REICH REQUIRED IN WEST DEFENCE

Washington — (AP) — President Eisenhower told Congress today a firm defence of Western Europe against Russian attack would be impossible without German troops to bolster the line.

In a report on the government's foreign aid program during the first six months of this year, Eisenhower again appealed to France and Italy to approve the European army project which would make it possible to add German manpower to Europe's defences.

"The EDC European Defence Community," he said, "offers the best solution for the difficult problem of integrating German armed forces into the European defence system.

"No measures to defend free Europe from Soviet aggression can be fully effective without German participation."

The President's forthright plug for the European army project came as foreign ministers of West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy were meeting in Brussels with French Prime Minister Pierre Mendes-France over new French objections to the plan. France and Italy alone of the six countries have not ratified the plan.

Eisenhower said failure to approve EDC during the past six months covered by his report constituted "the most serious single obstacle" to a successful European defence.

The President told Congress that, as part of its drive to bolster the Free World, the United States shipped $1,700,000,000 in weapons and military supplies during the first half of 1954 to friendly governments around the world.

The new shipments, he said, raised the amount sent overseas since the military aid program began to $9,400,000,000 — about $6,700,000,000 to European countries.

New military aid agreements with Japan and Pakistan, he said, have helped strengthen anti-Communist defences in the Far East. He said Communist gains in Indo-China represent a "serious military setback" for the Free World.

He said that in order to block further Red drives it would be necessary to strengthen the economic base of Far East countries, permitting them to build up their armed forces without dangerous strain on their economies. He did not identify the nations but speaking of Thailand, which borders Indo-China, he said:

"U.S. military assistance to the Thai armed forces has helped build the country's army, navy and air force units to the point where they should be able successfully to ward of any military incursions, unless direct participation by Communist China is involved."

Eisenhower reported the U.S. is re-equipping the Chinese Nationalist air force on Formosa with jet warplanes and that some of the tactical units being created should be ready for action this fall.

Sees Anglican Church Basis For Re-union

Washington —(AP)—Over-shadowed by the approach of the 161-denomination assembly of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill., was another world-wide church meeting which produced findings that should afford the Council a measure of comfort in its concern with "our disunity as churches."

This was the Anglican Congress at Minneapolis. Bringing together delegates from 14 independent national branches of the Anglican Congress was a discussion and inspirational session, without power to pass on any steps binding delegate churches.

Contrary to widespread belief in the United States, the Anglican communion is not under the authority of the Church of England. The term "Anglican" signifies only the common origin of the independent national churches, of which the American is the Protestant Episcopal Church.

One of the main themes of the World Council meeting this week and next is "our oneness in Christ and our disunity as churches."

Anglican delegates who went on to the Evanston assembly from Minneapolis may have taken with them much that will help the assembly find an answer to this disunity.

A layman who attended the Anglican meeting as a delegate from the Episcopal diocese of Washington, Ernest W. Greene, said he was impressed by "the deep concern throughout the congress for real progress in the ecumenical (one big church) movement, looking toward the breaking down of the divisions which split us."

One great disappointment to those arranging the Evanston assembly was that the Roman Catholic Church declined to participate, although some of the Orthodox communions did.

Although the Anglicans did not suggest that they could carry off a reunion between Protestant and Catholic churches, one of the Congress' official findings included this statement which might be taken as a conviction that Anglicanism could eventually be a bridge between the two:

"Truly to be an Anglican is to combine within oneself both Catholic and Protestant traditions in a dynamic relationship. The tension between these different traditions becomes creative when it is held in charity."

Green said he found through out the congress "great emphasis on the fact that we are part of the church of God, and an avoidance of any suggestion that we are it."

Rule Death Of Quint As Accidental

Ste. Agathe, Que.—(CP)—A coroner's jury has completed another chapter in the tragic story of timid Emilie Dionne.

At an inquest in this Laurentian resort centre Thursday night, the six jurymen ruled that Emilie, the shyest of the world-famed quintuplets, died accidentally of asphyxiation during an epileptic attack August 6. There was no criminal negligence.

The finding supported the autopsy report of Quebec medico-legal expert Dr. Rosario Fontaine that the 20-year-old girl's death "was due to asphyxiation during an epileptic stroke when the victim accidentally suffocated in her pillow."

The jury, after deliberating only eight minutes, placed an unpublished rider in the hands of Coroner Dr. Jean Taillon of St. Jerome, Que., for transmission to Premier Duplessis of Quebec, in his capacity as Attorney-General.

Details of the rider were not revealed, but Dr. Taillon said it concerned recommendations on medical care, particularly at L'Accueil Guai, the nearby home for the aged where Emilie died.

The inquest—opened Aug. 7, the day after Emilie's death, but adjourned until medical reports were available—was orderly and the 17 spectators, including witnesses, were attentive.

The only member of the Dionne family present was Maurice Girouard, 33, of Waterloo, Que., a brother-in-law of the quints.

Mr. Girouard, who with his wife, Rose, identified Emilie's body, testified that Emilie had been under treatment at Montreal's Royal Victoria hospital a few years ago.

Dr. Taillon said he understood Emilie was treated by world-famed neurosurgeon Dr. Wilder Penfield of the Montreal Neurological Institute, attached to the Royal Victoria, a number of years ago and more recently at Notre Dame Hospital in Montreal.

Munich — (Reuters) — A 30-year-old American soldier, sergeant Robert K. McMahan, of Willington, N.C., Thursday was sentenced to death by a court martial here for shooting a 68-year-old German taxi-driver, Karl Kaiser, on July 10. Evidence showed McMahan stole about $22.40 from Kaiser.

Record Entry In Ladies Department Features Annual Ayer's Cliff Fair

Ayer's Cliff, Aug. 20. — The Eastern Townships' oldest fair—and one of the biggest—opened its gates for the 109th time here yesterday on a three-day program of judging, midway thrills, and grandstand excitement.

The annual, century-old combined show of the Stanstead County Agricultural Society and the Stanstead County Horticultural Society defeated threatening clouds early yesterday morning to attract a substantial opening-day crowd swollen by hordes of children who were admitted to the grounds free for Children's Day. Total paid attendance for the day, according to gate officials, was approximately 875.

But the children were almost three times that number. Grandstand officials cooperated with the special day by letting the youngsters in free to the grandstand show in the afternoon when the March Midway failed to arrive on schedule.

By last night, however, practically the whole of the midway, with its rides, sideshows, brightly colored booths and food counters was in full swing.

It might also have been termed a Ladies' Day yesterday, for the officials of the Ladies' Committee revealed that in their section entries were unusually heavy a departure from the trend in other departments, where exhibits are down a bit from last year.

Mrs. Hugh McClary, chairman of the Ladies' Committee, said: "The entries are the heaviest we've had in years, and the quality is better than average." The ladies took over the whole upper floor of the main building for their colorful exhibits of handicrafts, fine needlework and art. Judging in this department is expected to finish today.

On the whole, secretary-treasurer of the Society, Mrs. M. B. Corey said "We have about 170 exhibits, which is not quite so heavy as last year. Livestock, swine, sheep are all down, but the horse section is a bit heavier."

As is other fairs throughout the Eastern Townships, fair officials blamed the lateness and the wetness of the haying season for the decrease in entries in most of the departments.

In the Horticultural section, the story was about the same. Society secretary, G. Drummond said that entries in all sections except in cooking class were way down from last year. Cooking exhibits, however, are nearly double last year's.

The Ayer's Cliff Fair today is not what it used to be, according to a man who should know, Fair Constable Jean Bedard, who has been helping to keep law and order at this fair for the past twenty years. "Twenty years ago," he reminisced, "they needed 15 policemen here. Its about as good as ever, but not nearly so rough as it used to be."

Several distinguished visitors were on hand for opening day yesterday. John Hackett, Q.C., paid a visit to the grounds, and later in the day, the county's member of Parliament, Col. L. E. Roberge was on hand to enjoy the day's show, and speak at a calf club banquet.

Yesterday's program called for judging in sheep, swine, poultry, grade beef and dairy, Ayrshire sections, all of which were completed. In the junior department, some 50 members from 4-H Clubs in Island Brook, Lennoxville, Hatley and Waterville went through a rigorous program of judging competitions yesterday, capped by the annual banquet last night.

Top honors in the day's competition went to Gordon Garfat, of Lennoxville, and Joan Johnston, of Hatley. They were presented with leather halters by the chairman of the calf club committee, Reginald Conners.

In a short address to the calf club members, Col. Roberge congratulated the winners and the rest of the competitors on their close competition. He said, "To be a farmer today is quite a problem. You must be a jack-of-all-trades." Speaking in both French and English, Col. Roberge urged the members to remember the importance of the farmer to the country's economy. "You must glorify that profession," he concluded, "for it's your sacred duty to keep our country supplied with the food it so vitally needs."

Seated at the head table with Mr. Conners and the speaker were: D. H. Bruno, Stanstead County Agronome; W. G. McDougall of the committee; D. J. MacMillan, Cookshire county agronome, and D. C. Robertson, Federal Livestock Fieldman.

In front of the grandstand yesterday afternoon and evening, Gordon Beerworth's "International Frolics" gave performances to enthusiastic audiences.

Many claimed that the Associated Entertainment Enterprises show was responsible for the break in the bad weather early yesterday afternoon, for no sooner had Ernie Bruce, loveable clown and musician extraordinary, put his battered trumpet to his lips and blown the first sweet note, than the sun peeped through the clouds.

Two classified races, for purses of $200 and $125 were also run off in front of the grandstand yesterday afternoon, and an automobile and machinery parade were also held.

The 43-piece Canaan, Vt., high school band under the baton of Lyndall Peck sparkled opening day in their smart yellow and purple uniforms, and gave band selections throughout most of the day. The band, which has been a feature of the Ayer's Cliff fair for some years now, sported something new this year — four dimunitive, but very active drum majorettes. Their music, was as usual, stirring.

In the feature race of of the afternoon, for a $200 purse, W. Thompson's Parade Hanover split the two-heat race with G. Cass' Tonie Bird, while in the second race, run only in one heat, Dr. Taylor's Spartan Peter walked off with the honors. Fastest time of the afternoon was turned in by Parade Hanover who copped the second heat of the first race in 2.18.

Vote Takes Communists' Legal Right

Washington— (AP) — An election-bound Congress, now verging an adjournment, overshot the mark set by President Eisenhower for anti-Red legislation by voting to strip the Communist party of legal rights.

While outdoing the president in that respect, however, the lawmakers approached the end of the session today without having passed two of the principal measures he asked for dealing with subversives. They are:

1. A bill to permit the government to use evidence obtained by wiretapping in the prosecution of national security cases. This passed the House of Representatives but bogged down in the Senate judiciary committee.

2. A bill to let the government bar from defence plants in times of emergency persons whom it had reasonable ground to believe might engage in espionage sabotage or other subversion. It passed the Senate but got pigeonholed by the House judiciary committee.

A burst of anti-Red activity, however, marked the closing days of the session, climaxed by the passage Thursday of a compromise bill to deny the Communist party legal privileges and force its members to register with the government.

The bill had not been asked by the president or Attorney-General Herbert Brownell, but apparently the administration was willing to accept it after it had been shorn of a Democrat-sponsored provision imposing heavy penalties on Communist party members.

Also sent to the president Thursday were bills he had requested to strip U.S. nationality from citizens convicted of advocating the forcible overthrow of the government and to permit the death penalty for spying in peacetime as well as in wartime.

Churchmen Enthused Over Eisenhower Address

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

Evanston, Ill.— (AP) —President Eisenhower's fervent plea to the world's spiritual chieftains to lead the way to a just and lasting peace drew an approving "amen" from churchmen today.

He laid his show-the-way challenge before representatives of 170,000,000 Christians Thursday at a session of the World Council of Churches.

It was greeted with applause.

Clergymen and laymen attending the convention later told reporters of their reaction to Eisenhower's speech—including his appeal for a prayerful campaign for peace that could result in a global day of prayer, his public profession of faith and an invitation to criticize government "in the light of religious ideals."

Bishop Otto Dibelius, leader of German Protestantism, appraised it as a "very remarkable speech" and added:

"It comes from the depths of the heart and is very much welcome by the members of this assembly."

The President addressed 18,000 men, women and children who sat or stood in Northwestern University's Deering meadow.

Eisenhower, standing on a knoll, spoke of a campaign for "a just and lasting peace," and added:

"I believe that you spiritual leaders of a great world organization, together with your brethren of other fairs, can lead the way.

"The goal should be nothing short of inviting every single person in every single country or the world who believes in the power of a Supreme Being to join in a mighty, simultaneous, intense act of faith.

"That act of faith might take the form of a personal prayer by hundreds upon hundreds of millions delivered simultaneously and fervently for the devotion, wisdom and stamina to work unceasingly for a just and lasting peace."

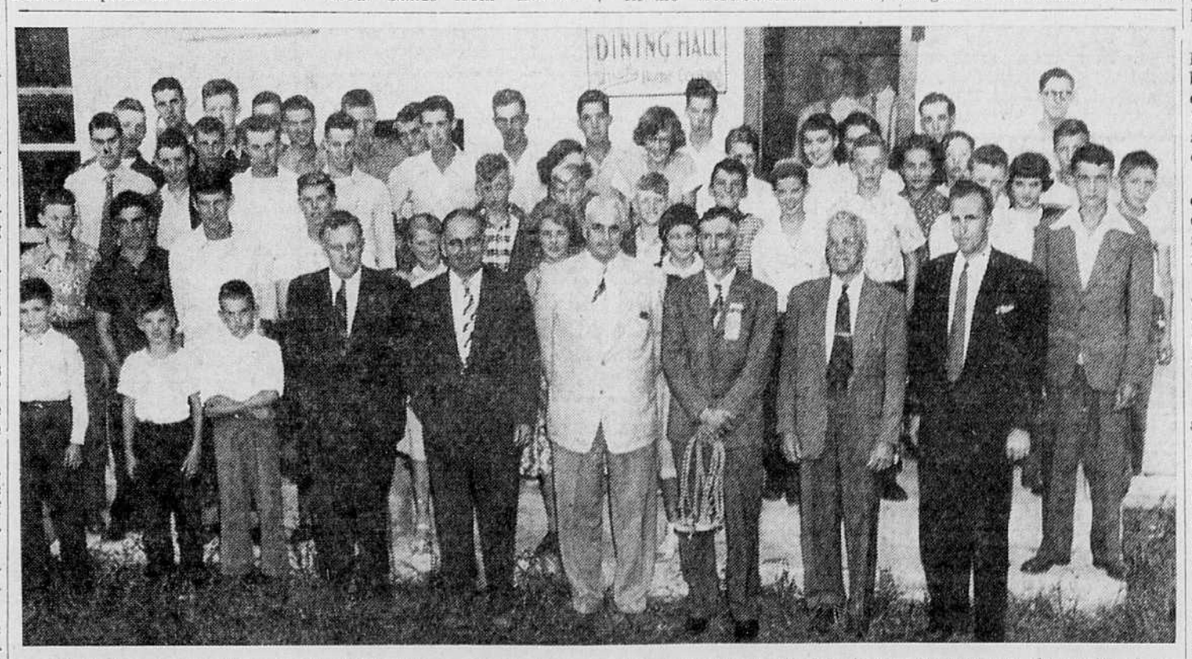

Spectators who had been listening in the sort of rapt silence that prevails at prayer meetings broke into applause.

In one part of his speech, Eisenhower referred to religion as "a practical force in our affairs," and invited churchmen to give government "criticism in the light of religious ideals."

Methodist Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., told a reporter:

"I thought it was a very forceful statement of the proper relationship of church and state."

Prof. Adolph Keller of the Swiss Protestant Church Federation said it was "a great moment to hear such a stament," and noted that Eisenhower had made a "declaration of dependence on God."

Lawless Gang Turns Sick At Sight Of Dead Victim

New York. — (AP) — Brooklyn's four thrill-killing teenagers, once boastful about their deeds of violence, turned sick and shaken from the sight of one of their hapless victims.

The "fun" was over for Jack Koslow, 18-year-old leader of the brutal foursome. He wept when confronted Thursday with the battered, water-soaked body of a Negro victim and told detectives, "I feel sick."

It was Koslow who two days earlier had allegedly given police details of this slaying and other savage attacks of the night before.

One by one the four youths were brought onto a Brooklyn water-front pier to identify the body of Willard Menter, 34, who ran afoul of his killers in a Brooklyn park Monday night.

Police knew nothing of the slaying until after the four youths were arrested early Tuesday on an assault complaint and told of beating and torturing a man and throwing him into the East river. Police began dragging the river and Thursday recovered the body.

Koslow, lean and mustached, turned pale and whimpered as he identified Menter's bruised and bloated figure. Melvin Mittman, who told police he liked to pummel the gang's victims "to see how hard I could hit" was also brought into view the figure. Jerome Lieberman, 17, tears in his eyes, quickly jerked back after making his identification. The youngest of the four, 15-year-old Robert Trachtenberg, was not sure if the figure was Menter's. But later said "I think that's the guy."

Menter's body was identified by his brother. The man was last seen by his family Monday night.

Police said the gang fell upon him in the park, beat him and burned the soles of his feet with cigarettes and then marched him to the river.

An autopsy showed that he was alive when he hit the water. Menter leaves a wife and two children.

Police say they have learned of nine attacks by the gang, including the death of Menter and another man, Rheinhold Ulrichson, a 43-year-old steeplejack. They also admitted lashing two girls with a leather whip and beating up five men encountered in Brooklyn parks.

The four are being held without bail as shocked officials check into the background of the apparently senseless rampage that lasted for some weeks. It is all the more baffling as the youths come from apparently good families.

Daddy Ringtail

Pat Myself On The Back

By WESLEY DAVIS

This is a story of man who didn't want to pat himself on the back he said. No one had ever seen him in the Great Forest, until one day he came walking along the Elephant Path. Daddy Ringtail your monkey friend, saw the man coming.

"My name is Daddy Ringtail," said Daddy Ringtail, "and a happy day to you, Stranger. Then so the stranger would not be a stranger any more, Daddy Ringtail asked what the stranger's name was.

"Well," said the stranger, "I don't want to pat myself on the back, but I have a fine name and I—"

"Wait!" said Daddy Ringtail "Stranger, you can pat yourself on the back if you want to."

"But I don't want to pat myself on the back," the stranger said.

"But you can if you want to," Daddy Ringtail insisted.

The man pulled off his coat to be a little cooler. He took off his hat to fan himself. "Look," said the man, "you don't understand. You are like the friendly wolf I met a while ago. He didn't understand either."

"That must have been the Huffen Puffen," said Daddy Ringtail.

"That's the one," said the man. "The wolf's name was Huffen Puffen, and I met him in front of his hollow-tree house I stopped and said to him, 'I don't want to pat myself on the back, but I—!'"

"Stop!" said Daddy Ringtail of a sudden. He held up his hand for the man to stop his talking about how he didn't want to pat himself on the back.

"Stranger," said Daddy Ringtail, "the Great Forest is a happy place. If patting yourself on the back is what you need to make you happy, then pat yourself on the back right now."

"But I don't want to pat myself on the back!" shouted the stranger, now in anger.

"Oh yes you do!" called out the Huffen Puffen from nearby. Yes, because now the Huffen had hurried up with fine pat-yourself-on-the-back-stick that he had made for the man.

"Help!" shouted the man, and away he ran down the Elephant Path, and he never, never came back. I still don't know what his name was. All I know is he was the man-who-didn't-want-to-pat-himself-on-the-back, silly boy. Happy day!

Renovations At Derby Line Bank Are Completed

Derby Line, Aug. 20 — Extensive renovations have been made in the First National Bank at Derby Line this summer, the work which commenced early in May having just been completed.

The front lobby has been enlarged by adding the president's office, there are four open counters where before there were two, the former directors' room and the hallway have been taken for working space for the staff and a new directors' room of smaller size finished off at the north side of the building. There is also a private office for the president, where before his was a part of the working space.

The coupon, or safety deposit box, room is modern in every way. The ceilings of the bank floor have been lowered by 20 inches and new fluorescent lighting installed. New rubber tiling has been laid on the entire floors and the walls painted a soft turf green shade.

New furniture has been installed for the clerks, with modern dial telephones on each desk, where there is a buzzer system. The window grates have been removed and an iron railing erected on the outdoor steps into the bank.

With the growth of the Boundary communities the past several years, the business of this bank has increased and more working space was needed. A. C. Cowles is bank president, a position he has held for several years, and has for over one-half century been an employee of this bank. Lloyd Selby is cashier and there are five clerks on the staff. Miss Marilyn Taylor, of Derby Line, became a member of the staff following her graduation from college in the spring.

The bank is 103 years old, the last complete renovations being made approximately fifty years ago.

The work was under contract to Andre Joyal, of Derby Line, with Harry Lyons of Derby Line and Rock Island, installing the electrical equipment. All materials were purchased from Caswell and O'Rourke's store at Derby Line, the paint job was done by Victor Carter, of Newport, with W. B. G. Gosselin, of Newport rearranging the radiator heating system. Blais Bros., of Newport made the fine counters which are beautifully finished.

Considerable renovations were also made to the upstairs apartments, where part of the plumbing was done by Martin's Plumbing of Newport.

With these changes, this bank can now boast of a modern office and work room, as fine as anywhere in the State of Vermont.

Hundreds Gather To See New C.P.R. Car Display

Long before the cars even arrived in Sherbrooke, district residents gathered at the Canadian Pacific station this morning to get their first view of the new passenger equipment which is expected to revolutionize railway passenger traffic in Canada. Two of the 173 new cars now being delivered to the C.P.R. — the Banff Park, a scenic dome sleeper, and a Chateau-type combination sleeping car—arrived here shortly before eight o'clock from Saint John, N.B., where they have been on public exhibition and despite the fact that advertisements had stressed that the two cars would be open to the public only at 8:30, the advance guard were already on hand to witness the arrival of the gleaming equipment.

As might be expected, a substantial quota of small boys were on hand, but these by no means formed the majority of the "first-comers." There were men of every age category, from those who might be classified as "older boys" to those who had long ago reached the age where they had abandoned an active business career. Then there were many women—from housewives to factory workers fortunate to have the day off.

But regardless of age, sex or class, they all had one ambition—to see these wonder cars. And they were not disappointed, for what they saw was well worth the effort put in.

On first entering the Chateau-type sleeper, they were divided into small groups and taken through the car by Canadian Pacific officials under the direction of William Robson, of Toronto, district passenger agent who has been in charge of the tour since the cars took to the road on a trans - continental trip several weeks ago.

They were shown the five different types of accommodation which feature this type of equipment.

At the front end of the car are located four open sections with lower and upper berths, which are converted into setees for daytime use.

In the centre portion of the care are located three double bedrooms and a three passenger drawing room, all featuring disappearing beds to form a daytime living room with movable, comfortable chairs and adjoining enclosed toilets. A separate lavatory and dressing table combination in each room is provided with a three-way mirror for the convenience of women passengers. Taps for circulating refrigerated and filtered water are provided in each room. Double bedrooms "C" and "D" can be opened into one room by means of folding-sliding partition between them to accommodate a party of four. The drawing room has longitudinal disappearing upper and lower berths and a transverse lower berth convertible to a sofa for daytime use.

At the rear end of the car are located the latest in compact accommodations, the upper and lower duplex roomettes, two of them being located on either side of the car center aisle. The upper roomette is provided with a folding berth, and the lower with a simple sliding type, each room having individual toilet and washing facilities.

The scenic dome lounge car will be the feature of each of the trains. In the front end of the car, forward of the dome, are located three double bedrooms, and a drawing room. Bedrooms "C" and "D" can be opened en suite if desired.

Immediately beyond the drawing room two steps in the passageway lead under the dome and past a glass enclosed "Mural Lounge" accommodating 12 passengers. Each of the 18 cars will be decorated with a different mural painted by various artists of the Royal Canadian Academy of Arts and depicting scenes from various provincial parks.

At the end of the passage two steps lead up into the 13 passenger observation lounge section behind the dome. A writing desk is provided here alongside the dome stairway for passenger use.

Six steps of a gracefully curved stairway lead up to the 24 passenger observation dome section. The seats in the dome are the non-reclining, fixed type with a adjustable leg and foot rests attached to the seat. Each seat is constructed with foam rubber seat cushions, backs and arm rests, equipped with ash-receptacles in the ends.

The floor of the passageway, bedrooms, drawing room, beverage room dome stairs, dome section and lounge observation section is carpeted throughout.

The cars will be on display at the local C.P.R. Station until eleven o'clock daylight saving time, tonight.

Lucky - $ Appears As Expiry Time Nears

THEATRE DOLLAR HAUL — Miss Lucille Gauthier, 202 St. Patrick street east, Magog, flashes a "Lucky Dollar" she got in the Granada Theatre and a fist full of cash she won for turning the same dollar into the Record two hours before the expiry deadline. Her rush paid off — that's a ten-dollar hand on the right. (Record Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Under the line by two and a half hours, we have a winner.

Yes, sir. The bill that was issued Thursday, August 5, in Zellers, in Sherbrooke was handed into the Record Office yesterday afternoon at 2.30, just over two hours before the time that it would be of no value as a Lucky Dollar.

Lucille Gauthier, of 202 St. Patrick Street, East, in Magog was yesterday's Lucky Dollar winner. She had picked up the bill L/N 3779270 in the Granada Theatre on Friday night. Checking her change on Saturday, she found the serial number that corresponded with one of those listed in the Record's Contest.

She didn't have the chance to travel to Sherbrooke for her reward until yesterday, but she is pretty lucky that she came when she did, as there would have been no ten-for-one, had she waited a few hours later. So, if you do have a winning dollar, let us know as soon as you find it, for we can't give the reward unless we know about the winner, and we can't do anything about the winner, when he has turned up after the final bell. Every contest has its rules, and those are ours, so let us know as soon as possible.

New Lennoxville Optimist Club Held First Meeting Last Evening

Under the chairmanship of Joe Gilbert, recently named Charter President, of the newly-formed Lennoxville Optimist Club comprising 45 selected individuals with a desire to share in the responsibilities and benefits of community progress, held their first meeting.

In its ranks, the Lennoxville Optimist Club has men of industry, the professions, commerce, education, etc., who dropped their titles and cloaks of authority to become just plain "Joe," "Harry," "John," and "Charlie," at last night's initial group meeting at the Elmwood Inn.

These men of Optimism will gather regularly to plan and execute a service to humanity that has far exceeded its original purpose which was simply the enjoyment of food and fellowship. Although pre-occupied with the arduous task of building a strong club, the Lennoxville Optimists have already made plans for the running of a track meet this fall. As everyone knows the mainstay of every Optimist Club's program is the activation of the slogan "Friend of the Boy."

And to prepare and help the members of the Lennoxville Optimist Club to get off to a good start last night were Bill Collins, field representative of the Optimist International from St. Paul, Minnesota, Lieutenant Governor Henry Crochetiere and President Ivan Dugre, of the Sherbrooke Club, and Cliff Burton, president of the Waterville Optimist Club.

Immediately following a delightful roast beef supper, President Joe Gilbert, who was also charter president of the Sherbrooke Club when it was formed several years ago, appointed the following Optimists to the various committees; Wes Nichol, Boy's Work; Charlie Warner, Publicity; Bud Lane, Membership; Dr. H. G. Way, Program; and Maurice Hudon, Inter-Club and New Club building. Bill Collins then briefly explained the function and operation of these committees, and provided the committee chairmen with detailed written material.

Bud Lane, chairman of the membership committee, reported over 40 men had signed into the club with some other 20 prospective members who have stated their intention of joining. Forty members, which is a strong membership for any service club, would not have been organized had it not been for George Garard, the president told the assembly. Mr. Gilbert said "He did all the ground work, and did an excellent job." Sentiments of the Sherbrooke Club were expressed by Ivan Dugre, who publicly thanked Mr. Garard and Mr. Collins.

Henry Crochetiere Lieutenant Governor, welcomed the new club into District 28. In a well delivered abbreviated address he said "We really have something in Optimism, because are helping the boys. He also reminded the members "that the boy of today is the man of tomorrow." Their strength lies in the people, and it is our duty to mold their minds and help them take their

A Break For Mr. Muggs

Farouk, the former king of Egypt, got sore and waddled out of an Italian night club the other day because he didn't want his picture taken with J. Fred Muggs.

Mr. Muggs, it seems is a chimpanzee, currently appearing on television screens in the United States.

This little episode reminds us of a few characters we are continually bumping into as soon as our press photographer appears on the scene with a camera. Of course, we can't mention any names but there are one or two fellows who would be more than glad to pose with Mr. Muggs — as long as the picture went in the newspaper.

There is just one thing. Mr. Muggs, known to millions of Americans as a television personality, has to be pretty careful about his reputation.

Key To Human Relations

Not long ago, a Briton was complaining that his country is presented to potential American visitors as a nation of quaint and colorful folk rather than that of "tough ,hard-working people" not unlike those in Pittsburgh or Baltimore.

It has never been denied that Britain has the kind of people the complaining Briton spoke of. But, one cannot deny that England is also a nation of "tweedy sportsmen, distinguished Highlanders, company directors, students at Oxford, cute Guardsmen and an array of preserved pageantry." These are part of the country's essence.

Favorable international relations do not depend, as more contend, on people counting their similarities so much as on their appreciation of their differences. This idea is applicable not merely to relations between the peoples of different countries, but of different regions within a vast continent like our own.

We begin to be knowledgeable human beings when we can recognize and appreciate the rich values in human differences, when we look eagerly for fresh patterns which give fresh expression to man's nature and his aspirations. This variety should be treasured as the essence of humanity, not as postcard freakishness.

The same holds for the way we Canadians look at our fellow-countrymen from coast to coast. Despite our vaunted travel-mindedness, too many of us still have a tendency to land in some spot like Quebec City, and glance at a fabled, historical avenue, and remark: "It's not a bit nicer than King street."

If we find ourselves wandering across the country, or over the globe, looking for the image of home and friends, rejecting all that seems strange, drawing harsh comparisons, then we can be pretty sure that we haven't learned humanity's fundamental secret.

We ought to love our home, our friends, our home town. But we can never love them as we really should until we see them as but one variant in a vast fabric of human life, with every thread richly distinctive.

Stratford A National Theatre?

As the second season of Stratford performances draws to a close indications are that the festival will continue as an annual performance.

This we feel to be significant to the arts in general in Canada. Already there is talk of tacking on a music festival to the regular Stratford performances. National exhibitions of painting and sculpture might similarly be drawn to the festival.

Some of the benefits that we may expect from the establishment of a permanent national theatre are the opportunity for Canadian talent to develop and display itself. First-rate Canadian actors would be retained in this country as well as English and American actors attracted to our stage.

From this nucleus it is to be hoped that provincial tours might be arranged during the off-season. In this way more Canadians could be introduced to the power of excellent acting. We do not wish to detract from films which have won a definite and worthy place in the arts, but those who have seen even the few plays performed in and around Sherbrooke in the past year know the powerful appeal of the stage. Summer visitors at Knowlton's Brae Manor can also attest to this fact.

With the stimulation of a national theatre it is also to be hoped that "straw hat" circuits might be provoked into existence. These professional and amateur groups who storm the playable barns of the countryside would provide an outlet for Eastern Townships' creative talent. In these days of routine work we feel this to be important.

Capri Cut Cute?

A hair-style which is becoming rather widespread among female teenagers is the Capri cut, currently modelled by Audrey Hepburn, Jeanmaire and Leslie Caron, who look as though they had just survived an attack with a dull lawnmower.

How does a hair stylist go about giving one of these new cuts? As near as we can gather, the hair is raked forward and strewn in all directions until the "patient" somewhat resembles a wet golliwog. Then come the scissors.

Surely the hair-stylist must, afterwards, feel somewhat sick, caused no doubt by the same feeling of guilt that a child would experience after pulling the tail-feathers out of a peacock.

Granted, the Capri cut is perhaps just possible for some girls who have oodles of "talent" to offset it. But the less gifted types would be well advised to keep away.

Of course, we can excuse the modern Miss who resorts to the new hair style when her beau currently complains of her present hairdo getting in his eyes, ears, nose and mouth. In a fit of emotional insecurity she rushed upstairs armed with a pair of scissors.

In this case no one will ever know that she didn't go to a hair-stylist. The only difference is that it costs more.

GRANT OF ASYLUM
Montreal Star

Polish protests over the British grant of asylum to a young seaman, Anton Klimowicz, are dying down for the very good reason that Poland had no case. The young man had stowed away on a London-bound freighter at Gdynia, was discovered shivering and half-starved in the hold by English stevedores who listened to his tale, — that he wanted to stay in England. The Polish captain of the vessel detained him on board by force. Armed with a writ of habeas corpus, London police boarded the vessel and took Klimowicz off.

There is no such thing as the "right" to asylum. The grant of asylum is, however, an ancient prerogative of every state. In the old days a sovereign gave asylum to whomever he pleased, — for reasons of state or perhaps to gratify a whim. It has been modified only recently and then by the gradual growth of extradition. As modes of transportation increased and quickened, too many criminals found it easy to escape and extradition was established.

This right is strictly limited, and exists only under treaties and conventions duly ratified between two states. Each side undertakes, The Times of London, explains, to return a man if there is prima facie evidence justifying legal proceedings against him on serious charges.

The only possible ground for refusing asylum to young Klimowicz was if his return had been demanded by the Polish Government under the terms of the Anglo-Polish extradition treaty of 1932. The Polish embassy in London did indeed demand that he be turned over because he was wanted in Poland to face serious charges. But the nature of the charges was never specified, nor was any demand for extraditon under the treaty ever formally made. It can therefore be assumed that the embassy's general indictment against Klimowicz was phoney.

The incident has, however, caused a revival of interest in the famous cases in English law touching on the freedom and privileges of persons on English soil. The leading case in the textbooks is that of James Somerset, the Negro slave, who, like Klimowicz, was taken off a ship in the Thames in 1772 and set free. Lord Mansfield, in his judgment, is usually supposed to have coined the famous dictum. "As soon as a man puts foot on English ground, he is free." Dermot Morrah, however, sets this right in The Times. It was, he says, Somerset's lawyer who used the phrase, quoting the words used by Lord Chancellor Northington in a similar case ten years before, and Mr. Morrah goes on to say that the doctrine goes back as far as 1569 when a man sought to flog a slave he had brought from Russia. Somehow or other the slave got his case to court and was set free.

What Other Papers Say

SEAWAYS AND SOUVENIRS
Toronto Globe and Mail

Cornwall — which likes to call itself Canada's Seaway City — will see that dream come true only if the deep waterway finally constructed is all-Canadian. But it can be forgiven for attempting to squeeze every bit of publicity value from the slogan.

To that end, the city offered the 1,000 or more guests who attended the St. Lawrence sod-turning ceremonies recently a souvenir. A golden medallion on a key chain showing on one side the Roosevelt Bridge, which connects Canada and the United States. The reverse side emphasized that the bridge was at Cornwall, Ontario, Canada; and announced, "The Seaway City Welcomes You."

The use of the bridge also can be forgiven, in the name of international unity and friendship. And, anyway, the Mayor of Cornwall, Mr. Aaron Horovitz, is an officer of the company operating the structure. Mr. Lionel Chevrier — champion of the all-Canadian Seaway and president of Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway Authority — has also had an interest in the company.

But a curious visitor with good eyesight could find more on the medallion. In leters so small as to be almost illegible ,it was revealed that the souvenir was made in New York City. Before Cornwall becomes too excited about the all-Canadian Seaway, it should perhaps ponder a moment the value of the all-Canadian souvenir.

WAISTLINE WORRIES
Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph

The Los Angeles Times tells us that when a man passes 30 his chances of being able to see his belt buckle over the expanding equatorial slope of his waist decline rapidly. And the gentle hints put out by his wife that he ought to lose some weight are disregarded by the convenient deafness which these comments produce.

Now, however, the wives may with discretion point to the scientific study of workingmen in industrial plants made by Rutgers University scientists who found that 44 per cent of the 600 men studied were overweight. These men were not desk sitters but factory workers whose labor demanded considerable physical effort.

The scientists report that the main reason for obesity lay not in how much they were eating but in eating the wrong kind of food. Nearly one-third of the men were low in Vitamin C because they ate insufficient citrus fruits, salads, tomatoes and leafy green vegetables. About one-fourth were deficient in calcium — found in large amounts of milk.

The Times concludes that too many ate a coffee and sweet roll breakfast and a candy bar and soda pop lunch. This cut down their appetite for foods rich in vitamins and minerals and boosted their calorie intake as well.

REVERIE AT REVEILLE
Christian Science Monitor

You're in the Army now — or are you? Well, specifically, you're in the Air Force, and, more specifically, you're at Vance. At Vance Air Force Base in Oklahoma things are different.

The Air Force has a signed contract with a caterer to serve Vance's 5,000 men — who will now doubtless become known as the military services' "400". This removes one of the most generally disliked duties which soldiers have to perform — those of "kitchen police."

But more than this, it is part of a serious effort by the armed forces to avoid tying up fighting men on housekeeping duties which civilians can as well perform. This fact can't keep a man from dreaming, though, nor an old Army hand from cutting a sarcastic caper on the subject.

So military life can be beautiful! Since there's no ceiling on dreams, men who are waited on at table by civilians can surely learn to appreciate other of the finer things of life, like the smooth feel of a uniform pressed by one's valet .

Then, too, somebody could take a load off a man's mind by reading him his mail, keeping check on his appointments with the drill master, or writing letters to sundry distant relatives. Chauffeurs are handy for downtown driving. And some minor aide to air the poodle. . . . .

But we may be taking the ideas right out of the Air Force suggestion box. We'd better wait for the next announcements from the social secretary at Vance.

SOUNDS OF SUMMER
Saturday Night

A summer evening, says the New York Times, is, among other things, "the creaking of a rocking chair on a cool shady porch; splashing of trout in sun-spangled streams . . . Piping young voices at roadside lemonade stands. The tinkle of ice in tall, cooling drinks . . . Sibilant voices of wind in tall elms. The wheezing of the rusty well pump. The scratching of a hoe." It's a fairly comprehensive list, but oddly, the Times makes no mention of the melodious crunching of fenders on the nearest highway.

LET MR. RHEE DECIDE!
Ottawa Journal

Mr. Syngman Rhee of South Korea, stopping off at Honolulu on his way home from an official visit to the United States, had this to say in an interview:

"We want the Americans to go home (from South Korea). We can do our own fighting after we get the materials."

Let the Americans go home, that is, but leave their aircraft, their rifles and tanks and guns, their stores of supplies and ammunition, for the South Koreans to use as they see fit!

The impetuous president of South Korea, who resisted the armistice in Korea and who since then has urged that the conflict be renewed, would then have in his own hands the issue of peace or war in the Far East — and on his actions might depend the even more grave issue of a third world war.

We can all feel a bit safer while the Americans stay — and they have no intention of leaving.

Urges Elementary School Teachers To Get Degrees

Vancouver—(CP)—In many Canadian cities, elementary school teachers get the same salaries as high school teachers provided they have equal qualifications.

"Every teacher's work is of equal importance," says Dr. Muriel R. Conway of Winnipeg, a delegate to the recent conference here of the Canadian Teachers' Federation.

"We are interested in improving the educational standards of both teachers and pupils," she said, "and we urge more elementary teachers to take degrees."

Her own city of Winnipeg, she noted, is one of those where elementary and high school salaries are the same if the teachers hold similar qualifications.

SAVED BY NIECE

Essex, Md.—(AP)—John Papin, who's 36 and can't swim, is still around because he has a niece who's 13 and can. Joan Stanowski, the niece, rescued Lapin from Middle river Tuesday when he waded out too far. Joan heard his cries for help and brought him ashore before police and a fire department ambulance arrived.

Patterson, N.J. —(AP)— Clarence (Red) Mosley, the United States Air Force's first quadruple amputee of the Korean war, will be married next month. Mosley, 23, revealed Tuesday his plans to wed 22-year-old Ruth Shaw Sept. 25. He and Miss Shaw met at a party eight months ago, about a year after he was discharged from army hospital.

Britons Keen On Educational Studies At Night

London— (AP) —Some 3,500,000 adults will crowd into British schools this fall for extra education.

They are part-time students—grocers, laborers, stenographers and housewives by day, pupils at night. They all share a desire to learn but for a variety of reasons.

About 45 per cent, say the authorities, wish to gain advanced standing in their trades or professions; the remainder want to pick up extra talents or just enjoy learning.

And for these spare-time students, some 190 local education authorities throughout the United Kingdom provide classes in everything from Arabic to Afrikaans, piano tuning to puppetry, saw doctoring to shirt cutting.

In London, where 155,000 are night scholars, adult education has been thriving since 1884. From the small beginnings of the metropolis evening classes for young men, founded by a group of social reformers, it has expanded to a large-scale, co-educational scheme, run by the London County Council.

For the 1954-55 season, which begins Sept. 27 and ends early next July, the LCC has provided more than 500 different subjects and it proudly claims:

"We undertake to provide a class in any subject, with the sole exception of crime, if 15 people will attend it."

"Floodlight," the annual guide to London's evening institutions, shows this is no idle boast. Even the exception comes close to being abandoned now that the Regent street Polytechnic has a course in criminology.

But evening classes are not solely centres of instruction. The social side is also developed. Housewives attending sewing circles bring their children along and gossip over their work.

The students get good educational value for their moderate fees. Lecturers and instructors are hand-picked by the LCC. Principals of the different institutes choose their own staff from an approved list.

Fees range from 10 shillings for a single set of lectures to 45 shillings for a degree course or professional equivalent. Students under 18 usually pay half price. Instructors get three to four guineas a lesson in the less qualified subjects and up to 10 guineas where exceptional qualifications are necessary.

Jacoby On Bridge

STUDY THIS TIP: IMPROVE YOUR GAME

A response of one no-trump to your partner's opening bid usually shows a count of about 6 or 7 points. When an opponent makes an intervening bid, there is no need for you to bid with so poor a hand. If you do bid, therefore, you show a good hand rather than a poor one.

In today's hand, South's free response of one no-trump showed at least one stopper in spades no-trump distribution, and a count of about 10 to 12 points. With 13 points or more South probably would have jumped to two no-trump.

Since North held 15 points and a good suit he could see that the combined count was probably enough for game. He therefore raised to two no-trump, after which South promptly went on to the game.

The game contract would have been easy if South had possessed two stoppers in spades, as he thought he did. Correct defense held him to one spade trick and defeated his contract.

West opened the deuce of spades, not the queen. East put up the ace of spades and returned the suit, and South could make only one spade trick .

When the hand was actually played, South finessed the jack of spades at the second trick, and West won with the queen. West returned a spade, clearing the suit. South could not make his game contract without setting up the clubs, and East was able to gain the lead with the ace of clubs in order to cash the rest of the spades.

If West had opened the queen of spades (the lead that many beginners would mistakenly consider proper), declarer would have made his contract. This lead would give South two spade tricks, and he would then be able to run nine tricks with four hearts, and three diamonds to add to the spades.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 Spade	Pass	3 Spades	Pass

You South, hold: Spades K-Q-6-3, Hearts A-J-9-4, Diamonds K-4, Clubs Q-6-3. What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. Your opening bid is perfectly sound, to be sure, but it is in the minimum range, so you cannot make a slam try. A rebid in no-trump gives an accurate picture of your hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South hold: Spades Q-J-9-6-3, Hearts A-8-4, Diamonds 7-2, Clubs A-K-3. What do you do?

ALL ABOARD — The size of the crowd waiting for the new C.P.R. cars on their arrival in Sherbrooke this morning can be judged by the above more-enthusiastic section which gathered at the door in hopes of being the "first" to board the equipment. Young Jacques Bourassa, on crutches, is determined to be among the earliest birds. (Record Photo by Gerry Lemay)

GEE! WHAT A TRAIN! — Ten-year-old Jacques Bourassa's eyes glisten as he views the two shining new C.P.R. passenger cars on their arrival at the Sherbrooke station this morning. Young Jacques, a cripple, came on his crutches from his home on St. Thomas street, and regards his sight of the wonder cars as a fitting climax to the summer he spent at the Crippled Children's Camp at Ayer's Cliff. Two New Fina Service Stations Ready For Opening

Depot Street Station Under Joint Management Opens Officially Friday

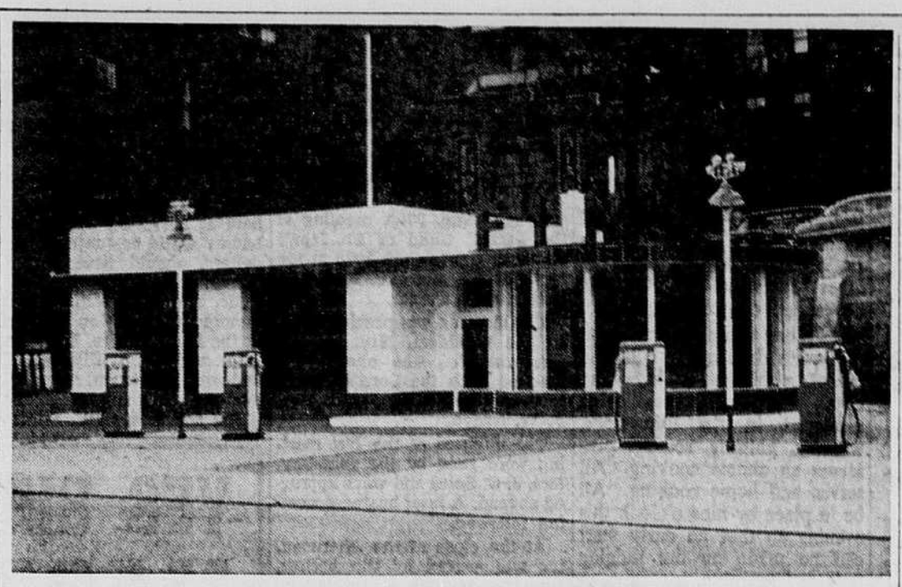

Although products and service have been available to the public for some time, finishing touches are now being made to the new Fina Service Stations in this city in preparation for an early opening. These stations located at the corner of Denault and St. Joseph streets, and on Depot street in the heart of the downtown district, are latest additions to the many new stations being opened by Canadian Petrofina Limited, affiliate of the world famous group of Petrofina oil companies.

The new station on Denault street will officially open this Friday, under the joint lessee-dealership of Aime Morin and Bill Lavertier. The other station is schedule to open some time early next week.

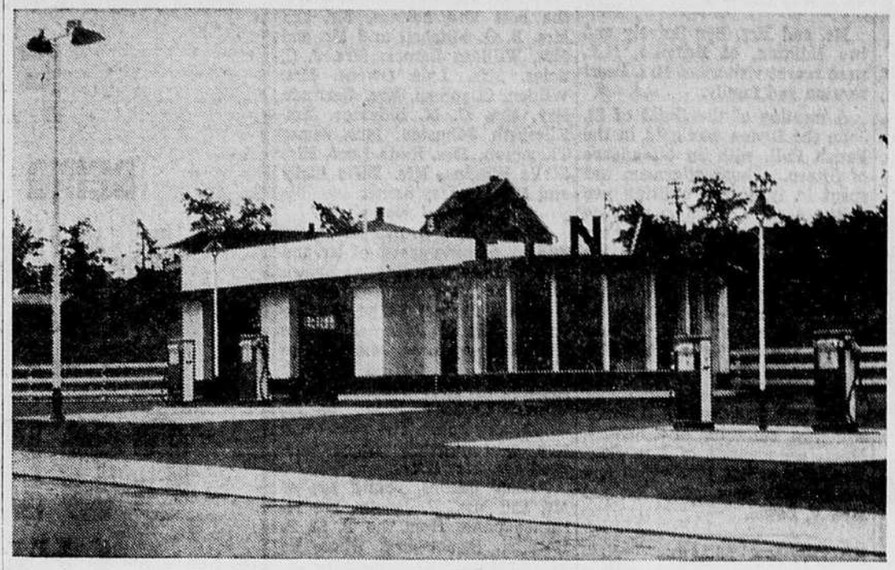

This new Canadian Petrofina Company, with headquarters in Montreal, came into being last year. Since that time, Canadian Petrofina Limited has established itself as an increasingly important factor in the Canadian petroleum industry. Its Fina products have been made available at scores of retail outlets in Eastern Canada.

The decision to market Fina petroleum products in Canada was made after a careful study indicated that Canada's increasing population and motor vehicle registrations would result in a growing demand for refined petroleum products of a high standard. To meet this demand, a new refinery capable of processing 700,000 gallons of crude oil per day will soon be put into operation by the company in Pointe-aux-Trembles on the Island of Montreal.

The new service stations in Sherbrooke, like the company's other new stations will be identified by the Fina trade name.

Two-Day Marbleton Fair Officially Opens Tomorrow

Heavy Entries Reported In Women's Department And Livestock Classes

"There is always more fun at the Marbleton Fair."

For years his has been the saying throughout the Eastern Townships, especially among fair-goers who appreciate the friendship and informality of the smaller fair to the sometimes oppressive activities of the larger institutions.

And this year, the directors of the Wolfe County Agricultural Society, operators of the Marbleton Fair have done everything in their power to see that the show which opens tomorrow and continues through Sunday lives up to its traditions.

With this end in view, a midway, with its thrilling rides and other feature attractions has been engaged for the two days of the fair, while a high-class vaudeville show, featuring Canadian and American acts, will be presented before the grandstand on Sunday evening.

Then, of course, there will be the horse-racing, with two feature races of two heats each being presented on Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2.30.

The horses entered in the various events and their owners are as follows:

SATURDAY

First and third race: Brooke Evans, Dominion Lime Ltd., Lime Ridge; Judy Grattan, A. Gravel, Bishopton; Last Chance, R. Dupont, Coaticook and Bobby Taylor, B. Blanchette, Chartierville.

Second and fourth race: Hollywood, R. Dupont, Coaticook; Jack Toddler, Bill Lancaster, Bishopton; Henry Brooke, A. Gravel, Bishopton and Laura St. Charles, O. Beaudoin, Sherbrooke.

SUNDAY

First and third race: Brooke Evans, Dominion Lime Ltd., Lime Ridge; Honey Brook, A. Gravel, Bishopton; Bobby Taylor, B. Blanchette, Chartierville; Jack Toddler, Bill Lancaster, Bishopton, and Hollywood, R. Dupont, Coaticook.

But the Marbleton Fair is also an agricultural show and this year, Miss Berthe Thibodeau, the secretary-treasurer, reports that the cattle exhibits this year will be far above the average. The judging in the cattle classes, as well as in all other sections of the Fair will be carried out on Saturday.

Advance entries indicate that the ladies department will also be of a higher quality than usual, with keen interest being displayed in the fancywork, weaving, knitting sewing, preserves an dhome cooking. All serves and home cooking. All be in place by nine o'clock this evening so that an early start can be made on the judging Saturday morning.

Annual Compton County Fair Opens At Cookshire Sunday

High Class Variety Entertainment Offered On Grandstand At Cookshire

Continuing their tour of the Eastern Townships Fairs, the Associated Entertainment Enterprises of Toronto will provide the gala entertainment at the Cookshire annual Fair. Judging from the favorable reports given of the entertainment provided by this group at the Richmond and Ayer's Cliff Fairs, Cookshire Fair patrons show will see something far above the average this year.

For instance, among the all-Canadian numbers to be presented will be Ernie Bruce, one of Canada's best known entertainers in the musical and comedy fields .

Ernie is a talented musician having mastered the principles of many instruments and used this talent to produce hilarious comedy with the bagpipes, chimes, bells, etc. and is top attraction with all — kiddies especially, for he is also known as Erno the Clown. This very versatile gentleman has worked with al the big circuses, including Barnum and Bailey and Ringling Brothers.

The Nicklings will also be in the show, giving their exhibition on trampoline and bar. Expert tumblers and acrobats, these boys hail from Hamilton, Ont., and have perfected an excellent comedy routine with lots of laughs, by their clever bounding jumping and falling.

A youthful unicyclist and juggler, who started show business in Windsor, Ont., where he worked out at a Y.M.C.A. is young Jimmy Dash, who will also be at Cookshire for the three day duration. This performer made himself a small unicycle and had fun as a young boy riding around the streets. An enterpriisng theatrical agent saw him and persuaded him to make up an act for professoinal use. Johnny practised juggling and he has become one of the youngest professionals in that art. His clever act his youth and charming personality have a wide appeal for all who see him.

One of the most popular and versatile young performers in Canada show business today is Billy Meek. Hilarious comedy songs, clever instrumental novelties, show stopping tap routines and loads of sidesplitting stories and humorous situations — jam - packed with pep, fun and variety. Billy came to Canada from Scotland several years ago, after performing in Europe with George Formby and the late Sir Harry Lauder. After his arrival in Canada Billy was immediately acclaimed and recently appeared at the Casino Theatre in Toronto, with the famed Mills Brothers, Peggy Lee and Margaret Whiting. No doubt about it, Billy is a top attraction for the Cookshire '54 grandstand show.

For feminine appeal in this year's show, the Eastern Township's Fair Board to two lovely ladies. The first of these, Mary May Demers, is a Canadian acrobatic artist. Born in Windsor, Ont., of French parentage, this lovely girl, although not yet 21, has been appearing professoinally for 16 years in both the United States and Canada. Winner of several medals and cups of her acrobatic agility, Mary May has combined this talent with flawless form on a table where she performs absolutely amazing feats. Recently featured on CBL television, this charming artist has headlined Ontario's finest convention floor shows and was a huge success at the Crippled Children's Easter show at Maple Leafs Gardens in Toronto. A sensational performer with the most unusual act of its kind in Canada today, Mary May was recently invited to compete in the North American Championship held this winter in Indianapolis.

Mistress of Ceremonies for the 1954 show is charming Louise Lindon, who recently completed a coast-to-coast tour for the R.K.O. and Walt Disney Studios. She uses her beautiful soprano voice to full advantage, from popular ballads to the better known operatic arias.

Mistress of several languages, Louise has a brilliant and exciting repertoire which, combined with the beauty of her appearance, makes one of her shows, where she introduces her fellow artists in both languages, an experience that will long be remembered. Louise Lindon has appeared in every city in Canada, United States and the South American countries on stage, radio and television and the Eastern Townships Board are proud to present this talented artist on the stage at Cookshire.

Musical director of this show will be Jack Ayre, an outstanding show pianist in the business today. Jack was the musical director of the original Dumbells Show which toured the world after the First War and he again headed the Lifebuoy Follies during the Second War. Jack's services as a pianist and director are much in demand and the Eastern Townships are very fortunate in having this talented gentleman in their show.

All this is in store for the fair - goers at the Ayer's Cliff Fair. It is through the work of the producers of the 1954 Eastern Townships Stage Shows, Associated Entertainment Enterprises of Toronto that it is possible. And it is something that everyone will not want to miss.

Luthern Posts 16th Win By Downing Canadiens 4-2

Meet Quebec In Crucial Series; Here Sunday In Double At 7:00; Jack "Major" Bowes Arrives Today

John Luthern, Sherbrooke Indians' lanky right handed hurler, who seems to relish hard work, posted his 16th victory against five setbacks last night when he held the heavy-hitting Canadiens of St. Johns to seven scattered hits to cop the decision 4-2 before 988 fans.

The win enabled the Wylie staff to hold their advantage over the Quebec Braves, who walloped the Phillies of Three Rivers 15-4. The other scheduled tilt between Thetford and Drummondville was rained out.

This week-end the Indians and Braves meet in an important series with first place in the circuit at stake. They travel to Quebec for a single game tonight and tomorrow they have two fixtures on the agenda. The first game will be played in the afternoon at 2.00 and will be broadcast over CHLT, sponsored by Ivan Dugre, local representative of Dow Brewery, while in the evening they meet again at 8.00.

Following their three-game series in the Capital City they will return to Sherbrooke for a double header Sunday evening at 7.00. In the exhibition softball game between the girls squad from the National Thread and members of the City Police the latter put the squeeze on for a close 10-7 verdict over the Threaders.

JACK "MAJOR" BOWES RETURNS

"The Major" well known to local baseball fans from his top work with Pinky May's squad last season returns to the scene of his former haunts. Bowes arrives in the right time as the local hurling staff is in bad shape. Gary Kolod is out for ten days on the inactive list with a sore arm while Mery Beatty is sidelined with a bad blister on his pitching hand leaving only Locke, Luthern, Miller and Farrell available for duty. Manager Wylie has been looking after the relief jobs so Bowes' return will be welcomed by all. He should be in town today.

Bob Stephens and Bill Williams led the hitting parade last night with two each while Bill Williamson accounted for the other. The locals did all their scoring in the second and eight getting two runs in each frame.

Koski a new addition to the Canadiens' hurling staff, gave up only three hits before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth. The other two came off of Aube, who worked the last inning. The visitors came through with a run in the third when they collected two walks and a safety. In the eighth they tied the count with two singles back-to-back and a sacrifce fly which completed their scoring.

Williamson singled in the second moved to second when Fishback went out at first and slid into third on William's infield hit members while the local centre fielder beat out the throw. Manager Wylie gave the sign for a double steal and both runners moved ahead. Williams raced home when Pedigree drove out to second.

Aube's wildness helped the locals to break the 2-2 deadlock in the eighth. He issued two walks and this coupled with a error and a passed ball allowed Stephens and Williamson to cross the plate and sew up the decision.

Lyle Crawford Last Canadian Left In Amateur Golf Race; Joe Leblanc Falls Before Bill Campbell 6-5

London, Ont.—(CP)—Lyle Crawford, 21-year-old Vancouver golfer who took up the game on a bet, carries with him today Canada's sole chance of bringing home the Canadian amateur golf championship.

At the start of the week-long tournament Monday you could have written your own ticket on this lank outsider, a part-time commercial fisherman. Now, any bold enough to have backed Crawford are hanking grimly to their outlandish-odds stubs.

Although he enters the semi-finals today against redoubtable Harvie Ward, Jr., of San Francisco, Crawford showed distinctly in Thursday's fifth and sixth rounds that he was no push-over.

If he gets by in the upper half of the semi-final bracket he will meet Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., or Harry Haverstick, Jr., of Lancaster, Pa., neither of whom can be ruled out as successors to the title won last year by Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Texas.

Upsets Manley

In Thursday's two rounds, Crawford ran into Hobart Manley, Jr., of Savannah, Ga. It was the big upset of the fifth round when Crawford bypassed Manley 3 and 2.

That brought the Vancouver boy into the sixth round in the afternoon against Moe Norman, Kitchener's pride and joy—and two of Canada's rising young golfers had to set about cutting each other's throats.

It was a dilly. Moe just missed a 15-foot putt at the 18th that would have given him the match. The struggle went on to the 23rd hole where Crawford sank a 40-inch putt. Moe missed his three-footer and the match was over.

Norman gobbled up John Kraft of Denver 6 and 5 in the morning round.

Riley Stubborn

Harvie Ward caught himself a Tartar in the morning round against 17-year-old Kevin Riley of Vancouver, British Columbia junior champion. The hole-swapping went on and on and they came to the 18th all square. Ward took it with a par four. Riley, a little long with his second shot, needed a five.

In the afternoon the 1952 British amateur champion downed Jerry Magee, 20-year-old Toronto golfer, 2 and 1.

Bill Campbell, finalist this year in the British amateur marched to a 4 and 3 win the morning over Don Varey of Brantford, Ont.

In the afternoon he took Joe Leblanc of Montreal who had knocked off champion Cherry the day before, 6 and 5.

Big Threat

Harry Haverstick, the Lancaster car dealer who is beginning to look like one of the big threats, had to go to the 19th in the morning to eliminae Billy Goodloe of Valdosta, Ga.

Haverstick's afternoon victim was Charlie Kocsis of Detroit.

Kocsis' morning round victim was Ron Willey, junior from Edmonton, who found himself three down at the turn and could never catch up.

Ansonia, Conn.—Calvin Davis, 150, New York outpointed Barry Allison, 144, Westover Field, Mass., 8.

Hoad - Rosewall Win In Quarter Finals Of Doubles

Brookline, Mass. — (AP) — Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, Australia's 19-year-old Davis Cup aces, Thursday scored an impressive 7-5, 6-0, 6-4 quarter-final victory over Gardnar Mulloy and Art Larsen in the U.S. doubles tennis tournament.

Hoad and Rosewall's 17-year-old countrymen, Ashley Cooper and Roy Emerson, however, fell before the more experienced No. 2 American team of Bill Talbert and Ham Richardson, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

History Of 1951 Pennant Race Shows Milwaukee That Miracles Are Still Possible; Indians Split With Tigers

The "history of the 1951 pennant race" became required reading for the Milwaukee Braves today.

Written into the annals of the National League by the New York Giants, this remarkable record provides convincing and recent proof that baseball miracles are possible.

Although firmly believing they are the new team of destiny, the Braves could use a little solid encouragement. They lost two out of three games to St. Louis, including a 2-1, 10-inning thriller Thursday, and now trail New York by 5½ lengths.

Even now, however, they are much better off than the Giants were at this stage three seasons ago Milwaukee still could do it all alone, without depending on a collapse by either the Giants or Brooklyn.

Could Work Out

It could work this way. The Braves have five games left with the Giants. They've lost five more than the Giants. A sweep of the five would cancel out the New York lead. The Braves and Brooklyn play six more times and the Braves lost only two more than the Dodgers.

The Giants, apparently back in good health Thursday after a critical slump, won their third in a row, 5-0 over Philadelphia. Brooklyn again had to hustle for a 7-5 verdict over the scrappy Pittsburgh Pirates. Cincinnati took two from Chicago, 7-0 and 6-3.

The American League race saw some changes for the first time in 10 days as Detroit ended Cleveland's winning streak at nine games and New York and Chicago both won.

Detroit and Cleveland split a twin bill. The Indians won the first game 4-3 but lost the nightcap 8-2. The Yankees whipped Philadelphia 8-5 for their 10th straight and Chicago edged Baltimore 4-3.

Cleveland now leads New York by 2½ and Chicago by 8½.

Boston jumped ahead of Washington in their private battle for fifth place with an 11-6 triumph. Ted Williams broke his string of 17 hitless times at bat with a single and a double. He also walked four times.

Tames Phillies

Ruben Gomez tamed the Phillies on seven hits and received home run support from Davey Williams, Ray Katt and Bobby Hofman. Gomez has pitched only eight complete games but this was his fourth shutout.

The last-place Pirates refused to fold, even when Brooklyn ran up a 7-0 lead in the first three innings on Gil Hodges' 32nd homer and a bases-loaded triple by Walt Moryn. Pittsburgh made it close on home runs by Jerry Lynch, Preston Ward and Frank Thomas.

The Braves drew 48,057 to an afternoon Ladies' Day contest with the Cardinals, the largest crowd ever squeezed into County Stadium. The local darlings tried their best to give the throng something to cheer about, coming from behind with two out in the ninth to tie the score at 1-1. But a triple by Wally Moon and a long fly by Solly Hemus brought victory to the Cardinals in the 10th.

Feller Wins

Bobby Feller won the 260th game of his brilliant career in the opener against Detroit with home-run support from Vic Wertz and Dave Pope. The Tigers fell upon three Indian hurlers for 14 hits in the second game, including a three-run homer by Bob Nieman.

Baltimore ended Jack Harshman's string of scoreless innings at 34 by scoring three runs in the fifth but the White Sox held on for their one-run triumph, getting the winning tally in a two-run uprising in the eighth. Nellie Fox, who had a perfect day at bat with four hits, drove in the deciding run.

The Yankees got a late inning scare from the usually docile Athletics who knocked out Eddie Lopat with five straight hits in the eighth. But after scoring five runs the A's were checked by Johnny Sain. Philadelphia put two men on in the ninth with two out before Sain finished off by getting Elmer Valo on an infield grounder.

Field Narrows For Open Titles In Canadian Junior Tennis Titles; Guy Durocher Loses To Dubie

Ottawa — (CP) — Two Montreal girls, one a hard-hitting blonde and the other a wily brunette, meet today to decide the junior women's open singles championship at the Canadian junior tennis tournament.

Most of the remaining titles will be determined as the six-year-old annual meet swings into its eighth day at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club. There are only 23 matches to be played.

Mariette Laframboise, the blonde daughter of a Montreal policeman meets Eleanor Dodge in the women's final. The men's singles is to be whittled down to the final stage, but the play-off is being held over to Saturday.

Will Decide Title

Ray Senkowski of Hamtramck, Mich., and John Adler of Scarsdale, N.Y., decide the first title. The winner of their best-of-three sets match will be the Canadian juvenile boys' singles champion.

Another Hamtramck player, Virginia Hesse, tackles the winner of a match between Ann Barclay of Vancouver and Georgette Delacatraz of Cornwall in the girls' singles final.

Durocher Eliminated

The other men's semi-final brings together John McLean of Buffalo, a runner-up in the same title race last year, and David Freishtat of Baltimore, who beat out Gerald Dubie of Hamtramck Thursday 6-3, 7-5.

Dubie had just finished eliminating Guy Durocher, winner of the junior men's closed championship, 6-4, 6-2 when Freishtat put him out of the running.

Dubie is still in the boys' singles. He meets Don Rubell of Brooklyn, N.Y., in the semi-finals of that event today. John Bassett of Toronto and Bruce Brian of Baltimore tangle in the other half.

Miss Laframboise eliminated Ingerburg Webber of Kitchener, Ont. to move into the final of the junior women's. The score was 6-3, 6-1. Miss Dodge ousted Miss Barclay 6-1, 6-3.

Virginia Hesse and Darnellar Everson of Hamtramck reached the finals of the girls' doubles with a 6-1, 6-1 win over Pam Dewis of Halifax and Pat Stanfield of Truro, N.S.

THURSDAY'S STARS

Batting

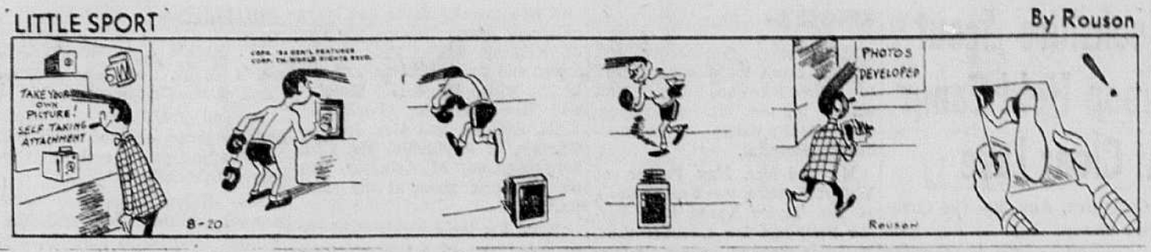

Nellie Fox, Chicago White Six, hit a double and three singles in four times at bat and drove in the winning run in Chicago's 4-3 victory over Baltimore.

Pitching

Ruben Gomze, New York Giants, pitched his fourth shutout of the season, a seven-hitter, as New York beat Philadeluphia 5-0.

Saginaw, Mich.—Allie Gronik, 153, Lincoln Park, Mich., outpointed Duke Harris, 147, Hamtramck, Mich., 10.

Slamming Sam Snead And Fred Daly Post 63s To Tie Course Record In Practice Rounds For Canada Cup

Montreal—(CP)—Slamming Sammy Snead, hurrying his shots so he could go fishing, and Fred Daly of Ireland fired unofficial course records 63s Thursday in practice rounds for the Canada Cup golf matches.

Neither player saw the wrong side of par as they racked up nine birdies apiece over the par-72 Laval-sur-le-Lac course. Snead ran up four birdies in a row touring the first nine in 31—five under par.

Daly missed a chance to push the record even lower when his eagle putt stopped two inches short of the hole on the 18th. He also missed by inches on birdie putts on the 16th and 17th.

Snead played his round early. Immediately after the 18th hole the American set out with partner Jimmy Demaret to find a fishing spot.

For Daly, the 63 was his eighth sub-par round on district courses since arriving here last week.

Snead used an English-made ball smaller than the standard American model, for his blistering round. Better putting could have pushed his 31 on the front nine even lower. He used up 16 fairway shots and 15 putts before reaching the turn, missing two from under 10 feet.

The scores could not be recognized as a new course record since they were posted in informal competition and the players didn't bother to hole out short putts. The course record of 65 is held by host pro Jules Huot, a member of the Canadian team.

A surprise 64 was turned in by Michio Ishii, 132-pound member of the Japanese team. Other players also fattened up on the 6,589-yard course.

Bobby Locke of South Africa turned in the best nine-hole score of the day—a 30 on the back nine. Coupled with a 35 on the front nine, it gave him a 65 for the day. Luis Halas of Chile went around in 66.

Huot played steady sub-par golf in chalking up a 33-33—66. His Canadian partner, Stan Leonard of Vancouver, shot a 71.

The defending champion team of Roberto de Vicenzo and Tony Cerda of Argentina also played a leisurely round and didn't bother to keep score. Cerda was moaning, however, about several short putts he missed on the first nine.

Mario Gonzales of Brazil shot a 31 on the front nine. He didn't bother completing the round.

Actual competition begins today with the 50 players from 25 countries teeing off in 11 foursomes and two threesomes.

Medal scores of each player on the two-man teams are totalled over the 72 holes to determine the winner. One round will be played today and Saturday and two on Sunday.

Each player is given a $500 honorarium for competing in the meet and has his expenses paid. In addition bonus money is given for birdies and eagles.

Bedard To Play Mexican Champ In Davis Cup Singles

Mexico City— (AP) —Canadian champion Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver, and Mexico's top-rated Mario Llamas meet in today's singles which open the semi-final matches of the North American Davis Cup zone tournament.

The matches continue Saturday with doubles and end Sunday morning. Saturday's players will be chosen after the opening singles. Sunday, Palafox meets Main and Llamas plays Bedard.

Mexico and Canada have met in Davis Cup zone matches four times previously, each winning two. Canada took the last two matches.

Bobo Olson 4-1 Favorite To Retain Middleweight Crown In Title Fight Tonight Against Rocky Castellani

The odds are 4-1 the champs will retain his crown.

TODAY'S HURLERS

New York — (AP) —Probable pitchers for today's major league games won-lost record in parentheses:

National League

Philadelphia at Brooklyn night —Roberts 18-10 vs Loes 8-3.

Pittsburgh at New York night —Littlefield 8-6 vs Liddle 5-3.

Milwaukee at Chicago —Conley 12-5 vs Rush 7-14.

Cincinnati at St. Louis night —Nuxhall 6-3 vs Bears 0-2.

New York at Boston night—Grim 16-4 vs Nixon 8-10.

Washington at Philadelphia night—Kerlazakos 1-1 or Porterfield 11-11 vs Bishop 1-5.

The pattern in the battle will follow appears pretty well established. Olson, 26, drives in all the time. He is a devastating body puncher. The Honolulu-born ringman, now a San Francisco resident, is expected to stalk Castellani from bell to bell.

Castellani, 27, a native of Luzerne, Pa., but now the pride of his adopted city, Cleveland, O., has a darting left jab. He moves in and out and from side to side, with exceptional speed.

This will be Castellani's first title crack and his first trip over the fifteen round route. In 62 contests, Rocky has won 56; lost 5 and drew once. Olson's record is 57 wins and five defeats.

Since he became king of the 160-pounders by beating England's Randy Turpin last October, Olson has fought four times, all this year. His first title defence was a successful one against the ambitious welter champ, Kid Gavilan. Three other opponents went the knockout way in non-title scraps.

Display And Program Mark Closing Of North Hatley Church Vacation School

North Hatley, Aug. 20. — The Church Vacation School, which for two weeks was conducted in the Sunday School hall of the North Hatley Baptist Church, held its closing program on Sunday evening, at the time of the regular worship service.

The welcome of the teachers and scholars to the large assembly of parents and friends, was extended by the superintendent of the Sunday School, who explained briefly the work which had been done with the children. The schedule followed daily was regular periods of worship, study, play and refreshment, and hand work.

The program of the evening was opened with the repetition of the "Children's Creed", led by Janet Allen, of the Primary class. The entire school was led by Miss Florence Parker in singing several of its favorite choruses.

The nursery class, a group of pre-school age children, delighted the congregation with three of their songs. The primary class, age group seven to eleven, had two choruses and in addition, repeated verses they had learned, and a drill, dressing a Christian soldier. The scripture for this drill was read by Joyce Cranston from the Intermediate class, who at the last minute filled in for absent Beverly Benton.

The intermediate class made up a choir, which also sang a couple of choruses, and a lovely hymn, "That Beautiful Name". They repeated the 100th Psalm, and the lesson story was read by Nancy Carroll. Carole Neilson gave the offertory prayer, and two boys from the primary class, Carl Burnell and Jamie McCrea, served as ushers.

The minister, Rev. F. C. Amery, thanked the teachers, Mrs. David Dodge, Mrs. Vernon Packard, Mrs. Glen Bennett, and Miss Florence Parker, and congratulated the scholars on the fine work they had accomplished. He also thanked the interested friends and parents who had assisted with gifts of money and food for the children's lunch periods. The benediction was led by a member of the Intermediate class, Alan Sharman.

At the close of the service, the congregation went to the Sunday School Hall to see the hand work which was on display. Forty-six names were on the roll-call, and of that number, twenty-one will receive certificates for perfect attendance.

A BONUS OF POWER!

with Marvelube and Esso GASOLINES

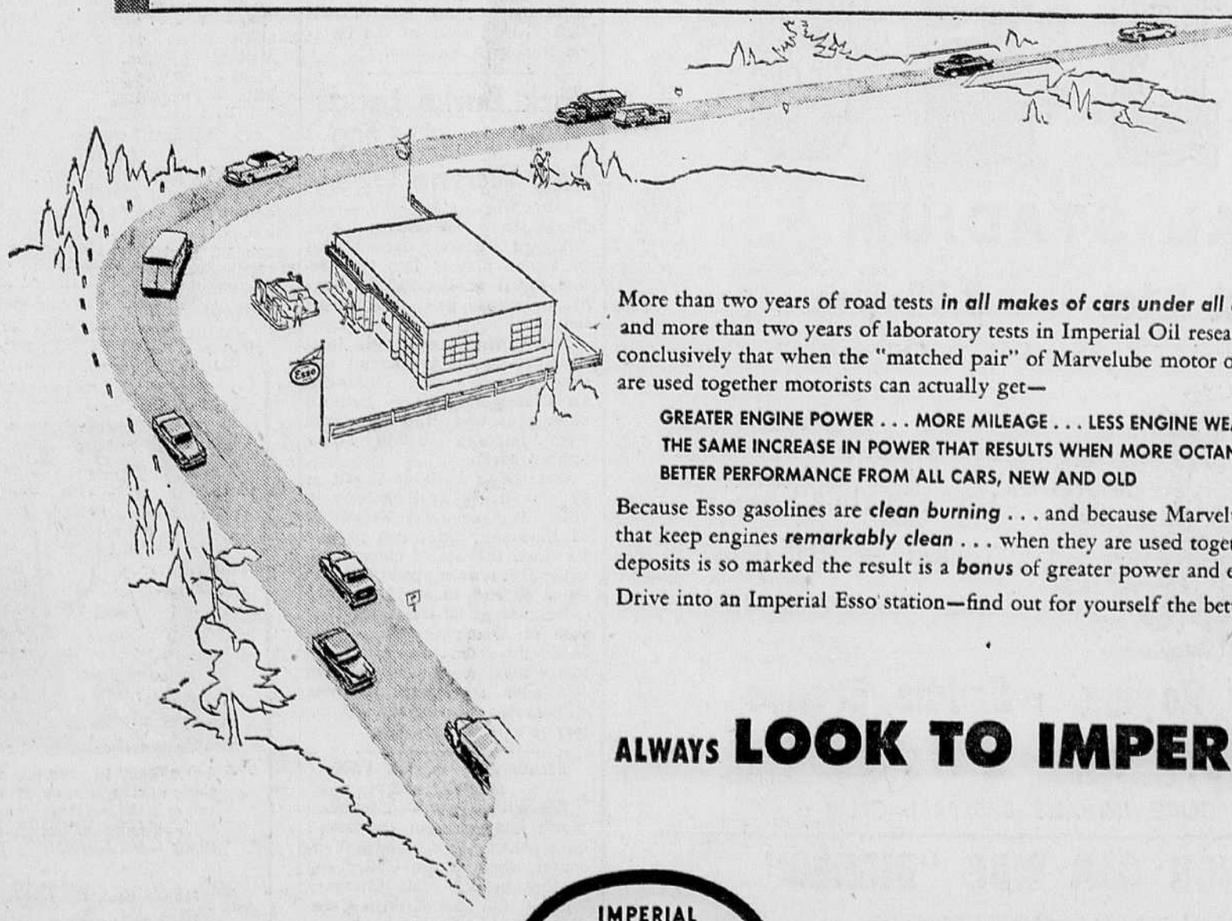

used in combination

THE POWER BONUS

The leading gasoline and motor oil combinations in Canada, because of their chemical composition and use of additives, fall into three types—A, B, and C. Controlled tests prove that motorists who use type A have a bonus of power over users of Types B and C.

TYPE A [redacted]
TYPE B [redacted]
TYPE C [redacted]

MARVELUBE MOTOR OIL AND ESSO GASOLINES HAVE LONG BEEN THE LEADERS IN TYPE A COMBINATION . . . GIVING MOTORISTS A BONUS OF GREATER ENGINE POWER . . . MORE MILEAGE . . . BETTER PERFORMANCE.

More than two years of road tests in all makes of cars under all driving conditions . . . and more than two years of laboratory tests in Imperial Oil research laboratories prove conclusively that when the "matched pair" of Marvelube motor oil and Esso gasolines are used together motorists can actually get—

GREATER ENGINE POWER . . . MORE MILEAGE . . . LESS ENGINE WEAR
THE SAME INCREASE IN POWER THAT RESULTS WHEN MORE OCTANES ARE ADDED TO THE GASOLINE
BETTER PERFORMANCE FROM ALL CARS, NEW AND OLD

Because Esso gasolines are clean burning . . . and because Marvelube has special properties that keep engines remarkably clean . . . when they are used together, the reduction in engine deposits is so marked the result is a bonus of greater power and engine efficiency.

Drive into an Imperial Esso station—find out for yourself the better performance you can get.
