

The Examiner.

FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1887.

L.-Governor and Madame Mason returned from Bermuda the beginning of the week for the re-opening of Wednesday of the Provincial Legislature.

The New York Times believes that a reciprocity treaty between this country and the United States will result from the strong desire manifested for it in Canada.

The House of Commons is to convene on the right side of the great German Chancellor's address by conferring upon Count Herbert Bismarck the order of the White Eagle.

Lord Salisbury's confession of weakness regarding his much vaunted liberal policy of firm government is most unique and expressive. He said that the condition of Ireland "is a nightmare which fetters one's limbs and paralyzes one's energies."

Canada is becoming the source of supplies for artillery horses for the British army, the war office authorities having made arrangements for the transportation from Canada to London during the coming season of 3,000 horses for artillery trains.

Cardinal Manning and Cardinal Gibbons, who are probably the most influential dignitaries, excepting the Pope, in the Catholic Church, unite in commending the Knights of Labor.

A good deal of feeling was manifested in Sherbrooke this week when it became known that the commission of Sheriff Bowen had been revoked and Hon. W. H. Webb, of Melbourne, member of the Legislative Council, had been appointed in his stead.

The Provincial Legislature opened on Wednesday afternoon. In the absence of His Honor the L.-Governor through ill health, the Provincial Administrator in state, attended by a brilliant staff, duly opened the session with the Speech from the Throne, which indicated the policy of the Government.

When requested to co-operate in arranging for the Rev. Sam Jones' revival, Dr. Wild wrote courteously, where Prof. Goldwin Smith drank an upholder of the Protestant faith, to drink to the immortal memory of King William in larger beer.

Joseph Arch, the sturdy hedger and ditcher, is attracting attention in England by his speeches on the land question. It may be remarked that previous to his mighty and successful agricultural efforts for the English agricultural laborer he was for years an earnest and faithful Methodist local preacher.

Dr. Wild had a church in Brooklyn for nine years and was moderately successful. This occurred to the mind of a rather more enterprising than reliable editor in Toronto who started the rumor. To support it Dr. Wild was interviewed and he said that he would not deny or affirm the report.

meeting upon the proposed demonstration. A fear was expressed that Montreal would have such a great celebration that the residents of the city would be disposed to go there instead of staying at home.

An order-in-council has been passed at Ottawa fixing June 21st as the day for celebrating the Queen's Jubilee.

It is understood that no city or town is necessarily obliged to choose this day, which is simply the official day.

BECHER'S SUCCESSOR (?) The difficulty which will present itself to the church and congregation so recently bereaved by the death of the Rev. Henry Becher, will be in choosing a suitable successor.

The Rev. Dr. Wild is perhaps the most eccentric, eloquent and egotistical preacher in Canada. The spacious Congregational Church in Toronto over which he has pastoral charge is crowded twice every Sunday.

Without irreverence he may be said to resemble a modern Don Quixote. This is the result of accident but by a studied endeavor to be as much like one of the old patriarchs as the cultivation of a flowing gray beard and long gray hair will enable a man of fifty with a Roman nose and strongly cut features to become.

we give up our foolish party politics, fellow-citizens, in our municipal affairs it will go. Nothing else but these absurd divisions among honest citizens give the saloon a day's grace."

REFORMER. Sherbrooke, March 17, 1887. The Story of the Bechers. In a recent letter received from Mrs. Sarah A. Mills, of Wheatley, Ont., she says: "I was a sufferer for six weeks with dyspepsia and liver complaint. My food did not digest, and I grew weaker every day. I lost appetite and had little hope of recovery. I tried many remedies, but all in vain, till I took Burdock Blood Bitters. The first bottle gave relief; after taking several bottles, I was cured. I feel that I now enjoy good health."

Railway Catastrophe. A WORKMAN'S TRAIN PASSED TO DESTRUCTION. Another terribly fatal railway catastrophe has occurred.

Some disappointment is felt at the continued cold and changeable weather, the month being now so well advanced. The brief, slight thaw that occurred the first of the week, exciting also expectations of an early break-up, which at present do not seem likely to be realized.

Worse than Small Pox. There is a rumor that the Liberals intend contesting Mr. Ives' election in the County of Compton, P. Q., which should be afflicted with another election. Better, far better, of the two calamities an epidemic of smallpox. We are sincere in saying this, and we should be afflicted with another election. What a Prominent Farmer in Barford says of Robinson's Syrup Tonic and Glycerine. "I was taken with a very severe cough. I tried various cough remedies, but none of them seemed to do me any relief. I grew rapidly weaker, and at length commenced to bleed at the lungs. I was then advised to try Robinson's Syrup Tonic and Glycerine. I did so, and before I had used half a bottle, I was very much relieved, and two bottles entirely cured me, and I am now free from a cough as any person living."

Tableau Vivants.

A UNIQUE AND SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

On Tuesday evening the Congregational Church Hall was crowded by an expectant gathering of spectators, many of whom had to content themselves with standing room. The attraction of the occasion was a finely arranged programme of tableaux vivants.

The tableaux were introduced by the Sherbrooke Orchestra, and also rendered additionally entertaining by recitations, readings and singing. The tableaux were picturesque and effective. The humorous and pathetic scenes were equally well portrayed. Under the limited stage opportunities the tableaux were introduced in a remarkably well. It is almost superfluous to add that the Orchestra treated the assemblage to several charming selections of music.

THE PROGRAMME: Overture, on orchestra; tableaux, "Bunch of Apples," Mr. F. Wilson, Miss Read, Mr. Frank Wilson, Miss Foss, Mr. T. S. Somers, recitation from "Enoch Arden," by Miss Somers; "Three Little Girls," by Miss Somers, Miss Mary Morrison, Miss Annie Foss and Miss Flora Brooks; "Abou Ben Adhem," Miss Bell Lyfield and Mr. W. Woodside, reading, "The Young Man of Leek," Miss McNeil, Miss Somers and Miss Read, Messrs. J. W. Woodside, W. McKee, Geo. McNeil, J. E. Kerr, J. E. Kerr, W. Sangster, and J. F. Kerr; song, Mr. Morry, Orchestra, Tableaux, "Three Old Young Ladies," Misses McNeil, Read and Somers, song, Mr. Morry, "Miss Bath Charming," Johnnie Baxter and Baby Foss; "Our Youth and Shout Your Eyes," same as previous tableau. Orchestra Tableaux, "Mistletoe Bough," all the troupe; "The Girl of the Year," Miss Wilson, Girl troupe; "The Girl of the Year," Miss Wilson, Girl troupe; "The Girl of the Year," Miss Wilson, Girl troupe; "The Girl of the Year," Miss Wilson, Girl troupe.

On Monday 14th instant, a very appreciative and attentive audience assembled in the church to hear an address from the Rev. Jas. Ferguson of Windsor Mills, on the great subject of Temperance. The President of the Association, Rev. A. Lee, occupied the chair. The Rev. Mr. Ferguson delivered an interesting address, in which he dwelt upon the various branches of study in the Bible we have these words: "When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him." The Rev. Mr. Ferguson said that the standard of temperance is a standard which is being raised throughout the land and is raising the standards. The various Christian Churches throughout the land are uniting their standards and together they are raising a standard which is being raised throughout the land and is raising the standards. The Examiner.

FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1887.

The Dark Day.

The following is a description of the dark day which happened on Friday, May 19th, 1780, taken from the Farmer's Almanac for 1812, printed by C. Morris & Co.
The circumstances and appearances which marked this memorable day, were as near as can be recollected, as follows: The morning exhibited nothing remarkable except a thick smoky atmosphere and a pale glimmering of the eastern sky; about eight or nine o'clock smoke and clouds obscured the sun, the heavens assumed a hazy appearance, something like that of the moon when it is totally eclipsed. About ten or twelve o'clock a gloomy, melancholy darkness enveloped all terrestrial objects; the birds and beasts repaired to their retreats of night, confusion and horror seized the minds of mortals and the very elements themselves seemed to be in commotion. The sun and moon were not seen, and the sky continued with little alteration for the remainder of the day and the night was as remarkably dark as the day.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

RESULT OF THE SNOW BLOCKADE—HIGH PRICES EXPECTED.
(From our Portland Correspondent.)

The prevailing snow storms have been so heavy of late that the railroads have been completely blocked and the arrival of lumber has been light. Several jobbers have taken their crews out of the woods.

Bangor, Me., is a great lumber center and I understand that lots of crews are now leaving the woods and their teams about to start. The snow weeks will see them all down the river. A month ago, after the great snow storms it was thought that the bulk of the snow would melt by the season but it still continues and operations are about stopped. Very few away from the spot have any idea of how things are. The amount of lumber being shipped is very small. Several operators have to do with ten to fifteen miles. There are seven feet of snow in the West Branch river. A terrible frost is expected should there be a sudden thaw. Lumber men are advancing the price on their logs and the kind of lumber will be light this spring. The local market at this place is still quiet although the enquiring for frames and yard orders are brisk. Shingles are in good demand. Clearboards are being ordered in an overproduction of last season. The South American market is active and there has been several cargoes on the Atlantic coast. The firm of S. C. Dyer & Co. are now loading two vessels for the river. There is a good demand for New York shingles and they are being good. I think all kinds of lumber will sell this season as last.

A Judicial Decision.
J. H. N. Richards, Esq., advocate, of this city, lately obtained a signal success before the Circuit Court of Arthabaska in a case, which is worth being reported.

In 1855, forty land owners of St. Fortunate, County of Wolfe and of the County of Arthabaska, petitioned to the Council of Arthabaska, the opening of a road six miles long between those two municipalities, as to be necessary to the said municipalities. The appointed Superintendent made a favorable report or process-verbal and the same was homologated by the Council of Arthabaska. The Council of Arthabaska, on the 10th of August, 1855, petitioned to the Council of Arthabaska, the opening of a road six miles long between those two municipalities, as to be necessary to the said municipalities. The appointed Superintendent made a favorable report or process-verbal and the same was homologated by the Council of Arthabaska. Come and See the Bull!
To the Editor of the EXAMINER.
The much written and talked of Bull, the Conservator of Lingwick is still in tears and will not be comforted, but their moans excite not the sympathy of those who prevailed against them on the political field of strife. They are suffering from nervous prostration, and soothing syrup nor sunshine can make them the happy, hopeful souls they were a few days before the late election. They are shedding bitter tears, not on account of the defeat they sustained at our hands on the 22nd Feb., but because their cherished hopes of redeeming Lingwick for their Chief, his heirs and successors in politics, is so remotely in the future that the youngest member of the fraternity when asked if he expects to live long enough to see the day when their hopes shall be realized, mournfully shakes his head and exclaims "No, not I, I am too old." That they have reason to grieve under the weight of their defeat is the more apparent when I assure that we have it on good authority that it was ordered at the House of Commons a few days before the election to carry Lingwick into the hands of all our friends, the (Wright wing) which included all the tried veterans and heroes who had fought battles, was de-structively instructed to advance on such tactics as would result in a successful capture of the township. The detachment was ordered to march on the 22nd of February, and was to be met at the House Guard, under the command of the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie. The detachment was to be met at the House Guard, under the command of the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie. The detachment was to be met at the House Guard, under the command of the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie.

ROBINSON'S SYRUP TOU GYNERINE.
An Entirely New Combination.
Unlike all others it stops the Cough without giving Nausea, or the slightest disturbance at the stomach. It cures by its healing, soothing action of the mucous membrane on the throat and lungs. It is now something over two years since it was first recommended as a superior cough remedy, and of the hundreds who have used it, not a case of failure is reported. We offer below a few of the numerous testimonials in favor of it.

MR. A. COLBORN, formerly head clerk of the Freight Department of the U. S. R. R. writes to a friend as follows:
"Robinson's Syrup Tolu and Glycerine, and your other medicine, have done me more good than any other medicine I have ever used. I have used it in three or four bottles, and sold by all dealers in family medicines. Price Retail, 25 Cents."

Martyrs to Headache.

Seek relief in vain, until they begu to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional and local, and until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes a gentleman of Pittsburg, Mass., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price 40 cts. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.
