RUSSIAN ENCIRCLEMENT OF NAZIS DEEPENING

Fleeing Nazis Unable To Move Stalled Planes

Fresh Strength Being Poured into Battle by Aggressive Russian Army Over Newly-Won Land Route Increases Danger for Hitler's Battered Spearhead—German Casualties 115,600 Killed or Prisoners.

By EDDY GILMORE, Associated Press Staff Writer
Moscow, Nov. 27.—(P)—Danger deepened hourly for Hitler's battered spearhead at Stalingrad today, the latest battle dispatches indicated, as fresh strength poured into the aggressive Red army garrison over a newly-won land route and fast-wheeling field columns cut across the besiegers' lifelines to the West.

A confused war of movement swirled across the broad steppes West of Stalingrad and it was impossible to define battlelines clearly, but overnight dispatches said that in some places the Red offensive gained such momentum that fleeing Germans were frustrated in efforts to burn aircraft on fields overwhelmed too swiftly to permit take-offs.

Dozens of planes were reported captured undamaged at one airfield in a sector described only as hilly. Overnight reports pushed to 115,600 the number of Axis soldiers who have been killed or captured in the nine-day-old drive, with possibly another 150,000 wounded.

The German report not only acknowledged the Russians remained on the offensive around Stalingrad but expanded on earlier reports of a major Soviet offensive west of Rzhev some six hundred miles to the North.

(Latest Berlin broadcasts told Russian attacks in the Velikie Luki region, 265 miles West of Moscow and 100 miles from the Latvian border. The broadcasts said massive Soviet tank forces had achieved a fairly deep penetration Northwest of Moscow.

(The Russian communiques spoke only of artillery activity on the Northwestern front and no mention has been made of an offensive there but German reports indicated the Red army might be striking out of an even greater scale than it did last winter when it threw the Germans back from the gates of Moscow.)

Details were lacking, but in broad outline the picture sketched by front line dispatches showed the estimated 300,000 survivors of the Axis legions that have attacked Stalingrad for three months were beset by fresh perils on two sides.

To the East the Russian garrison of Stalingrad was strengthened by supplies and reinforcements run down the West bank of the Volga—for the first time since early in the siege—and behind them, forty-five or fifty miles to the West, the Russians were spreading over the Don bend and striking across vital supply

CLAIM MUSSOLINI HAS TAKEN COMMAND OF AFRICAN ARMIES
London, Nov. 27.—(P)—Reuters news agency said it had received a Moscow broadcast—which did not indicate the source and which was without confirmation from any other quarter—reporting that Mussolini personally has assumed command of Italian forces in Libya, replacing Gen. Ettore Bastico.

Declares that Cost-of-Living Index Actually Represents Price Trend of Major Commodities in Dominion.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—(P)—The Prices Board today came to the defence of the cost-of-living index and its accuracy with the issue of a booklet called: "Is the cost-of-living index phoney?"

The index is the measuring rod of the Board's success in holding steady the cost-of-living through the price ceiling. Prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, it is the basis for cost-of-living bonuses.

The booklet, written by C. H. Herbert, Ottawa, in one section posed the question: "The index is good—then why so much bellyaching?"

Dealing with the complaints about the index "the trouble, so the story goes, is that the cost-of-living index is prepared by a bunch of statisticians in Ottawa who don't know much about how the working man lives, and carelessly—" the booklet has this to say:

"To begin with, it is from the women that a lot of the complaints come, and when women think of the cost of living naturally they think of those things which they pay for out of the housekeeping money—food, and, to some extent, clothes. They are apt to forget that there are many other things which come into the cost of living, things which their husbands pay for, like rent, telephone, and light bulbs, doctors' bills and hospital bills, life insurance premiums, etc."

"The prices both of food and of clothes have risen a great deal more than the prices of other items that enter into the cost-of-living index. Therefore, if you pay atten-

OFFICE STAFF EJECTED FROM WINDSOR PLANT

Action of Pickets Prevents One Hundred Male Office Workers from Entering Ford Motor Company Plant.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 27.—(P)—One hundred male office workers at the plant of the strikebound Ford Motor Company of Canada plant were instructed by a company official today to return to their homes when strike pickets blocked their entry to the property.

However, girl office workers were permitted to pass through the picket lines to their work in the plant which closed Tuesday when members of Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.) went on strike.

Ontario Labor Minister Peter Heenan has arrived in the city in an effort to bring about a solution of the strike which started when workers said that women were being hired for men's work at wage rates lower than those paid to men in violation of a union-company agreement.

Heenan will make a personal appeal to the 13,500 men involved at 11 a.m. this morning. He will speak before a mass meeting in the Windsor municipal building in the hope that the workers, members of the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.), will resume work on vital military vehicles while Government and the union officials iron out differences.

First clash involving pickets, flung about the 700-acre Ford property, occurred Thursday when a company engineer and a striker came to grips. They grappled and tumbled down the main office steps.

President Wallace R. Campbell of the Ford Company yesterday applied to Ottawa for a Board of Conciliation and also made a personal appeal to the men to return while negotiations were underway. The workers turned deaf ears to a request at a Wednesday night meeting from Mr. Heenan that they take up their tools again pending settlement of difficulties.

The men walked out on Tuesday morning after they had charged the company with hiring women at rates of pay lower than specified under a provincial regulation involving the principle of equal pay for equal work. Union officials maintained the strike was not called by the organization but would be supported by it until settlement.

C.C.F. LEADER HAS VIEWS ON PEACE NEEDS

Humanity Comes Before Money, Coldwell Declares in Making Proposals for Post-War Reconstruction Period.

Winnipeg, Nov. 27.—(P)—The C. C. F. believes humanity comes before money, said M. J. Coldwell, the party leader, in an address here in which he declared if Canada can find more money than the national debt built up in seventy-two years for war work in 1942 "we have got to find the same amount" in winning the peace.

Mr. Coldwell told a Winnipeg North Centre federal bye-election meeting last night that the soldiers Overseas are not going to come back "to ride the rods again."

"As far as the C. C. F. is concerned, we are going to do our bit to see that they do not have to ride the rods."

He said Canada is more in danger of losing the fundamentals of democracy than any other democratic country not under the heel of Hitler.

"We urge establishment of industrial planning councils composed of technicians, trades unions and representatives of management, thus utilizing the knowledge and experience of the actual workers."

Mr. Coldwell also urged nationalization of financial institutions with banks used as branches of the Bank of Canada, supplying compulsory interest free loans on the accumulated wealth.

The nearer Canada gets to socialized production the nearer it will get to efficiency in winning the war, he said.

Legal Technicality Still Delays Quebec Court Martial Progress

Quebec, Nov. 27.—(P)—Trial of Pte. Louis Philippe Hamel of Quebec, is expected to be completed today before a general court-martial which began Wednesday to judge the cases of five medical officers and four privates on charges arising from alleged irregularities in the medical examinations of prospective army recruits.

The court is expected to complete the trial soon after it makes known its decision on whether it should admit as evidence declarations made by Hamel before Lt.-Col. Jules Mercier, District Medical Officer, during investigation of the alleged irregularities.

Members of the court failed to reach a decision before adjournment, because, they said, they would have to study transcripts of the testimony before pronouncing their verdicts.

Hamel, faced with charges of receiving money from certain persons in relation to their army medical examinations and of distributing the money received among "other medical personnel," was called to testify during arguments on the admission of statements he made before Col. Mercier.

Under cross-examination, Hamel said he could not remember Col. Mercier warning him that anything he said might be used as evidence.

"I think the first time I heard it was before the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. I found it funny that Col. Mercier had not given the warning to me. I don't remember Col. Mercier offering me a lawyer."

The accused told the court that "Col. Mercier threatened to put me in the clink. I think that was after my verbal declaration. He also said that 'I have other proof against you and if you don't talk I will act'."

Col. Mercier said during cross-examination that during the time between the verbal and written statements, "I may have said that 'I could put you in the clink but you are just out of hospital so I will wait. I don't want that interpreted as a threat. I made no threats or promises.'"

The arguments came after the court decided not to admit as evidence a declaration Hamel made before Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers during investigation of alleged irregularities. The court decided, after studying evidence, that police had not warned Hamel before he made his statement verbally that anything he said might be used against him.

Awaiting trial are: Maj. Joseph Eugene Guimont, 34, of Pont Rouge, Que.; Maj. Ludovic Lavallee, 26, of Quebec; Capt. Georges Antoine Grouin, 43, of Quebec; Capt. G. E. Y. Gadois, 26, of Quebec; Lieut. Pierre Gauthier, 48, of Deschambault, Que., member of the House of Commons for Portneuf and Quebec district organizer for the "Bloc Populaire Canadien" movement; Pte. Georges Fortin, 24, and Pte. Leopold Houde, 35, both of Quebec.

Pte. Paul Henri Cloutier, 19, of Charlebourg, Que., has already pleaded guilty to a bribery charge.

RESTRICTIONS ON PETROLEUM COKE ORDERED

Latest Edict Designed to Preserve Vital Product for Use of Canadian Armament Manufacturing Industry.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—(P)—F. G. Neate, Deputy Coal Administrator of the Prices Board, today announced an order providing that all transactions in petroleum coke throughout Canada will be subject to permission of the Coal Administrator, J. McG. Stewart.

Under the order, effective immediately, no one may buy or otherwise acquire petroleum coke, sell or supply it to any other person, regardless of any contract or commitment, or use petroleum coke for any purpose unless written permission has first been obtained.

Anyone possessing as of today a quantity of petroleum coke not exceeding 100 short tons, exclusive of briquettes, may sell, deliver or use it. The order provides that anyone granted a permit to acquire petroleum coke for the manufacture of briquettes for domestic heating may sell such briquettes, reporting all such sales to the Administrator when and in such form as he may require.

Petroleum coke, it is explained, is an essential material for such industries as aluminum production and the manufacture of electrodes and abrasives, and has recently been placed under restricted distribution in the United States.

WORKERS SEEK BETTER TERMS UNDER MERGER

Provisions of Telegraph Merger Bill Approved by U.S. House Disappointing to Union Executive.

Washington, Nov. 27.—(P)—Organized labor and the United States Congress neared a showdown today over employee-protection provisions of legislation to permit Western Union and Postal Telegraph to merge their domestic facilities.

Already passed by the Senate, the legislation was sharply revised this week by the House of Representatives Interstate Commerce Committee and sent to the floor for consideration early next month.

W. L. Allen, International President of the Commercial Telegraphers Union, which claims to represent more than half of the estimated 60,000 telegraph company employees in the United States, said the A.P.T.U. organization is "sorely disappointed" with the House draft and will seek further revisions.

Particularly objectionable, Allen said, is the House Committee's provision to guarantee employment to regular workers for a maximum of four years, instead of five as provided by the Senate and the seven sought by the C. T. U.

Under the House provision, an employee of a company involved in a merger must be retained with the merged company, at no loss of pay, for as many years as he has been employed regularly prior to the merger, but not more than four years. Employees discharged within four years after the effective date of a merger would have preference in filling vacancies.

The legislation has been endorsed by officials of Western Union and Postal Telegraph and by the Federal Communications Commission primarily as an economy move to eliminate overlapping services.

It would permit domestic carriers to merge with other domestic carriers, and international companies, after the Federal Communications Commission had given its approval. Before approval could be given, the Governor of each state in which any affected company had property would be given a hearing.

BLUEPRINT FOR NEWER BRITAIN IS PRESENTED

Document of 100,000 Words Contains Proposals for Social and Economic Rebuilding of Great Britain.

London, Nov. 27.—(P)—Sir William Beveridge's blueprint for a newer Britain, healthier, happier, better fed and more secure, it to be unveiled next Wednesday.

The "blueprint" is a 100,000-word document containing proposals on the reconstruction of Britain's social insurance and allied services. It has been seventeen months in the making by a Government Commission headed by Sir William, noted economist.

In the words of Sir William, the director of most of Britain's social legislation for thirty years, the report covers "the whole of life"—pensions, unemployment, workmen's compensation, sickness, widowhood, housing, orphanhood and schooling.

Newspapers more than a month ago had forecast the outstanding proposals of the report would be those covering insurance for all workers and the appointment of a Minister of Social Security, who would be responsible for settlement of unemployment problems, pensions, medical services and workmen's compensation.

The report is to be submitted to Parliament by Sir William Jovitt, Paymaster General, who is in charge of post-war reconstruction.

Partially Accomplished As German Forces Take Over Control Of Toulon

Last Vestiges of French Sovereignty Disappear as Hitler Orders Troops into Toulon, Demobilizes All French Armed Forces and Institutes Military Rule—Extent of French Fleet Loss Undetermined.

London, Nov. 27.—(P)—Germany occupied Toulon today in violation of another Hitler promise, overcoming the resistance from French forces which gave part of the French fleet in the Mediterranean harbor time to scuttle itself.

The sudden stroke erased the last vestiges of France's liberties, erasing the only remaining spot of Unoccupied French homeland and turning the whole country over to Nazi military rule.

A German communique frankly attributed the step, jointly ordered by Hitler and Mussolini, to fear of the growing Allied might in North Africa and the refusal of French armed forces to submit to the Axis will.

An accompanying letter to Marshal Petain informed the French Chief of State that Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt will be in charge of all measures deemed necessary and will take all decisions in French territory.

All French naval and army forces were demobilized by Hitler's order. The armistice of 1940 had allowed France an army of 80,000 men.

The communique said only that "part of the French fleet has scuttled itself" and it was not known which or how many of the sixty-two French war vessels—including three battleships—of France's Mediterranean fleet were at the bottom of Toulon harbor.

The order to enter Toulon was given by the Axis war leaders last night "to prevent the French fleet from putting to sea as planned and to demobilize unsecure contingents of the French army," it said.

The Vichy station broadcast this excerpt from the letter in which Hitler notified the French Chief of State of his decision to occupy Toulon:

"On November 12, 1942, orders were given by French authorities to the defenses at Toulon not to open fire in the event of an Anglo-American landing in this town."

"Existence of this order has been proved. I have given orders that all naval and army units of French forces be immediately demobilized."

"Marshal Von Rundstedt will be in charge of all measures deemed necessary and will take all decisions in French territory."

Thus with one stroke every trace of French sovereignty was erased—no acre of her homeland was left free of the invader, she became subject to absolute Nazi rule, even

WOOD SHORTAGE FACING CANADA FOR NEXT YEAR

Prices Board Chairman Urges that Municipalities Take Action to Assure Supply of Firewood for 1943-44.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—(P)—The Prices Board, foreseeing a fuelwood shortage in the winter of 1943-44, announced today that it has called upon provincial authorities to bring the matter urgently to the attention of municipalities.

The Board has suggested that a survey of the supply situation be made as soon as possible, preferably by December 1; that municipal authorities co-operate with the trade by establishing wood yards or by other measures, and that "special action" be taken in districts where it appears necessary.

Donald Gordon, Prices Board Chairman, emphasized in a letter sent the Premiers of the nine Provinces November 12 that the Board finds it impossible to assume primary responsibility for fuelwood supply, but promised assistance in arranging with the provinces for special credit facilities to the municipalities.

"With half the land area of the Canadian provinces covered by forest," Mr. Gordon wrote, "it seems strange that a shortage of fuelwood should be in prospect, but it is already apparent in many parts of the country, coupled with a local deficiency in coal supplies."

"The basic trouble is manpower shortage. The bulk of Canada's 2,000,000 cords of wood produced annually is cut by farmers, who, with a scarcity of help, are pre-

Japanese Troops on Narrow Buna-Gona Beachhead Reinforced by Strong, Well-Equipped Marine Units.

By C. YATES MacDANIEL, Associated Press Staff Writer
Allied Headquarters in Australia, Nov. 27.—(P)—Reinforced by strong and well-equipped marine units, Japanese troops crammed into the narrow Buna-Gona beachhead are holding their major positions in the face of day-long air assaults and steady but slightly-abated pressure from Allied ground forces.

Comparatively meagre official reports from the New Guinea front today showed little geographical change in the battle picture in the last twenty-four hours.

But a check on the Japanese dead confirmed earlier indications that the enemy, despite severe blows by Allied aerial squadrons, has succeeded in bringing reinforcements into action.

Since the night of November 19 Allied bombers have sunk a Japanese cruiser, four destroyers and two landing boats, have heavily hit and probably sunk a fifth destroyer, and damaged another moving toward the twelve-mile shoreline still in Lieut. Gen. Tomotore Horii's hands.

(A dispatch from the New Guinea front said fanatical Jap resistance and "beautifully-placed defence positions" confronted American troops in the popuan peninsula campaign.)

Today's Allied headquarters communique said some Japanese dead bore marine insignia and Yokosuka depot markings, "indicating special landing forces of shock troops," and

CLAIMS ONTARIO LIBERAL PARTY DECISION IS SETBACK FOR KING

Toronto, Nov. 27.—(P)—Mitchell F. WAR BULLETINS

London — Sir Archibald Sinclair, Air Secretary, told the Foreign Press Association today that "the dispositions of the German high command" now are conforming to the will of the Allies.

"No longer is it who ask ourselves anxiously what Hitler is going to do," he said. "Hitler's problem now is how to parry our strokes."

Tokyo, (from Japanese broadcasts) — Gen. Count Juichi Terauchi, commander-in-chief of all Japanese forces in Southeastern Asia, has just completed a two-week tour of the Burma front, Domei reported today in a dispatch datelined Headquarters of the Southern military regions."

Washington — The United States navy announced today that a medium-sized Canadian merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine early in November in the Caribbean area. Survivors have been landed at an East coast port.

MITCHELL PUBLISHES MEMORANDUM FROM LITTLE ON MANPOWER SCHEME

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—(P)—A seventy-three-page memorandum on proposed manpower regulations, submitted by Elliott M. Little the day before he resigned as National Selective Service Director—a document which would have provided the director with much wider powers, if it were adopted—was made public today by Labor Minister Mitchell.

The plan provided authority for the Director of National Selective Service to "take such steps as may be necessary to ensure the most efficient use of manpower by employers, other than His Majesty in the right of Canada."

After consultation with the armed forces and Government departments concerned with manpower, the director would be empowered to recommend to each of them such action as, in his opinion, is necessary to co-ordinate such activities and carry out the policies of the Government.

He could make recommendations to the Government on necessary action "to co-ordinate activities of the armed services of Canada and of departments and agencies" which affect the supply or demand of manpower, "and such further action as is necessary to achieve the manpower objectives laid down by the Government."

TWO PERSONS DEAD IN RACE FIGHTING

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 27.—(P)—Two persons were killed and at least twelve wounded early today in a three-hour gun battle between negro soldiers and military and civilian police.

Police Chief Don Steward said he had a man "shot out from either side of me" during the melee.

The riot, which Steward said started when a negro military policeman attempted to arrest a recruit, brought more than 100 military and civilian police officers to the scene and twenty-eight blocks were placed under army control.

Available executive officers at the encampment where the negro soldiers were stationed had no comment.

103RD JUBILEE OF STANBRIDGE EAST CHURCH

Mr. George Moore Special Speaker at Anniversary Service of United Church.

Stanbridge East, Nov. 26.—A most inspiring address was held in the United Church at Stanbridge East in keeping with the 103rd anniversary of the United (Methodist) Church of this place, on Sunday, November 22.

The main body of the church was filled with members of this congregation, together with visitors from neighboring congregations.

The speaker, Mr. George Moore, took as his subject, "Over One Hundred Years in Stanbridge East," and illustrated his address by describing the influence of the church in a community over such a long period.

There was a full choir, which rendered two appropriate pieces, "Hear Ye the Call to Worship" and "Come to the Church in the Wildwood."

As this service was to offset the deficit in the finances of the church caused by the cancelling of the annual turkey dinner, the thank-offerings at this service netted one hundred and fifteen dollars. Thanks and credit are extended to each one for help in making the service such an inspiration and success in every way.

General Notes

Mr. M. Russell is spending an indefinite time in Bedford at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Gould.

Mr. G. C. Bullard spent several days in Montreal, a guest of her brother, Mr. H. C. Beatty, and Mrs. Beatty.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blinn were Mr. George Moore, of Montreal, and Mr. Guy Martindale.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. J. E. Fontaine in the death of her father, Mr. Elie Chevalier.

L. K. Wescott and H. C. Yates, of Longueuil, spent the week-end at their respective homes here.

CONVICTED FOR DEFENCE BREAK

London, Nov. 27.—The Earl of Mansfield was fined £50 ($222) today after trial in closed court on a charge of violating defence regulations.

The 42-year-old Earl, a lieutenant-colonel in the Home Guard, was not accused of any malicious intent. He was said to have acknowledged committing an indiscretion.

The complaint charged that he attempted to communicate to a correspondent information regarding the equipment, movement and disposition of British forces.

Before succeeding to his title in 1935 he sat in the House of Commons as Lord Scone.

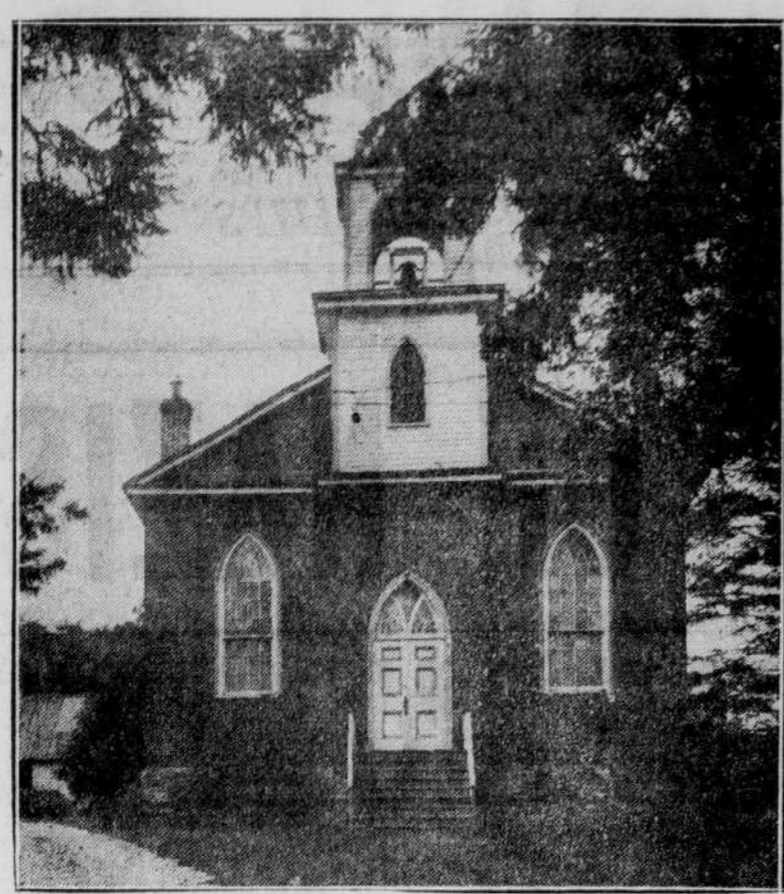

BRITISH NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER PASSES

Berkswell, Warwickshire, England, Nov. 27.—Sir Charles Hyde, 67, a Birmingham newspaper publisher, philanthropist and owner and breeder of racehorses, died on Thursday at his home here.

Sir Charles was unmarried and his baronetcy became extinct on his death.

He was proprietor of the Birmingham Mail and the Birmingham Weekly Post, was a former chairman of the Press Association and Deputy Chairman of Reuters News Agency.

Church Observes 100th Anniversary

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Upper Melbourne, which is on Sunday observing its 100th anniversary, Rev. William MacMillan, B.A., D.D., Pastor of St. Andrew's East Presbyterian Church, Montreal, will be the preacher at the eleven o'clock service in the morning and at the evening service at seven o'clock.

At the morning service a Tablet will be unveiled in memory of Rev. John McMorine, D.D., the first pastor of the Church. St. Andrew's is the oldest and Mother Church of the Presbyterian body in Richmond County and one of the oldest in the Eastern Townships. Around it is woven much of the early history of pioneer settlers of Scottish descent in the St. Francis district.

EDEN MEETING WITH CATROUX

London, Nov. 27.—Foreign Secretary Eden, who has discouraged parliamentary discussion of Admiral Darlan's status in North Africa, conferred yesterday with Gen. Georges Catroux of the Fighting French movement.

Gen. Catroux, de Gaulle's commander in the Levant and a member of the French National Committee, recently arrived from Beirut to report to the committee on the political, military and economic situation of Syria and Lebanon.

It was not stated whether he and Eden discussed Darlan, who is far from acceptable to the Fighting French for permanent authority over North African colonies.

Fleeing Nazis

The Russians are in position to gain control of a triangular network bounded on the North by Millerovo, on the South by Tikhoretsk and on the East by Stalingrad.

The Soviet Information Bureau scoffed meanwhile at German boasts of terrifying "new weapons" described by Berlin as flame-throwing tanks capable of spouting a flame over a five-storey building, and electrically-operated machine-guns capable of firing 3,000 bullets a minute.

Germany has no such weapons, this announcement said, adding that reports reaching the Board indicate only to divert attention of the German home front from tremendous losses being suffered.

Overnight, the Stalingrad garrison struck out hard, dislodging the Germans from four large blocks in the Northern part and killing 950 in this and other clashes in the town, the mid-day communique said.

Red troops extended their advance during the night Northwest of Stalingrad and wiped out 1,000 of the enemy and captured much booty, the war bulletin also said. Sixty-six German tanks and twenty-five planes were reported destroyed in another day.

To the Southwest, further successful offensive operations were reported with 600 killed.

Last night's special and regular communiques, like all the earlier ones on this drive, gave no clear indication of just how the various Red army columns are moving in the wide-open warfare precipitated by the Russian thrusts from the South and Northwest of Stalingrad. It is apparent there are no clearly-defined lines.

But, after listing seven towns captured in the Don bend, the special communique said, significantly:

"In this sector they (Red army soldiers) threw remaining enemy units on to the Eastern banks of the River Don."

This gave a picture of the Russians headed Eastward in an advanced phase of a great circling movement aimed at pinning the besiegers into the 45-mile-wide strip between the Don and the Volga and driving them against the bayonets of the dogged Stalingrad garrison.

Last night's special communique said 12,000 more prisoners were taken Thursday, making a total of 63,000 reported captured since November 19. About 4,000 were killed, the dispatches indicated, raising the official death list of the foe to 51,000. On the normally-expected ratio of three wounded for each man killed, the probable 150,000 wounded would make total Axis casualties 264,000 for eight days.

The Stalingrad garrison maintained steady pressure within the siege-torn city, dispatches said, being driven to German positions in the North, killing 500 and generally forcing the besiegers too busy to do a great deal about the approaching threat from the rear.

occupied with the task of maintaining food production. On the other hand, if many Canadians are to be saved discomfort and suffering, and an adverse effect upon the national war effort avoided, fuelwood cutting will have to be maintained.

"Normally, the wood produced for use during the winter of 1943-44 should be cut this winter; in fact, operations should be starting now. Reports reaching the Board indicate that for a variety of reasons large numbers of farmers are not proposing to produce fuelwood this winter.

"In smaller towns and villages, and in the poorer sections of the large cities, masses of people depend entirely on wood fuel. In a majority of cases their heating and cooking equipment could not easily be converted to coal burning, and in any event there will be little possibility of obtaining an overall increase in coal supplies such as would be required in the case of any mass change-over from wood to coal."

tion only to food and clothes, and not to rent and heating and furnishing and everything else, you will naturally think that the cost of living has risen more than it really has. But probably the trouble goes even deeper. When many people talk of the cost of living having gone up so much they are not only making the mistake of thinking merely of food and clothes, but they are ignoring the fact that they are thinking only of the cost of those food products whose price has risen—like beef for instance—and they are completely forgetting the importance of bread where there has been little price rise.

The booklet said prices moved a little differently in different parts of the country. The index now is published for eight typical cities in Canada, and these local indexes vary from each other by only a few points.

Calendar for November 1942 showing days of the week and dates.

Ald. Deziel Exhibits 16-Foot Model Of Filter Plant Which Could Be Erected For $15,000

To filter or not to filter, that is the question of the day. Nor is it new by any means. Sherbrooke City Council has been searching for some solution to that problem and how to supply better water to the city for several years.

With this thought in mind, Alderman O. Deziel, a welder and contractor by trade, has built a sixteen-foot model of a filtration plant that would cost the city less than $15,000 complete, even with the addition of an aeration system, and could be installed without interrupting the present system of waterworks, or in any way changing the present installation at the reservoirs.

Demonstrating his proposed filtration plant to representatives of the Council yesterday afternoon, Alderman Deziel explained his model in detail. Connected by a length of 10-inch fire hose to a city hydrant, Mr. Deziel has a continuous stream of water under high pressure, running through his model plant at all times. On the day he installed the model in his shop, he started filtering 27 gallons per minute per cubic foot. At the end of ten hours, this was reduced to 19 1-2 gallons per minute, while at the end of 16 1-2 hours only 13 gallons per minute were being filtered, due to the accumulation in the filters.

Using five classes of gravel, from very fine to very coarse, Mr. Deziel said his installation would provide for 6,000,000 gallons of water per day, instead of the present usage of 4,500,000 gallons, and would allow for increase in the city's population. He would dig a 123-foot trench between the two city reservoirs, eight feet wide and four feet deep. In this trench he suggests the installation of a series of screens, gates and valves, with the series of filters running the whole length of the trench. The water would enter the trench through the control gates and by

PROGRAMME FOR NOVELTY SHOW IS DRAWN UP

Programme for the novelty mid-night show which is being presented under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club at the Granada Theatre on Saturday, December 5, was announced today by H. Lavell. Proceeds of the affair will be used for sending local underprivileged children to camp next summer.

Mr. Lavell said that the strictly all-stage show, which will run well over two hours of entertainment, will include an O'Connell's band, Bob O'Donnell, singer; Highland Fling number by the business girls class of the Y.W.C.A.; Len Lobb, soloist; a dance team headed by Miss Pat Webster; William Wolters of the Y.M.C.A. giving a demonstration in athletics; and Bert Perry, magician. Highlights of the programme will be Miss Jeanne Patrie, well known "jitterbug" doing several numbers, a community sing-song and a quiz act.

Although tickets have been on sale for several days, Mr. Lavell reported that they are selling fast in view of a drawing for a $50 Victory Bond which will be made on the stage during the show. Tickets, selling at fifty cents, entitle the holder for a chance on the drawing.

Tickets have been placed on sale in the Granada Theatre, where a special booth has been erected, and at the H. C. Wilson Furniture Store and the Sherbrooke News Company on Wellington Street North. Members of the Y's Men's Club are selling them and tickets will be placed at different stores in various sectors of the city.

"Plans for the show are shaping nicely," Mr. Lavell reported. He said that the first rehearsal will be held on Monday night. "Those who attend this mid-night stage show will be getting more than their money's worth," Mr. Lavell is contributing the use of the theatre and giving his services gratis, although he is not a member of the organization.

Henry Weinstein, in charge of the club committee for the show, said that John Fitzsimmons has been added as a valued member of the group. The other members are R. Bishop, Roy Garnet, Gerald Spafford, A. Ashton, Dean Bishop, Stan Pearson and Dr. Simon Marcus.

Sherbrooke Population Now Stands At 37,269, Including Recently-Annexed Territory

Showing an increase of 927 in the population, census figures for the City of Sherbrooke were released this morning by City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers.

Taking into consideration the annexation of Collinsville and the various country districts surrounding the city, the total population now stands at 37,269, as an aggregate total, with the figures for the urban part of the city itself being 35,829 as against 34,902 in 1941.

In tabulated form the census figures for 1942 are listed by the Valuation Department of the City Clerk's Office as follows:

East Ward: (1941) 8,963, (1942) 9,347, an increase of 384. South Ward: (1941) 5,373, (1942) 5,336, a decrease of 37. West Ward: (1941) 10,449, (1942) 10,925, an increase of 476. Centre Ward: (1941) 3,420, (1942) 3,417, a decrease of 3. North Ward: (1941) 6,697, (1942) 6,804, a gain of 107.

In the annexations of the City of Sherbrooke, the City Clerk lists the following population figures for the year 1942:

Trepianier Village, Grotto Road and Belvidere Road: 469. Drummond Road (Reservoir): 135. Collinsville and Sisters of the Holy Family of Ste. Famille: 723. Ascot, Country District: 102. Orford: 11.

These figures show the annexations to have a population of 1,440, to which the urban population figures of 35,829 give the total of 37,269 for its 1942 census records.

Newsy Notes From Scotstown

FARMERS URGED TO REPAIR OLD FARM MACHINES

Lucien Hebert, local Wartime Prices and Trade Officer, said today that Canadian farmers in 1943 will only be able to purchase twenty-five per cent of the farm machinery they did in 1940.

He declared the variety of machines to be put on the market next year will be drastically curtailed. Of 435 types available in former years only 73 will be on sale in Western Canada next year, while farmers in the Eastern provinces will find 117 varieties from which to choose.

Pointing out that only fifty per cent of the parts will still be offered for sale in 1943, he is urging farmers to halt as much buying as possible and to repair where they can do so.

Lack of steel, both here and in the United States, from which comes a considerable amount of equipment has been imported in former years, has brought about the rationing programme since a great deal of that product is now being used for war purposes.

In Canada, rationing of farm implements will be carried out through fourteen regional boards across the Dominion, one of which will be set up in Sherbrooke for the Eastern Townships. In this way each board will be able to handle the requests effectively and immediately because members of the board will be acquainted with local conditions.

It was explained that farmers are enjoying a splendid crop this year and they have more money than before and they want to spend it, and therefore will want to purchase farm machinery first of all, whether they need it or not. However, they must be impressed that the machinery is not available.

A local motorist was fined $20 and costs, after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

Two suspended sentences were given to charges of drunkenness.

Court Acquits Fourteen Charged Under National Registration Act

Charges of failing to notify the divisional registrar of change of address in violation of the National Registration Regulations were dismissed against fourteen of the fifteen young men from the La Patrie and Chesham districts yesterday afternoon when they appeared before Judge Dalma Landry in Magistrate's Court. All accused had been remanded on three previous arraignments.

Emile Halle testified at his trial that the men were crossing the frontier back and forth to work in the woods for a Canadian contractor operating in Maine. Further evidence disclosed that a change of address was unnecessary, as the men did not reside in Maine. The evidence in his case appeared in thirteen others.

Adrien Carrier, of Scotstown, the fifteenth man was arrested by members of the Army Provost Corps in the course of a house at the request of R.C.M.P. officers on a charge of being an army deserter from a Three Rivers camp.

The fifteen men were arrested on the Quebec side of the border, after they were deported from the United States on November 2 and turned over to R.C.M.P. constables. Fifteen other men, also arrested at the same time, were later released because of their marriage status.

Those against whom constables were dismissed: Halle, R. Dubreuil, Raoul J. Corbett, A. Choquette, E. M. Poulin, Aime Yvon Gird, A. Dubreuil, E. A. Spooner, A. Lambert, Lionel Labbe, J. Rousseau, J. E. Poulin, Joseph Gird and Roger Corbett.

UNINSPECTED MEAT BRINGS FARMER FINE

Recorder Raoul Gagne in Sherbrooke police court this morning imposed a fine of $20 and costs on Olivier Bisette, of St. Edouard de Clifton, on a charge of selling meat here yesterday without first having it inspected. It was the second time in two months that Bisette was convicted on the same count.

A local motorist was fined $20 and costs, after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

Two suspended sentences were given to charges of drunkenness.

WOMAN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Miss Irene Duval, twenty-three years old, suffered contusions of the left leg when she was struck by the rear fender of a car in front of 117 Drummond Street last night. She was crossing the street and was struck by the rear of a truck, machine driven by Antonio Lajoie, 8 Levis Lane, was West-bound at the time.

Following the accident, she was taken to her home at 84 Drummond Street by Mr. Lajoie. At first she refused medical attention, but was later moved to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where her injuries were found to be negligible.

An auto and a truck were damaged in an accident at the intersection of Belvidere and Frontenac Streets. The driver of the truck, Ovide St. Amant, 34 Portland Avenue, was travelling South on Belvidere Street and Oliva Belland, of Albert Mines, the operator of the other machine, was East-bound on Frontenac Street.

Police said the car is the property of Louis Belland, of North Hatley.

passing through the filters enter the second reservoir through another system of pipes and valves. To further purify the water, Mr. Deziel said that for another $6,000 added to his estimate of approximately $9,000 the filtration system alone, he could add an aeration system that would permit the sun and air to work through the water as it is sprayed into the air and produce as fine a drinking water as any city in the province. Much of the chlorine color and taste would be eliminated, he said, and the citizens would have no further cause for any complaint as far as their drinking water goes.

Emphasizing that his plant would not necessitate any change in the present reservoir system, so that at any time the city might revert to the old way if necessary, Mr. Deziel said that his model is being given tests and is under close daily inspection by City Engineer Armand Crepeau.

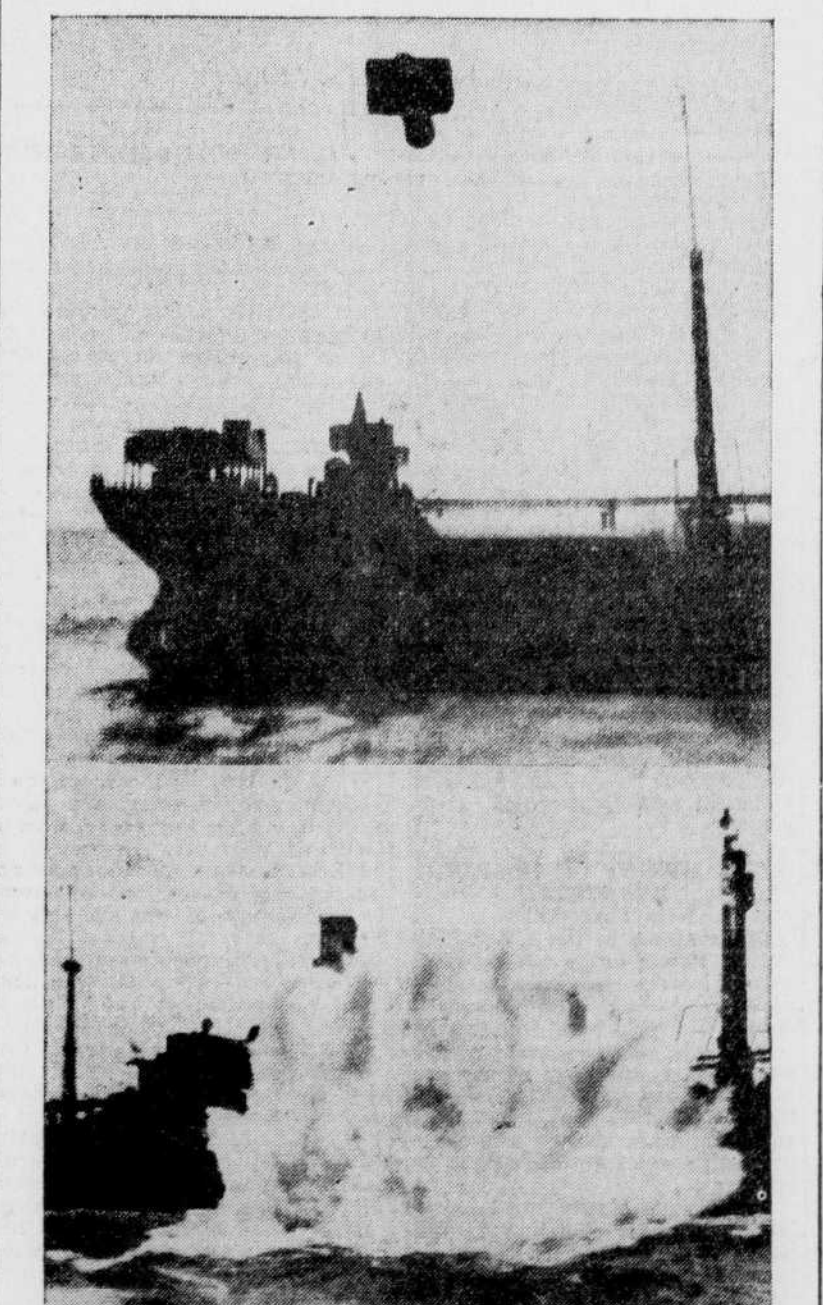

Mr. Deziel's filtration plant, as shown by his model, also provides for a reversed system of pressure, from the already filtered water, to cleanse the filters as may be required, such procedure being done by another series of valves and the overflow being taken off in a special-sewerage system.

Alderman Guy Bryant, Chairman of the Health and Hygiene Committee, and Alderman Eugene Gervais, Chairman of the Finance Committee, who attended the demonstration yesterday, displayed keen interest in Mr. Deziel's work. It is understood that the matter is being given careful consideration by the Council.

Mr. Deziel was construction engineer in charge of developments at the huge Brown Paper Corporation plant at La Tuque, in Northern Quebec, from 1909 to 1918, before coming to Sherbrooke to establish his own business.

MAJOR CANADIAN STRIKES

A study of available records shows that the strike at the Ford Motor Company's Windsor, Ont., war plants, affecting an estimated 13,500 workers, is overshadowed in numbers only by the sympathetic general strike at Winnipeg in May, 1949, which involved about 27,000 employees.

The work stoppage in Winnipeg, stemming from a dispute which members of the metal trades there had with their employers over wage increases and the question of a forty-four-hour week, led to the calling of sympathetic strikes in Brandon, Man., Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina and Prince Albert, Sask.

After the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council had championed the cause of the striking metal workers, street railwaymen, elevator men, postal employees, clerical and stenographic workers, employees of department stores and some classes of railway and municipal workers stopped work in sympathy with the strikers.

Later, newspaper pressmen struck, being joined by telephone, telegraph and electrical workers and cutting Winnipeg off from communication with the outside world. Processions, demonstrations and rioting followed, resulting in casualties, including one death.

On June 17 seven labor leaders who had taken a prominent part in the strike were arrested on charges of seditious conspiracy, and on June 23 a Royal Commission of Inquiry was requested by the strike committee and subsequently held. Within a few days there was a general return to work.

Of the strike leaders arrested, six were convicted and sentenced to imprisonment April 6, 1920, five for one year and one for six months.

In 1924, more than 7,000 coal miners in Alberta and British Columbia engaged in a walk-out which lasted from April until October, and caused a time loss of more than 1,000,000 working days.

Approximately 11,500 Nova Scotia coal miners were involved in a walk-out in 1923, and before this dispute was settled they had lost nearly 1,500,000 working days. Disputes in the mining industry accounted for slightly more than ninety per cent of the total time lost through work stoppages that year.

In 1941, strikes in the mining and metal manufacturing industries caused three-quarters of the time loss, which that year was greatest in Ontario, Nova Scotia and Quebec. The principal disputes involved gold miners at Kirkland Lake, Ont., coal miners at Glace Bay, N.S., metal products factory workers at Toronto and St. Catharines, Ont., aluminum workers at Arvida, Que., and steel rolling-mill workers at Montreal.

THE U. S. POLL TAX ISSUE

A small, well-organized and astute group of Southern Senators, wise in the ways of parliamentary obstruction, this week beat the administration bill to abolish state poll-taxes in federal elections.

To understand the intensity, almost the savagery, of this fight, it is necessary to set this question of poll-taxes against a background of American history. It goes back to the Civil War when the Federal Government brought the franchise to slaves by force, over the protests of Southern whites. This led to Negro majorities in some State legislatures, and, in part, to the upsurge of the original Ku Klux Klan. It forced into various Southern state constitutions grandfather clauses (you cannot vote if your grandfather did not), poll-tax clauses and other methods of disfranchising most of the negroes.

By three devices, white voting majorities have been maintained in Southern States from about 1870 to the present.

The poll-tax survives in eight states—Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. It is a head tax of $1 to $1.50 a year and it must be paid, plus all arrears, in order to vote. The result is that thousands of people, who either have not got the money or are too disinterested in public affairs to pay it, don't vote.

Although aimed at Negroes, the poll-taxes keep many poor whites from the polling booths and in that sense are not an instrument of racial discrimination. The actual voting population of the eight poll-tax States flutters around seven or eight per cent of the total population, a remarkably low percentage, making political organization easy and the machines almost impossible to beat.

The Southern Senators were determined to maintain this system, not only for the obvious reason that it has put them in office and they do not want it disturbed but because they resent federal interference in what they regard as a state matter and, also, because they believe the federal bill to be unconstitutional.

FIGHTING FRENCH POLITICS

The United Nations military success in North Africa, accompanied by necessary creation of some sort of French authority in territory which might well serve as a jumping off place for a continental invasion, has built up in the public mind a jigsaw puzzle, the pieces of which do not fit together. Most of the confusion which competent opinion suggests will clarify itself over a period of time hinges around Admiral Darlan—one day scorned as the evil genius of Nazi collaboration, the next apparently the trusted collaborator of the Allies.

Also born of the swing-over in French North Africa to the side of the Allies was a second "Fighting France," paying little heed to the Fighting France of Gen. Charles de Gaulle which for its part greeted North African happenings with mixed rejoicing and distress.

Darlan's acceptance as supreme French commander bewildered the followers of de Gaulle just as it perplexed the British public. While parliamentarians in addition to the press have bluntly expressed their concern that de Gaulle followers might receive ungrateful treatment, the best qualified impartial opinion counsels a policy of wait and see.

Another source suggested Darlan was far from being a "genius" evil or otherwise and was instead "a rather average man" who had become a high-sounding personality on the strength of Allied propaganda after the fall of France.

This authority described Gen. Giraud as one of the most influential Frenchmen on the Allied side, and noted with interest that he had taken second place to Darlan.

He expressed hope Giraud and de Gaulle would somehow be able to get together for establishment of a unified Fighting France and said the best service the United Nations could render France once the North African military campaign has been victoriously ended would be to bring together African Frenchmen and Frenchmen in Britain with their forces and territories under one control.

But it was cautioned that problems which are exclusively political such as have already appeared should be left to Frenchmen themselves to settle.

Resistance in France has been largely due to the Frenchman's instinctive love of freedom, this source said. Restrictions upon liberty imposed by Germans had the effect of kindling resistance and ripening it for the day when it can be employed to the Allies' best advantage.

If in any way the United Nations in attempting to foster a strengthened Fighting France interfere with the fundamental French rights, then untold harm might result.

WE KNEW IT ALL ALONG

Something new in the way of excuses for military reverses is contained in the latest statement of German Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels explaining away the Axis reverses in North Africa. The whole thing is part of a deep Nazi plot to entrap the British and United States expeditionary forces, the trap to be sprung as soon as the Nazi high command is ready to stage a comeback. In other words, the wild old fox is able to tell the world in advance what he has in store for the amateur hunter. The said hunter is to be eaten alive—if the fox can get at him and if the fox is not killed first.

PRESS COMMENTS

CANADA NEEDS ZONED WHEAT POLICY
Ottawa Journal.

Already far-seeing persons are beginning to wonder about Canada's 1943 wheat crop. "We may be forced to swallow a bitter pill here in the West," comments the Lethbridge Herald, and it tells why: "The simple figures of the wheat equation are that we have a billion bushels of wheat which, even if we could count on normal export and domestic disappearance, would be a three-year supply. But we can't count on the average export disappearance because most of our markets are cut off with the exception of Britain, and Britain this year produced some 115,000,000 bushels of wheat for herself, one of the largest crops on record in the Old Country. Ordinarily we have been exporting to Britain 200,000,000 bushels of wheat yearly, but it is very doubtful if we will be able to do this in the present crop year."

"Storage facilities of every kind are full, and much wheat on the farms is 'piled out in the open without covering of any kind.' In these circumstances the Herald thinks it must be the policy of the Dominion Government to curtail wheat production and encourage wheat farmers to raise pork, beef, mutton, and wool, dairy and poultry products. There are some areas in the West, Senator Buchanan's paper says, where nothing but wheat can be raised and it is this that is the problem. Mr. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, also spoke of wheat in a recent address. The Dominion Government, he said, had spent $400,000,000 'invested in wheat' and it was costing the Government $50,000,000 a year to store the reserve supply. 'This,' said Mr. Gardiner, 'is not and cannot be a long-term policy.' Maintenance of the wheat-growing industry is costing the country as much as the Canadian National Railways used to cost in the days when a huge annual deficit had to be made up out of taxes. Plainly this is a grave and most difficult situation, and one to which the Government and Parliament must give serious attention."

WHAT THEY MISS

London New Statesman
What is puzzling is the way in which the generation born after the last war seems cut off from the culture which preceded it.

They all seem to know D. H. Lawrence, Aldous Huxley, W. A. Auden, a little of Proust, something of Bertrand Russell, T. S. Eliot, and Ernest Hemingway; if they are of the Left they have had a good deal of Marx and Lenin, and more occasionally, Trotsky's History. But they know little of Dickens or Thackeray, hardly anything of George Eliot, or of Fielding or Meredith; Scott they declared unreadable, and most of the nineteenth century poets are known by anthology pieces.

Few of them have ever read the Bible except as a task at school. They are beginning to read Tolstoy's War and Peace, and Dostoevski, and there is a small group of Trollope enthusiasts and a smaller cult of Jane Austen. What is disturbing is the relatively small number who have learned to read for enjoyment's sake, or been shown how to relate what they read to the historical setting in which it belongs.

THE HEIGHT OF SOARING HYPOCRISY

New York Times
One sentence in the letter Hitler sent to Petain as he took over the rest of France rises to a height of soaring hypocrisy seldom equalled even in the past record of this evil man. This was the sentence in which Hitler, speaking of the armistice of 1940, said: "The German Reich did not at the moment take advantage of the weakness of France in order to indulge in extortion."

Extortion is a mild word for the ingenious scheme whereby the Nazis have compelled France to finance her own economic destruction. Long practice in learning how to avoid the payment of reparations has taught Germany how to collect them. She did not levy reparations as such; instead she merely levied "occupational costs," payable in francs at the rate of 400,000,000 francs a day. Germany's actual occupation costs, however, were far less than this, probably no more than 125,000,000 francs. The balance Germany has used to buy up, at forced sale prices, everything of value Frenchmen own and Germans covet.

In the first instance the funds to meet these "occupation costs" have been provided by credits advanced by the Bank of France. But as the Germans used the money to buy French securities and property, i.e. former French owners, having no other outlet for the funds, have invested them in Government bonds, thereby providing the Vichy Government with renewed funds with which to make renewed payments to the Reich. There has thus been established a cycle whereby France is despoiled of real wealth and forced deeper into currency inflation. The Bank of France grants loans, the Vichy Government turns the money over to Germany, Germany uses it to buy up French securities and property, Frenchmen reinvest the funds in Government securities, which provide the Vichy Government with more funds to make more payments to Germany with which to buy more French property.

Germany evaded her burden of reparations after the last war, first by borrowing largely from the United States, the money she paid over to her conquerors, next by defaulting on these loans and on all other obligations. She has taken no chance on letting France escape by any method of figuring, the tribute she has levied upon France is heavier than any she was asked to shoulder, but in addition it is so contrived that there is no escape. The end result of the German plan must be to leave the Nazis in possession of everything of value France once owned, while leaving Frenchmen helpless to defend themselves against the ruin brought on by the systematic inflation of their currency.

STEADY NORTHERN FOLK

Leeds Yorkshire Post
That distinguished soldier, Field Marshal Lord Milne, was in Yorkshire, and according to reports, he took the offensive. He is said to have been struck by the apparent lack of appreciation "in some parts of the North" that we are fighting for our lives. It seemed to him that the civil population had not the same realization of what we were up against as had people in London and the South.

The Northern war factories give the real answer to the Field Marshal. Here people are working hard; if they soberly refuse to respond to hysterical appeals for "the Dunkirk spirit," they also refuse to be depressed or deflected by reverses. All the fuss in the South about "mothers of five" making shells merely amuses them; for the North "mothers of five" have always been in the habit of going out to work. In Leeds alone nearly 17,000 women are employed in manufacturing elementary schools are working either full-time or part-time. The North is working doggedly up to the limit, and sees no reason for getting excited or dramatic.

IMMIGRATION IS UNWELCOME

Le Nouvelliste, Three Rivers.
False rumors abound on the subject of immigration. If one is to believe them, there are tens of thousands of undesirable immigrants entering Canada. To correct this situation recourse may be had to the official statistics. What they tell us is that immigration is practically nil. The war, as was to be expected, has cut short the movement of peoples. During the first six months of 1942 our country received only 3,706 immigrants. That is equivalent to saying we got none at all, by comparison with the first years of the century. . . . The question presents itself none the less, what will be the immigration after the war? We still have believers in unlimited immigration. They estimate that our country can receive hundreds of millions of immigrants. Their principal argument is that a largely augmented population would reduce the burden of taxation by spreading it over a greater number. . . . Any resumption of immigration to Canada would come up against strong opposition.

HAVE A SMILE

The street orator was warming up to his subject. "These astounding figures, ladies and gentlemen, are not my own," he said. "They are the figures of a man who knows what he is talking about."

Then he wondered why his audience laughed.

Leaning against a field-kitchen, a large and fat regimental cook surveyed the sea of mud caused by several days of heavy rain.

"I dunno," he moaned to his small but energetic assistant, "I wish I was bloomin' wet dead."

"That's right, you lump o' laziness," retorted the other. "That'd just suit you, lying in the bottom of a box with nothing to do."

In a small country town a meeting had been called to discuss the question of a brighter Sunday for the people.

Various proposals were put forward when some daring soul suggested "Pleasant Sunday Afternoon."

"A grim woman rose and said: 'There will be no pleasant Sunday afternoons when I am.'"

The boy had shown such a degree of ignorance and mental obtuseness that the teacher was disheartened, and she finally asked, sarcastically: "Do you know whether George Washington was a soldier or a sailor?"

"He was a soldier," answered the urchin, promptly.

"How do you know that?" she persisted.

"Cause I saw a picture of him crosstin' the Delaware, an' any sail-or'd I know enough not to stand up in the boat."

"They're a sturdy breed, out West. Even the women display a proper sense of balance."

"What's the matter?" enquired a feminine motorist of Sandpoint, Idaho, bringing her car to a quick stop outside the county jail.

"Just an earthquake," the sheriff replied.

The driver mopped her brow, sighing with relief. "Thank goodness!" she replied. "I thought I had a flat tire!"

"I am now engaged," said Professor Blam, "in trying to discover a universal solvent."

"What is it?" asked Smart.

"A liquid that will dissolve anything."

"What a great idea," agreed Smart, "but when you find it what are you going to keep it in?"

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority.

"PINOCHLE HAND" BRINGS GOOD LUCK

In my interview with Mrs. A. M. Sobel, I was interested in finding out if she has any superstitions in connection with bridge. I was surprised to learn that whenever she picks up a hand holding "pinochle," she is apt to overbid or make an optimistic double. She told me that the queen of spades and jack of diamonds in one hand meant good luck for her—she never has to worry about a bad score on a hand with that holding. To bear it out, she gave me this hand.

South led a second top heart after holding the first trick, and dummy discarded a club. Now Mrs. Sobel laid down the jack of diamonds, which South did not cover. Dummy played the nine-spot. Then the diamond eight was led and South made the fatal mistake of not covering.

Dummy played the seven and North discarded a club. Now Mrs. Sobel led her last trump, forcing North to return clubs into the major tenace.

CHURCH SUPPER AT FARNHAM IS GREAT SUCCESS

W. J. Harris and I. Verschelden Honored on Retirement from Service with C.P.R.—Presentations Made.

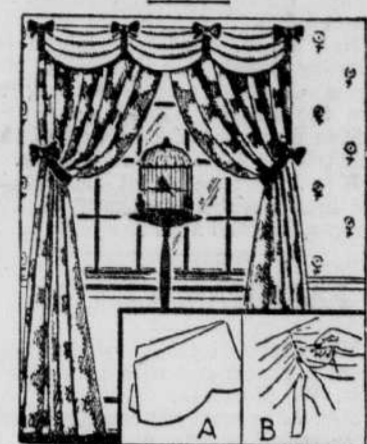

Farnham, Nov. 27.—A supper and presentation was held in Anglican Church Hall, Farnham, on Saturday evening, November 21, in honor of W. J. Harris and I. Verschelden, on the occasion of their retirement from the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

George Duval was the chairman and opened the supper by a toast to "The King," a toast to the hostesses and to the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. F. W. Armstrong, newly-arrived.

Smart Draperies to Make Yourself

Ribbons Dress up the Valance

Charming are these gingham draperies—their graceful valance looped up with bright ribbons. And they're as easy to make as they're inexpensive!

For the side draperies, choose a figured chintz—for the valance, plain chintz. Stunning is an ivory pattern on a soft green ground combined with plain ivory chintz. Use ribbons of a darker green for valance and tie-backs.

How to make the smartly draped valance? Cut the fabric about twice as deep as you want the finished valance to be. Slit at each end and shape the lower edge in shallow scallops as in diagram A. Stitch up in soft folds, loop ribbons over stitches, according to diagram B. Top each ribbon loop with a perky bow.

Now tack the valance to a valance board—and it'll look trim as can be. Side curtains hang gracefully, too, if you make pinch pleats at the top. Know such tricks as running a weighted tape through the bottom hem.

Other "professional" details? Our 32-page booklet gives step-by-step instructions, diagrams for many lovely drapery styles, valances, glass curtains, suggests smart trimmings, fabric color schemes. Tips on cornices.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "New Ideas in Making Curtains and Draperies" to: Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Que. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

pointed B. and B. Master, who has succeeded Mr. Verschelden on the Farnham Division, gave a short address, and made a presentation to Mr. Verschelden who responded and thanked them all in his usual genial manner.

The chairman, Mr. Duval, spoke a few words and made a presentation to Mr. W. J. Harris, who also responded in thanking them all.

Other speakers were Mr. John Lorimer, representing the Locomotive Engineers; Mr. James Kavanaugh, representing the Shop Staff, and Mr. A. Wilson, Locomotive Foreman.

A short programme was put on as follows: Violin, piano and saxophone selections and songs by Dr. Noel Verschelden and Engineer F. J. E. Boushais, and the singing of God Save the King brought a pleasant evening to a close.

The supper was served by the Ladies' Guild of St. James Church, and about ninety were present. During the evening a silver collection was taken up for the Ladies' Guild, which amounted to $12 and the members decided to donate this to the Queen Elizabeth Fund.

Mr. W. J. Harris was born on August 19, 1884, and joined the Canadian Pacific Railway Company as a carpenter at Smith's Falls, Ont., on January 1, 1916. He was made Assistant Car Foreman on June 1, 1918, and promoted to Car Foreman on June 1, 1926, and transferred to Farnham, where he served the Company until October 1, 1942, when he retired on account of ill health.

Mr. I. Verschelden joined the C.P.R. Company as a carpenter in July,

TO WEAR WOOL UNDIES DAYS TOGETHER IS TAKING RISKS IN ANY WEATHER

Here's how to keep woollens dainty

However cold it is, a girl who wears woolen undies must be on her guard against perspiration odor because wool picks up perspiration so easily.

"Undie odor" spoils charm. So play safe! Dip your woollens in Lux regularly to keep them fresh. Lux whisks away odor, keeps woollens soft, cosy—helps them to wear far longer.

Sweaters, too, can be trouble-makers... because they, too, pick up odor. They need the same care you give woolly undies—frequent dips in Lux! Gentle, safe Lux keeps colors bright, precious sweaters shapely and good-looking.

Keep in line with timely economy.

Crown Brand Syrup in addition to its other uses, is being so generally used to supplement sugar, that the demand has increased tremendously—so that sometimes your grocer may not be able to supply you. But you'll understand why.

A great deal more "Crown Brand" is being produced this year but it cannot be expected to meet a demand resulting from a war shortage of millions of pounds of sugar.

The supply of Crown Brand Syrup, like other things, must be shared. Don't hoard—buy normally. With the help of your grocer, every effort is being made to keep you supplied with this delicious syrup.

You'll never be satisfied with anything else once you see RINSO WHITENESS

WHEN you see clothes which have been washed with Rinso you quickly appreciate the difference... Rinso not only washes whiter, it gives the whitest wash! In fact you'll say the only real standard of whiteness is Rinso whiteness. Colors wash best, too, in Rinso. Week after week they come up bright and fresh as daisies. Rinso actually helps all the clothes to wear longer. Its rich suds float away dirt, make it unnecessary for you to rub or scrub. Rinso certainly makes clothes last longer and keeps colors bright too! - gives the whitest wash

OBITUARIES

MR. JAMES JOHN RYAN, WATERLOO.

Waterloo, Nov. 27.—A large and representative number of citizens and friends from other districts paid homage to the memory of the late Mr. James John Ryan, at the funeral service held in St. Bernardin Church, on November 18, the Rev. Father Ernest Messier singing the mass.

The deceased was born in Montreal in 1864, coming to Waterloo with his parents at an early age. In 1886 he married Bridget Murphy, who predeceased him in 1927.

He was educated at the Waterloo Academy and after graduating took up newspaper work on the staff of the Waterloo Advertiser, then owned and edited by the late Charles H. Parmelee, M. P.

On the appointment of Mr. Parmelee as King's Printer, at Ottawa, Mr. Ryan became owner and editor of the paper, which position he held until he sold the business to W. H. Bullock and soon afterwards was appointed Registrar of the Sheriff Registry Office, in Waterloo, faithfully performing his duties until seeking retirement from active duties.

Surviving are two sons, George, of Waterloo, Mass., and Bertram, M. of Montreal; two daughters, Gladys, Mrs. James R. Gannon, of Waterloo, and Flossy, Mrs. Stanley Murray, of Montreal; and six grandchildren, Miss Katharine Ryan, of Worcester, Mass., Burton Murray and Patricia Murray, of Montreal; L.A.C. James J. Gannon, R.C.A.F.; Clifford and William Gannon, of Waterloo.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. George Ryan, of Worcester, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Murray, Mr. B. M. Ryan, Mr. Patrick Murphy and Mr. James Hagan, all of Montreal.

Interment took place in the St. Bernardin Cemetery, the pall bearers being Messrs. P. D. McGrail, A. Henry Smith, Leon Lewis, William Gallagher, F. R. Dalton and Charles Davis.

MR. WILLIAM BEDARD, OF BEDFORD.

Bedford, Nov. 27.—The funeral of William Bedard, who passed away suddenly while at work in the Torrington Company, was held on Sunday afternoon, November 15, at two o'clock from his late residence on River Street to the United Church, of which Mr. Bedard had been for many years a member. The pastor, the Rev. G. E. Perrigard, officiated. The deceased was a member of Bedford Lodge No. 60, A.F. and A.M., and the members of the lodge attended the service in a body.

The bearers were all fellow-employees, William Borden, Daniel Onkes, Austin Campbell, Bhuji Wightman, George Harland and William Campbell. Interment was in the Union Cemetery.

William Bedard was born in Bedford, the eldest son of Peter Henry Bedard and of his wife, Louise Mathers. The greater part of Mr. Bedard's life was spent in Bedford, with the exception of a few years in the New England States. For many years Mr. Bedard was a valued employee of the local branch of the Torrington Company.

Mr. Bedard is survived by his wife, one brother, Mr. A. Bedard, a sister-in-law, Mrs. A. Bedard, a nephew, Herbert Bedard, and a niece, Miss Evelyn Bedard, all of Bedford.

Harrison Evans, Robert Nugent and the Leader, Rev. A. E. W. Godwin. Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Betts were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young, of Compton; Mr. and Mrs. James Tatters and daughter, Lena, of Clifton; Mr. Arthur Rogers, of Bulwer; Mr. and Mrs. W. Bellam, of Clifton, and Miss Mary Bellam, who spent a week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Patrick and children, Master Roscoe and Miss Edna, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Patrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young, of Compton, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kingsley.

A.C.2 Howard A. Loveland, of Lachine, was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Loveland.

Dance, I.O.O.F. Hall, Sawyerville, Fri., Nov. 27, Star Dusters Orch.

Weekly Letter to Farmers

J. A. STE. MARIE, Superintendent,
Dominion Experimental Station, Lennoxville, Que.

The Sherbrooke show and sale of beef animals, held in mid October was such a success, coupled with the present prevailing prices for good beef, that it is causing increasing interest in the breeding and production of beef cattle, particularly in the Eastern Townships as well as many other sections of the Province. Years ago, before the advent of the creamery and the intensive production of fluid milk for the city, the Eastern Townships of Quebec were quite renowned for the production of good beef. However, with the intensification of beef production in the West and milk production in the East, beef production had so decreased that much of the supply has to be secured outside of the Province. Hence, a few years ago, both governments brought forward a joint policy to revive beef production in this Province. The success of this move was well confirmed at the recent Sherbrooke Show and Sale.

To assist and support this campaign, the Lennoxville Experimental Station has also revised its breeding and feeding programme accordingly. For the last four years, the Station has bred and fed many groups of steers, yearlings and two-year-olds to demonstrate to the average farmer that the production of quality beef was economically possible.

This short letter does not permit the reporting of any extensive results of experiments, but the following suggestions are offered to those interested in beef production.

If the feeder intends to produce yearling beef, (baby beef) these calves should be sired by a beef-bred bull of quality, of the low set type. Many good bulls have been purchased in recent years, but these are still many farmers that could make use of a good bull.

selection, upstanding and angular cows if it is desired to raise early maturing and economical beef. No matter how good the bull may be, the cows must also have good qualities. They must not only have good type, but also produce enough milk to nurse the calf well or make it worth while to milk them.

Repeated experiments clearly indicate that late winter born calves will produce cheaper gains than April-June calves. An early born calf, if well nursed or fed, will weigh from 500 to 650 pounds at eight months against 350 to 450 for April-June born at the same age under average farm conditions. Experimental evidence tends to show that there is greater profit to be obtained if the animals are fed and managed so as to be finished and sold at the early age of 12 to 20 months, except under special conditions.

From evidence obtained in former years and confirmed with the present experimental work, it is felt that the production of beef within the Province would be more profitable on the average farm if more farmers would so organize their operations as to produce their own calves instead of depending on animals purchased on the outside market.

Experimental work and experience confirms that the possible profit in beef production is closely linked with the feeding of well-bred animals of good type, coupled with good management.

GEORGEVILLE

For the month of October the Georgeville Red Cross Group shipped to Magog the following articles: 16 towels, 4 sheets, 1 sweater, 1 pair seamers' socks, 5 pairs gloves, 4 tuck-ins, 1 child's bathrobe. Donations: 1 quilt, 1 sweater, 4 pairs socks, 2 pairs mittens, 3 caps, 1 pair booties, 1 pair wristlets, 3 boxes of buttons. The Red Cross group has undertaken to make two complete kits for girls, sixteen years old, which will take a lot of sewing and knitting. Those able and willing to help with the work are to send their requests for the work to Mrs. Ramage, Mrs. James Parker, or Mrs. A. Davidson and they will try and deliver the materials. Meetings are being held every Tuesday, either at Mrs. Boynton's in the afternoon or at Mrs. Davidson's in the evening. Seeds are needed for "prisoners of war" in Germany. Anyone wishing to donate either seeds or money, send it to any of the Red Cross members and they will try that they reach the right quarters for shipment. At the meeting on Tuesday night a quilt was tied at the home of Mrs. Davidson.

The Ladies' Guild was entertained by Mrs. Partington on November 18, when a very pleasant afternoon was spent in sewing and social converse. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. R. Hutchins, Mrs. Hornby and Mrs. Morley. Proceeds from the tea were $8.50.

SKI CLUB AT MAGOG HOLDS FASHION SHOW

Many Attend Event Contributing $107 to Proceeds in Aid of Local Club — Music by Orchestra.

Magog, Nov. 27.—The sum of $107.65 was realized at a Fashion Show in St. Patrick's Hall, in aid of the local Ski Club, when some five hundred people filled the hall. Giz Gagnon's Orchestra was in attendance and Jean Joncas was master of ceremonies.

The hall was arranged as a salon with a long carpeted platform extending down the centre of the room and the seats arranged along the sides and at the end. The room was attractively decorated by the members of the Magog Ski Club.

The models were Miss Betty St. Martin, Mr. William Whittier, Miss Gene Adams, Yolande Charland, Rejeanne Millette, Ray Kinnon, Atila Stock and Miss Theresa Reynolds and Miss Helen Lord, professional mannequins, from Montreal.

The clothes were described in French and English by Mr. Joncas, well-known radio announcer and singer, who also sang in French and English.

For the first part of the show the mannequins were becomingly dressed in ski costumes, afterwards changing to street or afternoon costumes with furs, then to long evening gowns and wraps. Throughout the entire programme ensembles were made complete with harmonizing bags, gloves and jewellery appropriate for the occasion.

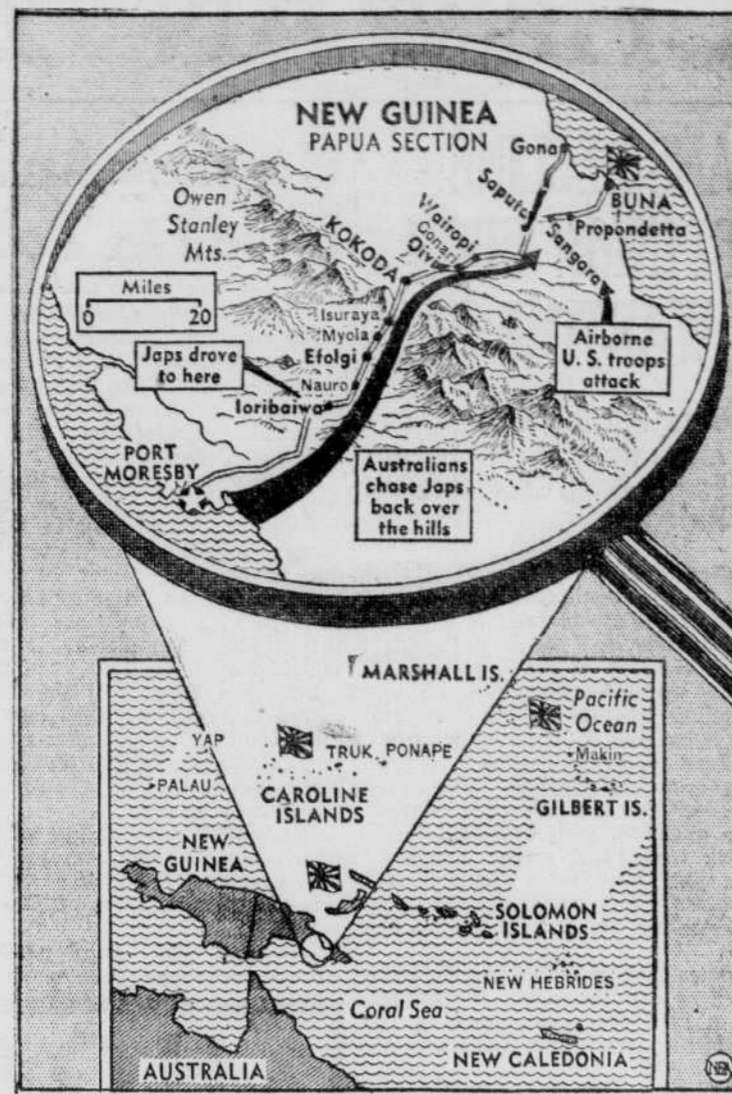

Giz Gagnon's orchestra played softly during the entire programme and at the conclusion of the fashion show the drawing for a bed jacket was won by Mrs. Lacasse.

Mr. Joncas, representing the Ski Club, thanked the audience, the organizers and the mannequins, who were applauded by the audience.

General Notes
Pte. Walter McClements was home on leave visiting his mother, Mrs. J. E. Adams, and Dr. Adams. Cpl. Douglas Patch, of the R.C.A.F., was home on leave to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Patch. Rolling Back to Buna

Over the mountains and through the jungle Australian troops have pushed the Japs back from near Port Moresby to the Buna-Gona area, last enemy foothold in Papua. Japs seized Buna in July, advanced to Kokoda that month, then on to Ioribwa in September. Aussies started drive back late that month, retaking Kokoda Nov. 5. Allied bombers from Port Moresby have supported the drive with bombing attacks on Buna and the jungle trail linking it with Kokoda.

Deposits Exceeding A Billion And Assets At An All-Time High Feature Bank Of Montreal Report

Assets of $1,175,319,000 Include $683,835,000 of Government and Other Bonds Reflecting Co-operation in Financing National War Effort.

INCREASE IN TAXES REFLECTED IN EARNINGS

Showing characteristic strength in all departments, the Bank of Montreal's annual statement, just released, marks a record in the institution's 125-year career, with assets at the new high figure of $1,175,319,000 and deposits exceeding, for the first time, the billion dollar mark.

Profits show some reduction compared with those of a year ago, owing to the increase in Dominion Government taxes, which this year amount to $2,539,874, compared with $2,242,905 a year ago. In the former figure is included an amount of $2,360, which is refundable under the provisions of The Excess Profits Tax Act. The profit, after payment of taxes, amounts to $3,283,018, compared with $3,437,026 a year ago, and represents 4.31 per cent of capital, rest and undivided profits. This contrasts with 4.51 per cent in 1941.

Dividend payments show a reduction of $180,000, compared with last year's figure, the decrease being due to the lower rate of the dividend made effective in recent months. The dividend payments amounted to $2,700,000, which, with $500,000 appropriated for bank premises, left a net amount of $83,018 to be carried forward to profit and loss, making the balance in this account $1,236,686.

Notable Increases

Notable among the increases in resources is the figure for government and other bonds and debentures which amount to $683,835,000, compared with $498,740,000 a year ago. Commercial loans amount to $221,354,000, compared with $275,698,000 in 1941. The former figure reflects, no doubt, lessened requirements of business due to the increasing extent of government assistance to concerns engaged in war work, as well as the fact that many firms engaged in peace-time pursuits are not now requiring the

Miss Grace Perkins, of Island Brook, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Perkins. The Anglican Men's Club met with Mr. and Mrs. C. Hess in Greenlay with the average attendance of 100. The Ladies' Aid of Christ Church held a very successful rummage sale in Windsor in the Provencer block. The receipts were very encouraging.

COATICOOK

Rev. T. J. Matthews and the different committees of his church societies are making extensive plans for Memorial Week of the church, beginning with a turkey banquet to be put on by the Men's Club on December 2, when Rev. A. E. E. Legge, former pastor of the church, will be the guest speaker. The young people are giving an evening with a programme entitled "The Church Tomorrow Night." The ladies will hold their Christmas sale on Saturday. On Friday evening of the following week a musical comedy, "Trial by Jury," and a play, "I Said This Would Happen," will be staged. The Dime-Card tea of the Women's Association of the United Church will be held at the home of Mrs. Roy Stafford on Thursday afternoon, December 3, with Mrs. Irvin Waldron as assisting hostess. Mrs. E. B. Parker returned early this week from Montreal, where she was for a few days with her daughters, the Misses Alice and Olive Parker. The ladies of the Baptist Church held their Christmas sale and tea on Thursday afternoon. Sgt. James Turnbull and Sgt. John Turnbull, of the Ordnance Corps at Kingston military camp, were at their home in Coaticook for two days and while here were on Wednesday evening installed as members of the local Masonic Lodge. Rev. Colin Cuttill, of Quebec City, was the guest on Monday of Rev. T. J. Matthews and Mrs. Matthews. Mrs. Gwendolyn Weary, of Montreal, spent the week-end in town the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Weary. Jinks: "Heard about the Duce's new National Anthem?" Binks: "No, what is it?" Jinks: "The Fleet's in Port Azain!"

Be in this mood when you buy!

Does something to you, doesn't it, when the flag goes by? What you wouldn't do for your country, just about then!

Well, you can do a lot by feeling that way when you buy. In that red-white-and-blue mood you'll buy only when you must; and what you must buy will be the longest-lasting product you can find.

That is one sure way to help your country's war effort. For the longer-lasting things you buy won't need to be replaced so soon, releasing material, machinery and labour needed to help win the war. And, when you buy longer-lasting products you get better value.

Make sure that your present battery is worn out before you buy a new one. Consult the Exide Dealer in your district. He has been carefully chosen for his ability to give honest battery service. He will help you to get from your present battery all the service it is capable of giving.

FRANKS RESTORING SASKATCHEWAN HONOR

Permitted Hawks Lone Goal Against Rangers

Stellar Performance of Melville Rookie Offsets Poor Showing Previously by Steve Buzinski in Rangers' Nets—Detroit Edged Out Leafs.

By The Canadian Press

The National Hockey League netting debut of Jimmy Franks has served to redeem Saskatchewan's reputation as a breeding ground of great goaltenders.

It wasn't strictly his National League debut, since the Melville, Sask., rookie played a few minutes for Detroit Red Wings in a 1937 Stanley Cup playoff. But it was his first full game under the big top and he responded brilliantly, allowing only one goal as New York Rangers thumped Chicago Black Hawks 2-1.

Rangers purchased Franks from the Detroit farm system to replace Steve Buzinski, 25-year-old Dunblane, Sask., wheat inspector who had allowed fifty-five goals in nine previous games. By contrast at least Franks earned his spurs, for the Chicago total was the lowest scored against Rangers in any game this year.

Max Bentley fired the only shot which eluded Franks in the third period, but it was too little and too late to effect the outcome. Lynn Patrick and Clint Smith provided the victory with first-period goals.

Detroit's 2-1 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs gave the Wings a two-point hold in first place ahead of Leafs and Hawks, marking the fourth time they have gained the lead since the season started.

Lorne Carr tallied first for Leafs in the second period on Billy Taylor's pass. Veteran Syd Howe equalized for Detroit at 10:11 of the third

Bingo Kampman Homesick For Return To Big Time Hockey

By CHARLES EDWARDS, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto, Nov. 27.—(P)—Bingo Kampman, the former Toronto Maple Leafs defence bruiser, now an army transport driver in the Halifax area, is nostalgic for the big time. Asked by Ken (Halifax Herald) Chisholm how it felt to be out of hockey, Kampman replied: "Not so good. I can't even listen to those games Saturday. No foolin', it gets me down". . . Gordon (Gosh) Pettinger, who helped Regina Pats win the Canadian junior hockey title in 1930 and later toured the N.H.L. with New York Rangers, Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings, is playing coach of No. 8 Air Observers team in the Portage la Prairie Military League. . . Bill (Niagara Falls Review) Gaynon says Carson Cooper, Detroit's head scout, is sweet on Theodore Kennedy, Port Colborne juvenile.

The expert says: Alan (Brantford Expositor) rose: "That fight between Jimmy Orlando, Detroit, and Gaye Stewart, Leafs, which was covered by the press reporters like the chicken covers the dressing on a platter, is now garbage matter as both boys report they may be changing uniforms shortly for something in a more drab hue. Gory to glory, as it were. Maybe they'll make commands out of them."

SAVOLD RULES UNDERDOG FOR BIVINS SCRAP

Cleveland Man Two to One Favorite in Engagement Tonight in Heavyweight Ranks.

New York, Nov. 27.—(P)—Lee Savold, whose left hook broke the noses of Billy Conn, Lou Nova and Tami Mauriello, is the two to one underdog tonight in the ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden in which Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland makes his Eastern debut.

Bivins, who lets his opponents decide whether the bout will be a boxing or a slugging match, has been fighting since he was a flyweight and now scales a pound or two over the light-heavyweight limit.

His best weapon is said to be a left hook, potent enough to have floored Bob Pastor, Gus Lesnevich, Mauriello and Billy Soose. In addition, he is rated above the average in body punching.

Savold will have a weight pull of approximately sixteen pounds and will be making his first New York appearance since losing to Mauriello on October 30. Tami was to have met Bivins tonight but his Savold-broken nose still hasn't healed.

FANS DECLINE OPINION UPON WARTIME BALL

Feelers Put Out by President Alva Bradley of Indians Fail to Bring General Public Response.

Cleveland, Nov. 27.—(P)—Unless he finds a soothing word with a good grip on the sports pulse to give him the answer, it looks as if President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians would have to make his own decision whether or not the Tribe plays baseball-as-usual next season.

Bradley, doubtful that fans want the game in wartime, put out a "feeler" for a public expression on the question, declaring earlier this week that "he'd rather not open" the ball park next spring if the "wolves" were going to howl about players not being in the armed forces.

Since then, only two persons bothered to call him about the matter. Both said the game should go on despite the war—but that's scarcely a mandate.

A random sampling of public opinion showed it was divided. Seven of a dozen persons believed baseball should be played next season, if only to give civilians "a chance to blow off steam." Four said they "don't care" and one definitely was opposed to it.

The "pros" agreed with Bradley's expressed conviction that only married men with children should be allowed to play. But even with older players, the fans will "get a lot of relaxation from the game," in the opinion of H. P. McCormick, district manager for a manufacturing concern.

In an autumn revival of the summer sport, a couple of Canadian fighter squadrons of the R.C.A.F. wing put on a softball game on the airfield that had fleet fighting planes as its background. . . A team from a squadron led by Sqdn. Ldr. Bud Malloy of Toronto smashed a nine from the unit of Sqdn. Ldr. Nobby Fee of Calgary, 15-4.

Hershey And Providence Still Hold On To A.H.L. Positions

By The Canadian Press

The struggle between first-place Hershey and second-place Providence for top honors in the Eastern division of the American Hockey League continued unabated last night as both won their contests.

Hershey took its fifth straight victory by defeating Cleveland Barons 4-1 and the Reds defeated Buffalo Bisons, leaders of the Western half, 5-3. In the only other game, the Western division Pittsburgh Hornets went into a second-place tie with Indianapolis Capitals by stinging Washington Lions 5-2.

Both the Bears and the Barons scored in the first period but from the second period on it was all Hershey. Hershey has won seven of its last eight games with only a tie marring its record.

Providence's second line of Jack Forsey, Jack Toupin and Don Webster accounted for three goals in less than ten minutes of the first period.

During a wild third period in which one major and four minor penalties were handed out, Pittsburgh ensured its victory over the Lions with three goals.

There's no league action until Saturday night when Cleveland plays at Washington, Buffalo at Hershey and New Haven Eagles at Pittsburgh.

 LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Connie Brown, Detroit, who fired home the winning goal to give Red Wings a 2-1 victory over Toronto.

Clint Smith, Rangers, who pierced the Black Hawks' defence unassisted to pound in what proved to be the winning goal in New York's 2-1 win over Chicago.
