Opinions Differ Effect Of Opposition Congress Debated In U.S.

Find Traces Of Ancient Arctic Life
Montreal (CP)—Remnants of three ancient Arctic civilizations have been found by a Danish archaeologist northwest of Hudson Bay, 200 miles inside the Arctic circle. The oldest may date back some 4,000 years.

Jorgen Melgaard of the University of Copenhagen went there this summer to look for traces of the Dorset civilization, which existed in the north 1,200 to 2,000 years ago.

He turned up a treasure trove of relics, including the first signs of Dorset houses ever found, and artifacts of a more recent people—the Thule civilization.

But he also found traces of an even more ancient culture which may have flourished 2,000 years before Dorset man.

In Ottawa, Dr. F. J. Alcock, curator of the National Museum of Canada, speculated that the oldest culture may be the same as that of the Denigh race, which ethnologists believe was the first group of people to enter North America from Siberia, across the Bering strait into Alaska.

Dr. Alcock said scientists generally believe that all the early North American civilizations of which there is any trace stemmed from Asiatic migrants. Speculation is either that an early land bridge connected Alaska and Siberia, or that those early people crossed from island to island, taking generations to do so.

The Denigh people got their name from the large collection of flint artifacts found on Cape Denigh, which juts out from Alaska towards Siberia. Age of those relics has been placed, through radioactivity tests, at 6,000 years. They correspond with even more ancient flint tools found around Lake Baikal, north of Outer Mongolia.

R.A.F., Navy Aid Rubber Whale Hunt
Fishguard, Wales—(Reuters)—British air force planes and naval vessels today turned out to help movie technicians run down a gigantic rubber whale which batted from the east of "Moby Dick" Thursday to set off a frantic, real-life whale hunt.

Ships in the vicinity were warned there is "possible danger" from the 65-foot, 18-ton monster at large in heavy seas between Ireland and western Britain.

The $12,000 model first broke its tow rope Thursday evening in the middle of a harrowing whale hunt scene from the "Moby Dick" epic. Assistant director Kevin McClory leaped onto the back of the heaving rubber hulk with another tow rope but had to jump back onto a launch after an hour when strong winds and high seas started the whale breaking away again.

Movie technicians chased the whale until dark. Today, British planes and naval vessels took up the search after an object thought to be the missing monster was spotted by radar.

The A. B. C. Picture Company, shooting "Moby Dick" with Gregory Peck as the star, has already lost one smaller whale. A 35-foot model was dashed to pieces on rocks two months ago after its tow rope broke.

San Francisco (AP)—Twenty-two Polish seamen who renounced their Communist-dominated homeland have been granted admission to enter the United States on a temporary basis, the director of immigration at San Francisco announced Thursday. They were crew members of the Polish-owned vessels Gottwald and Praca seized earlier this month by Chinese Nationalists.

U.S. Expects Support Of Anti-Aggression Policy
By TOM HOGE
United Nations, N.Y.—(AP)—The United States sought approval today for its six-point plan to bolster United Nations forces against aggression. Diplomats predicted the proposal would win strong support despite expected Soviet opposition.

U.S. delegate Charles A. Mahoney prepared to go before the 60-nation political committee to present the plan, under which the UN would pay for supplies and equipment used in collective military action against any future aggressor.

U.S. sources said Mahoney would point out the close connection between disarmament and collective measures in the development of a safe, secure world. They said he would stress the need for fast participation by member states in any future collective action.

The Eisenhower administration has described unpreparedness as a serious handicap in fighting the Korean war, first major collective military action under the UN flag.

The U.S. plan was approved by the 14-nation collective measures committee, whose annual report furnished the basis for today's debate.

The plan calls on UN members to contribute to the best of their ability—sending troops, supplies or money. It also urges the UN to support action taken by regional pacts such as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There were rumors Russia might consider the debate a good occasion to come up with a proposal of her own. Observers speculated the Soviets might call for big-power talks on the whole security question, or revive Russia's old proposal for a European security pact.

Union Move Hits Return Move In London Strike
By HAL COOPER
London—(AP)—A last-minute union manoeuvre which knocked out a tentative truce plan sent Britain's crippling waterfront strike into its 26th day today.

The government apparently still had hopes of a back-to-work movement during the weekend, said the government could hardly delay longer the use of troops to unload vital foodstuffs and other imports. Some 43,000 workers are idle at the nation's main seaports.

The end of the walkout appeared imminent Thursday night when dock employers in London agreed to an armistice on the main issue—whether dock workers should have the right to turn down overtime work. Overtime now is compulsory. Employers maintain this is necessary because of the effect of tides on handling cargoes.

Under the truce formula the dockers would return to their jobs pending negotiation of their grievances. While negotiations were going on, employers would refrain from disciplinary action against any workmen who refused overtime.

Leaders of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union at first seemed inclined to accept the armistice proposal. But after a long meeting they made a demand that the same formula be extended to all ports outside London.

The ministry of labor said this was impossible because there was "no dispute about overtime in ports where sympathetic stoppages have occurred."

The stevedores group represents only 11,000 strikers and almost its entire strength is in London. Most of the other men on strike belong to the Transport and General Workers Union. Leaders of the TGWU have denounced the walkout as a Communist conspiracy.

Granby Man Sentenced To Hang January 28 For Slaying Of Notre Dame De Stanbridge Bank Manager.
Sweetsburg—Henri Lizotte, attorney for Adrien Lebeau, who was yesterday found guilty of murder in the killing of J. Ovila Courville, Notre Dame de Stanbridge bank manager on December 18, 1953, and was sentenced to be hanged on January 28, 1955, announced today that he would appeal the verdict.

Lebeau, a thirty-eight-year-old Granby resident, was found guilty by a Court of Queen's Bench jury here and the death sentence was immediately imposed by Mr. Justice Louis-Philippe Cliche, of Sherbrooke, for the killing of the bank manager during an attempted hold-up of a branch of La Banque Canadienne Nationale.

The jury was out almost three hours following a charge by Judge Cliche lasting slightly over two hours.

One of the crown's witnesses was Marcel Bouchard, also of Granby, who will also be tried on a murder count. Bouchard testified he was given a gun by Lebeau but was told by Lebeau the holdup would present no difficulties as it had been pre-arranged and police would be notified after the two had made off with the money.

Bouchard testified that when he entered the bank, the manager started running away. Bouchard said there was a shot and he realized it was from the gun in his hand.

Hope To Aid Hit-And-Run Victim, Nine
Toronto—(CP)—Doctors at the Hospital for Sick Children examined little Ignatius Croty today, hopeful that he can reward the faith of the boy's parents and a host of warmhearted Newfoundlanders.

They are seeking to repair the brain injuries caused by a hit-and-run driver and restore Iggy to the life of a normal nine-year-old.

Iggy was carried off a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane at suburban Malton airport early today after a 10-hour flight from his home at St. John's, Nfld., financed entirely by public contributions.

An ambulance was waiting beside the aircraft. Iggy was helped onto a stretcher and managed a weak smile for photographers before being whisked off to the hospital in downtown Toronto. Hospital officials said he went to sleep almost as soon as he was in bed.

Nurse Lillian Walsh of St. John's said Iggy, neat as a pin in maroon cap and jacket and grey flannel trousers, "enjoyed the trip just fine." He was a little airsick at the start but soon was playing with passengers. He fell asleep at Sydney, N.S., and did not awaken until the plane reached Montreal late Thursday night.

TCA Stewardess Faga Blitstein helped look after Iggy on the Montreal-Toronto part of the flight, which he spent in a reclining chair propped up by a pillow.

"He stood the trip very well and seemed very cheerful," Miss Blitstein said. "He fell asleep just before we landed."

He was wide awake, though and seemed interested in his surroundings when he arrived here.

Iggy is unable to talk but Miss Blitstein said he appeared to be aware of everything going on around him.

"He'd been a little sick on the early part of the trip so I gave him a glass of milk. While he was awake he played part of the time with a little stuffed animal. He had two or three dollars in his pocket and we played a little game of passing them back and forth."

Iggy has been improving steadily but has never been a normal child since an automobile drove away and left him unconscious by the side of the road as he was returning from school one afternoon last May.

For 115 days he lay in a coma at the St. John's General Hospital. When he finally regained consciousness his right side was paralyzed and he could hardly move. Doctors said the injury to his brain had left him like an infant.

Since then he has learned to push himself around in a wheelchair. Dr. R. T. Jousse, a polio rehabilitation expert, examined him recently while on a trip to Newfoundland and made arrangements for a 10-day visit to Toronto.

Newfoundlanders heard of Iggy's plight and took him to their hearts. The St. John's Evening Telegram opened a fund to help him and the $3,000 target was passed in a week. The mark was doubled and exceeded in another week. Even after subscriptions were closed donations kept pouring in, some from as far away as the United States and Great Britain, until the fund amounted to nearly $10,000.

It was more than enough to pay for the return flight, special training at the hospital and treatment by Dr. Bruce Hendricks, a neurosurgeon.

Mummified Body Found At Lambton
Lambton, Que.—(CP)—The mummified body of an infant has been found stuffed in a shoebox under the sanctuary floor of St. Vital Roman Catholic church in this farming village, 90 miles south of Quebec City.

The rector of the 48-year-old church, L'Abbe P. E. Pelchat, said the infant was about seven months old when wrapped in newspapers dated 1919 and slipped into a space under the sanctuary floor.

A doctor called to the scene said the body was dried up and "almost completely mummified." He would not say whether it was a boy or girl.

Dr. Charles Chabot, town doctor who was called Wednesday when a workman came upon the body while clearing debris from the one-foot-high separation, said the infant probably was placed there shortly after birth through a trap-door in the cellar ceiling, directly under the altar.

Dr. Chabot offered two reasons why the body was not discovered earlier. During the years the shoebox had been pushed away from the trapdoor as other articles were stored in the space. The dry air between floors and the nature in which the baby was wrapped prevented decomposition. Presence of a body would have been indicated if there had been decomposition.

World News In Brief

Chicago—(AP)—Traffic deaths in the United States dropped again in September—the ninth month in a row to show a decline. Fatalities totalled 3,020, seven per cent under the total for September, 1953.

Salerno, Italy.—(AP)—Vicenzo Pappalardo, 26, reported to police Thursday that he lost 26 relatives, including his mother, brothers and sisters, their husbands, wives and children, in Tuesday's flash floods.

Enna, Sicily.—Reuters—Francesco Grillo, 12, is to become a mother before Christmas, her 19-year-old husband, Salvatore Calce terra, said Thursday night. The pair eloped last February.

Hughsonville, N.Y.—(AP)—Herbert S. Gorman, 61, novelist, poet, biographer and book reviewer, died Thursday at his home here. A close friend of James Joyce, Gorman wrote two biographical studies of the Irish writer. His other books include "The Cry of Dolores" and "The Wine of San Lorenzo."

Rome—(Reuters)—About 20 neo-Fascists armed with sticks Thursday night raided a Communist party branch headquarters here, breaking furniture and attacking Communists. The branch secretary called police, who arrested three youths. Two injured Communists were taken to hospital.

London—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill today completed his 30th consecutive year as a member of the House of Commons.

Altogether Churchill has served 52 years in the Lower House of Parliament—more than any other present member. He was elected first in 1900 but missed the years 1922-24.

The only present member with a longer consecutive service than the prime minister is D. R. Grenfell, who has represented the Welsh district of Gower continuously since 1922.

Churchill will be 80 Nov. 30.

Hearing For 10-Year Joe Again Today
By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
West Monroe, La.—(AP)—A third hearing was scheduled today for 10-year-old Joe Cooper who levelled a loaded shotgun at the principal and truant officer of a rural school to save his dog from a gas chamber.

Judge Howell Heard, who earlier committed the son of an impoverished widow to a reform school, said the hearing would be closed to the press and public.

For Joe Cooper and his mongrel Tippi, the court session meant another brief reunion after two weeks of separation. The sixth-grader was taken to the Louisiana training institute in nearby Monroe less than five hours after the incident at the Ransom school Oct. 6. Tippi has been spending his days in a pet hospital.

Joe's troubles started when the dog broke loose and followed his master to school.

The principal, Mrs. Tina Clark, ordered the janitor to lock the unlicensed and unvaccinated dog in a closet and sent for the dog catcher. She explained that school children had been bitten in recent months by stray dogs.

Joe pleaded in vain for the freedom of his pet, then took direct action. He went home to fetch the family shotgun. His 30 cents lunch money aided his preparations, 20 cents went for a new shell and 10 cents was used as cash money in the form of ice cream for two tiny cousins who might have given the plans away.

Shotgun in hand, Joe held the principal and the truant officer, Maurice Griggs, at bay until police disarmed him.

"I wouldn't have shot anyone, I just wanted my dog," Joe pleaded. "He's not much but he's all I got."

The pleas set off a flurry of letter-writing that is continuing. More than 1,000 letters supporting the boy have come into this little paper-mill town.

Some denounced the judge, others contained donations and offers of a new home for Joe and his dog. Most brought encouragement and hope to Joe's 65-year-old mother, Mrs. I. L. Cooper, who reared eight other children and now is making a determined stand to keep custody of Joe, the youngest.

Brooklyn Alone Offers Peeve At Royal Journey
By LLOYD McDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
New York—(CP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth took a breather today in her North American tour, and everybody was happy except Brooklyn and the New York Daily News.

Today's program called for a sightseeing expedition with special emphasis on the cloisters in Fort Tron Park, on the upper west side of Manhattan island.

After the busy round of social events the Queen Mother has been engaged in since she arrived Tuesday, there was an air of relaxation in the royal party today.

Brooklyn, home of the pennant-winning baseball team, was disappointed because the royal itinerary doesn't include a visit to the 2,000,000-population borough.

The president of the Brooklyn Historical Society, Norman R. Free, declared that "a visitor can't really say she has been in New York until she sees Brooklyn."

"The people of Brooklyn," he added, "are a bit miffed that the Queen Mother is making her headquarters some place in the Bronx and hasn't scheduled a trip to their side of the East river."

"Some place in the Bronx" was a reference to the estate of Sir Pierson Dixon, permanent British delegate to the United Nations, where the Queen Mother will stay until she leaves for Washington Nov. 4 to visit President Eisenhower.

Although it is actually within the city limits of New York—as is Brooklyn—the estate, called Wave Hill, is as secluded as a manor house in the Highlands of the Queen's native Scotland.

New York crowds have been enthusiastic, but The Daily News, biggest-circulation newspaper in North America, with a subscriber list approximating the population of Brooklyn, has taken a dim view of most of the tour arrangements.

The paper, never prominent for its support of the United Kingdom, went out of its way in an editorial the day before the Queen arrived to point out that it really welcomed her. But since the tour began The News's complaints have mounted.

Thursday morning's edition slammed at the press arrangements for the Canadian Club luncheon for the Queen, and today The News carries an editorial headed, "Queen Mum Is Okay, but—"

The editorial contains the following sentence:

"Queen Mum," as a lot of Britain-lovers around town are calling her as millions retch, was isolated by toadies and snobs who kept the common herd at a respectful distance."

"We'd say," the editorial goes on, "that Queen Mum is strictly okay, but that she has been trapped by a bunch of stuffed shirts who don't know the first thing about good public relations for royalty on a goodwill tour of a republic."

The usual arrangements for press coverage of royal visits are in effect during the tour here, as they will be for the Queen's six-day visit to Ottawa starting Nov. 12.

Boo!!
By WESLEY DAVIS

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was happy with a happy thought of Hallowe'en. The Huffen was busy in his hollow tree house, dressing himself in a Hallowe'en hat and a frightening mask like a dangerous wolf. Oh my yes, because the mask was a false face for Hallowe'en.
Said the Huffen: "Daddy Ringtail, your old friend, the Huffen Puffen, is going to frighten Mugwump Monkey, he is." And the Huffen laughed and chuckled with the happy Hallowe'en thought of how he would frighten Mugwump.
"Oh, but Huffen Puffen," said Daddy Ringtail, "you are very easily frightened yourself, you know. Maybe you should not frighten the boy."
Again the Huffen laughed and chuckled. It was part of Hallowe'en fun, it was, to dress like a play-like dangerous something. Yes, and LENNOXVILLE MOCK FASHION SHOW — Pictured above is a group of the all male models who took part in the Mock Fashion Show, which was repeated last week at St. Anthony's church hall, Lennoxville, under the auspices of St. Anthony's Ladies' Society. Below a family scene from the Gay Nineties is depicted.

It was part of Hallowe'en fun to jump from behind a tree when Mugwump Monkey came walking along in the moonlight. The Huffen was going to say a "Boo!" And then Mugwump would have a Hallowe'en fright and the Huffen could laugh about it, the Huffen was thinking.
The Huffen now was dressed in his Hallowe'en hat and he was wearing the frightening face of a dangerous wolf. What a scary Hallowe'en mask it was!

The Huffen turned out the lights in his house. Out he stepped on the Elephant Path, Daddy Ringtail followed along to see what would happen.
The Huffen walked on and away to the monkey house where Mugwump Monkey was singing outside in the moonlight. The Huffen crept closer, and now the singing had stopped. Where oh where was Mugwump? Very next, he was behind that very next tree, and so the Huffen now began to tiptoe and tiptoe along as quiet as a quail could be.
Yes! There was Mugwump now. The Huffen opened his mouth to say a "Boo! Boo!" But before he could say it, Mugwump said: "Boo! Boo! Boo, Huffen Puffen!"
"Ooooh!" said the Huffen, and away he ran in a great fright. He might have run all the way home, but Daddy Ringtail caught him and explained that it really was only Hallowe'en fun. The Huffen laughed to hear it, and all was fine as fine could be, all upon a happy Hallowe'en adventure. Happy day!

J. N. Boisvert Firm Observing Golden Jubilee

Away back in October 1904, when the horse was still the chief means of highway transportation, when the automobile was regarded as something of a passing fad, as a toy for right young men with more money than brains to kill themselves with, a young man, J. N. Boisvert, established himself as a harness maker on a site near the bridge over the St. Francis River opposite the Landsdowne market. Although the horse has become almost as scarce in the city today as the automobile was fifty years ago, the firm which he established and operates today, continues to grow and prosper. Of course, the original lines — saddle and harnessmaking — are much restricted today, but through its far-sighted and aggressive policies the firm has steadily broadened its field of activities to embrace almost every line of leather goods — trunks, valises, handbags, bill folds, sports equipment, in fact almost everything in which leather plays an important part.
The expansion experienced by this firm can best be judged by the fact that whereas it occupied approximately 400 square feet of floor space in a store adjoining its present location, today it requires more than 4,500 square feet to carry on its activities.
The growth of the firm came gradually through hard work. Encouraged by his initial success, Mr. Boisvert in 1909 purchased the saddlery shop of E. J. King situated on the present site of the Record building and on September 11 of the same year, he acquired the Begin property which comprised an old tannery and a vacant lot.
On April 1, 1910, Mr. Boisvert formed a partnership with his brother, Alberic, which continued until 1915. Shortly before this, he had given the contract for the construction of a new building to the firm of Lefebvre and Bonin. This building, which he occupies today, was a three-story brick structure with a basement in which he operated his harness shop, after taking it over from the contractors in June of the same year.
The following year, J. M. Boisvert et Frere purchased the Martin saddlery in Lennoxville and in 1913 took over the Peabody firm, which was also situated in Lennoxville.

On March 13, 1918, Mr. Boisvert, who was now the sole owner of the business, purchased the Archambault shop on Marquette street at the corner of Goodhue, which he operated concurrently with his main establishment until 1920 when he disposed of his interests to Messrs. Comtois and Rochelleau.
The ever-growing importance of his retail business compelled Mr. Boisvert to enlarge his store and use the basement for the storing of his merchandise. He also constructed an annex measuring 24 by 36 feet, two storeys high, to house his harness shop. Today, the main section of the store is devoted exclusively to the display and sale of luggage and sporting goods which have become its chief interest since the evolution in transportation from the horse to the automobile.
The ability to adapt oneself to changes in commerce appears to be the secret of Mr. Boisvert's success. When the use of horses as a means of transportation started to decline, Mr. Boisvert, instead of complaining, began to look around for other lines of leather goods to replace that which was dying out, with the result that today he has one of the leading leather goods shops in the province.
In 1946 a new store front was completed the large windows greatly brightening the interior and giving the establishment a much more modern appearance.
L. Yvon Boisvert was taken into partnership with his father and by completing the modernization of the interior has helped to create one of the most attractive establishments of its kind in the province.
Another son, Gilles, has been with the firm for the past three years, devoting much of his time to the administrative end of the business.
In addition to the retail sales business, the Boisvert firm also conducts a complete shoe and leather goods repair department with special facilities for the damaged luggage and ripped leather sporting wear.

Canadian Story Dramatized At Women's Club

By BETTY BRADSHAW
"The play was the thing" at last night's dinner meeting of the Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships, when Mrs. Phoebe Erskine McKellar, Canadian actress, gave several recitations of dramatic legendary poems, by Canadian poets on different stages of Canadian history.
Mrs. L. Rosenbloom introduced the speaker, informing the audience that Canada should be rightly proud of Mrs. McKellar and her success as a dramatic actress, just as Mrs. McKellar was equally proud of her famous husband, who is now Captain of Cunard's newest ship, The Saxonia. It took the members but a few minutes to realize the great ability of their speaker as she made what might otherwise seem dull facts, although with interesting legendary connections, become some of the most colorful parts of our history.
Performing on a small stage, making necessary changes in her costume before each poem right there in front of her audience, the talented actress was somewhat at a disadvantage, but she took all in her stride, making the evening one of the best that the Canadian Club had experienced.

The poems which she enacted were all by personal friends of the speaker, all Canadian poets, some still living and others having passed on as some of the best poets Canada has ever known.
Her first appearance was as Elaine Boule, the young wife of Samuel de Champlain, taken from a poem by Alice Lighthall. For this poem, Mrs. McKellar appeared in the typical costume of New France in 1620, showing to the full the trials the young wife had to go through to remain with her famous husband.
Without any more delay than it takes to remove one's shawl, hat and wig and don others, Mrs. McKellar next took the audience immediately into the days of the Mick-Mack Indian race of Nova Scotia. Here in the colorful Mick-Mack costume, complete with pipe, she acted out a story told by a Mick-Mack woman, from an original legend, written in verse form by Amy Redpath Roddick.
The following poem was one by Margery Furness MacLeod, being staged in Prince Edward Island, where a fisherman's wife told the tale of the old legend surrounding the mystery ship, The Charlotte May. This portrayal of the fisherman's wife was contrasted with the next act, when Mrs. McKellar presented a story by E. J. Pratt on Newfoundland — "Britain's oldest colony and Canada's newest province." This was the story of John Jones, which was told by another fisherman's wife, slightly overcome by the influence of alcohol, which Mrs. McKellar explained as a not too uncommon sight in Newfoundland. Typical costumes, a baby and the old rocking chair were all the performer needed as props to get her story across to the audience.
Ontario, and an incident in the life of a later United Empire Loyalist, in the Bay of Quinte area was the theme of the next poem, written by Laura Nixon Hayes. This was acted in the form of a portrait coming alive. Sticking to the Ontario idea, Mrs. McKellar then went on to portray election time in the days of Sir John A. MacDonald. This poem, written by Mildred Lowe, of Ottawa, was acted out in the person of a maid, who told the story of electioneering at that time. This was one of the best performances done by the actress, as she acted two persons at once throughout a considerable part of the poem.
Travelling west, Mrs. McKellar then took the members to the Prairies when she acted out a poem, by Dr. Murray Gibbon. This was originally set to the tune of a Norwegian wedding tune, and Mrs. McKellar acted out the story of Norwegian immigrants who had come from the United States to live in the beautiful Canadian West.
Following this, as a link-up between East and West, the performer then presented a few Paul Bunyan stories, giving them modernistic twists, which amused the audience highly. These were told with Mrs. McKellar dressed in the garb of a logger's wife.
Dr. Henry Drummond was the author of the final presentations of Mrs. McKellar, when she expertly portrayed the lovable philosophical peasants of French Canada for which Dr. Drummond has been known the world over in his skillful representation of them. The Notaire Publique, with its confused heroine and aggressive "notaire" was the first one she recited.
Mrs. McKellar's well chosen finale was the ever-popular Wreck of The Julie Plante, by Drummond, and this also proved to be one of her best performances of the whole evening, showing that it takes real talent to be able to undergo the stage conditions, as Mrs. McKellar had to, yet to turn up with as shining an example of acting at the end of a performance as when she stepped on the stage at the very

Citizenship To Form Subject Of Home, School Talk

The Sherbrooke Home and School Association have been particularly fortunate in securing Lieut.-Col. J. N. Wood, Superintendent of Protestant Schools of Compton County, and former Principal of Cowansville High School, to speak to the members on Monday next at the High School on "Citizenship."
Lieut.-Col. Wood is a very interesting speaker and his message will be most important to parents of future citizens.
The executive of the Association met Wednesday evening at the home of the president, Fred Simpson, to consider the suggestions brought in the last meeting. Some of these were felt to be impracticable, others were tabled for further consideration, and several will be discussed at Monday's meeting. The need for vocational guidance for students in High School was stressed and ways and means of offering it to the students are being considered. A pennant will be awarded to that classroom in Mitchell and the East Ward schools having the greatest representation of parents at the Home and School meetings. This pennant will be displayed on the door of the winning classroom and is beginning, in the garb of little Elaine Boule.

The speaker was thanked by Mrs. A. W. Preston. The next meeting of The Women's Canadian Club will be held Friday, November 26, when the guest speaker will be Douglas Wilkinson, whose topics will be Work and Play Among the Eskimos.
Seated at the Head-table last night were especially invited guests: Mrs. A. C. Ross and Mrs. Colin Campbell, two of the organizers of the first Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships; Mrs. W. Clifford, of East Angus; Mrs. J. A. Stewart; Mrs. L. Rosenbloom; Mrs. McKellar; Mrs. J. A. Donald and Mrs. A. W. Preston.

very attractive. The possibility of having a "Swap Shop" was also discussed at length and suggestions will be asked for at the next meeting.
There being no further business, the meeting adjourned for refreshments, served by Mrs. Simpson.

Gaston Masse Honored For 20 Years Service With Electric Department

Some 250 employees, business associates and friends of Gaston Masse were on hand last night for a surprise dinner given in his honor on the occasion of his 20th year of service with the city's Electricity and Gas Department of which he is now superintendent. The reunion was organized by the employees of the department.

Present at the banquet were employees of the Gas and Electricity Department, representatives of the Southern Canada Power Company and the Shawinigan Water and Power Company, members of the Engineering Institute of Canada and several business men with whom Mr. Masse has dealt during his 20 years' service, along with several members of the City Council.

Chairman of the banquet was Gaetan Cote who introduced Mayor Levesque as the first speaker. Mayor Levesque congratulated the guest of honor on his 20 years of faithful and loyal service to the city and traced some of the development of the city's electrical service since Mr. Masse took over as superintendent 15 years ago.

The works manager of the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Company in Sherbrooke, G. M. Young, gave a brief address in which he outlined Mr. Masse's life here in Sherbrooke and the history of his department.

In 1934 Mr. Masse, a native of Sherbrooke, started with the Electricity and Gas Department, after graduating from McGill University as an electrical engineer. In five years' time he took over as superintendent of the department upon the death of J. R. McGregor. During the years prior to 1939 the department was facing additional generating power needs and Mr. Masse during his long service has guided the expansion of the department which now has three potential sites for future development, with a capacity of 37,000 horsepower, double the present capacity.

Mr. Young went on to describe the difficult period faced by Mr. Masse during the war years, when consumption increased 75 per cent. He met all these with competence and devotion to duty to insure the continuity of service which today has improved greatly. The speaker also paid tribute to the capable and loyal staff who work under Mr. Masse, and it is the co-operation of all

200 Children Aided Through Rotary Fair

It was only a single paragraph in a lengthy report, but it meant much to the 198 children concerned. It said simply that:

"The chairman of the youth committee gave a full report on the outfitting of 117 children with shoes and rubbers last Saturday. He said that there were still 81 more children to be outfitting and that this Saturday the job would be completed. The average cost per child was $4.70."

Behind this brief paragraph, there are many stories, chiefly those of children who face the winter more securely, knowing that they will be comfortably shod against the elements—thanks to the work of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, which is made possible through the generous support given by Sherbrooke and district citizens each year to the Rotary Fair which opens at the Belvedere Street armory next Thursday evening and continues through Friday and Saturday.

But providing shoes and rubbers to needy youngsters, even though it cost over nine hundred dollars, is not the only work financed by the Rotary Fair.

Over the years, the Sherbrooke Rotary Club has spent thousands of dollars financing the cost of rehabilitating crippled children and the hospitalization of others who have met with serious accident. And its case book shows that much more will have to be spent in the future.

But the Rotarians believe their time and effort well spent if but one child is restored to health and happiness with the prospect of becoming a good citizen.

However, with the support of the public received at the annual fair, the Club has been able to perform this miracle many times over.

Home-School Relations Discussed At Lennoxville High School Forum

A primary grade teacher, a high school principal and a university professor of education last night gave their views on "how to help your child in school" at an open forum meeting of the Lennoxville-Ascot Home and School Association held in the Lennoxville High School gymnasium before some 150 parents and friends.

Featured speakers at the forum, presided over by Mrs. Noble Smith, president of the Association, were Mrs. R. Knapp, grade one teacher at the Lennoxville High School, E. E. Denison, principal of the same school, and Dr. J. D. Jefferis, head of the Department of Education at Bishop's University.

Mrs. R. Knapp said that school was the "biggest, most important experience in a person's life." She said that although teachers could be counted upon to teach children the "3 R's", they could not be counted upon to be responsible for such activities of a child such as manners and health.

Preparedness before children go to school was an important responsibility of the parents. Preparing the child for school could be done in a number of ways. She said that this preparation for school began even before the baby was born.

As the child grows, she explained, give him suitable books and toys which will stimulate him into wanting to go to school. Don't give him a bad impression of what school will be like. Usually children are a little confused for the first few months of school until they decide "it isn't such a bad place and I guess I'll stay."

Children should be taught courtesy and manners. She said that children often interrupted in class and that this lack of manners would be traced to how the parents had brought up the child. If a child is to be taught not to interrupt older people, older people must learn not to interrupt the child.

Children should also be able to dress themselves by the time they reach school. By giving them clothes that fit and that they can be proud of, it helps them want to put on the clothes for themselves. They should also be taught by the parents to put their belongings in the proper places.

Before coming to school a child must also have learned good health habits such as being able to blow his nose, wash his hands before meals and to keep himself generally clean.

Readiness for formal education could be had by reading different stories to the child, and by answering all questions that a child asked. She said that children never asked a question if they already knew the answer, and therefore it was the duty of all parents to answer every question that was asked them.

She also suggested that parents take their children to different places, such as fire stations, so that they could have as many things as possible to talk about.

She warned the parents not to talk about their school experiences, not to criticize the teacher in front of the children, and not to attempt to teach the child at home.

Encouragement and praise is necessary to the child but it should be used with discretion. "You can fool grown-ups but you can't fool children. Accept him as he is. Never compare him with other children."

She concluded by telling the parents that their main responsibility was to make the transi-

Checking Of Bills Rewards Waitress

Winner number 22 has turned up at long last. Yes, after a breather of ten days, we have another Lucky Dollar winner.

Loretta Lapointe, who works at the Normandie Restaurant, showed up yesterday afternoon with Lucky Dollar T/N 7323591, which she picked up in the restaurant. Miss Lapointe claims she had received several tips and went to the cash to get the silver changed into dollar bills. When she got home and checked with the paper, she found she had received one of our Lucky Dollars.

That was a pretty profitable day for the waitress, but what we think is really ironic about the whole situation is this. The particular bill she found was spent in the Modern Biscuit Shop, next door to the Record Office, last Monday. She picked it up in the Normandie last Tuesday night. That is all well and good, showing us our dollars do get a little way, but the funny thing about it is that last Friday we spent a Lucky Dollar in the Normandie Restaurant and that one passed right through their fingers. To complete come up with the one we spent in the Normandie, but we guess that is stretching the thing a little too far.

Anyway, the main thing is that we do have another winner, proving that all is not lost. Miss Lapointe says that she checks her own bills nearly every night, and that it paid off this time. When asked what she would do with it, she said, "What am I going to do with it. What do you think — spend it!" And we guess we can't argue with that, can we?

Another Lucky Dollar goes out today, so keep those eyes open and you too may become a winner in our Lucky Dollar Contest, who knows?

Married Couples Club On Visit To Bryant Plant

The Married Couples Club of St. Andrew's Church were guests of J. H. Bryant, Ltd., at their regular meeting when the group were taken on a tour of the plant.

The members were met by Cliff Bryant and Percy Gray who proceeded to show them how soft drinks are made.

Commencing where the water supply is purified the group were then shown how it takes forty-five minutes from the time a bottle enters the sterilizer to arrive at the other end ready to be filled.

From there the bottle is filled by tubes with syrup, carbon dioxide and water and then capped. It is then put through the shakers to mix the ingredients and finally ends up by being placed in cartons or cases ready for shipping.

Bryce Smith, on behalf of the group, thanked Mr. Bryant and Mr. Gray for their kindness in allowing the group to view the bottling plant.

The Club then visited the home of Sam and Shirley Jardine where a short business meeting was held under the presidency of Hugh and Ida Rose.

Refreshments were served by the lunch committee consisting of Cliff and Ethel Goodfellow and Sam and Shirley Jardine.

Organ Recital Series Planned At St. Peter's

A series of choir and organ recitals to be presented on the first Sunday evening of each month at St. Peter's Church was announced today by the Rector, Reverend Guy Marston.

These recitals are being presented under the auspices of the Royal School of Church Music.

They will commence at 8:00 p.m., immediately after the Evening Service, and will conclude by 9:00 p.m.

The first of these recitals will take place on Sunday, November 7th, at 8:00 p.m. The series has been planned to cover a wide range of church music composers and many well-known works have been included.

It is hoped that all who are interested in choir and organ music will plan to attend these recitals during the coming season. There is no charge for admission.

Programme details will be announced in the papers on the Friday before each recital.

Only 619 Entries Prize-Money Mounts To $90 Or $180 With Au Bon Marche Slip This Week

You people are the most unpredictable creatures we have ever seen. Know what you did this week? Halved the number of entries in our contest.

Isn't that unbelievable, though? Here we were last week, all up in the clouds because we thought we had at last regained your interest and what do you do but let us down with a great big bang. As you know, there were 1,224 answers to the contest last week. This week, if you had sent in seven less than you did, we would have had exactly half that number. You see, there were 619 entries that reached the office by the deadline, a little over half the preceding number of entries.

What are we going to do with you? Here we are practically begging you to send in puzzles. In return for a correct one we will give you a whole pot of money, and no one seems to be interested.

The letters are few and far between this week. We almost feel like not publishing them, for not one seems to be interested in the puzzle anyway, but for the sake of the few old faithfuls who write us occasionally when they send in their entries, we will send along to you a few of the more interesting notes.

One letter we received from an American reader makes us cringe with the thought of the irony. She wrote us explaining that by the time we had received the solution she had to offer, she would have changed her mind about several of the answers. (Of course, it is a woman's privilege to do so.) But she ends her letter by saying, "With best wishes to one of the thousand." We sure have news for her, haven't we, when she hears we had only half a thousand answers this time?

The first entry, to our know-

RECORD - CROSSWORDS $90 or $180 IN CASH!

As no contestant was successful in winning last week's prize of $80.00, this week's prize will be $90.00.

HOW TO DOUBLE THE PRIZE MONEY

If a sales slip from AU BON MARCHÉ ENR. is included with your entry the prize money will be doubled.

Solve the clues as you would any crossword puzzle. Clip out the puzzle after you have filled it in and mail it — or good exact-size facsimile of it — to CROSSWORD PUZZLE COMPETITION, c/o The Sherbrooke Daily Record. All answers must be received by mail or delivery in the Record Office not later than next WEDNESDAY at 8 p.m. If more than one contestant succeeds in answering the puzzle correctly the prize will be divided among those having the correct solution. If no one succeeds in answering the puzzle correctly the prize will be added to next week's puzzle prize money.

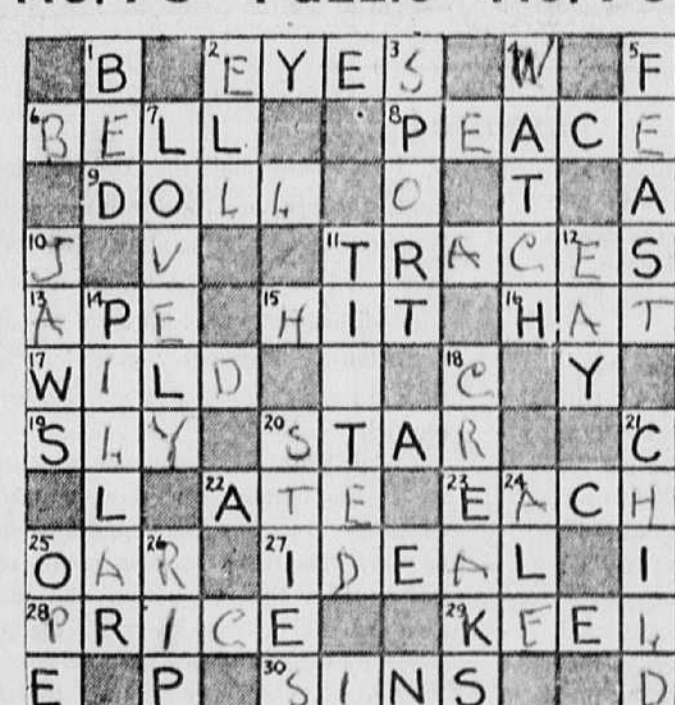

No household may send in more than TWO solutions.

Sherbrooke Record employees and their families are not eligible for the prize money.

Study the clues carefully before you write down your answers. There is always one answer which is the best. The decision of the judges in the contest will be final and all contestants taking part agree to abide by the decision.

IMPORTANT — To be acceptable all entries must be clipped along the dotted line. This is important.

COMMENTS ON PUZZLE NO. 74

EXPLANATION OF MORE DIFFICULT CLUES:

ACROSS:

- RING is best, since this is an ancient subject of interest. Simply speaking it is the REMAINING RELICS of a KING (such as, possibly, a RING) that may interest an archaeologist; the KING, as such, having ceased to have existence many years ago.
- LENDING is best, since it INCLUDES SENDING, which is merely one way of LENDING assistance.
- PIKE is best. A PIPE of any sort hardly carries any general significance, and a PINE is not as good as a PINE is judged by its height; PIPE is vague. A PIPE of what? But fishermen are notorious men to argue and discuss their catch and an extra length of pipe would be prime for discussion.
- DRIVES is more apt, since a gaffer (one who MAY become more careless) is generally INCIDENTAL. Practically all instances of this word are adequate, there is no particular reason for him to improve and this practice is generally INCIDENTAL. Practically all instances of this word are adequate, there is no particular reason for him to improve and this practice is generally INCIDENTAL.
- THE FIG has a certain definite association with PIK, as it stands, is not as good as a PINE is judged by its height; PIPE is vague. A PIPE of what? But fishermen are notorious men to argue and discuss their catch and an extra length of pipe would be prime for discussion.
- RECOMMEND, as opposed to merely "mention" is a more DECENT. He could certainly recommend you some DECENT books, but it is, of course, not a very good word. He could also TELL YOU which books were RECENT, but he would not RECOMMEND them unless they were worth reading, — that is, DECENT.
- PICTURE is best, because it is a good word to use in a word puzzle. It is a word that is used in a word puzzle. It is a word that is used in a word puzzle.

DOWN:

- LINES is best. MINES do not know friend from foe and there is inevitable danger from ALL of them, since they are all equally dangerous. In the case of LINES however it is only from the enemy LINES that there is danger.
- PLANTED is best, because it applies to any garden, large or small. It is only a garden that is planted. It is only a garden that is planted.
- NAP is best. On a LONG journey particularly, it's often good idea to take a NAP. The clue specifies "long", but the length of the journey is not specified. It is only a garden that is planted.
- NEW is best. Definitely ALL the latest features are embraced between them, in all the NEW cars being produced. Regarding FEW, no one model CAN embody ALL of them, and if we take it to mean that those cars which, between them, embody these features are FEW in number, this also is doubtful, since manufacturers turn out a great many cars of this type.
- The clue is best answered by something a woman is going to look at before she buys, and may buy primarily because it LOOKS nice. Both these considerations favor VEIL. A woman may not shop personally for VEIL and if she did go and buy it, it would not be just because it looked nice.
- If there were more POLITE men there would NO DOUBT be an improvement. An increase in the number of POLICE does not necessarily suggest any improvement, since this may be the result of a recruiting drive necessitated by an increase in crime.
- RUSH is best. Surely a RASH decision is a regrettable one, so why is it necessary to add "that led to unfortunate consequences"? This is a definite pointer to RUSH. A RUSH decision MAY be perfectly alright, but a man might bitterly regret it if it LED TO UNFORTUNATE CONSEQUENCES.
- DINE is best. DINE heartily and you may suffer from indigestion. You can DIVE heartily and you may suffer from a long as you DIVE properly.
- MAT is preferred since many a woman's MAT is of such a nature that a "good brushing" would harm it.

Two Systems

Readers may remember the time when an American plane shot down a Russian air liner in the Berlin corridor and some, at least, of the seven or eight occasions on which U.S. fliers have downed Soviet machines nosing around Alaska.

They may recall the seizure by the Americans of Russian business men in Central Europe and their sentencing to prison terms on charges of espionage.

The purges which, over the years, have seen a few dozen Washington cabinet members sent to their deaths together with heads of the armed forces are not forgotten. Nor the shots which ended the life of Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, executed in a prison basement after several of his predecessors had met a similar fate.

Worst of all, hundreds of thousands of citizens of the United States have been executed or consigned to prisons or forced labor camps as "reactionaries." The slightest criticism has often been enough. And a host of small farmers have been starved into submission when they refused all-out co-operation in the government's collective program.

All this sounds like senseless rigamarole. It is. We know that none of these events has happened. We know more: that under the present American system they could not happen. The same is true of other western countries.

But a government which rules through terror and with a finger constantly on the trigger has been guilty of such acts.

The difference between the two systems is brought out, perhaps, most sharply when one tries to imagine a democracy acting in the manner of the Kremlin. The incongruity of the thought is the measure of relative progress.

Enlarged Horizon

"Know Canada Better" has long been a slogan promoting travel by Canadians through their own Dominion. One of the greatest advances towards contributing greater knowledge of, at least, part of the Dominion has been contributed by the Canadian Pacific Railway, in its recent institution of scenic dome cars, according to passengers on the trip from Montreal to Vancouver.

These cars, with their wide-windowed, upper level vantage points, have enlarged the visual horizons of railway travellers beyond anything known before. Sunsets have been lent a new significance whether they be over the wild and rocky Lake Superior region, over the far-reaching prairies or glimpsed through the passes of the majestic Rockies. Rounded windows, looking forth on both land and the upper sky, afford a complete view without neck-craning.

The new mode of railway travel has done much to break the monotony of a long, cross-country trip. Reservations have been heavy and provide a good augury for the time when the entire fleet of the light, new coaches will be in service early next year.

Within the next year, it is reported, the Montreal-Vancouver journey will have been speeded up by something like 18 hours. This will be far from the tedious affair of old. But it will still be long enough to provide many a passenger with a much-needed rest.

"That's why I use the railway today," said a former air traveller. "The trip gives me a chance to store up the battery a bit — and to see the countryside."

Esquire

The word above, appended to a name, is not in keeping, many feel, with our democracy. We have used it ourselves; we even confess, being very human, to having felt a mild pleasure when we have noticed it behind our name.

Our set of the Britannica is not handy at the moment so we do not speak with authority. Memory affirms, however, that esquire in the Old Country ranked just below the knight; was eligible to feel the sovereign's sword laid gently over his shoulders and to hear such words as: "Arise, Sir Timothy Pury."

The term, we believe, was restricted, speaking broadly, to members of "gentle" families, to those who followed the professions, occupied responsible posts, owned considerable land or simply rejoiced in the possession of means of their own.

In Canada and the United States most, perhaps, of those who still use "esquire," usually in the abbreviated form, might find its definition a little difficult. Class distinctions are with us in the new world but are, fortunately, much less rigid than in the old, where they are also being blurred.

Why should one attempt to differentiate among friends and others to whom we write? Does he "rate" esquire or does he not? The very question seems old-fashioned, a little repugnant and more than superficial. And these are the reasons why we should not bother.

And, if we apply a title, founded essentially upon differentiation, without stooping to differentiate, what significance is left in the term then?

Mirror Of Opinion

YOUTH AND ADVENTURE

St. Louis Globe-Democrat
We do not endorse juvenile delinquency, nor juvenile disobedience, nor juvenile runaways. Nor do we, on second thought, endorse complete juvenile suppression.

After all, that is probably lifetime's only period when one can get away with doing what comes naturally and adventurously. Far too swiftly, fleeting childhood has fled and adult man is bound down by inhibition and rocking chair.

For example, what man — now unfortunately old enough to know better — does not wistfully yearn to utter a Bronx cheer at routine's drab crews and emulate the Brooklyn 11 year old who saw a ship, went aboard for exploring, and wound up in England?

And what mature man dares follow such call of the wild farther than the corner tavern? If he does no deriding-do as a tot, he never will.

THE DEAD ONE WINS

Detroit News
Two teen-agers stand on the railroad track facing an onrushing train. When the engine is almost upon them they jump — if they still can.

This, according to one distracted engineer, is the latest desperate diversion of the younger set. The compulsion of youngsters to test their nerve by deliberate flirtation with danger is nothing new. What seems new and depressing is the imaginative sterility of the modern game of "chicken".

It requires no skill, no judgment other than a sense of timing, no true spirit of competition, since the only conclusive winner is the dead one.

SCREAMING AT DRIVERS
Wall Street Journal
An electronic device that measures an auto's speed as it whizzes by, then sets off a screaming siren to warn the driver to slow down is the newest safety measure to protect school children crossing heavily travelled roads.

The device consists of two 1/2-inch-thick measuring hoses set across the road, plus an electronic control and siren unit set up on a pole like a rural mail box. When the car passes over the hoses its speed is measured. By the time a speeding driver comes abreast of the siren — usually placed some 75 feet down the road — the mechanism is already blasting him with a loud and accusing warning.

The system is designed to slow down traffic in critical spots, and has been used mostly near schools. Speed controls are set only when children are traveling to and from school, leaving drivers on their own the rest of the time.

CARRY ON PARAMECIA!

Winnipeg Tribune
A biologist at Temple University in Philadelphia has announced that life on earth would probably continue even if atomic radiation killed off all the human beings on the globe.
Professor Ralph Wichterman bases this encouraging conclusion on the fact that it requires radiation at least 850 times as lethal as a man-killing dose to destroy paramecium, a one-celled animal. These little creatures do not even get sunburned by radi-

Rev. I. W. Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Granby, has announced his resignation. Rev. Pierce, a missionary since 1914, has accepted a position as secretary of the Armenian Relief Association of Canada at Toronto.

Cyril Rice, youngest Rotarian in the world, of Smith Falls, Ontario, Rotary Club, was a guest at the regular dinner meeting of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night. Hayes Lloyd, of Ottawa, Government Supervisor of Animal and Bird Life in Canada was the guest speaker.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of October 29, 1934

A magistrate in London, England, has ruled that the salted peanut is "not a sweet." In a case involving the Shop Act, a bill governing the sale of foodstuffs the defendant, charged with selling a package of peanuts after 10 p.m., said he was under the impression the peanuts were a confection. He is wiser now by $1.25, the amount of his fine.

It was learned last night that Rosaire Bilodeau, 36-year-old former mailman, who is said to have killed six persons to avenge a fancied wrong at the hands of Post Office officials once resided in East Angus. Reports say he was born in Central Falls, R.I. and later came to Canada and resided for some time in East Angus before moving to Quebec.

ation that causes human beings to disappear in a wisp of pink smoke.

So even if men succeeded in wiping out human life from this planet, paramecium will keep a stiff upper lip and carry on. Moreover, it should give the planet a chance to have a breathing spell while another human race is being evolved.

FISH WITH COLORLESS BLOOD

(Owen Sound Sun Times)
Fish with colorless blood are reported to exist in Antarctic waters, giving rise to belief that they are "bloodless." A Norwegian biologist has captured and studied one of the "bloodless icefish." These creatures do have blood, he reports, but it is colorless. The blood contains no haemoglobin, the red pigment which serves most other vegetables, is an oxygen carrier. For some, as yet unknown reason, the icefish, unlike other know fish, can do without haemoglobin and still get enough oxygen to live.

"GENE AUTRY DAY"

Calgary Albertan
Mayor Mackay stepped way out of line in lending his office and the authority of the city of Calgary to proclamation of a "Gene Autry Day" last week.

Whether Gene Autry "is acknowledged through out the country as being emblematic of the finest in entertainment or not (the statement is patently false), the mayor should not lend the city's seal to publicity for a commercial enterprise which happens to be playing in the city."

Letter To The Editor

Urges Western Grain Gifts To Eastern Farms

The Editor,

Sir—The heavy rains of the past summer, which bleached much of the hay and ruined most of the grain crop in Eastern Canada to the point where it is almost valueless as livestock feed offers, I believe, the federal government has a splendid opportunity of reducing the heavy western grain carryover which has been a problem of this country for the past few years.

By donating several million bushels of surplus western grain to the farmers in need in Eastern Canada, the government could provide an important outlet for this western provender and at the same time keep the dairy herds of Canada in a healthy condition until the hoped-for better crop is produced next year.

Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent has shown a readiness to contribute generously to the needs of this province and to my mind the present feed situation provides an excellent opportunity to provide such assistance, which would assure the milk supply for the children of this part of the country and at the same time enable the farmer to keep his head above water.

Yours truly,
ALDEN LENNON,

Canadian Navy Tenor Signed By Welsh Opera

London—(P)—From washroom warbler to Welsh opera—that's Victor White's success story.

The London-born tenor from Vancouver and Toronto, who returned last year to study, has lined up his first British leading role with the Welsh National Opera Company.

White's singing began in the Canadian navy with which he served 11 years.

"I was a washroom tenor in those days," he chuckled. "Unkind critics would say I still am, I suppose."

During the Second World War, White graduated to entertaining Canadian tars in Canada, the United States and Britain. After his discharge with the rank of chief yeoman the robust, chubb-cheeked tenor studied voice at Toronto's Royal Conservatory of Music under Dr. Ernest Vin- ci.

Next came a chance with the CBC Opera Company, the opera festival of Toronto and various radio and concert performances in Vancouver, Toronto, Hamilton, Kitchener, Ont., and other places.

Since coming to Britain to study White has sung in the chorus of the famed Glyndebourne Opera Company and played to audiences at this year's Edinburgh festival and more recently at the Berlin festival.

His biggest break to date is the lead in Verdi's Sicilian Vespers, which opens at Cardiff Nov. 10. White says he's had only one really startling experience in his operatic career.

"That was when a prima donna soprano picked up the rather small stage manager after the last curtain and literally shook him until he begged for mercy — he'd fouled up one of her curtain calls.

"I was only a tenor in the chorus and looked the other way."

White's ambition is to sing Rodolfo in "La Boheme" but "I've got a soft spot for Vasek in 'The Bartered Bride' which I used to do regularly in the old days with the CBC Opera Company."

New Reich Army Being Geared For Atomic War

Bonn—(P)—The new 12-division German army is being designed for atomic war.

It will be highly mobile — not a man will walk. Its smallest units will be able to function for days if cut off from supply columns.

These are important factors in the atom-age. This year's Allied manoeuvres showed an army has to be able to move quickly and disperse widely in small packets. It must not provide tempting targets for costly atomic weapons. This means a high degree of independence from unwieldy supply columns.

West German defense commissioner Theodor Blank and his advisers were attentive observers at the Allied manoeuvres. They have drawn also on the Wehrmacht's experience in Russia in the Second World War and the lessons learned in Korea.

The West German defense force approved in London by the nine-power conference will be 500,000 strong — 400,000 army, 80,000 air force and 20,000 navy.

Each of four armored divisions will have twice as many tanks as a Panzer division of the last war. In addition there will be four motorized infantry battalions. There will be three combat group staffs and the usual field and anti-aircraft artillery, engineers, field workshops and medical units. Strength will be about 12,600 men.

The six infantry divisions, each have a tank battalion of 60 to 80 tanks.

In addition there will be two mechanized divisions which have no counterpart in other western armies. Each division consists of three tank battalions, six infantry and one armored reconnaissance.

At the start, weapons for the army will come from U.S. army stocks. Most of it is already stockpiled in Europe, the army says.

The new air force is expected to have nearly 1,500 jet aircraft supplied by the United States. Present plans provide for 20 German squadrons as a tactical air force to support ground troops. No strategic bomber force is planned.

Pretoria (CP) — The new £2,000,000 Transvaal provincial headquarters here will be the biggest building in South Africa. Built of steel and concrete, the building will have 14 storeys reaching 173 feet.

New Clinic To Study Problem Of Common Migraine Headache

BY MURIEL NARRAWAY

London—(P)—Britain has an organization dedicated to salvaging chronic headache.

The dedication is literal. The five-year-old Migraine Clinic was founded to investigate a complaint labelled "probably the greatest chronic disabling complaint to which mankind is prone."

The description is by Dr. Nevil Leyton, Harley Street specialist who presides over the free clinic and has interviewed some 2,000 patients since it opened.

What is migraine? Just the old-fashioned splitting headache which recurs with spot before the eyes, hot knives in the skull and sometimes vomiting. The British Medical Association estimates that eight per cent of Britain's 50,000,000 citizens have suffered from it at some time in their lives; that it costs millions of man-hours annually, is more common among women and is 60 per cent a matter of heredity. It is mentioned as early as the first century AD, but no one knows much about it.

The Migraine Clinic claims that about 80 per cent of its patients have responded to treatment prescribed through the patient's own doctors.

Worry, frustration, hypertension and other mental and physical stresses induced by the tempo of modern life, bring on attacks, Leyton says.

Dr. Leyton, 44 and a migraine specialist for 10 years, is the author of "Migraine and Periodic Headache," a modern approach to successful treatment. The book now is in third edition.

Another branch of treatment not included in the migraine clinic, is by hypnosis, on the theory that migraine attacks are psychogenic. The theory here is to ascertain the emotional incident or condition causing the attack and remove the worry about it.

Dr. A. Philip Magonet, Harley Street, specialist from Glace Bay, N.S., and president of the British Medical Hypnosis Association, said that migraine sufferers have come to him "when all else has been tried and failed."

Magonet has claimed to cure asthma cases by hypnosis.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

TOURNEY IS SPOT TO SEE GREAT PLAYING

One of the pleasant things about watching a national bridge championship is that you're sure to see many well-played hands. If you're in the neighborhood of Atlanta just about a month from now, drop in and feast your eyes on some first-class bridge at the national tournament. You may see a hand like the one shown here today, taken from the summer nationals held in Washington this August.

The bidding varied from one table to another when this hand was encountered in the final session of the Men's Pair Championship. The bidding actually shown was that of the winners—Eric R. Murray and Douglas Drury, a pair of Canadian experts who added to the respect that all American experts have for their Canadian brethren.

West opened the ace of spades, dropping Murray's singleton king. Stuck for a good lead, West then shifted to his trump, Murray won in dummy with the jack of hearts and drew another round with the ace. Then he wisely abandoned trumps and led the ten of clubs for a finesse.

West won with the queen of clubs and wondered what to do next. He was sure that a club return would be fatal, and he was almost positive that a diamond return would just give declarer a trick with the queen of diamonds. Hence West picked the only return that wasn't immediately fatal—the queen of spades.

This fine defense didn't faze the Canadian star at all. He ruffed the queen of spades led a trump to the dummy, discarded a diamond on the jack of spades, cashed the ace of clubs, and threw West in with a third round of clubs.

Now West could find no escape. If he led another spade, declarer could ruff in either hand and discard the losing diamond from the other. Hence West led a low diamond, hoping against hope that his partner had the queen. The hope was vain, for Murray led the diamond come around to his own queen, and the difficult game contract was now safe.

ONLY 619 ENTRIES

Continued from Page 3. ledge, from a university student arrived this week. Enclosed with the puzzle with this short, perhaps curt remark, "Enclosed please find what I consider to be the solution to your current crossword puzzle."

We are afraid that this student didn't have the right solution, but we are pleased to know that at least one colleague is taking interest in our contest. Perhaps it would be a good idea if we got some of his confreres in the puzzle-solving mood, too. Surely with all those universities in this district, there should be a few students who might like to tax their brains over these complicated efforts. After all, what have you got to lose? And look what you can win. This week it is up to $90 or $180 with an Au Bon Marche slip.

One lady writes us that she got her daughter interested in the competition. This has developed into a race, to see who might be the lucky one first. She adds that, although she feels the chance is rather remote that she or her daughter may be a winner, it is still fun to try them. Our old North Hatley friend writes us again this week. He remembers the one who was having a birthday and had to look after that little boy? Well, she says, in case anyone was worried that she had any trouble with the baby, they got along fine and he has now returned to his own home, much to her regret. She also added that she would like the money, but that she is using her egg-money to buy stamps, and when she has no more eggs to sell, she will sell her rooster. That is what we call a good business woman, always looking to the future and crossing the bridges before she comes to them.

We have a letter here from someone who says she has been receiving the Record for 40 years. We are sorry we can't reward such a faithful reader with our jackpot, but her answer, along with 618 others, wasn't right, and we just can't find anyone to reward the loot to.

That is just about it for this week. Little interest, few entries, fewer letters, but more cash. That is all we have to offer. Next week, the jackpot will be going up to $90 or $180. Surely that should be a drawing card, if nothing else. So, let's get busy, everyone of you puzzle fans. We are Joe-keen to give away that money, so here's hoping someone will have it in his hot little fists by this time next week.

E. E. Denison, principal of Lennoxville High School, described how the parents could help their child with homework. He felt that the child should do his homework at "a special place at a special time." He thought that you couldn't "be too insistent upon that." He observed that homework was an integral part of school activity, especially in the higher grades, and that the parents

TRINITY CHURCH

Moncton Minister Guest Preacher At Trinity 108th Anniversary Sunday

Special services marking the 108th anniversary of Trinity Church Sherbrooke, will be held this Sunday. The anniversary preacher this year will be Rev. F. E. Archibald, of St. John's United Church, Moncton, New Brunswick. Dr. Archibald is a preacher of outstanding ability. A native of Truro, N.S., he was educated at Dalhousie University and Pine Hill Divinity Hall, and the University of Edinburgh where he obtained the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Theology. He has held pastorates, both in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and for the past twelve years has been minister of his present congregation. He is a well-known leader in young people's work and is the immediate Past President of the Maritime Conference of the United Church.

The services both morning and evening will be conducted by Rev. T. D. F. Everett, minister of Trinity and the messages will be given by Dr. Archibald. In the evening, Rev. Sydney Garland, Rev. F. C. Amery, Rev. R. C. Tait, Dr. L. M. Outerbridge and Rev. Dr. Boucher will assist in the service of worship. Special music for the day will be under the direction of the organist and choir director, Mrs. R. J. Bell. L. Mus. Trinity Choir will be assisted by choir members of other city churches and of the Lennoxville United Church.

In the morning, the choir will sing "How Lovely are the Messengers," a chorus from Mendelssohn's "Saint Paul," the duet in the chorus "Now we are Ambassadors" will be sung by Miss Thelma Crawford and Clifford Force, Jr. In the evening, the anthems are "Praise" by Alec Rowley, with solo parts taken by Miss Mona Bigg and K. L. Halpenney, and "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings" by Johannes Brahms. The soloist for the day is Anton J. Diel, tenor, and director of music in city schools. In the morning, Mr. Diel will sing selections from "The Messiah" by Handel, and in the evening "Take my fluence people by teaching him courtesy and good manners. Dr. Jefferis went on to explain the prime functions of school which he said "existed for the sake of the public and not for the sake of the individual child. School in this way become institutions of social learning, and taxes are paid to the school so that each child can become a useful citizen of the Dominion of Canada."

S. Taylor, co-chairman of the Home and School Association program committee, introduced the speakers, and they were thanked by H. H. Woollerton. Members of the program committee who arranged to have the speakers appear were: G. McElroy, Mrs. Noble Smith, Mrs. Hector McLeod, and Mrs. G. Garard.

Membership at the end of the first year was 115. Today, Trinity Church is one of the largest Protestant congregations in Sherbrooke, both in size and in influence.

Dr. J. D. Jefferis, stressed that the school can only do so much. "School will look after the three A's if you will look after the three S's," he told the parents, "security, success and social approval."

"You must give the child an assurance of affection, love, and confidence so that he knows that it is there. He wants to be appreciated," he continued.

However, Dr. Jefferis cautioned: "We cannot assure academic success for your child; some are smart and some aren't. However, there is something which each of us can do well, and it is important for parents to find out what the child can do well, and praise it as much as possible."

Social approval "comes from the child's getting along well with the other children in his group." Parents could foster this by welcoming the child's friends to their homes. At the same time, it is important to teach a child how to win friends and in-

Reductions In Fruit Prices On Local Market

Although an increase in the wholesale price of butter has not affected prices at the Lansdowne Market this morning, merchants say butter will be up two cents per pound next week.

Fruit this week is cheap according to displayed prices. Oranges are selling at 85 cents to 45 cents per dozen. Cranberries were on sale this morning at 25 cents per small basket. Imported tomatoes are up, selling for 18 to 20 cents per pound.

Fluctuations in prices are very slight in the meat section. Trading is "fair" according to most merchants who do not yet predict much change.

Detailed prices follow:

FIND TRACES

Once the age of Meldgaard's findings is determined through tests of their radioactivity, they can be given their proper place in the picture of Canada's early residents.

Meldgaard, working with the Carnegie grant from the Arctic Institute of North America and McGill University, made his findings on the mainland of Melville peninsula and islands at the eastern entrance to Fury and Hecla strait, which separates the peninsula from Baffin island.

The area is 1,600 miles from the North Pole. He was assisted by Richard G. Emerick of the University of Pennsylvania Museum and Rev. Guy Marie-Rousellier of Churchill, Man., editor of the Roman Catholic magazine Eskimo and an Arctic ethnologist.

He found many traces of Dorset culture, but after coming across relics from the earlier civilization had too little time before the Arctic winter to investigate them completely.

The party found remains of a Dorset village of 208 houses at Igloolik on Melville peninsula, and many more remains at other sites. Igloolik is described as the largest archaeological site yet found in the eastern Arctic.

The houses were built in terraced rows. During a 2,000-year period the land in that area rose about 150 feet and succeeding generations moved down to the shore line. In the lowest row of houses Dorset implements were mixed with those of the Thule people.

Finds of the oldest civilization include bones of animals no longer found in the Arctic, which may indicate the area once had a warmer climate. BayPgistsio idiaonedgich

For all this, Mr. Young said, "Thanks for a job well done." Also on hand to honor Mr. Masse was Dan Anderson, plant manager for the Shawinigan Water and Power Company. Mr. Anderson stated that Mr. Masse has devoted 20 years of his best professional service to the City of Sherbrooke and he should be proud of the progress of his department, which has been made possible only through Mr. Masse's personal approach and co-operation with all those he has met. He said the only thing that makes a service good is hard work and Mr. Masse has done this in such a way that the quality

Sherbrooke Man Is Injured On Montreal Road

Leo Chaput, 1071 Cambrat street, was taken to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital early this morning with injuries received when his car left the road near the intersection of the Montreal and St. Elie roads.

Police say Chaput was driving toward Sherbrooke at 2:05 this morning. He swerved to avoid a parked truck and collided with another car travelling in the opposite direction.

Chaput's car is said to have turned over in the ditch and is heavily damaged. Abraham Berard, of Magog, driver of the other car, was uninjured.

Hospital authorities report this morning that Chaput is suffering from "pains to the right leg and arm." Nothing is broken.

of service of his department is the best available. Following this, Alderman Sylvio Rousseau, chairman of the Gas and Electricity committee, presented to Mr. Masse, on behalf of all his friends, a large television set.

In an address which concluded the banquet, Mr. Masse said: "I cannot find words to describe the emotion and joy which I feel in my heart on this occasion. He continued: "There is a proverb which says a man is as rich as the amount of friends he has. Tonight I am a millionaire."

He thanked all those responsible for organizing the event and those who travelled from nearly all corners of the province to honor him. "I also wish to thank you all on behalf of my wife, whom I assure you is as happy as I am on this occasion."

Lodge Officers Installed At Sutton Meeting

Sutton, Oct. 29 — At the regular meeting of Sutton Valley Lodge No. 25 I.O.O.F. Held in the lodge rooms on Thursday evening, Oct. 21, the new officers for the ensuing year were installed in their respective offices. A large attendance of local brothers was present. Bro. Arnott, who is in charge of the Edith Kathan Memorial Home at West Bromie was present and gave a short report on the activities of the Home.

Bro. John Hamilton, D.D.G.M. of Knowlton Lodge No. 28 was present with his very efficient installing team and officers for the next year were installed as follows: Noble Grand, Harold Miller; Vice-Grand, J. Hawley; Secretary, Rob't Hill; Treasurer, Geo. Shepard; Warden, E. Cox; Conductor, D. Staines; Chaplain, Thos. Surtees; Inside Guard, Chas. Powers; Outside Guard, A. Greeley; R.S.N.G., R. Eastman; L.S.N.G., Guy Darragh; R.S.V.G., R. H. Phelps; L.S.V.G., P. J. Shepard; R.S.S., Ben. Vincent; L.S.S., Thos. McClintock.

A communication from the Sutton branch of the Canadian Legion was read, inviting the Lodge to share in the Memorial Service, being held at the Cenotaph on Sunday, November 7th. Bro. Harold Miller, N.G. was requested to present the Citizenship prizes, on behalf of the Lodge, at the High School Commencement Exercises on Saturday evening.

At the close of the meeting, a light lunch was served by the

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—like things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years DODD'S Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order,—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, DODD'S Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on DODD'S. 54

Mrs. Alex Thomson and little son, Bruce, have left for Montreal, after spending a week visiting the former's aunt, Mrs. David Turnbull, London Street.

Mrs. Dannie Patton has received word of the sudden death of her uncle, Mr. David McBain, in Ottawa. Mrs. James Jack, of Lotteville, and Mr. Ernest McBain, of East Angus, left for Ottawa on receiving news of their brother's death.

Mrs. A. H. Hall, president of the Carry-On Club, will receive at the annual fall tea which will be held in St. Peter's Memorial Hall on Wednesday, November 3. The object of the tea is to purchase equipment for the children's ward of the Sherbrooke Hospital.

A most delightful tea, sponsored by the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, was held at the home of Mrs. Colin Campbell, Queen Street, on Wednesday afternoon.

The occasion, combining an invitation to new members and a shower for the Hospitality Shop, was most successful on both counts, the shop being the recipient of many lovely and unusual gifts, which should make Christmas shopping a pleasure.

The guests were received by Mrs. K. C. F. Mills and Mrs. Colin Campbell. The tea table was beautifully adorned with multicolored fall flowers and tapers in silver candelabra. Among those who poured were, Mrs. Gordon Armitage, Mrs. Keith Edwards, Miss Clara Aikenhead, Mrs. Roy Wiggitt, Mrs. Kenneth Jenckes and Mrs. J. E. Smith.

Mr. R. A. Morey, of Windsor Mills, is arriving in Montreal tomorrow by B.O.A.C. from London, Eng., on the last stage of his journey home from South Africa, where he has spent the past four months.

Friends and relatives gathered in the Mayfair Room of the Sherbrooke Hotel on Saturday evening at a reception held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Boisvert, of Wellington Street south, the occasion being their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The guests were received by Miss Jeanne Boisvert, Miss Gemma Godbout and Miss Simone Bailey. An address was read by Miss Lise Boisvert and flowers were presented by Miss Carmen Boisvert. On behalf of the gathering, Mr. Albert Andre presented a well-filled purse to the honored couple, who were also the recipients of numerous gifts of silverware.

The Church Union Group met at the home of Mrs. Wesley Bradley on Tuesday evening, with the president, Mrs. D. McKee, in the chair. In the absence of the secretary, the report of the last meeting was read by Mrs. D. Johnson.

Most of the evening was spent in making arrangements for the final bridge of the marathon, to be held November 9, at 8 o'clock, in the Sherbrooke High School. This year there will be food as well as fancy articles on sale. Friends wishing to play that night are requested to call Mrs. D. Coates at 2-8161.

Refreshments were served, the assisting hostesses being Mrs. T. A. Cadman and Mrs. P. Dauncey.

Additional invited guests who are attending the Military Ball being held tomorrow evening in the William Street Armory, are: Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Newton, Capt. and Mrs. J. A. York, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. McNair, Lieut. and Mrs. P. Asselin, Lt.-Col. John Wood and Mrs. Wood, Major and Mrs. E. P. Hall, Major and Mrs. H. A. Blain, Major and Mrs. D. W. Sangster Memorial Women's Association held its regular meeting last week in the church hall. Mrs. J. Hillman opened the meeting in the usual manner and the devotions were led by Mrs. J. Boucher.

Routine business followed and a report given by Mrs. M. McCoubrey showed that the chicken pie supper had proved very successful. Final plans for a Halloween party for the children of the Sunday School on Saturday, October 30, at 7 p.m., were arranged. Discussion took place regarding the Christmas sale and

Marriages

McLAUGHLIN—GRENIER

East Angus, Oct. 29. — The marriage of Miss Solange Grenier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Grenier, of East Angus, to Mr. William James McLaughlin, son of the late John McLaughlin and Mrs. McLaughlin, of East Angus, took place on August 28, at St. Louis de France Church. The Rev. Father Robert Ward, professor at the University of Sherbrooke, officiated and the wedding music was played by Miss Blanche Roberge. Gladioli were used to decorate the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white bridal satin, made in Empire style, the fitted bodice having a yoke of imported lace and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The skirt was of nylon net, with panels of lace over satin. She wore a fingertip veil of nylon net held by a crown of pearls and rhinestones and carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis.

Mr. Willis McLaughlin, brother of the groom, acted as witness and the ushers were Mr. Dale Webb and Mr. Romeo Cloutier.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Grenier, wore a two-piece suit of pale blue Chantilly lace over taffeta, a black velvet hat and black accessories, with a Canadian mink necklace and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. McLaughlin, mother of the groom, was gowned in navy blue, with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, cocktails were served at the home of the bride's parents, and a reception was held at the Rainbow Club of the Osgood Hotel, Cookshire, where the decorations were seasonal flowers.

For the wedding trip to Ottawa, Toronto, Niagara Falls and the United States, the bride wore a grey suit of English worsted, an Irish green feather hat and green accessories. Her corsage was a mauve orchid.

Among the out of town guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ephrem St. Laurent, Thetford Mines; Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Olivier, Asbestos; Mr. and Mrs. Georges Olivier, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Croteau, Mr. and Mrs. Donat Olivier, St. Fortunat; Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Olivier, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Olivier, Mr. and Mrs. Olivier Sicotte, Miss Madeleine Olivier, Three Rivers; Mr. Clarence McBean, Mr. Hubert McBean, Mr. and Mrs. John McBean, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McBean, Lennoxville; Mr. and Mrs. Donat St. Laurent, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Nicholas, Miss Helene St. Laurent, Mr. Fernand Laporte, Mr. and Mrs. Georges Grenier, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Olivier, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Olivier, Mr. and Mrs. P. Rise in Hospital Costs Explained To Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary took place in the conference room with Mrs. K. C. F. Mills, president, in the chair. After the recitation of the Lord's Prayer, Mrs. Mills welcomed two new members, Mrs. N. F. LaBarge and Mrs. Paul McKenna.

In the absence of Mrs. Angus Morrison, Mrs. Roy Wiggitt reported that there was a bank balance of $2,163.74 on hand.

Mrs. William Hughes, corresponding secretary, read a letter from the National Council of Hospital Auxiliaries, outlining the many advantages of belonging to this association, and it was moved by Mrs. Wendell McNeil and seconded by Mrs. E. A. Cooper, that the local auxiliary join this council, the motion being unanimously carried.

Mrs. H. C. Allnutt, convener of the "In Memoriam Fund," reported that since the last meeting the sum of $37 had been received. Mrs. Mills announced that since there is at the moment no paid director of volunteers for the hospital, Mrs. Allnutt has very kindly consented to look after this service from her home. She would be pleased to hear from anyone wishing to do voluntary work, her phone number being 2-9062. Mrs. G. A. Rockwell, Birthday Club convener, said that three thermos jugs for the fourth floor had been received, and that the club now has a bank balance of $96.07.

Mrs. Mills told the members that a baby sitter service had now been inaugurated for the convenience of those mothers who could not attend meetings on account of having young children at home. The youngsters are taken care of at the hospital by a competent sitter, at 25 cents per child, and this should prove a great boon to mothers interested in attending the meetings.

Mr. H. C. Allnutt, the administrator of the hospital, conducted a question and answer period about matters relating to the hospital. He was asked why hospital costs have risen so much in the last ten years, and answered by giving comparative figures, i.e., in 1944 a general duty nurse was paid $70 a month for a 72-hour week, whereas now the same

Y. W. C. A. Board Hears Reports Of Many Activities

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sherbrooke Y.W.C.A. was held on Monday evening in the MacKinnon Memorial Building, Montreal Street, with the president, Mrs. J. A. Allen, in the chair.

The devotional period, conducted by Mrs. Donald, had for its theme, the purpose of the Y.W.C.A. and the need for spiritual nourishment for the work of the moment and the work of the future.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Gordon Lary and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Donald.

The report on Health Education was read by the chairman, Mrs. E. T. Webster. There was a total enrollment of 275 in the Health Education classes, the largest class being the business girls' gym class on Monday evening. The basketball season is opening once again and there are three teams practising at the Y, the nurses from the Sherbrooke Hospital, the Y.W.C.A. Residence girls and the Y.W.C.A.

The Residence committee reported that five new enthusiastic members had been added to the committee and they had already started to work on the redecoration of the bedrooms. Twenty-eight girls are presently living in the Howard Residence. The Residence council has had its first meeting of the season and elected a new slate of officers.

Mrs. Gordon LeBaron presented the report of the Arts and Crafts committee. The Design Exhibit held in September was hailed on all sides as a splendid effort to bring something new and educational to the community, and thanks are due almost entirely to Miss Emily LeBaron for the successful staging of this event. It was discouraging that the attendance on the whole was small, but those who did attend, and this included all the classes at Mitchell School, found it a rare treat. The committee hopes that it may gradually build up a reputation for its exhibitions which will result in larger attendances. To this end, an Eskimo Exhibition is planned for January, to be followed by a giant cooking school in February.

The art class with Mr. William Cripps is filled, and the students are working most enthusiastically. Several of these classes are being held in Mr. Beaudin's studio in North Hatley. The course in stencilling and tray painting by Mrs. Beaulieu has been changed to the evening, and is thus attracting more students.

As the contribution of the Arts and Crafts committee to the silver anniversary celebration of the opening of the MacKinnon Memorial building being held on November 20, an exhibition of local painters will be staged, which should prove interesting to the numerous guests, who it is hoped, will come to the MacKinnon Memorial on that occasion.

The report on the Y-Teens, prepared by Miss Isabelle Hyndman, was read by Mrs. H. Munster. The three groups of high school girls, Tri-Y, the Y-Teens and the Junior Y-Teens, started their meetings on Friday, October 15, with Miss Isabelle Hyndman, Miss Gwen Norris and Miss Susan Batrie acting as advisers. Plans for an active season are underway, which include initiation ceremony, dances, supper parties, Christmas parties for underprivileged children, swimming and bowling. The members of the Tri-Y are taking part, along with boys from the Hi-Y, in morning devotional services on the radio during the week of prayer, November 8-13.

The World Service report, presented by Mrs. Donald stated that letters had been sent out asking for donations for the World Service Fund, and that response to date had been satisfactory. Sixty or more guests had attended the World Service tea on October 21, when Mrs. Kenneth Yohan Masih, an outstanding Christian worker, was the speaker. Her talk had aroused great interest in the need for a spread in Y.W.C.A. work in India from the cities to the small villages.

The report of the executive director, Mrs. Donald, stressed the benefit to the work of the Y.W.C.A. of Sherbrooke of the present complete and qualified staff.

The plans for the silver anniversary celebration in connection with the opening 25 years ago, of the MacKinnon Memorial building, with all its wonderful facilities for work with women and girls, and indeed for all citizens of Sherbrooke, were then discussed. Mrs. Donald, the executive director, was authorized to direct the work of the special committee in charge of this project.

The president, Mrs. Allen, then reported on her attendance at the National annual meeting of the Y.W.C.A. of Canada, held last week in Toronto, which had been an inspiring and most helpful experience.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. H. LeDuc and Mrs. G. LeBaron.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

The modern tendency of not wanting to be the first to arrive at a party is a headache to today's parties. If she says "Come at seven," she is lucky if everyone is assembled by seven-thirty. Let's take pity on the hostess and quit stalling around.

Who's afraid of being first? nurse is paid from $140 to $165 a month for a 48-hour week. Unskilled labor in 1944 was $30 a month while now $108 a month is the average wage. Drugs have risen accordingly, and intravenous therapy, which was used very seldom in 1944 (at a cost of about 70 cents for 500 cc's), is now widely used and costs $2.35 a bottle of the same size. The cost of living has hit an all-time high everywhere, Mr. Allnutt said, but particularly so in hospitals, where up to the last few years labor had been exploited.

Following Mr. Allnutt's talk the members proceeded to the Norton Residence, where tea was served by the student nurses.

EXTRACT FROM THE QUEBEC OFFICIAL GAZETTE (of October 23, 1954)

The Honourable Antonio Barrette, Minister of Labour, hereby gives notice, pursuant to the provisions of the Collective Agreement Act (R.S.Q. 1941, chapter 163 and amendments), that the contracting parties hereafter mentioned have petitioned him to render obligatory the collective labour agreement entered into between:

On the one part:
The Retail Merchants Association of Canada-Quebec, Inc., "Section des Epiciers-Bouchers de Sherbrooke";

And, On The Other Part:
"L'Association canadienne des Employés du Commerce, Inc."; for the employers and the employees of the trades and occupations concerned, according to the following conditions:

I. Definitions: For the purpose of the decree, the following terms will have the meaning hereinafter given to them:

a) Employer: The word "employer" means any person, association or corporation who, subordinately to subsection "f" and "g" of section I of the Collective Agreement Act, keeps or operates one or more commercial establishments or private concerns in which any of the trades governed by the decree is carried on as a retail business or as a whole-sale and retail business, whether such trade constitutes the main or secondary trade to all the other trades or occupations.

b) Employee: The word "employee" means any male or female wage-earning person who, subordinately to subsection "j" or section I of the Collective Agreement Act, works for an employer as defined in subsection "a" of the present section.

c) Regular employee: The words "regular employee" mean any employee who works the regular working week of the establishment in which he is employed.

d) Extra employee: The words "extra employee" mean any employee who is hired over and above the regular staff, intermittently, in the course of the normal working week.

e) Messenger: The word "messenger" means any employee who performs the work usually known as that of messenger and delivers goods either on foot or with a bicycle.

f) Cashier: The word "cashier" means any male or female employee who collects the money proceeding from the sales and performs any other work usually carried out by the cashier.

g) Clerk: The word "clerk" means any employee committed to the sale of goods, to the collection, to the receiving, dispatching, displaying, unpacking, packing, labelling and storing of goods, to the cutting, preparing or selling of meat.

h) Office Employee: The words "office employee" mean any employee who does office clerk work, correspondence, book-keeping, etc. and is not otherwise designated in the decree.

i) Delivery man: The words "delivery man" mean any employee who, with a horse-drawn or motor vehicle of which he is in charge, does the delivery and transport of goods to any place determined by the employer. The delivery man, in his spare mo-

CANADIAN SAPPERS ASSIST GERMANS — Canadian sappers of the 2nd Field Squadron, Royal Canadian Engineers, made many new friends among the local German population here when they obeyed a call for help from this town's engineer.
During excavation of a municipal housing site recently a huge 18 ton crane slid into soft mud eight feet deep, and German construction workers tried unsuccessfully for eight days to free it. Calling on Major John Hazen of Saint John, N.B., commanding the engineers unit, the construction workers received quick help from the Canadian sappers.
After lashing heavy steel cables around the giant crane, it took the sappers very few minutes to haul the equipment onto solid ground. The German foreman and his men then insisted on feasting the three sappers for their help before they returned to normal military duties. Shown above, in the picture, unhitching are, left to right: Spr. Lloyd MacDonald, Halifax; L/Cpl. Jim Butler, Portage La Prairie, Man.; Spr. Bill Lewington, Irberville, P.Q., and a German construction worker. (National Defence Photo)

Now Is The Time To Get Your Car Ready For Winter

Tune-Up For Safer, Happier Driving; See Your Favorite Garageman Today

The weather has treated the Eastern Townships well this fall—fine sunny days, with only one early storm to warn that winter is on the way.

Everyone knows, however, that this cannot last, that the days of snow and sleet and of icy roads are just around the corner.

The trouble is that many people are inclined to be lulled into security by Indian Summer conditions and forget the things to come.

Certainly, motorists should be the last persons in the world to delay preparing for the coming months. A sudden storm can blow up overnight and a clear road in the evening can become an icy sheet within a few hours.

Local and district garages ter, scores of drivers are killed or are injured in highway accidents; thousands of others suffer damage to their vehicles.

In many of these cases, death, injury and damage could have been avoided had the car been prepared in advance for winter driving.

It is surprising the number of accidents that are the result of faulty mechanism. Elsewhere in the Record today there is an article stating that one third of all cars on the highways in the United States today are of pre-war vintage. The Canadian percentage is probably even greater.

This means that at least one in every three cars on the roads this winter will have seen nearly 15 years of use, if not more. Obviously they cannot be in the best of condition and this emphasizes the importance of a check-up.

A good mechanic in a garage will soon find out whether your carburetor is functioning properly, whether your brakes need relining, whether the motor is running smoothly, how the heater is working, whether the windshield wiper will clear off the sleet.

These are just a few of the many items that should be checked.

Now is the time to do it. Don't wait until the snow is on the ground.

ture were read and Mrs. E. Parkinson read the story of Sekria of India as told by a missionary. Hymn 48 was sung with Mrs. O. Knutson at the piano.

"Christian Impact and Influence" was the topic of the program. Chapter 11 of "The Church in India," was briefly reviewed by the president.

A letter was read from Mrs. Fuller relating to the address to be given by Mrs. Mash, of India, in Trinity United Church, Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Charles Smith rendered a sacred solo, accompanied by Mrs. Beckett.

All stood for a minute in silence, as a tribute to the memory of the late honorary President, Mrs. M. V. Brundage.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved. A letter from the Presbyterian Secretary of Christian Stewardship stating the need of more funds than had been allocated was read by the secretary of Christian Stewardship, Miss C. W. Woodside.

The treasurer reported financially and collected the monthly offering and Mrs. Burnell collected the mite-boxes.

Later, in a pleasant social hour refreshments were served by the Associate Members to twenty-five guests. Tea was poured at the attractive tea table by Mrs. Lemay and Mrs. Arthur Bell.

GENERAL NOTES
Mrs. Edward Sarrasin has returned home from a week's vacation spent with her mother, Mrs. Louise Therrien, in Providence, R.I.

Mrs. William Price, of Sherbrooke, was a guest for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell.

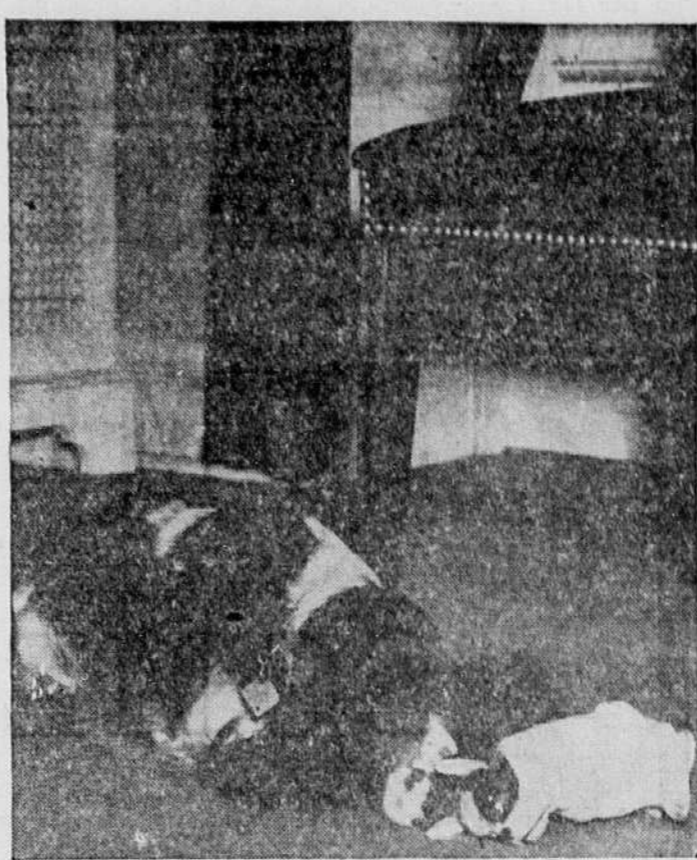

Mrs. Ambrose Deacon received word of the death of her grand-

COMPLETELY RE-STYLED CHEVROLET FEATURES V8 ENGINE — The futuristically designed 1954 Chevrolet, offering a high-output 162-horsepower V8 engine for the first time as well as a more powerful six cylinder economy-leader engine has been announced across Canada. Greatly increased comfort and driving qualities stemming from re-engineered frame and suspension are enhanced by the first "dream car" styling in the low price field. The Bel Air Sports Coupe (above) illustrates the broad, low grille and hood treatment, greatly increased vision through the new sweep-sight windshield, and the effect of fleetness imparted to all 14 body styles by the longer, lower lines of the new models.

Speaking of Pets

Female Dog Makes An Excellent Pet

Female dogs are more likely to be homebodies than males.

The average puppy buyer usually shies away from a female pet. He thinks of a female as a nuisance who attracts male dogs, has unwanted puppies, and who is harder to look after than a male.

But people who have had a lot of dogs or raise dogs as a hobby usually prefer a female as a house pet. A female is inclined to be more affectionate, easier to house-train and much less likely to roam with other dogs, or stray from home.

If a female is properly taken care of there's no reason why she should be a problem or have puppies. Let's look at the facts. It's impossible for a female to have any allure for a male dog, or be mated, or want to be mated, except when she is in the mating stage, a period called "in season." This period occurs twice a year, about every 6 months, and lasts for about 21 days. At all other times she cannot, and will not, be mated. The first season usually occurs when she is about seven months old. It may be a little earlier or even a few months later.

SIGNS UNMISTAKABLE
The signs are unmistakable if you watch for them. She may be more flighty or more quiet. There will be a swelling and a slight discharge. Right then is the time to lock her up and keep her away from other dogs. Do it before the dog next door begins to act unusually attentive.

If you don't have a doghouse surrounded with a good strong fence that she, or a visiting swain, can't jump over or dig under, keep her in the house. Use the cellar or an upstairs room and make sure she doesn't get out. During this time she'll instinctively want to attract dogs.

KINGSBURY—

Mrs. B. Armitage of Richmond, and Mrs. R. G. Frank, were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the latter's home in honor of Miss Adelaide Walker, whose marriage took place in October. On the arrival of Miss Walker, Mrs. Armitage presented her with a corsage of pansies and escorted her to a decorated chair to the tune of the Wedding March, played by Miss Myrtle Frank. The color scheme was carried out in pink and white streamers with wedding bells, and flower arrangements by Mrs. R. Kerr. There were upwards of eighty guests present. The bride-to-be, assisted by her sister, mother and aunt, unloaded the basket and heavily laden table of gifts, unwrapping each and passing them around for all to see, after which Miss Walker, in a few well chosen words, thanked the guests for their gifts, and the hostesses for their hospitality, and invited all to visit them in their new home. Refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by several ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dube and family, were visiting friends and relatives in Waterloo. The Halloween party put on by the W. I. of Melbourne Ridge was a great success.

PREVENTIVE MEASURES

There are two ways to prevent this situation. When she has to go out, carry her to your car and drive to some location at a distance from home, take her on leash and let her do her duties. On your return carry her from the car to your door.

If you can't manage this, use one of the patent products that are supposed to keep males away (citronella, mentholatum applied to the rear parts will do the same). They are not to be trusted if you let your female roam, but they will help to disguise the scent long enough to take her out on a leash. Try to get her to a vacant lot a few blocks away before you let her stop. Or carry a small bottle of some disinfectant to dash over the spots she uses.

If there are small children in the family it's very hard to count on your female being kept indoors during her seasons. One of them is sure to leave a door open or let her slip out. So, for the family with children, and if you think you will never want puppies, the best thing to do is to have her spayed. Then she will never be in season.

You may have heard that all spayed females get fat and lazy. Yours won't if you watch her diet and exercise. Many an unspayed female gets fat and lazy, too.

Q—"We take our cat out on a long cord for exercise, then let her run and track her down by following the cord. She has had three "fits" outdoors, never indoors."

W. A. C. — A nerve-wracking for frightening experience, eating something she shouldn't have, or being stung or bitten by insects may bring on such convulsions. If they occur often the case should have veterinary attention to check for organic disease.

Q—"I have an idea there is something wrong with the diet I feed my breeding parakeets. I have heard that they need more protein. Please advise."

J. S. M. — One of the diets used to satisfy the protein needs of breeding budgies is the following mixture: 35 parts white milk, 35 parts canary seed, 10 parts flaxseed, six parts small striped sunflower seeds and seven parts hulled oats. Where possible the sunflower seed can be replaced by sterilized hemp seed. It's often necessary to train bud-

Miss H. Buzzell Presides At W. I. In Abbotsford

Abbotsford, Oct. 29 — Miss Helen Buzzell, president, presided at the October meeting of the W. I. in the Parish Hall.

The minutes were read by Mrs. Gordon Coates and the financial report given by Mrs. B. A. Rowell. A motion regarding the bursary to be given to any Abbotsford student leaving High School and continuing his studies, was unanimously passed.

Mrs. R. Coates reminded the members to send the annual donation of apples for the Veterans' Hospital in St. Hyacinthe, to Mr. Sidney Fisk, who will once again see that they are delivered. Jelly for the Montreal Diet Dispensary was brought in. The guest speaker, Miss Paige Pinnes, Art supervisor in the Verdun High School, Montreal, was introduced by Mrs. Walter Bowley and gave a very interesting illustrated talk on Art and Artists. Miss Pinnes was thanked by Miss Buzzell. Doughnuts and coffee were served. The doughnuts were made by Miss Judy Fisk, a student in the High School.

W. M. S. MEETS
A meeting of the Abbotsford Woman's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Church was held at the home of the president, Miss Helen Buzzell, who conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Rollit read the Scripture lesson and the members prayer was repeated in union. Mrs. C. C. Whitney, secretary-treasurer read the minutes and the financial statement.

Miss Alice Buzzell gave a very interesting paper on the struggle in which Ceylon, India and Pakistan are now involved in the effect to learn to conduct their independence and how help can be given them by Christian influence. The November meeting will be held in the Hall, when a quilt will be quilted. Afternoon tea was served.

GENERAL NOTES

Mrs. Sadie Norrie Tells Of Founding Of Fidelity Lodge At Ayer's Cliff

Ayer's Cliff, Oct. 29 — Mrs. Sadie Norrie, who has been a member of the Rebekah Lodge for forty one years, was unable to attend the last meeting of Fidelity No. 33, when the Installation of officers took place, but Mrs. Norrie was delighted when she was not forgotten by her sisters, and she very graciously welcomed them at her home when members of the Assembly who visited her, Sister Lula Brady, Sister Hilda Hyatt, D.D.P. of District No. 10, and other sisters from Coaticook, Rock Island and Lennoxville. In a letter to Fidelity Lodge Mrs. Norrie told of the starting of the Rebekahs in Ayer's Cliff. She wrote in part, "I travelled miles to secure names of people interested in having a Lodge in town, took same to the District meeting and consent was granted." So Mrs. Norrie was largely responsible for having Lodge here, as she got 35 names. She was installed as chaplain and now is concluding activity in this office.

Mrs. Norrie went on to say that she was asked to name the Lodge here and she chose "Fidelity" as it stood for faithfulness, trustfulness and loyal integrity, and urged that each member follow the suggested meaning. A special train was chartered from Sherbrooke and the degree conferred by the District officers about 38 years ago.

Mrs. Norrie says she will always be a member of Fidelity, as she loves her Lodge, but due to ill health and age will have to give up her attendance.

BEULAH WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The Woman's Association of Beulah United Church met in the vestry on the afternoon of October 20. Mrs. Wallbridge was in the chair and called on Mrs. Gibson to conduct the worship period.

GRANBY—

Those who bought apples from the Boy Scouts Saturday, October 23, will be glad to hear that their contribution helped tremendously, toward the boys attaining a net profit of $135. The money goes into their treasury to pay for their camping needs and many other requirements of Boy Scout Troops. This promises to be an annual affair.

The new post-office was open for business Tuesday, October 26. This magnificent building ample room to transact business. A sub-station has been installed in Williams Bros store on Main Street to accommodate residents in that vicinity, where it will be possible to attain the same service, with the exception of private postal boxes.

GENERAL NOTES

Mrs. F. R. Reid, who has been visiting her cousin Mrs. H. C.

Wade, Elgin Street, has returned to her home in Ottawa, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Graham were in Montreal on Saturday, October 23, to attend the Richard-Gage wedding, which took place in St. Matthew's Church, Hampstead. The bride is Mr. Graham's niece.

Mrs. T. F. Davidson has returned to her home on Dufferin Street, after a visit with her son, Mr. L. Davidson, and family in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Buzz Henderson has returned to her home in Chicoutimi, after visiting her mother, Mrs. J. B. Travers, Main Street.

Archdeacon Lidstone was home for the weekend, but has returned to the Royal Victoria Hospital for further treatment.

Miss Martha Jackman, of Montreal, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Jackman, Lyman Avenue.

Archdeacon and Mrs. Lidstone were in Montreal recently to attend the wedding of Miss Helen Jones and Mr. F. Davis. Archdeacon Lidstone officiated to the marriage service.

On Sunday, October 24, Diocesan exchange Sunday, Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, of St. Matthias, Westmount, was the preacher at St. George's Church.

Mrs. C. E. Savage has been in Montreal for the past several days, visiting relatives and friends.

Friends of Mrs. W. O. Lewis, Sr., will be pleased to know that she is home from hospital, where she has been a patient, following a fall in her home, and is progressing favorably.

The committee for the fall bazaar, to be held in St. George's parish hall November 13, appreciate the great response they have received for their appeal for more workers. There still remains more work to be done and Mrs. Hinkhouse, the chairman, and Mrs. Max English will be very glad to instruct any ladies who wish to contribute help.

The annual service of the Deanery of Broome-Shefford will be held in St. George's Anglican Church Sunday evening, next October 31, at 7:30 p. m. The preacher will be field secretary Rev. Canon A. H. Davis, B.A., L.Th. of M.S.C.C. The service will be conducted by the rector, Archdeacon I. M. Lidstone, assisted by the other clergy of the Deanery. Choirs of all Deanery congregations will be present and lead in the service.

BEDFORD—

Miss Kathleen Campbell, of Montreal, was in Bedford with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, over the week-end.

Mrs. Lee Martin, who has been a patient for several weeks in the Royal Victoria Hospital, underwent an operation on Monday. Mr. Martin was in Montreal for a time during the week to visit Mrs. Martin.

Bishop's University Gridders In Home Debut Tomorrow

Hosts To College Militaire Royale Tomorrow Afternoon At 2:15; Out To Extend Unbeaten Streak And Hold Top

The unbeaten and unscored-upon Bishop's University Gaitors put their football record on the line tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 at the University gridiron in Lennoxville, in their first home appearance of the season against College Militaire Royale from St. Johns.

The power-packed Ross-men currently hold 12-0 and 32-0 wins over Royal Military College and the Macdonald College Aggies, and a 22-0 blanking over the Sherbrooke Athletics. Since C.M.R. has been beaten by both R.M.C. and the Aggies, the Gaitors are rated strong favorites to take this tilt — a juicy four-pointer — and consolidate their tight hold on first place in the B section of the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Valley Conference.

Coach "Beef" Ross has had to contend with a two-week layoff since the last Bishop's game, but has kept the Purple and White squad at peak condition with stiff workouts each afternoon, rain or shine.

Last year, the Gaitors copped a four-pointer from the St. Johns Cadets 30-12, but this year are hoping not only to win the game, but to keep their unscored-upon record intact. Main cog in the Gaitors' airtight defense this year is a freshman end, Don Stringer, who plays the centre-linebacker position on the defensive team, and has been calling the defensive signals all season — the only player in the conference who does so. Don's skill in anticipating enemy plays will be put to a stiff test tomorrow, so watch for him.

Starting in the quarterback slot for the Purple and White team will be Murray Greenwood, a player who started two seasons ago with the Gaitors as a slippery halfback, then switched last year to the signal-calling slot.

This year, Murray has improved greatly, and is one of the slickest ball-handlers in the conference, with a passing record that shows the depth of the Bishop's offensive. In the two league games played so far, Greenwood has thrown a total of 36 passes, and completed 18 of them, three of them for majors.

Topping the backfield will be a pair of speedy halfbacks, Warren Lynch and John Pratt, the two top scorers in the league. Pratt has racked up a total of 11 points on two touchdowns and a rouge, while Lynch has ten points on two touchdowns in league play this season. Bob Burt, a Lennoxville boy who has one touchdown to his credit, will probably start in the fullback slot.

On ends, Coach Ross will probably start John Rider and Don Stringer, while the front line will probably be centred by hefty Bradley Mitchell, flanked by guards Laurie Hart and Ed Smith. Tackles Nick Powell and Peter Blaikie will round out the hard-charging starting line for Bishop's.

Laurie Hart will also be called upon to handle the kicking chores for Coach Ross' crew, and anyone who saw him in action against Sherbrooke will know that he can be depended upon to set the opposition back on its heels with consistent 45-yard punts.

The record that the Gaitors bring home with them to start with tomorrow is an enviable one. They have rolled up a total of 620 yards gained to their opponents 323, have completed 18 of 36 passes attempted to their opponents' 10 of 30, and have intercepted seven passes, to one for the opposition.

Coach Ross says that Bishop's will open the game up as much as possible, and with plenty of speed to spare, the Gaitors will do just that.

Braves, Quebec Tangle, Winners To Meet Sherbrooke

Quebec — (P) — The Quebec Rugby Football Union's eastern section has decided its playoff winner will not challenge the western section champions for the Quebec senior B title.

Frank Hutchison, president of the Quebec Football Club, said Thursday officials of the three-team section believe it does not have a good enough team to take on the western section winners.

Quebec, Trois-Rivieres Braves and Sherbrooke Athletics finished in a first-place tie this year in the section's return to senior football. The original eastern section folded in 1949.

The recently-revised playoff schedule calls for Quebec and Trois-Rivieres to play a home-and-home, total-point series during the weekend, with Quebec at Trois-Rivieres Sunday. The winner takes on Sherbrooke.

Originally Quebec and Trois-Rivieres were to play a sudden-death game at Trois-Rivieres for the right to meet the Athletics but, said Hutchison, the gate for a single game would not have given the winners enough money to send a team to Sherbrooke.

Canada Edges Out Win Over Uruguay In Net Tournery

Rio de Janeiro (P) — A last-second free throw by Ralph Watts climaxed an uphill surge Thursday night and gave Winnipeg Canadians a 67-66 victory over Uruguay in the second game of the round-robin world basketball championship finals.

The victory, Winnipeg's second in as many starts in the eight-team tournament, was a blow to the powerful Uruguayans who had led 35-29 at half time by displaying a solid defence interspersed by deadly breakaway attacks.

Canada switched to an effective man-to-man defence in the second half and won down the lead. With three minutes left, they tied the score and the teams matched points steadily.

The Canadians, who defeated Israel 50-43 in their opening game Wednesday, still must face Brazil and the United States, the tournament's co-favorites. Uruguay, also highly favored, suffered virtual elimination after an opening-night loss to France.

Waugh Sets Record In Ground Gaining

Regina — (P) — Howard Waugh, Calgary Stampede's hard-running fullback, set a new Western Interprovincial Football Union ground-gaining record this season.

Officials figures released today by league statistician Bill Hawrylak of Regina showed Waugh with a total gain of 1,043 yards on 166 carries. The old record was 933 yards, set by Normie Kwong of Edmonton Eskimos in 1951.

Runner-up to Waugh was Jackie Parker, versatile backfield ace with Edmonton, who gained 925 yards on 177 carries. His average of 7.9 yards a carry was tops in the league. Waugh's average was 6.2 yards.

Bobby Marlow of Saskatchewan Roughriders finished third with 882 yards on 165 carries for a 5.3 average. Edmonton's Rollie Miles at 834 on 148 for 5.6 was fourth. Eddie Macon of Calgary was fifth.

Winnipeg's Gerry James rounded out the top six with 576 yards on 106 carries for a 5.4 average.

Toronto Argos May Learn Season's Fate Saturday When They Take On Als But Require Help From Riders

Toronto Argonauts, once the toughest chips-down football team in Canada, shoot the works against Montreal Alouettes Saturday in an attempt to stay in the E-2 Four playoff running. They need help from Ottawa Rough Riders this time.

There are plenty of ifs. A loss in Montreal will make Argos forget about playoffs and the annual Grey Cup classic. If they win, it won't mean much unless the down-trodden Rough Riders pull a surprise victory over Hamilton Tiger-Cats in Ottawa.

With only three games left in the 147-game schedule the Als, in first place with 18 points, are guaranteed a playoff spot.

Ticats have 14 points, four ahead of Argonauts. If Toronto and Hamilton win, the race will go on for another week. If Ticats lose and Argonauts win, Toronto could still move into the two-team playoffs or force a sudden-death game to decide who will take on the Als.

In the Ontario Rugby Football Union, the second-place Sarnia Imperials travel to Toronto Sunday for a game against the lowly Balmy Beaches.

Two games are scheduled in the Intercollegiate circuit. Montreal's winless McGill Redmen meet University Blues at Toronto while Western Mustangs and Queen's Gaels play a return game at Kingston.

In the Western Interprovincial Football Union, injuries to two import fullbacks on the Winnipeg Blue Bombers' roster may give Lorne (Boom Boom) Benson a chance to haunt Saskatchewan Roughriders when the clubs meet in their semi-final opener here Saturday night.

Last year, with Bombers playing host to Riders in the opener of the two-game, total-point semi-final series, Benson ran wild to set a WIFU record with six touchdowns in Winnipeg's smashing 43-5 victory. Riders won the second game 18-17 at home, but it was little satisfaction.

Lewicki Star So Far So far, Boucher's gamble has been good. Lewicki has been going at a point-a-game clip, scoring six goals and assisting on two in eight games. He has been a key man in Rangers' five victories, enough wins to give them a second-place tie with Detroit Red Wings.

Boucher, who figures his team will finish third ahead of Toronto, Chicago and Boston, says Rangers have improved in the nets and generally among young players.

Goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley, up from Vancouver Canucks of the Western League, is a better goal keeper than he was two years ago, Boucher said. "He really grew up on the coast last season and he's behaving like a National Leaguer now."

As for Chicago and Boston, who take on the league-leading Montreal Canadiens and Detroit, respectively, Saturday night. Boucher says: "The Black Hawks aren't much better than they were a year ago and there are three weak spots on the Bruins. Sugar Jim Henry is shaky in the nets and both Bill Quackenbush and Hal Laycoe have slumped up."

Mexicans Favored To Take Title Harrisburg, Pa. — (P) — The team championship of the Pennsylvania National Horse Show will be decided here today with a hard-riding group of Mexicans the favorites to succeed the United States to the title.

Led by Gen. Humberto Mariles, the Mexican officers are in second place, four faults behind the Spanish team which leads the competition with no faults.

The United States, Germany and Canada follow in that order. The Americans have captured the low score competition for the past four years, mainly because of superiority in pairs competition. But this year, that phase of the three-day event has been eliminated.

Special Committee Formed To Study Baseball Situation In Sherbrooke; League Meeting Takes Place Sunday

A small group of ardent baseball fans, numbering thirty-five, turned up last night at the special meeting called at the City Hall, which also was minus representatives from the City Council, to debate the future of professional baseball in Sherbrooke, the so-called Queen City of the Eastern Townships.

What lacked in numbers was certainly made up in quantity as all had an opportunity of voicing their opinion regarding the big item, whether steps should be taken to help keep baseball still in Sherbrooke. After studying the various statements submitted by General Manager Odie Fortier it was moved that a special committee be formed to go further into the matter.

Manager Fortier was named to represent Sherbrooke at the Provincial Baseball League meeting which takes place in Quebec over the week-end. He was also requested to ask for an extension of fifteen days in order to allow the committee sufficient time to dig into the subject and make a report regarding possibilities.

The committee will meet next week with several of the former operators in order to try and come to a definite conclusion for the future. It was also decided to contact as many business men and factories as possible to see if they are interested in helping to keep baseball in operation.

American League Owners Turn Down Syndicate's Bid To Buy Athletics; Arnold Johnson Still Wants Them

New York. — (AP) — The American League apparently has turned down the Philadelphia Athletics bid to buy the franchise to Kansas City.

Blocked in its efforts to sell the club to a Philadelphia syndicate, the Mack family was expected today to resume negotiations for the sale of its stock to Arnold Johnson and the transfer of the Philadelphia franchise to the Missouri city.

In a special meeting Thursday, the American League voted to reject the bid by an eight-man Philadelphia group to buy the Athletics. The vote according to an American League executive, was 4-4. Six affirmative votes are needed to approve any owner.

No reason was given for the turnaround of the syndicate. However, the opposition appeared to stem from a desire to get the league out of Philadelphia.

Will Harridge, American League president, said no further meetings were planned. "As far as the league is concerned," he said, "the Macks have the ball club. They own the stock. They are going to operate the club."

Baseball people, however, doubted the Macks could do that financially, and predicted they would renew negotiations with Johnson, who recently offered $3,375,000 for the entire stock plus Connie Mack Stadium. In an Oct. 12 meeting in Chicago, the American League approved the sale to him and also the transfer of the franchise to Kansas City.

Johnson, a Chicago industrialist, declined to make any commitment until he conferred with his attorneys, but one of his lawyers, Edward L. Vollers, indicated Johnson intended to go through with the deal.

Connie Sr. and Earle appeared dejected after Thursday's meeting. The former had made an impassioned plea to the other seven owners to sanction the sale to the Philadelphia syndicate "because I want so much to see the Athletics remain in Philadelphia."

Earle blamed his brother, Roy, for the failure of the sale to go through. "It's all Roy's fault," said Earle. "He's thinking only of himself. I'm thinking strictly of dad."

The most baffled group was the Philadelphia syndicate. Arthur Rosenberg, Philadelphia food chain executive, who acted as spokesman for the group, said the eight would be buyers were terribly disappointed.

"Sleepy" Jim Crowley Likes Canadian Football With Reservations; Likes Size Of Field And Rouge, Good Points

Toronto — (P) — Sleepy Jim Crowley likes Canadian football — with a couple of reservations.

"I go for Canada's game," he said in an interview. "I wouldn't be surprised to see the National Football League and the Canadian leagues give and take a little and some day end up with the same rules."

The 51-year-old Crowley, a member of Notre Dame's famous Four Horsemen with Elmer Layden, Harry Stuhldreher and Don Miller in the early '20's, is a commentator with NBC on telecasting Big Four games to the United States.

Likes The Rouge After watching nearly a season of Canadian professional football, Jim made these observations: "The rouge is good. The single point eliminates most tie games. They should adopt it in the U.S."

"The extra 12 yards in width in the Canadian field makes a big difference; gives teams more room in which to run or kick. The deeper end zones are made to order for touchdown passes."

The Canadian gridiron is 110 yards long, 65 yards wide and has a 25-yard end zone. The U.S. field: 100 yards long, 53 yards wide and a 10-yard end zone.

Prefers Four Downs "I don't particularly go for the three downs," Crowley said. "They limit a quarterback to a pattern in his strategy. If he doesn't get far on a ground play, you count on a second-down pass. He may cross you up, but not often."

Jim would also like to see unlimited blocking in Canada. "Don't get the idea I'm running down Canadian football. These are just some observations. It's a great game with plenty of crowd appeal."

When Crowley talks about football he is inevitably reminiscent. He still remembers the day in 1924 he thought he scored a notable "touchdown." The only catch was he didn't have the ball. "I went over from the three-yard line but I dropped the ball before I crashed over."

That's how he got the Sleepy Jim tag

Basic Aims Of Physical Education Outlined By J. W. McVicar, National Secretary, At Special Meeting Here

The basic aims of Physical Education in the Y.M.C.A. can be stated briefly as "developing physical fitness, strength and vigor," "creating health attitudes and habits in the lives of individuals and society at large," "teaching basic sports skills," and "inculcating in people a philosophy of life based upon the

J. W. McVICAR

Y.M.C.A., and "inculcating in people a philosophy of life based upon the Y.M.C.A. Purpose of a Christian Personality and a Christian Society."

This was the groundwork on which J. W. McVicar, National Secretary for Physical Education of the Y.M.C.A.'s of Canada, built an address given to the members of the Board of Directors, Advisory Board, and Board of Trustees of Sherbrooke Y.M.C.A., in which he discussed trends in Physical Education programming.

He pointed out that we ought not always to follow trends because trends were sometimes leading away from the desirable practices and away from those types of program which are most beneficial to the participants. However, no new ideas can be developed without experimentation and pioneering, and therefore trends must be watched for possible values.

The biggest trouble, said Mr. McVicar, is that people have a tendency to throw away something that has been tried and proven before we have something else with which to replace it.

This has happened to such valuable health practices as calisthenics planned by a man who has been trained to understand the body and its needs and functions. The trend toward "casual" and "duo" types of exercise has not provided an adequate substitute for the "Class" type of program.

There have been other trends which have been of much greater value, however, the trend back towards swimming has been very noticeable — A 60 per cent increase in the number of swimmers and persons taking instruction over the previous year was recorded in Canada in 1953. The very great trend toward increased time, facilities, and leadership required to take care of the increasing numbers of young men who want to develop the "body beautiful" through weight lifting and special body building exercise, if properly guided is a fine and desirable trend.

The trend away from such fine body disciplines as a gymnastic apparatus program, and the regularly scheduled, carefully mapped out gym class program which was scientifically designed to do a complete job of phys-

HIDDEN BALL PLAY — The ball, players and spectators were hidden from each other's view in the dying minutes of the final game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union season. Saskatchewan Roughriders, leading B. C. Lions 15-9 with six minutes to go, were declared the winners when league headquarters ruled that the contest be regarded as a completed game. Tension was at its height when the fog swept in and shrouded the playing field. Here players and officials stand helpless as the grey clouds drift across the high-powered lights of Empire stadium. TWIN SOLES FOR TWICE THE COMFORT

Three Teams Tied For Lead In QHL

The battle for the leadership of the Quebec Hockey League has developed into a three-team race.

Montreal and Shawinigan Falls joined Quebec in a tie for the lead with victories Thursday night. The Royals turned back Quebec 7-5 in Montreal and the Cataracts edged Valleyfield 1-0 in Shawinigan Falls.

Each team now has five victories, but Shawinigan Falls has played one less game than Montreal and two less than Quebec.

Fern Perreault's third-period goal broke up a scoreless deadlock and gave Cataracts their fifth straight victory.

In Montreal, Orval Tessier rapped in three goals to pace Montreal to victory. Others went to Kelly Burnett, Glen Harmon, Ray Laplante and Bill Shvitz.

Jim Uniac tallied twice for Quebec and Larry Regan, Dennis O'Grady and Bert Giesbrecht scored once each.

Montreal is at Ottawa in the only game Friday.

sical and health development, are trends which should give us some concern, for they are not being replaced in the lives of men and boys by something which is as adequate, and recent surveys show a slackening off of physical fitness across our nation.

It is the job of the Y.M.C.A. to try to reintroduce these values in Physical Education, in the interests of a healthier, sounder, future citizenship.

Mr. McVicar is one of the outstanding Physical Educationists in North America. In addition to being National Secretary for Physical Education in the Y.M.C.A.'s of Canada, he is Past President of the Physical Directors of North America, and the official delegate of the Society to the World's Conference on Health and Physical Education, held in conjunction with the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki.

He is an author of several books and manuals on Physical Education, and for his outstanding contribution to Physical Education, he was in 1953 awarded the Roberts-Gulick Award, the top honour that can be bestowed upon any Physical Educationist in North America.

Bedford High are definitely the item of the week in sporting news from a basketball standpoint. With decisive wins over both Waterloo and Cowansville, the new entry has shown all around offensive and defensive power. Two new boys, Algy Narbutas and Peter McGregor, have done a great deal to help spark the upsurge. Narbutas, a guard, has seen some basketball at Catholic High in Montreal under the supervision of my god friend brother Paul, while McGregor moved in from Town of Mt. Royal. So with our good player and "Mighty Mite" Dennis Cheek, and with "Old Reliable" Chuck Falconer to help Bedford have a formidable aggregation to head.

In the only other senior game Knowlton defeated the gymless Granby High boys at the Lake Town layout by the unquestionable score of 44-26. Granby, under their coach, Dave Savage, put on a fine show with Bob Elder potting 21 points to be high scorer for the evening. Considering that all the practice they have had has been on outdoor courts while their gym is being rebuilt along with a new extension to the Granby school. However, the game itself was one of the finest played on the Knowlton floor.

In the first quarter both teams started slowly with Knowlton playing a conventional three-two zone being manned by Dave Sadler and Dave Crandall, guards, and Ted Nurse, Harvey Lowry, and Ross Hamilton up forward. Granby went along with three forwards pressing and the guards playing well back. First blood of the evening was drawn by Teddy Nurse of K. H. S., but it was tied up by Storey of Nurse on the next play. Nurse came right back to put the Flewelling Clan out in front never to be headed again for the rest of the game. Altogether Ted dropped in 18 points for the purple and white. Captain Dave Sadler popped in 10, Dave Crandall nicked eight, Ross Hamilton six and rookie John Pille two.

Hazard for the night as far as Knowlton was concerned was the excellent shooting of Elder of Granby, who shot from all positions with all types of shots to keep his team in the running. Not only did he play a magnificent offensive game, but he was all over the floor defensively as well to greatly embarrass the Knowlton scoring effort.

The best shots of the evening were tossed by Sadler of Knowlton and Elder of Granby. Bob Elder's shot was a classical one-hander from a conventional stance from outside the Knowlton ten-second line near the sidelines that dropped clean through the twine. Dave Sadler's effort was from about the same spot but he did a beautiful one-handed jump and stab that split the hoop dead center. Hard luck guy of the evening was Harvey Lowry who had ten good chances and flubbed them all.

New York — (AP) — An event which is expected to profoundly affect the future of horse racing in the United States is scheduled for Monday night at Keeneland, when 20 of the lushest brood mares from the stable of the Aga Khan, all but one of them in foal, will be sold at auction to American bidders.

The 77-year-old religious leader, grown old and ailing, now is making a start toward reducing his vast racing establishment, considered the world's greatest. We have it on the word of Major Cyril Khan, manager of the stable's five stud farms in Ireland, that there has never been anything in the history of racing that compares to Monday's event.

"In the 30 years that he has been in racing, the Aga Khan before this has sold only three brood mares, and none of those as outstanding as the members of this lot," said Major Khan. "He has sold many great stallions, such as Bahram, Mahmoud, Alibhai and Nasrullah, to name only a few, but he always has clung to his brood mares."

"These not only represent the cream of our farms, but they are in foal to some of the world's greatest stallions. Any one of them could be carrying a champion. We expect every important stable in your country to be there bidding for them. The effects of the sale should be felt for all time to come."

He was asked what he expected the mares to fetch, on an average.

"It's impossible to even make a guess," the major said, "because there's no precedent to go by. I don't think it impossible that some of them might be bid up to $100,000 or more. It would only take two bidders who badly want the same mare."

Scoring System May Change In NY

New York — (AP) — A simplified scoring system for boxing which would junk the present New York method of awarding rounds will be proposed to the New York state athletic commission today by its chairman, Bob Christenberry.

The new system, Christenberry said Thursday, is based entirely on points, ranging from zero to three.

He listed four categories: 0-0 for an even round. 1-0 for a good round or winning margin. 2-0 for an excellent round. 3-0 for a superior round.

"I believe the point system is the only equitable way to score fights," Christenberry said. "I'm afraid our present system in New York is illogical since it scores both by rounds and by points. It was designed to eliminate draws. We still have draws and I see nothing wrong with them."

Knowlton and the score was a thriller with Knowlton coming out 20-19. For the winners Gary Morley was high with ten points while Lance Hadlock scored four. Pete Regin and Pete Rogerson two each and Staples and Sykes one each. For Mansonville Homer Cote scored 12, Ron Bray six and Donald Aitken one. For a start the Mansonville boys exceeded all expectations. Note: The way things look with E. J. Perry at the helm and with game results coming in you may have some statistics. Wow!

Orfuns Leading Local Darts League

The newly formed Orfuns Darts Club are the current leaders of the Sherbrooke Sections of the Southern Eastern Townships Darts League.

Orfuns have played five games and have yet to taste defeat. Three other teams are also undefeated. However these clubs, RCEME, Superheater and Sherbrooks Sports have not played as many games as the leaders.

Last year's championship team, Tuque Rouge "A", have not been able to regain their past form as yet and show one win and one tie in four games.

Derby Line of the Border Section got away to a fast start by winning their first two games in fairly easy fashion. Border Vets were the first team to bow to Derby 26-14. Derby Line's second win came at the expense of Maples 27-13.

Milwaukee Will Enlarge Stadium

Milwaukee — (AP) — First steps towards a third straight National league attendance record for the Milwaukee Braves were taken Thursday with proposals for adding 10,500 seats to County Stadium.

Action to increase the capacity from its present 43,110 to between 51,600 and 53,000, will be taken next Wednesday by the Milwaukee county board. The discrepancy is due to the number of bleacher seats to be sacrificed by the installation of grandstand chairs.

The Braves rocked the baseball world a year ago in their first season out of Boston by setting a league attendance record of 1,826,397. Last season the stadium capacity was boosted by about 7,500 seats — and fans responded by shattering the year-old mark with a new figure of 2,131,388 paid admissions.

Curling Final To Be Held In Toronto

Toronto — (AP) — Robert Sutherland of Guelph chairman of the Ontario Curling Association's committee on schoolboy curling, said Thursday the eight division winners will meet in the playoffs here Jan. 15.

Playoffs in the eight division will probably be held during the Christmas holidays. Winner of the Guelph series will compete in the Canadian Schoolboy Championship at Sydney, N.S., in February.

BIG BOOST

Belfast, Northern Ireland — (AP) — Reduced purchasing power of the pound has meant a salary increase for members of the Parliament of Northern Ireland. They will get £400 instead of £200, and an additional £400 instead of £100 for expenses.

Setting And Plot Same As Western Teams Square Off For Semi-Final Playoff As Bombers And Riders Meet

Regina — (AP) — The setting is the same and so is the plot. But the tone of the critics may be different when this weekend's Western Interprovincial Football Union semi-final is over.

Saskatchewan Roughriders meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers Saturday and Monday nights in the two-game, total points playoff to decide who will clash with Edmonton Eskimos in the final.

It was the same story at this point last year, with Eskimos, Riders and Bombers finishing one-two-three in the league standings, but the Riders say it will be different from the 60-23 total-points lashing they took from Winnipeg in 1953. Bombers marched past Edmonton then to the Grey Cup final.

As a year ago, Riders—the team with the choice—this year have elected to play the first game in Winnipeg.

Benson Starred

Last season Bombers, mainly on the strength of a record six touchdowns scored by fullback Lorne Benson, hammered the Riders 43-5 in the first game. Saskatchewan squeezed an 18-17 victory in the second on home ground when it was too late.

A Rider official said Thursday the executive was "hesitant" about going to Winnipeg again for the first game and "regrets having to do so."

"But we believe we have a better chance to reach the final in making the trip for the first game," he said.

Saskatchewan has been unbeaten this season on their home field.

"I wouldn't play that first game in Winnipeg if I didn't think we could beat them," says coach Frank Filchock.

Martinez - Fiore Fight Tonight

New York — (AP) — Vince Martinez, a glamor boy from Paterson, N.J., with box office and bobby sox appeal, picks up his fistic career tonight after a four-month lapse.

The handsome young welter boxes Carmine Fiore over the 10-round route at Madison Square Garden in a rematch of their Jan. 30, 1953, bout. It will be carried on radio and TV at 10 p.m. EST.

Martinez whipped the Brooklyn left-hooker quite handily in their first meeting. As he stopped Chuck Davcy and gave Art Aragon the worst drubbing of his career in his last two starts, there's no reason to expect he won't beat Fiore again.

Footballers May Play In Hawaii

Ottawa — (AP) — Ottawa Rough Rider quarterback Al Dekdebrun has confirmed that plans are under way for a select Canadian football team to play two post-season games in Hawaii in December.

He said arrangements are being made for 28 to 30 Canadian players to fly to Hawaii to meet a professional club there in the Hula Bowl. Two games, on Dec. 17 and Christmas Day, were planned.

The idea began a year ago

Montreal Forum To Have Concerts

Montreal — (AP) — The Montreal Forum, which packs in hockey, wrestling and jazz-loving crowds, is going high-brow.

Officials of the Montreal Arena Company which operates the Forum Thursday announced expenditure of more than $100,000 to equip the big arena for theatre, ballet and concerts.

General manager Frank Selke said in the next few months the Forum will rip up the ice surface used by Montreal Canadiens of the NHL for the Old Vic Company of London, the ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, the Berlin symphony orchestra and the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Mr. Selke said company officials were approached in connection with the special performances because of Montreal's lack of a proper concert hall. The concert hall question is a live issue in the city's cultural circles at the moment.

when Hawaiian-born Tom Hugo, a Montreal Alouette player, returned home and football promoters in Honolulu discussed the proposal with him.

In previous years, United States all-star college teams have taken part in Hawaii's Hula Bowl games. If the new plans go through, the visiting Canadians would play by Canadian rules.

Anglican World Congress Reviewed At Meeting Of Cookshire Auxiliary

Cookshire, Oct. 29.—On Monday evening, the Girls' Auxiliary of St. Peter's Anglican Church held a special meeting in the auditorium of the Cookshire High School, with Mrs. Seaborn, wife of Rev. Seaborn, dean of the Anglican Cathedral in Quebec, as guest speaker.

After opening the meeting in short form, the president, Miss Dawn Gilbert, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Seaborn gave a few preliminary remarks about the second Anglican World Congress, which was held in Minneapolis, Minn., in August.

She stated that the three-fold purpose of this congress was exemplified throughout the whole session, namely, worship, study and fellowship. The many beautiful slides which Mrs. Seaborn showed were much appreciated by the large audience, and clearly showed that religion is not dead throughout the world. There are many clever, consecrated clergy and also laymen, who are, by their godly lives, leading people to follow in the steps of the Master.

Mrs. Seaborn made a special request that the girls sing the hymn, "In Christ There Is No East or West," at their next meeting, the words lending a true meaning to world-wide Christianity.

Scattered about the room were a large number of pictures of Minneapolis buildings and of familiar well known Anglican church dignitaries and pamphlets describing the various types of work carried out by the church.

On behalf of the G. A., Miss Beverley Gilbert thanked Mrs. Seaborn for her informative and interesting illustrated address, Mrs. Worby, on behalf of the visitors, thanked the G. A. for arranging the meeting and giving them the opportunity of hearing such a clear explanatory address.

The meeting closed with prayer, and Mrs. D. MacRae presided at the piano for the singing of the National Anthem.

Following the program Mrs. Bennett entertained about fifteen ladies in honor of Mrs. Seaborn at her home, with Mrs. Dickson assisting.

General Notes
The Rev. Seaborn, Dean of the Anglican Cathedral in Quebec, and Mrs. Seaborn, were recent overnight guests of Mrs. R. M. Elliott.
