Further Appointments To The Federation of Diocesan Works

The preparatory work in connection with the huge subscription campaign for the Federation of Charity is progressing daily at the secretariate of "Caritas-Valleyfield" at the Bishopric in Valleyfield.

The canvass which will officially take place on Sunday, November first, requires the collaboration and generosity of a very large number of benevolent people. Last week, Mr. Paul Desjean, General President of the campaign, announced that over 3000 people will be actively working on the official day of canvass.

The financial objective for "CARITAS-VALLEYFIELD" will be the sum of $123,000 throughout the complete diocese to meet the pressing needs of numerous charitable works.

Frank Rosar

Messrs. Leo-Georges Perron, Valleyfield industrialist and Frank Rosar, Resident Manager of Merck & Company in Valleyfield who have accepted the joint presidency of the "Special Names" section, hope to account for 30% of the total objective from their section.

To accomplish their task, they will be assisted by a team of experienced men whose past achievements assure an unprecedented success in this drive.

To facilitate the work and particularly to better channel all efforts, five presidents of separate categories in this section were appointed. Mr. Charles E. Zeagman of Asten-Hill Limited of Valleyfield accepted the invitation from the Director of Charitable Works in the diocese, His Excellency Bishop P. Caza, to be responsible for industrial contacts which will come under category "A". Category "B" will be headed by Mr. Georges Lecompte, electrical contractor of Valleyfield, who will cover all Incorporated or Limited firms. Mr. Maurice Perron, QC., of Valleyfield will contact the representatives of the various branch offices of firms doing business in the diocese which will be indentified as category "C". Mr. C. Codebecq, Registrar of the City of Valleyfield, will head category "D" which covers municipal and school corporations. Finally, Mr. Marc Viau, merchant of Valleyfield, will head category "E" which covers co-operatives, syndicats and savings agencies.

In view of the fact that the work which these five presidents will be called upon to carry out covers the four Provincial ridings in the diocese, His Excellence Bishop P. Caza has called upon four well-known citizens of the diocese to accept the presidency of committees to facilitate the work and iron out the various difficulties.

François Cleyn

These generous citizens are Mr. Philippe Levac, Personnel Manager of Merck & Company of Valleyfield, to act as president of the Beauharnois Committee. Mr. Marcel Masson, Notary of Chateauguay, will be president of the Chateauguay Committee. Mr. François Cleyn, industrialist of Huntingdon will act as president of the Huntingdon Committee and Mr. Jean-Paul Pilon, insurance broker of Saint-Clet, will be president of the Vaudreuil-Soulanges Committee.

These presidents will shortly name responsible persons to head each of the five categories mentioned above to cover their respective counties.

Victor Hatcher To Attend Study Centre In Toronto

Some seventy Junior Red Cross members have been selected to attend a study centre, at Toronto, for a period of ten days. The event is known as the Junior Red Cross International Study Centre and will be held at the University of Toronto, from August 11th until the 22nd. Mr. Victor Hatcher, of Huntingdon Junior Red Cross, from Huntingdon High School, has been chosen from this point to attend.

There will be delegates from 40 nations present at the gathering, numbering approximately 140, as well as 65 Canadian delegates. All delegates will be between the ages of 15 and 18 years and come from an active Junior Red Cross group and be returning to it. There will be an equal number of boys and girls, three languages will be used: French, Spanish and English and delegates must be able to express themselves freely in any one of these.

The Study Centre is being held to mark the 50th anniversary of the granting of a charter to the Canadian Red Cross Society and to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Henri Durant's inspiration on the battlefield of Solferino, out of which the Red Cross was born. It is also a purpose to give stimulation and inspiration to Junior Red Cross members through working, playing, thinking and living co-operatively with others.

The programme will include the following: Subjects — The International Red Cross; Geneva Conventions; Community Services; Junior Red Cross Throughout the World; Work of the Canadian Red Cross Society. Activities — Community Service Projects, including visits to various institutions in Toronto; Tape Recordings; Study Centre Journal; Home Nursing; First Aid; Artificial Respiration. So that the language need not be a barrier, simultaneous translation will be used for the major addresses. Visits and Tours — All-day trip to Niagara Falls; Civic Reception; Tour of the City of Toronto; Tour of the Ontario Provincial Parliament Buildings; Girls will visit a large department store and the boy an industrial plant; An afternoon in the country for a Canadian Barbecue.

It looks like a very interesting programme and Victor is most fortunate in being chosen as a delegate to attend.

Closing Program Held For Bible School

The Vacation Bible School held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, from June 29th, closed with a program and display of projects, on Wednesday evening, July 8th.

The school was not as well attended this year, but notwithstanding, there was an average attendance of 65 each day. The various classes included the smaller children up to teen-agers and a very enjoyable and interesting time was spent. Many projects were entered into, including learning hymns and singing special songs, memory work of parts of the bible, etc., and handwork. In the latter the children learned to make various articles from cutting out and pasting, to making pottery articles and fancy hanging ornaments. All of these were exceedingly well done and showed the interest on the part of the pupil and the patience on the part of the instructor.

The closing program was held in the church, which a number of parentss and others interested attended. Rev. J. Grant was in charge and made the announcements, while Mr. Anderson was in charge of the singing by the pupils. The various classes gave a demonstration of what each had learned and the whole proved very interesting to those of the audience. Following the program an inspection was made of the various articles and other work done during the school period. Considering the short time, the results were very satisfactory and a great deal of ground was covered by the school.

The following took part: Teachers — Mr. Anderson, Miss Pringle Miss Dorothy Hoyt, Miss Jean McClatchie, Miss Hope Stewart, Mrs. Bernhardt, Mrs. Goodall, Miss Millie Caldwell, Mrs. F. G. McCrimmon, who was in charge of the handwork. Assistants — Mrs. Lindsay, Miss Wanda White, Miss Susan McWhinnie, Miss Gail Godin, Peter Stephen, Mrs. Jon Proudfoot. Pianist — Mrs. W. Smellie.

Ormstown Boy Shot In Eye

Norman Beaudway, 11 years old, was swimming in the river, at the dam, in Ormstown, with some friends recently, when he was suddenly hit once in the back and once in the eye, by shot from an air rifle. The rifle was handled by a 15 year old boy, one of the group.

The boy is being treated at the Medical Centre in Ormstown and it is not yet known if there will be any serious effects to the eye. Det. F. Wilmot investigated the accident.

First Nazarene Boys' And Girls' Camp In Quebec

The Church of the Nazarene has just concluded its first Boys and Girls Camp to be held in Quebec province. The facilities of Riverside Youth Ranch, St. Chrysostome, provided an ideal location for co-operative camplife for a limited number of boys and girls. The Camp Directors, Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Henderson of Ormstown, were assisted by Mrs. J. L. Weimer of Athelstan, Girls' Counsellor; Mr. James Percy, "Uncle Jim", of New Jersey, Boys' Counsellor; and the Camp host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. C. Haynes.

Twenty children, ages 8 to 13, were registered, 17 being full-time campers. Of these 8 were from the Church of the Nazarene in Montreal.

A busy program of Bible study, hand crafts, games, swimming, hiking, illustrated story-telling, singing and the like was conducted out-of-doors in fine weather. Leaders and campers were kept busy and happy together for 7 days of fun, and Christian fellowship.

Landmark Removed at Howick For Highway Improvement

An old landmark has disappeared from Howick during the past couple of weeks. The buildings at the corner of Bridge and Lambton Streets. It is of interest to know that workmen found a newspaper: The Canadian Gleaner dated 1862, while taking down the walls. This house was originally brick and at one time occupied by Mr. William Cunningham and family, who also owned the adjoining building which was used for a General Store. A dance hall was over the store and some of our older citizens can recall many happy parties held there.

The next owner of this property was Mr. R. R. Ness, who bought it for the purpose of establishing a blacksmith shop, as there was great need for one in the community at that time. While returning from Scotland, Mr. Ness met a young Scotch lad on the steamer, who was coming to Canada to set up a blacksmith shop in Ontario, and he persuaded him to settle in Howick. He stayed for two years working for Mr. Ness.

The property was then sold to Mr. Andrew Hunter, he never lived in the house himself, but he rented it. The shop remaining empty for some time. While owning it, Mr. Hunter covered the brick with cement which gave the appearance of a stone house.

Mr. James Cavanagh bought from Mr. Hunter about thirty-five years ago,, and during those years has been greatly appreciated in this locality. What would people have done in those days without a blacksmith?

Now, times have changed, and the Government has at last decided to widen the highway and eliminate the accident hazard at this corner.

It is sad for many to see these old places being demolished, but with traffic such as it is today, we certainly need wider roads and we in Howick are looking forward to the completion of this project and hope that more of these dangerous curves will be removed.

Jamboree Nets $515 For County War Memorial Arena

The Jamboree held in Huntingdon, on Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Huntingdon County War Memorial, turned out to be a quite successful event. The Jamboree was arranged on short notice but for all of that it was quite encouraging to all concerned. Many folks who had bought tickets in advance did so for the benevolent reason, knowing that they would not be present. As a result, there were extra Bar-B-Q. plates on hand after all had been served, and the so created surplus was sold at a reduced price. Incidentally the caterers, "Chalet Lucerne Ltd" made a further donation of 50 plates and were likewise sold for the good of the cause.

The Huntingdon Band, 25 pieces, were present and supplied music during the supper hour. Bingo and catch penny games were well patronized and likewise produced tangible results. During the evening the Carol Florist Soft Ball team of Montreal played against the local K. of C. team and gave the spectators a good game of softball. The game ended 8-6 in favour of the visitors.

The new floor in the arena hall was used for the first time and was appreciated. This floor is to be again sanded and finished so as to make it a real good dance floor. In view of the fact that there were many counter attractions for the young dancing public, the attendance was so commendable that dances will quite likely be frequently held in this hall. The Wilson Westernaires supplied the music. A refreshment stand was operated in the arena. As a result of the Jamboree, something like $515.00 will be applied toward reducing the debt of the Huntingdon County War Memorial arena.

Valleyfield Regatta Held Last Weekend In Good Weather

Once again Valleyfield Regatta drew a good attendance on Saturday and Sunday of the past week. There was a good crowd gathered around Sauve Park and on the shore of the Bay. The Valleyfield Regatta is organized by the Valleyfield Nautic Club and sanctioned by the Canadian Boating Federation. Mr. Emile Vansfield was the official referee.

On Saturday, ninety-four outboard and speedboats took the starting gun in the six different races of two heats each. A group of about twenty cruisers, mainly from Montreal and the east, crossed the racing course to anchor at the end of St. Francis Bay, after they had gone through the Beauharnois Locks earlier in the morning.

There was only one false start during the twelve heats which were run off on Saturday and this was in the Class A stock hydro. Jim Toohey, of Dunnville, Ont., captured the honors in this division. The Class B stock hydro winner was J. A. Webster, Jr., of Toronto, Ont., closely followed by Ian McLean of Perth, Ont. An American rider, Charles W. Howgate, of Wyckoff, N.J., topped his opponents in the Class C Service Runabouts. Dave Gorman, of Fort Covington, N.Y., chalked up the best time of the afternoon with 4 mins. 3sec. 2/10 in the first heat of the Class A Racing Hydro and won the race. The second heat of the Class B Hydro was called off once, when three drivers were thrown from their boats riding a little too fast on the choppy waves after a southwest wind suddenly struck over the three mile course. Chuck Simon, of Lasalle, Que., won the B Racing Hydro after two heats were completed. The biggest class of the day the C Racing Hydro division, was won by Wilfred Harrison of Vermillion, Ohio.

The main event of the Valleyfield Regatta was run off on Sunday afternoon. This was the inboard 225 class and was easily won by Henry Vogel of Webster, N.Y., as he drove his My Sin III at an average speed of 61.55 M.P.H. He was presented with the Golden Helmet, the Canadian Schenley Trophy. Bob Schroeder, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., registered his best speed on the 266 inboard class, as he drove Dr. Latour's boat, the Escapade at 69.65 M.P.H. in the second heat. Francois Lavigne, of Montreal, had captured second place in the first heat with the Escapade.

In the first heat of the Canadian One Design inboard class, Mervon Mahey, of Scarboro, Ont., turned over, but came out for the second heat. Lloyd A. Smith of Highland Creek, Ont., won the honors of that division C.O.D.

A new class for the Valleyfield Regatta, the inboard 280, was won by Edwin Schroeder, of Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Donald Turner of Kenmore, N.Y., showed a nice performance as he was the winner of the 135 inboard class.

Paul Bratfield, of Toronto, Ont., came in first position of the 48 inboard class with his Little Imp, very closely followed by Bernie Pearson and Gordon R. Porter.

Wilford Harrison, of Vermillion, Ohio, racked up a first position in the outboard Hydro Class. This class had the most entries.

Chuck Simon, of Lasalle, Que., was first in the outboard A Racing Hydro.

In the fourteen races of two heats for the two days, one hundred and twenty-six outboard and fifty-nine inboard outfits took the starting gun in front of the official barge.

Several Accidents Reported In This Area The Past Week

Several accidents have occurred in the past week in this area, involving cars, trucks and injuries to several people. One accident occurred at Havelock Corners about 7.10 p.m. on July 6th, when a panel truck from Murdochville failed to stop at the crossroad and a Fortin Frere truck from the opposite direction struck it. The driver of the panel truck was Philias Pouliot, of Murdochville and there were six children and three adults riding in the truck. The driver of the Fortin Frere pick-up was Lembart Drioux, he was injured and so were two of the adults in the other truck, and they were taken to Barrie Memorial Hospital by ambulance. The six children all suffered cuts and bruises and were treated at the hospital and then allowed to go home. Pouliot did not stop at the crossing and drove across No. 52 in the path of the other oncoming truck. The Fortin truck was a complete wreck and other truck was quite badly damaged. Also the gas pump and fence at the Morrison store on the corner, were broken. Dr. Pilon was called and Const. R. Goyette investigated.

Another accident involving a truck and car occurred at Lees Corners at 6.40 a.m., on July 8th. Lester Leblanc of St. Agnes de Dundee was driving the truck and Oliver Leblanc of St. Agnes de Dundee was driving the car, both in the same direction. The car was waiting at the store and a child was crossing the road as the truck came along. In order to avoid hitting the child, the truck driver swerved his truck into the car, striking it in the rear. The car suffered considerable damage, but the damage to the truck was light.

A collision occurred on Route 4 near Log Lodge, on July 11th about 3.05 p.m. Mrs. Howard McLean was driving her car with her two children along the highway and made a turn in toward Lodge Log at a nearby road, Mr. Fred Moore was coming along behind was not aware of the intention to turn and struck the McLean car while it was turning. Both were travelling in the direction of Trout River. Mrs. McLean and the children were taken to Huntingdon County Hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises. Both cars had considerable damage. Cont. Goyette investigated both these accidents.

Two Cornwall Men Believed Drowned

An accidental drowning occurred in the Salmon River, near Dundee, on Thursday night at about 11 o'clock, when two men from Cornwall, Ont., lost their lives it is believed.

According to the facts as told to The Gleaner, a party of friends in two boats, came to Dundee from Cornwall and stayed until about the time mentioned. When they left to return, the two victims decided to follow the other boat as they were not sure of their way. Thus a boat with Bob Varley of Cornwall and some friends started out, followed by smaller boat driven by outboard motor and carrying Raymond Robinson, 35, and Philip Michaud, 34, both of Cornwall. It was not long before the lead boat lost sight of the other one and they stopped and called out and received no answer. At the same time this boat developed trouble and it could not go back and Bob Varley and his friends stayed on the lake all night. In the morning they found the other boat overturned about a mile away and the men missing.

Det. F. Wilmot of Huntingdon, was notified and Const. H. Hirsch and some members of the R.C.M.P. from Huntingdon went to the scene about 8 a.m. on Friday. Dragging operations were commenced, but due to the depth of the water at this point and the strong current, the dragging was not successful and in the afternoon was given up. The nevt day skin divers from Cornwall were sent down and still no trace of the bodies of the two men could be found. The search has therefore been temporarily abandoned.

Const. R. Goyette of Huntingdon, who also took part in the search, together with other members of the force, made a search of the islands in the vicinity in the hope that the men might be found, but there was no trace.

It is therefore believed that the men were drowned.

Body of One Man Found

Since writing the account of the drowning, a report has been received that the body of one of the victims, that of Raymond Robinson, Tuesday afternoon, floating in the of Cornwall, was found late on water. The spot where the body was found is reported as about 100 feet east of the mouth of the Salmon River. No other details are available.

Kiwanis Sponsor Inter-Judging Contest For This Area At Fair

Something a little different is being introduced to Huntingdon Fair this year. The Kiwanis of Montreal are sponsoring a special Inter-Judging Contest for the boys and girls of the area. The winner of the contest will be awarded a calf and will be expected to show it in future fairs and to send in a report of its progress during the first year.

Queen And Prince Philip Relax In Seclusion Before Continuing Canadian Tour

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip went into seclusion Sunday and Monday as they relaxed at Pennask Lake Lodge, an isolated fisherman's paradise in the beautiful south-central district of British Columbia.

The 56-hour function-free holiday gave the royal couple a welcome rest prior to resuming the ardous tour to the west coast and the far north.

The millionaire's lodge had no means of communication and the Queen and the Prince flew into the retreat by seaplane from Kamloops, 50 miles away.

Their two-day vacation followed the most colorful week of the 45-day tour since it started June 18 in Newfoundland.

Captivated Chicago

The Queen completely captivated Chicago where more than 1,500,000 persons were estimated to have turned out for the first visit of a reigning British monarch. The crowds cheered as if she were their own Queen and shouted: "Hi Liz".

Then the royal couple sailed for Sault Ste. Marie and the Lakehead from where they flew to Calgary and its world-famous stampede. In warm sunshine, they walked on buffalo skins spread in front of Indian teepees and watched the dust fly during the stampede's exciting chuckwagon races. Prince Philip wore a white stetson.

From Calgary the royal train snaked through the Rockies to Banff. Picturesque Lake Louise was the next stop, followed by a tour of British Columbia communities nestling in the grandeur of sun-bathed mountain peaks. The royal couple then went to Vernon, heart of the Okanagan fruit-growing and cattle-raising country, and Kamloops, business centre for the south-central part of the province.

After the Pennask Lake rest they were to tour through southwestern B.C. At Chilliwack they were to start a drive through the Fraser Valley area. On Wednesday the Queen and Prince Philip were to visit New Westminster and Vancouver.

Thursday and Friday were to be spent on Vancouver Island, visiting Nanaimo, Chemainus, Duncan and Victoria, provincial capital. Then they were to fly north to Terrace, B.C., on their way into the Northwest Territories.

Smash Drug Ring

RCMP officers were quietly following up leads in Montreal during the weekend in an all-out attempt to smash an international drug ring. They were getting help from the U.S. Federal Narcotic Bureau.

Last week two men were arrested and charged with trafficking in drugs as the RCMP recovered some $8,000,000 worth of raw heroin and continued to look for more. More arrests were expected. A search for addicts, pushers and their hangouts, ranged from Ste.- Adele, fashionable Laurentian resort town 50 miles from Montreal, to the U.S. border.

Brought Back Alive

The Soviet Union announced it had hurled two dogs and a rabbit to a "great height" in a two-ton rocket and brought them safely back to earth. The animals were launched July 2, more than a month after the U.S. recovered two monkeys alive after a 1,700-mile space flight down the Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile range.

Women Pickets

Women pickets went on duty at a Vancouver plant involved in the biggest strike in British Columbia, a walkout by 27,000 coastal woodworkers that continued to disrupt the province's labor scene during the weekend.

The strike, marked by arrests, injunctions, bitter words and barroom brawls, was one of a series plaguing the province.

The International Woodworkers of America (CLC) said the girls were put on picket duty after the Bridge Lumber Company obtained an injunction on complaints its supervisory personnel were afraid to leave the premises.

Geneva Talks Resume

The western foreign ministers planned to return to the Big Four talks on cold war issues with some hope that an agreement could still be achieved that would lead to a summit conference.

Christian Herter, U.S. secretary of state, said he had "no great expectations for success" and that bargaining with the Russians required "infinite patience and long labor." He conferred with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and External Affairs Minister Green during a stop-over in Ottawa Saturday enroute to Geneva.

The western powers accused Russia before the talks were recessed last month of issuing an ultimatum on Berlin. But Soviet foreign minister Andrei Gromyko since then has hinted that Russia is willing to adopt a more conciliatory position.

On his return to Geneva, Mr. Gromyko said he hoped the talks would make the international atmosphere warmer and lead to a summit conference.

New French Franc

France was to get its first "heavy" franc this week. The change is part of a plan announced at the beginning of the year whereby 100 of the present francs would become one new or "heavy" franc.

Its aim is to restore sagging post-war confidence in French currency. New coins and bills are being prepared for the complete change-over to the new currency next Jan. 1. Meanwhile, the first of the new bills will merely be old-type notes with the "new franc" value superimposed.

Protecting Your Shopping Dollar

No one likes to make a bad buy, and no one likes to be bamboozled.

Protecting your shopping dollar is the unique job of a novel non-profit organization called Consumers Union of the United States. In a current issue of a popular Canadian magazine, an article tells how the Consumers Union, along with the Canadian Association of Consumers, is safeguarding the homemaker's interests.

This controversial group of product testers—half private detective and half wary housewife—keeps manufacturers on their toes and helps nearly a million North Americans get value for their money.

CU tests and rates merchandise ranging from refrigerators, toothpaste and tomato soup to cigarettes, whisky and shotguns. The results of these tests appear in a monthly bulletin called Consumer Reports, which lists the goods by brand name in order of merit.

These tests often unearth unexpected findings. Last year, for instance, CU rated one $39.75 innerspring mattress higher than all but one of the $79.50 brands. One $89 hi-fi loudspeaker got a higher rating than others priced up to $359.

Everything CU tests is bought on the open market, and it accepts no samples. And because it is incorporated as an educational organization, it also makes no profit and takes no gifts.

In the years sincer the war, Canadians have built one million new homes and equipped them with the furniture, radios, TV sets, refrigerators and appliances now considered basic essentials.

The housewife is faced daily with new miracle fabrics, new patent medicines, new hair rinses and lightbulbs in slick new shapes. Today new items appear on supermarket shelves at the rate of up to 200 a week.

Last year alone, the article reports, Canadians spent twenty billion dollars on consumer goods and services. To compete for the consumer's patronage, the producers of goods and services spent a combined twelve billion dollars in Canada and the U.S. on advertising.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart were guests at the Pettes-Poulton-wedding at the Westboro United Church, Ottawa, and at the reception following at the Church Hall.

Miss Joyce Begbie left on Saturday for Birch Grove Camp on Lac Quenouille, where she will be a counsellor at the camp.

Mrs. Dale Morrison and Bruce of Cowansville spent this week with Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hooker.

Tremblay's Service Station, on Church St. in Ormstown, is being completely renovated. Mr. Marc Viau, owner, informs us that the Service Station is to be completely modernized. Work is expected to be finished by mid-August.

The annual Daily Vacation Bible School was held at the Fair Grounds from June 29 to July 10 inclusive with over sixty children enrolled. The theme: "Living for Jesus in this Space Age" was accentuated by a space attendance contest. The classes with their points each day had their planes travel in orbit a bit farther towards the goal.

The closing program took place on Thursday evening, with a good attendance of parents and friends. The Beginners and Primary Classes were varied with memory work and light songs, the younger ones joining in Rhythm Band, the older ones being "Sunbeams for Jesus".—The teen classes presented the attributes of God, giving Scripture references with each and then portrayed the way of salvation on the Flannelgraph and how each child of God should live for Jesus. All joined heartily in the singing of three songs: "Praise Him", "Jesus the Friend", and "Following Jesus." Several choruses including the theme song "Living for Jesus", were sung by the whole school with Mrs. Eastwood at the piano.

Certificates were presented to all, who had attended seven days and prizes to the winners. Mr. Hurtubise thanked all for their interest and co-operation and announced the following day all would gather when a time of singing, a flannelgraph story and a treat would be the order of the afternoon. The closing chorus was sung, followed by prayer and then the handwork which was displayed around the hall, was viewed by all.

Wedding

TSADILAS-LALLEMAND

The marriage of Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lallemand, of Montreal and Huntingdon, Que., to Mr. Nicholas Tsadilas, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Tsadilas, of Outremont, took place on Friday, July 3, in the Church of the Advent, the Rev. Alexander Mellor officiating. Summer flowers were used to decorate.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white Chantilly lace over white poult de soie, with a fitted bodice having a round neckline and a full skirt. Her short veil of tulle illusion was held by a bandeau of Lily of the Valley and she carried a semi-cascade bouquet of peach-pink roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. John K. A. Pollard, as matron of honor, and Miss Viola Lallemand, as bridesmaid for her sister, were in frocks of cornflower blue silk, fashioned on princes lines with fitted bodice having short sleeves and full skirts. They wore matching bandeaux, and carried semi-cascade bouquets of yellow shasta daisies.

Mr. Fred Roberts acted as best man for Mr. Tsadilas, and the ushers were Mr. Charles Hone and Mr. James Martin.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the Vice-Regal Suite of the Ritz Carlton where chrysanthemums and gladioli were used as decorations.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Tsadilas left by plane for Florida, the bride travelling in a suit of yellow linen and wearing a matching hat, beige accessories and a corsage of beige orchids.

Born at Hinchinbrook in 1887, his family moved to Franklin Centre, in 1892, where he resided for the remainder of his years.

Mr. Leahy was well known throughout the surrounding communities. He was active in community affairs having served as Mayor and Councillor.

He leaves to mourn, his wife, four daughters: Ann M. (Mrs. F. Lapres); Elizabeth E. (Mrs. B. Soderston); Colleen F. (Mrs. E. Pete); Frances A. (Mrs. J. Kilgour); two sons, James R., Dan. G.; 15 grandchildren, two brothers, Dr. W. G. Leahy and Michael L. one sister, Mrs. J. P. Kavanagh.

Funeral services were held at St. Antoine Abbé Church on Monday, June 29th. Interment was at St. Antoine Abbé.

Ben-Gurion Quits

David Ben-Gurion, sometimes called the architect of modern Israel, resigned as Prime Minister to climax a crisis over an Israeli arms deal with West Germany.

His socialist party called for elections to be advanced to September from November. The 15-member coalition government stayed as a caretaker regime until a new one is formed.

Dundee

W.I.

DUNDEE. — Dundee W.I. held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Smallman. During the business meeting, Mrs. Smallman donated her profits from the sale of cards to the treasury, then she read and discussed an article concerning some of the problems teachers have with their pupils in school. This was followed by questions on education which were discussed by the members. Mrs. Stowell read an article about life on a farm. Most of the best things are free. There is a closeness to nature, a feeling of belonging and the farm is the best place for raising a family. Mrs. W. S. Smellie reported about the Queen honoring 2400 people at the trooping of the color on her birthday. She also showed a letter of criticism about the new ACWW stamp which had arpeared in a paper. Mrs. J. Platt showed pictures about how a hammock could be made in an hour. Mrs. Gardiner reported about rheumatoid arthritis. Some may inherit the tendency to have it but it needs some "trigger" to set it off. Danger signal is a painless swelling of the tendons in the wrist or ankle. They may be cured if attended to in time. Mrs. A. H. Fraser read about how the emblems of Scotland originated and their meaning. Miss King, summer demonstrator from Macdonald College is to be present at the August meeting. She will speak on home management and the members are asked to have questions ready for her to answer. After some household hints, Mrs. Smallman served a delightful social hour.

Aubrey-Riverfield

AUBREY-RIVERFIELD — Aubrey-Riverfield W.I. met at the home of Mrs. C. W. Orr, Thursday, July 2nd., 8.30 P.M. The President welcomed the guests, Miss Amy Corrigan, Mrs. Ruth Rorison and Miss Elizabeth Rorison.

Mrs. Gordon Easton was called to perform a very pleasant duty, that of presenting a life membership certificate to Mrs. Andrew Allen. Mrs. Annie Gruer presented her with a W.I. pin. Mrs. Allen thanked the members for the honour received.

Roll call was answered by each member naming a Canadian city and asking her right hand neighbour to name its location.

Plans for next meeting were discussed. It was decided to have the Secretary inquire about visiting a textile plant followed by a picnic and regular meeting at the Hooker cottage.

Miss E. Rorison kindly donated a quilt top, wadding and lining, this is to be quilted by the members and will be a means of extra funds for the treasury. Current events. Citizenship. Instead of personal gifts to Queen Elizabeth, a fund will be established in Canada to finance research work in children's diseases.

Education: Librarian Mr. Osborne states that care should be taken in selection of children's reading. Good reading creates more pleasant and fuller lives.

Home Economics: Warning against blankets advertised as containing viscose and orlon; there is low orlon content. Foam padding good for parkas and sun suits, it is good insulation. Dip shears in hot water when cutting marshmallows. Criticism of poor colouring in W.I. stamp.

Publicity: Echo Hill, Alta., reflection tape for machinery on road, a project handled by W.I. Item on Queen's farms at Windsor of 620 acres run on strictly a commercial basis. They receive no grant and are expected to show a profit. They achieve this by a system of up-to-date intensive high-level farming.

Welfare & Health: Fighting Teenage Drug Habit — New medical, phychiatric and police technique are gradually choking most channels for the spread of drug addiction. But the most gruesome of all — the use of narcotics by teenagers — seems to be still growing. In Canada's most dope-ridden city, Vancouver, there are 1,100 to 1,500 addicts, says Director of B.C.'s Narcotic Addiction Foundation. No one is sure of the number of teenagers but officials say about 18 boys and 16 girls. One B.C. School Board decided to teach students in grades 7-12 about the dangers of narcotics, but, due to controversy nothing was done. About all that can be done is to enforce the law.

Mrs. Finlay Milne and Mrs. Gordon Easton gave a detailed report of the 45th annual Provincial W.I. Convention; the theme being "Better things ahead."

On a motion by Mrs. Janet Reddick and Mrs. Hiram Reddick thanks were extended the delegates.

A food sale was held at the close of the meeting.

Misses Evelyn Kerr and Margaret McKell entertained Saturday afternoon, July 4th, in honour of Miss Anne Tolhurst. On arriving at the McKell home Anne was completely surprised to meet several of her friends gathered there. After opening her gifts which were eighteen beautiful coups and saucers, Anne graciously thanked everyone and invited them to visit her in her new home.

The Week In Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Duplessis returned from the federal-provincial Finance Ministers' conference at Ottawa this week and told reporters tax-sharing arrangements between Ottawa and the provinces should be overhauled and put on a common sense basis.

The Federal Government, the Quebec Premier said, is facing such increased demands from the 10 provinces that its situation is becoming impossible.

He said Quebec's stand—it is the only province without a tax-sharing agreement with the Federal Government—is unchanged. The Quebec Government would like to see the Federal Government step back further in some of the direct taxation fields so the Provincial Government could absorb a larger revenue share.

Since 1946 Mr. Duplessis has been asking for a clear definition of the Federal and Provincial Government's respective tax fields and simplification of tax collecting methods.

Members of the crew of the small coastal schooner St. Timothee had to swim for their lives when their ship was cut in two under the bows of an ocean-bound freighter.

The collision occurred at night near Murray Bay, 80 miles downriver from Quebec City. The 250-ton schooner was headed upriver with a load of pulpwood.

Her crew leaped overboard as the collision occurred and the identity of the freighter involved in the accident was not immediately known.

The stern helf of the St. Timothee sank in 120 feet of water near mid-channel. The bow section later was beached near Murray Bay.

The men were picked up by the coaster T.B.E. which was trailing the St. Timothee upriver.

Home port of the St. Timothee is Ile-Aux-Coudres, 60 miles downriver from Quebec City.

Differing opinions were expressed at union meetings this week whether the 100,000-member Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor should drop its ties with Roman Catholic Church in order to recruit more non-Catholic members.

The suggestion was made by CCCL president Roger Mathieu. He said the union should drop the "Catholic" from the title and its link with the Social Doctrine of the Catholic Church. This would not mean the union would not abide by the Social Doctrine but only that it would make it more attractive to non-Catholic workers who might want to join.

At another meeting Rene Belanger, President of the National Federation of Employees of Municipal and School Corporations (CCCL), said these suggestions were "vain and useless".

All they had accomplished was "to sow discord and division", within CCCL ranks, Mr. Belanger said.

Rev. Aurele Ouellet, commenting on the suggestions during a meeting of CCCL central council at Quebec, said:

"The more talk I hear about an unconfessional union the less I believe it."

He suggested the union should await a decision by the Church Bishops before making any decision.

Warm, damp weather during the last two weeks has prodded growth of farm products in almost all areas of the province.

The Agriculture Department's Bureau of Statistics said ample moisture was reported by all districts except the Ottawa Valley and the Abitibi areas. The rains hampered haying operations in some parts of the province.

Garden vegetables were reported doing well, pastures were in excellent condition and milk production was at a high level, the Bureau reported.

A fitting address was read by Denis, the older son, while a purse of money was presented by little Danill. A bountiful turkey dinner had been prepared by Germaine.

Mr. Bourdeau received gifts and best wishes from all for many more happy birthdays.

SAFE AND IN STYLE

LIFE JACKETS are the fashion for all young boaters. In an attempt to reduce the number of summer drownings, government regulations now call for an approved life preserver for each person in a pleasure craft. These comfortable models in vivid red have fluffy Kapoc sealed within a "Fabrilité" pocket which will keep the children, or adults, afloat for hours in case of accident. Vinyl fabrics are also proving ideal for boat upholstery since they are very durable and also waterproof.

Reynolds Metals Co. Puts First Pot Line Into Production at Massena

Reynolds Metals Company has added approximately 33,000 tons to its annual primary production capacity with the start-up of the first of three potlines at its new St. Lawrence reduction plant at Massena.

V. G. Kneeskern, plant manager, said the new operations would bring Reynolds, the nation's second largest aluminum producer, to an annual production level of 634,000 tons. The company will have an additional 67,000 tons available at Massena by the end of the year, the plant manager added.

Indications are that about one-third of the St. Lawrence plant's annual production will be delivered as molten metal to a Chevrolet foundry nearing completion close to the Reynolds plant. The remainder of the metal will go through additional production steps for sale in pig or ingot form.

Reynolds has been supplying metal to the Chevrolet plant for pre-production tests for several weeks.

Chevrolet trucks pick up the molten metal in crucibles. Entering the crucibles at about 1780 degrees Fahrenheit, the aluminum can be retained in its molten form for several hours. A short roadway connects the two plants.

HIT-RUN DRIVER IS CRIMINAL

The hit-run driver is a criminal under federal law, and one can only qualify him as such, says the Provincial Highway Saftey Committee, (Prudentia). The criminal qualification is certainly an apt description for the person who becomes implicated in a highway accident and then leaves the scene without stopping. What of the persons who may be lying on the roadside, the victim of such a criminal act? Be certain to stop and give any help needed in any accident, be it only the slightest collision.

REAR VIEW MIRROR IS NOT SUPERFLUOUS

The law requires that each automobile, truck or motorcycle be equipped with a rear view mirrow. There's a simple reason for the law because one should not trust the motorist who drives too closely behind one's vehicle. The Provincial Highway Safety Committee, (Prudentia), advises motorists, truckers and motorbike operators to allow these "bumper hangers" to pass so that they will not be in danger of being struck from the rear.

All grand thoughts come from the heart.

C.I.L. Scholarship At Textile Institute Of Quebec

Canadian Industries Limited announces a scholarship to enable a selected student to undertake a course of studies at the Textile Institute of the Province of Quebec, St. Hyacinthe, Que. Depending on the interests of the selected candidate, the scholarship may be applied to the Textile Manufacturing Course which is of three years duration, or to the Textile Chemistry and Dyeing Course which is a four year course.

The scholarship which amounts to $1,000 per annum provides for payment of tuition and registration fees, student association fees, books, travelling expenses to and from St. Hyacinthe, and a living allowance of $22.00 per week. The student to whom this scholarship is awarded will be sponsored for the full duration of the course of his selection provided the director of the Institute considers his progress to be satisfactory.

The scholarship is open to recent high school graduates who hold a Quebec High School graduation diploma, Sciences division, for grade XI or preferably grade XII, or its equivalent.

Applications will be received until 31st July and should be addressed to Personnel Department, Canadian Industries Limited, Textile Fibres Division, Postal Bag 2800, Kingston, Ontario. A recent snapshot should be included with the application.

Local Witnesses To Attend Convention

Duncan Keffer, presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses announced today that the Huntingdon congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been invited to attend a four-day convention to be held July 23 to 26 at Lansdowne Park, Ottawa. Mr. Keffer will head the local delegation of about 8 persons.

The convention is arranged by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, located in Toronto, Ontario, for Jehovah's Witnesses. An attendance in excess of 12,000 is anticipated.

"The purpose of the meeting", said Keffer, "is to provide additional Bible instruction for the Witnesses and to enable them to apply Bible principles more fully to their every-day lives and activities. For this reason the program carries the theme of 'Awake Ministers'." There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and practical demonstrations, he explained.

Mr. Keffer further reported that several representatives of the branch office, including Percy Chapman, Superintendent of Ministers in Canada, will speak in Ottawa. Highlight of the convention will be the public address by Chapman at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 26, on "When God Speaks Peace to all Nations".

ACCIDENTS CAUSED FROM BROKEN GLASS

Whoever throws an empty bottle onto the highway or to the side of the road while travelling or even when a vehicle is parked off the highway is liable to a fine of a maximum $40, warns the Provincial Highway Safety Committee, (Prudentia). Broken glass often results in tire blowouts and consequently is responsible for ensuing accidents. It is important to observe traffic laws, and the above rule is sound advice.

CFRA'S FRANK RYAN, CANADA'S TOP SALESMAN

Frank Ryan is shown receiving his "Salesman of the Year" award from the Postmaster General William Hamilton at the annual convention of the Advertising and Sales Clubs of Canada, in Windsor.

Frank Ryan was selected first by the Ottawa Ad and Sales Club, for his salesmanship in developing local interest and support for community projects, and later captured the national title in a competition with nominees from coast to coast.

Would Your Husband Commit Suicide?

Four times more Canadian men than women commit suicide each year, according to an article in July magazine, and "at least eighty percent of men consider it at one time or another."

The report showed that some nine hundred and fifty men took their own lives in Canada each year. More suicides were recorded on Tuesday than any other day, and May was the peak month.

In world suicide figures Canada ranked ninth among the top twelve countries, trailing Denmark, Switzerland, Finland, Sweden, the United States, France, Great Britain and Australia, but well ahead of Norway, Spain and Italy.

Why should anybody commit suicide? Professor Helen H. Tuck, lecturer in social work at Montreal's McGill University believed the suicide to be one "whose aggression is turned back on himself instead of on another person."

Emile Durkheim, French sociologist and author of the classic, Le Suicide, dismissed such factors as psychology, biology and climate. He insisted that "the major cause of suicide was the lack of sympathetic acceptance a person encounters from the group of which he is part. The more well-knit a particular racial or nationality group is, the lower the suicide rate."

Durkheim maintained that Jews have the lowest rate of suicide. Roman Catholics the next-lowest rate, and Protestants and free-thinkers the highest.

Air-Conditioning Benefits Heart Disease Patients

Patients with heart disease who must be hospitalized in hot weather are greatly helped by air-conditioning of their rooms, according to a report from the American Medical Association received by the Health League of Canada.

Two physicians, Drs. George E. Burch and Nicholas DePasquale said that heart patients are helped because air-conditioning eliminates sweating, which causes the cardio-vascular system to work harder than usual. Thus, it prevents additional strain on an already damaged heart.

They said that air-conditiong of hospital rooms is also especially helpful to patients with chronic illness and with bronchial asthma.

The doctors pointed out that air-conditioning as an adjunct to regular treatment "has not received the emphasis in medical literature that it deserves."

They compared two groups of patients treated at Charity Hospital, New Orleans, in air-conditioned and non-air-conditioned wards. They found that air-conditioning benefited most patients, although a few could not stand it at all. They complained of the cold and of having "stuffy" noses.

The air-conditioning was beneficial to patients mainly because they slept more soundly, longer and more restfully. Patients who were short of breath found it easier to breathe, thus relieving anxiety and apprehension.

On the whole, air-conditioning "eliminated sweating, fostered a calm and quiet atmosphere, improved morale of both patients and attending personnel, removed allergens from the environment, and increased the tolerance of enforced bed rest", the doctors concluded.

Teatime Topics

A New York doctor has come up with a simple formula to prevent overweight. Dr. Herbert Pollack, chairman of the nutrition committee of the American Heart Association, advises cutting food consumption by one per cent every year after the age of 25.

Labor-saving devices not only give housewives extra time but they can be responsible for extra inches on the waistline. Dr. Pollack said that "not so long ago a housewife spent 240 calories scrubbing the family wash and another 50 calories hauling it to the line. Today, dumping the clothes in the automatic washer and tapping a button take no more than 15 calories."

He urged a balance be maintained between energy output and food intake by means of exercise.

And because a balanced diet is necessary, he cautioned against eliminating bread, potatoes and fat by the calory-counters.

Special Occasions

An informal summer supper can become a special occasion when different breads are added to the menu. Here are two that go well with soup, salads and casserole dishes:

Caraway - Cheese French Bread: Cut a loaf of French or Vienna bread into 12 diagonal slices, not cutting quite through the bottom crust. Combine one cup grated Canadian cheddar cheese; two tsp. caraway seed and three tbsp. mayonnaise or salad dressing. Spread butter or margarine and then cheese mixture between the bread slices. Wrap in aluminum foil and heat in hot oven (400) for 15 minutes. Serve immediately.

Horse-Radish Bread Sticks: Blend one tbsp. fresh horse-radish and one tsp. prepared mustard into two tbsp.. soft butter or margarine. Remove crusts from slices of toasted bread and spread with horse radish butter. Cut each slice into thin strips, one-inch wide. Place toast strips, spread side up, on a cookie sheet and toast under low broiler heat for five minutes.

They Love Weddings

Speaking recently in Toronto, Rev. J. McNamara of the Scarboro Foreign Missions described the native Indians of British Guiana as "a race whose children attend their parents' wedding."

"They have little knowledge of the sacrament of matrimony, but they love elaborate weddings," he added.

The description seems to fit some of the Hollywood weddings in recent years.

However, Mr. McNamara went on to describe the natives as simple, lovable people who live in terrible poverty on a reservation in the jungle.

Work in Korea

Marianne Bernstein of Montreal, who was graduated four years ago from the McGill University school of social work, left for South Korea as a social worker for the Canadian Save the Children Fund. She is the first sent by the Canadian organization to that country.

Protecting the Customer

One of the duties of the owner of a public eating place is to protect the health of the customer by keeping premises, utensils, dishes and tableware immaculately clean. Disease germs may be spread by any employee who suffers from skin disease or colds, or even if he has an uncovered wound on his hands. Any signs of dirt, vermin or improper storage of food should be reported to the local health department who will enforce regulations requiring sanitary conditions.

Mr. Adam L. Sellar,
President and Editor,
The Gleaner

Dear Mr. Sellar:

Your newspaper has rendered a vital service to us because, as the advertisement below indicates, Mrs. Gerald Smith of Leach Textiles Ltd. read the LOST & FOUND notice in the June 24th issue. Quick recovery of our valuable papers resulted. A deep worry was on our minds for a short time over the possibility that these documents could have fallen into the hands of some notorious person to be bandied about unlawfully.

Incidentally, you may recall that in 1953 you obtained for us a book published in 1888 by Robert Sellar, titled "History of Chateauguay, Huntingdon and Beauharnois". This old volume was from the library of the late Arthur Graham and handed down by his niece Mrs. Leehy. She read the advertisement you placed in your own columns in trying to locate same. We treasure this old and interesting history, especially where it relates to "Herdman's Corners". I have before me your letter dated July 17, 1953 in which you state in the first lines ....

"Dear Mrs. Drew:
The advertising for History of Chateauguay-Huntingdon and Beauharnois has produced results ...."

From the above incident in 1953 and the recovery of our presently lost envelope of vital papers it is clear that THE GLEANER has produced results 2 times for us. If you wish your readers to know how elated we are you may print any part or all of this letter.

Just a few words to mention we were thrilled to stand very close to your radiant Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip in Montreal on June 25th. On our visits to Canada, spaced a year or two apart, we are guests in the home of Norris and Alma Herdman, Athelstan.

Respectfully yours,
HAZEL and CHARLES DREW

NOTICE

FOUND NOTICE; Valuable U.S. birth certificates and U.S. Navy discharge papers were found by Mrs. Gerald Smith of Leach Textiles Ltd. and returned to owners, Hazel Herdman Drew and Charles Drew, of Tuckahoe, N.Y. A reward goes to Mrs. Smith. Special credits go to THE GLEANER for a well-placed advertisement in the June 24th issue, and to Norris Herdman, Athelstan, for inserting the advertisement in our behalf and alerting the Chief of Police and Customs Authorities. The latter officials please take notice and end search.

Howick W.I.

HOWICK — The July meeting of the Howick W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. C. P. MacDonald. 18 members and 4 visitors present. The roll call was "Name something I liked on last year's programme". The favorite answer was "Demonstrations", although all agreed each meeting was very interesting.

The list of winners in the Home Economics class.

Grade VI Sandra McFarlane; Grade VII, Eleanor Wilson, Grade VIII, Norma Robertson, Grade IX, Margaret Angel, Grade X, Tied, Myra Kipling and Margaret Peddie, Grade XI, Barbara Ness.

Woodworking Class:

Grade VI, Brian Brown, Grade VII Stanley Champ, Grade VIII, 1st Harvie Nugent, 2nd Archie Brown, Grade IX, X, XI, 1st. Burton Lang (X); 2nd, Brodie Craig (IX).

These prizes will be presented at the School Opening in the fall.

The picnic for August was discussed and a committee was named to make arrangements to find a place suitable. It was hoped that the members would be able to see through some of the industrial plants of the district the same day.

Mrs. B. Chisholm, Convener of Welfare-Health read an account of a new drug, a help for sunburn, this is related to cortisone, and administered in small doses by a doctor, brings relief in a few hours.

Mrs. Kerr publicity convener showed a picture of Mrs. Van Wagner receiving congratulations from Queen Elizabeth, she was one of the charter members of W.I. at Stoney Creek, and as she is a relative of Mrs. B. Ness, one of our members, this was of special interest.

Mrs. Roy Younie, Citizenship convener, read about the 10th anniversary of N.A.T.O., vigilance is as important now as it was at the formation. The trade between Canada-West Indies is also much in the news, and the Trade Fair, which is sponsored by 140 firms in the West-Indies is being held at 3 main cities in the West Indies.

Miss Jean Ritchie and Mrs. Lang gave detailed accounts of a very interesting convention at Macdonald.

The new project that was suggested for the W.I. this year was "Learn to speak French". If we apply to the Q.W.I. office, names of instructors will be given. Other projects were, community improvement (not necessarily the spending of money): Retarded children, Save the children fund, Pasteurization of milk, Conservation of land, Forest and water, and Sewing for the Unitarian Relief.

Mrs. Rand, F.V.I.C. Pres. with a very interesting story of the work across Canada was one speaker, Madam Coamerswamy from Ottawa also spoke, she had been at a Convention in Columbio, South America, and said, as she was a Vice-Pres. of A.C.W.W. that everywhere she could she spoke of A.C.W.W. and as she always wore her native dress, the sari, she drew attention.

There had also been a report on the A.C.W.W. stamp issue commemoration of the Founding of the W.I. that it made us more aware of our international relations, there had been more than 10,000 First Day Covers sold realizing $1,800, many having been ordered from all over the world. Many thought it an uninteresting design and color, it had brought in so much publicity for A.C.W.W. they were all pleased.

Miss Ritchie and Mrs. Lang were thanked for the splendid account of this convention.

Mrs. H. Palmer, county President was special guest for the afternoon and brought so many interesting facts and figures about W.I. work, all were enthused with her splendid talk.

The F.W.I.C. have been given a special Gov. Grant of $10,000, to further the work, as we have done more work to further education in all our projects, with no money, than any other group. We have been asked to join the U.N.E.S.C.O., that we have a member in attendance at all times at the U.N. so we should be proud of our W.I., advertise it, (sell it to others) at every chance, get enthusiastic about our own Branch, and be sure to have planned interesting programmes.

There is to be a County workshop for the members and outsiders in November. More details later. Thanks were extended to Mrs. Palmer for her very peppy talk.

Mrs. Mason Greig is visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Younie.

Mr. and Mrs. Arbuthnot have moved into the village from their home on the Chateauguay.

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Sutherland have returned from Shediac, N.B., where they have spent the past ten days with Mrs. Sutherland's father.

Athur and Freda Turner spent a week in Montreal visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Carignan of Brownsburg, Que. and Mr. and Mrs. Norris of Toronto were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kerr. Miss Jean White has returned from a motor trip to Toronto, where she has been visiting friends. She attended the Stratford Shakespearean Festival in Stratford, and visited in other parts of Ontario, on her way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kerr are attending the Reid Re-union at Teeswater, Ont.

Balmy weather and the beautiful lawn and trees at Burnside Farm made a perfect setting for a miscellaneous shower for Miss Roberta Todd. This was a happy, informal affair arranged by several friends of the bride-elect. After the gifts had been opened and admired Miss Todd expressed her thanks and hopes to see her friends in her new home. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Miss Jean Lang and Mrs. M. Kyle have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lang and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Lang and Burton to Farnham on Sunday to visit their niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hoskins.

Mr. and Mrs. William Craig, Ian and Nancy of Lakeside, are spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson.

LINOLEUM MAT — Montreal artist, Fritz Brandtner, puts the finishing touches to months of work on an unusual map of Jasper National Park, Alta. Carved and painted on linoleum, the 60 by 80 inch map covers an area of some 2,500 square miles, and will be displayed at Jasper Park Lodge this summer so that guests at the CNR resort can orient themselves in the park. Fritz Brandtner specializes in the little practised but highly effective craft of linoleum murals. The map was worked out from government topographical charts with the benefit of advice from authorities on the Canadian Rockies.

R. C. A. F. Creates Most Efficient Missile Testing System

OTTAWA — The Royal Canadian Air Force has developed and put into operation one of the world's most efficient missile testing systems for use at the RCAF rocket range at Cold Lake, Alberta, Air Force Headquarters announced the past week.

The new missile range control and telemetering system, designed and developed in the RCAF Directorate of Radar and Data Processing by W. R. M. McLellan in close cooperation with RCAF engineers, is well in advance of any other know facility installed for a similar purpose.

Using other systems, information collected from guided missile flights takes months of editing and translation before it can be presented in a usable form to development and engineering staffs. Information, radioed from airborne missiles and from ground installations, has to be labouriously transcribed by hand into a form the big computer can use. With the new RCAF system, the same work is now done automatically, more accurately and in a matter of hours instead of months, with a saving of thousands of expensive engineering hours.

The versatile RCAF system automatically transforms the missile data into computer language, sorts it electronically for future reference, as well as presenting it in an immediate visual form to the range staff while the shoot is in progress.

Besides doing all this, the Air Force system can test missiles and their related equipment before launching to prevent costly misfires.

The end result of using the new equipment will be a substantial saving in time and money in any flight test program. For instance, engineering man hours required are cut from 3200 to 16 hours.

Most of the system is housed in two buildings, one at RCAF Station Cold Lake and the other on the missile range at Primrose Lake, some thirty miles away.

During the rocket firing, all the information radioed to the ground from the missile, as well as information from the ground tracking equipment, is collected and electronically sorted at Primrose Lake.

From the building at Primrose Lake, the data is transmitted simultaneously over the equivalent of 13 television channels to Cold Lake where it is received, translated into computer language, and instantaneously displayed in a usable form for the missile engineering staffs. The large number of channels are necessary because of the huge amount of information that the computers need in order to tell the engineers about the behaviour of the missile.

The 13 channels transmit the equivalent of four full-length novels a minute, or more than a million-and-a-half 16 letter words in sixty seconds.

The system was developed by the Directorate of Radar and Data Processing at Air Force Headquarters, and adopted by the RCAF after it had proved superior by comparison with all other known systems.

HEY! WATCH YOUR STEP - NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK - JULY 19 to 25

Don't Let Neglect Cause An Accident On Your Farm

Most farm accidents can be prevented. Surveys show that the basic cause of farm accidents is human neglect. Coupled with haste, false confidence and lack of knowledge, the greatest hazards are improper equipment, improper care and use of machinery, and "putting off" needed repairs on the farm buildings.

Farm to Live and Live to Farm

Your Farm Is A Vital Part Of Canada

As a farmer, you can be justly proud of your place in the nation's economy. However, farm accidents can hold back your production — and profits — unless you practice farm safety in everything you do! Every hour of the day. Animals, falls, and machinery account for most farm accidents.

A Farm Checked for SAFETY Is Checked for PROFIT, too!

1. Keep machinery in good repair.
2. Operate tractors safely.
3. Use the right tools for the job.
4. Watch your step to prevent falls.
5. Speak to animals when approaching them.
6. Know and obey all traffic laws.
7. Be "fire-sighted".
8. Be a good housekeeper.
9. Apply first aid promptly.
10. Treat guns as if they were loaded.

THE ABOVE IS SPONSORED AS A PUBLIC SERVICE BY THE FOLLOWING:

A Few Tractor Safety Hints:—

1. SPEED—Driving too fast is a factor in most tractor upsets. Many occur while tractor is being driven to or from work.
2. CROSSING SLOPES—A hole, bump, or quick turn can bring tragedy on a slope. Be extra careful if the slope is too steep. Don't try to farm it.
3. UP SLOPES—Backward upsets are apt to happen when going up hill. If you have to go up a really steep one, back the tractor up the slope.
4. DITCHES—The tractor may tip backwards when power is applied. Sideway upsets often happen in ditches. Avoid steep banks, cross ditches where banks have a gradual slope.
5. TRAFFIC—High speed traffic and slow-speed tractors don't mix - - safely. But more operators are killed on public roads by tractor upsets than by collision. Avoid heavy traffic.
6. MISUSE—Many deaths result from running errands, herding cattle, or just plain horseplay on tractors. Get a horse. Use your tractor for the job it's designed to do.
7. HIGH HITCH—Hitching to the axle or seat bracket can cause a backward upset. Don't do it. Never attempt to pull a load with the drawbar removed.
8. MUD—Something will turn if power is applied. If the wheels stick the chassis will revolve around the axle. When you can't back out, get help.
9. DOWNHILL—Down steep grades, there is more weight on the front wheels, more chance of upset. Do not try to handle heavy loads. Always leave your tractor in gear.
10. HIDDEN OBSTACLES—A big tractor tire has more bounce. A hidden log, stump or stone can throw you. Be alert, slow down for tall weeds or grass.
11. LOADS ON FRONT—A front end loader is a labor-saver. But it makes a tricycle tractor easy to tip. Use loader with care. Add rear wheel weights.
12. LOADS ON DRAWBAR—Loads on drawbar increase the chances of a backward upset. Add front end weights for balance. Handle tractor with care on slopes.

Editorial Notes

Boom or Depression!

OUR general economy appears to be heading for a boom, even though a recession is being predicted for sometime in 1961.

After several years of uncertainty, indications are coming from various parts of Canada which lead us to believe that we shall see a trend of prosperity. The recent announcement of the $400,000,000 dollar expenditure for a U.S. aircraft, the F-104, and which is to be made in this country, is good industrial news. This will mean that those aircraft manufacturing concerns which were out of business through the cancellation of a previous order for aircraft, will once more be into production and employing large staffs. This will cut down the unemployment ratio and boost up domestic sales of all products.

Another project that will soon be underway is a new railway system to link the U.S. with Alaska. Not only will this provide employment and sales of materials, but it will open up new areas of business along the route.

United Kingdom investment is returning to Canada in a large way with several British companies buying land and erecting plants for various types of manufacturing. The old textile mill in Milltown, N.B., has been purchased by U.K. interests. This was owned by Textile Sales Ltd. and has been idle for the past two years. It is also expected that a German firm will buy another site in the same town for manufacturing purposes. There are numerous reports of increased business in this country and of Canadian firms acquiring contracts in foreign countries and in the U.S.

All of this will tend to boost our economy and maintain our standard of living. One project started, leads to something else and so in turn almost everybody benefits. Even though what is happening may be miles away from us here, it will have a tendency to help us as much as elsewhere. We may not evidence it immediately, but eventually the wave will reach us.

In view of this, the prediction that we are headed for another recession in 1961, does not worry us too much. These upsurges of boom must recede at some time and by now we have gotten used to them coming about every two or three years. As long as they do not affect us more than they have so far, then let us say they are periods of re-adjustment rather than recession.

Weekly Press Holds Convention

WE are taking this space this week to salute our colleagues of the weekly press who are holding their 40th annual convention in Regina.

Editors and publishers of weekly newspapers from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island have gathered in the famed prairie city to discuss the problems that confront them in this highly mechanized, rapidly changing world.

And those of you who are not familiar with the weeklies may wonder how they survive the competition of the big dailies, the national news magazines and radio and TV.

The answer is simple: Your weekly editor has changed with the times, and so continues to fill an important role in the communications network of his community.

He does the job of providing accurate local news and opinion in a way that meets the high technical and cultural standards of today's modern reader.

Gone are the days of the casual deadline and the "gone fishin'" sign, which were mainly fables, anyway. Today, the weekly editor has one of the biggest and busiest jobs in the publishing field.

He not only has to compete for business against new and powerful media, but he has to do an ever improving job of reporting local news and interpreting his community to itself. Our higher education and living standards make this mandatory.

And the men and women who are gathered in Regina would be the last to claim that they are masters of the situation. In fact, they're attending the 40th annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association to listen to experts and to swap suggestions among themselves on how to do a better job.

One of the things they have done collectively through the CWNA is to set up a series of awards for excellence in the weeklies to encourage editors and publishers to strive for greater improvement and to recognize those who are making the grade.

They have, through CWNA, set up their own promotion and public relations program to tell their story.

And at this 40th annual meeting they undoubtedly will take further action to help them do a better job for their readers and advertisers.

It is for this reason we ask you to join us in our salute to them. It may seem that we're tootling our own horn a bit. But we feel they've done a great job to date — and are trying to do better in the future.

And that's good for all of us.

Health Vital to The Nation

THE more civilized people have become, the softer they are because of the care they can take and are being taken care of. In the years gone by medical science was not what it is today and in consequence people of yesteryears relied upon remedies handed down through the ages for a number of their ills. Of course many succumbed to various complaints, who would never do so today, but it was generally supposed that people in those days were a hardier type.

The question is being asked today, are we breeding a nation of invalids? Behind the question is the fact that more and more hospital space and buildings are required now than ever before and there is a continual demand for larger hospitals. Mental hospitals are also in greater demand. Of course, our population is increasing and more and more people have to be cared for, but on the other hand, it is possible that we are depending more on medical science to keep us in good health. To a certain extent this is the case, for by various types of drugs and more knowledge of disease, the life span has been increased, so people are living longer. But this is causing more and more people to be dependent on a fewer number of wage earners. An example was recently given that out of 28 people ten were breadwinners who must support the other eighteen; one of the twenty-eight will be a pensioner and four of the twenty-eight will be permanently ill.

One reason given for the amount of sickness, is the age in which we are living. The speed and the pressures. It is said that all this stress unbalances the body chemistry. The glands try to restore this lost balance. But if the stress is prolonged the glands have to work so hard excreting hormones that in time they become exhausted and illness results. It is said the nation gulps vitamin pills like candy — one billion of them every year, or sixty-six for every man, woman and child in the country. In spite of this and all the wonder drugs, it is said that the average Canadian is sick one day a week, and probably two million citizens are disabled.

There are more schemes for sickness and accident insurance than ever before and of the government scheme, only one province — Quebec — remains that has not signed up. This does not prevent sickness or accident, it only helps to provide against the cost — a cost that today is continually mounting. It is said that our people are becoming hospital conscious and therefore using them to a greater extent than ever before.

There does not seem to be any answer to all this unless we take note of a slogan going the rounds today with regard to automobile accidents, and that is "Slow Down To Live". This age of speed could be the cause for so many turning to our mental hospitals for relief and the large number of mental disorders which are being treated. More concentration wants to be made on health and less on sickness.

Round Byre AND Ring

By FRANK NAPIER

The Scottish Farmer of June 27, 1959, has just come to hand — in this instance just four pages. The reason for the reduction being given, in part, as follows:

"In common with many other newspapers' production of 'The Scottish Farmer' is affected by the present dispute in the printing trade. We regret that we are unable to give the extensive coverage of The Royal Highland Show in reports which it has been our custom to give in the past. In this small emergency edition we have attempted to give as comprehensive a list of the results in the livestock judging rings and elsewhere as is possible in the hope that it will be of service to our many readers at home and overseas who look to 'The Scottish Farmer' for the complete picture of the Highland."

A very fine gesture to its livestock readers, under apparently extraordinarily difficult circumstances by 'The Scottish Farmer'. Probably actuated by that this is the last year in which The Royal Highland and Agricultural Show will be held on an itinerant, so to speak, basis. Each year the Highland Show, by which name it is best known, has been held, mostly under canvas, in succession at some eight different Scottish centres, ranging from Inverness in the North to Dumfries and Hawick in the South. Next year, and each year thereafter, it will be held at its recently acquired permanent site in the vicinity of the City of Edinburgh.

Doubtless many oldtimers will have considered this decision on the part of the Highland to be a deplorable step, as was the case with many Canadians when Canadian National Exhibition and the Royal Winter Fair were permanently located in Toronto. However, as in the case of many of our large Canadian Agricultural and Livestock Shows, public interest in the Highland has waned considerably, meaning of course, smaller and smaller gate receipts. Moreover, the annual erection of the tents, collapsible buildings, plank roads, the subsequent dismantling and storing of same, plus transportation has always been a tremendous expense.

Comprehensive Picture

This year's Highland Show was held on the outskirts of the City of Aberdeen, the fifteenth occasion the Highland has been held there since 1834 — 125 years ago. The 'Scottish Farmer' says: "The Highland as usual presented a comprehensive picture of rural Scotland, its renowned skill not only in stockmanship but in the arts and crafts of the countryside. The temporary town of gay canvas and colourful banners and signs housed everything from the aristocats of the stock world to the latest in mass produced machinery and handmade articles illustrating the cunning of the craftsman."

Personally, we were gratified to note that a very old acquaintance, James Durno of Uppermill, won the Supreme Shorthorn Championship with his male champion Uppermill Perfect. The reserve Supreme Championship went to Lord Lovat on his female champion Beaufort Orange Talisman 3rd.

Eastern States Exposition

The Eastern States Exposition, West Springfield, Mass., is making an attractive bid for Canadian entries at its 1959 event. As a special inducement to Canadians, and to help cover the extra transportation costs, the Exposition will double the amount of money offered in the individual classes as listed in the prize list to all Canadian exhibitors.

The regular prize money listed in the prize list for all classes of dairy cattle, except cows 5 years or over is: $30; $22; $17; $14; $12; $12; $10; $10. Cow, 5 years or over, $35; $27; $22; $17; $17; $12; $10, and 3 other prizes of $5 each. The prize money to Canadian exhibitors would be double this amount. There is also a state Herd class and the prize money offered is $200 for each herd shown.

In bygone days this would probably have been of considerable interest to the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Breeders' Club, which in the past organized show herds for several United States shows. However, in case you are interested entries close August 20.

Heart-Lung Machine To M.C. Hospital by Junior Red Cross

When Dr. David Murphy, surgeon in chief of the Montreal Children's Hospital, expressed the need for an artificial heart-lung machine, last Fall, Junior Red Cross members quickly organized a fund raising campaign to buy the life saving apparatus.

Dances, sales, miles of nickles, film shows, chinese auctions, carnivals and sports events were featured in high schools throughout the Province of Quebec and have produced over $5,000. With this huge sum of money the Junior Red Cross Committee bought a most modern heart-lung machine which was presented to the Montreal Children's Hospital at the end of June. This machine, essential in open heart surgery offers greater facility for operating on young babies, is easy to clean and sterilize, and requires one-man operation.

In his short address to the delegates from many high schools who witnessed the presentation, Dr. Murphy said that the new machine would be instrumental in saving the lives of many babies and children. The official presentation was made by Gordon Mason, president of the 1958-59 Junior Red Cross Inter-High School Council of Greater Montreal and surrounding areas.

Twenty-nine schools are listed as having done something toward raising the fund for the above machine and among them is Franklin Intermediate School, Franklin Centre, Que.

The Week At Ottawa

OTTAWA, (CP) — The provinces, pursuing a food objective, last week came seeking more money from Ottawa. In effect they were told to come back later.

The occasion was a conference of government treasury officials, called to line up a thorough-going study of the whole federal-provincial fiscal deal. That it did.

It wasn't intended that the meeting become a springboard for provincial money demands. Regardless, that is the way the conference began.

Crux of the matter is the tax-sharing formula in the current federal-provincial agreement, which expires March 31, 1962. It gives the provinces 13 per cent of personal income tax yields, nine per cent of taxable corporation income, and half the inheritance taxes.

Ontario asked for a 15-15-50 formula, and Prince Edward Island rallied to this banner. British Columbia went a step further, asking a 25-12-50 setup.

Saskatchewan and New Brunswick made no specific proposals, but said a new deal is "urgent" and "absolutely essential." In addition, the Atlantic provinces pressed for continuation beyond 1962 of their adjustment grants, totalling $25,000,000 a year.

Above all, they all wanted a plenary federal-provincial conference—one in which the prime minister sits down with all the premiers.

No Promises

Finance Minister Fleming made no promises. He told a press conference later that there is "not much use in calling a conference" unless Ottawa has the money to give. Mr. Flemming, who based this year's predicted $393,000,000 deficit on an expected upswing in the gross national product, told reporters:

"I want to see how far recovery wil go before deciding on whether to call a plenary conference. The provinces understand I don't want to be in the position of proposing an increase in the deficit I budgeted for this year."

Meanwhile, while a committee of civil servants studies the fiscal tax-sharing question, the provincial ministers will meet here again Oct. 15 and 16 to discuss—as the official communique said — "the possible need for a negotiating conference" of government heads to revise benefits available to the provinces.

Defence Sharing

Raymond O'Hurley, minister of defence production, has minced no words in stating Canada's position in sharing defence orders with the United States. He told the Commons:

"I would emphasize that we are determined that any Canadian role under production sharing should include some of the more demanding work and not be limited to the pouring of concrete or to what is often called 'metal bashing'."

He announced one example of the demanding work:. In a $40,000,000 program over the next four years, Canadian plants will built some 200 American Lockhead F-104G supersonic fighter planes for the RCAF air division in Europe.

Opposition Leader Pearson said the growing integration of Canadian and U.S. defences is a far cry from conservative talk a few years ago about "freeing our defence policy from the over-powering control of the U.S."

Far North Policy

Resources minister Alvin Hamilton says Canadian sovereignty in the far north will not be endangered by foreign participation in the exploitation of oil and gas resources.

So long as companies searching for gas and oil are under effective Canadian administration "that is the most tangible evidence to any person in any part of the world that this is Canada and that this is the land we will fight for," Mr. Hamilton said in the Commons.

He was replying to Opposition Leader Pearson who accused Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Mr. Hamilton of trying to mislead Canadians about government efforts to preserve northern sovereignty.

Vanier for Governor

An announcement is expected within the next month or so to the effect that Maj.-Gen. George P. Vanier of Montreal will be Canada's next governor-general.

Indications are that the Queen, who is reported to have approved of this choice by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, may be asked to announce the appointment before her Canadian tour ends Aug. 1.

Gen. Vanier, 71, earned a distinguished record overseas in the First World War with the Royal 22nd Regiment. He retired from public service in 1953 after eight years as Canadian ambassador in Paris.

As Colonel of the Van Doos, of which he is a founder-member, he was present when the Queen inspected the regiment at Quebec City earlier in her tour.

His appointment would follow the tradition of alternating high offices between French-speaking and English-speaking persons.

Governor-General Massey, 72, now has served a record 7½ years in the office. His term was twice extended. He is the first Canadian-born governor-general, breaking a tradition of 17 British-born governors-general since Confederation.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

The Week at Ottawa

$2,750,000 from its $50,000,000 endowment fund can be stretched only so far.

The need of the arts, humanities and social sciences are so great, said the annual report, "that time indeed will not wither them, nor custom stale, nor will $2,750,000 per annum wholly gratify them."

Something would have to go. The council could not commit the bulk of its funds for either small local groups or for large perennial contributions to big, established organizations.

For one thing, it would be "fatal" to try to support the thousands of small, local orchestras, choirs, little theatres and the like, which could quickly devour the council's budget.

O'Keefe Sales are going UP

says JACQUES SAUVE

"People recognize a good thing when they see it . . . and they notice more O'Keefe whenever they drop into hotels and the homes of friends. If seeing isn't always believing . . . tasting is. Why don't you take a satisfying sip of that mild O'Keefe ale. You'll easily understand why sales are going up."

NATURAL MILDNESS IS THE REASON

THE O'KEEFE MILDNESS SECRET

Ever bitten into a grape seed? It's bitter, unpleasant. Grape growers found by experiment that they could develop seedless grapes with nothing to spoil the delicate flavour. It's the same with hops.

Ordinary hops contain seeds which give an unpleasant bitterness to ale. However, O'Keefe master brewers insist on costlier "Seedless Hops," result — there's no unpleasant bitterness, just the right, natural mild flavour.

Drink O'Keefe The Mild Ale!
