Queen And Prince Philip Happy As They Embark On Royal Tour

A happy augury at the start of the Royal Tour of Canada, brilliant sunshine burst through fog to greet Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip as the royal plane landed at St. John's, Nfld., to open the cross-country tour.

The Queen, happy and laughing, and her husband, relaxed and informal, were welcomed by Governor-General Massey, Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland.

For a time during the flight from England there was a possibility they would land at alternative airports in Newfoundland or on the mainland, but this was not necessary.

Queen Elizabeth told Premier Smallwood she had known about the fog threatening to upset arrangements.

"I got a good view of it along the coastline and I can appreciate the worry and problem it has been," she said. Then she laughed.

"But I'm so happy that when we reached here the sun had broken through."

Villagers Cheer
The Queen and Prince Philip next day flew to the heart of Newfoundland, landing on a specially-constructed dirt air strip at Deer Lake to be greeted by villagers cheering and waving Union Jacks.

At Corner Brook they visited the giant newspaper mill of Bowater's and on Saturday they were at Stephenville.

At the Corner Brook newspaper mill the Queen appeared poised and relaxed as she entered the dryer room filled with the roar of machinery. The temperature in the room was about 92 degrees, but Elizabeth appeared cool as she chatted with Sir Eric Bowater and company officials.

At Deer Lake the Queen and Prince Philip smiled warmly as strains of "God Save the Queen" came from a handful of brightly-polished instruments of the local Salvation Army band, most of them teen-agers including an 11-year-old trumpet player.

The Newfoundland visit was the start of a tour that will take the Queen and her husband to some 135 Canadian cities, towns and hamlets, including such places as Yellowknife and Whitehorse.

The central feature of the tour, the official opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, comes next weekend when the Queen joins President Eisenhower at Montreal for the official ceremonies at the St. Lambert lock.

Journey From Hamilton — Montreal Via St. Lawrence Seaway
Mr. Eric Brown is deeply interested in boats and marine life, so he could not resist an opportunity recently to help bring a new tug boat from Hamilton to Montreal, along the new St. Lawrence Seaway.

The tug had been purchased by Evans McKel, a friend of Eric and who rents tugs and boats to the Seaway Authority. A contract had been made to have the tug delivered by a certain date, but delays occurred in getting delivery from the builders at Hamilton. Thus when it was ready, he decided to go after it and bring it down the Seaway himself. He therefore asked his friend Eric if he would assist him. It took no great persuasion for Eric to go on the trip and they went to Hamilton by train and left there with the tug at midnight on June 12th.

Of all steel construction, the tug was about 40 feet long, powered by a diesel engine. As everything was new, speed had to be kept down until the running process had been passed. However, the tug averaged about 12 miles per hour for the entire 400 mile trip from Hamilton to Montreal. Seven locks were negotiated and Eric was of the opinion that the operation of the St. Lawrence Locks was more quickly and much better managed than those at the Montreal end. It took only minutes to go through the former locks, but hours to go through the latter. On leaving Hamilton they crossed Lake Ontario in some rough weather and had time to test the seaworthiness of the tug. They went by way of the Murray Canal and the Bay of Quinte, which provided some very beautiful scenery. There is much development around Iroquois, where a Seaway Park is being developed and a museum is being erected and equipped. There is also an old time town being erected for tourist attraction. Eric also noted that boat houses have been built at different points, to house sail boats. With their high peaked roofs they look like a number of churches with tall spires. Also along the way he noticed two castle-like buildings which had been erected about the 1920's by multi-millionaires and placed in spacious and beautiful grounds. He said that people travelling by road would never see much of this beauty as they are hidden from view except by the river traveller.

Navigation took up most of the time of the two men as they travelled night and day in order to meet their deadline. Sleep was not possible all the time as the tug was tossed about, quite a bit by stormy weather and due to the fact that no load was being carried. The name of the tug is "Willmac". The course was followed by the use of charts.

Child Knocked Down By Car On Chateaugay St.
Two accidents occurred in Town the past week and in one a child received injuries, but not of a serious nature. The first occurred on Chateaugay Street near the Henderson bridge, on June 18th, at about 7:55 p.m. Gordon Foster of Huntingdon was driving on Dalhousie Street and coming onto Chateaugay Street, when a collision occurred with a car driven by Mary Fawcett, Huntingdon, who was driving on Chateaugay Street west to Henderson bridge. The Fawcett car amounted to about $75.00 and to the Foster car about $40.00.

The second accident occurred on Chateaugay Street, outside No. 88, on June 21st, at about 11:25 a.m. Jules Richard, Huntingdon, was driving his car west to east on the street, when Guy Deschambault, 21, year old son of Mrs. Leonard Deschambault, of 107 Chateaugay Street, ran across the street. The child came from between parked cars and almost into the path of another car, which almost hit him, but still continued to cross the street. The Richard car could not avoid him and knocked him down. Dr. George Lefebvre was called and he took the boy to the Huntingdon County Hospital for attention. It was found he was suffering from contusions on the face and left hip, and from shock, but was not seriously injured.

A usual program of softball and baseball games will be played, together with children's races, and speeches. People are invited to bring along their picnic lunches and them on the grounds, while they enjoy a get together with their friends and neighbors.

John C. Lefebvre Addresses Rotary Club On Role of The Reporter

At the Huntingdon Rotary Club meeting on Monday, John C. Lefebvre, editor of La Gazette, Valleyfield - Beauharnois, addressed the meeting taking as his subject, "The Community and The Reporter". La Gazette and The Cleaner are both publications owned by The Huntingdon Cleaner Inc., consequently what Mr. Lefebvre had to tell pertained to La Gazette in particular but is equally applicable to the field of effort served by The Cleaner.

The Community and The Reporter
It is a recognized fact today that the businessmen and leaders of industry are meeting more reporters than ever before. There is more real news of business, industry, sports, social life and so on in the papers today than at any time in our history. This applies to the daily field and the weekly press. To members of the Fourth Estate, it is a known fact today that there is excitement in each and every phase of the newspaper profession. Thus, the public is made aware of what is taking place in each and every corner of the community.

There was a time, some years ago, when businessmen and manufacturers did work for themselves and for themselves, concentrating their activities strictly on a "at home" basis. This situation is now completely reversed. You will recall that in World War II many leaders in business and industry were drafted in important government posts while others were asked to sacrifice time, money, personnel and effort to assure the success of the Allies.

This challenge of events in times of crisis forced businessmen and manufacturers to plunge into civic affairs and charitable concerns everywhere. Reporters played an important role in making this fact known far and wide.

Today, reporters cover about everything in any community and are no longer wishing to promote civic well-being but are indifferent to the press. In such experiences, businessmen and manufacturers have gained — often for the first time — real knowledge of the press and how it works.

Meeting the press, here in Huntingdon or in Valleyfield or anywhere else, is a very ordinary happening, at least from a reporter's point of view, and it should be likewise with our business people. It may happen on a planned basis or again in such emergencies as fire, drives, the death of a prominent citizen, during a strike or when a new product comes off the assembly line.

There are other aspects of the press which should be of interest to you, such as advertising, free space, and the rules of the game. At our newspaper office in Valleyfield we are often questioned as to the position of the advertiser in his contacts with the press. Let me hastily say that there are very few good advertisers who make it a point to ask for free publicity. He is not entitled to any special consideration nor does he expect any.

The economics of newspaper publishing are such that advertising revenue represents the main basis of any or actually pays a large part of the cost. The newspaper cannot live without advertising.

The advertiser retaining paid space in a publication is entitled to exactly as much space as he pays for — and no more. To most newspaper men in the weekly or daily field, asking for a news story on the basis of an ad is like asking for a complete car when you buy a motor. Such news stories are labeled "free advertising". Economically, they are unsound.

Most of you would be amazed at the numerous requests we receive, day in and day out, for free publicity. Let me hasten to acknowledge the fact that there are some organizations who are always welcome to use our news columns. We even go so far, at times, as to make regular contacts to make sure the projects at hand attain the measure of success anticipated. I can enumerate many in Valleyfield who have regular access to our news columns and I am sure there are some in Huntingdon.

There are promoters in Valleyfield, and you must have some in Huntingdon, who think that newspapers are there to accept free advertising. They generally try to sneak releases past the reporter or editor. When they are caught, they act as if they did not realize the situation. Our municipal governments have the responsibility of refusing permits to these fast promoters whose sole purpose in your community is to make a "fast buck" at your expense.

In our business, there are people who have notions of suppressing unfavorable news and influencing editorial policies and opinions. I will not delve in this domain because I have been away from direct contact with the people of Huntingdon too many years.

In compiling the regular news for our newspaper, we must contact every week about 100 people. It is comparatively easy to handle these news items because our contacts know what we want and we know what they will give us.

In the political field, we are at times harassed by would-be politicians who are convinced that their favorite candidates cannot succeed without their help. In the last provincial election, we received a letter to the Editor from a resident of this district. In his letter he insulted one of the candidates, endeavored to destroy his reputation and so on. The letter was filed. The following week we received another letter from the same source in which he stated, and I quote: "I am sorry that I did not print my letter last week. Use this one. I am today convinced that the opposite party is the right party."

During the last strike at Montreal Cottons, we received our share of letters from cranks and fanatics and phone calls from people who generally had no connection whatsoever with the labour dispute. One of these calls came from a former resident of Huntingdon.

To come back to the subject at hand, it should be pointed out that we have rules in our game. Health testing also is required. Then the candidates again must come before the board which will decide on their commissioning and assignment.

Previously, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter had been among 260 volunteers listed in the United Society's Department of Missionary Selection and Training. Now they join those of candidates status. There are 60 candidates in training at present.

The United Society plans to add to its overseas staff as many of the candidates as it can, depending upon its financial resources and the availability of qualified personnel. The board now has 245 missionaries and 2,180 nationals employed in churches, schools and hospitals in 11 countries outside the United States and Canada and in several union missions in other areas.

Mr. Hunter has been a student minister at Winnipeg, Manitoba, and Clarksville, Indiana, and full-time pastor at Bloomingdale, Mich., and Petoskey, Mich., the latter being his present position.

Mr. Hunter is a native of New-Longrange, Scotland. He attended the Toronto Bible College, 1946-49, and the University of Manitoba, 1950-51. He received the B.A. degree in Religion in 1952 at Butler University, Indianapolis, and the M.A. degree in History and Theology in 1954 at the same institution. A former Lieutenant in the British Army, Mr. Hunter has been a student minister at Winnipeg, Manitoba, and Clarksville, Indiana, and full-time pastor at Bloomingdale, Mich., and Petoskey, Mich., the latter being his present position.

The Hunters have four children, ranging in age from eight years to 18 months.

adverse to this fact because they realize that news must follow its natural course. The editors and reporters do get annoyed, however, when releases are sent to the daily press for publication before the weekly hits the street. Such a gesture, in my estimation, is a lack of courtesy to the weekly press and a shortage of public relations on the part of the industry or business establishment concerned. These same releases could be forwarded to the daily press after they have appeared in your local centers.

A Record To Be Proud Of

The Shawinigan Water & Power Company have for many years promoted and needed the rules of "Safety First". In the conduct of their safety first movement within their company they make it a must that the employees attend with regularity these safety first meetings and demonstrations. The Shawinigan Water and Power Company has 13,000 employees, and for four consecutive months not a single employee has suffered a lost time accident. This is indeed a remarkable achievement and one all of us, P. Co. employees should be justly proud of.

Art Exhibit Proves Another Success — Sculpture Attracts Many

The Art Exhibit of the Chateaugay Valley Artists' Association, at Grove Hall, Huntingdon, on Friday and Saturday last week, was another successful event. There were 16 exhibits from 37 exhibitors, four of whom were from Malone, N.Y.

There was a very fine selection of paintings and other art work on view and it is well that it was not a competition, for it would be very hard to place them for prizes. We could not attempt to describe them all, but one or two stood out as something different from what had previously been seen here. There were two which were exhibited by Miss Katherine Dillon, one called "Design For Stained Glass Window".

Other pieces of carved wood and pasted into place to form what looked like a stained glass window, was very well done. The other was that of a Gorilla's Head and titled "The Thinker". This was done in clay or some such substance and upon looking at it showed a gorilla's face with the expression of deep thought. Miss Dillon has several other exceptional exhibits on view. Mr. Willem Ditch, an employee of The Cleaner, had three exhibits, but one in particular was an original and done in cubist form. This was a study of the modern trend of art and painted in cubes to form the picture. It showed a person sitting in a chair and reading. The model, we understand, was his sister. It is a type of art which does not appeal to everyone, but which is quite clever nonetheless.

Mr. John Byers gave a very clever demonstration of the art of sculpture, having Mr. Francois Cleyn as his model and doing a sculpture of head and shoulders. This was carried on as far as the likeness stage and he made an excellent reproduction. This was done in a very short space of time which proved the ability of this man.

Tea was served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Huntingdon County Hospital and this end of the exhibition was very well patronized. While it had been hoped that more artists would be attending to witness the sculpture demonstration, the ladies were certainly there in good number. The hall was nicely filled from early afternoon.

Mr. Peter Rhodes, pianist, provided soft music which added a pleasing touch to the general atmosphere.

Proceeds amounting to $127.00 went for the benefit of The Huntingdon County Hospital.

Red Cross Drive Nearing Minimum Objective Of $2,000

The Red Cross campaign is rapidly nearing its objective of $2,000. Further returns up to June 18th, show the sum of $1,757.22 collected. Thus there is a matter of $242.78 needed to reach the minimum objective and it would seem that it passes this mark when the campaign closes.

To Fence School Grounds-Tenders For Building Too Low, Refused

An adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon High School Board of Commissioners was held at the school, on Monday evening, with all members present.

A number of bills were passed for payment and tenders for the Walsh House and for the sheds were opened and read.

Two tenders were received, one for the shed on Monday and one for the house and shed. For the shed, $75.00 was offered. For house and shed, $300.00 was offered and in each case the area would be cleaned up.

The Board discussed this at some length, feeling that the offers were far too low and that there was far more value in each. The tenders were therefore not accepted.

It was decided to have a fence erected all around the school lot with gates at suitable points and of a size considered necessary at such points. A price was submitted by the firm that erected the other part of the fence, of approximately $1,800. This was accepted and it was decided to notify them when ready for the fence to be erected. It was also decided to get the correct line of the school lot so that the fence is erected at the proper bounds. It will also be necessary to have the buildings out of the way and the ground levelled before the fence is erected.

A representative was present to submit prices on tables for the cafeteria and it was decided after much discussion to order 18 tables of the type shown.

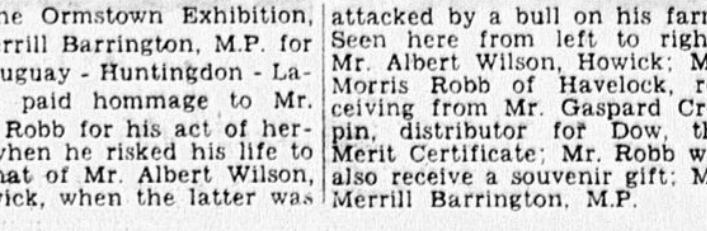

Discussion then centered again on the house and shed and it was decided to see if any other offers could be secured. Some members of the Board felt there

In Memoriam
PILON — In memory of Wayne Pilon, accidentally killed June 19th, 1952.
Time speeds on, seven years have passed. Since death its gloom, its shadows cast. Within our home where all seems bright. And took from us a shining light. We miss that light and always will. His vacant place there's none can fill. Down here we mourn, but not in vain. For up in heaven we will meet again. Ever remembered by, Mommy and Daddy.

Watch the Short, Shorts!

CANADIANS visiting in Plattsburg, N.Y., should pay particular attention to their attire, especially the ladies.

We read in a news item published in the Malone Telegram of June 12th, that a new law instituted by Plattsburg, bans the wearing of short shorts by persons over the age of 16.

There are similar laws in some parts of Quebec, but they are not too strongly enforced in this day and age. The law in this province prohibits the wearing of shorts or bathing suits outside a certain distance from a beach or similar place.

Canada is blamed for many things, but is quite lenient when it comes to her visitors breaking the law. Usually a caution is given, but stronger measures are not used unless the offence is continually practiced in defiance of law and order.

Our Students Bend Their Heads and Concentrate

THIS is the time when the students of the schools in this area as well as in others, have been concentrating on their examination papers and by the time this newspaper is being read, will have completed the task.

School work is not altogether a matter of win or lose, much depends upon the ability of the student to understand and absorb the knowledge that has been imparted throughout the year.

It is therefore with this in mind that we strongly urge students who are graduating this year, to study the possibilities of furthering their education at the more advanced institutions of learning.

In cases of that kind there are loans and bursaries which fill the gap and can be obtained for worthy persons. Scholarships are also offered, but these usually require a very high standard of pass marks and the student must continue to attain high marks after being awarded such.

At the present time a campaign is being carried on with the aim of having students continue on for a longer term of education. It has been pointed out from time to time that in some other countries there is an abundance of scholars in the higher educational field and this is not good for our own progress.

Rotary Nurse's Fund Popular Vehicle

SINCE the inception of the Huntingdon Rotary Club plan for helping young girls to take training as a nurse, applications have been in the one's mostly, with an odd time two, and sometimes there being no applicant.

Next year, 1960, promises to see a big change for there are possibilities that there will be seven applicants for the benefits offered.

As is known by the general public, the Rotary Club, since starting the plan, has held an annual Duck Race. With the money raised from this event, the fund was started and it has been replenished each year from the annual funds raised.

In view of the fact that this large number of applicants in 1960 is a distinct possibility, the fund will need all the support it can get.

the fact that they have not yet reached the required age to commence training. The Rotary Club is not obliged to accept this number of candidates in one year, but if at all possible it would be the appropriate thing to do in view of the great need for nursing staff.

The girls would benefit from being able to embark on a career for themselves, the hospital would benefit from the fact of keeping up the staff and the public would benefit from the services these young people would be able to give at the end of their training.

Such a project is surely worth the effort on everyone's part to accomplish. It actually requires little more than some additional support in subscribing to the sale of tickets for the fund. In place of buying one ticket, buy two or more — it is just that simple.

Canadians Greet Their Queen

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious summer by this smiling great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria, Elizabeth the Second! She comes at a time of disappointment with the international conference at Geneva, where wise men of the East and West had great argument, about it and about, yet ever more came out by the same door wherein they went.

The Queen comes from the Old World to the New, from a land with a history reaching back to the declining days of the Roman Empire, from which Britain inherited the art of government and the urge for colonization, which culminated in a greater Empire than Alexander or Caesar ever dreamt of.

The Canadian Constitution under the British Crown is not something that has been imposed upon the people of Canada by a foreign power, as in the case of, say, Poland and other Russian satellites. The French people of Quebec might claim that they were subjected to British rule by conquest; but their position after that conquest can not be compared with that of Poland today.

Quebec was consulted, along with the other provinces, in drawing up the Act of Confederation. That Act assured to the French people their traditional rights, religious and cultural, including the preservation of the French language. Under Confederation with allegiance to the British Crown, Canada was united and has progressed from a colonial status to her present position as the leading member of the Commonwealth of Nations: from an agricultural and lumbering colony to a growingly great industrial nation with the second highest standard of living in the world.

That is something of which all Canadians should be proud, and which they should do their utmost to preserve. To preserve it Canadians fought in two world wars side by side with Australians, New Zealanders and other sons of the Commonwealth. Even the United States, by entering those wars, showed that they felt that the Commonwealth and all it stood for was worth preserving. After all, was not the United States an offspring of the British Empire? Almost the whole of the North American continent was a British colony before the Declaration of Independence, and the fact that the Republic was established with so little forethought interference, and is today a friendly neighbour of Canada is in itself a tribute to British world statesmanship.

Canada today is as independent as the United States, and in addition we are linked through a Commonwealth of Nations in our loyalty to an historic Crown under which, since "the spacious times of great Elizabeth", civilization has been extended to the ends of the earth. — LONG LIVE THE QUEEN!

Bank of Montreal Introduces A New Family Finance Plan

MONTREAL — Development of a new form of consumer-finance loans by the Bank of Montreal, providing facilities for Canadians to consolidate all of their credit-buying under a single life-insured loan, with a monthly payment, was announced today by the bank's president, G. Arnold Hart.

Personal loans under the new arrangements will be made for practically any purpose in amounts up to $3,500, while repayments will be scheduled over periods up to three years, where required. Such loans will be automatically life-insured.

Many of the loans will be made on an unsecured basis, although chattel-mortgage and other types of security may be taken where such collateral is normal. The main consideration in making loans will be the customer's ability to repay, without hardship, from regular income.

Interest will be six per cent a year on the actual outstanding balance, plus a charge to cover the cost of processing and service. Mr. Hart explained, adding, "The overall cost to the customer of a loan under the new plan is lower than generally prevails for consumer-financing in Canada and is particularly attractive for a life-insured loan. Special Feature The B of M plan includes a special feature which Mr. Hart referred to as "ever-ready credit". Under this provision, the customer may arrange for a standby personal credit, based on his income and commitments, and available for his use at any time. He is thus free to make purchases at will and issue cheques on the spot up to the limit of his prearranged credit.

"The bank's new plan will by no means be restricted to loans for the purchase of items normally bought on instalments, but will also be readily available for many other purposes such as medical and dental bills, education expenses and vacation costs," Mr. Hart said. "Neither," he added, "will the plan be confined to purely family purchases, but will be equally at the disposal of the single person."

Prediction — Seaway Traffic 25 Million Tons In First Year

Traffic on the St. Lawrence Seaway, new main street of the Canadian economy, is expected to reach 25 million tons in its first year of operation.

With more seagoing trade flowing further inland, traffic patterns will begin to rearrange themselves. It's hoped this will lift the prosperity of a vast section of the continent, thousands of miles from the Atlantic Ocean.

Total Seaway trade is expected to increase to some 45 million tons by 1968, although some authorities are forecasting a much higher figure — even 52 million tons by 1965.

Taking the 45 million estimate as being most realistic, here is a breakdown of potential:

DOWNRIVER—18 million tons, including 10 million tons of grain and grain products, three million tons of soft coal, 1.5 million tons of iron and steel.

UPRIVER—26 million tons, including 20 million tons of iron ore.

Most British shippers expect little change in the movement of grain this year. Within the Great Lakes it will be carried by traditional lakes with ocean-going ships picking up European consignments at Montreal and other St. Lawrence River ports.

Lake Erie ports likely will be the main loading centres for grain-carrying ocean tramps.

Eventually total tonnage moved through the Seaway will be determined by costs in relation to other modes of transportation and the waterway's capacity. — (Financial Post).

Food Costs — $22.70 Per Week

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics recently conducted a survey of the food costs of families in five Canadian cities, and it was found that the average family spent $22.70 per week on food, or an average of $6.56 per person. The representative study of eight different family sized groups showed these expenditures:

Table with 2 columns: Food Item, Percentage. Includes Meat and fish (28%), Fruits and vegetables (15%), Dairy products (12%), Bakery and cereal products (12%), Fats and oils (5%), Eggs (3%), Frozen Food (1%), Other groceries for home use (12%), Foods purchased and eaten away from home (12%).

1743 families were studied, for four weekly periods, or a total of 7,195 weekly grocery baskets. The family incomes of these families varied from $2,500 to $7,000 for the preceding 12 months.

The Week At Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — The well-publicized Exchequer Court Judgment involving John Pallett, government whip in the House of Commons, has led the Commons into a series of sharp exchanges approaching, if not equalling, the uproar of the 1956 pipeline debate.

In an unprecedented ruling last Friday the Speaker of the Commons, Roland Michener, tossed out as being unjustified Opposition leader Pearson's call for immediate House debate on his demand that Mr. Pallett's actions be investigated by a Parliamentary committee.

Mr. Michener ruled Mr. Pearson's motion carried no privilege that it did not justify priority over all other House business. But he left the way open for debate as an ordinary motion later, and Prime Minister Diefenbaker offered Monday as a date. Mr. Pearson readily accepted, after first appealing the Speaker's ruling.

The latter was the first such appeal from a ruling by the Speaker since the pipeline debate. Mr. Michener was sustained by a vote of 131 to 32. Mr. Pallett, silent throughout the House hubbub, did not vote.

The controversy centres on a June 4 Exchequer Court judgment rejecting as too high the land valuation set by J. E. S. Clark, Mr. Pallett's Peal riding political organizer who was appointed an appraiser in a Malton, Ont., land-expropriation case.

The judgment said Mr. Clark testified he worked under instructions from the Conservative whip to place as generous as possible a valuation on the properties in question.

During the discussion last week H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) said Mr. Pearson was on "the soundest moral grounds" in seeking the inquiry. It was only fair to Parliament and the people to remove "the miasma of suspicion, bewilderment and dissatisfaction" surrounding the case.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he would always uphold the dignity of Parliament but would not allow "in our country that something to occur which brought about devastating effects on responsible government in another country whereby individuals were tried by television, where evidence was introduced by innuendo and hearsay."

This appeared to be reference to the investigating tactics of the late U.S. Senator Joseph McCarthy.

At one point, when the prime minister attempted to interrupt Mr. Pearson, there were Liberal cries of "another dictator" and "closure" — terms reminiscent of the pipeline hassle.

Senate on Taxes The imposition of a tax by government order-in-council rather than by Parliament has drawn the ire of the Senate.

For the last 35 years the cabinet has been imposing a tax on exported electricity. This session the government decided to put that taxing power into the executive act, and therefore under Parliament's wing.

Once through the Commons, the change drew a host of representations to a Senate committee. Power companies argued against it, saying they did not want to be "locked to a fixed rate" — as would be the case with their change — until they can see where they are going.

The Senate committee went along with the idea, asking for a 13 to 12 vote that the Upper House reject the proposed change. The Senate as a whole just as easily turned down the committee's suggestion.

"Not Proper Way" Liberal Senator David Croll said Swedish industrialist Axel Wenner-Gren and other power interests had tried to bypass Parliament. "To permit that would be a blunder of the first denomination."

Senator Walter Aseltine, government leader in the Upper House, appealed to the senators not to succumb to the urgings of a special interest but to affirm that "a tax to raise revenue by order-in-council or by regulation of the cabinet... is not a proper way in which to raise revenue."

He said those fighting the tax "wanted to set up a lobby of something of that sort in an effort to prevail on the cabinet to do away with the tax altogether. That in my opinion would amount to the bypassing of Parliament... and I for one do not want the Senate to become a party to that kind of thing."

Rural Retreat Every great statesman from King Solomon to President Eisenhower has had a country residence.

Now, at last, Canada's prime minister is to have one. Last week all parties in the Commons heartily endorsed government legislation, prompted by the Opposition, to give Prime Minister Diefenbaker a quiet country lodge in the Gattineau Hills about 25 miles north of the national capital.

The two-storey, seven-room lodge was built in 1925 on the shore of Harrington Lake at a cost of $100,000. The National Capital Commission bought it eight years ago for $232,000. (Continued on page 11)

Constitutional Rights Denied

The Huntingdon Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses learned Sunday, June 14, that Jehovah's Witnesses in Argentina have been denied their constitutional rights of free assembly and worship. A vote of protest was taken and plans discussed to petition the Argentine Republic to correct the restrictions laid on the Christian group's activities.

Mr. Keffer, the local congregation's presiding minister, said that in spite of many liberal advancements made by the present Argentine government that ousted the dictatorial Peron regime, a few non-Catholic religious groups that were declared illegal by Peron have yet to be recognized by Argentine's constitutional president, Arturo Frondizi.

According to Keffer, two different applications for recognition were denied by the "Ministry of Worship," a department of the government formed by Peron to control the registry of all non-Catholic religions in the country. Furthermore, two futile appeals have been made to the present government to rescind the order denying Jehovah's Witnesses the right to register. The latest appeal was made following a new decree signed by Frondizi on February 6, 1959, giving non-Catholic religions full right to worship God as guaranteed by Article 14 of the Argentine Constitution.

Keffer said that more than 6,000 Jehovah's Witnesses in Argentina began circulation of a petition addressed to the president of the Argentine Republic requesting recognition un-

Powerscourt

POWERSCOURT — Athelstan Presbyterian Ladies' Aid was entertained on Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Ross and Mrs. Stewart Ross. During the work period the ladies worked on a quilt. In the absence of the President, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. David Watson. Plans had been made for a food sale, but this sale had to be cancelled, owing to various circumstances. A delicious salad was served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Lyon and three children of Ottawa, Ont., were Sunday guests of their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood, and attended the afternoon service at Powerscourt.

The sympathy of this community is extended to Mrs. Gordon McClatchie in the loss of her mother, the late Mrs. Forrester.

A letter of congratulation and good wishes to the Powerscourt congregation was read on Sunday from Rev. James Woodside, as it and one from Mrs. Conrad came too late for the special services. Mr. Woodside wrote of his continued interest in the little church where he served so faithfully for a period of 15 years.

Mr. W. McHardy and John visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarke in Montreal, on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood attended the Fleming-Dawson wedding at Dundee, on Saturday.

Opening Of St. Lawrence Seaway
By Her Majesty The Queen
And President Eisenhower

Her Majesty the Queen and President Eisenhower will formally open the St. Lawrence seaway at ceremonies beginning at 11 a.m., June 26.

The historic event will take place at the eastern approaches to St. Lambert Lock, across the St. Lawrence River from Montreal. President and Mrs. Eisenhower are scheduled to arrive at RCAF Station, St. Hubert, south of Montreal, about an hour before the ceremonies begin. The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will drive from Montreal to St. Hubert to meet the President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The Queen and Prince Philip will leave the royal yacht Britannia at Montreal's Laurier Pier at 9:15 a.m. and proceed to St. Hubert by the following route: north on Desery to Notre Dame, west to Delorimier, north on Delorimier to Lafontaine and on to Jacques Cartier Bridge and Highway 9 to St. Hubert, arriving at 9:45 a.m.

The presidential party will travel from Washington in two aircraft, the first arriving at 10 a.m. and the "Columbine III" carrying the President and Mrs. Eisenhower, at 10:05.

As the "Columbine III" arrives, a 21-gun salute will be fired in honor of the President. He and Mrs. Eisenhower will be welcomed by Her Majesty and Prince Philip and by the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker. Air Vice-Marshal W. R. MacBrien, Air Officer Commanding, Air Defence Command and Group Captain A. M. Jardine, Officer Commanding, RCAF Station, St. Hubert, will welcome the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to the Air Station, following which the President will inspect an RCAF guard of honor.

The Queen and Prince Philip and the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will leave St. Hubert at 10:30, traveling by way of Highway 9 to Lafontaine and Highway South, and thence to the ceremony site, arriving at the entrance to the site at 10:50.

The official ceremonies will be centered at the western end of a 300-acre area bordering the approaches to St. Lambert Lock. The imposing her Majesty and the President will enter the area toward the eastern end and proceed along a raised roadway, or mall, to the official platform.

The scene at the site will be one of colour and pageantry. The mall will be flanked by the house flags of shipping companies whose vessels sail the Seaway; United States and Canadian bands will be present and arrangements are being made to provide a full programme of entertainment during the period prior to the arrival of Her Majesty and the President.

The Royal Yacht Britannia will be berthed in the Seaway channel about a half-mile east of the official platform. Three escorts, the U.S. destroyer Forrest Sherman, the Royal Navy frigate Ulster and the Canadian destroyer escort Gatineau, will berth near the Royal Yacht.

The formalities will last 30 minutes. B. J. Roberts, President of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority (Canada), will speak briefly and will present Her Majesty with a commemorative book containing the names of organizations and individuals who participated in the construction of the seaway project. Lewis G. Castle, Administrator of the Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation (United States), will present a commemorative book to President Eisenhower at request that the Seaway be declared open, following which the Queen and the President will deliver brief addresses.

After the ceremonies the Queen and the President will embark in the Britannia for a five-hour cruise through the Seaway to Lower Beauharnois Lock. As the President boards the Britannia, the Canadian destroyer escort Gatineau will fire a 21-gun Presidential salute.

Minutes after leaving her berth at 11:50 a.m., the Britannia will pass through specially constructed ceremonial gates spanning the approaches to St. Lambert Lock. Britannia's passage through the gates will mark the symbolic opening of the waterway.

After boarding the Britannia, the Queen and the President will remain on deck until the royal yacht leaves St. Lambert Lock.

In Lake St. Louis, the Britannia will pass by units of the United States Navy and the Royal Canadian Navy lining the Royal Yacht's route. Two escorts, one each from the United States Navy and the Royal Canadian Navy, will accompany the Britannia from Cote Ste. Catherine Lock to Lower Beauharnois.

The Britannia will arrive at Lower Beauharnois Lock late in the afternoon and the President and Mrs. Eisenhower, accompanied by the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker and members of the American party, will disembark and proceed by car to St. Hubert at approximately 5:15 p.m.

The motorcade will travel by way of Highways 3, 9C and 9 to St. Hubert, arriving at the RCAF Station about 6:15 p.m. The Presidential aircraft will take off at 6:30 p.m. for Washington.

The Britannia will proceed to the west end of the Beauharnois canal where she will remain overnight.

Valleyfield

Valleyfield — On Tuesday afternoon, the Annual Baby Band party was held in the United Church Hall, with a wonderful turnout of mothers and children.

The Mission Band were also there and took part in the singing. The Baby Band and Mission Band are part of the Woman's Missionary Society. The children played games first, then sang a few hymns, after which Mrs. Charles Heiber welcomed the Ladies, Babies, Boys and Girls, on behalf of Mrs. Moynoux and herself.

She thought it was a good way for the mothers to get better acquainted and she had enjoyed her visits to their homes during the year.

A prayer was then given in unison. Mrs. McEachern presented nine diplomas for entrance into the Mission Band.

Refreshments were served downstairs, where the little tots sat at small tables. The centre decoration was a frosted cake in the form of a merry-go-round with a revolving base. These were most attractive. The hall was decorated with balloons and each child was given one.

Mrs. Montgomery poured tea and Mr. Cordy took pictures of the children.

The mite boxes were brought in and on leaving the hall the children were given to their savings for another year.

Everyone had a most enjoyable time at this party.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. and Evening Auxiliary of the Church was held in the Church Hall on Monday evening, June 15th, with Mrs. R. D. McEachern presiding, who opened the meeting with prayer.

The Week at Ottawa

Since then, the NCC has tried to set it up as an official country residence. But former Liberal leader Louis St. Laurent didn't want it — he had his own Quebec resort. And his predecessor, the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King, had his famous Kingsmere.

External Affairs Minister Howard Green, introducing the bill, said neither Mr. Diefenbaker nor Mr. St. Laurent would have asked for it. "These men in positions of great responsibility think of themselves last."

The Seafarers International Union, headed in Canada by rough-and-tough American-born Hal Banks, has been thrown out of the Canadian Labor Congress.

The CLC, main central body for all Canadian labor, suspended the SIU for raiding the membership of the small — about 1,200 members — National Association of Maritime Engineers.

The SIU, which has some 12,000 members, has grabbed off several hundred N.A.M.E. workers in the last couple of years, in violation of a no-raiding clause in the Congress constitution and despite warnings from the CLC leadership.

Banks, whom Immigration Minister Fairclough tried to get deported while she was in Opposition, possibly may be happy — or even may have instigated — the CLC decision. It could give him a free hand in further feuding with the engineer's union and the Canada Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, another CLC affiliate.

Toward God—It is reverence and love.

Mrs. McEachern then gave a prayer. Mrs. Jean Coombs read the Treasurer's reports and Mrs. Audrey Bernhardt acted as Secretary in the absence of Mrs. Myrna Fleming.

The business part of the meeting was taken up with a discussion on the cleaning of the Church Hall, which the Managers are planning to have done during the summer months.

After the meeting Mrs. McEachern introduced Mr. Gunar Olsson, instructor of the St. John Ambulance First Aid, who gave a demonstration on artificial respiration, members of the Auxiliary taking part in this. It was most interesting and instructive. Mrs. Lorna Shaw thanked the speaker.

The collection was taken and dedicated. Refreshments were served downstairs. The hostesses, Mrs. C. Jones, Mrs. Phyllis McFee, Mrs. Emmons McDonald and Mrs. R. D. McEachern.

Round Byre AND Ring

By FRANK NAPIER

Friday, June 19, was one of those days on which a considerable number of Ayrshire and Holstein breeders from Eastern Ontario and South Western Quebec, especially Howick and Huntingdon, pay an annual visit to Lachute, Que. That is, to the historic Lachute Spring Fair which is held each year under the auspices of the Argenteuil Agricultural Society.

This writer was, pleasurablely so, a member of the "Grant Whyte" carload which made its trek to Lachute and was steered by that most competent driver, Mrs. Mary Grant Whyte. The others were J. Grant Whyte and Mrs. Whyte's niece, Miss Marilyn Brown, with, on the return trip, Richard (Dick) Proudfoot of the Legion Hall, whose outward journey was made by bus, via Montreal. Someone had told the Whytes that crossing by the Como-Oka Ferry, over Lake of Two Mountains, was a much quicker procedure than was the Point Fortune-St. Andrews East crossing of the Ottawa River, and so we followed the former route. Since no mileage was recorded we are not aware whether any real difference in mileage was involved. However, since we went out by Ormstown and tarried there some fifteen minutes waiting for Oscar Vaillancourt, who didn't make his appearance, and since we got there just ahead of another car from Huntingdon which left there a few minutes after ours, the Como-Oka route may have been shorter. Moreover, there wasn't the sometimes long wait for the Ferry as is usually the case at Point Fortune together with the necessary maneuvering on and off the boat. At Como and Oka you just drive straight on and off the motor boat towed scow. Anyway, it was a pleasurable scenic drive.

Also from Huntingdon was a carload comprised of Allan H. Wilson, Henry and Mat Wallace, Mat Wallace's son, Wallace Renie and Gilbert Macmillan. Also seen there was Cecil Murphy of Huntingdon, who was, of course, mostly busy lending a hand to his Holstein compatriots. From Ormstown there was Jack McCaig, while the Howick contingent included Archie and Donald Roy, Rowland R. Ness (Secretary of the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club) and Dr. Wilfred Watson.

Lachute Fair

This year Past President of the Fair and long time Ayrshire greeter of Lachute Fair, the late Jack Black was missing. However, W. Erskine Rodger, the current President of the Fair, ably fulfilled that Public Relationship role. Likewise, so did Past President Jim MacKimmie in his usual inimitable friendly manner, while the Hon. Wm. M. Cunningham also excelled in that respect.

As it had been in the Huntingdon area up to the Thursday night, so had the weather been unsettled and disagreeable in the Lachute area. However, despite the lowering clouds, which accentuated Lachute Fair's background hills, no rain fell, during the forenoon and part of the afternoon and by mid-afternoon on Friday the sun made its welcome appearance. Moreover there was apparently a satisfactory attendance, especially around the outdoor Ayrshire and Holstein rings. We were also informed that the attendance on the Thursday afternoon and evening was most satisfactory indeed. By the way Lachute has an apparently unique financial arrangement with three service Clubs and the Canadian Legion whereby each, in turn is responsible for the evening grandstand performances, on Wednesday through Saturday.

The Ayrshire Show
With 24 bulls and 96 females, or a total of 120 head entered in the individual Ayrshire show, that show was the largest show of that breed at Lachute in several years. It was also a very high quality show, with the animals being well fitted and presented for the adjudication of Roland Pigeon, Vercheres, Que.

The senior and grand champion male was Macdonald Copestone, first prize aged bull for Wm. J. McIlwain, Vankleek Hill, Ont. Reserve senior and reserve grand champion male was Threave Skymaster (imp) first prize 2 year old bull for H. J. O'Connell, St. Genevieve, Que. The junior champion male was Willowhaugh Smart Set, first prize bull calf for Gerald Dawson, Lachute, while the reserve was Glengarry Sir Bruce, second prize bull calf for Kenneth Kettle, Lachute, Que. Woodlea Evergreen Florence, first prize 3 to 5 year old cow in milk annexed the senior and grand female championships for W. Erskine Rodger, Lachute, Que., thus repeating her Maxville Fair achievements of two weeks before.

The second prize winner in the 3 to 5 year old cow in milk class Bredalbane Jessie, was reserve senior and reserve grand champion female for John M. Campbell & Son, Vankleek Hill, Ontario.

The junior female champion was Brookview Wonderful's Girl, first prize junior yearling heifer for J. P. Bradley & Son, Lachute, Que. The reserve was Bonniebrae Astrid, second prize junior yearling heifer for Sydney Mode, Vankleek Hill, Ont.

The Holstein Champions
Frankly we didn't see a great deal of the Holstein show but, from what we did see, it was quite an excellent show with several of the exhibitors at Ormstown Exhibition in keen competition. Rightly or wrongly the great Spring Farm Fond Tom (grand champion at Ormstown) owned by Geo. R. Gladu, went down to a crushing defeat, to third place, in the aged bull class. The winner in that class, as also the reserve senior and reserve grand champion male was Sun Dream Raven Commander owned by Lloyd Howes & Sons.

"The Agricultural Revolution — A New Phase"

Rapid technological change is the keynote of our time and the swift onrush of science and technology is as pervasive in agriculture as in other sectors of the economy, says the current Monthly Review of The Bank of Nova Scotia. "The broiler chicken, neatly packaged, of uniform quality, and displayed in volume in the super-market, is as much a product of modern science as the transistor radio or the jet plane."

Inevitably, says the Review, the pressures of economics and technology are tending towards larger, more specialized commercial farm units. For any type of commercial farming the capital investment now required is large, and the trend towards the greater use of purchased "inputs", including the highly complicated feeds of today, is augmenting the need for working capital as well. A growing amount of technical knowledge is required of the farmer, and heavier demands are made, too, on his capacities as a businessman.

Of the many adjustments in the organization of the farm enterprise associated with the new techniques, one of the most publicized is so-called "vertical integration". This term is employed to cover a wide variety of situations in which the essential element appears to be coordination of two or more of the stages of production — supplier, grower, processor, and sometimes retailer — in a relationship closer than that of the open market.

The Review discusses developments in the broiler industry which "by its very nature lends itself to contractual arrangements". Many kinds of contracts have arisen, ranging all the way from very close-knit ones involving all stages of the industry, to loose and partial ones. Among the simplest is an agreement between a grower and a processor for delivery of a crop of broilers at a given time at the market price — an arrangement known in the trade as "scheduled production". Another is an advance of credit by a feed dealer or a farmer for the purchase of chicks and feed (a long-established practice), the grower making his own market arrangements.

At the other end of the scale is the extreme case in which a feed dealer, a feed manufacturer or a processor furnishes chicks and feed to the grower, perhaps even leases his buildings and equipment, closely supervises his management of the enterprise, and simply pays him wages for it.

Glenoden Farms, Vankleek Hill, Ont., won the senior and grand female championships on Helen Rag Apple Abbekerk Lucy, first prize cow, 5 years and over, in milk. The junior champion female was Willola Mercury Mildred, first prize junior yearling heifer for Charles Naylor, Lancaster, Ont.

his labour. Between these extremes, of course, are many other arrangements, under most of which the grower shares his profit in return for credit and risk-sharing.

A good deal of the lively discussion about contract farming centres around the likely extent of its spread into other areas of livestock and poultry production. Scientific and technological advances similar to those behind the mushrooming of the broiler industry are occurring with other products. The same factors that favour contracting in chicken broilers obtain with turkey broilers, and production of these small-sized turkeys, which has become important only in the past two years, is as highly integrated as the chicken broiler industry.

Egg production is becoming more and more a large-scale commercial undertaking, the small farm flock of a few hundred birds giving way to big commercial operations of 40,000 to 50,000 layers and up, with rigidly controlled conditions and a great deal of mechanical feeding, watering and cleaning equipment. Contracting here may be directed towards obtaining quantity production of a premium-quality standardized product.

So far, contracting in hogs and cattle in Canada has not gone very far. However, a sign of the times is experimentation with "pig hatcheries" where weaning pigs are produced for finishing by other growers. There are now in Canada a few hog enterprises so large that 4,000 of them raising weaners and other 4,000 feeding them out could provide the entire Canadian supply of pork, now produced on more than a quarter of a million farms.

In the United States, large-scale "beef factories" are in operation, particularly in California, where enormous numbers of animals are fed under contract. Even across the border, operations of such huge size are still very much the exception. They do, however, indicate a trend in the livestock industry which informed observers expect will continue, though probably much more slowly than in the broiler industry.

In the voluminous literature to which vertical integration and contract farming have given rise on the North American continent, the pros and cons of this growing development have been widely debated, the Review points out. Fears that it may reduce the farmer to the status of a hired hand are no doubt exaggerated. Unquestionably, however, from the point of view both of the farmer and of society at large, some types of contract are preferable to others. It is clearly desirable that contracts should be such as to give the farmer an incentive to conduct his enterprise as efficiently as possible. It is also desirable

How Do You Know You Are Normal?

Today's adolescents will be healthier emotionally than their parents, according to Dr. Alastair MacLeod, the well-known Montreal psychiatrist. He believes they are "rebelling" against the unhappy goals their parents idealize: insatiable ambition, unrealistic dedication to work, material possessions, competition; and that there is growing evidence that they are not so emotionally insecure that they need to demand only top-dog jobs and unlimited opportunity.

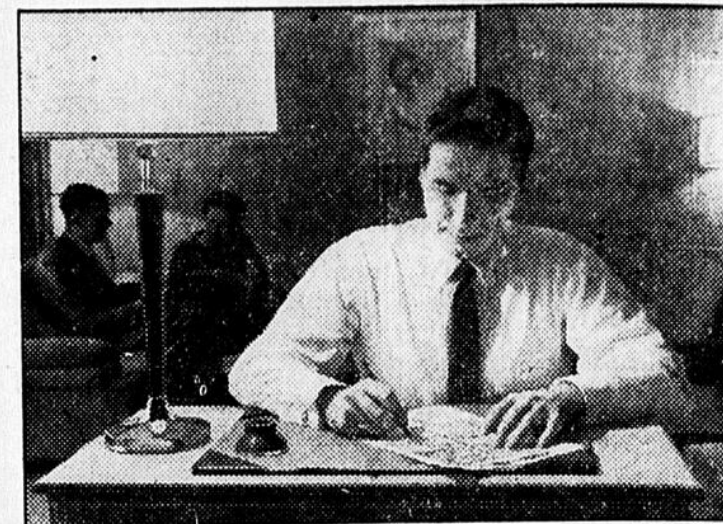

Dr. MacLeod felt that a clear definition by psychiatrists of what is considered normal behavior would appreciably advance the world's understanding of mental health. He defines normality as "the ability to act constructively in a demanding situation."

LOUD ARRIVAL
WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Employees of a local bank branch thought they were in the middle of a holdup when three loud bangs were followed by the smashing of a large glass window. It turned out to be a woman parking her car.

that improved returns resulting from the application of the new techniques should be shared equitably among the various stages of production that contribute to the greater efficiency. Monopoly anywhere along the line might cause an undue share of the profits to accrue to some one link in the chain, or might deprive the consumer of the benefit of cheaper food.

healthy person has the ability to appear normal on occasions when normality, in society's sense of the word, is appropriate. A faculty for dignity, composure and pleasant chat is a necessary art which the normal person can command at will. If, however, the talent for appearing normal is his only skill, if he dare not display his real emotions for fear of them bounding out of con-

control, he is not normal at all" Psychiatry does not consider conformity and emotional health to be necessarily the same thing. In a list of talents possessed by normal people, Dr. MacLeod included a flair for abnormal behavior, because "only a thoroughly normal person can be a zany eccentric, in the appropriate situation."

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson of Malone, N.Y. were Monday evening guests of Mr. Robert Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Anderson. Mr. Robert Anderson is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Brooks, Covey Hill.

Grass Silage — Ottawa — Wilting the herbage before ensiling gives better and more economical silage than when preservatives are used. However, E. Mercier, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm, Lennoxville, P.Q. says preservatives can be used to advantage in wet weather and when the herbage has a large proportion of clover or alfalfa in it, especially if cut when immature. Under these conditions the use of preservatives, such as dilute molasses or sodium bisulphite, helps to favor a proper fermentation and thus avoid foul-smelling ensilage. Herbage with too high a moisture content when ensiled results in a loss of nutrient elements through seepage from the silo. The addition of preservatives does not prevent this loss. Sodium bisulphite, while harmless to the animals, seems to make the ensilage a little less palatable. Using preservatives to increase the dry matter content of the ensilage, such as meal, beet pulp or dehydrated molasses, is costly. About 30 per cent of their nutrient value is lost in the process of fermentation. To obtain a correct wilt on herbage is difficult as it depends upon weather conditions. Wilting time can range from a few hours when the herbage is cut with the dew on, to a few minutes during a hot, dry day. When herbage with a large proportion of grass in it wilts too much, a little water may be added when ensiling. Herbage of about 70% moisture will produce the best silage. Wilting has the advantage of reducing the weight of herbage transported from the field, increases the percentage of dry matter in the ensilage and favors desirable fermentation.

Franklin Centre

FRANKLIN CENTRE — The W.A. and the W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. James Manning, on Thursday afternoon.

The theme for the Worship Period was The Fellowship. The Call to Worship and prayer were given by Mrs. James Manning followed by the hymn in Christ there is no East or West.

Mrs. Harry Monneypenney read from Ephesians and The Acts. Mrs. Nickerson commented on the Scriptures read and closed the worship period with prayer.

at the next meeting. A vote of thanks was given Messrs. Clarence Dunn and Omar Harvey for their work in the basement. A Fashion-Show is being planned to be held before school begins. The W.A. presented Mrs. J. S. Nickerson with a sterling silver pin and earrings as a farewell gift. A skit in charge of Mrs. F. G. Sherrington Jr. and her niece Miss Carol Douglas based on co-operation of men and women in church work, was presented by Mrs. Sherrington, Miss Douglas, Mrs. James Manning and Mrs. Nickerson, was well received.

The Ladies Aid of the Zion Church sponsored a "Social Evening" at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Sutton, on Wednesday, which was a great success. Around 40 persons were present. Mystery Animals Of Earth — The nematodes taken from a 10-acre field, if arranged single file, would form a procession long enough to reach around the world. "What are nematodes?" They are small animals sometimes called "round worms" or "eelworms" explains Dr. A. D. Baker, of the Entomology Research Institute, Canada Department of Agriculture. Dr. Baker, a recognized authority, is carrying on research in this field. A nematode is a worm, but not all worms are nematodes. There are many other animals that are referred to as worms — for example, earthworms, insect larvae and tapeworms. Nematodes are found practically everywhere. Soil that supports plant growth literally teems with them and they abound in oceans as well as in fresh water. Why are they not as well known as insects? Well Concealed — Because, says Mr. Baker, they are usually found in environments where they are well concealed. And, unlike the insect, a nematode does not run or jump about. It has no legs or feet and it moves around by wiggling its body. The length of a nematode does not change as it moves. The length of an earthworm does.

Movements of a nematode, however, are not the same as those of a snake. The snake bends from side to side. A nematode bends up and down. This type of movement is called dragonic, in contrast to the serpentine movement of a snake. Many nematodes are harmful and many are not, says Dr. Baker. Some of them are even beneficial in that they feed on harmful nematodes and other organisms. Few people have seen them, few people know what they are. Yet nematodes populate a vast Unseen World.

Large B.C. Farm Once Was Haven To Many Orphans — DUNCAN, B.C. (CP) — Two Scots are lairds of famed Fairbridge Farm, once a refuge for homeless British boys and girls. Archie Stevenson and Jack McBride do not own the 1023-acre estate. It belongs to the Fairbridge Society, British philanthropic organization. But they have rented the place since 1950, and will have no trouble getting the lease renewed. Stevenson and McBride brought their 100-head purebred Ayrshire herd with them when they moved from Chilliwack in 1950 to this Vancouver Island centre. The farm was established in 1935 with money reputedly left by Rudyard Kipling to the society as "Fairbridge Farm School" where British boys and girls could learn to become farm workers and farm wives. At its peak there were 250 students, a third of them girls. But devaluation of the pound and other difficulties during the Second World War forced curtailment of the society's Canadian activities. Stevenson came from Scotland in 1925, and worked on purebred farms in New Brunswick, Quebec, Kelowna and Chilliwack. McBride came out to Kelowna in 1930 with a shipment of cattle from Ayrshire, and the two men formed a partnership in their herds and raising their families. Today Stevenson is president of the Vancouver Island Ayrshire Breeders Association, and McBride is well-known as a champion plowman with horse or tractor, on both sides of the Canada-U.S. boundary.

A PRESUMPTION OF RESPONSIBILITY

Every driver who becomes involved in an automobile accident must stop down after it, no matter what the amount of damage there is, the Provincial Highway Safety Committee, (Prudential) has reminded. The fact that a motorist fails to stop down following an accident constitutes a presumption of responsibility. When the motorist does not stop down, and he is responsible for the accident, then he only aggravates the case against him. By stopping and aiding other persons in the accident, the motorist has already shown his goodwill and it can often temper justice. It may frighten you at first, but it's worth trying; praise your wife. A hula dance is a wild waist show.

Fire At Murray McCartney's HOWICK — On June 15th, about 5 p.m., a fire of unknown origin started in the straw barn at Murray

McCartney's. It was most fortunate that his daughter, Heather discovered the blaze before the fire made headway. The damage was slight due to the prompt arrival of the Howick firemen also many

MORE AND MORE OPENERS OPEN O'Keefe ALE

You'll see this new trend in homes, bars, clubs and taverns. Every day more and more people are discovering O'Keefe Ale. Next time you're opening a bottle of beer, make it O'Keefe — you'll enjoy its natural mild flavour.

THE O'KEEFE MILDNESS SECRET

Ever bitten into a grape seed? It's bitter, unpleasant. Grape growers found by experiment that they could develop seedless grapes with nothing to spoil the delicate flavour. It's the same with hops. Ordinary hops contain seeds which give an unpleasant bitterness to ale. However, O'Keefe master brewers insist on costlier "Seedless Hops", result—there's no unpleasant bitterness, just the right, natural mild flavour.

kind neighbours and friends who helped extinguish the flames. The Howick Marathon Bridge Club held their annual buffet supper, at the home of Mrs. W. E. Logan, on Monday evening, June 15th. Bridge was played during the evening, for which Mrs. Roy Young won 1st prize, Mrs. Ken Lyall 2nd prize and Mrs. W. Watson the consolation.

A financial report was given by the treasurer and $25.00 was donated to the Women's Auxiliary (Howick branch) of the Barrie Memorial Hospital.

Total scores for the year were announced with the standing as follows: Mrs. G. Robin and Mrs. W. Watson, 1st gross prize; Mrs. W. G. Brown and Mrs. C. Fletcher, 2nd gross prize; Mrs. A. Tolhurst and Mrs. R. Tolhurst, 1st net prize; Mrs. J. Dunn and Mrs. R. Young, 2nd net prize. The prizes this year were Morcan Gift Certificates.

This event is especially enjoyed by the members, as it is the only time during the year that they all meet together. Thanks were expressed to Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Fletcher for their conveniences. Mrs. Jack Taylor and Mrs. Norman Simmonds have kindly consented to act for the ensuing year.

Evening Auxiliary Meeting
The June meeting of the Georgetown Evening Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Merrill Kerr on the 4th, with twenty-one members and three guests answering the roll call with the name of their favorite poem.

Mrs. Peter Peddie led the scripture followed by Mrs. D. Silliman leading in prayer.

The wee aprons were handed out to be brought in at the next meeting.

Miss Laura Robertson read the study, which was very interesting. "A Glee Club on tour in Formosa" by Isabel Taylor.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. M. Kerr, assisted by Miss L. Robertson, Mrs. D. Silliman and Mrs. P. Peddie.

25th Wedding Anniversary
On Monday night, June 15th, a large number of neighbours, relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allister McArthur to celebrate with them the 25th Anniversary of their wedding.

They were honoured by the presence of Dr. T. J. Watson of Fredericton, N.B., the minister who performed the marriage ceremony, also Mrs. Watson.

Rev. Wm. Brown of Georgetown acted as master of ceremonies for the evening and in his usual capable manner sang "Because" and "I'll Walk Beside You". He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Robert McCaig, who also played other musical selections.

Rev. Brown led the gathering in a song after which the gathering was favoured with violin music by Mr. Kenneth McRae accompanied on the piano by Mrs. James Crawford.

The house was decorated with pink peonies and the dining room table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded by orange blossoms and four white tapers.

After the serving of delicious refreshments, Rev. Brown proposed a toast to the bride and groom to which the groom very suitably replied.

The presentation of an envelope of money was made by a close neighbour, Mr. W. F. Welch.

A very enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and "Auld Lang Syne", also by many expressions of good wishes that Freida and Allister may have many more happy anniversaries.

W.M.S. Meeting
The Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the United Church met on Tuesday, June 16th in the church with Mrs. R. B. Tolhurst presiding.

The Devotional was given by Mrs. Robert McKeil. She read the 1st chapter of Psalms, and based her remarks on the verse "For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, but the way of the ungodly shall perish." Many are the guides who beckon to us as we journey through life; but only he who is willing to follow God's Way is promised eternal life.

The roll call was answered by 22 members with a verse containing the text word "Way". Two visitors were present.

Items of interest were given by the Secretaries of the Departments. The Supply Secy reported that two cartons of clothing had been shipped to Overseas Relief, Toronto; and one to Montreal.

Plans were made for the W.M.S. Church Service which is to be held at 11 a.m. on June 28th, when Mrs. Erey, Presbyterian President, will be the Speaker.

The Study Program was given by Mrs. Mitchell Ness "Know Your Neighbour—the Canadian Indian". The native Indian is our oldest—yet newest—citizen. A larger number each year are giving up their reserve privileges to become independent, and in many instances are being misunderstood and mis-

Maple Leaf Grange

A Special Meeting has been called for June 29th, when Third and Fourth Degrees will be conferred. It is to be hoped that all members will keep this date in mind. The Worthy State Master, Leiland D. Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Smith and other State Officials are expected to be present.

A very successful Initiation Ceremony took place last Tuesday, when twenty Candidates were given the First and Second Degrees of the Order. The work done by the newly formed "Young Adult" Degree Team was beautifully exemplified. Our honoured guests included District Deputy Jas. Tuggey; District Junior Deputy Mrs. Lela Tuggey; Worthy Pomona Master John Ellsworth and Mrs. Ellsworth, and judged. The white man should carefully study the problems of these neighbours of ours, and treat them with understanding and respect.

The Government has been Big Brother to the Indians over years; and their native environment has conditioned their thinking to a completely different outlook to that of the white man. They don't save for the future. If they co-operate with Nature, there will always be food. They see no need for "hurry" there is plenty of time for all that has to be done. They are good farmers—but not along the same lines as the white man. They are shy about voicing their opinions until they are sure of a sympathetic hearing, so are sometimes mistakenly said to be indifferent or sullen.

It is time for the general public to begin to think of the Indian as an individual each one to be judged on his own qualifications.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Georgetown W.M.S. Meeting
The Georgetown W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Wallace Logan on Tuesday afternoon, June 16th, with fourteen members present.

Mrs. Logan, the president, opened the meeting with responsive Bible reading and Mrs. Robt. McFarlane led in prayer.

Mrs. Wm. Anderson read an interesting article on "Montreal's Mission to Sailors Ashore". This branch of missionary work has been in charge of Rev. Wm. McLean since 1939.

In the absence of the recording secretary, Mrs. David Fiskin read the minutes of the May meeting and reported a total of $108.75 cleared at the Tea and Plant Sale held recently in the Church Hall.

A very pleasant item on the program was the presentation of an Honorary Life Membership to Mrs. P. D. McArthur in recognition of her many years of devoted service to the work of the W.M.S.

Mrs. Logan conducted the study period, reading a chapter from "The Open Door of Korea".

The members of the C.G.I.T. and Mission Band are to be guests of the W.M.S. at the July meeting.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Logan after which tea was served by the hostess and a short social period enjoyed.

Shower Held
A miscellaneous shower was held on Friday evening June 19th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Brown, with Miss Rilla Nugent as guests of honour, whose marriage to Mr. Paul Montgomery takes place this summer. Rilla's aunts were hostesses. Rilla opened many lovely gifts taken from a "wishing well", and following her expression of appreciation a social time was enjoyed.

The presence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Nugent, Archie and Patsy Nugent and Mrs. Dorothy Geddes of Kinnears Mills, added to her complete surprise.

Recently this same group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bod Tolhurst for a shower in honour of Miss Brenda Wylie, whose marriage to Mr. Gordon McKell takes place on June 27th. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all those present.

It was announced that Miss June Donnelly of Glenelg, has again been chosen to represent Maple Leaf at Youth Leadership School to be held at Delhi, N.Y., during July.

Athelstan

Silver Anniversary Celebrated
ATHELSTAN — A very enjoyable Get-to-Gether was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dorais on Friday evening last, when about forty neighbours and friends gathered to celebrate with them their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

"Court Whist" was played during the evening. Mrs. Dorais was given a lovely corsage and on behalf of those present, Mr. Garnet Green extended best wishes to them and congratulated the Bride and Groom on their having reached this "25th" milestone in their married life and wished for them continued happiness in the years that lie ahead. He then presented them with a stainless steel pressure cooker, an electric percolator and chrome kitchen step stool.

On behalf of his wife and himself Mr. Dorais expressed their thanks and appreciation for the lovely gifts and good wishes extended them on this very happy occasion. A lovely Anniversary cake fittingly inscribed centred the Bride's table which was decorated with flowers and lighted tapers. The serving of refreshments, brought to a close a most pleasant evening.

Mr. Dale McIntyre and Miss Doris Young returned to Fredericton, N.B. on Monday after spending the past week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McIntyre.

Congratulations to Master Freddie Hutchings, who was promoted to Grade VIII on his work of the past year. He is a pupil of the Huntingdon High School and his standing was such, that writing the June Examinations was not necessary.

Mr. Arthur Shearer recently returned from Londonderry, Ireland, and is at present visiting his father Mr. Frank Shearer and other relatives.

Mr. Nelson Hutchings employed at the G. and G. Garage at Glen Falls, N.Y., was the Sunday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hutchings.

Mrs. Reid of Montreal also accompanied them.

Full-Length Movie Is Earnest Effort For Amateur Group

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP) — A shoestring outfit with a $2,000 budget has completed a full-length motion picture here, without any of the frills and trappings of Hollywood.

"The Black Cross" is a psychological thriller based on the inner conflicts of six escaped Canadian prisoners-of-war, trying to reach safety after breaking out of a German prison camp.

It was made by 25 young Brantford men, none past 20, and not a professional among them.

"Most of the guys just wanted to make a film," says Robert Taylor, 19, who wrote the script and is one of three partners in newly-formed Dominion Film Productions.

Farm Bush Site
He said he and a friend were hunting on a nearby farm last year. The bush "looked like a good area for a war story." That was it. Taylor wrote the script. People got interested and momentum carried the thing through.

Two amateur actors, David Fox and Joseph Kuchna, students at Brantford College, joined Taylor in partnership.

A few amateur photographers were recruited. While Taylor quit his sales job other students got interested and started doubling as carpenters, electricians and actors.

A prison camp tower gate, and a small compound, soon took shape on the farm site.

But money was scarce. A local man backed the company with $1,000 which will be used for processing the film. The rest came from volunteer work and loans. A local radio station pitched in with camera equipment loans.

Girls? "We thought about it but decided against it," said Taylor. The movie is being shot in 16-millimetre black and white, and will run about 70 minutes. None of the company expect it to be a box office hit. But Taylor says: "Not many people make full-scale movies in Canada. If we can do it maybe others will get interested."

This minister of agriculture has pony-will travel far

This young lad is really going places. He knows the value of a dollar — because he worked hard over the past year to buy this pony. He saved every penny and nickel by doing farm chores for his Dad.

While the Minister of Agriculture's budget at Ottawa runs into millions of dollars, he has to justify his expenditures down to the last cent.

His money comes through the Minister of Finance who gets it largely in taxes from Canadians such as you. When he spends more than he takes in, he must borrow from you . . . or else create new money. The creation of new money is one factor that leads to inflation — which means your dollar buys less and less.

The government has been spending more than you have been paying in taxes. To narrow the gap between income and expenditures, new taxes have been imposed.

You can encourage the government to live within its income by asking only for those services you are willing to pay for with taxes. Tell your M.P. at Ottawa that since you are trying to save, you expect government to do the same.

You also help when you save more by means of life insurance, savings deposits, and the purchase of government bonds. Your savings help to create a SOUND dollar; and this, in turn, helps to create job security for you and more jobs for other Canadians.
