MARINE AND FISHERIES

P. J. A. Cardin, Member For Richelieu Is Given Important Portfolio

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Two Cabinet changes are announced to-night, namely: Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, to become Minister of Justice.

P. J. A. Cardin, member for Richelieu, appointed Minister of Marine and Fisheries in succession to Mr. Lapointe.

The appointment of Mr. Lapointe fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Sir Lomer Gouin. Since Sir Lomer resigned, Mr. Lapointe has been Acting Minister of Justice.

As Mr. Lapointe already holds a ministerial position, his new appointment will not entail a bye-election.

Mr. Cardin's appointment will necessitate a bye-election. In the last general election, Mr. Cardin carried Richelieu by a majority of 785 in every count since 1896 the constituency has returned a Liberal to the Federal House.

Hon. Mr. Cardin has represented Richelieu County in Parliament since 1911. He was born in 1879 in Sorel, Que., where he now resides. He studied law at Laval University and was admitted to the Bar in 1908.

He has been counsel for the city of Sorel for ten years, as well as counsel for all the municipality councils in Richelieu County. He has been a member of the Council of the Bar of Montreal as representative of lawyers practicing outside that city. He has argued many cases in the Supreme Court of Canada, the Quebec Appeal Court, the Railway Commission and the Public Utilities Commission.

Both Mr. Lapointe and Mr. Cardin were sworn in before the Governor-General at Rideau Hall.

The present appointments, it is understood, conclude present plans for Cabinet readjustment. There have been rumors from time to time that the likelihood that a Maritime man would be appointed to the Department of Marine with a shuffling of other portfolios.

It has also been officially announced here that Mr. Justice Malouin, of the Superior Court of Quebec, has been appointed to the Supreme Court in succession to the late Hon. L. P. Brodeur. Mr. Justice Malouin is replaced in the Superior Court by Ernest Roy, K.C., of Quebec city.

"Shout Until You Meet In Hell" Thundered President
Lewis

YELLS AND SHRIEKS

One Delegate Knocked To The Floor By A Blow In The Face

Indianapolis, January 30.—Delegates of International President John L. Lewis, burst bounds in the United Mine Workers convention late today and for one hour turned bedlam loose.

"Shout till you meet in Hell," Lewis thundered when the rioting reached the edge of his platform, "but the Chair won't change his rule." He had first ruled that anti-administration forces had failed to get sufficient votes to secure another roll call, on a proposition to change representation in the convention.

Insurgents fought for a return to the rule in effect before the 1922 convention, when it was charged representation was reduced because of the size of the anti-administration delegates from Illinois. They lost on division by 785 to 692, and then voted 558 for a roll call, 12 votes short of the required 30 per cent.

Insurgent delegates from Illinois were the leaders in the demonstration. Refused in a demand for a recount of those who had voted for a roll call, Joe Lynam, of Peoria, Ill., gained the front of the hall and yelled for a following and waved toward the right approach to the platform.

He ran into the most picturesque of the administration's supporters, whose reputation as "shooters" Smith, in his name, "Not a one of you goes." The bold front of this delegate from Rayville, Tenn., came at the right moment, and Lynam was deprived of a following.

Failed To Restore Order.
For an hour President Lewis, at one time demanding, then appealing, tried without effect to restore order. Shrieks of "give us justice" and "we want a square deal" filled the immense Tomlinson Hall to the echo each time he called on Secretary Van Bittner, of the Constitution Committee, to continue reading items of his report.

Finally, at ten minutes before adjournment, while stamping of feet and yells prevented hearing even at the edge of the platform, President Lewis advised Bittner to proceed, and one section of the constitution was adopted, of which only six delegates had knowledge.

One delegate was hurt in the fray. Alex. Plazze, of Local 3137, Baldord, Pa., was knocked to the floor by a blow in the face while yelling for a "square deal." He declared he did not know the name of his assailant, but could recognize him and would "get him."

Jim Beach, President of the Taylorville, Ills., sub-district, a member of President Lewis' own local at Panama, Ills., and William Harkness, President of the Peoria sub-district, were leaders in the demand for a recount. Opposition to the chair's ruling centred about them and it was due to the fact that they were placed in the center of the hall, surrounded on all sides by administration men, that no more serious demonstration resulted.

Today's excitement followed the duller period of the convention, the roll call on the proposition to take appointive powers from the International President, which was lost by a vote of 2,166 to 2,263, a scant margin of 157 votes. It gave the opposition confidence although they had lost, and resulted in the evidence of a fighting spirit.

WANDERED TO DEATH IN SNOW BLIZZARD.

Kingsport, Ont., January 30.—The body of Miss Ada Strachan, an elderly Kingston woman, who wandered away from her home a week ago during a heavy snow storm, was found this afternoon a short distance north of the city on the Perth road. Miss Strachan had crossed two fences and a large open field before succumbing to the blizzard.

Serious Fire Risk Unless Stored In Specially Prepared Vaults

DOMINION LEGISLATION

Recommended By The Annual Convention Of Fire Prevention Association

Ottawa, January 30.—The tremendous danger incurred by the storing of used films in any other places than specially prepared vaults, especially in hospitals and similar institutions where the X-ray apparatus was freely used, was emphasized at the annual convention of the Dominion Fire Prevention Association here to-day, when that fire risk was described by Fire Chief James Armstrong, of Kingston, Ont.

Three large fires had occurred during the past year in United States hospitals from this cause, said George F. Lewis, of the Fire Marshal's Department of Ontario, who said the actual reason of the fire outbreak had not been fathomed, but it was considered probable that it was decomposition due to heat.

The report of the committee on motion picture films strongly favored the adoption of the non-inflammable film in place of the highly inflammable nitro-cellulose film so widely used.

Want Federal Legislation.

J. Grove Smith, Dominion Fire Commissioner, who read the report, strongly recommended that Dominion legislation should be passed which should be administered at the point where films enter Canada. The necessity of Federal legislation had been proved to exist, he said, because in the past Provincial authorities had been so mixed up in the financial interests of the film companies that practically every kind of film had been admitted into the country without any control—either as to the moral of the film or as to its composition.

There had been no encouraging increase except in Ontario and Quebec, in the installing of sprinkler systems in factories and other buildings, according to the report of that committee. There was no difficulty in the case of new buildings.

FEDERAL ELECTIONIN RICHELIEU.

Ottawa, January 30.—The Federal by-election in Richelieu County, Quebec, made necessary by the appointment of the present member, Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, to a Cabinet post, will take place on March 12th next. Nominations will close on February 27.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, January 30.—The depression which was passing over Northern Ontario last night is now centred in the Lower St. Lawrence Valley and pressure is relatively high over the Lake Superior or district and the greater portion of the United States. Light falls of rain have occurred in Eastern Ontario and Quebec, while over the remainder of the Dominion the weather has been fair and mild.

KEYSTONE OF FUTURE POLICY OF GOVERNMENT

MacDonald's Letter To Poincare The Topic Of Animated Discussion

FRANK AND FEARLESS

British Premier Determined To Clear Up All Outstanding Questions

London, Jan. 30.—Premier MacDonald's frank letter to Premier Poincare, of France, in which he expressed regret that Franco-British relations were not as cordial as they might be and advanced the hope that France might adopt a conciliatory spirit, was the topic of an animated discussion in political and Governmental circles today.

It was said authoritatively that the new Labor Prime Minister's letter may be taken as the keystone of the future foreign policy of the Government. Mr. MacDonald believes that free and open negotiations along human, liberal, conciliatory lines will bring about settlement of the Ruhr reparation and Palatine questions and the restoration of Europe quicker than the old time secret diplomacy with its uncertainties, suspicions and delays.

While the word "bold" may be too strong an adjective to be applied to the policy which Premier MacDonald is expected to adopt toward France, it is certain to be frank and fearless. This is evidenced, his friends say, by the Premier's candid statement to M. Poincare that British public opinion views the French policy with a certain degree of suspicion and apprehension of what is going on in Europe.

Outspoken Utterances.

His supporters also point to the Prime Minister's recent outspoken utterances regarding India, in which he warned the Home Rulers against methods of force and his action in calling a conference of the Irish Free State and Ulster government heads on the difficult and delicate boundary question, which might easily be postponed.

These are cited as an example of the Labor leader's determination to take a firm line in clearing up all outstanding questions at home and abroad.

Of all these questions the unemployment in England, which has caused such widespread anxiety since the armistice, is naturally the closest to the Labor Premier's heart. He is firmly convinced that settlement of the European problems along the broad humanitarian lines suggested in his letter to M. Poincare will do more to relieve England's troubles in other directions than any other formula.

His own initial contribution to such a European settlement, it is pointed out, is his bold step in destroying the barriers between Great Britain and Russia, recognition of the Soviet Government being forecast to occur within the next ten days.

SERIOUS PANIC IN MONTREAL STREET CAR

Montreal, Jan. 30.—When a fuse blew a street car in the rush hour here early this evening at the corner of Park and Pine Avenues, the car was filled with smoke and a panic ensued during which the passengers smashed the windows while some tried to climb out of the car. As a result two women passengers were carried into a nearby ice-cream parlor suffering from nervous shock. They were, however, soon revived and were able to proceed to their homes.

ROTEST AGAINST HIGHER OCEAN RATES

Toronto, Jan. 30.—A protest against the proposal of steamship companies to raise the ocean freight rates was lodged last night at a meeting of the Canadian Exporters' Association. P. P. Graham, of Toronto, pointed out that one of the obstacles in the way of increasing exports was the high freight rates but a thought that if there were a concerted move on the part of the exporters something might be accomplished.

CANCEL BAIL FOR THEIR ANNIVERSARY

Montreal, Jan. 30.—In deference to the condemnation of modern dancing expressed in a recent pastoral letter by Cardinal Begin, of Quebec, the local branch of the Independent Order of Foresters has cancelled the ball intended to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the I.O.F., which had been fixed to have been held here February 6th.

RAIL COMMUNICATIONS ARE AGAIN SEVERED

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 30.—Direct rail communication with Mexico City from the border again was severed today by rebel forces operating near the city of Jimenez, in Southern Chihuahua advised received in El Paso today.

Casualties occurred on both sides when the passenger train was attacked, according to the report.

HARDSHIPS OF EXPLORERS IN BRITISH GUANA

Canadian Party Of Diamond
Hunters Left More Than Two Years Ago

LIFE IN JUNGLES

Tropical Diseases, Mutiny
And Desertions And Lack Of Food

Toronto, Jan. 30.—Diamond hunters in British Guiana are paying heavy toll for their success to the Grim Reaper, according to a letter just received by friends from Lester MacGillivray, of London, Ont., President of the Canadian expedition which left two years ago in search of gems on the unexplored reaches of the British Guiana rivers. After many months of hardships with death always in the offing the Canadians are now gathering a splendid harvest of precious stones from holdings formerly occupied by a New Yorker named Oliver. According to MacGillivray's letter two more white prospectors—not attached to the Canadian party—and literally scores of native guides have died of tropical diseases and many others have either returned to their homes or are lying ill in hospitals on the frontier.

The first white man to succumb was Alfred Harvey, a young Englishman, who was prospecting on his own account and a few days later, before the Canadian party—and literally scores of native guides have died of tropical diseases and many others have either returned to their homes or are lying ill in hospitals on the frontier.

Following the first terrible attacks of illness, the absence of fresh food and the desertion of the natives, the Canadian party returned to Georgetown last summer where several of their members were compelled to remain in hospital for weeks, and others were sent home for more complete convalescence.

Started on Fresh Trip

After re-organizing themselves and with a fresh supply of natives the Canadians again headed up to the Meamu River district. After several days cruising in the jungle small or large were found, and the expedition dropped back to the Red Hill district, near the Junction of the Eping River.

At this spot a large, comfortable and cozy house had been built by a prospector named Oliver, representing a firm of diamond importers located in New York City.

This man had been ill and he feared that to remain in the country would cause his death as he suggested to the Canadians that they buy his claims. Proof of the presence of diamonds being given the Ontario boys were about to enter into contract with him when it was found Oliver had not registered his claim and legally had no right to be on the property. Accordingly the Canadian party took out the necessary Government papers without expense and since commencing mining operations have found diamonds worth thousands of dollars, some of the individual stones weighing one and three quarter carats.

MacGillivray's letter tells of the great difficulties his party met. One of their boats was swamped and several were nearly drowned. On another occasion the native employees mutinied. Later their camp was broken into by natives and all their food supplies stolen.

FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Frank Trimball, Italian, charged with the murder of Matthews Joseph Maloney, city fireman, on February 10 last, was tonight found guilty of manslaughter at the Supreme Court Assizes after only twenty five minutes' deliberation. Searchers were being passed by Mr. Justice Lennox tomorrow.

Although the findings had not been published, the preliminary figures showed that the infant mortality rate varied with the earnings of the father, the general comfort of housing and surroundings, the intelligence of the mother and civic conditions of sewerage and supply of milk and water which were not in the power of the ordinary family to change.

It was found that the infant mortality rate in the quarters of the immigrant people in one city was five times as great as it was in the good residential area.

While no one factor could be wholly blamed it was obvious that poverty, which deprived a family of a decent living standard and the services of a physician and nurse, was a serious danger for the young baby. It was also apparent that the baby could scarcely suffer a more serious injury than the death of its mother.

MURDERER DIED
AFTER OPERATIONS

Toronto, Jan. 30.—Benjamin Gottlieb, who last night shot and killed Emma Gordon, and then sent a bullet through his head, died today in the General Hospital after two operations had been performed in an effort to save his life. Gottlieb was identified by his cousin, J. Gottlieb, who said the man came from Chicago.

TWO WATCHMEN PERISH IN FIRE

Garfield, N.J., Jan. 30.—Joseph Horvat, night watchman, was burned to death and search is being conducted for the body of another watchman believed to be in the ruins, when fire tonight swept through the plant of the Johnson Products Co., Inc., manufacturers of celluloid novelties, here, causing damage estimated at $250,000.

SHIPS ORDERED TO

Stirring Addresses Heard At Meeting In St. John Yesterday

MATERNITY WELFARE

Infant Mortality Due To Many Varied Causes Says One
Speaker

St. John, N.B., Jan. 30.—In the second full day of its seventeenth annual convention the Social Service Council of Canada heard stirring addresses today.

Miss Julia C. Lathrop, founder of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, spoke of maternity welfare projects in the United States and also on democratic society and social welfare. Kirby Page, New York, Secretary of Fellowship for a Christian Social Order, presented the task of the church towards industry, and Principal James Smith, D.D., Principal of the Wesleyan College, in Montreal, spoke of the message and mission of Christianity in terms of social service.

The President, Very Rev. Deau Tucker, of London, Ont., was in the chair at the business session held in the morning and afternoon in St. John's (Stone) Church; and at the public gathering in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in the evening. The one hundred and fifty delegates were entertained at luncheon at noon by the members of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire and in the evening visited the health centre.

Dealt With Finances.

The chief business of the day consisted of dealing with finances and the whole of the afternoon was devoted to a debate on whether the budget for the coming year should be no greater than last year or whether the budget and the appointment of necessary secretarial staff to carry out the extended programme should be left with the incoming executive, in view of the unification of Provincial work under the Federal Council. The resolution to refer these two matters to the executive was put forward by Dr. J. G. Shearer on behalf of the retiring executive and was finally carried by a vote of 23 to 8. Rev. W. E. Milson, of the Social Service and Evangelism Department of the Methodist Church, moved and Rev. Canon Verne of the Anglican Social Service Council, seconded the motion that no increase be made in the budget in view of the present financial stringency throughout the Dominion. Their amendment was lost by a vote of 14 to 9. It was Dr. Shearer's claim that the extended work could not be done without an increase of staff and that the unification plan already adopted called for extended work.

Investigating Infant Mortality.
Miss Lathrop in her address on "Maternity Welfare Projects in the United States" said that among the things which the Child Welfare Bureau of the United States was specifically required to investigate was infant mortality. The work of the bureau was commenced in 1912 and statistics dealing with social and economic factors of infant mortality, the child and the family in which he was born, were carefully compiled.

Although the findings had not been published, the preliminary figures showed that the infant mortality rate varied with the earnings of the father, the general comfort of housing and surroundings, the intelligence of the mother and civic conditions of sewerage and supply of milk and water which were not in the power of the ordinary family to change.

It was found that the infant mortality rate in the quarters of the immigrant people in one city was five times as great as it was in the good residential area.

While no one factor could be wholly blamed it was obvious that poverty, which deprived a family of a decent living standard and the services of a physician and nurse, was a serious danger for the young baby. It was also apparent that the baby could scarcely suffer a more serious injury than the death of its mother.

STRIKE IS STILL UNSETTLED

Sydney, N.S., Jan. 30.—There were no developments today in the Cape Breton coal situation and chief attention was centred on the meeting in Montreal of the British Empire Steel Corporation board of directors which commenced today and will be continued tomorrow.

PRICE OF SUGAR UP.

Montreal, Jan. 30.—Following an advance of ten cents per 100 lbs. made yesterday, all the local sugar companies put up the price of their product a further ten cents today. The price of No. 1 granulated sugar is now $9.90 per 100 lbs.

PUBLISH LITTLE NEWS OF CANADA

Arrival On C.P.R. Boat Says English Papers Devoting More Space To U.S.

St. John, N.B., Jan. 30.—That the newspapers in England are carrying lengthy articles and dispatches about the United States and that in the vast majority of their issues there is not a line about Canada was a statement made recently by R. W. McLellan, K.C., of Fredericton, N.B., upon his arrival here on the Canadian Pacific steamship Metagama from Liverpool. For twenty years, he said, he has been going to England and he never recalled a time when there was less news from Canada being published there. As a result, he pointed out, Canada to a large extent is unknown to thousands and people instead of talking of coming to this country are planning on going to the States. Mr. McLellan said that immigration is bound to suffer. He felt that steps should be taken to have more news inserted in the English papers. He also said he failed to see what benefit Canada has derived from the visit of the members of the British Press Association.

Mr. McLellan, who is a director of the Brookfield Line Company, had been to England and Ireland on business with reference to the linen trade. He said that it had been particularly slow in recovering from the depression but it is now conceded by the best minds of the industry that the turning point is at hand and conditions will soon begin to right themselves. Prior to the war, he said, seventy-five per cent of the flax was obtained from Russia, but owing to conditions in that country today, shipments are coming slowly and in addition are very uncertain. He explained that the demand for the higher grades of linen are greater in Canada than they are in the United States and from all indications is steadily increasing. Mr. McLellan left today for his home in Fredericton where he is a member of the firm of McLellan and Hughes, Barristers.

MINNEDOSA HAD ROUGH VOYAGE

Passengers Present Captain With Gold Watch As Token Of Appreciation Of Skill

St. John, N.B., Jan. 27.—To be unanimously pronounced one of the most skillful navigators in the Atlantic was the distinction accorded Captain H. Gibbons of the Canadian Pacific steamship Minnedosa, by the passengers upon their arrival here late recently from Antwerp and Southampton.

In addition to voicing their appreciation they took up a collection and arranged to have a gold watch purchased and presented to him as a token of their admiration for his skillful seamanship during the exceptionally rough voyage. There were 456 souls on board and one and all felt that the able manner in which he guided his craft during a hurricane while being buffeted by mountains of seas and racing waters was worthy of recognition.

An address was presented to the Captain prior to the steamer's arrival and he was loudly cheered by all who appreciated his zeal and devotion to duty. His unfatigable skill while pitted against the forces of nature.

The Minnedosa left Southampton on January 17th, and brought to Canada 139 Cabin and 317 third class passengers. In addition to a large mail and general cargo, the passengers left here in two special Canadian Pacific trains, the first carrying the cabin passengers, getting away at 9.30.

CONVENIENCE INCREASES SPEED

A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, but there is no weak link in the passenger train service of the Canadian Pacific Railway between Quebec and Montreal. The stations at both ends are exceptionally well located and splendidly equipped for convenience and comfort. The trains are operated on suitable schedules and are composed of the very best and most up-to-date equipment. Leave Palais Station for Windsor St. Station at 1.30 p.m. and 11.55 p.m. daily and for Place Viger Station 9.00 a.m. and 4.40 p.m. daily except Sunday, and 11.55 p.m. daily. New all steel compartment sleeping car service on night trains to and from Windsor St. Station.

FILMS AID FARMERS

Koenigsberg, Germany, Jan. 30.—Young pigs, handled scientifically, can be made to take on weight at the rate of two pounds a day, according to government experts.

A film showing how this is done, as well as illustrating the best methods of feeding stock and poultry, has been shown this winter to the farmers of east Prussia.

CAPT. ROBINSON IN NEW YORK

Hero Of Japanese Earthquake Spoke At Canadian Club Luncheon

New York, Jan. 29.—Captain Robinson, C.B.E., R.N.R., who figured so prominently in the saving of life at Yokohama in the early days of September last, has been the guest at many receptions since his arrival on the Canadian Pacific Empress of Canada on January 25th. It was only today that the gallant commander addressed a public audience at the Biltmore Hotel. The Canadian Club tendered the Captain a luncheon and the banquet hall was crowded to capacity to hear the unassuming address on conditions as he saw them in the eventual days of the earthquake. The room rang with applause when he told of the work of ready-made relief commissions comprised of study men who had lost all that was near and dear to them in the distress, and buckled down with a grim determination to relieve the suffering of others.

"There is no word to express," said Captain Robinson, the heroic work of a man who on a beautiful morning in that lovely city of Yokohama laughingly left his wife and children, entering one of the base areas never to see them again not to know how they suffered. Such men were working on my ship to alleviate the sufferings of humanity without thought of nationality or creed."

During the Captain's stay in New York he has found time to receive many of his hosts on board the Empress of Canada and following the Canadian Club reception large numbers left for the pier to inspect the Empress of Canada.

CHINA IN NEED OF FOREIGN AID

Financier Says Outside Help Necessary For Salvation Of Chinese Republic

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 30.—Dr. E. H. Hume, president of Yale, in China, for the past 19 years arrived here this evening on the Canadian Pacific Empress of Asia, sent on a campaign tour of the United States for funds on behalf of this far eastern protégé of the big American University. A keen student of Chinese affairs, Dr. Hume stated that the most hopeful aspect of the situation in China at present was the fact that all constructive forces are working in perfect harmony while the destructive elements are fighting each other and gradually being destroyed.

Another authority on matters pertaining to the Far East was T. Toledano for 32 years a prominent broker of Shanghai, who is now returning to Europe having just recently retired from the business world. China's only salvation, says Mr. Toledano, consists in the abolition of all armies and the establishment of a constabulary under British officers preferably. For China to work out her own salvation is too long a process of evolution for either the patience of the world or of the large portion of the Chinese who are themselves peace-loving people. This prominent Italian financier contends that nineteen out of every twenty persons in China would be in favor of this foreign intervention on behalf of their country and is of the opinion that such an administration which has proved its worth in the handling of customs and the salt gabelle would revolutionize China within two years time.

Canon S. Gound, of Toronto also expressed very optimistic views regarding the future of China as General Secretary of Anglican missions in the Orient. Canon Scott has just concluded a three months' tour of study in Japan and the Province of Honan, China, and is confident that missionary forces are playing their part in the Chinese National drama. The bandit situation, he stated, is much improved, there being absolutely no anti foreign sentiment among these outlaws. The majority of bandits, he pointed out, are former members of labor battalions recruited from the Province of Shantung. While in the Far East, Canon Gound consecrated the two first Japanese Bishops at Tokyo and Osaka.

Other prominent passengers included Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson of Toronto; Miss M. Farr, Tillsonburg, Ont., returning after four of a half year in the Orient; Lieut. Col. and Mrs. J. Carleton Brown of Montreal; Mrs.

TO SELL BOOKS ON C.P.R. BOATS

Passengers May Read All The Romance, History Or Adventure They Wish On Trip

Montreal, Que., Jan. 30.—When the "Empress of Canada" leaves New York today, January 30th, she will be the first Canadian vessel to commence a trip round the world with a regular book stand with experienced attendants in addition to a free and well equipped library. The "shops" on board the Canadian Pacific steamships, have carried a number of books for sale since 1919, but before then the ship's barber usually had a monopoly of sale, but, believing that a gold host seeks to provide means whereby his guests can find themselves that form of amusement which best pleases them individually rather than to continually play the role of professional entertainer the Company has added an up-to-date book-stall to all of its ocean "shops."

From the library or the bookshop the voyager will now be able to reach the countries and ports to which he is sailing, ahead of his ship, as travel is very largely represented among the thousand books at his disposal, or he can live in times historical in romance or adventure. The books on travel have been selected from an interesting list compiled by Fanny Butcher, who edits the literary pages of the "Chicago Tribune." This list has been published by the Canadian Pacific in a brochure entitled "Ports of a Thousand Romances." Canadian authors have been given due prominence, and the volumes which cover a very comprehensive range have been carefully chosen. Pierre Loti, Anatole France, Papini, Marion Crawford, Ernest Bramm, Rafael Sabatini, Bulwer Lytton, Kipling, Conrad, Rider Haggard, Mark Twain, and Baedeker, Basil King, Stephen Leacock, C. L. Adams Brek, Hall Caine, Julien Street, and Fannie Hurst are some of the names of authors picked at random.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clear. Like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grams of acid waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then get fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Often times the man who misses an opportunity is in time to secure a better one. Opportunities are continually passing.

The world's greatest benefactor will be he who can assuage the pangs of child-birth.

E. Greenstone, Mr. M. K. Jureidine of New York; Mr. and Mrs. M. Watteuw, the former Belgian Consul General at Kobe.

"Wonder what an idle Telephone thinks about?"

"FUNNY, how people calling us by Long Distance always ask for the chief!"

"So unnecessary! If they asked for 'Anyone' at this number, they would save almost 20 per cent and accomplish the same result. The boss is always within call anyway—it's so easy to ask him to speak if he is needed when a call comes in!"

"For myself, I like Station-to-Station service. It's so quick and effective that every one is pleased; no waiting for someone who can't be located. And they say it's 20 per cent cheaper too!"

Indigestion

The most discouraging feature of nervous indigestion is the fact that it does not tend to right itself. The nerves continue to grow weaker and weaker because the digestive system is not supplying proper nourishment and the digestive system fails for lack of nerve force.

The nerves must be restored by some other means and this is where DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD comes to the rescue.

It revitalizes the wasted nerves and builds up the nervous energy which is essential to the healthful working of the digestive system.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been increased to 60¢, the box now contains 60 pills instead of 50 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are 35¢ for 35 pills, instead of 25¢ for 25 pills.

TARIFF REDUCTIONS HAD ONLY HELPED THROW MANY MEN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

Liberals Had Granted Concessions Which Were Supposed To Reduce Cost Of Agricultural Machinery But Had Simply Reduced The Number Of Wage Earners, Said Mr. Meighen Last Night, In A Review Of The Present Administration, At Large Meeting At Levis

If Mr. Meighen's reception was enthusiastic in Quebec it was even more so in Levis. The distinguished politician was late in crossing the river owing to his prolonged conference with the Boot and Shoe Manufacturers at the Chateau Frontenac. He was received on the quay side at the sister city by a cheering multitude. A little before seven he was escorted immediately to the Kennebec Hotel where a banquet had been arranged. His Honour Mayor Emile Demers presided over the gathering and there were present: Andre Fautoux, Hon. L. G. Beley, L. Gravel, Ed. Perrault, W. Larue, Col. J. A. Scott, Noel Beliveau, Hilaire Carrier, P. Fontaine, Mayor of Charny and Mayor Bour-sault.

Owing to the short time at his disposal, Mr. Meighen was unable to speak for more than a few minutes. He thanked the present for the great kindness they had manifested towards him and he expressed his conviction that the future of the Conservative party was bright.

The Drill Hall was crowded for the evening meeting and the platform was filled with distinguished guests. The first speaker was Mr. Maurice Pelletier of Levis. He pointed out that at the present time the Conservative party in the Dominion could not withhold support from the Hon. Meighen. He firmly believed that the policy outlined by the opposition was the only same and safe policy.

Mr. Antoine Rivard was greeted with a burst of applause. He said the Leader of the Opposition had done something Mackenzie King had never done. In his opinion the population of the province he had learned the French language. During Mr. Rivard's address, the Hon. Arthur Meighen entered the hall. So great was the cheering that it was some minutes before order could be restored.

"This evening," said Mr. L. G. Gravel, the next speaker, "the assembly is numerous and I cannot refrain from recalling the faithful work performed by true Conservatives in the campaign of 1923." The speaker went on to say that they had with them that evening the Leader of the Opposition, the Hon. Arthur Meighen. Today it was admitted by friend and enemy alike that he was the most capable statesman in the country.

Mr. Andre Fautoux said that in a sense it was a revelation to see so many people at the meeting. He was convinced that the enthusiasm of the audience presaged well for their party and the Dominion. He recalled the election promises of the Liberal party and he bade the audience review in their own minds how far their actions had fallen short of these promises. They had hoped to work but they had tampered with the tariff and they had produced unemployment. They had talked much about the cost of living but during their administration the cost of living had gone up.

They were prepared to do their part. The speaker turned to the subject of Imperial relations. He said that French Canadians bore a profound regard for the Empire and they were prepared to do their part in upholding it. He was convinced that if they did that they would need to lose neither their freedom nor their identity.

Mr. John Sullivan followed Mr. Fautoux and made an interesting speech. He said that they might wonder why the Hon. Arthur Meighen was campaigning in the province at the present time. He was there because he was anxious to deal with great problems in time of peace.

The speaker dealt with the railway problem. He pointed out that although the Liberals had opposed the acquisition of the Railways they had done nothing whatever to reverse that policy.

The Hon. L. G. Beley emphasized the broken election promises of the Liberal Government. They had promised many things in 1921 but the economic position of the country had not been improved; rather had it been imperilled by the dangerous fiscal policy of the Government.

Mayor Demers in presenting the Hon. Arthur Meighen, said that it had given him a great deal of pleasure to present at that assembly. He was convinced that the policies of the Conservative party were the only possible policies for the country.

Mr. Meighen Speaks
Mr. Meighen speaking in French, said that it was with a great deal of pleasure that he came before them because he knew that his French was far from good. He thanked the audience for the very cordial reception they had given him.

It was two years since he had visited Quebec officially. On that occasion he had come to defend himself and his government. Calumnies had been heaped upon him; false reports had been circulated and he had replied to them. Certainly the immediate result was not a happy one for him but times had changed.

vindication had come as it always did and he now felt that he was really among friends.

"Time is short," said Mr. Meighen, "and I will no longer continue to murder your beautiful language." In the remaining time at his disposal he said he would talk upon one or two topics that he felt to be important. He particularly wanted to thank Mr. Gravel for the great work he did in the cause in the dark days of 1921. He would like to review the past but he had many, many times answered the questions that were hurled at him by the press. It was interesting to recall the work of their opponents in 1921. They had fostered class hatred and they had made dishonest promises—that really was a review of the election.

Would Like to Meet Them

He said that he would like to meet some of the leaders who had been so bitterly opposed to his administration. At the present time their case would be debated in the question in Parliament they would be laughed at; and if they persisted in their attempt the rank and file of the Liberal party would revolt. It was only an issue that was raised by agitators at the time and it had no real value whatever.

In his province they tried a different plan. To get the farmers away from the Conservative party they called a convention of Liberals and Progressives. At that convention an extensive system of Free Trade was adopted. Under that system the goods manufactured in Quebec were to be admitted into the country free. The Liberals adopted the same policy with two small exceptions. By that means they secured thousands and thousands of votes.

"What do you think of such a method?" asked Mr. Meighen. He went on to say that it was no worse than the methods used in Levis when they came into power not one of their pledges did they keep. As soon as they entered Parliament they kicked out the program and cynically laughed. They said in effect that they could allow any articles in free but they offered certain concessions. One of them was a reduction of 2-1/2 per cent on agricultural implements. As a result of this many factories in Quebec were closed and the workers were forced to emigrate to the United States. They did the same thing over the exception of clothes and more hardship was caused in the industrial centres.

During the two years the administration had done absolutely nothing to assist the country. There was not a single class whose condition was improved with the possible exception of the tax-grabbers.

Had Not Cheapened Goods

The tariff reductions of the country had not cheapened the goods. In the case of farm implements for instance, he defied anyone to say that these were cheaper. The only result of the reduction was that many workers were thrown out of employment.

It was said in defence of the government that they had maintained exports. There was nothing creditable in that. The reason was simple. Out in the West there had been a bumper wheat crop. As a matter of fact the greater part of that wheat was being sold at a loss. That did not matter to them for it was helping to swell exports. Raw minerals and pulp wood was being sold at a rate never heard of before. That too was assisting exports.

There was another grievance he had against the government. They were spending at a terrific rate and the internal taxes were being continually increased.

"What is to be done?" said Mr. Meighen, "how you like higher costs, higher taxes, etc., a higher debt, all three together?"

We certainly increased the National Debt but we had our soldiers to pay for, pensions to provide settlements to form. It is useless for the present government to say that we paid too much for when we had decided upon our level, the Liberals met in convention and said that we were not paying enough."

Spending on Ridiculous Objects
He asked how the Liberals could possibly hope to reduce taxes when they were continually spending money on ridiculous objects. They had bought an hotel in Paris, they had erected wharves in Essex County and paid for them with Treasury money that the rum-runners might better ship their supplies of illicit whiskey across to the United States. The only principle governing the Liberal party was the policy of votes. The Conservative party remained by its pledges. "We may be defeated," declared Mr. Meighen, "but we will go down in fidelity and honour."

The Hon. Mr. Monty spoke briefly and urged the audience to support the Conservative party in their own interest and in the interests of the whole Dominion.

From eye and ear and tongue and touch and thought, reject all lewdness.

WOULD AMEND ELECTION ACT

Bill Introduced By Premier Deals With Nomination Papers And Deposits

An echo of the last general elections came up before the House yesterday afternoon when Premier Taschereau introduced a bill to amend the Quebec Elections Act in regard to the time that nomination papers may be accepted, and the enacting of legislation whereby the name and address of the person printing posters and notices regarding elections must be clearly placed on the notices.

Nominations, up to the last available moment, are provided for; seven days delay is prescribed for validity of election certificates, the form of the certificate itself being simplified; and very definite steps are taken to ensure the authenticity of poster and notices in regard to elections.

Quite a deal of discussion was caused by this bill being introduced. Mr. Jules Langlois (Temiscouata) stating that he would prefer to have the hour when nomination papers should be returned made noon instead of two o'clock.

He also stated that a man could, under the provisions of the new law, come along with fifty dollars and a blank paper, at one minute to two o'clock, and that the returning officer could not refuse to accept his papers.

Mr. Sauve said that the way would be opened to abuse, since the returning officer, in the event of being unable to examine the papers on Nomination Day, could come along on election day and tell the candidate that the names on his papers had only just been checked up, and were found to be irregular, or some such argument, and thereby the candidate would be disqualified.

After being discussed pro and con, the bill was finally sent to the Public Bills Committee for further study.

The principal amendments to the Quebec Elections Act are as follows:

"No returning officer, whenever a nomination paper and the requisite deposit have been remitted to him before two o'clock of the afternoon of the day fixed for the nomination of candidates, may reject such nomination paper for the sole reason that he had not time, before such hour, to examine it, to count the amount of the deposit or to administer the oath mentioned in paragraph 1 of article 297.

"Every printed advertisement, prospectus, placard, poster, pamphlet, handbill, or dodger having reference to any election shall bear upon its face the name and address of its printer and publisher, and any person printing, publishing, distributing or posting up, or causing to be printed, published, distributed or posted up, any such document unless it bears upon its face such name and address, shall be guilty of an unlawful act and shall be liable to a fine of one hundred to five hundred dollars, in payable with costs to any person who sues therefor, and, upon failure to pay such fine and costs, to imprisonment of one to three months."

Love of money grows as the money itself grows.

BIBLE SOCIETY'S ANNUAL MEETING

Address On "West Africa" By Rev. A. W. Banfield—Election Of Officers

"Today the British and Foreign Bible Society is providing the Word of God to West Africa in 170 different languages," said the Rev. A. W. Banfield, secretary of the society, Logos, West Africa, in the course of an address to the members of the Quebec Auxiliary Bible Society, at its eighty-eighth annual meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. last evening.

The meeting, which was well attended, was presided over by Mr. Chas. McBurney, who in a short address expressed regret at Mr. G. D. Ramsay having found it necessary to relinquish the office of president, which he had held for so many years, and whose devotion to the society had been of great assistance to its work.

Mr. McBurney said one of the outstanding features of the local society's work during the past year had been the securing of more suitable corner premises as headquarters. These were situated at the corner of St. John and St. Ursule streets, and he felt there would be no great difficulty in obtaining the balance of the money needed for equipment, etc. He also dwelt upon the need of their superintendent in his work upon the north shore, steps having been already taken to provide this, and the first contribution towards it had been received from Western Ontario.

The report of the year's working was submitted by the secretary and superintendent, Rev. N. McLaren. This showed that 2,937 bibles and new testaments had been sold or distributed during the year; 15,000 portions of scripture had been distributed at the immigration building. The receipts amounted to 1,648, and disbursements were 6,711. This report also showed the great work that had been carried out on the north shore and in Labrador, and extended praise to the scholars of Chambers, the Methodist and Baptist Sunday Schools for so kindly sending Christmas gifts for the children in the forest districts, which were deeply appreciated not only by the children but also by their parents.

During the year in company with the work of distributing the Gospel along the North Shore over 4,000 miles had been traversed. The report concluded with a tribute to the supporters for the splendid manner in which they had carried out their duties.

Following a short address by the Rev. G. A. MacLennan, of Montreal, an interesting account of the mission work carried on in West Africa was delivered by the Rev. A. W. Banfield, who related how as a herald of peace and good will he had penetrated alone into regions of Central Africa and had been relieved with every display of hospitality. He gave an interesting account of the difficulties of making the Word known among the different tribes in a manner that would be clearly understood by them. In one case it was, for instance, hard to find a word in the tribe's language equivalent to "God" in the English tongue, and he described at length how this was finally accomplished. The education of fifty millions of people in this part of Africa was a problem, as well as that of Christianizing them, particularly so on account of the language difficulty. The speaker had compiled a dictionary of 12,000 words in the Nufe tongue, and was still adding new words to it. In fifty years' time, he stated, there would not be an idol in Africa, and if it was not for the power of the Holy Spirit it would be a hopeless task to bring the Word of God to these people. He concluded by an appreciation of the great work accomplished by the British and Foreign Bible Society which deserved every support on the part of Christian people.

Mr. Banfield, it should be mentioned, is a native of the city of Quebec, his family being some years ago very well known here. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mr. C. McBurney, B.A.; vice-president, Mr. W. G. Stobo; secretary, Rev. N. McLaren. Committee, Messrs. G. Moir, E. R. Lafite, R. Stanley, F. W. Marsh, W. Chodot, G. B. Ramsay, A. E. Pfeiffer, A. Veasey, W. H. Wiggs, W. W. Colley, W. G. L. Paxman, C. H. Thorn, R. F. Seale and John Thomson.

A letter of regret for his unavoidable absence from the meeting was read from the Lord Bishop of Quebec, who however, expressed his deep interest in the work of the society.

A man of an ill tongue is dangerous in his day.

Life is dear, even to those who find it full of sorrow.

WINTER CARNIVAL SOON AT BANFF

Revelstoke Will Also Have 23 Entrants For Great Ski Competition Feb. 5th.

Calgary, Alta., Jan. 29.—By the end of next week winter outdoor sports activities in the West will be at their height. Citizens and visitors at Banff are making the last minute preparations for the eight day carnival which will be opened on Saturday. Revelstoke has prepared a long program for the tenth annual ski tournament which will be held there on February 5th, and 6th, and the Calgary winter carnivals is planned for the week commencing February 11th.

Beside the usual events in skating, snow-shoeing, sk-ing and "ap-shooting," etc., at Banff, a well organized "Fun of the Carnival" will be held each day in the Brewster Hall. This is a new feature intended to fill in times between major events as well as providing amusements for those who find following the sporting program in its entirety, too strenuous, another feature will be the specially prepared Buffalo sandwiches which will be served in the hall free each day.

The twenty-three events scheduled for Revelstoke will provide competition for everyone from beginners to experts, and the event has brought ski enthusiasts from all over the continent.

Reduced passenger fares from all stations in Alberta and points in British Columbia on Canadian Pacific lines have encouraged a large influx of visitors to Calgary for the carnival week, the annual Bonspiel and ski tournament having proved the major attraction to the Prairies city.

Of Christianizing them, particularly so on account of the language difficulty. The speaker had compiled a dictionary of 12,000 words in the Nufe tongue, and was still adding new words to it. In fifty years' time, he stated, there would not be an idol in Africa, and if it was not for the power of the Holy Spirit it would be a hopeless task to bring the Word of God to these people. WORK IN BUSH NEAR MEGANTIC

Last Fall Of Snow Has Allowed Farmers To Bring Wood Into Town

Lake Megantic, Jan. 30.—Mr. A. E. F. was a visitor to Sherbrooke last Wednesday, on business.

Mr. G. M. Stearns of the Megantic Pulp and Lumber Coy., has taken quite a number of extra men into the camps in Louisa Township, for hauling logs to Spider Lake.

Mr. P. Cliche manager of the Megantic Lumber Coy., has also increased the number of teams for hauling birch logs from Spider Lake to the mill yard. And is engaging all the teams he can get.

Mr. D. Booth of the Fourth Range has been on the sick list for some time and does not improve.

The Rev. P. Callis preached last Sunday in the Church on the Fifth Range of Ditchfield to a large congregation, and was very much pleased with the attendance.

Quite a lot of snow has fallen since Monday and the snow plows were out on Friday breaking out the country roads.

Farmers are taking advantage of the snow to haul pulpwood and firewood into town.

The road on the ice from Sandy Bay to Megantic has been staked out and some teams have passed over it.

Dr. Leo Blais who spent part of last week in Sherbrooke on business has returned home.

Mr. Allan MacDonald and daughter are at present on a visit to Mrs. McDonald's home at St. George, County Hants.

Mr. H. W. Albro and Miss Albro who were called to Sherbrooke by the death of the late Mr. A. H. Evans, have returned to their home here.

Mr. P. Cliche and Mr. S. Michaud went to Sherbrooke to attend the funeral of Mr. Evans as delegates from the Municipal Council. The late Mr. Evans having been a councillor for South Ward. They were the bearers of an anchor of flowers from the Corporation of the Town of Megantic amongst other beautiful flowers placed on the casket.

Mr. Evans was a wreath from the Fidelity Lodge, A.E. & A.M., of the late Mr. W. H. Evans, who was a student at the Charles-town Academy in the early seventies, and afterwards proprietor for a time of the Russell House on Stained Plain.

After a mild day last Friday with the thermometer between 30 and 35 degrees all day, there was a quick fall of the mercury in the early night with a strong N.W. wind, to 20 degrees below zero at 6 o'clock on Saturday morning; 25 degrees below at noon and 25 degrees below at 6 p.m. On Sunday morning it was 35 degrees below at 6 a.m.; 20 degrees below at noon and 20 below at 6 p.m. And the promise of another cold night, by far the coldest day of the winter so far.

Mr. Fred Parry of Spider Lake is reported ill in the Maternity Hospital in Montreal.

Mr. Odias Blais on the former farm of Mr. Rory MacDonald on Ness Hill, came near losing his barn by fire on Sunday, Jan. 27th, from an overheated stove in the stable. Mr. Blais noticed smoke coming out of the stable door and on going in found the wood work near the stove on fire, but by quick action of himself and a neighbor succeeded in putting it out before it had gained much headway.

The water pipes in the school were frozen during the cold spell from Friday until Monday noon.

Miss Muriel McKay, the elementary teacher of the Model School is confined to the house with an attack of Grippe and her department was closed for Monday afternoon, but reopened on Tuesday by Miss Jean Cormack, who very kindly accepted the task of teaching the children of the elementary department during the sickness of Miss McKay.

OSEQUES OF LATE MR. J. F. VACHON

The funeral of the late Mr. J. F. Vachon which took place yesterday morning from his late residence, 67 Sault au Matelot Street, was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the deceased. After the funeral service in the Seminary Chapel, the remains were taken to the nine o'clock train for transfer to St. Raymond for interment.

The requiem mass at the chapel was chanted by Rev. Abbe Gauthier of Giffard, who also presided at the service. Solos were rendered at the service by Mr. A. Le Sage and others, while a special quartette of male voices supplied the choir. Rev. Abbe Alexandre Vachon, a brother of the deceased, also said mass at one of the side altars.

The chief mourners were the deceased's two sons, Malcolm and Valston Vachon, four brothers, Rev. Abbe Alexandre Vachon, Quebec; James and Peter, of Boston, and Andrew, of Tanana, Alaska; rather-in-law, Mr. Rinfret; cousins, Louis Vachon, Walter Cochane and W. Lemay, of St. Raymond, and L. A. Vachon, of this city.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Henry McKinley Dies At Valcartier At Venerable Age Of 84 Years

Valcartier, Jan. 30.—A well-known resident of Valcartier passed away on January 25th, in the person of Mr. Henry McKinley at the venerable age of 84 years. The deceased who had been in delicate health for a number of months bore his last illness patiently. The funeral was held on Jan. 26th, from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Goodfellow, and was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Nattress, pastor of St. Andrew's Church. A large number of relatives and friends paid their last tribute of respect to one who had lived here for so many years. The two following hymns were sung during the service, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

The casket was borne to its resting place in the parish cemetery by his three sons, Messrs. Joseph, Trevor and Andrew McKinley and three son-in-laws, Mr. Robert Clarke, Mr. Wm. Goodfellow, Mr. Henry Rurke.

The deceased leaves to mourn their loss four sons, Messrs. Joseph, Trevor and Andrew McKinley and three son-in-laws, Mr. Robert Clarke, Mr. Wm. Goodfellow, Mr. Henry Rurke.

CORONER SAYS COTE DEATH NO SUICIDE

Amos, Abitibi, Jan. 30.—Charged with the murder of his hunting companion, the trial of Ernest Houle started yesterday afternoon. Coroner Bibeau was the first witness to go on the stand after the reading of the accusation to the prisoner and the jury. Coroner Bibeau, who performed the autopsy on the body of Alexandre Cote, testified that in his opinion the dead man had not committed suicide.

Dr. Dion, of Amos, testified along the same lines as the first witness. Evidence regarding the second examination of the body was given by Dr. Derome who was followed on the stand by Mr. Lamontagne, one of the party that went to search for Houle after he had been missing for some time. He gave particulars of the trip, after which the Court was adjourned.

Many beautiful floral tributes, spiritual bouquets and mass cards, and messages of sympathy were received by the bereaved family.

GUESTS OF THE DISTRICT MANAGER

Members Of The Staff Of Insurance Company Entertained At Dinner

Richmond, Jan. 30. (Special Correspondence).—On Friday last Messrs. G. A. Ramsay, assistant superintendent, and L. L. Pyle, assistant actuary of Toronto, and Mr. D. B. Young, of Montreal, provincial manager, were the guests of the Sherbrooke District Manager, Mr. J. G. Watson, who entertained his visitors at a dinner at the New Sherbrooke House. Mr. Ramsay commented favourably on the increased business of the agency, which in 1919 was 265,000, while in 1923 it was 1,060,000. Mr. Watson of the Sherbrooke Agency wrote $400,000 and Mr. H. G. Porter $169,000 of business in the past year.

The St. Lawrence Valley Circuit of Exhibits will hold its annual meeting at the Plaza Viger Hotel, Montreal, Monday, February 25th next, at 2.30 p.m., when delegates from Quebec, Sherbrooke, Ottawa, Three Rivers, Valleyfield, Joliette, and Kingston will be present. Mr. Jos. Fortier, of St. Scholastique, is secretary. All communications should be addressed to him.

Rev. Father Louis B. Gena, a former Curate at Richmond, who is at present visiting in California, has recently been appointed parish priest at Puente, near the city of Los Angeles.

Mr. Armand Rousseau, of Sherbrooke, who has recently passed his examinations for admission to practice law, has entered the firm of Nicol, Lazure and Couture, of that city.

Amongst recent visitors to Richmond were: Mr. Ernest Fee, Lindsay, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Richmond, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taylor, Denver, Col.

MERCURY JUMPED 60 DEGREES IN 3 DAYS

Roads And Sidewalks In Bad Condition As Result Of Mild, Rainy Weather

Within the past seventy-two hours extraordinary changes in the weather have been experienced here, the mercury rising from 24 below zero to 33 degrees above at noon today, and it was even higher last afternoon.

The warmer weather has been accompanied by a light but continuous rain all day, but snow began to fall early yesterday evening, which may indicate that the exceptionally mild spell is about over.

Walking was rendered very difficult on account of the slippery and softened sidewalks, and the majority of pedestrians chose the centre of the road for its safer footing.

All over the city people were busy throughout the day clearing the snow and icicles from their roofs. At many points in the streets of the lower section of the city there was plenty of water which made walking still more unpleasant, as it was necessary to pick one's footing very carefully to avoid stepping into pools from one to five inches deep.

The thermometer at the Quebec Observatory, which had been thirty-three degrees above zero early yesterday evening, was only minus, the super-natural cold was expected a gradual decline for today. There are no storm or severe cold prospects for the next few days.

NOTARY BELANGER BEFORE THE COURT YESTERDAY

Charged with breach of trust, Notary P. E. Belanger appeared before the Court yesterday morning when the preliminary investigation was set for the 7th of February on account of the absence of the Crown Prosecutor.

QUEBEC, JANUARY 31, 1924.

MR. MEIGHEN AT QUEBEC.

The visit to this city of so prominent a personage in the life of the nation as is the Right Honorable Arthur Meighen must always be a noteworthy event. Two years have passed since he last spoke to Quebecers in the Drill Hall on Grande Allee and much water has flowed down the St. Lawrence in the meantime. The reception accorded to him on Tuesday evening by thousands of citizens is one that could not be other than satisfactory to him. Political opponents of the Conservative leader will doubtless minimize that reception as inspired by formal courtesy and nothing more. His friends, on the other hand, will naturally try to magnify it into an impressive demonstration of a complete revolution in public opinion. And as usual the truth will be found somewhere between these two extremes.

There is one thing that no impartial observer can gainsay after Tuesday's meeting and that is that there has been a considerable modification of popular sentiment in this city with regard to the personality of Mr. Meighen and to the merits of national issues alike. It would be difficult to imagine a more dramatic contrast than that presented by the scene in the Drill Hall at the close of 1921 and the scene in the same place at the beginning of 1924. Then Mr. Meighen was obliged to deliver his message under a running-fire of critical interruptions and such applause as he received was wrung from an unsympathetic audience by his courage and skill in debate. Now the atmosphere was one of friendly interest, verging at times upon mild enthusiasm, and the only interruptions were created by the applause that punctuated his discourse.

We take it that Mr. Meighen is no longer generally accepted by thinking men in this Province as the human monster that unworthy propaganda has represented him to be. We take it that thinking men in this Province do not propose to have their attention distracted from the political situation of the present by reprehensible appeals to the prejudices of the past. And if this is so, not only Quebec but Canada will be the gainer thereby. It ought no longer to be possible in this country to pillory any public man, whatever his politics or his nationality, as the enemy of his fellow-citizens if for no other reason than that it is arrant nonsense to which no party worthy of the people's confidence would resort.

The Conservative leader was associated with special legislation extremely unpopular with the majority of the people in this Province and the majority in question were quite within their rights in registering disapprobation by a vote cast solidly against his Government. That is a fate which might overcome the head of any party at any time and in any section of the Dominion. But the objectionable special legislation is no longer on the statute books and the situation which led to its enactment may never recur again. Other problems confront the Canadian people to-day and alternative policies are offered by way of solutions, for their approval or rejection. Sensible, patriotic citizens will deal with current issues upon their merits and there is every evidence of a determination to do so as far as this particular city is concerned.

For the moment and without committing ourselves to any political programme, the Chronicle has no hesitation in saying that the reception extended to Mr. Meighen locally was one that does honor to the Ancient Capital and one to which his public career assuredly entitled him. He was given an attentive hearing and he can ask no better than that his arguments should receive the serious, dispassionate consideration that his audience was obviously disposed to give. To what conclusions that consideration may lead remains unknown, but at least it is likely to be the only proper kind of verdict for an electorate to render—a verdict of reason, rather than a verdict of prejudice.

THE CIVIL SERVICE OCTOPUS.

Blame for ever-growing Governmental expenditures has been laid at many doors, but the Civil Service will not perhaps greatly relish being added to the ranks of horrible exhibits. Mr. Gratton O'Leary, a well-known Parliamentary journalist, is devoting a series of articles in Maclean's Magazine to representing the Civil Service as a sort of blood-sucking octopus and succeeds in making out a case that is plausible at least. Among others, the following charges are made by Mr. O'Leary:

"1. That the increase in the growth and cost of the Civil Service is out of all proportion to the increase in the nation's population and to its administrative requirements.

"2. That despite the vital need for economy, the personnel of the Civil Service and its cost are practically as great to-day as they were at the peak of the war.

"3. That practically every Government department in Ottawa is overmanned, overworked and underpaid; that there is overlapping by departments and duplication of effort; that millions of dollars are lost to the country each year through a ridiculous six-and-a-half-hour Civil Service day, and that this combination of evils makes not only for waste, but for an inevitable gross inefficiency.

"4. That in a number of particular departments overmanning and overworking are grotesquely divorced from the requirements of the task which they perform.

"5. That the housing of the Civil Service, due in large measure to party patronage in the matter of rentals, is so antagonistic to efficiency and economy as to be little short of a national disgrace.

"6. That despite promises and pledges of politicians, no real effort has been made either to reorganize or to reduce the service, but that, on the contrary, the situation has gone from bad to worse, and will continue its evil progress until a public uprising compels some Government action."

Mr. O'Leary points out further that while the increase in the population of Canada from 1912 to 1922 was approximately 25 per cent, the increase in the number of civil servants during the same period has been 80 per cent, and the cost nearly 250 per cent. The British Government by the beginning of 1923 had reduced its civil service to within 10 per cent of its pre-war total, while the Canadian Civil Service in 1922 was almost 50 per cent greater than in 1914 and in personnel was almost 4,000 greater than at the date of the armistice and was costing $9,000,000 more per year.

"Mr. O'Leary is inclined to blame the Civil Service Commission for the situation," objects the London Free Press, "an indictment which will delight those

Sidelights on the Legislature

Hon. Mr. Mercier had to run the gauntlet of the Opposition yesterday afternoon and eventually the Government had to exert its superior strength in order to secure adoption of the resolutions embodied in the Minister's bill to authorize the Running Streams Commission to construct a dam on the Upper Riviere du Loup.

Responding to requests for an explanation Mr. Mercier stated that it was proposed to develop water power on the river in question and that a concern known as the Quebec Central Power Co. contemplated developing electrical energy there. If the bill passed the House the Running Streams Commission would be authorized to enter into a contract with this company along the same lines as had been followed in connection with other water powers.

Pressed by Messrs. Patenaude, Gault, Smart and Durand the Minister admitted that he was unable to give detailed information as to the Quebec Central Power Co., but promised to obtain it as promptly as possible. Meanwhile he asked that reading of the resolutions be proceeded with.

Mr. Sauve objected to this course and Mr. Mercier rejoined that it had been repeatedly followed in the past. Mr. Sauve contended that there had been no Opposition in those days, but the Minister argued that the former had been a whole Opposition in himself and refused to be convinced that, although more numerous, it was now any more effective. "In order to convince my Honorable Friend," said Mr. Sauve smilingly, "I shall encourage the Opposition to keep on opposing his bill till they get the information they require."

Then there ensued a battle of wits between the Prime Minister, the Minister of Lands, the Leader of the Opposition and the Hon. E. L. Patenaude, which ended by a vote being taken on each separate clause of the bill read by Mr. H. Laferte as Chairman of Committee. When sufficient progress had been made to satisfy the Government the remainder of the reading was postponed and the Opposition's thirst for information will be satisfied in due course.

Mr. Jules Langlois was concerned for the possible effect of another bill introduced by Mr. Mercier upon the development of certain parishes. This measure is intended to prevent the construction of buildings upon public lands sold to individuals within a distance of sixty feet from the international border. After some little discussion the objections of the Member for Temiscouata were satisfied and the bill given first reading.

A curious situation was developed by Mr. Taschereau's bill to amend the Quebec Election Act. It may be remembered that last February a couple of Opposition candidates were disqualified by Deputy Returning Officers upon technicalities and the Government, in the goodness of its heart, decided upon certain amendments to the law calculated to keep the feet of its own officials firmly planted in the straight way. A particular case was that where a Deputy Returning Officer claimed that he could not finish checking over the nomination papers of an Opposition candidate before two o'clock on Nomination Day and ruled him out in consequence. The Prime Minister now proposes to prevent a recurrence of such a situation, but his opponents, far from being overwhelmed with gratitude, affected to foresee new difficulties and expressed a preference for bear known evils in preference to those unknown. Finally the measure was referred to the Public Bills Committee where an effort will be made to harmonize the views of both sides.

This done the House turned its attention to private bills and rose at six o'clock. As a Liberal Party caucus was scheduled for last evening there was no night sitting and the Members not otherwise engaged were left free to go and listen to the oratory of Mr. Meighen at Levis.

who want to see a return to patronage-mongering at Ottawa. However, the Civil Service Commission was never intended to be an organization to make over the civil service; its duties have been purely and simply to hire employees and to prevent officials being named by politicians. A department gives notification it wants so many stenographers, or such and such officials, and the Civil Service Commission does the hiring. The firing of them is in the hands of the Government. Incidentally, as far as the Ottawa Civil Service is concerned, the Commission has been in operation since 1905, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier first took the inside service out of politics. The conditions which Mr. O'Leary condemns have grown up since the war, and it is hard to see how the Civil Service Commission, can be, held responsible, for the overmanning, overworking, and the overlapping of the Departments."

Strange to relate Mr. Meighen has not succeeded in converting Le Soleil by his address of Tuesday night.

Hon. J. H. Thomas swears that Labor yields to no one in Love of Empire. "This is so sudden," murmurs the Empire blushing becomingly.

"Murders can be committed in many ways," declares a newspaper headline. Some enterprising thug may yet offer a course of training for homicides complete in six lessons.

It is expected that pruning will be thorough in the Federal Service and there is no considerable apprehension among those who suspect that they may be regarded as prunes.

Press Comment

NOT EXAGGERATED.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

The Canadian public have no feeling of pique or sore-headedness over the last general election, but they have an extremely keen sense of having made a mistake at that time. Nothing that Mr. Meighen says against the present Government overstates what the mass of the people are feeling of resentment against that Government.

THE ENDLESS CHAIN.

(Montreal Gazette.)

High wages have raised the cost of living, and the increased cost of living has been pleaded as a reason for still higher wages. Perhaps the executive of the Trades and Labor Congress will explain to the Government where and how this process is to end.

ALL IN THE SAME BOAT.

(Regina Leader.)

The whole population is in the same boat; and it is going to ride out the storm despite the gloomy predictions of a few faint-hearted individuals and the insidious propaganda of self-seeking, would-be leaders who are attempting to convince the farmers that they have been abandoned in a sinking craft on a sea whose waves are buffeting them alone.

Murder

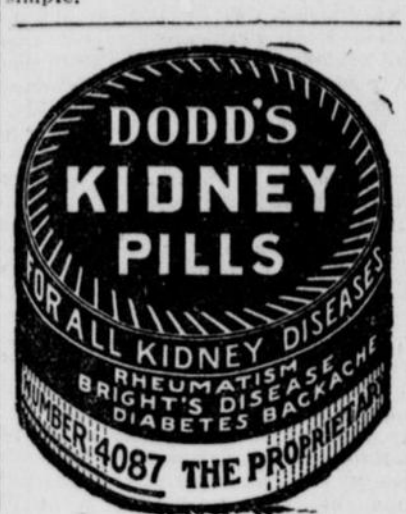

On Saturday evening last, a labourer named Charles Robert dit Langlois, of the Parish of Charlesbourg, went to the House of one Bourbeau, another labourer residing near the Church of the same Parish, for the purpose of making arrangements to cut wood for Bourbeau. On his arriving at the house, he overheard quarrelling with his wife, during which frequent use was made of his Langlois' name; he entered, and an altercation took place, in which Bourbeau finally struck Langlois with a common axe, making a large gash in his body below the chest, of about nine inches in length, from which, although immediate medical aid was obtained he died yesterday afternoon. Bourbeau has been committed to jail.

Brilliant Social Event

It is a long time since old Stadacona has witnessed a more brilliant festivity than the long-looked-for ball of the Quebec Snowshoe Club, now a thing of the past. Ever since it was whispered about that the gallant wearers of the black and red meditated entertaining their fair friends there has been a delightful flutter in society circles, where fond recollections dwell of past but not forgotten dances given by the club. That they scored again last night is admitted on all hands, and the Q. S. S. C. will be more than ever a name to conjure with in the future. The magnificent rooms of the Chateau Frontenac never presented a more striking and brilliant appearance, the original and artistic decorations being the theme of constant admiring comment. Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. M. Joseph and Mrs. S. Barrow graciously received on behalf of the Club. The hosts were untiring in their efforts to secure the comfort and happiness of all. The general President, Mr. Albert Peters appeared to be ubiquitous and all the committee, and indeed all the members of the club, vied with each other in trying to make things run smoothly. Under these circumstances it is not to be wondered at that a complete success was achieved.

PLAN ELECTRIFICATION OF ALL SOUTHERN MANCHURIA.

Seoul, Korea, Jan. 30.—A scheme to electrify the whole of south Manchuria is under contemplation by the South Manchurian Railway Company, which administers a great stretch of very rich territory in what is known as the railway zone. Engineers investigating the source of the Yalu river has discovered 100 miles north of Antung a drop in the river from which, it is estimated, 100,000 kilowatts of electricity can be generated.

The intention is not only to supply light, heat and power, including that to electrify the railway itself, but to use the power in the development of agriculture.

STRONG FISCAL POLICY GOOD FOR COUNTRY

May Not Be Acceptable To All To Some Extent, Says Mr. Meighen

WHOLE COUNTRY
 Would Benefit By It If It Were Properly Enforced

The Business Men's Luncheon yesterday in honor of the Hon. Arthur Meighen was very enthusiastic and over four hundred business and professional men were present in the Convention Hall at the Chateau Frontenac. The entrance of the distinguished speaker was greeted with a spontaneous burst of applause which was continued in honor of his companions, the Hon. C. L. B. Belley, Minister of Marine, Mr. Andre Fauteux and the Hon. L. G. Belley. Col. J. A. Scott occupied the chair and introduced the guests to the audience. The first speaker was the Hon. Arthur Meighen. Speaking in French he thanked the people present for the reception they had given him and referred to the enthusiasm that had been manifest at the Mass Meeting at the Drill Hall on the previous evening.

Continuing his address in English he said that since the luncheon was a meeting of business men he would address himself to matters of a business character. He would remember in the course of his remarks that although there might be a preponderance of his political friends present, yet the luncheon was a social as well as a political affair. One thing he would not do and that was to indulge in recrimination against the present Government. At all times attacks were distasteful to him. He proposed speaking upon certain essential articles of policy upon which the Dominion Government should and must remain if it were to prosper. This great country, he thought, more than any other had a tendency towards sectional controversy. He attributed this not to any special weakness or characteristic of inferiority. To his mind it was because of the immense territory they possessed as compared with their small population. There were districts of the country widely separated from other districts. They were separated not only by distance but by character. There were districts that were entirely agricultural and there were districts that depended for their existence upon industry. In the past it had perhaps been the tendency of politicians to balance one section against another and the present tendency was to balance one section against the whole business had been a matter of compromise. He was convinced that such a policy was deleterious and dangerous. Their business as politicians was to settle upon a definite course of action good for the whole community and to steadfastly follow that policy. The policy he suggested was one that would give the Dominion a fair chance to compete with the great industrial nations. Government should not be a matter of jealousy between class and class and section and section. It should concern itself with the whole country particularly in relation to competing countries.

Strong Fiscal Policy.
 He was certain that if they could maintain a strong fiscal policy then they would be able to attract many of the internal burdens they were called upon to bear. "The advantages of such a policy," Mr. Meighen said emphatically, "do not fall with equal benefit on all sections." The prairie provinces, for example, would not derive advantages from a strong fiscal policy as would the industrial districts but if such a policy were enforced then it would be to the profit of the country at large and he had no doubt whatever that when internal taxation was lightened it would be possible to reduce the farmers' freight charges and to advance transportation problems to the utmost.

At the meeting on the previous evening he had said that he firmly believed in maintaining the tariffs. That had been his faith throughout his political life and he was certain that faith he had never wavered. No matter at what time or what place no contradictory words had ever left his lips. It was easy to support the cause of protection in industrial districts but it was extremely difficult to do so where the cause conveyed no local advantages. It was their duty to impress upon the people of the Western plains the national value of the policy and to use all their weight and strength to see that the tariffs were not tampered with.

Efforts to harmonize.

After they had seen that their fiscal policy was followed then it was time to turn to internal affairs. In his opinion they needed a policy of contraction; the wild endeavors of the present administration would be abandoned and every effort possible made to economize. It was very easy indeed for a Government to indulge in ever extending operations. Local pressure was oftentimes brought to bear on individual members and for the sake of their seats the party would indulge in yet another venture. Eventually the whole grew into a colossal pyramid that was borne on the backs of the taxpayers. There were many enterprises to support already and he realized that taxation would necessarily be high. At the same time he thought it should be no higher than the taxation of the citizens of the United States. This in his opinion should be the objective of the Government. They should do everything in their power to reduce it to that level. There were very good reasons why it was higher at the present moment. They had entered the war at the beginning and they had borne the heat and burden of the day. It should be, however, the object of statements to keep the tax level as approximately near that of the great Republic to the South.

MR. MEIGHEN AT WOMEN'S CLUB

Former Premier Delivered Very Interesting Address On Imperial Conference

The Right Honorable Mr. Arthur Meighen spoke most interestingly to a large and representative gathering at the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.
 Mrs. Donald Atkinson, the President of the Club, in a few well chosen words, introduced the speaker. At the same time said, it was with great pleasure that the Club also welcomed and were honored by the presence of the Lieut.-Governor of the Province of Quebec the Hon. Mr. Narcisse Poiréau.

Mr. Meighen, whose subject was "The Imperial Conference," spoke in a most clear, concise, and interesting manner. He is fully qualified for this subject, having himself attended two conferences in 1918, as the representative from Canada, and in 1921 as Premier of Canada. He is a most interesting and brilliant speaker and held the attention of his audience from the beginning. Mr. Meighen knows what a wonderful and beneficial influence these conferences have, and wishes to broaden the views of others, who perhaps, through ignorance or misunderstanding, have an altogether wrong idea in regard to this matter. The purpose of these conferences is to enable representatives from all the different Dominions to meet and discuss plans. Important questions can be discussed and each representative had the advantage of obtaining the opinions and advice of men of learning and knowledge and having broad visioned views on all subjects. Canadians are not in any way committing themselves by attending these conferences, as of course, nothing can become law without being ratified by the parliament of the country who sends the representative. Great Britain has never sought to make her will, the will of Canada, to make her the will of Australia, or of New Zealand, or of South Africa. Each representative when he returns to his country is to inform the parliament of his country, and if the people do approve or do not approve, the matter becomes law, or does not become law, as the case may be. Through the medium of these conferences the views and branches of the different Dominions are pressed home, hence their great value.

Mr. Meighen traced the history of these conferences from the first in 1887 to the last one in June, 1923. Canada represented at different times by Sir John A. Macdonald, by Sir Wilfrid Laurier (who brought such distinction to Canada), by Sir Frederick Borden, by Hon. Mr. Louis Philippe Brodeur, the late Lieut.-Governor of the Province of Quebec.

He spoke of the importance of these conferences in the dark days of 1918, when everything was so uncertain and when victory came so unexpectedly and suddenly to the allied forces.
 Mr. Meighen said that the high point of interest ever reached by him, was at this time, when he represented Canada at the conference, and when it was seriously discussed, which would be wisest to surrender to the enemy: the Capital of France, or the Channel Ports, and when upon the discussion of the not probable or likely, but of course, possible evacuation of French territories by the allied forces, Mr. David Lloyd George's opinion was, my son for twelve years if necessary and beat them. This, he said, showed the spirit of the British people. It was this stubbornness and tenaciousness, more than all the brain work, that had carried them safely through the terrible struggle.

At the conference in 1921 the outstanding feature which took up two thirds of the conference's time was the discussion as to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which had then lasted twenty years. Great Britain's idea was to foster friendly feeling with the Japanese partly because New Zealand and Australia wanted friendship with Japan above anything else.

At this conference the United States were asked to join with France and Great Britain in trying to come to an understanding with Japan, this led to the Washington conference held in Washington starting on July 10th, 1921, the most momentous happening since the war and with the most beneficial results. Tremendous advances were made at this conference, with most gratifying results.

Mr. Reginald Meredith moved a very hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Meighen, which was seconded by Mrs. C. A. Chauveau.

No Need to Worry.
 They had heard a good deal about a certain terrible threat about a sword that would be held over their heads. If they remained true to their principles there was no need to worry. The Conservative party proposed the curtailment of government enterprise, the reduction of personnel and they were a party with principle who would stand surety by the tariffs. In his opinion if the programme of the Conservative party were followed then they had solved the problem of Canadian prosperity.

The Hon. Arthur Meighen resumed his seat amid tumultuous applause.

Mr. Andre Fauteux followed Mr. Meighen. He referred to the activities of their leader and said that he was a great man following in the footsteps of Macdonald and Cartier. The memory of the past few days in Quebec would be a lasting memory. He was convinced that they had done much to cement the Conservative party together.

Mr. Belley, who was received by the assembly with cheers, made an interesting speech. He too eulogized the work of the Hon. Arthur Meighen.

CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW DAM AT RIVIERE DU LOUP

Powers Required For Running Streams Commission To Pass Contract

INFORMATION LACKING
 Opposition In Legislature Asks For More Details About Project

After the Opposition had called for a vote on each of the first three clauses of the resolution sponsored by Hon. Honore Mercier, Minister of Lands and Forests, in connection with the proposed dam to be erected on the Riviere du Loup (en haut), the resolution was adopted, the remainder of the evening being devoted to division. First and second readings were given the resolution, third reading being held over in order to permit the Minister of Lands giving information on the subject to the Opposition.

The Quebec Central Power Company, who, it is understood, will build the dam, came in for a lot of criticism on the part of the Opposition yesterday afternoon, and there were quite a number of questions asked about the company itself, its personnel, solvability, etc.

The resolution was carried, but only after a stiff fight on the part of the Opposition, who battled the thing tooth and nail, and forced the vote on the first three clauses of the resolution, while they were also opposed to the remainder of the resolution, the various clauses being adopted on division.

The resolution relating to the sale of certain public lands, by which the Province of Quebec will retain title to the sixty feet of land alongside the borders of the United States, Ontario and New Brunswick, was given first and second reading, while the bill was given its third readings without untoward incident, following which, the House, after referring a bill introduced by Premier Taschereau to amend the Quebec Elections Act to the Public Bills Committee, discussed Private Bills for the remainder of the afternoon, adjourning a few minutes before six until three o'clock this afternoon.

When the resolution was first introduced yesterday afternoon, Hon. Honore Mercier, sponsor of the Act to grant certain powers to the Running Streams Commission, relating to the storing of the waters of the Riviere du Loup (en haut), explained that the building of a dam, would be performed by the Quebec Central Power Company, and would cost some $255,000.00.

The Quebec Central Power Company, explained the Minister, would pay interest, sinking fund, maintenance and repairs and would leave a small margin for profit, generally working out at between 9 and 10 percent.

The contract with the company had not been passed, he stated, because the bill had not yet gone through the House, but there was an understanding with the Running Streams Commission that immediately the bill was passed the contract would be signed.

Hon. Mr. Patenaude, and Messrs. Gauk, Durand and Smart asked a number of questions in connection with the solvability of the company, its history and personnel.

The dam, said the Minister of Lands and Forests, would be built somewhat like a dam built in the States. It was naturally a certain area of land that would be submerged, but this would be provided for.

Hon. E. L. Patenaude, (Jacques-Cartier), suggested that the resolution be suspended, so that the House could find out all about the company. To this the Minister of Lands suggested that the resolution be suspended and then, if the Opposition was not satisfied, the suspension of the measure could be granted.

Mr. Durand asked a couple of questions, and then Hon. Mr. Patenaude again took a hand in the proceedings, declaring that the Quebec Central Power Company had not even a shed to show. They wanted the Government to organize their whole business, he said.

Mr. Sauve then stated that he sought the necessary information before proceeding with the resolution, and when the Minister of Lands and Forests sought to know if the Opposition Leader objected, Mr. Sauve replied that the House had not had sufficient information on the subject.

Premier Taschereau rose to his feet and dwelt on what the dam built in the St. Maurice and other districts had accomplished, and said that the Bill before the House was to enable the Running Streams Commission to erect a dam on the Riviere du Loup. The whole question before the members was to decide whether the dam should be erected on the river by the Running Streams Commission or not, and declared the Premier, the Province would do the same for Riviere du Loup as it had done for other sections of the Province of Quebec.

Let the resolution be proceeded with now, he said, and afterwards it could be suspended to give the Opposition any information they required.

CANDIDATES TO OUT THE FIGHT?

Changes In Faces Of Those Who Will Face The Electors Of City Rumored

As the day for the municipal elections draws nearer and nearer, so the number of candidates who will face the people seems to grow smaller and smaller. There are two probable retirements mentioned, while one gentleman who was reported to be a candidate has stated that he will not come out at all.

Dr. Eugene Parent, who is opposing Alderman Drolet or seat No. 1, St. Sauveur, is reported to be seriously contemplating retiring from the fight, which would leave the field clear to the present representative of that ward in the City Council, while Mr. J. Arhenar Gagnon, who is opposed to Dr. Thibault for seat No. 2, Champlain Ward, is also rumored as being about to drop out.

Then Dr. Arthur Leclerc who, it was reported, would oppose Alderman Bertrand in St. Sauveur for seat No. 2, has decided that he will not be a candidate, but there is the possibility that Nestor Ricard will contest that seat against the present edile.

In the meantime interest is growing in the fight, and although no meeting beyond those in committee rooms have been held, the voters of the city are waiting expectantly for the initial meetings to break forth on the electoral horizon, when the meetings start, the candidates will have an exceptionally busy time.

MR. JAMES HENCHEY PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY
 In the death of Mr. James Henchey, St. Catherine's, Portneuf County, has lost a popular and highly respected member of the parish. The late Mr. Henchey was fifty-nine years of age and had been ill for only ten days prior to his death, so that the sad news came as a surprise to his many friends in this city and at St. Catherine's.

Besides his bereaved widow, the late Mr. Henchey is survived by four sons and three daughters. The former are: Mr. Michael Henchey, of Chicoutimi; Mr. Emmett Henchey, of Montreal; Rev. Brother Raphael, of Chicoutimi; and Mr. Joseph Henchey, of St. Catherine's. The daughters are Misses Nellie Henchey, Quebec; Josephine Henchey, Chicoutimi; and Marie Henchey, Montreal. He is also survived by four brothers, Messrs. John Henchey, St. Catherine's; Michael Henchey, Quebec; E. D. Henchey, Boston; and T. Henchey, Ottawa. This funeral will take place Friday morning at nine o'clock at St. Catherine's parish church and thence to St. Catherine's cemetery.

He stated that he found it strange to come before the House and ask for a blank cheque for an unlimited amount, in view of the Provincial Treasurer's statement about economy and "keeping to the middle of the road."

Hon. Mr. Mercier replied that the Government was not going to spend money, and that it did not intend leaving the middle of the road. He was not, he stated, in a position to give details about the new company at present. Asked as to the object of building the dam, the Minister replied that the resolution was referred to the committee, and that the Province would be in a position to ensure a regular flow of water in that section during periods of drought, while small industries would also be helped.

Premier Taschereau asked the Opposition to pass part of the resolution now, the speaker continued, and the matter would be discussed later. This Hon. Mr. Patenaude did not believe to be regular.

Wanted More Information
 If it could be shown that it was in the interest of the Province to proceed with the project, the Opposition would lend their aid to the Government, but the House wanted more information.

Hon. Mr. Mercier here declared that no company had come along and asked to have a vote taken, but that the Running Streams Commission had decided that it would be well to build a dam so as to bring along an industry to St. Paulin.

At this stage Mr. Sauve proposed that the resolution be suspended, and after Mr. LaFerte, Deputy-Speaker had read the amendment, and asked if it was the wish of the House that the resolution be suspended, there were shouts of "No, No," from the Government benches.

Premier Taschereau arose to his feet once more and offered to suspend the first paragraph of the resolution, to which Hon. Mr. Patenaude replied that the Opposition was thus informed that the House was in favor of the matter. What the Opposition asked, he declared was reasonable, and the same could be said of what they had always asked.

The first three clauses of the resolution were then voted, while the remainder were adopted on division, and first and second readings of the resolution were then given. The third reading being suspended, so as to permit of the sponsor of the measure, Hon. Honore Mercier, giving information to the Opposition.

The House, again in committee, then dealt with the second resolution of the afternoon introduced by Hon. Mr. Mercier, regarding the sale of certain public lands. Hon. Mr. Mercier explained the object of the resolution, while Jules Langlais, (Tremblant) spoke on behalf of the Opposition, after which the resolution was given first and second reading, the bill being given first, second and third reading.

A bill to amend the Quebec Elections Act was then introduced by Premier Taschereau and was discussed and referred to the Public Bills Committee, after which Private Bills occupied the remainder of the session, the House adjourning shortly before six o'clock until this afternoon at 3.

CONTRACT FOR SILLERY WATER IS NOW TABLED

Goes Back Until Report Of Commission Studying Water Sources Is Received

HELD OVER FOR MONTH
 Not Expected Commission Will Be Able To Report Before That Period

The celebrated contract providing for the sale of a maximum amount of 200,000 gallons of water per day to Sillery, with a maximum amount of 300,000 gallons, which has been before the Waterworks Committee for its last three meetings, is still unsigned and unaccepted, while the questions is as far from settlement as ever.

At last night's meeting of the Waterworks Committee, it was decided, after two hours of discussion on the contract, to table it until the next meeting of the Waterworks Committee, after the latter body had received a report from the Commission which is now studying Quebec's water supply and sources.

This means that the matter will probably go over until after the elections, for it is not expected that the Commission will be able to present a report before a month.

When the meeting assembled at 8 o'clock, under the chairmanship of Alderman Leveque, Alderman C. A. Paradis voiced the opinion that the city should not sell water to Sillery until a report had been received from the Commission, and it was proposed to delay the matter until this report had been received.

Notary Taschereau, representing the Sillery Waterworks Company, said that it was rather late to adjourn the matter now, for the thing had been hanging fire for the last five or six months. The whole contract was perfectly satisfactory, with the exception of two clauses: one governing the payment of the guarantee by the municipality and the other regarding the amount that the city should pay towards a reservoir; but at the last minute the contract was held up.

Practically everything was ready, he stated, and the company was only awaiting word from the city to go ahead with the work.

Alderman Leveque then brought up the question of 200,000 gallons a day being a very small proportion of the thirty million gallons that Quebec used daily, and said that the revenue received from Sillery for the water they sold would enable the city to establish new sources, etc., so as to prevent the city running short at any time.

After more discussion Alderman Paradis, (St. Sauveur) proposed that the contract be referred back until after a report had been received from the Water Commission.

Mayor Samson said that he believed a special report from the Commission on this subject might be obtained rapidly.

The question of the clause in the Quebec Bill before Parliament in connection with the annexation of a part of Sillery was brought up by Mr. Taschereau and discussed, after which the company's representative asked the Committee to pass the contract then, as long as the Commission expressed its opinion one way or the other.

He said that the company was ready to pay the costs, and that they would discuss the reservoir question with the Commission. If the latter decided that a reservoir was not necessary, the company would abandon the clause.

The members were then asked to vote on Alderman Paradis' motion, but Alderman Dussaucy, on the proposed an amendment, on the motion as Mr. Paradis' motion, which the Limolou representative subsequently withdrew.

The motion to table the bill was then adopted unanimously. Mr. Paradis having changed his motion to read tabled instead of referred back to the Committee.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR
 Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and youthfulness
 Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.
 While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes naturally dark, glossy, soft and lustrous and you appear years younger.
 If men ever learn to fly they will find that it takes more than wings to get into heaven.

MR. FALLIS SPOKE ON REPARIATION

Guest Of Rotary Club Urges Means Be Taken For Return Of Canadians

Yesterday's weekly Rotary Club luncheon in the Empire Room of the Chateau Frontenac was attended by a very large number of people, the special speaker of the day being Mr. W. S. Fallis, vice-president and managing director of the Sherwin-Williams Company Limited, who took for his subject "Some Impressions of Canada."

The speaker referred to his thirty-five years of travelling experience in different parts of the Dominion, and touched upon the resources of the different provinces during the course of his interesting address, also mentioning the possibilities of development in those sections of the country which are still undeveloped.

Mr. Fallis commented on the deplorable loss thousands of young men in the late war who have given their lives in the cause of democracy. He said that this void must be filled and all possible means should be taken to influence those Canadians who had left their country to return to be land of their birth. He declared that means must be found to repatriate those who had crossed the southern boundary.

Referring to the future welfare of the country Mr. Fallis said that everybody should sink all personal feelings and regardless of which government is in power, it should be the aim of each and every true Canadian who has the love of his country at heart to do all in his power to enhance the forward movement of Canada. This movement was receiving more attention that it ever did before.

An enthusiastic ovation was given the speaker at the conclusion of his address another guest of honor who was seated at the head of the table among the officers of the club, was Mr. Max Malini, the world famous magician who made a brief but very witty speech when called on, and afterwards entertained the Rotarians with a number of his mystifying tricks, having his audience literally stunned with surprise while he performed with such ease that it made his stunts all the more difficult to understand. Mr. Malini was accorded a hearty vote of thanks, while all present declared that the luncheon was one of the most successful that was ever held.

SONS DEFEATED VICTORIAS 5-1; CANADA WON AGAIN

SONS CHALKED UP A 5-1 VICTORY OVER VICTORIAS AT ARENA LAST NIGHT

Game Was Played On Sticky Sheet Of Ice Which Grew Softer As Play Progressed—Vics Were Without Mallinson And Flanagan—Locals Deserved Win

Sons of Ireland, playing their regular style of combination, outplayed and outscored Victorias, of Montreal, to win out by a score of 5-1 in an Eastern Canada Hockey League fixture at the Arena last night. The game was played on a sticky sheet of ice which gradually grew softer as the game progressed, and this took a lot of speed out of what was a fairly good contest.

There was no scoring done in the opening period, though in the second Sons secured a brace. In the third, twenty of the locals added two more before Anderson counted for Vics. The Green Shirts added another counter just before the final bell.

Victorias took the ice without the services of Mallinson, their crack defenceman, and Flanagan, regular wing player, who were unable to make the trip. Reade replaced Mallinson on the defence and Leamy went on in Flanagan's position. Both turned in good games, though the going was too heavy and fast for the weight-carrying Reade.

Victorias scored a goal in the second period, though it was not counted as Goal Umpire George Murray claimed that the puck struck the post. There were as many people in the rink of the opinion that the puck struck the twine, as there were that it hit the post, and from the press box, almost directly on a line with the net, it appeared that the disc struck the twine at least six inches inside the post. Referee Dave Power was not in a position to see the play clearly enough to determine one way or the other so the decision of the umpire was accepted, despite the protests of the visitors.

Anderson shot the puck with a backward stroke from right wing on a sharp angle with the net. Sons of Ireland had the better of the play in every period, and it was only stellar goal-tending by Scott, especially in the opening period, that prevented the locals piling up a much larger score. The Sons played their usual combination game, going down two or three men abreast, and chased in after the rebounds.

Vics, although they played hard, were checked closely by the local forwards, who intercepted their passes, and the Montreals were practically forced to depend on individual rushes, which, with the exception of Anderson's, failed to get them anywhere.

At the termination of the game Victorias gave three cheers for Sons. This mass of spontaneous applause was loudly applauded by the 3,000 spectators present.

The puck was kept around Victorias' defence for the first three minutes of play, before Shibley relieved. Loneragan blocked his rush and tested Scott for the first shot of the match. Grant and Leamy started on a combination rush and Turgeon made a nice save from Grant from close in.

Dinan drew the first penalty of the match for tripping and when he returned Shibley went off for the same offence. Loneragan made a nice rush but his shot was wide. Laroché and Grant were benched for slashing at each other. Shibley stopped a shot from Pedneault with his knee and had to be assisted off the ice. Turgeon made a nice save from Grant just before the bell.

Scott was given a busy time during this period and made a couple of saves of the sensational variety. He made thirteen stops during this session while Turgeon was called upon to clear on five occasions. Shibley returned to the game in the second period. Play at the start went from end to end. Scott blocked a wicked shot from Dinan's stick and saved from Pedneault on the rebound. Anderson was playing a strong game for Victorias, but his wing men failed to go up with him.

Dinan and Laroché combined again when Dinan tailed on a rebound off Laroché's shot. Three minutes later Pedneault scored on a pass from Dinan from behind the net. Anderson went from end to end but was tripped by Starkings as he was going in on Turgeon. He repeated the performance a minute later but his shot went wide.

Reade came close to scoring when he followed in his rebound, but Turgeon batted the puck out of the danger zone. A minute before the bell, Anderson rushed and let go a backhand shot from right wing. The goal umpire claimed the puck struck the post and the point was disallowed.

Scott handled twelve shots during this twenty minutes and Turgeon blocked eleven. The third period had only commenced when Laroché blocked Reade and stickhandled his way through the defence to draw out Scott and flip the puck into an empty net, making the score 3-0 for Sons. Loneragan went through a couple of minutes later but his shot went wide. Turgeon blocked two dangerous shots from Anderson.

Seven minutes had elapsed when Loneragan rubbed with Dinan to score on a pass from the right wing man. Shibley was benched for tripping and Laroché and Grant followed him for renewing their little feud. Sons were now playing five men against four. Dinan rushed alone but lost to Anderson who went through alone to score Victorias' first goal. Shibley returned and tested Turgeon with a hot one. With less than a minute to go Laroché and Pedneault rushed together, the latter scoring on Laroché's pass. Scott stopped twelve shots in the twenty and Turgeon eight.

ST. PATS COULD NOT HOLD OTTAWA

Senators Outplayed Green Shirts To Win By Score Of 7-2

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 30.—Toronto St. Patricks were completely outplayed and decisively outscored in tonight's National Hockey League fixture, it was only a question of time, even with the visitors leading two to nothing at the end of the first period. This score was not a fair indication of the play and when the locals got things going rightly in the second and third periods, they made life miserable for John Ross Roach, who with Reg. Noble, bore the lion's share of the St. Pats work.

The two goals scored by the Green Shirts in the opening session were the results of straggling offensive, the first started by Dye and the second by Noble. Ottawa had more than an even break of the play but the brilliant work of Roach kept them at bay. In the second period they took the lead with three goals on passes from Hitchenman and a stanza ran in four more. It was a strong finish and the local attack in the final twenty minutes earned more than four goals.

St. Patricks seemed disorganized. Their combination rarely worked, the individual rushes almost invariably ended at the Ottawa defence and their shooting was ragged. The first period was productive of some of the best hockey of the game. Each team attacked in turn, but Ottawa gradually took command, failing to score through the great work of Roach. Dye broke away on the left wing and circled the net, his pass from behind being batted past Benedict by Noble in 6:20. The time showed 11:40 when Noble scored again. This time he went away alone and worked through slowly to shoot over Benedict who had dropped to block him.

Nighbor grabbed a fast goal to start the second period, taking a pass from Hitchenman at the defence. Broadbent tied the score on a pass from Clancy in 8:35 and Denenny put the locals ahead when he beat Roach after going from end to end alone. Denenny made it four and five to two in six minutes and 11 minutes respectively, getting both goals on passes from Hitchenman. Helman banged in a snappy one in twenty seconds, when he came on to relieve Nighbor and Campbell wound up the scoring on a pass from George Boucher in one minute and a half.

Noble was the strongest player for the visitors, and played a fine game until he talked himself into the dressing room with about five minutes to go. Dye was flashy in spots as was Hitchenman. Cy. Denenny, returning to the game after an enforced lay-off of ten days with an injured arm, topped the Senators' scorers. He banged three past Roach and turned in a fine game. Broadbent worked well with Nighbor, with Nighbor starting as the king pin of the line. Boucher and Hitchenman played effective games and Helman and Campbell, the two other substitutes, fitted in nicely, each grabbing a goal.

The line-up:

St. Patricks	Goal.	Ottawa
Roach	Benedict
Corbeau	Boucher
Stuart	Cover-Point.

COLORFUL PLAYER GOES TO MINORS

"Sparkie" Matthews Was Released By Athletics To Milwaukee

New York, Jan. 30.—Major league fandom has witnessed with regret the passing from American League ranks of "Sparkie" Matthews, outfielder sent by the Athletics to Milwaukee in the American Association in a deal bringing Al Simmons to the Philadelphia club.

Matthews proved the most colorful player in Connie Mack's line-up last season. He became a sensation overnight, and his great fielding and timely hitting played a prominent part in the early and mid-season spurt which carried the Mackmen well up in the first division and, for a time, caused them to be considered as serious pennant contenders.

A penchant for playing to the crowd, and the resentment of his fellow players over that custom, is said to have been chiefly responsible for his failure to continue his sensational work. Reported disagreements with Connie Mack, Philadelphia manager, also were said to have figured in conditions which, coupled with a falling off in Matthews' form, resulted in sending him to the minors.

CANADIENS WON FROM HAMILTON

Score Was 5-2—Game Was Played On Heavy Sheet Of Ice

Montreal, Jan. 30.—Any doubt as to the ability of the Canadiens to overcome the handicaps under which they have been playing lately were set at rest tonight when the local club downed Hamilton Tigers 5 to 2. Only one penalty was handed out by Referee Hadden and that was to D. Denenny of the visitors for a minor offence. The game was played on heavy ice.

First Period—Play went from end to end with a bounding puck making combination difficult. Mantha made two quick off-side rushes for Canadiens. Randall relieved but Mantha cleared and the rush he started ended in Billy Boucher scoring. He repeated from the face-off to give Canadiens a commanding lead. Producers initiated a rush but Red Green missed the puck when in a splendid position to score. Mantha drew applause for his spectacular rushes. Vezina made a quick save of Randall's drive. Sprague Cleghorn carried the puck to the other end and passed to Billy Boucher who shot. Morenz was loose and banged the rebound. A corner later, Producers relieved and passed to Billy Burch who scored from near the boards. Mantha rushed and Morenz batted in his second goal on a scramble in front of Forbes. Red Green got through the defence and kicked the puck. First period over. Canadiens 4, Hamilton, 1.

Second Period—Heavy ice slowed play at the start and it was largely individual rushes, both Vezina and Forbes having "several narrow escapes. Vezina in particular being driven to divert two long hard drives by Forbes who was forced to rush from the nets to save when Mantha got through. Billy Boucher beat Forbes a moment later, but the goal was off-side. Boucher's knee gave out and he had to give place to Gude Cleghorn. Another Canadian goal was called off-side. Boucher heralded his entry to the game by giving Vezina a few anxious moments. Second period over. Canadiens, 4; Hamilton, 1.

Third Period—Hamilton opened the third season with a mill offensive, but was ineffective against the steady local defence. Morenz beat Forbes but was called off-side. Joliat and Morenz were both through in turn but shot wide of the net. Joliat scored on a rebound from W. Boucher's drive at Forbes. Forbes was temporarily out from his steady defence while Joliat took an unceremonious drive to the boards to avoid crashing into the fallen goalie. Denenny got the only penalty for roughing it with Morenz. Producers went through alone and beat Vezina from close in. Corbett Denenny got through but Vezina blocked the shot. The puck quickened for the first time since the initial period. Red Green missed an open net as the game ended.

GREECE FACING VERY SERIOUS EVENTUALITIES

Illness Of Premier Has Precipitated A Very Grave Crisis

ANTAGONISTIC ATTITUDE

May Be Adopted By Italy And Jugo-Slavia Towards Athens

Athens, Jan. 30.—The illness of Premier Venizelos has precipitated a grave crisis in Greece, full of far-reaching eventualities externally and internally. The probabilities that the Venizelist government is about to resign are increasing because of the Premier's breakdown, and the insistence of the Republicans upon having the National Assembly declare the Glucksburg dynasty abolished against the determined stand by Venizelos that this question be decided by a referendum.

Antagonistic Attitude.

The external threat is pointed to in political circles as coming from Italy and Jugo-Slavia, who, it is feared will adopt an antagonistic attitude if a Republic is established other than by a plebiscite.

The Republicans in control of the army are understood to be planning to suppress the Royalist newspapers which the Venizelist government permitted to reappear today, and to deal drastically otherwise with all opposition.

M. Kafandaris, who is anti-Republican, is considered the most probable successor of Venizelos should the latter resign.

The drachma showed a weakening tendency today in a nervous exchange market.

GRADE MATCHES AT QUEBEC CLUB

Three Contests Were Decided Last Night At The Quebec Curling Club

Three matches were played on the ice of the Quebec Curling Club last evening, and despite the extremely mild weather outside, the ice was in fine condition, good curling being witnessed.

In Grade "A" John Thomson's rink scored a 20-6 victory over Peter Dale's quartette, while in Grade "B" R. C. Cream's four led W. J. Darlington's team by a count of 13-4 when the final end had been played. E. E. B. Rattray's challenging rink had their attack staved off by the defending four of E. St. Amant in a match for the McManamy Shield, the defenders winning out by a score of 12-3 after a hard-fought battle, in which the game was only decided in the last couple of ends.

The rinks and scores last evening were as follows:

ANOTHER WIN FOR THE C.N.R. TEAM

Defeated Shamrocks In Eastern Canada Basketball League Game

C. N. R. and Q. S. A. C. were the winners of the Eastern Canada Basketball League games played at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. C. N. R. defeated Shamrocks by a score of 32-17 in the first game and Q. S. A. C. triumphed over Midgents in the second by 21-25 count.

The C. N. R. Shamrocks fixture was a keenly contested one for the first and the score at half time stood 8-8. In the second half Shamrocks were handicapped through injuries and the "Railwaymen" went into the lead which they gradually increased. Shamrocks had a couple of teeth knocked out and Vezina of the same team had to retire with a wrenched ankle.

In the second contest Q. S. A. C. had it over Midgents and deserved the victory. The "Swimmers" played a snappy combination game and showed considerable improvement over their previous performances.

DOMINION 33 SWITZERLAND 0

Canadian Hockey Team Pile Up Record Score—Britain Beat Belgium 20-3

Chamonix, Jan. 30.—Hockey, skiing, fancy skating and curling occupied the attention of contestants in the Olympic winter sports today. The Canadian hockey team defeated Switzerland 33 to 0; Britain defeated Belgium 20 to 3, and the United States won from France, 22 to 0. Canada, by defeating the three nations opposed to her in the upper half of the hockey draw has already earned the right to play against the winner in the lower half, in which the United States and England are tied for first place with three victories each. The tie will be broken tomorrow when these two teams meet for a decision.

Canada has given an impression of irresistible strength in all the hockey matches. The United States team has done well, but in one period today against France faltered badly. Manager Haddock read the riot act to the boys because he seemed to think the two contestants to fight for second place which he told them was thoroughly un-American. They promised to show a peppy brand of hockey against the British tomorrow.

William Hewitt, manager of the Canadian team, could not be other than satisfied with the perfection of the Dominion's hockey machine as demonstrated against a team coming from Switzerland, the European home of winter sports.

The game as indicated by the score, was little more than a practice for the Canadians, who, as banded Savoie, the Swiss goal-keeper at will. McCaffery, Watson and "Hooley" Smith skated rings around the Swiss defence, while Ramsay and Munro with small chance to demonstrate their ability at stopping rushes took occasional sprints down the ice to drive wicked shots at Savoie. Jack Cameron, keeper of the Dominion's goal, wandered out from the twine and skated about to keep up his circulation.

Canada was again the centre of interest when the British sextette included the 22 goal net, he, E. Carruthers, H. P. Patbado and H. Sexton, all Canadians resident in England, demonstrated their superiority over Belgium.

A feature of today's games was the ski marathon race, in which 34 contestants, representing eleven countries, took the start at 10:30 a.m. The race was not started because of lack of practice. The marathon was won by the Norwegian star, Thorleif Haug, who covered the fifty kilometers (31.05 miles) in 3 hours, 44 minutes and 32 seconds, remarkable time for the distance. The skiers decided not to start because of lack of practice. In spite of these facts, it has been arranged to present "THE HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME" at the Victoria Theatre at a slight increase over regular prices.

One fact I want to stress at this time is: THIS PRODUCTION POSITIVELY WILL NOT BE SHOWN IN ANY OTHER THEATRE IN QUEBEC AT LOWER PRICES DURING THE 1923-4 SEASON.

CITY ENGINEER'S OFFICE

Quebec, January 29th, 1924.

It Is Forbidden to Remove Sand From Sidewalks.

I beg to call the attention of all citizens to the works carried out by the City of Quebec or its contractors in connection with snow service in certain streets of the city.

In undertaking the snow service the City of Quebec holds the proprietors indemnified against all claims for accidents that may occur on said streets or sidewalks, and in order to prevent accidents the City puts sand on the sidewalks when required.

It has come to my knowledge that in several cases proprietors or residents have swept away the sand and thus left the sidewalks in a dangerous condition, causing accidents for which the City or insurance companies received claims, which must be settled.

Notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that public interest demands that this dangerous practice cease and that it is strictly forbidden for citizens to interfere with the works of snow service carried out by the city.

To prevent accidents the city shall proceed against all persons contravening this order and who may remove sand spread by City.

W. D. BAILLAIRGE,
City Engineer.

MUSICAL AND TEA AT W.W.C.A.

Large And Appreciative Audience Enjoyed A Very Fine Programme Of Music

Mrs. W. H. Wiers, Mrs. J. T. Ross and Mrs. W. J. Darlington, acted as hostesses at a most successful musicale and tea, organized by Mrs. W. J. Darlington, and given yesterday afternoon at the W.W.C.A. The proceeds of which will go towards buying further equipment for the swimming pool. Mrs. S. L. de Garteret had charge of the tea which was served in the gymnasium. A long table was placed at the head of the room and Mrs. W. H. Stevens, Mrs. A. Dawson Matheson, Mrs. E. Stocking and Mrs. Herbert Gale presided. The table looked most attractive, covered with a Maderia cloth, it was centered with a miniature rink and toboggan slide, around which tiny snowshoes, tobogganers and skaters were gathered. Those who assisted in service were: Mrs. Maurice Harris, Mrs. Andrew A. Fleming, Mrs. H. W. Rathman, Mrs. A. H. M. Hay, Mrs. H. F. Hall, Mrs. R. F. Cream, Miss Auger, Miss Black, Miss Ruth Marsh, Miss Bee MacDermott, Miss Rosina Johnston, Miss Helen Elliott, Miss Mary Barton, Miss Harriette Mitchell, Miss Dolly Nesbitt, Miss Lily Rhodes and Miss Alfretha Hyde.

A refreshment table was in charge of Mrs. McClure, and another table filled with pretty boxes of sweets, was presided over by Miss Tanguay. Beautiful cut flowers were also sold. The decorations at these tables carried out the Valentine idea. The red hearts and red streamers, against the snowy white table cloths, being most effective.

The musicale started at 5 o'clock and was most enjoyable. Much credit is due to Mrs. W. J. B. Fraser, who organized this part of the programme, for her splendid choice of artists. Every number on the programme being greatly appreciated by the large and attentive audience. Those taking part were: Madame Giguere-Blaiz, Mr. Meyers, The Thorn Quartet, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Helman, Mrs. Stevens, and Miss Frances Stevens (duet). Mr. Carpenter and Mrs. Quart.

LADY CURLERS PLAY
IN SHIELD COMPETITION
Owing to the fact that several of the players in the defending and challenging rinks are going to Three Rivers today the weekly match for the Challenge Shield was played Wednesday morning. The rinks:

YOUNG DAUGHTER MADE WELL

Mother Tells How Her Daughter Suffered and Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vancouver, B. C. — "My daughter is a young girl who has been having severe pains and weak and dizzy feelings for some time and had lost her appetite. Through an older daughter who had heard of a woman who was taking it for the same trouble, we were told of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My daughter has been taking it for several months and is quite all right now. It has done all it was represented to do and we have told a number of friends about it. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, for I myself take it for that weak, tired, worn-out feeling which sometimes comes to us all. And it is building me up and I strongly recommend it to women who are suffering as I and my daughter have."

—Mrs. J. McDonald, 2947 26th Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C.

From the age of twelve a girl needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered from pains in the back and lower limbs, or from a general nervousness or nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her.

CURLERS INVADERS

Two rinks from the Ladies' Quebec Curling Club are leaving for Three Rivers by this morning's train to play this afternoon against the Three Rivers Ladies' Club, who are defending the Samenhoff Trophy. They will carry with them the best wishes of all Quebec curlers for victory and will, it is hoped, bring the cup back to Quebec. The rinks are as follows:

Mrs. Malcolm Holliday. Mrs. T. Houghton. Miss Maude Pope. Miss Imrie. Mrs. G. Henderson. Mrs. Walter Henderson. Miss J. Sewell. Miss Alice Brodie. (Skip). (Skip)

WOMAN LABOR M.P. STARTS TO WALK 115 MILES TO SPEAK
London, Jan. 30. (Associated Press).—Miss Dorothy Jewson, the first woman member of the House of Commons for Norfolk, started yesterday with a woman friend to walk from London to Norwich, a distance of 115 miles, to fulfill an engagement to address her constituents. Several trains were available, but Miss Jewson refused to use one, saying that she regarded the men working them as strike-breakers, in view of the fact that a railway strike is now in progress.

EFFICIENCY IMPAIRED
Why Many Men and Women Are Badly Handicapped

When you are so run down in health that it impairs the efficiency of your work as well as your power to enjoy your leisure hours, or obtain rest, it is time you looked to the cause. If you do not, a serious breakdown is almost sure to result sooner or later. In nearly all cases this condition, which doctors usually describe as general debility, is due to poor blood—blood that is deficient in red corpuscles. When the blood is thin and weak your whole system suffers. You lose appetite, have no energy, your nerves trouble you and you feel restless.

What you need is help to build up your blood and you should begin at once to make your blood rich and red by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will soon notice the difference in your health by a better appetite and increased vigor.

The reason is that the new blood created by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills stimulates all the organs of the body to healthy activity, and so the system gains nourishment and strength. If you are weak or out of sorts begin gaining new strength to-day by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The new sales tax will not increase the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the pills through any medicine dealer at 50 cents a box, or by mail, post paid, at this price, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Little dish to go with the roast. Given a choice of jelly-cake tins, it is very likely the modern woman will choose those with loose bottoms or with the cutter attachment instead of the old-fashioned sort. Or she may choose the new kind of cake-tin that bakes cakes on one side. Then they may be turned up side down and a pastry shell can be fitted to bake on that side. When the pastry shell is slipped off it is generally filled with fresh fruit, topped with whipped cream. Chimney-pans for whole cakes may be bought in two sizes. Some of the newest have fancy edges that decorate the cake. Lock pans are good for loaf cake, though American cooks do not use them as much as the foreigners do. Individual moulds, pans, sand-wich-cutters, egg-slicers, meat and nut grinders, skewer sets, larding needles, pastry bags, canisters for dry food storage, vacuum freezers, a rack of tin covers, the three saucers that fit over one gas hole, steam cookers, spoonracks, moulds, kitchen carved sets, puree sieves, spice boxes and many other small boxes all marked for the usual contents baking-sheets—all are sure to find a welcome.

In arranging refreshments for a tin wedding the table may be covered with red and white plaid kitchen towelling. The strips should be firmly basted together for the occasion and can be easily ripped apart for towels later on. Paper plates, napkins and cups can be used. In the centre of the table there may be a large tin slipper filled with red flowers, while at each place a small tin slipper may be filled with red bonbons and a red-flag place-card should be stuck in the heel.

Among the favors that may be used are tin wreaths, slippers, fans, combs, high hats, chains and lockets, rolling pins, small spades, cradles, crowns, bracelets, thimbles, keys, padlocks, wedding cake moulds, guns and number of other tin specialties.

A seated supper is the nicest, of course, and in the end not any more trouble than serving refreshments all through the rooms. If the table is arranged as described above and the foods are individually served, refreshments will not be much trouble. For instance, a fruit cocktail served in the fruit shells, a fish fillet in ramekins, broiled birds or fried chicken served cut from large platters or creamed chicken in toast bricks, salad and ice cream with the wedding cake, which should be cut by the bride, will be macaroni au gratin or any similar sufficient.

Among the things that the guests are likely to send are the new three-in-one teakettles. Besides performing the teakettle's usual duty, the teakettle contains a small tin that fits and by Miss Phyllis Oiler, of Toronto; Miss Vardon Ross and Miss Margaret Henshaw as bridesmaids. The best man will be Mr. Hugh Johnston and the ushers will be Mr. Noel Chapman, Mr. Alan Cochrane and Mr. Sirachen DeJoune. After the ceremony, a reception will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Godfrey, 215 Drummond street.
