FOUR INJURED AS CAR CRASHES INTO STORE

Cuts Down Two Telegraph Poles and Smashes Hydrant.

St. Catherine Car Derailed by Open Switch at Corner University Breaks Into Cavanagh's Drug Store.

Injured.

John Clement, 131 Mansfield street, crushed hand.

Mrs. A. D. Walker, St. James street, injuries to head and neck.

Stanley Ponting, 112 St. Edward street, gash in head.

N. E. Smart, 115 Somerset street, fractured ankle and cut head.

Two telegraph poles were cut off at the base, an iron hydrant was knocked over, the front of Kavanagh's drug store wrecked and four people were injured by a street car that jumped the track and ploughed its way across the St. Catherine street pavement at the corner of University street at 1.40 o'clock this morning and stopped only when it ran up against an iron pole of the Street Railway.

The scene of the wreck presented a remarkable sight for St. Catherine street pedestrians to-day. The marks where the wheels cut their way through the granite blocks on the street can plainly be seen; the flagstones on the sidewalk in front of the drug store are torn up into hundreds of small shards and shattered glass from the broken windows are strewn all over the corner.

But the most remarkable incident of the wreck was the way one telegraph pole was altogether smashed into kindling wood with the exception of the very top of the pole, which can still be seen hanging from the mass of wires attached. This piece of the pole hanging in the air is about the first thing that pedestrians notice at the corner, and they naturally wonder what became of the rest of the pole.

The second telegraph pole was also cut off at the base, and this forenoon it was resting on its own broken stump.

None of the four injured was fatally injured.

A lady and two of the men were passengers in the car that did the damage and were injured when they rose from their seats as the car rocked about while crashing through the poles. Clement, the fourth person injured, was standing on the street corner at the time.

All the injured people were taken into the drug store that had been so unceremoniously broken up at such an early hour of the morning. The other injured men were later removed to the General Hospital for treatment.

It is a remarkable incident of the accident that the motorman in the front of the car was not injured and the car itself was not badly smashed except in the front.

The accident is explained by the fact that the car was coming along St. Catherine street eastward at a good rate of speed and it should have gone straight past the corner, but the switch at the corner was opened to turn down University street. The car accordingly swerved in its course, and was going at such a rate that it jumped the tracks and ran straight for the St. Catherine street sidewalk on the opposite corner.

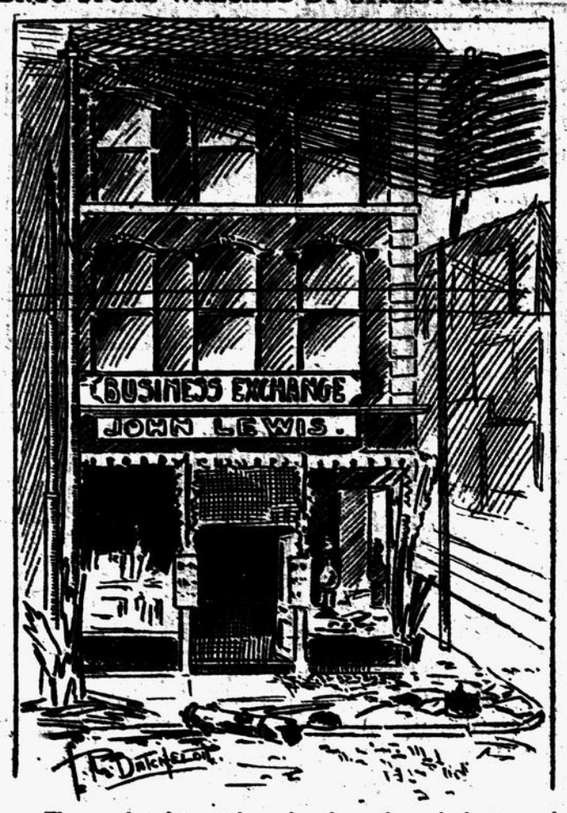

The front portion of the car sliced off the telegraph poles and knocked over the hydrant, while the rear trucks whirled backwards and hit the store.

Fortunately the accident happened early in the morning and not during shopping hours, when a serious disaster would probably have occurred.

Beyond the smashing of two plate glass windows and the shattering of good exposed in the windows, not much damage was caused in the drug store. The wreck outside, however, kept the wrecking crew of the Street Railway and a contingent of linemen busy for two hours this morning in an effort to clear away the debris.

Joseph Alias, the motorman of the car, says he was not going at a high rate of speed, and when he noticed there was something wrong at the switch he reversed the power. The car, however, certainly did not reverse, and the fact that two telegraph poles were splintered and a hydrant knocked over indicates the speed of the car.

DRUG STORE WRECKED BY STREET CAR.

The wrecks of two telegraph poles and one hydrant can be seen in the illustration. This was done by the front part of the car. The rear end of the car swung round and broke in the windows of the store. To the left is one pole cracked off and resting on its own stump. High up to the right can be seen all that is left of the other pole.

CROWN PRINCE HAS FOLLOWED KAISER

Speech at Konigsburg Created Almost as Much Sensation as Kaiser's Oration.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Berlin, August 29.—Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm's first appearance as a public speaker at his investiture as rector magnificentissimus of Koenigsberg University, on Tuesday, showed him to be in this respect a worthy son of his father.

The Prince told the rectors of the university they should "emphasize our German nationality in opposition to the efforts at Internationalization, which threaten our distinct national character."

This has aroused as much comment and controversy as have some of his father's sensational dicta. Indeed, the discussion on it has only given way to that on the Kaiser's divine right section two days later. The various parties interpret the Crown Prince's words to suit themselves.

Electric wires under the first floor of Creemans's dry goods store, Peterboro, Ont., are supposed to have started a fire yesterday morning, which caused $500 damage to the premises. The damage to the stock by smoke will be heavy.

NEW STEAMSHIP SERVICE TO PANAMA

Thirty Days from California to New York via Panama—Federal Boats to Be Used.

Special to The Montreal Star.

San Francisco, Cal., August 29. — Following the opening of the Western Pacific Railway comes the announcement that Messrs. Bates and Chesebrough will, in October, establish a direct line of steamers to Panama, connecting with a steamer on the Atlantic for New York, which will call at New Orleans and Charleston, thus affording a fifteen-day service to the Isthmus for California shippers and inaugurating the first line of water communication between California and the Gulf and South Atlantic markets.

The new line, which is to be known as the California and Atlantic Steamship Company, will operate three steamers on the Pacific and one on the Atlantic.

The sailings from San Francisco will be on the first and fifteenth of each month, and freight will be landed in New York within thirty days after shipment.

The Secretary of War has agreed, according to a statement by H. S. Bates, that six supply vessels in the Federal service running to Colon, will exchange cargoes with the Bates and Chesebrough boats trading on the Pacific Coast.

New Norway-American Line.

Christiania, August 29.—The Norwegian-American steamship line has been established here with a capital of $2,800,000. The directors of the new line were authorized to purchase the steamship Kaiser Friedrich, of Hamburg, which will be re-named the Lief Erickson. The proposed line will make possible travel between New York and Norway in less than nine days, instead of eleven as at present consumed.

OUTRAGE IN ST. PETER'S.

Franciscan Friar Attempted to Kill Mgr. Fabre.

Rome, August 29.—An unfrocked Franciscan friar of the name of Beltramini, yesterday discharged a revolver during vespers in St. Peter's. The worshippers fled in a panic and the service was stopped. Beltramini was arrested. He told the police that he wanted to draw the attention of the Holy See to himself with the view of obtaining his reinstatement to the priesthood.

Beltramini aimed at Monsignor Fabre, secretary of the Cardinal Vicariate. Nobody was struck by the bullets.

Toronto, August 29.—Guiseppe Rizzio, Italian laborer, is at the point of death in Grace Hospital, with a dangerous gash in his abdomen inflicted with a razor, and the police are scouring the city for Rocco di Sabbato, his assailant. The stabbing occurred at the home of the injured man in the presence of a dozen other Italians, who refused to talk of the affray.

Yukon Gold for the Mint.

Ottawa, August 29.—Another big shipment of Canadian gold from the Yukon was taken in at the Royal Mint last week. It was in bars, and was from the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The weight was 3,000 ounces, and the value approximately $59,000. It will be converted into sovereigns. The shipment was handled locally by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

REDUCING RISKS ON SUBMARINES

Seeking for Oil Fuel to Replace Petrol and Providing Safety Helmets.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 29.—A naval expert [illegible] explosion on British submarine A 2 has again directed attention to the liability to mishap of vessels of that class, especially as the A 1 is the same boat which was overtaken by disaster on a previou occasion.

Almost without exception explosions of petrol on board these craft have taken place while they were at an anchor on the surface and were attributable, therefore, not to any inherent defect in the submarine qualities, but to outside causes altogether.

Petrol or gasolene having been found to be the best fuel for the internal combustion engines of the submarine, it becomes necessary to take every possible precaution for its safe usage. To this end every fresh mishap has revealed something new, and the result is seen in the way in which explosions have become much less frequent. It is now hoped to further eliminate the chances of such accidents by the use, in new vessels, of a heavier fuel oil than petrol, and it can be done successfully, the chief cause of accidents to submarines will be removed.

Next to explosions, the greatest number of submarine accidents have been in the nature of collisions. But the risk of collisions is likewise being reduced to a minimum, for the boats are not only extremely well handled, but when putting to sea are always accompanied by their parent ship and one or two torpedo craft or gunboats as tenders. At the same time, in case of any submarine being run down and sunk, every vessel of the type in the British service is now supplied with a new safety helmet in sufficient numbers to permit of each officer and man on board being able to escape from the hull of the boat.

TREASURE FOR GOVERNMENT.

Workman Found Half Million Dollars in Box.

Ottawa, August 29.—There is half a million dollars treasure trove in the treasury of the Government, and a peculiar story goes with it. On Friday the Finance Department sent one of its strong boxes to be repaired at a Wellington street locksmith's. The box was locked and no one had a key. Workmen tackled the job, got the box open and discovered in it a pile of English bank notes. A 'phone call brought civil servants to the shop. They counted up the notes to the total of about $500,000, parcelled them up, and carted them back to their department.

They stated that the box had been in their department six years and had not been touched over that period, as no one appeared to have a key. How the money came there, what it was for, and who it actually should be credited to, is at present unknown, as is the particular way in which the Government will dispose of its oddest treasure trove.

Montenegro Now a Kingdom.

Cettinje, August 29.—Montenegro was yesterday formally proclaimed a kingdom. Parliament having passed a resolution to that effect, the members of that body went to the palace to obtain Prince Nicholas' assent. Crown Prince Danilo announced his father's acceptance.

The proceedings were witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd. The King of Italy, diplomats and other exalted foreign personages attended the ceremonies. There was great enthusiasm everywhere. The Czar has appointed King Nicholas a field marshal in the Russian army.

JAPAN PROCLAIMS ANNEXATION OF KOREAN EMPIRE

Japanese Treaties Will Apply Under the Act of Cession—Ports Remain Open.

Tokio, August 29.—The Emperor of Japan has despatched a delegation of notables to carry a letter from His Majesty to the former Emperor of Korea.

It is announced that nine hundred prisoners in Korea have been released.

No report of disturbances following the annexation of the Hermit Kingdom to the empire has been received here, according to official announcements.

The official promulgation of the treaty of the annexation of Korea by Japan, under the name Cho Sen, was made at nine o'clock yesterday morning.

Reports from Seoul say the people there accept the announcement quietly.

The most important paper accompanying the treaty orders the existing Korean export and import customs tariff to remain for ten years, and foreign vessels are permitted to enter the coast trade for the same period.

The Foreign Office has issued a statement outlining the negotiations for anexation. The newspapers are issuing extra editions giving full accounts of the ceding of Korea to Japan.

A rescript by the Japanese Emperor says that in 1905 Korea was placed under the protectorate of Japan, but that notwithstanding the partial success of the existing Government Korea was unable to preserve order. Suspicion and misgiving permeated the peninsula, and therefore, in concert with the Emperor of Korea, he arrived at a plan for the permanent annexation of Korea. The Emperor expresses the belief that Koreans in future will enjoy prosperity and that the new status will serve as a fresh guarantee for the enduring peace of the Orient.

Korean Emperor's Farewell.

Seoul, August 29.—Emperor Vy Syek has issued a farewell rescript in which he declared that "long-existing evils and deep-rooted weaknesses reforms in a reasonable form" he having made it impossible to effect has felt constrained, believing it wise, to entrust the task to other hands. He appeals to the people to accept the change calmly and to obey the new administration.

The Governor-General also issued a proclamation outlining the future administrative policy of Cho Sen, the name under which Korea will now be known.

It said that the interests of the Japanese and Korean people are identical. Amnesty is decreed to prisoners guilty of political offences and the poorer people are relieved of their unpaid taxes.

The new administration will devote $9,000,000 to encourage industry and for education, hospitals [illegible]

The amnesty urges the people to preserve order. The Korean newspapers yesterday announced the text of the agreement with Japan. The people are quiet.

Washington Hears News.

Washington, August 29.—The treaty between Japan and Korea, by which the Hermit Kingdom is annexed as a sovereign part of Japan, has been made public by the State Department. In addition to the text of the convention, a declaration of the Japanese Government concerning the effect of the annexation upon powers enjoying treaties with Japan is made public.

Korea's existing open ports will be continued, except that Sampoa and Shinwinj will be newly opened. Provision is made for the support of the members of Korea's Imperial family, for peerage grants to deserving Koreans and for the appointment of Koreans wherever possible to administer the country's affairs.

RUSSIAN JEWS TO SETTLE IN ALBERTA

Proposal to Colonize Two Hundred Thousand and Give Them 20 Years to Pay In.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, Man., August 29.—Particulars of a huge colonization scheme of a semi-philanthropic nature, promoted by prominent Jewish bankers and merchants of France, England and Russia, were made public here by a prominent English financier visiting Winnipeg.

The scheme is to colonize two hundred thousand of the persecuted Jews of lower Russia on farms which will be prepared for them in Alberta. Agents of the syndicate are understood to have been in the west for several weeks and to favor a large tract north-west of Edmonton. The present plan is to give the immigrants twenty years in which to pay for the farms.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS OPENED TO-DAY TO TRAIN PUPILS FOR THE CONGRESS

All the schols under the Catholic school board opened this morning. The schools are opening a week earlier than usual so as to train the pupils for their part in the Eucharistic Congress celebration.

The boarding convents, colleges and seminaries will not open till September 13th, as these institutions are being used to accommodate the clergy attending the Congress.

Beaten by Newly Made Friends.

With his head cut and badly bruised in a brawl, Fred Belanger, of Ville St. Paul, was taken to the Western Hospital at 5.30 yesterday afternoon. He had an altercation with newly made friends near the Atwater avenue bridge, which resulted in his receiving a beating.

CRIPPEN AND MISS LE NEVE CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF BELLE ELMORE THIS MORNING

Prisoners Remanded For Eight Days Without Pleading to Charge—Crippen Planned Jumping Overboard — Saw Miss Le Neve Before Arrival of S.S. Megantic at Liverpool—Magistrate Refused Lawyer Newton Permission to Examine Depositions on Behalf of Crippen—Supposed Suicide Pact.

"I cannot stand the horror I go through every night any longer. As I see nothing bright, and as my journey is coming to an end, I have made up my mind to jump overboard. I know I have spoiled your life, but some day you may learn to forgive me. My last words are of love.

"Shall we wait until to-night about ten or eleven? If not, what time?"—Notes written by Dr. Crippen to Miss Le Neve, and found on him when searched by Inspector Dew after his arrest on the SS. Montrose.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 29.—The testimony in the Crippen case at Bow Street Police Court to-day revealed a suicide pact between the prisoners, which it was said had been frustrated by Captain Kendall, of the Montrose, and Inspector Dew.

"When I put the handcuffs on Crippen," said Inspector Dew, "I said to him: 'This must be done, because you've written that you intended jumping overboard.'" Crippen replied: "I won't do that; my anxieties are too awful."

Dew then introduced a hitherto unreported bit of evidence, a card of the Robinson Company, of Michigan, on the reverse side of which was written this note to Miss Leneve, in what was alleged to be Crippen's hand:

"I cannot stand the horror I go through every night any longer, and I see nothing bright ahead. The journey's end is coming, and I've made up my mind to jump overboard to-night. I know I've spoiled your life, but some day you may learn to forgive me. These are my last words of love."

As this note was read Crippen's fellow-prisoner almost collapsed. It was reported that the note had been secured by Captain Kendall.

Another card in the same writing was read by the Inspector. It said: "Shall we wait till to-night about 10 or 11? If not, what time?"

This, it was inferred, related to a suicide pact between the couple.

Crippen made an explanation of the cards. "Miss LeNeve knew nothing," he said.

"I assure you I knew nothing," broke in the girl. "I intended writing my sister from Quebec."

Both Charged With Murder.

Both Crippen and Clara Ethel Le Neve were accused of the murder of Belle Elmore, the former's wife, in the formal charge read to them in the Bow Street Police Court to-day.

Miss Le Neve was charged also with harbouring and maintaining Crippen after the crime and while knowing that he had committed it. During the proceedings, Inspector Dew, who brought the prisoners back from Canada, introduced evidence to show that Crippen contemplated suicide while at sea, following his flight from this country. Crippen was quoted also as declaring that his companion knew nothing of the trouble in which he was involved, and Miss Le Neve was said to have protested her innocence.

There was special interest in the character of the formal charge, as the warrant for the arrest of the fugitives had merely laid at their door responsibility for the death of an unknown woman whose body was found in the cellar of the Crippen home at Hilldrop Crescent. The fact that both were to-day accused of the murder of Belle Elmore, the actress, wife of the doctor, leads to the supposition that the mutilated body has been identified to the satisfaction of the authorities.

It also suggests that the police have more evidence concerning Miss Le Neve's connection with the tragedy than they may have made known heretofore. To-day's proceedings consisted of the introduction of evidence against the accused, at the conclusion of which they were remanded until September 6, without having pleaded or made any comment in reply to the charge against them.

Few persons except those connected with the case were admitted to the police court although a crowd assembled in the neighborhood in the hope of catching sight of the prisoners. Crippen and Miss Le Neve stood together in the dock. He wore a grey frock suit, while his companion was dressed in a tailor-made suit of blue.

When the two prisoners entered the court, it was seen that Crippen had freshly grown his moustache, and grey hairs were plainly visible in his stubbly beard. Miss Le Neve wore a heavy blue veil, which she raised on facing the Magistrate.

Dew Describes the Arrest.

Arthur Newton, the solicitor engaged by friends of his client, appeared for Crippen, and J. H. Welfare, retained by the girl's father, represented her. Prosecutor Travers Humphreys had charge of the case for the Crown and after introducing evidence in justification of the arrests asked that the prisoners be remanded for eight days.

The prosecutor explained that the government's evidence against the typist pointed to her only as being an accessory after the fact. He said that he proposed at this time to offer only formal evidence in support of the action of the authorities in arrestingand holding the accused. A week hence the prosecution would be ready to proceed with the case.

Inspector Dew briefly described the arrests on board the steamer Montrose as the vessel approached Quebec. As he took Crippen into custody the latter said: "I am not sorry. My anxiety has been too much."

Asking after Miss Le Neve, Crippen said to the Inspector: "I will do all I can for her. It is only fair to say that she knows nothing about it. I never told her anything."

The witness said that in conversing with Captain Kendall, of the Montrose, Miss Le Neve remarked that she had not seen a newspaper since she left London, and referring to the murder mystery, added: "I know nothing about it."

When the warrant was read on shipboard Miss Le Neve wept, and becoming greatly agitated, fainted.

Inspector Dew concluded his testimony by repeating a conversation which he had with Crippen while the latter was exercising on the deck of the steamer Megantic during the return to Liverpool on August 24. Crippen said: "I want to ask a favor of you, but I will leave it until Friday."

Friday was the day preceding the arrival of the vessel at Liverpool. The Inspector replied: "All well now as Friday." Crippen then said: "When you took me off the ship (at Quebec) I did not see Miss Le Neve. I do not know how things will go. They may go all right; they may go all wrong. I may never see her again, and I want to ask you to let me see her. I won't speak to her. She has been my only comfort for the last three years."

Crippen was allowed to see his companion in trouble.

Refused Access to Depositions.

On Inspector Dew stating this Crippen leaned forward and spoke to Newton, who, cross-examining the Inspector, asked if the prisoners were arrested by him on July 31. Dew replied that they were really arrested by the Canadian police. He also stated, in further reply to Mr. Newton ,that the prisoners had given absolutely no trouble.

Mr. Newton requested to be allowed to see the depositions, but his request was refused by the Magistrate.

The lawyer for the defence reserved further cross-examination until September, until which date they consented that the prisoners be remanded without having pleaded. Neither Newton nor Welfare made any comment on the change of evidence. Upon leaving the dock Crippen stood back to allow Miss Le Neve to pass out before him.

Funeral of Mr. M. Findlay.

The funeral service of Mr. Martin Findlay, aged 71, who met death by drowning, will be held to-morrow at 8 o'clock, at St. Ann's Church.

Nationals Are Champions Now--First Real Regatta at Woodlands Saturday

SPORTING VIEWS AND REVIEWS

The scouts sent out by the terrible Tigers of diligent Detroit, having invaded the Canadian West and lurked about a bit, found what they were looking for, namely, a young ball-player of great promise at a reasonable price. The discovered man is Dave Skeels, "the sensational Indian twirler" of the Regina team, of the Western Canada League. In describing Skeels, a Western sporting writer says: "Skeels was one of the most promising twirlers in the Western Canada League, and, with the coaching of Jennings and his catchers should develop into a star of the first water. He has all the speed necessary for a successful pitcher, while his curves break sharply. He is also a good batter, and is exceptionally speedy on the bases. He is not yet 20 years of age, so that with the proper training should do good work in the big league."

"Star of the first water" is good. No doubt since the victory of the Winnipeg four at Henley it is difficult for a citizen of Winnipeg to get water out of his head. However, one is inclined to accept the writer's judgment respecting Skeel's worth. No doubt he has been a star in the Canadian West. In Detroit he will become a tiger, and it will be expected that he will assist the American League champions to once more claw their way to victory. The Western "fans" do not fancy the expatriation of Skeels, and they are already talking about an export duty on ball players.

Ottawa's "on to Henley" fund is coming on finely—almost as well as the Ottawa eight came on at the Canadian Henley, and subsequently at the American National regatta. Ottawa is determined that the required money shall be raised, even if work has to be suspended on the Driveway and summer cottages given up at Britannia.

John Shine, the crack local long distance runner, of Minneapolis, Minn., who has entered in the international race of 25 miles at Hamilton, Ont., October 3, has started training. Shine has won many races throughout the North-West during the past two years, and Minneapolis Marathon enthusiasts predict that he will make it interesting for the field. There are several reasons for the expectation that Mr. Shine's performance will be brilliant, one of which is too obvious to require mentioning. It is also hoped that he will not cut up any shines in Canada, but that he will add to the lustre of our track athletics and materially help them to shine with all the glory that has characterised their history, and especially their history of the past few years.

Longboat seems once more to have pushed out into the current of success, with wind and tide in his favor. Some evidence of this was given the other day when at Chesterville, Ont., he defeated Hayes in a ten-mile race in fair time. When it comes to a show-up of heels, the Indian runner evidently has still to be reckoned with.

The Montreal and District Cricket League showed the Belmont team, of Philadelphia, marked courtesy by scurrying around and securing a scratch team in order that the visitors might not be disappointed, although there had been a misunderstanding respecting the date of the match, the Montreal cricketers thinking that it would be played one day later than that which the Belmonts had in mind. In order to show that there were no hard feelings over the matter the Montreal eleven set to work and won, thus enabling the Belmonts to set out for home on the evening following the match. They were not disappointed as regards a match in Montreal, although its result was not quite to their taste.

Well, it is practically all over now. Congratulations may be sent to the Nationals, while expressions of sympathy ("please omitting flowers") are in order for the Montreals. The championship hopes of the latter were buried on Saturday afternoon on their own grounds. The ceremony was of a public character, and was largely attended, among those present being thousands who had fondly looked forward to a different ending to the day's proceedings. They came to rejoice, they remained to mourn; when, after overtime, the Tecumsehs sung their swan song of victory, and Montreal's championship hopes passed painfully away.

While clouds were hanging over the M. A. A. A. grounds, the sun, in fitful bursts of splendor, was shining on the Nationals. At times their prospects were a bit clouded, but the French-Canadians managed to roll the clouds away, and so they came home practically champions of the league.

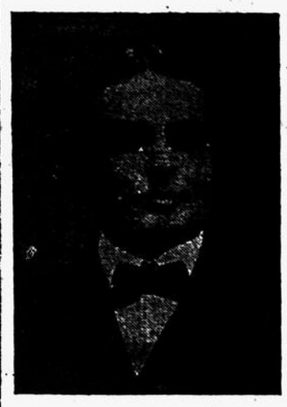

Although defeated in Saturday's match, the Cornwalls acquitted themselves with credit. They were not a bit overawed by the league-beaters, and they gave them the run of the summer for their victory.

The Ottawas had their feelings hurt again on Saturday in the usual way and to about the usual extent. Let them exercise fortitude and patience a few weeks longer. They can then go into winter quarters for alterations and repairs.

TORONTO POLO TEAM WON THE GOLD CUP

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, August 29.—A rattling game between the Toronto Hunt and Buffalo was played on Saturday, in which Toronto won the Averill International Gold Cup, making a fitting wind up for the polo week at Woodbine. It was much the fastest and most satisfactory game of the weeks and to probably a majority of the fine crowd of spectators the splendid work, team and individual, of the Toronto Hunt, was a revelation. Under the tutelage of Col. Williams there has been developed what looks like the best team yet seen in Eastern Canada, and the superiority to Buffalo was marked throughout. The home team won by 14 to 6, the half time score was 7 to 2, but in the next "chucker" Buffalo rallied and carried it to 7 to 5. Toronto was equal to the call, and then went right away, scoring in every period, and making three in the last. Toronto will send a team to Buffalo for the country club's tournament this week. Saturday's teams:

Toronto—Back, J. H. McBrien; third Major Elmsley; second, Capt. Straubenzie; first, Capt. Young.

Buffalo—Back, Dr. Glenny; third, E. P. Pattison; second, L. Rumsey; first, E. Curtis.

Referee—Mr. Van Voorhis.

Capt. Straubenzie scored five of Toronto's total; Major Elmsley, four; Capt. Young, three, and Mr. McBrien, two. The Buffalo scorers were Mr. Rumsey and Mr. Curtis three each.

BRITISH BOWLERS WERE ENTERTAINED

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, August 29.—The British bowlers had a busy and a pleasant day Saturday. The morning was spent with the Victorias on Huron Street, and after luncheon the visitors went across the Don, where they played and dined with the St. Matthews club. The grounds and clubhouse were beautifully decorated, and the ladies had a reception at the residence of Dr. Sneath before adjourning to the club lawn. The favors of fortune were divided, and while the morning game was lost the afternoon match resulted in a victory for the tourists. The score:—

AFTER MINTO CUP NOW.

With the N. L. U. title for 1910 cinched, Nationals are now discussing the possibilities of going after the Minto Cup, and for this purpose the directors are holding a special meeting this evening when the question will likely be settled. If cup games can be arranged for this year it is likely that the Nationals will go to the Coast, but if the matches cannot be aranged the new champions may not make the trip.

NATIONALS WON AND CAPTURE TITLE

Special Staff Correspondence.

Cornwall, August 29. — Had the wearers of the blue and gray shown as much lacrosse in the first half as they did in the last quarter, had they displayed the same energy and exhibited such vim in furthering the purpose of their attack National would certainly have come a cropper; indeed, as it was, they were hard pressed, and were obliged to present their full strength to stave off the gallant boys who were making their last home match a memorable one. But Cornwall did not develop latent possibilities, and National had the reserve power, hence the logical result was that National won, and the score of three goals to one indicates accurately the difference between the two teams as they appeared on Saturday's field.

National won the match in the first quarter, and won it in the early stages of the initial period, too. They made their usual quick dash, had a score inside of a minute, and in a shade over five minutes had two goals to their credit. Then they seemed content to assume that this was a safe lead. No further scores followed in the quarter.

National Was Handicapped.

In the second quarter National men were benched frequently, and for a considerable part of the way were working short-handed. With a handicap of two men less than Cornwall, the purple players were seriously pressed, and the expected happened when Phelan pegged a swift one past L'Heroux. Here Cornwall had many chances to turn a trick; but their own inefficient method of attack, and the excellent defence maintained by L'Heroux Cattaranich and Gagnon held off possible scores. Running to the end of the first half with the score two to one in favor of National, the battle looked uncertain, except, naturally, to expert eyes. The accumulated wisdom of such persons as "Billy" Lunney, "Billy" Bramley, "Frank" Lally, "Joe" Lally, "Billy" Fitzgibbons, and the host of Mace and O's one meets in the Factory Town developed the concensus that Cornwall was too slow in the field and wasted too much time fiddling around the net, so that even then a National victory seemed most probable.

Both Displayed Ginger.

In the third quarter National jumped back to form, but the other fellows showed ginger, too, and exhibited a willingness to follow the accelerate dpace. The result was that this was a snappy quarter, each side having plenty chances, but the only score in the period fell to National, Secours netting the rubber on a well-placed pass from Gauthier.

In the final spell Cornwall were the real aggressors, and pounded away at the National end, but that defence was too good for the Cornwall horde, and it was seldom that the ball trickled through. When it did there was plenty of room for "Happy," and he picked out those taht were directed at him. Cornwall certainly displayed more vigor than in any other period, but their dash came too late, and National being content to force the play into the field where Cornwall was out-run, the quarter ended without a tally, and National won the match and the championship in one day.

Nationals Had Much Speed.

It was by no means the best game that the purple has exhibited this season, but they played safely. They showed little brilliancy, but they did use their speed. Every man dashed off the defence with a smart sprint, whether he was being chased or not, and this is a feature of their play which is exceedingly useful and unquestionably effective.

Cornwall was handicapped by the presence of a couple of slow ones, and was repeatedly whipped in the play. John White is no longer the speedy John of old. He played a listless, easy-going game, and was of no practical benefit to his mates. Degray occasionally performed in a brilliant way, but went lame and retired in favor of Bourgoine. Frank Cummins sat on the stand, having had a little difference with the executive. His presence on the team would have helped a great deal. However, there was no question that National possesses the best aggregation in the league, and, even if they did not rise to their real strength on Saturday, they were the better team and deservedly won. To the credit of Cornwall, it must be said that they made a sturdy fight for the game and shared largely in the honors.

Winners Deserve the Title.

For the other side, it remains to be said that they will make fine champions, that they deserve their title so well won, and that if they succeed in getting on a series with the Minto Cup holders, they will have the support of all the eastern teams, and that they will receive any such advice and suggestion as may be in the power of the present title holders to bestow on them. The Nationals have worked earnestly to achieve their purpose. They have developed a fine team from French-Canadian material. The players have learned their parts thoroughly and present them unselfishly. This latter lesson is one which should appeal to other teams. The real team work of the new champions is based on the assumption that there are twelve men on the field and that each should do his part and that all should lend their support when it is needed. Speed and directness are prominent characteristics shown by the team, and added to this is a willingness to work and a disposition to take necessary chances.

Team Was Well Supported.

One great feature of this season has been the wonderful manner in which the Nationals have been supported by the public. All the matches at Maisonneuve have been played before crowded houses, and on the road the team has been followed by large bodies of enthusiastic supporters. On Saturday they established a real lacrosse record by bringing to Cornwall the largest number of persons that ever left Montreal to witness a match. There were fully three thousand enthusiasts of both sexes who made the trip. Some came up on Friday night; others crowded the fast International and made the Grand Trunk flier look like an excursion train. Standing room was at a premium on the Mccain, and two specials were filled to the limit.

Cornwall Was Busy Spot.

The whole appearance of Cornwall was changed by this influx, purple and white was in strong evidence. The streets rang with the Gaelic enthusiasm of the visitors, and, by the way, there was Gallic speech from other visitors to strike a balance. At the ground there were more National supporters than there were Cornwall men. A special stand had been erected on the east side of the field, an extra row of seats was placed on the field in front of the covered stand and all of it was needed.

The Cornwall Club collected a total of $2,763.53 for the proceedings, which should help some. The home team needs the money. They have gone to considerable expenditure for this season, the new field and stands and team representing an outlay of more than $8,000, which is a considerable item in such a place. The expenditure has been thoroughly justified. The club possesses a fine property, with excellent stands, and the field itself is the nicest lacrosse arena in the country. It is large and level, with nice springy turf, presenting a pleasing appearance to the eye and a velvety touch to the foot.

NEWEST RACE MEET AT KING EDWARD PARK

The latest running race track to be opened in or near Montreal will be the one at King Edward Park, and as soon as the Blue Bonnets meet closes on the 17th of next month the new track on Isle Gros Bois, which will be for the present only half a mile, but will be extended to a mile in length netx year, will be officially opened, and a regular meet inaugurated.

In fact, it is said that the management of the new park and track aim at giving such an attractive programme of races there that Delorimier Park will have to look seriously after its laurels.

Mr. Laurendeau, the well-known Cobalt mine operator, is said to be the main mover in the plan which has been talked of considerably for some time, but is only just now coming to a head.

It is understood that the Fox Hunters' Association expects to have their Hunt Steeplechases on the new track.

Unfortunate Yacht Race.

London, August 29. — The yacht race for King Edward's cup, from Cowes to St. Malo, France, had only two entrants, Sir Mayer's Norseman and the French schooner Lista. The Norseman, which was handicapped three hours and 45 minutes, with drew and the Lista started to sail over the course. She was compelled to seek refuge in the Solent from a gale.

A. DECOTEAU, RUNNER, TO COME EAST

Edmonton, August 29.—For the first time in the history of the province, Alberta is to be represented at the met of the C.A.A.U., the event winners being designated as "champions of Canada."

As Edmonton is the acknowledged athletic centre of Alberta, it is only fitting that this representative should be a local athlete.

Alex. Decoteau, of the Irish Canadian Athletic Club, has been selected as the representative of Alberta, and he will compete in the half mile and mile events at Montreal on Sept. 25. Special preparatory training under the watchful eye of Trainer Buchanan is being indulged in for the mile event, and there is a quiet feeling around town that Alec will bring home the bacon, despite the presence of Jack Talt, the present champion, and other crack athletes.

The C.A.A.U. will pay Decoteau's fare to Montreal and incidentally his board while in the city, and the Alberta A.A.U will look after the incidental expenses of the trip. He will leave on Sept. 1st, and the I.C.A.A.A. will probably send one of its officers to look after the winner. Professor Edwards, formerly of the M.A.A.A., is making arrangements to have Decoteau well-handled in Montreal, and the three weeks in that city will give him ample opportunity to get over the ill-effects of the long journey.

Decoteau commenced his running career as a five-miler, and cleaned up every thing at that distance. This spring he was tried at the mile, and speedily gave indications that it was his favorite distance. At the recent Provincial meet in Lethbridge he won the half, one, two and five mile events, which success shows his versatility. He is without doubt the finest distance runner yet developed in Alberta, and it is fortunate that he will be able to prove his worth with the pick of Canada.

At the Joint Athletic meet to be held at the Edmonton Park on Saturday, August 27th, Decoteau will be entered in the mile, and the race will constitute his final work-out prior to leaving for the East.

ZINGARI CRICKETERS TOO TIRED TO PLAY

It is understood that neither Messrs. Wallace or Guard, who have been picked to represent Canada against the States in the international cricket match, will be unable to play. As almost all the Zingari men who toured England have also refused, the selectors will not find it an easy task to fill the places.

In the final Cup game on Labor Day, between McGill and Lachine, it is proposed to nominate two M.A.A.A. referees.

CHARLIE QUERRIE'S COSTLY WATCH FOB

The Nationals have captured the N. L. U. title for the year 1910, but Charlie Querrie of the Tecumsehs won a fine watch fob, which he is proud of.

When the Tecumsehs took the first fall out of the new champions in Toronto on August 6th, president Lecours and a number of the directors were talking over the result of the match at the club-house, and were in no happy mood. Querrie came up and began joking with the National men, and assured president Lecours that the Indians would make everything right for his team again when the Montrealers came to Toronto. Mr. Lecours was pleased at this statement and told Querrie that if his team succeeded in downing the Montreal boys, he would give him a present.

The next Saturday the Montrealers arrived in Toronto for their match, and when full time was called, it was found that Querrie had kept his word.

Immediately after the match, the leader of the Indians wired president Lecours that the Nationals owed him a present.

President Lecours went at once to a jeweller and secured a costly watch fob which he presented to Querrie at the Windsor Hotel on Saturday, before he went to Cornwall. Querrie thanked the National president and stated that he hoped to increase the Nationals lead in the N. L. U. race by again defeating the Montrealers at the M. A. A. A. grounds, which he did, but not until the teams had played overtime.

AUTO RACES ON SATURDAY

There were some good ten mile auto races, organized by La Presse, held at King Edward Park Saturday afternoon and the attending crowd greatly enjoyed them.

The results of the different races are as follows:

First race, for cars of 15 h.p.—Won by a Lizaire and Noudin, 15 h.p., piloted by Mr. Barlatier.

Second race, for cars of 15 h.p. to 22 h.p.—1, McLaughlin-Buick, driven and owned by Mr. Marechal, in 18 min. 6 secs.; 2, Gregoire, driven and owned by Mr. Marechal, in 18 min. 6 3-5 secs.

Third race, for cars from 22 h.p. to 55 h.p.—1, McLaughlin-Buick, in 15 min. 15 secs., driven by Mr. Wilcox; 2 McLaughlin-Buick, in 16 min. 20 secs., driven by Mr. Edmond.

Fourth race, for cars from 45 h.p. to 55 h.p.—1, Rambler, owned and driven by Mr. Landry, in 18 minutes; 2, Garneau, entered but did not finish.

Fifth race, for cars from 50 h.p. to 60 h.p.—1, McLaughlin-Buick, owned and driven by Mr. Wilcox, in 15 mins. 57 secs.; 2, Emond, owned and driven by Mr. Stephens, in 16 mins. 17 secs.

The second day of the races, yesterday, was marked by a larger attendance than on the previous day, and better performances. In the free-for-all the Stevens-Duryea, owned and driven by Mr. Emond, did the ten mile spin of twenty rounds in 14 minutes, 30 seconds, beating the McLaughlin-Buick time of the previous day.

ANDREWS WON AGAIN.

Defeated New York's Cycling Champion.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, August 29. — Walter Andrews, the Canadian cycling champion, easily disposed of Scheider, the Western New York champion, at Scarboro Beach Saturday night. The local man won all of the series of three races, the quarter, half and mile, taking the quarter mile in 33 3-5, the half mile in 1.35 4-5 and the mile in 2.29 4-5.

The Buffalo boys won the team pursuit race, but had to travel five miles before they beat the Tecumseh pair.

A Postponed Regatta.

On account of September 3rd conflicting with the Cartierville regatta The Nautique Boating Club of Maisonneuve have postponed their big aquatic event until Saturday, September 10th. The postponement will add greatly to the success of the day as a much larger list of entries will be made in the war canoe race which has always been such a drawing card in the past.

For other Sporting news see page 7.

Mr. McCafferty Honored.

The combined business and mechanical staff of the Montreal Baseball Club on Saturday, presented Business Maager Eddie McCafferty with a fine gold watch and chain, as a token of their appreciation for the manner in which he managed things during the season.

QUERRIE'S BRAIN WON SATURDAY'S MATCH

It isn't all muscle and brawn that wins lacrosse matches. Quick wit and experience won the one on the M.A.A.A. grounds on Saturday last.

At full time the score was four all. The Tecumsehs were played out, and wanted a breathing spell. The Montrealers were in that state of mental exhilaration which acts upon the jaded body like a glass of champagne on a wearied athlete or dope on a foundering horse.

Had they continued right then Montreal would have had a very good chance to win.

But they didn't. Charlie Querrie, that wiliest of Indians, intervened.

He knows the rules as well as anyone, but he pretended he didn't and claimed that there should be ten minutes rest before the twenty minutes overtime was started.

Roddy Finlayson, whose inability to play was regretted by no one more than by himself, saw the danger and tried to have the game continued right off.

But Querrie querulously insisted on seeing the rule book, and by the time it was shown in black and white that he was wrong he had gained sufficient time to obtain the necessary rest for his braves and to break the mental current of enervation that was keeping the Montrealers up to winning form.

How well he judged the physical capabilities of himself and his team was shown by the fact that no sooner had the final gong of the afternoon announced the Tecumseh Victory, than Querrie himself collapsed in a dead faint in the Club-house.

The match itself was a very tame exhibition of Lacrosse.

Both teams were weak and it was only during the last half of the match that any really vigor was displayed.

Even the penalties were exceptionally small, and the pace for the greater part of the struggle slow.

The work of the defence on both sides was good, and the little fellows, Hogan and Roberts, found it particularly hard to make any impression on the huge guard that surrounded the Tecumseh net, though at times they made it pretty lively for them, and Roberts actually managed to get a goal.

Fred Scott did some of his well-known fine work and by reckless daring managed to get the three other goals, which made up with the one scored by Roberts the total of the Montreal tally; but the really showy scoring of the afternoon was done by McGregor, who used a running shot as he passed full speed diagonally across the enemy's goal net.

Lord Euston was a guest of the M. A. A. A. and occupied with his party seats in the Directors' gallery. He and his friends seemed to be well pleased with the exhibit.

NEW WESTMINSTER WON AGAIN SATURDAY

Special to The Montreal Star.

Vancouver, B.C., August 29.—New Westminster Lacrosse champions defeated Vancouver Saturday for the eighth time in the tri-league games by the score of 4 to 3. The eleventh game will be played in Vancouver, Labor Day, Sept. 5, when Tommy Burns, the fistic heavyweight champion of the British Empire and an old lacrosse player, will be in the outside home for the Vancouver team. Presidents Conjes, of Vancouver is paying Tommy 1,000 for his services. Tommy acted as goal umpire for Vancouver in Saturday's match in New Westminster, which was a fair exhibition of lacrosse but poorly attended owing to threatening rain. Vancouver as usual, opened well, but closed poorly. New Westminster, not taking the game seriously until it became necessary after half time, with the score then 2 to 1 for Vancouver. Score by quarters, New Westminster 1, 0, 2, 1—4. Vancouver, 2, 0, 0, 1—3.

TORONTO BEAT CAPITALS.

Had An Easy Time and Piled Up the Score.

Toronto, August 29.—Toronto defeated Capitals in an easy manner on Saturday at Scarborough Beach in a burlesque of the national game by 14 to 4. Toronto had the game won in the first five minutes of the game, and Caps never had a look in. At half time Toronto had the score 8 to 1, and at that were playing anything but championship lacrosse. Fitzgerald did most of the scoring for the blue shirts, while Jack Shea was the best of the mediocre lot from the Capital. The teams and officials:

Capital—Lesueur, Currie, Goodwin, Pringle, Pritchard, Yeatman, Shea, J. Gogman, Hutt, McMartin, T. Gorman, O'Malley.

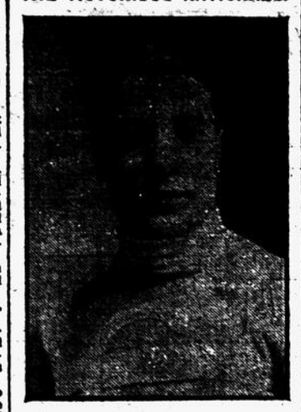

Toronto—Atton, Harshaw, Menary, Powers, Stagg, Carter, Braden, Dandeno, Wright, Barnett, Fitzgerald, Kalls.

FIRST REGATTA OF NEW WOODLANDS CLUB

The first annual regatta of the Woodlands Boating Club, which was held on Saturday afternoon, was a truly interesting and pleasing event. Being the first regatta it was a home affair, no outside competition being invited; it is possible, however, that next year competitors may be asked to come when the annual aquatic sports at Woodlands will doubtless attract wide attention.

Young as it is the club has quite an interesting and enviable history behind it. It is incorporated by letters patent. Twenty shareholders dug down into their pockets and subscribed over five thousand dollars to erect a building that would be a credit to any locality. Its size is 35 by 50 inside, with a twenty foot verandah in front and a ten foot verandah on the side. Then a fine balcony fronts Lake St. Louis and commands a magnificent view. The property is entirely paid for, which is something rather novel in initial club construction. Up to the present sixty members have joined the organization. How such a large building could be constructed in exactly one month's time is difficult to understand; but such is the fact. The mainstay of the building is a fine dancing hall, with a polished hardwood floor. It is needless to say that the people of Woodlands are extremely proud of their new club property, and visitors were shown around it on Saturday with no little satisfaction.

The contractor of the structure was Mr. J. J. C. Ward. He literally had men hustle night and day to complete it in the short time mentioned. The directors of the club, all of whom are well known business men, are as follows: W. G. Ross, president; G. O. Clark, vice-president; J. J. C. Ward, Alphonse Racine, Dr. A. Brosseau, R. W. Reynolds, Honore Mercier, M.L.A. Mr James Hutchison is the hon. secretary-treasurer.

The committee of management of the club is as follows: W. G. Ross, president; C. O. Clark, vice-president; Percy Thompson, captain; A. Racine, N. Johnson, H. W. Reynolds, H. Pelletier, O. Leger, G. C. Davis, Gordon Ross, H. Mercier, M.L.A.

The Regatta.

The organization has every reason to be proud of its initial regatta. The shores about the club house were generously sprinkled with spectators, most of whom seemed to know the different competitors, and cheered and encouraged them as the case might be. The large verandahs and balcony of the club house presented a most pretty picture, crowded as it was with charmingly arrayed ladies and gentlemen in boating attire. In all there were thirteen events, and the competition in each was most keen. Enthusiasm and good will made the various contests most pleasant to witness. Quite a generous wind was blowing, and while this made contests in canoes and small boats a little severe, it was responsible for an exhilarating picture —that of the motor races. As the racers swept through the big waves they threw the spray far and high into the air, and glinting through the snowy foam the western sun made pictures which no human hand could paint.

The following shows the list of events and who the prize winners are:

Boys' tandem (16 and under)—1, L. Ogilvy, O. Mercier; 2, I. Leger, R. Johnson.

Boys' tandem (flat bottom) (12 and under—1, R. Stanger, G. Olive; 2, B. Reynolds, E. Hawkins.

Club four—1, I. Leger, O. Leger, D. Johnson and N. Johnson.

Swimming race (16 and under)—1, F. R. Johnson, P. Hawkins.

After the regatta there was a hop at the club house, and the distribution of prizes was witnessed with much enthusiasm.

AMERICAN CANOE MEN PLEASED WITH CAMP

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., August 29.—The annual camp of the American Canoe Association has just been brought to a most successful close at Sugar Island in the St. Lawrence. The final racing day was marked by almost a clean sweep made by L. Shorey who paddled under the Kingston colors and Messrs. Genge and Linkiatorof Gananoque against canoeists from all America. Only in a couple of events did the Yankee stalwarts get a look in, and in nearly every contest the Canadians proved their superiority. The races were fought out in the best of spirit, and the good feeling which had prevailed since the camp opened was manifest throughout.

The weather was delightful for the events. Following the races there was a big camp fire in the evening.

Pitcher Mullin and Donovan, of Detroit; Coombs and Bender, of the Athletics; Ford, of the Yankees, and Lake, of the Browns, have beaten every opposing American League team this season.

A double header was played in the Commercial League on Saturday, McCready and Aubry File being the two teams to contest. The results were:

First game—McCready, 24; Aubry Fils, 15.

Second game—McCready, 7; Aubry Fils, 4.

The Monarch baseball team scored a double victory on Saturday in the Spalding Juvenile League, they winning the two games of a double header from St. Michaels. The score of the first game was 10 to 8, while the second was 7 to 2.

Vics and R. R. Y. M. C. A. Spalding Juvenile teams met in a double header on Saturday. The Railroaders captured both of the contests in easy fashion, taking the first by 11 runs to 1, and the second by 11 to 3.

Danville, August 29.—By defeating Danville here Saturday by a score of 11 to 0, Sherbrooke won the semi-final championship series and will meet Granby in the final series on Saturday.

St. Patrick's baseball nine added another victory to their long list on Saturday, when they defeated the Point St. Charles team in a senior Spalding League fixture by the final score of 10 to 5.

In a schedule Senior Spalding League baseball game played on Saturday afternoon in the Fairmount Y.M.C.A. nine easily disposed of the Standards by 10 runs to 5.

WAGNER'S BATTING AVERAGE GROWING

There is a merry race on in the two big leagues for the automobile which will be given to the batter having the highest average. In the American League Cobb and Lajoie are having a stiff fight for the leadership, while Speaker, the Boston centre-fielder, is following within striking distance. In the National League Hans Wagner is moving up fast, and has now practically only Snodgrass to overhaul. Several bats have been made that the Flying Dutchman will again lead his league when the last bat.

The following are the batters in the two leagues who have a mark of .295 or over:

ROYALS DIVIDED DOUBLE HEADER WITH NEWARK SAILORS ON SATURDAY

Lost Again Yesterday to Baltimore in the Last Innings, Making Six Losses in Last Seven Games. Burchell's Fine Pitching Was Feature Saturday.

Montreal and Newark broke even in the double header on Saturday afternoon, the two contests being marked by a lot of ill-feeling between the players and Umpire Byron.

The first game, with Wyatt Lee and Winter in the box, was an easy thing for the visitors, Winter being hit hard and receiving poor support. In the second game Burchell broke the locals' losing streak of five straight games by holding McGinnity's men to two hits.

Spada, the twirler recently secured at great expense from Cincinnati, was sent in to fix up the fourth straight victory, but he lasted only four innings. By that time the locals had three runs and the bases full. McGinnity put himself in to stop the rout and did so effectually after two more runs were secured before he settled down.

There is no denying that McGinnity is some pitcher. He held the Royals to four hits on Friday and hitless during the five innings he pitched on Saturday. If any one man is the whole works on any known ball team, McGinnity stands in that capacity for Newark. He takes part in more games than almost any other two twirlers in the league, and his bad days are as scarce as Suffragettes in Montreal.

A big crowd of electors and beauts turned out to witness the double event. This is only as it should be, considering that the finely-trained displacters not only offered a fine ball game but a full view of Rube Waddell for the one admission. This is certainly going some in the line of attractions.

Rube, the noted anti-ginger ale artist, performed most artistically on the first base coaching line, standing on the back of his neck in the dust every time the Royals would make a mingling. They made them so that during the initial encounter that Rube got tired of this violent but fascinating exercise and varied it by standing on one shapely limb while holding the other out at right angles. This exploit was probably a libel on anatomy all the way. It may be pointed out in passing that only six drives got past the infielders and four of these were taken care of by the outfielders.

Hughie Hearne, whose massive but extremely delicate shins were encased with shin pads whenever he came to bat, had considerable to do with whining in the first game. His leather-shod dogs in the first two runs and started the local tobogan down the slide. It is not so long ago since Hughie was a member of the Baltimore Beef Trust catching staff. Since joining Newark he has cut out a couple of meals per day and by strict attention to training rules has got his weight down to about 290 lbs. avoirdupois. The shin pads add at least four lbs. to the total.

Louden, who scintillated with unusual brilliancy in Friday's game, failed to do much with the bat, but his work in the field was classy. Louden has a lot of friends in this city who urge him to strike out every time he goes to bat.

Holly, our usually reliable shortstop, enjoyed a deep soliloquy during the first game. It was whispered in the stands that he was busy counting up how much money he had saved by being unable to connect with Dexterimer Park owing to the fine weather. But this was no doubt a libel on the profession. Joe Yeager is authority for the statement that the Royals have too much respect for the Miller Bill to be seen near a race track. Then is a token.

The Royals lost the first of the series to Baltimore. Dubuc, the great pinch hitter, was opposed by Russell, the $2,000 prize pitcher, who arrived here in glass case and tenderly packed in sea de cologne and attar of roses. The prodigy was removed with great care from the Windsor to the Shamrock grounds. For a few innings it looked as if he was in for a rude jolt but the Royals decided they did not need the game anyway.

THE INTERNATIONAL TENNIS TOURNEY

Special to The Montreal Star.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., August 29.—The international tennis tournament ended Saturday afternoon. The major event, the challenge round in the men's singles, finished, in accordance with general expectation, in a walk over for the holder—Niles, of Boston, who outclassed his opponent, Wick, of Cleveland. The latter, however, made a fight in the second set. Niles has improved since last season, when he was ranked fourth among American players. It is understood he has been coached this year by Champion Larned. Wick played well, but his ground strokes were poor. Niles was good all round; his placing and backhand and ground strokes as well as his service were excellent, and his hitting was very severe. The final in the doubles was played in the morning, and went to Hoerr and Jones, who, however, had to work hard to win from Burns and Carroll. The mixed doubles was another keenly fought game of excellent tennis and went the Hoerr way. Steever and Hoerr defeated Miss Fairbairn and Burns, Laird, of Toronto, won the consolation prize and Overall, of St. Louis, the novice event. In the ladies' events Miss Moyes continued her series of successes by winning from Mrs. Laird, but the latter, who is handicapped by having to serve with the left arm and play with the right, put up a very creditable struggle. Miss Fairbairn won the handicap and Miss Moyes and Miss Fairbairn captured the doubles after a close fight with Miss Craven and Miss Steever.

The play was not equal to that shown in the Canadian championships in Toronto on St. Matthew's courts a month ago, and either Pouliot, Baird or Alles could have taken the open event with ease, although they probably would have lost to Niles in the challenge round.

TOM LONGBOAT FINE AS SILK SAYS HAYES

Johnny Hayes, the Marathon winner, ran in town Saturday.

After his recent race against Tom Longboat, which he lost by not being in the best of condition, he says, he decided to take an opportunity of seeing Montreal.

In stating that he lost to Tom Longboat because he was not in good condition, he does not want it understood, however, that Longboat could not have beaten him if he had been in first-class condition, for he frankly says that "Longboat is probably in the best general condition he has been in for some time."

As an instance of how well Longboat is taking care of himself, he says that one night when he and Longboat, and the Indian's manager, Sol Mintz, of Hamilton, left a theatre, were stopping in one hotel and swapping stories at night, Tom Longboat disappeared.

Everyone was afraid that one of Tom's old longings for Bohemian life had overtaken Tom and that he probably would not turn up till early the next morning, but instead of that he turned out that Tom had fully tired, and had quietly sneaked up to bed. Johnny also found sleeping "easy," as a child when his manager went up to his room to see if by accident he could get any trace of him there.

LONGBOAT AND ABBIE WOOD RACE MONDAY

At last Longboat and Wood will come together in Montreal. Steve Cast, the Indian defeated little Abbie Wood in the Montreal Star's fifteen mile race. Wood has maintained that he would be able to beat him in Montreal and has been trying to get on a match with the great Tom.

Finally he has succeeded, thanks to the efforts and diplomacy of Mr. Ed. McCafferty, of the Montreal Basketball Club, and the two have agreed to meet for a fifteen mile race to be run on the ball field on the corner of St. Catherine street and Atwater avenue on the afternoon of Labor Day.

Abbie is more than glad, for although he offered Tom all sorts of inducements the latter would not meet him here till Mr. McCafferty interviened.

Wood also extended an invitation to Alf Shrubb, as he would have liked to have made a three-cornered race of the affair, but Shrubb's friends are to the effect that he is in the very pind of condition, and the little local runner himself seems to be quite confident that he will be able to beat the big man he has challenged for a week from to-day.

SONS OF SCOTLAND.

On Saturday Sons of Scotland made their first trip to Valleyfield for a league engagement. This fixture had been looked forward to with particular interest, in the Cotton town. Valleyfield feel that the International selectors had epitirely overlooked the existence of their team, as none of their members had been picked, and as the Sons of Scotland have six men who will be on the Labor Day, the boys of the Cottonopolis were anxious and eager to illustrate their worth against recognized powerful opponents. There was a rather high wind prevailing, otherwise the conditions of the day were perfect.

The Scots won the toss and with the sun and wind in their favor attacked from the throw in. Play for a few minutes. Radcliffe equalized one minute later. The first half was almost even, with the play in favor of the Sons. Play was rarely being dangerous. At half time the score was 3-1 in favor of Sons of Scotland.

The second half showed the home team in better form and a warm reception was given to Cale, Dorman and Beddoes. Valleyfield's second goal came from Meeklin, after a scrimmage soon at it, and from a mad scramble in front, Thompson equalized through a mix up of the men. Cross got a corner and gave the Sons the lead, which, notwithstanding all efforts from Valleyfield, they held to the close. The final score being 4-3 for the Sons of Scotland.

The teams were:

Valleyfield—Cross, goal; McMeekin and Howarth, backs; R. McCann, Avenall and Chadwick halves; Ellel, G. McCann, Thompson, Radcliffe and Wright, forwards.

Sons of Scotland — Beddoes, goal; Dorman and Cale, backs; Crosman, A. McKenzie, and F. McKenzie, halves; May, Ball, J. McKenzie, Cornfoot and Nairn, forwards.

Quebec Intermediates Won.

The Quebec intermediate twelve downed the Shamrocks of Montreal in easy style on Saturday in their schedule N. L. U. Intermediate fixture, the score at the end of the game being 6 goals to 1 for the Quebec twelve.

WESTMOUNT LAWN BOWLERS

Although the lawn bowling season is coming to an end, the Westmounters have yet a number of important matches to play.

At a general meeting on Saturday, it was decided that the club will accept the Brockville Club's invitation to play a two-rink game on the latter's green as soon as can be arranged.

The Westmount Club will also give the M.A.A.A. bowlers a game with twelve rinks, in answer to their challenge. The match will be played around the 4th of September.

A third game will be played, the Ottawa men to be the opponents this time, with a home and home match.

A third prize has been given in a similar contest.

The prize kindly donated by Mr. R. Hemsley will be competed for to-night by the four rinks that were qualified in the points competition. The rinks are as follows:

Two World's Records Go.

Chicago, August 28.—Two world's records were broken here at the track and field meet of the Chicago American A.C.

Matt McGrath, of the New York team, set a new mark of 15 feet 6 1-4 inches for the 56-pound weight throw for height, beating the old throw of 15 feet 1-2 inch.

In the 56-pound weight throw in a seven-foot circle, a special event for Matth Sheridan, John Flanagan, and Matt McGrath, Flanagan made 35 feet 7 inches, beating his own record of 35 feet 3 inches.

It was another overtime battle, and it was Baltimore who had come from more than he could stand. His aim was to get a long lead and make me disheartened, and when he saw it was no go, he collapsed. On the eleventh lap I passed him and then slowed down. He could not get ahead and I had the race in my own hands—and felt if you like it better. It was not like winning such a title as world's champion. I simply thought of having a good race with a good man—and I had it.

However, this gave me some sort of standing and on different occasions I was asked to run. Several years passed and finally there arose in Norway a young man with aspirations, which I soon found were well based. His name was Hagen. No one knew much about him then, but Harold Hansen's name is known now wherever sport is followed. He thought he could skate some, and I was anxious to learn whether he could or not, so one day I slung a pair of reachers over my shoulder and went to Norway. We met in Christiania, I was all alone, and the rink was four laps to the mile. Hagen had his lieutenants with him, and such a big rink.

We had four races, five, three, two and three days apart, and I was never beaten in every one of them. On the first day there were over twelve thousand people present, and on the last day over eight or ten fifteen thousand. There were people from all nations, and tonight's grand sports will be worth waiting for bets. Even now I can scarcely realize that Hansen, a young Norwegian was a grand skater, a whirlwind, but he was in his prime, while I was getting old and was not in training. A few years earlier I could have done much better. Besides that, I was not in the condition I should be in on the rink. However, he licked me fairly and took the title. It was great racing, and since then I have had so much fun—and after all, when a chap goes into sport like this, he should go for it for the sport alone.

"Well I came home, and nothing would do until I let the American championship to Fred Breen. I'm getting to be an old man now—fifty-four years—but I thought I would have a spin whenever there is a chance, and there is no finer enjoyment than a fast race on the open road. Breen and I met, and I was defeated by Harry Van. McCormick was also a great sculler in his time, and I remember rowing each one in 1872, when he defeated Edward Rice in a three mile race on the Kennebecasis. Later he defeated Richard Rogers over the same course, but was defeated by Harry Van. McCormick was a fine sculler and many

HUGH M'CORMICK, GREAT SKATER, IS DEAD

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. John, N.B., August 28.—Hugh J. McCormick, ex-champion skater of the world, died here yesterday after a long illness, following a critical operation for internal trouble. McCormick had been confined to his bed and knew he could not recover.

McCormick first appeared on the ice as a skater late in the winter of 1883. Fresh from the country the spectators at his initial performance jeered at him and yelled "country." McCormick won nevertheless. After defeating many competitors, McCormick went to New York where he quite upset the equilibrium of sporting circles by smashing records right and left. He later defeated William Whelpley, who had issued a challenge to America. In 1890 he defeated Axel Paulsen, then champion speed skater of the world in Minneapolis. In 1893 he went to Norway to race Harold Hagen, and under adverse conditions was defeated. McCormick's fastest mile, in 2.58 minutes was skated here.

In an article written for the Montreal Star, McCormick described his defeat as follows:

(By "Hughie" McCormack, of St. John, N.B., World's champion distance skater.)

How did I win the world's championship? Better me tell you how I lost it, that would make a more interesting story. Tell you both? Well you are giving me quite a job. It was McCormack, who was talking. "Hughie" McCormack, for four years the world's champion skater and for eleven years the holder of the best record, the man who through sheer love of sport for sport's sake, for unwavering determination, and for cleanness above all else, made his name a byword and placed himself literally on a pedestal, the hero of all youthful aspirants for honors on the ice.

"You see," he went on, "when I was a lad, forty years ago, I lived on the edge of the skating rink and for the same to me in winter time as walking was in summer. I was at it every day when the ice was good and after a time came to town and tried my luck in a few races. They found I could do some and in one race down in the old Victoria rink, fourteen and a half laps, I covered the mile in two fifty-eight. This was away ahead of the record and there was quite a dispute about the time, so I did it again for them. The story of this skating spread, and 'Uncle' Bill Curtis, editor of the Spirit of the Times, I don't know which, but it has nothing to do with the story now at hand, came, at the start. We skated in the Victoria rink, I think it was in 1888, and the place was packed.

Dowd went off at a tremendous clip, but I managed to stick close to his heels and this seemed to urge him on to even greater effort, so that the first eleven laps were worth seeing and the crowd went wild. But Dowd had done too much, the effort was

M'GILL WINS LEAGUE MATCH

The keenest interest taken by the public in local cricket was evidenced by the "crowd which witnessed the league match between Montreal and McGill on Saturday. The game was much closer than the previous Saturday, and excitement ran high as the fortune of the game hinged now this side, now that. Montreal opened the batting and lost Grant the first ball of the match, he being caught at the wicket off Hawkins. Jones foolishly was allowed out with two runs to his credit, Walker followed, caught at third man off Lane, the ball having been cleverly placed, and two shattered Motherwell's wicket with a fast one. After some good play, at times, in turn—from Dowie, Welch the wicket-keeper failed to stop a ball, yielded three runs, the score being 27, when Smith was run out. A short third brought about a change of bowling, Hodson bowling down McDougall's leg stump. Boyes now showed a really admirable piece of batting, the boundary after boundary coming in quite refreshing style. Waters kept up his end like a man, while his partner helped himself by means of every one to get off and on to a couple of dozen more runs. Dowie was now tried by McGill and finally overthrough Boyes' defence. The retiring batsman had made 32 by really good batting. The innings closed for 131.

McGill started with Dickenson and Hawkins to the bowling of Motherwell and Wallace. A fair start was made, but Hawkins was caught at third man for a length ball from Motherwell. When Hull came in the cricket livened up. He'l had a close call before he got out, the ball being off when the ball was thrown in. His dismissal came by means of Waters, who went on to bowl in place of Wallace. Horsfall, as usual, forced the game and quickly ran into double figures, but after Dickenson and Stanley had gone well, and Slingsby run out, he was smartly stumped by Guard. Matters now looked decidedly blue for McGill, especially as Brebner was bowled all over his wicket by a breaking ball from Boyes, who was bowling really well. Hainsworth and Kershaw made matters safe, however, and the century was eventually hoisted. Dowie showed sparkling form, making a couple of lofty drives. The score was 131 when the last wicket fell, McGill thus winning by 46 runs. Scores:

THE MOTOR BOAT RACES.

Retirement of British Craft Spoiled Programme Somewhat.

Alexandria Bay, August 28. — Inability on the part of the British motor boats to compete against Dixie II. somewhat spoiled the final days' programme of the international motor boat races, although the race scheduled for them, Dixie II. went over the course alone.

The only thing which was brought off on Saturday was that for the one design class, with lady pilots. It was a race that left no doubt of the craft and the brave power of their engines are exactly similar. The Fleetwick, piloted by Fredrick Reed, of Alexandria Bay, again proved that she is somewhat superior in her rivals. In this race she was steered by Miss Gillespie, and although she only managed to cross the starting line in third place, she completed the first of the two 25 mile laps ahead of the rest of the fleet. The second lap was finished in the following order: Fleetwick, owned by Miss Gillespie, No. 1; Sea Gull, owned by G. C. Boldt and steered by Mrs. F. Burnham. The last named boat made the time of 1 hour 17 minutes and 30 seconds. In the distance race for the North Stars, the previous champions, St. Mary's led to the turn, but the North Stars got alongside of her again on the home run, and the latter was stroke for stroke. Condition finally told, and St. Mary's drew away the quarter mile from the finish line, and won by two lengths. O'Neil, champion oarsman of America, in 1899, was in St. Mary's crew. St. Mary's also won the Intermediate fours, and Scallon, of the Lachine Club, won the Senior singles. St. Joseph's won the Junior fours, and Hart, N. W. Arm Junior single. The Canoe and Motor Boat Club, being disqualified, and Leverman and Guess upset.

O'NEILL HELPED ST. MARY'S TO WIN RACE

Special to The Montreal Star.

Halifax, N.S., August 28.—Fine thousand people witnessed splendid racing at the aquatic championships of the Maritime Provinces held in this city on Halifax Harbor. The chief event, the senior four-oared race, was won by St. Mary's, who represented the North Stars, the previous champions. St. Mary's led to the turn, but the North Stars got alongside of them on the home run, and the latter was stroke for stroke. Condition finally told, and St. Mary's drew away the quarter mile from the finish line, and won by two lengths. O'Neil, champion oarsman of America, in 1899, was in St. Mary's crew. is an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, impure blood, a coated tongue, sick headaches, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis. To neglect it is dangerous. CLOSE CONTESTS AT SWIMMING MEET

The 35th annual races of the Montreal Swimming Club were held at St. Helen's Island Saturday afternoon, under very favorable weather conditions. A cool breeze, which was felt by the swimmers after coming out of the water, was the only thing that the boys did not enjoy, but for all that the entries were large and the races keenly contested. A large crowd gathered on the hill outside the baths and all were delighted with the day's sport, especially the greasy pole and duck-chasing events. The best race of the day was the 100 yards senior, which was won by Pitblado, Y.M.C.A., who, after an exciting finish, crossed the tape a couple of feet ahead of S. Kipp, the M. S. C. entry. L. Cyphol, C.M.C.A., was a good third. For the junior championship in this event no members were very much disappointed at the showing made by Emile Bouchard, the crack boy swimmer of the club it was expected that this would be a walk over for Bouchard. Logan, M.A.A.A., and this boy, but it was soon found from the start that Bouchard was in very poor shape, and only aggravated his ankle by means of exercise off and on to a couple of dozen more runs. Bouchard was one tried by Mitchell and finally went through Boyes' defence. The retiring batsman had made 32 by really good batting. The innings closed for 131.

McGill started with Dickenson and Hawkins to the bowling of Motherwell and Wallace. A fair start was made, but Hawkins was caught at third man for a length ball from Motherwell. WILL KEEP CROWD CIRCULATING AT CONGRESS RECEPTIONS

Can Call Your Cab or Auto by Phone to Be at the Door for You.

One of the busiest men in connection with the Eucharistic Congress is Alderman U. H. Dandurand, chairman of the civic reception committee.

Mr. Dandurand this morning gave out further details about the civic reception to the papal delegate at the City Hall. "Some people are of the opinion that the reception will take place in the afternoon. It is a mistake, said he. It will take place in the evening, and evening dress will be indispensable. This will be a reception open to every citizen. Everyone who is willing to accept the conditions imposed by the committee will be able to shake hands with the cardinal. The conditions imposed by the committee are that all comers should be properly dressed and that they have the admission cards. These cards are supplied by the reception committee, and their number is unlimited. Our only care in giving out the cards is that we know who gets them. We do not give blank cards to be distributed freely.

Every person who wishes to see the delegate has to apply to the committee. We pass the name in review and we send an invitation accompanied by an admission card. The invitation is printed on paper de luxe, and is to be kept as a souvenir, while the admission card will have to be shown at the door of the City Hall. The callers will have to be very careful in having their visiting cards with them, as they will be a necessity for the introduction. I think enough was said in the papers about the dress and that there will be no misunderstanding about that point. The men must be in evening dress and the ladies must not wear decollete gowns nor hats."

Method of Circulation.

"Now about the circulation service. All vehicles coming to the reception must reach the main door of the City Hall from the west and must leave it going east. The waiting ground for the cabbies will be the Champ de Mars. On the Champ de Mars, exactly in the centre of the waiting grounds, will be a small kiosk with two men and a telephone connecting with another telephone at the exit of the City Hall. When guests leave they will give a slip with the number of the cab to the footman in attendance. He will immediately telephone tothe kiosk in the Champ de Mars, and another man with a megaphone will call the number of the driver, who will immediately go for his passengers. In order to make things shorter, a ramp for vehicles will be constructed over the steps to the Champ de Mars, between the City Hall and the Court House."

ARRIVAL OF THE LEGATE OPENS THE FESTIVITIES

The festivities of the Eucharistic Congress begin at the end of this week by the arrival of Cardinal Vannutelli, who is expected here at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon. With him will be Cardinal Logue, primate of all Ireland; Mgr. Touchet, Bishop of Orleans; Mgr. Bruchesi, who leaves to-morrow for Father Point, where he will meet the Legate, and many other church dignitaries from Italy, France, England, Canada and the United States. The papal delegate will land from the Empress at Quebec, where he will spend about twenty-four hours, and will come from Quebec to Montreal on board of the C.G.S. Lady Grey, stopping at Three Rivers and Sorel, where he will receive the wishes and the respect of large delegations congregated on the wharves.

On reaching Point aux Trembles the Lady Grey will be surrounded by a huge flotilla of yachts. This flotilla will be formed into two columns, each column having a front of ten yachts. Besides all the yachts of Montreal and the neighborhod, it is expected that over a hundred yachts will come from Plattsburg and Lake Champlain, adding to the number of the local fleet.

As the platform where the Legate will land at the foot of McGill street is of rather limited capacity, the civic reception committee has issued only a limited number of cards of admission.

Ladies are not to wear hats, it is announced, at the civic rectption of the City Hall Hall on September 8. The only head covering will be the lace mantanilla. Black s not insisted upon for the dresses. People will not be required to kneel when they salute the cardinal, as it will be a civic and not a religious ceremony. Those who desire to do so will have the privilege of kissing the cardinal's ring, others may bow and pass on.

In all probability Cardinal Logue, the Irish primate, will be the preacher next Sunday evening at St. Patrick's Church. He will give the Labor Day sermon. A letter has been received from the cardinal intimating his readiness to, preside at the Labor Day celebration in that church.

At the morning mass of the same day the Cardinal will officiate, and it is expected that the preacher will be Father Bernard Vaughan, the famous Jesuit.

All along the streets in which the grand procession is to pass great progress has been made in the decorations.

Over Fifty Grand Stands.

The number of stands has increased by twenty since the Star published the list of 34, for which the construction permits had been issued by the city building inspection department. Most of them are on St. Hubert street, Laval avenue and Rachel street. The civic officials are careful that the stands have all the strength required. "In only one case," said Deputy Building Inspector Levesque, "have we been obliged to make remonstrances, and our recommendations were quickly complied with."

As to the arches, no regular permits were taken, but their construction is closely watched by the officials, and as they are all erected on grounds belonging to the city, it would always be easy to compel the builder to comply with the desire of the city inspector. But there is no danger with the arches, as they are said to be very solid and able to last for a good while.

Mgr. MacFarlane, of Scotland, arrived in Montreal Saturday, and took his quarters at Loyola College, where he will remain during his stay in Montreal.

The Archbishop's Palace has issued a note to all the priests and religious institutions to ring all the bells, Saturday at the passage of the C.G.S. Lady Grey, carrying the papal delegate and his followers. As soon as the fleet reaches Pointe aux Trembles a blast will give the signal and simultaneously all the bells in the city will salute the Cardinal, stopping their ringing only when the Lady Grey is moored.

TWO DELEGATES ARE UNABLE TO COME.

Owing to her great age, Mother Mary Loyola, of Bar Convent, York, England, will be unable to come to the congress to read her paper. Mother Mary Loyola is over eighty years of age, and though still bright and active her doctor was afraid to permit her to cross the ocean. Her paper, "First Communion," will be read at the ladies' session, Friday afternoon, September 9th.

Right Rev. Bishop Clancy, Sligo, Ireland, who was to be one of the principal speakers during the congress, has cabled the Archbishop's Palace, declaring that owing to ill-health he will be unable to attend.

Arrangements are being made to have an able substitute for Bishop Clancy.

Bells for the Repository.

The new chime of bells for St. Louis Church, Mile End, will be used at the Repository, on Fletcher's Field for the open-air mass and for the procession. The bells will be blessed at the parish church, next Sunday and Monday morning they will be taken to the Repository and installed for the Eucharistic week. The inscription on the bells: "Je sonne l'armee Eucharistique," is very appropriate, much more as they will be intimately connected with the great congress, an honor, which according to the pastor, was not thought of when the inscription was given to the makers of the bells.

SPECIAL SERVICES WHERE CARDINALS WILL OFFICIATE

In all probability Cardinal Logue, the Irish primate, will be the preacher next Sunday evening at St. Patrick's Church. He will give the Labor Day sermon. A letter has been received from the Cardinal intimating his readiness to preside at the Labor Day celebration in that church.

At the morning mass of the same day the Cardinal will officiate, and it is expected that the preacher will be Father Bernard Vaughan, the famous Jesuit.

Two largely attended meetings of the parishioners of St. Aloysius Church were held yesterday after the service to make arrangements for the reception of His Eminence Cardinal Logue on the occasion of the blessing of the Congress bell on Sunday next at 3 p.m. It was decided that the parish societies would meet the representatives of St. Mary's Court C.O.F., and of the A.O.H., at the corner of St Catherine and Marlborough sts. and march to St. Aloysius Church where upon the arrival of His Eminence and party, His Worship Mayor Guerin will read an address of welcome on behalf of the English speaking citizens of the Eastern section of the city. At the blessing of the bell which will follow, many leading citizens will act as sponsors. The Rev. Father McShane will accompany His Eminence.

Workingmen's Services.

His Grace Archbisaop Langevin, of St. Boniface, Man., will preach the sermon next Sunday evening at the great religious service for workingmen in Notre Dame Church.

The service for women will be also held next Sunday at Notre Dame at three p.m. The services were always held on the Sunday following the men's service, but owing to the Eucharistic Congress. His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi, decided to hold both services on next Sunday.

His Lordship Bishop Brunault, of Nicolet, will preach the sermon at the women's service Sunday afternoon.

NOT GUILTY SAY THE FIGHT PICTURE MEN

Four Hailed to Court on Charge Laid Under the Criminal Code.

In answer to summonses charging them with exhibiting cinematographic reproductions of a prize fight—photographs tending to corrupt morals and in themselves a disgusting object—as the Crown alleges an exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures is, within the meaning of Art. 207 of the Criminal Code, four representatives of moving picture shows filed appearance in the Police Court to-day. Their plea was not guilty.

Some difficulty was experienced by the Crown in getting the summonses signed a few weeks ago, two or three judges being firm in their belief that the exhibition of the fight pictures did not constitute an offence under the article which had always been interpreted as pertaining to obscene exhibits.

Sir Lomer Gouin, however, being determined to test the law as applied to the Jeffries-Johnson pictures in this city as in the case of a test case now pending in Quebec city, the summonses were signed and the cases will come up September 2, Crown prosecutor Walsh handling the cases for the Government.

The defendants are Charles Horn, "Nickeland," 604 St. Catherine street East; Albert Kouri et al., "Circle," 143 St. Lawrence; Joseph Beraket et al., 339 St. Lawrence, "Wonderland"; and Katz Ghiz, "King Edward Palace," 279 St. Lawrence.

Provincial Detective Ernest Brosseau, of Chief McCaskill's staff, signed the complaints in the name of the Crown, charging the exhibition during the month of August.

GRENADIER GUARDS' BAND SCORE DOUBLE SUCCESS SATURDAY.

The Grenadier Guards Band played to two big audiences in the Arena on Saturday afternoon and evening and the quality of the performances went far to establish the claim that the organization is the best of its kind in the Empire. At the close of the evening programme there was a scene of great enthusiasm and Dr. Williams and his musicians were applauded to the echo. A complete change of numbers were given. While every selection was encored, the most interesting numbers were a portion of Wagner's "Das Rheingold," the William Tell overture, and a tone poem: "Finlandia," which revealed the band's strength most convincingly. The programme was concluded with a collection of English airs, followed by "The Maple Leaf Forever" and the National Anthem.

The band left yesterday for Toronto where they will play at the Exhibition.

Struck by Car, Unhurt.

While crossing Prince Arthur street at the intersection of St. Lawrence street, Mr. B. Gordon of 63 Prince Arthur street, was knocked down by a car at 8.15 o'clock last night. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital, where it was found that he was only suffering from general contusions.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux arrived in London Saturday on the steamer Megantic. Hon. W. S. Fielding sails for Canada on Thursday.

"HOLY GHOST" YACHT HAS GONE ASHORE

Anchored Off Mud Island With Rock Through Her Bows—Possible Developments.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Halifax, N.S., August 29.—The yacht Kingdom, having aboard "Holy Ghost" Sanford and his followers, whose cruise along the coast of New England and the Maritime Provinces has created much amusement and derision, is ashore on Mud Island, one of the Tuskets, near Yarmouth. The vessel went ashore last Thursday, and now lies safely anchored with a good-sized rock through her bow.

The tug Hugh D., on receipt of the news in Yarmouth of her stranding, was despatched to her assitance, which was promptly refused. But on Saturday Capt. A. H. Perry, the Kingdom's Commander, came up to Yarmouth in a launch to consult United Stated Consul Fleming as to the best course to pursue. The Consul secured permission from the Mud Island Lobster Company for the wrecked voyagers to use the island and buildings thereon.

Captain Perry is also consulting Messrs. Hugh Cannesson as to the possibility of repairing and floating the vessel. He says if such is done they can go on their way rejoicing.

The Kingdom carried forty-nine persons, most of whom are women and children. They have been all landed, together with their effects, and are comfortably housed in the building on the Island and in tents. It is an open question whether the United States authorities will have anything to say in regard to the matter, but the Canadian Immigration authorities may be asked to take steps to deport Prophet Sanford and his band of fanatics, if they decide, as is said to be probable, to retain permanest occupancy of the Island.

BADEN-POWELL WILL ARRIVE ON SATURDAY TO INSPECT SCOUTS

Major-General Sir R. S. Baden-Powell, the hero of Mafeking and the man regarded as the head of the Boy Scout movement throughout the British Empire, will arrive in Montreal next Saturday morning and will then be given the hearty reception which Montrealers were unable to tender him when he first passed through the city some weeks ago.

On Saturday afternoon the Major-General will inspect the Boy Scouts in Montreal. It has not yet been decided where the inspection will be held, but it will take place under circumstances to permit the public in general to view the scene.

On Saturday night Major-General Baden-Powell will address a public meeting in the Arena.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION COMMISSION SITTINGS.

The Technical Education Commission will be in Montreal Sept. 19 and 21: at MacDonald College, Sept. 20; Quebec, Sept. 23 and 24. Other places in the province will be visited after the return from the west. A second visit will be made both to Montreal and Toronto to receive fuller testimony.

EACH HAS OTHER ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF AUTO-PARTS THEFT

Cross warrants have been served followed by appearance in the Police Court Saturday and to-day charging the theft of automobile accessories.

On Saturday Edward L. Baugh, broker 250 Peel street, and H. Stubbs, 88 Cathcart street, pleaded not guilty to a charge laid by Louis Marier, garage proprietor, 423 Guy street, of the theft on July 19th of automobile accessories to the value of $600. The accessories were enumerated at length as lamps, spark plugs, tire, rims, terminals, high and low tension wire, generator and speed box.

To-day Louis Marier, the plaintiff in the first case, pleaded not guilty to the theft of $429 worth of automobile accessories from Hubert C. Stubbs, 107 St. James street. These were enumerated as shock-absorbers, inner tubes, tail lamps, lift-jacks, car tools, top Humber car, tonneau apron, tire pumps, tire covers, tire levers, exchange Magneto, horn bulb and reed, gas tanks and accumulators.

Both cases were postponed for enquete. The defendants are on bail.

ASHORE, REFLOATED IS NOW COMING UP

Manchester Engineer Grounded Off Belle Isle, But Get Off Again.

The steamer Manchester Engineer, is reported to have gone ashore off the coast of Belle Isle a few days ago, while on a voyage from Newfoundland loaded with pulpwood. No details of the mishap were given with the message reporting the fact, but it was ascertained to-day that the ship has sustained some appreciable damage, though she was refloated without much difficulty, and apparently without calling upon the aid of any tug or wrecking steamer.

The Manchester Engineer is now sailing up the river for Montreal, whither she was bound at the time she ran aground. Her fore hold is full of wajer. She passed Father Point at a quarter to seven o'clock this morning.

The Lake Champlain, of the C. P. R. line, which arrived at Montreal at eleven o'clock this morning, reports that she passed the Manchester Engineer eighteen miles west of Belle Isle at six o'clock on Thursday evening last, and the steamer then asked the liner to report "all well."

On inquiry at the offices of Furness, Withy and Company, agents for the Manchester line of steamers, one of the company's officers informed a Star representative that they "knew all about the accident," but he declined to give any information concerning it.

EXCURSIONISTS HELD UP FOR SIX HOURS.

An excursion train on the Grand Trunk, returning to Montreal from Fort Covington, last night, was delayed at the diamond crossing near Laprairie, where the C.P.R. intersects the line, through the locomotive and several cars leaving the tracks. The train was not going at a great speed at the time, so that comparatively little damage was done to the rolling stock, and nobody was hurt. It took something like six hours' hard work, however, before the track was cleared, the consequence being that some three hundred excursionists, who expected to get back to Montreal at nine o'clock last night, did not reach the city until three o'clock this morning.

LESS WHEAT BUT AN INCREASE IN GRAIN THROUGH MONTREAL

With the Exception of Cattle Most Staple Exports are Larger to Date Than Last Year.

While there has been a decrease in the amount of wheat that has passed through Montreal for shipment abroad, there has been a considerable increase in grain exports from this port, this season's figures showing that last year's record has been surpassed by practically thirty percent.

During fifteen weeks from the opening of navigation in 1909 a total of 10,626,862 bushels of various cereals were shipped from Montreal. During a similar period in this year, the total rose to 13,959,853 bushels, an increase of 3,332,991 bushels.

The reason of this large increase is the larger exportation of oats and corn, the former jumping from 133,075 bushels last year to 3,100,503 this year.

Flour shows a substantial increase, this season's shipments rising to 517,515 barrels from 468,867 exported last year.

There is a small increase in butter shipments, but the total is not very large, only 12,427 packages having been sent away this year. Cheese exportations decreased slightly, so, too, did hams, bacon and meats. One other decrease came in cattle shipments, the number of head dropping from 38,194 in 1909 to 31,379 in 1910.

Two articles to show increases are lard and hay.

The summary given below gives the total amount of exportations for the similar periods of the two years:

FIRST TRAIN TO RAWDON CAUSE OF REJOICING TO OLD RESIDENTS.

There were great rejoicings in Rawdon, Que., yesterday, when the first train arrived at that place over the newly constructed Canadian Northern line from l'Epiphanie. An excursion was run from Montreal to inaugurate the line, and there were about 350 passengers from the city and way stations, among them being three Montrealers who were born at Rawdon and had not visited the place for 25 years.

During the whole of that quarter of a century, they stated, this line into Rawdon has been promised. It was always a great topic for election speeches in the county, and it had won and lost many elections, besides putting men into the Provincial Legislature and unseating them. Since the Canadian Northern took hold of the enterprise, however, it has been pushed ahead.

The extension from l'Epiphanie as far as St. Jacques was constructed last summer, and the remainder, making a total of 19 miles from l'Epiphanie, has been constructed this season. The work has included the building of a $100,000 steel and concrete bridge over the Lac Oureau River near Rawdon.

The run from Montreal was made in one and a half hours. Farmers and residents from all over the district had driven in to Rawdon to see the first train come in, and there was a great demonstration, with speeches of welcome, and expressions of the great things in store for Rawdon. Those include the erection of new lumber mills in anticipation of the railway there has been considerable building activity this year, about 150 houses having been put up since the snow went. Another big crowd assembled to witness the departure of the train in the evening. It is intended to run a daily service to Rawdon shortly.

Montreal Vital Statistics.

Statistics show that 344 children were born in the city last week. The deaths numbered 197. Of those who died 127 were children under five years of age. There were six deaths from typhoid. Twenty new cases of the disease were reported last week.

Mr. R. Monty, K.C., has been appointed delegate from Montreal to the General Council of the Bar. He succeeds Mr. V. Martineau, appointed secretary of the General Council.

MR. ROSWELL FISHER'S WILL IS PROBATED.

The widow, Mary Field Fisher, and the children become the beneficiaries under the will of the late Roswell Corse Fisher, which was proved before the deputy prothonotary of the Superior Court.

The will was signed February 14, 1909, and gives and bequeaths to the deceased's widow, Mary Field Fisher, all his property in the township of East Bolton, Que., absolutely, and all the contents belonging to deceased in her house at East Bolton, and the appurtenances thereof. The remainder of the estate is bequeathed to the children of the marriage or their heirs.

The estate is subject to the following charges:

"The use and enjoyment for her life to my dear wife, of my apartment or dwelling in "The Sherbrooke" or its equivalent together with the contents therein to me belonging, with power to give or devise the said contents to my children as she shall see fit."

The estate is also charged with an annuity for her life in favor of the widow of $5,000, payable quarterly, such annuity to be inclusive and not over and above the sum settled by the marriage contract.

Payment is also to be made to the credit of the minor children of $100 each on their respective birthdays until they reach twenty-one years of age, and at that time the sums credited to them are to be, if necessary, made up to the sum of $4,000.

The executors are the widow of the deceased; Hon. Sydney Fisher, brother; and Roswell Eric Fisher, son. The executors will hold and manage said estate until the youngest surviving child shall reach the age of twenty-five years, at which date the said trust will be discharged.

A MINISTERIAL CRISIS AVOIDED BY THE PREMIER

Hon. Frank Oliver, Offended at Apparent Slight, Reported Ready to Resign.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Nelson, B.C., August 29.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier spent Sunday here resting. He has had a strenuous three days since leaving Vancouver, and for a while was quite indisposed as the result of train travel in the tortuous passes of the mountains. All Saturday, however, he spent on a steamboat on the Columbia river and Arrow Lakes, and seemed to have quite recovered his usual vigor on his arrival here.

Almost every settlement along the lakes was decorated in some degree in the Premier's honor, and at Nakusp he made a brief speech from the side of the vessel. On his arrival here about eleven on Saturday night the city was illuminated and Sir Wilfrid was escorted to his quarters by a torchlight procession.

This morning he was waited upon by a deputation of Americans and Canadians, who want the Columbia river made navigable from here to the ocean. This afternoon there was a civic reception, and a public meeting will be held to-night.

Sir Wilfrid has just avoided a Ministerial crisis. The situation, it is understood, arose out of the regulations made by Hon. Frank Oliver for the settlement of the lands in the railway belt of British Columbia. These limited homesteads in timber-cleared lands to 40 acres, and pre-emptions to the same area on the ground that these are orchard lands.

In Mr. Oliver's absence in the north, it is stated that these regulations were set aside by the Premier, owing to protests from this part of the country. Consequently, Mr. Oliver, on his return, took umbrage at his regulations being overridden without his being consulted. In fact, he made a special trip out to British Columbia to see the Premier, and well-informed circles expected his resignation.

The nature of the solution is not known, but at all events Mr. Oliver returned east pacified, and there will be no resignation for the present at least.

Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, will leave the Premier's party at Winnipeg on the return journey, and proceed to Pas Mission, and review plans for the construction of a bridge over the Saskatchewan river, the contract for which was awarded to Mackenzie and Mann, and carry out a trip of inspection over the proposed route for the projected Hudson Bay Railway.

BISHOP FARRAR AT QUEBEC.

Enters Upon Duties as Assistant to Bishop Dunn.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, August 29.—Bishop Farrar, late of the diocese of Antigua, which he has had to resign for climatic reasons, arrived here Saturday afternoon from England, accompanied by his wife, two sons and a daughter, to act as assistant to the Bishop of Quebec, whose health since his stroke of paralysis has caused much anxiety.

Bishop Farrar officiated in the Cathedral here yesterday for the first time.

Archdeacon Madden, from England, and Rev. Dr. Hanson, of Belfast, the latter a prominent presbyterian divine, occupied Quebec pulpits yesterday, in the interests of the Evangelical Alliance movement.

Aged Winnipeg Priest's Death.

Windsor, Ont., August 29.—Rev. Bartolomew Boubat, 70 years of age, one of the oldest members of the Catholic priesthood in Ontario, is dead at his former home, this city. Father Boubat was born and raised in Clermont, France, and came to Canada about the middle of the last century.

He was one of a number of young Frenchmen who answered a call made by the then Bishop of Toronto at a time when there was a dearth of priests in the Dominion. His first charge was St. Pierre parish, in Raleigh township.

BRISTOL WANTS TO BE SECOND CITY IN EMPIRE

Delegates Ask Montreal to Pay Return Visit With a View to Mutual Benefits.

The Bristol merchants who have been visiting Montreal since the arrival of the Royal George, left for Toronto on Saturday to see something of Ontario. Most of them will return to Montreal on Thursday to embark on the Royal George on their return home.

At eleven o'clock on Saturday morning, Alderman Dandurand, who is chairman of the civic reception committee, took the visitors for a drive round the city, special attention being paid to the banking neighborhood. They expressed themselves as being delighted with the financial enterprises and buildings of the city.

Mount Royal Club was then driven to, and the visitors were entertained to lunch, Mayor Guerin being in the chair. In the few informal speeches which followed the luncheon the gentlemen declared that all they had expected of Montreal, and more, had been realized.

Mr. Henry L. Riseley, ex-High Sheriff of Bristol, who is one of the party, chatted with a Star representative at the Windsor early in the day.

"Many years ago, you know," he said, "long before you or I were born, Bristol was running close to London for the honor of being the world's biggest city. Our ancestors did not succeed, as you now know, but we are going to resume the battle. People may smile, but if you could wake up in the years to come—I will not say just how many—you would find a greater and a marvellous city of Bristol. I may say frankly that we are in Canada for the expressed purpose of booming Bristol. We are taking much enjoyment out of what we see in the marvellous prosperity of Canada, but we want to be frank about the matter. We believe in our city as you do in yours and we hope that Montreal will early return the visit so that we can talk over matters for our mutual good.

"Bristol is by all means the natural port for you and the United States. We are within two hours reach of 17,000,000 people, or nearly half the population of England. One of our party left Paris on a Wednesday and journeyed to London, thence to Bristol to Montreal to Chicago, in eight days. That is pretty fast travelling, but he had to do it by the Bristol route. We want to get in more direct touch with Montreal port. You have wonderful possibilities here and our party was delighted with the progress that you are making in the deepening of the river channel. We too are doing this, but see the difference. You have your federal government at your back; our work is being done by private enterprise and it is a great task. We are determined, however, and we hope you will send over some representative men to see what we are doing and talk over matters."

The only other occupant of the car, Edwin W. Reyers, aged 22, of Buffalo, N.Y., was severely but not fatally hurt.

The little boat dodged across the path of the first tug, but collided with the second, throwing Neil D. Bascomb, of Rensselaer, and Perry B. Main, of Albany, who were standing in the bow, into the river. Both were drowned. Their companions, Brenthan G. Worden, of Rensselaer, and Fred A. Nickerson, of Albany, were hauled aboard the tug, but efforts to rescue Bascomb and Main were unsuccessful because of the darkness.

TWIN CITIES OF LAKES PREPARED TO HANDLE WHEAT CROP

Ports Have Storage Capacity of 22,000,000 Bushels — Seventy Millions for Shipment.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Fort William, August 29. — Western Canada, from the Red River to the Rocky Mountains, will have this year a wheat crop estimated on good authority to be 101,000,000 bushels. While this is slightly under the amount raised last year, the 1910 yield is significant when it is borne in mind that the crop was practically non-existent thirty years ago and there are areas of wheat-growing, and yet to be brought under cultivation in the western prairie countries compared with which the present acreage is a mere speck on the map.

Taking into consideration also the fact that the United States is using almost as much wheat as is grown there, the development of the western Canada wheat belt assumes an importance which can but be felt in the markets of the world.

The local consumption in the west is only about 25,000,000 bushels, allowing for what is required by the farmers for seed, the amount annually consumed by the flour mills of the west, and for the wheat that is taken out of the smaller milling concerns which are scattered in the towns and villages of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

This means that of a crop like that of the present year, about 75,000,000 bushels will have to find its way east, and take its place among the exports of Canada, and of this a very large proportion will be taken out by the way of the Great Lakes, and practically all will pass through the immense terminal plants at Fort William and Port Arthur.

With a million bushels of grain pouring daily into Fort William and more than half that much received at Port Arthur, nothing can deal with the grain traffic but the most efficient system of caring for and disposing of the wheat when it arrives. And it is this necessity for speed in handling that has developed systems of the two lake terminals, where there is this year available storage capacity of over 22,000,000 bushels, or sufficient to house more than one-third of the total yield.

FLAG THE RAINBOW FLIES.

The White Ensign of British Admiralty is Displayed.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 29.—The query has been made in certain quarters as to the flag which the cruiser Rainbow is flying on her trip to Esquimault.

It is stated at the Department of Naval Affairs that it is the white ensign of the British Admiralty.

The ship, however, is not to pass into the hands of the Canadian authorities until Esquimault is reached. It is stated that she will then fly the white flag of the Admiralty, with the Canadian coat of arms added.

Swedish Diplomat's Retirement.

Stockholm, August 29.—Herman de Lagercrantz, the representative of Sweden at Washington since 1907, has resigned, according to an announcement made here, to look after his big business interests in Sweden.

The retiring minister's diplomatic services are highly regarded here, and there is no foundation for the report that his resignation was caused by attacks made on him by the Spanish-American press.

NEW MANUSCRIPT DISCOVERED ON THE LIFE OF NAPOLEON

Sensation Expected When Notes of Napoleon's Companion in Arms in Egypt are Published.

Something of a sensation will probably be caused when the manuscript notes of Jean Baptiste Kleber, the great French general and Napoleon's companion-in-arms in Egypt, is published in full, says the Paris correspondent of the London Standard. The publication of what is known as "Le Carnet de Kleber" comes rather as a surprise, for few knew of the existence of the manuscript. For many years it has existed as simply "Piece No. 15,355" in the archives of the Department of War. The title written outside this worn and stained notebook was always thought to be false, and no credit was given to Kleber for its contents. But on thumb-ing its brown and grease-stained pages some months ago, one of the keepers of the archives examined the faded handwriting more closely than any of his predecessors had done, and, with the knowledge of authentic documents in Kleber's hands, he affirmed the authenticity of this interesting manuscript. It has since been established that Kleber had this note-book in his pocket when the Egyptian fanatic Suleiman stabbed him to death at Cairo on June 14, 1800.

Another "carnet de Kleber," better known, but not in Kleber's own hand, is by General Damas, who wrote down Kleber's sayings as Boswell cited Johnson. The chief interest in the carnet is the judgment on Napoleon. Kleber, a son of a shrewd Asiatic mason, was a severe judge of men, and he was also interested in psychology. It is well known that his chief desire when he heard that he was to meet Napoleon at Toulon (1798) was that he should be able to observe the character of one who was already famous. Throughout his notebook he shows himself preoccupied with wish to obtain a truly just estimate of Napoleon himself preoccupied with a wish to obtion as a general and as a man.

Napoleon's Impudence.

His judgment is generally rather unfavorable to the First Consul, as may be gathered from the following extracts:

"One day Bonaparte, with impudent presumption, spoke to me of reverses which he should have expected, and of successes which he hoped for after the bttle of Aboukir, and he said: 'I play with history; I can calculate more coolly than another in this kind of event.' But tb play with history seems to me to play with events themselves, and to play with events is to play with the lives of men, with public and private fortunes, with the happiness and prosperity of the country. Is that what the hero would have me understand? I don't know but what I should have understood him if he had said: 'I live only that my name shall fill pages in history. Celebrity is my only object, and all the rest has no meaning to me.' Be that as it may, I was so struck with the impertinence of the words that an involuntary expression of indignation showed itself, and caused him to change his tone and his language."

"France could not have been subjugated by a more miserable charlatan on the Eighteenth Brumaire. He will not save the country. The Constitution is only a sorry mask which the tyrant has thought better to wear for the time being, and which he will throw out of the window before it becomes useless to him."

Turenne acquired his glory in fighting Montecuculi, the greatest general of the century; Napoleon obtained his celebrity by fighting against one of the most imbecile generals that the House of Austria could provide. Is he liked? How could he be? He likes nobody, but he thinks he can do without affection by making men bend to him by promotion and presents."

"No fixed plan, everything goes by leaps and bounds. Each day settles its own affairs. And he pretends to believe in fatality!"

The truth of some of Kleber's remarks and the prophetic strain of others give this sheaf of notes a certain value in the history of Napoleon.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 88, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her to-day if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night. 181-5 1eow

China's capital, Pekin, has supplanted its insanitary wells with a thoroughly modern water work system, including a filtration plant.

DOMINION RIFLE MEET CONCLUDED

Corporal Roberts Won Governor-General's Gold Medal.

Sergt. Freeborn, of Hamilton, Led for Places on the Bisley Team.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., August 29.—The most successful meet in the history of the D. R. A. came to a close on Saturday with the piece de resistance, the Governor-General's match wherein the 100 riflemen who had qualified in the first stage fought out for the big money. The weather was fine but a rear wind was a little tricky and was puzzling to the inexperienced shots.

The first honors, a particularly handsome gold medal, went to Corp. Roberts, of the 10th R.G., this being the first big event he has ever won. In doing so he showed considerable nerve as at his last shot at a thousand yards he required a bull to win and some one unwisely reminded him of it. He was perfectly steady, however, and got the desired five points.

St. Catharines with Major McLaren, 13th Regiment, had the honor of winning second place and Pte. W. Short, G.G.F.F., carried off third place for Ottawa. Between the Guards, 43rd and C.A.S.C. the capital city riflemen have six in the Bisley team and carried off a lot of money.

There were a large number of cadets and tyros shooting this year, and the meeting was of great educative value to them. The competitors had all kinds of weather, perfect for shooting, rain, thunderstorm and strong variable winds. These tended to keep the average down below what was confidently expected. Nearly all the British Cadets shot very well and indeed Cadet Burgess, of Eton College, was up with the top notchers on several occasions and handled the most diverse conditions like a veteran.

They have now gone on a visit to Toronto and Niagara Falls before returning to England.

General Sir Percy Lake made on Saturday afternoon the presentation of prizes. He expressed regret at the absence of His Excellency the Governor-General, whom he felt sure would have been pleased to be present, and expressed further his pleasure at learning of the increased interest taken in the meeting.

Col. Tilton and Col. Sam. Hughes added words of congratulation and hoped the D. R. A. next year would be even greater and better.

Mayor Hopewell stated that the cup donated by the city of Ottawa, valued at $150, would be added to the prize list. Lady Lake, Mrs. Tilton and Mrs. Hopewell then presented the prizes as read out by Col. Hughes, who also took the opportunity of personally presenting the British and New Zealand Cadets to General Lake.

The Governor-General's.

The Governor-General's match is the great match of the D. R. A. meet. It is divided into two stages. The first stage is 200, 500, and 600 yards, seven shots at each and the different distances are shot during the meet closing on Friday. Only the first 150 in the first stage can shoot in the second stage, seven shots each at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards, all of which are fired on Saturday forenoon. The possible is 210 points. Bisley Team.

Bisley aggregate is the aggregate of the grand aggregate and 800 and 900 yards of the Governor-General's.

The first 20 compose the team to be sent next year to the matches at Bisley. Of course it nearly always happens that one or more of the first 20 cannot go and as a rule any man up to the 25th has an opportunity of being on the team. It is almost certain that 21 and 22 on the team will come in, as some of the ones higher up are not eligible, not being in the militia, or for other reasons. The top ones are:

1.	Col. Sergt Freeborn, 13th	358

Distinguished British Churchman Guest of Bishop Hamiltin.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Speaking of the church he remarked in passing that it was not meant to be of many sects, but one holy family, working together for the same end. He commended the Christian principles and customs of the Canadian people.

Bishop Ingram left this morning for Blue Sea Lake to spend a few days with Archbishop Hamilton at his summer cottage and from here he will go to Halifax.

CRIPPEN AND MISS LE NEVE PREPARING FOR THEIR DEFENCE

Ethel Le Neve Receives Visit from Sister — Solicitor Newton's Statement.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 29.—Ethel Le Neve received a visit yesterday in Bow Street prison from her sister, Mrs. Brock. After her visit Mrs. Brock said:

"I saw her in a special cell in the presence of a policeman and a wardress. We were both too full of emotion for words. She came to my arms and lay there for a minute or two while we kissed each other.

"Ethel looked pale, while her cheeks had sunken since I saw her last in July. Traces of the worry and strain she had undergone were evident on her face.

"When she spoke first her lips quivered slightly, but she bore up well. Indeed, considering the circumstances, she was wonderfully bright, though there was a deep sadness apparent in her manner and voice. I was afraid at one moment she would break down, but the pleasure of seeing me evidently kept her up.

"I had her goddaughter, my little girl, in my arms, and Ethel was overjoyed to see the child, for whom she had a great affection. She took the child in her arms and kissed it passionately."

Solicitor James H. Welfare, who has been personally retained by Miss Le Neve to act for her in her defence, also visited her in Bow Street prison and received certain instructions.

Crowds hung about the jail all day, but got not even a glimpse of either prisoners. Crippen spent the day preparing his defence. It is understood Crippen will be charged with murdering his wife, Belle Elmore, and that Miss Le Neve will be accused of being an accessory after the fact.

Prisoners Confident, says Newton.

The "Daily Mail" prints this statement by Arthur Newton, Crippen's solicitor:—

"I have spent a good deal of time with Crippen and Miss Le Neve. Both are confident of a happy issue of their troubles."

"To Newton, Crippen said: "I have confessed nothing. I have admitted nothing. Since that moment on board the Montrose, when the police officer's hand fell on my shoulder I have vehemently and strenuously affirmed that I know of no crime and have taken part in none. During my voyage to Canada on the Montrose, I had not the slightest suspicion that I was watched. No word, no hint that Miss Le Neve and myself were known reached me.

"Not until Inspector Dew boarded the vessel off Father Point did we know that we had been pursued over hundreds of miles of land and water. The arrest came on me like a thunderclap. I could not at first realize that I was a prisoner."

Miss Le Neve expressed to Newton her implicit confidence in Crippen's innocence.

Boosed on Arrival at London.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, August 29.—On arrival at Liverpool at 2.50 p.m. on Saturday, Dr. Crippen and Ethel Claire Le Neve were quietly escorted off the steamer Megantic and safely placed in a compartment of the special boat train for London. Crippen was well muffled up and Miss Le Neve had a heavy blue veil entwined round her head. It is said that Crippen is going insane.

Inspector Dew's comments on the methods of trans-Atlantic journalists were highly amusing, if somewhat pungent with feeling. He declared it was quite a pleasure to meet English pressmen, as they were gentlemen.

Chief Inspector Dew, Sergeant Mitchell, and the two wardresses, with the two prisoners arrived at Euston station, London, at 7 p.m. Three taxicabs were waiting at the station and the party immediately was driven to the Bow street police station court, where the accused man and woman were formally charged with the crime and then placed in cells. An immense crowd at Euston hissed and booed the pair when they emerged from the station, but the police prevented further hostile demonstrations.

DEMAND FOR BACON SLACK.

British Consumer Turning to Other Products.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 29.—A marked falling off in British demand for bacon is reported to the Trade and Commerce department by Mr. J. M. Mussens, the trade commissioner at Leeds.

Last year the decline of importations of hog meats from Canada and the United States was 214,000 hundredweight. The grocers, he states, are trying their utmost to diminish the demand among their customers in view of the high and, in many respects, prohibitive prices, and are endeavoring to boom breakfast foods.

Mr. Mussen regards this as an opportune time for Canadian manufacturers of cereals to push their lines.

He also reports a shortage of English honey, and a consequent opening for increasing the Canadian supply of that article which has proved its marketable qualities. Canadian turkeys will be in demand this season.

STRIKE PAY AT BROCKVILLE.

Men Who Left Work Receive Union Money.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., August 29.—Mr. James Murdock, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, visited Brockville on Saturday and distributed about $3,500 strike pay among the men of this division who participated in the recent G. T. R. strike.

The trainmen received cheques at the rate of $35 per month, and the average distributed here was from $20 to $25. The men will be reimbursed up to the time they are called upon to go to work.

"No, I really haven't anything to say," Mr. Murdock said when approached, "the strike is settled and the men are getting back to work as fast as they can be placed. While all are not in their old positions I do not think it will be long before conditions on the road are the same as before the strike."

Mr. Murdock, during his stay in town, addressed a gathering of members of the different brotherhoods.

Search for Spies' Accomplices.

Emden, August 29.—The police have discovered letters in the possession of Bandon and Trench, the alleged British spies, who were arrested at Borkum August 22 and 23, showing that they had planned to photograph all the fortifications on the North Sea coast. It was also learned that the two men had accomplices, and the police are now searching for them.

English Boy Scouts at Kenora.

Kenora, Ont., August 29.—The English boy scouts, who have been camping on the Lake of the Woods for a week, left yesterday for Toronto in charge of Capt. Wade. They will be joined at Toronto by Major-General Baden-Powell and give demonstrations at the exhibition there.

A Richibucto School Teacher

Once a Dyspeptic—Now Well, Thanks to Father Morrisey's No. 11.

Richibucto, N. B., Nov. 17th 1909.
Father Morrisey Med. Co., Ltd.,

I have been teaching school for upwards of thirty years, during the last twenty-five of which I have suffered seriously with stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia.

I have tried many remedies, and while I would get temporary relief from some of them, yet the old trouble would return, and with it the sufferings only known to the chronic dyspeptic.

Last year I had made up my mind to abandon my profession, feeling that in my condition I could neither do justice to myself or to the many pupils under my charge. A friend suggested to me that I try Father Morrisey's No. 11 Stomach Tablets; I did so, and have continued to use them with the result that my stomach trouble is cured—my indigestion and dyspepsia gone and I feel as well as I ever did.

I have, thanks to the Tablets, been able to continue in my profession, and feel that I am once more enjoying my work and am able to give justice to the fifty-four pupils under my care.

Yours Gratefully,
(Signed) MARY CHRYSTAL.

Are you one of the many thousands who, like Miss Chrystal, are prevented from doing their best work, or really enjoying life, by stomach trouble?

If you are you cannot do better than she did—take Father Morrisey's No. 11 Tablets.

Each No. 11 Tablet, when dissolved in the stomach, will digest 1½ pounds of food—a good, hearty meal—so that no matter how weak your stomach may be No. 11 Tablets will enable you to get the nourishment out of your food and build up your strength, while the stomach, thus relieved, recovers its vigor.

THE N. L. U. CHAMPIONS.

The Nationals by defeating Cornwall last Saturday, Cinched the N. L. U. Title.

GRACE KIMBALL WON FAST RACE BY HALF A HEAD

The autumn running meet at Delorimier Park came to a close on Saturday with eight races on the programme. The most exciting event of the afternoon was the fifth race. The race was for two-year-olds, non-winners at the meeting, and resulted in a victory for Isabel Casse. This filly had started four times at the meeting a favorite over her field, and had four times been defeated. Three of the four times she finished second. It was only in the closest of finishes that she succeeded in winning on Saturday She started off with a rush and soon had a big lead. Then Easy Life caught her on the far turn and on the bend into the home stretch went to the front. In the drive through the last sixteenth Mary's Aunt and Huxter closed with a rush from far behind, and the favorite just managed to outlast them.

Before the second race a new book had to be made on the second race, because the officials had overlooked the fact that Pearl Point was ineligible. She had won a second in a race on Friday, and the conditions called in the second race Saturday for horses that had not been placed second at the meeting.

BILLY ALLEN WILL BOX HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Billy Allen, the featherweight boxer of Canada, will be seen once again in a fifteen round boxing exhibition in Montreal. Allen has not boxed here for over a year, since when he has made the rounds of the New England States, defeating and going to draws with the best featherweights on the other side of the line. His latest feat was to get a decision over the famous youngster "Knockout" Brown. He will box De Legasse, the French-Canadian, at the National Lacrosse grounds on August 31st.

Ben Desautels will box ten rounds with Joe Strols, and "Kid" Paul will box ten rounds with "Kid" Herbert.

Frank Gotch to Quit.

Kansas City, August 29.—With 324 victories to his credit out of a total of 331 matches, Frank Gotch has decided to quit wrestling. In a letter to a local sporting writer the champion declares that he has all the money he needs and that he has grown tired of the game.

Gotch's letter reads: "There will be nothing for me in the wrestling game any more. I am a professional farmer now and I am going to stick to that the rest of my life. I have all the money I need and am tired of wrestling. This goes. I am through forever."

"NOVELTY" SENSATION SATURDAY RACE HERE

The performance of Novelty in the Renssalaer Stake at Saratoga on Saturday stamps him the best two-year-old since the days of Hamburg in 1897. Not since that time has a two-year-old won with such a weight in the saddle as Novelty on Saturday when he shouldered a hundred and thirty-five pounds, beating the best field of youngsters that have raced this season. He was rated along nicely and stood a gruelling drive at the end. This makes him almost a sure thing in the rich futurity for two-year-olds to be run on closing day at Saratoga. In 1897 Hamburg, who was the best two-year-old of his season, carried the same weight and won but not from such a good field as Novelty did on Saturday. The Montreal public will be given the opportunity of seeing Novelty at Blue Bonnets for the fall meeting of the Montreal Jockkey Club from Saturday, September 10 to 17, is assured by word being received that the colt will be shipped to Montreal directly after the close of the racing at the Spa. Novelty will not likely start again until the futurity and then his next appearance will be in the Hochelaga stakes at Blue Bonnets, there is no doubt about his being allotted top weight in that event, but that in no way will bother him. Naushon, who made him drive to the limit on Saturday, will also be a starter in this event. He will be brought to Montreal with the stable of R. T. Wilson, Jr., who has the good handicapper Olambala. There are some grand two-year-olds on the Canadian circuit this season and with those from the New York tracks this division of the sport at Blue Bonnets will be a feature this fall. This has been a good season for the development of two-year-olds and nearly all of those named to start in the futurity will come to Montreal to race. The Hochelaga will practically be a renewal of it on another track. The horses will commnece to ship from Saratoga on Thursday, when the first lot of cars are booked to arrive over the Canadian Express.

A VALUABLE NOVELTY AT SARATOGA TRACK

Saratoga, August 29.—Novelty, admirably ridden by Shilling and carrying top weight, 135 pounds, won the Rensselaer Handicap, worth $10,000, 6 furlongs, defeating the best youngsters in training. By this victory he is stamped as the champion two-year-old of the year. Novelty was quoted at 4 to 1 in the betting and won by a neck from Naushon, with Textile third.

Countless proved a big surprise when he easily defeated Olambala, the 2 to 9 favorite, in the Saratoga Cup. Countless led from start to finish and won by four lengths. Summaries:

LACROSSE NOTES

Roddy Finlayson, is still sufering from the injuries he received in the match against the Nationals. The hit on the head which he received in a mix-up is said to beoffecting his eyes. The directors, however, state that he will figure on the game next Saturday.

The only satisfaction that we can get now, said President W. E. Findlay, is to defeat the Nationals on Saturday when they journey to the M.A.A.A. grounds for the return match.

WENT OVER A MILE A MINUTE

Elgin, Ill., August 29.—Ralph Mulford drove a car here Saturday and won the greatest road race ever seen in the west. He drove a 50 horse power Lozier 305.03 miles in 4.52.29, or at an average speed of 62.5 miles per hour. He ran 203 miles without a stop, and halted then only because he was under a misapprehension as to one of his tires.

Albert Livingstone and Arthur Greiner, both piloting 40 horse power Nationals, finished respectively second and third.

Canadian Aviator Makes World's Record Sending Wireless From Aeroplane

Mr. McCurdy Accomplishes Feat at Sheepshead Bay, while Making Flight 500 Feet In Air—Possibilities of Wireless From Airships In War—How the Message Was Sent—Many Aviators in Accidents in Europe—One Killed and Several Injured at Various Meets.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York August 29—To the Canadian aviator, J. A. D. McCurdy, belongs the distinction of being the first airman to successfully send a wireless despatch from an airship in motion to a wireless receiving station on land. He accomplished this feat at Sheepshead Bay on Saturday, when he sent the following message from a height of 500 feet above the sea to a wireless station on the top of the Sheepshead Bay race track grand stand:

Over Barren Island, 6.54 p.m.

H. M. Horton: Another chapter in aerial achievement is recorded in the sending of this wireless message from an aeroplane in flight.

McCURDY

Horton was the wireless operator on the roof of the grand stand, a brisk, clean cut young man who plays the wireless game for the good sport there is in it. McCurdy was driving a big Curtiss biplane which was swinging a mile away over Barren Island, 500 feet above the water.

HORTON'S IDEA TO USE AEROPLANES FOR WIRELESS

Horton, who served as a signal man in the Spanish war and who has been playing with wireless ever since, was hard hit more than a year ago by a big idea. Why wasn't it perfectly feasible, said he, to use aeroplanes as wireless stations? Make a go of it, and the possibilities would be endless in war and peace. But the weight of perfected apparatus was so great that he knew he couldn't attach it to flying machines, so he worked out a vest pocket battery, spark coil and key, the whole weighing only twenty lbs., and lay in wait to catch his bird.

On Saturday conditions were fine and dandy. The necessity of taking up a passenger and overweighting a light powered machine was obviated when it was discovered that J. A. D. McCurdy, of the Curtiss Troupe of Aerial Dip Divers had been a telegraph operator in the days before he knew the feel of large money. Would he oblige with a little dot dashing? Would he? Would an aviator miss a chance like that to bust into the papers? Not a chance, said Jim McCurdy. But how could he watch front control and wing control and throttle and oil feed and a few other little things that mean life or death to flying men while sending aerial despatches?

Horton puzzled over that for a few minutes, but his big idea fed his ingenuity. He trained an insulated wire from the sect frame of McCurdy's flyabout to the steering wheel and attached it so that the aviator could send without lifting a finger from the wheel or disturbing the balance of his body by a hair's weight.

HOW THE MESSAGE CAME TO THE GRAND STAND.

A few minutes before 6 o'clock McCurdy nipped into his wire cage, reversed the visor of his cap, waited till his ear told him that the engine was running true and sweet, flapped down in his hand in the getaway signal, shot forward and took wing.

Rising steadily, with the wireless counterpoise, fifty feet of telephone wire and a lead weight trailing after him as a bird trails a stolen silk thread McCurdy hurried toward the beach. He passed over stables and cottages, saw the sheen of the water below him and passed into the heavy smoke that rolled up from the incinerators of Barren Island. Presently he was just a smudge in the far-away sunlight.

And all this time Horton on the roof was listening. The air was full of wireless whisperings. A dozen stations were chattering and scolding one another for spelling words carelessly along the clean air lines.

MR. McCURDY WITH HIS BADDECK AEROPLANE.

McCurdy used a Curtiss Bi-pla ne in his flight on Saturday.

At last came the first faint cheeps from McCurdy. Horton listened with all his soul, swearing at the upper air gossip that had so much amused him. It came hard at first, McCurdy's message, came with breaks and interruptions and long drawn out syllables, but it came. To Horton that was the big thing, the answer to a year's experimenting and hope. Dot by dot and dash by dash he pieced it out, and here is something like the way it came in:

Then five minutes later McCurdy swooped down to say that it was no trouble at all. He wiggled his fingers over the sending key without swerving his machine a foot out of his course up or down. He was travelling slantingly against the wind at perhaps forty miles an hour when he wirelessed to Horton.

"Glad?" said Horton. "You can bet the last dollar you can rake or scrape or steal that I'm glad. Honestly, I don't believe we begin to know the possibilities of this thing. Wait till they build better aeroplanes. Wait till we monkey with aeroplane wireless apparatus a little more. Then there will be doings."

Dutch Airman Killed.

Arnheim, Netherlands, August 29.—While the Dnutch aviator, Van Maasdyke was attempting a cross-country flight near the city Saturday, the motor of his aeroplane suddenly stopped and the machine plunged to the ground. The aviator was instantly killed.

French Aviator's Skull Fractured.

Havre, August 29.—M. Legagneaux, the French aviator, was seriously injured on Saturday, while competing for the total distance prize. His aeroplane struck a post and the machine fell to the ground, burying the aviator beneath it. Legagneux's skull was fractured and he suffered internal injuries.

M. Legagneux has been prominent in French aviatorial circles for three years. He competed in the recent cross-country race over the circuit east of Paris, but was prevented by accident from making the full course.

German Fell Thirty Feet.

Hanover, Prussia, August 29.—Aviator Schlueter had a narrow escape from death on Saturday while making a flight in a Voison machine at Celle, 23 miles north-east of this city. The wire of the steering gear became entangled, and seeing that he was in imminent danger, Schlueter jumped to the earth, about thirty feet below. He escaped with a broken leg. The machine was demolished.

Paris, August 29.—Aviator Reesmann was making trial flights here on Saturday within the aerodrome when the motor exploded. The aeroplane fell to the ground from a height of sixty-five feet and was smashed.

Dropped 100 Feet Into Sea.

New York, August 29.—While attempting to fly his aeroplane from Sheepshead Bay track to Fort Hamilton, on Saturday, "Bud" Mars, the aviator, was caught out over the lower bay, where his machine suddenly collapsed and he fell into the water, over a hundred feet below. Mars was picked up by the tug boat Hustler.

The wrecked aeroplane was taken aboard a lighter off Craven Shoal Buoy. Mars was badly shaken up by the fall.

An Ascent at Redwood.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., August 29.—The Thousand Island Aeroplane Club showed much interest in the initial flight of a biplane constructed by Dr. Gibbons, one of their number. Four successful ascensions were made in a large field on Saturday, at Redwood, where the machine was taken from Alexandria Bay, the river resort.

Henry Brigham, who made the first flight, attained a height of 299 feet and three other flights were made at lesser elevation. The last ascent was one of a circular trend and was a fine example of a perfect control of the machine.

When nearing the ground, however, after a distance of two miles had been travelled, one of the wings loosened and the descent of the last few yards was uncontrolled. Neither the operator nor the machine was injured.

Moissant Falls Again.

London, August 29.—John Moissant, who started on August 16 to fly from a suburb of Paris to London by way of Amiens and Calais, and who landed at Tilmanstone, seven miles from Deal, on August 17, since which time he has made two or three attempts to reach London, has again failed in his endeavor. He started yesterday from Upchurch, where he had been detained by an accident to his aeroplane, but had only ascended twenty or thirty feet when a gust of wind rendered the machine unmanageable and it fell.

The forepart of the aeroplane was smashed, but Moissant and Albert Fileux, his mechanic, who accompanied him on his cross channel- flight escaped without injury. It will take some days to repair the wreck, which lies within a stone's throw of the place where it met with its previous accident.

Swiss Flew Across Geneva.

Geneva, August 29.—Armand Dufaux yesterday won the Swiss Aviation Club's prize for a flight across Lake Geneva in an aeroplane. Starting at Moville, four miles south of Montreux he flew to Collognes, near Geneva. The distance, about 41 miles, was made in 56 minutes.

AT THE GRAND TRUNK REGATTA.

St Lambert winning the War Canoe race. —By a Staff photographer.

G.T.B.C. REGATTA PROVED A SUCCESS

Favored with perfect weather conditions, for such an event as a regatta, the Grand Trunk Club's annual meet was pulled off on Saturday with great success.

This club has been noted for its successful regattas and Saturday's meet was no exception to the rule. There was a large gathering at the club house and both members and friends greatly enjoyed the many contests arranged by the committee in charge.

The St. Lambert Club entries captured the majority of events at the meet, taking first honors in five events in the canoe races, while the home men managed to take three single events and the intermediate tandem.

The Lachine crew easily captured the junior fours, this being the only event won by any other club.

The St. Lambert crew furnished the surprise of the day, when their paddlers took a fall out of the home paddlers in the war canoe race. The Grand Trunk crew have always regarded this race as a cinch before the race was started, and had the idea that the Drummond trophy, the challenge cup for this event, was a permanent fixture in their club house.

The boys from across the river, however, showed class on Saturday and went to the front from the start, capturing this event in easy style.

The motor boat race did not prove as interesting as was expected, and the officials had a hard time getting the different boats off.

This has left the situation practically unchanged, but has left lots of kicking in its wake on account of some of the boats being disqualified. The motor boat men intend to run a regatta for motor boats alone, probably on September 17th, when some "stunts" are expected to be seen.

Brier's boat, at scratch, won this event, with C. M. Marshall second.

Several of the competitors, it is said, held their boats in on the handicapping trials, and three were disqualified.

There were great crowds of spectators, both on the banks and in pleasure craft, and the latter as usual, kept the officials busy, keeping the track clear.

The best event of the day turned out to be the senior tandem, although there were only two entries, it was a heart-breaking struggle from start to finish. McDonald and Gordon, of St. Lambert, and big George Kelly and Broderick, of the Grand Trunk. Coming down the home stretch the Grand Trunk pair started their final sprint a bit early and although they took a half length lead, St. Lambert had more left and McDonald and Gordon lifted their canoe across the line a yard to the good.

George Kelly and Addie Morrison travelled over the half mile course bow to bow in the senior single; but Kelly showed better class, and crossed the line first.

The war canoe race was run off in heats, so as to avoid any chance of fouls. St. Lambert easily won their heat and Grand repeated the performance in the second.

In the final the St. Lambert boys proved the strongest.

In the junior fours final, there was an unfortunate incident. The Cartierville boys, paddling wildly, fouled the Longueuil boat twice, the second time after Referee Bower had ordered them out of the race for the first offence. Longueuil was awarded second place, although St. Lambert just beat them out, as it was plain that they would have taken the place had they not been fouled. Lachine had an easy win, crossing the line at least 40 yards ahead.

The other races were all well contested, despite many heats owing to numerous entries.

After the races a banquet was given, with ex-Judge Doherty, M.P., as the guest of honor.

The presentation of prizes and a dance concluded the day's sport.

ATHLETIC NOTES

Abel Kiviat, of the Irish-American A. C., New York, broke the mile track record at the games of the New York County Order of Hibernians, held at Celtic Park. He did the distance in 4.20 2-5, clipping 1 4-5 seconds from the time of Wilton Paull, the intercollegiate champion, set up on the same track last week. Paull was beaten by Kiviat by hardly a full stride. Although the track was wet Paull also ran under his own mark. His time was 4.20 4-5.

The secretary of the Ontario Motor League has just received a letter from the Secretary of State for New York advising him that it will be necessary, under the new automobile law in New York, for all Canadian tourists to secure New York State licenses before crossing the border into New York State.

Pittsburg's first baseman, Jack Flynn, may bid good-bye to the National League at the close of this season. Manager Clarke has offered Kansas City six players for Fred. Hunter, that club's first baseman. Manager Shaw refused $10,000 cash for his first sacker.—Exchange.

The Carruthers Cup competition at Raneigh on Saturday passed its first round. Foster defeated R. G. Percival 3 and 2. One hole of 395 yards was taken by Foster in 3. In the game between Morgan and A. C. Bourne, Morgan had an easy win of 6 and 5. The closest game of the day was that between Neilson and McMullin, the former winning one up. Horsfall won easily from E. D. Bourne, being 4 and 3 at the finish. Semi-final next Saturday.

THORELLA CAPTURES CUP.

Won the Final Race in Seawanhaka Class.

The Thorella captured the final race of the open handicap series of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club, sailed on Lake St. Louis on Saturday. Six boats started in a stiff breeze at 4.10. Mr. W. C. Finley's Thorella finished the eight-mile course in 5.55. Dr. McGregor's Alexandra was second, coming in 6.14.10.

The cup presented for boats of the Seawanhaka class racing in this open handicap series goes to Thorella, which won two firsts and a second, giving her a total of 15 points. The Alexandra was second with a first a second, or 10 points.

MISS ALICE O'BRIEN, who is to sing at Daly's Theatre, London.

WOMEN'S WORK AND WOMEN'S INTERESTS

HON. MRS. EDMUND FFARINGTON, an English Society Lady, who died suddenly.

All correspondence for this department should be addressed to Agnes Chesley.

Tact is never more needed than by a woman who marries, and goes at once to live among old friends of her husband—the kind that, always having known him, call him by his first name. There is a certain atmosphere of proprietorship, frequently among the women, none the less irritating sometimes to his wife because it is unconscious on their part, and a spontaneous expression of friendliness. Then their attitude toward the newcomer is a little difficult, both for them and for her, and if she can aid them tactfully she establishes her popularity at once. But unless she makes herself liked soon, chances are against her ever doing so.

One of the first things she has to do is frankly to accept the interest they show. Any invitations they give she must accept; it makes no difference if she has not specially liked the person giving it. A woman who causes her husband to lose his old friends when she lives among them does a very stupid thing, because he as well as she will suffer from it. If she is not liked, he soon becomes cut off from the social life of the place save at such times when only men foregather.

The more interest the wife can show without verging into "gush," the better. It helps the situation immensely if she seems genuinely glad to meet the people with whom her husband has had such good times in his boyhood and bachelor days. No bride, conditions being equal, starts with the opinion of the community against her, and all she needs do is to fix the friendliness with which their overtures are filled.

One of the tactless acts a bride can commit in going to live in a new community is constantly to refer to habits and customs of the place from which she has come. It is not that home, but the new one she is making which interests them, and the more quickly she can absorb the local atmosphere the better will she get along.

Wages of Lacemakers.

United States Consul H. Albert Johnson, of Liege, says that the present number of lacemakers in Belgium is 15,000 women and girls, as compared with 150,000 in 1875. The lacemakers begin their apprenticeship at the age of six, although the legal age is nine. Their hours are from half-past six to twelve and from one to seven in summer, and in winter from eight in the morning to ten at night. They earn eight to ten cents a day, the more expert beig paid fourteen cents. The maximum wage paid to the most expert lacemakers never exceeds thirty cents a day. Children up to twelve years of age and even older are paid twenty cents a week. The Malines lacemakers are the most poorly paid, taking into consideration the value of the lace.

Fashions From Paris

A nice little design which will figure among the early autumn models was of gray serge. The skirt was cut to fall in four deep pleats, two in front and two behind. This gives the effect of a narrow skirt, but allows for plenty of liberty in walking. The short jacket turned away very sharply below the waist line, and the revers of gray silk roled back to show a little filet of red velvet. Gray and drab are to be conspicuous colors in tailored suits, especially serge suits, this season. Many of the coats are held with bright red shiny kid belts.

A lot of foulard gowns are worn, but it cannot be said that it is the fashionable material it was at the beginning of the season. In the same way, one sees a lot of strapped and banded gowns. It is slightly incorrect to say that these are demode, for so many well dressed women are wearing them. Fashions change so quickly in Paris that unless one has a very large dress allowance it is impossible to be ahead. Some women wisely solve this difficulty by ordering always conservative modes and by never repeating absolutely a dressmaker's model. A good plan is not to order many gowns at one time as fashion to which visiting Americans particularly are addicted. They arrive in Paris and are shown a lot of attractive models on the lines of what they see well dressed women wearing. The dressmaker displays them as the latest models, and the temptation is to order a lot of frocks at once. It is easier to try on a number of gowns at one time, and the dressmaker makes, or appears to make, advantageous terms. Two days after the Grand Prix the dressmakers were selling their models of banded gowns, especially those of foulard, at one-fourth their original price. But even at that price they are a bad investment if one is thinking of carrying them over to another season.

The new models are always displayed the third week in August, and it is at that moment that the buyers invest heavily in autumn and winter gowns. It is always more or less an open secret among those in close touch with the dressmaking world what will be displayed, but what will actually be worn is always a matter of guesswork. It is wise to defer buying autumn and winter gowns as late as possible, or, if one must buy them early, to refrain from any extravagant ideas. New ideas launched not as models in winter materials, but in thin stuffs for the racing seasons at Trouville, Ostend and Dieppe, are a safe guide.

We already see fuller skirts and shorter jackets. Belts and sash arrangements of various sorts are interesting features. Trailing skirts are to be somewhat worn for the afternoon, and it is quite time that this fashion should return, or women will forget how to walk in a long skirt. A lot of draped skirts will be shown, but whether they will be generally adopted it is impossible to say. There is no doubt, however, that gowns will have more fulness than is generally seen now.

A pretty idea that has just been launched is a divided overskirt. This may simply open in front, to show a glimpse of the underskirt, or it may turn over on itself with trimmed corners. A good many models of this sort will be shown among the autumn models.

The best extermination agent for flies seems to be a weak solution of formaldehyde in water (two teaspoonfuls to the pint), to which should be added a little sugar. Flies are attracted to this mixture, which they drink; some die in the water, others will fall dead near the place.

A FASHION HINT

A Box Coat Model.

Though the new tailor-made are anything but masculine in type, frankish cuts and eccentric modes of trimming making them more feminine in style than any costumes that have been brought out in years, the general outline of the silhouette has a mannish suggestion. This is due to the very narrow, straight skirt which clings closely to the limbs, and to the short, loose coat on boxy lines. The mohair Lanvin suit, above, has this boxy, mannish cut, though the jaunty little jacket is built in overlapping sections, caught together on the hips with the anything but masculine rosettes.

The Art of Beauty.

Beauty would be much commoner than it is if more women studied the colors that are becoming to them, says a French dressmaker, who declares that while she may know and advise the touch that will give the best effect her self-willed patrons will demand some other hue because Mme. So-and-So, to whom it happens to be becoming, wears it and looks so well in it. About half the women in the world, according to this authority, do not realize how much better they would look if they would brighten up their frocks, and the other half do not know that they should tone theirs down. The happy woman who knows how to dress in harmony with her coloring is met only occasionally, but is ever the most attractive person in any assembly where she —, and the others all desire to copy her, putting their own individuality aside and sacrificing their own style.

Reliable Home Recipes

Bavarian cream with maraschino cherries.—Beat the yolks of two eggs, and add one-half cupful of sugar and a pinch of salt. Scald two cupfuls of milk and pour it slowly over the eggs and sugar. Add to this two tablespoonfuls of gelatine dissolved in one-half cupful of cold water, and cook in a double boiler until it coats the spoon, stirring all the time. Strain this custard, and when it is cold add the whites of the eggs beaten very stiff, one cupful of whipped cream, and one-half cupful of maraschino syrup. Fill moulds and keep it on ice for two or three hours. Serve it with maraschino cherries and syrup.

Eggs and tomato toast.—Fry a few slices of bacon. Remove them from the pan and in the bacon fat fry thick slices of tomato that have been dipped in flour. Place each slice of tomato on a slice of buttered toast on a hot dish. Then in the same fat fry as many eggs as there are slices, and place the eggs on the tomato, putting the pieces of bacon around the dish. Thicken the fat left in the pan with a little flour and, if necessary, a little boiling water, and pour this gravy over the eggs.

Pineapple omelette.—Add a cupful of granulated sugar to the grated pulp and the juice of a large pineapple, and boil till the syrup is somewhat thickened. Make an omelette with five eggs and fold in the hot pineapple. Dust with sugar and brown the top slightly.

Salmi of duck with olives.—This is a delicious way to use any roast duck that is left over. Cut the duck into rather small pieces and slice up enough olives to make about half the quantity of the duck. Cook the duck in a frying-pan with butter (or if any duck gravy is left that is even better), pouring in boiling water. Thicken it with browned flour, and, when nearly done, put in the olives. Serve very hot, pouring the gravy over the duck and olives.

Eggs a la Martin.—Make a cream sauce with one teaspoonful of butter and one of flour and a cupful of milk or cream. Add to this four tablespoonfuls of grated cheese, stir it in thoroughly, and then pour into a hot baking-dish. Into this drop very carefully four eggs, and put it into the oven. When the eggs are set, serve it at once, garnishing with parsley.

To Keep Cool Hot Nights.

A trained nurse of many years' experience declares she knows no better way of keeping cool than that of wringing a piece of linen out in ice water and laying it over the eyes and forehead. A block of ice with several relays of linen on top of it may be kept conveniently near the bedside in case the sleeper should wake. A small bottle of water may also be put on the ice, though this nurse does not approve of drinking much ice water. If several blocks of ice are kept in different parts of the room, they will lower the temperature to a surprisingly large degree.

The same nurse also advocates hanging damp sheets over all doors. They should not be hung at the windows, however, as nothing should be at or near the windows which will in any way impede air circulation.

One bright little woman, whenasked her secret of obtaining sleep, no matter how high the mercury climbed, laughingly gave the paradoxical reply that her secret was simply—her hot water bottle. She fills it half full of cold water and slips it between her pillow and case.

Outing Blouse or Shirt Waist

6712 Outing Blouse or Shirt Waist, 34 to 42 bust.

To be Made with Three-Quarter or Long Sleeves.

The outing blouse made with soft rolled-over collar and cuffs is the newest and latest. It is smart and becoming, and it is comfortable. This one is made of white linen, and the collar and trimming are of striped blue and white, but such a blouse can be made from a variety of materials; galatea and madras are liked for hard usage; lawns and batistes are preferred by many women, and handkerchief lawn with figures of color is a favorite of the season. For collar, cuffs and trimming can be used any contrasting material or the same material braided or embroidered would be pretty, but striped linen on white is smart and makes a feature of the season. The sleeves can be made as illustrated or extended to the wrists and finished with straight cuffs as preferred.

The blouse is made with fronts and back. The front edges are finished with hems, and there are tucks in the front that are stitched for their entire length. The patch pocket gives a distinctive touch. The soft rolled-over collar is joined to the neck edge. Whether the sleeves are in three-quarter or full length they are gathered at both upper and lower edges. The three-quarter sleeves are finished with bands and rolled-over cuffs, the long sleeves with straight cuffs. The tie is straight and knotted in sailor style.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 3½ yards 24 or 27, 3¼ yards 32 or 36, 1⅞ yards 44 inches wide, with ⅜ yard 27 for trimming.

The pattern 6712 is cut in sizes for a 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust measure, and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which ensures more prompt delivery.)

Seaweed Pictures.

Quite lovely pictures may be made of the more delicate kinds of seaweed if you press them carefully. When you have thoroughly rinsed it from seawater, and while it is still in the basin, slip a stiff piece of paper beneath your spray, so that as you lift it out its dainty branches will be as feathery and clear as you see them floating in the pools. Place the seaweed under a heavy weight between clean sheets of blotting paper, which must be changed every few days; when it is thoroughly dry you will find it has kept its color, and can be easily raised off the paper without breaking a single branch. "A Garden of Seaweed" makes a very pretty picture, or you can arrange your sprays in the form of a bouquet. The slightest touch of Seccotine or photographer's paste is sufficient to fasten them to the paper.

The Usual Thing.

Mrs. Caudle—Henry, did you miss me the night I was away?

Mr. Caudle—No, I went to a lecture.

A Pretty Sachet.

A new sachet which is "timely" for summer is made of inch-wide rose-colored satin ribbon. Take a piece ten inches long and fold it together. Sew the edges over and over with fine silk. Fill with cotton and sachet powder. Turn in the edges and sew up the end. Cut five pieces of ribbon one and one-half inches long. Fold over and fasten in a point one end of each piece. Gather the other end and make a little rosette of the five pieces. Fasten it in the middle of the little sachet pillow. Cover the gatherings with a bunch of artificial rose stamens. These can be bought separatey of any milliner. Fasten a long bow-knot of stem-green baby-ribbon under the five-petalled flower. Nothing could be more effective.

The Help Worry.

Wife (crying in a troubled dream)—Help! Help!

Hub—Poor dear! Worrying about her servant problem even in her sleep.

The Bride's Trousseau

The actual needs of a bride! How hard it is to decide what these include, since all the lovely things she gathers together for her wedding day seem like luxuries, chosen because they "fit in" so well, are "so pretty" and because the new home life is too full of entertainment and novelty. The value set upon all possession is comparative, and no individuals have been known to agree upon a trousseau procurable at a moderate sum, but inexperienced usually catch gladly at straws which may guide them to their own conclusions. This is all any one would venture who did not wish to hold the responsibility of being called "authority" on the subject. By way of forming an estimate as to what a girl would choose if she were neither of the self-supporting nor the wealthy classes of society, a young woman of moderate but comfortable means was given an opportunity to express her ideas in short to compile a list of the needs—aside from bridal costume and "bridesmaids' gown—of the average girl about to make her own home. It was observed that while this girl has somewhat expensive tastes, she chooses a moderate number of tailored house and evening gowns and hats, but speaks for a large supply of skirts, hose, lingerie, shoes, slippers and lines for the home.

The list reads after this manner: Two tailor-made suits, two house dresses, two afternoon dresses, two evening dresses, two silk petticoats, one hat for tailored suits, one hat for afternoon dress, four white skirts, four combination suits, one-half dozen silk or lisle vests, one-half dozen night dresses, one batiste corset, one silk corset, four tailored shirt waists, one walking skirt, one-half dozen stocks and jabots, four pair lisle hose, four pairs silk hose, two pairs shoes, one pair house slippers, two pairs evening slippers, one dozen sheets, one dozen pillow slips, two dozen towels, four dozen napkins, four table cloths, center pieces and doilies. After this is collected the bride will keep thinking of accessories, such as hair bands and combs, jewels she particularly wants, sashes, belts and so forth. But when all is considered this is a fairly complete general outline for a summer bride's equipment. Many of these things she will make with her own hands, but many of them are to be purchased outright.

The Albert Gate Mystery

"Yes, a most pleasant one. It will be your duty to accompany Miss Talbot and Sir Hubert, and show them the sights of Marseilles. I will meet you here at luncheon, but we probably cannot see Mr. Talbot again until late to-night, when we will have an opportunity to come here quietly and detail the results of his observations. Of course," he added addressing the young man directly, "if anything important happens during the day you know where to find me, either personally or by messenger.

It was natural that Edith's first steps with her lover and uncle would tend towards the scene of her overnight adventure. But Miss Talbot was a clear-headed girl and took no risks. She knew well that in a chance encounter the sharp eyes of Matie and Eugenie might pick her out unless she was to some extent shrouded from observation. So she donned a large Paris hat and a smart costume, which, with the addition of a thick veil, rendered her very unlike the girl who twelve hours earlier was pursuing a recalcitrant lover.

Secure in the changed appearance effected by these garments, and especially in the escort of two such English-looking persons as Lord Fairholme and Sir Hubert Fitzjames she walked with them down the Cannebiere and on the quay. She showed them the street up which she pursued Mlle. Beaucaire, and the point on the wharf whence the fishing smack took her departure into the unknown.

Then they strolled back around the harbour, still pursuing the track of Edith's midnight wanderings when Fairholme suddenly whistled with amazement.

"By Jove, look there!" he cried. "That's a piece of luck."

He pointed to the upper part of the basin, in which a number of smart yachts were anchored side by side. Marseilles is a natural point of departure for Mediterranean tours, and many yacht-owners send their vessels there to be coaled and stored for projected trips.

"What is it?" queried Edith, when she could see nothing in the locality indicated save the vessels and the small expanse of water dancing in the rays of a bright sun.

"The very best thing that could have happened. There is Daubeney's yacht, the Blue-Bell."

"Yes, So I see. It would be charming if we had time to go for a run along the Riviera, but I am afraid, whilst Mr. Brett controls our energies, amusement of that sort will be out of our reach."

"Not a bit of it. You do not see my point, Edith. Daubeney is a first-rate chap, and a thorough sportsman. Suppose it becomes necessary for us to follow up DuBois and his fishing-smack, and we let Daubeney into the know. The Blue-Bell would pursue the Belles Soeurs to China. He would ask no better fun. I tell you that Brett will be delighted when he hears it."

"Yes, dear, but we do not even know that Mr. Daubeney is in Marseilles."

"Let us go and see. It doesn't matter a pin anyhow, because a telegram from me to him would place the yacht at our disposal, and he would join us by express at the first possible stopping-place. You do not know what a good chap Daubeney is."

"No," said Edith shortly. He is evidently a most useful acquaintance."

It is a most curious fact that young ladies in the engaged stage regard their fiance's male friends with extreme suspicion; the more enthusiastic the man, the more suspicious the woman.

Fairholme, sublimely unconscious of this feminine weakness, continued to dilate upon the superlative excellences of Daubeney until they reached the yacht itself.

A smartly-attired sailor was pretending to find some work in carefully uncoiling a rope which did not satisfy his critical eye. Before Fairholme could hail the man, a rotund form, encased in many yards of blue serge, surmounted by a jolly-looking face on top of which was perched an absurdly small yachting cap, emerged from the companion.

"Why, there he is," shouted the earl. "Hallos, Daubeney! Yoicks! Tally-ho!"

The person addressed in this startling manner stopped as though he had been shot. He gazed at the sky and then gravely surveyed the gilded statue that surmounts the picturesque church of Notre Dame de la Garde.

"Here I am, you idiot," continued Fairholme. "I am not in a balloon. I am on the quay. Come here quick. I want to introduce you to Edith and Sir Hubert."

Luckily Miss Talbot's dark doubts had vanished after one keen glance at Daubeney. He was eminently a safe friend for her future husband. Such a fat and hail-fellow-wel-met individual could not possibly harbour guile. So she passed over without reference the extent of Daubeney's acquaintance concerning herself, implied by the use of her Christian name. Inded, was there not a compliment in Fairholme's unconscious outspokenness? If he only discussed her charms with Daubeney then Daubeney was a man to be cultivated.

The meeting on the quay was hearty in the extreme, and the Honourable James Daubeney further ingratiated himself by saying: "Even if Lord Fairholme had not told me who you were, Miss Talbot, I should have known you at once."

"That would be very clever of you," purred Edith.

"Oh, no, there is nothing remerkable in the fact, I assure you. He always sat in his chambers so that he could look at your photograph, and as, in addition to that speaking likeness, I knew the colour of your hair, your eyes, your teeth even, I could not be mistaken."

Miss Talbot thought Mr. Daubeney rather curious. But still he was very nice, and unquestionably the services of the Blue-Bell might be more than useful.

So she was graciousness personified in her manner, and promptly determined to invite him to luncheon, thinking that the chance direction of their conversation with Mr. Brett might lead towards the use of the yacht being hinted at.

She counted without Fairholme. The latter slapped his heavy friend on the back.

"Look here, old chap, are you fixed up for a cruise? Plenty of coal, champagne, and all that sort of thing?"

Loaded to the gunwales."

"That's all right, because we may want the Blue-Bell for a month or so."

"There she is," said Daubeney; "fit to go anywhere and do anything."

Miss Talbot had never heard such extraordinary conduct in her life. She wondered how two women would have conducted the negotiations. The question was too abstruse, so she gave it up and contented herself instead with accepting Daubeney's hearty request that they should inspect the yacht.

The Blue-Bell was an extremely smart little ship of 250 tons register, and an ordinary speed of twelve knots. Incidentally Miss Talbot discovered that the owner made the vessel his home. He was never happy away from her, and the Blue-Bell was known to every yachtsman from the Hebrides to the Golden Horn.

To eke out her coal supply she was fited with sails, and Daubeney assured his fair visitor that the Blue-Bell could ride out a gale as comfortably and safely as any craft afloat. Altogether Miss Talbot congratulated herself on Fairholme's discovery, and she could not help hoping that their strange errand to Marseilles might eventuate in a Mediterranean chase.

When the tour of inspection had ended Daubeney suggested an excursion.

"I understand you have never been to Marseilles before, Miss Talbot. In that case, what do you say if we run over and see the Chateau d'If—the place that Dumas made famous, you know?"

"Is it far?" said Edith.

"Oh, not very; about a mile across the harbour. Monte Cristo swam the distance, you know, after his escape."

"Shall we go in the yacht?"

Daubeney bubbled with laughter.

"Well, not exactly, Miss Talbot. You cannot swing a ship of this size about so easily as all that, you know. I have another craft alongside that will suit our purpose."

He whistled to a tiny steam launch which Edith had not noticed before, and without further ado the party seated themselves. They sped rapidly down the harbour and out through the narrow entrance between the lighthouses.

No sooner did Edith behold the splendid panorama of rocky coast that encloses the great outer bay, with its blue waters studded with delightful little islands, through which fishing boats and small steam tugs threaded their way towards different points on the coast, than she clapped her hands with schoolgirl delight.

"I had no idea," she cried, "that Marseilles was half so beautiful. Why, it is a wonderful place. I have always read about it being hot and dirty. It certainly is untidy, but to wash its citizens would take away all the romance! As for the climate being hot, just imagine a day like this in the middle of November. Can you possibly think what the sensation would be if you were plunged into a London fog at this moment, Mr. Daubeney?"

"I have hardly ever seen one," he replied. "I take mighty good care to be far removed from my beloved country during the fog season."

She sighed. "What it is to be a man and to be able to roam about the world unfettered."

"It all depends upon the meaning of the word 'unfettered,' said Daubeney. "Have you got any sisters, Miss Talbot?"

They all laughed at this inconsequent question. It was impossible to resist Daubeney's buoyant good nature, and Edith felt certain that in half an hour she would be calling him "Jimmy."

They sped across the waves towards the Chateau d'If, and drew up alongside its small landing-stage.

The island supppiles an all-the-year-round resort for the townspeople. Every fine day a steamer runs at intervals to and fro between it and the inner harbour. The good folk of the south of France, whether Marseillais or visitors to the city, find a constant delight in taking the short marine excursion and wandering for half an hour about the rocky pathway and steep turrets of the famous prison, whilst they listen with silent awe to the words of the guide when he tells them how the Abbe died, and shows them the hole between the two walls excavated by Monte Cristo. So the English visitors found themselves in the midst of a number of laughing, light-hearted French sightseers.

They wandered round with the crowd until Edith looked at her watch.

"It is past twelve o'clock," she said. "Should we not be going back to the hotel to lunch? You will come with us, of course, Mr. Daubeney?"

"I am famished with expectation," answered the irrepressible Jimmy, "but before we go away you certainly ought to climb the leads and get the panoramic view of the harbour which the tower affords on a clear day. It is a sight to be remembered, I promise you."

So they made the ascent, Daubeney leading in his capacity of guide, though he was quite breathless when they reached the top of the steps.

Captain E. S. Worthington on Duke of Conaught's Staff.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., August 29.—Capt. Edward S. Worthington, an old Brockville boy, of the Royal Medical Corps, London, Eng., has been appointed Medical Officer of the staff of H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught on his trip to South Africa to open the Parliament of United South Africa.

He took out a commission in the English Army after serving through the South African war. His father at present resides in Montreal.

William Majaury died suddenly at his home near Hopetown. While driving cattle he dropped on the roadside with apoplexy and expired instantly.

Rev. Thomas Brown united in marriage at the George Street Methodist Church parsonage, Grant Langley and Mrs. Martha Perrin, both residents of Augusta.

In arresting a prisoner named Ralph Barker, who was drunk and creating a disturbance on the streets, Constable Henry Dyer sustained a dislocation of his shoulder. The Police Magistrate committed Barker for trial on a charge of assault, occasioning grievous bodily harm.

In a heavy gale fire which broke out at the extreme end of the upper Canadian Pacific Railway pier, fortunately the dock was isolated and though the blaze attained good headway, occasioned by the delay in laying over 1,000 feet of hose from the nearest hydrant, the brigade was equal to the task when the water was turned on. A considerable portion of the dock was damaged.

LACHINE MAN ROBBED.

His Room Entered During the Night and $90 Taken.

Lachine, Que., August 29.—A daring robbery was committed here when M. Claud, bartender at the Prince of Wales Hotel, was robbed of $90.00.

The victim was Claud, who had drawn the money from the bank during the day for the purpose of making some purchases. He was unable to complete his purchases that night, however, and retired in the evening with the $90.00 tucked away carefully in his pocket, but on getting up in the morning he was astonished to find the money missing. He had slept soundly and was not aware of any one entering his room during the night.

On making inquiries the following morning it was learned that Tom Robisho, a yard man at the hotel was missing, together with a box of provisions.

The detective department has been notified and the police are now on the look out for Robisho.

Robisho had won the good will of the proprietor, Mr. A. Leblanc, the week before when he picked up $15.00 in the hotel and returned it.

BOOM AT NORWAY BAY.

Summer Resort to Apply for Incorporation.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Arnprior, August 29.—Arnprior people who own property at Norway Bay declare that the summering place is experiencing a boom this season and that many lots were opened up. It has not yet been definitely decided just where the new wharf shall be placed, but the majority favor the landing just west of Mr. Hodgin's camp, the objection to the old landing being that it is too far removed from the centre of the settlement. Again this year there has been considerable agitation toward putting down sewers and properly defining the streets of the place.

A meeting of the property holders was called Saturday with a view of having Norway Bay incorporated as a village separate from the township. As soon as incorporation is effected a council will be chosen to properly manage the affairs of the village.

The levy for the taxes for the year 1910 for the town of Arnprior is as follows: Public school supporters, 30 mills; separate school supporters, 34.38. The town council propose building a sidewalk on Church street between John and Albert streets.

Briar Hill Resident a Suicide.

Brockville, Ont., August 29—At Briar Hill, across the river from here, Geo. Elwood, son of Gibson Elwood, aged about 45 years, committed suicide by taking rat poison. There was a criminal charge pending against Elwood, and it is thought that worry over the matter caused him to take his life. He belonged to a respectable family of Briar Hill and was unmarried.

A Canary's Ears.

A canary's ears are back of and a little below its eyes. They are not hard to find when one has learned where to look. There is no outer ear, such as animals have, but simply a small opening which is covered by feathers. It is quite surprising that birds should possess the very acute hearing which they do while lacking the fleshy flap which enables the animals to catch sounds.

Carbundum, the protduct of the electric furnace, is the hardest substance known.

SERIOUS SMASH-UP NEAR SMITH'S FALLS

Two Freights Met Head-on and Were Badly Damaged — Engineer Lost Arm.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Smith's Falls, Ont., August 29.—There was a smash-up on the Canadian Pacific Railway here early yesterday morning, about a mile from the station, when two freight trains, No. 1498, coming from the West, and No. 669, having just left the yards and got fairly under way, came together with a crash.

The track where the accident occurred is down grade and the freight from the West was running at a good speed into the yard.

Engineer Stanley Barclay, of Havelock, with Fireman Clifford White, of Smiths' Falls, saw the freight coming on the same track. The engineer put on all the brakes and the two men jumped, the former receiving a sprained ankle, and White getting off with a shaking up.

Matthew Riley, the engineer of the train going out, was not so fortunate, as he was too late to jump, and was hanging on to his engine with his left arm, which was jammed between the engine and tender and cut off at the shoulder. His fireman, Melville Catarine, jumped and received slight injuries.

The rest of the crew on both trains jumped and came out all right.

The sight presented by the two great engines jammed together in what appeared an attempt on their part to overlap each other was a spectacular one, the heavy iron twisted and bound together and the tender of No. 1498 thrown up on top of the engine.

Several freight cars were smashed to pieces and articles of every description were scattered all over the track and in the swamp on either side.

Soon after the collision fire broke out, but in a very short time the firemen had a line of hose laid out to the burning mass and kept it under control.

The wrecking crew immediately got to work to clear the siding for the noon express from the East, which was not delayed.

Riley, who had his arm taken off, was taken to St. Francis Hospital, where he was attended to and will recover.

The cause of the accident has not yet been located.

PREPARING FOR THE CONGRESS.

There will be many things of which Montreal may well be ashamed when the delegates to the Eucharistic Congress begin to look over our civic equipment next week, and it will take considerable explaining before we can expect that the relationship between our present good intentions and our past apathy and neglect will be seen in the proper perspective and proportion. What we must, at all hazard and cost, attend to is the adequate safeguarding of these hundred thousand visitors who are coming from all the four corners of the world to be our guests during the Congress week and whose protection from preventable accidents involves our honor as well as our hospitality.

It will be with no special pride that we point to the unsightly excavations along Sherbrooke street where the new sewer is slowly worming its way from end to end of the thoroughfare. Sewers are recognized as necessities and our guests will doubtless be pleased to know that we are paying due attention to the hygienic requirements of the future even though our doing so blocks the only residential street in the city adapted for pleasant driving. If they wander from the gayly decorated route of the great procession, it will require some argument to show that our decrepit side-walks and crumbling pavements ought to be overlooked because of the piles of granite and scoria blocks, the caldrons of asphalt, and the prolific promises of other and larger quantities of paving materials which are expected to transform our chief residential and business sections into something more nearly resembling what we have come to look for in large and prosperous cities. Likewise with the forests of poles, whose gaunt and misshapen forms spoil every vista and with the network of wires which garnish with their tawdry fringe the best architectural accomplishments we have to show our visitors.

All these incidents are of very minor importance, however, compared with the responsibility that rests on the city of seeing that, by no carelessness or oversight on the part of the city authorities, are the lives and safety of our guests endangered. We know already of the tens of thousands who are coming, and we can easily imagine the tremendous congestion there will be on such days, for example, as that set for the Eucharistic procession. To so regulate the traffic and handle the spectators as to prevent dangerous overcrowding in one section is no light problem, yet it is one which must be worked out in advance, carefully and thoroughly, by the police officials. All dispositions should be definitely decided upon long beforehand, and submitted either to the Controllers, the Council or some revising committee appointed by one or other of these bodies for sanction.

More important still is the thorough inspection of the hundreds of stands which are being erected along the route of the procession. If there is the shadow of a doubt as to the security of one of them, it should be ordered demolished before there is a chance that, through negligence, it may prove a factor in a catastrophe which might mar the whole success of the Congress. An overcrowded stand—and it may be accepted as a fact that every stand along the route will be packed to the limit of its capacity—is a potential danger for more than one reason. The possibility of collapse is always present, even when the greatest care and the best materials have been used in its construction. And the collapse of a stand may very easily mean the beginning of a panic and a stampede which will cost hundreds of lives. The attitude of the Building Inspection Department in this matter has been quite as unsatisfactory as are most of its official demonstrations of activity, although it is now stated that practically all the contractors who are erecting stands have applied for and secured permits. More than a permit, however, is required unless we are to assume blindly the heavy responsibility for the safety of the stands which we do practically when we allow them to be put to use—it does not matter very much whether by private parties or by the public. They should be constantly inspected during the course of their construction and after their completion. If the forces of the Building Inspection Department are inadequate, numerically or otherwise, to do this work, it is of the utmost importance that they be supplemented by enough special inspectors to see that it is done—and done honestly and thoroughly.

THE KAISER BREAKS LOOSE.

So far, none of the Kaiser's observant subjects have hazarded an explanation of what it was which impelled the Emperor to make his "Divine Right" pronouncement at Posen last week, though there has been no dearth of predictions as to what its immediate results will be. Explaining the German Emperor, at any time, appears to be a thankless task, and one which calls for a more nimble mind than usually goes into the make-up of a sane and reliable citizen. Whether it was whim or inspiration, policy or impulse which prompted the Kaiser to reiterate his fantastic, mediaeval belief in his superiority to peoples, parliaments and all mundane power, it has decidedly embarrassed his loyal friends and followers.

A more tactless time for making such a deliverance, accepting for the sake of argument that it had to be made some time or other, it would, apparently, have been difficult to discover. The franchise demonstrations in Prussia, with the attempts in the bureaucracy to stifle the voice of the people, the spread of socialism as an evidence of the deepening discontent, the interpellations in the Reichstag coming perilously near to impinging on the prerogatives of royalty itself, all might have been regarded by any cautious ruler as satisfying reasons for not emphasizing just at present any reactionary ideas as to the foundation of the state and the relationship between the governor and the governed, no matter how thoroughly convinced he was of their righteousness. Of William's own convictions on this point, his people had no possibility of doubt. The castle of Posen has always had a stimulating effect on his conception of sacrosanctity. In 1890 he there declared that "We Hohenzollerns take our crown from Heaven alone," and he followed this announcement four years later by a statement, made in the same banquet hall, that "I take my kingdom by God's grace." Last week he amplified and embellished the theme by stating that, "In considering myself as the instrument of the Master, I go my way, regardless of passing views and opinions." Between constitutional monarchy and a king who rules "regardless of passing views and opinions," there is a gulf as wide as the progress the world has made since the Middle Ages and as deep as the love of liberty.

There will, of course, be a scapegoat, and the finger of probability is pointing fixedly at Chancellor von Bethmaun-Hollweg, a one-time school-mate of the Kaiser's, and his devoted friend and ostensible adviser. Ever since the Emperor took his vow of silence in 1908, after the famous interview on the craziness of the British people, there has been joined to the conviction that sooner or later either the vow or the Emperor would go to pieces, the reassuring hope that the enforced consultation with his Chancellor would minimize the results of either explosion. No one, however, affects to believe that in this particular case the Chancellor was either consulted or advised as to the content of the royal speech. So direct and flagrant a breaking of the bonds by which Von Buelow endeavored to safeguard Germany from imperial indiscretions can hardly be overlooked. The present Chancellor is most directly in line for the honor of being sacrificed. It is even intimated that his disappearance from the theatre of public life would not seriously interfere with Germany's progress or the working out of her best interests, although it would be a personal loss to the Emperor. It would also, on its face, be an unanswerable reply to the Posen doctrine.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL.

The Floral Department of the Canadian Pacific deserves credit for the fact that the railway gardens along the line have never looked brighter, and that the bloom was never in greater profusion. The success of the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk in this direction shows what could be done at comparatively small expense by intelligent organization and cooperation and by the systematic encouragement of good taste. There is a valuable hint here for Montreal. Our streets are being rapidly put into good repair. When that is accomplished what will be the most striking difference between the appearance of Montreal and that of, say—Westmount? It will be the lack of those finishing artistic touches which make Westmount look like a high-class London suburb. The most striking feature of Westmount is its dainty gardens. The most striking feature of Montreal when the roads and sidewalks are reformed will be its bare yards, weedy garden plots and dirty lanes. There is a chance here for a great improvement which can only be brought about by a judicious combination of public and private effort, and especially co-operative private effort. The city has done much in recent years to beautify the parks and squares, although there is a rather wearisome monotony in the repetition year after year of almost the same floral scheme. A little more variety would make the result still more charming. But where the city chiefly falls short in decoration is in the part that ought to be attended to by private effort. The taste for artistic surroundings needs stimulating educating, and helping. Here a tactful hint, there a little instruction, and there a little assistance. The legal status of a lane is an anomaly. It is neither public property, nor private property, it is a no man's land, for which nobody is entirely responsible. Nobody's child is apt to be uncared for and to become a general nuisance. While there are more promising fields for obtaining aesthetic effects, there is positively scope for decorative art even in a lane. The first step in this direction is to make them passable and for that somebody should be held responsible to the community, or the city should assume the responsibility. This would encourage the average householder, who is not lost to all sense of propriety, to do his part towards making his share of the lane at least fair to look upon. Some of them might be tempted at first to secure startling results by painting their ash barrels red, yellow and blue, and such neat colors; but this tendency would wear off under the benign influence of an enlightened committee of taste. Even a certain amount of border and wall gardening might be secured with a little encouragement. There were stations and station-masters on the C. P. R. long before station gardeners became the rule on the line. It took the systematic aid and encouragement of the Floral Department to stimulate the aesthetic taste of the station-masters; and it will take a similar movement by some official commission or volunteer committee to arouse the householders to the possibilities in the way of city improvement and their individual responsibilities in connection therewith.

TORONTO AND THE RAILWAYS.

The Toronto News complains that while the Canadian Pacific has two multi-million dollar depots in Montreal, the Company does nothing for Toronto. They do not expect anything so magnificent as Windsor Street or Place Viger up there in the woods, but they would like a station where a man could meet his wife without being sure of missing her. (Some people never know when they are well off.) Mr. McNicoll is yearning to do something for Toronto, only he says the Torontonians won't let him. Our impression is that the backward condition of Toronto in railway matters is largely due to its enterprising press. If the papers agree among themselves as to what Toronto wants in the way of railway accommodation, is is the only question upon which they agree, and even in this we expect they only agree to disagree with the C.P.R. Rightly or wrongly the Montreal people have a notion that while the C.P.R. and G.T.R. managements may not know any more about the railway business than the Duke of Wellington knew about copper caps or the battle of Waterloo, they do know pretty well what they want. When they want to spend a few million dollars in Montreal, we just let them do it. Some of us feel in our heart of hearts that we could spend the money to more advantage, but nobody kicks. In fact, we rather encourage them in their extravagance.

ROUGH TRIP FROM HAWAII.

Steamer Fry Passed Through Eighteen Miles of Ice.

Philadelphia, August 29.—After a run of 124 days, and despite unusual perils at sea the ship William P. Fry, from the Hawaiian Islands with 90,000 bags of raw sugar, arrived at the Spreckel's sugar refinery last night.

Off Cape Horn the ship was surrounded by Ant-Arctic ice-bergs and field ice, covering an area of 18 miles. Many of the bergs ranged from 50 to 200 feet high.

In the latter part of June the vessel battled with snowstorms and strong easterly winds, a most unusual experience off the Horn, where westerly winds prevail. Captain Nickerson, master of the Fry, stated that the ship left Kahalull on April 27 and five days afterward crossed the Equator. On the 53rd day out she was off Cape Horn.

From June 1 to June 24 icebergs were in sight in all directions.

VATICAN'S NOTE RECEIVED.

Merry del Val Firm—Premier Canalejo's Reaffirms Stand.

San Sebastian, August 29.—Carcia Preitro, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, has received the Vatican's reply to the note outlining Spain's position in the dispute with the Holy See which Marquis de Ojeda, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, handed to Cardinal Merry Del Val, August 1.

In his answer Cardinal Merry Del Val defends the attitude adopted by the Holy See.

Senor Prietro will submit the cardinal's reply to a Cabinet Council.

Premier Canalejas, in an interview published to-day, reiterates his intention to adhere ardently to his original programme. He says he has no intention to resign but on the contrary will remain in power as long as possible to work for his country's welfare. The Cortes will convene October 31.

Arctic Ship Roosevelt Scorched.

New York, August 29.—The Roosevelt, Commander Robert E. Peary's ship, narrowly escaped serious injury from fire last night at her berth in Weehawken, N. J. The steamer was moored near the piers of the Union Drydock Company, which were swept by flames with a loss of about $150,000.

So quickly did the blaze spread that the forecastle of the Roosevelt was ablaze before help could be summoned. Tugs finally moved the burning vessel out of danger, and she was saved with slight losses.

Spanish Strike Called Off

FROM THE STAR FILES THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Late Major S. C. Stevenson.

"Mr. S. C. Stevenson, secretary of the permanent exhibition committee, wrote expressing the thanks of that body for the donation of a special building for the Manitoba exhibit by the citizen's committee."—From the Montreal Star, August 29th, 1880.

MAJ. S. C. STEVENSON was not only a very energetic man, but a very popular one, and when it had been decided to make a great effort to hold an exhibition that would be worthy of the largest city of the Dominion, there was but one opinion as to who would be the proper man to entrust with the chief official work. Moreover, the late Major Stevenson had previous experience in matters of the kind. The citizens responded with large money contributions. Fireworks, music and many outside attractions were afforded; yet on the whole it could not be considered a success. The fact was that there did not exist a sufficient number of first-class stock near Montreal to make competition possible. At that time there was Hon. Mr. Cochrane's Compton farm and a few others who had almost to be begged to send their prize cattle to the fair. Then the population within easy reach of Montreal did not care to pay a visit even when half fare was offered. By far the largest number of show animals were owned west of Toronto, and the distance that they would have to be carried put their presence out of the question; besides, there was not the competition in transport that exists to-day.

"Dr. Larocque reports the birth rate for Montreal as 47.59 per thousand of population and the death rate 18.61 under five years and 12.00 over; total, 30.61. Toronto birth rate, 37.31; death rate, under five years, 8.52; over, 12.20; total, 20.72."—From the Montreal Star, August 29, 1880.

"The Grand Trunk receipts for the week ending August 21st were $206,626, as compared with $165,016 for the corresponding week in 1879; increase, for 34 weeks, $1,279,112."—From the Montreal Star, August 29, 1880.

THIRTY years ago the G.T.R. had practically no competitor in the western trade, except what the boats did in summer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Purer Air Needed in Montreal.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir:—The Star rightly draws the attention of the public and the Board of Control on the requisite abatement of street noises but there is another issue to my mind of greater importance and of farther reaching consequence to the welfare of the people, viz: "The problem of procuring pure air to the community of this city."

Air, it is needless to state, is the largest part of our food. Pure air is a necessity to preserve the human body's health and existence, to keep it in proper physical and mental condition, and to supply its part of useful work in this world. One main source of corruption of air that could be easily avoided, resides in the use of soft coal by steam engines. Hundreds and hundreds of railway engines are night and day travelling around the city of Montreal. In the stations and in the yards of our railways the amount of oxyde of carbon and sulphurous fumes produced by those powerful engines is enormous and contributes to a great extent to vitiate the atmosphere of the city. An observation made in clear weather on the mountain's observatory will convince one of the enormous volume of smoke raised in the air, all around the city and along the island by the railroad engines. Why not compel, like in New York, the Railway Companies to operate their engines on the island of Montreal by electricity or at least, temporarily awaiting electrification's equipment, to compel them to operate their engines with hard coal.

I raise this question not only for the sake of the emany consumptives and sick people living in Montreal but for those many hundred times larger in number, whose health is weakened and their existence menaced sooner or later by their sojourn in this city where the air we breathe is a constant threat upon our health and life.

READER.

No Home for Cocaine Victims.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir:—Everyone who is interested in the welfare of children owes you a debt of thanks for the assistance you are giving the Pharmaceutical Association in its efforts to stamp out the traffic in cocaine. Only those who are doing practical work among the boys and the girls of the city can have the faintest idea of the mischief which has been done. The ease with which the drug has been obtained and then later administered is accountable for the frightful rapidity with which its use has spread. And it is almost the only vice to which childhood and youth are exposed, from which they are practically irreclaimable, for by the time the effects make themselves manifest the moral nature has become so tainted and weakened in every way that ruin is almost inevitable.

And with an appalling number of young Protestant girls between fourteen and eighteen years in this hideous condition, we have no place whatever to send them for isolation and assistence except to the institutions of another faith.

The case is a sorry one indeed.

Mrs. O. STEWART TAYLOR.

Paris Temps and Monroe Doctrine.

Paris, August 29.—Discussing the work of the Pan-American congress at Buenos Ayres, the Temps this morning expressed the opinion that United States diplomacy has failed to win a signal triumph, and that the United States has not succeeded in allaying the distrust of the Latin-American Republics, which, it says, regard the Monroe doctrine as a double-edged sword, one edge of which is American contol by means of the "Big stick."

FRAE AULD SCOTIA

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star Resident in Glasgow.

Glasgow, August 19.—Scotland's Flying Week is past, an' we've a' been to see the men wha tak their lives in their han's, an' clim' up what ae writer in the papers ca's the stepless stairway o' the skies. It was a fine touch o' fancy that, especially as it applied to Drexel, the son o' the big American millionaire o' that name, wha went up an' up in circles until he went aboon the clouds, an' was higher than e'er a flyin' man was afore, an' was lost to the croods on Lanark Racecourse, an', what was mair, got lost himsel', an' had to come doon he didna ken whaur. He was lucky in landin' in a field at a place o' the name o' Cobbinshaw, a dizzen miles or sae frae Lanark.

Some o' the ither men broke itther records, an' the weather was guid like, an' there were big croods payin' to get in, an' Scotland's first flyin' week was a great success. As for me I went oot to Lanark ae day an' got a crick in the neck starin' up to the sky, an' got robbed at a tent whaur they pretended to gie me a dinner, an' charged the price o' twa; an' got squeezed flat in a train that carried twice as mony passengers as it was made for, an' spent eight oors travelin' an' waitin' for half an' oor's lookin' at the fliers. Oh, it was a great day.

As for flyin' as a sport it will ne'er haud a caunle to the Celts an' the Rangers in a Cup Tie. There is mair excitement ih ae scrummage in a fitba' match than in a haill day's flyin'. That is, unless somebody loses control o' his machine up in the clouds an' gets killed. But it waasna the fitba' crood that attended the flyin', except, may be, on the last Saturday. It was a high-class crood, an' the best o' Scotland's gentry cam there in their motor cars, an' their fine claes an' their spy glasses, an' as ye looked at them takin' their tea in the open air, an' watchin' the fliers a' the time ye micht imagine yersel' in Paris or some sic place. But it was only a moor near the toon o' Lanark, whaur—for a wonder—the sun was shinin' a' week, an' whaur a lot o' money had been spent on grand stands, an' new roads, an' even a new railway station, to dae honor to Scotland's first flyin' week. An' aboon it a' sat Tinto Hill, as calm as ever, wi' ne'er a cloud on its tap, an' seemin' to lauch at a' the efforts o' puir men to conquer the elements. There were two-three prizes offered by ootsiders for flights o' different kinds, but naebody offered a prize to the man wha wad fly ower Tinto Hill an' back again. We haena got just that far yet.

The King has come to his ain again, lang live the King. His Majesty George the Fifth an' his Queen hae come to Balmoral, an' there is rejoicin' on Deeside an' Aiberdeen is ainee mair lookin' on itsel' as the hub o' the Universe. It was an Aiberdeen man wha said "Tak awa Aiberdeen an' twa' miles roond it, an' whaur are ye?" Onyway King George an' Queen Mary waltzed on Scottish soil for the first time—as King an' Queen—last week, an' this shows that he is to follow the examples o' King Edward an' Queen Victoria, an' stay a while aboot this time ilka year in Scotland. When the Auld Queen passed awa lots o' folk said King Edward had nae taste for Scotland, an' wad soon neglect Balmoral. Instead o' which he cam to it as regularly as ever. Then when his turn cam to leave the scene lots o' folk—likely the same folk—said King George an' Queen Mary wad be sure to stick to the sooth, an' Balmoral wad soon be a second-rate Royal residence. But here they are, as large as life, at the usual time, special train an' the way, welcome by Lord Provost o' Aiberdeen, address by the tenants on the estates, reply by the King, shootin' grouse, fishin' in the burns, visitin' their neebors, rich an' puir, an' attendin', atween times, to the affairs o' the Empire. There isna a ghost o' a shadow o' a sign that Balmoral winna be as important in time to come as it has been in the past.

Speakin' o' Kings, we are expectin' a visit frae Mr. Sidney Clunies-Ross, the new King o' the Cocos Islands. He is in London an' wil likely be visitin' Glasgow afore he gangs back to his kingdom, if only to see the place whaur he got his education. The first an' second kings were pure Scots, an' the new king is half a Scot, sae that we are interested in them an' their little kingdom. It's a pity there arena mair Cocos Islands, sae that mair o' us could gang awa' somewhere an' be Kings on oor own hook. But there seems naethin' for us but to stick to the jobs we hae, or try Canada or Australia. Somebody was praisin' up the Far West the ither day, an' I nearly decided to try my luck on the prairies. Then there cam anither man wha said there was nae life like that o' a fruit farmer in Ontario. Oh, it was the gran' time, an' there was money in it, an' a short workin' season, an' the finest o' employment. I nearly went off to begin very packin' that time. But afore I could get started there cam' the Minister o' Lands frae Victoria, Australia; an' he had a meetin' in Glasgow, an' explained the fine terms that his government offered to settlers ,an' the fine fruit fairms an' general fairms that were simply waitin' for Scotsmen to settle doon in them an' mak fortunes. Sae I stopped thinkin' o' Ontario, an' wondered whether I shouna stay at hame after a'. I'm still wonderin'

The Duke o' Sutherland, like maist prophets, disna get honor in his ain country. The Coonty Council o' Sutherlandshire asked him if he wadna let them re-open the gold fields at Kildonan, an' he said no the noo, but maybe somethin' might be done some time later. Whereupon a Rogart man gof up an' gave the Duke a bit o' his mind. His letter was, he said, despotic an' tyrannical. He refused to let them work their only local industry, an' interdicted them frae lookin' for gold in Kildonan, although it had been proved in the past there was as muckle there as wad pay to look for it. Mair than that, the Duke had a scheme for transportin' some hundreds o' the population o' Sutherlandshire to Alberta. He wad rather do this than open up his ain hame country to trade. The Sutherlandshire folk hadna mony chances to mak money, an' the Duke hadna let them mak the best o' the chances they had. An' so on, an' so on. The fact is that though the Duke is a decent man, an' the Duchess an extra decent woman ,they canna get oot o' the shadow o' the past. They are aye suspected o' the same idea as earlier Dukes had, the idea that Sutherlandshire should be made ae great big sheep plain, an' that the best thing for its folk wad be to "send them to Canada by the shiploud—just to get rid o' them. That is why I'm thinkin' the Duke winna get mony settlers frae Sutherlandshire on the lan' he is takin' awa oot in Alberta.

Meantime there are still some things in Scotland worth stayin' in it for. There's Tobermory, for instance. We couldna dae withoot Tobermory an' its treasure trove, an' its sunk Armada ship, an' its Spanish doubloons an' it's pieces o' eight that lie aneath the mud in her cabins. Last week the search for the ship was started over again, this time wi' "new apparatus," an' by a new lot o' divers under a new boss. Sae we are soon to see what we shall see. Already one o' the divers has discovered twa-three "Armada relics"—a powder flask, bits o' guns, some shot, some broken bits o' the ship itsel', an' twa coins. We've heard stories like this once or twice a year for some half a dizzen years back, but someway the real treasure that tradition says is in the ship hasna been discovered. It is hidden below yairds o' mud, an' fathoms o' sea, an' I wadna wonder a bit if ten years after this we are hearin' the same stories aboot hoo it is to be got at just in a wee while. For there's aye somebody wi' money to spare willin' to hae a try at the Tobermory treasure ship, an' when ae man gets tired anither starts. It is worth waitin' in Scotland, if only to see when oor ain turn comes to hae a try for the gold. We will a' hae a turn if we care to wait. As for the gold it too will wait. That is a way it has.

Then we micht dae waur than migrate to the main' toon o' Kinlochleven. It seems like one o' the Canadian toons we read o' in the papers, that grow up in half a year frae a log cabin on the prairie to a great municipality, wi' its ain railway station, an' Kirk and theatre, an'—oh yes—its great big grain elevator. Kinlochleven has nae grain elevator, an' nae theatre, an' there is naethin' o' the log cabin aboot it, but it has grown up in a way remarkable for a Scottish toon. A company started aluminum works there no lang syne, gettin' their power frae a waterfall near by, an' the next we heard was that a toon—a real, substantial wee toon o' concrete an' steel—was growin' up see fast that even the auld-time natives hardly kent the place. Just noo some 50 new hooses hae been added to Kinlochleven, and o' them a boardin' establishment that will tak 120 lodgers. What we need noo in some mair men o' money to discover hoo mair o' the waterfalls o' Scotland can be made to work for their livin'. If we can harness a' the waterfalls an' rivers in the country there will still be somethin' worth stayin' in Scotland for. But it means money in the first place, an' the men o' money hae a queer idea that it is far better to invest their spare cash in business on the ither side o' the worl' than at hame. They ne'er think that it micht be a guid thing to "develop" their ain country.

WATTIE.

Capt. Michael J. Galvin Dead.

New York, August 29.—Captain Michael J. Galvin, of the New York police force, long an efficient ruler of Chinatown, is dead of Bright's disease and nervous collapse. He broke down from overwork some weeks ago, not long after his transfer from Chinatown to Coney Island.

Captain Galvin was 43 years old, and one of the youngest of the precinct commanders. For distinguished bravery he won three department medals during his career, and at the time of his death was the only honor man among the captains.

A London cable states that King Edward's Horse, formerly the King's Colonials, will probably be in Canada in 1911.

HE SAILED SCHOONER ALONE.

Cook, Left on Board, Fought Storm With Success.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Digby, N.S., August 29.—The fishing schooner Wilfrid L. Snow arrived here yesterday with only one man on board, the cook, James Slocumb, who had been the only one left on board the vessel off Point Lepreaux, when the captain and men manned the dories to set trawls. Thick fog and a squall separated the men and the vessel.

The dories, however, arrived safely at St. John, but in the meantime Slocumb sailed his vessel all night and the following day and night in a gale of wind with a terrible sea without assistance, finally arriving off Point Prim, where he managed to anchor until the storm abated.

WHERE IT IS HARD ON THE FIRE-FIGHTERS.

At a small fire on Notre Dame street, Saturday afternoon, the conditions under which the fire brigade has to work in the old streets in the down town district were well shown. Not only are the streets so narrow that the apparatus blocks the whole street, but overhead the air is almost impassable on account of the heavy screen of wires. Had the outbreak been of a serious nature the firemen would have had a difficult task in keeping it under control. The blaze was in the Ottawa building, and the damage was slight.

EMIGRATION ANOMALY.

Jewish Family Deported—Are They Asiatics?

Last Saturday night, Soloman Schuchman and his family, born in Roumania, continent of Europe, and all anxious to become Canadian citizens, were refused admission to Canada and deported on the allegation that they were Asiatics or of Asiatic origin.

Much Indignation in Montreal.

Leading Hebrew citizens of Montreal were indignant when the news reached them this morning. "It is an outrage," they say. "It will reverse the whole history of civilization, if the Hebrew people after all their wanderings are to be regarded as Asiatics no matter where they were born."

Soloman Schuchman, on being detained for deportation on this pretext, protested that he was born in Roumania and, therefore, could not be regarded as an Asiatic. But the immigration officials were firm in declaring that he was of Asiatic origin and demanded $200 from himself and each member of this family for this reason. Otherwise, no Asiatic could enter Canada. This was the ruling.

I was true that Schuchman had lived some years in Palestine, although born in Europe. But even if he had been born in Palestine, in China, in India or in any other part of Asia, the question is: are the Hebrews to be treated as an Asiatic people coming upder the same class as the Mongolians, Hindoos, Arabians, etc.?

"I always thought that the Jews were white men," declared a Rabbi this morning, so when I was asked to intervene, I wrote to Mr. Scott, the Superintendent of Immigration at Ottawa, telling him that in my opinion, if the Jews are to be excluded from Canada on the ground of their being Asiatics, the highest opinion in the British Empire should be consulted first.

"The Jews have lived in Europe for nearly 2,000 years and even while they lived in Asia, they had no connection with the present Asiatics. And if any ethnological investigation is necessary it would not be for the agent at Quebec to decide the question."

The Ruling From Ottawa.

The following is the letter which was received from the authorities at Ottawa, and on the strength of which the family was deported as Asiatics:

"I have received your letter of the 25th inst. regarding Solomon Schuchman, wife and children, detained at Quebec. I observe that these immigrants have been detained for the reason that they do not fulfil the requirements of the Order in Council of the 9th May, 1910, providing that no immigrant of Asiatic origin shall be permitted to enter Canada unless in actual and personal possession of $200. The method of appeal is provided for in the Act, and if this method is fulfilled and an appeal in proper form reaches my office through the agent at Quebec, along with his certificate that the necessary deposit for expenses has been made, an appeal will receive consideration, but I am unable at this moment to give you any assurance that it will be sustained.

(Signed) L. M. FORTIER,

For the Superintendent of Immigration."

It is claimed by leading Hebrews in Montreal that even the process in regard to an appeal was complied with by Schuchman's friends, and a deposit covering necessary expenses was made by the detained man's brother-in-law.

Family Sent Back.

Notwithstanding all this a telegram was received in Montreal to the effect that the Schuchman family was placed on a steamer sailing from Quebec on Saturday night.

There was no incidental excuse, it appears, for deporting the family. The father and mother were in robust health, and the children were well educated, speaking English and French perfectly, as well as Arabic and Hebrew. This the agent himself admitted. The only ground for rejection was the ruling that a Hebrew family born in Roumania were Asiatics.

The Hebrews in Montreal are determined to take the case up. "It would repudiate the whole history of Christianity and of civilisation," they say, "it would actually upset the history of civilisation if we tolerate such an insane interpretation. The Hebrews have been suffering in vain for the last 2,000 years if they are to be pronounced Asiatics by Canadian immigration officials in the year 1910."

GUARDS' BAND IN TORONTO.

Plan of Welcome a Failure Owing to Misunderstanding.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, August 29.—Although thousands of people turned out yesterday afternoon to welcome the great band of the Grenadier Guards, only hundreds recognized the world-famous musicians when they did arrive.

The train was expected to arrive at 4.30 p.m., but it was 6.20 before it pulled in. The bandsmen were in civilian attire, and thus were hardly distinguishable from the crowd which followed behind the regimental bands which led them to the Armories.

It was expected a formal ceremony of welcome on behalf of the city would be gone through there, but owing to a misunderstanding it did not eventuate, and the only welcome extended was on behalf of the local military.

REFORM SCHEME FOR OXFORD

Proposes Elective Principle and Abolition of Greek as Compulsory.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 29.—The reform of Oxford University is the subject of a long report by the Hebdomadel Council to-day. The most conspicuous of the report's recommendations are the abolition of Greek as a compulsory subject in the entrance examinations, and increased facilities for the admission of poor men to the university.

A student's diploma course for those contemplating a commercial career is recommended. The question of admitting women to degrees will be considered in the near future. Important changes in the government of the University are urged, and it is recommended that the elective principle be introduced.

FORTY DEPORTED AT QUEBEC

Foreigners Raised Great Disturbance Upon Hearing Their Fate.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, August 29.—Forty foreigners who were deported Saturday night by the steamer Catrona, acted like madmen in the Immigration Building, on finding out that they were to be sent back to their own country.

Both men and women shouted at the top of their voices, tore their hair, and resisted with all their might, the officers who were to place them on board the steamer. The unfortunate people were suffering from trachoma, and kindred diseases.

CORNER STONE LAID BEFORE LARGE CROWD OF UNITED CHURCH

Imposing Ceremony Saturday Opens Structural Work of First Presbyterian Church.

Before a large crowd gathered from all parts of the city the corner-stone was laid on Saturday afternoon of the First Presbyterian Church. Situated at the corner of Mance and Prince Arthur streets, the new structure will mark an important event in the history of Presbyterianism in Montreal, for its worshippers are the amalgamated congregations of St. Gabriel's and Chalmers.

Rev. Malcolm A. Campbell, pastor of the new church, pronounced the invocation, the lesson being read by the Rev. Robert Johnston, of the American Presbyterian Church. The stone was laid by Mr. John H. Scott, and the trowel presented by Mr. Hugh M. Watson, chairman of the building committee.

History Of The Churches.

An historical review of the amalgamated churches was read by Mr. Albert E. Taylor, chairman of the board of managers. This was in part as follows:—

"The congregation of St. Gabriel Church was organized on the 12th of March, 1786, under the name of the Scotch Presbyterian Church, largely by members of the 84th Highlanders, and the chaplain of the regiment. The Rev. JohnBethune was the first minister. In the year 1792 the congregation built and ocupied the church edifice on St. Gabriel street, which was erected on the high ground at the south-west corner of the Champ de Mars (where the new extension to the Court House now stands) and for over one hundred years services were held in this building.

"Besides the Rev. John Bethune, the ministers in charge of the congregation at various times included: Rev. John Young, Rev. James Sommerville, Rev. Henry Essen, Rev. Dr. Black, Rev. Dr. Leichman, Rev. David Inglis, Rev. Wm. Rentoul, Rev. A. F. Kemp, and the Rev. Robt. Campbell, D.D., who, inducted to the charge of the congregation on December 13, 1866, continued for the long period of over 43 years, until September, 1909.

"In the year 1886 the Quebec Government, wishing to enlarge the Court House, purchased the St. Gabriel Street Church property, and the congregation had to provide a new home. This was secured by the purchase of a church edifice on the south-west side of St. Catherine street, opposite City Councillors street. The congregation worshipped there until the month of June, 1909, when the property was sold. For some time previous it was realized that as that section of the city was becoming a centre of great business activity, the location was not as suitable for church purposes as it had been, the noises on the street by traffic often disturbing the services. A reasonable offer was then received for the proprty, which it was deemed wise to accept.

Organization of Chalmers.

The congregation of Chalmers Church was organized in 1872, the first pastor was the Rev. John Jones, M.A., who was in charge of the congregation until 1874. He was succeeded by the Rev. Wm. Mitchell in 1875, the Rev. Peter Wright in 1877, and the Rev. G. Colborne Heine in 1881, who was in charge and guided the destinies of the congregation until the end of last year, when, owing to impaired health, he resigned the charge.

The Chalmers Church was formerly on St. Lawrence street, near Prince Arthur street, in the centre of a splendid residential section, but the rapid growth of the city and changed conditions of the neighborhood caused the congregation to consider making a change."

So it was, that on suggestions made, these two congregations joined together and were now erecting an edifice that would accommodate them both.

A committee from each congregation was appointed to try and find a basis upon which the amalgamation might be brought about. An act to declare the dissolution of the trustees of St. Gabriel church and to incorporate the First Presbyterian Church of Montreal was prepared, approved by the Presbytery of Montreal, passed by the legislature of Quebec, and assented to on June 4, 1910.

On April 22nd the call to the Rev. Mr. Malcolm A. Campbell was made, who was finally inducted as the first pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Montreal.

Rev. Arch. Bowman, moderator of the Montreal Presbytery, conveyed the good wishes of that body.

Rev. Dr. Campbell, formerly pastor of St. Gabriel's, referred to the principles of Presbyterianism, instancing the breadth of its viewpoint.

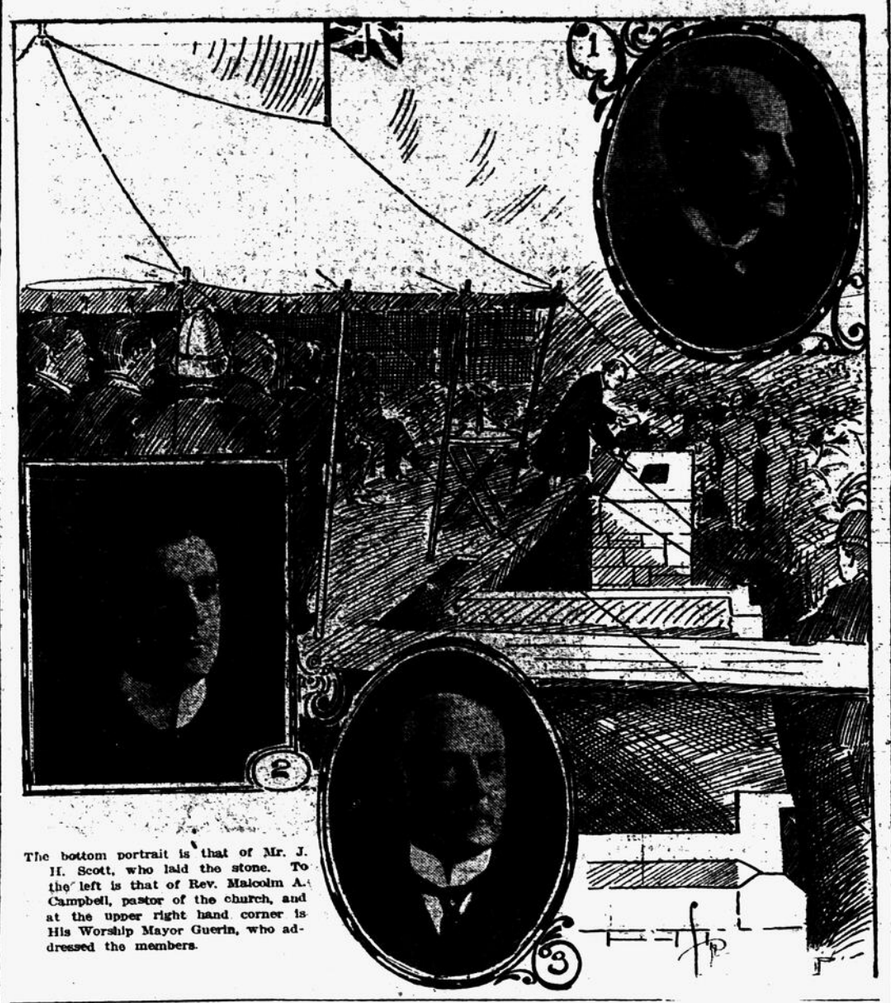

A Word From the Mayor.

Mayor Guerin said that Montreal was a city of different elements working for the same end. No matter at what altar men knelt, they had high ideals at heart and stood for the welfare of the community. He extended best wishes to the new church on behalf of the city.

The dedication prayer was said by Rev. W. T. Morison. Addresses were also given by the pastor, Rev. M. A. Campbell, Rev. G. Colborne Heine, Rev. John Lockhead, Dr. J. T. Finnie, M.D.L., and others.

The building of the new church, it is expected, will be completed by the early summer. With the site, the cost will be in the neighbourhood of $135,000. The style is pure Gothic. The foundation is of limestone and the superstructure of olive sandstone from the Wallace quarries in Nova Scotia. The capacity of the church is 1,000, with a Sunday school to accommodate 600. A special feature in the basement of the Sunday school is a recreation room for young men.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE OF THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The bottom portrait is that of Mr. J. H. Scott, who laid the stone. To the left is that of Rev. Malcolm A. Campbell, pastor of the church, and at the upper right hand corner is His Worship Mayor Guerin, who addressed the members.

MAYOR GAYNOR LEAVES THE HOSPITAL

New York Executive Barely Able to Walk Unassisted, But Continues Cheerful.

New York, August 29.—Mayor Gaynor was removed from St. Mary's Hospital in Hoboken, yesterday, to his country home at St. James, L.I. He bore the trip well, but his insistent plea to be allowed to walk unaided resulted in three distressing incidents. Once he sank to his knees as he tried to enter an automobile, and in ascending the steps of his home he fell on all fours from over-exertion. Despite his weakness, however, he maintained his cheerful mood and spent the afternoon reclining in a chair on the veranda.

He walked unaided from his room on the fourth floor to the elevator, and from the ground floor to the automobile, in which he was driven to a New York police patrol boat, waiting for him at a pier in Hoboken.

In entering the automobile, however, he over-estimated his strength and had difficulty in climbing on to the running board. His first step was feeble, and his knees bent under him at every step. With him rode Mrs. Gaynor, his son Rufus, Robert Adamson, his private secretary, his family physician, and Luke Clarl, an hospital orderly, to whom he had taken an especial liking.

At the dock where the police boat was waiting he walked across the gang plank and aboard the vessel without help, saluting the crew, which was drawn up to receive him.

Secretary Adamson said that for the present no operation for the removal of the bullet would be performed. The Mayor is still unable to make himself understood except with great difficulty, and he is still bothered with a cough, and has trouble in swallowing.

His physicians do not appear alarmed, however, and ascribe his weakness to his enforced confinement in the hospital. It is probable that his projected trip to the Adirondacks will be abandoned.

New York, August 29.—"Thank God my prayer is answered," exclaimed James K. Gallagher, in his cell in the County jail, Jersey City, last evening, when told by Warden Sullivan that Mayor Gaynor had been conveyed from St. Mary's Hospital, in Hoboken, to his home on Long Island.

"My prayers have been heard, warden," continued Gallagher. "I have prayed every night that the Mayor would be spared to his family. This is good news, warden, good news."

Then Gallagher resumed the study of his prayer book.

MONTREALER WINS SUIT FOR $2,175,000

Inheritance of Late Senator Fulford's Estate Settled—Remarkable Case Closed.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, August 29.— A big cheque for $217,500 is due to drop into the Provincial Exchequer, this amount being the ten per cent. succession duties on the estate of the late Senator Fulford, of Brockville.

This big estate of $2,175,000 has had a remarkable career since the Senator's death. Mrs. Charles W. McLean, a daughter, succeeded to the fortune, but on her death, an infant child came into the inheritance. Its death, however, followed a few hours later, and there was some dispute as to whether the father's claim to the fortune was valid in view of the infant's surviving its mother by so short a time.

A friendly action was brought before Mr. Justice Middleton to determine exactly the father's title to the fortune. As his Lordship decided that the facts gave the father a valid claim, the Provincial Treasury Department is now in no doubt as whose estate to tax, and the $217,500 will be taken, part this year and part next.

MR. REDMOND'S THREAT.

Unless Home Rule Granted Government Will Be Overthrown.

London, August 29.—Mr. John Redmond, the Irish Parliamentary leader, in a speech at Kilkenny, said if Premier Asquith did not fulfil his pledge to give Ireland home rule after the Lords' veto is abolished, the Irish party would put him out of office.

Mr. William O'Brien invaded Mr. Dillon's territory in Mayo and declared in a speech that the Government had never given a definite promise of home rule, but had fooled Redmond.

A resolution was passed, urging Americans to refuse to subsidize Redmond and O'Connor, who were going to the United States on a begging tour.

Stone-throwing, clubbing and firing off revolvers by the rival factions, with the concomitant broken heads, followed.

Sir Robert [illegible] at Quebec.

Quebec, August 29.— Sir Robert W. Perks arrived here Saturday morning on board the White Star-Dominion line steamer Laurentic.

Sir Robert stated that his visit to Canada was partly a holiday one and partly to look into his investments in the Dominion, located in the Maritime Provinces and also in the West.

'STREET' IS 248, WALL ST. LIST WAS BETTER

There was a marked improvement in the Wall Street list to-day, with prices advancing sharply on limited quotations.

The fluctuations in the cotton market attracted some attention. The August options opened at 16.95, jumped to 20.00, and then fell away to 18.04, making it one of the widest markets seen in some time.

Locally there was verp little doing on the whole. There were a few transactions in Street Railway and Steel, the latter being a little above the lowest level of Saturday.

"Scotia" was firm at 84.

Quebec Railway ruled on the firm side.

A First Mortgage 6% Gold Bond At Par.

The 6 p.c. First Mortgage Bonds of Canadian Cereal & Milling Co., Limited, are especially attractive as an investment, because the assets of the Company, which represent the security behind the bonds, amount to over twice the total bonds outstanding.

The present is a most opportune time for the investor to become interested in the Milling Industry of Canada by being a holder of these Bonds, because he will then share in the remarkable development the industry is showing.

The bonds are available to the small as well as the large investor, because they can be secured in denominations of $100, $500, and $1,000.

Price, par and interest yielding the full 6 p.c. Special circular on application.

OFFER 240 FOR 12,000 SHARES ROYAL BANK!

English Syndicate Makes Striking Offer to Union Bank Holders.

The Union Bank of Halifax have issued a circular to their shareholders communicating an offer received from an English syndicate of $240 per share for all the Royal Bank of Canada shares to which they may become entitled on the consummation of the merger of the two banks, November 1st next.

The amount of stock in question is 12,000 shares.

Royal Bank stock has recently been selling in the market around 240, and the offer from the syndicate to pay the market price for such a large amount of stock certainly indicates great confidence in the bank's future.

It is unlikely that many of the Union Bank holders will accept this offer, as they might find it difficult to invest the proceeds to better advantage, for, as already announced, Royal Bank shares go on a 12 per cent. dividend basis from January 1st, 1911.

The offer would mean an investment by the English syndicate of $2,880,000, were all the shareholders to turn over their stock.

Mr. E. L. Thorne, the general manager of the Union of Halifax, in his circular, says in reference to the offer:

"The Eastern Trust Company, acting on behalf of an English Syndicate, will purchase all shares of The Royal Bank of Canada allotted to the shareholders of this bank which any shareholder may wish to dispose of at the price of $240 per share, payment to be made for the same within thirty days after the said agreement shall have been approved by the Governor-in-Council."

AS IS OFTEN THE CASE.

So much has been said and written of the Lehigh Valley dividend increase that when it does finally come the shares are apt to flop.

Wall Street Brokers Not Earning Rent

Special to The Montreal Star.

Wall Street, August 29.—The average Stock Exchange house is not earning its rent.

Customers' rooms do contain a few regulars but even these faithful ones take little part in the daily round. The public have bought odd lots occasionally when sharp breaks have occurred, and books contain more orders considerably below the market. But that is all.

Were the professional gamblers in Steel, Union Pacific and Reading to take a holiday for one day the rest of the list would do well if it could show sales of 100,000 shares.

Speculation could not well be more essentially professional than it is at this moment.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET

J. S. Bache and Co.—It looks to us that this is the time for investors to pick up bargains. This cannot be done when the whole world is bullish.

Prince and Whitely—From present appearances it looks as if it (the rally) would extend further. On a scale up, however, we believe in sales.

Henry Clews.—Indications point to an irregular market for the next few weeks with politics, crops and money as the chief influences.

Oswald Bros. — Reports are coming to hand that Union Pacific is being accumulated. It is thought the stock has been over-sold on frost scare news of last week.

Fair Visitors to See a Big Nugget

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cobalt, Ont., August 29. — Toronto Fair visitors will be treated to the sight of one of the biggest and richest nuggets ever taken from the Cobalt camp. This nugget weighs close to three-quarters of a ton, and was blasted from No. 4 vein on the Temiskaming property.

LESS THAN 100,000 SHARES.

Sales on the New York Stock Exchange Saturday were the smallest of any Saturday since November 9, 1907, 99,170 shares, as compared with 98,759 on that day of after-panic stagnation.

TOPICS OF THE STREET

A man in Quebec wrote to his broker in Montreal a couple of days ago denouncing him because he did not send warning that Union Pacific was going down.

Which recalls the story of Pietro who had drifted down to Florida and was working with a gang at railroad construction.

He had been told to beware of rattlesnakes, but assured that they would always give the warning rattle before striking.

One hot day he was eating his noon luncheon on a pine log when he saw a big rattler coiled a few feet in front of him. His eyed the serpent and began to lift his legs over the log. He had barely got them out of the way when the snake's fangs hit the bark beneath him.

"Son of a guna!" yelled Pietro. "Why you no ringa da bell?"

The Canadian Power crowd are certainly to be congratulated over the smooth and noiseless manner in which they have secured such a grip on Street Railway.

The directors of the latter concern, it is true, have been lamentably slow in realizing the seriousness of the situation, and will only have themselves to blame if they lose the company.

The Star announced months ago that the Canadian Power crowd was buying "Street" stock, but the Street Railway directors wouldn't believe it.

Their argument was, first, that the Canadian Power crowd wouldn't have the audacity to secure control; second, that they were not strong enough to get it anyway.

They were not strong enough at that time, but Mr. J. W. McConnell made them stronger by roping in a lot of rich men to help the game along.

The Star still contends that the proposition is a good one for the people who hold Canadian Power stock, which didn't cost them anything, but a mighty poor one for the holder of Street Railway alone.

The Street Railway shareholder, if the deal goes through, practically loses his voice in the holding company, and incidentally his Street Railway carries the entire load of water which is the chief element in Canadian Power common.

The Montreal Power directors have also been inactive.

How is it those astute gentlemen allowed Canadian Power to loom up into their own preserves and get away with one of their best customers?

Will Send Coal Up the St. Lawrence

Coal production in Nova Scotia is booming at the present time, the only discordant feature being the labor trouble at the Springhill collieries, said Mr. E. R. Reid, general sales agent of the Maritime Coal, Railway and Power Co., who is in the city to-day.

Mr. Reid does not think the trade will take kindly to the proposals for reciprocity with the United States. The Maritime Company, which has not heretofore participated in the St. Lawrence trade, hopes soon to be able to do so, and will increase its output with that object in view. The output of the Maritime mines is now close to 1,000 tons daily.

The power distributing plant at the mouth of the mine, Mr. Reid states, is proving a profitable feature.

"Soo" to Build to U.S. Steel Co. Plant

The Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway has been granted a certificate entitling it to build a line of road in Superior from its present terminal to the docks. The Railroad Commission also granted a certificate to the "Soo" to build the Tomahawk Bay route, an extension of the line to the proposed plant of the United States Steel Corporation.

Just after her husband left her in their room in an exclusive boarding house on Montague Terrace, Brooklyn, to-day and went downstairs to breakfast, Mrs. Haidee Troy, 29 years old, wife of Willis Troy, shot herself in the breast with a revolver and died almost instantly.

BROKERS BID $25. PER 100 FOR PROXIES

The Street Railway directors met this morning and while nothing was given out for publication it is believed that the situation was carefully gone over and that the shareholders will soon have an official announcement in connection with the directors' attitude.

Opnion in regard to the strength of the Canadian Power syndicate is still very conflicting.

The big men in the deal are not saying anything but the smaller fry trailing on behind are claiming that the Syndicate now controls fully 45,000 shares of "Street" stock.

On the Stock Exchange 1-4 of 1 per cent. has been bid for Street Railway proxies which means that a holder of 100 shares would get $25 for his proxy.

One broker said that he understood $50 per 100 had been paid for some.

AIRSHIP BUSINESS BOOMING.

Malcolm Out With a Blast At Enemies

F. H. Malcolm, the famous western promoter, is to the fore again this time with a circular to the shareholders of the Central Canada Meat Packing Co., originally "Malcolm's Western Canneries Co." He wants the support of the shareholders so that he can sweep out the President and present directorate.

Malcolm speaks of the "great crime" of the present board in regard to finances, and explains that in the past he has been hounded by a bunch of designing grafters and cowards. His enemies are also liars, etc.

Dividend Up

As anticipated the Northern Ohio Traction and Light Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 3-4 of 1 per cent. on its capital stock.

The last dividend declared was 1-2 of 1 per cent.

Quite a lot of this stock is held in Canada.

Bancroft Hits Out Again at Detroit United

Appraiser F. T. Bancroft is out with another attack on Detroit United. Among other things he says:

The earnings of the D.U.R. have increased three times as fast as the population in the past few years.

The earnings of the D.U.R. in the city are now $25,389 per day.

The average increase of earnings to August 1 this year was $2,541 per day.

One day's earnings of the company's pays the salary of President J. C. Hutchins.

One day's earnings will pay 83 days of the present $300 per day rental charged by the city.

It takes 4.3 days' earnings out of each year to pay the entire rental charged by the city.

The increased daily earnings in 1910 will pay the corresponding daily rental more than 10 times over.

The D.U.R. has not built a mile of new track in 10 years.

Mr. Hutchins reported the number of cars in operation in the city in 1906 at 1,348. In 1908 Mr. Barcroft found only 1,110 cars, including all work cars, sprinklers, and every conveyance the company owned.

But the D.U.R. has passed all dividends since 1907.

It paid $500,000 dividends in 1901 on $2,919,000 of earnings. Without any visible increase in expense of operation, as judged from Mr. Hutchins' report of cars operated, the company failed to pay a cent of dividends on $8,047,554 earnings in 1909.

In 1901 the company set aside $675,343.75 to pay the interest on its bonded debt. In 1909 it was $1,880,129.19, showing an increase in the bonded indebtedness of the company in nine years of 184 per cent., without any increase in trackage in the city to show for it.

Increase in population in past ten years, 63 per cent.

Increase in D.U.R. earnings in same period, 212 per cent.

The question is now being asked by those familiar with the Street Railway situation:

"What has become of all the money and why have all dividends been passed for three years in succession?"

COTTON HIGHEST SINCE CIVIL WAR

New York, August 29.—Sensational as the fluctuations in the cotton market have been previously during the progress of the bull campaign which started last winter, they faded into insignificance when compared with the big jump in the price of August contracts this morning. Closing on Saturday at 16.82, after having sold at 16.07 on Friday morning, the first sale of August to-day was 16.95, and inside of half an hour the shorts were trying to buy at 19c a pound or 218 points ($10.90 per bale) over Saturday's close and at the highest figure reached since the civil war.

CHATS ON CHANCE.

Ocean grain space continues in good demand from Canadian and American exporters for prompt and nearby shipment. All the room from this port up to September 3rd has been pretty well closed out, and some engagements have been made for the following week, but at the present rates ruling agents are not disposed to book freely. The volume of business done last week was fair, and engagements amounting to about 500,000 bushels were made.

Rates are steady, with the exception of those to Liverpool and Antwerp, which have advanced 1½d to 3d.

TIN ADVANCED HIGHEST PRICE IN THREE YEARS

The tin trade throughout the world is excited over the sensational advance of £5 10s the end of the week, and Montreal prices were marked up 1½c per lb. to-day. Local dealers report the demand as steady right along.

Tin is the most erratic and the most manipulated of all metals, and not infrequently it presents dramatic situations. Foreign syndicates have controlled the situation for seven months, and hav ebeen anticipating such a movement as developed last week, but the largest dealers well covered their nearby requirements.

At London the advance from high to low point this year, the former being touched Saturday, has been £22 10s on spot and £15 12s on the three months' position. It is necessary to go back to August, 1907, to obtain a parallel with to-day's prices. In August of that year spot tin at New York was 36½c, which is practically the price to-day, while the London quotations was £165 12s 6d, compared with £164 10s to-day.

Good News; A Revival in Steel Trade

Special to The Montreal Star.

Pittsburg, Pa., August 29.—Last week saw an increase in bookings in nearly all lines of crude and finished steel, and heavier specifications on contracts. Revival was especially pronounced in the wire trade.

These harbingers of an active fall market came simultaneously with the influx of new enquiries for pig iron from the west, and considerable activity in coke contracting for the last quarter.

The outlook for the entire trade is brighter than at any time since last May.

CANADIAN BACON WEAKER.

London, August 29.—Canadian bacon, weak, and prices declined 6s to 11s, due to the poor demand for heavy weights and the excessive supply. Prices, 66s to 74s.

Liverpool, August 29.—Canadian bacon weak and prices are 4s to 5s lower at 71s to 75s.

Bristol, August 29.—Canadian prices weak and prices declined 6s to 8s to 72s to 76s.

BRITISH CATTLE PRICES.

John Rogers & Co., of Liverpool, cabled that to-day's Birkenhead market held firm at Saturday's quotations. Canadian steers, 13¾ to 14c per lb.; ranch steers, 11½ to 12¾c per lb.

Edward Watson & Ritchie, of Glasgow, reported 732 cattle on offer to-day, with prices for prime steers, 14c; current, 13 to 13¼c; secondary ranchers, 12½ to 13c; bulls, 13 to 13½c per lb.

LOCAL LIVE STOCK PRICES DECLINED

Cattle receipts at the Montreal Stock Yards West End market to-day were 1,200 cattle, 1,600 sheep and lambs, 750 hogs and 475 calves; for the week, 2,400 cattle, 2,950 sheep and lambs, 1,500 hogs and 925 calves.

Prices were steady all round, with steers ranging from $5 to $5.75; cows, $4 to $5; bulls, $3.25 to $3.50. Hogs sold $9.25 to $9.50, and sows $8.25; sheep brought $4; lambs $5.75 to $6.00, and calves $4 to $6.

Receipts at the C. P. R. East End market were 600 cattle, 900 sheep and lambs, 151 hogs and 125 calves; for the week, 1,625 cattle, 2,220 sheep and lambs, 312 hogs and 500 calves. Steers brought $4.25 to $5.25; cows, $3.75 to $4.75; bulls, $3 to $3.75; hogs, $9 to $9.25; sows, $8 to $8.25; sheep sold at $3.50 to $4; lambs, $4.50 to $5.50.

Crop Conditions Latest Ontario

Toronto, August 29.—The following statement regarding the condition of crops in the province, based upon returns of correspondents under date of August 15, has been issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Fall wheat may be classed as a good crop, although more shrunken grain is reported than in any of the last two or three years.

Spring wheat is steadily going out of favor in Ontario, and where grown it is confined chiefly to the "goose" variety. The yields per acre vary much, but will give a fair average.

The barley crop will be a good one, generally speaking.

On oats the bulk of the returns speak of the heads as being well filled and the grain as plump, and on the whole the crop will be a satisfactory one.

Rye is not largely grown for grain in this province, but where raised it has done well.

The pea crop has been rather disappointing, although in some cases remarkably good yields have been reported.

Hay and clover are relatively the best crop of the season, and would have been even better but for close feeding on pastures last fall. In almost every instance new seeding did much better than old meadows. Most of the cut was housed in good condition. Clover was remarkably free from midge, and as the second crop was looking well when correspondents wrote, the prospects for a good crop of clover seed were regarded as excellent.

COUNTRY CHEESE PRICES.

St. Hyacinthe, August 29.—Six hundred packages of butter, 23 5-8c; 900 boxes cheese at 10 5-8c.

Iroquois, August 29.—At the regular meeting of the Iroquois Cheese Board, held here to-day, six hundred cheese offered; all colored. All sold at 10 3-4c. The usual buyers were present.

London, August 29.—Six factories offered 1,045 colored cheese at to-day's market; 615 colored sold at 10 11-16c; 150 colored sold at 10 5-8c.

OVER 300,000 BUSH. WHEAT FOR EXPORT

The Canadian visible supply of wheat last week decreased 70,000 bushels to 2,641,000 bushels, against only 771,000 bushels a year ago.

Spot wheat at Liverpool was ½d higher to-day.

There were new purchases of wheat at Liverpool and Paris on rains in the United Kingdom over Sunday, which is delaying harvesting, and as a further bullish help there was an improved demand for both cargoes and parcels, which were firmly held.

One of the big local concerns reported no acceptance of wheat on offers over Sunday, and bids from France showed no improvement over those of Saturday.

Winnipeg reported 300,000 bushels of wheat for export, but this is unconfirmed. Local houses said to-day there were large lots of flour sold here Saturday for export at a higher rate.

Chicago Wheat Prices are Lower

From the special correspondent of The Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, August 29.—Wheat was unsettled, September sold at $1.00 1-2 to 99 7-8; December at $1.04 3-4 to $1.04 1-8, and March at $1.08 7-8 to $1.09 1-4.

The market was narrow at a fraction above and below Saturday's close, mainly above. Trade was influenced by the stronger European markets than by other news. Statistics were extremely bearish. Danubian, Russian and the total world's shipments were enormous. Total world's over 5,000,000 bushels greater than a year ago at 14,032,000 bushels against 8,992,000 bushels. Foreign wheat markets were higher with the single exception of Budapest, which lost 5-8c. Advances were shown of 1-3c. at Antwerp, 1 3-8c. at Berlin, 1 to 1 1-2c. at Paris and 3-4 to 7-8d. at Liverpool.

Visible Supply Increased.

The visible supply of wheat in the United States increased 2,635,000 bushels last week to 24,997,000 bushels compared with a total of only 8,262,000 bushels a year ago. The amount of breadstuffs on ocean passage increased 1,992,000 bushels during the past week, 637,312,000 bushels, against World's shipments showed a further increase, the total being 14,032,000 bushels against 8,992,000 bushels a year ago. Of the foregoing the continent took 8,608,000 bushels against 2,808,000 bushels a year ago. Chicago public elevator stocks increased 720,000 bushels for the week to 5,915,000 bushels against a total of 571,00 bushels a year ago.

AFTERNOON IN WALL ST.

New York, August 29.—Wall street, 2 p. m.—Prices increased late in the afternoon when the traders began to profit.

Reading and Canadian Pacific reached a point and other stocks about half as much.

OFFERED 100,000 BALES COTTON AT TOP LEVEL

New York, August 29.—The excitement in cotton kept up. At 20 cents, W. P. Brown, the floor leader of the bull party, offered to sell 100,000 August.

This relieved the strain and at the same time seemed to set a limit to the advance. Several of the big local spot people sold when they found that the bulls were willing to give the cotton at 20 cents per pound, and the pricedropped back to 18.20 almost as rapidly as it had advanced earlier in the day.

Only about 10,000 bales of cotton were sold at 20 cents. When the bulls made the ofer to sell such a large amount at 20 cents, the local traders apparently considered that this price would represent the culmination of the old crop bull campaign.

EXPOSITION RESUMES ITS NORMAL ASPECT

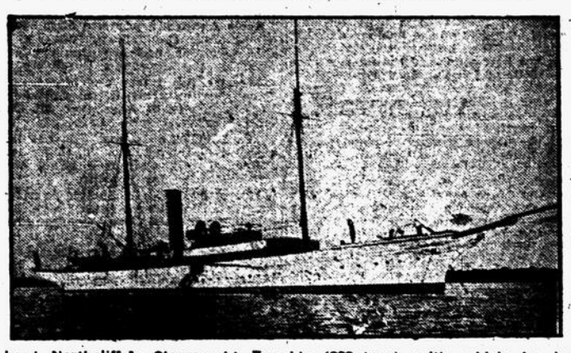

Work of Restoration at Brussels Exposition Now Almost Completed —Open to Visitors.

Brussels, August 29.—The full extent of the disaster by fire at the Brussels Exposition having now been ascertained, it is found that the reports of the loss have been somewhat exaggerated. There were only some ten of about 250 acres affected, which belonged to the British and Belgian sections, and these buildings are now in course of rapid reconstruction.

The exhibits from Canada, Germany, Japan, Holland, Italy, Brazil, and the pavilions erected by the principal cities of Belgium have not suffered in the slightest.

The Brussels Kermesse will, it is said, be completely restored by September 1st. The French section suffered comparatively little injury, while the Exposition de l'Art Francaise, consisting of Old Masters and priceless collections from the principal museums of the world, was untouched. The Exposition will remain open until November 1st.

BRAKEMAN PASSED NO EXAMINATION

Evidence in Battle Creek Inquiry Taken by State Railroad Commissioner.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Battle Creek, Mich., August 29.—That he knows practically nothing about the first principles of railroading, had never passed any kind of an examination, and had refused employment as a conductor because he did not think he knew how to run a train, was the admission made by G. M. Graham, brakeman on the ill-fated Grand Trunk passenger train No. 14 to State Railroad Commissioner Scully her Saturday night.

Graham testified at a private inquiry in the afternoon, held before the Grand Trunk officials here, and he declared his evidence given then was the same as given to Commissioner Scully.

"I have only worked for the Grand Trunk since the 25th of last July," said Graham, "and never did any ever did any railroad work before. I came here to accept a position as a strike-breaker, but I am not married to the job, and have refused to go out on the road since the accident. When I accepted the position I did not fill out a written examination paper, and was not asked to. I did not know the law required that one be made out, as I knew absolutely nothing about the business; it was for this reason I declined the offer of the company to go to work as a conductor. I told them a brakeman's job was good enough for me.

"When I went back to flag No. 14 I went back as far as I could walk in five minutes, carrying two lanterns with me, one red and one white. I could see No. 14 standing at Durand station a mile away. When she came close enough to see my lamps I began to swing them both together, the red and the white, but the train never stopped, and I only stepped from between the rails in time to save being run down. Then the crash came, and I walked back to see what I could do."

The State Railway Commission will send out orders for every person who has the slightest connection with the operating of the trains last Wednesday night to appear before it at an early date, when a public investigation will be held.

BIG ENTRY LIST AT SHERBROOKE FAIR

Everything in Full Swing To-day at the Eastern Canada Exhibition.

Sherbrooke, Que., August 29.—The twenty-sixth annual fair under the auspices of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, opened Saturday morning.

The first day was devoted to the placing of the stock and the exhibits in the large main building. The entries in the horse section are larger than any year since organization, it having been necessary to double up in some instances.

The Belgian horses, which have just arrived, are a fine lot, and will prove a great attraction to horse lovers.

In the cattle section entries are large grade cattle being in excess of former years. In the sheep and swine sections entries are fully up to the average, and some fine specimens are shown.

In the poultry department entries are numerous, one fancier stating that he questioned if the same quality of birds and in as large a number could be gathered anywhere in the Dominion.

The work of preparing the exhibits in the main building has been rushed during the past few days and now presents a finished appearance.

The exhibits in the transportation and other buildings have all been set up and are in readiness for the opening.

The Milway is well filled and no doubt will be a great attraction for both old and young. The attractions on the platform in front of the grand stand have been carefully selected by the management and promise to be above the standard of other years.

Judging commenced at 10 a.m. today, and will proceed until all the awards are made.

Good Racing Is Promised.

Sherbrooke being in the International Circuit of Vermont and Eastern Canada, the racing should be first class. There will be four stake events. Besides these the management are putting up two good purses, making eight events in all. The following is the race programme for Tuesday:—

LOCAL COTTON DEALERS ON THE COTTON SHORTAGE

Declare Public Will Have to Pay Dearly for the Work of the Speculators.

Sensational conditions burst like a bombshell across cotton dealers, and all auxiliary branches of the industry to-day.

Cotton rose 218 points this morning.

Not since the days of the Civil War in the United States has any such altitude record been reached in the market.

Cotton dealers are practically in a panic about it, and while the general public may not realie the condition and have not felt anything pinching yet, it means that the cloud has risen and that they will have to dig down deeply into their pockets for many months to come before the present shortage of cotton has past.

Even next year, the experts declared this morning, the cotton crop will be far below normal. What will the retail price of cotton goods rise to? That is the question for the general public, and it is one question where the conditions on 'Change should be of widespread human interest.

Just what the effect of the present rise in prices mean was explained this afternoon by an official of one of the local cotton companies.

"Cotton," he said, "is in the hands of a few speculators. They are simply squeezing the August crop—squeezing everybody who is short on cotton. The speculators who have control of cotton can put the prices up wherever they like. It may not affect future months so badly. The present situation concerns the August crop, from which people got closed out. All the options have to be closed, of course, by the end of the month.

"It is a bull situation, aggravated by the terrible shortage in this year's cotton and because next year's cotton will bse under the normal crop."

It is a remarkable fact that the manufacturers and the jobbers in Montreal have not felt the situation nearly so keenly as has been the experience in the United States. Only to-day did any unprecedented situation arise.

The cotton stock in Montreal is very short as it is all over the world, and the dealers say that only now two months that the obbers have had bers beginning to realise that the high prices have come to stay. The bookings for next spring show that people will have to, and are prepared to, pay high prices for some months to come.

Of course, the consuming public have not felt this yet, because the wholesale people in Montreal bought large stocks last fall when prices were lower, and their stock has been pretty complete. It was only within the last and the retail merchants and the jobto buy at the new prices, and, therefore, the retail prices to the men and women who have to buy cotton garments have not yet reached the level which the present cotton market dictates, as, of course, the retail market only feels the conditions several months afterwards. The change, however, will come about right away.

The public must realize it. This is what the experts say.

WALKED IN TO TEST PIT IN THE DARK

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cobalt, Ont., August 29.—The body of Herbert Long, a pioneer of the camp, was found on Saturday night in a test pit, near his solitary camp on the Ghilies limit.

Long had not been seen for eight days, but he was a man of irregular habits and his absence did not cause uneasiness until Saturday, when his partner in some mining schemes came back from Pittsburg with several capitalists and required Long's consent to a mining deal.

The trenches and pits on the property where Long's shack stood were searched, with the result that his body was discovered. Long evidently had walked into the pit in the da-

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	$70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	$15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100·00 each

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment

Another Cardigan Book.

London, August 29.—Notwithstanding the protests of a string of female friends, the aged, but vivacious Countess Cardigan declares she is engaged upon a further instalment of her reminiscences, which will shock society more than her first and famous effort. The book is expected to be published in December, when this remarkable old lady, with her indiscreetly sharp memory, will celebrate her eighty-eighth birthday. Already timorous society folk are saying in view of the book's publication, with dolorous accents: "And we thought we were going to have a merry Christmas."

PERSONALS

Marriott—Chillas.

St. Mary's Church, Beaconsfield, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Marjorie Chillas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Chillas, of Montreal, was married to Mr. George Cecil Marriott, of Montreal, formerly of Toronto. The decorations in the church, which were carried out in yellow flowers, were very effective. Three arches of golden glow and golden rod were arranged in the aisle, and the same flowers were banked about the altar. The Rev. Canon Ellegood, of the Church of St. James the Apostle, performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely gown of white embroidered chiffon over ivory satin with bugle and pearl trimming on the corsage. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a gold filagree bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom's mother, and she carried a bouquet of Jardine roses and maiden hair ferns. The maid of honor, Miss Gwendolyn Holland, and the bridesmaids, Miss Eva Sharing, Miss Molly Draper, Miss Estelle Letendre, and Miss Brenda Chillas, were gowned alike in yellow crepe de chine with garniture of gold insertion, the drapes bodice fastened with buckles of black panne velvet. They wore Charlotte Corday hats of black moire trimmed with shaded yellow cowslips and long black streamers, and carried gilt baskets with the handles ornamented with French bow knots of black panne velvet and filled with golden glow. They each wore a pendant in the form of a jewelled basket, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. Ralph Chillas, brother of the bride, was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. William Lynch, Mr. Jacques Sherring, Mr. Hal. Draper, and Mr. Clifford Howard. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a seal coat. The best man received a silver-mounted cane, and the ushers mother of pearl waistcoat buttons. Mrs. George Chillas, mother of the bride, wore a gown of ashes of roses crepe de chine with tunic of black sequins and bugles with a black mohair hat trimmed with black wings and crushed roses. Mrs. Harold Chillas (Toronto), was in grey satin striped grenadine with yoke of silver tissue covered with rose point, with silver ornaments and touches of shell pink velvet on the tunic. Her hat was of black chiffon with pale pink plumes. Master John Chillas, white man of war suit. Little Miss Joan Chillas wore a dainty white frock with pale pink brocade sash and bonnet with pink forget-me-nots. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Chillas at Pointe Claire, and later Mr. and Mrs. Marriott left for a trip to New York and other American cities, the bride travelling in a delf blue rajah costume with touches of gold and large mohair hat to match, with Persian trimmings and bronze ornament. DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE TO VISIT MONTREAL AND EAST.

A committee representing the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire at Toronto, is preparing for an organization trip through the Maritime Provinces during the coming month. They will visit Montreal, Sherbrooke, St. John, N.B., Moncton, Halifax, Truro, Sydney, Charlottetown and Newfoundland. Last year the committee made a tour of the west where eighteen new and enthusiastic Chapters were formed.

The motive in mind when the Order was formed was to do a woman's part in creating amongst the women, and in the schools, the spirit of patriotism equivalent to that which the Naval Conference and Imperial Press Congress aroused amongst the men.

The Imperial Order has over 125 Chapters in Canada alone, besides members in the West Indies and the British-born women in the United States and a membership of 10,000 women and children.

This organization is non-party, undenominational, and seeks but to arouse a mutual interest in the divers parts of the Dominion and instil into the minds of the young pride in Canada as part of the Empire.

When searched at the police station he was found to have a $20 travellers' check in his possession, on the American Express Company, payable to W. B. Sharpe, a traveller from England. A pocket-book and letters belonging to Mr. Sharpe were also found.

Birch, when arraigned before Magistrate McMahon in the Westmount Police Court this morning, admitted having got the cheque, letters and purse from Sharpe, but that he only picked them up when they fell out of the man's pocket.

The boy is remanded until September 2nd. In the meantime enquiries are being made for Mr. Sharpe, who is asked to claim his cheque at the Westmount Police headquarters.

QUEEN'S OWN AT ALDERSHOT

Toronto Regiment Given Magnificent Welcome.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, August 29.—Although arriving at Aldershot very late, the Queen's Own Rifles were not disappointed at their reception. When the train steamed in it was the signal for roars of cheers from a great crowd, which did not cease until the regiment had reached Rushmoor. Sir H. M. Pellatt was met by General H. M. Lawson and a large staff, and Chairman Underwood and members of the Urban Council. Lady Pellatt received a bouquet.

In replying to the council's address, Sir Henry M. Pellatt said the world knew Aldershot was the magnet for soldiers of the Anglo-Saxon race. That was why the Queen's Own Rifles were there. The Queen's Own Rifles was only one unit, but they represented a citizen army ready and willing at any time to come to the help of the motherland when required.

Five bands played the regiment to camp through decorated streets lined with enthusiastic spectators. No regiment ever had such a welcome at Aldershot.

Visit Carries Significance.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 29.—The Express says the visit of Canada's crack regiment is an event of real Imperial significance and assures the Queen's Own Rifles of the warmest welcome.

The Standard regards the event as a further step towards that federation of the purposes of defence whereon the future security of the Empire must depend.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux in a message to the Express says he feels the Queen's Own Rifles is making a historic trip, and that their presence at Aldershot will forge another link in Imperial unity.

GAYNOR SENTIMENT STRONG.

Chances of Democratic Candidate Considered Good.

New York, August 29.—A canvass of the state by the New York Times has resulted in findings which that newspaper will summarize to-day, as follows:

"So strong and so general is the Gaynor sentiment that it has caused a lull in the discussion of other names which had been considered for the leading place on the Democratic State ticket. Both in its nature and in the element among the voters which holds to it the Gaynor sentiment is closely akin to the feeling for Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Governor Charles E. Hughes when they were before the people as candidates for office or for nomination."

MACHINE FOR OTTAWA CREW.

City Council Will Probably Make the Presentation.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 29.—The Ottawa City Council will probably present the Ottawa eight-oared crew, which is going to Henley next year, with a rowing machine for winter training. The cost would be about $500. Mayor Hopewell announced that the Henley trip is now assured.

A New York laborer, John Roach, fell from an operating table in that city yesterday and broke his neck.

EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

The Canadian Pacific will sell round trip tickets from all stations in Canada, Sharbot Lake, Renfrew and east, also from stations in Maine and Vermont, from the 5th to the 11th of September, good to return until the 15th September, at one-way first-class fare. Round trip tickets will be sold from Montreal to various points at single fare for the round trip on presentation of transportation certificate.

SAVED THE BABIES IN ST. LOUIS PARISH

Of Ninety-three Cases Treated, Only Seven Died and Most Very Sick.

Yesterday, at all the masses in St. Louis Church, Mile End, the pastor, Rev. Canon Le Pailleur, thanked the doctors who had so unsparingly given their best efforts to the free dispensary of the parish. They gave from July 5th to August 27th 369 free consultations, and treated 93 infants, most of whom were in a very serious state. "Out of these ninety-three," said Father Le Pailleur, "only seven died. These figures spoke eloquently in favor of our dispensary. They prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that the wholesale slaughter of our infants during the summer months was due te ignorance. Compare Montreal's appalling death-rate of infants during the summer months with ours and tell me has not our undertaking proved a most qualified success? We have saved the little ones and proved how they can be saved."

Father Le Pailleur, encouraged by the marked success of the Free Dispensary, intends to open a permanent one, on a larger and more improved scale.

DRANK LINIMENT AND GOT SO STRONG THAT THE POLICE HAD TO BE CALLED

Suffering from the effects of poison, Moses Leiboss, aged 48, was taken to the General Hospital yesterday afternoon, from 7a Vallee Street.

Leiboss had not been well of late, and a doctor left two bottles of medicine, one for internal and the other for external use. Leiboss evidently took up the wrong bottle, and swallowed a dose of liniment.

The first notice the other boarders had of Leiboss's condition, was when he became violent. Policemen had to be called in to keep the man down. He fainted before the ambulance was called, but at the hospital, when antidotes were administered, he again became violent as he recovered consciousness. He improved sufficiently during the night to put him beyond danger, and will be out in a day or two.

Shooting Fatality at a Ball.

Marianna, Ark., Aug. 29.—Two negroes were killed and three others injured while John Russell, a white man, was fatally shot, at a dance at Raggio yesterday. News of the fight reached Marianna nearly 24 hours later, when a negro came for coffins.

Russell attempted to end a quarrel between Mack Harvey and his wife. Russell left the dance hall, and when he returned with two officers to arrest Harvey, Harvey started shooting. More than 50 shots were fired.

Fearing that international complications would ensue from the continued attacks of the populace on the Bogota City Railway Company, an American concern, the Municipality of Bogota has bought out the company, paying $860,000 for it.

LATE MR. R. SQUIRE HALL.

MR. R. SQUIRE HALL DIES AT SARANAC

Had Been Afflicted With Lung Trouble for the Past Two Years.

Death came to Mr. R. Squire Hall while at Saranac for his health. He died at 2.30 Saturday morning. Mrs. Hall stated to The Star this morning that her husband retired Friday evening feeling well and that he awakened at 2.30 in the morning with a hemorrhage, from which he died shortly after.

Mr. Hall was obliged to retire from work two years ago at the Montreal High School on Peel street, on account of lung trouble, but at late had showed remarkable improvement.

Deceased was a son of the late Rev. William Hall, and was born in 1868, educated at Sheffield College School, England, and later at McGill University here, where in 1890, he took his B.A. degree. He became a teacher in Victoria School, St. Luke street, after his graduation, and later became one of the masters in the High School, where he continued for sixteen years, when failing health compelled him to live at St. Agathe and Saranac. Mr. Hall was a most adept teacher of French. Last September a report on Mr. Hall's resignation was read by the rector of High Schools, in which deceased was referred to as follows:

"After teaching through the month of September 1908, our senior French master, Mr. Hall, was compelled on account of ill health to discontinue work. It was a great blow to him and an equally great one to the Boys' School. Mr. Hall was an enthusiast in his work, and spared neither time, money, nor energy in making himself proficient in the French language and in the newest methods of teaching it. He had, moreover, a high sense of the function of a teacher in the training of character. He was thus able to enter his classes with a thorough knowledge of his work and with high motives, the result being that he became a teacher of marked influence and power, and that his absence from the staff is greatly regretted by his colleagues and his pupils.

Mr. Hall took an active part in sport. He not only encouraged boys to play games, but also played them himself—football, hockey, golf, curling.

Mr. Hall married Miss Mary Dods, daughter of the late Mr. P. D. Dods.

The funeral will take place to-morrow at 3 o'clock from 417 Mount Pleasant Avenue, Westmount.

SPANDAU REPORTS CHOLERA CASES

Stringent Precautions Against Spread of the Disease are Being Taken.

Spandau, Prussia, August 29.—The death of a woman and the illness of her husband and of a male attendant at the hospital, all suspected cholera cases, have caused the healt hadministration of Prussia to take the most comprehensive precautions against a spread of the infection.

All of the hospital attendants where the woman died have been placed in quarantine, as have fifteen families in a tenement building where the family lived. The powder factory where the husband was employed has been disinfected, and his fellow workmen placed under observation.

Professor Lentz, chief of the Bacteriological Bureau of the Government Institute for Infectious Diseases, says that there is no doubt that the suspected cases are cholera, the origin of which has not been traced.

Far-reaching measures are being taken to prevent a spread of the disease. The authorities are preparing notices to the public suggesting that drinking water be first boiled, and that particular care be exercised in the use of cold foods and fruits.

The public is assured that there is no danger of infection through the air or from simply being in the vicinity of the outbreak, and that it is only through direct or indirect contact that cholera is likely to be contracted.

The Cholera Association for First Aid, and the Red Cross Society have prepared for a possible epidemic with a large enrollment of physicians and nurses and improvised ambulances.

Physicians have been asigned to duty at all the railway stations along the frontier so that they may give immediate attention to arrivals showing symptoms of illness.

FELL FROM CAR BUT NOT BADLY INJURED.

Slipping from the step of a street car while the car was still in motion, Oscar Marion, aged ten, of 1982 St. Denis Street, sustained injuries about the head, yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the Royal Victorian Hospital in an unconscious condition. The boy, however, recovered sufficiently during the day as to allow the parents to have him taken home.

AMBITIOUS PLANS FOR MONTREAL'S NEW OPERA SEASON

Cavalieri, Nordica, Maurel, Renaud, and Scotti Will All Be Heard Here Soon.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, August 29.—Plans for the first opera season in Montreal are now so far advanced that the chief artists have been engaged by Albert Jeannotte, the Montreal musician who spent last week in this city. Not all of the performances are to be given in French. Some of the operas will be in Italian. It is probable Mme. Nordica will take part in the opening performance, although that has not been settled.

The season will begin in October at His Majesty's theatre, and will continue ten weeks. In accordance with the present plans, there will be Italian and French opera every week. The syndicate back of the scheme has bought ground for a permanent home for a Montreal Opera company. That will be ready at the opening of the second season of the company.

Signor Jacchia, who was conductor of the season of Italian opera at the Academy of Music last fall, will be the first conductor in Montreal. Associated with him will be Herman von Wehnschaffer, who has become well known in South America. He is now in Buenos Ayres, and has frequently appeared with Luigi Mancinelli as his assistant.

Edmond Clement, French tenor, who was last season in the company at the Metropolitan Opera House and comes back this year to sing in concert under the direction of Loudon Charlton, will be one of the tenors for a series of appearances. Mme. Ferrabini, who was one of the Rhinian singers at the Academy last fall, will also be one of the sopranos.

Arrangements have been completed by which Mme. Cavalieri, now of the Boston Opera company, will sing in Montreal. It has almost been settled that Victor Maurel shall appear there, also in the title-role in Verdi's "Falstaff." Both Maurice Renaud and Antonio Scotti will sing in Montreal.

One of the purposes of the new organization is to introduce to Canadian music-lovers some of the newer works of the operatic repertoire, and it was originally intended that the operas performed should be only novelties. That was found impossible, but it has been settled that at least ten new works will be sung. Among these are to be "Falstaff," "LeJongleur de Notre Dame," "Les Contes d'Hoffmann," "Tosca," "Werther," "Chopin," "Louise" and "L'Amico Fritz."

There will be a chorus of fifty voices. Of these thirty are local singers who have been studying their music for some time past. To them will be added twenty trained choristers from this city.

An orchestra of forty-five will also be made up of players from New York and Montreal. The Metropolitan Opera Company has offered to help the organization.

OUR LONDON LETTER

(From the Special Staff Correspondent of the Montreal Star, resident in London.)

London, August 19.—The holiday season is upon us now, and the King and Queen with the young members of their family have left for Balmoral. No man in his kingdom has earned a holiday better than His Majesty. It is three months since he ascended the throne, and during that time he has accomplished as much work as would satisfy the average industrious citizen in a year. All who can are now leaving London, and the traffic has been especially heavy to Scotland which is always a popular holiday ground at this time of the year. On the eve of "The Tweifth" trains had to be duplicated and even triplicated by all the four main lines. Big motor-cars have been transported by the score, but fewer dogs are being taken as the sportsmen seem to do less and less tramping about the moors each following season. Grouse-shooting is becoming more and more of a tea-party, the sportsmen taking up comfortable quarters, where they quietly wait until the birds are driven up to them by the beaters. But while there is this exodus, there is also an invasion. Bloomsbury has become for the moment the fashionable centre, and is crowded with visitors from the Dominions overseas and the United States. And this forms a great contrast, say to Hyde Park, where the visitor may count, along the park thirty or forty houses successively that are shut up. Well has this time of the year been called London's "Second Season."

Madame Melba, as the cable will have informed Star readers, has left for New York, in readiness for her Canadian tour which begins at Halifax next month. The distinguished artiste has just completed a brief provincial concert tour in this country, and at Harrogate, Scarborough, and Llandudno she received great ovations from the largest audiences ever drawn together at these centres. At Covent Garden this season the Melba nights have completely eclipsed all other performances, and in her final performance of "Boheme" the well-known critic Mr. Alfred Kalisch, states that she sang the "Addio" so perfectly that that alone would have ensured her undying fame. On her Canadian tour which will be under the direction of Mr. Frederic Shipman, so well known in Australia and now sole manager for Madame Nordica, Madame Melba will be supported by Miss Ada Sassoli, Mr. Albert Quesnel, Mr. Lafarge, and Mr. John Lemmone, of Sydney, who played the flute at her debut. After this tour the diva will resume her old place as chief artiste of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, and she will also sing at the Opera in Chicago. All Canadians will be interested in the fact that for her big English concert tour in the spring of 1911, she has engaged Mr. Edmund Burke, who has won many triumphs at Covent Garden during the past season.

We have all read here of the statement of Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Government engineer on the Grand Trunk Pacific, that 8,000 more laborers could be used on the construction of that railway if they could get them. At the Grand Trunk offices here it is explained that although the removal of the emigration restrictions in the case of railway laborers going to Canada would undoubtedly help to facilitate the obtaining of men, there is no organization in London for recruiting labor. The railways can only say to applicants that they know that labor is wanted, but they cannot enter into any contract with railway construction men themselves, since all the work is in the hands of contractors. If the men are to be recruited in this country, it certainly seems absolutely essential that there should be someone over here to guarantee work to those who apply to be taken on, as men will not go out on the chance. As time is precious and the need for labor great, since it is declared that the completion of the line will be indefinitely delayed unless men can be found, it is a great pity that some organization to deal with the matter has not been already started. Mr. Scott, the Immigration Superintendent, has stated in this country that the ordinary English-speaking laborer becomes absorbed when the work for which the men have been engaged is completed.

The visit of the King to Canada two years ago, when as Prince of Wales he went to Quebec for the Tercentenary Celebrations, has been recalled this week by the recommissioning of the great armoured cruiser Indomitable, flagship of Rear-Admiral Colville, commanding the First Cruiser Squadron. This has been her maiden commission, and her first duties on hoisting the pennant were to convey King George to Quebec. It will be recalled that on her journey home she performed a great steaming feat, and that the King himself helped in the stoking operations. She will continue to serve as flagship of Admiral Colville, whose squadron includes three Dreadnought cruisers.

The forthcoming erection of a building on the vacant site in the Strands will put put an end to the garden of wild flowers which has existed in the very heart of the metropolis. Many have known of this growth of vegetation, but few people have had any idea of the extent and variety of the flowers which have flourished on this large piece of land. Over twenty-one varieties have been tabulated by a writer in "Country Life" and they include: Coldsfoot, Dandelion, Silverweed, Rushes, Poppies, Bracken, Hollyhock, Sunflower, Nasturtium, and Balsam. And while writing of flowers I am reminded that in 1913 an international flower show is to be held in London. Requests have been made to the British Oversea States and Dependencies throughout the world to form sub-committees, and several foreign bodies have also agreed to participate. It is hoped to hold the show on the week in which Whit-Monday and Derby Day fall, and it will continue over eight full show days.

Quite an interesting problem has been raised by the official announcement that the Royal Mint has suspended the issue of half-crowns and florins owing to numerous complaints of the comparative scarcity of shillings and sixpences. What is the cause of this lack of "small change." The most widely accepted view is that thousands of poor people all over the country have slowly saved these small amounts week by week for their holiday. This has been a common habit in the north of England, but it is stated to be growing in the south. Probably the dearth will only be temporary. The suspension of the circulation of the larger coinage will cause the banks, when paying out silver, to give the larger proportion in small money.

FREIGHT RATES ADVANCE INQUIRY

Opened at Chicago To-day — Two Hundred and Two Transportation Lines Interested.

Chicago, August 29.—Nineteen lawyers, representing big western railway systems, were present to-day when the Interstate Commerce Commission began its hearing of testimony before the advance in railroad rates scheduled to go into effect November 1. The hearing involves 202 transportation lines in western trunk line, trans-Missouri, and Illinois Freight Committee territory, as well as the shipping interests.

According to President Miller, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy line, the larger lines will not urge poverty as necessitating rate advances. Mr. Miller said that business necessity and expediency, rather than "verge of bankruptcy" arguments, will be made. The shippers have been organized to fight the proposed schedule for some time. The campaign is being directed by a joint sub-committee of traffic experts, headed by F. B Montgomery, of Chicago.

The shippers claim that the railroads have padded records of their operating expenses, in order to make it appear that an advance in freight tariffs is demanded by common justice to investors in their securities.

Swam Long Distance.

Seven or eight swimmers pulled themselves out of the river on to the landing stage at Dominion Park about half-past three yesterday. Four of the swimmers had swum to the park from St. Helen's Island, Bob Zimmerman, of the M.S.C., and Kerry, of the M.A.A.A. covering the distance in an hour and fifteen minutes, while Addison and Lyons, both of the M.S.C., who followed them to the finish, did the course in an hour and twenty-five minutes.

Ogden, Utah, August 29. — Richard Dwyer, the California horseman, has leased the Ogden half mile race track, and will open a 30-day meeting here on September 22. Horsemen with their strings now racing in Montana are expected here. The leasing of the Ogden track followed the action of the Utah Jockey Club in calling off its announced thirty day fall meeting at Buenavista track in Salt Lake. This meeting was made impossible when the City Council passed an ordinance prohibiting pool selling and book-making within the city limits.

Dr. Carlos Medoza has retired as candidate for the presidency of Panama.

The Toronto Exhibition opens to-day with all exhibits and shows in readiness.

THE KAISER HAS RAISED A STORM ABOUT HIS HEAD

Some Talk of Civil War—The Chancellor is Silent—European Criticism.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, August 29.—The Herald's Berlin correspondent cables—Koenigsberg appears to act upon the Kaiser like a powerful stimulant. Here it was, in September, 1894, that he proclaimed his unalterable belief in his divine right to rule. Here on Thursday last he delivered another speech charged with dynamite, a speech full of faith in himself as the Lord's chosen instrument and of disdain for modern Liberalism.

If the Kaiser's first Konigsberg speech created a sensation, his second has unchained a storm throughout the Fatherland. Indeed, to judge from the foreign telegrams published in German papers, His Majesty's declarations are being animatedly discussed and very generally combated throughout Europe.

Many persons believe that the German people and aristocracy are lining up for a battle for the right to govern and that civil war may be the result.

Not Surprised at Outburst.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, August 29.—A London cable to the Times says:—Friends and critics alike of the German Emperor are in no wise surprised by his outburst at Koenigsberg. It has been a matter of wonder to all who know him that he has been able to keep his pledge of silence for nearly two years. After all, he said nothing new. His superstition about his divine right as a ruler is absolutely sincere. It is, in fact, the keynote of his life.

The popular outcry and resentment which has been aroused was, of course, inevitable. It will take shape in the first place in a demand to know if the utterance had the sanction of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg. Emperor William promised Prince Von Buelow in December, 1908, that in future imperial utterances should first be submitted for the chancellor's approval. Nobody believes that Bon Bethmann-Hollweg viewed the Koenigsburg speech, but it may be necessary to save the Emperor by the assumption of responsibility on the part of the Government.

Chancellor is Silent.

An attempt to draw a statement from Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg concerning the Kaiser's late divine right speech at Koenighberg has failed. He replied by telegraph to the inquiry, that he had no communication to make.

The Vorwaerts, the Socialist organ, announces that the Socialist mass meeting fixed to be held here Tuesday to consider the meat regulation, will discuss the new Kaiser crisis. The paper reiterates its demand that the Reichstag be instantly summoned to deal with the Emperor's proclamation of personal government and to order him to return to constitutional limits.

SAYS STRIKE CONSPIRACY.

Justice Goff Angers Gompers by Decision Against Cloakmakers.

New York, August 29.—Parades of protest broke out all over the East Side Saturday, on receipt of the news that Justice Goff had ruled in the State Supreme Court that a strike to enforce the closed shop involves a conspiracy in restraint of trade. There was no violence, but unrest and anger were everywhere visible among the strikers.

Justice Goff's decision granted an injunction to a member of the Manufacturers' Protective Association in restraint of acts of violence, threats, picketing and patrolling by strikers. "The primary purpose of this strike," reads his finding, "is not to better the condition of the workmen, but is to deprive other men of the opportunity of their right to work."

Washington, August 29.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was greatly stirred by the decision of Justice Goff. Mr Gompers said:

Justice Goff quotes an unjust decision in support of his own and that is supposed to be good law. The unions of labor will live, despite injunctions and decisions which invade constitutionally guaranteed rights and human liberty. Without the unions there is no possibility for protection to the workers against the tyranny of the absolute, autocratic ways of concentrated capital and greed."

BELLEVILLE MEN KILLED.

Collision in Railway Yards Results in Two Fatalities.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Belleville, Ont., August 29.—A terrible fatality happened just east of the local Grand Trunk Railway station on Saturday by which two men lost their lives. The men killed are Peter Young, an engineer, and Ed. Browen, a car tapper. An immigrant special train ran through a switch, it is said, crashing into a yard engine.

Young was about 22 years old, very popular, and a well known baseball player. He was married.

Browen was a man of about fifty years, who had not been working long on the Grand Trunk Railway. He leaves a grown-up family.

Oberammergau Player Arrested.

Munich, August 29.— Albrecht Birling, who wears his hair very long, because he plays the part of John the Baptist in the Passion Play at Oberammergau, was arrested here Saturday on suspicion of being a woman.

The police have been on the watch for a woman murderer, and Birling's long hair made them think he was the slayer in disguise. At the police station he proved his identity and was released.

Salt Palace Destroyed in Utah.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 29—Salt Palace, a structure built of salt and one of the scenic features of Salt Lake City, was destroyed by fire to-day, entailing a loss of $35,000. Defective wiring was the cause of the blaze. Salt Palace had been used for a number of years as an amusement resort, and its bicycle course track was one of the finest of its kind in the world.

What "Rea" Stands For In Merchandise

WHAT DOES "REA" MEAN TO YOU WHEN STAMPED ON A PIECE OF GOODS

When the English Government stamps a piece of silver "sterling," everybody knows the silver has been weighed and tested and found to be "sterling" before being marked.

"Rea's" Means Exactly That, and, Perhaps, a Little More.

Instead of half a dozen people to test it—there are two thousand eyes and hands, and a thousand alert clear brains seeking to keep out things undesirable.

"REA" Marked on a Piece of Goods, is the Stamp of Quality

The "AEREA" is the name of certain articles of superior quality which co-operation with the makers enables us to sell at moderate prices.

We sell no "second" merchandise, except a few instances where the flaws will not hurt its service, and where the fact of its imperfection is plainly advertised in the papers, and clearly told to customers when purchasing.
