SPECIAL SESSION OF PARLIAMENT WILL STUDY IMPORTANT QUESTION

Canadian Nation Today Has Focused Its Attention on Ottawa, Awaiting Announcement from Government Regarding Unemployment—Premier Bennett Expected to Outline Some Plan to Remedy Present Situation—Members Will Be Sworn in and Will Assemble Immediately Afterwards to Undertake Duties.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 8.—The doors of Parliament swing open today on the special session convened to tackle the subject of unemployment. Proposals of Premier R. B. Bennett to alleviate the situation are eagerly awaited not only in Canada, but in all countries with whom Canada trades for the general impression is that the tariff will be the chief remedy.

Throughout the general election campaign Premier Bennett pointed to unemployment as the major issue and promised that if returned to power he would call a special session of Parliament and produce measures calculated to cure the condition. These proposals will be introduced today in the Speech from the Throne. While the subject matter of the Speech from the Throne is guarded with customary secrecy, the universal prediction is that tariff increases on a fairly long list of products will be foreshadowed. This would give effect to the traditional policy of the Conservative party. It was frequently stated by Conservative candidates in the election that by increasing the import against foreign products the wheels of Canadian industry would be set spinning faster. In addition, the expectation is that early carrying out of public works will be provided for.

It has also been suggested that work may soon be started on further links of the St. Lawrence deep waterway scheme.

Parliament will be opened with due regard to ancient ceremony, but ceremony will not be the chief business of the day. Procedure will be characterized by a businesslike alertness. The usual adjournment will be dispensed with, according to present indications, and following the moving and seconding of the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, it is expected Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King will immediately launch the Opposition's statement. If this course is followed Premier Bennett will follow in turn by Robert Gardiner, leader of the United Farmers of Alberta.

The address will be moved by F. W. Turnbull, who distinguished himself in the recent campaign by defeating Hon. C. A. Dunning in Regina, Oneismie Gagnon, who was victorious over the Lucien Cannon in Dorchester, will be seconder.

Members will be sworn in during the morning and will assemble at noon. Answering the customary summons they will attend in the Senate, but as the Speaker's chair in the House is vacant, they will be asked to return to elect a Speaker. George Black, member for Yukon will be proposed by Premier Bennett. Following his selection, members will adjourn until three o'clock. They will again be summoned to the Red Chamber where the Speech from the Throne will be delivered by His Excellency, the Governor-General. Returning to their own chamber, the commoners will immediately proceed with the address in reply to the speech.

SIX FAMILIES HOMELESS AT ST. CONSTANT

Fire Early This Morning Threatened to Assume Serious Proportions, But Was Checked by Outside Aid.

ST. CONSTANT, Que., Sept. 8.—Six families were rendered homeless early today when fire destroyed their homes. Damage was estimated at about $40,000, and was partly covered by insurance.

The fire, which broke out shortly after one o'clock in a building housing the restaurant and home of Rene Demers, for a time threatened to assume serious proportions, and was summoned from nearby towns also from Montreal. With the arrival of additional equipment, including a powerful fire pump from Montreal, the blaze was confined to a narrow area. Two hours after the outbreak was discovered the "all out" signal was given.

In addition to the home and restaurant of Mr. Demers, the residence of M. Houle, Joseph Longtin, A. Basinet and A. Leblanc were destroyed.

E. G. PIERCE PASSED AWAY AT NOON TODAY

All Citizens of Sherbrooke Will Learn With Regret of the Passing Away of a Prominent Citizen Who Was Held in High Esteem by All Classes of Sherbrooke's Population.

The death of Mr. E. G. Pierce, which occurred at his late residence on Stanley Avenue at noon today, will be universally regretted, not only in Sherbrooke but throughout the entire Eastern Townships and in other parts of the Province as well. Mr. Pierce was a citizen of sterling qualities and during his successful and active business life made many friends among all classes of people.

With the passing away of Mr. Pierce there is removed a figure which was respected by everyone, above all a gentleman and loyal friend. For some years past the late Mr. Pierce had not enjoyed specially good health but he bravely fought against ill health and would not allow himself to be conquered. This fact possibly gave the impression to many of his acquaintances that his illness was not as serious as it really was. To his family and friends, however, it was evident that in spite of his optimism, he was suffering from a malady which eventually would prove fatal.

About a month ago his condition became such that special treatment at the Montreal General Hospital was necessary. Upon his return to the city he seemed considerably improved and he was about again as usual. His heart, however, had become E. Lystold and he was confined to his home where, in spite of all that could be possibly done for him he quietly passed away.

The late Erastus Gardner Pierce was born at Melbourn, Que., on May 27th, 1871. He was the son of the late Edward Pierce and his wife, Sarah E. Lystold Pierce, and a grandson of Oliver Pierce, of New York, who fought under the British during the revolution of 1776, was taken prisoner and given over to the Indians, threatened to be burned, suffered terrible hardships, later released by the exchange of prisoners. Some time afterwards he moved to Melbourn, settling there as the third family in 1801.

After completing his education, the late Mr. E. G. Pierce became engaged in mechanical work and for two years was connected with the Union Traction Company in Philadelphia. In 1903 he accepted a position with the late Mr. L. S. Channell, founder of the Sherbrooke Daily Record. In 1907, upon the formation of the Sherbrooke Record Company, he became a shareholder and director. For the past twenty-seven years he had been connected with the Sherbrooke Daily Record and had held various important positions, being circulation manager for a number of years.

Following the death of the late V. E. Morevil, October 20th, 1928, former President of the Sherbrooke Record Company Mr. Pierce was appointed Vice-President of the Company and General Manager of the Sherbrooke Daily Record. When the Sherbrooke Daily Record was purchased by Mr. Alfred Wood, its present owner, Mr. Pierce continued his services as Managing Director. The services which Mr. Pierce rendered to the Sherbrooke Daily Record cannot be over-estimated. In the early struggling days of the paper's history he took charge of the circulation, travelling over every section of the Eastern Townships by train, receiving advertising and subscriptions. It was the late Mr. Pierce who first introduced the Sherbrooke Daily Record into thousands of the Eastern Townships homes in which it has since been a daily visitor.

While the members of the Record staff Mr. Pierce was a popular figure. He was respected and admired by everyone with whom he worked, and everyone on the Record's staff, from junior member to president regarded him as a friend. His death is deeply regretted by all with whom he worked and in no place will he be missed more deeply than within the Record Office, except within his own home by the members of his immediate family circle.

Apart from his business connections, the late Mr. Pierce was also actively connected with several other organizations. His advice and help was constantly sought in connection with the administration of Trinity United Church, of which he was a member. He was also keenly interested in the Sherbrooke Y. M. C. B. Club, which was past-president and a great worker on behalf of the Wales Home at Richmond. He also took much interest in the Sherbrooke Hospital, the E. T. Boards of Trade and the E. T. Immigration Society. He was a member of the I.O.O.F., Sherbrooke Country Club, the Sherbrooke Curling Club, and the Sherbrooke Rotary Club. He was a member of the Canadian Press Association, and in 1910-11 was president of the E. T. Press Association.

He was also a member of the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club, Canadian Club, St. George's Club, and was deeply interested in Stanstead College.

Mr. Pierce had devoted much time to the Protestant Committee of the (Continued on Page 4)

Passed Away This Noon

ERASTUS GARDNER PIERCE.

He has gone. A man with a host of friends in the Eastern Townships and in Canada. A man without an enemy, who has lived all of his useful lifetime within easy distance of the home in which he was born.

His conferees on the staff of the Sherbrooke Daily Record mourn the departure of Erastus Gardner Pierce, who passed away at his home today. He was a staunch friend and a loyal colleague, whose failing health has aroused the sympathy of everyone who had the pleasure of knowing him.

Public-spirited in the true meaning of the word, our late Managing Director, could always find time to devote to every worthy charity, and his passing will be felt in all parts of the community. Not a pathway nor highway in the counties but he knew, for during his sojourn with the Daily Record for twenty-seven years he had been its most enthusiastic exponent.

It has been the great privilege of the Editor to have been associated with Mr. Pierce, though it were but for a brief period in his brief and busy life. Mr. Pierce had reached middle life, when his experience had ripened, when his talents were acknowledged everywhere by everybody, and when the much that he had accomplished was but a promise of richer attainment in the profession which he adored.

He is at rest. Brave in adversity and courageous to the late hour of his conscious life, many had given up the struggle when suffering as he must have suffered, but "Ras Pierce," as his intimate friends called him, had a cheery smile and a happy greeting for all on his last appearance at the office, a short week ago.

Though suffering for years from the malady which called him home, our lamented Managing Director seldom complained, and it was this indomitable courage which carried him on.

Fifty members of our staff deeply mourn with the relatives and the friends who will ever hold in memory dear the shining life of Erastus Gardner Pierce.

TURN FIRST SOD FOR NEW MOTION PICTURE STUDIO

Expect Productions from New Chamby Basin Plant to Be Used in All Parts of British Empire.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 8.—The first sod was turned yesterday on the site at Chamby Basin, near Montreal, of the studios of Canadian-American Talking Picture Studios, Limited. A galaxy of motion picture stars and directors arrived for the occasion.

While proximity to the United States border would permit the use of United States players, technical men, writers and advisers, the products of the new studios would be able to take advantage of the British quota law which specified that ten per cent. of all films shown in Great Britain must be made on British territory. Ray Jackson, managing director of the firm, stated at the ceremony. The sod was turned by Alexander Thurber, M.L.A., Chamby County.

CARDINAL SANG MASS THIS MORNING FOR FIRST TIME SINCE SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Altar Was Erected for Occasion in Primate's Room in Hospital.

QUEBEC, Sept. 8.—For the first time since he was the victim of an automobile accident near this city, which endangered his life, His Eminence Cardinal Rouleau, primate of the Catholic Church, was able to say his mass this morning at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, where he is a patient. Permission was extended to the distinguished patient by his attending physicians, though even at noon yesterday he went through a minor crisis. Special preparations were made for the event, which naturally was held in the Cardinal's room, as he was still unable to go to the chapel. A temporary altar was erected for the occasion.

RAIN MARRED FINAL DAY OF GRANBY FAIR

Interesting Races Featured Final Events of Annual Horticultural Association Show at Granby—Further Enlargements Planned.

GRANBY, Que., Sept. 8.—The 49th annual Fair of the Granby Horticultural Society was brought to a close on Saturday. In spite of threatening clouds all the forenoon and a heavy downpour of rain between one and two o'clock, the attendance was nearly, if not quite, as large as on the second day.

The three harness horse races furnished some thrilling head and head finishes for the spectators, and the time made in the free-for-all was within a second of the track record.

Further awards made in the various departments followed: The Henry Birks' silver medal, given to the exhibitor taking the greatest number of prizes in classes for cut flowers was won by Mrs. T. B. Vincent, Sutton.

The Leader Mail prize, offered for home plants, under similar conditions, was won by Mrs. M. M. Robinson, Granby.

The children's department, open to boys or girls of fourteen years or under, had sixteen classifications, photographs, scenery drawing, plain sewing, knitting in wool, crochet work, darning socks, button holes worked on cotton, best dressed doll, patch work quilt, outlining, embroidery, free hand drawing, pencil drawing, best home-made toy, best useful article made from wood, best bird house. The competing entries were and the work shown most creditable.

The winner of the special offered to the boy or girl taking the greatest number of prizes was Pearl Rutherford, Granby.

The Gidding's special for the winner of most prizes in ladies' fancy work section, was awarded to Mrs. T. B. Vincent, Sutton.

The boys were prominently to the fore in the cattle section. In the calf breeding competition, winners were: Pure bred Ayrshires, Rene Degre, first; Maurice Beaudry, second; Antoinette Leclerc, third; Gaetan Ayrshires; Roger Beaudry, first; Lucien Girard, second; Roland Lussier, third; Gaetan Girard, fourth. All other breeds: Maurice Ray, first; Marcel Chasse, second; Hermas Dion, third; Clifford Neil, fourth. Championship ribbons: Rene Degre, first; Roger Beaudry, second; Maurice Ray, third.

Judging competition: Girard Degre, first; Amasa Robinson, second; Hermas Dion, third; Maurice Ray, fourth; Donald Neil, fifth; M. Claire Degre, sixth.

Following are the race results: Named race, purse $100—Dynamite (Cote) 2 1 1 1 Mary Watts (Stewart) 1 2 3 3 Jimmy Harvester (Sisco) 3 3 2 2 Hanover Worthy (Daoust) 4 4 4 4 Time: 2:26, 2:28, 2:30 1/2, 2:30.

2:20 class, purse $150—Dart (Frisco) 1 1 1 1 Peter Junior (Thiberge) 2 3 2 2 Miss Gentry (Archambault) 3 3 3 3 Little Guy (Cartier) 4 4 4 4 Time: 2:22, 2:21, 2:20 1/2.

Free for all class, purse $175—Mark Simmons (Archambault) 1 1 1 1 Bessie Direct (Choiniere) 2 2 2 2 Lou Dillon (Chevalier) 3 3 3 3 Peter Green (Moreau) 4 4 4 4 Time: 2:13 1/2, 2:14 1/2, 2:10 1/2.

The gate receipts fell short of last year's returns. Bad weather conditions were largely responsible. The attendance of the opening day exceeded that of the corresponding day last year and there was a good crowd on the grounds Friday afternoon, but a downpour of rain early in the evening spoiled the night attendance, and threatening clouds kept several hundred away on Saturday.

Everything about the park and grounds has the air of prosperity and progress, reflecting the desire and purpose of the directors to make each succeeding fair a bigger and better one than its predecessor, a characteristic of the enterprise of Granby citizens who are justly proud of their big little city and all it stands for in industrial growth and the finer things that make for its spiritual as well as material improvement and growth.

There is talk of expansion, enlarging the ground space, which seems necessary to meet the needs of future years, and of making the exposition a full three days' affair. Heretofore the first day has been given over to placing exhibits and preparing to entertain the public for two days.

Mr. Irving who for twenty-one years in the early days of its existence was president of the society, has seen many changes and improvements made. He recalls the beginning of the society, forty-nine years ago when a few flowers were shown alongside the sidewalk in front of the town hall. Later it was held under tents near the present high school building, and still later it was moved to the present site and continued for some time to be a one day show under tents. In the meantime, Mr. Irving was not satisfied with his job and the slow way in which things were moving and threatened to resign. Then it was that the late S. H. C. Miner, Granby (Continued on page seven)

MARBLETON TO HOLD ANNUAL FAIR TUESDAY

Many Novel Features of Interest at Annual Show of Wolfe County Agricultural Association.

With an entry list that surpasses any in recent years, the annual Marbleton Fair will be open to the public tomorrow. Although this fair, which is sponsored by Wolfe County Agricultural Association No. 1, lasts only for a single day, the crowds are drawn from all parts of the Eastern Townships, while many more, even from Montreal, also take this opportunity of re-visiting their old home district and renewing acquaintances of former days.

Many novel features are introduced this year, one of the outstanding being an exhibit of silver fox, puppies and milk. Another attraction of added interest is an old fashioned buggy race which gives promise of considerable amusement. The prize list is longer than usual, many special prizes being added to the regular list, while the amendment to the rules permitting the sons of members, over the age of twelve entering on the same terms as their parents is expected to cause a large increase in the number of junior exhibitors.

The prize list is comprehensive and covers the following classes, cattle, horses, sheep, hogs and general farm produce, manufactured articles, fancy work cooking, etc. Music for the day will be provided by the Cookshire Band.

THIRD BODY OF ANDREE PARTY WAS LOCATED

Skeleton Found Believed to Be That of Knut Frankel, Third Member of Andree Group.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 8.—The frozen northern wastes of White Island, off Hvitvoen, have given another body, presumably that of the third member of the Andree Balloon Expedition of 1897.

A party of journalists aboard the sealing vessel Isbjorn, excited at discoveries of the crew of the Bratvaag on the island and hurrying there themselves, managed to land there Saturday and seek out relics of the ill-fated expedition, which Dr. Gunnar Horn and his associated had left behind.

The skeleton found was presumed to be that of Knut Frankel, third member of the Andree group, who, it generally had been believed, died en route to White Island from the spot where the balloon, in which they wished to cross the North Pole, came down. The crew of the Bratvaag found only two bodies. A group of bones, they carried along as probably the remains of the third man turned out to be polar bear's bones.

In addition to the third skeleton the Isbjorn party found a number of other things left by the Andree expedition of thirty-three years ago, including scientific instruments, weapons, pieces of the basket below the Andree balloon and Frankel's notebooks. They said that the camp was in excellent order. They believed that the explorers died from sudden catastrophe, such as a blizzard.

Advices of discovery of the third body probably will lead to postponement of the memorial service it had been planned to hold for the three until it is known for certain that the (Continued on Page Seven)

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 8.—

Revolution which during a sanguinary week-end in Buenos Aires overthrew the government of President Hipolito Yrigoyen and established a new regime headed by General Jose Evaristo Uriburu today spread to every corner of the republic.

Province after province telegraphed its adhesion to the new order whose authority today was recognized from the La Plata River to Cape Horn and the Chilean Andes to the Atlantic. In most cases the overturn was accomplished almost without disorder, populace greeting advances of Buenos Aires happenings with cries of "Viva Republica. Viva Nuevo Gobierno".

Federal interventors were removed and new provincial government heads, designated by the junta or provisional government installed by General Uriburu at Buenos Aires took charge. From every provincial capital there came the same word: "Complete calm prevails".

As General Uriburu's government moved to entrench itself firmly, various members of the old regime were arrested and are being held. These included the former Minister of Foreign Affairs Horacio Oyabonote, the former Yrigoyen Senator Luis Molinari, the former Director of the Mails, Amalio, the former Director of Railroads, Claps; the former Chief of Police Sturla; the old friend of President Yrigoyen's, Scariato; and the former Yrigoyen Deputy Bidegain.

The three last named are accused of directing the "Klan Radical", a group which was held responsible for the firing from the crowd on the cadets in the Plaza Congreso Saturday. The former president, Sr. Yrigoyen, was interned or imprisoned in a military barracks. Guards kept about the place professed to be there to prevent any of the populace, which two years ago returned him to office by an overwhelming vote, from harrying him.

Events of the week-end had their beginning in retirement of President Yrigoyen Friday evening under a constitutional provision which would permit his return to office at his pleasure. His powers were merely delegated to Dr. Enrique Martinez, vice-president. The populace, students particularly, considered the retirement merely an artifice and Saturday morning troops mutinied to enforce their demand for actual resignation. The navy joined them and the government, headed by General Uriburu, powerful military figure of forty-four, by nightfall a white flag was run up at Government House before the mob, but severe fighting occurred in front of the Government newspaper, La Epoca. New Vessel Soon to Sail Noted Inside Passage

THE Inside Passage along the coast of British Columbia where the ship runs north to Alaska for five hundred miles between rugged islands and a mountainous mainland has a reputation among mariners that is world wide. No coasts, they say, except those of New Zealand and some parts of Norway, known for its great fjords, match this stretch of seaboard in majesty of scenery. There is only one short gap during the whole length of the voyage where the vessel is open to the full sweep of the Pacific. The rest of the time the great islands intervene and to all intents the boat is sailing along an inland sea. It is quiet and peaceful. The shore is only a stone's throw away. The smell of fir trees in the air mingles with that of sea water. The newest vessel to be put on this service has just been launched in England. The Prince Henry will sail through the Panama Canal to join the Canadian National Steamships fleet in June and will make her first sailing northward on July 3. The Prince Rupert and Prince George are already on the run and are known to the thousands of tourists who make the journey from Vancouver, or Prince Rupert north to Skagway, Alaska, and the Yukon every summer. Two other new ships for the Canadian National Pacific Coast Service, the Prince Robert and the Prince David, are now under construction.

Impy Falls In Love

By Thornton W. Burgess

In anger there is seldom gain, but often not a little pain. —Old Mother Nature. Impy the black Chipmunk didn't know what was the matter with him. Something was wrong, but he didn't know what. He lost his appetite. He had more dreams than usual; and, curiously enough, these dreams were all about Miss Frisky, the pretty little Chipmunk whose acquaintance he had recently made. Impy would start out to get something to eat and the first thing he knew he would be looking for little Miss Frisky instead of for something to eat. Whenever he found her, he would be supremely happy. When he failed to find her, everything seemed wrong. Now, little Miss Frisky was very shy. She was timid. Impy wasn't the least bit bashful, but little Miss Frisky was bashful herself. She never would let Impy come very near her. The instant he attempted to approach her, she would fly into a terrible rage; that is, he would sometimes. He would become very angry. Other times, he would be most forlorn and slowly go back home, looking as if he had lost his last friend. Now, all such things have a meaning. Perhaps you know what that meaning is. In Impy's case it meant that he was in love with little Miss Frisky. He didn't know he was in love, but he was. If she came over near him and sat long enough to talk to him a few min-friends, has returned to her home again. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Nugent and family spent Saturday evening the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Burke. HERE'S GROUCH CURE SAYS "BORN GROUCH"

One man at least, admits that he is a grouch. He not only does that, but adds that his father and his ancestors were also grouches. And, while he is still inclined to think that he remains a grouch, Cecil Eastman, has found that a lot of sunshine and happiness has been brought into his life by a simple change of diet that Mrs. Eastman induced him to make. How this diet change affected his grouchiness, Mr. Eastman records below. "I am a grouch. My father was a grouch. The original old boy who came to this country was a grouch, and reared in the woods nine grouchy sons named from Adonijah to Zachariah. I have been loaded with crepe and vinegar. On my honeymoon, Susannah, my wife, diagnosed my case. "Quit using beverages containing tannin and caffeine," she said, "and knit up your ravell'd nerves. I did—for a week. I grew naughtily sorry for myself and the experiment nearly wrecked our romance. So Sue weakened and began serving me my caffeine. This continued for eighteen years while I remained a grouch but showed enough human straits to get along with her. Postum contains no drug of any kind. It is made of roasted whole wheat and bran. There's nothing in it to get on your nerves, to disturb sleep or irritate. It's a drink you can enjoy too! A drink with a rich, full-bodied flavor millions prefer. Your grocer has Postum in two forms—Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, the kind you boil. Both cost less than other mealtime drinks—only one-half cent a cup. ALFRED WOOD, President and Editor. GORDON MILLER, Managing Editor. E. G. PIERCE, Finance Director. C. P. BUCKLAND, Advertising Manager.

"No matter where you finish in the mix-up or the row, there are those among the rabble who will pain you anyhow. But the fellow who is sticking and delivering the stuff can listen to the yapping as he giggles up his cuffs, the Loafer has no come-back, and the quitter no reply, as the Anvil Chorus echoes, as it will, against the sky. But there's one quick answer ready that will wrap them in a hood—Just Make Good."

MIXING IT WITH PURE WATER. After the rebuff from the property-owners of Sherbrooke on the filtration plant by-law, the city aldermen have gone into their usual trance, where they sulk and study out some petty reprisal.

Quite rightly they lay the blame for the massing of the displeasure of the citizens upon the shoulders of the Record, and we may have a third visitation of their spleen and spite. They should recall the old expression of "Three times—and out!"

Several prominent citizens have outlined what must be the final outcome of a solution of a plentiful supply of pure water for a city which must grow in good time to metropolitan proportion.

There are two movements which could be coalesced. One is that which has been outlined more than once by Charles B. Howard, M.P. From the platform he has advocated a national park in the Eastern Townships.

Combine with this our source of water supply, and it would be an easier matter to have the complete control of some great watershed free from any contaminating influence.

Some may immediately pooch-pooch the very idea that such a coalition could be brought about on the ground that we are politically "in wrong" at both Ottawa and Quebec, because our elected representatives are both in opposition.

But in matters of public health there can be no politics nor partisanship. And no man has ever accused the Premier of Quebec of being a rabid partizan much less when the general good of his people was the question at issue.

The question of a public domain being set aside for a good provincial or national park has been given friendly consideration, and it would be feasible to have it placed in townships so high above sea level that Sherbrooke and other towns might forever be protected in the matter of a supply of pure water.

MUST GIVE CONFIDENCE. The opening of Parliament today will be watched by all the people, for there is an intense interest taken in a meeting so closely following a general election, and there is also a keen desire to see first how the Hon. Richard Bennett and his Cabinet will endeavor to solve the problems of unemployment and industrial inactivity.

The mandate from the people of Canada is so closely locked up with these two solutions that there is a general expectation of both drastic and specific measures of impotence. Concurrently with our hour of publication some of these measures may be known.

The trial of strength at the polls was based on a higher protection of all Canadian industry, agricultural and manufacturing. Members who may oppose this view will take their political life in their hands, and possibly extinguish it.

Nor will an exchange of the taxpayers' money for labor on public construction be looked upon as other than a temporary relief. For with a falling revenue no government can gain confidence by spending more money than its income from the fifty-seven varieties of taxation.

the present administration does not show any sense of gratitude to our countries. True, it might have been different had the Conservative party won in Sherbrooke, but this city can never be intimidated by that which may appear to be a reprisal. As far as we are concerned our politics are "Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships," and for their good we labor, caring not whether it embarrass anybody or any party.

It positively cannot be that the representatives from the Eastern Townships are not men of Cabinet calibre, for they are far above the average in culture and in executive talent. What's the reason? A city constituency without a factory in it gave the largest majority for the party which advocated an adequate tariff protection for industries. It was the record majority of the 1930 general elections. This was Westmount, Montreal West and one ward in the City of Montreal, where R. S. White, M.P., won with 14,425 majority.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK. Letters to the editor are always welcome, and occasionally we publish a rejoinder by some other writer, when our correspondent signs his own name. But we do not care to be the medium of a controversy in which few people are interested other than the pen combatants. Always I prefer the letter where the correspondent uses his own name and surname, for the subject has then a personal as well as a public interest.

One droll correspondent accused the editor of a lack of education through not knowing the proper use of the plural or the verb singular. Sometimes we do forget our Latin, and we neither profess the wisdom of the ages, nor yet the infallibility of the lexicographer. We use our "English as she is spoke." Anyhow, ninety per cent. of our Latin scholars cannot read nor write the dead language forty year after they have ceased to see Caesar through his first Gallic war.

In only three constituencies in Canada were the candidates successful in an effort to inculcate hatred against their employers by the employees, and these three could hardly be called Canadian constituencies. In North Winnipeg the population is about ninety per cent. foreign, chiefly from Middle Europe, Russians, Poles, Czechs and other nationalities who can easily be excitedly arrayed against all authority by promising them a full share in everything they haven't got—without working for it. Another generation of them will have gone through the melting pot, which is the public school.

FRONT WINDOW MUSINGS. Why not a monument to fool drivers? They kill almost as many people every year as the war did. The border regions, as usual, are escaping the drouth. Money still talks, but all it says is: "When shall we meet again?"

Times may be hard, but the boys still find it worth while to hold up filling stations. Hollywood voice specialists train an actor six weeks and enable him to sing like one trained in six weeks. A dry agent, shot by a bootlicker, has been promoted. So that's what it means to be shot up.

Modernism: A growing conviction that all one needs to be a gentleman is a dinner coat and a little knowledge of bridge. The difference between an amateur and a professional is that the professional makes no secret of how much he gets. Another advantage of aluminum chairs is that they are so easy to handle if the fellow at the next desk likes to whistle at his work.

PRESS COMMENT. BAN THE "DREADFULS." Indiscriminate reading is unwise and very often deleterious. Especially is this true of young folk. Three lads arrested on charges of housebreaking and robbery in Oshawa, recently, are illustrations of what harmful influence trashy reading can have. These boys admitted they fell into error because they had been reading a good deal of cheap trash that is flooding the country. Most of us have been probably a little too lax in giving guidance to our children in the way of good reading. The Oshawa incident should be convincing enough to give that phase of children's pastime a little more of our attention.

THE "HIRED MAN." What does that familiar figure, the farmer's "hired man," get out of life, in the way of wages? This weighty question interested the National Industrial Conference so much that it made a survey of agricultural as compared with industrial wages, with noteworthy results. The "hired man" is much more of a family character than perhaps any other employee, except the "maid," for he is given bed and board and many other privileges, and the Conference Board wanted to weigh the value of these in dollars and cents. Naturally, this was a difficult task, but the Government went bravely at it, through the Department of Agriculture, and now we learn that the non-casual farm worker, the man who makes a business of farming for others, receives sixty per cent. in cash and forty per cent. in privileges, and the casual worker is paid seventy-seven per cent. in cash and only twenty-three per cent. in other things. Farm wages slumped terrifically in 1929-30, much more than those of industry, and they have not recovered in the same proportion, so the humble manual worker who tills the fields is relatively no better off than his employer, who just now is the prize sufferer from the general depression.

We often have wondered if the professional "hired man" is not a little wiser than his sister in the cities. He at least gets enough to eat and a good place to sleep, and his wages all "velvet," except for his clothes. —Boston Transcript.

Letters To The Editor

PAVING ON VICTORIA STREET To The Editor. Sir: Kindly allow me space to tell our city engineers that the paving on Victoria street of twenty-six feet width is too narrow to permit parking of cars on both sides, leaving free passage for two cars between. It should be at least six feet wider in order to prevent accidents. The newly-installed street lights, particularly on the narrow walks, block one third of the sidewalk. These could just as well have been placed back of the sidewalk, which would give clear chance for snowplow, and also be in a place where cars and people would not bump into them. Lights can be arranged on a bracket if it is desirable to bring them into the street. Why not build our city right in the first place without doing it all over in a year or two. It is no wonder there is no money in the city treasury. "OBSERVER".

AIR PAGEANT AT ST. HUBERT WAS WELL ATTENDED

Thousands Thronged to St. Hubert to Witness Thrilling Feats of Flying Performed by Participants in Annual Air Pageant Sponsored by Montreal Light Aeroplane Club—Royal Canadian Air Force Fighting Planes Gave Spectacular Performance.

ST. HUBERT, Que., Sept. 8.—With the continual drone of powerful engines, the flash of multi-colored planes through the air, the thrills of loops and rolls, parachute leaps and high-speed races and above all the ceaseless chatter of the meet announcers, the second annual Canadian pageant sponsored by the Montreal Light Aeroplane Club incorporated was run off at St. Hubert airport on Saturday and Sunday. Thousands of Montrealers and visitors journeyed out to the flying field to witness the daring feats, the tests of skill and the comic features that provided action and excitement in practically throughout the ten hours of exhibition. Perhaps outstanding in the many events the contest that took place during the two days was the performance of the Royal Canadian Air Force Siskin fighting planes from Camp Borden. Three in number and piloted by Flight Lieutenant F. V. Beasmith, leader; Flying Officer Cobell and Flying Officer McNab, these speedy bombers gave a brilliant display of formation flying. A balloon bursting competition held early yesterday and won by John M. McConnell, a director of the Montreal Light Aeroplane Club, furnished a pleasing variety to proceedings. Three balloons tied together were released and a plane sent up to smash them as quickly as possible. At first the pilots found difficulty in getting their eyes on their floating objectives, but Pilot McConnell and Pilot Winston W. Krantz, of Cincinnati, in his power glider Aronca, acquitted themselves with distinction, the former winning after playing off a tie for first place. Races on the programme included the open 40-mile handicap race, over a difficult triangular course, with eleven planes entered. Pilot Krantz and his power glider were away first, with the more powerful planes following one after the other. After a closely contested struggle, the honors went to G. T. Steves, of Ottawa Car Company, in an Avro Avian, with Capt. H. Spooner, chief instructor of the Montreal Aeroplane Club, second in a club Moth, and W. Van Horne, of Toronto, third in a Pass Moth. There was also the amateur handicap race, won by W. Perry, of Ottawa, with J. M. McConnell, Montreal, second, and Miss Ruth Nichols, of New York, third. The Wakefield competition was won by R. H. Foss and F. W. Hopkins, of Montreal, and the La Salle Trophy race, a relay race, by the Ottawa team of W. Perry, Capt. G. T. Steves and C. G. Shaw. Providing an unusual type of thrill was a stunt by Bernard Martin expert Canadian Airways mail pilot, who arrived in front of the boxes dressed up as a Professor Philippe Dore, from Paris. He was taken on to view a club plane by Capt. Spooner and when the latter was called away, he went off by himself, piloting the plane crazily as if just learning how to fly. This clever and difficult feat proved as exciting as it was amusing, but some honor must go to the club official, who chased around the field in a motorcycle, waving a red flag, and pretending to be much concerned over the antics of the supposed professor. Always willing to oblige with an exhibition at any time, Pilot Krantz, of Cincinnati, with his power glider, was most popular with the crowd. He entered in all the competitions he could and at other times drifted around in his little glider in a manner which made many envious of him and his skill. Pilot Krantz flew all the way from Cincinnati in his two-cylinder engine glider, which he pulls around the field with almost as much ease as a baby-carriage. He also performed many stunts that the larger planes were doing during the pageant. Not to be forgotten in enumeration of the events was the fine formation flying of five planes from the Montreal Light Aeroplane Club. The pilots were Capt. Spooner, Capt. Crisp, C. Jordan, G. O'Brien and G. Edwards and they brought great credit on the club by their well-conducted work.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH SCHOOL HELD OUTING

The members of the staff of Plymouth Church school held their annual outing Saturday afternoon at Knowlton, where they were entertained by the Ladies' Aid of the United Church at a delightful dinner. The menu was varied and delicious, and elicited many favorable comments from the guests.

A vote of thanks to the ladies of the church was proposed by Mr. Willard Cross, chairman of the committee of stewards of Plymouth Church, and seconded by Dr. Ellery Read, both expressing the hearty appreciation of the visitors for the generous hospitality they had received, and the value of such a visit in promoting inter-church relations. Mr. Thomas F. L. Cochon in presenting the vote of thanks to the ladies also referred to the pleasure the members of Plymouth Church had experienced in visiting the beautiful village of Knowlton and the church. Their visit had made them desire to repeat it on some future occasion.

Rev. H. F. MacFarlane, minister of the church, replied in behalf of the ladies stating that it had been a pleasure for them to cater to their visitors. He also drew attention to the value of such a gathering and similar gatherings in the work of the church. In these days of change, when it is hard to pre-

Thanks Bon-Tone For Relief From Years of Suffering

Suffered Greatly With Gas Pains Around the Heart.

MR. EDOUARD BRETON If you had suffered for sixteen years and tried all kinds of medicines but to no avail and then at last found a remedy that gave you grand and glorious relief, wouldn't you want everyone to know about it so that other sufferers could benefit by your experience? Here we cite you the case of Mr. Edouard Breton, of 67 Lincoln street, Sherbrooke, who says: "My stomach has caused me so much trouble for the past sixteen years and I tried all kinds of dif-dict what the position of the church will be, he believed that a part of the mission of the church was to create a social background for a healthy and helpful fellowship. After the dinner and a short time of social intercourse the party returned to the city having spent a pleasant afternoon and evening.

CHURCH SCHOOL REOPENED Plymouth United Church School reopened yesterday after the summer vacation, with a fairly good attendance of members present. Arrangements were considered for the celebration of Rally Sunday on September 28.

The church halls and class rooms have been greatly improved by renovation, especially the lower hall, which has undergone extensive repairs. All present a very attractive appearance and reflect great credit on the committee in charge.

Miss Bernice Fuley and Mr. E. Waller were in charge. The day was fine and about one o'clock, with much blowing of horns and waving of flags, the happy crowd of young people left the church hall on Montreal street for Wright's Beach, Lake Memphremagog, where races, baseball and other games were enjoyed by all. The picnic supper, one of the most important features of the outing, being served before the happy party left for home about seven p.m.

REGULAR SERVICES ARE RESUMED Yesterday morning's service in Trinity Church, being the first after the holiday season brought out a good congregation. The pastor, Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennon, preached on the subject, "How Do You Appraise Your Life?" taking as his text the words of the Epistle of James, "What is your life?" The special music included the anthem, "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," by Clare, and a solo by Miss Gladys R. Lennon, entitled "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes," by Evillie.

In the evening, Rev. Dr. Lennon began a series of sermons on "Great Phrases of the Bible," the basis of last night's sermon being the phrase, "The Residue of My Years." The choir rendered Farrant's anthem, "Lord, For Thy Tender Mercy's Sake."

The Sunday school and the Trinity Brotherhood got off to a good start for their season's work at 2:30 o'clock yesterday. Mr. Walter Mutchler was in charge of the Sunday school and Dr. Lennon gave an address.

Sherbrooke Business Man Produces Replica of Rare American Bill.

A despatch on September 5th from Sarnia, Ontario, states that Marshal A. Sanders has a rare United States dollar bill which is worth $200 among the collectors. Mr. Sanders claims it to be the last remaining bill of the issue of 1868, and that it is extremely valuable to collectors on account of an error made in the spelling of the word tranquility with but one "l." The issue was recalled by the Federal Government on account of this error.

Joseph Rosenboom, of this city, combats the idea that Mr. Sanders has the only bill extant of this rare specimen, and he displayed a genuine dollar of this issue in his store this morning. "I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for it," said Mr. Rosenboom, "for it was the finding of this bill which decided my business career. I was so elated at finding it that I at once returned to Sherbrooke selected a store and started in business for myself. It was in 1898, just twelve years after the bill was issued, one year after the first copy of the Record was printed, so that I remember the finding well. I looked upon it as a fortunate omen, and was inspired with confidence and cheer."

So that the bill payable in silver at the mint which the Sarnia man measures in dollars, the prominent Sherbrooke merchant recalls only for its sentimental value. Its possession was to him as the talent of silver which the biblical parable recites. Mr. Rosenboom did not bury the dollar in the savings bank, but tied it as a talisman upon which to build a prosperous business. But he has the original dollar bill reposing beside many of its Canadian brethren.

United Church, the regular services were resumed yesterday in the former church with the minister, Dr. G. Ellery Read, in charge.

At the morning service Dr. Read delivered a sermon on "Education For Living." Taking his text from the words of Jesus, Matt. 6:28-30, "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow, they toil not, neither do they spin, yet I say unto you that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

He pointed out that the most essential thing in living is knowing how to live. While this was commonplace enough, yet the truth was much neglected. There are relatively few people who take time to think about it, for life is largely a stream of experience along which they are borne without making any serious attempt to realize all the possibilities in character and achievement. A fatalistic tendency of thought moves them to think of life as largely beyond their control. They are, so they think, products of heredity and environment and are bound by the habits and customs of an established order which they cannot change.

This way of looking at life is due in a large measure to defective education which deals so largely with the material side of life and leaves out of account spiritual values. Education becomes a mechanical thing and fails to stimulate thought and establish contacts with the unseen and eternal. There seems to be no question as to whether the developing boy or girl is to be led into larger areas of life and thought, a deeper insight into its meaning, a richer experience of the world of beauty as expressed in nature, art, music, literature, religion. One may become what is commonly known as a successful business man, a captain of industry, or skilled for any particular mechanical or commercial service without knowing anything of what really lies nearest to one's highest life. Dr. Read said. This tragedy is by no means modern, of course. Christ found men who had missed the elemental and essential things in life. They had not been educated to appreciate them. Life was full of worries and perplexities, and men were not in possession of an adequate philosophy or faith with which to meet them. Absorbed in trifling matters they were losing sight of larger things. These were to be found in such a common thing as lilies of the field. Christ with His spiritually educated mind, His soul in contact with the divine could not look upon a lily without experiencing wonder, trust, love. Out of His own experience He summoned men to note carefully, observe accurately this common flower and let it speak to them of the Divine order of life, to look from the material to the spiritual. The difference between cultured and an uncultured people has been pointed out, is that the former make a lot of a little, whereas the latter make a little out of a lot. The cultured soul of Christ realized the wide significance of a lily for him who will study it in its relations and implications, and He would have men so educated in their souls that they might appreciate this.

The choir sang the anthem, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" (Dudley Buck). At the evening service the subject of address was "Helpful Hindrance." The choir sang the anthem, "Hide Not Thy Face Caryl Florida," and Mrs. J. G. Ranshouan sang Oley Speaks' setting of "Now the Day is Over." Mrs. Alberta Adams was directing the choir and Mr. Leonard Brodie was at the organ as usual.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

REGULAR MEETING OF 4th TROOP

The Fourth Troop Boy Scouts held their regular meeting with a very good attendance. The meeting was brought to order by the A.S.M. followed by Scout prayer and roll call.

During the meeting several games were played and enjoyed.

The boys had the presence of their District Scoutmaster, Mr. C. Price, also of a distinguished guest introduced by the A.D.C., Mr. C. G. Blake, namely Prof. Robt. Pugh, District Wolf Cub Commissioner of Fredericton, N.B. Mr. Pugh told several short stories of his trips, which were eagerly listened to by all present.

A new patrol competition was started and considerable headway gained by all the patrols. The leaders of the Fourth Troop wish to call the attention of all Cubs and Scouts to be present at a parade to be held on Wednesday evening, September 10th. Special points are to be awarded for the first full patrol. Scout law No. 1 is to be observed for the coming week. "A Scouts honor is to be trusted." The meeting was brought to a close by flag lowering and Scout silence.

MEETING OF SCOUTMASTERS The Scoutmasters of Sherbrooke district held a very successful meeting at the Fourth Troop headquarters, when nearly all leaders of the various units were present. During the meeting, several guests were heartily welcomed and assistant District Commissioner, C. G. Blake, introduced his guest, Prof. Robt. Pugh, District Wolf Cub Commissioner, of Fredericton, N.B. Commissioner Pugh rendered a few remarks on the activities of Scouting in Fredericton and touched upon various phases dealing with financial drives, troop and pack work. The remarks were heartily welcomed by all. Several items were discussed, and it was decided that a district Scout hike be held on September 20th. The date was set for the annual fall church parade. A light lunch was served before the close of the meeting.

An item that was given considerable thought and discussion, was that a fall rally for P.L.'s be held when all P.L.'s would be present. Another item discussed was that a schedule be made up by D.S.-M., Mr. C. Price, as to the exact dates that he would be able to visit the various units, as this would be of great help to the leaders. A light lunch was served before the close of the meeting.

COLUMBUS JUNIORS WON EASTERN CANADA TITLE

neatly to Tucker, whose attempt to reach Thibault's goal was frustrated by the Nationals' strong defence. Play moved back to the Montrealers' end of the field, with Gosselin, for the local squad, outstanding in his persistent attacks at the net. Mooney also became dangerous, but he lost the ball to Tucker, on a pass, and the latter ran up the field only to again meet disaster when he encountered the stalwart defencemen guarding the Frenchmen's goal. But Bennett recovered the ball for the Columbus boys and reached Thibault with a hard shot. Thibault, however, again proved his mettle and Bennett's effort proved fruitless.

It was at this stage of the game that Langis and Curran clashed and came to blows. Quite a commotion was caused, but order was quickly restored and the two players sent to the bench. This first clash, however, was but the introduction to a noisy embroilment staged just about three minutes later.

The play by now had reached a point of high tension. In the heat of the exciting struggle, Gordon crossed sticks with Bennett, clashed savagely, and suddenly became the central figures of a mix-up, in which spectators and players participated. The two players were

ASBESTOS TOOK GAME FROM ST. ROCH IN NINTH

Wanning Struck Out Eighteen Men to Obtain 11 to 3 Victory Over Local Nine—Notre Dame Defeated Windsor Mills at St. Pierre Allowed But Two Hits.

A ninth inning rally, which netted three runs, was responsible for St. Roch's eleven to eight defeat by the Asbestos nine at the Ball Park yesterday afternoon. After coming from behind in the eighth and tallying three runners to deadlock the score at eight all, the local aggregation were unable to check Asbestos' determination and allowed the winning runs to cross the pan. The ninth inning jinx, which has followed the Sherbrooke sluggers the last couple of games, stayed with them yesterday and another defeat was chalked up. Over seven hundred fans witnessed the encounter, the majority of whom were supporters of the visiting team. Other attractions in the city accounted for the small local crowd.

Before baseball than was displayed yesterday, when Asbestos' local diamond this year. Throughout the game on both sides and mediocre umpiring did not improve the situation any, while several breaks favored the opposing nine. The only highlight of the game was the mass box for Asbestos' pitcher, Gagné, who had previously pitched a no hit game against Notre Dame and J. P. Dion, was touched for eight hits by the Sherbrooke senior aggregation but succeeded in fanning fifteen of the local sluggers. At times he was unsteady, walking several men and hitting three. His support was better than that accorded Morin, his team mates making but two misplays, while Morin's cohorts had at least six errors chalked up against him. Morin struck out four men, walked three and hit one, while fifteen solid smashes were garnered off his deliveries. Only one of these hits went for extra bases when Burke, in the seventh, hit to Pinard and the ball bounced over the latter's head to give Burke a triple. Of the eight hits scored by the local Asbestos, three were singles, Gagné and Asselin each a two base ball and the rest were singles. Landry, catching for Asbestos, was a vital factor in defeating his former team mates, obtaining three singles in five trips to the plate and starting the game with a home run and driving his margin. A Harvey also hit three times in five appearances.

Wanning started out by hitting penalized, and the game was re-started after several minutes of delay. The game was inclined to be rough from then on, but no serious disagreements resulted and the period ended with the score at one to nothing for the local lads.

The last part of the first half opened with the Montrealers invading the Nationals' territory. Determined to even the score without any further loss of time, the Columbus boys gave the Nationals a hard time of it for several minutes and there was a slight tendency towards rough play. But the referees handled the situation adequately and the several penalties handed out succeeded in restoring a cleaner brand of lacrosse. The tables were now turned for a while, and the Nationals rushed the Columbus net. Wolfe caused the Montrealers considerable trouble with his heavy attacks, and Gordon managed to reach Elliot with several skillful shots, which, however, were of no avail. Play saw-sawed for some time, until Columbus broke away and worked havoc around Thibault's net. Tucker worked his way down the line and passed to Burket, who outwitted Thibault with a nice shot.

In the third quarter the Nationals pushed play towards the Montrealers' end of the field, There Ball and Gosselin tried time and again to snatch another counter without result. Ross, for Montreal, broke away with the ball and ran the length of the field, only to bow humbly at the quick hands of Thibault. Columbus here showed a decided edge over the Sherbrooke boys, and it was only the strong defensive work of the Nationals that stopped them from inflicting severe injury. No score result in this stanza, and the face-off for the final fifteen minutes of play saw the score tied at 1-1, with Nationals still faced with a five-goal deficit.

In these last minutes of play, Columbus gave proud evidence of a certain quality of team work and combination not easily overcome. Although the Frenchmen were playing as clever a brand of lacrosse as they ever played, the Montreal boys got off to a good start, and Lawton soon broke the tie when he shot at an open net. In a last determined endeavor the Nationals formed a strong offensive, and not many minutes later Mooney had flashed the ball past Elliot. Still playing offensive lacrosse, but still playing against odds that were unmountable, the Frenchmen caused considerable anxiety around the Montreal net. However, Columbus' style proved too much for the local boys, and the scene of battle was switched from one end of the field to the other, where Ross managed to beat Thibault at the net. A few minutes later the final whistle blew, with the scoring standing at 3 to 2 for the Montrealers.

The line-up was— Nationals—Thibault, Wolfe, Desruisseaux, Dufour, Lemay, Lamy, Mooney, Gordon, Langis, Gosselin, Ball, Kenalty, Lacharite, P. Lussier, J. Lussier, Saisois, Morin and Cabana.

Columbus Jrs.—Elliot McDermid, Tucker, Curran, Bennett, Morin, Blinco, Leblanc, Lawton, Rogers, Nivean, Monday, Ash, J. Bennett, Ross, Burket and Murphy.

The game was ably handled by Jim Cameron and Bill Mott.

MANY LIVES ON HIGH SEAS ARE LOST IN FIRES

Grim Tales of Panic and Heroism of Early Days Are Vividly Related.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sept. 4.—Few people living today can recall the wreck of the R.M.S.P. Company's steam-sailing ship Amazon. It was on January 2nd, 1852, that the Amazon, then the "crack" ship of the Royal Mail Steam Navigation Company, sailed from Southampton with cargo and mails for the West Indies. She was a novelty in those days; a timber-finished "sailing-steam" ship, reputed to be the biggest sailing vessel out of any British port. Her gross burden was 2,250 tons. She was 300 feet in length and forty feet in the beam, scarcely larger than a modern coaster. Steam was in its infancy in 1852, and the Amazon was one of those cumbersome craft fitted with huge paddle wheels and steam engines, of some eighty horse-power. In addition to a crew of 110 officers and men, she carried fifty passengers. From the first the Amazon experienced bad weather; and the full strength of the eighty-horse-power engines was needed to push her against the head winds and seas. "Engineers of those days were little more than mechanics. Very soon the bearings of the engines became heated, and the hose pipe was constantly employed to cool them. And this in the Bay of Biscay! But the master refused to turn back and pushed his ship into the gale. Then, at night, the second officer "saw the thing that caused his heart to rise awkwardly in his gulping throat. There were flames evident, issuing from the super-structure in the neighborhood of the much-criticized engine-room."

All attempts to smother the engine and stop the fire failed, and soon all hope of conquering the flames died. The passengers burst open the doors that had kept them below, and swarmed on deck. Women fell on their knees to pray, they were jostled to the bulwarks and crushed and trampled, heavy blows were struck as the maniac horror of fear galvanized into men's souls.

"Only one hope of salvation now remained, the boats. But these were aft; and the men who should have handled them were forward." The ship carried nine boats, but to launch them was next to impossible. To try to drop a boat over the side was to court disaster. Those boats that could be reached were made ready until such time as the engines "stopped of their own accord," since no man could enter the engine-room.

The master of the Amazon knew what was to happen. The boilers would burst when depleted of water never entered his head. Finally, with the ship a mass of flames and still plunging before the gale, the captain determined to launch the boats, but to add to the horror, those forward were on fire. Immediately there was further panic and a wild stampede to reach the boats, which were not burning.

"Captain Symons, a desperate man, sickened to death by what he had seen, went aft to the quarter deck, took the wheel from the steersman's hands, and said: 'Save yourself, lad; I stand by the ship.' There, for all evidence to the contrary, the captain died, a lonely man at the post of duty."

Those left aboard the ship perished as she blew up. The forty-two survivors, drifting in their battered boats without food or water, were rescued by Dutch galleons and a British brig. Fire also claimed the Cospatrick, a wooden ship of 1,200 tons, which sailed from London for New Zealand on September 11th, 1874, with a crew of forty-four and 429 emigrants. Panic broke out, and the boats were smashed or capsized in the launching. Two boats alone floated after the ship sank—Eight days and 400 miles from land, and in them were huddled seventy-one survivors. There was neither food nor drink, and one boat had neither mast nor cars. Before the Cospatrick sank the captain lost control of himself. His last act was to throw his wife overboard, and authorities blamed her presence on board for the "colossal quality of the catastrophe."

"A man in control of such a situation needs to have a clear brain; if the best of the brain is occupied with apprehension for a day, one cannot do justice to himself or to the situation." Of the two boats that put off one was never seen again. Bad weather overtook the other. And then came the biggest horror of all; white men turned cannibal. Eight days after the Cospatrick sank there were left only eight men, and three of these were only raving lunatics. Two more days passed and the number in the boat was reduced to five—five men in rags, as weak as babies. A ship appeared and took them on board, but only three lived.

SHIELDS TAKES SKINNER CUP BY NARROW MARGIN

Time for Annual Swimming Event on Magog River This Year Fifty-Eight Minutes—Close Contest for First Place.

The possession of the crown as long distance swimming champion of the Magog River and the Skinner Cup, emblematic of the championship, rests this year with Leo Shields, who edged out the favorite, Vincent Strachino, in the annual contest held on Saturday afternoon by a matter of twenty-two seconds. Nine swimmers started. Shields made the trip from the Paton Mill bridge to the C.P.R. bridge and return in fifty-eight minutes and thirty-five seconds, while Strachino made the journey in fifty-eight minutes, fifty-seven seconds. Due to the change in the course, the time made this year cannot be compared with last season, the swim last year being from Riverside Park to the Paton Mill bridge. Following the two leaders were D. Gordon, seventy-one minutes and eighteen seconds; fourth, A. Grillon, eighty-two minutes, fifty-seven seconds; fifth, G. Dunsmore, eighty-seven minutes and forty-four seconds; sixth, J. Nelson, eighty-nine minutes; seventh, Wardsworth, ninety-nine minutes. Two of the contestants had to drop out after swimming up to the bridge owing to cramps. These two were Messrs. Bowdwee and Demers. At the time of Bowdwee's seizure, he was second and up to this point had done splendid work and looked to be a winner. A large crowd was waiting at the bankment to welcome the swimmers as they reached the finishing line, which made the swim this year the most successful of the events yet run off. After the close of the race, Mr. C. Skinner stated that Skinner's Limited would provide the special medals for all who finished in the race after third.

An Exclusive Offer of 5000 Shares of the Canadian Silk Products Corporation

An opportunity to buy a stock, offering the guarantee of an investment combined with the bonus earnings of the future. This is a unique offer for whoever wishes to buy a good dividend-paying industrial stock. It is the first time that an opportunity has been given to the general public to buy any of these dividend-paying shares. The sale, or special offer is not put on the market through any financial need of the company, for its business is in such a state of prosperity that no new subscriptions are required. But these shares are offered from present shareholders only, and to only a selected number of investors. The number of shares now placed on the market is strictly limited to 5,000 and the opportunity of buying any shares at the price at which they are now offered will probably never present itself again. So, be ready.

HISTORY The Canadian Silk Products Corporation began its operations in 1924 on the upper floor of the old Goupil factory. A few months later, its first building was erected on Drummond Road. Within a short time this building had to be enlarged, in order to meet the increase in both Canadian and foreign business. The company's business which amounted to some $100,000 in 1925, was figured in millions in 1929, and that same year, the company redeemed all of these liabilities, namely: Loans, bonds, preferred stock, and the directors converted into common shares all of its holdings. It is from these shares, free from any liens and the only stock issued, that this exclusive offering is made. For details and price as to returns consult

NATIONAL LOOP PENNANT STILL TO BE DECIDED

Giants Fail to Regain Second Place in Week-End Games, With Brooklyn Improving Fourth Rung Position—Philadelphia Maintains Big Lead for American League Title.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The final decision in the National League pennant race has been put directly up to the final inter-sectional series with the western clubs of the circuit playing in the east. And on the basis of past performances this leaves the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants to fight it out for the flag.

The Giants have done very well during the past two occasions they have entertained the westerners, while the touring Cubs have turned in about as many victories in the east as their stay-at-home rivals. These calculations, however, must be changed somewhat to make allowances for the recent showing of the St. Louis Cardinals, who now hold second place and are closer to the league-leading Cubs than any team has been for some time.

The Cards fell down miserably in their first visit to the east, but since then they have taken a new lease on life with a great string of victories in their own section, both at home and on the road and have moved from a poor fourth place in second, only 2 1-2 games behind the league leaders.

A double victory over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday by scores of eleven to six and four to two, carried the Cards well up the line and made it seven straight victories and a clean sweep of the eleven home against Cincinnati. The Cubs and the Giants both lost single games, leaving the Cards only 2 1-2 games away from the leaders and 1 1-2 games ahead of New York.

While Rhem and Haines were holding the Reds in check, the latter with a five-hit performance, four Cub pitchers failed to stop the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Cubs overcame one Pittsburgh lead only to have the Pirates steal their favorite act and score six runs in the last three innings. Dazzy Vance did most of the fixing while the Robins supported him with timely hitting and brilliant fielding to win by a five to two count. The victory left the Robins only a half game behind the Giants and 4 1-2 games back of Chicago.

Two teams which are clear out of the running put the leaders to shame in yesterday's performance as the Phillies and the Boston Braves split a double-header. Philadelphia won the first contest one to nothing, although Ed Brandt allowed only two hits while Phil Collins gave the Braves seven. Boston turned the tables in the second, winning two to one, although Ray Benge outpitched Harry Seibold to the extent of five hits.

The Philadelphia Athletics were all set to put the American League pennant away in their locker after two innings against Washington, but the Senators, after losing a game on Saturday, persisted stubbornly and finally regained it by scoring two runs in the ninth inning to win seven to six. The champions assaulted Sad Sam Jones for five runs in the second inning then saw their lead trickle away as Fred Marberry pitched them into submission while the Senators picked up a run or two at a time to beat Walberg and Earnshaw. The teams start their final tour of the west with the Athletics 6 1-2 games ahead.

The New York Yankees tottered on the verge of mathematical elimination from the race as they dropped the first game of a twin bill to the Boston Red Sox five to three while the A's were ahead, but they recovered by winning the second game five to two, and retained the bare possibility of beating out the leaders. They are now 1 1-2 games behind with a mathematical chance of gaining 1 1-2 if they win all their games and the Athletics lose all.

The Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns ended their season's play all square when the Browns pounded out a nine to six victory in their rain-hampered clash. Backed by timely hitting, Walter Stewart outlasted five Detroit pitchers.

The Chicago White Sox won their last clash with the Cleveland Indians five to two behind the six-hit pitching of rookie Jim Moore, but did not fare so well in the year's play. Cleveland won twelve of their twenty-two games.

The Sherbrooke Country Club defeated the Dufferin Heights Golf Club by the score of 34 to 9 in their return golf match played over the local course Saturday afternoon. Sixty-eight players took part and although the total score was one-sided most of the matches were close and interesting. Several Dufferin players, who were expected, were unable to be present, necessitating a rearrangement of matches at the last minute.

COLUMBUS JR. WON EASTERN CANADA TITLE

Playing Before Over a Thousand Spectators at Parade Grounds Yesterday Afternoon, Columbus Juniors Nosed Out National Lacrosse Team by Score of 3 to 2.

Playing before an enthusiastic gathering, numbering about a thousand persons, at the Parade Grounds yesterday afternoon, in an encounter that saw hard play and several heated arguments, to say nothing of two prominent exhibitions of fisticuffs, the National Lacrosse team went down to honorable defeat at the hands of the Columbus Juniors, of Montreal, when they tried to overcome the five-goal deficit facing them in their struggle for the Eastern Canada lacrosse title and the Rubenstein trophy. With ideal weather prevailing for the occasion, and with one of the largest crowds of the season bearing testimony to the keen interest in lacrosse entertained by local sporting fans, the two teams battled through four periods of severe play and exhibited a sterling brand of lacrosse seldom seen at the Parade Grounds. Although the local boys were in top-notch condition and greatly strengthened by the addition of Wolfe and Langis to their line-up, the Montrealers had a slight edge over them, and evincing better judgment, smoother team-work and a superior brand of lacrosse, succeeded in nosing them out by the close score of three to two, and clinching the Eastern Canada title.

The first period went to the Nationals, when they managed to tally their first point, and the odds broke slightly in favor of the Montreal team for the remainder of the first half. The third quarter was slightly in favor of the local team, and the final stanza went to Columbus. Thibault, guarding the Nationals' goal, put up a splendid game and saved his team from bowing to a much heavier defeat, while Mooney, Gosselin and Wolfe, also for the Nationals, were outstanding in their play. Bennett, Curran and Ross were starring for Columbus.

The Nationals went off to a flying start at the opening of the game and immediately after the face-off Gosselin rushed down the field and passed to Ball, who beat Elliot in the Montrealers' net with a swift shot. Scarcely thirty seconds had elapsed before this first tally resulted. Grimly following up their advantage, the Frenchmen rushed the Columbus boys' goal but could not work no further damage, although

Elliot was given several wicked shots. Ross, for Montreal, worked his way up the field and passed (Continued on Page Six.)

RAILROADERS DEFEATED 'Y' IN LOOSE GAME

Quebec Central Took Exhibition Quebec Central Took Exhibition Three to Two.

Playing at the Parade Grounds on Saturday afternoon, the Quebec Central eleven overcame a one goal lead in the final half to defeat the Y.M.C.A. squad by the count of three to two in an exhibition encounter. While the game was well contested, it had all the pointers of a post season, loose plays outnumbering the good by a large proportion.

The Y.M.C.A. took the lead in the first, only to have the Railroaders equalize. Soon after, the white-shirts went into the lead again maintaining it through the stanza. Hardly had the second period opened, however, before the Quebec Central again evened matters and before the final whistle blew they scored again to clinch the match.
