Concern Over Reich Troop Drills Eases

British Press Inclined to Take View Today that No Undue Alarm Need Be Shown Over Massing of Million German Troops in Great War Games—Opposing Views Expressed on Possibilities of British Isolation From Continental Affairs.

London, Aug. 16.—(C.P.-Havas) —Great Britain's concern over Germany's mass military manoeuvres appeared to be abating today, with only three newspapers devoting leading articles to the Central European situation. This was in sharp contrast to the press of Saturday, Sunday and Monday when most papers carried comment on dangers that might possibly arise from the war games.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express (Independent) renewed its plea for a Government policy of "splendid isolation" and declared: "There could be no European war this year or next."

"If there is one, Great Britain will not be involved," the Daily Express said. "No British interests are concerned in the nationalities dispute between Germany and Czechoslovakia."

Viscount Rothermere's Daily Mail (Independent) stressed that although Britain must remain on the alert, there was no reason for undue alarm over the German war games.

"Lest uneasiness should be aroused by the spectacle of the German military machine being set in motion and the national routine being temporarily superseded, it is emphasized that these manoeuvres were announced in a perfectly open manner and that reservists have been called up solely to afford them training," the paper declared.

The Daily Herald (Labor) expressed sharp disagreement with isolationist arguments and said that while such a policy was all right for small states it was impractical for Britain.

"Our isolationists think that the example of small nations like Norway, Switzerland, Estonia, Finland and Denmark is a fitting one for us to follow," the Labor organ declared. "Now these small powers are small powers with no world-wide empire to excite envy. When our isolationists frame an imperial policy they do so as if there were no foreign countries, and when they frame a European policy they do so as if there were no British Empire."

CORRIGAN REFUSES GAMBLING PRACTICE

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 16.—(C.P.-Havas) —Douglas (Wrong Way) Corrigan, trans-Atlantic flier, says he is no gambler. George Bartha, now in Hamilton, crossed from Europe with Corrigan. He tells of Corrigan refusing to play bingo, at twenty-five cents a card.

"I don't gamble," said the flier, who has been branded reckless more often than Lindbergh.

ELEVATOR INSTALLED ON GOLF COURSE
Pittsburgh, Aug. 16.—(P) —The Pittsburgh Field Club, where many of those on the big business and social registers of the steel city find their recreation, will observe Labor Day by taking the labor out of the golf course. An elevator will be put into service to save golfers a climb up a steep hill to the 18th tee.

Pain-Crazed Heir To Motor Fortune Plunged To Death In Georgian Bay

Little Current, Ont., Aug. 16.—(P) —The explosion-torn body of twenty-one year old Daniel George Dodge, victim of a desire to hear dynamite explode, was sought today in ninety feet of water in Georgian Bay. His bride of thirteen days was in hospital, the story-book romance of a millionaire's love for a telephone operator ended.

Dodge, heir to the motor-car millions, yesterday yielded to an oft-expressed desire to learn if dynamite left by workmen at his Kagawong summer camp eight years ago still was in good condition. He selected a stick of the explosive and asked an employee to light a fourteen inch fuse that should have burned for three minutes. But the flame reached the dynamite in less than ten seconds.

Terribly injured, Dodge was thrown to the floor of the camp garage by the force of the explosion. Mrs. Dodge, the former Ann Laurine MacDonald, was cut on the face, legs and arms. Two camp helpers were hurt, Lloyd Bryant so seriously it was feared he would die.

HIGHER GOLD PRICES REFLECT TENSION

London, August 16 — (P) — Nervousness over the European situation resulted today in increased buying of gold by continental interests on the London market. They absorbed $176,000 sterling, approximately $5,731,000 — with the pound sterling at $4.8731.

The price of gold was raised a half penny to 142 shillings 8½ pence ($34.77) an ounce.

Italian Government Refuses Reply To British Complaint

Aside from Promising to Make Investigations into Charges that Italian Troops Were Being Sent to Spain in Defiance of Non-Intervention Agreements, Italy is Expected to Ignore British Note on International Situation.

London, Aug. 16 — (C.P.-Havas) —The Italian Government has made no reply to Great Britain's action in calling Italy's attention to "certain allegations" that she has sent more troops to aid insurgent General Franco in Spain, in defiance of the Anglo-Italian understanding and the Non-Intervention agreement.

It is stated here it is not unusual for a country to make no reply to representations of this sort and perhaps Count Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, who promised to investigate the allegations—does not intend to make one.

The use of the Balearic Islands, in the Western Mediterranean off the Spanish Coast, as a base for Italian planes operating in Spain is understood to be one of the allegations repeated to Rome.

The Times (Independent) stated Monday that danger of intensification of the Spanish war "comes primarily from the activities of Italian aircraft which operate freely from the Balearic Islands and which, of course, fly unmolested between those islands and Italy. It is, in fact, pretty well established that aircraft fly from Italy, pick up bombs in Spain and return to their home aerodromes—altogether a novel and wholly undesirable form of making war from neutral bases."

While drawing the allegations, which came originally from the Spanish Government, to Italy's attention, the British Government did not claim they were true. It is understood Britain pointed out that France was in an awkward position in trying to maintain a closed Pyrenees frontier to war supplies to the Spanish Government at a time when allegations of Italy's added assistance to General Franco were being published.

FIVE DEAD IN U.S. NAVY AIR MANOEUVRING

Four Other Fliers Injured as Series of Disasters Overtake Naval Planes During Practices Along Pacific.

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 16.—(P) —Disaster struck twice among the United States navy's war planes in routine manoeuvres, leaving five fliers dead and four injured today.

Attempting a landing after dark last night, a patrol bomber smashed nose first into San Diego Bay, carrying two of a crew of six to their deaths.

The four survivors, all injured, were pulled from the water as the wreckage sank.

Ten hours earlier, a speedy torpedo plane plunged earthward from an altitude of 3,000 feet over Camp Kearny Mesa. Its three crewmen perished.

Death, however, spared six men in another patrol bomber, which was damaged in a forced landing on the bay last night. The fliers emerged unhurt. Both bombers, of the type flown successfully on long distance flights to the Hawaiian Islands and Panama, had been practicing night landings.

DEED OUTDOES PROMISE

Making good their promise to fly back home in twenty hours or less, the crew of the German land plane Brandenburg completed the New York-to-Berlin crossing in 19 hours and 56 minutes, thus cutting almost 6 hours from Wiley Post's record. In the photo above, Captain Alfred Henke, commander of the Brandenburg, can be seen waving from the cockpit just before lifting his ship from Floyd Bennett Field, in New York.

Position Of Japan In China Recalls Napoleon In Russia

Saskatoon, Aug. 16.—(P) —Japan's position in China now is "very similar to that of Napoleon in Russia in 1812," Rev. Louis Bouchard, S.J., Catholic missionary of Suchow, China, said here last night as the twenty-eight year old priest passed through the city en route to Montreal where he will spend four years studying theology before returning to Asia.

Father Bouchard gave a vivid description of the bombings and warfare in China. He paid tribute to the smart generalship of the Chinese, who in the knowledge that they could not afford to meet Japan's armies on open battlefields, due to inferior equipment, fought a guerrilla war.

The priest said that ultimately China would win. The Japanese, he reported, held only the main cities and many of these points were in constant danger of being retaken by Chinese guerrilla troops.

So far, the Chinese command had not used its best troops, Father Bouchard said. The best-trained and equipped soldiers, the personal army of General Chiang Kai-Shek, were waiting to defend Hankow against the Japanese invaders.

PREPARE PLANS FOR EDUCATING QUINTUPLETS

Believed that Early Instruction of Famous Youngsters, to Begin School in September, Will Be Entirely in French.

North Bay, Ont., Aug. 16.—(P) —The Dionne quintuplets will start school September 1, as soon as they recover from their current throat ailment, and their studies will be along lines drafted by Dr. Duncan McArthur, Ontario Deputy Minister of Education, and approved by their father, Oliva Dionne.

Education plans were approved at a meeting yesterday of a guardians, Dionne, Dr. A. R. Dufosse and Judge J. A. Valin, and Hon. G. D. Conant, Ontario Attorney-General. Hon. Colin Campbell, Ontario Public Works Minister, Dr. McArthur, and Edmond Cloutier, of Ottawa, of the French Educational Association.

Miss Gaetane Vezina, of Ottawa, who will teach the quintuplets, will assume her duties September 1. Whether the children will be taught English or not was not announced, but earlier Mr. Dionne and Mr. Cloutier urged the five be taught French only at first, and as they concurred with Mr. McArthur's plans, it was believed all instructions will be in French.

A prepared statement after the meeting reported the guardians and Government officials in agreement the present educational plan of the quintuplets was inadequate and the guardians were satisfied headway has been made in a permanent solution of the problem of bringing the family together again.

Fascist Dictators Convinced That British Empire Holds Losing Cards

Lake Couchiching, Ont., Aug. 16.—(P) —The Fascist dictators—Italy and Germany—are playing a waiting game, believing the British Empire holds losing cards, according to Dr. Hans Simons, New York Professor of Social Research. Political and business leaders gathered here for the Canadian Institute of Economics and Politics today considered the address delivered yesterday by Dr. Simons.

Hitler and Mussolini have misinterpreted the transformation of the British Empire into the British Commonwealth of Nations, Dr. Simons asserted. Convinced as they are that a strong political organization cannot be based on a system of free co-operation and association the dictators see signs of decay and weakness in the British attitude.

This view has led Hitler to withhold his demands for the return of Germany's war-torn colonies. Dr. Simons believed Hitler is willing to wait while Mussolini builds up his Mediterranean fortifications near Britain's strongholds. When the time

STILL HOPEFUL MISSING CHILD OUT OF DANGER

Good Physical Condition of Toronto Boy, Missing Since Sunday, May Save Him from Exposure.

Minden, Ont., August 16.—(P) —Weary searchers were still hopeful today as they went into the second day of search for thirty-three-year-old Peter Elstone, of Toronto, missing since Sunday afternoon in a sixteen-mile square area near here, eighty-five miles northeast of Toronto.

Dr. M. E. Gorman, of Lindsay, who has a summer cottage near here, told searchers the lad was unusually healthy and likely would escape the nervous strain a panic-stricken adult would experience facing similar circumstances. He thought the boy would be all right for a day or two.

The boy rushed into the woods when frightened by horses Sunday on Nicholas Ball's farm, five miles north of here. He was vacationing here with his mother, Mrs. Russell Elstone. He was missed fifteen minutes later and hundreds of searchers, mainly summer campers, sought him in vain Sunday night, yesterday and throughout a storm-filled night.

While his father aided searchers, the mother broke under the strain of waiting for good news. "They must find him!" she exclaimed. "He's too young to be out in the bush in a storm."

Searchers examined closely the small lakes and rivers in the farm district, but found no trace of the child. Reinforcements arrived early today for the tired, foot-sore searchers.

PREPARE PLANS FOR VISIT OF ROYAL FAMILY

Liverpool Paper Declares Journey of Dominions Secretary Prelude to Visit of King and Queen to Canada During 1939.

Liverpool, Aug. 16.—(C.P.-Havas) —The Liverpool Post in its London Letter today said the King and Queen will "almost certainly" visit Canada and the United States during 1939, although no plans have yet been discussed and no invitations issued.

It was understood, the column said, that Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, mentioned unofficially the possibility of a visit through an invitation from Canada would come through the Prime Minister.

The column added that Lord Stanley, Dominions secretary, who sailed for Canada today from Southampton, might discuss tentative arrangements with Mr. Mackenzie King.

Mr. Mackenzie King recently stated the King needed no invitation to visit the Dominion. Canada always stood ready to welcome its sovereign.

C.C.F. LEADER PLEASED WITH MINERS' ACTION

Decision of Nova Scotia Body to Affiliates with C.C.F. for Political Action Seen as Strengthening Organization Throughout Dominion.

Comox, B.C., Aug. 16.—(P) —J. S. Woodsworth, National Leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, said he was "delighted" to hear the United Mine Workers District 26 convention at Turco, N.S., had decided to affiliate with the C.C.F. for political action.

Vacationing in this Vancouver Island east coast port, Mr. Woodsworth said last night:

"Naturally I am delighted at the decision of the miners. Today's action is very encouraging to us. I was at a convention in New Brunswick on July 1, and at that time we knew of no such move in the offing. It is all the more welcome because it is of their own initiative."

He expressed regret he had been unable to attend the meeting.

"The Committee for Industrial Organization also wants to affiliate with us," the C. C. F. leader continued. "We are willing to accept anybody who will come in on our basis."

"With strongholds in British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia, the C. C. F. movement will take on added life. Cape Breton sentiment is very strong for the movement and we believe a ready democracy can be brought about by an organization that embraces politics, the co-operative movement and adult education. The C. C. F. does that."

"Our strength in British Columbia and Nova Scotia lies in industry, trial or urban districts," while in

CHICAGO SUBURBAN ROAD ENDS SERVICE

Waukegan, Ill., Aug. 16.—(P) —The Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad suspended operations today when the employees voted to cease work in protest against a fifteen per cent wage cut.

Officials estimated the electric line carries 24,000 passengers daily and that approximately 20,000 are regular commuters to Chicago. The road operates over 250 miles of track, serving virtually all communities on the Lake Michigan shore between Chicago and Milwaukee.

LITTLE JAUNT PROVED COSTLY

Hoboken, N.J., Aug. 16.—(P) —Andrew Andryszewski, twenty-one of Jersey City, pleaded guilty to four motor vehicle violations and was fined $1,200 and sentenced to 120 days in jail yesterday. Police charged Andryszewski drove while drunk, crashed another car, fled the accident scene, had no driver's licence, and carried no registration for the car.

CARDINAL VILLENEUVE HOLDS AUDIENCE WITH POPE PIUS

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Aug. 16.—(Cable) —Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, today reported to the Pope on the Canadian National Eucharistic Congress held this summer in Quebec.

The Cardinal was received in audience for an hour and a half. He presented the Pontiff with several volumes of photographs of the event, to which he was the Papal Legate.

Cardinal Villeneuve also presented the returning Pontifical mission to the Pope who expressed his pleasure over the success of the Congress and gave the group his blessing.

London, Aug. 16.—(C.P.-Havas) —The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) and the Financial Times in editorials today spoke of the benefits they expect will result from the trade treaty between the United Kingdom and the United States, now being negotiated.

"In endeavoring to conclude a trade agreement with America the Government pursues the most promising line for improvement of our foreign trade," the Daily Telegraph said. "The United States are engaged in an effort by large Government expenditure to revive their internal prosperity. If the effort is successful it will prove a tonic to business throughout the world."

"For the moment the results are disappointing for after a brief period of brisk business in Wall Street, there has been a fall in securities. Temporary fluctuations of that character do not obscure the evidence that industry in America is again on the upgrade."

The Financial Times said:

"There is a spreading desire, in both this country and throughout the British Commonwealth, that the present negotiations for a trade agreement with the United States shall be brought to a speedy and successful issue."

"In these circumstances it is interesting to examine the figures of the United States Department of Commerce which record America's trade in merchandise with these countries of the British Commonwealth extensively—namely, the United Kingdom, Eire, Canada, India, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Newfoundland, British Malaya, Ceylon, Hong Kong, British West Africa and Jamaica."

In 1937 this group of British countries absorbed about 40 per cent. of American exports, to the value of $277,000,000 ($1,348,990,000). In reciprocation, the United States secured 35.7 per cent. of her total imports from these same British countries—to a value of $227,000,000.

"Thus the balance of trade in merchandise with this group was in the United States' favor by $50,000,000 and if trade between American and the other British colonies (which is not set out separately in the official summary) were measured in the same way it would probably show a further balance in favor of the United States."

"But the matter does not turn solely upon economic considerations, which have to be viewed and reviewed from a variety of social and political angles."

HIBERNIANS AND NORTHERN IRELAND POLICE IN ENCOUNTER

Portlennone, County Antrim, Northern Ireland, Aug. 16.—(P) —A fight between police and members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians resulted today in many injuries and nine arrests.

When 150 Hibernians attempted to force their way into a section of town roped off by police, the latter charged and clubbed the demonstrators amid wild scenes.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians, founded in 1641 according to some authorities, is devoted to furthering Irish nationality and charitable works.

Million Chinese Troops Massed To Defend Hankow, Provisional Capital

Shanghai, Aug. 16.—(P) —General Chiang Kai-Shek was reported today to have massed one million Chinese troops around Hankow, his provisional capital toward which the Japanese have advanced slowly since occupying Kiukiang July 26.

The outer fringes of these defenses were challenged today by Japanese units making exploratory drives up both banks of the Yangtze river and southward toward Nanchang. Chinese air base ninety miles south of Kiukiang and 225 miles south of Hankow.

Because the defenders expect the most serious Japanese threat to be along the Yangtze's south bank overland against the Canton-Hankow Railway line, ten divisions placed between the Nanchang railway and the Canton railway were reinforced by Cantonese troops.

Besides these large-scale preparations, a mobile army of 120,000 Chinese is moving into the south bank sector, causing optimism among the defenders that their lines there will withstand the Japanese thrust.

See-saw battles raged on both banks of the Yangtze in the Kiukiang area without major changes in positions as the war entered its 405th day.

Chinese reports said Chinese and Japanese charged and recharged Horse Saddle mountain which changed hands several times before the Chinese, in a rain of grenades, recaptured the hill. Fierce fighting at Hwangmei and Shaohchen swayed back and forth undecidedly.

Cholera raged through Kiukiang and Japanese military authorities said nearly all the ten thousand Chinese who remained in that Yangtze port after its occupation were "likely victims" of the dread disease.

A Japanese air raid on Yangsin, fifty-five miles west of Kiukiang and in the Japanese path of the Canton-Hankow line, was said to have caused five hundred Chinese deaths and injuries to 800, many of whom were patients in a Chinese military hospital.

Procrastination Of Princes Holds Up Indian Federal Government Plan

New Delhi, August 16.—(P)—The visit to England of Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru, Indian National Congress leader, and the present holiday of Viceroy, the Marquess of Linlithgow, have concentrated attention on the problem of Federation—implementation of India's new constitution.

Interest in the question, already aroused by numerous speeches Pandit Nehru made during his visit, was quickened still further by the Viceroy's April-months leave, coupled with constant rumors centered around the India Office.

Those close to the situation here maintain too much significance was attached to Lord Linlithgow's return to England. They recalled it was customary for a Viceroy to have a holiday during his term of office. They also pointed to the fact that the Viceroy is not robust and maintained he obviously needed a holiday before he left.

It is generally conceded the British and Indian Governments are anxious to reach a settlement with the Indian states as soon as possible, and that the Government of India Act of 1935, so far only half-implemented.

Other parties to the process are less disposed to haste. The princes are said to want procrastination, while the Congress Party continues to proclaim its opposition to the scheme. Moslems are inclined to treat the question with suspicion. (Pandit Nehru told English audiences the Congress Party would not be satisfied with Federation nor with any system that left India under British control. He maintained his country needed complete independence and that once it achieved independence its relations with the British Empire probably would be of the friendly character.)

The Indian princes committed themselves to Federation at the Round Table Conference of 1930, but simultaneously stipulated they must see the complete picture before deciding to accede. The association of the states in a Federal Government would introduce a strong conservative element into the Central Government which, it was considered, would give an untimely democracy the balance necessary for its safety.

The India Act of 1935 rests largely on this assumption. It confers complete autonomy on the provinces; in the Central Legislature much more representation than they could claim on the basis of population is based on the princes.

Although the states' population is less than one-quarter of the whole country, the princes are given 104 out of 250 members in the Upper House (Council of State) and one-third of the seats in the Lower House (Federal House of Assembly).

Attractions At The Local Theatres

Luise Rainer and Robert Young in "The Toy Wife," which opens at the Granada Theatre tomorrow.

At The Granada
"We're Going to Be Rich," a surprising, different and thoroughly enjoyable production, opens tomorrow at the Granada Theatre.

With Victor McLaglen, one of filmdom's favorite men, in his finest role as a somewhat irresponsible devotee of the "get-rich-quick" idea of getting on in the world—and with Grace Fields as his devoted showgirl wife, "We're Going to Be Rich" presents a broad, lusty story of life in Australia and South Africa.

These two stars, Victor and Miss Fields, are set in two points of a triangle which is completed by Brian Donlevy in the principle featured role.

Add to this the capable work of a child actor, Ted Smith, and some new faces in the supporting roles, and life during the "Eighties" in the Boer country is vividly paraded before the audience to the accompaniment of six new song hits and a stirring "Trek" song of the Veldt territory.

The added attraction is Luise Rainer in "The Toy Wife." In the masculine leads are Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young, who live up to the high standard set by the picture's star.

Ripping the lid off the "reform" school system which breeds criminals instead of reforming juvenile law-breakers, a thrilling new Columbia drama opens at the Granada Theatre tomorrow. The film, "Reformatory," stars Jack Holt in a powerful story which casts some light upon one of America's greatest social problems—the tie-up between crime and political corruption.

Holt is the warden of a boys' reformatory, inheriting a corrupt, mismanaged institution where tough youngsters rebel because they are served poor food, forced to do heavy manual labor and otherwise treated like adult criminals. Frequent escapes, fights and a mess hall riot punctuated his first few days.

Perceiving basic injustices, Holt, with the aid of a comely young psychiatrist, played by Charlotte Wynters, introduces modern penal reforms. Opposition quickly flares among crooked contractors. A guard, discharged for brutality, launches a plot to discredit Holt's reforms and to have him removed. The other picture is "Forget Me Not," starring Beniamino Gigli, held by many to be the greatest tenor of today.

KNOWLTON

WORK OF BRIGADE PRAISED
Praise to the Knowlton Fire Department for their good work in preventing what might have been a serious fire at the home of E. H. Brown was contained in a letter sent by Mr. Brown to Fire Chief Herbert N. Robinson.

Mr. Brown said the brigade arrived at his home within five or six minutes after the alarm was sounded and immediately located the source of the outbreak. "The brigade deserves the thanks of the village in general, and myself and my landlady in particular, for their promptness and good work," Mr. Brown said.

The District of Bedford McGill Graduates Scholarship has been awarded to Miss Phyllis Eastman, of Sutton. Rev. E. M. Taylor, of Knowlton, has been secretary-treasurer of this fund since 1912.

population is at least half that of all the states, have acceded. Accession in the case of many states involves settlement of a series of complicated questions relating to claims by various states to share in Maritime customs, claims to railways jurisdiction, state revenue, excise, opium, postal matters, telegraphs, telephones, currency and coinage and financial adjustments generally, especially regarding the states' contribution to the cost of the British military protectorate.

The states are not obliged to accede regarding all Federal subjects. What concerns them most is the amount of Federal jurisdiction to be exercised in their territories and the larger states are insisting that Federal interference be kept to a minimum.

The Congress party, still fundamentally a Hindu body despite its efforts to be universally representative, has declared it will fight Federation to the last. It takes the attitude the whole scheme is a conspiracy between the British authorities and the Indian "autocrats" to impede the country's progress to complete independence.

The Moslem attitude toward Federation is simple. It maintains accession of the princes will bring to the Federal legislation a large body of Hindu members, giving Hindus a stable majority in both Houses. This, the Moslems assert, would give the Congress party an opportunity of reducing India's 80,000,000 Mohammedans to political subservience.

Crime Needed In Promoting Civilization

Berkeley, Calif., Aug. 16.—(P)—A prominent psychologist asserted today the world was indebted to crime and criminals for the advance of civilization, and that without them we would revert to savagery.

In the lawbreaking class he put the Christian martyrs and George Washington, first President of the United States, who "was guilty of treason against the British."

The psychologist—Dr. Knight Dunlap, professor of psychology at the University of California at Los Angeles—championed the "necessity" of crime in an article for the forthcoming (September) issue of the California Monthly, publication of the University of California Alumni.

Dunlap argued there was nothing really wrong about violating a "bad" law and that the "crime" involved might even benefit society in the end of contributing to the elimination of the improper statute.

His contention was that such reformers as have been due to the system of laws have been due to eventual realization by the public of the seeming justice which motivated the breakers of "bad" laws.

Ununiversal and unquestioned submission to all laws made, he said, "inevitably entails reversion to savagery."

Mr. Dunlap suggested the division between law and morality represented the difference between "crimes" eventually beneficial to society and real offences against the public welfare.

He cited the fact that it was not a crime to commit an immoral act against which there was no law. On the same basis an individual might reason that it was not wrong to break a law if in doing so he considered his conduct moral, or at least not immoral.

Dr. Dunlap acknowledged the difficulty of acceptably defining morality and immorality, but in viewing laws in general he suggested that moral acts were those in accord with public welfare, and immoral acts were those against or detrimental to public welfare.

LENGTHY DELAY IN SELECTION OF HINES JURY

Six Members and Two Alternates Still Remain to Be Selected for Trial of Man Charged with Operating Policy Racket.

New York, Aug. 16.—(P)—Asserting that "squealers" cannot convict him, James J. Hines returns today to Supreme Court where his attorneys seek to prevent selection of a "Dewey" jury for his trial on charges of fostering a multi-million-dollar policy racket.

Six men, all expert in financial transactions and all denying that District Attorney Thomas Dewey's case would have any "aroma of sanctity" to them, were accepted yesterday for the blue-ribbon jury that will decide the future of the Tammany district leader.

Six more jurors and two alternates will be chosen, probably before the end of the trial's second day.

On the alert for prejudice against the old Tammany party's New York Tammany Hall organization among the three hundred taxpayers, Hines' chief counsel, Lloyd Stuyker, was quick to challenge any prospective juror who indicated bias in favor of Dewey, youthful racket-busting prosecutor and member of the Republican party.

Stryker cautioned prospective jurors that the thirteen-odd indictment which might send Hines to prison for the remainder of his days was only an accusation and must be supported by the testimony of witnesses they could believe.

Only Hines, among nine defendants named in an indictment last May as members of the slain Dutch Schultz's Harlem policy ring, was left on trial today. Martin (Moe) Weintraub, a lawyer, was granted separate trial yesterday.

Three other defendants—J. R. (Doc) Davis, once Schultz's lawyer; George Weinbaum, Schultz' aide; and Harry Schoenhaus, treasurer of the combine—have pleaded guilty and will testify for the state.

NEW LOYALIST PLANE TACTICS ALTER OUTLOOK

Heavy Damage Results from Action of Reorganized Government Air Service in Adopting Insurgent Bombing and Strafing Policy.

Hendaye, France, Aug. 16.—(P)—Spanish Government and Insurgent warplanes battled viciously today for the upper hand in the twenty-two day battle in the Ebro River valley of Southern Catalonia.

Three apparently reorganized Government air squadrons not only met Insurgent planes on equal terms but adopted the Insurgent tactics of bombing and machine-gunning troops on the ground. In two days of battle with an Insurgent fleet of forty-two German and Italian-made craft, at least thirty-four planes on both sides were reported shot down.

Official dispatches from each faction reported the other had lost many planes while minimizing its own losses. In the battle in which the Government made the twenty-one Insurgent machines were downed and none of its own wrecked, the Insurgents said thirteen Government planes were lost against two of theirs.

The Insurgent counter-offensive at the great bend of the Ebro in the Gandesa sector apparently was suffering under the Government's air attack, particularly in the Ebro mountains south of Gandesa, which Insurgent General Franco was reported officially to have cleaned out.

In southwestern Spain the Insurgent drive on Almaden, about sixty miles north of Cordoba, and its rich mercury mines also was losing headway although slight advances were reported.

Pain-Crazed Heir to Motor Fortune Plunged To Death In Georgian Bay

his body a mass of powder burns, cuts and bruises, directed fishermen the location of the spot where Dodge went down before entering hospital.

Danny Dodge was beneficiary of a trust fund of more than $9,000,000. The explosion occurred so quickly Dodge did not have time to throw the stick of dynamite out of the garage window as he had intended. It exploded in his hands. As he lay on the floor a second explosion occurred as the sticks detonated. Prosthetic Dodge got the full force of the second explosion.

His face was torn, his right hand was mangled and he was cut about the legs and body. Valiquette, standing nearby, was burned about the body. Mrs. Dodge was at the garage door and received the force of the blast upon the legs and face. Bryant was looking through a window and was injured when the wall was blown out.

Because of Manitoulin Island's tortuous, winding roads, the launch was used. Mrs. Dodge took the wheel of the machine. Mrs. Bryant sat in the stern, the unconscious form of her husband across her legs. Dodge lay upon a rear seat with Valiquette.

"My legs—my legs—they're paining terribly," Dodge was said to have mumbled many times during the first ten miles of the trip.

After ten miles, Mrs. Dodge no longer could fight the rough water. She asked Valiquette to take the wheel. It was while Mrs. Dodge and the young camp helper both were in the driver's seat that Dodge went overboard.

They turned around just in time to see young Dodge going over the stern of the boat, the father of Valiquette said here last night as he related what his young son told him before he was taken to hospital.

How Dodge fell from the boat was not clearly explained. One theory was that Dodge, crazed by the pain in his legs and in a semi-coma, tried to find relief in the chill waters of Georgian Bay.

Highlights Of Eastern Canada News

St. Michel, Que., Aug. 16.—(P)—Young Marcel Gosselin, of this Bellechase County village, leaped into the St. Lawrence River yesterday to rescue his brother Paul, locked in each others' arms, they sank, reappeared, sank again. Today both owe their lives to Roland Michaud, of Lévis, Que., who plunged in and dragged them ashore.

St. Johns, Que., Aug. 16.—(P)—Wilfred Brosseau, of this Eastern Townships town, celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday yesterday. In excellent health Mr. Brosseau can still read without the aid of glasses and his favorite pastime is sitting on the balcony daily and reading the names on passing trucks. A former mayor of St. Johns, he was postmaster for thirty-two years, retiring in 1928 at the age of 89.

Quebec, Aug. 16.—(P)—Second annual fifty-mile automobile race for the championship of the province will be staged here at the exhibition grounds Sunday, September 18. George Rousseau, last year's winner, is again entered in the event, in which only stock cars are allowed to compete.

Charlebourg, Que., Aug. 16.—(P)—The Charlebourg band celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary yesterday. The village is five miles north of Quebec City.

Quebec, Aug. 16.—(P)—Provincial Police early today sought the owner of a car that turned turtle on the Quebec-Montreal highway near St. Augustin last night and spilled a load of bottled beer.

Victoriaville, Aug. 16.—(P)—Minister of Trade and Commerce Joseph Bilodeau presided at the opening of the annual Victoriaville Exposition here last night.

DEFERS RULING UPON PADLOCK CASE HEARING

Provincial Police Authorities Identify Accused as One of Men Who Locked Them in Automobile at Quebec.

Quebec, Aug. 16.—(P)—Joseph Drouin, of Quebec, an accused in the first Criminal Court test of Quebec's "anti-Communist" "Padlock Law," was identified yesterday as one of the men who imprisoned two police officers in their automobile by tying the doors with wire while they were guarding the padlocked home of F. X. Lessard, an alleged Communist.

Constable J. J. Murphy said Drouin, accused of helping Lessard padlock the padlock on his home and being an accessory after the fact, tied the doors of the car in which he and Officer Victor St. Jean were seated.

At the conclusion of preliminary hearing yesterday, Judge Hugues Rottier reserved judgment both in the Drouin case and in that involving Lessard, accused of willful violation of a Provincial statute, and Wilfrid Jolin held as an accessory.

The officers testified that when they freed themselves from the automobile prison, they found the padlock on the Lessard home had been broken. Lessard, a joiner, was found in a bedroom and arrested immediately.

C.C.F. Leader Pleased With Miners' Action

Saskatchewan, where we have eleven members in the Legislature, it is mainly rural. The co-operative movement in the Maritimes and adult education in other parts of the Dominion will substantially help the cause of democracy.

"Many of the members of District 26 are of Scottish descent who have been isolated from the rest of the country for many years but have managed to maintain a strong union. Several years ago they elected three members of the Nova Scotia Legislature but were not linked up with the C. C. F."

SEEK GREATER WORKERS' UNITY

Truro, N.S., Aug. 16.—(P)—The twelve thousand members of District 26 of the United Mine Workers of America turned today to Canada's Co-operative Commonwealth Federation for a political alliance that would reinforce their demands for more social legislation.

The alliance was born here yesterday at a three-hour meeting, attended chiefly by delegates to the District's biennial convention. It voted to affiliate the District with the C. C. F. for political action, decided upon a convention to elect a permanent representative and found means of raising finances.

A levy of one cent a month will be placed on each member, most of whom work in the Nova Scotia coalfields. Other labor groups will be invited into the fold.

International Board Member Silby Barrett said formation of a labor group was a "craving need." Many labor groups were thinking about political action. People were looking for leadership in political action, he believed. "That is why today we are looking for a political machine and I would say the need is greater than ever before."

A delegate from New Waterford, N.S., where the resolution originated, said he was convinced the proposal for C. C. F. affiliation filled the present need. "There are enough parties in Canada and what defeats us at the polls is the fact that the labor vote is split up."

FINE ADDRESS IS DELIVERED AT COATICOOK

Rev. Mr. Gustafson Based His Remarks on Paul's Letter to Philippians, Chapter 4; 13, in Sermon at United Church.

Coaticook, Aug. 16.—Rev. Mr. Gustafson was the preacher at the United Church on Sunday morning. Mr. Gustafson chose his text from Paul's letter to the Philippians, chapter 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me."

Mr. Gustafson took his listeners back to the first century A.D., in a word picture of Rome, the world metropolis of that day, described its grandeur of architecture, its soft and easy living for citizens, waited by slaves and made rich from taxes imposed by its far-reaching and powerful lords, its wonderful roads and its dominance by the Emperor Caesar.

He showed a little band of men, disciples and followers of Jesus, led by Paul, as they approached the city with their messages of Christianity, and asked his listeners to think of the lasting effects of their words, reaching down to the present day as Christianity has spread.

Mr. Gustafson said that, as Paul believed then, "all things are possible through Christ." We must believe that through Him wars, social convulsions and economic problems can be surmounted by Christianity through strict reliance upon Christ and His strength."

CHARGES C.I.O. PREDOMINATED BY COMMUNISTS

American Federation of Labor Executive Tells Congress Committee "Communism is at Driver's Seat in Some Parts of American Labor Movement."

Washington, August 16.—(P)—John Frey, high official of the American Federation of Labor, said today he would show a United States House of Representatives committee investigating un-American activities that "Communism is in the driver's seat in some parts of the American labor movement."

During his second day of testimony, Frey presented documents yesterday intended to show that the Communist party had been supporting policies of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

One exhibit, which Frey said was a resume of the party's council meeting fourteen months ago, asserted that one of the most effective methods of getting its candidates into office was utilization of unions organized by John L. Lewis, C.I.O. chairman, along with attempts to obtain Lewis' endorsement.

First Steps In Contestation Proceedings Are Taken Today

Attorneys for Ald. Alex Ross and Ald. Alfred Cinq-Mars Filed Appearance in Superior Court—Preliminary Objections and Pleas Not to Start Until After September 1.

Attorneys for Ald. Alex Ross and Ald. Alfred Cinq-Mars today filed an appearance in Superior Court as the first preliminary step in contestation proceedings in the actions for disqualification instituted against the two members of the Municipal Council last week.

Ald. Ross is represented by Cesare Gervais, K.C., and the Police Committee Chairman by Col. Emile Roux, V.D.

Preliminary objections and pleas, foreshadowing the arguments on the merits of the cases, will not be started until after September 1.

It was pointed out this morning that the two aldermen have the right to continue sitting upon the Municipal Council and take part in City Hall deliberations.

Ald. Cinq-Mars has declared from the first that he would fight the case; but the president of the Electric Committee intimated last week that he would not contest the proceedings. A meeting of a number of private citizens over the week-end convinced him, however, that he should fight the action. Ald. Ross has been a member of the Council for many years and has devoted much time and effort to the progress and welfare of the city.

The action in the disqualification case was instituted by Philibert Nadeau, of this city, who alleges that the two aldermen abused their mandates and should be ousted from the Municipal Council. Charges laid by the plaintiff are that Ald. Ross sold coal through his company to the city at a cost of $2,588.64 and that Ald. Cinq-Mars rented his services to the city at a cost of $414.75 for trips to various cities in the United States.

HUNDRED DROWN AS COAST SHIP SINKS

Shanghai, Aug. 16.—(AP)—More than one hundred Chinese passengers were drowned today when the small Chinese coastal steamer Hansa sank after a collision with the British steamship Tungwo off Woosung.

The Tungwo reported she picked up only thirteen Chinese survivors. The British vessel Scarab sent the message that she had saved the Hansa's German captain after a long struggle in rough water.

The Hansa regularly transported passengers and chickens between Shanghai and Yangtse estuary points. Normally Chinese owned and operated, she was taken over by Germans at the outbreak of the Chinese-Japanese war.

DELEGATES TO STUDY FARMING METHODS IN E.T.

Agricultural Economists Will Visit Richmond, Waterloo and Other District Centres and Be Entertained in Sherbrooke.

With the object of studying better farming methods which would prove beneficial to the world in general, twenty-six European delegates, attending the fifth International Convention of Agricultural Economists at Macdonald College will make a tour of the Eastern Townships. Included on their programme is a visit to this city where they will be guests of civic authorities at a dinner to be held in the New Sherbrooke Hotel on Friday.

The economists will visit Richmond, Huntingdon and other centres and will make a special trip to Waterloo where they will be shown the mushroom farm of the Slack Brothers, largest farm of its kind in the British Empire.

Upon arrival in Sherbrooke the delegates will be shown around the city and then later entertained at dinner in the New Sherbrooke House. Mayor Marcus Armitage will preside at the function which will be attended by representatives from both the Federal and Provincial governments. Col. the Hon. John Bourque is expected to be present.

Halver (Red) Rostrom, who wants to be Canada's hangman, has been appointed chief of police of Stavely. Under the cat-bellied by-law, "Rat" was the official exterminator of unbelated cats for two years. When Arthur Ellis died in Montreal, Rostrom announced he had applied to the Department of Justice for the job of Canada's hangman.

Heavy crashes of thunder which resounded over the district in last night's storm were not sufficiently loud to cover the noise of a burglar alarm, and an attempted robbery ended in failure.

Choosing an opportune time when the storm was at its height, an undetermined number of marauders attempted to burglarize the general store of Philippe Lambert in Bromptonville.

After forcing apart the iron bars protecting a basement window enough to make an entrance, the would-be robbers, believed to be young men, smashed the window pane.

When they did this, however, their troubles really started, as the action set in motion a large and noisy burglar alarm with which the store is equipped. Despite the

Electric Storm Does Little To Bring Relief From Heat Wave

Sherbrooke and the surrounding district sweltered again today as the current heat wave continued undiminished. At nine o'clock this morning the thermometer at the Dominion Experiment Farm at Lennoxville registered eighty degrees, with indications that the mercury would rise much higher before nightfall.

A peak of ninety degrees was recorded officially yesterday, although many thermometers showed higher temperatures. Yesterday's figure was but one degree below the record for the year set on August 4, when an official reading of ninety-one was taken.

Late last night a sharp electrical storm flared over the district, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain. A total precipitation of .31 inches was recorded during the storm, which continued over Sherbrooke for approximately an hour.

Although sharp stabs of lightning pierced the sky and waves of thunder resounded over the storm area no damage was reported this morning.

Little damage was done to Eastern Townships crops by the rain, it was said, as most of the hay is already in and there was little or no wind to beat the grain to the ground.

Lakes and beaches throughout the district were jammed yesterday and last night as sweltering citizens sought to escape the intense heat.

Clang Of Alarm Bell Foils Bromptonville Store Break

booming thunder, the clatter of the alarm bell was all too plainly evidence, and the men fled hastily from the spot.

Villagers, aroused by the frantic din of the alarm, rushed to the store, but the unknown men had escaped safely and were nowhere to be seen. Lambert, who resides some distance from his store, was notified of the attempted break and quickly dressing, hurried to his establishment, where examination disclosed that the alarm had done its work well and the men had been frightened before they had time to remove anything from the store.

Ovila Auger, Bromptonville Chief of Police, who was called out in quest of the men, had made no arrests this morning. He stated, however, that he had obtained several valuable clues as to the identity of the would-be robbers.

Great credit is also due to Margaret Burnett, who played the role of Katherine, "the girl in Stevens' office" with whom Gordon thought

AUDIENCE AT NORTH HATLEY ENJOYED PLAY

"Penny Wise" Presented by Brae Manor Players Last Night as Their Concluding Play of Current Season.

"We have had a most successful season and will certainly be back again next year," Filmore Sadler declared last night at the conclusion of "Penny Wise," by Jean Ferguson Black, which the Brae Manor Players presented at the North Hatley Town Hall as their concluding play of the season.

Mr. Sadler, director of the players, stated that next year he hoped to include another town on the circuit, which now comprises Knowlton and North Hatley, and gradually develop the theatre throughout the Eastern Townships.

A large audience greeted the players last night as they romped through the delightful comedy which tells the story of a wayward play-wright who sins happily and easily as he continually makes plans for a "trip to Brittany," only to be foiled by his adorable wife.

Filmore Sadler, in the role of Gordon, was assured and polished, and delightfully naive as he worried if his wife, Penny, would discover his peccadilloes.

Marjorie Sadler, as the clever and loving Penny, gave a perfect interpretation of the seemingly scatter-brained wife, who, however, managed her husband and his affairs perfectly. Her scene, gone through with numerous other young ladies, when Gordon's latest love tries to tell her she is planning to go off with the playwright, is one of the funniest this reporter has ever seen on any local stage.

The players will present "Penny Wise" at Knowlton tonight and then close Brae Manor until next season.

Another Local Physician Of Opinion Water Health Menace

Dr. H. D. Bayne Declares Filtration Plant Only Method by Which to Be Assured of Pure Drinking Water—Chlorination Not Sufficient Protection Against Contamination.

Agreeing wholeheartedly with a large number of other prominent local doctors who have stated publicly that the drinking water consumed by the residents of Sherbrooke is unsanitary and dangerous to health, Dr. H. D. Bayne told the Record today that he was strongly in favor of the installation of a modern filtration plant to purify the city's water supply.

"The water used by Sherbrooke citizens is unfit because it is diluted with sewage from Magog and the summer cottages immediately bordering the banks of the Magog River on its downward flow to this city," Dr. Bayne stated. "At the intake the water is heavily chlorinated to keep down bacterial content. Without filtration the residue is swallowed by all who drink the water. It is therefore imperative that a filtration plant be installed as soon as possible."

Dr. Bayne emphasized the fact that because of the steadily increasing growth of the Magog river colony more chlorine is now used in an effort to purify the water than is good for public health. He was strongly of the opinion that citizens should take immediate steps to see that a filtration plant is built.

"Although I realize that paving streets is a commendable expenditure," the well known physician said, "I believe the City Council should first consider the health of the citizens it represents and assure them of water which they can drink without shuddering at the thought of the filth it contains."

GREEN GLASSES HALT HEN FIGHTS

Athol, Mass., Aug. 16.—(AP)—The League of Nations might be interested in this method of halting strife. Quarrelsome hens became meek and mild when poultrymen at the Morgan Memorial Farm here clamped green spectacles over the beaks. The "specs" seem to make the hens happy but nobody has explained why.

VANCOUVER HAS ANTI-NOISE BY-LAW

Vancouver, Aug. 16.—(C)—Vancouver's new civic noise control by-law passed first and second reading at the City Hall yesterday. It will become law if passed at the next meeting.

The ordinance provides: "No person shall make or cause to be made any loud or objectionable noise, either in or on a public or private place or premises, in such a manner as to disturb the peace, quiet, rest or enjoyment of the neighborhood or comfort and convenience of the public."

Successful in district eliminations at the Eastern Townships Calf Club field day held at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm, teams from Stukely and Ste. Edwidge will represent the Eastern Townships in the provincial judging contest at the Sherbrooke Fair, it was announced today by Henri Pital, representative of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. The Victoriaville district will be represented by Ste. Elizabeth.

Winners of the provincial judging contest at the Sherbrooke Fair will represent the Province of Quebec at the national judging competitions which will take place during the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto.

Teams which competed in the Lennoxville competitions won the right to appear by capturing the honors in contests held in their respective districts. Mr. Pital was in charge of the E.T. contests, while G. Marcoux, Princeville agronomist, conducted the Victoriaville district eliminations.

Both districts will be given a grant of $120, to be distributed in prizes immediately after the provincial judging contest and according to results.

The first law that ever God gave to man, was a law of obedience.—Montaigne.

An Encouraging Statement

The statement by Col. Leonard P. Ayres, noted Cleveland economist, that the renewed depression—or recession—which affected United States, and to a minor extent Canadian, industry and commerce has apparently passed its worst stages, is one that will be received with welcome ears by residents on both sides of the line, for Canadians realize that their economic life is to a certain extent affected by the swings, up or down, of United States industry.

Writing in the Cleveland Trust Company's monthly business bulletin, Col. Ayres declares: "It seems probable that the bottom of this renewed depression was reached in June.

"The present improvement in business is unmistakable, but it has not yet lasted long enough to let us know whether or not it is producing the developments that would ensure a durable recovery.

"One important fundamental in its favor is that we are probably going to have this year one of the largest agricultural harvests in our history. The prices will be lower than last year but the prospective abundant harvests constitute a most favorable factor in the economic outlook.

"The most threatening factor is the danger of another great war in the Orient."

While Col. Ayres was speaking essentially of conditions and prospects in the United States, his words could be applied with little variation to Canada, referring as they do to the two major factors, one for better and one for worse, on the Canadian commercial horizon.

The prospects that the Prairie grain yield this year will be the largest in nearly a decade have raised the hopes of Canadians generally that the signs of an incipient depression will be wiped out through the long-deferred purchase of equipment and supplies by the residents of the drought areas of Western Canada. On the other hand, Canadians cannot possibly hope to escape the ill-effects of any war that might break out in the Orient, or for that matter in Europe. Modern inventions have tied the world too closely together for any nation or group of nations to avoid repercussions of any catastrophe which may overtake a sister power.

In addition to the factors mentioned by Col. Ayres, Canada has an important card up its sleeve in the form of its rapidly developing mineral wealth, which is playing an ever more important part in the economic growth and stability of the country. In fact, during the dark years of 1930 to 1933, it was the rapid growth of the mining industry in the North Country which served to cushion the ill-effects of the world-wide depression as far as this country was concerned.

The Sooner The Better

The agitation which is sweeping Great Britain for the early establishment of an all-British trans-Atlantic plane service with its western terminus in Canada has been accentuated within the past few days by the record-breaking feat of the German air liner, Brandenburg, which made the round trip from Berlin to New York in less than one day each way.

The demand for the establishment of the western station in Canada is based on the argument that the United States, which pioneered the Pacific route, appears less prepared than either Great Britain or Germany for Atlantic flights, and until they are ready no service can begin, for the United States authorities have laid down the principle that any service to that country must be reciprocal. Thus, if the British interests wish to start a trans-Atlantic service without waiting for the United States they will have to find a base outside that country.

Creation of an all-British air route over the Atlantic is a matter which does not interest the people of Great Britain and Canada alone, but is rather a matter of concern for the entire Empire. Virtually every other section of the far-flung British Commonwealth of nations is linked with the British Isles through the facilities of Imperial Airways, which also ties many of the overseas possessions one to another. Canada alone is left out of the magic circle and this despite the fact that the transportation of freight by plane has reached a stage of development in this Dominion unequalled anywhere else in the world.

The time has come for the British and Canadian Governments, acting in concert with the Imperial Airways and its affiliated companies, to eliminate this last gap in the chain of Empire air communications. Experimental flights by the Mercury and other British and foreign aircrafts have illustrated that no particular hazards are involved in traversing the Atlantic, while the distances involved are less than those being flown regularly by trans-Pacific companies.

Team-Play At Home

Where would the world be without the spirit of sportsmanship in marriage?

Take the story of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roder, of Camden, N.J. A judge gave them thirty days apiece for selling beer without a license. Roder didn't want to see his wife in jail, so he arranged with the judge to serve his wife's sentence after serving his own. Mrs. Roder carried on at the store alone.

This is the sort of co-operative give and take that matrimony sorely needs. For instance, sometimes when the husband is about to pay his wife's traffic ticket, let the wife step forward and offer herself as a sacrifice, and pay her own. Sometimes when the wife has overdrawn the joint account, let her insist on making her own explanations to the bank for a change. And sometimes when it appears as if the wife would be forced to entertain some young and pretty out-of-town friends despite herself, let the husband step up and insist on performing this burdensome task himself.

These are the little sacrifices that ought to keep marriages intact.

Quebec Mineral Production Gains

Another encouraging factor in the economic outlook of the Province of Quebec is the announcement by the Quebec Mines Bureau that production of Quebec mines reached a new high during the first half of the current year.

The gold production for the six months was 424,336 ounces, an increase of 84,279 ounces over the corresponding period of last year, while the production for June alone was 64,411 ounces.

Other metals were also up sharply for the half-year period, silver mines yielding 518,271 ounces and copper 54,093,631 pounds against 332,893 ounces and 39,160,684 pounds for the 1937 January-to-June period, respectively.

The chief decline was noted in asbestos production, which dropped from 197,746 tons to 132,470 tons.

Editor's Note-Book

All law students know that marriage is a civil contract, but they don't find out till later that often the contract's the only thing that's civil about it.

According to a language professor, the hill-billies, who have been taking over the radio field, are losing their accent. It will not be any occasion for alarm, though, till they start losing the key.

We don't know about that new fashion we see advertised—teelless stockings to be worn with the teelless summer sandals. Toes, even the toes of lovely ladies, even when the nails are painted red, are not, to our mind, the most beautiful things in the world. But it interests us to find that we've been ahead of the styles all these years without knowing it. Only we've been thankful that our shoes were not teelless, so that our teelless socks didn't expose our pinkies to the public gaze.

The women, bless their souls, are an original lot. They seem to be happiest when wearing a straw hat in December and furs in August.

Ethel Merman, of the radio, has been named an honorary train signaler. Of course, being a torch singer, she has a flare.

Peru is reported about to cut down on the importation of looms. As the headline writers would put it, "Fewer Looms Loom."

New Yorkers by the thousands are reported getting hay-fever ahead of schedule this year, and they still insist that all the hayseeds are some place else.

WHEN MOTHER IS GONE.

I recall my happy boyhood days
Spent by the lonely brook,
My quiet and moody ways
When I sought the solitary nook.
Day dreams were always present,
In my lonely solitude—
Long, lonely hours that were pleasant
To my sad and lonely mood.
Little did I know of sorrow,
Little did I know of pain,
That might come on the morrow—
Happy hours gone, not to come again.
But when mother is taken from you,
Everything seems dreary and wrong;
No matter what you try to do
The most understanding friend is gone.
At night when shadows are falling
And all is still and dark,
I seem to hear her gentle voice calling
Like the sweet song of the lark.
And at night when I am dreaming
Of those days gone by,
Her sweet face I seem to see beaming—
Beaming on me from on high.
Oh, when the Lord took her from me
To His domain up above,
I wonder in my loneliness, can He see
For you the greatness of my love?
Mother, dear, some day we'll meet
And rock to and fro as of old,
With clinging arms you'll greet
In your arms, your lonely boy to enfold.
Looking back on my life
I have lived it as I know best,
Through happiness, sorrow and strife
I'll go on until laid to rest.
At times it seems hard, mother dear,
When temptations just come along—
Much harder without you here
To keep me from doing wrong.
But with determination I have done
What I know would be your wish,
So that when to you up there I come
The greater will be our happiness.
Magog.

CANADIAN PRESS

OTHERS NOTE CANADA'S SHODDY DISPLAY

An editorial from the Washington Herald, giving an outsider's view on the Dominion's so-called defence policy, made—in spite of its exaggerations—bitter reading for Canadians.

It was significant because it was just the line of thought that one would expect from those who, from a distance, observe the ins and outs of the Canadian government's juggling with the Empire issue. There is no use complaining about the impression being inherently wrong and misleading; our politicians have asked for it, and have achieved it with unsavory advertising.

After stating that Canada depends upon the United States to protect her Pacific coast and on Great Britain to safeguard her on the Atlantic side, the Herald editor says:

"Until they understand the state of dissonance between interests in Canada, Americans are inclined to stand in wonder of such shoddy policy."

"In the matter of foreign policy Canada shows her hopeless outlook most emphatically." He goes on to stress the provincial divisions—the antics of Messrs. Hepburn, Duplessis, Aherhart, and some other individuals have invited the criticism—as the main cause of the vacillation, as "the fact is that central government in Canada has never been successful and, as time passes, declines in standing rather than improves."

This may be far-fetched, but it has in it embarrassing elements of fact. What, for instance, would the average Briton think of the pronouncement of the Prime Minister on the training of Royal Air Force pilots in the Dominion? How would any outsider view the answer of the leading Dominion to Britain's plea for co-operation, an answer that carped almost solely on the fact that, through its "independence," Canada had achieved a position where it alone could control military establishments on its soil?

Undignified, and even, in one sense, comical. The legal niceties of constitutional change are the stuff of our Empire "policy"; we are now in a position to tell every one that we are self-governing and without obligations. But to get full satisfaction out of this, it might be well to overlook our dependence on outside help in time of trouble, and the frequently smug acceptance of it.

There have been amendments to that patent blunder of the Canadian government. There is a mission coming out with distinguished men at its head. No doubt a plan will be worked out which will be "satisfactory to all." The pro-British voters will be soothed by the master spokesman of a government that sent out its rockets on the eve of its opponent's meeting for reorganization—a most remarkable coincidence at least. And our foreign policy will be intact.

But the damage has been done. If the "little Canadians" demand their innings they will get it with the full power of advertising. There will be others like the editor of the Washington Herald who will judge the constitutional hair-splitting contribution to mutual defence as a shoddy exhibition on the part of Canada. They will draw conclusions verging on the fantastic. Yet, who can blame them?

SO THEY SAY

I think there is nothing better than needlework to enable one to think quietly and at the same time enjoy the occupation.—Lord Fairfield, eighty-year-old mine owner, who knits three hours a day.

There's nothing beautiful about old age. Don't let anyone tell you that. It's a delusion.—Peter Behan, of Roxbury, Conn., who recently ignored his 104th birthday.

Hitler is strongly for peace. It's up to the rest of Europe to give up pin-pricks against Germany.—General Ian Hamilton, speaking in London.

Tradition makes us live by precedent, rather than by principle of philosophy.—Rev. Dr. Paul S. Leinbach, of Philadelphia.

The trouble is, doctors are independent fellows, and think their rights are being taken away.—Dr. Channing Frothingham, president of the Massachusetts Medical Society, on opposition to socialized medicine.

A grocer's lad was ascending a staircase with his arms full of packages. "Boy," said the mistress of the house somewhat sharply, "are your feet clean?" "Yes'm," he answered, still climbing up the stairs, "it's only me boots that's dirty."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

UNFORTUNATE DOUBLE RESULTS IN SWING AT TEAM-OF-FOUR

(This is the second of a series of six articles by Mr. McKenney, discussing "swing hands" in team-of-four play with cumulative scoring.)

Swings in team-of-four play often result from a fortunate double which was regarded as too close by other side of the team to risk giving extra points to the opponents. However, a redoubled contract, when fulfilled, can pile up points amazingly for the declarer, as in the hand discussed today, played in one of the matches for the famous Vanderbilt Cup. Samuel Katz, of Newark, N.J., and Bertram Lebar, Jr., of New York, held the North and South hands.

In this case silence would have been best for the East player, a nationally recognized star, but bad overalls as well as doubles are made every day, even by distinguished players.

There have been amendments to that patent blunder of the Canadian government. There is a mission coming out with distinguished men at its head. No doubt a plan will be worked out which will be "satisfactory to all." The pro-British voters will be soothed by the master spokesman of a government that sent out its rockets on the eve of its opponent's meeting for reorganization—a most remarkable coincidence at least. And our foreign policy will be intact.

But the damage has been done. If the "little Canadians" demand their innings they will get it with the full power of advertising. There will be others like the editor of the Washington Herald who will judge the constitutional hair-splitting contribution to mutual defence as a shoddy exhibition on the part of Canada. They will draw conclusions verging on the fantastic. Yet, who can blame them?

THESE BOYS OUGHT TO GET TOGETHER

WORDS OF WISDOM

Dost thou love life; then do not squander time for that is the stuff life is made of.—Franklin.

Men hate more steadily than they love; and if I have said something to hurt a man once, I shall not get the better of this by saying many things to please him.—Dr. Johnson.

The greatest friend of Truth is Time; her greatest enemy is Prejudice; and her constant companion is Humility.—Anon.

Don't be niggardly with your praise. Many a person is limping over the rough paths of duty when an appreciative word would send him flying onward as if there were no obstacles in the way.—Maynard.

When there is love in the heart, there are rainbows in the eyes, which cover every black cloud with gorgeous hues.—H. W. Beecher.

Assurance of hope is more than life, it is health, strength, power, vigor, activity, energy, manliness, beauty.—J. C. Ryle.

Courage and perseverance are a magnificent talisman, before which difficulties disappear and obstacles vanish into air.—Adams.

If you get an enthusiasm to which you will give yourself completely, an enthusiasm which has as its chief motive power the benefit of personality, then you will begin a life of deep brotherhood, and you will never put the possession of mere physical comfort or the retention of mere physical life above those things that are grander than life itself. You will never say "have got to be at all costs." It may be that the necessity which is laid upon me of maintaining my position in life will require that I should trample upon the tastes and the interests, or even the needs of other people." You will never say "at all costs a man must live."—Bishop Brant.

There are only two rules for good manners—one is, always think of others; the other is, never think of yourself.—Anon.

Bestow thy youth so that thou mayest have comfort to remember it with and grief to atone for it when it is gone. Whist thou art young thou wilt think it will never have an end; but behold the longest day hath its evening... Use it therefore as the springtime which soon departeth, wherein thou oughtest to sow all provisions for a long and happy life.—Taylor.

What is our life but a succession of preludes to that unknown song whose first solemn note is sounded by Death? Love is the enchanted dawn of every heart, but what mortal is there over whose first joys and happiness does not break some storm, dispelling with its icy breath his fanciful illusions, and shattering his altar? What soul, thus cruelly wounded, does not at times try to dream away the recollection of such storms in its solitude of country life? And yet, man, it seems, is not able to bear the languid rest on Nature's bosom, and when the trumpet sounds the signal of danger he hastens to join his comrades, no matter what the cause that calls him to arms. He rushes into the thickest of the fight and amid the uproar of the battle regains confidence in himself and his powers.—Lamartine.

TIMELY COMMENTS

"In another twenty or thirty years," says Frank Morrison, Secretary of the American Federation of Labor, "I anticipate an average working week of twenty-one hours for all labor and a substantial increase in all wages." And then future generations can look forward to a workless week with still higher wages.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Why are there so many suicides among New York policemen? During the first full year of the administration of L. J. Valentine, there were sixteen in 1937. For the first six months in 1938, there have been eighteen. Considering the physical fitness these men must have, there must be something wrong with the system and work conditions.—St. Catharines Standard.

Forty-eight moving picture people went up in the mountains to make a picture, with provisions enough to last them thirty days. IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

LENNOXVILLE BRIDE-TO-BE GIVEN SHOWER

Members of Young Women's Association of Lennoxville United Church Honor Miss Geraldine Seale.

Miss Geraldine Seale, whose marriage takes place next month, was pleasantly surprised last evening when about eighteen members of the Young Women's Association of the Lennoxville United Church, of which she is a member, gathered at her home to give her a cup and saucer shower.

The bride-to-be entered the room to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Mina Pergau, and an attractive basket, decorated in mauve and white, with an assortment of bright flowers covering the top, contained the shower of cups and saucers, which was presented to Miss Seale during the evening.

A happy time ensued, when bridge was the order of the evening. Later refreshments were served by the committee in charge, Mrs. Elmer Bickley, Mrs. Harry Teal and Mrs. Kenneth McLeod. Mrs. Ethel L. Seale, mother of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. A. L. Kheurn, presided at the beautifully appointed lace-covered tea table, which was centered with a low silver bowl of cut flowers.

Varied Business Discussed by Women's Missionary Society in Session at the Home of Mrs. Charles Armstrong.

Scotstown, Aug. 16.—A well-attended meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Armstrong. The president conducted the meeting and the Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. McLeellan and Mrs. Elger.

During the study period very interesting and instructive papers were given by Mrs. McLennan and Mrs. Boy on mission work in the British Isles. A paper by Mrs. D. A. McIver, taking as her theme, "And I sat where they sat," Ezekiel 3:15, was much enjoyed and proved most helpful to all present.

A very encouraging report was submitted by the treasurer, Mrs. Charles Armstrong. After a short business session the meeting was closed by the singing of the Doxology and the repeating of the Mizpah benediction.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Elger and Mrs. George Armstrong.

MR. AND MRS. KINSEY FETED

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kinsey, where their friends met to offer their congratulations on the occasion of their fortieth anniversary. The evening was enjoyably spent in playing bridge and other games.

After lunch was served by Mrs. Charles Woodside and Miss Ruth Kinsey, a miscellaneous shower was given Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey, the gifts being piled on a large tray and presented by Mr. Joseph Start, who conveyed the good wishes of those assembled and expressed the hope that they would enjoy many more happy anniversaries.

The guests of honor thanked the friends for a pleasant social hour and their kind remembrances. Many congratulatory messages were received from absent friends.

The guests dispersed after singing "Auld Lang Syne."

URSULA TEMPLEMAN HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Miss Ursula Templeman entertained a number of her girl friends at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. M. W. Templeman, the occasion being her twelfth birthday. A peanut hunt was much enjoyed and various other games played. The prize winners were: Iris MacLeod, musical chairs; Leone Quint, best story; Madeleine Woolley, old-fashioned coach; Madeleine Kinsey, music box.

A buffet lunch was served by Mrs. Templeman and Miss Mary Templeman, the lace covered table being centred with a decorated birthday cake with lighted candles.

Miss Ursula received many nice gifts from her little friends.

General Notes

In honor of Miss Rita Mayhew, a popular bride-to-be, Mrs. F. C. Goodin and Mrs. J. N. MacIver were joint hostesses at a "breakfast" at Mrs. Goodin's home. Hydrangeas formed the table decorations. Following the repast, the guest of honor was presented with a shower of eighteen cups and saucers. Miss Mayhew thanked her friends for the nice gifts and the pleasant surprise.

Mr. Burnard Templeman was host to a party of friends, in honor of Mr. Randolph Farley, of Drummondville. The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and social intercourse. Later refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Scott and the Miss Wilma and Elaine Scott have returned from spending a month's holiday at Cape Cod.

PICNIC PARTY IS ENJOYED BY ORFORD GROUP

Outing Follows Business Discussion at Session of Women's Institute—Sporting Events Staged.

Featuring a most enjoyable picnic party, the largely-attended August meeting of the Orford Women's Institute at Mrs. James Goodfellow's home on the Brompion Road was an unqualified success in every way.

Miss K. Thompson, the president, presided and led in the opening ceremonies of singing the W.I. Ode and repeating the Club Women's Creed.

Following routine business a letter was read asking for a donation to the Sherbrooke Hospital. After listening with interest to Mrs. G. Richard's report on the county meeting at the MacKinnon Memorial, it was decided to raise money toward the inoculation against diphtheria, the kindly offer of Mrs. Goodfellow to hold a dance for this purpose, at her home, being gratefully accepted by the members.

After the amusing roll call, "A Good Joke," had been answered, the meeting adjourned.

There followed a jolly social party which was attended by several visitors who joined the members for their annual picnic outing.

Miss Thompson took charge of the sporting events, which resulted as follows: Peanut hunt, won by Edith Lavallee and Marjory Richards; race for children under five years, won by Eleanor Goodfellow; sack race, won by Sylvia Goodfellow and Doris Lavallee; under ten years, won by Doris Lavallee and Arnold Goodfellow; balloon race, won by Velma Lavallee and Marion Goodfellow; shoe race, won by Doris Lavallee and Edith Lavallee; rolling pin throw, won by Mrs. Gordon Richards and Velma Lavallee; blindfolded walking match, twenty-five yards, won by Marion Goodfellow and Velma Lavallee; another balloon race was won by Arnold Goodfellow and Eleanor Goodfellow.

Delicious refreshments, including ice cream, were served by the hostess, who was assisted in her pleasant hospitable duties by several friends. Prior to dispersing, a cordial vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Goodfellow, whose lavish hospitality all had so much enjoyed.

Question: "Please tell me the proper way to eat spaghetti. I have seen people wind it on a fork with the aid of a large spoon. Is this correct?"—Donald S.

Answer: The Italians, who ought to know how to eat spaghetti, generally use the method you describe. Spaghetti is an awkward food to eat, and this is one way to do it neatly. Another way is to cut spaghetti with the fork and eat it as if it were a vegetable.

Question: "How should a widow be addressed both for business and social correspondence?"—Faithful Reader.

Beauty Tips

Question: "I work in a factory office where the air is filled with fine penetrating soot. Since wash-room facilities are not what they should be, I cannot wash my face to renew my make-up during the day. I find that my pores are becoming clogged and my skin very oily. What would you suggest as a routine for me?"—M. J. P.

Get a make-up kit that comes equipped with a mirror in the top of the box. With a good liquid cleanser, I can wash my face to renew my make-up during the day. I find that my pores are becoming clogged and my skin very oily. What would you suggest as a routine for me?"—M. J. P.

Do not try to make your eyebrows narrow and neatly arched if they are wide and scattered. Nature apparently intended wide eyebrows to balance your face. Just pluck away those that run wild from the main line. I do not know how you can straighten the hairs. You might try applying oil or balmoline and brushing them into place, or you might clip the most stubborn ones. If these suggestions won't work, you will have to be content with your unusual lot.

Question: "My problem is an unusual one. My eyebrows not only grow all over my face, but they are curly, or at least have a way of turning up and out at the ends to give that effect. How much should I pluck my brows and how can I make the hairs straight?"—May.

You And Your Child

"I TOLD YOU SO" AIR ONLY ANTAGONIZES CHILDREN

Walter sulked and deliberately delayed in dressing himself. "I don't want to go to Aunt Emma's," he complained. "I hate visiting. You just sit around and you can't do anything. I'd rather stay home and have some fun." Mother sighed. Struggling to be patient with the boy, she repeated for the fourth time, "It will be different at Aunt Emma's. You haven't seen her for a long time and must believe me. Now stop sulking and let me help you get dressed."

Coming home on the bus that evening, the eight-year-old confided in high spirits, "Aunt Emma is peachy. I like her. She said she'll play ping pong with me again next time. When are we going again, Mom?"

Mother was pleased. She could have said, "I'm glad you had a nice time and shall try to arrange for another visit real soon." This would have been a true confession of her feelings and would have satisfied the child and impelled him, perhaps, into giving her arm another hug.

But assuming a serious air, she said instead, "In the future I hope you'll listen to your mother, Walter. I said you would have a good time at Aunt Emma and you did." The boy let go of mother's arm and became strangely silent.

Several minutes elapsed before mother noticed the change. The disciplinarian in her was taking a little time out for self-applause. Then she demanded, "Why, what's the matter now?" Walter muttered, "Nothing," his underlip jutting forward peevishly. Surprised and confounded, mother called him a crab and said, "I don't understand you any more. You're so disagreeable."

When a child's disposition begins to sour, there is usually something in his environment to provoke it. The parents have a habit, for instance, of using "I told you so" at every opportunity. No one likes to be reminded of errors in judgment, past or present, and it is very poor psychology to employ such tactics in disciplining children, as it antagonizes them.

Springfield, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Guthrie.

Mr. Albert Lacasse, of St. Hyacinthe, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bushey and family. Mr. D. L. Tittmeyer and Mr. B. J. Laycock were in Bedford.

Miss Hattie Hawke, of St. Anne de Bellevue, was a guest at the Sager home for an indefinite time.

Hollywood is full of dark languorous Latin beauties, so just for contrast the movie moguls are importing a vivacious blonde one. She's Amand Varela, noted Argentine stage and screen star, pictured above as she arrived in New York en route to her debut in American films.

Tested Recipes

FRUITS ARE READY FOR PRESERVING KETTLE

East meets West every year in the preserving kettle. Plump, luscious fruits and vividly hued vegetables of the western world merge their goodness with the little brown spices that only the East gives in abundant perfection.

Check now to see that you have plenty of jars of the right sizes, new rubbers, paraffin, long-handled ladles and the necessary sugar and spices on hand. Each fruit and vegetable should be canned at the peak of its goodness and a delay of two or three days may mean that the fruit will soften or spoil and be wasted.

The following relishes are delicious now, but they will be even better next winter when fewer fresh things are available:

CUCUMBER RELISH

- 6 large cucumbers
- 9 small onions
- 3 cup salt
- 1 quart vinegar
- 2 cups sugar
- 1-8 cup mustard seed
- 2 tablespoons celery seed
- 1 teaspoon black pepper

Peel the cucumbers and onions and grind them through a food chopper. Add the salt and mix thoroughly. Put this mixture in a cheesecloth bag and let drain overnight. Combine the vinegar, sugar and spices and heat to the boiling point. While this mixture is heating, pack the cucumbers and onion mixture into pint or 1/2-pint jars, then pour in the liquid and seal immediately. These quantities will make about 2 1/2 pints of relish.

SWEET PICCALILLI

- 1 peck green tomatoes
- 1 large solid head cabbage (about 4 pounds)
- 3 green peppers
- 3 cup salt
- 1 tablespoon celery seed
- 1 tablespoon whole cloves
- 1 quart cider vinegar
- 2 cups brown sugar

Chop the vegetables in a wooden bowl or put through the coarse knife of the food chopper. Save all the juice. Add the salt to the vegetables and juice, mix thoroughly and let stand overnight. Drain thoroughly the next morning. Add the remaining ingredients and simmer for forty-five minutes, stirring occasionally. Pack in hot sterilized jars and seal while hot. This makes five quarts.

VEGETABLE RELISH

- 12 small cucumbers
- 4 quarts green tomatoes
- 6 sweet red or green peppers
- 6 medium size onions
- 1 large head cabbage
- 2 quarts vinegar
- 2 pounds brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons turmeric
- 2 teaspoons celery seed
- 1 teaspoon mustard seed

Chop the vegetables coarsely, mix well and let stand overnight. In the morning, drain off juice and heat thoroughly in a mixture of vinegar, sugar and spices. Pack in sterilized jars and seal. Since this relish is not boiled, the vegetables keep much of their crispness.

KAYSER'S WAR CLUBS BEAT VICTORY DRUM

Kleinmen Took Final Fixture From Textile

Won Right to Meet Winner of City Transit-New Wellington Series for City Softball League Championship—Winners Punched Out Sixteen Hits for Thirteen Runs, Holding Textile to Four Tallies.

After being held down for two of the three games in their series with Textile in the City Softball League play-offs, the Kayser crew broke loose last night with a barrage of base knocks and won the deciding encounter by the one-sided score of thirteen to four.

Al night long Kayser could do little wrong, while the Textile aggregation were away off form, committing five costly errors in the field and touching the pitches of "Buzz" DiMass for only six bingles.

Starting off at bat, Kayser rang up three tallies in the first inning. After Herve Courchesne had grounded out, third to first, Drapau received a base on balls. Dion rolled to Joffre Rie at first, but Chastier singled Drapau home. Up stepped He Asselin to smite a home run and send Chastier in ahead of him.

It was almost the same story in the second as three more runs were chalked up. A double by Pinard, single by Morin and triple by Blanchard, one after the other, and an infield out, did the damage. In the last half of the second an infield out off the bat of Humphrey scored R. Boisvert with the first Textile tally.

The third and fourth frames saw the same thing happen, and three runs were pushed over the plate in each. Collin, Textile's starting hurler, was shelled off the mound and Lefevre sent in. The latter held the Kleinmen to one run in the last three innings.

Textile added three runs to their score in the fifth as three hits, a walk, a fielder's choice and an infield out pushed Luc Roy, Joffre Rie and Collin over the plate.

The whole Kayser line-up, with the exception of Courchesne, managed to get at least one hit. Chastier and Pinard connected safely three times while Asselin and Lefevre had two base-knocks.

Tonight New Wellington and City Transit met in the deciding game of their series for the right to play Kayser for the league championship.

WINDSOR MILLS MAT FAN TAKES PART IN BOUT

Enthusiastic Spectator Climbs into Ring to Take Issue with "Dynamite" Dunn—625-Pound Matman Wins by Falling on Opponent.

Windsor Mills, Aug. 16.—Westling reached a new high here when one of the spectators allowed his enthusiasm to overrule his better judgment and stepped into the ring to offer combat to Dynamite Dunn. Fortunately, Police Officer Bolduc was present and halted the unscheduled event before it was very far under way.

Dynamite Dunn and Paul Cantor appeared first on the programme for a scheduled event of two out of three falls or one hour. Dunn won the first fall with a double leg press while Cantor took the second with a wrist lock. The third fall also was awarded to Cantor on a foul. It was at this point that the enthusiastic ringside spectator took issue with Dunn, but did not derive much satisfaction from it.

In the second match it took "Blimp" Martin Velez, 625, only five minutes to dispose of Harry Madison, 190, which he did by the simple method of throwing him to the canvas and falling on him. It took almost as long for the referee to revive Madison, who was completely out. The match had its humorous aspect when Madison attempted a flying tackle only to rebound off the Blimp's stomach like a rubber ball.

The final between Jack Moore and Bill Perlick was the finest exhibition of the evening, with Moore getting the first and third falls and Perlick the second. Moore won both his falls in the same manner, with a double leg lock, while Perlick's hold, which he had used to advantage throughout the match, was a rolling arm scissors.

Some of the boys will be back next Friday night, including the "Blimp," and are scheduled to take part in a seven-man battle royal as the first event of the evening.

ASBESTOS NINE IN ST. FRANCIS LOOP PLAY-OFF

Miners Ended Scheduled Games with Ten to Eight Victory Over Victoriaville on Latter Team's Home Field.

Victoriaville, Aug. 16.—Concluding its St. Francis Baseball League campaign by downing Victoriaville on the latter team's home diamond by the score of ten to eight, the Asbestos nine won a berth in the play-offs. Their opponents will be known until the other squads have completed their schedules.

The visitors were forced to come from behind for victory. With the score six to four in favor of Victoriaville going into the ninth, the Miners went to work and when the dust had cleared away had scored six runs to lead ten to six. Victoriaville fought back and punched over two tallies, but Asbestos choked off their rally and won to the tune of ten to eight.

Morel pitched well for Victoriaville but five errors behind him practically gave the game to Asbestos. Plourde limited the homesters to twelve bingles and fanned nine. Tourville, last year with the Verdun hockey team in the Montreal Senior Group, starred at bat for Victoriaville, banging out two triples and a single, and accepted four chances in the field. He made five put-outs and figured in two double plays.

Score by innings: Asbestos . . . 301 000 006—10 13 2
Victoriaville 010 023 002—8 12 5
Batteries: C. Plourde and Nourry; Morel and Vigor.

FOOTBALL

HOME MINES DREW WITH NORTH SHORE

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.—(P) — They say a good little man can trim a good big man any day in the week, but today football observers are wondering if the same rule applies to eleven little men.

Eleven little fellows in the faded blue jerseys of the Timmins Dandies club, decidedly lighter and shorter than a scarlet-clad Vancouver North Shore team, twice came from the brink of defeat last night to gain a two to two draw in the fourth game of the Dominion football final.

Dome, winners of the second game of the series by a three to one score after the first had ended in a one to one draw, were conceded little chance against the younger westerners who in the third game Saturday had a wider margin in play than their one to nothing victory would indicate.

But the eleven little easterners staged a thrilling fight in what veteran observers term the finest football series Winnipeg ever has seen.

In Sporting Vein

By Allan Bryce.

Ladies' and men's singles events in the Eastern Townships tourney ran true to form as Martha Elliott and Lucien Lecomte emerged victorious in the finals. In downing Marthe Robert the lass from Magog stamped herself one of the finest players to be seen in action here for some time. Freddie Bradley is probably the only girl in the vicinity who could master her.

Lecomte, who polished off Charest, plays a remarkably fine game for a lad still in his teens. He has met several of the top-notchers in Montreal, and gave Durivage, a Davis Cup prospect, a hard fight before losing 7-5, 6-4. His serves and drives carry plenty of top-spin and are hard to handle, while his place-ments invariably catch opponents flat-footed. Charest, on the defensive throughout, tired himself all out in the first three sets and the Action Vale star piled through him for a love fourth set.

In lighter vein: The scene, St. Francis court number two, Tuesday, 3:30. Principals, Raoul Gagne, vice-president of the Sherbrooke Lawn Tennis Association, and Majella Charest, opponent of Lucien Lecomte for men's singles championship of the Eastern Townships. Gagne, acting as umpire, made a very impressive speech and ended with the word "Play." Charest wound up, slammed the ball into the net. Down came the net with a sickening swish. The crowd roared.

With the E.T. tournament drawing to a close, interest here mounted in the city tourney, slated to get underway on Friday night. John Hibbard, Majella Charest and Yvan Cote should fight it out for the men's singles crown, as all three are evenly matched and appear to be the pick of the local crop.

The nearest thing to a golfing machine ever seen in Sherbrooke was on display Friday and Saturday at the Sherbrooke Country Club as Roland Brault, of Cowansville, toured to victory over a seventy-two-hole course in the annual amateur tourney. The wiry champion, cool as a cucumber under fire, seemed to be equipped with cast-iron nerves as he compiled his very creditable total of 207. Studying each shot very carefully before playing the ball, Brault very seldom erred.

Harry Fowles, Jr., of Lennoxville, and "Sherry" Penabaz, of the Country Club star, stayed right up there with Brault, but loose play around the greens and on approach shots accounted for their deficits. They matched the champion off the tee and on the fairways, but fell back when within one hundred yards of the greens.

Happily, the local entry in the Provincial Baseball League—who will have to go some to make the play-offs—usually satisfy the home town fans. If a team can win at home even though they drop encounters on the road, they will draw good crowds and lusty vocal support. Spectators really let loose with some old-fashioned cheering as the Hammondmen blasted Gowell Claret off the mound in the first frame against St. Hyacinthe.

Dirubio, Small and Ayvazian are starting to knock the cover off the old apple in fine style. The tall first baseman has been hitting a merry pace in the last few games, while Ayvazian collected two triples, two doubles and a single in the two encounters against the Saints.

In Cohen and Crowley Sherbrooke has perhaps the fastest base-runners in the Provincial circuit. A single nearly always chases them all the way around from first to third. Cohen follows McMeo to bat and it goes. Plourde is heart good to see speedy Bob dancing along at the heels of the chubby little second-sacker. By the time he finishes racing Cohen around the corners Mr. DeMeo is ready for a good shower.

You hear a lot about Tennyson's famous brook and the broken record, but did you ever hear Sammie Cohen?—you must have, you couldn't miss him.

Congratulations to Larry Pergau, one of the most popular sportsmen in this section, who has joined the army of happy thousands, army used to be a mean hand with the hockey stick while playing with Lennoxville and in the Industrial League, and was one of the Maple Leafs' most valued performers. All his friends unite to wish him all of the best and hope that all his troubles will be little ones.

Homer saw a lot of country in the good old days. He "got around," as the saying goes, but he had nothing on Ty McHarg and his touring softball gang. If you want a good story, ask Ty about their famous trip to Magog a few days ago. Baron Munchausen has nothing on Ty.

The Australian Davis Cup tennis team should get past Germany and go on to play the American lads for possession of the coveted mug. They figure that when they trimmed Japan they disposed of a stronger squad than the Reich's representatives. The combination of Quist and Bromwich looks mighty good, and should give Budgie and Mako a real struggle.

George Selkirk, Canadian-born New York Yankees' fielder, is pulling up his socks and resuming his hard-hitting pace of two years ago. Selkirk has been troubled with a wrist ailment, and the experts are predicting that a youngster from Newark will snare his berth next season. If he keeps up his present

PIRATES SEEM "SHOO IN" FOR NATIONAL FLAG

Bad Luck Plagues Giants and Cubs, Their Most Feared Rivals—Gabby Hartnett Out with Cracked Thumb.

There's still a possibility of one of those traditionally close National League races this baseball season but right now it begins to look like a "shoo-in" for Pittsburgh Pirates unless they run into the kind of luck that has been plaguing their rivals.

There's no doubt the Buccaneers are a tired crew right now. They played that way against Cincinnati Reds yesterday and got a six to two beating as a result. But they're still managing to go along with the same team that rushed from fourth place to the top in late June and early July.

The second-place New York Giants hardly have had a whole team all season. Now, either in a desperate effort to pull themselves together for a final drive, or possibly looking towards next season, they have summoned young George Myatt from Jersey City to play third base while Melvin Ott returns to his old right field post.

Chicago Cubs, also victims of numerous cracks-ups, took another severe blow yesterday when Manager Gabby Hartnett cracked a thumb trying to handle a foul tip off "Ducky" Medwick's bat. He won't be able to catch for three weeks, although he may be available earlier for pinch-hitting duty. To make it tougher, the Cubs lost the game eight to four to the Cards and dropped into a third-place tie with Cincinnati.

The only other game yesterday saw Boston Bees trim the Phillies five to three as "Rabbi" Warfield set the pace with a triple and two singles. That gave them a one and a half game margin over Brooklyn Dodgers, who, like the Giants, were idle. The eight American League clubs also had the day off.

For once the Pirates failed to follow Johnny Rizzo's pace against the Reds. The rookie cloutier hit his thirteenth home run and three singles to drive in both runs. Jim Robin couldn't hold a two-run lead through the seventh inning, but tied the score, then the Bucs went to pieces and allowed four in the ninth. "Fireman" Mace Brown made two bad plays to the bases, letting a run score each time, and a couple of hits after the errors finished the job.

VETERAN PITCHERS GET BY IN INTERNATIONAL
The "nothin' ball" pitchers, those old guys who can't mow 'em down with sheer speed any more but have to depend upon wisdom and control to take care of rival batters, still have something on the ball in the International League.

This season's classic example is thirty-eight-year-old Bill Harris, who did so well for Buffalo that Boston Red Sox finally summoned him back to the majors.

The Buffalo fans celebrated "Bill Harris Night," brought Bill back for a visit and handed him a purse last night. There were some 6,500 on hand and they saw another old timer, Ken Ash, do as well as Harris to pace the Bisons to a double-header victory over the last-place Baltimore Orioles.

Ash allowed only three hits, all singles, in the opening game as Buffalo won, nine to nothing. Bisons got seven hits and five walks off Heft in the second game and won six to three with the aid of a brilliant defence.

Another veteran, Montreal's Harry Smythe, chalked up his fourteenth victory as Royals whipped Syracuse Chiefs five to three. He gave nine hits but whiffed six and was tight in the clutches.

Joe Sullivan, also an ex-major leaguer, tossed a six-hitter for Toronto Leafs in the opener against New York's league leaders and won it five to nothing for victory number fourteen. Newark, as usual, squared accounts in the second game, winning six to five but only after a real struggle. Young Johnny Haley couldn't hold a six to nothing lead but Joe Beggs finally checked the Toronto uprising in the eighth with the bases full.

Jersey Giants outlasted Rochester's Red Wings in a ten-inning struggle to win five to two but only after the Wings and Umpire Bill Kelly had waged a heated argument. Kelly ruled Jack Sturdy's third-inning drive into the left field bleachers was foul despite Rochester protests.

SHERBROOKE HORSE WON AT WATERLOO
Barbara Gratton, owned by the North Ward Syndicate and driven by Louis Pratt, of this city, sped to victory in the 25 business race at Waterloo Fair yesterday.

Tom Gallery, Los Angeles sports promoter, offered Henry Armstrong $80,000 or forty per cent of the gate to defend his welterweight title out there against Cerferino Garcia, but Eddie Mead said no. Seems Mead and Armstrong want no part of the Filipino, for Mike Jacobs has been trying to bring the bout here in October.

pace, however, he should have a good chance to stick with the Ruppert Rifles.

"FAT FREDDIE" SHOWING STUFF WITH DODGERS

Fitzsimmons Still Has Plenty of Substance on Ball—Secret of Success Lies in Ability to Field Bunts.

Brooklyn, Aug. 16.—(P) —Freddie Fitzsimmons—they call him "Fat Freddie" most of the time now—has been a part of the major baseball league landscape for a long time but you can take the word of the Flatbush fans and Catcher Gilly Campbell that Fitz still has plenty of substance on the ball.

Fitzsimmons came up to the Giants in 1925. That means he's been around the big time years and years—so many in fact that the Giants gave him over to Brooklyn as a washed-up pitcher last season and might well regret it today when so much of the pressure is on old "Meal Ticket" Carl Hubbell.

Campbell turned Fitz Sunday as the veteran taught in his seventh season of the season, pitching the Dodgers to a two to nothing victory over Boston in the first game of a doubleheader, and was all praise for his portly knuckle-ball delivery.

"Fitz may not be able to work as often as in the past," said Campbell, "but give him four days of rest in between assignments and he'll pitch you a bang-up ball game. The real secret of Fitzsimmons' long success in the majors is his fielding ability. A pitcher needs more than a good arm to get by. He has to be able to get around on bunts and that is one of the best things Fitz does, not to mention his three-speed knuckle balls."

Campbell is the only Fitz booster these days. Manager Burleigh Grimes is happy at the way his thirty-seven year old right-hander is going and it's still a good show for the fans when Freddie rears back, seemingly looks directly at second base and then knuckles the ball down to the batter.

Sellout Is Predicted For Lightweight Scrap

Fans Suddenly Interested in Watching Lou Ambers Defend Title Against Henry Armstrong—Odds Favor St. Louis Negro by as Much as Three to One.

New York, Aug. 16.—(P) —The public suddenly has realized that Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers will pitch it out for Lou's lightweight title in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, and the result is a gratifying boom in box office business.

All day yesterday fans stood in line outside the box office at the Hippodrome, where the Twentieth Century Sporting Club makes its headquarters. Mike Jacobs beamed, snapped his famous crockety teeth and predicted "a sellout sure."

A week ago when the fight was set for the Polo Grounds, it loomed as Mike's biggest failure. But now the best guess is that the fans have suddenly become interested in watching Ambers, a cold, crafty fellow, defend his title against the St. Louis negro, hailed as the greatest little fighter of a decade.

The odds favor Henry by as much as three to one to beat Lou and add the lightweight crown to his featherweight and welterweight honors. Nevertheless the man in the street apparently thinks Lou will make a fight of it.

The week's postponement, which served to build the gate, seemingly has rebuilt the fans' faith in Henry. Dire stories of his sluggishness and lack of punch drifted in to New York for a week before the scheduled date for the bout. But this last week he has been knocking sparring partners stiff.

WELTER TITLE NOT AT STAKE
New York, Aug. 16.—(P) —If Lou Ambers, the lightweight ruler, should lick the tar out of Henry Armstrong, the featherweight and welterweight foreman, tomorrow night at the Garden, the high spot of the fight season may be anticipated about a week later, when Ambers corners the New York State Athletic Commissioners and demands to know why he isn't the new welterweight boss.

The highly imaginary tableau (considering that Ambers is given no better than a one to three chance in tomorrow's twice-postponed affair) could be expected to run something like this:

Ambers: "All right, didn't I beat Armstrong? And wasn't we both of us under the welterweight limit? So why ain't I welterweight champion in New York State, like the National Boxing Association says I am everywhere else?"

Commissioner John J. Phelan: "Har-rumph! I can see there's no use in trying to explain this to you, Ambers. Now we have a lot of decisions to make down here, such as which fighter will wear which color trunks, and things like that. Now don't start trying to tell us how to run our business, Ambers."

Ambers: "Yeah, I know, General. But why ain't I welterweight champion? Didn't I lick that guy which was champion?"

Commissioner Bill Brown: "The contract said you weren't fighting for the welterweight title, young man."

Ambers: "Sure, Mr. Commissioner. But what kinda contract is that where I plaster a guy at 135 pounds and you figure he's better than me at 147 pounds? I don't make sense."

Commissioner D. Walker Wear: "That isn't the trouble with some of you fighters—always trying to tell the Commission how to run its business."

Ambers: "Yeah, that's right General. But—"

Phelan: "That's all Ambers. You're a fine little fighter and a credit to the game. But the place to win that title is in the ring, not down here."

DANVILLE PLAYER RECORDED "ACE"

Membership in the Eastern Townships' section of the "Hole-In-One Society" was increased when B. "Bernie" Elliott scored an "ace" on the Danville Golf Club course.

Firing from the fourth tee toward a green situated at the top of a narrow saddle-back hill, Elliott made a neat "blind shot," the ball falling gently into the cup, one hundred and forty yards away.

Elliott was playing with T. W. Heron, another member of the "Hole-In-One Society."

Still like Armstrong over Ambers tomorrow night—even more than a week ago.
