World News In Brief

Buenos Aires, Feb. 16.—(Reuters)—Twenty-three persons were killed and 42 injured Sunday in a train derailment in southern Patagonia. First reports said the train was carrying 80 persons, including passengers and staff.

Singapore, Feb. 16.—(Reuters)—Malcolm MacDonald will remain as British commissioner-general in southeast Asia until the end of 1953—the third time his term has been extended—it was announced here Sunday.

Pebble Beach, Calif., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Clark Lee, 49, foreign correspondent, died suddenly at his home here Sunday from a heart attack. Lee, then with The Associated Press, was the only U.S. correspondent on Bataan when the Japanese struck that island early in the war. In 1943, he became a roving correspondent with international news service. He was the son of Clayton D. Lee, one of the founders of United Press.

Hollywood, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Peter Lawford's father, Lt. Gen. Sir Sydney Lawford, who once objected to his son's acting in movies but later not only approved but did a bit of acting in them himself, died Sunday. He succumbed at 87 after a relapse of influenza.

Sir Sydney, who retired after more than 40 years of service in the British Army, was an enthusiastic amateur gardener and an animal lover.

Edmonton, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Paratroopers of the Royal 22nd Regiment landed at Norman Wells in the Northwest Territories Sunday to launch the largest all-Canadian airborne manoeuvres ever held in Canada.

The Royal 22nd, which flew direct from its Quebec base, is acting as the "enemy" in Exercise Bulldog. The paratroopers quickly "captured" the airport and all radio installations. Troops of the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, are acting as a defence force.

Barrow-In-Furness, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Britain's newest aircraft carrier, the 18,300-ton Hermes, was launched by Mrs. Winston Churchill today in a ceremony marred by the collapse of a temporary structure.

Eleven shipyard workers were slightly injured when steel plating at a scaffolding behind the ceremonial stand gave way under the weight of 200 onlookers. About 30 toppled to the ground.

The prime minister's wife and others on the stand were not injured.

Halifax, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Three men being swept out to sea on an ice pan off Lower Carleton, in northeastern New Brunswick, were rescued today by RCMP in a small boat.

Apparently caught on the pan while smelt fishing, the three were sent seaward by a strong wind and tide.

For a time it was feared the ice would break and the RCAF sent a Lancaster and a navy helicopter to attempt a rescue.

Massive Air Raids Continue Against Red Buildup Areas

Seoul, Feb. 16.—(AP)—U.S. Sabre jets today shot down three Russian-built MIGs, probably destroyed another and damaged seven while screening a massive air raid on the big Communist troop and supply buildup area.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force reported the Communist jet fighter losses after announcing earlier that 200 Allied fighter-bombers had turned the supply area southwest of Pyongyang into a boiling mass of smoke and flames.

It was the second straight day of jet dog fights in far northwest Korea. The Sabres, outnumbered 45 to 22, shot down two MIGs Sunday, probably destroyed a third and damaged four. They were shielding Allied fighter-bombers which knocked out two generators at the big Suho hydro-electric plant on the Yalu river boundary of Manchuria.

More than 500 planes hit the giant Suho plant — the world's fourth largest — last June 23, but the Communists evidently had rebuilt it.

Today's target for the big Allied air strike was Kyomipo, about 20 miles southwest of the Korean capital of Pyongyang. Participating in the stepped-up air blows were Marine Capt. Ted Williams, famed former Boston Red Sox slugger, and Air Force Maj. James Jabara, the first jet ace who is flying his second combat tour in Korea.

Williams' fighter-bomber developed trouble over the Kyomipo target area — presumably hit by ground fire. He managed to get

Van Fleet To Be Questioned About Possibility Of Using Atomic Weapons In Korea

46 Feared Lost Aboard U.S. Plane

New Orleans, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Scant hope was held today that any of the 46 persons aboard a National Airlines DC-6 plane survived a crash into the stormy waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Seventeen bodies were recovered when darkness interrupted a huge air-sea search last night. No Canadians were listed among the passengers.

The ill-fated four-engine plane, flying in 100-mile-an-hour winds, was en route from Tampa, Fla., to New Orleans when it crashed Saturday afternoon — less than five minutes from possible safety.

Many persons prominent in business and society were aboard the big airliner.

Three life rafts—all empty—were found yesterday. The coast guard believed that only a "remote possibility" existed that the airliner's fourth raft would be found with survivors.

SOS signals were heard early yesterday. They were sent by a hand-cranked "Gibson girl" transmitter of a type carried by the DC-6. They stopped before a direction finder could establish the point of origin.

It was the first fatal crash by U.S. domestic airlines since a National DC-6 fell at Elizabeth, N.J., Feb. 11, 1952.

Besides plane debris, rescue workers found such items as a mail bag containing valentines, clothing and personal items.

The plane came down in water 90 feet deep. Heavy seas caused it to break up and allow bodies of the victims to float to the surface.

Man Dies Twice In Fourteen Hours

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—An 80-year-old man was found alive in an embalming room two hours after the family doctor had issued a death certificate.

William Grossman was taken to hospital where he died early today, more than 14 hours after being pronounced dead.

Dr. David Blumenfeld had listed arterio-sclerotic heart disease, generalized arterio-sclerosis and senility on the death certificate.

Assistant district attorney George Regan quoted the doctor saying he found no heart beat, pulse or any other indication of life when he twice examined the patient yesterday morning.

After the death certificate was signed, Grossman was taken to the funeral home of Charles Morton and placed in an embalming room.

Morton and his aides noticed a flicker of the eyelids and an apparent slight exhalation.

The funeral men wrapped Grossman in a blanket and called an ambulance. An ambulance doctor was able to restore breathing sufficiently to permit Grossman's removal to hospital. There he was given shock treatment, oxygen, and blood transfusions but failed to rally.

the plane back to an Allied air strip and crash landed. He walked away from the wrecked and blazing plane.

Jabara was credited with damaging a MIG—the first claim of his second combat tour after 20 or more fruitless missions. On his first tour Jabara destroyed six MIGs, probably destroyed another and damaged four.

Allied warships, meanwhile, began the third year of their bombardment and siege of the eastern Korean port of Wonsan. The U.S. heavy cruiser Toledo and two destroyers shelled shore installations.

The siege of Wonsan is the longest in U.S. naval history. AP correspondent Olen Clements described Wonsan as, "A battered hulk of rubble and death."

On the battle front Allied infantry threw back five small Communist probes in pre-dawn darkness. Temperatures dropped below zero all along the front.

The 8th army's new commander, Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, in his first press conference, said he might have in mind.

Question May Also Be Considered At Top-Level White House Meeting.

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Whether atomic weapons should be used to win the Korean war is certain to be among the questions asked of Gen. James A. Van Fleet when the former 8th army commander goes before congressional committees next month.

There was some speculation the same question was up for discussion at a top-level White House meeting today. If it was, presumably several new factors would be taken into account:

1. The stockpile of A-bombs for tactical use on a battlefield is growing.
2. The army has a new big-calibre gun it claims can shoot atomic shells.
3. Intensified pressure at home for ending the war.

So far, the answers of most military leaders have been against using nuclear weapons. The reasons they give are both military and political.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staffs, repeated in an interview recently that he sees nothing to be gained now by using the atomic bomb tactically.

The views of Bradley and others who recommended against employing such weapons in Korea generally seem predicated on these ideas:

There are, in the present battle situation, no really good targets, neither tactical on the battlefield nor strategic the sources of enemy war goods production in North Korea.

Atomic explosives can kill everyone above ground within the great radius of the blast, pulverize equipment and burn what is left. But when exploded at 2,000 or 3,000 feet, where the cone of the blast can encompass the greatest effective area, they cannot do major damage to below-ground positions.

The 155-mile line of the Chinese and Korean Reds is dotted with bunkers ranging from 20 to 50 feet in depth, capped with earth and sometimes concrete. Except for a virtually direct hit, they would withstand atomic attack.

Since the army announced last fall that it has new 280-millimetre guns capable of shooting atomic shells, there has been growing talk about the possibility of using such weapons in Korea.

While a few such guns have been demonstrated in firings of conventional ammunition there is nothing to indicate that the first experimental atomic shell has been fired. That may be tested this spring.

Aside from the tactical factors, military men do not discount the possible bad effect through the whole Asiatic world—enemy, neutral or friendly—of using the mass destruction weapon on Asians.

Nor can the possibility be ignored that Soviet Russia, with its stockpile of atomic energy, might signal for joining in and making it a world war fought with nuclear weapons.

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—President Eisenhower today holds two White House conferences touching on Far Eastern policy and atomic energy.

Both of these topics being taken up on the same day stirred speculation that the long-debated question of using atomic weapons against the communists in Korea might be under study.

But the White House and top-ranking figures involved in the meetings kept mum.

Eisenhower arranged to meet first with Republican leaders of Congress. This is the regular Monday strategy conference, but with two new faces—chairman Robert Chamberlain (Rep. Ill.) of the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee and chairman H. Alexander Smith (Rep. N. J.) of the Senate foreign relations subcommittee on the Far East.

Smith's presence indicated the Far East was one of the subjects likely to be taken up.

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio said he expected a discussion with the President of the over-all foreign aid program.

Eisenhower has asked Congress for approval of a resolution repudiating secret international agreements. Taft said this proposal also might be discussed.

Eisenhower also scheduled a meeting bringing together the top-ranking officials of his administration with Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and members of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Much of the speculation about Eisenhower's Far Eastern plans—the possibility of a new offensive, of a blockade of China, of a United Nations embargo on shipments to Red China, of the use of the A-bomb or of atomic artillery—were potential subjects for the morning meeting.

Rome, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The leaking Italian motorship Tripolitania was reported abandoned and taking water fast today between Sicily and Greece. All 119 of her passengers and crew had been picked up by the U.S. troop transport General C. H. Muir.

Ted Williams Crash Lands Damaged Plane

Seoul, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Ted Williams slid home today. Safely.

The famed former Boston Red Sox slugger, now a Marine captain and pilot, crash-landed his burning Panther jet fighter-bomber at a forward base after taking part in a 200-plane strike in North Korea.

Williams, on his first Korean combat mission, fought his plane back across the lines and belly landed when his wheels stuck.

On the harrowing flight his radio went out, his ailerons stuck, his plane was on fire and his airspeed indicator quit.

Despite it all, he was able to walk away from his damaged plane. There was no indication he suffered any injuries.

Williams said his pass over the target, a sprawling Red troop and supply centre near the Red Korean capital, Pyongyang, was "a smooth run."

"I can't understand it," he said. "I didn't feel a thing hit me."

Fellow pilots, however, said Williams' plane was blazing when it left the target, and flames were seen coming from the brake ports all the way back to the forward base.

Presumably the Panther jet was hit by Red ground fire.

"As I came off the target, my light indicator showed that my wheels were down, but I got them stuck," Williams said. "Then the stick started to shake like mad in my hand."

"I tried to call one of my companions to get a visual check but my radio was out."

Williams then climbed to gain altitude, and headed toward the nearest Allied air base.

"I had to use both hands on the stick. On the final approach I thought I was going too fast but when I looked at my airspeed indicator, it wasn't working. It showed zero."

Furthermore, the former Boston outfielder declared, his wing flaps weren't working and his wheels wouldn't go down.

"There was nothing to do but belly in."

Hunger Forces S. Korea To Switch Currency Unit

By PETER ROBINSON

Namwon, Korea, Feb. 16.—(Reuters)—Hunger emerged today as an insidious enemy of South Korea as troops fighting a guerrilla campaign on meagre rations of rice.

The short rations are linked directly with South Korea's currency crisis. Yesterday the government switched its currency unit from the inflated won to a new kwon in an attempt to stop black market buying of supplies and starving front-line troops.

But the changeover will have little immediate effect on Republic of Korea troops who are in rear sectors, fighting Communist irregulars in rugged mountain country without the aid of Allied rations.

Their officers describe their plight as desperate. A medical team recently discovered three quarters of the men in two battalions were suffering from serious diseases caused by near-starvation including tuberculosis, bronchitis and beriberi.

Brig. Lee Yong Moon, commanding the southern security forces, said these troops were the only soldiers at present enduring the full strain of serious battle.

The medical survey reported that in two battalions about 11 per cent of the men were in hospital as non-combat casualties.

Tests showed nearly a quarter of one regiment's soldiers weighed less than 95 pounds, though at the time of enlistment the average weight of Korean soldiers was 120 pounds.

The medical team estimated a soldier fighting in the mountain country needed a minimum of 4,700 calories a day. The present diet gives 2,700 calories.

They said this meant troops were "living on their own flesh."

BOTTLING PLANT BURNS — Flames, fanned by a brisk wind, tore through Pure Spring soft drink bottling works on Galt St. West this morning and at press time firemen were pouring gallons of water on the ruins.

Only the walls of the two-storey cement-cased building appeared to be standing as the fire swept through the entire firm, operated by Vinet and Roy Reg. The plant is located on Galt Street West, about half a mile from the Military Camp.

Black thick smoke was pouring out of the windows and through the top of what once was a roof and could be seen for miles. Flames soared high into the sky and the high wind made fire fighting very difficult.

The larger part of Sherbrooke's Fire Department was on hand, under the direction of Director Percy Donahue, and most of the firemen were covered with icicles. The cause of the fire is unknown and the building is expected to be a total loss.

At press time the firemen had the conflagration under control but the inside was still burning fiercely.

These pictures show the building enveloped in smoke as firemen try to curb the flames.

Russian-Type Fighters Fly Over Japan

Tokyo, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Two U.S. jet planes challenged two Russian-type fighters over Northern Japan today, damaged one in a brief skirmish, and chased both intruders to the Soviet-held Kurile Islands, the Far East Air Force said.

It was the first time Soviet planes had appeared over Northern Japan since the Japanese government, with strong U.S. backing, warned Russia Jan. 13 against such unauthorized flights.

The air force identified the planes as LA-11s, a Russian-built prop-driven single seat fighter in the 400-mile-an-hour class. The

22 Killed In Italian Train Crash

Benevento, Italy, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Excessive speed, blamed on faulty brakes, hauled the Bari-Naples express train off the track here yesterday, killing at least 22 persons.

Eighty were injured, 23 severely. All casualties were Italian.

The 10-car train raced down a hill at 65 miles an hour into this South Italian city and jumped the rails as it approached the station. The locomotive plunged on to the station platform. Only the last car remained on the tracks.

Many of the victims were headed for Naples to sail for a new life in Venezuela.

Train engineer Roberto Pitera and his assistant, Nicola Ricciardi, were arrested and placed under guard in Benevento's little hospital, crowded to overflowing with the injured.

Pitera told investigators the brakes failed.

Raimondi Giovanni, director-general of Italian railways, said the train should have slowed to 18 miles an hour before entering Benevento. He said the locomotive brakes had not yet been examined.

Railway workers and volunteers continued to dig today into the wreckage in search of other possible victims. Civic mourning was proclaimed by the mayor. A mass

Nationalists Will Accept U.S. Orders

By SPENCER MOOSA

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Future Nationalist military operations against the Red China mainland probably will be fitted into the broad aims of United States strategy, centred mainly on getting the Chinese Reds to call it quits in Korea.

Although no official statement has been made, there is every reason to believe the Chinese Nationalists are willing to co-operate fully with the United States and will not undertake any military actions without approval in Washington.

A world-wide impression seems to have grown up in the wake of President Eisenhower's denunciation order that Formosa is poised to strike at the mainland. The idea also seems to have developed that big raids are forming, that blockades are tightening and that ships will be seized if they venture into this zone.

It isn't so, and it isn't likely to be so for months and maybe years. However, in the absence of any official indications as to what might happen, developments affecting Formosa are likely to be:

1. A stepped-up flow of U. S. military aid, including jet planes.
2. Strengthening of the military assistance advisory group under Maj. Gen. William H. Chittenden, who has about 800 officers and men but

Europe's Sea Walls Hold Firm Against Rising Tides

London, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The battered sea walls of England, the Netherlands and Belgium held fast against still-rising spring tides today and forecasts of calm or only light winds raised hopes that the vast flood disaster of two weeks ago would not be repeated.

However, an emergency army of military and civilian workers stood by or toiled to further bulwark the soggy sea defences, breached at hundreds of points and only temporarily plugged.

The BBC warned people living in the low-lying coastal areas to continue on the alert.

Holland's waterways director, August Maris, toured his country's stricken southwest area — where some 1,400 persons died two weeks ago — and termed it "very, very vulnerable."

"Many of the holes in the dikes have been plugged, but it is only a provisional job," he added. Forecasting no wind in the flood area, however, the Dutch weather bureau said there was "no reason for alarm."

British forecasters charted light or moderate westerly winds for their endangered east coast.

The morning high tide passed in both countries without a major new break in the defence system.

Another peak was due this afternoon, with two more potentially critical heights tomorrow.

At Britain's hard-hit Thames estuary island of Canvey the morning tide fell six inches short of the predicted level. Nearby Southend-on-sea, another critical point, reported the peak two feet below the danger mark.

The tides flooded hundreds of acres of uninhabited marshland near Herne Bay, where a stretch of the sea well knocked down in the Feb. 1 storms has not yet been repaired.

In central London, the Thames rose above the level of adjoining streets and moored ships floated high above nearby residences but the water did not flow over the high embankments. The water was two feet lower than two weeks ago, when there was extensive flooding.

Stanstead North W. I. Hears Talk By Dr. Lapierre

Rock Island, Feb. 16. — The Stanstead North Women's Institute held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Bliss on February 5. Seventeen members sat down to the delicious dinner prepared by Mrs. Bliss, Mrs. Osborne and Miss Flint.

A letter of thanks from the Sherbrooke Hospital for scrap book material for the children's wards was read, also a letter of thanks from Miss Bell, of England, for a box of sweets sent at Christmas. A letter from the Canadian Association of Consumers, one from the Voluntary Women's Service and one from W. K. Willis, were read and discussed.

Mrs. Byron Brown donated a large bundle of print pieces to be made up into a quilt for the flood victims. Mrs. J. Byers will have charge of the quilt.

Mrs. Bliss introduced Dr. Lapierre of Beebe, who gave a very interesting talk on "Periodic Examinations." He was thanked by Miss C. I. MacKenzie. Dr. Lapierre then showed a film of the beautiful countryside around the Border Communities. These were thoroughly enjoyed and Mrs. Chas. Waide voiced the thanks of the members to Dr. Lapierre.

ALLEGRO GROUP
The Allegro Group of Centenary church, Stanstead, met at the home of Mrs. Charles Merriman, Stanstead, on Tuesday evening, February 10, with twelve members attending. The meeting was presided over by the new president, Miss Gertrude Ketcham, who also conducted the devotional period by reading a portion from the "Upper Room" booklet.

As there is not to be any money making project held during the month of February it was decided that all members will double the amount of the collection at the March meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. McKinley Rose on March 10.

A request was heard from the Senior Ladies organization asking for waitresses for the Shrove Tuesday supper to be held February 17 at the church hall, and several volunteered to help.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned and all had fun playing a "Nutt" quiz contest, with Mrs. Edgar Hill giving the most correct answers. A delectable lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Merriman, Mrs. George Hood and Miss Gertrude Ketcham.

What keeps a jet plane from burning up, Dad?

INCO Nickel

"Nickel alloys, son. The problem with early jet engines was the terrific heat which caused metal parts to warp and crack. Then new alloys containing nickel were developed to stand up under the intense heat. Jet engines became more efficient. Today engineers keep trying to develop better and better nickel alloys to make jet engines more efficient still."

"It's a good thing we have nickel in Canada, isn't it, Dad?"

"It sure is, son. Most of the nickel for planes, battleships and other defence equipment for Canada, Great Britain and the United States comes right from our own Canadian nickel mines."

Sunday Morning Fire Razes Garage, House And Restaurant At Bishopton

Bishopton, Feb. 16—Damage which might run as high as $20,000 was caused here yesterday morning when fire of undetermined origin swept the Westman garage, home and restaurant.

The two-floor building of cement block and wood, owned and operated since the end of the war by Reynolds Westman, was a total loss and the few volunteers on the local fire pump were hard pressed to keep the fire from spreading to adjoining houses.

Mr. Westman, whose wife recently underwent an operation in the Sherbrooke Hospital and whose infant son, Bruce, born in November, is also now being treated in the hospital for a bronchial ailment, was at a loss to explain the cause of the fire.

He and his two other children, Betty 9, and Michael 2, were in the house on the top floor at the time the fire broke out, along with two girls who were looking after the children while Mrs. Westman was in hospital, Bertha Nadeau and Pauline Belisle.

The five were able to escape the burning building only with the clothes on their backs and their lives.

"My wife was supposed to come home tomorrow (Monday)," Mr. Westman told the Record yesterday. "But there's no home for her to come to now."

The fire was all over in less than an hour and nothing was left standing of the building, not even the big chimney.

Mr. Westman estimates his loss at between $15,000 and $20,000, partially covered by insurance.

The fire, which started in the basement of the building, demolished all the garage equipment, furniture, clothing and other household effects and the complete kitchen of the restaurant, which is open only in the summer.

Fortunately, Mr. Westman's car and snow plow were outside and were saved along with the cooler of the restaurant and the soup machines.

The building was located about one-half mile from the center of Bishopton on the main highway to Quebec City. The garage, of cement block, was in the center of the building, the house on one side and over top of the garage and the restaurant on the other side of the garage.

The fire broke out at approximately 7:45 Sunday morning. Mr. Westman and the children are currently staying with the Irving Willard family.

WEEK-END ACCIDENTS—A series of minor accidents was reported in the Townships over the week-end. The top picture shows a collision between two cars about three miles from Weedon in which no one was seriously injured. The car in the lower picture ended up in a field at the corner of Laval St. and Galt W. in the West Ward. The accident occurred at about 8 o'clock Saturday night when the car went out of control on the icy road, struck another car and then knocked over a fire hydrant, forcing the city to cut off the water in the district for several hours. No one was hurt. In the Weedon accident, Louis Michaud, 32, of Thetford Mines, was driving in the direction of Thetford Mines when his car skidded on the icy road and collided with a car driven by Jean Noel Patry of Fontainebleau. Maurice Lambert, 35, of Thetford, driving in the Michaud car, suffered a gashed leg while other persons in the cars were shaken up. (Top photo by Studio Breton, lower by Gerry Lemay).

Secretary Of Ayer's Cliff Fair, M. B. Corey Passes On Here At 62

Marion Benjamin Corey, secretary-treasurer of the Stanstead County Agricultural Society and prominent district farmer, passed away in the Sherbrooke Hospital on Saturday, after a short illness. He was in his 63rd year.

Funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon in his Kingscroft farm residence at 1:30 o'clock with service at St. James' Anglican Church, Hatley, at 2:30. Rev. H. Denton will officiate at the services. Interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Mr. Corey is survived by his wife, Eloise Bowen Corey, whom he married in 1912, two brothers, two sisters and ten children.

His brothers are Rev. Hollis H. Corey, retired clergyman, residing at Daytona Beach, Florida; Irving B. Corey, of Beebe; and sisters Mrs. O. R. Bowen (Sadie), of North Hatley; and Mrs. David Turner (Elsie), of Val d'Or. A brother, Nelson Corey, died in Massachusetts during the influenza epidemic of the first world war and another brother died in infancy.

The children left to mourn his loss are: Carl B. Corey, Kingscroft; Harold L. Corey, Montreal; Mrs. Donald Brown (Marion), Lennoxville; Hamilton B. He was active in farming, education, municipal and church life of the district in which he resided. He was one of the principal exhibitors at the Ayer's Cliff Fair in dairy animals, horses and swine as well as being the hard-working secretary-treasurer of the Stanstead County Agricultural Society which operates the Fair.

Mr. Corey, who was educated at the Kingscroft country school and Intermediate School at Hatley, was on the Barnston Protestant school board for many years and at the time of his passing.

He was also a director of the Stanstead County Central School Board and was on two occasions Mayor of Barnston West.

Many Minor Accidents Are Reported

A 3.9 inch snowfall, coupled with a strong wind, yesterday made travelling in the Eastern Townships and district hazardous. There were numerous accidents and traffic jams in the area but no one was reported killed.

A head-on collision between two cars on the highway near the outskirts of Drummondville yesterday was the most serious mishap reported. Three persons were sent to hospital as the result of the accident and this morning one of the victims, Adelaire Hamel, 33, of Drummondville, is reported to be in a very critical condition in St. Croix Hospital in Drummondville.

Mr. Hamel was driving a car which collided with another operated by Philippe Briandamour, of Drummondville. Mrs. Briandamour, a passenger in her husband's car, and George Hamel, riding with Adelaire Hamel, were also injured in the accident and all three are patients in St. Croix Hospital.

The majority of trains were late yesterday and the Sherbrooke Hockey Club Excursion Special was two hours late arriving in Sherbrooke from Quebec City.

Out at Thetford Mines, scene of the Provincial Jumping Championships, there were close to fifty cars stuck in the ditch along the highway from Mt. Granit in Thetford to Blake Lake. On the hill near the jumping site there was a traffic jam for more than two miles long but the numerous pedestrians gave the motorists a helping hand.

NINETY YEARS OF SERVICE

Continuous operation for ninety years in the ownership of the same family is a record that can be pointed to by few business concerns in Canada. But it is a record that one prominent Sherbrooke company, H. C. Wilson and Sons Ltd., is marking this month. It is a story of service to the public of which the present proprietors can well be proud and they will have the best wishes of the people of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships on this auspicious occasion.

Conditions surrounding the sale of musical instruments have changed materially from the days when Hiram C. Wilson first came to Sherbrooke from Compton Center to sell organs in the Eastern Townships metropolis, but during these long years, the firm which he founded has kept in step or ahead of the changing times. Thus today they stand at the forefront of the musical trade in this district, a position which they are likely to maintain in the future.

INDIA STILL NAIVE

The Indian leaders reached almost exactly to expectations when President Eisenhower took the bars down on potential mainland raids by the Chinese Nationalists from Formosa.

They sang out that this move would inevitably enlarge the Far Eastern war. They can be relied on the say this about almost any positive move by the United States anywhere in Asia.

The Indians are handicapped by several strange conceits. One is that they want peace more than other people do. Another is that they know how to achieve it better than most. They believe, for instance, that they understand the Chinese Communists better than Washington does, and that they have reliable ties with them in Peking. (Very likely the truth is that the Reds use them as foils in their strategy game with the West.)

For a third thing, because they are a very old and in many ways a very wise people, the Indians assume somehow that this automatically makes them schooled in the cruel ways of world power politics. Thus they tend to look upon Americans as untutored children, impatient with the slow grinding of human affairs.

No sensible American will argue that his countrymen are not indeed rashly impatient at times. But the portrait drawn by the Indians is nevertheless a crude caricature. They might better indulge in a little accurate self-portraiture.

One U. S. commentator says:— Far from being among the wisest heads in world affairs, the Indians are among the most inexperienced. Only since 1947 have they been a full-fledged nation handling matters of broad international policy.

Furthermore, their development of wisdom and experience in this sphere is severely handicapped by the heavy emotional coloring that lies over almost every major act and thought the Indian leaders have.

That emotion is basically a resentment against the colonial imperialism of the western powers. Since Britain is now largely out of the Orient and France is hanging on by a thread in Indo-China, this feeling has by an odd turn of the Indian mind been transferred to the United States.

So America is regarded not merely as insufferably young but as inevitably domineering. We are said to hold Asiatic life cheap.

Here the Indian mind breaks down in utter confusion. If we say "Asians should fight Asians," thinking they might like to bear the torch of freedom for themselves, this is taken as an insulting slur upon Asiatic humanity.

But when we insist upon staying in Korea until we get practical, enforceable peace terms that will really protect the free South Koreans, then we are maligning for blocking an "honorable settlement." By that, the Indians mean a peace virtually on Communist terms.

It is they, not we, who are green at world affairs. It is they, not we, who hold Asiatic life cheap. And so it will be so long as they do so little to grasp the nature of communism, whether in Europe or Asia.

The world will believe that the Indians value the lives of their countrymen and other free Asians when they show real capacity for recognizing tyranny in whatever dress it adorns. But that moment seems a good distance off.

WORRIED CATTLEMEN RIDE HERD ON CONGRESS FOR PRICE BOOST

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Recent drops in beef cattle and other farm prices have put Congress in a somewhat jittery mood. Letters, telegrams and phone calls are beginning to snow down from the farm belt. Individual farmers and representatives of the farm organizations are demanding personally that something be done about it.

All this pressure isn't necessary to impress some of the farm state solons. Take the case of Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, who used to be a Secretary of Agriculture himself.

Last year he bought range cattle averaging 400 pounds, at 24 cents a pound — $96 a head. Fattened to 800 and 900 pounds at a cost of $50 or more a head, these feeders are now ready for market. The current offering price is 16 cents a pound — $128 to $144 a head — or a net loss of $2 to $18 on each critter.

This experience, repeated with variations in feed lots all over the country, is what bothers the farmers and the congressmen.

From the livestock men it has brought charges that this is a packer's holiday. With prices dropping, there is extra heavy marketing. It is charged that the packing houses are using this to depress prices further.

Meantime, consumers' retail prices have not dropped proportionately. Beef prices have come down somewhat on the eastern markets, but the drop nowhere near covers the decline in livestock prices. This further heightens the charge that the packing houses are making two or three killings instead of the usual one.

Packers Are Putting Up Their Defenses

As if anticipating criticism of this kind, the packers are already putting up their defenses. The annual report of Armour and Co., for instance, is cited to show that this packer lost 7/100 of a cent on each dollar of food sales last year. The company ended the year with a total profit of 33/100 of a cent on each dollar of sales only because of the profit on by-product operations, so it says.

A letter which F. W. Specht, president of Armour, has sent to all congressmen, cites price controls as one of the main reasons why the packers have not made more money on food sales. Nevertheless, under these same controls in 1951, Armour reported profits of 18/100 of a cent on every dollar of food sales and 72/100 of a cent profit per dollar of sales on all operations.

The price controls are now being removed by the Office of Price Stabilization, which will probably go completely out of business by April 30. In connection with the meat price ceiling removal, however, there is a curious psychological twist.

Livestock men believe that with OPS ceilings removed, beef cattle prices will firm up a little. This will save their skins, if it happens. If the consumer gets no benefit out of this whole business, why that's apparently unimportant.

Department of Agriculture under the new Eisenhower administration is trying to calm everybody down on this situation. In a recent statement, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson told cattlemen to drop their unwarranted pessimism.

Foresees More Stable Cattle Prices

"Employment and income are higher than ever before," Secretary Benson declared. "This promises more stability to cattle prices, particularly since reductions due this year in the supply of pork will bolster the market for cattle."

As if in support of Secretary Benson's statement, O. V. Wells, head of the Bureau of Agriculture Economics appeared before the Senate Agriculture Committee and presented a picture of just what has happened to the cattle market.

In June, 1950, before the Korean war started, beef cattle were selling to the packers at an average of 25 cents a pound. The price rose to nearly 32 cents in April, 1951, dropped gradually to 20 cents in December, 1952.

The index on all prices received by farmers stood at 247 before Korea, rose to 313 in February, 1951, and has declined since then to 287 in January. Farm income in 1953 may be as much as 5 per cent below what it was in 1952, Mr. Wells told the senators.

The reasons for the decline, he says, are bumper crops in 1952, an improved foreign agricultural supply situation creating less demand for American farm products, a drop in the foreign aid programs and a general shift from inflationary to deflationary economy.

While farmers, would like to believe all these reassuring things, a falling market, as in beef cattle prices, is hard to take. Consequently, agitation is already beginning for increased price-support programs, government subsidies on agricultural exports, or other props to restore higher prices. All this in spite to President Eisenhower's plan to stop inflation by a return to a free market.

DAD GETS THE BLAME

London Free Press

Dr. E. W. McHenry, Toronto nutritionist, blames Father when the children grow up disliking and refusing to eat certain essential foods. Children, he said to the Associated Milk Foundation meeting in Toronto, often imitate their parents. They look to papa to give them a lead.

This puts the old gentleman on a spot. Is he to eat spinach, or turnips, or bread and butter — which he detests — simply to encourage the children and insure their better nutrition?

Maybe he should. Our guess is that, in general, he will refrain from so sacrificial and heroic an undertaking. Mother, being on a diet, will not be much help. Perhaps the children will have to learn from what is printed on the packages.

The Jack Pot Question

British Floods Strike Blow At Plans For Food Production

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Britain's floods have struck a staggering blow at the country's drive to boost food production at home.

Preliminary surveys show that about 250,000 acres, some of the richest farmlands in the British Isles, have been overrun by the sea.

Agricultural authorities admit that crops on farms under salt water, mainly winter wheat and barley, as well as extensive areas waiting to be plowed and seeded, can be written off for the 1953 harvest.

Essex, with some 30,000 acres under water, is among the countries hardest hit, with much of its normally-heavy winter wheat crop lost. Similar reports have come from Suffolk, Norfolk, Lincolnshire and the east riding of Yorkshire.

In many districts farmers report heavy loss of stored fodder. It is estimated destruction of livestock will run into hundreds of thousands of pounds. The livelihood of hundreds of small farmers has been wiped out.

In some inundated districts where the water is particularly deep it is thought it may be as long as two or three years before the land can be restored to its former fertility.

But Sir James Scott-Watson, chief scientific adviser to the ministry of agriculture, is more hopeful.

"How long we must wait until the sea-flooded land becomes fit to grow crops, depends on a lot of things," he said. "Of great importance is how long the fields are submerged in salt water, the extent of rainfall after the land has been drained and on the nature of the soil — whether sand, clay or loam."

One means of neutralizing the salt left in the land has been by application of gypsum. "I have known cases," said Sir James, "where even without the help of gypsum, sandy soil which has been under sea water for two weeks, has started producing again after one year. At the other extreme, heavy land reclaimed from the sea may be unfit to produce anything but grass for about five years."

Plan To Extract Gas From Lignite Field

Melbourne, Australia — (CP) —

Work has been started on one of the biggest technical projects ever undertaken in Victoria, Australia's highly industrialized southern state. Engineers of this city's gas and fuel corporation plan to make gas from huge lignite deposits in the Latrobe valley, 90 miles away.

Victoria depends for her gas on New South Wales mines which are not producing enough and whose exhaustion is in sight. Lignite is not suitable for use in normal gas plants and Germany has developed the only known practicable method of using "brown coal." This method, known as theburgification process, uses steam and oxygen at high pressures to extract the gas.

For a start, two air liquefaction plants and two steam plants will feed into six large generators and by 1956 the output will be 18,000,000 cubic feet, or half Melbourne's present needs. This gas will be pipied under pressure through a 30 mile 18 inch welded steel line. By products will be an important feature of the new plant. Within a few years a benzol recovery and retining plant will extract 300,000 gallons of high octane motor spirit and Dr. R. S. Andrews, chairman and managing director of the gas and fuel corporation, thinks the growth of synthetic production could mean that in time gas might be only a by-product in lignite processing.

South's first rebid in today's hand is only two hearts since he has only 14 points in high cards and a very poor fit with his partner's diamonds. When North then tries again with a bid of three clubs, South can afford to bid game. North's bidding shows more than 10 points, and there is likely to be a fine play for game.

When West opens the queen of spades, South must resist the temptation to cover with dummy's king. There is no reason to suppose that West has led from a suit headed by the ace and queen. East must have the ace of spades and it can therefore do no good to play dummy's king.

When West is allowed to hold the first trick with his queen of spades, he can do nothing to defeat the contract. He continues with spades, and East takes the ace. East returns a low trump, and South must hop right up with the ace. Declarer next catches the ace of diamonds, enters dummy with the ace of clubs, and carefully discards his last spade on the king of diamonds.

At this point South can afford to give up a trump trick to West's king. South can regain the lead no matter what West returns, and it is then just a matter of drawing trumps and claiming the rest of the tricks. South would lose his contract if he played the king of spades from the dummy at the first trick. East would win the first trick with the ace of spades and return the suit, whereupon West would win and lead a third spade. East would over-ruff the dummy, thus winning the third defensive trick. West would eventually get his king of trumps to set the contract.

THE MATURE PARENT

FIND OUT WHY THEY'RE CALLING NAMES AND NAMES WILL CEASE

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Bobby's older brother, Joe, recently acquired a new friend whom he deeply admires. As a consequence, he has been very off-handed with Bobby.

At first when Joe rushed out of the house at Hal's summons to come help battle his new puppy, Bobby rushed, too. "At Joe's terrific roar, 'Scram home, you!' he wept tears of rage. But after a while he didn't get mad and just seemed kind of discouraged.

So his mother took steps.

At lunch, serving her children their soup, she said, "Joe, Bobby says that you're a 'mean stinker' not to take him over to Hal's house with you. Are you one?"

"He's nuts," her son said comfortably. "Who wants a kid of seven tagging along wherever you go? I'm no baby-sitter."

"You don't mind him tagging along when Hal's not around," his parent said gently. "Why do you feel different when you're with Hal?"

Bobby came to sudden, inspired life. Swallowing the piece of turkey he had found in "mean stinker" he waved his spoon accusingly at his brother. "Yah, he's scared," he announced. "He doesn't want me hanging around because he's scared bigshot Hal will think he's a sissy!"

This time, Joe's denial was not so comfortable. He looked at his mother uneasily. She smiled at him as she asked: "Are you scared? Because if you are, Bobby and I could understand that quite easily. We don't want to think you're a mean stinker if you're just scared Hal will make fun of you if Bobby hangs around. Are you, Joe?"

There was the briefest little pause before Joe drank some of the milk that had been poured for him. Then he said: "Yeah, I guess I am a little scared, mother."

He said it awkwardly—but he said it. And at once everyone felt that the world was a nicer place to be in.

Joe felt better because his mother and brother no longer regarded him as a "mean stinker" but understood the "difficult" "sissy" business. His mother felt better because tension had left her boys. As to Bobby, he felt wonderful.

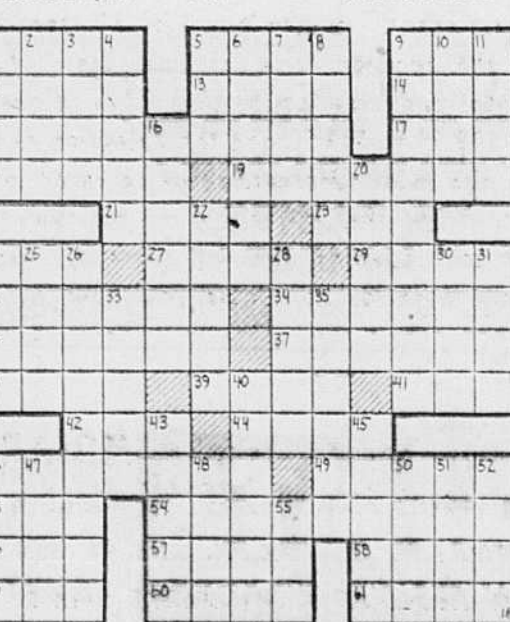

What had been maddening and discouraging was his big brother's insufferable air of superiority. Now he felt warm and loving toward the "big shot" who had been cut down to size by the truth.

If we want to, I suppose they'd let us call it "psychology." It makes

SHORT STORY

Vanity

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"Every man," said Inspector Joe Warren, frowning over the letter which he held in his hand, "has a weak point. In the case of 'The Flash,' most daring criminal of this city's criminal history, it appears to be vanity."

He gestured toward the letter. "The fellow has become drunk with his success in accomplishing two outstanding robberies. And now he has taken to writing us letters, stating just where he's going to be at a certain time and what he plans to do."

Detective Fargo blew smoke rings at the ceiling and evaded his chief's eyes. "So far," he said, "he seems to have been pretty successful in carrying out his plans. This is the third letter we've received."

"Each time The Flash has appeared where he said he would at exactly the time denoted in his letters. And while we've stood idly by he's committed his crimes and escaped. What's he up to this time?"

"The Devonshire party," Warren growled. The truth of Fargo's statement scored him. "Mrs. Devonshire is planning to wear that valuable emerald her husband brought her from Europe a month ago. The Flash states in this letter that he intends to steal the emerald and defies us to stop him."

Fargo crushed out his cigarette. "Have you taken any steps to prevent the robbery?"

"Fargo, as you know, the Flash's disguise is perfect. He'll appear at that party as a guest, or servant or someone with whom the Devonshires are but slightly acquainted. I want you to go up there early, meet Mrs. Devonshire when she comes down stairs and stick with her until the last guest has gone. Then see to it that the emerald is stored away in a safe before you leave. I'll have Johnson and a couple of other men mingling with the guests."

At 11 o'clock on the night of the Devonshire party Inspector Warren drew his roadster up before the palatial mansion and ascended the steps.

The moment the Devonshire butler opened the door, Warren knew something had happened. The butler's face was white and drawn, and over his shoulder Warren could see a group of guests huddled in the hallway, with Detective Johnson standing guard.

Warren stepped quickly inside. And at that moment Mrs. Devonshire, accompanied by her husband and Detective Fargo, came flying down the stairs.

"What's happened?" Warren barked at Fargo, ignoring the incoherent babble of Mrs. Devonshire.

"It's gone," Fargo grated. "About an hour ago, I was standing behind Mrs. Devonshire in the reception line. Someone poked a gun in my back and told me to walk backwards. When I saw the fellow's face I knew it was The Flash, because he was a dead ringer for myself."

"A ringer for you?" Warren gasped. "What the devil do you mean?"

"I mean," said Fargo grimly "that his disguise this time looked like me, generally speaking. He forced me into a closet and cracked me over the head. Naturally no one noticed that anything was happening, as Mrs. Devonshire was exhibiting her emerald at the time. And when The Flash returned and stood in my place, it occurred to no one that it was not me."

"Ten minutes ago I came to and began to kick on the door. Devonshire opened it. I rushed to Mrs. Devonshire and discovered that she had just missed her emerald. The Flash has outsmarted us again!"

Warren slumped wearily into a chair. "Tomorrow," he groaned, "every newspaper in the city will have the story. It will be the most humiliating moment of my life."

Fargo smiled bitterly. "Every man has his weak point," he said. "Yours seems to be vanity."

Duke Of Norfolk In Charge Of The Coronation

By SIDNEY WEILAND
London — Reuters — A millionaire duke who lost a rebel ancestor to the executioner's axe under Queen Elizabeth I is in charge of planning the Coronation.

Owner of a string of titles going back to the beginnings of English nobility, the 44-year-old Duke of Norfolk, earl marshal of England, will climax a year of preparations
when he leads the Queen into Westminster Abbey June 2.

By hereditary right, as England's premier duke and earl, the earl marshal is the organizing brain behind all high state occasions whether coronations, royal w.d.
dings or funerals.

The Howards, family name of the dukes of Norfolk, rose to power in the Middle Ages. The first duke was assassinated as he lay in his tent at the battle of Bosworth in 1485. The fourth duke was beheaded in 1572 on suspicion of being the lover of Mary, Queen of Scots.
For centuries, the dukes of Norfolk have carried the gold baton which gives the family the privilege to plan the pageantry of the great occasions of the realm. The title of earl marshal has been there since 1672.

It was then that King Charles II decreed that for all time the duke of Norfolk was to be "the next and immediate officer under Us for determining and ordering all matters touching arms, ensigns, nobility, honor and chivalry."

The present duke, Bernard Marquess Fitzalan-Howard, 16th in the line of successions, has inherited large estates and high honors.

Nine titles follow his name. The squire of 49,000 acres and four estates, his fortune was once estimated at $42,000,000.

Seventeen years ago, at 27, he organized the funeral of King George V. The next year, he prepared the coronation of King George VI. In 1947, he planned the wedding of the then Princess Elizabeth to the Duke of Edinburgh, and last February he walked before the gun-carriage which carried King George VI to his grave.

A devout Roman Catholic, the duke's duties make him one of the chief figures in the Coronation rites of a Queen who by law must be a Protestant.

But when he walks with the Queen towards the archbishop of Canterbury in Westminster Abbey,
the duke will wear on his tunic
the blue and gold order of St.
IX, awarded to him by the Pope.
As earl marshal, the duke began making plans for the Coronation soon after the funeral of the late King. To him falls the duty of issuing invitations, arranging the long processional drive through London after the ceremony and arranging for press, radio and television coverage.

One of the most difficult problems he has had to solve was how to choose which peers were to be given seats in the abbey. Every peer has a right to be present but restrictions of space make it impossible this year to accommodate them all.

Peers were offered two free seats in stands outside the abbey if they gave up their claim to be inside. The names of those who did not take advantage of this offer were personally drawn by lot by the earl marshal himself.

The earl marshal's duties are unpaid, though he gets an annual honorarium of £20, a grant ordered in 1483.

Recently, the present earl marshal was swept into controversy
by an edict issued from his office barring television cameras from showing the actual crowning of the Queen. Parliamentary and newspaper protests led him and his officials to bow to public opinion.
Television now will see the actual Coronation, though not the whole of the ceremony.

"The duke lives with his wife and four small daughters in an 800-year-old Norman castle at Arundel in Sussex."

trumpets, and the walls fell.

J. S. Morrison Dies In His 57th Year

John Stewart Morrison, a well-known resident of Sherbrooke, died in the Sherbrooke Hospital yesterday afternoon after a sudden illness. He was in his 57th year.

Born in Kilmuir, Scotland, he moved to Sherbrooke thirty-one years ago.

Better known by his many friends as "Scotty," he was a veteran of both world wars. He went overseas with the 35th Battalion in the last war and was wounded. He had been drawing a pension for the past five years and was retired.

He was a life member of the 7th Field Battery in Montreal and a life member of the 35th Battalion in Sherbrooke. He was also a well-known member of the local branch of the Canadian Legion.

Mr. Morrison is survived by his wife, the former Mina Robson; one son, John Thomas, of Sherbrooke;
one daughter, Mrs. W. F. Robinson, of Sherbrooke; three brothers,
Peter and Alex in Scotland and Willey in England; one brother-in-law, Thomas Cockburn, in Mon-real and four grandchildren.

The remains are resting at Johnston's Funeral Chapel where the funeral will be held on Tuesday, at 2:30 p.m. Rev. Ross Adams will officiate and interment will be in Malvern Cemetery, Lennox-ville.

Former E. T. Resident Dies

The sudden death occurred in Ennismore, Ontario, of George Mc-Nerney, the last member of the James McNerney family, formerly of the vicinity of North Hatley.
His only survivor is his wife.

The funeral, attended by a large number of friends, was held in Peterborough. His nephew officiated at the Requiem Mass, with Rev. L. Forestall and Rev. Father
Lynch, pastor, acting as deacon and sub-deacon.

Interment took place in Peterborough.

Junior Judges From Townships Place Well Up

Quebec boys and girls stood well up amongst the prize winners in the Junior Judging Competition
sponsored by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada in connection with the selection of All-Canadian Holsteins. Scoring 146 out of a possible 150 points to stand sixth in the competition was Garth Hadlock, of Iron Hill, Que. A member of the Brome Club, Garth has proved his consistent good judgment by scoring 140 points in both 1950 and 1951 competitions. In 1951 he and team mate Robert Miller stood second in the Provincial Inter-Club Dairy Judging Competition at Sherbrooke and in 1951 won the competition, going on to Toronto where they won the Dominion Championship.

Close behind with a score of 144 points was Gatten Tousignant, of Fortville, Que., a member of the Fortville 4-H Club. He too is a former prize winner having scored 140 points a year ago. For four years Gatten has won the township class at the Victorian Regional Exhibition. He is son of the well known Holstein breeder, Emile A. Tousignant.

Just behind Gatten was Claire Legault, Huntingdon, Que., with a score of 143 points. He is a thirteen-year-old member of the Huntingdon 4-H Club. Claire won a prize at each of the two local field days and at Huntingdon Fair his calf was first. In addition he stood second with his calf at Ormstown.
An orphan, Claire lives with his sister, who is a daughter-in-law of J. J. Murphy, who was the winner of the open judging competition in 1947.

Edgar McCurdy, of Lennoxville, of the Lennoxville 4-H Club, had a score of 138 points as did Jean Maurice St. Jacques, Lacute, of the Lacute Club. Lance Hadlock, Fulford, of the Brome Club, scored 134 points while Kenneth Baxter, Hudson Heights, of the Hudson-Vaudreuil Club, scored 132 points.

Three contestants made perfect scores of 150 points. They were thirteen-year-old Vernon Butcher, Alliston, Ont., fourteen-year-old John Burton, Vars, Ont., and twenty-year-old Floyd Hunsberger, of Baden, Ont. Tied for fourth with 148 points were thirteen-year-old Charlie Weaver, Belmont, Ont., and eighteen-year-old Peter Dickie, Truro, N.S.

CBRE National President Visits City

Members of the local divisions of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees in Richmond and Sherbrooke held a special meeting at the New Sherbrooke Hotel yesterday afternoon when Harry A. Chappell, national president of the organization was the guest of honor.

J. A. Ross, chairman of St. Francis Division No. 98, was in charge of arrangements for the gathering which was attended by Canadian National Railway employees from the two centres as well as employees of the Provincial Transport Company and the Quebec Central Transportation Company.

In his remarks, President Chappell reviewed the size and scope of the organization which is the largest union of transport employees in Canada.

He urged the members to avoid complacency and refrain from isolationist thinking. The union, he said, has become accepted as a part of the fabric of the national society and it has great responsibilities as the representative of an important group of the workers.

"We cannot confine our thinking to local and national problems," declared Mr. Chappell, "but have assumed international responsibilities through our membership in the Confederation of International Free Trade Unions."

He declared that the C.B.R.E. was unalterably opposed to Communism and would accept no totalitarian dictatorship, either from the right or the left.

"Whatever its failings might be,"
he said, "democracy is the best system of government we have as yet come across and we workers must present a common front to retain our freedom as citizens."

"We cannot be narrow in our thinking. While seeking to solve our immediate and local problems, we must also adopt a long-range view, especially in the international field."

India China and other parts of Asia cannot be kept on this side of the Iron Curtain, he warned, by catch phrases but it was the duty of workers everywhere, and especially of democratic trade unions to seek the improvement of the living standards of the backward nations so that the real meaning of democracy would be realized.

Observance Of Health Week Here Was Big Success

The Health Unit of Sherbrooke and the local Chamber of Commerce report that Health Week proved to be a big success. The health week program was organized to help to turn the people's thoughts towards health. The local Health Unit during this week presented preventative and educational programs to the citizens of Sherbrooke.

Listed below are principle activities which took place during health week: Four programs a day were presented over both local radio stations by various doctors, dentists, nurses, veterinarians, and Health Inspectors.

Films on "The Filtration Of Water Of The City Of Montreal" and "Sentinels of Health" were presented to the following local clubs: Optimist, Y's Men, Franes, Knights of Columbus, Proprietors' League. These films will be presented to any other club interested.

These films were also shown in the following local schools: St.
Patrick's Academy, Sherbrooke
High School, Lennoxville High, Superior, Larocque, St. Jean-Baptist, Central and Technical.

An exhibit on the value and need of filtered water was presented by the Ministry of Health of the Province.

During health week the citizens of Sherbrooke received milk bottles with labels which read: "Protect your health, buy only pasteurized milk." Posters were placed in many of the local restaurants.
Priests and Ministers asked their parishioners to listen to the advice given by the Hygienists.

The Doctor Says

PREVENTION OF VIRAL DISEASES ADVANCES

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

It is only during the last 20 years that one has heard much about viruses. Now one hears at every hand, "Oh, that's a virus disease," but still there is much confusion.

Unlike the small animal parasites and the germs or bacteria which have been known much longer, viruses are too small to see under the usual microscope. Also, they grow only inside living cells. For both these reasons viruses were discovered later than parasites or germs, and have proved more difficult to study.

There are a great many diseases both of human beings and of animals which are known to be caused by viruses. There are also a number in which a virus is suspected as the cause, but has not yet been proved to be responsible beyond all shadow of doubt.

Among the better-known diseases of human beings caused by viruses are smallpox, yellow fever, measles, influenza and polio. Among virus diseases which primarily or exclusively attack animals are rabies or hydrophobia, distemper, hog cholera, and Newcastle disease of poultry.

Some of the viral diseases of animals can be contracted by human beings, and all of them that attack animals or poultry used for food influence the cost of our market baskets.

In spite of the comparatively short time during which it has been possible for scientists to study viruses and the diseases they cause, considerable progress has been made. With few exceptions the practical advances which have occurred lie in the field of prevention rather than treatment. In other words, most of our available medicines are not too effective in treating the majority of viral diseases once they have become established.

Good vaccines aimed at the prevention of virus diseases have been developed for a number of the diseases in the veterinary field. For example, vaccines are available and in use against hog cholera, canine (dog) distemper, Newcastle disease and some other conditions.

Pressing Polio Problem

Progress has gone forward also with the development of vaccines against several of the human viral diseases. Vaccines are available against smallpox and yellow fever.

One of the most pressing problems is to try to develop a vaccine against polio; but this effort has come up against many extremely difficult technical problems.

When such a vaccine may become available for human use is hard to say, but work on this and other possible anti-viral vaccines is going forward continuously. At present the use of gamma globulin for polio as well as measles is of fascinating interest.

SWEETSBURG

The executive of the Sweetburg skating rink sponsored a dance to raise funds in order that the children of the village may have free skating and their efforts were successful with Mr. Stanley Peron, assistant treasurer and Mr. Gordon Peron, president in charge of arrangements. The door prize was won by Mr. Joseph Squires, of Iron Hill, and was donated by Mr. E. J. Persons; the prize for the drawing was won by Lucien Levesque, of Brigham, and was donated by Mr. G. Paul Francoeur. A mixed orchestra of local people furnished music.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Marsh were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Booth, in Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jolley and three daughters, of West Bromo, spent a day at the Marsh home on the Centre Road.

Mr. Frederick Royce, of Bolton Centre, is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Royce while employed at Vilas Furniture Company Ltd.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp spent a week-end in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Hodge attended the funeral of Mr. Harry Wallace, at Waterloo.

The young people in town held a dance in aid of Christ Church Altar Guild, at "The Canoe."

Mr. Carlton Whitehouse has been ill with pneumonia and under the care of Dr. R. R. Boright.

Mrs. George King, of the Mountain Road, near Bromo Centre, was taken to the B.M.P. Hospital, being ill with pleurisy and is under care of Dr. R. Noisoux.

Mr. Herbert Wegerich has taken a position at Pepin's Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Buzzell and family spent a day at Magog with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Graham, of East Farnham, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beaudoin.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Claire: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a brand new fragrance medium by Houbigant called Liquid Skin Sachet. It smoothes on the skin very easily and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Liquid Skin Sachet. Available in 3 famous fragrances: Chantilly, Quelques Fleurs, Le Parfum Ideal Only $2.

A new member was added to the Chapter roll, Mrs. Paul Berthiaume, who took the affirmation and was welcomed to the Chapter by the first vice-regent. This completed the business of the regular monthly meeting.

The annual meeting then took place, opening with the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting, held on February 4, 1952, at the home of Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw.

The report showed that the Chapter has a membership of twenty-three, one member having moved away from Bedford during the year with an average attendance of ten; there are members in Bedford, Stanbridge East, Stanbridge Station and Phillipsburg.

The chief sources of revenue for the Chapter was the hope chest, the drawing for which took place on the last day of the Missisquoi County exhibition, $24.44 was realized from this, and $59.75 from the annual Violet Tag Day, held at Easter.

I.O.D.E. calendars were distributed to local schools. This year instead of giving Christmas baskets and presents it was decided to use the funds to send gifts to Canadian troops in Korea.

Included in disbursement were wool and material, $94.18, hope chest, $80.24, shipping charges on books and magazines to the Naval Hospital at St. Hyacinthe, $4.65, school prizes, $24.50, prize for Stanbridge East flower show, $5. The bank balance was $110.18.

The report of the "Echoes" secretary, Miss Lovering, showed that subscriptions sent in totalled $17.25, and that an article dealing with the work of Missisquoi Chapter, I.O.D.E., had appeared during the year.

Mrs. William Taylor, who had carried on as educational secretary, since the departure of Mrs. A. Stone, reported that donations had been sent to the Household Science bursary, at Macdonald College, also to the Ste Anne de la Pocatiere, that the usual prizes, including the Gertrude Chadsey Memorial Prizes and the Frances Corey Memorial prize had been presented at the Christmas concert to the pupils of the Bedford High School. The presentation of the I.O.D.E. prizes having been made by the regent, Mrs. F. E. Best.

The report of the service at home and abroad convener, Mrs. Richard Craighead, showed that a wreath from the Chapter had been placed on the soldiers' monument, at the service on Remembrance Day, that 300 knitted and sewn articles had been sent to Provincial I.O.D.E. in Montreal, also 46 quilts, with a total value of $547.62. The value of the articles are according to a scale of prices, sent out to Chapters this year, for the first time, and set by the National I.O.D.E. Quilts for cribs are $2.25, 1 doz. diapers, $4.10, babies' nightgowns, $1.50, felt slippers, 75c. In addition to the above garments, 375 articles of good used clothing was sent, 175 books at a value of $52.50 with hundreds of magazines were sent to the Naval Hospital, at St. Hyacinthe. Donations were sent to the Cigarette Fund for Canadian soldiers in Korea, also to the British and European Relief Fund. Seamen's amenities fund and the shipping fund. The sum of $45, was spent on seals for crippled children, T. B. Health unit; Cancer Institute and the Salvation Army. In addition to the above materials were sent for cancer dressings and a donation tea was held to obtain toys to send to children in hospital.

Beginning this year the Chapter has undertaken a new branch of work, sewing and knitting for the Ladies' Auxiliary of the B. M.P. Hospital, at Sweetsburg. A number of articles were turned in at the meeting on Monday. The sum total of the work for service at home and abroad amounted to $827.87.

The report of the hospitality convener, Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, showed that ten meetings had been held during the year at Bedford, Stanbridge East, Stanbridge Station, and Phillipsburg, that a tea was held in October, at which Mrs. Creelman and a number of the Provincial officers attended. A picnic was held in June at Venice on Lake Champlain, the summer cottage of Mrs. F. E. Best.

Mrs. Edward Piche, Sr., took the chair for the election of officers. The executive for the coming year is as follows: Mrs. F. E. Mrs. Charles Riley was appointed as a honorary member of the Chapter, as a mark of appreciation for her faithful and enthusiastic work, as a member of the Chapter, for many years.

The first vice-regent, then took the chair, and the matter of the hope chest, which is the summer's work of the Chapter was discussed. It was decided that this year, instead of buying the contents, as has been the custom, that the contents consisting of blanket, bedspread, sheets, pillowcases, towels, table cloth and bath towels be donated by the members.

The first vice-regent reported on the January meeting of the provincial executive of the Provincial Chapter of Quebec held in Montreal, 115 parcels were shipped to Canadian troops in Korea before Christmas. The Grayson parcels have proved most satisfactory in the United Kingdom, both from the standpoint of the quality of the goods, and for the reasonable prices, in addition the system also benefits the United Kingdom in its fight for Canadian dollars.

It was pointed out by the provincial treasurer that there are still a large number of label books on hand, thus reducing the available funds of the Provincial Chapter. Chapters were requested to send in as many orders as possible.

It had been decided that no stipulated amount be set in the matter of contributions to the McLennan travelling libraries. All books contributed by chapters will bear the book plate "Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire." In the case of books contributed as a memorial, the name of the chapter making the presentation will be used as well.

The Provincial annual meeting will be held this year in Sherbrooke, on April 14-16. The opening ceremonies will take place on the evening of Tuesday, April 14, followed by the business meetings on April 15 and 16. Registration will be open on April 14, in the evening and April 15, in the morning, prior to the meeting. Mrs. Walkey, the National organizing secretary, has accepted an invitation to attend this meeting and an interesting program is planned.

A hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the Chapter members was proposed by Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus to Mrs. Bradshaw, for her kindness in presenting the members at such an enjoyable luncheon, which was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Allan Carnell thanked the members of the Chapter for remembering her sister, Mrs. Heman Hulburd, on the occasion of her ninetieth birthday on January 16. On this occasion Mrs. Hulburd was the recipient of many cards and telegrams of congratulations and good wishes from her friends and relatives. Mrs. Hulburd was a former resident of Bedford and Stanbridge East, but is now living in Kinuso, Alta., with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Windsor Rice, and was for many years a member of Missisquoi Chapter, I.O.D.E., being one of the charter members, and a faithful and devoted member.

Mrs. Sheltus and Mrs. Taylor, reported that they had sent donations of old eye glasses and frames, to the St. Charles Tupper Chapter, I.O.D.E., in Vancouver, B.C., and would be pleased to forward any more that were sent in.

The meeting was closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Way's Mills W. I. Holds February Meeting

Way's Mills, Feb. 13. — An amusing debate—the dairy farm versus the poultry farm—caused much fun and laughter at the February meeting of the Way's Mills W. I., which was held at the home of Mr. B. Buckland.

The president, Mrs. John Smith, was in the chair, and the roll call subject was "Suggestions for next year's program." Various matters of business were brought up; dates for the Handicraft Classes were settled, a sewing class is to be held on alternate dates with Tomfofobia, in May, also, a weaving class in October. The latter date was much more satisfactory than November to all concerned, as usually the weather conditions then are not ideal, making it impossible for many members to attend.

An obituary with a suitable picture in memory of Mrs. Sargeant is being prepared for publication in the Macdonald Magazine. Scrap books, and material for this work left by Mrs. Sargeant, who had made hundreds of these books for new Canadian children arriving at Halifax, N.S., as well as for children in this locality, were distributed amongst the members and friends. It is hoped that this work may be continued under the work of Citizenship, as a tribute to her untiring efforts in this department of the Institute work. A letter was read from Mrs. Davidson, who had charge of this work in Halifax, N.S., stating that she had moved to a small town, where her husband is now a doctor, and giving the lady's name, who is taking over this work.

Ten dollars were voted to help with the school lunches at Ayer's Cliff, and two renewal subscriptions to the "Consumers Association" were voted to be paid. It was reported that the Library was being enjoyed by the members and friends.

Mrs. Loke, convener of Welfare and Health, read a circular regarding a contest in knitted squares to be used in making quilts for T. B. Hospitals in Korea. The president asked each member to make a holder for the sale, which will be held in the spring.

Material is to be purchased for the lining of a quilt, which is now being put together.

A nominating committee, and a program committee were appointed, and all conveners were asked to have their annual reports ready for the next meeting, that will be held at the home of Mrs. Cass with Mrs. Hovey, the assistant hostess.

Tea was served to eighteen members and friends.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Mizener, and with them spent Sunday in Mansonville with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sargeant.

The F. E. met with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Whitcher and Allen Whitcher for the regular broadcast on Monday evening. The president, Mr. S. G. Quilliams, presided and the secretary-treasurer, W. R. Mizener doing his customary duties.

Mr. S. D. Taylor, of Knowlton, was a dinner guest at the Mizener home.

Close Matches Witnessed In Finals Of E. T. Bonspiel Played Saturday At Lennoxville And Sherbrooke

Bert White's Oshawa rink copped the Sherbrooke Record trophy yesterday when the O. R. Jackman's Granby foursome won the Mitchell trophy and Duke Doucet's Windsor quartet walked off with La Tribune trophy in the finals of the annual Eastern Townships Bonspiel played at the Sherbrooke Club. At Lennoxville Jim Fuller's Sherbrooke rink copped the Webster Motors trophy and V. Lyon's Victoria foursome took the Downs trophy.

Following the finals the winners were presented with the trophies and prizes. Mitchell trophy while Alderman Everett Nicol awarded La Tribune. At Lennoxville Mr. Downs presented his trophy and Charles Parkin presented the Webster Motors trophy.

In the finals of the Record trophy Bert White skipped his rink to 10-9 victory over A. Michaud of Windsor in a close battle. The issue was in doubt until the final stone was tossed. The Windsor foursome moved to the fore in the opening end with a two-marker but the Oshawa rink evened the count in the next end.

Michaud's quartet took over again with single but again the score was tied on the following end. Windsor moved to the fore with a two count to hold the edge although Oshawa counted one on the next end. They came back with a another two-end in the seventh to lead 7-4. In the eighth Oshawa came through with another singleton and then in the ninth they wrapped it up with a five-end, which was sufficient to ensure them of the victory. In the final end the Windsor rink almost knotted the count but they were forced to settle with two and the game finished 10-9 for the Ontario rink.

Toby Jackman's Granby foursome had little difficulty with Dean Bishop's rink who failed to get rolling and the local rink never was able to overtake the early lead established by Jackman's quartet. At the end of the third it was 8-0. Sherbrooke picked up five in the next two ends but was the end of their rally. Skipper Jackman snared seven and in the ninth they added three more to lead 17-6 at the end of the ninth when the Bishop conceded the match.

In La Tribune trophy the match was close as Duke Doucet's Windsor foursome knotted the count and Everett Nicol's quartet battled it out for the honor which was won by the Windsor rink almost or rink 7-5. The match saw-sawed back and forth until the fourth with the score tied at two all. Sherbrooke picked up the next two ends to lead 4-2 but Doucet's quartet knotted the count with a two-end in the seventh.

In the eighth Nicol's squad snared a singleton but the Windsor foursome knotted the count and Nicol in the tenth they chalked up two points to emerge the winner 7-5 in a closely fought battle.

Out at Lennoxville Jim Fuller and Sid Cross, both of Sherbrooke, staged a real battle for the Webster trophy with the veteran skipper emerging the winner over his former mate. At the end of the fifth Fuller's rink was out in front 5-2 but Cross' squad knotted the count when they chalked up a three-end in the sixth. In the seventh Skipper Cross pulled up with a counter to lead for the first time in the match but Fuller's foursome tossed a three-end and although Cross and his quartet picked up a singleton in the ninth this failed to secure them the victory as Fuller's rink finished off with a single counter in the tenth to win the match 9-7.

But Renald Lacroix came back with the winner for the Braves when he deflected in Jack Irvine's shot at the goalmouth and Georges Bougie notched the insurance marker from ten feet out.

In the Downs trophy Vic Lyon of Victoria Curling Club of Quebec had little difficulty with Dr. Biron and his Montebello quartet as they emerged the winner 12-5 in an easy victory. At the end of the fourth the Quebec rink was out in front 5-1 and from then on were never headed.

Dr. Biron's foursome registered two points in the fifth but the Quebecers came back with three in the sixth with another two in the seventh to lead 10-3. In the eighth they added two more and in the final two ends the Montebello rink picked two singletons as the game finished 12-5.

Saint John Beavers wrapped up the New Brunswick Senior League schedule with a 6-5 win over the first-place Moncton Hawks at Saint John. The Beavers and tail-end Fredericton Capitals start a best-of-seven playoff series tonight.

Hugh Campbell's second goal of the game gave Halifax the victory over Sydney, a little more than a minute after Bill McDonagh had deadlocked the score for the Millionaires early in the third. Sydney took a 2-1 lead in the

SAINTS SPLIT WEEK-END BILL TO REMAIN IN THIRD-PLACE TIE

Saints Chalk Up First Win Over Chics In Chicoutimi 3-1; Excel In Every Department For Victory

By LEN O'DONNELL
Sherbrooke Record Sports Editor

Chicoutimi, Feb. 16. — Outplaying the Chicoutimi Saguenays in all departments here Saturday night the Sherbrooke Saints chalked up their first win of the season here when they registered a 3-1 victory over the Hebert squad before 4,000 fans.

The victory enabled the Saints to move into a temporary tie with Ottawa Senators for third position in the standing with 53 points each. Nils Tremblay, Jacques Locas and Bobby Pepin were the marksmen for the Dugre clan while Normie Dussault tallied the only Chicoutimi marker.

The Saints turned in one of their best performances for the past week or so as all three lines were checking well and the defense gave little Connie Dion solid protection. The only tally scored by the Sags was a deflected shot which came off Pete Wright's stick to catch the opposite corner of the meshings.

A delegation from Sherbrooke, headed by Lieut.-Col. Charles Corde, faced the puck to start activities. He was accompanied to center ice by Alderman Henry Labonne, C. Dunn and H. Deforme.

Pete Tkachuk was the first to test Dion from long range but the Sherbrooke netminder had no difficulty in handling the drive. Bobby Pepin bounced back to try Pelletier and then Sherman White got away but he was steered into the corner. Pete Wywrot set up the first marker when he got away with Dewar Thompson. He drove his shot and when Pelletier kicked it out Nils Tremblay snared the rebound to hit it into the open corner of the net.

Locas hit the goal post right after and Tod Campeau missed the open corner from close range as the Saints kept the Sags hemmed in their own zone.

Pete Wright drew a holding penalty and the Chics took over. White was in for the only dangerous effort but Dion got the drive on his extended foot to turn it aside. Bobby Pepin was away alone but Pelletier saved what looked like a sure goal.

Dube and Groleau went off for roughing each other. Talleyer walked in but Dion dropped to his knees to save. Perreault came right back but again the little Sherbrooke netminder made the save. Just before the end of the period Campeau drew the faceoff and relayed it over to Jacques Locas and the Saints were out in front 2-0 as the bell sounded.

Just after the start of the middle frame Dube went off for hooking. Bonneau walked in but Dion saved from him. Martial Pruneau was put in by Dion and when he rounded the net and let go with a backhand Pelletier dropped to save the disc which rolled out in front, and Bobby Pepin pounced on it to lift it over him into the meshings for the Saints' third tally. Pelletier got cut in this scramble and the game was delayed ten minutes.

Jacques Locas broke away but his effort was stopped cold by the Sags' netminder. The Saints were checking well and the fast-breaking Chics couldn't get organized. McCann drew a penalty just before the end but the locals failed to capitalize on it.

Normie Dussault broke away from his own end and when he coasted in he drove his stick to hit Wright's stick to deflect into the opposite corner of the net for Sags' first, and only, tally of the game.

This seemed to give the Hebert team a new lease on life but it availed them to no end as the Saints kept the forechecking and backchecking that far to get inside the Sherbrooke defense. Wywrot hit the goal post and then Thompson missed two perfect chances all alone. White came back and then Tremblay was away but he waited too long and lost his opportunity just as the gong sounded to end the game and give the Saints a well-earned victory.

Jr. Canadiens Edge

Toronto Marlboros

Toronto, Feb. 16.—(P)—Montreal Canadiens avenged their only home-ice defeat of the junior hockey season Sunday by defeating Toronto Marlboros 4-2 in an interlocking schedule game between the leaders of the Ontario and Quebec leagues.

A crowd of 13,132, largest of the junior season, watched Henri "Pocket Rocket" Richard score two goals for the winners. Guy Rousseau and Yvon Charrier were the other Montreal scorers while Gerry James and Billy Harris tallied for the Marlboros.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 16.—(P)—Big Allie Reynolds proved Sunday you can't beat a New York Yankee when the chips are down—even on a golf course.

The pitching hero of the 1952 World Series, in the unfamiliar role of underdog, got hot on the stretch to beat Alvin Dark, hard-hitting New York Giants shortstop, one-up, on the championship of the U.S. National Baseball Players Tournament.

Dark, the 1951 winner of the golf tournament, and the favorite this year, had a two-up lead at the 13th when Reynolds turned on the steam—just like he did against the Dodgers—to win three holes in a row.

Gordie Howe Tallies His 200th Goal As Wings Stop Hawks 4-1; Canadiens Dropped By Boston 1-0

The largest crowd of the National Hockey League season paid tribute Sunday night to hockey's newest super-star.

If there was any doubt about Gordie Howe's status before, the big right winger from Floral, Sask., silenced any detractors Sunday with the show he put on for 16,518 fans at Chicago.

Undoubtedly a large proportion of the crowd came to see the 24-year-old sharpshooter make another try for the 200th goal of his career, after failing to make it in two previous tries.

It took Howe a minute and four seconds to convert Ted Lindsay's pass into No. 200, becoming the 25th man in NHL history and the eighth now active to accomplish the feat.

Howe then yielded the spotlight to team-mate Tony Leswick, who rattled in two goals in 40 seconds. But early in the third frame Gordie was back, putting the finishing touches on Detroit's 4-1 victory over the Hawks with his second goal of the night.

That left him with 16 games in which to get the 10 goals he needs to break the one-season record of 50 set by Montreal's Maurice Richard eight years ago. That mark was set in a 50-game schedule—as against the present 70—but against lower-calibre wartime competition.

Also within easy reach is the total-point record of 88 for a single season, set by Gordie himself two years ago, and equaled last season. He needs 13 points to improve on that mark.

The only break the Wings gave the partisan feelings of the Chicago crowd Sunday night was in allowing Billy Mosienko to score the goal that averted a shutout.

The victory enabled Wings to increase their NHL lead to four points over the second-place Montreal Canadiens, who battled Toronto Maple Leafs to a rugged 2-2 tie Saturday and took a 1-0 beating from the Bruins in Boston the next night.

The Bruins victory, coupled with a 5-4 victory over New York Rangers Saturday, enabled Boston to leap-frog Chicago into third place. The Leafs, picking on the Rangers for a 2-1 victory in New York Sunday, elbowed the unhappy Hawks down another notch and claimed the fourth rung. The three clubs are single points apart.

The Leafs and Canadiens slugged it out with abandon, earning 66 minutes in penalties. Bobby Hassard and Sid Smith of the Leafs and Butch Bouchard and Dick Gamble of the Habits looked after the scoring.

Boston's Fleming Mackell came within a second of equalling an NHL mark when he scored the first goal against New York just nine seconds after the opening whistle. The Bruins rallied home three more against Leo Reise's singletime in the free-scoring period with Jerry Toppazzini, Ed Sanford and Hal Laycoe finding the mark.

The Rangers spent the rest of the game climbing uphill. A tally by Wally Hergesheimer and two by Ed Kullman narrowed the gap, but that was all.

Leaf rookie Eric Nesterenko provided most of the bright spots in a drab game at New York Sunday as he accounted for both Toronto goals. Reise was the lone Ranger marksman.

Milt Schmidt tipped in a long shot by defenceman Bill Quackenbush at the half-way mark of a goalenders' battle for Boston's lone goal against the Canadiens.

The Montrealers fired 31 shots at Sugar King Henry, who marked up his seventh shutout of the season. Canadiens' Gerry McNeil turned aside 23 Boston drives.

Queen's Best Bishop's

43-36 In Basketball

Queen's University Friday beat Bishop's Gators 43-36 in a rough and tumble basketball game that at times took on the guise of football.

The first quarter was slow and unexciting as Queen's took an 8-5 lead.

In the second quarter play opened up considerably with both teams displaying scoring spurts. The more powerful Queen's aggregation had a 10-point advantage at halftime, leading 25-15.

Play was a shot even in this half, but both teams failed to capitalize on the offensive.

In the second half the going became rough and ragged and, at times, it looked as if the game would get out of control. The climax came when Haydon of Queen's was ejected from the game for vigorous protesting to the officials.

However, both teams settled down and, before the third quarter ended, Bishop's had climbed to within two points of the lead, trailing 30-28. However, in the final quarter, the more experienced Queen's team added to their lead, and although Bishop's fought hard to even the count, the final score read 43-36 in Queen's favor.

Bishop's now have three wins and three losses in league competition.

Summary: Queen's: Mellor 12, Ward 8, Page 7, Milliken 5, Summers 4, Howes 4, Haydon 3, Rea, Cooper, King.

"Gros Bill" Beliveau Tallies Two As Saints Drop 5-2 Verdict To Aces; Valleyfield Braves Here Tomorrow

By LEN O'DONNELL
Sherbrooke Record Sports Editor

Quebec, Feb. 16. — Quebec Aces, paced by Jean "Gros Bill" Beliveau who registered two goals, took the count of the Sherbrooke Saints 5-2 before 10,000 fans here in a listless game. Both teams showed fatigue from their Saturday night fixtures.

The loss left the Saints stalemated in third position with the Senators of Ottawa, who won Saturday but lost to Valleyfield Braves yesterday afternoon. Tomorrow night the Dugre aggregation will be hosts to Toe Blake's squad on their home ice in another important fixture.

Beliveau, with two goals, Harrison, Tremblay and Kraiger did the scoring for the Imlach team while Bob Drainville and Gilles Dube were the marksmen for the Saints.

The Aces moved to the attack from the opening whistle and tested Connie Dion from close range but the little fellow came up with the saves. Wywrot was in but Mario coasted in but Dion raced out to clear the disc. The Aces were buzzing as Harrison came in but he was turned aside.

Brilliant drove a hard shot which Dion kicked out but Ludger Tremblay was standing by to snare the rebound and put the Imlach men out in front. Stewart was the next to get in and he was followed by Harrison but they were stopped. They came right back and this time Harrison batted home the second tally for the Quebec squad. They counted twice within a minute.

Three minutes later Jean Beliveau came up with the nicest goal of the game when he walked in from centre stick-handled around the defense and then pulled Dion out to flip it into the open net. He came right back but this time Dion made the save from close quarters just as the period ended.

Beliveau opened the middle session with a dangerous rush but his effort was turned back. Ronnie Matthews, who played on the forward line in the place of Nils Tremblay who hurt his elbow Saturday evening, broke in on Jack Gelineau but the Quebec net minder made the save.

The Saints began to come back after a poor start, and they gave the little fellow came up with the saves. Wywrot was in but Mario coasted in but Dion raced out to clear the disc. The Aces were buzzing as Harrison came in but he was turned aside.

CHARLAND WINS PROVINCIAL JUMPING; LUC LAFERTE SECOND

Jacques Charland Cops Provincial Jumping Title While Jim Dennie Wins Cross-Country At Thetford Mines

Thetford Mines, Feb. 16—Jacques Charland and Lucien Laferte, two members of Canada's 1952 Olympic Ski Team, did not let a snow storm bother their jumping as they walked off with first and second positions in the Provincial Championships held yesterday.

On Saturday the cross-country event was held over a tough 10-mile course and Jim Dennie, a member of a well-known skiing family from Quebec City, won the event with a time of one hour, fourteen minutes and forty-seven seconds. Brother Paul Dennie was second with one hour, sixteen minutes and forty-one seconds while a Thetford Mines boy, Renald Doyon, was third with one hour, twenty-one minutes and twenty-seven seconds.

A large number of ski fans, officials, government, club and ecclesiastical officials travelled to Thetford for the championships which were run off very smoothly.

A fire, which threatened to destroy the Thetford Mines Ski Club Clubhouse, was checked in time and everything went according to schedule.

Twenty-four competitors took part in the jumping, held on Mt. Granit. Charland leaped one hundred and forty-three feet and one hundred and forty-seven feet for 220.7 points while Laferte scored 141 and 148 feet for 217.6 points. Both competitors are from Thetford and carried Canada's colors in the 1952 Olympic Games.

John Draper, Red Birds Ski Club, Montreal, took third place with leaps of 122 and 132 feet for 200.9 points. Frank Latour was third as the Three Rivers jumpers turned in a stellar performance.

Leopold Levesque, from the Mont-Mars Ski Club in Port Alfred, was fifth.

In the class "B" section of the provincial jumping another Three Rivers boy took the honors. Jean-Louis Morency, with leaps of 119 and 128 feet, had a total of 193.7 points. Yves Cloutier, Sno-Hawks, Valcartier, was second with 124 and 122 feet for 187.9 points. Alex Murray, Viking Ski Club, Montreal, was third followed by Jacques Marquis, Laval, Montmorency and Claude Nadeau, Port Alfred.

Yves Doucet, a thirteen year old jumper from Three Rivers, competed unofficially and hit the tape at 103 and 115 feet for 168.6 points.

Lionel Bourgault, president of the Thetford Mines Ski Club, organized the meet for both events.

Gerard Paquin, of Three Rivers, representing the C.A.S.A., Michel Coppo, the Thetford Mines Ski Instructor from France and Francois Pichard, of Quebec City, were the judges. Leonard Duquet, Marcel Gagnon, Gerard Beliveau, Eric Beaulieu, Marc Faucher, Denis Roy, Yvon Laplante, Gilles Drouin and Jean Claude Drouin were some of the officials.

Miss Charlotte Boivin, the congenial secretary of the races, greeted everyone with a smile and the hospitality was excellent. Others who helped make the championships a success were: Leopold Pomerleau, Raymond Pomerleau, Jean-Guy Simoneau, Leopold Clavet, Jean-Claude Jolicoeur, Renaud Argouin, Paul Andre Cyr and Marcel Laliberte.

Medals were presented in the clubhouse last night following a banquet presided over by Lionel Bourgault.

Guest speakers for the occasion were: Luc Laferte, one of Canada's top jumpers; Francois Picard, Quebec City; Jerry Paquin, representing the C.A.S.A.; Dominique Lamarre, vice-president of the Three Rivers Ski Club; Mr. Bourgault, and Gordon Harmer, president of the Eastern Townships Ski Zone.

LARRY REGAN PACES CATS TO 3-1 WIN OVER ROYALS

Shawinigan Falls, Que., Feb. 16.—Larry Regan paced Shawinigan Falls with two goals yesterday as the cellar-dwelling Cataracts downed the second-place Montreal Royals 3-1 in a Quebec Senior Hockey League game before 3,500 fans.

Frank Bathgate sank a screened shot early in the first period to put the Cats 1-0 ahead and though the wide-open play seasawed back and forth, neither team was able to score for the remainder of the period.

For a while it looked as if the Cats wouldn't get their fourth win in a row as Jimmy Moore tied it up for Montreal at 7:32 of the second.

But Regan saved the day when he got his two in the final frame the first a blistering slap shot from 20 feet and the second a corner shot that Goalie Phil McAttee couldn't get a piece of.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Those television fans who still are game and full of fight after having attended the rites for their idol, Chuck Davey, are promised something more closely resembling a contest in tonight's 10-rounder here between Rex Layne and Roland La Starza.

It could even develop into a real good fight, this meeting between the two princelings of the heavyweight division. The affair has been kept something of a secret by the International Boxing Club, which was occupied with fleecing its midwest clients, but the fact remains it is the nearest thing to a natural, the unlimited class of fords at the moment, excepting the big one coming up between Marciano and Walcott in April.

Unless they somehow contrive to eliminate each other, either Layne or La Starza is virtually assured a crack at the title during the summer. Both have upon occasion shown themselves capable of giving such revolting exhibitions that they were forced to flee across state lines, but with the prize being dangled before them tonight it seems safe to predict they will really go at it.

Though La Starza was a slight favorite the last time we looked, there really is very little upon which to base a choice.

Layne has never given anyone cause even to suspect what he might do next. He holds decisions

LADIES' INTERSCHOLASTIC WINNER: Miss Ann MacKenzie, King's Hall, won the combined title in the ladies' division of the E. T. Interscholastic Ski Meet at Hillcrest on Saturday. Lewis Evans, Bishop's College School, who acted as timer for all events as well as statistician is seen making the presentation of Miss MacKenzie's award.

E. T. JUNIOR OPEN CHAMP: John Pratt, B.C.S., won the E. T. open junior combined championships at Hillcrest on Saturday. Pratt, who is an outstanding junior, won the title last year and made an impressive showing on Saturday winning both the downhill and slalom. Gordon Harmer, president of the E.T.S.Z., is seen making the presentation.

over two former world champions, Walcott and Ezzard Charles, and yet he has lost to men who probably had to buy their way into the ring record book.

Layne is supposed to have become an absolutely changed gladiator, as full of determination as a slot-machine addict and his eyes unwaveringly upon the big goal. They say this could have come from the shock he received when referee Jack Dempsey lifted his glove at the conclusion of his bout with Charles at Salt Lake City last summer. That was the one where the Old Mauler awarded Layne three rounds and said that nothing had happened in the other seven.

This is about the first real chance La Starza has had to get back into the main picture since his unfortunate meeting with Marciano some three years ago. He's

Senators Shaded Aces 3-2 In Close Fixture

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—Ottawa Senators shaded the sixth-place Quebec Aces 3-2 here Saturday night in a close, hard-checking Quebec Senior Hockey League game before a sell-out crowd of 6,700 fans.

The win, coupled with Sherbrooke's 3-1 victory over Chicoutimi, left the Senators still tied for third place in the league standing with the Saints.

Ottawa took a 3-1 lead in the second period after a scoreless first, but had their lead cut to one early in the final period, and then stayed off a desperate Quebec rally in the dying minutes of the game.

Scoring for the winners were Jackie Giesbrecht, Leo Gravelle and Rip Riopelle. Ed Harrison and Jean Beliveau counted for the Aces.

Ottawa goalie Ray Fredericks played a standout game between the pipes as Quebec outshot Ottawa in all three frames. In all, he was called on to stop 28 scoring attempts to 17 for Quebec's Jack Gelineau.

Quebec: Goal, Gelineau; defense: Crozier, Kraiger, Talbot, Houle, forwards: Renaud, Nixon, Mackay, Carnegie, Brilliant, Beliveau, Stewart, Tremblay, Mario, Harrison.

Ottawa: Goal, Fredericks; defense: Stahan, Grigg, Robertson, Arundel; forwards: Gravelle, Johnson, Robinson, Gagnon, Riopelle, Giesbrecht, Kuntz, Richardson, Dagenais, Leclair.

Ten Rinks Entered In High School Curling Championships; Quebec And New Brunswick Meet In Opener

Saskatoon, Feb. 16.—If there was a favorite in the 10-rink field it was being kept a secret as the provincial representatives prepared to open the Canadian high school curling championships here this afternoon.

"This could be one of the closest races we've had for the championship," said Ken Watson of Winnipeg, chairman of the Canadian school curlers.

Watson, and several other officials, including Harry Rankine of Westfield Centre, N.B., watched the young rinks in practice rounds against New Brunswick, Ontario and said they thought it might be one of the best matched fields since the championships became official in 1949.

Because they eliminated the two-time champion Saskatoon Tech rink this year, Dennis Cochrane and his Regina Scott Collegiate foursome are being mentioned frequently as the one to watch. However, the Regins defeated a much different Saskatoon rink than the one that won the Sifton Trophy at Nelson in 1951 and again at Moncton, N.B., in 1952. A procession from the Bessborough hotel through downtown Saskatoon to the arena, led by the Saskatoon Light Infantry Pipe band, let everyone know the young curlers were on the way to start their championship matches.

In the first draw Manitoba meets Nova Scotia and the defending province, Saskatchewan, takes on Northern Ontario. Quebec is against New Brunswick, Ontario against British Columbia and Prince Edward Island against Alberta.

A second draw was scheduled for this evening and shaped up as follows: Prince Edward Island vs. Northern Ontario; New Brunswick vs. Alberta; Saskatchewan vs. British Columbia; Nova Scotia vs. Ontario and Quebec vs. Manitoba. There are two draws Tuesday, three on Wednesday and two more on Thursday.

Thetford Aces took the first game of the "B" series semi-final in the E. T. Basketball League playoffs Friday night, defeating R.C.E.M.E. 61-41 at the local Y.M.C.A.

The second in the best of three series will be played at Thetford Mines next Thursday evening. Opener of the "A" semi-finals, "Y" Athletics and 35th Battery, begins Monday evening at Lennoxville High School with the second game to be played at the "Y" Wednesday night.

Thetford was expected to win against R.C.E.M.E., whom they gave two sound thrashings during the schedule. However, the soldiers put on a surprisingly good show last night.

Aces led 35-21 at the half and outscored Reemee over the last two quarters by only 26-23.

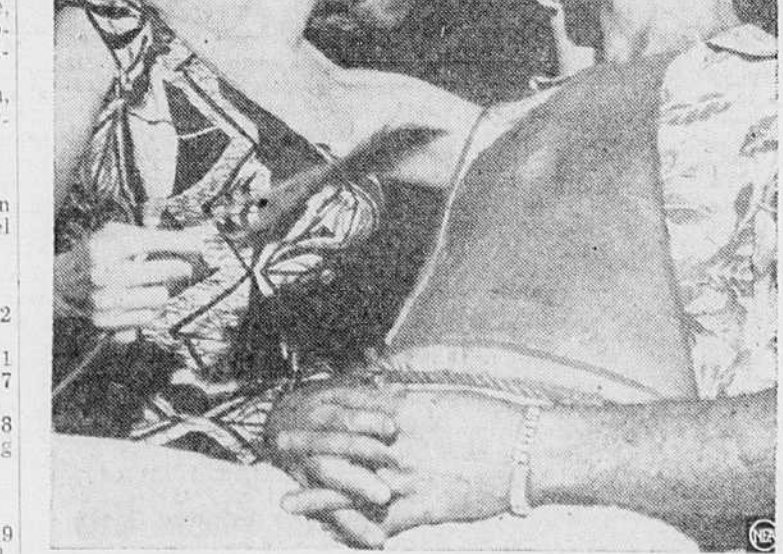

Marcel Samson paced the winners with 13 points while Al Simons, who returned to action after quite a long absence, scored 12. Geo. McCammon was the other double-figure scorer for Aces with 10 points. Don Griffin's 21 points and 12 for Paul Chute were best for Sherbrooke.

Summaries:

Thetford Aces: Nakash 7, Simons 12, Vaudry 6, Bob Komery 6, Moore 2, McCammon 10, Samson 13, McNaughton 5, Irwin Komery. Total 61.

R.C.E.M.E.: John Turnbull 3, Chute 12, Griffith 21, Burczyk 4, Webster 2, Elkas 2, Burt, Norris, Robinson, Crosby, Total 44.

Referees: Dave Turnbull and Marcel Fortier.

articles sent to headquarters in Montreal. Mrs. Twombly stated that the buttonholes in garments were made by the Snag Proof Co. and work on garments was done by the Dominion Glove Co. in Beebe. Miss Patti Foster and her group from Derby Line have knitted faithfully, which has been a great help.

There was nothing to report from the veterans' aid committee. Miss Elsie McIntosh, chairman of the disaster and preparedness committee reported that two families, both victims of fire, have been helped, one family was in the Coaticook area and the other in Fitch Bay. They received food and clothing. The report included the fact that the residents of Fitch Bay had made a collection and raised the sum of $150 for the benefit of the family.

J. A. Grady, treasurer, gave the annual report, showing a balance on hand of $135.22, that the sum of $1900.20 was collected and re-mitted in the 1952 year campaign. Rene Monty, chairman of the Red Cross swim project reported that during the six weeks instruction 2,700 children had taken the course in swimming lessons, this at a cost of $5,000.

Each of these named chairmen are at liberty to organize canvassers in their localities.

It was suggested that the records of the Red Cross activities be placed together in a safe place. Mr. Monty offered a part of a filing cabinet in the hotel. However nothing was decided upon, as it was left with everyone attending the meeting to try think of a place where the Red Cross could have as work rooms and at the same time gather all their materials in the one place. These records mentioned are recordings of the work of the society at the Boundary and surrounding districts since it was organized during World War I, and they tell the story of the labors of its members and those who have given assistance through two World Wars and the peace time activities.

The list of directors was read by Mrs. Taylor and the name of Mrs. Wesley Reynolds taken off as she
