CARSLEY'S COLUMN.

GOING FAST!

The Mantles are selling faster than we expected they would. Although the stock is immensely large the high priced ones will soon be gone, if they continue to sell at the same rate as they did yesterday, the first day of the sale.

We are going through the mantle stock as fast as we can and making substantial reductions in price, so as to make this the most successful sale of dry goods for bringing in money and giving genuine bargains ever held in Montreal.

DECIDED. We have never yet held what may be called a forced sale, simply because either competition or other circumstances have ever called for it.

Business men, who have no liabilities and a fortune over and above their business, which should be large, can afford to hold their goods until they can sell them at a paying profit, which is the wisest thing to do.

CALLAN "BOOS UP SERENELY" AND GIVES HIM A "BLACK EYE."

DUNDALK STANDS BY ITS OLD MEMBER—O'SHEA CONTENTS LIVERPOOL AGAINST THE ATTORNEY'S WISHERS—PARNELLITES AND TORRES JOIN HANDS.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Mr. Philip Callan carried the Dundalk delegates against Mr. Joseph Nolan, of Liverpool, Mr. Parnell's candidate, last night, by an overwhelming vote and thus scores the first defeat of the Irish leader on his policy of dictation since the conventions began to name candidates.

Callan was the Nationalist whip in last Parliament, an active supporter of Mr. Parnell and the most ardent fighter for Home Rule, but his habits were too boisterous to suit the tastes of Mr. Parnell and a majority of his colleagues.

It was decided that Mr. Callan would have to go. The effort to throw him over has, however, proving a failure and he "boos up serenely," taking the nomination over the head of Mr. Parnell's choice and being a skilful wire-puller will undoubtedly be elected, even if Parnell will adopt the policy of risking defeat at the polls is a question, especially as Mr. Callan announces he will support every measure of the Parnell campaign for Home Rule, whether such measure merits his personal approval or not.

He has full confidence in his leader, though his leader appears to have very little confidence in him. Every one outside the County of Louth, however, feels Mr. Parnell acted very properly in this matter of his ardent supporter. The late Mr. A. M. Sullivan absolutely resigned his seat for Louth sooner than consent to sit with Mr. Callan for a colleague. He has been expelled from the Reform Club, and silenced in the House for indecent behavior, and has been in every way a sore and injury to the National party.

While always meaning well and endeavoring to do his duty, his feelings have always carried him away at critical points and tended to the injury of his cause. The black eye which Mr. Parnell received at Dundalk is followed by the abrasion of his other eye, and this time, Mr. O'Shea, late member for Clare, is the breaker who administers punishment. Mr. Parnell is contending, among several other doubtful seats, one in which the Nationalists have a fighting chance of success, the Exchange division of Liverpool, which, with its large Irish population, might possibly enable the Nationalists to secure representation, but Mr. O'Shea, kicked out of Clare by Mr. Parnell, turns up as the Liberal independent Home Rule candidate for Liverpool Exchange, and the Irish residents, being mainly Clare men, he will likely get sufficient votes to defeat Mr. Parnell, which is probably all that he really cares for.

THE LIBERAL SPLIT. The excitement over the approaching elections increases, but the Liberal split has been by no means healed by the Gladstone campaign. Yet the speeches of the Liberal leader have undoubtedly brought many wavering Whigs back to the support of the party, just as they were about ready to join hands with the Tories in defence of the threatened raid on the Church.

AN UNHOLY ALLIANCE. Mr. Parnell's most recent manifesto, published this morning, instructing the Irish Home Rulers in England to support the Conservative candidates, gives the Tories renewed hope and leads to talk in Liberal clubs of another deal between Lord Randolph Churchill and Mr. Parnell. Talk of abolishing or reforming the House of Lords has almost entirely dropped out of the campaign. The Liberals wisely refrain from discussing it, as the Radicals and Whigs are almost as widely apart on it as on the question of disestablishment, and the Tories keep out of it because to open the question at all they must meet either abolition or reform, and they are quite satisfied to let the sleeping dog lie.

(Press Despatch.) RANGOON, Nov. 21.—The British expeditionary force have captured Magway, a town of British on the Irrawaddy river 35 miles above Prome. Among the prisoners taken were three Italian officers serving in the Burmese army. Gen. Pendergast is now at Meeha. He states that fighting is expected at Sagayin in a few days. A STEAMSHIP SHORE. LONDON, Nov. 21.—The steamship "Herion," Captain Maxwell, from Boston November 19th for Liverpool, is ashore in Dunmurry Bay, and is likely to prove a total wreck. Dunmurry Bay is an inlet on the south-west coast of Ireland in the county of Cork. The "Herion" is a four-masted screw steamer of 1,952 tons burden, 290 feet long, built in Belfast in 1867.

THE ANCIENT CAPITAL.

(Special to the Witness.)

THE LEWIS INDIGNATION MEETING ON THE RIEL QUESTION last night, was attended by over 3,000 electors of the constituency, who enthusiastically joined in the national protest against the Ministers, and especially those from Lower Canada. They were addressed by both Liberals and Conservatives, among whom the most prominent were their own federal and local members, Mr. Sarsby, Guy and Lemieux, Senator Pelletier, Messrs. Charles Langevin, Desjardins of Hochelaga, Guillemin of Joliette, Amyot and Faucher of Bellechasse, and Tarte, all of whom united in proclaiming that the party hatched had been injured in this province, and beneath it was to be common war against Sir John Macdonald and Orangemen. Mr. Desjardins, of Hochelaga, hitherto one of Sir John's staunchest French-Canadian supporters, made some significant declarations. In the course of his speech he said the Conservative members had been reproached with having delayed too long in sending their protest to Ottawa, but how could they have protested, he asked, when, during whole months, by a most odious system of deception, they had been led to believe that the Government would find means to avoid the execution. But even when they did protest it was not yet too late. There could be no mistake, too, about the meaning of that protest. It meant that if Riel was executed there would be a rupture between the Government and the Province of Quebec, and now that rupture had come never to be healed again. The Ministers never made a greater blunder in their lives if they imagined that the excitement in Lower Canada would burn off quickly like a fire of straw, and that all would soon be forgotten. He contended, also, that while they had also led the sympathy of Generaux and the Irish race throughout the Dominion, that they would not gain one seat in Ontario by Riel's hanging. Respecting the future he said that the dawn of Sir John's political career had been lit up by the reflection of the burning Parliament House at Montreal, but it would soon be extinguished forever by the shadow of the gallows at Regina. That there would be no question of party any more, but a union of forces in Lower Canada, and in Ontario, if they formed alliances they would do so with their eyes open and against those at present in power at Ottawa, on the basis of equal rights to the French as well as English races. Mr. Amyot was particularly hard on Sir Hector Langevin, who, he said, had tried to strut on Cartier's heels, but he was a mere tool for his use. Finally after adopting the address and a series of condemnatory resolutions against the Government, the meeting broke up with cheers for Langevin, Chapleau and Caron, and three cheers for the Queen.

FREE FROM CHOLERA. According to an official telegram received by the Spanish Consul, the absence of cholera from his Government, all parts of Spain and adjacent islands are now free from cholera, and the authorities are giving clean bills of health.

NOTES. There was no meeting of the City Council last night, owing mainly to the absence of Mayor Langevin from town on professional business. Notice was given for a special meeting on Tuesday. Numbers of the public attended in expectation that the Riel question would come up.

Building operations have been resumed on the small plot quarantined at the Palais, and it is said that the residents in the vicinity have instructed counsel to take legal proceedings for their discontinuance.

A SCHOONER ON FIRE. HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 20.—The schooner "Florella," Capt. Connolly, arrived in North Sydney with her cargo on the "Florella" left Montreal for North Sydney and Harbor Grace with bay and general merchandise. When off Anticosti on Monday, while in the act of wearing ship during a heavy gale of wind, the cabin lamp exploded, setting fire to the cargo by the burning oil falling through the cabin floor. Every effort was made to extinguish the fire, but without success, and everything was battered down and the vessel wrecked on Sydney, where the fire was extinguished by the fire brigade.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD. LEAVES ON A VISIT TO ENGLAND. OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—Sir John Macdonald, who for some time past has been contemplating a visit to England, left today for Quebec, frolic which will last for several days.

(Special to the Witness.) OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—Sir John Macdonald will return to Ottawa from England early in January.

Sir John Macdonald's sudden departure for England is, of course, the topic of general conversation. His friends state that it was planned long ago, but the general opinion is that the trouble over the Riel affair has been a strain upon the Premier's powers, though he certainly did not show it, and that his visit to England of a couple of months was in order to escape from the worry which has followed the execution. His return in January confirms the report of an early session to begin in that month. A rumor is whispered that at one of the last Cabinet meetings before his departure, he announced that Sir A. T. Gait had at last consented to accept the post of Finance Minister. He is not a member of the Commons, but it is stated that a constituency would be opened for him in Manitoba by the resignation of one of the Conservative members of that Province. If the rumor proves to be true, there can be no doubt that Sir John has shown his usual ability as a high reputation as a financier and statesman. His financial ability will be tested to the utmost in dealing with the next budget, if a favorable statement is to be made. His entrance into the Cabinet at a time when it has been weakened by the resignation of Sir Leonard Tilley, and the alleged dissensions of the French members, will materially strengthen it.

THE ANCIENT CAPITAL. (From Our Own Correspondent.) QUEBEC, Nov. 20. LIET-GOVERNOR MASSON.

QUEBEC CENTRE. It is feared that there may be some trouble at the great meeting in this division, to-morrow night, as it has been announced that Mr. O'Brien, the member for the centre, and Hon. T. McCreary, of Quebec, will both be reading close to the place of meeting, both refused to sign the members' telegram to Sir John, asking for money to Riel. As it is probable also that Mr. McCreary's interest in the Prince Albert Colonization Company, which is by many regarded as the immediate cause of the rebellion, will be fully ventilated at the gathering, the danger is all the greater.

ANOTHER NATIONAL PROTEST. The resolutions adopted at last night's meeting of the St. Jean Baptiste Society of St. Lawrence were even stronger than those of the Quebec sister society, especially against Sir A. P. Caron. The President, who both read and signed the society's flag, insisted on his residence in mourning for eight days.

RENEWED. The elections of Drummond and Arthabaska have made a fatal demand upon their members. Mr. Bourgeois, who did not protest against Riel's execution, and afterwards his answer. Because Caron is also reported to have been elected, the members of the society, Mr. Taché, and his immediate resignation. Montgomery has called a general meeting of its electors at St. Joseph's, and has asked them to elect a member, Mr. Lacombe, to appear and explain his conduct. It will also have a grand requiem mass for Riel at St. Thomas on Monday morning. Lewis holds its meeting to-night.

A CREW. A crew of leading Conservatives was held in Le Canada office this morning, and it is understood that war to the knife against the Government was resolved upon. The Carlier Club meet to-morrow night for the purpose, it is believed, of dissolving.

NOTES. It is understood that the result of the enquiry before the Marine Department here as to the stranding of the steamship "Titania" and "Brooklyne" has been to free the masters of both vessels from blame.

A comparative statement shows that the shipping arrivals here this season have been three times as many as last year, and four steamships and 17,665 tons in excess of last year.

ST. GABRIEL'S SORROW. At a meeting of the Council of St. Gabriel Village, held on the evening of the 18th inst., the following resolution was passed: "Resolved, that the Divine Office be celebrated in the village of St. Gabriel, and that all things in connection therewith be done with the greatest solemnity and devotion."

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1885.

THE GERMAN REICHTAG has not given the Chancellor too quiet a time, and the members who propose that henceforth it is to meet but once in five years will at least merit the everlasting gratitude of Prince Von Bismarck. This remedy for Parliamentary Government is, however, a little Elizabethan for this nineteenth century.

THE PROMISE to British Columbia has been redeemed at a cost to the people of Canada of eighty-eight millions of dollars, twenty-five millions of acres of land, and the monopoly of the North-West. Prince Edward Island was as solemnly promised as ever was British Columbia, that communications, not to be broken by climatic exigencies would be opened between her and the main coast.

In 1880 there were shipped from this port during the season of navigation 194,366 packages of butter, of an estimated value of two million and a-half of dollars, and for this season the shipment was some sixty-seven thousand packages, of a value of six hundred and fifty thousand dollars. During the same period the export of cheese has more than doubled in quantity, and under normal conditions in value.

AT THE RECENT SALE of timber limits by the Province of Ontario, the lumbermen of Michigan were among the largest buyers. Two firms, owning large saw mills on the Saginaw, have let the contract for the transportation of two hundred million feet of logs from the Georgian Bay to their mills during the next summer.

THE CHICAGO FREE TRADE CONFERENCE has carefully guarded against that impatience and shown itself practical to a fault. By its principal report, the claims of the minority demand reform of the tariff by placing it on a revenue basis.

THE PEOPLE are of an Indo-Chinese race, being short, active, well-proportioned, light in color, and considering the insecurity of individual property, are very industrious. Their manufactures of cotton, iron, copper, wood, paper and lacquerware are quite extensive.

WHY WE GO TO CHURCH. The question of non-church attendance has been discussed very, very freely. We have had explanations of the phenomenon from one or two correspondents professing to be Christians who do not go to church and who would therefore appear to be the very persons to answer the question why so very many stay away.

of the Indian Government. He almost exterminated every branch of the royal family, with the exception of his own mother-in-law and wife. Over ninety were literally butchered in his presence. One prince was flogged to death, another was tortured until he became insane, and then hung into a ditch among the bodies of the other victims.

present position of affairs, coming to the conclusion that England is in Egypt mainly because England is in India. She has long feared that the day would come when it would seem, indeed, to be not far distant when she must fight a mighty conflict in order to hold against her Tartar and Cossack rival her splendid Indian dependencies; and it is probable that when the contest comes the troops of England, overlooking all restrictions, will be sent by the Suez Canal to the Orient.

ECHOES OF RIEL.

THE MOVEMENTS OF THE TWO CROWDS—PRESS GOSSIP ON THE AVENGING POLITICIANS.

In anticipation of any further parades, crowds of men, the police force did full patrol duty last evening in squads. Fortunately, however, there was no occasion for their interference. A considerable number of French-Canadian and others assembled in the vicinity of the Champ de Mars, and more particularly at the corner of Craig and St. Lawrence streets, about eight o'clock, but as the police kept a strict watch over their movements, they were unable to form into a crowd, and remained scattered about in small groups.

what?" it asks, "Who will replace them?" No one. The Government will pass out of our hands. The national conflict will assume an intensity which will fortify those remaining in power. The resignation of our ministers would be the losing in an instant that which we have gained by fifty-years of conflict. This would condemn our Province to pass without reviving and would be destruction to our railway enterprises, which are destined to save our nationality. Resignation would be a return to the slavery that existed before 1837. It would be a changing of the influential position we now hold before the two parties into the position which now played by Ireland in the English Parliament. The only practical result would be to give pleasure to our enemies, and punish ourselves much worse than we can punish them.

RIEL AND THE NEW YORK "HERALD." The New York Herald for three or four weeks past has been giving many columns of its valuable space every day to the cause of Louis Riel, its best efforts being directed to show that Riel had been wronged, and that he was entitled to a special commissioner to Montreal to write up the affair, and to "fire the Riel" in the name of the Government. Anything more absurd than the letters telegraphed from Montreal to the Herald by its commissioner could hardly be imagined; but their absurdity was more than equalled by the assurance of the Herald in supposing that it could coerce the Government of Canada by its threats. Sir John Macdonald, Lord Lansdowne, the British Government, and indeed every one of our authorities, was afterwards obliged to the Herald's abuse. A great deal of the violence of the French-Canadian Press must be ascribed to the conduct of the Herald, and if there has been so much feeling in the streets of Montreal, it is from no want of effort on the part of the Herald to that end. The fact that our Ann Street contemporary likes exaltation, and makes it its policy to encourage every one of our authorities, was afterwards obliged to the Herald's abuse. HOW TO SAVE CANADA. TORONTO, Nov. 21.—The Globe, in a double headed leader, urges English-speaking people to take no notice of the Riel case, but to unite with them in punishing the Dominion Government as the authors of the late rebellion. The article is full of such suggestions, and is written in the English provinces. It repeats the desire of Quebec to see the Dominion Government as the authors of the late rebellion. WHAT BLARNEY WILL DO. TWO "BEAUTIES" THAT WOULD NOT SERVE A "HATHEN." A few days ago, an Irish merchant, who has a turn for the joke, was passing a Chinese laundry. A heap of coal lay on the pavement in front of the door, and he stepped on it with his foot, and at each of these stood a brawny Irishman rolling up his cuffs. The wag stopped and eyed the pair. "They were beauties, my boy," said he, when telling the joke afterwards. A look of great disgust overcame his face as the two men stopped before they commenced their work. They saw that he was eyeing them, and were wondering what he was up to. "I would see countrymen of my own carrying coats for a pig-tailed heathen. You're both Irish, aren't you?" "Yes, sir," replied the men. He looked at them again, and said, "I never thought of that, sur," said one of the men; and looking at the coal and the Chinaman's place, they slowly picked up their coats, kicked over the coal, and walked on, leaving their sign on as they went. "I was with you to the foot of the hill," said the wag, "and gave them a quarter each. I never enjoyed a joke so much before."

THE FIRE COMMITTEE. At the Fire Committee yesterday a petition from the widow of John Shaw was read, asking that the full amount ($1,000) of her late husband's life insurance be paid her, she having no children. Mrs. Shaw has already received half ($500). Referred to the City Attorney.

THE CHAIRMAN said that the subject could not be reconsidered this year, the man had let the risk as an opera house against the terms of his contract. The Recorder's Court was finally decided to ask the City Attorney whether the Committee could give Mr. Robertson the privilege asked or not.

On his insulting the Court the fine was increased to $20 or fifteen days. He then became violent and was removed to one of the new cells.

At the Citizens' Committee, yesterday, but five members were present. Mr. Paul called attention to what he believed a fact, viz., that the Anglican clergy of the city had, or were arranging to take turns about in visiting the small-pox hospitals. NOTE. A case of small-pox has broken out on Lot 11, 2nd Concession of Kenyon, some two and a half miles west of Alexandria, Ont. The case is isolated.

The Rev. Father Formentin, curate of St. Jerome, died recently from small-pox. The authorities of the Female Jail yesterday refused to receive a prisoner from the Health Court, and the woman had, consequently, to be let off.

The Rev. Mr. Nichols denies that he ever told Mr. Dow that the Health Officers "would not give the removal of the child." He has not seen Mr. Dow for more than a year. The only knowledge of the case was that Mr. Dow sent her daughter to his house on Saturday night, asking his advice, and saying that she would be guided by him. He advised her to go to the hospital with her child, and telephoned for the ambulance.

THE EPIDEMIC UNDER CONTROL. HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 20.—Despatches from Charlottetown, P.E.I., report the small-pox epidemic under control and public confidence restored. There were three new cases to-day. Two new cases are reported from Brackley Point.

All the contestants except Townsend completed their one hundred miles in less than twenty-four hours. Scott, however, is reported to have walked 100 miles in 11h. 50m. 33s., which is nine minutes better than Howe's English record.
