ROME, September 18.—A popular demonstration occurred at Spezia yesterday in favor of abolishing the military sanitary cordon about the town. At Resciano the populace were greatly excited ; the impression prevails that the cholera remedies which were being dispensed to the sick were poison. The doctors were shot at as they approached the houses of patients. The carabineers in attempting to preserve order were stoned and shot at and obliged to use firearms in self-defence. At Naples from midnight to ten o'clock on Wednesday morning there were 132 fresh cases and 46 deaths.

CAIRO, September 18.—The Khedive, Nuber Pasha and Sir Evelyn Baring have received an identical cipher despatch from Gordon, dated Khartoum, August 26. It reads : "I am awaiting the British forces in order to evacuate the Egyptian garrison. Send me Zoebehr ; pay him a yearly salary of £8,000. I shall surrender the Soudan to the Sultan directly 20,000 Turkish troops arrive. If the rebels kill the Egyptians you are answerable for the blood shed. I require £300,000 to pay my soldiers, my daily expenses being £1.500. Within a few days I shall have taken Berber, where I have sent Col. Stewart, Col. Power and the French Consul, with troops and Bashi Bazouks, who after staying a fortnight will burn the town and return to Khartoum. Col. Stewart will then go to the Equator via Dongola, to bring the garrisons thence. I disbelieve the report that the Mahdi is coming. I hope the Soudanese will kill him. If Turkish troops arrive they should come by Dongola and Kassala. You should give them £300,000."

WADY HALFA, September 18.—The Mudir of Dongola says he pursued the rebels to Asserka, killing and capturing a large number. He received a message from Gordon saying he had occupied Halfish. The Nile is rising again. A force has arrived at Wady Halfa to begin the construction of a railway.

SKIERNEIVIC, September 18.—The Emperor Francis Joseph departed yesterday. His farewell to the Czar and Czarina and the Grand Dukes was most cordial. The three Emperors were photographed in a group. The Russian Imperial party leave to-day for Massef, where the Czar will remain several days shooting in the preserves of Polish noblemen.

BRUSSELS, September 18.—Mobs of political rioters thronged the streets last night and had to be dispersed by the police.

She then went to the telegraph operator and requested him to telegraph to her father in New York for money. She acted queerly all day, appearing intoxicated or insane. In the evening she went to the telegraph office and asked whether the money had been received. The operator answered in the negative. She then walked out to the track, just as the express came along, and laid her head on the rail, holding the rail with her hands. Two men tried to pull her off and nearly lost their lives in doing so, but were unable to get her loose. The locomotive cut off her head and arm, killing her instantly. The coroner held an inquest, when it was learned that she was 25 years of age, married and had lived in Cumberland, M. D., with her husband. A few weeks ago the husband left her for reasons unknown.

MONTREAL, Sept. 18—The attorneys for the Federal Bank have notified Messrs. Jas. Wright & Co., contractors, of Beaver Hall Hill, that unless the bank's claim of $3,500 is paid legal proceedings will be instituted. Mr. Wright has notified the manager here that he has no intention of paying the claim on the ground that he is not indebted to the bank in any way, $2,000 of the amount representing accommodation paper which he says should have been taken up by the local manager, Mr. Ingram, and $1,000 a cheque which he alleges he gave at the request of Mr. Ingram to cover an account, and in view of the anticipated visit of the inspector, and which was also given for value received.

In reference to the report telegraphed last night of a probable law suit in which some prominent citizens would figure, the following gives the other side of the story. The gentleman against whom the charge is made has nothing to hide or hold back ; he will give an answer, what he claims to be a true account of the transaction. He goes on to say that the loan, which was only for $25,000, was made to his son-in-law, he being security and mortgaging his property fronting on St. Paul and Commissioner streets, valued at $40,000 cash by David Brown. The deeds, he says, were handed over to the gentleman loaning the money and examined by his lawyer. "I never thought," he continues, "that my brother had any claim to my property. For 50 years I have sold and purchased landed estate in the city. I was never asked for my wife's signature during her life-time. If I am to blame where is the lawyer who examined my deeds and pronounced my title clear and good ? Is he also to be included, or am I alone to be threatened with all the terrors of a criminal prosecution ?" The gentleman further claims that after his daughter's claim of three-eighths is paid, there is value enough left to pay the loan in question.

A ROBBER ATTEMPTS TO GET SCHOOL MONEY AND SHOOTS THE TREASURER'S WIFE.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Sept. 5.—Yesterday about two o'clock a masked man entered the house of William Jennison, the school treasurer of Washington township, and demanded the money. Mrs. Jennison said it was in the bank, whereupon the intruder drew his revolver and shot her dead. Another woman was in the house, and when she appeared the robber fled. A large party of armed men pursued. Four persons have been arrested who answer to the description of the robber. He told Mrs. Jennison to deliver the money to him or he would take her life. She started to get a revolver and he fired a ball through her heart. Her daughter, ten or twelve years old, got a revolver and followed the villain, but missed him. The murderer was seen to run across a field and enter a covered wagon drawn by two horses with a third horse leading behind. Two outfits answering this description have been apprehended. It is believed the murderer has been lurking around Jennison's for several days, believing he would get a large amount of money. It was settlement day, upon which all school treasurers are supposed to have all the funds in their custody on hand, to be counted by the examining board.

Mystery of the Telephone.

He did not appear to be a bank cashier or a newspaper editor, as he strolled into an Alabama street grocery. He was simply a six-foot Clayton county lad, and was looking for the State road depot. 'Do ye know whether the agent is there or not?' he queried, after being directed to the right place. 'I don't,' answered the proprietor, impatiently, 'you can call him through the telephone and find out,' waving his hand toward that instrument. The countryman looked first at the telephone and then at the merchant. At last he blundered out : 'Mister, I reckon I looks purty green, but lemme tell you I knows when a feller's trying to make fun o' me, and won't stand it.' 'What do you mean?' asked the merchant. 'How'n the blazes air that agint a goin' to git through that little hole?' exclaimed the Claytonite. Smiling softly, the merchant arose, transmitted the man's message and received a satisfactory reply. For a moment the countryman looked blank and then, seizing the groceryman's hand, said : 'Mister, I'm an idiot ; forgive me for my rough words ; an',' here he paused, looked thoughtful for a moment, and continued : 'An' tell me how ye got that agint penned up in such a little box.'—Atlanta Constitution.

The Teachers' Parliament.

The annual convention of the Association of Protestant Teachers of the Province of Quebec, which takes place at Cowansville, commencing Monday, October 8, promises to be one of the most important ever held, from the large attendance anticipated and the importance of the subjects to be discussed. From information received by the officers of the Association, it appears that every academy in the Province will be represented by some of the teachers, while from the elementary schools a much larger representation than usual is expected. All prominently interested in education in the Province, including Hon G Ouimet, Superintendent of Public Instruction ; Rev E I Rexford, Secretary of the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction, and the principals of the various colleges have been specially invited, as have also Hon J W Ross, Superintendent of Education for Ontario ; Hon Senator Patterson, Supt. of Education for New Hampshire, and Principal Putney, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., Academy. Papers will be read on 'County Academies, their position, status and relation to elementary schools,' by Mr R J Eliott ; 'How to teach Geography,' by Miss McClean, of Granby ; 'School Discipline,' Principal Howard of Berthier Grammar School ; 'Play in connection with school work,' by Principal Walton, of Waterloo Academy, and 'The higher education of women,' by Mrs. Holden, Lady Principal of Dunham Ladies' College. In connection with this latter subject it is expected that the paper will be supplemented by the announcement of the scheme of the new course for ladies about to be established at McGill University. Miss Williams of Quebec will also read a paper on an English subject, and several papers on practical topics of education have been promised. The much vexed question of the Teachers' Pension Act will also be brought up. A conference of gentlemen interested in education is being held at Quebec this week in regard to the matter, and the question will be brought up by a report from the conference. The Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction will also receive the consideration of the convention and the training and examination of teachers, and the distribution of Government grants by the Protestant Committee will be discussed. The dissemination of temperance principles in schools, and moral education, will receive careful attention, as also the question of the preparation of lessons by the teachers. The first session of the convention will be held at eight p.m., and the meeting will extend over the 9th, 10th and morning of Saturday, 11th. All lines with the exception of the Grand Trunk have made very favorable arrangements for the conveyance of the teachers, and will issue return tickets at a single fare. The Grand Trunk will charge a fare and a third. A large number of the city teachers have announced their intention of attending, and will leave here either by the 5 p.m. train on the 8th, or the following morning. The people of Cowansville and Sweetsburg, which are adjoining towns, have co-operated for the reception of the teachers, and are entering zealously into arrangements for making the stay of their visitors enjoyable. An enthusiastic public meeting was held on Saturday, the Mayor of Cowansville presiding, when a reception committee was struck and preliminaries arranged. Private hospitality on an extensive scale is offered to the members of the Association, while the hotels, which offer accommodation for 100 members, have reduced their rates to a dollar per day. On the evening of the 10th the teachers will be entertained at a conversazione. The great success of the arrangements so far made is in great measure due to the zeal of that friend of education, Hon. W. W. Lynch, President of the Association, who has entered into the arrangements with characteristic energy, and spared no pains to make the meeting a successful and enjoyable one—Star.

QUEBEC, FRIDAY. SEPT. 19, 1884.

THE WHEAT CROP IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The official statement does not make the acreage of wheat quite as great as had been estimated. In Great Britain and Ireland it is only 2,745,485. The estimated yield is thirty-one bushels per acre, which would be about 85,000,000 bushels, a little less than has been supposed in trade circles, but not enough to affect the price. Out of 210,000,000 bushels required for the consumption of Great Britain and Ireland, only about 85,000,000 bushels, 40 per cent, is raised in that country. For the rest, Great Britain depends upon foreign commerce, drawing about half its foreign supply from this country.

BICYCLES WITH A FUTURE.

Some people have been laboring under the impression that a bicycle was, on the whole, more ornamental than useful, and nobody that we ever met looked upon a bicyclist as anything but a gentleman to be admired. Our own views on the subject have been modified. We learn from an exchange that a Vermont farmer's boy bought himself a bicycle, and wishes he hadn't. His thrifty father has utilized the thing by making it furnish motive power for his winnowing mill, corn sheller and grindstones. This he does by suspending it from the axle, removing the tire from the wheel and connecting it by an endless rope with his agricultural machines, then making his son mount and do the propelling. The bicycle has a future.

SOCIAL INTER-DEPENDENCE.

The "Ocean King" which left this port at midday on Monday last shows how much the condition of human affairs has changed within the past half century. The lines of national, we might say individual life, cross at almost every point, and no one can predict with any degree of certainty what events or series of events may or may not influence his future. Let any thoughtful person look upon the lines that are now converging upon the land of the Pharaohs, and say if the whole does not resemble a dream. Steaming away to the far East the "Ocean King" carries the sturdy boatmen of the farther West, and within a comparatively brief period they will pass by the home of the world's life and story, to carry relief to an English soldier shut up in a city lying far outside the ordinary limits of civilization. And yet, nobody thinks it particularly strange and everybody treats it as a matter of course. General WOLSELEY is himself somewhere in the neighbourhood of Cairo making preparations, collecting camels, preparing his commissariat, and putting things in readiness for a vigorous march into the interior. The Mudir of Dongola, the voyageurs of Canada and the Guards of London make an unlikely combination, and yet these dissimilar forces will all co-operate together, backed by all the might of the greatest Empire upon the earth for attainment of a common object. Those who are philosophically disposed may look upon the whole thing as a curious, but none the less suggestive problem.

"GOVERNMENT BY PICNIC."

"Government by picnic" is a new feature in English political life, and we are possibly destined to hear a good deal of it in the near future, but for the present at least it is a marked feature in the agitation now in progress, for the accomplishment of the double purpose of passing the Franchise Bill, or abolishing the Lords. It is by no means clear to the parties themselves, which measure is the more urgently required, but one or other they are apparently bound to have. Political picnics are pretty well known on this side the Atlantic and they are useful in working off the effervescence which is the inevitable accompaniment of party warfare. However much it may suit our freer mode of action, on this continent, we can hardly view it with favor when applied to a system of Government such as prevails in England. It may be all right, but it shocks our sense of propriety, and we are tempted to look upon the whole thing as a very sorry price of business indeed. If it should appear that the House of Lords is really objectionable to the English people, we are quite safe in anticipating its abolition, but surely these monster picnics with their "blare and tinsel," and endless processions and counter-processions are not to be accepted as the deliberate voice of the great English nation, and we may be excused if we decline to accept these great demonstrations as such. We will not pretend to deny that they may be the outward and visible expression of a wide, spread and deep-seated feeling of dissatisfaction with the existing state of things generally, and a profound desire to have every privileged class swept out of existence ; it is possible, we say, that "the demonstration" and picnic may mean all this and more, but it is equally possible that they may represent nothing beyond the superficial radicalism which always finds a home in large centres of population. However, be this as it may, it is very certain that we are, to use Mr. GLADSTONE's language, within measurable distance of very great changes, and there is much need for temperate discussion and mutual concession on both sides. Angry recriminations are beneath the dignity of the discussion and ought to be avoided, particularly by papers claiming to be religious. In one leading paper of this class we find the Peers spoken of as a "coroneted mob," and all through a long editorial treated with insult and contempt. It is unnecessary to point out that this sort of discussion will not produce much effect upon the average Englishman. In the approaching crisis much depends upon Mr. GLADSTONE, whose popularity has greatly increased during the past few months. An unforeseen reverse in Egypt or any weakness in the diplomacy which is sure to arise out of the Franco-Chinese war would certainly impair or possibly ruin his popularity, but for the present at least his star is in the ascendent, and his recent trip to Scotland shows what a fine hold he has obtained upon a people so cautious and critical as those North of the Tweed. There is no denying the fact that Mr. GLADSTONE's attitude has met with the most enthusiastic approval at the hands of his own very eminent constituency, but it remains to be seen how far the electors of Mid-Lothian represent the public opinion of the country. In the meantime, however, the session of Parliament approaches, and on the 23rd of October next it will assemble for the despatch of business. It is said that Ministers intend to curtail the debates and expect to finish the session in four weeks. The Parnellites will move for an inquiry into the Maamtransna confession, and also demand the recall of Earl SPENCER, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and Mr. TREVELYAN, Chief Secretary.

WESTERN LACK OF APPRECIATION.

The New York Commercial Bulletin of a few days ago contained a paragraph in reference to the commercial position of Montreal. It was to this effect :—"The Montreal merchants are anxious to prevent their port from degenerating possibly to the position of an inland town, as regards transcontinental and transatlantic commerce." This desire appears laudable enough, but that the people of Western Canada do not appear to see things as Montreal merchants see them, may be gathered from the following remarks from the Hamilton Spectator :—"They (the merchants) show their anxiety only by shrieking for the people's money. The city of Montreal will not advance a single dollar —will not so much as repair a revetment wall which has fallen to decay ; but all the citizens cry mightily night and day for the Government to spend public money to save the port from becoming 'an inland town.' The sooner it becomes such the better for Canada. Trade will then establish a market of transfer at some point which the largest ocean ships can reach without artificial ditches and with but moderate charges for pilotage and towing. The Harbor Commissioners of Montreal lately made a great parade of reducing wharfage charges on grain—at a time when the country had no grain to export. Any grain which got the benefit of that reduction was foreign grain. The farmer of the Western States received the money so saved ; and the people of Montreal want the Government to pay Montreal a money bounty that the same farmer of the Western States may have an advantage in the Liverpool market over the Canadian farmer. They want more : they want the Government to remove tolls from the Canadian canals. Very little Canadian grain goes through the canals. It is mainly the grain of the Western States which seeks that route. To lower the tolls is to give the Western farmer an additional advantage over the Canadian farmer ; and Montreal's sturdy beggars are asking the Canadian Government to pay out Canadian money for the purpose of injuring the Canadian people. That is just what it amounts to."

Hard to Believe.

It is hard to believe that a man was cured of a Kidney disease after his body was swollen as big as a barrel and he had been given up as incurable and lay at death's door. Yet such a cure was accomplished by Kidney-Wort in the person of M. M. Devereaux of Ionia, Mich., who says : "After thirteen of the best doctors in Detroit had given me up, I was cured by Kidney-Wort. I want every one to know what a boon it is.

The Banque de St Hyacinthe.

Concerning the Banque de St. Hyacinthe, it appears that Mr. Hebert, the accountant and chief executive officer of the bank, left its services during the month of July last, and a short time ago it was discovered that an account of his relative had been overdrawn to the extent of about $7,000. This is the only definite act that has been found in Mr. Hebert's books, and the loss of the bank will not be great as they hold a good guarantee bond of $10,000, and the estate of the person whose account is overdrawn will yield a dividend of about $5,000. Therefore, $2,000 is all the bank stands to lose, and at the outside it can only lose about $5,000. The directors claim that the position of the bank is an excellent one. Only 40 per cent of their stock is paid up, and it is all held as an investment by substantial farmers.

English Notes.

Miss Cusack, the Nun of Kenmare, has started a conventual establishment at Nottingham for training domestic servants.

Edmund Yates says in the World :—"England would have to undergo a revolution before the Commander-in-Chief of her army could be seen standing by the grave of a war correspondent, as General Sheridan the other day stood by the tomb of poor MacGahan, when his countrymen laid the remains of the brilliant war correspondent in their native soil."

Longman is preparing a budget for the special Christmas number of "Longman's Magazine." Bret Harte will fill the opening pages with a sketch entitled "Sarah Walker."

The concluding pages of Black's "Judith Shakespeare" have been despatched to the printers, and this chronicle of love affairs and adventures of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries will be ready for their readers on October 1st in complete form.

Mr. Froude, having completed the life of Carlyle, is engaged on the preface to the third volume in which he will vindicate the course he followed as his literary executor.

Swinburne has been enjoying a holiday by preparing a new batch of songs and has named them "A Midsummer Holiday."

News of the City and District.

ANOTHER BEAR SHOT.—Messrs. Renfrew & Co. purchased a fine young bear yesterday, which had been shot at Stoneham.

RAILWAY INTELLIGENCE.—There is a report abroad that Mr. A. Davis has been offered the direction of a railway in Russia, and will probably accept the appointment.

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION—The following have been named School Commissioners for the Banlieu of Notre Dame de Quebec :—Messrs. Joseph A. Defoy, Eleusippe Larue, J. H. R. Burroughs, Patrick O'Donnell and Charles Couture.

LEGAL FEES.—The New York Telegram says :—"Among the payrolls signed by Mayor Edson for this month is one of C. P. Davidson, Queen's Counsel at Quebec, amounting to $1,662.15, for service rendered in the extradition question over the defaulter John C. Eno"

TOURISTS.—A large Raymond excursion party, including some 80 members, and principally from Fall River and Worcester, Mass., returned here yesterday from a visit to the Saguenay. The visitors drove through the city and neighboring locality, yesterday, and will leave for home again to-day.

CABINET MEETING.—A meeting of the Local Government was held yesterday. It is expected that a session of the Local Legislature will be held in the month of January next, the contractor for the Parliament House having promised to have the building ready for occupation by that time.

CLAIM AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT—It is reported that the Local Government having so far refused an arbitration upon the claim of Mr. Cimon, M.P., for extras in connection with the construction of the Departmental Buildings, the claim, if pressed at all, will have to be by means of a petition of right.

RECORDER'S COURT, YESTERDAY.—Pierre Derose, drunk, discharged. Alfred Poulin, drunk, fifteen days. Charles Brown, drunk, two days. George M. Webster, for using the public sidewalk for the purposes of putting coal into a shed and thereby causing an inconvenience and obstruction to the citizens, $1 and costs.

COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.—The preliminary examination for admission to the study of medicine, commenced here this morning before Messrs. Laflamme, Verreault, Miller and Dr. Howe. There are 34 candidates in attendance, 20 from the district of Montreal and 14 from this district. It will probably be Saturday afternoon before the names of the successful men can be known.

EXHIBITION ECHOES.—A gold medal has been awarded for the Buckthorn Steel Fencing at the Dominion Exhibition, Montreal. This is the only medal that has ever been awarded for fencing, and this unusual honor would appear to bear out the opinion of every farmer who has seen Mr. Lomer's exhibit, that it is the best fencing in the market. S. J. Shaw & Co. are the agents for Quebec.

MUSIC HALL NEXT WEEK.—Mr. Sparrow has engaged the Music Hall for the performances of the "Boarding School" Comedy Company, which will include matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and every evening during the week. The press of the West speak in the highest terms of this company, and we have no doubt they will prove a successful attraction here. To-day's will be the last performances at the Royal Pavilion for the season.

DEATH FROM FRIGHT—A Miss Begin, of Levis, 29 years of age, has just died under the following circumstances. She was engaged in driving some calves out of a field, when an ox ran towards her in a somewhat ferocious manner. She took to her heels and got safely out of the field, but her terror was such that she fell to the ground. Though she sustained no injuries, she survived but a few hours after being removed to her home. The physicians attribute death to the shock sustained by her nervous system.

CORNS, BUNIONS, etc.—All who suffer from these pests should pay Dr. Semmes a visit and have the cause of trouble removed. The doctor has an experience of over twenty years in the treatment of diseases of the feet, and guarantees relief in five minutes. As the doctor intends to remain only a few days longer in Quebec those requiring the removal of corns, etc., should not miss the present opportunity, Charges most moderate.—See advertisement on fourth page.

HOME NEWS FROM ABROAD.—The following sensational story is telegraphed from Ottawa to a New York paper :—"A clergyman of Quebec is now accused of having caused a military pensioner to be confined in Longue Pointe Lunatic Asylum that he may draw his pension and manage his estates. The prisoner is pronounced to be perfectly sane, and a thorough investigation will now be ordered into the management of Long Pointe Asylum by the Government, as it is believed that sane patients are now imprisoned there at the instigation of designing relatives or interested persons."

CITY COUNCIL.—Special weekly meeting this evening at 7.30—Orders of the day.—1378th report of the Finance Committee (redemption by the Corporation of the Quebec Street Railway), 389th report of the Water Works Committee (7th progress estimate in favor of Mr. Beemer), second reading of the by-law respecting nightmen, for which there must be sixteen members present,) 1379th report of the Finance Committee (granting certain appropriations to the Road Committee,) 1380th report of the same committee (increase of allowance to Messrs. W. D. Baillairge and J. A. Gallagher.) Notice of motion by Councillor Johnston to remove sign boards across the streets.

THE CITY AND THE HOTEL KEEPERS.—For a long time past the city has collected none of the fines imposed by the Recorder's Court upon vendors of liquor for selling the same on Sundays. The reason assigned has been the contestation of one of these judgments, that in the case of the Corporation vs. Poulin, which as a test case has been appealed to the Superior Court and thence to the Supreme Court, the decision in every case being to sustain the judgment of the Recorder in favor of the city. At last night's sitting of the Finance Committee it was unanimously resolved that the law officers of the Corporation be instructed to proceed immediately with the collection of the fines in question, which amount in all to the sum of over $12,000.

"LE PREMIER COLON DE LEVIS."—This is the title of a brochure neatly printed at the Quotidien office, Levis, and from the facile pen of Mr. Joseph Edmond Roy, of that place. It consists of an exhaustive history of Guillaume Couture, the first settler in Levis, and the progenitor of the various branches of the Couture family now resident in the locality, which comprise in the county of Levis alone, according to Mr. Roy, no less than 112 electors. It would appear from the work before us, that Guillaume Couture, le bon Guillaume as he was always called in old writings, was one of the most remarkable voyageurs-interpretes of the early days of Canada, and arrived here in or about the year 1640, in the service of the Jesuit Fathers. In his preface, Mr. Roy says of his subject, "He was devoted to the service of his religion and his king. Companion of the martyr Jogues, comrade of René Goupil and Lalande, he was the rival of Nicolet, and the Indians bestowed upon him that name. And if Quebec is proud of the probity and of the devotion of such good men as Hebert and Couillard, its first inhabitants, one of the oldest parishes of the country, that of the Pointe de Levy, is happy to be able to bring to the light of day, the name of Guillaume Couture, its first settler, first Judge Seneschal, and first Captain of Militia." The above is certainly a sufficiently full and ample apology, if any were necessary, for the task which Mr. Roy has shouldered, and the people of Levis are to be congratulated upon having found so painstaking and faithful a historian of the first settler in their now thriving and prosperous town. The numerous authorities quoted in the work before us, and the attention paid to the smallest details are evidence of the vast amount of research undertaken by Mr. Roy. Guillaume Couture appears to have established himself at Levis in 1648, in the vicinity of the present site of the church of St. Joseph de Levis. His marriage on the 18th November, 1649, was the first ever solemnized in Levis. The reception accorded to the Jesuit Father Bailloquet on crossing to Levis on Easter Sunday, 1648, to perform the first mass ever said there, is graphically described by Mr. Roy, and equally interesting historical facts, gleaned from the most reliable sources, may be found on almost every page of "Le Premier Colon de Levis."

The "Uncle Sam" had 14 oars and the rival boat 18 ; the distance was five miles and stakes $300 Betting was 3 to 1 in favor of the Americans. The Americans gained a slight lead, but the local crew soon passed ahead and won by 200 yards. The time was 42 minutes and 7 seconds. In the evening the amateur club of Southampton entertained both crews. The American coxswain responding to a toast said the "Uncle Sam" had never been beaten before. The crew of the "Lancaster" were prepared to back the "Uncle Sam" at £100 to £1,000 against any boat in England. The match excited great interest.

CANADIAN RECORDS.

It seems that the five-mile time made by Clarke, of Woodstock at Toronto, on the 6th, was not the fastest on record in Canada, although it was thought at the time to have lowered the previous record by over a minute. The fact is that Clarke had himself actually made faster time the day before, at Woodstock, at the meeting of the Woodstock A. A. A. This was kept quiet. The time was 16 minutes 0 3-5 seconds.

The following constitute the bests-on-record in Canada to date. It is unfortunate that Clarke's mile times were not recorded in his five-mile race at Woodstoed, on the 5th. Had they been kept, Charles would now be credited with the best times on record, at all distances, for Canada, as there can be no doubt but that in that race he must have gone faster from one mile up to five than the riders who remain credited with the records for two, three and four miles.

Half-mile, 1.26 4-5—H Clarke, Woodstock, Sept. 5, 1884.

Mile, 2.59½—H Clarke, Toronto, Sept. 6, 1884.

Two miles, 6.54½—R W Hamlin, Toronto, July 1, 1884.

Three miles, 10.09—F J Campbell, Toronto, July 3rd, 1884.

The Deadly Teapot.

'While good temperance people are decrying liquor,' said one of the leading physicians of the city as he came into his office, erased the information of his previous whereabouts from his slate and tipped back in his easy chair, 'they seldom stop to think how much harm is being done by the abuse of a beverage to which many of them are devoted. I just came from attending the case of a five-year-old babe who is ruined for life by the parents indulging it in tea-drinking. The child became very nervous and dyspeptic, and they sent for me. I asked them how much tea the child drank. 'About two cups at each meal and several between meals,' was the reply. 'You see,' the doctor continued, 'they let the teapot stand on the stove all day. Thus the tannic acid is extracted, which serves to turn the linings of the stomach into leather, and brings on dyspepsia and kindred diseases. Yes, there are hundreds of women, young girls and aged women, and occasionally a man, who have completely ruined their nervous system by the excessive use of common tea. It will be a blessing to mankind when a temperance crusade can spare wind from its attack on alcohol to assail tea. Prominent Christian people and all classes of people are addicted to the habit, and thousands are languishing to-day in consequence. Very excessive use of tobacco acts somewhat in the same way. But I believe the greater general evil lurks in the tea, because it happens to be in favor with the best of people—best as regards popular opinion, but among the worst from a medical point of view.'—Waterbury American.

The Weak and the Impure.

The merry little mountain brook, as it lightly dances over the rocks and sparkles in the sunshine on its way down to the river, is pure and clean. It is active ; therefore it is healthy. It is vigorous ; therefore, it resists impurity.

But the sluggish pool, where the current is not strong enough to keep the water in motion, is stagnant and foul. Dirt and rubbish are thrown into it, and stay there. Impurities and vile odors make it a breeder of disease and an object to be avoided.

When the blood is strong and rich and red, and vigorously courses its accustomed rounds through arteries and veins, the system is hearty and healthy.

When the blood is thin and poor and weak, impurities and defilements creep into it, and it has no strength to cast them out. Then the system runs down.

Shaker Blood Syrup purifies and enriches the Blood ; curing Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Ulcers and Skin and Blood diseases of every description.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE,

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.

IF YOU WISH TO OBTAIN QUIET, REFRESHING SLEEP, FREE FROM HEADache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33 Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholerаic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE ; that the story of the Defendant, FREEMAN, was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See Times, 10th July, 1864.

Sold in Bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the Words, 'DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION :—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

HON. MR. CARON.

SPLENDID SERVICES RENDERED TO THE MILITIA FORCE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16—Hon. Mr. Caron has returned to the city. He has been doing splendid service throughout Quebec province during the summer. His picnic at Riviere du Loup was attended by all the Federal Conservative representatives from Three Rivers to Gaspe, except two or three who could not go. It was a happy thought, and has in its results been of great service to the party. At the British artillery contest he was indefatigable in his efforts to make it a success. At the Dominion Rifle Association meeting here his speech had the right ring about it, and was highly acceptable to the riflemen gathered from all parts of the Dominion. His services throughout the summer have been generally recognized by the militia force as just what those of the Minister of Militia should be.

THE BEAU IDEAL OF A MINISTER.

In the course of many conversations with militiamen from all parts of the Dominion I have found that he is regarded as the beau ideal of a Minister of Militia. I have been the more careful in my enquiries because of an attack made upon him in a Montreal evening journal, and asking the general opinion I find it to be that Hon. Mr. Caron has initiated changes and brought about improvements which have transformed the force and made it really efficient. Of course there are some in the force who prefer the old go-easy style of doing things, but every efficient officer and all who have the good of the force really at heart, are warm in the expression of their belief that the force has become an efficient one under Hon. Mr. Caron's energetic and wise administration.

General Wolseley and the Canadians.

To the Editor of the Mail

SIR,—The recent appointment by Lord Wolseley of three Canadian volunteer officers for service in Egypt, might, from the peculiar nature of the service they are to be engaged in, be construed to mean only his appreciation of their power of overcoming such physical obstacles as he and they had to encounter in the Red River expedition of 1870. That he believes in their fighting qualities as well, will be seen from the following letter of his, written from the Gold Coast:—

'GOVERNMENT HOUSE,

'CAPE COAST CASTLE, 1st Nov., 1873.

'DEAR DR. SCHULTZ,—Your letter of the 5th September last has just reached me here. and I hasten to thank you for the good wishes it contains.

'I wish I had a thousand Canadian volunteers here at this moment, for with such a force I think I should soon be able to bring the King of Ashantee to terms. At present I am too weak to undertake offensive operations and must wait until I obtain soldiers from England.

'Please give my kindest remembrances to all my friends in Winnipeg, and assure them that I watch the rising prosperity of Manitoba with the greatest interest.

'Again thanking you for your good wishes, and for your kindness in writing to me,

'Believe me to be,

'Very faithfully yours,

'G. J. WOLSELEY.

'Dr. Schultz, M. P., Winnipeg.'

General Wolseley's appreciation of the good qualities of Canadians was undoubtedly the result of his personal experience of them while he was stationed in this country, and long after Canadians had any opportunity of distinguishing themselves by land or sea in the regular service of Britain, we find that in the annals of war many Canadians have achieved distinction for skill and valour. The old French times give to us the names of D'Iberville of Montreal, who was reported the most skilful naval officer in the service of France, and of DeLery, of Quebec, one of its first military engineers. Need we call the roll of those Canadians who have done battle for Britain. Major-General Dunn campaigned in Egypt, Italy and Spain; Major-General Beckwith fought at the Nile and at Waterloo; Admiral Sir Provo Wallis captured the 'Chesapeake;' Admiral Watt figured in a hundred engagements; Admiral Sir George Westphal was wounded on board the 'Victory,' at Trafalgar; Sir Thomas Wiltshire served in India and in the Peninsular war; Captain McNab, of Toronto, was on Picton's staff at Waterloo; Sir Richard England led the third division at Inkerman; Sir Fenwick Williams won fame at Kars, and Sir John Inglis at Lucknow; Col. Dunn, of Toronto, was selected as the bravest of the immortal 'six hundred' to receive the Victoria Cross; Read, of Perth, though a surgeon, won the same reward of valour for daring feats in the Indian mutiny. Side by side with the soldier of the Motherland the Canadian fought with equal devotion and fell with equal honour. The hot sun of India looks down upon the graves of Montizambert, Evans, Joly, Sewell, and Vaughan; in the Crimea, Parker fell with his face to the foe, and on the ramparts of the Redan died Welsford with the bloom of youth glowing on his cheek, and a boy's enthusiasm fresh at his heart. This enumeration of Canadians who have distinguished themselves in war, was made by Mr. W. A. Foster, of Toronto, in his lecture 'Canada First,' and before Lord Wolseley had learned, as Sir Isaac Brock learned, many years before him, the warlike qualities of the Canadian volunteer soldiery.

Few will doubt that the three Canadian officers that go to Egypt will do credit to the Dominion. Major Dennison comes of warlike stock; Capt. Aumond comes of the gallant race whence sprang DeSalaberry, and Col. Kennedy was one of Wolseley's most efficient officers in the expedition of 1870, and I do not doubt that should their services be required in the line of battle, both officers and men will acquit themselves as our volunteers did in the Fenian invasion of 1866, and as their forefathers did in 1812, when DeSalaberry in the East, with seven hundred of them, hurled back seven thousand invaders; and Sir Isaac Brock in the West captured Detroit with a force which contained only three hundred regulars, and afterwards won the victory made memorable by his death, with a force also principally consisting of Canadian volunteers.

Yours, etc.,

JOHN SCHULTZ.

GLADSTONE'S DEPENDENCE ON LORD WOLSELEY.

LONDON, Sept. 2—'Once upon a time' a presiding magistrate in the Middlesex Sessions rapped for order, saying, 'Do let the Board hear the evidence. Here have I been voting people upon the treadmill for a half-hour without hearing, amid the confusion, one word the witnesses have said.' He was like Carlyle, who said of Gladstone's speeches in the campaign of 1876, 'You can measure them by the mile, but never a grain of sense in them.' 'But are they not expressive of your own sentiments as I have heard you declare them?' 'How should I know? I never read his speeches.' Just now, however, everybody is reading the Midlothian and Edinburgh speeches of the Premier. Nearly all concur, however, that although miles long the speeches show few white milestones of interest. The speeches are remarkable for omissions. Egypt, China and the taxes command his silence. But he is garrulous about the Lords and Commons and he has certainly succeeded in showing that it was impossible to deal with franchise and arrangement of seats in one bill and at one session as affairs and parties are now conducted. But he has not, and probably cannot, succeed in showing why the Commons cannot agree to the last proposition of the Lords that the extension of franchise shall not operate until there is (what Americans know as) an 'apportionment of representation.' But, outside of domestic affairs, everybody in both parties considers that the Lords Wolseley and Northbrook who have gone to Egypt, had in their hands the fate of the Gladstone Cabinet, to which Egyptian disaster would be destruction. It is well known here in well informed circles that the Premier was averse to their going and to the expedition, and has only yielded his tardy consent to the importunities of Lord Hartington. It is also well known that Lord Granville is yielding to nervous prostration, and has got into what Disraeli as a novelist once felicitously called 'a state of anecdotage.' Egypt is likely to be for him what Peru is likely to prove to be for Mr. Blaine in the present campaign. The best political caricature on the campaign of rhetoric now everywhere pending is in Moonshine, representing Mr. Gladstone as a conjuror pulling yards of tape from his mouth on which nothing is written.

Paris Gossip.

Inauguration of the Theatrical Season—The Reunion at Skiernivice.

PARIS, Sept. 16—Paris already shows signs of the approach of the active season. The bronzed features of Parisians, fresh from seaside and mountains, prevail upon the boulevards and the Champs Elysees. Nearly all the theatres have re-opened, but except the Vaudeville and the Theatre Dejazet, with the same plays with which they closed in summer. 'Divorce,' which will scarcely hold the boards for a long time at the Vaudeville, is a somber and serious dramatization, the story of a husband who falls in love again with his divorced wife, who meanwhile has herself fallen in love with somebody else. The play is confused and disappointing. M. Pierre Berton at times almost redeems the piece by his brilliant impersonation of the husband, but Mme. Brades, as the divorced wife, conceals her own real talent by a most unfortunate and servile imitation of Sara Bernhardt. The representation of 'Les Parisiens en Province' at the Theatre Dajazet is more successful, although the third act of this play is almost an exact reproduction of the fifth act of the 'Marriage de Figaro,' and the denouement is boldly adapted from the fourth act of 'Tartuffe.'

Political interest is centered at Skiernivice, the trysting place of three emperors and three premiers. Public opinion recognizes the fact that the alliance of the central empires must for the present remain the cardinal principle of the European system, and that although there are sufficient elements in the back ground to destroy the entire fabric upon which the systems rest, the imperial conference means the continuance of Europe's present armed truce, and bodes no immediate evil to France. From this point of view the reunion at Skiernivice is viewed with satisfaction, rather than with distrust.

The Gazette Diplomatique, commenting at length on a rumor lately circulated regarding the possibility of a Franco-German alliance, says Germany is aiming at bringing about a conflict between France and England and concludes that the French Government should accept all that Germany is prepared to give, but France should not forget her old friends.

An exchange says camphor will drive mosquitoes out of a room. And it will, but you must first catch the mosquitoes, choke 'em until they are black and blue in the face, and then cram a lump of camphor down their throats. This remedy is more troublesome but less expensive than burning down your house to get rid of the pests.

DEATH.

At Levis, yesterday morning, Marie Cedulie, daughter of Mr. B. Marquette, Clerk of the Votes and Proceedings, in the Legislative Assembly.

The funeral will leave her father's residence, Levis, on Saturday, at 9 o'clock a.m., for Notre Dame Church. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

An ingenious New Yorker has invented a door-mat which operates as a burglar alarm. But who ever heard of a burglar stopping to wipe his feet?

The Rev. Dr. Cuyler writes:—Last evening I took a pleasant moonlight walk to Elim, the cozy cottage of Miss Sarah F. Smiley, near the Excelsoir Spring. I found the famous expositor of the Word busy over her books and preparing for a tour of labor in the Episcopal diocese with which she is now connected. Her cottage is a jewel of neatness and comfort. The squirrels from the oak trees overhead run into her room and sit and crack nuts at her—probably attracted by her well known Quaker principles of "peace and good will." With the birds she has struck up an intimacy, and her Episcopalianism is also a catholic and non-combative type. Wherever she may go, ecclesiastically, she will carry the sweet savor of evangelical piety.

CHAPTER I.

"I was taken sick a year ago
With bilious fever."

"My doctor pronounced me cured, but I got sick again, with terrible pains in my back and sides, and I got so bad I

Could not move!

I shrunk!

From 228 lbs. to 120! I had been doctoring for my liver, but it did me no good. I did not expect to live more than three months. I began to use Hop Bitters. Directly my appetite returned, my pains left me, my entire system seemed renewed as if by magic, and after using several bottles, I am not only as sound as a sovereign, but weigh more than I did before. To Hop Bitters I owe my life."

R. FITZPATRICK.

Dublin, June 6, '81.

CHAPTER II.

Neuralgia, female trouble, for years in the most terrible and excruciating manner.

No medicine or doctor could give me relief or cure, until I used Hop Bitters.

"The first bottle
Nearly cured me;"

The second made me as well and strong as when a child,

"And I have been so to this day."

My husband was an invalid for twenty years with a serious

"Kidney, liver and urinary complaint,
"Pronounced by Boston's best physicians—
"Incurable!"

Seven bottles of your Bitters cured him and I know of the "Lives of eight persons"

In my neighborhood that have been saved by your Bitters,

And many more are using them with great benefit.

"They almost
Do miracles?" —Mrs. E. D. Slack.

HOW TO GET SICK.—Expose yourself day and night; eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised, and then you will want to know how to get well, which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters!

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile, poisonous stuff with "Hop" or "Hops" in their name.

The Blossoms on the Trees.

O the blossoms, white and blue,
Purple, pink and every hue,
From sunny skies to tintings drowned
In dusky drops of dew !
O ye blossoms on the trees,
With your breath upon the breeze,
There's nothing all the world around
As half as sweet as you.

Could the rhymer only wing
All the sweetness to the lees
Of all the kisses clustering
In juicy use-to-bees,
He would dip his rhymes and sing
O the blossoms on the trees !

"O ye blossoms on the trees,"
He would twitter, trill and coo,
And singing say—"Such songs as these
Are not so sweet as you—
For you are blooming melodies
The eyes may listen to !"

SULLIVAN'S CONFESSION.

ADMITTING THE MURDER OF ELLA WATSON.

HE TELLS THE FULL STORY OF THE HORRIBLE CRIME.

A Salem, N. J., despatch of Sept. 6 to the Philadelphia Record says:—A ray of moonlight struggled through the bars of Howard Sullivan's cell in Salem jail to-night. It marked a line to the prisoner, stretched at full length upon a rough bench. He was fast asleep even at so early an hour. Every line on his big black face marked a brutal instinct. One of the watchers might almost imagine that the attenuated fingers twitched convulsively as if he dreamt that they were clutched about Ella Watson's white throat. There was no shade of despair upon that hideous face, no tremors about the ugly lips which but a few hours before related the history of the awful crime.

The story goes back to the evening of August 18, when Ella Watson left Merchant Elwell's store. She took up her little basket and started upon the country road where death waited for her in the gathering darkness. No tongue but that of the murderer could take up the thread of the sickening narrative from there, and that tongue has spoken with the voice of Howard Sullivan. The officials guard the full details with vigilance, but enough is known to substantiate the following story:

Ella Watson passed down the pathway, brushing almost against Sullivan's sleeve as he stood at half-past six o'clock talking with William Urion, near Elwell's store. There, according to his own story, the thought came to him which led to the young girl's death, and which will lead him to the gallows. He left Urion abruptly and walked down the railroad in the direction of the Watson homestead as far as Prickett's cornfield, on the left side of the rails, into which he plunged to avoid being seen. He carried with him a terrible weapon in the shape of a country-made billy—a 'bell-clapper,' which Sullivan was fond of calling a 'head-skinner'—which was secured to his wrist by a strong cord. Where the cornfield stops a thick wood begins, and in the depths of this the murderer found a hiding place from which he could watch for the COMING OF HIS VICTIM.

Here he saw her leave Yorktown. When sure of his prey he hastened to a road leading to the railroad at this point. He slipped down a small embankment and ran to the road on the right of the rails, a quarter of a mile ahead of Ella Watson. He had not gone far before he saw the approaching team driven by Charles Sicklar, the last person except her slayer who saw the murdered girl alive. Quickly dodging into the woods he was in time to get out of sight, and when the vehicle had passed he cut a club, the much-talked of pole with which the first murderous blows were struck. He concealed himself behind a clump of bushes on the left of the road and within twenty yards of where the deed was committed. He allowed his victim so go a few yards beyond his hiding place and then sprang from his lurking spot, club in hand, after her. She heard the hurrying footsteps, gave one startled look behind and began to run. The effort was a hopeless one. The unfortunate girl was too much terrified to cry out, and in an instant the cruel club, well aimed, crushed down upon her head, knocking her bonnet off and felling her to her knees. A second blow knocked her to the ground.

THE MURDERER'S FINGERS

were in an instant upon her throat, and in a moment her struggles ceased. Life had fled. Even this was not, however, enough. It was no incomplete job which this fiend in human shape had fixed upon. The victim might not be dead, after all. Then it was that the bell-clapper billy did its deadly work, and with one fell swoop battered in the skull of the girl whose body was already a corpse.

Passion was succeeded by cupidity. Twilight had not yet faded away, and by what light remained the body was searched for the little money which the murderer knew had been paid for the contents of the farmer's basket from the Watson homestead. He found the silver coins knotted in a handkerchief. This secured, the body was dragged to the bushes, where it was found, and, the foul crime thus completed, the perpetrator fled the dreadful spot, forgetting his wicked club, and plunged into the heavy thicket upon the opposite side of the railroad. Here seated upon a rail fence which commanded a view up and down the road, he unknotted the handkerchief, transferred the money to his pocket and threw the handkerchief under a bush. Sullivan then hastened in the direction of the house of Jones, the suspect. Within a few hundred yards of this he made a straight cut for the road to Yonkers, where he arrived at 8 o'clock, and purchased a watermelon for 10 cents of his horribly gotten money.

This is the story, and the crime which once appeared to be wrapped in mystery stands revealed in all its horrors. The confession is the result of a shrewd play upon the prisoner's ignorance by Pinkerton's detectives of Philadelphia. Sheriff Cole and Constable William Carney had long since worked up the evidence which resulted in the dramatic scene in Justice Casperson's Court on Tuesday, when the knife nicks were shows to correspond with the cuts in the murderer's club and the boot tracks with the shape of Sullivan's boots and the

TELL-TALE NAILS IN THE HEELS.

Persons were permitted to talk with Sullivan to induce him to send for legal advice. He hesitated a little at first, but after thinking over the matter decided to call for a lawyer. The supposed lawyer came, and Sullivan told the whole story. Another scheme was hit upon by the Pinkerton agency. One of the detectives attached to the Philadelphia office is a colored man. The plan was that he was to be arrested in Salem county and imprisoned in the county jail. It was arranged with Prosecutor Slape that he was to be put in the same cell with Sullivan, and then it was expected that the quick-witted detective, in conversation, would secure from Sullivan another confession. This scheme was also successful.

The sentiment throughout the county when it became known that the confession was out was one of intense satisfaction. Lynching was talked by a few wild spirits, who threatened an attack upon the strong walls of the jail, but, although there was a vast throng gathered about the prison until a late hour at night, no one possessed the rashness to make a movement toward the consummation of the desire that the prisoner might be taken out and executed off hand. Sheriff Coles was prepared for an attack, and a well-armed posse was at hand to render any assistance necessary for the maintenance of law and dignity. Prosecutor Slape is greatly impressed with the success of his scheme to obtain a confession from the murderer, but while all applaud the result, few justify the extraordinary measures taken. Sheriff Coles has been the most indefatigable worker in the efforts to weave a web of evidence about the guilty man sufficient to hold in Court.

Mr. Barnum claims to be the greatest showman on earth, and yet he can't stand on his head unless he gets up against a wall.

Photography is now turned to new uses in Paris courts in cases of alleged adulteration of pepper, farina, and other articles of commerce. Hitherto the evidence of experts who have examined such commodities with the microscope has been accepted as conclusive, but the new system introduced by the chemists of the municipal laboratory has changed the method of procedure. They now conduct their analysis of minute samples of commodities under a strong light, which permits the use of a photographic microscope. The photograph thus taken is sufficiently large to be easily inspected by the court, and thus the judges are able to verify the investigations, and also give to the prisoner the benefit of any mistake which may be discovered in the expert testimony.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

J. B. H., Ottawa—Your esteemed favor received and answered. Please convey our thanks to Mr. M. Errors such as you allude to are annoying to solvers.

CHESS INTELLIGENCE.

Mr. J. W. Shaw played seven simultaneous games on the 11th inst., at the City Chess Club of Montreal, yielding odds to every player. Mr. Shaw was successful in six of the games, losing one to Mr. Girard. He has just concluded a match with the last named player, in which he undertook to win 50 consecutive games before his opponent won one. After winning 40 he had to succumb to Mr. Girard, who won the 41st. Play was for a copy of the "London Tournament Book."

Says the Hartford Times :—"While Zukertort has gone home, the wife and daughter of Steinitz have joined him in this country, showing that the great chess master has decided to make America his home for the future. With the old king of chess dead, it is appropriate that the country of Morphy should have on its soil the most renowned chess player in the world, to-day."

The circulars in connection with Mr. Steinitz' proposed new chess magazine will be issued in a few days, and in order to ensure an extensive distribution he desires the names and addresses of as many chess clubs and amateurs as possible. We would be glad to receive the addresses of officers, members of clubs, and others desirous of receiving circulars, and will forward them to Mr. Steinitz. A magazine such as that proposed, and conducted by such an able exponent of the noble game as Mr. Steinitz, should elicit a hearty response from every lover of chess, and we trust that such a valuable journal will not be suffered to lapse for lack of patronage. Our American friends will, no doubt, respond heartily to the appeal, and we hope the publication will have a large circulation throughout Canada. Mr. Steinitz may be addressed at New York Manhattan Club, 104 East Fourteenth street.

Dr. Zukertort sailed for England, September 3, on the steamer "Oregon," "the greyhound of the seas."

Mr. Blackburne's phisician prescribes a sea voyage to warmer climes to avoid the coming winter in England, and the great chess player will therefore probably leave for Melbourne in the course of next month.

The Nuova Rivista degli Scacchi for July and August is a splendid double number, and contains no fewer than 96 pages. A portrait of Paul Morphy and a biographical sketch of the champion, by B. Vansittart, are given together with a collection of his games and end games.

What is a tombola tourney? No German chess meeting seems to be complete without its tombola attachment. Can any of our readers give a full and satisfactory solution to this conundrum?

GAME No. 224.

We are indebted to Mr. Steinitz for the subjoined elegant little game (hitherto unpublished), which was played in the Vienna Chess Club in the year 1860.

NOTES.

(a) Inferior as a continuation to the more generally preferred attack by 6 Q Kt to B 3, followed by P to Q 4, K Kt to B 3, etc.

(b) An error; 7 * * B to Kt 2, in conjunction with 8 * * P to Kt 5 is best at this point.

(c) White might have obtained a strong attack here by 8 B tks P (ch). Q tks B; 9 Kt to K 5, Q B to Kt 3; 10 Q to R 5 (ch), K to Q sq (best); 11 Kt to B 7 (ch), etc, as played by Tschigorin against de Rivière in their late match.

(d) Too cautious by far: 18 Kt to R 5 was, we think, his play, when if 18 * * Kt to B 4; 19 B to K B 4; and if 18 * * B tks P; 19 P tks B, Q tks P; 20 Q to Q 4 !, etc.

(e) We are inclined to believe White might have won the R P in safety, e.g; 26 Q tks R P, K Kt to K 6; 27 R to Q B sq, Q to Kt 2 (apparently best); 28 Q to B 5 (ch). K to Kt sq; 29 B tks B, R tks B; 30 B tks Kt, Kt tks B; 31 Q to B 3, Kt to Q 4; 32 Q to B 2, etc.

(f) Despite the two passed Pawns, we would have preferred 32 Kt to B 4

(g) Prettily played. If White captures the Kt P, he loses at least the exchange by 35 * * K Kt to K 6, etc.

Sitting Bull in New York.

HE COMES WITH OTHER BRAVES AND WITH SQUAWS TO MAKE A SHOW.

(N. Y. Sun, 12th.)

When a number of Indians dressed in native costume, headed by a broad-shouldered, thick-necked and big-headed chief, and accompanied by a party of dusty whites, crowded their way to the forward end of a Desbrosses street ferry boat yesterday morning, people were not specially interested, because they did not know who were in the party. The brawny chief who headed the procession looked about eagerly at the tall houses, the great ships at the piers, and the numberless small craft on the river, and then turning to one of the white men said something in the Indian language.

'It is Sitting Bull, the famous Sioux chief,' said the white man, to a Sun reporter. 'He says the Indians can never equal the whites. He is astounded by what he has seen.'

The Grand Central Hotel blotter contained the following names: Sitting Bull, Seen-by-the-Nation, Spotted Horn Bull, Gray Buffalo Woman, Eagle, Long Dog, Gray Eagle, Crow Eagle, Flying By, Good Sounding Iron, and Princess Red Spear. The interpreter was Louis Primeau. The delegation is known as the Sitting Bull Combination. Seen-by-the-Nation is Sitting Bull's wife. Gray Buffalo Woman is his sister. The party left Standing Rock agency ten days ago. They were in St. Paul for a week, making a native outfit that would be attractive on the road. The tour is to combine the show business with education. It is said by the manager that part of the profits of the business will be used to build school houses for the Indians. The party will open in a 'native historical group' at the Eden Musee on Monday.

At 2 o'clock yesterday the party dined on 17 bowls of soup, 15 plates of fish, 21 large sirloin steaks, a half-peck of Irish potatoes, a half-peck of sweet potatoes, 13 dishes of tomatoes, 25 ears of sweet corn, a quantity of fresh beans, 9 dishes of tapioca pudding, 15 plates of ice-cream, 11 pieces of cake, and 22 cups of coffee. In their private sitting-room after dinner Sitting Bull filled and lighted a pipe of the style made familiar by Indian picture books, and, having smoked a few whiffs, passed it around. The pipe was very strong. The hall boy requested that the transom and door be kept closed. Flying By and Gray Eagle, both gaudy young men, with variegated kite tails along the seams of their trousers and vermillion streaks on their foreheads, smoked cigarettes. The men parted their hair in the middle. The women worked and chatted over a bead-embroidered blanket. The men said nothing. A little deaf and dumb white boy who called on them watched them very earnestly for a long time, and then bowed politely to Sitting Bull and indicated with his hands that he was glad to see them. The old chief was delighted with the boy, and went through the boy's motions repeatedly. A calico jumping jack astonished Gray Buffalo Woman so that she retired to her bedroom, while Gray Eagle laughed aloud. Seen-by-the-Nation handled it very gently, and then continued her work.

When Sitting Bull was asked what had most impressed him since reaching the white man's country, he replied that the whites went on to the streets and made money when they were little children and ought to be at play.

A Bridgeport young man asked the lady of his affections, the other evening, how she liked the looks of his new style standing collar. After critically surveying him and the collar, she replied, very nice, indeed. 'It looks like a whitewashed fence around a lunatic asylum.'

—The question whether young women shall pursue the same line of studies as their brothers, seems to find its chief objection in their different physical constitutions. Arguments on this subject are finely handled on both sides; but the perfect adaptation of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the cure of ailments attending the feminine organism needs no argument; its works are its proof.

'The lady is handsome, but she looks as it she had a temper of her own,' remarked one drummer to another on a train the other day. 'You read character correctly,' was the reply. 'Why, you speak as if you were acquainted with her!' 'Well, I am, slightly, I married her some ten years ago.'

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America Send self-addressed envelope to REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

'The worst thing in connection with this sort of business is,' said the bank cashier to himself as he packed the valuables away in his valise, 'one has got to leave the country; but,' he added, as he made sure that the safe was entirely empty, 'the country is the only thing that I will leave—' and it was.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Self Help.—Prior to the discovery of these remedies an easy, ready and reliable remedy for outward disfigurations and inward complications was, practically speaking, unknown. No one need now be at a loss if they should unfortunately suffer from ulcers, sores, tumours, boils, bruises, sprains, &c. Enveloping Holloway's medicines are very intelligible printed directions for using them, which should be attentively studied and immediately followed by all who resort to his treatment. Sooner or later the sufferer will assuredly triumph over the worst diseases. This searching Ointment disperses all those malignant humours which aggravate diseases of the skin, prevent the cicatrization of ulcers, and excite inflammatory tendencies in the system.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE.

(To the Editor of the Morning Chronicle.)

SIR,—Might I claim a space to treat upon the bread question. Flour is now six dollars per barrel, and a barrel gives 42 loaves; this bread is sold at $2 60 per dozen of 12 loaves (and not a baker's dozen) making nine dollars and ten cents ($9.10), leaving a margin of $3 10. This relates to brown bread.

Now for white bread. This flour costs seven dollars and fifty cents, and produces 63 loaves of 4 lbs each; this bread is sold at $2.40 per dozen, which makes twelve dollars and sixty cents ($12 60), leaving a most extravagant margin of five dollars and ten cents ($5.10) on this one barrel of flour.

I hope when the bakers read this communication that they will feel a little shame and come down at once to a fair price.

I know one of our Rothschilds that pays ten per cent less than the above prices, and why not the poor man get the same advantage?

The value of the photographs taken annually in the United States is said to be worth $31,000,000. There was a time when we owned a photograph that no $31,000,000 would buy, but we are willing to part with it now for a good deal less—in fact, very much less.

THE ELEMENTS OF BONE, BRAIN AND MUSCLE, are derived from the blood, which is the grand natural source of vital energy, the motor of the bodily organs. When the circulation becomes impoverished in consequence of weak digestion and imperfect assimilation of the food, which should enrich it, every bodily function flags and the system grows feeble and disordered. When the blood becomes impure either from the development of inherited seeds of disease, its contamination by bile, or other causes, serious maladies surely follow. A highly accredited remedy for these evils is NORTHROP & LYMAN'S VEGETABLE DISCOVERY AND DYSPEPTIC CURE, which eradicates impurities of the blood and fertilizes it by promoting digestion and assimilation. Moreover, this fine alterative and stomachic exerts a specific action upon the liver, healthfully stimulating that organ to a performance of its secretive duty when inactive, and expelling bile from the blood. It likewise possesses diuretic and depurent properties of a high order, rendering the kidneys active and healthy, and expelling from the system the acrid elements which produce rheumatic pain. Price, $1.00. Sample Bottle, 10 cents. Ask for NORTHROP & LYMAN'S Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The wrapper bears a fac-simile of their signature. Sold by all medicine dealers.

ABOUT SIXTY MILLION COPIES OF THE SUN have gone out of our establishment during the past twelve months.

But THE SUN is written for the inhabitants the earth; this same strip of intelligence would girdle the globe twenty-seven or twenty-eight times.

It is only by little calculations ike these that you can form ny idea of the rculation f the most popular of American newspapers, or of its influence on the opinions and actions of American men and women.

WHAT ALL PHYSICIANS RECOMmend for health, take plenty of outdoor exercise, it is better for you than medicine Next thing how can you take exercise, your great toe joint is distorted by short shoes, you have a Bunion on the other great toe, you have a soft corn between your toes, one or two, perhaps four or five, on top of the toes; no boot will fit, you can't get well; then you think you have done your duty when you go out perhaps once a day, and have to walk on the side of your foot, you come back with a pain in your back, your head, your limbs, in fact all over your body. The only way to get perfect relief is to have those Corns and Bunions, Ingrowing and Club Nails cured, that will bring you perfect health. Dr. J.
