Westmount has no knowledge of subway extension plan

Revelation by Montreal Councillor James N. Bellin that a westward push of the Montreal Metro through Westmount was definitely being considered raised some eyebrows at City Hall and finally resulted in wry smiles.

If the discussion that Councillor Bellin had with Executive Committee chairman Lucien Saulnier holds water at all — someone has forgotten to tell the City of Westmount about the matter.

Contacted by The Examiner yesterday, officials of Westmount declared that they are still waiting for any definite

Seven graduate from Weston

Seven girls received graduation certificates last Thursday from Weston School, 18 Severn avenue, Westmount.

They are: Barbara Baker, Janet Barkhouse, Deborah Henderson, Joanne Jessop, Robyn MacDonald, Margaret MacPherson, Lynada Trenholme.

Class valedictorian was Robyn Macdonald, a Weston student since she was three, Class historian was Janet Barkhouse.

Guest speaker of the exercises held in Westmount High School was Dr. J. A. Corry, principal of Queen's University. He described the school's experimental method of teaching French.

Introduced in 1957 when the school received a grant from the MacLean Foundation to experiment in teaching French to small children, the method is based on structural linguistics.

It was developed by Prof. Jean Paul Vinay of the University of Montreal and Prof. Andre Rigault of McGill. Children start French at age three. After they have made sufficient progress in French, they may add Spanish or German, as a third language.

The Schools custom of singing "O Canada" in both French and English held special significance for two staff members at the exercises.

The two teachers, Mrs. Vera Torok, a Hungarian by birth, and Mrs. Page Porter, an American, have just become Canadian citizen. Mrs. Torok passed her citizenship examination in English; Mrs. Porter in French. The girls dedicated the two versions of "O Canada" to them.

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

June 22 to 30

Sunny, very warm and sultry. Morning drizzle in mountains. Evening thunderstorms in the south. Temperature range 45-85°F.

Mainly sunny and quite warm through the middle of the week. Heavy tree damage and thunderstorms, with hail, should be allowed for even if this summer is dryer than average.

Stormy on the Atlantic coasts. Tornado conditions can develop in southern Ontario, New York State and Vermont. Nevertheless this week and the next are likely to be a good holiday period.

Metro extension into Westmount is forecast

The eventual push-through of the subway into Westmount is definitely being considered, The Examiner learned recently.

Montreal City councillor James Bellin said last week that he has had discussions with Lucien Saulnier (Chairman of the Executive Committee) "He has told me that plans are now being readied to be incorporated in the Atwater Terminal to provide for an extension . . ."

Mr. Bellin said.

Mr. Saulnier has favored an extension of the subway to the Windsor Station of the CPR and the City plans to use the rails of the CNR through Mount Royal to serve certain sections of the city. Mr. Bellin asked if the CPR tracks from Windsor station through Westmount to Montreal West could not be used as a rapid transit subway-type system.

It was then Mr. Saulnier disclosed that the plans for the westward extension are now being made, but since they are not complete, he did not wish to discuss them at that time.

Park ponds to remain unfilled

Children planning to sail model boats in Westmount Park this summer are advised to launch their crafts only after a heavy rain. Even then they will find the channel narrow and fraught with reefs and shoals.

The park's two ornamental ponds, one at Sherbrooke and Melville and the other near Western and Lansdowne will not be filled this summer until reconstruction is completed. Although both do fill up to a certain extent after a rain, they have deteriorated with age and will not hold water.

The City has retained the park planning firm of McFadzean and Every to draw up a master plan for the entire park, but special attention will be given to the ponds which formerly constituted a water-course draining into a ravine at Western and Lansdowne.

The duck pond operates inde-

Westmouter attacks medicare

Experience in other countries with government medical care indicates private medical care programs can produce better results. E. Clyde Gregory 12 Aberdeen avenue, Westmount, president of a Montreal company, told the Canadian Manufacturers Association at its recent 92nd annual general meeting here.

In an address on the impact of medicare, the President of Ayerst, McKenna & Harrison Ltd., and a local resident noted that the introduction of state medicine in Germany in 1884 was "about the time the decline of the German pre-eminence in scientific medicine began." Soviet Russia has had socialized medicine for 43 years "and since its advent the U.S.S.R. has made no major or moderate contribution to any of some 20 branches of medical science." The cost of the U.K. National Health Service instituted in 1948 "has been a heavy burden to the nation," he said.

United opposition

"The drug industry which provides the medicaments, the pharmacists who dispense them, the insurance companies which provide voluntary health insurance, the doctors who will be expected to treat patients, all are united in opposing government control of health care," the speaker declared. "We are all convinced private enterprise has already proved its ability to carry out this mission much more effectively than the government can."

Mr. Gregory said Canada spends twice as much of its national income as the United States does on health and welfare, "despite our much less wealthy and less mature economy. We spend much more proportionately than Britain which we are inclined to look upon as a welfare state."

He quoted statistics showing that the cost of a comprehensive medical and surgical care plan would be upward of $385 million a year. This would raise total spending in the health field by all governments by 33 per cent to a total of $1,600 million a year.

If the existing hospital insurance scheme of $540 million annually were added, this would represent a sum equal to one-seventh of the entire Federal budget, Mr. Gregory noted. To supply drugs in a government-sponsored plan, would cost in the $300 to $360 million range in its initial year of operation, he said.

Leja Fund drive nears objective of $20,000

The Walter Leja Fund has reached $19,244, it was reported Wednesday. This is only $756 short of its $20,000 objective.

"It is almost certain now that we'll be able to turn over far more than $20,000 to the Leja family," said Mrs. Phyllis Lee Peterson, chairman of the fund.

She noted that contributions were coming in from all-over the province, from both French and English. "It restores your faith in humanity," she said.

Corporations, schoolchildren contribute

Corporations and businesses have contributed as have schoolchildren and teenagers. Three Chesterfield avenue youngsters collected $3.25 in nickels and dimes — proceeds from an entertainment for the neighbors. Westmount High students raised $410 in a school-wide drive.

Sergeant-Major Leja, injured May 17 while dismantling a terrorist bomb in a mailbox at Lansdowne and Westmount avenue is reported to be still in critical condition, although he is gaining strength slowly.

The fund was established on May 27 by the Westmount Municipal Association to aid "a gallant man who risked his life on behalf of the public," Mrs. Peterson, chairman of the fund is

LCC Founder's Day

High achievement best aim of life R.C. Rae declares

High achievement in life — that is the aim for which to strive, Robert C. Rae, principal and vice-chancellor of Sir George Williams University, urged graduates of Lower Canada College Friday at the Founder's Day celebrations.

He likened the students' education to the foundation of a 20-storey building.

"There are many in this world who have built two-storey bungalows on foundations meant for 20-storey buildings."

"It is up to you to erect a worthwhile structure on the excellent foundation you now have. Your family and friends will help you but you are the architect."

Headmaster D. S. Penton opened the ceremonies by outlining the purpose of the Founder's Day service which is to honor the athletic achievements of the students.

"In the days when towns were small and the open country easy to reach, organized athletics were unnecessary, but today they seem to be needed if a boy is to have a chance of developing certain aspects of his character", Dr. Penton observed.

Athletic awards

Students who took top athletic honors yesterday were Stewart Holland, Wood Memorial trophy; J. D. Robb, senior gymnastics; R. C. Pattee, intermediate gymnastics; T. C. Pipe, junior gymnastics; T. R. Gilbert, Baillie trophy; F. A. Gratiat, Harrower trophy; R. C. Pattee, senior golf; T. G. Rapoch, junior golf; D. H. McClymont, Redpath Trophy; Clayton House, Dr. Pratley memorial shield.

Students who gained honors for scholastic achievement, were J. C. Tait, Lieutenant-Governor's silver medal; D. M. Cohoe, Lieutenant-Governor's bronze medal; Richard Gordon, Governor-General's medal and Woods House, the Masters' shield.

MEMORIAL AWARD

John Closs, 12, and Carol Ann Ransom, 11, both grade six pupils at Kings School and winners of the Memorial Book Prize from the Westmount Teachers' Association are congratulated by Frank Sharpe, retiring principal. The award is given annually in memory of Lieut. Hugh Wilson Gall, Squadron-Leader Leslie Neil McCaig and Lieut. Kenneth Charles Simms, Westmount teachers who gave their lives in the last war.

Frank Sharpe, principal of Kings School, retires

Soon only memories will remain. When the final assembly is over Wednesday, Kings School will stand strangely silent and empty. It is soon to be demolished.

The memories will be particularly vivid for one man, Frank Sharpe, principal of the school for the past fourteen years. Mr. Sharpe who has been teaching in Westmount schools for 24 years retires this spring.

He will long be remembered by former pupils and their parents for the keen personal interest he took in each child. It is reported that each year, only a week or two after the opening of school, Mr. Sharpe was able to address each pupil by his first name. He always strived to maintain Kings as "a family school and a community school."

"I believe in bringing up children here; they are taught not only reading, writing and other skills common to schools. We attempt to teach them honesty, fairness, kindness and self-reliance just as they are taught at home in their own families."

Mr. Sharpe held frequent assemblies during which these qualities were discussed. Both parents and teachers have remarked that they proved most successful.

Mr. Sharpe's many talents are emphasized by his hobbies. They include gardening, rug-weaving, and oil painting. Always interested in athletics, he is a former commentator and play-by-play announcer of Intercollegiate and Big Four

WE SAY

West End misery is made in Ottawa

MESSRS. Frank Howard and Arnold Peters, B.C. and Ontario members, respectively, of the House of Commons, have become political traders in human misery.

A very high proportion of that misery is concentrated behind the closed doors of broken or illicit homes, or of the rooms of lonely heart-broken men and women all over Montreal's Great West End.

For two years these unheavenly NDP twins, having once proved their point perhaps that Parliament should not be cluttered up with Newfoundland's and Quebec's divorce bills, have persisted in perverting House rules on private bills and perpetuated the legal fiction of over 900 marriages which long ceased in fact to exist.

The discredited Tory Government failed to nip this arrogant procedural blackmail. It is discouraging to note that the Liberals have shown no more intestinal fortitude in ending what must be regarded as a national disgrace — and at the same time putting these two honorable members in their backbenches.

This unseemly wrangle particularly concerns us in this area because possibly 98 per cent of parliamentary divorce bills are from Quebec (Newfoundland's are a trickle) and because one or both parties are likely to be non-Catholics, the chief element of West End constituencies.

Therefore, literally hundreds of West End men, women and, most tragically, children are involved in this unsavory political hassle. Local residents are the pawns in this unlovely game between happiness and misery, between Howard-Peters and the "decent thing."

The West End's MP's cannot much longer remain silent and, apparently, inactive.

YOU SAY

Finds carnival too commercial

Sir: It is with some regret that I write this letter because I appreciate the extremely valuable work done by the Westmount Rotary Club in its various projects.

I must, however, complain in all honesty from my own experience, that of my children, and of our friends, that the Rotary Carnival in recent years has become increasingly commercial, and less and less like a real carnival.

It seems that the Rotarians in their eagerness to collect before their undoubted good works have forgotten that people go to a Carnival not just to spend money indiscriminately but in the hope that they will obtain value for what they spend.

The commercialization and Nevada-like atmosphere of the carnival has become increasingly apparent since it was moved indoors to the ice rink. When it took place in an open field or under a tent, as I recall, there were far more competitions in which children could gain by running and jumping, and somehow or other more people won more prizes, and the whole atmosphere was less rapacious.

I only draw this to your attention because I have found that recently considerable ill-will has been felt by the many people who have come away feeling frustrated and gypped.

This ill-feeling was particularly marked this year, and I feel that if the Rotary Club persists in its commercial policy it will have dissipated considerable friendly feeling it has built up over a long period of time, and ultimately its projects will suffer.

BY THE WAY

The description of the round-up of a "runaway tortoise" and its return to the home of the boy whose pet it was gives me a vivid picture of villagers racing across fields to cut it off, road-blocks being set up, police cars radioing information, airports being watched.

I even have a vision of the tracking of a pet snail by police with trained thrushes straining at their leads, and reports coming in that the fugitive has been seen pouncing (or slinking) through a remote farmyard.

This Week in Westmount

By VALENTINA RAHR

Next Monday, June 24, after the last assembly, King's School will close its doors, and one of Westmount's elementary schools will give way to inevitable changes due to progress.

"Many former pupils have attained very high academic standing, and won many awards and honours at university," commented Frank Sharpe, retiring principal, during the official jubilee of King's Home and School Association presented him with a silver tray, the traditional retiring gift for teachers at Kings.

After fourteen years as principal Mr. Sharpe can be proud of the many useful things he instituted. One of the first was a never ending campaign of safety to remind youngsters to "Stop, Look, Listen, or Don't run out from behind parked cars!" etc. He acquainted them with Elmer the Elephant, the symbol of safety whose pennant gaily waved in the breeze outside the school office year in and year out.

Another safety measure was bringing about the installation of a policewoman at Park Place and St. Catherine to cross youngsters during school hours. A steel fence went up around the school grounds soon after he became principal — to keep youngsters off Western avenue and also to preserve the school terrace of which he was proud.

It was during his time that barn dances complete with caller in western attire were given in the gymnasium. Lessons in ballet and art classes received his support.

It was a sad occasion for many to see the old school once more and to say farewell. A special tribute to Mr. Sharpe was a song sung in verse by each grade in the school, with words written by Jim Barr, which called their principal "friend", it was sung to the tune of "Little Brown Jug."

Montreal's Mammoth Art Exhibition continues until Monday June 24, inclusive at Place Ville Marie on the 41st floor. Many well known West End artists are displaying their works, under the direction of Jean Desmarais.

Phillip Surrey, Gentile Tondino, Campbell Tinning, Late Hal Ross Perrigard, Guido Molinari, Romeo Vin-celette, Marc Fortin, Walter Ferrier, Esther Goldenberg, Marion Scott, Ghitta Caierman, L. Eastman Coates, Alice Rawstron, Goodridge Roberts, Harold Boyes, Hyacinth Gallant, Marguerite Jehu, Genevieve McLean, Camille Perks, Freda Pemberton Smith.

Westmounters use government loan plan

Evidence that Westmount residents are taking full advantage of the easy loan facilities provided under the House Improvement Plan is shown by figures released this week by the Hon. J. L. Issley, Acting Minister of Finance in the Dominion Government.

In the group of cities having a population between 20,000 and 40,000 Westmount stands seventh in total of Loans made. Up to the end of May, residents of this city made loans numbering 33 and amounting to $23,915.

Up to the end of February, 17 loans were made in Westmount, totalling $9,265.

Local builders, renovators, plumbers in Westmount report that activity has picked up to a considerable extent since the Home Improvement Plan has been put into effect, and throughout the city activity is keen in the modernizing and renovating of homes.

Summer program begins

The Westmount YMCA's summer schedule went into effect on June 17. There are a number of major changes from the winter program which will affect all youth and adult members.

All regular gymnastic programs have been terminated for the summer months. The swimming pool and exercise room will remain open for the following times. From 9:30 am till 8:45 pm Mondays to Fridays and 9:30 am till 5:45 pm Saturdays, adults may use the showers and exercise room. Men's swimming (only) is 12:30 to 1:30 Monday to Saturday and 5:30 to 7 Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Special family swim periods are scheduled on Tuesday and Friday evenings. There are swim periods reserved for ladies only, adults mixed and youth only. Schedules are available at the Westmount YMCA (WE. 7-3916) outlining the times for the above swim periods. Special adult summer memberships (3 months) are available in addition to the regular twelve month membership.

The YMCA will be closing at 9 p.m. instead of 10 p.m. for the summer months and will be closed for the July 1, holiday. The building will remain open to 6 p.m. on Saturdays.

Summer Fun Club

The Summer Fun Club (a program for boys and girls 8 to 14 years of age) will probably reach a new high in registrations this summer according to Ronald Watt, Camp Director. One hundred and twenty campers and twenty-eight staff are expected to register for the first two periods. The program operates from July 2 to August 9 on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays 9 a.m. till 4:30 p.m. and for half days on Thursdays and Fridays.

Quebec law changes affect Westmount

A wide series of measures changing the laws governing municipalities in Quebec province has been introduced by the Liberal Government.

The changes were outlined to the Legislative Assembly by Municipal Affairs Minister Pierre Laporte.

Briefly, they:

- (1) Force communities governed by the Cities and Towns Act to call public tenders for any contract of more than $10,000;
- (2) Open the way for elections on Sundays;
- (3) Allow four-year terms for the mayor and aldermen if these are approved in a referendum held at the same time as a general election;
- (4) Allow for the issuance of taxi permits in the whole territory of municipalities which sign an agreement for that purpose;
- (5) Increase from 40 to 90 days the time limit for a poll on the approval of a bylaw;
- (6) Put an end to third-party rights of ownership in streets and lanes open to the public for 10 years or more and not taxed during that time;

(7) Fix a valuation of $500 per arpent for any golf course of an area of 60 arpents or more belonging to a non-profit association having at least 100 members or shareholders;

(8) For municipalities which have their own charters or are not under the Cities and Town Act, provide for remuneration of the mayor and councillors by a bylaw approved by the elector-proprietors;

(9) Enable groups of municipalities to form area-wide master plans for town planning laws similar to those existing and draw up zoning and building in the Cities and Town Act; and

(10) Extend to March 31, 1965, the delay allowed for carrying out construction of purification plants that would be subsidized under the Water Purification Board Act.

Canadian art works donated by Bronfmans'

A gift of $10,000-a-year for the next five years made by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bronfman, 15 Bevedere, Westmount, to the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts has enabled the museum to buy eight works for its 80th annual spring exhibition.

The works will form the nucleus of the Saidye and Samuel Bronfman collection of Canadian art and are first purchases to be made through the gift.

Works purchased are Derek May's oil painting, "Number Twenty-Three," Jean-Louis Don's ink drawing, "3 Organic Forms," Donald Harvey's oils, "Guardian," two Yves Gaucher etchings, "SA" and "AJI," Richard Lacroix's etching, "Alfatiere," and Robert Murray's sculpture, "Charybdis."

The collection was created by the Westmount couple "to encourage younger Canadian artists in all media by acquiring examples of their works, and to create a stimulus in the cultural life of Montreal Community by building up a collection which will show what young artists throughout Canada are thinking and producing."

John Godine, Pat Cavanagh selected by physicists

Westmount High School has two building physicists. Two students, John Godine and Patrick Cavanagh were selected last week by the Canadian Association of Physicists as being outstanding in this subject. The Association honored 316 students from the Montreal area High Schools.

The selection was made on the basis of a French and English examination, set up by McGill University on behalf of the Association.

John Godine, valedictorian of the '63 graduating class has been admitted to Princeton University as a "University Scholar," an unusual honor allowing his maximum freedom in selecting his own course of study.

History of Atwater Library

Continued progress in Westmount home

The opening of the new building in 1930 in Westmount inaugurated an era of greater service in the history of the Mechanics' Institute, now called the Atwater Library. Its increasing usefulness to the community has been apparent in many ways.

The library has steadily grown — number of volumes, in popularity, and in value to citizens. A consistent increase in the number of volumes on its shelves is noted year by year: 23,000 in 1920; 28,000 in 1925; over 33,000 in 1930; and about 45,000 in 1940.

Correspondingly, the circulation of books during a year has increased to more than 80,000. Of these it is significant that approximately one-third are non-fiction — a proportion well above the general library average. Encouragement of non-fiction reading has been a cardinal principle of the library policy, which is based on a consideration of two factors: the preferences of the reading public, and the educational objects of the Institute.

Technical works and the arts

Thus, while developing as complete as possible a collection of technical works which would provide facilities for instruction in the various arts and sciences, the Institute has added to its shelves the best current volumes of History, Biography and Travel, and a carefully selected assortment of fiction.

An average of $250 every month is expended for new books, and, the cost of technical books being generally higher than that of others, the greater proportion of this amount — as a rule, about 60% — is spent upon non-fiction volumes.

The importance attached to works devoted to useful knowledge is a natural development of the Institute's century-old educational efforts. In 1840 the Institute was primarily interested in offering to ambitious young

The progress of the Mechanic's Institute in Westmount, now called the Atwater Library has closely paralleled that of the community which it serves, and a study of its growth provides many interesting sidelights on the development of Montreal.

The history was compiled and written by T. Miles Gordon of Montreal, who did considerable research among old records, newspaper clippings, and minute books.

This is the sixth in a series.

workmen the opportunity for practical education. That policy has been maintained, though the method has been naturally modified, and today there are many evidences that modern Montrealers are following the examples of their predecessors in taking full advantage of the opportunities which the Institute affords.

The Library is supplied with the latest books on Mechanical and Industrial Arts, Science, Sociology, History, Biography, Travel, and General Literature. The reading rooms which, in addition to all standard reference works, are well supplied with the best weekly, monthly and quarterly periodicals, are open to the public. Non-members are granted free reading privileges — which include access to the shelves in the reading rooms — the only requirement being the recommendation of a responsible citizen.

Thus today a young mechanic has only to obtain the endorsement of his foreman or employer on his reading card to have at his service the latest reference books and periodicals dealing with his particular subject. Almost any evening a dozen or more students may be observed in the reading rooms absorbed in study and making notes and calculations from their reading of authoritative scientific books.

Benefit to unemployed

This collection has also proved a practical benefit to many an unemployed man, who can, through the facilities here provided, keep pace with the latest advances in his specialty and thus be prepared for the finest employment opportunities. To give one concrete example: a technical worker in an out-of-town plant recently made a special visit to the Institute to express his gratitude for the assistance he had received in gaining the practical knowledge which had directly resulted in his employment.

A feature of the library's service to the public is the open-shelf system which has proved most successful. Access to the stacks enables the seeker after knowledge to become thoroughly acquainted with the possibilities of the library, and offers the widest opportunity for complete selection.

A modern card catalogue system is of course maintained; and to provide for the steady addition of new volumes which it is naturally impossible to include immediately in the permanent card index, a loose leaf catalogue of recent acquisitions is kept available at the Delivery Desk. Thus complete information as to the volumes in the library is always easily and conveniently obtainable.

The efficient operation of this system and the extent of the service which the library offers the public have been made possible largely because of the capable library staff, working under the supervision of Miss A. G. Ryan, Librarian.

Registration of over 600 reading cards during a year attest the use which has been made of the reading rooms. Then, in addition to the 141 Life Members and 91 Annual Members, approximately 1,000 Association Members each year enjoy book-borrowing privileges.

Collection of 'Canadians'

Among the library's literary treasures are several rare volumes comprising an outstanding collection of "Canadians," including such historic items as the files of "The Morning Courier" of Montreal for the years 1835 and 1836. There are many bound sets of periodical publications, ranging from the Statutes of the old Province of Canada and later Dominion and Provincial Statutes to the copies of "Punch" since 1859.

Examples of the valuable and unique works in the Institute's library are three volumes of Russell's "The Modern System of Naval Architecture," 1865. (These are of unusually large size and superbly bound. They are copiously and magnificently illustrated with large-scale plans of ship construction, and are appropriately dedicated "To Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen.")

"Second only to the practice of Navigation itself," declares the dedication, "to a seafaring people, is the art of ship construction; and to no one could be more properly dedicated a Treatise on Naval Architecture, than to the Queen of the Maritime Nation — the Lady who, beyond all other Sovereigns, is Mistress of the Seas."

The library's chief pride, however, remains its technical books, several of which are the only copies available to students in the city. The purchasing policy has been consistently based on a recognition of the fact that the library and reading rooms should be primarily at the service of "Industrial Workers and those engaged in the Manufacturing and Mechanical Arts."

"JERK WATER TOWNS"

In railroading's early days, the engine stopped at streams along the way to take on water carried in leather buckets. This was known as "jerk water" and the name now is applied to small towns where trains stop.

Christian Science

Change, evolution to be discussed

The basic power behind change and evolution will be explored in the Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" Bible selections will include this verse from Isaiah: "Behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "Let there be light," is the perpetual demand of Truth and Love, changing chaos into order and discord into the music of the spheres."

Eclipse of sun July 20

Local astronomers haven't quite made up their minds what they are going to do about the July 20 total eclipse of the sun—but if they want to be in its path they will have to leave town.

Nearest towns for a good view of the phenomena are Three Rivers, Nicolet or Victoriaville. All three are in the path of the eclipse and at Three Rivers the time of totality is set at 5.40 EDT. The duration of the eclipse at this point should be about 60 seconds.

Westmount Baptist

'Prisoners of Hope' is Sunday theme

"Prisoners of Hope" will be the theme of the sermon by the Rev. Harold J. Balsdon at Westmount Baptist Church on Sunday morning. In the evening the sermon is entitled "The Open Door."

The mid-week meeting of the Church is on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock for Prayer, Praise and Bible Study.

The BYPU meets on Friday at 8:00 p.m. in the Lower Hall.

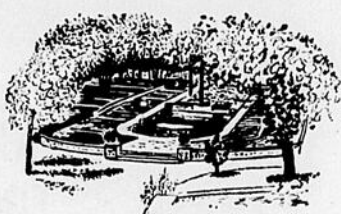

The Sunday School has closed and will re-open on September 8. During the summer months there is a Junior Congregation, and nursery facilities are available.

It is quite possible, Rev. J. K. Zelman, of Toronto, said, that there will be 25,000 Baptists in the New Jersey city from May 22 to 24 of 1964.

He wasn't ready to say exactly how many Canadians would be included in this number, but he did add that a special bus would be made available to take local Baptists south of the border, if sufficient interest was shown at the time.

3610 SHERBROOKE STREET WEST

10 local streets to be resurfaced

Ten Westmount streets are soon to be resurfaced. Lansdowne avenue between Sherbrooke and Western will receive special attention.

Roads Department officials emphasize that the project is more than "a mere pot-hole filling operation." The streets will get a new sheet asphalt surface over a liquid primer.

Part of Lansdowne avenue is to have an entirely new roadbed. The street lies over an old riverbed and is "unstable" it is reported. Residents in the area have complained of the "excessive" vibrations caused by passing trucks. Council approved a commitment of $34,000 at its May meeting to replace the roadbed.

Tenders for the project will be received up to Friday, June 28.

The following streets will get a new sheet asphalt surface as part of Westmount's summer works program:

- Academy Road, throughout.
- Cote St. Antoine road, between Clarke and Metcalfe.
- Grosvenor avenue, between St. Catherine and Western.
- Hudson avenue, throughout.
- Mountain avenue, between Montrose and Sherbrooke street.
- Seyvern avenue, between Mountain and Mount Pleasant.
- Stratheona avenue, between Sherbrooke and Cote St. Antoine road.
- Roslyn avenue, between Cote St. Antoine and The Boulevard.

pendently of the main system and will not be changed. "In any event, the creatures certainly would not care for a new concrete bottom in their pond," a city official remarked. Ducks are not known to favor the presence of model boats, either.

Council has considered the placing of loud speakers in the park to provide piped in music for Sunday concerts, but have made no final decision on the motion.

Other tentative plans include the construction of an illuminated fountain, a bandstand, and the use of shrubbery instead of fences to set apart certain areas.

Several of the park's graceful elm trees were cut down this winter and others are expected to go soon. Old age or general deterioration was the main factor in their removal, not Dutch elm disease, according to Park officials. New trees will be planted this summer as part of a reforestation program.

Westmount has . . .

word from Montreal on the matter of the subway.

As a matter of fact — Westmount has been waiting for definite word from Montreal on the question of the subway for a long time; ten years, in fact.

It is just a decade since the Transportation Commission and the City of Montreal produced an elaborate showing where the subway would run.

But that is just about the last that Westmount, or anyone else for that matter, has heard of the projected westward push-through of the Metro.

Westmount, of course, is interested — the projected subway at Atwater is partly on land owned by Westmount. But Westmount is still waiting for word of what, where, when, why and how!

Diplomas to James Harris, W. McAfee

Two Westmount High School students, James Harris and Wayne McAfee received diplomas this week from the Western section of the Montreal Trades School.

Guests of honor at the commencement exercises were Sylvestre White representing the Minister of Youth and David Murray White, Manager Industrial Relations Tamper Division, Canada Iron Foundries.

Vice-principal McGrath told parents and graduates that the placing of the graduates in employment proceeded at a satisfactory rate and that the school facilities were always available to graduates. It was the policy of the school to see that the graduate worked at their trades with reliable firms.

Attendance down, but enthusiasm high at Rotary Carnival

Although enthusiasm was high among volunteer workers and organizers at the Westmount Rotary Carnival, attendance was not up to the level of last year. Good crowds turned up the first two nights and officials predicted a record attendance, but "the weather was the decisive factor," according to one official. "It rained every night of the carnival was open."

Attendance last year reached 15,000. Figures for this year are not yet available.

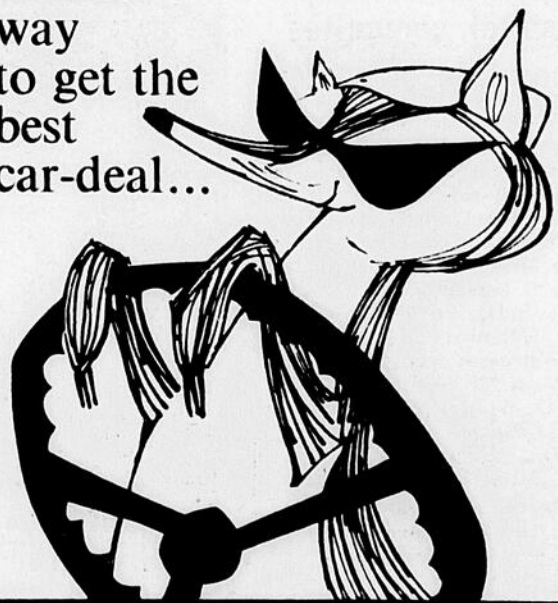

Profit from the carnival, an amateur production organized by the Westmount Rotary Club, goes to support or assist a number of charitable projects including Prospect House, Unity Boys' Club, Werendale Camp, and Friendship Club. The Club recently donated equipment and a dining pavilion to the Girl Guides Camp and provided moving pictures for the patients in the Montreal Children's Hospital.

The carnival represented Rotary's only appeal for funds for these projects.

A total of 46.4 million persons were injured in accidents in the United States during a recent year.

Dainty china cherished by women of good taste

By Millicent Hickmore

THE NAME LIMOGES is familiar to all lovers of fine china. Some of you will remember the delicate patterns on your mother's or grandmother's china teacups or dinner services from France.

Mr. Frederick Haviland, vice-president of Haviland and Company, a great grandson of this famous company's founder, will be at Simpson's today to meet the public, marking the addition of Haviland Limoges china to the store's fine chinaware department. Exclusive to Simpson's in Montreal, the new line will be stocked in 12 dinnerware patterns and a collection of unusual gift artware.

The patterns being made today in Limoges are those developed after World War II. Some of the older patterns such as the "clover" and the "wide gold band," are extinct and are to be found mainly in antique shops. The 12 patterns stocked consist of floral, formal, classic, oriental and other designs and come in pure white, and delicate shades of mauve, blue, gray, pink, green, yellow and cobalt blue.

Even if one does not contemplate buying at this time, it should be interesting to view this fine collection and also to hear Mr. Haviland explain the process that makes china more resistant to chipping and cracking, as well as harder and most translucent than the opaque services.

ON THE BOOKSHELF: Another Wonder book for children of all ages, this one titled "Wonders of the Woods and Desert at Night," by Jacquelyn Berrill, was recently released by Dodd, Mead Company. This absorbing story relates the habits and activities of the various animals and birds during night time, some of them familiar to people in the country after nightfall. The cricket with his friendly chirp, the croaking frogs in the pond; the song of the whip-poor-will and the answer of his mate.

But not many people are aware of the activities of the animals in the forest and the great open spaces, and the author with great insight discloses these interesting facts. She tells of the habits of the raccoon, the porcupine, the opossum, the deer, the red fox, the rabbits, the wolves, the black bear, the moose — and many smaller animals.

Jacquelyne Berrill is the wife of Dr. N. J. Berrill, professor of zoology at McGill University. The couple have three children and spend their winters in Montreal and holidays at their home in Boothbay Harbor, Maine. Besides keeping house, writing and illustrating her books, Mrs. Berrill finds making jewelry a fascinating hobby.

Dear Abby...

Make New Arrangements!

By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a six-foot, 46-year-old baby. I can't get him out of bed in the morning. When the alarm rings he shuts it off, put his head under the covers, and goes back to sleep. Our arrangement is that when the alarm goes off he is supposed to shut it off, get up and put the coffee on, and then I get up and fix breakfast. Well, as I said, he shuts off the alarm and crawls back in bed again. If I try to get him up he says, "Oh, my back," or "I didn't sleep a wink last night." What makes me angry is that, when he is going fishing, he can get up at 4:30 a.m. without any trouble, fix his own breakfast, and take of with no help from me. What do you think?

PLAIN MAD

DEAR PLAIN: Your husband is a healthy, normal, six-foot, 46-year-old comfort creature. When the alarm rings, YOU shut it off and fix the coffee. And bring a nice steaming cup to his bedside. If the aroma doesn't arouse him, one teeny-weeny drop on his nose will.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When I had my last baby, I swore off having any more children. I am 27 years old, Abby, and I have EIGHT boys (no twins). Is it possible that there is something about the combination of my husband and me that can't produce anything but boys? Whose fault is this anyway? My husband says it must be me because his first wife had two girls.

LONG ON BOYS

DEAR LONG: You're short on facts. The sex of the children is determined by the HUSBAND.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband's older sister is one for the books. She lives near me and pops in to visit quite often. Lately she has been getting "hot flashes." She tears off her blouse or her dress (or whatever she is wearing) and pulls off her beads and earrings like a woman possessed. I have an 11-year-old son and I don't want her undressing in front of him. I have to be on my guard constantly and when she starts having a hot flash I get the boy out of the room, but fast. Now this sister-in-law was widowed in the past year, and I think these flashes are way overdone as a bid for sympathy. Can't her doctor give her shots or pills to help her? She claims he can't.

SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SIS: I have a "hot flash" for you, lady. What helps some women is of no help to others. Your sister-in-law needs sympathy and understanding, not criticism.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for eight months now, and happily, except for one thing. My husband still gets phone calls from his ex-wife. They had no children so there are no family or financial ties to discuss. About three months ago I thought the calls had stopped, but I happened to come home for lunch the other day and she called again. My husband seemed embarrassed and got rid of her quickly. I told him he could stop these calls by telling her bluntly he didn't wish to speak to her, but he claims he has already told her that. I trusted him completely until this last call. Do you suppose he enjoys knowing his "ex" is still carrying the torch? How can I put a stop to it? Or is this something a second wife must learn to live with?

WIFE NUMBER TWO

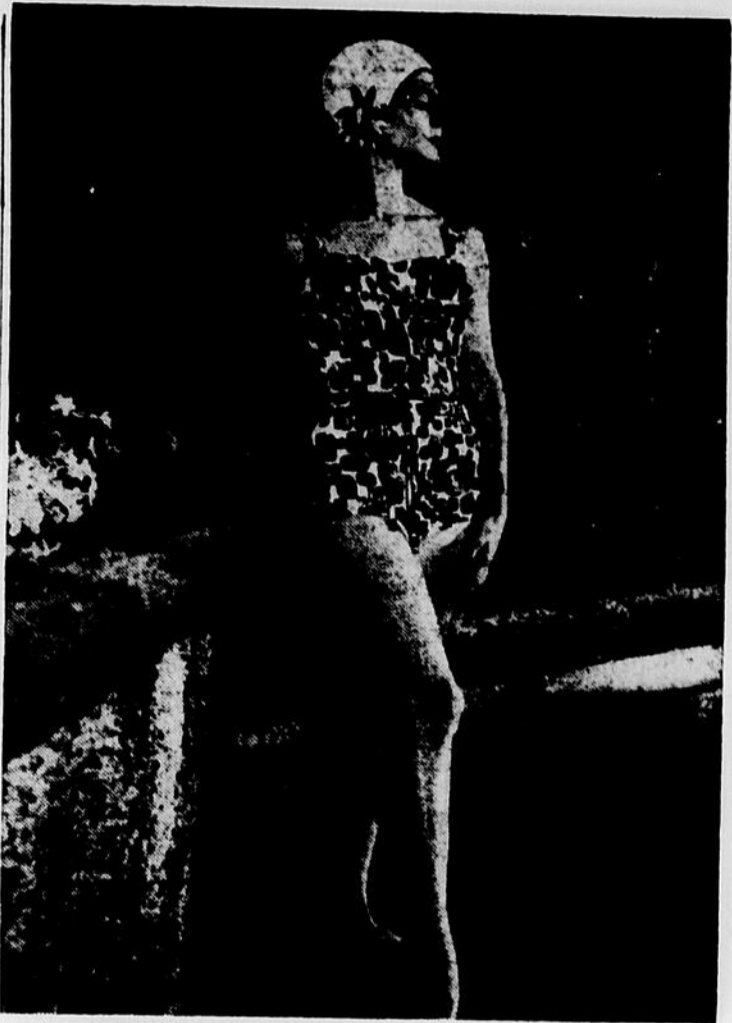

DEAR WIFE: An unresolved suspicion is neither healthy nor fun to live with. If your husband does not appreciate these calls, he can put a stop to them by telling his "ex" in more emphatic language. If he "enjoys" them, you have another problem. You are competing with a poor loser who might be angling for another bout.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I have been going steady for three years and plan to be married this fall. When I was 15 (I am now 22), I had a child out of wedlock. My parents are raising her as their own child. Everyone thinks she is my younger sister. I told my boy friend all about it, and he said he didn't care about the past. I believe him, too. Abby, before I marry him I think his parents should be told about my mistake. He says he won't tell them, and as long as my parents plan to raise my little girl as their own, no one needs to know. I think his parents deserve to know all about me. Am I right? Or do you agree with my boy friend?

TROUBLED CONSCIENCE

DEAR TROUBLED: I agree with your boy friend.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

ROCK-A-BYE BABY

By C. ROBERT GRUVER
Editor, All About Babies

Some babies sleep without any trouble. Others, like adults, are born bad sleepers.

Slight disturbances wake them up. The born bad sleepers frequently lie awake for hours after being put to bed. Sometimes babies will lie awake in order to attract attention.

These discoveries emerged

DEAR ABBY: I am 45 years old and have been married almost 15 years. My wife is a good cook, a good housekeeper and a good woman. She has one bad fault. She will spend lots of time watering her African violets, her one passion in life, but she never asks me if I want a drink of water. I am well able to get myself a drink of water, but it would be nice if she would offer it to me once in a while. Am I wrong?

MR. R.T.K.

DEAR MR. K.: You are the first man I have ever heard from who is jealous of an African violet! Don't suppress your anger. Emulate the competition. Turn purple and say, "I'm thirsty, Darling... will you water me, too?" And don't be surprised if she tells you you are already all wet or simply to dry up!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I like to work in my shop some evenings after supper. I do so almost every evening. My problem is this. A neighbor girl, 16, keeps coming into my shop to watch me work. I enjoy her company, but my wife is afraid the neighbors will get the wrong idea. What can I do to keep everybody happy?

MAN WITH A HOBBY

DEAR MAN: No one can keep "everybody happy." But for a start, tell Sweet 16 (sweetly) that she should spend more time on her homework and less on your shop work. P.S. Tell "wifey" to grow up, too.

from a review of medical literature dealing with the management of healthy babies who won't sleep.

Doctors list a few of the more common causes of sleeplessness:

Teething, too much light, gastro-intestinal distress, a tight abdominal binder, unsuitable underwear, a knotty mattress, a poorly made bed, or insufficient bedclothes leading to cold hands and feet and discomfort caused by a wet or soiled diaper.

If sleeplessness persists, the first thing is to consult your doctor to rule out any organic disturbance.

Then look to the baby's comfort. A loose sleeping bag will keep the baby from being uncovered. Most babies like flannel pajamas a hard, smooth mattress covered with a blanket and a flannel sheet. Tight clothing should be avoided, and the baby should always be freshly diapered.

A professional diaper service will always assure a ready supply of clean, processed diapers.

If the baby is afraid of the dark, there should be a small light in the room. A warm bath at night has the effect of soothing many babies and promoting their sleep. A quiet period before bedtime is recommended.

If your baby understands, you may find it sometimes helps to suggest that its eyes look tired, that it looks sleepy and will very soon be fast asleep.

Dr. Morris Witkin, a pediatrician, has this suggestion for handling the difficult baby:

"To insist on sleep where there is no desire is senseless, for sleep will not be commanded. One cannot stampee a child to sleep. To smack him or use corporal punishment is disastrous. Postpone bedtime an hour or so.

Then put the baby to bed, letting it know all further — tom foolery will be ignored. The child must read in the mother's voice and gather from the tone of her voice that she is determined to have her way. Once the child realizes the futility of resistance, the battle is won.

They are: Mrs. M. Tucker, Mrs. M. Darling, Mrs. Greer Wootton and Mrs. E. Eberts.

French Fortnight for $ 33

Course underway at LCC

An intensive two-week course in French conversation has started for 77 boys at Lower Canada College under the direction of Eric Essex, head of the French department.

The students are divided into groups of about 12 to allow each maximum instructor time.

Mr. Essex is assisted by R. Jensen, a French teacher at the college, and four French-Canadian instructors, three of whom are from the University of Montreal.

The hours of the course are from 8:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m., Monday to Friday inclusive. The aim is to improve comprehension and fluency, said Dr. D. S. Penton, headmaster. He added: "French only will be spoken at all times. Neither formal grammar study, nor written exercises will be done. The only written work will be dictations, vocabulary and voluntary note taking."

"Activities will include prayers in French, phonetic training, story reproduction, oral compositions, talks on Canadian history and civilization, study of news in the press and on the radio, discussions of simple everyday topics, and films."

The classes have been opened to boys at present in forms 8, 9 and 10. The cost of the course has been fixed at $33, including $3 for books. It is planned to have two afternoon excursions, either to local universities of a factory where French only is spoken. This is to provide fuller opportunity for the hearing of French under different circumstances.

Jets, Giants, White Sox cop softball titles

The Jets won the championships in the Mosquito section of the Westmount municipal Softball Leagues.

The Giants took the Pee Wee crown, and the Braves walked off with the Bantam title.

The championship rosters are listed:

Did You Know That?

The hit-and-run play isn't a hit-and-run-play at all. Since the runner takes off before the batter swings, it really is the run-and-hit play.

When Joe DiMaggio hit safely in 56 straight games back in 1941 he picked up one hit in 34 of 'em, two hits in 13, three hits in five and four hits in four.

The entire gate receipts when Detroit played a 15-game "World Series" with St. Louis back in 1887 totalled exactly $41,050.03.

Manager Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels walked 46,470 feet last season . . . or almost nine miles . . . from the dugout to the mound to change pitchers or talk to them. He changed 'em 353 times.

Mosquito Champions Jets

Stuart Cooper—Capt. Michael Newton, Bobby Tanner, George Gaty, Randy Skelton, Douglas Collier, Abbie Shacter, Lawrence Shragge, Peter Roberts, Pierre Leclair, Robbie Driscoll, Christopher Smith, Richard Brott, Martin Cukerman, Kelly Cavanagh.

Pee Wee Champions Giants

Bantam Champions White Sox

Quitting Time

When Birdie Tebbetts managed the Cincinnati Reds he had a player with a drinking problem.

"I went to the bar where I knew this boy loafed," Tebbetts recalled. "I asked the bartender about him and he replied, 'Don't worry, Mr. Tebbetts. I watch over him pretty close. Besides, he knows when he's had enough.'"

"Not long after, this player walks into the place and orders a double martini. He downed that in a hurry. He asks for a second drink and a third and gulps them both down. Then he falls off the stool to the floor.

"The bartender comes over to me and says, 'See. Didn't I tell you he quits when he's had enough?'"
