55-year-old bridge buckles under truck

ROCK ISLAND — (Special) — The 55-year-old Kathan bridge in Rock Island almost collapsed over the week-end when a huge transport truck, carrying two hay bales hit the cross bar of the bridge and caused the floor of the bridge to sink about two feet.

The hay bales on the transport, which is owned by Emslie Bros. of Beebe, hit the cross bar because they were too high for the bridge clearance, police said.

Picture at left, shows the transport and the crossbar that the two bales hit. In the top picture, the cracked frame under the bridge floor can be seen.

When the bales hit the crossbar, the left floor frame of the bridge broke almost causing the bridge to collapse, police said this morning.

E. W. Gagne, secretary of Rock Island said this morning that an engineer from the Quebec Department of Public Works is expected either today or tomorrow to see what must be done to the bridge.

"We could possibly get a new bridge because we have already asked for one," said Mr. Gagne. Last year a letter was sent to Quebec by the town of Rock Island asking that a new bridge be built to replace the old one.

The bridge, which is situated on Centre Street, about 200 yards from the Canadian customs headquarters, was built in 1906.

US to step up Cuba freeze

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States plans to step up its diplomatic offensive against Cuba while attempting to choke off the flow of U.S. dollars to Premier Fidel Castro's regime. One result may be a widening Canada-U.S. split on Cuban policy.

A U.S. trade freeze, which President Kennedy announced Saturday, goes into operation Wednesday, designed to reduce Castro's financial ability to export revolution in the Western hemisphere.

But its main effect may be to reduce Cuban trade with Canada and other Western countries.

Cuba has been using some of her U.S. dollar earnings to increase purchases from Canada. This source of earnings, largely through the sale of tobacco, will be dried up under the extended U.S. embargo, forbidding imports not only of tobacco but all other Cuban products.

Sales to Cuba were banned in Latin America by raising living standards.

While Kennedy is trying to do something along these lines in the U.S. Alliance for Progress economic aid program, the Cuban issue has become charged with emotion in the U.S. and has refused to go along, with the exception of arms and other strategic goods. Canadian Ambassador Arnold Heeney noted, in a statement of review issued after the Kennedy announcement, that the Canadian government plans no change in policy.

Canada believes in reducing the impact of Communist propaganda in Latin America by raising living standards.

Some U.S. legislators are urging Kennedy to follow up the trade embargo with tougher steps.

U.S. diplomatic manoeuvres now will be turned to the 21-country Organization of American States. The organization, main body of inter-American affairs, meets Wednesday to implement the majority decision of the recent Punta del Este, Uruguay, conference to oust Cuba from the various OAS bodies. The U.S. is demanding speedy action in the face of hesitancy by some of the big Latin American countries, such as Brazil, Mexico and Argentina, to go along with U.S. wishes.

PARIS (AP) — Bristling with security forces, France and Algeria waited tensely for President de Gaulle's report tonight over radio and television on his progress toward ending the seven-year rebellion in the North African territory.

Montreal SPCA buys veteran steeds

Former owner gets police horse; to be retired to area farm

Duffy, a 14-year-old service-wear horse who has seen his last day as a police horse for the Montreal Police force will return to Sherbrooke next weekend to a district farm.

He will spend the remainder of his days in green pastures and in a private stable.

Duffy was saved from a bitter end Saturday by his former owner Mrs. Frank S. Gravel of Sherbrooke and by the Montreal S.P.C.A. general manager, William Dunlop.

Duffy, and four other veteran Montreal police horses, all too old for further service, were led to the auction block in Montreal Saturday to be sold to the highest bidder.

"I didn't want Duffy to spend his last days pulling heavy loads for some farmer or being ridden weary all day by youngsters," Mrs. Gravel told the Record Sunday just after she returned from the auction in Montreal.

The old horses are usually sold to riding academies which rent horses to what Mr. Dunlop described as "drug store cowboys" or farmers who often put them to work for which they are not physically fitted.

Duffy was born on the Gravel farm in East Sherbrooke and was sold at the age of five to a Montreal man. Duffy entered the police service in 1954.

Duffy, 14, Teddy, 12, Valmore, 13, and Princess, 9, went to the auction block amidst a storm of public protest from Montreal citizens who criticized the way the city disposed of the horses.

The plight of the horses was brought to the attention of the public and cheques, used by Mr. Dunlop to bid for the horses, arrived at the S.P.C.A. office.

Mr. Dunlop Saturday outbid all other bidders and the S.P.C.A. is now the owner of five retired police horses.

Mr. Dunlop paid $655 for Duffy.

He paid a total of $2,645

plus tax for all five horses.

"I went to the auction for Duffy but in accordance with a previous plan with Mr. Dunlop, I didn't bid. Mr. Dunlop said I could have Duffy because he knew he would have a good home," Mrs. Gravel said.

"Mr. Dunlop didn't mention a price for Duffy, but I most certainly will make a contribution to the S.P.C.A.," she said.

"Mr. Dunlop said money wasn't important. All he wanted to do was see that the five horses were placed on good farms where they would get fine treatment and not be overworked," Mrs. Gravel added.

The four other horses will still belong to the S.P.C.A.

"All I can say is that I'm happy to have Duffy back," she said. "He's mine now and he's got a good home until the last."

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal branch of the Canadian Postal Employees Association is seeking Saturday closing of all postal stations in Canada, National Vice-president W. L. Houle announced Sunday. Postal stations now are open four hours Saturday mornings.

Fierce gales braved

ZERMATT, Switzerland (AP) — Braving gales, two young Swiss mountaineers conquered the icy north face of the Matterhorn in their first ascent of "the tall killer."

They won the race Sunday to the summit of the 14,328-foot peak against five Austrian and German climbers who were swallowed up by storm-swept clouds and still were unreported today.

The two Swiss — Hilti von Almen, 27, and Paul Etter, 23 — reached the top after a two-day climb.

Even though the Matterhorn's north face has been climbed approximately 20 times in the summer, the ice-slicked, almost vertical front has beaten back all previous attempts to scale it in the winter.

Storms rage frequently around the treacherous peak and there are no real halting places or havens. Last year four parties of climbers roped together tried and failed.

The two Swiss forged out front on the second day in a race against a storm blowing up, switching their course to the more windproof cracks in the western part of the wall.

Austrians Leo Schloemer and Erich Krempke, climbing as partners, and Germans Peter Siegfert, Rainer Kauschke and Werner Bittner, chose to try the more direct route toward the east.

The prince, husband of the Queen, leaves London Tuesday for a seven-week journey through 11 countries. His program is crowded with official and social events.

During his visit to Peru, from Feb. 26 to 28, he will see the famous Machu Picchu ruins near Cuzco, the old capital of the Incas which lies in the Andes Mountains nearly 12,000 feet above sea level. He will also be taken to the remains of the temples of the sun and moon at Chan Chan.

The prince will leave London Airport Tuesday to fly to Georgetown, British Guiana, arriving Wednesday morning.

TO VISIT MINE

In British Guiana he will visit the legislature and a bauxite mine. He will be in the British colony for three days.

Then he will fly to Venezuela, where his engagements include a trip to the birthplace of Simon Bolivar, the liberator. In Colombia he is to see the gold museum and the emerald collection of the National Bank at Bogota.

Murder charge

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police Saturday charged an accountant with capital murder in the death of his 26-year-old wife, stabbed fatally in her west end apartment in the presence of their five-year-old daughter. Police said Mrs. Pauline Brown died in hospital five hours after she was stabbed in the back and shoulder with two knives Friday night. Charged is John Brown, 32.

But commodity trade balance estimated

Record-breaking imports during November slow drive towards a 1961 trade surplus

OTTAWA (CP) — Record-breaking imports last November slowed Canada's drive towards a trade surplus last year.

Imports in the month outpaced exports for a $38,600,000 trade deficit, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. A trade surplus, accumulated in the first 10 months of the year, was trimmed to $27,000,000.

Government spokesmen have estimated that the year ended with a commodity trade surplus. However, final official figures won't be available for another month.

Exports in November totalled $540,200,000, an increase of 13.6

per cent from the year-earlier level of $475,700,000. There was a big gain of nearly 20 per cent in sales to the United States.

But the record high of $576,800,000 in November imports—up 12.3 per cent from a year earlier—produced the month's deficit.

EXPORTS GREATER

Exports for the first 11 months of 1961 rose eight per cent to $5,350,400,000 from $4,933,800,000 in the corresponding period of 1960. Imports during January - November were 5.2 per cent higher at $5,323,400,000 compared with $5,062,200,000.

The 11-month trade surplus of $27,000,000 compared with a $108,400,000 deficit in the like period of 1960.

The bureau said part of the increased export and import values reflects the reduced foreign exchange value of the Canadian dollar. This reduction has resulted in a higher price—in Canadian dollar terms—for imports and a larger Canadian dollar return for exports sold for U.S. dollars and other foreign currency.

The report also indicated the November trade deficit was due in part to heavy RCAF purchases of planes. Some $16,000,000 worth of aircraft were imported from the United States.

Detailed trade figures for the January - November periods of 1961 and 1960, in millions of dollars:

Exports	$5,350.4	$4,933.8
Imports	$5,323.4	$5,062.2
Trade balance	$27.0	-$108.4

The 1.8 inches of snow which fell on this area on Saturday added to the ideal weather conditions and sent Eastern Townships skiers scurrying to the slopes.

Unfortunately, today is forecast as the last day of the current warm spell as cold air is supposed to move into this area tonight bringing a return of below zero temperatures.

Prisoners caught

COOKSVILLE, Ont. (CP) — Three escaped prisoners were recaptured Saturday night after a wild car chase during which police fired three shots. The men had escaped Monday from the minimum-security Joyceville institution near Kingston. The chase began after a stolen car was spotted in Toronto Township.

Remanded on murder charge

MONCTON (CP)—A Halifax native absent without leave from Camp Gagetown, N.B., was remanded Saturday night Feb. 9 on a capital murder charge in the fatal stabbing more than a week ago of 23-year-old Arthur Casey of Port Felix, N.S.

Soldier Herbert George Harris, 33, heard the charge before Deputy Magistrate P. C. Brian of Moncton. He was picked up Jan. 29 in Saint John, N.B., on another matter. Police declined to say what it was.

Casey was driving from Port Felix to Saint John Jan. 28 when he was apparently robbed, stabbed and abandoned in a ditch near Petitcodiac, about 35 miles from here. His body was identified Wednesday.

World remains intact

Doomsday weekend uneventful

NEW DELHI (AP) — Serpent Rahu had his fun but the world—beset as it may be with earthly troubles—remained intact today.

"Doomsday Weekend" passed without the horrible calamities predicted by Hindu soothsayers that sent millions of frightened Indian and Nepalese believers to prayer meetings.

The evil Rahu "swallowed the sun" as predicted today. But things came back to normal after an eclipse lasting about three minutes.

Hindu astrologers had predicted great calamities when six planets—Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Earth—moved into conjunction with each other and the sun and the moon during the weekend, something that happens only every century or two.

For astronomers it was an intriguing scientific phenomenon. But for millions who believe in the influence of the stars it was frightening. And some feared the worst may still come.

PRAYS ON MOUNTAIN

Keith Robertson, director of Britain's 1,000-member Aether Society, spent a cold and rainy night with scores of his followers atop a mountain praying and came down to warn: "I believe that very soon the world will do a 'big flip' when the poles will change places with the equator. And mind you when the 'big flip' comes, 75 per cent of the world's population will be killed."

The path of the eclipse lay over the South Pacific. "It was so dark I could not see the numbers on my camera," said Jim Huxley, editor of the New Guinea Times.

Dogs barked, roosters crowed and native Papuans on the island hid in their huts until the sun shone again.

NO CATASTROPHES

There were no reports of the catastrophes astrologers had predicted. Rahu, the evil snake of Indian legend, would leave in his wake—catastrophes ranging from devastating earthquakes to the end of the world.

Diplomatic reports said the South Kasai troops seized the UN plane and crew at Bibanga Jan. 26, warning them that the Balubas considered the UN a hostile force.

The U.S. embassy in Leopoldville sent a political officer to Lubumbashi and the Kasai area Sunday to investigate the situation.

The American mission families were flown out of Lubumbashi last week in their own mission plane as a precautionary measure in case a UN South Kasai conflict should break out.

Before the arrival of the UN plane, their own private plane was seized by the South Kasai troops on suspicion that they were transporting messages and personnel loyal to the Lulua tribe—traditional enemies of the Balubas.

Without their plane, the missionaries were cut off, the diplomats report said.

Congolese troops cause tension

Kasai province mission evacuated

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—Thirteen American missionary women and children have been evacuated from the Presbyterian mission at Bibanga in South Kasai province, scene of new military tensions caused by subordinate Congolese troops, consular officials announced today.

The missionaries were flown out last week after a United Nations rescue plane was seized and its crew held for three hours by Baluba tribal rendarmes loyal to their native chief, Albert Kalonji, now under arrest by the Leopoldville central government.

Husbands of three of the women remained at the mission. The UN said a letter insisting on UN freedom of movement in the troubled area had been sent to the Kasai provincial authorities and had been favorably received. But it was not clear how much effective control the provincial government would have over South Kasai, which once was a UN-recognized autonomous state.

Diplomatic reports said the South Kasai troops seized the UN plane and crew at Bibanga Jan. 26, warning them that the Balubas considered the UN a hostile force.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The motion picture academy's plea for a safe and sane Oscar race appears to have paid off.

Last year's race was a debacle of campaigning that left Hollywood appalled at the exploitation of what was designed as the industry's highest honor. The academy issued a statement recently asking for possible nominees to use good taste in plugging themselves.

The 1962 campaign is in full swing with the usual flood of trade paper ads on behalf of the hopefuls, but most of them use the soft sell. Academy voters are offered free seats at showings of outstanding films. But all is being done decorously.

The only controversy is caused by the academy itself—in its interpretation of the supporting category for Splendor in the Grass, when nearly everyone realizes he played a starring role. The obvious reason for the switch is that Beatty would have a better chance in the support race.

And Judy Garland and Montgomery Clift are allowed to run for support in Judgment at Nuremberg, though both drew star billing.

HAVE PROBLEM

The campaigners with the biggest headache this year are the multiple brothers Mirisch. They have three, possibly four, films that they consider strong contenders. How to campaign for each of them and still keep all the principals happy is a king-sized chore.

Here are the Mirisch targets for nominations:
West Side Story — best picture; directors: Robert Wise, Jerome Robbins; actress: Natalie Wood; support: Rita Moreno, George Chakiris; writer: Ernest Lehmann.

One, Two, Three — best picture; director: Billy Wilder; screen play: Wilder, I. A. L. Diamond; Actor: James Cagney.

Children's Hour—best picture; director: William Wyler; actress: Audrey Hepburn, Shirley Maclaine; support: Fay Bainter.

The Mirisches are also plugging Kirk Douglas for best actor in Town Without Pity.

Both estimated the company would pay out $10,000 to $12,000 for the campaign.

KATHY

Dear Kathy: I know a boy who went away to college. I don't think he has my address, because he hasn't written to me yet. I was wondering if it is all right to write to him first.

He isn't a steady boy friend, but he is more than a casual friend. — E. P.

Dear E. P.: Shop for a friendship card that would be especially amusing to him, and include a brief note.

At least you'll be sure he has the address. After that, it's up to the boy. Let him take it from there.

Boys aren't always rabid correspondents. He might be surprised to realize you expected a letter.

Children with high fever

Brucellosis may cause unapparent infection

Children who have fevers because of unapparent infections may have come into contact with brucellosis, a disease which seems to be common in this area, Dr. R. Kimoff, department of pediatrics, of the Sherbrooke hospital, said Saturday.

Brucellosis is an infectious disease of cattle. It is caused by bacteria which also affects the horse, mule, rabbit, guinea pig, and some other animals.

Two other species of brucella cause the disease in swine and in sheep. Any of these three species can cause undulant (Malta) fever in humans.

Undulant fever is a long-persisting bacterial disease characterized by high fever. The disease is contracted from cattle, swine and goats and is transmitted especially through milk.

Dr. Kimoff was lecturing some 50 doctors who gathered at the Sherbrooke hospital for Clinical Day, presented under the auspices of the St. Francis Valley Chapter of the College of General Practice and the Canadian Medical Association, Quebec division.

Dr. Kimoff, lecturing on why children often have fevers due to unapparent infections, said brucellosis should be considered here because the disease seems to be endemic in this area.

Brucellosis infection occurs most commonly through the intake of food or water containing the germs, he explained.

"Any child of recurring fever and general symptoms of fatigue, etc., should be carefully questioned regarding drinking of raw milk or possible exposure to diseased livestock," the doctor said.

Fever, the doctor continued, as a symptom, is very frequently a reason for professional consultation between the patient and his physician.

Many cases of high temperature are readily apparent early in the physical examination. The doctor can also discover the cause of a fever by inquiring into his patient's medical history he noted.

"It's a relief on the part of the doctor to look into a throat and see two large swollen tonsils or hear a child with a deep moist cough, for this is where the doctor ends his quest for the source of the fever," Dr. Kimoff said.

There are occasions when the doctor must probe more deeply before the cause of fever becomes apparent. "In many cases the cause of fever at first glance may not be readily apparent," Dr. Kimoff said, "and fevers due to unapparent infections in the child become a parental concern and a doctor's problem."

What conditions will the doctor look for then? "Sinusitis is a very frequent cause of fever of varying intensity in children," Dr. Kimoff said. A doctor always thinks of sinusitis in the older child who is continually coughing or has repeated chest colds when the other members of the family are completely well," he added.

A second condition which is not seen nearly as frequently, but does occur is mastoiditis. While considering the head and neck the doctor might also consider meningitis in general.

"Of interest currently is the viral or I.H. hepatitis. After an incubation period of anywhere from 4 to 40 days the prodromal warning stage begins," he said.

"We are all familiar with the nausea and vomiting which begins 4 days before the appearance of the jaundice. The fever drops before the jaundice appears," he said.

Pylitis, infectious mononucleosis or glandular fever which occurs in spring and fall; rheumatic fever, rheumatoid arthritis, nephrosis, as well as tuberculosis are some of the conditions that a doctor will look for when he is faced with a patient with a fever whose cause is not readily apparent.

The morning clinical session was chaired by Dr. M. T. Brodeur, president of the St. Francis Valley Chapter of the College of General Practice.

Dr. G. B. Loomis, surgeon at the Sherbrooke Hospital, Dr. Kimoff, Dr. B. Longpre, physician at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, were morning speakers.

A panel discussion on chest disease was held. Taking part in the discussion were Dr. T. J. Quintin, physician, Sherbrooke Hospital; Dr. P. T. MacKlem, respiratory unit, Royal Victoria Hospital; Dr. H. A. McDougall, department of anaesthesia, Sherbrooke Hospital; Dr. R. Paulte, department of surgery, Sherbrooke Hospital.

The afternoon session was chaired by Dr. J. Murray, department of general practice, Sherbrooke Hospital.

Dr. Roland Knox from the College of General Practice opened the session. Dr. Gordon Young, department of gastroenterology, Montreal General Hospital; Dr. M. W. Hicks, department of urology, Sherbrooke Hospital and Dr. Maurice Comeau, U.S. Institute Lavoisier were guest speakers.

Two seats are opened in Cookshire. Contesting seat No. 3 are Cecil Gilbert and Leopold Carrier. Alderman Patrick Cassidy is being opposed by J. L. McKay for seat No. 4.

Sawyerville hold-up

Car and part of loot recovered by police

The Sherbrooke detachment of the Quebec Provincial Police has found the car used and some of the money taken in Friday night's $4,000 Sawyerville bank hold-up.

The car, which police believe to have been stolen in Montreal, was found on a side road near Bulwer, a small municipality about six miles from Sawyerville.

Provincial Police said this morning that they believe a second car was used by the bandits to make good their escape.

A Bulwer farmer noticed the car on the side road, Saturday noon, some twenty hours after the robbery had taken place.

Constables Paul Berube and Gilles Dube of the Cookshire detachment of the Provincial Police immediately investigated. They reported the find to Raymond Bellemare, sergeant in charge of the detachment.

Sergeant Bellemare ordered an inspection of the car and nearly $400 of the stolen money was found in the car. Police said that the bandits probably forgot or dropped the money.

Police are now searching the car for finger prints or any other details that might lead them to the whereabouts of the hold-up men.

Investigations and road blocks by the police, both Friday night and Saturday morning failed to locate the hold-up artists.

Sgt. Bellemare said this morning that road blocks were set up on all roads leading out of Sawyerville about an hour after the robbery happened. He said that he thought that the police were too late with their road-block try.

The hold-up occurred Friday night when three armed and masked men entered the Bank of Montreal in Sawyerville a few minutes before the eight o'clock closing time.

After ordering the cashier at gun-point, to empty her till, they escaped with close to $4,000.

Police said this morning that although a good deal of money was taken, the hold-up men were followed by the cashier. The driver next to the one that was emptied by the men contained some $7,000. They left without the money.

Investigation is now being conducted by Sergeant Raymond Bellemare and his men of the Cookshire detachment of the Provincial Police.

Did you notice?

January was warmer this year

In case you didn't notice it, January was warmer this year than in 1961.

The Lennoxville Experimental Farm reports show that the average temperature for the month was 11: 38 degrees.

Last year's average was 5.07 degrees. The highest temperature of the month this year was recorded on January 15 when the temperature soared to a balmy 47 degrees. Quite a contrast to the 23 below zero temperature that was recorded on the fifth day of the month.

The fact that more sunshine was recorded for this January than last probably contributed to the warmer weather. There were 110.7 hours of sunshine for the past month. This was a far cry from the record of 139 hours set in 1920 but still higher than last January when the sun shone for 108.9 hours.

More rain and less snow fell this year than last, 73 inches of rain fell this January as compared to .66 for last year. There were 12.4 inches of snow which is about 4 inches less than last year when 16.6 inches were recorded.

The total precipitation for the month of January this year was 1.83 inches as compared to 2.14 inches last year.

The total snowfall for the winter of 1961 up to the end of January, was 54.2 inches as compared for 59 inches for the winter of 1960.

He became a member of the Quebec Bar in 1949 and later joined the St. Francis Bar Association and the International Accountants Society.

Mr. Caron was employed by the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Company as manager of the industrial relations from 1951 to 1961.

He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, a board director of the organization in 1959 and second vice-president in 1960, and 1st vice-president in 1961.

Mr. Caron was an executive director of the Kiwanis Club at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lola Giasson, four brothers, Leo Paul, of Val d'Or, George of Montreal, Bernard, of Noranda, and three sisters, Marguerite (Mrs. Robert Duchesne) of Noranda, Lucienne, of Sudbury, Ont., and Leonie (Mrs. Jean Paul Corriveau) of St. Pierre, Quebec.

Mr. Caron will be buried at the Lachine cemetery in the family plot.

Towards stable leadership in Congo

Congolese Prime Minister Cyrille Adoula is in the United States thumping the drums for UN and American support and aid for a unified Congo.

In his first visit to this hemisphere, Mr. Adoula is attempting to establish his prestige as a stable national leader; as a man to be regarded in complete contrast to the flamboyant, and ill-fated Patrice Lumumba, to surly, Red-leaning Antoine Gizenga and to that colorful, arch-individualist Moise Tshombe of Katanga province.

To a very large extent, Mr. Adoula is achieving this goal. His handling of the Gizenga threat and of Tshombe following the UN victory in Katanga were some of the more hopeful developments in The Congo over the past few months.

How great Adoula's support is in The Congo itself, however, is difficult to gauge. While there is a heartening measure of coherence in the area today, it is obvious that no single man or group can claim to have anything that amounts to real control over more than a small part of The Congo. The missionary massacre a few weeks ago is one proof of this. Another is the position of Col. Joseph Mobutu, head of the Congolese armed forces.

His position has improved somewhat in that his authority over the troops at his disposal seems to be much firmer than it was not so long ago.

But a large portion of what is called the Congolese army, ostensibly Mobutu's forces, still has the character of a barbaric, armed mob, following the whims of outlaw subordinates or the mob's own impulses.

Under these circumstances, Tshombe still looms large as a strong figure. Except for the UN campaign, Katanga — alone of the Congo provinces — has remained a viable entity, carrying on its affairs with remarkably little disruption.

The real measure of Mr. Adoula's stature as prime minister of The Congo lies in the future.

At the UN General Assembly Friday, he outlined the plans of his Leopoldville government for economic rehabilitation of The Congo and re-organization of the country's army to ensure its internal security.

There can be no doubt that these two considerations are the key to a lasting solution for The Congo. Mr. Adoula's position as a stable leader will be dependent on how well and how rapidly he can implement them.

A man was arrested for having one opened bottle of liquor in his car, and the judge made a case of it.

A very "distinctive" Canadian flag

Lester Pearson has dusted off the distinctive-flag-for-Canada issue to fly as a banner from the Liberal Party's platform during the federal election campaign.

And he has shown considerable ingenuity in his approach to this touchy question.

The Liberal chieftain proposes that an original Canadian flag design be approved by Parliament.

However, in the same breath—Mr. Pearson knows in what basket his political eggs lie—he suggests that the Union Jack be used on occasions relating to Canada's participation in the Commonwealth and in connection with the British Crown.

No doubt, Mr. Pearson has not fully explored the vote-getting possibilities of his proposal. If he were to link it with other timely issues, his campaign arsenal would be formidable indeed.

For instance, it is highly probable that at one point during the campaign,

It's par for the course when an auto repair shop has one mechanic and a dozen accountants.

No choice is left for Cuban trade

Unable to get the recent meeting of the OAS in Punta del Este to agree to impose harsh economic sanctions on Cuba, the United States has embarked on a unilateral sanctions program of its own.

President Kennedy Saturday ordered a total embargo on U.S. trade with Cuba, effective Wednesday. Exports of certain foods and drugs only will be allowed on "humanitarian" grounds.

One of the factors behind the embargo is that fact that Cuba uses the dollars it earns in trade with the United States to buy strategic materials from Russian and Communist bloc powers, American sources say. They also report a vigorous military buildup in Cuba of Russian weapons and aircraft.

In view of this, the US move is hardly surprising, but it doubtful if it will be very effective.

Other papers say:

Torturous Twist in the party line

Word that the Twist has been introduced to the Soviet Union won't shake world communism any more than those new Russian-style fur hats will weaken the brainpower of the West. But it is interesting in that it indicates an avidity upon the part of the Soviets to learn anything they can about America. And we do mean anything.

Not that the Twist is inherently bad, of course. It probably falls under the broad heading of cultural exchange, and it may be significant that it was introduced to Russia by an opera singer, Miss Dorothy Kirsten. The Metropolitan star sang La Traviata in Tiflis to such effect that the audience cheered her wildly, but when she really wanted to give them something to remember her for she danced the Twist — after, rather than during, the opera, of course.

Will the party line be able to follow the convolutions of the Twist? Will Khrushchev make a try at it himself, as he has done so often after witnessing the exotic dances of the Far East? Will the whole thing be set down as merely another symptom of capitalism's decadence? Or will the claim be made that it's really a Russian invention? Whatever the answers to these questions may be, it's possible that things will never again be quite the same in Tiflis.

Will the party line be able to follow the convolutions of

The readers say

No Bounty, but how about kayaks?

Dear Sir:

With reference to your editorial "Canada can do without the Bounty," appearing in your edition of Wednesday, Jan. 31/62.

You are quite right, why should we run up our distinctive Canadian flag on something so utterly un-Canadian as the replica of an English ship, given us by the Americans, albeit she is a nice example of the traditional skills and occupations of our Maritimers.

After all, when it is 20 below, which it is as I write this, such a vessel frozen in Lake St. Peter, with our glorious icebreakers, might become a symbol of greener, warmer lands to the south and so spark most unpatriotic thoughts about the true north, so strong and free. No, let us sit, snug and separate, in our snow and have nothing to do with the Bounty. After all, the February migration to Miami, of all of who can afford it is bad enough for our balance of trade, don't let us start a trek to Tahiti.

Besides, undoubtedly, the Americans will sooner or later remake "Nanook of the North" and will no doubt afterwards be willing to bequeath us a couple of kayaks, which are compact and very economical craft.

Yours very truly,
ALEC C. BOOTH

At least a decade away

Four-day week used to be news; now it's more elusive than ever

By FRANK DREA

The dream of our four-day work week, which was making headlines only a year ago, appears to be more elusive than ever.

An analysis of the major labor agreements of the 1961 bargaining year, the ones that set the pattern of contracts in small industry, reveal that union demands for shorter work weeks never really got off the ground.

And the indications are that a major breakthrough on the four-day week issue is at least a decade away.

The only real breakthrough came in New York City where maintenance and construction electricians won a 25-hour week, five shorter than their previous work schedule. But these are highly skilled tradesmen operating under special circumstances in the New York area, and the advance is not regarded as a pattern.

In the recently completed basic steel and auto bargaining in Canada, the shorter work week was not an issue.

SOME ADVANCES

The United Auto Workers, concentrating on a flexible approach to job security, made advances in several contract provisions.

The modified form of the Guaranteed Annual Wage, the supplemental unemployment benefits, were extended over an entire year. Combined with unemployment insurance, SUB payments provide an unemployed worker with 65 per cent of take home pay.

The new auto agreements also protect workers on short term layoffs, a field not under the scope of SUB. For scheduled short work weeks (over-production), workers will receive 65 per cent of take home pay for all hours not worked up to 40. For non-scheduled short weeks (assembly line breakdowns etc.) they will receive 50 per cent.

The United Steelworkers concentrated on health insurance improvements in dealings with Steel Co. of Canada and Algoma Steel, the big two of Canadian steel.

Algoma workers will operate their own comprehensive prepaid plan and Stelco workers won increased benefits.

The United Electrical Workers, who made the shorter week a prime demand in bargaining with Canadian General Electric and Westinghouse, had long abandoned this proposal when settlement came.

The first major co-ordinated attempt by construction unions for a 35-hour week also fell by the wayside as the southern Ontario unions picked up a 15 cents an hour raise instead.

Yet in 1960, the need trade unions won toe-holds on shorter work weeks, the Ladies Garment Workers, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and the Fur Workers Union shortened the work week to 37½ hours during the time of current contracts.

STILL PRESSING

And there are still attempts by unions to win the 40-hour week. This was the big issue in the last round of wage talks for northern Ontario busworkers and inland sailors. The busworkers won a 44-hour week and the sailors are once again pressing for a 40-hour week.

One of the biggest barriers to the 32-hour week, at least psychologically, has been the persistent campaign by the Communist Party to make this a union demand. The leftists have made the 32-hour week goal seem almost disreputable.

However, many sincere unionists believe that the four-day week is the only cure to technological unemployment and are bitter at the Red attempt to try to take credit for something that will eventually come.

For all forecasters say that in the next generation, there will certainly be a shorter work week because new techniques and automated assembly lines will vastly increase production.

More leisure time would be needed before consumers would be able to absorb the production.

But in the United States, president John F. Kennedy has appealed to unions to forego a shorter work week at this time. He feels it could force U.S. prices up and hamper its present position in the world markets.

But president Kennedy appears to have a real fight on his hands for the United Steelworkers intend to press for shorter work time in this year's industry-wide bargaining in the United States steel industry.

It is interesting to note that in the industry hardest hit by changing times and techniques, the railways, both U.S. and Canadian unions are not pressing for shorter work weeks.

Instead they are pushing for guaranteed jobs that would level off the work force on the railways.

Thus it appears that the four-day week is destined to fall into the pattern set by the Transport Workers contract bargaining in New York City. The union demanded the 32-hour week, voted to strike for it, and then traded it for a wage increase and other concessions.

This was also the fate of the 40-hour week for almost a half century before almost overnight it became standard in most industries.

A BIT NAIVE?

(Halifax Chronicle-Herald) While the substitution of a "ringer" for the real McCoy is of ancient origin, particularly in the world of sports, two recent events have suggested that other fields have seen instances of this duplicity.

It has long been the practice along Broadway, for example, for theatre advertisements to quote the critics. The complaint that the quotations are often taken out of context to produce invariably favorable comment has not stopped the agile minds of the promoters from adding an even more dubious wrinkle to the habit.

Seven New York newspapers recently received advertisements containing laudatory quotations about a new musical production. The statements were made by men chosen from the telephone directory—men who bore names identical to those of the top theatre critics in the city.

Politics also has been sharp dealings of this sort. Quebec, not surprisingly, was the scene of the latest incident when the now Resources Minister Rene Levesque was opposed in the Montreal riding by a neophyte coincidentally named Rene Levesque.

All of which goes to prove the immortal Bard may have been a bit naive when he said:

"What's in a name? that which we call a rose

By any other name would smell as sweet."

(matter of fact)

Ever think of a jail sentence as being a humanitarian way to treat a prisoner? In the American colonial period workhouses or prisons were set up as a more humane way to handle convicts. It was much better to be sent to jail than to have to pay a heavy fine, and certainly better than corporal punishment.

Sound familiar? That's Lincoln's Gettysburg address translated into simplified phonetic spelling by an advocate of Canada's simplified spelling movement.

Followers of this campaign are awaiting a report on the subject at the Canadian Conference on Education in Montreal early in March.

A committee of experts under Prof. Christopher Dean, English professor at Queen's University, has been studying the mysteries of the 26-letter English language for two years.

Their job has been to find some way of changing sentences like this: "Tony, our chauffeur and Mary's beau, yeomanly towed our bags to the depot even though he had stubbed his toe."

Kyrl Evans, a Hamilton engineer who presented one of the first briefs to the CCE committee, has written a booklet outlining a new phonetic alphabet.

He claims that the use of his system might lop two years off primary schooling.

The Canadian committee insists it is not following George Bernard Shaw, who often advocated a new alphabet.

But here are types of phonetic alphabets being advocated in the U.S.

Statement issued by central board

STANSTEAD —Following is the test of a statement issued by C. J. Jeffreys, chairman of the Stanstead County Central School Board following a special meeting of the board Jan. 31:

"Concerning the resolution dated Jan. 22 of the Beebe-Rock Island-Stanstead Protestant School Board at their regular meeting held at Sunnyside High School recommending to the Protestant Central Board that Miss K. Harper, PhD be not re-engaged for the school year 1962-63 and requesting the submission of a name or names as her replacement;

The Protestant Central School Board wishes to make the following statement; following a special meeting of the Central Board held at Ayer's Cliff High School on Jan. 31:

1. The Protestant School Board of Stanstead County was created in 1948 in accordance with the Education Act of the Province of Quebec and is subject to the regulations of the Protestant Committee of the Stanstead County Central School Board following amendments thereto.

Its function and responsibilities are defined in the Education Act and stated under 'Duties of Central Boards' wherein it is specified that Central Boards have the authority conferred by the Education Act with respect to the appointment, payment and dismissal of teachers;

2. For the enlightenment of personnel, local school boards and teachers coming into this area, a manual was prepared by the Central Board dated Feb. 1960 wherein under engagement of personnel, it states:

"Local boards, at their January meeting, must study staff requirements for the following year, their recommendations to be forwarded to the Central Board. This consideration of the local boards was extended so that the Central Board could evaluate the requirements and opinions of local boards."

"The Beebe-Rock Island-Stanstead Protestant School Commission made their recommendation in the form of a resolution dated Jan. 22 in accordance with the Central Board manual, there being no such provision for recommendations under the Education Act covering central boards."

"At a special meeting of the Beebe-Rock Island-Stanstead Protestant School Board to which Mr. Rothney, education department inspector and C. J. Jeffreys, chairman of the central board were invited, this matter was discussed. The local board acted in good faith, and their recommendation to the central board was based on financial considerations only.

The burden of school taxes being of deep concern, the prospect of future increase to meet rising costs in education and the requirement of balancing the budget. These items alone were the reason for their resolution concerning Dr. Harper."

"The local board was advised by Mr. Rothney and Mr. Jeffreys that education must be our prime objective. As regards finances, the central board is well aware of the situation as they are responsible for all financials, teachers' salaries, bonded indebtedness, etc., and for years, have diligently worked and through their efforts have received favorable consideration from the Department of Education and will continue its efforts to obtain further financial assistance."

"As regards principals' and teachers' salaries, we are fortunate that salary negotiations on which the salary scale is based is lower than in some other areas in the province of Quebec."

"How long this can continue depends upon the efforts of the Central Board and the good will of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers."

"The responsibility and discretion of all concerned as regards school business was stressed by Mr. Rothney, and in conclusion, the Beebe-Rock Island-Stanstead Protestant School Board gave assurance of their full cooperation and good will to the principal, Dr. Harper and the staff of Sunnyside High School and that no reflection was intended on the good services of Dr. K. Harper."

"This meeting disclosed that many of our problems regarding education can be solved in a spirit of good will and cooperation if initially, they are brought to the attention of those who are conversant and vitally concerned with education in Stanstead County."

The statement is signed by C. J. Jeffreys, L. H. Akhurst, H. G. Brookhouse, R. Reed and R. G. McHarg.

World news in brief

Blame children

OTTAWA (CP) — Children playing with matches and candles were blamed for a fire Sunday that left 20 persons homeless. The fire started in the clothes closet of one of the homes in a five-home row on Booth Street. The interiors of two of the houses were destroyed and third suffered some water damage.

Games change?

MOSCOW (AP) — The official newspaper Soviet Sport demanded Sunday that the World Hockey Championships be taken away from the United States and transferred to another country. The newspaper was commenting on refusal of the Allied Travel Administration in West Berlin to issue travel permits to the East German team.

New colleges

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Claude T. Bissell, president of the University of Toronto, Sunday announced plans for four new multi-faculty residential colleges. He said construction of one of the four may begin this summer.

High sales noted by corporation

NEW YORK — (Special) — Johns-Manville Corporation turned in the best sales performance in its 104-year history during 1961, according to audited figures made public today.

Although the profit pinch on American industry continued to narrow profit margins, according to C. B. Burnett, president and chief executive officer, Johns-Manville in 1961 initiated additional cost reductions, eliminated low-profit, low-volume products and went into 1962 with a feeling of optimism.

Profitable foreign operations last year offset the penetration of Johns-Manville domestic markets for industrial and building products by old and new competitors from overseas. Mr. Burnett reported, but the "seemingly endless spiral of higher wages, salaries and accompanying employee benefits" kept overall profits from rising.

Net earnings in 1961 were $23,862,000 or $2.81 per share of common stock on an average of 8,504,819 shares outstanding. These figures compared with net earnings, in 1960, of $26,508,000 or $3.12 per share on an average of 8,483,934 shares outstanding.

Sales in 1961 came to $377,784,000 compared with $365,175,000, in 1960, and $377,562,000, in 1959, the previous all-time record.

which has an important television relay installation atop it, and guards were doubled around radio and TV installations in Algeria.

An estimated 100 Europeans were arrested in Algiers, in an effort to stall off some of the expected trouble.

Leaders of the Algerian rebel government were meeting in Tunis to study reports of its emissaries, who for the last two months have held secret sessions with the French on a cease-fire and steps toward independence after 131 years of French rule.

Any final approval must still be given by the National Revolutionary Council, which serves as a sort of rebel parliament.

here are some facts and figures for EDDY EVERYBODY

STANDARD WARD ACCOMMODATION

Let's get one thing straight. Hospital Insurance has not been set up for the purpose of paying private room bills; but, more realistically, to supply free, to all, adequate hospital care. And that is precisely what you get in a standard ward, namely a hospital room numbering 5 beds or more. Therefore, if you wish the Provincial Government to foot all of your hospital bills, you must settle for ward accommodation. As at least 40% of all beds in every insured hospital must fall within this category, there should be room for you. But please bear in mind that most hospitals have waiting lists; you might perhaps have to patiently wait your turn.

WHEN ROOMS ARE FREE...

In any event, if there happens to be no vacancy in the standard wards at that time and if the doctor considers that you urgently require admission, the hospital must supply you with a room at no cost to you. But as soon as a vacancy turns up in a standard ward, the hospital is entitled to transfer you — unless you wish to keep your room by starting, then and there, to pay for it. Secondly, when your condition or that of the other patients requires it, you also receive free room accommodation. Your doctor will rule on this. But, there again, you may be moved to a ward bed as soon as you take a turn for the better.

WHEN ROOMS ARE NOT FREE...

Save those two exceptions, room accommodation must be paid for by you — or out of your supplementary insurance policy, if you happen to hold one. At that, the Hospital Insurance Service is of considerable assistance by making possible much lower room rates than those in effect last year.

SEMI-PRIVATE ROOMS

If you feel you must have a room, why not select a semi-private one? On the Island of Montreal, a room numbering three or four beds will cost you $4 a day, no more; a two-bed room, $5 at the most. Elsewhere in the Province, $4 will pay for a semi-private room of any description.

PRIVATE ROOMS

Selecting a private room is not as easy, and here's why. Every hospital offers several "types" of private rooms — more or less expensive according to facilities supplied, such as running water, toilet, shower, balcony, or any other "special" feature.

As would be expected, such features vary greatly from one room to another and from this hospital to the next. You would therefore do well to ask the hospital, before admission, how much this particular room costs, and why. You are entitled to know!

But it will still boil down to this. On the Island of Montreal, a private room costs $8 a day, and up. Elsewhere in the Province, the rate is $7 a day, and up — depending upon the furnishings and "special features" offered.

Indeed, this is much less than what it used to be! Don't forget that you no longer receive bills for the cost of medicines, operating room, regular nursing care, lab tests, X rays, etc. — since these costs are borne by the Hospital Insurance Service.

NEVER FORGET FORM AH-108

Much of this will be plain to see on your copy of "new" Form AH-108, which you must request upon being discharged from the hospital. Note the two amounts shown: the money paid for you by your Provincial Hospital Insurance, and the other amount left for you to pay because of your taking a private or semi-private room. Insist upon receiving this Form: it should clear up a lot of misunderstanding.

AND TO SUM UP...

Here is the whole story in a nutshell. Completely free hospitalization is available to you within standard ward accommodation. But it will be up to you to pay for private or semi-private room accommodation. Even then, such rooms will cost you much less than they did last year and the years before!

a big question, these days, concerning Hospital Insurance:

"WHAT ABOUT A PRIVATE ROOM?"

$50,000 Again as Dick Mayer scores ace

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Lloyds of London will insure anything imaginable. But the company may be having second thoughts about the Palm Springs Open golf tournament.

For the last three years Lloyds has gambled $50,000 against a hole-in-one being scored in the open. It has lost each year.

The latest lucky fellow was Dick Mayer, who scored an ace in the fourth round of the 90-hole event Saturday.

Mayer finished in a tie for 10th place in the tournament and picked up an additional $1,050 for a total of $51,050.

Now the sponsors are wondering what Lloyds will require as a premium for underwriting the gamble in 1963.

So little did the Lloyds think of the chances for a hole-in-one in the five-day event that the premium the first year was a mere $4,500.

That was 1960 and Joe Campbell hit an ace. The cost was boosted to $13,500 for 1961 and Don January scored a hole-in-one.

The London company did some talk thinking this year and demanded an $18,800 premium.

Loyola Warriors held to 4-4 tie by Bishop's Gaiters Saturday at W. B. Scott rink, close battle Bishop's hockey Gaiters stretched their unbeaten streak to three games by virtue of a 4-4 tie with Loyola Warriors. The game was played Saturday afternoon in Bishop's W. B. Scott rink.

Gaiters actually had a slight edge on the play, as they outshot the Warriors 32-27, but they could not capitalize on several golden opportunities.

Gord Ewart missed the best one of the afternoon when he took a pass to go in all alone, but Loyola goalie John Pallant came up with the big save.

Scoring for the Gaiters was spread evenly, with Gord Ewart, Dave Williams, Guy Payne and Al Johnston notching one apiece. For Loyola, George Condon picked up two, while Roger Legault and Roy Lachenbauer scored singles.

Bishop's capitalized on Loyola's slow start, jumping into a two-goal lead before the five minute mark of the first period. Ewart banged in Al Johnston's pass from behind the net at 2:40. Two minutes later Williams scored on passes from Jim Murray and Ron Kaulbach.

Loyola then came alive, and the Gaiters could not contain the puck in his own end, roared down left-wing and fired the puck into the upper right-hand corner. Lachenbauer picked up a loose puck after a face-off.

Legault picked up the puck in his own end, roared down left-wing and fired the puck into the upper right-hand corner. Lachenbauer picked up a loose puck after a face-off.

The win by the ADS group was twelfth of the season in the five-team loop that consists of clubs from ADS, Classique, St. Isaac, St. Barnabe, and St. Aime—all schools of Asbestos.

In Saturday's match, Robert Gartschore of the victors opened scoring at the 0:05 mark of the first period when he tallied thanks to a pass from M. Fortin.

ADS made it 2-0 at 7:00 of the second stanza when John Campbell scored unassisted. St. Barnabe tallied their only point of the game at the 8:00 mark when St. Hilaire fired one past ADS goalie Tom Heron for the point.

In the third frame, John Gagnon clicked at 5:00 to tally ADS' third goal while Robert Gartschore hit St. Barnabe for his second score at 10:00 when he tallied unassisted—giving Asbestos - Danville - Shipton the match 4-1.

Red Wings run over Teepees

Hamilton Red Wings rammed in four first-period goals, then drew a superlative performance from goaltender Buddy Blom Saturday night to defeat St. Catharines Teepees 6-3.

The victory, in which Lowell MacDonald of Thorburn, N.S., shared the limelight with a three-goal effort, moved the league-leading Wings four points ahead of the idle Montreal Canadiens in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

MacDonald, who brought his season output to 40 goals, scored his last in 29 seconds left while Roger Crozier was benched for an extra forward.

Andy Payette and Joe Lacoursiere star in wide-open duel, Hamelin turns in fine display in defeat

Granby Vics rallying in the third period edged Sherbrooke Beavers 3-2 Sunday afternoon in a wide-open battle before 1,348 fans. The outcome failed to change anything in the standing as far as the Roger Bedard team is concerned but it hurt the Beavers' chances of moving into third spot in the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League.

It was one of the better games for Sherbrooke but it seems always to be the same old story, Andy Payette. The boy with the quick reflexes was certainly at his best and came up with some big saves at the right time. Joe Lacoursiere shared the spotlight with his confrere and in turn made some great stops for the locals.

Lacoursiere and Payette were at their best in the third period when both clubs opened up and the fans were treated to some very good hockey. Tough luck around the nets when Payette was beat, hurt the locals in their drive to post a victory.

Ray Laplante opened the scoring when he rifled a hard screened shot by Joe Lacoursiere. It was a tough break for the Beavers as they had been carrying the play at this point. It was the only tally of the period although Sherbrooke had three wonderful chances when the Vics had three men in the cooler but Payette and company kept them at bay.

In the middle session the Beavers' Generoux evened the count when he picked up a perfect pass from Rejean Hamelin and drove it under Payette. It came right from the face-off and caught Granby off balance.

Samson was standing on Lacoursiere's doorstep but the local net minder came up with a wonderful save to rob him. Hamelin was in again but failed to beat Payette. He was having trouble around the net. Louis Arpin teamed up with Black and Generoux to put the locals out in front with a nice passing play. Leblanc got away but Lacoursiere turned his effort aside.

In the final frame the Vics opened with a bang. Rousseau got in behind the defense on some nice stick handling but failed to click. Rene Boudreau got the equalizer when he was left alone on the side of the net. He picked a rebound to lift it back into the meshings. A couple of minutes later Andre Samson broke the deadlock to give the Vics a 3-2 lead which they never relinquished. The Beavers kept driving but their usual stumbling block was in the way again.

Payette time after time came up with some terrific saves to rob the hurrying Beavers. Rejean Hamelin, who was having a fine afternoon with one of his best games, just couldn't beat Payette, who seemed to have his number and stopped him at every turn. In the final minute of play Coach Dube yanked his goalie but in the confusion an extra man slipped on the ice and only the referee noticed it during the big drive. They drew a minor but although they kept working they just couldn't beat Payette.

Bishop's University curlers make clean sweep of Bonspiel at Carleton

Bishop's curlers captured their second straight Ottawa-St. Lawrence championship last week-end playing in a bonspiel at Carleton University. On the road to victory, they defeated fourtimes from Ottawa University, CMR, and Sir George Williams.

The championship squad was comprised of skip Bob Johnson, third Ian Hastie, second Neil Hastie and lead Don Craig. At the same time, another Bishop's entry made up of Glenn Way, John Welsh, Mike Beath and Paul Skory captured the Invitational Bonspiel at Carleton. They defeated Carleton Alumni, Western and Carleton University.

The Johncox foursome won the first game handsily, even though the skip seemed to be having trouble. In the second game however, Johncox came through in the clutch to grab the win. In the final match, the Bishop's squad was in control most of the way, as the rigorous schedule seemed to take its toll on Sir George.

Windsor downs Richmond 7-6, Magog upsets Asbestos 5-3

Normand Hebert paces Aces to upset win over Asbestos with two goals, tally both in final period of tilt

MAGOG — Magog Aces pulled off the surprise of the weekend in the St. Francis Intermediate Hockey League when they came up with a close 5-3 victory over the Asbestos Miners. Normand Hebert proved the hero of the game when he tallied two third period goals to break a deadlock and give the Aces their victory.

Larry Drouin opened the scoring in the first frame but less than a minute later R. Boucher beat Claude Bergeron as the period ended 1-1. In the middle session Longpre broke the deadlock to put the Aces out in front for first time in the game. Gaudreau put them further ahead but a few minutes later Larry Drouin came up with his second tally of the game as the frame ended 3-2 for the Aces.

At the start of the final stanza Roger Guay evened the count but it was just after this that Hebert broke out. He got the winner and then just to be sure notched what proved to be the insurance tally. The Aces were a man short when he got his first.

Als' Moss to hold meeting in Granby

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — Perry Moss, head coach of the Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Football Conference, will be at Granby Tuesday to discuss the possibilities of holding a pre-season training camp there.

Yves Gagnon, one of the chief organizers to have the football training camp held at Granby, reported that the only thing that might hold back the Alouettes from coming to Granby was a problem concerning proper facilities.

There has also been the question of the Alouettes holding a pre-season inter-squad game at Granby.

Paper Makers move into first by virtue of overtime victory, Red Dubois bags winner and hat-trick

WINDSOR — (Staff) — "Red" Dubois scored three goals in regulation time here yesterday afternoon before he was carried off the ice half unconscious at the nineteen minute mark of the third period but came back in an overtime period to score his fourth and the winner in a 7-6 Windsor victory over the Richmond Braves.

It marked the sixth time this year that Dubois has scored three or more goals in one game, and the win moved the Paper Makers into a first place tie with the slumping Asbestos Miners who lost 5-3 to Magog in Sunday's other action.

Other marksmen for Windsor were R. Spenard with two and Ben Lapierre. Top man for the Braves was "Pat" Desrosiers who registered the hat-trick. Other Braves goals came from Blouin, St-Laurent and Boivin.

The game opened at a fast clip and both goalers, St-Laurent for Windsor and Sawyer for Richmond, were called upon to make some fine saves. The Braves had two great scoring opportunities in the opening minutes of the game when Desrosiers was in alone on St-Laurent twice, but both times the Windsor netminder came up with the big saves.

The scoreless tie was broken at the seventeen minute mark of the first stanza when R. Spenard put Windsor ahead. His goal came after a neat passing play with G. Leblanc. The period indicated that the game was to be a rough one. Some hefty body checks were handed out with six penalties dished out by the referees.

P. Blouin put Richmond back on an even keel at the five minute mark of the middle period when he beat St-Laurent with a low drive after taking a pass from Robidas. Windsor again took a one goal lead three minutes later when Spenard scored his second with help from his brother G. Spenard and M. Forge.

The slim lead stood for less than a minute, G. St-Laurent found the range with a screen and slap shot. Majella Dubois then took over for Windsor. He scored his first goal of the game at 13:40 and then followed with his second at 18:32. The period ended with Windsor holding a 4-2 lead.

In the third stanza, defensive hockey went by the boards with the offensive teams taking over. At the one minute mark, Boivin moved Richmond to within one goal when he scored on a weak shot from outside the blue line. The shot was a bouncer and seemed to fool the Windsor goaltender. B. Lapierre then followed at 5:28 with his first goal of the contest. The marker gave the hometown team a 5-3 lead. Pat Desrosiers tied the game with two goals within a minute. His first came at 8:07 and his second at 9:05. Dubois scored his third of the game at 10:40 when he beat Sawyer with a bullet shot that caught the upper left hand corner. Richmond came fighting back however and Desrosiers completed his hat-trick two minutes later to force the game into overtime. In the closing minutes of the third period "Red" Dubois walked into a hefty body-check by a Richmond defenceman and was forced to be carried off by two of his teammates. It looked like he had played all his hockey for the day. The partisan hometown crowd of some 800 fans gave "Red" Dubois a standing ovation when he returned for the overtime period. He showed that the body check he received carried no ill effects as he made the crowd go wild at the two-minute mark when he scored his fourth goal of the game to put Windsor ahead 7-6 with less than eight minutes to go in the game.

ST. PAT'S OLD BOYS REACH SEMI-FINALS IN PROVINCIAL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT TO LOSE TO THREE RIVERS DOMINOS

THREE RIVERS — St. Pat's Old Boys basketball team journeyed to Three Rivers over the weekend to take part in the St. Maurice Valley Invitational Basketball Tournament. There were teams from all over the province entered in the event which began Friday evening and ended Sunday evening with the championship game. Teams representing St. John, La Tuque, Lennoxville, Sherbrooke, Three Rivers and St. Lambert were participating.

In St. Pat's first encounter they faced a towering St. Lambert team whose average height was 6'2", and whose late game rally was quelled for a close 42-41 green and white victory. In the quarter finals the Old Boys faced "the powerful" Lennoxville Grads of the ETABA and disposed of them 46-43. Mike Bryson, the flashy set shooter for St. Pat's, was top scorer in both of these games as he hit for 18 and 19 points respectively.

Members playing in the tournament representing St. Pat's were: Mike Bryson, Mike Leveque, Mike Brooks, Jim Wray, Dick Finlay, Lynn Mayseholder, Roger Littler, Gilles Hebert, Jacques Landry, and Berny Murray, along with Henry Wdowiak as team manager. Special congratulations should go out to Coach Moon Mullin who did a real fine job in guiding his boys to the farthest a Sherbrooke team has ever gone in this tournament.

It should be noted here that St. Pat's put up a valiant effort against a team in a semi-pro league and the green and white were heartily congratulated by the coach of the Dominos who readily agreed that Sherbrooke sent up a certain championship team this year but who should most certainly take it next year.

Talks on trip to Africa given at Thetford C.I.M.

THETFORD MINES — At a meeting of the Thetford Mines Branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, held Jan. 25, two speakers described South Africa and Rhodesia and the Seventh Commonwealth Mining and Metallurgy Congress which took place there last year.

F. P. Hodgson, chairman of the local branch, first welcomed several visitors, then outlined briefly suggestions that had been made to the executive for improving and strengthening the C.I.M.

C. Gerow, secretary treasurer of the C.I.M., described past congresses and the itinerary and arrangements for the Seventh, which many delegates considered the best yet.

Some details of the various places visited were given by J. G. Finlayson, technical manager of the Canadian Safety Fuse Co. Illustrating his points with attractive slides and later, a movie, he mentioned the highlights of a tour that covered 10,000 miles and on which the delegates were everywhere received with great hospitality. Many points of technical interest were seen in the various mines visited and the scenic tours were enjoyed.

To many delegates, one of the most memorable experiences was seeing the way in which some of the mines can take newly hired natives from different tribes, some so primitive they have never seen a wheel, and in three weeks have them able to converse with each other and their employers and to operate machinery underground, efficiently and safely.
