RIGHTS OF UKRAINIAN MINORITY IN POLAND ARE TAKEN UP IN HOUSE

Michael Luchkovitch Requested Government to Demand that League of Nations Take Action to Prevent Further Atrocities in Poland—Premier Bennett Assured House Canadian Representatives at Geneva Would Do "Everything Possible to Insure that Justice Is Done, Both to Ukrainians and Poles."

OTTAWA, Ont., May 9.—Private members will have precedence when the House of Commons convenes on Monday. Legislation standing in their names will be up for consideration, the Government measures being forced into the background for the day.

A tall, dark haired Canadian stood in Parliament yesterday, attempting to enlist his adopted country in coming to the assistance of the race that gave him birth. Michael Luchkovitch, U. F. A. member for Vegreville, painted a dark, gloomy picture of alleged persecution of the Ukrainians, under whose control they were placed after the war. Would Canada attempt to influence the League of Nations to investigate the pacification methods utilized by the Poles, he asked?

After many members expressed sympathy with the condition of the Ukrainians, Premier B. Bennett said when "we begin to discuss the internal politics of a friendly state we are on extremely dangerous ground." Ukrainians, as far as Canada was concerned, were Poles, and "their Government is their business." There were two sides to every question, and the League of Nations already had commenced to investigate the allegations made by the Ukrainians. The Canadian representatives at Geneva, the Premier assured the House, would do "everything possible to insure that justice is done, both to the Ukrainians and to the Poles."

Preparations are nearing completion for the floating of a conversion loan of $250,000,000, Premier Bennett declared in a statement given the House early in the day. Subscription books will open on Monday and close not later than May 28th. A new money is being sought, the Government is simply meeting bonds presently falling due by a new long term loan. The expiring securities chiefly are Victory bonds floated during the war. The interest rate will be 4-1/2 per cent. and the bonds will be subject to taxation both as to principal and interest. The rate on the expiring bonds was 5-1/2 per cent. The securities will be for twenty-five years, but callable at the end of fifteen years. The plan will be, simply, one of new bonds for old.

A bill received second reading in the Senate yesterday which would legalize hospital sweepstakes in Canada. It was referred to a special committee, which will consider it in detail. The sweepstakes, possibly, would be patterned after those conducted in Ireland, the profits of which are divided among the hospitals and other charitable institutions of the country. Senator G. H. Arnold, of Victoria, B.C., the sponsor of the measure, said it would apply only to provinces, the Attorneys General of which gave their consent and fixed regulations for the schemes. Every possible opportunity is being given farmers who have received advances from the Farm Loan Board, to pay off their indebtedness, Premier Bennett announced. The Government, he added, was not responsible for the institution of legal proceedings regarding collections. The Board is an organization over which the Government has no direct control, he said.

It was a picture of a man fighting for the rights of his race, when Mr. Luchkovitch introduced the question that has become known internationally as the "Polish atrocities." The Ukrainians were guaranteed certain rights under the treaty of Versailles, he explained, but these were being flouted by Poland. Eastern Galicia was a land of despair and desolation. The people were being subjected to the most brutal treatment, flogged, imprisoned falsely and sometimes put to death. A campaign of pacification was being carried on by the Poles that was described as "diabolical." Terrorism and brutality were the order of the day.

As a side issue to the discussion, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, and Armand Lavergne, Deputy Speaker of the House, suggested Canada should put her own House in order before championing the rights of minorities 4,000 miles away. They referred to the Saskatchewan, Government refusing to permit the French Canadian language in the schools of that province.

MINING BROKER WAS RELEASED ON HEAVY BAIL

Fifty Thousand Dollars Bail Is Granted to Maurice J. Bouliane Pending His Appeal to Supreme Court.

MONTREAL, Que., May 9.—Maurice J. Bouliane, mining broker convicted of the conversion of client's money to the uses of his firm, was yesterday released on bail of $50,000 by the Court of Appeal pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada from the judgment of the appellate tribunal here dismissing his original appeal from the conviction in the Court of King's Bench. Bouliane was convicted last fall by a jury in the Court of King's Bench. When his appeal from that conviction was heard here, Mr. Justice Allard dissented from the majority opinion that the appeal should be dismissed. That dissenting voice made it possible for Bouliane to go to the Supreme Court of Canada and his appeal that that court has already been inscribed.

IRREGULAR PRICE FLUCTUATIONS ON STOCK EXCHANGES THIS WEEK

An Accelerated Movement of Wheat to Canadian Marketing Centres, Signs of Improvement in Automobile Industry, and Negotiations Aimed at a Solution of Financing, Manufacturing and Marketing Problems of Newspaper Industry, Were Among Encouraging Developments.

TORONTO, May 9.—Irregular price fluctuations in which losses predominated, reflected almost uninterrupted liquidation on Canadian stock exchanges this week. The accompanying decline in prices was not checked until the last hour of trading on Friday when, under the leadership of Canadian Pacific Railway and Brazilian, the Canadian list indulged in a sharp rally.

Directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway announced that an interim dividend for the quarter period would be paid at the rate of 1-1/4 per cent on the common shares, or 31 1/4 cents a share against the former rate of 62 1/2 cents. While it was felt that the cut was fully justified by earnings of the railway and by the necessity of recent wage reductions of ten per cent, the stock market was unprepared for a dividend reduction of as much as 50 per cent. The shares of C.P.R. broke sharply with the news, and touched a new low of 27 5/8 in Toronto, subsequently recovering to 29 on Friday, where they are still 4 1/2 points net lower for the week. Liquidation of C.P.R. was extremely heavy when the dividend cut was announced, but settlements were relaxed on Friday and C.P.R. was one of the outstanding leaders of the late price recovery during that session.

Consolidated Smelters, controlled by C.P.R., also reacted on the news that the usual half yearly bonus of $5 a share would be paid currently in stock instead of cash. Smelters also recovered a part of its loss, however, and at 100 compares with 106 last week.

An accelerated movement of wheat to Canadian marketing centres, signs of improvement in the automobile industry, and negotiations aimed at a solution of the financing, manufacturing and marketing problems of the newspaper industry, were among the encouraging developments of the week. The stock market was more concerned with technical factors, however, and such issues as steel utilities, base metal issues and industrial issues were all affected in greater or lesser degree by pressure from New York. Brazilian Traction dipped sharply, but later recovered to 17, against 18 last week, but International Nickel was one of the least active trading mediums and actually shows a gain at 14 3/4 compared with 14 1/2 a week ago. Similarly Ford of Canada "A," although not an active feature, advanced from 19 3/4 to 20 1/4, and Walkers shows no changes at six after a week of uneventful trading. Massey Harris has declined from 5 to 4 3/4.

Steels remained under pressure during the greater part of the week, and losses in Steel of Canada (Continued on page 9)

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN QUEBEC TRADE ACTIVITY

Both Cities and Country Districts Report Increases in Wholesale and Retail Volume.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 9.—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association Limited for week ending May 9th, 1931, is as follows in part: Halifax—No change is reported in conditions generally. Wholesale and retail trade remains fairly quiet. Collections slow.

Saint John—Wholesale trade only fair, small orders seem to be much in evidence. Retail trade fairly good. Collections slow.

Montreal—A very fair volume of business is reported in all wholesale and retail trade during the past week with considerable activity in dry goods. Retailers both in country districts and in the cities report a good week's trading. Collections both wholesale and retail are very fair.

TWO STEAMERS ARE REPORTED IN COLLISION

Crews of British Steamer Pacific and German Steamer Hugo Stinnes Had to Take to Boats Following Collision Early This Morning.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, May 9.—The British steamer Pacific and the German steamer Hugo Stinnes collided in the Baltic today. The crews had to take to the boats because of the heavy list of the two vessels.

The collision, said advices from Mykøbing, Island of Falster, occurred at 3 a.m., both ships being badly damaged and calling for assistance. Danish and German lifeboats, putting out to aid them found some of the Pacific's crew in lifeboats.

Lloyd's Register shows six vessels named Pacific. The one in collision in the Baltic is believed to have been one of two British boats bound for Danzig. One was a steel ship of 2,816 tons owned by the Sir W. H. Cocker Line, and the other a wooden auxiliary vessel owned by Mrs. L. Tyrall of Dublin.

It was believed that the ship was that of the Cocker Line, proceeding from Hull to Danzig with ballast and no passengers. The Hugo Stinnes is a 3,000 ton vessel out of Hamburg, it had a collision with another ship near Greenwich three years ago.

MADRID, May 9.—Minister of Public Instruction Marcelino Domingo in a decree has abolished compulsory religious education in the schools. If the parents wish, children may attend classes conducted by priests without charge, the decree says.

BOARD FAVORS STATUS RAISE FOR TEACHERS

McGill University and Protestant Commissioners to Co-operate in Effort to Raise Standard of Training and Efficiency.

MONTREAL, May 9.—At yesterday's monthly meeting of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners Dr. Ira MacKay, dean of the Faculty of Arts, McGill University, announced that McGill University has in contemplation a scheme of training for the high school diploma which involves a full year of systematic work after graduation. Such a move was unanimously favored by the Commissioners. This proposal is in line with an effort which is being made to raise the standard of training and efficiency sponsored by McGill University in co-operation with the Protestant Board.

At present the educational training can be taken concurrently with the work for the degree of B.A. so that the effect of the new scheme would be to increase by one year the time now required to qualify for the High School diploma. Dr. MacKay asked that candidates who took the additional year of training should be considered eligible for an extra increment of two hundred dollars to initial salary so that a sufficient number might be induced to take this longer course. By doing so, the Dean said, the Board would greatly assist the University in its effort to raise the standard of training and efficiency of High School teachers.

Enrolment figures for the past month show an enrollment of 3,439 as against 30,840 for April, 1930. Figures submitted for the month of April indicated that this was the peak attendance for the month.

SECOND READING GIVEN TO SUNDAY CLOSING MEASURE

Old Laws of King Charles' Time Repealed by New Act.

LONDON, May 9.—Sunday observance has gained a point. Hard on the heels of its decision to legalize Sunday moving picture shows, the House of Commons yesterday gave second reading to a bill to close shops on Sundays. The bill repeals old Sunday Observance Acts which run back to the days when merry Charles was King.

Under these old statutes—still technically in force but not enforced—an offending storekeeper may be put in the stocks; the goods of a lawbreaker may be sold and the proceeds, or perhaps the goods themselves, given to the poor. Even the Sunday traveller on the broad highway is left to the mercy of light-fingered gentlemen of the road. The new Act imposes no such penalties. It provides fines for the opening of shops on the Sabbath Day contrary to its provisions. But, while its general provision is that shops must close on Sundays, it has its exceptions. One sabbatarian

REGISTRATION OF CANADIANS RECOMMENDED

Senator Casgrain Has Scheme by Which It Is Intended to Discover All Undesirable Persons Living Within Canada's Borders.

OTTAWA, May 9.—Registration every person over the age of sixteen residing in Canada, provided for in a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator J. P. B. Casgrain, is designed to assist in the preservation of law and order and promote the general good of the country. This was explained by the sponsor of the bill.

Senator Casgrain said registration of all persons resident in Canada, with certain exceptions set forth in the bill, would enable the authorities to check up on undesirable persons who came in from other countries. Each person registering would be furnished with a card bearing his photograph and signature, to be carried at all times. This would serve as a means of identification under all circumstances, and would show the bearer to be a bona fide resident of this country.

In the event of a person acting in such a way as to arouse the suspicions of the authorities, a demand could always be made for the card of registration.

He had no intention of interfering with the movements of visitors to Canada or of any law-abiding citizen, said Mr. Casgrain. He expressed the opinion that it would probably be considered by a special committee of the Senate.

QUICK ACTION REQUESTED BY YOUNG KILLER

"What's the Use of Foolin' Around With a Trial and All That Bunk?" "Two Gun" Crowley Asked Authorities.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Francis (Two gun) Crowley, nineteen, held for a trial for the murder of Edward Hirsch last Monday, asked authorities today to "get it over with, quick."

"What's the use of foolin' around with a trial, and all that bunk?" he asked, from his hospital cot where he is recovering from bullet wounds suffered in the siege and fight that resulted in his capture Thursday. "If I'm going to burn, it might as well be right away."

Just as one girl's tip was responsible for his arrest, the testimony of another is counted upon by the state to be the strongest link in his prosecution.

A blonde dancer, Billie Dunne, in whose west 90th street apartment Crowley and Rudolph "Fat" Durringer were captured, was responsible for her former sweetheart's arrest, police said.

Crowley telephoned her at the apartment "to get out and make room for a regular girl." Police got the information from the dance hall where the Dunne girl works as a hostess.

Crowley's comment to his guards as he was being taken to jail was: "You ought to give a badge to Billie Dunne. She's a cop now."

Helen Walsh, sixteen years of age, who was with him in the bullet and gas spattered building when a hundred police surrounded it on Thursday, will be the main witness at his trial for the murder of Frederick Hirsch, Nassau County policeman. Miss Walsh was in an automobile with Crowley when Hirsch was shot. The Walsh girl is being held as a witness. She was the star witness in the grand jury chambers yesterday when a murder indictment was returned against Crowley. She revealed that Crowley forced her to write notes during the police siege. Most of the notes told of her love for Crowley. District Attorney Edwards, of Nassau County, said the girl had expressed fear and hate of Crowley since her arrest. Durringer, taken to the Bronx, was indicted for the murder of Virginia Brannan, Bangor, Maine, girl who worked here as a dance hall waitress. Police say Crowley and Durringer took the girl for an automobile ride, but Durringer confessed that he alone killed her with Crowley's revolver. Jealousy was his motive.

DEPUTY MINISTER CLAIMS MARATHONS DANGEROUS

Opposed to Races Along Public Highways at a Time When Tourist and Summer Travel Is at Its Height.

QUEBEC, May 9.—The provincial Department of Roads "does not take a favorable view" of long relay races along the provincial highways during the summer, J. L. Boulanger, deputy Minister of Highways, stated. He was referring to a scheduled relay race from Montreal to Sherbrooke to Quebec and back to Montreal. A similar race was held last year.

"This is the busiest time of the year for tourist traffic and I am certain that this source of racing is always a source of danger. In the winter time the dangers accompanying the races are negligible, but in summer time it's another thing," Mr. Boulanger said.

LARGE DEFICIT REVEALED IN AUSTRALIA'S FINANCES

Report Covering Receipts and Expenditures for Past Ten Months Made Public.

CANBERRA, Australia, May 9.—A treasury deficit of $96,000,000 was revealed today in a report covering receipts and expenditures for the past ten months.

At the same time reports from Sydney showed a huge decrease in Australia's foreign trade. Merchandise imported within the past nine months was valued at $275,000,000 less than in the corresponding nine months of the previous year. Exports fell $90,000,000 below those of the same period a year ago.

The federal treasury reported receipts of only $248,495,000 within the past ten months, as against $258,000,000.

LARGER CITIES MAY BE GIVEN MORE MEMBERS

Hon. H. H. Stevens Intimates that a General Redistribution Bill May Be Introduced at Next Session.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 9.—A general redistribution bill will be introduced in Parliament next session or the session following. This intimation was made in the House of Commons last night by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Political observers foresee the possibility of Toronto obtaining two more seats in the House, Montreal two; Ottawa, one; Winnipeg, one or two; and Vancouver, one or two. The last general redistribution bill was passed in Parliament in 1924. Changes in boundary lines of various constituencies and increases in population always affect many ridings.

DENSE FOG IN HARBOR CAUSE OF COLLISION

Shipping Generally Was Paralyzed Today in New York Harbor—Ferry Schedules Disrupted.

NEW YORK, May 9.—A heavy fog over New York harbor today paralyzed shipping and caused a minor collision between two liners in Ambrose Channel.

The Lloyd Sabauda liner Conte Biancamano and the Eastern Prince of the Prince Line, both outbound, collided in the channel during the heavy mist. The Eastern Prince radioed that its bridge and superstructure had been damaged, but that it would proceed to its South American port. The Italian liner, bound for that country, was undamaged.

The White Star liner Majestic, with 639 passengers, ready to sail midnight, was held at her North River pier.

Coast guard cutters and police launches were searching off Mirton's Point for a vessel blowing distress signals. When boats reached the spot the siren had stopped and no vessel was found. Ferry schedules were disrupted.

COLLEGE MERGER MAY BE SETTLED BY CHURCH GROUP

OTTAWA, May 9.—The question of amalgamation of the Presbyterian College of McGill, Montreal, with Knox College of Toronto, will probably be presented before the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, which meets in Toronto on the first Wednesday in June, according to Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston, moderator of the Ottawa Presbytery, and a member of the board of the Montreal college.

The proposal is being given the careful consideration of church officials. Rev. Dr. Johnston stated, as the amalgamation would mean a considerable saving to the general church each year. The move has never been proposed before the Ottawa Presbytery, but Rev. Dr. Johnston said he was inclined to believe that its members were not in favor of it. The Presbyterian College in Montreal is a ministerial training school affiliated with McGill University. This year it had an enrollment of about fifty theological students. It is estimated that, if the college were closed, it would mean a saving to the Presbyterian Church of $25,000 a year.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The United States Government is already beginning to prepare for the disarmament conference at Geneva in February next year. Today President Hoover started out for a week-end at his camp on the Rapidan River in Virginia, with the chiefs of the land fighting forces of the United States. A few days ago opening the International Chamber of Commerce convention, the President pointed out the world was more heavily armed at present than it was before hostilities started in 1914, and this week-end party is taken as indicating an assessment of the American position preparatory to formulation of a policy to be followed at Geneva.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson has been studying the questions which may come up in February and it is intimated the Government is not pessimistic, an attitude of which well informed observers here do not partake. In the next few months every effort will be made to smooth out the disagreements found among the policies of the fifty nations which will sit around the Council Board at Geneva on work upon the draft treaty drawn up by the preparatory commission of the League of Nations. The treaty provides a skeleton agreement for the limitation and reduction of land, naval and air forces. More than fifty reservations have been made by different countries. Soviet Russia objects to the treaty as a whole, and Germany has twenty objections.

During recent months storm signals have been hoisted in Europe. For example, observers here trace to the "Anschluss," the trade agreement between Austria and Germany, the failure of Italy and France to get together on naval limitation. Insofar as the subject of the conference at Rapidan this week-end and land forces is concerned, it does not appear probable the United States would have any difficulty in agreeing to any reasonable limitation of this branch of the war machine, but when it comes to the navy and the insistence by American experts on large cruisers that is another matter. President Hoover's disarmament speech to the Chamber of Commerce was interpreted in some quarters as a step toward the questioning of revision of war debts and tariffs, but it is the consensus on second thought the President had been waiting an opportunity to reiterate before the world an idea continually in the forefront of his policy since he took office.

EDISON DOES NOT BELIEVE BOAST MADE BY RUSSIANS

FORT MYERS, Fla., May 9.—Thomas A. Edison took time off from his rubber experiments here to brand a report of successful extraction of rubber from crude oil in Russia as a "fake."

The aged inventor had just read on account of Soviet experiments with oil. "I don't think the Moscow report is true," Mr. Edison said. "I don't believe one can get good rubber from oil. I would even go so far as to say oil rubber is a fake. The Russians, to my knowledge, are working on the extraction of rubber from the guayule plant, which is now being grown successfully in the United States. I think they also are working on other plants but they had better stick to the guayule because it is the best rubber producer outside the tropics."

Mr. Edison was emphatic in saying he believed the Soviet five-year plan would succeed but at the same time he doubted the efficiency of Russian communistic industry over a period of years because "property in common has never been successful."

Annual Event, Held in Parish Hall, Cookshire, Was Highly Successful—Hall and Tables Were Beautifully Decorated for Occasion.

COOKSHIRE, May 9.—St. Peter's Church Junior Guild and W. A. held their annual cafeteria tea and sale in the Parish Hall on Saturday, May 8. Mrs. F. A. Noble and Mrs. H. S. Osgood presided over the tea table which was charmingly decorated in mauve and yellow. The small tables, effectively adorned with vases of May-flowers, were in charge of the junior members. The sale table this year proved to be even more of an attraction than usual with the prettily dressed dolls and quaint old-fashioned animals made by the members during the winter months. There was also a candy table which was well patronized.

One of the special features of the work of this youthful society was the scrapbook competition. The prize for this was won by Miss Joyce Standish. This scrap-book, with other books and toys, will be sent at Christmas time to an Indian school in the West.

AYER'S CLIFF I. O. O. F. HALL IS DEDICATED

Large Number of Oddfellows and Rebekahs Gathered in New Quarters of Society for Impressive Ceremony—Ayer's Cliff News.

AYER'S CLIFF, Que., May 9.—An interesting and memorable event occurred in the history of the I. O. O. F. in this district and Alexander Lodge No. 49, Ayer's Cliff, on Tuesday evening, April 28, when a large number of Oddfellows and Rebekahs met for the dedication of the new I. O. O. F. hall, recently equipped and adapted for the purpose in the Wood block, purchased by Alexandra Lodge. Since its purchase for about five hundred dollars and a good deal of labor on the part of the members has resulted in the Oddfellows of Ayer's Cliff owning a commodious hall, a suitable dining room, and rentals on the ground floor furnishing a good revenue on the investment.

Some two hundred Oddfellows and Rebekahs, among them being a delegation of forty or more from Coaticook, were in attendance, with other lodges, as well as one of the largest representations of Grand Lodge officers ever assembled in the district. They were present for the dedication ceremony. The most impressive part was the erection of the Altar of Obedience, dedicating the Hall and the meetings that shall be held therein to the principles of Friendship, Love Truth and Fidelity. The dedication was made by Grand Master, Brother William Wallace, of Coaticook, perhaps his last official act during his term of office, which was a fitting close to a year of successful and earnest work in this district and throughout the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Quebec. Brother Wallace was assisted by a notable array of Grand Lodge, Grand Encampment and Rebekah Assembly officers, namely: Bro. A. S. Decarie, Deputy Grand Master, Montreal; V. Scrimgeour, Grand Warden, Sherbrooke; George H. Laing, Grand Secretary, Montreal; James Lowe, Grand Treasurer, Sherbrooke; H. P. Stone, Grand Conductor, Ayer's Cliff; Rev. W. deGruchy, Grand Chaplain, Stanstead; G. S. Heath, P.G.M., Derby Line, Vt.; F. S. Nickle, P.G.M., Montreal; S. H. Bacheider, Grand High Priest, Sherbrooke; A. A. Woodman, Grand Junior Warden, Coaticook; Fred Lindley, Grand Marshall, and M. M. L. Smith, P.G. Rep., Sherbrooke; Sister Mary Brige, president of Rebekah Assembly, Lachine, Que.; Minnie Dougherty, Past President, Coaticook; Captain Kidder, of the Patriarch Militant, Newport, Vt.

The officers of Alexandra Lodge No. 49 for which the hall was dedicated are: F. O. Webster, N.G.; Homer Keeler, V.G.; George Bell, secretary; H. P. Stone, treasurer; W. E. Rolling, R.S.N.G.; James McFadyen, L.S.N.G.; Mark Rexford, Warden; Sidney Robinson, conductor; Charles Aulis, R.S.S.; Edson Spear, L.S.S.; Stanley Whitehead, O.G.; Neil Adams, I.G.; Albert Neil, chaplain; Churchill Moore, L.S.V.G.; W. H. Rexford, R.S.V.G.; Howard Keeler, P.G.

At the close of the ceremonies the Grand Master and other Grand Officers made appropriate addresses in which they felicitated the officers and members of Alexandra Lodge on their progress since the Lodge was chartered on May 5, 1909, and upon the acquisition of such well-equipped and commodious quarters as had just been dedicated. A short social period was then enjoyed, together with light refreshments.

Farmer Brown's Boy was looking up near the top of a giant cactus. But his master was interested. "Yes, sir, his master was interested."

In the first place, these great cactus plants, as big as trees, were of more than a little interest to him. Mother Brown had a cactus plant and he had seen other cactus plants. All of these were small plants with thick green leaves covered with spines, leaves that seemed to sprout out of each other. But here was a plant with a trunk as big around as the trunk of a large tree. From this trunk far above his head several branches grew out and turned up, and these branches were perhaps half as big as the trunk. Trunk and branches were ribbed and were covered with spines. There were no small branches, twigs or what looked like leaves. On the main trunk, perhaps thirty feet from the ground, was the bird.

"Flip," said Farmer Brown's Boy, "that fellow almost fooled me for a minute. Yes, sir, he did so. When I first saw him I almost mistook him for Yellow Wing the Flicker. I saw him fly up there and the under sides of his wings and tail are yellow. Just notice, however, that he has a red mustache instead of a black one such as Yellow Wing back home wears. Then, too, there isn't any red on the back of his head. So he must be one of Yellow Wing's cousins. How, under the sun, did he alight up there and avoid those spines, and what is he going to do there? Certainly he cannot drum, for that cactus isn't hard like wood."

Disorders of the nerves do not right themselves but tend to become worse because of the exhausting effect of sleeplessness, loss of appetite and indigestion. New nerve force must be restored to the system by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. INSTITUTE AT COWANSVILLE HELD MEETING

W.I. Entertained by Mrs. F. Hulburd—Much Business Transacted During Session.

COWANSVILLE, Que., May 9.—The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was entertained by Mrs. F. Hulburd at her home Tuesday afternoon, May 5th, the president, Mrs. Miner, presiding. The meeting opened by all repeating the Club Woman's Creed in unison. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. Dunn. A letter of thanks for the secretary's report and congratulations on the year's work was received for Miss Hazel McCain, superintendent. A letter from Prof. Bunting, of Macdonald College, explained that seed of ten varieties of personals had been prepared and might be secured at special rates in lots of ten. A number signified their desire for these and it was decided to order ten lots.

The Institute has received a donation of four elm, three birch and three silver maple trees from Macdonald College, which they in turn have donated to the Heroes Memorial High School. Mr. S. Hetherington has planted them and it is hoped that in time they will add greatly to the appearance of the school grounds. A communication relating to the display by the Quebec Women's Institutes at Toronto, Ottawa and Sherbrooke was read. The Institutes are featuring cotton fabrics this year and samples will shortly be available for the members to choose from. Four articles are asked for from each branch. Orders should be sent early so that all the material will be ready for exhibition days. Copies of next year's programme were distributed and some of the subjects noted are "Canadian Fisheries," "Development of Transportation in Canada," "Consolidated Schools," "The Future of 'New Laws,'" "Immigration in Eastern Townships," "Christmas in Other Lands," and "Provinces of Canada." Mrs. Beach who was in charge of the programme read extracts from bulletin No. 218, one of the nature study series published by the Ontario Department of Agriculture on "Birds in Relation to Agriculture." These were very interesting and concluded with a reference to the great value of the majority of birds as destroyers of insects and a help in the pollinating of many of the fruit trees in the gardens by insects is enormous, but it would be greater if there were no birds to assist in keeping down the swarm of insect life. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. G. Hulburd.

General Notes. Mrs. Hawley, of Ormstown, is a guest of her mother, Mrs. G. W. Boright. Mr. Hinchcliffe, Sr., father of Mr. Frank Hinchcliffe, has arrived from England. He and his son will occupy part of Mrs. Dunn's house on Main street. A number of the citizens of this town attended the funeral of the late Senator Foster, at Knowlton, on Monday. Mrs. D. Kerr and Miss Lowe spent a couple of days in Montreal this week. Mrs. A. L. Gilman has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Witty, in Windsor Mills. Mrs. Witty and infant daughter are patients in the District Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lamb and daughter, Bernice, and Mrs. L. Shilson and Mrs. E. Lamb were recent visitors of Mrs. J. A. Dingman. POISE AND SMARTNESS MAKE THE MODEL FASHION MODEL

Elegance and distinction... are as necessary to the model as to the gown, says Claire Coultter (inset). And here you see her in a new sheath bridal gown, smart in its elaborate pearl embroidery.

NEW YORK, May 9.—You do not need to be beautiful to be a successful fashion model averaging $200 a week in salary. You do not even have to be attractive! But— You must have a flair for wearing clothes smartly and well, any type of clothes, preferably in sizes 12, 14 or 16. You must have a self-confidence that gives you poise when you walk, sit, stand.

That is an outline of the fashion model situations as given by Claire Coultter, the model who not only happens to be at the top of the ladder right this minute, with more appointments offered than she could ever fill, but the one who refused Miss Gabrielle Chanel's offer to work in Paris at $35 a week with commissions, because she felt "America offers much more opportunity than France." Miss Coultter happens to possess all the qualifications that she discussed, both these you do and do not need. She has great charm in her well-shaped face, with its lovely contours, its even, pleasant, gray eyes and sensitive mouth that seems born to curve happily. Her hair is an unusual honey yellow with amazing fineness and smoothness in its long, graceful sweep and her tall, slender figure has singular grace for she is five feet eight inches tall and weighs only 110 pounds.

It was a wedding dress that gave Claire her first start up the ladder of success. Born in Portland, Me., and raised in a convent from the time she was left an orphan quite young, she had never done any work at all until two years ago last winter. Sunning in Palm Beach one day with friends, she mentioned that she was going to have to go to work. "Why not model?" they asked her, as they all watched a fashion show in progress along the board walk. "I came back to New York, went to a studio that books fashion models and asked for work," she told me simply how she began. "They sent me to a photographer for test pictures and when I went back three days later, they had shown the finished pictures to a shop that wanted some model to pose for a bridal gown picture who had not posed commercially. I got the job!" "That is the usual procedure," she told me. "Once you get started you should work conscientiously and hard and above all be obliging and let them tell you exactly how they want you to stand, to sit, to look, if they want to. After all, it is their clothes they are photographing, not yourself. Once they get confidence in you they will let you use your own judgment."

Claire Coultter pricked several illusions in a direct way. Fashion models are never bothered by unpleasant advances. They usually are booked by an agency that arranges all their hours for them, they go and come on schedule, usually work with some high class and thoroughly reputable photographer and when they model for fashion shows they never come in contact with the spectators. Not that they don't get fan mail—but that never bothered a girl yet!

Some successful fashion models go in for Ritzy living, spending all they make, but the majority of those who reach the top don't spend much money on foolishness, many of the best-groomed shampoo their own hair and manicure their own nails and save their money! Why? "Modelling is unique in one way," Claire explained the reason for this earnestness. "A girl may be able to continue modelling five years successfully, but certainly no more. I should estimate that she can stay at the top of the ladder no more than two and a half years. Because modelling is the only profession I can think of where the very thing that gets you to the top kills you—popularity. First, everybody wants you to pose for them. After a while you have posed for so many that the public tires of your face. A new model takes your place.

"That is why intelligent models capitalize that success period to learn something else. You have unlimited chances to study the inside of fashion work, styling, advertising, photography and merchandizing. I know some perfectly grand girls in the work and all of them are pointing up their work to something else later on. It would be very foolish not to save, don't you think so?" Claire herself lives in a smart apartment she has decorated herself, a very modern bedroom, a charming old Colonial living room. True to her convent training, she sews beautifully, makes all of her own hats, can turn out the most perfect omelet in the world, but prefers business to housekeeping. She drives her own Phaeton, rides horseback daily in Central Park before breakfast, attends the theater, but does not care for social life. Every summer she spends back in New England.

"I think modelling is the grandest work in the world for a girl," she said. "Your time is your own. You can make very good money if you work hard and take your work seriously. And I know of no work in the world that is so enjoyable at the same time is so remunerative and also such a liberal education."

DETROIT HANDS OUT A BEATING TO WASHINGTON

Tigers Tallied Winning Run in Tenth Inning — Boston Red Sox Took a Fall Out of Cleveland — Brooklyn Downed Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Cleveland Indians, leaders of the American League, find themselves in a tough spot as they open their stand against the strong eastern clubs. The Indians not only have to face opposition which looks somewhat stronger than what they have met, but they may have to meet it with out the services of Wesley Ferrell, king-pin of their pitching staff. Ferrell started against the Boston Red Sox yesterday and retired voluntarily in the first inning after giving three doubles. He complained of a sore arm. If Ferrell remains out long, Cleveland has only Willis Hudlin who has proved reliable so far. Brown and Harder have started regularly, but seldom have finished their games. As for relief hurlers, it took three of them to stop the Red Sox yesterday and they did not succeed until Boston had put over five runs in the fourth inning to win by an 8 to 4 count.

The other game which escaped the weather in the American League yesterday created a slight disturbance in the theory that the balance of power in the circuit lies in the east. The Detroit Tigers outlasted Washington in a ten inning mound duel between Earl Whitehill and Lloyd Brown to win by 3 to 2. Each team scored two runs in the opening inning, then the two pitchers settled down and fought evenly to the extra frame. Marvin Owen, Tiger shortstop, scored the winning run on Bill Wake's double after reaching second by a single and a sacrifice.

In the National League, two games were scheduled to wind up the intra-sectional struggles before the western teams open in the east today, and one was washed out. The Brooklyn Dodgers won the other, making very good use of four hits and eight walks off Stewart Bolen to beat the Phillies by 4 to 3.

Bolen, making his first National League start after being laid up with a hurt shoulder, was wild just when it was costly. A triple and two walks in the fourth inning filled the bases, and Johnny Frederick crashed a double off the fence to bring in three runs. Hits by Herman and O'Doul made it 4 to 0 in the sixth before the Phillies got a run off Joe Shaute. The Robins' hurler had to give way to Jack Quinn in the ninth when the Phils got their third run, but got credit for his third victory over the Quakers this year.

ANNUAL ALBANY TO NEW YORK BOAT RACE HELD TODAY
ALBANY, N.Y., May 9.—The first boat in the annual Albany to New York outboard motor boat race started across the starting line at 8:45 a.m. eastern standard time today for the 132.25 mile run down the river. Five minutes after the starting gun seventy-four had crossed the line. A number of other outboards were above the starting line, their pilots having trouble cranking balky motors. The weather at this end of the course was excellent with a light southwest breeze and comparatively smooth and placid waters. Reports from New York City said there was a heavy fog there. The race officials, however, hoped this would lift before the boats reached there about an hour before noon.

SEVERAL OTTAWA PLAYERS WILL WEAR NEW COLORS NEXT WINTER

OTTAWA, May 9.—As May 15—the last day on which hockey players may migrate—approaches, the exodus of stickhandlers from the capital increases. Last night it became known that three of Ottawa's premier knights of the stick and blade are leaving for other parts. Gordie Peterkin, left wing for Rideau, district senior finalist this year, left last night for Niagara Falls, where he will probably play with the Intermediate Ontario Hockey Association outfit. Monday Bill Walker, star defenceman for Ottawa Shamrocks, leaves for Dalhousie, N.B., and within a few days, it is expected, Arnie Butterworth, brilliant centre of the local Rideau Juniors, will follow him to the New Brunswick town. Besides being a hockey player, Walker was a half back with the Ottawa Senators rugby football team.

RAINVILLE CERTAIN OF PLACE ON CANADIAN TEAM

TORONTO, May 10.—For the first time since the trials commenced on Thursday splendid weather conditions greeted the six ranking Canadian tennis stars when they commenced their final series of matches here this morning. Aspirants for the honor of representing the maple leaf in the second round of the North American zone Davis Cup competition against United States, the players will conclude the tests match today. Marcel Rainville, colorful little French-Canadian from Montreal, appears certain of a place on the Canadian team. He has won two games and will oppose his fellow-townsmen, Dr. Jaci Wright, this afternoon.

Yesterday Rainville displayed heady tennis in defeating the Dominion's number one ranking star, Gilbert Nunn, Toronto. The victory was a straight affair, 6-2, 6-4, 10-8.

C. Leslie, the other Montrealer in the trials, clashes with the hard driving Walter Martin, Regina. The latter gave a rousing exhibition yesterday in defeating Dr. Art Ham, Toronto, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0 for his first victory. Leslie lost to Wright in the feature duel on Friday's programme. The latter lost a five set match Thursday to Nunn, but yesterday he showed far superior style and vanquished Leslie, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. Ham, who has yet to win a match, meets Nunn in the final singles clash. In the doubles, Wright and Martin oppose Rainville and Leslie.

PREDICTS LONG RANGE WEATHER SUMMARY SOON

Internationally Known Scientist Believes Study of Sun Is Destined to Revolutionize Weather Forecasting.

Is a study of the sun destined to revolutionize weather forecasting? Dr. Charles G. Abbot of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C., internationally known scientist, is of the opinion that such is the case. Long-range weather forecasting, the butt, hitherto, of many a joke, is "just around the corner", he believes. Doctor Abbot says: "Meteorologists have hitherto believed that weather (which is defined as the departures from regularity in climate) depends principally on the irregularities of the earth's surface, and, like rough water in a stream over a rocky bed, is essentially unpredictable for any considerable time in advance, but evidence tends to show, on the contrary, that weather changes are brought about chiefly by variations in the sun's radiation.

"These changes in solar radiation are periodic and promise to become predictable long in advance; weather appears to respond directly to them, although there are modifications due to local conditions. The conclusion is that long-range forecasting is possible and even probable."

The evidence from which Doctor Abbot draws his conclusion consists in comparison of daily measurements, over a period of years, of the sun's radiation, made by the Smithsonian's observatory at Calama, Chile, with the plotted mean temperature and barometric pressure throughout the United States over the same period of years, as supplied by the weather bureau.

In every instance, Doctor Abbot reveals, "the curves of temperature and barometric pressure, corresponding, respectively, to rising and to falling solar radiation, showed a marked opposition to each other." When the sun's radiation increased, the temperature and barometric pressure at Washington decreased, and vice versa.

Doctor Abbot further has discovered an apparent relation between average mean temperature changes and solar changes, five degrees Fahrenheit, corresponding to solar changes averaging eight-tenths of one per cent; which leads him to conclude that temperature effects caused by solar changes may, on many occasions, amount to as much as ten, fifteen or twenty degrees. "That is to say," declares Doctor Abbot, "major changes in weather are due to short periodic changes in the sun."

However before long-range weather forecasting is possible, scientists must first be able to predict radiation changes in the sun. In other words, if variations in the sun's radiation produce weather changes and if these variations can be predicted, then the weather for weeks and even months ahead can be forecast with measurable accuracy.

Doctor Abbot believes that these variations are predictable. In fact, in support of this belief, he has gone so far as to predict what the solar radiation will be for this year and 1932, based on data gathered over a period of years from three widely separated spots on the earth.

Doctor Abbot's suggestion is that the variations in the sun's radiation affect the circulation of the atmosphere. The atmosphere absorbs from one-tenth to one-fourth of the sun's radiation coming to the earth. This causes wind direction to change at different places, which, in turn, has a direct relation to the temperature. Until recently scientists have assumed that the surface of the sun is at a uniform temperature throughout. But now Professor Einstein has advanced a theory that the solar body is cooler at its equator than at its poles. Professor Einstein announced that he believed the movement of atmosphere over the solar surface to be due to a difference of temperature between poles and equator, and the inequality of temperature is accounted for by more active radiation along the equator than at the poles. This would result in leaving the solar surface cooler at the equator. But what is the cause lying back of this unequal radiation? Professor Einstein believes it to be a flattening at the poles. It is an established law that any body whose dimensions are greater one way than another, when heated to a temperature above the surrounding medium, gives off heat at the ends faster than at the sides.

'CLEAN-UP WEEK' BEGINS TODAY IN SHERBROOKE

All Citizens Requested to Give Their Co-operation and Support to Civic Project So that Desired Results May Be Realized.

Today marks the inauguration of Sherbrooke's 1931 "Clean-up Week." The request has again been made that all citizens lend their co-operation and support to this civic project, so that the desired effects may be realized.

The Good Book says that cleanliness is next to Godliness, and it is a fact that clean and sanitary surroundings make for a feeling of comfort and well-being that generates a satisfied state of mind.

Now is the time for every individual in the community to clean up inside and outside the home. Without healthful cleanliness one cannot enjoy healthy growth, and springtime is growing time for all nature.

"Clean-up Week" in Canada has become a national institution. Every householder who values his family's and his own self-respect takes pride in pushing forward the campaign for cleaner and brighter surroundings.

SHERBROOKE REGIMENT HOLDS QUALIFYING COURSE

A provisional school of instruction, conducted by Lieut. Parker and Q.M.S. Instructor Auclair, of the Royal Canadian Regiment, will be held at the Sherbrooke Regiment Armory for the purpose of qualifying officers and N.C.O.'s of the regiment.

The course will start on Monday night next, May 11th, and lectures will be given at the Armory on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights of each week at 7.30 o'clock. N.C.O.'s and privates who wish to qualify for the rank they hold or for higher rank will report to the senior officer present at the first lecture on Monday night.

Though the necessity for drastic economy in federal matters has caused a large cut to be made in the strength and training time for all units, the need for the usual provisional schools and camps of instruction has been recognized by National Defence headquarters and every assistance is being given to those who are in a position to take these courses. The school to be held at the Armory is for the theoretical portion of the work only, but most of those who pass this section will be permitted to proceed to a two-weeks' camp school at St. Johns, Que., at the end of June to complete the practical portion.

Tell it to the public briefly, pointedly, state what price, and the Record Want ads will find buyer or seller. That above sentence would cost 40 cents.

REVENUES FOR LOCAL OFFICE SHOW DECLINE

Increased Customs Collections of National Revenue Department Failed to Cover Reduced Sales Tax.

Collections at the local office of the Department of National Revenue for the month of April were down $9,964.69 from the corresponding month last year, and the entire decrease can be charged to the fall in excise taxes of $11,501.47. As the main item in this section is the sales tax, which was cut in half in May, 1930, virtually the total decrease in collections for the month can be accounted for by the change in this tax.

In April, 1930, excise tax collections totalled $22,594.50, and in April, 1931, they amounted to only $11,093.03.

Customs collections were up $1,845.23 in the past month, $53,226.70 being collected for April, 1931, compared with receipts of $51,381.47 for the same period last year.

Excise duties, mainly cigar taxes, fell from $553.08 in April, 1930, to $295 in April, 1931, due principally to the closing of a number of small cigar factories in the district.

Sundry collections for April, declined from $104.37 in 1930 to $54 in 1931.

Total collections for April, 1931, amounted to $64,668.73, while for the same period last year they totalled $74,633.42. In April, 1929, the total collections for the port reached the sum of $134,369.36, or more than double those of the past month.

STEPS TAKEN IN TOWN BEAUTIFYING

Lennoxville should be even more attractive than usual this season to visitors and tourists as a result of the "clean-up week" just past. The movement was sponsored by the Lennoxville Board of Trade and the Women's Institute, in co-operation with the Town Council, which provided for the removal of all waste material from the various homes. Yards and lawns were raked and cleaned, fences mended and brush and straggling growth removed.

Last night, Prof. Bunting, of MacDonal College, well-known to visitors to that institution in connection with his work among the shrubs and flowers which abound there, gave an illustrated lecture in the Town Hall on the subject, "Beautifying the Home, Town and County," in which the possibilities of growing things as a means of decoration were clearly exemplified. Prof. Bunting was in town during the afternoon, and was at the service of any resident who wished his advice as to the planting of shrubs and flowers.

IT JUST IS NOT DONE IN ENGLAND.

With young "Randy" Churchill, of Oxford, the son of the Hon. Winston Churchill, being attacked for his bright and winsome sayings to the Toronto school children, and with never a school trustee to defend him because of their fear of the Labour vote, the attacks seem to be a reprisal for the criticism of the British of the Hon. Howard Ferguson, the Canadian High Commissioner.

Young Churchill is a genius from the British universities who gives to his hearers a running humorous picture of the political celebrities of England, and who even makes fun of himself in his clever phraseology. He is reminiscent of his grandfather, the late Hon. Randolph Churchill, a direct descendant of the great Marlborough family. He never criticizes the country of which he is a welcome guest.

The Hon. Howard Ferguson, the pride of Ontario, has made several diplomatic "breaks" in England, as we had promised he would. Eventually he may have to be recalled from the Court of St. James.

When we asserted in the Record last winter that his appointment was an error, and that he was not of the diplomatic temperament, a storm of adulation was indulged in by the Ontario Conservative press, and the publicity propaganda was worked overtime on his behalf. This journal's criticism of the appointment, based on the analysis of the Ex-Premier's characteristics, so enthused his journalistic friends that they intoxicated him with praise, and he failed to study or to take lessons from the professors of diplomacy. He talked too much.

The Britishers do not like "swank." In an ambassador they do look for dignity, courtesy and gentility. They will accept forceful presentation of claims to adjustment such as Mr. Bennett made, and of which the gamine-like mind of the Hon. Mr. Thomas had no comprehension. But they do not love criticism of British institutions any more than we welcome the suggestions of how we do it in dear old London.

There is a social environment in the Court of St. James which calls for the niceties of observance in any person whose credentials have been accepted. He who does not observe them just does not belong. Boasting of one's country or of one's relatives—it just is not done in England.

A FEW STICKS THROWN AT THE PULPWOOD.

The Canadian Pulpwood Association has its head office far removed from the pulpwood centers, or it would long since have arisen to the need for a public rebuttal of the claim that Russian billets for the making of newspaper are of better or of equal quality to the Canadian spruce. The Russian pulpwood has not the fine fibre of the wood grown in Canada, but the Russians studied their requests for samples from the United States and prepared their wood more carefully, shipping only pulpwood of uniform size and dressing it with more care, also seeing that the imbedded bark knots were cut out of the logs so that the mills could give the quality and tensile strength demanded.

The officers of the pulpwood association should long since have issued clear instructions for the preparation of pulpwood for the U. S. mills. Any added cost improving quality would have been recompensed the dealers. Explicit and easily understood finishing directions could have been made a part of each contract and subcontract.

To be sure the industry was handicapped for a time by foolish freight rates whereby the importer of Russian pulpwood had a specific advantage in lower freight rates than were demanded from the Canadian exporter. The Canadian Board of Railway Commissioners were dumb as usual on this preferential, and only when it was made public in the Record was it remedied.

Again, the foolish talk of embargoes on Canadian pulpwood going to the United States made these paper mill owners receptive towards any other source of supply. They were welcomed towards the Russian product, though the quality mills have changed their mind about it. People do not recognize that the suggestion that "we make a law" is detrimental and disturbing to capital and industry.

There are able men in the pulpwood exporting industry in Canada, men well able to look after themselves and to play the game under existing rules, but their association, if it is to be active and helpful, should be more central. Instead of begging for publicity in matters affecting the general good of the industry, they should present it as would any other industry.

The Russian exporters and the United States importers took advantage of their somnolence as an institution or association.

Cyrus McRae, of Cookshire, who has just returned with Mr. Sharman from a research trip through the New England paper mill district, says that the pulp mills there admit the better fiber quality of the Canada spruce, but emphasizes the fact that from Russia they get a better-looking outside finish on their pulp logs. This is a detail which should be easily remedied. A better price would result, and equalized railway freight rates would oust the across-the-sea competition.

Forest fires often burn up in a few weeks as much pulpwood as we export in a year.

THE LIGHT THAT SHINES FOR EMPIRE UNITY.

The result of the British bye-election in Ashton-under-Lyne shows what can be done when all work together.

Hon. Neville Chamberlain is credited with the rapprochement consummated between Lord Beaverbrook and the Empire Crusaders and the straight Conservative party, in which a pact has been made that the two shall work together against the Little Englanders and the Labour party with all its freakish notions, and thus save the political sanity of the nation.

The pact has been pronounced the greatest angry for success in the next general elections, and it bodes well for a united fight against the Socialists, the Soviets, and the so-called Liberal party which follows the chicanery of Lloyd George.

With a Conservative party in power there lies the only hope that the Dominions of Britain will attain their desire for a measure of Empire Trade Unity. The MacDonald-Georgies cannot vision anything above parish politics and dole systems as the means of muddling through.

The Liberal party is deep in the mire of the miseries of power through hypheans.

Ashton marks the ashes of the Labour pyre.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

F. W. Swindells is preparing to build the largest poultry farm in Canada, in Colchester County, Nova Scotia, but the Eastern Townships can still boast the largest duck farm in the Dominion, at Knowlton, in Brome County, just below the hills from James Mackinnon's beautiful farm, above Bondville.

The able publicity man who tells so much about the charming home town of Lennoxville says that a well-kept lawn, with flowers, shrubs and gardens makes a home sell more quickly than all the newspaper advertising obtainable. To add the two together is what he really meant. Advertising sells beautiful things, and the merchants know that the most charming things stay on the shelves unless they invite people to see them by telling them about it.

Jack Miner, in a letter thanking the Editor for his kindly references to himself, asks if we should like to run chapters of his book, entitled "Jack Miner and the Birds" in serial form, in place of Bedtime Stories. We should like some of the parents to take a vote on this, and if we have an affirmative expression we can get Jack to send us his book. The chapters are all short, and if published now would give every boy and girl at vacation time an opportunity to study bird life with understanding. For myself I would consider it more absorbing than stories about little burrowing animals of the Burgess type.

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Fricker died upon Mrs. Currie to come to the front of the hall, where Miss Haworth, president of the society, presented Mrs. Currie with a beautiful arm bouquet of flowers as a slight mark of the appreciation of the girls for the work done by Mrs. Currie for them. Mrs. Currie thanked the donors for their kind remembrance of her and spoke of the great pleasure that she had taken in her work with the girls. ## YOUR TIRES AND CAR know the difference

Motoring costs shrink on concrete paving. There is less wear and tear on tires and car plus greatly reduced fuel consumption. These economies are definite. They have been proved by carefully checked, unprejudiced tests on all types of roads under normal driving conditions.

Aside from the money angle, concrete highways mean safer driving . . . better visibility at night and less danger of skidding at all times.

Advocate concrete paving. It is the basis of sound road budgeting, assuring permanence with a minimum of upkeep.

TOLD OF WORK BEING CARRIED ON IN INDIA

Bishop's College Students Enjoyed Privilege of Meeting Sadhu Christiananda, Native of India, Who is Visiting Canadian Universities.

A visitor of more than ordinary interest is being entertained at Bishop's University in the person of Sadhu John Nelson Christiananda, a native of India, who is visiting universities and other places of interest on the American continent.

Sadhu Christiananda delivered an address in the college chapel yesterday afternoon when the majority of the student body and many visitors were present. Speaking with a cultivated ease in perfect English he told his listeners how he and his people have sought for centuries after God. He and some of his friends came to know of the Christian revelation through reading the New Testament, and although they were never evangelized, the Holy Spirit came to them with such a definite call that they began at once to work among their fellow countrymen.

The speaker drew a parallel between the case of himself and his associates and the case related by St. Luke where the disciples who went to Emmaus "suddenly had their eyes opened and they knew Him." He told how the Indian nation was torn between attempts of rival philosophers who attempted to reason their way to the "Infinite," and expressed his sincere hope that the Christian gospel would soon be universally accepted throughout his motherland.

In the evening a conference was held in the university students' common room, and the guest of honor, after giving a brief sketch of his work in India, graciously consented to answer the queries of his audience.

His call to service came some eleven years ago when he was teaching English in a school, and after six months spent in evangelizing he returned to his home community. He was immediately impressed by the necessity of work among the high caste Hindus, an exceptionally difficult work since the adoption of Christianity by a young Hindu means banishment from home. He explained how his entire family, father, mother and brothers are actively engaged in secret missionary work, and already he has twelve mission schools and twenty-seven workers under his charge. The mission schools in India must run on a government curriculum, but they have the advantage of being allowed to add religious instruction to the course. Through the medium of the schools, the children are being taught Christianity, and through the children the parents are learning, too.

Sadhu Christiananda attributed the success of his work to the Indian methods used. Christian missionaries from other countries have often failed because they refused to admit that the people they were attempting to convert already had a religion. The speaker told how his workers made friends with the people, and after winning their confidence, won them over to Christianity.

There are many difficulties in the way of conversion. The most serious of these, according to Sadhu Christiananda, is the caste, which makes it tremendously difficult for any member of a family to join. Then, too, the Hindus are a naturally religious people and are very wary about adopting any new form of religion. In his opinion the caste system is being gradually broken down by both the Nationalist movement and the public school system.

After considerable persuasion, Sadhu Christiananda consented to speak briefly on Gandhi and the Nationalist movement, a theme which was naturally foremost in the minds of his listeners. In glowing words he painted the destiny in store for the vast Indian Empire, with its three hundred millions of people, and he told how the leadership of Gandhi had done more to raise the moral and national outlook of the people of India than any other force in their history.

The Sadhu gave his hearers many other opinions of absorbing interest, such as some of his impressions of the western world; the advantages of the family as the central organization, which is a feature of life in India, and many other entertaining points which arose in the course of the discussion. At the close of the evening Dr. McCreer thanked the guest of honor for his kindness in coming to the gathering, and extended to him, on behalf of the students, every good wish for success in his splendid endeavors.

TO START WORK ON CENSUS AT AN EARLY DATE

Official Enumeration of Citizens of Sherbrooke Will Be Started June 1—Many Questions Will Be Asked.

An official enumeration of the citizens of Sherbrooke will be made starting on June 1st, when the task of compiling the census ordered made by the Federal Government will be inaugurated.

A comprehensive list of questions has been prepared, by which the Government authorities will be able to perceive at once the conditions existing throughout the country. Twenty-four direct census questions will be asked and will have to be answered, apart from queries which will arise regarding the occupation of a person or the reason of unemployment.

In announcing the details of this great undertaking the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in a statement explains that the census has been called "The largest single act of administration of the government." The human population, of course, will be the first consideration of the census takers, but the census will also arrive at the number of horses, cattle, swine, poultry, thoroughbred animals, hothouses, fruit trees and hives of bees there are in the Dominion.

Enumerators have been appointed, and these will be assigned to certain sections of the city. Among the questions which will be asked will be the following: How many rooms are in your home, and is it of stone, or brick, or wood?

Is there a radio set in your home? Your relationship to the family (whether the head of family, wife, son, daughter, or uncle, etc.). What is your sex? Are you single, married, widowed, or divorced? What was your age at last birthday?

Where were you born? Where was your father born? Where was your mother born? In what year did you immigrate to Canada? (For foreign-born persons.) In what year were you naturalized? (For foreign-born persons.) What is your racial origin; from what overseas country did your family originally come? Are you able to speak English? or French? What is your mother tongue? (For foreign-born persons.) Of what religious denomination are you a member or adherent? Are you able to read and write? How many months at school since Sept. 1, 1930? (For persons of school age.) If you are a gainful worker, what is your occupation? In what industry are you employed? Are you an employer, an employee, or are you working on your own account?

If you are an employee, you will be asked if you were at work on Monday, June 1st, 1931. If you answer "No," you will be asked whether it was because of: (a) No job; (b) Sickness; (c) Accident; (d) On holidays; (e) Strike or lock-out; (f) Plant closed; (g) Other reason. You will also be asked whether you have been out of work for any cause in the last 12 months? If you answer "Yes," you will be asked: How many weeks have you been out of work, and of these how many were due to: (a) No job; (b) Illness; (c) Accident; (d) Strike or lock-out; (e) Temporary lay-off; (f) Other reason.

POLICE DENY MAN'S STORY. Some rather peculiar facts have come to light in connection with the case of Henri Gingras, St. Henri street, who was removed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital the night before last, after being treated in the hospital for some time. He had been boldly attacked by a lone ruffian and struck upon the head with a blunt instrument. For a while yesterday Stove Pipe City was in the limelight of police activities when rumors were about that Gingras had been beaten up so badly that his condition was critical.

When Captain Prunier was assigned to the case and conducted his investigation he came across some puzzling evidence which threw a new light upon the whole affair. No one had seen the attack upon Gingras. Gingras, who was in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, complaining that his head had been severely bruised, and sticking to his story of the ruffian and the blunt instrument, mentioned the names of several prominent residents of Stove Pipe City as the probable attackers. He could identify no one in particular. Captain Prunier became suspicious and after an investigation declares Gingras admits that he "stretched his story." This is the way the affair happened, according to the police.

Gingras returned home from a picture show Thursday night, felt faint, called the ambulance and declared that he had been attacked, in order that he might be admitted to the hospital for medical treatment. His whole story of the blunt instrument and of his injury was a ruse, according to the police, and he was ordered to leave the hospital.

Thus it would seem, after all, that everything is quiet on the Stove Pipe City front.

MOST ROADS IN PROVINCE ARE IN FAIR SHAPE

Local Tourist Season Ahead of Last Year—Highways to Richmond and Stanstead Reported Under Construction and in Bad Condition—Other Roads in Good Shape.

The two weeks of wet weather experienced in this district did not set back the tourist season as much as had been feared, nor did it affect the highways to a great extent. As a matter of fact, roads throughout the province are in good condition and, according to a report issued by engineers of the Department of Roads this week, the highways and roads in this section of the country are over one month ahead of several years past as far as their condition and the motoring facilities are concerned.

In this section of the province, that is to say in the vicinity of Sherbrooke, two highways are reported to be in bad condition. These are the highways to Stanstead and that to Richmond. Both are undergoing repairs at present. The road to Stanstead is much the worse of the two, as it is impossible to reach that town without making a detour. The road in the vicinity of Burrough's Falls is impassable, and in order to reach Stanstead, it is necessary to detour at Massawippi, via Ayer's Cliff. This side road is rough, and the going is not pleasant. The road to Richmond, on the other hand, is not so bad. While it is torn up and will furnish hard travelling all summer, it is considered quite passable. This section of the route to Quebec will be resurfaced during the coming months with a hard paving. Past Richmond to Quebec, also branching off to Drummondville and Three Rivers, the roads are said to be in excellent condition.

The other permanent highways in this part of the province are in good condition. These include the road to Coaticook and also joining route No. 50 at Coaticook to Magog. The highway to Montreal, route No. 1, is in fine condition, and that part between Magog and Sherbrooke is in far better shape than it was last year at this time. Although somewhat dusty, the road to Quebec, route No. 1, east, is good. It has been smoothed out in fine shape by the Department of Roads, and although there are still a few frost holes, these are easily seen and afford no danger.

Route No. 28 to Beauceville has never been better. Mr. J. C. McConnell, secretary of the Eastern Townships' Automobile Club, advised this morning. In speaking about motoring conditions and facilities in this vicinity, Mr. McConnell was very optimistic regarding the tourist season. Thus far it is ahead of last year, he said, and a large number of tourists have been noticed in the city. If the season continues as it has started, it should turn out to be a prosperous one indeed.

The Railway Commission will meet here on Tuesday next in order to decide on a plan of action regarding the work to be done on the Lennoxville trestle and the crossing near Ascot. Both these places are considered extremely dangerous.

PLEADS GUILTY TO ROBBERY OF POST OFFICE Adrien Duclos Admitted He Stole from Racine Post Office, When He Appeared Before Magistrate Yesterday—Police Are Searching for Missing Parcel.

Adrien Duclos, said to be of Montreal, appeared before Magistrate Lemay yesterday afternoon, charged with stealing from the post office in Racine, and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was remanded until next week, when he will be sentenced.

Adrien Duclos was arrested on Thursday afternoon by the local police, a few hours after the latter were advised by officials of the post office about the robbery in Racine, which occurred during Wednesday night. A large quantity of postage stamps, postal notes and other valuables had been stolen.

The local police, on receiving news of the robbery, immediately maintained a sharp look out for the culprit, in case he might be in this city. Several clues were followed up, which finally led to the arrest of Duclos, who, the police claim, had in his possession a quantity of stamps.

Having confessed to the theft in Racine, Duclos admitted that he had left a parcel stolen in some store on King street or vicinity. The man was unable to remember where he had left it, and a search by the police has not as yet located it. The post office authorities are anxious to recover that parcel, and any information concerning it would be appreciated by the police or Post Office Inspector, Mr. L. E. Dastous. Duclos is a tall, dark man, about twenty-eight years of age. The parcel is said to contain nothing of value as an ordinary citizen, although it has a certain value to the post office department.

JUDGMENT RESERVED BY COURT ON RIGHT OF PROVINCES OVER RADIO

(Continued from Page 1) mont asked him if the province could claim control in the event that radio waves were found to be merely adaptations of the sun's rays. Mr. Geoffrion said it would, for the sun's rays were essential to agriculture and a number of other things over which the provinces had control.

A good part of the argument for the Dominion was based on the existence of the ether, said R. B. Hanson, K.C., M.P., for New Brunswick. He did not dispute the scientific data offered to the court, but he wanted to make clear the uncertainty of existing knowledge on the subject.

Another point taken by Mr. Hanson related to treaties. He said the Dominion Parliament could not pass legislation which was not otherwise within its powers for the purpose of implementing a treaty which was not binding on the British Empire as a whole.

In his reply Mr. Tilley said the provinces had wholly ignored the general field of radio communication which was much more important than broadcasting. Radio, he declared, was not a property right. It was something to be controlled and regulated.

If it could be supposed that a man in Ontario by some apparatus could block off the sun's rays from Quebec, he would not be exercising a civil right. But he has no right to block off radio waves in Quebec by setting up interference in Ontario.

"Do you exclude altogether the suggestion that this might be adjusted by agreements between the provinces?" asked Mr. Justice Ritchie.

The questions the court has to answer are two in number. One asks whether the Dominion Parliament has the right to legislate respecting radio communication. The other asks if the Dominion has not the right, in what respect it is limited.

LARGE DEFICIT REVEALED IN AUSTRALIA'S FINANCES

(Continued from page 1) penditures of $339,500,000 leaving a deficit of $96,005,000. The default of debt payments by the State of New South Wales was partly responsible for the heavy losses of the federal treasury.

As for foreign trade, the results were mainly due to drastic alterations in Australia's tariff. Merchandise imports within the past nine months totalled $255,725,000 against imports of $344,700,000 in the same period a year ago, a decrease of exactly $87,975,000.

MUCH PROGRESS IN FARM WORK IN DOMINION

Conditions Favorable in Every Province for Spring Farming Operations—Progress in Some Districts Well Ahead of Average.

MONTREAL, May 9.—In every province in the Dominion conditions have been favorable for spring farming operations and substantial progress—in some districts well ahead of average—has been made in the preparation of the land and the seeding of the principal crops. This is the substance of the Bank of Montreal's first telegraphic crop report of the season.

ated to be about fifteen per cent less than last year; very little coarse grains have as yet been sown. There is sufficient moisture for germination in the northern areas, but more rain is needed in the south. The reserve is very low. Soil drifting has been severe, especially in Saskatchewan. In Quebec Province a large amount of ploughing was done last autumn, and recent much-needed rain has resulted in preparatory work being well under way. In Ontario farm land has seldom been in better condition, with the result that all spring work is well advanced. In the Maritime Provinces and likewise in British Columbia conditions have also been favorable, and seeding in the latter province is about 85 per cent completed.

Seeding and planting of potatoes has commenced in some sections of the Maritimes. Present indications point to the potato acreage being well below a five year average. Fruit trees wintered well. Meadows and pasture lands are promising with little or no winter kill reported.

BIOGRAPHY ON BEAVERBROOK IS PUBLISHED

Authentic Biography Written by E. A. MacKenzie Covers Career of Canadian-Born Newspaper Peer from His Birth in New Brunswick to Present.

LONDON, May 9.—"Lord Beaverbrook, an Authentic Biography," was published today. Its author, E. A. MacKenzie, expressly states the work is unofficial. It covers the career of the Canadian-born newspaper peer from his birth in New Brunswick to the present—he will be fifty-two years of age on May 25.

The book is a fairly full account of Lord Beaverbrook's early adventures in Canada. As for his career on this side of the Atlantic, the author in dealing with Lord Beaverbrook's political experiences would have it understood that Max Aitken was insistent on pushing tariff matters to the front from the moment he descended upon Ashton-under-Lyne, shortly after his arrival from Canada, and won a sensational bye-election campaign in this Lancashire constituency.

A TRAGIC END TO HUMANITY IS PROPHESED

Dr. Oswald Spengler, Philosopher of Munich University, Predicts Man's Rising Efficiency and Increasing Technique Will Spell Doom Before Long.

BERLIN, May 9.—Man's rising efficiency and increasing technique will spell his doom before long. Dr. Oswald Spengler, philosopher of Munich University, has told the annual meeting of the Deutsches Museum.

Propheying an impending tragic end to humanity, he said: "The rise of modern technique means its end; in other words an unparalleled catastrophe will follow.

"It is impossible to hold to the level of modern technique without a nation of 100,000 highly qualified human beings, but there is no guarantee that these 100,000 really exist."

"Anyway there is a grave menace of a lack of leading personalities during the coming generation. The Roman empire fell for much the same reasons. The future way is either to proceed until the end comes or revise our codes and then all that is left is heroism."

INFORMATION IS SOUGHT BY DR. LAFLECHE

Member of Parliament for Richmond-Wolfe Would Like to Know How Much Money Paid to Former Speaker Lemieux.

OTTAWA, May 9.—A series of questions with respect to money paid to Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux during his term as Speaker of the House of Commons, has been placed on the order paper of the House by E. J. LaFleche, (Cons.-Richmond-Wolfe).

After asking how long Mr. Lemieux occupied the position of Speaker, Dr. LaFleche directs the following questions to the Government: "What was the total sum of money received by him (Mr. Lemieux) during his term of office, (a) as member of the House of Commons; (b) as Speaker; (c) all other contingent expenses, allowances, servants' salaries, cost and maintenance of automobiles, chauffeur's salary, telephone and telegraph charges, printing, etc."

Dr. LaFleche has placed another question on the order paper designated to ascertain the total sum of money received from all government sources by Senator Raoul Dandurand, Liberal leader in the Senate, from the year 1921 to March, 1931.

Hon. Peter Heenan, former Minister of Labor, asks questions in respect to reported discoveries of radium in Canada.

"In view of the number of reported discoveries of radium in Canada, has the Government the facilities for demonstrating the value and the cost of the recovery of this element?" Mr. Heenan asks.

"Has the Government taken the necessary steps to keep the control within Canada of radium deposits, so as to ensure supplies of same for hospitals at reasonable prices?" he concludes.

"How many officials are there in the service of the Canadian National Railways drawing salaries of $15,000 per annum and upwards?" asks M. N. Campbell, (Prog.-MacKenzie). He proceeds to inquire the names, position and the salary of each of these persons.

"What was the expense account of each including the president, for the past year?" concludes Mr. Campbell.
