

Rusk bluntly tells Ottawa

Keep troop strength

OTTAWA (CP) — U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk has bluntly told Ottawa that Canada should maintain its present troop strength and nuclear capability in Europe, informants say.

External Affairs Minister Sharp received a diplomatic note from Rusk late last week expressing American views on NATO's response to the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Mr. Sharp said in the Commons Monday that the note also contained "a comment in particular about the kind of response they would like Canada to make."

The Rusk note is believed to be the most pointed reference to Canadian defence policy since Jan. 3, 1963, when the U.S. state department—Rusk was then, as now, state secretary—said publicly that Canada was not pulling its weight in North American defence.

The U.S. statement at that time made particular reference to the Diefenbaker government's refusal to accept American nuclear weapons.

The Pearson government accepted nuclear arms, with the proviso it would try to "negotiate out" of such arrangements as soon as possible.

WANTS WITHDRAWAL
The Trudeau government has given several indications it would like to reduce gradually Canadian troop strength in Europe and eventually withdraw militarily.

These indications have brought notes from Britain and West Germany as well as the U.S.

And Prime Minister Trudeau talked about NATO with Premier Maurice Couve de Murville in Quebec City Monday.

The British and German notes spoke in general terms and did not specifically state, as the American note does, what Canada should do militarily in Europe.

Details of the Rusk proposals have not been made public. Mr. Sharp indicated that the government did not appreciate them when he said he doubts whether Rusk will receive a formal reply.

There are other indications that the proposals might not have been welcomed here.

The defence department has already announced that one of Canada's three nuclear bomber bases in West Germany will be abandoned next summer. Canada has six squadrons of CF-104 bombers on the three bases.

The 5,000-man Canadian infantry brigade in West Germany is armed with the Honest John nuclear artillery rocket.

On Aug. 16, the training battery for the Honest John unit was disbanded. It was located at Shilo, Man.

Canada has two other nuclear weapons systems—The Bomarc anti-aircraft missile and Voodoo jet interceptor. There are no current plans to replace either of these aging systems.

Before he became an MP in 1965, Mr. Trudeau made plain his distaste for nuclear weapons in Canadian hands.

He has said nothing publicly since to indicate he has changed his view.

And last month he publicly opposed any move by NATO which he said might be a provocation to Russia. Specifically, he said NATO should not move troops to the border of West Germany and Czechoslovakia despite the presence of Russian troops on the other side.

Under NATO's "forward strategy" plans, the Canadian brigade in West Germany would, in an emergency, move close to the border of East Germany.

BULLETIN

Siege ends

WELLINGTON, England (AP) — Police rushed a remote Shropshire farmhouse today and gunman John James surrendered after holding off a siege for 17 days.

Police Chief Tom Gaylor said they got James, his wife and four children out of the farmhouse without injury.

News in brief

Increase rates

OTTAWA (CP) — Postmaster-General Eric Kierans announced Thursday that the cost of post office money orders will be increased 25 per cent Nov. 1.

He said in the Commons that a minimum charge of 10 cents is being introduced though the maximum charge will remain unchanged at 25 cents.

Strike threat

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — Prime Minister Wilson called today for an end of "ill-considered" strikes he said were threatening Britain's economic recovery.

The prime minister's appeal was aimed at the country's metal workers, who have threatened to bring British economic life "to a virtual standstill" with a nationwide strike set for Oct. 21.

Students battle

LIMA (AP) — Spurred by street battles between students and police, resistance was stiffening today against the military leaders of Peru who overthrew the government of President Fernando Belaunde Terry.

In one encounter Thursday night police fired into a crowd of students, hitting one in the head and apparently killing him.

Higher rates

OTTAWA (CP) — The government was battered in the Commons Thursday for proposing higher interest rates under the Farm Improvement Loans Act and for not amending the act six months ago.

The opposition also hit the administration for allowing corn imports to affect domestic prices so badly that corn growers in Ontario have come to Ottawa by tractor in protest.

28 die

SAIGON (AP) — One of the worst air collisions of the war and the loss of a helicopter to ground fire has taken the lives of 28 Americans in South Vietnam, U.S. military spokesmen reported today.

Twenty-four men died Thursday when a big army CH-47 Chinook helicopter collided with an air force Caribou cargo plane 11 miles northwest of Hue. There were no survivors.

Urges arms race halt

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko held out an olive branch Thursday and urged the world to get ahead with the task of ridding itself of the implements of war.

Gromyko's address to the 125-member General Assembly made the standard Soviet statements on the world's trouble spots. And it contained what some Western delegates regarded as a lame defence of the Soviet-bloc occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Riots continue in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (CP) — Students burned trolley cars near an Olympic soccer field and armored cars kept their guns trained on apartment buildings where snipers had holed up, but most of the Mexican capital was quiet Thursday night. No injuries were reported.

Despite the eruption of the student rebellion into a shooting battle with army troops Wednesday night, the Olympic Games still were set to open a week from Saturday.

"As guests of Mexico, we have full confidence that the Mexican people... will join the participants and spectators in celebrating the Games, a veritable oasis in a troubled world," said Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, after an emergency meeting of the committee.

AS HIGH AS 40

The Associated Press said a count of casualties at hospitals and police stations showed at least 27 persons were killed in Wednesday night's fighting and some Mexico City newspapers reported death tolls as high as 40.

There was no official estimate of the number wounded, but it appeared to be in the hundreds. Various sources reported between 1,000 and 1,500 arrested.

The government has reported 20 deaths. Gen. Marcelino Garcia Barragan, secretary of defence, said one of the dead was a soldier. He said the high rate of casualties among civilians was the result of their "confusion."

Brundage spoke after reliable sources reported several national Olympic committees threatened to withdraw from the Games unless Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz guaranteed the safety of their athletes.

MAY BOYCOTT

One informed source said some teams might boycott the opening ceremonies, and others might send only a token squad to the procession.

cerned the "socialist commonwealth" alone.

"To damage the position of socialism in the world is tantamount to increasing the danger of a new world war," he said.

U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk, who the day before had challenged the Soviet Union to answer a series of questions, including when it would fulfil its promise to remove its troops from Czechoslovakia, told reporters that Gromyko "didn't answer the questions I asked."

A Western European diplomat, agreeing that Gromyko had not replied to Rusk's questions, added:

"That shows you how embarrassed they are. They haven't got the argument."

INTERRUPT HIM

Near the end of Gromyko's hour-long speech, six women and three men leaped to their feet in the public gallery and shouted in unison: "What are you doing for Biafra?"

UN guards quickly ushered them out, just as they had removed nine other persons who interrupted Rusk on Wednesday with shouts against U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Gromyko and Rusk were among 19 foreign ministers who attended a Canadian luncheon after Gromyko's speech. The luncheon was given by External Affairs Minister Sharp in honor of Guatemala's Foreign Minister Emilio Arenales, president of the General Assembly.

Gromyko in his speech offered the hand of friendship to the states of Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America, and added: "We are for friendship with the peoples of North America, including the people of the United States, who will always remember, as we will, the traditions of joint struggle in the ranks of the anti-Hitler coalition and who also shoulder a tremendous responsibility for the preservation of world peace."

They say he will raise the leadership question in his speech and make it clear that "if anyone wants his hide they will have to fight him for it." He may even threaten resign-

PM's cabinet splitting during query period may bring Commons opposition

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Trudeau runs the risk of focussing opposition fire upon himself with the limiting of cabinet ministers' attendance during the daily Commons' question period.

Under the new deal, just put into operation, only half the cabinet is present for the question period except on Wednesdays, when all are supposed to be on hand. Previously, all were supposed to be present if possible.

For the four sitting days when only half the cabinet is present, Mr. Trudeau may find himself the recipient of questions that would normally be directed to absent ministers. Mr. Trudeau has promised to try to be present every day.

Queries during the question period, which lasts from 30 minutes to an hour, are supposed to be restricted to those which elicit information. In fact, most are carefully designed to embarrass the government.

If the opposition parties focus their fire on Mr. Trudeau, it will place the Liberal leader on the spot. But he has weapons to extricate himself. He needn't answer at all if he doesn't want to. Or he can promise a questioner to take the matter up with the appropriate minister.

Or he can answer, trying to put the opposition questioner in a sorry light if that is what the questioner was trying to do to the prime minister.

Soon after the new Parliament opened Sept. 12, it seemed evident Mr. Trudeau was trying to downplay himself in the Commons question period.

He referred questions directed to him personally to cabinet colleagues where possible. It seemed to be part of a deliberate move to rebut criticism that he had turned the Liberals into a one-man party.

In any case, Mr. Trudeau seems willing to accept the risk of reversing this situation to give his cabinet ministers more time to administer their departments rather than have them sitting in the House waiting for questions that may never come.

Lesage prepares to head off confrontation over leadership at Grit meeting tonight

QUEBEC (CP) — With the annual meeting of the Quebec Liberal Federation opening tonight, Liberal Leader Jean Lesage is understood to be preparing to head off an embarrassing confrontation over the party leadership.

Sources close to the 56-year-old Opposition leader in Quebec City say Mr. Lesage will use his opening address to the meeting tonight to try to wreck any plans dissidents might have to call for a vote of non-confidence over his leadership.

They say he will raise the leadership question in his speech and make it clear that "if anyone wants his hide they will have to fight him for it." He may even threaten resign-nation unless he gets overwhelming support.

The sources say Mr. Lesage is prepared to make such moves because he is confident 95 per cent of militant party members support him and would refuse any suggestion that a leadership convention be held.

Lesage backers say this manoeuvring may be necessary because they fear call for a vote of non-confidence might otherwise be made at the conclusion of opening-night activities. A routine vote of confidence is normally proposed then.

The strategists say that after Mr. Lesage's opening speech "no one at the meeting will have the guts to stand up and propose a vote of non-confidence" in Mr. Lesage, Liberal leader since May 31, 1968.

Lesage backers feel the former premier's position among militant members of the party is stronger than ever because Mr. Lesage has travelled thousands of miles across the province since his party's 1966 election defeat, renewing contacts.

They view the dissidents as a tiny group inspired by a combination of personal ambition and a legitimate desire to improve the Liberal party's chance of taking power in the next general election.

Community launches aid program for Cote-Lemay families

FITCH BAY — (Special) — Members of this community along with the aid of various organizations and commerce have grouped together in an attempt to get the families of Lionel Lemay and Roland Cote back on their feet again.

The two families lost their home, contents and business in a fire on Monday night.

The Red Cross, through the co-ordination of Mrs. Jean Beasse, of Stanstead and her committee of the Boundary branch, purchased groceries, footwear and winter jackets for the families. Roger Poitras, a Fitch Bay general store owner contributed a 10 per cent discount on the clothing.

The Boundary Rotary Club clothing pool in the Community center also donated clothes to the Cote family.

ated by Lyndon Sheldon and his Country Gentlemen Women of the village are supplying refreshments.

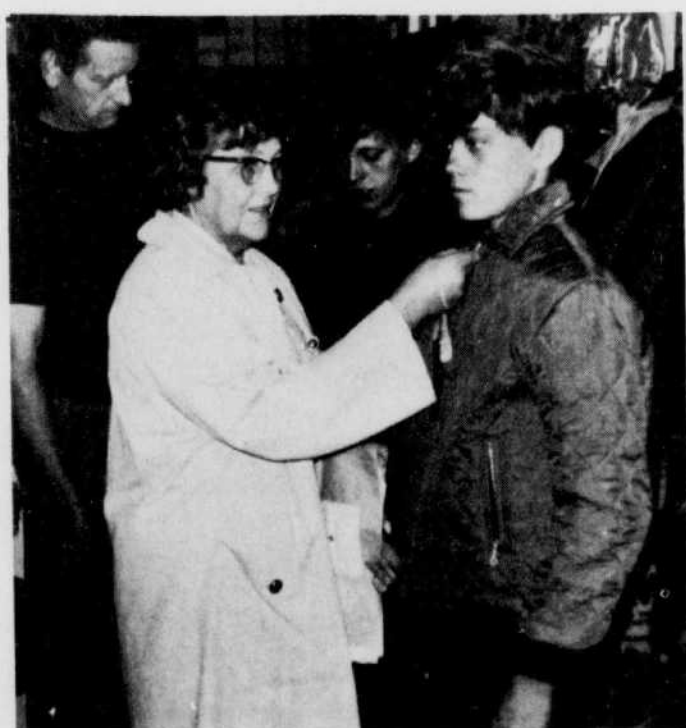

Relatives and friends of the Lemay's and Cote's have also contributed items of clothing and household goods. The Red Cross gave five wool blankets to each family.

Mr. and Mrs. Cote and their children, Michele, age 14; Daniel, 12; Nicole, 10; Suzanne, 4 and Gilles 26 months, are staying with Mrs. Cote's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gauthier.

The Lemay's have five children, Celeste, age 18; Denis, 17; Andre, 16; Leo, 11 and Claude 10. They are residing in another apartment owned by the family in the Village.

Both families have their own business. Mr. Cote, a garage, the Lemays, a general store. Their incomes were cut off because of the fire.

A GOOD FIT — Mrs. Jean Beasse is shown fitting a jacket on Michele Cote. Roger Poitras, store owner, looks on as Daniel Cote tries a jacket paid for by the Canadian Red Cross.

WARM BLANKETS — Mrs. Lemay and Mrs. Cote receive five wool blankets each from the Red Cross.

FOOD FOR FAMILIES—Mrs. Lemay, Mrs. Cote, Mr. Cote, and Mrs. Beasse are shown checking groceries.

Mixes 5000 pounds of tarvia every minute for new highway

BOUNDARY — (Special) — Equipment has been moved in and set up in Goudreau's gravel pit for making tarvia, which is being used to surface Route 10 which connects the Border with Route 50 west of Ayer's Cliff and the Montreal autoroute. It is expected the new highway will be opened between the beginning and middle of November.

The four-lane highway was built by Simard Beaudry Construction over a period of three years as work was stopped from time to time. Desourdy Construction is in charge of the surfacing and the St. Bruno trucks are engaged to haul the hot mix, both are from Chambly.

The work began on Sept. 23. That evening one of the trucks, loaded with the hot mix, was unable to make a steep hill from the pit and tipped over as it was backing. No one was injured.

PRODUCES TARVIA — This machine is capable of producing 5,000 pounds of mix a minute.

Set up in a local gravel pit it will be used to make tarvia to surface Route 10 which will connect the Border with Route 50 and the Montreal Autoroute.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

'Nervous Breakdown' An Inaccurate Term

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Although many persons still speak of having a nervous breakdown, this term is inaccurate because there is no breakdown of their nerve tissue. The term "nervous exhaustion" is equally misleading because, no matter how tired the victim feels, there is no exhaustion of his nervous system. Instead, there is a breakdown of his effectiveness, caused by emotional strife, although it may not always be readily recognized as such.

Failure to pass an examination, a financial reverse or marital difficulties may trigger the "breakdown" but the basic cause in each case is a severe blow to one's expectations and one's pride. The usual manifestations are loss of appetite, a feeling of depression, insomnia, loss of weight, irritability and jitters. None of these symptoms necessarily means a breakdown but, taken together and in the presence of one or more causative factors, a diagnosis can usually be made.

The common advice to take a vacation, get away from it all and give yourself a change of scene may afford some temporary relief. But it will do no lasting good if you come back with the same old attitudes toward life and return to the situations that caused the trouble in the first place. Anyone who cannot work out a constructive solution to his problems unaided should seek professional advice from a psychiatrist or clinical psychologist.

Q—I have always had headaches. In the last year they have become worse. A neurologist says I have occipital neuralgia. He is giving me traction, muscle relaxers and Darvon. Would severing the nerve help? Would this cause numbness?

A—The occipital nerve is one of the branches coming from the spinal cord in the neck. Severing the nerve would relieve the pain but would leave the area supplied by this nerve numb.

Q—I am taking reducing pills prescribed by my doctor and also birth control pills. Can the combination of these two cause any harmful side effects, such as nausea?

A—Either drug alone may cause nausea. Taken together, this effect may be increased.

Service marks 150th anniversary of Hatley Parish, 140th for church

HATLEY — The 150th Anniversary Service of the Hatley Parish, comprising St. James, Hatley, St. Georges, Ayer's Cliff and the Church of the Epiphany, Way's Mills and the 140th anniversary of St. James Church was held in Hatley on Sept. 29 at 3 p.m.

About 200 people from far and near gathered at the historic old church for the service which was conducted by the rector, Canon H. C. Denton. Visiting clergymen who took part in the service were Rev. Robert Jervis-Read, Coaticook; Rev. Roy Pierce, Stanstead; Canon J. D. R. Franklin, St. Peter's Anglican Church, Sherbrooke; and Archdeacon T. J. Matthews, Lennoxville, who gave the address.

It was interesting to note that among the many who attended were A. C. Stevens, Sherbrooke and his sister, Miss G. Stevens, Lennoxville, son and daughter of the late Rev. Albert Stevens, who was rector at Hatley from 1881 to 1902; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eardley-Wilnot and family, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Constable the former Barbara Eardley-Wilnot and family, all of Montreal, son and daughter of the late Rev. C. R. Eardley-Wilnot, who was here from 1923 to 1928; and Mrs. H. Weston Parry, Cookshire, widow of the late Rev. H. W. Parry, rector at Hatley from 1936 to 1941.

Following the service everyone went to the New Hall and afternoon tea was served by the Ladies Guild. Many old acquaintances were renewed during the social time that followed.

Mrs. H. Carl Mayhew was in charge of the visitors book. Marshall's Last Andrew Jackson was the last president sworn in by Chief Justice John Marshall. It was the ninth time Marshall administered the oath of office to a president of the United States.

A FIRST — Starting Monday, October 7, at 2 p.m., Program 5, an educational show for five-year-old youngsters unable to attend kindergarten, will be aired over CKTS radio. The five-day weekly program has been planned by Bishop's University Graduate School of Education. Shows at Sherbrooke High School yesterday are, from left: Mrs. Margaret Kogler, program script writer; Peter Kogler, program musician and Miss Karen Peirce, who will lead the program's activities. Broadcast kindergarten show

A fresh and challenging concept in radio education programming will be launched in the Sherbrooke area Monday afternoon.

Program 5, geared for five-year-old youngsters who are at home and unable to attend kindergarten, will be broadcast daily at 2 p.m. over Sherbrooke based CKTS.

By PETER VERRAL
(Record Staff Reporter)

The idea for the program, a first in the Eastern Townships, was the brainchild of Bishop's University Graduate School of Education.

The program co-ordinator is K. J. Dowd, assistant professor of education research at Bishop's University.

Professor Dowd said the five-day weekly program to span a 30-week period is paid for by a grant-in-aid from the Quebec Institute for Research in Education.

"Program 5," Professor Dowd explained, "is for the five-year-olds at home who might have gone to kindergarten," but for various reasons have not been able to attend.

He said the program "is designed to help a child develop his ability to hear the sounds of our language. This power of 'auditory discrimination' is an important part of the child's background when he starts learning to read in Grade One."

The professor added the program will also help a child listen to instructions which are only given once — good training for school and home.

"Parents can also help," he said, "by encouraging the child to take part in the activities."

The program's personnel are: Miss Karen Peirce, an 18-year-old third-year Science student at Bishop's University; Peter Kogler, a 20-year-old fourth-year Arts student at Bishop's; and Mrs. Margaret Kogler, a kindergarten teacher at Sherbrooke High School.

"Miss Karen," a Stanstead native, will have songs and stories for the children. Mr. Kogler, Lennoxville, will provide the musical accompaniment. Mrs. Kogler is the script writer.

Professor Dowd said parents at home can write "Program 5" Bishop's University, for further information.

outlined in the program.

The government's special Crown Prosecutor, Guy Blanchette, informed the Court that Ladouceur had a criminal record.

Sherbrooke student jailed three months for marijuana sale and possession

Richard Ladouceur, a 20-year-old CEGEP student from Sherbrooke, was sentenced to three months in jail yesterday when he appeared before Judge Benoit Turmel in Court of Sessions and pleaded guilty to two charges of selling marijuana cigarettes and one charge of possession of the drug.

Judge Turmel sentenced the accused to one month in jail on each charge.

He was under surveillance for months in Sherbrooke by RCMP agents. February 1, he sold a marijuana cigarette to a federal agent and he sold another marijuana cigarette to another federal agent on February 14.

Federal agents also found some marijuana in Ladouceur's apartment yesterday when they raided it.

The RCMP raided spots in Montreal, Three Rivers and Sherbrooke the past two days and yesterday, 13 people involved in the trafficking of drugs appeared in various courts in the three cities.

It was the culmination of a long investigation conducted in the field by two young RCMP agents who were able to gain the confidence of groups in the three cities who were involved with drugs.

RCMP officials say more arrests are on the way during the coming days.

The government's special Crown Prosecutor, Guy Blanchette, informed the Court that Ladouceur had a criminal record.

MAGOG — (Special) — Quebec Poet Alfred Des Rochers will be on hand today, when a plaque on the summit of Mt. Orford bearing one of his works will be unveiled. Provincial government officials, regional dignitaries and those associated with the tourist industry will be present.

He asked for the three month sentence.

The accused's lawyer, Albert Gobeil, told the Court that some drugs are more dangerous than others, although he didn't try to minimize the offence.

He said his client was not an addict and asked for the Court's clemency since the accused was a student.

Thief gets 2 years

Jocelyn Marcotte, 17, of Asbestos, who was sentenced to two years in jail in Arthabaska courts on Wednesday, was sentenced to two more years in jail when he appeared for sentencing in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions yesterday.

The juvenile pleaded guilty to five charges of breaking and entering with theft and Judge Benoit Turmel sentenced him to the two years in jail, to be served concurrently with the two year sentence he received Wednesday.

Judge Turmel recommended the youth be sent to Pavilion Laval in Montreal where he would be taught a trade.

In Arthabaska courts, the young delinquent pleaded guilty to three attempted break-ins with the intent to commit a crime and five charges of breaking and entering with theft.

Yesterday in Sherbrooke, he was sentenced for pleading guilty to breaking and entering the Ferronnerie Sinclair in Asbestos and stealing firearms and cash, a total theft of $182; on May 25-26, he broke into the John XXIII School in Asbestos and stole $20; the same night he broke into Therrien and Freres Store in Asbestos and stole $30; again on the same night, he broke into the College St. Aime and stole a $10 telephone apparatus.

On the night of June 22-23, he broke into the Paul Lefebvre Restaurant in Asbestos and stole $82.50 worth of cigarettes.

Joseph Valois, 31, of Sherbrooke, was ordered to appear at the next session of the Assizes to face a charge of causing $175 damage to the car of Guy Marier.

Although Crown Prosecutor Stanley Steinman had about seven witnesses to present testimony at the accused's preliminary hearing, Judge Turmel heard just the testimony of Mr. Marier before deciding to send the accused to his trial.

Valois stood mute at voluntary statement.

Bits and pieces

Four Sherbrooke candidates were successful in the final examination of the Certified General Accountants Association. They are Claude Berard, Albert Boucher, Valmond Boudreau and Origene Masson. They will be presented with diplomas at the provincial convention of the Association to be held in Sherbrooke Oct 4, 5 and 6; All Sherbrooke females who think they're gorgeous, great, between 18-25 years-of-age and have yet to trap a man are welcomed to the Miss Sherbrooke Beauty Contest. The event is being staged by the Sherbrooke Junior Chamber of Commerce (Jaycees). All interested potential beauties can enter the contest by phoning Mrs. Doug Fletcher at 567-6234.

Earl Peabody of Canada Life has just received his 20th consecutive National Quality Award from the Life Underwriters Association... quite an enviable record; North Hatley sidewalks getting some long needed repairs... Lennoxville the odd new street light; Albert "Bull's Head" Bryant won a new Camaro recently in a cigarette contest... just shows there are some advantages to smoking cigarettes; Former Record Editor Hugh Doherty finally located a house in beautiful Victoria, B.C. 700 new residents arrive monthly and thus the shortage... Hugh's address... 1237 Johnson St., Victoria... one of his first visitors was Douglas Amaron another former Record Editor; meanwhile former Record Offset Supervisor Frank Jenne has taken up residence in Watford, England, where he is studying Graphic Arts on a Rotary scholarship... Frank and family had some difficulty with all their baggage on arrival... Frank as resourceful as ever, solved the problem by renting a Hertz truck and arrived in "style" at his destination with wife, three children and all luggage for a year's stay.

Townpeople block loan bylaw

WATERLOO — (Special) — More than 100 irate citizens attended a special meeting of the Waterloo Town Council Wednesday evening and blocked a bylaw which would have allowed council to borrow $92,000.

This loan was to have paid for the paving of sidewalks, cement borders and other public works.

Work was to have been started on Allen, Western, Norris, Lambert, Cleary, St. Jean and Girouard Streets.

To block a bylaw, at least 20 citizens have to sign a petition and on Wednesday, over 100 signed their names on a petition.

The citizens protested because the project would not be finished before the winter.

They asked council to wait until spring to start the project.

It remains to be seen whether council will postpone the public works or put the case to a referendum.

This will be decided at the next council meeting October 14, unless council calls a special meeting before that date.

South ward result is indication of revolt

The steadily growing strength of Civic Action League representation on the Sherbrooke City Council, with the CAL supporters now holding four of the 10 aldermanic posts as a result of the election of Marc Bureau in Wednesday's South Ward vote, may delight or depress individual citizens dependent upon whether they agree with or are opposed to the principles of the League and the idea of party politics entering the City Hall.

But if one studies the result of the vote, even briefly, the logical conclusion is that the majority of the electors do not really care what goes on in the civic administration.

Following a hotly-contested election campaign barely one-third of the qualified electors — 34 per cent to be exact — bothered to cast their ballots, representing a drop of one-third from the 50 per cent turnout in 1967 when the other South Ward seat was contested.

If the small vote cast Wednesday permits any real significance to be attached to the victory of Marc Bureau it is that those citizens who do take an interest in municipal affairs are becoming increasingly concerned with the growing cost of operating the city, with a consequent threat of a substantial boost in the real estate tax rate and perhaps in some of the other special taxes.

To an extent the defeat of Ald. Gerard Bernard after 14 years as a member of the City Council may have been based more on issues than on personalities.

If such is the case the present administration must accept it as a warning that the citizens will no longer tolerate excuses for what many believe the failure of the powers-that-be to keep operating costs under control.

During the next two years the so-called independent group which now barely controls the Council must provide definite examples of improved efficiency if they hope to retain power in the 1970 general elections.

If you consider the money that's raked in by institutions of higher learning, you can better appreciate references to "the hauls of ivy."

Who desires economy?

Economy is always foremost in the minds of the Members of Parliament, especially at election time, with promises that if they are re-elected they will see that government expenditures are brought down.

The cost-cutting would be widespread, but judging from resolutions placed on the Order Paper for the present session of Parliament the economies must not bear down on their pet projects nor on the interests of their constituents.

At the last listing this week 44 notices of motions have been inscribed by private MPs for discussion at the current session and of these 22 would involve additional government spending or reduced revenues.

Among other things the House is invited to support an additional Trans-Canada Highway, free loans to university students, a guaranteed minimum income to every citizen and the raising of the basic old-age pension.

And to disrupt government revenues, members would have their colleagues consider making residential taxes deductible from income tax, giving family planning assistance to developing countries and providing seminars for young Canadians who would go to Ottawa to gain an insight into the workings of government.

Due to the restricted time provided for debating private members' motions most of these proposals will never receive an airing and the others probably will be talked out.

But the list does indicate the MPs believe economy is good — for somebody else.

The best thing we've seen in autos in a long time was a redhead stopped at the traffic light as we crossed the street this morning.

French Canada says:

Says Ottawa must revise its budget and give new statements

Quebec Le Soleil—Despite all the forecasts, Ottawa must revise its budget and present financial statements differing from what the government had been hoping for. The Trudeau administration has sought since June to reduce its expenses as much as possible, in various areas regarded as more or less of priority importance.

But what got slashed from one account was added on to another, and the additions were often greater than the cuts. Nevertheless, reductions in expenses involving scientific research have been made since the Trudeau government came to power. . . . The large number of projects scrapped caused Opposition Leader Stanfield to say that the Trudeau government "was beginning to alarm Canadian researchers." The prime minister replied that this had become necessary for the time being for reasons of economy, but Canada would continue to have a very progressive program of scientific research. The government had also reduced expenses in several other departments.

On the other hand, according to the revised budgetary estimates, expenses have increased by almost $400,000,000 over those estimated in the first version of the budget for this fiscal year. Expenses in social security, education and debt charges and amortization exceeded forecasts. Medical care insurance costs . . . went up unexpectedly. . . .

If Ottawa has not been able to put an end to several years of budgetary deficits, once again we should not be surprised at the fact that the federal government will have to show itself more and more cautious while seeking still other ways to cut down on expenses. But it would be much more logical if the provincial governments felt they were under the same obligation. It is wrong to go on thinking that the federal government can act as a horn of plenty for all those provincial governments dying to acquire powers of self-determination. As a country, Canada has obligations to which all its parts must subscribe.—A. Tremblay (Sept. 27)

Ottawa Le Droit—Our federal MPs did wonders and showed a great deal of wisdom in managing to avoid using up all the time allotted for debate on the throne speech. . . . Off to such a good start, they have only to proceed in the same manner until the session is over and restrain themselves when it is obvious that their comments will add neither weight nor quality to the legislation they are called upon to adopt. . . . Much remains to be done during this session of Parliament. It is to be hoped that the first session will dispose of all outstanding business, notably that involving reform of rules and procedures, which is aimed at maximum use of time in the House. Temporary reform of the rules brought desirable results during the last few years. Hopefully, it will be perfected and made permanent. If this is achieved, the House will be in a better position to devote itself to its first task, which is to legislate.

Like Great Britain, whose parliamentarians Canadian MPs like to imitate, Ottawa must see to it that only questions of true national urgency are entertained, on condition that the ministers to which they are addressed are first informed of them in writing. It is also imperative that members refrain from using the question periods to raise false questions of privilege such as demands for correction of Hansard and other such trivia. Equally important, our ministers must be freed of their obligation to be present in the Commons each day, which is what Mr. Trudeau has been so reasonably urging. . . . Once agreement on rules and procedures is achieved, our MPs must quickly attack all truly serious questions, such as legislation and putting into effect recommendations of commissions, committees and councils. An organization such as the Economic Council of Canada exists for good reason, and so its observations and recommendations should be given the attention they deserve. This is true as well for recommendations of royal commissions whose reports very often serve only to decorate the shelves of our legislators' libraries.—Marcel Gignas (Sept. 27)

Montreal La Presse—The speech which the late premier Johnson unhappily was unable to give . . . at the No. 5 dam at Manicouagan contained a ringing message of confidence and a forceful invitation to excellence addressed to his fellow citizens. . . . "Quebec in the space era will be a Quebec which is stronger, more confident and more determined than ever," he was to have said, "on the condition that it remains in the forefront of progress and that it takes advantage of new methods which science will place at its disposal for the cementing of ever-closer relations with other human communities." . . .

Language is a living thing which must progress by adapting to the particular exigencies and circumstances of the era it is part of. French is no exception to this rule. . . .

Since its nationalization, the directors of Hydro-Quebec attempted to show that French could become the principal language of work within a large state organization, "without diminishing in any way the success of the enterprise." It did not take them long to demonstrate beyond a doubt the truth of this. Today, the metamorphosis is complete, but the gradual changes which took place produced no catastrophes, quite the contrary.

Isn't it correct to say instead that thousands of workers and employees' associations were given a great opportunity on being allowed at last to feel "at home" in their place of work? The circumstances and climate of the time being propitious, the Hydro-Quebec experiment was easily transferred to the construction yards at Manicouagan.

This was Mr. Johnson's justification when he said in his posthumous speech: "Hydro-Quebec is proof that Quebecers, be they English- or French-speaking, are capable of succeeding not only in occupations of a traditional nature but also in the fields of science, technology and big business." To say the opposite, which is often done, is to lend support to another destructive myth which we would be happy to discard.

Another and perhaps more recent preoccupation of Mr. Johnson was his fear that his fellow Quebecers could become isolated and culturally asphyxiated. With the coming of the age of satellite communications, the exigencies and dimensions of this problem now are changing radically. His views on this important matter . . . are themselves another invitation to us all to outdo ourselves.—Cyrille Felleau (Sept. 28)

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Capt. Charles S. Boycott's name is remembered not for anything he did but for what the Irish people did to him. The World Almanac says. As an English rent collector in Ireland in 1880, Boycott evicted tenants. In reply, farmers and servants would not work for him, tradesmen would not sell to him, neighbors ostracized him. As we would say today, he was "boycotted."

Readers say:

Urges self-control against immorality

Dear Sir:
I have been following with interest the news in your valued paper, the Pope's encyclical banning artificial means of birth control in place of using Christian self-control and the resulting controversy as to whether he was right in doing so.

In all the discussion there has never been any mention of what God has to say on this matter. Whether the Pope is infallible or not is questionable but we can be sure God is incapable of erring as the definition of the word infallible implies. Jesus Christ, his apostles and the first-century Christians all had deep respect for God's word as found in the portion of the Bible that they had at that time. Jesus said in his prayer to God: "Your word is truth." (John 17:17) The apostle Paul told the Thesalonians in his first letter to them chapter two, verse thirteen: "When you received God's word, which you heard from us, you accepted it, not as the word of men, but just as it truthfully is, as the word of God."

Before there can be any constructive dialogue there has to be an acceptable standard to go by. Now if we believe that God's word, the Bible, is the only infallible standard to go by, we can accept what Paul told and instructed the Colossians to do: "Deaden, therefore your body members that are upon the earth as respects, fornication, uncleanness, sexual appetite, hurtful desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry." By the things that a person lets his mind dwell upon, he can deaden or live his sexual appetite by letting one's mind dwell on proper christian's thoughts and there would be no need for artificial means of birth control.

Today, from every direction the inticements to improper sexual desire crowd in upon us. "Romantic" novels, and particularly the cheap picture-story-type magazines which glamorize sex under the guise of "true love". Few films today can hope for success without somewhere in the script pandering to the perverted moral taste of the majority of cinemagoers. At social gatherings one is exposed to talk which often gravitates to sex and "adventures" with those of the opposite sex, whether real or imagined. Another evidence of perversion and undue occupation with sex is the desire on the part of both men and women to exhibit themselves. Sex is elevated for commercial reasons and for reasons of self-indulgence. While the Bible is not a style book, and does not prescribe the form of dress that people should wear, Christians should dress modestly, because it is suitable and appropriate for good Christian thoughts and conduct.

Man was not provided with sex organs by his Creator, Jehovah God, that he use them as play things but for the specific purpose of producing children. By the misuse of the sex organs and not following God's instructions for good healthful living he finds the need of some artificial means of birth control. By approving the use of artificial means of birth control or the "pill" as it has come to be known as, the clergy and the medical profession are only acting as stooges for the drug companies without any regard for the health of the individual. How many things can we think of that were thought to be safe to take, have not proved to be so. Would it not be better to practice a little Christian self-control even if as Paul said it means "browbeating the body" than to take the easy way and endanger one's health.

Thanking you for the space in your valued paper to bring to the attention of its readers the Christian view of what God has to say in the matter of birth control, I am.

Sincerely yours,
R. A. DEACON,
Lennoxville

TEN YEARS AGO

The 27th annual Rotary Fair closed Saturday night in the Belvedere Street Armory.

The fair fell almost $900 short of last year's gross receipts for the three-night event.

The reason for this year's results was blamed on light attendance.

Jimmy Maxwell, Lennoxville, was the big winner taking the $500 raffle draw. The fur coat was won by Newton Munkittrick, Sherbrooke.

Winners of the $10 prize Saturday night were: Larry Karpman, St. Laurent; H. F. Hicks, Lennoxville; J. R. Sangster and Lucien Belanger.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

A group of 16 New Hampshire Lions, some accompanied by their wives, arrived last night in Sherbrooke for their inter-club meeting at the New Sherbrooke Hotel tonight.

Feature of the meeting will be the induction of new members of the Sherbrooke Lions Club by the New Hampshire induction team, headed by International Counsellor Basil Joanides of Manchester.

Lions from Magog and Coaticook will also attend the meeting. There will be a local reception committee headed by President Jean Gauthier and inter-club chairman Eddie Caron.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

DRUMMONDVILLE (Staff)—A whirlwind campaign with a $3,000 objective has been launched by the Group committee of the Boy Scouts here.

The campaign is to last two weeks in the course of which all parents of the Scouts and friends of the movement will be personally canvassed.

The chairman of the campaign committee is G. A. Awcock, who has been mainly responsible for the organization of the drive. R. N. Ferguson has been appointed to the committee as director of the canvass.

The red coral of Mediterranean waters, world's most precious coral, was prized for centuries for its beauty as ornamentation. The Gauls decorated their helmets with it and the Romans thought it had magical and medical virtues.

Lambeth Conference airs ambivalence

VICTORIA — (CP) — The Lambeth Conference this summer aired some of the ambivalence in the ecumenical movement between the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches, two church leaders have agreed here.

Anglican Archbishop Harold Sexton, 80, was the senior bishop and the oldest one at the conference.

Bishop Remi De Roo, 44, was one of the youngest to attend and was one of only three Roman Catholic bishops in the world chosen to attend the Anglican Church's conference in London, held about once a decade.

At a joint press conference after returning here from the month-long conference, Archbishop Sexton said it had "had a wonderful effect toward unity."

He said he believes the Anglican Church is the key toward unity of all churches "because we can stretch out in two directions, towards the Protestants and the Catholics."

Bishop De Roo praised steps made toward unity at the conference, and cited discussions which were begun by the Archbishop of Canterbury and Pope Paul in 1966 and were continued by the Anglican-Roman Joint Preparatory Commission which met at Gazzada, Italy; Huntercombe, England, and Malta. "This now has moved beyond their personal initiative," Bishop De Roo said, "and has received the approval of the Anglican communion at the conference."

He cited the growing number of unity schemes developing between Anglican and other Christian bodies and between English Methodists and the Church of England. Bishop De Roo said the Roman Catholic observers learned the Anglican Church will permit inter-communion as soon as there is a formal agreement.

Premier's wife says the family will be more important than ever

Bolton Centre

By DAVE BAZAY

QUEBEC (CP) — The wife of Quebec's new premier is a petite, brown-eyed beauty whose eldest son describes her as the ideal wife for a politician.

Mrs. Jean-Jacques Bertrand met her husband in her father's law office in the Eastern Townships village of Sweetsburg, now annexed to Cowansville, 45 miles southeast of Montreal.

"He was my father's associate. I met him at the office. It happened like that."

Gabrielle Giroux, whose father was a member of the legislative council, married Jean-Jacques Bertrand in 1944 when she was 21.

They have seven bilingual children.

The family posed for pictures Wednesday with Marie, at eight the youngest child, sitting on her father's knee.

HUSBAND OFTEN AWAY

Mrs. Bertrand's husband has been in politics, and often away from home, for 20 of the 24 years of their marriage.

Jean-Francois, 22, in his final year of a political science course at Laval University, says his mother is "the ideal politician's wife" because she comes from a political family.

"With her, it has been total approval and understanding for my father from the start—especially in the difficult times."

Mrs. Bertrand says her grandfather, a Conservative, was in 1892 the first French-Canadian to settle in the region once inhabited mainly by United Empire Loyalists.

CLOSE TO DUPLESSIS

"My father was an intimate of Maurice Duplessis," founder of the Union Nationale party, Mrs. Bertrand said. "That's how Jean-Jacques got into politics."

The Bertrand family lives in a 100-year-old Norman-style clapboard house where Mrs. Bertrand was born May 15, 1923. She has not maintained a residence in Quebec City, but now must move here.

"I think the presence of the family is more important to him now than ever," she says. "Our presence will help him at the end of a long day."

She engages actively in campaigning merely by being present alongside her husband, the son of a CPR telegraph operator and station agent who was considered a Liberal.

Educated at a college classique or private Roman Catholic college at St. Hyacinthe, Que., Mrs. Bertrand speaks French and English, like the rest of the family.

KNOWS POLITICAL FACTS

The politician's wife says: "English-speaking people make up about 30 per cent of the electorate in our riding."

To help the children improve their knowledge of English, the Bertrands have sent them to summer camps in Ontario and have spent family holidays in the United States.

Andree, 23, the oldest, is a social worker in Montreal; Jean-Francois, 22, is a Laval student keenly interested in politics; Suzanne, 20, is a first-year student in medicine at the University of Sherbrooke.

Pierre, 19, is in his final year of classical college at St. Jean Louise. 16, Louis-Philippe, 12, and Marie, 8, are the other children of this big family vaulted into the spotlight by the death of Premier Daniel Johnson.

Bolton Centre

BOLTON CENTRE—On Sept. 18 a meeting of the U.C.W. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elgar Gaylor. The worship period was conducted by Mrs. Irene Gaylor, using material taken from a book, Adults at Worship, followed by prayer.

Correspondence included a letter from Mrs. Myrtle Bailey, Fergus, Ont., with her contribution of a small crib quilt and a pair of pot holders, requesting they be sold at a church sale and proceeds used for church maintenance or cemetery funds. Thank you notes were received from the John Willard family expressing appreciation for an expression of sympathy at the death of Mrs. Christine Willard, a former member of the U.C.W., and from Mrs. Gaylon Davis for a gift received at her bridal shower.

The treasurer reported $145.58 received from catering done at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Durrell, and $345.51 from the church sale. The guessing contest held at the sale was won by Miss Mary Paige, Bolton Centre, who was closest to the number on a $2 bill, sealed in an envelope.

A request to cater at a wedding on Oct. 12 was refused as too few members could assist on that date. The purchase of more dishes, cutlery and better serving tables was discussed. The secretary is to write for price lists.

Regrets were expressed that the Junior Choir picnic had to be postponed. Suggestions for making articles for the 1969 sale were discussed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Barnes on Nov. 6th.

Miss Lois Thayer, Brome, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Kathen Peasley and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mitchell and son, Michael, of North Troy, Vt., also spent the weekend with the Peasleys.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parsons and family, Somerville, Mass., visited their grandmother, Mrs. Ella McGill, over the weekend.

Mr. John Willard has now returned home from the Sherbrooke Hospital. His health is much improved.

Mr. Earl Paige has undergone surgery in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cousens are visiting their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Cook and family in the suburbs of Ottawa.

Group enjoys autumn color of ET during cavalcade

KNOWLTON — (Special) — Long, long ago, the English poet, Geoffrey Chaucer, in the Canterbury Tales, spoke of April as the season inspiring travellers to go on journeys: "Thanne longen folk to goon on pilgrimages".

Had he known the glory of the colored foliage of our autumn days in the Eastern Townships, he would have understood that this was the time of the year to go on pilgrimages to our ancient shrines. They went to Canterbury but we, perhaps, stop oftener and see more.

This year's Cavalcade started from the Centennial Archives building in Knowlton at ten a.m., on Saturday morning and a long line of cars was soon on its way through narrow lanes and side roads. Very noticeable among the pilgrims were the many young people and children.

The Cavalcade journeyed first through Knowlton where boys and girls held up large signs before each place of interest, which could be easily read by those in the cars, and which was a fresh and pleasing note in the well-organized journey. The first house built by Paul Holland, Knowlton, the site of the Molson, Sovereign and Eastern Townships Banks, the location of the first Brome County Fairgrounds, the site of the Old Knowlton Inn, once run as a sanitarium by the Seventh Day

By L. A. KEARNS (Record Correspondent)

Adventists, were all noted.

Through a narrow, leafy lane we arrived at the four corners where the Tibbits Hill Stone Pioneer School Museum was visited. Its forerunner was a log schoolhouse built in 1827. The stone school house was built in 1844-45 by Erastus and Russell Tibbits and was used continuously as a school for over eighty years until 1927. It is furnished with the original rough-hewn desks and benches and is an interesting window into the past.

A plaque relating its past will soon be placed on this historic building.

The line of cars proceeded along the Brome Centre Road and passed the original Tibbits Hill Farm, once the home of Russell Tibbits but now owned by Lt. Col. Ian R. McDougall. At Frizzle's Four Corners the road leads south from Bondville to Owens Corners where Sherman Frizzle and his brother Lawrence's farms are situated, and further on we come to the Brome Centre School and the old Brome Centre United Church, built in 1908 and now a residence, passing the farms formerly owned by Marshall Miller, John Beerwort, and the old Vernal farm, all pioneer settlers, and then arrived at the Brome Centre Cemetery.

The oldest stone in this cemetery may be that of Palmer Marsh who settled in this area in 1831 and died in 1841. Elder Loren Marsh was the son of Palmer Marsh, who was the first of his family to settle in this vicinity, and through their efforts, and those of the Rev. E. G. Chadsey, the Union Adventist Church was built in Iron Hill.

Continuing along a narrow country road, the Cavalcade arrived at a very old settlement known as the Hastings Neighborhood, which was settled very early by Amos and Mary (Hill) Hastings, who came from New Hampshire. An interesting example of what has been done in other areas, with burial grounds no longer used, is the Hastings Monument.

This monument was built a few years ago by the family of Linton Hastings, and shows how stones in an old family cemetery may be preserved. The wall was placed through the cemetery, the long way, and in the wall are placed nineteen gravestones. The wall is 22 feet long and 18 inches wide, and after it was completed the four corners of the old cemetery were established by burying some of the old bases in the corners deep enough not to be in the way of the plough.

The monument is placed between the two original Hastings farms and is high on a hill. This treatment of old disused and abandoned burying grounds in several localities may be the solution to the existence of the many neglected family cemeteries that still are problems to historical societies.

The old Hastings or Gage school is now a residence, and further on is Iron Hill and Holy Trinity Anglican Church, built in 1865 by Rev. Thomas Fyles.

The best player doesn't always make the most tricks. He will over a period of years but on some hands he deliberately adopts a safer line of play to insure his contract.

Take today's hand played by Ralph Chafetz at New York's Mayfair Club. Ralph was in a four-spade contract and, while he had no objection to making an overtrick, his main purpose was to make sure of his contract.

He could count 10 winners without any trouble but his problem was to see that East and West couldn't collect four tricks before he got them.

All else being equal, the right way to play trumps when you miss four to the queen is to play out your ace and king but all else wasn't equal. Ralph wanted to keep East out of the lead because East could lead a club through Ralph's king.

Ralph had to lose a diamond trick in any event. One diamond loser, plus a spade loser, plus two club losers adds up to four defensive tricks.

Ralph wasn't going to let that happen. He won the heart lead. Then he led a trump to dummy's ace and returned the jack. East played low and Ralph finessed. West took his queen and collected his minor suit aces later, but Ralph was perfectly happy. He scored game and rubber.

Suppose that East held the ace of diamonds and got in with that card to lead a club and set Ralph? Ralph had listened to the bidding. West had opened one heart on a jack-high suit. He needed both missing aces to have an opening bid!

The private world of an Ambassador: we've gone to some length to improve it.

When you drive a car as personally rewarding as our Ambassador, every aspect becomes a refinement of your own private world.

This year, even more so. We've made the body longer. And prettied up the face to go with it. We've extended the wheelbase. (Now it's 122").

We've made Ambassador's platform larger than any car in its class. The result is an amazingly stable ride.

We've increased the horsepower in the standard engine to add swiftness to the stability.

We've widened the engine choice. You can choose from five.

We've indulged in a plentiful number of interior elegant touches. Like plush velour upholstery. And new carpet fabrics.

But what still makes Ambassador a uniquely private world is the air conditioning.

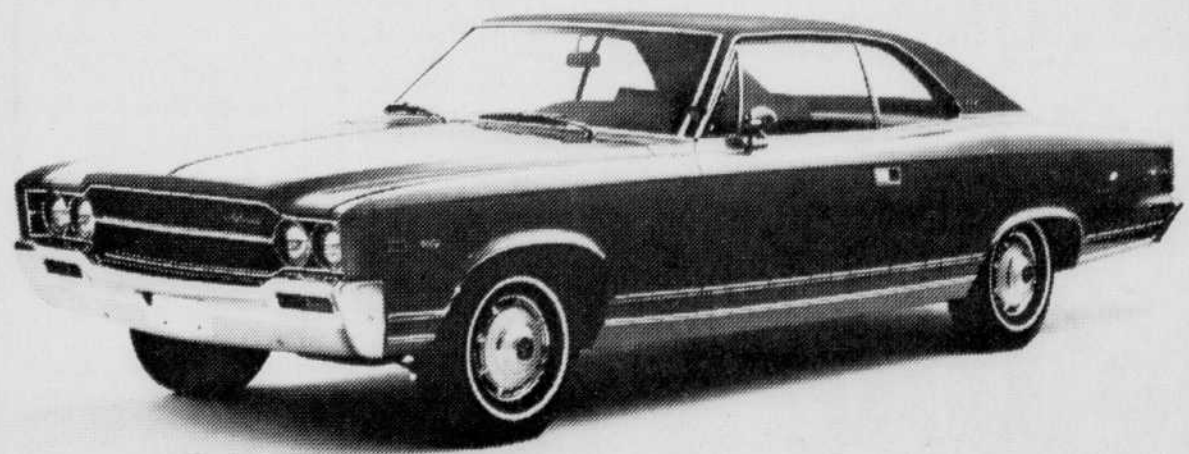

We innovated it as standard equipment last year. And you can still take your own climate around with you this year.

(Unless you're prepared to pay over $10,000 for a car, you can consider air conditioning an Ambassador exclusive.)

Why not see your American Motors dealer and contemplate entering the private world of an Ambassador this year? It's as easy to enter as a Ford or a Chev.

And for that kind of money, it's a world apart.

Richmond bride-elect feted by friends

RICHMOND — A pleasant evening was enjoyed at the Richmond and Melbourne Golf Club House, Melbourne, Thursday evening Sept. 26, when Mrs. E. C. Nixon, Mrs. Raymond Dunn, Mrs. Melvin Wentworth, Mrs. Earl Copping and Mrs. Cameron Osborne were hostesses at a surprise miscellaneous shower, given in honor of Miss Sharon Snowe, Richmond, whose approaching marriage takes place shortly.

The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Melvin Wentworth, of Melbourne. Guests attending were from Beebe, North Hatley, Sherbrooke, Summerside, P.E.I., Hampstead, Melbourne Ridge, Trenholm, Melbourne and Richmond.

As the bride-to-be entered the hall, where a basket of autumn flowers was placed before the fire place, she was pleasantly surprised to find 86 friends and relatives gathered to greet her. She was welcomed by the hostesses and presented with a corsage of roses by Mrs. Nixon, and escorted to a seat of honor at a long decorated table laden with gaily wrapped gifts.

Seated on either side of the guest of honor were her mother, Mrs. Arnold Snowe, future mother-in-law, Mrs. Paul Parent, Melbourne, and grandmother, Mrs. Howard Hills. Each was presented with corsages by the hostesses, and assisted in unwrapping the gifts.

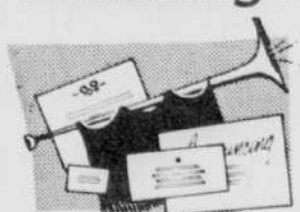

Mrs. Nixon, on behalf of the guests presented Miss Snowe with the gifts; the four decorated baskets being brought in at intervals and placed on the table by the Misses Wendy Snowe, Brenda Nixon, Carole Parent, Roxy Kydd, Donna Armstrong, Janet Frazer, Diane Wentworth and Sharon Osborne. Included in the gifts was one from the Junior Choir of Chalmers United Church, of which Miss Snowe is a member.

A hat of the ribbons and bows was made by several of the guests, which was worn by the bride-elect.

Following an enjoyable social hour, refreshments were served by the hostesses, including a shower cake topped with a bride and open lace shower parasol, which was cut by Miss Snowe and served to the guests.

• A soft trapeze line distinguishes the majority of day dresses. There are also a number of overdresses worn with knitted ribbed sweaters or jump suits with towering turtlenecks.

October bride-elect 'showered'

ROCK ISLAND — Miss Sandra Cunningham, home for a few days before her marriage in Montreal, which will take place Oct. 5, was the much surprised guest of honor at a shower held at the home of her neighbor, Mrs. Ernest Nicholson, in Rock Island.

The bride-elect had accompanied members of the family to Tomfobia on an errand and on returning went into the home of Mrs. Nicholson with her sister-in-law, Mrs. David Cunningham, where she found some 25 relatives and friends awaiting her.

She was presented with a kitchen novelty corsage and escorted to a chair between her mother, Mrs. Doris Cunningham, Rock Island and her future sister-in-law, Mrs. Joe Kass, Sherbrooke. The color theme was white, yellow and blue, the chair in corresponding color and seasonal flowers.

Several quiz games were played, the winners receiving prizes.

Later, Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. David Cunningham, the assisting hostess, served refreshments, which included the shower cake, made and decorated by Mrs. George Soutiere, aunt of the bride-elect, in white with flowers, umbrella and a mirror. Guests were from Sherbrooke, Coaticook and the Boundary Villages.

Methot — Robinson vows exchanged

SUTTON — A pretty autumn wedding took place here in St. Andre's Catholic Church, Sept. 7, 1968 at 12:00 noon when Margaret Mina, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson, became the bride of Mr. Paul Methot, of Lachine, son of Mrs. Esther Methot and the late Mr. Leo Methot.

Rev. Real Lareau, officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Mrs. Fred Larouche was at the organ. Baskets of gladioli adorned the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length princess style gown of net covered slipper satin featuring a sleeveless bodice and high collar. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was held by an ornamented crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a gold locket and chain the gift of her grandmother, the late Mrs. Ernest Lee.

Mr. Clark Methot acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were Keith Russell, cousin of the bride and Robert Methot, brother of the groom. Mrs. Robinson, mother of the bride, chose a jacket dress of green linen with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Methot, the groom's mother, wore an off-white princess-style dress of rayon crepe with a grey stole. Her corsage was of blue cornflowers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Horizon Motel, where the bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake made by the bride's mother and decorated in white topped with a miniature bride and groom by Mrs. Roland Gibson. The long tables were arranged with low bowls of cut flowers and lighted white tapers.

Later, the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls.

Scarborough and Brantford, Ont. For travelling the bride chose a navy blue wool dress with white lace jabot, black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty Roses.

Guests attending were from Lowell, Mass., Ottawa, Scarborough, Brantford, Ont., Lachine, Vaudreuil, Chateauguay, Waterloo, West Brome, West Sutton, Selby Lake and Sutton. Mr. and Mrs. Methot will reside at 35th Avenue, Lachine, Que.

Prior to her marriage, the bride was entertained at two showers, a miscellaneous, given by Mrs. Leon Jordan and Mrs. Walter Liebrecht, of West Sutton and a kitchen shower by her aunts, Mrs. John Robinson and Mrs. Bernice Russell, Sutton. The bride also received a set of lingerie and bathroom scales from the employees of Allis-Chalmers Ltd., Lachine, where she has been an employee. Mr. Methot was presented with a chest of silver and purse of money from the Postal Department, Lachine, where he is employed.

Austin couple celebrate 60th anniversary

AUSTIN — Mr. and Mrs. John P. Taylor, of Austin, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Sept. 21 in the Austin Town Hall, when many relatives, friends and neighbors gathered to congratulate them on the special occasion. The guests of honor were seated at a table arranged with candles and the traditional wedding cake, made by their daughter, Mrs. Norman Evans.

The Austin Women's Institute served refreshments both in the afternoon and evening.

Many gifts were presented to the couple, including a transistor radio from their grandchildren; an engraved silver tray and personal gifts from their immediate family; as well as various gifts and currency.

Among the telegrams and letters received, was one from Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, the Hon. Pierre — Elliott Trudeau, the late Premier Daniel Johnson, Hon. Hugues Lapointe, Yves Forest, M.P., Glendon Brown, M.P.P., and the Brome Historical Society.

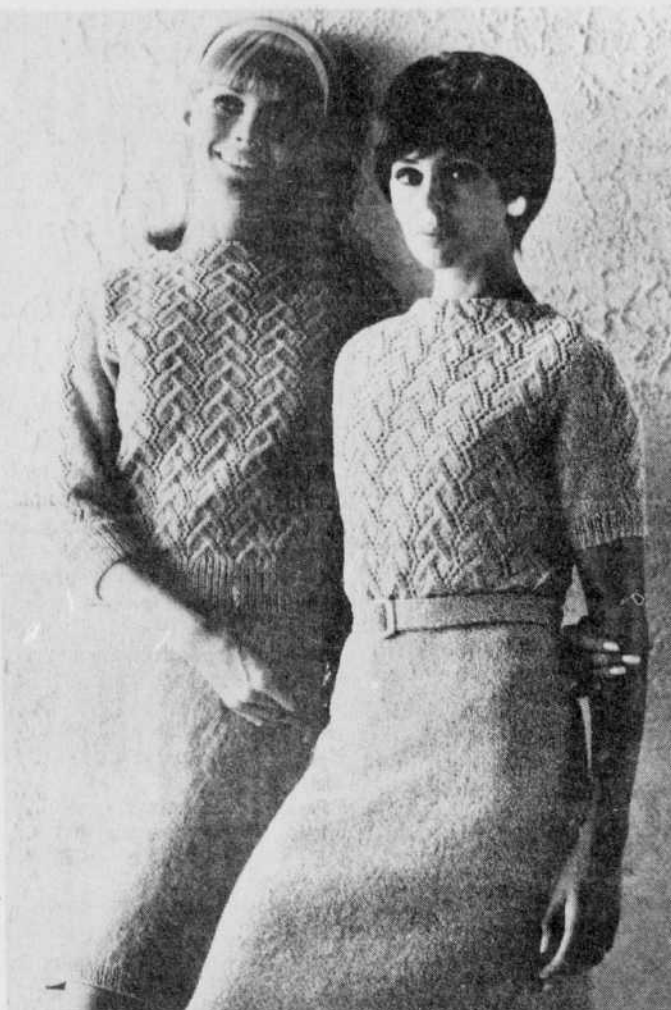

Mrs. John Pritchard, a granddaughter, was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were married in the Methodist Church at Farnam's Corner, Sept. 23, 1908, and have spent their entire married lives on the home farm, where Mr. Taylor was born.

Since the farm has been in continual family ownership for over 100 years, the Brome Historical Society presented them with one of their treasured certificates, several years ago.

Out-of-town guests were from Sutton, Sherbrooke, N.S., Ottawa, South Stukely, Kazabazua, East Farnham, Foster, Montreal, Magog, Sherbrooke, St. Hilaire, Fredericton, N.B., Bedford, Pointe Claire, Dollard des Ormeaux, Bolton Glen, Knowlton Landing and Georgeville.

Today's recipe

BAKED STEAK

- 1/2 lb. mushrooms, sliced
 - 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - 1 large green pepper, cut into rings
 - 2 large onions, sliced and separated into rings
 - 1 1/2 cup ketchup
 - 1/4 cup strong coffee
 - 1 slice (about 2 1/2 lbs.) top sirloin of beef, cut 2 to 2 1/2 inches thick
 - Instant meat tenderizer, optional
- Saute mushrooms lightly in butter; push to one side. Add green pepper and onion rings. Cook until soft but not brown; mix with mushrooms. Add ketchup and coffee; simmer 5 minutes. Treat steak with instant meat tenderizer as directed on label. Broil steak just long enough to brown well on both sides. Transfer to shallow baking pan or platter. Spoon part of the sauce over steak (save the rest to serve with the steak). Bake at 350° for 15 to 20 minutes for rare, longer for medium or well done.

Says bishops ideas won't hurt the Pope

MONTREAL (CP) — Most Rev. Paul Grogier, Archbishop of Montreal, says a declaration by Canada's Roman Catholic bishops backing use in good faith of artificial methods of birth control in no way undermines the authority of the Pope or the teaching of the Church.

The Canadian Conference of Bishops, a semi-annual meeting of bishops which finished recently in Winnipeg, agrees with "the teaching of the Pope on the value, dignity and morality of marriage as its link to procreation," Archbishop Grogier said at Man and His World.

Speaking at a news conference at the Christian pavilion following a day-long tour Wednesday of the former islands of Expo 67, the prelate said the question posed by contraception is one of correlating individual conscience with the law of God.

Pointing to the second Vatican Council which said men must behave in accordance to conscience that is in harmony with the law of God and the Church, he added:

"But there are some who are in good faith and who have not the possibility to form, as it were, a right conscience. This would include those of the perplexed conscience or those whose consciences cannot be reformed."

"These persons, we must say, are not cut off from the love of God or the mystical body of the Church."

EXPRESSES AGREEMENT

Archbishop Grogier said he agrees with the bishops' declaration that Pope Paul's encyclical opposition to artificial methods of birth control can, in some instances, be tempered by considerations of conscience formed on "truly Christian values and principles."

The conference document, made public last Friday, went a step farther than Pope Paul's statements on birth control by treating the "right of the individual to act according to his conscience."

Bishop Alexandre Carter of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., told a news conference following publication of the conference declaration that the bishops did not reject the teachings of the encyclical, but simply went beyond it.

"We went into pastoral concrete circumstances of individual consciences in which the Pope had no intention of doing and couldn't do in a letter addressed to the world," Bishop Carter said.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that The Stanstead & Sherbrooke Insurance Company has received from the Department of Insurance, Ottawa, Certificate of Registry, No. C2465, authorizing it to transact in Canada the business of Aircraft Insurance and Credit Insurance, in addition to the classes for which it is already registered.

Sherbrooke, Que. J. P. GAUTIER, President and Managing Director. September 27th, 1968.

Park overnight

OTTAWA (CP) — The vanguard of an estimated 200 to 300 farm tractors scheduled to be driven to Parliament Hill in a protest demonstration parked overnight a few miles west of the Hill.

The farmers are complaining that low-cost corn imports from the United States are depressing Canadian prices. The government said Thursday it would seek the co-operation of American authorities to keep the U.S. corn at home.

Won't succeed

HAMILTON (CP) — Finance Minister E. J. Benson said Thursday night Ontario Premier John Robarts will not be successful in demands that Ottawa give the province a greater slice of federal tax revenues.

"We are not a well that anyone can dip into," Mr. Benson said in an interview. He was here to address a testimonial dinner for Health Minister John Munro, 37-year-old member of Parliament for Hamilton East.

A temptation

WASHINGTON (CP) — A temptation to avoid conflict after a perilous year in world finance beset the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund Thursday.

It faced two politically-loaded questions that could come to decisions today or be laid aside for quiet compromises later.

Bunny attitude

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian air lines adopt a "bunny club" attitude towards their stewardesses, says a brief today to the royal commission on the status of women.

In the brief for presentation at the commission's last public hearing, the Canadian Air Lines Flight Attendants' Association says stewardesses may have suffered more bigotry from their employers than any other female group in Canada.

KNOWLTON LANDING

Mrs. George Drummond entertained recently at Greenshields, her country home, in honor of Mrs. Andre Tasche-reau, Quebec City. Among the guests were Mrs. A. F. Culver, Mrs. J. E. Perrault and Mrs. D. C. Coleman, Montreal.

Mrs. Ray Jones, accompanied by her guests, Mrs. Ed. Beak, Montreal, Miss Donna Armour, Jane and Mary Jones, and Kim Patterson, Mansonsville, motored to Jefferson, Mass., on Sept. 29 and spent the day at Santa's Village.

Mrs. Porter Knowlton was a recent guest of her mother and sister, Mrs. A. Davidson and Miss Irene Davidson, at their cottage on the Georgeville Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Ethier, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Armand Briere, Granby, motored to Quebec City to attend the funeral of Mr. Lucien Pare.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Talbot, Deadman, Mass., arrived on Sept. 27 to spend the weekend with Mrs. G. Drummond. They also called on old friends in the vicinity. Other weekend guests at the same home were Miss Wanda Drummond and Mrs. Heenan, Montreal. Mrs. Drummond accompanied them to the city where she will attend an I.H.N. meeting before returning to the cottage.

Archdeacon T. F. Morris, Mrs. Morris and the former's sister, Mrs. Jefferson, spent the weekend at their cottage.

Dr. B. D. Young, Campbellville, who has been a guest of his brother, Mr. John Young, Mansonsville, was calling on Mr. and Mrs. Porter Knowlton.

CEMETERY NOTICE

To all those who have parents or relatives in the South Elv Protestant Cemetery and wish to contribute towards the upkeep of the cemetery, the committee in charge will welcome all contributions. Please forward your donations to the Secretary-Treasurer, Paul H. Brouillet, Valcourt, R.R. 2, Province of Quebec.

Cards of Thanks

COTE — The family of the late Mr. Roch Cote, wish to express their sincere thanks and deep appreciation, to those who visited their father, during his long illness; and at the time of his death. To those who sent cards, called at the funeral parlor, and attended the Church service. Your thoughtfulness will long be remembered.

THE FAMILY

HARRON — We wish to express our sincere thanks to all those who sent flowers, messages of sympathy, as well as to those who helped in many other ways, during the illness and at the time of death of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Chester Harron. A special thanks to those who visited her in the hospital, to Rev. Lovelace, Rev. Gustafson, Mrs. Fox, Miss Theima Crawford, the pall bearers, the staff on the second floor of the D'Youville Hospital; and to Mrs. Gordon Harron, Mrs. R. Kirkby and Mrs. Alice Price for preparing and serving supper after the interment. Your kindness will never be forgotten.

THE HARRON FAMILY

LUNDEBERG — I wish to express my thanks to the nurses on the 4th floor, and to those who cared for me while I was a patient in the Hotel Dieu Hospital. To all those who sent cards, flowers, gifts, and to all who visited me. A special thanks to everyone who contributed towards my Sunshine Basket when I returned home.

Sincerely,
MRS. LOTTIE LUNDEBERG,
Moe's River, Que.

Macdonald College

Congratulations to those Chateauguay Valley young people who have been making a mark lately. Gaston Allard phoned me the other day to bring me up to date. Gaston is in charge of young farmers' work in the region.

Donald Sproule who is in first year Agriculture at Macdonald College, has won the $600 Canadian National Exhibition scholarship and a trip to the Ex. Mark Templeton will be competing with his father for the show ribbons any time now. He judged his way to win the $150 put up by the Montreal Kiwanis Club for the purchase of a heifer. One guess what breed it will be.

Then Chris Ness won the provincial farm safety competition, while Ken MacFarlane placed 4th in the Provincial Junior Agriculture Competition, diploma graduate section. In the non-diploma section Jimmy Todd placed 5th. Ken and Jimmy will go to the National 4-H Convention in November and they stand a good chance for a trip to Europe. They have worked hard for their club, and fully deserve the honors that have come their way.

Up the Ottawa River Chris Judd held up his end of the stick in Pontiac County by placing first in the same provincial competition. Chris, along with Ken MacFarlane graduated with their Diplomas in Agriculture last May, and both went back to their farms.

Gaston has also told me that Miss Francoise Gaudette has just joined the regional staff to help out with the young peoples' work. Watch the membership go up now!

While I was away at the old farm last Saturday loading oats, all kinds of events were happening locally. The annual sale of the Quebec Aberdeen Angus Association brought an average of $441 for the 39 females and $605 for the 7 bulls to the consignors. Jim Houston the Association's secretary tells me that this is down a bit from last year, but still pretty good. The top female went to Texas for $1,100 along with 5 other head. Jim says the buyers were definitely looking for larger cattle this year. The show, held a morning of the sale, outside the barn under the elm trees was something new and well received by the buyers.

NAILING CHORES ARE EASIER WITH A STAPLER

By MR. FIX

One of the great work-savers is the stapler. This supertool is like a hammer that supplies its own nail, holds it in place for you and drives it.

For mammoth nailing jobs, a stapler can cut down the required time to just a fraction of that which would be required using a regular hammer.

Consider using a stapler for such jobs as fastening down roofing, putting new screening on frames, putting up ceiling tile. If you think you might have no further use for a stapler other than the one job, then rent one.

The staples may look small but they have amazing holding power. Don't forget that there are two points, not one, being driven in. The broad, flat head adds to their holding power and, in the case of materials that tear easily, nothing will do quite so well.

Not all staplers are the same. There are three basic stapling tools. Pick the one that suits you best.

The staple gun is the one most used around the shop. Squeeze the handle and you compress a spring that trips the staple free and drives it at the same time. It's a handy tool to use, easy to handle, accurate and powerful. Some are adjustable for different jobs, which is a handy feature. Though designed for one-hand operation you can put a little extra zip into the gun by pressing the palm of your hand against the back of the gun when using it. There is a certain amount of kick-back with a staple gun and this will minimize it.

The plier stapler is a little like the office and home stapler that has been around for years. For shop use they've made them sturdier and more powerful. This type of stapler has jaws with the work going in between, good for fastening thin materials together.

Instead of the staple going straight in, it is crimped on the other side of the material. Again, because of a powerful spring, a light squeeze is converted into greater force. Because it drives a closed staple, it is not good for nailing jobs.

The hammer stapler is great for fast tacking jobs and it works just the way its name implies. You swing it like a hammer and when it meets a surface it triggers a staple and the weight of the head at the same time. This is less accurate than the gun but it is faster because you can operate it as fast as you can swing it. Use it on big jobs—insulation, roll roofing and the like.

Prices for staplers vary greatly. In recent years there have been cheap ones put on the market but their use is limited. They look like the real thing but power, capacity and versatility are limited.

Get a tool that will handle a variety of sizes of staples. One size staple will not do for all. The tool should take plenty of staples at a single loading. It should have the power to drive the staple in flush with the surface of the work. Get a stapler that is not limited to one manufacturer's staples. There are a great many staples on the market and at one time or another you may want to try them all.

The best place to advertise your Beef Herd is at the Sherbrooke Winter Fair.

The Winter Fair, which opens Oct. 7th, will run for three days. Following two days of market livestock showing, the auction sale will be held Wednesday, Oct. 9th, starting at 2:30 p.m.

The list of entries will all be catalogued, to include exhibitors name, name and registration number of animal, date of birth and registration of sire and dam. At the beginning of each breed, there will be a list of the exhibitors and their addresses.

In all livestock entries any animal not showing the breed character and proper condition will not be allowed to show.

LIST OF TROPHIES AND PRIZES

Late Hon. C. D. French Trophy — Awarded to the team obtaining the highest score in the Beef Cattle section.

Calf Scramble — The following will be offered for the calves that were won in the 1967 calf scramble: three prizes of $15; three prizes of $10 and three prizes of $5.

The first nine Junior farmers catching a calf, put the halter on properly and lead them across the finish line, will be eligible for the following prizes. The prizes apply on the purchase of a pure bred heifer calf of his choice of breed of one of the three beef breeds. The calf must be approved by the Breed Association. Three prizes of $70, three prizes of $60 and three prizes of $50.

A gift from Canada Packers Ltd. will be awarded to the Grand Champion Market Lamb Exhibitor. The Sherbrooke County Sheep Breeders Association offers a Challenge Trophy for the best market lamb exhibited by a breeder residing in Sherbrooke County. A miniature cup will be given to the winner.

The schedule of prize money for breeding and steer classes is as follows: First, $80; second, $70; third, $60; fourth, $50; and so on down for the top 10 finishers in category three. A different and lower prize list has been compiled for category four.

A prize will also be awarded to the top herdsman or to the owner-exhibitor showing a minimum of six animals.

The Quebec Hereford Association offers for two Hereford heifers, special prizes to be given by the association to the exhibitors. A special prize is offered to each exhibitor also.

The Quebec Shorthorn Breeders Association offers special prizes to two heifers already exhibited in regular classes. The Continental Casualty Co. Trophy will be presented to the Premier Breeder in each breed.

A great number of other awards and prizes will also be presented to the beef cattle exhibitors. Cash prizes are also given to top producers of apples, vegetables, field crops and Christmas trees.

Other special prizes include cash awards from Canada Packers, Quebec Hereford Club, Quebec Beef Cattle Association, Arthur Bennett Special, Quebec Hereford Association, Rotary Club Special, Quebec Aberdeen Angus Association and Toronto Dominion Bank Special.

Tigers claw Cards 8-1

Mickey Lolich tosses six-hitter, clouts homer

Cards' Dressing Room

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "He's a terrific pitcher," Orlando Cepeda said after Detroit's Mickey Lolich beat St. Louis Cardinals 8-1 with a convincing six-hit mound performance in the second game of the World Series Thursday.

"He throws everything—curve, sinker, slider. He doesn't overpower you. He moves the ball around a lot. He's got a lot of good stuff. He pitched a great game."

Cepeda's Cardinal team-mate Curt Flood and manager Red Schoendienst agreed.

"We didn't hit today," Flood said. "He's a real good pitcher. He threw more strikes than the other fellow (31-game winner Denny McLain, who was knocked out of the opening game). Lolich moves it around a lot. I don't think I got one down the middle all day."

Schoendienst said, "Lolich is good. He fools you. He kept the ball low all day. I don't think he made a mistake."

PITCHING DECISIVE

Pitching was the big difference, just as it was on opening day when the Cards' Bob Gibson set a Series record of 17 strikeouts.

Nelson Briles, who started the second game, gave up three home runs—to Willie Horton, Lolich and Norm Cash—before bowing out in the sixth.

"I gave it all I had, but it wasn't enough," Briles said, adding that all three homers came off his fast ball.

Schoendienst said Briles has had control problems for the past month and that was his downfall Thursday.

"Not that he gives up a lot of walks," Red added. "He just pitches the ball in the wrong places."

DESCRIBES HOME RUN

Red smiled when asked about the home run Lolich hit off Briles.

"That wasn't even a strike," he said. "The ball was way over his head when he hit it."

The Cards manager added that he still plans to start Briles again in the fifth game.

The game's only rhubarb came in the sixth just after Cash's home run. Tiger Willie Horton slapped a grounder to deep short. Dal Maxvill made a fine play to reach the ball and fired to Cepeda at first.

The throw beat Horton to the bag, but umpire Stan Landes called the runner safe. Schoendienst, catcher Tim McCarver and Cepeda protested vigorously.

EXPLAINS CATCH

"The ball hit my glove at the fingers and rolled back to the palm," Cepeda said in the dressing room. "It never left my glove."

Landes agreed but said that meant Cepeda didn't have possession of the ball.

"It was a juggled ball, Landes said. "There is no possession until the ball stops in the glove. And by then, Horton was past first base."

Later in the sixth, Detroit scored two runs on a dying liner to centre by Dick McAuliffe. Card centre fielder Flood got his glove on the ball but couldn't come up with it.

"I got a bad jump on the ball," Flood explained. "I never did catch up with it. It was tonight to see. I couldn't tell where it was going to take off or sink. It hit right on the end of my fingers."

DETROIT (AP) — The Tigers are back in Detroit today, eager to bring to their kind of park the kind of game that crushed St. Louis Cardinals and tied the World Series at one game each.

Following an informal discussion that helped thaw their first-game freeze, the Tigers whipped the Cardinals 8-1 Thursday behind the six-hit pitching of Mickey Lolich and the home run slugging of Lolich, Willie Horton and Norm Cash.

The performance was completely different from the one the Tigers put on Wednesday when they got only five hits against Bob Gibson. Only one was an extra-base blow, which was unusual for the club that led the American League with 185 homers during the season.

But their uprising against Nelson Briles and three relief pitchers was more like the game they're used to playing in the smaller Tiger Stadium, where the Series resumes Saturday.

"In the first game, I was more nervous than I've ever been since my first day with the club," said Al Kaline, who joined Detroit right out of high school in 1953.

Kaline and first baseman Cash, a nine-year Tiger, agreed that was the general malady that struck the Tigers in the first-game loss, and then they did something about it.

"We had dinner together Wednesday night," Kaline explained. "and we talked about how everyone was trying too hard. We said we had to talk to these guys and relax them, get them to play the kind of game we played all year."

"We had a lot of time when we got to the park so we just sat around talking. We didn't have a meeting but just talked among ourselves. We talked about going for base hits and playing our kind of game and not worrying about anything. You could tell from the time we went on the field that everyone was more relaxed."

"Then when Willie hit the home run, it gave us a big lift.

PAVED THE WAY

"He held them for five innings while we were getting started. Then we went to our game, which is knocking the ball all over the country."

It will be up to Ray Washburn, 14-8, to keep the ball in good pitcher—like Gibson—against us or we're going to hit the ball all over the place," Cash added.

But Cardinal manager Red Schoendienst isn't worried.

"Washington pitches pretty well everywhere if he has his good stuff."

Briles' trouble was he didn't have good stuff and as Gibson noted:

"This club is more capable of hitting home runs than, say, the Dodgers. If you don't have good stuff, they're going to hit home runs."

At the same time, Lolich, who won two fewer games than the 19 Briles did during the season, was effective in all but the sixth inning when St. Louis scored its run.

BRINGS HIM HOME

first home run of his six-year major league career. Three innings later, Detroit broke the game open with a three-run burst.

"You have to give Lolich a lot of credit," said Cash, who collected three of Detroit's 13 hits.

Tigers' Dressing Room

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Detroit, quiet as a mouse against Bob Gibson, turned on "a little Tiger power" against Nelson Briles to even up the World Series Thursday with an 8-1 second triumph over St. Louis Cardinals.

"We had to show them a little Tiger power," said premier pinch hitter Gates Brown, after Detroit hammered 13 hits, "and just for kicks we threw in a pitcher who hit a home run."

The pitcher, of course, was Mickey Lolich, who not only stopped the Cardinals on six hits, he hit the first homer of his professional career in the third inning, the second of three homers belted by the roaring Tigers.

"It was a home run by Willie Horton in the second inning that started it all," said catcher Bill Freehan. "His solo blast went over the 386-foot mark in the lower deck in left field for Detroit's first run of the Series."

"I think it sort of broke the ice."

"I think that loosened us up a little bit," added shortstop Mickey Stanley.

"We've been in a slump since the last Baltimore series," said Brown. "I enjoy days like this when all I have to do is sit back and watch the guys go around the bases."

Freehan said Lolich pitched a good game but "he was having mound trouble a little bit," he said. "He wasn't landing where he wanted to."

"He had a good, quick curve ball and good velocity on his fast ball," Freehan said, "but he didn't have as good control of his fast ball."

"When he was wild, he was just missing a little bit," he said. "I think he was a little worried about Brock stealing but his pitches were still over because he had a big lead behind him." The Card left fielder stole two bases, one in the sixth after he walked and one in the eighth after a single.

Lolich was in trouble in the first inning but after Julian Javier singled with one out and Curt Flood walked, Mickey got Orlando Cepeda to foul out to Kaline, who made a fine running catch in the right field corner. Mike Shannon lined to Kaline to end the inning.

The Cards scored their run in the sixth on a walk and a pair of singles. But Stanley turned Shannon's ground ball into a double play to end the inning.

Black Hawks pick up Howie Young to fill gap left vacant by Pilote

Chicago Black Hawks have picked up another bad boy to go on defence with Gilles Marotte and fill the hole left by Pierre Pilote.

The National Hockey League club announced Thursday it has obtained Howie Young on waivers from Oakland Seals of the NHL's Western Division. The deal concluded a long spat between Young, an eight-year veteran, and the Seals.

The Black Hawks traded Pilote to Toronto Maple Leafs for winger Jim Pappin and a rookie at the end of the season, and have been looking ever since for someone to add a little muscle to the defence.

Young, who played with Chicago during the 1963-64 season, has the spirit to do just that. He was the terror of the league in 1962 with Detroit Red Wings, racking up more than 150 minutes in penalties, but has subsided since then.

Last year, Young scored two goals and 17 assists for Detroit. He was sent down to Fort Worth of the Central Hockey League and picked up another goal and two assists.

When he was shifted to Oakland, he refused to register at training camp and the Seals announced they were suspending him.

Meanwhile, Toronto Maple Leafs coasted to an 11-2 victory over the Canucks of the Western League in a game played before a sell-out Vancouver crowd of 15,589.

SCORE TWO EACH

Leafs' Wayne Carleton, Paul Henderson and Larry Mickey scored two goals apiece. Dave Keon, Mike Byers, Ron Ellis, Mike Walton and Murray Oliver added one each.

Murray Hall and Phil Maloney were the Vancouver scorers.

In other exhibition games Thursday night, Pittsburgh Penguins nipped the Black Hawks 3-1 in Brantford, Ont., and Philadelphia Flyers downed Quebec ages, their American Hockey League farm team, 5-1 in Halifax.

A goal by Gene Ubriaco late in the third period gave the Penguins their victory before 3,568 fans. It was their first win after four defeats and a tie in six exhibition games.

Wally Boyer, Ken Schinkel and Charlie Burns scored the other Pittsburgh goals and Marotte, Pappin and Chico Maki replied for the Hawks who have four victories and three losses in exhibition play.

In Halifax, Claude Laforge led the Flyers with two goals before a crowd of 2,990. Gary Peters, Leon Rochefort and Jim Johnson scored one each while Simon Nolet replied for the AHL club.

Los Angeles Kings of the Western Division announced Thursday that right winger Bill Flett suffered a broken nose during shooting practice and is a doubtful starter for tonight's exhibition game against the Seals in Kingston, Ont.

The Kings also announced they are loaning defenceman Jacques Lemieux to Denver Spurs, the newest entry in the Western Hockey League. He is the 10th Los Angeles player to be loaned to the Spurs this year.

Norm Sara-Bournet fires two as Beavers tie Houston 2-2

Sherbrooke Beavers came up with a top two-way performance last evening at the Sports Palace to hold the Houston Apollos of the Central Professional Hockey League to a 2-2 deadlock before some 1,240 fans.

The Beavers held their own with the fast — skating Apollos and at no time were they in trouble. When they were short-handed, through penalties, they still maintained control with their fine defensive work.

Coach Bruce Cline, in his usual quiet way, handled his 20-odd players well and everyone had an opportunity of showing their wares. The defensive corps was the strongest ever tossed on the ice by the Beavers. Led by Junior Langlois they comprised Lionel Robidas, Bob Foster, Luc Tessier, Jean Levesque with Rejean Maltais were making their initial appearance and all six turned in fine jobs in front of Jacques Monette and Andre Gagnon, who was in action for the first time.

Normand Sara — Bournet, a rookie with the club, came through with a two-goal performance. The youngster worked like a veteran between Rene Pepin and Jean — Paul Lafond and it was only the outstanding work of Bruce Mullett and Tony Esposito held him to two markers.

Coach Cline had eleven forwards in uniform and all got their chance at showing their wares. The Beavers came up with a strong two-way job and with a little luck around the nets should have won the decision.

Bill Dupre, the Beavers' top pivot — man, wasn't dressed. Coach Cline didn't want to take any chances. He is suffering from a back injury and if things go well he will dress next Tuesday when the Beavers meet

Bob Eastman was in uniform and turned in a fine job considering he has only worked out a couple of times. Manager Veilleux and Coach Cline will be making a few more changes over the weekend.

Manager Veilleux stated that he has two more players, a defenceman and centre, reporting in tomorrow. The Beavers play one more exhibition game before the league gets underway on Sunday, Oct. 13, against Granby.

Bob Eastman helped to set up the first tally when he dug the puck out of the corner and passed back to Sara — Bournet, who fired into the open side of the meshings. It stood up until the second frame. Jim Beckman had a couple of good chances but failed to click.

Andre Gagnon had took over from Monette at 12:21 of the middle session while Coach M-

Neil also made a change sending Bruce Mullett into the fray. Gagnon was fooled on his first shot when he didn't expect a long one. It tied the game, Blanchette was the marksman.

Sara — Bournet was at the right spot once again when Lafond made a pass in front and the rookie fired the disc into the net. This put the Beavers out in front again but Bordeleau knotted it again a couple of minutes later.

Coach Cline kept tossing fresh players into the fray in an effort to break the deadlock but at 1:30 p.m. the Senior Boys do the Yellow and Black to meet Sherbrooke High. The Maroon and White, staunch rivals over the years, should provide keen competition.

London — Alan Rudkin, England, stopped Rudi Corona, Mexico, 7, bantamweight; Johnny Pritchett, England, outpointed Wilfredo Hurst, Miami, Fla., 8, middleweights.

Bishop's Gaiter's move to Kingston to meet Cadets

Bishop's University Gaiters, currently in a somewhat unique position, take their newly-acquired offensive fireworks to Kingston Saturday to do battle with the Royal Military College Redmen on the Cadet's home ground.

About the unique position, after the first skirmishes in the Central Canada Intercollegiate Football Conference, the Gaiters lead in all the league statistics with one exception where they are in second place.

A glance at the weekly CCIFC stats sheet shows the Gaiters on top of the Eastern Division heap with a big win and more points than any other team in either division as a result of their 36-13 win over the University of Montreal Carabins.

Larry Smith, the Gaiters rookie power-runner, is tied for the scoring lead with 12 points and second in league rushing with 122 yards in 18 carries. Another first year man, Ron Perowne, leads in passing receiving with three receptions for 144 yards and rookie quarterback Bill Macdonald leads all passers with 187 yards in four completions.

In an attempt to keep these figures as they are, the purple and white will start basically the same lineup as they did against the Carabins on their home turf.

Bill Macdonald has been awarded the starting quarterback slot on the strength of his performance last week, but head Coach Bruce Coulter plans to rotate him with John Stephenson as the game progresses.

The coaching staff was pleased with last week's showing and the only worry at the moment is the defensive line which is composed of all new faces this year. Assistant Coach Al Grazys said he plans no major changes here, relying on the hope that the squad will jell as the season progresses.

Coach Grazys said the next two weeks will be the crucial ones this season as RMC and the revitalized Loyola squad, which the Gaiters tangle with over Thanksgiving weekend, are the teams to beat in the Eastern section.

RMC boasts 24 returnees from last season's lineup, but minus its two top runners who graduated. They, nevertheless, looked impressive in sending Macdonald College down to defeat 18-6 last weekend and appear a factor for anyone aspiring to the top spot in the league.

LHS clips Mitchell 1-0 in soccer

Lennoxville High Junior Boys improved their record last night as they edged Mitchell School 1-0 in a regular season encounter of the St. Francis Valley Interscholastic Athletic Association soccer league.

Bryan Trussler provided the only marker in the game which was played in Lennoxville. Wednesday evening Princess Elizabeth High of Magog fought to a 1-1 tie with the Senior Boys from Stanstead. R. Fren rallied for Stanstead while P.E.H.S. grabbed a tie as the result of its lone goal by R. Gendron.

Saturday, as part of L.H.S. Day, a pair of soccer tilts will be held. At 11 a.m. the Junior Boys play hosts to B.C.S. and at 1:30 p.m. the Senior Boys do the Yellow and Black to meet Sherbrooke High. The Maroon and White, staunch rivals over the years, should provide keen competition.

London — Alan Rudkin, England, stopped Rudi Corona, Mexico, 7, bantamweight; Johnny Pritchett, England, outpointed Wilfredo Hurst, Miami, Fla., 8, middleweights.
