Meeting Favors Plans For Civic Centre For County

Committee to Go Ahead With Organization For Celebration This Year

At a meeting on Friday evening, in the County Building, representatives of Huntingdon County, members of various organizations in the Town and the public as a whole expressed their support of the plans to build a County War Memorial. During the meeting there was a free expression of opinion; the problems involved in building the civic center and the means of raising money were discussed. It was agreed that the "Old Home Week" undertaking would not only raise money for the project but would in addition be a boost to the Town of Huntingdon in the public eye. It was emphasized throughout, however, that this was a project for the benefit of the entire county.

Mr. Francois Cleyn presided. In his opening remarks he outlined the groundwork already done by the committee. He then called upon Mr. Richard Tinker to present a tentative plan for the war memorial civic center. It consisted of a skating rink (180' x 80') with dressing rooms and facilities for two teams. The building would have a cement foundation and would consist of concrete blocks. The entrance front would be made of pitch and gravel. The roof of the arena of timbers and shingles. It would be capable of seating 4,000 persons. The cost would be $100,000. If artificial ice was installed, there would be an additional cost of $50,000, bringing the total to $150,000. The trend of opinion at the meeting was that because the project was for the benefit of the entire county, it should be built where it would be accessible to all, possibly on the fair ground.

The main dispute of the evening concerned the question of artificial ice. Many people felt that the project would not be worth while if the facilities for artificial ice were not installed. Nearly everyone agreed that the equipment should be installed eventually but it was questionable whether the funds could be raised at this time. It was finally settled that the committee would set its goal as high as possible and that artificial ice equipment would be purchased if the money could be raised.

There was a great deal of discussion regarding the use of the building might be put to during the summer and fall. One person suggested that it might be converted into a roller-skating rink. And it was agreed that the building might prove very useful for the agricultural exhibitions and the Huntingdon Fair. Moreover it was pointed out that the promoters of various horse shows might be interested in supporting the campaign.

In discussing the means of financing the project, two plans were put forward. One involved the Legion who would raise money for the building as a war memorial. At the same time the "Old Home Week" undertaking would also help. Mr. Cleyn reviewed the work already done by the committee in laying the plans for an "Old Home Week" and it was agreed that the celebration would be of great value, not only as a means of obtaining funds but as an event which would give the people who regard Huntingdon as home and who have moved away, a chance to return and "mingle with the old-time crowd." Moreover, it was suggested, many veterans who were stationed at the Army camp here made friends with the people of Huntingdon. They might like the chance of renewing these old friendships.

Many suggestions were put forward for "Old Home Week." These included a parade, sports, races, Royal Canadian Mounted Police horse show, bingos, etc. It was decided that a canvass would be undertaken shortly throughout the county to obtain a mailing list of persons who might be invited to Huntingdon during the celebration.

Young Run-away Returned to Parents

Mr. Lawrence Brown on Monday while driving from Montreal, gave a lift to a young lad in his early teens. Mr. Brown drove the boy all the way to Huntingdon but, unknown to him, the boy was a run-away. The young lad spoke no English and Mr. Brown had noticed that he seemed to have no particular destination. Later he found out that the lad had had nothing to eat during the day. He bought the young man a meal and then notified the Huntingdon police. The lad was brought to the station where Chief L'Heureux questioned him thoroughly and detained him overnight. It was revealed that he had run away after some trouble at school. He was afraid, for some reason, of being punished. His parents were notified immediately and on Tuesday they called for the boy and took him home. The young fugitive is a resident of Point St. Charles and is 13 years of age.

Finds Pearls In Oyster While Dining

Mr. James Fox had something unusual happen to him a week ago, something which probably will not occur to anyone in Huntingdon County for another thousand years. While lunching with a few of his associates at the Chateau recently, Mr. Fox was relishing one of his favourite dishes, namely oysters. Quite to his surprise he discovered that one of them contained not one — but two — pearls. They were small, about half the size of a pea. So small that Mr. Fox nearly swallowed them. They were white, not completely round but beyond doubt they were pearls.

Authorities on the subject state that pearls are formed when a grain of sand or some other foreign matter has been introduced into the shell. The organism then precipitates the pearly material around it and continues to do so as it enlarges its shell. Finding a pearl in a commercial oyster is extremely rare. Many nowadays are cultivated artificially. It is doubtful whether those of Mr. Fox are of any value but it is certain that, though he has enjoyed oysters for many years and will probably enjoy many more, he will never find another pearl.

Old Timers Hockey Game To Be Season's Event

Takes Place at Skating Rink Friday Night—Promises Plenty of Fun

The "Old Timers Hockey Team" which will play against the Huntingdon Merchants this Friday, Feb. 17th, has been slowly getting into shape for the big game. All during the past week the players who are to make up this team have been making the rounds of the ice back at the skating rink. Rumor has it that they have held a couple of secret practices. When Manager Charlie Faillie was asked if his team was in shape to play the Merchants, he said, "What kind of shape the boys are in will be seen on Friday night; I won't make any predictions but I just hope the Merchants play up to their best form. If they don't, I think they will be in for a hard night".

From the Merchants' camp comes word that the team held a big practice last Thursday, everyone played well and up to this time everyone is in good shape and ready to go. The Merchants still do not think the Old Timers will give them much trouble but — maybe that's just the talk of you. Well, we will all have to wait 'til Friday night to see who comes out the best, when these two teams face each other on the ice. So don't forget to be there's Friday, Feb. 17th, at 8.30.

American Government Bothered By Agricultural Surplus Products

Millions of Dollars Paid Out in Price Supports For Farm Products

The Huntingdon farmer is not alone in his problems. He can look for sympathy to his neighbors south of the border. U.S. markets are swamped with an estimated 40 million bushels of potatoes more coming in all the time from Canada. Moreover it is reported that the Department of Agriculture has over 100 million dollars' worth of eggs on its hands and no idea how to dispose of them. In addition, as if that were not enough, there is a threatened surplus in the milk industry.

Potatoes present the most serious problem. The Government announced in Washington last week that it would dump between 25,000,000 and 40,000,000 bushels of potatoes which it acquired during price-support operations. Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan said they would be disposed of where they were grown.

Brannan authorized their sale, after they are made unfit for human consumption, at one cent for 100 pounds. Farmers are expected to use them for livestock feed or fertilizer. They originally cost the Government $1.25 on a national average. The department last week slashed the support price on the 1950 crop to $1.01 a bushel, an immediate drop of nine cents.

The department holds about 50,000,000 bushels of potatoes, which it acquired through purchases under the law which requires support prices for agricultural products. Present law requires support at 80 per cent of parity—the price the law declares to be fair to both farmers and consumers.

Brannan has estimated that price supports on the 1949 potato crop will cost the Government between $80,000,000 and $100,000,000.

Trade sources said recently that Canadian potatoes are coming into the potato-glutted United States through every port on the eastern seaboard and two companies here have unloaded 75,000,000 pounds of them since Oct. 15.

The U.S. National Potato Council, a producers' organization on Thursday called upon the U.S. government to ban the importation of Canadian potatoes. It declared that such importation, "in effect uses public funds to stimulate an ever increasing production and an ever increasing higher level of income to the Canadian grower at the expense of the American taxpayer."

Already swamped by eggs, the U.S. government will continue through March to support the prices the farmer gets for eggs at 25 cents a dozen.

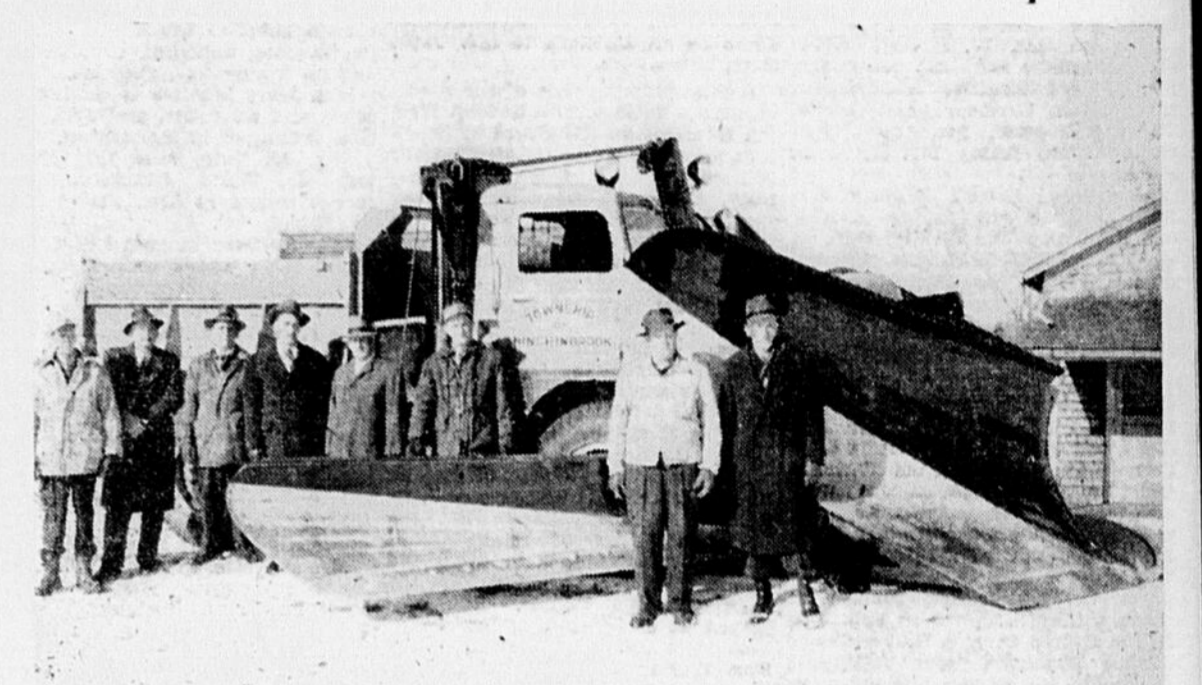

Summarization of Problems Affecting Agriculture

What Will the Answer Be That Will Maintain The Economy of the Basic Industry of Canada

From Toronto a week or so ago came the report that more than 1,300 cases of celery were thrown into the city dump. An official of the Lake Simcoe Ice Company said that scores of celery growers in the Brantford area were in the same position. He said, "There was supposed to be a floor price of $1.50 a case plus storage last summer, but the price kept dropping until now there is no market. The market is flooded."

In addition cold storage holdings of creamery butter are very much higher than during the same period last year. The general view in trade circles is that when the new production season gets under way towards the end of April, there will be an over-all surplus of butter in Canada of around 15 to 20 million pounds. Nor is the picture for other dairy products any better; a short while ago the government rushed forward with a price floor to save the crumbling egg market. Mr. Gilbert Macmillan summed up the situation very neatly recently when he said that a state of emergency exists in the dairy industry. He might have applied his statement to the entire agricultural economy.

Sea Serpent Sighted By Judge and Family

VANCOUVER—Caddy, the sea serpent with a head "like a snake" is back at Victoria beaches. Chief Justice James T. Brown of Regina said here on Wednesday he saw the serpent last Sunday and "it looked like a monstrous snake."

"I have two witnesses to prove it," he added. "My wife and my daughter."

He described the sea monster—first reported in the Vancouver Island waters of Cadboro Bay in the early 30s—as 35 to 40 feet long, a head like a snake, and dark in color.

"It got three good looks at him; on one occasion he came almost right in front of us."

Big Event at Rink on Saturday

Chance Offered to See Barbara Ann Scott

The officials of the Huntingdon Skating Rink are looking for your support to help them pay off the costs of putting the rink into condition for another season's use. They have spent a sum of $450, in renovating the structure to make it safe for this season's use and something has to be done to raise the amount and clear the indebtedness.

If order that the money they contribute, tickets are now on sale for a drawing which will take place on March 8th, and the prizes being offered are four first class tickets for the skating event at Valleyfield which will feature Barbara Ann Scott when she makes her appearance at Valleyfield Arena on Monday night, March 13th; also there will be two let class tickets for the same event and on the same night, as a second prize. On Saturday night, February 18th, there will be an Old Timers' skating party when it is hoped there will be a very excellent attendance and this will do much to fill the coffers and help in defraying the cost of the work done. In fact, all day on Saturday there will be a gala event at the Rink, which is known as a Valentine Party. Show your appreciation of what has been done by attending this event and purchasing tickets on the drawing for the Barbara Ann Scott tickets.

United Church Reports 1949 A Success

All Expenses Met — Favorable Balance on Hand

The Annual Congregational supper and meeting was held in the United Church on Friday evening, Feb. 10th. About 180 adults and children sat down to a fine supper prepared by the ladies of the church. The children were entertained after supper with moving pictures. The reports of all the various organizations were read and were received with great satisfaction in that all reports showed a substantial gain, various objectives having been reached. Mention was made of the decorating of the church during this past year, new matting in the porch and stairways; the choir having obtained new gowns and caps. The expenses involved for all these various objects had been met and a favourable balance on hand with which to begin the year 1950.

Rev. Mr. Knowles spoke on various aspects of the work, including pastoral calls, sick calls in homes and hospitals.

Mr. W. L. Carr entertained with two of Drummond's readings. Mr. Charles Reid sang a solo and Mr. Kees de Vandenburg sang some hymns in his own Dutch language. These items were enjoyed by all.

The various offices were filled for the coming year. The reports on the whole for last year gave the people much satisfaction, which was one of the best yet. The minister urged the people on to higher attainments and try to make 1950 still better.

Patenaude Questioned By States Police Officials

Visit Prisoner in Montreal Because of Story Told by Partner, Kenneth Bevin

PLATTSBURG—Clinton County officers drew a blank Saturday in an attempt to clear up the case of the missing George Colgan, 71, of Churubusco, who was last seen alive on Dec. 10, 1948.

Sheriff Emmett Ducatte, District Attorney Sherlock E. Haley and Joe Gibson, supervisor of the town of Clinton, Saturday journeyed to Montreal to visit Kenneth Bevin and Gervin Patenaude, 18-year-old farmhands, who are being held in connection with the December 11 murder and robbery of a Huntingdon, Que., taxi driver.

Ducatte said that he had received a letter from a chaplain of the Montreal jail, formerly known as Bordeau Prison, stating that Bevin and Patenaude wanted to see and talk to the Clinton County sheriff "in the interests of justice."

Ducatte had once before questioned the pair regarding the disappearance of Colgan, but had obtained no information.

A Malone spokesman of the state police said troopers had also questioned the pair following their arrest last December but had not been able to get anything on the youths.

Bevin allegedly told his questioners Saturday that some time last month Patenaude had stated that he had given Colgan a ride, shot him, robbed the body of $72 and then thrown the body in a spring between Malone and Churubusco.

Bevin said that he had supposed to talk to Patenaude about the matter but Patenaude would not talk in front of Haley and Gibson. When they had left Patenaude alone with Ducatte, the sheriff began asking questions but Patenaude refused to talk. He would not deny the story told Colgan on Dec. 10, 1948, had been cutting wood in the Churubusco area with Ralph Spoor and Spoor's son. The latter two quit work at about 4:20 p.m., and Colgan said he would work a bit longer. When the Spours returned to the woodlot at about 7:30 p.m., they found Colgan's axe but no trace of the missing man.

State police, sheriff's deputies, and civilian volunteers scoured the area for several days but no trace was found of Colgan.

Bevin and Patenaude are expected to go on trial this week for the murder and robbery of Lucien Brunette, 37-year-old cab driver, and for the $900 robbery the following day of the Ormatown, Que., branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Sheriff Ducatte said he will probably once again question Patenaude and Bevin about Colgan after their trial and sentencing on Canadian charges.—Malone Evening Telegram.

F. Stevenson New President Of Apple Growers

Many Important Matters Discussed at Annual Meeting

A meeting of the Quebec Pomological and Fruit Growing Society the past week resulted in a number of interesting reports and discussions on the subject of mite control and the production of cider. During the convention Mr. Floyd Stevenson of Franklin Centre was elected the new president of the society.

Technicians of the Dominion Entomological Laboratories, at Hemmingford, P.Q., reported a new method of pest control which may save apple growers of Quebec thousands of dollars.

Speaking before members of the Quebec Pomological and Fruit Growing Society in Montreal, C. E. Petch and A. A. Beaulieu said that almost complete control had been gained over the European red mite following experiments in the late spring.

Parathion, a poison, was applied in strength of 12 ounces to 100 gallons, to trees when the buds were pink in color, instead of earlier in the season. At this time, all eggs have been hatched and it was possible to kill off the mite almost completely.

No new eggs were laid up to late fall, the report said, and in addition, there was no danger to the foliage of the parent McIntosh trees.

Working independently, entomologists in British Columbia also discovered the effectiveness of this technique, but it has not been used elsewhere in Canada.

Money-saving importance of this method was stressed by the two scientists, who said that the spray now would do the work of the money needed before.

Hon. Laurent Barre, Quebec's Minister of Agriculture, told delegates he favored the manufacture of cider here when the time was right. That was not now.

"I would prefer the making of cider to moonshine," he said, "but you must remember that cider is different from other liquor in that no two types are the same. We must wait until we can make it in a way to serve the public taste, when it is a drink preferred to others. We're not ready for that yet!"

Mr. Barre said growers to concentrate on the Canadian market in apple selling, rather than look to exports. The last 50 years he recalled, had brought many unfortunate experiences in markets abroad.

Production had, for a long time been the big problem in Quebec. This year, apples were sold early, in October, November and December. This left a six-months' span before the season arrived again. As a result, there were few apples on the market and prices were high.

"Remember," he said, "if prices are unreasonable you can't hope to sell the way you want."

Quebec's apple growers under-dered by Agriculture Minister Laurent Barre's recent refusal to sponsor cider production in Quebec, voted unanimously Saturday to ask that the minister of commerce authorize provincial sale of cider.

The above resolution climaxed the three-day convention of the Quebec Pomological and Fruit Growers' Society in the Queen's Hotel. It followed immediately on the election of Floyd Stevenson, of Franklin Centre, Que., as new president of the society.

Reason for their desire to be allowed to make cider here, said the growers, was because the apple crop is increasing every year, and it is becoming more and more difficult to sell the lower-quality apples.

At their final session delegates advanced a variety of other reasons why they thought the sale of cider should be permitted. Chief among them were:

Cider is being made illegally now. If the sale is not legalized, poor and highly-alcoholic cider will continue to be sold as "moonshine."

Legalization of the sale of cider would use the surplus apple crop of the province and would ensure that the alcoholic content be controlled.

It will take some time to educate the public taste to cider as a drink and the sooner manufacture is started the better.

Editorial Notes...

There May be Danger in the Idle Mines

STRIKES of any kind are bad at any time and anywhere, but one of the worst on this continent is the one presently engaging the minds of officials in the United States and we refer to the Miners' Strike.

While in many cases we have graduated from coal as a fuel for producing energy in particular and have turned to oil and other things to power our engines, ships and so forth, coal is still an important factor in our everyday life and in the economy of the nation. While many of the trains running today are powered by diesel engines, it will be a long time before all trains can be powered by anything else but coal-burning locomotives. Thus it is that the railways of the United States and of Canada are already feeling the pinch of the coal miners strike and stock piles of coal are running dangerously low. Trains have had to be cancelled and still further curtailment of trains has been announced this week. Not only this but many industries using coal have been curtailed and some of them shut down entirely with a consequent lay-off of workers.

President Truman has been called upon to do something about the matter as it approached a national emergency, but meanwhile certain disadvantages are being put up with by citizens and industrialists. The strike can have the effect of crippling the country in many of its major services and industries and even if it ended this week, it would take months to bring things back to normal. If the strike is continued as it seems to have every indication of being, there is no telling how much the industrial life of both the United States and Canada will be weakened.

In these days of Communistic activity, spies, atom bombs and hydrogen bombs, we cannot be too careful to observe our defenses and keep our vital industries in first class condition for an emergency. In this country it has just been announced that the R.C.M.P. are in the know of a ring of persons who have as their objective a plot to overthrow the government. When one views the situation as it is in the States and then looks at what is happening all around, it would be a very disastrous thing if Russia were to decide to strike at this continent in its present state of chaos. Defences are still a matter of preparation and with industrial trouble in vital industries this continent is vulnerable to attack by a wily aggressor. With leakage of the information regarding the atom bomb and possibly much information as to the hydrogen bomb, Russia may be in a better position than we know. At this time our labour troubles should be settled quickly and our industries kept in a high state of efficiency for immediate conversion to wartime production if and when it may be necessary. We fear that if a blow is to be struck, it will come swiftly, there is no longer any preliminary declaration of war and days of grace. No sooner is it the mind of the aggressor to make war than the blow is struck. We must be prepared for such action at all times. For all we know it may be part of a plan to have our transportation lines at a standstill in readiness for a swift blow that could cripple us in hours only. No longer is warfare a matter between armed forces, it is the industrial picture that enters into it right at the start. Break the industries that make the articles of war and half the battle has been won. With the cold war going on and the recent remarks of some of the chiefs in the States, anything can happen. We have been told repeatedly of the strength which Russia is mustering and we have been told now that she must have the know-how of the atomic bomb. Russia must also be aware of where the bombs are made in the States, Great Britain and other facts concerning this new weapon. The latest informant has been passing the knowledge along for over seven years.

We have no wish to be alarmists, but facts must be faced. Antagonistic influences are at work in various parts of the world and in every one of them is Russia. Parleys of words are bandied between the United States and Russia at every opportunity, it would seem—some of the words are quite outspoken and cannot fail to miss the point. Perhaps under circumstances a few years back, war would have been on long ere this. In this day however, more time is taken to scan the matters and investigate the charges. No doubt the United Nations Council has something to do with this, but unfortunately Russia does to hold too closely to the rulings of this council. However, we are firmly convinced that this is no time for complacency and that we must be in constant readiness to meet whatever may be in store for us.

Needing Your Best Support

ENTHUSIASM is gradually being built up toward support for the idea of a civic centre as a war memorial for Huntingdon County. A very excellent idea has been thought up whereby the old-time hockey players are to meet a Huntingdon Merchants team in a game at the local rink on Friday evening of this week. The proceeds from the gate of this game are to be contributed toward a fund for the civic centre, which is to include a new skating rink.

There is no doubt that this event will draw a large crowd to the rink and that a very entertaining evening will be spent. The old-timers will include many of our well-known citizens, many of whom are now past the prime age for hockey and not in quite the same condition that they were when they played the game in former years. Nevertheless they are determined to get out on the ice and do their damndest for the common good. We are not so much concerned with their playing hockey, but we are concerned as to the fine show of community spirit these men are willing to display. Huntingdon has not outgrown its ability to work as a community, but a great deal of the true community spirit is lacking and it is efforts of the nature of this civic centre which will test the calibre of our citizens to give their support to a very worthwhile venture. These old-timers are the first to show enthusiasm in a true community spirit way to help along the proposed project by real effort.

The present skating rink is not in the best condition and has not been for several years past. But no one would have the courage at this time to say the rink should be closed and abandoned. Such a person would receive cold stares to say the least. Huntingdon has long needed a war memorial and the civic centre would do the job of providing a war memorial and also a skating rink that would be modern and safe. Such a war memorial would be for the use of the whole county, not just Huntingdon Town alone—because it would be a county memorial. Thus this plan is not confined to the residents of Huntingdon Town, but to everyone throughout the county and therefore calls for the support of all residents of the County of Huntingdon. There may also be many who have moved away from Huntingdon County who may feel that they would like to help the project along. None will be refused—every ounce of support is needed if the plan is to succeed. United we stand—divided we fall, is perhaps a good motto to use in this particular instance, for if we all pull together Huntingdon County will have its civic centre and "Old Home Week" will be the greatest event ever staged here.

The old timers hockey game is just a start in the unity or community spirit with which this plan must be put across. The more people who attend the game, the greater the amount that will be turned over to the committee for the civic centre. The money contributed to the gate of this event will be returned in the amount of entertainment that will be enjoyed in watching these old timers battle it out once more. Take to heart this display of community spirit and resolve to do your part in helping Huntingdon build a civic centre and lasting war memorial. The encouragement you give may be the means of making the plan that much easier and bring it to a successful conclusion.

Task of The Press

TODAY, a distraught world is looking for an answer, both to war and for the building up of a better social order. The newspaper, which goes into nearly every home in most countries, has power to change the tide of thinking in its community. This makes the task of the Press pre-eminent. Journalists have been described as possible "heralds of a new world order" because they can make so great and positive a contribution to the liberation of the world from chaos.

There is one kind of writing behind which you sense a good brain. There is another kind of writing behind which you feel the beating heart. Through the power of this latter creative writing, the Press will find regeneration. To do this, it is necessary to stop thinking only in terms of the written word, but also in terms of real living experience.

From the heart of man will come either a new beginning of history or its end. Man himself is the cause of war or the basis of peace, and the journalist can only propagate this idea if he starts with himself. Living is more important than talking and living is even more important than writing.

Our times demand the application in all our lives of a vital Christian ideology - people who live their faith according to the moral laws. Programmes of reform have not put change in people at this primary point, which is the first condition of social change.

To play its part in the regeneration of our own and other countries is the greatest task the Press can undertake.

The completion of the Canada Atlantic Bridge is an important event in the history of the district. Twenty years ago nobody believed that the Victoria Bridge could be duplicated and, when eight years ago the project of crossing the great river at Valleyfield was started, it looked as if it could never be carried out. Now Ottawa has an unbroken rail connection with Boston and New York.

Ormslow—To celebrate the erection of Ormslow into an incorporated village there were great activities on Tuesday evening. An ox was roasted on the ice for the occasion at the bridge. Mr. D. Lang had rigged up a shaft on which the ox was transfixed, and the shaft was kept turning by horse power over a blazing fire. The sight was witnessed by a great crowd and when the ox was cooked all were invited to a free lunch. The poor were not forgotten and were given a liberal share to take home.

The pent up waters, after trying to find a vent through its old channel behind Mr. Smellie's house, burst their icy barrier and swept over the flat on the north side of the Chateauguay, reaching close to Mr. Moe's house. As the jam continues, another thaw would endanger the lower part of the village.

Weekly Review MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS By LEWIS MILLIGAN

A Toronto paper recently ran a series of articles by a young reporter who joined the ranks of the unemployed to study the human interest side of the problem at first hand. He sat where they sat in the government employment agency offices, and he slept where the homeless ones slept in what he called "Flophouse" provided by the City in an old market building. Describing how he lay listening to the sobs and nightmares of the sleeping, he said he heard a youth sobbing in an adjacent bed. He went over to him and sympathetically asked what was the matter. "Mind your own business," said the youth as he turned over and was silent.

Was that young man weeping because he could not find a job? Maybe so; but it is more likely that he had run away from home and was sobbing for his mother. The incident recalled a story told to me by

WHY DOESN'T A HEN CROSS THE ROAD?

The Week at Ottawa...

OTTAWA, (CP)—Canada's globe-trotting external affairs minister, L. B. Pearson, came back from the Orient last week and told reporters there is a real danger that the entire Far East may fall under Soviet imperialism.

Mr. Pearson, on his round-the-world trip, attended the Commonwealth conference in Colombo, Ceylon, and visited other countries in the Orient.

The conference, he said, showed that the world's centre of gravity is shifting from Europe to the Far East. It concentrated on problems in Asia and found a feeling that while Russia was being held in Europe, Communism was making great progress in Asia.

China has a Communist government. There are Communist-led disturbances in Korea, Communist rebellions in Burma and Communist bandits in Malaya. In Indo-China, there are two rival Communist, one of them Communist-trained. Communists who wanted to tie China to Moscow as close as the European satellites were tied.

Whether that could be done was another matter.

my old friend's name—we will call him Jim Jones. The mining man listened attentively and said: "My mother's name was Jones, and she used to tell us how one of her brothers, named Jim, ran away from home in Bristol at the age of sixteen and was never heard of afterwards. He was a big lad for his age, and he struck a man and thought he had killed him."

The lad who was crying in the flophouse may have had something to mind his own business. Somehow I admitted that I had for his blunt in-dependence. It was his business, and although it had brought him to distress, he was going to see it through. He might have made up a story that would appeal to the reporter's sympathy, but he was too honest for that—he wept, but he did not whine.

The reporter told of other young men who had come into the city and swelled the ranks of the unemployed, many of whom were honestly looking for work. He found, however, that some of them were shiftless and were content to sit around in the employment offices and blame everybody else but themselves, the government in particular, for their position. One young man with whom he became intimately acquainted said he had given up a job in Hamilton. He was very intelligent and did not blame anyone for his being out of work. He was ambitious to make big money, and after tramping through the slushy snow he suggested to the reporter that if they could get a gun they might hold up a store. He admitted that he had done one or two "small" robberies and got away with it. Perhaps he did not tell the whole story. The reporter said this young man was of refined appearance and might have been mistaken for a university student.

It may well be that we are running into a brief period of unemployment, and everything possible should be done to prevent it and assist those who are honestly seeking work. We have all had our hard times and can sympathize with those who are passing through them, but there is no cause for alarm if every Canadian will mind his own business, and mind it well.

As the above cited cases show, the problem is largely an individual one. There is always another story behind every hard-luck story.

Spionage Hangover The arrest of Klaus Fuchs, a 38-year-old British scientist, on charges of atomic spying for Russia, reinterbated through the capital last week.

The Canadian Press learned that Fuchs had been interned in Canada as an enemy alien early in the Second World War. He had fled to Britain from Germany as a refugee and sent to Canada for internment but was later released to take part in the allied effort that produced the first atomic bombs.

But more important was the realization that the Fuchs incident might make even more difficult the realization of Canada's hopes for wider exchange of atomic information with Britain and the United States.

Canada's atomic research has been directed towards peace. But the disclosure that a top-flight member of Britain's research teams—who had extensive knowledge of U.S. research installations—had given secrets to Russia, made informed Canadian sources believe that the U.S. would impose even tighter security regulations.

The case also indicated that Canada has speeded up her counter-intelligence work since the spy probe in the Hudson home. The fire, a small one in the cellar, was controlled and the wedding party didn't learn of it until they returned for the reception.

WEDDING WENT ON SPIRIT RIVER, Alta., (CP)—While Pearl Hudson and Cliff Ratcliffe were being married in church, volunteer firemen fought a blaze in the Hudson home. The fire, a small one in the cellar, was controlled and the wedding party didn't learn of it until they returned for the reception.

TRAIN SKY-JUMPERS EDMONTON, (CP)—A new school for parachute-rescue teams will begin here soon. The men will do indoor jumping in Edmonton and then practice actual jumps north of Entrance, Alta. Medical training is included in the 18-week course.

have presented the government with a demand for a price-support program to "safeguard our farm economy" and our general Canadian economy.

They specifically demanded higher floor prices for bacon, cheese and eggs and retention of the present floor of 58 cents a pound for butter.

The brief to the federal cabinet was presented by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture after the federation's annual meeting in Niagara Falls.

It said the government had let egg prices drop "practically to depression levels" before taking action expected to provide a floor price of from 32 to 36 cents a dozen. They asked for 38 to 42 cents.

They also asked an increase in the floor price for bacon from the present $32.50 a hundredweight to the $36 prevailing last year and a boost in the cheese floor, 27 cents a pound to 30c a pound.

ATLINES Dispute Ends The long dispute over the Canadian-U.S. air agreement ended when Colonial Airlines of New York called off its fight against the agreement.

Colonial challenged the agreement in the U.S. courts because it gave Canada the right to cause an air-line—Trans-Canada Air Lines—to compete with Colonial on the Montreal-New York route.

Tells Rotarians of Plans For Valleyfield Golf Club

Golf Course Will Be Ready For Use During Summer of This Year

Residents of Huntingdon County who are engrossed in the promotion of a community center may find in a hard-working group of Valleyfielders a source of inspiration. This Monday at the Rotary Club, Mr. Wilfred Davidson told of the plans underway to organize and build a golf course in the vicinity of Valleyfield.

Mr. Davidson explained that a nine-hole course requires a minimum of 75-acres. The Valleyfield Golf and Country Club have purchased from the Quebec Hydro Commission an area of 94 acres consisting of rolling farm land. There are a number of trees and a drainage ditch running through the property which should provide a natural hazard. The land is situated about two and one half miles from Valleyfield on the shore of the St. Lawrence and, all things considered, should provide very good ground for golf.

The work will start this spring and during the summer, the club expects to have nine holes available. The preparation of the green, however, requires much care and it will be another summer before the course will have been completed to perfection. The goal of the club is as follows: a nine hole course in rough readiness during 1950, a club house to be converted from a nearby farm house by 1951 and, in the more distant future, another nine holes. The cost of the course is expected to be $2,000 a hole. Thus far they have 90 members and by the end of the present campaign they expect to have over 110.

Mr. Davidson spoke of the difficulties in organizing a club and assuredly it was not all smooth sailing. The first problem was in obtaining the land. Unfortunately many of the farms in the Valleyfield area are long and narrow which meant that a number of them would have to be purchased to provide ample room for the course. Early negotiations with the farmers were a failure. Finally the club was able to buy a 94-acre lot and in the Quebec Hydro Commission for a reasonable amount and ample time to pay for it. The club now has enough ground for a course, a club house and adequate practice areas.

The financing of the club has been on the basis of a corporation with each of the members paying 100 dollars a share. They have also received generous support from the Valleyfield merchants and from industry.

Whatever the outcome of the hopes and plans of the Valleyfield Golf and Country Club, it will have the effect of making the town more golf-conscious. Many persons who have never handled a golf club have joined the organization. For this reason the club expects to hire the services of a golf professional before very long. All in all it would seem as if many Valleyfielders will take to golf; Mr. Davidson stated that he hoped Huntingdon sportsmen would do so also. They are invited to join the club.

Mr. Davidson comes from Moose Jaw and has lived three or four years in Valleyfield. He was introduced by Mr. Percy Clark of the Valleyfield Rotary Club and thanked by Mr. Stanley Currie.

Your Editor Tells the Story

Traffic going south continues to be high but in the course of another two weeks we will be seeing the trailers and autos travelling north with a view to getting home around March 1st. The main business street in West Palm Beach is filled with cars and people every day. Like Huntingdon, it is a one way street but we do not hear of any people complaining about that fact. I was quite amused a few days ago to see a cop come along checking cars that were parked beyond the time limit provided by the parking meters. As he saw a car that was parked too long he would look in at the driver's seat and if two nickels were on the seat he deposited one in the meter and the other went into his pocket, so it was, everyone was made happy. Might take quite a long time to make such a system of meter parking work in some places we know.

They Frown on Sales Tax Demands

Here in Florida a 3% sales tax is in vogue. It is hated by all, and more especially by the visitors who come from states where no such taxes are exercised. No doubt about it, this nuisance tax is doing Florida a lot of harm and makes many a tourist disgruntled toward the State. Coming from Quebec we have become accustomed to such taxation so it does not really affect our mental attitude. I have come to the conclusion that if Canada really values the tourist business and wants to further extend it, every province that they have such legislation should think well of having such a mode of raising money discontinued or have it collected as a hidden tax, as is 8% sales tax on retail merchandise.

Beaching

After having spent a week getting accustomed to the sun and general summer weather conditions, we have been heading for the beach with a greater degree of regularity. Some great sights, I assure you. Some are attractive, so attractive as a matter of fact, that old men with cataracts even see well at the beach. Then again there are an abundance of people who remind you of a bad time in the middle. We all had a good laugh at a stout woman who was in the water up to her knees, bent over, with legs spread apart and arms stretched as though she were a baseball player. She was in the middle of the last inning of the game. Yes, she was right on the spot catching the rollers that were coming in with marked rapidity and plenty high. Sometimes she managed to stand on her feet, but then at times she was covered with the waves. It is certainly most refreshing to get into the salt water when the rollers come in fast, and then lounge about on the wide sand beaches for hours on end. Strange to say, that though the sun is hot, and the temperature 80 degrees, you always feel comfortable and cool at the beach and never do any perspiring.

Oranges and Grapefruit

Irrespective of the fact that this is a state where oranges and grapefruit grow in abundance, the fruit offered at the stores is frequently very poor in quality. The better fruit is shipped North. The poor grapefruit and oranges we buy in Huntingdon are about what is offered on most of the stands down here in Florida. Pay 50c or 60c a dozen for oranges and you get most delicious Temple oranges that are like small grapefruit in size, and each such orange will give a tumbler full of juice. One of these days we will be visiting in oranges and there the fruit will be offered for what might appear to be a song. Too many middle men in the citrus fruit business in Florida just as we have in the marketing of much of the farm produce in the Chateaugay Valley.

Oranges and Grapefruit

Thursday afternoon was one of the roughest water days at Lake Worth Beach. Mrs. Sellar teamed up with a couple of ladies from Kentucky and wended their way into the water. All of a sudden a big wave came in and drenched the three of them. Mrs. Sellar, perhaps 65 to 70 years of age, immediately let go and dove into the next big wave that came her way. In a few minutes' time she returned to the beach with her hair all wet but just as happy as ever. Saturday afternoon when we were passing a restaurant a voice called out, "Hi there, hello Montreal!" Our attention was attracted, and it was our new found friends of Kentucky hailing us. They just couldn't recall the name Huntingdon but they did remember Montreal. A few minutes' chat, and so it was another typical example of hospitality displayed wherever you may be in this land of sunshine, crammed with folks here for health and rest.

Another incident at the beach

That I heard three people talking French, and that is quite unusual in this area. I immediately turned and said, "are you from Montreal?" The answer was "No."

Chateauguay I. O.D.E. Observes 50th Anniversary

CHATEAUGUAY—The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire was fittingly observed by the Julius Richardson Chapter I.O.D.E. on Sunday night in St. Andrew's United Church.

Members of the Canadian Legion Branch 108, Cubs, Brownies, C.G.I.T., the various women's organizations and friends attended the service, thus manifesting their appreciation of the service rendered by the Order, not only in our community but throughout Canada and the Empire.

The I.O.D.E. Standard carried by Mrs. R. L. Clark, the flags of the Legion by Comrades Wm. Yarnell and Norman Goodale, and the flags of the Clubs carried by George Donaldson and Robert Shields were in turn presented to the honorary Regent, Mrs. L. H. Melville, and received from her by Rev. Donald R. Morrison.

Assisting Mr. Morrison in the service were Mrs. L. H. Melville, who read the Scripture lesson, Mrs. Don. Davies, Regent, who led the members of the Chapter in the Prayer of the Order, and Mrs. George B. Clark, who read the Prayer of Confession.

The choir under the direction of Mrs. H. Rowell rendered the Anthem, "O Worship the Lord", and Mrs. Stuart Trask sang a solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings".

Rev. Donald Morrison gave an address entitled "The I.O.D.E.—50 Years of Service".

The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire was founded Feb. 13, 1890 by Mrs. J. Clark, non-sectarian, non-political and philanthropic organization. It stimulates patriotism, fosters unity in the Empire, assists the youth in Canada in furthering their education through bursaries in Canadian Universities and scholarships awarded in British Universities for post graduate study.

It cherishes the memory of brave and heroic deeds. In peace and war it gives aid to service and ex-service personnel and their dependents. It promotes a higher citizenship among all citizens, British and foreign-born.

The first accomplishment of the Order was the provision of a fund to care for the graves of Canadian soldiers in South Africa. A monument to their memory has since been erected in Bloemfontein, S. A.

At the present time there are 32,000 members in 923 chapters extending from Newfoundland to the Yukon.

The motto of the Order is "One Flag, One Throne, One Empire".

The service closed with the National Anthem and the Benediction.

Summarization of Problems---

is critical and, secondly, the government has got to decide on a long range policy, one hovering between price control and on the other extreme complete "laissez-faire". What should be done? In the past few weeks a number of persons have expressed themselves on this controversial subject. Mr. H. H. Hannam president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture said recently: "that there should be a proper adjustment and balance between all industrial groups."

He declared it to be unfair and unjust that agriculture should be expected to accept decreases in farm prices and farm revenue while the economic position of other groups remained at a high peak of prosperity.

Mr. Hannam said he believed it possible to effect a balanced economy on a lower price basis, but that such could not be effected if farmers were taking losses while others continued through a high level of rates, fees, wages, etc., to enjoy profitable times.

Said Mr. Hannam: "In periods of prosperity in the past, there has always been a balanced buying power between major groups in the nation. In the world market the same has applied for trading nations. The program being promoted today by the Dollar-Sterling Trade Board is an attempt to bring into better balance the buying power between our two countries."

"During the years 1948 and 1949, everybody will agree there has been a fairly balanced balance between the three major groups in Canada — industry and business, labour and agriculture."

"What the farmers of Canada are asking today is: do the people of Canada want to hold that balance, which is the secret of prosperity? Certainly they do, if you ask them. But the question is, are they willing and prepared to share the responsibility of holding the balance?"

"If they are — (a) we would not hear such frequent criticism about food prices being too high. Figures already presented indicate that general purchasing power was equally as high as, or higher than, price levels for farm products in 1949; (b) we would not hear such frequent criticism about paying taxes for funds to maintain price supports; (c) we would not have government members thinking or saying "the government must get away from subsidies and price support"; (d) we would not have press reports such as this one which appears on January 5 in a Toronto paper — "The best New Years for housewives is the big drop in pork and bacon prices. Prices came tumbling down yesterday and the day before". Another way to say the same thing would be "The best New Years news for housewives is that tumbling prices are bringing

Ormstown Women's Institute

ORMSTOWN — The Ormstown Branch of the Women's Institute met on Tuesday, Feb. 7th, at the home of Mrs. J. Hunter. The president, Miss K. Murphy presided, and twenty members answered the roll call by giving ways to advertise the Women's Institute. A request for assistance with sewing and knitting was received from the president of the Red Cross Society. Materials for this work were available at the meeting and a number of the members signified their willingness to help in this very worthy cause. The treasurer reported a balance of $15.47 on hand. Mrs. Marshall, convener of Home Economics read an article entitled "Beware of broken fluorescent lamp tubes." Mrs. C. Bryson, convener of Welfare and Health, read a humorous and instructive report, the topic of which was, "Your mind can keep you well." Mrs. Corkan, Publicity Convener, reported on the Jubilee Guilds in Newfoundland. The following nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. H. Parkinson, Mrs. A. Marshall and Mrs. G. McClinstock. The program included a W.I. Quiz, conducted by Mrs. W. Remond, and suggestions for next year's program read by Mrs. C. Bryson. Hostesses at the tea hour were Mrs. J. Hunter, Mrs. L. Cullen and Mrs. J. Brocklehurst. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. McLaren.

As presented it would call for the cooperation of three groups, the Dairy Farmers, the National Dairy Council and the Associated Milk Foundations. Each would have specific responsibilities but it was made clear that the present work being done by the Milk Foundations, which deal only with whole milk, would not interfere or be interfered with.

The dairy farmers would have 8 main responsibilities. These are listed as:

1. To sell producers on the need for an adequately financed sales promotion and public relations program.
2. To promote production of high quality products.
3. To secure the cooperation of all member bodies of the dairy farmers in collection of necessary funds.
4. To budget income for special emphasis on individual dairy products.
5. To co-ordinate all work done in sales promotion with other programs being carried out.
6. Preparation of material for speakers and articles.

Similarly there were certain specified responsibilities for each of the other two organizations, with care being taken so as to have a minimum of overlapping.

It was agreed that the campaign should be gone ahead with as fast as possible. It was pointed out that only about six percent of Canada's annual milk production is exported. With a thorough campaign not only this could be absorbed but even more. One estimate was that if all had enough milk for optimum health production would need increasing by 25 percent.

There is no reason why a program of this sort cannot be applied to improve the markets for other farm products. It is possible that a good advertising scheme might have saved the cabbage and celery which now lies in the city dumps of Toronto and Montreal. If farmers were as vocal in promoting their products as they are in crying for price support and government hand-outs the present market might undergo a change for the better.

Prior to the tea the Green Curlers played their first game of a competition. Miss S. Cumming, G. Sellars, Miss S. Ethan, Mrs. C. J. Bryson, Mrs. McCartney, Mrs. A. A. McNeil, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. R. Anderson, Miss E. Johnston, Skip 5

St. Paul's Y.P.S.
The Ormstown United Y.P.U. met on Feb. 7th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken. MacDonald. Marjorie Craig, Fellowship Convener, was in charge of the meeting. The devotional period opened with the singing of "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee", with Gladys Duncan playing the piano. Valera Moore read the Scripture and Cora Dixon the prayer. Marjorie Craig read to the Young People a story on Fellowship, which was very interesting. To close the devotional period the young people sang, "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun." Shirley McEwen, Sec'y, read the roll and the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. The president, Stuart Duncan asked for volunteers for the Y.P. play. After some discussion the young people decided to hold a "Box Social" on Feb. 17, several other Young People's Unions are to be invited. A committee for entertainment was drawn up, consisting of June Vaincourt, Pat Lawrence, Shirley Cumming, Gordon Elliott, Erle Clark. At the close of the business meeting, the president turned the meeting over to the games committee. Under the leadership of June Vaincourt the young people played some new games. Stuart Duncan thanked Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald for the use of their home and for the delicious refreshments that had been served.

Presbyterian Y.P.S.
The Presbyterian Young People's Society met for the February meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Cullen on Saturday evening when the committee in charge consisted of Miss Audrey Weale and Mr. and Mrs. L. Cullen. Mr. Harold Kilour presided and Miss Lois Hooker reported on the previous meeting. Miss Audrey Weale led the group in a Worship Service. Various items of business were attended to. The Dramatic Committee reported that the cast had been selected for the three-act play and tentative plans made to present it in April. The topic for discussion was, "Can Democracy Function Without Discipline?" This proved very interesting and several speakers were heard from. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served. Plans were made for the Minstrel Show to be presented by Georgetown in the near future and that candy should be sold.

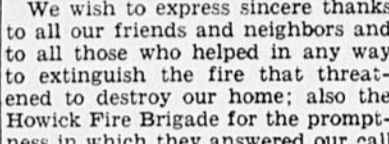

Ladies' Curling Club
On Saturday the weekly "500" and Tea was held at the Club rooms. Five tables of "500" were played with Mrs. W. R. Graham winning — the prize for high score. Tea was served to all present by Mrs. James White, Mrs. B. L. McGerrige and Mrs. H. J. McMahon.

WHEN YOU SHOULD STOP ADVERTISING

Just a few suggestions to the man who feels his business and his name are so well known that he needs no sales help!

- WHEN man becomes a creature of habit so thoroughly he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year . . .
- WHEN younger, fresher and spunkier concerns in your line cease starting up and taking "your customers" away through advertising . . .
- WHEN population ceases to increase and no new folk want to live and work in your town . . .
- WHEN you have thoroughly convinced everyone who ever has or ever will be in your store that they will now and forever get better buys from you . . .
- WHEN business principles reverse and the non-advertiser does more business than the successful advertising merchant . . .
- WHEN men stop making tremendous strides in business through well-planned newspaper advertising . . .
- WHEN you can forget the words of wise merchants the world over who attribute their success to wise use of newspaper advertising . . .
- WHEN you would rather have your own way, even if you fail, than follow advice and perhaps win success . . .
- WHEN you want to be rid of the troubles of waiting on customers and tired of making money.

Have this key aid your business

The "key" to real success in the mercantile world is that of reaching out for trade expansion. First you must have the merchandise, display it becomingly in your store and then use the "Key" to get the public into your store to view and decide to acquire what you have to offer. The "Key" to better merchandising is advertising. In this particular section of Quebec Province, this newspaper, The Huntingdon Gleaner, is the key publication to use for your mercantile advertising throughout 1950. Consistent advertising is the key to successful merchandising. Advertising is valuable to your business and is not an extra expense.

Dundee

DUNDEE—At the W.I. meeting held on Wednesday, Feb. 1st, Mrs. A. H. Fraser told the members about a little-known island of their own continent. Greenland is the largest island in the world, is almost covered with an ice-cap and is a colony of Denmark. Because of almost continual sunshine from 3-4 months in the summer a few vegetables can be raised. Because of the influence of several Danish officials and their families old Greenlandic customs and ways of living are gradually giving way to modern methods with electricity, radios, broadcasting station and even an ambulance dental service. But also because of more permanent homes than formerly there is poor sanitation among the natives which makes them very susceptible to T.B. Only in Greenland is the mineral cryolite, used in making aluminum, found in large quantities to be mined. Kayaks, the one-man boats, now are giving way to motor boats. Greenland has its own currency notes and coins and its own stamps. Education is compulsory for children from 7 to 14 years. During the war when she was cut off from Denmark, Greenland was helped by the U.S.A.
 The president, Mrs. N. D. Mc-

Phoe, won the monthly household hint—½ teaspoon of cornstarch in meringue will make a never-fail product.

Mrs. H. A. Cameron conducted a spelling-bee, the prize going to Mrs. A. H. Fraser.

The conveners gave interesting reports. Mrs. Hewson for Agriculture, read an article concerning the floor price of eggs. Mrs. H. A. Cameron for Education read about a school edition of the Readers' Digest being very educational in school.

Mrs. A. H. Fraser for Publicity, read excerpts from the account of the recent W.I. Board meeting and also showed a picture of the beautiful rug made by Queen Mary and which is to be auctioned off to aid the British Dollar Drive.

Whenever the hall is rented for a dance a W.I. member is to be admitted free and her amusement tax will be paid by the Institute. It was decided to spend $5.00 to purchase new packs of cards. Mrs. Cameron reported that the school was planning to enter the public speaking contest.

After an interesting meeting the members sat down to a well-filled supper table. Mrs. Gregor Leslie entertained the group in her own home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Colquhoun returned to their home in Dundee on Monday, Feb. 6th, after being in Montreal for the past seven weeks. Mr. Colquhoun underwent an operation in the Royal Victoria Hospital late in December and only about a week ago was able to leave his bed in hospital. He is slowly re-

Q.S.H.L. Hockey Games

Two games in the Q.S.H.L. recently produced one victory and one defeat for the battling Valleyfield Braves. On Wednesday they whitewashed the Ottawa Senators by a score of 11-5 but were brought to their knees on Sunday when Chicoutimi stole the honours to the tune of 4-2.

The Braves emerged from the first period against the Senators leading 2-1 after Coriveau and Bissonall tallied in quick succession. But the Ottawa team fought back and managed to tie the game at the end of the second period bringing the score to 2-2. Joannette launched the only Valleyfield tally during this period on an assist from Bissonall and Coriveau. In the last frame the Braves moved in and settled the game beyond dispute. They literally exploded, sinking two more than seven goals in a record third period. Ottawa tallied only once in this frame. Scoring for the Braves in this period were Joannette who tallied three times, Schmidt who tallied twice, Kwong and Mayer.

Sunday's game, however, saw the Braves go down to a hard-fought defeat when the Chicoutimi Saguenays won 4-2. The victors tallied three times in the first period and once in the second. Schmidt managed to sink twice for the Braves. In the last frame there was no score from either side. The opposing goalies stopped approximately 21 shots each. Valleyfield drew five penalties to Chicoutimi's seven.

J.A.H.A. Games
Two games in the Junior League saw the Valleyfield Braves defeat 10-3 by Nationale and tied 3-3 with the Verdun Leafs.

In the first game on Wednesday the Nationales went on a scoring spree, tallying four times before Campeau came back with a marker for the Braves. By the end of the second period, the score was 5-1 and the Nationales chalked up four more in the third before the Braves scored again. Plante and Joannette accounted for two points in the third. The final score, 10-3.

In a fairly tame game on Saturday against the Verdun Leafs, the Junior Braves ended in a dead lock. The match was close throughout with first Verdun and then the Braves going ahead. Marc Campeau accounted for the three Valleyfield threats. During the match only five penalties were given out.

Curling in Huntingdon
A number of matches in the Shawinigan Trophy competition resulted in one or two setbacks for the Huntingdon rinks. A team skipped by Mr. Lanktree won hands down on Monday evening playing against Aubrey at Huntingdon but Mr. Goodfellow's team did not fare so well. Playing against Aubrey on the same evening the game was close and finally moved into an extra end. After a stiff battle, however, the Aubrey rink came out on top.

Meanwhile, two matches played at Aubrey on Monday, resulted in one defeat and one tie. Mr. D. L. Kelly tied 11-11 with the rink of Mr. Templeton of Riverfield but Mr. Hogg's rink went down to a hard defeat.

The Moore Cup Curling competition which took place all last week resulted in a victory for Mr. B.

Ness of Howick, who won in the finals on Friday. At that time Mr. Ness' rink locked horns with the hard-playing team of Mr. Keith Robb of Aubrey. Mr. Robb's team had previously won a game at that of Mr. Lanktree of Huntingdon and also that of Mr. Sherman Robb. All in all it seemed that Mr. Keith Robb's team would stand a very good chance in the finals. Friday evening, however, brought a complete victory for the Howick rink.

Mr. Sherman Robb's rink had defeated that of Mr. E. Rennie and Mr. W. McWhinnie, both of Ormstown. The ladies held their regular Bridge and Tea in the Curling Club Rooms on Friday afternoon. There were two tables of Bridge, the highest score going to Mrs. J. G. Rennie and Miss Mary Pringle.

On Saturday afternoon the Huntingdon Curling Club planned to hold a Mixed Bouspiel, but owing to the weather they were unable to play the matches. At six o'clock a hot supper was served to about 35 members, after which an enjoyable evening was spent playing "500".

On Tuesday, the Ladies' Curling Club sent one rink to Valleyfield to compete in the Chateaugay Valley Bouspiel. The local rink was Mrs. Rivett, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. E. C. Martin, Mrs. D. L. Kelly (skip).

HOCKEY
Chat. Valley League
Games in the Chateaugay Valley League reveal the Ormstown team as a strong contender for victory in the finals. On Wednesday in playing on their home ice they won a clear-cut, 4-0 victory against Howick. Locking horns with Cazaville on Friday in a fast-moving game they defeated their opponents 7-4.

The Braves' team has not had a game since they lost 5-1 to the Dewittvillers led all the way. Scoring one point after another the winning team was ahead 5-0 at the top of the third. Cazaville put up a brilliant display during this last frame, but when the smoke cleared at the final bell, Dewittville was ahead 5-1.

At Huntingdon, on Friday evening, the Alouettes and the Dewittville players faced each other for a close neck-and-neck struggle. Their score was tied at the end of the first frame and two more periods of play saw the deadlock unbroken. The score at the end of the third: 3-3. Ten minutes of overtime failed to make any difference. The game was a draw, although there was one fight during the evening, there were not many penalties.

On Monday the Dewittvillers skated on the ice again and this time downed the Howick team by an overwhelming score of 8-1. The Dewittville man scored three points during the first, three in the second and two in the third. The only Howick tally was made during the last frame.

Very shortly the Chateaugay Valley teams will move into the semi-finals with Ormstown and Dewittville locking horns in a best-two-out-of-three series. Meanwhile Huntingdon and Cazaville will be engaged in a similar-to-the-death struggle. The matches should be worth watching and will decide which teams will meet in the finals. Many persons are giving Ormstown the odds but the outcome is unpredictable. All things considered spectators can look forward to some very exciting hockey.

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Use of a flank strap is "unnecessary abuse" of a horse, Judge C. J. Lennox ruled, in dismissing the appeal of Herman Linder, a rodeo promoter.

Linder was appealing a fine of $100 for cruel treatment of animals used in his rodeo show. The judge found the strap excited the horse into bucking.
