Trade Picking Up — Dief; Pearson Raps 'Crusades'

By ALAN DONNELLY
HALIFAX (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker says Canada's trade and employment picture is brightening under his Progressive Conservative government. He emphasized that theme in two speeches Monday night, one over a national television network and the other to a capacity audience of nearly 2,200 in a downtown theatre.

He said the Liberal "doctrine of gloom and doom" is that Canada's export trade is declining. "Why don't they tell the Canadian people that Canada's export trade last year was the largest in history?"

In the first two months of this year the trade deficit—excess of imports over exports—had been cut by $100,000,000. Mr. Diefenbaker gave no details. The two-month trade deficit a year ago was $140,200,000.

SAYS TRADE BOOSTED
"We have increased our export trade in the face of great international difficulties and of a business recession in the United States, where there are over 5,000,000 unemployed."

He said Canadian unemployment "arose directly as a result of the tight-money policy of the last government, carried on too long."

"We're over the peak of unemployment as a result of our policies and I can see light ahead—employment reasonable and complete in the next few months."

And he reiterated the statement he has made in almost every election speech:

"As long as I am prime minister of this country, deficit or no deficit no man or woman is going to be allowed to suffer as a result of unemployment."

STATES PC ACTION
The government had cut taxes and increased social security payments to stimulate the economy, extended by eight weeks the payment period for special winter unemployment insurance benefits, and had launched "the greatest public works program this country has ever seen."

Mr. Diefenbaker travels today by chartered plane to Yarmouth, N.S., and Moncton, N.B., to wind up a final two-day bid for Maritime voters' support in next Monday's election.

His travels Monday also spanned two provinces. He flew here from Fredericton where he shook some 350 hands at a noon-hour reception and spoke briefly to an audience of 600.

Mrs. Diefenbaker Has Back Treated

HALIFAX (CP)—Mrs. John Diefenbaker received medical treatment Monday for sharp muscular pains in her back but kept an appointment as guest of honor at a public reception here.

A member of the prime minister's staff said Mrs. Diefenbaker has been advised to use crutches for a couple of days to help ease the discomfort. He said the pain apparently has no connection with a slipped disc she suffered some time ago.

Cypriots Demonstrate For Greece

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Thousands of Greek Cypriots thronged streets throughout Cyprus this morning in the most impressive celebration of the Greek independence anniversary ever seen on this British Mediterranean island.

The streets were crisscrossed with string carrying countless small paper Greek flags, and some Greek newspapers are even printed in white and blue—the Greek national colors.

Greek Cypriots appeared determined to carry out instructions contained in leaflets from the political committee of EOKA circulated Monday, calling for celebration of the anniversary of Greek independence in the grandest possible way.

The day was observed as a public holiday, and in Nicosia a crowd of more than 10,000 gathered around Phaneromeni church for a thanksgiving service and to listen to Bishop Anthimos of Kition, acting ethnarch during the continuing exile of Archbishop Makarios.

Later today mammoth processions were scheduled through the streets.

Towns were declared out of bounds to British troops to avoid possible incidents.

Coldwell Charges Deception

TORONTO (CP)—CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell returned to active campaigning Monday night with charges of deception and betrayal against the Progressive Conservative government.

An estimated 2,500 persons packed Massey Hall nearly to capacity for the last major CCF rally in this area before the March 31 federal election.

They cheered the 69-year-old former school teacher when he said:

"My chest is cleared up. My heart is in good shape."

For Mr. Coldwell, it was his first platform appearance since he returned to Ottawa from West-Canada March 14 for a rest. He suffered a heart attack last year and earlier in this year's campaign was forced to cancel engagements due to a chest ailment.

SPEAKS FOR HOUR
He spoke forcefully for more than an hour, mainly on unemployment and the government's failure to correct "the nefarious 'd e a l'" in pipeline speculation which was criticized by the Conservatives while they were in opposition in 1956.

Mr. Coldwell cited what he said were huge profits made by a Ralph Harris of Vancouver and Frank McMahon of Calgary and said that Toronto taxpayers would find the profits reflected in inflated gas rates when the pipeline reaches here from the west.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker's claim that the government has launched a $1,000,000,000 public works program to beat unemployment is "outright deception to achieve a political end."

MENTIONS NEWSPAPERS
He said "the total expected increase in capital expenditures by the federal government and the provincial government together is less than 10 per cent of what Mr. Diefenbaker has implied is the new federal public works program."

The CCF leader said the Liberals and Conservatives and some newspapers were deceiving the public and "we must put an end to . . . the facade of two parties pretending to be different when they have the same financial masters."

On foreign control, Mr. Coldwell said it was time the U.S. ceased to control what Canadian companies did. He mentioned Ford of Canada, which he said was recently blocked by U.S. interests from selling 1,000 cars to Communist China.

Winnie Postpones American Visit

ROQUEBRUNE CAP MARTIN, France (CP)—Sir Winston Churchill has postponed his scheduled April visit to North America because of a recurrence of his pneumonia attack.

A member of the 83-year-old British statesman's household said Monday night Churchill still hopes to make the trip later this year. His doctors said his temperature is back to normal but he needs a long rest.

This morning his private secretary reported Sir Winston "very well indeed" and said a general statement on his condition would be issued this afternoon.

First Federal Election

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The new West Indies Federation held its first federal elections today, with about half its 3,000,000 persons eligible to vote for 45 representatives.

The new House of Representatives and an appointed 19-member Senate will be opened April 22 by Princess Margaret. The federation is scheduled to receive full independence from Britain after an indefinite period of parliamentary self-government.

The federation joins up 10 British colonies, including Jamaica, Trinidad, Tobago, Barbados, the Leeward Islands of Antigua, Montserrat, St. Kitts, Nevis and Anguilla, and the Windward Is-

Reveals Aims

By HAROLD MORRISON
TORONTO (CP)—Lester B. Pearson says that unlike the Progressive Conservatives, the Liberals have rejected the "cult of personality, whether expressed in terms of dictatorship or demagoguery."

The Liberals, instead of depending on "oracular fervor and circus crusades," appealed to voters' "essential goodwill and intelligence," the party leader said Monday night in a national television broadcast.

Comparing the two major parties, Mr. Pearson suggested that a political leader had to do more than "rhapsodize about a vision of the future." He had to state clearly his ideas on policy and legislation touching on the lives of all Canadians.

The Liberals had put before the public an election program based on the alleviation of financial suffering among the lower-income families; on bringing tax-sharing equality and justice to the provinces; on increasing aid for education and expanded social security for all Canadians.

REVEALS AIMS
"Behind all of these particular policies is an attitude of mind toward people, toward resources, toward government itself."

And even in an age when governments tend to spread their activities over men's affairs, "it is the Liberal attitude which will draw a line and say—so far and no further can you go without endangering a free society itself."

That, said Mr. Pearson, was the only kind of Liberalism that appealed to him and the only kind he would follow. He didn't want to sound pompous, but he believed politics should be the "noblest of professions." That was the kind of politics he wanted to follow.

The television broadcast and a mid-afternoon reception that preceded it marked the opening of Mr. Pearson's final week of campaigning. He goes back on the road today, to Warton, Owen Sound and Sault Ste. Marie, and

St. Laurent Asks Support For Pearson

OTTAWA—(CP)—Former Prime Minister St. Laurent, silent during most of the campaign, last night issued a message urging Canadians to support the Liberal Party and its new leader, Lester B. Pearson.

Mr. St. Laurent said the Progressive Conservative Government called a new election immediately after Mr. Pearson was chosen his successor because "it had no effective policies for dealing with the problems of rising unemployment and declining trade."

The 76-year-old former Prime Minister's message was issued through Liberal Party headquarters here. It carried the address "Price House, Quebec." Mr. St. Laurent's office address, and was dated March 19, 1958.

Mr. St. Laurent, who is not trying for re-election, has been in Florida resting for most of the election campaign.

At Mr. St. Laurent's Quebec City home, his wife said she does not know yet when he will return from his Florida trip.

"I have not heard from him yet this week but I am expecting a message," Mrs. St. Laurent said.

At the office of Renault St. Laurent, Mr. St. Laurent's son and partner in his law firm presently vacationing with him in Florida, a secretary said both are expected back March 28.

Indonesia Rebels Turn To Guerrilla Tactics

MEDAN, Sumatra (AP)—Government troops fanning out from this North Sumatra town appear to have checked the spread of Indonesia's civil war in North Sumatra. The rebels threaten to counter-attack, but they face a tough road back to Medan.

Their initial advantage lost, the insurgents' best hope now seems to be to extend guerrilla action which could tie up Jakarta forces in a long costly action.

Those are the conclusions reached after a four-day trip—by bus, car, speedboat and foot—from the rebel capital of Bukit-tinggi back and forth across "battle" lines three times.

Both sides apparently have been disappointed by developments in Medan, which went over to the rebels nine days ago after the town garrison mutinied, then was recaptured by the loyalists.

The outbreak in Medan cost Jakarta money, time and troops which could have been used to invade rebel hotbeds in Central Sumatra. Many of the loyalists are still tied up at Medan.

US AIRLINER CRASHES 9 DEAD, 15 SURVIVE

Engine Catches On Fire

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — A Braniff Airlines plane crashed moments after its takeoff from Panama early today with a mighty explosion visible for miles. Nine were killed and 15 survived, many of them badly injured.

Among the dead were several pilots for the airline flying as passengers to take out flights in South America. Passenger casualties included both United States and South American residents.

The four-engined DC-7C had been airborne less than a minute before watchers on the ground saw fire spurt from an engine.

A night watchman on duty at a city dump near the swampy scene of the crash saw the plane go down "like a rock." It fell 4 1/2 miles north of Miami International Airport.

The dead, dying and injured lay in the wreckage or in ankle-deep mud and water. Rescuers had to push their way through dense brush which kept fire-trucks and ambulances away from the scene. Helicopters were used to carry the injured to a hospital.

Pete Vigna, 67, American Civil Aeronautics Administration official who had boarded the plane to return to his post in Colombia, suffered only a cut ear.

"The plane was running good until it hit about 1,800 feet," Vigna said. "All of a sudden, the engine next to the fuselage on the right sputtered fire."

Reds Reject US Note

MOSCOW — (Reuters) — Russia says the latest United States note on a summit conference "cannot but disappoint everyone who regards the summit talks as a dependable means of relaxing international tensions and terminating the cold war."

In a reply to the American note, the Soviet government says the U.S. "is actually trying to take the entire problem of the summit conference back to the starting point."

The Russian "aide memoire" says Russia could not agree "with the allegation" in the American note that the Soviet government "claims the right to veto in determining the range of issues for summit discussion as well as special privileges and powers at the conference itself."

The note adds that any preliminary foreign ministers' conference should discuss only the organizational side of the summit meeting. "A discussion of the questions advanced . . . should be left to the summit meeting . . ."

One thing Russia could not discuss was the reunification of Germany "because this matter is entirely within the competence of the two German states themselves." Nor would she discuss the problem of the situation in Eastern Europe.

Europe's 2 Queens Embrace

AMSTERDAM (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth and Queen Juliana, Europe's only two women sovereigns, kissed each other on both cheeks today when the British monarch arrived on a three-day state visit to The Netherlands.

The two Queens embraced with broad smiles as Elizabeth, accompanied by Prince Philip, set foot on the landing stage here from the royal yacht Britannia.

It was a cold, damp day, but Queen Elizabeth was gay in a coat of scarab blue wool, covering a dress of the same color with black spots. Her matching hat was of fine straw.

Tens of thousands of cheering citizens were on the streets to greet the first British royal visitors to Holland in three centuries.

Union Jacks fluttered everywhere as the royal couple drove in open landaus through the capital. People hung precariously from windows and sloping roofs high above the streets to wave as the royal procession passed.

Queen Juliana rode in the first landau with Elizabeth and Princess Irene, Juliana's 18-year-old second daughter. The Duke of Edinburgh rode in a second carriage with 29-year-old Princess Beatrix, heiress to the Dutch throne who deputized for her father, Prince Bernhard, confined indoors with a severe attack of influenza.

Navy Spends $73 Million To Modernize $42 Million Ships

By DAVE McINTOSH
OTTAWA (CP)—The navy has spent $73,500,000 to modernize 21 frigates which originally cost $42,000,000, it is learned authoritatively.

The modernization program was completed several weeks ago. Eleven of the frigates are in commission. Five are in the reserve fleet, two are undergoing refit and three are on loan to the Norwegian Navy.

The frigates were purchased at about $2,000,000 apiece during the Second World War when the navy, at its peak strength in late 1944, had 70 of them in commission.

Quiet Service For Todd

CHICAGO (AP)—A short Hebrew prayer and a simply marked grave and a restrained setting today for the final scene in the whirlwind life of showman Michael Todd.

Survivors of the noted movie and stage producer, following his expressed wishes, brought his remains to Waldheim Cemetery in suburban Forest Park. He had asked, they said, to be buried near his father, Rabbi Chaim Goldbogen.

Ironically, the burial coincided with a time of joy and thanksgiving in the Jewish faith—the two weeks preceding Passover, an eight-day observance starting April 4.

For this reason, said Rabbi Abraham Joseph Orse of Congregation Knesseth Israel of Elgin, Ill., "there will be no eulogies at graveside—the 14 days before Passover are a joyous period."

The rabbi said he would read the Kaddish, a short Hebrew prayer of mourning, some psalms and a few phrases from the prophets. In accordance with Jewish custom, it will be a year before a monument is erected at the grave.

Todd, 50, and three companions perished in a fiery airplane crash Saturday near Grants, N.M.

Todd's remains were brought to Chicago aboard a train. His son by the first of his three marriages, Mike Todd, Jr., arrived from New York Monday night. Todd's widow, film actress Elizabeth Taylor, and other friends and relatives were flying today from the west coast.

The funeral service in Chicago coincided with a memorial service scheduled in Temple Israel in Hollywood.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— "I've been broke but I've never been poor. Being poor is a state of mind; being broke is a temporary situation."

This explains as well as anything the career of Mike Todd, a fabulous gambler whose luck ran out when his plane crashed Saturday in the New Mexico badlands.

Todd was considered an enormously lucky man. Certainly luck—another word for good timing—plays an important role in the lives of all successful people.

But Todd didn't wait for luck to tap him on the shoulder. He went crashing ahead on projects which his critics scoffed at as foolhardy. Sometimes they proved to be right.

At one time, following a string of stage fiascos, Todd was $1,105,618 in debt.

THE OTHER SIDE

But more often Todd proved the scoffers to be visionless dolts. At his death, his earnings from Around the World in 80 Days were piling up in such millions that even he was amazed.

What was it, aside from luck, that propelled Todd on a roller-coaster life during his furious 50 years?

The answer may be in his early years as the son of a Polish rabbi in Minneapolis. His name was Avrom Hirsch Goldbogen, and he was nicknamed Toad.

Avrom was a hustler—he had to be. He jerked sodas, sold the Minneapolis Journal, peddled fruit, played the cornet, sold shoes, shilled for a carnival, worked for a pharmacist. At 17, he headed a construction company and was a married man.

CHANGES NAME

Goldbogen realized the best place for a man of his drive was show business. But he needed a new name. He borrowed Michael from his own son and evolved the Todd from his nickname.

Gamble followed gamble, from The Flame Dance at the Chicago World's Fair to sumptuous Broadway productions. Some of the theatre crowd considered him a carnival guy when he scored with burlesque-type shows like Star and Garter and Streets of Paris. But he proved he was no bum by offering Maurice Evans in Hamlet and Moliere's The Would-Be Gentleman.

Gambling finally turned sour for Todd—too many flop plays and too many slow horses. His debts mounted and the Broadway crowd counted him out.

But they underestimated the hustling kid from Minneapolis. (Tomorrow: How Mike Todd shook up Hollywood.)

Farm Forum Activities

HIGH AND LOW FOREST

The Farm Forum met on March 18th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Ward with a very good attendance. The broadcast and discussion was on the topic "Canada's Role in World Affairs."

Plans were discussed on having the usual supper for the Forum families early in May with a dance after, to which all are welcome. The Committee named to make final plans were Mrs. R. Taylor, Mrs. Wendel Ward, Mrs. Verne Wilson, Eric Wilson and Roland Lowry.

Other business was discussed and correspondence read. The delegates to the annual meeting at Macdonald College on May 31st are Mrs. Verne Wilson and Eric Wilson with Roland Lowry as substitute.

All members have been invited to meet in the Brompton Road Community hall for fourth night.

A social time was enjoyed and lunch served. Another meeting of the Forum will be held in April.

The fourth night meeting closes this season next week with the final broadcast. This Forum has enjoyed a good season with the attendance better than last year.

THIRD RANGE

The members of the Third Range Farm Forum were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Melville Page at the Community Hall, Monday evening.

The topic for the evening was "Canada's Role in World Affairs". As Mr. Page was unable to be present on account of illness, Gordon McElrea was chairman, Mrs. Richie Harrison, secretary, read the Greenleaf. The broadcast was fair.

The following question was discussed:

What would your forum like to know more about regarding Canada and its role in world affairs? We would like to know more about the work of the F.A.O. plan, N.A.T.O. and the Colombo plan, as they more or less affect our living.

A suggested topic for next year was "An elementary detailed educational broadcast concerning the 384 diplomats referred to as External Affairs

LIBERAL PLATFORM

The six countries of Western Europe have decided to form a customs union which will establish a common market of nearly two hundred million people. Great Britain has offered to enter into a free trade arrangement with this group. Our new Commonwealth partners in Asia, Africa and the West Indies are making heroic efforts to develop their economies and to improve their standard of living. The countries of the Communist block have indicated their willingness to expand their trade with the West.

Canada should have a positive and flexible policy in relation to these momentous developments in order to ensure that the opportunities for new and wider markets are available to our producers.

Here are the constructive proposals the Liberal party makes in this connection:

1—New trade negotiations not only with Britain but with all the members of NATO for the establishment of closer and freer trade within the entire North Atlantic Community including the United States.

2—Better credit facilities (through a new Export Bank based on the present Export Credits Insurance Corporation) to enable Canadian firms to finance an expanding volume of export trade;

3—More assistance to underdeveloped countries through the Colombo plan and NATO, in particular, prompt and generous help to the new West Indies Federation; helping these countries grow is helping ourselves, because growing, prosperous economies promote world trade and preserve peace;

4—Immediate steps to hold the deterioration in our trading relationship with the United States. In particular we should restore assured and expanding markets for our oil, gas and mineral industries as well as safeguard the opportunities for all our primary producers in the markets of our largest customer.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR SMALL BUSINESS

Besides benefiting from the general improvements in business conditions noted above, small business would get special assistance from the Liberal government. This would not take the form of free advice, or instructions on how to run a business, as the Liberal party believes that the individual businessman in Canada knows how to run his business and needs no interference from governments.

What the Liberal party proposes is tax relief for businesses earning less than $10,000 a year, by cutting the corporation tax rate to 10 per cent on profits up to $10,000 a year.

Beyond that point, business would continue to pay 20 per cent (including the 2 per cent old age security tax), as all businesses up to $25,000 do now. This tax cut would save businessmen $25 millions a year.

The facilities of the Industrial Development Bank should be extended to include retail trade. Our small merchants have faced increasing competition from the large chains and at the same time have found it increasingly difficult to obtain capital for improvements and expansion. It is essential that our small merchants should have the opportunity to raise capital on reasonable terms.

AN ENTERPRISING ECONOMY

The Liberal party believes that the public interest is best served by freedom of enterprise with equal opportunity for all. It will therefore continue to maintain competition in our economy by effective legislation against monopoly, combines and restrictive practices and will give positive encouragement to new and small business. The tax and credit measures outlined in our program are designed to this end.

The next two articles will appear under the general heading: PROGRESS. After having laid the plans of positive action to cope with employment emergency and restore the prosperity and economic expansion, the Liberal program calls for development and research, with the whole of Canada as its goal.

Project To Cover Two Year Period

Galt St. West will be enlarged in stages over a two-year period a West Ward delegation was told at City Council session last evening.

Director of Services Charles Langlois is preparing estimates of enlargement costs for the probable first stage from Belvedere to Fairmount Streets.

The whole plan covers about a two mile stretch from Belvedere St. to the St. Catherine Road. Sections of upper Galt St. have already been widened.

A complete plan would result in straightening the thoroughfare, alleviating traffic congestion and providing parking space for future commercial expansion.

In 1956 $20,000 was voted to buy a property and again $40,000 in 1957 to eliminate curves. The total sum, unused to date, would defray this year's stage of enlargement.

It is likely that work will begin at Belvedere St. and go as far as funds will permit.

Mr. Langlois said at a rough guess $60,000 would cover widening the section from Belvedere to Fairmount to 45 feet. This includes expropriation of both buildings and land.

Mayor Nadeau, addressing the delegation, said the West Ward was the largest in the City as well as the most rapidly developing.

But, he said, the same ward had received not far from $200,000 a year in construction. He cited the two bridges that were built and the enlargement of Belvedere St.

The enlargements increased the debt service yearly but were not contributory works. They add to the budget costs for the debt service.

"We must think of the City's finance. We can't tax any more," he said.

West Ward Ald. J. M. Jeanson demanded that the question be approached with logic.

"The works should have been started four or five years ago," he said. The cost of enlargement from Worthington to Denault streets would be near $100,000, he said.

Ald. Tony Pinard, in his review of the problem, said "Since I have come to the City Council, I have attacked the problem."

He said the $60,000 had been voted for enlargement purposes in the past.

The intersection of Kingston and Galt streets is the worst, he said.

"Property owners are of the view that to do it all, we may as well do it properly."

He said the West Ward was willing to abandon any paving projects to have the enlargement completed.

He approved the scheme to do the work over a two year period. Following the regular session, the Council resolved itself into private committee to discuss the 1958 public works program.

Council decided a few days ago that this year's program would not surpass the $1,000,000 mark. Last year, the largest program in Sherbrooke's history was placed at $1,710,000.

Most often debated public works program discussions is whether each ward should be allotted an equal per capita amount or whether the wards with the more pressing needs should be granted larger sums.

Festival Plans Coming Before Meeting Tonight

About 40 representatives of various organizations and societies of Sherbrooke, convened by Sarto Roy, president of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, will meet tonight to establish the basis of a "Festival of Sherbrooke" during the 1959 tourist season.

This project has been under study for about a year and during the course of the coming summer, plans will be pressed forward. It is hoped to hold the festival from July 23 to August 2, as about this time the projected visit of the Queen to officially open the St. Lawrence Seaway will take place.

The Sherbrooke Eucharistic Congress will be held in June 1959 and the Festival will provide a good opportunity to attract visitors to the Eastern Townships and Sherbrooke.

The organizers will have about 18 months to prepare for the Festival. The theme of the celebration will be "Vive la Canadienne."

There will also be a contest to choose a Queen of the Festival, to be crowned on the evening of July 24. The Queen will be officially received at the Jacques Cartier park, by the Mayor of Sherbrooke.

She will be presented with the key to the City while music is to be provided by the Harmonie de Sherbrooke and an Honour Guard will be chosen.

The events will include:

- 1.—Permanent art exhibition, including paintings, sculpturing, steelwork, culinary arts and ceramics.
2. Provincial photography exhibition open to amateurs and professionals.
3. Antique display.
4. Floral display including lawn contests and exterior decoration.
5. Creation of a reception and palace committee.
6. Provincial tournament for golf, tennis, swimming, diving, and car and canoe races.
7. Theatrical works in both French and English to be held at Brae Manor.
8. Musical entertainment by singers.

Greater Parental Activity Need In Delinquency Fight

The state of the community and its contribution to youth was the topic of an address last night at a regular meeting of the Sherbrooke Optimist Club, by Fraser Woodhouse, Regional Director of the Boys' Clubs of Canada. Also present at the meeting were members of the Y's Men's Club, St. Pat's Old Boys' Association and the Lennoxville Optimist Club.

"We have forgotten the most important product of the community the young people, the boys," claimed Mr. Woodhouse. "Unfortunately, we place values on materials and not people."

Continuing in a vein which was calculated to undermine complacency in service club members, Mr. Woodhouse pointed out that the delinquency problem is not as bad as newspapers would have people believe, but that unless some more active interest was taken in the youth of today, the rate of delinquency is certain to rise rapidly.

"Right now" he added, "we're not doing much about it. We're just making by-products out of our children. Responsibility for the children doesn't just stop at the doorstep."

As is too often the case, according to Mr. Woodhouse, the people who do most of the work in the community are generally those who can ill afford the time. Those who can afford to donate their time to youth, are generally the ones who claim they're too "busy."

"Perhaps I'm a little harsh," he said. "But if it were not for the service club organization, what would happen? Service clubs are needed to serve the community. We will never really reach Utopia—we're after it, but at the moment we are a far cry from it."

It is useless, he continued, to sit on the sidelines. An active interest must be taken.

"If a Boys' Club is the answer to the problem in Sherbrooke, then let's have one. The number one responsibility is to be something to the young people of the community. We are failing to meet the needs of the kid in the street."

"After all," he concluded, "the boy is the product and many of them don't have the opportunity. Just do the best to provide the opportunity to do something better than what we have been able to achieve."

Mr. Woodhouse was introduced by Ron MacDonald and thanked by Henry Crochetiere.

Snowshoe Club, Restaurant Badly Damaged By Flames

Fire breaking out early yesterday afternoon caused extensive damage to a two-storey wooden structure near the city limits on Galt Street West housing the Blue Star restaurant, the Audacieux Snowshoe Club and an apartment occupied by the restaurant operators, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Champagne.

Flames were noticed coming out of the ventilator shaft by two neighbors, Yvon Boisvert and Mrs. M. Plante, who alerted J. A. Scotte, secretary-treasurer of the Municipality of Rock Forest within whose limits the property is situated, Mr. Scotte, in turn summoned the Sherbrooke fire department who battled the flames for over an hour. Water was pumped at 120 pounds pressure from the stream nearby.

Dense smoke coming from the 10-year-old building gave the firemen a difficult time and water damage added to the loss caused by flames.

Cause of the fire is unknown, but it is believed to have started in the kitchen of the restaurant and spread through the other premises.

The property is owned by J. Villard, of Montreal.

Six Magog Men Charged With Entering, Theft

Six Magog men, all under the age of 25, have been charged with breaking and entering and theft within the past few days.

Remi St. Laurent, Normand Cliche, and Leandre Drouin, have been charged by Provincial Police with breaking and entering cottages on Crystal Lake, near Magog.

They are expected to come up before the Court of Sessions.

Another Magog man, Andre Ducharme, 24, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Redmond Hayes, to two charges of breaking and entering and theft.

He is charged with the theft of an electric stove from the Preventorium on the St. Catherine road, outside Magog, and breaking and entering Gaudreau's store on Main st. in Magog.

Two other young men, William Dingman, 20, and Germain Leblanc, 19, were sentenced to two months in jail by Judge Edouard Boisvert when they pleaded guilty to charges of stealing 3,000 pounds of copper.

Delay Seen In Operation Of Traffic Lights

The new system of traffic lights at Queen Blvd. and Portland St. will not be used until the opening of the Montcalm Bridge, Ald. Everett Nicol, chairman of the protection committee, said last night.

He said engineers were studying the mechanism of the lights. The system operates on several actuating devices which are intended to improve traffic circulation on a dangerous corner.

Several tests were carried out on the system after the lights were installed earlier this year but proved unsatisfactory.

Ald. Nicol said if the most recent tests are equally unsatisfactory the system will be replaced.

The Montcalm Bridge is expected to open in early April.

Quebec No Longer A 'Sure Thing'

Next Monday, voting day, may see the end of a political era in this province. The national swing toward Prime Minister Diefenbaker's Conservative government is clearly evident in Quebec. The traditional federal Liberal stranglehold on Quebec politics, which has prevailed with minor exceptions since Laurier's time, is slipping.

There has been greater interest in the Conservative cause in Quebec this year than there has been in years. But the trend actually began before the election last June. Public opinion polls, which are more useful in assessing percentage of votes than in actual number of seats won, show that some 49 per cent of Quebec voters show Conservative leanings. This compares with 31 per cent on June 10 last when the Liberal party was led by Louis St. Laurent for whom there was strong sentimental attachment which crossed party lines.

This year, Conservative nominating conventions were packed and, with the exception of some counties where Conservative candidates made exceptionally strong showings last year, they were hotly contested. Campaign meetings have also drawn unusually large and enthusiastic crowds, even in out-of-the-way areas.

This contrasts sharply with a lack of fervor and drive among Liberal workers. This may be attributed in part to the natural process of atrophy in organizations grown soft through years in power. It is also true that candidates who have coasted in on the coattails of prominent and popular Quebec leaders do not know how to fight when left on their own.

Whatever the reason, it is clear that Quebec can no longer be taken for granted in federal politics. This is a healthy and welcome development, regardless of political considerations.

The only question in doubt now seems to be the size of the increase in Conservative representation from Quebec in the next Parliament. Some of the tactics being used in the campaign by Quebec Liberals seem to indicate that they feel the Conservative representation will be large. But smear talk will cut little ice with voters today. The electorate wants candidates who will look ahead, not back.

Editor's note: More than seven months ago began the first major test of piping movies into homes by closed television circuit. Has it been a success? Will the system spread? Here's an up-to-the-minute report.

By JIM MONROE

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Motion picture people are still looking for a magic formula in their fight against television for a viewing audience.

They are frank to admit they haven't found it yet in the first big scale experiment at putting first-run movies into homes via closed circuit television.

Price is one reason. Another is how to make people want to pay to see a movie at home enough to miss a few of their favorite TV programs.

Some say this experiment is a true test of "pay TV" and that it's a resounding flop.

Video Theatres, a big movie house chain that bankrolled the experiment, says it isn't pay TV. And it still forecasts success.

Most pay television systems involve scrambled broadcast signals and a device for unscrambling them. The device is operated by deposit of a coin or through a telephone connection.

Video insists its experiment is simply a new method of marketing movies, made necessary by the growing tendency to stay at home.

"We're just taking the mountain to Mohammed," said Wayne Wallace, telemovie manager.

Video officials discovered quickly that their mountain was too high. After six months, the firm cut its programming and whacked its price from $9.50 to $4.95 a month. Now it's picking up customers.

"They've got a very, very fine product but they haven't learned how to sell it yet," said L. A. McKinney, who cancelled his service. McKinney complained his four children were spending too much time huddled before the television set. Also, he said, Video failed to explore the potential of educational programs.

"Folks didn't feel they got their money's worth because there were many shows they didn't watch," another customer said.

In February Video Theatres announced the price cut, and 123 new subscribers were signed during the next 10 days with only a handful of disconnections.

The telemovie fare has been virtually the same as that at local theatres, with pictures reaching the homes generally two days after downtown runs. There has been no noticeable effect on regular movie attendance.

Press Comment

"GOOD OLD TIMES" (Georgetown, DC)

Of all the various vices which stain the character of the present age, there is none more mean, and at the same time more commonly practised than Drunkenness; consequently none more deserving of censure. To see a man at once rob himself of all the engaging qualities of the mind, and make himself worse than a beast, is a sight that every virtuous man will turn from with pity and contempt. Is it not surprising that men, who, when sober, are agreeable companions, and useful members of society, will by the inordinate use of strong drink, make themselves contemptible, and their families miserable?

Do we not too often see an agreeable wife, a virtuous son, and an amiable daughter, rendered unhappy by the intemperance of a husband or a father? Have we not seen too many aged parents "brought with sorrow to their graves," by the intemperance of their children? These are questions, that for the honor of my country, I wish could be negatively answered.

EARNED SEAT

To qualify for a seat in Micmac Indian tribal councils, youths had to slay either a moose or a bear.

Such talk doesn't do the Liberal Party much good, anymore than Mr. Gingués' talk about the new Post Office, as all the granite there never came from Stanstead. Also Dr. Cote's joke about the North is ill phrased to say the least as the North is by far the richest part of Canada and right now they need more snowshoes in New York and Washington than in the North.

Mr. Gingués may be the best deputy in Canada, according to Mr. Howard's statement, but Parliamentary Records don't mention or confirm it.

T. F. Atkins

The Editor, Sherbrooke Daily Record, Dear Sir:

Somebody handed me today a copy of your Journal edited Tuesday, March 18/58, the day after the nomination.

In the article under the title "Stanstead County Independent Provokes 'Greatest Surprise'". I would like to know where your reporter got the news that the supporters of Claude Hebert "finally emerged with the Mayor of Magog, a former Liberal." That reporter was absolutely in error and why did he take for granted rumors going around instead of going to the sources? I was illegally voted out of the executive of the Progressive Conservative Association of the County of Stanstead with the president because, and that is the only reason, I was favoring Claude Hebert. I can assure you and prove to you that neither the president nor me nor anybody else of Mr. Hebert's organization or supporters have made any attempt, approach or contact to get the Magog Mayor to run as independent.

Mr. Hebert did not run as independent because he was disgusted of the way the convention was fixed and Mr. Hebert and his supporters or organizers never thought of being so mean.

Mr. Hebert's organization did not and will not support "in this election" the Progressive Conservative candidate or the independent candidate, because it has been too much disgusted for what happened at the meeting of the Progressive Conservative executive on February 4th, where a Russian democratic way was used to vote me out.

The Editor, Sherbrooke Daily Record, Dear Sir:

The recent bomb evacuation practices of people from various cities was a success, but where will they find a shelter? I would suggest that all people employed and unemployed, be used in making shelters, and putting to use saw mills and dry kilns in order to dry the lumber so that it can be stored in weatherproof storage.

If the evacuations come in the winter, it will entail a lot of needless suffering that can be avoided by having shelters ready.

See that the employed be put on going wages. Perhaps 9,000 people. But if they are the same eight hours, it isn't quite the same thing.

People who expect teachers to help them raise their children properly shouldn't complain if teachers ask for a reasonable rate of pay.

thing that has not been promised is a free trip to the moon for the newly-married couples on their tax-free honeymoon. It is just a plain case of arithmetic. How can Mr. Pearson make so many tax cuts he suggests and yet give away so much money as he advocates in increases in other proposed gifts. The only place he can get the money will be from the common working man, whose taxes are deducted at source so he will pay more eventually. This is a mighty tool in the hand of the government.

Some people think the Senate should be abolished, or made into a museum for outdated politicians. After reading Senator Howard's description of Sherbrooke since June 10, I begin to believe it myself.

The Sherbrooke City Council and Mr. Nadeau, the Mayor, are an up and coming body of men, who plan for Sherbrooke's future. If Sherbrooke is as deserted as Mr. Howard proclaims, why all this fuss and expense about the parking situation in the city. Someone is wrong and I don't think from my own observation, that it is the City Council.

Such talk doesn't do the Liberal Party much good, anymore than Mr. Gingués' talk about the new Post Office, as all the granite there never came from Stanstead. Also Dr. Cote's joke about the North is ill phrased to say the least as the North is by far the richest part of Canada and right now they need more snowshoes in New York and Washington than in the North.

Mr. Gingués may be the best deputy in Canada, according to Mr. Howard's statement, but Parliamentary Records don't mention or confirm it.

Closed TV Circuit

Movies At Home Still Experimental

Editor's note: More than seven months ago began the first major test of piping movies into homes by closed television circuit. Has it been a success? Will the system spread? Here's an up-to-the-minute report.

By JIM MONROE

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Motion picture people are still looking for a magic formula in their fight against television for a viewing audience.

They are frank to admit they haven't found it yet in the first big scale experiment at putting first-run movies into homes via closed circuit television.

Price is one reason. Another is how to make people want to pay to see a movie at home enough to miss a few of their favorite TV programs.

Some say this experiment is a true test of "pay TV" and that it's a resounding flop.

Video Theatres, a big movie house chain that bankrolled the experiment, says it isn't pay TV. And it still forecasts success.

Most pay television systems involve scrambled broadcast signals and a device for unscrambling them. The device is operated by deposit of a coin or through a telephone connection.

Video insists its experiment is simply a new method of marketing movies, made necessary by the growing tendency to stay at home.

"We're just taking the mountain to Mohammed," said Wayne Wallace, telemovie manager.

Video officials discovered quickly that their mountain was too high. After six months, the firm cut its programming and whacked its price from $9.50 to $4.95 a month. Now it's picking up customers.

"They've got a very, very fine product but they haven't learned how to sell it yet," said L. A. McKinney, who cancelled his service. McKinney complained his four children were spending too much time huddled before the television set. Also, he said, Video failed to explore the potential of educational programs.

"Folks didn't feel they got their money's worth because there were many shows they didn't watch," another customer said.

In February Video Theatres announced the price cut, and 123 new subscribers were signed during the next 10 days with only a handful of disconnections.

The telemovie fare has been virtually the same as that at local theatres, with pictures reaching the homes generally two days after downtown runs. There has been no noticeable effect on regular movie attendance.

"GOOD OLD TIMES" (Georgetown, DC)

Of all the various vices which stain the character of the present age, there is none more mean, and at the same time more commonly practised than Drunkenness; consequently none more deserving of censure. To see a man at once rob himself of all the engaging qualities of the mind, and make himself worse than a beast, is a sight that every virtuous man will turn from with pity and contempt. Is it not surprising that men, who, when sober, are agreeable companions, and useful members of society, will by the inordinate use of strong drink, make themselves contemptible, and their families miserable?

Do we not too often see an agreeable wife, a virtuous son, and an amiable daughter, rendered unhappy by the intemperance of a husband or a father? Have we not seen too many aged parents "brought with sorrow to their graves," by the intemperance of their children? These are questions, that for the honor of my country, I wish could be negatively answered.

DEFENSE NAPS ON KEY PLAY

It is nice to have a pleasant, easy-going temperament but that doesn't mean that you should relax and quietly go to sleep when defending.

West really had no interest in his hand but did manage to lead the eight of hearts just in case his partner had something in that suit. East played the deuce and South won with the ten.

The queen of spades finesse lost to East's king and when East led the king of clubs West woke up long enough to signal enthusiastically with the nine. East continued with the queen and West completed his signal but East had no other club to lead.

East led back a heart in the vain hope that his partner's opening lead had been a singleton but school was out. It still required careful play for South to bring home his contract but he was equal to it. Actually there were several lines of play that would succeed and I leave them to you to work out.

West really had no excuse for not putting the ace of clubs on his partner's queen in order to let his partner trump the third round of the suit. Either East or South held the jack of clubs. If East held it West's play made no difference. Since South held it West had chucked the game right out the window.

STARRY-EYED

(Meyer Berger in New York Times)

A gentleman reports that when he climbed into a taxicab in midtown New York the other day, the driver seemed starry-eyed, as though he had chewed lotus. By and by he got to talking. "Little while ago," he told the rider, "four people got in this cab. A lady, and three men. One man was a theatrical manager, one was the lady's husband, one was publicity man, I think. The men took the back seat. The lady took the front right here, next to me. I'm a careful driver, but this lady takes my eye. It was like I was watching a ping-pong game from the side; eyes on the road, eyes on the lady. Twice I nearly run down trucks." The story ran on and on. The gentleman, leaving the cab, understood that the cabbie had come through a strong emotional experience. The lady in the front seat was Gina Lollobrigida, the actress.

Danville Lodge Presents Jewel To W. N. Reakes

DANVILLE — W. Noel Reakes was presented with his 25-year Jewel at a recent regular meeting of Golden Rule Lodge No. 13.

The Noble Grand, Brother George Horan, requested Brother Albert Olney to present the Jewel, and in his remarks, wished Brother Reakes good health and the best wishes of the Lodge. He expressed regret at his leaving the community and the hope that some day he would also be wearing a 50 year Jewel.

W. N. REAKES

The recipient thanked the Lodge members for their kindness, stating he would miss the many friends he had made in and out of the Lodge, and promised to visit them occasionally.

After the meeting Brother Reakes showed colored movies of his trip to the World Jamboree and to England and the Continent last summer, as well as some local activities.

The members were treated to oysters and coffee, prepared and served by the refreshments committee.

Pulp, Paper Unions Ask 15-Cent Raise

MONTREAL (CP)—Two unions representing Quebec's pulp and paper mill workers have decided to seek a 15-cent hourly wage increase and other working improvements in new contract negotiations, it was announced Monday.

The objectives were decided at a week-end meeting in Trois-Rivieres, Que., of delegates of International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers CLC and the United Paper Mill and Pulp Workers Brotherhood CLC.

Their proposed demands are similar to those drafted last week at Fort Francis, Ont., by the unions for paper industry workers in Ontario and the Western provinces.

The two international brotherhoods bargain for 48,000 paper workers in Eastern Canada, whose current basic hourly wage rate is $1.73. Another 10,000 workers in Quebec mills are members of affiliates of the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor.

The first contract negotiations are tentatively set to open April 2 with Canadian International Paper Company. A spokesman said demands served on the Quebec mills will be extended to those in the Maritimes.

In addition to the wage increase, the unions want an improved vacation plan, additional paid holidays and greater company contributions to employee medical, hospital and life insurance plans.

Union delegates representing 10,000 workers in Eastern Canada's kraft paper mills were to meet Monday night at St. Jerome, Que., to draft contract objectives.

from there will swing back Wednesday to the Windsor area for trips to Chatham, Tilbury and Leamington and a big rally in Windsor Wednesday night.

At the afternoon reception, he and Mrs. Pearson shook hands with some 900 persons in a chatty, slow-moving, 65-minute episode that drew the comment from the Liberal leader: "My hand is worn out and so is my tongue."

He didn't want to go "overboard with optimism," but his campaign was rolling into high gear and he was sure of a Liberal victory March 31. Even so, he felt Liberals ought to take a sober view of the future. These were difficult times and once the Liberals took over the government, the job ahead would be "an easy one."

In outlining the Liberals' proposals before his television audience, Mr. Pearson questioned whether in fact there was a "Conservative" approach to Canada's problems "when personality dominates policy" in the Conservative party.

Much Work Completed On Station

Seventy-five per cent of the new electricity substation is complete although there are no visible signs, Ald. Carl Camirand, chairman of the electricity and gas committee, told the City Council last evening.

He said the engineer's share of the project was finished. This represented completed plans and organizational work. At the moment there are $24,000 worth of materials on hand out of a needed $300,000, and the remaining material will be received in the near future.

"It takes 18 months to collect materials and it's only been five months since we approved the by-law," he said.

Last December an $825,000 by-law to finance the project was approved.

Construction of the building to house the electrical material will begin in April, he said. The site of the substation is in the North Ward adjacent to the St. Francis River. It will replace the old Richelieu St. substation.

The discussion arose over the construction of the substation when Council was asked to approve payment of $1,315.09 to the Shawinigan Engineering Company Limited to cover the cost of preparation of plans.

Sharp criticisms were made by Ald. Tony Pinard and Ald. J. M. Jeanson as to the slowness of the project's realization.

TRADE PICKING UP

Here he made a new promise: To extend the new program of federal aid for provincial northern development roads to include assistance to Maritime provinces' roads to tourist and resort areas.

"We believe that in this development program we can and should include assistance to these provinces in the development of tourist and recreation roads."

BACKED BY PREMIERS

He said the request for such a policy had been made by Conservative Premier Flemming of New Brunswick and Stanfield of Nova Scotia. Both premiers spoke in his support during the day.

His speech here also included an apparent reference to the issue which has arisen following a report that Ford Motor Company of Canada could have sold 1,000 cars to Communist China and that the deal was vetoed by the parent Ford Company in the United States. That statement was made Friday by George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers.

A U.S. government official has said no Canadian subsidiary of an American firm can export to a Communist country unless the parent firm obtains a U.S. export licence.

AGAINST DECISION

Mr. Diefenbaker said parent companies of Canadian subsidiaries "should not deny to their Canadian plants a fair share of export business wherever and whenever it develops."

Both here and at Fredericton he repeated that he has carried out his election promises last year to help the Atlantic provinces through aid to power development, new subsidies on coal and special fiscal grants.

"We said we would act—they said we would not. They said the course we proposed was the course of danger. Have you heard and read their promises lately?"

"They've discovered the Maritimes since their defeat last year."

There was only one answer to the changes in Liberal party thinking: "Blessed are the uses of solitude. . . . When you get so much improvement in seven months, what will you get in five years?"

G. Dale Rediker, C.A., formerly of Sherbrooke, has been appointed controller by Webb and Knapp (Canada) Limited. He is a graduate of Sherbrooke High School and McGill University, where he lectures in accounting. Mr. Rediker was until recently chief accountant of Rolls-Royce of Canada Limited. INDONESIA REBELS was better than none, but they had hoped to take over all North Sumatra. It would have been a tremendous advantage in their campaign to force changes in the central government.

As the situation now stands, the front lines extend beyond the resort town of Prapat on Lake Toba south of Medan. The loyalists took over that rebel stronghold last week and moved in with artillery.

Rebel informants said the leader of the Medan mutiny Maj. Boyke Nainn Golan, had headed for the hills southeast of here with remnants of his force. They said Nainn Golan abandoned a dozen tanks and armored cars because he had little use for them in guerrilla warfare.

Nainn Golan and his followers apparently plan to carry on guerrilla operations around the rich palm oil and rubber plantations in the Siantar area, 40 to 50 miles southeast of Medan.

North Sumatra's rebels are beset by many problems, including political differences, supply difficulties and fence-sitting military units. But Jakarta still faces the threat of a long tussle with guerrilla bands which could control all but the main roads and centres in the area.

Most of the mountain people appear to be behind the rebel cause, and the hill country and plantations are ideally suited for guerrilla warfare.

Surprise For Buyer

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—A woman's frozen body was found in the trunk of a used car Monday while a prospective buyer was looking it over. The victim was identified as Mrs. Anna M. Harper, 51, of Hagerstown, missing from home since March 8. Police think Mrs. Harper had climbed in the trunk to keep warm.

LONDON (Reuters) — A new Russian 75-seat turbo-prop airliner has completed its first long flight, a 10,750-mile round trip from Moscow. The flight took place over a Soviet floating scientific station in the Arctic, Moscow radio said Monday.

Scramble Threatens Stability

QUEBEC (CP)—Norman E. Peveril of Sherbrooke, Que., told the Canadian Wholesale Hardware Association annual meeting Monday the business recession has provoked a scramble for business at any price.

Mr. Peveril, president of the association which opened its three-day convention Monday, said this scramble may give the price-cutting businessman an advantage but it is gained at the expense of market stability and threatens business security.

"If volumes of sales should continue at a low level for another year the number of bankruptcies will be fantastic," he said.

Whatever the cause of the recession it had been made more acute by Canada's political situation, Mr. Peveril said.

He called for a policy based on sound business principles and elimination of profitless sales.

Some 100 delegates are present for the convention. The CWHHA has members in Ontario, Quebec and the four Maritime provinces.

U.S. Iron Ore Restrictions Report False

TORONTO (CP)—C. V. Wansbrough, managing director of the Canadian Metal Mining Association, said Monday references he made to iron ore imports restrictions by the United States were misinterpreted in press reports by his speech in Regina last week.

The Canadian Press erroneously quoted Mr. Wansbrough as predicting doubled U.S. tariffs on lead, zinc and iron ore as a result of current metals studies by the U.S. Congress.

Mr. Wansbrough said Monday he did not include iron ore in the statement. He said there are at present no restrictions or tariffs on the shipments of iron ore to the U.S.

He did make reference to a bill placed before Congress by one U.S. senator which asks restriction on iron ore imports. He said the bill has not yet been discussed and it is too early to say what

Quatre Pins Residents Ask Zoning Change

The Council will study rezoning the Quatre Pins area of the city, it was decided last night.

A delegation of Quatre Pins, an area bordering the Magog River off Bourque Blvd. asked that the City change the area into either a completely industrial zone or a residential section.

At present, the area contains all three types of zones; industrial, residential and commercial.

The request by the delegation was prompted by the application of a gasoline distributing company to establish a distributing plant in the commercial area.

Quatre Pins property owners felt that if the City permitted a warehouse to be erected there was danger of the area being invaded by similar constructions.

"They maintained this would lower the property valuation and would mar the appearance of the area."

The City Council also will study changing the zoning law covering King St. West to permit construction of three storey buildings.

Only two-floor buildings are permitted at present.

to travel here by helicopter and then rush back to Montreal where he was to address another meeting the same night.

However, the chartered helicopter had been diverted to an emergency trip to Seven Islands and the Solicitor General had been forced to go directly to the metropolis from Sherbrooke.

While the candidate himself devoted most of his address to a defence of the record of the Diefenbaker Government, especially in the field of agricultural legislation, several of the other speakers dealt with "Liberal canopies" in respect to the supported dislike of the Conservative party for French-Canadians and the Province of Quebec.

Mr. Dubois praised the agricultural policy support act or the Harkness bill as providing the charter for Canadian agriculture.

Under the terms of the legislation, he said, the farmer was guaranteed at the opening of the season a minimum price for his produce that would cover the cost of production and assure him a reasonable profit.

Thanks to the action taken by the Progressive Conservatives, imports of poultry products into Canada had been curtailed with a consequent strengthening of the price received by the Canadian producer.

Similarly butter prices had improved during the past few months and there was a better demand for beef and pork.

LIBERALS WEAK

The Liberals were making an appeal to Canadians for a return to power on the basis of their 22-year record of office, Osias Poirier, Asbestos journalist declared, but he warned "Even if their record was good, which it is not, where would Mr. Pearson find competent ministers?"

"Most of the old cabinet members were defeated in the last elections are not seeking office again. Several others face defeat next Monday."

SHOOTING THE MOON — The U.S. Air Force, according to Lt. Gen. D. L. Putt, believes it can hit the moon with a rocket this year provided the project receives an immediate go-ahead. Putt, Deputy Air Force Chief of Staff for Research, told Congress that the attempt would be made with a combination of its Thor intermediate missile and the Navy's Vanguard. Artist's drawing above shows how the flight might be made. The combined Thor-Vanguard would probably be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. The Vanguard would take over once the massive Thor had carried it far out into space where the pull of gravity is almost negligible. In order to hit the moon, Vanguard would have to go seven miles a second, the speed needed to break away from the earth's grasp. That's roughly 25,200 miles an hour, compared with the estimated 18,000 miles an hour which Explorer and Sputnik II are traveling.

Mrs. Knowlton Sr., was fortunately upstairs at the time and heard the flames crackling. She immediately summoned help and a large number of volunteer helpers soon arrived, followed by the Knowlton Fire brigade, and the stubborn blaze was soon under control.

The fire fortunately was confined to the interior, as a strong gale was blowing and it would have been impossible to have saved the house if the blaze had broken through the roof. Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton, Senior and Junior, are very grateful to the quick and efficient help of neighbours and friends.

India Industry Improving But Food Problem Still Bad

By PETER JACKSON
NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India, now engaged in an ambitious effort to become an industrial power, still is struggling to solve its basic food problem.

In spite of increases in the domestic production of food grains, crop failures due to a drought last year have forced the government to import 2,000,000 tons more food grains than planned.

Meanwhile, an officially sponsored food grains inquiry committee has stated that even if the production targets are met in coming years, imports of from 2,000,000 tons to 3,000,000 tons of food grains will be necessary to meet deficits and build up reserve stocks.

Food imports threaten to make the already critical foreign exchange situation worse, for this latest food crisis has come just as the government is trying desperately to arrange for sufficient foreign exchange to meet payments for capital goods already ordered and vital to the industrialization program.

Apart from loans totalling $225,000,000 announced recently, the United States is making available 1,000,000 tons of wheat, valued at $65,000,000 and which will be paid for in rupees, to help meet the food shortage.

Canada is sending 100,000 tons of wheat.

Meanwhile, shipments of American agricultural surpluses totalling 3,100,000 tons of wheat and 180,000 tons of rice, which were to have been spread over three years from July, 1956, have been rushed through and are expected to be completed in less than two years.

India's agricultural production has crept up during recent years to 68,600,000 tons in the last crop year, but it has lagged well behind the targets set by the government.

At the same time, the population, which stood at 357,000,000 in 1951, is estimated to be increasing by at least 5,000,000 births a year, while reduced death rates make it probable that the total increase now is approaching 8,000,000 a year. Thus, the present population is in the region of 390,000,000.

Because of the increase in population, the per capita availability of food grains is estimated to have remained more or less stationary at 18.1 ounces a day over the last few years. This would be sufficient if Indians ate other foods. But, generally speaking, they do not—for various reasons, including religious sentiment against taking life, which eliminates meat and sometimes even eggs from the diet.

Beauty Tips

Dry skin requires more lubricating than any other type. It is well to leave a little cream on the face under the foundation when applying morning makeup. However, avoid an oily look near the nostrils, chin and corner of the mouth by removing cream from these areas.

MATERNITY TIP

Experts recommend a daily quart of milk — which may be made up in soups — and a dose of Vitamin D for the expectant mother.

Neighbors Pity Husband Saddled With Sloppy Wife

Here's a letter from a man about a young couple that lives in his neighborhood. Because it is written by a man, it may be an eye opener to young wives who think they are "above" housework.

The letter says: "There's a young couple in our neighborhood I wish you could help by writing an article on the importance of a well-kept home.

"About a year ago they bought one of the nicest homes near us. That is, it's attractive on the outside. But the inside is a different story.

"It's the furniture. They have bought good furniture. But the house is always a mess.

"Jim, the husband, has a hard job, but a well-paid one. He earns enough to live well. But a man can't live well with a lazy, careless wife. And his wife, Mary, is without a doubt the laziest, sloppiest, the most unprideful housekeeper I have ever seen.

A Lazy Ruf

"I am sure Jim must have seen potentials in her, else he wouldn't have married her. But she isn't developing any of the potentials.

"Jim goes off without his breakfast. His wife doesn't get up until hours later. Then she reads, watches TV, drops in for coffee with a neighbor, etc., until the day goes by.

"When Jim comes home the house is in a mess — and if anyone drops in, there are dirty dishes about, unironed clothes stacked high (often on a chair in the living room), and Jim looks embarrassed as he moves enough stuff to give the caller a place to sit down.

"My wife and I are older than Jim and Mary and it is really none of our business. But it hurts us to see a young wife, who could be taking pride in making a good home, letting her job slide out of pure laziness."

There's the letter. Any wife who thinks that "hating housework" is reason enough for being a careless homemaker ought to know just how she appears to the neighbors. And if outsiders feel sorry for her husband because she is shirking her main job, she ought to know that, too.

Fuzzy-Wuzzy Mohair Coatings Make Hit; Open Weave Used For Fabrics

By PEGGY MASSIN

PARIS (Reuters) — Airborne fabrics launch the new Paris silhouette on its flight towards spring.

Even textiles appear bound for outer weave, with airy open-weave and porous effects, in every type of silk and woolen fabric. The trend is light in weight and light in feeling, underlying and emphasizing the loose fit of the chemise.

The biggest hit of the season is made in the fuzzy-wuzzy printed mohair coatings by the British firm of Aseher, featured in new tapestry and floral carpet patterns. Multi-colored effects are softly diffused under the long-haired, fluffy surface and these fabrics are outstandingly successful for spring in both the French and Italian collections.

Other versions are boucle and looped weaves repeating the "lighter-than-thistle-down" finish.

Another fabric trend in Paris is the "haberdasher look." Every house uses a wide range of glens, prince de galles, and shadow plaids, or mannish shepherd's checks and pin stripes. These effects break away from classic suitings for tailored dresses and light worsted coats.

A real trademark of the haberdasher look is found in the black-and-white check coat dresses, touched with crisp, white trimmings like glazed cotton shirt collars and turned-back cuffs.

The majority of coats of Guy Laroche are adaptations of the masculine chesterfield in bold crew's foot checks combining two or three bright colors. Pierre Balmain takes tailored suiting stripes right into formal wear with narrow chalk lines printed on the sheersiest fabric for simple shirt-waist afternoon dresses.

Tweed makes another headline in the daytime picture, worked in lacy and crochet effects at Dior, Balenciaga and Lanvin, or in rustic open-weave relief, and knitted types of butter-soft suitings.

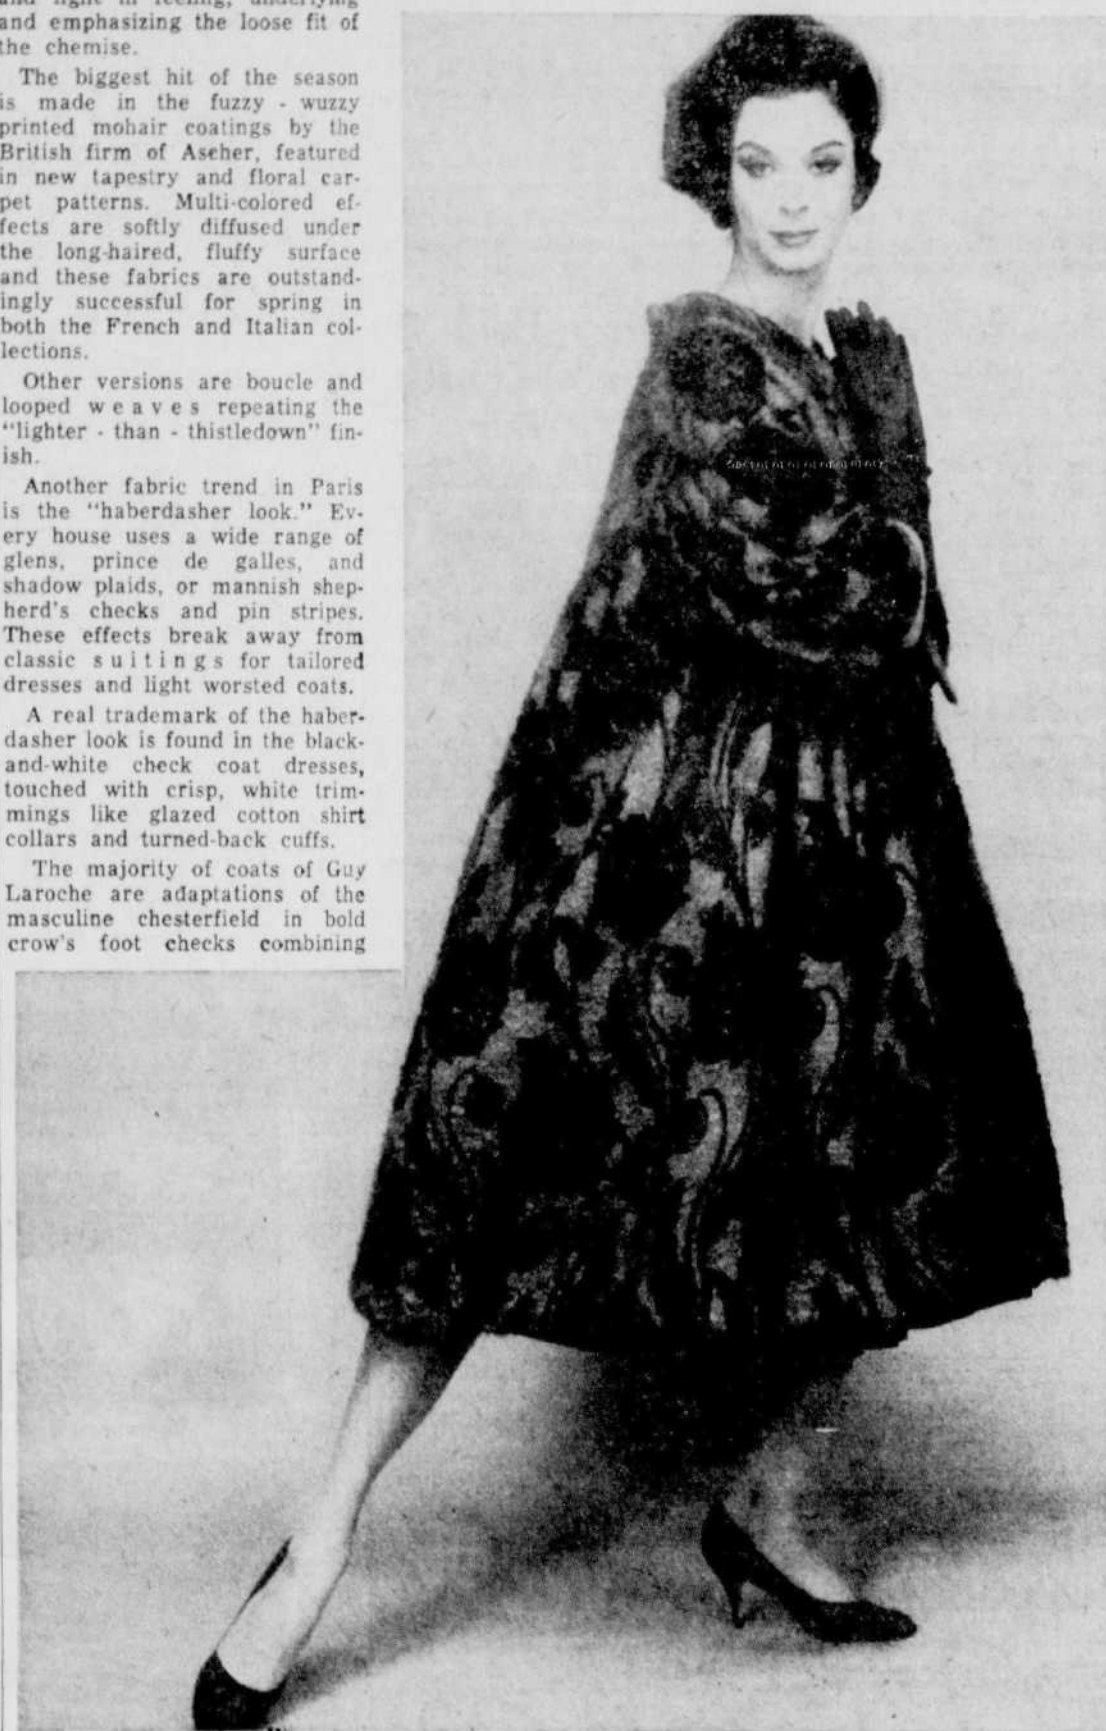

Following the planetary course, certain textile prices in Paris also have reached the stars. Rising couture prices go hand in hand with the increasing cost of fabric production, and some French woollens are priced as high as $74 a yard this season. A further increase may soon make fur cheaper than fabric.

FACT AND FICTION

There is a good and bad in everything, and that includes the industry I represent, too. In textiles, as in our industry, there are many who are in it for the fast dollar; those who fail to give the facts to their customers; those who fail to employ ethical methods to obtain a fair share of the market for their merchandise; and where does this all lead? It leads to confused customers, known as consumers.

Well known, and well advertised trade names or labels are usually the best buy, as these manufacturers stand behind their products and claims made, as to their purpose, handling, etc., are truthful. And now we come to Wash and Wear. What will it do? What are its claims in the language of the consumers? It may wash, but will it wear? Are all detergents safe? Can it be put in the washing machine? No ironing; light ironing; heavy ironing? What causes it to yellow? Here are some of the disadvantages of Wash and Wear. The lick and promise finish that soon washes out — and this has been proven scientifically. Yellow . . . danger signal for chlorine retention. The fabric will not stay in size. Bad finish that eats the fibre. Easy to wash; hard to iron. Trimmings not treated for fastness. Finish that turns boardy after several washings. The reputable textile manufacturers know their fabrics and what they will do, and do not make unreasonable claims, but invariably the garment manufacturer will add some accessory that renders that particular fabric unserviceable, absolutely disregarding information passed on by the textile manufacturer. This is where we, as consumers, must be astute. If we want good serviceable merchandise on our markets we must be discriminating as well as thrifty and demand that this merchandise be launderable and dry cleanable, as advertised. Do it yourself may be fine but let us consider that during the average life of a garment, invariably a time will come when it is sent to the professional for processing. If we are unaware of the treatment the garment has received before reaching us, trouble may occur. Here at Crown it has been proven, repeatedly, that garments we launder and dry clean regularly remain, for the part, as originally intended, and have a much longer life. Let's face it . . . who is in pocket?

Speaking of saving . . . TRY CROWN'S CLEAN AND STORE PLAN.

The president, Mrs. Ezra Woodard, presided. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were heard and letters of thanks were read from Mrs. Daisy Aiken, Miss Viola Moranville and Miss Diane Wilson. A letter from the handicraft technician at Macdonald college informed the members of an exhibition of weaving, leathercraft and rug hooking.

Mrs. L. Miller read the annual report, thus ending another active year. Mrs. George Buckland sr. reported that $382 had been realized during the past year. Auditing of the books was capably accomplished by Mrs. H. Stubbs and Mrs. Antoinette Brault.

The captain's attendance team with Mrs. Harold Beane as one captain had an attendance of 100 while the losing team with Mrs. Harold Taylor as captain, had 83 in attendance and they are to entertain the winners at a later date. Each convener in turn submitted her annual report.

Mrs. Harold Taylor gave a report on the board meeting held at Ayer's Cliff. Among the different topics discussed the question of continuing the monthly broadcast or not was talked over and it was decided that each publicity convener of the county would send in the list of activities of her branch and this material would be compiled by Mrs. Harold Taylor who will in turn broadcast the program over station W.I.K.E. in Newport, Vt.

It was noted that there is a need at the camp for crippled children at Ayer's Cliff for crib pads and arm bands, also used pyjamas and dungarees.

There are vacancies for officers in the county for citizenship, home economics, education and health and welfare. Names for officers for these vacancies will be received by Mrs. H. Taylor.

Mrs. Neil Brevoort reported that the handicraft technician would give a box loom and waffle weaving course on April 28 to 30, if Beebe could unite with one other branch.

It was decided at the February meeting that each member, on her birthday month, give a penny for each year of her age, this to go toward the flower fund.

The round robin was won by Mrs. John Heald.

Stirring Talk On Youth Activities Heard At Richmond Board Of Trade

RICHMOND — "An important work in a community is that of dealing with the teenage problem. They are the most important product of any community." In these words, Fraser Woodhouse, regional director, Eastern Area, Boys' Club of Canada, told members and friends at the monthly dinner-meeting of the Richmond and Melbourn Board of Trade what the Boys' Club has done for young people.

Mr. Woodhouse, guest speaker at the meeting which was held in the Golden Room of the Richmond Hotel, had come up with a stirring talk on youth activities everywhere and on what should be done in surrounding communities. He felt that it was the responsibility of the parents of the young people to bring them up properly. He mentioned there was a broad scope of experience to look forward to when they are young, including sports.

In regards to calling such a project a youth center, the speaker said that it was preferable to have it known as a Boys' Club because it was mostly for boys. The same goes for girl clubs, where boys would not be wanted. The Boys Club is not recreational but a guidance for young people. It is meant to help them with different activities, to keep an eye on them and keep them out of places like taverns, pool halls and shady restaurants. He mentioned that the town Hall would be an ideal site.

The speaker was introduced by Peter Kaye of the Youth Committee of the board. Mr. Kaye gave brief outlines of what his committee has achieved in promoting such a venture. Dr. Jean Smith thanked the guest speaker.

The president of the board, L. P. Labrosse, then introduced another guest, the assistant general manager of the Provincial Chamber of Commerce, J. P. Letourneau.

Mr. Letourneau said he was pleased with the activity of the Richmond and Melbourn Board of Trade. He spoke briefly on the Board of Trade and noted that there were 25,000 members in Quebec Province only, comprising 150 local groups. There are 700 local chambers in Canada alone and 64 countries of the world that have such organizations. He noted that Richmond had one of the oldest boards, having come into being back in 1874.

Head table guests were H. P. Stone, pro-mayor; G. H. Poulin, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Richmond; Mr. Kaye of the Youth Committee; Mr. Woodhouse, Mayor Alfred Geoffroy; Mr. M. Labrosse; G. R. Stewart, secretary of the board; Mr. Poisson, Mr. Letourneau and Rev. J. L. Dean, of Chalmers United Church.

This being Civic-Youth Night, members of the Town Council were invited and included the Mayor, Mr. Stone, J. P. Brouillette, M. Butler and G. M. Alexander. Other guests were Robert Simpson, Mayor of Ulverton; L. F. Sommerville, principal of St. Francis High School, Roland Desvar, director of physical education for RDA schools; Donald Chamberlain, Scoutmaster, C. Pope, president of the Richmond Minor Hockey League; Stanley Bushy, secretary of the body; Lucien Cabana, president of the Richmond Hockey Association; and Roger Cameron, past national vice-president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, plus 65 members and friends.

Among those discussing the Board of Trade problems with Mr. Letourneau, were Mr. Labrosse, president of the local group; Mr. Stewart, secretary; R. Bedard, vice-president; Dr. Jean Smith, R. A. Marcotte, J. P. Brouillette, Dr. E. Jacques and George Ewing, directors; F. Menard, George Morin and Gilles Marcotte.

Mr. Poisson, who is regional president of the Boards of Trade in this district, also pointed out a few important items which interested the local members.

Farnham Youth Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury

FARNHAM — Arthur Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Palmer, escaped serious injury while riding his bicycle home from school. Finding the gates were closed at the C.P.R. crossing he decided to go around them, on to the railroad track, just as the noon train was pulling in from Megantic.

He quickly applied his brakes but slid into the second car of the train. The bicycle was badly damaged, but young Palmer escaped with slight bruises to his leg.

Edgar Laroche, a C.P.R. employee, took him to the doctor where he was examined and treated for bruises. A Farnham policeman accompanied him home afterwards.

Ray St. Cyr Tallies Winner As Beavers Edge Meteors 3-2 In Close Tilt

Carmen Basilio Favored To Retain His Crown In Rematch Tonight With Sugar Ray Robinson In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — After a week of rather unusual pre-fight shenanigans, Carmen Basilio risks his middleweight title against the veteran but still artistic Sugar Ray Robinson tonight in Chicago Stadium.

The rematch, six months after the 30-year-old Basilio gained a split 15-round decision over Robinson in New York, will be on closed circuit television in 38 states and parts of Canada and on radio. Fight time is 11 p.m. EST.

Robinson, 37, attempting to regain the 160-pound crown for the fourth time, never has been beaten twice by the same fighter. His record: 149 wins, six defeats, two draws. He won 91 of his fights by knockouts.

Basilio's record: won 52; lost seven; seven draws; 25 wins by knockouts.

The scheduled 15-round encore will be scored under the five-point must system.

EACH GETS 30 PERCENT

The gate is expected to be about $400,000 with attendance near 19,000 although ticket sales did not hit the level of earlier estimates by the International Boxing Club.

TV proceeds will be about $300,000 and radio $30,000. Movie rights are yet to be figured. Both Basilio and Robinson will receive 30-per-cent slices of everything.

The champion remained a solid

8-to-5 betting choice after odds last week were reported to have gone as high as 11-to-5 in his favor.

Different reports on the odds, George Gainford's charges of chloroform in Basilio's cut lotion in the last bout, Robinson's reported but denied weight battle, Basilio's cocoon-like retreat from the public in training—all these have added up to considerable tomfoolery for a fight of this stature.

Robinson was reported to have gone to a bath house "to sweat off weight or have treatment for a sore back." He was reported working in heavy sweat suits to boil down to the 160-pound limit. Actually Robinson looked as lithe as ever in drills, never showed signs of a sore back, and flashed contrasting signs of rustiness and vicious artistry in workouts.

RECEIVES TROPHY — Gilles Dube, playing coach of the Sherbrooke Beavers is seen receiving the Lambert Trophy for winning the scoring championship of the Massachusetts Hockey League from Mr. Lambert of Asbestos. 2,130 Fans Witnessed Thriller As Teams Battle To Final Second; Meet Wednesday In Next Fixture

A story-book finish was certainly in order last night at the Arena when Sherbrooke Beavers eked out a 3-2 victory over Asbestos Meteors to move ahead 3-2 in the four-out-of-seven finals of the Massachusetts Hockey League playdowns. The sixth tilt of the series is slated for Asbestos Wednesday evening.

The tying goal and the winning marker were both registered in the last minute of the game. Albert Moore of Asbestos was credited with the tying tally as the Meteors knotted the count at 19:05 but this was shortlived as Ray St. Cyr got the nod for sliding the disc by Bergeron twenty seconds later as the 2,130 fans went wild.

The tilt was one of the best played so far in the series and the outcome was in doubt right until the final siren. At no time did one team or other run away with the play. It was nip-and-tuck the whole way and the fans certainly witnessed a grand game.

The Beavers had young Rainville Dubois back in the nets to replace Claude Labossiere, who was fired by Coach Dube for failing to respect training rules. Dubois, who hadn't seen any action, except practices, for the past six weeks gave a very good account of himself. He came up with some outstanding saves in the third period when the Meteors were forcing the play.

There was no scoring in the first period although both teams had good chances. The Meteors opened at a good clip but the Beavers were right along as both teams swung into high gear from the opening faceoff.

Robidas and Moore were tagged with majors for fighting just before the end of the frame but nothing happened. At the time Michelin was sitting out a hooking penalty but returned within seconds to his mates.

Frankie Reid missed a beautiful opening from close range and then Bob Beadry was stopped by Bergeron, who was having a good night. Michelin opened the middle session with an end-to-end rush but Dubois came up with the save.

Dubois was called upon to extend himself from Leger who was on his doorstep but the little netminder made the save to rob the hard-working forward. Pee Wee Leblanc was the next to come close as play was moving right along.

Blais went off for slashing and Gilles Dube worked right in on a break but his effort was turned aside. Marcel Benoit drew a misconduct for expressing his opinion too loudly and then Gilles Dube followed him at the same time for voicing his about the whole matter.

This was a bad break for the Beavers but the rest of the team managed to hold the fort for the full ten minutes but it was close. Bob Beadry potted the first tally when he teamed up with Frankie Reid and Pierre Langlois with Michelin sitting out a penalty.

In the third period Laurent Drouin rifled a hard shot which caught the upper hand corner of the net to tie the game. Following this the Meteors were digging the whole way with everybody going all out.

St. Cyr was in but Bergeron slid out to smother the rebound. Beadry was back again but this time he was turned aside. Real Rousseau was credited with the second goal when his shot slid under Marcel Forgues' stick and Claude Bergeron's extended arm.

The Meteors kept driving all out for the equalizer but no one in the rink expected it to end up as it did. The announcer had just given the last minute of play when Albert Moore snared the disc from a corner faceoff to drive it by Dubois.

The supporters of Asbestos went wild but this was cut short exactly twenty seconds later when Ray St. Cyr picked up a rebound off Bergeron to bat it into the meshings and put the Beavers back out in front once again with twenty-five seconds left in the game.

It was a hard break for the Meteors who had just knotted the count but the locals earned this one and were forced the limit until the final second of play as the Meteors, after the faceoff, dug right in and Dubois was called upon to stop a few hard ones.

Coach Glaude had yanked Bergeron for the extra man when his club tallied the equalizer. It was anyone's game and the breaks certainly decided the issue as both clubs went the whole way for the full sixty minutes.

Sherbrooke: Dubois, Parr, Dube, St. Cyr, Rousseau, Benoit, Emond, Reid, Beadry, Langlois, Beaudoin, Leblanc, Gagnon, Blais, Robidas.

Red Wings Not Awed By NHL Champs, We're Going To Give It Our Best, Says Coach Abel; Team In Top Shape

MONTREAL (CP) — Detroit Red Wings go into tonight's Stanley Cup semi-final against Montreal Canadiens not the slightest bit awed at taking on the National Hockey League champions. "We're not coming in scared," said coach Sid Abel with a snap of his jaws. "We're going to give it all we've got. We haven't an injury in the club. We're in the best shape we've been all season."

Abel brought his Red Wings to Montreal Monday by chartered plane. Canadiens arrived several hours later by train after losing 4-2 to the Wings in Detroit Sunday in the final game of the regular season.

The Red Wings got away to a wobbly start early in the season and were something of pushovers for Canadiens in the first half. It was different in the second half, the Wings finishing in third place and splitting four games with Montreal along with three ties.

Abel said he is using one set line — Norm Ullman at centre, Gordie Howe on right wing and Johnny Wilson on left. Otherwise he mixes up his forward combinations as he thinks best.

TWO OUT FOR HABS

Canadiens, who all but ran away from the league despite their string of injuries, will still be shorthanded two defencemen tonight—Dollard St. Laurent and Tom Johnson.

But Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, high-scoring right winger, will be back for the first time since Jan. 28 when he underwent an emergency operation for a ruptured bowel.

Albert (Junior) Langlois, called up from Rochester Americans of the American League, will work on defence. He was used Sunday.

Coach Toe Blake, already worrying whether he can maintain his perfect record by winning three cup championships since taking over the club, said he was highly pleased with the work in Sunday's game of goalie Jacques Plante, back after an injury March 13 in Boston when he suffered a concussion.

"Plante couldn't be blamed for the loss Sunday; he couldn't even be blamed for any of the four goals Detroit scored."

Goaltender Jacques Marcotte May Stay With Maple Leafs Even Though Deal Was Quashed By NHL President

TORONTO (CP) — Goaltender Jacques Marcotte may stay with Toronto Maple Leafs even though Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, quashed the club's original deal with New York Rangers.

Marcotte, a member of the Rangers' farm system, was "loaned" to Leafs last month for possible use as a replacement for regular Ed Chadwick. But he was injured in practice and never saw action.

Campbell said the sale was conditional and therefore improper under NHL regulations, but it could be reworded to become valid. By this time, however, Leafs had decided they didn't want Marcotte.

Stafford Smythe, head of the committee of seven which guides the Leafs, said Monday night he still doesn't want Marcotte but "the other members of our committee tell me I should be a gentleman."

Rangers now agree to give up Marcotte in exchange for professional rights to Bill Kennedy, a Junior A star with Toronto Marlboros, $5,000, and an unnamed player.

Originally Leafs were to try the netminder out until the end of the season in exchange for Kennedy and $5,000, if they wanted to keep him. Rangers were to get Leaf defenceman Marc Reaume also.

Smythe now says he may agree to some variation of the revised plan.

Washington's Roy Sievers Still On Sidelines; Host Of Games Are Washed Out; Cubs Wallop Indians

Washington's Roy Sievers, the American League's home run and runs batted in king, today still was immobilized.

Sievers, who rapped 42 homers and knocked in 114 runs last season, hasn't played in nine days. The Senators' big gun was hit in the leg by a batted ball March 12, suffering a bruise. He played in three games, wound up pulling a muscle and has been idle since.

Washington was rained out Monday as were a host of other teams. But two games escaped the weather. Chicago Cubs laced Cleveland pitching for a 13-8 victory and Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 4-3.

Cub shortstop Ernie Banks drove in five runs with a homer, his seventh this spring, and a pair of doubles. The Redlegs bunched four of their nine hits in the sixth inning and tallied three times for their victory.

San Francisco Giants sold infielder Foster Castleman to Baltimore Orioles for "something in excess of the $20,000 waiver price."

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Pancho Gonzales defeated Lew Hoad Monday night to take the lead for the first time since their world championship tennis tour began.

The veteran champion from Los Angeles beat the blonde Australian 6-4, 6-4, 14-12 and now has a 22-21 edge in a 100-match tour.

Rangers And Bruins Clash For First Time Since 1940 In Stanley Cup Play; Bruins Hold Edge In Season's Games

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Rangers enter Stanley Cup competition for the third straight season tonight, going against Boston Bruins. The best-of-seven semi-final series starts on Madison Square Garden ice at 7:30 p.m. EST.

Rangers Call Up Bruce Gamble From Biltmores

TORONTO (CP) — Goaltender Bruce Gamble, formerly with Guelph Biltmores of the Junior A Ontario Hockey Association, Monday was ordered to report to New York Rangers as the National Hockey League team's spare goalie in Stanley Cup play-offs.

Gamble had been scheduled to play for Ottawa-Hull Junior Canadiens in Memorial Cup play-offs. The loan had been approved by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

CBC To Carry Crucial Games In NHL Series

TORONTO (CP) — The CBC said Monday its English - language television network will carry crucial and deciding games in the best-of-seven Montreal-Detroit Stanley Cup semi-final.

Only one game of the Boston-New York series will be televised, Saturday night's game at Boston.

The French network and CBMT-TV in Montreal will carry the first two games of the Detroit-Montreal series tonight and Thursday from Montreal.

Facilities have been cleared to enable televising on both networks deciding games of the series, starting after one team has won three games.

Providence, R. I. — Charley Norkus, 197 3/4, Newark, N.J., outpointed Ollie Wilson, 185, Hartford, Conn., 10.

For Rangers, a second-place finish was their highest position in the regular season race since they finished first in 1941-42.

Yet the Bruins beat them in the regular schedule. The final count showed Bruins with six victories, Rangers with five, and three others ending in ties.

The Rangers and Bruins both expected to be at full strength for the series opener.

Bruins have been switching between goalies Don Simmons and Harry Lumley but it is likely Simmons, regular goalie until he injured his shoulder, will get the call.

New York goes in with 12 forwards broken into four distinct units. They've got Dave Creighton centering for Andy Bathgate and Camille Henry; Red Sullivan for Andy Hebertson and Parker MacDonald; Hank Ciesla for Gerry Foley and Dean Prentice, and Larry Popein for Danny Lewicki and Guy Gendron.

Ciesla is the lone Ranger without Stanley Cup experience.

Gump Worsley, who went up against the Bruins nine times in the 14-game series, shows an excellent record in goals against time. Gump allowed 19 goals in nine games, two of them shutout performances. Rangers won four, lost three and tied two with Worsley.

Stanley Cup games are played to a decision. All ties at the end of 60 minutes are played in 20-minute overtime periods to a sudden-death conclusion, the first overtime goal ending the game.

Only Tom Johnson And St. Laurent Will Be Missing For Tonight's Tiff With Detroit, Expected For Thursday

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens go into their Stanley Cup semi-final tonight probably as well off for manpower as they have been all season.

Canadiens, nevertheless, still haven't shaken the injury jinx. They are still short two defencemen, Dollard St. Laurent and Tom Johnson. Both may get into the second game against Detroit Red Wings Thursday.

They are getting one long-absent player back—Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, who will be in the lineup for the first time since Jan. 28 when he suffered a ruptured bowel. He was also an early-season victim of the Asian flu and pneumonia.

The excessive injury toll that began last fall and claimed top stars may be some kind of National Hockey League record. In any event, only three of the regulars played the full 70-game schedule.

When the regular season ended Sunday night, total missed games had climbed to 180, more than 2 1/2 complete 70-game seasons.

Of the three regulars who played all 70 games, Dickie Moore should have been sidelined more than a month ago. He suffered fracture of a wrist bone but didn't want to quit because he was gunning for the scoring championship, which he ultimately won. He had the wrist put in a special cast which allowed free use of his thumb.

The other two iron men are Claude Provost, a rugged right winger, and Phil Goyette, little rookie centre.

Stanley Cup Playoffs Open Tonight With Ted "Scarface" Lindsay Missing

Richmond Leads In Round-Robin Darts Tournament; Bob Heale Cops Singles Crown With Omer Mallette Runner-Up

Richmond teams posted victories in the Legion round-robin darts tournament which has branches from Danville, Drummondville, Victoriaville and Richmond competing.

Richmond's Branch 15 no. 2 team has posted two victories in games played here. They went against team 1 taking the tilt 23-17 last week and Saturday they downed Drummondville no. 2 team 27-13.

This game had two five-round winners for Richmond, coming off darts thrown by Omer Mallette and Jim Leckie. Earl Copping, Eddie Knowles and Lorne Armstrong took four while Wally McCabe and Eddie Campbell dropped three. Les Dalton lost four rounds in the same game.

The Drummondville team was short two men to make up their roster but were aided by Harold Kydd and Bob Heale of the Richmond branch. Kydd won three out of five and Heale lost four. Three Drummondville players Twenty junior rinks comprised of leads and seconds, started play last night at the Sherbrooke Curling club for the new Canadian Bank of Commerce Trophy.

Rinks from nearly all the E.T. Curling centres have made at least one entry. Sherbrooke leads the list with eight rinks followed by Lennoxville who have 5 and Magog with 3. Windsor Mills, Thetford, North Hatley, and Celanese of Drummondville each have one entry apiece.

Maritime Senior Hockey Pictures Beginning To Clear Up As Teams Prepare For Final Drive To Title

The Maritime senior hockey picture began to jell Monday night as titles were decided in the New Brunswick North Shore and Cape Breton Senior leagues.

Bathurst Papermakers skated Fredericton Capitals into the ice at Bathurst to take the fifth game of the North Shore final 12-1. Papermakers won the best-of-seven series 4-1 and now meet Campbellton Tigers in the best-of-nine provincial final opening at Bathurst Wednesday.

Northside Combines whipped Glace Bay Miners 6-1 at North Sydney to take the deciding game of a gruelling best-of-nine Cape Breton Senior final. Combines won the league schedule after exchanging the lead with Miners half-a-dozen times in the final weeks. Combines open a best-of-nine series with Charlottetown Royals in Charlottetown Wednesday.

Despite the fact that the organizers did not obtain a full draw, Bouspiel Chairman Bart Holtham is confident of a successful week's play. He stated that next year the committee plans to throw the event open and allow every club as many entries as they wish until the draw is full. This year each club was limited to a specific number of rinks and many did not fill their allotment. Five clubs, Drummondville, Sutton, Richmond, Granby, and the Border made no entry at all.

The runner-up trophy is still a question mark but we have heard rumors to the effect that a trophy donated to the Lennoxville Curling Club for Junior competition is being considered and possibly with the consent of the Lennoxville Club, it will be placed in the competition.

Something new in the line of bonspiels is being run in North Hatley this week in the way of an "Industrial" Bonspiel. The innovation has created a good amount of interest as Club President Paul Theobald reports a 26 rink entry from various E.T. industries.

INTRODUCING...

P.Q.G.A. Releases Dates For 1958 Season; Don Doe Of Granby Cops H. R. Pickens Sr. Memorial Trophy

MONTREAL — The Province of Quebec Golf Association released a list of 27 fixtures for tournaments in the Montreal area mainly. To these will be added shortly those covering activity in the Ottawa and Quebec City Districts.

Feature of the 1958 schedule is the fact that many main events have been brought forward by as much as two full weeks. This was necessitated by the Royal Canadian Golf Association's decision to move up the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship, scheduled for Scarborough Golf Club in Toronto, July 21st-26th. Traditionally proceeding this event on the Saturday before is the Interprovincial Team Matches for the coveted Willingdon Cup. Each Province enters its four top players for the gruelling 36-hole medal play event to decide the leading provincial team.

Quebec's schedule of test and trial events have had to be advanced accordingly so that whereas the Quebec Amateur Championship was played July 19th in 1957, this major tournament is slated for Kenawaki Golf Club, July 4th - 6th. Weather in Quebec makes it uncertain to schedule events much before the first week in June.

This year the Quebec Spring Open gets players off to a fast start at Islemere Golf Club, May 30th, no great difference in time over previous seasons. Hence between that date and the Willingdon Cup Team Test Matches, July 12th - 13th, no less than 10 major events will be staged in Quebec, inclusive of the Junior Championship and the Quebec Open. The latter will be held at scenic Laval sur le Lac Gold Club, July 11th.

The P.Q.G.A. also announced that Don Doe, Granby, led the 1957 parade for the H. R. Pickens Sr. Memorial Trophy, with a low average for the prescribed eight tournament rounds of 74.75. Other leading averages were as follows: 2. Brian McGuigan, Summerlee, 75.25; 3. John Turner, Hampstead, 76.25; 4. Elliot Godel, Elfridge, 76.25; 5. Ken Banks, Country Club, 76.375; 6. Ed MacLaine, Summerlee, 76.875; 7. W. McBeth, Kanawaki, 77.625; 8. Dave Hardie, Hampstead, 77.75; 9. M. Morrison, Rosemere, 78.125; 10. M. Garfinkle, Elmridge, 78.25.

Al Leader Doubts If WHL Will Go After Edinburgh

SEATTLE (AP) — Al Leader, president of the Western Hockey League, said Monday he doubts the WHL will challenge the Quebec Hockey League for an Edinburgh Trophy playoff this season.

He said the WHL playoffs could extend until May 10, in which case it is unlikely a playoff site will be available. Leader said the final decision on whether to challenge will be made when WHL playoffs are completed.

The Edinburgh series would be played in WHL territory this year under the alternating site agreement.

Quebec Aces of the QHL won the trophy last year, defeating Brandon Regals five games to one in the best-of-nine series.

Asbestos Hotel Leads SETDL Darts Playoff

ASBESTOS — Asbestos Hotel made it four straight in the SETDL darts playoffs when they downed the Massawippi champs, Pleasant View, 26-14 in a game played in Asbestos. Two duos on the Asbestos aggregation came through for their club getting five rounds. P. Lessard with L. Labranche and George Henri Cote with R. Charland.

Four others on the Richmond Zone fell in their first round with two teams losing three games. Best duo for the North Hatley team was J. Rodney with J. Guild, getting three out of five. Five others on the Tom Fecteau team dropped three rounds.

Asbestos now has picked up 8 points from their four victories, undefeated in as many starts. They are well on their way to winning this title as they now have two games more to play. They meet RCEME in Sherbrooke on Thursday night and back to Asbestos where they play hosts to Beebe, Border Zone winners, on April 1.

Border will meet Massawippi this evening in another scheduled game. The schedule ends April 3 when Pleasant View plays hosts to RCEME.

Blackburn Rovers Black Bristol

LONDON (AP) — Blackburn Rovers defeated Bristol City 5-0 in an English soccer league division match Monday.

Ernie Taylor, Manchester United's master technician, and centre forward Alex Dawson both passed fitness tests Monday and will play against Fulham in Wednesday's replay of their cup semi-final match. The teams tied 2-2 Saturday.

The winner of the Manchester United-Fulham match will meet Bolton Wanderers in the cup final May 3 at Wembley Stadium. Bolton defeated Blackburn 2-1 in the semi-finals.

Alouettes Sign Paul Sharkady From UWV Squad

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes announced today that Paul Sharkady, a 225-pound lineman from University of West Virginia, has signed a tryout contract for the 1958 football season.

The club said Sharkady, native of Centerville, Pa., has been on Alouette coach Doug Walker's "sleeper list" since last year. He is 21 years old, weighs 225 pounds and is six feet, one inch tall.

First Time Since 1945 He Is Sitting Out Post-Season Games; Red Wings At Montreal With Bruins At Rangers

The Stanley Cup playoffs open tonight, but they really aren't the same. Old Scarface is missing.

Just in case you hadn't noticed it, Ted (Scarface) Lindsay, one of the great all-time left-wingers, will be watching from the sidelines when the first four clubs in the National Hockey League go out for the playoff melon. It's the first time since Ted hit the National Hockey League in 1945 that he hasn't participated in the post-season fun and games.

That 14-year span probably constitutes a record of some kind, but before people start sending expressions of sympathy to Ted, pause to ponder what hockey has done for him, apart from Detroit Red Wings selling him down the river to the perennial last-place Chicago Black Hawks this season.

That is something akin to being sentenced to solitary confinement, but Ted's feelings probably are soothed when he takes a look at his bank balance. Financially, he's done okay.

The authority for the above is general manager Jack Adams of the Red Wings who told Ted (Toronto Star) Burnett that he is becoming tired of hearing stories of "how badly Lindsay is being treated. Let Adams tell it:

"The last two seasons he was with the Wings he made $45,043.68 in salary, club and playoff bonuses. Since Lindsay joined the Detroit club as a kid of 18 for the 1944-45 season, he has averaged $14,014.05 in salary and bonuses. I hear that he got $22,000 with the Hawks this season which would boost his average per season."

Burnett used Adams' figures as a yardstick and calculated that Lindsay has picked up $204,182.65 for 14 NHL seasons.

"And," writes Burnett, "with the exception of this term, terrible Ted was worth every penny of it. He rates as one of the greatest left-wingers of all time and a fellow who helped sell tickets in every rink in the league."

MAY BE FINAL YEAR

Some observers feel that this is Lindsay's final year in the big time. If that is true, he'll bow out with an impressive Stanley Cup record, something that only one-time team-mate Gordie Howe can match.

While with the Wings Ted hit the playoffs 13 straight years since he jumped from Toronto St. Michael's juniors in the Ontario Hockey Association to the Wings at the start of the 1944 season.

Howe is one year short of Lindsay's record going into the current playoffs. The flashy Detroit right-winger joined the Wings one year after Lindsay and this season will be competing in his 13th straight playoffs.

The incomparable Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal Canadiens, in the NHL since 1942, has twice missed the playoffs — in 1948 when Canadiens placed fifth and in 1955 when he was suspended for the tag part of the regular season and the playoffs after a rumpus at Boston. The Rocket attacked Bruin defenceman Hal Laycoe and d suffenced linesman Cliff Thompson in a regular season game at Boston and NHL President Clarence Campbell slapped the suspension on him.

Richmond Hotel Wins Bowling Title And Hervey Trophy; Yvon Girardin And Florry Maguire Share Honors

RICHMOND — The Richmond Bowling League came to its season's end with Richmond Hotel emerging winners of the Hervey Trophy. Playoffs ended Sunday night and it wasn't until the final ball was thrown that a winner was decided.

The Hotel crew went against Aurizonas, winners of the Bradling Trophy for finishing in first place, while the Marcotte crew took Brown Shoe. Marcotte had a fair lead until the hotel boys finished their three strings with Aurizonas taking the match by nineteen pins.

The new champs racked up a total of 14,666 pins in the 18 games played in the playoffs. Marcotte was 19 behind with 14,647 followed by Aurizonas, who knocked down 13,530, and Brown Shoe with 13,312 pins. High single honors in the competition went to Yvon Girardin of Richmond Hotel having rolled 240 while Florry Maguire, captain of the same team, rolled high triple with 587. Maguire holds down season high triple with 554 and Bert Dunn of Aurizonas has high single for season having rolled 232.

The closing will take place after Easter when trophies will be presented to the winners and those who chalked up high scores on the seasonal play.

The top 11 bowlers during the playoffs are as follows with total pinfall and averages listed.
