Sixty-Second Year

Premier De Gaulle To Press For US Nuclear Weapon Secrets

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle was expected today to press for access to United States nuclear weapons secrets when he meets State Secretary Dulles Saturday.

Diplomatic sources said a wide range of topics probably will be covered, including NATO co-operation, France's economy and Western relations with Russia.

Dulles flew here today from Washington for the meeting—the first de Gaulle has had with a senior U.S. official since he came to office June 1.

Dulles said before leaving Washington that immediate U.S. help would be given France in obtaining nuclear-powered submarines.

WANTS TO JOIN CLUB

France is trying to get into the "atomic club" of nations with nuclear weapons—now the United States, Britain and Russia. The French are building an A-bomb and reports say it will be ready for testing within months.

French authorities claim they have made sufficient progress to qualify for receiving U.S. information under terms of American laws so they can avoid expensive duplication.

The French also contend that nuclear weapons are an essential part of the equipment for modern armies, so the U.S. should help them strengthen NATO.

The talks continue all day Saturday. Dulles returns to Washington Saturday night.

Lebanese Rebels Routed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Strong government forces launched a co-ordinated attack today and drove rebels out of the village of Kabr Chemoule, a road junction overlooking Beirut's airport.

The rebels were pushed into the hills beyond sight of the airport in the half-hour battle. Unless they manage a strong counterattack their threat to Beirut appeared ended.

President Camille Chamoun has said the rebel force in the hills was making an all-out attempt to link up with other rebels barricaded in the capital. Defeat of the attempt, he has said, would mean the rebellion will be smashed.

Rebel leader Kamal Jumblatt's force seized Kabr Chemoule Monday and hung on to it stubbornly until this morning.

Bilingualists

REGINA (CP)—Americans will soon be unsuitable for ministerial vacancies in the American Lutheran Church in Canada because they are not bilingual. The church's annual convention was held Thursday that bilingualism is dying out among U.S. Lutherans and Canada needs pastors fluent in both German and English.

Ultra Church

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (CP) — Visitors to the graveyard of prehistoric dinosaurs here will be able to stop for meditation in a tiny "push-button church." Officials in charge of the dinosaur trail that winds through the district badlands said the seven-by-11-foot church, to be set up July 9, will have pre-recorded hymns and scripture readings that can be heard at the touch of a button.

RCAF Submarine Killer Equipped With New "Sniffer Gear" Defense

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCAF Argus, a hunter and killer of submarines, will be equipped with a fantastic new device which "smells out" enemy subs.

The device can best be described as a "breath-analyzer." It was developed by the United States Navy in which it is known popularly as "sniffer gear."

Submarines equipped with snorkel breathing devices emit gas exhaust fumes into the atmosphere.

The equipment to be carried in the Argus will make constant chemical analysis of the air. The analysis will determine the presence of fumes from a snorkel-breathing sub.

SEARCH AREA
This will supply information on a general area in which a submarine may be found. At that point, the aircraft's radar may take over for exact pinpointing of the target.

The Argus will carry an aerial torpedo manufactured by Canadian Westinghouse and mines and

Trade Minister Churchill: Drought Is Disaster

OTTAWA (CP) — Drought has hit the Prairie grain crop hard. Trade Minister Churchill calls it a disaster. The federal government may have to pay record sums for drought relief.

In the Commons Thursday, Mr. Churchill — the minister in charge of moving the grain crop — said a great loss already has been suffered in crop damage and as time goes on the chances of recovery become less.

The major crisis is in animal feed, with the bureau of statistics here reporting Thursday a further deterioration in the Saskatchewan - Manitoba situation. In many areas, there already was a critical shortage of hay.

PREDICT HALF NORMAL

W. J. Parker, president of Manitoba Pool Elevators, predicted half a normal crop for Manitoba. "No matter what happens, we can't expect an average crop," said R. E. McKenzie, director of

Seaway

Locks Open For Ships To Sail On New Lake

MASSENA, N.Y. (CP) — Two United States locks in the St. Lawrence Seaway were to open their massive gates today to let ships from the seven seas sail in and out of North America's newest lake.

First commercial ship to navigate the 860-foot locks was to be the 2,357-ton Humboldt, a Canadian vessel carrying newsprint from Port Alfred, Que., to Milwaukee and Chicago.

The Fort William ship was at the head of a 25-mile queue of 43 cargo vessels that formed during the last three days in Lake St. Lawrence east of this town, across the river from Cornwall, Ont.

ENTER SNELL LOCK
The ships will sail into the Snell lock and then down the Wiley-Dondro ship channel into the Eisenhower lock.

The locks were built in the last four years as the U.S. part of the $43,000,000 international waterway that will eliminate a century-old bottleneck of rapids in the St. Lawrence River between Montreal and Lake Ontario. A Canadian ship will follow.

Exchange Tours
OTTAWA (CP) — Twenty-five Canadian air cadets will fly to the United States July 22 for a three-week tour of New York City, the state of Massachusetts and Washington as guests of the U.S. Civil Air Patrol and the U.S. Air Force. Simultaneously, U.S. Civil Air Patrol cadets will be entertained by the Air Cadet League of Canada and the Royal Canadian Air Force in Eastern Canada.

Anti-Surprise Attack Plan Nearly Accepted

Study By Military Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The NATO allies appear likely to accept, with conditions, a Russian proposal that military experts study ways of preventing a surprise attack.

The proposal for a conference was made by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in a letter to President Eisenhower delivered Wednesday and made public Thursday. Eisenhower is expected to reply promptly after completion of consultations already started with Britain, France and other NATO countries.

Advance indications of conditional agreement came both from the state department and from unofficial comments by British officials in London. Both Eisenhower and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain have made similar suggestions in the past.

TAKE INITIATIVE

The Khrushchev letter suggested that the United States and the Soviet Union take the initiative in arranging a meeting in the near future of representatives, including military experts, designated by the two powers and "possibly by the governments of certain other states."

They should meet, Khrushchev said, for a "joint study of the practical aspects" of the problem and should develop "within a definite period of time, to be determined in advance, recommendations regarding measures for the

UN Official Claims Fired For Not Giving Names Of Hungarians

The refugees figured in the inquiry that moved the general

In Cuba

Canadians Not Yet Released

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The United States embassy said today it has no word that 43 Americans and two Canadians kidnapped by Cuban rebels were being freed. Informants said the rebels appeared now to be hedging on their release after turning loose four Americans and one Canadian.

A U.S. Navy helicopter flew the five captives to the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay Wednesday.

Informed sources said a snag developed in negotiations to free the others and rebel leader Fidel Castro had decided to hold out for further talks. What he wanted to talk about was not known.

Castro has been conducting a guerrilla war for 19 months in an effort to overthrow President Fulgencio Batista.

It is believed that Fidel's brother Raul, also a revolutionary, engineered the kidnappings in an attempt to focus attention on the revolt and to protest the alleged shipment of U.S. arms to the existing Cuban government.

Twin City Visit

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A group of 40 businessmen from here will visit Windsor's twin city, Granby, Que., Sept. 19 and 20 at the invitation of Granby's Mayor Horace Boivan. They will discuss Windsor's part in Granby's centennial next year.

Late Bulletin Tennis Results

WIMBLEDON, England.—Ashley Cooper, top-seeded 21-year-old Australian, today won the men's singles championship of the Wimbledon tennis tournament. He turned back fellow-countryman Neale Fraser 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 13-11.

The men's crown thus went to Australia for the third straight year. Lew Hoad, now a professional, won in 1956 and 1957, whipping Cooper in the final last year.

Easy Language

BUDAPEST (Reuters)—A new international language named Romande, created by a Hungarian school teacher, is easier to learn than Esperanto, the Hungarian news agency MTI said Thursday.

Quebec City Ends 350th Birthday

QUEBEC (CP) — A glittering fireworks display set off on the Plains of Abraham Thursday night climaxed the biggest birthday party in Quebec City's history — two weeks of celebrations marking the city's 350th anniversary.

Street dances, religious ceremonies, parades and feasting were crowded into the jubilant party commemorating the settlement of one of North America's oldest centres. Quebec City was established by the French in 1608.

Official delegates from Britain, France and the United States and thousands of tourists joined Canadians in honoring the old walled city and its founder, Samuel de Champlain.

Sailors from four navies thronged the streets during the celebrations and mounted guards of honor for the many ceremonies. A French destroyer, the Du Chayla, the British cruiser HMS Birmingham and the big American aircraft carrier USS Leyte joined four Halifax-based RCN destroyer escorts here.

This is Quebec's "Annee de Champlain"—Champlain year — and the explorer was honored at each gathering.

Farm Lag In Production

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (CP)—Canadian farm production per acre and per animal lags behind that of some European countries. Dr. R. K. Stratford, a member of the consulting board of the Ontario Agricultural College, said Thursday.

European methods should be introduced here to increase yields on field and animal products, he told the annual meeting of the Quebec Corporation of Agronomists, a body of farm experts.

Dr. Stratford suggested that a Canadian farm delegation take a six-month tour of Northern Europe to investigate conditions there. This would enable them to suggest improvements in Canadian farm methods.

He said milk production is 15-20 per cent more per animal in Denmark and Holland than in Canada. Yield per acre of wheat, barley, oats and potatoes also was higher in these countries.

Hoffa Wooing Unions And Building Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa, whose teamsters union has been cast out of the AFL-CIO, is rapidly wooing other unions to his side and further building his already tremendous power.

Hoffa's new partners, including some of the same AFL-CIO leaders who voted only a little more than six months ago to oust the teamsters union from the federation after corruption charges.

If there were any doubts of what Hoffa is up to, they could be laid to rest with his announcement Thursday of a plan to link all transportation unions in the U.S. into a mutual aid alliance.

EMBRACE ALL

Already in a position, with his 1,500,000 member teamsters union, to call the shots on the vital trucking industry from coast to coast, Hoffa envisioned the new alliance as embracing all workers in air, land and sea transport.

Hoffa counted as initial members of the alliance the International Longshoremen's Association and National Maritime Union. He, like the teamsters union, was expelled from the main body of organized labor on grounds it was infested with hoodlums.

The NMU is headed by Joe Curran, an AFL-CIO vice-president and member of the federation's ethical practices committee.

All transport unions, including those in the railroad and aviation industries, will be invited here in August to learn about the "permanent conference of transportation unity" and to join up, Hoffa said. He will preside as temporary chairman and underwrite expenses.

MAKES DENIAL

Hoffa denied any plans to build a giant labor transport monopoly, saying his alliance was merely to deal with common bargaining and organizing problems. He said the public would benefit rather than be hurt.

The transport pact follows a series of mutual aid deals with single unions which Hoffa has negotiated in rapid-fire order, many with AFL-CIO unions. The federation considered—but did nothing about—steps to halt its unions from working with Hoffa. It will take another look at the situation in August.

With these alliances, plus teamster strength in milk plants, breweries, canneries, race tracks, warehousing, vending machine servicing and a wide assortment of industries, labor observers say Hoffa is well on his way toward achieving an American Federation of Teamsters, countering the AFL-CIO.

Representative Says Goldfine Groomed For Witness Role By Public Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representative Peter F. Mack (Dem. Ill.) said today there has been a well-organized public relations effort to make Bernard Goldfine appear to be more naive than he really is.

Representative John B. Bennett (Rep. Mich.), another member of the House of Representatives subcommittee which is looking into the Boston millionaire's relations with presidential aide Sherman Adams and other government officials, said he considers Goldfine "anything but naive—a very brilliant business man."

Goldfine has stressed his humble beginnings as an eight-year-old immigrant boy from Russia, and his fascination at meeting important people.

MEET TUESDAY

The subcommittee recessed until next Tuesday its questioning of Goldfine after disclosing that he sent cheques from $35 to $75 each to 33 persons it said were present or former employees of the White House and congressional offices — both Democratic and Republican.

The White House confirmed that two of its employees had received cheques. One, Miss Laura G. Sherman, said she had received a $75 cheque last Christmas. She is a secretary to Adams, whose acceptance of favors from Goldfine has been aired by the subcommittee.

Mrs. Helen Colle, secretary to Appointments Secretary Thomas E. Stephens, reported getting cheques each year since 1950. The cheques ranged from $35 to $75.

Neither has ever handled any matters dealing with Goldfine, a White House spokesman said.

SHOWS OFF HIS PRESENT — Boston financier Bernard Goldfine appearing before the House Influence Investigating Subcommittee in Washington, peels off a watch and calls attention to the inscription which reads "S. A. to B. G., January 20, 1953." Goldfine told the committee that he believes a run-down of gift exchanges over the years between the Goldfines and the Adamses will show the Goldfines were the bigger beneficiaries.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Recently a visitor on a film set exclaimed: "Why, there's grandpa McCoy! I'm a fine finding him making a movie!"

Later, Walter Brennan sighed: "Think of it—after three Oscars and 40 years in the picture business, I'm known for a character I did one season on television!"

Such are the vagaries of the new show business, and Walter isn't complaining. Far from it. Sixty-four this month, he's enjoying the biggest success of a long and distinguished career.

Right now, Walter is back at the job he knows best: Making movies. He's playing an old coddler in Rio Bravo, a western with John Wayne, Dean Martin and Ricky Nelson.

For realism's sake, he has taken out his dental plates and is playing the old fellow with a gummy drawl. He also is unshaven.

"I wanted to get as far away from grandpa McCoy as I could," he remarked. "And still, the visitors on the set always recognize me from the TV show."

As most Thursday night watchers know, Walter is the star of The Real McCoys. The show is about some transplanted mountain folks who get into a variety of funny escapades in their new home in California.

Though he often plays hillbilly and crackers, Walter actually hails from Swampscott, Mass. When he's not doing a role, he talks with an "a" as broad as the Harvard Yahr.

"When I'm in character, it doesn't show," he said. "But it can be pretty hard to get rid of at other times. I've been in the cattle business in Oregon for a long time, and I had to learn to order 'calves' instead of 'cavies.' I kept getting cows instead."

Former Coaticook Man Drowned Near St. Adele

COATICOOK — Members of two Coaticook families met with accidents during the past week, one of which claimed the life of a young man of 25, Normand Guilmette, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Guilmette, was drowned at Lake Millette, north of Montreal, near St. Adele.

The young man was employed as a constable at Roxboro and was drowned while swimming with friends at the nearby summer resort lake. It was some hours before the body was recovered. The accident is believed to have happened when Normand entered the water too soon after a meal.

The father of the deceased and two sisters are employed at the Kilgour factory, where Normand himself once worked before going to the job at Roxboro.

In the other accident the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Simard, was struck down by a car while playing in front of his home, on Gendreau St. near St. Jacques, and suffered a fractured skull. The little boy was treated by Dr. Fontaine and then taken to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital in Sherbrooke.

The child ran onto the road in front of a car driven by Arnold Cunningham, of East Hereford, who did not see him in time to stop.

General Notes

Mr. J. Albert St. Pierre, manager of the Co-operative of Coaticook, has been elected president of the Caisse Populaire of Coaticook, replacing the late Mr. P. E. Durocher.

Mr. George Engelhardt and Mr. Stanley Beerworth accompanied Rev. G. Joycey to Baldwin's Mills on Sunday afternoon where he conducted a service at the United Church in that village. Mr. Joycey earlier had conducted his first service in Canada, since arriving on the Saxonia on Wednesday from England, in Sisco Memorial United Church.

The Coaticook Harmony Band, under the direction of Mr. Laurier Vincent, provided music for the Dominion Day celebration in Rock Island. The band will continue to give concerts throughout the summer on Sunday evenings from the local bandshell.

Work has begun on the highway from Coaticook to Baldwin's Mills, the firm of Couillard Construction doing the grading and widening. A detour is in use at present but the alternate route is a good road.

The annual Sunday School picnic for the Sisco Memorial United Church will be held on Saturday afternoon, July 12th.

Thanks to the kindness and co-operation of a few public spirited citizens who loaned equipment, etc., the stones upset by vandals at the Mount Forest Cemetery have been erected once again, and except for those broken or damaged little evidence remains of the unexplained act of willful damage.

STORM HAVOC — Seen above is the crumpled remains of a car which was never even in a traffic accident. The freak occurrence took place during the wild storm Wednesday night. The car, belonging to Dr. Paul McMahon, 275 Bryant st., was crushed by a tree which was blown down by the high wind, as the car stood in the doctor's driveway. No one was injured, but it was necessary to remove the fallen tree before the car could be seen and photographed.

Farmhouse On Katevale Road Guttled

Damage estimated in excess of $5,000 was caused when fire last night levelled a one-and-a-half story house on Ste. Catharine Road near the University of Sherbrooke engineering building. The property was unoccupied, having been purchased by the University recently for future expansion purposes from James Cillis.

The cause of the outbreak is unknown but it is believed that children were playing at the back of the house shortly before the fire was noticed.

Three trucks from the Sherbrooke fire department answered the alarm but experienced some delay in getting the necessary authorization to leave the city limits.

The property is situated in Ascot Township and the approval of the Township mayor was required before Sherbrooke equipment could be used. The mayor was in Toronto and some time elapsed before a councillor could be reached.

By then it was too late to save the old farm house but Sherbrooke firemen under Lieut. L. P. Lessard managed to save the barn. More than 2,000 feet of hose were needed to furnish the water for the blaze.

Accident Death Verdict Given In Ouimet Case

A verdict of accidental death was brought in yesterday afternoon by a coroner's jury following an inquest into the death of 68-year-old Albert Ouimet, Sherbrooke lumberjack.

Ouimet died of a fractured skull following a fall down a flight of stairs in the New Windsor Hotel in Sherbrooke, on Tuesday, July 1. The body was discovered at about 5:05 p.m. by A. J. Charland, employee of the hotel.

Shortly before he fell, according to Rene Boisvert manager of the establishment, Ouimet had asked for a room. Boisvert went on to say that he had seen Ouimet in the tavern and that he had been drinking.

H. L. Roy, a bartender at the hotel told the jury, presided over by Coroner Dr. Louis Gagnon, that he had seen the man in the grill and that he did not appear sober.

Charland testified that he had discovered the body on the stairs shortly after five o'clock as he was on his way up to his own room.

Testimony of three other witnesses, Roger Brule a photographer who took pictures for the police; Laurent Lavoie, the son-in-law of the dead man and Sherbrooke Police constable Guy Lubier, corroborated that given previously.

Dr. Gagnon ruled that death had been caused by a fracture of the skull just above the base of the neck.

Mrs. Galen Coote and children, Stephen, Melanie and Gracie, accompanied by her father, Mr. S. J. Adams, and sister, Mrs. Neil Mountain, and children, Adair and Anne, motored to Caouana, where they spent a few days guests of Miss Jessie McKay. Mrs. Adams who had been holidaying there accompanied them home. While there Mr. and Mrs. Adams celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary and their friend Miss McKay, surprised them with a nice anniversary cake.

Mrs. Ivy Picken and family attended the G. & R. Y. Newsome wedding at Montreal recently.

GRAVEL
Rather than call tenders for a $10,000 contract to supply gravel to be used in constructing the new electricity substation, council decided to use the gravel from municipal pits.

The Council adopted this resolution after O. Deziel, a gravel contractor, protested that the city had been unfair in announcing his asking price of 50 cents a cubic yard for gravel and then asking for tenders elsewhere. He said it constituted a prejudice.

Hauling will be done by the transportation firm hired annually to do all the city's work.

PERMIT
Permission to build a refrigeration unit in a residential area of the West Ward was granted by the council after appeals were made by Aldermen J. M. Jeanson and Tony Pinard.

The aldermen said the plant would be a small building located behind a house on St. Louis St. and would be of no inconvenience to neighbors.

Ald. Carrier Fortin said he thought the council had passed a recent resolution that all future building permits would be

Local Zoo Awaits New Inhabitants

CAGED IN — Pictured is the newly constructed home for the 13 year old 500 pound polar bear which is to arrive from Quebec shortly for the Sherbrooke zoo. Inspecting the cage are from left: Sylvio Laverdiere, supervisor of the zoo, Dr. J. A. Brassard, head of Quebec zoological gardens; Gaston Lebrun, superintendent of parks for the city, and Paul Cloutier, helper at the zoo.

Sherbrooke Zoo superintendent Gaston Lebrun announced yesterday that 38 birds from South America, Africa and Quebec City plus a 500 pound polar bear from the Quebec City Zoo will be acquired shortly for the local zoo.

A steel cage measuring 20 by 25 feet and 15 feet high in which an 8 by 10 foot pool and a stone house 10 by 12 feet has been constructed for the new inhabitant of the zoo, the polar bear.

The bear, which is a gift from the Quebec zoo, is expected to arrive by truck in a specially constructed wooden cage in about three weeks said Dr. J. A. Brassard, director of the Quebec zoological gardens who visited the zoo yesterday afternoon to inspect the cage for the new inhabitant.

Most of the 38 birds are 12" high and range in colors from white to black to red, green and blue.

South American birds expected are: A Toco-Toucan costing over $150, a Rufous Tanager costing $50, a Rainbow Billed Toucan, two Red Breast Brazilians and two Red Head Cardinals. All of these birds belong to the Toucan family.

African birds are: A pair of Queen Wydahs, a pair of Paradise Wydahs and a pair of Pintail Wydahs.

Birds from the province of Quebec will be: six white-throat finches, six white crowned finches, six purple-throated finches and six mockingbirds.

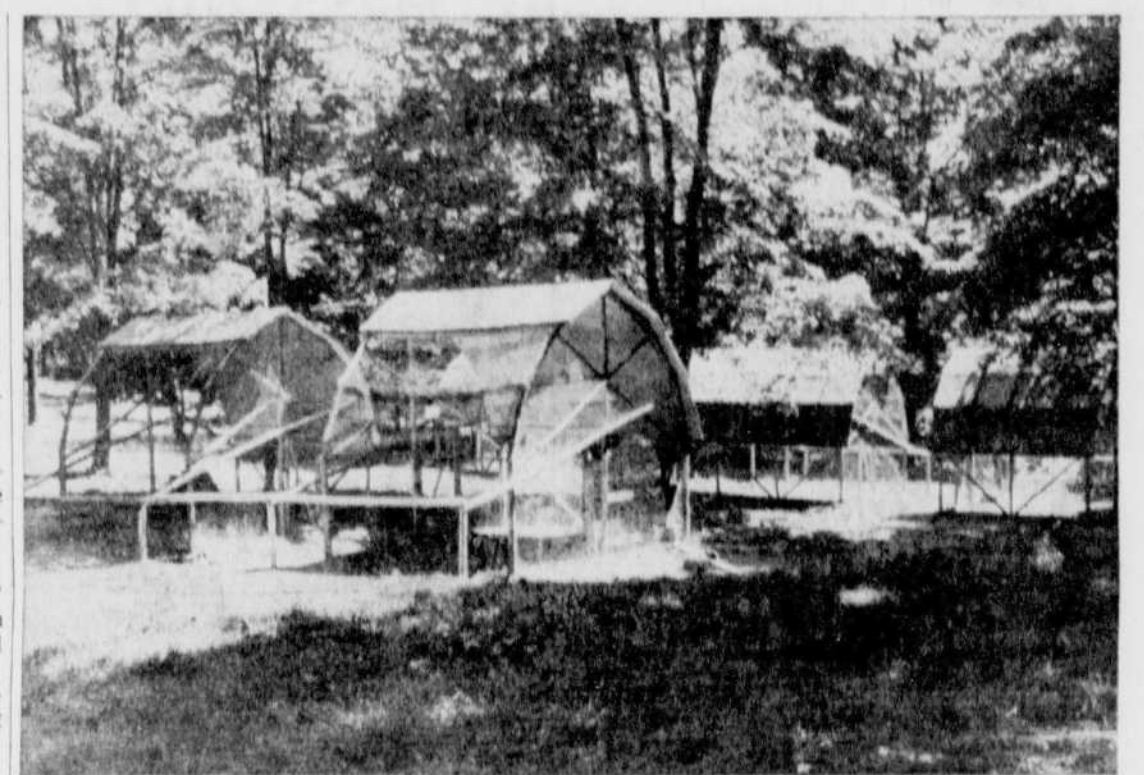

Dr. Brassard said that Sherbrooke residents should consider themselves fortunate because they have a zoo that has progressed so rapidly. He said that in another 15 years, Sherbrooke would have an enviable zoo if the present rate of progress is continued.

He added that the Sherbrooke Zoo has progressed faster than the Quebec zoo during the same period of time.

Dr. Brassard, who has just returned from Vermont where he visited a zoo said that the Sherbrooke zoo is nicer than the one he visited and that while there was no charge in Sherbrooke there was a 75 cent admission charge in Vermont.

A Real Menace

In their efforts to curb stray dogs, drag racers and other nuisances, the City Council seems to have forgotten the trouble caused by cyclists who insist upon using the sidewalks as a passageway. In most municipalities a by-law exists prohibiting such a practice and generally it is strictly enforced but in Sherbrooke such a regulation, if it exists, appears entirely unknown to the municipal police.

One afternoon this week two juveniles were seen racing their wheels along a section of central Wellington street sidewalk, narrowly missing a woman coming out of a store and continuing along their way without interference from the police officer who appeared busily engaged in chalking the tire of a car parked near the curb.

This is not an isolated incident but similar occurrence are noted each day on Wellington street as well as on streets in the residential area.

Significantly the offenders are not those boys who use their wheels as a means of earning their living — telegraph messengers, store delivery boys and the like — but rather are individuals whose sole purpose of travelling along the streets is to make as much trouble for themselves and everybody else as possible.

If no by-law exists prohibiting bicyclists using sidewalks as raceways, one should be passed without delay. If such a by-law does exist, it should be enforced, even if it means allowing a motorist to scalp a few minutes of free parking at a metered zone.

Enterprising 95

If our psychic powers were developed sufficiently to transport us anywhere we would not choose, at the moment, to be in London, Paris or Rome despite their attractions. The curious reporter in us would elect, instead, to be in Luton, not far north of London and home, incidentally, of the celebrated Whipsnade zoo.

We say 'incidentally' because the zoo would not be the magnet. A man who works in a certain service station would be.

He is Harold Gordon-Grahame. A few days ago he got a job keeping the service station's books and his employers, young men, liked his first day's work. Mr. Gordon-Grahame is 95.

Said Colin Parrott, 24: "We find girls have high and mighty ideas and change jobs every six months." So he and his brother, open-minded men, were on the lookout for someone who had lived long enough to be settled, whose high and mighty ideas were in the past. It worked well for the applicant for he needed money to buy things for an ailing wife.

The lads who passed by occasionally to say a few blithe words to the bookkeeper may have been disappointed. But with the Parrotts the work is the main thing; that's being done.

Our old friend with the Scottish name is not unique in working in the nineties — we have all heard of others and a man of the same age, 95, who worked two 16-acre farms (one near Toronto, the other in Florida, comes to mind) — but his going back to work at 95 is unusual enough to make a globe-circling story.

He may, in his humble way, prove to be a trail blazer just as a much more spectacular Roger Bannister when he beat the four-minute mile in 1954. Runners innumerable had tried, one to come within two seconds. Then, when Bannister showed it could be done, bang went the old-time record several times more.

Now that a 95-er has broken the ice a legion of old and elderly men, hope not quite extinguished, will hitch up their belts, look through the advertisements and try once again. All but the few will get the same old answer but that few, by a near-miracle, will click. Yet age, as has been said truly and often, is not a matter of years. Some men are too old at 50, others too young for the shelf at 80. It is one of the greatest plagues of an industrial era that the young-old who are still fit for many years of work should so often be laid aside.

What's In An Ulcer?

Ulcer sufferers may be sorry to hear they can no longer lay claim to "executive tensions."

Time was when an ulcer was a badge, unseen, but often well publicized, of a man who moved, or at least thought, in the upper echelons of big business.

The tension at the top; the nerve-fraying task of making major decisions every day; the heavy responsibility of playing with thousands and even millions of dollars in every memo to the staff — these were the things that lead to an ulcer, it was said.

Proud possessors of these disturbing little lesions brandished their daily milk and crackers like a banner. "We are paying a price for our importance" was their unspoken slogan.

The thousands of laborers, clerks, and other "little men" with ulcers kept silent, lest they be branded as pretentious because of their ailment.

Now, Dr. G. A. Sinclair, assistant medical director of one of Canada's biggest oil companies has revealed that, according to his studies, ulcers are no more frequent among high-level business executives than among low and middle-income industrial workers. There is not necessarily a relation to business tensions, he said.

Taking a further tilt at the executive windmill, the doctor said the role of "at-work" stress in health problems of executives has been magnified out of all proportion.

He concluded that tensions exist in all phases of daily living, and are common to all classes.

The ulcer, in other words, is not a blue-ribbon ailment, but about as common as the cold, and like the cold, no respecter of income or position.

What's in an ulcer? Nothing, apparently, except discomfort.

On Becoming Canadian

(Ottawa Journal)

A British Columbia judge complained in Victoria recently that many "New Canadians" are taking their oaths of allegiance to Canada too lightly. He adduces, as evidence in support of his contention, appearance of a group of Russian-Canadians in old country costume, enthusiastically greeting the arrival at the Victoria airport of a new giant Russian jet plane, and bowing to the pilot. Similar demonstrations, he added, were organized by Dutch-Canadians during the recent visit of Prince Bernhard.

His Honor is seriously concerned about the attachment of these and other recent arrivals in this country to their native lands and traditions. He advises them to join Canadian fraternal and community organizations instead of banding together in tight little national groups. The judge's views are not without merit, but where do they lead if followed to a full conclusion?

Would he, for example, condemn Canadian Scots for wearing "national costume" (the kilt), and holding mods, St. Andrew's night or forming a Burns' Society? Would he deny the Sons of England or the St. George's Society? Would he wish to ban the big St. Patrick's Day parade in Montreal, frown at the Alliance Francaise or stop recently-arrived German women from holding a "kaffeeklatch"?

Desirable as it is for our newcomers to adapt themselves to Canadian ways and a Canadian outlook on life, this is not the sort of thing that can — or should — be rushed.

Cain's Land:

Baie Comeau Grows With Industry

By GERALD FREEMAN

BAIE COMEAU, Que. (CP) — Baie Comeau has two industries. One gave it a past, the other secures its future.

Together they provide a pleasant, small-town way of life for 15,000 persons living 250 miles east of Quebec City in what once was called "the land that God gave Cain."

Baie Comeau grew up on the bank of the St. Lawrence River around the Quebec North Shore Paper Company's newsprint mill. It was beginning to feel the pinch and disadvantages of being a one-industry town when the Canadian British Aluminium Company began building its new smelter in 1955, bringing new economic vigor.

About 1,000 of Baie Comeau's breadwinners have steady jobs at the paper mill. At the peak of cutting seasons 4,000 loggers are recruited from communities on both sides of the river.

The aluminum smelter will provide another 900 jobs when it hits full production, and at present swells the population with construction workers. Officially opened in June, it is already operating at about a quarter of its ultimate capacity.

Baie Comeau's workers receive a basic rate of about $70 a week, but overtime and higher ratings boost the average take — home wage to between $80 and $90 weekly.

The town itself has a population of about 7,500. Another 4,000 to 5,000 persons live at Haute-Rive, a community that sprang up a few miles distant several years ago when the cost of habitable land—limited by rocks on one side and the St. Lawrence on the other — grew excessive in Baie Comeau.

The rest of the population lives in neighboring communities such as Shuter Bay, where the paper company has a timber operation.

A. A. Schmon, president of the paper company, says the threat of slums or shantytowns is over and the people are on their own to develop their own municipalities.

"The company's time for organizing the community is past—we think so and the people think so," says Mr. Schmon. "It is not a company town."

But relations between the company and the town are "really good," he says. "Everyone tries to keep the idea going that co-operation is essential."

Both Baie Comeau and Haute-Rive have hospitals. The Baie Comeau school has almost 900 pupils and a classical college is planned for Haute-Rive.

People think nothing of motoring the 250 miles to Quebec over the gravel road through country where dog teams were the only means of winter transportation a quarter-century ago. Aircraft call regularly at the municipal airport at Haute-Rive.

But the St. Lawrence remains the chief means of transportation. Ships bring in supplies, and carry industrial products to market. A vessel plies regularly between Baie Comeau and Rimouski, crossing the St. Lawrence—nearly 40 miles broad at this point—in about four hours. It brings in farm products from the south shore, for the rocky soil around Baie Comeau permits little agriculture.

Food prices are considered high, but relief is expected from a supermarket being built between Baie Comeau and Haute-Rive by a Montreal chain.

There was no such thriving community here in 1936, when the Ontario Paper Company de-

LIVE DANGEROUSLY AND TAKE TRICKS
Take a look at the West hand only. South has opened one heart. North has responded one spade. South has jumped to two no-trump and North has taken him to game.
What suit do you lead?
The diamond lead is certainly tempting. The queen-jack-ten-nine combination always is a really good opening lead and if you want to play safe all the time you had better lead that queen of diamonds.
If you want to play winning bridge your right opening lead is the four of clubs. This lead may well cost you a trick but it is also very likely to set the contract. You expect South to hold the king of clubs, but it probably won't be guarded more than twice. Hence, if your partner can get the lead with a spade he will be able to lead a club back and four club tricks will set the contract.

Toronto Fights Pollution

TORONTO (CP) — A special machine is boring deep below the western outskirts of Metropolitan Toronto, carving out the Humber Valley trunk sewer which its builders say is one of the most ambitious anti-pollution projects on the continent.

The two-mile conduit, large enough to drive a car through, will serve 50,000 acres, 350,000 residents and any increase up to a possible 800,000.

The contractors, the Foundation Company of Ontario, developed an alternative to the drill and blast method of tunnelling in collaboration with James S. Robbins, designing engineer.

DRIVES ROCK CUT
A 60-ton, 25-foot machine was designed and is boring through rock 50 to 100 feet below the surface. Named the "Foundation Humber," the machine was assembled at Orillia, Ont., after months of experimental work. The Humber project is said to be the first of its kind undertaken without blasting.

Two 200-horsepower electric motors drive the machine. The circular front is placed against the tunnel face while gripping arms press against the tunnel walls to hold the machine stationary. Rotary cutting disks cut away the rock.

As the rock crumbles, rotating buckets behind the cutting disks collect loose rock and pass it to an overhead conveyor, which moves it to a mining-type train behind the cutting machine.

The train takes the excavated material out to the Humber River bank, where much of it will be used to repair the ravages of Hurricane Hazel in 1954.

The tunnel route is mainly below the middle of a street, to avoid buildings along the line. The depth of the excavation virtually eliminates noise.

Fresh concrete will be poured through 10-inch holes, drilled from the surface along the route, and will be forced by compressed air into position behind steel forms. The same holes also ventilate the project during construction.

BORDER HILLS
Highest peak in the Cheviot Hills on the border between England and Scotland reaches 2,676 feet.

Press Comment

MAKE THE AIR MOIST

(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

Doctors are generally agreed that indoor air should have a relative humidity of not less than 40 per cent. It would take two gallons of water evaporating each hour to maintain this 40 per cent level in the average suite of offices or the average home.

The oldsters who had their water pans on radiators were not wrong, but modern buildings so often do not allow such old-fashioned utensils to be employed.

The modern answer appears to be in humidifying devices which are available. It is understood that humidity in a building saves fuel consumption because moist air seems warmer than dry air in the same temperature.

MANY SWINDLES

(Windsor Star)

Representatives of 56 American and Canadian better business bureaus were told the other day at their Vancouver convention that as many as 2,000 different swindles are on record. The shared experiences of all those anti-racket experts would have added up to a very useful meeting.

Every city, every community of any size, needs the kind of protection a better business bureau can provide. Abuses can run all the way from breaches of business ethics to plain swindles operated by fly-by-nights. The "con" men prey on the gullibility, and sometimes cupidity, of unsuspecting people. Having fleeced them, the swindlers leave town or, having found a loophole in the law, remain to fight it out.

Obtaining money for services that can't be supplied, such as movie or modelling contracts, or for some crooked deal involving photography, is part of the familiar techniques of such operators. Others are more ingenious and specialists are needed to deal with them.

But the small operators must be watched as closely as the big ones, because there are more of them. Bad cheque passers and shoplifters cost business houses large sums annually. Protective measures are not yet so tight they can't be improved.

CANNED CLOCKS

(Chicago Tribune)

As one who hates to see that morning sun come up, we strongly endorse the ingenuity of an enterprising manufacturer of alarm clocks, who packages them in cans like coffee. Each can is hermetically sealed and is equipped with a key. By simply resisting the urge to open the can with the key, one can render the clock ineffective and forever still its raucous summons.

In a way, this would be a favor to the clock, which would remain "factory fresh" forever, like the lovers on the Grecian urn. And think of the dividends in increased shut-eye.

RISE IN COSTS

Expenditures of hospitals of all types in Canada rose more than 11 per cent in 1956 to a record $467,500,000.

Matter of FACT

Passing a shaft of light through a prism produces a spectrum. Isaac Newton found that when the light is passed through a second prism, in reverse position, the colors are mixed again into a single shaft of white light. Thus he proved that white light is a compound of all colors of the spectrum.

Sharp Increase In Distribution Of Phone Books

More than 45,000 copies of a perennial best-seller are on their way to homes, stores and offices in Sherbrooke and the surrounding territory, which means that it is time for a change in reading material for every telephone user in this area.

The book is the 1958 edition of the telephone directory which lists the names, addresses and telephone numbers of subscribers residing in nearly 100 communities in the Eastern Townships. And according to P. W. Lesser, Bell Telephone manager here, people should discard their old directories and begin to use the new issue as soon as it arrives.

"There are thousands of new and changed listings, the manager said, and using the new book immediately will help avoid wrong numbers and unnecessary calls to information."

Indicative of the growth of the telephone system in the Eastern Townships is the increase in the number of copies of the directory which will be distributed initially this year. Over all, more than 45,000 copies were mailed, an increase of about 2,500 over the 1957 total. In Sherbrooke alone, the initial distribution will amount to some 22,800 copies, or 1,100 more than last year.

In keeping with a practice introduced two years ago, the front cover of the directory again features an illustration designed to give the book a typically regional flavor. This year, the drawing shows a view of Sherbrooke with St. Michael's Cathedral in the background.

At Iroquois lock in Canada, more than 20 ships formed another line, waiting to head into the new lake, through the U.S. locks and then downstream to Montreal.

The South African seaport of Durban handled a record total of 8,358,000 tons of cargo in the 1957-58 season.

LOCKY PORT — The South African seaport of Durban handled a record total of 8,358,000 tons of cargo in the 1957-58 season.

CONDUCTOR RETIRES — John Hazle, second from right, is seen just a few moments after finishing his last run with the Q. C. R. Wednesday prior to his retirement on pension. Mr. Hazle had completed slightly more than 46 years service with the railway. Little Huguette Gauvin is seen presenting Mrs. Hazle with some flowers while Marcel Gauvin, right, father of the girl and one of Mr. Hazle's co-workers, watches. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Save Work With Outdoor Meal Aids

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

New accessories beamed to catch the homemaker's eye emphasize that outdoor entertaining is an extension of indoor gaiety. These aids to pleasantry have no seasonal restrictions on their use. They'll be equally appropriate on a sunny terrace in summer and by the fireside in winter.

IN FURTHERANCE of outdoor fun, a dedicated handy man and cook-out king may build a great stone monument to the barbecue in a remote corner of the yard. Some of us maintain that friendship, fresh air and good food can be enjoyed just as much in an attractive place convenient to the kitchen where trays of vittles need to be carried only a few feet.

Smaller, more compact charcoal broilers make outdoor cooking in limited spaces easier. Actual cooking surfaces are, however, ample.

The modern patio with an electric outdoor outlet permits the hostess to set up such aids as mosaic-patterned electric trays which, when plugged in, keep casseroles, or coffee hot for second helpings.

Candle warmers for bases of casseroles and carafes are good for keeping foods warm for limited periods of time.

INGENIOUS, INEXPENSIVE new tables are good examples of outdoor-indoor accessories.

These have a round, removable tray top and a folding chrome stand with ball-bearing tips on the tops of the legs.

This ball-bearing arrangement permits the tray top to be rotated for Lazy Susan service.

The tray tops in white, blue or gold, come in different designs. There are solid tops, tops with indented relish trays or cheese blocks, tops with cut-out holes for inserting matching ice buck-

Homemaker loads tray-server in kitchen and brings it to terrace where it rests on ball bearings in a three legged stand.

ets or punch bowls. They're made in 24- and 19-inch diameters.

DESIGNED ESPECIALLY for outdoor patio suppers but with a future inside at morning coffee-hour table or a teen-age party is the latest addition to what American glass manufacturers call "snack sets."

This one couples an oval, milky white glass platter with a tall, two-cup mug. The design of the mug is said to keep coffee hot longer.

Other snack sets with conventional-size cups include some very pretty clear glass ones with modified triangular shapes for the plate.

The plates of all I've seen are large enough to use for a meat-and-salad supper.

Indian Canadians Facing Immigration Problems Too

By EDNA USHER

CANADIAN PRESS STAFF WRITER
TORONTO (CP)—The original Canadians, the Indians, get less consideration from their fellow countrymen than New Canadian immigrants, says Mrs. Harold Clark, chairman of the national commission on the Indian Canadian.

She believes that women's organizations are the best equipped to correct this situation.

"Indian Canadians are emigrating too — from reserves to towns and cities — and through circumstances which are nobody's fault they are often ill-equipped to cope with the changed environment," she said.

"Canada has acknowledged and tried to solve some of the problems of immigrants from abroad and now our commission is trying to assess the problems facing our own nationals."

HOUSING PROBLEM
Mrs. Clark says housing is a problem for Canadian Indians in the cities, and the Indian and white races need to understand each other better.

"Women's organizations have undertaken studies of a foreign country as a project for a year. If they will tackle a study of Canadian Indians, they could help solve the problems in the same way as they have helped immigrants from Europe," she said.

Mrs. Clark believes such a study should start close to home. "Groups should contact the local officer of the department of Indian affairs, health and welfare groups, churches, and any persons or organizations which have knowledge of Indians."

The groups should then make a detailed survey of Indians in the area, consulting the national commission to ensure uniformity. "We want the census to be tactfully undertaken, and if Indians in the area will help, so much the better."

EARNEST EFFORT
"There is nothing condescending or paternalistic about this. We know there are problems and we want to know what they are and where they are, so that they can be solved."

Mrs. Clark noted that women's groups in western Canada have projects in hand. "They invite Indians to their homes, and are working on housing plans."

Problems have arisen because the Indian population is increasing faster than any other group, says Mrs. Clark. At the turn of the century there were about 90,000 Indians; now there are something like 150,000, crowding the reserves and making it impossible for hunting and trapping to support them all, with a resulting drift to towns.

"Women have done a tremendous job for European immigrants. Now our own people need our help," said Mrs. Clark. "It is not enough for women's groups to send a bale of clothing — they must study the subject."

Homemaking

Shoes for Baby come in easily washable materials. For those of felt, remove cardboard inner soles and laces and wash gently in suds. It is better to wash laces in separate suds. Rinse and dry with a towel. Stretch booties into shape and insert inner soles. A brushing after they dry restores fluffiness.

W.I. Endorses Protest To Historical Name Changing

History is often preserved in the place names of a country. Names of our early explorers and pioneers are perpetuated in this way, and not only does it help us to remember their deeds and sacrifices, but it does add richness and variety to our countryside, and to the interest of those touring the province.

The Quebec Women's Institutes has seen with mounting concern, the growing tendency to change some of these names of historical significance, often without the residents of the district or community concerned being given an opportunity to register a protest, if such should seem to be the need.

This concern has now culminated in a resolution unanimously endorsed at the annual provincial convention held last week at Macdonald College. Instances were cited in the discussion where this had been the case. Nearly 300 country women, from all parts of the older settled sections of Quebec, registered their protest by a petition to the Attorney-General, that the Municipal Code and the Cities and Towns' Act be amended so that no change can be made in the name of a locality or district without due notice to its residents, and that a full and proper inquiry be made in each instance by the Private Bills Commission, which would give such residents an opportunity to register a protest, if any.

Another resolution dealt with at the convention was on vitaminized apple juice. In view of the fact that the production of apple juice is a native industry, that nearly all the pack is now vitaminized (94% at the end of 1957) and that by government regulation it contains the required amount of vitamin "C" (equivalent to that of citrus fruit juices) members of the Canadian Council on Nutrition endorse the use of vitaminized apple juice, and that it be included in Canada's Food Rules.

Earlier in the spring a survey had been conducted by the Convention of Agriculture, Mrs. G. A. David, Cowansville. Reporting on this at the convention, Mrs. David stated that members recommend a 10 oz. can of vitaminized apple juice in addition to the regular family size. It was felt this would be popular with smaller families, elderly people living alone, and the business girl.

Other suggestions made were that it might make the product have more consumer appeal if the apple juice were bottled like soft drinks (thinking of the younger generation here) or to have a more attractive label on the can clearly marked as "vitamin C". Parents should be aware of its nutritive value and make it available to their children in place of soft drinks.

Mrs. David concluded her report by saying, "Let us be more enthusiastic in boosting our use of our own Canadian product instead of buying imported ones."

If Sack Is Nothing Else, At Least It's in STYLE

"How can a woman get herself up to look like that?" asked a perplexed male in shocked disbelief as a short, dumpy, middle-aged woman walked away from him in a baggy sack dress, with the step of someone obviously satisfied with her appearance.

Well, it's easy. But maybe you have to be a woman to understand how easy it is for a woman to look like heck and still feel well-dressed.

The simple answer is that if a woman is wearing the latest thing she gains assurance from the knowledge that she is in style.

No matter how becoming an out-dated fashion might be to a woman, just knowing that it is becoming isn't enough to give her self-assurance.

Self-assurance comes from knowing that she is in style—that she is wearing the latest thing.

Pointed-toe shoes may make her feet look three sizes larger—but if they are in style, she will wear them with pride.

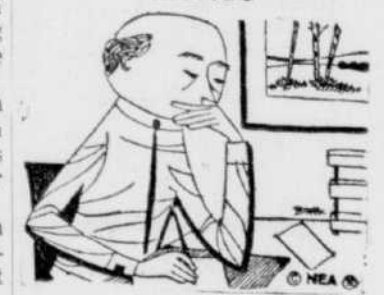

She may look like a sack in a sack dress—but that's a minor matter, so long as she knows she is up-to-date in her dress.

Five years from now we women will be asking ourselves, "How did we ever wear anything as awful as the sack?" But when we ask the question we'll be wearing whatever happens to be in style at the moment—whether it is becoming or not. And we'll feel just as secure as we feel today in the sack.

Now do you understand, sir? No, I didn't think you would. We only half-way understand ourselves why it doesn't matter how we look, just so long as we are in style.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

If you receive a written, printed, or engraved invitation to a party it is gracious to answer it even though the letter R.S.V.P. are not included on the invitation. It is even more important to answer such an invitation if you cannot attend.

But either way, an answer will be appreciated by your hostess.

Mrs. Georgette Lemire will be absent from her beauty parlor from July 5th to July 16th, but the BEAUTY PARLOR WILL BE OPEN DURING THIS PERIOD!

Joe Ginsberg Smashes Pinch-Single In 15th As Orioles Edge Red Sox; Phils Edge Braves As Giants Lose

Hobbling Joe Ginsberg stroked a long pinch single into left field in Boston Thursday and broke up the longest game of the American League season.

It was the turning point as Baltimore Orioles defeated the Red Sox 7-5 in 15 innings of rain-interrupted baseball which went four hours and 23 minutes.

In other AL games Thursday, Chicago White Sox blasted Kansas City's visiting Athletics 7-2 and New York Yankees moved into Washington and clobbered the Senators 11-3.

GIANTS LOSE

There were two day games in the National League — Philadelphia Phils defeating the host Milwaukee Braves 3-1 and Chicago shaded San Francisco 4-3 in the opening game of their west coast series.

Thursday night, St. Louis was scheduled to play two night games at Los Angeles and Pittsburgh one night fixture at Cincinnati.

Ed Bouchee, in his first NL appearance of the season, blasted a home run for the Phils. It was also his first start after his conviction on a morals charge last March and he was greeted by a momentary silence, then polite applause as he came to bat in the first. He struck out but came through in the eighth with the score tied 1-1. It was Robin Roberts' 195th victory against 150 losses. Carl Wiley lost his first

Al Balding Fires 66 To Slay One Stroke Off Leaders In $22,000 Rubbery Open; 45 Break 71-Par

AKRON, Ohio (CP)—The $22,000 Rubber City Open golf tournament turned into a birdie shooting match Thursday as 45 of 130 starters broke par and Toronto's Al Balding shot a 32-34—66, one off the pace set by Americans Ed Griffiths and Art Wall Jr.

Jerry Magee of Toronto and Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., were well behind. Magee posted a 37-33—70 and Horvath shot a 37-34—71.

Balding would have tied for the top spot, but a 12-foot putt on the final green hit the back of the cup and stayed out.

Tied with Balding for third was 28-year-old Frank Phillips of Sydney, Australia. He carded a steady 33-33—66.

Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., the U.S. National Open champion, shot a 33-35—68 over the Firestone Country Club's 6,620-yard, 35-36—71 layout.

That left Bolt in a seven-way tie with Jack Fleck, Ed Oliver, Doug Ford, Gordon Jones of Allamuchy, Ohio; Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La.; Bob Rosburg and Horvath.

The field will be cut to the low 60 professionals and 10 amateurs following today's round, and 18 hole sessions will be held Saturday and Sunday. First prize is $2,800.

Als Open 1958 Training Camp

MONTREAL (CP)—A squad of nearly 70 players—rigged out in helmets, white T-shirts and red shorts—went through routine drills Thursday night when Montreal Alouettes opened their football training camp.

Officials of the Big Four club said they are confident the new American imports in camp are better than any group of newcomers over the last few seasons.

Much attention will be given to Canadian players since the club has lost 11 from last season's team, some through retirement.

Of the 29 new Americans signed, five were not on hand and "are reporting late," said managing director Gorman Kennedy.

In all, when the full training camp roster of 72 is on hand, there will be only seven American and 11 Canadian holdovers from last season.

About 40 Canadians are in camp.

Grant, Williams Suspended By NY Commission

NEW YORK (AP)—Boxing judge Bert Grant and fight manager Hymie Williams were suspended indefinitely by the New York State Athletic Commission Thursday.

The action was the result of Grant's indictment Wednesday by a New York grand jury on charges of accepting bribes in five bouts involving Wallman's boxers. Grant has denied the charges and is free on bail.

Julius Hell and, commission chairman, announced the double action after a special meeting. He also said the commission was preparing charges against Wallman as soon as possible to revoke his licenses as a second and manager.

Argos Sign Back, Bobby Kuntz

TORONTO — Backfielder Bobby Kuntz has agreed to 1958 salary terms with Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football League, managing director Lew Hayman said Wednesday.

Terms were not disclosed but it was believed the Kitchener resident's $7,000 salary for last season would be raised.

Indians Down Yankees 13-2 To Gain On Leaders; One Tilt Slated Tonight With Two On Tap Tomorrow Morning

Rotary Club sponsored Indians crept closer to the league leaders in the Little League last night downing the Lennoxville Optimist Club sponsored Yankees 13-2 at the Parade Grounds.

Indians tucked the game away in the fifth getting three more tallies. Adam, Legare and Lebreque hitting safely. Yankees threatened in the sixth but again they left three men on.

Richardson, Taylor, Majury started for the Yankees, but they are still lacking batting power, especially with men on base.

Their infield play can be improved upon and once this is straightened away they will get results.

Indians are improving with every game. The team is well coached and the players are responding. Vincent, Lebreque and Legare all showed up well in the game. Cote, Olson and Courchesne were the umpires.

Fuller Downs Athletics 6-3 To Move Into Sole Possession Of Second Place; Indians-Coaticook Tilt Postponed

Fuller took over sole possession of second place in the Junior Baseball League last night when they edged St. Jean Baptiste Athletics 6-3 in a game played at the Sherbrooke Stadium.

The other game in the league scheduled for last night had the Sherbrooke Indians in Coaticook for a game against the Canadians but the game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Fuller and the Athletics were tied in second spot going into last night's game and the loss for the A's dropped them to two and one half games behind the league leading Windsor Cardinals.

Gauthier went the distance for Fuller and won his second game. Jean Guy Mathieu started for the A's but was replaced in the third inning by Rousseau.

Errors proved to be the deciding factor in the game as Fuller picked up three runs in the first on three errors by Chartier at third. They cinched the game with two in the second and one in the third.

St. Jean broke into the scoring column in the fourth inning and added two more in the fifth on a triple by Langlois. They had another rally going in the sixth but they could not get a run across the plate. The Athletics had numerous scoring opportunities throughout the game but they did not capitalize on them.

The postponed game between the Indians and Coaticook will probably be played Sunday afternoon. Other games Sunday see Windsor at home to Fuller, in the afternoon, and in Sherbrooke for a game against the A's at 7:30.

Bedard Drops Only One Game In Match With Minoso; Doubles Listed Today; Canadians Favorites To Win

TORONTO — (CP) — Don Fontana of Toronto and Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., two veterans of international tennis, Thursday gave Canada a 2-0 lead over Cuba in the opening singles of the first-round North American zone Davis Cup competition.

The Canadians took a commanding lead in the best-of-five match series as they overpowered the inexperienced Cubans with remarkable ease. Neither of the Canadians was extended and Canada's team appears headed for a clean sweep of the four singles and one doubles match.

The 27-year-old Fontana, ranked second in Canada and playing in his fourth Davis Cup series, whipped Raoul Karmann, 20-year-old Cuban champion, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3 and the 27-year-old Bedard, who holds the Canadian crown, breezed to a 6-0, 6-1, 6-0 win over 16-year-old Adolfo Minoso, one of the youngest players ever to play in Davis Cup competition.

A crowd of less than 500 at the Toronto Cricket, Skating and Curling Club saw the Canadians overcome the Cuban youngsters without a fuss. Fontana wrapped up his match in 54 minutes and Bedard, on Canada's team for the sixth straight year, took only 37 minutes to handle Minoso.

The doubles will be played and captain Lorne Main named Fontana and Bedard as the Canadian combination. The Cuban pair likely will be Karmann and Minoso, but playing captain Antonio Diaz said he hasn't definitely decided yet whether to play himself and save Minoso for the two concluding singles Saturday.

The winner of the round will advance against the United States here next week.

Althea Gibson And Angela Mortimer To Clash Tomorrow For Ladies' Crown At Wimbledon; Cooper-Fraser Today

WIMBLEDON, England (CP)—Top-seeded Ashley Cooper faces Neale Fraser in the Wimbledon tennis championship's men's singles final in another all-Australian duel for the title standing for the world amateur crown.

Cooper, 21-year-old power-hitting star who lost in last year's final to Lew Hoad, hopes to beat his 24-year-old countryman to prove he is a suitable heir to Hoad, now a professional.

But no matter who wins, the victory will be another feather in the cap of the Australian Tennis Association, which apparently can produce top-flight stars almost at will.

WOMEN'S FINAL SATURDAY

The women's singles title will be settled Saturday, when defending champion and favored Althea Gibson of New York meets unseeded Angela Mortimer of Britain.

Cooper moved into the final Wednesday with an easy 7-5, 6-2, 6-3 victory over Mervyn Rose also an Australian, who was seeded third. Fraser won 6-4, 6-4, 17-19, 6-4 over Kurt Nielson of Denmark.

Cooper is shorter than his opponent, but packs more wallop into his serves and returns. He also is faster than Fraser, but doesn't control the ball as well.

Miss Gibson rated No. 1 seed on the basis of her win last year.

Miss Mortimer, 26, was rated Britain's leading woman player until illness crippled her game two years ago.

Miss Gibson advanced into the final Thursday by crushing left-handed Ann Hayden of Britain 6-2, 6-0. Miss Mortimer easily advanced past Mrs. Suzy Kormoczy, 34-year-old housewife from Budapest.

COPS JOLIETTE OPEN — Hector David, right, is seen receiving the O'Keefe Trophy from Gerard Levesque, Sales Manager of Canadian Breweries Ltd., for winning the Joliette Open Golf Tournament last Sunday. The next O'Keefe event is slated to take place at St. John, July 19-20, with the following one at Mt. Orford Golf Club Magog.

Magog Takes Over Second Place In Eastern Townships Soccer League; Blank Drummondville Celanese 2-0

Magog came up with their second victory of the season as they turned on a strong offensive to defeat Drummondville Celanese 2-0 in an Eastern Townships Soccer Match played in Magog. This was the first shut-out registered in the league this season and although Whittier in the Magog nets did not have to make many saves the ones he did stop were nothing short of sensational.

The next games in the League will see Magog at Sherbrooke and Asbestos at Drummondville this Saturday.

Magog moved to the offensive at the outset of the game and it was only the starry goal tending job turned in by Humphries which staved off their attack. Melling finally hit the mark after thirty minutes of play on a pass from MacAlpine after a scramble in front of the net.

Peake added the insurance goal after twenty-five minutes of play in the second half. His ground shot had Humphries beaten on his way.

Humphries played a sensational game as time after time he threw himself from one side of the net to the other to make a save. The Magog defense shouldered most of defensive play and Canavan and Bert Hamilton were outstanding at their full back positions.

Magog played positional soccer throughout and this in itself accounted in no small way for their win. The man to man defensive held off the driving efforts of the two big Drummondville threats Madrazz and Fromenwiler.

There were a few tense moments in the game and there was continual danger of a fistic outbreak. Referee Jim Grierson handled all these situations well and the game went off peaceably.

Lineups follow:
Magog: Whittier, Canavan, Hamilton, Booth, Robinson, Melling, Hine, Peake, Corwell, Barlow, MacAlpine.
Drummondville: Humphries, C. Gravel, Kent, Hesson, Porsch, Halasq, J. Gravel, Fromenwiler, Madrazz, Imlach, Raty, W. Hes-

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five players were chosen Thursday to represent the United States in the Davis Cup tennis competition in Toronto July 19.

James T. Moffett, chairman of the U.S. Davis Cup selection committee, named these players:

Earl Buchholz, St. Louis, Mo.; Jack Douglas, Stanford University, Calif.; Sam Giammalva, Houston, Texas; Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, and Whitney Reed, Alameda, Calif.

They will join Perry T. Jones of Los Angeles, Davis Cup captain, in New York Sunday or Monday and then go to Toronto to meet the winner of the Cuba-Canada series.

Jones will announce the players for singles and doubles competition after evaluating their ability.

Yamaska Fish Derby Saturday

Fishermen from all parts of the Eastern Townships and Quebec Province will pit fishing skill against one another this Saturday from dawn until 6:00 at the Yamaska Fishing Derby, sponsored by the Yamaska Fish and Game Club.

A host of prizes totaling over $350.00 will be awarded to the top fishermen in each of the four classes. These classes include Dorey, Perch, Bass, and Pickerel. There are four weigh-in stations where fishermen may register their catch. There is one at Granby, one at Waterloo, another at Selby Lake and one at Knowlton.

The fish may be caught anywhere in the Eastern Townships but must be registered at one of the Yamaska registry centres.

As well as the competition prizes a 7½ hp. outboard motor and a boat will be raffled. Second prize in the raffle is a 3½ hp. motor.

Following the derby there will be a banquet and distribution of prizes at 7:30 at the Terrace Inn, Bonville.

Chairman of the event, Guy Beaudry, reports that preparations are going as scheduled and that the day should prove successful.

20th Annual Sherbrooke Tennis Tournament Opens At Sports Club July 10

The twentieth annual Sherbrooke Tennis Tournament opens at the Sports Club situated on Fraser Street Thursday July 10. The announcement came from Jean Louis de Leseleu, secretary of the Sherbrooke Tennis Association, yesterday.

A record number of entries from Sherbrooke are expected for the celebration of the tournament's twentieth year. The first event was run in 1938 and every year since its inauguration has attained a higher degree of success.

JUNIORS EXPECTED

This year because of the interest shown in the junior tournament, held recently, the younger members will be allowed to enter the competition. The organizers of the meet are urging all Juniors to compete in the event for the experience gained through participation in the competition will be most valuable.

The entries for the tournament close Tuesday evening July 8 at 5:00. Entries will be accepted at Codere's Ltd., J. N. Boisvert Ltd., or directly to either of the co-organizers, Jean-Louis de Leseleu and Claude Metras, at the Sports Club.

There will be a men's and ladies' singles, a men's and ladies' doubles and if enough entries are received a mixed event.

The co-operation of all is required in a competition of this sort. It is important first of all that everyone enter the tournament to make it a success. Secondly players should always be on time for their matches as a late start puts the schedule behind time and aggravates players as well as officials.

The tournament is a fine challenge which has been met most capably in the past and with the co-operation of all concerned it should continue to do so.

Have you noticed in SHERBROOKE wherever you go, more and more people are switching to O'Keefe. Throughout Quebec, the trend is towards a MILD ALE. You'll notice O'Keefe wherever you look . . . in grocery stores, hotels, taverns . . . in the homes of your friends -- O'Keefe is THE mild ale.

Wherever you go, you'll see O'Keefe!

The secret of O'Keefe's mild yet full bodied flavour is "seedless hops." If you have ever bitten into the seed of a grape, you know how bitter they are. The seeds in hops are also bitter and that is why O'Keefe use "seedless hops" to eliminate any trace of unpleasant bitterness, making O'Keefe truly THE mild ale! Find out for yourself how pleasant and enjoyable an ale can be . . . try a case of O'Keefe -- THE mild ale, this weekend. Drink O'Keefe . . . THE Mild Ale!
