Plans For Permanent Peace In Korea Are Taking Shape

Washington — (AP) — Plans to make a permanent peace for Korea and perhaps negotiate with the Communists on other critical Far Eastern issues are beginning to shape up here as truce prospects brighten.

One idea receiving official consideration, it was understood today, is that any long-term peace arrangements should provide for a north-south dividing line at the narrow waist of the peninsula about 80 miles north of present battle lines.

Under provisions already worked out, an armistice would become effective along this present line. However, some authorities here believe this would not make a workable division of the country over a long period.

The battle line is generally already north of Parallel 38, which divided North and South Korea before the Red attack.

The belief is that the South Korean government would accept a border at the Korean waist since this would give it control over approximately 85 per cent of the country.

Six Officers Are Injured In Germany

Zweibruecken — Six RCAF officers, including Air Vice-Marshal Hugh L. Campbell, chief of Canada's air forces under NATO, were seriously injured yesterday when their twin-engine C-45 Beechcraft crashed near this United States air base during an emergency landing attempt.

The condition of two of the officers, whose names were withheld, is "critical," a U.S. air force spokesman said today. The condition of the other four was described as serious but not critical.

Headquarters of the Allied Air Forces Central Europe at Fontainebleau, France, announced the extent of the injuries to the high-ranking RCAF officers, but did not list the one in critical condition.

Campbell, 44, air officer commanding the RCAF No. 1 air division, and Air Commodore Keith Hodson, 37, of London, Ont., and Halifax, his chief of staff, both suffered compression fractures of the spine.

Earlier German doctors at the U.S. military hospital at Landstuhl, where the injured were taken, said that Campbell, a native of Salisbury, N.B., suffered injuries to his spine and head, and that his right leg was broken in several places.

Group Capt. Richard M. Cox, 37, of Sioux Lookout, Ont., senior air staff officer, suffered compound leg fractures. Cox was aide-de-camp to the Queen, then Princess Elizabeth, and the Duke of Edinburgh on the 1951 royal tour of Canada.

Flt. Lt. Ross Gooder of Ottawa and Toronto, pilot of the plane, had his spinal column damaged. He was reported the most severely injured of the six officers.

Wing Cmdr. R. A. Ashman, 37, of Ottawa, senior personnel officer, and Flt. Lt. W. Uhrh of Lucky Lake, Sask., suffered facial cuts.

As a result of the crash, three of Canada's top air officers will be unavailable for duty for at least six weeks.

The plane developed engine trouble a few minutes after taking off from Zweibruecken for 1st division headquarters in the NATO setup near Paris.

Zweibruecken is a Rhineland city near the Saar border less than 20 miles east of the Saar capital of Saarbruecken.

The Canadian officers had gone to Zweibruecken to watch the arrival of three squadrons of Canadian-built Sabre jets, which came from Canada via St. Hubert, Que., Labrador, Greenland, Iceland and Scotland.

The Beechcraft was just seven minutes airborne when Flt. Lt. Gooder tried to make an emergency landing. The plane struck a tree and plunged to the ground near Boeckingen, just inside the Saar border.

A U.S. air force spokesman said the plane radioed it had developed engine trouble shortly after the take off.

Eyewitnesses first spotted the plane in trouble at 600 feet. They said the plane's engines cut off before crashing. Within 10 minutes after the first alarm was sounded, ambulances reached the scene.

Total Is Described As "Incredibly Small" By Chief Allied Negotiator.

Munsan, Korea — (AP) — The Communists said today they are ready to send home 600 disabled prisoners of war — a figure that includes only 150 Americans and other United Nations soldiers.

The chief Allied negotiator, Rear-Admiral John Daniel, told the Communists their figure was "incredibly small," and asked "that you have these figures reviewed."

He said later, however, that "I have no reason to believe at the present time that they are not acting in good faith."

The UN command offered to return 5,800 sick and wounded Communists—5,100 North Koreans and 700 Chinese. This is seven per cent of the 83,000 pro-Communist prisoners and four per cent of all prisoners held by the Allies.

The only Canadian listed in the United States armed forces list of prisoners obtained from the Communists is Gnr. John Jenkins, Royal Canadian Artillery of Hamilton, Ont.

Both sides named lower-level staff officers to work out administrative details of the exchange. The staff officers went into session immediately after the liaison groups adjourned for the day.

Daniel asked the Communists for a complete revised text of the draft agreement on transfer of sick and wounded, so the UN command could consider any changes "in one package and arrive speedily to the terms which are controversial." The Communists have agreed to the main points of Daniel's plan, and said they will submit their versions of the rest.

The Allied protest on the Communist offer was the stiffest statement yet made in the three-day conference. It was the first note of discord in the otherwise smooth negotiations which Tuesday resulted in agreement in principle to exchange disabled POWs.

North Korea Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho told Daniel "We have offered the figures of sick and injured prisoners of war only after we have checked the matter in detail. Accordingly, I cannot find any reason why the figures are incredibly small."

Daniel told reporters the figure is "controversial." It depends on what category you put them in," he said. "In other words, how sick is a man?"

UN sources said possible reasons for the relatively few prisoners the Reds will return include: 1. The Reds may claim some of the Allied troops they hold have embraced communism and decline repatriation.

2. A final, and more dismaying explanation may be found in the Reds' policy of "liberating" captured soldiers at the front. The Communists have captured many more UN troops than they admit. Some UN estimates place the total at 65,000.

The talks resume Thursday at 11 a.m. 9 p.m. EST Wednesday.

21 Terrorists Killed In Kenya

Nairobi, Kenya — (AP) — Security forces killed 21 Mau Mau terrorists in clashes yesterday, it was officially announced today.

The Mau Mau—the hidden ones—are African tribesmen who seek to drive the white settlers from this British colony.

The raid included six of a band of 100 who attacked a mission in the Aberdare foothills, bent on carrying out a Mau Mau execution order against a Roman Catholic priest, Rev. P. J. McGill. Warned by friendly Kikuyu tribesmen, Rev. McGill made an eight-mile trip through Mau Mau territory to the nearest police post. A patrol was sent out and intercepted the raiders, killing half a dozen of them.

Crippled Goose Will Be Flown To Canada

Greenwich, Conn. — All's well with the feathered world today. A crippled Canada goose, lying in salt water off this picturesque town for several days, is going to be able to fly home to Canada by plane.

Canada finally got the bird yesterday when Governor John Davis Lodge of Connecticut yielded to an appeal by the Canadian government, allowing the 15-pound goose to rejoin its kinfolk in a freshwater sanctuary at Kingsville, Ont.

Canada wildlife authorities had claimed that lying in the salt waters of Point Byram, in Long Island Sound off Greenwich, was bad for the bird.

Ray Lawson, Canadian consul-general in New York, who directed the appeal to Lodge, expressed his appreciation and recalled the traditional friendship between the people of Canada and the United States.

All that remains is to catch the goose—which Capt. Amos L. Horst, executive-secretary of the Wildlife Restoration Foundation at Point Byram, will attempt today.

For five years a flock of wild Canadian geese has been migrating seasonally between the Kingsville Bird Refuge and Point Byram.

When the flock here late in March for Canada one bird, whose ruler feathers had been shot off during the winter, could not take flight with the rest.

Horst said he saw two geese return and try unsuccessfully to lift the crippled bird. The story is told by the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, who will go to Paris for a meeting of the military standing group of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization April 16. Wilson will go first to Germany, then to Paris for the NATO defence ministers' meetings.

Adenauer Seeks Financial Aid To Handle Refugees

Washington — (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was reported today seeking special United States financial help in handling floods of refugees from Communist-ruled East Germany.

This problem, with other tough economic and trade issues, was up for discussion today with State Secretary John Foster Dulles, Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen and other top American officials.

Adenauer was reported hopeful of U.S. financial backing for building big housing projects in West Germany, mainly to help absorb refugees.

About 1,500 men, women and children daily are slipping through the Iron Curtain into Western Berlin.

OPEN DOOR TO NEGOTIATIONS — Communist representatives arrive in Panmunjom to meet with truce negotiators to discuss the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners of war.

The Reds made the first move to open the discussions. Meanwhile, Soviet and satellite nations have lent their guarded approval to such a move.

Canadian Wives Like Life In Germany Despite Official Opposition By Army

Ottawa — Open season has been declared in the Commons on Hon. Alphonse Fournier and his public works department.

The season on demands for things from new post offices to dredging jobs comes once a year to the minister in the Commons, and he now is up to his neck in it. Election year apparently has sharpened up matters.

Mr. Fournier, who has the final say on spending some $121,000,000 on many projects close to the political hearts of members, faces the Commons each session as his estimates are going through. His 1953-54 estimates began the voyage through the House last night.

Up to the time the House rose, Mr. Fournier had not been able to get one of his 43 major items of estimates passed. Various requests kept the House occupied through the night session. The members may be back at him today.

In other fields yesterday, as the Commons reassembled from its Easter recess, it plunged into a debate on whether there should be some Canadian version of "parity" prices for farm products.

After a debate, the Liberal majority beat down, by a vote of 74 to 34, a Progressive Conservative motion saying that "consideration should be given by the government to the advisability of introducing, during the current session, legislation to provide floor prices for agricultural products at such levels as to ensure producers a fair price-cost relationship."

The motion of John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) an amendment to a government motion to go into committee of supply, was tantamount to a call for want-of-confidence in the government.

It was supported by the Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit parties. The Liberals voted solidly against it.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said agriculture needs to have its prices linked to the cost of production—a form of parity pricing, he said, assurance of long-term markets.

Man prisoners still held by the Soviet Union. In arguing against any slow-down of the West's defence drive, Adenauer emphasized Russia's continued armaments build-up. He cited the thousands of Soviet jet fighters on 25 East German airfields, all within 40 minutes flying time of his capital at Bonn, and the 300 Russian and satellite divisions in Eastern Europe.

Apart from the discussions with Adenauer, the U.S. was reported to have worked out a new approach to the problem of Western European defence, based on a long pull for 20 to 30 years, rather than preparing for a "crisis year."

Planning originally was aimed largely at readiness to meet a Soviet threat at a time when it was considered most likely. A recent target date was 1954.

Archbishop Vachon Paid Last Tribute

Ottawa — Funeral services were held today for Most Rev. Alexander Vachon, 87, archbishop of Ottawa, with celebration of solemn requiem mass in the basilica.

In the black and gold-draped setting of Notre Dame Cathedral the body of the sixth bishop of Ottawa rested before the high altar during the service.

Three princes of the church, more than 60 archbishops and bishops, representatives of the government, diplomatic corps and judiciary, and hundreds of clergy and lay attended the funeral of the spiritual leader of some 500,000 Roman Catholics.

While the choir chanted requiem hymns, Most Rev. Ildebrando Antonutti, apostolic delegate to Canada, offered the same simple funeral mass chanted for all members of the church.

In the sanctuary were three leaders of North American Catholics—Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, James Cardinal McGuire of Toronto and Paul-Emile Cardinal LeGardeur of Montreal. Flanking them were prelates from dioceses across Canada and from as far away as Haiti and Labrador.

At the conclusion of the mass, the officiating clergy turned toward the coffin and the choir began the singing of the Libera service. In a solemn ceremony, five bishops lifted their arms in benediction over the body of Archbishop Vachon.

After the service, the coffin remained in the cathedral to enable the laity of the archdiocese to pay their last respects. Later it will be removed to the basement chapel where, in a crypt cut in stone walls, it will be placed beside the bodies of Msgr. Vachon's five predecessors.

Archbishop Vachon, who mingled priesthood, scientific studies and public service in an active life, died suddenly March 30 at the municipal airport at Dallas, Texas, in the midst of a three and a half-month visit to Latin America and Australia.

He had been on his way to Sydney, Australia, to attend a Eucharistic congress as president of the permanent committee of the international Eucharistic Congresses.

The cardinals and bishops at today's service represented the most impressive gathering of Catholic hierarchy in Ottawa since the Marian Congress in 1947. That congress—a week of devotions and prayers for peace—was organized by Archbishop Vachon and was a high point in the life of the archdiocese. It was recognized by the Pope with an appointment of Msgr. Vachon to the college of assistants to the Papal throne, and even raised speculation that Archbishop Vachon might be made a cardinal.

Among the prelates at the funeral were Archbishop Georges Casanova, Sherbrooke; Archbishop Charles E. Parent, Rimouski; Archbishop Maurice Roy, Quebec City, and Archbishop Norbert Robitaille, Moncton.

Archbishop Vachon, last of 13 children born to a family at St. Raymond, Que., is survived by one brother and one sister. Both were present today. Louis A. Vachon of Providence, R.I., and Mrs. Henri Rinfret of Quebec City.

Also present was a 10-man delegation from Laval University at Quebec, where Archbishop Vachon taught and studied from 1911 to 1939, first as a professor of chemistry.

In December, 1939, he was summoned to become archbishop-coadjutor of Ottawa archdiocese. He was consecrated two months later and on May 22, 1940, became archbishop on the death of Most Rev. J. G. Forbes who had collapsed during the consecration service.

Battle Over Disarmament Plans Will Be Renewed

United Nations, N.Y. — (AP) — The United States was reported today to fight a new Russian manoeuvre in the long-deadlocked United Nations battle over disarmament plans.

The general assembly was due to consider Russian amendments to a proposed resolution continuing the work of the UN disarmament commission. The Russians want to take out instructions for the commission to base its work on previously approved—but Russian-rejected—Western proposals for supervised, step-by-step arm reduction.

Fine Paper Firms Will Be Prosecuted

Ottawa — The government will prosecute fine paper manufacturers and merchandising companies on charge of operating an illegal price-fixing combine in the $50,000,000 industry, Justice Minister Garson told the Commons Tuesday.

Combines Commissioner T. D. MacDonald reported to the government Nov. 6 after four years of investigation that seven fine paper mills and 37 merchant companies, virtually the entire Canadian fine paper industry, were engaged in an illegal combine.

Exactly which of the 44 companies will be prosecuted has not yet been determined. The minister said question of whether to launch prosecutions had been under study for the last few months by Norman L. Mathews of Toronto.

Mr. Garson said Mr. Mathews had found that evidence supplied by the combines commissioner justified prosecution of "some or all" of the manufacturers and some or all of the merchants. Mr. Mathews had been instructed to proceed with the prosecutions.

Companies involved are those which produce or sell paper used in publishing books, magazines, writing paper and envelopes, but not newspapers. The government is scheduled to launch prosecutions at Toronto today against 19 rubber companies for allegedly running a combine. It also has under consideration a report alleging existence of a combine in the coarse paper industry.

The combines commissioner contended in his report that the fine paper companies, spread from Halifax to Vancouver, used "loyalty" discounts and other means to restrict competition and combined in one or more groups to maintain prices at fixed levels "detached from the public interest."

He suggested that tariffs on imported fine paper products be cut as one way to inject new competition into the industry, which allegedly had operated a combine for the last 17 years.

Companies alleged to have been involved in the combine include: MILLS Canada Paper Co., Montreal; The E. B. Eddy Co., Hull, Que.; Howard Smith Paper Mills Ltd., Montreal; Rolland Paper Co. Ltd., Montreal.

They have coffee sessions two or three times a week in one another's homes, and every Wednesday they have lunch at the Tiersgarten Officers' Club for 70 cents. Usually between 20 and 40 turn out.

They are not allowed to have them into the mess except for one mess function a month, for which official permission is needed.

Like the soldiers, officers may not get overnight passes and are expected to sleep in barracks.

Another battalion commanding officer said: "Maintaining a brigade in Europe means married quarters, schools, hospitals, chapels, the whole undertaking of building a settled Canadian Army base here. If we can build $250,000,000 air bases we can certainly afford to make army service abroad attractive too."

"This would have operational consequences. It would mean normal three-year postings, either abroad or at home, with families. It would vastly reduce factors like crime and other troubles, loss of time (on one-year foreign postings the army gets something like nine months' service) and it would eliminate the need for a back-up brigade at Valcartier."

For themselves the wives say they knew they'd likely see their husbands only week-ends and the occasional evening.

Mrs. Scott said jokingly: "I'm going to divorce mine as soon as I get back. I'm only waiting to be sure I do get back."

Then, seriously: "When we do get back we are going to appreciate things a lot more—our washing machines, our freedom, our Canadian way of life."

The women say food costs about the same as in Canada, except for good quality meat, which is much cheaper, "especially the steaks."

Mrs. Herbert Brewster of Parry Sound, Ont., added: "Their pork isn't up to Canadian standards, but their hams are good."

Mrs. Scott said coffee was "fantastically expensive." Eggs were cheap and butter was "about the same as home."

The women live with either British or German families. A room with three meals a day and maid service in a British home can cost about $90 a month. For about $30 one can have one or two rooms in a German home and the use of the kitchen for one meal a day.

German apartments, furnished, cost upwards of $100 a month.

The girls see a lot of one another, "puttering around, putting in time," they say.

They have coffee sessions two or three times a week in one another's homes, and every Wednesday they have lunch at the Tiersgarten Officers' Club for 70 cents. Usually between 20 and 40 turn out.

CYNIC FAVORS CAGING ACTORS JUST LIKE ODD BIRDS

Hollywood—The Laugh Parade: A night-club sequence in a new Columbia film, "Cruisin' Down the River," features an odd character actor in his shoulder, a parakeet perched on his shoulder. When the bird was brought off stage after the scene, a trainer picked it up and put it back in its cage.

A cynical publicity man sighed, "If all actors were put into cages after their scenes, what a wonderful place Hollywood would be."

A couple of tourists who obviously never had seen a movie company at work watched wide-eyed as U-I's "You Belong To Me" company went into action on a pier in San Diego.

They seemed particularly fascinated by Jack Bolger, a member of the sound crew, Jack was wearing plastic ear plugs to "tune in" the dialog and was holding a mike on a long boom which he held over the scene every time the actors spoke.

Finally one of the tourist said to the other: "Gosh, that guy REALLY must be hard of hearing."

Mushrooms Taste Better When Ripe, Robert Flood Tells Local Rotarians

Mushrooms, like wine are better when they've aged a bit, Robert Flood, business manager of Slack Brothers, Waterloo, told the Rotary Club last night. In an address "Much Ado About Mushrooms," Mr. Flood said that "people like to buy mushrooms when they are white and we have to cater to them."
"But we hope that while they buy them on Monday they won't eat them until Friday. Mushrooms, like wine, taste better when they are ripe."
The speaker stated that mushrooms are "entirely homogeneous" and they don't have to be peeled, (that is only a waste of food) just wash them properly. Mushrooms need not go bad and should be cooked slowly. Attempts to fry them, such as for use on steaks, might well spoil not only the mushrooms but the steaks as well.
Mr. Flood said that mushroom spores may be windblown many miles but do not grow everywhere because "they are fussy about what they eat." The food they like best is manure.
Mushrooms are grown in the dark only because they require a cool temperature, he said.
Over at Slack Brothers (a walk around whose mushroom works is 18 1/2 miles), mushrooms are refrigerated from 23 hours (up to six if time permits) to protect them from the heat of freight cars and aircraft.
Mr. Flood spoke a little about the growing of mushrooms and said that in the last stages a layer of very poor (sterilized) soil is put on the mushroom bed. The mushrooms then see that their happy existence is endangered and send up their fruits.
Mushrooms, the speaker said, are quite high in protein, have large amounts of iron and copper (ingredients sadly lacking in the North American diet) and are the highest single source of Vitamin "D," with the exception of yeast. "I would rather eat mushrooms than yeast," said Mr. Flood.

Mr. Flood told of some recipes with mushrooms, with maple syrup and with cream cucumbers, both of which he heartily recommended to the Rotarians. Mushrooms may be grown in one's basement but this invites numerous flies and a strong ammonia odor. "We at Slack Brothers spend $30,000 to $40,000 a year for insect control," he said.

The speaker was introduced by Charles Parkin and thanked by E. W. Gilbey. In keeping with the occasion a side order of mushrooms on toast was served with the steak dinner and songleader Tom Keeley created a somewhat mushroomy effect with "chorus waves" during Annie Laurie.

Three new Rotarians were inducted by past president, Lee M. Watson. Sponsored by Frank Simms, Rev. R. C. Tait and Cliff Bryant, the new members are Don Barron, David Green and John P. Mathias.

B. D. Lyon announced that more than fifty local Rotarians would attend the district conference at Burlington, Vt., April 9-11. While the local group is staying at the Colonial Motor Court, registrations for the conference are to be made at the Hotel Vermont.

Lyman Tomkins introduced one visiting Rotarian — Ralph Spade Jr., of Vergennes, Vt., and seven guests: Gordon LeBaron, W. F. Steele, Jim Crochetiere, Hector MacTae and Douglas Howard, all of Sherbrooke; J. S. Hamilton, Lennoxville; and John St. Marie, Toronto.

President Lewis Rosenbloom was in the chair for the meeting and seated at the head table with him were: Douglas Stevenson, Mr. Watson, Austin Dineen, Mr. Gilbey, Mr. Flood, Mr. Parkin, Hubert Armstrong and D. J. Salls.

Judge Must Observe Parking Rules

Should a judge be exempt from the provisions of the municipal no parking regulations?
This question was raised at the regular session of the Sherbrooke City Council last evening and decided in the negative without debate.

The issue arose over a letter from Police Chief Edouard Morcau enclosing a letter from Mr. Justice Louis Philippe Cliche and delivered to the Police Chief by the Prothonotary of the Superior Court.

The judge's letter, resulting from the recent ticketing of His Honor's car, demanded that in the interests of the administration of justice judges and lawyers be given certain parking privileges in the vicinity of the court house.

The chief's accompanying letter asked for instructions from the Council in this connection.

And he received them without much discussion on the part of the aldermen.

Ald. Henri Labonne, chairman of the general administration committee, declared that there was a free municipal parking ground within easy walking distance of the court house that was available for judges or anybody else.

Furthermore, he said bluntly, traffic laws applied to everybody—whether judge, alderman or anyone else—and that it was incumbent upon a judge to be the first to respect the law.

Therefore, he moved a resolution that the Chief of Police be instructed to apply the law and exempt nobody, even a judge, from its provisions.

This was seconded by Ald. Carl Camirand, acting chairman of the protection committee, and adopted without any further discussion.

The parking question provided the highlight of an otherwise dull and draw-out session, which started almost two hours late, went through routine for about five minutes and then adjourned while the aldermen went into a star chamber huddle. When they came out again about midnight, they resumed business.

They adopted thirteen resolutions further amending the recently-amended loan by-laws to provide that interest and principal be payable in Toronto as well as Montreal, Quebec and Sherbrooke and authorized the incorporation of The Fairplay Bridle and Saddle Club.

Ald. Labonne addressed a series of questions to the protection committee, asking:
1—How many tickets for traffic by-law infractions had been issued since January 1?
2—How many had paid fines?
3—How many had received suspended sentences?
4—How many charges had been withdrawn?

CGE Appliances Train Visits Sherbrooke

Sherbrooke was visited by an unusual train yesterday and many observers believe that it may well be the first stage of a new system of producer-distributor sales meeting procedures. The train, which made its stop here yesterday, is nearing the end of a coast-to-coast trip that started in Vancouver on March 10 and is due to end in Halifax tomorrow night.

The main part of the display, which was organized by the Canadian General Electric Company, Ltd., to acquaint its dealers and their staffs in all the major cities and towns of Canada with the company's 1953 lines of appliances, was housed in three standard baggage cars, each of which has been converted into miniature theatres, each equipped with fixed seats and full theatrical equipment.

At Sherbrooke, as at other stopping points along the way, the dealers and their personnel were presented with a series of demonstration meetings in each of the three cars. In each case, a group of new CGE appliances was displayed on revolving stages and their salient features were pointed out and discussed with dealers and their staffs by senior division sales officials.

The first car was known as the "roto cold car" in which were displayed five new G-E refrigerators as well as the food freezers, including the twin system refrigerator, the model that provides two appliances for the price of one.
Next was the "push-button car" with a complete line of electric ranges that which attracted most attention from the dealers was the RD 42, with push button control which cooks by color.
The third car displayed washing machines and similar appliances. Although the train was not open to the public, it is believed by General Electric officials that the public will benefit substantially from this novel sales conversion technique. Commenting upon the train, E. D. Greene, manager of sales of the major appliance department, who is in charge of the exhibit said:

Cesare Siepi Is Heard In Fine Program

The Community Concert Association last night treated a large Sherbrooke audience to the rare delicacy of a one-time La Scala "pillar" of opera and the presently top-notch bass of New York's Metropolitan Opera — Cesare Siepi, who won completely the approval of his listeners, at the Granada Theatre.

Expressive of his own appreciation of the reception given him here, Mr. Siepi dotted an already colorful program with encores of his own obviously spontaneous selection. Included were Tarantella Sincera by Di Crescenzo, Malis by Denza, Les Breaux by Faure, Aprile un Po' Quelli Occhi from the Marriage of Figaro and I Te Vurria Vasa by Di Capua.

Having performed before New York's Metropolitan audience his true ability and artistic accomplishments in his role as Mephistopheles in Gounod's Faust, he last night as much as asked Sherbrookeers what they thought of it with the Serenade of Mephistopheles. The reaction to Siepi's voluminous voice and the derisive laughter that punctuates the Serenade was tremendous.

The selections of a lighter and more lusty vein were also received with great enthusiasm, especially Le Femmine d'Italia by Rossini, an example that expressed his ability for the characterization of wit and humor; Der Misenehn by Schubert where he felt the full pastoral freedom of nature and the spirited anticipation of love's passion.

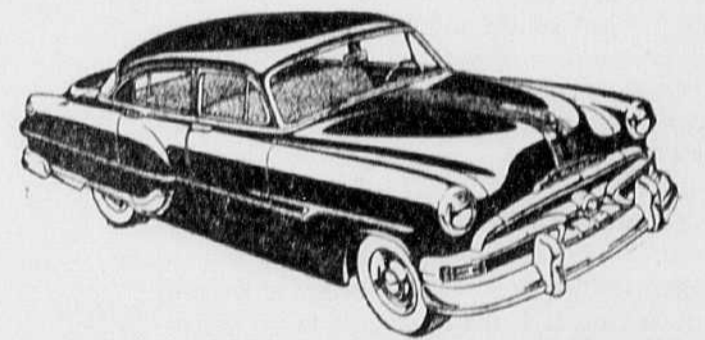

Meeting a quarter of his audience on their own ground, Mr. Siepi sang four songs in the English language, Sleep and Pretty Ring Time, both by Peter Warlock, Colorado Trail arranged by Celius Dougherty and I Rise When You Enter by Theodore Chanler, the last of which had a peculiar fascination for the listener with its out-of-the-ordinary melody.

Concluding the program was O tu Palermo, from I Vespri Siciliani by Verdi, a perfectly beautiful aria in the deeply felt tone of a patriot whose life is his country and whose intent is the sacrifice of life's blood in a battle that is about to be staged in defence of his beloved Sicily.

The company operates five pulp and paper mills at Three Rivers, East Angus and Dolbeau, Que., and Red Rock and Nipigon, Ont.

MRS. B. W. MURRAY Continued From Page 3

The subdivision was well represented at the archdiocesan convention held in Richmond, and at the provincial convention, in Drummondville.

Thanks were expressed to Rev. Father J. R. Moisan, for unfailing interest and kindly counsel and for the gift to the league, of a beautiful statue of Our Lady of Lourdes.

Appreciation was also expressed to the English and French Press for generous space given to league activities; and to the Radio Stations, CKTS and CHLT for airing announcements.

The secretary voiced the regrets of the members at the imminent prospects of losing a valued member in the person of Mrs. R. C. Winslade, a past subdivision president, a past social service convener and for many years an incessant worker in any project for the furthering of league endeavors.

Miss Walsh, on behalf of the members, thanked Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, retiring president for fine leadership and untiring devotion during her two year term of office; and Miss Yvette Campbell, retiring first vice-president, for active co-operation in every phase of league work.

To all members and their friends, the secretary expressed appreciation of their efforts to assist the subdivision to carry out its league motto, "For God and Canada."

Mrs. F. Steben, treasurer, submitted the following financial report: Receipts accrued from fees, money raising projects and donations, plus $500 received from Catholic Charities campaign, $100 from Rotary Club and $100 grant from City ($700 transferred to social service account) totalled $1,711.94.

Expenditures, (including $700 above mentioned) covered donations to campaigns for blind, Red Cross, V.O.N., Holy Father's Relief Fund, priestly vocations in parish, picnic, Sts. of Assumption, Christmas cheer, Canadian Legion, missionary endeavors, parent-teacher Association, $50; prizes, Sts. of Service, etc., to the amount of $1,709.34.

Report of correspondence, read by Mrs. L. P. Leveque, corresponding secretary, showed that 29 letters and cards had been received and 12 letters expressing sympathy, congratulations or thanks had been written.

Miss Gladys Mullins, submitting the report of spiritual activities, said a day of continuous prayer, in honor of Our Lady of Fatima, for peace and the defeat of communism, was held the first Saturday of May; a marked increase in attendance at the monthly Holy Hour, when a special speaker is provided by the C.W.L.; and increase of members for Corporate Communion had been evident; 10 members participated in the closed retreat; a guard of honor was maintained during the Forty Hours and similar occasion when the Blessed Sacrament is exposed; a representative attendance was noted at the public Corpus Christi procession; flowers for decoration of the altar in St. Patrick's Church were donated.

Fire Damages East Ward House

The two-storey wooden construction, brick-cased home of Alphonse Vaillancourt, 1067 Council Street, was heavily damaged by fire this morning.

The fire started in an upstairs bedroom and a three-year-old son, Michel, informed the household with his cries of "fire, fire."

Most of the furniture was saved but some of the furniture and clothing is a total loss. The walls upstairs were burned right through in some places but the outside of the house was not damaged.

Firemen, under the direction of Director Percy Donahue, kept the blaze under control and confined the flames to the inside.

Using "fog control" the firemen had the blaze under control within less than ten minutes. A shed at the rear of the building was not damaged nor was a garage containing a new car.

Neighbors helped remove the furniture which was placed on the front lawn and at the rear. clothing, 20 pairs shoes-rubbers, material for two layettes and sheets, $175.93; miscellaneous, $277.46; 13 Christmas dinners, toys and clothing; 21 boxes good used clothing, averaging 100 pieces.

Miss Walsh thanked the convener and members of the sewing circle who in a very short period had completed seven garments. The convener expressed thanks to the administrators of the Catholic Charities for allotment of $500; the Rotary Club, $100; the City for $100; and to the Lions Club for having supplied a needy family with milk for a period of three months, all for social service in St. Patrick's parish, operated by the C. W. L.

Miss Walsh also voiced appreciation to Father Moisan and Father Clark, Miss Anna Plamondon, treasurer of committee, the president, Mrs. Winslade, and all who had helped in relief work.

Miss Yvette Campbell, convener of education, reported the following: Activities in the educational field included payment of subscriptions to the Ensign and the Catholic Digest for the benefit of the "Reading Room" patrons of the Sherbrooke Library.

$5 each was donated to Mont Notre Dame and to St. Patrick's Academy for year-end prizes, and $25 to the Canon Fissette Memorial Library.

A circular letter emphasizing the urgency of "Bringing Christ Back to Christmas" was forwarded to the Chambers of commerce and to the merchants of the City. Though much remains to be done, the campaign to "Bring Christ Back to Christmas," gained a bit in momentum this year.

The Parent Teachers' Association—a project launched through the initiative of league members—is proving its worth and numbers among its accomplishments the obtaining of a French teacher for the pupils of St. Patrick's Academy.

In order to secure samples of objectionable literature to be used by the National Council in the campaign being waged against salacious reading matter and illustrations, two Sherbrooke subdivision members investigated one of the news stands and found there very convincing evidence of the necessity of safeguarding young people from this type of publication.

To mark the observance of Catholic Book Week, Miss Gladys Mullins addressed the Sherbrooke subdivision members on the subject of good reading, stressing the advantages of the Canon Fissette Memorial Library, which contains books to suit all tastes—and also the necessity of being well informed Catholics.

The C.W.L. Book Club held semi-monthly meetings under the chairmanship of Miss Loretta Steele. The program comprised the recitation of the "Our Father" as the opening prayer; a chapter or more of the New Testament; reading also from Whittaker Chambers' timely and important book "Witness"; the reviewing of two books, "The Autobiography of a Hunted Priest" by John Gerard, S.J., and Jean Bruchesi's "History of Canada." Current events provided variety and food for thought and discussion. An article appearing under the title "What Africa means from Canada" prompted the forwarding of a $5 donation to its author, a young Nigerian, who is a pre-medical student at the University of Ottawa.

Mrs. F. E. S. Shelley reported on hospital convalescence, as follows: Visits to Sherbrooke Hospital 437; St. Vincent de Paul 253; Hotel Dieu 219; St. Francis Sanatorium 122. Requests by Catholics at Sherbrooke Hospital for a priest for confession, communion or to attend the dying were complied with, rosaries, flowers, fruit, candy, smokes, Catholic and other reading material were distributed.

At Christmas 9 members distributed cheer to 28 English inmates, and 100 chocolate bars to patients on the floor in the Sacred Heart Home. On St. Patrick's Day, green trimmed surprise boxes, of delicacies were distributed.

Judge Boisvert Decides Against Gardeners, City

Judge Edouard Boisvert has decided, in accordance with an action by Armand Nadeau, Q.C., that the City of Sherbrooke had no right to grant $1,000 to the Association of Gardeners, Market Gardeners and Florists of Sherbrooke.

Judge Boisvert also decided that the Association was not in made in May, 1952. The City was ordered to take back the $1,000 and pay expenses of the court case. If the Association hasn't the money the aldermen will have to pay it out of their own pockets.

The plaintiff based his argument on two points: that the grant, paid in instalments, was illegal because the first two payments, of $333.33 each, were made prior to the adoption of the bylaw by the City Council and that this grant was made to help cover expenses of the Association for an action which it had taken against the City and lost.

CEASARE SIEPI

On a more sober note were selections Per Pieta by Stradella, L'esperto nocchiero by Giovanni Battista Bononcini, Begli occhi luceni by Sylvius C. Der Wanderer by Schubert, Ella giammai m'amo, from Don Carlo by Verdi, Faure's Chanso d'amour, Bruneau's L'Heureux vagabond and Lied maritime by Vincent d'Indy. Characteristic of a bass these in their somber precision spoke more of obscurity than the view of an inexperienced listener.

Highly entertaining was the good humor emitted from Schubert's Das Fischermadchen. Part four of the seven-part program was broken by the accomplished pianist, Leo Taubman, accompanist to Mr. Siepi, who performed a solo selection of three selections: Two Waltzes by Chopin, Debussy's Clair de lune and Corobada by Francesco Luccena. A burst of applause brought a third waltz by Chopin from Mr. Taubman as his encore.

Our Congratulations To: CARBERRY CHRISTMAS, who is today observing his birthday anniversary. Berlin—(P)—Allied and Russian representatives announced today that four-power talks on air safety over Germany would continue soon in the American sector of West Berlin. The conferences, which began at Soviet headquarters in the East zone last night, marked the first four-power get-together since the 1949 post-blockade period.

London—(Reuters)—Crowds pushed and struggled to get into a small court here today for a one-minute glimpse of John Christie, the meek-looking middle-aged office clerk accused of one of London's most gruesome slayings. Only 14 public spectators were able to crush into the little gallery. The rest of the space was filled with lawyers, police and reporters.

Christie, who told police that today was his 55th birthday, was remained for a week. Throughout his 60-second appearance he sat calmly with head bowed and a hand shoved deep in his trouser pocket—a balding, bespectacled figure who might be anybody's next-door neighbor.

He is charged with the murder of his wife, Ethel, whose body was found under the floorboards of the death house, a tenement at 10 Rillington Place in cosmopolitan Notting Hill.

The half-naked bodies of three young women, believed to be prostitutes, were discovered, strangled, in a cupboard sealed over with wallpaper, and the bones of two more women—still not identified—were dug from the backyard.

More than 26,500 bales of cotton are used to make handkerchiefs each year. Each bale averages 500 pounds. Kenya and Ruwenzori, two snow-scaped African mountain peaks, are almost squarely on the equator.

The Doctor Says

SEVERE, REPEATED HEAD-ACHES ARE PROBLEM TO DIAGNOSE

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Unfortunate is the person who suffers from recurring headaches. Such, for example, is I. D., who writes: "What, if any, is the cause and remedy for those horrible headaches which come on suddenly at the back of the head? After they have subsided that spot in my head remains sore to the touch. It is always worse on the left side than on the right. What does this suggest?"

There are, it must be recognized, several kinds of recurring headaches. Some of them are on an emotional basis, others are labeled migraine, and in still others additional causes are recognized. It is now believed, however, that most headaches are associated with changes in the circulation of the blood vessels in the brain, though the cause of such changes may differ from person to person.

In I. D.'s case the fact that the headaches are largely on one side suggests migraine, a condition the origin of which is still somewhat shrouded in obscurity.

So far as remedies for migraine are concerned, there are drugs available which often can shorten or halt an attack if they are given at the earliest possible moment. These drugs, however, are powerful, and are not without danger, so they should be taken only under careful supervision.

In general, severe or repeated headaches are difficult diagnostic problems. The complete history of the attacks, the kind and location of pain, and the preceding symptoms, if any, must be studied.

A complete physical examination should be made. The sinuses need to be eliminated as a cause and so do the eyes. Special tests may have to be used in order to find out whether the headaches come from a local relaxation of the blood vessels.

Two Steps Involved
The treatment of any type of severe headache involves two steps. The first step is to try to relieve the immediate difficulty as rapidly as possible. Certain types of headaches, especially the so-called "bilious" type, can often be relieved by simple pain-killing drugs, like aspirin. The more severe varieties may go on in spite of any drugs given.

The second step is to try to identify the cause or at least the physical or emotional factors which tend to bring on the headaches. If these can be successfully attacked, the headaches often can be made to appear less frequently.

DOROTHY DIX Heartless Stepfather

Profits Financially From Marriage, But Would Get Rid Of Children

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: My first husband was killed in service, and after five years of widowhood I remarried. That was seven years ago and my girls were small. Both are in high school now. In the beginning, my husband was a fine father, but he has changed. He doesn't like the children; they have no love or respect for him, and he gripes over every cent he spends on them. I had a bank account when I married him, but that is gone now. I truly love him, even now, but my children will always come first. He wants me to send them away, but that I'll never do.

HILDA ANN

ANSWER: You say the children come first with you, but every sentence in your letter belies the fact. Several times you repeated the statement, "I love the guy and can't live without him!" No matter how much he shows his open dislike of your youngsters, you persist in your avowals of devotion. Obviously, therefore, you intend continuing to cater to him. That's been your fault from the beginning. You turned over what money you had, have handed him the small income you receive, completely ignoring the fact that it actually is for the support of the girls, and not the entertainment of their stepfather. If this be devotion to your children, heaven deliver the youngsters from your maternal solicitude. What you should do is clear enough; but it is equally clear that you have no intention of doing it.

DEAR MISS DIX: At 53 my husband still thinks he's a Romeo. We've been married 30 years, have four children and five grandchildren. His job involves a good deal of traveling, and on the last trip he came home and announced that he'd like a divorce since he had fallen in love with someone else. I refused, and he said all he would have to do is wait seven years and the divorce would be automatic. Is this true?

ANSWER: Your husband's knowledge of divorce laws is about as confused as his conception of marital love and fidelity. You are quite right to refuse his plea for a divorce; he'll recover from the infatuation in due time and will return home, a wiser man.

DEAR MISS DIX: My boy friend has asked me to go steady, but I know my mother won't approve. I'm 17 and he's 19.

PATSY

ANSWER: Your mother probably believes that now, as in the past, "going steady" is tantamount to an engagement. Since two dates constitute steady dating today, practically every teenager is in the process of going steady. It's an unwise procedure, but apparently it is firmly entrenched until a new dating system develops. However, don't keep the fact a secret from Mom under any circumstances. Talk the matter over with her. A frank presentation of both sides of the problem will clear matters for both of you.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am friends with two young men, Ned and Charles, who share an apartment. I am especially fond of Ned, but Charles is the one who likes me particularly, with the result that he does everything he can to turn Ned against me. They are always together, and Charles seems to be the dominant personality of the two. Should I speak to either one about the situation?

WORRIED

ANSWER: I think you are wasting time and attention on both of the boys. Even if you could convince Ned that Charles is telling the truth about you (a fact, by the way that you can't possibly be sure of), you would probably never completely wean him away from Charles' domination. Any triangle involving a deep friendship, such as theirs, produces complications that are better avoided. Find a boy who is not so easily influenced.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a high-school sophomore, with a speech defect. As a consequence, I don't have much social life, and I think even my family is ashamed of me. The trouble is stammering.

S.S.

ANSWER: It's a shame that you have gone so long without treatment or correction of your trouble. Stammering can be corrected and often completely overcome, with the proper teaching. Consult a speech clinic in your vicinity, and if you can't find one in your telephone book, contact, either personally or by mail, the nearest eye, ear and throat hospital.

Members of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid were entertained on Wednesday afternoon, April 1, at the home of Mrs. Lewis Dunsmore, Portland Avenue. Mrs. C. Bruygom, second vice-president, chaired the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. E. A. Johnston. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Bruygom. During the business session, plans were made for a Coronation tea to be held in the Church Hall, on Wednesday afternoon, May 13, and a rummage sale at the market, on June 26. The Mizpah Benediction closed the meeting, when refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bruygom.

The annual Easter salad tea to be sponsored by the St. Patrick Mission Circle was the principal item on the agenda at their regular meeting, at which the president, Mrs. Frank Wielgus, was in the chair. Interest in the tea and other projects drew a very large attendance at the meeting. Mrs. Fred Wilson, general tea convener, presented a very complete report of arrangements already made, which, besides the details of the tea itself included a table of home-cooked food and one of plants. A few minor changes were suggested, but otherwise the convener's well-drawn-up plan was approved. The enthusiasm of those present indicated this year's tea will be as successful as this annual event has always been. Several dressed dolls were turned in for the Circle's Christmas party in the Western missions and others were given out to be dressed. The next meeting will be held in the church hall on April 20, and will be followed by a one-act play which a group has now in rehearsal.

Triplets Cause Mom and Dad Triple Trouble

When triplets first arrive there is unbounded joy and the newcomers and parents are often minor celebrities. But after the glow fades a bit, the picture changes. William L. Britons Face A Moral Landslide Say Committees

London.—(CP)—Britain faces a moral landslide in personal indulgence, says the annual report of the Churches' Committee on Gambling.

Many wage-earners, it charges, spend half their income on drinking, smoking and gambling, with bookies, football pool promoters and the government reaping most of the benefit. Last year alone, the report says, the country's exchequer was enriched by more than £40,000,000 from taxation of gambling transactions.

In a foreword to the report, Rev. E. Benson Perkins, chairman of the committee, calls on all Christians to abstain entirely from all forms of speculation. Total abstention from gambling, he says, could create the moral and spiritual spur to reduce if not eliminate what he describes as a "national menace."

Fraternal delegates in 1950 to the general council, United Church of Canada, Mr. Perkins said it has been affirmed that the Welfare State could not be established without taxation from these sources.

"No welfare state can be truly based on encouragement of excessive indulgence," he writes, "and certainly not established among us on the unnecessary and disastrous practices of gambling."

The report says football competition receipts at some £60,000,000 in 1952, were up for the third successive year. Letter boxes had been crammed with unsolicited invitations to "have a flutter" on the pools.

"That such extravagant misuse of paper and manpower should be possible at a time when the nation is being urged to economise is plump crazy," the report observes.

In a breakdown of tax revenues it shows that football pools last year contributed £19,500,000, greyhound racing £6,500,000 and bookmakers £2,000,000. Entertainment tax on gate-money yielded

£1,640,000 from horse racing and £1,290,000 from greyhound tracks. Post office profits on gambling business is estimated to have totalled £3,000,000 of which £2,000,000 was paid for postal money orders. In addition, income tax paid by employees of betting concerns is placed at approximately £6,000,000.

"The record shows we face a moral landslide in personal indulgence," the report concludes.

CLAPHAM

Mrs. Johnson received word of the death of her nephew, Mr. William McMillan, of Greencourt, Alta.

who spent the winter in Montreal and Morristown, was a guest of his uncle, Mr. C. O. Ward.

Co-Operation Is Spirit Of Life At St. Francois Xavier

By JACK BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Antigonish, N.S. — When a student at St. Francois Xavier University needs books or cigarettes, he gets them from a co-operative store. He gets his hair cut at a co-op barber shop and his clothes go to a co-op dry-cleaning service. If he's from one of the 10 foreign countries represented in this year's student body, chances are he is studying co-operative leadership and belongs to St. FX's International Co-Op Club.

only as strong as the university itself. Ever since, the extension department and the academic program have marched forward in fruitful and harmonious co-existence. The cost has been heavy: To a large extent the university has had to carry the extension department while shouldering its own financial burdens. The ultimate manifestation of St. FX's policy of taking education to the people—known as the Antigonish Movement—came two years ago when it sent one of its top men, Rev. M. A. MacLellan, 150 miles to Sydney to head the newly-founded Xavier Junior College. There Cape Breton students can take their freshman and sophomore years while living at home, thus avoiding residence fees. It was not the first time St. FX had set a precedent in higher education. In 1894 the university, founded 100 years ago as a seminary, affiliated with Mount St. Bernard College—the first North American Roman Catholic institution to offer bachelor's degree courses for women. In 1899 St. FX established the first engineering department in the Atlantic provinces. The Antigonish Movement had its beginnings in 1912 when farmers in the district were organized to buy fertilizer co-operatively. In 1914, Dr. Hugh MacPherson, who now lives in retirement on the St. FX campus, teamed with a federal agriculture department expert to jack up the dormant wool industry. They taught proper shearing, rolling, bundling and grading methods, and persuaded the farmers to sell collectively. Marketed on a highest tender basis with a Montreal firm, the wool brought 28 cents a pound. The previous year it sold for 10 cents at Antigonish stores. In 1915 the same system was tried in marketing lambs, with similar results. St. FX had purchased a farm in 1908 to demonstrate scientific methods of raising crops and cattle. Today herds throughout Cape Breton are well stocked with top quality cattle from Mount Cameron farm. After the First World War, when the rest of the country was enjoying prosperity, depression struck the Maritime fishing industry. Fishermen by the hundreds pulled up stakes and went to the United States. In Nova Scotia the total value of fisheries fell from $15,145,000 in 1919 to $9,778,523 in 1921. Six years later, following a royal commission investigation, the federal government appointed Rt. Rev. Moses M. Coady of St. FX to organize Maritime fishermen into a co-op. With the help of Angus B. MacDonald and others, he finished the job in 10 months, the same time it took the commission to write its report. The fruit of this labor, the United Maritime Fishermen, has grown into a huge co-operative doing a $3,500,000 business each year. When the St. FX extension department was established in 1929 Dr. Coady became its director. By the time Rev. M. J. MacKinnon took over in 1952 the department's staff had increased to 25, including 12 fieldworkers. The co-op movement in the Maritimes had snow balled to a membership of 35,000 doing a $50,000,000 annual wholesale and retail business. Nearly 100,000 people belonged to credit unions which in 17 years had made loans totalling $45,000,000.

Rhodesians To Vote April 9 On Referendum

By LLEWELLEN COOK
Salisbury, Rhodesia — Reuters— Nearly 50,000 Southern Rhodesians will give their verdict on the proposed Central African federation of Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland when they get to the polls in a referendum April 9.

Federation, on terms worked out at a London conference in January, would give the self-governing colony of Southern Rhodesia and the two British protectorates a virtually autonomous federal parliament and prospects of ultimate dominion status in the British Commonwealth.

Two African representatives from each territory would sit in the parliament. Only where an African affairs board, as a standing committee of the federal parliament, felt that legislation was detrimental to native interests would royal assent be required.

Controversy over the federation proposals contained in a White Paper issued at the end of the London conference have left doubt about what the decision of Southern Rhodesia's 49,032 registered voters will be.

Sir Godfrey Huggins, Southern Rhodesia's prime minister, and Roy Welensky, leader of the unofficial members in Northern Rhodesia's legislative council, have campaigned vigorously for federation. Substantial European opinion still opposes it, mainly because it lacks essential native support. But Huggins has assured the voters of Southern Rhodesia that if they accept the plan it will be passed by the House of Commons.

The legislative councils of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland will debate the proposals after the referendum has been held in Southern Rhodesia. The final decision will be taken on their behalf by the British government.

The future of Central Africa federation rests largely with the voters of Southern Rhodesia, now sharply divided. The United Central Africa Association, organized several years ago to promote federation, argues that part from obvious economic advantages of federation, the three territories must combine quickly and adopt a progressive racial policy. The alternatives they offer to Southern Rhodesia are ultimate absorption into the Union of South Africa or domination by two predominantly native territories to the north.

Sir Godfrey emphasizes that it is essential to form a strong British bloc in Central Africa. He believes Britons in Southern Rhodesia have evolved a racial policy which will eventually enable people of different races to live and work together in partnership. The absence of serious native trouble in Southern Rhodesia since self-government was attained in 1923 indicates that Sir Godfrey's racial policy is basically sound.

Opposing the United Central Africa Association is the non-political Rhodesia Association. Its leader, Ray Stockil, is also leader of the opposition in the Southern Rhodesia Parliament. He claims it is impossible to federate three states with such differing constitutional status.

Also against federation is Alderman Charles Olley's White Rhodesia Council, an organization which advocates "apartheid" segregation on the South African pattern. Native opinion, where vocal, is opposed to the federation plan in all three territories.

voters' roll there are only 429 registered native voters. A former chief native commissioner J. Judson Beck, estimates at least 5,000 Africans are qualified to vote if they wish to register.

Some African leaders are opposed to federation because they feel Southern Rhodesia is their country and they should be allowed to run it.

Most of the natives do not know what federation means and suspect it as they suspect any white-sponsored innovation. In the two northern territories African nationalism is far more advanced. There, they have direct representation in the legislative councils. Statements by the former labor colonial secretaries, Arthur Creech Jones and James Griffiths, give their reason to believe they have only to hold out long enough to win self-government on the same lines as the Gold Coast.

Eddie "Spider" Mazur Paces Canadiens Into NHL Final

Tallies Two Goals While Richard and "Boom Boom" Account For Others; Plante Turns In Another Good Job

Montreal — (CP) — A big husky rookie, who skitters around the ice like a granddaddy-longlegs, practically singlehandedly last night sent Montreal Canadiens full tilt into the Stanley Cup final.

He's Eddie "Spider" Mazur and his two goals were enough in themselves to turn back Chicago Black Hawks in Montreal's 4-1 victory — the deciding seventh game of a hotly-fought series.

It was Eddie's big night, but there was enough scoring glory left to be shared by Bernie Geoffrion and Maurice Richard in a game in which Canadiens were masters almost all the way.

Only for a short time were the Hawks in a position to make the outcome doubtful. That was when little Billy Mosienko scored Chicago's only tally to make the score one-all.

Geoffrion, last season's rookie of the year, scored Montreal's first goal—his fifth of the semi-final series. Richard, counting the third goal, ran his total to 50 for the nine Stanley Cup series in which he has taken part.

Masur, an 188-pounder who stands six feet, two inches, scored what proved to be the winning goal and added the fourth as Hawks were fast fading from the picture.

The 23-year-old rookie, who came up for this series from Victoria Cougars, made monkeys of the Chicago defence each time he scored. The first victim was Gus Mortson, who let himself be out-trapped on a loose Chicago pass and then made the mistake of backing in too far on goalie Al Rollins.

The Spider moved along with Mortson, and using him as a screen, caught the corner of the net with a shot that scarcely left the ice.

On his second goal Mazur took a blue-line pass from Elmer Lach, then stretched his long legs and went around Bill Gadsby as if the Hawk defenceman were tied to the spot. A screaming shot, a foot off the ice, had Rollins beaten all the way.

From goalie Jacques Plante out, the rookie brigade injected into this series only last Saturday was not much in evidence. Mazur, Calum MacKay and blonde Lorne Davis baffled, bumped and harried the Hawks all the way.

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 8.—Merrill "Pinky" May Tuesday got 17 Indians who'll help him open the Sherbrooke Provincial League season May 2.

The roster of two catchers, seven pitchers, five infielders and three outfielders differs slightly with the array of Indianville talent he has had to work with in recent days.

Here are the 1953 Indians—for now:

Catchers Wendell Hall and Al Dunterman. Hall was with Bakersfield last year where he hit .214 and Dunterman is just back from service. In 1950 he hit .309 for New Castle. May has seen little of Dunterman's work and can't choose a starting catcher yet.

Pitchers John Lang, Dan Osinski, Ray Yelle, Wilfred Sirois and Len Nayman, all righthanders, and southpaws Bob Leach and Dick Wenger. The latter is a new addition to the Sherbrooke unit. He had a 15 and 9 record for Daytona Beach last year. May rates Osinski, recently recovered from arm and back ailments, and Yelle as his strongest pitchers on the basis of camp performances.

Infielders — First baseman Al Pollard, second baseman Jerry DelGaudio, third baseman Clell Hobson and shortstop Bob Carr and Dick Baller. Pollard replaces Carl Porter in the Sherbrooke lineup. He hit .312 for Daytona Beach last year and Daytona Beach manager Ed Levy rates him a good hitter to all fields and an excellent glove man. Baller, last year with Daytona Beach where he hit .295, is also new on the Sherbrooke roster. Hall, the catcher, has had experience at first and second base and should provide good bench strength in the infield when not behind the bat.

The outfielders will be John Waters, who hit .301 for Green Bay last year with a slow start; Bill Eastburn, a new but highly rated arrival at camp from California, and Bob Diers, up from Bakersfield where he hit .255. Diers has a much lustier camp batting average. Eastburn is just out of the army.

Off the Sherbrooke roster today were Ken Whitehead, who will be shortstop for class D Daytona Beach; first baseman Carl Porter; outfielder-pitcher Will Moton, a rookie from California; and outfielder John Tiberghin. Porter, Moton and Tiberghin go to Fargo, N. Dakota.

May didn't have a chance to look at his team in a scheduled morning practice game Tuesday. A heavy morning rainfall made the fields unplayable.

Coach Lynn Patrick States That Stanley Cup Final Will Be Long And A Great Series; Opens Tomorrow

Boston, two here and one at the Forum. Boston Capt. Milt Schmidt, who suffered a three-stitch cut on the lower back when he fell and sat on his own skate against Detroit last Sunday, said he'll be ready to play in tomorrow night's opener at Montreal.

Patrick said he doesn't plan to use 36-year-veteran Woody Dumart to "shadow" Richard. Dumart pickedet high-scoring Gordie Howe of the Red Wings in the semi-final series and was a big factor in the surprising upset by Boston.

Howe, the National Hockey League's scoring champion this season, got only two goals, neither chargeable to laxity on Dumart's part.

"We'll have no special assignments for Montreal," Patrick added. "No one in particular will chase Richard."

Chicoutimi, Que. — (CP) — Chicoutimi Saguenays routed Quebec Aces 6-0 Tuesday night in the first game of their best-of-nine final for the Quebec Senior Hockey League championship.

Marius Groleau paced the Saguenays attack with two goals. Garry Claude, Ralph Buchanan, Sherman White and Georges Roy scored the other goals.

Buchanan took passes from Stan Smrke and Sherman White to put Chicoutimi further into the lead shortly after three minutes of play in the last period. Old-Timers To Meet Sunday In Benefit Game For Arena Toronto. — (CP) — Old-time National Hockey League players will don skates again Sunday for a benefit game to be played at Maple Leaf Gardens in aid of a new $250,000 arena to be built in eastern Toronto.

The game is sponsored by the Old-time Professional Hockey Players' association, organized this year by Lionel and Charlie Conacher, Roy Worters, Lorne Duguid and Cy Wentworth. The group has raised thousands of dollars for worthy causes through hockey games during the winter.

Moreover, the City of Toronto has agreed to match, dollar for dollar, all the money raised in Sunday's exhibition game.

Boston holds a 9-3 victory margin over Montreal in the 14-game regular season series between the two teams with two games tied. Richard was held to three goals by Marlboros Refuse Barrie Permission To Use Harrington Toronto. — (CP) — Toronto Marlboros Tuesday refused Barrie Flyers permission to use their goalkeeper, John Henderson, as a replacement for Bill Harrington, injured Monday night in the current Ontario Hockey Association junior A finals between the Flyers and St. Michael's College.

Harrington badly bruised his hip near the end of the third period. His place was taken by juvenile George Cuculek as Barrie bowled 6-4 to St. Mike's.

St. Michael's lead the best-of-nine series 3-2.

Gordie Howe To Be Married April 15 Detroit. — (CP) — Gordon Howe, 25-year-old Detroit hockey star, and Colleen Joffa, 20, of Detroit will be married April 15, her parents announced Monday night.

The couple agreed on the date after Howe returned to Detroit from Boston where the Red Wings were eliminated from the Stanley Cup playoffs. The engagement was announced last week.

The wedding, to which only close friends and members of the families will be invited, will take place in the Detroit Calvary Presbyterian church.

Ted Lindsay, Howe's teammate, will be best man and Lindsay's wife, Pat, will be matron of honor at the ceremony. They plan a Florida honeymoon.

Jack Kramer, King Of Tennis Pros, And One Of Game's Best Performers, To Meet Sedgman Here Tomorrow Night

It seems a little silly to refer to John Albert Kramer as a typical "American Boy." He's now 31, a real veteran of tennis, marriage and the Second World War. He's the father of three abnormally healthy boys. He's in a tax bracket where Uncle Sam considers him a senior partner, and he has embarked on the major financial venture of his life in promoting the International Championship tour, which will be seen here tomorrow evening at the Arena, when he plays the great Aussie, Frank Sedgman.

But to millions of tennis devotees, Jack will be a boy until his arteries harden. And the crowd kid who came out of Montebello, Calif., to survive all kinds of hard luck in his battle to become one of the greatest champions in tennis history, will have to be creaking loudly at the joints before he will stop considering himself a boy. He's that kind of a man, pardon, boy.

A protegee of Perry Jones, who has guided the destinies of so many Southern California players to stardom, that one day he may become magnanimous and allow the rest of the U. S. to join his association, Kramer was so highly regarded at the age of 18 that he was invited to practice with the Davis Cup team.

Only five years before he had started to fool around with the game to please his athletic-minded father, a Southern Pacific railroader who is now only in his early fifties and appears a decade younger. Jack had preferred baseball.

Surprisingly, he was thrown into the Cup doubles with the late Joe Hunt against the famed Aussie team of Bromwich and Adrian Quist. The American kids bowed, 5-7, 6-2, 7-5, 6-2, and the Cup went to Australia in '39 for seven long years with the war halting competition. In the next renewal in '46, Kramer helped take it back and aided in keeping it the following year before turning pro to seek new worlds to conquer. But many a heartache intervened between '39 and '46.

In '42, appendicitis hit him when he was awarded the best chance of winning the Nationals in '43, ptomaine poison ruined his bid to win the same title. For most of the rest of the war, he served on an LST in the Pacific and was in on five invasions of New Guinea and the Philippines.

Emerging from the Coast Guard as a lieutenant (jg), he played at Wimbledon in '46, but ill-luck still dogged him. Playing with a severely blistered racket hand, which he tried to alleviate by wearing a glove, he fought his way to the semi-finals before bowing to Jaroslav Drobný.

But then the black cats stopped bissetting his route. In the Davis Cup at Melbourne, he beat Dinky Pails and Bromwich in straight sets and teamed with Ted Schroeder to down Bromwich and Quist in a straight-set double. Again in '47 he beat the same pair without losing a set.

Then, after winning the U. S. Nationals for the second time and Wimbledon's "world" title in '47, he turned pro. Bobby Riggs, who had replaced Budge as pro champion, was his first foe. Jack demolished him 69 victories against 20 defeats. Pancho Gonzales, who had come up like a meteor to win the Nationals twice and become a Davis Cup hero, was next. Kramer handed him a 3-6-27 drubbing.

Then it was little little Pancho Segura, who had developed amazingly in the supporting match on the previous tour. The remarkable little Pancho gave Jack the most trouble of all, in point of victories and closeness of play, but the champ finished on top 6-4-28.

Now it's Frank Sedgman, the glamour boy of amateur international tennis, the lad referred to by many writers without reservations as the "No. 1 tennis player in the world." Can he dethrone Kramer? You'll see part of the answer at the Arena on Thursday.

Labelle County Not Affected By Bass Law, Says Minister

Quebec. — Officers of the Game and Fisheries Department stated today that the 1953 regulation removing restrictions on largemouth and smallmouth bass fishing in lakes of certain counties does not apply to lakes in the County of Labelle.

Inclusion of the name of this county in the English version of the Summary of Fishing Laws for 1953 was due to a typographical error.

The regulation is based on an Order-in-Council dated March 12th, 1953, amending the Quebec Fisheries Act to provide, "there shall be no restrictions on the taking of largemouth bass and smallmouth bass in lakes of the Counties of Terrebonne and Argenteuil."

Additional Sport News Early Wynn And Steve Gromek Team Up To Blank Giants 1-0; Mantle Returns To Action As Yankees Win

Early Wynn and Steve Gromek showed mid-season pitching form Tuesday to snap Cleveland Indians out of a four-game losing streak.

Wynn and Gromek held New York Giants to three hits as the Indians edged out a 1-0 win at Mobile, Ala. Wynn allowed two hits in seven innings and Gromek one in the two innings he worked.

The lone run of the game came in the seventh inning when outfielder Dusty Rhodes muffed a fly ball with two out, enabling Al Rosen to score from first as the ball batted away.

Dave Koslo blanked the Indians on four hits in six innings and Max Lanier was nipped for one hit in the two innings he worked.

At Roanoke, Va., Philadelphia Phillies walloped Boston Red Sox 15-2 with the help of home runs by Connie Ryan and one each by Earl Torgeson and Willie Jones. Karl Drews limited the Red Sox to seven hits in eight innings. Sam White's home run with one man on accounted for both Boston runs.

At Dallas, Tex., Stan Musial shot out four singles and Steve Bilko hit a three-run homer to lead St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-4 win over Dallas Eagles and to their seventh straight exhibition win. Del Rice also contributed a home run for St. Louis. Jack Faszholtz and Al Brazle allowed the Texas Leaguers seven hits.

At Evansville, Ind., Louisville Colonels of the American Association managed only three hits but they were enough to down Milwaukee Braves 3-2.

At Nashville, Tenn., righthander Jim McDonald clinched a starting berth with New York Yankees when he hurled the world champions to a 9-1 victory over Nashville Vols.

Mickey Mantle returned to centre field for the Yankees after an absence of 10 days because of a skin rash. He had one hit, a 420-foot double which knocked in the last two runs in the seventh.

Olympics Should Be Streamlined, Says Dr. Ritter

Munich—(AP)—The president of the German National Olympic Committee says he will urge the streamlining of the Olympic program through elimination of minor events and the limitation of athletes.

Dr. Karl Ritter von Hait who departs Saturday by air for the meeting of the International Olympic Committee in Mexico City, said Tuesday he plans to make the following recommendations to the IOC:

1. That team competitions in sports such as gymnastics, fencing, modern pentathlon, equestrian and cycling be removed from the program.

2. That a limit be placed on the number of athletes and officials each country may send to the games.

3. Pre-Olympic tournaments be held for such sports as water polo, soccer, field hockey and basketball in order to shorten the Olympic program.

4. Women's competitions be retained. There have been suggestions that the Olympics be made a strictly male affair.

Barons Should Win In Six, Says Cook

Cleveland.—(AP)—Cleveland should win the American Hockey League's Calder Cup in "not more than six games," Barons coach Ben Cook predicted today.

On the strength of last night's 3-2 overtime victory over Pittsburgh Hornets, Cook said:

"Winning the first two gives an edge, but they are tougher at home. Dropping one of these overtime affairs always is bad for the morale of the losers, though."

The third game of the best-of-seven final is tomorrow night in Pittsburgh and the fourth is there Saturday night.

The Barons and Hornets went into the first overtime last night tied 2-2, but couldn't score.

Then, at 2:40 of the sudden death overtime, big Bob Chrystal shot the puck from about 70 feet back and Ike Hildebrand tipped it into the net.

LAST FLING—Ol' Satchel Paige, an admitted 45, warms up his arm at the St. Louis Browns' San Bernardino, Calif., training camp before taking his turn on the mound. The veteran pitcher, who had a 12-10 record in 1952, says this positively will be his last season. (NEA)

Mr. Dudley To Rule On Mid Houghton's Playing Eligibility

Midland, Ont.—(AP)—George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Tuesday he expects a vote to be completed by Wednesday on eligibility of Mid Houghton to play with Lethbridge Native Sons in Memorial Cup playoffs.

The Lethbridge club, with three of its defencemen injured, sought Houghton, who played this season with Calgary, as a replacement.

He played with Native Sons in one game of a best-of-seven Western Canada semi-final against Flin Flon Bombers. The Sons won the series in straight games. Flin Flon protested Houghton's appearance in the third game. However, legality of the series is not under question and the current vote applies only to Houghton's eligibility for further play.

Sedgman Upsets Jack Kramer In Close Fixture

Pittsburgh.—(AP)—Australian Frank Sedgman, playing heads-up tennis, defeated big Jack Kramer 6-4, 3-6, 8-6 in their professional match Tuesday night.

The victory was Sedgman's 26th in 64 matches with the American ace.

Pancho Segura beat Ken McGregor of Australia 4-6, 6-1, 12-10 in the opening match of the tennis card. Segura's triumph gave him a 49-15 lead over his rival in their cross-country series.

Sedgman and McGregor teamed up to beat Kramer and Segura 6-4 in the doubles event. Only one set was played.

Kitchener-Waterloo To Meet Smiths Falls

Ottawa.—(AP)—Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen and Smiths Falls Rideaus tonight open the best-of-seven series for the Eastern Canada senior hockey championship and the right to meet the West's titlist for the Allan Cup.

The Rideaus have held repeated practices to keep in shape during a two-week layoff after trouncing Saint John Beavers, Maritime senior champs, in four straight games. There are no serious injuries. Kitchener won in the Ontario Hockey Association.

Whirlaway, Bush-Tailed Calumet Flyer, Dies Of Ruptured Nerve

Paris.—(AP)—Whirlaway, the bush-tailed Calumet flyer who won the triple crown of United States horse racing in 1941 and set the Kentucky Derby record which still stands, died Tuesday at Marcel Boussac's stud farm in southern Normandy.

Boussac's stable manager, F. de Brignac, said death came unexpectedly as the result of a ruptured nerve tissue. He gave no other details. The great thoroughbred was 15 years old.

Foaled and bred on Calumet Farms' blue grass spread in Lexington, Ky., the chestnut champion who thrilled racing crowds with his spectacular finishes was sent to France in 1950, first leased and then sold to Boussac, Europe's leading owner and breeder.

Whirlaway, son of Blenheim II and Dustwhirl, was entering his third year of stud in France when death came.

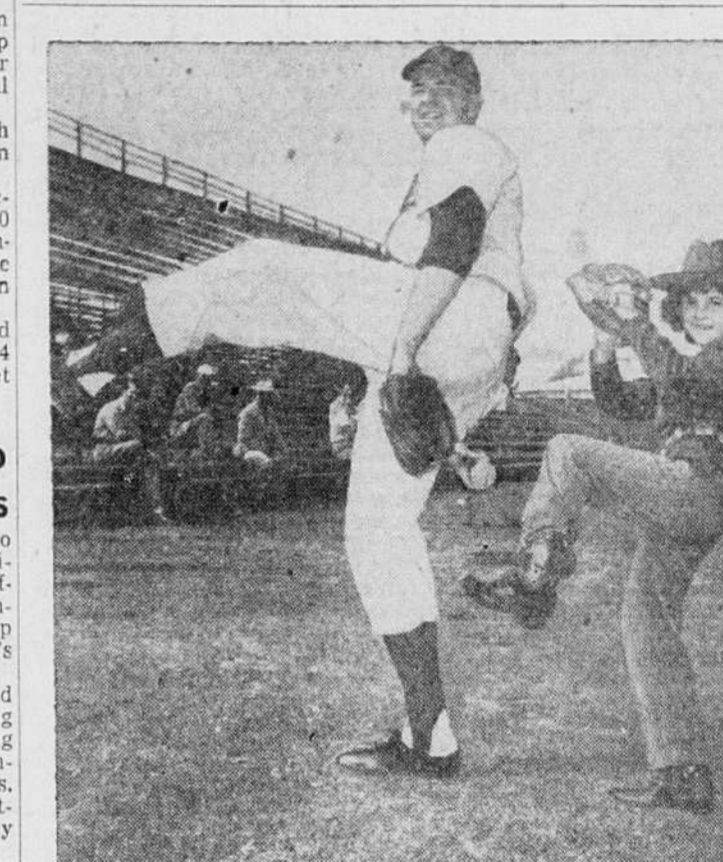

"Mr. Longtail," as he became affectionately known to horse racing writers and followers everywhere, was the first thoroughbred to earn $500,000 on the track. But in 1943, when he was being pointed for the million dollar mark, he was hobbled by a leg ailment.

It was then that the late Warren Wright, master of Calumet, and his famous trainer, Ben Jones, decided to retire Whirlaway of stud. In 1941 he became one of eight winners of racing's "grand slam"—the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont. His time of 2:01 2/5 continues to stand as the record for the derby's mile and a quarter. Eddie Arcaro was his jockey in that race.

Whirlaway won 32 of his 60 races and finished out of the money only four times. His total track earnings were $561,161. He was the leading money winning horse from July, 1942 to June, 1947.

The first of five derby winners for Calumet, Whirlaway beat them all for furnishing the grandstand with thrills. When the field headed for home, the chestnut speedster would lower his head and uncoil an amazing burst of stretch speed.

CUB SPROUT—Displaying the poise of a professional, little Georgia Pomeroy, nine, gives the Chicago Cubs' Spring training scene something of a western flavor as Bob Rush gives her a lesson on hurling. (NEA)

SWISS DISCOVERY FOR ECZEMA

SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT FOUND

Scientists have discovered that an internal deficiency in the body can be one of the main causes of Eczema. This led to ten years research, resulting in the processing of a natural remedy extracted from pure vegetable oils and now contained in the Swiss F "99" Preparations. F "99" is a new and successful approach to Eczema. It is a Two-Way Treatment taken internally to relieve the deficiency (Capsules) and applied externally (Ointment) for absorption through the skin.
