Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

November 4 to 12

Sunny, but windy and cool with rime frosts. Occasional cold rains, freezing drizzle or light snows. Nights cold, as low as 25°F for many places, days mild. Many years we have traffic troubles this week due to snow on icy roads.

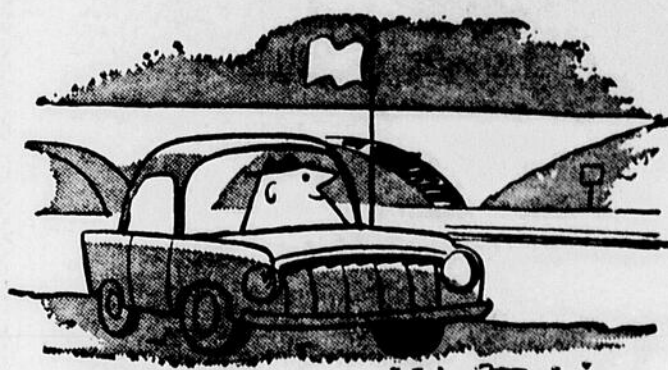

Sunny intervals and scattered showers or misting rain and some wind in the middle of the week, then improving rapidly for a pleasant St. Martin's Summer. Snow for the Maritimes, with fringes of the storm extending into the Townships and Vermont.

Colder, with flurries for the end of the week, but mainly sunny.

STAY OFF EXPRESSWAYS

A modern expressway, like an icy sidewalk, is no place to take a walk. The traffic there is generally moving fast and the drivers intent on reaching their destination in the shortest possible time. As a result, the pedestrian invites death or serious injury in crossing or walking along the shoulders.

Of course, few people choose to walk along an expressway for recreation. It generally is necessitated by an auto breakdown, following which the driver either stands in the roadway to flag down a passing car or starts to walk to the nearest garage.

The Royal Automobile Club warns against this practice, and suggests instead that the motorist attach a handkerchief to the radio antenna or door handle of his car and wait inside until a police patrol car sees the signal. Police assigned to expressway duty are trained to be on the lookout for motorists in distress. The wait should not be too long, and you will avoid the danger of passing cars.

Five American lines vie for Toronto run

By LARRY McINNIS

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES: Listening to the radio (you know, that thing being replaced because it's old fashioned) I heard an announcer say that whole gaggles of people were flocking to a certain store. It brought back memories, because the word "gaggle" is one of many used by flying people during the war, and this, with many other words of flying slang have all but died out. A gaggle is a group of aircraft, enemy of course. So, you would have a gaggle of bandits or bogies. As aerial combat tactics changed, you no longer had many intruders, flights, sections, squadrons, etc., and most of the enemy fighter formations were called gaggles. Another good one was "angels," each one being 1,000 feet. Angels 10 meant aircraft at 10,000 feet. Remember the gremlins? We hardly ever hear of these little "bugs" which were blamed for so many things during the war. Now they put the blame where it belongs, in a great many cases, and call it pilot error when something goes wrong. Those in the know always say "aircraft" now instead of "plane." Instead of having tail surfaces, rudder and elevators or stabilizers, we now have empennages. And so it goes!

THE LIGHTER SIDE: A thought: the bomber which drops the nuclear bomb that blows up the world — where will the plane land after? Reminds us of the edict issued by the CO of a certain USAF base in the U.S. that the pilot must bail out if anything happened to his jet at altitude. One day a little, 5½ foot pilot who weighed about 98 pounds soaking wet had a flame-out at 48,000 feet. Instead of ejecting, as he had been told, he brought the aircraft in to a perfect landing. Of course, his CO gave him what for. "Well," the pilot explained, "I figured I was going 650 knots when I flamed out, and with my size and weight, at that speed and altitude, if I hit the ejection seat button, that explosive charge would put me right into orbit." The CO let him off.

HIS AND HERS: Neiman-Marcus, that famous specialty firm in Dallas and Houston, Texas, has just announced their 1960 Christmas special — a His and Hers airplane combination. For just $176,000 you can buy a specially painted Beechcraft Super G18 marked 'His' and a Beech Bonanza marked 'Hers.' The Bonanza is white trimmed, and the price includes a matching Russian fur jacket. Just the thing for a family that has nearly everything, and away ahead of something like a diamond-studded gold toothpick, and so reasonable, too!

THIS AND THAT: Five American airlines are making efforts to secure the jammy Miami-Toronto run. National Airlines wants to connect Florida east coast cities, like Miami, to Buffalo and Toronto. Capital, Delta and Eastern are also interested in the run. TCA has a Tampa-Toronto run, but has not been able to get in to Miami. Capital has a flight from Miami to Buffalo, but a transfer must be made there by passengers going on to Toronto. The Florida schedule is a bit of a plum, and it might be a good idea for TCA or CPA, or both, to make an effort to give the American carriers a run for their money.

AND MORE: Read a report where another aircraft in the U.S. ran into a flock of ducks or geese while cruising at 5,000 feet and had to turn back to Pittsburgh. Since the terrible Electra crash in Boston, birds in flight are getting a lot of publicity, although they have caused thousands of accidents and broken windcreens over the years. It's about time for some wag to suggest that all migratory birds be forced to file flight plans with the FAA and DOT . . . Great Britain has given $1,000,000 to researchers to work on a super jetliner which will cruise at 1,600 to 2,000 miles per hour. It will probably take 10 years to complete the prototype . . . TCA advertising in advance about the Vanguard, scheduled to come into service early next year.

Westmount Y

Swim team instructors needed now

This year the Westmount YMCA will make its strongest showing in swim team competition since 1957. To date over 25 boys and girls have been working out in the gym and pool three times a week since the first of October. The team is showing a great deal of spirit and the Y will be able to enter swimmers into all categories except Sr. Men's and Women's events.

However, to have a good team, there must be coaches. At present there are four coaches who attempt to cover the nights when practices are held. Unfortunately no one person can be available all three nights. The two men and women who have volunteered have done yeoman's service under these conditions, but two persons are urgently needed to be available to coach the boys' and girls' teams on all three nights. The present coaches will still be available to assist those who volunteer.

This is a good group of boys and girls and to maintain this program, good leadership is required. It is feared that if the present situation continues the swim team may have to disband. If this should happen there will be 30 boys and girls every disappointed. Let's not let this happen.

Any person or persons interested in coaching our swim-team is asked to contact either John Ray, Physical Director or Ron Watt, Youth Secretary at the Westmount YMCA or phone WE. 7-3916 to arrange an interview.

Current Events Club planning New York trip

The fourth meeting of the Current Events Club of Westmount High School took place on October 27. The theme of the meeting was the American Presidential elections.

The first speaker, Mike Vineberg, explained why he was a Republican. He was followed by Neil Fredman, who supported the Democrats. Ann Hart spoke on the paralyzing aspect of the election. She was followed by Gail Glasgow who gave her views on how the election affects Canada. The last speaker, Herby Aronoff, ridiculed the election speeches as a whole. The meeting ended with a discussion concerning the speeches of the day.

The annual trip to New York by the Current Events Club takes place from Nov. 3-Nov. 6. 41 students in all, plus the adviser and his wife, make up the full complement of tourists on this very enjoyable excursion. The students are chosen by merit of their past record within the C.E.C.

The trip includes a tour of the United Nations, a boat trip around Manhattan Island, etc. The trip returns to Montreal on the night of Nov. 6.

Free exhibit

On November 2, in the auditorium of the Fraser-Hickson Institute, His Excellency Rafael de la Colina, Ambassador of Mexico, opened an exhibition of paintings by the distinguished contemporary Mexican artist, Lolita de Silva.

The exhibit is open to the public, free of charge, from 3 to 9 p.m. weekdays and 10 to 5 Saturdays.

On November 8 at 8 p.m. Senorita de Silva will give a brief address in the auditorium on the art and people of Mexico. Her lecture will be illustrated by models displaying typical Mexican costumes and will be followed by three films in color with sound, lasting about one hour.

School art classes pay visit to Museum

SERPENTINE ROWS of urchins, tramps, fairies, witches, clowns, baby dolls, princesses, pirates, court ladies, magicians, Spanish toreadors, and other colorfully costumed characters mounted stairs with grim determination to acquire as big a collection of Halloween loot as possible. Handouts were generous and home owners answering doorbells were kind. Some callers performed a little dance, or sang a song in return for the goodies. It is interesting to know that among all this fun and make believe that other tots who are not so fortunate were not forgotten. Many doorbell ringers carried UNICEF collection boxes, and contributed their own share of pennies to the project.

Canada's most traditional ride-along rally, the Rawcliffe, took place last Sunday. Sports car enthusiasts gathered from all points at Seagram's parking lot on Route 3 in Ville LaSalle, where sealed envelopes containing secret instructions and route to follow, were distributed. This year they are celebrating the bicentenary of 1760 of early Canadian rallying. An original course first followed by Voyageurs was discovered on old maps. Last week's course followed the adventures of two noted competitors for the Iroquois Stakes of 1760 — Pere DesMarais, a missionary dedicated to bringing cheap printing to the Indians and Constant Lytebeater, black sheep of a famous British family, who came to Canada in search of fur. The route, about 17½ miles, was timed to last about 7½ hours including lunch. It ended as usual in the Rawcliffe quarry clubhouse where refreshments were served. Prizes included the Rawcliffe Rock and Permanent Doorstop; genuine Edward II Reamer, white gloves for the cleanest navigator, and club mugs. The route followed through Eastern Townships and the Ottawa river area. In charge of notifying all members of the Laurentian Auto Sports Club of this event was ROSS BRANDER, St. Catherine street west, a director of the association.

Students of King's School Art Classes were taken on a tour of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts to see the paintings of Vincent Van Gogh, recently. "It is just as important for children who are taking art to go to a museum and see famous paintings and works of art as it is to take a course in a class," commented Lonnie Echenberg, Anworth road, art instructor for the classes sponsored by King's Home and School Association.

"They had a wonderful time. After we visited the Van Gogh collection, the children went downstairs where we saw French Canadian, Eskimo, Indian, Peruvian and African art. They especially enjoyed seeing the masks and carvings that are part of the permanent collection in the basement."

Mothers of pupils who accompanied the group were: Mrs. M. Newton, Mrs. Nishi, Mrs. D. DeJong, Miss Belanger and Mrs. Chimelaiz. The children went by chartered bus to and from the museum. "Perhaps in the spring we can arrange another tour. This one was so successful," said Mrs. Echenberg.

The facts

The budget discussion

Although Westmount has given first reading in Council to a tax by-law, happily showing apparent reductions, it is going to get stuck with a fat bill from the Montreal Metropolitan Corporation for its share of the Metropolitan boulevard, and for a percentage of Metro's administrative costs. No provision had been made in the by-law for these assessments.

Premier Lesage has said the Provincial Government will pay the lion's share of the boulevard, but until then the municipalities must ante up the same way they did last year.

Westmount's share for administrative costs will be $14,813, or 3.24 percent. For the boulevard, the bill will amount to $200,277, or 2.96 percent.

Last year the administrative costs were paid "off the shoulder" out of current revenue, but a special tax was levied for the boulevard share.

Some municipalities have not paid their last year's levy on the theory they would be having it refunded by Quebec. Westmount, however, was one of the first to pay up, and without much protest.

Westmount protested the forced change in the system of municipal valuation which took it off the old standard and placed it under the same system used by Montreal, soon to become standard among all Metro's members. The new valuation totals $111,841,238.

BALANCED BUDGET

The new general tax rate is 18 mills, down 2 mills from last year. Of course the total valuation is up by an average of 75 percent, so taxpayers will not only not get a reduction in taxes paid, but will be faced with a substantial increase.

Last Spring Mayor Cushing told residents that, because of the losses incurred by the City over the past two years, either revenues must increase or expenditures must decrease. The latter was hardly possible, he said, so the City must study methods of obtaining more money.

The most effective method of obtaining money is to raise taxes, but this could not be done because the general tax rate was at 20 mills, the maximum allowable by the Cities and Towns Act. The new valuation, though, meant that the rate could be lowered — as they have done — but still provide the same, or more, revenue.

The City can, therefore, still raise the general tax rate by 2 mills at any time.

OTHER TAXES

The rates on school taxes remain unchanged from last year. Non-Roman Catholic individual owners will pay 11 mills. Corporations will pay 16½ mills.

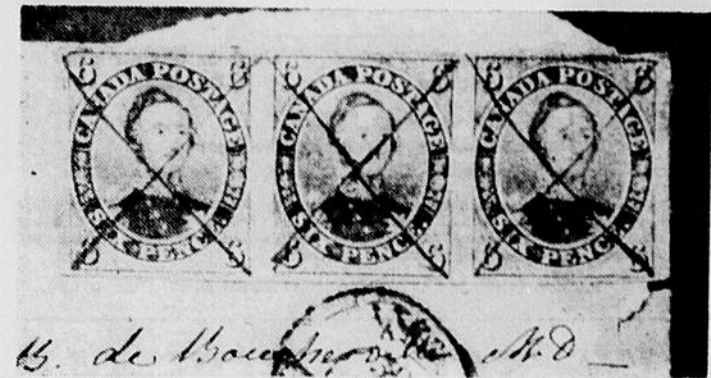

These rates are not on the new valuation, but are based on the municipal roll of September, 1959 plus 37% in accordance with the order of the Protestant School Board.

The rate for local improvement taxes is reduced from 1.75 mills to a new figure of .9 mills on taxable land valuations of $45,310,684.

Rates for fixed charges on the last four loan by-laws is apparently reduced slightly from 2.24 mills to 2.20 mills. The new rate, however, is on the new valuation and taxpayers will be hit for more actual cash.

METRO

Until such time as Premier Lesage actually backs up his promise to take over cost of the Metropolitan Boulevard, Metro has budgeted $6,785,951, to be paid

A REAL FIND: These three stamps came up in a mission mixture purchased for $5 by a member of the Westmount Stamp Club recently, and have just been sold for over $1,000. Stamps for mission mixtures are usually torn haphazardly from envelopes and sold at a flat rate per pound. The chance of finding a worth while stamp is rare, but philatelists enjoy searching through the mixtures. The lady who found these really found a bargain — they are three joined, imperforate stamps depicting Albert, Prince Consort and catalogue about $175 each. The three together, however, commanded a much higher price to a London auctioneer. The lady who made the find would not allow her name to be divulged.

by the 32 municipalities on the Island of Montreal. Westmount's share will amount to 2.96 percent.

Administrative costs for Metro total $608,280, of which Westmount will pay 3.24 per cent.

There are still nine municipalities which have not paid last year's assessment. The total outstanding is $263,313.31, bearing interest at six percent from the due date, February 1.

No provision has been made by Westmount to pay either of the Metro assessments. If, like last year, the $14,813 administrative costs are paid from current revenue, the budget will be upset by that much.

THE FACTS

The balanced budget in Westmount totals $3,331,780.

Largest items of expenditure are roads and scavenging, $845,370; interest and sinking fund, $600,760; police, $403,665; fire, $325,840; administration, $285,290.

Largest items of revenue: general tax, $2,013,142; Westmount's portion of Montreal's municipal sales tax, $425,000; special tax on loan by-laws, $246,051.

Summer works program shows much complete

Fifteen building permits were issued in Westmount during September for an estimated value of $942,800, bringing the 1960 total to date to $5,464,585. Of the total, $2,522,300 is for non-taxable construction.

For September, $567,000 was for non-taxable works.

Garbage collection for the month — 58,208 collections — cost the City $10,046 plus $2,389 for removal and burning of residue.

Other public works included a continuation of reconstruction of the Westmount Athletic Grounds where 35,232 square feet of running track were completed. At Westmount Park, extensive construction of pathways and sodding of grounds was carried out.

Works on streets included reconstruction of sidewalks on Abbot avenue throughout, a boulevard strip on Sydenham, work on Belmont from Westmount avenue to The Boulevard, Upper Roslyn throughout and Murray and Douglas throughout. Work was started on reconstruction of portions on Edgehill from Lexington east to The Boulevard.

PARKING LOT

The Victoria avenue municipal parking lot was completely renovated during September, at the same time as Victoria was repaved. 128 loads of surface were removed, and 1,008 square yards of pavement was laid.

WE SAY YOU SAY

Does the WMA imitate Council in secrecy?

THE Fall is when many groups and associations renew activities, and we have been wondering about the Westmount Municipal Association and its plans for the coming season.

The WMA works by seasons, cancelling meetings in summer because "West-mounters go out of town." City Council, though, operates all year.

We have not heard from the WMA this year, although they held an executive meeting on Oct. 11. Neither have we received the minutes of this meeting, as last season.

Many Westmounters compare the WMA to Council in that it operates in exactly the same way — with a certain air of secrecy. In fact, the WMA has been referred to as the junior council.

The question is, does the WMA operate the Council, or is it the other way around? Certainly, when something comes up in Council, you can be sure it was well studied by the WMA first.

In spite of what Alderman Bovaird said about the WMA being in favor of the proposed swimming pool, it was only last Spring that the executive said it would not be used and presented a lot of other arguments against it. Maybe they didn't say they were not in favor of it, but neither did they say they were.

The WMA put back the issue for further study.

Council has put back the issue for further study.

The next meeting of the WMA is scheduled for November 8. It will be interesting to hear their comments on the pool, and other, issues.

Who will make the final decision on the pool? The WMA? Council? Certainly not the residents.

Civic government finest democracy

Sir: Westmount's municipal government is the finest type of real democracy. The Mayor, Aldermen and principal administrative officers endeavour to be advised by the taxpayers what they may suggest or recommend in the way of improvements that will add to their convenience and security.

What distinguishes the Municipal Government of Westmount from that of the big adjacent municipality is that the Mayor and Aldermen serve without compensation. They meet at appointed times to discuss the agenda and have with them the General Manager or the experienced officials of the higher personnel.

That the overwhelming majority of the taxpayers appreciate the service and devotion to the City's best interests given them by the Mayor and Aldermen is demonstrated by the fact that elections are few and far between. They have hitherto shown little or any dissatisfaction when the splendid Municipal Association recommended its choice for Mayor and Aldermen. The procedure followed by the Association in selecting candidates is fair, constructive and business like. The different elements of the population are represented on the Council.

I don't think that anywhere on this continent the taxpayers and residents of a Municipality are more fortunate in the composition of their government than the good people of Westmount. Let me emphasize that Westmount is not a servant of Montreal but a full fledged City, hence possessing the authority, jurisdiction and powers of the larger neighbor.

When necessary, Council invites the taxpayers to express their opinions relative to a suggested improvement. This proves beyond any doubt that the Council recognizes that the will and the wishes of the taxpayers should influence its decisions. Where the response to letters or notices calling upon the citizens to make known their views is minimum rather than maximum it is a mark of confidence in the Council and those who manage its affairs. There are chronic grumblers who can always find fault no matter how efficiently, economically and progressively the City's affairs are conducted. Demagogic outsiders who rail against Westmount and equally well govern-

Melville Presbyterian to hold service Sunday

Melville Presbyterian Church, 349 Melville avenue, Westmount, though twice almost foundering on acute differences within the congregation and twice damaged by fire in its long history dating from 1885 in the Village of Cote St. Antoine, will celebrate its 75th Anniversary next Sunday with special services for the 300 members and adherents under the guidance of the minister, Rev. C. C. Cochrane, BA, BD.

The first motion toward establishing a Presbyterian unit in the Village of Cote St. Antoine incorporated in 1874 and now known as the City of Westmount, was made in 1869 with the opening of a Sunday School followed by a request to the Presbytery in 1884 for a church.

The first Presbyterian Church in the Village rose on the corner of Cote St. Antoine and Stanton street in 1885 and was known as Melville Presbyterian Church.

Schism

In 1899 the first schism occurred within the church shortly after Rev. Thomas Winfield was called to the ministry in 1898. The Vice President of the Board accused the minister of a breach of ethics but the congregation appeared to be divided on the matter.

By order of the Presbytery in 1900, the congregation was split in two, with Mr. Winfield and his supporters being given the liquid assets and moving to the Melville site, then known as Egan avenue. The remainder of the congregation stayed at the original site and kept the immovables.

Six of the early mayors of the Village of Cote St. Antoine were members and officers of the Melville Church at various times.

Following Rev. Winfield's resignation in 1904, St. Andrews, the new name adopted by those who had remained at the Cote St. Antoine church, and Melville churches held joint summer services until 1925, in the years of crisis due both to World War I and the first groping toward union of churches. In 1925, both churches became part of the United Church of Canada and on this issue, Melville's Presbyterians split once more, with those interested in perpetuating the Presbyterian tradition in Westmount holding their own services in Victoria Hall. Here they were joined by minority groups from St. Andrews and Erskine Church in Montreal, swelling the number to 134 with Rev. Dr. Harvey-Jellie acting as moderator.

Church bought

By the end of 1929, the substantial sum of $41,000 had been raised toward the purchase of a church and for $56,000 Melville Church was bought back by the Presbyterians who have been worshipping there ever since. The reconstituted congregation was numbered at 330.

The Calvin - Westminster Presbyterian Church joined the Melville Church in 1932 making a generous contribution from their building fund to Melville. Then followed a difficult time until the close of 1947 under the ministry of Rev. William Orr Mulligan, a period affected by the depression and a falling-off of membership, and a fire causing an estimated $35,000 worth of damage. The second fire occurred in February 1949, but was confined to the basement.

Steady advancement was noted in the period from 1949 to 1954 under the present minister, attendance increased and a marked interest was shown by the congregation in all facets of church activity and repairs, additions and improvements were made to the church and manse.

Due to the transience of the population, the membership dropped slightly in the period after 1954, and evening services at Melville were discontinued, but notable relief donations were made to Hungarian refugees in 1957.

Improvements

A number of improvements have been made in the past two years at Melville Church. One was the installation of electronic chimes, dedicated to Miss Lillian S. Kerr in 1958. Other renovations completed in 1960 include: the construction of a registry room in the north transept, installation of oak doors of modified Gothic type at the entrance to the church, renovation of the vestibule, purchase of a furnace and modernization of basement and kitchen facilities.

In 1959 William Stephenson, the bass soloist donated four brass plates for use at Sunday services.

Inducted on April 27, 1948, Rev. C. C. Cochrane, the sixth minister at Melville since 1900, has been living at the manse with his wife and three sons since that time. Mr. Cochrane, originally from Orillia, Ontario, is the fourth member of the third generation of ministers in his family and is a teacher at Westmount Junior High School.

Special Anniversary services to be held November 6 and 13 have been arranged as follows: November 6, 11 a.m. service to be conducted by Rev. Dr. C. Ritchie Bell; 7:30 p.m. service by Rev. Ronald Rowat, Superintendent of Missions for the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa.

November 13, 11 a.m. service conducted by Rev. Dr. E. H. Johnson, Executive Secretary for Overseas Mission; 7:30 p.m. service by Miss Laura K. Pelton, Administrative Secretary of the Student Christian movement in Toronto.

Rink permits being issued

The City of Westmount Recreation Department has been issuing rink permits to the residents of Westmount commencing Monday, October 31 at the artificial rink. All children from Grade 2 and up will receive their badge at school. Others will have to apply at the Recreation office with some suitable proof of residence.

The Recreation office, located at the rink at the corner of Lansdowne and St. Catherine, will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Wednesday the office will remain open until 6:30 p.m. for those who are unable to get there by 5 p.m. A special opening from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday, November 5 and 12 has been arranged for those families who haven't been able to get to the rink during the week.

Please co-operate by having suitable proof of residence with you.

"We cannot issue permits unless we are satisfied that you do reside in Westmount," officials say.

Following are some documents which will be accepted: Westmount light bill, Bell Telephone bill, Quebec Natural Gas bill, car license, house lease, school transportation pass, along with personal identification.

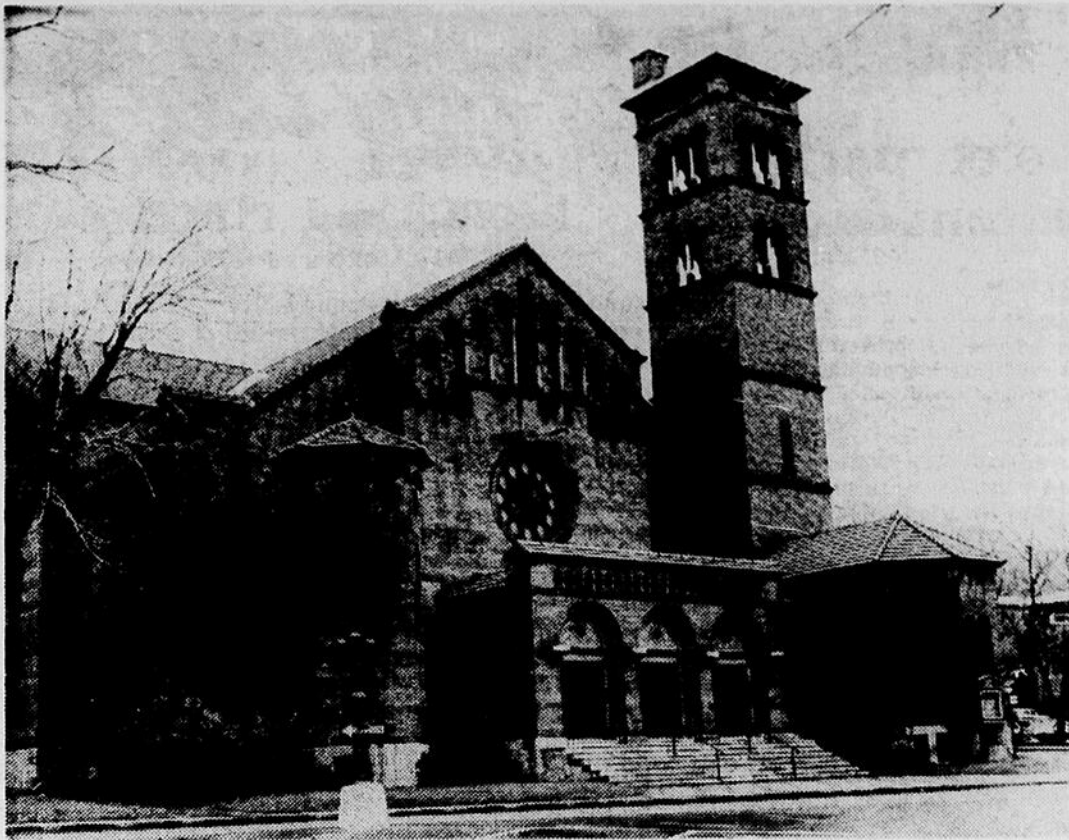

Roomers and boarders are required to show a letter from their landlady or landlord stating they live at the given address, as well as one of the above documents.

Lost badges will not be replaced.

St. Andrews United gives African mission $10,000

As a church dedicated to missionary work, St. Andrews United Church, 101

Cote St. Antoine road, celebrating its Diamond Jubilee November 6 and 13, has contributed $10,000 to the West African Mission in honor of the occasion and plans have been made for special services, a congregational banquet, an organ recital, a choir concert, a pageant, a luncheon and a painting and handicraft exhibition in the coming weeks.

Named after St. Andrew, the first missionary, the church made a contribution of $5,500 of the Emmanuel Seminary in Angola, West Africa for a new lighting plant and a library, and a further donation of $4,500 for a medical laboratory and portable X-ray machine for the Dondi Hospital in Angola.

The roots of the church go back to 1869 when Sunday School classes were held at the home of William Rutherford, later aided by A. C. Hutchison known as the "father of St. Andrews" because of the many services he performed for the church originally known as Melville Presbyterian Church and built in 1885.

A second church was built in 1898 at the rear of the original building and is used today as Hutchison Hall, with a seating capacity of 800 and costing $12,500. The building as it now stands, and one of the larger United Churches in the Montreal area, was erected in 1908 at a cost of $100,000.

In 1900 due to a difference of opinion, a number of church members departed to establish their own church on Melville avenue, leaving behind the group who founded St. Andrews Church, Westmount on November 3 of that year. The total numbers and adherents today stands at 1,638 with 200 children in the Sunday School.

The congregation joined the United Church of Canada in 1925, though the union caused some staunch Presbyterians to leave St. Andrews and attend Presbyterian services being held in Victoria Hall. Since 1925 St. Andrews has contributed more than $760,000 to the Missions both in Canada and overseas. This is in addition to $220,000 contributed to Church extension, pensions, and other United Church appeals.

An exact replica of the famous West Rose window in the Cathedral at Chartres, France will be unveiled at St. Andrews November 20 when an upstairs circular window will be dedicated. There are over 30 stained glass windows in the church, ten of which were dedicated last year and three more will be dedicated before the end of 1960.

Jubilee improvements made to the church include the recarpeting of the church gallery with 4,550 square feet of carpet, the purchase of new choir gowns, and reconditioning of church lobbies and Stanton street entrance. In Hutchison Hall, two classrooms have been added, the reception room has been entirely reconditioned, the ladies' parlour enlarged and renovated, the men's choir room painted and remodelled and the entrance and lighting to Clark Hall have been improved.

Only four ministers have served in the pastorate in the past 60 years, the fourth being the present minister the Rev. Daniel M. Grant, D.D. who was inducted in May 1945. A native of Cape Breton, Dr. Grant graduated from Dalhousie University and Pine Hill Divinity Hall in Halifax. Mrs. Grant, a drama school graduate, is known for her excellent monologues and directs plays and pageants in the church. The Grants have two sons, James and David both University students at present.

Dr. Grant is assisted by Rev. David C. Searfoss, B.D., a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, N.J.

Guest preacher on Sunday will be the Rev. David A. MacLennan, D.D., Minister of the Brick Presbyterian Church, Rochester, N.Y. — a distinguished preacher, lecturer and author. He is remembered by many Montrealers as the Minister of Emmanuel United Church, before his appointment with the Eaton Memorial Church in Toronto. For several years he was Professor of Preaching and Pastoral Care at Yale Divinity School.

In addition to the Services on Sunday, Dr. MacLennan will preach the Sermon at the Special Jubilee celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Communion on Monday Evening (Nov. 7th) at 8.00 o'clock.

On Tuesday afternoon the Diamond Jubilee will be marked by a special meeting of the MacGillivray of the Woman's Missionary Society, when an original play, produced and directed by Mrs.

The Jubilee celebrations will continue the following Sunday (Nov. 13th) when the guest preacher will be the Very Rev. C. M. Nicholson, D.D., Principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, N.S. and former D. M. Grant, will be presented. Moderator of the United Church of Canada. Other events will include a Choir Concert on Tuesday Evening (Nov. 15th); a Buffet Luncheon for the Woman's Association (Nov. 22nd) and an Exhibition of Painting and Handicraft on Tuesday and Wednesday (Nov. 29th and 30th).

Unity Boys' Club

Annual Hallowe'en party draws record attendance

By MAURICE MARIASINE

One of the most successful special events took place at the Unity Boys' Club last Friday evening when over 350 young people participated in the Club's annual Hallowe'en parties.

The Club was beautifully decorated by a committee of young members under the direction of Mrs. Irene Hemsworth. The Games Carnival, conducted in the auditorium, was directed by John Fleming, Rupert Bowen and a committee composed of Hudson Alleyene, Patricia O'Meara, Don Vollett, Sylvia McManus, Marie Gallant, Rosaleen Mullen, Bernard Doherty and Fred Lewington.

A highlight of the evening was the costume parade and the judging was carried out by Rotarian Donald B. Ross and committee. The prize winners were as follows: In the Attom and Midget Category (under 11 years-of-age) Most Original 1. Ricky McKaig. 2. Debbie Brant. 3. Amanda Alleyene. Best costume 1. Karen Gaucher. 2. Desi Fernandes. 3. Pamela McKaig. Most Comical Costume 1. Gilles Sauve. 2. Blair Marshall. 3. Michael Maloney.

In the Junior Category (11, 12 and 13 years-of-age) Most Original 1. Derek Brown. 2. George Herman. 3. Vaughn Butler. Best Costume 1. Michi Hyami. 2. June Simon. 3. Sandra Hickey. Most Comical 1. Jan Anamaet. 2. Claudio Kellig. 3. Nicole Couture.

A teen-age masquerade dance was also conducted with Jimmy Roguski as guest DJ and Peter Doherty as Master of Ceremonies. This was one of the most enjoyable parties the young teen-agers had for a long time at the Club and a repeat performance has been suggested for the Christmas holiday period.

JUST A REMINDER: Tickets are now available for the annual Father and Son and Mother and Daughter Banquets which will be held in conjunction with sports night at the Unity Boys' Club on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 22-23. Head Table guests will include personalities from the world of sport.

COMMUNITY SERVICE: John Fleming, a Boy's Clubs of Canada scholarship student at Sir George Williams University, who is currently doing his field work at the Unity Boys' Club, has introduced a Teen-age Service Club for the primary purpose effecting community service by ways and means of finances and leadership counselling.

BASKETBALL: The Unity

treated with the disdain they merit.

A clean, well kept, honestly administered municipality generates a civic pride since it is a tribute to democratic principles and ideals of government. No City of its size, population and revenues has a more efficient Police Department, a better equipped Fire Service and adequate sanitary facilities as well as a rigidly enforced building code. The praise given the City by experts and municipal authorities is in every way well deserved.

The former General Manager was regarded as an outstanding authority on all matters concerning municipal government. His equally qualified successor attend conferences and gatherings of municipal officials that meet to discuss the needs of municipalities and how best their citizens can be served. Municipal government more intimately touches the lives of the citizens than either the Provincial or the Federal because of the services they must provide. In the measure that these services are properly administered do they contribute to the nation's welfare. Practically every municipality has its local or district newspaper which gives its readers full reports of what is of local interest and in this respect the citizens of Westmount are ably served by your well edited paper.

THIS WEEK IN MUSIC

Duo-pianists Whittemore and Love perform at Beaconsfield High Auditorium Thursday at 8:30 p.m., and earlier in the day mezzo Betty Allen of Ohio sings at The Comedie Canadienne, for The Ladies Morning Musical Club at 2:30 p.m.

The celebrated Dutch Organist Feike Asma, will give an Organ Recital in The Quebec Concerts Series, Friday 8:30 p.m., at Notre Dame Church, and The Montreal Bach Choir under the direction of George Little perform Bach Motets at Redpath Hall, also at 8:30 p.m., Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau sings at Her Majesty's Sunday, November 6th, and the 1st in a series of the Organ Works of J. S. Bach performed by Kenneth Gilbert and Bernard Lagacé opens Monday evening at Queen Mary Road United Church in Hampstead.

An all Vivaldi programme will be given by The McGill Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Alexander Brott, with soloists R. Masella in the Bassoon Concerto in A minor, and A. Garami in "The Four Seasons." The place: Redpath Hall, Monday, November 7th, at 8:45 p.m. The Israel Philharmonic Orchestra plays at The Forum, Tuesday evening, and Israeli pianist Penina Saltzman will be heard in the "Israel Capriccio" for piano and orchestra, by Paul Ben-Haim, one of Israel's leading composers. Other works on the programme are Brahms' 4th, Haydn's "Surprise" Symphony, and Stavinsky's "Firebird" Suite.

THIS WEEK ON THE AIR

Franz Lehar's ever popular "The Land of Smiles" is featured on CKVL-FM Thursday at 10:00 p.m., with Schwartzkoff, Kunz, Gedda and The Philharmonia Orchestra, led by Otto Ackermann.

Friday's Ludwig van Beethoven programme at 10:30 p.m. brings you the delightful but rarely performed 11 Viennese Dances as well as Country Dances performed by The Vienna State Opera Orchestra, conducted by Franz Litschauer.

International Concert Hall (Saturdays 7:00-8:00 p.m.) brings you Chilean pianist Claudio Arrau, with The Bergen Symphony Orchestra under Carl Garaguly in Beethoven's mighty "Emperor Concerto" and Bartok's 2 Symphonic Pictures performed by The Hungarian Radio Symphony Orchestra. Beethoven is favored this week, for we have the monumental 9th on The Prague Spring Festival of 1960, on Sundays at 7:00 p.m., with The Czech Philharmonic, under Karl Bohm, and members of the Prague National Theatre.

A note for Opera Lovers; follow CKVL-FM programmes closely for the next month. In addition to the regular opera broadcasts, The Salzburg Festival programmes (Saturday Eves) will shortly bring you a series of complete Mozart Operas recorded on location in Salzburg, capturing all the excitement of this great musical event.

The 1960 Sibelius Festival (Mondays 10:00 p.m.) is given over this week to a Chamber Music Concert, by members of The Finnish Radio Orchestra. Israel Concert Hall (Tuesdays 10:00 p.m.) features The Israel Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Paul Kletzki, in 2 movements from Mahler's first Symphony, and this is followed at 10:30 p.m., by record reviews on "New Classical Releases." Wednesday at 10:00 p.m. you will hear an all Stravinsky Programme on "BBC Concert Hall," with The Royal Opera Orchestra Covent Garden, led by Ernest Ansermet.

For 24 hours a day there is music to suit every taste on CKVL-FM. Just set your Fine Music dial at 96.9 meg. and relax to the finest the musical world has to offer.

NEW RECORDS

Beethoven: Sonata Opus 13 (Pathetique), Opus 27 No. 1 and Opus 27 No. 2 (Moonlight) Paul Loyonnet Vol. 1.

Beethoven: Sonata Op. 53 "Waldstein" and Op. 57 "Appassionata" Paul Loyonnet Vol. 2. Fidelio F 3301 and F 3312.

Some of Beethoven's best known sonatas are given con amore performances on these records by the great Paul Loyonnet. It is difficult to single out any particular work — all are so beautifully executed. Highly recommended.

Tchaikovsky — Symphony No. 6 in b (Pathetique) The Philadelphia Orch. — Eugene Ormandy. Columbia ML 5495.

Yet another Pathetique added to the 2 dozen or so versions currently available. But a performance! And the sound is absolutely stunning. If you haven't got a Pathetique, you can't miss with this one.

The Organ in America — A history with E. Power Biggs. Col. ML 5496.

A fascinating document in sound of the development of organ music in the USA in colonial times, with music by American Composers of the day played on historical instruments across the US. The enclosed illustrated brochure makes first class reading material.

Still — Sahdji Ballet/Ginastera — Creole Faust Ovt./Guarnieri — Three Dances — Howard Hanson and The Eastman-Rochester Orch. Mercury MG 50257.

Interesting contemporary Ballet scores, with the accent on Native Rhythms. In the Sahdji Ballet by US Composer William Grant Still, dramatically effective use is made of choir contrasting orchestra. The sound is up to the usual high Mercury standard.

The Slender Bender still doing tricks

By VALENTINA RAHR

Bob Wallace, the Slender Bender, made his debut on the stage of the Orpheum Theatre in Montreal 50 years ago, billed as Canada's most original novelty act, presenting an amazing exhibition of contortion, balancing, comedy and music. He was an instant success.

And Bob Wallace, now using his true name, Walter Jackson, is still an entertainer. In fact, recently he amazed friends of his neighbor on Argyle avenue by standing on a board placed on a wooden cylinder on the roof of his house and rocking himself from side to side.

"It took me several months to learn that one," he said succinctly.

Further, Jackson now has a partner, Joe Beauchamp of Hillside avenue. Although both in their 70's, Jackson and Beauchamp bring their talents as magicians and entertainers to children in hospitals, church benefits, parties, local jails and homes of shut-ins.

"I've never turned down a church benefit request," Beauchamp said.

"That is one kind of performance we always have time for," Jackson added.

Although they get paid occasionally for their performances, most of their shows are donated.

Recalling his start in entertainment, Jackson said he performed on the Main about the turn of the Century.

"At that time," he reminisced, "salaries were four dollars a week, and tickets to the Eden Musee on St. Laurent boulevard were five cents, one ice cream cone included."

"The Strand was a high class movie house, and prices were high at 20 cents each. They wanted to keep a select clientele."

In 'real' life Jackson carved out a career as a professional photographer in all phases, commercial, photo engraving and portraiture. He was on the staff of the famous Notman studios for some time.

Now retired, he still keeps working on new acts. He makes his own props in a basement workshop.

Beauchamp, the other half of the sometimes-duet, was, in his day, a famous singer in Canada, the U.S. and United Kingdom, specializing in original interpretations of English and French-Canadian folksongs.

"I sang for the first time in 1902 at the Seaman's Institute," he remembers. "The thing I remember most, though, about that evening is that my knees knocked."

Beauchamp says that vaudeville was popular during those years, and bookings were easy to come by. Often a single man was engaged to sing at a wedding or a house party.

"Once I took part in a stage production of Ben Hur," he said. "The cast had more than 3,000, and live animals were used."

He recalls a time when he sang at the Trocadero in London, England. The best-liked songs were the French-Canadian folksongs.

"I was recalled time and time again for engagements," he said, "and rave notices appeared in all the papers."

"There was no difficulty getting contracts in those years."

Joe Beauchamp worked as a security investigator for many years, but he always found time for his appearances in different shows.

The latest act, combined with Walter Jackson, features the playing of two electric organs, followed by magic tricks while dressed as clowns, all accompanied by a patter of jokes and funny sayings.

Jackson says he was born on the day the famous old rogue, P. T. Barnum, died in 1891. And so, he has been carrying on the fine traditions of vaudeville with Joe Beauchamp, almost continually since.

PRIVATE SHELTERS

It's hard to understand why so many should be so violently hostile to the whole idea of constructing fallout shelters in basements of private homes . . . Effects of even an all-out hydrogen bomb attack are going to miss a great deal of a place as large as North America and even if there were rockets aimed at every sizable city a lot of misses would be registered. — Agassiz-Harrison (B.C.) Advance.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS thousands of Canadians gave their lives in defence of our country and the democratic world in World Wars I and II and in Korea; and

WHEREAS memory of their service and sacrifice is a source of inspiration to all citizens as our nation faces new difficulties and dangers; and

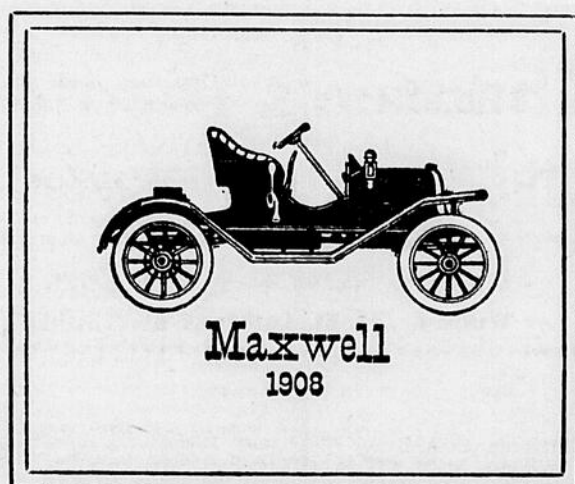

WHEREAS this memory is kept ever bright by the annual wearing of memorial poppies in their honour and in honour of all other Canadians who died in war service;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John C. Cushing, Mayor of the City of Westmount, do hereby proclaim Saturday, November 5th, to be Poppy Day in the City of Westmount and urge that all citizens observe the day by wearing the memorial Poppy of the Canadian Legion.

Gardens

by

The Venerable

R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.

Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

A garden is a wonderful place to meditate on the works of God, and the meditation runs most smoothly and coherently when one is co-operating with the Creator who made the first garden. I have spent three days a few weeks ago putting my garden to bed for the Winter. There were a few late vegetables, a good many late flowers and one single ripe pear which the left wing of Donna had spared. There was a lot of satisfaction in remembering the successes of the year — the asters and the sweet-peas; a little wonder at the failures like the garden peas. After all, why had they been poorer than usual? They had received exactly the same care.

I suppose the Great Gardener looks askance also at some of His plants. Why should these succeed and these fail? They receive exactly the same care. They grow up with the same advantages of surrounding and training, and yet one brings forth a better fruit than the other. There is a sad and lovely passage in Isaiah where God speaking as the Gardener complains of His vineyard. Even He has His disappointments.

However, a gardener does not spend too much time bewailing his failures. He makes note of them for future reference and sets his face to the coming year. The bulbs and annuals and perennials may have been good or less good this year. They are certainly going to be better next year. After all, we have spent time in preparation, we have enriched the soil and have put in the best of bulbs — all the better because they were a gift from a landscape artist.

And now I am going to enjoy my Winter gardening. I see tulips here and daffodils yonder, with crocus and narcissus poeticus in the corners. For six months I am going to enjoy my garden without fear of disappointment, because I have the God-given gift of imagination. It is God-given because it is one of the characteristics of God Himself. It was the Russian philosopher Berdyaev who said that God created the world by His imagination. Canon Adam Fox argues that God is an artist because only an artist can imagine the glory of sunset and storm cloud, of forest and mountain, of glacier and waterfall. When God, then, made man in His likeness one of the likenesses He bestowed on man was that gift of imagination. I can look into next year and see a well-kept garden with all my work rewarded. I know from experience that there will be disappointments, but for the next six months at least my garden is going to give me very real pleasure.

Kathleen Jenkins appointed director of 'Library Week' is considered among the principal forces which makes this library one of Canada's outstanding in the medium sized field. Recently she was appointed 1960-61 director of Canadian Library Week, and was granted leave of absence by the city of Westmount to assume this position in Ottawa. She will be away one month this fall, and two months in the Spring.

Miss Jenkins was chosen chief librarian in 1931, after receiving a McGill library school certificate, and working four years as junior librarian at the Westmount Library. Since then she has seen much remodeling of the library, and a major library growth in books and members. Chief change is the newly completed three story building adjoining the library which houses a new children's department on the top floor, and two stories of adult stacks with room for 100,000 books. The library is now also available, by the payment of an annual fee, to a small number of members living outside the city of Westmount.

The library, supported entirely by Westmount, has been in existence over 50 years, and has one of the earliest children's libraries in Canada. There are now nine full time librarians, including Miss Jenkins, and two children's librarians, plus Saturday part time relief workers.

Quality of service is stressed by Miss Jenkins, such as how to use the library, which books and which subject material to select. Much research is done at the library, says Miss Jenkins. This includes women doing papers for clubs, writers of short stories, magazine articles, television and film scripts.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

"The film board uses the library a great deal for historical research. Commercial artists use it for factual information. We have a good collection of books with costume information," Miss Jenkins stated. "There is also a strong theatre section, which a good many amateur groups use."

In the past Miss Jenkins has done much lecturing at the McGill University Library school, as special lecturer. The library is closely connected with this school, and every year has many of its students for practice work. Miss Jenkins has served with the Quebec Library Association in various capacities, and was one of its early presidents. She was also president of the Canadian Librarian Association from 1950-51.

While working with the C.L.A. she chaired the Budget and Finance committee. She was chairman for four years of the Library Publisher Relations committee, which acted as a link between the Book Publishers Association and the CLA. This committee was particularly interested in books written in Canada and their distribution. It worked with the question of the abolishment of the sales tax on books, (there now is no sales tax on books). It also worked with the question of copywriting, and Canadian Library Week, celebrated in April.

A native of Montreal, Miss Jenkins has been guest speaker for many women's organizations. She has been past president of the Business and Professional Women's Club. During her leisure moments she enjoys the theatre, and loves to travel. Her preference in reading is history and historical biography.

Beloved 'Bedtime Story Man' signs off with autobiography

By MILLICENT HICKMORE

"Now I Remember" is the autobiography of one of the greatest nature writers of our time, Thornton W. Burgess. This autobiography gives an insight to the character of the man who wrote some seventy books, a number of articles, and fifteen thousand newspaper Bedtime Stories. The man who, imbued with the gift of a great creative imagination, to whom millions of children have looked up to for over three generations.

Dr. William T. Hornaday, the great naturalist expressed perhaps better than any other, the greatness of a man who has become a legend in his own lifetime. But the most famous compliment ever paid to the beloved "Bedtime Story Man" is just as true; "If the children could have a candidate for President of the United States, he would be Thornton W. Burgess."

Burgess' Bedtime Stories written for children, have also been enjoyed by thousands of grown-ups, including famous physicians, judges, and scientists. A tribute to the author from the editor of one of Canada's largest newspapers speaks for itself, "You may be interested to learn that a number of hard-boiled newspapermen read your stories to their as yet un-boiled children."

"Now I Remember", relates the author's childhood days on Cape Cod, where as a boy he worked hard to help his widowed mother. Burgess believed implicitly in environment, "It was my very good fortune to be born minus the proverbial silver spoon," he said, "and to spend my formative years in a lovely small village before the era of too much and too fast." It was his boyhood spare time spent in fishing and outdoor sports which gave him the great insight to Mother Nature.

His first observation in the realm of nature was completely in error, when as a five-year-old he saw a whale which the whalers' flensing knives had already been at work on, exposing the white blubber giving the appearance of red-and-white stripes like a barber's pole, and to this day ordinary whales to him, never look right. "Always there is some gain in error," he quotes, "if it leads to finding some truth in the end." "It is sometimes pleasant, even helpful, to ignore the hard facts of science and exact knowledge, and instead, gazing into the crystal globe of imagination, to see red-and-white whales." "Who shall say that we are not the better for so doing?"

Requests from many faithful readers have led to this autobiography as many consider the author as important as his books. To know the author is to know his style; to know his style is to better understand and enjoy his books.

Our Inheritance

Sometimes in staring at the sun,
We fail to see the flowers at our feet,
The moon and stars, the clouds and space, loom great,
But common things of earth, are ever sweet.

The heart is always wiser than the head,
And to the meek, the earth is given free,
So why then toil for things of little worth,
When heaven's best gifts, are free, to you and me.

made and imported from Melbourne to be shown in the Queen Elizabeth.

One of the largest textile manufacturers from New York engaged the entire floor of one of the newest hotels for one week and used the Speirs-Miller models exclusively.

During this summer months three sets of twins were requested for a public relations job. Young ladies, natural and wholesome looking for the "Sandwich Twins" seen by many personally as well as on TV.

It is tremendously interesting and a great challenge as the requirements are so varied, says Betty Speirs.

Personality a 'must' for modeling career

New and interesting careers have opened up within the past few years for all ages. Betty Speirs of the Speirs-Miller Dancing, Modelling and Charm School was one of the first pioneers to train the very young for fashion show, commercial photography and TV, staging fashion shows where prospective models of all ages would learn to face an audience and develop showmanship; at the same time helping to develop confidence.

The next step was to organize a "Placement Service" where pictures of tiny babies, children, teen-agers, male models, elderly ladies and gentlemen—all types, ages and sizes to be filed with pictures and measurements.

The Placement Bureau has grown with the years and Betty Speirs says she has had an order for showroom models as far away as Australia to model garments

Leopard to highlight Cat Show Sunday, Nov. 6

The Montreal Cat Fanciers Association is again holding its Annual Cat Show at the Royal Canadian Hussars' Armoury, 4185 Cote des Neiges road on Sunday, November 6.

They have two major attractions to offer this year which they feel will be quite a drawing card to the many enthusiastic cat fanciers who attend the show.

Chestamere Snafu of Sirhan, called Fu Fu by her mistress is a Himalayan cat which is still a rarity in this country. The breeding of the Himalayans was, we believe, first accomplished in Great Britain with a large measure of success. It is a long haired cat of a beautiful cream shade with the points of a seal point siamese and has the characteristic blue eyes common to the siamese. It is still not recognized by some of the American Associations but it will be on exhibition at the cat show as the general feeling amongst the members is that such a beautiful feline should be seen.

A BIG CAT

Susie, the leopard, owned by Mr. Howard Lees, has already appeared at public functions and a great deal of thought was given to the invitation which was sent to her. Susie belongs to the cat family but could not appear in the show catalogue as there was no class for her. How and where to house her was the next problem; after all Susie is a lady who is a great pet with her master and the feeling was that she should be treated with proper respect.

A suitable cage was the biggest problem but after a great deal of scouting around an excellent zoo cage was offered on loan and it was decided that she would have a whole room to herself, where she would be able to be comfortable and share her popularity as befitted her queenly appearance. The show manager, Mrs. George Grimson, chairman of the Show Committee, felt that perhaps Susie might be a little jealous of so many beautiful rosettes and trophies being awarded to the other cats that special arrangements were then made for her to be presented with a special rosette and a great deal of loving labor has gone into the project.

Mrs. Jack Wright of Thurlow avenue is one of the ticket converters and will be working with Mrs. Clarence Watterson of Westmount.

Mrs. E. H. Bensley undertook the job of getting as many attractive posters as she could which have all been hand done and have been placed at various spots throughout the city and N.D.G.

Miss Rosemary O'Shaughnessy of Brodeur avenue, an ardent cat fancier, would very much have liked to have entered a cat of her own in the show in the Special Household Pet Division which attracts many young people, but not having her cat with her any more concentrated on doing a very distinctive job of preparing posters of a stylized cat which should attract much attention to this young student who is a leader in community activities.

EXHIBITORS

Carolyn and Mary Susan Stark are two young girls who did not show their pets at the Montreal Cat Fanciers Annual Cat Show last year, but made sure that they received their entry forms well in advance this year.

Both girls are exceedingly fond of their pets and take pride in keeping them well groomed and taken for daily walks, each cat on its own special leash to avoid any mishap.

Despite all their precautions to be well on time and at the show all day, their mother telephoned the show manager to see if a kitten sitter could take over for a couple of hours while their new baby sister Heather was christened, Sunday November 6 being the only available date for the christening.

Were these cats to have been shown in the All-Breed or one of the specialty Championship shows the answer would have been that their agent or kitten sitter would have had to be entered in the catalogue which has already gone to press, but as the Special Household Pet Show was specially designed to encourage the youngsters to help in encouraging other children to take over the full care and protection of the household pet in accordance with the teachings of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, in this case the show manager advised a kitten sitter would watch the cats for them while they attended the christening. Best wishes go Mrs. Frances Diorio, president of Montreal Cat Fanciers Association, who is taking an active part in the show this year.

SHOW COMMITTEE

Mrs. George Grimson is chairman of the Show Committee; Mrs. Gilbert Ferrabee, 2nd vice-president is acting as assistant show manager and show secretary; Mrs. S. T. Preston is the show secretary; Mrs. Jack Wright of Hampstead is ticket convener, with Mrs. Clarence Watterson of Westmount; Mr. George Grimson is supervisor of the Benching Arrangements; Miss Catherine Beer of Notre Dame de Grace is a member of the show committee.

LCC Gardner leads scoring

Most noticeable gain in the Interscholastic Senior Football League's individual scoring race was attained by Stan Hurson of Cardinal Newman.

Hurson tallied three touchdowns in his team's 40-0 romp over Rosemount to move into a fourth place tie with Loyola's Paul St. George.

Bob Gardner wrestled the lead away from Mount Royal's Dave MacDonald, notching one TD as his LCC teammates bowed to Westmount.

Gardner has 42 points in four games for a two-point margin over MacDonald and a seven-point spread over third place Bernie Young of Loyola.

Loyola tennis team triumphs

Loyola College won the Ottawa, St. Lawrence conference tennis title, defeating Carleton College, Ottawa University, Sir George Williams College and Royal Military College.

The tournament sponsored by Carleton College was played at the Rockcliffe tennis courts in Ottawa.

Rugger teams seek playoffs

Town of Mount Royal 'A' beat McGill 'A' 11-3, to take the Rook Rugger trophy. They have followed in the footsteps of the senior team by finishing the season unbeaten.

The interest next week will be centred on the battle for playoff positions when the Barbarians meet Wanderers at Westhill, kick-off 1.30 p.m.

Westmount meet Irish at Westmount Park, kick-off 2 p.m. and Beavers entertain Mount Royal in Ottawa.

Bill Hudson records big Calvert vote

Bill Hudson's effective work on the Alouettes' front wall has resulted in the import lineman being accorded another heavy vote in the latest ballot results for the Lord Calvert Trophy.

The hard-working tackle dominated the ballot count at the last home game. He has moved to within 472 points of leader Harold Patterson.

CITY OF WESTMOUNT Eight-Man Tackle Football League, who are back playing in the old Westmount Athletic Grounds, have had a successful season and the men behind the teams, game and recreation department officials are shown here with captains of two of the four clubs. Front, left to right: B. A. Rothwell, Superintendent of Recreation; Lloyd MacKinnon, Huskies; Robin Armstrong, Bulls, John Shayer, Bulls, John Ono, Canadian Born chinese, Huskies and John Garland, Recreation Supervisor. Back row, Stewart McGowan, Joe St. James, Hugh MacDonald and Doug Brambell, referees.

Andy McGillis dinner slated Friday, Nov. 4

Andy McGillis, athletic coach at St. Leo's Academy in Westmount, will be honored at a testimonial dinner to be held at the Queen's Hotel Friday November 4. The dinner is being organized by former pupils, many of whom came under Andy's wing during his tenure as instructor at the school.

Thousands of St. Leo's boys have been tutored by Andy in the past 24 years. He has coached 10 city high school championship hockey teams and eight football titlists.

Many Golden Glove winners were also started off by McGillis through his Kid Glove tourney sponsored annually at the Clarke avenue House.

Frankie Creaghan, former Canadian amateur middleweight champion was a McGillis protege. Darcy McGovern, Milton Orr and the late Johnny O'Connell and Jimmy O'Reilly are other outstanding athletes developed over the years.

Another feather in the McGillis cap was guiding the Westmount Junior Football club to the Eastern Canadian championship in 1938.

Always a booster of the youngsters, Andy may be seen in all kinds of weather putting the kids through their paces on the sandlots or the outdoor ice sheets.

He is also a keen supporter of track-and-field events and many of his pupils have broken the tape carrying St. Leo's red, green and white colors in interscholastic meets.

Hyland speaks to grid club

Old tales but with a new twist about the old football days were told and re-told at the third annual reunion dinner of the Grand Trunk-Canadian National Football teams, held at the Queen's Hotel.

Dave Rollo, player and coach of teams under Grand Trunk and CNR is association president and was dinner chairman. He told about 100 members of the association that the group was 'a unique one' to say the least.

Scouts, Bombers win touch grid league crowns

In the Westmount Touch Football League sudden-death final playoff, Bombers defeated Roughies 18-10 to win the mosquito title. Bombers finished in top place with 16 points with the Roughies in second with 12.

Scouts, who won the Termite 'B' title, defeated Rams, of the Termite 'A', 10-6 to win the Termite crown. In an exhibition game, Lower Canada College defeated an all star team from Westmount pee wee section 'A' and 'B', 24-12.

Broncs capture tackle football loop crown

Broncs coached by Herbie Guilfoyle, Phil Martin and Pepper Young won the 1960 Westmount Recreation Department Eight-man Tackle Football Championship trouncing Bulls 32-7.

This is the third year the Broncs have taken the honors having won in 1957 and 1959.

Bulls couldn't put the stopper on Mike Dench who scored three touchdowns going 30 yards and five yards off right tackle and snaring a 15-yard Munro flip. Andrew Beaubien returned to the line-up and helped out with two majors. Darrell Munro converted twice.

Munro handled his mates brilliantly from the quarterback slot. Peter Gurd, Doug Muncey, Chris Burritt and Tony Tremblay turned in fine efforts. Robin Armstrong got Bulls' T.D. which was converted by Pat Fennell.

Following is the championship roster: Darrell Munro, captain; Jonathan Churcher, Brian Hoffman, Peter Gurd, John Garland, Doug Muncey, Steven Bourke, Timothy Casgrain, Gerald Grimes, Chriss Burritt, Michael Mullin, Tony Tremblay, Mike Dench, Andrew Beaubien and Herbie Guilfoyle, Phil Martin, Pepper Young, coaches.

Caledonia rink wins opening St. George 'spiel

Ken Weldon skipped his Caledonia rink of Frank Garrett, Smith defeated Brian McCarthy Spence Clark and Bruce Oxley 10-14.

The Weldon rink jumped off to a 4-0 lead after two ends before RCAF replied with singles in the next two.

But after a single by Weldon in the fifth, Smith came back with three big ones to tie things at 5-5.

Weldon scored a single on the seventh but gave up three on the eighth to trail for the only time in the game. A four on the ninth by the Caledonians settled the issue.

Smith was lying two when Weldon played his last rock. He

Quebec rugger stars lose 16-15

All Star squads representing Ontario and Quebec met in an Inter-city rugger game at Toronto Saturday, with the Ontario team winning 16-15 in the last minute of play.

Ontario went ahead at the 10-minute mark of the first half with a 5-0 lead, but several plays later Rickey Parsons notched three points for Quebec and duplicated with a similar play three minutes later to give Montreal a 6-5 lead.

Ontario went ahead again with a penalty but Parsons with his third of the game made the count read 9-8 at half time for Quebec.

In the dying minutes of the game Nail Quaid scored a 40-yard field goal to put the Quebecers ahead 15-11 but Ontario retaliated with a lively up field pass play.
