Shearer's Garage, Athelstan

The above picture is that of Bert Shearer's Garage, at Athelstan, built to replace the one which was destroyed by fire on the morning of February 2nd, 1953, when the building, together with its contents, was a total loss. The new garage was erected on the same spot as that of the former one, enlarged somewhat to meet the demands of the general public. It is now completed and very much up to date. The people of the village and surrounding community helped both financially and in giving of their time to help clear away the debris and in labor towards the rebuilding of the new garage, all of which was greatly appreciated by the Shearer family.

table centred with a very lovely wedding cake. Among the guests at the head table included Mrs. Hauber's bridesmaid; Rev. Andrews of Waterloo, the minister who married them 25 years ago; Mrs. Andrews; Mr. and Mrs. Merton Derrick, sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Hauber; Mr. and Mrs. Hunter of Detroit, Michigan, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Hauber; and Rev. and Mrs. Beale, Anglican rector of Clarenceville. Wedding

RADCLIFFE-LOUCKS

The wedding of June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Loucks, Jr. of Beauharnois, Que., to Mr. Gerald Radcliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Radcliffe, of Montreal West, Que., took place in St. Edward's Presbyterian Church, Beauharnois on Saturday, August 29th, at 9:00 p.m. Rev. W. H. Brown officiated at the ceremony and Mrs. I. M. Anderson played the organ. Standards of pink and white gladioli decorated the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white tulle over taffeta fashioned with a Queen Anne collar, and long sleeves of white lace ending in points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil was held by a Juliet Cap of matching lace in Petal effect, and she carried a semi cascade of pink delight roses and stephanotis.

Miss Betty Loucks, sister of the bride, her only attendant, wore a floor length gown of pale blue tulle over taffeta, having a sleeveless bodice of chantilly lace and a pelerin collar. She wore a band of semi colonial pink carnations and blue delphinium and carried a bouquet of matching flowers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where white gladioli were arranged. The bride couple left on a motor trip to the East Coast, the bride wearing a deep turquoise suit with brown accessories, and a corsage of gold poms.

Many out-of-town guests attended the wedding.

Obituary

The late Patrick P. Cunningham

Patrick P. Cunningham of 8 First St., Malone, N.Y., died August 24, at the Alice Hyde Hospital, Malone, N.Y., following a lengthy illness.

He was born in Ormstown, Que., and came to the States in 1921. He was employed on the Rutland Railroad as carman for 15 years. In 1905 he married the former Maude Gilmore of Virginia City, in Quebec City, after spending the summer with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Foers and Master David Urquhart of Ville LaSalle were guests at the Foers home last week. On Thursday, they left for Danville, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foers, Bobby and Barbara, where they spent the remainder of the week, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Patterson.

Neve, who died Dec. 17, 1947. Mr. Cunningham was a man of sterling character. A devoted husband and father and a devout Catholic and member of St. Joseph's Church, he was a daily communicant and Mass attendant.

Surviving him are two sons, Francis of Denver, Colo., and Earl of Malone; two daughters, Helen and Sara, both at home; two grandchildren, Pat Lee of Malone and Dick of Denver; one brother, Arthur, of Ormstown and one sister, Mrs. Mary Murphy, of Dewittville, Que.

He was one of 13 children. Of the eight sisters who predeceased, four belonged to religious orders, Sister Margaret of the Congregation of Notre Dame and Sister M. Gilbert, Sister Margaret of Scotland and Sister Ann Catherine, all of the Congregation of the Holy Name. One brother was Brother John of the Order of St. Viateur.

As a source of fuel, coal has yielded first place to oil in the United States. For 50 years other energy producers have been nibbling away at what once was virtually the sole source of commercial power.

Last year, 39.4% of the power generated in the U.S. came from oil, only 34% from coal. And that lead for the rival fuel, it is generally expected, will tend to increase in the immediate future.

What is true of the United States will certainly be true of Canada. Here, too, coal is losing out to oil, and especially with the two principal users, the railway locomotive and the home furnace.

For years the costs of mining coal have been rising because mining wages have been rising.

If coal is to continue a major source of fuel and the coal mines a major source of employment, then real costs of production must be brought down to a point where coal can compete with other fuels. That's the fundamental problem.

Growing Pains

AFTER more than half a century of hearing that the twentieth century belongs to Canada, some Canadians are beginning to expect that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's prophecy may come true. New developments under way or planned in the Canadian north are already attracting new population and new capital, and as yet no boundary to possible growth is in sight.

Growth is not without its disadvantages. While our great open spaces are becoming less open, the older cities and towns are also filled up. Municipal councils are finding that they have to deal more drastically than in the past with parking problems. Highways of which we were justifiably proud a decade ago are now found inadequate to handle week-end traffic efficiently and are uncomfortably congested on other days.

New residents need homes, and the building boom that has resulted from their demands has placed further responsibilities on governing bodies. The homes need the services of public utilities, which have to be expanded, entailing issues of debentures and a need for higher municipal tax revenues. New schools are also inevitable.

If a municipality has a sound policy of assessment and taxation, the investments in expansion of services should in time be liquidated by taxes on the property served. At the moment, municipal expansion is bound to bring difficulties in financing. Tax rates tend to rise along with the new growth.

With all the problems created by the influx of new citizens, a wise municipal council might well avoid getting involved in public housing. The first immigrants to this country built their own houses. Later arrivals were content at first with second-hand housing, which, as they prospered, they vacated for other newcomers. It is only in recent years that the idea has grown up that housing itself, as well as the service of houses, is a responsibility of a government rather than of an individual citizen.

It is to be hoped that Canada's growth will continue. Wisdom and common sense at all levels of government are needed if the growing pains are not to prove crippling.

Politics and Envy

ACCORDING to a chart published recently by Business Week, ninety per cent of the Russian people have incomes not greater than $400 a year. Incomes of much less than that amount are common among the peasantry, who may or may not remember that they were supposed to be the beneficiaries of the revolution.

At the top of the social scale in this theoretically classless society are the political heads, the bureaucracy and the chief scientists. In all, they comprise only ten per cent of the population, but thirty-five per cent of the national income goes to them. At that, their individual incomes, large in comparison with those of most of the Russians, are modest when compared with salaries paid for equivalent work on this side of the Atlantic.

Thus it looks as if something had gone wrong with the Russian experiment in socialism. The motto of Karl Marx, "From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs," has been forgotten, for it is not believable that the needs of ninety per cent of the Russian people can approach satisfaction from earned incomes smaller than the handout an astute recipient of relief can secure on this continent.

The evidence also indicates that there is a fallacy in the theory that it is poverty that makes communists. The well-meaning people, who preach that the West must spend lavishly in the East to prevent all Asia from turning communist, should be required to show what there is in the Russian experiment that offers a reliable promise of better living for any other nation that adopts it.

Actually, the fomenting of nationalism, which frequently may be traced to communist influence, is more likely to succeed when a country's wealth has been developed by foreigners than when the country has been too poor to attract outside capital. The existence of wealth is always an excuse for revolt, and when the wealth is controlled by foreigners, revolt can easily be made to appear patriotic.

From a humanitarian point of view, there are good reasons for helping Africans and Asiatics to improve their living conditions, but Western peoples are deceiving themselves if they think that what they spend in the East will necessarily buy off communists or nationalists. Politics, whether national or international, must always be concerned with the motive of envy. Exploitation of that deadly sin has been responsible for such success as the communists can boast.

Labor Day

IN its original conception, Labor Day was one set aside to honor the industrial worker and the achievements of trade unions. Today it is still marked officially only by organized labor. Everyone else takes a holiday, but pays little attention to the significance of the day itself.

Yet the day has a meaning for all of us. Trade unions themselves would be the first to acknowledge that the day of outright hostility between labor and management has ended; that narrow-mindedness on both sides has no place in the building of a greater Canada. And just as the factionalism of yesterday is outdated, so has the significance of Labor Day moved with the times.

On September 7th, every employed person in Canada, from the company president down to the office boy, will be taking a holiday. It is these millions of people, whether they belong in the labor or the management sections of industry, who are contributing to the building of this country.

There lies the real meaning of Labor Day - Canadians, laboring to achieve a better, more prosperous Canada; a finer place in which to live and bring up their families. Let there be trade union parades and celebrations on September 7th, but let there also be a moment's reflection by each of us on the broader concept of labor in Canada - the creation by our own free efforts of the kind of country we want our children to inherit.

Thinking of Others in Time of Need

A grand spirit of community interest has again been evidenced by the people of Athelstan. Some months ago a garage was lost through fire. The owner was the big loser because he had but little or no fire insurance. The people of Athelstan came to his aid and raised upwards of $1,250, toward rebuilding the garage. Not only did the community do this for a fellow citizen, but a group of men gave of their talent and ability in the building and painting of the new garage.

Fire insurance is an item of expense, but is an item that should never be avoided. Every person who owns property should have it insured. The cost of the fire insurance must be provided for in the hour cost of services accorded. Few communities today aid people who have suffered loss through fire, for they know the people who own property should carry insurance and it is not their duty to pay for the loss of others; yet the Athelstan folks were willing to follow the old practice of "thinking of others in the time of need." The people of Athelstan are to be congratulated for what they have done; but such example of generosity is no good reason why anyone should forego carrying ample fire insurance against a future possible misfortune.

Baby Bonus Fails

THE baby bonus, supposed to provide better nutrition for Canadian children, doesn't seem to be having that effect. Dr. E. W. McHenry, University of Toronto nutritionist, says that children are getting too little milk, citrus fruit and cereals.

A Toronto survey, cited by Dr. McHenry showed that 25 per cent of school children never get milk, and 40 per cent never get citrus fruit. Half the school children in that city eat no vegetables except potatoes.

Meanwhile the DBS reports that 19.7 per cent of low income families in Canada spend nothing for medical, hospital, dental or any other kind of health care. Here again, the baby bonus was supposed to fill a great need. What is it being spent on?

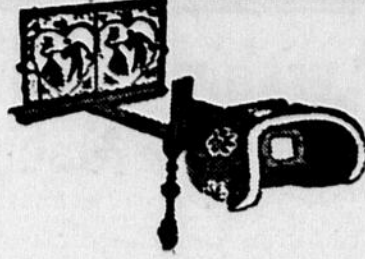

Dismal

DISMAL pessimism of Mrs. Adelaide Sinclair, globe-trotting U.N. chore girl of Ottawa's Department of National Health and Welfare, merits comment. "There is no hope for world peace," says Mrs. Sinclair, "unless people all over the world have a reasonable standard of living."

Trouble is that Mrs. Sinclair, like most welfare world advocates, fails to define what constitutes a "reasonable standard of living." To some people, a "reasonable standard" implies the right to drive a Cadillac, eat steak every Thursday, and buzz off to the mountains or the seaside whenever the spirit moves them. Others have more modest standards, but whatever they are, to the average Asiatic, as well as to most Europeans, the Canadian standard which is doubtless what Mrs. Sinclair has in mind, seems like untold wealth. Only way for Mrs. Sinclair's objective of a "reasonable standard" for entire world to be achieved, is for Canadians, even those who drive 1938 jalopies, to content themselves with shank's mare and three bowls of rice a week for a very long time to come.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken from Gleaner Files

George Conroy Boyce, Athelstan, and Andrew Gilmore Taylor, Dewittville, passed with credit the third year examinations of Macdonald College and are entitled to enter the fourth year.

The number of attempts of burglaries continues to grow. Thursday, the shop of S. K. Wells was broken into and some canned goods stolen. On the same night entrance was gained through the back window to the shop of J. H. Lamb and five dollars stolen. Wednesday morning, C. H. Lamb found traces of an attempt to break into his store. The shed door was forced and from the number of burnt matches, the thieves evidently made a thorough search, but Mr. Lamb has been able to locate few losses.

July 9

A sensation was sprung over on Lorne Avenue on Monday, when a porcupine suddenly made its appearance. Charlie Edmunds, true knight of the hardware grip, proved the values of the guns he sells, by bringing the beast to the ground with the first shot. As it has been several years since a porcupine has been seen around here, the appearance of the animal was somewhat a puzzle.

July 16

To Martin Curran remains the honor of being the first farmer in this locality to buy an Overland passenger automobile.

John Hunter and Sons have started the foundations for two new houses on Henderson Street. It is their intention to build three new houses this year. The houses are badly needed, as at present it is impossible to get a good house in the village.

Howick - Robert Ness is at present in the Old Country, and is expected to return before long with a selection of horses fully up to the standards of his past importations. Valleyfield - Automobiles are all the rage around town this season. There are now 18, with several more to come.

The Bell Telephone Company has issued their new directory, and it is noticed that Huntingdon has now some four hundred and forty-five telephones.

A small party from the Royal Military College, Kingston, are having practice in scanning the country along the frontier.

A. A. Lunan has purchased a thirty-foot gasoline launch. The boat will be kept at Port Lewis, where several families from Huntingdon have cottages.

August 6

Wm. Derocher has purchased from the Gardner estate the brick building now occupied by Daniel Walker on Chateaugay Street. It is Mr. Derocher's intention to move his barber shop into the upper part of the block.

That it is an expensive thing to get intoxicated, was proved on Saturday when a farmer was relieved of over $80 while under the influence of liquor.

The declaration of war in Europe has caused a number of foreigners working within the district to receive their summons and return to their colours, and already several have started back.

A. H. Scott was fortunate enough to catch a 12-pound maskelungo on Tuesday near the N.Y.C. railway bridge.

Hemmingford - In the crop competition for Franklin, Norman M. Brooks was awarded first prize on barley, Indian-corn, potatoes, and carrots; and second on wheat, oats and turnips.

The Week At Ottawa...

Specially Written for The Huntingdon Gleaner By ANTHONY DICKASON Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. - (CP) - There is plenty of grain ripening in Canada this fall, but too little space in which to store it.

After the crops come off the fields the problem will be still greater. The situation is not caused by lack of export markets, officials claim, but merely by a shortage of space on which grain may be stored. Western farm elevators are choked, as are the terminals. The situation will be eased, at the earliest, in October when grain starts moving overseas.

The Bureau of Statistics estimates the 1953-54 wheat crop will be more than 600,000,000 bushels, the second highest in history.

Murray Bay, came on Thursday to visit her brother, Mr. Elliott Masten. Miss Bessie Hewson of the staff of the Alexandra Hospital, Point St. Charles, spent a few days last week at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Major and Mrs. C. W. Hewson.

F.L. Lachlan Van Vliet left on Thursday evening to motor to Halifax where he is posted for a year and a half as Recruiting Officer. He was accompanied by his uncle, Mr. W. E. Hart, who will spend a few days in Halifax visiting his brother, Mr. Hubert, O.B.E. (Double) and Mrs. Grant, before returning home by train.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. M. A. Van Vliet has been under the doctor's care for several days with an attack of bronchitis.

On Thursday evening Mr. W. E. Grant had a surprise visit from an old Army friend whom he had not seen for 16 years. Mr. Fields, a resident of Montreal, had seen Mr. Grant's picture in the Star on the occasion of his retirement from the Customs Staff and had noted the name of his home town. When an opportunity to spend a few hours in Lacolle presented itself, Mr. Fields was quick to take advantage of it and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Canada's domestic exports in July hit about $393,000,000. This was lower than June but higher than the July, 1952, figure of $370,000,000.

On the diplomatic front, the Canadian government is considering appointing a new ambassador to Moscow. This was the reaction to the announcement of the appointment of D. S. Chuvakhin as Russia's ambassador to Canada.

Chuvakhin is the first Russian ambassador to Canada since Georgi Zarubin was recalled in 1945 at the time the big Russian spy ring was being hunted here. Canada has had no ambassador in Moscow since Dana Wilgress was moved to another post, in 1946.

Canada's senior representative in Moscow at present is charge d'affaires Robert Ford. He has served 3 1/2 years, although the normal post term is two years.

GEORGE F. SMITH, Principal, Cornwall, Ontario.

Meanwhile, the Capital had a distinguished visitor, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery. In an address, Viscount Montgomery called for an aggressive, integrated western policy to meet the threat of international Communism anywhere in the world for the next 25 years.

He urged a "global" policy, and said that in the Far East the British and Americans "hardly speak the same language as to what is the western policy towards eastern Asia."

Montgomery said "there is difficulty in getting political agreement among nations of the free world," and he predicted that world tension today has not yet reached its peak. "I think the present strain is going to continue and get more intense."

Also: "In the strengthening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization lies the best hope of preventing a third world war."

Brighter Note - Trade with the United States, long an integral part of the Canadian economy, got a little encouragement from south of the border. President Eisenhower has urged "liberalization" of U.S. trade policies with Canada. The statement of the President was received with optimism by members of the trade department here, hoping it might spell an end to current restrictive trade practices.

But there is a positive move on the farm front. The federal government has announced an expansion of its effort to control livestock pests in western Canada. The livestock insect laboratory at Lethbridge, Alta., will become the major research centre on livestock insects for the west.

Good Incomes - The west was to the fore on the personal income front, also. DBS showed that residents of Trail and Kimberley, B.C., had a higher average income than any other city in the country in 1951, last year in these statistics are available. In these western centres the average income was $3,486.

Back in Ottawa, there were a lot of further statistics on other subjects. DBS reported 37,462 births during July, about 1,200 more than in June and a 2,557 increase over the period for this year was an all-time high - 233,766 babies registered since January, compared with 226,863 for the January-July period of 1952.

Canada's domestic exports in July hit about $393,000,000. This was lower than June but higher than the July, 1952, figure of $370,000,000.

On the diplomatic front, the Canadian government is considering appointing a new ambassador to Moscow. This was the reaction to the announcement of the appointment of D. S. Chuvakhin as Russia's ambassador to Canada.

Chuvakhin is the first Russian ambassador to Canada since Georgi Zarubin was recalled in 1945 at the time the big Russian spy ring was being hunted here. Canada has had no ambassador in Moscow since Dana Wilgress was moved to another post, in 1946.

Canada's senior representative in Moscow at present is charge d'affaires Robert Ford. He has served 3 1/2 years, although the normal post term is two years.

Meanwhile, the Capital had a distinguished visitor, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery. In an address, Viscount Montgomery called for an aggressive, integrated western policy to meet the threat of international Communism anywhere in the world for the next 25 years.

He urged a "global" policy, and said that in the Far East the British and Americans "hardly speak the same language as to what is the western policy towards eastern Asia."

Montgomery said "there is difficulty in getting political agreement among nations of the free world," and he predicted that world tension today has not yet reached its peak. "I think the present strain is going to continue and get more intense."

Reply to Premier Nehru

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

By Lewis Milligan

Since India was granted its independence Prime Minister Nehru has assumed the role of critic of British rule in other parts of the world, particularly in Africa. In his latest outburst he told his congress party that the natives in parts of Africa "are treated almost like wild animals." "It amazes me," he added, "that this kind of thing should go on. If there is no solution to this African problem, very soon, the whole of Africa might be ablaze." In reply to a question in the House of Commons about these statements, Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttelton said: "We reject the misleading statements about British territories" and he depicted the possible effects of them upon native people who are already stirred up to revolt by fanatical agitators.

This lofty and self-righteous attitude is ill-befitting the Indian premier who owes his own education and emancipation to British rule, and who has enough racial and religious problems on his hands which are more acute than those of the British in Africa. The Moslems of Pakistan are threatening to declare war on India for the possession of Kashmir, and Nehru's government is beset by Communist rebels within and encircled by the menace of invasion by powerful Communist countries threatening to make short work of his boasted independence. Before the British entered India the country was for hundreds of years subjected to periodic invasions. The numerous dependent kingdoms under native despots were constantly at war with one another. The people were oppressed and kept in ignorance by cruel superstition and the caste system, which latter still more or less prevails today with its untouchables, in spite of the efforts of the British to stamp it out.

When I listen to these roving Hindu ambassadors on the radio, speaking in cultured language which they learned at Oxford or English schools in India, lecturing the British government on the principles of democracy, I am set wondering how cultured they and Nehru himself would be today if the British had never ruled and established ordered government and education in this vast country. They speak about democracy as if they invented it. Gandhi would never have known that his people were ignorant and oppressed by age-old superstitions of he had not been sent to Oxford and educated in British politics and jurisprudence. Judged by his fanatical fastings and postings of martyrdom, Gandhi would have been sitting on nails or performing some other feat of self-torture as a wandering fakir but for his British education.

As for Africa, that continent, including Egypt, owes whatever progress has been made there in civilization largely to British occupation, colonization and missionary work. One has only to think back to General Gordon and his fate at the hands of the howling dervishes in the Sudan, or to the self-sacrificing missionary explorations of Livingstone in Darkest Africa, to realize the great transformation that has been wrought in that continent in the last seventy-five years. Under British occupation, Egypt and the Sudan were redeemed from economic bankruptcy and political chaos; their resources were developed; courts of justice and schools were established and the people of those countries lived in peace where they had previously been at constant strife. Central Africa has been opened up and the savage natives of the jungles have been at least half civilized. The Mau Mau uprising in Kenya is led by half-educated natives who would never have known justice and independence existed if the British had not colonized that country.

And if the British were to withdraw they would revert to the jungle. South Africa was colonized by British and Dutch settlers and has developed from a colonial state, as did Canada and the United States, into independent nationhood. The natives of South Africa and Kenya have never been "treated like wild animals," or even regarded as "untouchables" like the lower classes of Mr. Nehru's fellow countrymen.

Grandma's Goose Grease Best For Burns

WINNIPEG (CP) — Cold water and grandma's old-fashioned goose grease remedy are as good and sometimes better than many sunburn ointments, a panel of skin experts said at the annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association.

Dermatologists look with disfavor on some of these ointments because they can cause "dangerous" reactions. The simpler the remedy the better, they agreed in an interview. In addition, some suntan lotions may keep you from burning, but they also keep you from tanning. Best way to tan is to take your sunshine in small doses.

Furthermore, the beneficial effect has often been overrated. Best effect, said an expert, is the relaxation you get from lying in the sun. But then, you can rest just as well in the shade.

Ayrshires and Good Farming Aided by Mechanical Devices

by FRANK NAPIER

As the old saying goes, "an' if space permitted" there are actually three most interesting stories or subjects we could relate on this occasion. That is the W. C. Tully family of Beaver Meadow Farm, Athelstan, Que.; the Beaver Meadow Ayrshire herd and the farming, etc., operations of W. C. Tully and his sons.

The present operators of the Beaver Meadow Farm — W. C. ("Willie") Tully and his sons Peter and Dan — are, respectively, second and third generation owners of that famous Ayrshire breeders. However, before passing on to the herd and farm operations, brief mention (briefer than same warrants) should be made of the Tully family. That is of W. C. and Mrs. Tully and the fine family they raised. Incidentally, Mrs. Tully is herself the product of an old Huntingdon "Ayrshire" family. Their first record, in family way, is that they raised six sons and a daughter of whom they are doubtless laudably and justifiably proud, as who wouldn't be. They are in order of age:

Donald, a graduate of McGill University — a Bachelor of Science who majored in Geology and who is now Chief Geologist, Upper Canada Mines, Kirkland Lake, Ont.

Arthur, likewise a McGill graduate, in Electrical Engineering who is presently connected with the T.C.A. in Winnipeg, Man. Incidentally for several years, until the present year, Arthur Tully and an associate grew wheat in the spring, summer and fall and lectured at the University of Manitoba during the winter months.

Ann, a graduate nurse, now Mrs. Charles Grant of Huntingdon.

Peter, a graduate of Macdonald College who remained on the farm after graduation.

John, another product of Macdonald College who is now an agricultural Supervisor on the staff of the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration, at Cornwall, Ont.

Daniel L. ("Dan") also another product of Macdonald College who is one of the team which operates the Beaver Meadow Farm, etc.

Russell, who recently graduated with distinction in Mechanical Engineering at McGill University and who is now on the staff of the Spruce Falls Pulp and Paper Company at Kapuskasing, Ont.

The Beaver Meadow Herd The Beaver Meadow herd was established in 1907, prior to which year there was a grade Ayrshire herd. It therefore ranks as one of the oldest established practical farmer-breeder Ayrshire herds of the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club area, likewise in Quebec and the rest of Canada.

However, while that herd has well merited that rating or reputation, same has not been the result of any showing of spectacular record making, because the present senior partner (W. C. Tully) has never gone in for the "spectacular," so to speak. He has, of course, always been a keen supporter of the R.O.P., and under that plan has made many good records, but these records were mostly made under practical farm conditions and many of them would undoubtedly have been larger if Willie Tully had had a yen to advertise his herd in that way. In addition, one might say that, as the result of his continuous good herd management — including, of course, the use of top sires and careful matings and selections — there has always been a good herd, since the inception of same, at Beaver Meadow Farm.

It might also be said that this herd has been advertised to quite an extent by the achievement of its products in other herds. And, on that basis, as a place to go to for similar animals. For instance, this writer can recall from his Canadian Countryman and Breeders' Gazette days, the spectacular (of its day) American Woolen Mills herd, of which several of the foundation cows originated in the Beaver Meadow herd. Mostly of the Beaver Meadow strain. And, if we had space and time at our disposal, we believe we could compile a most interesting story of the "Peter Pan" bull which either sired or was the grandsire of the cows which the late H. Amby selected in the early 1920's, at Beaver Meadow, for the American Woolen Mills.

At present, there are some 40 cows in the milking herd with some 20 others in their dry stage; approximately 50 heifers and calves. The herd sire is Bonnieshade Douglas Royal. A considerable number of the present-day herd are of the Beaver Meadow Daisy strain. The present Queen of the Herd is the 17-year-old, Prince Edward Island-bred, Fairvue Loretta. Despite the fact that she was not on test in her 4-year-old lactation period, she has to her credit a total official production of some 119,480 lbs. milk, 5,122 lbs. fat, average test 4.88% in 10 lactations, or 3,299 milking days. When she freshens again, after her 11th lactation period on R.O.P., another 10 to 11,000 lbs. milk at 4.28% record will be added to the above total!

The present herd sire, Bonnieshade Douglas Royal, was sired by Ste. Anne Douglas and out of the "Excellent" cow Bonnieshade Gay Girl, first prize 4-year-old, reserve senior and reserve grand champion at the 1949 Royal Winter Fair. "Douglas Royal" was calved at the time of the 1949 Royal and next year he won fourth in a class of 20 at the Royal. The Beaver Meadow Farm property is comprised of some 260 acres, while there are 175 acres on the adjoining former Anderson Farm which was acquired in 1945.

A Round Barn The main barn on the Beaver Meadow Farm was probably one of the wonders of that district when it was erected in 1906, some 47 years ago. It is still in the "Novelty" class. We are not aware of the technical name or description of that barn, but we believe that it is usually described as being of the Dutch type. Anyway, it is a circular barn, 70 feet in diameter. On the ground floor there is the wide circular passage way behind the stalls which are also in circular arrangement, with two entrances to the central part. That is, in front of the stalls there is another circular passage for feeding purposes, grain and hay (from the loft, or mow) while in the direct centre there is the tower silo — 16 by 42 feet — with a capacity of around 200 tons. There are tie stalls for 40 adult females, plus two adjacent boxes for calves, etc. The herd sire and calves are housed in an adjacent building which the dry adult females and heifers are housed at the other farm during the housing season.

Incidentally the average production of the milking herd is between 11 and 13 cans per day.

During the past two years' the Tullys have made a specialty of grass silage, in a pit. Here again our lack of technical knowledge of such constructions, so to speak, is too limited to enable us to properly describe that structure. However, in our own language we may say that the pit is located at the rear of the barn, at the edge of the sugar bush. It is actually a trench cut through a ridge. It is approximately 100 feet long, with a slope of some 2 feet from front to rear, and it is some 6 feet deep; while it is 12 feet wide at the bottom sloping to approximately 20 feet in width at the top. Incidentally a power shovel was used to dig this pit silo, the dislodged soil being used to build up the sides or walls.

And — the total cost for the use of the power shovel used in that operation was $64.

It might also be mentioned that at the front, (south or low end) there is a drain which carries off any surplus sewage or water. In that respect Peter Tully informed us, that a ditch such as theirs' is a most important adjunct to a pit silo. This especially after a January thaw, when the water is apt to freeze and cause considerable spoilage of the ensilage. Likewise often making it almost impossible to get out the silage, because of its consequent frozen condition.

While the present contents of the pit silo were not weighed, it is estimated that some 150 tons were so siloed this year — altogether 50 full truck loads, approximately 3 tons per load, were thus deposited. The truck concerned being mentioned later on. The ingredients are comprised of clover (now seeding), timothy, etc., and that grass mixture was cut early in June by means of a mower with a swathing attachment. It was then loaded on to the truck referred to by means of a forage harvester. After each load was deposited in the pit a special bulldozer, of which more anon, was used to level-up the grass and pack same.

Later on during the season the Tower Silo in the centre of the Dutch Barn will be filled with corn. And, in that respect, we may say that on August 15 we saw at Beaver Meadow, 12 acres of probably one of the finest crops of corn we have ever seen anywhere in Canada — a mixture of Hybrid 596 and Wisconsin 7. But, the grass and corn silaging does not constitute all the forage crop operations at Beaver Meadow. Eighty acres of hay were cut on the home farm, some one and a half tons to the acre — timothy, clover and alfalfa mixture. The implements used being the tractor-drawn mower with its swathing attachment, the forage harvester and the special truck, already referred to, which conveys the cut hay to the Dutch Barn where it is elevated to the hay mow which encircles the tower silo, the motivepower for the elevator being the Bulldozer, also already referred to.

In addition 40 acres of hay were cut, baled and stowed on the other farm for the young cattle during the tie-up season.

Ten acres each of the first seedings of Clover and Timothy are harvested by the combine for seed purposes, in addition to the above. The clover has not yet been cut but some 1,200 lbs. of Timothy seed have been harvested this year.

This year they have 65 acres in grain — Roston oats and Montcalm barley, medium late variety. This grain mixture is now being harvested and then picked up by the combine. In turn, the special truck, already referred to, picks up the grain and takes it to the main barn. Most of the straw is first chopped by the field chopper, loaded on the special truck and taken to the main barn, where the forage blower elevates it to that part of the mow reserved for the same. The balance of the straw is baled and stored on the other farm to be chopped later on.

When we asked about the results obtained from feeding the grass silage, whether the grass silage had any advantage over corn silage, we were informed that they were not at present prepared to give a definite opinion in either respect. We concluded, however, that they were entirely satisfied with results obtained from feeding the corn and grass silage last year.

It was learned that last year they had a below the average crop of corn and that a mixture of oats and sweet clover was used to partly fill the Tower Silo, before the corn was siloed.

It was also learned that while the contents of the Tower Silo were being fed they had to increase the grain ration in order to hold the milk production at the desired level. However, we were also told that this was not a fair comparison since, as already stated, last year's corn was below the average, both as regards quantity and quality.

But we also learned that the feeding of both the corn silage and grass silage on the same day proved eminently satisfactory; that as a result, the production last year was increased from an average of 65 to 72 cans per week over the year before, with the same number of cows being in milk. What other feeds were given to the milking cows, was our next query. The answer was that last year they made two mixings per week of 800 lbs. each of grain, etc. That is 500 lbs. of home grains, 100 lbs. corn distillers grains, 100 lbs. bran, 100 lbs. shorts, plus the usual mineral supplements. This being in comparison to the year before last when three similar grain mixings were necessary each week. In other words, were we informed, their grain bill was one-third less last year than it was the year before.

Are there any drawbacks in connection with the grass silage, we asked. Yes, we were told, there are naturally a few such. For instance it entails more work; more tonnage to handle than is the case with the corn silage during the barn feeding season. That is of course due to that the Pit Silo is so far away from the barn while the Tower Silo is right in the barn. But that disadvantage is evened up by the savings we have cited in the grain mixture, and by that the grass silage can be grown at cost, so to speak.

Another advantage is that the grass can be cut around the first of June, thus furnishing a good aftermath for grazing purposes later on.

The Bulldozer What about the special truck and the Bulldozer. Both, in fact, are the result of the ingenuity and mechanical ability of Russell, while he was still an undergraduate mechanical engineering student at Macdonald College graduate and farmer. W. C. and Peter being more cattle minded than mechanically minded.

A list was made of several items to be taken up at future meetings throughout the year; the next project will be Leather Craft.

Plans were made about the service that the girls will preside at in Lion Church, Covey Hill in the near future.

It was noted that as school reopens on the 8th and that being the date of their meeting, it would now be advisable to commence their usual custom of holding their meetings at the school every second week.

Ste. Agnes

Mr. A. Lalonde Successful in Trapping Wolf

There is at least one less wolf in the district as of last week-end. Mr. Alphonse Lalonde of Ste. Agnes set seven traps here and there throughout the wooded area back of Mr. Elie Leger's.

Actually, Mr. Lalonde had caught two wolves, but one was successful in making its escape leaving only part of its front foot behind in the trap. The one he caught was also still alive and had pulled the trap quite some distance from the spot where it had been set.

The wolf measured about 3 1/2 feet in length and weighed 22 pounds. At this time of the year, the coat takes on a reddish tinge, very similar to the colour of a fox. Later on in the fall, the hair becomes more gray than red.

About two years ago, Mr. Lalonde caught a good sized wolf in a trap which he had set about six acres from his hen house. At this time it wasn't known that these animals were living in the district, and the trapping of one came as quite a surprise to the Lalondes.

It is expected that for the next few weeks the wolves will change their place of residence, as there have been so many men hunting them, and when one has been caught in a trap the others become frightened and move away for a while.

However, Mr. Lalonde says that they'll be back!

The Government offers a $20. bounty for each wolf caught.

Laguette Cemetery takes on New Appearance

People in this community will be interested to know of the old Laguette Cemetery which has been sorely neglected for a number of years, has been taking on a much better and neater appearance lately. Thanks to the Cemetery Committee in charge, quite a considerable amount of work has been done; the grass has been trimmed, several graves stones straightened and the iron fence around the cemetery has received a coat of paint.

The Committee have been doing a fine job, and are most gratified to know that their efforts are appreciated. This has been shown by the fact that they have received donations of money from those interested parties who have relatives buried in this spot, and with these extra donations they will continue to improve the appearance of the cemetery and so add to its beautification.

W.A. Meeting The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Association was entertained on Wednesday evening, August 26th, at the home of Mrs. Hugh McNicol, with Mrs. H. McNicol, Mrs. Earl McNicol and Mrs. Ella McNicol as joint hostesses.

The meeting was conducted by the Vice President, Mrs. J. C. Platt, while the devotional period was led by Mrs. Wm. Leslie.

The speaker showed countless pictures of the marvellous scenery to be found along the route. The "Badlands" in North Dakota, which show clearly the result of soil erosion, were beautifully pictured.

The speaker was thanked by Mrs. Platt and the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction repeated in unison. Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the assembled guests.

M. W. Marchand Suffers Injury On Thursday afternoon while working in his store, Mr. Wilbrod Marchand had the misfortune to fall from the step ladder on which he was standing. In some way, the top of the ladder became loose and this caused Mr. Marchand to lose his balance. He hit the middle part of his forehead and cut it open quite badly. His left arm also received a nasty gash. The head wound bled profusely, and he was taken to the County Hospital, where Dr. Lefebvre put a number of stitches in both the outer and inner layer of skin. It is most fortunate that his injury was not more serious.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton left on Thursday for a motor trip through the states of Vermont and New Hampshire. They visited such scenic spots as "The Old Man of the Mountain" and "Echo Lake," and were much impressed with the beauty of the N. H. countryside.

They were guests of Mr. Sutton's cousins in Marlborough, N.H., over the week-end and returned home Sunday evening.

Mr. Fred Platt enjoyed a motor trip to Olean, N.Y. last week where he visited with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Platt.

Mr. Robert Farndon of Montreal spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbrod Marchand. On his return home, he was accompanied by his daughter, Diane, who has enjoyed the summer months with her cousin Claudette Marchand, Messrs. Harland Platt and Wayne McPherson motored to Ottawa, Ont., on Friday and enjoyed the day at the Exhibition.

Miss Barbara Roach of Montreal spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sutton.

Barbara begins work on Tuesday, Sept. 1st, with the Bell Telephone Co., in Montreal. In February of next year, she plans to enter the Montreal General Hospital as a nurse-in-training.

Bridal Shower for Miss Helena Ryan. HEMMINGFORD - Friday night, Miss Helena Ryan was feted at a bridal shower given by Miss Gladys Smirle and Miss Mary Reid at the Reid home, which was beautifully decorated with multi-colored gladioli and other flowers.

As the guest of honor arrived she was surprised to hear "Here comes the bride", played by Mrs. R. J. M. Reid. She was then seated in a special chair, over which an umbrella was suspended. Miss Bernice Smirle presented the bride elect with a large box in which were several smaller ones, the final one containing a sum of money enclosed in a special card having the names of those who attended. Helena was asked to buy a gift she preferred.

Following an interesting quiz program, a delicious buffet lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. R. J. M. Reid. The W.M.S. of St. Andrew's United Church, Hemmingford, held its monthly meeting in the church hall on Wednesday. A quilting bee preceded the business meeting. The highlight of the meeting was having as a guest, Miss Bessie Cairns, a recently returned missionary from Japan, who spoke briefly of her work in China and Japan. Following the meeting the members and guests adjourned to the Mansie for social interlude and tea at which Mrs. Percy Barr was co-hostess with Mrs. Wm. Holmes. They were young boys when they left here and are now following in their father's footsteps, each working in the Bank of Commerce. Mr. and Mrs. Lyall Simpson and family have returned home from Cumberland Head, N.Y., where they spent the past two weeks. Count Dial Tones
 Telephone operators are human beings, but there are times when they do get under your skin. Sometimes we feel they value their time, and that the time of the telephone subscriber who incidentally pays their wages, is of little or no value to them.

Grass Fire Call
 A fire alarm that was not carried out as intended was sounded on Saturday afternoon. Grass was burning along the riverbank near the County Hospital, when Mrs. E. Wright, Superintendent of Nurses at the Hospital called the Fire Station on Bouchette Street, Huntingdon. It would be nice to see this lot leveled off and made into a lawn and made use of as a park cared for by the Town of Huntingdon.

ACWW Delegates in Colorful Native Costumes Attract Attention on Tour of Quebec

Delegates From 9 Countries, 12 States, and 3 Provinces Visit Points of Interest in District

A very representative group of the Associated Country Women of the World, who held their 7th triennial conference in Toronto from August 12-23 embarked on a tour of the Eastern Townships and the Huntingdon-Chateaugay district. The tour was arranged by Mrs. C. D. Harvey, first vice-president of the Quebec Women's Institute and a member of the National Tour's Sub-committee. Mrs. Harvey, commenting on the tour, remarked, "Quebec, with its diversity of scenery, its resources, its historic past, its two races living together as one people, has made a strong appeal to the visitors at the Conference, and this tour sponsored by the Q.W.I. had been planned to give as comprehensive a picture as possible in the limited time which had been left to the delegates in this country."

The Huntingdon-Chateaugay district tour commenced on Friday, August 28, with a visit to Hemmingford. The members of the Hemmingford W.I. met in St. Luke's Anglican Church Hall on Friday afternoon for the purpose of entertaining the 41 delegates of the Associated Country Women of the World. Members of the Cercle des Femmes were invited also. A committee comprised of Mrs. E. Moore, Mrs. T. Cleland, and Mrs. E. Martin decorated the hall and solicited food from the members during the wait for the ladies to arrive. A phone call was received from Mrs. Taylor, saying they were delayed, and would not arrive in time for tea, but around 7 o'clock.

When the bus finally arrived, Mrs. Harvey informed all that they had to make their visit short. Members got on the bus and visited with the ladies from the foreign and neighboring countries and provinces. Each visitor was treated to apples donated by Mrs. C. E. Petch. Although the visit was cut short due to immigration regulations upsetting the route of travel, the visit, however, was enjoyed by all.

From Hemmingford, the delegation travelled to Howick, where the Howick and Aubrey-Riverfield branches of the W.I. entertained at a supper held in the Howick High School. The delegates were billeted for the night in homes in the Howick-Aubrey-Riverfield-Ormstown area. During the evening, Mrs. Horner Saunier, on August 6, the bride entered St. Joseph's Parish Hall to the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Estelle Saunier. Escorted to a beautifully decorated chair by Mrs. Clarence Saunier, the guest of honor was presented with a corsage of carnations. An electric mix-master and two Kenwood blankets were presented to the honored guest on behalf of the 70 guests assembled. A mock regatta, in the shape of a heart, was signed by the bride and the guests, as a souvenir of the occasion.

Miss Daigle thanked all her friends for the gifts and invited them to visit her in her new home. "500" was played, and the prize winners were: Mrs. Romeo Daigle, second, Mrs. Zenon Garcon, and consolation, Mrs. Exora Guerin. Delicious refreshments and a specially decorated shower cake were served by the hostesses assisted by Estelle and Evelyn Saunier to the gathering.

On arrival at the Show Grounds to view the Memorial Arch and the buildings and grounds, the group, bank, Flewelling Convalescent Home, the Zephyr Textiles, Government Road offices and theatre and then stopped for a brief inspection of the Barrie Memorial Hospital. Mayor Dickson conducted the tour of the hospital. A lady doctor from India and nurse from Toronto were very keenly interested in this inspection. A group picture was taken by Mrs. A. Hooker on the hospital steps.

The ladies then were taken to the beautiful garden and spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bryson for a mid-morning cup of tea and refreshments. They were welcomed by Mrs. Bryson and Mrs. F. Martin, president of Ormstown W.I. Mrs. Martin, on behalf of O.W.I., welcomed the guests and extended good wishes for a successful completion of their tour. Later, Mrs. Martin and Miss C. Murphy presided at the tea-table, while other members served tea. This was the only opportunity for our members to meet the delegates. Both guests and hostesses regretted the necessary brevity of the visit as the time schedule allowed no longer a time for visiting.

After leaving the Bryson home, the delegates were taken to the Turkeys-Luxe and had a brief but most interesting interview with Mr. and Mrs. Noel Catto and learned much about the turkey business. From Mr. and Mrs. William Garsshore are spending a holiday with their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Garsshore and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parkinson.

Mrs. Rebecca McWhinnie and family spent the past week visiting her sister and other relatives in Southbridge, Mass., and Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Charles Thompson of Southbridge, Mass., spent a two week holiday with her sisters, Mrs. Charles G. Smith Falls and Mrs. McWhinnie of Ormstown.

Mrs. Helen L. Meyer of Oakland, California, when signing autographs, bemoaned the loss of her pen as the last time she had signed her name, she had lost her pen. She wanted a copy of this week's Gleaner to be sent home, and said her husband would get a kick out of it as the paper would arrive in California before her return.

The minutes before luncheon was served were spent in getting acquainted, exchanging anecdotes about their families, signing autographs, and chatting with newly-found friends.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the luncheon included Mrs. Charles Reid, Mrs. Alex. Robb, and Mrs. W. E. Bernhardt, Huntingdon, Mrs. Lyle Currie, Dundee, and Mrs. Roy Blair, Franklin Centre. The other committees included: Decorations—Mrs. McErimmon; Table setting—Miss Frances Turner Kitchener—Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mrs. Wallace Rennie; Waitresses—Mrs. Gordon Ferry and Mrs. Willock, and members of the Athelstan Junior Women's Institute, under the sponsorship of the Huntingdon Branch—Lois French, Beverly Arnold, Pauline Pears, and Wilma Marshall. The following three women, who are not W.I. members, served in the kitchen in order that members might take their seats at the luncheon: Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. Arnold Burgess, and Mrs. Willis Arthur. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Arthur are Huntingdon women, while Mrs. Burgess is from Montreal.

After were used as table decorations, while singing in the floral decoration on the head table.

Mrs. W. E. Bernhardt, president, Chateaugay-Huntingdon W.I., welcomed the delegates to the work of the Institute. Mrs. Greiss spoke highly in praise of Mrs. Berry, the new President from Queensland, Australia, and said that she was a brilliant orator. At the Conference held in Toronto, Mrs. Greiss suggested that an office be set up in London, which would communicate with Canada, and thus Egypt could ask for information about our country at the London office, and communications would be relayed to Canada.

Mrs. J. P. Feeny of St. Arnaud, Victoria, Australia, remarked that she had met many people while on this tour, and some had mentioned that they had relatives in Australia, and they seemed pleased to meet a native from Down Under. Also present was Mrs. W. J. Patterson, who gave her address as (St. Andrew's Church) Bundaberg, Queensland, Australia.

Mrs. Helen L. Meyer of Oakland, California, when signing autographs, bemoaned the loss of her pen as the last time she had signed her name, she had lost her pen. She wanted a copy of this week's Gleaner to be sent home, and said her husband would get a kick out of it as the paper would arrive in California before her return.

Mrs. Margaret Florence of Richmond, Saskatchewan, was happy when she learned that a photograph would be taken of the assembled group as they left for the Beauharnois district, who would recognize her picture in the Gleaner.

The two representatives from Germany—Dr. A. Sprengel (Doctor of Agriculture, Bonn) and Mrs. Regina Frankendorf of Stuttgart, were also pleased to meet the members of the Athelstan J.W.I., and said that they were the first group of Juniors they had met so far on their tour.

Of Many Things

By Ambrose Hills

It is very true that if you keep one eye on yesterday and the other eye on tomorrow you will be cock-eyed today! I have never yet met a fellow who could show me where the job he held was too hard; but I have met many fellows who, because their minds were on yesterday or tomorrow, failed to do the job at hand.

The first man had worked for me at one time. I had been very pleased when he decided to leave me. He was a brilliant fellow, capable of doing fine work from time to time. But his was a factious nature. A chip was balanced on both his shoulders. He expected to be misused.

The second man was a stranger to me. But as he began his recital, in which he asked me to keep an eye open for a job for him, I noticed something. He had never, in his opinion, been given a fair chance. He had been denied opportunity to do the big things he felt he was capable of.

The third man was in trouble, too. (It was a gloomy morning.) He was an old friend of mine and I am very fond of him. He wanted to borrow a little money. At the end of our chat, he shook his head and said, "You know, I'm ashamed to be asking help this way. I can't understand what's wrong with me. I've always found my work easy enough. Fact is, I can do it with my eyes shut. But now — well, I guess I've too big a record of failure behind me to ever snap out of it."

hope. Expecting trouble and misuse, they will undoubtedly continue to receive it. They have voluntarily joined that dismal army who blame their boss, their country, the system, their family, luck, or anything you can name, for their misfortunes. They are the Gloomy Gusses loaded with shoulder chips. The whole world should be changed, they think, in order that they may be rewarded.

For the third man, I can see a whole new life, if he can by some magic, adopt a new attitude. At least he doesn't blame others for his lack of progress. If he can shrug off that "big record of failure" that hangs from his shoulders like an anchor. If he can walk out in the world today and use all his talent and ability to do whatever comes to his hand to do. To dress his best, smile his best, think his best. If he can forget the past and ignore the future, and throw into his present life the sum total of his abilities, he will do well. He will stop doing his jobs with his eyes shut, and will open them wider. Most of us, if we set about it, could do most anything we're called upon to do with greater skill.

That is the story of three men I met today. Perhaps, to some degree, it is the story of us all. We could do better if we expected better of ourselves.

Hildegarde, Judy and Nancy Burke of Canton, Mrs. Roddy McDonald and Mitzel McDonald of New York City, Jack Monakey of Tupper Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Bill LaFelle of Akron, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moriarty of Chesherville, Ont. Rev. C. N. Rushman, brother of Mrs. O'Reilly, has recently received an appointment to Campion College in Regina, Sask.

Miss Mitzel McDonald of New York City, is visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian O'Reilly of Montreal, spent a few days the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Adrian O'Reilly.

Mrs. Junior Loeey and daughter Anne of Mill Roches, Ont., are spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smellie, Miss Anne Smellie of Fort Covington, N.Y., spent the past week-end at the same home.

Fire Breaks Out in Trepanier Home. A store and a half frame house with kitchen attached on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Marc Trepanier, May Bank, St. Anicet, was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock. Both Mr. and Mrs. Trepanier were outside at the time.

The loss was covered by $2,000 insurance on the house.

The fire was kept from spreading to the barn which was close to the house by a large tank spraying machine, which sprayed water on the roof of the barn. The machine was sent by the Tobacco Farm, Casaville.

Mr. Trepanier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trepanier, Huntingdon. The Trepanier family spent the night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Trepanier, who are their neighbours.

Church. The wedding dinner is to be held at the Dupuis Hotel. About 40 of the local townspeople, neighbours and friends of Miss Haineault were present at the shower and she was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. She sat under a gaily decorated upside down umbrella which held confetti and tapers which was made to drop on the bride-to-be at the proper time. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Haineault's small daughter brought the gifts to her aunt who admired them and passed them around to her friends. Mrs. Leo Haineault made and donated the shower cake. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. After the honeymoon the bride couple are planning on taking up residence at the bride's father's home for the present. They are planning on spending their honeymoon around Quebec City.

Miss Laura King of Medina, N.Y., recently spent a couple of days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fraser.

Miss Doris Fraser left on Monday after spending her summer vacation at the home of her parents. She will shortly resume her teaching duties at the Girls' Cottage School at St. Bruno, Que.

Mr. Chas. Rafer fractured a bone in his ankle when his foot was caught in the drawbar hitch on the tractor on which he was riding while engaged in threshing operations on the farm of Mr. W. D. Fraser recently.

Recently Mr. Jos. Lalumiere injured himself when he fell from his Ferguson tractor while drawing some timbers out of his bush. The rear tractor wheel passed over his leg and he fractured a rib when he struck a stump as he fell. He has now recovered.

The mounting number of farm accidents which seem to be on the increase indicate that greater care should be taken in the operation of farm machinery. Although haste is essential sometimes in the performance of work it should not be overdone at the price of safety. A few seconds saved might mean an irreplaceable loss.

Messrs. Rowat McGibbon and Harold Fraser motored to Ottawa on Wednesday to attend the exhibition. Mrs. Cora Fraser accompanied them and spent the day visiting Mrs. C. A. Haughton and Miss Phyllis Haughton.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perras, to Mr. Omer Vallancourt, took place in St. Roman's Church, Hemmingford, on Saturday morning, August 15, at 9:30 o'clock. The bride was dressed in Chantilly lace over white satin.

After the ceremony, the bride's parents served dinner to about 60 guests. The bridal couple and their

and did not know their home was on fire; however, two carpenters, Messrs. Calvar Hart and Elie Carriere, who were working on a house about one mile away, noticed smoke issuing from the Trepanier home. They immediately rushed to the scene in their car.

The Trepanier children who were in the house, escaped unharmed. Mr. and Mrs. Trepanier had arrived by this time, and calls were placed for neighbours to come and help fight the fire. Efforts were directed, at first, to extinguishing the blaze which seemed to be between the roof and the inside upstairs ceiling, the kitchen part of the house. A brisk wind made their efforts fruitless, for there was a lack of sufficient water. With the help of a number of volunteers, they concentrated on saving the household effects. Due to the fact that there was no fire inside the dwelling, for nearly half an hour, they were able to save all the contents — furniture, clothing, fixtures, etc., even the bathtub. By 5:30, the building was completely demolished. No definite cause was established as to the outbreak of the fire. The transformer on the power line nearby became short-circuited due to the fire at the Trepanier home, and burnt itself out.

Robson — The marriage of Miss Madeline Perras, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perras, to Mr. Omer Vallancourt, took place in St. Roman's Church, Hemmingford, on Saturday morning, August 15, at 9:30 o'clock. The bride was dressed in Chantilly lace over white satin.

After the ceremony, the bride's parents served dinner to about 60 guests. The bridal couple and their

and did not know their home was on fire; however, two carpenters, Messrs. Calvar Hart and Elie Carriere, who were working on a house about one mile away, noticed smoke issuing from the Trepanier home. They immediately rushed to the scene in their car.

The Trepanier children who were in the house, escaped unharmed. Mr. and Mrs. Trepanier had arrived by this time, and calls were placed for neighbours to come and help fight the fire. Efforts were directed, at first, to extinguishing the blaze which seemed to be between the roof and the inside upstairs ceiling, the kitchen part of the house. A brisk wind made their efforts fruitless, for there was a lack of sufficient water. With the help of a number of volunteers, they concentrated on saving the household effects. Due to the fact that there was no fire inside the dwelling, for nearly half an hour, they were able to save all the contents — furniture, clothing, fixtures, etc., even the bathtub. By 5:30, the building was completely demolished. No definite cause was established as to the outbreak of the fire. The transformer on the power line nearby became short-circuited due to the fire at the Trepanier home, and burnt itself out.

The loss was covered by $2,000 insurance on the house.

The fire was kept from spreading to the barn which was close to the house by a large tank spraying machine, which sprayed water on the roof of the barn. The machine was sent by the Tobacco Farm, Casaville.

Mr. Trepanier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trepanier, Huntingdon. The Trepanier family spent the night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Trepanier, who are their neighbours.

The farm, which was originally occupied by the McMillan family, borders on the St. Lawrence.

guests were entertained to a supper by the groom's mother and brother and his wife. That evening a party was held in the Havelock Town Hall in their honour. Some lovely gifts were received by the couple. After a trip to Ottawa and other places, Mr. and Mrs. Vallancourt are residing at his home here.

Pte. Eddie Hebert who spent a year in Korea, returned home a couple of months ago. After his holiday at home, he went West where he took a parachutist's training. He spent a couple of weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hebert, and left for Valcartier the past week.

Mrs. Whiteside Kearns was operated on in the Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown, Quebec, Aug. 15. Mrs. Kearns is at present sitting up and doing nicely. For a woman of 80 years, Mrs. Kearns has made a rapid recovery.

Mr. F. A. Sweet has returned home from Flattsburg. He is feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ferns and son, Bobby, Mr. Miller of Mooers, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Cantello Ferns of Hamilton, Ont., called on friends here Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Smith and daughter, Miss Ernie Smith, and Miss Allen of Schenectady, N.Y., visited at the Barr home on Thursday. Mr. Smith and Mr. Barr used to be old school chums.

Miss Bessie Cairns, formerly of S. China and Japan, and Miss Bessie McNaughton made a few calls here on Thursday.

Mr. Fernie Beattie and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barr accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beattie of Huntingdon on a motor trip and visit to their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gibson of De Kalb, N.Y., recently. While there Mr. and Mrs. Cantello Ferns and sons Bobby and Eric were guests also.

Rev. and Mrs. Douglas Chandler and family of Westminster, Maryland, and Mrs. Catherine Chandler of Mooers were recent guests in Robson.

Ladies' Aid Meeting. The regular monthly meeting of the Wesley-Knox Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Sample on Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in making a quilt and in binding another one. The devotional part was opened by singing "Just As I Am". The president, Mrs. A. L. Stewart, read the 24th Psalm. It was moved by Mrs. Moore that the Ladies' Aid buy a flag for the church, this to be purchased by Mrs. Keith Curran. Mrs. Gilmore joined as a member at this meeting. There were 12 members home heating and cooling department at Bloomfield, N.J., says planning a new house around an air conditioning system can partly offset the cost of installation. Money can be saved, he says, by eliminating windows in places where they add nothing to the appearance of your house or to the view, but normally would be installed only for ventilation. The practical value of screened porches and breezeways also is eliminated, he contends, by filtered and conditioned air throughout a house. More People Buy CHEVROLET than any other car!

Make no mistake about it CHEVROLET is the LEADER!

1st in Sales!

1st in Value!

1st in Demand!

Only one car can be the leader! Only one car can be the favorite! Only one car can be the most-sought, most-bought car in Canada! That car, year-in, year-out, is Chevrolet. In the first six months of 1953, according to the latest official registration figures, Canadians bought 41,660 Chevrolets. This is 12,401 more cars than were sold by its nearest competitor — dramatic proof of Canada's continuing preference for Chevrolets!

The tremendous popularity of Chevrolet means lower production costs. It means big savings that are passed on to you! And because Chevrolet value lasts, there are extra dollars for you when you trade in your Chevrolet, for Chevrolet consistently shows highest trade-in values of any car in Canada! Final proof of good value is the loyalty of Chevrolet drivers, a loyalty that grows stronger with every new year — with every great Chevrolet we build.

Although other cars are available, thousands of Canadians are waiting patiently to get their Chevrolet. No other car will do! Surely this is proof of Chevrolet's superiority... and its unchallenged place in the hearts of Canadian motorists.

Some Prominent Winners in the Livestock Show

Round Byre AND Ring

By Frank Napier

The four breed exhibits of cattle at this year's Huntingdon Fair were certainly a credit to not only their owners but also to this great purebred cattle district, in general. It was therefore rather disappointing to see the rather meagre array of spectators around the four rings, or rather the spaces allotted to the judging of same. Unlike other Fairs where the livestock exhibit is a sizeable feature of same, the judging spaces at Huntingdon Fair are neither fenced nor roped-in, while there are no bleachers or other seats around these rather rough spaces. However, both situations seem to be generally taken for granted.

Black and White Show

Since it was the annual "Black and White" Show of the Huntingdon-Ormstown Holstein Club, that breed had out the largest number of exhibits. Some 130 head having been entered and shown by 15 members of the Huntingdon-Ormstown Club. An exhibit of which the Holstein breeders in general should well be proud.

Ray Wilson of Kenmore, Ont.,

The junior champion female, which also stood next to the grand champion when that honour was decided, was Oakstream Marty Rocket, by Posch Sky Rocket Sovereign, for J. A. Brown, Glenelg.

Repeating her win here last year, also as at Ormstown in 1952 and 1953, Garrmede Connie Fabot won the senior and grand female Championships for W. K. McRae & Son. A group by Rockwood Canary Rocket won first in the get of sire class for W. K. McRae & Son. Second and third groups in this class were owned by J. A. Brown, his groups being respectively sired by Posch Sky Rocket Sovereign and Maple Lea Grand Monarch.

Donald Black Trophy

One of the most keenly contested events was that for the Donald E. Black Silver Trophy for the four best Holstein females, all bred by exhibitor. The winner being J. J. Murphy.

The Ayrshire Show

This was not the regular "Red and White" Show of the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club, as that Show will be staged later on at Havelock Fair, September 16. However, four Ayrshire breeders put on a splendid show. The exhibitors being Pringle Bros.; J. Grant Whyte; T. L. Irving & Sons and C. Reid.

The awards were made in his usual capable manner by John McLennan, well-known Ayrshire breeder of Martintown, Ont., and a member of the Executive Committee, Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association. The awards clerk and ring man was Major T. L. Irving. J. Grant Whyte won the senior and grand male championships on his former well-known winner, Cherry Bank Royal Philip.

Probably the most striking class of the Ayrshire show was that of aged cows in milk. The leader of that class being Winton Hill Cherry 5th which afterwards won the senior and grand female championships.

C.B. of C. Trophy

In evidence of the interest R. C. ("Rod") Morrison and his Bank takes in the purebred livestock industry of this district was the handsome Canadian Bank of Commerce Tray for the best Ayrshire female. Incidentally, each year, for several years past, that Bank has presented a similar prize to one or another of the various cattle breeds represented at Huntingdon Fair. This year's Tray was won by Pringle Bros. on Winton Hill Cherry 5th, and it was handed over to the Messrs. Pringle by Rod Morrison.

Fourteen years of age and still a grand specimen of her breed, Winton Hill Cherry 5th was a most fitting winner. Next in line for the senior and grand Ayrshire championship and the Bank's special prize was Elm Manor Dixie Ann owned by J. Grant Whyte.

The Jerseys

Like the Ayrshires with their "Red and White" Show, the Chateaugay Valley Jersey Club's annual "Jersey Parish Show" will again be held at the time of Havelock Fair.

Unfortunately, we did not reach the Jersey space until that show was almost over. Moreover, the clerk in charge of that show was either unacquainted with the job he had to handle, or else was not in a co-operative frame of mind as regards giving any such information. However, the exhibitors cheerfully gave us the information we desired and, judging by the animals we saw in the stalls, we may well say that there was a most creditable Jersey show.

The judge was Walter Wright, well-known manager of the noted Pine Tree Jersey Farm of Granby, Que.

Four local herds had exhibits forward as follows: T. P. Higgins & Sons, Huntingdon — 22 head; E. E. Brown, Huntingdon — 13 head; Myles Tillotson, Dewittville — 6 head; J. E. Sproule, Franklin Centre — 20 head.

Living up to the showing reputation he attained last year, Wendybrook V. Pan won the grand male championship here for T. P. Higgins & Sons. Last year he was first and junior champion at Sherbrooke and Quebec Exhibitions, also junior and reserve grand champion at Ormstown in 1952.

The grand champion female was Maxwellton Basil Pamela for J. E. Sproule.

B. of M. Trophy

As in the case of the Holsteins, with their Donald E. Black Trophy, and the Ayrshires, with their Canadian Bank of Commerce Trophy, the Jersey men had a special trophy to compete for. In this instance the Bank of Montreal Trophy for the can a baseball curve ?

Can a baseball pitcher throw a curved ball? No, said Col. J. B. Joyce in 1877. "It's absurd," he declared, "to say that any man could throw a ball other than in a straight line." And even after he had watched a pitcher curve a ball around three posts set in a straight line, he remained unconvinced.

Recently, two nationally-circulated magazines published their own findings. They furnished proof that seemed indisputable. The only trouble was, one proved that a ball can curve, and the other proved that it can't.

Now comes Mr. Igor Sikorsky, helicopter expert and internationally-known authority on aerodynamics. Mr. Sikorsky put a couple of baseballs into his wind tunnel at United Aircraft, and proved that a spinning baseball can and does curve. Not only that, he showed how much it curves. You can figure it out yourself, with this handy formula:

$$d = \frac{L P V^2}{7230 W} \text{ feet}$$

And you will see at a glance, this works out to a maximum of about nineteen inches for a pitcher of Carl Hubbell's calibre.

When talking baseball this summer always keep this formula handy. Keep plenty of Molson's Ale handy too, for deep, cool refreshment when the heat and the mathematics get too much for you. Molson's has been brewed by the Molson family since 1786 — many years before Col. Joyce made his dogmatic and inaccurate statement.

Don't be a modern-day Col. Joyce. Be dogmatic, but be accurate, too. Say "Make Mine Molson's!"

HEMMINGFORD W.I.

The members of the Hemmingford W.I. met in St. Luke's Anglican Hall on Friday afternoon, Aug. 28. The purpose of this gathering was to entertain the 41 members of the Associated Country Women who recently attended a Conference held in Toronto which Mrs. C. Pech attended. Members of the Cercle des Femmes were invited, too.

A committee comprised of Mrs. E. Moore, Mrs. J. Cleland, and Mrs. E. Marjlin decorated the hall and solicited food from the members. During the wait for the ladies to arrive, a phone call was received from Mrs. Taylor saying they were delayed and would not arrive in time for tea, but around seven o'clock. In the meantime, a lovely tea was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Harold Palmer, President, welcomed the members of the Cercle. Mrs. Leo Fortin, President of the Cercle, invited the W.I. members over to the Catholic Hall to see their exhibition of handicraft, flowers, vegetables, and a beautiful display of paintings, many of which were painted by two of the W.I. members. Mrs. Wilfred Beaudin and Mrs. Roy Urquhart. Members were welcomed by Father Grondin at the door. Before leaving to return to the Hall, Mrs. Lavallee spoke a few words saying how glad she was that so many members visited their exhibition.

Finally, the bus arrived, but Mrs. Harvey informed all they had to make their visit short. Members got on the bus and visited with the ladies from Norway, Austria, England, Germany, Finland, India, Pakistan, Egypt, Western Canada and the United States. Each visitor was treated to apples donated by Mrs. C. E. Pech.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Reid and son, Andrew, of Westmount, Que., have been spending sometime at the "Mill House."

Sunday guests of Mrs. Gordon Smiles were her cousins, Mrs. J. F. Ross and Mr. R. S. Christopher of Flushing, N.Y., Mrs. Ross and her brother left here Monday to visit the John Lawrensens at Strathmore, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Myles Tillotson and daughters, Barbara and Beverley, spent Tuesday with relatives in Ottawa.

Mr. Gen. A. Potts and Mrs. Potts of Kingston, Ont., spent a week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Noel Catto. Mr. Bert Glennon of Dauphin, Man., was a visitor for a couple of days last week with his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graham.

came the delegates. She mentioned the various Institute branches in the county which had entertained them — Hemmingford, Howick, Aubrey-Riverfield and Ormstown.

"The remaining Institute branches in the county are here today," she continued. — Dundee, Franklin, Huntingdon, and last but not least, the Junior Institute from Athelstan, who are our waitresses."

She said that owing to the length of time the visit to the Beauharnois Power Plant would take, it was decided to confine the luncheon to Institute members rather than hold a civic reception.

Mrs. Bernhardt introduced the head table guests and then asked guests at the other tables to rise and introduce themselves.

Head table guests included: Mrs. Raymond Sayre, who retired after six years as president of the A.C.W.W.; Lady Nuttall, Quebec W.I. representative on the A.C.W.W. Board in London, England; Mrs. G. D. Harvey, Stanbridge E. Que., first vice-president of the Quebec W.I. who conducted the tour; Mrs. Hussain Malik, Pakistan; Mrs. Amid-Ud-Din, Pakistan; Mrs. W. C. Smallman, a W.I. Provincial past-president; Mrs. Donald Orr, Hemmingford, Mrs. C. E. Pech, Hemmingford, and Mrs. J. D. Lang, Brysonville, all county past-presidents; Mrs. Roy Blair, Franklin, a county past-president and president of the Franklin branch; Mrs. W. E. Bernhardt, Athelstan, county president; Mrs. Alex Robb, Huntingdon, county secretary; Mrs. Chas. Reid, president, Huntingdon W.I.; and Mrs. L. Currie, president, Dundee W.I.

Grace was sung at the beginning of the dinner hour, when sliced turkey, fresh garden vegetables, salads, beverages and home made pie were served to over 100 visitors and members of the district W.I. branches, including the bus driver, Mrs. W. C. Smallman, Dundee, provincial past-president of the W.I., proposed a toast to the Queen.

Mrs. Sayre thanked the women of Huntingdon, Dundee and Franklin for their kind hospitality and generosity.

In bidding farewell to the delegates, Mrs. Bernhardt read a short poem by Harriet McEwen Kimball, stating that it expressed the sentiments of the Institute members toward the guests.

As the group was scheduled to visit Beauharnois in the afternoon, the group departed at approximately 2 o'clock.

Saturday was an unusually warm day for this time of the year, and one woman, most probably from the States, remarked that her friends had warned her to take plenty of warm clothes to Canada with her, as Canada is reputedly a land of ice and snow, but Saturday's high humidity certainly didn't require furs and parkas. As each representative boarded the huge orange Provincial Transport bus, a member of the J.W.I. handed her a souvenir of Canada — a booklet showing points of interest in the Province of Quebec, together with maps. A roar of the bus' mighty engine and a chorus of good-byes, and the thirty-four member group continued on their tour, heading for Beauharnois to see the mammoth Quebec Hydro Plant there.

Discussion on ways and means of raising the living standards for all rural women bulk large on the agenda of the Conference and it was felt that such knowledge carried back to their own countries may result in the formation of Women's Institutes, with affiliation with the ACWW could give valuable assistance in any program developed by these leaders for country women in their lands. In addition to the information gleaned through these discussions the observers are keenly interested in seeing at first hand something of farming conditions in Canada. It seemed to their leader, Mrs. Lonnie Landrum, South Carolina, a former Home Demonstration Agent, that the Quebec Tour No. 1, was particularly adapted to fill this need, taking the delegates, as it does, through two famous farming sections of the province, the Eastern Townships and Huntingdon-Chateaugay district.

These visits to centres in the Huntingdon-Chateaugay district although altogether too brief, tend to create better feeling and understanding between the peoples of various countries — all in line with W.I. principles.
