AIR SERVICE CERTAIN — GINGUES

M. P. Predicts Early Start On Windsor Mills Airport; TCA Survey Wins Praise

By GEORGE MacFARLANE

On the basis of Trans-Canada Airlines' survey, construction of Sherbrooke's airport will start within a year, Maurice Gingues, MP Sherbrooke, predicted yesterday.

"Probably this year," Mr. Gingues said with confidence, "but definitely by next year."

The TCA report, made official yesterday, was referred to as "the tools I need to finish the job."

"This report justifies us spending the taxpayers' money," he continued. "All members of parliament in this district have been urging the Transport Department to do something about air service for the Townships for the last five years."

Sen. Charles Howard shared Mr. Gingues' enthusiasm after yesterday's meeting at city hall. Yves Jasmin, Public Relations officer, and Peter Jerome, sales representative, laid a detailed, though purely factual, summary of TCA's Sherbrooke survey before local officials.

"The survey shows this area to have a greater traffic potential than 50 per cent of the Canadian centres which now have air service," Sen. Howard said.

He called on TCA to "actively support Sherbrooke's bid for air service now that the result of the survey was known."

"You can do a lot to make this dream a reality," he told the TCA representatives.

Clear evidence that TCA had taken Sherbrooke's air service request seriously was to be found in the heavily-detailed bound volumes which were handed out at yesterday's meeting. While it was emphasized that the report was purely factual there was little doubt that TCA's findings put Sherbrooke in an extremely favorable light and put the federal Transport Department on a brightly illuminated spot.

TCA's conclusion, after 74 pages was as follows:

"The estimated yearly air passenger potential . . . is 7015 passengers."

"These figures represent only the potential within the area. The percentages of potential which could be obtained would, of necessity, be directly proportional to the frequencies and routings provided, the rates charged, the time of operation, connection provided at terminal points, type of aircraft, etc."

It was estimated that 19.3 passengers would leave Sherbrooke per day.

The majority, 11.1, would go to Montreal; 2.3 would go to New York City; 1.8 to Toronto and 1.0 to Quebec. Other points worthy of mention were the Maritimes (2); Ottawa (1); London-Windsor (2); Manitoba (1); West of Manitoba (1); Boston (2); other in New York State (1); Cleveland-Chicago (4); other in U.S. (8); and other in Quebec (10).

From the very beginning of the survey, the tone was favorable to Sherbrooke.

"Sherbrooke is a hub point in the transportation system of South Eastern Quebec. Railroad lines, as well as highways, radiate from the city in various directions," it was noted.

Referring to the Windsor Mills airport, the survey reported that "this airport is equipped with all the necessary facilities for the operation of the types of aircraft which are most often used by private companies. The distance from Sherbrooke's central district to the airport can be covered by car in 20 minutes."

The report went into great detail, utilizing the information that had been provided. Leo Cadorette and various civic organizations.

19 Killed In Syrian Air Crash

Damascus, Syria—(AP)—A Syrian Airways passenger plane exploded in flight about 15 miles from Aleppo Friday, killing all 19 persons aboard.

It was the third major air disaster in the Mediterranean area in a week. All three have cost 121 lives.

Last Saturday 50 British soldiers were killed when their chartered plane crashed on Malta. On Monday a French plane crashed on the desert near Cairo, killing 52 persons.

The Syrian plane, a twin-engine Dakota, was en route to Damascus from Aleppo.

All the victims were Syrians with the exception of the Greek pilot, a government announcement said.

There was no word on what caused the explosion shortly after the takeoff from Aleppo, near the Turkish frontier, for the 200-mile flight south to Damascus.

UC Would Test LDA

Toronto — (CP) — The United Church of Canada's board of evangelism and social service reaffirmed its support Friday, of provisions of the Lord's Day Act of Canada.

At the closing day of a week-long series of meetings the board said it wanted it made clear that "under this legislation citizens of our country have ample opportunity for rest, recreation and participation in or attendance at games at which no admission charge is made."

A resolution, one of many on various topics, was passed asking the church's General Council to request the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada to place a test case before the courts on the Lord's Day (Ontario) Act, 1950.

It asked that the matter be placed before the church's General Council for action if the alliance is unwilling to take a test case to court.

Europe Beginning To Thaw

London (AP) — Frozen Europe began today to thaw out around the edges as sunny spells melted snows in Italy and southern France.

But great areas of the continent remained congealed under dying blizzard blasts from Siberia. Giant snowdrifts reared across the Iberian peninsula, stalling trains and knocking out power lines.

Known deaths in the 26-day freeze mounted to 842, amid warning signs that the thaw might prove almost as disastrous.

Rescue teams in France and Italy traded snow shovels for sandbags today as rivers swollen by melting snows threatened villages and farms.

A creeping landslide at Vasto, Italy, continued to engulf the community as streams of slush poured down the mountainside. Four hundred villagers were homeless. Others were being evacuated.

Spring-like sunshine returned to most of the Mediterranean area with temperatures reaching 56 degrees in Rome. Inland, the thaw was slower in arriving.

The French government has slashed gasoline prices 20 per cent and eased vegetable taxes in an attempt to ease hardships.

Northern Spain and Portugal are under the heaviest snow in living memory. Telephone and electrical service across the Iberian peninsula is crippled. Many houses have collapsed under the weight of the snow.

Army units were called out to dig through snowdrifts to a passenger train stalled between the Portuguese cities of Oporto and Braganza.

England's southern counties today remained a featureless

Algerian Rebels Kill 8 Persons

Algiers—(Reuters)—Algerian rebels stopped a bus, two cars and a truck on a road 35 miles from here Friday and methodically murdered eight persons with sub-machine-gun fire.

The killers ran onto the road, which passed through rough country, and stopped a car containing a Paris hotel owner, his wife and another woman, a child and a man. Four of the five were killed.

A French architect from Algiers and a Moslem architect were in the next car to come along. They were murdered.

Then a bus appeared. The rebels, brandishing sub-machine-guns, ordered the passengers into the road, picked out a Moslem non-commissioned officer and shot him.

The killers forced the driver to drive the bus over the edge of a roadside ravine.

As it plunged over the edge the driver jumped out. The rebels shot at him but he escaped and warned police in the next town.

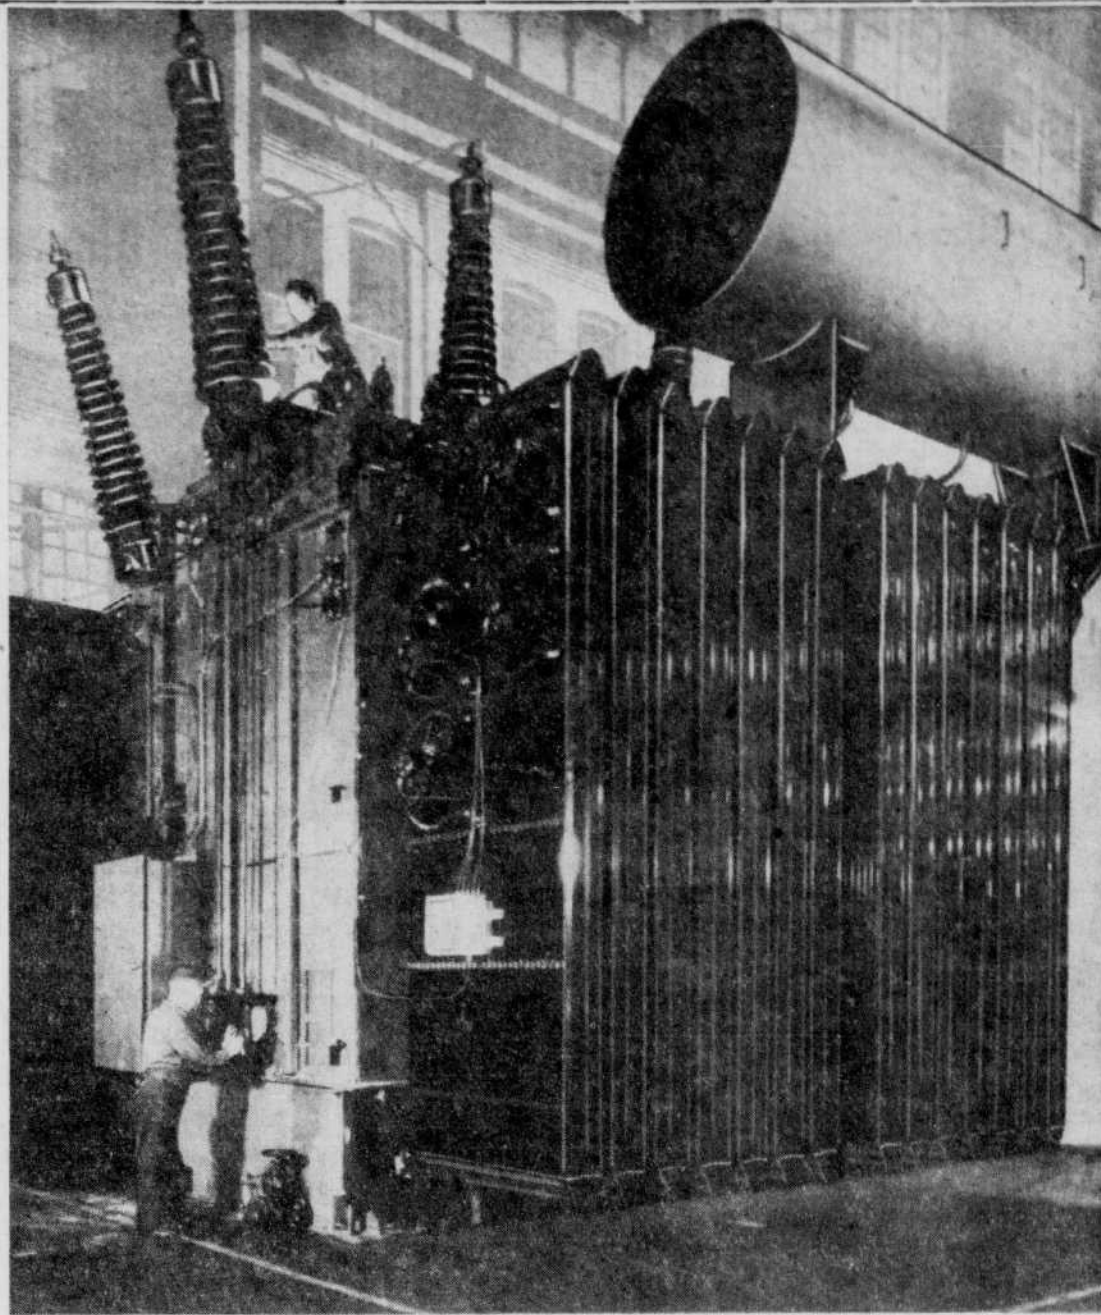

In the middle of this holdup an electrical contractor's truck came along the road. The rebels shot the 23-year-old driver.

According to reports reaching Algiers the rebels killed all their victims with bursts of sub-machine-gun fire at short range. Then they raced back into the nearby mountains.

Once upon a time there was a politician who didn't have any relatives on the payroll . . . Now it's your turn.

A Power Giant — This huge power transformer just completed at Canadian Westinghouse in Hamilton for the Quebec Hydro's vast Bersimis power project is capable of staggering power production. It weighs over 325 tons, stands as high as a normal house and contains enough fuel oil to heat an average six-room home for 30 years. Its power is enough to light 2½ million 60 watt lamps, or, if you want to go into the subject even more, it is capable of producing light to street lamps spaced at a hundred feet apart right around the earth at the equator. This one will be installed at Charlesbourg, near Quebec City, this year. Others will be installed near Montreal. (Photo by Fed News)

Negroes Organize Country-Wide Work Stoppage On Segregation

Montgomery, Ala. (AP) — A country-wide passive resistance movement among American Negroes appears a possibility if the Alabama racial crisis is not solved in a short time.

The first step toward development of such a program was taken Friday when representative Adam Clayton Powell (Dem.-N.Y.) announced a call for a one-hour mass work stoppage by every Negro in the United States March 23 in support of the bus boycott here.

Powell said Negro leaders meeting at the New York church where he is pastor agreed on the day of prayer March 28, to be climaxed by a brief work stoppage. Members of all races and faiths were urged to join with the Negro demonstrators.

The Negro pastor said it would be designated "National Deliverance Day of Prayer" with no Negro of any age attending school or working between 2 and 3 p.m.

A spokesman said this might be a forerunner to a possible "national Gandhi-type movement." The late Indian leader made famous a passive resistance program of fasting and non-violent opposition to British rule.

While plans for the work stoppage were being made in New York, Negroes walked the streets of Montgomery in a mass 24-hour pilgrimage to prove their willingness to walk if necessary to carry on their 11-week-old boycott in protest against segregation on city buses.

Ninety of them walked to the courthouse for arraignment on anti-boycott indictments returned by a grand jury Tuesday. All pleaded innocent and their trials were set to start March 19. A court officer said 10 more warrants were outstanding today.

This brings the number of defendants to 100.

Defence counsel filed demurrers contesting the indictments, which charged violation of Alabama's law against "illegal" boycotting. Maximum penalty under the law is six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

At the state capitol, Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama won support from about 75 newspaper editors and publishers and radio and television broadcasters for a proposed bi-racial commission to settle differences between the white and Negro races.

Afterwards Folsom said: "Anybody with any sense knows that Negro children and white children are not going to school together in Alabama any time in the near future. . . in fact, not in a long time."

World News In Brief

Rabat, French Morocco—(Reuters)—Twelve prisoners were killed and 16 were injured when troops and police intervened to break up a general mutiny in the prison of Port Lyautey, reports reaching here early today said. Trouble broke out in the prison Friday afternoon when the prison governor personally directed a search of the cells. One prisoner seized a pistol while being searched, shot dead a police officer, and seriously wounded another.

London — (Reuters)—The BBC has apologized to the Protestant Alliance for a broadcast in which it was said that St. Peter was the first Pope. The statement was made in a quiz program in which a contestant was asked: "St. Peter was the first Pope. Who was the second?" The Alliance protested that it had never been proved that St. Peter was a Pope or a Roman Catholic. The Roman Catholic church says St. Peter's successor as pope was St. Linus.

Penticton, B. C. — (CP) — Paul Terbasket of the Similkameen Indian reserve in British Columbia's southern interior died Thursday at the age of 110. Relatives said the oldtimer took part in cattle roundups until he was 100 years old. Mr. Terbasket was born on what had been Hudson's Bay Company territory in the district. He is survived by his widow, one son, seven grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren.

Oshawa, Ont. — (CP) — The first 1956 automobile to be produced by General Motors of Canada rolled off the assembly line at GM's plant here Friday afternoon. All GM's Canadian production was halted by a strike last September of 17,000 members of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.-CCL). The dispute was settled earlier this month.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. — (CP) — Raul Dufour of Montreal and Wilfred Landriault of Espanola, Ont., Friday were remanded on a charge of abduction. The men were charged with abducting Blanche St. Pierre, 15-year-old Soo student, who disappeared from her home Wednesday morning. The three were stopped Thursday night by a police roadblock at Espanola, 150 miles east of here. The girl was unhurt.

Dust Storm In US West

Dallas — (AP)—The worst dust storm of the season continued to rage across southwestern states today, ripping off roofs, fanning prairie fires and leaving at least five persons dead.

Winds with gusts up to 95 miles an hour lashed eastern New Mexico, Oklahoma, West Texas and part of Kansas Friday, and this morning were spreading southward and eastward.

Warnings of possible tornadoes in Oklahoma and Arkansas were issued by the weather bureau.

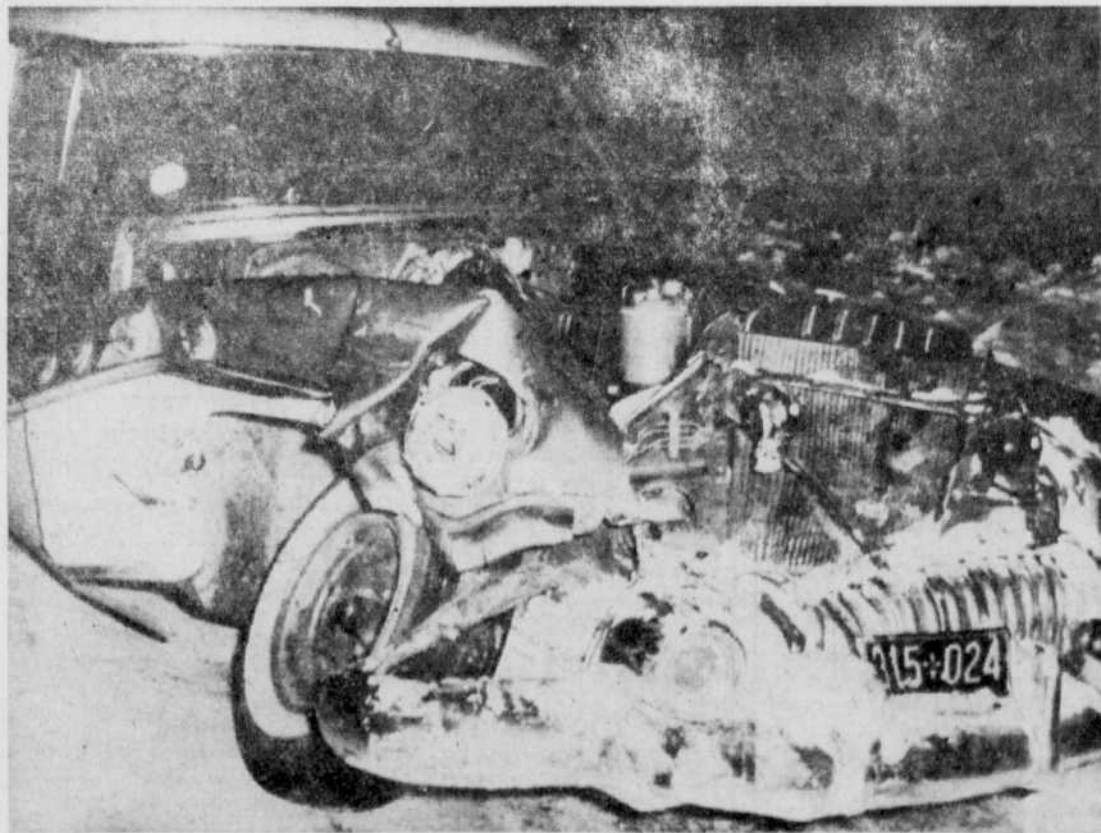

Highway traffic was completely stalled during the worst of the storm as the heavy dust reduced visibility to virtually zero. All five deaths were due to traffic crashes along the dust-shrouded highways.

Duplessis Sees Little Gained In New Meeting

Montreal — (CP) — Premier Duplessis said today he sees little to be accomplished at another Dominion-provincial fiscal conference.

In a story from Quebec, the newspaper quotes the premier as saying Quebec will accept the tax-sharing payments from Ottawa but that he does not regard them as a solution to the fiscal problems.

"Just as long as the people in Ottawa insist on trying to make the people believe they are doing the provinces a favor and that they are making a gift to the people of Quebec, then relations between Quebec and Ottawa will remain what they were," Mr. Duplessis is quoted as saying.

Two Injured — One of two cars in an accident on the road to Scotstown last night. This one, driven by Adrien Couture, of East Angus, and another, driven by Jean Claude Lauzon, of Waterloo, collided. Romeo Vincent, of Sherbrooke, passenger in Lauzon's car was treated for a broken jaw, at Hotel Dieu hospital. In the other car, Gerard Cote, of East Angus, suffered a broken nose and injured knee. He was treated at East Angus. (Record Photo by Breton Studio)

A Merited Expenditure

The recent House of Commons announcement by Veterans Minister Lapointe that the 35 living Canadian Victoria Cross winners are eligible for a government-paid expense trip to London in June gives long-overdue recognition to these most courageous of Canada's war veterans. The occasion will be the celebrations in connection with the hundredth anniversary of the establishment of this award.

The highest decoration which the Commonwealth can bestow on any soldier, sailor, or airman, is the Victoria Cross. Too often its winner is killed in action. Only deeds of outstanding bravery involving personal safety, and the safety of probably thousands of others, are officially recognized. Ninety-eight Canadians have won the V.C. since the Crimean War. Of that number 37 Crosses were awarded posthumously, and 26 recipients have died since their acts of outstanding heroism.

To those who can attend the June function in London, it will be a rewarding experience. The Queen will review some 400 holders of this honor in Hyde Park and a Royal garden party is to follow.

It makes pleasant reading therefore that the government has decided to pay the expenses of these Canadian heroes to London. Not even the severest critic of government spending will begrudge this expenditure.

Take Pen In Hand

Everybody from doctors, to psychiatrists, to educationalists have long expounded on the benefits to be gained from finding a hobby to consume one's leisure hours.

Everything from stamp and coin collecting to wood-working, ceramics, painting and bird-watching have proven interesting and sometimes profitable hobbies. Some turn their hours of relaxation to such activities as gardening or golfing. Others lay out a campaign of good reading.

There is one hobby, though that seems to attract too few adherents. And yet there is little or no financial outlay required. Some equipment is helpful, but not essential.

This almost forgotten hobby is writing; and before you complain that it's difficult to find time and energy enough to write even obligatory letters, lend an ear for a moment.

Here in the Townships there is a group of amateur poets. Few, if any of the group's members are acquainted with each other by more than name, but the membership seems to be ever widening. Starting with a core of three or four a few months ago, The Record now has expanded its list of regular contributors to more than a dozen. You'll meet them this year when The Record carries a series to introduce them one by one.

A few of them are excellent poets, others are good and some are admittedly mediocre. But the quality really isn't the important thing. The desire to create is within us all and there is probably no easier way to gain recognition — however obscure it may seem — than with a pen.

Others lean to prose, though it is usually more difficult to find an outlet for it. An example, though, is a little column "The Townshipman" which appears every Monday on this page. The name of its author, who prefers to remain anonymous, would probably surprise you.

But whether the works are published or not, writing is fun. Even the lowly Letter to the Editor can carry considerable weight and is considered a valuable item by most newspapers.

And unlike most hobbies, if you discover that you don't like it, about all that it's cost you is a bottle of ink and a case of writer's cramp. No major equipment to gather dust in the garage.

Let's go now! Dear Mr. Editor...

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

FINESOMANIA IS BRIDGE DISEASE

Finessomania is a dangerous disease to bridge players. It attacks young and old and flourishes in both hot and cold weather. An example of how this scourge operates is shown in today's hand.

West opened the three of clubs, East put up the king, and South won with the ace. A heart opening lead would have been better for the defenders, but it's hard to blame West for missing this lead.

South, a confirmed finesomania, led a trump to the king and returned the queen of diamonds for a finesse. When this finesse succeeded, South chuckled and tried a spade finesse.

This lost to the queen of spades, and West promptly shifted to hearts. That was the end for South. No matter how he squirmed he had to lose two hearts, a trump, and a club.

Down one. South would have made his contract if he had taken no finesses. On winning the first trick with the ace of clubs, South should draw two rounds of trumps with the ace and king. He should then lead the ace of diamonds and follow with another diamond to force out the king.

The defenders could take the king of diamonds and a club, but nothing would prevent declarer from getting to dummy with the

There's "Good News" — Still

By Rev. E. S. Murray, M.A.

Our world is out-of-joint, morally and spiritually, is the indictment that confronts us. The lives of individuals and the "individual-writ-large," the nations, too, furnish the proof. We could examine this evidence, reducing it to psychological, philosophical, ethical terms only to be convinced it is all crammed up in that unpopular word of three letters—SIN.

This brings you and me into focus for it is the collective sins of "every man" that has produced the chaos. And what of your interests? Have they been definitely spiritual? Or have you permitted yourself to be exposed to the current vague theism that is floating about and thereby wounded the Sacred Heart of Christ by your indifference?

It is abundantly evident that far too many have done just this, and, with the firm foundation of God undermined, have been caught helpless in the maelstrom of materialism, secularism and that worst "ism" of all, CONFUSION-ISM. And with their life confused, purposeless, weakened, ineffect, they are adrift, fully aware that they have no alternative now but to rejoin the Old Ship of Zion, the Church, with her infallible chart and Compass, Christ, or perish. Mere men and even mere rites, ceremonies and convictions—helpful and useful as they can be—cannot correct this crisis. There is only One who meets the need, Jesus the Crucified Who is alive forevermore.

If perchance you have "seen one of those who has kept his courage up by whistling, patting yourself on the back with assurance that "all is well" as you insisted on looking down, all the while racking straws so as to escape looking in, then, this very minute, change your thinking and throwing doubts and fears to the wind and strong in the strength which God supplies through His Eternal Son, seek the Lord while He may be found; call Him while He is near.

This same Jesus, Our Saviour, Who is both mighty and merciful, has the only effective remedy for sin which has brought us to the Valley of Decision. This, then, is the Good News and thank God that there is good news still! Now we have a word for Good News and it is simply evangelism. So evangelism is simply the teller of it. This news can be reduced to two words: Jesus saves. This is the news we must tell north, east, west and south—the initials spell news—so that "sinners may be converted, the lapsed restored and the faithful made strong." So when this news that there is no salvation through anyone else but Jesus (Act 4:12) is told simply, earnestly, attractively, convincingly with all the urgency and verve the present crisis requires, and people live it, life, the Christian life, will indeed be the greatest of all adventures.

All this you will find recorded in that Best of Books, the Bible. And more also, for therein you shall discover the Perfect Man, Christ, Who claims that with Him you can do "all" things and without Him, nothing. I dare you to invoke and employ the power of Jesus' Name and thereby prove victory over sin, unbelief, indifference, anything unlike God. Of course, such power presupposes prayer, frequent use of sacramental grace, regular Bible study, sincere worship, all tied together with more giving of our time, talents and money to God and His Work. I know that whoever uses these means of grace can so realistically imitate Christ that others, seeing their good works, will glorify "Our Father Who art in Heaven."

Why not imitate them and "plant" that thought in your mind this Lenten springtime and your life will be rejuvenated for saying "Goodbye" to lesser things; you will desire to give your "all" to Christ and His cause, too.

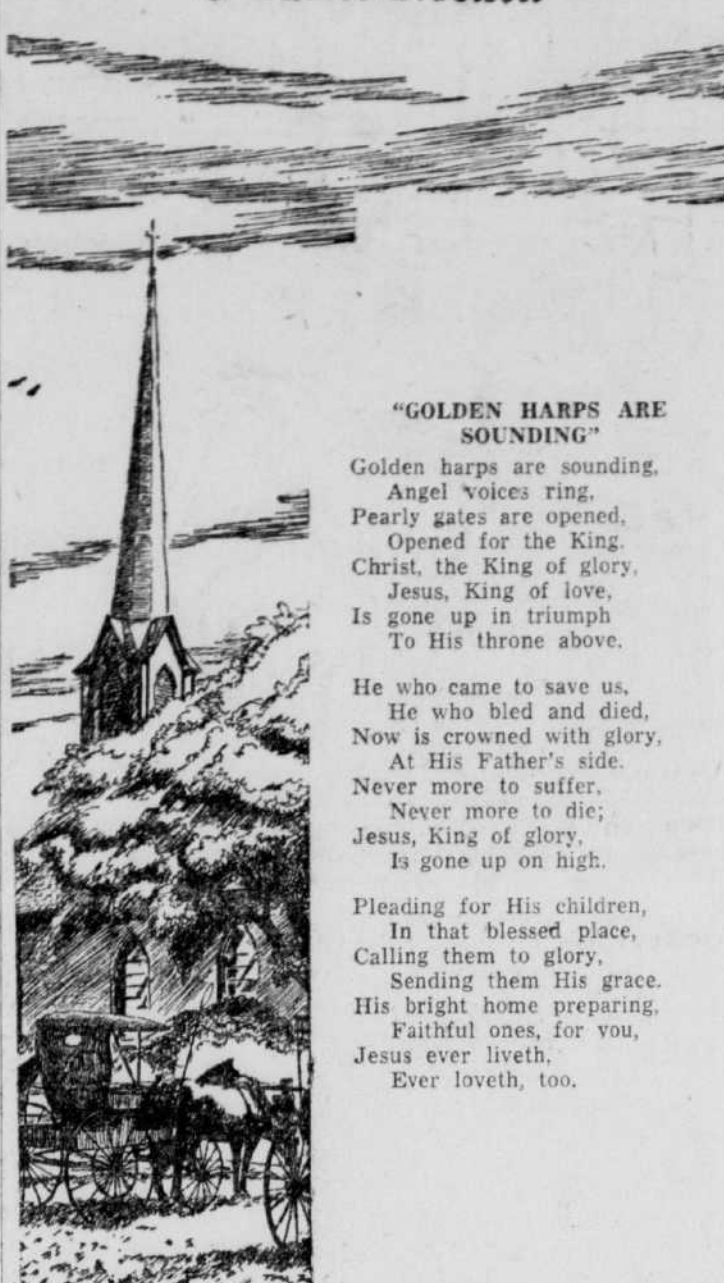

Look! The Cross of Christ still towering o'er the wrecks of Time, summons not only to conquer in this Sign but co-operates in sharing the message of Christ's victory over sin and death and His gift of eternal life with all people. This is the story of the Church and you a member thereof must tell. Accentuate the positive, the Good News, toning down both the messenger and the hearers so as to make Christ and His Story pre-eminent.

And Thou, O Church of All Nations, keep on telling this simple plain old evangelical Gospel, until men using it as dynamite—power—shall blast their old paths of sinful living, the end thereof is death and substituting paths of righteousness, shall move as ambassadors, interpreters, witnesses, evangelists on the great adventure of bringing Christ to all men everywhere. And mark you, if we fail to do this, then salvation is an idle word, a theorem disregarded and unproved.

To avoid this, keep Lent, and repairing to your spiritual wilderness where alone with Christ you will look into your soul, facing the awfulness of sin, and then you will, I venture to predict, look up, giving your heart to Christ. As a new person "in Him"

Stories of Famous Hymns

by Horace B. Powell

"GOLDEN HARPS ARE SOUNDING"

Golden harps are sounding,
 Angel voices ring,
 Pearly gates are opened,
 Opened for the King,
 Christ, the King of glory,
 Jesus, King of love,
 Is gone up in triumph
 To His throne above.

He who came to save us,
 He who bled and died,
 Now is crowned with glory,
 At His Father's side.
 Never more to suffer,
 Never more to die;
 Jesus, King of glory,
 Is gone up on high.

Pleading for His children,
 In that blessed place,
 Calling them to glory,
 Sending them His grace.
 His bright home preparing,
 Faithful ones, for you,
 Jesus ever liveth,
 Ever loveth, too.

Frances Havergal, England's most famous woman hymnist, was visiting a boys' school one day with a friend.

Miss Havergal was weary and paused to rest at the school entrance while her friend went inside. While she rested, she scribbled verses on a scrap of paper and within a few minutes the stanzas of "Golden Harps Are Sounding", as they are found today in most church hymnals, had been made. When her friend, an editor of song collections, reappeared, he was delighted with the verses and put them into a song book he was preparing. Miss Havergal later composed the popular hymn tune.

Miss Havergal's hymns—and she wrote many beautiful ones—were born of a consecrated spirit. One of the best known and loved of all in her list is the one which opens with the lines:

you will dress accordingly and, clad in heavenly armor bright, go forth with heart ablaze, all truth to love, all wrong to hate. God's will to learn. His will to do. In a word, an evangelist of, and for, Jesus, Blessed Jesus!

Now for evangelists there is a large, untapped field awaiting. Then, in addition to the unconverted, there are the indifferent, the lapsed, the hard-of-heart. These will be prone to offer such excuses as "I cannot preach. I cannot go to foreign lands. What use am I?" etc.

Well, this is an evangelist's shining hour wherein he declares with pride that the Church's main business is to herald the Good News. To teach the saving faith. To win followers of the one and only Lord. To go out till the last man is reached. God will smile upon your endeavor to carry this good news to your fellowmen—(1) a good, clean sober life—a life of service to others, a copy of the life of Christ; (2) then too, you can function as a spiritual conversationalist who, well versed in the faith, joy to tell others as graciously and effectively as humanly possible; (3) in addition to this, you can, by word, example and influence bring at least one other person not only in but within the church; (4) if you cannot go yourself you can provide money so that the Church which Christ founded may effectively follow His command, "Go ye, therefore, and make disciples of all nations."

One thing further—a missionary does not tell people about his own ideas or feelings. No one would want to cross land and sea to do that. We want rather to tell people about Christ from Whom cometh all that is best in our Christian democratic civilization. From this we deduce that because we have closed God's mouth, the Word of God, the Bible, and preferred our own way, our world is experiencing a moral and spiritual decline. For this crisis, this confusion, as for every crisis in the past, God has an answer—JESUS ONLY. His story, His answer, you will find in that one and only infallible and indispensable Guide, the Holy Bible, the Book Divine.

I dare you as you open that Sacred Volume to be taught and guided, upheld and comforted, to unconditionally surrender yourself to the Holy Spirit, at the same time beseeching Him to give His grace to all concerned that we may present Christ Jesus in the power of the Holy Spirit that men may come to put their trust in God. Through Him, to accept Him as their Saviour and to serve Him as their Lord in the fellowship of His Church; through Jesus Christ Our Lord. Amen.

"Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord, to Thee." She once wrote to a friend: "It does seem wonderful that God should so use and bless my hymns; and yet it really does seem as if the seal of His own blessing were set upon them, for so many testimonies have reached me. Writing is praying with me, for I never seem to write a verse by myself. I always feel like a child writing. You know, a child looks up at each sentence and says, 'What shall I say next?' That is just what I do: I ask that at every line He may give me not merely thought and power but also every word, even the rhymes themselves. Very often I have a most distinct and happy consciousness of direct answers."

WE'RE SELDOM SATISFIED

— When Winter time is with us
 We yearn then for the Spring,
 When Summer time possesses
 We wish sleighbells would ring.
 When days are hot and sultry
 We wish that they were cold,
 When we are young and buoyant
 We long then to be old.
 When we grow old and fretful
 We'd like then to be young;
 — We're very funny creatures
 The way we're geared, or strung.
 We wish we had cool and cloudy
 If days be cool and sunny,
 We want the sun to shine,
 If sun's too hot or brilliant
 We're sorry it's so fine.
 If we have soup for dinner
 Some wish that it was hash,
 If we grow low on stuff called "dough"
 We wish we had some cash.
 Should we be thin and lanky
 We wish we had some fat,
 If we grow wide and weighty
 We've got too much of that.
 When rooms are rather shady
 We wish they were well lit;
 — Sometimes I think we all enjoy
 The chance to grouch a bit.
 When we're dealt a hand of cards
 We wish we held more aces,
 If we spot a slouchy guy
 We wish he had more graces.
 Should our alarm clock ring at six
 We wish it were but four,
 If it goes off at half-past-eight
 We've lost an hour or more!
 Should we be born a sweet brunette
 A blonde we crave to be,
 And if our hair inclines to curl
 We'd like it straight, By Gee!
 If we grow up attractive
 We hope to "make a hit";
 If life perchance should treat us rough
 We'd like to up and quit,
 — Should we locate a chap who can
 Chart out our course on earth,
 So perfect we shall not complain
 He'll really prove his worth.

NHL Players Shoot For Gold As Well As Goals With $132,500 At Stake; Cup Winners Get $81,000

MONTREAL — (CP) — The boys around the National Hockey League circuit these days are shooting for gold as well as goals — $132,500 worth of it.

The first rich lode is $51,500. Some of the claims have already been more or less staked out but the rush is still on. The successful claimstakers won't be known until the regular season ends March 18. A few won't know until a bit later.

Heavier pay dirt comes with the Stanley Cup playoffs, an $81,000 strike.

The regular-season awards break down into these categories: standings of the clubs, individual awards and selections for the all-star teams.

Montreal Canadiens look like proverbial cinch to finish in first place. To the first-place club goes $18,000—18 units of $1,000 each. Distribution is up to the team members—as to whether more than 18 or fewer will share in the pot and how much—but it usually works out to close to $1,000 each. The usual distribution is at least 18.

On the same basis, $9,000 in 18 units will go to the team finishing second—roughly $500 for each player. At the moment the second-place spot is a dog-fight between Detroit Red Wings and New York Rangers.

The third-place team is allotted $6,300 in 18 units, about $350 for each player, and the fourth-place team $2,700, or around $150 for each man.

Fourth place is the last spot leading to the post-season Stanley Cup series. Currently it is a wide open battle among Toronto Maple Leafs, Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks.

There are six individual trophies up for claimants, along with $1,000 that goes with each.

They are Art Ross Trophy to the player with the highest number of scoring points; the Calder

Memorial Trophy for the player adjudged the rookie of the year; the Vezina Trophy for the goalie who has played the most games for the team least scored on; the James Norris Memorial Trophy for the player adjudged the best defenceman; the Lady Byng Trophy for the player adjudged the best in conduct and ability; and the Hart Trophy to the player adjudged most valuable to his team.

Those chosen for the first all-star team get $1,000 each and those for the second team $500, making a total pot of $9,000.

For the Stanley Cup playoffs the unit distribution of prize money is followed, as for the final placings in regular-season play. Each player of the winning team in each semi-final will receive about $1,000; the losers about $500.

The same amounts go to the winners and losers in the final series.

"Here we have the police knocking on doors and taking men away," he told the south-east regional convention of the NAACP. "Here we have mass arrests. Here we have a grand jury delivering a general lecture on observance of the segregation line precisely like the Communists."

In New Orleans, the Catholic Action of the South, official newspaper of the archdiocese, declares in a front-page editorial that Catholic members of the Louisiana legislature who prepare bills to force segregation in private schools are subject to automatic excommunication if the laws are put into effect.

The editorial says that "the proposed laws in effect would be an entering wedge for the control of Catholic education by political leaders," since most of the private schools in the state are parochial.

Child Welfare Clinic — Mrs. G. Spafford Heads Organization

The annual meeting of the Child Welfare Clinic, sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi, was held at Elmwood Hotel on Monday, February 20, with the president, Mrs. Gerald Spafford, in the chair.

The president opened the meeting by welcoming the guests, the advisory board and the members of Beta Sigma Phi.

The minutes of the last meeting were read followed by the treasurer's report, given by Miss Mildred Pollock.

The annual report of the Child Welfare Clinic, given by Mrs. L. Curtis, stated that the clinic is continuing to supply milk and vitamin D capsules to the needy children of the four elementary schools in Sherbrooke for the five winter months. Letters outlining the clinic's work were sent to all service clubs, schools and the clergy in Sherbrooke and surrounding districts in an effort to have all needy children attend the clinic, held in the Sherbrooke Hospital the first Thursday of each month, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. The C.N.I.B. looks after all the optical cases and the clinic continues to use the facilities of the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Donations were voted by the executive of the Child Welfare Clinic to the C.N.I.B. and the Sherbrooke Hospital. The Child Welfare Clinic gratefully acknowledged a legacy from the estate of Mrs. Annetta Allen, as well as generous contributions from the Catholic Women's League, the Junior Red Cross and the Beta Sigma Phi. The Child Welfare Clinic gratefully expressed thanks to Dr. S. Marcus and Dr. T. A. Cadman and Dentists H. T. Southwood, J. E. Hibbard, N. F. Dinning, H. J. McLeod, C. Delaney and M. Salvas, without whose voluntary services the clinic could not function.

The officers for the coming year are as follows: Advisory board, Mrs. Andrew Sangster, Mrs. F. S. Rugg, Mrs. G. McClintock, Mrs. R. B. Miess; president, Mrs. G. Spafford; first vice-president, Mrs. R. Blackmore; second vice-president, Mrs. W. P. Charlebois; secretary, Mrs. L. Curtis; treasurer, Miss Mildred Pollock; board members, Mrs. Stewart Hansford, Mrs. P. Beaudry and Mrs. M. Bradshaw.
Miss L. Germain, V.O.N. nurse-in-charge, reported that 197 children attended the clinic during the year receiving treatment which includes free medical examination and treatment, tonsillectomy, hospitalization, X-ray, eyeglasses, drugs, immunization and dental care.

The dental report was presented by Mrs. E. Porter as follows: Examinations, 117; prophylaxis, 51; fillings done in baby teeth, 60; permanent teeth, 299; baby teeth extracted, 21; temporary fillings, 14; miscellaneous treatments, i.e., X-rays and dressings, 17; root canal fillings, 5.
Mrs. Spafford thanked the Child Welfare Clinic executive and the members of Beta Sigma Phi for the help and support given during the past year.
Mrs. Spafford then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Nelson Lothrop, supply depot convenor of the Sherbrooke Welfare Agency. Mrs. Lothrop, whose topic was "Community Welfare," gave a very enlightening talk on the need of welfare work in Sherbrooke and illustrated this with several case histories showing the real need for immediate help and rehabilitation for these unfortunate people. She emphasized that help not only gave them new hope, but raised the standard in the community.
Mrs. Lothrop gave a special vote of thanks to Dr. Ronald Bayne and Mr. Tom Keeley. She stressed that health hygiene classes would be of great benefit.

In closing, Mrs. Lothrop said: "Let us hope that at least the generation of youth from these homes may have a happier present and a future wherein they may walk with confidence due to the help that yours and ours and other organizations may give them."
Thanks were expressed to the speaker by Mrs. R. B. Miess.

A joint meeting of the Quebec Epsilon and Beta Chapters, Beta Sigma Phi, took place Monday evening, February 20, at Elmwood Hotel, Lennoxville.
Miss Mildred Pollock, president of the Xi Beta Chapter, was in the chair for the business meeting, when the treasurer gave a report of the Limetwigs concert.
Miss Pollock called on Mrs. Sydney Hart, Fashion show convenor, to report of plans for the forthcoming show, and the matter was fully discussed. It was decided that the music will be furnished by Mr. Jack Lenaghan, and the make-up will be in the hand of Miss Madeleine Beaudry and Mrs. Lee Audet.
The members were later joined by the advisory board of the Child Welfare Clinic, when the annual meeting of the clinic was held.
It was announced that the next meeting will take place at Elmwood Hotel, Monday, February 27.
At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Painted Surfaces Not Fire Hazards

In spite of our "scientific age", it's amazing how many old wives' tales still persist. For instance, there's the one about painted surfaces being special fire hazards.
Actually, dried paint, instead of tending to spread flame, effectively retards it! In the early stages of a fire ordinary paints, particularly semi-gloss ones, slow down the blaze.
You can check this the next time you are around a bonfire. Throw on painted and unpainted boards and just watch which catches fire and is burned up first!

No Ban On Home Owning For Single Career Women

By RUTH MILLETT
She is past 40 and has about given up hope that she will ever marry.

She has a good job, a car, plenty of friends. But she is sick and tired of living in a cramped little furnished apartment and says, "The worst part about not being married is not having a real home of your own."

That's about as old-fashioned a notion as an up-and-coming career woman could possibly hold.

Couples aren't the only ones these days who are building and buying their dream houses.

Single women are discovering that if the dream of a home is important enough it can become a reality.

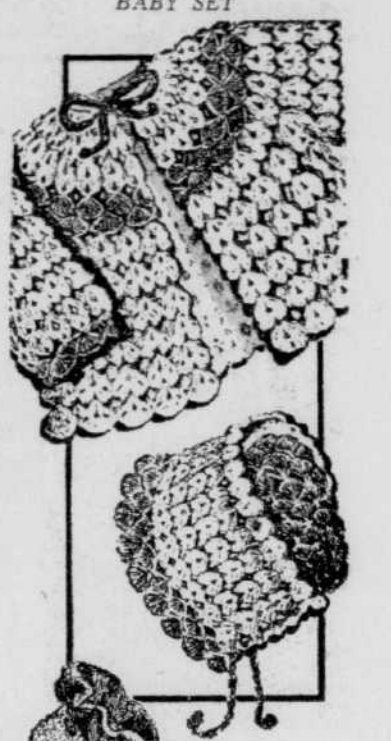

With the money many single women spend on expensive clothes, travel and generally escaping from rented rooms and apartments, these women are investing in homes of their own.

Just like young couples who skip in many ways in order to be homeowners, these working women are finding out that by putting the need for a home first they are able to manage to get one.

They, also, are finding all kinds of satisfactions from home ownership. They get a feeling of being more a part of their community, a new companionship with neighbors, the joy of "fixing up a home" and working in a yard, the feeling of security that comes from at last "being put."

Though this is happening all over the country, apparently the real estate people are but dimly aware of it. For no matter how many real estate advertisements you read you never come across one that says, "This would make an ideal home for a career woman."

Maturity

Not Every Style Suits

By ALICIA HART
What with this spring's enormous crop of more enormous hats, hat bars are about ready to crumple under the weight. Women who like hats will have fun shopping for an Easter bonnet. Women who are so-so about hats will at least have a large selection to poke among.

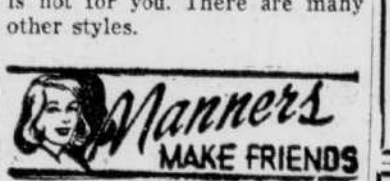

Mature women have a legitimate question when they ask: are they for me? Certainly a woman who's never been closer to an executive position than casting her vote at the P.-T. can feel cowed by a toque, swathed in a mile of veil.

Many mature women who have discovered that their most flattering hair style is short, up and off the face, need a small hat to sit flat among the curls. The inverted pie plate may not be their dish at all.

Certainly, take a try at the new styles. Many larger women may find something just to their liking among the more imposing hats offered this spring.

But if they honestly make you feel silly, don't feel your beauty will rise or fall on whether you appear in the very latest mode in the Easter parade. Ask the salesperson if she can find something more in the line of — well, that hat you loved so much. She probably can.

Don't despair if the dishpan is not for you. There are many other styles.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

A man removes his hat when he stops to talk to a woman. And he certainly should never talk to a woman with a cigaret dangling from his mouth. If he intends to talk for more than a minute to a woman he meets on a city street, he walks along with her, instead of detaining her.
That is, a man does these things if he is a gentleman.

Material, Labor Lack May Cut Expansion

OTTAWA — (CP) — Canada is aiming for a record year in capital investment and construction, but obstacles are looming in the form of material and labor shortages.

That is the forecast for 1956 contained in an annual report issued Thursday by Trade Minister Howe.

The report said Canadian businesses, institutions, governments and householders plan to spend a record of $7,529,000,000 this year on construction, machinery and equipment.

However, Mr. Howe said in a statement accompanying the report that the forecast expansion may be physically unattainable.

The report, based on a survey at the end of 1955, predicted short supplies of steel, cement, other materials and labor. There might also be difficulty in obtaining higher than the $6,230,000,000 spent last year.

The report viewed the planned heavy investment program as an indication of business optimism over the economy's future.
