that power now. All we contend is that we ought not to lack it, and that, if we do lack it to-day, the Imperial Parliament should lose no time in endowing us with it to the fullest extent.

It is such British subjects as live in Canada who are concerned in deciding what workingmen, what immigrants, and what aliens generally shall be admitted to our midst. The British people would regard it as a piece of impertinence if we were to demand the right to pass finally upon their proposed alien bill now before the Imperial Parliament. They would tell us very sharply that it was a matter which did not concern us at all, and that it was not for us to decide how much undesirable immigration and competition the workmen of East London would have to endure. And it will strike the British people, with their unconquerable love of fair play, that the case is just as strong on our side. If any one has a right to pass Alien Labor laws and immigration acts for us, it should be our own Parliament.

THE CZAR AND THE ZEMSTVOS.

A Zemstvo delegation has reached the Czar; and if the addresses made to him were as bold as the reports would have us believe, it will be impossible to excuse inaction on his part after this by the familiar explanation that he does not come in contact with the people and so knows nothing about the real state of affairs. The effect of the interview will be judged mainly by the results. If it leads to a Russian Parliament, as the Czar emphatically promised the delegation that it would, it will certainly mark the beginning of progress.

As to the character of that Parliament, it is idle for us to imagine that it can be constituted in the same manner as the Canadian Commons or the American Congress. Elective institutions have always been developed when they have been successful. A people are not born to the divine power of self-government in an hour. The danger before the Czar's Government will probably be a disposition to trust the people too little; but whatever steps are taken should not be judged by the standard existing in free democracies of slow growth and long standing.

The war party will naturally seek to delay any summoning of the people to the advice of the throne; for the first advice which the people would give would be to abandon a hopeless and costly war. But the war party must now fight the influence of the diplomatic corps who will feel to the full the French pressure to take a keener interest in European affairs. The court can be no longer as strongly or fighting on to the bitter end; for the court, while it may be callous toward the feeling of its own people, is very sensitive of the feeling in the Foreign Offices of Europe.

It may be thought that Russia does not value the French alliance, but this is hardly in harmony with the fair inferences to be drawn from recent events. If Russia did not value that alliance, it would never have made it; and yet it did make it, though that implied a tactic opposition to Germany. The fact is that Russia had every reason to value an alliance with one of the richest nations in the world, and never had more reason than now. Then if Russia counted upon the French navy as an asset, it needs that asset to-day more than it ever did. Unless it has definitely decided to throw in its lot with Germany, Russia will not lightly lose its understanding with Paris, and if a Russo-German compact has really been made, then there will be an entire re-arrangement of the powers of Europe. Such a compact would give Austria the shivers, and break the Triple Alliance into fragments.

CAN BRITAIN BE INVADED?

The question of whether or not Great Britain can be invaded has been discussed lately with great earnestness and freedom by many of the leading men in the British Isles. Mr. Balfour made a speech on the subject recently in which he proved to a demonstration in his algebraic way that such a thing was absolutely impossible. He proved it by first fixing the smallest number of men who could hope to fight their way to London, were they once safely landed on British soil; and then showing that this number of men could not be transported from any European harbor and landed in Britain unless the British fleet had first been sent to the bottom. One difficulty would be to get tonnage enough to transport so many men. If it were assembled in any port, the British Admiralty would know it and would concentrate its war-ships outside, while the ordinary shipping of the busiest continental ports would be entirely inadequate.

This is the opinion of a layman. A late Nineteenth Century contains an article by a military expert—Major-General Frank S. Russel, C.M.G.,—which is not so sanguine. He begins by quoting the opinion of the great Duke of Wellington, who was openly of the opinion that the south-eastern coast of England was dangerously undefended, and meets the argument that war conditions have changed since his time, by asking if the changes have not favored the invader quite as much as the defender. Then he quotes the opinion of Lord Wolseley, given as late as 1903, one extract from which reads as follows:—

"I eliminate the action of our Navy from this calculation, for of course the invasion of England is only possible after a heavy naval defeat, or when our Navy has been decoyed from the Channel, and I believe that both are contingencies to be provided against. I know how difficult it is to win a battle on shore, and what the dangers and the risks are pro and con. on land, and how much greater they always have been, and always will be, on the sea; and I therefore think it would be living in a fool's paradise were the English people to depend exclusively on the Navy for the defence of this country from invasion. We have the greatest and the best Navy in the world. Napoleon had the finest and greatest army in the world, and yet it was entirely destroyed at Waterloo."

Major-General Russell lacks that faith in "the blue streak" which is the leading characteristic of the blue water school. He likens it to a large river, and points out that rivers have not checked the advance of the Japanese armies. It is merely a question of being able to dodge the fleet; and, while this is conceded to be very difficult, he hardly likes to commit himself to the belief that it is impossible.

It is significant that Britain's public men are discussing this question so earnestly just now. There has been no serious talk of invading England for a century; and why should interest in the topic be revived just now? European statesmen do not talk very plainly about such things; but it is hard not to remember the storm which was raised a little while ago by a direct reference by a member of the British Government to the purposes of the redistribution of the British fleet. The captains on the quarter deck of the British Empire are unwontedly alert.

The dishonest contention that workingmen would gain nothing from a THREE CENT FARE on the Street Railway receives a crushing comment from Ald. L. A. Lapointe's proposal to extend the "eight tickets for a quarter" hours, both morning and evening to just double their present length. This is presented as a boon to the workingman—which it undoubtedly would be—which shows that the workingman would profit at least to this extent from a THREE CENT RATE all day. Then, moreover, an all-day rate would let him go home to lunch when it was convenient, and would lessen the burden on his wife when she wanted to go shopping in the middle of the day, when she could best be spared.

The Canadian manufacturers' excursion has been brought prominently before the attention of the British people by being invited to Windsor Castle on the first day of its stay in England. For contract with the manufacturers of the Mother Country, they are not likely to lack; but they can also do much for Canada by impressing the imagination of the non-manufacturing classes. Intending immigrants of a good sort will be inclined to think more carefully of a nation which has so pronounced an industrial life that it can send home to Britain an excursion of manufacturers who are important enough to be summoned at once to Windsor. Immigrants may intend to farm when they get here; but they will be more apt to think that they can farm successfully if they know that there are thriving industries in the country whose work-people will buy their produce. Then, too, they like the idea of there being factories at hand when a promising boy can get a chance.

The body of a man was washed ashore at Peterboro, Ont., on the east side of Pelee Island. It was dressed in oilskin coat and rubber boots, and is supposed to be that of one of the fishermen of the American tug Grace, that was sunk while poaching near Pelee Island by the Dominion steamer Vigilant.

The jury declared that they had not agreed, and could not possibly agree, and so were dismissed.

Stanley Davis, Michael Connors, and James Nevelon, all of Hamilton, were arrested Monday, and remanded for one week without bail. They are nominally charged with disorderliness, but they are really wanted to throw some light on the death of Fred Fildhouse, who was found in a dying condition on Saturday in a shed near his boarding house. He died during the day. He was with the prisoners during the night, and figured in a fight. He died from injuries received in the head.

Many prostrations and four deaths were the result of the terrible heat in New York on Monday. The temperature was aggravated by a high degree of humidity in the early hours of the day. At 12.30 p.m. the thermometer marked 88 degrees, but soon afterwards relief came in the form of a cool breeze from the sea, accompanied by a rapid fall in the temperature and humidity, which continued steadily until night, when the air was almost too chilly for the comforts of thousands who had fled to the seaside resorts to escape the heat of the morning.

SPEECHLESS AMBASSADORS.

One of the sights (not one of the sounds) of the academy banquet was that of the Chinese and the Japanese ambassadors, who sat side by side, never speaking, never drinking, and hardly ever eating, says a writer in the London Press. Their silence, their self-absorption, their indifference to the buzz about them, were all of the Orient. Once Lord Aberdeen, taking pity on their isolation, attempted to talk to the Celestial, but met with no sort of encouragement. The son of heaven refused commerce with the sons of earth, and the representative of Japan, though dressed in English fashion, and a great contrast in this particular with his Chinese neighbor, resembled him in his dumbness. Not that they were weary of each other, for they strolled around the galleries together after the banquet was over. Still, they said nothing; but now and again, before this picture and that, they exchanged a look charged with the entire vocabulary of disdain.

LITTLE M. DELCASSE.

M. Delcasse, the French minister of foreign affairs, is now in his fifty-third year. His appearance is not at all striking except possibly for the negative reason alleged by M. Rochefort and the caricaturists, though when the pasquinading editor of the Intransigeant describes him as "standing on his three inches of little legs" there is obvious exaggeration. Yet in a nation not noted for stature, M. Delcasse is conspicuously small. But, on the other hand, he is wiry and tough. His round head, close cropped hair, keen eyes, retrousse nose, bristling moustache and locked mouth are those of a fighter, and moreover, his whole appearance suggests a man capable of much toil.

ONE JEW IN GERMAN ARMY.

For the first time a Jew has been accepted as an officer in the Prussian army, and even now he has acquired that distinction not in the regular way. One of the young Rothschilds (Baron Goldschmidt Rothschild) served as a volunteer in a Baden regiment and communicated his intention of presenting himself for examination as an officer. The line and staff of the regiment declined. The Emperor heard of it and nominated Baron Rothschild a chamberlain, which carries the rank of lieutenant. The fact that not a single Jew is a commissioned officer of the German army was ventilated in the Reichstag last session.

SCORED SUNDAY HOUSE PARTIES.

Bishop Frederick Burgess took up the question of Sunday observances in an address at the recent convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, diocese of Long Island. He spoke with displeasure of the house parties held in the homes of the rich, saying they were made up for the most part of young men who had no regard for Sunday, but spent it in golfing, tennis playing, yachting and, some of them, in gambling.

THIS DATE THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Police Sergeant Burke reports that a quantity of human bones and fragments of a coffin, exposed in the old Protestant Cemetery, Dorchester street, are creating an offensive smell in the neighborhood, and there is loud complaint from the citizens who reside near the burying ground.

THE careless manner in exhuming the remains called forth great indignation against the Protestant trustees at the time. The late Sergeant Burke was for a long time a very efficient police officer. He had previously served in the British army.

This morning the Rev. Mr. Wood read a protest in the Diocesan Synod against the resolution congratulating the Canada Presbyterian Church on its union.

THE Rev. Edmund Wood, M.A., has been the respected pastor of St. John the Evangelist Church for forty years. He and Rev. Mr. Ellegood are the oldest Anglican rectors in this city. He is deservedly popular with all classes of the community.

Mr. E. A. McDowell, Irish comedian and vocalist, with an able dramatic company, will produce Boucicault's great drama, "The Shaugraun," in the Mechanics' Hall next week.

THE late Mr. McDowell was a clever actor, and an excellent delineator of Irish character. He was the first manager of the Academy of Music, when it was opened, and continued the management until his marriage with Miss Fanny Reeves, his leading actress, when he retired to manage a company of his own, with his wife as the "star." He died many years ago, near New York.

They Risk Their Lives in the Lachine Rapids.

Many of the journalists composing the Michigan Press party, which went down the Lachine Rapids yesterday have enquired by what means the Sweet Caporal sign, which is seen on the little island where the rapids are strongest, was erected.

A party, wishing to sift the matter, went to the manufacturers of "Sweet Caporal" cigarettes, and this is the information received:

The manager of their department wished, for some time, to make use of this little island, but could not find any one daring enough to ferry the sign across. He succeeded, however, in finding a man, and the sign was built in sections in order to facilitate transportation.

The different pieces were placed in a boat, and a few seconds afterwards it was eddying in the whirlpools of the rapids. A miscalculation might have cost the lives of the three men handling the boat. In less time than it takes to write it, the boat overturned and its occupants were thrown on the rocks by the current, which at this point is terribly strong. Happily, the sign and the crew were swept towards the shore and succeeded in gaining it by swimming.

Finally, by a superhuman effort, they succeeded in attaining the island. This is the first time that a sign has been placed there, it having always been found impossible, and this spirit of initiative does credit to the advertising department of the American Tobacco Company. This party was about to ask what it had cost to have this work done, but the manager at this moment was called away, and the party had to terminate his interview. There is no doubt, however, that the salary paid to those who brought about a successful ending to such a dangerous attempt was in proportion to the risk which they underwent.

HOUSE DISCUSSES HALF-BREED SCRIP

Mr. Foster Deals at Length With the Conditions of the Grant.

G. N. W. TELEGRAPH COMPANY

Mr. Monk Charges in the House That the Company is Being Americanized.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Press Gallery, House of Commons, Ottawa, June 20.—At the opening of the sitting of the House yesterday afternoon, Mr. Fielding, Minister of Justice, introduced a bill to amend the Bank Act. At present a bank cannot have less than five or more than ten directors. Different banks had asked for legislation changing that, but it had been thought best to alter the Act by a general law, and the bill proposed to retain the minimum limit, but to allow them to have as many directors beyond five as they saw fit. The bill was read a first time.

Then Mr. Monk, Conservative of Jacques Cartier, brought to the attention of the Government and the House the alleged Americanizing of the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, its effect upon Canadians, and its relation to the Alien Labor Law. He briefly sketched the history of that organization. Twenty years ago, he said, there existed in Canada three telegraph companies—the Montreal Telegraph Co., the Dominion Telegraph Co., and the Mutual Union Telegraph Co. American capital was attracted to the field, the Great North-Western Company was formed and it absorbed the three other concerns. Canadian shareholders were satisfactorily guaranteed dividends, and little attention was paid to the amalgamation until steps were taken to Americanize the system, which, it was said, was daily violating the Alien Labor Law, and intended to continue doing so.

CHANGES IN STAFF.

Mr. Monk then read announcements made in different newspapers respecting changes recently made in the executive staff of the company in Montreal, in Toronto and in Ottawa, and similar changes, it was stated, were about to be made in Quebec. In the Montreal office Thomas Rogers, chief operator, had been dismissed, and will be succeeded by an American; the chief accountant had found employment with another company, and even the local manager, it was stated, would be replaced.

Mr. Monk then cited instances of the replacing of Canadians by Americans. H. B. Dwight, general manager, at Toronto, had been replaced by I. McMichael of Minneapolis, Minn.; L. S. Hughes, general superintendent at Toronto, had been replaced by S. D. McMichael, son of the General manager, but owing to illness, he had been withdrawn. F. R. Carney, of Chicago, had been appointed manager of the Ottawa division, replacing Mr. Bethune, a Canadian and an old servant of the company, and a Mr. Callaghan, of Chicago, had been made cashier at Montreal in the place of A. S. McCormack, and further, it was stated in Montreal that line-men were to be brought up from Boston to replace Canadian employes.

VIOLATIONS OF LAW.

This was an important matter, said Mr. Monk, and such evident violations of the Alien Labor Law deserved the consideration of the Government. If the recent decision of Mr. Justice Anglin, declaring the law ultra vires, were well founded, it would be necessary to make amendments so that the law could be enforced. He regretted the necessity of what might be called hostile legislation, but it was begun by the United States and as long as the Government of that country enforced its law it was the duty of the Canadian Government to protect the laborers of this country.

The Prime Minister replied briefly. At the time of the amalgamation it was known that American capital was coming in and no exception had been taken to it nor had precaution been taken to ensure a British directorate.

Mr. Monk thought there was a Canadian majority on the board. The two American directors were I. McMichael and B. Brook, while the Canadian directors were T. M. Baird, Adam Brown, W. C. Matthews, James Headley and the late Hon. Wm. Macdougall. However, this board was seldom, if ever, consulted and the changes in the staff were carried out by the American interests.

THEY WERE TRANSFERS.

Resuming, the Prime Minister said that he was informed that the changes were only transfers, and were not to the detriment of Canadian employes. For instance, Chief Operator Rogers had been replaced by a Canadian named Graham, in fact, in only one case had a Canadian been replaced by an American, and that was the case of Mr. Bethune, at Ottawa, who had been pensioned and replaced by Mr. Carney, of Chicago.

As regards the Alien Labor Law, the Prime Minister said they did not know its position. A few days ago they thought they had a law, but now, in view of the judgment of Mr. Justice Anglin, it seemed that they did not have one.

Mr. Foster—"And there is no appeal from that decision?"

The Prime Minister said he did not know about that. That was a matter for enquiry, but in the meantime the validity of the law was in question, and the whole matter would have to be considered.

In conclusion, Mr. Monk repeated that there was no doubt that changes in the staff of the Great North-Western Company were being made, whereby Americans were replacing Canadians. These new officers were engaged in the United States and were coming to Canada in violation of the law. There was a Department of Labor, and it should at once look into these cases in order to prevent Canadians being replaced by aliens.

THE HALF-BREED SCRIP.

Here the matter dropped for the present, at least, and then Mr. Foster, Conservative of North Toronto, took the floor and proceeded to address the House at considerable length upon the half-breeds' land scrip, and the changes in the regulations which had permitted its transfer and the allotment of the land without the presence in Canada of the half-breeds.

Mr. Foster had on his desk the voluminous correspondence relating to this matter, and he reviewed it in detail. He pointed out that at one time land scrip was refused Canadian half-breeds who had settled in the United States, then the right was extended to them, but they had to be personally present when the actual allotment of land was made; that is, they could not assign the scrip to another who could go to the land office and have the allotment made. In July, 1903, the half-breeds of Turtle Mountain complained that their rights were being withheld, and they asked to be permitted to assign their scrip, but the request was refused, and a similar request presented by a lawyer was also refused in the following December.

A CHANGE TOOK PLACE.

Then suddenly, on Aug. 13, 1904, the rule was changed permitting assignment of scrip, but no public notice of this change was given until the following October, when it was published in the official Gazette, but it was months after that before it was known to the representative of the half-breeds, while R. C. Macdonald, who was deeply interested in the matter, knew of it months before, for as early as July he visited half-breeds in Dakota and began securing scrip. By January, 1904, he had secured scrip from 93 half-breeds, and before he concluded he secured 136 of these scrip in all. He had about finished his work before rivals were aware that the thing could be done. Then the correspondence showed, said Mr. Foster, that the Department of the Interior sent notices to land agents, telling them that as far as Mr. Macdonald's scrip was concerned to locate the land called for without requiring the presence of the half-breeds to whom the scrip had been granted. Protests were made by a man named Chaffey, and there was a telegram from Mr. Bole, Liberal member for Winnipeg, urging that the land transfers be stopped, and that no more be issued to Mr. Macdonald who had already secured scrip calling for 25,000 acres of land. The subordinates of the Department had been told to report to the Minister, but that had not been done. The point of it all was that by reason of the change in the regulations permitting assignment of scrip and allotment of land, coupled with the action of the officers of the Department, Mr. Macdonald had been able to secure allotments of 25,000 acres of the public domain, and the Prime Minister had only himself to blame, for he had practically invited his camp followers to such a course; he had defied a rebel and condoned a rebellion in behalf of those half-breeds, but he had made a way by which those half-breeds could be robbed of their scrip. It could be bought, stolen or juggled from them, and no one seemed responsible for it. The allotment of land should have been stopped until the matter was investigated. The Government seemed to have compromised a fraud; and what was worse, to have let it go on without an enquiry.

SOME PAPERS WITHHELD.

Mr. Foster claimed that part of the correspondence seemed to have been withheld, for in the papers brought down there were extracts from letters which were not produced. It looked as if ex-employes of the department had had access to the file and had removed awkward documents. From the papers brought down it appeared that Mr. Macdonald had secured land worth from $150,000 to $200,000, while the half-breeds had been paid only 80 cents an acre for their scrip. The whole matter should be investigated; it should be probed to the bottom without regard to whom it might incriminate.

Mr. Oliver, Minister of the Interior, replied. All the papers, he said, connected with the case were being brought down as fast as they were prepared. None had been abstracted from the record, nothing was being held back and nothing concealed. He claimed that there had been no change of policy, and scrip was being issued to half-breeds who were entitled to it, and in connection with that scrip there was no change in the law or violation of the same, for after the location of the land called for by the scrip the half-breed had a right to sell it. In regard to the petitions presented there were 39 signatures of half-breeds—all made by means of marks, and of those 39 half-breeds only four were interested as holders of allowed claims to land scrip. Land agents had been notified to suspend proceeding respecting these claims as there was to be an investigation. The Government would see that justice was done.

Mr. Haggart, Conservative of South Lanark, also reviewed the case, claiming that the papers produced showed that a fraud had been perpetrated.

WOULD BE INVESTIGATED.

The Prime Minister spoke briefly. There was no justification for Mr. Foster's assertion that papers had been abstracted. All would be brought down, and, further, there would be full and perfectly impartial investigation. Already it had been provided for, and Judge Myers, of the Winnipeg County Court, had been appointed to conduct it.

This concluded the discussion and the House proceeded to consider private bills. That respecting the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was passed in committee of the whole, and now stands for a third reading. This bill, which was discussed last week in the railway committee, provides for issuing of the mortgage bonds of the road which, under the contract with the company, are guaranteed by the Government.

The Hersey divorce bill was referred again to the committee on private bills, the solicitor of the respondent claiming that opportunity for producing evidence had not been afforded.

The House then went into committee of supply, taking up estimates of the Department of the Interior.

THE CLASS OF IMMIGRANTS.

At the evening session in connection with the Interior Department votes Mr. Monk discussed the class of immigrants being brought into the country. He expressed the fear that undesirable people were filling up the West. He expressed the fear that grave problems would arise in the future unless more discrimination was used in selecting the class of settlers.

Hon. Mr. Oliver, Minister of the Interior, in reply, said that it was quite true that the influx of foreigners brough: new problems to which the Canadian people could not afford to shut their eyes. At the same time Canada's great necessity is more population, and the policy of the Government is to induce as many immigrants as possible to come into Canada. He would favor a still bigger immigration policy. Still, no amount of money would be too much to secure the right class of settlers. Any amount, no matter how small, would be too much to spend on the wrong class. It would be his endeavor, Mr. Oliver said, to strike the best methods and secure the finest class of settlers possible.

A CONTRADICTION.

Mr. Wilson, of Lennox, read extracts from speeches made by Mr. Oliver in 1902 to prove that the Minister was at one time opposed to the methods of the department. In the opinion of Mr. Wilson Canada is getting miserable returns for the money invested. He particularly condemned the idea of giving steamship companies five dollars per head for people from the Continent, and only seven shillings for people from the British Isles.

The votes for immigration, amounting to $767,200, were all carried.

For the Yukon there was voted the sum of $300,000 for salaries and expenses of officials and a grant to the local council. Dr. Sproule, Conservative, of East Grey, enquired about the school system of the Yukon. Dr. Thompson, the representative of the territory, stated that a system had been set up by the local council which provided for grants to a public school and to a separate Roman Catholic school, but all teachers in both schools had to hold Normal School certificates.

For the maintenance of roads, etc., in the Hot Springs Reservation, near Banff, Alberta, there was voted the sum of $28,380; for like work in the Yoho Park, B.C., $12,000.

For the Assay Office at Vancouver the vote was $11,000. As regards the work done the Minister stated that in 1901-02 the amount of gold assayed was $1,153,000; 1902-03, $568,880; 1903-04, $385,150. During the present year there had been an increase.

At 11.40 o'clock the committee rose and the House adjourned.

Hon. Charles Hyman has returned to the Capital, but will not take his seat in the House till the return of his election has been received by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery.

SUFFOCATED BY MAY YOUNG.

Jury Decides That Melanson Had a Hand in the Affair.

Halifax, June, 20.—The coroner's jury in the Plympton tragedy, near Digby, concluded the taking of evidence in the enquiry into the cause and the manner of death of May Ward or, as she is called, May Young, at 6 o'clock last evening, and by 6.30 the following verdict had been reached:—"That the said May Ward came to her death by suffocation at the hands of May Hope Young, and while the evidence is strong against Kingsley Melanson, as being a party to the death of said May Young, yet we do not feel justified in rendering a verdict that the said May Young came to her death at the hands of Kingsley Melanson. We do, therefore, recommend that a thorough investigation be made by the proper authorities in that behalf to ascertain if the said Kingsley Melanson assisted in any way in causing the death of the said May Young."

After the rendering of the verdict, Samuel J. Milberry, a member of the coroner's jury, laid information against both May Hope Young and Kingsley Melanson, charging them with the murder of the child. A warrant was issued by Clarence Jameson, stipendiary magistrate, under which High Sherriff Smith took the parties in charge and conveyed them to the gaol in Digby.

As Melanson was handcuffed Mrs. Young held up her hands to the sheriff, remarking "Put them on." Her suggestion was not accepted to.

The autopsy showed no signs of food in the stomach of the dead child. This goes far to disprove the evidence of Mrs. Young, who claimed to have left the children at 5 o'clock on Friday evening, each with a piece of bread and cornecake, the latter of which she claimed to have eaten, the bread being found with a small piece bitten out.

Coulson's tent, while the officer was asleep, and was sentenced to eleven months in the Central Prison.

Paris Amused at Funny Feud.

Paris, June 20.—The town is laughing over the feud between Prince Helie Desagan and Prince Debearn Dechalais, the fiancee of Miss Winans, of Baltimore. Prince Desagan, accuses Prince Debearn of falsely assuming his title, both of which are vested in Prince Desagan as the head of the house of Desagan, who acknowledges Prince Debearn as a second cousin. Prince Desagan affirms that the self-styled Prince Debearn possesses no title. He seeks to bring the matter to an issue, and to force Prince Debearn to fight a duel by writing an insulting letter.

Ottawa, June 20.—George McEwan, charged with forgery, was found not guilty. It will be remembered from evidence given in the police court here that in December last the Lake Superior Consolidated Company of Sault Ste. Marie mailed Mr. George McEwan, M.P., a cheque for $750. The cheque was delivered to George McEwan, of Cumberland street, who endorsed it to M.J. Harty, who had it cashed. Later on the mistake was discovered and Mr. George McEwan arrested. He never denied having received and endorsed the cheque, but claimed that he thought it was meant for him in payment of some land he had disposed of.

High Price Paid for Timber Land.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Moncton, June 20.—A sale of timber land which establishes a record price per acre in this section of New Brunswick, has just been completed at Hillsboro, Albert Co.

James Dobson, lumberman, of Stony Creek, purchased from Mrs. Bliss Steeves, of Hillboro, 75 acres of timber land for $8,000; this is over one hundred dollars an acre, and probably represents the highest figure for property of that kind ever paid in this Province. The property purchased is said to be exceptionally well timbered.

The Kilties' Band.

The Kilties Band, which has just returned from a 60,000 mile tour, played last evening in Windsor Hall just two hours after it had landed from the steamer which had brought it from Great Britain.

The programme, which was rendered, was the same as that which the Kilties gave at Balmoral, with the exception that V. E. Nessler's "Behut' dich Gott es war zu schon gewesen" was substituted for Pinsuti's love song, as a euphonium solo. The change was an improvement, as the former lends itself more readily to the full rich tones of the wonderful instrument than the famous "Bedouin's Love Song."

The programme was one of considerable range, beginning with the overture to Rienzi and ending with the grand march of Fucik, "Entry of Gladiators," but as the great proportion of those present were Scots, or Canadians of Scottish extraction, it was the melodies of the northern nation that elicited the most applause.

Godfrey's "Reminiscences of Scotland" was exquisitely done, a pot pourri of Scotch airs, interwoven. The Southern airs "Way Down South in Dixie," etc., were also well rendered. The dancing of the Clan Johnstone Troupe was excellent. Reels, strathpeys, hornpipes and jigs, were danced with much skill and abandon.

Mr. J. Coates Lockhart, the band's tenor soloist, also rendered a couple of numbers assisted by the "Kilties" choir. The latter gave "Ye Banks and Braes."

Among the most impressive features of the programme was the tall drum-major, Roderick Mackenzie, who neither plays, sings, nor dances, but merely looks handsome. Roderick stands over seven feet high, and is built in proportion. His inches excited the admiration of King Edward on the occasion of the visit of the band to the King's residence in Scotland.

The band will play a new programme in Windsor Hall this evening.

The Royal.

By far the best performance given by the Una Clayton Stock Company at the Theatre Royal this summer season is that of the present week. The piece presented is called "A Terrible Temptation," and it deals with an attempt of several gamblers to secure a plantation from an old man by means of cheating at cards. A youth, who is a renowned but "square" gambler upsets all their plans by playing them at their own game, and he wins back the mortgage on the plantation and makes happy the old man and incidentally his pretty daughter, whom, of course, he falls in love with, and finally marries. The play gives Mr. Frank Morey the best opportunity he has had during the past few weeks, and he accepts every bit of it. The young gambler is a good part, but it requires careful handling, and it gets it from Mr. Morey. Miss Clayton is a winsome little Southern girl. The piece is well cast and splendidly staged.

The Francais.

After giving farce comedy, emotional and melodrama, the Cazeneuve company at the Francais blossomed out this week with a comic opera, or perhaps it might better be called a comedy with musical numbers interspersed. Whatever the name most fitted, however, the performance was altogether delightful and most amusing. Large audiences attended both matinee and evening, and the applause throughout was unstinted. "Le Voyage de Suzette" affords opportunities for the display of good comedy ability as well as for musical talent. Both branches were well looked after. Mme. Demanthe, as Suzette, revealed herself a singer of marked ability, while Miss Myrielle, who so often delighted Montreal audiences with her powerful rendering of classical parts, showing herself the possessor of a very sweet voice, which she used to good advantage as Paquita. Miss Samson, in a dual part, also did justice to the musical portion, as well as to the comedy. Among the men, Mr. Gauthier naturally carried off the honors as a singer, as he was in his own particular element, while his rendering of the part of Blanchard was also a fine performance. Paul Cazeneuve, as a comic opera singer was rather a startling proposition, but he surprised many people, and his acting helped to keep up the merriment of the evening. As Verduron, G. Dane has very little to do with the musical portion of the programme. He again showed himself a master of comedy, and his performance compares favorably with any of the headliners on the American stage. Joube, as Giraflor, Byrns as Omar Pacha, Guiraud as the brigand chief, Corricopulos; Villerate as Caboul, and Cassin as Puissonet, all contribute largely to the success of the entertainment, while the chorus is fully up to the standard set by the best road companies. The scenery again forms an important feature, and the manner in which it is handled is creditable to the stage hands of the Francais.

Sohmer Park.

The performance at Sohmer Park this week is very good indeed. Two of the turns were witnessed last week, but both of these would well bear repetition. Prof. Wormwood gives an entirely different programme from that presented last week, while Madame Schell, who once more appears with her trained lions, enchains the attention from the moment she steps into the cage. Possibly, had Prof. Wormwood fewer dogs he would be able to smooth out his performance by giving additional training to those that remained, but it is an exceptionally attractive presentation. The Millman trio, consisting of two women and a man, showed themselves to be absolutely at home on the tight wire, cavorting about it as though on the stage. The younger girl, who seemed to be the soubrette of the party, dances a cake walk on the wire in which she displayed remarkable agility. No better tumbling has ever been seen at the Park than that done by the three Melvins, men whose physical development was such as to induce exclamations even before they had done a single turn. John Leclair did some juggling along conventional lines. The band, under the direction of Mr. Lavigne, has prepared a number of attractive programmes for the week. On Friday evening an original march, entitled "Voyageur," composed by Mr. Josaphat Gagne, the band's clarionettiste, will be played for the first time in public. The performance last evening was witnessed by a large audience, amongst whom were considerably over a hundred members of the Michigan Press Association, who, as visitors in the city, were accorded the courtesies of the park by the management.

The Housing Problem.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—In the housing of the working classes is becoming a problem in this city. Those who were unfortunate enough to be among those who were looking for a house to suit their income last "renting time," will agree with me, when I say, that suitable houses were at a premium. Take for instance a man and his wife with three or four children. He needs at least three bed-rooms, a large kitchen, or small kitchen and dining-room. What will this cost? Are there any houses in the city of Montreal available at a reasonable rental of say, 8 to 10 dollars per month? This amount is, I think, the maximum that any workingman can afford. He might perhaps, get a flat at the top of a three story building, but what does this mean? the wife is at her wits end to know how to manage the children, for it is quite natural that the children must be out. Are they to be tied to a small gallery where they are likely to be climbing over with a chance of falling to the yard below, or sent on to the street to mix with older children, and become old before their time as regards their morals etc.? I believe Mr. Editor, this can be avoided. There is plenty of land around Montreal, which can be bought cheap now, and could be acquired by the city where cottages could be built with gardens in the rear. Houses could be built, which would cost the city, a few thousands at the present but which in a few years time might mean millions. Build these houses one or two stories at present but put in foundations that will stand more floors when needed as the population increases, and the aldermen of the present time will be looked upon by the next generations as being the benefactors of mankind.

A FATHER OF A FAMILY.

One Month's Notice is Sufficient.

Unless there is some provision to the contrary in a lease, one month's notice from landlord or tenant to the other party that the occupancy of a house will come to an end is sufficient. Such was the decision affirmed by the Court of Review yesterday, in the case of Comte vs. Dame A. Gissing. The defendant leased premises from plaintiff on March 7th, 1901, for $216 for one year, payable in monthly instalments. The lease has never been renewed, but the woman continued to occupy the house from year to year, by tacit reconduction. On February 6th last, the plaintiff gave her notice that the premises had been leased to another party from the first of May, but she refused to move, holding that she was entitled to three months' notice. The plaintiff took the present action in ejectment, and both courts have maintained his contentions.

JUMP OF 4 POINTS IN DOMINION COAL

That Stock Booms To-Day in Line With Steel Issues.

A MUCH BETTER FEELING

Both in Montreal and in Wall Street Stocks Show a Much Improved Tone.

Growing optimism in regard to Dominion Steel, with talk of dividends in the near future, led to a little boom in the stocks of the company this morning, and not to be outdone, Dominion Coal also celebrated the occasion by crossing 80, an advance of nearly four points over yesterday.

Both stocks were moderately active, both here and in Boston, and Toronto also, to a lesser extent, took a hand in the movement.

Steel common crossed 24, the preferred sold at 74, and a firmer undertone was also noticed in the bonds.

It was stated some time ago that a "pool" was being formed to give the Steel issues a boost in view of the improved conditions now existing at Sydney.

To-day's movement may have been the opening gun in the campaign.

The reorganization rumors in connection with Steel are mentioned elsewhere, and a glance at the list of sales will give an idea of the way the market acted.

In showing strength, the local market reflected the tone in Wall Street. There was not only more life to the market there, but it was much firmer, and there was a general improvement throughout the list.

"Soo" Railway issues were something of a feature, and sold up to 125¼. The stock was very active and came in for a good deal of attention. The crops in the "Soo" territory were said to be looking very fine.

The Montreal Street Railway statement for the eight months out to-day shows net earnings of $554,564, an increase of $43,905, or 8.59 per cent., and a surplus of $385,210, against $361,882 last year, an increase of $23,327, or 6.44 per cent.

The sales to noon of Canadian stocks in Wall Street, together with highest and lowest prices, are given as follows:

		High.	Low.
3,300	Canadian Pacific	151	150⅝
800	Detroit	93⅛	92⅝

100	"Soo" pfd.	159¾	159¾
100	Duluth	13	13
100	Duluth pfd.	27¾	27¾

The sales to noon in Wall Street were 236,400 shares.

Toronto Street Railway earnings last week were $53,479, an increase of $5,700.

The directors of the Canada Company propose to recommend a dividend of £1 15s a share for the half year ending July 10th next.

Grand Trunk Railway System's earnings from June 8th to 14th.

Will Dominion Steel Pay Dividends?

The local "Street" was filled with Dominion Steel reorganization rumors this morning, and there was a good deal of excitement as the common and preferred stocks of the company advanced, the common crossing 24 and the preferred 74.

It is absolutely certain that, in spite of all rumors, the directors of the company have not formulated any definite plans in regard to a change in the company's finances, but it is admitted that they are giving the matter very serious consideration, and may, at a date not far distant, announce a plan that will prove of benefit both to the company itself and the shareholders.

At the present time the company has the following issues of stocks and bonds outstanding:

Common	$20,000,000
Preferred	5,000,000
Bonds, first mortgage	7,800,000
Bonds, second mortgage	2,500,000
	$35,300,000

In the way of annual fixed charges, the preferred stock, if on a dividend basis, would call for $350,000, the first mortgage bonds $390,000, and the second mortgage issue $150,000. The sinking fund on the first mortgage issue calls for $55,000, and a little later on the company will be called upon to redeem the second mortgage issue at the rate of $250,000 a year. The whole summarized is as follows:

Preferred	350,000
Bonds, first mortgage	390,000
Bonds, second mortgage	150,000
Sinking fund, first mortgage	55,000
Sinking fund, second mortgage	250,000
	$1,195,000

What will be the reorganization plan?

At the first glance a consolidation of the two bond issues would seem to be a possibility, these being replaced by an issue of $10,000,000 5 per cent. bonds. It would also be feasible to give these bonds a five-year release from sinking fund charges, as was done in the case of the Dominion Coal bonds recently put out in the reorganization of that concern.

In a short time the company will owe the preferred shareholders 21 per cent., or $1,050,000 in accumulated dividends, and the question as to whether an effort will be made to pay that sum back before the preferred is put on a dividend basis, is not to be answered at the moment.

One rumor has it, and we mentioned this yesterday, that the preferred would, with the consent of the shareholders, be put on an 8 per cent. basis, thus paying the shareholders back at the rate of one per cent. a year.

Another rumor is that the shareholders will be asked to waive claim upon their back dividends until such time as the company is able to pay them.

The company's floating debt also has to be considered in the discussion. The amount is not known to the public, but it stands as a very important consideration in the proposed plans, and it is safe to say that the banks would not hear of the company going on a dividend basis until such time as it has been satisfactorily disposed of.

As a matter of fact, however, the reorganization would be attempted solely with this object in view.

If the advice of some influential persons is taken, the reorganization plan will also include a drastic change in the enormous common stock issue of $20,000,000.

By squeezing the water from the issue the company, now that it is earning its fixed charges, and more, would be firmly established on its feet.

The next few months will tell the story, and future developments will probably justify the growing optimism among the shareholders.

It was estimated to-day that the steel rail mill will show the company a profit this year of $1,400,000. This is estimating the actual profit at $7 a ton, and the bounty at $7 on an output of 100,000 tons.

TO ISSUE MILLION STOCK.

The Imperial Bank is to Increase Its Capital.

The Imperial Bank of Canada intends to increase its capital $1,000,000, which will be distributed to the old shareholders at the rate of one new share in three. We stated yesterday by mistake that it was the Bank of Hamilton that was to make this increase. The annual statement of the Imperial Bank has just been issued, and it shows net profits for the year of $510,951. The bank paid out $300,000 in dividends during the year, and has a rest account of $300,000.

ENORMOUS BANK DIVIDEND.

New York, June 20.— An extra dividend of 120 per cent., in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 25 per cent., has been declared by the directors of the Fifth Avenue Bank of this city. The extra dividend which the stockholders will receive is out of the profits of the bank made in 1903 and 1904.

GRANBY CONSOLIDATED.

Granby shares were firmer, being quoted in Boston at 5⅞ to 6. There were no sales up to one o'clock.

IS INCREASE JUSTIFIED?

Detroit United Earnings and To-morrow's Dividend.

The Detroit earnings came out to-day, and were read with a great deal of interest by Montreal brokers, especially in view of the fact that the dividend will be acted upon to-morrow.

For the five months the surplus amounts to $256,403, which is much greater than it was a year ago, but very little above 1903, when it was $246,619, or 1902, when it was $246,064. The figures for May and the five months follow in detail:

	1905.	1904.	1903.
May gross	$430,376	$388,122	$372,952
Exp. and tax	251,917	230,536	221,302
May net	$178,459	$157,586	$151,650
Other inc.	3,358	3,351	2,755
Total inc.	$181,817	$160,937	$154,405
Charges	92,806	87,395	81,194
May sur.	$89,011	$73,542	$73,211
5 mo. gross	1,865,453	1,656,249	1,629,588
Exp and tax	1,167,493	1,104,778	994,691
5 mo. net	$697,960	$551,471	$634,897
Other inc.	19,002	17,722	19,664
Total inc.	$716,962	$569,193	$654,561
Charges	460,559	443,369	407,942
5 mo. sur.	$256,403	$125,824	$246,619

The company is earning at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, which would evidently justify the increase to 5 per cent.

STOCKS ADVANCE EASILY.

Is Canadian Pacific Buying Wisconsin Central?

From the Star's Special Correspondent in Wall Street.

New York, June 20.—Wisconsin Central came to the front in stock-making yesterday and to-day, and displayed unwonted vigor. The character of the buying gave color to current reports that Canadian Pacific interests were accumulating Wisconsin Central for the purpose of securing a voice in its management. The relations between the "Soo" line and Wisconsin Central are already very close. The last named company owns very valuable terminal facilities in Chicago. Canadian Pacific's recent strength in the stock market has substantial foundation, according to one of the chief executive officers of that company, who is now in New York. This officer asserts that this year's wheat crop along the line of the Canadian Pacific will be 30,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's yield. In other respects it is claimed that the traffic of the Canadian Pacific is increasing, and important extensions that have been planned are to be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

There was nothing in the over-night news, domestic or foreign, calculated to give the market impulse, and the initial movement in the direction of higher prices was nothing but a continuation of operations for a rise which met with success yesterday. The facts are that commission houses are pretty well cleaned out, that securities have been demonstrated in the last few weeks to be very strongly held, and that those who have tested the market for the purpose have found that at times it moves upward easily.

MONTREAL-BOSTON DEAL.

Total Capital of the New Company Will Be $3,200,000.

A circular letter has been issued by the new management of the Montreal and Boston Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, announcing the sale of its mines and properties to the Dominion Copper Company, and stating that the last-named company is about to make an issue of bonds to discharge the past debts of the Montreal and Boston, and for further developments and improvements.

The circular goes at length into the history of the Montreal and Boston, and into the troubles which culminated in the collapse of the marketing of its securities last January. It is explained that the principal and most available properties of the company were not paid for, and that, owing to inability to market its stock, the company was threatened with the loss of these properties, on which it owes over $320,000.

The Dominion Company has authorized an issue of $1,000,000 of bonds, of which $700,000 are to be now issued at 90, with a bonus of 22 per cent. of its stock. The moneys realized from these bonds are to be used to pay the balance of the unpaid purchase price on Montreal and Boston properties, and for further working capital to develop the mines and complete the smelter.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET.

Brokers are Rather More Optimistic To-day.

J. S. Bache and Co.—It is only a traders' market, and would, therefore, advise profit-taking on bulges. Stocks should show steady improvement from now until July 1st.

E. and C. Randolph—The Steel stocks have been well bought. Reading has been somewhat of a laggard, but it has already had its advance, and even if put on a 4 per cent. basis looks pretty high.

Charles Head—London sold moderately, but the stock was easily absorbed. Toward noon the trading has flattened out somewhat, but there is a noticeable scarcity of offerings, and sentiment is conservatively bullish.

J. R. Picken—Crops and general business conditions continue favorable, and while the ease of money lasts, strong tendency on our exchange and a further moderate increase in prices may be safely looked for.

Burnett and Co., London cable: All around steadiness prevails in the Stock Exchange markets to-day. The impression is growing that the markets are oversold, and an early revival, if only as a result of a campaign against the bears, is believed to be probable.

HUDSON BAY'S SHOWING.

Montreal Holdings are Now Comparatively Light.

The Hudson Bay Co. this year shows the biggest earnings in its history. A broker said to-day that there are comparatively few holders of these shares in Montreal at the present, as a great many speculative accounts were closed out on the rise. As stated some time ago, it is probable that Lord Strathcona is far and away the biggest holder of the company's shares, and his fortune has been greatly increased by the enormous advance in the stock.

The report just out shows profits for the year ending May 31 of £102,969, compared with £98,934 the previous year. Total sales of the land department were £170,219, compared with £280,614. Together with the balance of the land account, and sum brought forward from last year, the amount available for dividend is £384,064. The board recommended a further dividend of £2 8s per share, making a total for the year of £2 18s, carrying forward £94,064.

GRAIN MARKETS STRONG IN AMERICA

England Seemed to be Very Little Affected However.

A SHARP RISE IN CORN

Reports of Rust in Crops Was Main Influence—Local Oat Market Still Higher.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Ill., June 20. — July wheat sold between 87¾ and 88⅛, and Sept. between 83¾ and 84⅝, compared with closings yesterday of 88 and 83⅞ respectively.

The strength was mainly on the rust report sent in by North-Western sources, which caused many shorts to cover, and developed a demand from investors. July showed some signs of congestion, and was the most nervous, as well as the strongest, in the list. The arrival of 19 cargoes off the English coast was the cause of a weak market at Liverpool. It was reported that rain was falling in the Red River Valley, where sunshine is now needed. South-Western news was still bearish, and that section was seller of wheat in this market.

Winnipeg, June 19.—The inspection of wheat was as follows:

	Cars
No. 1 hard	..
No. 1 northern	14
No. 2 northern	43
No. 3 northern	12
Other grades	11
No grade	..
Total	80
Last year	169

Warm in England, forecast, unsettled. North France cloudy, South fine; forecast, cloudy.

Chicago.—The weather map shows general rains everywhere; light in the Dakotas and practically none in Minn., but widespread elsewhere except in Texas and Okla., which have escaped.

Chicago.—July wheat was 1c higher at noon to-day than last night, at 88⅞c. September being 1c higher at 84¾c. July corn was 1⅜c up at 54½c. September was ⅛c up at 52½c. July oats were ⅛c up at 31¼c, and September ⅜c up at 29½c.

Duluth wheat was 1¼c up on September at 89⅜c.

Minneapolis was ⅜c up on July at $1.08⅝, and 1⅛c up on September at 85⅛c.

Winnipeg was steady at $1 for June, and ½c up for July at $1.01¼.

The spot Liverpool market was steady at 6s 5d to 6s 7½d for No. 3 northern Manitoba.

The option market was practically unchanged at 6s 10d for July, 6s 8⅜d for September and 6s 8⅛d for December.

London quoted Australian arrived 31s net. No. 2 Calcutta club, April, May, 32s 1½d; May, June, 31s 3d to 31s 6d.

Antwerp.—Pahia Blanca, spot, 17¼.

Paris closed 23.50 for June and 21.60 for September and December.

LOCAL MARKET.—Receipts of oats reported on the Board of Trade this morning were 3257 bushels. Prices of oats are gradually strengthening, and to-day's quotations are fully ½c higher than yesterday's. Holders are quoting No. 3 oats at 47½c to 48c in store, and No. 2 at 48½ to 49c. The strength of the local market depends to a considerable extent upon Chicago. So long as Chicago remains as high as at present, there is no possibility of the local market declining. At the present time Chicago shows considerable firmness, and it would seem as though it were about as likely to go higher as not. Meantime this market continues just a little below the figure at which Chicago oats could be sold here. Trade is of course light. Some dealers reported having refused as high as 49½c for No. 2 oats on track, their demands being 40c. This, however, seems to be ½c to 1c above the general idea.

MILLFEED.—Stocks continue light and prices of bran are rather easier at $17 per ton for Manitoba bran in bags, and $20 for shorts.

FLOUR.—Prices for Manitoba flour are quoted at $5.10 to $5.30 per barrel for strong bakers', and $5.40 to $5.60 for patents. Ontario flour is $5.50 to $5.60 for winter wheat patents per bbl., and $5.10 to $5.25 for straight rollers, while bags are $2.45 to $2.50.

ROLLED OATS.—The market is very quiet and prices show no change. Quotations are $2.15 to $2.20 per bag, cornmeal being dull at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

HAY.—The growing crops are apparently fine everywhere. As a result the market is easy, except for No. 2 quality, and lower prices are quotable, $9 to $9.25 for No. 1, $7.75 to $8.50 for No. 2, $6.75 to $7 for clover mixed, and $6.50 for pure clover.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS STEADY

Both Locally and in England Prices are Maintained.

The export live stock markets were about steady to-day, the tone being, if anything, somewhat firmer. London was quoted unchanged at 12¼c for best Canadians, and 12¾c for best States. Liverpool cables ranged from 11½ to 12c for Canadians and 11¾ to 12¼c for States.

The market for ocean freight space for cattle seems to have passed the worst point, and it is apparently now on the mend. Space has been let at somewhat better rates, and for future shipment still higher prices are being demanded. There has been a better demand for space, owing probably to the improvement in the market for live stock on the other side noted during the past few weeks. There is now very little space for the balance of June and the first of July not taken, the rates at which it has been contracted for being said to be 27s 6d to 30s per head for the balance of June and 30s for the first ships in July to Liverpool, the asking price for later sailings being 35s per head. London space for the balance of June has been let at 25s to 27s 6d, and the first sailings for July have been let at 27s 6d, while 30s is being asked for later sailings. Manchester rates are quoted at 30s. The demand for Liverpool space from United States ports is good and rates are much the same as those which have been obtained from this port.

Shipments from the port of Montreal last week amounted to 3666 head of cattle and 48 sheep, compared with 3377 cattle and 552 sheep the previous week.

The local markets for live stock continue practically unchanged. The weather being somewhat cooler, trade was rather more brisk than it was towards the end of last week. Best cattle sold at 5½ to 5¾c, fine selling at 5 to 5¼c, while the bulk of good butchers' stock sold at 4¼ to 4¾c, medium selling at 3½ to 4c, and common at 2¾ to 3¼c. Sheep were unchanged at 3½ to 4c per lb., while lambs were in good demand at $3 to $4.50 each, calves ranging all the way from $2 to $10 for a few choice animals. Select hogs sold at 6¾ to 7c for a few and mixed at 6⅛ to 6¾c.

IRON AND STEEL TRADE.

It is an encouraging sign when over a month of inactivity is not followed by genral depression in pig iron, says Dun's Review, of New York. A few small concessions have been made, it is true, but no serious demoralization attends the concerted effort to delay purchases. One sustaining fact is the inability of mills to fill orders for structural steel with desired promptness, and the railways are constantly in the market for equipment of various varieties. Southern markets are making progress, and the entire industry is pervaded by a feeling of confidence that after the usual midsummer shut-down for repairs and inventories business will be on a very large scale. This sentiment is so general that no anxiety is felt regarding present comparatively quiet conditions. Plans and specifications for new buildings will provide a large demand for steel shapes in the near future, and export trade is being vigorously pushed. Some labor troubles have arisen at local foundries, but, as a rule, there is very little anxiety regarding controversies, especially as many wage scales have been signed.

BUTTER MARKET UNCHANGED.

Cheese Holds Firm, But Tone of Egg aMrket is Easy.

Sherbrooke, June 20.—At the dairy exchange to-day unsalted butter sold at 19¾c, and salted at 19c. Cheese sold at 9 1-16c.

CHEESE.— Shipments from the port of Montreal last week amounted to 74,149 boxes, or 9,126 more than for the same week of last year. Total shipments since May 1st amounted to 305,009 boxes, or 39,806 more than those for the corresponding period last year.

Shipments via Portland last week were 595 boxes, those since the first of May being 7,547, which is 1,400 less than for the same period last year.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 6,488 boxes.

Receipts reported in New York since May 1st amounted to 129,390 boxes, or 13,436 less than those for the same period last year.

Shipments to Europe from New York last week were 2,799 boxes, as compared with 233 the previous week, and 5,418 for the same week last year. Total actual shipments from New York since May 1st were 15,997 boxes, or 43,542 less than for the same period of last year.

The market holds steady at yesterday's prices. Quebec cheese is quoted at 9¾ to 9⅝c, and is firm, while it would be difficult to secure finest Ontarios at less than 9¾ to 9⅞c. The outside figures are being demanded by holders, and are probably being conceded in some cases. It is hard to say what the course of the market will be during the next few days, but the feeling is that it will be firm.

EGGS.—The market shows an easier tone during the past few days, and merchants are quoting it fractionally lower. Dealers are all trying to get prices down in the country, and a concerted effort is in progress to secure this week's offerings at 15c per dozen, f.o.b. country points. Meantime, sales of straight gathered stock are being made here at 16c per doen, No. 2 being 14½ to 15c, according to quality and quantity, while selects are ranging all the way from 17 to 18c, and No. 1 stock ranges around 16½ to 17c, as to quality and quantity.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 537 cases.

BUTTER.— Shipments from the port of Montreal last week amounted to 17,665 packages, or 5,582 less than those for the same week of last year. Total shipments since May 1st amounted to 52,222 packages, or 6,715 more than those for the same period last year.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 4,435 packages.

Shipments of butter from the port of New York for Europe last week were 795 packages, as compared with nothing the previous week, and 971 for the corresponding week last year.

The market remains firm at yesterdays' advance. It would be hard to get choicest creamery at less than 19¾ to 20c, and holders are firm at these prices. At the same time one might go out and secure some very fine quality butter at 19½ to 19¾c, while good to fine ranges from 19¼ to 19½c.

POTATOES.—Purchases are still being made at 64 to 67c for bags of 90 lbs., in carloads on track. The strength of the market is due principally to the difficulty in obtaining fresh supplies of choice stock. Merchants were demanding 70c on track for their purchases, in lots of a few dozen bags at a time, and 80c for the same sized lots, delivered into store. Inferior stock is 10 to 15c per bag lower than the above prices.

POTASH.—Lower English markets have reduced the price of potash, and firsts may now be quoted at $5.25 and seconds at $4.80. First pearls are scarce and wanted at nominal value, $7 to $7.50.

ENGLISH BUTTER MARKET.

Dowdall Bros., Manchester, write of the butter market under date of June 10 as follows:

Our Copenhagen correspondent writes: "The butter is coming forward in splendid quality this week, being all pure grass make and full flavored. Foreign markets are reported rather quiet, and orders are not particularly large, but the local demand is good, the tin-packers are taking large quantities, and are working at full speed, fearing higher prices later on. The markets clear satisfactorily, and the official quotation here to-morrow will be unchanged. Basis prices have been raised considerably; business altogether fairly good."

With the exception of parts of Lancashire, the rain has fallen over all the Kingdom, and the drought of the past few weeks has completely passed away. Prices held comparatively low last season, and no upward move of note took place until August had set in. The Australasian season is ended. Canadians begin to arrive, and are cabled from Montreal slightly lower, but still many shillings over the lowest point of last year. Irish creameries are more plentiful, and offer really good value. Last arrivals of Danish were mostly poor in quality, and showed unmistakably the mixed feeding period. Margarines have met with a steady demand, but may now decline in the presence of cheaper butter; 26,300 casks of Danish and Swedish crossing for next week, including Esbjerg and Goole, or 1463 casks less than last week.

TRADE FAILURES LAST WEEK.

Commercial failures last week in the United States, as reported by R. G. Dun and Co., were 229, against 216 two weeks ago, 198 the preceding week, and 257 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada numbered 25, against 20 two weeks ago, 29 the preceding week and 16 last year. Of failures last week in the United States, 90 were in the East, 53 South, 60 West and 26 in the Pacific States, and 61 reported liabilities of $5000 or more. Liabilities of commercial failures in the United States reported thus far for June are $3,711,141, against $4,151,108 last year.

FRESH SALMON PLENTIFUL.

Prices Lower and Dealers Ordering Freely—Black Bass Season Opens.

The season for fresh Gaspe or Restigouche salmon is now here, and prices are lower in consequence of liberal receipts. Demand is quite active, dealers having no hesitation in ordering liberally when prices are at rock-bottom as at present. The quality of the fish arriving this season is very fine, in fact better than for several years past. Mackerel is also plentiful and prices are somewhat lower. Black bass is now in season again, the close season having come to an end on June 15th. Halibut continues scarce and dear. Sturgeon is also scarce and will continue to be so for the next two months.

In smoked fish there is only a fair demand for the various kinds offering. In pickled fish also there is very little activity, this being practically between-seasons.

There is a fair demand for prepared boneless fish, including skinless cod in 100-lb. cases, which meets with a good demand and is still scarce.

Leonard Bros.' circular quotes the market as follows:

FRESH FISH. — Fresh haddock, 4c; choice fresh steak cod, 5c; fresh ex. haddock, 5c; pickerel or dore, 7½c; pike, 6c; lake trout, 7½c lb.; white fish, 7½c lb.; halibut, fresh, express, 12c; Gaspe salmon, 14c; fresh mackerel, 7c lb.; brook trout, 18c.

SALT FISH.—Loch Fyne herrings, $1 per keg; No. 1 salt mackerel, in 20-lb. kits, $2; new salt herrings, Labrador, half bbl., $3; pails of 20 lbs., 30c each; pickled sea trout, $10 per bbl., $5.50 per half bbl.; No. 1 pickled lake trout, per keg of 100 lbs., $4.60.

SUDDEN DEATH OF E. L. CURRIE

He Was Found Dead in His House Yesterday Afternoon.

APOPLEXY CAUSE OF END

His Absence From the High School Caused Alarm and Search Disclosed Dead Body.

After 26 years spent in the teaching profession in this country, Mr. Edward Lockyer Currie, senior classical master at the Montreal High School, died suddenly yesterday.

Death came apparently with some degree of suddenness, although no one was with the deceased at the time. The circumstances attending his demise can consequently only be surmised.

Late yesterday afternoon his body was found by Messrs. Wellington Dixon, R. W. Reford, and C. M. Holt lying in the upper corridor of his house, and imediately before the door of his study.

Dr. F. W. Hamilton, the family physician, and Dr. Chipman, who were called at once, pronounced death to have been the result of a stroke of apoplexy.

Mrs. Currie, who, with a little son only a year old, survives, was in Port Hope, visiting her old home. She left a week ago, and on Saturday last, in her absence Mr. Currie went out to Beaurepaire to spend the day with Mr. R. W. Reford, jr., returning for home on the 6.38 train in the evening.

Mr. Reford was apparently the last to see his friend alive. When Mr. Currie did not put in an apearance at the school yesterday morning at the accustomed hour nothing was thought of the occurrence, other than that it was not his mode to be late. It was only when enquiries had been made in various quarters that disquietude possessed those with whom Mr. Currie had been associated. An investigation of the house led to the result indicated.

HE WAS BORN IN ENGLAND.

Mr. Currie was a son of the late Admiral Currie, R.N., and was born in Stratford, Eng., receiving his education at Rugby and Cambridge, at both of which institutions he was known not only as a student, but was also prominent in athletic circles. He still holds some of the records for athletic events at Rugby, and at Cambridge he was captain of his college crew and his college eleven.

After spending some time in the study of law, Mr. Curie came to this country twenty-six years ago. Taking up teaching as his profession he was successively master in the high school of Perth and Grimsby, and in Bishop Ridley's school, Port Hope.

In 1891 he came to Montreal as senior classical master in the High School.

Mr. Currie was twice married; in 1878, and in 1903. In the last year he was married to Miss Burnham, of Port Hope.

As classical master at the High School since 1891, the year that Dr. Rexford assumed the rectorship, Mr. Currie has been at the same time one of the best known and most universally respected figures in the public life of Montreal.

He was an ardent advocate of the value of athletics among school boys, and at the time of his death was president of the Athletic Association at the High School.

It was largely through his efforts that the recent gymnastic competition between the High School and Lennoxville was arranged.

A TALK ON JOHN BUNYAN.

Rev. John Brown's Lecture in Emmanuel Church.

A good audience gathered last evening in Emmanuel Church to hear the lecture on "John Bunyan," delivered by Dr. John Brown, the biographer of Bunyan, and for forty years the honored successor in the pastorate of the Bedford Church. It is needless to say that the lecturer displayed an intimate acquaintance with the facts of Bunyan's life and a most sympathetic appreciation of his character and work. The old story of the early life, the marriage, the conversion of the immortal dreamer, was told with the most charming simplicity. Then came an account of his ministry and his punishment. The feelings of the audience were deeply stirred over the recital of that combination of political expediency and ecclesiastical bigotry which made it possible in England for so saintly a man to spend twelve years of the best of his life in a common gaol. Dr. Brown has been criticised by some for his outspoken nonconformity and the sharpness of his attack upon clericalism, but those who listened to him last night had no difficulty in finding a reason for this uncompromising temper.

BUNYAN'S LITERARY WORK.

Bunyan's three greatest works, "Grace Abounding," "The Holy War," and "The Pilgrim's Progress" were all dealt with in turn, special emphasis being laid upon the first, and the last, the one the unfolding of a personal experience, the other dealing with the every day life of the every day Christian. In this connection the lecturer pointed out the fidelity with which types of character were represented in such men as Mr. Byends, Mr. Obstinate and Mr. Pliable, and brought his audience up with a round turn with the remark, "And I am very much inclined to think that Mr. Facing-both-ways is now Prime Minister of England." The immense popularity of "Pilgrim's Progress" was dealt with, and it was pointed out that this work of an out and out Nonconformist, had been edited by Roman Catholic authorities for the use of the people of that church. It had been a constant companion in circulation with the Bible, and the relation of the two had been compared to that of the singing of the birds on the rising of the sun.

At the close of the lecture a vote of thanks was carried with great heartiness.

Mr. I. G. Ogden, third vice-president of the C. P. R., left last night for Smith's Falls, from where he will go north into the fishing district for a few days.

Mr. C. E. E. Ussher, general passenger agent of the C. P. R., returns to-morrow from Toronto.

THE MONTREAL STREET RAILWAY

Managing Director Does Not See How City Can Pass New By Law.

THEIR CONTRACT IS EXPLICIT

Thinks Terminal Railway is Not Entitled to Consideration by City Council.

Mr. W. G. Ross, managing director of the Montreal Street Railway, interviewed on the action of the Montreal City Council yesterday respecting the changes in the Montreal Terminal agreement, and the notice of motion to increase the hours for the workmen's tickets on the Montreal Street Railway system, said:

"To me the whole thing is preposterous. The Montreal Terminal Company secured their entrance into Montreal under certain conditions contained in a solemn contract between it and the city. It now comes before the council and asks to be relieved of these conditions.

"The changes asked for by the Terminal mean that the citizens will have to put their hands in their pockets to make a profit for the promoters of a company, which from the start has proven not to be serious.

"With regard to the motion presented yesterday in reference to the varying of the hours of workmen's tickets, I must refer you to article 35 of the contract, which is perfectly clear and explains itself, and which is as follows:

"The company shall also be held to sell tickets in all their offices and cars, at the rate of six for twenty-five cents, and twenty-five for one dollar, and to provide tickets for school children at the rate of ten for twenty-five cents, and the company shall also sell eight tickets for twenty-five cents, available between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock in the morning, and between the hours of five and seven o'clock in the evening, on all week days; said hours variable at option of the City Council.

"There is no possible method by which the word 'variable' can be construed to carry out the motion as proposed by Ald. Lapointe of extending the hours for workmen's tickets. From time to time the Montreal Street Railway has varied the hours in which workmen's tickets could be used, doing so at the request of the City Council, as called for in the contract. The by-law is perfectly clear."

THE MEXICAN L. H. & P. CO.

They Have Purchased $12,000,000 of Property in Mexico.

Mr. F. S. Pearson, the chief promoter of the Mexican Light and Power Company, having arirved in the city from London, a series of meetings of this corporation's directors are being held. There was a meeting yesterday, and as the business before them remained unfinished there will, in all probability be another session to-day. To-morrow a general meeting of the stockholders has been called to ratify the recent purchase and consider the various questions pertaining to the company's future.

The company lately acquired two of the largest lighting companies in the Republic, the San Ildefonso Lighting Company and the Mexican Gas and Electric Company. The price paid for these two corporations is understood to be in the neighborhood of $12,000,000, and the shareholders are being called together to authorize a bond issue which will cover this expenditure, as well as provide for future contingencies.

Mr. L. B. McFarlane, General Superintendent of the Bell Telephone Company, and daughter, who accompanied the Canadian Manufacturers, Association on the Victorian, sailing from Montreal about ten days ago, have arrived in the Old Country safe and well. They attended the King's reception at Windsor Castle to-day.

Mr. Seymour E. Gourley, ex-M.P., who has been a patient at St. Luke's Hospital, New York, has returned to his home at Truro, Nova Scotia.

¶ The newest finger ring is one in which the gems encircle the entire finger.
¶ The fashionable jewel wearers of London and Paris have found in them an acceptable novelty in rings—different from the more standard three, four and five stone "Half Hoops."
¶ We bespeak for them a very popular demand—set with diamonds and the various colored stones now so fashionable.

We mention particularly our Ruby and Sapphire Rings in this style. No. 10766 contains 18 oblong-shaped Sapphires, selling for $22.50; while No. 10767 contains 17 Rubies, at $27.00.

¶ Your inspection is invited. There will be no selling insistence on our part. We are pleased to show them.

SALVATION ARMY AND ITS NEW HOME

Structure at Corner of Cathcart and University Streets.

A USE FOR THE OLD BARRACKS

Alexander Street Headquarters Will Probably Become a Species of Clothing Depot.

The Salvation Army expects to have its new hall, at the corner of Cathcart and University streets, completed about the first of November.

It is now a couple of years since the Army purchased the property referred to. Since that time alterations have been progressing gradually. Offices and residences for the provincial officers have been fitted up and the hall is now nearing completion.

It will have a seating capacity of about 800 or 1,000, and will be adapted to the needs of the Army.

The total cost of the ground and the buildings is in the vicinity of $50,000.

The Army has not yet disposed of its Alexander street barracks, and it is thought that unless a favorable offer is received for them shortly the work of the Army will be continued in them. The officers are evolving a scheme whereby they hope to accomplish a new and very useful work. They will make an attempt to inaugurate a shelter home of some description, in connection with which will be a sort of exchange where clothing may be sent and where possibly a form of labor bureau may be carried on. The plan is yet in the rough, but it will likely take shape before the winter, and the barracks will likely be utilized for the purpose.

THE LAWYERS IN SESSION.

Mr. Eugene Lafleur, K.C., Elected Batonnier of Province.

Mr. Eugene Lafleur, K.C., Batonnier of the Montreal Bar, has been chosen Batonnier-General of the Bar of the whole province, and Mr. Arthur Globensky, K.C., also of this city, has been unanimously re-elected secretary-general for another year.

The general meeting of the Bar was held at the Court House, Montreal. Those present were Mr. Eugene Lafleur, K.C., Batonnier, Mr. Honore Gervais, K.C., M.P.; and Rodolphe Monty, delegates of the Montreal Bar; Mr. F. X. Drouin, K.C., Batonnier, and Messrs. H. A. Turcotte, K.C., and C. E. Dorion, K.C., delegates of the Qeubec Bar; Messrs. F. S. Tourigny, K.C., Batonnier, and J. A. Tessier, K.C., M.L.A., delegates of the Three Rivers Bar; Messrs. L. E. Panneton, K.C., Batonnier, and William Morris, K.C., delegates of the Bar of St. Francis; Mr. S. Constantineau, K.C., Batonnier of the district of Bedford, and Mr. T. P. Foran, K.C., Hull, batonnier of the Ottawa district.

The General Council determined to petition the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, asking that the new tariff of fees in the Superior Court be put into force.

STRUCK DOWN AT LONGUE PT.

Peter Tremblay, 28 years of age, was killed to-day while he was at work in the locomotive works, at Longue Point. The victim was engaged in repairing machinery, when he was struck on the head by a travelling crane. When picked up life was hanging by a thread and the ambulance of the General Hospital was telephoned for, but before its arrival life had passed away. The body was then taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be held to-morrow morning. The deceased had a brother and brother-in-law living at Longue Point. He was a steady, reliable workman and his sudden death is much regretted by his comrades.

Mr. Irwin succeeded his father in business in 1840, and has, therefore been at the head of his own works for the past sixty-five years. He has been president of the Mechanics' Institute, and superintendent of Dominion Square Sunday school.

SUPERIOR COURT JUDGMENTS.

Another Batch of Interesting Decisions Given To-day.

Another batch of judgments was rendered to-day in the Superior Court, and a large number may be expected each day until the opening of the long vacation.

In the case of L. J. Primeau, who claimed $68.10 damages and sought to force his landlord, Mr. S. Riendeau, to repair the leak in the roof of his house, Mr. Justice Archibald granted $43.10 damages, and ordered the necessary repairs to be made within twenty days.

The same judge awarded $400 damages to W. Perron in his suit for $999.99 against the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Company. The plaintiff was loading sugar on one of the Shedden Company's vehicles, from a chute down which bags of sugar were sent by the refinery employes. The sacks were sent down too fast, despite plaintiff's protests, and one of them knocked him over, breaking his ankle.

Mr. J. A. Chaurest, M.L.A. for Jacques Cartier county, was condemned by Mr. Justice Archibald to pay $182 to Mr. A. P. Pigeon, printer, for copies of the electoral lists of his county furnished during the last provincial elections. Mr. C. Laurandeau, who was Mr. Chaurest's election agent, had refused to accept the lists, on the ground that they had been finished too late to be of any use, but the Court held that the contract had been filled as soon as possible.

Mr. Justice Pagnuelo dismissed the suit of T. J. Parkes against Geo. M. Webster. The plaintiff sought to recover $500 under the dissolution of the partnership formerly existing between the parties, under the name of Webster Bros. & Parkes, but failed to prove his case to the satisfaction of the court.

The same judge in the case of Dame Alice Gorrie vs. David Morris, ordered that a sum of £1,400, left by will of the late John Morris to furnish an annuity of £100 a year to his daughter, Mrs. Alexander Gorrie, mother of the plaintiff, to be distributed later among the children of Mrs. Gorrie, should be divided into seven equal parts, one of which was to be paid to each of the four surviving brothers and sisters, including the plaintiff, and three to the heirs of the three children of Mrs. Gorrie, who had predeceased her. The action was taken with the object of forcing the defendant, who was the executor of the estate of the late John Morris, to distribute the capital of the annuity only among the surviving children of the late Mrs. Gorrie, leaving her grandchildren out.

In the case of Alfred Lorrain against Donat Raymond, proprietor and manager of the Queen's Hotel, whereby the plaintiff seeks to force the management of the Queen's to dismiss certain employes, in virtue of the Alien Labor Act, Mr. Justice Davidson suspended the proceedings for ten days, and ordered the plaintiff to furnish security for the costs within that time.

The Harbour Commissioners in Court.

The case against the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, who are charged by M. Robideau with having violated the Allen Labor Law by having imported men from Buffalo to work for them, was called in the Recorder's Court to-day. Mr. J. C. Lamothe, advocate, appeared for the plaintiff, while Mr. Geoffrion filed an appearance on behalf of the Montreal Harbor Commissioners. The case was postponed until Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, when it is expected that both sides will be ready to go on with the hearing.

MADE HIS BED IN CEMETERY VAULT

Queer Escapade Last Evening of Youthful Greek.

SLEPT AMONG THE TOMBS

Crept Out of Coffin Scaring Officials Who Quickly Took to Their Heels.

A young man, who appears to be of unsound mind, was found sleeping in a rough coffin in one of the vaults in Mount Royal Cemetery last night.

Two of the employes of the Cemetery Company, who were moving coffins near by, were nearly scared to death when the young fellow got out of the box and commenced to walk towards them.

One of the men threw a piece of earth at him to see if he was really living, and then took to his heels and ran away. Constable Tiernan, of Outremont, was telephoned for and he placed the man, who was in his bare feet, and who had a wild look in his eyes, under arrest on a charge of loitering. He told the constable that his name was Luring, but that is all the information he could get out of him. He looks like a Greek.

A Greek interpreter was taken out to Outremont this morning, and while the offender seems to be a Greek, very little could be ascertained about him. He is of dark complexion, wears a dark moustache, and is dressed in a gray suit and blue shirt. He was brought down to police headquarters this afternoon and will be brought before the Recorder to-morrow morning.

When given an old pair of boots by the authorities of Outremont to come into the city with the laughed heartily when they were put on his feet. He will likely be examined by the medical experts to-morrow.

High School Boys Will Attend Funeral

A large number of the scholars in the boy's senior classes at the High school were in attendance at the meeting called for this morning to consider what action should be taken in view of the death of Mr. E. L. Curry, the classical master. Those present, however, were not as numerous as would have been the case had the notice been longer.

Mr. Wellington Dixon, the rector of the High School, presided. It was determined that the boys would send a wreath and attend the funeral, to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, in a body. The teachers of the High School have also forwarded a wreath to be laid upon the bier.

Interment will take place in Mount Royal cemetery.

BIG STRUGGLE IN RAILWAY COMMITTEE

Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern Railway Bill Up Again.

THE C. P. R. VS. JAMES J. HILL

Mr. Drinkwater Heard on Behalf of the Canadian Pacific—An Amendment Voted Down.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 20.—The strenuous Railway Committee this morning resumed consideration of the bill respecting the Victoria, Vancouver, and Eastern Railway Bill, involving a fight between the Canadian Pasific and James J. Hill interests in connection with the construction of a line of railway from the Boundary district to Vancouver, B.C. The sub-committee reported that the legal phraseology of Clause I. was correct and Mr. A. B. Aylesworth was called upon to explain the provisions of the bill.

Mr. Aylesworth explained that the company was also asking for power to construct a telegraph system, docks, and a ferry system. The objection coming to the Federal Parliament is to clear up the existing conflict of authority between the Provincial and Federal laws.

AMENDMENT VOTED DOWN.

When Mr. Aylesworth had concluded, the Minister of Justice suggested an amendment to Clause I. which, among other things, made the provisions of the Dominion Act apply to expropriations instead of the Provincial Act. Mr. Aylesworth protested he did not know where this would leave the company. On a vote Mr. Fitzpatrick's amendment was lost on a vote of 58 to 52. The clause was then adopted. On Clause III., dealing with connecwith railways in the State of Washington. Mr. McLean demanded an explanation of the policy of the Government. Mr. Duncan Ross, Yale and Cariboo, the promoter of the bill, said the railway would not divert trade from southern British Columbia. The only reason for going south of the boundary was because a suitable pass through the mountains could not be found on Canadian territory.

MR. DRINKWATER HEARD.

Mr. Drinkwater was heard on behalf of the C. P. R. He said that in constructing the C. P. R. line from Robson to Midway, the company was bound by the provincial legislation not to cross the international boundary. When the line was continued to Princetown, the company would be bound by the same restrictions. Six million dollars had been spent, and not one cent of interest returned. On the other hand this company was seeking for power to cross the boundary, thereby saving a large sum. It was the policy of the Canadian Pacific to build on Canadian soil and in Canadian interests. Mr. Drinkwater had not concluded when the committee rose at one o'clock.

MR. BOURASSA TO MOVE A SUB-AMENDMENT.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 20.—Mr. Bourassa, of Labelle, will move an amendment to Mr. Monk's amendment to clause 16, of the Alberta Autonomy bill. The effect of the sub-amendment will be to leave Mr. Monk's amendment a simple provision for the use of the French language in the legislature and courts of the province.

DISASTROUS RAILWAY WRECK.

Three Men Killed in Collision in Connecticut.

Newington, Conn., June 20.—A light engine running west collided with a heavy eastbound freight train early this morning, just above the junction of the Highland and the Hartford Divisions of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway at Newington, blockading the tracks with wreckage, and causing the death of three men, with probably fatal injuries to another and serious injuries to the fifth member of the train crews.

The dead are: Louis C. Stratton, brakeman, of East Hartford; George J. Schiadenhauffer, fireman, of Chicopee, Mass.; Herbert Beneslaw, fireman, of East Hartford.

The injured are: Engineer F. F. Pruett, Rutland, Vt., who will die; Engineer Widcox, Rutland, Vt., who is expected to recover.

The freight train was more than two hours late, and because of its slow progress a light engine in charge of Engineer Pruett was sent out from East Hartford with instructions to wait at Newington Junction.

Engineer Pruett had been instructed to let two trains go by. He let one train pass and then started out on the single track and ran into the eastbound freight. The impact of the two engines was terrific. The light engine rebounded about 15 rods, but kept the rails. Engineer Pruett was thrown through the cab window and one leg and one arm were severed from the body.

FIGHT FOR REMOVAL OF CATTLE EMBARGO

Strong Resolutions Adopted by Agricultural Committee of the House.

DEMAND MADE FOR JUSTICE

Joint Action Called for on the Part of the Dominion and Provincial Authorities.

Ottawa, Ont., June 20.—At the meeting of the Agricultural Committee of the House this morning, the question of the British embargo on Canadian cattle was once more discussed and two resolutions adopted which indicate that it is not the intention of the Canadian Parliament to give up the fight for the removal of the embargo. Some members of the committee went so far as to advocate the removal of the preference on British goods if the Imperial Parliament continued to persist in its unreasonable attitude.

JUSTICE IS DEMANDED.

The resolutions adopted are as follows:

"That in the opinion of this committee, the embargo on Canadian cattle entering the United Kingdom is most unfair and unjust, as it is application to the world at large, that the Board of Agriculture considers unsafe to permit Canadian cattle to come into contact with the herds in the United Kingdom; whereas, it is a well known fact that in no country other than Canada can herds be found so free from disease.

"That the scheduling of Canada by the Imperial Government is considered from a financial point of view a serious loss to the Canadian cattle trade, the farmers and the stock raisers of the Dominion.

"That the action of the Imperial Government is not justified by the facts of the case, it having been clearly proved that the disease of pleuro-pneumonia has never existed in Canadian herds.

"That in view of such conditions the removal of Canada from the schedule would be but an act of justice, and should be strenuously pressed. That as the Dominion is a stock raising country and capable of producing a large and constant supply of beef cattle it is considered important to the Empire that no obstructions or difficulties should be placed in the way of Canadian cattle breeders which would tend to decrease the food supply within the Empire."

The resolution was carried unanimously.

COMBINED ACTION CALLED FOR.

On motion of Mr. Armstrong, of Lambton, the Government was also asked to despatch the Minister of Agriculture to Great Britain, and to invite also the Provincial Ministers of Agriculture to join in a meeting with the president of the Board of Agriculture to endeavor to present the Canadian view. Mr. Armstrong's motion suggested also that this conference might be open to the press, so that the views expressed might find their way to the British public.

DRASTIC ACTION SUGGESTED.

Several members expressed doubt as to the effect the resolution would have and proposed more vigorous action. Mr. Caldwell, of North Lanark, went so far as to ask that if Great Britain did not remove the embargo, Canada should repeal the preferential tariff in favor of British imports.

FRANCE AND GERMANY AGREE

An Amicable Adjustment of All Difficulties is Believed to Be Near at Hand.

Paris, June 20.—An international conference for the consideration of the affairs of Morocco is now practically assured as the result of the conversation between Premier Rouvier and Prince Radolin, the German Ambassador, and attention is now being directed to defining the scope of the conference. Details are being rapidly arranged, and the officials expect to announce the plans for the conference in four or five days.

This result, after the severe strain which tested the diplomatic resources of both Governments, has the effect of relieving the tension, the officials of the Foreign Office and the diplomats of the German Embassy agreeing that an amicable adjustment is near at hand.

Although the acceptance of the conference gives a certain measure of success to German diplomacy, yet M. Rouvier gains the advantage of having brought Germany to exactly define the scope of the conference and so to rid it of the objection of being a menace to French interests.

GRANTED A LAVAL DEGREE.

Governor-General Eulogizes the Work of the University.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, June 20. — The Governor-General received the degree of Doctor of Laws from Laval University last night.

There was a magnificent reception in his honor, and the Lieutenant-Governor, Lady Jette, Archbishop Begin and all the local dignitaries of the church and State were present.

His Excellency made a speech, acknowledging the honor done him, eulogizing the work done by the University and expressing the hope that one of its graduates might capture a Cecil Rhodes scholarship.

He also alluded to the fact that it was a French-Canadian, Mr. Papineau, who had last year taken this honor at McGill.

BRUTAL TORTURE INFLICTED.

Non-Union Teamster Barbarously Treated in Chicago.

Chicago, June 20.—Edward Bickett, a non-union teamster, employed by the National Express Company, was subjected to barbarous torture early today by four men, alleged to be strike sympathizers. Bickett was attacked in front of the Teamsters' Union headquarters. After being knocked down by the men, three fingers of his right hand were broken and two of his finger nails were torn off. The victim appealed to the men to have mercy, but his cries were in vain, and when the assailants left he was unconscious in the street, where he was found later by a policeman.

SENT TO PENITENTIARY.

Special to the Montreal Star.

London, Ont., June 20. — Louis Rheaume, the Quebec "politician," was this morning sentenced to two years in the Kingston penitentiary on two charges, one of horse stealing and the other of forgery. Rheaume came here at the time of the recent election and took a horse and rig from a livery man and did not return it. He also passed a forged cheque on a city hotel man. He collapsed in the prisoner's dock when the sentence was pronounced.

GERMANY AND THE WEST INDIES

Kaiser Seeking a Strategic Base in the Caribbean Sea.

WORKING UNDER DANISH MASK

A Big Battle Will Be Fought for Commercial Supremacy in Southern Waters.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 20.—The correspondent of the New York Herald, at San Juan de Porto Rica, says:

"Evidences multiply to show that Germany intends to press hard for commercial supremacy in the Caribbean Sea; that the people of the British West Indies are aroused by the fact that Holland is voluntarily realizing the force of the Monroe Doctrine, and that Germany would like very much to obtain a foothold in St. Thomas. It is conceded significant that the Danish Asiatic Company, a wealthy corporation doing business with the Far East, recently acquired Water Island in the harbor of Charlotte Amalia, St. Thomas, at once commenced to erect there a coaling station on an extensive scale, and then turned over a controlling interest to the Hamburg American Steamship Company.

UNDER A DANISH MASK.

"Thus, under a Danish mask, Germany gets the long and openly coveted occupation. It is also a matter for reflection that while Great Britain is practically abolishing the position of vantage which she already occupied in the West Indies, the power from whose aggressiveness she has most to fear is desperately striving, by every means, to obtain a strategic base in Caribbean waters."

WORTH WATCHING.

The press of St. Lucia, is calling attention to the rivalry of St. Thomas, Dominica, Trinidad and Barbadoes for harbor improvements to catch a share of the coaling and other trade that the Panama Canal will surely bring to West Indian Waters.

Students of the expansion problem will do well to study the West Indies just now."

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Speaker Lowther Installed To-day—The Army Stores Scandal.

London, June 20th.—The House of Commons reassembled to-day after the Whitsuntide holidays, and the new Speaker, Mr. Lowther, was installed after a brief ceremony in the House of RIGHT HON. J. W. LOWTHER, Recently made Speaker of the British House of Commons.

Lords, at which the Royal approval of Mr. Lowther's selection was announced.

The Opposition immediately thereafter bombarded the Government with questions about the army stores scandal, and Premier Balfour announced that the Government had placed the papers connected with the case in the hands of the Director of Public Prosecutions. The latter, however, considered that the papers did not reveal any ground for criminal prosecution. The censured officers had been relieved from their duties.

Mr. Balfour added that he proposed to appoint a Select Committee of the House of Commons to deal with the matter.

Right Hon. James William Lowther the new Speaker of the British House of Commons, has served as Chairman of Ways and Means and as Deputy-Speaker since 1895. He was educated at Eton, King's College, London, and Trinity College, Cambridge, graduating from the latter college with honors. He was admitted to the Bar in 1879, was Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs in 1891, and the following year represented Great Britain at the international conference at Venice. Mr. Lowther has represented in Parliament the Penrith Division of Cumberland since 1886, and is a member of the Privy Council and a Justice of the Peace. His age is 50 years.

STREET RIOT AT COLOGNE.

German City the Scene of a Lawless Demonstration.

Cologne, Germany, June 20.—A serious collision occurred last night between the police and the populace on Chlodwig's Platz. The police received orders for the eviction of a tenant, who was behind in the payment of rent for his house. An enraged crowd, numbering thousands, assembled, and some of the tenants of neighboring houses threw stones and other objects at the police from the windows, while the crowd in front of the delinquent tenant's residence made riotous demonstrations. Finally the police drew their swords and dispersed the crowd, but not before the rioting had lasted six hours. About twenty persons were wounded, two of them being severely injured.

TO EXTEND HOURS FOR LOW FARES

Proposed Way of Getting Cheap Fares on Street Cars.

CABMEN AND TOURIST CARS

Postpone Sale of Civic Property—It Will Probably Be Kept for Parks.

The cabmen of the city were taken care of at the meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon, when a bylaw was passed forbidding anyone to solicit fares on the streets. By the passing of the by-law agents will not be allowed to sell tickets on the streets for rides on observation cars.

For a long time the cabmen have been contending that such a mode of getting business was unjust, seeing that cabmen were not allowed to solicit fares on the streets.

The by-law, proposed yesterday afternoon, was by Ald Ames, and was as follows:—

"It shall be unlawful for an yperson, syndicate, company or corporation whatsoever, to traffic in, exhibit, sell, offer or expose for sale tickets of any kind, including passage tickets for street railway cars, automobiles or any other vehicles whatsoever, books, circulars, pamphlets, or any kind of articles, goods or merchandise, in any street, lane, highway or public place in the said city, unless in virtue of a license granted under a by-law of the said city."

Before the by-law was adopted Ald. Ames explained that the enactment would not prevent tickets from being sold in hotels or other public places; the intent of the by-law was to place agents of electric cars and cabmen on an equal footing.

CLOSING OF STREETS.

The council finally decided the thorny question of closing certain streets near Place Viger station, running from Notre Dame street to the river front, in order that the C. P. R. might increase its yard room. Ald. Levy explained that the streets were of little use to the city and should be closed; their closing would lead to an important move on the part of the C. P. R. in regard to improving Place Viger station. A by-law, ordering the closing of the streets, was read and adopted without discussion.

DISPOSING OF CIVIC PROPERTY.

There was a lengthy discussion over the proposal that the city should sell a large tract of land it owns in St. Henri. The city has not used the land for many years, and members of Finance Committee thought the property should be sold and the proceeds come into the civic treasury. The sale of the land had actually been ordered, but a letter from the Mayor of St. Henri, had the effect of altering the entire proceedings. The letter asked that the land be not sold at the present time, but that the council appoint a delegation to discuss the matter with the people of St. Henri.

Ald. Lavallee, in a long speech, pleaded for all large tracts of land being preserved for the people as parks, etc. He said the time was near when the city would annex St. Henri. Because of this the land should not be sold, but turned into a public park. St. Henri was very much congested, and when it became a part of the city, it ought to be provided with parks the same as other wards. He pointed out that in other cities the intent was to provide all the park space possible. This was the right view to take. He urged that the land in question be not sold, but be made into a park for the people.

Ald. Gallery, who is anxious to have a tract of land near St. Ann's Ward turned into a park, said he approved of the idea of saving the land in St. Henri and having it made into a paro.

Other members of Council urged that the land be not sold, as the time was approaching when Montreal would be a great city and ought to have plenty of park room.

It was finally decided that the sale of the land should be postponed in order that the whole question could be discussed with the people of St. Henri.

The Council also decided that the tract of land near St. Ann's Ward should not be sold, but turned into a playground.

CHEAPER FARES FOR CITIZENS.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe gave an important notice of motion, that he would ask that the by-law of the Street Railway Company be amended in such a manner that it should extend the hours for selling of cheap tickets mornings and evenings. What are termed workingmen's tickets are now sold by the company for use only between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock in the morning, and between the hours of five and seven in the evening.

By the motion of Ald. Laporte the desire is to force the company to extend the hours of sale of such tickets between the hours of 5 and 9 o'clock in the morning and between the hours of 4 and 8 o'clock in the evening.

It was contended by Ald. Lapointe that a clause in the Street Railway by-law gave the city power to order such change.

The motion made by Ald. Lapointe to make the change was as follows:

"Ald Lapointe gives notice of motion that 30 days hence, I will move the first reading of a by-law to amend by-law No. 210, by striking therefrom section 23, and replacing the same by the following:

"Sec. 23.—The company shall also be held to sell tickets in all their offices and cars, at the rate of 6 for 25 cents and 25 for one dollar, and to provide tickets for school children at the rate of ten for twenty-five cents, and the company shall also sell 8 tickets for 25 cents, available between the hours of 5 and 9 o'clock in the morning and between the hours of 4 and 8 o'cock in the evening on all week days; said hours variable at option of the City Council.."

Section 23, which is referred to by Ald. Lapointe, and which now governs the selling of tickets, reads as follows:

23. The company also shall be held to sell tickets in their office and cars at the rate of 6 for 25 cents, and 25 for one dollar, and to provide tickets for school children at the rate of 10 for 25 cents, and the company also shall sell 8 tickets for 25 cents, available between the hours of six and eight o'clock in the morning and between the hours of five and seven o'clock in the evening, on all week days, said hours variable at the option of the City Council."

Speaking of his notice of motion, Ald Lapointe said that, as there was a clause in the by-law in question, which said the hours of selling such tickets could be varied by the City Council, he could see no reason why the company should not be forced to give better terms to citizens. He certainly intended to press his notice of motion.

THE BUSINESS MEN'S LEAGUE.

Several petitions were presented. One from the Business Men's League, asked the city to hurry the work of erecting a new mountain lookout.

A letter from the secretary of the committee named at Ottawa to study the question of constructing a sort of slideway near the foot of Lake Erie and whether the same would affect navigation at Montreal, was read, inviting the council to send a delegation to express its views at a meeting which will be held in Montreal July 11, at 11 a.m. This committee is composed of both American and Canadians, appointed by their respective governments.

A petition from Henry Tucker was read asking permission to form an association for the raising of poultry stock.

A letter from the Plumbers' Union objecting to changing the plumbing by-law was also read.

THE CANADIAN ELECTRICAL ASSOCIATION CONVENTION IN MONTREAL.—Mr. K. B. Thornton, President.

ST. LOUIS TOWN COUNCIL.

Amended Building By-Law — Early Closing Movement.

There was a warm discussion in the Town Council of St. Louis, last evening, with regard to the amendment to the building by-law, to permit Messrs. Marcoux and Guyon to erect wooden brick encased buildings on Mount Royal Ave. Mr. P. E. Leblanc, K.C., represented these gentlemen and argued that the council had the power to make such amendment, and that it had been adopted in first and second readings at the last meeting.

Councillor Martel moved the third reading, but Councillor Oliver objected that the first and second readings had not been regularly carried. There was a long discussion and the opinion of Mr. F. J. Bisaillon, K.C., the town's legal adviser, was obtained to the effect that the first and second readings had not been legal. Finally the first and second readings were carried anew, and the third reading fixed for next meeting.

Councillor Martin drew attention to the complaint of the licensed butchers that people came in from the country and sold meat and other produce in the streets. Councillor Jubinville remarked that until the town had a regular market this must be expected, unless a special by-law were adopted to prevent it.

Councillor Martin proposed that an early closing by-law be passed. Mr. Jacob, president of the Early Closing Association, and Mr. Meunier, the secretary, were present and were allowed to address the council in favor of this by-law. After some discussion the matter was adjourned to the next meeting to obtain the advice of the city attorney in the meantime.

—Design by May Manton.

4963—GIRL'S COSTUME, 8 TO 14 YEARS—4963

Surplice effects are among the newest and most effective of all models for young girls, and will be greatly worn during the coming season. The very attractive little frock illustrated combines a waist so made with a circular skirt but is closed invisibly at the centre back. In the case of the model the material is pale green albatross with chemisette and cuffs of string colored lace and the trimming of silk banding and braid, but all those that are soft enough to render shirring effective are appropriate.

The frock consists of the waist portion and the skirt. The waist is made over a fitted lining, on which the chemisette is arranged, and consists of the full front and backs. The collar extends well over the shoulders and serves to finish the front edges of the waist while the sleeves are made over fitted linings, which are faced to form cuffs, the full portions being shirred midway of their length, so forming double puffs. The skirt is in one piece and is shirred at its upper edge.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (12 years) is 10½ yards 21, 9 yards 27 or 6 yards 44 inches wide, with ½ yard of all-over lace, 8 yards of wide and 12 yards of narrow braid to trim as illustrated.

A May Manton pattern, No. 4963, cut in sizes for girls of 8, 10, 12 and 14 years of age, will be mailed to any address outside the city by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. City patrons must call at the Star Branch office, corner Peel and St. Catherine streets.

ANSWER TO CORRESPONDENT.

A money-making attraction for a lawn party planned in the interests of a church is what one correspondent living in Verdun asks us to suggest. Here are some ideas to supplement the usual tea and cake booth:— A paper-hat booth, with an annex in which by paying for the privilege—men might trim hat-shapes with paper; a booth fitted out with requirements for picnic parties and children's summer games.

But something entirely novel and simple as well is progressive peanut euchre, just introducel by a New York woman. Several tables might be provided for this, prizes offered and a fee charged each player. Naturally on a summer day, even if under a marquee or trees, the games should not continue very long, because of the heat, but they are quite lively and provocative of mirth while they last.

The game is not taxing. Any one with a steady hand makes a good player. The only mental exertion needed is to pick a nut from the pile in the middle of the table without moving the others. When the tables have been arranged on the lawn as for progressive euchre, a small gong placed on the "king" table, the players each given a euchre tally point card, numbered as high as 300.

To start off the game the hostess or whoever has it in charge announces that the game lasts for five minutes, and that all persons sitting on the east side of the tables shall begin first.

Beside the pile of peanuts carefully banked in the middle of each table is a pair of small plain tongs, like those that come in candy boxes. They must never have prongs as we see on sugar tongs, or it will be almost impossible to get one out without moving several others. The softer and more pliable the little tongs the easier it is to get the nuts.

Perhaps it sounds too easy to arouse interest in the guests, but while it is a lazy game, the only kind a person wants in hot weather, the chance of getting more from the mound to progress to another table and get in line for a prize saves it from being dull. It's not so easy, however, to get even one peanut from the pile without moving the others, as one finds when one tries it.

It is doubly hard because only one person can play at a time, while the other three at the table, instead of planning how to play their cards as in progressive euchre, are eagerly watching for the slightest mistake, ready to shout "Lost!" and anxious for their turn.

The first player has an advantage over the others, because when the peanuts are piled in a mound in the centre, a few usually fall away and can be picked up without touching the others. After they have been safely transferred to the player's side, the difficulty of getting one from the mound where they are all resting, one on another, becomes apparent, and an inexperienced person usually fails, for after accidentally touching one with the tongs he will be greeted with gleeful shrieks of "Lost!" and even if the five minute time limit for the game has not been called, he takes the one nut that brought the disaster and passes the tongs to the person on the left.

At the end of five minutes the bell on the "king" table is rung and all play is stopped. The number of nuts won by each person is punched opposite the corresponding number in his tally card. Seats are changed as at the conclusion of a game in progressive euchre.

Again the nuts are banked after being collected from the players winning them, and the second game is played exactly like the first.

At the end of a certain number of games, decided at the beginning, the persons having picked out the greatest number of nuts are given the prizes.

Those who have played this new game several times say there is a knack in handling the tongs that comes through much practice, and that the sharp, quick movement disturbs fewer nuts than a slow easy one, and gives your opponent less chance to profit by your blunders in knocking several from the pile into positions where they are easy to get.

Between one hundred and fifty and two hundred nuts, in the shells, of course, are piled into a mound on each table as near like a small hill with a point in the middle as is possible, for in this position each nut rests on at least one other, and it's most difficult to get more than one at a move without disturbing several or perhaps causing a whole slide, which sometimes loses the game for the first player, who is supposed to have the advantage.

Though you fail in your effort to get a peanut without shaking any of the others in the pile, the one you touch is always yours, so you get at least one count for your trial. Without meaning to be unfair many persons try to slide the nuts out instead of seizing them with the tongs and firmly pulling each one from the pile.

In banking the peanuts every effort should be made to get them as near the centre of the table as is possible, that all players will have an equal chance. Each person has the privilege of taking a nut from any side of the stock if it can be done without leaving one's place, but no one is permitted to walk around the table and play from a selected spot.

In buying the peanuts—and for a dollar sufficient can be procured—choose those with as many lumps as you can find, for they are the most difficult to move in playing the game.

The tally-cards, if lettered with the occasion and date, may easily be made worth carrying home. The leading prizes should be something attractive, but the consolation prize for the person landing the fewest nuts may be a miniature drum, being something you can beat, a clay pipe, suggesting "smoke up," or a tiny egg beater.

OBJECTION TO VENTILATION

The Odd Scenes and Incidents on a Huge Train for the West.

The colonist train in which I lived for the greater part of a week was made up of the old style colonist coaches.

Seats made of slats, without cushions,—for such, of course, would be impossible and ensure sanitary conditions—grew decidedly hard after a couple of hours' journey. By an arrangement the back of these could be slipped down until a framework similar to that employed in the ordinary sleeping car presented itself with an upper berth similarly arranged. In each of these cars there was accommodation for about 60 persons.

The C. P. R. has for the past year or so been building new cars, one of which I inspected at Quebec. They are lighter and more airy and can be swept and swabbed out more conveniently than the old ones. In them also there is a range and conveniences for cooking, in all of which the train which conveyed the Mount Temple's passengers westward was deficient. With any other surroundings the old cars could have been made comfortable enough, but——

In the eleven cars some six hundred odd people were seated as the train pulled out of Quebec about 6 p.m. on that Tuesday evening, and of these over a hundred and fifty were below 15 years of age, many of them being children in arms. The vast majority were monumentally dirty.

Soon after leaving Quebec the conductor and interpreter commenced their rounds.

FEEDING AND SLEEPING.

Crowded in each car and readily accommodating themselves to the new conditions were the immigrants surrounded by such Lares and Penates as were necessary for the journey or were too valuable to be entrusted to the baggage van. They had already begun to eat and as far as I could judge only interrupted that operation throughout the trip to sleep.

The last car was filled completely with Galicians eating dry bread. The windows were all shut tightly, and they apparently resented as an insult (to be borne meekly, however), the opening of any ventilators. Already a strange foetid smell, different from anything I had ever before encountered, pervaded the cars. They surrendered their tickets for inspection quickly enough as their long train journey from the southern part of Austria through Germany to the coast had familiarized them with the operation.

The second, third, and fourth cars also carried Galicians, the fifth carried Russian, German and Austrian Poles.

The first compartment of the sixth held Magyars (Hungarians), and Buckovinians. The smoker and contained a number of French families. These last were the cleanest and finest of the lot, and consisted of several families, largely composed of women and children, going out to join husbands, fathers, or brothers, who had settled at Red Deer, near Edmonton.

A MOTLEY GROUP.

The remaining cars contained a motley host of Italians, Russians, Belgians and Galicians. Nearly all had blankets which had accompanied them on their ocean voyage, and which added much to the odor which was wafted everywhere. The blankets later proved very necessary, as, though the days were warm, the nights, especially as the train proceeded along by the north shore of Lake Superior, were bitterly cold.

After the check of the tickets, the count, I found, was as follows:—

For Montreal (largely Russian Jews, Italians, and Poles...	150
For Toronto (the same)	50
For the United States, via Toronto (Galicians and Poles)..	70
For the Canadian West (all nationalities)	250
For the States, via the Soo......	30
	550

The one seat I found available was in a car with a number of Italians, one of whom spoke a few words of English, two Hungarian young fellows of from 25 to 30 years of age, and several Russian Jews.

DISLIKE VENTILATION.

Darkness fell quickly and as the air was terribly close I opened all the ventilators. Leaving the car for a moment, on my return I found them all closed. This was repeated throughout the night. To keep those ventilators open it was necessary to stay awake and watch them. Just why the Continental objects to fresh air, I could not find out, but he does. The air in spite of the open windows kept growing thick and heavy with the odour of clothing that had never known washing.

All my friends were eating and I followed suit.

Later I handed an almost full tin of sardines to an Italian who was facing me. He smelt it carefully and then accepting it, devoured the fish with dry bread, which he cut from a long loaf, with one of the knives which I had seen produced in a number of police court cases after Italian stabbing affairs in Montreal. All these Italians were similarly armed.

The Italian who could speak a little English then came over and informed me that he had been in Canada before, that he had merely returned to his home near Naples for the winter and was about to obtain work on the railway near Winnipeg. He had the previous summer been compelled to pay two dollars to an emplóment agency and to sign a contract, which had swallowed up a good deal of his salary. This year he was going to escape all this as he had enough money to take him out to Winnipeg.

HANDSOME HUNGARIANS.

The two Hungarians were the most inquisitive mortals it has ever been my evil fortune to encounter. They watched every movement I made and knew the contents of my basket and grip much better than I did myself. They were both tall handsome men, with picturesque hats and Tyroliese long boots. The invariable vary-colored handkerchief was tied around their necks. They both spoke German fluently, though they were very careful to impress upon me that they were not Austrians or Germans.

They had been farmers near Buda-Pesth, or at least their fathers, who were in the rear car, had been. They had been in communication for some time with a C. P. R. interpreter, who was of the same nationality as themselves and were now proceeding to Esterhazy, where the Hungarians were living.

The Russian Jews, I learned through an interpreter, were going to Montreal. They had escaped from a village near Lodtz into Germany. They had been assisted to Antwerp by co-religionists and thence to Canada. They were small sallow men, pitiably poor, and seeming to expect ill treatment at every hand. Any attempts to get from them expressions of opinion as to the war, internal conditions in Russia, etc., were fruitless. They would not talk and still seemed afraid of the long arm of the Bear. They spoke but little among themselves. The interpreter told me that they had been small cultivators in Russia.

LIKE A BAD DREAM.

That first night seems rather like a bad dream. If one sought refuge on the platform he was followed by one or other of his restless neighbors and even there the smell of immigrant pursued. There was no evading it.

A walk through the cars was not inspiriting. All the health-wrecking odours that nature affords or that man can perfect seemed blended in one harmonious stench which arose from the clothes and persons of the majority of the new comers.

The Galicians easily held the palm, though the Russian Slavs ran them a close second. Their sheepskin garments had an odour all their own. The sleepers, for all by now were in the land of nod, were grouped in a confusion which was neither picturesque nor pleasing.

Men, women and children rolled together in upper and lower bunks in common. They seemed to prefer close crowding, for there were sections which were almost unoccupied. There was only one thing lacking to crystallize the horror of the situation. That was a baby's cry. Strange to say it did not come. The children slept peacefully despite close crowding, dirt, stench or the motion of the train. The same thing was noticeable throughout the trip. The children rarely cried. They exhibited the same dull stoical patience under all conditions in a manner which got rather on one's nerves.

When I returned to the car where I had camped, I found that the Italian to whom I had given the sardines was sitting up. He had a pain and evidently blamed it on the sardines. He gave me a sour look and I grinned. That finished any copy I might have got out of those Italian colonists.

Every time they saw me looking at one of them I noticed thumb and little finger go up, making the horns that are so good to avert the Evil Eye.

I was bad medicine.

THE TRAIN DIVIDED.

At St. Martin's Junction, the station agent had some mattresses, one of which I managed to purchase. It was of some slight service in preventing the slats making such an impression upon one's bones.

Here, too, the train was divided, and the Montreal contingent, under charge of its interpreter, ran into the city while the rest of us branched off towards Ottawa.

On arrival at Ottawa the next morning, the immigrants got out on the platform and began to make further purchases from the "newsies."

An amusing incident was noticed.

Experience with many train loads of foreigners had given the newsies a hazy knowledge of the meaning of some words. Hence the game of barter was briskly plied. One man could not make himself understood, though he wanted to ever so badly. The newsies held a consultation.

"T'ain't pork and beans he wants, cause they call that flesh (fleisch)," said one.

"He don't want milk for he ain't saying milk," said another.

"Try him with ginger beer," said a third.

"No, he don't want that. They call that "slops," returned the first speaker.

CLEANSING CARS FREQUENTLY.

But when they tried it they found it was correct for the newcomer had given a little different pronunciation to the word "schnapps," with which name the immigrants dignify the harmless Canadian beverage. The goods were sold at a very moderate and a uniform figure, and a newsboy with all manner of canned goods, breads and biscuits joined the train and went right through to Winnipeg. The service is an excellent one and is under charge of the C. P. R. Sleeping and Dining Car Department.

Here the immigration traveller who had joined the train at St. Martin's was replaced by Mr. Geo. P. Ward.

A life long experience of the West including a number of years' service in the Mounted Police had given Mr. Ward an intimate acquaintance with the country to which the immigrants were proceeding and he was able to give the new arrivals much good advice.

From Ottawa out the cars were swept and the lavatories cleaned every 120 miles, which, while it did not abate in the least the smell, was at least comforting.

MICHIGAN PRESS VISITORS.

A Day Spent in Excursions In and About Montreal.

After what they characterized as a very delightful day spent in the city, the members of the Michigan Press Association left the Bonaventure Station this morning at 8 o'clock on a special train over the G. T. R. for Portland, whence, after a brief delay, they will proceed to explore the Maritime Provinces and the "land of Evangeline," ultimately returning to their homes through the United States.

After having partaken of a luncheon, on the mountain, as the guests of the city, as noted in the Star yesterday, the party were driven along St. Denis and Sherbrooke streets to Lafontaine Park, and back along Sherbrooke street to the Mountain Park. From there they went down Peel street, west on St. Catherine to St. Matthew, and back to the Windsor Hotel.

Late in the afternoon, the G. T. R. ran the party out to Lachine on another special train, where they took the steamer for a run through the rapids. The Company, which has had the party in charge since it left Michigan, was represented on this occasion by Mr. H. R. Charlton.

The return from Lachine was accomplished at such a late hour that, dinner having been served at the Windsor, the members were only enabled to see a portion of the performance at Sohmer Park. They were very much interested in all that they saw and heard at this resort.

Child Knocked Down by Street Car.

Last evening, Willie Sherta, 12 years of age, living with his parents at 5 St. Dominique street, was knocked down by an electric car on Craig street, and had a very narrow escape from being crushed beneath the wheels. When examined at the Notre Dame Hospital it was found that he had received an ugly cut on the head, and was also suffering from the effects of painful bruises.

Royal Honeymoon Is to Be Spent in the Recesses of Ireland.

HOW EMIGRATION KEEPS UP

Figures Showing Proportion of Emigrants From the Different Irish Counties.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star.

Dublin, June 5. — The Royal pair, Prince Gustav of Sweden, and Princess Margaret of Connaught, will spend their honeymoon in Ireland. Three places were mentioned, but it is said that the chosen spot will be Glenveagh Castle, the picturesque seat of Mrs. Adair, in the wilds of the County Donegal. It is away from the beaten track of tourists, and "far from the madding crowd." Glenveagh is one of the few places in Ireland where the wild red-deer is to be found, and capital deer-stalking is to be got there. The heads of the Glenveagh stags are very fine, and, as a rule, the deer are much heavier than their Scotch cousins.

The Registrar-General has published his report for 1904 of the Irish emigration statistics. The emigrants who left Irish ports during the year numbered 37,415, or 8.5 per 1,000 of the estimated population of Ireland, being a decrease of 3,244 as compared with 1903. The number of males emigrating was 17,524, or 1,779 less than in the previous year, while the number of females was 19,891, or a decrease of 1,465. Of the 36,902 natives of Ireland who left the country last year, 4,517, or 3.9 per 1,000 of the province, were from Leinster; 12,605, or 11.7 per 1,000, from Munster; 10,156, or 8.4 per 1,000, from Ulster, and 9,621, or 14.9 per 1,000, from Connaught.

The emigration returns were first collected on the 1st May, 1851. From that date to the 31st December, 1904, the total number of emigrants, natives of Irelands, who left Irish ports, is 3,997,913; 2,076,072 males and 1,921,841 females. 83 per cent. of the persons who left Ireland in 1904 were between the ages of 15 and 35 years, the percentage over that age being 7.3, and of children under 15 years, 3.9.

The only quinquellial age period in which the females greatly outnumbered the males is that between 15 and 20, when the number of females was 6,175, and of males 2,309. Ages between 20 and 25 years furnished the largest number of both male and female emigrants, the persons of this age forming 40.2 per cent. of the entire number of emigrants. Of the males who emigrated, 17,524 in number, or 8.7 per cent., were described as married men or widowers, and of the 19,891 females, 2,265, or 11.4 per cent., were returned as married or widowed. Of the 15,036 persons between the ages of 20 and 25 years, 290 only were married, 66 males and 224 females.

With regard to the destination of the emigrants, it appears that 33,434, or 90.6 per cent. of the total, emigrated to the Colonies or to foreign countries, and 3,468, or 9.4 per cent., to Great Britain. The United States received 30,580, or 82.9 per cent. of the number, in 1904, compared with an average of 34,223, or 83.0 per cent. for the four preceding years. The number of emigrants to New Zealand in 1904 was 125, as compared with 67 in 1903. Emigration to Canada shows a considerable increase in 1904 compared with 1903, the numbers being 2,083 last year, to 1,493 in 1903. The Irish emigrants to Australia number 336 in 1904, against 380 in 1903, 496 in 1902, 595 in 1901, 554 in 1900, while in 1890 the figures were 2,338, and in 1887-'88-'89 they were considerably over 3,000 each year, showing that Australia is declining in favor with Irish emigrants. Of the 312 Irish emigrants who went to "other countries" last year, 298 went to South Africa, 2 to Spain, 6 to India, 3 to South America, 1 to Germany, 1 to Japan, and 1 to Belgium.

In spite of Irish men and women going all over the world, the Irish language does not seem to make much headway. The latest story is one told of Mr. McManus, the author, paying a visit to the Strangers' Gallery of the House of Commons lately and when asked to write his name and address in the book, he did so in Irish. The official in charge of the book looked at the signature in a puzzled way for a bit and then inquired "Is that Japanese?" "No," answered Mr. McManus, "that is the language of a great many British people—it is Irish." The official took Mr. McManus' word for it, and allowed him to enter the Gallery.

The great agricultural conference which was held at Rome on May 28 was a preliminary meeting to discuss the fundamental principles of the International Chamber of Agriculture proposed by the King of Italy. All countries were asked to send delegates. Mr. T. P. Gill, the secretary of the Irish Department of Agriculture, represented Ireland; Lord Jersey, England, and Lord Minto, Scotland. The personal interest of the King of Italy in the matter is very great, and he is inspired with the idea of helping the numerous agricultural class—both landowners and farmers—to attain the prosperity enjoyed by other productive classes, and generally to remedy the present condition of agriculturists.

Irish fishermen are complaining bitterly that their "harvest of the sea" is plundered by Scotch fishermen. The Irish fisheries are valued at a million sterling per year, and the mackerel fishery at some two hundred thousand pounds per annum. What the Irish find fault with is, that the Scotch boats invade the Irish waters in April, when they are debarred from fishing in their own waters, and levy toll on the Irish fisheries. In Scotland, the mackerel fishery does not open until May. The Irish mackerel fishery is a very important industry. In 1903 the cash paid for autumn mackerel was £94,000, and the number of barrels cured for the American market was 54,183. The preservation of this industry is of the greatest importance, but there seems very little hope of protection against Scotch invaders, and the consequent wholesale destruction of immature fish. It is urged, too, that no herring fishery should be allowed in Irish waters before the 6th of June, and that Scotchmen fishing for mackerel along the Irish coast should be compelled to use mackerel nets, and not seines.

The wedding of the Marquis of Bute with Miss Augusta Bellingham, daughter of Sir Thomas Bellingham, of Castle Bellingham, which takes place on Thursday, July 6th, will be one of the greatest interest which has taken place for a number of years. The Bellinghams are a very old Catholic family, who have been in the County Louth for some centuries, and, as is well known, the Marquis is one of the wealthiest noblemen in England, his income some years ago having been estimated at a thousand pounds a day. The wedding ceremony is to take place at the little county R. C. Church of Kilsaran, and the parish priest, Rev. Patrick Fagan, assisted by his curate, Rev. P. Murtagh, is to "tie the knot." The marriage will be quite a romantic one in some ways. The Marquis will bring his fine yacht into Annagassan Bay, and anchor her off the fishing village of Annagassan, County Louth, which is only a short distance from Castle Bellingham. After the ceremony at the church the happy pair will drive to the seashore and go on board the yacht, sailing for Scotland, where the honeymoon is to be spent. About a score of pipers and drummers in Highland costume will play the newly-married couple to the landing stage. A barge, painted white, and manned by a crew dressed in white and crimson, will take the Marquis and Marchioness off, and a boat with Lord Bute's pipers and drummers will convey them to the yacht. The event is looked forward to with the greatest interest by the people of the vicinity.

Castle Bellingham is a place of great interest. It contains many priceless heirlooms, and the castle is situated in a lovely district. Some centuries ago it was the scene of much disturbance, though now so peaceful and quiet. The present house was built on the site of the old castle, burned down by James II. at the time of the Battle of the Boyne. Some portions of the old castle yet remain, but only in the shape of a few ivy-clad ruins bear witness to the conflagration, for which King James' army was responsible. Col. Thomas Bellingham, an ancestor of the present owner, was A. D. C. to William III. of Orange, which was the reason King James' soldiers burned the place. In the grounds a tree is shown known as "The King's Oak," from the fact that King William took luncheon under its branches while on the march to the Battle of the Boyne. On this occasion he presented Col. Bellingham with a case containing a knife, fork and spoon, which is carefully treasured by the family. The King (William) also gave his A. D. C. a present of a case containing four spirit bottles. One of these has never yet been unsealed. Another relic very carefully preserved by the Bellingham family is a ring containing the hair of the ill-fated King Charles I. It was presented to an ancestor of Sir Thomas Bellingham—an ardent Royalist—by Charles II., with whom he went abroad at the conclusion of the struggle, which, for a time, destroyed the fortunes of the House of Stewart. Many other valuable curios are kept at Castle Bellingham, and amongst them are several articles which belonged to the celebrated Peg Woffington, who was related to the family.

OUR LONDON LETTER

Political Aspect of Japan's Victory May Prove a Serious One.

CANADA IS PARTLY AFFECTED

Our Legislation Against Japanese Not Likely to Long Be Quietly Accepted.

(From the Special Correspondent of The Montreal Star in London.)

London, June 6.—There is no mistaking the serious note of the thoughts of governing Englishmen at the present time in regard to what may be called the weightier morals of the Japanese war. Here we have a nation whom the great powers of Europe have persistently refused to regard as more than semi-barbaric. Russia, as we know, owes most of her present collapse to this contemptuous view of the Jap and his civilization. Yet this "barbaric race" has so profited by its lessons in western civilization that it has outdone the westerner in land and sea warfare, and by a brilliant series of military achievements, upset the whole balance of power in the world.

I have this week had the opportunity of learning something of the way in which the thoughts of governing Englishmen are shaping themselves on this matter. Let me paraphrase the words of one high British authority:

"We need not bother just now," he said, "to attempt to estimate the military and naval lessons of the country. They will stand out boldly enough before long, though it is already probable that the advent of the torpedo and the submarine, in the use of which the Japanese have shown them to be capable, will entirely upset many of our beautiful western calculations in the matter of naval strength. But that apart, there are colossal new political problems which this victory of the Japanese must force to the front.

"Look at the position of the United States. They persist in treating the Jap who attempts to enter their country as a low-bred Oriental, not fit for a moment to associate with the free citizens of the great and glorius Republic. The achievements of the Japanese during the past year have turned this idea inside out, and we Englishmen are asking ourselves how far will this state of things affect American legislation and policy? Will the Jap in future be admitted into the United States and allowed to trade and work there as freely as the American trades and works in Japan? If not, is it to be supposed that the all-conquering Japanese will sit quietly down under the snub? I do not believe it for a single moment.

CANADA'S ATTITUDE.

"As for the British Empire, we have not a clean record in this matter either. We know what British Columbia has done or rather attempted to do, and the latest advices which have reached London from the Pacific Coast indicate that the province means to still further worry Ottawa and London in the hope of securing drastic anti-Japanese legislation. All that we Englishmen can do is to trust to the good sense of the Canadian people to take a wide imperial view of this question. We ask them to remember that Japan has proved her right to be considered as one of the first nations of the world. Moreover, she is Britain's ally, and tremendous advantages will unquestionably accrue to Canada as to every other part of the British Empire from the closer political and commercial association of ourselves with the Japanese.

"There is another point. Japan can hardly hope to escape heavy financial strain as a result of her stupendous expenditures upon the present war. She is now an avowed advocate of the policy of the open door in China. Great Britain and every British colony which strives to become an industrial nation, such as Canada, will in the future depend more and more upon those neutral markets such as China, which do not manufacture for themselves and yet have an enormous consuming capacity. What are we to say if Japan, in her necessity for revenue and for a larger outlet for her own industries, were to find herself driven to attempt a commercial annexation of Chinese markets—that is to say, tutelage the Chinaman into the adoption of a tariff against every foreigner except his near and omnipotent friend the Japanese?"

PRAYED FOR RUSSIA.

One might go on indicating other political phases of this momentous problem, in which Canada, Australia and the whole empire are deeply involved. That of course is not all. I heard yesterday of a head mistress of a large London school who has been including in her daily curriculum special prayers for the victory of Russia. I asked in astonishment, "Why," and the answer came: "Because the Russians are Christians, and the Japs are fire-worshippers." Now this is no ignorant provincial pedagogue, but the head mistress of one of the leading London scholastic establishments for the education of middle-class girls. It is nothing to this good instructor of youth that the Japanese have shown during the past two years the very highest moral qualities, while the Russians have shown an utter absence of those same moral qualities. Love of home and country, fearlessness of death, assurance of heaven as a reward for virtue, self-sacrifice even to the point of life itself, and so on—there is not an item in the higher morality in which the Japanese, high and low, have not, so far as we have learned, shown astounding excellence. But all this goes for nothing; the Jap is still a mere fire-worshipper, upon whom the wrath of Heaven must incessantly be called.

This is just one illustration of the entire upheaval of accepted western ideas which the Far Eastern events of the past few months are rapidly bringing about. The "yellow peril" has taken on quite a new shape, and what the end may be no man can foretell.

The steamer Donnelly towed the Marshall to the foot of Wolfe Island, whence the latter left for Brockville under her own steam. She was found to be leaking very little. When her cargo is unloaded she will come to the Kingston dry dock for repairs. The Marshall is owned by the Central Canada Coal Co., of Brockville.

CZAR RECEIVED THE ZEMSTVOS

Delegates Set Forth the Serious Condition of Affairs.

EMPEROR DEEPLY IMPRESSED

Announced His Intention to Inaugurate a Better Order of Things in His Empire.

St. Petersburg, June 20. — Emperor Nicholas received the Zemstvo deputation on Monday.

The reception occurred at noon in the Alexander Palace at Peterhoff. Prince Troubetskow, President of the Zemstvo Congress of the Moscow Government, in behalf of the Moscow delegation, addressed the Emperor in a lengthy speech, in which he described the serious conditions existing in Russia, which have caused the Zemstvos to approach His Majesty directly. Prince Troubetskow spoke for half an hour, and the Emperor was evidently much impressed.

M. Pedoroff, representing the St. Petersburg delegation, also spoke.

THE CZAR'S REPLY.

His Majesty replied expressing deep regret at the great sacrifices consequent on the war, and above everything, at the disaster to the Russian navy.

"I am happy to have heard you. I have no doubt you are guided by an ardent sentiment of love for the Fatherland in addressing me directly.

"I have been grieved in my whole soul with all my people at the calamities the war has brought upon Russia, and at all these which may be still feared, as well as it our internal disturbances.

"Dissipate your doubts. My will is sovereign and it is my unalterable will that the admission of elected representatives to the works of state shall be regularly accomplished.

"I watch daily and devote myself to this work. You may announce that to all your friends in country and town.

"I am firmly convinced that Russia will emerge strengthened from the trials she is now enduring, and that there will be established soon, as formerly, a union between the Emperor and all Russia—a communion between myself and the men of Russian soil. This union and communion must serve as a basis for the original principles of Russia.

"I have faith in your desire to help me in this task."

SHOOK HANDS WITH DELEGATES

Upon completing his remarks the Emperor graciously greeted the individual members of the delegation, shaking hands with them and having a few cordial words with each, even such radicals as M. Petrunkevitch (President of the Moscow Agricultural Society), who has spent many years in exile as the result of his liberal views; M. Rodicheff and Prince Shakoffskoy, known as the "Anarchist Prince," being greeted without the slightest evidence of imperial displeasure.

DELEGATES DELIGHTED.

The fact that the Emperor not only received the bold, plain-spoken addresses without so much as an indication of disapproval, but expressed full sympathy with the efforts to ameliorate the deplorable state of afairs depicted therein, and in the most direct and explicit fashion renewed his promise to summon the representatives of the people, made the deepest impression on the delegation. Prince Troubetskow and MM. Lvoff, and Dologorukoff, whom a correspondent saw later, not only showed by their manner their delight at the result of the audience, but expressed themselves as fully satisfied with the Imperial assurances. So far as they are concerned they indicated that they are ready to await the fulfilment of the Emperor's promise, which, it is believed, will not be long delayed.

The delegation is now preparing an account of the audience which will be presented to the St. Petersburg Douma and in accordance with their instructions as well as the Imperial wish will be communicated to all the Zemstvos and mayors of Russia.

ACTIVITY OF WAR PARTY.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—The war party has by no means surrendered. On the contrary, backed by the military element, it is making a concerted effort to dissuade the Emperor from concluding peace. Even with the two armies already clinching they are disseminating optimistic views and Gen. Linevitch and his lieutenants are reinforcing their arguments with roseate reports of the strategic situation. Many Russian correspondents at the front, evidently inspired from here, are filling despatches in the same strain.

The Novoe Vremya correspondent points to the hazards to the Government in disbanding an army of half a million men without giving them a lasting success, and expresses the fear of dangerous consequences. The same correspondent, however, chronicles the fact that the rank and file are indifferent.

Council Coming to Terms.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., July 20 — There is great satisfaction here [illegible] the likelihood of the street railwa[illegible] being again in operation shortly.

What has hindered a summer service being started some weeks ago was practictly the refusal of the city to give the power, even at the new rate proposed in February. The City Council, having had a taste of no car service for three months, is now prepared to deal out great liberality to those who will hereafter operate the road. Dr. Ball, who is here representing Detroit parties, has offered the bondholders $70,000 for the road. Two months ago the latter offered it to the city for $125,000, but that price cannot be got. Dr. Ball says it will take $150,000 to put the road into condition, but those who have an intimate knowledge of the road say that not more than $50,000 would have to be spent.

ENCYCLICAL ISSUED BY POPE.

Italian Catholics are Called Upon to Combat Socialism.

Rome, June 20.—The attitude of the Pope towards Catholics sharing in the political voting in Italy, which he has already shown, is far broader than was the late Pope Leo's, has been further widened by an encyclical recommending that Catholics prepare to take a vigorous part in the next elections to combat the menace of Socialism. Some see in this a realization of the predicted understanding between the Vatican and the Government.

CHAPTER THREE.

In the selection of paddles early next morning Sam insisted that the Indian rule be observed, measuring carefully that the length of each implement should be just equal the height of its wielder. He chose the narrow maple blade, that it might not split when thrust against the bottom to check speed in a rapid. Further the blades were stained a brilliant orange.

Dick Herron had already picked one of a dozen birch-bark canoes laid away under the bridge over the dry coulee. He knew a good canoe as you would know a good horse. Fourteen feet it measured, of the heavy winter-cut of bark, and with a bottom all of one piece, without cracks or large knots.

The canoe and the paddles they laid at the water's edge. Then they went together to the great warehouse, behind the grill of whose upper room MacDonald was writing. Ordinarily the trappers were not allowed inside the grill, but Dick and Sam were told to help themselves freely. The stocking Dick left to his older companion, assuring himself merely of a hundred rounds of ammunition for his new model Winchester rifle, the 44-40 repeater, then just entering the outskirts of its popularity.

In the obscurity of the wide, low room the old woodsman moved to and fro, ducking his head to avoid things hanging, peering into corners, asking an occasional question of MacDonald, who followed him silently about. Two small steel traps, a narrow, small-meshed fishing-net, a fish-line and hooks, powder, ball and caps for the old man's muzzle loader, a sack of salt were first laid aside. This represented substistence. Then matches, a flint-and-steel machine, two four-point blankets. These meant warmth. Then ten pounds of plug tobacco and as many of tea. These were necessary luxuries. And finally a small sack of flour and a side of bacon. These were merely a temporary provision; when they should be exhausted, the men would rely wholly on the forest.

Sam Bolton hovered over the pile, after it was completed, his eyes half shut, naming over its items again and again, assuring himself that nothing lacked. At his side MacDonald made suggestions.

"Got a copper pail, Sam? a frying-pan? cups? How about the axe? Better have an extra knife between you. Need any clothes? Compass all right?"

To each of these questions Sam nodded an assent. So MacDonald, having named everything with the exception of the canvas square to be used as a tarpaulin or a tent, and soap and towel—fell silent, convinced that he could do nothing more.

But Dick, who had been drumming his fingers idly against the window, turned with a suggestion of his own.

"How're we fixed for shoe pacs? I haven't got any."

At once MacDonald looked blank.

"By George, boys, I ain't got but four or five pairs of mocassins in the place! There's plenty of oil tan; I can fix you all right there. But smoke tans! That Abitibi gang mighty near cleaned me out. You'll have to try the Indians."

Accordingly Bolton and Herron took their way in the dusty little foot-trodden path—there were no horses in that frontier—between the Factor's residence and the Clerk's house, down the meandering trail through the high grasses of the meadow to where the Indian lodges lifted their pointed tops against the sky.

The wigwams were scattered apparently at random. Before each a fire burned. Women and girls busied themselves with a variety of camp-work. A tame crow hopped and fluttered here and there, just out of reach of the pointed-nosed, shaggy wolf-dogs.

The latter rushed madly forward at the approaching strangers, yelping in a curious, longdrawn bay, more suggestive of their wolf ancestors than of the domestic animal. Dick and Sam laid about them vigorously with short staffs they had brought for the purpose. Immediatly the dogs, recognizing their dominance, slunk back. Three men sauntered forward, grinning broadly in amiable greeting. Two or three women, more bashful than the rest, scuttled into the depths of wigwams out of sight. A multitude of children concealed themselves craftily, like a covey of quail, and focussed their bright, bead-like eyes on the new-comers. The rest of the camp went its way unmoved.

"Bo' jou', bo' jou'," greeted Sam Bolton.

"Bo' jou', bo' jou'," replied the three.

These Indians were of the [illegible] upper country. They spoke no English nor French, and adhered still to their own tribal customs and religious observances. They had lingered several days beyond their time for the purpose of conjuring. In fact at this very moment the big medicine lodge raised itself in the centre of the encampment like a miniature circus tent. Sam Bolton addressed the two in their own language.

"We wish to buy many moccasins of your old women," said Sam.

Immediately one of the Indians glided away. From time to time during the next few minutes he was intermittently visible as he passed from the dark interior of the wigwam across the sunlight, and into the dark interior of another.

The older of the two still in company of the white men began to ask questions.

"The Little Father is about to make a long journey?"

"Does one buy so many moccasins for a short?"

"He goes to hunt the fur?"

"Perhaps."

"In what direction does he set the bow of his canoe?"

Suddenly Dick Herron, who had, as usual, been paying attention to almost anything rather than the matter in hand, darted suddenly toward a clump of grass. In a moment he straightened his back to hold at arm's length a struggling little boy. At the instant of his seizure the child uttered a sharp cry of fright, then closed his lips in the stoicism of his race.

That one cry was enough, however. Rescue darted from the nearest wigwam. A flying figure covered the little distance in a dozen graceful leaps, snatched the child from the young man's hands and stood, one foot advanced, breast heaving, a palpitating, wild thing, like a symbol of defiance.

The girl belonged distinctly to the more attractive type; it required but little imagination to endow her with real beauty. Her figure was straight and slim and well-proportioned, her eyes large, her face oval and quite devoid of the broad, high cheeked stupidity so common in the northern races. At the moment she flashed like a brand with quick-breathed anger and fear.

Dick looked at her at first with amazement, then with mingled admiration and mischief. He uttered a ferocious growl and lowered his shoulders as though about to charge. Immediately the defiance broke. The girl turned and fled, plunging like a rabbit into the first shelter that offered, pursued by shrieks of delight from the old squaws, a pleased roar from Dick, and the laughter of the Indian men themselves.

"May-may-gwan," said the oldest Indian, naming her, "foster sister to the boy you had caught."

"She is Ojibway, then," exclaimed Dick, catching at the Ojibway word.

"Ae," admitted the Cree, indifferently. Such inclusions of another tribe, either by adoption or marriage, are not uncommon.

At this moment the third Indian approached.

"No moccasins," he reported. "Plenty buckskin."

Sam Bolton looked troubled. This meant a delay. However, it could not be avoided.

"Let the old women make some," he decided.

The Cree old-man shook his head.

"That cannot be. There is not time. We turn our canoes to the Missinaibi by next sun."

Sam pondered again, turning over in his mind this fresh complication. But Dick, kicking the earth clods in impatience, broke in.

"Well we're going by the Missinaibi, too. Let the women make the moccasins. We will accompany you."

"That might be," replied the Indian. "It is well," said Bolton.

An old woman was summoned. She measured her customers' feet with a buckskin thong. Then they departed without further ceremony. An Indian rarely says farewell. When his business is finished he goes.

"Dick," said Sam, "you ought not to have brake in there."

"What do you mean?" asked the other, puzzled.

"Suggesting our travelling with them."

"Why?" cried Dick in astonishment. "Ain't you never travelled with Injuns before?"

"That ain't th' question. Did you notice that third Injun? the one who didn't do any talking?"

"Sure! What of him?"

"Well, he's an Ojibway. Th' rest are Wood Crees. And I miss my guess if he ain't a bad customer. He watched us mighty close, and his eyes are bad. He's sharp. He's one of that wondering kind. He's wondering now who we are, and where we're going, and why we're hitting so long a trail. And what's more, he belongs to this Jinglass's people in a roundabout sort of way. He's worse than fifty Crees. Maybe he knows all about Jingoss, and if he does, he'll get suspicious the minute we angle down in that country."

"Let's let 'em slide, then," suggested Dick, impatiently. "Let's buy some buckskin and make our own moccassins."

"Too late now," negatived Sam. "To back out would be bad."

"Oh, well, you're just borrowing trouble anyway," laughed Dick.

"Maybe, maybe," acknowledged the other, "but borrowing trouble, and then figuring out how you're going to meet it if comes to you in good earnest, is mighty good woodcraft."

"Sam," burst out Dick, whose attention had been caught by a word in his companion's first speech, and whose mind had been running on it throughout the ensuing discussion, "did you notice that girl? She's a tearing little beauty!"

CHAPTER FOUR.

By now it was nearly noon. The travellers carried the packs they had made up down to the water-side where the canoe lay. Although the Indians would not get under way until the following morning, it had been decided to push on at once, thus avoiding the confusion of a crowded start.

In the course of the morning's business the news of their expedition had noised abroad. Especially were they commiserated by the other runners and post-keepers. During all winter these men had lived under the frown of the North, conducting their affairs confidently yet with caution, sure of themselves, yet never sure of the great power in whose tolerance they existed, in spite of whom they accomplished. Now was the appointed time of rest. In the relaxation of the thought they found pity for those ordered out of season into the Silent Places.

So at the river's bank Sam Bolton and Dick Herron, ready for departure, found a group gathered. It was supposed that these men were to act as scouts, to reconnoitre shrewedly in the Enemy's country, to spy out the land, so that in the autumn the Company might throw into the wilderness new posts, to be inhabited during the colder months.

"Look heem Bla'k Bevair Lak," advised Louis Placide; "I t'ing dose Ojibway mak' heem lots marten, mink la bas."

"Lads," said Kern, the trader at Old Brunswick House, "if you're going up th' Missinaibie just cast an eye on my cache at Gull Lake, and see that the carcajaus have let her be."

Young Herbert was curious. "Where are you headed, boys?" he inquired.

But Ki-wa-nee, the trusty, the trader at Flying Post, the only Indian in the Company's service holding rank as a commissioned officer, grunted in contempt at the question, while Achard, of New Brunswick House, motioned warningly towards the groups of Indian trappers in the background. "Hush, boy," said he to Hebert, "news travels, and in the south are the Free Traders to snatch at a new country."

ODD FELLOW AND MASTER WORKMAN

Has Experience With the Catarrh Remedy, Pe-ru-na.

Catarrh Threatens to Invade the Stomach.

Mr. Geo. Parrott, Glencoe, Ontario, Can., member of Noble Grand Lodge, 135, I.O.O.F., and Master Workman, Ancient Order of United Workmen, writes:

"I have been using Peruna for some time for a cough and catarrh of the throat with very satisfactory results.

"Having neglected the cough, catarrh developed, and my physician said that I was threatened with catarrh of the stomach.

"My breath was very offensive and I was troubled with nausea.

"Less than two bottles of Peruna cured me."

Offensive breath is a very frequent symptom of chronic catarrh.

Catarrh retains the natural mucous secretions within the nasal passages and throat.

There they undergo putrefactive changes and the result is a disagreeable breath.

Devices for sweetening the breath, that do not remove the cause, amount to little.

Peruna corrects offensive breath by removing the cause.

Peruna makes clean, sound mucous membranes, which always produce a perfectly agreeable and sweet breath.

If you suffer from any of the above symptoms, write to Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio, for free medical advice.

REPORT ON FARM COLONIES.

Rider Haggard's Official Account of His Mission to America.

London, June 20.—The report submitted by H. Rider Haggard, who, as commissioner of the Colonial Office, has recently been investigating the conditions and character of farm colonies organized in the United States by the Salvation Army, was last night issued as a parliamentary blue book. The report speaks most favorably of the colonies, and says that similar settlements might be successfully established in the British colonies to provide for the surplus agricultural population of the United Kingdoms in different parts of the Empire, especially in Canada, where, according to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, the Government is prepared to set aside 240,000 acres for this purpose.

Kingston Minister Doesn't Like Being Transferred to St. Johns.

Kingston, Ont., June 20.—A case of revolt against the finding of the stationing committee of the Methodist Conference, has arisen here. Rev. Norman Tucker, Ph. D., pastor of the Princess street Methodist Church for the past year, at the first draft of the Montreal Conference, was alloted to his old congregation again. In the next draft he was assigned to St. Johns, Quebec. He had decided to send a substitute for some time at least, claiming that he should be allowed to remain for the educational advantages, and because he has just bought a house.

He may leave the Methodist Church altogether.

Offer Inducements to Any Company.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., June 20.—At last evening's meeting of the City Council, after passage had been made of concessions which the city would grant to any individual or company who would take over and operate the street railway, Dr. Ball, of Detroit, addressed the aldermen and asked them to grant him a franchise to construct a new line. The present line, he said, was not well laid out. A change was necessary, and a road through outer sections could be made to pay.

The request was referred to a special committee. The concessions which the council agreed to offer to a company in brief are: Free from taxation, relief from snow cleaning, right of double tracking, reduced service from Sept. 15th till May 15th, and temporary power at cost till Sept. 1st.

TRADING STAMP QUESTION.

Prime Minister Says the Government Will Consider It.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 20.—As announced by the Prime Minister, the Government are going to deal with the trading stamp question, but in what manner does not appear to have been yet decided.

The Minister of Justice has procured copies of the statutes passed in several States of the adjoining Republic, and will examine their provisions. There is need to move slowly in this matter on account of an appeal pending in the Supreme Court as to the right of the province to legislate in regard to trading stamps. Until this appeal has been setled it is a question whether it is wise for the federal Parliament to enact any statute, for the court may hold that the matter is one solely within the competency of the Provincial authorities.

Statistcvs would seem to prove that marriage is becoming an unpopular institution in England. The registrar-general shows, in his annual return just issued, that the marriage rate in 1902—15.6 to every 1000 of the population—was the lowest since 1895. The birth rate in 1903—28.4 a 1000 of the population—was the lowest on record, and the same has to be said for the death rate—18.4 a 1000 persons.

"CATCHING COLD" FROM DAMP FEET.

THE soles of the feet have more, and larger, pores than any other part of the body.

These pores are to carry off, through perspiration, the poisonous wastes of the body.

When the pores stop doing this all the work of "scavenging" falls upon the Liver and Kidneys.

These soon sicken from overwork, and then poisonous wastes accumulate, developing into serious illness if not checked.

To "Catch Cold" is to have just these things happen. The most frequent cause of "Colds" is getting the feet wet, through the sole leather of shoes.

This moisture from without, chills the skin, which then contracts, closing up the pores, checking circulation of the blood, and shutting in perspiration. Ask your doctor.

Now some of the highest priced regular Oak Sole leather, if placed in a jar of water, will soak through in one single hour.

The pumping action on the leather in walking, carries dampness through in less than that time.

* * *

If high priced regular Oak Sole leather will do this, what happens with the poorer kinds, as used in the vast majority of shoes?

Like all others, "The Slater Shoe" suffered, in the past, from this leaking trouble, though as far as we could we guarded against it.

But, not till this season has there ever been a process of tanning sole leather which would prevent foot damp.

The new "Quick-Oak" process does this at last, and makes the leather wear like rawhide.

Put a piece of this "Quick-Oak" Sole leather in water and you can't make it soak through in less than four hours while regular oak soles soak through in one hour.

We control this brand of leather for Canada, and it can be had only in the genuine "Slater Shoes" which are made only by the Slater Shoe Company.

Consider what this toughest, most wear-worthy, and most water-proof of leathers means to your feet, to your health, at no extra cost to your purse.

Remember that more people die of sickness originating in colds than of any other cause, and that more colds are due to damp feet than to any other cause.

Look for the slate-frame trade mark inside the shoe top.

Rapid Circulation in the "Bison" Heater

The expansion of hot water in the heater causes circulation.

If the water heats at the bottom first, it cannot circulate till the water in the upper sections is also heated. Most heaters heat the bottom water first.

The "Bison" heats the water at the top first.

That is why it gets almost instantaneous circulation of hot water into the radiators—it is one of ten reasons why the "Bison" is the best heater.

Many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.

Very often they think it is from so-called "female disease." There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female trouble." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female disorders." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take at stated intervals.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Miss Nellie Clark, Lambeth, Ont., tells of her cure in the following words:—"I suffered for about two years with kidney trouble. I ached all over, especially in the small of my back; not being able to sleep well, no appetite, menstruation irregular, nervous irritability, and brick-dust deposit in urine, were some of my symptoms. I took Doan's Kidney Pills. The pain in my back gradually left me, my appetite returned, I sleep well and am effectually cured. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

SHOT HIM DOWN FROM BEHIND

Norwegian Boy Stole, Then Killed Man to Cover Crime.

HIS TEAM WOULD NOT LEAVE

Neighbors Became Suspicious and Suspected the Boy Who Confessed to the Mounted Police.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Moosomin, Man., June 20.—Peter Moe, the Norwegian boy who has confessed to the murder of John Whittaker, near Broadview, is being held by the N. W. M. P. here.

Moe and his father are from the States. Moe had been threatened by Whittaker with pilfering from the latter's shanty, and the motive for the murder was either revenge or to prevent his being punished for theft.

In his confession Moe stated that he had watched for the opportunity to shoot Whittaker all forenoon and failing in carrying out his purpose he returned in the afternoon to where Whittaker was ploughing, and, taking off his boots, stole up behind Whittaker to within five yards and fired a heavy load of buck shot at his victim's head.

The charge partly entered the brain, and carried with it portions of the scalp which were found by the coroner fifty feet from where the body lay. Moe then made a deep furrow with the plough, and laying the body in it, tried to cover it with another furrow. He says he attempted to drive the murdered man's team homeward, but the horses returned to where the body was. A number of neighbors who had viewed the scene of the murder became suspicious that Whittaker had met with foul play, and sent word to the police, requesting an investigation. The post mortem clearly showed that Whittaker had been killed by a shot gun, his scalp being torn in a way for which a kick from a horse would not account. Suspicion pointed to Moe, and the boy was arrested and taken to Broadview, where he confessed his guilt.

Charged With Stealing Silver Plate.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Thomas, Ont., June 20.—Courtland Parker, of Port Stanley, was arrested at Dexter and brought to this city, charged with stealing between $350 to $400 worth of silver plate, bric-a-brac and china, which was stored by Mrs. McCallum, of London, in the Pere Marquette bonded room at Port Stanley. Parker rented part of the warehouse, which he used as a fish house. He claims he bought the goods from Alvin Gilroy, who was sent to Kingston for robbing in Port Stanley.

STRIKE AMONG JEWISH BAKERS

The Men All go Into Camp in Empire Hall.

TO PREVENT BREAKING RANKS

They Will All Feed and Sleep There Until the Strike Is at An End.

A strike has been declared in the Jewish bakeshops of the city, and, as a result, at least 10,000 Hebrew citizens are without their specially prepared bread to-day. The trouble began last Friday, when demands were made on the nine employers of this class of work for a substantial increase in wages, as follows: First class men, $15 a week; second class men, $10; third class men, $8; and fourth class men, $6; ten hours to constitute a day's work. The strikers were, however, according to their leader, willing to work twelve hours on Thursday without any extra remuneration. The men say that previous to the strike they had no fixed hours of labor and were working for all kinds of wages. The new scale was refused by the nine shops involved and the strike followed. The strikers have taken every precaution to prevent any break in their ranks. They have decided to sleep and take their meals in the Empire Hall, corner St. Lawrence and St. Catherine streets, until a settlement has been reached.

The master bakers say they could bring men on from New York now that the Allen Labor Law has been declared worthless by Judge Anglin, but they hope to get over the difficulty without going to this expense.

The strikers when seen to-day at their headquarters by a representative of the Star, said they were not worrying about the outcome of the struggle. They seem to think that the strike will be settled within the next twenty-four hours.

PLUNGED INTO LACHINE CANAL

An Unmanageable Auto Gives the Owner a Swim.

STEERING GEAR DIDN'T WORK

The Man Saved With a Plank, and Machine Recovered by Diver and Derrick.

Owing to an accident yesterday afternoon, an autoist and his machine had to be lifted out of the Lachine Canal, into which the one jumped and the other plunged, when it became ungovernable.

The steering gear of the machine got out of order, and it was discovered too late by the driver to prevent the accident, for the auto was then quite near the brink of the Canal.

Mr. William Redpath, whom this misfortune befell, kept his machine in the yard of the Sugar Refinery, near the Seigneurs Street Bridge, and close by the St Gabriel locks. He ran the machine out of the yard as usual, but it failed to respond to the steering gear, so as to turn for the bridge after leaving the roadway. The result was that the machine headed for the canal in front of it. Seeing his danger, and that the cold plunge was inevitable, Mr. Redpath leaped out of the auto into the water, and the machine followed closely on his heels.

There were many witnesses of the accident, including the lockmen, and there was a rush for the spot. One man threw a plank which Mr. Redpath grasped, and by its aid he was able to reach the canal wall, from which he afterwards clambered to the bank with the assistance of some workmen.

A diver, who was at work on one of the lock gates, located the car under the water, from which it was lifted by a derrick run out from the Sugar Refinery.

CHORUS GIRL GAINS DIVORCE.

Obtains $75,000 Alimony and Right to Use Maiden Name.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Chicago, June 20.—Mrs. Frances Rush-Thaw, a chorus girl, received a divorce and a check for $75,000 from her millionaire husband Charles Harper Thaw, of St. Louis and New York.

Judge Albert Akers granted the divorce on statutory grounds after a hearing lasting less than five minutes. Thaw made no defense.

Mrs. Thaw is given permission to resume her maiden name, Euphonia Jeannette Rush. She met and married young Thaw after a courtship of less than a week. They were married in New York at the "Little Church Around the Corner," July 27, 1901, and after living together until the following September separated.

Mrs. Thaw began her suit here, and before her husband had made answer to it he filed a counter suit in New York, naming William Nelson Morrison, a millionaire of this city, as co-respondent. Mrs. Thaw named three co-respondents.

Mrs. Thaw, who was a "Sadie" girl in Anna Held's company, playing the "Little Duchess," when she met Thaw, returned to New York and contested her husband's suit. He was ordered to pay her $30 a week alimony and for failure to do so was imprisoned in Ludlow street jail.

Young Thaw, although allowed $1,000 a month by his father before his death was a singer in the chorus of the Castle Square Opera Company. His father died about a year ago, leaving him $1,500,000. Thaw is a cousin of the young woman of that name who married the Earl of Yarmouth.

TOO HOT WEATHER

Another sultry day, with overshadowed skies and not a breath of air stirring.

The thermometer is also on the rise once more, and the promise is for weather of the parboiling variety.

In Central Ontario, however, they are having it much warmer than in this city, while down East it is much cooler.

But a general average all over the Dominion would bring the thermometer into the neighborhood of 70 degrees.

Apparently the weather is to be somewhat unsettled for the next couple of days.

Mr. Orme Clarke, of London, and Miss Elfrida Roosevelt, cousin of President Roosevelt, were married in Boston yesterday by Bishop William Lawrence. Miss Katherine L. Roosevelt acted as her sister's maid of honor, and Mr. Clarence Nichols, of London, was best man.

The marriage took place this afternoon at Erskine Church, of Miss Lillian Maude Higgins, daughter of the late Mr. T. W. Higgins, to Mr. John Russell Martin. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Mowatt. The Church was prettily decorated with palms and ferns. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. W. F. Higgins, wore a white lace gown with a Duchess satin coat effect, tulle veil caught with lilies-of-the-valley and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley, tied with tulle. The maid of honor, Miss Dalton (Waterloo), cousin of the bride, wore white China silk over pale pink taffeta, with a deep girdle of pale pink satin and a white lace Charlotte Corday hat over pink chiffon with pink roses, and white tulle streamers, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Little Miss Winsome Holland, who was flower girl, wore a costume in early Victorian style, the long dress, being of white with crepe de chine fichu and large white lace bonnet trimmed with pink roses and long ties of chiffon. She carried a basket of pale pink carnations. Mr. James R. Henderson was best man and Mr. James Wilson and Mr. H. Wolferstan Higgins acted as ushers. Prof. Cornish presided at the organ. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond and turquoise ring; to the maid of honor, a turquoise and pearl ring; to the flower girl, a pearl pin; to the best man, gold monogramed cuff links; and to the ushers scarf pins. The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful presents.

NORWAY'S REPLY TO KING OSCAR

Firm Address Adopted by the Storthing — War Talk in Swedish Press—Demand That a Section of Norway be Seized.

Christiania, Norway, June 20.—The address to King Oscar and the Riksdag adopted by the Storthing yesterday and the Swedish people generally, in reply to the long letter which the king sent June 13 to the president of the Storthing, M. Berner, is of a conciliatory character. But at the same time it indicates the unalterable determination of the Storthing to adhere to the action taken in dissolving the union with Sweden. The text is as follows:

"Your Majesty.

"Norway's Storthing respectfully begs to address Your Majesty and through Your Majesty Sweden's Riksdag and Sweden's people, as follows:

"What has been happening recently in Norway is the inevitable result of a combination of late political events and cannot be altered and as it is certain that neither of the two peoples is desirous of returning to the former condition of union the Storthing is of the opinion that it ought not to reconsider the various questions of the constitution and public law that have been brought up in your Majesty's note to the Storthing's president in connection with the resolutions adopted and on which the Storthing and the Government have already expressed themselves in detail.

ADDRESSES AN APPEAL.

"The Storthing recognizes fully your Majesty's difficult position and never for a moment has doubted that your Majesty's decisions are in accordance with what your Majesty has regarded as the rights and duties of the Crown. At the same time the Storthing is desirous of addressing an appeal to your Majesty, the Riksdag and the people of Sweden with the object of contributing to the peaceful carrying through of the dissolution of the union and the safeguarding of the friendship and concord of the two peoples of the peninsula.

NO OFFENSE MEANT TO SWEDEN

"The Storthing has seen from expressions of opinion in Sweden that the resolution which the Storthing felt it to be its duty to the Fatherland to adopt, declaring the union of the two kingdoms dissolved, has in form and action been considered mortifying to Sweden. That has never been its intention. What has happened and had to happen in Norway was merely the inevitable maintenance of Norway's constitutional rights. The Norwegian people never intended to assail Sweden's honor. As your Majesty in council May 26 declared you were unable to sanction the Storthing's unanimous resolution for the establishment of a separate Norwegian consular service and as no Norwegian government could be obtained by your Majesty the constitutional state of Norway was so far disjointed that the union could no longer be maintained."

WAS FORCED UPON STORTHING.

Upon Norway's Storthing was therefore imposed the necessity of procuring without delay a government for the country. Every other course was closed, all the more so as Your Majesty's Swedish Government had on April 25, already explicitly declined to enter into new negotiations, with the dissolution of the union as an alternative in the event that it was found impossible to arrive at an agreement in regard to a new form of union.

"The Storthing as already stated and the Norwegian peoples do not feel any bitterness or animosity against Your Majesty or the Swedish people. The statements to the contrary which possibly were uttered on occasions have wholly and solely been grounded on dissatisfaction at Norway's position in the union and as that source of bitterness and animosity would disappear with the dissolution of its union its effects also would vanish.

WILL DRAW TOGETHER.

Ninety years of co-operation in material and intellectual labors have awakened in the Norwegian people feelings of sincere friendship and sympathy for the Swedish people. These feelings will with Norway no longer occupying a position offensive to her national independence once more grow apace and insure the entrance of a mutual understanding between the peoples.

In the belief that the Swedish people share these views, the Storthing suggests to Sweden's constitutional authorities that they enter upon the negotiations requisite for a final settlement on the dissolution of the union with the recognition of Norway's new status and her rights as a sovereign state.

TO SAFEGUARD BOTH.

The Storthing is itself prepared to meet every fair and reasonable wish that may be put forward to safeguard the kingdom's independence and integrity. Constitutionally, the two peoples will henceforward be separated but at the same time the Storthing is fully convinced that this will lead to the development of a good and trustful relationship for the defence of their mutual interests.

"If the future settlement can be obtained without prejudice and bitterness, the Storthing is convinced that what has happened will prove for the lasting welfare of the northern peoples. For the sake of the north the Storthing addresses this appeal to the people which, by its magnanimity and chivalry has attained for itself such an eminent place among nations and with which the Norwegian people desire most sincerely to maintain good relations."

SWEDES HELD MEETING.

A great meeting of Swedish residents of Norway was held in Christiania on Monday. It adopted an impressive address to King Oscar, requesting him to use every influence to secure a peaceful settlement, with the view of maintaining the friendly relations of all Scandinavian peoples.

It is believed here that the extraordinary session of the Swedish Riksdag to be held Wednesday, will take action, looking to the prevention of a further rupture.

SOME SWEDES WANT WAR.

Special Cable to the Montreal Star.

Christiania, June 20.—Swedish Conservative papers, which a few weeks ago declared the union with Norway not worth a shot, now systematically advocate war with the sister kingdom. They now openly advocate war. They urg mobilization of the troops, and demand the cession of Northern Norway as compensation to the Swedish people for the dissolution of the union.

The agitation in the north, which was formerly regarded as a danger to the union on account of Russia's desire to annex that territory, is now welcomed, as it offers a pretext for taking that section of Norway as a convenient compensation to Sweden. In order to excite the war feeling the Swedish press reports all sorts of mis-statements regarding Norwegian mobilization for an attack on Sweden.

FAIR WARNING WAS GIVEN.

Norway's official press contradicts the statement that the King of Sweden had no idea that Norway intended to dissolve the union. The King was assured months ago that that was the intention of the Norwegians unless their just demands were granted. He was implored to sanction the Consular Act of May 27, in order to avoid that event. When he refused, the Norwegian Ministry again pointed out to him the danger ahead. The Swedish press itself pointed out that the union was likely to be dissolved. Sweden now seems ready to accept the dissolution itself, but thinks it ought to be done justly by the two countries. Even this was officially proposed by the Norwegian Government on February 25, but was refused.

PEACE OR WAR?

"How then is it possible to satisfy Sweden?" asked the Norwegian press. "All our warnings and proposals have been rejected and taken up only when too late. Happily in Sweden there are strong forces for peace. Swedish corporations are urging the Riksdag to an amicable agreement; Swedes residing in Norway add their voices. The near future will show which is stronger—peace or war."

BISHOP MILLS ON CANADIAN POLITICS

Notable Address Made by His Lordship at Kingston This Afternoon.

CRITICISM OF GOVERNMENT

Liberalism's "Party Tragedy"—Separate School Legislation Denounced.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ontario, June 20.—In his address before the synod of Ontario Diocese, this afternoon, Bishop Mills made a lengthy reference to political conditions existing in Canada today. His remarks on the Western school question were very pointed. Though a Liberal himself, his Lordship severely scored the party of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, charging it with setting aside the old principle of Liberalism—the conservation and maintenance of provincial rights. Neither was the Conservative party spared.

RISING ABOVE PARTY.

His Lordship said:

"It is a satisfaction to know that when an occasion arises, or seems to arise, to call for it, the people of Canada can lift themselves above party lines and unite in the service of their country or for the correction of wrongs, which seem to exist. The change in the government of this province was brought about—not by one party, but by both—by Liberals and Conservatives joining hands in the hope that a new broom might sweep cleaner than the old. The Conservatives have certainly entered into a goodly heritage, and if they are only wise in their day and generation, realize their responsibilities, and live up to them, there will be no need of their falling out by the way, or soon returning to the lean and cold land of Opposition, which they occupied so long. But if they should grow fat and kick, doubtless Grit and Tory will again unite for purposes of discipline, and show that the government of this country must be carried on with clean hands and pure hearts; and, therefore, we may all thank God, and take courage. As in the Province, so in the Dominion; in 1896 the Conservatives were overthrown and the Liberals came into power, on the question of provincial rights, in connection with separate schools for Manitoba. Party lines were discarded by many, and the question was dealt with on its merits.

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP MILLS.

"A PARTY TRAGEDY."

"Now, however, the Liberal party has set aside that which Liberals hold dear—a principle for which Liberalism stands—the conservation and maintenance of provincial rights, and today stands, as one has said, clothed in the faded and tattered garments worn by Conservatives in 1896. It is nothing less than a party tragedy. If it true a compromise has been made, but compromises are invariably bad and undesirable; this compromise infringes on provincial rights, as really as the original Act. Party influence has drawn into line, for the time being, and made supporters of the present legislation, men who, in their heart of hearts, are opposed to it; but a feeling has been aroused in the country, which the people of Canada generally, have as much right to discuss as Parliament itself. Even if the political representatives of the territories, and the federal ministers were at one in the matter, we have the right to say that it is unjust to put an arbitrary construction upon the constitution, and to petrify that constitution by federal law, so that there shall be denied to the western people for all time the power to determine the character of their local institutions. If there is to be contention over this matter as to whether or not there shall be separate schools in those provinces, it is better to let the people there fight it out by themselves, to keep it within the narrower limits of the provinces than to make it a Dominion question. Before such legislation should be enacted the people of Canada as a whole should be heard, and there would be no uncertain sound in their voice; the people of the two provinces interested should be allowed to speak.

LAURIER AND THE ABLEGATE.

"For Sir Wilfrid Laurier, personally, I have the highest respect and the deepest regard. I believe him to be a thoroughly honest and conscientious, as well as able man; but he is under authority, and is not free; he has risked his reputation as a statesman, and the interests of his party in behalf of separate schools, which his church demands for the provinces of the North-West. He certainly displayed great tact and eloquence in his presentation of the subject. The Papal Ablegate was brought over, it is said, to settle differences which existed amongst members of his own church. As he is engaged in that work, we have nothing to say; but he has been undoubtedly devoting his attention of late to the affairs of the Dominion generally, and to the shaping of its legislation, and against this, we most emphatically protest.

"We respect his church and his office, but it matters not who he is, no foreigner can be allowed to interfere in the politics of this country. No Protestant, worthy of the name, throughout the length and breadth of this great Dominion, would wish to deprive his Roman Catholic fellow-citizens, of any right or privilege he desires or claims for himself; but we object to class legislation, and to the granting of privileges to one section or creed more than to another.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS DENOUNCED.

"As regards the question of separate schools, which is at the bottom of the whole matter, I am absolutely and unalterably opposed to them. This Dominion is made up of people of diverse races and religions. I am told that in the North-West there are already representatives of races speaking twenty-five different languages and holding a great variety of religious beliefs. The most powerful instrumentality for moulding them together and Canadianizing them is the common school. Through this agency, the foreigners who are pouring into the Territories can best be assimilated and a Canadian national sentiment best developed. Some people talk about the godlessness of the common school; well—talk is cheap; they often talk most—and talk loudest, who know least. In the light of facts who can believe such a statement? Who will say that the men and women of our country, who have been largely educated in these schools, have any godless mark left on them? What has been the means by which the many nationalities existing in the United States have been blended into one homogeneous whole? Undoubtedly, the common school. Arrangements could easily be made, whereby religious instruction could be given at certain hours without interfering with the ordinary work of the day, by the Roman priest to the members of his flock, by the clergyman of the Church of England, and the ministers of other religious bodies, without any clashing whatsoever. If the Roman Catholics have a moral right to separate schools in those provinces, so have others as well, so indeed have the Mormons, who have purchased a large tract of territory in Alberta, and would probably like to have their own separate schools, for the propagation of their beliefs.

OPPOSITION SCORED.

"The Premier's bill presented a great chance to the Conservative party to which it did not rise. Had it taken as its mottoe a national school and religious equality for all, Grit and Tory, outside of the province of Quebec, would have everywhere rallied to its standard; but it hesitated, and was silent for so long, that some thought it was dead, killed perhaps with joy, which can sometimes kill as well as grief, but no, it was not dead, it was not only, like the fishman who had fallen into the pit, merely "spaceless." Presently it awoke, like one out of sleep, though not like a giant refreshed with wine, and opposed, not separate schools, but the coercion of the provinces by the way in which these schools are proposed to be established; thus hoping to secure a general Protestant support, without losing the support of the province of Quebec. In this it has been disappointed. The party is absolutely and irrevocably committed to separate schools, and has been for years. It wants Quebec's, support, and is afraid to oppose that province, which, on questions like this, will always vote as a unit, and so as between the two parties, on this question. I am sorry to say it is very much a choice between the pot and the kettle.

CONDITIONS IN QUEBEC.

It is amusing to hear people outside of the province of Quebec, who know nothing about the matter, and politicians within the province who ought to know, but do not speak according to knowledge, because it would not be politic to do so, telling how generous-minded minorities are treated in that province. For expediency and party trammels often change entirely the complexion of affairs to the followers of a party, and make even black almost appear white; and things which would seem wrong elsewhere, to be right, because the party calls for them. Those who embark on the stormy sea of politics, soon find that expediency, and not patriotism, must be their guiding star, and that there is a current hard to be resisted, which sets strongly in a direction, where there are abysmal depths of moral turpitude. I lived for twenty-five years in that province, and I know all about education there, and the kind of justice which is meted out to the minority. The minority pay into the provincial treasury the larger proportion of the income of the province; they are the large importers. The taxable wealth, too, of the province, is held by English-speaking people, who are for the most part, Protestants; and from the money received from these sources, grants are made for elementary, and superior education, according to population, with the result, therefore, that Protestants receive one-seventh, and Roman Catholics, six-sevenths of the money granted.

"Then further, the school taxes on all business and commercial corporations, (although more than three-fourths of the money invested in them belongs to Protestants), is put into what is called "neutral panel," and these taxes are divided according to population, with the result that the majority, which provided the major portion of the money, gets less than twenty-five per cent. Then, in rural districts, where there are only a few Protestants not numerous enough to support a school of their own, it is a question whether to sell out, and move away, which is generally being done, or to send their children to a school, where the greater portion of the time is taken up with learning the catechism and the distinctive doctrines of the Church of Rome.

PLEA FOR NATIONAL SCHOOLS.

"Now, I am saying nothing against these doctrines, but I ask, would any honest, thoughtful Roman Catholic say that Protestants, under these conditions, have nothing to complain of and are treated as Roman Catholics would like to be treated themselves? National schools are very different. There a secular education, which will qualify for any position in life, can be got, without any interference whatever with the religious belief of the children. Speaking of politics, party representation, as it now exists, prevents a proper representation of the people. The electorate of the country are not properly or really represented in Parliament. A convention, managed often by a few schemers, brings out a man as the nominee of the party, and the members of that party, like a flock of sheep, are supposed to follow and to vote for him, though he may not be the man of their choice at all. It is time that such a state of things should be abandoned, and the voice of the people, generally, be heard; and a few determined men in every county, would soon bring about a change. The members of both parties in this Synod, would join hands to overthrow the system now in vogue."

Still Subject to a Fine.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 20.—The Deputy Minister of Labor, Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, interviewed, stated that while the decision of Mr. Justice Anglin would prevent the deportation of aliens brought in under extra-territorial contracts, he did not think the decision covered the provision in the act imposing a penalty for bringing in aliens under contract. That provision of the law declares it an offence punishable by a fine of $50 to $1000 to bring in laborers under contract. In the opinion of Mr. King, the Pere Marquette is still liable to this fine, though the men it brought in cannot be deported.

New York Excursion.

The New York Central is advertising an early summer excursion to New York city, leaving by regular trains of Friday, June 30th, at rate of single fare for the round trip, tickets being good all rail in both directions, or by Day or Night Line steamers between Albany and New York on the Hudson River. Limit of ten days is allowed excursionists.

A RECORD MADE IN GRAIN ELEVATING

Quick Work Accomplished on Unloading of SS. Westmount.

130,000 BUSHELS IN 6 HOURS

Big Cargo of Oats Was Handled Between Nine in Evening and Four in Morning.

The grain elevator of the Montreal Transportation Company at Kingston, has been making a record for itself in the unloading of cargoes.

On Monday the Montreal Transportation Company's steamer Westmount, with a grain cargo of 130,000 bushels pulled up in front of the elevator, and in just six hours and twenty minutes actual elevating time the steamer was empty.

The start was made at 9.20 p.m., and the last bushel went into the elevator at 4.40 a.m. Total time 7 hours, 20 minutes, less one hour for night supper, 6 hours and 20 minutes actual working time.

This cargo was oats which elevate much more slowly than does wheat, or corn, and the management states that had there been either one of the latter grains the cargo would have been discharged in 5 hours and 20 minutes, or an hour less than the actual time.

JAPANESE TURNED RUSSIAN FLANK

More Sharp Skirmishing Reported From Manchurian Battlefields

HORRIBLE TALE OF MASSACRE

Russians Massacred Red Cross Men and Forced Bayonets Down Throats of Japanese.

St. Petersburg, June 20. — General Linevitch, under date of June 17, telegraphed to the Emperor as follows:

"From 2 a.m. until 8 a.m., June 16, our force engaged in the neighborhood of Liaoyangwopeng a Japanese force consisting of infantry and two batteries of artillery, which approached from the south to about five miles off Liaoyangwopeng. Our detachment southward checked the offensive movement and the Japanese retired.

RUSSIAN FLANK TURNED.

"At about 8 a.m. a turning movement on the left flank, executed by a battalion of Japanese infantry and three squadrons of cavalry, was also reported. Our right flank was turned by a regiment of infantry, several squadrons of cavalry and some artillery. The commander of our detachment, consequently, was forced to evacuate Liaoyangwopeng, and a Japanese force entered Liaoyangwopeng with a division of infantry, thirty squadrons of cavalry and four batteries of artillery. Three Japanese squadrons occupied Simiachen, but our detachment forced them to evacuate the place.

ATTACKED AT DAWN.

"At dawn to-day a company of Japanese infantry resumed the offensive, eastward of the railway, but were dislodged in the direction of Kongchen and Munsan."

ADVANCE OF THE JAPANESE.

Liliapudzy, Manchuria, June 20.—The Japanese are advancing from the centre and westward and are driving in the Russian screens south of Paltun. Further west they turned the Russian extreme right at Liaoyanghungpeng Saturday night, flanking the Russians out of position after a night long fight. The Japanese force consists of an infantry division, four batteries of artillery and thirty squadrons of cavalry. Gen. Mistchenko's cavalry subsequently retrieved some of the lost ground.

During Gen. Mistchenko's operations Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia (representing Emperor William with the Russian army), received his baptism of fire.

IN THREE COLUMNS.

According to information received at headquarters, the Japanese are moving northwest from Corea in three columns, which include 50,000 infantry and corresponding forces of cavalry and field and mountain artillery. These two columns are heading for Chutsami, Kmesan, and Kenschen, to complete the line of Marshal Oyama's army stretching from the Mongolian frontier to the Sea of Japan.

FEARFUL STORY OF MASSACRE.

London, June 20.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says he has received from a correspondent in Manchuria, a statement that Cossacks, during an engagement on May 10, attacked a field hospital near Talpoushan. They first fired volleys at close quarters and then charged with swords, despite the fact that the surgeons and medical corps, 40 in number, prominently displayed the Red Cross. The Cossacks dashed among them, and in some instances forced their way into the Japanese quarters, all the time slashing right and left. Many non-combatants were killed and wounded.

BAYONET THRUST DOWN THROATS.

Some of the Russians dismounted and thrust their bayonets down the throats of Japanese. Some of the Japanese were nearly decapitated and bodies were disemboweled. The scene was like a slaughter house. Then the Cossacks burned the medical supplies, ambulance waggons and stretchers, destroying instruments and plundering the property of officers and men. It was wholesale loot and murder. Finally the Cossacks made twenty surgeons prisoners. As they retreated north they set fire to all the Chinese houses on the way. They met a force of Japanese infantry and were compelled to leave their prisoners behind.

DEMAND FOR AMMUNITION.

Berlin, June 20.—The war in the Far East is causing such a demand for ammunition that the Germany artillery manufacturers are over-run with orders. The Krupps' Essen Works, have orders for the delivery of 300 guns monthly for nearly two years. The company, which only recently built another artillery foundry, making eight of these buildings, must soon begin to construct a ninth artillery foundry.

RAVAGED BY CHOLERA.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—A telegram from the medical superintendent at Harbin to the General Staff, states that the cholera situation at Harbin is grave. There were, before the outbreak of the cholera, 26,000 wounded and sick in the twenty-one hospitals, which are now full. He urgently asks for medical aid to combat the cholera.

NO ARMISTICE JUST NOW.

London, June 20.—A Paris despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, says, that Count Lamsdorff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, has declared that no armistice will be arranged until after the opening of negotiations for peace.

MUST BE BY EXPERIMENT.

Tariff Reform in Great Britain Must Come Slowly.

Special to the Montreal Star.

London, June 20.—Some eight hundred old country men were present at S. B. Balton's reception to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Totteridge, including the Earl and Countess of Minto, Dr. Parkin and Lord Dundonald.

The Duke of Argyll, addressing the Company, referred to the great bounds Canada had made in manufacturing. Fiscal reform must be a matter of experience. He hoped the Canadian manufacturers in all their goings and comings would make it clear to the British people that what was wanted was not to subvert principles, but to make small experimental changes, which, if they did not answer, could be taken back.

ANOTHER BOND OF EMPIRE.

Visit of Canadian Manufacturers Strengthens the Ties.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, June 20.— Commenting on the Canadian Manufacturers' Association's visit, the Daily Telegraph says the visit will be valued by the Dominion as yet another proof of the bonds of union being more tightly drawn every year, and that the future development of British trade on both sides of the Atlantic—far from proving a source of bitterness and jealousy—will be most cordially welcomed in the Mother Country as conducing to the strength and prosperity of the empire as a whole.

HAGGARD REPORT FLATTERS CANADA

British Papers Comment Canada's Willingness to Receive Immigrants.

ARE PRACTISING AT BISLEY

Manufacturers' Association is Visiting the Royal Albert, East India, and Tilbury Docks.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, June 20.—Rider Haggard, in the report of his visit to Canada, goes into very lengthy and minute details regarding his mission from all standpoints of the colonies visited, socially a success, but financially as far as the Salvation Army was concerned, a failure.

Outside of this failure in finance the two experiments seem, says Mr. Haggard, eminently successful and to demonstrate successfully that indigent people of the agricultural or laborer class, can be settled on land and there do well and that such persons can even be taken from towns and yet prosper.

He found the Salvation army more respected in Canada than in Great Britain.

CANADA WILLING.

The St. James' Gazette, referring to the Haggard report, says that Canada is willing to do her share in a free and whole-hearted manner. The next move is with us.

CANADIAN VISITORS.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association are to-day on the invitation of East India Dock Company, visiting the Tilbury Docks and Royal Albert Docks. The party is being conveyed around the docks by steamer.

POLITICS OF NOVA SCOTIA.

Provincial General Elections Expected in the Near Future.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 20.—Nova Scotia members of Parliament are anticipating in the not far distant future the dissolution of the Legislature of that province and a general election. Before this occurs, or whether or not there is an election, there will need to be a Cabinet reconstruction. Attorney-General Longley, for years one of the strongest members of the Government, has received the reward of long political service. He has been created a judge. It is not improbable that Hon. Arthur Drysdale, Provincial Minister of Public Works, will be made Attorney-General, while Hon. Mr. Pipes may receive a portfolio.

The Legislature, elected for five years, has another year to run, but the Cabinet reconstruction doubtless will furnish reason for an appeal to the people a little ahead of time.

In anticipation of elections this fall, Nova Scotia Conservatives recently held a convention and made arrangements for active organization. Mr. A. L. Davidson, barrister, of Middleton, has been appointed provincial organizer.

Saguenay Excursion—Dominion Day.

The R. & O. Navigation Co. have decided to run an excursion to the famous Saguenay River this year, similar to the one which proved so popular last season.
