

Macdonald College Royal Attracts Good Attendance

Several Local Boys Take Part in Arrangements And Showing

Weather conditions prevented quite a few people from attending the Fourth Annual Macdonald College Royal Show, held at Macdonald College on February 27. Nevertheless there was a capacity crowd in the Live Stock arena of the college, where the livestock end of the Royal was staged, quite a few of them from Huntingdon and Howick districts.

It was entirely a Students' event, with Professors Alexander Ness and Jim Hamilton on the sidelines casting their "fatherly" eyes on the work of their "boys", but taking no part in the proceedings. However, these Professors should feel proud of the way the students in charge conducted the livestock show, the fine performance of the students showing the cattle, sheep and swine. Each event went off with "clockwork precision". The contestants made a grand job of showing their animals, in fact they acted like veteran showmen.

Incidentally, the students do not pick the animals they show. They have to draw for same, but they have to prepare and fit the animals they draw for showing. Veteran livestock breeders like W. A. Hodge and Gilbert McMillan, made complimentary comments on the excellence of the animals paraded before them which they averred were of a very high class order indeed.

The Student superintendents of the Show were General Superintendent, Jim Sorley, Sheep, Charles Rinfret; Swine, Vern Miles; Aberdeen-Angus, Graham Ide; Ayrshire, Bob Douglas; Holstein, Joe Bryson.

Lending their aid as the official judges were five outstanding livestockmen: Gilbert McMillan, Huntingdon, Que., for Ayrshires; W. A. Hodge, Raymondale Farms, Vaudreuil, Que., for Holsteins; J. McTavish, Hudson Heights, Que., for Aberdeen-Angus; J. Graham, Chief of Livestock and Poultry Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, for sheep and swine.

A. W. Peterson, Assistant Director of Production Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, was the judge of showmanship.

A distinguished guest was Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture of Canada, who opened the Horticultural and other sections of the Royal which were staged in various class rooms.

Unfortunately we were unable to get the addresses of all the contestants but at least four of them fall from the Howick-Huntingdon District, including Owen Ness, third year degree course student, Terrace Bank Farm, Howick, Que.; G. Irving, Liguere, Huntingdon, Que., 2nd year diploma course; D. Tully, Athelstan and Kenneth Roy, Howick, both first year students in the Diploma course.

Kenneth Roy showed the first prize cow in the class for Ayrshire cows, ten years old or over, whose combined records averaged well over 600,000 lbs. milk. He was also reserve champion Ayrshire showman. D. Tully showed the first prize Ayrshire cow, 5 years or over, dry.

The only "lady showman" was Miss A. Mackie, who is in the third year of her degree course. She plotted the first prize junior yearling heifer. She hails from Northern Ireland where her parents have a large Ayrshire herd.

The champion sheep showman, who also showed the Cheviot Ewe lamb was C. Bannister from British Guiana.

Awards: Yearling heifers: 1, Miss A. Mackie; 2, G. Gallop; 3, R. Ryan; 4, W. Eagle. First in showmanship: Miss Mackie; 2, G. Gallop.

Two year old heifers, dry: 1, K. McKenna on Macdonald Rosebud; 2, T. Hayhurst; 3, G. Lynch; Stanton; 4, Asbill; 5, M. McEwan.

First in showmanship: K. McKenna; 2, G. Lynch; Stanton. Cow, 5 years and over, dry: 1, D. Tully on Macdonald Rose; 2, P. Roach; 3, R. Morrison; 4, Owen Ness.

First in showmanship: D. Tully; 2, Owen Ness. Cow, 5 years and over in milk: 1, N. Graham on Macdonald Merry Dimple; 2, (name not announced); 3, M. Lishman; 4, R. Pierce; 5, L. Robb.

First in showmanship: M. Lishman; 2, N. Graham. Cow, 10 years or over, with records averaging 100,000 lbs. milk: 1, G. Steele on Macdonald Janet; 2, G. Irving; 3, G. Brown; 4, S. Roy.

First in showmanship: G. Roy; 2, G. Irving. Ayrshire champion female: N. Graham on Macdonald Merry Dimple. Holsteins Junior yearling heifers: 1, J. Doyle on Macdonald Sterling Bertha; 2, F. Coulson; 3, G. Khan; 4, H. Coles; 5, O. Rathwell; 6, P. K. O'Neil.

Flu Cases Receding ENDS LONG SERVICE

Reports received this week from the medical profession in Huntingdon are to the effect that the number of cases of flu is receding. However, it is also reported that new cases are more serious and many are developing into pneumonia. Precautions are still necessary as a preventive measure as the danger is not entirely over.

Fusion of Two Races

Among other remarks Mr. Romuald Bourque, Mayor of Outremont, told Canadian Weekly editors these things at their annual convention:

"In our two peoples—French-speaking and English-speaking—we have a great fusion of races that will mean strength in the future of this country. Because no matter how strong our prejudices may be today, rest assured, gentlemen, they will not survive the passing of time. Not so many centuries ago the Normans and the Saxons in England were just such bitter enemies. Today they are one people with one flag, one love, England. And, you may add, of course, one language—but it is not Saxon nor Norman but a mixture of the two.

"Who knows what the peoples of this country will speak nine hundred years from now. Perhaps, like the people of Switzerland, they will speak three national languages, all taken from other peoples. Canada will find strength as a bilingual country. But certainly history will never permit two such races as ours to enjoy the privileges of living together so long without removing all our mistrust and our prejudice."

A native of Huntingdon, Que., Miss Ann McCarthy recently ended nearly 23 years service as telephone operator for the Canadian National Railways at Montreal. Joining the railway at Montreal on March 31, 1928, Miss McCarthy has handled an average of almost 200 phone calls per day during her lengthy career. On the eve of her retirement, friends, co-workers and officers of many of the railway's departments at Montreal gathered to say goodbye and to present her with a purse and money. Miss McCarthy is shown, second from left above, as she received the gift from J. Sullivan, superintendent of Canadian National Telegraphs at Montreal. Looking on are Miss Butt, left and E. C. Putting Sewer Under Track At Bouchette Street To Cost $2,000

Financial Statement For 1950 to Be Referred Back to Auditor

The regular monthly session of the Huntingdon Town Council was held at the County Building, on Monday night, with members present except Alderman Lefebvre. The minutes of previous meetings were read and adopted and a number of accounts were read and passed for payment.

Harry Sandys, an employee at the Filter Plant, was reported as being fit to return to work through a letter to that effect from Dr. G. Lefebvre. Mr. C. Brown has been leaving during Mr. Sandys' absence and it was thought that he should have a week's notice before Sandys returns to the job. However, the majority of the council considered that Mr. Brown was aware that he was only relieving and therefore he would understand that Sandys was ready to return to work at once. It was decided that Sandys would receive one full week's pay and the balance at half-rate for the term he was away sick.

Chief L'Heureux appeared before the council with regard to the proposed charge to be made for electricity used in his apartment. He explained that when he first took the job it was with the impression that electricity would be supplied without charge. Council however, did not understand it that way, but resolved that a rate of $3.00 per month would be charged instead of $8.00 as set at the previous meeting. The chief stated that the apartment he was living in was too small for his family and desired more room. He explained that he had only four rooms which included a kitchen and that this was not enough space for his family. He wished to know if it would be possible for him to have the other apartment also. In return for this he would pay the total electric power and light bill for such apartment.

The council took time out to consider this matter and the following decision was arrived at. Providing Mr. Omer Stamer, the present occupant of the apartment, would be able to secure his own premises on Prince Street and that he was willing to move into same and leave the apartment vacant, the council offer to Chief L'Heureux was: That he accept the offer of controller and collection agent for amusement taxes; pay the electric light and power account for the whole apartment; maintain the apartment in good repair at his own expense; reserve one room for an additional policeman should one be appointed and if he is simply kept in quarters; be responsible for replacement of a man after 12 midnight on his day off.

This proposition was handed to Chief L'Heureux for his consideration and acceptance. A milk report dated January 30th was read as follows: Elmhurst 42,000 and 3.6 butterfat; Beau Vallee 32,000 and 4.3 butterfat; Monique 22,000 and 4.3 butterfat; R. Good-fellow 65,000 and 3.5 butterfat; Pringle Bros. 350,000 and 3.3 butterfat.

A letter was read from the New York Central Railroad Co. with regard to laying the sewer and water lines under their track at Bouchette Street. The company will undertake to do this work themselves and according to their specifications laid down in the letter a cost of $2,000. Cast iron pipe is to be used under the track instead of the cement pipe used elsewhere. The town is to notify the company when the work is required to be done.

A certificate of merit was received in connection with the educational campaign carried out during Fire Prevention Week here. Great praise was given Chief L'Heureux for his part in the undertaking. The certificate will be placed in the office of the secretary-treasurer.

Miss Gertrude Hampson sent a claim for a fall on the sidewalk near the Huntingdon High School, in which she wanted reimbursement for medical and hospital fees, coverage for loss of wages while away from work and for inconvenience, etc. The matter will be referred to the Town Insurance Co. for consideration.

The financial statement for the year 1950 was read but could not be approved on account of one or two items not being understood. The statement is therefore being referred back to the auditor for clarification of the items and adjustment if necessary. When this has been done, final approval will be given. It looks as if the town ends in red according to the reading and if it is the amount will be $2,931.11. It is possible that this deficit will be adjusted if the disputed items are proved incorrect. The actual facts of the statement will therefore have to remain until it is finally passed.

Mr. Varin appeared before the council to ask for permission to be allowed to pick the paper from the newspaper before it is collected. The council was not willing to grant this concession. A further request was made to be allowed to insert an advertisement in The Gleaner to the effect that each paper would be picked up by him on each Wednesday morning. The council said that there could not stop that but the paper must not be put out on the sidewalks, but must be placed within the person's own property.

Mr. L. Brown asked if he might be allowed to place a gasoline storage tank in the ground on his property. The council said that there was no objection as far as they were concerned so long as it was on his property and that it was for his own use.

A report of the hydrants was submitted by Mr. Rene Rousseau, some of the hydrants were in need of repairs, the report said.

Movement Started To Organize Boy Scouts

A meeting was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. Wm. Wilson, Huntingdon, with the idea in mind of organizing a scouting movement in this district. Representatives of the local Commission in the persons of Messrs Turnbull, Beauharnois, F. G. Sherrington, Franklin, Thomas Hargrave, Valleyfield and Mr. Aldridge Ormstown, were present to offer advice and assist in forming a group committee.

The nucleus of a group committee was named, but as several of those named were not present, it was felt wise to wait until another meeting before making announcement of the personnel. There seemed to be good prospects that the movement would again be started in Huntingdon as those present were enthusiastic about it. Several names of possible leaders were given with a view to interviewing these people. It was also decided that a further meeting would be called for this Wednesday evening, at the same time and place. No doubt further details will be worked out as it is hoped to have the movement started by the end of this month.

Those privileged to attend the Huntingdon Rotary Club meeting on Monday were treated to a very interesting address that centered around the observance of Education Week, which is this week from March 4th to 11th. Mr. Thomas Saunders, B.A. (Queen's) and M.A. (McGill), was the speaker and the title of his address was "Paying the Price."

Mr. Saunders is Principal of Aberdeen School in Montreal and is connected with several different societies to do with education and teaching. Starting out with his topic he based it upon a sentence from the Bible—"The Woman Bought a Field." He likened this in various ways to what is done in life today. This woman bought a field and considered it. The speaker said we all have fields but unfortunately we do not all consider them. One must consider the human factor in all administration and this applies particularly to schools and education. It is not so much how or what is taught that is important, but who teaches it. The speaker gave a word illustration at this point as to what he meant by the statement.

The teachers of the Protestant Schools are seeking an equitable salary scale and a complete study is now being made of the various salaries paid. In this particular district, Huntingdon is at the bottom of the list.

The idea behind Education Week is the widening of the use of the school in the community, making it useful to all citizens and providing a service to adults and all others who may wish to further their education.

This field has to be cultivated before it will yield its true fruits and it is in your hands to cultivate. The speaker quoted several instances of self sacrifice which he likened to the price that has to be paid to gain a desired result. It was a very interesting address and had much of note to apply to Education Week—which is everybody's business.

RETURNS TO ARMY

Patrolman Kenneth G. Steele of the Trenton Police, Trenton, N.J., has gone back into military service. He says that is nothing new and his record proves his remark.

Steele, 28, whose home is at 705 Center Street, has a ten-year record of service with Canadian and American groups and airborne fighting units—including 44 months of overseas in Europe and Africa.

Steele went back to active duty with the 141st Fighter Squadron from Mercer Field to Turner Field, when the unit joined the Army Air Force on March 1. Steele is a Staff Sergeant in the Air Force.

Steele's family live at Nitro, Quebec. While visiting his parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Steele, Sr., Laurier Ave., Nitro, on Sunday, a family reunion was held. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Milne and son Jimmy, of Aubrey, Mr. and Mrs. John Lowler, Dewittville, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Rice and sons, Albert and Billy, Ormstown, Mr. Harry Steele and Miss Helen Pirth of Montreal. They were there to meet Staff Sergeant Kenneth G. Steele of the Air Police Flight and Mrs. Steele of Trenton, New Jersey, U.S.A.

Steele enlisted for duty at 16 years of age with the Canadian Army at Montreal, on July 11, 1940. He received training in Canada and was among the volunteers for overseas combat duty.

Steele was sent with the Canadian 5th Armored Division to Aldershot, England, for further maneuvers and training. There he was a motorcycle dispatch rider.

In England, he got a discharge from the 5th armored after enlisting in the American 34th (Sandstorm) Division, then training in Ireland. Steele was with the 34th Infantry Division in Algeria and took part in the Tunisian campaign.

Steele transferred to the 82nd Airborne Division and figured in the Italian campaign with that unit. Then he was given a furlough for 30 days back to the States under the troop rotation plan. After spending 30 days in the U.S. and Canada he was sent to Fort Benning, Ga., and assigned to airborne troop training. There he stayed for six months.

Again he was sent overseas and at Rheims, France, joined with the 17th Airborne Division in the summer of 1944. He made two combat parachute jumps with the 17th. Steele's record discloses 21 medal awards.

After the war he was sent back to the U.S.A. and discharged June 29, 1945. He was asked by a civilian job advisor if he wanted a job in Trenton. Steele thought he meant Trenton, Canada.

Steele took a job as a parachute rigger with the Stanley Switlik Company and worked there until V-J day in 1945. Afterward he had jobs with the State Capitol Police and temporary appointment to the Trenton Police Department. He also was a guard at the State Prison for 15 months. He obtained a permanent appointment to the department January 1, 1951.

Steele is married to the former Miss Emily J. DiMattea, daughter of Mrs. Anna DiMattea and the late Nicholas DiMattea.

PIONEER DIES DRUMHELLER, ALTA. (CP)—Jos. Thompson, 73, pioneer of mining in the Drumheller district, died here recently five years after his retirement. Native of England, he spent 55 years in coal mining including 36 years in Drumheller.

Once Again Your Blood Is Urgently Needed

Blood Donor Clinic to Be in Huntingdon in April

With preparations going on for defence in case of war and with men of the armed forces already serving in Korea, it is only natural that there should be a stepping up in the activities of the Canadian Red Cross. Blood transfusions were found to be of great assistance during the last war and if ever an atomic attack takes place, they will be found doubly useful for treating shock.

The Canadian Red Cross Society Blood Transfusion Service has grown considerably during the past year. In Montreal, thirty-three hospitals have been served, seven of them new during 1950. The hospitals outside Montreal number 23; of these ten were added to the list in 1950 and since January 1st, of three on the list of hospitals outside of Montreal. Huntingdon County Hospital appears.

In Ottawa recently, Hon. Brooke Claxton made an announcement that the Red Cross is going to procure 30,000 extra bottles of blood to be processed into plasma for the armed forces. This means that an extra number of blood donors will be required, also dressings, etc.

With the new government defence program, committees may have to consider further work, including supplies for Civil Defence Preparedness, Hospital Supplies for Veterans' Hospitals (in case of war) and more comforts for the armed forces. The Red Cross needs more volunteer workers if it is to make its work more effective.

April 24th is the date that has been fixed for the next Blood Donor Clinic in Huntingdon and the committee hopes that there will be a hearty response to the appeal. If volunteers are not forthcoming for these clinics, it may mean that there will be a draft and you will

Spring Suits Feature A Pared Line

New Spring Modes Are Softened With Details That Are Feminine

Your new spring suit has a finely tailored look with attention focused on detailing and trim neatness.

From shoulder to hem it is slim in line, relieved, this season, of its severity by a gentle arched neckline, novel and eye-compelling detailing and a soft or silky-appearing fabric.

Jacket lengths are approximately an inch longer than last season, with emphasis on the tunic style, often 32 inches long and cut in almost a straight line with your slim skirt. Other softer versions of the tunic jacket are a trifle shorter and have fullness below the waistline.

Man Tailored

Back in fashion's favor is the man-tailored suit. The one button style predominates, but unlike past year, the new version is softened by feminine collar and pocket detail.

Tiny pleumps on the sides, centre front and back of fitted jackets can be seen adding flattering accent to the arched neckline look.

Outstanding versions include a circle pleum which is placed at each side of the neckline, a pleum that stands away from the jacket and often contains pockets, the apron pleum which appears in the centre front of the jacket and the fish-tail pleum, placed at the front of a cutaway jacket.

The 3 and 4 piece suit is also due to become a Spring Fashion leader. It may have two jackets or two skirts plus a vest in matching or contrasting colors or patterns. It may be a neatly tailored suit complete with matching or contrasting jacket. It may be the two skirt suit or perhaps a suit with its own blouse in a solid, print or striped crisp fabric.

Curved lines gain new dash for Spring in necklines or hiplines which jut past the centre line, in skirts and jackets that wrap to a side, in strapping or pockets that effect an oblique outlook by being placed at one yoke or one hip and by curved closing.

Refreshing fashion's notes for new suits are the cardigan or collarless necklines which can be folded back into neat little lapels, the many scarfs and stoles either attached to suits or available separately in smart contrasting fabrics and colors and the three-quarter or bracelet length sleeves that relieve the most severe styles with a dressmaker touch.

Your skirt, of course, is narrow but easy to walk in, due to kick pleats and the trumpet silhouette interpreted with pleats all around the hemline or gores which widen below the knees. Other means of keeping suit skirts slim yet comfortable are with rows of back buttons, slits or tiny multiple pleats.

Flannel New

The soft fabrics that promise to be your primary choice in this Spring feature flannel looking its newest in pearl grey and grey blue and it's most sophisticated in light brown. Gabardine ever your choice for Spring, reigns once more and looks freshest in navy, which is also the number one color of the new season.

In the shimmering fabric families, silks and rayons are expected to take over. Silk taffeta, imported suitings with a subtle texture, heavy weight shantung and faille and rayons in faille, taffeta and ottoman carry their weight for Spring in your more dressy dinner and theater suits.

The richness of these shimmering fabrics will be pronouncedly accentuated, in many instances with satin faced lapels.

TEMPERATURE TARGETS

CALGARY, (CP)—Lowest temperature recorded in Calgary in 1950 was 41 degrees below zero on Jan. 17, and the highest was 88 on both June 30 and Sept. 3, according to the annual meteorological summary for Calgary. The all-time records are 49 below zero in 1893 and 97 above in 1919.

Fashions Have Carefully Controlled Flare

The suits that personify Spring are slim in line, have gently arched hips and feminine detailing. Above left, a silk skirted suit with a double peaked collar, bold hip flaps. At right, a suit with notched curving collar and hip detail and self-button accents. Both of Pacific sheen gabardine.

The jacket-like cape is newcomer to the shorter collections... sleeve vents with cuffs solve the problem of a graceful outlet for the arms.

What's in the Wind?

BY PAULA DICKS

Progress and Poverty

The first and last editorials in last week's Gleaner aired an example of the irony and stupidity of Canada's present national and international bombast.

In the short years of transition from a small country village to an industrial centre, Huntingdon has acquired millionaires, abject poverty and unspeakable slums. Our high-flying External Affairs Minister, Hon. Lester Pearson, at Colombo, Ceylon Conference, appears to have committed Canada to spend thirty million to "help the South East Asia underprivileged populations." Ye gods! all this can possibly mean is bribes to corrupt regimes; a contribution to international plunder and blackmail. All with the smug assurance that we thereby make friends and influence people!

There is enough rot and corruption in "our way of life" to humbly restrain us from offering advice and above all money or credit, to any other people. Some of this thirty million could much better be spent in this community right NOW. Consider what has been done by an English concern that has been carrying on business in milk processing here for ten years.

The Story of a Village

In the 1860's the firm of Cadbury was a struggling business on Bridge St., Birmingham. George and Richard worked from seven to nine o'clock six days a week. On Sunday, George Cadbury took charge of the Early Morning Sunday School. Many of the pupils were poor and George liked to visit them in their homes. Thus he came to know his way through the alleysways and courts of Birmingham slums and learn of the misery brought about by bad housing.

There was a certain amount of sympathy, even then for people living in slums and for the "deserving poor," there was charity. But in those days it would have been regarded as a revolutionary idea that the country could afford decent houses for working people. George Cadbury began the building of Bournville to solve the housing problem of the time by showing that good houses for wage earners could be built at rents the tenants could afford to pay. He bought 250 acres of surrounding land and the first year 200 houses

NITRO

NITRO — On Thursday, Feb. 22, a "Bingo" was organized by a few persons of Nitro and Canadian Arsenal Limited Catholic Church. The proceeds will be spent on decorating the chapel. This Bingo was a great success, due to the intimate atmosphere and to the co-operation of the resident of Nitro and C.A.L. villages as well as many from Valleyfield. All prizes were donated by charitable persons, too numerous to mention.

Twenty games were played and approximately fifteen prizes were auctioned off at the end of this pleasant evening. Reverend O. Tessier honored the group by his presence.

Friends at Nitro extend their sympathy to Mrs. O. Morin in the recent death of her father, Mr. F. Colombe, at Sherbrooke.

The Willing Workers held their meeting in the Nitro Church on Thursday evening February 22nd, with thirteen present. The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer followed by the minutes of the last meeting. All business was discussed and the meeting closed with a hymn. Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Hopper and Mrs. W. Bevan.

Mr. M. Maither and family called on Mr. and Mrs. L. Maither and family the past Sunday.

The Church service in the Nitro Church on Sunday, Feb. 25th, was conducted by Rev. D. Saut, of Valleyfield United Church.

A few from Nitro attended a card party held in the United Church hall by the Church Board, on Friday evening, February 23rd, all enjoying a pleasant evening.

Conditions in Quebec are not always what the promoters picture. Inexhaustible resources, docile labor supply, quoting "Industry in Action" "...As long as the dignity and health of the worker are respected and just wages and salaries paid, the Church allies itself with the government, business and industry in welcoming outside interests to Quebec."

Too many, indeed, are condemned to live in old garages, abandoned hen-coops and rooms so long as there are plenty of bars and movie theatres available, from which government extracts a handsome revenue also. Little, if any of this revenue is returned to communities to establish rival entertainment, such as parks or playgrounds.

It is not only "across the tracks" that deplorable conditions exist. Many young industrious couples are trying to rear families crowded into a couple of rooms at high rents. Coupled with the rising cost of all necessities, restricted credit, etc. their prospects are certainly dim for ever securing decent homes.

Can Anything Be Done? Departments of Health and Welfare at Quebec and Ottawa can be requested to give guidance, at least.

In the recent booklet "Industry in Action in La Province de Quebec" there is a picture of a street in "Trois Rivières" purporting to be "Worker's housing development fine homes, built with the financial assistance of the Government of Quebec." They look more like such homes as built by executives in Huntingdon. There is always a big difference between propaganda and actual conditions.

Industrial Acceptance Corporation (finance purchase of autos and durable household equipment and pay over 6% on common stock) advertise in Financial Post that $25,000,000 is earmarked to establish a "model village" at Seven Islands, Que., including warfs, water works, sewers, City Hall and Hospital. Seven Islands is to be the seaport for North America's Siberia — the iron country in North Eastern Quebec. This is another story.

Unhappily, in the feverish scramble for progress and profits, the villages and towns established by early Quebec pioneers have been left to their own meagre resources.

Profits Plus Philanthropy The Cadburys of England were Quakers with humanitarian ideals as well as business ability. Cadburys, having already established a plant in Huntingdon, might be approached by a Citizens Committee

Of interest to Cadbury's shippers here and others is the fact that "a glass-and-a-half of full cream milk goes to make every half pound of Cadbury's Dairy Milk Chocolate. That's why you can taste the cream of course."

Utopia The story gained from these publications sounds like a vision of Paradise, compared to the revela-for the use of literature, films and other material in making a study of the local needs and possibilities. Bournville is world-famous as an ideal industrial and social development, where thousands of visitors are welcome each year and taken on conducted tours.

Too Little — Not too Late Captains of Industry in Huntingdon have already put forth some efforts in the way of promoting housing. They may not have received the type of co-operation necessary for an adequate solution. Far too much of any savings, as well as the credit and taxes of smaller towns, is syphoned off by Governments, Big Business, Insurance Companies, to be used elsewhere for profit. Any individual trying to secure a "Housing Loan" will soon discover the facts of life.

Conditions in Quebec are not always what the promoters picture. Inexhaustible resources, docile labor supply, quoting "Industry in Action" "...As long as the dignity and health of the worker are respected and just wages and salaries paid, the Church allies itself with the government, business and industry in welcoming outside interests to Quebec."

Too many, indeed, are condemned to live in old garages, abandoned hen-coops and rooms so long as there are plenty of bars and movie theatres available, from which government extracts a handsome revenue also. Little, if any of this revenue is returned to communities to establish rival entertainment, such as parks or playgrounds.

Care of Sidewalks in Wintertime

JUST before the last fall of snow, the sidewalks in practically every part of town were in very bad condition and many complaints of the bad walking conditions were heard. Further complaints have been heard of the outlets of certain of the sidewalks being closed off by the street snowplow piling snow into the openings.

The recent snowfall has smoothed off the walks to some extent, but the committee in charge of these walks should see that instructions go out that drains be opened up so that when a soft spell comes, the water from the resulting slush can be got away down the drains. So much snow is piled along-side the walks that the drain openings are covered and the walks are like small rivers and impossible to walk over. When a colder spell comes this water is turned to ice and is very rough on account of the holes made in the half frozen slush. If places were opened up here and there so that the slushy water could be got away, the walks would not get into this condition. They were particularly bad about a week ago due to the mild weather. This same thing will occur again at the next mild spell unless measures are taken to see that some of the snow is removed from close to the sidewalks and the water allowed to flow off the sidewalks. In the recent mild spell referred to, at many points the street snowplow had been along after the sidewalk plow and had closed in several of the walks at the ends. This snow being of a soft nature, froze overnight and formed a rough blockage that was hard to remove and hard to walk over. It should be seen that all such outlets are shovelled out and the sidewalks are open in all directions. It became a common sight to see people walking in the streets, because they were afraid to walk over the rough icy walks. These people were also subjected to splashing by passing cars and in danger of being run down.

The fact that the sidewalks are plowed out is not sufficient in itself, it should be seen that the walks are in a safe condition and comfortable for walking over by both old and young. Now that the town has two trucks, it seems that they could be used part of the time in removing the collection of snow along the streets and thus the sidewalks could be kept in much better condition. It should not only be the main thoroughfare that is cleared, but as many of the side-streets as possible also. There have been times when the snowfall has not taken place for weeks, this should allow time for much snow removal from the sides of the streets. Such removal would aid greatly when the final spring thaw comes and perhaps stop much of the flooding conditions we experience in the spring. We have noticed a snow-blower in town and it seems that this could be used to take up the snow along the streets and load it onto the trucks so that a greater amount could be cleared in a shorter time. This method would probably be no more costly than hiring a number of men to load with shovels. Furthermore, it would allow of less congestion on our streets, as cars could park closer to the sidewalk and leave more room up the centre of the streets.

May we suggest that those responsible take this under consideration and see what can be done toward better methods of snow removal.

No Halt to Rising Prices

THE woman of the house who does the shopping these days is one of the world's most worried persons. If she is of the type that has an endless supply of money, then her worries are more or less superfluous. Unfortunately, most women are not blessed with limitless means and they must make purchases more or less within a budget. Certain amounts are set aside for food, clothing, fuel, rent, and perhaps if there is enough, for some entertainment. Any unexpected increase in any one of the items causes a pinch to be felt on one or the other. For instance, Johnny may have to go to the dentist, or medical attention is called for one of the other children. This means that clothing allotment will be skimmed for a time.

The principal worry today, however, is food. If the family is to stay healthy and avoid large medical expenses, then it must be fed the proper food and in the proper amounts. This is where rising prices are cutting into the family budget and proving exigent problems that seemingly have no solution. It is no wonder then, that cries are going up to control prices. A recent matter that called forth much comment in Huntingdon, at least, was the price asked for butter over the week-end. Prices for butter in Huntingdon were set anywhere from 67c per pound to 75c and it was also a scarce commodity.

Whether this same state existed elsewhere, we do not know, but the increase was all the way from 5c to 10c per pound in about one week. No reason was found for this tremendous jump in a commodity that has held the news for several years now. In this province you buy butter at the price asked, or you go without a spread. That is almost a monopoly, with the consumer at the mercy of the manufacturer and the retailer. We cannot find that the dairy farmer has gained an increase, therefore where has the increase been instigated? When such increases are made, it is no wonder the consumer asks for controls.

The family food budget gets severely cramped when prices increase by leaps and bounds like this and the housewife is quite confused in her buying when she is faced with continual raises in prices. Not only butter has upped in price, but soap, canned goods and so on took on increases this past week. Thus the cost of living is not staying within the announced government index, but continually exceeding it. It is only natural then that increases in wages are being asked in order to cope with the trend. Naturally, if controls are put into effect, then wages will also be controlled and so on down the line. One control leads to another, or the uncontrolled gets out of control.

The Quebec Budget

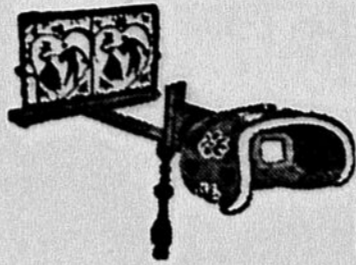

THE recently announced surplus acquired in the Quebec Budget has a pleasing sound in that it shows the financial status of the province to be sound. There is also a certain amount of proof that Quebec has entered into a prosperous era and this should auger well for the entire population. If the government can build up so large a surplus, then the general business is good all around. No new taxes are announced and in view of the surplus, this is as it should be. The government is not a profit making organization and it is not running its affairs with profit as the motive. So long as it has sufficient money to run the affairs of the province and provide the services asked of it, it should not pile up surplus amounts of funds. If surpluses are in order, then the people have the right to demand that taxes be decreased and the burden made easier for them.

In these days of increasing prices of essential commodities, it is only right that the provincial government should do its part to alleviate the burden wherever and whenever possible. Long ago it was announced that the sales tax would either be abolished, or reduced. But there was no mention in the budget that this tax would be done away with, the only item that no new taxes were added. If the sales tax was dropped, it would do much in this province, at least, to lower the cost of living and the premier and his colleagues would gain much favour from the general public as a result. But when it is mentioned that no new taxes would be added, we must not forget that already the motoring public has had an increase of two cents on the gallon of gasoline. Why should this be necessary when the fiscal year can end up with a surplus? Or is that the reason there is a surplus?

We commend the government on its great financial showing, it is better to end up in the black than the red, but at this time the people are asking for a paring of government expenditures in order to ease the general burden. There is another matter that perhaps lies hidden but is an added burden on the people with children attending school. The matter may not appear as a tax, yet it constitutes the proportions of one. For some time schools were provided with an added grant to provide the children with free books, etc., recently this grant was reduced and the schools allowed to impose a monthly fee on all pupils attending school. This fee is to help replace the loss of the grant. Perhaps this is another reason why such a handsome surplus is shown in the budget. No explanation of what the government intends to do with the surplus is given — so may we ask the question — What will be done with the surplus?

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken From Gleaner Files

July 10: 1873

On Wednesday while a boy of 9 years of age, named Timothy Fletcher, was playing around a mowing machine worked by J. Russell, Elgin, his foot came in contact with the knives. It was so lacerated that it had to be cut off by Drs. Sherriff and Morrison, above the ankle. No blame is attached to Mr. Russell who warned the boy to keep out of the way of the machine.

July 17:

On Friday evening last, an American Singing Master, Mr. Lewis, brought his school term to an end by a concert in the Academy. There was a respectable attendance and the entertainment was above the average. The singing of the choir gave ample proof of the thorough nature of their tuition.

August 21:

Dr. Sherriff, whose reputation as an observer of Meteorological Phenomena is more than local, has received from the Observatory at Toronto an addition to his set of instruments. The most interesting is an anemometer, an instrument for ascertaining the force of the wind. In addition, a set of valuable standard thermometer have been entrusted to him, two self recording and a standard dry bulb. These added to a rain gauge and an excellent barometer, enable the Doctor to keep a record of the weather of great accuracy, a copy of which he transmits monthly to Prof. Kingston, at Toronto, who classifies the reports from the different parts of the Dominion.

The vast extent of the Dominion and the great ever-increasing number of its towns and villages makes it difficult for the best informed to retain in memory a knowledge of a large proportion of the places mentioned in our papers or occurring in the way of business. To remedy this, that most energetic and undaunted of publishers, Mr. Lovell, is issuing a Gazetteer, which will give, in alphabetical order, the names of every place, no matter how small in the British North America, together with a concise description of its situation, chief characteristics, and its population. As a work of reference, no intelligent person who can afford it, will go without it, and the price considering the size of the book, is most moderate, $2.50.

We are pleased to learn that a branch of the Exchange Bank is to be opened in our village next month, under the charge of Mr. Somerville. It will do all the ordinary business of a bank except discounting — a very important exception to be sure. Money will be received in sums as low as one dollar, on which interest will be allowed. As the money can be withdrawn without notice, the objection made by small depositors to the Post Office Savings Bank will not apply to it.

August 27:

An unprecedented demand for butter has sprung up, buyers visiting every farm house and offering unusual prices. In this neighbourhood from 22 1/2 to 24 cents have been paid. Although for fine lots as high as 25 cents have been offered. The factories held out for 30 cents. The butter is all for shipment to England.

A daily mail between Huntingdon to Dundee has at last been established. It has been long talked of and long promised. It will prove of great convenience to those residing in the west end of the county. A daily mail to St. Anicet is also being arranged.

September 3:

The butter of the Rockburn Factory has been sold to go to England for 28 cents a pound.

September 17:

To the delight of all the youngsters in this neighbourhood, a circus visited the village on Friday — the first for 11 years. It was fairly attended and the performances gave general satisfaction.

October 8:

The total amount paid out by Huntingdon Agricultural Society No. 1 at its recent Show in prizes was $777.05.

October 15:

The butter of the Athelstan factory has been sold to Mr. Polson, Trout River Lines, for 29 cents per pound. He takes the whole season's butter.

October 22:

No one who has walked our streets in the dark has not had cause to execrate the perverse ingenuity which at recurring intervals has made depressions in the side walks. The falls, the jerks and the shocks which these uncalculated and absurd pitfalls have caused, are beyond count and yet Council after Council has neglected to obviate them. Mr. Third we notice has voluntarily levelled the one opposite his property. Is it too much to ask the road committee to order that the remainder be treated in a like manner forthwith?

October 29:

The change from a tri-weekly to a daily mail to St-Anicet comes into force on the 1st of next month. We are disappointed on learning that new arrangement will not benefit La Guerre, which it is intended to supply three times a week from St. Anicet. For the slight extra expense of making the mail take its present round we should think the Department will yet reconsider its actions.

November 12:

The Sons of Temperance held a very pleasant monthly meeting on Monday evening. Dr. Sherriff was in the chair and the Rev. T. G. Williams who was here on a visit and the Rev. Messrs. Roy and Crothers delivered addresses.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA (CP) - Every session of parliament usually has one big inning, one piece of legislation which packs more wallop than the rest.

Sometimes the scoring punch comes from the effect it has on the people of Canada. Sometimes it is derived from the argument Opposition members put up before the government gets its bill passed. There was a bill shaping up in the House of Commons last week which looked as if it might be this session's "big inning." It's the government's emergency powers bill.

This bill gives the government broad powers to take almost any action to ensure the building up of the country's defences in the existing international emergency. It also could introduce price controls and other restrictions to stabilize the country's economic life.

Last week Progressive Conservative members, led by Opposition Leader George Drew, hammered lustily at certain sections of the legislation. Their main contention was that parliament was being asked to surrender authority to the Cabinet.

Drew's Objections
Mr. Drew said the legislation contained "wide-open, undefined" powers it intends to exercise; that the authority it was being given was too all-embracing.

Prime Minister St. Laurent replied he could not foresee the government taking any major step without the consent of parliament. The government had nothing in mind now which could be disclosed as something that would be done. But it had to have the power to act quickly if the need arose.

The Prime Minister said the government would be happy if it could say just what control powers would be needed during the present emergency. But it would be "very presumptuous" for any one to try to predict the future course of the world.

To Mr. Drew's charge that the government might use the legislation to suspend the constitution, Mr. St. Laurent replied that it was already provided that the power would end May 31, 1952. If it is extended it would be parliament and not the government that would make the extension.

Mr. Drew contended the bill was as they can, and the Bank pushing money into circulation in order to prevent the unemployment which would be the normal consequence of the union wage policy. In the long run this is destructive in its effects upon everyone, even the trade union members who have managed to keep wages rising faster than prices."

too closely akin to the all-embracing War Measures Act. It was "the same animal with a couple of hairs clipped off the tail."

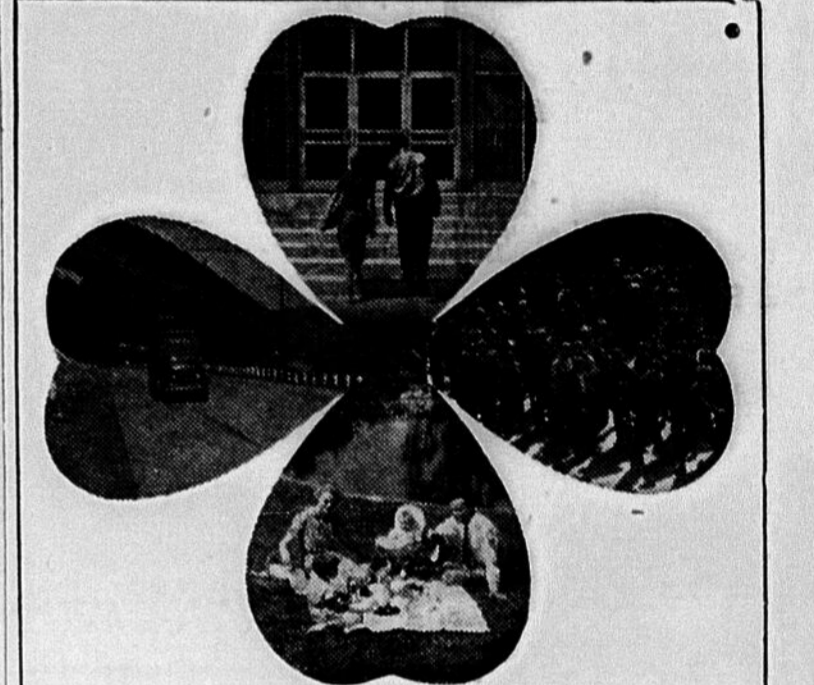

Need For Speed
A companion measure, the bill to establish a new department of defence production, was supported by Trade Minister Howe with a speech Friday in which he said the government makes no apology for asking for extraordinary powers at this time.

"There will be little disagreement in any part of the house that speed in getting on with defence preparations is of the utmost importance," said Mr. Howe. "This need for speed dictates the need for special powers both to requisition supplies and to direct production."

New Indian Bill
A bill that looked pretty familiar to most members was reintroduced last week. It's a revision of the Indian Act, aimed at providing a new charter for the 135,000 descendants of Canada's first settlers. The bill was almost identical with one proposed at the spring session.

You're "in clover" these four ways!

Somewhere in your community, chances are that invested life insurance dollars are benefiting you by helping to build urgently needed public works. One of these might be a new, well-equipped school, encouraging your boy or girl to be a better, happier student. It might be a modern highway, helping to relieve traffic congestion in your district. Life insurance dollars, invested for the future needs of policyholders, make it possible to build many such roads throughout the nation. Perhaps a new industry has recently moved into your town, creating jobs for many people, maybe for you. If so, it may be one of the industries that life insurance dollars have helped to build or expand. Other life insurance dollars play a part in building power plants, water systems and many other useful projects. Families, too, benefit by these investments, which help make it possible for Canada's 5 million policyholders to enjoy double security — income for later years and protection of loved ones now. Thus life insurance promotes progress and security throughout the nation.

Cabbages and Stars

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

There was more truth than nonsense in Lewis Carroll's linking up of cabbages with kings, but it is utter nonsense to suggest that there is any relationship between the price of cabbages and the stellar universe. Addressing the annual convention of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers at Toronto, Prof. McDougall, of Queen's University, said: "Remember that the fair selling value of a cabbage isn't written in the stars. It has to be decided by some man or men." The professor was referring to a resolution which called for wage and price controls, and he asked the farmers how well they were equipped to "enter into the hurly-burly with other groups" in getting a fair price for their products.

He pointed out that there are five paid workers drawing wages and salaries outside of agriculture for every one farm operator, and although food amounts to only 33 per cent of the total cost of living index, the prices of food products have an exaggerated effect upon the thinking of those paid workers. We hear little or no complaint about the high prices of non-essential goods, luxuries and entertainment, but the moment the price of cabbages and other farm products goes up there is a demand that the government do something about it. But who is it that sets the prices of cabbages?

	(Per cent)
Salaries, wages, etc.	60.37
Investment income, including corporate income and excess profits taxes (5.51 percent)	17.67
Income of agriculture	11.68
Income of unincorporated business	10.28

The farmers claim they are not getting a fair share of the national income, and they want government controls. Prof. McDougall reminded them of the effects of the control system during the war. "You know," he said, "that wages as well as prices were supposed to be frozen at 1941. Do you realize that there was actually a greater increase in the index of wages between 1941-43 when the freeze went into effect than there was between 1939 and 1941 when it was not? The index moved 13.8 points in the first period, 21.7 points in the second two-year period, and kept on moving upward through 1944 and 1945. In other words, there wasn't really a wage freeze at all; there was merely a very imperfect retardation of the rate of interest."

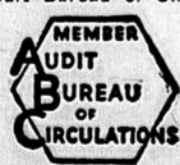

At the same time, food and other commodity prices were fixed; but they had to be supported by government subsidies and bonuses, which had to be paid for in higher taxes. A fresh illustration of this is contained in a London news dispatch, dated February 15, which reads: "The Labor Government's 'cheap food' policy cost taxpayers about $1,800,000,000 in 1949-50, auditor general Sir Frank Tribe reported today." In all its controlling, there is one thing the government cannot control, and that is taxes.

Shortage Upping Price of Butter

The butter shortage hit Ottawa Thursday with a one to three cent price rise in the carats for the week-end. The Journal was informed. Retailers and wholesalers said present stocks were nearing exhaustion. Stocks Slump Sharply. Latest figures on major storage points across Canada revealed stocks were down to 8,093,000 pounds, compared to 25,871,000 last year.

Butter currently was selling in Ottawa at from 63 to 66 cents. With no government ceiling the price was free to rise in line with demand. Officials of the Agricultural Price Support Board, the Dairy Products Board and wholesalers and retailers were hopeful the shortage would be temporary and the price rise slight. Mr. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture in the Federal Government, at the opening of the Macdonald College Royal the past week, had the following to say on the butter situation.

Did Not Want New Zealand butter, which Mr. Gardiner said the Government did not want to see brought into Canada, was laid down at Halifax at a cost of 40.4 cents a pound. The floor price in Canada was 53 cents and Canadian farmers could not compete with New Zealand butter. The butter dealers were selling the imported butter at 56 1/2 cents a pound.

Mr. Eric King, principal of Ormstown High School was the guest speaker at the church service held at the Hemmingford Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon, to observe Education Week. Mr. and Mrs. King were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scott following the service.

Junior Y.P.S. Miss Joan Mather was hostess to the Presbyterian Junior Young People's Society on Wednesday evening. Lyndon Hooker presided and Shirley Marshall and Mrs. R. Eastwood assisted with the worship service.

Letters to The Editor

Huntingdon, Que. March 6th, 1951. I make it my duty to take this opportunity to express my opinion in regard to a very important problem; that is, the improper housing situation in the West end of the Town. For a long period of time, there have been different organizations who have helped in many ways some people in that part of the Town. This did not solve the problem and never will in my opinion. Educating them in what they should do as far as properly spending their wages, keeping clean and good house management; this is all very good, but yet it does not solve the problem. To have good house management, they must have a house. That they have not, how could a housewife, even if she wanted to, be encouraged to work and keep things clean when she stops and thinks of what she has to work with. My opinion is that all present families should have a proper house to live in. I mean by all "present families" those who are living here now, not outsiders. In order to help to procure them

The Mayor was authorized to sign fuel oil contract with Champlain Oil Co. ORMSTOWN PARISH COUNCIL Ormstown Parish Council met on Monday, Mayor D. C. Brown presiding. On motion of Couns. a proper home, I, as a representative of the Town Council, if an organization was formed to that effect, would be in favour of the Town Council cooperating in many ways, as I consider this present problem of the utmost importance. Water supply and sewer systems should not be neglected. A certain percentage of cost could be granted by the Town to aid the different organizations. I have great confidence that the Quebec Government, if approached, would contribute to an extent of 75%. Therefore, the problem would be solved, the poor would benefit, and it would be a glory for the citizens of the community. I am pleased to congratulate the editor of the Huntingdon Gleaner for the nice article to that effect published last week. I hope that in the near future the Gleaner will be in a position to publish an article, telling the good news that the problem is solved, how it has been solved and what a relief for the community. Signed, An Alderman

Chateaugay

Special C.G.I.T. Service (CHATEAUGAY)—A Special Service was held on Sunday morning, Feb. 25, in St. Andrew's United Church in connection with the Annual C.G.I.T. Week.

Seven young women, C.G.I.T. graduates, who have completed a three year course of Leadership Training, conducted by Mrs. D. R. Morrison, had charge of the service. The choir, on this occasion, was composed of members of the local C.G.I.T. Group, with Mrs. Eric Smith, organist. The Call to Worship was given by Miss Elaine Armstrong, Outremont, Que.

The Scripture Lesson was read by Miss Lois Demman of Outremont and the Children's Story told by Miss Doris Colver, student-in-training at Macdonald College.

Miss Lois MacKenzie of Chateaugay and Miss Helen Dunlop of Verdun, sang very sweetly "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings."

Miss Dorothy Hoult of Outremont, Que., president of the Leader Grad. Group was the guest speaker and gave an inspirational address.

The whole service throughout was impressive. These young Christian women brought to it a richness of piety which stirred emotionally and challenged all who listened.

Woman's Association Meeting The monthly meeting of the Woman's Association was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Cassidy, on Tuesday evening, with Mrs. James Webster and Mrs. T. E. Biell joint hostesses. Mrs. G. S. Adams, the president presided and conducted the devotional exercises.

During the business period several items were discussed and conveners for some of the tables at the bazaar were appointed. Mrs. Douglas Gilmore gave a reading which was much enjoyed. During the social half-hour, the hostesses served refreshments.

Military Whist The Chateaugay Home and School Association sponsored a Military Whist, last Wednesday night, at the Heights Recreation Club House, which proved very successful. The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. W. A. Barclay, Mr. Nelson Bryant and Mr. Henry Cassidy. Cards were played at 24 tables.

Freight Trains Are Treasure Laden Have you ever given a second thought to the importance of those thundering freight trains? We treat them as commonplace, part of the Canadian scene and more often than not consider them a source of irritation for delaying our passage across the tracks.

Actually, freight train service is the most important single factor in the well being and prosperity of the nation. A two-way operation carries the raw materials to factory and forge, and the finished products to markets at home and abroad.

The volume of freight moving charts a graph which all may read to learn the level of our prosperity, our domestic activity and the balance between imports and exports in international trade.

The next time that you are stopped by those rolling warehouses, do not fuss — salute them for the contribution which they are making to our industrial potential. Without them in this land of vast distances our economy could not prosper.

Remember, too, that here is part of the drama of round-the-clock railroading. Rugged railroaders can spin exciting yarns of the drag or hotshot that triumphed over heat and fog, cold and blizzard, grade and high-wheeler.

The largest freight yard in Canada is the Canadian National Railways Turret terminal in Montreal. On fifty-five miles of track 5,400 units of freight equipment are marshalled daily out of seeming disorder into fifty trains.

Howick

HOWICK—The monthly meeting of the Georgetown Bible Class was held at the home of Miss Margery Craig on Friday evening, with 13 members and one visitor present. The devotional was taken by Rev. Marshall and Ethel Cullen. After the business meeting, an amateur hour was spent in which all took part in a very amusing manner. Afterwards delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and committee in charge.

On Tuesday, February 20th, the Georgetown Women's Missionary Society held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Thos. Kerr. A goodly number of members responded to the roll call and three visitors were welcomed. Following the newly adopted plan, the two conveners for the meeting were Mrs. J. H. Marshall, who occupied the chair and Mrs. P. D. McArthur. The devotional period was conducted by the conveners. Mrs. Marshall gave a short address, "Our Missionary Effort." The group was happy to welcome Mrs. D. Black and Mrs. S. Carmichael of Riverfield, who presented very interesting and full reports of the meetings of the Montreal Presbyterian which were held on the 6th of February.

The meeting of March 20th will be held in the Church Hall. Quitting for the bazaar will commence at 10:00 a.m. A Pot Luck dinner will be served, and the regular meeting will be held at the usual hour of 2 p.m.

Hemmingford

HEMINGFORD — The regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. was held on Wednesday, February 28th at the home of Mrs. I. Pelletier with Mrs. Mabel Keddy as co-hostess. Mrs. E. Clelland presided in place of Mrs. Geo. Brown, who having been ill for several days, was unable to take the chair. However, we were very pleased to have Mrs. Brown with us at the meeting and we hope she will fully recover very soon.

The meeting opened by the singing of one verse of hymn "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." Prayer from call to prayer card was read in unison and Mrs. Brown led in prayer remembering our Missionaries overseas and specially remembering our Miss Bessie Cairns.

Many Acts followed, some of which were "Joe Jones Quartet", a group of four musicians and a skit contributed by Montreal West High School. There was also a ventriloquist, Don Keller, from Verdun High School and a tap dance by Sal Hayden, of Westmount Junior High School, "The Inkspots", a vocal group of five rendered two or three songs, and were indeed very good. Many more performances followed, but too many to relate here, but too many to relate here.

Next there was a rendition of the bag pipes by Wayne Bisallion of Montreal West High School and a vocal duet by Gail Phillips and Ronald Wulfer, who gave a beautiful version of "Whispering Hope." Higher Prices For Milk Inevitable, Head of Quebec Producers Says

P. D. McArthur, Howick, Again President of Association

An increase in present retail milk prices must be made if producers are to remain in business, the annual meeting of the United Milk Producers' Associations of Quebec was told yesterday by its president, P. D. McArthur of Howick, Que.

He warned that competition from industry's high-paying jobs and the pressure on farmers to sell their cattle for meat at today's high prices mean "there very definitely could be a milk shortage."

Mr. McArthur, who was re-elected at the meeting, spoke at a gathering at the Mount Royal Hotel of representatives of milk producers in the seven largest markets of the province. There are 15,000 milk producers in the membership of federated associations in the U.M.P.A.Q.

"Whole herds of dairy cattle are being bought off, some for $300 a head," to meet the current demand for meat at high prices, he said.

Slaughtering of prime heifer calves for meat cuts the potential milk production, he pointed out. Montreal is now the only market in the province which has a steady surplus of milk, he said. The president pointed out that milk from Montreal is now being shipped to Three Rivers, Quebec City and northern centres to meet scarcities there.

"As milk producers, we are becoming alarmed over this situation. Not so much from the price point of view, but we are deeply concerned over the future sources of milk and the preservation of the industry, a vital public service."

"Factory hours" said impossible The nature of the milk producing business makes it impossible to maintain "factory hours" and farmers must pay ever-increasing wages to keep men on dairy farms, he said. Prices of feed grains and hay have increased recently, another cost burden to be considered, Mr. McArthur said.

Farm machinery must be kept up-to-date, especially in view of forthcoming restrictions in steel uses and expected higher prices.

"Panic buying" by the public is a major factor in the present rush of high prices for butter, Mr. McArthur stated. Blame for the prices was misplaced if laid to the farmers, he said.

"We don't get the benefit of those increases," he said. Another important step in addition to increasing milk prices was recommended by the speaker, a program of "factory hours" for the farmers, he said.

EDMONTON, (CP)—Police are investigating the death of six golden pheasants, believed to have been killed by dogs at the Borden Park zoo. A species originally from the Orient, the birds were valued at $100. A hole was found torn in the door of their enclosure.

Chateaugay

CHATEAUGAY—The Chateaugay Heights Citizens' Association are running two official candidates in the coming election for Mayor and Alderman this Saturday, March 10.

Both these candidates are well known, old time residents of Chateaugay, and were selected at the unanimous choice of the Association, but only after the executive had toiled day and night to come to some amicable agreement with various minority groups to select two candidates that would be agreeable to all parties concerned and thus save the taxpayers the expense of an election.

Mr. Len Noon is running for Mayor and Mr. C. Gilmour is running for Alderman.

Both these men have promised the Association they will do their utmost to serve the community fairly, impartially, and work for the best interests of the citizens as a whole.

ADVERTISE

A woman is just another woman if she does not dress in the best style and colours. So it is with your home. You will be treating yourself to a new dress or hat for Easter, and if your home decorations are in harmony everyone will be happy. Treat your home to a new frock this spring and give the whole family a treat.

When patching plaster see that the new work is perfectly level with the surrounding plaster. Prime with Lowe Bros. Super Sealer before painting.

LOWE BROS. PAINTS ARE THE BEST

USE:—KEMGLO for kitchen and bathroom. This remarkable new enamel gives a porcelain finish just like the finish of your Frigidaire — Sta-white is white and will not yellow off like so many so-called white enamels and there is a range of lovely pastel shades which can be accented by mixing with base colours. Gallons $9.60; Quarts $2.90.

The correct way to repair cracked plaster is to cut the crack in the shape of an inverted V. Soak edges well with water, and patch with SHEETROCK PATCHING COMPOUND. Apply supersealer before repainting.

To remove old cracked and hard putty run a hot soldering iron over the putty until soft then dig out with chisel or putty knife.

KEMTONE. Has been on the market for 4 years and is in the front rank of inside paints of the cheaper lines. When mixed gives 1½ gallons of rich paint sufficient for 800 sq. feet of wall. Gallons $5.70; Quarts $1.50. Base colours also in stock.

Spread your KEMTONE with a ROLLER-KOATER. With this extremely handy tool there is no chance of thick laps, and the job is done in less than half the time taken with a brush, and a much nicer job too. Roller-Koater outfit $1.25.

It is not necessary to size new plaster if you use a good primer paint. Allow 24 hours to dry primer. If painting a light shade over a very dark paint, first paint over Lowe Bros. Super Sealer mixed with a small quantity of the finish colour.

NEPTO-LAC ENAMEL — The new super white is a vast improvement on the old white — there is a choice of 24 colours.

Gallons $8.85; Quarts $2.50; Undercoating $6.85 and $2.00

Paint over knots: after priming paint is on brush lightly with white shellac over knots. If white lead primer is used brush aluminum paint over knots before priming. If primer is aluminum coat knots with shellac after priming. Never apply shellac directly to wood when an exterior surface is to be painted.

INSIDE PAINTS:—MELLOTONE flat paint sold in 10 different pastel colours: gallons $6.30; quarts $2.00

MELLO-GLOSS — range of colours as Mellotone but with a satin gloss finish.

HIGH STANDARD HOUSE PAINT — for inside our outside in 19 different colours. Gallons $6.95; Quarts $2.15.

Floor enamel and varnish. Inside and outside varnish gloss or satin. You cannot do a good paint job with a cheap brush. Our brushes are all Chinese bristle, will last for years if kept clean after using.

LOWE BROS. PAINTS ARE USED ON SHIPS and if good enough for ships are good enough for your home.
