FRENCH AND BRITISH PIERCE GERMAN LINES

ALLIES HAVE CAPTURED MORE THAN 20,000 GERMAN PRISONERS IN FIRST DAYS OF BIG DRIVE

After Days Of Artillery Bombardment German Lines Are Shattered By Fierce Attack Of French And British, 20,000 Unwounded Prisoners Being Taken While Advance Continues In Champagne District—Russia Offers Serious Obstacles To Teutons While Italians Continue Successes

Paris, Sept. 26, 11.05 p.m.—On the western front the British and French have captured in two days more than twenty thousand unwounded prisoners, according to the French official communication issued tonight.

New progress by the French troops to the north of Arras is also reported, Souchez being stormed and captured.

In Champagne the Allied forces still continue to gain ground.

The text of the statement follows:

"Our attack to the north of Arras has realized fresh progress. We have occupied by sheer force all the village of Souchez and have advanced toward the east in the direction of Givenchy.

More to the south we reached La Folie and pushed to the north of Thelus as far as the destroyed telegraph. We made in the course of this action about a thousand prisoners.

"In Champagne our troops continue to gain ground. After having crossed on nearly the whole front extending between Auberville and Ville Sur Tourbe the powerful network of trenches, passages, small forts and shelters perfected by the enemy during long months, our troops advanced towards the north, compelling the Germans to fall back on their trenches of the second position, from three to four kilometers to the rear. The struggle continues on the whole front.

"We have reached L'Epine De Vedegrange and passed the cabin on the road from Sauain to Somme-Py and the Hut on the road from Souain to Tahure. More to the east we are holding the Farm of Maisons De Champagne.

"The enemy has suffered from our fire and in hand-to-hand struggles very important losses. He left in the works which he abandoned considerable material, which has not yet been inventoried. Already the capture of twenty-four field guns is recorded.

"The number of prisoners is increasing steadily and is actually more than sixteen thousand men, not wounded, of whom at least two hundred are officers.

"The total number of prisoners captured on the whole front by the Allied troops in two days is more than twenty thousand men not wounded."

ADMITTED BY BERLIN.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 26, 10.40 p.m.—A repulse of a German division near Loos, north-west of Lens, with considerable casualties and the loss of materials is admitted in the German official communication made public here today.

The evacuation of an advanced German position north of Perthes, between Rheims and the Argonne forest, is also admitted by the War Office.

GENERAL SITUATION.

London, Sept. 26—The British and French armies have taken several large "nibbles" out of the German lines between Verdun and the Belgian coast, capturing in the process, trenches along a front of about twenty miles and some twenty thousand prisoners, numerous guns and a number of machine guns, according to the latest French official statement.

At the same time British warships and French and Belgian batteries heavily bombarded the German positions on the coast between Zeebrugge and Nieuport.

The offensive which resulted in the French and British victories began Saturday morning. For several weeks there has been an almost incessant bombardment with big guns, which late last week increased in intensity, particularly in the sectors where the infantry attacks took place.

The French, who have the most important gain to their credit, made their chief onset against the German lines around Perthes, Beausejour and Suippes in Champagne, where in December they made a considerable gain of ground. Saturday's attack, however, backed by a tremendous artillery fire, gave them possession of more territory than they had re-taken from the Germans since the latter dug themselves in after the battle of the Marne.

According to the French account the Germans were driven out of their trenches over a front of fifteen miles, varying in depth from two-thirds of a mile to two and a half miles. The French in this engagement captured twelve thousand prisoners. Apparently the advantage is being pressed still further, as the French communication makes only the briefest mention of the operation.

The importance of this gain lies in the fact that every yard of ground taken in this region weakens the German position around Verdun, from which the Germans might be compelled to retire should the French succeed in making any further advance.

The French also have regained the cemetery of Souchez and trenches east of the "Labyrinth" in the Arras district, which was the scene of much heavy fighting earlier in the year. There the Germans had built what they considered almost impregnable fortifications.

This attack was made in co-operation with the British, who

THREE KILLED IN BIG FIRE AT MONTREAL

BENOIT SASH AND DOOR FACTORY BURNED DOWN SWIFTLY.

Montreal, Sept. 26—Three men lost their lives in a fire at Benoit & Sons sash and door factory, Amherst street, about 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and a fourth, Joseph Leveille, aged 53 years, 362 Berri street, was removed to the Hotel Dieu in a critical condition from burns and internal injuries. The four were employees. The dead are: Joseph Laurion, aged 51, residing at 491 Frontenac street; Eugene Poirier, 32 years of age, 980 East De Montigny street, and Bonaventure Desjardins, 33 years old, 3675A, Esplanade Ave. There were several other men at work in the factory when the blaze started, but these four were caught on the upper floors, the factory being a brick structure three stories in height, and were suffocated while attempting to make their escape through doorways. The fire is supposed to have been caused by ignition through friction of wheels of a pulley. It spread with alarming rapidity. The property loss is estimated at $20,000.

LONDON REJOICES OVER SUCCESS OF ALLIES IN WEST

PUSHING FORWARD OF BRITISH AND FRENCH TROOPS PROVES GERMAN FRONT IS NOT BY ANY MEANS IMPREGNABLE.

London, Sept. 27—3.25 a.m.—London received the news of the success of the Allies on the western front early Sunday afternoon and it spread rapidly by means of extra editions of the newspapers. In the hotels, clubs and churches great joy was shown. In many instances the churches turned their evening services into meetings of thanksgiving.

The morning newspapers today employ the biggest type they have used during the war in telling of the progress of the British and French troops. Editorially they greet the news with enthusiasm and express relief for the victories after months of waiting.

Some of the newspapers evince gratification in view of the fact that they deem the gains of the Allies as offsets to the week-end casualty lists they publish this morning giving the names of 103 officers and 3,874 men who have either been killed or wounded or are missing. The editorials announce the realization that the pushing forward of the British and French troops means further heavy losses, but all of the writers welcome the move as proving that the German front is not impregnable. The Times says it regrets that the series of operations of such importance should be so scantily recorded.

"Could the story of Saturday's action have been told in some fullness and under due restrictions," says the Times "it would have carried a message of joy to countless British homes. The nation needs cheering and the present occasion seems to have afforded a suitable opportunity. Presumably we shall learn the details in dribbles from Dutch or American sources, to which the press of this country is now compelled to turn for information, which is, often of doubtful validity."

BRITISH SHIPS BOMBARD ZEEBRUGGE

ENGLISH SQUADRON OPENED FIRE ON GERMAN POSITION AGAIN.

London, Sept. 26—The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuters Telegram Company says that the Handelsblad correspondent of the Island of Cadzand, province of Zeeland, Holland, sends the following account of the bombardment of Zeebrugge, Belgium, by a British squadron.

"An English squadron consisting of five large warships and twenty-five smaller vessels opened fire on Zeebrugge at 6.30 o'clock in the morning. Only two of the big ships fired from what apparently were 28-centimeter guns. The German batteries replied with lighter guns, but not until 10 o'clock.

"A big column of smoke at seven o'clock arose above Zeebrugge, apparently caused by shell fire from an English vessel in order to establish a better target. The English also employed light guns but the shots did not reach the coast and were probably directed against submarines.

"From time to time a German aeroplane flew from the coast to the fleet, while a captive balloon also ascended from Zeebrugge.

"The fleet departed at 10.30 o'clock.

THIS IS CANADA'S WAR, SAYS HON. MR. CASGRAIN

STIRRING SPEECH MADE BY QUEBEC'S POPULAR MINISTER

Postmaster-General Royally
Welcomed at St. Jean
Port Joli.

Hon. Thos. Chase Casgrain.

(Special to the Chronicle)
St. Jean, Port Joli, Sept. 26—"This war is not only England's war," said Hon. Thos. Casgrain this afternoon before a crowded audience at St. Jean Port Joli. "It is not only France's war, or the war of Russia and Italy. It is Canada's war."

"If we wait for Germany to come here, the game will be up already," continued the Postmaster-General with emphasis.

After an address had been presented him by Mr. Declieux, the Mayor of Port Joli, Mr. Casgrain remarked that this was not the first time that he had been in this part of the country since the Casgrains came from the County of Kamouraska. He was assured, therefore, of a sympathetic audience.

The principal questions dealt with by Mr. Casgrain were the question of Canada's participation in the war and the manner in which the Borden Government had acquitted itself of its task under the circumstances.

The honorable gentleman exposed the origin and causes of the war, saying that Germany, thirsting for world-domination, had planned to humiliate France, and her ally Russia and to defeat England.

He then described the manner in which Germany had carried on the war to date, describing the manner in which she had violated treaties, and committed horrors and atrocities in Belgium and Northern France. Everywhere she had endeavored to sow terror.

Passing to the resistance which Germany would meet Mr. Casgrain said France had been unprepared. But a wonderful spectacle had been seen. Discords and factions had disappeared at the one cry of the whole nation, Vive la France. Kipling, after his visit to the French front, could not do too much honor to the French soldiers.

England had been even less prepared for she was not a military nation. But she had accomplished wonders. She had an army of 800,000 men in France and 2,000,000 under arms. She was now fighting in the Dardanelles in Egypt and South Africa. But most important of all were the exploits of her fleet which had kept the seas free. It had prevented the bombardment of the French coasts and, if it had not bottled up the German fleet in the Kiel canal, by now German warships might have even bombarded the coasts of Canada, might have steamed up the St. Lawrence and spread in Canada disasters such as Belgium and Northern France had been victims of.

"The present war is our war," said Mr. Casgrain. "It is the war of all who hold to the true institutions which we enjoy in Canada. Canada was ever more unprepared than the European countries. We have lived a hundred years in profound peace. We were not a warlike nation. Our militia was for home defence only."

However, in the short space of six weeks, said the speaker, Canada had sent 33,000 troops to the war, a thing hitherto unheard of in this country.

"French Canada has done its duty," declared the Minister. In my trip to the West I told those I met of the part played by the Province of Quebec. I did this with the object of cementing the union which should exist between all races in this country. What has been the attitude of the Government and of the Opposition. At once the Government proclaimed that it was the imperative duty of Canada to participate in the war. This action had received the approval of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the whole of the Opposition. The only difference of opinion had been as to the means whereby the money should be raised to meet the extra obligations which had been incurred through the war.

A scathing denunciation of those emissaries of the Liberal party who, in spite of the truce agreed upon by their chiefs, are going from place to place making disloyal and surreptitious attacks on the Borden Government, was then voiced by the Hon. Thos. Chase Casgrain. Mr. Casgrain also emphasized the fact that the actions of these disturbers were in direct contradiction to the opinions expressed by the Roman Catholic Church in the Province of Quebec which held that it was the imperative duty of the French Canadians to do all in their power to ensure the final triumph of the Allies.

On the other hand the Postmaster-General, whose eloquent and forcible speech, was frequently interrupted by generous applause, spoke in no mincing terms of those who had endeavored to belittle the French Canadian race or had ventured to insinuate that his compatriots were not doing their duty towards the Empire. He implemented this by giving names and figures of French Canadians who had gone to the war and proved to the satisfaction of his hearers that the Province of Quebec had little cause for shame so far as the question of recruiting was concerned.

The Minister easily disposed of the alleged scandals which had been charged against the Conservative party since the outbreak of the war. True, he said, there had at first been some mistakes and perhaps a little carelessness. But these were surely excusable for the reason that it had been necessary to organize the first contingent so quickly. The government, however, now had the situation well in hand for Premier Borden was jealous of his fair fame and would have none but honest men around him. For instance, had he not closed the doors of Ottawa to two of his own followers, Messrs. Barland and Foster? These men had been summarily read out of the party and those that chose to follow their example would assuredly meet a similar fate.

But, said Mr. Casgrain, it was not only in Canada that there had been talk of scandals. In France there had been the case of Caillaux and others. England, too, had suffered and, if the truth were known, the same thing was probably happening in Germany also. History abounded with instances of war scandals. In fact, Canada was lucky that she had had so few and, now that a War Purchase Commission had been appointed with very wide powers, it was not likely there would be any more. Besides, Sir Robert Borden had appointed an investigating commission under Sir Charles Davidson to bring all the facts to light and if any man had done wrong he would receive the full measure of his penalty.

Continuing, Mr. Casgrain said he must call their attention to something which was going on in different parts of the Dominion, something which was far from being creditable. While Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Mr. Lemieux and other Liberal chiefs had agreed that the gigantic task which confronted the nation demanded the united energies of all parties, while they had in the most unequivocal terms approved of the effective measures taken by Sir Robert Borden and his ministers to assist the Allies, there were, however, certain petty envoys of the Liberal party who with an utter disregard of their leaders' pledges, were breaking the truce right and left and were attacking the Conservative party in the most treacherous and disloyal manner because that government was doing its duty and recognizing its obligations towards England, France and Canada herself. These irresponsible, declared the Minister, did not seem to realize that in reviling the Borden government, they were at the same time condemning the words and deeds of their own chiefs. Both parties had pledged themselves on record to the effect that when England was at war, Canada of necessity must be at war also.

Speaking of the stand taken by the Roman Catholic Church in Quebec with reference to the titanic struggle in which the world was now embattled, the Postmaster-General said he could hardly find words strong enough to express his admiration for it. The voice of the Church, he reasoned, was independent and enlightened. It was above all party and of her prejudices. And the voice of that church from the time of Plessis down had ever been raised in favor of the Mother Country. At the very outbreak of the war, there had been read a pastoral letter telling the French-Canadians that it was their imperative duty to do all in their power to assist England and the other Allies. This advice had been repeatedly renewed in the columns of L'Action Catholique, the organ of the Quebec clergy.

"When we find the Church giving us this wholesome advice," said Mr. Casgrain, "when we find the leaders of both parties and the most prominent men of all ranks all over the Province and the Dominion, united in their ideas as to our duty in this war, how can we fail in our duty? England has given us the institutions of a benevolent and democratic freedom. Today our loyalty is on trial. Like our valiant ancestors who repulsed the invader and remained steadfast and loyal to England in 1776 and 1812, so will their sons today prove that, now as then, their loyalty is not mere lip-service, that it is a loyalty of deed and not of word."

Soon "concluded the Minister! the hour of triumph will sound and our efforts will be crowned with victory. It cannot be that France, France who has made so many sacrifices, will be vanquished. It cannot be that the cause of the Allies shall be lost, that liberty shall yield to tyranny and civilization to barbarism. And when the victorious bugles blow, then will it be a proud day for the French-Canadians, a proud thing for them to know that they have done their duty as they should. For, if they could not know that, it would be a sorry hour."

Mr. Casgrain, whose closing remarks were loudly cheered was followed by Mr. Jos. Girard M. P. for Chicoutimi, after paying a warm tribute to the Postmaster-General who took up the question of the war, asserting that it was the duty of all to do their share to aid the Allies in some form or other, and to support the Government in its present noble and patriotic work. It had been, he said, a providential thing that the outbreak of war should have found the Conservative Government in power and that Sir Robert was surrounded by men of the calibre of Hon. Thos. Chase Casgrain.

Mr. Girard then addressed a few words to Mme. Casgrain the popular and charming wife of the Postmaster-General, and then reviewed the good work which was being done for the farmers of the Province by the Borden administration. He also referred to the ungentlemanly tactics which constituted the vade mecum of some of the emissaries of Hon. Mr. Caron and the Gouin Government and reminded his audience that though the Provincial administration might appear to be doing quite a lot to promote the interests of agriculture they should not forget that it was thanks to the munificent grant from Ottawa that they were enabled to do this.

Mr. Girard also spoke in somewhat caustic terms of the heavy burden of taxation imposed by the Gouin Government on the electors of the Province and considered it scandalous that so great a portion of these taxes should be squandered on almost useless and unnecessary work. He contrasted this condition of affairs with the wise and equitable manner in which the Borden Cabinet was arranging the raising of the necessary war taxes.

Mr. Girard after recalling a few of the innumerable scandals which have always sullied the pages of Liberal history in this country concluded by a warm appreciation which was loudly lauded by all present.

Mr. Boulay, M.P. for Rimouski, was the next to take up his parable, his speech being much on the same lines as those made by his predecessors. He appealed to the farmers to stay on their farms and profit by the instruction which the Ottawa Government was now providing for them so liberally. Later he dwelt at some length on the growing strength of the French Canadian race outside attacked on either side of the La Basse canal. The attack to the south of the canal was, Field Marshal Sir John French reports, a complete success. Trenches five miles in width and about four thousand yards in depth were taken at this point.

This push forward gives the British possession of the road from Lens to La Basse, which was used by the Germans for moving troops and supplies north and south, and threatens to outflank the German troops which hold the town of Lens.

Hill No. 70, one of the positions taken on the road, is less than a mile directly north of Lens, while Hulluch, which also fell into the hands of the British, is at the end of the road near La Basse. It is only twelve miles from Hulluch to Lille, the capital of northern France.

North of the canal the British, although they fought all day yesterday, were unable to hold the ground gained and had to fall back to the trenches which they had left in the morning. The attack, however, accomplished one purpose, as, according to Field Marshal French, German reserves were sent to check this move, this giving the British south of the canal an opportunity to consolidate their new positions un molested.

A somewhat similar manoeuvre took place to the north and south of the Menin road, east of Ypres, and the results were the same. North of the road the British were unable to hold the ground taken, while to the south they gained about six hundred yards of the German trenches and consolidated the ground won. So far as is reported, the British took seventeen hundred prisoners with eight guns and several machine guns.

Some of the fiercest fighting of the campaign is in progress on the Russian front. The Germans continue their furious attacks in an effort to drive the Russians out of Dvinsk, while in Volhynia and Galicia the Russians continue to harrass the Austro-Germans who had designs on Kiev, from which town they are now further away than they were a few weeks ago.

General Ivanoff apparently is determined to hold back the Austro-Germans, and his efforts are meeting with a considerable measure of success. The fortress triangle, which includes Dubno, Rovno and Lutsk, is almost entirely in the possession of the Russians.

In Galicia the Austrians have been driven back across the rivers which run parallel to the border.

The Italians, like the rest of the Allies, report a number of successes in taking fortified mountains from the Austrians.

OFFICIAL

BRITISH STATEMENT.

London, Sept. 26.—The British forces fighting in France still hold all the ground they gained Saturday from the Germans, except to the north of Loos, according to an official communication issued tonight. The town of Loos is being held by the British, the quarries north-west of Hulluch have been captured and the French on the British right have been enabled to make further progress. The statement says:

"There has been severe fighting today," reads the official communication, "on the ground won by us yesterday, the enemy making determined counter attacks east and north-east of Loos. "The result of this fighting is that, except just north of Loos, we hold all the ground gained yesterday, including the whole of Loos itself."

"This evening we re-took the quarries north-west of Hulluch, which we re-won and lost yesterday. We have in this fighting drawn in the enemy's reserves, enabling the French on our right to make further progress. "The number of prisoners collected after yesterday's fighting amounted to 2,600. Nine guns have been taken and a considerable number of machine guns. "Our aeroplanes today bombed and derailed a train near Loffres, east of Douai, and another, which was full of troops, at Rohult, near Saint Amand. The Valenciennes station was also bombarded."

"On the coast also British warships have attempted to interfere by their fire, especially on Zeebrugge, but without result. "In the sector of Ypres the enemy suffered heavy losses and half success. "South-west of Lille the enemy succeeded in repulsing one of our divisions near Loos from its advance line of defense to its second line. Naturally we had considerable losses, including materials of all kinds enclosed between the two positions. A counter attack is progressing favorably. "We voluntarily evacuated the ruins of the village of Souchez. Other attacks on this front were easily repulsed, at several points with the heaviest of losses for the enemy. "The thirty-ninth regiment of Landwehr especially distinguished itself. This is the same regiment, which sustained the principal attack north of Neuville in May.

"In the struggles between Rheims and the Argonne, north of Perthes, one German division was obliged to evacuate its advanced position by a bombardment for seventy hours and retire to its second position, situated from two to three kilometers (1.4 to 1.34 miles) behind the first. "However, all attempts to break through failed."

GERMAN EFFORTS TO BLOCK LOAN.

Those who seek to draw a distinction between the German people and German militarism are somewhat discredited by the activities of the German-Americans. These people, we are told, have fled from Germany to avoid militarism, yet now here in Prussia has the Kaiser more loyal supporters and defenders than in the United States. So far as we are aware not a single German-American society, of which there are thousands, has had a word of reprobation for the German way of making war. Not a single German-American of any eminence has expressed his sympathy for the Allies and for humanity. The furthest that any of them has gone is to advise German-Americans that their first duty is to the United States; and few have had the courage to go so far. One must admire the loyalty of the German-Americans to the Fatherland, even if he cannot admire their ferocity in taking the oath as American citizens while at the same time reserving their rights as German citizens. They have seized every opportunity that presented itself to help Germany and hurt Britain. It is true that they have been unable to go back to the Fatherland and take their places among the German soldiers; but they have sent back their money by the millions; and they have done what they could to prevent the success of the great war loan which is being negotiated in New York.

Threats to Bankers.

As soon as it was announced that a Franco-British commission would try to raise a loan of several hundred millions of dollars in the United States, the German-Americans flocked to their standard, and began at once to block the negotiations. Members of the commission were showered with threatening letters. The Morgan firm received hundreds of anonymous communications predicting death and ruin to its members if they continued to act as the agents of the British and French Governments. But even the fact that an unsuccessful attempt had been made upon the life of Mr. Morgan has not caused him to take these menaces seriously, and he and his associates are doing everything in their power to make the loan a success. Other bankers have been threatened with the withdrawal of millions of deposits if they participate in the loan. In New York the German pressure is feeble; but the New York banks have valuable business connections with hundreds of banks in the Middle West, where German sentiment is strong, and some of them probably have been more or less intimidated.

The American Interest.

As a rule, however, the American bankers have looked at the loan from the American point of view. A representative of Kuhn, Loeb and Co., which is the strongest German-American banking institution in the United States, and second only to the Morgan firm, said to a representative of the Brooklyn Eagle that an adequate loan was absolutely essential to insure the future export trade of the United States. The German-Americans who are opposing it do not realize that the loan is more important to the United States than to Britain and France. It is the duty of the United States to readjust the exchange situations if it wishes to retain its foreign trade. Another banker said that as far as threats were concerned the bankers who tried to block the loan would find that pro-Ally sentiment were stronger than pro-German sentiment. They would lose more by yielding to German threats than by defying them.

The German American Press.

Though it is taken for granted that the loan will go through in the way the Allies want, the German-American newspapers are not ceasing their efforts to prevent it. The New York Herald says:—

"For the first time the banks of the West and of the Middle West have expressed themselves upon the subject of the plan to mobilize the financial resources of the United States against Germany and Austria; and what those banks have said has not been very pleasing to the big men of Wall Street. . . . The German investors of the banks have declared, without reserve that they will withdraw their money if participation in the international marauding expedition of England and France is contemplated. . . . The conspirators of Wall Street may as well learn something: the German-Americans will not lend their cash to the Allies."

"A Crime"—A Conspiracy.

The New Yorker Staats-Zeitung said in part: "There is need of a mighty agitation in order to choke in the germ this crime, this conspiracy against your property, your life. Every one can help in this. . . . The larger business man must not be so timid now; he must be able to bring a sacrifice to save the American commercial independence. The depositor in the savings banks, which are not directly involved, can do his part—he can urgently request his bank to exercise pressure upon the business bank with which it has relations. This pressure, this protest, must be a general one."

Other newspapers have argued that for the United States government to permit the loan would be a breach of neutrality against Germany; but all of them have carried appeals and paid advertisements from the German and Austrian governments urging readers to subscribe to German and Austrian loans. Their agitation is merely another step away from the real Americans of the United States, who, like good patriots everywhere, look to the interest of their own country first. The German-Americans do not care how much they injure the United States, if, doing so, they can benefit Germany.—Mail and Empire.

Wherever hardships are endured, wherever big deeds are accomplished, there a food is demanded that provides maximum of value in brain and body-building material with minimum of bulk.

In this respect no other food equals

Grape-Nuts

In building the Panama Canal thousands of brain workers as well as brawn workers kept themselves fit and in trim by eating Grape-Nuts dry from the package.

Not only does Grape-Nuts supply all the brain and bone-building, nerve and muscle-making elements of choicest wheat but also the rich nutriment of malted barley.

Grape-Nuts is highly concentrated nourishment in compact form—always ready, crisp and delicious—thoroughly baked and packaged to keep indefinitely, anywhere.

Soldiers on Board.

There were 106 N.C.O.'s and men and 4 officers on board the R.M.S. Scandinavian. A large percentage of these Canadians are wounded and in addition are a few English army reservists. The party was in charge of Capt. K. C. Campbell, of the 43rd Battalion (Comerons Highlanders); Capt. Rogers, second in command; Capt. Taylor, medical officer, Lieut. H. C. Ackerman, and Lieut. Scharschmidt were among the wounded officers returning on leave of absence.

Pte. J. Love, Canadian Scott's, and Pte. Smith, 10th Battalion lost their right arms through machine gun fire at Ypres on April 22nd. In conversation after the arrival of the ship yesterday morning, Pte. Smith stated that the engagement was a very severe one. The Canadians had to contend with great odds inasmuch as the Germans were provided with an abundance of machine guns. Pte. Smith spent between six and eight weeks in hospital after being incapacitated.

Pte. Biddle, of the 16th Battalion has with him a shrapnel ball which penetrated his thigh. Another souvenir of the war this Canadian brought from the Front is a German helmet.

It was at Festubert on May 19th that Pte. Sanford, of the 15th Highlanders, Toronto, was wounded by high explosive shells, resulting in concussion of the brain. He spent five days in an unconscious condition. The following were the private who returned yesterday:—

GENERAL BURSTALL ON THE CANADIAN DIVISION STAFF

SIR MAX AITKEN'S REPORT MENTIONS QUEBEC OFFICER'S NEW POST.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—News of a number of appointments to the Canadian headquarters administrative staff is contained in a brief "eye-witness" report from Sir Max Aitken, received by the Minister of Militia as follows: "During the period from Sept. 14th to 20, the situation along our frontier has remained unchanged. There was no particular activity on the part of the enemy's artillery.

Rifle and machine gun fire remained normal. Hostile aeroplanes have been more active than usual, but on all occasions have met with strong opposition from our aeroplanes and anti-aircraft guns. Our snipers have been active during the week with good results and the motor-machine gun brigade has done useful work against German snipers and working parties.

Various reconnaissances of the enemy's position have been undertaken and much valuable information secured on each occasion. Our working parties have been employed improving and strengthening our lines. Several of our officers and men have been attached for short courses at the grenade school and machine gun school. During the week twenty machine gun officers from a new British division were attached to the first Canadian division for twenty four hours and spent this period in our trenches.

Major W. B. Lindsay has been appointed officer commanding the Engineers of the First Canadian division with temporary rank of Lieut.-Col. Appointments to Canadian headquarters administrative staff include: Assistant Quarter Master General, Lt. Col. J. H. MacBrien, D.S.O.; Deputy Director Medical Services, Col. G. L. Foster; Deputy Assistant Director Medical Services, Maj. A. E. Sell; Assistant Director Army Pay Corps; Captain K. A. Murray; Camp Commandant; Col. V. A. C. Williams; Brigadier-General Royal Artillery, Brig.-General H. L. Burstall, C.B.

A second party of four Canadian journalists visited the front between the 15th and 18th instant. The party spent a day in the trenches with our first division and was entertained by the Headquarters Staffs of brigades, as well as by Generals Alderson and Curry. The party also visited Ypres and surrounding and the headquarters and units of our second division and the McGill Hospital.

GERMANS ARE HARD PRESSED

EVERY AVAILABLE MAN IN BELGIUM BEING RUSHED TO THE FRONT.

London, Sept. 27, 2:07 a.m.—In a despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Rotterdam dated Sunday afternoon the correspondent says:

"Whatever may be the final issue of events now in hand along the western front it can at least be said that the Germans are hard pressed. Every available man in Belgium is being flung into the defence. Troops, newly arrived, are being rushed to the firing line without an hour's rest, while village and frontier posts are being denuded of their guards in an endeavor to meet the Allies' onslaught.

"The German losses are described as terrible. The roar of cannon can be heard ceaselessly at places well inside the steel frontier, and an endless procession of German wounded is pouring into towns and villages behind the enemy's lines in Belgium.

"Yesterday there was fighting over a wide area with all arms engaged, by land, by sea and by air."

ANGLO-FRENCH COMMISSION NEAR END OF MISSION

AGREEMENT VIRTUALLY IS REACHED ON DETAILS OF PROPOSED LOAN.

New York, Sept. 26.—The Anglo-French financial commission and the eastern bankers have reached a virtual agreement on the details of the proposed half billion dollar credit loan to Great Britain and France. Four members of the commission will leave here tomorrow afternoon for Chicago to confer with western bankers over the tentative terms.

Following are the details of the loan upon which the commission and the bankers of eastern States are in virtual accord:

The amount: Approximately $500,000,000.

The securities: Joint Anglo-French notes;

The interest rates: Five per cent. to yield the investor about five and one-half per cent. by the notes being offered at slightly under par.

A conversion privilege at maturity of the notes: The holder to receive cash or joint Anglo-French fifteen or twenty year bonds bearing four and one-half per cent interest.

It became known tonight also that the entire tentative program had been submitted by cable to London and Paris and that the attitude of the home governments, so far as disclosed, is one of approval for all that the commission has accomplished.

Whether Paris and London, in addition to approving the work of their delegates, had formally ratified it in addition, was not divulged. It was thought doubtful, however, if this had yet been done or would be done until the agreement passed beyond the tentative stage and is no longer hedged about conditions.

The commission's forthcoming trip to Chicago was announced in a formal statement issued tonight in its behalf, reading as follows:

"We have spent much of our time since arrival in studying conditions in this country and have conferred with many bankers and business men. We are now desirous of meeting some of the leading men of affairs from other great centers, and for that purpose the chairman and some other members of the mission will start tomorrow for Chicago.

"We have been greatly pleased with the active and cordial desire for co-operation shown by divers interests throughout the country, and we feel confident that an arrangement will be effected for the attainment of the common ends sought, namely, to preserve and maintain international trade between the United States of America on the one hand and Great Britain and France on the other by the removal of the impediments which arise from instability in the rate of exchange."

Four members of the commission will make the trip to Chicago. Lord Reading, who is Lord Chief Justice of England, and chairman of the commission, and Basil B. Blackett, a British Treasury expert and secretary of the commission, will be two of the number. It was not definitely decided tonight who the other two members of the party would be.

BIG GALE ON LAKE SUPERIOR.

Wilson, N.Y., Sept. 26.—The steamer Arabian, Montreal to Lake Superior ports with a cargo of soda was driven ashore within fifty feet of the government pier here this afternoon in a heavy gale. The captain, mate and a crew of sixteen were brought ashore the vessel was abandoned for the night. It is feared ship will be a total wreck if the gale continues.

Port Hope, Ont., Sept. 26.—Grand Trunk flyer 19, which left Toronto at 9 a.m. today for Montreal, was wrecked at Newtonville, eight miles west of here, about 10:45 a.m. The train was travelling at a high rate of speed, and while passing over a switch near the station, the engine and coaches left the rails, tearing up the track for some distance. The engine toppled over, fatally injuring Engineer Heigle of Belleville. The fireman escaped by jumping. Beyond a severe shaking up none of the passengers were hurt. The C. P. R. train which passes about the same time was flagged and Heigle was rushed to hospital and was delayed for several hours.

FAVOR MOBILIZATION.

London, Sept. 27, 1:45 a.m.—The cheering of the Greek populace gathered in front of the office of the British Minister, Sir Francis E. H. Elliot, was a significant incident in Saturday's crisis, says the correspondent at Athens of Reuter's Telegram Company.

Although Greece still feels the effects of the late Balkan war, the correspondent adds, all shades of opinion support the mobilization of the Greek army as the only possible course which the Hellenic government could take.

IS IT THE GREAT OFFENSIVE? IS ASKED IN FRANCE

BRILLIANT VICTORY OF THE ALLIES THRILLS FRANCE THROUGH AND THROUGH.

Paris, Sept. 27, 12:30 a.m.—"Is it the great offensive at last?" is the question that is being asked all over France. Sunday's official communication aroused the liveliest satisfaction and was the subject of animated discussion.

The continued bombardment of the past month in the northern and Champagne sections of the battle line was generally believed to be the prelude to some important move, and the public has been quick to infer that the patiently awaited hour for a strong offensive has arrived at last.

The military observers, however, are more cautious than the public. They admit that the operations carried out by the British and French were brilliant and declare that if 20,000 prisoners were taken the total German losses must have been at least 50,000 or 60,000 men. But they hesitate to declare on the scant facts available that this is the beginning of a big offensive manoeuvre.

"The commander-in-chief has not confided his intentions to anybody," says the Temps. "It is that which raises hopes. An operation rumored is an operation ended. For the present let us rejoice over the news and wait with confidence."

FEAR OF TEUTONS BULGARIANS REASON FOR MOBILIZING

MINISTER SAYS MEASURE TAKEN TO ENSURE SAFETY OF VIDIN.

London, Sept. 26.—5:37 p.m.—A despatch from Athens to the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "The Bulgarian minister today declared that the mobilization of the Bulgarian army was not directed towards any attack against Greece or Serbia, but that it constituted preventive measures in case Austro-German troops should advance as far as Vidin."

Vidin is a fortified town of Bulgaria on the Danube 130 miles southeast of Belgrade, Serbia. It is an emporium of the Austrian commerce with the Black Sea. It would be the first Bulgarian town to be reached by the Austro-German forces should the predicted Teutonic advance towards Constantinople in aid of the Turks succeed in crossing the 36 mile strip of territory in the north-eastern corner of Serbia.

HON. ROBT. ROGERS SOLICITS RECRUITS

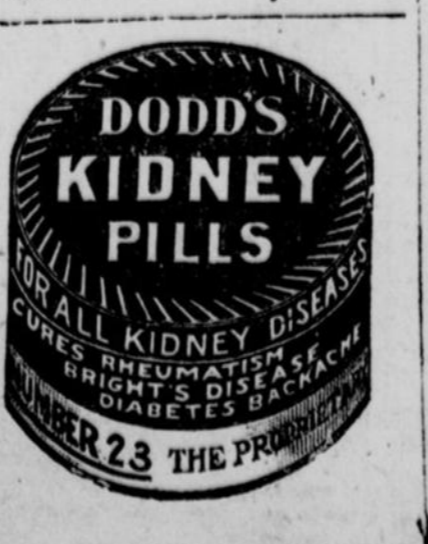

Montreal, Sept. 26.—Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, was the chief speaker at a recruiting meeting at Longueuil, Que., Saturday afternoon. Among those who urged more enthusiasm in enlisting was Major Barre, recently returned from the front wounded.

WAR IN ALL ITS HORRORS.

Amsterdam, Sept. 26, via London, Sept. 27.—2:23 a.m.—The Telegraph's Roulers correspondent sends his paper a despatch describing the latest activities on the western front. The despatch says:

"War again in all its horrors. There is heavy fighting in Flanders. The gunfire is tremendous. Wagons with all kinds of supplies thunder along the roads.

"There is a fearful bringing back of wounded. The trams bring them to Roulers in crowds and automobiles rush them to villages close behind the lines. Cortemark has all its available buildings filled, and more are constantly arriving in wagons, lying on straw which has been hastily improvised into beds. The soldiers speak of the scenes at the front with shudders. Great events are everywhere expected."

ENTENTE ALLIES ENDEAVOURING TO WIN BALKANS

Bulgarian Complications Likely to be Smoothed Over Shortly.

GREECE WITH SERBIA.

Fear That Bulgaria Has Aggressive Designs, Causes Greece's Preparedness.

London, Sept. 26.—The situation in the Balkans and the intentions of Bulgaria are still surrounded with considerable mystery. Bulgaria which had been definitely placed on the side of the Central Powers as the result of recent news from Sofia, officially informed the Entente Powers today that her mobilization had been ordered in the national interests and that it had not the slightest aggressive character.

The Bulgarian Premier, M. Radoslavoff, in an interview with the Sofia correspondent of the Berlin Tagesblatt, reiterated this statement, but it is noteworthy that while he said the measure was not directed against Greece or Rumania he omitted Serbia, attacks upon which state have been considered to be the intention of the Bulgarian government in their effort to regain Macedonia.

Such an attack, it is pointed out, would bring Greece to the side of her ally, and as in the last Balkan war Greece, Serbia and possibly Rumania would be found opposed to Bulgaria. Rumania has already mobilized, and Greece is taking similar action. The conclusion, therefore, has been drawn here that they, at least, fear that Bulgaria has aggressive designs, if not against Greece, then against Serbia.

King Constantine and the Greek Premier, M. Venizelos, apparently have entirely composed the differences which led to their separation when the Premier early in the war wanted to join the Allies against Turkey.

The whole matter may yet be smoothed over, as Bulgaria is continuing her negotiations with the Entente Powers, the Bulgarian Minister at Petrograd having had a long conference with the Russian Foreign Minister, M. Sazonoff, while the ministers at other capitals insist that the Bulgarians would not fight against their old friends, Great Britain and Russia.

On the other hand, the Austro-German offensive against Serbia, which seems to have been delayed, might light the torch which would set the whole Balkans afire.

WAR TIME INSANITY.

Less Lunacy in Time of Big Worries.

The suggestion of the medical superintendent of Belfast Asylum that the war is diminishing lunacy by relieving the people of some of the small worries and monotony of life was discussed by a leading authority on insanity recently. In London the figures lend some support to the doctor's theory.

"Speaking generally," said this authority, "we have no reason to believe that the war has caused an appreciable increase of insanity yet, whatever may be the experience of the future. The conditions for a wide increase have not yet arisen. People who become insane are those with the inherent tendency to do so. Stress may cause them to topple over. At present much of the ordinary stress is removed.

"There is little unemployment and less poverty than usual. Many of the poorer people are better off than ever; the war before. There may be more drinking, but my experience is that drink does not of itself send people to the asylum, though it helps in a case of mental instability.

"There is an old saying, 'The more asylums you have, the more lunacy.' To some extent that is true. Slight cases may not be notified if it is known that there is no room for them in the asylum. And our accommodation is smaller than before, for one of our asylums has been transformed into a war hospital."

BEE LINE.

A soldier on guard was questioned as to his knowledge of his duties. "You know your duty here, do you, sentry?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, now, suppose they should open on you with shells and musketry, what would you do?"

"Form a line, sir."

"What! One Man form a line?"

"Yes, sir; form a bee line for camp, sir."—New York American.

IN DOUBT.

"Will you love me forever and a day?" sighed the newly betrothed heiress.

"It all depends," replied the scion of an ancient but impoverished family. "Do you think our money will last that long?"—St. Louis Post Dispatch

ANOTHER TOBACCO FUND

As announced in our Saturday issue we have decided to acquiesce to the request of a number of influential and patriotic citizens and open another Tobacco Fund for the benefit of our soldiers on the firing line.

The list is open at the Chronicle Office today. Probably you contributed generously to the last consignment or perhaps you overlooked it. Nevertheless, this makes no difference, success may only be attained by sustained effort and not by resting satisfied with a small gain. The soldier in the trenches must not relax his vigilance nor can he sleep peacefully even after his regiment has gained an important position. His work is then redoubled for will not the enemy make more determined efforts to regain the ground lost?

Therefore, you, for whom these soldiers are fighting, must not relax your vigilance for what comforts you can provide. The hundreds of letters received from the men expressing their unbounded delight at the reception of the tobacco are proof enough that the gift is not only a luxury but a necessity.

But, tobacco, like shells, goes up in smoke and by this time doubtless, the supply sent by generous Quebecers has been exhausted. Are you satisfied with what you have donated previously or do you not think that you should help in sending over another consignment?

The list is now open, it is for you to say.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S VISIT

The officers and members of the Canadian Club are naturally disappointed that Mr. Roosevelt was unable to address them on Saturday. It is quite easy to understand that even if time had permitted, the ex-president would have found it exceedingly difficult to address a Canadian Club at this particular moment. There is scarcely any subject apart from the European war that a public man in his position could be expected to speak of here in an address, and any public reference to that matter in this country, in view of President Wilson's declaration of neutrality would place Mr. Roosevelt in a very embarrassing position, and more particularly when the pro-British views privately entertained by him are taken into consideration. When our late visitor speaks he has the habit of freely expressing himself, and as the attitude of the administration at Washington in connection with the war, and particularly its failure to stand by its country's pledge in regard to Belgian neutrality, is known to be the contrary of what Mr. Roosevelt's policy would have been were he at the head of the Government, it will be readily understood that without setting an example of defiant disregard of President Wilson's appeal to the citizens of the United States for the observance of neutrality in the present war, he could neither do himself nor his subject justice in a public address.

Quebecers are pleased, however, to know that their distinguished visitor enjoyed his first visit to the Ancient Capital, and that he carries away with him pleasant impressions of our city and of the happy hunting grounds of its northern wilderness of woods and waters. As an experienced sportsman himself, his publicly expressed estimate of the attractiveness and the abundant game supply of our forests is a valuable advertisement for our province. It is to be hoped that the gallant Colonel will pay us another visit, and that when he next comes to Quebec there may be nothing to deprive our people from listening to one of his virile and strenuous addresses. Meanwhile he has our congratulations upon his success in securing excellent trophies of our noblest game, in the shape of moose and caribou, testimonies alike to his distinguished prowess, as a sportsman and to the abundance of the wild life in our richly stocked north country.

CANADA'S OPPORTUNITY.

Canadians, and Quebecers in particular, would do well to read and take to heart an article recently published by Miss Agnes Laut on Canada's opportunity. Miss Laut is very well-known in Quebec and some of her literary work has been done here. Her stories of the North-west and of the Fur Trade illustrate the strenuous character of much of her work. Few writers of the other sex have dealt with subjects of trade, commerce and banking with greater freedom, virility and sound judgment in recent years than Miss Laut has done. The article to which we are now referring is full of the plainest common sense. Canada is reminded that she has an almost monopolistic grip on two or three world commodities. On wheat, in a very few years she will dominate the world's markets. In nickel and copper she is today a commanding figure, though that command is disguised by the matte going out through American ports. On lumber she stands easily first. On fisheries close to first. Miss Laut rightly declares that if Canada would make herself a world market for these products, she could pay off her war debt in ten years, and her recipe for doing it is simply to stop about doing it, "by stopping back township politics, by cutting out penny graft, and by thinking big and pulling together." Foreign markets, concludes Miss Laut, is what Canada wants, just as the U. S. Steel Trust some years ago needed them and set to work to find them in South America and Russia and China. There are foreign markets for all Canada's commodities. But to secure them, three powers must pull together as they pull in London and Liverpool and Hamburg—to quote the reply of the President of the Steel Trust when asked how the United States might become a great world power in finance. First the banks must extend credit for expansion; second, harbors and railways must work together; third, there must be a merchant marine to carry traffic to the ends of the earth. But most important of all—banks, harbors, railroads and merchantmen must work together to capture foreign markets. Quebec has the banks and the banking capital. She has one of the grandest harbors in the world, at present being equipped in the most up-to-date manner. She has railways, which with the approaching completion of the bridge will enable her to reach out to the sources of the country's wealth of every kind; we have the men, we have the ships, we have the money too. Have we the necessary energy and spirit of union to grasp our great opportunities and to turn them to good account? If we have, the future is ours.

PRESS COMMENT.

The suggestion that the Dominion of Canada should be put up as security for the billion dollar loan for the Allies, while made as a joke and treated as such, would have been taken much more seriously a few centuries ago, when arbitrary monarchs literally gambled in villages, borrowed on provinces, and trafficked in the manhood of their kingdom as today the Beef Kings of America and Argentina traffic in cattle. The Russian Grand Dukes even yet, when they go to Paris to sow a few wild oats, gamble heavily in villages, these being frequently the stakes for which they play. That, however, involves merely a change of landlord, and does not mean a transfer of allegiance from one flag to another. The petty German princelings of a century ago gambled with regiments, "staking," as Thackeray says, "a regiment on the red at the gaming table, and swapping a battalion against a diamond necklace. The phrase "soldier of fortune" had a very definite meaning in those days, but whole regiments were made into soldiers of fortune on the chance of a throw with the dice by their arbitrary masters. The German peasants were particularly victimized in this way, because their princes were trying to imitate the splendors of Versailles on insufficient means. The French people paid for those splendors all right, but in other ways. They were not gambled away or even sold as one of the Dukes of Hanover sold 6,700 of his people to the Seignior of Venice. The German States were recognized as being at the head of their profession in this line of activity, and even England did not disdain to buy a few regiments of Hessians when she was facing the world coalition a century ago. There is, of course, just this much seriousness in the proposal made half jestingly by the Wall Street man; that, if by any extraordinary chance Great Britain and her Allies found themselves unable to meet their obligations in regard to the billion dollar loan, Canada's independence would depend upon her ability to maintain it alone. To maintain it in any other way would be to sacrifice her independence to one quarter in order to save it from another. It is a big question, and worth a little consideration, and may possibly lead to a fuller realization of the position of this country than has hitherto been the case, in some instances, at any rate. The men who have left everything to go and fight in France and Flanders understand it, but there are many who do not appear to have reached that point.—Montreal News.

"This war is the greatest blessing that has fallen on man since the German Reformation," said the Rev. Dr. Charles Eaton of New York in a sermon last Sunday. There is much justification for his view. The moral elevation which it has brought to more than one nation in mass, and the spirit of personal consecration which it has aroused in millions of individuals may be held by those who do not overestimate the material side of life as outweighing the suffering and the loss that it has involved.

"We need a cross," said Dr. Eaton, "and God has laid this cross upon the world. We are being purged by pain." Of all the strange but certain things, none is more certain or more strange than the necessity of pain. Without it life would be an empty, arid desert, which we would traverse without inspiration toward a vapid and thankless goal. The tonic of life is sorrow and its crown is death. But if this be true of the individual, why shall not the nations, too, have their stimulation of mortal agony? Why shall they not be aroused by the Divine call of sacrifice to give not only of their wealth and their pride, but of their blood and their tears to express their devotion to those principles and ideals which transcend all worldly or temporal joys? Why shall they not develop a collective heroism, a common martyr spirit which may lift them and their children to higher planes of national nobility of soul with all that such elevation implies in the way of higher and purer civilization and more intense humanity exhibiting itself in greater freedom and broader benevolence? Why should not all the world give thanks for the discipline and education of pain?—Frederickton Gleaner.

In a town in the south of France a girl of 22 has performed the functions of mayor since August. She was a teacher and secretary at the mairie, and also qualified as a military nurse. While waiting to be called upon to nurse wounded she found that the chief municipal functionaries were mobilized, and was herself urged to take charge of affairs. The administration of the commune was left in her hands, and even in difficult matters concerning constructions, repairs and workmen, she carried out the work with no assistance from the councillors. The young "maire" discovered that the latter, while willing to accept the honors of the position, were glad to remit its duties to a young suffragist, whose claims to political recognition they would have ridiculed. She discovered many needed reforms in public health and other departments.—Jus Suffragii.

QUEBEC HEARS OF THE BIG VICTORY

RAIN KEPT PEOPLE IN THEIR HOMES BUT CHRONICLE 'PHONE WAS KEPT BUSY.

While yesterday's torrential rain prevented the Chronicle from bulleting the news of the big victory of the Anglo-French arms in France, yet the tidings spread like wildfire and the office telephones were scarcely idle a minute from six-thirty until midnight and even after that hour.

Some of the inquirers had an inkling of the news from the afternoon reports and were prepared for cheerful response to their queries, but to the ones who habitually call up for news during the evening the joyful intelligence came as a delicious shock, if there is such a thing as shock, which can be called delicious.

Had the evening been fine or even moderately so there is no doubt that the streets would have been the scene of much enthusiasm. But, it was no ordinary rain, it was a veritable deluge and celebrations of the victory were confined to the homes and clubs, while many probably heard the news for the first time this morning.

FUNERAL OF LATE MISS MAGUIRE.

The funeral of the late Miss Elizabeth Maguire was held from her late residence, St. Amable street, to St. Patrick's Church and Cemetery on Saturday morning. A large and representative cortege escorted the remains to their last earthly resting place in St. Patrick's Cemetery following the usual imposing Catholic Church funeral service at which the Rev. Father eMighen, C.S.S.R., officiated, assisted by Rev. Fathers Woods and Healey as deacon and sub-deacon. During the Mass Jesu Salvator was rendered by Mr. R. Timmons and following the Libera J. Faure's funeral hymn was sung by Miss V. Henchey. The words of both solos were feelingly expressed. The chief mourners were Mr. T. J. Maguire, of Sherbrooke, brother, and his sons, Messrs. J. T. and W. J. Walsh, of Newport, Vt., and Gordon B. of Sherbrooke, Mr. James L. Harkin, Quebec, and Mr. Walter H. McGovern, of Montreal, brothers-in-law, Mr. Charles Houghton, of Montreal, cousin. Among those attending from outside the city were Messrs. T. D. Walsh and M. H. Hawkins, of Sherbrooke.

GILKER-SHARPE.

St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Riviere du Loup, was the scene of a most happy social event, when Maud Ethel, daughter of Mr. H. W. Sharpe was united in marriage to Mr. R. W. Gilker, of Campbellton, the bride who was attired in white silk with over dress of silk chiffon, entered the Church to the strains of Lohengrin Wedding March rendered by Miss Mildred May.

VICTORY FOR VENIZELOS.

Athens, Greece, Sept. 26, via Paris —The result of the kaleidoscopic political changes of the last few days in Greece is considered here to be a great victory for Premier Venizelos. The most scrupulous observance of the treaty alliance between Greece and Serbia now is believed to be assured, as also is the active co-operation of Greece with the Entente Powers in the event of a Bulgarian attack on Serbia.

CAPTAIN BERNIER BACK FROM NORTH

HARDY QUEBEC EXPLORER HAD SUCCESSFUL TRIP — ONE OF CREW PERISHES.

Captain Joseph E. Bernier, the Canadian Arctic region explorer reached port yesterday morning on his reliable vessel, the Guide after a very successful trip to the new land he discovered in the North, known as Baffin Islands and which in 1916 will be recognized as a Canadian possession.

This newly discovered land, which is located in the Arctic Archipelago about 2,500 miles from this port, comprises 500,000 acres of territory as extensive as France and Italy combined.

One Casualty. The only casualty reported by Captain Bernier shortly after his arrival here yesterday was the loss of one of his crew, a German, who, while taking photos on the Islands, wandered too far away from the Esquimaux settlement and was lost. His frozen body was found thirty days later 150 miles away from the station by a search party sent out by Captain Bernier.

"It was only by mere luck" stated the Captain "that the remains were recovered for had it not been for the wind clearing the snow from the form after the unfortunate man had been lying some time, we would never have found his body."

Tidings of War. It must be recounted here that when Captain and crew of ten set sail on the SS. Guide for the North the war was not on and men of any nationality looked alike to this hardy Canadian Explorer, who was only acquainted with the stirring events of the times, last August. It was July 4th, 1914, that the party set sail from Quebec. Letters and newspapers received last month informed the Captain that the powers of Europe were engaged in the biggest war in history. Up to then no tidings from the "civilized" world were at hand.

In making the voyage to Baffin Islands it occupied fifty-eight days, twenty-five of which were spent within sight of the Islands, but due to ice conditions they were unable to affect a landing at a desirable point. The Guide on leaving here went through the Straits of Belle Isle to Greenland Off Button Point in the chilly region, Captain Bernier had an exciting tussle with a bear, which he killed unassisted. The flesh was utilized for meat.

Natives Welcome Captain. On reaching the station in the North Captain Bernier found everything satisfactory and the Esquimaux as happy and eager to trade as ever. The average temperature during February, March and July is 30 below zero the Captain stated. On the journey North the Guide brought the customary articles from Canada which the natives they stand most in need of and in exchange the Canadian explorer received some 200 bear skins a considerable quantity of white and blue fox skins, walrus skins and tusk, oil, special boots and suits made by the Esquimaux from these furs, etc.

A considerable portion of these skins were from animals captured in numerous caches by Capt. Bernier at Melvil Island, Port Leopold and other points in the North.

50 Years on Sea. Altogether the trip was a very successful one in every respect and brings to a close Captain Bernier's fiftieth year of life on water. Feeling in the best of spirits and looking the part of a much younger and able bodied seaman, Captain Bernier's wish of outdoing his Grandfather's record of half a century of sea life by spending another season in the life should be gratified.

On this last voyage Captain Bernier enjoyed the best of health. The engineer of the Guide was slightly ill on arriving in port, but it is not expected that his sickness will be of long duration.

Steamer Guide. The steamer Guide which is owned by Captain Bernier was built by the British Government for pilot purposes and is cherished by the new owner, who states that with a few alterations she will be unrivaled for trading purposes between here and the North. Captain Bernier announces that she is now ready for chartering until next Spring when she will be required by the owner.

DON'T MISS CHAPLIN AT THE VICTORIA.

In An Up-to-the-Minute Comedy, Full of Mirth and Laughter.

An exceptionally good programme will be offered at the Victoria Theatre, today and tomorrow, headed by the famous Charlie Chaplin, King of fun makers, in a rare comedy entitled "A Gentleman of Nerve," which is bound to please even the most exact.

Another feature which is alone worth the price of admission is "Portea" a four reel sensational detective story and comic burlesque, which embodies many thrilling scenes and hair-breadth escapes. It portrays in no small degree the wonderful progress achieved by animated photography.

In addition to the above there are two other interesting reels which are up to the usual standard of excellence shown here, also musical selections by Zimmermann's orchestra will conclude a bill that should attract full houses at all performances.

You cannot always depend upon drinking water being pure and free from contagion, but you can always rely upon B. B. Lager being the purest beverage that it is possible to produce.

HARRY BOAKES, JR., DEFEATS LOCALS

WON SQUASH BALL GAMES AGAINST BOTH LAVOIE AND SIMARD.

Harry Boakes, Jr., the well-known racket expert of Chicago, a former Quebecer, gave a splendid exhibition of squash ball at the Garrison Club court, yesterday, when he defeated Mr. Nap Lavoie, Quebec's veteran expert, two straight games—scores being 15-2, 15-11. The Quebec man played brilliantly but the old saying, "Youth will be served," was again illustrated. Mr. Boakes, afterwards took on Mr. Jos. Simard, whom he defeated two games to one, the scores being 15-3, 15-7 and 11-15. An injury to Simard's ankle in the fourth game caused his retirement, the score being 9-5 for Boakes. A match between Emmet McDonald and Harry Boakes, Jr., is likely to take place this week. McDonald has defeated both Lavoie and Simard, and it is to be hoped that a match will be arranged.

ROVERS MADE A BRAVE SHOWING

MONTMORENCY DEFEATED THEM BY 3 TO 1, BUT LOSERS FOUGHT HARD.

Though forced to play nine men against eleven for one half of Saturday's football game, the Rovers made brave showing, only succumbing to the fast Montmorency outfit by 3 goals to 1. Froud played a remarkably clever game in goal for the Rovers and much of the credit for the lowness of the score may be awarded to him. Play was fast in the first half and as the day was very cold the players did no loathing. Rovers pressed right from the face and Hart saved a beauty from Maguire. Montmorency recovered and Graham led a hot attack on Rovers goal which culminated in Bridge counting the first goal for the Falls team after his first shot had been cleared by Froud. Rovers evened up shortly afterwards, Montmorency's backs playing too far up the field. Smith shot in a beauty which struck the crossbar and Hart cleared swiftly. Maguire, however, rushed in and with a well-placed drive placed the teams level. Montmorency awakened to the fact that they were in a real game and Froud was the hero of several determined attacks. Graham finally got an opening, giving the goaler no chance to save. Jack Lovett added another shortly afterwards and the half ended 3 to 1 for the Falls. Rovers were re-inforced by Fletcher and Zetter in the second half, and managed to keep the Montmorency team from scoring though they failed to tally a goal. H. Warner played his usual steady game for the winners, while the defence was reliable. Bridges and Gisham were very aggressive. Hart had little to do but saved two nasty shots in brilliant fashion. Maguire and Smith played good games for the losers, though all worked hard. Froud's great goalkeeping featured the game. The Teams:— Montmorency. Goal. Rovers. Hart..... Goal..... Froud Backs..... Robertson Mills..... Smith Page..... Halves..... Bridge..... Maguire H. Warner..... Tyner Martin..... Forwards..... Lovett..... Rudd Barnes..... O'Hara Graham..... Rutledge Reid..... N. H. A. HOCKEY WITH CUT SALARIES.

T. Emmet Quinn Was Re-elected President. Montreal, Sept. 26—With salaries cut considerably below those paid to the players last winter, the National Hockey Association will continue the games this coming winter. This decision was arrived at this morning at a meeting in the Windsor Hotel. Just what the salary limit will be was not given out, but it is understood it will be general, and no such highly paid players will appear on the ice as was the case last season. All the clubs in the association were represented. The schedule will not be drafted until late in October, but contracts will be sent to the players by Oct. 15. T. Emmet Quinn was re-elected president and Frank Calder was re-elected secretary.

LOYAL TO JAMES.

One does not often hear of feminine protest against the military note in prevalent fashion of dress. But a certain jocosmith offer this: "Why, my dear, how sober you look! There isn't a single bright color about you." "No; I thought now that James is in the diplomatic service I had better wear neutral tints."—Exchange.

HOCKEY AS USUAL IN THE N.H.A.

BUT ECONOMY WILL BE PRACTISED—ARENA PRICES MAY BE LOWERED.

Mr. M. J. Quinn, Vice-President and manager of the Quebec Hockey Club returned to town yesterday after having attended the N. H. A. meeting in Montreal. "Hockey as usual" is the N. H. A. slogan said Mr. Quinn to the Chronicle last night, "but it will have to be along the most economic lines." "Some of the clubs felt it might be well to suspend hockey for a year but finally decided to play with the exercising of the greatest economy both by the "League and the Clubs." "The Quebec Club is a strong advocate for a cut in prices for the hockey games in the Quebec Arena," said Mr. Quinn and have in consequence, submitted a lower scale to the owners of the Arena, who it is thought will give a favorable reply to the proposal. As is pretty generally known five of the six clubs lost money last year which necessarily means that present conditions must be met by Rink owners, Clubs and players as well. Salary Limit. A salary limit is to be fixed by the N.H.A. whereby no club can pay more than the amount decided upon for the entire team. A few minor changes in the playing rules shall be announced later. The annual meeting has also been changed from 3rd Friday in May to last Saturday in September of each year. It is not likely the Western P. C. League, will make any draft of players this year from the N. H. A. clubs as conditions in the West are not any too good. It was also decided that the N.H.A. would again make a donation this year either to the Patriotic Fund, the Red Cross, Soldiers Wives' League, or some other association, connected with the relief of war sufferers. This Year's Contract. Contracts will soon be tendered players, as date for such service expires on Oct. 15th of each year. The League figures that this year's business will not be any better if not worse than last year, but they have decided to take a chance and it is to be hoped that their efforts will be met at least half way by the players, rink owners and the hockey-loving public. The Schedule. A schedule will be drawn up with alternate games. That is to say the clubs will play a game at home and the next one away. Quebec will therefore have one game per week here five Saturdays and five Wednesdays. The same officers were elected. They are as follows: President: T. Emmet Quinn. Sec.-Treas: Frank Calder. Directors:—Ottawa, M. Rosenthal; Quebec, M. J. Quinn; Shamrocks, E. Livingston; Toronto, F. Robinson, Canadiens, G. W. Kendall.

ROSEDALES OVERCAME SIX-GOAL LEAD BUT FAILED TO HOLD IT.

Toronto, Sept. 26—With a lead of six to overcome, Rosedale yesterday met Nationals in the final game for the Eastern professional lacrosse championship and failed by two goals to tie, beating the Frenchmen 11 to 7, it looked as though the Blue Shirts had the championship in their mitt, but the Nationals in the third and fourth put up great fight, adding four in the third and two in the fourth, while Rosedale secured only one more in the last. For Rosedale, Longfellow and Fitzgerald played great lacrosse, the former having five goals to his credit. It was in the third that the Purple Shirts showed a sudden reversal of form, Lalonde doing great work and Briault, Cadore and Clement showing like new men. Lamoureux also played a fine game. The teams: Rosedales. Goal. Nationals. Holmes..... Goal..... L'Heureux Point. Harshaw..... Briault Cover. Yeaman..... Cadotte Defence. Green..... Clement Harrison..... Degan Braden..... Hamelin Centre. Longfellow..... Degray Inside. Denney..... Pitre Fitzgerald..... Baillairgon Barnett..... Dussault Outside. Kalls..... Lamoureux Home. Warwick..... Lalonde Referee: E. St. Pere. Judge of Play: Roddy Finlayson.

LACROSSE FOR RED CROSS DRAWS WELL IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Sept. 26—No larger crowd has witnessed a lacrosse game in Ottawa since the Capitals dropped from the N. L. U., turned out on Saturday to see the Red Cross Fund game between the Capital, veterans and the Shamrocks, city champions. The match resulted in a win for the Capitals by 7 to 4. Powers, Starrs, H. Westwick, Hutton, Ashfield, J. Shead, and others figured on the Capital team, showing much of their former skill. The Capitals assumed an early lead and never were in danger. BUCK VS. EGGERS AT THE ARENA

CLEVER BANTAMWEIGHTS WILL MEET TONIGHT—THE FIGHTERS ARRIVE.

Johnny (K. O.) Eggers, and "Kid" Burns, arrived in town yesterday, all primed up for their bouts before the Quebec Sporting Club at the Arena, tonight. Eggers will meet Tommy Buck, of Philadelphia, in a ten round bout. Both these boys are top-notchers, clean-living youths, who are a credit to the boxing game, and the question of either's supremacy may be decided tonight. "Joe" Montminy will battle "Kid" Burns on the same evening. Montminy is one of the most popular fighters in the city and he deserves it. He trains conscientiously and is sincere in his work. "Kid" Burns, his opponent, is a clever boy and Montminy's ability should be thoroughly tested in this bout. Dery and Parent, two local boxers, will put on an interesting preliminary. This bout has created great interest and both boys have hosts of backers. The bill is a most attractive one, and Promoter Drapeau evidently has worked hard to offer Quebecers a boxing treat.

GRAND MASTER OF I.O.O.F. VISITS QUEBEC LODGES

INTERESTING MEETING—PRESENTATION TO PAST GRAND MASTER E. H. WALLING.

A very largely attended District Meeting of the Independent Order of Oddfellows took place on Saturday night in the Masonic Hall when the Grand Master of the Order, in the Province of Quebec, Bro. D. W. Dixon, visited the local brethren. The Grand Master on entering the Lodge Room was accompanied by the following Grand Lodge Officers: Bro. T. J. Potter, Grand Secretary; Bro. D. J. Dickson, Grand Treasurer; G. E. Laing, D.D.G.M., Dist. No. 3; E. H. Walling, P.G.M.; and J. Norris, G.C.P. On entering the lodge the Grand Master was received with the usual Grand honors, and was heartily welcomed on behalf of the Quebec Brethren by Bro. F. W. Phillips, who presided. The Grand Master addressed the members and in a most eloquent manner dwelt upon the advantages of the Order, and the desirability of adhering closely to the principal motto of Oddfellowship "F. L. & T." He congratulated the Quebec Brethren on the harmony that prevailed among the different lodges in the city and emphasized the necessity of keeping up this laudable state of affairs. He also extended his appreciation of the services rendered by the District D.G.M., Bro. F. W. Phillips in looking so closely after the interests of the Order in the Ancient Capital, and had not the slightest doubt that when he vacated his office that Bro. Phillips would have a large number of additional members to report. The Grand Master then gave some interesting figures with regard to the Order and stated that there were on December 31st, 1914, 1,686, 176, Subordinate members, 234,438 encampment members and 26,882 canton members or a total membership (without duplication) of 2,194,773. And for the same year there was an increase in the various subordinate bodies of 24,275.

The revenue for the year $18,848,205, as compared with $18,950,609 for the previous year. The total invested funds of the Order now stood at $68,284,512. Sovereign Grand Lodge Funds showed a balance on hand of $69,125. The condition of the Oddfellow Homes throughout the world is as follows:—
Cost of Property ..... $3,490,215.
Present Value ..... 5,291,776.
Cost of Maintenance ..... 845,652.
Number of Homes ..... 54
Number of Residents ..... 3,678
Residents admitted from date of opening ..... 7,803
Brother Dickson contended that these figures proved that the Order was well worthy of the utmost support.

Bro. Walling Honored.

Before concluding his address the Grand Master said that he had been entrusted by the Grand Lodge of Quebec with a duty which afforded him great pleasure to perform and he felt sure that the Quebec Brethren would be pleased to learn that the Grand Lodge had asked him to present Past Grand Master E. H. Walling with a Past Grand Master's jewel. In presenting the jewel to Bro. Walling Bro. Dickson referred to many services he had rendered to the Order and how the members of the Grand Lodge felt that those services should not go unrewarded, and he also felt it a great honor to be selected as the medium through which this mark of their esteem was to be presented. In handing the jewel to Bro. Walling he expressed the hope that Bro. Walling would be spared for many years to wear it. Bro. P. G. M. Walling thanked the Grand Master and those who accompanied him to Quebec on his first official visit and coupling the presentation of the Past Grand Master's jewel from the Grand Lodge of Quebec. Brother Walling stated that for the last twenty-three years he had been a member of the Grand Lodge; had been honored with nearly all the appointed and elective offices of the Grand Lodge, and had represented the Jurisdiction at St. Paul, Minn., and Denver, Col. He highly prized this last honor and agreed with the Grand Master when he stated that he hoped he would be long spared to wear the jewel; for in wearing it he felt that it would stimulate him to greater service towards the Order, and concluded by requesting the Grand Master to convey to the Grand Lodge of Quebec his sincere thanks for the presentation.

Brothers C. R. Norris, Grand Chief Patriarch of the Grand Encampment, T. J. Potter, Grand Secy., D. J. Dixon, P.G.M., and E. Laing, D.D.G.M., District No. 3 also delivered very interesting addresses.

After the meeting closed the Brethren adjourned for refreshments. Bro. F. W. Phillips also presided at this function and proved quite a host.

After the company which numbered between eighty and ninety members had partaken of the good things provided the toast of the "King" was submitted and loyalty honored the toast of the "Grand Lodge of Quebec" was then submitted, coupled with the names of Grand Master Dickson and P. G. M. Walling. Bro. Dickson thanked the members for the cordial manner they had received the toast and assured them that the Grand Lodge fully appreciated the hospitality which its members always received when they visited Quebec. Bro. Walling in also responding referred to the loyalty and devotion the Quebec members had always displayed towards the Grand Lodge, and that the Province had responded well to the call to arms. He pointed out that two old members of the Order had reached high commands at the front in the persons of Major General Turner and Brigadier General Watson both of whom had taken a great interest in the affairs of the Society, and the latter as Managing Director of the "Chronicle" had helped the Order in many ways as also had the "Daily Telegraph" which was very much appreciated.

Other toasts submitted were the "Grand Encampment", responded to by P. G. P. Elliott and G. J. W. Norton; and also of "Brethren at the front", which was drunk in silence. It was stated that there were 165 Oddfellows from the Province on the firing line.

The following brethren contributed songs and recitations during the evening, the talent displayed being of an unusually high class. Bros. Barrington, P. G., P. Lane, Lyrett, McLaren, Milne, and Reid.

The evening's entertainment concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The following brethren were most indefatigable in looking after the wants of the guests: Bros. T. Copper, H. Heggard, P. Lane, and J. Norton, P.G.

The Committee in charge of the general arrangements of the function: Bros. F. W. Phillips, S. Lower, P. J. Lane, J. Norton, P. Lane, P. Dale, C. Thorn, J. Hagger and D. G. Milne, are to be congratulated on the success which attended their efforts.

BRITISH SERGES SCARCE

Hard to Get a Really Fine Serge at a Fair Price.

To get a good navy blue serge suit now-a-days, a pure indigo-dyed serge of soft wool weave, is not as easy as it was. The "King's Own" and "Britonsloom" serge suits which were standard values at $20 and $25, now cost a good deal more. All the serge weavers are making khaki for the army.

Even the famous "Blunoz" serge has been withdrawn from the market, for the only Canadian mill that could make it, is working at capacity on war orders.

The best Semi-ready serge suits at $20 and $25 represent values on cloth bought before the war.

Woman's Intuition.

A woman, wearing an anxious expression, called at an insurance office one morning. "I understand," she said, "that for $5 I can insure my house for a thousand dollars in your company."

"Yes," replied the agent, "that is right. If your house burns down, we pay $1000."

"And," continued the woman anxiously, "do you make any inquiries as to the origin of the fire?"

"Certainly," was the prompt reply. "We make the most careful inquiries, madam."

"Oh!" and she turned to leave the office—"I thought there was a catch in it somewhere."—Everybody's.

NEW FRENCH LINE STEAMER Traffic of Popular Steamship Co., Steadily Increasing. That the war has had practically no effect upon the traffic of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, familiarly known as the "French Line", but that, on the contrary this traffic has regularly increased, is evinced in the announcement of the addition to their trans-Atlantic fleet of a new quadruple-screw steamship which has been christened "Lafayette".

GREAT WORK OF BELGIAN COMMITTEE. The first complete report of the Commission for Relief of Belgium, covering the first eight months of its existence, reveals that the organization forms the greatest relief movement of history.

Problem More Difficult. In discussing the report Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the commission said: "It may cause more surprise among Americans, who believe that the United States is provisioning the Belgian and French people in the track of the war, that only something over six million dollars in food, clothes and money have come from the United States."

THE report includes detailed statements of the commission's work, such as complete accounts of the disposition of 195 cargoes of foodstuffs and clothing, and other statistical data, as well as a general survey of the situation in Belgium.

World's Charity Mobilized. After referring to the work of the financial relief and benevolent departments, the committee states that half a million people who might otherwise have fallen into destitution have been provided for through the remittances made available by this department, which to June 30 totalled about $20,000,000.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of THE CHRONICLE, Sept., 1885 and 1815.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Does History Repeat Itself.
The old adage says "history repeats itself," and from what we read in the newspapers of the present day and compare it with what appeared 30 years ago we must conclude that there is a great deal of truth in the old adage. The "eternal" "eastern question" of that time was just about as acute as it is at present. Bulgaria and her neighbour, Roumelia determined on union, the former was ruled by Prince Alexander, a cousin Tsar Alexander, and Russia to whom Bulgaria owes so much, determined to support his cousin and the Bulgarian Roumelian union which was accomplished on this month 30 years ago.

Turkey Objects.
And sent her troops to occupy certain Roumelian villages. In the meantime Servian Army Corps were marching toward the Macedonian frontier, and the Prime Minister of Greece prepared a decree ordering the mobilization of the army. At the end of it all, Prince Alexander was forced to abdicate, and in 1887 the present ruler of Bulgaria, Prince Ferdinand (the old fox) was elected in his stead.

Disgraceful Scene at Kingston.
Thirty years ago at this time a disgraceful scene was enacted at Kingston, viz.—the hanging of Louis Riel in effigy and that by a party of men wearing the Queen's uniform. Now the Chronicle has no hesitation in pronouncing this conduct as disgraceful and scandalous. Every man who took part in the miserable affair ought to be instantly dismissed the service in disgrace.
Riel is a criminal under the sentence of death, an appeal to the Privy Council is being made, and the people of Canada must obey the law. Hanging him in effigy belittles the parties to it in the eyes of the world and makes Canada contemptible.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

What Military Occupation Means.
After the battle of Waterloo and during the occupation of France by the Allies the following were the regulations put into force by Prince Blucher in the Provinces occupied by the Prussian troops. "The natives who have remained to the good cause will be specially advanced, and the Perfects and Mayors who since Napoleonic return from Elba have been placed as his special friends will be arrested and their property sequestered. The inhabitants are to be disarmed. All sequestered property forms the military fund and is designed to indemnify the other inhabitants from the damage sustained by the war and the requisitions. The army is to be maintained, clothed, paid and armed at the expense of the enemy's country and the following articles required for the occupied provinces:
150,000 pairs of shoes, 150,000 coats, 40,000 pairs of breeches, 150,000 cloaks, 150,000 pairs of breeches, 150,000 pairs of gaiters, 150,000 leather caps, 100,000 kettles and drinking vessels, 100,000 horse shoes, 3,000 horses, half saddle, half draught horses, and four million of francs to make good the arrears of pay.

Any one who is an adherent of Bonaparte shall in any emasure resist this regulation, shall be immediately arrested, imprisoned, and, according to circumstances, tried by a court martial, and punished with death. His property shall be confiscated, and added to the military fund.
We are not informed of the regulations decreed by the other allies. Germany has probably suffered the most at Napoleon's hands among the allies and in all likelihood will be the most exacting in her terms. Germany knows the conditions Napoleon made on occupied countries, and is probably taking a leaf from Napoleon's book.

Then he must contribute handsomely to the Sergeants' Mess. There are dinners to officers so lucky as to have been gazzetted with overseas forces, dinners to the men going away, all manner of dinners, concerts, and band concerts among them, whom the officers must patronize to remain in their good graces.
Such are a few of the "privileges," although the word is rather poorly used, or abused if you like. They are the "evident" ones, there are hazy, misty, clouded privileges innumerable, that might take one all day to put down on paper. Those are left to the reader's imagination. Thus the privilege item runs well up into $200 a year. Total to the present $425.

THE OFFICER'S EXPENSES.
Lowest Price Is $200 and It May Cost Him $600.
The average citizen knows little what the cost—or rather the privilege—of being an officer in the militia means. He is not presented with his uniform, sword, binoculars, revolver, and what not. He must go to his bank and write out a big check for it all, or, failing that, borrow from some one and lose that "some one" as a friend.
The big item is not what he wears on his back; it is what the privilege costs him. A citizen when he takes out a commission for the first time merely goes to his tailor and orders his equipment. If he enlists in war-time the cost of that is comparatively small, for he needs only a service uniform and equipment. Usually, however, he purchases two uniforms, for khaki does not wear for long.

But in peace times he must buy a service uniform, a dress, and a mess uniform with the thousand and four requisites.
To-day were a citizen to place his application for a commission as lieutenant in one of the Toronto regiments he would be asked to purchase only a service uniform and service equipment) and this would be about what it would cost him: Jacket, $21; breeches, $18; great coat, $30; hat, $3.50; Sam Browne belt, $7; leggings, $6; boots, $6.50; wrist watch, $12; shirts, $8; sword, $25; revolver, $25; binoculars, $40. Total, $202.

Of course, the officer's grannie, mother, friend, and all his female acquaintances furiously knit socks, mufflers, and other woollen garments, all of which, if they were sold in a store, would net the officer enough to pay for his outfit. The officer must also have gloves, a cane, a waterproof cover for his hat, khaki handkerchiefs, etc., all of which are not included in that list. Then he must buy books of all colors, shapes and sizes, and when his military library is complete that has cost him about $15. Incidentals will thus raise the cost of what he carries on his back to about $225.
Now comes the privileges! First of all there is the regimental fund. The rock bottom price to lieutenants for that is $50. For captains, majors, and the higher-up officers, it costs more in accordance. Then there is the officer's mess, for which the ice might well be anything, and which is a constant drain on his financial resources.

PRESENTATION OF GREAT SERIES
"Neal of the Navy" on the Bill at Olympia Today.
The Olympia commences today the presentation of one of the most sensational and interesting series yet produced by any film manufacturer. It is entitled "Neal of the Navy" and gives the eventful life of the son of a Tram Boat who has a great career in the Navy. The first chapter of "Neal of the Navy" shows some wonderful pictures of Mount Pelee, in Martinique while vomiting flames and lava from which the population of the Island is trying to run away. A good many throw themselves in the sea and some are rescued by the "Princess," the tramp steamer owned by Neal's father.

Every chapter of the series is in two parts and forms the best number of any performance ever given by a picture house in Quebec. There will be a chapter shown every Monday and Tuesday at the Olympia.
With this series, the Olympia will also show today and tomorrow "Rural Andalusia," and "Matrimonial Bias" two very interesting reels, that are at the same time very instructive. Pathe News is also on the bill.
Wednesday and Thursday.
With some other features the theatre will have on the bill Wednesday and Thursday "The Other Kid's Sister" and "The Monopolist." This latter one is a drama of a high standard that is also very powerful. The other one is comedy that will no doubt be appreciated by the patrons of the popular picture house. Another number of Pathe News will be shown with these subjects.
Friday and Saturday.
"The New Exploits of Elaine" are the features of Friday and Saturday's programme. This series, the great encouragement accorded the theatre proves it, is becoming more popular every week. Even those that have not seen the beginning get interested in it, as it is composed of all separate stories. "Bungling Brink's Bunco" and the athe Gabette will also be presented.

MR. McCORMACK.

A Record Advance Sale Is Expected.

The long-heralded and interesting concert by John McCormack is approaching. The sale of tickets for subscribers opens this morning at 9.30 o'clock while the public sale will open tomorrow morning at the same hour at C. W. Lindsay Ltd., 201 St. John Street.
Although this concert is the most expensive ever organized in Quebec, the management has arranged for a reasonable scale of prices, seats selling at from 75cts. to $2.50 the highest. Mail orders, accompanied by money or express order, will be received on and after tomorrow by the Manager Mr. J. A. Gauvin, Lindsay Building.

"MADAME SANS-GENE" AT PRINCESS.

Famous French Players Will Present This Grand Play all Week.

Probably only a few among the English population are aware that we have now in Quebec, at the Princess Theatre, this week, the French Company will present the famous Napoleonic play in four parts: "Madame Sans-Gené," which will be produced in a manner that will rival the best Parisian offerings.
A grand cast will include Madame DeLuys as "Sans-Gené," M. Schauten (from the theatre Rejane of Paris) as Napoleon, M. Scheler (from the Sarah Bernhardt theatre, Paris) as Count Neipperg, M. Dhavrol as Marchal Lefebvre, M. Leurs as Fouche, etc. Magnificent costumes and beautiful and costly scenery will give to the performances of "Sans-Gené" a real touch of perfection.
This play will be given every night with matinees on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. This extraordinary attraction will undoubtedly draw many hundreds of English-speaking citizens who will be interested to see such a beautiful play perfectly performed.

VERY ARTISTIC PROGRAMME

The Auditorium Bill as Strong as Last Week's.

Last week's great novelties at the Auditorium made for this house a reputation that it will probably be hard to hold now, but the management is working hard to stay in keeping with this good reputation and the patrons may be sure that it will save no expense to give every week, during the winter vaudeville acts that should at least draw the crowd in any house. This week three acts are coming from New York directly to the Auditorium; this means extra expenses to the house as it has to make up for the money spent in railroad fares by the performers, but the encouragement of the public last week has justified on its part such an expense that will probably be more than covered by the extra patronage high standard of the acts will get for the house.
Aerial DeRosa, the first one on the bill, is a gentleman that has achieved success with his novelty perch act. As an acrobat, he has become famous and all theatre managers are after him to play their house.
As Comedians, Kelley and Catlin should make a big hit; one working as a cobbler, the other as a Chinaman. Their songs and monologues are all of the newest kind, that has never been presented here and bids fair to provoke roars of laughter in the audience.
The three Anderson Sisters introduce some very original rope dancing and changes of costumes that will again appeal to those who claim to know something about fashion.
Miss Virginia Underwood is a first class vocalist that has been a favorite in such high class theatres as The Imperial of Montreal. Her voice, her costumes, her appearance are all of the highest standard and have made for her a name that has very seldom been equalled in vaudeville.
The bill winds up by lively tumbling and rough comedy by the Four Kutups, four men.
"The Goddess."
The third chapter of "The Goddess" is also on the programme for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.
