LOOK AHEAD!

Canadian people may be divided roughly into two groups at the present time. One group is spending money as fast as it comes in. The others are piling up War Savings Certificates and Bonds as high as possible through rigid suppression of the temptation to spend as others are doing.

The spending group is finding it increasingly difficult to buy expensive articles, as war production increasingly curtails the manufacture of many peacetime commodities. But they manage to spend most of their current income by the purchase of many temporary articles and services to be secured at low cost.

There is one certain prediction which may be made now. When peace comes, the men and women who will be able to buy new furniture for the house, new cars, washing machines, radios and the like, or who will be taking well-earned holiday trips will not be those who are now spending their quarters and their dollar bills with reckless abandon.

It is much easier to buy more and more War Savings Certificates now when one visualizes them in terms of spending money—after Hitler is beaten.

OFFENSIVE AT HOME

Everyone is impatient for the United Nations to "take the offensive". They call for a second front in Europe, and already British and Canadian planes are preparing the way in deadly fashion.

What we need is an "offensive" right here at home. It is obvious that we must put everything into the maximum production of ships, tanks, planes and guns. And we must give cheerful obedience to the spirit, as well as the letter, of all government regulations. But we must also put forward an aggressive plan for building a pattern nation.

The world has looked to the democracies to produce a pattern for living. We have had the freedom to work it out, and if we fail to give the blueprint now—other nations have a plan and this generation may never have the chance again.

Our ancestors not only pioneered a new country for us, but they also pioneered in the realm of moral courage. Perhaps this was the tougher job and the one which was necessary before Confederation could become more than a dream. Perhaps we need to pioneer again.

For instance, George Brown and John A. MacDonal were not even on speaking terms and yet, for their love of Canada, they were willing to forego personal feelings and ambition, and work together under a third man for the unity of Upper and Lower Canada. It was only in this spirit of self-sacrifice that a united plan was found and worked out. Which is harder: to cut down trees, burn out stumps, fight Indians; or to bury ambition, dig out pride, throw away hates and decide to work with others for the good of the country?

Canada's destiny depends on the simple decision of each one of her eleven million ordinary people as to what he is going to live for, and the daily determination to fight hard for it. What we need is a conviction about what Canada can do in the world. Then we will fight an aggressive battle here within our own country against greed, hate and fear; so that we may be united to take the fight out into the world.

Canada will become great in the eyes of all when she comes first in the hearts of all her people.

UNITY AND GASOLINE

Hon. C. D. Howe has displayed understandable annoyance in dealing with a protest from Saint John over the gasoline restrictions in the Maritimes. Certainly no objection can be taken to his statement that he places continuity of supply for the fighting services above national unity and the integrity of the Government, both of which, according to the complaint, are endangered.

No district in Canada, of course, could be expected to welcome a law which placed it at a disadvantage as compared with the rest of the country. The reasons for the extra restrictions placed on gasoline in the Maritimes, however, have repeatedly been set forth so clearly, and they are, in fact, so apparent to anyone familiar with transportation conditions in that part of the Dominion, that it is difficult to understand Saint John's attitude. The wire sent to Parliament by the city was certainly worded in bad taste, and the national unity which it presumes to value so highly is definitely not advanced by the almost open hint of revolt over such a serious matter.

LYRIC GROUP HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING AT Y

Walter L. Johnston Elected President and Other Officers Named by Operatic Society

The Lyric Operatic Society held its 13th annual meeting in the Westmount branch of the Y.M.C.A. recently, when a large number of members attended.

The president, Walter L. Johnston, outlined the activities of the society for the past season. In the course of his remarks Mr. Johnston thanked the directors and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Norris for their untiring efforts on behalf of the society. Pleasure was expressed that this season, as had been the custom since the outbreak of war, the annual production had been sponsored by an outside group for charitable purposes. Mr. Johnston stated that during the last three seasons 5,000 had been raised by the society's sponsors for various charities. This season, all expenses in connection with the production of The Gondoliers had been paid and the profit handed to the sponsors, the McGill Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi and Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. Johnston told the meeting that twenty-three former members of the Lyric were on active service with the Canadian Armed Forces Overseas.

Plans were discussed for the coming season, but a definite decision as to the annual production was postponed until the autumn. An election of officers was held with the following slate being returned:

Honorary president, Major-General C. B. Price, D.S.O., D.C.M., V.D.; honorary vice-president, Thomas Irving; president, Walter L. Johnston; board of directors: Mrs. R. M. Whitmore, P.O. F.G. Sheward, Lawrence E.

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of next week are hidden. Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in this office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue.

A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper. The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers, as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers.

30 Crates of Clothing Shipped by V-Bundles

Women from all over Montreal and district contributed their work and donations to the large shipment of clothing which left the V-Bundles workroom at 4141 St. Catherine Street West for Britain last Friday afternoon. Comprising 30 tightly packed crates of clothing, shoes and blankets, the shipment is on its way to air raid victims in England, Scotland and Wales.

Since September, 1941, V-Bundles of Montreal and District have shipped 400 crates overseas, and many letters of appreciation have been received here from Britain. The gifts go to Lady Reading, in charge of the Women's Voluntary Service in London, and are sent by lorry to bombed areas.

Lady Kemsley, of the Women's Voluntary Service, always cables V-Bundles upon receipt of a consignment, following her cable with a letter. The personal touch is much in evidence, since little bulletins are sent from overseas to the V-Bundles workers; and a list of those groups who have contributed to the consignments is included in the crates sent from this side of the Atlantic. A recent letter of appreciation from Britain mentions the fact that "it is only by your help that we in the Old Country can carry on."

Branches Need Workers

The three branches of the V-Bundles of Montreal and District are in need of workers, it is stated; gifts of clothing are pouring in from generous donors, and while many of the garments are in excellent condition, there is still much mending and pressing and cleaning to be done.

The workrooms are situated at 4979 Queen Mary Road, 4141 St. Catherine street west and 1549 Van Horne avenue, and are open every day except Sunday from 10 a.m. until 9:30 p.m.

Many small groups take work home from the V-Bundles rooms to work on, while other women come to the rooms and remain there to help. Among the groups who contributed work to the more recent shipment were the Goodwill Club, the MacNaughton Group, the Winston Churchill Group and its junior branch, and the ladies of Temple Emanu-El.

The motto of V-Bundles, namely, "We can make something out of anything you give us," is well illustrated by the careful and painstaking conservation and creative work which is done every day at the branches. Old silk stockings can be made into a warm light quilt for a baby carriage, neatly woven and attractive; white felt hats are cut into tiny slippers for children and embroidered with pink roses; woollen caps are made by stitching the tops of old socks together; a man's worn out shirt becomes a pair of serviceable rompers for a British baby;

"Blitz bags," made from pretty materials, are filled with toiletries, such as soap, comb, washcloth, cold cream, safety pins, tooth brush and tooth paste, and included in the large boxes that Britain needs.

Notman Photo
Pilot Officer David H. Sargent, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sargent, of Lakeside, who formerly resided at 222 Melville avenue, has been reported missing after air operations last Friday, according to a cable received by his parents. A graduate of West Hill High School he was a lieutenant in the McGill C.O.T.C. before joining the air force. He has two brothers, Charles, on active service overseas, and Munro, a member of the Corps of Civilian Fire Fighters now training in Ottawa for overseas duties.

SATURDAY FIXED AS DAY OF HELP FOR CRIPPLES

Objective of $6,000 Announced by Douglas Bremner, President of School

The School for Crippled Children will hold its annual tag day on Saturday, it was announced today by Douglas Bremner, president of the school. The objective is $6,000.

Speaking at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Governors of the School, Mr. Bremner outlined the purposes of this tag day.

"People," he felt "were glad to help the crippled child and the tag day was the fairest and easiest opportunity. Every person gives according to his means, and the tag is the symbol that he or she has helped. When thousands wear a tag the day becomes 'The Crippled Children's Day'. Every donation is welcome."

The School for Crippled Children is located on Cedar avenue. It has an average enrolment of 200 children who every day must be picked up and carried home again by bus. This enrolment is made up of children of every race and creed. No fees are charged and no questions are asked. A knock at the door by a crippled to education.

Pupils Gain Weight

The majority of the children who attend the School for Crippled Children have a much earlier start than most, because they travel the route of the bus, therefore a light lunch is served them at mid-morning. At noon they are given a hot nourishing meal consisting of meat, potatoes, a vegetable, dessert and milk. With such care the average gain in weight per pupil is 9 pounds in a year.

Located adjacent to the Children's Memorial Hospital, children in need of treatment are taken over to the hospital. At the same time the school conducts bedside instruction for children confined to the hospital. Most of the pupils so taught are able to return to regular classes without missing a grade. For children that are heart cases, beds have been installed in the school. When a child tires he may rest until able to take up classes again.

The school, which is governed by representatives of the various Service Clubs, the Children's Memorial Hospital and the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, is carried on by government grant and by public subscription. Only two appeals are made each year for funds — at Christmas by letter and in June by the tag day. In seeking $6,000 through tags, the amount is necessary that the work of the School for Crippled Children be carried on in the usual way. The school will be grateful for any contribution that is made.

Children from the school will be out at their own request, as will members of the Women's Voluntary Reserve Corps who have again offered their services. The tag day is in charge of Miss Hazel D. McNiece, principal of the school.

On Tuesday the Red Cross units will meet from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with the evening branch meeting as usual at 7:30 p.m. Workers are urgently needed for this branch of service.

Wednesday, 3 p.m. the Women's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. N. T. Moore, 3455 Vendome avenue

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE A. LINDERBLAD

Resident Was Division Supervisor of Canadian Car and Foundry Co.

Final tribute was paid to Alford L. Linderblad, of 4556 St. Catherine street, at the William Wray Chapel on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Linderblad, engineering supervisor of the shell division in the Dominion works of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, died last Thursday at his home. He was 58 years of age.

The regular service was preceded by a Masonic service in the chapel at 2:30 p.m. Mr. Linderblad was active in Masonry during his lifetime, being a member of Elgin Lodge, A.F. & A.M.; Carnarvon Chapter, Knights Templar; and of the Shriners.

A native of Sweden, Mr. Linderblad came to Canada after a short stay in the United States, whither he migrated in 1915. He was associated for a time with the Canada Cement Co. and in 1922 joined the staff of Canadian Car and Foundry Co. as a designer of transportation equipment and other engineering projects. He was for many years on the engineering staff of the company's Turcot works.

He is survived by his widow and his mother and sister in Sweden.

BUS SCHEDULES ARE CHANGED

Montreal Tramways West End bus service is affected by an order of the Transit Controller calling for reduction of bus mileage on certain routes where such services are considered to be non-essential because of the existence of tram services within reasonable walking distance.

In view of this order the Tramways Company has drawn up the following schedule for the Westmount-N.D.G. route effective on Sunday.

On week days, service west of Green avenue will be discontinued except during the morning and evening rush hours.

On Saturday, buses will operate through to Madison avenue during morning and mid-day rush hours only.

On Sundays and holidays, buses will be turned back east of Greene avenue throughout the day.

In the chapel of the Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue, the marriage of Doris Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Aber, Wilson avenue, to Mr. Theodore Hertz (Harry) Evin, son of Mr. G. Evin and the late Mrs. Evin, was solemnized on Sunday by the Rev. H. Abramovitz.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white silk jersey, designed on Grecian lines. A coronet of pearls and brilliants held her veil of white tulle illusion. She carried a Bible covered with Calla lilies.

"LITTLE" VESSELS TO RECEIVE PARCELS FROM ALLIED POST

A plea for the Allied vessels that "are so small no one ever thinks of sending them anything" has been received by the Allied Post from a naval officer in charge of ships entering a summer port in Canada. It will be met in the June shipment of parcels, it was stated at a meeting of the organization held this week in the Ritz Carlton Hotel, at which six Allied nations were represented.

The objective of the organization for this month is the shipment of at least 1,500 individual parcels to Allied seamen, and an appreciable proportion of these will go to the "little" vessels. It was decided, though the majority will continue to reach the larger ships touching at major ports. Belgian, Norwegian, Polish, Free French and Greek vessels will be included in the June parcel distribution.

As the Allied Post wishes to include at least one warm knitted article in every parcel, since these are required at all year around, the packing committee emphasized a great need for more donations of such comforts from the public, if the full quota for June is to be reached. These donations should be sent to the Allied Post store room, Room 209, 1396 St. Catherine street west.

Bessborough Chapter

The regular monthly meeting of the Earl of Bessborough Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held on Wednesday, June 10th, at 8.15 p.m., at the home of Miss Doreen Wilson, 4140 Beaconsfield Ave.

Sets of crystal ice cream plates, sherberts sandwich plates, centre-pieces of ivory crystal, and cigarette trays, each piece monogrammed, were presented to the guests of honour. With the mothers of her young guests of honor, Mrs. A. Fee, Melbourne, Que., Mrs. T. H. McAthey, Montreal, and Mrs. C. A. Adams, of Kemptville, Ontario, Mrs. Mills received in the living room where early summer flowers, spiraea, roses and carnations were arranged.

As the bride and the two brides-to-be descended the staircase, they were greeted with wedding music.

In the dining room, the table was centred with white roses and lily of the valley. White swan and silver candelabra and tall bridal tapers completed the decorations.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED
BY
GERALDINE BRIETZCKE

What puzzles us most of the time in the thriller movies is the Girl. She never will stay home, and the wilder the pace of gunfire or cliff-hanging, the neater and dainier she looks.

Whether it's the Burma Road or a domestic gangster hideout, sooner or later something moves under a piece of canvas, stumbles from behind a door or pops up from the tumble seat. Yes, you've guessed it — the Girl. She came along to add to the hazards of everything, and it's so late for the hero to send her back; or else if he does send her back, we have the same moving, stumbling or popping up all over again while she puts in her appearance for the second time. And those clothes, and that sleek hair! We who catch buses and go to work without gangsters and Japs after us have a hard enough time keeping our noses from shining and our hair from uncurling; it doesn't seem fair.

The nonchalance with which the Girl trips over corpses, steals through pitch-dark cellars and floors the crook with a flying tackle puzzles us, too. We get far more flustered when the dog runs away in the park, or when we have to transfer from a west-bound No. 70 car that has suddenly made up its mind to take a dive down Victoria avenue and go east again. We wonder if Hollywood would like to write and tell us how to keep "that lettuce look" in spite of suburban vicissitudes like these, let alone crooks and cellars.

A local lady was looking over an old notebook in which she had written the sayings uttered by some children she knew thirty years ago, and read us a few excerpts. Our own childhood isn't so far behind us but that we can feel sympathy for the small girl who was giving a party for her toys. Her brother had a favorite pillow, and he had a name for it. He called it Deedle-Dee. That was all very well, but Marjorie was on the point of tears when her brother insisted that she should invite Deedle-Dee to the feast as well. "Nobody ever heard of a pillow being asked to a party," she choked indignantly, feeling that her social life was breaking up in ruins before her very eyes.

We're sorry to have to tell you that Cannonball, the infant robin whose brief history we reviewed last week, died of malnutrition or over-nutrition, despite frantic efforts with sheer flowing skirt, and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. David Gelber, sister of the groom, wore a flowered dinner gown. Dinner was held at the Mount Royal Hotel where the bride's table was decorated with spring flowers.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Evin left on their wedding trip. The bride wore a moss green ensemble with black accessories.

WAR has laid a heavy responsibility on public transportation companies. The urgent need of raw material for the manufacture of mechanized armoured equipment has restricted the number of vehicles which can be provided for our service. The curtailment in the use of gasoline and rubber forces more people to depend upon the public transportation system to carry on their business. More and more, our vehicles will be called upon to carry the burden of taking war workers to and from their work. We pledge ourselves to do our utmost to fulfil the obligations placed upon us. We, therefore, ask your co-operation.

YOU, our passengers, wish to travel more quickly and we wish to carry you more quickly. You want regular service. We want to give you more regular service.

We have no private right of way. Fires, accidents, processions, etc., create major traffic interruptions which disorganize our schedules—but, there are certain things which can be done to improve the service.

WHAT WE CAN DO AND ARE DOING

1. INCREASE THE MILEAGE OF OUR VEHICLES. In 1941, street-cars and buses ran a total of 37,812,499 miles, an increase of 4,079,000 miles over 1940. This year the mileage is still further increased. In the first four months of 1942, cars and buses travelled 1,476,350 more miles than in the first four months of 1941—or an average increase of more than 12,000 miles per day.
2. PLACE IN SERVICE DURING RUSH HOURS EVERY AVAILABLE STREET-CAR AND BUS. On all main streets in rush hours, car follows car so closely as possible and a greater number cannot be moved over the important intersections.
3. KEEP OUR MAINTENANCE SERVICE EFFICIENT, so that we have a minimum of break-downs.
4. STUDY UNCEASINGLY THE CHANGING MOVEMENT OF PASSENGERS, so that quick adjustments to meet the altered conditions may be put promptly into effect.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

1. PLEASE AVOID, IF AT ALL POSSIBLE, USING OUR SERVICE AT THE RUSH HOURS (7.30-9.30 a.m. and 4.30-6.30 p.m.). 300,000 of our 900,000 daily passengers must be transported during these four hours. If, therefore, it is not essential, please avoid travelling during rush-hour periods.
2. PLEASE HAVE TRANSFER READY AND PRESENT IT TO OPERATORS UNFOLDED. Operators must inspect all transfers. What may seem a second's delay to the passenger in finding or unfolding a transfer may make the motorman miss a traffic light and keep the tram waiting.
3. PLEASE PURCHASE TICKETS IF POSSIBLE IN NON-RUSH HOURS. If you find it necessary to purchase tickets during rush hours, please have exact change ready. The delay of a few seconds in making change means slower service.
4. PLEASE MOVE WELL INTO CAR AFTER BOARDING TO CLEAR THE ENTRANCE AREA. This leaves room for those following to enter quickly.

ANY DELAY WHICH CAUSES A TRAM OR A BUS TO MISS A GREEN LIGHT (AND IT MAY BE ONLY A FEW SECONDS) IS SERIOUS and especially so if a series of lights is missed. When this happens, the vehicle continues to drop behind in its schedule and "gaps" occur in the service, which can only be remedied eventually by "short turning."
The average number of stops in a one-direction trip over our principal car lines is 42. Even an average delay of only 10 seconds at each stop will result in a tram or bus being 7 minutes late on its trip.

Selby Lake Inn Now Operated By Mrs. Jones

Ideally located among the cedars and maples and fronting the water, Selby Lake Inn is now operated by Mrs. F. G. Jones. Selby Lake is 55 miles from Montreal at Dunham, Que., just eight miles from Cowansville, via route 27. Directly in front of the inn is a spacious sandy beach with no sudden depths, safe for non-swimmers. For the more experienced a large diving raft is located in the deeper waters. The Inn has a good tennis court while golfers find a sporty nine hole course at Cowansville, just eight miles away.

Lake Ouareau Is Heart Of Laurentians

Miles of safe sandy beach with a horizon of virgin forest across Lake Ouareau. Is the view from the popular Blagrave Inn, St. Donat. It is 85 miles from Montreal and may be reached by route 30 via St. Akathe or by 18 via the Rawdon route. Lake Ouareau is one of the most picturesque lakes of the Laurentians with the stately beauty in nature's own unspoiled setting, seven miles in length and with a safe sandy beach. Numerous smaller lakes and streams are in close proximity which abound with speckled trout while Lake Ouareau is famed for its large lake trout.

surpassed elsewhere in the province, but beauty lies elsewhere too. The pastoral charm and historic interest of the Eastern Townships is also without equal in the Province of Quebec. The tourist who visits this region of fertile farm land, mountains, rolling landscape and lakes and rivers is awed with the beauty of a land with which summer vacation goes hand in hand. Though the Townships have prospered, and towns and cities have sprung up in intervening years, the same natural beauties that welcomed the United Empire Loyalists are there to charm the visiting holiday-maker. The scenic highlights of "Quebec's Troissachs" are presented for the tourist's benefit by the colorful Canadian Pacific Railway line from Montreal to Sherbrooke, in addition to connecting lines of the Quebec Central Railway. Between Farnham and Montreal the landscape is dotted with well-kept farm homes, peacefully grazing cattle and fertile market gardens. The setting here is pastoral.

Deeper in the Townships, the landscape undergoes a complete change and the traveller is treated to a panorama of sylvan sights in green hills, thickly wooded valleys, interspersed with glittering lakes and mountain streams. It is difficult to visualize two such contrasting scenic areas in close proximity.

Though Lake Memphremagog, Massawippi, and Brome Lake are foremost in tourist and summer vacation appeal, there are countless other resorts that have recently gained holiday prominence. Eighty miles east of Montreal on the C.P.R. line to Boston and the Maritimes, lies lovely Orford Lake with the lofty slopes of Mount Orford dominating the background. This resort provides ideal facilities for the camper who appreciates the challenging tug of a fish on a hooked line. Hiking, mountain climbing, boating, bathing and hunting find special favor with the visitor to this land of lakes and hills.

A little beyond Orford Lake, the shimmering surface of Lake Memphremagog comes into view. The waters of this attractive lake meet the C.P.R. line at the resort town of Magog, popular for many years as a sports and holiday centre. Excellently provided with hotel accommodation and various modes of transportation, Magog is the gateway to fine fishing waters, and Memphremagog itself is highly regarded by swimmers, boaters and canoeists. Townships to win the tourist's Other resorts in the Eastern vote include Knowlton, on the shore of Brome Lake, where fine facilities for golf and boating are available in a setting of rare beauty. Lennoxville, with its famous halls of learning, Sherbrooke, with its humming mills and factories, Megantic, near the border, are other points of interest to Township visitors. The Eastern Townships are truly Quebec at its scenic best.

Playgrounds Of Laurentians Peerless East Of Rockies

Six hundred thousand square miles of territory, over half of it virgin and unsettled, is the Province of Quebec, largest of the Dominion members. Ancient Indian wars, early French-Canadian history and the romance of Old France—even such distinctive historical paintings do not obscure the brilliant hues of the fishing picture.

Quebec has been endowed by a benign Providence with a generous natural attraction in its rivers, its lakes and its mountains. The Laurentians, particularly, are natural playgrounds unsurpassed this side of the Rockies. Many varieties of fish are found in the lakes and streams of this mountain vacation land. All told, the waters of the province boast Atlantic salmon, speckled brook trout, lake trout and ouananiche, muscalunge, black bass, dore, and Great Northern pike also are plentiful, as are other varieties of fresh-water favorites.

Really choice game regions are seldom found along the main highways and accordingly, Canadian Pacific Railway presents the solution by thrusting branch lines deep into the most desirable fish and game haunts. Principal gateways to Quebec's most popular and most fruitful fishing zones are strung along the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Rivers. They range from the Atlantic coast to the Gattineau district north of Ottawa, hundreds of miles to the west. They include the trout-filled lakes of the Laurentians and the waters of northern Quebec. They extend westward to the Kipawa Lakes, southward to the Ottawa River Valley, eastward to the Eastern Townships and northward to the Gaspé coast and Atlantic Ocean.

Many formerly quaint, sleeping habitation hamlets have suddenly come to life and are now popular vacation resorts as a result of the traffic realized during the Quebec fishing season. The largest and most prized fish found in Quebec waters is the Atlantic or Gaspé salmon. The Gaspé salmon is a renowned game fish and its haunts are fairly well confined to the rivers emptying into the St. Lawrence from the north, and the rivers of the Gaspé Peninsula east of Rimouski. This fish has also been known to make his way into the Saguenay River.

For the fish discriminating fisherman, Lake St. John at the headwaters of the Saguenay offers exceptional opportunities for the angler. This territory is recognized as the original habitat for the landlocked salmon. These waters harbor plenty of trout as well, some running up to six pounds with the average about three.

South of the St. Lawrence River, the Lake Megantic region (Megantic being an Abenaki Indian word meaning "abode of fishes") has a generous allotment of brook trout which run to a large size and are exceedingly gamey. The lake itself, connected with many other small bodies and many streams, is a clear, deep lake of impressive beauty, some twelve miles in length and at places four miles in width. Bass, lake trout and other varieties of game fish are found in surrounding waters. Access to this region is simplified by the Canadian Pacific Railway line running through the fertile, rolling country of the Eastern Townships.

The Laurentian Mountain district, and most especially that section reached by the Canadian Pacific Railway north of Montreal is recognized as a popular, near-home vacation land. Re-stocking operations have replenished the

BOOKING GOOD IN LAURENTIANS

Fine weather and an early spring have been the cause of many early openings of the various resort hotels in the Province of Quebec. Even with gasoline and tire restrictions, vacationists are planning their holidays during the coming months in large numbers. The Laurentian hotels and resorts are nearly all in readiness for the summer influx. Some of the larger hotels, which keep open the year round, also others opening about this time, report that their bookings are almost equal to those of previous years. Hotels, which would feel a depression by a curtailment of motor travel, have reported that their bookings are within 20 per cent of those of last year. A recent visitor to Montreal, who is also the proprietor of one of the largest hotels in this region, stated that he expects as good a season as last year and that mostly all his guests are arranging to arrive by train.

Training Command Team Heads Ball League

HOLDS MARGIN OF ONE POINT IN MUNICIPAL SENIOR LOOP; DOWNS ST. HUBERT BY 16 TO 8

Two wins out of the three games they played last week have given the No. 3 Training Command team a one point margin in the standing of the Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League. The Airmen from Melville Avenue have now won four games and lost one. Their nearest rivals are the Dodgers with three wins, a tie and two losses.

The Swans were one of the No. 3 Command victims when Mel Snyder's home-run with two men on base gave the Airmen a 4-1 win last Thursday evening. The league leaders' other win was at the expense of the St. Hubert Flying Squadron on Monday night when they won a heavy hitting encounter 16-8.

The Dodgers split even on the week's games, winning one, tying one and losing one. The Dodgers handed the No. 3 Command their only loss of the season on Thursday evening when they defeated them 8-6. Noel Romney's home-run with bases full and Don Durno's sensational catch to retire the last man of the game were the highlights of this fixture.

The Dodgers-Swans game on Friday night was easily the best game of the season along the excitement line. Two runs behind in the sixth inning, the Swans tallied four times with two out and pulled into a seemingly commanding lead but Johnnie O'Connell's home-run and Kevin Kennedy triple brought in three runs which gave the Dodgers a 5-4 lead. Not to be outdone the Swans tallied another run in the last half of the seventh with two out to make the score 5-4. Darkness prevented the game from continuing so that the teams had to be content with one point each.

No. 12 Equipment Depot team, newcomers to the loop, started out with a bang winning their first two games. The Depot team shut-out the St. Hubert Flying Squadron 7-0 behind the three hit pitching of Bradley Barill's two circuit clouts paced the winners at bat. The No. 12 Depot team defeated the Dodgers to win their second game of the week. A third inning rally which accounted for seven runs and was highlighted by Barill's third home-run of the still young season proved the Dodgers undoing. Tommie Brennan was on the mound for the losers and the twelve walks he issued did not do the Dodgers very much good.

The Royals proved the hard luck team of the week after defeating the Wireless School 8-7 last Wednesday evening and the Radiolocators 8-6 on Monday, both of the games were taken away from them for playing an uneligible man. Johnnie Mahaffey home-run king of the league last year barked out his first one of the season against the Wireless School. Dougie Maher smacked one out in the game with the Radiolocators while Gulliver and Joyal of the Airmen also hit for the circuit.

Barill of the No. 12 Equipment Depot is leading the league in home-runs with three. Johnnie Mahaffey of the Royals has hit the most triples 2 while Don Durno of Dodgers and Parker of the Wireless School have each knocked out three doubles. Tommie Brennan of the Dodgers and Jack Keen of the No. 3 Training Command have made the most hits 10 while Noel Romney of the Dodgers and George Scully of the Training Command have crossed the plate the most times, 8.

Games for this week are as follows: Tonight, Wireless School vs Radiolocators; No. 3 Command vs No. 12 Equipment Depot. Friday night, Royals vs Swans. Monday night, Royals vs No. 12 Depot; Swans vs No. 3 Command.

Wednesday night, Dodgers vs No. 12 Depot; St. Hubert vs Royals; Wireless School vs Radiolocators.

Girls' Ball Team Plays First Game

The Westmount girls' softball team played their first game on Tuesday night and although they dropped a 27-14 decision to the Red Wings, leaders of the boys Pee Wee section, they showed signs of heavy hitting. Most of the players were used in three or four different positions to get some line on their ability. Pitching seems to be the weakest spot while the outfield could also do with some strengthening.

Mary VanTangeren, Marge Forrest and Shirley Thompson led the girls' team at bat with two hits each. Marge Forrest hit a triple while Gladys Morgan, Shirley Thompson and Beverley Condon "knocked out" doubles.

Marge Armstrong, Mary VanTangeren, Gladys Morgan, Marge Forrest and Pat Logan split the hurrying duties for the nine inning game.

The team will play another one of the Pee Wee teams next Tuesday night at Westmount Park.

TEAMS BATTLE FOR TITLE IN BALL LEAGUE

The Bruins and the Bombers in the bantam section of the Westmount Municipal Baseball League are battling it out for the championship. Both teams have won four games and lost one. The two clubs will meet in the last scheduled league game on Monday morning at Atwater Park. In last week's games the Bruins defeated the Bombers 15-12 while the Bombers edged out the Roslyns 10-9.

In a midjet section game the Beavers defeated the Argos 9-2. This marked the Argos first defeat but left them with a two to one edge in the series. The two teams will meet again tomorrow afternoon and on Monday afternoon.

Ronnie Shaw was the big gun in the Bruins' 15-12 win over the Bombers. Shaw hit a home-run and a double. Bob Lunny of the Bombers duplicated this feat. Shea of the Bruins and Ned Jakman of the Bombers picked up three hits apiece.

Two big innings featured the Bombers 10-9 win over the Roslyns. The winners tallied five runs in the first inning while the Roslyns returned the compliment with seven in the second inning. After these two splurges it was a tight game. Earl MacDonald led the Bombers at bat with two hits while Ham. Wray and Bardwell did likewise for the losers.

Earl MacDonald of the Bombers has made the most hits, 8, with Shea of the Bruins. Bardwell and Wray of the Roslyns next in line with 5 each. Earl MacDonald has also scored the most runs, 11. Two members of the Bombers, Earl MacDonald and John Drury are leading two base hits with three each. Gullfoyle of the Bruins has hit the only triple while Bob Lunny of the Bombers and Ronnie Shaw of the Bruins have hit the only home-runs of the season.

Scattered now all over the Empire where war has sent Britons, members of that party are busy fighting democracy's battles. The story is told in letters received by Canadians who became fast friends of many of the members of the group.

Laurence Olivier writes from the Fleet Air Arm, and humorously remarks he is the only man who ever died the same day he passed his medical for active service—he plays the role of a French-Canadian trapper who is killed by Nazis. Assistant producer Roland Gillette writes from Devon where he files in the same service. His co-worker, George Brown, is in the R.A.F.

It was necessary to find a director and a cast who not only could sensitively feel the delicate and strange mood of the novel but also had the background and experience necessary to sincerely convey authenticity. It was only natural, therefore, that Academy Award winner John Ford, director of such realistic triumphs as "The Informer," "Stagecoach," and "The Grapes of Wrath," should be entrusted with the directorial chore.

The cast, it was decided, would be picked not alone for "name value" but rather for their suitability and adaptability for the roles they were to portray. Therefore, Zanuck and Ford, through constant research and endless testing, spent four times as much time casting the film than they did in the actual shooting. Finally, Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara, Donald Crisp, Anna Lee, young Roddy McDowall, John Loder and Sara Allgood were selected as the "perfect" cast of characters to bring Llewellyn's novel to "life" on the screen.

Among the thousands of books written annually there sometimes appears a novel so filled with beauty and tenderness, so encompassing in sweep, so towering in stature, that it can truly be called great. Such a book is "How Green Was My Valley," written by Richard Llewellyn.

Described as one of the finest literary efforts to come before the public in years, "How Green Was My Valley" is the story of Welsh mining folk defined by its author as "a drama of little people in little houses." It emphasizes the conflict engendered among peoples and classes in times of great change. Essentially the story of a mining family in South Wales, it depicts the prosperity they brought to their valley, and the valiant and dramatic struggle of these proud Welshmen to preserve their homes, their families, and their self-respect when that prosperity vanished.

For this epic story of a family whose peace and prosperity are shattered by the ever-multiplying complexities of modern life,

Physical Fitness Through Exercise And Diet

This is another in a series of health articles by P. M. McFarlane, Physical Director at the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

The management of the feet is a very important part of body mechanics. Since the whole weight rests upon them, they need to be strong and well used. If they weaken they give trouble within themselves, and also disturb the mechanics of the whole body, causing difficulty in standing and moving about, thereby bringing upon the individual all the penalties of poor posture and sedentary life.

A very large number of adults have feet that will not do the work required of them without fatigue or even pain. Few other physical defects are so common in any adult group. But no other defect is more easily preventable, or, in many cases, curable. It should be considered a reflection upon a person's intelligence or his will-power, or both, if he lets his feet get into such a state that he has to forego normal work or play because his feet "won't stand it".

Usually as a result of the habit of pronation, the foot becomes diffusely weak and inefficient. With the body weight constantly falling upon the feet, it is important that the weight fall upon the correct point in each foot. Otherwise, it is almost inevitable that the weight will press the bones of the feet away from each other, stretch the joints, flatten the arches, make the feet wider and longer, and weaken their power. Such a condition is popularly known as "flat foot," or "fallen arches," and medically as "weak foot."

Pronation itself and the resulting weakness of the foot are due to (a) weakness of the leg muscles that support and move the feet, or to (b) use of these muscles in a way that does not support the feet so as to keep them from giving under the weight of the body. Whether one cannot or does not bear the body weight properly, makes no difference in the results. Ordinarily, the muscles are sufficiently strong, and the trouble lies in bad habits of using the feet.

The following exercise if repeated daily will aid in overcoming pronation of the feet, and increase the efficiency of each. Sitting on the floor, bed, or other flat surface extend the legs so that the heels are resting about six inches apart. Extending the toes as far as possible—then, as the toes and arches are curved inward, draw the feet up toward the knees as far as they will go. Make sure that the knees are not bent. Try to keep the toes turned in as they move from the extended position to the flexed one. Repeat ten times.

Red Wings Are Undefeated In Pee Wee Softball Loop

Donnie McDonald's Red Wings remain undefeated in the Westmount Pee Wee Softball League. The Red Wings chalked up two victories in last week's games to win their fifth and sixth games of the season. The league leaders defeated the Cyclones 22-3 and the Cardinals 24-11.

The second place Boomerangs won two games during the week but they also dropped one. The Boomerangs defeated the Cyclones 18-5 and the Panthers 32-15 but dropped a 13-9 decision to the Cardinals.

Ross Gillingham's Panthers jumped into third place in the league standings when they won two games, the Panthers beat the Cyclones 29-10 and the Cardinals 17-13 but lost to the Boomerangs 32-15.

At the present time the Red Wings are far ahead of the race with six wins and no defeats. The Boomerangs are next in line with four wins and two losses. The Panthers are in third place with three wins and three losses while the Cardinals are pressing them for the last play-off berth with two wins and five losses. The Cyclones hold down the cellar position with a single win in seven games.

Earl MacDonald of the Red Wings has made the most hits in the league, 19. Donnie Wadsworth has made the most hits on the Boomerangs, 13; Jack Walsh the most on the Cyclones, 10; Mike Tucker the most on the Cardinals, 10; Manley Burris the most on the Panthers, 13. Earl MacDonald and Ken Livingstone of the Panthers have made the most doubles, 2. Gerald Hennessey of the Red Wings and Kenneth Peters of the Cardinals have hit the most triples, 2, while Earl MacDonald's the Red Wings' leading slugger is far ahead in the home-run race with 5. Donnie McDonald and Earl MacDonald both of the Red Wings have scored the most runs, each crossing the plate 17 times.

Only two games remain to be played in the league schedule and the Red Wings appear in both of them. The league leaders meet the Panthers tomorrow afternoon and then on Saturday morning the Red Wings play the Boomerangs. Unless a third place tie ensues between the Panthers and Cardinals the league play-offs will get underway on Monday with the Boomerangs and the Panthers meeting in the first game of a two out three game series. The second game will be played on Wednesday afternoon with the third if necessary on Friday afternoon.

In the event the Panthers and Cardinals end up tied for third place, the two tied teams will meet in a sudden death game on Monday afternoon with the winner then going on to meet the Boomerangs in a two out of three game series starting on Wednesday afternoon.

Star Blindfolded In Snowdon Play

Actors have played notable roles as blind characters, but Robert Young is first to do it blindfolded. This is his feat in "Joe Smith, American," now playing at the Snowdon Theatre in which he appears as a war-time defense worker in an aircraft plant.

The story places Young in a typical factory of the times where he is engaged on a secret device for planes. Enemy agents kidnap him, and he is tormented in an effort to force the secret from his lips. Although he is blindfolded during this sequence, Young catches fleeting glimpses of objects and the lower extremities of his captors beneath the binder. His cunning results in their eventual capture.

Marsha Hunt plays opposite Young. Prominent in the supporting cast are Harvey Stephens, Jonathan Hale, Noel Madison, Joseph Anthony, Don Costello, William Forrest, Russell Hicks, Mark Daniels and William Tannen.

The second feature on this program is "The Vanishing Virginian" starring Frank Morgan, Spring Byington and Kathryn Grayson. Latest news events from Paramount, Fox and British Empire news and short subjects complete this program.

First Putting Tourney To Take Place Tonight

The first putting tournament of the season will be held this evening on the adult course in King George Park. These events have caused no little interest in other years and should be very popular this season.

The tournaments this year will be in charge of a committee headed by Mr. F. W. Denigate. The tournament will start at 8:00 p.m. although players may start any time after. Thirty-six holes will be played and the person with the lowest score will be judged the winner.

After a slow start it appears that there will be enough entries to run the men's open doubles

Film Stars Making Their Roles Real

Britain's active service forces provided most of the technicians, executives and performers in the motion picture expedition to Canada a year ago to film "49th Parallel", the war picture which has been hailed by London critics as the best film of the year and has upheld their reviews by establishing new attendance records for every theatre it has played in England. The picture, one of Columbia's major 1942 offerings, is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Saturday night.

Scattered now all over the Empire where war has sent Britons, members of that party are busy fighting democracy's battles. The story is told in letters received by Canadians who became fast friends of many of the members of the group.

GREAT NOVEL NOW ON SCREEN COMES TO KENT
"How Green Was My Valley" Winner of Academy Award
Among the thousands of books written annually there sometimes appears a novel so filled with beauty and tenderness, so encompassing in sweep, so towering in stature, that it can truly be called great. Such a book is "How Green Was My Valley," written by Richard Llewellyn.
Described as one of the finest literary efforts to come before the public in years, "How Green Was My Valley" is the story of Welsh mining folk defined by its author as "a drama of little people in little houses." It emphasizes the conflict engendered among peoples and classes in times of great change. Essentially the story of a mining family in South Wales, it depicts the prosperity they brought to their valley, and the valiant and dramatic struggle of these proud Welshmen to preserve their homes, their families, and their self-respect when that prosperity vanished.
For this epic story of a family whose peace and prosperity are shattered by the ever-multiplying complexities of modern life,
