Canada Day in Shawville

There were several high points in the Canada Day celebrations held Saturday in Shawville. One was undoubtedly the opening ceremony with His Excellency Jean-Pierre Coté, Lieutenant Governor of Quebec, as keynote speaker. Another was the hour long parade which gave hundreds of people an opportunity to demonstrate their feelings for Canada creatively, and thousands of people the privilege of watching it all roll down Main Street. A third highlight of the day was the second short speech by Mr Coté given in the upstairs hall during the civic reception, and the fourth particularly moving event was the fireworks display held at dusk.

Nobody counted heads but the planners expected ten thousand and all estimates reflected that number, at least. Business in the German Beer Garden and at the food booths was tremendous all day, the Lionettes served over four hundred breakfasts, the whole parade route was lined on both sides, sometimes four or five deep, there was a good crowd around the outside platforms where Spanish dancers and Inca singers entertained in the afternoon, the horse shows attracted a good crowd as did the baseball, the bingo games, the track and field competitions and the Pontiac Historical Museum which remained open through the day.

The theme of the day of course was "Canada", and when everyone sang the National Anthem, the spirit could be felt as well as heard and seen. It happened during the ecumenical service, directed by the Rev Harry Bowkett of St Paul's Anglican Church, and assisted by ministers of all denominations. The arena fairly trembled with emotion as every man, woman and child in the massed congregation stood and sang out the words of this song which has fast become everyone's favorite. It happened again along the route of the parade as the Lionettes stood and sang it over and over for the full hour of the parade. And it happened again during the civic reception when once again the entire assembly gave forth with the song of the year "O Canada", this time with some of the visitors singing it in French, demonstrating that language doesn't enter into a person's pride of being a Canadian.

The talk by the Lieutenant Governor was right to the point. He said that Canadians celebrate in this way to say to the world that being a Canadian is something to be proud of. The message is that we do not intend to be swallowed up, culturally or any other way, by our friends to the south- the U.S.A.

Mr. Coté pointed out a similarity between the St-Jean celebration of the week before, when the French-speaking people proclaimed their cultural significance in the face of the overpowering English culture which surrounds them; and here on this Canada Day the whole Canadian nation of all languages and ethnic heritage was proclaiming its significance in the face of the overpowering American Way to which it is subjected constantly.

Bryson house heritage day July 8th

(that's this Saturday)

An open house and lawn party will be held on Saturday, July 8th, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the Bryson Farm House in Pontiac. There will be music and refreshments.

A group of people is organizing to save and restore the Bryson farm house, which is located on Highway 148, across from the red covered bridge, in the municipality of Mansfield, near Fort Coulonge.

This house has been recently purchased by an interested party, with the intentions of joining with others to renovate and place it in the hands of a non-profit corporation.

This large heritage house is of post and beam structure, which was strategically built to survey the Coulonge River. Construction began about 1832 and was completed in the 1840's. This old frame house was mentioned as the most interesting of all examples of architecture by most people interviewed by the Architectural Heritage of the Pontiac group.

At 3:00 p.m. Saturday, Mr Gilles Lafrance, Chief of the Conservation Training for National Historic Sites, will be giving the public a walking tour of the house and grounds. The public is invited.

Student fund depends on local support

The Pontiac Social Planning Council is attempting to raise money for the Student Fund. This money will be available to students of the county who want to continue their post-secondary education. Money will also be available to those graduates in the fields of health and social services who want to return to the Pontiac County to establish their careers. Letters have been sent to large companies outside the county and the response has been negative. We now realize that we have to rely entirely upon the county to raise the money. The municipal councils, along with clubs and organizations are being approached for donations. To date approximately two thousand dollars has been collected. The results are encouraging. There will also be a walk-a-thon held in July for the Student Fund. Students are especially encouraged to participate in this fund-raising campaign for they are the people who will benefit most from it.

Bill 101 July 3rd and all that!

The third day of July, in the year of our Lord 1978, marked a dark day in the application of the charter of the French language in our Province. That was the day when several articles of Bill 101 came into effect, mostly with regard to the use of French in commerce and business. The purpose was to guarantee the rights of the consumer to be informed and to be served in French.

(The bill takes no account of the fact that at least twenty percent of the citizens of Quebec plus almost all its visitors would prefer to be informed in English.

The main aspects of the law coming into force this week refer to labels on products, catalogs, brochures and folders, public signs and advertising, and the names of professional organizations.

As for labels, they are supposed to be in French as of Monday, including the instructions for use of a product, packaging, list of contents and every other mark on the product, with a few exceptions.

Menus and wine lists are all supposed to be in French as well. These may be accompanied by one or several translations as long as the other language doesn't detract from the French.

The exceptions, where another language (i.e. English) may be used alone without French are: on products destined only to be used outside Quebec; on containers of at least eight cubic meters used to transport merchandise if the container has been manufactured outside Quebec and if it contains products coming from outside Quebec; on products coming from outside Quebec not to be sold but to be used at an exhibition or a fair, or to be used in a process of manufacture, transformation or repair and not sold commercially at retail, or not sold generally on the Quebec market and where there is not substitute, or where the non-French inscriptions are engraved, baked or encrusted into the product; or on a publication, record or audio tape or their packages in which case the language can be that of the language used in the production of the publication, record or audio tape; on products imported into Quebec for medical, pharmaceutical or scientific purposes if they contain less than 5 cublic centimeters or less than 100 grams and even then the packaging must be in French.

Catalogs and brochures or other similar publications may be in English but there must also be a French version and the French version must be similar in quantity and quality to the English version, or the Italian or Greek version as the Office de la langue Française puts it, and this non-French version may be issued to a "physical" person who asks for it in writing.

Otherwise, only the French version may be distributed. For distribution by mail or door to door, a leaflet or brochure or catalog can be in French and another language.

Now we come to the signs. They have been saying until now that as of July 3rd all signs seen by the public must be in French and only in French but now it transpires that there are exceptions. French and another language may be used on signs inside an establishment employing no more than four people including the proprietors.

French and another language can be used on signs concerning the cultural activities of an ethnic group.

French and another language can be used on signs of establishments specialising in the sale or products typical of a foreign country or of an ethnic group.

Any language one wishes to use may be used in advertising in media which uses languages other than French, or in a non-commercial message that a person puts on his private property, for religious, political, ideological or humanitarian messages as long as these are of a non-profit nature.

As for company names, these do not have to be changed until December 30, 1980. In the meantime a sign which only states the company name in English will be tolerated until that date, and if the company name is now bilingual it can stay bilingual until September 1st, 1981.

Other signs, which have more than just the company name on them, can be removed or destroyed within eight days after judgement by a civil court, at the expense of the respondent.

Also on July 3rd the names of professional organizations must be designated only in French.

The Municipal Council of the County of Pontiac, meeting at its regular quarterly session on June 12th, with all twenty two mayors and many visitors in attendance, held a serious discussion of the implications of this section of the French language charter. It was then moved by Mayor Hector Soucie of Fort Coulonge, seconded by Mayor Rheal Racine of Otter Lake, and resolved unanimously, that the government of Quebec be requested to extend the date for language changes in business establishments in the County. The reason for this request was that the majority of the population and business in the County are of another language than French and that an immediate change to French would be detrimental to the Community. Thus far there has been no announcement that this plea has been either received or heeded.

TO EACH HIS OWN CULTURE

AND ALL FOR ONE CANADA

Spanish dancers and Inca drummers may have seemed incongruous to some casual observers at Saturday's Canada Day celebrations in Shawville, but most of the people got the message. Here were two groups of Canadians, each intent on perpetuating the best of their own cultural traditions for their own enjoyment. Incidently they also contributed greatly to the pleasure of onlookers as they performed the colorful and lively dances and songs of their people.

There are groups such as these all over Canada; Portuguese, Greek, English, Irish, Jewish and Scottish, East Indian and Polish, French, German and African, and they meet together to sing, to dance, to share the lore of their particular cultures and to pass it along to their own future generations so that for as long as they care to they will remember their own heritage.

It's all part of the Canadian way of life. There is no American-style melting-pot here. We don't have to amalgamate into a mélange of many things and come out all formed the same way. In Canada we are each formed by our inherited traits. If our ancestors are from Italy and we wish to preserve the Italian culture, nothing is here to stop us. We can even put an Italian sign over our door if we want to; everywhere in Canada that is except for Quebec... but this culturally prohibitive law is only temporary and will pass.

Some people felt the great Canada Day celebration was a statement to the world, and particular to our friendly neighbours in the North American continent, that Canada has a distinction of its own and wishes to retain it. Others felt the Day was a statement to the rest of Canada where freedom prevails, that here in Quebec, despite temporary restrictions, we are still able to celebrate our multi-cultural heritage.

In Canada each person of whatever cultural heritage can stand proud of what he is, taking second place to no other person. Our ancestors adopted the English language so as to communicate with their fellow men in Canada, but they still retained their own Dutch or Gaelic as long as they wanted to, and their old world folkways were passed along from one generation to the next as long as anyone was interested in preserving them. The government of Canada has always done a great deal to encourage the preservation of these traditions; in the case of the French culture they went overboard in their encouragement, even to the point where there are a few people of French origins who consider it their right to force people of entirely different backgrounds to adopt French ways.

This unfortunate development is costing the country a great deal, especially our part of the country. It looks particularly silly here to see people of all cultures forced to pretend they are French so as to satisfy the egos of a handful of fanatics in a city many miles away; silly as compared to the freedom and joy exemplified by those lovely Spanish-Canadian girls who visited Shawville on Canada Day, laughing and chattering in Spanish, dancing to the music of the German band, answering questions in English and French, and feeling every bit as proud of being Canadian as anyone else. And why not?

QUEBEC WILL NEVER BE THE WAY IT WAS;
BUT IT CAN'T STAY THE WAY IT IS!

Dr William Shaw, MNA of Pointe-Claire, wrote a letter to the Montreal Gazette, full of remarks which bear repeating here and thinking about.

It's all about the freedom of choice. He recalls two years ago when over 600,000 Quebec citizens signed a petition to Robert Bourassa and Pierre Trudeau condemning Bill 22 and proclaiming freedom of choice.

The petition was ignored but the need for freedom of choice remains. Not just choice of language of education but choice of language in work, in signs, in dealings with government.

Dr Shaw challenges anyone who suggests the problem in Quebec is not language to show him how we can reverse the tragic exodus of business, expertise, savings and young people from this province without reversing the present coercive language climate created by bills 22 and 101.

He sees no change until all Quebecers understand that freedom of choice is now only symbolic. The new leaders say Quebec will never be the way it was. Dr. Shaw is concerned because it cannot remain the way it is.

Freedom of choice, says Dr. Shaw, is fundamental. Its removal is destroying what has taken 200 years to build in the Province of Quebec.

Letters from our readers

Capitulation or Confrontation

Editor
The Equity
Shawville, Quebec

Two big words but almost any eighth grader will know their meaning. The first denotes surrender in most cases without putting up a fight. Roget's Thesaurus says it is synonymous with submission.

The second means to stand up to. To meet any threat to ones liberty head on.

In the June 11th issue of THE EQUITY my letter urged that something should be done to challenge some of the unjust provisions of the infamous bill 101, the implications of which are now upon us. In response to that letter I received many comments by mail, telephone and in person from those in complete agreement with the stand I proposed. Unfortunately most were from persons who by reason of years or station in life were prevented from playing an active role in any move toward presenting a united front against the iniquitous provisions of that bill. Little evidence was forthcoming of any concerted and firm stand against it by the business community.

Some prominent persons I talked with deplored those unfair regulations but apparently failed to elicit support and concerted action from their fellow businessmen throughout the county.

I wish to quote from an article appearing in a recent issue of The Gazette of Montreal - "Restrictions on English signs called a denial of rights- 'Use Courts to fight Bill 101'– Of all sights and sounds in Quebec today one of the most pathetic is the abject servility with which so many anglophone firms are scurring to comply with the many indignities of Bill 101.

They would do better to refuse to comply with any requirement which they find objectionable, particularly if it represents- as so many of them do - a denial of a basic human right.

If a fine results they can refuse to pay and, if they are sued, they can defend.

Take, for example, almost any of those restrictions against names, signs and notices in any language but French. To deny a person the right to express himself in writing differs only in degree, but not in substance, from a denial of his right to express himself in speech.

Is that what we must expect next? Can anyone seriously maintain that such restrictions are valid and that they would stand up if challenged in a court of law?

What are these foolish and timorous people afraid of and what are they waiting for? Where is their dignity and common sense? Most of them have been involved in lawsuits before. What is so wrong about another?

The courts of Quebec and the Supreme Court of Canada, if necessary, are available for their protection. Why not use them?

Kenneth Johnston
Pointe Claire"

In the case of such action it would be necessary for the entire business community to unite in a pact to defend in the event of a test case going to court. We have everything to gain and nothing to lose by such action.

Edmund Burke, considered one of the greatest figures in political literature wrote over 200 years ago, "all that is needed for evil to prevail is for good men to do nothing". Just as true today as it was then.

Please do not get me wrong. I have nothing against the French language and certainly nothing against French people, many of whom I admire. What I am fighting is the exclusion of English.

What then do we want? Simply a Pontiac where we will be free to live and to make a living in our own way and in our own language, French or English. To advertise and to serve our customers in whatever language will most effectively aid them and describe and promote what we have to offer. And of course a Quebec where parents will be free to send their children to the school of their choice.

Several prominent and highly regarded residents of Pontiac, some with beautiful and valuable homes have said to me, "If Quebec separates I will leave". Well if that ever happens (Heaven forbid) I for one will not leave. I will stay and fight even to my last breath.

To paraphrase a famous Canadian statesman of days gone by "A Pontiacker I was born and a Pontiacker I will die."

Dear Editor,

I am just one of the very many people, who were out to celebrate Canada's Birthday last Saturday, in Shawville. My family and I all thank the people in Shawville for all the great effort they have put into making the day an enjoyable day for everyone.

The parade was really wonderful, but there is something that is bothering me.

Where was the float from Otter Lake?

Some people were asked to prepare a float, but I guess they were too busy with something else to work on a float. When we had our Centennial Celebration, Shawville and all the surrounding area all had beautiful floats in our parade.

Well, the people who were supposed to try to get a float ready, if you were not able to do anything, why didn't you say so. Then someone else would have.

If the people in some of the organizations can't do their job, well, then it's time for a change.

Gabbie Beaudoin

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter as a concerned citizen of our town.

As we all know Saturday, July 1st marked the 111th birthday of our Nation.

I am proud to be a Canadian but when I see the social and moral decay of our country and our town I am moved to tears.

Saturday's festivities got of to a good start with the lovely Ecumenical service. Rev Bailey spoke about our country and warned that as a Nation and people we should turn to God in repentance but I fear it fell on many deaf ears for what took place afterwards.

It seems in our so called modern society there can not be any fun without swimming in a beer barrel and living it up.

For all the good the Clubs of our town might do, think of the social and moral destruction as the result of such things as a "beer garden".

One frequently hears the remark "we have some awful young people around" what about their parents? Are they teaching them to become good citizens by wallowing in the mire themselves?

When we came to Shawville it was a different community than it is now. We thought it was a great community.

Some may say "Well you are not a parent when you speak about our young folk. That is true, but it does not keep us from being concerned for others. We have a great country and heritage, its up to its people to make it greater or destroy it.

I feel the only hope for us is to repent as a Nation and turn to God for help or we will perish, "Repent or ye shall all likewise perish Luke 13:3 Noah warned the people of his day that the flood was coming but the people would not listen. The Bible says "As in the days of Noah so shall the days of the son of Man be". It seems we are living in the same social and immoral society today. The Bible says "Be not deceived, God is not mocked for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap -Galatians 6:7.

Let us take heed to God's warning.

Sincerely,
Edith Hogg
(Mrs Stan Hogg)

Landlords who refuse to rent to "those people"

20% of the complaints lodged with the Commission des droits de la personne are about discrimination in renting accommodation.

Most of the people who complain have been refused accommodation for reasons that have nothing to do with their ability to pay the rent or to respect the terms of the lease.

Some landlords, for example, refuse to rent to a divorced woman, or to an unmarried couple. Others will not accept children, or systematically refuse welfare recipients, the unemployed, people with coloured skin, homosexuals, immigrants, or students.

Thousands of people in Quebec are turned down without any valid reason though they are prepared to pay the rent and respect the lease.

Illegal practices– If you find yourself in this situation you should be aware that these practices are against the law. Refusing to accept someone's signature on a lease, or to renew a lease, for a reason of this type constitutes a form of discrimination forbidden by the Charter of Human Rights and Freedoms.

Under the Charter, when a lodging is available and put up for rent, everyone who is ready to pay the rent and respect the lease must be treated with complete equality, without distinction, exclusion or preference based on race, colour, sex, sexual orientation, civil status, religion, political convictions, language ethnic or national origin, or social condition.

Of course, landlords have rights too. They can refuse a tenant who would be unable to pay the rent or who may already have damaged property or frequently been a nuisance to his neighbours. The size of the lodging can also be taken into account. But no landlord can refuse a tenant who is otherwise capable of meeting his obligations, for any reason forbidden by the Charter.

What can you do about? If you think there is a chance of your being discriminated against, go in person to see the lodging which is up for rent. If possible take along a relative or a friend who can act as a witness .

If any problem arises with the landlord, point out to him that discrimination is forbidden by the law and may result in court proceedings.

Above all, try to show that you are ready and able to respect the lease: bring a letter of reference, the telephone number of your previous landlord, and so on.

If despite all this you are refused for a reason forbidden in the Charter, you can file a complaint to the Commission des droits de la personne. An investigator from the Commission will try to help you assert your rights.

You can make things easier for the investigator by keeping a copy of the advertisement for the lodging, and by noting the date and the time you tried to rent it, as well as the name and address of the landlord and witness.

For any further information, whether you are a tenant or a landlord, you can get in touch with the Commission from Monday to Friday between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. The number to call in Montreal is 873-5146, and in Québec 643-1872. You can call free from anywhere else in Quebec by dialing 1-800-361-6477.

Dr. Shaw goes on to state that refusing to proclaim freedom of choice is cowardice; the same cowardice that was displayed by the anglophone members of the liberal caucus in 1974 when Bill 22 was introduced. It they had had the guts to resign in block at that time, he states, it could never have been introduced and the tragedy we are now experiencing would never have been realized.

This time, says Dr. Shaw, the anglophone must make his choice between a free society and the destruction of a community which has every right to be proud of its contribution and achievement.

It's a choice, says Shaw, between standing up and being counted or copping out.

Now all we have to add to these well chosen words of the MNA from Pointe Claire is that as far as Pontiac County is concerned, it isn't only the anglophones who stand for freedom of choice. Everyone would naturally prefer to use his first language, that's why you hear French and English in Pontiac, but if you ever hear anyone proclaiming that people should be forced to use either French or English, you can bet it isn't a true Pontiac person. This is why Bill 101 and everything it stands for is totally unacceptable here.

Quebec declared Brucellosis-low

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan announced that Quebec has achieved brucellosis-low-incidence status, under the national program to eradicate the disease from dairy and beef cattle herds.

The program was intensified in April, 1978, and saw the country divided into three types of regions: brucellosis-free, brucellosis-low-incidence, and non-designated. To qualify as low-incidence, the number of herds under quarantine must not exceed 0.3 per cent of the herds in the region.

"Under the low-incidence status, Quebec's dairy and beef producers will have fewer restrictions on the movement of cattle," Mr Whelan said.

Livestock owners in that province will no longer have to get a brucellosis test 30 days prior to the sale of a test-eligible animal to another farm or to an auction.

Mr Whelan noted that Quebec's new status leaves only Ontario as a non-designated region. In Ontario there were 412 herds under quarantine for brucellosis as of May 31, 1978. Nationally, 643 herds were under quarantine. Brucellosis-free regions are Newfoundland, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. It is expected that British Columbia and Nova Scotia will soon be declared brucellosis-free as well. Low-incidence regions are Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Quebec.

Before being shipped to an area of low incidence, cattle must pass two brucellosis tests, at least 90 days apart, and not more than 180 days apart, with the second test being within 30 days prior to shipment. This will not apply to the movement of cattle from Ontario into Quebec. All cattle must be accompanied by a certificate from an inspector of the Health of Animals Branch and pregnant animals will require a retest after parturition and non-pregnant cattle will require a retest not less than 30 days or more than 180 days after arrival in Quebec.

Exempt from this rule are cattle destined for immediate slaughter, spayed heifers and steers, official vaccinates under 18 months of age, calves under six months of age, and cattle originating from brucellosis-free listed herds.

"Quebec's low-incidence status does not mean we are relaxing our vigilance against brucellosis there. We will continue to perform regular milk ring tests, the market cattle testing program and farm-to-farm checks. As well, producers are encouraged to get brucellosis-free listed status, which involves two negative herd tests, six months apart. Cattle from free-listed herds may be shipped anywhere in Canada without test restriction," Mr Whelan said.

LIBRARY CORNER

BY M.G.

This week at the library I found a really good book called Five on a Hike Together by Enid Blyton.

This is the tenth book in a long series of adventure stories about the same children, but each story is different and you can read them in any order.

In Five On a Hike Together, Dick, Julian, Ann and George are given a mysterious message which gets them into worse trouble than anyone expected. The mysterious message was: Two trees. Gloomy water. Saucy Jane. Maggie Knows.

Read Five on a Hike Together and find out how they unpuzzled it. Do you know that the library is open on Saturday mornings now, especially for the month of July? From 10 - 11, a.m. - a great time to get some books to read during the week.

Shawville jogging club

The Shawville jogging club in its second year of operation has now become the Shawville "Striders" and with the support of local businesses hope to provide their members this year with uniforms. The objectives of the club listed in order of priority are 3 fold.

1. to involve more people in a recreational type of activity
2. to improve the existing fitness level of the individual
3. to provide a stepping stone to further competition for the more serious runners.

Each jogger can make the club what he or she wants it to be. The sport of jogging is rapidly catching on in our society. It requires no special skill or equipment, just an individual's time an determination to achieve the goals she or he sets for themselves.

Jogging increases the potential of the heart and its supporting vessels, thereby aiding these vessels to carry the oxygen to the desired muscles. This means a lower heart rate and slows down the hardening of the arteries.

Jogging can lower your resting pulse rate and help you lose weight.

The opposite is also true. Gaining weight can make raise the resting pulse rate and consequently make the heart work harder and beat more often. The person who has a resting pulse rate of 60 beats per minute equals 86,000 beats per day. The person whose heart beats 80 times per minute equals 4800 beats per hour or approximately 115,000 beats per day. Even at complete rest the person with the higher pulse rate forces his heart to beat nearly 30,000 more times every day of his life. Think of the extra work his heart is subjected to in over a year of his life. One Shawville doctor once remarked on the high incidence of high blood pressure in our area. Let's try to change that.

The jogging club is open to interested persons of all ages.

We would like to emphasize involvement, so come out to participate and bring your friends. See Shawville from a different viewpoint other than the car window. For more information, contact Ron Beattie 647-3761, Dhakshana Mahesan 647-3708, John Petty 647-2402.

As part of our Canada Day Celebrations, seven runners from the Pontiac competed against 100 others in a road race from Petawawa to Pembroke. Their respective place finishes and times in the ten mile run were:

Joe Richardson and Ron Beattie, 16th place (54 minutes), Brent Manwell, 46th place (63 minutes), Colleen Stanley, 71st place- 7th female (69 minutes), Dhakshana Mahesan, 81st place- 12th female (72 minutes), Darwin Smith, 82nd place, 73 minutes and John Petty, 25th place (59 minutes).

Foster homes for adults

Since the nineteenth of June, Marsha Coyne has been searching for families who wish to house adults. These adults due to their age or handicaps cannot care for themselves alone.

This initiative is the fruit of one close collaboration between the Pontiac Social Planning Council and the Centre de Services Sociaux de l'Outaouais, in Campbell's Bay.

Marsha is one of five students hired by the P.S.P.C. thanks to the subsidy of the Secretary of State. Her specific task is: to recruit foster families for adults especially in the English Communities of Pontiac.

If you live in the municipalities or surrounding areas of Shawville, Bristol, Campbell's Bay and Bryson, you will be hearing more about her.

If you wish to meet with her to obtain more information about foster families, to give your name or the names of other persons that you think are interested in the situation of older people in Pontiac, do not hesitate to call Marsha at 648-2152 from Monday to Friday, 8:30 to à;&& pm . The house was the residence of Norman and Lois Reid who lost the large amount of their personal possessions in the blaze. EQUITY PHOTO

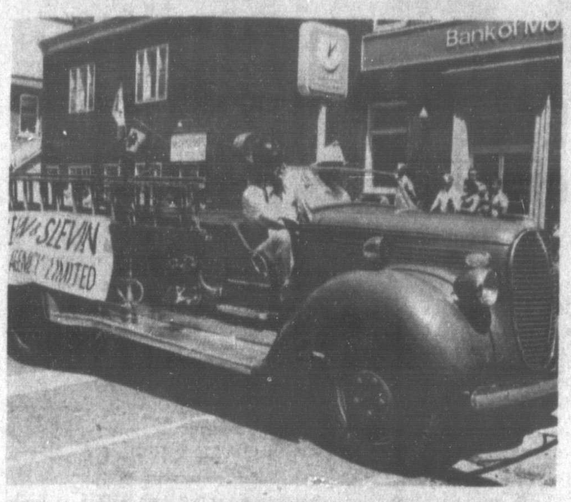
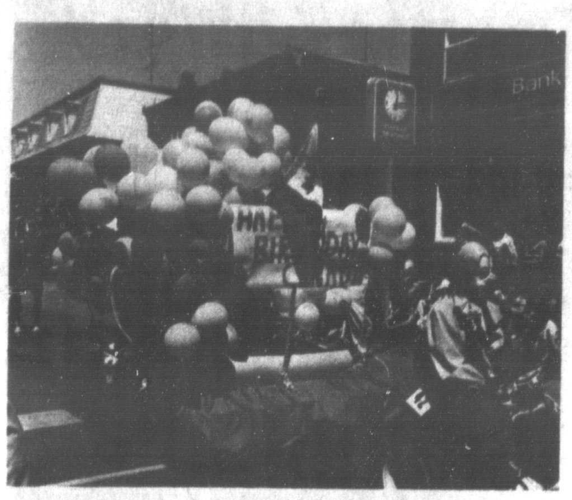
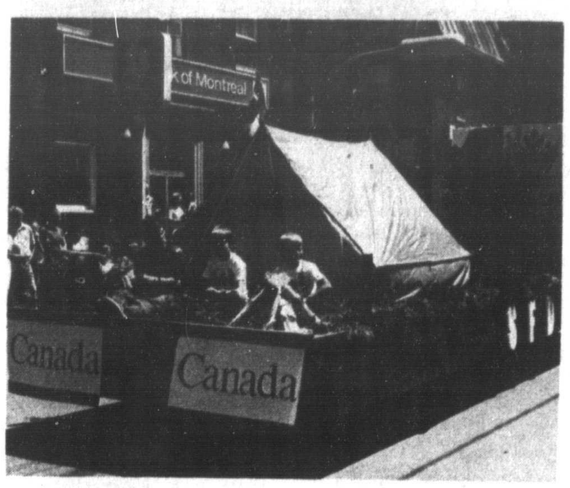
That was really a great parade altogether!







Off and Trotting
by Margaret Neal

Newsboy, painter, newspaper man, lumber man, entrepreneur, and politician — but first, last, and always, a harness horseman.

Fiery and colorful, boisterous and fearless, Sam McBride was always in the thick of things. He was alderman, controller, and mayor of Toronto over a 30-year period starting in 1905. And whether he was hot on the election trail, training and driving his fast stepping trotters, or bellowing his orders to an unruly driver from the starter's stand at the races, he was a stormy petrel, and he ruled with an iron hand.

Sam was the kind of man who usually got what he wanted. Incensed because he had to drive his horse and wagon over pot-holed Toronto roads, he ran for council so he could "kick up a fuss" — and he did it!

In his own words "my real ambition was to drive a horse and kart". He steered his stable-star, King Bryson, to a world ice record for trotters over a half-mile track at Plattsburg, N.Y. — He did it!

He helped to guide the early destiny of the harness sport as president of the Canadian Standardbred Horse Society, the Toronto Driving Club, and Director of the Canadian National Trotting and Pacing and Dominion Harness Horse Associations, long before these organizations became the Canadian Trotting Association in 1939. He wanted to help improve the sport — and he did it!

Few people were indifferent to Sam McBride. They loved him and they hated him but few if any of his most zealous opponents failed to forgive him, for they recognized his courage as a sincere battler in the arena of life.

Produced by the Publicity Department of the Canadian Trotting Association and Standardbred Canada — the historical division of the CTA.

Off and Trotting
by Margaret Neal

When the road construction workers changed shift the next day at 5 o'clock the travellers started their hair-raising night trip, escorted by a friendly policeman.

It was only then they learned the full name of the man who had been on the other end of the garageman's phone. It was none other than Phil Gagliardi, then Minister of Highways for the province of British Columbia!

Produced by the Publicity Department of the Canadian Trotting Association and Standardbred Canada - the historical division of CTA.

No matter by what name he was called—be it harness horse, carriage horse, roadster, or standardbred — the road horse played an important role in the history of Canadian transportation.

He hauled the produce to market, took the folks to church and school, delivered the milk, ice and mail, the midwife, doctor, lawyer, merchant and chief, and was the pleasure horse of the elite.

It was only fitting that he should be one of the first, if not the very first to travel the Trans Canada Highway from Vancouver to Edmonton.

The highway, over its most difficult stretch, was not yet open for traffic. It was strewn with boulders bigger than horse-vans, and had stretches of open-tie trestles over deep gorges and wild rivers.

The tunnels were incomplete and switch-backs had to be made to negotiate hairpin turns around towering mountain shoulders beside sheer cliffs that dropped off for hundreds of feet.

When Art Hunter and Don Mohler left Vancouver to take their horses to Calgary to race, they decided to try to go across the shorter new highway route. When they came to the mountainous section they were stopped by barricades, and pulled into a roadside service station. They asked the grease-stained, overall-clad proprietor if it was possible to use the road across the mountains.

The man was friendly and helpful and went to his telephone and made a long-distance call. When the party answered he said. "Hello — Phil?" And then he proceeded to explain the problem.

On completion of the call he told them arrangements had been made for them to cross, providing they would wait until 5 p.m. the next day. Mrs. Mohler prepared food, while the men cared for the 17 horses.

Familles d'accueil assemblée générale

L'assemblée générale des familles d'accueil de l'Outaouais eu lieu à l'Isle du Grand Calumet à la salle municipale le 10 juin, y compris des délégués de Hull, Buckingham, Maniwaki, Campbell's Bay.

L'inscription se fit à 1:00 après midi et pour débuté la journée M. Georges Fortin, president régional de Maniwaki, adressa la parole de bienvenue à l'assemblée. L'ordre du jour fut donné suivit par la présentation de la vamille d'accueil de l'année M. et Mme Paul Giroux de Ferme Neuve qui ont accueillit des enfants depuis 21 ans.

L'adresse et plaque souvenir honorant cette famille très spéciale fut lu et presentées par Laura Godin faisant parti de l'Association local de Campbell's Bay et par la suite un très jolie bouquet de roses rouges et boutonnières presentés par Mme Hélène Cournoyer et Mme Yvette Gauthier représentants du C.S.S.O. de Hull.

Le travail d'atelier comprit deux ateliers: le contrat - règles générales établit par des représentants du M.A.S. de l'Association des Centres de Services Sociaux et de la Féderation des familles d'accueil du Quebec - et l'avenir de l'Association - son autonomie.

Après une pause café à 3 heures, le travaille résumé jusqu'a 4:30, la plénière ayant été remis après le banquet.

A 5 heures les gens se rendirent à l'église Ste Anne pour une messe spéciale qui fut dit par le père Rhéal Carrière et pour y mettre un air de fête et de piété, de beaux chants furent chanté par Michel Cliche et son épouse Christiane. Michel est chef de bureau du C.S.S. de Maniwaki.

Le succès de cette journée fut partagé avec la coopération des membres de l'exécutif régional et locaux, l'aide juridique de Maniwaki Me Pierre Thisdale qui à donné ses services à l'Association régional et locaux depuis 3 ans, les représentants des Centres de Service Sociaux ayant en tête le directeur general M. Marc Senechal, le comité d'organisation et de personnes ressources bénévole et finallement pour combler la journée, un somptueux repas servit par les dames de la paroisse, Mme Rose LaSalle, Mme Evylyn Gratton et Mme Brigitte LaSalle, entre autres.

RESULTATS DES ATELIERS

Contrat rejeté - selon l'avis de Me Pierre Thisdale de Maniwaki les membres ont jugés prudent de réétudier le contrat et de voir jusqu'a quel point le ministère des Affaires Social veut se retirer de ses obligations envers les familles d'accueil.

L'Avenir de l'Association régional - Après 3 ans de travail de collaboration entre l'Association Régional et le C.S.S.O., le temps est arrivé où l'Association doit valer de ses propres ailes "La force commence chez-nous" - pour les associations locaux il reste un énorme travail à faire afin de motiver d'avantage les familles d'accueil pour leur faire voir l'importance de leur Association.

CONCLUSION

La parole adressé par le directeur generale du C.S.S.O. Marc Senechal, semblait bien à propos, faisant example que l'Association est comme le jeune adulte qui à atteint ses 18 ans et doit assumer ses responsabilités dans une societé qui n'est pas toujours facile, et qu'en devenant une force autonome le travail fait par ces deux organismes eventuellement porteront fruits aux familles d'accueil.

Des belles paroles furent addressées aux familles d'accueil par le père Rhéal Carrière - "de se souvenir que Dieu reconnait le travail fait avec amour envers les moins fortunés et que ça devient facile à ne plus y penser en termes de sacrifices lorsque nous y mettons de la vraie amour." Une sincère remerciement pour une journée bien réussi fut addressé aux invités par le president d'Association de Campbell's Bay, M. Pierre Corriveau.

Notons l'importance de la publicité pour l'Association des familles d'accueil afin de changer l'image que se fait la populatio des familles d'accueil et ansi attirer de nouvelles familles voulant relever le défi d'aider la societé en gardant et souvent rééduquant un enfant placé par les C.S.S. Si plus de familles sont attirées par la publicité les travailleurs sociaux auront un plus grand choix de familles et ainsi les placements faits seronts plus stables, garantie de succès.

Bourses d'étudiants

Le Conseil de Planning Social du comté de Pontiac essaie de créer un fond annuel pour des bourses d'étudiants. Cet argent est pour tout étudiant qui disire continuer ses études et pour les gradués dans le domaine de la santé et des services sociaux qui veulent retourner pratiquer leur profession dans le comté de Pontiac. Nous avons fait parvenir de nombreuses lettres aux plus importantes compagnies du Canada et leurs réponses furent très décevantes. Nous espérons d'avoir l'aide des conseils municipaux, organisations et clubs de comté. Jusqu'à maintenant nous avons approximativement deux milles dollars. Les fonds que nous avons reçus sont encourageants.

Un marchethon sera organisé pour le mois de juillet et nous comptons sur la collaboration du public pour un très grand succès. Nous essayons d'encourager les étudiants car ce sont qui vont bénéficier de ce fond d'etudiant. Pierre Beaudoin

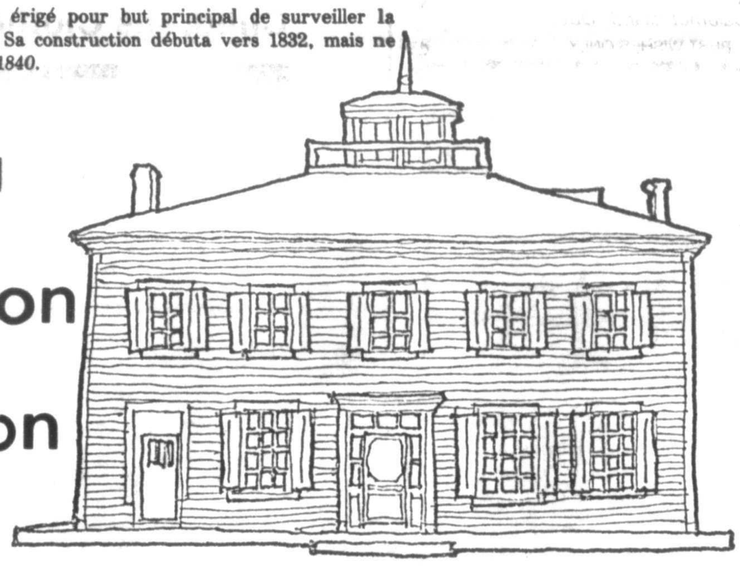
La journée patrimoine de la maison Bryson

La maison Bryson sera ouverte au public samedi le 8 juillet de 13:00 hres à 17:00 heures. Il y aura aussi des rafraîchissements servis à l'extérieur.

Un groupe de personnes interessées à la renovation de cette magnifique maison, située en face du pont couvert de Fort Coulonge, sur la route 148 dans la municipalité de Mansfield (Pontefrac), a oreganisé cette rencontre afin de l'exposer au public.i

Ce bâtiment fut érigé pour but principal de surveiller la riviére Coulonge. Sa construction débuta vers 1832, mais ne fut terminé qu'en 1840.



Cette maison fut récemment achetée par un particulier désirant se joindre à d'autres personnes pour la restorer et la remettre aux mains d'un oreganisme sans but lucratif.

Cette ancienne maison de ferme fut choisie comme la plus intéressante au point de vue architecture, par la plupart des gens interviewés par la Patrimoine Architectural du Pontiac.

A 15:00 heures, M. Gilles Lafrance, chef de l'entrainement de la conservation des sites historique nationaux, dirigera une visite de la maison et des alentours.

Vous êtes cordiallement invités à vous joindre à nous pour rappeler notre passé et discuter du futur.

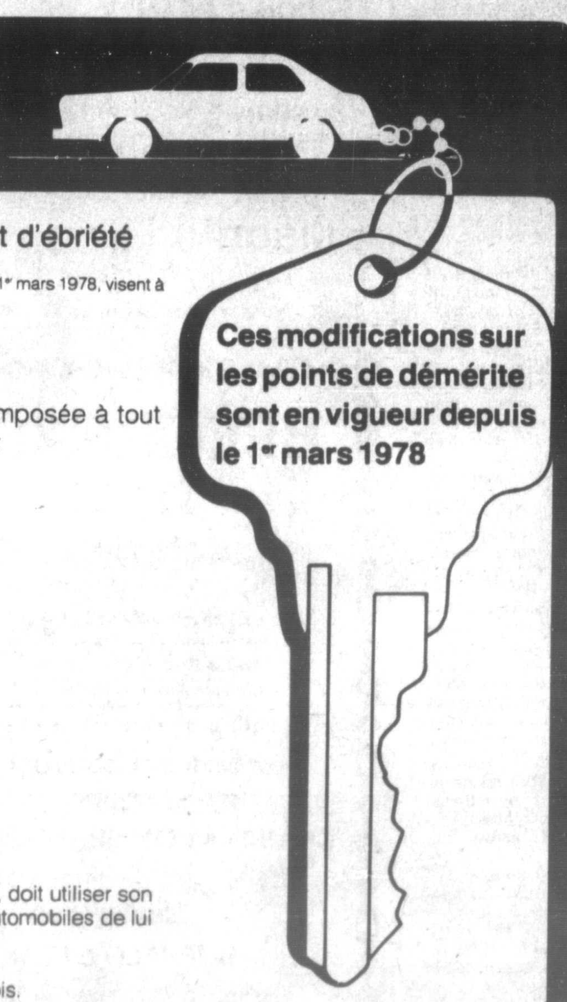
8 façons de perdre votre permis de conduire



Mesures expéditives qui écartent de la route les conducteurs en état d'ébriété

Des amendements à l'article 22 de la loi de l'indemnisation des victimes d'accidents d'automobiles en vigueur depuis le 1er mars 1978, visent à éliminer de la route les automobilistes trouvés coupables d'offenses criminelles au volant d'une voiture.

Suspension immédiate du permis de conduire pour trois mois

Une suspension automatique du permis de conduire pour trois (3) mois sera imposée à tout conducteur trouvé coupable devant un juge, de l'une des infractions suivantes:

- conduite ou garde d'un véhicule automobile:
  - — avec facultés affaiblies par l'alcool ou la drogue,
  - ou
  - — avec, dans le sang, plus de .08 milligramme d'alcool;
- refus de subir le test de l'ivressomètre;
- délit de fuite;
- conduite dangereuse;
- négligence, au volant d'une automobile, entraînant la mort ou une lésion corporelle;
- négligence criminelle dans la mise en service d'un véhicule automobile;
- homicide involontaire suite à une infraction commise au volant d'une automobile.

Émission d'un permis de conduire spécial pour le travail

S'il est prouvé devant le tribunal que le conducteur, trouvé coupable de l'une de ces infractions, doit utiliser son véhicule pour gagner sa vie, le juge peut recommander au Directeur du Bureau des véhicules automobiles de lui émettre un permis de conduire pour les seules fins de son travail.

Cependant la suspension du permis de conduire régulier passera alors de trois (3) à six (6) mois.

Aujourd'hui, donc, la procédure est changée. Pour les infractions déjà mentionnées ci-dessus, il n'y a plus de points de démérite inscrits au dossier du contrevenant, mais son permis de conduire est suspendu sur-le-champ pour une période d'au moins trois (3) mois.

School boards present brief on Green Paper

The Protestant Regional School Board of Western Quebec presented its brief on the Green Paper on Education to Ministry officials on Friday, June 16, 1978 in Montreal.

The Board submitted a lengthy brief which contained contributions from all sectors of the educational community, and was several months in the making. Commissioner Pauline Smith represented the Board at the hearings, and outlined the major recommendations of the brief to the Ministry of Education.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

School Boards should be retained. School Boards represent a democratic system accountable to local taxpayers, readily accessible to all, the responsive to the wishes of the community.

The Ministry of Education must ensure that financially and pedagogically a minimum standard be attained throughout Quebec.

School Boards should be allowed to determine and implement alternative pedagogical programs and standards above the departmental minimums, which would reflect the expectations and aspirations of the communities they serve.

School Boards should retain the responsibility for setting their own tax rates.

Principals should be the educational leaders and managers of schools.

Teachers should be consulted on those aspects of education not included in the Collective Agreement with respect to their own school.

Parents must be encouraged to have an increased awareness of the educational process that would lead to more involvement. Legislation in this regard is not considered a solution to promoting parental involvement, and legislation, in fact, may be counter-productive. School Boards should include parent representatives on committees with voting rights.

Responsibilities of a regional type government should not include education and educational services.

The brief analyses the Green Paper clause by clause, and assesses the results that proposed changes would have on Western Quebec School communities. Copies of the brief are available from the School Board offices.

POLICE REPORT

Constable André Dulude is investigating the death early Sunday morning of 14 year old Blair Wayne Telford, youngest son of Wayne Telford and his wife the former Betty Lepine. At 3:45 a.m. Sunday, on Main Street at the west end of Shawville, Blair was run over and died instantly. A largely attended funeral was held in the chapel at Hayes Funeral Home on Tuesday, July 4th, with burial in Maple Grove Cemetery. Rev. Owen MacPherson conducted the service.

The officers at the Campbell's Bay Detachment of the QPF are deeply concerned that Pontiac County is second only to Rouyn for the incidence of juvenile crime. Almost half the crimes in Pontiac are comitted by juveniles, and a large number of these delinquent youth are never found by the police. The reason for this is that the population in general will not co-operate with the police in their investigations of juveniles.

Sgt Barbeau feels that the time for police to steer young people away from a life of crime is early, at their first offence if possible. By the time a young person is 18 or 20 and has successfully committed a number of offences against society, he is laughing at the law and becomes a hardened criminal.

Anyone who knows the names, or even who could describe the appearance of the youths who have been pulling plants out of planters or who have been taking down flags all over the County, and particularly in Shawville, should tell the police. It's not necessary to identify oneself; an anonymous letter would do, or an anonymous phone call.

Some people are afraid to report names to police because they think they will then be required to make a formal charge in court. This often is true in the case of adult criminals, but juvenile cases seldom get to court. Knowing who the offender is merely gives the police, and the social workers when they are called in, an opportunity to attempt to steer the juvenile away from a life of crime. Experience in other areas shows that the police are able to do this successfully if they can locate the young wrongdoer early. Each time a youngster can laugh at the law he becomes more set in his bad habits; the eventual result is that instead of merely having a high incidence of juvenile crime, the area becomes a proving ground for future criminals of all sorts.

The situation now is serious and becomes more grave every time a person knowing about juvenile delinquency in the neighbourhood, keeps the facts from the police. A great amount of money is spent to support the police and the social services but it is all a waste if they aren't used to correct faults in our society. Certainly, according to Sgt Barbeau and other officers at Campbell's Bay, the rate of juvenile delinquency in the Pontiac is a serious fault. This is why they hope someone will come forward and tell them the names of the delinquents. Taking the law into one's own hands is the worst way to solve the overall problem.

A case in point is the vandalism perpetrated on St. Paul's Anglican Church in Shawville where a window was broken, vases, statues, brass and wooden religious objects were destroyed, and obscenities were scribbled in the register. It is not possible that the people who did the damage have not told someone of their exploits and the chances are that a number of people in town know who they are. Sgt Barbeau, and Constable Leduc who investigated, urge whoever know the identity of those young vandals to send in their names as a public service to the community and to the youngsters involved.

Investigating narcotics has occupied the time of the police recently, although they state that alcohol is a far more serious problem among the youth of this area. Fifty two plants of marijuana were seized at the farm of Robert Stafford, RR3, Shawville, who will be accused of growing marijuana. Also nine cubes of hash were found in Otter Lake in a car owned by a Mr Ladouceur of Gatineau who will be charged with possession and possibly also with trafficking. Other drug raids in Campbell's Bay and in Fort Coulonge have been made, usually at hotels, and the work continues.

Tax relief for small businesses

Important tax relief for the small businessman will be provided by new amendments to the Income Tax Act allowing much broader deductions for capital losses, it was announced May 25 by Finance Minister Jean Chrétien and the Minister of State for Small Business, Tony Abbott.

Allowable capital losses on shares or debts of Canadian-controlled private corporations will be deductible for tax purposes against income from any source. The change will apply to losses incurred after 1977.

if the loss exceeds income in the year it occurs, the balance may be carried back against income of the previous year or forward against income for the next five years, in the same way as business losses under the present Act.

The new rules will apply to both corporations and individuals.

At present, a corporation may deduct allowable capital losses only from taxable capital gains. Such losses that are not deductible currently may be carried back one year and forward indefinitely but may offset only taxable capital gains in the carryover period. The same rules currently apply to individual except that $2,000 of allowable losses may be offset against any other income.

The new provision will create a category known as "allowable business investment loss," which will be incorporated into the current definition of a "non-capital loss".

READ ANY GOOD LABELS LATELY?
A basic guide to the Who, What, Where, When and Why of Shopping Canadian.
Why should you Shop Canadian?
Every time you buy something made in Canada, you help keep a Canadian working. You help keep Canadian money inside Canada. You help to expand and strengthen Canada's economy.
When you think about it, you help yourself.
When should you Shop Canadian?
Whenever you're satisfied that the product or service you need is
(A) made or grown in Canada and
(B) of equal or better value and quality.
That's not just good advice... it's good sense.
MADE IN CANADA
FABRIQUÉ AU CANADA
What is made in Canada?
Just about everything you need to help you live the life you want.
As the saying goes, we have no bananas, but we do have Apples, Bandages, Cranes, Drills, Elevators, Furniture, Glassware, Holiday resorts, Insulation, Jewellery, Kitchen appliances, Lumber, Machinery, Newspapers, Office equipment, Potatoes, Quilts, Rope, Steel, Tires, Umbrellas, Vaccines, Wines, X-Ray equipment, Yarns, and Zippers.
Everything, in other words, from A to Z.
Who should Shop Canadian?
Every day, most of us have the choice. Whether we're buying groceries for the home or supplies for business, farm or industry.
If each of us added only $10 a week to Canadian made purchases, Canada would be over 10 billion dollars better off in just one year.
Who should Shop Canadian?
You should.
Where does it say Made in Canada?
Sometimes it doesn't. Sometimes a sign says "Produce of P.E.I." Or "B.C. Apples" or "Fabriqué au Quebec" or "Made in Manitoba" or "New Brunswick Sardines" or "Grown by Saskatchewan Farmers" or "A product of Alberta" or "Fresh from Newfoundland" or "Manufactured in Ontario" or "Nova Scotia Lobster."
The point is, if you take the trouble to find out, you can usually tell.
And, if it's made anywhere in the ten Provinces or the Territories, it is made in Canada.

THOMPSON — In loving memory of our dear Mother and Granny, Maude Iona who passed away July 6, 1968
We never really understood,
At least until we had grown
The fulness of a mother's love,
The joys and cares we have known
We did not see the simple things
She did from day to day.
We simply took for granted
Her thoughtful, loving ways.
But as we grew, our wisdom grew
Until the moment when
We knew how much her love had meant
How wonderful she had been
And so with warm and loving thoughts
We would simply like to say,
Our Mom shall always be remembered
Today and every day.
Sadly missed Hiram and Margaret, Ricky and Garry, Kathy and Bonny.

Aylmer Legion in new home

Thursday, June 15 was moving day for Branch 33, and the next day, Friday the 16th, the legion opened its doors to all members.

This was the long awaited day, members have been working toward this goal for almost 3 years since fire destroyed their old quarters in 1975.

The opening day was greeted to a large turnout of members, there are a few bugs to be ironed out in the new building but generally everything went smoothly. The official opening will probably be sometime in September.

Happy birthday to Philip Paquette who celebrated his nineth birthday on June 28.

Shawville Hospital Auxiliary

The June meeting of the Shawville Hospital Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs Kenneth Smith with 29 present.

The President opened the meeting with prayer and welcomed members and guests and thanked Mrs Smith for the kind invitation to her home.

Minutes were read by Margaret Lang, and approved.

Miss Gamble gave the Treasury report of Bank Balance $340.60. It was decided to give $250. to the Hospital donation fund.

There were lovely gifts for the show case. 12 new bibs and birthday fees received.

We were happy to have Mrs Marks with us, and expressed our regrets in her leaving our hospital. In appreciation of her interest, and association with us, a gift from the members, a gold Brooch, was presented to her.

Our guest speaker, Mrs Oscar Nair, visiting from Africia, gave an interesting story of their living in Africia at this time.

Our meeting closed with a poem read by Mrs Christine Armour. 'Summer Vacation'.

Delicious refreshments were served by our hostesses, Mrs Kenneth Smith and Mrs Gordon Bradley and our pleasant afternoon closed with benediction.
