Quebec Pharmacists 'Seriously Alarmed' At Goofball Abuses

MONTREAL (CP)—The Quebec College of Pharmacists, "seriously alarmed" by mounting complaints about the goofball, announced Friday an investigation to "reach the sources and fix responsibility."

President Paul H. Soucy of Quebec City, speaking for the 1,800-member college, said welfare agencies and special agencies will be asked to help the investigation which will include teen-age use of the goofball.

"I don't know how much it's going to cost us and I don't think we care," he said, indicating recommendations would be made to the provincial government after findings are established.

A college spokesman said the Universities of Montreal or McGill might be asked to direct the investigation.

Goofballs are basically barbiturates available under many trade names and which normally are used as sleep-inducing drugs. Dropped into carbonated soft drinks or beer, they have side effects.

Police say the largest users are criminals, convicts or dope addicts unable to obtain narcotics.

They recalled a number of recent incidents in commenting on the recent Halifax death of a boy, 14, believed a goofball victim.

These include the firing of guards at the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary for importing barbiturate tablets 500 at a time and pandemonium breaking out in Montreal jail when new inmates, pockets bulging with pills, began peddling them.

Secretary Emile Goderme of the Quebec college said only one case has occurred where it was proved a college member sold goofballs.

Fleming Answers Coyne

OTTAWA — Finance Minister Donald Fleming Friday night took issue publicly with James E. Coyne, governor of Parliament's Bank of Canada, for statements on federal monetary policy in the governor's annual report.

In effect, the minister delivered a rebuke to the $50,000-a-year head of the central bank for statements apparently in conflict with Progressive Conservative campaign declarations.

Mr. Fleming said in a formal statement that Governor Coyne's definition of the politically controversial phrase "light money policy" differs from the generally understood meaning.

It was the first such public sparring ever administered by a finance minister to the head of the central bank since it was founded in 1935.

Whatever policy differences there may have been in the past always have been resolved privately.

The bank head reports to Parliament through the finance minister, though the minister is not empowered by statute to direct bank policy that can influence the economy sharply.

As of Friday, Mr. Fleming happened to be acting prime minister—as the ranking cabinet member in the capital—a factor lending some weight to his implied criticism of Mr. Coyne.

Atomic Submersible Ordered Into Action Akin To War Patrol

MARINE SEAWOLF, March 11, (Delayed) — (AP)—This submarine is searching the depths for suspected Soviet Undersea prowlers off the United States east coast—the first time the U.S. Navy has ordered an atomic submersible into on operation closely akin to war patrol.

The cruise started out to be another routine training operation. But a radioed order, flashed a few minutes after the Seawolf sailed from an east coast port, changed things.

Today the Seawolf is looking for an unidentified submarine—or submarines—believed to have been sighted in this area.

In itself, the presence of a Russian submarine out here, well beyond the three-mile limit, would not be an act of hostility. For half a decade, there have been reports of unidentified subs off both coasts.

PCs Name New Quebec Candidates

QUEBEC (CP)—The Progressive Conservative party's central committee for Quebec district completed Friday a reshuffle of candidates in two ridings.

It named Dr. J. Eugene Bissonnette official candidate in Quebec West succeeding J. Wilfrid Dufresne who Wednesday announced his retirement from public life.

The committee simultaneously announced the withdrawal of Dr. Louis Gagnon as Independent in Quebec East now is Yvon R. Tasse, civil engineer, whose appointment was announced Wednesday. He succeeded Emile Simard who had been chosen official party candidate during a party convention, Mr. Simard withdrew Wednesday.

Dr. Gagnon, a candidate at the convention, protested the validity of Mr. Simard's nomination and threw his hat into the ring.

With the withdrawal of Dr. Gagnon, only one Progressive Conservative candidate remains in Quebec East.

Mr. Tasse Friday described as news to him reports that he has been asked to become a member of the federal cabinet.

Mr. Tasse, former director of the Greater Quebec Trade and Industrial Development Bureau, made the statement when asked to comment on reports he would become minister of immigration and citizenship before the March 31 election.

Krush Warns West Hands Off Satellites Or We'll Retaliate

MOSCOW. — (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev told the West Friday night any attempt to change the status of Eastern Communist nations by force would bring Soviet intervention.

In an election speech, the Communist party secretary denounced as "insulting" the proposal of President Eisenhower that a summit conference should include the question of the Eastern European states.

UN Arms Talks Out Say Reds

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia Friday ruled out any further attempts within the United Nations to settle the disarmament deadlock, at least until the issue is discussed at an East-West summit meeting.

A Soviet foreign ministry statement declared that Western efforts to resume disarmament negotiations at the UN seek "to distract public attention" from preparations for a summit conference.

The statement pointed to Western press reports that the Western powers are planning to convene the 25-nation UN disarmament commission created last December. This commission replaced the former group composed of the 11 UN Security Council members plus Canada.

The statement accused the Western powers of using the UN "as a shield behind which they would carry on the arms race."

ROAR APPROVAL

An audience of 14,000 in Moscow's sports palace roared its approval as Khrushchev asserted the Soviet Union has intercontinental ballistic missiles and everything else needed "to crush any aggressor who tries to attack our country."

Speaking of the status of the East European states, he said the Soviet Union could just as well suggest that it is time for capitalist systems in Western Europe to make way for socialism.

$100,000 Loot In Gems Stolen At Montreal

MONTREAL — Three armed men Friday escaped with $100,000 worth of gems from a sixth-floor diamond importer's office in downtown Montreal police said.

They entered the office of Spitz and Remer Company with guns drawn, tied up three employees and cleared the gems—mostly diamonds—from the safe. They also stole $500 in cash.

Knowles

CCF Still Popular

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—Stanley Knowles, deputy leader of the CCF party, said Friday night the main topic of conversation on trains and planes and in barber shops is that the CCF should be one of the two major parties in the next Parliament.

He told a political meeting here that Canadian voters want an effective Parliament and the only way to do this is to strengthen the position of the CCF.

The statements were included in excerpts from the text of a speech issued to the press before delivery.

Indonesian Rebels Battle For Oil Centre In Sumatra

SINGAPORE (AP)—Indonesian rebels declared Friday night they had resumed the battle for the oil centre of Pekanbaru and had gained support from another province in Sumatra.

The radio at Bukittinggi, mountain refuge of the rebel regime, said Lt. Col. Achmad Hussein's troops again are attacking the Jakarta government's paratroopers and commandos who seized Pekanbaru and its airfield Wednesday.

The broadcast said Tapanuli province in northwestern Sumatra has ousted the pro-Jakarta military commander there, indicating the province has joined the rebels.

NO LONGER NEUTRAL

A Capt. Pohan, second in command in Tapanuli, has taken over from Maj. Sahala Hutabarat, the radio said. Until now the province has been on the fence between joining the rebels and remaining loyal to the government of President Sukarno in Jakarta.

Rebel sources here said it is "99-per-cent certain" that Atjeh, another province at the extreme northern tip of Sumatra, also will announce shortly that it is coming out on rebel side. This would reinforce the rebels with about 150,000 warlike Moslems who long have been at odds with the Jakarta government.

Pakanbaru, a city of 30,000 almost in the centre of Sumatra, is headquarters of the American oil company Caltex, which has $125,000,000 worth of installations in the area.

Two battalions of government paratroopers and commandos attacked the airfield Wednesday and Jakarta announced capture of the town a few hours later.

10,000 U.K. And Canadian Tars Take Shore Leave At Halifax

HALIFAX (CP) — This old port city braced Friday as 10,000 British and Canadian sailors started shore leave after three weeks at sea taking part in the first phase of Operation Maple Royal.

At daylight Friday 15 ships of the British Home Fleet and 14 units of the Canadian Navy's Atlantic command began steaming through the foggy harbor entrance.

Three hours later, a white-helmeted Royal Marine guard of honor clicked smartly through the traditional ceremony as Rear Admiral H. F. Pullen boarded the submarine depot ship Maidstone to welcome Admiral Sir William Davis.

FIRST PHASE

Admiral Davis, chief of the Home Fleet, directed the first phase of the largest joint Canadian-U.K. manoeuvres since the Second World War. The combined fleets gathered at Bermuda last weekend for anti-submarine exercises.

A dizzying round of luncheons, receptions, dances, bus tours and other entertainment has been arranged for the visitors. Yachting and curling clubs have invited British personnel to use their facilities. Even a ski club extended an invitation. But there is no snow.

Volleyball, basketball, water polo and squash tournaments were arranged. Boxers from the British and Canadian ships will compete against an army team.

POLICE REINFORCEMENTS

Halifax police plan reinforcements as a matter of routine. British and Canadian shore patrols will also keep an eye on pleasure-bent sailors.

4,200 Prizes In Annual Quebec Literary Contest

QUEBEC (CP)—Provincial Secretary Yves Prevost today announced the $4,200 annual Quebec province literary contest is open to works of the imagination—whether novels or theatrical plays—and to scientific, political or moral treatises.

Prizes will total $4,200 with three $800 prizes for the best work in each category.

Applications will be received until May 1. Contestants must be Canadian citizens now resident in Quebec province or Quebecers posted or studying in foreign countries. Six copies of each work must be submitted.

This year the competition for political or moral treatises is open only to works in English and writings on science and mathematics must be in French. Works of imagination are open to both languages.

Hamel Puts Hat In Ring

QUEBEC (Special) — Rene Hamel, MPP for St. Maurice, announced here Friday night that he would be a candidate for the provincial Liberal party leadership at the convention this spring.

At a press conference two other Liberal MPPs, Glen Brown of Brome and Emile Lafrance of Richmond pledged their support to Mr. Hamel.

Mr. Brown said that a poll he had conducted showed that nine out of 10 Liberals in the province were behind Mr. Hamel and Brome Liberals were 100 per cent for him.

"Liberals are tired of diplomacy," he said. "They want action and the man to give them action is Rene Hamel."

The other candidates for the party leadership are present leader Georges Lapalme and Paul Gerin-Lajoie of Montreal.

Sourdough Stamp

OTTAWA — The British Columbia centennial postage stamp, announced earlier this year, is to be a green, five-cent issue illustrating placer-mining during the 1858 gold rush. It shows a bearded sourdough panning gold.

British Press Hails Choice Of Canadian

LONDON (CP)—British newspapers Friday hail the choice of a 35-year-old Canadian as assistant press secretary to the Queen as "imaginative" and one likely to add "much-needed zest" to palace-press relations.

The appointment of Esmond Butler, assistant to the secretary of Governor-General Vincent Massey, is greeted with approving comments by columnists and editorial writers alike. They stress his journalistic experience, his good looks and bachelor status.

The Daily Express, in an editorial headed "Imaginative appointment," says:

"It is the first time an Empire man has filled this vital post and the first time that a man with experience as a reporter will deal with press relations. It is a fine gesture and a timely one. It will help to strengthen the ties between the palace and the peoples of the Commonwealth."

ESMOND BUTLER

NOTICED DURING VISIT

Several newspapers suggest that Butler, who leaves Canada Monday to take up his new appointment, came to the Queen's attention during her visit to Canada last year.

The Daily Telegraph columnist, Peterborough, says Butler attracted "much favorable comment from visiting American and British correspondents during the royal visit to Ottawa last November."

The Daily Mirror said:

"The Queen noticed how smoothly Butler handled press arrangements there. They resulted in the royal couple chatting informally with reporters—a thing that has never happened in England."

The News Chronicle quotes Butler as saying: "I'm not buying a striped pants and coat outfit. I want to be as friendly and informal as possible."

News Of The Week In Review

Revolt Shatters Tropical Peace In Indonesia

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The tropical peace of Sumatra was shattered by ground fighting and air attacks as Indonesian government soldiers battled rebel forces.

The ground fight finally erupted after a series of air strikes on rebel installations on Sumatra and a few other outer islands of the shaky young republic.

The central government at Java—with the volatile President Sukarno in charge—sent paratroopers against the Sumatra rebels, and their first main objective was the $125,000,000 oil property of a United States-owned company.

Sukarno claimed victory in the first round and denounced the rebels, who had demanded that the president oust Communists from his government.

The capture of the big oil field—and the neighboring city of Pekanbaru, with a population of 50,000—would put Sukarno well on the way to toppling the power of the rebel government established a month ago.

MANILA TALKS

While the fight went on in Indonesia—which is spread like stepping stones between Australia and Malaya—SEATO foreign ministers met in Manila to discuss ways of combating communism.

The ministers—representing the Philippines, Pakistan, Thailand, Australia, the United States, France, New Zealand and Britain—ended their talks with a sharp blast against "neutralist" governments.

Particular danger arises from "some non-Communist governments failing to distinguish between the aims and ideals of the Free World and the purposes of international communism," a communique said.

SEATO decided on closer association with NATO, and also on increased emphasis on economic matters.

WESTERN SUMMIT

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan announced that they will hold a summit meeting of their own—before a possible summit meeting between East and West.

Macmillan will deliver the commencement address at DePaul University at Greencastle, Ind., June 8, then visit Washington for talks with Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles June 9-10.

They last met in Paris in December at the NATO conference there.

BOMB DROPPED

It finally happened—somebody dropped an atomic bomb by mistake.

A United States Air Force B-47 committed the nuclear boo-boo near Florence, S.C., but the bomb wasn't fitted with the warhead that would have blown the city of 30,000 off the map.

There was no nuclear explosion but TNT—which would trigger an atom blast in a wartime attack—blasted a big hole, damaging six houses and a church.

The threat of possible radioactive contamination in the immediate area was raised, but it was announced after a check that there was no radiation danger.

QUEEN'S RETURN

Queen Mother Elizabeth flew home to London after completing the first round-the-world air tour by a member of the Royal Family, a six-week journey that took her to Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

She was welcomed at London Airport by Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret, and by her granddaughter, Princess Anne, 7. Prince Charles, 9, was at school and his father, Prince Philip, was visiting West Germany.

BUTLER'S JOB

Queen Elizabeth appointed a Canadian, Esmond Butler, as the first person from outside the United Kingdom to become a member of her staff.

Butler, assistant to the secretary of Governor-General Massey, becomes the Queen's assistant press secretary March 18.

In his new capacity, Butler will act as liaison officer with the Canadian government on preparations for the visits of the Queen next year and Princess Margaret this coming summer.

BLACK ARRIVAL

Don't tell Carmelia Pasut that dreams—terrible dreams—never come true.

The 29-year-old Italian woman arrived by train with her two children at Oakville, Ont., glowing with excitement at the thought of rejoining her husband, who came to Canada earlier to build a new life for his family.

Mrs. Pasut and the children, Lillian, 9, and Alessandro, 7, travelled by ship via New York from Italy, taking it easy because she suffers from a weak heart.

It fell to a priest to tell her the dread news: her husband fell to his death from a bridge while his family was at sea.

"I knew it, I knew it," the woman sobbed. "I had a dream."

LONDON — The Daily Sketch Friday published a cartoon showing a British-based United States atom bomber in flight with an RAF fighter flying beneath it with a large net.

All About Stamps

An aerial view of the United States Pavilion at Brussels will be featured on the 3-cent stamp to be issued at Detroit, Michigan, April 17, 1958, honoring the opening of the Brussels Universal and International Fair. The new stamp, designed by Bradbury Thompson, will be printed in deep red by rotary press, electric eye perforated, in sheets of fifty subjects. There will be an initial printing of 120 million. Reconstruction of French cities damaged by fire and bombing during World War II is the subject of four commemoratives which France will issue on the 21 March. The designs show the new buildings which are replacing the structures damaged by warfare at Le Havre, Maubeuge, Saint Die, and Sete. The 12-francs picture shows new construction at the port of Le Havre. The 15-francs picture shows apartment buildings and other structures erected at Maubeuge since the war. New construction at Saint Die is shown on the 18-francs and the 25-francs pictures the new port buildings at Sete which were destroyed during the invasion which liberated France.

SHORT NOTES — One of the better known stamp companies in the United States, the Academy Stamp Inc. of Miami, Florida, has entered the publishing field with the Academy Wholesale, dealers may obtain a copy by writing the company at 1766 NW 7 St. Miami, Florida. Finland will issue a general postage stamp, 4-marks value, on the 13 of April, gray in colour and of the same design as the other regular postage stamps used by this country. The 5-1/2 Australian War Memorial stamp has been received and it is an attractive stamp, there are two stamps in this set really, and care should be taken to make sure that you have the two. The designs are the same except for the symbolic figure at either side. Luxembourg has joined the many other countries and will issue a stamp for the Brussels International Fair.

Collectors might try the following quiz sometime. The answers will be printed next week. (1) Which country showed an underground railway on its stamps? (2) Which country had a prayer printed on the back of its stamps? (3) What anniversary was celebrated by many countries in 1949? (4) Robert Louis Stevenson is portrayed on a stamp, what country issued this stamp?

Collectors of plate blocks from Canadian stamps are promised a better deal on their purchases from the Philatelic Bureau in the future, with the minimum purchases reduced and the amount of the deposit lower, all should be happy. The collecting of plate blocks has been the subject of a bit of controversy lately, some claiming that this is not true philately, others saying that philately or not it is their idea of collecting. The writer feels that this most certainly is another part of collecting and just as much as topical collecting or precancelled and other items, but it does seem that nearly everyone who collects these is concerned to a great degree with the increased valuation which they hope for. The fact that there is only ordinary blocks, you purchase them, if you can, at face value, and one plate block to each sheet makes them scarcer than singles or right away you have an item that is worth at least 20 percent more, and this is what I've been told so many times.

The Coaticook Valley Farm Forum members were entertained by the Libbytown Forum at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davidson on March 10th.

The topic was "Ladies and Gentlemen" and dealt with ladies taking part in farm organizations. The broadcast was very good and the members divided into groups for discussion.

It was the opinion of all, that most farm women are interested in farm organizations, although they might prefer their own, such as W.I. and perhaps would not have time to be active in both.

It was felt that women should work shoulder to shoulder with

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If Henry Jaffe argues a pretty good case for his television shows, it's no accident. He's a lawyer as well as producer of some of the top TV fare.

Jaffe looks and talks like a lawyer, a sharp-witted New Yorker with names and figures at his fingertips. But he also operates importantly in the less orderly world of show business.

He was the man behind Producer's Showcase, which contributed such TV achievements as Peter Pan, the Bogart-Bacall Petrified Forest, the Satchers Wells Ballet, etc. His regular shows now are the Dinah Shore hour, Shirley Temple's Storybook and the daytime serial, Kitty Foyle.

Catching up with Jaffe is no easy matter. Though he produces the Temple and Shore shows here, he lives in New York and is one of the airlines' best customers. But I got him down to earth this week and asked him how he switched.

STARTED IN BOYHOOD

"If you want to go 'way back," he said, "you could start when I was a boy. My father was attorney for many of the leading figures in show business. He loved concerts and the theatre, and I'm not exaggerating when I say we often went to them five nights a week."

"In those days, Broadway had 70 shows a season, and we went to each of them. When we finished the list, we started over again. Sometimes I'd see a show 20 times."

"But I must say I haven't regretted it a bit. I'm having the time of my life."

Jaffe bristles with exciting future projects. One of them is the idea of a theatre-in-the-round which would try out plays here for TV. He has a special interest in the project. He wants to live here; his wife, the former film actress Jean Muir, hates California. But she's interested in theatres-in-the-round.

Who but a lawyer would think up a plot like that?

the men in farm organizations. The farm is a family concern, the problems are mutual and the women have as much to contribute as the men. Women, who do belong to these organizations should exercise their influence to encourage others to take a more active part.

After the meeting adjourned, guessing contests were enjoyed and prizes were given. The evening ended with a sugaring-off which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The next meeting will be on March 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baldwin. Mr. Albert St. Pierre of the Co-op Fed-er-ee has been invited as a special guest.

BROME —

Mrs. Effie Libby has gone to Montreal to be near her granddaughter, Miss Audrey Stone, who is ill at her home there. Mr. and Mrs. R. Meyer, of Granby, were guests of the former's mother, Mrs. N. Meyer. Mr. Ernest Page is in charge of Mr. Eric Foster's sugar bush this season.

OPINION...

by Gerald McDuff

The campus uproar over education has died down. The three youthful squatters at Premier Duplessis' doorstep are the only sign that the dissatisfaction has not died.

Sherbrooke was relatively unaffected except for a placard demonstration by a handful of University of Sherbrooke students, the occasional news item and picture in the newspaper.

To some people the whole idea of students' striking not only seemed rash but downright impertinent. These people felt that if the students tried other more discreet means, the problems would be solved quicker.

How dare these young upstarts! It was a common enough feeling. Nobody was really against increasing education grants. But negotiations seemed to them the more prudent way.

Students aren't to be blamed. They attend institutions where the free play of ideas is encouraged, where they are continually told to think for themselves. Anybody with half a mind can see the obvious. Of course, financial backing is needed.

Unfortunately, the incident has become a political football, just as education has been in so many election campaigns.

Now we come to the University of Sherbrooke. Why did the students refrain from supporting even a one-day strike? It would have fulfilled the commitments the student body executive made in Montreal. It would have saved face with the other universities.

Off hand, here are a few reasons.

Several professors on the law faculty threatened to quit teaching completely. They are mostly lawyers and do the teaching on a voluntary, unpaid basis.

Sixty-six per cent of the students receive provincial aid in either bursaries or some other form. This puts the University of Sherbrooke apart from Quebec's other universities.

The student body numbers about 700. Compared to Montreal and Quebec where the enrolment is in the thousands, this figure is not large.

As an institution, the University of Sherbrooke is young and has a small patronage established. It's not like Bishop's University which was founded years ago and has a solid backing of private donations as well as grants.

The university is preparing to launch a subscription campaign and a disturbance could have aroused bad feeling.

Aside from all these reasons, the students mostly live at home where they come under strong parental authority and maybe even political feelings.

The Wellington St. South merchants refuse to be rushed into a parking lot deal. At the special meeting, in City Hall, they were noticeably quiet except for one or two representatives. But they came back with a petition against the plan.

However, the site at Ball and Wellington Sts. appears unsatisfactory, especially for financial reasons. City officials are considering other sites in the immediate area, at lower costs.

One scheme covers a simple open parking lot similar to Meadow St. which could be operated until such time as the need becomes greater. Then a garage, "pigeon hole" or otherwise, could be erected.

The plan will be submitted to the Wellington St. South businessmen at a meeting to be called jointly by Aldermen Carl Camirand and Gerard Berard early next week.

Rigid tests have been carried out with the traffic lights at Portland St. and Queen Blvd. They are not working yet but there have been tests.

One informant said there were turned on for about an hour yesterday. That was one of the tests. Earlier this winter they were also tested. Some drivers reported seeing them function at odd times. They were tests too. A mechanism had to be changed after they were first installed because tests showed it was the wrong mechanism. One North Ward resident has threatened to "tear them out by the roots" if they don't function soon.

Court Hearing Postponed In Cattle Fraud Charge

The case against Harvey Reynolds, former manager of the Bromeside Farm near Foster, indicted on a charge of fraudulent conversion, was postponed yesterday and will continue on Tuesday morning.

Reynolds is specifically accused of having sold five head of cattle and that he neglected to turn the funds from the sale of the cattle over to the owner of the farm, Percival M. Fox, president of the St. Lawrence Corporation, from Montreal.

Evidence given yesterday centered around months of June, July and August of 1955.

Reynolds is charged with having sold the cattle to Ernest Gauthier, of Keteval, a farmer, during those months.

Fox, who has been owner of the Bromeside farm since 1945, first hired Reynolds in 1952 and Reynolds terminated his employment there in November of 1956.

Lengthy testimony on the part of Mr. Fox, who was in the witness box for nearly two hours, was directed towards proving that he had not received payment for the cattle which Reynolds is charged with having sold.

Ernest Gauthier testified that he had made full payment to Reynolds after the latter delivered the cattle to his farm. Identifying marks, or tattoos on the ears of the cattle which Gauthier had purchased, tallied with the marks on the ears of cattle which Fox maintained were missing from his farm and for which he had received no payment.

Roland Dube, a worker on the Bromeside farm, testified that he had helped to load the cattle in question on to a truck to be transported to the Gauthier farm.

Local Community Concerts Drive Opens Tomorrow

The executive of the Sherbrooke Community Concerts Association plans its next subscription campaign to be held from March 16 to 22.

Albert Rivard, new president, announced that Mrs. Madeleine McKenna and Mrs. Maura McKenna, co-chairmen, will be assisted by Mrs. C. F. White, Mrs. Marcel Savard, Mrs. B. Paquette, Mrs. B. J. Jacques and Miss Lucille Crochetiere. As in the past, many solicitors will ask for the renewals of the membership and headquarters for the campaign will be at H. C. Wilson's on Wellington Street.

The Sherbrooke Community Concerts Association also announced that two of the concerts for the next season have already been determined and local members will have the pleasure to hear for the first time in Sherbrooke, the young French baritone, Gerard Souzay, long recognized as one of the foremost recitalists in Europe. Born in Angers, France, Gerard Souzay studied music at the Paris Conservatory. He then was awarded both the "Premier Prix de Chant" and the "Premier Prix de Vocalise". This artist has sung under the great conductors of England and the Continent with many of the major symphony orchestras. He was also invited to the international music festivals in Strasbourg, Aix-En-Provence, Edinburgh, etc. In 1949 he was awarded the international "Grand Prix du Disque" for his recordings.

By special request, the Sherbrooke Community Concerts Association will also have the pleasure to present again the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Karl Muenchinger. This superlative ensemble was founded at Stuttgart, Germany, in 1945. Consisting of four first violins, three violas, three cellos and one bass viol, the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra boasts a repertoire of many varied compositions. They have performed throughout Western Europe, Switzerland, England, Italy, Spain and at the Salzburg and Edinburgh Festivals. Their ever increasing high reputation has been enhanced by their recordings on the London fir labels.

As in the past, the 22nd series of concerts will be presented at the Granada Theatre and ticket holders for the current season will have first choice of seats.

The membership campaign will be inaugurated by a banquet tomorrow night at 6.30 p.m., at the New Sherbrooke Hotel, under the chairmanship of Mr. Rivard.

Two Immunization Clinics Next Week

Two child health and immunization clinics for English-speaking children, sponsored by the Sherbrooke County Health Unit, will be held during the coming week. The first will be at the Lennoxville United Church hall on Wednesday and the second in St. Peter's Memorial Hall Montreal street, on Thursday.

Both clinics will operate from two to three o'clock.

Boys' Club Head Will Address Richmond Board

RICHMOND — Fraser Woodhouse, of Montreal, eastern region director of the Boys' Clubs of Canada, will be the guest speaker at the supper meeting of the Richmond and Melbourne Board of Trade to be held at the Richmond Hotel Monday evening at 6.30. Guests will include the members of the Richmond town council and Peter Kaye, Board member on the Youth Committee, will report on local youth activity.

Mr. Woodhouse was born in Montreal in Dec. 1925, and attended McGill University where he obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education in 1949, his degree of Bachelor of Social Work in 1950 and his Master's degree in Social Work in 1952.

During World War he served with the RCAF and on demobilization in 1945, took the position as assistant director of the 79th Battery Cadet Corps Boys' Club in Montreal.

During his college years he supplied taught for the Protestant School Board in Montreal and worked at Camp Lewis, as a Senior Counsellor, business manager, program Director and eventually camp director.

On graduation he was appointed Program Director for the Montreal Boys' Association, a multiple unit organization, working as camp director in the summer months.

In 1955 Mr. Woodhouse came to the Boys' Clubs of Canada as Regional Director, Eastern Area and Director of Training.

Sugar Bush Revolution

District Farmer To Adopt New Sap-Gathering System

By LEONARD RYAN

At least one Eastern Townships farmer, Gordon Herring, of Fairview Dairy in Lennoxville, is planning to adopt a revolutionary method of collecting maple sap. While this new method may take most of the picturesqueness out of the collecting of maple sap, it promises to increase the quantity and quality of sugar and syrup.

Secret of the success of the revolution lies in running polythene tubing directly from the taps in the trees to the sugar house. The pressure of the flowing sap is enough to draw it along a polythene pipe if the line is sealed. Gravity helps when the lines run down-hill.

Farmers claim sap reduction is increased as much as 75 per cent and labor costs are cut more than 50 per cent with this method of collection. When oil burners replace wood burners to boil the sap, back-breaking labor is cut even further.

Some plastics companies are producing complete kits for tapping trees but many farmers are making their own, buying the polythene tubing from local co-operatives, building-supply dealers or plastic companies. Some prefer the virgin white material. Others like it brightly colored so that it is easily seen against a snow background.

Really big operations run something like this:

Sap from individual taps drains into 1/4-inch polythene lines. These pipes are coupled to 3/4-inch branch lines connecting groups of trees and these in turn feed into one-inch mains that run to a collecting tank at the sugar house. The mains carry the flow from 750 to 1,000 taps at full production.

In smaller operations, a single-sized line could run directly from the trees to the sugar house, a "T" connection at the taps being sufficient to put the sap into the main line.

The polythene lines are usually run high enough to keep them above the snow. If trees are far apart lines may be supported on taut-strung wires. Plugged "T"s are inserted along the line to bleed off air bubbles that might slow down the flow of sap.

Big savings, according to farmers who have used the polythene pipe system, is in cutting labor costs. Spilling is avoided and sap remains clean from tree to sugar house.

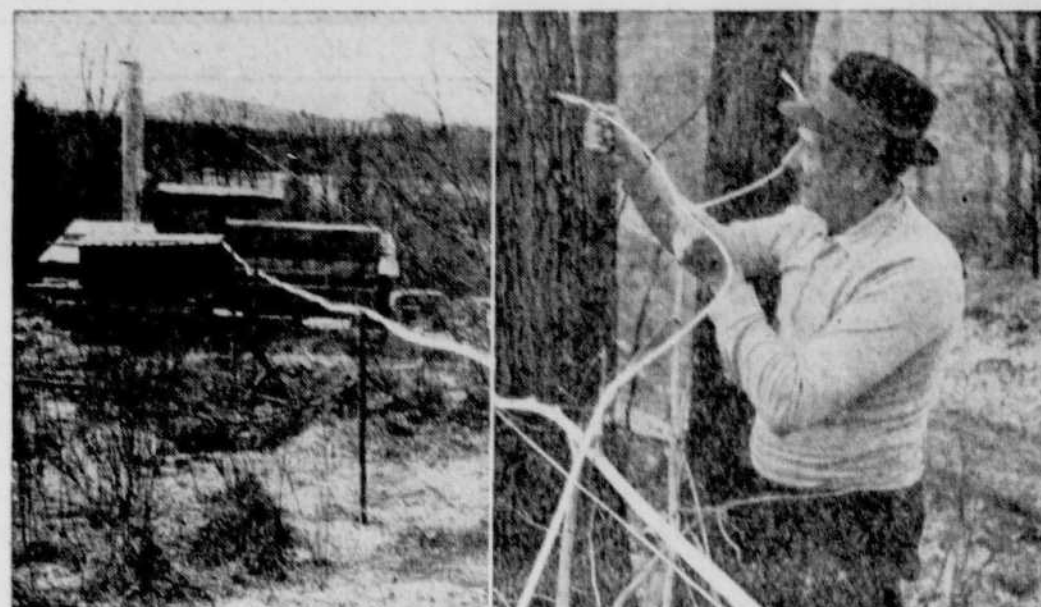

In addition, the first run sap that produces high quality, high priced syrup, is not lost as it ordinarily is while buckets are being hung. The pipe system is set up temporarily before the sap season, using the previous years' tap holes. Spouts are pushed in new holes just before the sap starts flowing.

Another advantage of the system is that the air does not get to the tap hole as readily. With older bucket or plastic bag systems, the open hole allows bacteria to enter closing the pores in the wood, and slowing the sap flow.

Mr. Herring, is planning to tap an additional 500 trees using the new system. At present Mr. Herring has 1,500 trees tapped. He expects to have the tubing installed next year.

There are certain disadvantages in Mr. Herring's case. His present sugar-bush is located just on the outskirts of Lennoxville and he fears that curious children will play with the lines loosening the connections which will cause a loss of sap. It is ideal, however, for the area in which he plans to use it. He CUTS LABOR — A revolution has come to the sugar bush which is taking much of the labor out of collecting maple sap while increasing the production and quality of syrup and sap. Polythene tubes run right from taps in the trees to the sugar cabin. Farmers claim that sap production is increased as much as 75 per cent over older methods and labor costs reduced by more than 50 per cent.

61st Annual Review Issue

The Sherbrooke Daily Record today presents its 61st Annual Review issue. Since the Record was first published on February 9, 1897, this newspaper has reflected the growth and expansion of the Eastern Townships. This year, the theme of the Annual Review is again development.

In pictures and stories, the growth of the Townships is reflected in the five-section supplement of today's issue. In addition, a general review of business and economic conditions is presented, putting in perspective the role of the Eastern Townships in the development of Canada. And this year, more articles of general interest have been gathered together to round out the picture.

Significantly, in a year which has seen a general slowdown in economic activity throughout the country, the Eastern Townships has moved steadily ahead. There have been adjustments here and there to meet the changing demands of a dynamic economy. But the general picture, as reflected in the pages of the Record's Annual Review, is one of a basically sound economy which will continue to progress in the future as it has in the past. Confidence is important, and the Record has every confidence in the future of this area and the people who live in it.

The Record wishes to thank all those who have helped to make this year's Annual Review possible. Many readers have allowed us to reproduce old pictures and both readers and correspondents have contributed much valuable material and information which has been incorporated in the issue.

Voting On The Issues

An indication of the interest among Quebec voters in the Conservative party was given this week when Finance Minister Donald Fleming addressed a meeting in Sherbrooke. He spoke to a capacity crowd. Mr. Fleming stated that a 10 per cent swing in votes would give the Conservative party a majority of the 75 seats in this province. It would appear from the number of people turning up at Conservative nominating, conventions and meetings throughout Quebec in contrast to recent years, that there is distinct possibility that this will be achieved.

Mr. Fleming, speaking entirely in French, listed the achievements of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's government during its eight months in office. He also pointed out that the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent has not only been replaced as leader of the Liberal Party, but has withdrawn entirely from politics. And Liberal talent is apparently so scarce that a former classmate of Mr. Fleming's at the University of Toronto, Lionel Chevrier, has been imported from Ontario to act as chief Quebec lieutenant for the new Liberal leader.

This is important. It means that for the first time in years, Quebec voters can, without reservation, judge candidates and policies presented by the two major parties, solely on their merits. It is on these terms that the Conservatives are appealing for the support necessary to enable Quebec province to play its full and traditional role in the national administration.

Dieting Restraint

"The trouble with dieting", says a veteran doctor, "is that too many people expect to take off too many pounds in too short a time."

Some people, when they decide to do something about their overweight, seem to forget that the surplus was an accumulation of, perhaps, a good many years. They do not realize that it isn't logical to expect the overload to come off, without bodily injury or nervous stress, within two or three months.

It requires a commendable amount of plain will power, expressed in table restraint, to effect a sizeable reduction in weight. Add a little common sense, urges this doctor — and probably many other doctors — and adopt a limited-objective plan.

Set a reasonable first goal of losing, say, five pounds in two months — an achievement not to be sneezed at. Then sit back content, for the moment, to hold the gain. Give the surprised body which, doubtless, never thought "you had it in you", a two-months respite in which to consolidate the victory and adjust itself. This means increasing the intake a little if the body should continue to lose and decreasing it as soon as it gains weight.

Then, if need be, another campaign may be launched for another five pounds off and at its end the body should be given another chance to catch up. With the adoption of this plan during alternating two-months periods 15 pounds may be lost not too painfully with ten months.

The advantage of the alternating plan is manifest. It gives a person a good chance of losing surplus weight with a minimum of feeling on edge or miserable — and without making others feel so miserable.

Sounds like horse-sense although it may take a rare degree of patience. It is not the easiest thing in the world, once launched, to restrain the restraining. But nations often find piecemeal objectives the soundest plan and they work well in many cases for dieting individuals.

EXPERTS WATCH PARTNER SLUFFS

Look at the North and East hands only and put yourself in the position of the East player. You drop the deuce of spades on your partner's opening queen of spades lead and declarer wins with the king. He goes after the club suit next and your partner wins the third lead. This gives you a chance to make a discard. What should it be?

A quick use of the point count marks declarer with every missing high card except the jack of spades, already shown by your partner's queen opening. You need an immediate heart shift to beat the contract and what play could be more natural than a signal with the jack.

If you are playing with an ordinary partner you had best give this signal. It turns out that you won't beat the hand because South happens to hold four hearts to the eight and your high heart discard has given him a stopper.

If you are a good player and your partner is very good you don't need to waste a high heart to get the desired lead. All you have to do is to chuck the deuce of diamonds.

Your very good partner will do a little point counting of his own. He will note that declarer can have a good no-trump without a heart honor. He will also note that you might have been unable to spare a high heart. He will further note that you have signaled off in all other suits. Out

MAPLE SYRUP TIME IN THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

Saturday Sermon

Others

BY REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

Having attempted last week to answer, "What do you think of yourself?", it seems logical to pose the question: "What do you think of others?"

Let me begin by stating we find ourselves in an inter-related world. To this basic fact we must adjust our thinking for on our attitudes depend to a large extent the degree of happiness we extract from the Game of Life.

LIFE A GAME WITH OTHERS
Now the word Game suggests that we are members of a team with each one obeying the rules and doing his part to play the Game with honor. This involves a right attitude towards oneself, an attitude that must extend beyond himself to others.

Some day write the story of your life with others — a story that begins with parenthood and as it extends through childhood, boyhood and manhood it is lived in relationships with others. Life accordingly convinces those who think clearly that we are brethren so bound in the one bundle of life that we have a responsibility towards others.

Towards this end God has, in His wisdom, provided us, His children, with the Ten Commandments, the last six of which are golden rules for living successfully, socially. And by following these directions which the church readily and freely supplies, you, too, can become a worthy member of the Family of God functioning as a good neighbour as well as a lover of and helper of men; thy brethren.

TO BE A CHRISTIAN
In brief, a Christian, Re-read as if for the first time the New Testament and you will discover that MEN to be a Christian involved belonging to that company of ALL faithful people who worshipped their Risen Lord, and, like Him, went along doing good to everyone irrespective of race, creed, or class.

Today to be a Christian demands that we share in the work of Christ in the society of Jesus which has as a goal, the presenting of each individual perfect in Christ.

Others then and Others now are our special concern. Imitating the Good Shepherd we must bring all others in so that there eventually will be one fold and one Shepherd-Christ (John 17-21). In fact one of the conditions of the Second Coming impinges on the proclamation of the Gospel to every creature in all parts of the world.

This, of course, is bound up with what we think of Jesus Christ. If we have found more than all in Him we shall desire to share Him with others. And if we really love Him, your love will impel you to witness for Him before others and thereby hasten the time when every man shall a brother be in the great Brotherhood of Jesus.

OTHERS AND THE CHURCH

To others then so that all people shall hear the Good News of the love of God, the Church must address herself. The Bride of Christ exists to bring ALL men everywhere under the scope of Christ's redemption and to claim for the Spirit of Christ the effectual lordship over all human thought and life and activity. It is Her threefold task at once to develop and make real within Her own borders the life of brotherhood in Christ, to evangelize the heathen by declaring to them the satisfaction of their instinctive search for God in the answering search of God for them and to labour for the discovery and the application of Christian solutions to the problems of industry and commerce, of politics and social life and international affairs.

Now this statement of fact can be summed up in one word—OTHERS. That same word is writ on the heart of a dear heavenly Father Who so loved the world that He permitted His only Begotten Son to take our nature upon Him and be born of the Virgin Mary at Bethlehem.

After thirty-three years of loving sacrificial service with a special concern for the least, the last and the lost—others—Jesus gave His life a ransom for others at Calvary. For others He provided "the means of Grace," and for others He now pleads in Heaven (Heb. 17-25) and there with His own gracious smile, will welcome us home. Others then is the Church's watchword. It should be yours and mine, too.

As we look back across the centuries, the names that shine as stars on the Church's Honor Roll are those who caught the torch from Christ and His apostles and kept it burning as they made it worldwide its scope. These too, had others inscribed on their hearts.

But we can't all go to the foreign lands. We can, however, like Saint Andrew, bring another brother to the Master. We can pray and TITHE so that others may represent us and the Gospel be proclaimed everywhere (Matt. 28-19). On the home front we, too, can represent Christ, displaying such an unusual quality of loving concern that others will say we have been with Jesus. (Acts 4-13). Yes, each of us can be a walking Bible — in fact it could well be that we are the only Bible busy folks read.

Nor do you have to go far afield to find opportunities for service. There are people in the place where you work and live who need a word of cheer, a helping hand. Then there is the Church with her orphanages, homes for the aged, hospitals, and other gracious ministries devoted to welfare of the minds, bodies and souls of Her Spiritual children, doing a great work in His Name for others. And by sharing in this work it may well be in God's Honor roll you name may be writ beside that of such honored lovers of, and workers for, their fellowmen as John Wesley, William Booth, Florence Nightingale, Jane Adams, Bishop Philip Brooks and Sir Wilfred Grenfell, the Labrador doctor.

To this ministry to Others, the

FEWER ON THE FARMS

Fiftyish people will remember a World War I song that went, "How You Gonna Keep 'em Down on the Farm?" The answer is, you weren't going to and you didn't. Farm population in the United States reached a peak in 1915 at 32,440,000. It was down to 22,257,000 in 1956 and is still slipping.

CITY OF JOINERS

(London Free Press)

On the stormiest night this Winter there was published and broadcast for the benefit of vast numbers of people, a list of all "meetings" arranged for that night which had been cancelled because of the storm. It was an almost endless list.

London has ever had the reputation of being a "joining" city, a community devoted to membership, a group of citizens dedicated to the proposition that unless you join and are a regular, paid-up member in good standing you are de-classé.

There's nothing wrong with joining the coterie of your choice; it's just that someone else has to keep the home fires burning.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

I WILL SING THE WONDROUS STORY

I will sing the wondrous story Of the Christ who died for me, How he left his home in glory For the cross on Calvary.

I was lost but Jesus found me, Found the sheep that went astray; Threw his loving arms around me, Drew me back into his way.

I was bruised, but Jesus healed me, Faint was I from many a fall; Sight was gone, and fears possessed me, But he freed me from them all.

Days of darkness still come o'er me, Sorrow's path I often tread; But the Savior still is with me, By his hand I'm safely led.

He will keep me till the river Rolls its waters at my feet; Then he'll bear me safely over, Where the loved ones I shall meet.

"I WILL SING THE WONDROUS STORY"

It is a good while since Dwight L. Moody and Ira Sankey stirred America with their gospel crusades, but the influence of their soul-winning songs and sermons can still be felt and measured.

The two evangelists were holding a revival in Chicago one day in 1882 when into their meeting hall, with other worshippers, came a 21-year-old youth named Peter Bilhorn. Listening to Dr. Moody preach on the theme, "Christ Hath Redeemed Us," the lad in the pews heard the call of God. When the service was over, he knelt at the altar and asked to become a Christian.

His conversion changed his whole life. He resolved to devote himself to preaching and singing the gospel message which he had heard that night so that other men and women might find Christ.

When F. H. Rowley wrote his hymn, "I Will Sing The Wondrous Story," in 1887, it was taken up eagerly by Mr. Sankey who popularized it over night in the Moody revival meetings. It caught the fancy, too, of Peter Bilhorn. Here, he decided, was a song with a glorious message for his soul-winning work. Perhaps he felt a description of his own conversion in Mr. Rowley's verses:

"I was lost but Jesus found me, Found the sheep that went astray; Threw his loving arms around me, Drew me back into His way.

I was bruised, but Jesus healed me, Faint was I from many a fall; Sight was gone, and fears possessed me, But he freed me from them all."

At any rate, he was much impressed by the hymn—so much so that he composed the music for it. The tune helped to carry the new song to even greater popularity. It is precious to many twentieth century Christians who long ago lost track of the words for which it was created.

Mr. Bilhorn wrote some hymns of his own, and then set them to music. One of the best of these was his "Sweet Peace, The Gift Of God's Love."

Letter To Editor

The Editor, Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Dear Sir:
Mr. Henderson, of Ayer's Cliff, stated in one of his letters, that the people of Argentina voted in a government which may bring back their old dictator Peron. I think Mr. Lester Pearson stepped into a dictator's shoes the day in Parliament when he wanted to take the reins from Prime Minister Diefenbaker without an election. If not I would like to know the definition of a dictator. Yes, it could happen here, Mr. Henderson, but in 1958 at least the people are going to get a chance to vote.

Mr. Henderson states the very essence of Liberalism is to be able to change with the times. There may be something to that evidently, proven by C. H. who puts the issue on the balance and votes accordingly. I trust that in this great country of ours thousands are doing the same, getting out of the one-way rut. By rut I mean a track like that found on most of the roads in Quebec before Duplessis was elected Prime Minister. Think of it Mr. Henderson, even Duplessis didn't have the nerve or brass to think he should be given the reins without an election.

MAKE WILL AT LEISURE

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

When people go South for the Winter, or on a trip abroad in the Summer it may occur to them that they have not made their wills, and suddenly decide to do so in a hurry "just in case of something happening."

Many people are neglectful in that regard. They make careful and timely preparations for their journeys, but they are put off preparing for the other and longer trip that lies ahead of them.

The lawyer who prepares a will must have all the facts before him and time to deal with the matter in a careful and unhurried manner.

Careful and well-thought-out instructions should be discussed with the draftsman in preference to hurried, makeshift and scanty information which so frequently forms the basis of a will.

BRAVE TALK

(Brantford Expositor)

Mr. Coldwell, the CCF leader, says the forthcoming election may see the end of the Liberal party as a major political force. It must be remembered, however, that Mr. Coldwell has to talk bravely to encourage his Socialist followers and that he is entitled, as are all party chieftains, to indulge in a bit of wishful thinking now and then.

However, he could be right. After what happened last June 10, who's to say?

BISHOP'S BULLETIN BOARD

By PETER BLAIKIE
Interest in the elections for positions on the Students' Executive Council reached a new low this year, with only three of the minor posts being contested, the other three being filled by acclamation. At the second nomination meeting yesterday afternoon, the following candidates were nominated for the various seats on the Council.

DEBATING SOCIETY
With a host of new ideas being suggested by this year's executive, the new president of the Debating Society will have ample scope for innovation and initiative. The two candidates are Geraldine Hanna, a third year Arts student, and Malcolm Hughes, of the Divinity Faculty.

Miss Hanna has been active in debating during her two years at the university, and this year was secretary of the Society. A scholarship student, with a high academic standing, she is also a member of several campus organizations, including the Salon Franciscus, the Glee Club and the Canterbury Club.

Her opponent, Malcolm Hughes, came to Bishop's from McGill University. He has also spent six years in the Army, with the Canadian Guards. Apart from debating, Malcolm is an athlete and played football for the varsity squad, both at McGill and Bishop's. He has debated several times this year, being a member of the Bishop's team in the IUDL Tournament.

BOARD OF PUBLICITY
Still the junior seat on the Council, the Board of Publicity is rapidly gaining in importance and stature. In the race for the presidency are Ian Munceaster and Sandy Sinclair.

Ian is an immigrant from the University of British Columbia and has been active in several fields in this, his first year at Bishop's. Much of his time has been spent in radio work this year, since he is a member of the comedy triumvirate on the 'Open House' program. He has continued interest in dramatics, an activity he first cultivated at UBC, where he was also president of his fraternity. Ian is a commissioned officer in the COTC, and will be spending the summer with the Army.

The other candidate, Sandy Sinclair, has been active in a more athletic field, having played for both the basketball and football teams, as well as organizing the rifle team, which was started this year. Sandy has also worked on the Winter Carnival Committee, and is a member of the Dance Committee.

PRESIDENT OF SECOND YEAR
With only three candidates running, this position has attracted the lowest number of applicants in the past four years. However, all three candidates have been active in university life this year.

Bruce Stavert was chairman of the Publications Agency, which us publications. He is also a member of the NFCUS Committee, has done some debating, and participates in the Salon Franciscus.

Brian Gray, a 21-year-old student from Lachute, has also been active in debating, competing in the two Freshman debates, and has worked on the biology exhibition which takes place next weekend.

The third candidate, Jon Wisenthal, has participated in a wide field of activities. Like his opponents, Jon has done a lot of debating, and he has also handled the weekly news broadcast of the Board of Publicity, as well as writing for The Campus.

ACCLAMATIONS
Tony Vincent was acclaimed to his second term of president of the Dramatics Society, the first time in several years that anyone has held the same office for two consecutive years. Tony has spent a great deal of time promoting the Society, and in his second term will be able to complete numerous projects he began this year. His experience in the field is great, and he has had leading roles in the Major Play for the past three years, as well as acting and directing Minor Plays.

Phil Scowen is the new president of Athletics. With talk of having a combined student-athletic board to run athletics, his duties will be legion. Phil's experience is spread over a large area and he has worked on the Winter Carnival Committee, did the Dramatics Society this year, promoted the circulation of The Mitre, and in a more athletic vein, was manager of Hockey this year.

The third acclamation was Peter Leslie to the presidency of the Board of Publications. This becomes a more involved task every year, and Peter's qualifications fit him for the position. This year he was editor of The Campus, and continued the high standard set by last year's staff. He has also worked in dramatics, is a member of numerous campus clubs, and was a delegate to the McGill Conference on World Affairs, held earlier this year.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY
Running for the vice-presidency are Tish Holcomb, and Barbara Fellows, both second year science students. The chief duty of the vice-president is to head the Poster Committee, and both girls have had considerable experience in this work. Both are members of the Music Club, and other campus organizations including the Carnabellies and Dramatics.

Luella Pond was acclaimed to the position of secretary-treasurer of the Society, while Anne Massey, Jane Blaikie, and Ann Hodge are running for president of Second Year.

AROUND AND ABOUT
The second Skinner Debate was held early this week and the result of the hour of oratory was a draw. The debate was held in parliamentary style, but all the speakers wandered from the topic and there were so many interruptions from the floor that one judge stated that the debate was so poor he could only call it a draw.

Since the competition for the Skinner Trophy is two-out-of-three, one more debate will be held, and if Divinity wins this one they regain the trophy, while if the Arts and Science debaters are victorious, the trophy will not be awarded to either side.

After months of preparation the members of the Biology Club have practically completed work on their annual exhibition, which is to be held next week-end. The general public is cordially invited to attend the exhibition, entitled "Life in Fresh Water," and the rooms will be open on Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening of next week.

Giving some idea of the scope of the display, the Club has erected an artificial lake in one room of the laboratory. The lake is over 15 feet long, and about 8 feet wide.

TOWERING TREES
Sitka spruce of the British Columbia coast may grow as high as 250 feet.

District Group Reorganized By Anglican Clergy

An organizational meeting of the St. Francis District Clerical Association was held in St. George's Parish Hall, Lennoxville. This association is comprised of the Anglican clergy of the four local deaneries of Sherbrooke, Cookshire, Richmond and Coaticook.

The Most Rev. Philip Carrington, Archbishop of Quebec, was elected honorary president; the Ven. T. J. Matthews, Archdeacon of St. Francis and Rector of St. George's, Lennoxville, president; Rev. A. L. Salt, Rector of Christ Church, Stanstead, vice-president, and Rev. P. B. Kingston, rector of St. Augustine's Church, Danville, secretary-treasurer. The four Rural Deans, Rev. R. Reeve, Rev. H. C. Denton, Rev. W. Walker, and Rev. J. Apps were appointed to the executive.

The St. Francis Association, which, in fact, had its beginnings in the 1840's, was reorganized to provide for the local clergy a means of meeting together for the purpose of devotion, education and Christian fellowship. Six meetings are tentatively planned for the year, three of a devotional type centered around quiet days and retreats and three for the purpose of furthering the clergy's understanding of theological and educational subjects.

The first meeting had as its guest, Rev. Dr. Leonard Hatfield, Director of the Council of Social Service for the Anglican Church of Canada, who spoke of the recent work of the council with regards to immigration and rural life.

Rev. Alex Craig, Eastern Field Secretary of the General Board of Religious Education, spoke briefly of the 50th anniversary of that board.

Canon W. Dunn of Cookshire gave an account of the history of the St. Francis Association from its beginning in the 1840's until the time of the Second War, when it last met.

The program also included an interesting and informative talk by Rev. James Brown, of Drummondville, on the Dead Sea Scrolls concerning recent theories as to their date of origin and the meaning of their content. The afternoon concluded with tea served by Mrs. Matthews in the rectory, followed by Evensong said by the Archdeacon in the church.

sudden contact, could launch a torpedo.

The orders under which U.S. defence forces operate is to defend themselves if attacked. The man who would have to make the decision on whether to accept a torpedo duel is Cmdr. Richard B. Laning, captain of the Seawolf and veteran of undersea battles of the Pacific.

FLAGSHIP OF FORCE

The Seawolf is the flagship of a search force organized after this particular unidentified submarine report. So Laning must direct not only the operation of his own ship but of other surface, surface and air searchers.

For days the Seawolf has roamed up and down deep in the ocean, never coming nearer the surface than enough to poke up radar antenna and a periscope tip. Since the search started there have been investigations of a number of possible "contacts." Most of them were "soft," the definition of vague electronic images.

But it was different the other night.

The Seawolf had her whip antenna up to hold radio talk with the other searchers. From a plane came the radioed voice of a pilot, telling of a suspected presence in the water below him.

POWER INCREASED
The telegraph on the control room board had read "one-third ahead." The bell jangled as it moved up to full power, then to "flank" speed. The velvet-smooth power of atomic energy increased at first.

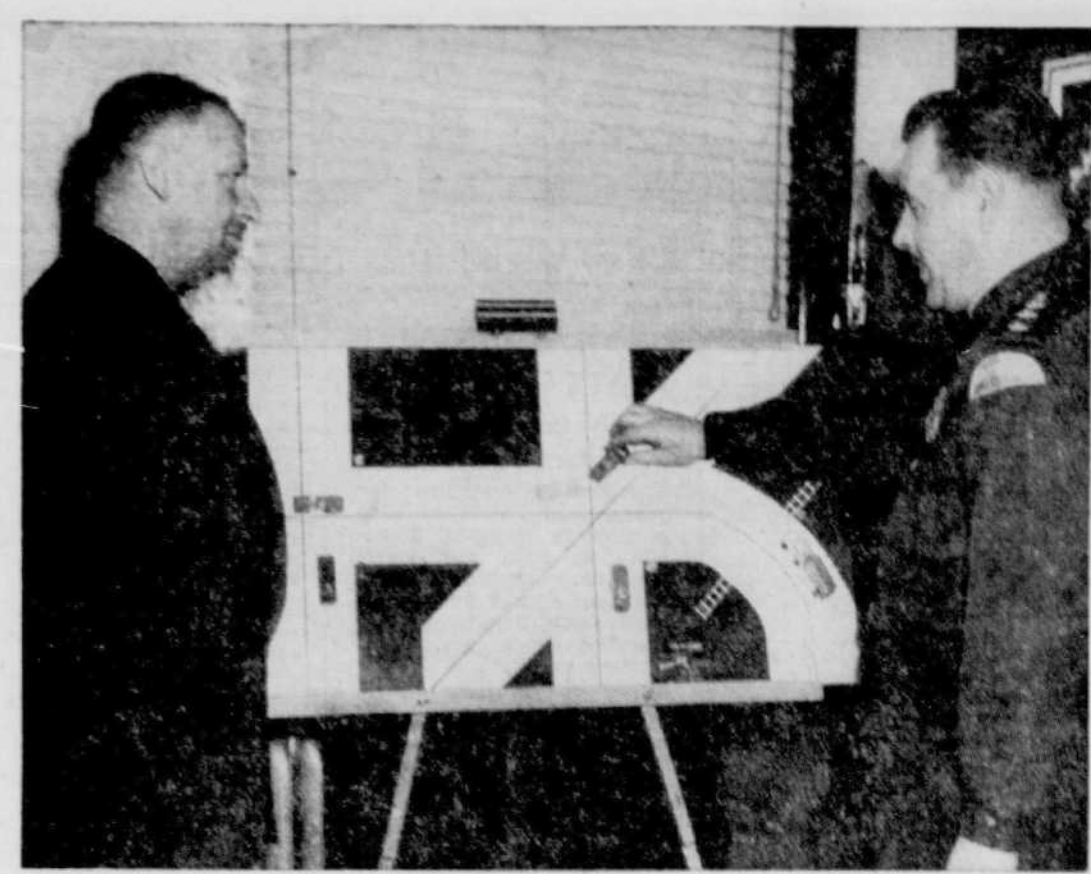

At under the suspected presence is far away. But the distance closes.

What does the echo seem like on the sound gear, what telltale noise is there?

Is "he" out there? Or a big fish, or whale?

Sonar tries to say that "he," that he has a steel hide because the echo comes back so sharply. And what then?

In the interests of security, this account must end without an answer.

RICHMOND GROUP HOLDS BANQUET

The 1st Richmond Pack and troop held their annual Father and Son banquet last week. The Rev. I. A. Apps, Group Chaplain, started off the banquet with Scout Grace. The dinner was under the direction of the Richmond Scout Ladies' Auxiliary with Mr. J. Stelwagen, Group Committee chairman proposing the toast to the Queen. Patrol Leader Robert Sinclair proposed a toast to the fathers which was replied to by S. A. Taylor, Scout Billy Cleveland thanked the Ladies Auxiliary for the lovely supper. A sing-song was led by Scoutmaster Donald Chamberlain followed by reports of the Section Leaders of the Richmond Pack and Troop.

Mrs. Frances Dewar reported for the Gold Pack, and Donald Gamble reported for the Blue Pack with Scoutmaster Donald Chamberlain reporting on the Troop. Guests were B. Templeman, St. Francis Valley District Commissioner, Mr. Bogstead, District Council representative, H. P. Stone, pro-mayor of Richmond, Principal L. F. Somerville, Rev. J. L. Dean and Rev. I. A. Apps. The Group Committee was introduced. J. Stelwagen, chairman, J. Stoth, T. Nixon, A. Mills, P. Frazer and D. Kerr.

The District Commissioner, B. Templeman, gave a short talk on "The Life of Lord Baden-Powell." The following badges were then awarded: Chaplain's Badge to Rev. I. A. Apps, Scoutmaster's hat badge to Donald Chamberlain, Patrol Leader Stripes and Cub Instructor's Badge to Patrol Leader M. Dean, Gold Cord and Missioner's Badge to Patrol Leader Robert Sinclair, 2nd Class Badges to Scouts Edson Andrews, Barry Brock and Douglas Kerr, and the Leaping Wolf Badge to Scouts Billy Frazer, Bobby Taylor and Terry Whittingstall.

This very active Troop, 32 members, recently formed a new Patrol, the Eagle Patrol with Morley Dean as Patrol Leader. Last month ten Cubs came up into the Troop. Recently the 1st Asbestos Troop visited the Richmond Troop and both Troops united for an evening of games and Patrol instruction. Good luck Richmond Scouting!

ERROR AND APOLOGY

Last week's column contained an error, the information about the Sherbrooke District Scouters' Council meeting. The meeting will NOT be on Tuesday, March 18 in Waterville with Stanstead Scouters attending, but on Thursday, March 20, in Sherbrooke at the Plymouth United Church and Stanstead Scouters will be attending the April meeting. Sorry to all concerned, but be sure to come on March 20, Thursday, 8 p.m. The Sherbrooke District Scouters' Council is a meeting of all leaders in the district and about 40 are expected to attend this meeting.

HATLEY-MASSAWIPPI TROOP BANQUET

Members of the Hatley-Massawippi Troop held a Father and Son banquet in the Massawippi Community Hall recently. The Ladies' Auxiliary provided the turkey dinner. Scout Gordon Mosher said Scout Gordon to open the banquet. J. W. Pawley proposed a toast to the Queen and then one to the late Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting.

District Commissioner, Mr. Justice Mitchell, gave a short talk on Scouting in the Stanstead area. J. W. Pawley, Group secretary-treasurer, gave a review of Troop activities with special details on the Troop's recent building of an outdoor igloo. Scouts Jimmy Piper, Philip Bowen and Sonny Bowen spent the night in the igloo at near zero temperature and lived to report that they spent the night snug and warm. The banquet closed with Queen Scout Gordon Sarasin thanking the ladies for their splendid support over the past year.

Coldwell To Get Checkup In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) - CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell will receive a medical examination in Ottawa Saturday, CCF headquarters said Friday.

The 69-year-old party leader returned to the capital by air Friday for a rest after complaining of being tired during recent election campaign meetings in Western Canada.

An official at CCF headquarters said Mr. Coldwell will be examined by Dr. T. L. Fisher, Ottawa heart specialist. Dr. Fisher was Mr. Coldwell's physician when he suffered a mild heart attack prior to last June's federal election.

The CCF official indicated that the results of Dr. Fisher's examination will determine the further extent to which Mr. Coldwell will participate in the present election campaign.

Mr. Coldwell, he announced, has cancelled a speaking engagement at Port Arthur, Ont., Monday. He will be replaced by Stanley Knowles, deputy leader of the CCF party.

The party previously announced that Mr. Coldwell had cancelled only one speaking engagement in Montreal which had been scheduled for Friday night.

Mr. Coldwell was first reported to have taken sick Tuesday night during a speech at Moose Jaw, Sask. On Wednesday he said in Regina he was not sick but "very, very tired."

trating the rebel troops in the west coast area in preparation for a major battle.

So far government forces had seized eastern coastal points which permitted them to snap rebel barrier trade with Singapore. But they held only relatively unpopulated areas, mostly marshlands. To get at heavily populated west coast rebel centres from Pakanbaru they would have to fight through 7,500-foot-high mountains and jungle to Padang, 125 airlines miles to the southwest.

There was a possibility, however, that the government forces would attempt a naval landing on the west coast.

'Open House' Held By School At Stanbridge East

STANBRIDGE EAST - Acting on a suggestion by the local Women's Institute, the Stanbridge East Consolidated School observed Education Week by holding "Open House." During the visiting hours same 50 or more visitors toured the classrooms and observed the special programs which had been arranged by the teachers.

The primary room in charge of Mrs. M. Perkins, featured reading, drawing, and a shadow play.

Grades three and four, under the direction of Mrs. D. Blinn, took part in a spelling match and gave two French plays, "Le Petit Chaperon Rouge," and "Dans un Magasin".

Grade five, under the tutelage of Mrs. B. Pyke, presented a puppet show, "The Story of Cinderella." The puppets were made by the children, and the dialogue was given in both French and English. Grade six, in charge of the same teacher, offered brief speeches on various subjects relating to sound.

In the principal's room, French and geography lessons were presented, and the concluding item was a debate, "Resolved, that comic books are a menace to children," with pupils from grade seven, eight and nine taking part.

In conclusion, the principal, Mr. Allum, thanked all present for their interest in the school and its activities. Mrs. George Tremblay, on behalf of the Women's Institute, expressed appreciation to the entire staff for the privilege of visiting the school, and for their efforts in making the afternoon such an interesting and enjoyable occasion.

GENERAL NOTES

Several friends attended an afternoon tea held at the home of Mrs. O. Casey in honor of Mrs. Ramsey who is leaving for England shortly. Tea was poured by Mrs. Gustave Broeckert and refreshments were served by the hostess.

owns another section of land which is of such difficult terrain as to make normal gathering of sap impractical. Now this whole new area is potentially productive.

Mr. Herring says the cost of materials and equipment is approximately the same as that of the conventional method of sap collection. Some manufacturers claim that the expense of installing a plastic tubing system is considerably less than that of the bucket method.

The idea is barely out of the experimental stage but it seems likely that it will take hold and prove to be another aid to the greater production of a better product.

PIGEON HILL

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Willey were Mr. Allen Needham, of Magog, Mr. Wayne Sornberger, of Lachine and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Clough, of St. Lambert. Master Freddie Willey is spending a few days with his aunt, Mrs. Clough, in St. Lambert. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Willey and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bergeron in East Berkshire, Vt.

Miss Helen Needham is employed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Titterton at Morse's Line.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bourdeau and daughters, were guests of Mrs. Ernest Erno in Enosburg Falls, Vt. The Bourdeaus were also recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell in Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Erno were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tinsley, of St. Ignace. Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Crandall, of Stanbridge East, were guests at the Erno home.

Dedication Of St. Patrick's School April 13

His Excellency, Georges Cabana, Archbishop of Sherbrooke will officiate at the Solemn Blessing of the new St. Patrick's High School Building on Sunday, April 13. The new building was opened in September, 1956 at the start of the school year, replacing the old St. Patrick's Academy which was built in 1910 and in which the Presentation Brothers taught school until 1955. Presently in charge are the Salesian Fathers of St. John Bosco.

The new building has 11 classrooms, a chemistry lab, library, cafeteria, gymnasium, bookstore, stage, chapel and offices. It fills a much needed spot as the only English-language Roman Catholic school for boys in Sherbrooke.

The preparations for the ceremony are in the hands of the Fathers' Club and the Mothers Guild.

Dealer Addressed Stamp Collectors

Some 40 stamp collectors from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Coaticook, Windsor Mills, Magog, Waterville, Johnville and Dixville attended a meeting of the Coaticook Stamp Club Thursday evening at the Y.M.C.A. in Sherbrooke.

Members heard talk on the hobby from a dealer's point of view by John Turner, presently of Lennoxville, who spent 15 years as a stamp dealer in New York City.

After the meeting, the evening was spent comparing collections and swapping ideas.

BRAVE DOG

Neil Tracy Winner Of Crib Tournament

Neil Tracy has won the cribbage tournament sponsored by the Oasis Club for the Blind with a score of 2389 out of a possible 2420 points. Second position was taken by Mrs. William Dubreuil with 2319 points. The tournament consisted of a run of 20 games for each player. Norman Tracy, Neil's brother, said yesterday that the winning score would probably earn a position quite high up in the dominion tournament. These results will be announced in April.

The club wishes to express its thanks to those who assisted in the score keeping. They are N. L. Amiralet, Don Clowery and Alberic Julien.

The Ladies Guild of St. John's Anglican Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Whittaker. Rev. F. W. Gedge opened the meeting with prayer and the business was conducted by the president, Mrs. J. A. Byers. The secretary, Mrs. J. E. Soles, read the minutes. A short discussion on doing repairs to the parsonage was held and a donation of yard goods from The T. Eaton Co. was sold. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Effie Libby.

At the recent card party held at the home of Mrs. Ida Robinson, 500 was played at four tables. The prize was won by Mrs. Lyla Owens. The next party will be held at "The Pines", the home of Mrs. G. A. Mason.

Miss Maria Chaffer is home from school for a time through illness.

Assembly And Amateur Hour Close Education Week At Sunnyside School

ROCK ISLAND — To mark the closing of Education Week, an assembly was held on Friday morning in the Sunnyside school auditorium, attended by the 10 classes of the school and teaching staff.

The principal, Mrs. Hugh McClary, as mistress of ceremonies, opened the assembly with appropriate remarks, followed by a devotional period of hymn singing, responsive reading of Scriptures and prayer.

Mrs. McClary introduced the guest speaker, E. J. Struthers, of Stanstead, who spoke on five points of teamwork, saying more is accomplished in teams than alone. He spoke of the efforts of groups for the building of Sunnyside school a few years ago, and of the five teams who make this possible.

First were the ratepayers, who provide money for the school and, just two weeks ago, placed their trust in the students by signing a petition in favor of another 12-room addition; second, the Central and local school boards; third, the teaching staff; fourth, the people who make up the curricular program, and fifth, the students.

Mr. Struthers, a noted historian, spoke briefly of local history and of the interest which may be enjoyed by the student who makes a study of this, of geography, arithmetic, the advantages of learning French, and other subjects taught in the schools.

He stressed the point that this is a world of continual changes, and one must study to know. In closing he told a true story to the juniors, but enjoyed by all, about a train and seagulls in Western Canada.

Mrs. McClary thanked the speaker for his entertaining talk, which had kept so many students of various ages, interested.

Mr. Struthers presented to the school student council president, George Cooke, a framed historic map, in memory of the late Ashley Scarth.

The same afternoon, the students of the school, staff and a number of parents and friends gathered in the auditorium for an amateur hour program, presented by the pupils under the direction of the music teacher, Mrs. Ashley Scarth.

The program opened with a piano solo by Gordon Hyatt. Carole Dewey and Jackie Keeley presented "Dwarf's Yodel Song", a song and dance. Students of Grade 4B, rendered a song and gave a dance, followed by a duet, "Winter Wonderland", by Mary Osborne and Shirley Wallace. Penny Carboneau showed skill in a juggling act and students of Grade 3, gave a dramatized song, "A Frog Went A-Courting".

"Slumber, Slumber," was sung by Sandra Armstrong, Audrey Baldwin, Barbara Sherman and Verdena Ellis, a group of Grade 5 girls. Heather Burnell, sang "Let the Sunshine In." A group from Grade 2, Barry Dewey, Barry Dale Stevens, Sharlene Bowen and Joyce Hyatt, presented a song and square dance.

"This Old Man" was sung by Marino Kennison, Judy Comstock, Sheila Fisher and Betty Davis. Bronni Patterson and Nancy Alexander presented a piano duet, "The Skaters Waltz". Susan and Doreen Fisher teamed up to present "The Dancing Doll" in an original manner.

Bobby Dennis presented several fine vocal selections, accompanying himself on his guitar. He also accompanied Joyce French for several solos. Bobby, Brian Griffith and Wendell Webb were heard in two vocal and guitar selections.

The students paid an admission of 10 cents for the Student Council fund, and were eligible for door prizes, which were won by Joyce Sanschagrin, Deanna Rollins and Christina Curtis.

The decision of the judges for the program numbers were as follows:

Senior group, 1st, Susan and Doreen Fisher; 2nd, Mary Osborne and Shirley Wallace; 3rd, Bronni Patterson and Nancy Alexander.

In the Juniors, 1st, Grade 3; 2nd, Grade 4B, and 3rd, Grade 2.

Wendell Webb was emcee and Mrs. Scarth presided at the piano as accompanist. The entire program was presented in an excellent manner and showed much talent.

The healing and saving power of faith, when it is advanced to spiritual understanding, will be brought out at Christian Science Services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" will include the following from James (2:14): "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works?"

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (323:13-18): "In order to apprehend more, we must put into practice what we already know. We must recollect that Truth is demonstrable when understood, and that good is not understood until demonstrated. If faithful over a few things, we shall be made rulers over many; but the one unused talent decays and is lost."

Woman's Post-Family Years Can Be Rich Time of Life

Worrying about what you'll do with your time once your children are all grown and gone from home?

Don't. That's one thing women are told we ought to worry about that doesn't make sense.

To begin with, there are all kinds of jobs open to middle-aged women who have the required amount of get-up-and-go. There are paid jobs and volunteer jobs—and if you can't get or don't need the first kind, the second kind is a cinch for any woman who is willing to work.

But leaving the job solution out of the question, what woman during the busy years of bringing up a family has had time to be the kind of person she would like to be or to do the things she would like to do for her own education and entertainment?

All through the busy years we think of things we would like to do for others—if we only had the time. Why not start putting these thoughts into action, when we have plenty of time on our hands?

Now's The Chance

All through the busy years, we've talked of the latent talents we would like to develop. They can be developed at any age. And middle age is a wonderful time to start.

While we have been tied down, most of us have thought wistfully from time to time of how much fun it would be to be able to do things on the spur of the moment, to be able to leave home without elaborate preparations and constant worry that things might not be going all right.

A woman whose children are grown and gone from home has that kind of freedom. Why

St. Patrick's Luncheon

Tall Hats, Clay Pines Adorn Hall For Plymouth WA Annual Luncheon

A little bit of Ireland dropped into Plymouth Church hall on Thursday noon, when the Women's Association upheld the reputation of the ladies of the church by preparing a sumptuous meal consisting of soup, baked "pratties," stuffed cold roast pork, meat loaf, rolls, salads and pies for the Shamrock Luncheon.

The annual luncheon is an event looked forward to every year, and, as in years past, the capacity crowd that attended was not disappointed.

Large cut-out shamrocks and Paddy's hats adorned the walls of the hall and made an artistic background on the stage. Slim gilt and green canes were placed in green cane-stands on either side of the stage where pink gladioli, attractively arranged behind a gold and green harp and green tapers in silver candelabra on an embroidered cloth, completed the eye-appealing St. Patrick's setting.

The smaller guest tables placed around the hall, primary room and down-stairs hall, were centered with black high hats trimmed with green bands and gilt buckles on small cut-out Shamrocks with the popular St. Patrick's symbol, the old clay pipe.

This decorative work of art was accomplished by Mrs. Cecil Frappier, who is well known for her artistic arrangements.

The guests were received by Mrs. R. C. Tait and tickets were taken by Mrs. Gerald Spafford and Mrs. F. S. Rugg.

Mrs. Hawley Griffith, president of the Association, assisted by Dunbar, Mrs. Ernest Kimmis, Mrs. S. M. Cross and Mrs. Ralph Gosselin, convened the luncheon, with Mrs. Gordon LeBaron in charge of publicity.

The pourers were Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mrs. Fraser Armstrong, Mrs. T. F. L. Cohoon and Mrs. J. R. Collinson, president of the Plymouth Ladies' Guild.

The waitresses, in charge of Mrs. R. K. Beers, were Mrs. F. J. Sangster, Mrs. Everett Nicol, Mrs. Guy Blanchette, Mrs. R. Stevenson, Mrs. C. W. Forbes, Mrs. Percy Rawlings, Mrs. Percy Gray, Mrs. Gordon Philbrick, Mrs. Per-

Kitchen duties were carried out by Mrs. George Logie, assisted by Mrs. Neil Dinning, Mrs. Hubert Johnston, Mrs. Ralph Gosselin, Mrs. G. M. Armstrong and Mrs. Cecil Frappier.

Preparation of the food was taken care of by Mrs. Don Johnston, Miss Leta Seymour, Miss Kate Fales, Mrs. Cyril Pyke, Mrs. Newman Hunter, Mrs. Donald MacPherson, Mrs. George Ewing, Mrs. C. A. Beaton, Mrs. Alex Ross, Mrs. R. Earle Price, Mrs. Gerald Spafford, Mrs. Douglas Arnott and Mrs. Carl Skinner.

Purchasing was undertaken by Mrs. Neil Dinning, Mrs. Victor Newton, Mrs. Ralph Gosselin and Mrs. S. M. Cross, and the soliciting by Mrs. Gosselin, in co-operation with the Plymouth Ladies Guild.

The hall committee consisted of Mrs. Victor Newton, assisted by Mrs. Newman Hunter, Mrs. Don Johnston and Mrs. Gordon LeBaron.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

Why yell, "Joe, you're wanted on the telephone," when you can walk a few steps and tell Joe he is wanted? You don't make a good impression on the telephone caller when you shout to the person who is wanted.

And your yelling may not be appreciated by Joe, either.

BUTCH GETS A BUTCH — One of Barber George Wood's favorite customers is Butch, a 45-pound Boxer who looks forward to a haircut with almost as much anticipation as to a good steak. It all started when Butch accompanied George to his barber-shop on Pittsburgh's north side one day. Seeing the empty chairs, the big dog leaped into one, sat down and waited for something to happen. Going along with the gag, George placed a bib around Butch's neck and proceeded to give him a trim. Now Butch shows up regularly, waits his turn and gets his trim. As customers go, George says Butch is a dream. He never complains, never talks the barber to death and never steals the latest magazines.

BEAVERS FINALLY BEAT ACES

The Magog Aces lost their semi-final battle of the Massawippi Hockey League playoffs to the Sherbrooke Beavers but one must admit that they went down fighting. At the commencement of the series they were considered the underdogs but despite this they forced the series the limit.

We must admit that if the Aces had been able to play on their home ice it might have been a different story. We base this on the showing during the schedule. In the six games each team copped two games with two ending in stalemates. Every tilt was close all year and we think that if Magog had artificial ice it would have been even closer, if it could have been.

It is about time that the City of Magog realizes if they are to stay in hockey they must have a rink to play in. All the hard efforts of Paul Laurendeau, Benoit Lacroix and Paul Rencourt were wasted when the end of the season arrived with the warm weather. Even with all this against them we think that Coach Pee Wee Theriault's boys did a wonderful job.

After the first two games the series was deadlocked at a game apiece. Each club had played on their home ice but following this the Aces were forced, by the weather, to shift to Sherbrooke and the Beavers were then ruled favorites to cop the series. The Dube team posted two straight wins for a 3-1 lead.

Still playing in Sherbrooke the Aces edged them in the fifth game but the Beavers bounced right back to extend it 4-2. Then the fighting Aces did the impossible when elimination stared them in the face the Theriault crew pulled two straight games out of the fire in the closing minutes of both tilts. It was a wonderful exhibition of team fight and spirit.

In the eighth game they came from behind to send the tilt into overtime which ended 2-2 after ten minutes. It was in this game that they again showed they were never licked until the final whistle.

We think that Yvon Lavoie was by far heads-and-shoulders the best man in the series. His outstanding playing in the nets played a big part in the Aces' great stand. You couldn't have seen any better in the National League than the displays he came up with.

His saves at times were on the edge of the miraculous stage and they had the fans sitting on the edge of their seats. One must admit that he was the star of the series. In fact Gilles Dube stated after the final game that he was the reason why the series was carried so far. On this we must agree as his actions certainly backed it up.

As for the Beavers their last game was by far their best. Coach Dube had every one up for it and despite the fact that the Beavers' big line was well covered the other boys tallied the goals.

The Beavers seemed to have too much scoring punch for the Aces and his was the difference in the outcome. Lavoie stopped the rubber at the other end but his mates didn't score too many goals to help his cause. It was 32-19 in goals registered. Quite a difference, in fact too much.

The Asbestos-Sherbrooke battle should be another good one and we think every game will be close and the fans should see some more grand hockey. A total of 15,378 paid to see the Magog-Sherbrooke series which speaks well for the brand of hockey given and we are sure the fans were satisfied.

So don't forget tomorrow afternoon at the Arena where the first game of the finals will take place and it should be worth the price of admission. To the teams good luck and may the best squad win.

The weekly report from Jay Peak, from across the Border States, that skiing conditions are perfect with plenty of snow. We understand that it is snowing quite heavily and so far they have one inch of new powder snow and should have plenty for any skier anxious to try the tricky trails and slopes. Road conditions are good and a big torch-light parade is on the agenda for this evening.

See where the Yamaska Conservation Association is staging the big meeting of the year next week on Wednesday, March 19, in the Legion Hall, Court St. Granby, Richmond Pelletier, president of Molson's Fishing contest, will be on hand to present 23 awards to the club members for winning during the past fishing season.

Two films will be shown through the courtesy of Molson's Brewery and we are given to understand that they will be good. Several top door prizes will be given away and somebody will go home with some pretty nice fishing equipment from glancing over the list.

Congratulations are in order to Win Hunter for being re-elected president of the Stanstead County Fish and Game Club for the fourth consecutive term. It must be a case of doing a good job Win. That is the trouble you run into every time. At least you have the satisfaction of knowing that the members appreciate your work by re-electing you.

The Women's Basketball Association is in their playoffs with Bishop's University and Windsor Mills clashing in the finals for league honors. Bishop's downed the Sherbrooke Nurses while Windsor toppled YVCA in the opening round. We are sorry we can't give you any more information regarding the game or where they will be played.

The team who will represent Sherbrooke in the newly formed soccer league is holding indoor workouts at the Y and anyone interested in trying out is asked to drop around Monday evening. They will train indoors until the weather clears up.

"Am" Ashton was elected president of the new club along with several former players and from the look of things the locals should be ready when the time arrives to take the field. So don't forget to drop around and get behind the new movement.

It will be interesting to see just how the CRU meeting in Toronto turns out. There certainly was plenty of advance publicity about it but generally in cases such as this it cools off before the showdown. It is kind of hard to understand how the pros and the amateurs want to play for Grey Cup. Just doesn't make sense.

Commissioner Halter claims the pros can help minor football by staying within the folds of the CRU. If they pulled away this help would be lost. It is kind of foolish to have so many small leagues dedicating the policy to the big boys. Well maybe some kind of a policy will come out of the meeting to the satisfaction of all.

Canada's World Hockey Champions Defeat Canadians Who Play In Europe 8-1; Scotland Next Move

PARIS (CP)—Canada's world hockey champions from Whithy defeated 8-1 a team of Canadians who live and play hockey in Europe in an exhibition at the Palais des Sports Friday night.

Whithy took a quick 4-0 lead in the first period and was never threatened.

Connie Brodeur, the leading scorer for the Canadians in their march to the world championship at Oslo, netted Whithy's first goal. Brodeur, George Samolensko and Jean Paul Lamirande all scored twice. Charlie Burns and Gord Wyles added singles.

The Canadians - in - Europe launched a strong counter-attack

Bishop's Girls Down Nurses In Cage Playoffs

Bishop's University girls won their way into the finals of the City Women's Basketball Association playdowns when they downed the Sherbrooke Nurses. They will take on Windsor Mills for the loop title.

In the two-game series Bishop's ran up a grand total of 102-66. In the first game the collegians walked off with the honors 50-25 while in the second they posted a 52-41 victory.

Jean Thomson set the pace for Bishop's in the opening tilt with 17 points followed by L. Rider with 16. For the Nurses P. Brock was tops with 10 while A. Minor dropped nine through the hoop.

In the second game L. Rider ran up 17 followed by S. Woodward with 15 while for the Nurses P. Brock and P. Jenne each bucketed 13. Both games were closely fought despite the high scores registered by Bishop's squad.

Royals Lining Up Strong Club

MONTREAL — Southpaw Roberto Vargas obtained from the Milwaukee Braves organization in 1936 has signed his contract for 1938 with the Montreal Royals together with three other hurlers and four infielders.

The other pitchers are left-hander Arthur Wendt a fireballer who struck out 156 in 160 innings at Cedar Rapids last year, right-hander Dave Oliphant who was with Macon and John Johnson obtained conditionally from the New York Yankees' farm system.

Two shortstops have also inked their pacts; they are bonus player Bob Aspromonte, who hit .311 at Macon in '37 and Andy Frazier. The other infielders in the fold are catcher Mike Napoli and third-baseman Harry Schwemman, long considered a utility player, has proven his rights last year to a regular berth and will fight it out with other hopefuls. The Royals will report on Monday to Clay Bryant at Vero Beach and will start regular training.

Charlie Hodge To Fill In For Jacques Plante

MONTREAL (CP) — Goalie Jacques Plante of Montreal Canadiens, injured Thursday night in Boston, suffered a severe concussion affecting the head and neck, the club announced Friday.

Information on Plante's condition and extent of injuries was reported to the club by Dr. Edward Browne, club physician for Boston Bruins.

Dr. Browne reported that Plante is still shaky Friday and will not be able to play in Canadiens' weekend games in the National Hockey League. But the goalie should recover without difficulty, he said.

Canadiens have called up Charlie Hodge from Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League. Hodge filled in earlier this season for Plante when the goalie was ill.

Windsor Mills Midgets And Juveniles Win E. T. Titles As Minors End Year; BCS Bantams Travel To Three Rivers

Minor Hockey play-offs are over for another year and champions have been declared in all classes. The last games were played this week terminating the best season in the history of Minor hockey.

Two champions were declared in the mosquito, pee-wee, bantam and midget classes this year. One will be known as the unofficial champion and the other the official champion. In the Mosquitoes, the Richmond club was declared unofficial champion having eliminated all clubs in the play-offs. Richmond with an All-Star club defeated St. Pat's Academy twice and Thetford Mines last Sunday to win the championship. They defeated Ayer's Cliff Wednesday evening 5-3 with Wheeler and Rattray each scoring 2 goals and Doyle the other. For Ayer's Cliff Frappier scored all three goals. Ayer's Cliff have been declared the official champions.

In the Pee-Wee section, Bishop's College School Trojans defeated Ayer's Cliff Tuesday 2-0 to win the official championship. Glass and Fox scored the Bishop's goals in the third period. East Angus is the unofficial champions of the pee-wees having defeated Richmond in two games and Thetford Mines Sunday.

In the bantams, Bishop's College School bantams defeated Stanstead College on Tuesday 11-2 to win the official championship. Granby defeated Thetford last Sunday to win the unofficial championship.

George Guilbault's Windsor Mills Midgets won the official championship when they defeated Beebe Wednesday by 12 to 0 at the local Arena. St. Louis and Raymond scored 3 goals while Belanger, Guilbault and Finley potted 2 goals for Windsor. Thetford Mines is the unofficial champions having defeated Granby last Sunday by 2-1.

In the juveniles, Windsor Mills won the title. Thetford defaulted to Windsor Wednesday when they couldn't ice a full squad. They won the Skinner-Nadeau and the George Povey Memorial Trophy.

This year something new was tried and that was giving permission to all new centres of iceing all-star clubs for the play-offs in the Mosquito, Pee-Wee, Bantam and Midget classes with the idea of developing more hockey players.

This proved successful in as much as more than 1500 players were registered this year for a record registration.

The winners of the play-offs among all-star clubs were declared unofficial champions and the winners of the play-offs among the regular registered clubs were declared official champions. Trophies will be presented to both champions. Next year, this permission will be permitted to carry their duly registered players in the elimination.

This year, as in the past two years, there were no Provincial playdowns in any class. These playdowns were eliminated some three years ago owing to a fiasco which happened in Shawinigan during a juvenile final. It is the intention to resume these playdowns next year and the Sherbrooke District will make a demand for these playdowns.

Certain districts may organize a tournament in certain classes and if they do only the official champions will be allowed to take part. The only tournament to be held so far is a bantam tournament in Three Rivers Saturday. Bishop's College School Bantams will take part in this tournament.

Both Teams Ready For Battle To Represent League In Provincial Playdowns; 4-Out-7 Series Slated

The battle for the right to represent the Massawippi Hockey League in the Provincial playdowns opens here tomorrow afternoon when the Asbestos Meteors visit the Sherbrooke Beavers at the Local Arena. Game is slated to commence at 2:30.

It will be the first of a four-out-of-seven finals and all games will be fought to a finish. This was announced by league officials following a special meeting held between the teams and loop executive yesterday.

The league must have a champion ready by Saturday March 29th to tackle the Montreal winners in the district, either at Asbestos or another locality as the Sherbrooke rink is booked by the Sherbrooke Figure Skating Club for their annual show.

Asbestos will be out to defend their laurels as they won the Provincial championship last year when they copped the local league honors and then knocked over the Montreal winners, Meunier, in the semi-finals. They travelled to Rimouski for the finals and won the title in a two-game total-point tournament.

Sherbrooke will be making their first bid for the league crown and are rated slight favorites to win the bunting. In Asbestos they will tackle a team full of team spirit and will be tough.

The Meteors were on the verge of dropping out of the playoffs in their semi-final duel with Drummondville when they trailed 2-0 and had a few differences with in the team. However they rallied to knock over the fast-stepping Rockets in three straight games to win the series and move into the finals.

The Beavers, on the other hand, were having plenty of trouble with the stubborn Aces and had to go the limit before emerging successful in their five-out-of-nine affair. They won 5-3 with one game tied and all games were hard-fought battles.

Coach Dube will be making his first attempt at a league championship and will have his full team on hand for the showdown. The Meteors will ice the same squad which carried them to victory in the last three games with Drummondville.

Coach Glaude has only twelve men as Richard Champagne and Jack Illick left the club following slight differences but despite this the rest of the squad has shown plenty of drive and spirit and will be tough to knock over.

Following Sunday's tilt the teams will commence the shift of scenery with the second tilt booked for Asbestos Tuesday with the third in Sherbrooke on Thursday. In event of a tie, at the end of regulation time, the teams will play a 10-minute overtime and if this fails to break the deadlock they will have a rest and resume a sudden-death affair. The first goal will end the game. This was also decided at the meeting as time is limited to have a championship ready for the Provincial playdowns.

Wales Produces Top Soccer Talent Who Generally End Up With English Clubs; John Charles Most Famous

LONDON (CP) — Wales, with only four representatives in the 92-team football league, has produced an array of soccer talent.

Britain's most famous post-war soccer nursery is Swansea Town. From the lowly second division club have come stars of the calibre of John Charles, Cliff Jones, Mel Charles, Trevor Ford, Ray Daniel and the Allchurch brothers, Len and Ivor.

John Charles is Wales' most famous product. The giant centre forward was transferred from Leeds to Juventus of Turin last year for a staggering £65,000 fee — an all-time British record.

WELSH TRANSFERS
Welsh players have long travelled the transfer trail. Trevor Ford has been involved in deals totalling £74,000 and only last month Cliff Jones set up a record fee for a winger when Tottenham paid Swansea £30,000 for his services. His uncle, Bryn, set a precedent when sold by Wolverhampton to Arsenal in 1938 for £14,000, a pre-war record.

The star Welsh players usually find their way to English clubs where the standard of play is higher. Six members of the Wales team that beat Israel in the world cup series came from English clubs.

None of the Welsh football league clubs—Cardiff City, Swansea Town, Wrexham and Newport County—compete in the first division.

Cardiff, the only club to take the Football Association Cup out of England, was demoted last season and joined Swansea in the second division.

Wrexham and Newport compete in different sections of the third division. Newport are riding high in the southern section but Wrexham are not too well placed in the northern section and may have to fight hard to avoid relegation into the proposed fourth division.

Final In Series Of Parties Held At Hatley Centre

HATLEY CENTRE.—The third and final card party in the series sponsored by the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Oliver Mappin. Cards were played at nine tables and proceeds amounted to approximately $15.

Prize winners were as follows: gentlemen, L. Cormier, S. Nutbrown, consolation; ladies, Mrs. S. Woodward, Mrs. S. Kezar, consolation. The floating prize went to V. Lowell and the lucky chair prize was won by N. Burnell.

Honors for the grand prize of the series resulted in a tie between Mrs. L. Hawes and Mrs. A. Thwaites, the prize going to the latter on the selection of a card. The gentlemen's grand prize was won by John Johnston. Mr. Mappin donated some lovely daffodils from his greenhouse, which were shared by the series prize winners.

Plans are under way for another card party to be held March 22 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Little.

INVERNESS —

Mr. John Cruickshank was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Annesley in Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Harry Campbell was a weekend guest of Mrs. Brown in Ste. Agathe.

Work is proceeding satisfactorily on the new bridge Kinnear brook to replace the one washed away in the flash flood on August 3rd last. It is expected that the bridge will be open to traffic in a matter of days. This link will be appreciated greatly by those travelling between Leeds Village, Kinnear's Mills and Inverness.

Miss Ann Cruickshank was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rarke at Rock Forest.

The monthly meeting of the Guild of the Church of the Ascension was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Campbell.

The many friends of Mr. A. Lowry will be pleased to learn that he expects to have the Sherbrooke Hospital on Monday to visit with relatives and friends in Lennoxville before he returns to his home in Inverness.

W.M.S. MEETING

The Woman's Missionary Society of Trinity United Church met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Boutelle. The devotional program was led by Mrs. W. E. Long, assisted by Rev. W. T. Eddy and Mrs. L. E. Findlay. Business included a letter concerning the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery to be held in Trinity United Church, Sherbrooke on April 9.

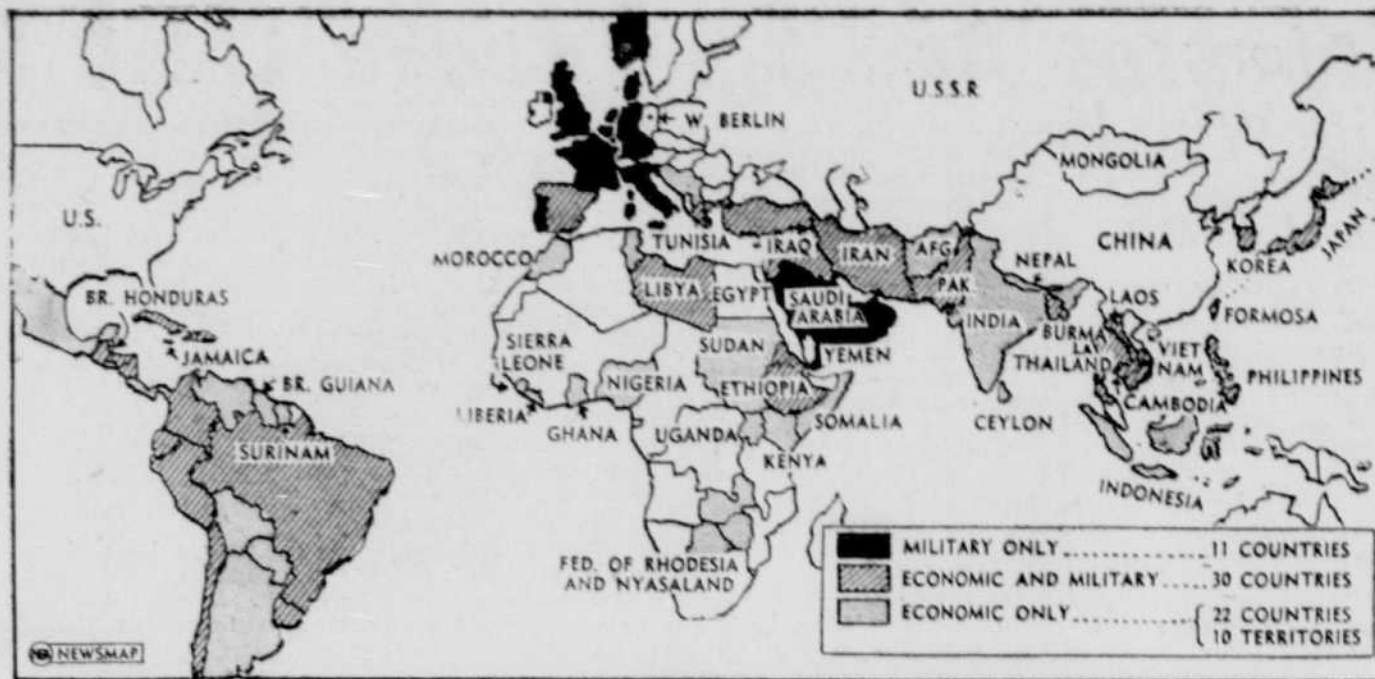

A letter from Miss Carole Saffin, nurse in mission hospital work in Bella Bella, B.C., was read. Miss Saffin is from this vicinity, and members were very interested in her account of life among the Indians there, and her work in hospital and church.

Mr. Eddy continued the study of "Japan at the Present Time," much of which was on schools and universities of that country.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Advent Christian Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Perkins. Plans were made to prepare bandages and dressing squares to be sent with other needed supplies to the medical missionaries in the Philippines and Japan.

The men took complete charge of the supper which proved to be

U. S. AID COVERS THE GLOBE — Newsmag, above shows the nations and territories slated to receive economic and military assistance from the U.S. under President Eisenhower's proposed foreign aid (Mutual Security) program for the fiscal year beginning July 1. In his recent message to Congress, the President requested an appropriation of 3.9 billion dollars — about 500 million dollars more than the lawmakers approved last year. As in previous years, two-thirds of the amount would be for military aid. Economic and technical assistance, contributions to United Nations programs, administrative costs and an emergency fund make up the balance. If approved, the U.S. will have spent 46.6 billion dollars since 1950 on program.

St. Augustine's Anglican Church At Danville Dedicates New Parish Hall

DANVILLE. — A special service of Thanksgiving was held in St. Augustine's Anglican Church followed by the dedication of the new parish hall by the Right Rev. Philip Carrington, Lord Archbishop of Quebec.

The service of Festal Evensong was sung by the rector, Rev. P. B. Kingston, with lessons read by Rev. H. I. Apps, rector of Richmond who acted as the Archbishop's chaplain, and G. R. Morrill, a divinity student from this parish at Bishop's University. The music was under the direction of Miss Barbara Jean Barlow, organist.

They also prepared the devotional program which followed with Alfred Perkins acting as chairman. The evening closed with a contest, the men being the winners.

SAME STORY...

NEW HEADLINE!

Year after year, as the report comes in, the same story is filed for the record. Advertisers continue to exhibit their confidence in the power of newspaper advertising by placing the bulk of advertising dollars in newspapers.

According to the McCann-Erickson, Inc.-Printers' Ink Preliminary Estimates of Advertising Expenditures for 1957, advertisers spent a record $10,432,000,000 in all forms of media. Of this total, by far the largest share was again invested in daily newspaper advertising — $3,325,000,000.

Advertisers turn to the daily newspaper because it gives the best buy for the money. Take a hard look at your advertising budget. Is the major share going into deeper-penetrating, more resultful newspaper advertising? If so, you're on your way to more sales per advertising dollar.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

10 Million Britons Dream Of Big Win In U.K. Football Pools

By ROGER STONEBANKS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—The dream of 10,000,000 Britons is a big win on the football pools.

Every week, they ponder the sports pages and fill in a line of hieroglyphics on their pool coupons, hoping to come up with the magical combination that will give them a return of thousands of pounds for an investment of a penny or two.

The perfect line is the correct choice of eight matches from a 52-match Saturday card that ends in a draw. The reward varies from a few hundred pounds to many thousands, depending on the number of holders of the winning combination. There are lesser prizes for a near-miss.

Not all competitors are serious students of soccer form. Some years ago a survey reported 40 per cent of participants claimed to follow form. But the big-time winners often rely more on luck.

STUDENTS OF LUCK
A month ago, Kathy Brockwell filled in her husband's coupon with their wedding anniversary and birthday dates. It won her husband, Wally, £206,000 on a twopenny line.

Another man won £70,000 by converting the letters in the name "Jane Austin" into numerical equivalents. He was thinking of Jane Austen, the novelist, and cashed in on his inability to spell the name right.

Winners on the pools usually are sensible about their newly-acquired wealth. Vernon Sangster, director of one pools firm, says: "You get the odd case where a winner is reckless with his money, but the overwhelming majority think first about the family, next about a new house, then about buying a business and so on."

A television inquiry into pools winners found that most of them had one thing in common—they lost their friends. Advised one winner: "Don't let anybody know you've won on the pools. If you do you'll find your old friends will fade away. They'll be afraid you'll think they're sponging on you."

About £70,000,000 is gambled each year on the pools. All pools firms except one—the largest—impose a £75,000 limit on their top dividend.

Political and military leaders have called for an all-out effort to wipe out the remaining 1,600-odd Communist terrorists hiding in the country's jungles.

Already, results have been achieved. A total of 122 terrorists have laid down their arms in response to the "new and final" surrender terms announced by Tunku Abdul Rahman, the Malayan prime minister.

More areas have been declared white, or free of terrorists. Communist lines of communication between the north and the south of the country have been smashed, and the terrorists are lying low and making fewer attacks on rubber estates or army or police patrols.

At present, a total of 11,000 British Commonwealth troops, eight battalions of Malayan soldiers, 20,000 special constables and 100,000 home guards are playing their part in maintaining jungle patrols.

It is officially estimated that there are about 500 terrorists in the Malayan-Thai border area, 600 in the northern state of Perak and 300 in the southern state of Johore, bordering on the British colony of Singapore. Others are in scattered groups in other areas.

Chin Peng, secretary-general of the Malayan Communist party, in a letter to the prime minister, refused to surrender. But he offered to hold peace talks. His offer was rejected.

In a recent speech, the Tunku said: "The government can see no possibility of coming to terms with Chin Peng unless and until he is willing to surrender. So there will be no meeting."

Some 58 areas, covering 28,840 square miles had been declared "white" at the end of 1957. About 3,500,000 people, or more than half the country's population, live in these areas.

Since the emergency was declared in June, 1948, 6,500 members of the Communist "Malaya Races Liberation Army" have been killed and more than 1,200 captured.

Since the days when ambushes were a daily affair and an average of five civilians were murdered each week, main roads now have become safe for motorists, there are fewer areas under curfew, and the sight of soldiers or police troops on operations has become more rare.

RCAF Unit Located On Shearwater Navy Base

By JOE DUPUIS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—One of the hangars in the navy's big air base at nearby Shearwater houses a compact 44-man RCAF transport unit, whose chief job is being a helper to the services.

The unit is separate from the naval base, but there is the closest co-operation.

"We get along fine," says Flt. Lt. Robert Harvard of Hortonville, N.S., commanding officer of 101 Communications Flight.

"We get all our gas from the navy, but that's all," the commander said. The navy reciprocates by "borrowing parts and letting us have access to their mess."

MANY MISSIONS
The airman's wives, 33 in all meet monthly at each other's homes. Most live at Halifax across the harbor. But on the base they join navy wives at movies and bingo games.

The unit, operating around the clock, maintains four aircraft, three Dakotas and one Expeditor. Set up to facilitate RCAF operations, their chief job is in transport.

They ferry high-ranking officers "from captains to admirals anywhere in North America." Recently a Dakota provided escort for Queen Mother Elizabeth when her plane flew over Newfoundland enroute to Montreal.

Their Dakotas tow targets on aerial gunner practices for army coastal batteries and ships at sea. Chances are the aircraft spotted by ground observer teams during an exercise are from 101 unit.

In emergencies, the unit's planes join search and rescue operations.

LIKE RESCUE WORK

"Few people know about us here," Flt. Lt. Howard says. "So we get a satisfying feeling from our rescue work, especially if a life is saved."

The unit's nine pilots logged 2,854 hours last year, 2,639 in 1956. Inside the hangar, service crews repair anything from a loose cockpit door to a faulty landing gear. They even pack liott was elected treasurer and all outstanding bills were moved paid. Lunch was served by Mrs. Farrow.

Friends of Miss Sadie Rogerson will be sorry to hear that she is a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital, Sweetsburg, under observation.

Mr. Byron Elliott accompanied by his two nieces all of Beebe, visited his mother and sister, Mrs. B. R. Elliott and Miss E. Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Paige visited Mrs. Paige's mother, Mrs. Alma McClay, in Brome Centre. Mr. and Mrs. G. Gillespie and Master Martin Gillespie of Sweetsburg and Mrs. Walter Renkema of Montreal, were visitors of Mrs. L. Renkema at Rock Haven.

Rev. T. E. R. Nurse of Knowlton, held a communion service for the residents of the Elliott Rest Home.

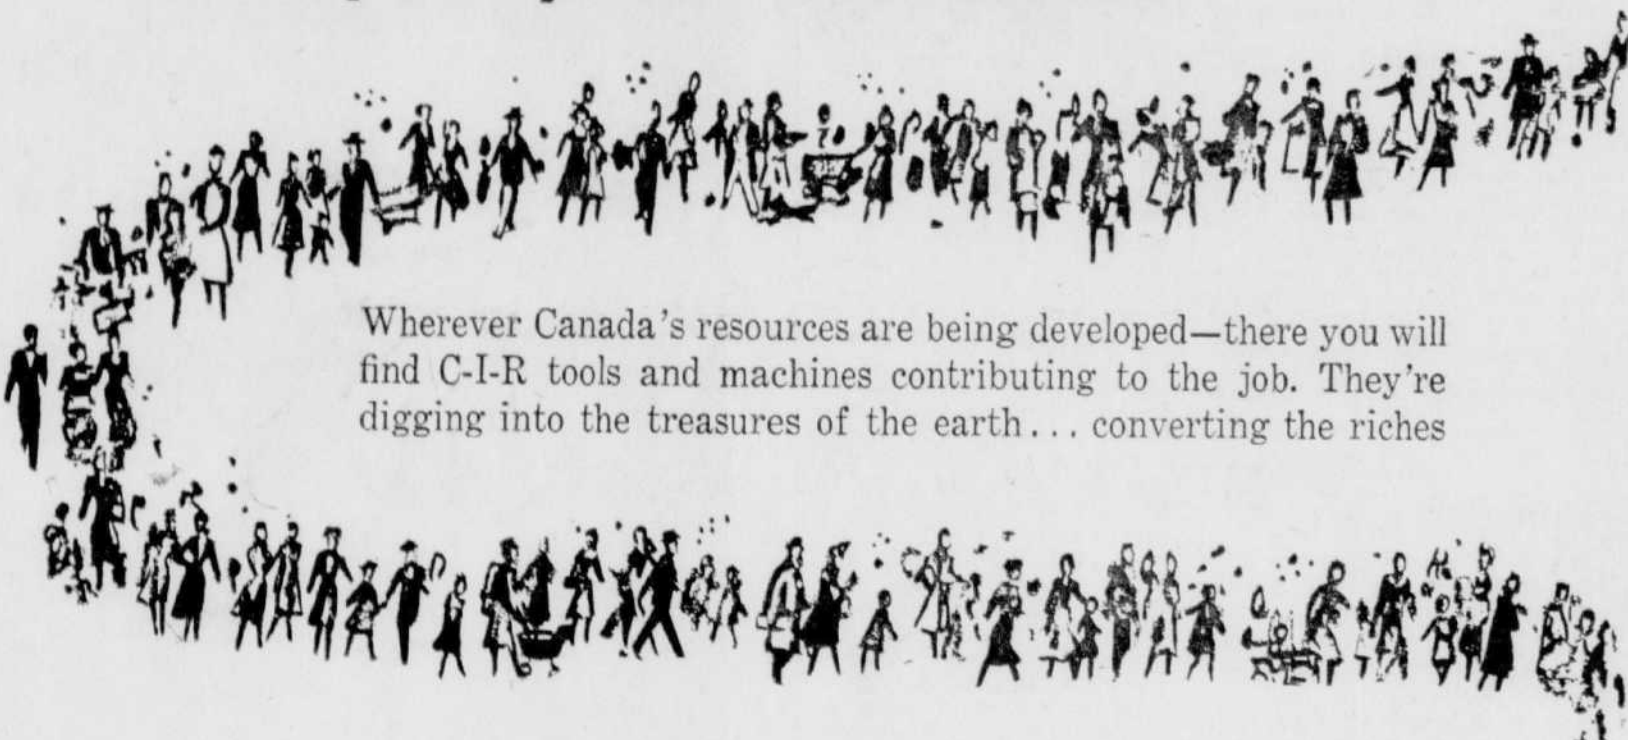

Mr. Byron Elliott of Beebe, was an overnight guest of his mother and sister, Mrs. B. R. Elliott and Miss E. Elliott.

Mr. William Elliott of Alliston, Ont., was a guest at the same home.

Mrs. A. Galbraith spent the weekend with her son, Cpl. N. Galbraith, Mrs. Galbraith and family in Verdun. She also visited her husband, who is a patient in the Queen Mary Veterans Hospital.

THE PEOPLE OF SHERBROOKE are helping to shape the future of 16,000,000 Canadians

Wherever Canada's resources are being developed—there you will find C-I-R tools and machines contributing to the job. They're digging into the treasures of the earth... converting the riches of our forests to our uses... in the factories, foundries and shops across the nation. C-I-R products are everywhere

This has tremendous significance to our city. For three generations, thousands of Sherbrooke citizens have linked their fortunes with the "Rand"... have steadily improved the stake in their jobs as the Company itself has grown.

So may we salute you all. The fathers and mothers whose careers are joined with Canadian Ingersoll-Rand. The boys earning vacation money at C-I-R and learning a trade at the same time.

Yes, we are proud on this occasion to be associated with the people from Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships. Proud to be associated with them in contributing to the welfare and future of our community — and our great country!
