THE RUSSIAN CRISIS

Constitutional Democrats May Throw in Their Lot With the Revolutionists

THE 'NOVOE VREMYA' DECLARES THAT THEY HAVE ACTUALLY RESOLVED TO BREAK WITH THE GOVERNMENT WITHIN A FEW DAYS

St. Petersburg, June 16.—The Constitutional Democrats seem almost ready to throw in their lot with the revolutionists. The popular agitation is so great that at a caucus lasting three mornings the question of changing the party's tactics and abandoning any further attempt to postpone an open rupture with the government was seriously debated. MM. Redikoff and Naboukoff, leaders of the Constitutional Democrats in the Lower House, led the Radical wing, urging the absolute necessity of keeping pace with the revolutionist movement, and insisting that, unless they moved forward to battle immediately, they would be overwhelmed and left stranded. Prof. Milukoff, M. Vinaver and others counselled caution, saying it was not yet time to bend to the storm, but the Radicals were in the majority. The 'Novoe Vremya,' to-day, says that the Constitutional Democrats have actually resolved to break with the government within a few days, but M. Struve, editor of the 'Novoye Vremya,' informed the Associated Press that no decision had been taken. He admitted, however, that the leaders' plans were secret. Many of the Liberals fear a rupture, and regard the contemplated step as a grave error, claiming that the Constitutional Democrats cannot hope to keep step with the Radicals, who, at meetings held in the suburbs of St. Petersburg last night, not only condemned the Lower House of Parliament, and characterized the Constitutional Democrats as traitors, but even denounced the Group of Toil. M. Aladin was hissed because he tried to explain the absurdity of the contention that the House must demand that the Emperor summon a constituent assembly. The meeting refused to listen to his statement that the government could not be asked to sign the death warrant. Constituent assemblies, he said, were constituted and not summoned by the government. The orators at the meetings glorified the coming dictatorship of the proletariat and cheered the cries of 'Down with the government and the middle classes.'

marines and the soldiers and workmen are reported to be extremely turbulent. Two infantry regiments have been hastily dispatched to Cronstadt from Krasnoye Selo, 19 miles south-east of St. Petersburg, and two batteries of artillery of the guard and two machine gun batteries have been sent there from Oranienbaum, 19 miles west of St. Petersburg. The streets of Cronstadt are filled with troops, and the well-to-do inhabitants are hurriedly leaving the island on which the town is situated.

DISORDERS AT BIALYSTOK

Outrage was the Result of Provocation

THOSE WHO TRIED TO LEAVE THE CITY WERE KILLED IN RAILWAY STATION OR THE OPEN FIELDS.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—No fresh news was received here from Bialystok this morning, and none of the newspapers can get a word directly from their correspondents there. The correspondent of the Associated Press, who should have arrived there from St. Petersburg yesterday morning, has not been heard from. Nothing has been received here from the parliamentary commission sent to Bialystok to inquire into and report upon the massacre of Jews. It is evident that the authorities will not allow any despatches to be sent from the terror-stricken town, which is regarded as ample proof of the horror of the situation. The last telegram known to have been received here reached M. Catrogorski, a member of the Lower House of Parliament, from Brocho, yesterday. It was as follows:—
'The Jewish outrage at Bialystok was produced by provocation. The police participated in it and the troops actively supported the rioters. The military authorities now have full control. The Governor-General has left the city. Persons who tried to leave Bialystok were killed at the railway station and others who succeeded in reaching the open fields outside the town were run down by dragons. There seems to be no hope of stopping the attacks. The number of victims is large. While this appeal for immediate assistance is being written, we hear about us the sound of volleys.'

MORE ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS.
Warsaw, June 18.—The chief of police of Warsaw to-day issued a proclamation, warning the people against the efforts to provoke racial hatred and stating that every attempt at rioting will be mercilessly suppressed by force of arms.
Anti-Jewish riots have broken out at Zobludow and Guinodz, in the province of Grodno, and at Ossowiec, in the province of Lomza.

FIVE THOUSAND MORE IMMIGRANTS.

There has been no busier place in Montreal during the week-end than the Windsor street station of the C. P. R. This is due to the fact that immigration traffic, which has been rather quiet for the past several weeks, suddenly rose to the proportions which characterized the spring rush. From Friday until this morning, no fewer than five thousand immigrants passed through the station on their way from Quebec to Western Canada. The largest proportion of these were from the British Isles, and were the pick of the working classes. The remainder were of various nationalities, mostly Austrians, Germans, Poles, Jews and Italians. The big waiting hall at the Windsor street station was filled several times over with cosmopolitan crowds waiting for the westbound trains. The people looked cheerful enough in their new surroundings. They had youth and health and boundless hope on their side, and were ready to appreciate everything they saw and heard, from the powerful C. P. R. locomotives to the German who sat on his rough deal box and played airs of love and home.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mines from the late war are still a menace to traffic in Eastern waters. Word reached Tokio on Saturday that the transport 'Toyotomi' had been sunk by one on Thursday last, and that fifty of her crew were missing.

Russia is believed to be living in hourly danger of another upheaval. The Constitutional Democrats have for three mornings running debated the question of changing their tactics and joining the revolutionists.

Two hundred thousand acres of crop lands were devastated by hail in southern Russia, north of the Sea of Azov, on Saturday. Some of the stones weighed three pounds.

H.M.S. 'Ramilles,' one of the men-of-war engaged in the sham fight off the south of England, collided to-day with the 'Resolution,' and had to be taken back and docked at Sheerness.

It is nothing new for Englishmen to be on their guard against rotten tinned foods. At the Stepney wharves, where none but colonial stuffs are handled, over a ton had been destroyed every day by the order of the health inspectors, for five years back.

Harry Nelson Pillsbury, the famous chess player, died in Philadelphia of apoplexy, yesterday.

The Doukhobors employed on the Grand Trunk Pacific between Portage la Prairie and the Touchwood Hills area, described as great hustlers. They seem to have none of the 'pilgrimage' propensities of their Yorkton brethren, and are said to be doing some of the finest pieces of grading on the whole line.

Judge Carman, of St. Catharines, Ont., warns farmers that bicycles and automobiles have as much right to the road as they have.

The Ontario Silver Company of Niagara Falls has been fined $600 for using the trademark of a firm in Sheffield, England.

The Anglican Synod of Kootenay calls for religious instruction in the public schools by qualified teachers.

Archbishop Bruchesi, addressing the boys at the gymnastic exhibition of the Roman Catholic schools of the city, at the Arena, on Saturday, said he personally considered gymnastic exercises a means to gain heaven. They made boys strong not only physically but intellectually and morally, making them the pride and boast of the land.

A man and a woman were drowned within ten yards of the shore yesterday, just off the wharf of the Locomotive and Machine Company, in full sight of a number of men fishing, not one of whom made the slightest attempt to save them.

A cockfight was broken up by the Longueuil police yesterday, and the occupant of the property on which the affair took place was arrested. A number of the spectators had come in cabs from the direction of Montreal.

A STRANGE CASE

A HEAVY YOUNG WOMAN FELL DOWN STAIRS, BREAKING NECK OF FRIEND WHO SAT THERE.

New York, June 18.—James Condem, 25 years of age, of Summit, N.J., died yesterday in All Souls Hospital, at Morristown, from a broken neck, after three weeks' treatment, in which every recourse of modern surgery was exhausted. Condem called on a young woman in Summit, three weeks ago. The young woman weighed upward of 250 pounds, was dressing and he sat down in the stairs in the hall way to wait. The young woman tripped near the top and fell squarely on Condem, who was picked up unconscious and taken to his home, where physicians found his neck had been broken. It was decided last Friday to take him to the hospital for an operation. On Saturday it was discovered that his spinal cord had been injured, and the surgeons were unable to save his life. The young woman is prostrated with grief.

LOCAL SHOWERS

At eve the rainclouds disappeared. The sun, with shining face, shone bright; I went about refreshed and cheered, And hummed the song again that night: 'Life is chequered; smiles and tears; Make the days and months and years; Pleasure and pain in life combine— 'Tis not all clouds, nor all sunshine.'

Meteorological Office, Toronto, June 18. 11 a.m.—The following are the maximum and minimum temperatures:—Victoria, 64, 50; Calgary, 58, 38; Edmonton, 58, 44; Prince Albert, 68, 50; Qu'Appelle, 70, 48; Winnipeg, 78, 64; Port Arthur, 76, 56; Toronto, 68, 58; Ottawa, 74, 58; Montreal, 74, 56; Quebec, 70, 52; St. John, 70, 52; Halifax, 64, 52.
Easterly winds, mostly fair, showers in some localities, chiefly on Tuesday.

Since Saturday rain has been general over the North-West Provinces, the fall being very heavy in Manitoba. Rain has also occurred in Ontario, more especially over the southern and eastern portions. The outlook in all localities is still more or less unsettled.

EXPRESS COMPANIES

Proposition to Bring Them Under Control of Railway Commission

SIR FREDERICK BORDEN ACTS AS CHAIRMAN OF SPECIAL PARLIAMENTARY COMMITTEE.

Ottawa, June 18.—A special committee of parliament met to-day to consider the propositions of Mr. Alcorn's bill to bring the business of express companies under the control and regulations of the Railway Commission. Sir Frederick Borden was in the chair and among those present were the Hon. H. A. Innerson, F. D. Monk, M.M. and W. F. Maclean, M.P. Counsel were also present to represent the interests affected.
Mr. F. H. Chrysler, K.C., who appeared on behalf of the express companies, contended that the Dominion Parliament had no authority under the British North America Act to regulate the rates and the affairs of express companies. Because a parliament had the right to incorporate a company it did not necessarily follow that it had the right to regulate them, too. The British North America Act left the control of property and civil rights to the provinces, and in his judgment a transaction between an express company and its customer was a civil right. Therefore the regulation of express companies and business belonged to the provinces. Doubtless when the Dominion Parliament was incorporating a company it could impose whatever conditions it desired, but when parliament as one party to a contract had given a charter to an express company it had no right to subsequently impose new conditions.
The constitutional limitation that Mr. Chrysler argued was a point the committee had not previously considered. Plainly it did not commend itself to the members of the committee. Mr. Chrysler held that an express company was not an 'undertaking' under the meaning of the B. N. A. Act.
Mr. Monk held that parliament's full authority to regulate 'trade and commerce' gave it the right to regulate express companies.

Sir Frederick Borden did not think that, after parliament had accepted the principle of Mr. Alcorn's bill, this special committee had authority to deal with the question of jurisdiction.

Mr. Chrysler later quoted opinions of the Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick and Mr. R. L. Borden questioning parliament's authority to regulate express rates.
After hearing them the committee decided to wait for the opinion of the Minister of Justice on this point, and took up the details of the bill.

'PLAYED AIRS OF LOVE AND HOME.'

SUNDAY COCK FIGHT

Broken up by the Police at Longueuil

MAN WHO OWNED THE YARD IN WHICH MAIN TOOK PLACE ARRESTED.

The Longueuil police broke up a cocking main yesterday morning, at Longueuil, arrested the occupants of the property on which it took place, and captured three birds. It is expected that three more arrests will be made. The affair was conducted in the open, in a yard attached to a house at the corner of Labonte avenue and St. Lawrence street. There are but few houses in the locality, so that the approach of the police, who had got wind of the affair, was easily noticed by those on the outside of the ring.

About eighty persons, many of whom had come from the direction of Montreal in cabs, had assembled, and the arrival of the police on the scene was the signal for a general and hasty dispersal over the fields and down the railway track. In their haste to leave three of the contestants left their birds behind, and these the police took charge of. The proprietor of the place, a man named Beland, was arrested, and two or three others were stopped but were allowed to go on giving their names.

A MARVELLOUS ESCAPE

A RUNAWAY AUTO CAUSES ITS OCCUPANTS A TERRIFYING TIME.

Chicago, June 18.—A runaway automobile containing Mr. J. B. Loverin, of Racine, Wis., and his three daughters, yesterday dashed backward down one of the hills north of Glencoe, crashed through the guard rails of a rustic bridge, and fell twenty feet to the bottom of a ravine. As the machine plunged off the bridge it turned over, throwing the terrified occupants to the ground, while the momentum of its great weight caused it to shoot over and past them. This undoubtedly saved their lives, but their escape with only slight bruises and cuts was remarkable.

FETE DIEU PROCESSION

ANNUAL CELEBRATION CARRIED OUT WITH MUCH POMP.

The Fete Dieu procession held in the centre of the city yesterday noon, with the usual success, and seemed to be attended by even larger numbers than in the past few years. From early morning the Roman Catholic residents along the line of march were kept busy decorating their premises, and the result was a beautiful display of flags, banners, and bunting all along the route. Spectators turned out in large numbers and the streets were thronged, while from every window masses of ladies and children viewed the grand pageant.

The temporary altar for the open-air service had been erected on the steps of Laval University. The altar was resplendent with lights, and natural flowers lavishly distributed everywhere furnished a delicious fragrance, while a score of little girls attired in white filled the carpet-covered steps with flowers as the officiating clergy approached. From every window of the large building flags were flying, and a company of the Mount St. Louis cadets formed a guard of honor on the balcony.

The decorations at the St. Denis Academy, corner of LaGauchetiere street, were also very elaborate, and a choir of young girls sang hymns as the procession passed that spot.

The procession itself was composed of the usual elements furnished by the united parishes of Notre Dame, St. Patrick's, St. James's Cathedral and St. Helen. There were congregations of boys and girls, men and women, friars and nuns, each carrying their flags and banners, singing hymns and reciting prayers. The clergy, including all the theological students, the priests in rich copes and dalmatics, the cross and censor-bearers, all preceding the rich canopy, formed the centre of attraction. The officers of the 65th Regiment furnished the guard of honor, and the host was borne by Mr. Sbarretti, papal delegate. Immediately following the canopy were Archbishop Bruchesi and Bishop Racicot, in full robes, assisted by several priests, the rear of the procession being taken by the judges and the members of the Bar.

As the stately procession advanced slowly amidst the sound of the bells, the strains of the brass bands and the singing of the different congregations, the scene was very imposing, the climax being reached when, from the altar at Laval University, the papal delegate raised the host over the heads of the crowd, kneeling in devout reverence.

CANADIAN CABLES

(Canadian Associated Press.)
London, June 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Canadian Associated Press says that at the annual meeting of the Societe Historique Diplomatique, Mr. W. L. Grant, of Toronto, read a paper. The society comprises among its members the majority of the foremost historians, and diplomats of England and Europe.

LIBRARY LECTURES.

Arrangements have been made for Mr. H. H. Langton, librarian of Toronto University, and Dr. James Bain, librarian of the Toronto Public Library, to lecture before the McGill Library School. The lectures will be given in the McGill University library, as follows: Mr. Langton, at 8.15 o'clock this evening, and Dr. Bain, to-morrow at 4.30 p.m.

REVOLVER ENDS LIFE

BUSINESS WORRIES AND DISAPPOINTMENT CAUSE OF TRAGEDY.

Charles S. McFeat, a clerk in the freight department of the C. P. R., committed suicide on Saturday morning by shooting himself with a revolver at his brother's residence, 3 Prospect Place, Westmount.

Mr. William P. McFeat, with whom the deceased lived, says he was aware that his brother was worrying over his private affairs, but there was never the slightest indication that he contemplated ending his life. On Saturday morning he heard the report of a pistol shot in the young man's room, and, opening the door, he found him in his sleeping attire lying on the floor with a revolver at his side. Dr. E. M. Morgan, who was summoned, found the victim unconscious, and a bullet wound in his temple. An ambulance was called from the Western Hospital, and he was hurried to the institution, where he died without regaining consciousness.

Disappointment over failure to secure an increase in salary, which he decided would prevent him carrying out his plans to be married, prompted the act, his relatives believe.

He deceased was a life member of the M. A. A. A., and a regular competitor in the revolver competitions. Coroner McMahon, without calling a jury, disposed of the case as one of suicide.

CRUELTY TO A HORSE.

Napoleon Demers, a driver, was prosecuted in the Recorder's Court on Saturday by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, for not using a rest-pole. He was fined three dollars, and two dollars costs.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.

Kingston, June 18.—On Friday morning while coupling cars at Collins Bay, William Weir, a Grand Trunk brakeman, was crushed by an engine backing down upon him. He was brought to the General Hospital and his wounds attended to, but apparently he was internally injured, for he sank rapidly, dying at a late hour on Saturday night. He was aged thirty-two years. His parents from Algonquin were summoned and were with him when the end came.

CAUGHT IN A TRESTLE

FEARING TO JUMP, BOY IS KILLED, HIS FATHER AND COMPANION ESCAPE.

Chicago, June 18.—Fearing to jump from a trestle on which a train was approaching, Max Morschyski, fifteen years old, lay between the rails on the bridge over the Calumet river at Riverdale yesterday and was crushed to death. His father and a companion, confronted by the same alternative, jumped from the bridge and swam to shore. The engineer saw the danger of the party, but was unable to stop the train.

POINTE AUX TREMBLES.

The work of building and renovating the Pointe aux Trembles Mission Schools is progressing very satisfactorily, and owing to the state in which the excavation and building materials have left the grounds, it is thought advisable to postpone indefinitely the proposed picnic announced for July 2 next, and celebrate, later on, the diamond jubilee of the institute.

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS.

Notices of births, marriages and deaths must invariably be enclosed with the name and address of the sender, or otherwise no notice can be taken of them. Birth notices are inserted for the purpose of giving notice of the death notices for the deceased. The announcement of funerals appended to death notices, the extra; other extensions to obituary, such as short sketch of life, two cents per word extra, except poetry, which is 50 cents per line extra—prepaid.

Annual subscribers may have announcements of births, marriages and deaths (without extended obituary or verses) occurring in their immediate families free of charge, in which case name and address of subscribers should be given.

FIELD BATTERY SPORTS

VISITORS TO THE ISLAND NEARLY LEFT THERE ALL NIGHT.

The Third Field Battery, which is at present in camp at St. Helen's Island, held its annual sports on Saturday afternoon, and about five hundred visitors remained for the dance in the evening. The impression was that a late boat was to bring the guests back to the city. The last boat left at ten o'clock, however, and at first it seemed as if the visitors would have to make the best accommodation possible and remain on the island all night. Volunteers were, however, secured, who rowed across to the Montreal side for help. It was well on to midnight before the ferry had landed the stranded pleasure party on the right side. The games in the afternoon were well attended. Trooper Mulligan of the Duke of York Hussars, was thrown from his horse in the Victoria Cross race, but escaped with only a slight shaking. Driver Ross, of the Battery, who had only come back from sick leave, also had a slight fall. With these two exceptions the sports passed off without a hitch. The results were: Boys' race, 50 yards—1, P. Baker; 2, F. Hilliard. Girls' race, 30 yards—1, Miss G. Heiden; 2, Miss W. Harper. Gunners' and drivers' race, 100 yards—1, Driver J. M. Waugh; 2, Gunner A. Shirling. Blinded race—1, Gunner A. Shirling; 2, Gunner A. Dennis. Broad jump—1, Bombardier E. Larose; 2, W. Sayers. 440 yards race—1, Sergt. C. L. Harding; 2, Bomb. E. Larose. 75 yards, ladies' race—1, Miss Rocker; 2, Miss Devenport. Non-commissioned officers' race, 100 yards—1, Sergt. C. L. Harding; 2, Bombardier E. Larose. Victoria Cross race—1, Driver J. Porteous; 2, Sergt. Mason. Ticking at the ring—1, Driver J. M. Waugh; 2, J. Porteous. Foot and puttee race—1, Gunner A. Smith; 2, Gunner W. Pike. Mounted tug-of-war—Duke of York Hussars and Army Service Corps, won by the Duke of York Hussars. 3rd Field Battery 1st team, and 3rd Field Battery 2nd team, won by the 2nd team.

CHESS MASTER DEAD

H. N. PILLSBURY DIED OF APOPLEXY AT PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, June 17.—Harry Nelson Pillsbury, the chess master, died here today of apoplexy, after an illness of many months. Pillsbury was born on Dec. 5, 1872, at Somerville, Mass., where the body will be taken. The funeral is to be held there next Tuesday. Pillsbury learned the rudiments of chess when a boy in Boston. His first notable victory was over John F. Barry, of Boston, in 1891. Other victories made him one of the quartette of the then most famous players named to compete at St. Petersburg—Lasker, Steinitz, Tschigorin and Pillsbury. His score with the world champion, Lasker, was 3 1/2 to 2 1/2. In 1897 Pillsbury won from Showalter, the American chess champion, which he confirmed by a second match with Showalter in 1898. Pillsbury showed his chess genius not alone by match and tournament play, but in blindfold chess, it is said his record has never been equalled. At Moscow he played 22 games without sight of the boards and at Philadelphia 20 games, which feat he repeated at Vienna.

TORONTO CONFERENCE

WARM DEBATE OVER CLAUSE IN NEW ONTARIO LIQUOR LICENSE ACT.

Toronto, June 16.—A warm debate at the Toronto Methodist Conference took place over the clause on the new Liquor License Act, making a three-fifths vote necessary to carry local option. Some of the ministers strongly upheld the government policy in demanding a majority of sixty percent of the vote, and others as strongly condemned it. The discussion was caused by a clause in the report of the committee on temperance and moral reform condemning the action of the Ontario Legislature in asking for a three-fifths vote. The clause had passed before any inkling of trouble appeared for a motion to refer it back to the committee for consideration was lost.

THE DOUKHOBORS

THEIR WORK ON G. T. P. GRADING CONTRACTS HIGHLY COMMENDED.

Winnipeg, June 18.—Mr. Malcolm McMillan, of Messrs. Macdonald, McMillan and Company, Grand Trunk Pacific contractors, returned last week from an inspection of the work along the line as far as Bird Tail River. In this vicinity the Doukhobors have several grading contracts, and Mr. McMillan speaks in the highest terms of their work. The Doukhobors, he maintains, have put up some of the finest pieces of grading that have been done on the whole line. They are great hustlers and are not at all affected by "pilgrimage" propensities. Mr. McMillan states that the work is going along very satisfactorily, and that when the snow fits the company expect to have not only 275 miles from Portage to Touchwood Hills graded, but also the 35 mile open span, Portage to Winnipeg.

THE LATE MR. E. CARTER.

The funeral of the late Mr. Edwin Carter took place to Mount Royal Cemetery on Saturday afternoon from his residence, 1227 Berri street. After a brief service at the house, the body was taken to Mount Royal Avenue Methodist Church, where a public service was held, conducted by the Rev. Melvin Taylor (pastor), assisted by the Rev. W. J. Wood (a former pastor), and the Rev. Mr. Budd. There was a large congregation, and the church was draped. The chief mourners were Mr. Edwin Carter (son), Mr. John Moffatt and Mr. A. Boardman (brothers-in-law), and Mr. James Boardman (nephew). Floral tributes were sent by the official boards of the church, by the Willing Workers' Society, by the Sunday-school, by the class mates of Mr. Carter's daughters, who attend Mount Royal day school; by Mrs. T. Walker, Mrs. R. Miller, and by a Chinese friend. On account of the death of Mr. Carter, the farewell social to the Rev. Mr. Taylor and the reception to the Rev. Mr. Williamson, which it was intended to hold on Wednesday evening, has been cancelled.

ROTTEN TINNED FOOD AT STEPNEY

Over a Ton of Colonial Meat Fish and Fruit Destroyed Every Day.

NEW ZEALAND RASPBERRIES WERE TREATED WITH SULPHUR AND AN ANALINE BATH.

London, June 16.—The report of Dr. Thomas, the medical officer of the Borough of Stepney, to the Local Government Board, shows that his department during the past five years has destroyed over a ton of rotten tinned foods daily at the Stepney wharves. These, he adds, were not American goods, as practically no canned goods from American concerns are imported through the Stepney wharves, but were colonial meat, fish and fruit. The medical officer says he found New Zealand raspberries treated with sulphur in order to preserve them. On their arrival in England the raspberries were soaked in an aniline bath to restore their color. He considers that diseased meat once canned will easily defy detection.

Philadelphia, June 17.—Harry Nelson Pillsbury, the chess master, died here today of apoplexy, after an illness of many months. Pillsbury was born on Dec. 5, 1872, at Somerville, Mass., where the body will be taken. The funeral is to be held there next Tuesday. Pillsbury learned the rudiments of chess when a boy in Boston. 'RULE OF THE ROAD'

JUDGE CARMAN BLAMES THE FARMER AS MUCH AS THE AUTOIST FOR NOT GIVING HALF THE ROAD.

St. Catharines, Ont., June 16.—Judge Carman thinks that the farmers themselves are not altogether blameless when it comes to the question of fast driving by automobilists. The judge took occasion to mention this in addressing the Grand Jury at the recent sessions here. The rights of vehicles and pedestrians on the public highway was fully dealt with. There would be much fewer accidents, His Honor thought, if the 'rule of the road' to turn to the right, was strictly complied with. 'One difficulty is,' said Judge Carman, 'that farmers in many cases do not think that automobilists have any rights to the road. The farmer is, just as amenable as any other man if, through his neglect, an accident should occur. A great many farmers and a great many other persons do not know apparently that it is the duty of the driver of a vehicle to give half the beaten track in meeting a bicycle.'

GUILTY OF FRAUD

ONTARIO SILVER COMPANY FINED $600 FOR USING SHEPHELD MARK.

Welland, Ont., June 16.—The charge against the Ontario Silver Company, of Niagara Falls, of fraud in the improper use of a Sheffield, England, trade mark, was heard before Judge Wells, in the sessions here today. The charge of conspiracy against Mr. Clark, the manager, was dropped, but four indictments of fraud were preferred against the company. The company made no defence. Mr. J. W. Nesbitt, K.C., of Hamilton, who appeared for the company, pleaded for leniency, and blamed a former owner of the company for the trouble. The company was convicted by Judge Wells, after a scathing address, and a fine of $600 was imposed.

DEATH OF MR. J. W. MULLIGAN

WAS SECRETARY TO SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE FOR SOME YEARS.

Mr. James William Mulligan, one of the most trusted employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, died this morning at his home in Westmount, from consumption. The news has caused the greatest regret not only among his numerous fellow employees, but also in business circles generally, for Mr. Mulligan was well known. He was for years the secretary of Sir William Van Horne, and on that gentleman's retirement from the presidency of the C.P.R., he continued to serve in the president's office. Several months ago it became evident that his health was undermined, and he went away for a time to the Laurentians. Then he came back to Montreal, and spent some time in the Gleggery Hospital. He gradually became worse, and finally returned to his home, where he died. He was only 29 years of age. He leaves a widow and two children.

Pushing the Education Bill Through Parliament

DIANA OF THE EPHESIANS—THE SOUTH AFRICAN SITUATION.

London, June 16.—The prospects of the Education Bill have improved materially this week. For one thing, the government has decided to fix a time limit, and on Monday a closure resolution will be introduced whereby the bill will be ready to go to the House of Lords during the third week of July, three weeks before the usual close of the session.

It adds a touch of excitement to the progress of the bill to know when the tussle with the Lords may be expected. The rejection of the bill would mean a controversy that would sterilize the probable autumn session, but less impetuous politicians remember that the Trades Disputes Bill is also ahead, and it is possible that the Lords may prefer to let the struggle for that bill. It involves the immunity from legal proceedings of union funds, and would, therefore, be safer for an appeal by the Lords to the vested interests of conservatism.

The Education Bill was also advanced by an undertaking given by Mr. Birrell. Classes three and four provide for facilities for religious teaching in denominational schools taken over by the local authorities, but it appeared that it only needed a refusal to take over to make these classes a dead letter. Mr. Birrell has promised to make provision for an appeal to the Board of Education in all cases of refusal to take over, adding an appeal in case of a refusal by any denomination to transfer. Thus we have had the spectacle of those persons who called 'transfer' spoliation, asking for a guarantee that transfer shall take place.

Mr. Birrell's concession already has caused the Irish members to cease voting against the classes. Mr. David Hogarth, who was sent out five years ago by the British Museum to Ephesus to make further excavations of the great temple of Diana, is back in England, and will soon publish the results of his labors. The former excavations were inadequate. He has gone deeper, and found at least two more primitive cults of Artemis. He is doing for Ephesus what has been done for Crete.

The leader of the Zulu rising in Natal, Bambata, has been killed, another leader had just previously surrendered, and Dinizulu, whose wavering had been a cause of anxiety, could no longer doubt on which side of the fence to jump; but the present pacification does not lessen the gravity of the revelation that important native chiefs could not be counted upon, and the colony is still uneasy.

SHOPLIFTERS AT HAMILTON.

Hamilton, June 18.—William T. Ferguson and Maud Courtney, of St. John, N.B., and A. W. Leroux, of Montreal, were arrested Saturday night on a charge of shoplifting. The trio went into Robert Juner's store and asked to be shown some articles of cut-glass. They did not make a purchase, but after they left Mr. Juner missed a cut-glass bowl valued at twelve dollars. He promptly notified the police, and soon afterwards one of the women was arrested on James street. Ferguson was arrested in his room at the Osborne Hotel, where the stolen bowl was recovered.

INDIAN ACQUITTED.

Kenora, Ont., June 17.—At the conclusion of the trial of the Indian, Tush-waget, accused of murder at Cat Lake, at the Assizes here yesterday, the prisoner was acquitted. The evidence was not sufficient to warrant the case being given to a jury.

FAMOUS RACE HORSE DEAD.

New York, June 17.—James R. Keene's famous four-year-old colt Syson, conceded last year to be the best horse in training in America, died today in his stall at the Sheephead Bay race track of blood poisoning. The horse has been ill for a long time with a skin disease.

HAD ANKLE BROKEN.

Ernest Chartrand, eighteen years of age, of St. Leonard, Pointe aux Trembles, had his right foot broken at the ankle on Saturday as a result of being struck by a car while driving his cart over the crossing of Duluth avenue and Sanguinet street. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital.

Improvements at Manoir Richelieu

During the past winter a swimming pool has been built at the Manoir Richelieu, which will compare favorably with any in the country. The salt water of the St. Lawrence, salt as the ocean itself, will be pumped and heated to between 60 and 70 degrees, the entire pool will be open to the sun, and with the dressing rooms has been built south of the present billiard and amusement hall, to which the cooling alleys have been added, thus combining all modern sports virtually under one roof, billiards, pool, shuffle board, ping pong, bowling and swimming. The water in the pool will be arranged at from the wading bath for the children to five feet and over to the most expert water polo game, and around the edge are placed spring boards, a chute, rings and a trapeze. The sections with dressing rooms for men and women have their respective showers, baths, with hot and cold needle showers, etc., and over these dressing rooms an observation gallery for spectators will watch the swimming, water polo and other sports which are going on in the pool. The wading bath for the children is being arranged for the orchestra has been ordered daily between eleven and one during the popular swimming season.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Barnard, 33 Lorne avenue, has returned from England. Miss Lucie Taschereau is spending a week or two at Lac Charlebois.

Mrs. A. W. P. Buchanan and family leave town shortly to spend the summer months at Murray Bay.

Miss Jeanne Taschereau will spend the summer at Little Metis, with her sister, Mrs. Vidal, of Ottawa.

THE 'RAMILLIES' CRIPPLED DURING THE BRITISH NAVAL MANOEUVRES.

London, June 18.—The British battleship 'Ramillies' was assisted back to Sheerness to-day, having been in collision in the Channel with the battleship 'Revolution.' The latter was not damaged, but the former must be docked for necessary repairs, principally to her propeller. So far as known the 'Ramillies' is the only big ship crippled by collision during the week's manoeuvres. Two or three torpedo craft have been in collision or aground, and some machinery defects have developed, but very few compared with former manoeuvres.

FARM HANDS SCARCE

KANSAS FARMERS OFFERING EVERY INDUCEMENT TO GET LABORERS.

Chicago, June 18.—A despatch to the 'Record-Herald,' from Topeka, Kansas, says:— Kansas is sending the strongest appeal of her history for men to work in the harvest fields.

EXHIBITS OF HANDICRAFTS.

The Canadian Handicrafts Guild has sent from Montreal two exhibitions of home industries, one to the 'Fair of all nations,' at Niagara Falls, Ont., which was opened formally by Lady Laurier last week, in aid of the new General Hospital; and the other to a 'made in Canada' exhibition at Chatham, Ont. The portieres and homespuns, in which the colors are secured with vegetable dyes, have been very favorably noticed.

he was held by the congregation. He then presented Mr. Williamson with a cabinet of solid silver cutlery, the knives and forks having ivory handles, and the cabinet being suitably inscribed in commemoration of the occasion. Mrs. Williamson was also presented with a solid silver sugar scoop.

CANADIANS ARE SLOW

THEY MIGHT MAKE SPLENDID USE OF BRITISH CONSULAR SERVICE IF THEY CHOSE.

Ottawa, June 18.—In view of the somewhat general impression, especially among the manufacturers and exporters of Canada, that the Canadian commercial agency service should be greatly extended, and further, in view of the fact that Canada has not a single commercial agent in the United States, the superintendent of commercial agencies recently addressed a circular letter to all British consuls-general and consuls in that country seeking, if possible, to bring about some measure of harmony between these officials and the Canadian business community, and thereby, if possible, unofficially to enroll their services more directly in the interests of Canadian trade.

The impression has existed for many years among Canadians that British consuls do not interest themselves in Canadian trade, and therefore it is believed to be of little use to them. On the other hand, the statement was made that Canadians as a rule seldom availed themselves of the advantages offered by British consuls in the United States by calling upon them or by writing to them, and that Canadians had no ground to hold such an opinion when they seldom or never sought their assistance.

PASTOR OF LACHINE METHODIST CHURCH GENEROUSLY RE-MEMBERED.

On Friday evening the congregation of the Lachine Methodist Church indulged in a lawn social on the church grounds for the purpose of giving the members and adherents an opportunity of saying good-bye to their pastor, the Rev. A. W. Williamson, S.T.L., who has been appointed to the pastorate of Mount Royal Avenue Church. After a large gathering had assembled and social chat had been indulged in by the visitors, Mr. Williamson was told that Mr. T. A. Bishop wanted to see him on the veranda of the parsonage.

On arriving at the appointed place Mr. Bishop informed the pastor and the assembly that he had been asked by the ladies to present Mr. Williamson with a testimonial of the esteem in which

PASTORS SAY FAREWELL

EAST END AND WEST END METHODIST PREACHERS CHANGING CIRCUITS.

In accordance with the appointments made by the recent Conference at Smith's Falls, the Rev. George S. Reynolds, of the West End Methodist Church, and the Rev. W. H. Stevens, of the East End Church, leave this week for new fields of labor. The former goes to Carleton Place, and the latter to Huntingdon circuit, and both will be followed by the prayers and good wishes of the congregations they are leaving.

The Rev. Mr. Reynolds preached a very impressive farewell sermon to a large congregation last night, and a farewell reception will be tendered the pastor and Mrs. Reynolds on Tuesday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Reynolds is a native of the province of Ontario, and received his early education in Milton Academy. Thence he went to the Cobourg Collegiate Institute, and after matriculation, attended Victoria University, which was then in Cobourg. His early years in the ministry were spent in the Bay of Quinte Conference. A few years ago he came into the Montreal Conference, where he has met with much success. On leaving Waterloo four years ago to assume the pastorate of the West End Church, a large proportion of the congregation and other friends met Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds at the station to say good-bye, and presented them with a purse of gold.

During the present pastorate over a hundred adults and twenty young people have been enrolled in church membership. The entire interior of the church and basement has been repaired and renovated, so that now the West End Methodists may be congratulated on having one of the most commodious and convenient school rooms in the city. The auditorium also is artistic and cheerful. The parsonage is in first-class repair and well furnished. In spite of many difficulties the finances of this charge have greatly improved during the last four years.

As a preacher Mr. Reynolds has always shown remarkable power. At the last meeting of the quarterly board of the church the recording steward expressed the sentiments of the members and the congregation when he spoke in the highest terms of Mr. Reynolds's excellent work as a preacher. As a pastor, he has always displayed tact and sympathy, and has endeared himself to all the flock. Old and young will feel that they are losing personal friends by the departure of Mr. Reynolds and his estimable wife.

Mr. Reynolds will be succeeded by the Rev. A. A. Radley, who is expected to assume the duties of the pastorate during the present week and occupy the pulpit next Sunday.

The choir sang anthems specially selected for the occasion, closing with 'God be with you till we meet again.' The communion of the Lord's Supper was celebrated at the close of the regular service.

The Rev. W. H. Stevens leaves the East End Church after a most successful two-year term. He has superintended the building of the new church on Bertrand street and the establishment of the LaGauchetiere street congregation in their new home. By his exceptional abilities as a financier he has raised and provided a large proportion of the cost of the new edifice and leaves it with a very small burden of debt for the congregation to carry, while all departments of church and Sunday-school work are in a flourishing condition.

Apart from his abilities as a preacher and administrator, Mr. Stevens has, by sociability and untiring interest in the young people of the East End, done much to attract them to the services and duties of the church. Being possessed of considerable musical talent, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have done much to encourage and improve the musical service of the church. Mrs. Stevens has for most of two years the leading contralto in the choir; and duets by the pastor and his wife have been a frequent and always appreciated attraction both at the regular church services and at sacred concerts.

The Rev. Mr. Stevens comes of a family of U. E. Loyalists, his father having been the late Major S. A. Stevens, of Sherbrooke, Que., and the family having been among the earliest settlers at Sherbrooke. Born and educated at Sherbrooke, he came to Montreal in 1885, as assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., under Mr. D. A. Budge. After four years in this position, Mr. Stevens decided to enter the Methodist ministry, and was sent, in 1889, to the 'Alumet' and Grenville circuit, succeeding the Rev. Mr. Howitt, who was appointed to a professorial chair in the Wesleyan Theological College in this city. At the following Conference, Mr. Stevens was sent to Ottawa, where he built the church that is now known as the Bell street church, and became its first pastor. After two years on this charge, Mr. Stevens came to Montreal, where he took a partial arts course at McGill, and pursued his theological studies at the Wesleyan College.

On completing his probation, Mr. Stevens was ordained at the Conference held at Cornwall in 1894. Since then he has been stationed at Hudson, St. Lambert, St. Henri, Knowlton and the East End, which he is about to leave for Huntingdon. Last year he was financial secretary of the Montreal district and at the Smith's Falls Conference he was appointed to a similar office in the Huntingdon district. He is also secretary of the General Conference Arrangements Committee in this city, and also active in all work looking to the moral and spiritual uplifting of the people.

In his farewell sermon last evening the Rev. W. H. Stevens based his remarks on the incident of 'Jacob's vow and God's promise,' in the memorable vision which the patriarch had at Beth-el. 'Jacob's life,' he affirmed, 'needed the consolation to be bestowed by a God of infinite benevolence and power. His was an old world life, but had in it much in common with the human life of the present. The preacher briefly traced several events in the life of the patriarch with the view of illustrating two main ideas: "How Jacob kept his vow," and "How God kept his promise." Two or three lessons growing out of the study was elaborated in closing: (a) Man is a weak, fallible creature and very liable to lapse and fall far below his ideals of life and service. (b) That, notwithstanding this fact, God loves man and eternally pursues him, using every agency to bless him and lift him up into friendship and communion with himself. (c) That man's highest wisdom is displayed in his determination to sympathize with the Divine plan and purpose, and that the supreme joys of life are found in the realization of God in human consciousness. At the conclusion of the sermon Mr. Stevens referred to the happy relationships sustained between himself and the various organizations of the church, and feelingly thanked the congregation for their kindness during the term of his pastorate at the East End Church.

A social meeting of the congregation will be held this evening, when the annual reports of the church will be presented and the members and adherents will have an opportunity of bidding their pastor farewell.

The Rev. W. T. G. Brown, B.A., B.D., who succeeds the Rev. Mr. Stevens, is expected to arrive during the present week and occupy the pulpit next Sunday.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL GYMNASTS

THE ARCHBISHOP PRESIDED AT COMPETITION IN THE ARENA.

The 'Presse' trophy for the best exhibition of gymnastic work by the boys of the schools under the Catholic Board was won on Saturday last by the pupils of Olier School, in the Arena. Five other schools competed, namely, the Plateau Academy, Sarsfield, Champlain, Montcalm and Belmont. Pupils from Jacques Cartier School gave an exhibition of fancy running and marching. His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi gave an address upon the importance of gymnastic training in general education.

The following are the medal winners: Olier School—A. Duckett, L. Sylvain and F. Gnatton.

Sarsfield School—A. Leroux, A. Patenaude and L. Delaire.

Edward Murphy School—J. Pluteau, W. Deblois and M. Hogan.

Commercial Academy—L. Lacroix, L. Parent and A. Barand.

Montcalm School—S. Plouff, E. Martel and E. Paquin.

Belmont School—O. Mellot, J. Pheasant and J. Monarch.

Champlain School—Z. Gauthier, H. Dumas and J. Warren.

Besides His Grace, there were on the platform: The Rev. Canon Dauth, the Rev. Abbe Poirer, the Rev. N. Dubois, the Rev. Father O'Meara, P.P., the Rev. Father Gavay, O.M.I.; the Rev. Father Collins, P.P., of St. Johns; Commissioners J. H. Sempie, P. G. Martineau and D. Gallery; Principals Ahern, Leblond, Desaulniers and Doré. Sergt.-Major J. Long and Major G. T. Ostell acted as judges.

FROM 'WITNESS' FILES

FORTY YEARS AGO. Prussia and Italy declared war against Austria, and between June 16 and 20 occupied Hanover, Hesse-Cassel, Saxony and Nassau.

TWENTY YEARS AGO. Mr. Gladstone started on his Scotch campaign. Thousands of people assembled at the station to see him off, and so great was the throng that his carriage was seriously delayed. Addressing the crowd from the car window, he thanked the people for their 'extraordinary demonstration,' and adjured them to let nothing hide from them the real question at issue whether Ireland should be trusted to manage her own affairs. Those who denied this right to Ireland admitted that such rights were enjoyed by Canada and other British colonies. Were they to trust their fellow subjects in Ireland, and govern them by love, or adopt the policy of the Government's enemies and introduce into Ireland government by force? As the train moved away hundreds ran alongside cheering and waving handkerchiefs and hats until he could no longer see them.

The C. P. R. led the continent in the adoption of 'standard time' and having their clocks read, instead of from 1 to 12 p.m., 13 to 24 o'clock.

THROUGH ENGLISH EYES

WHAT AN EDITOR FROM THE OLD COUNTRY THINKS OF CANADA.

Mr. Edward A. Murray, editor and proprietor of the 'Birkenhead and Wirral Herald,' was a visitor at the 'Witness' office on Saturday. He is paying a flying visit to Canada to see whether half that he has heard and read about this modern Eden is true or not. He has read, for months past, all the literature about Canada that he could lay his hands on. He has just finished a holiday in the Megantic district and already he has reached the conclusion that the half has not been told of the beauties—not to speak of the practical advantages—of this land.

'I see nothing,' Mr. Murray declared, 'to prevent Canada being the greatest country on earth. England may be slow; the United States has been setting too swift a pace. Now, Canada seems to be taking the medium road to unexampled success and greatness.'

On Saturday night, in company with Mr. Frank H. Connors, he left for Toronto and Niagara on a flying trip. He regrets that he cannot stay long enough to go out west. But he hopes to come again and see some more wonders. He has seen only the fringe, but has already been charged by his friends with having the 'Canada-Mania.' He pleads guilty to the impeachment and says he intends to repeat the offence. If the sights of and about Niagara do not render him speechless, Mr. Murray will, on his return to Montreal this week to take the boat for home, doubtless declare that no one has yet adequately described Canada's present conditions or foretold its possibilities.

Mr. Murray is not only an editor, but he is a practical printer, having worked through the entire course from 'devil' to proprietor and editor-in-chief. He has visited Australia and other parts of the world. He was greatly interested in watching the linotype machines and presses in the 'Witness' office. He uses a couple of linotypes in his own business somewhat similar to those in use in the 'Witness.'

He considers Montreal printing offices are up to date in the matter of machinery, but the thing that surprised him most was the size of the papers sold here for one cent.

WHAT HE LOOKED LIKE. Professor Frederick Starr, the anthropologist of the University of Chicago, once delivered a lecture on the African pigmies, a subject on which he is an authority, with a pigmy anecdote.

'A certain Edgismann,' said Professor Starr, 'brought a pigmy to England with him, and proceeded to educate the little fellow in the language and the customs of Great Britain. The pigmy got on very well. He showed a kindly disposition and many original views. One day, as his tutor was finishing an elaborate toilet, the pigmy said:—

'Ah, ferd, you look as fine as a peacock.'

'Now the pigmy had never been taught the meaning of the word "peacock," and his tutor, surprised and pleased, said:—

'What do you know about peacocks, Mbomba?'

'I saw one pulling Harrod's great cart this morning,' Mbomba replied.

'That was no peacock. That was a mule, you fool,' the tutor cried, angrily.

'No can help,' said Mbomba. 'That is what you look like.'

The eastern section of that enterprise may be a political undertaking, but the object of the Grand Trunk Pacific is business, and it is not going to be put at a disadvantage in its connections with the principal St. Lawrence port by spiteful or ignorant votes in parliamentary committees.

Very little has resulted from the prolonged enquiry into the immigration scheme of Mr. Preston. On the one hand, little or nothing has been proved against Mr. Preston or against the department. On the other hand, little or nothing has been brought out to remove public suspicion from the challenged proceeding, or to renew confidence in the purity of the system.

SULLY KIDNAPPING CASE.

Mrs. Fenwick to be Arrested on Papers From the British Government

Through the efforts of Sir Mortimer Durand, British ambassador at Washington, and Captain W. W. Wyndham, British consul here, papers have been obtained from the British Government calling for the arrest of Mrs. Fenwick on the charge of having kidnapped Hetta Sully from Malden on Feb. 14, and Isabel Sully from Montreal, Que., last year.

Mrs. Fenwick.

When it was discovered that Mrs. Fenwick was keeping a lodging house in Denver, Governor Guild issued requisition papers, and an inspector and Mr. John H. Sully, a travelling salesman and father of the children, went to Denver to bring them back.

A NOBLE STOCK

PRIDE, DIGNITY AND BEAUTY OF THE MODERN SPANIARDS.

(Nineteenth Century.)

You may see to-day in any church portal in Spain the sombre dignity of expression immortalized in the portraits of Velasquez; the sinister cast of countenance of Philip the Second; the nose and proud bearing of a Roman centurion. In the Basque provinces the dignity and pride of the peasantry are reflected in the graceful carriage and symmetry of movement for which the men of that coast and the girls carrying pitchers on their heads are justly celebrated. There is no trace of awkwardness in a Spanish peasant, on whose features is stamped the pride of Rome, who will talk to you with the ease and volubility of a Spanish courtier. It is a noble stock.

Though to-day the glory of Spain has departed, and the modern Spaniard favors a Western 'bowler,' and the women wear Parisian hats, the national type of Spain persists with all its dignity and characteristics. Living types of Murillo's street urchins may be seen in any Spanish village. A group huddled together in some shady retreat; brown, curly-headed, merry little rascals, munching off a watermelon picked up in the market, happy as princes in their tattered rags and with their meagre morsel. Or you may see the sunny side of Spain as Goya painted it. A dance in the open square, a bridal feast, a bull-fighters' carousal, a brawl, an elopement; the apparel is less gaudy to-day, but the sun and the types and the spirit are the same.

That brassy picador, with his wide-brimmed sombrero, his swarthy countenance, aquiline nose and raven locks, looks for all the world like a Roman gladiator. The lad at his side, with his finely chiselled features, might have waited on Poppaea. And that young girl in her white lace mantilla and the red roses in her warm black hair—such a one Goya would have delighted to portray as she stands there with her delicate head defiantly thrown back, her lustrous eyes aglow with mischief, that graceful line of figure and those pursed and pouting lips.

Eyeglasses slightly tinged with an orange-yellow, are said by a French expert, Dr. Motais, to be peculiarly agreeable and soothing to feeble or over-sensitive eyes. Patients who cannot use blue or smoked glasses, see well with these.

COUNSEL'S ELOQUENT DEFENCE.

Pleads for Two Hours and Forty Minutes in Hackett's Favor

IT IS EXPECTED THE VERDICT WILL BE GIVEN TO-NIGHT.

A crowded court awaited with anxious interest the result of the Hackett trial in the Court of King's Bench on Saturday, but the end was not reached, the case being adjourned at five o'clock, after the address of one of the counsel for the accused had been heard. The evidence for the defence was concluded by eleven o'clock in the morning. An adjournment was then granted for three hours for the convenience of Mr. Rondeau, who was to lead the pleadings for the defence. Mr. Rondeau entered upon his task at two o'clock, and for two hours and forty minutes he pleaded earnestly and eloquently for Hackett's acquittal. Speaking in French, he first thanked Sir Alexander Lacoste for his impartiality; he also thanked the jury for their patient attention in a very long case, and acknowledged the fairness of the two prosecuting counsel for the Crown. He then related the sad story of little May Ahern's death, feelingly expressed his sympathy with the parents in a terrible bereavement, and said he felt as great indignation as any man for the crime and as keen a desire for the just punishment of the criminal. But who was the guilty man? The jury, unlike many people who had read the reports of the crime in the newspapers, would not, he was confident, pre-judge the case. They would not condemn the first man against whom there was some suspicion, but would be guided in arriving at a verdict by conscience and the right.

ANALYSIS OF THE EVIDENCE.

Entering upon an analysis of the evidence, the learned counsel said it was all characterized by a great deal of uncertainty. It struck him as being unlikely that such a small child, who was admittedly of a timid and shy disposition, would accompany a man whom she did not know such a long distance from her home. That she did not know Hackett was proved by her father.

The Crown had put in a pair of woolen gloves that had been found near the victim. But no one had seen Hackett wearing these, or, indeed, any gloves; and if he had carried them in his pocket it was extremely unlikely that he would have taken them out of his pocket and thrown them on the ground at Cote St. Paul. The gloves proved absolutely nothing.

John Dowling saw the man quite closely, but could not identify him as that man. The workman engaged on the Atwater avenue bridge, who said it was Hackett whom he saw with the little girl, was working in such a position that he could not make reliable observation, and therefore his evidence could not be accepted as convincing.

The boy McCone said he saw Hackett a little further along the canal bank, near the Grand Trunk bridge. He said he remarked the man well, and that he could not be mistaken. But the jury would observe the conflict between this evidence and that of all the other witnesses. While they said the man they saw with the little girl wore a short coat, this lad swore the coat came down to the man's knees. If the boy could be mistaken on that point, he could also be mistaken on the point of identification. Mrs. Taylor saw the man, but she could not swear it was Hackett. The eight-year-old boy Neilsen, who recognized the accused, admitted that the man he saw was looking into the water. With the man's head so bent, how could the witness identify him? There was contradiction from beginning to end in that boy's evidence, and it was of no importance.

The engineer at the waterworks was a more reliable witness, and one who had a much clearer view of the man than either the elder or the younger Neilsen had; but he could not identify Hackett.

Mr. Neilsen professed that Hackett was like the man, and that his boy pointed to him as being the man who had previously passed with the little girl. But counsel reminded the jury that Mr. Neilsen's nearest view was from a distance of two hundred and fifty feet, and that the witness had admitted he did not see the man's face.

THE TEAR IN THE COAT. The Younger Neilsen said the man

Superstitions on Skin Diseases.

Of all superstitions probably the most foolish is the idea that when a rash or sore on the skin is healed and cured by means of external applications it will 'strike in' and do further harm.

No reputable physician will give any countenance to such a notion. Skin diseases of every form, and especially eczema, salt rheum, psoriasis, scald head, and all diseases which cause great suffering from itching are promptly relieved and certainly cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Whether for babies, children or adults, this great ointment can be used with perfect safety on the most delicate skin, and will leave the skin soft, smooth and natural.

The soothing, healing, antiseptic influence of Dr. Chase's Ointment places it without a rival as a cure for skin irritations and eruptions; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

who passed along the canal bank caught the back of his coat on the barbed wire when getting under a fence. Hackett's coat was produced as evidence because there was a tear in the back of it. But there were other tears there. Let the jury examine the coat closely, and the learned counsel submitted that they would see that the tear in question could not have been caused in the manner suggested. He said the thread taken upward direction—the threads of the cloth showed that—whereas, if the accident had occurred in the manner as described by the boy, the tear must inevitably have taken a downward course.

Christian Marks had told the court and jury that he met Hackett on the Grand Trunk Railway track at half-past six o'clock. They had the evidence of the waterworks engineer that he saw the man and child near the aqueduct at two minutes past six o'clock. He was as confident about the time as was Marks. Now, how could Hackett have gone with the girl into the woods; have committed the crime that was committed, carried the clothes to the church, and returned to the railway track in that short space of time. More contradiction!

The learned counsel was very severe in his reference to Marks and the special constable, Carter. He reminded the jury that a reward of $225 had been offered for the capture of the murderer, and they had heard the evidence of the boy Murphy, who said the wife of Carter bought a newspaper from him in order to read about the murder and the reward which was offered for the murderer's arrest.

As for Nygaard, the companion of Marks, this witness admitted that the man's head was bent as they met on the track. Then how could Nygaard recognize him? Some importance had been attached to Hackett's belt. But nearly every laboring man wore a belt similar to his.

WHAT THE DEFENCE HAS SUBMITTED.

Against all this evidence, they had the testimony of Mrs. Mooney, a disinterested witness, who was no relation to Hackett, and she said positively that Hackett entered his house at a quarter past five o'clock in the afternoon of April 3. If that was true, then it was absolutely impossible that Hackett could have committed this crime. Mrs. Mooney was corroborated by her daughter, by Mrs. Hackett, by Mrs. Martin, and by Mr. David Martin. They proved that Hackett was sleeping peacefully and innocently in his bed at the hour that the little victim was seen at Cote St. Paul with her assassin.

Further than this, they had the evidence of Mr. Brissette, who saw the man walk up to the church and throw the girl's clothes through the window into the basement. What did he say? He said that the man was stouter than Hackett, and that he had a longer neck. He declared that he did not believe Hackett was the man. The jury would have remarked the attitude of this gentleman while in the witness box and that of the witness Mark.

Miss Leduc and Miss Juteau, who also saw the man go to and from the church, swore that Hackett was not that man.

Reference to the evidence of Miss Leduc led Mr. Rondeau to comment on the zeal shown in the case by the police, who, he said, had been determined at all costs to find a victim. But had they not been somewhat over-zealous? Miss Leduc said on Friday afternoon that Chief Doré had told her to identify Hackett as the man she saw at Cote St. Paul. Chief Doré had explained that what he said to her was, 'You will say that it is the man,' meaning that when she was confronted with Hackett she would have no difficulty in recognizing him. Mr. Rondeau was willing to give the police officer the benefit of the doubt, but he maintained that the remark ought not to have been made. The witnesses should not be interfered with in any way.

UNUSUAL ZEAL OF THE POLICE.

They had another example of the over-zealousness of the police in the handkerchief incident. This handkerchief was found near the scene of the crime. It was taken to Hackett's house, dropped surreptitiously behind a boudoir, and then produced in order to trap some one into claiming that it belonged to a person in the house. And Mrs. Hackett's sister said that when the handkerchief was shown to her by the detective it was so folded that the red spotted border could not be seen, and that it looked like an ordinary white handkerchief.

A key was also found near the child's body.

But this was not produced, continued Mr. Rondeau. Why not? 'I asked Chief Doré, and he replied: "I was not asked to produce it." It was not brought by Chief Doré to be of any importance after he had carried it to Hackett's house and found that it would not fit any lock in the place. Would it have been of no importance if that key had happened to fit a lock in the house of James Hackett? Is that what the prosecution are doing—producing everything against the accused and carefully hiding everything that may tell in his favor? But the witnesses are bound to tell, not some of the truth, but the whole truth.'

Learned counsel quoted cases in which innocent men had been convicted on mistaken evidence, and asked the jury to give Hackett the benefit of the very grave doubt there was in this case. It was better, he argued, to allow ninety-nine guilty persons to escape than to convict one innocent man. Will you accept the evidence of the Crown or that of the defence?

It may be said, continued Mr. Rondeau, that the evidence of the defence is interested. But is not the Crown evidence interested in the light of the one hundred and twenty-five dollars that have been offered as a reward? I maintain that the evidence of the defence is not interested. How can Mrs. Mooney be interested? Mr. Brissette, who is my witness, but the witness of the Crown, cannot possibly be interested. How can interest be shown against Miss Leduc or Miss Juteau? They say Hackett is not the man who approached the church with the bundle of clothes and threw them into the basement. The witnesses for the defence disprove the evidence of the Crown. You will not—you cannot—condemn Hackett. But you will render him his liberty and return him to his wife and mother.

Mr. Rondeau pointed to the two weeping women who occupied chairs adjoining the counsel's table. They were not alone in their tears. Other women in court, moved by the lawyer's fervent eloquence, wept in unison, and several jurymen were not unmoved.

It was Mr. Rondeau's maiden speech as an advocate.

THE CLOSING EVIDENCE.

On Saturday morning Marie Louise Juteau, 17 years of age, residing at Cote St. Paul, said that some time ago she was called to the City Hall, and was there confronted with Bradley and Hackett. She had met a man near the church at Cote St. Paul about supper time on April 3 last. As the man passed he touched her with his clothes, but she did not remark him well.

Mr. Rondeau—Whom did you identify as that man when you were at the City Hall—Hackett or Bradley?

'Bradley is the man whom I identified,' replied the witness.

Mr. Rondeau—Is the prisoner at the bar the man whom you met at Cote St. Paul on April 3?

Witness—No, sir.

In cross-examination, the witness said she did not remark the man's features; indeed, she did not see his face. He did not walk with his head erect, and he had the appearance of being under the influence of liquor.

Mr. Lafontaine—Why did you point out Bradley at the City Hall?

Witness—Because he resembled the man I saw at Cote St. Paul. He had a shorter neck than Hackett.

Witness further said she noticed that the man wore a dark-colored suit and a dark soft felt hat. She did not remark the clothes sufficiently well to be able to say whether the clothes produced (those of Hackett) were similar to those worn by the man at Cote St. Paul. She could not swear that the man she saw was either Bradley or Hackett.

David Martin, apprentice machinist, 150 Shearer street, said he remembered well April 3 last, because just prior to that date he had been injured, and was in the habit of going to Hackett's house. Between seven o'clock and half-past seven on the evening of that date he called at the house, and, on asking after Hackett, Mrs. Mooney replied that he was in bed. Witness had often been to the house and found Hackett in bed.

Alvarey Doré, chief of police of Cote St. Paul, was called to give evidence in the rebuttal of part of the evidence of the girl, Marie Anne Leduc, who stated that the chief told her on Friday to say she recognized Hackett as the man whom she saw at Cote St. Paul on April 3. What he said was: 'You will say that he is the man.' Miss Leduc, he said, misunderstood the sense of his remark.

MANY VESSELS ARRIVE.

Arrivals in port on Saturday and yesterday included the steamships Victorian, Canada, Manxman, Rathlin Head, and the Carthaginian. The Carthaginian will shortly be placed on the London-Havre-Montreal route, to replace the Sarmatian, it having been found that the large increase in the London-Havre travel requires another boat with more accommodation for passengers than that of the Sarmatian. The Sarmatian will return to Glasgow after this voyage and will be held as a reserve steamer. A large number of the passengers are from Glasgow, and intend setting in the West.

LARGE STEAMER LAUNCHED.

Chicago, June 17.—The steamer Henry H. Rogers was launched at South Chicago yesterday. Miss Marion H. Rogers, niece of the Standard Oil vice-president, performed the christening ceremony. The Rogers is 600 feet long and is the largest on the lakes, with a carrying capacity of nearly 15,000 tons.

FAST TRIP OF EMPRESS.

The Empress of Britain of the C.P.R. Atlantic Steamship Line reached Quebec from Liverpool at 12.50 p.m. on Saturday. She left Mobile at 10 o'clock last Sunday morning, and arrived at Rimouski at 2.47 a.m. on Saturday morning, thus making the trip between these points in five days 16 hours and 47 minutes. Adding to this the difference in time, amounting to four and a half hours, she, therefore, completed the voyage in 5 days 21 hours and 17 minutes. Her daily runs were:—June 9, from 9 p.m. to noon June 10, 243 knots; June 11, 428; June 12, 443; June 13, 421; June 14, 429; June 15, 403; June 16, 440. Total, 2,807. The trip lasted 6 days 20 hours 50 minutes from Liverpool to Quebec.

The only untoward incident of the voyage was the suicide of a stoker, who jumped overboard in mid-ocean. The vessel was stopped immediately, and two hours were spent in cruising around, looking for the unfortunate man.

The baggage of the saloon passengers numbering some 1,500 pieces, was transferred to the waiting cars from the vessel, at a speed of fifteen a minute. The customs examination, the usual medical inspection, and checking of baggage had been done between Rimouski and Quebec, so that no time was wasted once the vessel came alongside.

The special train from Quebec with the first class passengers of the Empress of Britain, reached the Windsor station at seven o'clock on Saturday evening, and for the first time in the history of trans-Atlantic travel, passengers were enabled to have breakfast in London one Saturday, and dinner in Montreal on the following Saturday.

NOTES.

The Manchester Importer sailed from Manchester for Montreal on Saturday. The Sicilian, of the Alla nine, from Glasgow, sailed for Montreal on Saturday, with 246 cabins, and 148 third class passengers.

A WORD FOR THE FARM.

There does not seem to be quite as great a craze among the young men of our farming community to leave the farm and go into the towns and cities as there was a few years ago, but there is still too much of it. The freedom and independence of a life on the farm is being appreciated more than it used to be, and it is too often a great mistake when a young man leaves the farm for the city, expecting that he can get rich quickly and without hard work. Our cities are full of people who live from 'hand to mouth,' and whose total wealth is represented by the clothing they have on. Years go by and these persons never have a home. They lose that independence that the proud owner of a farm has with the labor-saving machinery now in use, the rural telephone system, the fine, comfortable homes, etc. The boy who gives up a good farm for life in a city makes the mistake of his life in nine cases out of ten. Stick to the farm, boys, if you have a good one.—Aylmer (Ont.) 'Express.'

LOCAL STOCKS DROPPED FRACTIONS BUT PRACTICALLY NO LIQUIDATION IN ANY OF THE ISSUES

Exchange value of £1 sterling to-day is 84.85.6 to 84.83.9.

Prices at the opening of Wall Street this morning pursued a downward course in the first dealings and stocks were freely offered in all quarters. A sprinkling of gains on first prices was poorly held.

There was nothing exciting on the local exchange this morning, and trading was quiet, probably in sympathy with the weakness in New York.

Stocks of grain in store at Fort William and Port Arthur are reported at 2,837,000 bushels, a decrease of only 21,000 in the week.

The Imperial Loan and Investment Company has declared a half-yearly dividend of 2 1/2 percent, payable July 3.

A Winnipeg despatch says that seven property-owners of Mayfair avenue have entered action for $5,000 damages each from the Winnipeg Street Railway on account of the smoke nuisance and noise in the operation of the company's power plant.

It is thought that the New York Bank statement was a confirmation of Mr. Vandenberg's theory as to the future of money rates, not too high for legitimate business, but much too high for prudent speculation in stocks.

NEW YORK BANK STATEMENT

New York, June 16.—Changes for the week shown by to-day's returns of the New York Associated Banks were as follows:—

NEWS OF THE CROPS

Winnipeg, June 18.—The provincial crop report, issued on Saturday, shows the wheat acreage exceeds last year's record by one-half million, the year's total being over three million acres.

EUROPEAN CROPS PROGRESSING SLOWLY

A Month of Seasonable Weather Required to Raise Present Average of Growth

Washington, June 18.—The European crop situation is told in the following June summary of conditions abroad issued by the Department of Agriculture:—

A BEAR ON DOMINION STEEL

Mr. Edward Crowley, a Toronto broker, has issued the following market letter on the Dominion Iron and Steel stocks:—

DAIRY PRODUCE

Prices on the country cheese boards, which showed an advance of 1-8c over last week, are a fair criterion of the general situation.

PROVISION MARKETS

The delivery of live hogs on the local market to-day was ample to meet all requirements, and there was a somewhat easier feeling in evident.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

The egg market appears to be in a rather unsettled condition, and there is some difference of opinion as to the value of the offerings does not help to settle.

2,233 boxes of butter sold at 22 1/2c to 22 3/4c. Cheese all sold at 11-10c.

MONTREAL STOCKS IN STORE

Table listing Montreal stock prices: Wheat, Corn, Oats, Barley, Rye, Buckwheat, Flour, Meal.

LIVE STOCK MARKET, June 18

About 700 head of butchers' cattle, 45 milch cows, 250 calves, 200 sheep and lambs, 150 fat hogs and 45 stork hogs and young pigs were offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKETS

Toronto, June 15.—Trade at the City Cattle Market to-day was necessarily active, in view of the heavy run of stock.

A MANITOBA BULLETIN

Winnipeg, Man., June 17.—Rosthern, Sask.—Mr. Abram Funk, a well known farmer here, has wheat that is 24 inches high.

ONTARIO MARKETS

Ingersoll, Ont., June 15.—White wheat, 73c to 75c per bushel; red wheat, 73c to 75c per bushel; peas, 60c to 65c per bushel.

LONDON WOOL ARRIVALS

London, June 16.—The arrivals of wool for the fourth series of auction sales amount to 126,094 bales, including 62,000 forwarded direct to spinners.

THE FATAL SPANISH OPAL

In reading over the list of the young King of Spain's handsome gifts of jewels to his bride, Princess Ena of Battenberg, said to be valued at $1,000,000 in value, it will be noticed that among all the precious stones—diamonds, pearls, brilliants, sapphires, etc.—no mention is made of an opal.

GRAIN MARKETS

The delivery of live hogs on the local market to-day was ample to meet all requirements, and there was a somewhat easier feeling in evident.

MONTREAL WHOLESALE PRICES

FLOUR—Manitoba spring wheat patents, $4.25 to $4.40, and straight rollers, $3.90 to $4.10 in wood; in bags, $1.85 to $1.95; extra, in bags, $1.35 to $1.50.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

ANY one numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the North-West Provinces, excepting 3 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situated.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES: A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must file with the notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $5 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1,500 x 1,500 ft. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2 1/2 percent on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee, $5, renewable yearly. A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2 1/2 percent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

(By the Baroness Tauphoeus.)

SUMMARY OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS

Frederick Nixon, the youngest son of a wealthy London merchant, having married Lady Darwin, her son, Harry, had given into the control of her hands the young daughter, Leonora, at the death of her parents.

CHAPTER VII—Continued.

This was said almost triumphantly, and in the manner of a person who plays down a well-reserved trump card. Leonora, however, had known too many vicissitudes and misadventures, and was still too little English in her ideas, to attach the expected importance to such titles.

"So you have been there too?" cried Mrs. Ducker, with a look of surprise, and then pruned, and provoked perhaps, by Leonora's silent nod, and mouth full of biscuit, she added, "It will be a change for you, going to school this Michaelmas Term."

"To school?" repeated Leonora, amazed, and instantly setting up as erect as her companion could have desired.

"Yes; to the same where Miss Georgina has been so well educated. Oh, you may think yourself well off, for there's a carriage for the young ladies to go a hairing in and to the riding-school, and a French fad de sham, and they learn to make curtsies, and receive visitors, and are only a limited number, and the daughters of people of fortune and family."

"Georgina is my uncle Gilbert's daughter?" said Leonora, half interrogatively.

"Who else could I mean?" asked Mrs. Ducker, "but she's Miss Nixon, by right, since our little girl died, and most uncommon accomplished she is, they say—plays long variations on the piano, and sings opera songs, and draws leads in chalk; but of course you can do all this, too!"

"No," answered Leonora, "I am not at all accomplished; and, to say the truth, she had no particular wish to become so at that moment, if, for the purpose, she must again go to school. Had Mrs. Ducker expressed herself properly, and said that, 'A lady would receive her into her circle,' or that, 'A vacancy having occurred in the select ladies' establishment, etc.,' the plan might have appeared less revolting; but to be sent to school when she considered her education finished, was a stroke of fate for which she was not prepared; and though her companion began, in consequence of her confession, loudly to applaud Mr. Nixon's intention, she paid no sort of attention, merely ejaculating during the first pause, as if in continuation of her thoughts, 'Why could he not let me live with him?'"

"And what," demanded Mrs. Ducker, "what could a gentleman, at this advanced time of life, do with a young person such as you are?"

Do with a young person, such as I am? repeated Leonora thoughtfully, just what Lady Medway said—no one knows what to do with me. "Of course not," said Mrs. Ducker, her face flushing vividly; "Why, you couldn't make yourself useful—and fill my place, and undertake the housekeeping, could you?"

Leonora's natural powers of observation had been strengthened by practice. She instantly perceived that Mrs. Ducker dreaded finding in her a rival, and was ill-disposed towards her in consequence. She hastened, therefore, to remove all such suspicions from her mind, by some very truthful confessions of both uselessness and inexperience on her part, which were received with amazing satisfaction; a very perceptible softening of manner taking place after she had murmured, "Oh, I thought, perhaps, as you wasn't accomplished—"

"I ought to be useful," interposed Leonora, with a smile. "I have led too wandering a life, and my acquisitions are merely in foreign languages and literature, not, I much fear, in any way likely to recommend me to my uncle."

"Well, I don't think he has any particular objections to ferring education; but Mr. Gilbert, as, and couldn't at all be persuaded to let you be sent to him, which master would, of course, have preferred."

"So," said Leonora, "my uncle Gilbert refused to have me; everyone rejects or tries to get rid of me."

"Perhaps, however," said Mrs. Ducker, softening, as Leonora's insignificance became more and more apparent to her, "perhaps, after all, you may not be sent to school. Master didn't seem quite decided, and only desired me to send to Mr. Howard St. Vincent's establishment. If he doesn't find you troublesome, he'll not mind you at all after the first week or two."

This was poor consolation, and Leonora thought long before she again spoke; when she did so, it was with the wish to conciliate her companion, who, she began to suspect, was a person of importance in her uncle's house. "I dare say," she began, with some hesitation, "or rather I am sure, that having lived so many years with my uncle, you have great influence with him."

"No one has the least, excepting Arthur," interposed Mrs. Ducker. "I couldn't venture to offer an opinion even about a salad, or lobster-sauce! He orders everything from market himself, and excepting at the greengrocer's, and the fruiterer's, I never buy anything for the house."

This, and some other remarks about her uncle's habits, gave Leonora so much subject for thought, that they were driving through the streets of London long before she again began to look around her. The endless rows of shops, the crowds of busy pedestrians, the carriages, carts, and omnibuses, seemed to multiply as they advanced, and became at last so confusing, that she felt a sort of relief as they turned at length into a succession of quieter streets, and she was informed that they were drawing near home. She looked out eagerly, and saw soon afterwards a space of ground neatly enclosed by iron railings; within which were a few dark-green trees and shrubs, and a well-kept lawn, and a well-kept garden, and children were sauntering sorrowfully, like prisoners taking exercise. The high, surrounding houses appeared to Leonora perfectly alike; and so they were, in fact, the only difference being in the number of windows in front. They stopped, and while a loud knock announced their arrival, Leonora looked upwards, perfectly unconscious what sort of rooms were lighted by the rows of bright-paneled, carefully-blinded windows above her. Not so the English reader, for so great is the uniformity of British town architecture, that it will suffice to say, the house of Mr. Nixon was one of the largest-sized, three-windowed, long-balconied, description; and immediately the edifice stands erected with its discolored bricks, and paneled windows outside—its dining-room, drawing-rooms, bedrooms, and attics within.

Mrs. Ducker commenced gathering together the stray parcels, and then said, "Miss Nixon—please—will you step out."

Leonora did as she was desired—ascended the stone steps to the door, and entered the hall. It was large and lofty, and at the end of the first flight of stairs she perceived a stained glass window of a brilliant kaleidoscope pattern, calculated effectually to shut out the view of stables and the backs of other houses, and perfectly harmonizing with the yellow and red striped star carpet. A remarkably portly butler, with a white waistcoat and red face, was at first so occupied with Mrs. Ducker, and giving directions to a youthful footman about the proper places for Leonora's luggage, that she herself appeared to be completely forgotten after having received from him a stiff obsequious entrance; but when she opened a door near the foot of the staircase, and looked into a perfectly dark room, he advanced, saying, "That is the dining-room, Miss Nixon—will you not walk into Mr. Nixon's study, where there is a fire?"

He preceded her, while speaking, into a large, handsomely furnished front parlor, drew up the window-blinds, moved a chair towards the fireplace, and informing her that Mr. Nixon would be home in about an hour, left her to examine at her leisure the furniture of a room which was so different from what she had expected, that she found it necessary to call upon her imagination for a new portrait of her uncle. Hand-somely-bound books in glass cases completely covered the walls, a round table was heaped high with new works, pamphlets, magazines, reviews, and newspapers. There was a writing-table of large dimensions, and near one of the windows, globes and a telescope on pedestals. About a dozen luxuriously comfortable arm-chairs and a chaise longue were covered with green morocco leather to match the color of the curtains and carpet; the chimney-piece was loaded with handsome ornaments, and, in the midst of them, a clock of singularly beautiful workmanship. Leonora had ample time for observation, and used it while there was light sufficient to discern the objects around her. As the evening drew to a close, she walked towards one of the windows and looked at the square and the surrounding houses, and watched the various groups of people who resided in the neighborhood returning to their homes. Candles glimmered red and rattle in the opposite houses, lamp-lighters began to hurry to and fro, and when, at length, a broad gleam of light fell on the window where she stood, and the stone steps immediately before her, she saw a man slowly ascend the latter, while deliberately drawing from his pocket a key, which he applied to the half-door. A moment after she knew that only a few steps separated her from her much-dreaded uncle.

Children's Corner HOW JOHNNY STOPPED CRYING. Johnny and Nellie were playing in the sitting room, when Johnny fell down and bumped his nose. It did not hurt him much, but he was fond of crying. The tears came into his eyes. "Don't cry, Johnny," said Nellie. "How can I help it?" replied Johnny, "when I have fallen down and bumped my nose?" And he began to cry with all his might. "Then," cried Nellie, "there is nothing for me to do but to beat the arm-chair till Johnny stops crying." So she seized a stick, and began to beat the chair as hard as she could. "Fred came running in. 'O Nellie!' said he, 'why are you beating the arm-chair?'" "How can I help it," replied Nellie, "when Johnny has fallen down and bumped his nose, and is crying with all his might? I must beat the chair till Johnny stops crying."

Divine Breathings. MONDAY, JUNE 18. WHAT MEN LOVE. All men love something. Perhaps self-love is the most common. 1. Some love their goodness and their religiousness. (Luke xviii, 11, 12). 2. Others love to appear good before men, for pretence make long prayers, but inwardly they are hypocrites. (Matt. xxiii, 13). Read what Jesus said about scribes and Pharisees. (Luke xi, 42-52). 3. Some love the praise of men. (Luke xii, 43). 4. Some love the world. (II. Tim. ii, 8). If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. (I. John ii, 15). 5. Some are ready to do wrong for the sake of reward. (I. Pet. ii, 15). 6. Some love money, which love is a root of all kinds of evil. (I. Tim. vi, 10). He who loves silver shall not be satisfied. (Eccles. v, 10). How many have found this to their sorrow. 7. Some hate good and love evil. (Micah iii, 2). The cure-all for the love of wrong things is the love of God filling the heart, and the steady pursuit of godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. Fight the good fight of faith, and love whatever is true, honorable, just, pure and lovely. (Phil. iv, 8). The righteous God loveth righteousness in the whole life. Be imitators of God as beloved children. Refrain thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from guile, turn from evil, and do good and follow peace, for the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, His ears are open to their cry, but His face is against them that do evil. (I. Pet. iii, 10-13). No man can do wrong without doing harm to himself. Do good, love mercy, and walk with God.

DAILY TEXT. June 18. Who is like unto thee, O Lord?—Ex. xv. 11. Talk faith. The world is better off without your uttered ignorance and morbid doubt. If you have faith in God, in man, or in self, say so; if not, push back upon the shelf Of silence all your thoughts, till faith shall come; No one will grieve because your lips are dumb.

THAT STAB-LIKE PAIN IN THE SMALL OF THE BACK COMES FROM THE KIDNEYS AND CAN BE CURED BY DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

It is not the back that is aching, but the kidneys which are situated beneath the small of the back. Therefore, dull pain in the back, or sharp, quick twinges, are warnings of sick kidneys—warnings of kidney trouble. Plasters and liniments will not cure a bad back, for they cannot reach the kidneys which cause it. Doan's Kidney Pills reach the kidneys. That is what they are for and that only. So, if you would be free from backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, frequent or suppressed urine, painful sensation when urinating, specks floating before the eyes, frequent thirst, brick-dust deposit in the urine, or anything wrong with the urinary organs or bladder, you must keep your kidneys well. Help them to work freely, and help them to flush off all the body's waste and impurities. Doan's Kidney Pills are made from the purest roots and herbs, and have a remarkable healing and toning effect on the kidneys. Mrs. Barling, 26 Locomotive Street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled considerably with my kidneys, using many remedies, but finding no relief. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to act directly on the kidneys, and making them strong again." Price 50 cents per box, three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

RUSSIAN SITUATION

Hourly Grows More Disquieting ---Governor of Grodno Pre-vents a Disaster

JEWS AT BIALYSTOK TAKE RE-VENGE FOR RECENT MAS-SACRE.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—The pitiable state of Bialystok apparently has burned itself out. No further bloodshed was reported to-day and no more is expected, even by the radicals, who are satisfied that the authorities are now in control and will do everything possible to prevent a renewal of the excesses. This confidence is based on the action of the governor of Grodno, who is hated and distrusted by the bureaucrats, and who, after investigating the situation at Bialystok, took the unprecedented step, in order to prevent a spread of the massacre, of telegraphing the authorities of all towns within the Jewish pale, denying the alleged official reports that the disorders were due to the wanton throwing of bombs at a Christian procession by Jewish revolutionists. This measure, aided by the Catholic clergy, who today throughout Russian Poland addressed their congregations, imploring them not to believe reports spread broadcast for the purpose of stirring up bloody excesses, was efficacious in calming the agitated spirits among the Christian population. The Catholics of Warsaw cancelled a great religious procession which was to have been held to-day, in order to avoid the chance of a conflict.

The general situation, however, is hourly growing more disquieting and the country seems to be on the verge of another gigantic upheaval. In St. Petersburg and Moscow the populace is greatly excited and nothing is talked of except a general political strike, which would bring the government to its knees. The proletarian leaders, who have been preparing for months for a blow, believe the moment has come to strike; that the agrarian troubles now are sufficiently extended, and that the disorders in the army are ripe for a general uprising. The government has openly refused to accede to the demands of parliament, and a rupture is imminent there. The ultimate plans of the leaders depend upon the success achieved, but if the government is brought down, it is not doubted they are determined that they and not parliament shall take over the reins of government and forever enjoy the fruits of victory.

Incipient strikes in St. Petersburg and Moscow, with which the movement was started, while based ostensibly on economic grounds, really are purely political. The committee of the unemployed is only a revolutionary organization like last fall's committee of workmen in dis-sense.

The bakers of St. Petersburg and adjoining towns struck to-day, and only the black bread eaten by the poor was sold. The streets were filled with crowds of workmen.

A correspondent of the Associated Press was stopped to-day in one of the suburban towns by a workman, who, without the slightest embarrassment, demanded money. The man announced that those who had money might as well divide it as the workmen soon would be able to take what they wanted.

A monster meeting of 15,000 Social Democrats and workmen held this afternoon at Terokki, Finland, was addressed by several members of the 'Group of Toil,' of Parliament, and every revolutionary utterance was frantically applauded.

The government appears to be waiting for the blow to fall before raising its hand, and it is reported that the design of several ministers to raise the question of a more active policy during the cabinet meeting yesterday was apparently fruitless. Heavy patrols have been placed in the streets, and the railway stations are occupied by troops, but no action has been taken to stop the agitation. The Emperor is reported to be spending most of his time playing tennis at Peterhof.

It is significant as indicating the progress of the revolutionary sentiment that a general strike is expected to be inaugurated on the Nicholas Railway between St. Petersburg and Moscow, which was the only line out of Moscow that was not affected during the uprising in December. The workmen in the shops of the Syzeran and Viazma road already have struck, but apparently the demonstration is premature.

The 'Rech' to-day again appeals to the Emperor to try to save the situation by dismissing Premier Gorevskiy and placing members of parliament who enjoy a measure of public confidence in control of the government.

Admiral Belief, commandant of the fortress at Cronstadt, has received a grim warning in the shape of a coffin, which was delivered at his house.

THE CZAR TO GO ON A CRUISE.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—The Associated Press is reliably informed that the Emperor Nicholas has definitely decided to declare a recess of parliament on June 28, and that His Majesty and the royal family will immediately thereafter leave on a cruise of the Finnish fjords on board the imperial yacht 'Standard,' which is being fitted out for that purpose. Such a decision seems to tempt fate, for if it is executed it will be most certain to be the signal for an immediate and bloody struggle. The group of toil, as an outcome of its open declaration against a recess, passed a resolution declaring that neither now nor in the new future can parliament be recessed, that at no time will the members leave their posts, and that so long as the arbitrariness and outrages of the government continue, and the terrors of impending pogroms and the sufferings of the peasantry and workmen reign, parliament must continue to work until it has achieved 'all of freedom' or exhausted all means to this end.

ORGANIZED MASSACRE.

London, June 17.—The 'Daily Telegraph' this morning prints a telegram received in London from Helsingfors. It is dated Sunday afternoon, and is signed by M. Vinaver and four other Jewish members of the Russian Parliament, MM. Brandt, Schosberg, Katznelson and Lewin. The telegram says: 'The outbreak at Bialystok clearly was the beginning of an organized massacre similar to the bloody October days. Only energetic intervention can prevent a terrible catastrophe. Peril is imminent. Appeal to all influences to help us.'

JEWS TAKE REVENGE.

Bialystok, via Warsaw, June 16.—In order to revenge the victims of the massacre, Jewish revolutionists hidden on the roofs of houses, and behind fences and the draperies of windows, have fired the whole day long with revolvers and rifles at the government buildings, the workmen and peasants passing in the streets. One band ambushed in a factory fired on approaching trains. The exact number of victims is not known, but it is estimated that one hundred persons have been killed. Two hundred persons are lying wounded in two hospitals of the city. Martial law has been proclaimed, and the troops are arriving constantly.

TERRORISTS AT WORK.

Warsaw, June 17.—A band of terrorists this morning held up a mail wagon between Kronenewitz and Klodawa. The terrorists killed the driver and his horses and two soldiers, who were escorting the van, plundered the mails, and decamped.

At 9 o'clock this evening five terrorists shot and killed a police officer and his wife while they were walking in the street. The assassins escaped.

The Jews of Warsaw are uneasy, but at present there is no indication of an anti-Jewish outbreak.

DAMAGE TO CROPS.

Melitopol, Russia, June 16.—A hail-storm of unprecedented severity to-day destroyed 200,000 acres of crops and killed cattle in the fields. Some of the stones weighed three pounds.

THE NAVAL MANOEUVRES

MIMIC WARFARE IN THE STRAITS OF DOVER.

Dover, England, June 16.—A great naval sham battle began in the Straits of Dover to-day between the 'Blue' fleet (the enemy) and the 'Red' (British) fleet. It is reported that some of the enemy's torpedo boats were captured. The enemy attacked Plymouth this morning, but the early cessation of firing indicated that the attack was repulsed.

SUNK BY A MINE

FIFTY OF THE CREW OF JAPANESE TRANSPORT MISSING.

Tokio, June 16.—The Japanese transport 'Toyotomi' struck a mine on Thursday evening when 24 miles off Jushin, Corea, and sank immediately. Fifty of her crew are missing.

THE LATE MR. SEDDON

LANDING OF THE BODY AT WELLINGTON WITNESSED BY THOUSANDS OF NEW ZEALANDERS.

Wellington, June 17.—The steamer 'Owensy Grange,' bearing the body of Premier Seddon, who died on board the vessel shortly after it left Sydney, on June 10, for New Zealand, arrived here at 11 o'clock on Saturday night. Despite the lateness of the hour thousands of persons were at the wharf and witnessed the landing of the casket. To-day the body is lying in state in the Parliament Buildings. The funeral will take place here next Thursday.

BISHOP'S CONVOCATION.

Sherbrooke, June 14.—The necessary arrangements with reference to the annual convocation at Bishop's College, Lennoxville, has been completed. Owing to the death of Principal Waitt, the usual festivities and much of the usual ceremonial will be dispensed with. At convocation nothing will take place except business of a routine character, no honorary degrees will be conferred, and no addresses will be made. The annual university sermon, which was to have been preached by Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, has been cancelled. The school sports take place on Monday next, and the annual school service, inaugurated last year by the Rev. Mr. Bidwell, will take place on Wednesday, at which the Rev. Canon Scott, of Quebec, will be the preacher.

NORWAY'S RULER

Preparations at Trondhjem for the Coronation

Christiania, Norway, June 17.—Trondhjem, yesterday a city of fishermen, to-day is a capital. Many of those who will participate in the coronation of King Haakon have already swelled the population and others are crowding north by steamers and trains. The gaiety over the confirmation of the country's new independence will reach its full tide on Tuesday, when King Haakon, Queen Maud, and the baby Crown Prince, Olaf, reach Trondhjem. All over the country floats the flag of Norway—the white-bordered blue cross upon a field of red—testifying to the fealty of the people.

One hears tales that the Radical Republicans object to the new monarchy. They insist on calling Haakon 'Mr. King,' but undoubtedly the great majority genuinely welcome the new order of things with reawakened patriotism, which promises greater and finer accomplishments by the whole nation.

King Haakon, Queen Maud and the Crown Prince Olaf are continuing their journey northward along the coast. To-day was spent in the vicinity of Molde, where their Majesties were given a banquet to-night. To-day began with a demonstration with the fisher fleet at Aale sund. Ninety steamers, fifty motor boats and scores upon scores of small craft participated. The royal yacht 'Heimdal' at first steamed through the fleet and was wildly cheered, and then the fleet formed in two long columns and steamed up the fjord, the 'Heimdal' leading. The families of the fishermen filled the boats. The crowd aloft numbered eight thousand. At the conclusion of the parade all the vessels passed in review before the 'Heimdal.' King Haakon expressed his pleasure at the honor conferred upon him and at the picturesque of the marine parade.

The royal family will journey to Christiansand to-morrow. They will be the guests of the municipality at a state dinner. Trondhjem will be reached Tuesday evening.

The sea journey northward is proving most popular and comfortable. A great heat wave is sweeping over the southern end of the Scandinavian peninsula and the railway coaches resemble bake ovens. A majority of vessels of the visiting fleet will reach Trondhjem by Wednesday. Although many of the royal delegates and embassies will arrive there on Tuesday, some officials and statesmen already have departed for Trondhjem, and others will follow to-morrow. The announcement that Emperor William will visit King Haakon in July has been received with great satisfaction. It will be the first visit of a foreign ruler to the re-established kingdom, and, therefore, strongly appeals to the people.

ELLEN TERRY HONORED

JUBILEE CELEBRATION CULMINATES IN BANQUET AT THE HOTEL CECIL.

London, June 17.—The Terry jubilee celebrations culminated in a banquet given at the Hotel Cecil this evening, when Miss Terry received the homage of two hundred men prominent in art, literature, politics and the drama. Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill, who was in the chair, said he regretted that so much time was given to territorial expansion and the ugly circumstance of war, and so little to the question of a national theatre. A great national theatre, with branches in the provincial cities and sister societies in the colonies, would have a great effect upon the solidarity of the English-speaking people.

Mrs. Craigie, representing America, read a cable despatch from ex-Ambassador Choate, thanking Miss Terry for the great delight she had given Americans for many years by her charming sympathetic renderings of favorite characters.

Miss Terry, replying to toasts and congratulations, said: 'I think a little jubilee goes a long way. You have had Ellen Terry poked under your noses for months until—well, bear with me this evening, and I promise to go to America in January. Miss Terry added that lately it had seemed to her there were only two words in the world and these were 'thank you.' She had had a lovely time, and her heart was filled with gratitude.

It was announced that the public subscriptions for Miss Terry's benefit, including $1,610 raised in the United States and the receipts of the matinee at the Drury Lane Theatre last Tuesday, reached a total of $43,920.

SYNOD OF KOOTENAY

RESOLUTION BY BISHOP DART CALLS FOR RELIGIOUS TEACHING IN THE SCHOOLS.

Nelson, B.C., June 16.—At the Synod of the Anglican Diocese of Kootenay a resolution, passed on the initiative of Bishop Dart, called for the religious instruction of pupils in the public schools by qualified teachers. Bishop Dart declaring that he would rather have no teaching at all than the reading of the Bible by an unqualified teacher. One of the lay delegates, George Johnstone, of Nelson, said that he played the materialism of the country to the defective religious teaching, or lack of it, in the public schools.

TURKISH CONDITIONS

DR. CLARK DECLARES THEY ARE WORSE THAN EVER.

Boston, June 16.—Conditions in Turkey are described as worse than ever in a letter just received from the Christian Endeavor headquarters here from the Rev. Francis Clark, D.D., president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor.

Dr. Clark writes: 'Thirteen years ago I was in Turkey. Things were bad enough then, but they are worse now, more oppressive, reactionary and archaic. If I should tell all I have heard from reliable sources, it would make my readers' blood boil. Cruelties, tortures, secret assassinations of Armenian and other Christians are the horrible facts of the present year and month. Our own missions and schools are in a more perilous condition than ever, and since our American fleet was withdrawn from Smyrna, with only the verbal assurances of the Porte that our schools and churches would have as many privileges as those of other nations, these assurances have been utterly repudiated.'

TROUBLE IN A HOSPITAL

DOCTORS IN ST. JOHN INSTITUTION RESIGN AS PROTEST AGAINST DISMISSAL OF NURSES.

St. John, N.B., June 17.—An incident of the week which has just become public in connection with the St. John General Public Hospital is the dismissal of two nurses, followed by a protest in the form of the resignation of all three doctors of the hospital staff. All three are young men, McGill graduates. On Wednesday evening last, Dr. W. J. Scott, the hospital superintendent, and Dr. Shirley O. McMurry, one of the assistants, were guests at supper and spent the evening at the home of the parents of one of the nurses, who was off duty for the evening, while another nurse was also in the company. An accident delayed them and the nurses were a quarter hour late in reporting for duty at 10 p.m. The superintendent of nurses referred the matter to the hospital training commission, and both nurses were dismissed. Both doctors resigned their positions in protest, and Dr. W. S. Loggie, the third physician on the house staff, joined in the protest by resigning also. There is an hospital regulation which stipulates that no nurse in the institution should have any social intercourse with the physicians. But the doctors claim that this has not been enforced and was not looked upon as to be rigidly observed. The doctors resigned on Friday night, to take effect on Saturday morning, and the commission has temporarily placed Dr. W. L. Ellis in charge as resident physician, and Dr. Don Malcolm, a McGill graduate of this year, as assistant. Drs. McMurry and Loggie had resigned some time ago, to take effect at July 1, but their resignation of Friday last was entirely apart from this. There is nothing to reflect upon the professional or moral character of any concerned, the whole thing being a matter of discipline.

PREDICTION REALIZED

STEWART SENTENCED FOR SHOOTING REMEMBERS THE ADVICE OF HIS BENEFACTOR.

Owen Sound, Ont., June 17.—Albert Stewart, who was found guilty of shooting Mr. Jas. Morrison, with the result that the sight of the latter's eye was destroyed, was sentenced by Judge J. H. Hutton, senior judge of Grey county, to twenty-one years' imprisonment in Kingston penitentiary. The case has been the source of much comment during the past four months. It was largely through the instrumentality of late Detective Inspector Murray that the culprit was brought to justice.

Morrison, a Sidsenham township farmer, was driving home from market one night some months ago, when he was held up on a lonely road by Stewart, who attempted to rob him, but was beaten off by his victim, who finally reached his home nearly dead.

When the prisoner was taken back to his cell he broke down and wept like a child. He sent for his counsel, Mr. H. G. Tucker, and made a full confession of his guilt. He requested Mr. Tucker to inform Mr. James Morrison, the man who was shot, and the press that he had done the shooting.

He also requested that the message be conveyed to Chas. O'Hara, the man who had brought him up. O'Hara had frequently warned the young man that if he did not reform he would find himself in the penitentiary. Stewart requested his counsel to inform Mr. O'Hara that his prediction had been realized, but that on being released at the expiration of his long term he would lead a new life.

MR. ROBERT GLOCKING PRESIDENT.

Washington June 16.—The International Brotherhood of Bookbinders to-day re-elected Mr. Robert Glocking, Toronto, Ont., president. Mr. Glocking was elected a delegate to the A. F. of L. convention.

A HUNDRED KILLED OR INJURED.

Vladivostok, June 17.—A passenger train was derailed at Programitschna station, on the Chinese Eastern Railway, to-day, and 100 persons were killed or injured.

TROLLEY ACCIDENT

CAR JUMPED THE TRACK AND ONE MAN WAS CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Fairfield, Conn., June 17.—A trolley car, bound west, when about to enter Bridgeport, from Fairfield, this afternoon, jumped the tracks at a curve near Ashereek bridge, ran along the roadway about seventy-five feet, and overturned. Of the twelve passengers, four were pinned beneath the car. Charles Weidlich, of Bridgeport, was crushed to death. Five persons were seriously injured. The motorman, Albert Crossman, and the conductor, James T. McCoy, both of Bridgeport, were arrested, but later released on their own recognizance by the Fairfield authorities. They probably will be given a hearing to-morrow.

GALE OFF NEWFOUNDLAND.

St. John's, Nfld., June 16.—A furious hurricane has been raging along the Newfoundland coast the past 48 hours, causing serious damage to shipping. Two vessels with fourteen men on board, have been blown out to sea. Tugs have been sent in quest of them. Several vessels have been driven ashore. An enormous amount of fishing gear has been destroyed. It is feared the gale has wrought havoc among the trawling fleet of the Grand Banks. News from the fleet is apprehensively awaited, but will not be available until next week.

STORM IN NEW YORK STATE.

Syracuse, N.Y., June 16.—A terrific thunderstorm, which amounted almost to a cloudburst, passed over this section late this evening. West of the city there was heavy hail which was reported to have done considerable damage to crops. Local trolley traffic was demoralized for two hours because of dirt washed on to the tracks, and downtown cellars were flooded. Lightning struck in half a dozen places in the city, but little damage was done. Mr. D. Stevens, of Savannah, was killed by lightning this evening near Montezuma. With three others he took refuge in a barn during the storm and a bolt killed him, the others escaping injury.

FARMER SHOTS A CONTRACTOR.

Bracebridge, Ont., July 16.—John Kitley, of Foot's Bay, is in jail here charged with shooting with intent to bodily harm, Wm. Scott, a C. P. R. contractor, engaged in construction work near here. Kitley forbade Scott crossing a certain part of his farm, and when the work was continued according to plans, Kitley went to his home and returned with a rifle, with which he deliberately shot Scott. The bullet pierced Scott's side, and for some time he was in a precarious condition, but he is now considered out of danger. Kitley will appear before Judge Mahaffy for trial.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

At 10.30 on Saturday night, Albert Payfer, manager for the proprietors of the morgue, had a narrow escape from going under the wheels of a street car. He was driving a buggy which was struck by an east-bound car near Mont-calm street, where a temporary track is being laid from the car barns to the new power house. The buggy was smashed and Mr. Payfer escaped with a few bruises.

MR. LEISHMAN GOES TO TURKEY.

Washington, D.C., June 16.—Just before the adjournment of the Senate to-day the President signed the appointment of John G. A. Leishman to be ambassador of the United States to Turkey.

AN EX-OFFICIAL GOES TO PRISON.

Minneapolis, June 16.—Dr. Jacob F. Force, former president of the North-Western National Life Insurance Company, of this city, was to-day sentenced to three and a half years in state prison. The charge was grand larceny.

STATE OF OKLAHOMA.

Washington, June 16.—Another star was added to the Union to-day when President Roosevelt signed the bill admitting Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as one state. The measure also provides that Arizona and New Mexico may be admitted to statehood as the state of Arizona, provided the people of the territories vote in favor of the admission on the terms submitted by Congress.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

Minneapolis, L.I., June 16.—The jury in the case of Grover Cleveland Poole, on trial for the killing of James O'Hara in Port Washington last August, brought in a verdict this morning of murder in the second degree.

MOUNT ASO HAS NEW CRATER.

Tokio, June 16.—A fresh crater has been formed on Mount Aso.

MADAME CLEMENT'S SCHOOL.

The closing exercises of Madame Clement's School for girls at Berthier (en haut) were of a very interesting character. The results showed that good work had been done by the pupils during the scholastic year. The progress made in French was particularly gratifying. The musical programme reflected credit both upon the pupils and their teacher, Miss Clement. The prize for French was taken by Miss Marion Cartwright, of Ottawa, and the prize for order was awarded to Miss Jessie Lee, also of Ottawa. The Shakespeare Club closed its work with a series of tableaux representing the heroines of the plays read during the session. During the spring term the teachers enjoyed a lecture given by Dr. Gregor, of McGill University, on 'La litterature Franco-Canadienne,' and a second lecture by Mr. A. B. Clement, B.A., on education.

SHANGHAIING CASE

RATHER THAN TAKE VOYAGE TO CHINA TWO BROTHERS JUMP OVERBOARD.

New York, June 16.—Rather than take a voyage to China as seamen in a Standard Oil vessel, two brothers, John and Louis Lonsberg, of Brooklyn, jumped into the Lower Bay, nearly two miles off shore, from the barque 'Arrow' to-day, and attempted to swim to Staten Island. John was drowned. Louis was picked up unconscious and revived after hard work. The young man who was saved told a strange story that approached a tale of crimping. He accused his own father of forcibly putting him, and his brother aboard the 'Arrow' for a China trip. Young Lonsberg says that his father met the captain of the 'Arrow,' who needed several sailors, and completed a deal with him whereby the two youths were to work their way to China and back. They were taken aboard the 'Arrow' by a subtlety, according to the boy's story, and were informed that their father had agreed them for the long voyage. The young men protested, but the captain refused to release them, and they decided to desert the ship and swim to Staten Island. They made a miscalculation as to the tide, however, and when they jumped over side by side the water was rising through the Narrows at terrific speed. The boys soon found that they could make no headway toward shore and called for help when they were about a half mile away from the 'Arrow.' Members of the Ocean Yacht Club and the crew of a tugboat heard the cries for assistance and hurried to their aid. They rescued Louis just as he was about to give up the struggle. The other lad was not found and his body was probably swept out to sea. Louis refused to give his father's address.

THE ZULU RISING

NEARLY ALL OF BAMBAATAS FOLLOWERS WERE KILLED IN RECENT FIGHTING.

Durban, Natal, June 17.—Two of the Chief Sigandala's sons have surrendered to the Natalian forces, and nearly all of Chief Bambaata's followers were killed in the recent fighting. Col. Mackenzie, of the Natalian forces, has given the rebels, who are leaderless and scattered far and wide, until June 18 to surrender, saying that otherwise they will be shot if captured.

A HORRIBLE FATE

MOROCCAN MULTI-MURDERER EN-TOMBED ALIVE IN A WALL.

Tangier, June 15.—The shoemaker Mesfwi, who was convicted of murdering thirty women at Maraksh, was flung every day after his conviction. Finally he was placed in a hole in a wall, which was then built up in the presence of a jeering crowd. His screams could be heard for two days, after which he became silent, death ending his torture. Mesfwi was originally condemned to be crucified, but owing to protests his punishment was changed.

RAILWAY WRECK

COACH AND SLEEPERS OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY FLYER LEAVE THE RAILS.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 17.—The Twentieth Century Flyer, on the Lake Shore Railway, was wrecked near West Seneca, two miles west of here, to-day. The wreck was a bad one, and it is considered miraculous that no one was killed. One day coach and five sleepers were badly smashed. The wreck, it is believed, was caused by a split rail. The coupling between the engine and the first coach was broken, and the engine bumped along the ties for five hundred feet before it was brought to a standstill. There were 67 passengers on the train. All of them were badly shaken up, and a few slightly bruised, but not one of them received injuries that necessitated the immediate attention of a physician. A relief train brought them to Buffalo.

FIRE RECORD.

Quebec, June 17.—A despatch from Chicoutimi says that fire broke out here at six o'clock this evening on 'Pape Bros' wharf, and before it was gotten under control about 7,000 feet of deals were consumed. About 60,000 feet were thrown in the water, but most, if not all this, will be recovered. The local fire brigade worked hard and managed to keep the fire from spreading. The origin of the fire is unknown. The actual loss or insurance could not be learned to-night.

Toronto, June 17.—Fire broke out at 1.35 this morning in the machinery department of the Warren Bituminous Paving Company, on the water front at the foot of Peter street. That part of the building was gutted, the loss being $5,000 on building and $3,000 on stock. There was no insurance.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 16.—The upper two floors of the building occupied by the Salt Lake Tribune were damaged by fire early to-day. The library and all the type set and other printing machines were destroyed. The loss will be about $60,000.

KODAK 'HAPPY SITUATIONS.' JUNE'S SOVEREIGN PHOTO-CONTEST

A prize of one Sovereign ($4.96) will be awarded to the one sending us at any time during the month of June the best and most interesting photograph of 'A Happy Situation,' (which may include anything from a cat and her kittens, or a bird on her nest to a judge playing golf). Besides the prize, honorable mention will be awarded to all entries of special merit, and the best will appear in the 'Illustrated Witness,' which is published every Thursday of the month to send in their photographs, for in publishing pictures we always give preference to those that record events that have just taken place. Kodakers should 'get busy' at once. The prize is a good one, and the picture will be seen in about fifteen thousand homes in Montreal alone. Address photos to Editor 'Illustrated Witness,' 'Witness' Building, Montreal, marked 'Sovereign Competition.'
