Do horses have intelligence? During the rec-week of sleighing a young man was frequently speeding along the Milldam road and Beacon street. One afternoon he had driven his horse unusually hard so that the poor animal was nearly exhausted. Being urged to further speed on Beacon street the horse stopped. The young man lashed him with a whip; then he got out and kicked him, a most deplorable act toward an animal. Still the horse was impelled forward.

able, but cast longing glances up a side street, wh turned the horse's head that way, and the salt-trotted off without urging. The street was narrow and the horse soon fairly flew, to the young man's delight. But suddenly the horse turned sharp, plowing the young man into the maquibank, with velocity of a cannon ball. Was there method in horse's madness? It seemed so to the witnesses of whole proceeding.—Boston Times.

A CRISIS HAD OCCURRED on Elliott street Tuesday night. A milkmaid was seen standing on the street with the hose uncoiled, as customary while enroute to deliver his milk. A farmer came along leading a cow by a halter on his way to market. The sight of the cow so terrified the horse that he ran across the street, and the milkmaid was obliged to follow. Customers are now wondering how long it is since horse saw a cow. —DuPage Courier.

A GOOD OLD HUNGARIAN LAD, who had attended some days a church in which service was in Hungarian, met the vicar in the street one day, and said to him: "Pasture, I pray a little favor to ask of 'Pve bin a-sayin' my prayers in F now for nine or five years, and I would really like to say them in E awhile. I'm settin' so husky in F now that I c'n use in as 'T' to 'E'." The Star, Manchester.

Oh, how can a fair maiden smile and be gay,
Be lovely and loving and dear,
As sweet as a rose and as bright as the May
When her liver is all out of gear!

She can't. It is impossible. But if she will only take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, it will cleanse and stimulate her disordered liver, purify her blood, make her complexion soft and rosy, her breath sweet, her spirits cheerful and her temper sweet. A druggist.

Don't hawk, hawk, blow, spit and disgust everybody with your offensive breath, but use Dr. Saxe's Catarrh Remedy and end it.

There is NO MORE UNCONQUERABLE THING in the world than a cold, especially when it comes into connection with the throat. It is a disease that is usually in conflict with a pretty and graceful throat.

MONTREAL NEWS.

The river in front of the city is now quite clear, and the water having fallen below the navigation level is expected to open shortly. The Government has appointed Mr. Richard White to fill the vacancy on the Harbor Commissioners' Board caused by the death of Mr. Andrew Robertson.

The Carpenters and Joiners in this city have been in a strike for a "nine hours day," and have sent a message to the masters to that effect.

Champlain, of this city, having manifestly established his claim, has been ordered by his husband into undisputed possession of the deceased gentleman's property. The fortunate husband was at one time a poor, struggling tailor at the corner of St. James and St. Louis streets, and is now a wealthy man.

YATES' WEEKLY LETTER
A HEADSTRONG YOUNG EMPLOYEE
NEW YORK, April 15.—Mr. Edward Yates, a cable to the Tribune from London as follows: The Federal Press of the Empire have no sort of belief in the brilliant capacity of the Emperor William. They are disgusted and terrified at his recent vagaries. The Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha and a dozen German royalists took advantage of his relations to Germany to state in strong terms with the Emperor, and he was justified in doing so as the trusted friend and confidential adviser of the Emperor's father. The Duke was so indignant that he refused to stay in Berlin for the chapter of the Black Eagle, but went off to Coburg in the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha's train. The Duke's relations are not fully shared by the King of Saxony, the Prince Regent of Bavaria, and above all, the Grand Duke of Baden.

THE PROJECT of a number of Socialists, gathered in London, is to send a delegation to the metropolis. Every vote given a Socialist may be regarded as a vote lost to the Liberals, and a number of the Socialists will command an appreciable vote in the metropolis. If the Socialists start as many candidates as they threaten, the Liberal party in London will be divided, and the general election weaker than usual. The Unionist party will be divided, and the general election weaker than usual. The Unionist party will be divided, and the general election weaker than usual.

MR. CLEVELAND ON THE TARIFF.
BOSTON, April 8.—In a recent interview with Mr. Samuel Mendum, Secretary of the United States Tariff Commission, Mr. Cleveland said that the tariff was a "pleasant" way, and said he thought the Secretary of State would eventually be the wisdom of coming out strongly for reciprocity. Mr. Cleveland also alluded to the damaging effect which a re-imposition of the duty on hides would have upon New England.

BALFOUR'S LAND BILL.
DUBLIN, April 10.—The committee of the Land Owners' Convention having under consideration the Government's Irish Land Purchase Bill, said that the measure in its present form is most injurious to the interests of land owners, and will give the full measure of its advantages to the best class of tenants, and therefore requires amending.
